FRESH DRIVE LAUNCHED AGAINST AXIS FORCES

French Forces Drive Across Libyan Desert

Fighting French Forces from Lake Chad in French Equatorial Africa Reported Driving Across Thousands of Miles of Desert to Back Door of Tripolitania to Make Four-pronged Drive at Rommel Armies.

By ROGER D. GREENE,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Across 1,000 miles of desert, Fighting French columns from Lake Chad were reported driving toward the back door of Italian Tripolitania today as part of a four-way squeeze on Axis forces in North Africa while British and American troops struck deeper into Tunisia.

Lake Chad is in the heart of French Equatorial Africa, about 1,200 miles South of the Mediterranean.

Other Allied forces were converging against the last Axis strongholds on the Dark Continent as follows:

1—A powerful expeditionary force made up of the British 1st Army and American troops, estimated at 150,000 men, was thrusting into Northern Tunisia along the Mediterranean coast from Algeria.

2—A second column was reported to have entered Southern Tunisia from Algeria in a move to cut across the Axis-held French Protectorate and cut the road to Tripolitania.

3—Coupled with these drives from the West, the British 8th Army from Egypt was rapidly pursuing Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's broken African corps across Libya toward Tripolitania.

British headquarters at Cairo reported today that vanguard troops of the 8th Army were in contact yesterday with the retreating Axis South of Bengasi after an advance of more than seventy miles in twenty-four hours.

Bengasi is approximately 160 miles Northeast of El Agheila, on the base of the Libyan hump, where Rommel is expected to attempt a stand in the narrow corridor between boggy salt marshes and the sea.

The British communique did not state whether Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's triumphant army had captured or by-passed Bengasi, once a major port of supply for Rommel's Africa Corps.

It seemed probable, however, that Rommel was abandoning the port in his headlong flight toward El Agheila.

On the Western flank of the giant Allied vise, Lt.-Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's headquarters reported that the first phase of the battle for strategic Tunisia, buffer state between Algeria and Tripolitania, had begun.

"Advance elements of the British 1st Army, together with British and American parachute troops and French forces operating with us, have entered Tunisia at several points," headquarters announced. "Contacts have been made with enemy scouting parties."

Without detail, dispatches said the Allied paratroops had occupied

R. A. F. CARRIES OUT ANOTHER HEAVY RAID ON BURMA AIRDROMES

New Delhi, India, Nov. 19.—Wellington bombers of the R. A.F. dropped many bombs last night across the runway of a Japanese airdrome at Maiktila, in the Sittang River Valley of Burma, and started a large fire, a British communique said today.

A Japanese night fighter which attempted to intervene was reported damaged and driven off.

FORMAL ALASKA ROAD OPENING DUE TOMORROW

Six United States Army Men Designated to Hold Official Positions in Formal Opening Plans.

Whitehorse, Y.T., Nov. 19.—(CP)—Six United States army men were designated today to play leading roles in the historic wilderness ceremony tomorrow which will mark the official opening of the highway to Alaska.

Four of them received the honor of holding the ribbon which will be snipped by Government officials as the symbolic last land barrier between the United States and its Northermost territory.

Col. E. G. Paules, of Los Angeles, named Corporal Refines Sims, Jr., of Philadelphia, and Private Alfred Jalufka, of Kennedy, Texas, to represent the Whitehorse sector of the highway in the ribbon ceremony. Col. Robert D. Ingalls, of New York

Japs Predict U.S. Offensive To Recapture Netherlands Indies

By The Canadian Press

An American offensive to recapture the Netherlands East Indies was predicted today by Japan's former Navy Commander-in-Chief, Admiral Sankichi Takahashi, even as Washington naval quarters declared it would take Japan at least three weeks to rally after the United States sea victory in the Solomon Islands November 13-15.

"The Americans obviously are planning to use the Solomons as a springboard for an offensive with a view of regaining the Dutch East Indies," Admiral Takahashi said, according to a German broadcast.

"We must reckon with further fighting in the Solomons," he added.

Only twenty-four hours earlier, the Tokyo radio claimed that the United States Pacific fleet had been "annihilated"—for at least the third time—and asserted that any hope of an American offensive in the South Seas was "a thing of the past."

Washington naval experts said it would take three weeks and possibly much longer for the Japanese to muster strength for another big-scale assault on Guadalcanal Island as a result of the enemy's losses in ships, men and equipment in last week's rout.

Meanwhile, Allied bombers hunted through bad weather for a force of eight Japanese destroyers off the New Guinea coast near Buna, while Australian and American troops closed within twenty-five miles of the enemy's main invasion base.

On the China war front, a Chinese army spokesman reported growing signs that Japan's invasion armies were preparing a double-headed offensive against Yunnan Province, Southwest China, from French Indo-China and Burma.

CLAIM JAPS TO LAUNCH FRESH CHINESE DRIVE

Chinese Spokesmen Declare that Japan Will Launch Drive into Yunnan Province from French Indo-China.

Chungking, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A Chinese army spokesman said today there were indications the Japanese were preparing to drive into Yunnan Province, Southwest China, from French Indo-China.

This thrust, he said, would be coordinated with one from the section of Yunnan province adjacent to Burma which the Japanese occupied last spring. They have been stationary there since May.

The spokesman said the Japanese recently secretly increassd their strength in Yunnan by 12,000 men, bringing the total to 30,000, and at the same time bolstered their air forces at Wanting and other air fields in the occupied border region.

Friction, Obstruction Charged By Little In Quitting Service Post

"Virtual Paralysis" of Selective Service Organization Resulted from Attitude of Government, Elliott M. Little Declares in Letter to Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell in Resigning Post.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—(CP)—Resignation of Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service, today faced Labor Minister Mitchell with the task of finding a successor for a position in which Mr. Little said he experienced "friction and obstruction" resulting in "virtual paralysis" of the organization he headed.

In a 700-word letter dated Monday which he made public last night Mr. Little voiced blunt criticism of the Government, of Mr. Mitchell and of the War Services Department. Shortly afterwards Mr. Mitchell issued a brief statement saying Mr. Little's resignation had been accepted, effective immediately. He also made public his letter of reply to Mr. Little, written yesterday.

Mr. Mitchell's statement said he felt the Selective Service Director left his post "mainly due to certain misconceptions" on Mr. Little's part and that his relations with Mr. Little had been "most cordial." In his letter, Mr. Mitchell said he had done everything in his power "to support Mr. Little's efforts."

Mr. Little in his letter, which he termed "frank," made definite complaints which he said had forced his resignation, among them:

1.—Lack of a "clear directive" from the Government on manpower policy.

2.—Refusal to accept proposals which he advanced.

3.—Failure of Mr. Mitchell to assist him.

4.—Lack of necessary authority to carry out a selective service programme.

5.—Failure of the War Services Department to co-operate in transferring the military call-up to selective service.

6.—Hindrances in efforts to obtain the co-operation of labor and industrial management.

Mr. Mitchell in his reply accepting the resignation said he preferred not to answer several of Mr. Little's statements because they arose "from misconceptions and are scarcely worthy of you."

The Minister said the "very far reaching" proposals made by Mr. Little had reached him only a day before Mr. Little tendered his resignation. Mr. Mitchell said he had "done everything in my power" to support the Director of Selective Service and had made $505,000 available for the Department in the present year. Vast expansion of employment offices had been carried out as part of the programme.

In an accompanying statement Mr. Mitchell said his relationship with Mr. Little had been "most cordial" and he felt Mr. Little's action was "mainly due to certain misconceptions."

"Further development of National Selective Service" would receive his first attention, Mr. Mitchell said and

CLAIM U.S. AVIATORS ARE INTERNED IN PORTUGAL

London, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The German-controlled Paris radio said today a United States plane made a forced landing on Portuguese territory near the Spanish frontier and the crew was interned. It was disclosed in Lisbon Tuesday night that Portugal had made a diplomatic protest to Britain and United States against the passage of United Nations military planes over Portuguese territory recently.

Soviets Regain Initiative At Stalingrad And Caucasus

Russian Communiques Report Several Important Enemy Positions Captured as Soviet Troops Extend Job of Bleeding and Blocking German Armies—Germans Fail to Make Gains Toward Winter Quarters.

Moscow, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Extending their job of bleeding and blocking the German armies, the Russians have taken the initiative in Stalingrad and in the Caucasus, today's battle reports showed.

The midday communique reported no major changes anywhere but said that during the night "our troops launched active operations and captured several enemy fortifications" in Southern Stalingrad.

A Red army unit also was credited with a fighting reconnaissance Northwest of the city in which enemy trenches were broken into, sixty Germans killed and others captured.

Soviet troops also were reported in active operations which scored some advance Northeast of Tuapse along the Black Sea coast in the Western Caucasus while 300 of the enemy were said to have been killed in an artillery-supported infantry attack Southeast of Nalchik in the mid-Caucasus.

The defenders also struck out in the factory area at Stalingrad yesterday, occupied several invader strong points and killed 600, the Soviet midnight communique said.

For the past week the Germans had been attacking again and again on a narrow front in this area, trying to break through to the Volga and secure winter quarters but although they paid with thousands of lives they gained only a few yards.

In renewed thrusts in the Mozdok area yesterday, in the mid-Caucasus, the Germans attacked behind a spearhead of fifty tanks but lost seventeen of these and were thrown back, the Russians said. They reported fighting still was continuing there last night with Red lines holding.

FIRST DIM-OUT FOR VICTORIA IS ANNOUNCED

New Regulations Restrict Lighting of Buildings and Utilities in British Columbia Capital.

Victoria, Nov. 19.—(CP)—Victorians prepared to walk cautiously along darkened streets, take earlier buses to work and get their milk later and planned next Sunday evening as a "test Sunday" to see how church services will be affected, as new dim-out regulations came into effect today on Southern Vancouver Island.

Street lights last night were cut from five globes to one on each standard. Homes along the seafront were blacked out with curtains and blackout shields and motor traffic took a noticeable slump.

But there were few complaints as Victorians took the dim-out in their stride.

Under the new regulations, which have been in effect on the United States Pacific coast for some time, "no light from any building or presises may be permitted to cast a glare or reflection that is visible from any navigable water," and "no persons shall create any light so that there is a direct passage of light rays skywards, without shielding the light source so that no direct rays are emited above the horizontal."

Night motor traffic is limited to fifteen miles an hour and automobiles must carry headlight shields showing only two slits of light.

Warned a week ago, Victorians were well prepared for the dim-out which will make this capital city of British Columbia a much darker place this winter.

The Christian Scientist Church has cancelled Sunday night services and other churches may follow suit if next Sunday's "test" cuts down attendance too stringently or it is found too difficult to carry one under the reduced lighting.

Christ Church Cathedral, located in the elevated part of the city, will hold services with lights dimmed but air raid precaution officials will be on hand to see whether more dimming will be necessary.

PORTER CONVICTED FOR SLAYING GIRL IN MOVIE THEATRE

New Brunswick, N.J., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Death in the electric chair January 4 has been ordered for John Henry Swan, six-foot-four negro who battered twenty-year-old Gizella Mary Forepough to death with his fists in the movie house where he was a porter.

Swan was convicted of murder and sentenced yesterday on his own admission he had followed the girl into the lounge, pummelled her, dragged her backstage and stripped her body of clothing behind the screen while five hundred persons watched the picture on its other side.

VETERAN ACTOR HAS REJOINED CANADIAN ARMY

Raymond Massey Named to Special Duties on Adjutant-General's Branch, Defence Minister Says.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—(CP) — Appointment of Raymond Massey, forty-six-year-old actor-producer, to special duties in the Adjutant-General's branch, with the rank of major, was announced by Defence Minister Ralston last night and Maj. Massey himself said he was joining the army "either as a serving soldier or nothing."

He said in an interview that he decided December 7 last to "do something," about rejoining the Canadian army, with which he served in the First Great War.

(December 7, 1941, was the day on which the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, bringing Japan and the United States into the Second Great War.)

Maj. Massey added "I am tired of talking, and now I want to do something." His son, Geoffrey, is training with the R.C.A.F. at Toronto.

Maj. Massey made his first professional stage appearance at twenty-six, and since then has been active as an actor-producer. He created what is regarded as the most memorable portrayal of Abraham Lincoln, and as a producer particip-

AUSTRALIA TO STUDY CHANGE IN DRAFT LAW

Interstate Labor Conference Refers Proposals for Conscription for Foreign Service Back to State Groups.

Melbourne, Nov. 19.— (CP) —The Interstate Labor Conference today referred to state branches of the Labor Party the Government's proposal which would permit use of the Australian militia "in such territories of the Southwest Pacific which the Governor-General may proclaim as territories associated with the defence of Australia."

(The Australian militia, which is conscripted, may be used only for home defence under the law which Labor Prime Minister John Curtin seeks to change. The Australian Imperial forces, like the Canadian Army Overseas, is made up of volunteers).

The state branches will instruct delegates who will attend another interstate conference on the subject before the end of the year.

The party adopted a resolution urging the lifting of the ban on the Communist party. It stated that while the conference strongly dissociated itself from the Communist party and Communist propaganda it believes in the right of free political expression.

Poisoned Eggs Held Responsible For Thirty-Six Deaths In Oregon

Salem, Ore., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Four more inmates of Oregon State Hospital for the Insane died today bringing to thirty-six the total fatalities in connection with what Superintendent J. C. Evans said was probably wholesale food poisoning.

Four hundred additional patients were ill, many of them violently, but Dr. Evans said he believed most of them "have a chance for recovery."

Within fifteen minutes after yesterday's evening meal victims complained of violent cramps. One died within an hour and at 10 p.m., five hours after the meal, ten had died.

Dr. Evans said he believed frozen eggs served scrambled at the meal contained a poison possibly as the result of a chemical reaction. The eggs, the superintendent said, were obtained from the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation two or three months ago.

He described the reaction of the victims this way:

"They had nausea, vomited blood, and showed evidence of an acute toxic condition. Respiratory paralysis, violent cramps in the legs preceded death."

Laval Takes Further Powers In French Administration

Decree Signed by Marshal Petain Gives Chief of Government Right to Make Own Laws and Decrees—Believed that New Dictator Will Return Capital of Entire France Back to Paris.

London, Nov. 19.—(CP)—Backed by German bayonets, Pierre Laval held powers of life and death over the people of unhappy France today through the Vichy Government's latest gesture toward the Nazi conquerors.

It was disclosed last night that Marshal Petain at a Tuesday Cabinet meeting designated the swart little Germanophile his heir as Chief-of-State and gave him full powers to write his own laws and decrees.

The German-controlled Paris radio said Laval would transfer the Government to Paris. The announcer quoted a statement by Marcel Deat, collaborationist publisher saying:

"Vichy has become a symbol of all that is rotten. The Government must be stripped of the barely-camouflaged de Gaullism which reigned in Vichy two years."

British political observers were quick to declare that extended powers for Laval — whose fortunes and life are pinned to his often-affirmed belief in an ultimate Axis triumph—were a "logical development." They said it showed definitely that Petain "is completely in the hands of the Germans and they put Laval in."

In the Vichy announcement, the eighty-six-year-old Marshal praised Laval for "patriotism and foresight," explained that the Chief of Government was being given extended power so that he may "speedily deal at any hour and in all places" with France's problems.

Petain informed France:

"We, Marshal of France and Chief of State by virtue of the constitutional law of July 10th, 1940, decree that the Head of Government

GREAT CITY IS COMPLETED IN SIXTEEN WEEKS

Airplane Assembly Plant in Great Britain is Accompanied by Air Port and Other Civic Projects.

London, Nov. 19.—(CP)—On the cold military records, it is known only as the "Z" project.

In fact it is a great community built in sixteen weeks with a complete airplane assembly plant, an airport that will take any size plane, dormitories for workers and virtually all the utilities required for a modern city.

The entire project was constructed with British labor and materials to provide a site for the assembling of planes—built in the United States and shipped in parts—that could not be readily flown across the Atlantic.

"Z" project was one of the myriad things born out of the renowned Atlantic conference between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt last year.

Mr. Churchill put down Britain's essential needs. One was for certain type of aircraft that could be delivered in the numbers required only if they were assembled in Britain. He promised the necessary installations.

Last March the plan was outlined in four brief paragraphs and handed over to the Director-General of Aircraft Production factories at the British Ministry of Aircraft Production.

Expanded, the four brief paragraphs called for a super airport, runways for everything from fighters to the biggest bombers, hangars, accommodations for ground and flying personnel and all auxiliary installations like control and operations rooms.

In addition it was necessary to have assembly sheds, machine shops and living and recreation facilities for thousands of highly skilled civilian workers. There was to be a hospital, even a cinema. In fact an entire community the size of a township was to be created.

In fourteen weeks, American workers were beginning to assemble planes at "Z" project. In sixteen weeks it was finished, steel from Scotland, glass from Lancashire, bricks from the Midlands fashioned together on a vast site that had been fields of daffodils and dock leaves.

Coupon Rationing Of Butter Not Planned By Canadian Authorities

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—(CP)—The Prices Board today ordered that all stocks of butter held in storage must be reduced by the end of the month by twenty-five per cent from stocks held at the November 1 level, and at the same time Foods Administrator J. G. Taggart, said there would be no coupon rationing of butter during the current season of low production.

The order designed to meet what the Board described as current but "spotty" production shortages, will place on the market within the month about 11,000,000 pounds of butter—or about half a normal month's consumption.

Mr. Taggart said Canadians need curtail their current consumption of butter by only one ounce per person per week to meet a temporary shortage during the period of "deficiency" production—November to April.

"The situation does not call for such a difficult, costly and intricate operation as coupon rationing," he added.

"There are about half a million sources or potential sources of butter supply in Canada—in fact, every farmer who milks a cow is a potential supplier—and to apply coupon rationing in such circumstances would entail tremendous operation cost and great inconvenience, not alone to producers and potential suppliers but to consumers generally.

"Accordingly the Board is taking steps which, together with a slight reduction by individual consumers, equivalent to two tablespoons of butter per person per week, can and will meet the situation if consumers co-operate, as we expect they will."

There is temporarily a small shortage in supply of butter in certain of the larger markets, and as a result some retailers are limiting purchases in their establishments.

Previous Board order stipulated that stocks of butter held in storage warehouses and creameries at November 30 must be limited to seventy-five per cent of the amount held at the same date last year.

Today's statement said production at this season of the year is always very considerably lower thon in the summer months, when production is at its peak.

November to April, inclusive, are what are known as deficiency months, in which consumption exceeds production, while in the other months of the year, constituting the flush season, production exceeds consumption.

Turin, Centre Of Italian Plane Industry, Again R.A.F. Objective

London, Nov. 19.— (CP) —Britain's heavy four-motored bombers streaked across the Alps last night and delivered a new heavy blow at Italy, choosing the big Fiat works at Turin for their chief target, the Air Ministry announced.

With clear skies to aid them, the R.A.F. bombers accomplished "good results" on this, the fifth big raid on Italy this month, without the loss of one plane, the announcement stated.

"Last night aircraft of the Bomber Command attacked the Fiat works and other targets at Turin. The sky over Northern Italy was clear and the crews report good results. None of our aircraft is missing," the communique said.

The Italian high command reported "considerable damage to civilian houses," some fires in Turin, twenty-four dead and fifty-two wounded. The communique made no claim of shooting down any of the raiders. It said the fires were quickly controlled.

Turin is an airplane, motor car and machine-producing city on the river Po, the chief seat of industry in Italy. It was raided last by the R.A.F. twice in succession, October 22 and 23.

The Royal Arsenal, the Fiat engine works and a branch of the Caproni works are among military targets of the city, which have been attacked twenty times during the war.

The raid by home-based British bombers entailed another 1,500-mile round trip and two crossings of the Alps.

In the four previous raids in November, the target was Genoa, Northern Italian naval base and industrial port which has key part in supplying the Axis forces in the French North African campaign.

Even before announcement of the latest raid, air raid alarms in Geneva and Lausanne, Switzerland, indicated the R.A.F. was abroad. Swiss anti-aircraft guns were in action.

Southeast coast observers reported heavy bombers had crossed the English Channel there in a steady procession for seventy minutes last night.

Thurier Pleads Guilty To Failing To Report For Military Training

Sweetsburg, Nov. 19. — Alfred Thurier, leading scorer in the American Hockey League, pleaded guilty before Judge J. H. Lemay in Magistrate's Court here this morning to a charge of having failed to report to military camp for his compulsory training. He was fined $25 by Judge Lemay and handed over to the military authorities.

Thurier was taken in custody by Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Granby last week.

Montreal, Nov. 19. — Raymond Ranger, registrar for "E" Administrative Division, yesterday categorically denied reports that Alfred Thurier's arrest was "all a mistake."

"There was no mistake in any way," said Mr. Ranger. "Thurier was allegedly delinquent and was so charged and arrested. I might point out that the enforcement branch of this office has never lost a case in court or withdrawn prosecution. Before arrests are ordered a thorough investigation is undertaken and completed in order to ascertain whether a prospective draftee is a bonafide exemption case or trying to evade military training. There has been some previous difficulty in locating Thurier."

Reliable information last night tended to show that Thurier obtained several delay extensions when called for military training in January, 1941, for the first time. Health reasons were advanced at that time.

Thurier was arrested in Granby last Thursday by the R.C.M.P. and arraigned at Sweetsburg the next day. On a plea of not guilty his trial was set for today.

The following statement covering the case, in view of the contradictory announcements already published was made by Divisional Registrar Ranger last night:

"On October 29, 1942, an Order of Call for military training, No. E-50624, was sent through registered mail to Alfred Thurier, 16 St. Antoine Street, Granby, Que.

"This order was returned by the postal authorities due to the fact that Alfred Thurier was not at this address. On the returned order it was stated that he was in Buffalo, U.S.A., in care of the Buffalo Hockey Club. For not reporting his change of address to the Divisional Registrar, Thurier was liable to prosecution.

"On November 7, 1942, a telegram was sent to Thurier instructing him to report without fail to the Montreal Office of the Divisional Registrar on November 9. When he reported he was given his order of call for military training by an official with specific instructions to report the same day to the Officer Commanding District Depot No. 4 at Montreal South, Que.

"We are informed that Thurier went to the District Depot No. 4 and asked to see an officer who, we are told, told him to report the next day without fail and that he would be put through the routine pertaining to a draftee who reports for military training.

"Alfred Thurier did not report the next day and instructions were given by the Divisional Registrar to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to cause a warrant to be issued for his immediate arrest on a charge of failing to report for military training as instructed.

"Alfred Thurier was arrested by the R.C.M.P., pleaded not guilty at arraignment in Sweetsburg and was released on a bail bond of $500.

SENTENCED TO THREE YEARS ON THEFT CHARGE

Judge J. H. Lemay in Magistrate's Court yesterday sentenced Hector Blouin, 42, to three years in the penitentiary and Lorenzo Pomerleau, 45, to twenty-three months in jail on charges of breaking, entering and theft. The two Sherbrooke men pleaded guilty to the counts last Wednesday when they were arraigned in connection with the looting of the F. W. Wood general store in Gould.

Sherbrooke police arrested them in a backyard of a St. Edward Street residence several hours after the robbery had been committed. The two men used a light delivery truck to haul the stolen merchandise, valued at three hundred dollars, according to Captain Omer Daudelin, Captain Arthur L'Heureux and Cpl. Detective Pierre Arcand, who apprehended Blouin and Pomerleau on November 11.

(Laval) outside of constitutional laws, has the power on his simple signature to make laws and issue decrees."

Cancelling a previous decree which had designated Admiral Jean Darlan, now co-operating with the Allies in Africa, as his successor, Petain named Laval to take over as Chief of State in event of the Marshal's permanent incapacity. He directed that within a month of such event the Cabinet should meet to choose a permanent successor.

A Vichy communique on the action, as reported by the Berlin radio, said Petain "as Chief of State will continue to represent French sovereigny and the continued existence of the country" and added that Laval will "keep the Marshal constantly informed" of his endeavors.

Of most immediate concern to the Allies was the course Laval plans to steer in the matter of possible military aid to the Axis.

Thus far he and Petain have not heeded the demands of the radically pro-German party of Jacques Doriot that France declare war at once upon Britain and the United States because of their occupation of French North Africa.

There have been unconfirmed reports that Laval already has been negotiating with the Germans for a peace treaty to replace the Nazi-violated armistice of 1940, preliminary to bringing France into the war again as an Axis ally.

Friction, Obstruction

he hoped shortly to make an announcement on the subject.

Transfer of the call-up for compulsory military service from National War Services Department to Selective Service was scheduled for December 1. Whether it will be delayed by a reorganization in Selective Service was not immediately apparent.

Changes in the administration of Selective Service comes at a time when Mr. Mitchell is engaged in a shuffle of executives of the Labor Department itself. Dr. Bryce Stewart, Deputy Minister, recently submitted his resignation which was originally to have been effective November 1. Later Dr. Stewart agreed to remain with the Department for a short time and he accompanied Mr. Mitchell on his recent trip to the United Kingdom, giving special attention to study of Selective Service and labor problems overseas.

It now is considered likely that Dr. Stewart will remain with the Department indefinitely though it is not known in exactly what capacity.

Arthur MacNamara, Associate Deputy Minister, was considered a likely successor to Dr. Stewart as Deputy but in some circles the suggestion is being advanced that he may head the Selective Service organization.

Possibility of the resignation of seleral Selective Service executives, who were associated with Mr. Little in private business before they came to Ottawa, was also a topic of discussion on Parliament Hill today.

Since his return to Ottawa Sunday Mr. Mitchell has devoted almost continuous attention to Selective Service. At his home on Sunday he received lengthy proposals made by Mr. Little and referred to in the Director's letter.

several strategic places.

Flying Fortresses pounded the Axis-held naval base at Bizerte in a daylight raid, setting oil tanks ablaze, exploding ammunition dumps and wrecking grounded planes, while other Allied bombers attacked the Axis airdrome at Tunis.

Bizerte and Tunis, the capital, are main bases for the arrival of Axis air-borne reinforcements.

In the face of bad news everywhere in the North African theatre, Axis propagandists sought comfort in claims of Allied losses.

Thus the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio declared that fifty damaged British warships and merchantmen had arrived at Gibraltar and landed dead and wounded, while the Rome radio reported that a large United States transport crowded with troops "has just been sunk off Casablanca."

"Only a very small number of men were saved," the Rome broadcast said.

Both these claims had no confirmation.

Other major developments:

Italy bombed — Britain's far-reaching bombers again flew 1,500 miles round-trip across the Alps last night to blast the Italian war foundries city of Turin, site of the Royal Arsenal. It was the fifth big raid on Northern Italy this month.

France—Backed by German bayonets, France's pro-German Chief of Government Pierre Laval has been given powers of life and death over the French people as a result of the Vichy regime's latest capitulation to the Nazi conquerors.

Russian campaign — Soviet dispatches reported the Red armies had seized the initiative on both the Northern and Southern flanks of long-besieged Stalingrad and scored new gains in the Caucasus.

NORTH HATLEY WAR COMMITTEE GIVES REPORT

Commission Earned to Be Turned Over to War Relief Groups and Soldiers' Comfort Fund.

North Hatley, Nov. 19. — The commission earned by the North Hatley Victory Loan Committee will again be donated to local organizations engaged in war relief work and to the fund used to supply soldiers with cigarettes and other comforts. The decision to follow the same plan used in previous campaigns was reached at a meeting of the North Hatley Committee held on Tuesday when final reports on the 1942 drive were given.

It was announced by the Secretary that a total of $111,000 was received from 174 sales. J. A. Seguin and Edgar Voisard were appointed to arrange for a public meeting where the District Organizer will give a full report of the recent drive to the people of the community who so generously supported the committee in its work. This is scheduled to be held in the Town Hall on Saturday evening, November 21, when free moving pictures will also be shown.

Members of the committee were J. A. Seguin, Chairman, F. B. Johnson, J. R. McKay, Henry Taylor, Arthur Virgin, Edgar Voisard and E. J. Weir.

SUTTON FORUM ENTERTAINED AT ABERCORN

Members Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bradbury When Topic Under Discussion Was "Neighbors Must Work Together."

Sutton, Nov. 19. — The Sutton Farm Forum were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bradbury on Monday evening, November 16, in their spacious home at Abercorn. Including members and visitors, there was an attendance of twenty-seven.

The topic under discussion was "Neighbors Must Work Together." It was felt that in the future, the old independent spirit of "every man for himself"—and by himself—must give place to unity and co-operation that Canadian farms may produce more and more in spite of labor and machinery shortages.

The next meeting is to be at D. M. Sweet's on Monday, November 23. Farmers are invited to come and contribute their viewpoint in the discussion on the topic, "The Farmer Views Our Wartime Programme."

STANBRIDGE RIDGE

In an automobile collision, which occurred on the Bedford-Stanbridge East Highway, near the Cochrane home, the only person injured was Stanley Soule, of Mystic, a passenger in one of the cars, who was severely cut about the face and head by the broken windshield.

Mrs. Delbert Corey spent a week-end at Frelighsburg with her sister, Mrs. Ray Hunter, and Mr. Hunter.

Mr. Dalpe, of Pigeon Hill, has been assisting his brother-in-law, Mr. Romeo Benjamin.

Mrs. Eugene Davis, of Enosburg, Vt., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vaughan.

Mr. D. C. Gardner, of Pearceton, was a guest at the Baker home for a few days.

Mr. Frank Meunier accompanied Mr. Lloyd Crandall to Des Rivieres.

Those from here, who attended the National Film Board movies at Stanbridge East included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sornberger, Mr. and Mrs. Treffle Monette and children, Eric and Gerald Corey. Horace and David Realff, Mr. Archie Sager, Carol Sager, Jeane Corey, Mr. and Mrs. R. Crandall, Pansy Gocher, Miss Hilda Crandall, Wallace and Cyril Crandall and Leon Sornberger.

Mrs. Frank Corey accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Kidd, of St. Armand, to Gould, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sager, Mr. Frank Corey, Carol Sager and Jeane Corey attended the opening exercises of the Bedford High School.

SUTTON JUNCTION

A meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held on Monday, November 16, at the home of Mrs. Frank Harvey. The President, Mrs. Toof, was in the chair and opened the meeting by reading several Scripture texts on Temperance. The Temperance Doxology was sung and the pledges were repeated. Mrs. E. J. Smith led the devotional period, the subject being "Steps Towards Solution of the Alcohol Problem," which was followed with prayer. Twelve members and one visitor were present. Mrs. Draper, Flower Mission Superintendent, gave a report on her work, which showed that several cards and fruit had been sent to the sick and shut-ins. The subject for this meeting was "Temperance." Mrs. H. Woodward was unable to be present but sent clippings on the subject, which were read by the members and brought forth much discussion. The National Anthem and Benediction brought the meeting to a close. The next meeting will be held with Miss W. Martin on Friday, December 4. Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. D. Martin.

AC. 2 Robert Brown was a week-end guest at his home.

Mrs. M. S. Bowker, who is spending some time in Montreal for medical treatment, spent the week-end at her home. The Misses Betty and Harriet Bowker were also at their home for the week-end.

The dance on Saturday night under the auspices of the Girls' Club was well attended and a satisfactory sum realized.

Miss Regina Bissette, of Farnham, is a guest of Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

Mr. W. Dow, Mrs. A. W. Westover, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Miss Bissette were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chapman in Brome.

Mr. H. Alpaugh has left for Philadelphia with Christmas tree orders, and will also visit his mother in New Jersey.

COUNTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCTS PRICES

Montreal, Nov. 19.—There was little change in local produce dealings. The egg market was unaltered in tone and prices. Government source quotes on large lot graded eggs were the same at 50 cents for A-large, 49¾ cents for A-medium, and 49½ cents for A-pullets. Jobbers' prices on small lots to retailers were: 52 cents for A-large, 51 cents for A-medium, and 49½ cents for A-pullets. The butter market was firm with the price of No. 1 pasteurized fresh at 36 to 36¼ cents. The potato market remained weak. Receipts were liberal and demand moderate while prices were unchanged.

(Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials having stated that the spread shown in The Gazette for A1-large eggs was too high this was accordingly revised downwards to a nominal level of 5 cents above the large-lot quotations for A-large. Trade representatives having been subsequently made and a more exhaustive study of the matter having been completed it has now been determined the nominal quotation for A-1 large will be shown at a differential of 5 cents above whatever quotation is shown for A-large eggs in small lots to retailers and The Gazette's report will henceforth be determined accordingly).

Sherbrooke County Victory Loan Officials Hold Dinner

Total Returns in Campaign $3,108,400 Against $2,000,000 Quota—Lennoxville Exceeded $200,000 Objective by $7,000—Workers Congratulated on Splendid Results Obtained.

Members of the Sherbrooke County National War Finance Committee, the office staff and salesmen who canvassed subscriptions during Canada's Third Victory Loan drive attended a complimentary dinner at the New Sherbrooke House yesterday noon. There were seventy-five present at the luncheon, which was given by the Hon. Jacob Nicol, Member of Provincial Board, and Joint Chairmen D. J. Salls, H. W. S. Downs, Louis F. Codere and Chenier Picard, Joint Vice-Chairmen Georges Deslongchamps and A. A. Munster, County Organizers H. A. Clark and L. R. Hebert, and Divisional Organizers A. P. Kennedy and Henri Robitaille.

Mr. Nicol, who was Chairman of the dinner meeting, congratulated Mr. Clark and Mr. Hebert for the success of the drive in the district. He explained that all those who played an important part in making the campaign an overwhelming success, were invited to the luncheon.

Thanking the district organizers and all those connected with the drive, including the office staff, Mr. Salls said "every one of you has contributed to the war effort."

He announced that final returns disclosed the Sherbrooke County total was $3,108,400, an oversubscription of $1,108,400 against a $2,000,000 quota, which represents a percentage of 155.4. Subscriptions numbered 7,779, he added. In breakdown figures of the total amount subscribed, Mr. Salls stated that out of seventy-eight special names exactly $1,930,000 in bonds was purchased, with a shortage of $69,000 in special names. He said that 745 subscriptions brought in by canvassers, boosted this amount by $603,100 and 5,554 employees subscribed to $422,000, with the balance coming through the banks.

Final tabulations, according to Mr. Salls, also showed that Lennoxville exceeded its $200,000 quota by $7,000, despite a loss of $35,000 in special names.

Mr. Hebert voiced his appreciation for the work done by H. A. Peabody and J. A. Rouleau, Joint Chairmen of the Public Relations Committee, and to Dr. A. N. Dupuis and M. T. Stenson, Joint Chairmen of the Publicity Committee. He thanked E. M. Barket of the Record and Gilles Deroches of the Tribune, both of whom are members of the Publicity Committee.

In several brief remarks, Mr. Clark paid "special thanks" to the general public for the wonderful response in subscribing to the loan. Short remarks also were made in French and English by Mr. Codere, Mr. Downs, Mr. Picard, Mr. Robitaille, Mr. Kennedy and Col. Johnny Bourque, M.L.A.

Mr. Codere pointed out that Sherbrooke not only made a splendid showing in the Province of Quebec, but in the early days of the campaign stood out ahead of all other cities in the Dominion and by this leadership "hit" the front pages of Canadian dailies from coast to coast.

Mr. Kennedy summed up the Sherbrooke County drive in these words: "Early and fast starters and excellent finishers as well," while Mr. Robitaille paid a special tribute to the work done by the three Divisional Fieldmen, A. L. Kidd, Henri Turgeon and Napoleon Larammee.

Those attending the dinner were:

15 YOUNG MEN ARE REMANDED TO NEXT WEEK

Charged with Having Failed to Notify Divisional Registrar of Change of Address —Deported from U.S.

Remanded for the third time in three weeks, fifteen young men from the Chesham and La Patrie districts were bound over to next Wednesday when then appeared before Judge Dalma Landry in Magistrate's Court yesterday afternoon. The accused are charged with having failed to notify the divisional registrar of change of address in violation of the National Registration Regulations.

The fifteen men were arrested on the Quebec side of the border, after they were deported from the United States on November 2 and turned over to Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The group had crossed the frontier to work in the woods for a Canadian contractor operating in Maine, according to police. Fifteen other men, who also were arrested at the same time, were later released.

Those charged are Emile Halle, E. R. Dubreuil, Raoul J. Corbeil, A. Choquette, E. M. Poulin, Aime Yvon Giard, A. Dubreuil, E. A. Spooner, A. Lambert, Lionel Labbe, J. Rousseau, J. E. Poulin, Joseph Giard, Adrien Carrier and Roger Corbeil.

STANSTEAD MAN CHARGED WITH STEALING PIGS

R. Goyette Will Be Sentenced Next Wednesday for Theft on Farm of Mrs. Alfred Langlois, Near Magog.

R. Goyette, of Stanstead, was remanded for sentence until next Wednesday by Judge J. H. Lemay yesterday afternoon in Magistrate's Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking, entering and theft. The charge against Goyette arose following the theft of four pigs valued at $50 each from the farm of Mrs. Alfred Langlois, near Magog.

At the same time preliminary hearing for Alphonse Houle, also of Stanstead, was set for next Wednesday in connection with the same case. Houle is similarly charged.

Judge Lemay imposed a fine of $50 and costs on Willie Provencher, of Barnston, gasoline station operator, for selling fuel without the necessary coupon. The count laid under the Federal Gasoline Regulations was preferred by the Sherbrooke office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board Office, in charge of Lucien Hebert.

In contravention of the National Registration Regulations, Judge Lemay also fined Arthur Dupuis, of Notre Dame des Bois, $25 and costs for failing to notify the registrar at Ottawa of a change in his address. Rolland Ferland, of Spring Hill, was similarly assessed by Judge Lemay for failing to report for military duty.

JOHN BLUE IS PROMOTED TO RANK OF MAJOR

Word of the promotion of Major John Blue from the rank of captain has been received by his mother, Mrs. A. W. Blue, Montreal Street.

Major Blue preceded the first contingent of Canadian troops overseas when he crossed with an advance party for the Royal Montreal Regiment, arriving there on December 1, 1939.

Born in Sherbrooke and educated at the Sherbrooke High School, Major Blue belonged to the Sherbrooke Regiment for several years prior to the outbreak of war. He was a major with the local unit but reverted to the rank of lieutenant when he went overseas. He was promoted to captain a few months after reaching England.

COMMUNITY CONCERT DECEMBER 1ST

The dates for the three concerts to be presented this season by the Sherbrooke Community Concerts Association have definitely been set.

The first concert will take place on Tuesday, December 1st, when the members of the Association will have the privilege of hearing Lansing Hatfield, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera.

The other two concerts will be held in the spring. Due to existing conditions it has been impossible to arrange a concert in the middle of the season. Anatol Kaminsky, brilliant young violinist, will be here on April 6th and the season will be closed by Eleanor Steber, youthful soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, on May 12th.

Annual Rotary Fair Will Open Tonight At Belvidere Armory

Containing a wider variety of attractions than ever before, the annual Rotary Fair will get under way at the Belvidere Street Armory this evening to continue through Saturday night.

Officials of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, busy today in completing final preparations for the inauguration of this annual event, are confident that Sherbrooke and Eastern Townships citizens will again respond generously to the appeal made through the Fair for funds for use by welfare organizations and in the rehabilitation of crippled children.

No stone has been left unturned to make this year's Fair more attractive than ever and the thousands who are expected to throng the Belvidere Street Armory tonight, tomorrow and Saturday, will be assured of fun galore and good returns on their investments at the various booths.

Saturday afternoon has been set aside for the kiddies when special features will be provided for their entertainment by Rotarian Phil Mathias.

Over $18,000 Subscribed To Federated Catholic Charities

The annual Catholic Federated Charities Campaign objective of $12,000 was oversubscribed by $6,404 as subscriptions totalling $18,404.71 was reported at the official closing of the drive last night.

A dinner held at the Sacred Heart Hospice last evening marked the termination of the campaign. This organization is one of many local charitable and welfare groups which will benefit from the generosity of Sherbrooke citizens.

Congratulations to the campaign officials were extended by Mayor A. C. Ross, who said that no cause is worthier to subscribe to than that of charity. He expressed his great pleasure at the whole-hearted cooperation between the French and English-speaking people of the city, regardless of different religious beliefs, and said, in brief, "I am certain that if all citizens realized to what use the money will be assigned, the returns would have been double what they were."

Since its inauguration several years ago the Federated Charities drive has always exceeded its assigned quota. This campaign replaces the annual bazaar held in St. Michael's Cathedral basement.

The men stationed at the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre contributed $1,200 to the drive, and in soliciting subscriptions among members of the clergy of the city, Rev. Canon Napoleon Codere reported a contribution of $1,000 from an anonymous donor.

Felicitations to the campaign officials for their marvellous success in attaining such a high mark were voiced by Mgr. P. S. Desranleau, Lord Bishop of Sherbrooke. Other speakers who added their appreciation included Charles de L. Mignault, President of the campaign; Gedeon Nadeau and Armand Lagerge, Joint Treasurers; Mrs. Noel Cloutier, President of the French section of the Ladies' Committee, and Miss Gladys Mullins, President of the English section.

It was announced by Mr. Laberge that the campaign books would remain open for subscriptions from citizens who have not been solicited and wish to subscribe.

The proceeds from the campaign will be divided among the Sacred Heart Hospice, the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, the Creche Ste. Elizabeth, La Goutte de Lait, L'Assistance Maternelle, Le Bien-Etre L'Enfance, la Conference St. Vincent de Paul, L'Orphelinat St. Joseph of Waterville and the Catholic Women's League.

Judge Dalma Landry acted as master of ceremonies at last night's dinner, which was attended by some four hundred people.

LENNOXVILLE

The Lennoxville Women's League of St. Andrew's Church, Sherbrooke, met at the home of Mrs. A. Mackenzie, Church Street, where final plans were arranged for the annual Christmas salad supper and sale of foods, fancy work, aprons, etc. A sum was also voted to send remembrances to local boys serving overseas. The Red Cross work convener reported that members are going to the work-room every Monday evening to sew and knit. Refreshments were served at the close by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Trenholm.

The members of the Young Women's Association of the United Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Hart Montgomery, Belvidere Street. Mrs. Tolhurst presided and during the business session plans were discussed to send Christmas donations to Montreal for the minesweepers. Plans were discussed for a food sale to be held in connection with the W.A. at their annual Christmas sale, and to serve a Sunday school supper some time next month. A special feature of the evening was a most interesting talk given by Mr. W. H. Abbott on "Lennoxville in the Earlier Days," and the presentation of a purse to Mrs. Edwin Smith, a member who is leaving to reside in Montreal. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Crosby.

IS MEMBER OF SQUAD FLYING BIG CATALINAS

Sgt. Don Barfield, of Sherbrooke, Served in Air Escort for Huge Allied Convoy En Route to Russia.

By SCOTT YOUNG,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

With the R.A.F. in Britain, Nov. 19.—(CP)—Sgt. Ted Jones, of Kingston, Ont., felt badly left out of things when he was posted to an R.A.F. squadron flying Catalinas from a lonely Northern station thirty miles from the nearest town.

Most of the men with whom he had trained as an R.C.A.F. air gunner had been posted to coastal command or bomber squadrons, outfits in the thick of daily forays over the Channel, France and Germany. Work on the lumbering Catalinas looked to him like a backwater. Now he wouldn't leave them for any aircraft in the world and he says the other ten Canadians in his squadron, which includes Sgt. Don Barfield, of Sherbrooke, feel the same.

This 28-year-old air gunner, a junior accountant and softball and hockey star in Kingston before he enlisted, served in the air escort for a huge Allied convoy which reached Russia a few weeks ago. They saw plenty of air action then, but the squadron's only casualties were one pilot and one aircraft.

"Generally Jerry kites don't bother us, because I don't think they know what armament we have and they're afraid to come in close enough to find out," he said. "But once during the several days we were with this convoy one of the forward guns on our aircraft jammed and somehow the pilot of a JU-88 seemed to know it. He kept coming at us head-on until he killed our pilot. The co-pilot was wounded but he managed to pull our ship out of it.

"During that fight our blister gunner, Sgt. Jim Maffre, of Montreal, had a close shave. He stood up to see what was going on up front and a bullet tore right through the seat he had just left.

"The aircraft we lost on that trip wasn't really lost—just turned over to the Russians. The pilot beached it after it was damaged, and left it in pretty good shape. I'd like to see what those wild Russians did with it. They'd probably use it for a dive-bomber, if they happened to need one. They can do almost anything with an aircraft, and make it stick."

The Catalinas couldn't stay with this convoy for many hours at a time because of the long flights to and from their base each time.

Ration Board For Sherbrooke Has Been Approved By Ottawa

A local ration board for Sherbrooke has been approved by Ottawa and appointments confirmed, according to word received this morning by Mayor A. C. Ross, at the City Hall. As Chairman of the local board, Mayor Ross announced that his duties have not been definitely established, but shortly he will attend a meeting with various officials and ascertain just what he and his committee of ten are expected to do.

"As I understand it now," he stated, "we will act as a kind of buffer between the general public and the head rationing board. We expect to be granted emergency powers and one of our duties will be to deal with soldiers on leave in order that their ration coupons may be kept in order."

Principal plan of setting up the local board, Major Ross said, is to follow out the democratic ideal of allowing people to deal with their own problems whenever possible.

"Through representation on the local board a cross-section of the community, I hope to see that ration problems needing urgent attention will be dealt with expeditiously and with as little hardship to the public as possible, while at the same time not losing sight of the main objective of this wartime measure."

City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers, Secretary of the local board, believes that the setting up of the group will fill an essential need.

"When orders come only from Ottawa, they lose their personal touch," he declared, "but under this system local people are able to contact their very neighbors to have questions settled.

"I think it is one of the more sensible moves that Ottawa has made in this war so far. This board will exercise local interest and residents may have their problems dealt with in a hurry."

Personnel of the board is made up of the following members, all of whom are volunteering their services without financial remuneration: Maurice Delorme, J. A. Robert, Canon Rev. Ira Bourassa, Rev. Fred Williams, J. A. Ste. Marie, Florent Hebert, Mrs. A. A. Munster and Mrs. Louis F. Codere.

Gift Brings Up Problem Over General Brock

Toronto, Nov. 19.—(CP)—University of Toronto officials have a problem to which history books offer no solution. Did Maj.-Gen. Isaac Brock, killed in the Battle of Queenston Heights during the war of 1812, have a wife?

It all started with the announcement of President H. J. Cody that Col. E. B. Worthington, of Sherbrooke, Que., presented the University a small wooden travelling trunk which, according to Col. Worthington's letter, "was the property of Lady Brock, then wife of Maj.-Gen. Isaac Brock."

Letters written to England by Gen. Brock failed to reveal existence of a wife. Even in his funeral procession, of which a detailed diagram exists, none of the chief mourners is a woman.

Col. E. B. Worthington said this morning that he had no comment to make when queried by a Record reporter on the Canadian Press Toronto despatch regarding his gift to University of Toronto.

He said that he was taking up the matter in a letter to President Cody of the University.

AFRICAN CONVOY LOSSES SMALL

An authoritative London source declares that losses in the Allied convoys used for the expedition to French North Africa were remarkably small despite the enemy's known concentration of fifty submarines against that operation alone.

His statement was made in predicting further important naval operations in the Mediterranean.

Except for one ship, all vessels in the Allied convoys had landed troops and material before they were damaged, the informant said.

Prime Minister Churchill announced last Sunday that thirteen enemy submarines had been sunk off North Africa. Others have been reported damaged.

The informant said it was indicated that at least thirty Axis submarines were between Gibraltar and Bizerte during the passage of the Allied convoys and this number later was increased to fifty. It has been indicated authoritatively that 850 surface vessels—warships and merchantmen—took part in the vast African expedition.

British submarines, he continued, are giving the same attention to Axis efforts to reinforce the contingents in Tunisia as they did to Marshal Rommel's earlier efforts to get supplies across the Mediterranean to his forces in Egypt. He predicted it would be difficult from a supply standpoint for the Axis to maintain a foothold in Africa. Bengasi, he said, has been "immobilized" as a supply point, and Tripoli, the chief Axis base in Libya, "no doubt will be dealt with pretty thoroughly by our strong air forces which are daily acquiring bases closer and closer to that point."

CANADIAN HOUSING CONDITIONS

From seven to twenty-eight per cent of all households in Canadian cities of more than 30,000 population were crowded households, defined as with less than one room a person, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports on the basis of a 1941 census covering 150,000 households including approximately one million people.

Covered by the survey were eighteen per cent of the households and twenty-nine per cent of the population of the twenty-seven cities.

The Bureau estimated it would require about 110,000 new dwelling units to give a separate home to each family in cities of more than 30,000 population. The crowded households included about 40,000 lodging families.

If the 110,000 new dwelling units were provided, they would be equivalent to the present combined housing accommodation of Ottawa, Hamilton, London and Calgary.

Most of the crowded families were tenants, and the survey revealed that while single lodgers can usually seek out adequate quarters low incomes forced many families to crowd together with others.

In Hamilton, London, Ont., and Victoria, it was found that crowding conditions were due to the physical shortage of houses rather than small income on the part of those seeking dwellings.

The crowded dwellings often were found in need of repair—more than thirty per cent in fifteen of twenty-seven cities.

In seventeen of twenty-seven cities, less than twenty-five per cent of crowded families owned their own homes. In all cities but one, for crowded families which did occupy their own homes, the average value of the home was much lower than for all owned homes.

Crowded households had lived substantially less time in their present homes than had the general average of families and the proportion which had spent one year or less in its present quarters suggested a lack of stability among crowded families.

The Bureau said: "The proportion of crowded households including lodging families was about twice as large as the proportion for all households. More crowded households included lodging families than included single lodgers."

Most crowded families were headed by wage-earners, the report continued and the proportion of such families with more than one wage-earner was above the average for all families. Average earnings of wage-earner heads of crowded families were lower than the general average by as much as $600 per year in some cities, and by substantial amounts in all cities.

"A relatively high proportion of low rentals among crowded households indicates that a considerable percentage of the crowded people are unable to pay for accommodation adequate as to space or in other respects," the Bureau said.

"In the twenty-seven cities, from four to sixty per cent of crowded households, or more than 29,000 in all, paid less than $15 rent, as did about 50,000 households which averaged one room or more per person.

"Further evidence of correlation between lack of space and other housing deficiencies appears from comparisons of the dwellings occupied by crowded families with the general run of dwellings. The former were characterized by high proportions in need of external repairs, over thirty per cent in fifteen of twenty-seven cities; and by the high proportions heated by stove rather than furnace, almost twice as great among crowded as among all homes.

"Higher proportions of crowded families also reported toilet facilities outside or shared with other families, no bathing facilities or shared ones, shared cooking facilities and no refrigeration."

SPANISH MOBILIZATION

Spain's move to mobilize more of her potential three million soldiers is generally accepted in informed European quarters as a bona fide effort to avoid fighting, rather than any step toward military co-operation with her Axis friends, according to reliable information.

With German military might sitting firmly on his Northern doorstep and powerful Allied forces arrayed across the narrow Gibraltar strait to the South, Gen. Francisco Franco has authorized reinforcement of his land, air and sea forces, it was disclosed yesterday in Madrid.

Instead of using the more forthright—and possibly alarming—term "mobilization," the announcement said merely that heads of the three armed services are being allowed to call up the necessary men to reinforce their commands.

This cautious wording was accepted as evidence of the care with which the Spanish leader is treading to avoid making his hungry, revolution-scarred country a battleground again.

Advices from Overseas gave this view of Franco's dilemma and his probable plans and motives:

Spain has an army of about 500,000 and it may be doubled or tripled under the partial mobilization order but it is doubtful that Franco will try to realize full military potential quickly.

ALBERTA FACES A COAL FAMINE

Alberta, a high-ranker among Canada's coal-producing provinces faces a serious shortage of this vital fuel due to conditions brought about by the war.

Warnings have been issued that schools may close, the Province's war industries may feel the pinch and even railway traffic may be tied up if something is not done to relieve the situation.

Provincial authorities lay the blame to three factors: A lag in anticipated coal production; increased demands by wartime industries and failure of Albertans, despite warnings, to lay in coal stocks during the summer.

H. E. Tanner, Alberta Minister of Mines, said his department was attempting to arrange for provisional certificates for miners through a temporary revision of the Mines Act, in an effort to aid in supplying quickly the needed labor.

Latest warning came from the Red Deer Board of Trade in wires to the Dominion and Provincial Ministers of Mines, asking "decisive steps." It said "practically all coal mines in the Province are at least three months behind with shipments" and that Red Deer residents are suffering hardship and schools may have to close.

Edmonton coal dealers have warned they are three weeks behind in deliveries. William Carnill, Director of the Edmonton Office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, has issued an urgent appeal for men to work in the mines. He warned that the coal shortage threatens not only residents, but war industries and possible railway tie-ups.

Mr. Tanner said the situation had been expected, despite the fact Alberta's coal production to September this year showed an increase of 791,551 tons over production to September, 1941.

Until recently Alberta coal was being shipped to Ontario, but this was stopped when colder weather set in and brought a flood of coal orders.

Alberta's Chief Inspector of Mines, A. A. Millar, said he believed "absenteeism"—voluntary absence of miners to escape heavy wartime income taxes—was a factor in the coal shortage picture.

Thirty Years Ago

FROM THE RECORD FILES

Although earlier reports told of an armistice in the Balkans-Turkish war, the bloodiest battle of the struggle is now raging before Hademkein with the Turks bitterly contesting every inch of the ground they were forced to evacuate. Tension between Austria and Servia is mounting again and promises to involve all Eastern Europe.

The Sherbrooke City Hockey League has been reorganized with the following officers: Roy Atto, W. Saunders, G. B. Maguire, George Povey, F. F. Boyle, Dr. F. H. Bradley, William H. Brent, J. P. Watson and E. C. Moe.

Hon. Louis Codere, recently named Secretary of State, defeated the Nationalist candidate, M. Doyon, in Hochelaga division of Montreal by a majority of 2,206.

Despite strenuous opposition the Quebec Legislature approved a measure to incorporate the recently acquired North-eastern Territories into the Province under the name of New Quebec rather than under their traditional title of Ungava.

Among those taking part in a programme marking the 35th anniversary of Unity Lodge I.O.O.F. in Sherbrooke were A. E. J. McReary, Mrs. Dodds, Miss Jamieson, Miss K. Robins, Dr. Malcolm MacKay, Mrs. M. MacKay, George Dick, Jr., J. T. Matthews, F. Colwill, W. Hoyle, Charles Johnstone, Miss J. Dempster, J. W. McKee and A. H. Bartlett.

Hostesses for a tea at the Church of the Advent, East Sherbrooke, were Mrs. Causier, Mrs. E. Mills, Mrs. A. E. Wiggett and Mrs. H. Wilcox.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

To the Editor of the Record.

Dear Sir:—Due to the untiring efforts of Mr. V. G. Rexford, Georgeville went well over its quota in the recent Victory Loan Campaign.

Mr. Rexford is a veteran of the last war and takes a keen interest in anything pertaining to the success of the Allied war effort. He has taken an active part in our local salvage drives, and during the Victory Loan campaign last February he walked miles through the snow to collect subscriptions.

To him and to others who helped we, the citizens, say "Thank you."

Yours truly,
A. K. ATKIN.

Georgeville.

MILK DELIVERY

To the Editor of the Record.

Dear Sir:—I should like very much to draw the attention of fellow-citizens to the coming milk situation, and would appreciate your printing my letter in your columns.

Every one of us has gladly subscribed to the War Loan; to buying War Savings Stamps regularly; we do not kick when we've kept supper waiting hours for husbands detained at work because of war conditions, and we haven't fussed very much about wearing the old coat again this winter or going without that "crazy hat," you, Mr. Editor, notice so very particularly.

I could go on and on and on—but when it comes to asking us to give to our small babies milk which is three days old—that is what I call not being very bashful! Especially when it is not a necessity.

I realize fully that in cities like Montreal, Toronto, New York City, any large city where the milk arrives daily by motor transport from great distances, there could be a real saving in rubber and gasoline. But in a little city like Sherbrooke where the farms are practically at our back door—I don't see the logic of it. My own baby son will be very, very thirsty on Sundays, I fear, because he has never yet had stale milk. He has, in fact, refused to drink it when the bottles have been mixed. Pasteurized milk does not sour easily but it has a strong odor and a bad taste when it is stale. Try it sometime.

Is there any reason why Sherbrooke has to be led around by some bright brain who became momentarily clouded and missed a ray of light here and there? Couldn't the fact that our milk is delivered by horse-drawn vehicles make a difference? Where is the expense in tires and gas there? Couldn't the same system be used to bring it to the city from the farms? What will the milk be doing on the farms all day Sunday? Cows have to be milked Sundays as well as Mondays! And, what about this new idea of a healthy Canada? The talk I heard on the radio by a prominent doctor about feeding our people the proper diet in order to promote better health for the nation must be wasted effort then. Milk was the first food on his list. I didn't hear anything about stale milk though!

Another reason for not delivering on Sundays is to let the men have Sundays with their families. How about the men in the war plants? Why should the milk companies be allowed to make a little extra profit at the expense of our babies' health? I didn't see any indication of a reduction in the price of milk for this added inconvenience. As a matter of fact it will be from then on "pay before I give it to you." And there was to be no profiteering!

Stale milk could be likened unto Sherbrooke's city water—not exactly bad but definitely not good!

Oh, well, let's cheer up! Many housewives will have to throw out the Sunday roast to make room for two or three more bottles in the ice-box. Six milk bottles, maybe seven with the weekly half pint of cream, take up a lot of room. Anything for the war effort! And statistics showed it was the little people—the insignificant—that put over the War Loan campaign.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,
M. G. M.

PRESS COMMENTS

RECALLING SOME FACTS

Toronto Globe and Mail

At his press conference at Washington Mr. Roosevelt answered Mr. Willkie's limited application of the Atlantic Charter, and permitted the use of direct quotations, something infrequently done: In these words Mr. Roosevelt set the record clear: "The Atlantic Charter applies to all humanity, as the Secretary of State and I have said several times," The Charter applies to India and China. Mr. L. S. Amery, Britain's Secretary of State for India, has said the same. The Atlantic Charter is so called because it was signed in the Atlantic Ocean by Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt as "common principles in the national policies" of the United States and the United Kingdom. These principles were later adopted in the declaration of the United Nations. Included in the signatories were representatives of Russia and China. Mr. Roosevelt performed a useful service by repeating the old facts. And Mr. Willkie, who is one of the outstanding figures in the United States, will likely be the first to admit his error.

HEROES OF MERCHANT MARINE

Toronto Star Weekly

And what heroes these men of the Merchant Navy have proved to be. On torpedoed ships, some of them, again and again, they have passed through all the perils of marine and submarine warfare. Many of them have perished. Tales of their courage and self-sacrifice in the face of danger are constantly appearing. They man all sorts and conditions of ships — ships, sometimes, which are used on sea voyages only because there are too few of the sort which are fit for that work. But many of them will be going to sea now on the fine 10,000-ton ships which Canada is building; more than 50 of such ships have been set afloat this year. These, too, will be vulnerable to the shell and the torpedo. Those who man them—those who man any ship nowadays—have danger for their bedfellow. They never know when they will awake to disaster. These men are helping to win the war just as surely as the men of the armed forces. And sinking after sinking reveals them as equally heroic.

BATTLES FOR CITIES

Sarnia Observer

It is reported from London that the Nazis have begun to fortify Europe's coastal cities in the manner of the Russians. The Muscovites have successfully held Leningrad and Stalingrad because they have fortified every building and every street for defence.

Stalin's legions put up a good fight at Sevastopol in a similar manner but yielded finally to superior forces. Apparently Hitler is deeply impressed and is adopting similar means to meet his problems of holding the European coasts against threatened invasion.

Earlier in the war the idea was to maintain a general line of defence on land. If pushed back, cities in the line of retreat were not defended so as to avoid their destruction. Many a city was declared an "open" city—that is, the defenders had no intention of using it as a point of resistance. Sometimes the invaders co-operated and did not attack the city, as in the case of Paris. But in other instances "open" cities have been bombed regardless.

Now the city may return to its ancient place in warfare, which is the central point of struggle. Until comparatively recent time all of the turmoil took place in and around cities. And while the trend in this conflict has been away from that mode of warfare, with panzer divisions more effective when afforded freedom of movement in the countryside, the swing again may be toward desperate urban encounter.

If this is true, many a city in Europe may be destined to bear scars which will never heal, if indeed the fighting does not result in total obliteration.

CHIANG KAI-SHEK HAS BIRTHDAY

New York Herld-Tribune

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was fifty-five years of age the last day of October. The dispatches from Chungking bring no news of a celebration, and it is unlikely that there was one; for the Chinese take little account of birthdays up to the sixtieth, when a man is supposed to have arrived at patriarchal estate. The man who united China just in advance of her terrible ordeal and braced her for it, was not fifty, however when he became the de facto head of the whole vast Chinese family, commanding the respect and fidelity of myriads of patriarchal clans. So the fact that he has reached the age of fifty-five with a sound, vigorous mind, and in good health, despite a staggering burden of responsibility which he has not laid aside for one moment these many years past, is something upon which not only the Chinese people, but all the peoples of the United Nations may well congratulate themselves, if Chinese custom stands in the way of extending congratulations and good wishes to the generalissimo himself.

If the China of July, 1937, had been the China of July, 1927, torn and exhausted by civil war among a variety of irreconcilable military factions, no force could have pulled the nation together for effective resistance to Japanese aggression. The terms under which Japan would have farmed China's resources down to December 7th, 1942, or perhaps an earlier date if the farming had been productive enough, would have been determined by the Japanese Army. Japan would not have been subjected to a five-year drain upon her military resources and there would have been no Chinese hinterland upon which the United Nations could build up bases for an offensive against the aggressor on the mainland. For the fact that China had the unity and, therefore, the courage to resist, to make the farming of her wealth unprofitable and to set limits to Japanese conquests, the civilized world is largely indebted to Chiang Kai-shek.

There is not the slightest doubt that, instead of weakening under the strain of these terrible years, Chiang Kai-shek has grown in stature under it. He has led his people through a great spiritual revolution, as well as a hideous ordeal, and because he has won their confidence they have his; and he makes his decisions with the certain knowledge of what he and they can do. Together they have done the impossible, and, as we said at the outset, all the free peoples of this earth can congratulate themselves on the fact that, at fifty-five he is the strong, assured leader of a nation that wastes no spiritual energy whatever contemplating the possibility of defeat.

FRENCH PRESS

THE CASE OF DARLAN

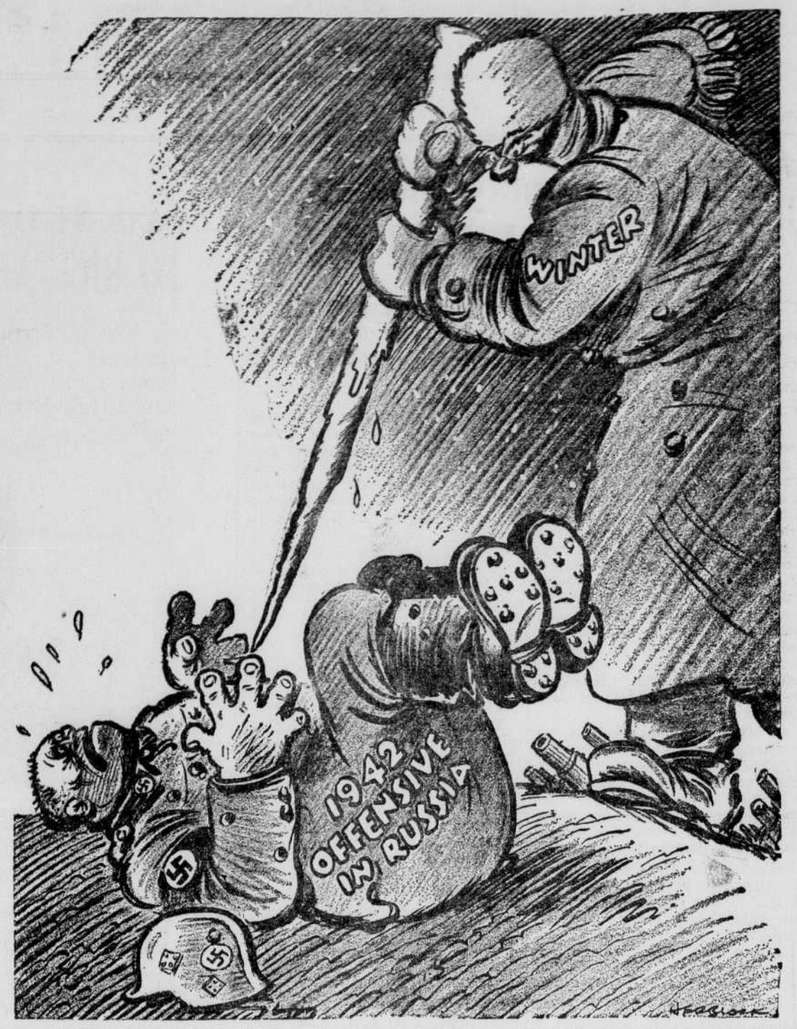
Le Soleil, Quebec.

There is no limit to human credulity, and to imposture still less. Because a notable Anglophobe like Darlan offers his treacherous services to the Americans, press agencies send dispatches letting it be understood that London and Washington are using his services for propaganda purposes. If such was the case, it would be necessary to believe that there are reasons for confidence in a man who ordered French sailors to their deaths to defend the honor of their flag, while he himself, a few hours later, was eager to open the gates of Algiers to a foreign army of occupation.

Whatever Darlan's present sympathies are and whatever his role was with the men of Vichy, he is a blackguard. To follow the advice of such a person would greatly compromise the position of Allied political and military chiefs. One certain thing, Charles de Gaulle would have nothing to do with such an undignified arrangement. Jean Francois Darlan appears to be a man trying to tke advantage of the misfortunes of his country. He was one of the servile agents of Axis power.

He is responsible for the unnecessary tragedies which decimated the French fleet at Oran, Dakar, and Casablanca. And since the question of punishment for war guilt has arisen, Darlan should be one of the first to undergo trial before a war council. There is no pardon for the wrongdoers. The confidence of free people will be shaken by any weakness to this auxiliary of Pierre Laval, the French Quisling.

COUP DE GRACE?



McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

WISE BIDDER KNOWS EXACT CARD LIMIT

After the war I am sure we will see a lot more Mid-Western and Western women participating in the major bridge events of the country—and if they do, I predict that they will win a fair share of the trophies, as they are really fine tournament players. Mrs. Helen Meixner and Mrs. Stella MacMillan of Chicago won the All-American women's pair event this year. Here is a perplexing hand that confronted them during the tournament.

With North and South vulnerable, East and West could afford to be set three tricks doubled to save the spade game. Most of the East-West pairs did make a sacrifice bid of five hearts and most of the North-West pairs doubled. Mrs. Meixner and Mrs. MacMillan, with the North-South cards, reached the most difficult of contracts, five of a major suit not bid as a sacrifice. Refusing to let East and West steal the hand, these ladies bid the exact limit of their cards. The contract was made easily as dummy could ruff out both of South's losing clubs.

CLOSE OF WEEK OF EDUCATION AT STANSTEAD

Inspector of Schools R. Bartlett Gives Excellent Address on Education—Discussion Follows.

Stanstead, Nov. 19.—An interesting meeting took place in Centenary Church Hall on November 15, to mark the close of Educational Week.

The Rev. C. M. Stewart, Pastor of the church, presided and opened the meeting with a hymn, followed by Scripture reading and prayer.

The guest speaker, Mr. Roland Bartlett, inspector of schools, was introduced by Rev. Mr. Stewart. Mr. Bartlett gave an excellent address on education. Following the address, the speaker answered questions in regard to rural education, particularly as it is conducted in Stanstead County, and suggested some improvements that could be made by the school boards and commissioners.

A survey is being made of the county by a specially appointed board and its report is eagerly awaited by teachers and educators, who are vitally interested in the problems of the rural schools.

Mr. Stewart thanked Inspector Bartlett for his kindness in coming to Stanstead and presenting such an interesting and informative address.

General Notes

Mr. Omer H. Durand, of Montreal, was in Stanstead on business.

Dr. R. O. Ross spent a day in Sherbrooke, where he conveyed a patient to the Sherbrooke Hospital.

SAVES CLOTHES IN WARTIME!

Avoid washday wear and tear with the new OXYDOL

LET RICH, SAFE WASHING ACTION ALONE GET CLOTHES GLORIOUSLY CLEAN

CLOTHES have to last longer these days. That's why better washing care is so important. That's why so many women now wash the safer OXYDOL way. They know this modern soap gets their family's clothes radiantly white—without the harsh bleaching and hard rubbing that can be so injurious to fabrics and colors.

Just wait till you see its livelier "Hustle-Bubble" suds go to work for you! Every ounce of new Oxydol is so much richer in washing power! Gets more dirt . . . and gets it gently. Yes, these active suds soak dirt loose!

Except for stains or unusual pieces —your wash comes dazzling white . . . without bleaching . . . without hard rubbing . . . without extra washer running time!

And lady—you'll cheer for Oxydol's safety. It's so kind to your clothes . . . so safe for dainty washable colors and rayons!

LORD BISHOP PAID VISIT TO RICHMOND

Rt. Rev. Philip Carrington Officiated at a Number of Functions During Visit to Richmond-Melbourne.

The Lord Bishop of Quebec, the Right Rev. Philip Carrington, visited the Parish of Richmond and Melbourne, on November 6, in the evening. Illustrated views were shown to the Junior W. A. by the Lord Bishop and afterward he met with the Board of Concurrence in St. Anne's Parish Hall.

He also visited the two oldest members of the Parish, Mrs. John Gallup, of Melbourne, and Mrs. Mappin, of Richmond.

While here he was a guest at the home of the Misses Mathias. The Lord Bishop took the three services in St. Anne's Church on Sunday, leaving for Quebec on Monday morning.

General Notes

Mrs. Abercrombie, who has been at her home here for three weeks has returned to Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Bolter have rented Mrs. Abercrombie's house.

Miss D. Lambert has closed her summer home for the winter months.

Miss Mary Jameson is spending a few days with Mrs. Converse in Upper Melbourne.

The many friends of Mr. J. O. L. Michaud will be sorry to hear that he is a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, having undergone a serious operation. All join in wishing Mr. Michaud a speedy recovery.

Messrs. George Ewing and F. J. Newell were in Montreal.

Do Your Manners Pass Date Tests?

She Lets HIM Say "Excuse Me!"

Crude manners can creep up on you unawares!

Like germs they can be catching—little habits like leading the way through a movie crowd instead of letting your beau do the leading, murmuring "Excuse me!" to people you pass, when only he should say it.

These things are painfully embarrassing to most men. They want their girls perfectly, beautifully poised.

But, our booklet on etiquette makes it easy to correct crude habits. You don't have to agonize, "Did he notice my faux pas?"

In the movie you let your escort step out of the row of seats first, then you precede him up the aisle. Getting out of buses and cars, he alights first to give you a hand.

You, of course, never say "Thank you" for such courtesies, or for dances either. It is taken for granted that YOU are conferring the favor!

Our 32-page booklet has etiquette tips both girls and men need to know. Tells how to behave on dancing, dining, theatre, motoring and other dates; how to handle introductions.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Etiquette for Young Moderns" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Que. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

SHERBROOKE MUNICIPAL CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., held one of its most successful meetings of the autumn season Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Munster.

Mrs. W. E. Loomis, Regent, presided and the minutes as read by Mrs. G. B. Loomis and the financial report given by Mrs. M. Graham, were approved.

The Treasurer reported that so far this year already $952 had been spent on wool alone in knitting for the Armed Forces, by the Municipal Chapter. Mrs. Graham was authorized to pay all outstanding bills.

After the Treasurer's report, correspondence was attended to by the presiding officer.

One letter of special importance to the members was a letter of resignation owing to ill health from Mrs. Malcolm Mitchell.

This was received with a deep sense of regret for Mrs. Mitchell has been the Chapter's outstanding War Convener and a great war worker. The members wished Mrs. Mitchell a speedy recovery, for her ability in "getting things done" was felt in all branches of the Order's work.

Mrs. Leslie Arter was elected to the office of War Convener to take over where Mrs. Mitchell has left off and to Mrs. Arter goes all the members' co-operation. In presenting the War Service report, Mrs. Arter stated that knitted articles amounting to $268.58 have already been sent in during November.

Mrs. Harold Goodhue, Canteen Convener, gave a good report on the work done at the Red Shield Club.

In November so far, there have been 265 soldiers in attendance.

Mrs. Goodhue told the members about a Christmas party which is being planned for the soldiers at the Canteen.

The I.O.D.E. promised to provide cigarettes and other articles in order that the party may be a success, and the Regents and Conveners in the Primary Chapters were invited to attend this party.

The Primary Chapters of the I.O.D.E. have their own Hospitality Conveners to look after the entertainment of soldiers.

Mrs. Lyman Tomkins was elected Municipal Convener in order that there be a central head for the seven chapters.

The business of the meeting continued with a "Drive" to be inaugurated to collect money for the purpose of buying books for the men in the Army, Air Force and Navy.

There is a great demand for libraries and this work is deemed to be important to the keeping up of morale.

Miss May Mitchell made her report on the ways and means of raising money for the Chapter's general work by a "Mile of Pennies." It is hoped that the public will back this project in order that the fine war work of the I.O.D.E. ladies will continue.

Miss McIver, Immigration and Colonization Convener, made an appeal for warm clothes for children and gifts for the Christmas tree at the Lawrence Colony.

During the progress of the meeting, money was voted toward the Legion Christmas tree and the War Guest Fund.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Munster for the use of her home. The meeting was adjourned with the singing of "God Save the King."

Mrs. A. Thwaites, North Hatley, was a recent guest for a few days of Mrs. A. Reynolds, in Lennoxville.

* * *

Mrs. R. L. Bishop returned home to Sherbrooke this morning from Charlottetown, P.E.I., where she has spent the past two weeks.

Mrs. Leo L. Dufault, 215 Drummond Road, has received a cable from her husband, S. S. M. Leo L. Dufault, informing her of his safe arrival in England.

* * *

Pte. Fred Somerset, 2nd Black Watch Battalion, who has spent his furlough with his mother, Mrs. V. Somerset, 136 Wellington Street North, has returned to Sussex, N.B.

* * *

Mrs. Chester Colby, Longueuil, has received a cable informing her of the safe arrival, somewhere in England, of her brothers, Trooper H. J. Gilbert and Trooper J. A. Gilbert.

Lieutenant W. H. Edgecombe, R. C. O. C., returned to Ottawa yesterday, after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Edgecombe, 223 McManamy Avenue.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Longeway announce the approaching marriage of their youngest daughter, Norma Sweet, to Lieut. Allan Duncan Bryce, son of Mrs. J. H. Bryce and the late Mr. Bryce. The wedding to take place November 28.

* * *

Mrs. J. Russell R. Gough, who has been a Section Officer with the British Motorized Corps, somewhere in England, since last April, has been promoted to Company Cadet Officer. Her husband, Lieut.-Col. Gough, has been appointed to A.Q. 5th, Canadian Armoured Division.

* * *

Mrs. Everett Bayley presided over the weekly meeting of St. Peter's Guild held yesterday afternoon in the Parish Hall, when tentative plans were formulated for its annual Christmas sale and salad tea on December 2nd, the members during the interim working on articles for the sale.

* * *

Mrs. F. A. Cutter entertained the members of the Women's Auxiliary Trinity United Church on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Magog Street, when under the presidency of Mrs. J. Hazle, final arrangements were made for a salad tea in the church tea room. The session closed with the Mizpah benediction.

* * *

Mr. David MacKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacKay, Bethune Street, who has spent the past six months in Montreal working for the British Admiralty Technical Mission, journeyed on to Kingston, Ont., where he joined the Fleet Air Arm, afterwards returning home to Sherbrooke to spend a day with his parents before leaving on Tuesday night for Halifax.

* * *

Mrs. A. R. Wilson and Mrs. Sarah Duncan were joint hostesses last evening at the former's home on Frontenac Street, for a largely attended meeting of the Past Noble Grand's Club of Princess Rebekah Lodge No. 4, of which Mrs. J. B. Frappied is President. Bridge and five hundred were played at four tables, the prizes, War Savings Stamps, being won by Mrs. Milo Lothrop and Mrs. A. R. Wilson. At the conclusion of the game the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Hubert Ames, served dainty refreshments.

On the night of his departure for the coast, Mr. David MacKay, who has joined the Fleet Air Arm, was given a delightful surprise party at his parents' home on Bethune Street, where upwards of twenty friends assembled and presented him with a suitable gift. Refreshments were served and afterwards the guests who had planned the informal farewell party, accompanied Mr. MacKay to the station, where they gave him a hearty send-off and wished him the best of good luck.

* * *

Mrs. Wilfred W. Davey was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home on Walton Avenue for a largely attended meeting of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Owing to the absence of the President, Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. Arthur M. Edwards, immediate Past-President, assumed the chair. That the delightful tea party given by Miss Elizabeth Dunsmore had also proved a wonderful success financially, was revealed in the report submitted by Mrs. A. J. Morrison, Treasurer. After completing plans for the Christmas sale and chicken-patty tea on Wednesday, November 25th, a sum of money was voted for Christmas cheer for boys on service Overseas. At the close of the pleasant social hour which followed the business period, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. George M. Dick assisting.

* * *

Mrs. J. Hazle, President of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church, received the many guests who attended the delicious salad tea served yesterday afternoon in the Tea Room, under the capable convenership of Mrs. W. E. Hodge and Mrs. M. Broadbelt. Miss M. Heath, Treasurer, acted as cashier and Mrs. Fred Williams did the honors at the lace-covered tea table, which looked most attractive with yellow baby 'mums arranged in a silver bowl as its centerpiece. Later Mrs. Williams was relieved by Mrs. F. Cathcart who presided at the silver tea service for the remainder of the afternoon. The Conveners were ably assisted by Mrs. Badger, Mrs. G. Aubery, Mrs. O. Bailey, Mrs. Rainey and Mrs. O. Williams. Mrs. F. A. Outter and Mrs. H. Moore were in charge of the fancy work and apron table, their attractive wares tempting many buyers, while Mrs. J. H. Shorten and Mrs. O. Nelson found a ready sale for their fine display of home cookery. The receipts from both these special features helped substantially in augmenting the outstandingly successful grand total from the delightful tea party which both socially and financially won "Victory" for the members of the Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. J. Berwick was hostess on Monday evening at her home on Fairmount Avenue for the regular meeting of the Seventh Troop Boy Scouts Mothers' Auxiliary, which is ever a happy combination of business and social pleasure. Mrs. S. Robinson, President, was in the chair and routine business included the reading of the minutes by Mrs. J. Daniels, Secretary, and the financial report given by Mrs. M. Millar, Treasurer, both being approved, as was the motion that all bills be paid. Flowers were sent to Mrs. George Mouldy, who has been laid up with a fractured wrist, the members thus giving tangible expression to their sympathy. Mrs. J. Udall was welcomed as a new member, while another pleasant feature was a letter received from the Blitz Scouts who had visited Sherbrooke, and who wrote thanking the Auxiliary for hospitality and kindnesses extended to them during their brief stay in the city. Cards were played at two tables, the prize being won by Mrs. G. Bockus, who, it was later announced, will be hostess for the next meeting. At the conclusion of the game the hostess served refreshments with Mrs. Bockus assisting.

In the absence of the President, Mrs. Julia Blake presided. Different styles of collars made by Miss Alice Whitney, County Demonstrator, were on display, patterns from which were cut by many of the ladies. The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Robert Kilborn; Vice-President, Mrs. Fletcher Niles; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Raymond E. Blake; the names being voted upon and accepted. A hostess committee was appointed, namely, Mrs. Elizabeth Moulton, Mrs. Laura Miller and Mrs. Vinnie Rice. Other matters of business were discussed and disposed of. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Twenty-six ladies were present at this meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Carter in Derby, on Friday, December 4th, which will be an all-day meeting.

A very interesting and profitable meeting of the Parent-Teachers Club of the Derby Line school was held in the schoolhouse on November 9th. Superintendent L. L. Wells was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting talk on "Schools in Wartime". He outlined problems concerning both teacher and parents, which have come about because of the war and stated that we would have to face the fact that there would be more difficult school problems in the future. He summarized his speech by stressing three strong points which must be developed in every child both at home and at school in order to have good citizens in a strong democracy, namely, development of character, ability "To Take It", faith in a Supreme Being. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Wells for his inspiring message. A social hour followed, during which refreshments were served.

A great deal of sorrow is felt in the community in regard to the death of Mrs. James J. Murphy, which occurred at the Orleans County Memorial Hospital, Newport, Vt., on November 10th. For some time Mrs. Murphy had not been well, but remained at her desk in the Butterfield office almost to the end. She entered the hospital on November 5th and the following morning underwent a major operation, from which she seemed to rally, but only for a short time. The funeral was held at the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, in Rock Island, on Thursday morning with burial in Mount St. Mary's Cemetery, at Stanstead. Mrs. Murphy was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robertson, of Beebe. She is survived by her husband; one son, Fred Murphy; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, of Beebe; one brother, Fred Robertson, jr., Beebe; two sisters, Mary, Mrs. Elmer Bishop, Manchester, N. H.; and Millie, Mrs. Houghton H. Hastings, of Beebe.

AYER'S CLIFF HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS OPENING

Excellent Programme Given by Pupils at Annual Commencement Exercises Prior to Presentation of Prizes.

Ayer's Cliff, Nov. 19.—A capacity crowd gathered at the Confederation Hall on Thursday evening, November 12, for the opening of the Ayer's Cliff High School, which was comprised of interested parents and friends of the pupils, who gave an excellent programme prior to the presentations of the various prizes for last year's work, the Stanstead County Track meet and also the School Fair prizes for 1942.

Mr. A. H. Slack, Chairman of the School Board, presided and acted as master of ceremonies throughout the evening. The programme opened with a song, "I Love You, Canada," by Grades I to VII, Miss Beryl Rexford being the accompanist and Miss Marjorie Woodard, of Beebe, director. Mr. Slack extended on behalf of the School Board a welcome to the large number of people who had shown their interest in the pupils and school by their attendance. He went on to say that one hundred and one pupils had enrolled for the year, thirty-one of these coming from outside the municipality. He spoke of the seriousness of the teaching problem under the present war time conditions and pleaded with the scholars to take every advantage offered them in the way of education. He introduced the new Principal, Miss Esther England, and also the Elementary Teacher, Miss June Reed, of Waterville, saying that Mrs. Caswell, the Assistant Principal, and Miss Longmoore needed no introductions as all knew them and the fine work that they had done in the previous year.

The motion song, "Jack Frost," by Grades I and II was very sweet, the tiny tots singing and doing all the motions. The play, "Friends in Need," was very well presented by Grades X and XI. The introductory remarks were made by the director, Jean Rousseau. Wilmot Crook was stage manager and Miss Beryl Rexford was in charge of the costumes. Those depicting the parts in very capable manner were Pauline Gothorp, Roberta Dustin, George Astbury, William Crook and Gloria MacDonald. Between the first and second acts, Miss Irene Lavers sang "White Christmas."

A ribbon drill was presented by the girls in Grades I and II, these little folks presenting a very fine picture marching in long white gowns carrying blue ribbons with which they did the drill work. Little Mary Kealey, of Hoboken, N.J., who is staying here and attending school, gave a very nice recitation and responded with an encore. Murray Baldwin played as a piano solo "Wings Over the Navy," and the Rhythm Band of Grades II and III played two numbers, all of which were greatly enjoyed.

Dr. C. L. Brown gave a complete report of the medical inspection which had taken place at the School the week previous, and this report showed that ninety-three had been examined, and out of that number there had been fifty-four clear cards. On the whole he thought that the pupils here had a splendid standing. He spoke of this examination which is each year sponsored by the Women's Institute and this year he said he was indebted to Mrs. Willis Dustin, Mrs. Crook, Mrs. Samuel Astbury and Miss Helen Crook for their able assistance.

A playlet, "Le Petit Chaperon Rouge," was presented by Grade IV, this being in French throughout, and very well rendered by the young players. This was followed by a group of two songs by the girls in Grades IV to VII, "A Merry Life" and "In the Evening by The Moonlight." Grades VIII and IX presented another play, "Far From the Madding Crowd," the introductory remarks being made by June Frappied. The cast included Beverly Tyler, Mary Lou Miller, Phyllis Gothorp, Murray Baldwin, Robert Tyler, James Davis and Teddie Walker, each portraying his or her part splendidly.

The boys from Grades IV to VII sang the song "To the Stars," with John Lavers doing the solo, after which the prizes were presented by Mr. H. P. Stone.

On behalf of the School Board, Mrs. C. Caswell, who was recently married, was presented with a coffee table.

The evening's entertainment closed with the National Anthem.

TRACK RIBBONS

The winners of the ribbons at the Track Meet were as follows:

Johns Lavers, 18th Eastern Townships Spring Inter-Scholastic Track Meet, 1942, at Stanstead College, 1, midget 50-yard dash; 1, midget high jump; 1, midget broad jump; and at the 11th annual Stanstead County Track Meet: 1, midget broad jump; 2, midget 50-yard dash; 3, midget relay; Robert Tyler, 3, midget relay; John Lepine, 3, midget relay; Allen Brewer, 3, midget relay; Helen Martin, 3, girls' midget 50-yard dash.

In addition to the School prizes and the Track Meet prizes, the Department of Agriculture of the Province of Quebec presented the School Fair prizes as the list had been made up by the Division Agriculturist, W. G. Robinson, of Lennoxville. In his communication to the teachers of the School he urged that they encourage the pupils to invest as much as possible of the prize money in War Savings Stamps as it was one of the best ways of helping the war effort. Nineteen dollars was the sum distributed in this section and given to the following: John Lepine, for corn; Leon Whipple, carrots; Jean Brown, beets; Robert Tyler, carrots; Yvan Bryan, lamb and hog judging; Lucy Corey, cake, candy and hand-made sweater; Barbara Vancour, graham muffins; Douglas Stone, pumpkins; Elaine Beamish, cookies; Archie Christiansen, beets; Allan Brewer, cabbages; John Lavers, squash; Richard Colt, corn and poultry judging; Dorothy McNeill, carrots; Russell Place, pumpkins and bacon hogs; Mary Jean Vaughan, canned tomatoes; Helena McComb, cake and cabbages; Ross Whitcomb, corn; Joyce Vaughan, tomatoes.

To the Ayer's Cliff High School for the first prize for the parade, $4 was awarded.

FROM THE PEN OF E. T. WRITERS

BEYOND THAT BLUE HORIZON

Beyond that blue horizon,
Out there, where we can't see,
Our boys are giving their lives,
Giving, for you and me.

Beyond that blue horizon,
Beyond this land we know,
Our loved ones are giving their blood,
To keep us from our foe.

At Dieppe, I gave a man,
At Hong Kong, I gave my son.
These are the cries we have heard
And will hear till we have won.

So, come on you Canadians,
Don't let sacrifices make you frown,
Just remember, "Beyond that blue horizon,
Our boys won't let us down."

—H. L. Hills.

Richmond, Que.

SHOWER GIVEN BY MISSISQUOI I.O.D.E. GROUP

Society at Bedford Gives Articles for Ditty Bags to Be Sent to Women in Armed Forces.

Bedford, Nov. 19.—The members of Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., were hostesses at a shower on Friday afternoon, November 13, for articles for ditty bags, which are sent yearly to the women of the armed forces serving in England.

An exhibition of work done by the members and friends of the Chapter was also held. Included in the display were a number of layettes totalling over six hundred articles. The work of preparing the layettes was under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Collins, and comprised seaboot stockings, complete outfits for the sailors and also several survivors' outfits, consisting of trousers, set of underwear, suspenders, socks, boots and turtle necked sweater. There is a great need at the present time for knitted articles for naval men. There was an excellent display of children's clothing consisting of dresses and pinafores, for which a special request has been made, boys' outfits consisting of sweater, trousers and suspenders were also shown. Complete outfits for the other branches of the service, army and air force, were also on display, also an afghan made by the young girls, under the direction of Mrs. William Corey.

The guests were welcomed on behalf of the Chapter by the first Vice-Regent, Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, while the Convener of War Work, Mrs. F. E. Best, gave a report of the Chapter's activities during the past six months, during which time over a thousand articles have been sent to Provincial Headquarters I.O.D.E., Montreal.

Not included in the above are many outfits given to local boys. In addition to the knitted articles each month the Chapter sends cigarettes to all local boys serving overseas, $575 having been spent on this part of the Chapter's work for 1942.

The Cigarettes Convener, Mrs. Gerald Smith, is glad at any time to receive any new names to add to the list.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus and Mrs. F. E. Best, while those who assisted in serving were Isabella Craighead, Bernice Laing, Shirley Phelps, Peggy Palmer and Phyllis Corey. The members in charge of the tea arrangements were Mrs. William Corey, Mrs. Eric Kemp and Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw.

A large number of articles and ditty bags were received, included in the contents of the ditty bags were comb, tooth paste, tooth brush, bobby pins, kleenex, safety pins, soap, wash cloth, towel, scissors, nail file, needles, thread, cold cream, lipstick, pencils, note paper and envelopes and shoe laces.

EDUCATION WEEK OBSERVED AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH

On Sunday morning at St. James' Anglican Church a service was held in connection with Educational Week. The students of the High School, together with the Principal, Mr. L. Williams, and the members of the High School staff attended the service in a body.

The processional hymn was "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty." Other hymns sung were "Yield Not To Temptation, For Yielding Is Sin," "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" and "God Save the King" and during the taking of the offertory, which was taken by two High School students, Malcolm Bradshaw and Robert Chadsey, the hymn, "Lord of the Lands," was sung. The lesson was read by Mr. C. B. Gittens, while the 23rd Psalm was chosen for the service.

In his address the Rector spoke of the need of religious instruction for the young, in order that when they reached maturity, they might be fitted to be good citizens. Reference was made to the importance of children receiving religious instruction in the schools of the country. It is only recently that the study of the Bible has been restored in the Protestant High Schools of the Province. A nation cannot hope to prosper unless its citizens are religious, Godfearing people. Much of the misery of the present day is due to the lack of religion among the peoples of the world, who have drifted away from their religion, and even in some countries have publicly turned away from the Church.

Painful, Pus Filled Boils the Cause of Much Misery

If you suffer from boils you know how sick and miserable they made you feel.

Boils are an outward indication of impurities in the system, and just when you think you are rid of one another crops up to take its place and prolong your misery. All the lancing and poulticing you can do may not stop more coming.

To help overcome boils you should purify the blood, so why not give that old, reliable blood medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, a chance to show what it will do in helping you get rid of them? Thousands have used it for this purpose for the past 60 years. Why not you?

N.H.L. LIKELY TO REDUCE PLAYER LIMIT

Canadian Clubs Would Gain By Boston Offer

Proposal of Art Ross to Cut Down Size of Clubs Generally Favored in View of War-time Difficulties in National Hockey League.

By The Canadian Press

Art Ross, author of so many National Hockey League rule changes and innovations in peace-time, may also set in action the League's first step toward a policy of war-time retrenchment.

The veteran manager of Boston Bruins, always quick at sighting hockey trends, proposes that the player limit of all N.H.L. clubs be reduced from fifteen to thirteen. The reasons are too obvious to mention. It's expected the proposal will be brought before the Boards of Governors at a meeting in New York next week.

Ross won't be there in person, because he has vowed never to attend a board of governors' meeting while Frank Calder remains League President. Ross reached that decision after a stormy controversy with New York Rangers over possession of Angus (Scotty) Cameron, centre on the Regina Rangers Allan Cup Team in 1940-41. Instead, the Boston proposal will be made by Bob Duncan, club solicitor.

Surface indications are that the latest Ross proposal, like so many of his earlier brainwaves, will carry. Rangers, having lost Bill Gooden from their Western Canada rookie line, are in the same fix as Boston. Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens have been unable to obtain border passports for several players and would stand to benefit by the reduced player limit in United States contests.

First place will be at stake when the Wings meet Hawks at Chicago tonight. The Hawks are two points behind Detroit and one in front of Leafs, Canadiens and Boston. Toronto could improve its third-place standing if Hawks lost by taking Rangers at New York in tonight's only other game. The Blueshirts, on the other hand, could make it a four-way tie for third place by trouncing Leafs.

Defends Role Of R.C.A.F. In Maintaining Canadian Rugby

By CHARLES EDWARDS,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto, Nov. 19.—(CP)—In all the controversy over the R.C.A.F. ruling no air force football team may play after December 1 and consequent derailment of the Grey Cup championship special, one familiar voice has been missing—that of Joe Ryan, long-time manager of Winnipeg Blue Bombers now employed at Ottawa.

But football is in Joe's blood and he dropped in on Bill (Ottawa Journal) Westwick with the comment: "It is a great shame that the Air Force must be indicted at this stage after a contribution to sport in general which seems forgotten by some writers in the heat of an argument centring soley around a final. I know that out in Winnipeg the R.C.A.F. has been most co-operative in helping keep the game alive. . . .

"I have an idea that if Canadian Rugby Union officials had dropped down to Ottawa and discussed the situation all this controversy might have been avoided. I'd say that it might all be ironed out satisfactorily even at this stage. . . It seems to me there has been a misunderstanding leading to the decision made by R.C.A.F. authorities."

Quip of the Week Club:

Goalie Jim Henry of Ottawa Commandos was suffering with a severe toothtache when Commandos beat Montreal Royals 9-1 in the Quebec Senior Hockey League last Saturday. Young Jean Paul Renaud, Royals' goalkeeper, observed: "A toothache at one end of the rink and a headache at the other."

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Christie were Mrs. Stewart Boyd, of Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Thomas Campbell, of East Angus.

The Ladies' Guild met on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ewing.

The Women's Association served dinner at the Hall on November 13, which was largely attended. Following the dinner the annual meeting of the Association was held and all the former officers were re-elected.

Mr. W. H. Hammond suffered painful injuries to his leg on Friday evening, November 13, when he was kicked by one of his horses as he entered the stable leading another horse. Fortunately no bones were broken, but the severity of the bruises made it necessary to remain in bed for several days.

Mr. Lawrence French, of Sherbrooke, was a visitor at his home here.

Providence Reds Failed To Advance In American League

By The Canadian Press

Providence Reds are wondering what it takes to get along in the American Hockey League.

The Reds racked up their third victory in succession last night by whipping the Eagles 7-4 in overtime at New Haven, but still trail the pace-setting Hershey Bears by three points.

The Bears, current king-pins of the Eastern Division, defeated the Lions of Washington 4-3 for their second triumph in eight days over the division's tail-enders. The Bears have won four and tied one in their last five contests.

The Reds' Ab de Marco pulled the fat out of the fire in the overtime with two of his three goals, after the high-scoring Rhode Islanders had thrown away a 4-1 lead for two periods. The Eagles scored three goals in the third session.

The Reds get another chance to pull up to the Bears tonight when they bump into the Eagles again, this time on Providence ice. The Western Division leaders, Buffalo Bisons, journey to Indianapolis to meet the second-place Capitals who trail them by four points.

MARBLETON

Owing to the slippery roads on the morning of November 13, the taxi driven by Mrs. Godbout turned turtle on highway No. 1. The Misses Madeline Elliott, Gwendolin Gilbert and Grace Thorneloe were being conveyed to the high school at Bishopton. They all sustained a severe shaking-up, but Miss Grace Thorneloe, who was sitting in the front seat, was thrown against the car and had her collar bone broken and also sustained shoulder injuries. She was taken to Sherbrooke by Dr. Elliott, where the bone was set. She is now resting at home doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Currier spent a week-end in Sherbrooke. Mrs. Currier was also a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lebourveau, at Cookshire.

Mrs. Austin Bishop and Mrs. H. H. Bishop visited Mr. John Staples in the Sherbrooke Hospital on November 16. They found his condition about the same.

Mr. Worth Bishop spent a week-end in Montreal.

Mds. William Hetherington has moved back to her home here from Sherbrooke.

The Red Cross unit is for the winter months holding its meetings on every other Thursday of the month at the Arlington Hotel. At the meeting held on November 12, a quilt was made for the refugees.

Newsy Notes From Scotstown

In tribute to the citizens of Scotstown, who gave their lives in the last Remembrance Day service was held Great War, a brief, but impressive at the cenotaph, in the High School grounds, on Armistice Day, November 11th.

After the singing of "O Canada", brief addresses were given by Rev. J. W. Smith, and Mr. A. O. Rousseau, the latter speaking in French. Mr. W. A. Ladd read the names of those who gave their lives in defence of freedom, which included Grant MacLennan, Ernest Whittingham, and Grant Scott, who made the supreme sacrifice in the same cause. "Reveille" was sounded by Mr. F. J. Buck, followed by two-minutes silence, and the "Last Post".

The wreaths in front of the cenotaph were placed by Mr. A. O. Rousseau, for the Town; Mr. Thomas Riglar, for the Canadian Legion; Mrs. W. A. Ladd, for the Women's Institute; and by Leslie Irving for the High School.

The National Anthem, followed with prayer by Rev. J. W. Smith closed the service. The ceremony was attended by a large representation of local citizens, ex-service men, the High School pupils, the pupils of the Catholic school, and representatives from the Canadian Legion in Bury. Mr. Philip Roy acted as Standard bearer.

ST. ANDREW'S S. S.

Under the direction of the superintendent, Mrs. J. D. Cox, Remembrance Sunday was observed, in St. Andrew's Sunday School.

The Call to Worship consisted of the poem by Grace Noll Crowell, entitled, "So Long As There Are Homes To Which Men Turn", read by Mrs. Cox.

The names of men serving in the Armed Forces from 1914-1918, and now on the Church Honour Roll, were read by Mr. A. A. Mackenzie, and this was followed by a moment of silence, in tribute to those past services rendered.

The C. G. I. T. Group, with Miss Cuyla MacAulay at the organ, sung the hymn, "A Prayer For Peace".

It was decided by the school to save pennies in the Good Cheer bank, to be used at Christmas time for gifts for the needy. Announcement was made that on the coming Sunday, a quiz would be conducted on the memory scripture texts learned during the year by the school.

ST. PAUL'S RAINBOW MISSION BAND

St. Paul's Rainbow Mission Band held its opening meeting in the Church Hall, in charge of the leader, Miss Ruth MacDonald. The call to worship was given by Ruth Coates, and the scripture lesson was read by Ann Goodin.

The officers for the coming year were appointed as follows: President, Iris MacLeod; Vice-President, Ann Goodin; Secretary, Audrey MacLennan; Treasurer, Anne MacLeod.

The meeting closed with the Mission Band text, motto, and prayer.

ST. ANDREW'S W. A.

The November meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Association was held in the Church Hall, and was directed by the President, Mrs. R. A. Scott. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Roy Waldron, who read the scripture lesson from I Corinthians, chapter 12, with comment and prayer from programme of the Associate Council, entitled, "The Worth Of The Individual".

It was reported that receipts from entertainment, held in the Church Hall, amounted to forty dollars and seventy-five cents. Mrs. Roy Waldron and Mrs. William Murray were named as a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the ensuing year. It was decided that the annual sale and social be held early in December and committees were appointed to arrange for same: Mrs. A. A. Macaulay is to take charge of the apron table, and Mrs. William Taylor, the donation table, Mrs. C. M. Smith was appointed to take charge of a Christmas tree.

A committee was also appointed to solicit for refreshments. It was agreed that the sum of One Hundred dollars and interest be paid on the Hall debt. The meeting adjourned with the Mizpah Benediction.

MOVIES AND A DUTCH AUCTION

Sponsored by St. Andrew's Women's Association, and under the direction of Mrs. S. J. Scott and Mrs. Papson Sherman, local movies were shown in the Church Hall. Afterwards, a Dutch auction was held with Mr. Hugh Burrows as auctioneer, assisted by Mrs. J. B. Scott, Mrs. F. B. Mayhew and Mr. Robert Smith, resulting in a beautiful hand-made rug being won by Mrs. J. Murray.

A table of delicious home cooking, in charge of Mrs. W. A. Ladd and Mrs. Hugh Burrows, found ready sale. The receipts of the evening's entertainment were very satisfactory.

THE CIRCLE

A well-attended meeting of the Presbyterian Circle was held in the Church Hall, with Mrs. A. M. MacKenzie and Mrs. K. M. Smith as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie, opened the meeting, and Mrs. A. M. MacKenzie directed the devotional period.

A satisfactory financial report was given by the Treasurer, Mrs. D. A. Campbell, which showed the proceeds of the Scotch concert as eighteen dollars and sixty cents. It was planned to hold a rummage sale in the Church Hall, the latter part of the month, and it was decided to remember those overseas from St. Paul's, with cards, at the Christmas season.

Later, tea was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. D. L. MacRitchie, Mrs. John M. MacAulay, and Miss Irene MacDonald.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The senior pupils of the local High School were privileged in having an address given them by Mrs. H. V. Morris, who gave a vivid account of her experiences during the evacuation of Singapore. The instructive and interesting talk was greatly enjoyed by the pupils.

A vote of thanks to the speaker, was moved by George Woolley and seconded by Kathleen Morrison, both of the graduating class.

INITIATION

A very enjoyable evening was spent in the High School by the teachers and pupils featuring the initiation by Grades IX, X and XI of the following pupils into the senior class, Sylvia Parsons, Ruth Whittingham, John Wells, Leone Kingsley, Murdena Boy, Donalda MacAulay, Pauline Goodin, and Robert MacDonald.

The usual hilarity accompanied the amusing stunts. Lunch was served by the entertaining grades, after which a period of dancing was enjoyed.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Mrs. Shaw, Provincial Supervisor of Junior Red Cross, recently visited the High School and displayed work, which had been handed in by the pupils of various schools.

A film was also shown, which illustrated the ways in which this material is used. Mrs. Shaw urged that each and every one endeavour to help in the work of the Junior Red Cross.

INTER-SCHOOL CONCERT

The following pupils of the local High School took part in the Inter-School Concert, held in Sawyerville: Kathleen Morrison, Cuyla MacAulay, Isabel Boy, Ursula Templeman, Ruth Whittingham, Eleanor Duffy, Pauline Goodin, Sylvia Parsons, Dorothy MacLeod. These girls were trained by Mrs. E. A. Wilson.

CHIMNEY BY-LAW

At a meeting of the Municipal Council held in the Town Hall, at which were present Mayor Arthur Choquette, and Councillors F. C. Goodin, John MacLeod, Osias Dumoulin, Guy Pinkham, Alex M. MacDonald, and John M. Morrison, a by-law was passed that every chimney in any house or building in the town, must be swept, at least, once a year by one or more of the chimney sweeps in the employ of the municipality. All chimney sweeps shall be under the orders of the Chimney Inspector, the proprietors, or occupants will be required to keep their chimneys in order and also will be required to pay the sum of seventy-five cents yearly for the sweeping of each chimney.

Any person found guilty of any infraction of said by-law shall incur a fine.

"BULK FOOD" IS ESSENTIAL IN WAR TIME DIET

Today every Canadian realizes that good health is essential to winning the war. And that means good health for all—not just those in the armed forces, but men and women in defence jobs, women in the home, children in schools.

"Buy wisely and eat well," advise food authorities. "See that every penny spent adds up to better health for the entire family. Good food is common sense."

With many persons working under tension "keeping regular" is a problem. Bulk in the diet is needed. Thus "bulk foods" belong to the must foods. Fruit, leafy vegetables and whole wheat breads—these are all bulk foods. And so is All-Bran, a crisp breakfast dish, long recognized as a natural laxative food.

Happily, All-Bran proves effective, whether served as a cereal, or used in the making of muffins. Baking does not harm the laxative qualities of these crisp golden shreds. As a "better way to a brighter day," a batch of tempting bran muffins is the answer.

43RD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Dustin Given Enjoyable Surprise Party on Jubilee — Ayer's Cliff News Budget.

Ayer's Cliff, Nov. 19. — Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Dustin, who on Saturday were celebrating their forty-third wedding anniversary, were taken by complete surprise when various members of their family and intimate friends began to knock at their door. At first they did not realize that it had been thus arranged and that a "family party" was assembling, but after the arrival of the third group they decided it was time to ask just what was going on. As usual all were cordially welcomed in spite of the genuine surprise and were soon having a gay time over the card tables, cards being played at four tables.

While the games were in progress others were busy in the dining room, where the table was covered with lace cloth and centered with a beautiful wedding cake decorated in yellow, white and silver. The "baby 'mums" were also in yellow and white and were a gift of their grandchildren, Gwen, Beverly, Dale and Kathleen Dustin, of Magog, while the table was lighted by yellow tapers in silver holders and cast a soft glow over the dainty edibles which were served a short time later.

A presentation followed the refreshments and was made by their niece, Mrs. Willard Rexford, who first extended hearty congratulations to this couple and then spoke more intimately of their many merits during the past forty-three years, saying they had at all times kept "open house," to their host of friends and relatives. She referred to the fact that whenever sickness or trouble had come to any of them or in their homes, "Uncle Homer" and "Aunt Myrtie" were the first to come and give generously of their time.

Wishing them health and happiness in the future years they hoped to share with them she presented them with a beautiful coffee table, to Mr. Dustin a smoking set and other individual gifts which included a hand-carved cake plate.

Mr. and Mrs. Dustin received many cards and messages from the following who sincerely regretted their inability to be present on this happy occasion: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Guild, of Ossipee, N.H., Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Dustin, of Medford, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dustin, of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waide, of Stanstead, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cook, of Fitch Bay, and Mrs. Wilbur Dustin and Miss Vera Dustin, of Beebe.

Mr. and Mrs. Dustin have been life-long residents of Ayer's Cliff, where they have been keenly interested in all the town's activities and the various organizations of Beulah United Church and are held in the highest esteem by all who join in wishing them years of happiness together.

Those from out of town present were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rollins, of Derby Line, Vt., Mr. G. N. Somerville, of Tomifobia, and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Dustin, of Magog.

General Notes

The Women's Auxiliary of St. George's Church held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. William C. Dustin, Massawippi Street, when all members were present excepting Mrs. J. E. Bayley who was in Waterville owing to the illness of her sister-in-law, Miss May Bayley. The President, Mrs. A. G. Clough, conducted the meeting when the Litany was offered from Livingston It was decided to pay pledge and affiliation fees. Discussion arose regarding the annual outfit but definite plans were made regarding getting the necessary materials. Afternoon tea concluded the session when Mrs. Lobb assisted Mrs. Dustin and a most enjoyable social hour was spent.

Mr. Roy Farnham, of the R. C. A. F. Training Centre at Lachine, spent the week-end with his cousin, Mrs. James Walker, and Mr. Walker.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. S. R. True entertained a few friends and neighbors in honor of Mrs. S. E. Rowell, on the occasion of her birthday. Mrs. Rowell is a shut-in and it afforded her much pleasure in having many of her old friends in to spend the afternoon visiting and they all sincerely wished her "Many Happy Returns of the Day." The guest of honor was the recipient of some very nice gifts and many cards and messages of good wishes from distant friends and relatives. Mrs. True served refreshments when the birthday cake, made by Mrs. A. H. Slack, held the honored place. All the many friends of Mrs. Rowell join in wishing her many years of health and happiness.

Mrs. G. T. Manuel, of Detroit, Michigan, spent the week-end with her sister and brother-in-law, Mrs. M. H. Sanderson and the Rev. Mr. Sanderson.

Mr. Miller, of Rock Island, who was in charge of the sale of "Poppies" for Remembrance Day, appointed Miss Luella Longmoore, Primary teacher at the local High School, in charge here and under her supervision the pupils from Grades 1 to 11, sold three hundred poppies amounting to $30. Miss Longmoore and her helpers are to be congratulated upon their success.

The final results of the Victory Loan drive for Ayer's Cliff and District exceeded all expectations. A. H. Slack, who has been Chairman of the three Victory Loan drives, announced that the quota set was $55,000 and the amount reached was $83,750. The citizens feel very much pleased at the splendid response given the solicitors and the canvassers wish to thank each and every one who assisted them in any way and for the cordial reception they received from all.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra C. Woodard and daughter, Miss Joyce Woodard, of Beebe, were guests on Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Fannie Goodrow.

Mrs. James McFadzean, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Hodges, in Montreal, has returned to her home here.

MADE IN CANADA

A BETTER WAY...

to a Brighter Day

GOOD FOOD IS GOOD SENSE. Never before has it been more important for you to buy wisely and eat well. Today, good health is an essential duty. And good food is essential to good health.

Include KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN in your "must" list. Remember, ALL-BRAN is more than a delicious, nourishing cereal. It's also a grand, laxative food that provides a "better way" to avoid constipation caused by the lack of the proper amount of "bulk" in the diet. But remember, ALL-BRAN doesn't work like harsh cathartics. It takes time.

Eat ALL-BRAN in tasty breakfast muffins or as a crunchy cereal every day . . . drink plenty of water . . . and see if you don't agree that ALL-BRAN is a better way to a brighter day!

Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's in either of the two conveniently sized packages. Order it in the individual serving package at restaurants. Made by Kellogg's at London, Canada.

TRY THESE TEMPTING ALL-BRAN CORN SYRUP MUFFINS TODAY!

ALL-BRAN CORN SYRUP MUFFINS

2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup corn syrup*
1 egg
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
½ cup milk
1 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and corn syrup thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill in greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 30 minutes.

Yield: 8 large muffins (3 inches in diameter) or 12 small muffins (2¼ inches in diameter).

*Note: ¼ cup sugar may be substituted for corn syrup and milk increased to ¾ cup.

When sour milk or buttermilk is used instead of sweet milk, reduce baking powder to one teaspoon and add ½ teaspoon soda.

BUTTER—$50.00 A POUND

"Treat the family — it's good psychology" says Jean Duval

Here's a Custard Sauce that really makes your trifles

MODIFIED CUSTARD SAUCE

1 tablespoon corn starch.
¼ teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon granulated sugar.
2 cups hot milk.
1 egg (or 2 yolks)
3 tablespoons corn syrup.
½ teaspoon vanilla.

Combine corn starch well with salt and sugar. Slowly stir in the hot milk. Stir and cook mixture in double boiler until very slightly thickened, and until no raw flavor remains. Stir into slightly beaten egg or egg yolks. Return to double boiler and stir and cook over gently boiling water until again thickened. Add corn syrup and vanilla (or other desired flavouring). Strain and chill.

Jean Duval

Butter at fifty dollars a pound is not so fantastic as it sounds. In Germany, after the last war, people actually paid more than fifty dollars a pound for butter.

That will not happen here. The reason it will not happen here is because we have price ceilings. Price ceilings mean that the prices of most goods have been set at a certain level, in order to keep down the cost of living.

Retailers are, perhaps, even more anxious than you are to see prices kept down. Dominion Stores has built its business on volume sales of quality foods at the lowest possible price. Dominion Stores has loyally helped to establish and maintain the system of price ceilings. Experienced executive assistance was freely loaned to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to help set up the complex schedule of ceiling prices for the grocery trade.

Since price ceilings have come into effect, Dominion Stores has maintained a special staff to interpret the fine points of the regulations and to get them into effect throughout the organization. With thousands of items, in over 250 stores, and with hundreds of new employees replacing those who have gone into war services, it has been no easy task. It has been costly, too, but that is part of the job of distributing a nation's food supplies in time of war.

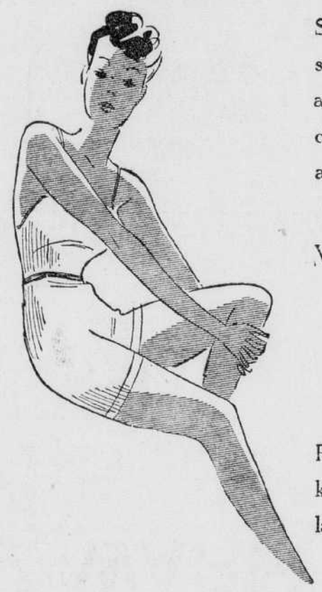
WARM VESTS and PANTIES

15% WOOL



Silly to freeze when you can be so sleekly warm in snug undies. They fit as smoothly as your pet silks and rayons—and contain just enough wool to chase chills. These are sub-standard grade, but, not affected in the least as for quality.

Vests in small, medium, large and extra large sizes. Choice of rose and white.

45c each

Panties, choice of three lengths: short, above the knee and below the knee. Sizes: small, medium, large and extra large.
