Dupuis rejected Caouette disciple picked to lead Quebec Creditistes

QUEBEC (CP) — Camil Samson, a disciple of Real Caouette, Sunday was chosen leader of the Quebec wing of Mr. Caouette's Creditiste party after the federal leader failed in an attempt to have the provincial Creditistes elect Yvon Dupuis.

Mr. Samson, 35, who was elected party president when the federal Creditistes established a provincial wing in January, defeated two other candidates.

Although no figures were announced, a party official said Mr. Samson received an "absolute majority" of the 1,035 ballots cast by delegates at a leadership convention here.

Like his mentor, Mr. Samson is a car salesman from the northwestern Quebec town of Rouyn.

His opponents were Bernard Dumont, 42, an insurance man from Bellechasse, Que., elected Creditiste MP in Frontenac riding in the 1968 federal general election, and Rene Lindsay, 28, a salesman from the Quebec City suburb of Loretteville and a political unknown.

Mr. Dupuis, a former federal Liberal cabinet minister, was tried and acquitted in 1968 of an influence-peddling charge in connection with an alleged attempt to set up a racetrack in his riding. He was also acquitted of two related conspiracy charges.

ASKED TO LEAVE

But the charge had already resulted in his leaving the cabinet in 1965 on the request of former prime minister Lester Pearson.

He now is a moderator of a hot-line radio program on a Montreal station and a newspaper columnist.

Delegates reacted unfavorably when Mr. Caouette told them Mr. Dupuis wanted to be a candidate for the provincial Creditiste leadership but wanted to be elected unanimously, without a vote being held.

Instead of accepting Mr. Caouette's endorsement of Mr. Dupuis, they elected Mr. Samson, with Mr. Dumont second and Mr. Lindsay third.

Mr. Caouette was not present when the results of the secret ballot were announced at 8:30 p.m.

In his victory speech, Mr. Samson said Quebec's "great problem" is economic, not linguistic or cultural.

"When the economic problem is solved by application of Social Credit monetary theories, all the other problems will be resolved," he told the delegates.

He said that if the Creditistes are elected to power in the April 29 Quebec general election, married couples earning $5,000 a year or less will be exempt from the provincial income tax.

The present limit for such an exemption is $4,000.

The convention opened with an announcement that there were seven candidates, but the names of the candidates were not announced.

GIVEN 10 MINUTES

The delegates were told that they would learn who the candidates were as they came up to make speeches that were to be limited to 10 minutes.

The first candidate was Rene Matte, Creditiste MP for Champlain who announced at the end of his 15-minute speech that he was withdrawing his candidacy in favor of Mr. Caouette.

Mr. Caouette then entered the convention hall to a standing ovation, with delegates cheering "On veut Caouette—We want Caouette."

QUEBEC IN FOCUS

Nab holdup suspects

MONTREAL (CP) — Police nabbed six holdup suspects during a weekend in which thieves hit city businesses for almost $100,000 in cash, cheques and merchandise.

Three suspects were taken into custody after exchanging shots with police following the $13 holdup of a gas station. No one was injured.

Two more suspects were captured following the robbery of a restaurant.

Three armed men stole about $10,000 worth of mink pelts and two gunmen took $2,350 in cash and $76,000 in cheques from a food-wholesaling company in the weekend's biggest holdups.

Liberals nominate Joyal

BERTHERVILLE, Que. (CP) — Claude Joyal, a Bertherville notary, was chosen Sunday as Liberal candidate in Berthier riding for the April 29 Quebec general election.

Mr. Joyal was chosen at a meeting of the Berthier Liberal Association in this town 32 miles northeast of Montreal.

The seat is currently held by Guy Gauthier of the Union Nationale.

Professor to seek PQ nod

MONTREAL (CP) — Jacques-Yvon Morin, law professor and former president of the Estates General of French Canada, said Saturday he will seek the Parti Quebecois candidacy in Montreal Bourassa riding in the April 29 Quebec general election.

Mr. Morin told a news conference he supports the separatist Parti Quebecois because it stands for "thoughtful, organized and prepared independence rather than an improvised break from Canada."

The Estates General of French Canada, founded in 1966, is made up of French-Canadian delegates chosen by such organizations as school boards, trade unions, nationalist societies and chambers of commerce.

It is patterned after the Estates General established in France in 1302 to advise the government on various problems.

Five parties, including the ruling Union Nationale, are fielding candidates in the April 29 election.

Wagner back to the bench

MONTREAL (CP) — After quitting the bench for seven years to pursue a political career, Claude Wagner, defeated candidate for the Quebec Liberal leadership, donned his judicial robes again during the weekend when he was sworn in as judge of Montreal Sessions Court. He promised to dispense "justice with firmness and humanity." He was first appointed to the bench in August, 1963, but left a year later when then-premier Jean Lesage appointed him to the legislative council and named him solicitor-general.

De Broux gets PQ nomination

MONTREAL (CP) — Pierre De Broux, a 36-year-old management consultant, was chosen Sunday as the separatist Parti Quebecois candidate in the mainly-English-language riding of Montreal Westmount in the April 29 provincial general election.

Mr. De Broux, a graduate of McGill University who has served in the armed forces, said he is running in the riding to show that the Parti Quebecois wants all Quebecers to join in building a new Quebec.

Liberal Richard Hyde won the seat in the 1966 Quebec general election with a 17,825-vote plurality.

Montreal troupe wins

VAUDREUIL, Que. (CP) — Montreal's Theatre 1 troupe was declared winner of the Western Quebec region of the Dominion Drama Festival Saturday for the second year in a row.

The winning play, Survivors Survivants, is an original Canadian one-act work performed in both English and French, written and directed by Robert Tembeck.

Five young men and four women use word, song, mime and ballet to tell an audience on three sides of the bare stage about the horrors of war, the pleasures of love and the death walk of Hiroshima's atom-bomb victims.

The play will be performed at the national finals of the festival in Winnipeg Marcy 18-23.

The Theatre 1 group, with different actors, took three awards including best director for Mr. Tembeck at last year's national festival in Kelowna, B.C.

Mr. Tembeck received $500 for best production, another $500 as author and the regional trophy.

IN THE SUGAR BUSH — As everyone knows, spring makes the sap run all over. In the Eastern Townships, the sap runs especially well and the area is noted for its production of maple syrup. After the warm weather last week, the taps, the sleds and the horses were brought out to reap the rich harvest from the maple trees. Out at Hugh Woodward's sugar bush things were moving right on schedule as he was joined by his son and daughter, top photo, as the sap is hauled from the trees to the cabin where it is boiled down, bottom photo.

Vandals arrested after rampage inside church

SALISBURG — (Special) — Charges of property damage have been laid against 22 people from Sherbrooke and Montreal who entered a church here early Sunday morning and caused $1,000 damage, breaking pews, the lectern, and damaging the front of the altar, Cowansville Q.P.P. said.

The persons charged, all between the ages of 18 and 22, were arrested early Sunday morning at a roadblock set up by the Cowansville municipal police.

The youths were first seen entering Bishop Stewart Memorial Church in this community of about 500, located 11 miles south of Cowansville, around 3 a.m., a neighbour told police.

Caretaker Lawrence Goodhue said his wife was awakened by the ringing of church bells around 3 a.m.

"She looked out the window and saw two cars and young men entering the church."

Frightened, Mrs. Goodhue immediately notified the Cowansville Q.P.P., who at the time of the call, were headed for a nearby hotel where reports of disturbing the peace were received.

"Well, I got dressed and went outside to see what was going on," the caretaker said.

Two of the fellows met him coming from the church and told him they didn't have a place to stay for the night.

One of the group asked if the group of 22 could spend the night in the church.

Seeing the number of young people and afraid of violence, Mr. Goodhue told the group they could see the church as long as they promised not to cause damages.

Bertrand reaffirms medicare program

BAGOTVILLE, Que. (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Saturday there is nothing to prevent Quebec's medical care insurance program from coming into effect July 1.

Speaking at the opening of a new hospital, Mr. Bertrand said: "Despite the statements of prophets of doom, I believe the medical profession will agree to negotiate in good faith so that we can offer Quebecers better assistance."

Doctors have complained Premier Bertrand's Union Nationale government, seeking re-election April 29, has stalled negotiations on the plan. Politicians of other parties have suggested the government called the Quebec general election partly to avoid an embarrassing showdown with doctors and possible delay in medical care insurance.

The Health Insurance Act to establish the program was tabled in Quebec's national assembly March 10. Financing of the plan will be ensured by contributions of individuals and employers.

Beliveau shuns election arena

MONTREAL — Jean Beliveau, starry centre for the Montreal Canadiens, Sunday denied reports that he is planning to do some skating in the political arena along with his activity on NHL ice.

Beliveau's statement came after La Presse, a Montreal French-language daily, ran a story on its front page that the Union Nationale was planning a publicity coup during the current election campaign by running Beliveau as its candidate in Drummond County.

Following the report, Beliveau said Sunday he has no intention of going into politics, nor has he been offered a political post by any of the four parties who will be contesting the April 29 election.

"The only thing I'm interested in right now," said the longtime NHL star in an interview, "is to assure the Canadiens a place in the Stanley Cup playoffs."

He said he knew nothing about the supposed candidacy until he read it in the paper.

David Molson, president of the Canadiens, also vigorously denied the report which suggested that he himself had contributed to Beliveau's decision to step into politics.

"It's a pack of lies," he declared.

Meanwhile, a Union Nationale organizer in Montreal also scotched the story saying there had never been any question of approaching the hockey star.

U.S. postal workers ignore Nixon edict

WASHINGTON (CP) — Striking postal workers in many of cities throughout the United States continued Sunday to ignore President Nixon's deadline for ending their walkouts today, but the government saw signs that enough may be returning to permit talks to begin today.

Local reports from around the country were that few major cities on strike were voting to go back to work, a number of smaller ones were returning and many not on strike have voted to maintain a five-day wait-and-see attitude.

Postmaster-General Winton Blount said here Sunday night:

"In a large number of eastern metropolitan centres, we now have the normal, full complement of clerks processing the backlogged mail, and the city carriers in the union locals have voted to return to work on Monday for their normally scheduled work hours."

Blount also said a special courier service for high-priority government mail was being set up today between Washington and the major affected cities of Chicago, Cleveland, Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia and Denver. The vital mail will be sent to pickup locations in non-postal buildings, Blount said.

The postmaster-general's statements indicated that talks could begin even with some of the major cities still out.

Boy injured in shooting accident

DEAUVILLE — An eight-year-old boy shot accidentally yesterday afternoon by his brother is out of danger and recovering well, hospital sources in Sherbrooke said today.

The boy, identified by the Quebec Provincial Police in Sherbrooke as eight-year-old Rejean Turgeon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Turgeon of Deauville, was shot in the chest by his nine-year-old brother while playing at home with a loaded 22-caliber rifle.

A spokesman at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital where the boy is recovering, said today the bullet wound had caused no internal injuries and that the youngster was out of danger.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the QPP said the incident was purely accidental and that there would be no further investigation.

No tariff needed on U.S. culture — Trudeau

NEW YORK (CP) — Time magazine quotes Prime Minister Trudeau as saying Canadians should seek out qualities of their country that are superior to those in the United States rather than try to remain "distinct from Americans in all things."

"We don't want to put a tariff on culture or a barrier on brains or on capital or technology just because it comes from the U.S.A.," he is quoted as saying in an interview. "Very often it is better than what we have, and we should take it. But, in cases where it is not better, we should defend ourselves against it."

The interview is carried in Time's Canadian edition which goes on sale Tuesday. It does not appear in editions outside Canada.

Trudeau is quoted as saying his government "isn't trying to buy back Canada—to use that cliché."

"It's trying to make sure that we control that small number of institutions which have greater impact on our development as an individual society."

"I think the art will be not to try and remain distinct from the Americans in all things but to choose those areas in which we think our values are superior."

EXPLAINS DIFFICULTY

Trudeau also talked about difficulties in Canada's federalism.

"It's been very difficult to get the Canadian people to understand the true meaning of federalism—that sovereignty is really divided in its exercise between two levels of government," he is quoted as saying. "There is a natural instinct for people to ask Ottawa to step in and do things which should be done but are not being done at the provincial level."

The prime minister said that perhaps because this tendency on the part of Canadians was not stopped soon enough, "it has the backlash of the development of extreme nationalism in Quebec," he added.

"There may be something like this happening in the case of Western Canada alienation."

Asked about "Canadian expectations," Trudeau is quoted as saying that "there is still in Canada a great unresolved inner conflict within the heart of each Canadian on the role of the state."

He said that while Canadians want more public services than there are in the U.S., they still have not actually departed from the individualistic free enterprise system. This, he added, means that "you get some very excruciating contradictions within the same group of people."

SEES INCONSISTENCY

"The young, for instance, will clamor loudest to have an all-out war against pollution. Well, they are often the people who pollute the country the most, very often because they are lit-terbugs or because they make one hell of a lot of noise with their revved-up cars and their snowmobiles and hi-fi's and so on."

On the subject of inflation, Trudeau said: "I suppose I was a bit traumatized by those cabinet meetings when we almost saw devaluation of the dollar. I realized then that the generosity of past governments, and the inability of governments, through the lack of sophisticated tools, to forecast the consequences of expenditures three years ahead, had almost brought us to economic disaster."

"I vowed that we wouldn't let it happen again and that is why so much of our time now is taken up with planning, and why the government appears to be moving rather slowly to those who hoped that we would bring in great decisions quickly."

Magog home ravaged by flash fire

MAGOG — Two families are homeless following a fire that completely destroyed their home late Saturday afternoon.

The house, situated about three miles outside Magog city limits, on Georgeville road, was a hopeless case when firemen under the direction of Marius Goyette arrived at the scene.

Instead, firefighters from the Magog Fire department concentrated their efforts on protecting nearby houses from the raging flames.

Although property losses were estimated at $20,000 by Magog Fire department officials, a bulldozer, a loader and a tractor located in the garage beneath the burning house were also destroyed.

The house, known as "Les Entreprises Thomas", left co-owners Guy Thomas and Charles Smithers without a dwelling for their families.

Saturday's flash fire left the two-storey frame building looking like a pile of burnt wood, nothing being saved of the remains.

Magog judge to contest nomination

Mr. Galipeau is the past president of the Stanstead county Union Nationale association and has been a party organizer in this county for the past 12 years.

At the time of Mr. Galipeau's announcement, it was also learned that Albert Fleurant of Coaticook, would also be a possible candidate in the Union Nationale convention to be held soon in this county.

Gosselin after Richmond vote

DANVILLE (Special) — Forty-one-year-old Marc Andre Gosselin of Asbestos will be the candidate for the Union Nationale party in Richmond county, during the April 29 provincial election.

Mr. Gosselin won the nomination yesterday after a close second ballot at a party convention at the Notre Dame school hall in Richmond.

Although Union Nationale officials refused to announce voting returns for the second ballot, observers here said yesterday the former military man won the convention by a margin of 8 votes.

The three Union Nationale nomination contenders defeated at yesterday's convention included the former president of the Asbestos Board of Trade, Paul-Emile Daigle, Asbestos, merchant Bruno Lavoie, and Danville Insurance agent Andre Drouin.

Under the presidency of Louis Langlois, yesterday's party convention in Richmond county drew an imposing 500 spectators, of which 234 were eligible to vote.

Sherbrooke MNA Raynald Frechette on a campaign for the elected candidate, told the audience the Union Nationale party has come a long way in governing the province over the last decade.

Observers here also reported the nomination of Marc Andre Gosselin to the UN candidacy might upset retirement plans for Richmond Liberal MNA Emilien Lafrance who might retire entirely from politics at the end of his term.

Still in the Liberal camp, at least three contenders have announced they would run for the nomination in Richmond.

If the opposition becomes too strong on behalf of the Union Nationale, observers said county Liberals would try to counteract the Union Nationale move by throwing incumbent Emilien Lafrance back into the race for another term.

Boy burns to death in ice fishing hut

SUTTON, Ont. (CP) — A nine-year-old boy burned to death Saturday, wedged in the stovepipe hole of a locked ice-fishing hut in this community 18 miles southeast of Barrie.

About 30 persons watched helplessly as Terry Quilty, who had marked his ninth birthday the same day, died. His head and one arm were out of the hole in the roof, but despite efforts of two men, he could not be extricated.

A companion, Joseph Allison, 5, was also in the padlocked hut, and was freed by an older brother, Robert, 17, after an ice-house operator smashed the door. Another man then tried to help push Terry out of the hole but was driven back by flames.

Joseph is in critical condition in hospital in Toronto.

The hut had been pulled off the ice of Lake Simcoe a few hours earlier. It is believed the boys got in through the hole in the floor through which fishermen lower their lines.

There was half a can of stove oil and half a can of naphtha gas in the hut, police said. The oil heater apparently exploded when one of the boys lit it.

The hut was on a lot near the younger boy's apartment home. His sisters saw smoke coming from it, then Terry's head appeared in the hole and he began to scream.

"Help me! Please help me, I'm burning!"

Police said an inquest will be held.

Cheap H-bombs danger

The British, West Germans and Dutch governments believe they have discovered a cheaper method of enriching uranium—a discovery that could have vital military implications. Enriching uranium is the most difficult single element in the manufacture of hydrogen bombs.

The enriched uranium is used in reactors to produce electricity but the weapons use is more significant. Although the three governments are keeping quiet about the possible military uses of their discovery, these are the aspects that should worry the world.

Work done in recent years in Britain, West Germany and the Netherlands on the development of carbon fibres and on the high speed gas centrifuge in time is expected to lead to much cheaper H-bombs.

The three nations say they were the enriched uranium, not for weapons but for nuclear reactors which produce electric power. This is all well and good, but the danger always exists that in times of crisis these materials will be used for destructive purposes.

There is only one way mankind can view these extremely dangerous experiments with materials that could eventually end up in super bombs: Humanity must try to ban the bomb. The partial ban on testing bombs in the atmosphere, which by the way France and China have ignored, and the nuclear non-proliferation treaty are only a small beginning.

Until the nations of the world, and the five nuclear powers in particular, get together and ban all atomic weapons—destroying the growing nuclear arsenals they are today in the process of building—the world will continue to live in fear. Only after all A-bombs and H-bombs disappear can man breathe easily once again.

Wisdom — at 18 or 81

In line with the example set by Quebec Province five years ago, the United States Senate has opened the door at least halfway to admit some 13,000,000 Americans between the ages of 18 and 21 into the electoral process.

By a vote of 64 to 17, it approved an amendment to its renewal of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, establishing a minimum voting age of 18 in all elections beginning in 1971.

The legislation now goes to the House of Representatives, where the fate of the amendment is in doubt. In that chamber its strongest opponent is Rep. Emanuel Celler, a Democrat from Brooklyn, N.Y., and chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

There may be some good reasons for being against giving the vote to 18-year-olds, but the Congressman invoked some rather curious ones when interviewed following the Senate's action.

Youths of 18 are emotional, not given to logical thinking, easily swayed by demagogues, alleged Celler.

Why, the first thing Adolf Hitler did when he came to power was to lower the voting age to 18. It was also the first thing Joseph Stalin and Benito Mussolini did. Young people were the modest ardent supporters of these dictators, said Celler.

The fact is, the power of neither Hitler nor Stalin nor Mussolini ever rested on the decision by voters of any age, in any election.

What history does show is that susceptibility to demagoguery is not necessarily confined to any age group. Neither, as the 81-year-old Congressman's reasoning suggests, is logical thinking necessarily improved with age.

TIMELY QUOTES

When you try political activists under a conspiracy charge—long considered to be the most dubious kind of criminal charge—and when a trial becomes fundamentally an examination of political acts and beliefs—then guilt or innocence becomes almost irrelevant.

—New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, referring to the "Chicago Seven" trial, at a dinner of the Bar Association of New York.

Hope for the moto-visual afflicted

By CHARLES CATCHPAUGH

This is the first of a four-part series on visuo-motor retardation. It's a cruel trick that Nature plays on children, but with the help of a Sherbrooke doctor, science is making great strides toward helping children afflicted with the condition to lead normal lives.

reported that 50 Grade 3 pupils still couldn't read, although the same children were of average or higher-than-average intelligence. In these cases, the children received special instruction. In most cases, they would have been considered slow learners or backward and, surely, by age 12 would be regarded as scholastically hopeless.

According to Kurt Koerbel, psychologist at the Vieux Montreal CEGEP: "Until the age of 16 or 17, a child can make deep changes in his behaviour, in his attitudes, and in his achievements. However, this is possible only when the parents accept their responsibilities and mature with their children."

Mr. Koerbel was emphasizing that it is now up to parents to try and define whether or not they have afflicted children and, if so, to seek a cure for motor-visual retardation.

Re-education is the only answer to overcoming motor-visual handicaps at this time. Eminent doctors are endorsing this thought. For example, Dr. A. J. Kirshner of Montreal related examples of how children retreated in Peru, N.Y., accelerating their learning capacity by developing motricity and co-ordination. Dr. Kirshner was assisted by a team of 15, among them physical educationists. He proved that 20 percent of the pupils were affected by motor-visual problems. He observed that these children cannot emulate things they see, are slow readers, and have problems relating their hands to such operations as drawing circles, squares, catching balls, etc.

Dr. Kirshner said the children's ability in school inevitably changed teachers' attitudes. The fact is, they should have been regarded with different values, their motor-visual problems being accounted for. Now very well known in his field, Dr. Kirshner established a training program for his patients in Montreal, similar in principal to the therapy studio operated by Dr. Blouin.

When it's considered that experts think that motor-visual problems are created in the central nervous system, it's easy to appreciate why there's a link between movement and related awareness to the several components of the body which in turn are dependant on the central nervous system. And, it's reasonable to relate learning to the need for freedom in the use of the visual motor abilities.

After Dr. Kirshner's research, optometrists and nursery school teachers enthusiastically reported significant changes in children.

In his preface to the "Precis de Surveillance Visuelle Scolaire", for the Quebec Institute of Visiology (Beauchemin 1967), Professor Pierre H. Ruel, former dean, department of education, U. of S. says: "It is the responsibility of educators, parents and teachers to take permanent measures in accepting their responsibilities in order to make certain that students can know success in school. The first move toward this goal is to rationally screen children for visual problems."

And so the battle to combat motor-visual problems takes root, and here in Sherbrooke, a top figure in the fight is Jean-Paul Blouin. His facts and theories, are backed and endorsed by authorities on vision and teaching.

Proof is constantly being offered that there's hope for the motor-visually afflicted, and writers are frequently taking up the torch for this cause. Then there is the human interest article, such as in the November 15, '69 La Tribune story about Andre Gagnon, an arts student at the U of S who received a first prize for playrights given under the sponsorship of the Canadian Association for University Drama. It was only four years earlier that the same Andre Gagnon was experiencing school achievement problems, basically in reading. His difficulties were first termed visual, which affected his speed and comprehension. A series of visual co-ordination exercises produced agreeable changes. Dr. Blouin treated Gagnon for some time, after which the student acquired greatly improved co-ordination related to his reading. After this improvement, Gagnon asked: "What next?"

The optimistic answer was, if virtuosity is a goal to you, you may refine these visual abilities to improve your communication with the output, which is expression. The results was Gagnon's achievement as a playwright.

Few associated with Christopher Steele of Sherbrooke would accept that this high school student simply had motor visual problems. Doctors treating him earlier, even scheduled Steele for retarded schools. Steele, advanced in his mental capacity to learn and reason, fought against being labeled a permanent handicap case. He ended up with Dr. Blouin.

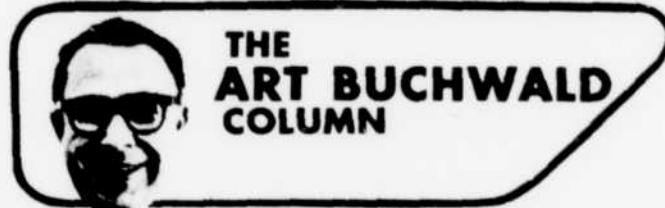

Christopher Steele has proven himself. He is nearing graduation from high school and stands ready to take a responsible and active role in life. He wrote an article for this newspaper to express his views on the subject of motor-visual disabilities and it's well worth reading.

Next: Christopher Steele's story.

DR. J.-P. BLOUIN CAREFULLY CHECKS PROGRESS of Andre Gagnon, who was sadly failing grades due to motor-visual problems, and later won a Canadian Universities' grant for play writing while studying at the University of Sherbrooke.

WASHINGTON — We are told by those people who make the fashion rules that hemlines are going down this year whether anybody likes it or not; the so-called midskirt will replace the miniskirt, and there isn't a darn thing men can do about it.

But there is a small group fighting back. Known simply as LMA, which stands for Leg Men of America, this group has vowed to destroy the midi and all it represents.

The President of the Leg Men of America is Gordon Manning, who received me in his basement office with a large view of the sidewalk above.

Manning said, "It's outrageous. The midi is an affront to every Leg Man in the country."

"How many Leg Men would you say there are in the nation at this moment?" I asked.

"There are at the present time 61,935,263 men who could qualify as Leg Men, not counting our armed forces abroad."

"These men represent every economic, religious and cultural group in the nation, and they have no intention of standing by and seeing hemlines go down below the knees."

"But what can they do?"

LOSE INTEREST

"We are serving notice through the press media that if women go along with this ridiculous fad, they will lose the interest and admiration of the majority of the male population in the United States."

"That's a tough threat."

"We intend to stand by it. The days when the French, Italian and American dress designers can declare where they will put the hemline on the leg are over. We will decide."

"But how?" I protested.

"We're not going to look."

"You're not going to look?"

"You heard me. We are sending out orders to Leg Men all over the country that they are not to look at a girl wearing a midi."

"Will the Leg Men obey the order?"

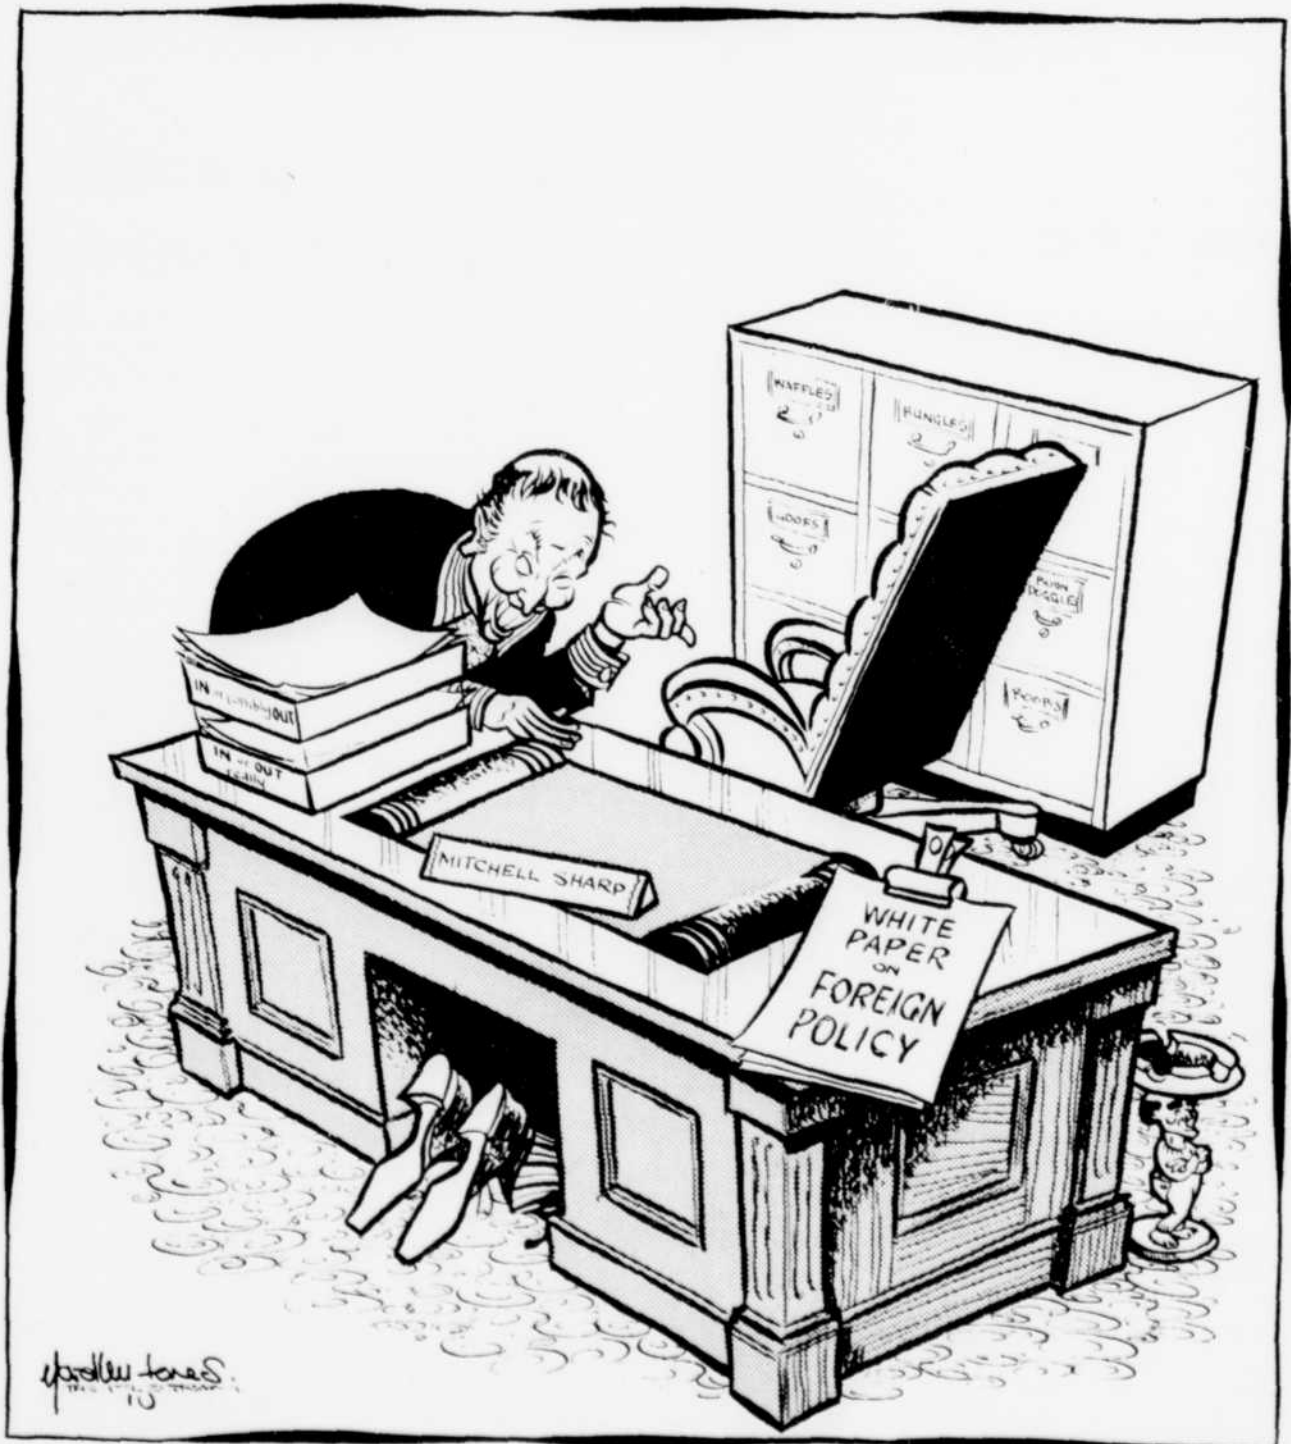

"Why not?" said Manning. "There is nothing to see anyway."

"When women wore the miniskirts, millions and millions of man-hours were spent, pleasurable hours I might add, looking at the legs that went with them."

INFLATIONARY, TOO

"The women responded by walking straighter, smarter and sexier. When seated, a woman wearing a mini could hold the attention of any man in the room. And we all know the thrill the mini brought to fellow drivers, particularly when the girl in the miniskirt was driving a minicar. But with the midi there will be absolutely nothing for a man to look at, and those wasted man-hours will be used to increase the gross national product, which will probably contribute to inflation."

"Then it's not just fashion but economic ruin you're predicting for the country?"

"Aw, come on Mitch baby — just because BENSON'S bombed . . ."

"Correct," said Manning. "The dress manufacturers who have covered the knee will have a lot of explaining to do."

"Mr. Manning, if your no-look campaign succeeds and all the Leg Men in America refuse to eye any female wearing a midi, how long do you think it will take to get women back to the mini?"

"Not very long. Once a woman realizes that no one is looking at her, she will immediately lose interest in the midi-length hemline. To speed up the process the Leg Men of America will finance instant shearing booths in all the major cities where a woman can stop and have her midi cut off to mini length painlessly and free of charge."

E.T. WOMEN OBSERVE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

BURY
By Mrs. George Parsons

The service for the World Day of Prayer was held on Friday, March 6, in St. Paul's Anglican Church with members of both the United and Roman Catholic churches attending. By Mrs. Wm. Cutler

On Friday afternoon, March 6, the Women's World Day of prayer service was held in the Anglican Church Hall at 2.30 p.m. About 35 ladies were present at the service. Before the service of worship a film strip was presented by Canon H. C. Denton on the story of the World Day of Prayer, with Mrs. W. D. Dustin and Mrs. Beaven Bowen as narrators. The film traced the story of the World Day of Prayer from the time of its beginning over 50 years ago by a very few women to the present time where now it is celebrated in more than 130 countries of the world.

The theme of the service this year was Take Courage and was in charge of Mrs. Dustin who welcomed all present. Taking part in the service were Mrs. Keith Morse, Mrs. Roy McIntyre, Mrs. L. Johnson, Mrs. W. Cutler, Miss L. MacDougall, Mrs. Gary Drew, Mrs. Ben Cunningham and Mrs. A. Wheeler with Mrs. Cyril Drew receiving the offering and Mrs. C. Curtis as pianist.

The pupils sang the hymn, God of Grace and God of Glory after the address by Canon Denton. The open collection from the service was added to that from the service on Friday, and will be sent to The Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada at Toronto.

The World Day of Prayer service for the Women of the area was held on Mar. 6 at 3.30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Russell Rothney with 16 ladies in attendance. The inspiring address on the theme, Take Courage, was given by Mrs. Everett Reid. Mrs. Reid gave a brief history of the World Day of Prayer, as well as its local history. She mentioned facts about the early services held many years ago by the church group here. Some of the facts were learned from her aunt, Mrs. Albert Frizzell, a charter member of the Ladies Aid, formed here in 1906.

Mrs. Reid mentioned many of the evils of the world today and said that our only comfort is to have faith in God and that where can more courage be found than in the Bible. The speaker was thanked by Mrs. Charles Cruickshank.

Ladies taking part in the service were Mrs. Richard Allan, Mrs. Lucien Trepanier, Mrs. Eric MacRae, Mrs. D. MacRae, Mrs. Gordon Morrison, Mrs. Russell Rothney, Mrs. J. Kinghorn, Mrs. G. Rothney, Mrs. M. Nugent, Mrs. E. Nugent, Mrs. Cruickshank and Mrs. Reid. Mrs. Murray Nugent was accompanist for the singing of the hymns.

By Mrs. Rudy McLellan

The Women's World Day of Prayer service was held on the afternoon of March 6, at St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic Church, North Hatley.

The Catholic women in charge of the service were Mrs. Arthur Dion, leader, assisted by Mrs. R. Joly and Mrs. T. Sauve. All the churches were well represented.

The theme of the service was Take Courage. The first two portions of the program were led by the Catholic Women and read and sung in French. The next two portions, led by members of the Anglican Church Women and United Church Women were conducted in English.

A children's choir of girls from the Catholic school led the singing and contributed a chant at the introduction of each portion of the program. They were trained and led by two teachers, Mrs. Rene Morin and Miss Lucie Cuillirree. Mrs. Glen Bennett of the Baptist Church played the organ throughout the service.

Mrs. R. Olson and Mrs. E. Wells, sang a duet in English and Mrs. Rene Morin, Miss Lucie Cuillirree with Mrs. E. Wells, a hymn in French. Following the benediction the children's choir sang a closing hymn.

An expression of appreciation on behalf of the Anglican, Baptist and United Church Women was given by Mrs. Glen Bennett.

ROCK ISLAND
By Mrs. Ivy Hatch

Take Courage was the theme of the 1970 World Day of Prayer celebrated the World over on the first Friday of March. The theme was chosen by a group of five women, a housewife from Egypt, a social worker from Guyana, a teacher from India, a church worker from the Philippines and one from the United States. The service was held world-wide.

At the Boundary, it was a unique service, held for the first time here in a Roman Catholic Church. Our Lady of Mercy, in Rock Island. It was attended by a large number of men and women and the service was conducted under the sponsorship of the Catholic Women's League, Our Lady of Mercy Council. Those participating were from the United Churches, Anglican Church, Universalist Church and the Catholic Churches. The people came from two countries, Canada and the United States, and Father Francis X. Kane, the guest speaker, who is 95 per cent blind, came from the American side of the Boundary.

Mrs. J. M. Thomson played the organ music and accompanied the girls choir from the Ursuline Convent, Stanstead, who sang two hymns.

The readers for the service were Mrs. Leo Masse, Mrs. Allen Sheldon, Mrs. R. W. Peirce, Mrs. Lindsay Smith, Mrs. Reginald Lecours, Mrs. Clare Brown, Mrs. Roland Roderique, Mrs. Robert Bishop, Mrs. John Flood, Mrs. C. Goudreau and Mrs. M. J. Dutil, representing the several churches participating.

The entire service was bilingual, French and English. Father Kane, who is chaplain at the Michaud Manor in Derby Line, spoke on prayer and courage. He told of his own affliction, after being an ordained priest for four years. He made reference to prayer and courage from Bible stories and noted that the virtue of a Christian life is courage and that prayer and courage go hand in hand. His message was one of inspiration to his listeners.

The ushers were Mrs. Floyd Webb and Mrs. Evelyn Blais. In the Sanctuary were Father George Guay, parish priest at Our Lady of Mercy Church, Father Kane, and those participating in the service.

Following the service all assembled in the downstairs parish hall where buffet refreshments were served by members of the Catholic Women's League. It was a period of shared fellowship and one which many attending said, "We should have more of these get-togethers."

Vistas for women

Someone to turn to in grief

MONTREAL (CP) — Many widows are almost overwhelmed by the necessity of making rapid and vital decisions while still coping with the stress brought about by their husbands' deaths.

"At a time when her judgment is impaired by grief, the new widow is required to make far-reaching decisions for her own and her children's futures," says Phyllis Poland, a widow herself and director of the Montreal YWCA's program Vistas for Women.

At present, there are no services in Montreal aimed at helping a family in the crisis period immediately following a death.

"A study of the needs of widows who come to Vistas for Women for counselling shows that a special program geared to them could relieve the stress which might otherwise lead to personal and family breakdown," says Mrs. Poland.

To help meet this need, the YWCA sponsored a series of 10 lectures dealing with legal rights, government services, jobs, finances, social life, handling personal feelings and physical appearance.

TOO MANY WITHDRAW
Too many widows withdraw and convince themselves "no one wants me," says Mrs. Poland. Taking an interest in their clothing and makeup helps to counteract this tendency.

"Insecurity is a basic problem for the new widow. She has been living one kind of life and suddenly the bottom drops out of it. At a point when she is most grief-stricken, she has got to reorganize everything."

Unlike the old days when a widow was usually surrounded by concerned relatives, the modern urban dweller is more likely to be isolated from her family and even from close friends.

Financial problems may be paramount, says Mrs. Poland. Insurance payments may be delayed for months and borrowing at current high interest rates is often not feasible. Also, many widows are unaware of available resources. For example, if a man has contributed to the Quebec Pension Plan, his widow has a right to some of the plan's benefits.

Another common mistake is that widows drop their old routines and bury the selves in their homes. Instead, "they should build up new routines if the old one is gone irretrievably."

JOB MIGHTN'T HELP

A general rule which most widows should follow is that it is inadvisable to move too quickly. Sale of the family home should be postponed, if possible, until a calm appraisal of the long-term effects can be managed.

Returning to an office job a woman held before marriage is not a good idea either. A nine-to-five schedule makes it difficult to find proper care for young children.

One plan that seems to work well is for a widow to take a one-year teaching course. Then her time off and holidays coincide with those of her children.

Mrs. Poland hopes that one result of the lecture series will be that widows will form a group to help each other.

"Psychologically, it would have helped me to be in such a group, but a widow must realize that though she can get and listen to advice, in the end she must be the one to make decisions."

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Price of North Hatley wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Elizabeth Marguerite, to Robert Lloyd Ride, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ride, also of North Hatley. The wedding will take place at St. Elizabeth's Church, North Hatley, on July 4. Miss Price is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. A. Moore, of Sherbrooke. Mr. Ride is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Anick Kendall of Windsor, Que.

Q—My 18-month-old son has a hydrocele. Our doctor said it would go away spontaneously before he was a year old but it didn't. What do you advise?

A—When a hydrocele fails to disappear spontaneously, it should be corrected by a simple operation.

Q—My son, 8, was born with an undescended testicle. Will it eventually descend of its own accord? If not, at what age is surgery advisable?

A—If the testicle has not come down into the sac by the time your son is 10, a short course of male hormone may accomplish this. If this fails, surgery should not be further delayed.

Q—When my son, 2, was born the doctor advised against circumcision. His foreskin is difficult and painful to pull back. What do you advise?

A—Although routine circumcision of the newborn is discouraged by many authorities, in cases such as this it should be performed without delay.

Q—Our son, 6, has a penis that has not developed any since he was born. What should be done about this?

A—Your son may have Froehlich's syndrome, especially if he tends to be obese. There are several possible causes of this syndrome and the treatment would depend on the cause.

Q—What would cause a boy, 3, to have stools that are three inches in diameter and painful to pass? Is there any cure for this?

A—This boy probably has megacolon or Hirschsprung's disease, a congenital condition. An obstruction in the colon, if present, should be corrected surgically before any other treatment is tried. Laxatives should be avoided. Prostaglin, a prescription drug, is often beneficial. If the child goes 72 hours without a bowel movement, give him a plain warm water enema of not more than five ounces, then hold his legs crossed for five minutes before letting him return the enema.

Q—I have heard that girl babies are often born menstruating. Is this serious?

A—Uterine bleeding in the newborn does occur but is not common. It usually clears up spontaneously in about five days, in which case it is of no significance. If it persists into the second week the child should be examined to determine the cause.

It's getting VERY INTERESTING in the east

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
The torrid race in the National Hockey League's East Division took a momentary back seat to some individual heroics Sunday night.

Boston Bruins maintained their one-point lead over Chicago Black Hawks, shutting out Minnesota North Stars 5-0 with Bobby Orr scoring two goals and assisting on two others to shatter another NHL record. The two assists gave Orr 78 for the season, breaking the mark of 77 set by his team-mate, Phil Esposito, last year.

But another Esposito, Phil's goaltending brother, Tony, saved the family name by shutting out St. Louis 1-0 for the Black Hawks. It was the 13th shutout of the season for the rookie goalie and tied the record set by Harry Lumley of Toronto Maple Leafs in 1953-54.

In other Sunday games, Toronto tripped New York Rangers 5-2. Montreal Canadiens edged Pittsburgh Penguins 5-4 and Philadelphia Flyers beat Oakland Seals 3-2.

Saturday, Montreal clipped Philadelphia and Toronto topped St. Louis by 2-0 scores. Minnesota upset Boston 5-4. Detroit Red Wings trimmed Los Angeles Kings 4-1 and Chicago defeated Pittsburgh 5-3.

Detroit and Montreal share third place after the weekend games, four points behind the leading Bruins, and New York slipped to fifth place, six points off the pace.

Two positions changed hands in the West Division during the weekend. Philadelphia moved past Pittsburgh into second place and Minnesota took over fourth from Oakland.

Orr remained atop the NHL scoring list, his 30 goals and 78 assists giving him 108 points. Phil Esposito is second with 89 points on 38 goals and 51 assists.

John McKenzie, John Bucyk and Ed Westfall also scored for the Bruins against Minnesota before 14,835 home fans Sunday.

After firing the winning goal, Orr set up Bucyk's 300th score of his 14-year NHL career. Orr's record-breaking assist came at 1:55 of the final period when the Parry Sound, Ont., native fed Westfall on a two-on-one break. Eddie Johnston blocked 27 Minnesota shots for his third shutout of the season.

At Chicago, Doug Mohs broke a scoreless tie at 12:19 of the third period, driving a 15 foot shot behind St. Louis netminder Ernie Wakely with Ron Anderson of the Blues sitting out an interference penalty.

Ron Ellis scored twice, increasing his season total to 33, as the Maple Leafs beat the slumping Rangers. Paul Henderson also got two goals and Bob Pulford one for the Leafs.

Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield scored for the Rangers, who have won only once in their last 12 starts.

The Canadiens, unbeaten in seven games, Sunday climbed into a tie for third with Detroit before a season-high Montreal Forum crowd of 18,454 on goals by Jean Beliveau, J. C. Tremblay, Peter Mahovlich, Yvan Cournoyer and Mickey Redmond.

Jean Pronovost scored twice for the Penguins with single goals by rookie Michel Briere and Glen Sather.

Montreal netminder Rogatien Vachon faced 28 Pittsburgh shots and had to be sharp in the final minute when Penguins' coach Red Kelly removed netminder Les Binkley for the extra forward, Dean Prentice. Pronovost and Briere all came close to tying the score.

Jean-Guy Gendron scored his 23rd goal of the season in the third period in Philadelphia Sunday, giving the Flyers a 3-2 win over Oakland and elevating the Flyers into second place.

Gary Peters and Bill Sutherland gave Philadelphia a 2-0 first-period lead, but Bill Hicke and Brian Perry brought the Seals even before the second period was five minutes old.

Saturday, Danny Grant, playing coach Charlie Burns, Bill Goldsworthy, Tom Williams and Ray Callen all scored once for the North Stars who handed the Bruins only their second defeat by an expansion team this season. Derek Sanderson scored twice and Phil Esposito once for the Bruins.

Henderson and Ullman scored for Toronto at St. Louis Saturday and Marv Edwards blocked 29 shots for his first NHL shutout. Peter Mahovlich and Redmond powered the Canadiens past Philadelphia and Vachon stopped 24 Flyers drives to earn his fourth shutout of the year.

At Los Angeles Saturday, Gordie Howe opened the scoring for the Red Wings with his 26th goal of the year and rookie Alan Karlander scored the winner. Garry Unger collected two goals for the winners, increasing his season tally to 39. Real Lemieux wrecked Roger Crozier's shutout on a third-period Los Angeles power play.

A Pittsburgh crowd of 12,103 watched the Penguins blow a 3-2 lead as Chicago scored three in a row in the final period. Jim Pappin, with two goals, rookie

Gerry Pinder, Stan Mikita and Pit Martin scored for the Hawks while Rick Kessel, on his first NHL shot, defenceman Duane Rupp and Pronovost replied for Pittsburgh.

...out of hospital

Gumper released

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Goalie Gump Worsley was released Sunday from hospital after treatment and observation of an injured thigh, Minnesota North Stars said.

Worsley was injured Saturday in a 5-4 National Hockey League victory over Boston when Boston's Phil Esposito crashed into him during a scramble in front of the net.

Dr. Charles Kelly, a team physician, said x-rays taken of the injury showed that the thigh bone was not damaged.

Worsley is to receive therapy treatments today. Dr. Kelly said he then would order additional therapy or pronounce him fit for Tuesday night's game here against Oakland Seals.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Soviets win 16-1

STOCKHOLM (CP) — A smooth Soviet team crushed Finland 16-1 Sunday and surged into the lead after the sixth round of the world hockey championships.

Sweden trounced East Germany 6-2 Sunday to tie the world champion Russians with 10 points each on five wins and a loss.

Sweden, however, is behind Russia on goal spread—the record of goals for and against—that is used to determine final standings in the event of ties in points.

In the other game, Czechoslovakia defeated Poland 10-2 to move into sole possession of third place with eight points on four wins and two losses. Finland, which had been tied with Czechoslovakia for third, dropped to fourth with six points on three wins and three losses.

CAFA goes bilingual

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian Amateur Football Association has gone bilingual with the translation into French of their rule book.

The translation of the rules "took a long time—there were technical terms and it was difficult to translate," secretary-treasurer Bill Leveridge said in an interview Sunday after the CAFA held its two-day annual meeting behind closed doors.

Delegates voted down the suggested formation of a junior super league in Eastern Canada with one team in each Eastern Football Conference city. Also defeated was a recommendation from Montreal that the junior age limit be increased to 23 years from 21.

Jack Rockett of Port Credit, Ont., was elected to succeed president Gordon Ingram, Calgary. Dave Rothstein of Winnipeg is first vice-president and Dr. Bob Pepler of Ottawa second vice-president. Leveridge was returned as secretary-treasurer.

January forces playoff

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Don January came from three strokes off the pace with a brilliant 66 Sunday, tied Dale Douglas for first place in the Greater Jacksonville open golf tournament and forced an 18-hole playoff yesterday.

The playoff was held on the 6,943-yard par-72 Hidden Hills Country Club course.

Playoffs on regular tour events such as this one normally are sudden-death affairs, but the PGA contract with the sponsors specified that in case of a tie this one would be settled in an 18-hole event.

Douglass, the third-round leader, had a final-round 69 for 279, the same total amassed by January, a weathered 41-year-old veteran of 15 years on the pro tour.

Trot clerks sign

TORONTO (CP) — Mutuel clerks at Ontario standardbred and thoroughbred racetracks operated by The Jockey Club Ltd. have signed a two-year contract, ending a 20-day dispute.

The 125 standardbred workers, locked out by the club since March 9 at Toronto's Greenwood Raceway after negotiations broke down, voted on management's latest offer Thursday, but results were not announced until the 215 thoroughbred clerks voted Saturday.

The new contract, retroactive to Jan. 1, gives the harness-racing workers a $3-a-day increase over two years, plus fringe benefits worth 45 cents a day. Thoroughbred clerks accepted a $2.95 daily increase with fringe benefits worth 50 cents.

Bleiner leads team

PRA LOUP, France (AP) — Werner Bleiner of Austria won the men's giant slalom Sunday and Marilyn Cochran of the United States captured the women's event at the Six-Nation skiing competition here.

Austria also won the team title on Bleiner's win and a victory by Wiltrud Drexel of Austria in the downhill Saturday. Austria has 22 points, followed by France, 194, the U.S., 181, Switzerland, 110, Italy, 60 and Canada, 43.

Miss Cochran, 19, winner of Friday's special slalom, went down a 41-gate course dropping 312 metres in one minute, 19.61 seconds, ahead of Austria's Anne Marie Proell, 1:19.70 and Judy Nagel of the U.S., 1:20.33.

NEW BEAVERS PRESIDENT

Beaudry will make winner

SHERBROOKE — Local businessman Leon Beaudry was elected president of the Sherbrooke Beavers of the Quebec Junior "A" hockey league during an executive's meeting held last week at the Sports Palace.

Former vice-president in the old executive board, Mr. Beaudry replaces Leandre Mercier, who for the past two seasons has been president of the Sherbrooke Beavers.

Concerned with building a top team for Sherbrooke, the newly-elected president said he would continue to ask the people of Sherbrooke to support junior hockey.

Mr. Beaudry will be supported by Marcel Maheu and Norry Jamieson, vice-presidents. Treasurer Gerard Beaulieu accepted another term with the team, and Georges Masse will continue as team secretary.

The executive board also announced that Real Veilleux will be team manager for another year.

Starting his third term with the Beavers, Manager Veilleux said he had started plans for the 1970-71 hockey season.

Although the board did not make announcements concerning the coach, rumors circulating suggest that Lou
