WASHINGTON'S STRUGGLE FOR RECIPROCITY

Senators and Congressmen Swelter While Delegations Hold Forth

FARMERS' INFLUENCE HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR DELAY.

Real Fight Will Come When Republican Progressives and Democrats in Senate Attempt to Amend Bill.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Washington, May 18.— For many years the farmer of the United States has been—or has thought he was—the "goat" of the politicians. Once every four years the stalwart and sturdy agriculturist was hailed as the backbone of his country's greatness, and urged to live up to his reputation by casting his vote as one man for the Republican nominee for the Presidency. With an unfailing regularity which was most distracting to the patriotic politicians who happen to be Democrats, he has done this ever since the Civil War. What is worrying every prominent Republican in Washington, from the President down to the last non-civil service appointee at the Capitol is the fact that the farmer is going to turn over a new leaf and do a little organized and united thinking on his own behalf. This is at variance with all the traditions, plans and desires of the Republican managers. Nevertheless the signs increase.

It is the farmers who are responsible for the fact that the grave and elderly gentlemen of the Senate are solemnly roasting in their gorgeous but unventilated chamber three or four afternoons a week, while the direct representatives of the people stew and squabble in equal discomfort in the Hall of Representatives at the other end of the Capitol. This does not tend to heighten the love for agriculturists as a class which should permeate Congress, but it unquestionably makes for respect for agricultural influence as manifested in a practical and definite form.

The Farmers' Fight.

Administration, Senators and Congressmen make no secret of the fact that, if it had not been for the fight which the farmers of the country have been able to make, at home and in Washington, reciprocity would long since have been signed, sealed and delivered as far as the United States was concerned. The Administration anticipated no difficulty in persuading Congress to swallow it, holus-bolus, long before the fourth of last March, when the Sixty-First Congress came to its inglorious and unsatisfactory end. The Administration, in fact, has been progressively embroiled and annoyed and grieved from the time Reciprocity first became a concrete issue by the attitude which the farmers of this country have taken no less than by the way they have set to work to impress their views on the assembled Senators and Representatives. President Taft, speaking from a high and lofty place last week, told some of the farmer delegations from the Western States that if the farmers were forced to take issue with him and the Republican party because of reciprocity, he would be pained and profoundly grieved, but he would, nevertheless, do his duty. Thus spoke William Howard Taft, President of the United States. W. H. Taft, the hard-working candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency, must have regarded the situation very much more acutely, although circumstances precluded his giving utterance to his opinions.

That is why, six weeks after the Sixty-Second Congress has been called in special and extraordinary session, the Senate is still dallying with reciprocity as gingerly and with as much distaste as though it were an unexpected and very disagreeable task that had been suddenly thrust upon it. And every day the twenty acres of asphalt which surround the Capitol gets hotter, and stickier, and more unpleasant, and the atmosphere of the chambers of the Senate and the House of Commons more sleep-compelling and more nearly of the temperature of a baker's oven. The Senate's Finance Committee was to have so expedited matters that the measure was to have been reported in two weeks—and that was five weeks ago. Senator Bailey's cotton-pickers and Senator Borak's wool-growers, and Senator Smith's timber dealers, and no one knows how many more have still to be heard—and heard at length—before the Senate itself can join in the very joyous and interesting fight which is clearly in prospect.

The Farmers' Fault.

With one accord, the whole reciprocity element unites in saying that all this is the fault of the farmer. Furthermore, it is possible only because the farmer began to see, eight or ten years ago, that organization is the fundamental essential of political success. The consequence is that, through the National Grange, something over a million United States farmers are kept in constant touch with events at Washington, and are instructed how and when they may best make their influence felt.

The Grange's great argument against reciprocity has been that it was a divergence from the principle of protection, which would bear exclusively on the farmers. The Grange is not to-day so enthusiastically wedded to high protection as to be unwilling to talk over the possibility of a gradual separation. That it strenuously and emphatically objects to is having to pay its quota of the expenses of the protection household, while the other members of the family profit by the reduced cost of farm products and food-stuffs under reciprocity. That is why the Progressive Republicans in the Senate are all prepared to add a rider to the reciprocity bill, which will cut down the duties on enough manufactured articles to either make the "Regular" Republicans reject the whole combination of reciprocity and freer trade, or else induce the Democrats to accept it as the realization of that party's policy for the last forty years. Two or three amendments of this nature are already packed and all prepared for strapping on the Underwood Bill as soon as the Finance Committee gets it off its hands. Senator La Follette has one which is said to be the most likely to fit comfortably and so close as not to be shaken of, but if his doesn't there will be no lack of substitutes. The real excitement will come when the attempt is made to strap these on, for the President has given formal assurance to various manufacturing interests that he will veto any tariff bill which injuriously affects them. He has also, as Mr. Fielding so often has recalled, pledged the honor of his Administration to secure the passage of the Reciprocity bill. It looks as though one honor or the other would have to be sacrificed should the complications which now appear inevitable develop logically.

Earl Grey Busy Man in Toronto

Reviewing Public School Cadets and Laying Corner-Stone of New Y.M.C.A. Building.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22.—Earl Grey yesterday morning, as has been his custom when in Toronto over a Sabbath, attended divine service at St. James Cathedral. In the afternoon a motoring tour about the city and outskirts was arranged, which was repeated in the evening.

To-morrow His Excellency has an extensive programme, commencing with a review in Queen's Park of the public school cadets of the city, upon which occasion a Guard of Honor will be furnished by the 48th Highlanders. He will be the guest of the Ontario Jockey Club at a luncheon, and will dine in the evening at Government House.

On Wednesday morning Earl Grey will be present and lay the corner-stone of the Broadway Young Men's Christian Association building. In the afternoon he again will attend the races in State, with a cavalry escort provided by the Royal Canadian Dragoons.

Royal Allowance Cut Down.

Lisbon, May 22.—The income of the Portuguese royal family will be very materially curtailed by a recent decision of the provisional government. This was to the effect that the money advanced to King Carlos, Queen Amelie and the Dowager Queen Maria Pia, should be deducted in annual instalments from the income from Manuel's Portuguese properties. An investigation has shown that $3,600,000 was advanced to King Carlos. The amount advanced the two queens has not yet been determined.

Austrian Emperor in Good Health.

Vienna, May 22.—Some alarm is caused by the announcement that the specialist Professor, Neusser had been summoned to Goedoello, where the Emperor Francis Joseph is at present, sojourning in the Royal chalet. says that the Emperor's health is good, and that Dr. Neusser's mission was to ascertain the effect of the treatment which he advised some time ago. An authoritative statement issued for a cough from which the Emperor was suffering.

Royal Mail Line Agent Sentenced.

Colon, May 22.—H. B. Parker, agent of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co., who was convicted on Saturday of being implicated with a West Indian named Owens, in securing contract laborers for the Colombian mines, has been sentenced to three and a half years' imprisonment. Owens received a sentence of five years and three months. Parker has appealed from the decision. The laborers recently sailed on the steamship Clyde.

"Martyrdom of St. Sebastian"

Remarkable Third Act Suggesting the Passion in Pantomine by St. Sebastian.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Paris, May 22.—A dress rehearsal of "The Martyrdom of St. Sebastian" took place last night at the Chatelet Theatre, after having been countermanded in consequence of the Issy Les Moulineaux tragedy. The impression made was not over-favorable. Although it abounds in striking scenes and admirable verses, it is long-drawn-out, and often quite obscure.

The third act is, however, very powerful. It is marked, by a sensational episode, the suggestion in pantomime by St. Sebastian of Christ's passion, with musical accompaniment, largely reminiscent of "Parsifal."

The most beautiful feature of Debussy's often fascinating score is perhaps the Prelude, in which the composer has obtained wonderful archaic effects by making the harps and wood-wind instruments dominate the orchestra.

Great Peace Meeting in Toronto.

Toronto, May 22.—A vision of the world advancing to still greater and loftier possibilities under the influence of perfect concord of "Peace and good-will towards men," as made possible by the realization of the proposed peace treaty between the United States, Great Britain and France, was unfolded to an audience that thronged the Association Hall Sunday afternoon and listened to a series of addresses by representative citizens.

Sir William Mulock moved and J. F. Mackay seconded the following resolution, which was passed:—

The citizens of Toronto express the hope that the negotiating nations may find it possible to reach an agreement which will provide fair, honorable and effective means for the satisfactory settlement of such differences, thereby securing to the nations concerned the inestimable blessing of international peace.

LOSES HIS LIFE IN BACK RIVER RAPIDS ON EVE OF MARRIAGE

Trio of Young Men Fought Death in Swirling Water; One Lost.

The waters of Back River claimed another victim on Saturday afternoon when Mr. John E. McDougal, a young engineer, whose home is in Toronto, met death by drowning in the rapid current of the stream near Cartierville.

A distressing feature of the occurrence is the fact that Mr. McDougal was to have been married on June 10, in Toronto, to Miss Jessie Swinnerton, of that city, and had made all arrangements for a prolonged honeymoon.

Mr. McDougal, with two friends, Messrs. Arthur Bury and M. S. Horne, left the city shortly after lunch on Saturday for the back of the Island, to paddle the Toronto man's canoe from Cartierville to Dixie, where he had taken up his residence for the summer months. While in that part of the river known as "The Narrows," where the current is very swift, the canoe capsized and the three occupants were precipitated into the swirling waters.

All, however, were good swimmers, and on rising to the surface, immediately swam to the canoe.

When it was seen that there was danger of being carried down midstream to a wider part of the river, where the water was equally turbulent and hope of rescue small, Mr. Bury struck out for the shore and succeeded in reaching it without much difficulty.

While Mr. Bury was making shore, the capsized boat was carried down stream swiftly, past the Narrows and out into a wider part of the river. Mr. Horne and his friend, Mr. McDougal, decided that an effort was to be made at once to gain the bank or they would soon find themselves out of striking distance of it, and the former set out first.

Mr. Horne, whose energies were bent on reaching the shore, did not know that his companion was in any distress and thought that he was following some yards behind, while Mr. Bury was several hundred yards away from the scene of the disaster. The latter, however, saw McDougal sink beneath the surface and made an effort to reach a part of the shore where he would be in a position to render all assistance possible, shouting to Horne that their companion had disappeared.

Although almost completely exhausted in his effort to reach the river bank, Mr. Horne stood ready to strike back again into the foaming waters to succor his companion and a few seconds later was joined by Mr. Bury. Young McDougal, however, never again rose to the surface and the canoe drifted on down the insatiable stream.

Mr. McDougal was 24 years of age and was a graduate of the University of Toronto. He came to Montreal about a year and a half ago and has since been employed by the Steel and Radiation Company of this city. His parents live in Parkdale, Toronto.

The unfortunate young man lived at 459 Lansdowne avenue, Westmount until a week or ten days ago when, with several other friends, he moved to Dixie for the summer.

Quebec Bowlers Beat M.A.A.A.

The Congress Shield emblematic of the bowling championship of Eastern Canada, was won Saturday by the Civil Service team of Quebec in competition with the M.A.A.A. five. Saturday at the local alleys the M.A.A.A. quintette won their match by 94 pins, but this was not sufficient to offset the 188 deficiency contracted at Quebec, the Saturday previous. Thus, on the whole round, the Quebec rollers win by 94 pins.

Rumored Franz Joseph is Ill.

Vienna, May 22.—On top of the recent rumors regarding the health of the Austrian Emperor, there was much excitement when it was learned that Prof. Neusher, the court physician, had been called suddenly to Godollo, where the Emperor now is. Officials say that nothing is the matter with Francis Joseph.

WOMEN'S HEAD-DRESS BETTER AT HOME, PASTOR SUGGESTS

Dr. Sparling Promises Absolution and Thinks it Would Be More Comfortable.

Advising ladies to leave their hats at home in an effort to secure more comfort at the Sunday services, Rev. Dr. Sparling created an unusual ripple of interest last night at St. James Methodist Church.

The pastor did not mention St. Paul's injunction during his remarks, but he assured the women that they need have no fear of being refused absolution.

Endeavoring to secure an enlargement of Dr. Sparling's views on millinery and church services, a Star representative called on him to-day, but to the newspaperman's initial query, the pastor responded by one of his own.

"What do you want to publish such things for?" he asked. "If you want an article on that subject, write it yourself."

"But," answered the reporter, "I don't know anything about the subject."

"Well, haven't you any brains? I don't know anything about the subject either, but I do wish the ladies would come to church without their hats. I think it would be a good thing if the newspapers would take the question up. Will you write an article on it?"

Although the reporter explained that the rules of journalism did not permit him to write editorial matter for the news columns, Dr. Sparling still refused to offer material for an interview on the subject.

His remarks last night were as follows:—"I have been wondering," he said, with some hesitation, "whether ladies would next Sunday leave their hats at home. Perhaps they think they would not have absolution if they did; but I think it would be more comfortable and we would all be able to enjoy the service better. I would like you, at least, to think about it."

During the Eucharistic congress many women were seen in local Catholic churches wearing the mantilla, a custom which prevails to a considerable extent throughout continental Europe. At the moment Catholic London is interested in a learned controversy as to the advisibility of women leaving their hats at home when going to church, wearing instead the mantilla which leaves free vision for those in the rear.

Airship Remains Seen at Sea.

Queenstown, May 22.—The White Star steamer Celtic, which arrived here at 9.30 o'clock last night from New York, reports having passed the supposed remains of an airship in latitude 41.45, longitude 25.10. This was estimated to be 618 miles west of Fastnet.

The only airships unaccounted for are the Wellman dirigible, and the aeroplane in which Cecil Grace lost his life in the North Sea.

COST OF LIVING

It's a subject of much discussion nowadays—the cost of living, but the cost comes the highest on the thriftless.

The intelligent and business-like readers who peruse the Star's Want Columns each day know how to reduce the cost of living to a minimum without sacrifice to quality in any of their purchases.

Those who are in the habit of reading the Wants each day, carefully considering the various classifications, find that scarcely a day goes by without their finding something for sale which they need and which they can secure at a genuine reduction.

As an example, just the other day a household moving into a new home secured a practically new range at close to half the original cost because the former owner was moving out of the city.

By watching the Classified Columns of The Star, it's an easy matter to reduce the cost of living.

ALL FRANCE MOURNS LOSS OF MINISTER

General Opinion Defective Motor was Cause of the Catastrophe

PREMIER'S CONDITION TO-DAY SATISFACTORY.

Royal Aero Club Notifies Aviators Not to Fly Over Coronation Crowds.

Dead.

Henri Maurice Berteaux. Minister of War.

Injured.

Antoine Monis, son of the Premier.

Paris, May 22.—Antoine E. Monis, the French Premier and Minister of the Interior, who was seriously injured yesterday when an aeroplane piloted by M. Train, dashed into a group of Government officials, who had gathered on the military field at Issy-Les-Moulineaux to witness the start of the Paris to Madrid race, killing Henri M. Berteaux, the French Minister of War, and injuring two other men, passed a quiet night.

Although Premier Monis, who was buried beneath the wreckage of the monoplane, sustained compound fractures of two bones in the right leg, had his nose broken, his face badly contused and received bruises on the breast and abdomen, his condition at noon to-day, according to a statement given out by the physicians attending him, is satisfactory. No complications have set in.

Henri Deutsch de La Meurthe, the veteran patron of aeronautics and automobiling, and Antoine Monis, son of the Premier, both of whom were struck by Train's machine when it plunged into the group of official spectators, were not seriously injured.

Defective Motor Cause.

Although various versions are given as to the cause of the accident, which occurred with such frightful rapidity as to make it impossible to follow the lightning changes in the aviator's course just before the monoplane dashed into the Premier's party, it appears to be the consensus of opinion to-day that the disaster was caused by a defective motor superinduced by an air flurry created probably by the galloping of a troop of Cuirassiers across the field directly under the moving aeroplane.

The ministerial party was hidden from the aviators by a detachment of troops and in avoiding the soldiers the monoplane crashed into the group of officials as though shot from a catapult.

Confusion was rampant following the fall of the monoplane. Cries of alarm and dismay arose from all parts of the field, and tens of thousands of persons broke through the lines formed by the gendarmes and crushed toward the scene of the accident. It was with great difficulty that the cavalry, by repeatedly charging the crowds, succeeded in clearing the grounds.

Train Has Lost All Heart.

Pierre Vedrine, undismayed by his own accident yesterday, when, just prior to the disaster in which the French Minister of War was killed, his machine suddenly capsized and was wrecked, again started in the Paris to Madrid race early this morning. A thick haze covered the Issy-Les-Moulineaux aviation field, and comparatively few spectators were on hand to witness the resumption of the race. The field looked desolate.

M. Train, who, in trying to avoid crashing into a squadron of Cuirassiers galloping across the military field caused yesterday's lamentable tragedy, and who was entitled, under the conditions of the race, to make another start, in the international flight contest, announced that he had no heart to do so because of his terrible mishap of yesterday.

Vedrine Breaks Another Record.

Four other aviators, Mme. Weymann, Frey, Gernier and Ferrept, also retired from the race. Vedrine, at half past three this morning, took a preliminary flight around the field for the purpose of testing his motor, and then, at 4.11 o'clock, arose high in the air and disappeared swiftly in the fog towards Angouleme, the first stage of the Paris to Madrid race. There were no acclamations when the aviator started on his flight, the people seemingly being stunned by the accident attending the opening of the event.

Whole Nation in Mourning.

M. Garros was the only contestant, out of yesterday's four aviators, to reach Angouleme, Gibert reached Pontlevoy but learning of the catastrophe on the Issy field, decided to proceed no further. Le Laiseur landed near Cosne, having lost his way in a fog.

Beaumont descended at Azay-Sur-Imbre and on attempting to resume his flight damaged the left wing of his aeroplane by dashing against a tree.

The terrible disaster of yesterday at the commencement of an international contest which promised to be one of the principal aviation events of the season, has plunged the whole French nation into a state of grief, and the death of Minister of War Berteaux is mourned without political distinctions throughout the Republic as a national loss.

To-day the body of the War Minister is lying in state at the Ministry of War. The funeral, which is expected to take place on Friday, will be conducted with full national honors. The army will go into mourning for thirty days.

DIAZ HEARTBROKEN WILL LEAVE MEXICO IS LATEST REPORT

Aged President Predicts Period of Anarchy in Country—Peace Agreement Signed.

Mexico City, May 22.—Exclusive information, characterized as positive and reliable, is that President Porfirio Diaz will leave Mexico on Thursday, never to return, his intention being to live abroad with his family the rest of his life.

With him on the steamship Espana, which will sail from Vera Cruz, on Thursday, will be his wife, his son, Colonel Porfirio Diaz, his wife, and three children, two maid servants, and one man servant.

They will go to Paris first and establish a home there. All furniture and personal belongings they do not care ea etke with them, will be sold before they leave. General Diaz will resign Wednesday, in favor of Finance Minister De La Barra, as provisional President.

Personal friends say General Diaz is broken-hearted at the revulsion of feeling throughout the country against him, and that he has expressed "his firm intention never to see Mexico and her ungrateful people again.

Court Unseats Capt. Donelan

Justice Gibson Declares Law Was Recklessly Disregarded in East Cork Election.

Cork, Ireland, May 22.—The Court which has been hearing the petition against the election of Captain Anthony J. A. Donelan, the Nationalist whip, who defeated William O'Brien, in the East Division of Cork County, at the last general election, to-day unseated Donelan, but declined to brand him with personal dishonor.

Justice Gibson found that the election had been conducted with a reckless disregard to law, and that accounts had been suppressed relating to probable compromising payments. The Cork County seat in the House of Commons has not been claimed by the O'Brienites.

JAPANESE CONSUL THINKS THE TREATY SHOULD BE RENEWED

Hon. Mr. Yada Points Out Possibility of Great Trade Between Two Countries.

Western Associated Press Special.

Vancouver, B.C., May 22.— "From my viewpoint, I do not think there is any valid reason against the Dominion becoming a party to the renewal of the trade treaty between Great Britain and Japan for another term of years was advanced by any of the speakers," said Hon. Mr. Yada, Japanese Consul in Vancouver, in commenting on the debate in the House of Commons.

"The United States last year exported between three and four million dollars worth of wheat and flour to Japan. Why cannot Canada compete in the same market. If Canadians would augment the efforts of the trade commissioner resident in Japan by sending agents there to look over the field, I am sure great benefit would result. At present the balance of trade is in our favor by $3,500,000, due to Canadian importation of Japanese rice, tea and silk goods. Canadian smelters awoke to a great opportunity. If other Canadian industries will show the same enterprise the trade betwee the two countries will grow by leaps and bounds.

"The question of the exclusion of Japanese from the Dominion is a delicate one, and I do not care to discuss it. I will simply content myself with declaring that I feel certain that the Dominion Government, and I hope the Canadian people, realize that Japan is faithfully adhering to the arrangements restricting Japanese immigration to four hundred persons yearly."

PREFERENCE TO THE FRONT ONCE AGAIN

Imperial Government Is Shelving Question At Conference

PRESS COMMENT ON BOTH SIDES STRONG.

Monster Demonstrations in Lancashire and London Emphasise Interest of Public.

By Special Cable from our own Correspondent.

London, May 22.— The astonishing Lancashire demonstration in favor of the Preference on Saturday was probably the largest since the days of Cobden and Bright, and comes to remind Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Ministers attending the Imperial Conference at its opening meeting to-day how very much alive that question is with the great body of the public.

It is estimated that at least 20,000 people, mostly artisans, attended Saturday's meeting, which was addressed by Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain by means of letters, and by Mr. Bonar Law, Mr. Austen Chamberlain, and Mr. F. E. Smith, in speeches, while not less than half a million people took part in the procession and demonstration. To-morrow there is to be a colossal London Preference demonstration at Royal Albert Hall, with Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour as the chief speaker.

The British Ministers have taken care that nothing appears on the agenda of the Conference about Preference, hoping to avoid discussion of it. They induced Premier Botha to withdraw his proposal to substitute a naval subsidy for South Africa's present Preference arrangement, agreeing to discuss the matter with him in private.

VIEWS OF DOMINIONS DETERMING FACTORS.

The Ministerial journals, in discussing the Conference this morning, agree with most of the Unionist writers in saying that the views of the Dominions must be the determining factors on the subject of the establishment of an Imperial Council, which New Zealand's Premier means to propose. The Daily Chronicle says:

"It would be a mistake to force the pace in these matters. We are inclined to trust to the steady and sure, if slow, processes of evolution."

The Daily News scoffs at the notion of an Imperial Council to "lord it over our responsible governments, and curtail the autonomy of our several nations."

Mr. Balfour and the responsible Unionist statesmen certainly never dreamed of anything of this kind.

LEADING LIBERAL JOURNAL VERY ANGRY.

The Daily News is also very angry with the Chamberlains and Mr. Bonar Law for insisting on the statement that grave Imperial complications will arise from the Canadian-American reciprocal arrangement. It says:—

"Fancy a Conference in London, at which the French or German governments were to be represented, and fancy British front-bench politicians selecting its opening, as a fit occasion for rushing into French or German domestic politics, and taking up the cudgels against a foreign Cabinet in a hotly contested controversy. Decency would forbid such action.

Such Unionists journals as the Daily Express, Standard, and Morning Post warn the British ministers of the heavy responsibility they will incur if they again refuse the offer of a mutual Preference, in which all the Dominion unite, but the Ministers will certainly refuse it.

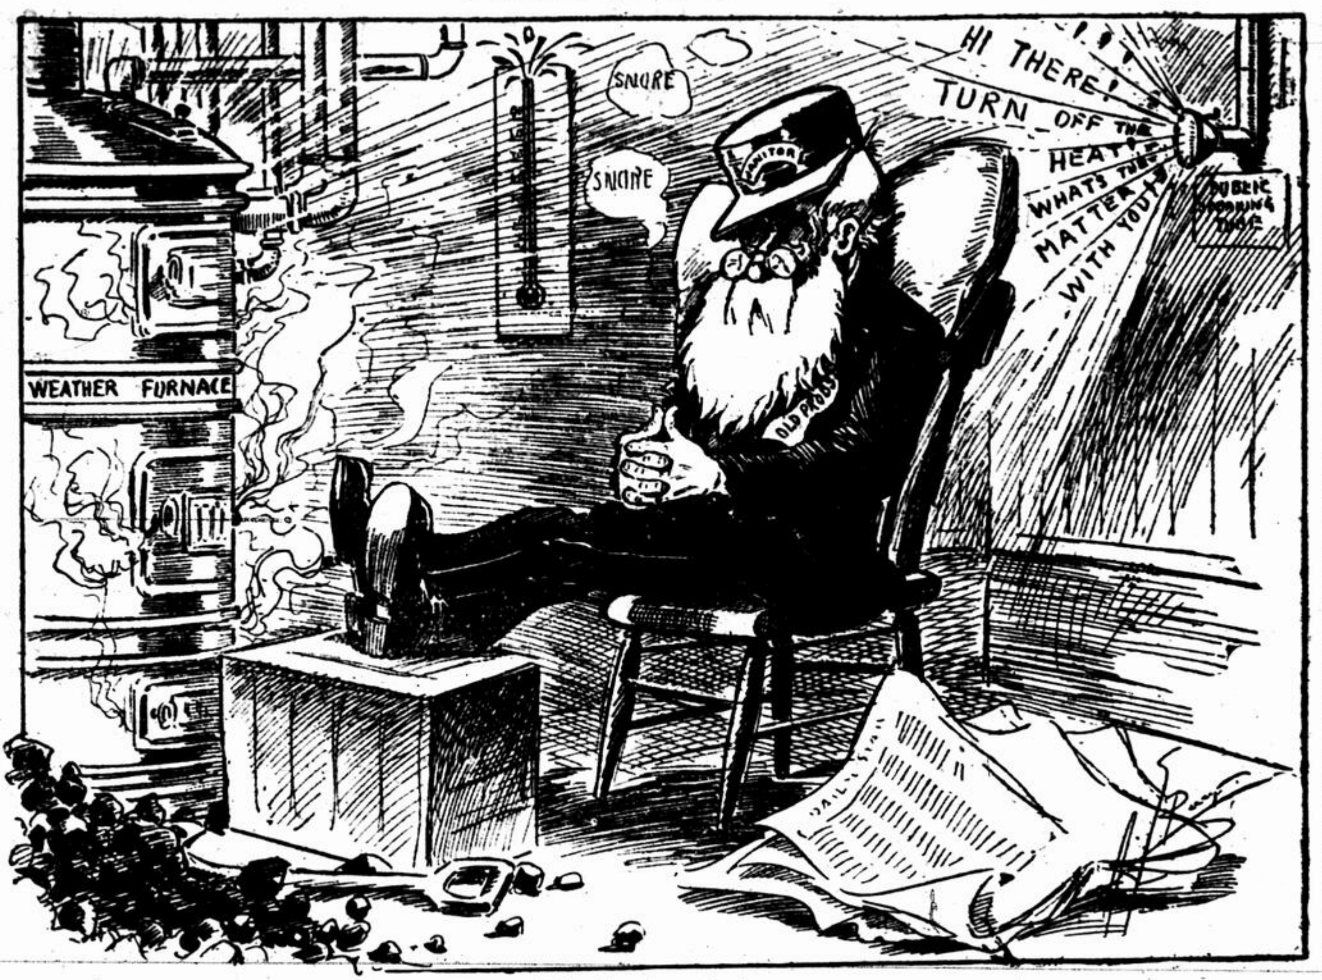
WINDERMERE.

KING ENTERTAINED MINISTERS TO-DAY.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, May 22.—His Majesty, King George, entertained the delegates to the Imperial Conference, and others, sixty guests in number, at a luncheon today. There were no speeches.

ASLEEP AGAIN.



The Careless Janitor.

FLEEING ELOPERS, TRACKED BY WIRELESS, ADMIT THEIR IDENTITY WHEN CONFRONTED AT QUEBEC

Jean Abbadie A'Arrast, French Nobleman, Who Eloped With His Children's Governess, Surprised That His Ruse at Feigning Suicide Had Failed, and that His Arrival in Canada Was Eagerly Awaited.

Leaving his hat and coat and his cards on the banks of the Seine to make his family believe that he had suicided Jean Abbadie d'Arrast, a scion of one of the ancient and noble families of France, fled with the governess of his children, and the couple were detained in Quebec on Saturday by the immigration authorities. To-morrow the immigration authorities will decide whether they will deport them as undesirables, which, it is likely that they will do.

The couple sailed under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Wye, bound for Saskatoon.

"I am not Mr. Wye, and Mrs. Wye is not Miss Bénoit," said Abbadie, haughtily to the representative of the Star who went from Montreal to Father Point to meet the ship. "More than that I never heard of them."

This denial was given before they had landed at Quebec and before he knew that the wireless had been busy with his affairs and that "Mr. and Mrs. Wye" had been watched by the keen eyes of Captain Evans, who had been informed by wireless of the name and condition of the couple.

The Montreal Star gave details Friday and Saturday of the elopement and sailing of the fugitives on the Lake Manitoba as Mr. and Mrs. Wye. Then the wireless came in again.

Replying to a wireless query Saturday as to the presence on board of "Mr. and Mrs. Wye," Captain Evans, commander of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Steamship, Lake Manitoba, replied also by wireless when the steamer was off Cape Ray, that station taking the message:

"Mr. and Mrs. Wye on board. Ages 41 and 23. Booked at Paris. Destination Saskatoon."

EVANS."

Brother of Girl Cannot Believe It.

That completed the identification and the brothers of Helen Benoit, then in Montreal, were told of it. Mr. Jean Benoit said he could not understand it—could not believe it.

"Mr. Abbadie being a notable man his locality, there might be something started to discredit him. Mr. d'Abbadie is a nobleman of old lineage and of rather moderate means for his rank. He is greatly interested in charitable and humanitarian organizations, and this must be to discredit him."

Ocean Flight Resembles the Dr. Crippen Chase.

When the couple first disappeared the police of Paris and London were put to work by the Abbadie family. The couple were traced to Liverpool, to the Lake Manitoba. Then the wireless made the capture of the couple certain.

Their transatlantic flight in some respects resembles the Dr. Crippen flight with Ethel Clare LeNeve, though without the shadow of the horrible murder. The Lake Manitoba it was that took Crippen and LeNeve back for the trial that was to mean death to Crippen. It was the same pilot, Pilot Goudreau, that brought the Lake Manitoba up this trip as brought up the Montrose with Dr. Crippen on board.

And as in the Crippen case it was the wireless that settled the fate of the fugitives. They were under the surveillance of the Captain days before they landed and the officers of the law were on hand with full details of the reason of their flight.

Relatives of both parties are in Quebec to-day awaiting the decision of the immigration department. Camille Abbadie d'Arrast is at his brother Jean's side. He was on the old Quebec bridge work for some time and has been in Canada for some years. The two brothers of Miss Benoit who arrived last week in Montreal and could not understand the non-appearance of their sister, stayed off in their western journey to find her. Jean is in Quebec to-day. The other is at the Longueuil College with a relative of the family.

The story of the firm, then faltering, denial, and the final confession of identity is told below by a staff correspondent who went to Father Point to meet Abbadie.

Staff Correspondence of The Star.

Quebec, May 22. — The passenger who travelled on the Lake Manitoba as William F. Wye admitted to the immigration officials when detained by them on the steamer's arrival here this morning that he is Jean Abbadie D'Arrast, of Evereux, in France, and that the woman who accompanied him as his wife is Mademoiselle Helene Benoit, who had been governess to Abbadie's children.

This ends one phase of a remarkable French love drama, into which a certain tragic element is supposed to have been introduced by Abbadie himself on the way across the Atlantic. Captain Evans, master of the Lake Manitoba, received a Marconigram from Paris, informing him that the passengers who were travelling as Mr. and Mrs. Wye aboard his ship were an eloping couple and the man's wife was gravely concerned about her husband's disappearance, because Abbadie had "pretended murder." This somewhat obscure phrase has been interpreted to mean that Abbadie had put up a scheme to give the idea that he had been murdered in order to cover up his disappearance with Miss Benoit, the family governess, who had given out that she had secured an appointment as school mistress in the French-Canadian parish of Bonne Madone in Saskatchewan.

In the meantime the immigration officials are detaining the eloping couple as undesirables, and they will be deported whence they came, being probably returned on separate ships.

Girl Strong in Character, Man Weak.

That they had for some time contemplated coming out to Canada, is proved by the fact that their passage to Montreal on the Lake Manitoba was booked and paid for at Paris by Madamoiselle Benoit, on February 4th last. She is a prepossessing girl of twenty three years of age, with strong features, bright countenance and her face bronzed by the Atlantic breezes. She was smartly gowned in a well fitting tailor made costume of light brown color and is of medium height.

He is a tall man of ungainly build, clean shaven, somewhat weak of feature and nervous in all his movements. He has invariably worn an ill fitting Norfolk brown suit and knockabout hat. The couple have held themselves absolutely aloof from everybody on board the ship throughout the voyage. Whenever they appeared on deck, they drew their chairs close together, and conversed in subdued whispers. They occupied No. 17 cabin which is one of the best rooms on the quarter deck of the steamer. Their reserve towards their fellow passengers was consistently maintained even at the dining table, which may be accounted for in some measure in the case of the young lady because she professes to speak only the French language. She attempted no conversatios with the stewardess, Monsieur Abbadie D'Arrast acting as her interpreter. He speaks English fluently and with something of the effected drawl which passes amongst some of the English people themselves as the "aristrocratic accent."

Nervous, Let Cigarette Go Out.

Mr. Abbadie unhesitatingly granted the representative of The Star an interview in one of the cabins of the steamer some time before he was taken over by the immigration official.

The Star representative was perfectly frank, telling the passenger that he was supposed to be travelling under a false name.

Abbadie was not to be caught speaking his own language, however. "I prefer to speak English," he said, "though if you speak French I understand it. Your story that Wye is not my proper name is interesting, but it is not true, and if that is all there is to be said, I will say good afternoon."

It was obvious that the man was posing. He was nervous, lighted a cigarette but let it go out. A fierce thunderstorm was raging at the time and he expressed a hope that we didn't have many such storms in Canada.

The interviewer asked if it was true that Mr. Wye had been in Canada before and he replied in the affirmative.

"I was farming in the West some twelve years ago," he continued, "and am going to settle there this time."

"With your wife, Mrs. Wye?"

"Yes, with Mrs. Wye."

He was thus brought to speak again of himself, a subject which he had manifested marked pains to avoid.

"I Am Not Mr. Abbadie," His Emphatic Statement.

"Is that so," he coolly remarked when told that he was suspected as being Monsieur Abbadie.

"How interesting," he added superciliously, but directly he heard that the whole story of Miss Benoit's failure to keep her promise to her brothers to meet them in Canada was known, he dropped his assumed indifference ahd became genuinely interested.

"Where did you get your information?" he demanded.

"The French newspapers have interested themselves in your case and are making inquiries on this side through the Montreal Star."

"Pooh," he commented. "It may be a mere newspaper attempt to manufacture a sensation. The newspapers seem to be alike all over the world, but I am not Mr. Abbadie. Mrs. Wye is not Miss Benoit. I do not know the Abbadie family and never heard the name until you mentioned it."

"Will you authorize me to publish that statement?"

"I have no statement to make beyond telling you that your story is false so far as I am suspected of being Mr. Abbadie. That denial ought to end the story."

Refused to Dine With Star Representative.

"Is it true, Mr. Wye, that you are a native of South America?"

"That may be so," he answered and turned again to the subject of the weather, shortly afterwards terminating the interview rather abruptly, although he assumed to be more indifferent than resentful at the pointed questions put to him.

To smooth matters out, however, The Star representative wrote him a letter expressing a hope that we might meet under less embarrassing conditions and invited him to dinner.

Mr. Abbadie, however, replied verbally that having said what he had said, there was no need to renew relations. He carried this refusal in practical effect again this morning when he ran back into his cabin just as a meeting was about to take place during an early constitutional walk on the deck of the steamship. Neither he nor Miss Benoit were seen again until they emerged from their cabin accompanied by the immigration officials who conducted them into the immigration sheds. On the way Mr. Abbadie threatened physical violence to The Star photographer.

Confesses All to Authorities.

At the immigration sheds the couple were separated and soon afterwards the self-styled Mr. Wye admitted that he was Monsieur Jean Abbadie D'Arrast and that he had eloped with the family governess Mademoiselle Helene Benoit, deserting his wife and seven children after depositing his hat, coat and cards on one of the Seine bridges in Paris in order that they should be misled into believing him dead.

Mr. Abbadie came to Canada seemingly well provided with money, and on Saturday last he called on Mr. Hignett, the purser of the Lake Manitoba, and asked if he would oblige him by cashing a cheque for three thousand dollars. Mr. Hignett, however, declined to accord the favor. The couple brought three trunks of baggage with them. Abbadie and his companion are entered on the ship's official interrogatory form as W. F. Wye and Helena Wye, married, forty-one and twenty-three years of age respectively, though Mr. Wye had at first given his age as forty-two and that of the wife thirty-three.

He declares he was formerly two years in Beaconsfield, Manitoba, as a farmer. Both were coming to Canada permanently, their destination being Saskatoon, Sask. He described himself as a South American by birth and his companion as a Swiss, whose nearest relative was her mother, now resident at Luverne. Mr. Wye entered his present and intended occupation as farming.

Captain Evans Alone Knew of Identity.

There were fifteen hundred passengers on board the Lake Manitoba and nobody had any suspicion that Abbadie and his companion were not what they represented themselves to be. Indeed they attracted so little notice that Capt. Evans did not notice them at all until a day or two ago when he got the Marconigram from Paris informing him that the two passengers on his boat entered as Mr. and Mrs. Wye were actually an eloping couple, named Abbadie D'Arrast and Henela Benoit, and that the wife of the man was gravely concerned about his mysterious disappearance from France. It was further stated that Abbadie had "pretended murder," "by which I suppose they mean 'pretended suicide,'" remarked the captain, in the course of an interview with the Star.

UNEXAMPLED HEAT WAVE IN MONTREAL

Temperature for Last Three Days Breaks May Record for 35 Years

TWO DEATHS FROM HEAT—THREE DROWNINGS.

Many Prostrations, Also Reported Due to the Unusual Torridity of the Temperature.

By noon to-day the heat record had almost reached the torrid heights of Saturday and Sunday. At the base of the mountain, where the McGill Observatory is situated, the mercury hovered between 84 and 85 degrees, while downtown at Hern and Harrison's, the thermometer registered 86. This day last year people were content with May weather at a maximum of 64 degrees.

Two deaths from the heat, three drownings, and many prostrations mark the unusually early heat wave that is passing over the city. The barometer does not indicate any storms or showers within the next few hours to cool the air.

On Saturday night there was a heavy thunderstorm in Toronto, and rain fell as far east as Kingston. A little lightning in Montreal last night was the only effect of the storm here.

An unfortunate result of the abnormally early heat record were the cases of two men and a boy, who lost their lives while trying to escape the heat. Mr. John E. McDougal was drowned near Cartierville Saturday after his canoe had upset near Cartierville. On Saturday night also, Mr. Alexander M. Garden went to the M. A. A. A. club house after the heat of the day, and took a plunge in the swimming tank, but never reappeared on the surface until his body was brought up by an experienced diver.

The third victim was a boy drowned in a quarry.

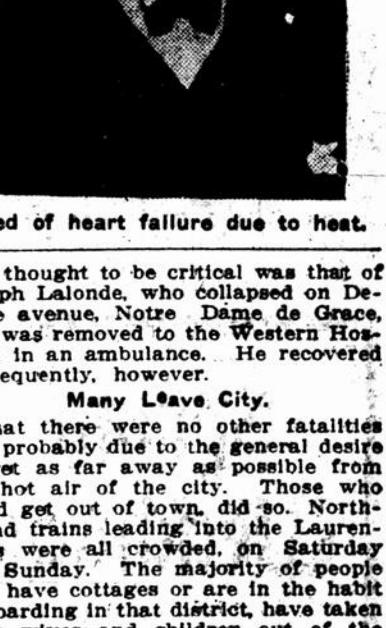
Watchman Found Dead.

Early Sunday morning, John Marsh, 71 years old, watchman for the Canadian Rubber Company, stretched himself on a counter of the establishment to rest for a few minutes, and was subsequently found lying dead by another employe of the company.

At noon on Saturday, Francois Xavier Ladouceur, aged 71, dropped dead while making a deposit in the City and District Savings Bank, St James street. He was a farmer of St. Genevieve, and had been in the habit of coming into the city once every week to deposit his savings. He had always enjoyed good health, but on Saturday morning complained of the unusual heat and of a faint feeling.

Another case of heat prostration that was thought to be critical was that of Joseph Lalonde, who collapsed on Decarie avenue, Notre Dame de Grace, and was removed to the Western Hospital in an ambulance. He recovered subsequently, however.

THE LATE JOHN MARSH.



Died of heart failure due to heat.

Many Leave City.

That there were no other fatalities was probably due to the general desire to get as far away as possible from the hot air of the city. Those who could get out of town, did so. Northbound trains leading into the Laurentians were all crowded, on Saturday and Sunday. The majority of people who have cottages or are in the habit of boarding in that district, have taken their wives and children out of the city about a month earlier than usual.

For those who could not get out of town, the mountains, the parks, and the car lines were a great boon. Mount Royal Park was crowded all day yesterday, and long lines of people waited throughout the afternoon for tickets for the Incline Railway which brought them to the cooler region on the top of the mountain.

Torrid Wave Remains.

So far this morning the mercury has been travelling upward at about the same rate as yesterday and the day before, with the disadvantage that Saturday and Sunday had holiday features which enabled thousands of workers to keep cooler than they can to-day.

TRIED TO SELL OPIUM IS CHARGE BY CONSTABLE.

George King was charged in the Recorder's Court, this morning, with attempting to sell opium to Constable Auger, of the City Hall Avenue Police Station. George in court seemed to be totally ignorant of the English language, and did not elect or plead. He was absolutely at a loss to understand what all the trouble was about, and appeared bewildered.

He was remanded for trial until next Monday, when a Chinese interpreter will be on hand and he will have a chance to explain, whether or not he was trying to dispose of the forbidden dope, to one of our "finest."

Royal Rovers	3	Thistles	2
Grand Trunk	3	St. Mary's	1

To everyone's disappointment, neithe side in the Rovers-Sons of Scotland match on Saturday afternoon, was able to put their best team in the field, consequently the match was somewhat shorn of the old-time excitement. With Tommy Bennett back, the front rank was rearranged, Boulton going right-half. Saunders, though as game as a pebble, should not have been played, being a very sick man. Yet, the Rovers' executive acted for the best and made the best of the material they had on hand. The Scots won by the score of 6-1, and this would indicate a runaway victory, but as the Sons of Scotland themselves would admit, it was nothing of the sort.

After leading by two goals to nothing, the Locos allowed the Grand Trunk to do it on them by 4-2. The game was not a pleasant one, rough tactics being largely in evidence. Grand Trunk are still treading the rosy path, gathering in the points all along the line, not by individual cleverness, but by general co-operation. They still retain the one point lead and are still unbeaten.

Lachine went down again, this time Valleyfield doing the needful. The score at half-time was 3-0, but in the second portion, the Lachine boys, held Valleyfield to a goal, the game ending 4-1. In the three games they have played, Lachine seem to be good finishers, but apparently their spurt comes too late.

C. P. R. carried everything before them against the Railroaders, winning by the score of 4-0. The young men were expected to do better than this, after their fine display at St. Johns, the week previous, but could not withstand the strong attack.

Close Games in Junior League.

In the Junior League only three games were played, the Grand Trunk-St. James match being postponed until Wednesday next.

I. O. G. T. and Maples had the most thrilling battle. After one of the closest fought games played this year, time found the teams even, neither goal tend having been scored on.

C. P. R. had a hard fight to beat Rosemount by three to one.

Crusaders placed themselves at the head of the table by a three to two victory over Tetraultville, the Maltese Cross aggregation's goal average giving them the lead over the Grand Trunks. The game was hardly fought, and the Crusaders were behind at half time. The Tetraultville team put up a very stiff defence and the game was not won until the very last minute.

Rose and Thistle also had a hard game, beating St. Paul, at St. Paul, 2 to 1.

ROYAL JACK WAS CYNOSURE OF ALL EYES AT DOG SHOW

Boston Terrier Exhibition Was Successful—Mr G. L. Shepherd Among the Chief Winners.

Next to Royal Jack, Caesar's brother, the white ribbon dog at Saturday's Boston Terrier Show, was Revillo Yankee, owned by Mr. George L. Shepherd, of this city, who cleaned up most of the coveted places in the classes he was entered, although closely pressed by Mr. M. A. Smith's Tomboy, who hails from Toronto.

It was Miss Drummond's wire-haired terrier, Royal Jack, however, who attracted the major part of the attention of the visitors to the show. Although out of his canine class, Jack had consented to place himself on exhibition for the benefit of the Children's Memorial Hospital, to which institution the net proceeds of the show will go. All day long the little terrier was the object of much admiration, all of which he accepted with a stoical dignity, although the intense heat made it difficult even for a royal bred dog to maintain any dignity whatever.

Mr. Charles H. Mower, of Burlington, Vt., judged the dogs at the show and complimented the officers of the club on the success of the affair. This was the second annual event, and it is likely that the Bostons will have a separate show of their own every years hereafter.

In spite of the excessively hot weather the attendance on Saturday was excellent, and the crippled children will benefit to the extent of over $250 as a result. The awards were:

LARNER HAS SAILED.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22.—Secretary Tom Douglas, of the Eaton Athletic Association, received a cable from Dr. Larner, the Olympic champion walker, at a mile, saying the champion had sailed from Liverpool Saturday. Larner will meet George Goulding at the Eaton annual games at the Island, June 10. The pair will walk a mile. They are unquestionably the two greatest walkers in the world. Larner beat Goulding at the Olympic games in England, and this is the Canadian's chance to get even.

ST. BASS CAPTURED KING'S PLATE WITH COMPARATIVE EASE

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22.—The fifty-second race for the King's Plate was the feature of the opening day of the Ontario Jockey Club's meet at the Woodbine. The race resulted in a comparatively easy win for St. Bass, a colt owned by Harry Giddings, of Ookville, Ont. The win was popular, although the Hendrie entries were the favorites.

St. Bass not only led all the way and broke Shimonez's previous record of 2,10 2-5 for the race, by covering the distance in 2.08 4-5, but could apparently have bettered this time. St. Bass was hemmed in, but forced his way through the bunch, and when they crossed the gap he was in front, with Placerland, Jane Shore and Powderman close behind. From this point St. Bass held the lead gamely by a couple of lengths. Only at the final turn into the stretch was his victory endangered. Powderman, the hope of the Hendries, passed Seagrom's Havrock, which was second, but Dugan plied the whip, and St. Bass drew away at a pace which Powderman could not equal. Dugan eased up before the wire was reached, but at that St. Bass had a safe lead of five or more lengths when he passed the judges' stand.

Interest was lent to the occasion by the inauguration of the pari mutuel system of betting. As a rule, the machine system paid better odds than the bookmakers would have done. It is estimated that at least $100,000 was wagered during the afternoon. There were some slight hitches, the machines being locked by mistake, fully ten minutes before the horses left the paddock for the second race, while there was considerable delay in the paying off. A $2 ticket on St. Bass brought $5.80.

The Governor-General attended, and there was a notable display of fashion, but the attendance dropped somewhat below that of last year.

A Big Crowd and Good Racing at Delorimier Park Opening

The Spring meeting at Delorimier Park opened on Saturday, under the most favorable circumstances; the weather was ideal; the track in perfect condition, and the fairly large crowd present, were free betters in every event, and altogether there was an air of activity around the Park, rarely seen on an opening day.

The bookies were on hand early in the day, and the crowd started to fill the grounds about 1.30, so that betting on the first event started before two o'clock, and from that time until the finish of the last race, there was a steady rush of humanity around the seven betting booths. The races were well contested, and during the afternoon, two or three fairly long-priced horses got away with the first money, and they had in nearly every case a good following.

The first race, four and one half furlongs for two years olds, went to Naughty Rose,, who just lasted long enough to beat out Blitzen, Jr. Naughty Rose got away to a splendid start, and kept the lead throughout. In the stretch, Blitzen Jr. looked dangerous, but was not well handled. Orlando Lady nosed out the place for show money, beating Mabel Virginia after a pretty drive down the stretch.

Naughty Rose, 101, Whatley, 2 to 1 7 to 10, and out, won.

Blitzen, Jr., 105, J. Bergin, even, 1 to 2 and out second.

Orlando Lady, 103, J. Bower, 4 to 1, 3 to 2, 2 to 1, third.

Time, 59 3-4.

The second race, four and a half furlongs, for three years olds and up, was not as exciting as the first race. Calypte, a well played favorite winning easily. Susan, the second favorite, met with interference, and failed to take the ploce—position from Clam Beachy.

Calypte, 119, Girondo, 3 to 2, 1 to 2 and out, won.

Clem Beachy, 121, McGuire, 4 to 1, 3 to 2, and 4 to 5, second.

Susan, 107, Troxier, 3 to 2, 3 to 5, and out, third.

Time, 58 3-4.

Johnny Wise, Miss Railey, Laura A., Dolly Bultman, Con. Carne, Vardee, Star Board, Fleming, also ran.

The third race proved a surprise to the talent and resulted in a win for John Patterson, a 6 to 1 shot. Miss Felix, a mare that won a lot of money for her followers at the last meet at Delorimier, was a well played favorite in this event. She got away to a splendid start and soon led her field. She continued in the lead with Patterson trailing until the turn into scratch, when the latter passed her and won handily. Creston, a well-backed entry, failed to make the turns with satisfaction and could do no better than third.

The fourth race, five and one-half furlongs, for three-year-olds and up, proved a good thing for a good many of the plungers, when Yankee Lady won a great race at odds which opened at 10 to 1, and backed down to 4 to 1 at post time. Grandissimo and John Marrs were the favorites in this race and they were well played but right from the start Yankee Lady was a contender, and taking the lead early in the race, maintained it, and finished, going strong. Bodkin, a 5 to 1 shot, who made the pace for Yankee Lady at the start, kept up the pace and crossed the wire for the place money, with Grandissimo, third. John Marrs overtook Grandissimo at the three-quarter post, but lost in the stretch run.

1.—Yankee Lady, 100, Girondo, 4 to 1, 3 to 2, 3 to 5.

2.—Bodkin, 102, Cully, 5 to 1, 2 to 1 and even.

3.—Grandissimo, 112, Troxlier, 3 to 1, 1 to 2, and out.

Time 1.11 1-2.

The fifth race, five and one-half furlongs, for three-year-olds and up, went to Ben Sand in easy style. He raced the favorite, Allowmaise, into submission and won handily. Gilpian, a well-played horse, would have undoubtedly been in the money but for interference, and May Bride pulled away with the third position.

1.—Ben Sand, 112, Lewis, 2 1-2 to 1, even and 1 to 2.

2. Allowmaise, 115, Troxlier, 3 to 2, 3 to 5, and out.

3. May Bride, 109, Knight, 6 to 1 and even.

Time, 1.11 3-4.

The mile race was the next carded; and this proved the best of the afternoon, with the winner the longest price horse of the day.

Walter Griswell opened at 10 to 1, but at post time went back to 12 to 1. He got off first in a bunch of ten and held the lead until the first quarter when he was passed by Irvin P. Diggs, and from that point until the end it was a duel between these two horses. Griswell proved too strong, however, and wore Diggs down, the latter getting the place money. New-Star, at 10 to 1, finished a good third.

1—Walter Griswell, 116, Irwin, 12 to 1, 5 to 1, 2 to 1.

2—Irvin P. Diggs, 118, Bergin 2 1-2 to 1, 3 to 5, and out.

3—New Star 101, 10 to 1, 4 to 1 2 to 1. Time 1.46 1-2.

The seventh race, five and one-half furlongs for three-year-olds and up, went to Sally Savage, who had all the speed and won galloping. Donation made a termendous effort to land the place money, but did not start early enough to beat out Star Emblem.

1—Sally Savage., 109, Austin, 3 to 1, even ,and 1 to 2.

2—Star Emblem 112, Knight, 7 to 1, 3 to 1, 3 to 2.

3—Donation, 110, C. White, 3 to 1, even, and 1 to 2. Time, 1.13.

The eighth race four and one-half furlongs, for three-year-olds, went to Clitter Clatter, an even money favorite, who had the race well in hand at all stages, and won easily.

1, Clitter Clatter, 110, Troxler, even and out.

2—Lydia Lee, 110, Hoffman, 8 to 1, 3 to 1, 3 to 2.

3—Tiny Tim, 110, Irwin, 6 to 1, 3 to 1, and even.

BILLY LAVELLE IS OFF FOR HIGH RIVER

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22.—The Toronto lacrosse team has lost the services of Billy Lavelle, the tricky home player who was making good with the blue and white. Billy having left Saturday night for High River, Alberta, where he has secured a good position. Lavelle played lacrosse out there last summer, and showed up so well that since he came home the High River magnates have been trying to get him a suitable position, but it was only Friday that they wired Billy that they had succeeded. They were just in time, for Billy would have gone to Montreal Friday night with the Torontos had he not heard from them.

NATIONALS WON IN LAST HALF SATURDAY

The Nationals put off winning the exhibition match on Saturday until the second half, when they won easily. The Nationals were in better physical condition than their opponents, adn despite the heat they held the pace to the end.

The visitors came down with several new men, including Holmes, Parkes and rwin, and Holmes was notably good in the nets, stopping many shots which looked like sure goals.

The play was a great improvement on that of the week before, and was up to the standard of some league matches. While deprived of the services of Gauthier, the champions gave proof that they are in the running for the pennant this year.

The casualties were of minor importance, except in the case of Kalls, who had three teeth knocked out by a swipe from Cattarinich.

A slight difficulty arose over the new penalty checks. Decarie, according to the referee, was handed a check for 20 minutes for putting down Irwin, but when he reached the bench he gave in a five-minute check. The referee noticed that Decarie had not served his full time, and ordered him off again, when the mistake was discovered.

CAPITALS WON GAME.

Defeated Team of Caughnawaga Indians in Fast Match on Saturday.

Ottawa, May 21. — Capitals won on Saturday from a fast team of Caughnawaga Indians, 6 to 2, and the match was evidently enjoyed by the big crowd. The rejuvented Senators made an excellent showing. The Indians also made a very creditable showing and the new men o nthe Capital team delighted Coach Smith. The line-up, officials and summary.

Delorimier Beats Cherriers And All Montreal Defeats Voltigeurs of St. Henri

In spite of the intense heat and the other attractions, over eight hundred fans gathered at Delorimier Park yesterday afternoon to witness the two Montreal Professional Baseball League games. The first game between the Delorimier nine and the Cherriers was a first-class exhibition, the latter winning out in the eighth inning, when a batting rally brought three men across the pan. The Delorimier boys put up a hard battle and looked forward to a victory, but loose fielding a couple of times gave their opponents chances which they took advantage of and netted runs. Crevier, for the Delorimier nine, pitched good ball and only allowed his opponents six hits, but he lost the game on hard luck.

The second game, contrary to expectations, developed into a one-sided contest, with the All Montreal team having things all their own way. It was expected that the Voltigeurs of St. Henri would pull out ahead, but loose fielding threw the game away, for the Montreal nine made enough runs in the first two innings to win the game. The feature of this battle was a three base hit by Leblanc. Schultz pitched a good game for his team, striking out nine men. Although he hit one man, he gave out no free tickets, and his opponents had hard work connecting with his slants. The final result of the games were as follows: Cherriers 6, Delorimiers 3; and All Montreal 17, Voltigeurs of St. Henri 5. All Montreal, as a result of yesterday's victory, take the lead in the league standing with three straight victories, while the Canadiens are second with two straight wins. The scores are as follows:

SPORTING VIEWS AND REVIEWS

That closing game of the Baltimore-Montreal series, reminded one of those buffalo fights in which the combatants locking horns, could not withdraw from the contest, and had to fight on and on until both perished. Had it not been for the oncoming of darkness, and the arrival of the spectators' supper time, they might have been at it yet, each trying to do what in the end proved an impossibility. A "fan" who grumbled about the "double" game would not know happiness if it sat down beside him in a street car.

The Capitals' were considerably encouraged by their victory over the Caughnawaga braves. The Caps reason in this fashion—if they can beat the Indians, whose ancestors once raised ructions, and also scalps, they certainly ought to be able to dispose of those who are Indian in name only, to wit, the Tecumsehs. And the Caps feel that if they can defeat the Tecumsehs, they will be pretty well up in the world.

Lacrosse fans were shocked, not to say disappointed, and likewise mortified, when there came flashing over the wires, from the West on Saturday afternoon, the simple and yet pathetic words—"Newsy Lalonde did not score." Imagine the gloom that would be cast over the country if it were announced that the King was not going to take part in the Coronation ceremony, or, that the Hon. Sydney Fisher had failed to make a speech when an opportunity for so doing presented itself. Some such gloom settled down, over fandom when the tidings spread that Newsy Lalonde did not score. However, another day is coming.

That Providence defeat was especially sad, because it was one of those things that should not have been. It was thought, or at any rate hoped, that, having been sharpened up by the excellent series with Baltimore, the Royals would make the Rhode Islanders look as small as is their State. But it was otherwise decreed, the decree taking effect in the fifth inning, when six Providence men scored. It was a hot day, and against conduct like that the Royals did not have the spirit or the luck to successfully protest.

Another performance that both for quantity and quality was well worth the admission fee was the lacrosse match on the National grounds. Fourteen games were played, which was almost as good as the eighteen-innings baseball performance. These long programmes seem to indicate that the crop of sport this season is going to be unusually abundant, and that every body is to get big value for their money invested, even to the spectators who buy grand-stand cigars and peanuts.

$74,403 WAS WAGERED AT WOODBINE TRACK

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22.—The figures of the first day's betting under the pari-mutuels inaugurated, Saturday, at the Woodbine Show, that a total of $74,403 was wagered on horses to win in the seven races, and about as much more on place and show. The club deducts 5 per cent. of the money received as commission netting about $7,500 on the day's operations, out of which to pay the operators and other expenses, the remainder being returned to the betters. Under the old system about 50 books were usually doing business on opening days. Each of these paid for the privilege, $125 daily into the jockey club, or a total of $6,250, about half as much again being paid to the assistants.

Te bookmaker, if he had been operating Saturday would have had what he would call a very good day.

Five favorites were beaten, two won at short odds, while in the Plate race the money was spread over several horses, so that assuming that they would have bet the same amount with the books as they did with the machines and allowing, say, $9,000 which the books would have paid to the club the public would have been considerably shy of the amount they actually did get Saturday.

The fact is thus estblished that the public were gainers on the whole by the introduction of the machines.

A WONDERFUL 18 INNING GAME ON SATURDAY, 4 TO 4; HANFORD WON STAR'S $5; MILLER MADE BEST TIME.

In the criminal annals of baseball seldom have we seen proceedings to equal Saturday's.

With the mercury about 337 in the shade, there was (1) an 18 inning tie, (2) nearly 4 hours of pastime, (3) contest for Star's $25 for base-runners, (4) sudden capture by C. Hanford of Star's $5, also $12 box of pre[illegible] Smellerinos for home run, (5) grand exhibit of fancy shortstopping and punk hitting by Mr. Purtell, (6) mastadonic battle between J. Byers and local bull dog, in which bull dog won, (7) Revolution in grand stand, and altogether sundry other features too numerous to mention.

It was a gruesome sight to see the athletes toil for so long in such a mild spell or thaw.

Niagara Falls had nothing on the cataract that rolled from the marble brow of J. Byers, who is favorably known in trade circles as the human freight car. Another artisan to show the effects of the cruel heat was D. Adkins, the stout heaver.

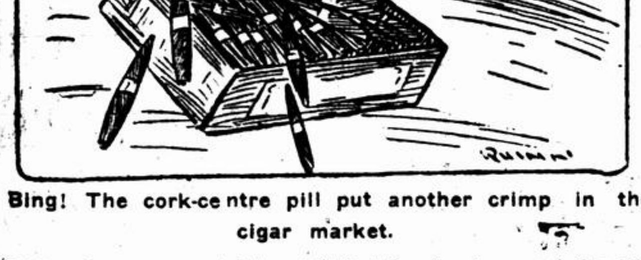
How these and the other athletes travelled 18 innings when the mercury was hitting the high spots, was a mystery to the vast throng, which nearly rolled over in a faint watching them from the pews.

The intense heat gave the ginger ale garage the biggest turn over of goods it has had since the time several competent porch-climbers scaled the fence in the dead of night and carried off the entire stock of peanuts, soft drinks, corkscrews, cigars, and bar-keep aprons. The desire to inhale the alleged ice-cold goods through a straw was general.

Miller Made Best Time.

Six athletes had intended to tour the bases in the Star's contest, but some postponed their flight owing to the heat.

Sharp at 2.45 p.m., the fashionably-attired time-keepers, Messrs. G. Hemsley, Emmett Quinn and Desse Brown, came out, accompanied by Alf. Leithead, who carried a 13-inch cannon to do the starting.



Bing! The cork-centre pill put another crimp in the cigar market.

Ward Miller was the first to toe the mark. Miller discarded his heavy blue stockings and cap for the occasion, and was carrying as little weight as possible.

As the artillery boomed forth, Miller took a leap for first base and as he rounded the sack his hair stuck out behind, in the breeze. He ran in great shape, and the fans cheered when they saw that he was sticking so close to the baselines.

The heat seemed to tell on him a little, and he appeared to slow up as he rounded third base. However, he rushed over the plate in great shape. It was a pretty exhibition of sprinting, and the time-keepers said that he had done the 360 feet in 14 4-5 seconds.

As B. Burke was to heave he decided not to compete, and Glaze and Hanford said that they would run later.

A couple of days ago J. Dunn, the Baltimore soprano, announced that if there were any base-running contests in these parts, the Star's hard earned $25 would be copped by a lightning express train named Maisel.

According to J. Dunn, Mr. Maisel could give a bullet from a rifle a start of 10 yards and beat it in a 100 yard sprint. Naturally, we concluded after listening to J. Dunn's discourse, that there was some class to D. Maisel.

As A. Leithead shot off the artillery, Mr. Maisel hit the King's Highway down to first in good shape, but sprained his instep turning the bag. He retired from the conflict.

M. Corcoran then decided to touch the Star for the $25 to get even with us for some insulting remarks he read in this column about his lame wing.

M. Corcoran is quite a speeder. He is not a pretty runner like Miller, but digs around somehow. He got a poor start, but finished strong in 15 seconds.

M. Corcoran was so flustered with the exertion of speeding about the bases that as he came to bat a minute later, when the game began, he made three death-dealing swings at the cork pill and retired.

Long Exciting Battle.

Three Baltimore heavers were used up in the big fray while B. Burke stayed to the end for Montreal.

He put the cork pill over in great style. At times he was in trouble, but with men on bases he was very effective.

E. Holly was banished for his fiery doings of the day before, his revolution with Egan, the Baltimore catcher, being reported to the League President by the sturdy Ump. who took his pen in hand and reviewed the warfare at great length.

Interviewed by competent interviewers and snapshotters representing this column, Ump Black refused to give any details of what he had written to E. Barrow, but it is believed that he gave a harrowing description of the gore-sprinkled grass, also of the stray arms, legs and eyebrows which were picked up after the gladiators had been pried apart.

If he could hit the way he fields, the papers would put Wagner and Lajoie in the cemetery and print Purtell's picture daily in both the regular edition and the 6 p.m. sporting extra.

Several times Purtell had a chance to win the combat with a hit but could not connect.

Montreal got away with a lead on hits by Miller, Hanford, Curtis, and Yeager.

C. Hanford distinguished himself by a home run blow into St. Catherine street, good for $17 payable partly in cash and merchandise.

In the sixth, with the score 3 to 3, we had a chance to win the combat, but Demmitt went to sleep on the bases and failed to score when J. Byers, in a moment of excitement, heaved the pill into centre field.

When R. Demmitt failed to score on the heave, S. Lichtenhein, who was sitting in the front of his box, allowing the warm sun to show a new 1911 model fancy weskit off to great advantage, nearly took a fit.

It was this dumb play that prolonged the game, and fortunately, R. Demmitt did something J. Jeffries didn't do, he came back.

In the 12th the Baltimore assassins compiled a run and everybody got up to go as the locals were not hitting even a little bit.

Yeager and Miller went out in our dying effort and the big crowd started to stream out of the gates and few halted when Hanford was given a base on balls.

Demmitt had a chance here to redeem himself, and R. Demmitt [illegible] some redeeming, take it from [illegible]

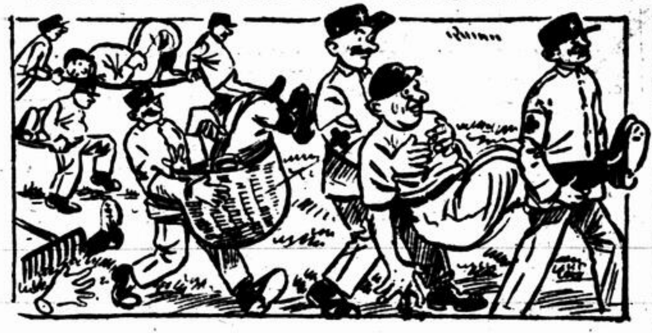
When the fans saw Hanford going around the bases they went dippy. A mighty groan went up as he staggered near third base and a mighty cheer as he recovered and dashed for the plate.

When the frantic fans saw he was going to beat the ball and tie the score they set off a series of yells that put the welkin on the blink.



During the past few days the landscape has been full of disabled pitchers.

Then the combat settled down to a sensational see-saw affair. Twice Baltimore got two men on the bases with none out, yet could not score, Dygert in the seventeenth being caught at the plate.

In that innings, J. Byers, the human freight car, was coming to bat, when a bull dog walked over and took the bat away from him. J. Byers is trying to reduce his flesh but does not want to sacrifice any to a bull dog, so he gave up the bat when the dog showed a desire to want it.

What the dog should have done had he shown any kind of human intelligence, was to have taken a bite at Mr. Dygert's pitching arm, as he was the only heaver J. Dunn had left.

It was nearly 7 o'clock when the scholarly Ump. pulled out a 90c. Waterbury and called the long drawn out pastime at the end of the 18th stanza.

It was some entertainment for the one price of admission, believe us.

5 per.

Notes of the Game.

The outfielders say they have to play 20 feet further back since the cork pill came into being.

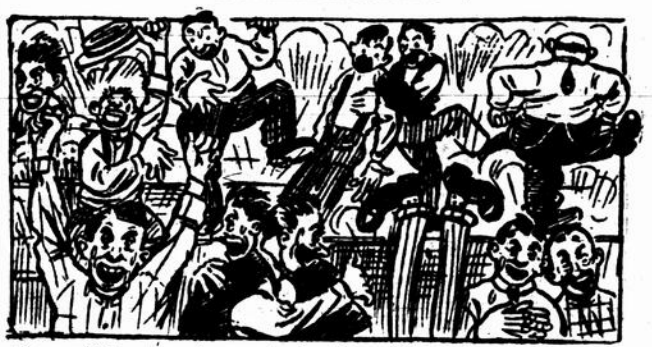
M. Corcoran said that Montreal will be up on top if they keep up the kind of ball they played against Baltimore.

Demmitt's failure to score in the sixth was the cause of the 18 innings.

It is too bad that a man of Purtell's great fielding ability should be cursed with the inability to hit.

Corcoran, in the 15th, hit the ball out near the Arena cab stand. Demmitt was playing deep for him and nailed it.

The heat kept Hanford and Glaze from a trip of the bases. They will go around later on.



Demmitt's timely swat in the 12th was favorably received.

The last base-running contest the Star pulled off was won by Thoney, of Toronto, in 14 3-5.

First triple play yesterday.

Miller made a home run on the National grounds.

Providence Won Yesterday's Game by Score of 12 to 5

Yesterday's game at the Shamrock grounds was one of the most extraordinary exhibitions seen in many moons.

Among other features presented were two home runs, one near home run, several alarming and nerve destroying boots, some weird decisions by the umps., some sensational fielding by R. Demmitt, some very punk heaving by three of our gifted heavers, and a triple play.

J. Dubuc started to pitch, and by the aid of good fielding he held the Greys runless for four innings, and dug his way out of two deep and tight looking holes, as well. In the fifth Dubuc blew up with all on board, and was walloped for five hits, including a homer from the bat of Mr. Elston, who was in fine shape, although alleged to have a lame back.

If Mr. Elston has a lame back now it is awful to think of what his batting will be like when his back recovers its accustomed suppleness.

In the meanwhile the Montreal athletes had established a lead, thanks to Mr. W. Miller, who hit the pill to the fence at right centre so hard that when it struck the ground it bounded over into the bleachers and was good for the entire circuit. A four run lead is nothing, however, when there are gents like Mr. Elston around.

After Providence had scored five runs in the fifth, Sitton relieved Dubuc, only to be hurriedly chased in turn, after passing the first two men up. Carroll succeeded Sitton, and lasted until the end of the seventh, when the Providence total had reached twelve. Geo. Leclaire, the Farnham prodigy pitched the last two innings and allowed only one hit. Leclaire pitched good ball and made a most favoarble impression with the crowd.

Messrs. Demmitt, French and Curtis figured in the tripple play. Demmitt, who played a brilliant game in left field, except for one bad fumble, caught a high fly off Rock's bat, and hurled it to second in time to catch McDermott off the bag. French hurled the ball home with vigor, and Elston was caught at the plate.

The details follow.

CORNWALL LACROSSE TEAM IS STRONGER

Though every team on the big N. L. U. circuit has been having its virtues sung and its strong points explained in glowing language, little has so far been heard from the Cornwall Lacrosse Club. But, for all that, the team has been down to hard work during the past week, and from 20 to 30 seniors and intermediates have been out on an average of four nights in the six working days of the week. If one is to judge by the form some of the younger players are showing, the Cornwall team will be stronger this year than last. Almost all of last season's senior men have been out, and there has been a collection of intermediates who show such speed and accuracy that it is certain to be a hard proposition when the selection of the team for the opening match arrives.

Cornwall has still about three weeks to train before they face the Torontos here on June 10th in the first local match of the N. L. U., and in that time the team should be rounded into almost mid-season form. The Torontos are hailed as a team that at present looks exceptionally good, and one that will probably prove serious contenders for the league honors. Despite an assertion to this effect from the Queen City, the Cornwalls have made a determination to start the season with a victory. A great work out was indulged in in the blazing sun on Saturday afternoon, and a few more such practices will help greatly in taking down any superfluous weight any of the boys may have accumulated during the long winter's rest.

The Interprovincial League opens next Saturday with matches between the Victorias and Internationals in Cornwall, and the Mintos, of Cornwall, and the Wales team at the latter place. Some great lacrosse is expected from this league.

TIPS UNDIGNIFIED FOR A MONTCALM PRESENTS INSTEAD

New York Courts Discharge Him From Larceny Charge and Judge Adds Good Advice.

New England Courts seem to be the gathering place of many a name which had adorned Canadian history. With a de Champlain now wrestling before the courts of the state of New Hampshire, a de Levis who had troubles of his own in New York police courts about a year ago, the list of Canadian historical names now inscribed on the records of various American jails ends by that of Paul S. J. de Montcalm, a descendant of General Wolfe's great opopnent.

Defrauding Mrs. Eugenia A. Gaylord a young widow, out of $1,500 in bonds and running up a credit account at a department store in the young woman's name were the charges which caused the arrest of de Montcalm and his seclusion for forty-two days in Raymond street jail, New York. The prisoned claimed to be well acquainted in Montreal and Quebec, having started in the venture of selling stocks and expecting that his name would give him entrance in the two cities. Having to explain the account he had run up in the department store in the name of Mrs. Gaylord, the young man said that having been to Montreal on business for the lady, he felt that as a true gentleman he could not give tips to hotel people. The only way he saw open before him was to remember them by gifts and that was why he bought the socks, opera glasses and other things which were included in his account.

After fifteen minutes of deliberation, the jury acquitted the nobleman of grand larceny, and in discharging the accused Judge Fawcett gave him the following advice: "I think I know what has been the cause of all your trouble. You have depended simply on your name and prestige to make you a way in the world, without turning your hand to anything useful. I would advise you in the future to go out and work for yourself and not depend upon women for your support."

Paul de Montcalm was born in New York but claims to be a direct descendant of General de Montcalm.

NO ONE BLAMED.

Coroner's Jury Finds Death of Engineer and Brakeman Accidental.

It took but a few minutes for the Coroner's jury on Saturday to render a verdict of accidental death at the inquest on the bodies of Engineer Crawford and Brakeman T. S. Miller, who lost their lives as a result of the collision of two trains at Bresley last Thursday. Both trains had orders giving them a clear track. When the trains came together the Quebec special had already entered the switch to the Outremont yards, but a few cars were jutting over the main line. Whether Brakeman Miller had flagged the oncoming Ottawa train was not shown. His body was found beneath one of the ten cars of the Quebec special which had been hurled into the ditch.

Sanford JUVENILE CLOTHES HAMILTON ONT.

Details That Show Care

Your desire, madam, is to see clothes on your boy at least as good in appearance as those worn by your husband. Is that not so? But how often are you able to gratify this very natural desire? Not very often. Why?

For this reason: With the average manufacturer, the making of children's clothes is more or less of a side line.

With us it's a specialty. That's the difference.

That same difference, however, represents the margin of value which you fail to get when you are content to accept clothes which do not bear the Sanford Juvenile Brand.

One little detail that illustrates the care we give to small things is a loop instead of buttons at cuff of sleeve to permit of letting down, to accommodate the growing youngster, who grows faster in the arms than anywhere else.

The Sanford dealer in your town will be glad to show you this and other advantages of Sanford Juvenile Clothes. Ask to see the new Spring and Summer styles

You Want The Best Ale!

Whether you will have the very best ale brewed or some ordinary brand depends entirely upon yourself—

Depends upon whether you insist upon having

Dawes' Lachine Ale

or whether you will be satisfied with any brand which is handed out to you.

It is no more expensive to have Dawes' Lachine Ale than to have some ordinary brand.

Why then be satisfied with any ordinary ale when you can have the finest brewed—Dawes' Lachine Ale—merely for the asking?

Insist upon having the label with the Black Horse —the standard for 100 years.

LOCAL REGIMENTS PARADE STREETS IN INTENSE HEAT

One of the Largest Turnouts in City's History Despite Unusua Weather Conditions.

Contrary to expectations, yesterday's church parade of the Montreal Garrison was one of the largest in the history of the city, no less than 2,779 men being in uniform.

Below is the parade state:—

Corps.	Officers.	N.C.O. and Men.	T'l.
65th	33	369	402
17th Husars	4	40	44
4th Field Co	6	69	75
Victoria Rifles	21	331	352
6 B. C. F. A.	6	66	72
2nd Garrison Artillery	19	216	235
Mt. St. Louis	29	524	553
Imp. Army and Navy Veterans	0	32	32
5th Field A. M. C.	1	26	27
4th Field A. M. C.	2	21	23
Highland Cadets	19	146	165
Lower Canada Col.	5	68	73
5th Royal Highlanders	24	349	373
5th Royal Highlanders, 2nd	18	335	353
Grand total	187	2592	2779

It was certainly a scorching day for a parade, but the men held on to the last. Many, however, were showing the effects of the heat at the end. Those who braved the sun to witness the parade were well rewarded for their trouble, for the men presented a picturesque spectacle.

After assembling at the Champ de Mars, where the people gathered in thousands to witness the start, the men wound their way along St. James street, Victoria Square, Beaver Hill hill and Dorchester street, each regiment stopping at their respective churches. It was arranged that the first regiment to arrive at its destination would drop off, while the rest would keep marching on, thus in no way disorganizing the parade.

While at the Champ de Mars, Col. Roy chief staff officer of the Quebec Command, reviewed the troops, before they were marched off. In the absence of Col. Wilson, Col. Labelle took charge.

Veterans Receive Ovation.

The Victoria Rifles in charge of Lt.-Col. Fisher, led the procession, presenting a good appearance, their eight companies marching in column covering the street from curb to curb. The British Army and Navy Veterans, too, came in for a great deal of comment. Their ranks are slowly thinning out, but no doubt the intense heat had a great deal to do with the attendance yesterday, for only thirty-two men turned out among whom were many old and familiar faces, and throughout the route they were loudly applauded. The 5th Royal Highlanders, with their bright colors and waving plumes, brought up the rear. Although their uniforms and hats were very heavy and no doubt told on many of the men in the striking sun, they all stepped gaily to the tune of the bagpipes.

There was no saluting base on the line of march, as the brigade staff officers had not been ordered out. After the services in the various churches the different companies returned to their armories, individually.

Special Notice.
Trip to Otterburn Park.

The Grand Trunk Railway System announce in connection with Victoria Day that tickets will be sold from Montreal to Otterburn Park on May 24th at rate of 85 cents, including admission to the Park. The train leaving Montreal 8.00 a.m., and train arriving Montreal 6.40 p.m., will stop at the Park to let off and take on passengers. 17 6

REALTY REVIEW

VOL. I. MONTREAL, MONDAY, MAY 22, 1911. No. 128

About Seeing Things

Have You Ever Actually Seen Redpath?

Most of the attractions of real estate propositions are confined to elaborate plans and artistic booklets. Redpath is a beauty product of nature, and as such will stack itself up against any product of pen or brush.

Old settlers in the west say that the real meaning of the homestead regulations there is that the government bets you one hundred and sixty acres of land against ten dollars that you can't stay on the land three years. With Redpath the betting is the other way around. No one has ever seen Redpath without expressing a desire to make a permanent home there.

Yesterday crowds of people strolled through its cool shades and mapped out future homes for themselves, where they would be for ever free from the discomforts of excessive heat. Montrealers yesterday were all in different stages of heat collapse except those who sought the shade of the oaks at Redpath, which was undoubtedly the coolest place in Montreal, unless you were lucky enough to get a reserved seat in some cold storage plant.

It cost nothing for admission to our office to talk over the real estate situation, but the price to become a life member in Redpath is $2.00 per foot.

P.S.—Let us show you around a spot where nature has done her best.

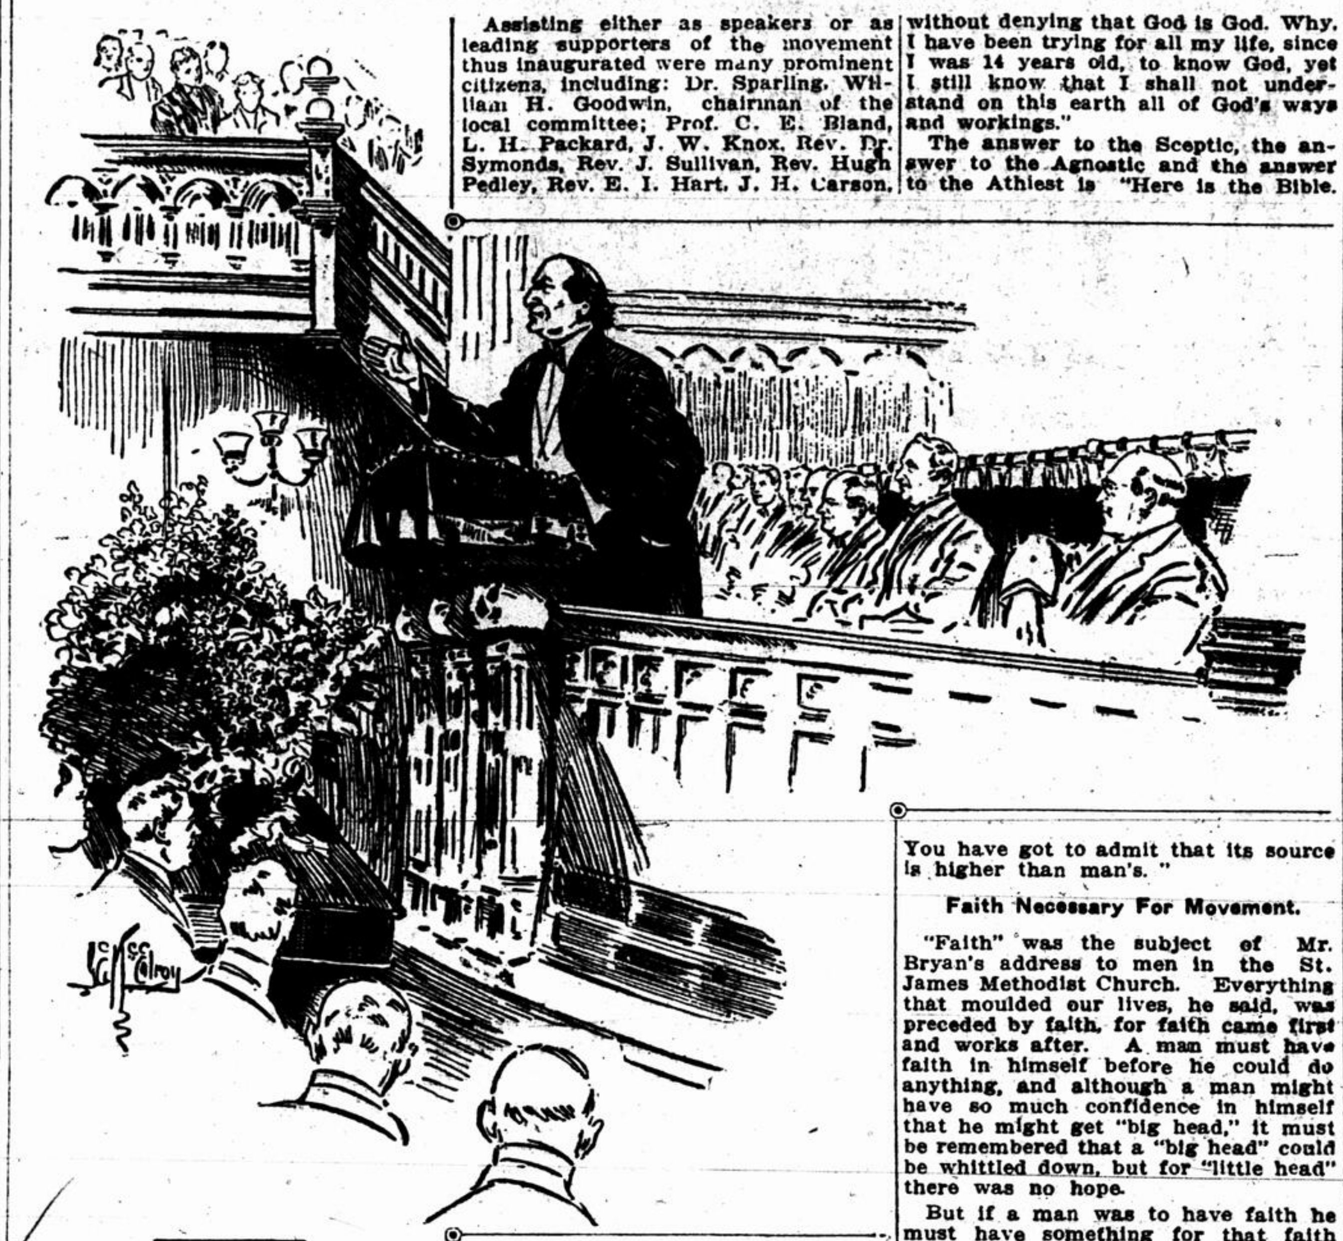
"MEN AND RELIGION" MOVEMENT RECEIVES HEARTY IMPETUS IN ADDRESS BY HON. W. J. BRYAN



With the city sweltering in the hottest weather of the year, yesterday was not a day when any great display of public enthusiasm might be expected. Yet it saw a highly successful launching here of a great ethical enterprise, designed to be of continental proportions—the enterprise known as "The Men and Religion Forward Movement."

Yesterday's meetings and the conferences to-day which are to wind up with a reception and banquet this evening, in the Central Y. M. C. A., were all of a preliminary nature. The real campaign is to start in the fall, New York being the headquarters of the movement. Meanwhile the ground is to be prepared and the forces organized for the coming to Montreal, and to 89 other great cities on the continent, of a team of seven experts, who are to hold what are really to be great revival meetings, the object of which will be to make religion a vital and abiding force in the social, business, municipal and political life not only of Montreal, but of every community on the North American continent.

The experts referred to will instruct local leaders and workers in religious life in the most modern and approved methods of promoting such things as Bible study, home and foreign missions, social service, boys' work, and evangelism, all such work to be in co-operation with the local churches.

Hearty Support for the Campaign.

That the campaign will have the hearty support of hundreds of the citizens of Montreal was abundantly evident from the interest and enthusiasm displayed yesterday. Such well-known men as Hon. W. J. Bryan and Rev. Dr. C. A. Barbour, of New York, came here to give addresses explanatory of the movement. There were four meetings—a union of Men's Bible Classes in the Central Y. M. C. A. in the morning a meeting for men only in the St James Methodist Church in the afternoon a service in St. James Methodist Church in the evening and an aftermeeting at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Bryan was the chief speaker at all four meetings. There were large and enthusiastic attendances over 1200 perspiring men being present at the afternoon meeting. The audience included all classes of teh community, capitalists and workmen, sailors and clerks and ministers all being represented.

To a large extent the addresses were explanatory of the origin and aims of the movement and of what it is hoped to accomplish in the revitalising of religion. But Hon. Wm. J. Bryan, whom undoubtedly many went specially to hear went beyond this to deliver addresses defending the Bible against the criticisms of atheists and materialists and showing what an enormous force in individual and national life was a real old-fashioned belief in God and in the divinity of Christ.

Assisting either as speakers or as leading supporters of the movement thus inaugurated were many prominent citizens, including: Dr. Sparling, William H. Goodwin, chairman of the local committee; Prof. C. E. Bland, L. H. Packard, J. W. Knox, Rev. Dr. Symonds, Rev. J. Sullivan, Rev. Hugh Pedley, Rev. E. I. Hart, J. H. Carson, D. A. Budge, Dr. Tees, Ritchie Bell, C. R. Johnston, T. B. Macaulay, Rev. N. H. McGillivray, Judge S. P. Leet, Fred G. White, secretary of the local committee; O. Dawson, Hamilton S. Hall, Arthur O. Dawson, L. Cushing, R. L. Charlton, R. Donaldson, Rev Dr. Young, Rev. John McKillican, Rev. John Currie, Rev. James Elliott, F. W. Myers, Gerald W. Birks R. S. Logan, G. E. Williams, C. K. Calhoun, Rev. Peter Walker, J. S. Johnston.

Mr. Bryan to Stay in Politics.

Hon. W. J. Bryan was in great form. He was as robust and full of vigor as ever, and he gained a lot of applause by announcing his determination to go forward with all his might in pursuit of his political ambitions.

"For twenty years," he said, "the study of government has been my chief business, and I intend to make it the chief business of the remainder of my life, for I cannot see any other career in which I can do so much justice to myself, or be of so much service to others."

The address, which Mr. Bryan delivered in defence of the Bible, was the same one which he delivered on May 4 at Chicago, at the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the King James translation of the Bible. Defending the Biblical account of the creation and of miracles, he said that, those who scoffed at these beliefs, and who declared that the Bible was merely the work of man, showed inconsistency in their arguments, for if the Bible was only man's work, how was it that no other book had been produced that could in any way compare with it, or with the immense influence it was exercising now and had exercised in the past. Judging by the present standard of intelligence, men were far better prepared to write a Bible now than when our Bible was written, yet no one lived, who, felt himself competent to undertake the task of writing a substitute for the Bible.

Belief in the Virgin Birth.

"The Materialists," he said, "may confine their thoughts to the scenes that senses can weigh and measure, but the Christian faith reaches out towards the Throne and takes hold upon the verities that the mind cannot grasp."

Mr. Bryan then spoke about the Birth of Christ and about miracles, declaring that the evidence that Christ did live is incontrovertible and that miracles, evident and recognisable, are performed to-day.

"There is a mysterious power at work among men which is more than human," he said, "and he instanced this wonderful and mysterious power in the conversion of some of the most degraded of men to a spiritualistic realization.

"Can Materialists understand and explain this uplifting of the fallen?" he asked.

He considered that the Christians have been too cold, and he suggested that it is time to put the unbeliever on the defensive.

"Tell the unbeliever that the Virgin Birth is no more mysterious than their own birth, and that you cannot deny that God can perform a miracle without denying that God is God. Why, I have been trying for all my life, since I was 14 years old, to know God, yet I still know that I shall not understand on this earth all of God's ways and workings."

The answer to the Sceptic, the answer to the Agnostic and the answer to the Athiest is "Here is the Bible. You have got to admit that its source is higher than man's."

Faith Necessary For Movement.

"Faith" was the subject of Mr. Bryan's address to men in the St. James Methodist Church. Everything that moulded our lives, he said, was preceded by faith, for faith came first and works after. A man must have faith in himself before he could do anything, and although a man might have so much confidence in himself that he might get "big head," it must be remembered that a "big head" could be whittled down, but for "little head" there was no hope.

But if a man was to have faith he must have something for that faith to anchor itself upon. Faith in God and in the divinity of Christ provided that anchor, and by its aid men were able to win tremendous victories. A man should be a conscious, living, active part in God's scheme in this world, but he could not be that without belief in man and the divinity of Christ. Without these beliefs he was like a ship without a rudder. He dealt with the movement under whose auspices he was speaking, and urged prayerful and active co-operation and preparation for the time when the real campaign would be started.

Brotherhood of the Nations.

"The fruit of the tree," was the subject of Mr. Bryan's address at St. James Methodist Church last night, Rev. Dr. Sparling, the pastor, presiding, over a large congregation.

Mr. Bryan insisted that the message of the Church of Christ and the world was that Christianity must be shown in the life. There were twelve fruits of the tree of life mentioned in the last chapter of Revelations, and it was necessary for Christians to show these fruits in their lives, unless they were to be accounted as barren trees. The fruits of Christian life on which the speaker principally touched were belief in God, belief in Christ, and in the Soly Spirit. He dwelt on the evidences that exist for these beliefs, and on the perfect reasonableness of Faith.

He then passed on to consider love, which is the law of Christian life, and its inevitable fruit forgiveness. Revenge, injured those who cherished it more than those who were its victims. Mr. Bryan particularly emphasized the idea of brotherhood as a cardinal doctrine of Christ's teaching. The spread of this idea he considered to be a foremost fact of the present day. Dumas had foreseen its coming, and Tolstoi also, and the speaker added that in his opinion it was destined to solve all the most perplexing problems that vex mankind. The result of accepting Christ's teaching was immortality; a result which he ably contrasted with the almost negative rewards offered by other great teachers, such as Buddha and Confucius. The proof of Christian immortality was to be found in the fact that He who, had stood unprotected before Pilate, had ever since been the growing figure of all time.

Mr. Bryan concluded his address by a telling illustration derived from a personal visit he had paid to the tomb of Napoleon. That which then had struck him most was the crucifix suspended above the tomb. The figure of the Prince of Peace was above, and all that was left of the Prince of War was underneath.

In addition to Dr. Sparling, Mr. Bryan was supported on the platform by Mr. W. H. Goodwin, who also led the congregation in prayer.

A meeting in connection with the movement in the American Presbyterian Church on Saturday evening, han an attendance of only about 100, Rev. Dr. Barbour, of New York, who was the principal speaker, said it was realized that Saturday night was not a very opportune time for such a meeting, but they felt they would like to gather together as many as possible and discuss the movement. He and Mr. Goodwin dealt with various phases of it, the addresses being mainly in the nature of exhortation.

PASTORAL LETTER IS ONE OF PROTEST AGAINST DECREE

Anglican Bishops Say Marriage Should Not Be Annulled for Infraction of Canon Law.

A pastoral letter, signed, on behalf of the House of Bishops of Canada, by the Primate, the Archbishop of Rupertsland, and the Archbishop of Ottawa, dealing with the mixed-marriage question, and the "Ne Temere" decree, was read in all the Anglican churches in the City, and also in all the Anglican churches throughout the Dominion yesterday.

A direct reference is made to the Hebert case, and the "Ne Temere" decree in the letter, and it is maintained that the decision of the Church of Rome is contrary to the Christian ideal of marriage, to involve grave civil injustice.

The letter pointed out the necessity for church and State to join in preserving the indissolubility of the marriage tie. It deplored a lowering of the ideals and purposes of marriage "common in many quarters." It was said, too, that the State should not permit a marriage to be annulled for an ecclesiastical offence, or because it is contrary to the "Canon Law of the Church of Rome, or contrary to the laws, rules and regulations of any religious organization whatsoever."

Text of the Letter.

"We, the Archbishops and Bishops of that branch of the Catholic Church known as the Church of England in Canada, to the faithful in Christ Jesus—Greeting: Whereas, the minds of many have been greatly disturbed by a decision in the courts of the province of Quebec annulling a marriage between two members of the Roman Catholic Church, solemnized by one authorized by the State to officiate at marriages, and by enforcement of the decree known as the 'Ne temere' decree by the Bishop of Rome; and, whereas we believe the said decision to be contrary to the Christian ideal of marriage, to involve grave civil injustice, and to be in its consequences destructive, to the home life of the people: We deem it our duty to address you upon this subject. We desire to remind you that the Anglican Church in Canada has ever taken the strictest view regarding the sanctity of marriage. It is a Holy Ordinance instituted by God, and is the foundation of our social and family life. The Church and State must unite to guard the marriage bond, and to preserve its indissolubility.

Solemnity of Marriage.

To this end our General Synod has decreed that no clergyman of our church shall officiate at the marriage of any divorced person during the life time of the former partner in the marriage. It is most desirable that those who enter the holy estate of matrimony should realize its solemnity, and have due regard to its blessings and mutual responsibilities. We greatly deplore the lowering of the ideal and purposes of marriage which is so common in many quarters. It is of the greatest moment that those who enter into this estate should be married by a clergyman of the Church before proper witnesses, and, wherever possible, in the church building, and that they should be in agreement concerning their religious convictions. Mixed marriages are ever to be deprecated, as they deprive husband and wife of that mutual help which the one should be to the other in life, and make the religious training of the children in the home most difficult. Nevertheless, we emphatically assert the validity of such marriages when duly solemnized and we maintain that once consummated they are indissoluble.

State Should Not Interfere.

No marriage should be annulled because of the divergent religious convictions of the parties, nor because of the ecclesiastical connection of the one solemnizing the marriage. The Church and State, though separated by law, must unite in protecting those who have been married by a duly competent officer authorized by the State for the solemnization of marriage, and in upholding their civil status and rights. Nor should the State permit marriage to be annulled for an ecclesiastical offence, or because it is contrary to the Canon Law of the Church of Rome, or contrary to the laws, rules and regulations of any religious organization whatsoever. At the same time, we fully admit the right of any ecclesiastical or religious body to make and enforce such spiritual penalties as may be in accordance with its own rules; but without impeaching or interfering with the civil status of the parties concerned.

Law Clearly Defined.

We do not desire to express any opinion upon the civil law. We leave that to our final court of justice. But we would remind you that decisions of various judges have differed upon this question in the province of Quebec. It is in the interests of all our citizens to have the law clearly defined. Whatever may be the proper interpretation of the existing law, it is of the greatest importance that there should be one uniform marriage law for the whole Dominion. In conclusion, we urge upon all the duty of safeguarding in every way the sanctity of marriage, and we deprecate and deplore all interference with legally sanctioned family life as fraught, not only with injustice, humiliation and suffering to the parties concerned, but as imperilling the fundamental basis of our social system. We commend you to the grace of God, and pray that His Holy Spirit may in all things direct and rule your hearts. Montreal, this 28th day of April, 1911. Signed on behalf of the House of Bishops of Canada, S. P. Rupertsland, Primate; Charles Ottawa, Archbishop of the Ecclesiastical Province of Canada."

Death of Mr. J. P. Drapeau.

Mr. J. B. Drapeau died yesterday at his residence on Cherrier street, after ten days of illness. The deceased was in his 63rd year of age. He gained quite a reputation as the head of the firm of Drapeau and Champagne, of which he was the founder. For the last seven years he had retired from business.

Boy Looked Too Far.

Losing his balance while looking out of a window at the old St. Henry Town Hall early last evening, Charles Edouard Rolland, eight years old, fell to the ground, breaking his leg. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital. The little fellow is a son of R. E. Rolland, 28 St. Ferdinand staeet, St. Henry.

General Hospital Governors.

The visiting governors to the Montreal General Hospital for the week are: Messrs. J. T. McCall, W. H. Blackader, D. M. McGoun, J. D. Cameron.

The two-year-old son of Albert Moore, of Virgil, Ont., was drowned in an unused well.

MAY BE ANGLO-GERMAN MATCH

Talk of Marriage Between Prince of Wales and Kaiser's Only Daughter.

Berlin, May 22.—Officials echo the pleasure that the Kaiser expressed for the warmth of his reception in England. The Nord Deutscher Zeitung officially endorsing the gratitude, says that Germany will treasure the friendly welcome of the Kaiser and hope that the visit will be of lasting value to the relations of the two countries.

The attention which Emperor William, during his visit in London, paid to the Prince of Wales, and the official announcement that the Prince will visit Potsdam during the present summer, have given zest to the gossip regarding the possibility of a marriage between the Prince of Wales and Princess Victoria Louise, the only daughter of the German Emperor.

Whole Family Killed by Electric Car

Newark, Ohio, May 22.—The family of D. W. Dodson, of Hebron, was wiped out yesterday, when an interurban car, on the Newark division of the Ohio Electric Railway, struck their buggy and killed Dodson, aged 30, Mrs. Dodson, of the same age, and their two little girls, aged 7 and 4.

SECULARIZATION OF MARRIAGE

Dean Bidwell Thinks Present State of Affairs is Tending That Way.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., May 22.—Dean Bidwell, in a sermon at St. George's Cathedral last night, strongly denounced the Ne Temere decree. The Dean said he was ready to admit that any religious body had a right to make rules for its own members. But these rules, as in the present case, ought not to be allowed to be enforced, if they clearly and obviously tended to produce results likely to affect injuriously the general well-being of the community and to impair or destroy rights possessed by every citizen.

"If the present state of affairs is allowed to continue," the Dean added, "there can only be one result, and that is complete secularization of marriage."

Big Fredericton Foundry Burned.

Fredericton, N.B., May 22. — The New Brunswick foundry, one of Fredericton's biggest industries, was destroyed by fire early Sunday. Loss estimated at $30,000, insurance, $16,500.

PLACE FOR PATIENTS GUESTS OF CHURCH

Melville Congegation Provide Convalescent Home for General Hospital.

A new convalescent home for patients from the General Hospital was opened on Belvidere Road, Westmount, on Saturday afternoon. This home, which is to be directly under the care of Melville Church, Westmount, and of its pastor, Rev. John Lockhead, is a gift from a member of the congregation. The donor has also given for the benefit of the patients the fruit, vegetable and other products of a garden adjoining the house, directly tended by her gardener. Her linen cupboard is also at the disposal of the convalescing guests.

The house, which was opened with a garden party on Saturday afternoon is picturesquely built in Elizabethan style, and is surrounded by seven acres of land, providing promenades and resting places under trees. There are five sleeping rooms, and ten patients can be accommodated.

The period of residence will not exceed three weeks for each patient, and it is expected that as a general rule from ten days to two weeks will be found sufficient. Only non-tubercular patients will be received. The patients will be the guests of Melville Church.

RECIPROCITY DENOUNCED AT ALEXANDRIA

Enthusiastic Meeting Addressed by Messrs. Doherty and Thornton

Former Declares That Ottawa Opposition Will Fight Pact to Last Ditch.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Alexandria, Ont., May 22.—Messrs. C. J. Doherty, M.P. for St. Ann's division, Montreal, and Mr. Thornton, M.P. for West Northumberland, were the chief speakers at a big Conservative meeting here on Saturday afternoon. Despite the intense heat, there was a large and enthusiastic crowd present including many farmers from the surrounding district.

Reciprocity was the chief subject of discussion and both speakers aroused much enthusiasm. Mr. Doherty declared that so long as the Opposition at Ottawa retain their strength, they would fight to the last to prevent this crime which the Government was attempting to perpetrate, and ensure that before anything could be done the people should be given an opportunity to express their will at the polls.

Mr. J. A. McDonell, president of the Glengarry Conservative Association, presided, and with him on the platform were ex-Judge Doherty, Mr. Thornton, M.P., Senator McMillan, J. A. McRae, A. L. C. Smith and others.

Mr. Thornton said he would discuss the proposed reciprocity agreement from the standpoint of the farmer. The present Government, when it came in in 1897, had announced that the cultivation of trade relations with Great Britain was of the utmost importance to Canada and that stability of tariff was another particularly important matter. They further promised that there should be no change in the tariff without consulting the interests that might be affected by such changes. This was a definite promise made by the Government, and the people approved of that standpoint.

Why then after this definite promise and policy, which had been repeated at every Parliament and on every platform since 1896, was Parliament now facing this reciprocity proposition, which they were told they must either accept or reject.

The reason was not hard to find. For ten or twelve years past the United States Government had been carefully enquiring into Canada's natural resources and trade capabilities. They had in Canada consular agents, whose instructions were to gather every possible information regarding these things, and report especially regarding our resources in grain, timber and ore. In addition they had 20 special agents travelling throughout the Dominion, finding out the actual condition of trade, and the prospects of the country.

Taft Plays Sharp Game.

In this way the U. S. Government secured a vast amount of information regarding Canada. Then when they came with this reciprocity proposition, the American Government being moved to further speed by the fact that the people were becoming restive under the burden of excessively high protection. The American average tariff was 46 per cent., and they were being ground down by the trusts and combines and there was discontent, which frightened the Republican Government. "Then it was," said Mr. Thornton, "that President Taft played a sharp game and sent to Canada an invitation to go to Washington and negotiate this reciprocity treaty."

The gist of the bill was that there should be free trade in all farm products between Canada and the States, and as an excuse the Government claimed that the farmers of Canada, and particularly those of the West, had demanded it.

As to this, Mr. Thornton said that the famous deputation last December had made certain claims on the Government, and he figured that most of these claims were of grievances that demanded remedy. The greatest stress was laid by that deputation on the way the grain, and particularly the wheat, of the North-west was manipulated by spectators and those who handled the grain between the farmers and the spout at Fort William.

While this was the main point raised by the deputation, they had also asked for the establishment of a chilled meat industry in the North-west, and the opening up of further means of transportation to get their crops to the seaboard.

These were the main items, but amongst other things, they asked for reciprocity in agricultural products and particularly for the taking off the duty on agricultural implements and machinery coming into Canada from the States.

As to the operation of the tariff, Mr. Thornton showed that the average duty on a binder worth around $150 was $20, while the same machinery sold on the American side of the line for $10 less than in Canada.

The Big Market Argument.

"The Government," said Mr. Thornton, "try to mesmerize us by big talk about gaining for us that market of 90,000,000 people. They don't mention, however, that it opens up the market of Canada to that 90,000,000 of people who produce exactly the same things we are producing and exporting the same things we export, and producing enough to feed themselves and exporting enough to feed 17 or 18,000,000 people, or double the whole population of Canada." They made no bones about what they wanted Canada's products for. The northwest miller wanted Canadian wheat to improve the quality of their flour to the better of Canadian flour. They wanted the profits from transporting and milling Canadian wheat, and the securing of the bye-products, bran and shorts. And that was a most important point because these bye-products would be produced in the States and if the Canadian farmer wanted them he would have to pay a duty to get them back. And with the increasing demand of the industrial population of Canada for high class food, it was essential that this bran and shorts and bye-products of grain should be kept to feed Canadian live stock rather than send it to feed the American. "It will be a serious loss to Canada if the spout for the Western grain is transferred to Minneapolis instead of Port Arthur, and Fort William. Our return for reciprocity will be that we shall be made hewers of wood and drawers of water for the Americans. They say they want to exploit the raw products of Canada to manufacture them in the States. It makes them sore to think of the $300,000,000 of American capital sent to build up industries in Canada, employing 10,000 men whom we, Ontario and Quebec, are feeding. They don't like the idea of these industries making business and creating a home market in Canada for our farmers, they want them in the States. (Applause).

NOT PARTY QUESTION, DECLARES MR. DOHERTY.

Mr. Doherty said he was there to speak about an obstacle which is sought to be planted in the way of our nation building. Although he was a Liberal-Conservative, he was not there to talk party politics since he placed far beyond party strife his hope to see this country always a Canadian Dominion—a self-governing, self-controlling, self-reliant Canada. "It would make no difference to me if the Conservative party were advocating instead of condemning this policy of reciprocity, I consider it a menace to Canadian nationhood and an obstacle in the way of our national work and whether presented by Liberals or Conservatives I should oppose it just the same. (Applause).

He was glad to understand that there were many Liberals as well as Conservatives in the hall. He was there to make clear as far as he could to his fellow citizens just what this reciprocity pact meant for Canadian nationality. True, when any person ventured to discuss this question from any standpoint, but that of dollars and cents he was sneered at by the supporters. The defenders of this policy did not want to hear anything about patriotism or Canadian nationality. "And as for the man who dares to mention the flag, why let him be anthema maranatha—there is no firgiveness for him." The Government in presenting this matter asked that it be decided without any attention being paid to the patriotic feeling—duty or loyalty must be left behind. They intimated that these questions were not touched in the slightest degree, and that it was a purely economic question, and they insulted especially that the farmers should look at it from that point of view. "These arguments, I had almost said insults (applause)—are particularly directed to the farmers of this country, and don't you think it means something when they are so anxious to tie you down to a question of dollars and cents in this matter?" Would it not at the same time be well to consider where this pact is leading Canada and how it might in the future possibly affect the relations of Canada to the Mother Country."

They even saw the danger of the other arguments, and therefore, wanted the matter dealt with as one purely of dollars and cents. That was the lofty and patriotic position the Government wanted to put the farmers of this country in.

That Sorel Transaction.

Mr. Doherty ironically remarked that English was losing its meaning with the Canadian Government. They had heard about a recent operation at Sorel whereby a Liberal member of Parliament had had his house painted and both paint and labor was supplied by Government workmen and out of supplies of the Government and without knowledge of the superintendent of the workshops where the work was done.

"I do not want to do him any injustice," continued Mr. Doherty, "and will say that ultimately he paid for that work. But the fact remained that to get that work done for him they had had to falsify the pay sheets and send names of men to Ottawa as working in Government shops who were really painting this gentleman's house; and in order to get the material the foreman who handed it out without the knowledge of any superior official had to take it out of material entrusted to him for Government work. And they call that little operation 'borrowing.'" (Laughter.)

"I had occasion to discuss that matter in the House, and pointed out that there was an irreconcileable conflict in my judgment, and that of most people who speak the English language, between their description of the thing and what was really done. Furthermore, I pointed out that there was an irreconcileable conflict between their definition and the description of that kind of thing given by the criminal code. The criminal code calls it theft and the Government of Canada said it was only borrowing. (Laughter and applause).

"It is the same with this pact. They call it reciprocity. You open your markets to fourteen nations besides the British Empire with all its possessions, and in return get access to the United States market, already exporting the same things you produce, and that is reciprocity—mutual exchange — although you do all the giving except as regards one nation.

Americans Made Careful Inquiry.

.."When the Canadian ministers made this bargain they had made no inquiries as to its advisability, and seemed proud that they had not. The Americans were a business people and they made very careful inquiries before committing themselves. They secured all the information before making the bargain and did not publish it until after the agreement was signed. But now it was published."

"Mr. Doherty invited his hearers to secure it and read it and compare the prices of agricultural produce in the Canadian home market and in the much vaunted market of ninety million people. "Compare prices in this market, which was our own until the Government gave it away—at least they have not given it away yet because there is one obstacle in their path before they do that ,and if it is as hot all summer as it is to-day, there will be an opposition perpared to stay in Parliament day and night to stop the Government from doing that. (Cheers.) In this publication it is shown by the American Government that the prices in the Canadian market are almost without exception higher than the American market, and those envoys who came to invite the Canadian Government to make that pact came to Ottawa with that knowledge, and that is why they made their bargain."

On the other hand. Mr. Doherty showed that the Canadian envoys went with practically no information. Mr. Fielding had told the House that he had all the information in the blue books, whatever that was, but had stated that he did not need any information. And why did not this great man of business need any information and would not be bothered looking at it if offered him? Because he said for fifty years the people of Canada had been crying for reciprocity and that during all that time it had been the recognized policy of both parties.

The question to be considered was the immediate result of the pact. Today Canadians undoubtedly governed this country. "Up to the present Canadians have believed that protection was a good policy for this country; they had decided for it and done their own deciding. But the day after this pact goes into force there, will be another element, an outside factor having its say, and an immensely powerful influence in determining the tariff policy of Canada."

WILL HAND POWER OVER TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENT.

"So long as we have control our own tariffs give a powerful influence to the Canadian Government, chosen by Canadian people. The moment this pact is adopted all this power will be handed over to a foreign government. It will put our tariff into American politics, or will bring American politics into the control of our tariff, while the result would in the end be that the power would be taken from the Canadian Parliament and they would be reduced to going to try and beg or bribe the American Congress to be good enough to take down their tariff walls and give prosperity to the poor helpless people of Canada. Is not that a proud position for this country to adopt?

"It is my deep conviction that when you are called upon to decide this question—and the sooner the better—your answer will determine whether or not we are going to build up a Canadian nation whose fate is to be determined by our own government representing the free will of our own people or whether it is to be under the influence of the States."

Mr. Arthur Plante, of Valleyfield, also addressed the assembly in French.

In the evening another meeting was held at Williamstown by the same speakers which was very well attended.

DEATH SENTENCE IS IMPOSED UPON THOS. M. ROBERTSON

Recommendation to Mercy Will Be Forwarded—July 20 Date of Execution.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Calgary, Alta., May 22.—The jury in the Tucker Peach murder trial, after two hours' deliberation, found Thomas Mitchell Robertson guilty of the crime, but recommended him to mercy.

Chief Justice Harvey, in sentencing the prisoner, said: "There is but one course open to me under the verdict, as returned by the jury. I can assure you that their recommendation of mercy will be forwarded by me at an early date to the only place where it will be of any effect, that is to the Governor-General-in-Council. My sentence is that you be taken back to the jail from whence you came, and that you be confined there until July 20, when you shall be taken out and hanged until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul."

The youthful prisoner bore up well through the entire trial and while sentence was being pronounced.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Germaine Gournay-Martin is engaged to be married to Jacques, the last Duke of Charmerace. Gournay-Martin, Germaine's father, is a member of the newly-rich, who has used part of his wealth to acquire the ancestral home of the Charmeraces in France. Jacques has recently returned from a seven-years' South Pole expedition, during which he was reported as having been killed. Everybody who knew him before he went away is surprised at the change in his appearance and manners wrought by his absence. Germaine has a companion-secretary, Sonia Kritchnoff, who shows by her attitude that she is more in love with the Duke than is Germaine herself. Germaine, in fact, appears to be more in love with the Duke's position than with his person.

The Duke discovers that some one has robbed the Chateau of his portrait, painted before he left for the South Pole. Germaine explains that it and other pictures and art objects had been stolen by Arsene Lupin, the most audacious thief in France, who writes letters to his intended victims to warn them of his coming. She shows the Duke the letter her father received from Lupin some days before the robbery took place. A broken window in the drawing room of the Chateau arouses fear that additional burglaries are contemplated. M. Charolais, a neighboring landowner, who had called earlier to enquire about an automobile the Gournay-Martins have for sale, comes back, bringing with him his 3 sons. Germaine's father is announced, and Germaine leads the visitors to where they may interview him. Bernard, the youngest of the Charolais sons, stays behind and purloins a cigarette case and a jewel box. The Duke detects him, and makes him give up his booty, winning Sonia's approval by his leniency in letting the youth go unmolested.

Another letter arrives from Arsene Lupin, informing M. Gournay-Martin of Lupin's intention to visit Gournay-Martin's Paris house on the following day to appropriate Princess de Lambelle's coronet and several works of art. Plans to circumvent the audacious thief are being discussed, with the Duke of Charmerace as the chief adviser.

THE Duke did not answer. He put his hands in his pockets and walked impatiently up and down the hall. Germaine sat down on a chair. Sonia put her hands on the back of a couch, and leaned forward, watching him. Firmin stood by the door, whither he had retired to be out of the reach of his excited master, with a look of perplexity on his stolid face. They all watched the Duke with the air of people waiting for an oracle to deliver its message. The millionaire kept mopping the beads of anguish from his brow. The more he thought of his impending loss, the more freeely he perspired. Germaine's maid, Irma, came to the door leading into the outer hall, which Firmin, according to his usual custom, had left open, and peered in wonder at the silent group.

"I have it!" cried the Duke at last. "There is a way out."

"What is it?" said the millionaire, rising and coming to the middle of the hall.

"What time is it?" said the Duke, pulling out his watch.

The millionaire pulled out his watch. Germaine pulled out hers. Firmin, after a struggle, produced from some pocket difficult of access an object not unlike a silver turnip. There was a brisk dispute between Germains and the millionaire about which of their watches was right. Firmin, whose watch apparently did not agree with the watch of either of them, made his deep voice heard above theirs. The Duke came to the conclusion that it must be a few minutes past seven.

"It's seven or a few minutes past." he said sharply. "Well, I'm going to take a car and hurry off to Paris. I ought to get there, bar accidents, between two and three in the morning, just in time to inform the police and catch the burglars in the very midst of their burglary. I'll just get a few things together."

So saying, he rushed out of the hall.

"Excellent! excellent!" said the millionaire. "Your young man is a man of resource, Germaine. It seems a pity that he's a duke. He'd do wonders in the building trade. But I'm going to Paris too and you're coming with me. I couldn't wait idly here, to save my life. And I can't leave you here, either. This scoundrel may be going to make a simultaneous attempt on the chateau—not that there's much here that I really value. There's that statuette that moved, and the pane cut out of the window. I can't leave you two girls with burglars in the house. After all, there's the sixty horse-power and the thirty horse-power car—there'll be lots of room for all of us."

"Oh, but it's nonsense, papa; we shall get there before the servants," said Germaine pettishly. "Think of arriving at an empty house in the dead of night."

"Nonsense!" said the millionaire. "Hurry off and get ready. Your bag ought to be packed. Where are my keys? Sonia, where are my keys—the keys of the Paris house?"

"They're in the bureau," said Sonia.

"Well, see that I don't go without them. Now hurry up. Firman, go tell Jean that we shall want both cars. I will drive one, the Duke the other. Jean must stay with you and help guard the chateau."

So saying he hustled out of the hall, driving the two girls before him.

CHAPTER VI

Again The Charolais.

Hardly had the door closed behind the millionaire when the head of M. Charolais appeared at one of the windows opening on the terrace. He looked round the empty hall, whistled softly, and stepped inside. Inside of ten seconds his three sons came in through the windows, and with them came Jean, the millionaire's chauffeur.

"Take the door into the outer hall, Jean," said M. Charolais, in a low voice. "Bernard, take that door into the drawing room. Pierre and Louis, help me go through the drawers. The whole family is going to Paris, and if we're not quick we shan't get the cars."

"That comes of this silly fondness for warning people of a coup." growled Jean, as he hurried to the door of the outer hall. "It would have been so simple to rob the Paris house without sending that infernal letter. It was sure to knock them all silly."

"What harm can the letter do, you fool?" said M. Charolais. "It's Sunday. We want them knocked silly for tomorrow, to get hold of the coronet. Oh, to get hold of that coronet! It must be in Paris. I've been ransacking this chateau for hours."

Jean opened the door of the outer hall half an inch, and glued his eyes to it. Bernard had done the same with the door opening into the drawing-rom. M. Charolais, Pierre, and Louis were opening drawers, ransacking them, and shutting them with infinite quickness and noiselessly.

"Bureau! Which is the bureau? The place is stuffed with bureaux!" growled M. Charolais. "I must have those keys."

"That plain thing with the brass handles in the middle on the left—that's a bureau," said Bernard softly.

"Why didn't you say so?" growled M. Charolais.

He dashed to it, and tried it. It was locked.

"Locked, of course! Just my luck! Come and get it open, Pierre. Be smart!"

The son he had described as an engineer came quickly to the bureau, fitting together as he came the two halves of a small jemmy. He fitted it into the top of the flap. There was a crunch, and the old lock gave. He opened the flap, and he and M. Charolais pulled open drawer after drawer.

"Quick! Here's that fat old fool!" said Jean, in a hoarse, hissing whisper.

He moved down the hall, blowing out one of the lamps as he passed it. In the seventh drawer lay a bunch of keys. M. Charolais snatched it up, glanced at it, took a bunch of keys from his own pocket, put it in the drawer, closed it, closed the flap, and rushed to the window. Jean and his sons were already out on the terrace.

M Charolais was still a yard from the window when the door into the outer hall opened and in came M. Gournay-Martin.

He caught a glimpse of a back vanishing through the window, and bellowed. "Hi! A man! A burglar! Firmin! Firmin!"

He ran blundering down the hall, tangled his feet in the fragments of the broken chair, and came sprawling a thundering cropper, which knocked every breath of wind out of his capacious body. He lay flat on his face, for a couple of minutes, his broad back wriggling convulsively—a pathetic sight—in the painful effort to get his breath back. Then he sat up, and with perfect frankness burst into tears. He gobbed and blubbered, like a small child that has hurt itself, for three or four minutes. Then, having recovered his magnificent voice, he bellowed furiously: "Firmin! Firmin! Charmerace! Charmerace!"

Then he rose painfully to his feet, and stood staring at the open windows.

Presently he roared again: "Firmin! Firmin! Charmerace! Charmerace!"

He kept looking at the window with terrified eyes, as though he expected somebody to step in and cut his throat from ear to ear.

"Firmin! Firmin! Charmerace! Charmerace!" he bellowed again.

The Duke came quietly into the hall, dressed in a heavy motor-coat, his motor-cap on his head, and carrying a kit-bag in his hand.

"Did I hear you call?" he said.

"Call!" said the millionaire. "I shouted. The burglars are here already. I've just seen one of them. He was bolting through the middle window."

The Duke raised his eyebrows.

"Nerves," he said gently—"nerves."

"Nerves be hanged!" said the millionaire. "I tell you I saw him as plainly as I see you."

"Well, you can't see me at all, seeing that you're lighting an acre and a half of hall with a single lamp," said the Duke, still in a tone of utter incredulity.

"It's that fool Firmin! He ought to have lighted six. Firmin! Firmin!" bellowed the millionaire.

They listened for the sonorous clumping of the promoted gamekeeper's boots, but they did not hear it. Evidently Firmin was still giving his master's instructions about the cars to Jean.

"Well, we may as well shut the windows, anyhow," said the Duke, proceeding to do so. "If you think Firmin would be any good, you might post him in this hall with a gun to-night. There could be no harm in putting a charge of small shot into the legs of these ruffians. He has only to get one of them, and the others will go for their lives. Yet I don't like leaving you and Germaine in this big house with only Firmin to look after you."

"I shouldn't like it myself, and I'm not going to chance it," growled the millionaire. "We're going to motor to Paris along with you, and leave Jean to help Firmin fight these burglars. Firmin's all right—he's an old soldier. He fought in '70. Not that I've much belief in soldiers against this cursed Lupin, after the way he dealt with that corporal and his men three years ago."

"I'm glad you're coming to Paris," said the Duke. "It'll be a weight off my mind. I'd better drive the limousine, and you take the landaulet."

"That won't do," said the millionaire. "Germaine won't go in the limousine. You know she has taken a dislike to it."

"Nevertheless, I'd better bucket on to Paris, and let you follow slowly with Germaine. The sooner I get to Paris the better for your collection. I'll take Mademoiselle Kritchnoff with me, and, if you like, Irma, though the lighter I travel the sooner I shall get there."

"No, I'll take Irma and Germaine," said the millionaire. "Germaine would prefer to have Irma with her, in case you had an accident. She wouldn't like to get to Paris and have to find a fresh maid."

The drawing-room door opened, and in came Germaine, followed by Sonia and Irma. They wore motor-cloaks and hoods and veils. Sonia and Irma were carrying hand-bags.

"I think it's extremely tiresome your dragging us off to Paris like this in the middle of the night," said Germaine pettishly.

"Do you?" said the millionaire. "Well, then, you'll be interested to hear that I've just seen a burglar here in this very room. I frightened him, and he bolted through the window on to the terrace."

"He was greenish-pink, slightly tinged with yellow," said the Duke softly.

"Greenish-pink? Oh. do stop your jesting, Jacques! Is this a time for idiocy?" cried Germaine, in a tone of acute exasperation.

"It was the dim light which made your father see him in those colors. In a bright light, I think he would have been an Alsatian blue," said the Duke suavely.

"You'll have to break yourself of this silly habit of trifling, my dear Duke, if ever you expect to be a member of the Academie Francaise," said the millionaire with some acrimony. "I tell you I did see a burglar."

"Yes, yes. I admitted it frankly. It was his color I was talking about," said the Duke, with an ironical smile.

"Oh, stop your idiotic jokes! We're all sick to death of them!" said Germaine, with something of the fine fury which so often distinguished her father.

"There are times for all things," said the millionaire solemnly. "And I must say that, with the fate of my collection and of the coronet trembling in the balance, this does not seem to me a season for idle jests."

"I stand reproved," said the Duke and he smiled at Sonia.

"My keys, Sonia—the keys of the Paris house," said the millionaire.

Sonia took her own keys from her pocket and went to the bureau. She slipped a key into the lock and tried to turn it. It would not turn; and she bent down to look at it.

"Why—why, some one's been tampering with the lock! It's broken!" she cried.

ITS FRIENDS AND ITS FOES.

ONE convincing method of judging a political policy is to note the friends it attracts and the opponents it arouses.

To-day's despatches furnish us with evidence of this sort as to the standing of Reciprocity.

First, we find the President of the American Free Trade League, speaking at Boston, warmly supporting the policy. He elevated it to the importance of "a turning point in the annals of the American people"; and was especially jubilant over the fact that the American President, though "elected by the party which has stubbornly defended a policy of commercial blockade," had had "the boldness to proclaim the fact that he had proposed to the Canadian Commissioners absolute freedom of trade."

Here we have the organized free trade sentiment of the United States rejoicing at the appearance of Reciprocity. They love it because it is a step toward free trade. Of this fact, they make not the smallest secret. The best thing about it, in their opinion, is that it was the occasion of a free trade offer from the American President to the Canadian Government.

Whether Canada wants free trade or not, is therefore forced upon us as a matter for immediate and serious discussion. Free Trade is what the American people mean. The Free Trade League supports Reciprocity on that ground. President Taft has already urged free trade on us; and Congress has added a clause to the bill, implementing Reciprocity, instructing him to go on with the good work.

* * * *

The second bit of evidence to be found in to-day's despatches is the report of the Tariff Reform meeting in Manchester. To this meeting, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain wrote a letter. He said that "this is a critical time for our preference policy, in view of the proposed Reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States. . . . The English people have the opportunity, perhaps for the last time, of uniting the Empire."

We cannot say too often that the course to be taken by the English people in this matter is entirely a question for themselves to decide. Every part of the Empire must direct its own commercial policy as seems to its people to be best. But we have here an expression of conviction from a veteran statesman and a representative of industrial opinion which illumines one side of our proposed Reciprocity agreement in a very revealing fashion.

Reciprocity, in Mr. Chamberlain's opinion, will finally kill the policy of commercial unity with which his name is connected. If his policy is a bad policy, then this is a "score" to the credit of Reciprocity; but, if it is a good policy, then we must reckon it as a "score" against Reciprocity.

* * * *

Mr. Austen Chamberlain, at the same meeting, gave it as his opinion that Reciprocity would "mark the first step in the reversal of the National Policy of Canada which for a generation had been the common policy of both great parties and to which they owed the extraordinary and magnificent development of Canada." This is an expert opinion from the outside.

We have maintained all along that the National Policy would receive a fatal blow in the adoption of Reciprocity. It would, in a word, de-Nationalize the National Policy. The largest industry in the Dominion (Agriculture) would be robbed of its Protection, which would make Protection a special privilege conferred upon the favorites of the Government. That it can last under such conditions, is not to be imagined. The unprotected farmers will sooner or later demand with irresistible force that the other industries of Canada be brought down to the same level with themselves.

They will refuse, in short, to sell in an open market and buy in a Protected market.

* * * *

Here, then, we have our daily exhibition of the "line up" on this question. The American Free Traders are for it; and the British preferential policy men are against it.

If Reciprocity does not mean free trade with the United States, then the American free traders are in for a disappointment. Experts though they be, they have misjudged the situation. Their attitude is due to a mistake.

If Reciprocity does not mean the death of the preferential policy, then Mr. Chamberlain and his followers are likely to meet with an agreeable disappointment. Experts though they be, they have misjudged the situation. Their attitude is due to a mistake.

Nor do these two groups of men stand alone in their misreading (?) of the situation. Practically every outside witness that is called, sees precisely these same two tendencies in our new policy.

* * * *

Is it likely that everybody is mistaken? What would be your calm, unbiassed, non-partizan judgment on this point if the question had never found a place in the issues at stake between our two parties?

Yet if it were generally believed that Reciprocity is identical with free trade between Canada and the United States—i.e., with Commercial Union—would it carry in Canada to-day? We know perfectly well that it would not. If Mr. Fielding was sincere in his various speeches, it would not even get his vote.

Or if it were generally believed that Reciprocity is identical with the final rejection of the British preference policy, would it carry in Canada to-day?

Here is surely a situation to be studied before we go any farther. We must deliberately conclude that all these outside witnesses are wrong—that Taft is a dreamer, that the American Free Trade League do not know free trade when they see it, that the Chamberlains do not know anything about the Chamberlain preferential policy,—; or we must admit that, in voting for Reciprocity, we are voting for full free trade with the United States and a snapping of our commercial ties with the Empire.

* * * *

To represent Reciprocity as meaning neither of these things is either to deny that these witnesses know what they are talking about, or to attempt to "palm" a deadly policy off on this country by a system of false pretences.

Then—if these witnesses be right—they indicate another trend in this affair which is much more profoundly disquieting. They point out a movement away from the "status quo"—from Canadian independence—and toward assimilation with the American Republic. The links of the chain are forged together. "Free trade in everything" means Commercial Union; and Commercial Union robs political independence of its vitality.

We have but two courses before us in this country—British connection with assured Canadian autonomy, or Annexation with the United States. We are truly "at the parting of the ways."

WELCOME THE VACCINATORS.

THE work of the vaccinators will be facilitated by every sensible citizen. Montreal cannot even risk the remotest danger of a smallpox epidemic. It would cost this city millions of dollars, to say nothing of the lives which would be sacrificed; and it would take us years to recover from the effects of the blow.

To permit such a calamity at the very outset of Canada's century, when the currents of permanent prosperity are finding their channels in the Dominion, would be an act of such colossal stupidity and criminal negligence that we can hardly contemplate its possibility with patience. There is only one safe-guard; and that is universal vaccination. That has protected the city in the past; banished what was at one time a permanent plague; and enabled us to ride with immunity through years of sporadic smallpox in less well-protected parts of the country.

Naturally, long immunity has brought a relaxation of vigilance. When the danger is far off, there is a temptation to neglect preventive measures. There must, therefore, be many people in Montreal who have not been vaccinated within the statutory seven years; and they should lose no time in joining the forces of home defence. If they prefer to be vaccinated by their own physicians, that can be done; but it should be done at once. We ought all to be ready, when the vaccinators call, to present them either with evidence of recent vaccination or an arm ready for the lancet. If we do not need the protective measure, it is no more than a pin scratch. If it gives us a sore arm, then it has probably saved us from a severe attack of the dreaded smallpox.

THE FRENCH TRAGEDY.

THE last of the martyrs to the great cause of conquering the air, are no less than the Minister of War of France, and the French Premier. When we remember how much France already owes in a military sense to its superiority in aeroplanes, and that the dead Minister was the leading spirit in encouraging the development of this branch of the army, there is a deeper pathos surrounding the terrible tragedy which has robbed France of his services. He could be ill-spared; and his death is as the death of a hero on the field of battle.

The toll of lives to aerial adventure is already a heavy one; and no nation has suffered so much as France. Nor has any other nation succeeded so well. The French may well say in relation to this new "admiralty" of the air—"If blood be the price of Admiralty, Lord God, we have paid it all." It was a Frenchman who first crossed the English channel; it was a Frenchman who died crossing the Alps. Even this last blow will not stop progress. The spirit of a spirited people is engaged. Service in the air is on a par with services in the deadly submarine.

The escape of the Prime Minister is one feature of the sad affair for which to be thankful; and it will be universally hoped that he will survive to fill many a useful position in the future. If a change of Government follows, it will mean less in France than elsewhere; for, though Ministers change, Ministries go on.

The Maderists are talking of putting down bull fights and gambling in Mexico. This will please outside opinion mightily; but it looks like a risky policy for a government not yet seated. It is usually "reform" which terminates the rule of "Goos-Goos" in New York.

Now they are talking of adjourning the Reciprocity vote in Washington. The eagerness of the politicians for this new policy is akin to the reluctance with which the small boy regards the approach of the summer holidays.

The visit of the German Emperor to England has increased the good feeling between the two peoples; and the world has no more valuable asset to-day than this same good feeling.

If one must work at the "ex-King" business, Dom Manuel of Portugal is finding rural England a fairly good place for the job.

They have begun to "boom" Champ Clark for the Presidency already. That will be a fine step forward in his preparation "to annex Canada."

The garrison parade yesterday certainly carried the troops into the hottest part of the battle.

Roosevelt is out against unlimited arbitration with anybody. His resemblance to the Kaiser increases daily.

When the Old Lion of Mexico finally yields, it will not take nine days to make a hero of him.

The Child and Its Welfare.

Chicago Record-Herald:—Interest in child welfare is one of the recognized characteristics of our age. We are learning not to depend on the "instincts" of parents. We are realizing the great need of organized and intelligent effort, and of education, private and public, as to the ways and means of protecting the physical and moral welfare of the child. It is not easy to name a vital reform or movement that does not bear on, if it does not originate in, the concern of civilized society in child welfare. From good roads to moving pictures, from labor laws to school dispensaries—everything affects the welfare of the race through the child.

The Garbling of History.

Toronto Mail and Empire:—United States papers profess never to have heard of the Battle of Chateauguay. This, however, is not to their discredit. It only shows how scientifically garbled Yankee histories are. One of these productions tells us that during the entire conflict in which Queenston Heights, Chateauguay and Lundys Lane took place, the only reverse the United States met with was in the naval engagement between the Chesapeake and the Shannon, and this disaster was the result of an accident of some kind or other, and did not amount to much.

City Planning.

Philadelphia Telegraph:—For the first time people are beginning to realize that a city can be so planned, so moulded that it will save rather than destroy; that the unsanitary, the unsightly, the slum-infested town, the municipality tolerant of sloth and indifferent to architectural disfigurement is a cannibal, daily devouring its own offspring. Playgrounds for children, open-air, swimming pools and other features that make life worth living can hardly be multiplied too rapidly. The tendency of population is toward the cities and in large centres it is impossible for any man to live out his own life wholly independent of his neighbors. Society must, in a way, readjust itself.

When Parliament Resume Business

Special Staff Correspondence.

Press Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, May 22.—With the exception of the Reciprocity Agreement and possibly the exception of a redistribution bill—in case there is a general election over reciprocity—the business of Parliament is done for another year. There are a number of important Government measures still short of receiving the Governor-General's assent; but it is doubtful if many of these will be passed at all this session.

Seven important items of government legislation were among the bills to which the Deputy of the Governor-General gave assent on Friday evening last. First there was the anti-cocaine law. This act makes it an offence to sell cocaine or opium or morphine or any of their salts or compounds except for medicinal or scientific purposes. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who introduced this bill, stated that it was inspired largely by the havoc wrought in Montreal by the cocaine habit.

The Forest Reserve.

Of far-reaching import is the act which enlarges the forest reserves of Canada from three to sixteen million acres. The Minister of the Interior announced that the Government intends to adopt a general policy of economic use and conservation combined. For the present there will be no re-forestation, but the older trees will be cut and the younger carefully protected.

Of common purpose are the act to guarantee the bonds of the Canadian Northern from Montreal to Port Arthur and that to authorize the Government to lease the St. John Valley Railway, which will be built by the Province of New Brunswick.

There are two acts affecting international relations. One establishes the International Joint Commission to administer the Waterways treaty with the United States. The other empowers the Government to make a favored nation arrangement with Japan for two years. Our present treaty expires in July, and in the interval of two years an effort will be made to secure a new general trade treaty. The clause in the old treaty which surrendered control over Japanese immigration is dropped, but the friendly arrangement with Japan in that regard, by which the Japanese government undertakes to limit emigration to Canada, is continued.

The Railway Act.

A half dozen amendments were made to the Railway Act. One of the most important provides for a railway court to hear disputes between provincial and Dominion railways and to control interchange of traffic between them. It was made as a result of co-relative legislation in Ontario, but it applies to all provinces which have a railways or public utilities commission. It would thus apply to Quebec. Another amendment authorizes the Government to take over any railway which is allowed to fall into dilapidation and to sell it and recover the subsidy paid to it.

Another act of considerable importance provides salary increases in the city post offices. A similar act in reference to the outside customs yet remains to be dealt with after the House resumes.

A quintette of government projects of a large range have been left by the wayside for the present. One of these is a radical attempt to wipe out the evil of prosphorus poisoning or "Pussy Jaw," as it is commonly called. The act prohibits the use of phosphorus in the manufacture of matches. Similar legislation has been passed in Great Britain, Germany and the leading European countries. The United States is expected to follow suit.

Regulation of Explosives.

Of much public interest is the proposed regulation of the trade in explosives. The bill is wide in its terms, and regulates the storage of explosives even on a small scale. Mr. C. J. Doherty raised the vital question whether it did not interfere with provincial rights. There has been objection from the provinces; but, as Mr. Doherty pointed out, this would not save the act, if the manufacturers of explosives or any one of them chose to raise objections and the courts upheld them. Neither of these two last-mentioned measures is likely to pass this session.

The Commoners have disposed of teh copyright Act but it is still before the Senate. This measure is part of an Imperial scheme of copyright, which is expected to put an end to the long dispute between the Dominion and the Imperial Government over this subject. It gives Canada the control of her own copyright for the first time, and it applies the principle of reciprocal rights within the Empire. One of its effects will be to take away the right of American authors to obtain a copyright in Canada without printing or publishing; while on the other hand, Canadians can obtain copyright in the United States only by having their works not only printed and published, but set up in that country.

Other Acts Held Up.

Two other acts which stand over, are the Grain Act, and the act to empower the Minister of Railways to take over a number of branch lines in Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces. These are both before the Commons.

The Grain Act is the Government answer to the western farmers' request for the nationalization of terminal grain elevators; it creates a board and gives it power to take over and operate the elevators, if thought advisable after investigation by them. These last three projects have a fair chance of becoming law this year; the Grain Act has already passed the Senate.

Last fall the decennial revision of the Bank Act was announced, but it has now definitely gone over till next session. Meanwhile the bank charters have been extended for a year from July 1 next. The main change proposed in the Bank Act by the Minister of Finance was the creation of a shareholders' audit. He did not adopt Government inspection of banks, but it was proposed in a public bill, introduced by Mr. Joseph Demers, of St. Johns and Iberville. The failure of the Farmers' Bank has greatly increased the pressure being brought to secure government inspection, and it may form part of the Government Bill next year.

The chief subject of legislation proposed by private members besides banking was railway law. Senator Davis introduced a measure to take the incorporation of railway companies out of the hands of Parliament, and give it to the Railway Commission. Mr. Mederic Martin got through the lower chamber, a bill to provide for fortnightly pay on the railways, but the Senate slaughtered it.

Some Private Bills.

The only act of public importance, introduced by a private member which has become law is Dr. Black's bill to revise the machinery of the Roddick Act. The object is to secure a Dominion registration for doctors, and Dr. Black's bill provides for a Dominion board of examiners. Mr. F. D. Monk introduced a radical measure to limit water power leases to fifty years; and, re-introduced his co-operative savings act, but neither bill made much progress.

Mr. Alphonse Verville's eight hour day law passed the Commons, in a much amended shape, but met its death in the Senate. When it left the Commons it was limited to the construction and repair of public buildings.

NEW
DAY

From a Special Correspondent.

New York, May 22.

CHARLES P. TAFT, the brother of the President, and one of his chief backers in the last election left for Europe to-day. Before he sailed, he was asked his opinion on the political situation. He first said he was a private citizen and had nothing to do with politics, but later he added, when asked if the Republicans would nominate a candidate for the presidency next year,

"Yes, and they'll elect him, too."

"Will it be your brother," was the next query.

"Well, if I said so, you'd think me prejudiced, but let me tell you that everything in the West is indicative of his being the favorite among the business men."

Mr. Taft added that the Republican administration's success in bringing the Standard Oil case to a successful termination would be a strong card for the Republicans in the next national campaign. He believes that the decision of the Supreme Court has already had a marked effect for the better on business conditions.

Mr. Taft, his wife and daughter, will motor through England, until the middle of July and return to this country via Quebec.

There has been such a great deal of smuggling into this port during the last few months that the authorities are closely watching all people that come off the big ships from abroad. Several persons have been held up, tried and fined for smuggling, and in a great many cases, the goods have been seized. Payment of duty on goods not declared is a daily occurrence, and it is said that the inspectors were never so vigilant as now.

A young Mexican arrived to-day from Paris. He says that he is the owner of a silver mine that yields him a revenue of $185,000 a month. "Tim" Donahue, a famous inspector, in plain clothes, noticed that, although the Mexican declared nothing, one of his back pockets was bulging suspiciously, and he was asked to display its contents. He yanked out a jewel case containing a large number of jewels and gems. Among the collection was a gold vanity case set with rubies, a flat pearl necklace with a diamond pendant, a three-strand pearl and diamond necklace, a ring set with diamonds and one pearl, and one set with an amethyst mounted in diamonds. The American value in all is about $5,000.

The Senor was sent to the Customs house, apparently quite puzzled, and was amazed when the jewels were seized. He said that he had intended to carry them to Mexico, in a few months to his senorita, when the revolution has blown over, and that he had intended to pay duty on them when he crossed the border, but did not know that he would be required to do so at this port.

The Customs house and the United States District Attorney both believed his story, and there was no indictment set against him for smuggling, but the jewels will be held until he pays the duty on them, which is about their own value again, but this trifle of $10,000 will not worry him if what he says about his income is correct.

Fritz Augustus Heinze, the millionaire copper king, is being sued for $5,000 damages by Joseph B. Hubbard, a chauffeur, for assault. The trouble between the chauffeur and Heinze occurred following a dinner party at the Claremont, a fashionable cafe overlooking the Hudson, in the northern part of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Heinze and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. McVey composed the party, and after it broke up they called the taxi that Hubbard drove and directed him to take them to the Cafe Boulevard, a restaurant in the lower part of the city. After the women had gone inside this last cafe, Heinze and McVey remained outside and there was a row over the fare, during which Hubbard claims that Heinze struck him.

* * *

The elopement of Gertrude Gaynor, the Mayor's daughter, yesterday, has caused a good deal of talk. She ran away with and married William Seward Webb, Jr., son of Dr. William Seward Webb, and grandson of William H. Vanderbilt. The young couple took the train to Wilmington, Delaware, and were married there, and no one knew anything about it except Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Vingut, the latter also a daughter of the Mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. Vingut knew the ropes in Delaware quite well, because last year they ran away and were married there themselves. The Mayor has had another runaway child in his family. This was young Rufus Gaynor, who married a barber's daughter while he was at Harvard. He lived with her for a time, but when he found that she had a living husband, he sued for a divorce, and got it. He is little more than a boy in age.

There was no objection to the marriage of Mr. Webb and Miss Gaynor, as far as can be learned, except that he is only 24 years old and his father wished him to wait a year before marrying. But he did not do so, as has turned out. Dr. Webb is not in New York now. The bridegroom's sister is Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, a daughter-in-law of the owner of the New York World.

Miss Gaynor's engagement was announced last year to another young man, but in a month or so it was broken off. No reason for this move was ever stated.

WESTERN TROOPS EN ROUTE.

Coronation Contingent on Way to London.

Winnipeg, May 22.—The Coronation contingent from Winnipeg left for the East on Saturday evening, including representatives of the 90th, the 79th Cameron Highlanders, the 100th Grenadiers, the Canadian Army Service Corps, Company No 11 Medical Corps and Signallers.

Commissioner Perry and his contingent of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, passed through Sunday morning, as did also the Westerners for the Coronation. Among them were representatives from the Sixth Regiment, D. C. O. R., Vancouver; 72nd Highlanders, Vancouver; 18th Field Ambulance Corps, Vancouver; British Columbia Horse, Kamloops, Vernon, Merritt and Coldstream, B. C.; 5th Regiment Canadian Garrison Artillery, Victoria; 104th Regiment, New Westminster; 102nd Rock Mountain Rangers; Armstrong, I. C.; and Earl Grey's Own Rifles, of Prince Rupert, also members of the permanent army medical corps, and the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery.

THE PASSING HOUR

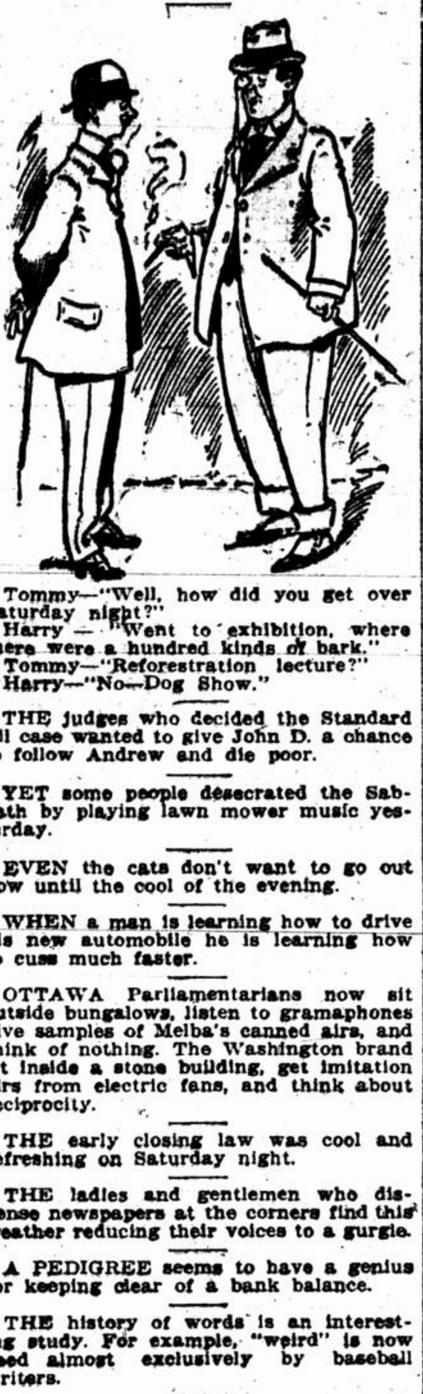
OF course, it is not summer yet, but it is such a good imitation that only a glance at the calendar reminds you that it is not.

EVEN the ice has been lukewarm the past couple of days.

HOW one longs to visit London, where they still have the thermometer at 50, with north-east winds and "mist."

THE ball teams wanted to give the fans a good cooling off on Saturday, so they put up an eighteen-innings game.

A WOMAN wouldn't give up her right to cut another dead in the street for all the voting privileges in Christendom.



Tommy—"Well, how did you get over Saturday night?"
Harry—"Went to exhibition, where there were a hundred kinds of bark."
Tommy—"Reforestration lecture?"
Harry—"No—Dog Show."

THE judges who decided the Standard Oil case wanted to give John D. a chance to follow Andrew and die poor.

YET some people desecrated the Sabbath by playing lawn mower music yesterday.

EVEN the cats don't want to go out now until the cool of the evening.

WHEN a man is learning how to drive his new automobile he is learning how to cuss much faster.

OTTAWA Parliamentarians now sit outside bungalows, listen to gramaphones give samples of Melba's canned airs, and think of nothing. The Washington brand sit inside a stone building, get imitation airs from electric fans, and think about reciprocity.

THE early closing law was cool and refreshing on Saturday night.

A PEDIGREE seems to have a genius for keeping clear of a bank balance.

THE history of words is an interesting study. For example, "weird" is now used almost exclusively by baseball writers.

MOST people seem to think the only way they can learn to save money is by wasting it.

GURGLED the soulful girl: "O, how shall I write the words that put my senses in a whirl when I think of flowers and birds!"

Jabbered her brother Bill: "I don't know, sis, but I think I'd make a pen of a jonquil and dip it in bobble ink."

EVE must have had a big grievance in not being able to threaten to go home to her mother.

Songs of Flytime.

Sing a song of Flytime,
A house full of flies,
Four and twenty swatters
Swatting for a prize.

When the swatters swat 'em
The flies began to buzz:
Wasn't that the messiest job
That ever, ever was!

—Margaret A.

LADY CLARA VERE DE VERE says: "You must ask papa."

Sally Ann, in the basement, says to the policeman: "Behave yerself, Mr. Imperience," and it comes to the same thing.

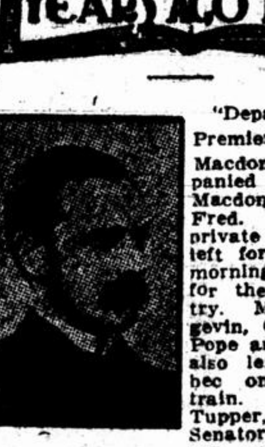
THE moon adds to the delicacy of sentiment; but a coal oil lamp, before now, has been as emotionally productive, even when not lighted.

WHILE the Kaiser is buying bon-bons in the shops of London, is he not at the same time selecting the most advantageous points for his artillery to land after he has defeated the British fleet?

THE LATIN republics revolute with rosewater; and always suspend operations for the siesta; in Mexico the "claret" has actually been drawn, which is vastly surprising.

WOMAN—"In thine hour of ease, uncertain, coy and hard to please; but divinely willing, in the case of her husband, to think a plain drunk, a sudden excitement, due to presure of business down town."

FROM THE STAR FILES THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY



Mr. Fred. White.

"Departure of the Premier.—Sir John Macdonald, accompanied by Lady Macdonald, and Mr. Fred. White, his private secretary, left for Quebec this morning en route for the Old Country. Messrs. Langevin, Caron, J. H. Pope and Mousseau also left for Quebec on the same train. Sir Charles Tupper, Dr. Grant, Senator Macpherson and a large number of personal and political friends of the Premier assembled at the station to see him off. Sir Charles Tupper and Sir S. L. Tilley leave for Quebec this afternoon. The Cabinet have a meeting at Quebec tomorrow, when the Governor-General will be present."—From the Montreal Star, May 22, 1881.

FREDERICK WHITE was born in Birmingham, England, in 1847, and came to Canada as a young man, where he was trained to official life under the late Lieut.-Col. Bernard, C.M.G., one of the ablest public officers of the old regime at Ottawa. In addition to being private secretary to Sir John during the important years of Canada's advancement, from '80 to '82, he was a chief clerk in the Department of Justice. Upon the organization of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, he was specially selected to take charge of the administration of the office at Ottawa. His title has been deputy head in the service. He has during the many years of his connection with this splendid force been able to contribute towards its efficiency, and not a little to the personal comfort of the members.

"The steamship Parisian made the run from Montreal to Quebec in ten hours and thirty-five minutes."—From the Montreal Star, May 22, 1881.

"The Wimbledon team will sail from Quebec on Wednesday next under command of Lieut.-Col. Gibson of Hamilton."—From the Montreal Star, May 22, 1881.

"Ben d'Or's time for the City and Suburban (1¼ miles) was 2.07. Last year Master Kildare won in 2.14, while in 1879 Parole's record was 2.16."—From the Montreal Star, May 22, 1881.

"Ottawa.—The work of census-taking taking in this section is about completed. It is thought that the population of Ottawa will be a trifle over 27,000. The suburbs of Rochesterville, New Edinburg, Stewarton, Mount Sherwood and Jamesville will increase this by fully 3000, making a total population for the city and suburbs of 30,000 souls."—From the Montreal Star, May 22, 1881.

SUCCESS

The success of a

Factory Site

hangs upon the three features indicated above.

SEE BELOW.

SHIPPING FACILITIES: The G. T. R. runs through the property at the front, as does the C. P. R. through the middle, and we are connected with the old Grand Trunk freight line at the back, make the site an ideal one from the shipper's standpoint.

ACCESSIBILITY: The suburban cars as well as the railway afford a quick service to and from the city — a feature that will appeal to your employees.

Our 'phone number is Main 7424—call us up; or, better still, drop in and see us. We shall be pleased to furnish you with any further information you may desire.

MANY FIRE CALLS DURING HOT DAYS

Boys Playing With Matches Caused Damage in One Blaze.

Nineteen runs were made by the firemen of the city during the hot days of Saturday and Sunday. Of this number six were in Chief Hooper's division, the most serious being a call to Outremont.

Ae 7.50 o'clock last evening children with matches set fire to boxes of straw in the crockery store of J. N. Beaulne, (1850 St. Lawrence Boulevard. One stream and a babcock were used.

A gas explosion set fire between the walls of the residence of Messrs. Puisse and David, 1143 Mount Royal avenue east, at 7.25 o'clock last evening. The fire started on the second floor and ate its way to the roof. Firemen had to work half an hour, but only used five babcocks.

District Chief Giroux in his district had five runs, the most serious having occurred shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when $3,000 damage was done to the bake shop, stables and storage in the rear of 761 Cartier street, and also to the residence of J. D. Larchevesque. Fireman J. Gauthier had both his hands severely burned and was sent to Notre Dame Hospital.

When the firemen arrived the fire had spread from the shed where it originated, and was gaining rapid headway. It was a hard fight to prevent the entire block of houses and sheds from being swept by fire. Boys making a bonfire in the lane in the rear of the sheds are thought to have been responsible. Those who suffered loss are J. Thompson, stables in which many sleighs were stored. J. A. Larchevesque, bakery and house, and J. A. Beauchamp, stables.

No. 4 Sussex avenue suffered severe damage by fire at 3.25 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Fire started from a gas stove in the kitchen on the first floor, in the home of A. F. White. The flames had eaten their way up to the second storey before the firemen were called, and it was necessary for District Chiefs Marin and Lussier to have three streams and a chemical used. Though the fire only lasted fifteen minues, about $2,000 damage was done.

SCOUT FIELD DAY.

Will Engage in Operations on the South Shore.

The Montreal Boy Scouts will take part in a big field day on Wednesday. Some 150 scouts, under W. S. M. Storer and Cross will go under canvas, on Tuesday evening, between Longueuil and St. Lamberts, the situation to be unknown to attacking side. The attacking force will comprise some 250 to 300 scouts under W. S. M. Foreman and Young, and will leave on the 9.15 ferry boat for Longueuil on the morning of the 24th. The object of the attacking side is to get into the camp unobserved.

EXTRA PASSENGER.

Stork Flew to Gothland in Mid-Atlantic.

The steamer Gothland, from Rotterdam, which arrived in port this morning, being the first of the Red Star line steamers to arrive here, brings the tale of a birth on board at mid-ocean. On May the 18th, the purser and officers received word that they had an extra passenger on board, a healthy little girl, of Mrs. Ivan Holyk. The child was christened at mid-ocean and named Anna. She is in the best of health and seemed to enjoy the short voyage.

TROOPERS COMING.

North-West Mounted Detachment Here This Week.

Montreal is to have a detachment of eighty men and officers of the Royal North West Mounted Police, with their horses, on a three day visit to the city this week, on their way to England to take part in the Coronation procession. They will arrive here on Wednesday morning. On the following Sunday they will sail on the SS. Montreal.

UNEXPECTED HEAT WAVE IN MONTREAL

Among the people who complained bitterly of the heat this morning were the workers on the lofty steel frames on office buildings in course of construction. They say it is always hot up where they work, and that the sun's rays beating down on them make the steel rails feel almost blazing.

Several heat prostrations with no serious results were reported from the river front, where the heat was felt keenly this morning, even by the rugged 'longshoremen engaged in the unloading of the ships.

Is Cool in Europe.

The most remarkable feature about the temperature this year is that such places as usually have hot weather in the spring are without it this season. Atlantic City and Southern resorts have not heretofore had warmer weather than Montreal. In London and Paris the spring has been uniformly cold and continues so. Today, with the thermometer in Montreal in the upper eighties, London has not climbed above 46, and Paris has only reached 50. They have had it below freezing some days this spring when we had our furnaces out.

BOY WADED TOO FAR AND IS DROWNED.

Unable to swim, Ludger St. Denis, 16 years old, was drowned yesterday afternoon when he got beyond his depth in a quarry in the far northeast end of the city. He and four other younger boys went inside the fence surrounding the quarry and proceeded to undress for a dip. Joseph Mainville, 14 years of age, was the first to go in the water. He is a good swimmer and told young St. Denis who followed him, not to come out so far. "I am all right, I can take care of myself," said the older lad as he waded into the water. When he got beyond his depth and began to struggle Mainville went to his assistance. Beneath the water the two struggled and finally, Mainville, unable to pull his comrade to shallow water, was forced to free himself, and staggering to the bank, dropped unconscious. He soon recovered and the police from the St. Hubert street station were summoned. After some difficulty they recovered the body of St. Denis, all life being extinct. It was taken to the morgue, while boys went and informed the aunt and uncle with whom the lad lived of his death. Both his parents are dead. The case was disposed of without a formal inquest.

DROWNS IN TANK AT M.A.A.A. CLUBHOUSE.

Missed by his companions after a swim in the M. A. A. A. tank on Saturday night, Alexander M. Garden, 20 years old and a clerk in the Royal Bank, was found lifeless two hours later at the bottom of the pool. Death was due to heart failure brought on by the sudden plunge into the cold water.

With three friends he had attended a football match in the afternoon and after dinner they went over to the Association building on Peel street for a dip. There were several swimmers in the tank about nine o'clock when they went in. When dressing afterwards his three friends noticed his absence and finding his clothes, feared something was wrong. Inquiries revealed the fact that he was last seen diving into the 8 foot end of the pool.

Mr. Neil Cameron proceeded to search the tank by diving and located the body in the centre. Many bathers had been swimming around the pool all unconscious of the lifeless form of their fellow member beneath the waters. Efforts were made at resuscitation but were unavailing.

Dr. Tanner from the General Hospital was called in and pronounced life extinct.

The deceased had been in this country a year. His father, George Garden is a detective at Partick, a suburb of Glasgow, where his mother and several sisters also live. He was with the Royal Bank in the Westmount branch, but lately in the head office on St. James street.

He and his brother, a bookkeeper at Linton's boarded at 115 City Councillors street. Mr. John S. Retallick, of Ottawa, an uncle, arrived in the city with his wife last night, to attend the funeral, which was held at 3.30 this afternoon to Mount Royal cemetery.

Great regret at the occurrence is felt by the directors of the M. A. A. A.

It is the first drowning accident to occur since the opening of the new building. The directors of the M. A. A. A. and the officials of the Bank together undertook the funeral arrangements.

Mr. John Marsh, night timekeeper at the Canadian Rubber Co. establishment, East Notre Dame street, was found dead on the premises on Sunday morning. Marsh was in the habit of lying down on the counter during the intervals between his rounds. When it was found he had neglected to send in the signals due at 3 o'clock, another employe of the company went to look for Marsh, whom he found, apparently asleep, but on trying to rouse him found that he was dead. The body was removed to the morgue, and at an inquest held before Coroner McMahon yesterday, the cause of death was proved to be heart failure, as a result of heat prostration.

The deceased had been in the employ of the company for close on half a century. He was a member of the St. George Masonic Lodge and of the I. O. O. F. For many years Marsh served with the Canadian Auxiliary Forces, and took part in the Fenian raids, the bars of his service medal bearing the words, "Fenian Raid, 1866, Fenian Raid, 1870." In 1879 Marsh received the long service medal, and retired from the Montreal Field Battery with the rank of sergeant.

Death of Mme. L. J. Boivin.

The death of Madame Boivin, widow of L. J. Boivin, took place at the Institute of Deaf Mutes, yesterday. The deceased was 71 years of age.

that it has issued a warning to aviators not to fly over the Coronation crowds, thus avoiding the chance of a disaster such as occurred in France yesterday. The English press, in sympathizing with the French victims, commends the action of the club.

Reliability Flight Goes On.

Freiburg, Germany, May 22.— Four aviators who are competing in the Upper Rhine reliability flight, have arrived here from Baden having made the prescribed intermediate landing at Offenburg. The first to reach Freiburg was Jeannin, who covered the distance in 2 hours 10 minutes. Brunheber was second in two hours and eleven minutes. The aviator Witterstaetter, who attempted the flight with his wife as a passenger, did not finish.

The subsequent stages of the reliability flight include Mulhausen, Strassburg, Mannheim and Frankfort-on-the-Main, a total distance of 360 miles.

DETAILS OF THE FRENCH AVIATION FATALITY.

Paris, May 22.— The terrible aeroplane disaster that marked the start of the Paris to Madrid race here yesterday, and resulted in the death of M. Henri M. Berteaux, Minister of War, and serious injuries to Premier Monis and other members of the Cabinet was the direct result of allowing certain privileged spectators to take up positions on the actual aviation course.

The aviation field at Issy les Molineaux was surrounded by a crowd of two hundred thousand persons, who were kept back from the course by a large force of soldiers. The ministerial party and some fifty other persons of distinction were however, allowed to walk across the field to a point wehere they could get a better view down the course, and see the airmen as they rose from the starting point and flew in this direction. Had not this infraction of a very necessary rule occurred, there would have been no disaster, and indeed, no accident of any kind.

The monoplane which dashed into the Ministerial party with such frightful results was piloted by a well-known maker of aerial machines named M. Train, who had with him as passenger M. Bounier. Neither of these men were hurt, although the machine was wrecked.

The Aviator's Own Story.

There was a stiff wind at the time of the accident, and what occurred is best told in M. Train's own words He said :

"My idea when I started was to make two or three turns around the grounds to assure myself that my machine was in working order before beginning the scheduled flight. Immediately I was in the air it was apparent to me that my motor was not pulling properly so I prepared to land, in order to regulate it after turning the end of the field.

"At that moment I saw a troop of cuirassiers galloping across the track. I tried to turn sharply back on myself and land well away from the soldiers, but my motor slowed more and more, making it impossible for me to accomplish the circle. I then decided that the best course would be to fly over the cavalry and land on the other side, and I turned the plane upward.

"At this juncture a group of persons, previously hidden by the cuirassiers, scattered in all directions. I tried the impossible and risked the life of my passenger to prolong the flight over them, and I had almost succeeded when the machine gave a lurch and collapsed heavily. I jumped out, as did Bounier also, convinced that I had avoided all accident. It was only when I was on my feet that I saw the terrible catastrophe."

M. Berteaux' Arm Cut Clean Off.

Minister of War Berteaux was horribly mangled. The swiftly revolving propeller cut off cleanly his left arm, which was found ten feet away from the spot where he was struck; the back of his head was crushed in, his throat gashed and the whole of his left side cut and lacerated.

Premier Monis was buried beneath the wreckage of the monoplane. He was taken out as quickly as possible and examined by military surgeons, who found that he had sustained compound fractures of two bones in the right leg, that his nose was broken, his face badly contused and that there were bruises on the breast and abdomen.

M. Deutsch and M. Monis, jr., were not seriously hurt.

Among those who had narrow escapes from injury was M. Lepine, the prefect of police.

The impact knocked M. Berteaux ten feet away, where he lay in a pool of blood, badly mangled, while under the wreckage of the monoplane lay Premier Monis, his son, and M. Deutsch.

Cavalry Charged Excited Crowd.

A scene of frightful confusion followed the fall of the monoplane. From all parts of the aviation field arose cries of alarm and dismay, and tens of thousands of persons broke through the lines and moved toward the scene of the accident. The cavalry, however, by repeated charges, managed to clear the field and the injured men were given first aid by the field surgeons. After the Ministers had been cared for, the surgeons dressed the wounds of those who had received minor bruises.

M. Berteaux's body was placed in a closed automobile and escorted from the field by a squadron of dragoons with swords at salute. Tens of thousands in that part of the field through which the automobile passed stood uncovered.

The body of the late Minister of War lies at the Ministry in the same room from which recently his predecessor, Gen. Brun, was buried.

The body has been viewed by the members of the family, the Ministers and intimate friends. The funeral, which is expected to take place on Friday, will be conducted with full national honors. M. Cruppi, Minister of War ad interim, has issued a general order that the army shall observe mourning for one month.

M. BERTEAUX' CAREER WAS NOTABLE RECORD.

Henry Maurice Berteaux was one of the most distinguished men in France engaged in political life. He is credited with having caused the fall of the Briand Ministry, through an interpellation. He had held the portfolio of Minister of War once before, but though he relinquished this, he had devoted himself to army affairs. He accepted that office again in the Monis Cabinet, which was formed March 2 of this year. He acquired a fortune in finance and it was no secret that he cherished an ambition to become candidate for President in 1913. His death is especially untimely for France, as, with M. Cruppi, he was directing the present delicate Moroccan question, which is still far from settlement.

Almost from its inception, Mr. Berteaux exhibited a keen interest in aviation, and as early as 1905 he made an ascent in the Lebaudy military balloon. Much of the credit for the French army's pre-eminence in aviation was given to Berteaux.

Henry Maurice Berteaux was appointed on March 2, of this year. He was born on June 3, 1852, in Saint les Fesses. By profession Berteaux was an agent de charge or an official stock broker, dependent upon Government sanction for his business existence. He acquired a fortune on the Bourse, and with very radical socialist ideas, came to sit in the Chamber of Deputies as a representative of Versailles in that body in 1893, as a member of the Republicans. On November 15, 1904, in the Combes Cabinet, General Andre resigned his portfolio, and the office of minister of war came to M. Berteaux.

Berteaux kept his portfolio a year, at the end of which time he, too, put in his resignation. During that year M. Combes had left the premiership, but M. Rouvier, his successor, kept Berteaux in his cabinet. The latter did nothing of particular note while minister. He assigned his active duties to General Peigne. He showed himself opposed to duelling by ordering the arrests of Generals Hagron and Percin, who yearned for each other's blood in the spring of 1905. He appeared at the functions connected with the transferring of the remains of John Paul Jones and welcomed the American General Chaffee when he went to Paris to review the troops. On the subject of the Morocco troubles of that year he made a guarded speech, in which he said that France was prepared for a fight if one had to come. He showed the interest that proved fatal to him, the interest in the development of flying, by ascending in one of the big army dirigibles from Toulon about a month before he resigned the first time. Berteaux was a member of the Legion of Honor.

Train, the pilot of the monoplane, is a small constructor, who made a machine for his personal use, with which he flew to Mourmelon recently. He had already received an order to construct fifteen machines for the Ministries of War and the Colonies. His monoplane had a lifting surface of 20 square metres. Its length was 11 metres and its spread eight. Train was looked upon as a careful, skilful and experienced pilot and was well thought of by the military aviators at Chalons.

Wireless greetings were exchanged between the German Emperor's yacht Hohenzollern and the new Cunarder, Ascania of the New Canadian service.

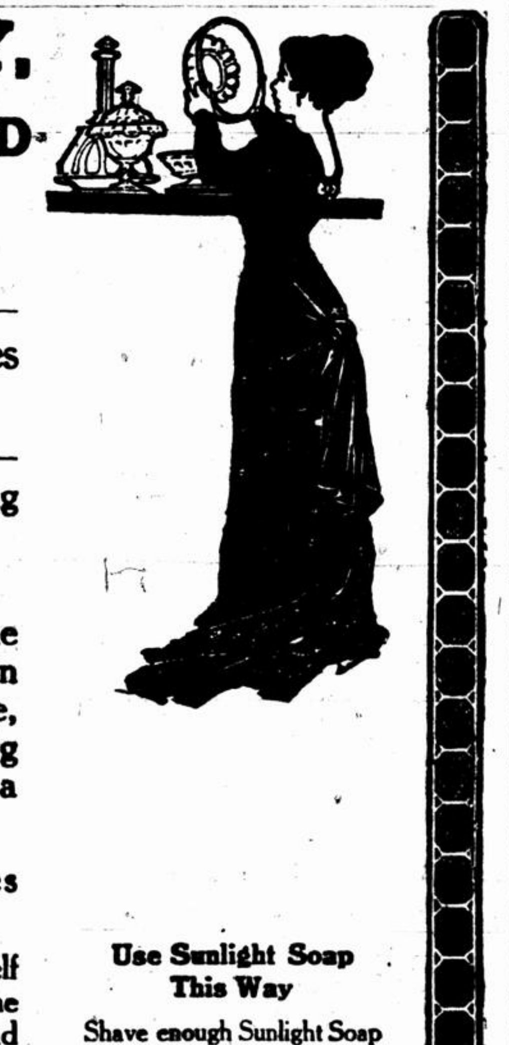
ABOLISH GREASY, STREAKY CHINA AND GLASSWARE



IMMACULATE table service—sparkling glass and china—gives added zest to any meal.

Most people have bright, glistening glassware—they can see any streakiness when they are drying it and that's why it's clean.

But how about the china?

It may look clean—but it's not transparent. No one can tell for certain whether there's a blue scum on it or not—and, as a rule, it doesn't get the polishing that gives the sparkle to a tumbler.

SUNLIGHT SOAP
SUNLIGHT SOAP

Sunlight Soap washes dishes absolutely clean.

You can prove that for yourself—try it on glassware where the transparency will let you see and then you can judge how it removes grease and uncleanliness.

Sunlight Soap does not depend on polishing to make dishes clean—it does the work itself and you simply dry your dishes afterwards to remove the surplus moisture—not to rub away the grease that the soap has failed to get.

Use Sunlight Soap according to directions—try it just once—and convince yourself that it will do twice as much as other soaps.

Use Sunlight Soap This Way

Shave enough Sunlight Soap into a pan of lukewarm water to make a copious suds. When the dishes have been washed well, rinse in good hot water, and dry with a perfectly dry towel. You do not need to polish—simply dry thoroughly, and see that all lint from the towel is fully removed.

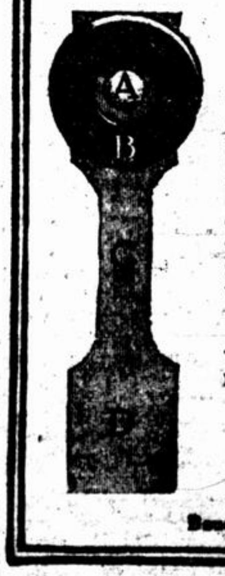
Corn Troubles Ended in 48 Hours



A Blue-jay plaster is applied in a jiffy, and the pain of the corn ends at once. You simply forget it. The bit of B & B wax gently loosens the corn. In two days you lift it out. No pain, no soreness, no inconvenience.

Compare that with old-time ways. Can you wonder that Blue-jay is now being used on five million corns a year? Can you wonder that Blue-jay now outsells—by fifty times over—any other treatment known? People who once try Blue-jay simply laugh at corns.

See the Picture

B is soft felt to protect the corn and keep the wax from spreading.
C is the comfortable narrow band which goes around the toe.

Can. Power Buys Carsley Plant--Stocks Up--Fire Hurts Porcupine Stocks

POWER 154, SHAWINIGAN UP DETROIT 72¼

Wall Street was not active this morning, but it was strong, some of the best prices of the movement being scored.

Locally Power was a very strong feature and Detroit also woke up a little, no doubt on the strength of the merger report in Saturday's Star.

The buying of Power was pretty general and there seemed to be considerable desire to get stock. The annual report will be out shortly.

In regard to Detroit there was no fresh news but there seemed to be a pretty good demand for the stock.

As Power moved up to 154, Shawinigan took a spurt and crossed 114.

Ogilvie was higher.

EXPECT POWER BY OCTOBER 1ST

One of the reasons for the rise in Power and Shawinigan stocks to-day was the news that the Shawinigan's new transmission line will be delivering power by October 1st. This is earlier than expected.

FINANCIAL PERSONALS.

Mr. C. R. Hosmer is returning on the Empress of Ireland.

Mr. R. E. Harris has gone East.

Mr. J. W. McConnell is in Chicago.

Mr. Leonard A. Dessar, of Deutsch, Schlesinger and Co., of London, and New York, is in the city.

300 for Union

The C.P.R. prophets will have to look out. A writer in a bankers' magazine predicts 300 for Union Pacific.

"STREET" NET EARNINGS ARE LOOKING UP

The April statement, out to-day, shows a surplus of $121,252, which is nearly $12,000 or 10.90 per cent. better than last year.

For the seven months the surplus is $724,489, an increase of $52,484, or 7.81 per cent. over a year ago.

Gross earnings for the seven months were $2525,030, an increase of $239,865 or 10½ per cent. over 1910.

At the present rate the company should be able to show by far the best annual report in its history.

TO PASS ITS DIVIDEND.

Kansas City Railway & Light Co. will pass the quarterly dividend due June 1 on the preferred stock.

LISTED ON THURSDAY.

Next Thursday the Sawyer-Massey stocks will be listed, including 15,000 shares common and 15,000 preferred.

In Wall Street

A wire to E. and C. Randolph said: Amongst specialties, Gen. Elec. was extremely strong, and there were continued rumors of the coming cutting of a melon.

Union, Reading, Atch., and similar stocks led the advance in the railway section, while the Hill stocks, which have been somewhat laggards of late, rose sharply on the glowing crop prospects in their territory and good rains over Sunday.

Steel rose to a new high record on this movement, and the strength was very well distributed throughout the entire list, both railroads and industrials sharing in due proportion.

V. C. Chemical continued weak, and the reports of poor earnings and a bad annual report persisted.

LOSSES FROM FAILURES OF BANKS SMALL

Reviewing Canadian bank failures, Mr. G. H. Perley, M.P., said in the House of Commons that the average loss to the public since Confederation has been $155,225 a year. He said that the average loss in the States as a result of bank failures was $1,155,706 a year.

Mr. Perley showed this statement of the losses sustained:

	Loss to public.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET.

Miller & Co. — We regard the situation as safer than any we have witnessed since the decease of Mr. Harriman, now almost two years since, and we believe that prices will easily and naturally move to a considerably higher plane.

Laidlaw & Co. — So long as present crop prospects are maintained and no accidental adverse factors develop, there seems no danger of any pronounced reaction of prices, while all the probabilities point to a continuance of the upward tendency.

Henry Clews: While the market has already advanced sufficiently to justify caution in the selection of securities, I still believe that well selected stocks and bonds purchased on reactions will prove profitable investments.

Oswald Bros.' event s of the week indicate that the Mexican difficulty is pretty nearly at an end, and there really only remains overhanging the situation the decision in the American Tobacco case.

G. W. Farrell: The market is strong and active and looks like going higher. The buying of stocks appears to be strong.

CAN. POWER BUYS CARSLEY POWER PLANT

Mr. Robert Confirms Report of Deal--Near $500,000 Paid

Mr. E. A. Robert, vice-president of the Canadian Light & Power Co., confirmed the report to-day that his company had purchased the Central Heat, Light & Power Co., which was started some years ago by the late Mr. S. Carsley.

This company is a very prosperous concern, and has a large number of customers in the central district of the city within a radius of about a mile of the Star office.

The purchase price was said to be in the vicinity of $500,000.

Mr. Robert said that the purchase would enable the Canadian Power Co. to at once begin distributing power in the central district of Montreal.

HOLLINGER WAS $11,70; FIRE CAUSES DELAY

Hollinger, which closed at $13.15 bid on Saturday, sold as low as $11.70 to-day on news that fire had destroyed the plant.

"It might have been worse," said Mr. Henry Timmins this morning. "The loss may go as high as $125,000, but we do not mind that so much as we do the delay. The fire, I suppose, will put us back three months or so. Fortunately the new compressor plant escaped."

Rea was touched by the fire and sold off to $5.50.

25,000 R. & O. SHARES FOR LONDON LIST

As a result of the merger recently effected Richelieu stock will probably be listed on the London market.

The Furness syndicate, which, when all the deal is completed, will hold about 25,000 shares of R. & O., have engaged with the Richelieu directors not to market any of the stock in Canada until a year has elapsed and are understood to be making arrangements to list it in England.

There was no cash payment in the deal, whereby the Richelieu & Ontario, Northern and Inland companies were brought together. All the holdings in the two latter companies controlled by the English interests will be exchanged ultimately for R. & O. shares.

The work of valuating the Inland company's properties has been commenced. It is likely, however, that the appraisal will not be completed before the autumn of this year, until which time the deal, so far as these steamers are concerned, is still in abeyance as regards the actual amount involved.

REDUCES ITS DIVIDEND.

The New York & Queen's County Electric Light & Power Co. has declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent. on the preferred, a reduction of ¼ of 1 p.c. quarterly, payable June 1.

WINDERMERE.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

Now that the dust has settled down and the Steel shareholders have heard all there was to hear, discussion is renewed as to the immediate value of Steel stock.

Some claim 50 is a fair price for it; others claim as high as 65.

Mr. Plummer has not wholly commmittel himself on the dividend for the distant future; he is much too cautious and too wise to do that. What he said was this:

> "Our position in the matter of the dividend is briefly this: If we were not paying what is practically a dividend we should probably not begin its payment for six months yet; but having regard to the accumulated earnings of the two companies, to the very strong confidence we have that the Government will recognize the justice of our claim to a temporary extension of the rod bounty, in lieu of the expected duty, and to the prospects of this company when our plant is completed, the board sees no reason to discontinue, at present, the payment of the dividend."

It will be seen that the Steel president has wisely left himself a loophole in case of unforeseen developments.

There is no limit to the ingenuity of the stock promoters.

A London operator named George Beverley advertises a company to take over "valuable properties in Iceland," which is badly described as "an immensely rich country."

Perhaps he figures that the Iceland proposition will appeal to people in hot weather.

The firm of Price, McCormick & Co., failed eleven years ago to-morrow.

There were many Montreal creditors, who were in time paid in full as a result of the honorable action of Theodore Price.

The firm failed for millions and got a settlement, but Theodore Price went into cotton speculation again, re-made his fortune, and paid 100 cents on the dollar.

Enough Ore To Last 1,000 Years Or So

Mr. R. E. Harris, president of the Nova Scotia Steel Co., passed through Montreal yesterday on his way East.

Mr. Harris says that the company has an ore supply at Wabana which will last 1,000 years. Mr. Harris said that the Dominion Steel Co. had just as much as "Scotia."

In the West, he said, the people are talking of a 200,000,000 bushel wheat crop.

Fire Damage to the Mines in Porcupine

Russell E. Popham & Co. received the following wire regarding the damage by fire to the Pearl Lake Mines:

"Lost storehouse, office and stable; saved bunkhouse, cook camp, machinery and boilers; both shafts safe. Approximate loss, $3000 to $4000.

From the latest advices received, the mines most seriously affected are the Hollinger, Rea, McIntyre, Pearl Lake and West Dome.

J. P. MORGAN PLEASED WITH OIL DECISION

Special to The Montreal Star.

Wall Street, May 22. — A London special to the N.Y. World quotes J. P. Morgan on Standard Oil decision:

"You may quote me as saying—if you insist on something—that I consider the decision concerning Standard Oil entirely satisfactory; also that I expected it. The recent tone of the American market shows that it is correct. Now that's all I intend to say about business."

Asked about his plans, Mr. Morgan said: "I have just returned to London from a long trip on the Continent. I don't know how long I will remain here, or whether I will stay for the Coronation, or when I shall return to America. On May 31 I will go to Belfast to see the launching of the Titanic."

Mr. Morgan added that he never felt better in his life. He certainly looked well; he had a good color and a clear eye, and walked as briskly as a man much younger. He seemed to be in excellent humor.

EGG SUPPLIES HEAVY.

Receipts of eggs for the week were 16,078 cases, compared with 17,775 for the previous week, and 12,236 for the corresponding one a year ago. The arrivals since May 1st to date were 47,140 cases, as against 40,481 for the same period last year, showing an increase of 6,659 cases.

Supplies show a large increase over the same week last year, but notwithstanding this fact and the very warm weather, the market remains about steady. Sales of straight gathered stock in round lots were made at 18½c, to 19c; single cases, 19 1-2c to 20c., and selected stock 22 1-2c to 23c per dozen.

OVER $500,000 PAID IN BY HOLDERS

Over $500,000 has been paid in by subscribers to Russell Motor Car Co. preference convertible shares, shareholders having largely taken advantage of the right to make prepayment.

The whole amount of the preference stock is $800,000, of which only 20 per cent., or $160,000, is yet due, the first instalment having been payable on the 1st inst.

The preference shares have been selling at about 4 points premium over the price of issue, with the common at about 95.

486 Millions

The world's gold production for 1910 is placed at $486,000,000, a small increase over 1909.

CHATS ON CHANCE.

John Rogers & Co., of Liverpool, cabled to-day that consequent upon the recent reduction of prices and the increased supplies, the demand for both cattle and sheep in the Birkenhead market improved considerably, the business being brisk. Steers, both States and Canadian, from 12½ to 12c; wethers, 11¾ to 12c, and lambs, 13½ to 14c. Prices were very strong.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, says there is a development taking place in the province such as it has never previously seen.

"It is probable that five and a half million acres will be sown to wheat this year. All told, there will be something like two million acres of new breaking in the province. Double the acreage of last year will be sown to flax."

Commercial failures, last week in Canada, as reported by R. G. Dunn & Co., numbered 30 against 32 the prlevious week, and 14 last wek.

CHEESE PRICES EASIER.

Receipts of cheese for the week were 23,760 boxes, against 25,702 for the corresponding week of last year. Total receipts since May 1, 50,537 boxes, against 56,129 for the corresponding period of last year. The local market is quiet and easier, with finest western quoted at 11½ to 11⅝c.

BUTTER RECEIPTS HEAVIER.

Receipts of butter for the week were 12,981 packages, against 10,253 for the corresponding week of last year. Total receipts since May 1, 31,824 packages, against 26,732 fo rthe corresponding period of last year. The local market is quiet and steady, finest being quoted at 21½c to 22c.

COARSE GRAIN PRICES.

Coarse grain quotations: Corn, American No. 3 yellow, 60 to 61c; oats, No. 2 Canadian western, 41½ to 42c; extra No. 1 feed, 41 to 41½c; No. 3 Canadian western, 40½ to 41c; No. 2 local white, 40 to 40½c; No. 3 local white, 39½ to 40c; No. 4 local white, 38½ to 39c.

HAY IN BIG DEMAND.

Hay prices are strong owing to the continued good demand from all sources.

Extra No. 2 hay, $12 to $12.50; ordinary No. 2 hay, $11 to $11.50; No. 3 hay, $10 to $10.50; clover, mixed, $9 to $9.50; pure clover, $8 to $8.50.

Rain Wanted to Make Record Berry Crop.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Catharines, Ont., May 22.—The tremendous heat of the past week has sent growth along wonderfully, and growers say that if good rain come now, there will be the earliest home-grown strawberries on record. Meantime plants are in a serious condition for want of rain, and it is feared the young growth of all kinds will be burned out. With plenty of rain strawberries and raspberries will be an immense crop.

PREDICT RISE IN CEMENT.

Winnipeg, May 22.—The Tribune today will say that another advance in the price of cement will be announced within the next few days.

WINNIPEG WHEAT A SHADE LOWER

Winnipeg wheat prices were lower today and cables are still far out of line, despite the fact that Liverpool showed an advance of ⅜d.

The Canadian vnsible supply of wheat decreased 856,000 bushels for the week, the total now being 7,514,000 bushels against 7,828,000 bushels a year ago.

The visible supply in the United States decreased 506,000 bushels for the week, making the total 24,896,000 bushels against a decrease of 842,000 bushels a year ago, when the aggregate was 22,029,000 bushels. General rains were reported over both the great wheat belts in the United States, and aCnada has also had a good wetting. Prices up to 1.30 p.m.:

HOG PRICES HAVE ANOTHER 25c DIP

Toronto, May 22.—Union Stock Yards—The cattle market this morning was quite brisk with an average rise of ten cents all round.

The following are the earliest quotations: Export cattle $5.65 to $5.90, export bulls $4.75 to $5.00, butchers cattle $8.70, 1,000 weight, $5.65 to $5.85, canners $1.50 to $2.25, milkers $50 to $75, calves $6.00 to $6.75.

Hogs (fed and watered) $6.15 to $6.20, hogs (f.o.b) $5.85 to $5.90.

MAY WHEAT HIGHER OPTIONS ARE LOWER

From a Special Correspondent on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, May 22.—Wheat was unsettled, with sales of May at 95 3-8 to 96 1-2 and off to 95 3-8 again. July at 87 3-4 to 88, off to 87 3-8 to 86 1-2, and September 87 7-8 to 86 1-2. Closings Saturday were at 94 3-4 May; 88 1-8 July; and 87 3-8 September.

Crop advices were conflicting in character. Northern Indiana sent in samples of the new plant that was heading out, and they were full of "Hessian fly." Another section of Indiana and in the northern part reports prospects for 40 bushels per acre.

The principal bull help in wheat was the strength at Liverpool, where gains of 3-8 to 1-2c were made, which was a partial reflection of the advance of 1c at Berlin, and of a gain of 1c at Buda Pest. Paris was 1-4 to 3-4c higher. Antwerp unchanged.

There was general covering by shorts at Liverpool on frosts in Northern Russia, which caused holders of both Australian and Argentine cargoes and parcels to ask advances.

Russian weather was unfavorable. A large part of the world's shipments went direct to the continent—10,288,000 bushels out of a total of 16,280,000 bushels shipped. The latter compares with 14,832,000 bushels the previous week, and 10,084,000 bushels one year ago. There was a big increase in the amount of breadstuffs on ocean passage for the week, the gain being 3,880,000 bushels, making the total now afloat 58,576,000 bushels, against 49,680,000 bushels one year ago. Liverpool stocks decreased 48,000,000 bushels one year ago. Liverpool stocks decreased 48,000 bushels for the past week to a total of 1,792,000 bushels against 3,432,000 one year ago.

Primary and North-Western receipts were also smaller than the corresponding period one year ago. South-Western receipts were larger than a year ago, 600,000 and 680,000 respectively.

60-MILE GALE FANS FIRE IN GOLD CAMP

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22.—One despatch from Porcupine said that the fires were all out by Saturday night, but another on Sunday did not speak of the fires as being extinguished. It said. "Big forest fires raging all through the Porcupine district and a sixty mile an hour gale has been blowing in a north easterly direction, and many serious fires at the mines are reported. It is impossible to determine the extent of the damage because of the destruction of the telephone lines. Arrivals from the Standard Mines, Imperial and West Dome say that the camp buildings of the mines are in danger. Latest reports from the Dome Extension and Foley O'Brien were that the miners have been ordered out to fight the flames which threaten on all sides. The town of South Porcupine has had a narrow escape and even at the present time it is impossible to say whether it will be saved.

"All of the guests of the King George Hotel have moved out and the majority of them have taken their baggage across the lake in the launches.

"Counter fires are being set and bucket brigades are doing valiant service. Some small stores at the western extremity of the town have been completely consumed ,and a dark pall of smoke hangs over everything. The hospital at Golden City has been destroyed, but there seems to be slight probability of any further damage at the north end of the lake.

"I wild gale is blowing across Porcupine Lake, and the launches are having great difficulty in transporting more than a few passengers at a time. The greatest excitement prevails."

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, May 22, — A Porcupine special says: "Ignited by the bush fires, the dynamite magazine on the Hollinger property exploded, breaking the pipes, and the whole plant was gutted by the flames. Mr. Noah Timmins, who is here, said that the loss on the Hollinger is $70,000. The buildings on the McIntyre property have also been burned.

"The district around Pearl Lake has been swept by the flames and the settlement around Aura Lake has been completely wiped out.

"Two houses and a general store were burned about Porcupine. The schoolhouse at Porcupine, reported burned on Friday night, was saved.

"Construction gangs on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway fought the fires on the Right of Way.

"It rained hard on Friday night, and this considerably checked the flames. All the fires were out by Saturday night."

NEW HANGMAN IS ENGAGED OUT OF TWENTY-FIVE MEN

Man Selected to Hang Grevola on Friday Reports to the Sheriff To-day.

In readiness for the fatal work next Friday morning, when Frank Grevola is to be hanged for murder, the hangman who has been engaged for the gruesome task arrived in Montreal last night and reported to the sheriff this morning. He is not the man who sprung the trap for Timothy Candy last November, but is a professional whose home is in Detroit.

There were twenty-five applicants for the position of hangman next Friday, and this was the man selected. The majority of applications were from the west, especially from ranchers and cattlemen.

Word was received from Ottawa this afternoon, that the Department of Justice has declined to interfere and that Grevola will hang on Friday. The application of Mr. Dan McAvoy, for a postponement of the date of sentence has been denied and Grevola has no further hope of a reprieve.

The scaffold was completed this morning and Father Caramello, has applied for the body of the condemned man, but as he is not a relative of Grevola, his request has been referred to the Attorney-General. Should it be refused, the body will be interred in the yard of the jail.

All the cards of admission to the execution have been issued; they number thirty one in all, being confined to the press and officials, whose presence is necessary.

TWO HUNDRED ARE KILLED AT TORREON.

Eagle Pass, Texas, May 22.—In a desperate fight between Mexican insurrectos and Chinamen at Torreon, two hundred and twenty-five Chinamen were killed. This information was received here to-day by Sam Wah, owner of the International Hotel at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, across the river from here.

BLAME EMPLOYES FOR CITY'S IMMORALITY

At to-day's session of the Men and Religion Movement in Emmanuel Church, Mr. J. H. Roberts, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, made the assertion that the employers of labor had much to do with the immorality of the city.

Rev. Dr. Sullivan warned the promoters of the movement not to expect the churches to finance them.

HEAT CAUSED GROUNDING OF STEAMER BELLEVILLE

The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company's steamer Belleville ran aground yesterday opposite Iroquois on the American side, while on her way from Montreal. The excessive heat caused a fog that came up so quickly, that the steamer must have lost her bearings as she ran on the bank. The authorities expressed an opinion that the ship is little damaged.

Wants $15.000 for Her Husband's Life

Before Justice Lafontaine and a jury, was started, this morning, the case of Mrs. E. H. Thurston against the Montreal Park and Island Railway. The plaintiff seeks $15,000 from the company as damages resulting from the death of her husband, crushed by a car of the company, at Notre Dame de Graces, in August last.

Wants Commission for Sale.

Mr. E. W. Villeneuve has entered an action for $60,000 against Mr. J. E Globensky. The sum claimed is for commission on the sale of a mine which the plaintiff alleges he negotiated for the defendant and which the latter refused to conclude when the purchaser was ready to close the deal

His Majesty's Closed.

His Majesty's Theatre will not be open again until June 6th and 7th. It had been intended to have the stock company continue this week with "The Blue Mouse," but owing to the continued hot weather, it has been decided to close.

Body of Suicide Recovered.

A jurors' inquest will be held to-morrow to investigate the death of Arthur Desrochers, aged 19, of 485 Beaudry street, whose body was recovered from the river opposite Dominion Park, after being in the water for two weeks, yesterday afternoon. He had threatened suicide.

Hon. C. R. Devlin Here To-morrow.

Hon C. R. Devlin, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, will be at the Provincial Government offices in the Court House, Montreal, to-morrow to meet several delegations who have asked for an interview.

HONOR DEAD HERO; CHILDREN THRONG MONUMENT FOOT

Blue and white lilacs, garlands, and laurels decorate the Maisonneuve monument to-day in commemoration of the day when Dallard des Ormeaux, and the brave young men who surrounded him, sacrificed their lives at the long Sault while saving Montreal from the Iroquois.

In front of the Maisonneuve monument to-day is a brass bowl, resting on a little table which is covered by a Union Jack, and many people passing through Place d'Armes Square dropped contributions into the bowl to aid in the erection of a monument to the hero to whom Montreal owes so much.

On either side of the brass bowl stood a guard of Mount St. Louis cadets who made a picturesque appearance. The guards were changed every half hour, but even for that period it was a trying experience for the uniformed boys to stand out in the sun. They were posted immediately in front of the bas relief of the Maisonneuve monument representing Dollard, and the heroes surrounding him battling with the Indians.

An imposing demonstration around the monument this afternoon. Ten thousand school children marched into the square, where two little children, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. J. C. Walsh, and the son of Mr. J. B. Lagace deposited floral tributes near the bas relief of the monument. Delegates of various schools followed presenting cards on which were inscribed the total amount of subscriptions from each school.

Music was furnished by the Mount St. Louis cadet band, and addresses were given by Messrs. J. B. Lagace, Rev. Father John Bourgeois, S.J., Rev. Dr. Barclay, president of the Protestant School Commission; J. V. Desaulniers and W. D. Lighthall, K.C.

WOULD FLOAT LOAN FOR CITY WORKS

Council Suggests Six Per Cent. Flotation Rather Than Treasury Bill.

A report will be place before the Council, this afternoon, by the Controllers recommending the adoption of a by-law authorizing a loan of $2,500,000 for permanent work. The controllelrs suggest that the loan be made by Treasury Bill, but this does not meet with the approval of the council, who are unfamiliar with this line of business and would recommend a temporary loan at 6 per cent. The report will be sent back to the Controllers.

The recommendation of the Controllers asking for permission to make a loan of two million dollars with which to purchase the Molson property for park purposes and other small parks in different portions of the city come up for considerable discussion by the aldermen, this morning.

Where there's a Wheel There's a Way

There's a Way to SUMMER ENJOYMENT.

When you have very little time to spare, and are anxious to get to—
The Bowling Green,
The Tennis Court,
The Golf Links,
The Baseball Field,

you need not wait on street corners for delayed cars if you have a bicycle.

With a wheel you are independent.

You have the satisfaction of a man paddling his own canoe.

You are not subject to time—street railway time,—or to circumstances, such as delayed traffic.

But no true sportsman will use a cheaply made Bicycle.

Any more than he would use cheap bowls, or a cheap racquet, or golf ball, or baseball bat.

Cheap Bicycles are cheaply-made.

The "CLEVELAND" Cushion Frame is expensively made, yet not expensive.

Frame of best seamless steel tubing, re-inforced at all joints. Four coats of enamel over coat of rust-proof. Bright parts plated over copper. Best piano wire spokes, heavily plated and rust-resisting. First quality tires, rims, and saddle. "Hercules" Coaster Brake,—simple and powreful. Every machine rigidly inspected — and guaranteed.

Use a Cushion Frame, and have Comfort and Pleasure with Summer Enjoyment.

GOVERNMENT WILL OPPOSE APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Determined to Fight United Shoe Machinery Company's Effort to Prevent Investigation.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Ottawa, May 22.—The Dominion Government is taking steps to oppose the appeal to the Privy Council to be made by the United Shoe Machinery Company.

Under the Combines Act, a board of investigation was appointed to inquire into the operations of this concern. It was restrained by interlocutory injunction, which has not been continued by the recent judgment of the Court of King's Bench.

As the company intends to ask leave to appeal to the Privy Council, the Government will oppose such leave being granted.

The matter is recognized as establishing a precedent and affecting the whole operation of the Anti-Combines Act. The proceedings will be closely watched as being of vital importance.

SIR WILFRID'S ATTITUDE UPON THE PREFERENCE

Will Not Discuss Matter, But London Learns He Is Not Prepared for Conncessions.

New York, May 22.—A New York Herald cable from London says:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when seen today, would not discuss Canada's position on questions coming up at the Colonial Conference, which will open on Tuesday, but British politicians hear he is just as strong as ever for colonial autonomy and may be counted on to stand like a rock against the new Imperialism.

His companions believe he will make a great fight for a larger measure of official recognition for the Consuls-General stationed at Ottawa, so that their semi-diplomatic status may be acknowledged and that they may take places socially commensurate with the importance of their positions.

In view of the reciprocity agreement pending between the United States and Canada, English newspapers and publicists are exceedingly curious to know what stand Sir Wilfrid will take on the question of British preference, which seems likely to be the leading topic of the Conference, but the Canadian Premier remains "mum."

To Stand by Present Preference.

If one may judge by what one hears, he will stand by the preference already accorded to British manufacturers, but no more. This will be the first protest against further reductions in favor of English products.

Another qustion to be brought forward by the Canadians will be the recognition of Canadian citizenship in all parts of the Empire. At present England requires a residence of six years before an alien can become a citizen, and Caanda only three years, but Canadian citizenship is not recognized here. The Conference probably will agree to recommend a compromise of five years in England and the colonies.

The Colonial Premiers were the King's guests at luncheon Sunday.

There was a dinner in their honor given by the Prime Minister and a reception to the Colonial visitors at the Foreign Office last night.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier lunched on Saturday with the Colonial Secretary, and dined on Saturday night with Sir Gilbert Parker.

The Mayflower Mills and Elevator were destroyed yesterday, causing a loss placed at $220,000.

AGITATION FOR REFORM IN LIBEL LAW IN ENGLAND

Judge of King's Bench Admits Necessity for Change—Present Situation Hard on Papers.

London, May 22. — Some recent awards of juries in libel actions against newspapers, in which the newspaper proprietors have been mulcted in heavy damages, have started an agitation for the reform of the law of libel.

Mr. Justice Scrutton, judge of the King's Bench Division, High Court of Justice, in a recent speech, remarked that public opinion had been shocked by some verdicts given in libel actions. "But," he added, "the juries alone gave the verdicts, and it is not always the judges who are responsible for the misfortunes of newspaper proprietors."

Law of Fair Comment.

When the law of fair comment was thoroughly established, he thought, newspapers would occupy a better position than they do now. An innocent expression of opinion, although the jury disagreed with it as fair comment, ought to be allowed, even though derogatory to certain persons concerned.

Although extremely heavy, the sums newspapers have to pay as the result of the decisions of juries, are nothing compared with the amount paid annually to settle threatened actions. Hardly a day passes that London newspapers do not have to pay out large sums in settlement of claims for alleged libel, doing so because it is considered cheaper than fighting a case against a man who might not be able to pay the costs if he happened to lose.

Proprietors to Urge Reform.

Only last week an illustrated paper paid a waitress $500 in settlement of a claim for damages based on a comic picture labelled, "The stout waitress." A waitress in a city restaurant entered an action claiming damages for ridicule, and the paper was advised to pay, although the artist was ready to bring forward the model who sat for the picture, and was prepared to swear that he had never seen the city waitress, who claimed that the picture was a caricature of her.

Those that do go before a jury have at least recently ended in the assessment of heavy damages against the newspaper, sometimes for the most trivial comment.

There are a number of newspaper proprietors in Parliament, and they have undertaken to urge a reform of the law.

MOUNT ST. LOUIS CADETS HAVE SMART INSPECTION.

In the presence of four thousand people, assembled on the Champ de Mars on Saturday afternoon, the Mount St. Louis Cadets gave an admirable performance. Never was a drill parade greeted with such tremendous applause as that accorded the Cadets. In spite of the heat, little shavers of about 12 years old held to their work is the blazing sun for close on to an hour. Their drill does not only consist of the regular movements, but furthermore "physical culture drill" with the rifle.

The Cadets left Mount St. Louis at three o'clock sharp, and reached Champ de Mars via Sherbrooke, St. Denis and Craig.

The four battalions of Cadets formed an effective force of 640, and were inspected by Colonel Roy, who conducted the manoeuvres.

Among the spectators were Mayor Guerin, Alderman Dandurand, and numerous other members of the City Council, who all seemed to take a very deep interest in the performance, and were quite generous with their applause.

About 4.30 p.m., the Cadets started homeward, going along St. James to Beaver Hall Hill, thence east on St. Catherine street to St. Denis, whence they turned north to Sherbrooke, and reached home without showing any effects of their rather strenuous endeavor.

At the conclusion of the review and salute, the Cadets doffed headdresses and gave three hearty cheers for their Majesties, such as only boys can give.

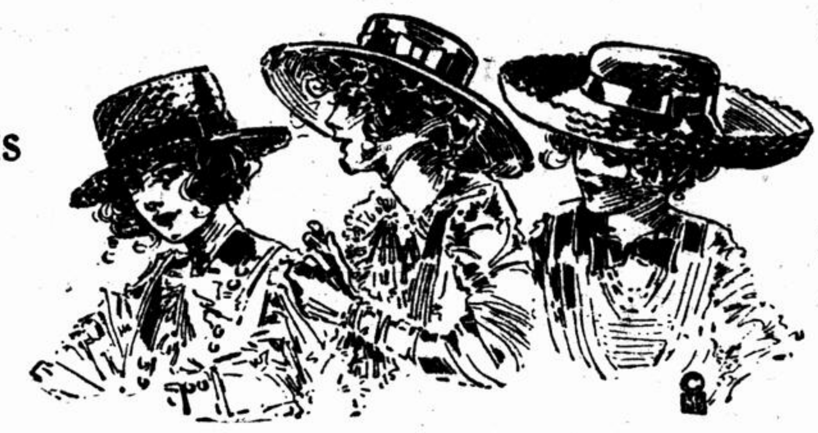
On the Eve of an "Outing Holiday"---Tuesday's News

May we enquire whether you are properly equipped for a holiday? In this strenuous age, one is apt to forget, perhaps the very article that will most add to his or her ease and comfort. If we might indulge our sense of humor, we might truthfully say that the "Outing Requisites" which we offer for sale to-morrow, affords you ease and comfort in two very important ways,—both from a physical and financial standpoint.

New York "Sailor" Hats

On Sale Tuesday

98c



Continuation To-morrow of our American Wash Skirt Sale

$1.95

Look at the illustrations here given, and if you can honestly tell us that you wouldn't look sweet in one of these simple Sailors, we really will have difficulty in believing it.

They can be had in large sized shapes, with "straight" or "turned up" brim, in White, Burnt and Black Jumbo Braid, trimmed with soft fold and bows of White and Colored Mulls.

If you would return to those days of girlish simplicity, wear on your Outing, one of our New York "Sailors" on sale Tuesday.......... 98c

We still have about 200 of these delightful "Ladies' Outing Skirts," which we intend clearing to-morrow. They come in good quality Linen, Poplin and Pique, in both white and natural colors. As regards style, these Wash Skirts are the very latest in plain gored, and side pleated effects. Some of these have folds, and others are decorated prettily with buttons. All are very well tailored and have an extra deep hem. Waist bands are in sizes 22 to 36 inches, and the length varies from 36 to 44 inches. The proper values are from $2.50 to $3.50. All for sale Tuesday at.......... $1.95

Delightfully Cool Wash Dresses for the "Outing"

Tuesday being the Day before the Holiday, we have arranged a Special Sale of Summer Wash Dresses, believing this to be the most appropriate attire for an excursion to the country. They are daintily made up of Ginghams, Poplins, Fancy Muslins, in the latest New York styles, which include several in a charming negligee effect, which will keep you beautifully cool and much enhance the enjoyment of your holiday. The colors are: Grey, Blue, Tan, Champagne, White, Pink and Ox-Blood. Picture these dresses with their low or high neck, and simple Kimona Sleeves, then you can easily understand how really lovely they are.

VERY SPECIAL VALUES TUESDAY AT $2.95, $3.95 and $5.00

We are anxious that you should see these—they are so good and reasonable.

Japanese Matting an Ideal Summer Floor Covering

In this warm sultry weather the very sight of a large heavy rug on the floor, makes one feel hot and uncomfortable. That you may live in a cool, hygenic atmosphere, we would suggest your taking up those weighty Axminsters and Orientals and, for the summer, replace them with one of these charming Japanese Matting Rugs, which, in their quaint Oriental designs and texture, create an air of delightful leiure, characteristic of the East.

We cordially invite you to call and inspect them. Regarding sizes and price, these rugs are remarkably moderate, as will be een by the following:

Size 1 yard x 2 yards, costs only, each..........	$ .50
Size 2 yards x 2 yards, costs only, each..........	1.00
Size 2 yards x 3 yards, costs only, each..........	1.50
Size 3 yards x 3 yards, costs only, each..........	2.25
Size 3 yards x 4 yards, costs only, each..........	3.00

We also carry a fine assortment of Scotch Reversible Rugs, which are equally appropriate for town and country.
