World News In Brief

Honolulu, June 15.—(P)—A vast haze still hovered over the middle Pacific today, covering possibly 2,000,000 square miles.

Scientists say it isn't an atomic mist since geiger counters showed no radioactivity.

Just nature on a binge, they speculated. The finger of suspicion was pointed at massive Manna Loa, still spouting fire and brimstone as it enters its third eruptive week.

Calcutta, June 15.—(Reuters)—Food and medical supplies are being dropped from the air at Darjeeling and Kalimpong for the hill districts' 400,000 population marooned by the last few days' cyclonic storm, the worst in Bengal for 50 years.

Landslides have claimed 45 lives and caused injuries to 20 in Darjeeling, a west Bengal commune confirmed today.

Bonn, June 15.—(P)—Western Germany agreed today to join the Council of Europe, made up of representatives of non-communist governments. By a vote of 220 to 152 the bundestag, lower house of the west German parliament, insured Germany membership in an international political organization for the first time since Hitler bolted the League of Nations.

Ottawa, June 15.—(P)—The executive secretary of the Latvian relief association says 1,200,000 Baltic citizens have been forcibly removed to Russian concentration camps.

Bonn, June 15.—(P)—Four more communists were suspended from the West German Parliament today for provoking the fist fight which broke up last Tuesday's parliamentary session.

Max Reimann, communist party chief in West Germany, was suspended Tuesday as the leader of the demonstration. He was barred from the next 30 sessions of Parliament.

Hong Kong, June 15.—(P)—Typhus, deadly fever spread by lice, has broken out in communist Shanghai, a delayed report from the Shanghai public health review revealed today.

Ottawa, June 15.—(P)—One of Canada's second world war heroes will be the army's next deputy chief of staff.

Headquarters announced today that Brig. J. P. E. Bernatchez, 39, of Quebec City, will take over the post Aug. 1, succeeding Brig. W. J. McGill, veteran soldier.

Madrid, June 15.—(Reuters)—The monarch, Duke of Valencia, was acquitted by a military court here today of organizing underground propaganda against the Franco regime.

The court also acquitted a printer who appeared with the 35-year-old Duchess on the same charge, but imposed prison sentences on three other Spaniards.

Labor Survives Nine Votes In Long Commons Session

London, June 15.—(P)—The House of Commons quit work in the gray light of dawn today after a 16-hour, 20-minute session. Temperatures were low during the long debate as the government won nine votes, beating down Conservative Liberal attempts to repeal gasoline taxes.

The Labor party has a statistical margin of eight votes in the House. Whips got M.P.'s into the voting lobbies in time to muster victories by from 11 to 17 votes. Many members of both sides were absent.

The first victory staved off, 302 to 288, a motion to void the government 9d-a-gallon (12 cents) boost which doubled the gasoline tax.

The government has rolled up 22 victories against one inconsequential defeat since the new Parliament met March 6th. The feat has revived speculation that Labor now has a good chance to survive into next year.

Longest Parliament session was one of 41½ hours that ended Feb. 2nd, 1881. The post-war record is 21 hours 45 minutes ending July 21st, 1948, when the steel nationalization bill was passed.

Canadians' Deposits In Banks Grow

Montreal, June 15.—(P)—J. U. Boyer, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, said today that more Canadians have more money in the chartered banks than ever before and the average account is higher.

In an address to the annual meeting of the association, Mr. Boyer said that at March 31, 1950, the public had $6,971,000,000 in nearly 8,000,000 deposit accounts.

This was an increase of $426,000,000, or 6½ per cent, in a year.

Savings were up $308,000,000 and current accounts $118,000,000. The number of accounts increased 365,000 between Sept. 30, 1948, and Sept. 30, 1949, and the average deposit was $873 compared with $828 in 1948.

In savings alone, the average account moved up from $532 in 1945 to $637 in 1949.

Total deposits in chartered banks reached a record at March 31 of $8,307,000,000, a gain of 5½ per cent in a year. Bank assets also set a record at $8,338,000,000, an increase of nearly five per cent over those at March 31, 1949.

Current loans in Canada, an index of business activities, stood at $2,218,000,000 at March 31, up $192,000,000 in the year and more than double the corresponding figure for 1940.

Debts to individual accounts, an indication of the high level of business, reached $28,460,000,000 in the first four months of the year, compared with $27,040,000,000 in the same period of 1949.

Chartered bank investments in securities of all kinds were $4,453,000,000 up $168,000,000 over the same date last year.

Referring to job-creating investment opportunities in Canada, Mr. Boyer gave as an illustration the $150,000,000 in venture capital being spent by 240 companies in oil development in western Canada, particularly in Alberta, this year.

Much of this risk money came from outside Canada and in its wake flowed jobs, people, new industries and the expansion of old industries, he said.

There will be $125,000,000 in new buildings in Alberta this year as a direct result of the oil investment—stores, houses, churches, schools—all making jobs and production.

"In the new discoveries of oil in western Canada," continued Mr. Boyer, "the mineral finds of Chibougamau, the iron and titanium of Quebec and Labrador, in the uranium of the great north-west, the gold and copper and other minerals of northern Ontario and Quebec, British Columbia and Newfoundland and also in the farms of the Prairies, the forests and fisheries elsewhere in Canada, are opportunities almost fabulous."

The court also acquitted a printer who appeared with the 35-year-old Duchess on the same charge, but imposed prison sentences on three other Spaniards.

Twenty-Two Persons Are Killed, 15 Or 16 Others Are Missing—Possibility Of Sabotage Is Investigated.

Bahrain Island, Persian Gulf, June 15.—(P)—Another big French passenger plane—the second in two days—crashed into the shark-infested Persian Gulf near here last night. At least 22 persons were killed in the new crash and 15 or 16 persons still are missing.

Important political persons were reported among the passengers.

A crash of another Air France plane at almost the same spot Tuesday killed 46 persons. Since both planes were en route from Indo-China, where communists lead a revolt against the French, the possibility of sabotage has not been discarded.

Thirteen survivors, all French citizens, were rescued last night and this morning, including the five crew members. There were either 50 or 51 persons aboard.

The four-engined Air France C-54 Skymaster, bound from Saigon, Indo-China, to Paris, crashed only a half-mile from the point where 46 persons were lost in the ditching two days ago of a sister ship flying from Indo-China.

(Air France said in Paris a dispatch from Karachi, Pakistan, the plane's last stop before last night's crash, reported that 43 passengers and eight crew members were aboard the ship. First reports in Paris had said 45 persons were aboard.)

Those rescued today included five crew members.

The circumstances of both crashes were similar. Both planes went down as they were preparing to land at Bahrain, 20 miles off Saudi Arabia's east coast. Each sent a last message announcing preparations to land, then was heard from no more.

Bad weather conditions prevailed on both occasions in this area of sudden, strong storms.

The plane was lying in about 30 feet of water. Searchers believed the bodies of most of the missing were trapped inside it. Early today a crane barge was moored over the submerged hulk in an effort to lift it from the water intact.

Last night's disaster brought to more than 100 the number of persons dead or missing in French air crashes in two days. Of these, 46 died in the first crash off Bahrain Tuesday. At least 37 are dead or missing from last night's crash.

Another 16 are missing from a French military plane which disappeared while on a flight between two cities in Madagascar. Three more persons were killed yesterday in the crash of a private plane near Constantine, North Africa.

Bahrain, a rich oil producer, is an island British protectorate of about 270 square miles in area. In addition to its production of petroleum, it is a port for fishing and pearling boats.

Last night's crash came only a few hours after the plane involved in the first accident off Bahrain had been brought to land from its resting place about three miles off the shore.

Twenty-eight bodies were found inside the fuselage. Eight bodies had been picked out of the sea and six men had been rescued. One of these, chief pilot Jean Sladek, later died in Bahrain hospital. Nine bodies still are missing.

The French airline's investigating committee today closed Bahrain airport to all Air France night operations. The company had been using the airport for about three months. Previously Air France planes stopped at Basra, in Iraq.

Airline officials said the Bahrain field is not equipped with electrical equipment to guide planes in and that the radio direction beams are of a primitive type.

Paris, June 15.—(Reuters)—"Important political personalities" are believed among the 51 persons aboard the Air France DC-4 which crashed near Bahrain island last night, Henri Ziegler, director-general of Air France, announced today.

An Air France spokesman said nothing known here indicated that either of the two planes lost this week might have been sabotaged by communist-led rebels in Indo-China but that such a possibility would be investigated by an inquiry committee already at Bahrain.

The spokesman said from information in Paris, bad weather seemed to have been the probable cause of the crashes.

He added that special security precautions are taken for all flights from Indo-China to guard against the possibility of sabotage.

Ottawa, June 15.—(P)—The government announced today it is doubling the prison term provided under the official secrets act, Canada's anti-spy law.

Justice Minister Garson, introducing a bill to amend the act, disclosed that it will boost the maximum term from seven years to 14.

Peruvian Revolt Is Suppressed

Lima, Peru, June 15.—(P)—At least 40 persons were believed today to have been killed in a two-day revolt during which rebels captured most of the city of Arequipa.

The government announced loyal troops, moving into the city, had put down the revolt.

Lima, June 15.—(P)—Peru's military government claimed today to have suppressed a pre-election revolt blamed on communists after two days of bloodshed in the large southern city of Arequipa.

Rebel broadcasts from Arequipa said four persons had been killed in clashes with the police and that "other bodies" were seen.

A government communiqué last night said "determined intervention by the armed forces" had subdued "the communist movement at Arequipa" and restored public order.

(In New York the exiled former president, Jose Luis Bustamante, deposed in 1948 by the military government now ruling Peru, said the communist charge against the rebels was "grotesque.")

The revolt was led by Francisco J. Mostajo, an opponent of the military cabinet, another communist rebel.

A rebel broadcast said the revolt flared up after a clash between striking university students and the police Tuesday in which two students were killed and a number hurt.

Gen. Manuel Odría, former president of Peru's military cabinet who resigned to become a candidate for the presidency, remains the only presidential candidate in the election since the electoral board last Sunday rejected the ticket headed by Gen. Ernesto A. Montagne and including Mostajo.

The board said petitions accompanying Montagne's candidacy were forgeries or were signed by members of the Aprista, outlawed Oct. 4, 1948, after it led a short but bloody revolt against the Bustamante government at Callao, port city of Lima.

Later in October Bustamante himself was deposed by Odría and a military junta. Outlawing of the communist party was one of the junta's first acts.

Counterfeiting, Narcotics Traffic Increase In U.S.

Washington, June 15.—(P)—Senate crime investigators studied reports today that counterfeiting and illegal narcotics traffic both are on the upswing in the United States.

In testimony released yesterday, federal officials reported that money making is being turned out faster than at any time in the last 10 years, while the drug trade is booming, especially in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

The testimony came from U. E. Baughman, secret service chief, and Commissioner H. J. Anslinger of the United States Narcotics, and was made public by the Senate appropriations committee. They asked more money for their operations.

Baughman said the counterfeiters are specializing in $10 and $20 bills, and that his men are seizing spurious money at the rate of $100,000 a month.

"More and more criminals are turning to counterfeiting," he said, adding that most of them are Second World War black marketeers. He said their operations are centered mostly in Chicago and New York.

Defences Of Empire Will Be Discussed

Ottawa, June 15.—(P)—Commonwealth defence today will come under the scrutiny of the seventh Imperial Press Conference.

Newspaper delegates from 15 countries will hold an off-the-record session with Defence Minister Claxton and some of his top officers, at which the minister is expected to outline Canadian defence plans.

Other major business on the agenda for the second day of the conference is a discussion of colonial press laws and a resolution calling on the conference to sponsor travel by newspaper writers as a means of broadening their outlook.

The resolution, sponsored by Australian and Indian delegates at yesterday's opening business meeting, called for a conference committee to study the question of more travel by reporters, though exchanges between countries or otherwise.

Major decision of the approximately 100 delegates at their first day's session was to recommend a change in the name of the organization from the Empire Press Union to the Commonwealth Press Union.

Recognizing the changing status of the British Empire, they voted unanimously to recommend the new name to the council of the union, where it undoubtedly will be adopted.

In response to suggestions that the change might bring the possibility of colonial branches losing their individuality in the union, it was stipulated that the colonies were to continue as independent members of the organization under the new name.

Smuts Quits Position As Party Head

Capetown, June 15.—(P)—A government bill to outlaw communist party activity raised a city of despotism in Parliament last night and set off clashes between club-swinging police and demonstrators outside the Parliament building.

The bill is up for second reading. Debate was interrupted while Parliament members watched police charge into crowds demonstrating against the bill.

Justice Minister C. R. Swart argued that the bill is needed to prevent a Moscow campaign to set colored natives in trade unions and on the farms against the whites and establish a native republic, with all race-segregation barriers broken down.

He charged that under Moscow's direction communists on a date to be decided are plotting to poison water supplies, cut off power and murder whites who stand in the way of the communists.

J. G. N. Strauss, newly-elected leader of the opposition United Party, argued against the bill because he said it would give the Governor-General power to outlaw any group he feared was communist.

He said the bill "in seeking to combat communist totalitarianism creates a fascist despotism."

Strauss was elected head of the United Party last night after the resignation of 80-year-old Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, seriously ill of pneumonia near Pretoria.

A lawyer, Strauss was once private secretary to Smuts. Strauss

Reds May Increase A-Bomb Output

New York, June 15.—(P)—Reports that Russia may have atom bombs on hand by next fall and soon may be producing them at the rate of 25 a year were quoted by a military expert yesterday.

Cdr. William T. Greenhagh, of the United States navy, quoted an unidentified authority in giving his figures before 350 selected civilians and reserve officers at a session of the industrial college of the United States armed forces.

Greenhagh said Soviet aviators who have flown out of 44 air fields in East Siberia.

Russia, he said, may have 19,000 planes capable of use in combat, plus a reserve of 10,000. The Soviet factories might be able to turn out 60,000 aircraft a year if necessary arose, he said.

He estimated the Russian factories are turning out about 300 jet fighters a month and about 20 bombers.

The navy officer said Russia's guided missile and rocket program is about equal to that of the United States.

Ottawa Refuses To Limit Defence Production Profits

Ottawa, June 15.—(P)—Trade Minister Howe, in fending off a heavy Commons siege, yesterday rejected opposition calls for a set limit on defence production profits.

The minister said no such system could be devised to work satisfactorily because of the complexity of the manufacturing industry. There was no all-embracing yardstick.

Mr. Howe, backed solidly by Liberal members, won House approval of the principle of a controversial bill to vest in him wide powers for defence purchasing in peacetime.

The three parties in opposition charged that the powers were excessive and dictatorial. Mr. Howe said they were needed to handle "perhaps the most important business of the country" and argued that they were a lesser, modified version of war powers he had voluntarily relinquished.

He said defence purchases now mean an average of 350 new or amended business contracts a day, handled by the government's Canadian commercial corporation.

In a vote the opposition lost 127 to 44. That gave the bill second reading but it still has one more hurdle to pass, third reading after committee study by the whole House.

The House pitched into the defence battle after approving a 50-year treaty with the United States, governing diversion of the power-producing waters of Niagara Falls and to preserve famed

Margarine Case Goes To Privy Council

Ottawa, June 15.—(P)—A spokesman for the Canadian government next Monday will ask the Imperial Privy Council to overrule the Supreme Court of Canada and in effect declare margarine production and sale in Canada illegal.

V. P. Varcoe, deputy minister of justice, will argue against the manufacturers of the butter substitute in the final round of a prolonged battle over the validity of a federal anti-margarine law.

The law, made 64 years ago, was upset by the Supreme Court Dec. 14, 1948, declaring that section 5-A of the Federal Dairy Industry Act was ultra vires of Parliament and it was up to the provinces to have the final say as to whether Canadian consumers will be lawfully able to buy and eat margarine.

That ruling paved the way for the birth of a steadily-expanding margarine production industry in most provinces and an outcry by the butter producers that the appearance of margarine was ruining the butter trade.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture obtained leave to press the case before the Privy Council's judicial committee—highest court of appeal in the Commonwealth.

R. H. Milliken of Regina, counsel for the 400,000-member C.F.A., will join Mr. Varcoe in the London legal battle, opposing those who favor the Supreme Court ruling.

On the side of margarine will be Senator Hayden (L.-Ontario), who will represent the margarine manufacturers' first appearance in the legal fight.

Supporting him will be counsel for Senator W. D. Euler (L.-Ontario) whose presence during three Senate sessions led the government to ask the Supreme Court for a ruling on the law's validity.

The Supreme Court of Canada upheld the controversial dairy act in 1948, insofar as it prohibited the importation into Canada of oleo-margarine, margarine, buttermilk or other butter substitutes. The court found, however, that the section went beyond the power of the Dominion Parliament in prohibiting the manufacture of such substitutes.

The Canadian government sent Mr. Varcoe to London yesterday.

Coaticook High School Pupils Enjoyed Funeral Held At Glenburn For E. Blodgett

Coaticook, June 15.—Grades X and XI of Coaticook High School made a tour of Stanstead County on June 4 under the leadership of the principal, Mr. J. Lee Heath, to visit points of interest and to co-relate the geography of the county with their work in physical geography.

They climbed Barnston Pinnacle, then enjoyed a boat ride on Lake Lyster, and then visited the government fish hatchery. From there the group went to Dufferin Heights, where they had lunch and were able to get a general picture of the county from the bronze relief map, on the pioneers' monument, as well as by observation from such a point of vantage.

In the afternoon the group visited a few of the granite quarries of Beebe and Grantville. After driving over the Narrows' Bridge and passing through Fitch Bay they followed Maple Valley to Ayer's Cliff and then back home to Coaticook.

A good time was enjoyed and more knowledge of Stanstead County was acquired in a relatively painless manner.

REAL McCoy
Chill Wills talked like a mule for "Francis" but the Warner western, "Dallas" has a switch—a horse talks like Gary Cooper. Gary eludes the villains by neighing like a horse as he pushes through underbrush. Gary sheepishly tried a couple of neighs, but the sound was unmistakably a gargle. They hired a horse to impersonate Cooper impersonating a horse.

A big cowboy star is blushing after landing on the cutting room floor at a major studio. For a gag finish to a comedy picture, he was hired to ride in and rescue the hero from a lynching party, then crack, "I guess I'm in the wrong picture" and gallop off.

The scene got howls from studio heads but laid an egg with nary a laugh at seven sneak previews. Audiences in major theatres just didn't recognize the cowboy star. The picture will be released with a different finish.

Colman beamed back: "Fine, Bonita, but let's talk about it after we do the show."

At Glenburn For E. Blodgett

Glenburn, June 15.—The funeral of Ernest Blodgett, whose tragic death as a result of burns on Saturday night, April 22, shocked this community was held on Tuesday, April 25, from the Kress Funeral Home, with a large crowd of sympathizing friends attending.

Rev. C. K. Dolby, of Durham Baptist Church conducted the service, assisted by Archdeacon W. H. Harby.

Two favourite hymns, "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Rock of Ages," were sung and the favorite poem of the aged mother, "The Pearly Gates" was read.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Hubert Allen, Arthur Roberts, Verdon Taylor, William Ryan, Harold Watson, W. R. Wier, R. McGillivray and Alfred Wippler.

Floral tributes were carried by

Gordon Beaton, Keith Beaton, David Watson, Allen Bell, Carman Cote, Dixon Wier, Alex. Talbot, Neil McFarlane and Cecil Anderson.

Friends from a distance included his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blodgett, of Lennoxville; his sisters, Mrs. Pearl Farley, of Rock Island; Mrs. Ivan Herring, of Bulwer; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roark, of St. George, Ont. (cousins); Mrs. Bessie McAllister, a friend, and Mrs. George Clark, of Brantford, Ont.

Born in Lennoxville, 63 years ago on the same farm where his father was born and still resides, he was the son of Allison Blodgett and his wife, Nellie Lindsay, both of whom are 93 and 91 years of age.

As a young man, Mr. Blodgett went to Vancouver, B. C., where he spent three years in the lumber business returning to Timmins, Ont., he worked for 20 years as a mining contractor at the Hollinger Gold Mines, and came to Glenelg Township fifteen years ago.

He was married in 1923 to Minnie Burnett, formerly of Glenelg Township, who predeceased him in 1935. He later married Martha Charleswood, of Sherbrooke, a sister of Mrs. Walter Blodgett, who survives. There were no children. Mrs. Blodgett lost her only son, Oswald Charleswood, in the Grand Central Hotel Fire, in Sherbrooke, on October 16, 1937.

Left to mourn besides his wife, are his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Blodgett, Sr., Mr. Allison, Jr., Mr. Walter and William Blodgett, who are twins, of Glenburn; Mrs. Bert Hamel, of Winnipeg, Man.; Mrs. Harry Newman, of Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Pearl Farley, of Rock Island, Que.; Mrs. Ivan Herring of Bulwer.

Mr. Blodgett was a member of the Anglican Church in Quebec, but since going to Glenelg Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett have attended Glenelg Centre Baptist Church.

He was a member of the Sawyerville Lodge, I.O.O.F. and at Lennoxville.

Interment was in Zion Cemetery at Durham, Ont.

Lights Go On Again On Stephens Street As Flood Repairs Are Made

Editor's note: Mrs. Henry Heber of Winnipeg's Point Douglas district was one of 100,000 evacuees from the Red River flood zones. Her home was flooded. Two weeks ago she brought her family back and started the clean-up job. In this last of a series of four Canadian Press stories, she tells what housewives all through the Red River valley faced).

By ELLY HEBER
Winnipeg, June 15.—(C)—The lights are shining in our street again.

I guess that's the thing that really makes the place look like home.

One by one, the houses down Stephens Street have been reconnected with the hydro. The friendly twinkle in the evening dispels that feeling I used to have that this little point of land was a huge graveyard for ruined homes.

Now you can walk down the street and smell the trees—leaving as though nothing had happened—hear the murmur of people talking on their front verandahs, and see the lighted windows.

Two weeks ago it didn't seem possible.

In the daytime, of course, there are still the piles of rubble in the street, the caked mud, broken fences and gates, dirt and ruined furniture tossed outside. And in the early morning, just before you tackle the new day's clean-up task, there's that horrible sense of unreality about everything.

But on the whole the flood is over.

We're closer to our neighbors for this experience we have shared; closer to each other as a family; closer to the whole huge city caught up in the same disaster.

Circus Will Be Here In Two Weeks

News that the world's largest circus is coming to Sherbrooke became official today when its advance crew of billposters, lithographers and banner men arrived to announce that the huge Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey organization will be here on Wednesday, June 28, for afternoon and evening performances.

A. J. Clarke, first of the press representatives to arrive, said that four spectacles are the best that John Ringling North, president and producer; John Murray Anderson, production director; Miles White, costume designer and Henry Sullivan, composer, have turned out, surpassing even last year's ten strikes.

Foremost among these is "When Dreams Come True," a procession of pageant in which nearly 2,000 humans and animals participate. Designed in humorous fantasy for children of all ages, this 1950 super-spectacle was produced at a cost of $300,000.

Next is "Seville," an aerial extravaganza, introducing beautiful Pinito del Oro, Spain's darling Queen of the Air in her first North American tour, and a ballet of 60 alluring and talented señoritas.

Then follows "Old Vienna," a dashing and highly colorful display of super-horsemanship, romantically reminiscent of the gay old Austrian capital's famous Spanische Hofreitschule in the days of Emperor Franz Joseph. In this notable equestrian feature, Luciana and Freidel, Europe's foremost exponents of equitation, are presented for the first time in this country. With Claude Valois and Cilly Feindt, they head a congress of internationally renowned dressage and high school riders, blooded horses, tally-hos, coaches-and-fours and other smart equestrians.

The rousing closing feature is "Jungle Drums," a weird, wild, tom-tom jubilee in the land of Mumbo Jumbo, with native girls, boys and elephants in a surprise finale.

Pre-eminent among the new attractions from overseas are: A huge group of accomplished Himalayan, Russian, Syrian and Polar bear performers, with one of the bruns actually putting the others through their routines in an exhibition presented by Albert Rix; Baptiste Schreber's spring-boarded acrobatic elephants in an incredible display of pachydermic skill; Leon de Rousseau in startling backward somersault drops from a 50-foot tower to the ground; Les Reinyrs in the most thrilling aerial offering in years: The Fredris and the Adus Troupe, acrobatic acers; Lilo Juston, topflight trapeze artist; the Four Chaudis in remarkable new feats a wheel; Gran Pilon, somersaulting wire wizard; The Rodolphos, acrobatic marvels; The Reales and Miss Loni, foot jugglers par excellence; The Hemadas and Idnavis, mid-air breath-takers, together with many more of like renown.

Held over are: Unes, the man who stands on his forefinger; Francis Brun, juggler; the Geraldos; the high wire Alzanas with Harold Alzana; the Flying Artions; Comets and Concellos, starring Antoinette Concello, triple-somersaulting Goddess of Flight; Peterson's Jockey Dogs, a canine bare-back riding riot; The Bokaras, whirlwind acrobats; La Norma, glamorous star of the swinging Trappeze; the Riding Bostocks and Zoppes, featuring Cucuola, midgeet clown centaur; the Margas Sisters; Franklin and Astrid, peacocks equi-librists; Gotti's Gorilla Parody; Charles Murorski and Gene Kpowska, presenting their superbly trained troupes of liberty and dancing horses; Eldridge's pony-riding chimpanzees and innumerable others from the earth's four corners, including one hundred of the funniest clowns in creation.

Featured in the mammoth, redesigned menagerie, in which the cages simulate the habitats of the rare creatures within, are Mrs. Gargantua the Great, world famous gorilla mate of the late Gargantua, and her two adopted baby gorillas, Gargantua the Second and Mito. Toto, recently imported from the wilds of West Africa.

Special to the Record
Dunham, June 15.—A fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the recently built general store belonging to O. H. Charbonneau here early this morning causing an estimated $10,000 in damages.

The fire broke out about 6 a.m. and the Cowansville Fire Department was reported to have extinguished the blaze by 10.00 o'clock. Dunham has no water system or fire department of its own. The Cowansville firemen drew water from a nearby well to battle the flames.

As a result of the fire Charbonneau is homeless. His house was located above the store. Only the cement walls of the building remain intact.

J. Gordon Armitage Is Re-Elected As President Of Sherbrooke Hospital

The annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Hospital Board of Governors was held last night in the City Hall. Election of officers took place and reports were heard at the annual meeting of the corporation of the Sherbrooke Hospital which was held in conjunction with the Board of Governors meeting.

Officers elected were: Honorary president, D. J. Salls; honorary vice-presidents, G. K. Edwards, Col. A. A. Munster, Mrs. Austin Scott, W. M. Hall, E. C. McMichael, G. Blair Gordon, G. H. Montgomery, K.C., and Hon. Jacob Nicol; president, J. G. Armitage; re-elected: vice-presidents, J. R. Sangster, and C. L. Campbell, both re-elected.

Members of the executive board are: B. D. Lyon, D. S. Howard, R. A. Webster, Dr. Simon Marcus, representative of the medical board, K. B. Jencks, N. D. Cas-cadden, and R. L. McCabe.

Additions to the medical staff are: Dr. Leo Langis, paediatrics; Dr. J. O'Neill, neuro-psychiatry, and Dr. J. B. Fortier, otolaryngology, associates.

Dr. A. A. Dougan, previously an associate, is now a member of the attending staff.

The first report to be heard last evening was that of J. Gordon Armitage, president of the Board of Governors. He spoke of the year 1949 as one in which the path had cleared considerably before many of the difficulties facing the corporation.

"For far too long we have been handicapped by inadequate and outmoded facilities, but on March 16 of last year the contract was awarded for the construction of a new building . . . provided things continue to progress as well as they have to date, there is every indication we shall occupy our new premises by the end of the year."

Speaking of the nurses' new residence, Mr. Armitage said that it is finished except for a few minor items, and, he added, beautifully furnished. As soon as arrangements can be made this building will be thrown open to the public whose generous support made it possible, and by the first week in August the nursing staff should be settled in its new home.

Mr. Armitage spoke of the difficulty that will arise of transporting nurses from the new residence to the hospital in use now. He also said that though it will be possible to operate the new hospital with greater economy, it will cost a great deal more to run, and he wishes to make a frank appeal to the people of Sherbrooke and surrounding communities to enlarge the number of their hospital supporters.

"We shall be able to offer them a medical service second to none," Mr. Armitage said.

The speaker also noted that a survey of hospitals reporting to the American Hospital Association, of which the Sherbrooke Hospital is a member, revealed that the staggering total of $138,129,000 represents the difference between the amount they receive from their patients and the amount it costs to provide for them.

J. S. Bourque's Car Reported Seen Near U. S.

A Sherbrooke taxi driver last night threw some light on the whereabouts of the Hon. J. S. Bourque's grey, four door Oldsmobile, which was stolen from its garage some time Tuesday night, when he reported he had seen it speeding along the Sherbrooke-Stanstead-Newport highway about 10 miles from the United States border.

The car, he said, still bore Mr. Bourque's Quebec license plate number 1.

Provincial Police here said they have received no report of the incident as yet from their men stationed along highway number 5 near the border.

The theft of Col. Bourque's car from the Bourque street residence followed that of Francois Fabi's red, convertible Pontiac on June 8. Mr. Fabi's car was found abandoned in Montreal by radio police.

Council Pays Visit Today To Hospice

The members of the Sherbrooke City Council are making their traditional visit to the Sacred Heart Hospital this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This visit is made every second year during the month of June in the year in which the new mayor takes office.

Mayor Charles B. Howard, who has been in Ottawa attending the Senate sessions, returned last evening to take part in the visit today.

After a tour of inspection of the buildings, the Mayor and aldermen will be honored with an informal program presented by the inmates of the institution, embracing orphans and old people.

Piano Students Are Heard In Fine Recital

A successful piano recital by the pupils of Norah H. Leonard, in St. Patrick's Church Hall on Monday evening, climaxed a year of solid study and proved once again the number of prospective musicians to be found in Sherbrooke and surrounding district.

Following the recital, certificates and prizes were also awarded in the various grades, the presentations being made by George Morgan, who congratulated both teacher and pupils on their achievement.

Saying that he had watched with a great deal of interest the progress made by Miss Leonard's pupils, from the elementary grades to the final degrees, Mr. Morgan voiced the feeling of parents and friends in stating that the annual recitals are enjoyable events and that the excellent training given the children augurs well for their future as musicians. To Miss Leonard he said, "We are greatly indebted to you for the fine work you are doing in giving our children the musical education so helpful in establishing harmony in their lives."

He urged the younger children to persevere in their music, promising that they will find the results most valuable in future years. He also expressed thanks to Belle Willard for her accompaniments during the evening.

The program follows:
Taking part in the recital were Louise Katadotis, Ann Goode, Christine Katadotis, Mary McLenahan, Helen Hodgeman, Molly Hill, Jean Grundy, Nancy Nicol, Brenda McPherson, Ann Hallett, John Hogg, Joyce-Ann Runions, Bruce Fowler, Mary Neville, Montague Barnes, Catherine-Ann Ellis, Faith Clark, Billy Lyon, Gisela Aubin, Patricia Grundy, Donna Price, Nyla Pike, Elizabeth Philip, Patsy-Rose Robinson, Barry Smith, Sandra Taylor, Donna McPherson, James Sangster, John McCrea-Ellis, Roberta Gaffney, Kathleen Sullivan, Charles Buckland, Robert Patton, Sally McLenahan, Sylvia Riley, Joanna Northey, Shirley Steinman, Arden Seal, Barbara Wright, Constance-Marie Gervais, George Morgan and Grant Sampson.

Prizes for highest marks were awarded as follows:
Preparatory Grade: Brenda McPherson; first grade, Faith Clark; second grade, Sandra Taylor; third grade, James Sangster; fourth grade, Sally McLenahan.

Prizes for theory went to Jean Grundy, Molly Hill, Mary McLenahan, Nancy Nicol, Montague Barnes, Barry Smith and Donna McPherson.

Ann Hallett, Bruce Fowler and Joyce-Ann Runions were awarded prizes for technical studies and scale work. Prizes for memory work went to Helen Hodgeman and Donna Price, for sight reading to Mary Neville, John Hogg, Nyla Pike and Elizabeth Philip, for sight singing to Catherine-Ann Ellis and Patsy-Rose Robinson.

The prize for the most careful and thorough study of the Invention, work required in Grade I, went to Faith Clark.

Thetford Mines Kiwanians Were Guests Last Night Of Local Club

Local Kiwanians played host to the members from Thetford Mines at their regular meeting last night, and also received an official visit from Lt. Governor Don Charbonneau, who met with members of both clubs after the routine meeting, for the purpose of discussing club activities and objectives.

Speaker at the dinner meeting was the Rev. Mark Beaufort, of North Hatley, whose amusing sketch of the lighter moments in the life of the clergy, was highly appreciated by his receptive audience. In humorous vein, Mr. Beaufort told several anecdotes which help to brighten somewhat the rather heavy responsibilities and frequently sad duties of the average clergyman.

He was introduced by Rev. John Comfort and thanked by Harry Grundy.

President Len Keeler was in the chair and welcomed his fellow members from Thetford Mines as well as a number of guests, among whom were Charles Parkin, Emile Beaurivage, Roy Traylen, W. Morin, and Rene Monty, of the Rotary Club of the Boundary.

Speaking briefly at this meeting the Lt. Governor said he was pleased to see a joint gathering of the Sherbrooke Kiwanians with the Club they had sponsored. He gave a few of the highlights of the Kiwanis International Convention held recently in Miami, at which Don Murdoch, of Winnipeg was named international president, and stressed the fellowship, the genuine friendliness which exists everywhere among Kiwanians.

On behalf of Kiwanis International he presented a certificate to Past President Newman Hunter, commending him on his successful administration and splendid leadership of the local Club, as its first president.

He also congratulated the Club on its achievements, stating that it is considered a thriving and progressive branch of Kiwanis International, but urged that more attention be paid to attendance, stressing that it is one of the most important factors for any service club to have its members attend regular meetings.

Past President Hunter, in accepting the certificate, said that he felt the honor should be shared with all the members of the Sherbrooke Club, particularly the "harder members, as well as with the Thetford Mines Club, who also contributed to the Sherbrooke group's successful year. In recognition of this contribution he asked President Bateman, of Thetford, to pin the ribbon to the local banner.

An attractive lamp, which had not been disposed of during the White Elephant Sale, was raffled last night among Club members, and netted over $27, which amount is to be sent to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund, in addition to the club contribution already made. Dave Gray held the winning ticket.

Following the dinner meeting, several of the members of both clubs adjourned to the Belvidere Street Armoury, for an informal session with Lt. Governor Charbonneau.

REASON FOR CONCERN

The current epidemic of car thefts and house entering which is sweeping Sherbrooke is a matter of grave concern for the citizens in view of the seeming inability of the authorities to cope with or even admit the situation. A policy of hush-hush pervades the police headquarters where a marked disinclination is shown toward the release of any details of either class of crimes. The theory now being practised seems to be that if nothing is said, no crimes will be committed. Or perhaps the real objective is to prevent the citizens from becoming completely aware of the situation.

The policy of secrecy is a difficult one to fathom. To the citizen whose mind does not work along the official track, the logical course would seem that of giving out as much information as possible, this serving as a warning to householders and car-owners generally to take the greatest possible precautions to protect their property.

Perhaps one of the most futile excuses advanced for the secrecy is that "We do not want to tip the thieves off." Exactly what information will be kept from the culprits by this policy of silence is difficult to determine. Certainly the perpetrators of the crimes must know they were carried out, as none of the thefts carry any evidence that they were performed by victims of amnesia or by kleptomaniacs. To hint that it is undesirable to let the thieves know the police are conducting a search for them is childish in the extreme, for after a series of thefts and enterings such as have occurred here during the past few weeks even the dumbest of police forces could be expected to conduct a search of some sort.

In the meantime, the responsibility devolves upon each individual, whether a home occupant or automobile driver, to take every known precaution to protect his or her property.

POLITE BLACKMAIL

Businessmen and industrialists will give their hearty support to the efforts of Philip Murray, William Green and other national labor leaders to stamp out an advertising blackmail business which has existed in many union publications. Unfortunately, at the very time the senior officials of the labor movement are trying to get rid of undesirable practices, a new and highly lucrative racket is being pressed against businessmen, large and small. The scheme, comments The Financial Post, is as follows:

Fear is providing fertile soil for this racket.

American estimates are that as much as $100,000,000 is paid per year for frightened company "goodwill" advertising in phony labor publications. Executive Milquetoasts are being stampeded into buying space blindly in non-existent or phony "labor" papers by racketeer salesmen who "sell" by means of veiled threats and downright bullying, it is revealed.

The pitch goes something like this: "The boys at the Brotherhood thought we could count on you for support. Gotta keep these Communists in line, you know, or we'll be having more strikes. We'd appreciate a little ad from you—wouldn't want to see your plant pulled."

A convincing voice with a line like this, plus any impressive but perhaps imaginative publication or trade union name has been enough to produce a highly profitable confidence game—and a bad name for the reputable labor press.

There is one conclusion about the foregoing. There must be a great number of United States businessmen and industrialists lacking in intestinal fortitude in the first place and in commonsense business instincts as well. Perhaps they are making in some cases, too much money and can afford to throw some away. The racket also indicates a fear complex against organized Labor, a suspicion that there is integrity lacking in the higher and lower echelons.

Public relations departments are now conducted by banks in Canada which were in former times under most conservative management. They are conducted by most of the big industries, by professional associations, too. Organized labor has such services highly compensated, also governments. The idea is sound but there is a question about its being overdone. This illegitimate racket in the United States is an offshoot. The American genius to make a soft easy dollar has no bounds.

THE FIRST TIME

The recommendations made by an Ontario court judge that young persons convicted on first offences be given a mild licking instead of being let go on suspended sentence finds much favor with the Brantford Expositor, which declares the idea has much merit.

This opinion is also shared by a grand jury sitting at Sarnia. Having been asked by Judge Shaunessy, the presiding official to consider the matter, it has recommended that the Criminal Code be amended to provide suitable forms of corporal punishment as a corrective and deterrent to juvenile crime.

The Minister of Justice would do well to take the suggestion under his well-known serious consideration.

Press Comment

TWO NEW U. S. LINERS

For American shipbuilders, it was a rare and wonderful sight. Last week in Quincy, Mass., the Independence, 26,000-ton luxury liner, slid down the ways into Fore River, bound for a fitting-out dock and eventual enlistment in the United States merchant marine. She was the largest passenger ship launched in this country since the America in 1939.

The American Export Line, which will operate the Independence, and Bethlehem Shipbuilding, which is building her, have spared little in adding to the nation's transatlantic fleet. Henry Dreyfuss, the high-priced industrial designer, has styled the liner for "modern American living at sea." His assignment included—besides the interiors—stewards' uniforms, china, silverware, table linens, and anything else which could be individually styled.

The result is a ship featuring rich colors, rare woods, indirect lighting, and air conditioning. Most staterooms have foldaway sofa-beds. There are two swimming pools and a number of luxurious bars, lounges, and dining rooms, each with its own decorative scheme. Dreyfuss has dispensed with large staircases in favor of space-saving modern flights.

One special problem for the designers was the requirement (in order to qualify for government subsidies) that the Independence be easily converted to a troop transport in time of war. As a luxury liner, she carries 1,000 passengers; as a transport, 5,000 troops. Either way, she will do 25 knots, top speed for American passenger ships.

When she hit the water on June 3, the Independence was about 60 per cent completed. By December, she will be making sea trials, with the maiden voyage scheduled for early in 1951. Later next year, the Independence will be joined on runs to the Mediterranean by a sister ship, the Constitution, now building at Quincy. (Total cost for both: $50,000,000). Bethlehem officials have tentatively scheduled her launching for some time in September.

IT'S THE DUTY OF A MINISTER

Much has been heard during the past few days about the criticism uttered by local ministers against the tendency to hold more secular events for entertainment purposes on Sunday. Counter-criticism has been directed at the ministers concerned and the St. Thomas and District Ministerial Association has seen fit to issue a statement, following a special meeting, endorsing the stand taken by the clergymen in their pulpits.

Whatever the merits or demerits of the two Sunday events criticized—"Operation Beaver" by the military forces at Fort Stanley and the carrying out of a stage show in a local theatre for Manitoba flood relief, one point stands out clearly: The clergymen were quite within their rights as preachers of the Gospel and as the heads of their congregations, in protesting against anything that will lead to a wide-open Sunday, which nobody wants, not even those who never, or very seldom, attend church. They, the ministers—and their congregations—are the ones who must stand guard against further encroachment on the sanctity of the Sabbath as a day of rest and of worship, in the same way as citizens generally must take their stand against violations of the other laws of God and of the country.

Changes in the law respecting the observance of the Lord's Day are bound to come; changes in other laws of the country may also be made in due course of time as conditions and opinions change. But—and we say this without any intention of sermonizing—the laws of God, upon which the laws of the land are chiefly based, are unchanging and unchangeable, and these the ministers must urge their people at all times to uphold. The day that ministers and the churches fail to do this will mark the advent of the decline of our Christian civilization.

KILLING TOURISM

The entire aim of the spending of hundreds of thousands of dollars to draw tourists into Canada and to have them come back year after year is killed when a certain faster-than-usual dollar element which caters to the trade, imposes extortionate charges. There is no scruple in this short-sighted kind of greed. It is the sort of thing which sells antagonism instead of goodwill. The entire policy of government, Dominion and provincial, is jeopardized and negated by the rapacity of the few. It is said that there has been gouging at the International Trade Fair in Toronto. The rumor should be followed up and investigated. It is not realized that those who attend and do business at an affair of that kind arrived in Toronto on a budget, and in the cases of many, a narrow budget. The Briton, for instance, has no "swindle sheet."

All prospects are for a wonderful year for tourism all throughout Canada. But there never will be another if tourist cabin operators and others kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

INTO THE WASTE BASKET

MacLeod (Sask.) Gazette. Almost every morning mail boxes of newspapers, and others on government mailing lists, contain a lot of publicity which has little or no news value. It seems that every government department has a public relations official of some sort who in order to justify his existence in that capacity sends out mimeographed copy, of course being specific to mention that "according to information announced this day by the Honorable Mr. So-and-So."

Ninety-five per cent of this material goes into the waste paper basket. In fact one way of a newspaperman sent a note to one public relations officer asking him to have his copy all crumpled ready to throw into the w.p.b. in order to save his time in even opening the envelope.

MY TRIBUTE TO FATHERS

We laud our Mothers every year
In unmitigated way,
And strive to bring additional cheer
A certain date each May.

Now, let us sing the praise of "Dads"
And rate them as A1;
Sure they are "tops" with all their lads
In daily work, or fun.

'Tis of these Fathers fine I write
Whose worth can never be told,
May this rhyme fill each with delight
And cheer, while growing old.

(My dear Dad, ninety years, and more,
Has been a priceless treasure,
In every phase of life did score
His value none can measure.)

Somehow "Dads" rarely rate high praise
Through touching words, or song,
Yet they possess in countless ways
Fine traits to keep us strong.

Perhaps they may not have the gifts
Of eloquence so grand,
But when in need, somehow they drift
Around to "lend a hand."

A heart of gold is oft encased
In faded, threadbare coat,
And sterling manhood can be traced
Through ways, and speech remote.

'Tis Dad we know who "takes the knocks"
In unassuming style,
Perhaps oft steered us off the "rocks,"
Yet faced life with a smile.

Home is indeed a cheerless spot
When Father is not there,
But realize it, we may not,
'Till vacant is his chair.

Oh, loyal Fathers, we would show
Our deep appreciation,
And as you old and feeble grow
Enhance our veneration.

"Dad" may be rather short on style,
Or dull of conversation,
Yet we're convinced he is worthwhile—
NONE FINER IN THE NATION!

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

JOE COULD HAVE AVOIDED HARD LUCK

"I don't feel so bad about that hand," Joe Luck Joe declared smugly. "The odds were 7 to 1 in our favor."

"How did you figure that one out?" asked North.

"You wouldn't have to ask such foolish questions if you ever learned how to read," Joe sneered. "When you've had a little practice spelling out simple words, I'll show you Jacoby's book on the odds. He says that when you have three finesses to take, the odds are 7 to 1 against losing all three of them."

"You'd be better off," retorted North, "if you learned how to play bridge properly instead of reading so many books. But if you really like high odds, I'll bet you 100 to 1 that you could have made that hand even though all the cards were in the wrong place."

Joe didn't take the bet. However, perhaps the reader may entertain himself by taking up North's challenge mentally.

When Joe actually played the hand, West led the queen of hearts, and Joe won with the ace. He immediately took the diamond finesse, losing to East's king. East cashed the king of hearts and returned a club, and South was obliged to finesse. The club finesse lost to West's king. South later had to lose a trump trick to West when the trump finesse lost.

Do you see how the hand should have been played? Decide for yourself before reading on.

The Record Short Story

Don't Read That Letter

By NORAH SMARIDGE

"It's not right, you dashing off to nowhere," Aunt Ellen said. "I know you're grown up, but it isn't right, with your Mom away—"

"It's not nowhere," Carol protested. "And I'm not running. And you know exactly how it is. Dilmann's are opening a New York showroom, and I'm to assist Mr. Dilmann. It's a promotion—"

Aunt Ellen's eyes gleamed scornfully. "You weren't worrying about a promotion a few weeks ago. You were all for giving up your job. And why not—when you can marry a fine boy like Don?"

"Aunt Ellen—please," Carol groaned. And Aunt Ellen went, but she still muttered, "If only you'd wait till your Mom got home."

That was just the point. She didn't want to wait till Mom and Dad came back from their Florida vacation. They were so sentimental about Don. Because he had been your childhood friend. Because, orphaned early, he had adopted your folks as his own. Because he'd grown into a fine young man and knew exactly what he wanted to do. Now that he'd had enough experience in veterinary work, he intended opening a place of his own. He already had his plans laid.

That was the trouble. Carol thought hotly. Mentally, Don had settled their whole future, down to the last detail—and without giving her any choice in the matter. He didn't seem to realize that she was 21, and had held down a good job on her own account. To Don, she was still the kid who'd bossed about when she was 12 to his 18.

He hadn't seemed to notice that she was giving up a career to marry him; when she had talked of her job, he had just said cheerfully, "Well, that's all behind you now."

"But think of it, Don," she had persisted. "They're offering me a job in New York, assisting Mr. Dilmann—"

"Any blonde can assist Mr. Dilmann, poor gal," Dad had said. "You'll have your work cut out assisting me. Mending, darning, fixing up the place." He grinned. "I may even make a vet's helper out of you."

It was at that point that she had seen the future stretching ahead of her—and eternity of being bossed by Don. For her own good—but bossed for that.

"It doesn't occur to you that I might like a try at the New York job," she said shortly. "We could be engaged a while longer. Or you—well, you might even get started somewhere on Long Island, and I could commute to my office."

She wasn't sure, then, how far she meant all that—but Don's laughter stung like a whip.

"You're crazy," he said. "I've got everything fixed up here. Got my eye on a spot in Rock Center. Good yard, and we can make over the house into something pretty nice. Why in the world d'you think I'd leave here?"

Carol's temper had exploded then; just as it used to during their childish quarrels, but far more seriously.

"I—I—I—" she mocked. "Like a picket fence! Okay—please yourself. You always do, anyway. You never think of consulting me about what might like." She found herself fumbling with her engagement ring, tugging it off.

"A wonderful partnership marriage would be with you. I—I'm glad I've realized in time."

"Carol!" Don said. He had stood then, staring, his face reddening slowly. But he didn't explode. He waited, as if to give her a chance to take back what she had said.

Then he turned away with a quiet, "I guess I'll run along, if that's the way you feel—"

That afternoon she had wired Mr. Dilmann she would be in New York in three days. She had phoned—

Labor member for Derby North, said in the Commons that at Wellington barracks in London bugles were blown at Reveille, at dinner-time and on going to bed.

Strachey, denying that there was any bugle-call at bedtime, said, "People often need to be reminded when it is time to get up, and they like to hear when it is dinner time."

But the letter was in his hand when he opened the door—and he had certainly read it. His face was scarlet, his eyes angry and bewildered.

"Don!" Carol cried, forgetting everything but the need of comfort him. "Oh Don, darling—"

"Carol!" He pulled her in, shut the door behind him, and caught her in his arms, holding her tight. "Dad doesn't mean it, Don."

Carol said, her voice breaking. "It's just—"

"I should darn well hope he doesn't," Don said. "But he sure makes me furious. Calling you a spoiled kid. Immature—with no common sense or appreciation of values—"

"Me?" Carol jerked out of his arms, her eyes incredulous. "Calling me a spoiled kid? Don't? She hasn't been so faintly, 'I-I don't understand—'"

"Me, neither. Unless he was leaning over backwards to—te console me for losing you," Don said. "Not that I intended to. I was coming over to see you just as soon as I'd got it thought out what was wrong about me, and what made you hate me all of a sudden—"

"Don—look," Carol interrupted. She pulled Mom's letter out of her pocket. "Read that. I'm beginning to see it now. Pretty cute, my folks. They knew we'd resent letters running each other down. Then this would be the best way of—" flinging us into each other's arms again. "She stopped, stammering. "Oh, Don—"

Five minutes later, Don's landlady was making them coffee. Over her cup, Don looked at Carol fondly. "If you're set on trying that New York job, honey, he said, "maybe I could take a look round Lond' island. I haven't clinched the Rock Center deal yet. After all," he looked at her almost humbly, "you must have done pretty well for them to offer you a promotion like that."

But Carol shook her head. "Anyone can assist Mr. Dilmann," she said. Suddenly, remembering Aunt Ellen, she laughed softly and her hand sought Don's. "Anyway, what's so important about a job—when I can marry a fine boy like Don Wheeler?"

first trick. When West holds the first trick with the queen of hearts, his best play is to switch to diamonds immediately. Declarer must put up the ace of diamonds at once. (If he finesses, East wins with the king of diamonds and returns a club, whereupon South loses the contract.)

After winning the second trick with the ace of diamonds, declarer take the trump finesse, losing to West's king. West's best chance is to lead another diamond to East's king. East then returns a club.

Now, however, South does not need a club finesse. He takes the ace of clubs, draws the last trumps, cashes the ace of hearts, and ruffs a heart to get to dummy. Now dummy has good diamonds on which South can discard his losing clubs.

36th Annual Quebec W. I. Convention Set

The 36th Annual Provincial Convention of the Quebec Women's Institutes will be held June 27-29, at Macdonald College. "Good Neighbours - Good Citizens," has been chosen for the theme this year and the keynote address will be given by Miss Constance Hayward, Department of Citizenship, Ottawa, at the opening session, Tuesday evening June 27.

The film, "This is Canada," will be shown at this time for further emphasis. Other prominent speakers have been secured to discuss the various aspects of Institute work in its relation to the theme, at the sessions being held throughout the two following days and a tour of the city of Montreal has been scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

A handicraft exhibit, arranged in conjunction with the convention will be officially opened Tuesday, 7:15 p.m., by Mme P. C. LeBeau, Secretary Home Economics and Handicraft Division, Department of Agriculture, Quebec.

The Annual Board Meeting will be held prior to the Convention at the same place. This will commence Monday evening, June 26, and continue throughout the following day.

"During the same month the contract entered into with the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service became effective. This has saved our patients a great deal of expense and our staff a great deal of labor. The distance of the depot, however, is a disadvantage. It is to be hoped that the time is not far distant when the Red Cross will be able to set one up in Sherbrooke itself."

Mr. Allnutt mentioned that total deaths in the hospital this year were 65 as compared with 73 in 1948, and reported also that there had been an increase in the number of patients admitted to the hospital. He reported a reduction in food costs, dispensary and operating room expenses, fuel costs and gas, light, power and laundry supplies.

In closing, Mr. Allnutt thanked many members of the Board of Governors and of the corporation for their continued support. The report of the nursing department, read by the superintendent of nurses, Miss Vera L. Graham, followed. It disclosed the census of the nursing department taken on December 31st, 1949, the number of students admitted to the school and the number of resignations from the school. Students admitted numbered 18 and resignations 2.

In addition Miss Graham reported changes in the nursing staff and time lost due to illness both among the graduate nursing staff and the student nurses. Although she felt the number of days lost to be high, Miss Graham felt that the health service had been an effective means of controlling serious illness.

The superintendent reported the nurses' capping ceremony, graduation exercises, carol service, meetings of the nursing committee, and said, "It was a pleasure to introduce some eight-hour duty. The graduate general staff on the obstetrical ward now rotate every two weeks with the second and third periods on an eight-hour basis with one day off each week."

The primary aim of the education of nurses, stated by Miss Graham is the development of all potentialities which will make for a well balanced person and efficient nurse, to the end that she may find happiness and satisfaction in her professional and personal life. "For this reason the possibility of having aptitude and interest tests done for our students was investigated, and the class which entered September 1949 was the first to complete the series of tests," the speaker said.

Miss Graham also reported that the new residence will provide adequate facilities for the course in nutrition which is planned with the purpose of providing the student nurse with the general information she needs relative to normal nutrition and the preparation of food.

Miss Graham extended thanks to the nursing staff, the nursing committee and the ladies auxiliary for all their assistance.

Mrs. Simon Marcus gave another of the reports on the agenda, that of the Ladies' Auxiliary. She reported a membership of 74 with seven new members, and that eight meetings had been held during the year.

In addition, Mrs. Marcus said, there is an associate membership of forty which helps with sewing and pays fees though its members do not attend meetings. The Carry On Club has been holding

West Coast Strike Threat Is Lifted

Vancouver, June 15.—A strike threat was lifted today from coastal timber stands, backbone of British Columbia's economy, when representatives of 32,000 coastal loggers agreed to contract proposals.

Loggers and millworkers were to have walked out at the beginning of the day shift. Settlement was announced at 12.30 a.m. PDT. The International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A. - C.C.L.) lost its fight for a union shop. But the loggers and millworkers won wage increases which the 163 operators estimate will cost $7,000,000 a year.

Announcement of the settlement ended fears of economic paralysis in the province, which depends on logging for 45 per cent of its income.

The I.W.A. accepted what operators said was their "final offer"—a 12½ cents an hour pay increase, a maintenance-of-membership clause and a five-day, 40-hour work week.

"Only an hour before the agreement, the union had arranged for pickets on shifts starting this morning. Earlier, midnight Wednesday had been set as the deadline for agreement."

The settlement must be ratified by employees and operators. This, however, is expected to be a formality.

"We believe the settlement is in the best interest of both the members of the union and the people of B.C.," said J. Stewart Asbury, B.C., president of the I.W.A.

"It is a great step ahead for the union."

R. V. Stuart of Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., speaking on behalf of operators, said: "It is a source of satisfaction to employers in the forest industry of B.C. that the very extensive concessions they have made . . . have prevented this province being injured by an industry-wide work stoppage in its most vital industry."

Original I.W.A. demands were a union shop, a 17 cents an hour salary increase and the five-day, 40-hour week.

The operators had tentatively accepted the award of a conciliation board which was refused by the loggers. It recommended the maintenance of - of - membership clause and a nine cents an hour increase.

The pay boost granted by operators, which goes to all loggers and millworkers, including cookhouse and bunkhouse employees, brings the basic rate in the industry to about $1.20 an hour.

Alphonse Saumier Appointed C. Of C. Secretary, Succeeds Gaston Taillon

Appointment of Alphonse Saumier as secretary of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, succeeding L. Gaston Taillon, who has resigned to accept a position with an insurance agency, was announced today.

Mr. Saumier, a former journalist, has been director of the Sherbrooke Tourist Bureau and has resigned this appointment to become secretary of the Chamber.

ALPHONSE SAUMIER

Although Mr. Taillon's resignation has been accepted by the Board of Directors, the retiring secretary will continue to assist the Chamber in an advisory capacity until the end of the year.

INVERNESS

A meeting of the trustees of the Bouteille and Congregational Cemetery Board took place at the home of Mr. J. H. Y. Cruickshank. Trustees present were Messrs. James E. Robinson, H. J. Lipsey, J. H. Y. Cruickshank and William Lunnie. As considerable work in connection with the entrance gates and other parts of the cemetery need to be done, it was decided to hold a bee on June 16, weather permitting.

Members of the St. Stephen's Church Guild, together with the ladies of the Church of the Ascension, Inverness, met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Y. Cruickshank to present a welcome basket to Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Secord, who have recently arrived from St. Stephen, N.B. The presentation was made by Mr. Cruickshank on behalf of the ladies. Rev. Mr. Secord, on behalf of Mrs. Secord and himself, thanked everyone for their kindness and generosity. Refreshments were served by Vera Bradley, Mrs. Clifford Marshall and Miss Ann Cruickshank. Mrs. L. Boldie poured tea.

A meeting of the Agricultural and Horticultural Societies was held in the Town Hall.

Several from here attended the Farm Forum Rally held in the L.O.O.F. Hall, at Kinross Mills. Messrs. Arthur and Herbert Lowry were visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lipsey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lunnie and Master Melvin Wright were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Little.

Mr. Everett Moore, of Thorndike Mines, was calling on friends.

Mrs. J. L. Wake, Mrs. William Lunnie, the Misses Jean Leav, month, Vera Bradley and Grame Minnaugh attended a miscellaneous shower for Miss Mildred Dempsey at the home of Mrs. Daniel Melrose.

Mr. and Mrs. George Purdon and family and Mr. Little, of Quebec, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacKenzie.

Mr. William Marshall, who is en route to Ontario, spent several days in Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lipsey spent a day with Messrs. Arthur and Herbert Lowry.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. K. Lauer, of Montreal. Mrs. Lauer, nee Katherine Crawford, was a former resident of this district and passed away after an illness of over five years on May 31. Friends extend sympathy to her brother, Mr. Donald Crawford, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Learmonth and sons, Jimmie and Peter, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Doherty, in Scotland.

Mr. Thomas Lowry and Miss Mabel Lowry were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lowry.

Visitors at the Cruickshank home were Miss Miriam, Planey, of Salem, Mass.; Mr. Gordon Dickson, of Concord, Vt.; and Mrs. H. A. Dickson.

Mrs. Thomas Little, the Misses Jean Learmonth and Grace Minnaugh attended a "shower" for Miss Glenna Porter, at the home of Mrs. Gordon Learmonth.

Mrs. Clark O'Malley and son, Raymond, and daughter, Shirley, of Sherbrooke, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent O'Malley.

Several from here attended the dance at Kinross Mills.

Miss Ina Trott, of St. Thomas, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore, of Sherbrooke, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Little.

Mr. Howard Wright, of Thorndike Mines, Mrs. H. McElreavy, Miss Doris McElreavy, Mrs. Clarke O'Malley, Master Raymond, and Miss Shirley O'Malley, of Sherbrooke, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Macmillan, Mrs. McNeely, and Mrs. James Marshall, and Mrs. Hebert and Miss Katherine Watson.

Mr. J. L. Warke was visiting Mr. Thomas Lowry, Miss Mabel Lowry and Mrs. Winnifred Robinson, presented with a life-membership pin.

The reports of Committees on Resolutions and Plan of Work were then read.

It was reported that the National W.C.T.U. Convention would be held in the First Baptist Church, Montreal, from September 18 to 21 and that the Provincial Convention would be held at the same place on September 22nd.

After Hymn 376 was sung, the Convention closed.

L. GASTON TAILLON

The new appointment becomes effective immediately and Mr. Saumier is at present in Hamilton, Ont., attending a course for Chamber of Commerce secretaries at McMaster University.

Although Mr. Taillon's resignation has been accepted by the Board of Directors, the retiring secretary will continue to assist the Chamber in an advisory capacity until the end of the year.

W.C.T.U. Holds 65th Convention In North Hatley

North Hatley, June 15.—The 65th annual convention of the Standed County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Community Hall of North Hatley, on Tuesday, May 23, 1950, with morning and afternoon sessions. The president, Mrs. George Phaneuf, was in the chair.

The opening service was conducted by Rev. M. Beaufort who divided his discourse into three parts, disciplining the body to obey the soul, cementing temperance work into the work of other organizations to make it more effective, and influencing people by our actions, rather than by too many words.

The minutes of the last convention were read and adopted.

The appointment of committees was followed by appropriate words of welcome from Mrs. Charles Bennett who said in part: "While we have been labouring to counteract all evil influences, the enemy has been on the alert in every place possible. There is no need for me to paint a shameful picture of the drink situation in Canada today. Our newspapers, magazines, police courts and law courts will give you all the fearful records that prove the truth—'Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging.'"

This instrument of unrighteousness, alcohol, is increasing crime, family separations and divorce proceedings. Let us all pray that people will soon see that our cause is a righteous one and therefore of God and that the Christian peoples of the world be aroused to more active service."

The reports of the corresponding secretary, treasurer and superintendent followed.

Noontide prayer was conducted by Mrs. C. Bennett.

At 12.30 a delicious lunch was served by the North Hatley ladies.

At 1.45 p.m. a very impressive memorial service was conducted by Mrs. F. A. Johnston to pay tribute to a very devoted member in the person of Mrs. Eva McKenna, who has passed to her reward since the last convention.

After hymn 174 was read in union, Psalm selection 765 was read. "Souls of the Righteous."

A prayer of thanks was offered followed by the Lord's prayer.

In speaking of Mrs. McKenna, Mrs. Johnston said: "That one name leaves a great void in our society. Her life stood out as a great white flower. She has graduated and gone on to a higher service. Her prayers were an inspiration to us all."

Mrs. Phaneuf and Miss M. Kezar also testified to Mrs. McKenna's Christian character.

Mrs. Johnston ended her service with the words, "Splendid you passed, the great surrender made," followed by the benediction.

At 2 p.m. the Convention was privileged to hear Rev. Mr. Young, of North Hatley. He spoke of his experiences among the unfortunate and unhappy and of bringing happiness to them by sympathy and kindness rather than by condemnation. He stressed the evils of cigarette smoking and of the grip it had on our youth and of the shameful waste of money by parents, who should be using it for the necessities of their families.

Mr. Young said "Our habits are things which need to be checked before they become our masters. Paul said 'We can overcome all things with Christ who strengtheneth us.'"

Mrs. Robert Vaughan then sang two fine solos, "The Stranger of Galilee" and "Sing Me To Sleep."

The slate of officers as prepared by the Ayer's Cliff Union was accepted as presented. The following officers were installed by Mrs. Ella Little:

Past President, Rev. Lottie Record; president, Mrs. George Phaneuf; first vice-president, Mrs. C. Harris; second vice-president, Mrs. Ella Little; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Majury; recording secretary, Mrs. W. D. Kirk; treasurer, Mrs. Stuart Taylor.

The president, Mrs. Phaneuf, read interesting parts of a letter from the Quebec Temperance League.

Mrs. Lottie Crothers was then

W.M.S. Of The United Church, Granby, Observed Its 25th Anniversary And Presented Mrs. N. Patterson With A Gift

Granby, June 15.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church since Union, (which took place in 1925) was observed by the Granby W.M.S. on Tuesday afternoon, June 6, at the regular June meeting.

The inaugural service took place in Bloor Street United Church, Toronto, Ont.

A worship service preceded the celebration of "Growing with the Years," was conducted by the president, Mrs. N. D. Patterson.

Those reviewing this subject were Mrs. E. A. Swett, Mrs. J. Gray, Mrs. H. Salisbury, Mrs. C. Marcotte, Mrs. N. Hindley and Mrs. D. Neil.

The two Granby churches, the Congregational and Methodist, united in 1928. Special mention was made of two former presidents, Mrs. W. W. D. Brack and Mrs. J. G. Fuller, and a former vice-president, Mrs. H. A. Crack.

Reference was also made to the presence of Mrs. Sarah J. Collins, a member of the first United Auxiliary, and for many years a faithful worker. Those giving reports were membership, Mrs. E. M. Harding; giving, Miss M. Wiggins; study and reading, Mrs. C. W. Miller; service, Mrs. L. C. Swett; leadership, Mrs. N. Booth; full-time church workers, Miss E. Primmerman. There followed a closing litany of dedication to "Advance." Plans were completed for the summer meeting to be held on June 20, at the home of Mrs. F. Neil, Granby Hill.

Mrs. B. Streeter was appointed as delegate to the "School for Leaders," to be held at McCaulay Camp, L'Orignal, on Aug. 14-18.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. J. G. Fuller on behalf of the members and friends assembled, presented Mrs. N. D. Patterson, which was as follows: "Dear Mrs. Patterson—At this meeting of our W.M.S. which we regret to say will be the last that we will spend together, we wish to say a few words to you, which will come straight from our hearts. "We feel sure that you know us to be a group of loyal women, faithful and true to you in every respect, and now that we have come to the "parting of the ways," we pray that God's richest blessing will follow you to your new home and rest continually upon you.

"You have given us a new upward look in the work of our W.M.S. and we pray that this will be continued in the years to come.

"Today we bring you a parting gift in this 'Mix Master,' not because you in any way need it, for we have many times tasted your good cooking mixed only by your own clever hands. We assure you it is a true love-gift and we ask you to accept it as such and some times as you use it, we hope you will think of the loyal friends you have in the Granby W.M.S."

Little Dale Irwin then presented Mrs. Patterson with a bouquet of lovely flowers and Mrs. Patterson made a graceful response, thanking the ladies for their loyalty and co-operation.

The hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. C. Marcotte, Mrs. A. E. Swett, Miss M. Wiggins, Mrs. M. Berry, Mrs. R. V. Nickerson, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mrs. N. Booth, Mrs. J. G. Fuller, and Mrs. E. M. Harding.

Rev. N. D. Patterson has accepted a call to a church at Brantford, Ont.

MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS
The official opening of the Granby Museum of Fine Arts took place on Wednesday evening, June 6, at the City Hall, when the president, Mrs. Henri Picard, welcomed the delegates from various organizations and a number of interested people.

Among the speakers were Mayor P. H. Boivin, who explained the aims and object of the organization and encouraged everyone to take an interest in its existence. He was followed by Mr. Bernard Legare, secretary, and Mr. Roberts Mitchell, treasurer of the organization.

Mrs. Picard, in her address, drew special attention to the paintings from the National Gallery now on exhibition at the City Hall.

Thanks were expressed for the gift of a beautiful Art Book from Mr. Laliberte and for the sum of $10 given anonymously. As a fitting remembrance of the occasion, Mayor Boivin invited all those present to sign the Golden Book of the City.

ST. GEORGE'S C.W.A.
The regular monthly meeting of the C.W.A. of St. George's Church, took place on June 1.

Following the business period the president, Mrs. McDougall introduced the guest artists, Mrs. L. Kavanagh and Miss Diana MacDonald.

Mrs. Kavanagh, accompanied by Mrs. E. Davidge sang two songs, "Let My Song Fill Your Hearts" and "I'll Walk Beside You." Miss MacDonald gave a most amusing reading, "The Waltz." Tea was served by Mrs. H. S.

Waiting For A Green Light

The Rev. Meyer Imperiale of Melrose, Mass., is an ordained minister waiting for a call that will give him a permanent pastorate. In the meantime, he's supporting himself and family by working as a signman for the Boston and Maine Railroad. Imperiale is seen tending his crossing.

STANBRIDGE RIDGE

Members of this community were deeply shocked and grieved to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Herman Sornberger, who was found dead on the floor in her home

Lawrence, Mrs. A. Picard, Mrs. J. Horner, Mrs. W. R. Legge, Mrs. W. Allen and Mrs. H. W. Blunt.

General Notes
The Protestant and Roman Catholic commissions of Granby have announced that they will seek loans totalling $630,000 for the erection of high school buildings. The Roman Catholic commission will seek $405,000 and the Protestant commission $225,000.

early on Sunday morning. The coroner, Dr. Bombardier, was called and pronounced death due to a cerebral hemorrhage. The deceased performed her household duties as usual, the day before. Although she had not been in good health for some time, her untimely passing was entirely unexpected. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Baker attended the funeral of Mrs. Bertram Boomhower, in Stanbridge East, and also motored to Sutton.

Mr. Archie Sager attended a meeting of the Missisquoi County Agricultural Society at Bedford. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook, of Bedford, were guests of the latter's parents.

FRELIGHTSBURG

The regular monthly meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, was held on Tuesday, June 6, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. H. Spencer. There was an attendance of 23 ladies. The speakers for the afternoon were Mrs. W. W. Chipman, M.B.E., co-chairman of the Women's Work Committee, and Madame Boudrias, her assistant. Some of the highlights of their remarks were the report of the annual meeting of the society, which was held in Toronto, Ont., in the early part of May. They also told of the large amount of supplies that have been sent to Roumouki and Cabano. Efforts are being made now to present each family who have suffered in the Manitoba flood, with a quilt. Both Mrs. Chipman and Madame Boudrias thanked the local branch for their work and co-operation, and wishes the members success in their endeavours. Tea was served by the ladies. Mrs. Alex Tait local branch will not meet again presided at the tea table. This summer, but plans to resume work in September. However, all still have garments to be made and yarn to knit, and anyone desiring to help may get in touch with the work committee, Mrs. C. A. Soule or Mrs. Bert Smith.

team Friday, on the local grounds. The Enosburg girls won by a score of 36-18.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Grasse, Mr. Edson Thompson, Mr. Francis Percy, and Mr. Walter Westover, were in Ormstown, where they attended the Fair.

Mrs. G. Holden has returned from Montreal, where she has been visiting her son for several weeks.

Mrs. Thomas Orr and son, Russell, of Montreal, and Miss Doris Rice, of Stanbridge East, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Creller.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Spencer were in Montreal on June 10, at the home of their son, Eldon, on the occasion of the birthday of their little grandson, Eric.

Mrs. Walter Westover spent the week-end in Montreal, with Mrs. Thomas Frey.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Creller and daughters, Martha and Charlotte attended the piano recital on June 10, at Stanbridge East, presented by the pupils of Miss Doris Rice. Miss Charlotte, was one of the pupils, and played two selections, "Minuet in G" by Beethoven, and "Hungarian Dance" by C. Richter.

Mrs. Eva Ingalls and Miss Gail Tait are spending a few days in Plattsburg, N.Y., with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ingalls.

OBITUARIES

HOWARD STATION, OF EASTMAN.

Eastman, June 15. — Family friends and neighbors gathered here on Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Howard Station, whose tragic death at the age of thirteen years occurred following a drowning accident near Silver Lake on Saturday morning, May 27.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Station, he attended Waterloo High School, where he made many friends.

The funeral service took place at St. John's Anglican Church and was conducted by Rev. A. E. Tuik, of Magog. Mrs. Lawrence Ewens presided at the organ during the service. The choir sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Softly and Tenderly."

A large representation of the staff and pupils of the Waterloo High School was present at the funeral.

The crowded church and the many wreaths, sprays and other floral offerings expressed the sympathy of neighbors and friends of the family.

The bearers, all young friends of Howard, were George Ticehurst, Philip Benoit, Malcolm Lewis, David Lewis, Bobby Chatter and Murray Logan.

Left to mourn his death are Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Station, father and mother; two sisters and two brothers; one sister-in-law and a brother-in-law, and many relatives and friends.

Among those from out of town who attended the services were Mrs. Leon Desruisseaux and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Station and family, of Sawyerville, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Whiteman and daughter, of Rock Island, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bullard and Mrs. Ella Martin, of Waterloo, Mrs. Herbert Hodge and Mrs. Raymond Hodge, of Sawyerville, Mrs. Alice Mills and Mrs. Hattie Coles and daughter, of Sherbrooke, Mrs. J. Station, of Lennoxville, and Rev. H. Andrews, M.B.E., and Mr. O. T. Pickford, of Waterloo.

Interment was made in Silver Valley Cemetery beside his sister Ruby. Rev. A. E. Tuik, of Magog, officiated. Mr. Paul Ledoux, of Waterloo, was the funeral director.

MISS ANNIE GILMORE OF ROCK ISLAND

Rock Island, June 15. — These communities were shocked and saddened on Tuesday, June 6, 1950, to learn of the sudden death of one of its most respected citizens, Miss Annie Gilmore, which occurred on Monday night, after she had retired at the home of Mr. Richard Millet, 168 Prospect street, Sherbrooke, where she had been a guest for a few days. Her death was attributed to coronary thrombosis.

Miss Gilmore was born in Rock Island on September 17, 1873, the youngest daughter of a family of ten children, of the late Albert and Ellen Gilmore. She lived her entire life in the Three Villages.

Miss Gilmore attended and was a graduate of Stanstead Ursuline Convent. She possessed a pleasant personality, which enabled her to make and keep many friendships. She carried on an active correspondence with a host of friends, many who at one time resided at these villages, and through these letters had kept in touch with the many changes of time.

Miss Gilmore possessed many talents; she was an accomplished musician, and artist. She was active in church work, Red Cross activities, and did a great deal of philanthropic work in the communities and elsewhere.

These last years, she had resided with her sister, Mrs. Ella Paquette, and her niece, Mrs. Jack Waterman, and Mr. Waterman, during the time of the repose of her remains at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hermine Fregeau, hundreds of her friends called to express their sympathy to the bereaved family. The numerous spiritual bouquets, mass offerings, and floral tributes were silent tokens of esteem felt for the deceased.

The funeral was held at the church of Our Lady of Mercy, on Friday, June 9, at 9 a.m.

The professional cortege was met at the church entrance by Rev. Father George Guay, parish priest.

The High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Guay, assisted by Rev. Albert Dionne, of Stanstead, and Rev. Father Turcotte, of Beebe, sub-deacon.

The bearers were friends of long standing, Messrs. James McNally, Frank Clark, Horace Cordeau and Richard Millet, of Sherbrooke.

The funeral was attended by a large number of relatives and friends from home and a distance who gathered to pay their last respects to a good friend, who will be missed in many ways.

Miss Gilmore is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ella Paquette and Mrs. Hermine Fregeau, of Rock Island; two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Gilmore and Mrs. John Gilmore, of Derby Line; several nieces and nephews, and other relatives.

Those attending the funeral from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilmore, of Ste. Eustache, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gilmore, of St. Johns, Mr. Richard Millet and Miss A. Millet, of Sherbrooke; Mrs. Rudolph Ethier, of Magog; Dr. and Mrs. Tierney, Miss Patricia Tierney, Miss Sheila Cordeau, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, and Mrs. Eva Cox, all of St. Johnsburg, Vt.; and Messrs. Charles and James Moulton, of Claremont, N. H.

MR. LINDSAY PROCTOR, OF BEDFORD

Bedford, June 15. — The funeral of Mr. Lindsay Proctor, who passed away at the B.M.P. Hospital, at Sweetsburg, June 2, was held on Monday afternoon, at two o'clock from his late residence, on Church Street, to St. James Anglican Church, of which he was a member.

The rector, the Rev. W. F. White, officiated.

The deceased was a member of Bedford Lodge, No. 60, A.F. and A.M., and the funeral was a Masonic one, and was largely attended.

The bearers were all Masons, Messrs. Harry Jones, Richard W. Craighead, Ross Crawford, C. Guthrie and K. E. Best.

The hymns sung at the funeral were "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God To Thee."

Interment was made in the family lot in the United Cemetery, at Mystic. The floral tributes were many and especially beautiful and were silent tokens of tribute and respect to the departed.

Mr. Proctor, who was forty-seven years of age, had been a life-long resident of the district. When the funeral cortege left the church, the members of the municipal police and fire department, together with the local members of the R.C.M.P. and representatives of the police forces from St. Johns, Greenby, Farnham, Cowansville and other surrounding municipalities, formed a guard of honor, and stood at attention as the funeral passed.

Mr. Proctor had been for many years a municipal employee of the Town of Bedford.

Among the chief mourners were Mrs. Lindsay Proctor, widow; Mrs. Ernest Proctor, step-mother; Miss Marion Proctor, of Mystic, sister; Mr. and Mrs. A. Proctor, Mystic; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Henry Black, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Killen, Messrs. John, Peter and Archie Proctor, half-brothers; Mr. and Mrs. Boomhower and Mr. and Mrs. Callaghan, of Stanbridge East.

LEONARD NICHOLS, OF ASBESTOS

Asbestos, June 15. — The funeral service for Mr. Leonard Nichols was held in the United Church on Wednesday evening, June 7. Rev. Mr. Foggo officiated.

The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Elton Webb assisted the choir and sang "The Old Rugged Cross" as a duet.

The bearers were Messrs. Albert Olney, of Danville, Cecil Elliott, of South Durham, Ross, of Richmond, Frank Smith, Jack

Back From The Sea

One of four known survivors of a B-29 Superfortress, which crashed into the North Sea, is helped along the docks at Lowestoft, England, after he and a companion were found floating in a rubber dinghy. He is S/Sgt. Warren Ebert of Minneapolis, one of an 11-man crew. Three bodies have been found and four other crewmen are missing.

Hobbs and George Frerichs, of Asbestos.

The body was taken by Mr. Stuart Lockwood's motor hearse to Lachute on Thursday morning, where a second funeral service was held on Thursday morning.

MR. ALDEN LOWELL, OF WATERVILLE

Waterville, June 15. — The funeral of Mr. Alden Lowell, a resident of Waterville, for many years, was held from his residence on Main Street, on April 29, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. McLeod, of Lennoxville, and was attended by many relatives, friends and neighbors.

He was born at North Hatley, in 1866. Mr. Lowell married Hattie Tope, in Lennoxville, in 1901, and made their home in Waterville. Two children were born to them, Clifford, of Whitby, Ont., and Freda, Mrs. Harold Cartwright, of London, Ont.

Possessing a friendly and social nature, Mr. Lowell will be missed by a host of friends. The floral offerings were beautiful and numerous, and were silent tributes to a beloved relative and friend.

The bearers were Messrs. John Chesley, of Lennoxville, John Woodside, Myron Sampson, Arthur Bell, Fred Bell and Gordon Douglas.

Mr. Lowell leaves to mourn his passing his wife; one daughter,

A.L., also a member of the Magog United Church.

The body rested at his home from which the Masonic Order escorted it to the United Church for the church service, on Tuesday, May 30.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his widow, the former Jennie Knox. Interment was made at the "Pine Cemetery," Magog.

MRS. BERTRAM BOOMHOWER OF STANBRIDGE EAST

Stanbridge East, June 15. — Grace Johnson, wife of Bertram Ernest Boomhower, died on Thursday, June 8, 1950, in her fifty-fifth year.

Mrs. Boomhower was the youngest daughter of the late Dorwin Johnson and his wife, and was born in Stanbridge East, where she had spent her entire life.

She was married to Mr. Bertram Boomhower, in 1933.

She is survived by her husband; one brother, Mr. Clarence D. Johnson; and one half-sister, Mrs. James Callaghan.

Mrs. Boomhower had been ill for many months, and was tenderly cared for by her husband, brother and nephews.

The funeral service was held at the United Church of which she was a member, with the pastor, Rev. T. F. Duncan, officiating. The choir with Mrs. Karl Wescott as organist, sang two hymns, "Abide With Me," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

The bearers were Messrs. Edmund Hodge, Sidney Short, Neil Baker and Frank Corey.

Interment was made in Hillside Cemetery.

Mrs. Gordon Matheson, London Street, spent the week-end visiting relatives in Vermont.

Miss F. Winnifred Hills, of Waterloo, is the guest of Mrs. John Davey, at her home on Walton Avenue.

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burt, of Lennoxville, took place on Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock, at St. Patrick's Church. Rev. Father J. R. Moisan officiating. The baby received the names, Wayne George. The godparents were Mr. John M. Hawkins and Miss Mary Catherine McCoy. Following the ceremony, the parents of the baby entertained the christening party at tea, at their home on Conley Street, where the living room was decorated with bouquets of spring flowers. Mrs. B. W. Murray and Miss McCoy, assisted the hostess.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their final meeting of the season in the church hall, with the president, Mrs. George Stevenson, in the chair. The meeting was opened in the usual manner, with the singing of a hymn, followed by the devotional period, conducted by Mrs. Duncan Ross. After a short business session, Mrs. Stevenson gave an account of the annual meeting of the Quebec Presbytery held in Quebec City, which she and Mrs. Allan Morrison attended. Mrs. Stevenson then read a very interesting letter from Miss Margaret Kennedy, a missionary in India, in which she wrote of some of the work being done. She compared the places of worship there with that of her former home church in Montreal. She also noted the great contrast which exists in those who are Christian and those who believe in Hinduism, and how grateful we should be to live in a Christian country. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Ray and Mrs. Wilson.

DOROTHY DIX

Prospective Stepfather

Should Man Wed Widow Whose Children He Dislikes?

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am in love with a widow who has two girls, one 12 and the other 15. They are under very poor control and do just as they please. I just simply can't stand the way they act, though I don't say anything. But if I married their mother I would have to change from that and I am afraid that it would cause her and me to get along badly. I feel I can't give the mother up, but I can't endure the kids. Please give me your advice.

M. R. H. A.

DOROTHY DIX

Answer: You certainly have a prophetic soul when it warns you that you will have trouble with the mother the minute you begin to try to control her undisciplined children. Don't deceive yourself into thinking that if you marry this woman with her half-grown girls, she will side with you and hold up your hands when you try to discipline them. She won't. She will go over to the enemy's camp every time and align herself with the children. In practically every family it is the mother and the girls against father, even when it is their own father, and what happens to a stepfather when he faces that consolidated opposition is too horrible to think of.

Being a stepfather is the toughest job that any man ever tackles. It is really harder for a man to be a good stepfather than it is for a woman to be a good stepmother, because most women have some maternal instinct that makes them fond of children and gives them some intuitive knowledge of them, but few men are endowed by Nature with much paternal instinct. That is something that has to be developed in them by their own children. Children are an acquired taste with men, so to speak.

Hence no man should marry a woman with children unless he feels within himself the call to be a real father to them, unless he is determined within himself to use tact and diplomacy and kindness in dealing with the children whose lives he has taken into his hands.

So, Mr. Man, think a long time before you marry this woman whose children you already dislike. You'll have them worse when they devil the life out of you and you and your wife will quarrel continually over them. But remember, if you do assume the role of stepfather to them, that you will make or mar their lives.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a business woman of 39. A man who is seven years younger than I am and who was the husband of my sister, who died several years ago, wants to marry me. We were always very good friends and our grief over her loss has drawn us very close together. What do you think we should do under the circumstances? Marry, or give each other up? Is the fact that this man was my sister's husband a bar to our union? And what about the difference in age?

A CONSTANT READER

Answer: There is no reason in the world why you shouldn't marry and be happy. In fact, I should say that your marriage stands a better chance for happiness than most because you and the man know each other so thoroughly that you should be able to judge of your congeniality and suitability to each other.

Of course, in the past there has been a prejudice against a man marrying his deceased wife's sister, but we have happily outgrown that now. For common sense has shown us that in thousands of cases there was no other woman in the world who was so ideal a mate for a bereaved widower as his wife's sister. She was more likely to have the characteristics that he had loved in his wife than any other woman, she would know his habits and his ways and could fit into his life almost without a ripple. There would be no need of adjusting himself to her as to a strange woman.

As for the difference in age, seven years means nothing after a man is past 30, and especially after he has gone through the sobering grief of widowhood.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband and I have adopted a baby girl. She is so very bright and happy and precious to us, but she is an illegitimate baby and our problem is what to tell her when she grows up. Of course, we can satisfy her with most any explanation while she is small, but we realize we must tell her one story and stick to it. Would you destroy the papers concerning her parents, or would you tell her the whole truth?

Answer: Tell her she is an adopted child while she is too little to understand enough about it to have any curiosity on the subject, but don't tell her that she is illegitimate until it becomes necessary to do so. If she asks any questions about her parents, just tell her that they were situated so that they couldn't take care of her and that she was given to you, and that some day when she is a grown-up girl you will tell her all about it. Possibly she will never have to know the sad truth about her birth.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column. However, she has prepared leaflet D-8, "Hasty Marriage," which describes the pitfalls of marrying too soon. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, P. O. Box 98, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Marjorie Moir, newly-elected president, was in the chair on Monday evening for the monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, held at the MacKinnon Memorial.

The Club Collect opened the meeting and was followed by the minutes of the last annual and regular meetings, read by Miss Margaret Haight, secretary. The financial report was given by the treasurer, Miss L. M. Farnsworth.

After discussing the issue, it was decided to respond to the appeal made by the Winnipeg Club for a donation, by subscribing $25, to which amount the members are asked to further contribute, the individual donations to be given to Miss Farnsworth within a week.

A letter was read concerning two National projects, which will be discussed at the Halifax National Convention, being held in July. The local members were in favor of both: A permanent national headquarters; and a benevolent fund to be financed by club members and for the purpose of being available to members requiring the benefits of same.

A small sum was voted towards a present for the retiring National president, Miss Ruth Magill; and a further amount was voted towards expenses of two delegates to the convention, Miss Margaret Haight and Miss Marjorie Moir, the latter having been previously appointed.

As the special train carrying delegates from the west to the Halifax convention will be passing through Sherbrooke, it was decided to have a delegation of club members meet them at the station and present them with souvenirs of Sherbrooke. Miss Lillian Hawker was appointed to take charge of this matter.

The following committees were appointed: International program, Miss Ethel Taylor; social, Mrs. G. J. Alexander; contact, Mrs. T. Chapman; membership, Miss Alice Milford; press, Miss Florine Muffins; with Miss Letta Seymour assisting.

It was announced that an executive meeting would be held in August, but no regular meetings until September.

MARRIAGES

KYLES-MCKINVEN

The marriage of Annette Moreland McKinnon, R.N., daughter of Mr. Robert McKinnon, of North Hatley, and the late Mrs. McKinnon, to Mr. Alexander Doig Kyles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kyles, of Montreal, took place on Saturday afternoon, May 20, at two o'clock, at Elmwood Inn, Lennoxville, the Rev. Norman McLeod officiating. Miss Robina Stevenson played the wedding music, and Mrs. Ferdinand Stegmaier sang "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register. Roses and spring flowers were used to decorate the rooms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ankle-length gown of white lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice buttoned up the front, with tiny buttons, having a Peter Pan collar and three-quarter length sleeves. Her short veil of tulle illusion was held by a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white lilies.

Miss Dinah McKinnon, sister of the bride, and her maid of honor, was gowned in an ankle-length frock of mauve organza made with cap sleeves, and she wore long matching gloves and a bandeau of sweet peas and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

Mr. John Davies, of Trenton, Ont., acted as best man. Mrs. Ferdinand Stegmaier, close friend of the McKinnon family, was dressed in an ankle-length gown of brown lace, made with short sleeves with which she wore long gloves which matched her pink hat with feather trim, and a corsage of pink and white sweet peas.

Mrs. Albert Kyles, mother of the groom, was in a gown of navy blue taffeta with white accessories and her corsage was of variegated sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the same place where the bride's table was centered with the wedding cake and decorated with low bowls of sweet peas.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Kyles left on a motor trip, the bride travelling in a green and white two-piece suit with white accessories and wearing a corsage of pink and white sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyles have taken up residence in Montreal.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, Miss Roberta McKinnon, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kyles, Mrs. Oliver Kyles, Misses Olive and Margaret Kyles, Mr. Ian Kyles, Miss Ann Barrett, Miss Jean Johnston, Miss Margaret Thompson, Miss Georgina Clayton, Miss Joyce Tannanville, Miss Doris Swanson, Mr. Gordon Rabey, all of Montreal; Miss Dinah McKinnon, of Jersey City, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham, of Toronto, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DesForges, of Ottawa, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Verna DesForges, of Ottawa, Ont.; Mr. and Cuts washday work in half! Just wash - wring out - hang up!

ALL OVER CANADA women are talking about the amazing fact that you can wash with new Heavyweight Tide—without any rinsing at all. Some women just plain don't believe it—and you can hardly blame them, for it's the most revolutionary thing that ever happened to washday. But whether or not you find it hard to believe, it's absolutely true.

WHEN you wash with the new Heavyweight Tide, you can take your wash right from those wonder suds—put it through the wringer and onto the line, without rinsing! You see, new Heavyweight Tide gets the dirt out of the clothes—then holds it suspended in the sudsy water. As the clothes go through the wringer, the dirt runs out with the wash water, leaving the clothes so bright, fresh and CLEAN, you'll be amazed.

Townships' Hotel Keepers Attend Meeting

Townships Hotelkeepers To Discuss Problems In Sherbrooke

Eastern Townships hotelkeepers are gathered in Sherbrooke today to study their problems and prepare a list of suggestions to be discussed by the directors of the Province of Quebec Hotel-keepers Association. Practically every hotelkeeper in the district is present at the meeting which opened at 10.30 this morning, this session being followed by a luncheon. Several men prominent in the hotel and tourist industry will discuss various phases of the questions confronting the hotel operators.

Hotelmen will be present from the counties of Arthabaska, Bagot, Brome, Compton, Drummond, Frontenac, Megantic, Missisquoi, Nicolet, Richmond, St. Johns, Shefford, Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe and Yamaska.

The Hotelkeepers' Association, which has been in existence for nine months, resulted from the merging of the Professional Association and the Province of Quebec Hotel Association, has met with great success in recruiting members and its affiliation with the American Hotel Association, the Hotel Association of Canada and the Canadian Tourist Association gives it considerable influence in solving the day to day problems which confront its members and in the realization of its extensive program of advancing the industry.

The sessions are under the

EMILE GOSSELIN, president of the Sherbrooke Hotelkeepers' Association.

Tells Real Causes Of Labor Disputes

Vancouver.—Higher wages and shorter hours are not the real grounds for labor disputes, Dr. J. C. Hewson believes.

He told the Engineering Institute of Canada here that the basic needs of workers are intangible.

"They get mad first, and then find something to strike about."

Dr. Hewson, an industrial psychologist with a firm of management engineers, lists six basic needs for a man to be happy in his job that never come up for labor bargaining. These are affection, a sense of belonging and recognition, independence, social approval, self respect and variety with occasional excitement.

"The plan should include the eventual goal that the man should try for and will probably reach, the route he will take in getting there, and the training he will have to take, and a time-table outlining approximately how long it will take him to go from position to position."

College President Will Visit Canada

Oxford, England.—Sir Richard Livingstone, president for 16 years of Corpus Christi College, Oxford University, will retire in September, it has been announced.

Sir Richard, who is 70, is leaving for Canada in the fall to deliver the Dunning Trust lectures at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. Later he will lecture at Princeton University.

Tartans, Purses Attract Royalty At British Fair

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London.—A black and white shepherd tartan dolly bag attracted the Queen during her visit to the British industries fair.

"You can't carry that," said the King with a laugh.

As a result of the Queen's interest, a similar bag will be made in Royal Stewart for Her Majesty.

A number of handbags were ordered by the Royal visitors during their tour. Another choice of the Queen was in black antelope and, as a gift for Princess Margaret, she chose a stitched brown calf.

Attractive pastel-shaded bags attracted both Queen Mary and the Duchess of Gloucester.

A pale blue leather ornamented with a diagonal row of small leather-covered buttons was Queen Mary's choice. The Duchess favored a deeper blue decorated on one side with a leather bow.

A new line in travel bags caught the interest of all the Royal visitors and a sample was ordered by the Queen, the Queen Mother, the Duchess and the Princess Royal.

The bag consists of an outer canvas envelope to be carried under the arm, into which fits a travel bag with wide gussets.

Capacious Bags

The bag is made of canvas reinforced with leather and fastened by strong press studs. With a base measuring 26 inches, it is the perfect answer for those who go on holiday and return with more than they took.

The many tartan exhibits were of interest to the Queen.

There are tartan goods of every description from textiles and furnishings to fancy goods, travel goods, footwear, picnic and toilet necessities.

Of striking interest is the first English-designed tartan to be acceptable to Scots.

There is no ruling against any Scot producing, or having produced, a new tartan, and this latest tartan, designed in London's Chelsea, is called the Galloway tartan.

Secretly woven in southwestern Scotland, it takes its colors from the rain soft browns and greens of that area. It has the soft blue of the hills in the gloaming, the purple of a heather-blaze in August and the brown, white and yellow of the bracken moors.

British Atom Chief Says Progress Slow

Oxford, England.—The commercial development of nuclear energy from uranium is more difficult than had been supposed "in the first flush of post-war enthusiasm," Sir John Cockcroft, director of Britain's atomic energy program, said recently in an address.

It would be impossible, he said, to predict its future for at least 10 years, during which time power plants would have to be built and operated experimentally.

Theoretically, the prospects for nuclear energy appeared good, since the complete destruction of one ton of uranium by fission released as much energy as the burning of 3,000,000 tons of coal.

However, as an initial step, it would be necessary to develop nuclear power units for specialized purposes, where the cost of power was not important and the amount of uranium used was comparatively small.

One Reserve Needed
The long-term objective for Britain would be to build nuclear power stations which would produce power at a cost approximating that of a coal-fired station. For this it would be essential to have uranium ore reserves which would last several centuries.

Sir John said uranium was not a scarce element, being about 20 times as abundant as silver and present in many minerals. The first major objective would be to find economical methods of extracting low-grade uranium from its ore.

It was also necessary to develop units which would utilize a higher proportion of the uranium than had been customary in wartime piles. He said present atomic piles in Britain were built to produce plutonium and the heat developed was at too low a temperature for use in power development.

Sir John said it was important for the world to achieve a secure basis for control of atomic energy. At the same time, he regarded as "greatly exaggerated" statements suggesting that reactions between the light elements were capable of destroying all life on this planet by "a single event."

Holds Perfect Hand "Funny," She Says

New York.—Talk about beginner's luck!

When three Montrealers living here sat down to teach a pretty young girl the fundamentals of bridge, they had no idea of the one-in-a-million luck she had.

After playing through a half-dozen hands with increasing understanding of the game, 22-year-old Eve Christie raised the bidding to seven spades—much to the consternation of her partner, Fred Kerner.

When she was doubled, Miss Christie said: "This is a funny kind of hand."

That ended the bridge lesson. Their opponents, Kerner's wife Jean and Joe Carin, said they'd had enough.

Drill For Water, Hit Natural Gas

Stirling, Alta.—Lou Metzger, tired of 40 years of hauling water to his farm south of here, decided to have a well drilled. As he puts it: "We got more than we bargained for."

A well-drilling company was forced to abandon its first attempt but on the second, at the 1,100-foot mark, it struck water—and natural gas.

"We're going to put gas in the house, barn and everything," said Mrs. Metzger. "It was expensive to get the water well dug, but the gas is extra. We are terribly thrilled."

One pipe has been attached to the well for water and another for gas.

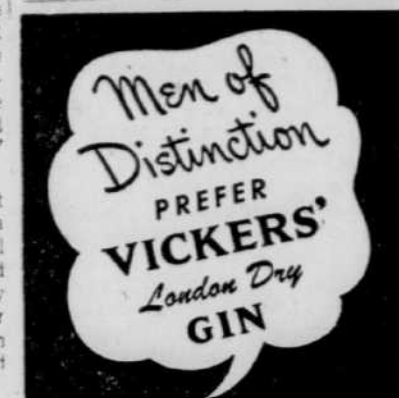

can bet at this month's Ascot race meeting "on the rail" if they wish to do so.

"The Duke of Norfolk, who is His Majesty's representative, has never received instructions that women may not, equally with men, place bets with the bookmakers who line the rails of the Royal enclosure," said an official at the Ascot offices in St. James' Palace.

The official made it clear that there was no foundation for a suggestion at last year's Royal meeting that some women had been asked to leave because they placed their bets in this way, or that their names had been taken and that they would be barred from the enclosure this year.

"There has been no change of policy," the official said. "There seemed to be a great deal of doubt and uncertainty among some race-goers on the point last year. The position was precisely the same last year as it is now."

New Zealand Eases Immigration Curbs

By J. C. GRAHAM

Canadian Press Correspondent
Wellington, N.Z.—Faced with a decline in the flow of un-married migrants from Britain and a continued acute labor shortage, New Zealand has widened the scope of its assisted migration scheme in a bid to get the cream of Britons wishing to settle abroad in Commonwealth countries.

Because of the housing shortage, New Zealand has so far limited its post-war immigration scheme to single men and women under 35 and skilled in various occupations for which there is an unsatisfied labor market in the Dominion. Most of them have had to pay part of their fares.

Now the upper age limit has been extended to 45 and married workers with up to two children can qualify for passage. In addition, all those selected will have the whole cost of their fares paid by the New Zealand government.

New Zealand will also seek un-married skilled workers in Europe. At present, only about 2,500 migrants a year are being brought to the country under government schemes. It is hoped to step up the number to 10,000, but transport and housing problems will not make it possible for this target to be reached for a year or more. Married workers at first will be limited to those recruited for hydro-electric construction schemes and workers for building and similar industries.

In spite of its accommodation problems, however, New Zealand will again accept from the international refugee organization this

Mother Of The Bride

Few mothers live to enjoy their children's Golden Wedding anniversary, so 90-year-old Mrs. Janet Terry, centre, is right proud of being the guest of honor at the mid-June Golden Wedding party of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Watt, of Novelty, Ohio.

year 1,000 displaced persons, including a proportion of elderly people beyond the age to be of economic value to the country. The Dominion made a similar gesture last year as a contribution to the solution of the refugee problem. The decision to include elderly people, banned from drafts accepted by most countries, was hailed as a fine humanitarian action by families in camps throughout Europe last year who faced disruption on account of age limits.

Richmond Hill Women's Institute Hold Meeting

Richmond Hill, June 15.—The June meeting of the Richmond Hill Women's Institute was held at Valleyview Hall, on June 6. This was an open meeting.

Mrs. Melver, president, opened the meeting in the usual way by all repeating the "Mary Stewart Collect" and the allegiance to the flag. Nine members answered the roll call by telling of the "part of their work they liked best and why." There were one visitor and three children present.

Mrs. Russel Sloane read the past month's minutes, and gave the financial report which were both approved as read.

Correspondence was read and thanks were expressed for sunshine boxes sent out the past month. All bills were ordered paid.

It was moved by Mrs. Banfill and seconded by Mrs. W. Smith that $10 be sent to the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

A food sale was planned for June 23, if the use of the Southern Canada show room was available.

The donation sale amounted to $1.20 and the sale of cloth brought in $5.82 adding a nice sum to the treasury. It was voted that $12 be paid to Mrs. Melver for expenses, as she would be representing this branch at the annual W.I. convention being held at Macdonald College, later in the month.

Several beautiful hand-drawn rugs made by Mrs. W. Brown were on display and drew a lot of admiration.

The July meeting is to be held at the hall with Mrs. Sydney Smith, for the hostess. A baby shower is to be held at this meeting.

Mrs. Kydd moved the adjournment of the meeting which was seconded by Mrs. Boast.

Delicious refreshments provided by the ladies present were served and enjoyed by all.

General Notes
Mrs. Evelyn Skerry and Mr. Gerald Skerry, of Kingsley, were visiting Mrs. John Mulvena and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Healy.

A number in this vicinity were in Danville on Sunday attending the races.

Miss Angele Roy was a weekend guest of Miss Joanne Dennison, at Dennison's Mills.

Mr. Gordon Redburn was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fuller in Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Jack Dunlavy were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Comiskey and Mr. W. Comiskey.

Miss Louise Roy, of Sherbrooke, spent the past week-end at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Blain and Mr. Aristide Blain were in Richmond and attended the Ducharme-Boulter wedding which took place on June 3. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Ducharme held a reception for their son, Mr. David Ducharme, and Mrs. Ducharme, which was largely attended.

Mr. Walter Healy, of Cleveland, was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Healy.

Gum Plays A Part In This Swimsuit

London.—A new idea in swimsuits designed to give the utmost nudity for purposes of sun-tanning is the shortest of briefs combined with two strapless bras cups stuck on with gum.

The idea was devised by Charles L. Lang to solve the problem of women who desired an evenly tanned back and shoulders.

Trouble was that backless bras had to have straps and strapless bras had to have backs. The only answer seemed to be gum. So Charles set about inventing a gum that left no trace on the skin.

This he has done, but there's still a snag. The gum must be renewed after every swim. So far Charles has not managed to solve that one.

DRUMMONDVILLE TAKES SECOND PLACE IN PROVINCIAL LOOP

S.H.S. Softballers Win Another Title

Sherbrooke High School collected its second interscholastic softball championship within a week as the junior team downed St. Pat's in two straight games this week. S.H.S. seniors defeated Lennoxville in two straight games to win the other interscholastic title.

The Maroon and White were forced to come from behind twice in the second game at the Parade Grounds to edge the St. Pats squad 18-14. They swamped St. Pats in the first game.

Doherty, Chute, Bishop and Coates paced the winner's attack while Fortier, Pigeon and Davis were the big guns for the losers.

Lamotta Cheered While Training

Monticello, N.Y., June 15.—(AP)—Jake Lamotta perked his ears. Somebody actually was cheering. "J for Jake. L for Lamotta." "Yea, Yea, Jake Lamotta."

The Bronx bull usually hears "cheers" starting with B and ending with oooooo. An old Bronx custom.

Jake seemed a little out of place in the Monticello High School gym, his emergency indoor training quarters. Rain had forced him downtown from his swanky retreat at Lake Kiamiesha.

Some 300 'teen-agers watched the middleweight champion of the world—except Pennsylvania.

A wiry little grey-haired man stepped to a microphone. He was Mike Wittenberg, Jake's "press representative."

"You lucky people," he said, "are going to get a chance to see the champion."

"Foist boy to box with the champ is Jimmy Taylor."

Six or eight large mats, normally used for tumbling and wrestling in gym classes, provided a makeshift ring. No ropes. No canvas. No nothing. Just Jake, three sparring partners and his handlers.

A fight by Jimmy Taylor shook up the champ. He made Al Fischer and Leon Daughtry, his other sparmates, pay for the punch.

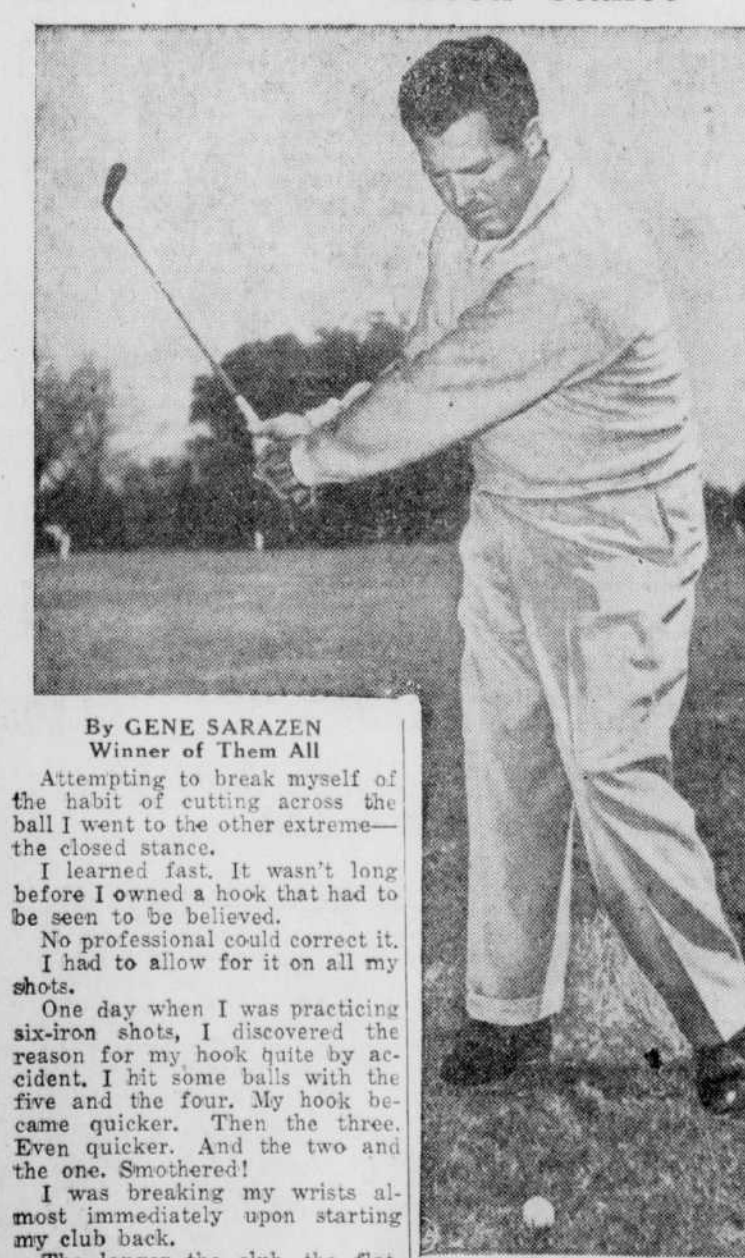

Later, Jake talked about his June 28 title defence at the Polo Grounds against ex-champ Rocky Graziano.

"Am I worried about Graziano? Naw."

"Of course, he might get lucky with a punch and rip open an eye. I know Rocky has a terrific right if he can land. But he telegraphs it."

The SARAZEN SWING

Golfer Has Tendency To Break Wrists From A Closed Stance

By GENE SARAZEN
Winner of Them All

Attempting to break myself of the habit of cutting across the ball I went to the other extreme—the closed stance.

I learned fast. It wasn't long before I found a hook that had to be seen to be believed.

No professional could correct it. I had to allow for it on all my shots.

One day when I was practicing six-iron shots, I discovered the reason for my hook quite by accident. I hit some balls with the five and the four. My hook became quicker. Then the three. Even quicker. And the two and the one. Smothered!

I was breaking my wrists almost immediately upon starting my club back.

The longer the club, the flatter the swing, the more severe the hook.

There is a tendency to make this error, breaking the wrists, from the closed stance because the hands are very close to the body when you address the ball.

In the 1920s I was open to all suggestions. I vacillated from one extreme to the other, compensating successfully for a few weeks at a time until forced to compensate for my compensation.

When I tardily returned to fundamentals and cornered the culprit, my defective grip, I had suffered long enough to respect the merits of the square stance.

Farnham Black Sox Score Twice In Tenth To Eke Out 4-2 Win Over A's

Farnham Black Sox pushed across two runs in the bottom half of the 10th inning last night to defeat the Provincial Baseball League-leading Sherbrooke Athletics, 4-2. In other games, Drummondville Cubs edged St. Johns Braves 8-7 and the cellar-dwelling Granby Red Sox blasted St. Hyacinthe Saints 10-8.

Nick Sevalen was the winner at Farnham. He allowed seven safeties while Louis Shapiro, the loser, also came up with a seven hit effort. Errors were plentiful in the contest with the winners out-fumbling Sherbrooke 4-3.

At St. Johns, the Cubs concentrated all of their scoring in three innings to down the Braves. They tallied three times in the first and third innings and twice in the ninth to sow up the game. Gomez was the loser.

Granby poured across six runs in the first two innings of their contest with St. Hyacinthe and then stood off a determined rally to emerge victorious 10-8. Malone went the distance for the winners and allowed nine hits while his teammates racked two St. Hyacinthe hurlers for 11 base knocks.

The linescores:

Cage Champions To Have Reunion Today

Edmonton, June 15.—(C)—The team that was finally beaten by too much success after ruling the Women's basketball world for almost two decades—Edmonton Grads—holds a reunion today.

Ten years ago the Grads, lacking support, packed up their basketball gear. They had won so often—96.3 per cent of the 522 official games they played in Canada, the United States and Europe from 1915 to 1940—that even their Edmonton fans lost interest.

Some 35 former Grads, including nearly every girl who played on any of the championship teams from 1921, when they first won the Canadian title, until 1940, when the world championship team disbanded—will again meet at a banquet tonight. They will go on a picnic Sunday.

The celebration marks the 35th anniversary of the club's founding. Most of the girls are married. About one-third of them have settled in other cities—at Vancouver, Victoria, Winnipeg, Kitchener, Montreal, Calgary, Banff and Lewiston, Idaho.

Riding hard on them tonight will be the coach of these famous Grads teams, which were a household name to most of this generation—J. Percy Page.

The Grads were graduates of the Edmonton Commercial High School. In their first six years they were Alberta Champions. In 1922 they won the Canadian Title and the following year took the World Crown against Cleveland. Then the Grads wrote basketball history.

During their 25 years the Edmonton girls lost but one provincial championship and after winning the world title they never relinquished it.

In 1940 they were awarded permanent possession of the Underwood Trophy.

The Grads won four successive Olympic Titles—Paris, 1924; Amsterdam, 1928; Los Angeles, 1932 and Berlin, 1936—and never lost a match in the process.

After watching the Grads in action during an international series, Dr. James Naismith, inventor of basketball, said: "The Grads have the greatest team that ever stepped out on a basketball floor."

Wedding Bells For Hockey Players

Three hockey players, well-known in Sherbrooke, have been married in recent weeks. These pictures show them with their brides. Top: Reg. Sinclair, of this year's Saints, and the former Hazel Doreen Bloom of Calgary, who were married in Montreal. Middle: Normie Dussault, Sherbrooke boy who made good with Montreal Canadiens, and the former Jeannine Lemay of Sherbrooke. Bottom: Gilles Dube, formerly of the Saints and last season with Canadiens and Cincinnati, and his bride, the former Carmen Corriveau of Sherbrooke.

What Has Happened To Yanks' Joe Page

What has happened to Fireman Joe Page of 1949—the greatest relief pitcher ever?

The recent work of New York Yankees' bullpen artist reminds fans of the Page of 1948—an in-and-out-er who flopped after a glorious pennant year in 1947.

Highest priced of all Yankee pitchers with $30,000-plus, Page failed the world champs yesterday for the second day in a row.

Allie Reynolds was one out away from victory when the White Sox caught up with him. With two gone in the ninth and New York leading 2-1, a single and a walk by pinch hitters Floyd Baker and Luke Carrasquel tied the score.

Manager Casey Stengel waved in Page. Joe's third pitch to Dave Philley sailed into the lower left field seats for a three-run homer and the ball game.

Page's failure cost the Yanks a chance to gain on Detroit. The Tigers clung to their half-game lead despite an 8-2 defeat by Philadelphia.

The Athletics handed Dizzy Trout his first loss with Elmer Valo and Eddie Joost hitting home runs.

Five homers featured a night game between Cleveland and Boston, won by the Indians 7-3. Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Lou Boudreau were the long-distance clouters for Cleveland, Vern Stephens and Ted Williams for the Red Sox.

Conrad Marrero held St. Louis to four hits as Washington thrust the Browns into the cellar with a 4-1 victory. The Senators had lost seven straight to St. Louis.

National League activity consisted of one night game. Rain washed out the rest of the schedule.

The onrushing St. Louis Cardinals racked up their seventh straight win behind Max Lanier. The chunky southpaw let down the Phillies 4-2 with six hits as St. Louis stretched its lead to 3½ games over idle Brooklyn.

Two runs in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie, handing Ken Heintzelman his fifth loss.

Cats Franchise May Be Bought

Shawinigan Falls, Que., June 15.—(C)—A group of Shawinigan Falls business men met here yesterday to discuss the possibility of forming a syndicate to lease the franchise of Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

No official statement was made, but rumors were that the syndicate would take over the reins of the amateur club by next week.

The club's franchise is held by the city at present and financial difficulties forced it to seek someone who would be interested in sponsoring the club.

The syndicate, if the deal goes through, would lease the club's franchise and the Shawinigan Falls arena. Preliminary estimates set the contract at around $5,000.

By IZAAK HUNTER
EVERYTHING OPEN TOMORROW

Well, my friends, take it away. Here you are in the fishing capital of the world, Quebec, and the law says that starting tomorrow you may legally angler for any fish which swims its waters. There is just one exception to this sweeping statement—one may not fish for bass in the Ottawa River west of Carleton and north to Lake Temiskaming until July 1. That small restriction affecting water jointly shared with Ontario in which province the bass seasons open only on July 1 to give the fish a chance to finish spawning, doesn't affect anglers of the Montreal district to any great extent.

And tomorrow sees the opening of the season for muskellunge, bass and rainbow trout. In the Seigneurie Club lakes the rainbow season opens today. There will be fishing tomorrow men who have not fished before this year. They are those who have waited for bass and muskies, particularly the latter which great fish has a following all his own. And out in the Townships the rainbow trout specialists will be going for their favorite fish. Good fishing to them all.

Muskie Hunters Like Deer Hunters

It may be well at this time to call attention to the laws governing the taking of these three species of fish, open season on which brings fishing in Quebec into full swing. We are entitled to take 3 muskies or a total of 30 pounds and the fish must be at least 24 inches long (it should be 30 inches). We may take ten black bass up to a total weight of 15 pounds, and the legal size limit is 9 inches. (There isn't much eating on a 9-inch bass). With rainbows it is 5 fish per day or 15 pounds with a length limit of 10 inches. An angler may not exceed the limit as regards number, but the weight may be exceeded when the excess is accounted for by one fish only.

There is something almost as exciting about the opening of the muskie season as there is about the deer season opening—quite as much so in fact to real devotees of the sport. Muskie hunters, like deer hunters will go patiently for days without even seeing a trace of their quarry, but when they connect it is worth all that.

Barb Bent Had Good Fishing

Last week I had the pleasure of dining with Barb Bent on his way home to Hartford after his first angling visit of the year in Quebec. He, Doc Parnell, John Noonan of New York and Myron Jackson of Hartford had been at the Metabetchouan in Laurentide Park. They had enjoyed wonderful fishing although they found the trout and the weather as capricious as had John Alden Knight, Joe Weber and I during the same period at Les Ecorces. As in our case they took no really big fish.

A Lovely Trip to Miss

My decrepitude precludes the possibility of joining Harry Rankin, Peter MacKitchie and a couple of others on a long-projected trip back to Windigo for trout fishing. When we were there for part-rigorous shooting last fall we saw some beautiful looking water in which we were assured are speckled trout in abundance. The kindly people of the Brown Companies, Ltd., which owns the limits there, did not have to bend our arms very hard to force us to accept an invitation to wet a fly up there. So the trip is on starting Friday night with none other than Fitz as a probable starter. And here am I with an elbow which protests excruciatingly at any movement. Of course I can cast 15 feet with my left hand and I would have gone anyway if it weren't for the getting into and out of canoes and similar requirements.

So I shall be thinking of Harry and Bill Wolstenholme in as attractive environment as I have ever seen in the bush. I shall think of them jeeping over excellent truck roads and fighting threatening speckled gladiators in lake and stream. Gordon Brown, formerly with the Aluminum Company, and now back with Brown Companies made the arrangements, and Ste. Marguerite salmon and sea trout fishing some years ago, I know the boys are in for a smooth trip.

Instructions for Gaspe Wardens

Game wardens from all parts of Gaspe district attended a special instruction course at Grande Riviere recently. The course at the Apprentices School was arranged by Hon. Dr. C. E. Pouliot, Minister of Game and Fisheries. Fish and game clubs in the area sent their guardians in for the course.

Training was under the direction of Charles Fremont, K.C., general superintendent of Game and Fisheries, who dealt with fish and game laws and legal procedures against violators. Jean Duguay, I.R., A.C., M.S., graduate of Michigan University, explained the economic value of fish and game resources and the necessity for their wise conservation. Prof. Raymond Cayouette, Zoological Gardens, conducted a course on birds. Jean Boulanger, B.Sc., dealt with fish and fisheries and Inspector Charles Lafrancois, of the enforcement staff, outlined the correct method of prosecuting offenders and dealt with discipline among guardians. Instruction on fur-bearers was given by Armand Tremblay, Registrar of the Fur Service, and Inspector Etienne Fortier, Gaspe district, discussed problems affecting his territory.

An Observer's Role at Least

The actual effect plus the implications of this enforced absence from a trout fishing expedition is a little saddening, but there are usually some compensations for our miseries and so it is this time. With the muskie season opening tomorrow I'm at least going to be able to sit in and watch a bit of the thoughtful kindness of two noted muskie hunters, Joe Hamlin of Lacine, and Ted Glenndening of the same city.

Joe whom I met a couple of weeks ago with Mrs. Hamlin up at O'Connell Lodge has made a name for himself by hauling muskies out of Vaudreuil Bay. Not only that he seems to have a flair for making his friends catch muskies also.
