...YPIN'S ORDER.

...emocratic Members of ...ma to be Excluded From the House.

ARREST OF LEADERS TO FOLLOW —UNLESS ORDER IS OBEYED PARLIAMENT WILL BE DISSOLVED.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—Premier Stolypin to-day demanded that the Lower House of Parliament exclude from the House all the members of the Social Democratic faction, numbering fifty-five, and sanction the arrest of sixteen of their leaders, including MM. Alexinsky, Tzereteli, Dzhaparidze, and Ozel, on the charge of entering into a conspiracy to overthrow the government and establish a democratic republic. Continuing, the Premier announced that unless the House immediately yielded parliament would be dissolved.

The press and public galleries were cleared, the police and troops took possession of the entrances to the parliament buildings, and the House went into secret session and debated the question raised by the premier. It is considered almost certain that his demands will be rejected.

ENORMOUS HOTEL BUSINESS

C.P.R. Has 5,000 Bookings for Chateau Frontenac in July Besides Ordinary Traffic.

TOO BUSY TO THINK OF BUILDING IN MUSKOKA DISTRICT.

Every department in the C. P. R. is working at its full capacity these days, but perhaps the busiest of them all is the hotel department, which is just entering upon what promises to be far and away the busiest season in the history of the company. Mr. Hayter Reed, the general manager of the department, stated to a 'Witness' representative this morning that business so far as the hotels are concerned was unprecedented, the increase being particularly noticeable in this section of the country.

To show how enormously the demand has grown for good hotel accommodation such as the company provides, Mr. Reed said the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec had for some time had bookings for five thousand guests for the month of July, apart altogether from the ordinary travel for that month. Asked whether it was the intention of the company to build a summer hotel in the Muskoka district, to which the C. P. R. trains are running for the first time this season, Mr. Reed said that the C. P. R. was always ready to turn an honest penny, but for the present they could not think of building in the Muskoka district, for their hands were quite full with other things.

No date has been fixed for the opening of the company's hotel in Victoria, B.C. Mr. Reed says there have been various delays in the work of construction. He expected, however, that it would be opened some time in August.

Mr. Gordon, who has been the manager of the Royal Alexandra Hotel in Winnipeg since the retirement of Mr. Y. Taylor, will be the manager of the new Victoria Hotel, and Mr. W. H. Wills, the present manager of the C. P. R. hotel in Vancouver, will take Mr. Gordon's place in Winnipeg. Mr. Wills is an Englishman, who has had considerable experience in both Europe and the United States. He has been with the company only since New Years.

MEAT RIOT IN CLEVELAND

CROWDS OF JEWISH WOMEN COMPEL KOSHER SHOPS TO CLOSE DOORS.

Cleveland, O., June 13.—With renewed and increased bitterness, the meat war broke out again this morning in the Jewish section of this city. As on yesterday, women led the opposition to the purchase of meat at the increased prices. A crowd of several hundred women compelled many of the kosher shop proprietors to close their doors. Delivery waggons were held up and the meat in them thrown into the street by the irate women. Numerous arrests were made.

A meeting of Jewish people of the district was held last evening, at which funds were pledged for the establishment of four independent co-operative shops.

ROBBER CAPTURED

RUFUS WILLIAMS CONFESSES TO ASSAULTING MRS. GIBBONS AND STEALING $61,000.

San Antonio, Texas, June 14.—Charged with assaulting and robbing Mrs. Sallie Gibbons, of Columbus, S.C., of $61,000, Rufus Williams last night confessed the crime in the county jail. He was caught yesterday on a southbound Southern Pacific train on his way to New Orleans. Mrs. Gibbons and Williams arrived in the city yesterday from the east, the former coming for the purpose of investing in Texas lands. She had on her person fifty one-thousand-dollar bills and the remainder in gold coin. Williams obtained a vehicle from a local livery and suggested a drive into the woods. Mrs. Gibbons was struck on the head and an attempt was made to drown her. Williams said he took her money and fled back here.

BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER.

REMAINS SUPPOSED TO BE THOSE OF WILLIAM EVANS.

A body found floating in the river near the C. P. R. sheds, last evening, and which now lies at the morgue, is believed to be that of William Evans, of 88 Prince street, who, committed suicide on May 10, by jumping into the river from the end of Victoria pier, after taking off his coat, boots and hat.

The body was found last night by Joseph and Napoleon Albert, of Desery street, who are employed in the C. P. R. sheds. They notified the morgue. The fact that the body was without coat and boots, and that it gave indications of being in the water for a month's time, at once caused the morgue employees to come to the conclusion that the body was that of Evans. His relatives live in Manchester, England. During his stay in the city he boarded with Mrs. Phillips, 88 Prince street.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS.

The annual meeting of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will be held on Thursday, June 27, at 3 p.m., in the reading room of the Montreal Board of Trade, when important matters will be up for discussion. Nominations for chairman, vice-chairman and an executive committee of twenty will be received by the secretary up to June 20, at 12 o'clock noon. Members in Montreal and suburbs will nominate eighteen members for the committee, and members in St. Hyacinthe, St. Johns, Iberville, Chambly, Marieville, Valleyfield and St. Laurent, will nominate two members.

LONGSHOREMEN TO BUILD LABOR TEMPLE.

The 'Longshoremen's Union of Montreal will shortly erect a labor temple for their own use in this city.

The decision of the officers to provide the longshoremen with a suitable meeting place is commended along the river front and the men are very enthusiastic over the prospects of having an independent building owned and controlled by the union. A site on the corner of Commissioners and Berri streets, at present occupied by a saloon, has been purchased on which to erect the temple. In speaking of the purchase of the property, this morning, Mr. George Poliquin, treasurer of the Longshoremen's Union, remarked that while the 'longshoremen were not out on a crusade against liquor selling, still they were now going to pull down a saloon to make way for a different kind of accommodation for the men.

The construction of the proposed 'temple' may not be commenced until next spring, but it is the intention of the officers of the union to have it ready for occupation during the autumn of 1908 at latest. It will be planned to provide a number of lodging rooms, and a large dining-room, where the men can get all their meals. Commodious meeting and amusement halls will also be provided in which the men may find recreation or be entertained in the evenings. In this way it is hoped that they will be kept away from resorts along the river front, which are such strong temptation for some of the men.

It is estimated that the entire undertaking will cost the union between forty and fifty thousand dollars.

PRINCE FUSHIMI

Imperial Highness Much Pleased at Compliment Paid by C. P. R.—Cars With Japanese Names.

ELEVATORS AT FORT WILLIAM INSPECTED THIS AFTERNOON.

Schrieber, Ont., June 14. — Prince Fushimi's first night's run on the Canadian Pacific Railway was passed without incident. White River was reached at seven o'clock this morning, sharp on time. Weather conditions were ideal, and the indications are that His Royal Highness will be favored, as were H. R. H. the Duke and Duchess of York, with fine weather throughout his trip to the Pacific Coast.

Heron Bay, where Lake Superior looms up, was passed just as the royal party was breakfasting. Here conversation was at once changed and great delight was expressed at the beauty of the scenery, this section of the lake, with its dotted islands, looking very beautiful in the glorious sunshine; several members of the party expressing great surprise that the shores and islands were not covered with summer cottages.

The Prince is taking the greatest interest in the country, and is much impressed with the immensity of the work that has been accomplished by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Through the different members of his suite, he plies the officials of the company with constant questions and is evidently anxious to learn all he can of Canada and its great railway. All the members of the party have expressed the greatest gratification at the compliment paid them and their country by the company in naming the two new cars in the train the 'Yodogawa' and the 'Kagoshima,' the former being named after the river running through the city of Fushimi and the latter being the name of Mr. Nagasaki's native province. One of the principal members says that it was one of the greatest compliments that has been paid to the Prince and his suite.

The next scheduled stop is Fort William, where the C. P. R. elevators will be inspected and other points of interest in the thriving town visited.

Prince Fushimi gave a dinner last night in his private car 'Cornwall,' at which Mr. Joseph Pope, C.M.G., representing the Dominion Government, and Mr. W. R. Baker, assistant to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who is representing the Canadian Pacific Railway with the Prince's party, were guests.

NICARAGUA AND SALVADOR.

Practically a Declaration of War Has Been Made.

Washington, June 14.—What amounts to an actual declaration of war between Nicaragua and Salvador was contained in the reply of President Zelaya to an inquiry from Washington as to his connection with the recent attack and capture of Acadjutla. The answer came to the State Department to-day in the shape of the following cablegram from the United States consul, General Olivares, at Managua, the Nicaraguan capital:

'I am officially informed that in accordance with the Central American union plan, President Zelaya has despatched munitions of war and troops in aid of General Alfara, who is the popular unionist candidate for the presidency of Salvador. President Figuera opposes the union idea.'

COMMERCE IN JAMAICA

MORE MONEY IN CIRCULATION NOW THAN BEFORE THE EARTHQUAKE.

Ottawa, June 14.—A report from G. E. Burke, Canadian trade agent in Jamaica, received by the Department of Trade and Commerce, states that more money is in circulation now in the island than before the earthquake of last January. Storekeepers report they are doing a better business than ever before. Building operations are very brisk, and Mr. Burke states there is a good opening for Canadian trade in building materials, etc. A good trade might also be developed in flour, meal, corn, oats, butter and condensed milk.

The British Government has given a free grant of £180,000 to the colony and a loan of £800,000.

FIREMEN GOT A SCARE

False Alarm Was Rung in From Box at St. Joseph's Girl's School This Morning.

A TEACHING SISTER THOUGHT IT WAS PART OF THE DRILL TO SOUND ALARM.

At 11 o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was sent in from a private box, No. 87, situated in St. Joseph's Girls' School, at the corner of Desery and Hudon streets.

The firemen lost no time in responding, as No. 13 station is only a short distance from the school building. The number of the box sent in caused uneasiness among the firemen for a few minutes, but on arrival they discovered that it was a false alarm. The religious Sister who was in charge of the school informed the firemen that she had been conducting fire drill among the scholars, and she had understood from Mr. Ferns, the superintendent of the fire alarm department, that every time this exercise was practised the alarm was to be rung in. It would be good drill for the firemen as well as the school children. And that was why she pulled the alarm.

Mr. Ferns states that of course he had not given any such instructions.

THE LAST HALF-YEARLY AMOUNT WAS THE LARGEST ON RECORD.

Under this clause the following amounts have been paid to the city: February, 1906, $12,102; July, 1906, $15,684; November, 1906, $13,048; and June, 1907, $16,036; being a total sum up to date of $56,870.

LOUIS MENARD'S DEATH

CORONER WANTS MORE INFORMATION BEFORE JURY GIVES DECISION.

Coroner McMahon opened an inquest yesterday at the morgue on the body of Louis Menard, a street cleaner, sixty years of age, employed by the Corporation of Montreal, and who died on Wednesday in the Notre Dame Hospital from injuries received on June 6, when he was run over at the corner of St. Catherine and Maisonneuve streets by a grocer's waggon.

Hormisdas Levesque, aged 17 years, who was driving the horse at the time of the accident, was the only witness examined yesterday. He testified that his horse took fright a few minutes previous to the accident and that he could not avoid knocking the old man down.

The coroner came to the conclusion that more evidence would have to be produced before the jury could render a verdict. The victim had stated that the boy, after driving over him, exclaimed that it was good for the old man, as he should have kept out of the way. The boy, on oath, however, denied this.

The inquest will be resumed on June 18.

QUEEN'S FETE BAZAAR

AMERICAN STALL SAYS AMERICAN DESPATCH, MONOPOLIZED HER MAJESTY'S ATTENTION.

London, June 14.—At the opening yesterday of the 'Queen's Fete' bazaar, organized by the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House, in aid of the crippled children of London, Queen Alexandra took especial interest in the United States stall. This was presided over by Mrs. Ronalds, and attended by a notable number of prominent Americans as stallholders, including Mrs. Whitelaw Reid and Miss Reid. At the United States stall Her Majesty's attention was attracted to a pineapple cheese. The inquired, 'What can that be?' and when enlightened she purchased the article and insisted upon carrying it off herself. She entrusted the numerous other novelties purchased at the bazaar to her attendants.

OLD MARBLES AND BRONZES

FINE COLLECTION SECURED BY MR. J. P. MORGAN IN FLORENCE.

Paris, June 14.—It is stated on reliable authority that Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has purchased the splendid collection of fifteenth century marbles and bronzes belonging to the princely house of Strozzi, of Florence. The price named is $200,000. The collection is housed in the Palazzo Strozzi, in a street also called after the old Florentine family. Prince Strozzi, who is fifty-two years of age, and is attached to the court of the Dowager Queen Margherita of Italy, is an Italian senator, so it is to be assumed that Mr. Morgan's latest acquisition is not an infringement of the law designed to prevent the exportation of Italy's works of art classed as national treasures.

BRITISH EMBASSY AT INTERVALE, N.H.

Washington, June 14.—For the remainder of the summer season the work of the British embassy will be conducted at Intervale, New Hampshire, where headquarters have been established. By the end of June Mr. James Bryce, the British ambassador, who is now in the west, delivering a series of commencement addresses, will arrive at Intervale, and will remain there during the hot weather.

FINE AND WARMER

(By Carolyn Wells.)

Abbie Ben Adams, may her life be spared,
Awoke one night, and felt a trifle scared:
For on her shirtwaist-box, cross-legged, sate
A Vision writing on a little slate.
Exceeding nervousness made Abbie quake;
And to the Vision timidly she spake:
'What writest thou?' The Vision looked appalled
At her presumption, and quite coldly drawled:
'The list of Our Best People who depart
For watering-places sumptuous and smart.
'And am I in it?' asked Miss Abbie. 'No!'
The scornful Vision said. 'You're poor, you know.'
'I know,' said Abbie; 'I go where it's cheap.
I can't afford mountains or prices steep.
But, ere you leave, just jot this item down,
I never leave my cats to starve in town.'
The Vision wrote, and vanished. Next night late,
He came again and brought his little slate,
And showed the names of people really best;
And lo! Miss Abbie's name led all the rest!

EMPLOYEES' RIGHTS

IMPORTANT POINT AT ISSUE IN CASE BEFORE SUPERIOR COURT.

Mr. Justice Dunlop is called upon to decide an important point raised in an action taken by Miss Marie Bousquet, who claims $228 as balance of salary due her by her former employer, Miss Marguerite Nellis, a milliner, by whom she was employed as head trimmer, at a salary of $18 a week. The plaintiff having been compelled to give up her work three months before the expiry of her contract, took out the present action.

Miss Nellis pleaded that she was justified in not taking plaintiff back because Miss Bousquet had previously disobeyed orders, and consequently she was not entitled to the balance of salary claimed.

Miss Bousquet in answer set forth that having not complained of such alleged breaches of duty as now invoked by the defence, and having not dismissed her when they were alleged to have been committed, her employer was now debarred from pleading such breaches of duty.

The point to decide is this:—If an employee is not dismissed at the time when he fails to do his duty, can the same breach be invoked in support of a subsequent dismissal?

The case was heard yesterday and taken en delibéré.

CHANGE IN CAR SERVICE.

Owing to repairs to the track on Craig street, the Wellington and Centre line cars, commencing to-morrow morning, will run by way of Notre Dame and St. James streets, instead of by way of Craig street and Place d'Armes hill. This change will be in effect for about three weeks.

THE HAGUE CONFERENCE

PEACE CITY OF THE NETHERLANDS BLOSSOMS FORTH IN GALA ATTIRE.

The Hague, June 14.—This city suddenly blossomed out with flags this morning, representatives of every civilized country on the globe hoisting their standards over the hotels and legations clustered about the two principal squares, while the hotels facing the sea, at Scheveningen, with their multi-colored banners snapping in a stiff breeze, formed a stirring picture. It was like a vast camp of the nations of the world. The weather could not have been finer, cool with bright sunshine.

Practically all the missing delegations arrived during the day. The English, twenty-five strong, headed by Sir Edward Frye, Judge of the Chancellory Division of the British High Court of Justice, and member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague, reached here early, by way of the Hook of Holland.

RESPONSIBILITY OF EMPLOYER.

Mr. Justice Guerin rendered judgment yesterday in a case of Delorme vs. the Locomotive and Machine Company of Montreal. This was a claim for damages on account of injuries received by Delorme while he was helping to place a large block of wood on a flat car, in the company's yard. The judge held as follows: The little finger of plaintiff's right hand was bruised and poisoned owing to the accident, and it so stiffened that he cannot articulate it. The plaintiff's right hand is partially, but seriously and permanently disabled to a considerable degree owing to the accident. I consider the damages resulting from the accident are attributable to the imprudence of the defendant's employees. Considering the doctor's bill, the permanent physical disability, the extra expense incurred by his illness, his loss of wages, and his loss of earning power in the future, I fix the damages suffered by plaintiff at $1,600, for which sum I give judgment against the company defendant, with interest and costs.

MR. BAER SUMMONED.

GENERAL.

ROSALIE, THE PRAIRIE FLOWER.

Miss E. Gault is thanked for sending the following verses, asked for by J.H.:

On the distant prairie, where the heather wild
In its quiet beauty lived and smiled,
Stands a little cottage and a creeping vine
Loves around its porch to twine.
In that pleasant dwelling lived a lonely child,
With her blue eyes beaming soft and mild,
And the waving ringlets of her flaxen hair
Floating in the summer air.

Chorus—
Fair as a lily, joyous and free,
Light of the prairie home was she,
Everyone who knew her felt the gentle power
Of Rosalie, the prairie flower.

On the distant prairie, when the day was long,
Tripping like a fairy, sweet her song,
With the sunny blossoms and the birds at play,
Beautiful and bright as they.
When the twilight shadows gathered in the west,
And the voice of nature sunk to rest,
Like a cherub kneeling seemed the lovely child,
With her gentle eyes so mild.

But the summer faded, and a dreary blast
O'er that happy cottage swept at last;
When the autumn song-bird woke the dreary morn,
Little prairie flower was gone.
For an angel whispered softly in her ear,
'Child, thy Father calls thee, stay not here!'
And he gently bore her, robed in spotless white,
To that blissful home of light.

Though we shall never smile on her more,
Gone with the joy and love she bore.
Far away she's blooming in a fadeless bower,
Sweet Rosalie, the prairie flower.

ROBERT BRUCE'S DEATH.

A Boston Subscriber.—Where and how did Robert Bruce, King of Scotland, contract his last illness, and what was the nature of that illness? Ans.—Robert I. of Scotland, called the Bruce, died on June 7, 1329, from leprosy, contracted, it was thought, through the hardships of his earlier life.

TUNDRAS.

H.B.M.—What does the word 'tundras' mean? Ans.—Geikie's 'Text-book Geology' says, 'The tundras of northern latitudes are frozen plains, of which the surface is covered with arctic mosses and other plants.' The tundra in the northern part of Siberia and European Russia is a level treeless area, with many small lakes and morasses.

PRONUNCIATION.

A Subscriber, Shigawake, Que.—Please give the pronunciation of 'Nigel,' the name of the hero of the story 'Sir Nigel,' recently published as a serial in the 'Witness.' Ans.—Ni-jel, the 'i' long as in 'nine.'

THE CHARIOT RACE.

J.F.M.—Will you publish the selection, 'The Chariot Race,' or inform me about it? Ans.—'The Chariot Race' is much too long to re-print. It occurs in 'Ben Hur' (by Gen. Lew Wallace). You can also find it in 'Best Selections, No. 16,' a collection of recitations which any bookseller can procure for you.

MUMMIES.

H.—Can bodies be mummified now as formerly, or was it the Egyptians alone who understood the process? By what means was the body preserved? Ans.—The ancient Egyptians understood very thoroughly the art of embalming, and their method has been quite fully deciphered by Egyptologists. The process varied with the wealth and rank of the person deceased. The most expensive method cost a sum equivalent to more than a thousand dollars of our money. There were special rituals for the guidance of priestly operators and assistants at the successive stages of the process. The first was the evisceration, cleansing, etc., the brains and intestines being removed, the abdomen cleaned and filled with myrrh, cassia, and other materials. Then the body was steeped in natron, or neutral carbonate of sodium, found at the natron lakes in Upper Egypt. After the steeping, the body was washed, then swathed in gummed linen, of which an enormous quantity was used. The under bandages were laid on wet, and hardened to a mask. From 700 to 1250 yards of bandages in strips a few inches wide have been found on mummies. About seventy-two days were occupied from the death of the person until the body was put in the mummy case and coffined. The preparation of the bodies of the poorest consisted chiefly in the seventy days' steeping in natron, after a previous rinsing of the abdomen. The processes of mummification varied in different parts of Egypt, and at different times. In modern times, numerous methods of embalming have been practised.

A MISSIONARY TO HAWAII.

S.S.—Will you tell me who Titus Coan was, or is, and something about his life and work? Ans.—Titus Coan was a missionary from the United States to the Hawaiian Islands. He was born at Killingworth, Conn., on Feb. 1, 1801. He entered Auburn Theological Seminary in 1831, and in 1833 was licensed to preach. In the same year he, with another minister, sailed for Patagonia to explore the country with a view to the possible establishment of a mission. The natives sought to detain the missionaries, but they succeeded in making their escape, and were taken off by a ship, after they had spent three month of exploration among the Patagonian tribes. In November, 1834, Mr. Coan was married to Miss Fidelia Church, of Churchville, N.Y., and in the following December Mr. and Mrs. Coan sailed for the Hawaiian, then generally known as the Sandwich, Islands. Mr. Coan devoted himself for the first two years chiefly to a study of the language. He became known as a powerful speaker, made frequent tours on foot through the large district under his care, and organized churches and schools. In his work he was greatly aided by Mrs. Coan, until her death in 1872. Even then the Islands had denounced heathenism. During his forty-six years of missionary work Mr. Coan received 14,000 Hawaiians into the church. Mr. Coan was a close student of the volcanoes of Kilauea and Mauna Loa, and his descriptions of volcanic phenomena were published in many journals. He published two books, 'Adventures in Patagonia' and 'Life in Hawaii.' He died at Hilo, Hawaii, on Dec. 1, 1882.

A SONG IN CAMP.

The following poem, by Bayard Taylor, is given in response to the request of a Woodstock, Ont., reader:

'Give us a song,' the soldiers cried,
The outer trenches guarding,
When the heated guns of the camps allied,
Grew weary of bombarding;
The dark Redan, in silent scoff,
Lay grim and threatening under,
And the tawny mound of the Malakoff,
No longer belched its thunder.

There was a pause! A guardsman said:
'We storm the forts to-morrow;
Sing while you may, another day
Will bring enough of sorrow.'
They lay along the batt'ry's side,
Below the smoking cannon,
Brave hearts from Severn and from Clyde,
And from the banks of Shannon.

They sang of love, and not of fame,
Forgot was Britain's glory,
Each heart recalled a different name,
But all sang 'Annie Laurie.'
Voice after voice took up the song,
Until its tender passion
Rang like an anthem, rich and strong,
Their battle eve's confession.

Dear girl, her name he dared not speak,
But as the song grew louder,
Something upon the soldier's cheek,
Washed out the stain of powder.
Beyond the dark'ning ocean burned
The bloody sunset's embers;
While the Crimean valleys learned,
How English love remembers.

And once again a fire of hell
Rained on the Russian quarters;
And scream of shot, and burst of shell,
And bellowing of mortars;
And Irish Norah's eyes are dim,
For a stranger, dumb and gory;
And English Mary weeps for him,
Who sang of 'Annie Laurie.'

Sleep, soldiers, still in honored rest,
Your truth and valor bearing,
The bravest are the tenderest,
The loving are the daring.

QUOTATION.

K.F.—Kindly tell me in which of Tennyson's poems are to be found the lines:

'A daughter of the gods, divinely tall,
And most divinely fair.'

Ans.—These are the last two lines of the twenty-second stanza of Tennyson's 'A Dream of Fair Women.'

NUMBERS OF ADHERENTS.

A.B., Michigan.—What is the numerical strength of the Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches in Canada? Ans. — According to the last census (1901):—Methodists, 916,802; Presbyterians, 842,361; Church of England, 680,346; Roman Catholics, 2,228,997.

THE SCOTCH THISTLE.

An Ontario Reader.—In the language of flowers, what is the 'language' of the Scotch Thistle? Ans.—We do not remember to have seen the Scotch thistle in any list of flowers having an accepted meaning. The thistle, as the emblem of Scotland, gave rise to the motto: 'No one attacks me with impunity,' (Nemo me impune lacessit).

COMPULSORY NON-ATTENDANCE.

A Michigan Subscriber.—Has any municipality in Ontario the power to compel a child, whose parents cannot provide shoes and stockings for it, to absent itself from the public schools, because it has neither shoes nor stockings? We believe not. A matter of that kind would come within the care of the school board of that particular school, and school trustees in Ontario are much more concerned in seeing that the pupils attend than in finding reasons for their non-attendance. There are cases where pupils may be sent home from school, as, if they have any disease which may prove contagious, or if their condition is in some way detrimental to the other pupils, but no teacher or school board could or would compel a child to absent itself simply because its parents were too poor to provide [illegible] stockings.

EPITAPH FOR A HUSBAND.

H.F., Port Haney, B.C., with reference to the request of Mrs. [illegible] Epitaph on a Farmer's Tombstone,' respondent is mistaken in [illegible] words of the line quoted 'A Husbandman,' by Chas. [illegible] is as follows':

He who would start and [illegible]
Before the crowing [illegible]
No more he lifts his eyes
Whoever knocks.
He who before the stars
Would call the cattle home,—
They wait about the byre
For him to come.
Him at whose hearty call
The homestead woke again,
The horses in their stalls
Expect in vain.
Busy and blithe and hale
He labored for the kine,
The plough his hands will
Rusts in the furrow.
His fields he had to leave,
His orchard cool and dim,
The clods he used to cleave
Now cover him.
But the green growing things
Lean kindly to his sleep,
While roots and wandering [illegible]
Closer they creep.

Because he loved them long
And with them bore his part,
Tenderly now they throng
About his heart.

HER LETTER.

'Mic Moe'—Will you kindly give the poem 'Her Letter,' the first lines of which are

'I am sitting here by the fire,
'Dressed just as I came from the dance.'

Ans.—This is one of Bret Harte's poems.

I'm sitting alone by the fire,
Dressed just as I came from the dance
In a robe even you would admire,
It cost a cool thousand in France.
I'm be-diamonded out of all reason,
My hair is done up in a cue,
In short, sir, 'the belle of the season
Is waiting an hour upon you.

A dozen engagements I've broken,
I left in the midst of a set,
Likewise a proposal, half-spoken,
That waits on the stairs for me yet.
They say he'll be rich—when he grows up—
And then he adores me, indeed.
And you, sir, are turning your nose up
Three thousand miles off, as you read.

'And how do I like my position?
'And what do I think of New York?
'And now, in my higher ambition,
With whom do I waltz, flirt and talk?
'And isn't it nice to have riches,
And diamonds, and silks, and all that?
And a'n't it a change from the ditches
And tunnels of Poverty Flat?

Well, yes; if you saw us out driving
Each day in the park, four-in-hand—
If you saw poor dear mamma contriving
To look supernaturally grand,—
If you saw papa's picture, as taken
By Brady, and tinted at that,—
You'd never suspect he sold bacon
And flour at Poverty Flat.

And yet, just this moment, when sitting
In the glare of the grand chandelier,—
In the bustle and glitter befitting
The finest soiree of the year,—
In the midst of a gaze de Chambery,
And the hum of the smallest of talk,
Somehow, Joe, I thought of the 'Ferry,
And the dance that we had on The Fork';

Of Harrison's barn, with its muster
Of flags festooned over the wall,
Of the candles that shed their soft lustre
And tallow on head-dress and shawl,
Of the steps that we took to one fiddle,
Of the dress of my queer vis-a-vis,
And how I once went down the middle
With the man that shot Sandy McGee;

Of the moon that was quietly sleeping
On the hill, when the time came to go,
Of the few baby peaks that were peeping
From under their bedclothes of snow,
Of that ride,—that to me was the rarest,
Of—the something you said at the gate,
Ah! Joe, then I wasn't an heiress
To the best-paying lead in the state.

Well, well, it's all past; yet it's funny
To think as I stood in the glare
Of fashion and beauty and money,
That I should be thinking, right there,
Of some one who breasted high water
And swam the North Fork, and all that,
Just to dance with old Folensbee's daughter,
The Lily of Poverty Flat.

But goodness! what nonsense I'm writing!
(Mamma says my taste is still low),
Instead of my triumphs reciting,
I'm spooning on Joseph,—heigh-ho!
And I'm to be 'finished' by travel,—
Whatever's the meaning of that,
Oh, why did papa strike pay gravel
In drifting on Poverty Flat?

Good-night; here's the end of my paper;
Good-night!—if the longitude please,—
For maybe, while wasting my paper,
Your sun's climbing over the trees
But know, if you haven't got riches,
And are poor, dearest Joe, and all that,
That my heart's somewhere there in the ditches,
And you've struck it, on Poverty Flat.

SECOND TRIAL IN LIBEL CASE.

Some time ago an action for libel was taken by Mr. Anthime Pilon, advocate, against the 'Herald' Publishing Company on account of the publication of a series of alleged libellous articles, came up for hearing before a jury. The jurors not agree on a verdict, however, and case dropped for the time being. new trial in the same case was entered yesterday before Mr. Justice and a mixed jury. Mr. Pilon represented by Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, K.C., while Messrs. G. McDougall and Aimé Geoffrion, K.C., are for the defence. The caricature complained of represented a debtor being by a policeman symbolizing the law, a Shylock-looking individual rifling pockets and deposits the booty in a satchel bearing the inscription 'Costs and Gettem.' Miss Laura MacLaurin, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march, the ushers being Mr. Howard and Mr. Lloyd MacLaurin. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch, and to the ushers pearl pins. The church was effectively decorated with white lilacs and greenery. Mr. and Mrs. MacLachlan are taking a trip through Quebec, and on their return will reside in Galt, Ont. Going away the bride wore a grey costume, with blouse of baby Irish lace, and hat of grey mohair trimmed with tulle and pink roses.

TRINIDAD FREE FROM PLAGUE.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, June 14.—The government has notified the foreign consuls that no fresh cases of bubonic plague have been recorded in Trinidad, and the island is free of the plague.

In the Police Court this morning, H. Delorme and G. Bertrand, grocers, were each fined five dollars and costs, aggregating $35, for exposing for sale adulterated butter. Mr. J. J. Costigan, government food inspector, prosecuted.

BRITISH NEWS

ENGLAND.

Farmers in Mid-Cheshire report that serious damage has been done to the early potato crop by severe frost.

'She pushed me down a cellar and stood on my face,' said a constable giving evidence at Liverpool against a woman.

A policeman who was congratulated by the Kingston borough magistrates on his smart detection of a deserter, explained that he knew him by his 'military walk.'

A half-acre site of valuable building land in Farringdon street, London, when put up for auction, was withdrawn without a single bid. The site was estimated to be worth £70,000.

Quarr Abbey House, near Ryde, where Princess Henry of Battenberg spent her honeymoon, is again to become a monastery, having been sold to the Benedictine Society of St. Pierre of Solesmes.

Mr. F. A. Brasnett, of Leadenham House, Oakham, purchased recently some magazines and books for 4s., among which he found two copies of the first edition of 'Waverley.' He has sold one for £35.

The honorary freedom of the City of London will be conferred on Lord Lister, the great medical scientist. The proposal came formally before the Corporation at its first meeting after the Whitsuntide recess.

The following notice occupies a prominent position in a Bristol newsagent's establishment: 'Ladies are respectfully advised that we do not expect them to look at fashion books before they have paid for them.'

Of the 3,644,416 miners in the world the United Kingdom, according to a new return, has the largest number of any nation—974,634. Germany has 814,252; the United States, 607,069; Russia, 344,255; and France, 322,536.

Owing to the bridegroom forgetting the certificate and returning too late with it, a wedding had to be postponed at Branksome (Dorset), and the next day, when the ceremony was performed, he forgot to sign the register and had to be brought back.

Mr. John Swire, the master of the Essex Hounds, at Dunmow, recently protested against what he termed a threatened indignity to fox hunting. He had been informed that all puppies put out with farmers to be 'walked' must wear collars under the 1906 Dogs Act.

An interesting relic of Napoleon Bonaparte has been placed in the Nottingham Castle Museum. It consists of a lock of hair of the Emperor, which was cut off about an hour after his death, and was given to Naval Surgeon Dickson by one of Napoleon's attendants.

The wane of the milkmaid was the most noticeable feature of the Sealford May hiring fair, when one thousand servants sought engagements. Of the girls who accepted farmhouse situations not one in fifty would undertake the duty of milking, and menservants had to be engaged for the work.

There is no country to compare with Britain in point of variety and excellence of its live stock resources. An enumeration, which does not pretend to be complete, of the various breeds represents Britain as possessing 17 different breeds of horses, 18 of cattle, 26 of sheep, and 9 of pigs—a total of 70.

The Blackburn Guardians recently experimentally substituted unlimited slices of bread and butter for the half-pound lump of buttered bread supplied to the inmates of the workhouse for tea. The result was that although a hundred and fifty people enjoyed a better meal, they consumed eight large loaves fewer than usual, representing a saving on the year of at least a hundred pounds.

A man who had buried three wives took to himself a fourth lately, and, as is the wont in Lancashire, the pair went for a walk one Sunday afternoon. On the way they called at the cemetery, where the three former wives reposed in one grave. The new wife read the inscription with some interest; but her feelings may be well imagined when she came to the text—'Be ye also ready.'

A flint axe of the late Stone Age and seventy 'pigmy' flint instruments have been found near Brighton by Mr. H. S. Toms. It is said that such an axe has never before been found in the vicinity of such diminutive tools. A Roman burial vase, containing bones believed to be human, has been found by workmen at Worthing, on the site, curiously enough, of the projected free library and museum.

The King's visit to Lord and Lady Lansdowne, at Bowood Park, Wiltshire, which has been several times postponed, is now definitely fixed for Saturday, July 20, and His Majesty will be accompanied by the Queen. Their Majesties are to travel from Paddington by special train on Saturday afternoon to Chippenham, whence they will drive to Bowood, and they are to return to London on Monday, July 22, by the same route.

A curious gun accident occurred in connection with a pigeon shooting match at Leyton. A man named Graham, who was standing on the outskirts of the ground with a double-barrelled gun in his hand, stumbled, and caught the triggers with his coat. Both barrels went off, and the shots were scattered among a crowd of men thirty yards away. A dozen of them were wounded. Ten were treated at West Ham Hospital, but were not detained. Graham accompanied them and surrendered to the police, who were satisfied that the affair was accidental, and did not detain him.

Queen wasps have a price on their heads in many parts of England this year. One penny was offered by the Bradford-on-Avon Horticultural Society for each such wasp killed in the district and in the last few weeks nearly one thousand pennies have been claimed. An Essex nurseryman offered his employees twopence each for all they caught in the locality. Somehow a report got into a London daily that led people to suppose that his offer applied to every one in the land and was a sort of competition. Every post for ten days afterwards brought him numerous parcels, each containing from half a dozen to eighty queen wasps, some very much alive.

When the rector of Shipston-on-Stour was asked by a sergeant of the Warwickshire police for permission to ascend the church tower, he readily consented. But this permission was at once withdrawn when he realized the sergeant's little game. The church tower stands by the main road leading from Stratford-on-Avon to Oxford, and gives a view of all roads, north, east, south, and west. Having stationed a constable at the foot of the tower, the sergeant signalled on the approach of motor-cars which he believed to be exceeding the speed limit, and the constable stopped them on the journey. Six motorists fell victims to this trap before the rector realized what was going on, and requested the sergeant to descend.

SCOTLAND.

A race for life, in which eight students narrowly escaped a horrible death, marked the departure of the Edinburgh University Artillery Volunteers from Buddon Camp, Forfarshire, where they had been in camp for Whitsuntide. The students were practicing with 4.7-inch guns at eight thousand yards, when, owing to fog, the signals were misunderstood, and a gun opened fire at the wrong target, and a shrapnel shell whizzed over the heads of a range party of eight, who, realizing their danger, rushed for shelter. They got clear just as a second shrapnel burst on the spot where they had stood a minute before.

There is much pleasure over the fact that the King has seen fit to confer a knighthood on Mr. John Kirk, secretary of the Ragged School Union, for his work has been widely known and deeply appreciated in Glasgow for many years. It was the Portsmouth shoemaker, John Pounds, who started the first ragged school some ninety years ago, and in this connection the London 'Tribune' (which has Scots on its staff) remarks that patriotic Scotsmen will remember that although the institution which has done such marvellous work for destitute and ignorant children originated in Portsmouth, and got its first firm footing in London, it was in Aberdeen that the first 'Ragged feeding' school was opened, and that it was Dr. Guthrie's famous 'Plea for ragged schools' which swept the enterprise forward to success on an irresistible wave of enthusiasm.

IRELAND.

One side of Slieve Anerian Mountain, near the disturbed area of Ballmaghera, County Antrim, where agrarian agitation is in progress, was the scene of a very destructive fire recently, the flames destroying upwards of six square miles of furze and undergrowth. The mountain-side tenants of various estates had approached the landlords to sell, but the proposals were declined. It is stated that the fire was started in revenge, with the intention of destroying all young game on the mountain during the close season.

NEW STEAMER SERVICE.

A despatch from Victoria, B.C., states that the SS. Georgia has returned from Mexican ports, inaugurating a new monthly service between British Columbia and Mexico. She brought three passengers. Mr. D. G. MacNeill, British consul at Colima and president of the street railway there; Mr. Thomas Aird, who went to represent Canadian manufacturers, and Mr. T. Worsnop, of the Steamship Company. The cargo consisted of 500 tons of salt and a number of trial shipments of Mexican fruits, as well as a shipment of ore for the Ladysmith smelter. The Georgia brought the news that the steamer Woolwich, the first vessel of a new line inaugurated between Hongkong and Salina Cruz, was discharging a cargo of Chinese at the Mexiport port. A letter from Captain Christian, of the seized sealing schooner Charlotta G. Cox, reports that the schooner was taken in latitude 59.12 north and longitude 141.20 west, and was badly damaged.

VETERAN ACTRESS DEAD.

New York, June 14.—Mrs. Benjamin John Dean, known to the stage as Julia Jones, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Julia A. Birdseye, in this city. She was born Julia Wedgstaff, daughter of an English army officer, at Chatham, England, in 1828, and came to this country when eleven years of age, immediately entering the theatrical profession.

SALVATION ARMY AT THE JAIL.

The Salvation Army recently appealed to the Hon. W. A. Weir, Minister of Public Works and Labor, for permission to visit the Protestant prisoners in the Montreal jail, and to hold meetings therein. It seems that this permission had always been refused to them. On the representations of Mr. Weir, the Hon. Prime Minister and Attorney-General has instructed the Sheriff of Montreal to allow the Salvation Army this privilege.

PLEASURE PLANNING FOR THE SUMMER.

If you make no other provision whatever for indoor pleasure this summer beyond purchasing a PIANOLA, it will still be one of the pleasantest seasons in your remembrance.

This is because the Pianola means that you can play any of the 20,000 selections of the Pianola's repertoire at the first attempt.

The METROSTYLE shows you how to play artistically, and the THEMODIST accents the melody and subdues the accompaniment.

Instruments of all makes taken in exchange.

PIANOLAS - - - $275 up
PIANOLA PIANOS $650 up

The investment is comparatively small; the returns in pleasure out of all proportions to the cost.

Pianos rented for the summer.

The monthly meeting of the Committee of Management of the Montreal Dispensary was held yesterday afternoon. Dr. J. M. Jack presided. As the sum of $12,000 is required for the alterations and extensions to the new building it was decided to make a special appeal to the public for aid. There were during the month of May 1,570 consultations, 959 of which were Roman Catholics, 433 Protestants, and 178 of other religions, mostly Jews. These were divided amongst the following sections:—Medicine and surgery, 914; nose and throat, 48; diseases of women, 97; eye and ear department, 180; diseases of children, 165; skin diseases, 166. Owing to the death of Dr. Ship no dental work had been undertaken during the month, but the committee appointed Dr. Geo. F. THE INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW

THE HON. ADAM BECK'S HUNTERS TOOK BLUE RIBBONS IN HUNT CLUB CLASS.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, June 13.—At the International Horse Show to-day in the class for three qualified hunters, entered by one hunt club, the London, Ontario, Hunt Club took first place with the three hunters of the Hon. Adam Beck.

In the class for tandems between 15 and 15.2 hands, Mrs. Beck took second place with 'Lord' and 'Lady Norfolk,' and with the same pair took third place in another class.

London, June 13.—Mr. Winan's 'Coker's Rosador' was first in the competition for the best mare or gelding over 15 hands, driven by the owner. Mr Vanderbilt's 'Rustling Silk' was third. Mr. Watson took second prize for the best collection of three harness horses.

In the competition for pairs of any age exceeding fifteen hands, Mr. Vanderbilt was first with 'Sweet Marie' and 'The Major,' and Mr. Watson second with 'Lord Baltimore' and 'My Maryland.'

Mr. Winans won two £50 champion cups for pairs with 'Prince Edward' and 'Saracen,' and 'Coker's Rosador' and 'Prosperpine.'

Olympia was visited this afternoon by the Prince and Princess of Wales and their children, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Princess Beatrice and Princess Christian.

The show closed to-night. It has been witnessed by over two hundred thousand persons, and it has been a remarkable success, exceeding all expectations. Never before has any horse show succeeded in enlisting the interest of English people as has this one. The success is due largely to the energy and enthusiasm of the American supporters and the fine exhibit of American animals. The successes of Americans in the competitions are considered thoroughly deserved.

Negotiations are already on foot for a similar show in June, 1908. The welcome given this year's show by aristocratic London, ensures that the horse show will be one of the attractions of the London season henceforth.

SPORTING NEWS

WON FROM BALTIMORE.

With Newton Pitching the Royals Got the Decision From the Orioles.

Baltimore, June 13. — The home series with the Royals opened here to-day with a win of 3-1 for the visitors after a good game, in which the result was in doubt right up to the end. Montreal scored in the first, third and sixth, and it was not until the eighth that the Orioles got their single run. Newton pitched for Montreal, and McCloskey for the homesters, and both were in tip top form.

Montreal's opening inning brought them in one run. Joyce, the first man up, singled, and went to second on Phelan's sacrifice. Phelan's bunt had gone towards third base, and Burrell, the guardian of that sack, had been drawn into the diamond to field the ball, and in the failure of James, the shortstop, to cover up, Joyce spotted a good chance to get another stage of the way home. James saw his move and made a dash for the sack. Hunter's throw got away from him, however, and Joyce continued home.

In the third Montreal counted again. Newton started with a strike out; Joyce bunted, and beat the ball to first; Phelan sacrificed him along; Hill drove out a single, and Joyce came home.

In the sixth Hill opened with a hit to left field. Madigan sacrificed, Hill going to second, whence he scored on Morgan's hit to centre.

Up to the fifth inning the homesters had failed to get a hit, but in their half of that inning James got a single.

In the seventh Hunter drove out a three bagger, but he remained stranded on the third sack, for Newton dismissed the three following batsman without trouble of any kind.

In the eighth Baltimore got their lonely tally. With one man gone Hall singled to right field, going to second when Madigan allowed the sphere to elude him. Dunn's out to Brown put him on third, and he scored on Demmitt's hit.

Hill was back in the game to-day, his time of suspension having expired. He played shortstop, Needham going to the bench; but although he did well with the stick, he had only one chance in the field.

BENEFIT MATCH FOR STAHL'S WIDOW

Boston, June 13.—A game was played here to-day between the Boston American League Club and Providence, of the Eastern League, the proceeds going to the widow of the late 'Chick' Stahl, who, it will be remembered, was manager of the Boston team when he committed suicide early in the spring. A sum of $3,140 was handed over to the widow, of which $350 was contributed by the American League Clubs, $125 by the players of the Boston Club, and $115 by Cleveland. The game resulted in a sixteen inning contest with Providence winning by the odd run in the sixteenth.

HARRIER LEAGUE MEET

SHERRING WILL RUN AT M.A.A.A. TO-MORROW, AND LONGBOAT MAY.

There is every chance that Longboat, the Indian distance runner, may appear at the Harrier League meet at the M.A.A.A. grounds to-morrow afternoon, although it was thought a few days ago that there would be no possibility of his coming to Montreal. The president of the League, Mr. Roland Gomery, has, however, followed up the negotiations he entered into first of all with the Onondaga, and this morning word was expected from him that he would turn out.

With two such attractions as the world-famous Sherring, winner of the last Marathon event at Athens, and Longboat, the winner of the recent Boston Marathon, in addition to the attractive programme, a large crowd might be expected to attend the games

CRICKET

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SIDE WON FROM CIVIL SERVICE TEAM.

Ottawa, Ont., June 13.—Earl Grey played in a cricket match on the Ottawa Club grounds to-day between Rideau Hall staff and a Civil Service eleven. His Excellency scored 16, one a boundary, before he was caught out. The Governor-General's side won the single innings match by 41 runs. The Rideau Hall eleven scored 153, and the Civil Service 102.

PHILADELPHIANS WILL PLAY IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, June 13.—Chairman Ackland, of the cricket committee of the summer carnival, is in receipt of a communication from the Philadelphia Cricket Club, announcing that it will come to Ottawa for an international match against All Canada during the cricket tournament, if such a feature can be arranged. The information is, of course, welcome news. The committee is endeavoring to have the Canadian Cricket Association sanction this as the annual international match, usually played in Toronto. In any event, the match will give the tournament an international significance.

CLANCY AND RALPH

TO HANDLE TO-MORROW'S BIG GAME AT THE SHAMROCK GROUNDS.

Joe Lally, of Cornwall, who was originally agreed on between the M. A. A. A. and Shamrock teams for their game to-morrow on the Shamrock grounds, being unable to act, it was decided last night

'KING' CLANCY,

Referee in to-morrow's game at the Shamrock grounds.

that 'King' Clancy and Herb. Ralph, of Ottawa, should be asked to officiate, and since up to this morning nothing had been heard to the contrary, it is probable that they will handle the game.

Mackerrow will take the place of McGinnis on the Montreal team, while if it is decided to play Tack Hendry it is likely that Povey will drop out to make room for him. The Montrealers had their final practice before the game last night, and had a promising work out. They appear to be in better shape all round than before last week's game with Tecumseh. If the Shamrocks expect to win they will have to work for all they know. That the Shamrocks will do so there does not appear to be much doubt, the rivalry between the two teams is of such long standing that both will play the game to the finish.

Although the line up of both teams will not be definitely settled until just before the teams go on the field, it will probably be as under:

D&A CORSETS

IMPERIAL SECRETARIAT.

To be Presided Over by High Official of Lord Elgin's Department.

London, June 14.—The Canadian Associated Press understands that steps will be immediately taken to bring into existence the permanent secretariat authorized by the recent Imperial Conference. It is to be presided over by one of the higher officials of Lord Elgin's department. It will be his duty to receive through the agents-general in London notice of all questions which it is intended to bring forward on behalf of the self-governing colonies at succeeding conferences. These will then be carefully tabulated in Downing street. The official to be entrusted with this work will probably be selected from amongst those who have had practical experience at the conference just closed.

H. Proctor, harness maker, on stock and building, $4,000; W. S. McDowall, confectioner, and Great Northwestern Telegraph Office, on building, damage $1,000, and on stock by removal; Jas. MACKEREL FISHERY

NOVA SCOTIAN FISHERMEN REWARDED BY ONE OF THE RICHEST CATCHES IN RECENT YEARS.

Halifax, June 14.—After abandoning hope that the much-prized mackerel would strike in on Nova Scotia this season, the fishermen on the coast west of Halifax were rewarded by one of the richest catches in recent years. The mackerel season is more than three weeks late, and many of the large fleet of United States seiners, which had been waiting the arrival of the mackerel school from the south, had sailed for their home ports, their captains believing that the fishery would be a failure owing to the unprecedented ice conditions. Yesterday the mackerel suddenly appeared on the coast and the Nova Scotia fishermen at several points got large catches.

THE LORD'S DAY ACT

PROVINCIAL PREMIER GIVES THE GENERAL SECRETARY A SATISFACTORY INTERVIEW.

The Rev. J. G. Shearer, general secretary, and the Rev. C. T. Scott, provincial secretary, of the Lord's Day Alliance, called on the Hon. Mr. Gouin, Premier and Attorney-General, yesterday, and submitted to him the question as to his attitude towards the reasonable and proper enforcement of the Sunday laws. The Premier's answer was entirely satisfactory. He would, of course, see that the provincial law was enforced so far as it applied, and in regard to those matters to which the Dominion law applies, and the provincial law does not, he would see that the federal law was enforced; that is, he would give his consent to the reasonable enforcement of the Dominion law in cases to which it applies, and which are not covered by the law of the province.

The general secretary has had a dispatch from Winnipeg, stating that there have been eighteen convictions under the new federal law. The Alliance is thus assured that the Attorney-Generals of all the provinces, with the exception of British Columbia, will undertake the enforcement of the federal law.

VISITORS FROM TEXAS

A WHOLE TRAINFUL NOW SEEING THE SIGHTS OF MONTREAL.

A long special train at the Bonaventure station is the headquarters of a party of one hundred and eighty people from Texas who are making a short stay in Montreal. These visitors are members of the Texas Bankers' Association and their ladies, who are now on their fifth annual tour. They have already visited Kansas City, Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls, and Kingston. At the latter place they took an R. & O. boat, and made a trip down through the Thousand Islands and the rapids of the St. Lawrence, arriving in Montreal yesterday. Mr. John T. P. Knight, secretary of the Canadian Bankers' Association, met them at Kingston on behalf of the local bank representatives, who are entertaining them while in the city. Last night they paid a visit to Dominion Park on special cars, and to-day their programme included a car ride round the city and the mountain and a visit to the races, as the guests of the Montreal Jockey Club. They will leave at seven o'clock to-morrow morning by the Central Vermont, to continue the tour through the White Mountains to Boston, thence to New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk and the Jamestown exhibition, Richmond, St. Louis, and Fort Smith. They left Dallas, Texas, on June 7, and will be back on June 28.

Last year they made a tour of Old Mexico, covering over four thousand miles. The association has a membership of nearly nine hundred banks. Its income is expended largely on combating bank criminality, sustaining a detective department, expert legal counsel and other practical methods of work.

CROKER IN IRELAND

PROPOSAL TO GRANT HIM FREEDOM OF DUBLIN TO BE CONTESTED.

London, June 13.—The proposal to bestow the freedom of the City of Dublin on Richard Croker will be contested, but probably will be carried by the Nationalists, who have a large majority in the Council, and who were the originators of the proposition. The motion, of which notice has already been given, reads: 'In view of the unique and distinguished position acquired by Mr. Croker, as an Irishman in America, and his intention to spend the remainder of his days in his native land, and support the Irish parliamentary party in its struggle for Home Rule, he is hereby constituted an honorable freeman of the City of Dublin.'

The only other Americans who have been given the freedom of the City of Dublin have been General Grant, Captain Potter, of the famine relief ship 'Constellation,' and Patrick A. Collins, the late Mayor of Boston, Mass.

WESTMOUNT W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Union was held this week at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fessenden, St. Catherine street. A most interesting paper was given by Mrs. Alfred Benn on non-alcoholics in medicine, setting forth by demonstration the deadly and pernicious effects of alcohol on the human system. Mrs. Fisher also gave a paper on Bands of Mercy, which resulted in a profitable discussion. Miss Fessenden contributed a vocal solo. Tea was served by the hostess at 5 o'clock. The ladies will not meet again in the regular way until September.

CONGREGATIONAL S. S. EXCURSION.

The Congregational Sunday schools of the city intend holding a union picnic to Highgate Springs to-morrow. This delightful park at the head of the historic Lake Champlain, is an ideal spot for such a gathering. One great advantage is the quantity of large shade trees and places of shelter, so that if the weather is at all inclement, one need not suffer any great inconvenience.

SPANISH VICE-CONSUL.

The new vice-consul has arrived in Montreal and is staying for the present at the Corona Hotel. He is a brilliant-looking young man, only twenty-five years old, and Montreal is the first place where he will fulfil consular functions. Senor Calderon y Martin was previously attached to the Spanish consulate at Bordeaux, in the capacity of chancellor, and his present promotion is the result of a competition.

JAPAN AND THE UNITED STATES

BARON KOMURA REFERS TO 'ALARMIST RUMORS EMANATING FROM IRRESPONSIBLE SOURCES.'

London, June 13.—The Japanese ambassador, Baron Komura, to-day issued a statement to the press reciting the facts in respect to the attack on the Japanese restaurant in San Francisco, on May 30, and the negotiations which followed between Washington and Tokio, concluding as follows:—

'As you will observe from the above statement, the whole matter is pursuing its normal course, and there is absolutely nothing which would in the least justify the alarmist rumors emanating from irresponsible sources.'

PRESS OF JAPAN WARNED.

Tokio, June 13.—The newspaper men of this city were summoned to appear before the Home Department to-day and were officially advised to abstain from the publication of any matter of an inflammatory or agitating nature on the American question.

The 'Mainichi,' published at Osaka, with a circulation of 250,000, expressed anger yesterday at the reported recent attack on a Japanese horticulturist at Berkeley, Cal. It says:—

'The outrage demonstrates the impotency of the California authorities to protect our compatriots. Now is no time to rest on the stereotyped diplomatic assurances of the Washington government. Only after a positive declaration to take preventive measures to safeguard Japanese rights, comes the Berkeley outrage. That the outrages are limited to California is not a sufficient explanation.'

DIOCESE OF OTTAWA

MR. G. C. SMITH AGREES THAT GRAFT, NOT INTEMPERANCE, IS THE CURSE OF CANADA.

Ottawa, June 12.—At the meeting of the Anglican Synod last evening, Mr. G. C. Smith, a lay delegate from Cornwall, urged the need of the clergy's participation in the party conventions to assist in the selection of candidates for both the Provincial and Dominion parliaments. He quoted the action of the Presbyterians, and thoroughly approved their statement that 'grait, not intemperance, was the curse of Canada.' It was shameful that the headlines detailing the scandals of the past winter should be in the hands of the young. It was the duty of the clergy to help the state as well as the church, purify the political and commercial atmosphere for the good of the Church and the good of Canada.

Speaking to-day Mr. Smith said that several times men near Cornwall had lately declined nomination for parliamentary honors. 'Some very prominent ones were asked to run,' said this gentleman, 'but declined. They were men of almost irreproachable character and most desirable as candidates, but when spoken to they would say, "I would not accept the nomination if it was handed to me on a silver plate, with graft and other charges being made across the floor of the House as they are now."'

Mr. Smith explained that matters had come to a point where the men who would make the most desirable candidates did not care to enter politics. His opinion was that the clergy could do a good deal, and that at least an effort should be made, to improve present conditions.

Ottawa, June 13.—The Anglican Synod of the Ottawa diocese concluded its labors to-day.

The Rev. E. A. Anderson, agent of the Augmentation Fund, was appointed delegate to the Pan-Anglican Congress, to be held in London, in 1908. There will be five other delegates, but he was the only one appointed by the synod.

On consideration of the report of the executive committee the question of a thank offering from the diocese of Ottawa to be made in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, in 1908, was brought up by Justice Burbidge, whose motion, based on the suggestion of the Lord Bishop, provided that a sum of $5,000 should be raised to be given to the diocese of Algoma, and the North-West. A committee consisting of the bishop, the Archdeacon of Ottawa, Canon Kittson, the Rev. J. M. Snowdon, A. W. Mackay, Judge Burbidge, E. C. Whitney, H. A. F. McLeod, W. H. Rowley and J. W. Woods will deal with the matter.

DIOCESE OF TORONTO

RECTORY SURPLUS FUND—POLITICAL CORRUPTION CONDEMNED.

Toronto, June 13.—The Anglican Synod to-day disposed of the vexed question of the rectory surplus fund by deciding to have this handled by a committee in future, and application will be made to the Legislature for the necessary powers. This will take the matter out of the hands of the Synod altogether. A resolution was adopted strongly condemning political corruption, and calling upon the clergy to endeavor to purify the political business and social atmosphere.

SCHMITZ GUILTY.

Mayor of San Francisco Convicted of Extorting Money From French Restaurants.

San Francisco, June 13.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz was to-night found guilty of extorting money from keepers of French restaurants in this city. This is the first formal conviction in the anti-graft campaign inaugurated several months ago. Abraham Reuf, corporation counsel, who was indicted for similar offences, pleaded guilty to the charges and appeared as a witness against Schmitz. When the verdict was announced Schmitz sat unmoved, with his left hand to his chin. He apparently did not understand, and asked Barrett:—'What is it?'

'Guilty,' said Barrett.

Schmitz's hand dropped to the table, but he showed no other signs of emotion.

ICE IN LAKE WINNIPEG

STILL SOLID AT NORTH END—FISH COMPANIES DELAYED.

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—Mr. F. W. Hooker, lumber merchant, of Selkirk, is a guest at the Grand Union Hotel. Mr. Hooker says that navigation has started in Lake Winnipeg. The ice, however, is still solid at the north end of the lake, and the fish companies do not anticipate that they will be able to get out with their boats until Monday. The steamer 'Rocket' went out last week, and succeeded in getting as far as Samarac Island, where the captain reported the ice solid and covered with snow, but since that time there have been heavy winds, and it is probable that the ice has broken up.

Express trains have through parlor, sleeping and dining cars, and the comfort of all patrons is fully assured.

'Here!' shouted a railway official, 'what do you mean by throwing those trunks about like that?' The porter gasped in astonishment, and several travellers pinched themselves to make sure that it was real. Then the official spoke again to the porter: 'Don't you see that you're making big dents in this concrete platform'

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1907.

Lord Dundonald has resigned from the army because he has not been offered any work to do since he fell out with the Canadian Government over certain appointments; or, as he puts it, since he protested against corruption in the appointment of officers. It would perhaps be more correct to say: since he was not allowed to make a certain territorial regiment a nest of Tories. No one can deprecate political appointments to the militia more than we have always done. The political colonel with a pull has been a great drawback to our service. We have stood by every G. O. C. from the beginning in his disputes with political interference, and we spoke strongly in this particular case. But political appointments are equally an evil on whichever side they are made, and when a G. O. C. puts himself in the hands of a local group, opposed to the government, nothing is more natural than that the government should insist on having in the regiment a sprinkling of officers of its own complexion. But to speak of this amendment of his nominations as corruption is to put himself entirely out of court, and suggests a reason for not finding work for him in service where good temper and a balanced judgment are called for. The same 'corruption' seems to prevail in Great Britain, if it be corruption not to entrust with appointments requiring some political sagacity a man who is noisily opposed to the appointing government's policy. We have corruption enough in Canada of the genuine kind without making wild charges of this sort.

The Chicago 'Tribune' has been doing good service by keeping records of railway casualties in the United States, and forcing them upon the attention of the country. It now publishes the appalling fact that although the first half of the present year is not passed, its record of casualties already exceeds the total of 1906. There have been thirty-eight railway accidents of more than ordinary magnitude, resulting in the killing of two hundred and seventy-three persons and the injuring of nine hundred and twenty-five. Besides this railway record of death and injury, which is largely due to the too hurried production of untempered rails, twenty-three steamers have been wrecked this year, involving the loss of nine hundred and two lives, and there have been thirteen mine accidents, in which three hundred and fifty-five persons have perished. Ignorance or negligence, or worse, have been responsible for much of this destruction. But nature also, 'red,' as Tennyson says, 'in tooth and claw,' has also been destructive. Taking the world as a whole, tidal waves in less than six months have swept away twenty-two hundred and forty, earthquakes have swallowed fifty-one hundred, hurricanes have killed five hundred and thirty, and it is expected that the cyclone at Kurrachi, in India, last week, will be found to have added its quota of death and injury. Smaller casualties there have been a-plenty, and some that have escaped record, so that altogether 1907 is fast earning for itself the unenviable reputation of 'the year of disaster.' But put all these horrors together and they will not amount to a hundredth part of the scathe wrought by alcohol alone, in the presence of whose ravages we are all so inert. On the other hand, as a sort of silver lining to the cloud, the 'Tribune' calculates that the total of gifts and bequests in all forms of philanthropy in less than six months has been $108,961,589, compared with $106,281,083 for the twelve months of 1907; while cases of embezzlement and various forms of defalcation for the first five months of this year have been less than in any corresponding period for twenty-five years. As this has been a period of unusual expansion and a get-rich-quick time, this comparative honesty is very gratifying.

TOO MUCH GOLD.

We recently noted the enormous increase in the world's product of and demand for iron, sixty million tons last year against about a million, the annual demand of a century ago. We could wish that there should be some such increase in the consumptive demand for gold, or at least that uses for it would keep pace with the production. He would at the present moment be a great benefactor of mankind who should discover or invent some needful thing that could not be made without gold. The difficulties of the present day, the uprisings of labor, the distresses of salaried and business men, the stringency of capital, are all results of the over-supply of gold. The last statement is paradoxical. Does not every increase of gold add to the amount of money there is in the world? Not at all. Gold is very little used for money. In America it is held only by governments and banks, and never leaves the vaults except to balance accounts after all paper methods have been exhausted. More and more business every year is done on a given substratum of gold. The gold that is thus held does not wear; it does not rust; it is not lost; there is no consumption of it; very little is needed for its replenishment. Where people carry gold in their pockets it gets worn and lost to some extent.

Gold is not money as far as the daily needs of life are concerned, it is only the standard by which money is valued. If there is less gold produced than the world in various ways uses up, gold increases in value, and the dollar will buy more of everything, so that everything gets cheaper. If there is more gold produced than the world uses up in various ways, gold decreases in value, and the dollar buys less of everything; everything gets dearer. That is what is going on in the world just now. It is not desirable that either of these processes should go on actively. It would be good, were it possible, to have an unchangeable standard of value as we have of measurement. A yardstick can be kept from century to century, and every other yardstick tested by it. This is impossible in matters of value. Gold was chosen as a standard because it was not only very valuable, but less liable to change in value than any other known commodity. In the history of the world it has probably changed very little in value as compared with almost anything else. But it is not easy to determine this, as all other things vary in nominal value according to their relation to the momentary value of gold.

When gold becomes overabundant two things happen. The direct effect is that the dollar buys less, and everything appears to get dear. All the money that people are getting and all that they have already got goes down in value. Everybody with property of any sort appears to get richer; everybody with money in any shape really gets poorer. That is the first and immediate effect of the overproduction of gold. It may be thought by those who have a quarrel with capital that this is a good thing, as it must diminish fortunes. This is true with regard to those fortunes that are held in money or bonds, or other securities representing so much money. But it is not true of those which are in property or which are actively invested in business. Everything that money will buy is, under such circumstances, increasing in value. Everybody is grasping for all the money he can get to invest it in those things which are thus increasing in value. Business everywhere expands at a great rate, and every one is in extremities for money of which more and more is needed as it grows less and less valuable.

This is the second great effect of the over-supply of gold. All business is stimulated to the utmost and those who cannot get money to run an increasing business go to the wall? Such a great increase in the world's activities will also be said to be a good thing. But we have not yet seen the end. It seems obvious that so long as gold is the standard of value it is the fairest thing, and therefore better for all concerned that it should continue to buy just the same amount of the ordinary commodities—that it should go on representing the same amount of human effort when expended in the same way. Any rapid fluctuation in its value disturbs every contract and all the relations of life. The worst of the present situation is that no one knows where the over-production will end, how far existing conditions are going to be upset, and whether the result of the present pace will not be a general smash up. It is for those reasons that we have said that anything that would at the present juncture create a demand for gold proportionate to the production would do the public great service by bringing things back towards equilibrium.

THE WEAKNESS OF THE STRONG.

If Canadians would benefit by the lessons taught by this week's denouement in the history of the Sovereign Bank, there would soon be a banking system in this country as nearly perfect as human frailties would permit. We are inclined to be a self-satisfied people, buoyed up with the exuberance of our growing importance. We are going to show John Bull how to 'run the old farm,' and, in fact, there is nothing we cannot do except sometimes to note our own shortcomings. It is thus that we in our self-satisfaction make small profit by the errors of the past. In the all-imperative banking questions that arise at frequent, almost regular, intervals the country has been very slow to move towards protective and preventive measures, and notwithstanding the seriousness of the Ontario Bank failure, less than eight months ago, little or nothing has been done to make a repetition practically impossible in the future. Even the Canadian Bankers' Association must admit that without the aid of the foreign capitalists who were interested to a large extent in the Sovereign Bank, there would have been something in the nature of a national calamity through the reckless conduct of its affairs. Most of what is admitted by Mr. Jemmett has been known to the entire banking profession and to the well-informed press for many months. Irregularities were freely discussed by bankers, but no way was open to compel the controlling parties to refrain from a recklessness that was bound to end in trouble. Previous to the advent of the Dresdner Bank and the Morgan interests as stockholders in the Sovereign Bank, the capital stock was widely distributed in small lots throughout the country, and it would have been impossible to secure a combination of interests large enough to insist upon a change of policy without unfavorably affecting public opinion and sentiment, and thus precipitating trouble. It was different when the Dresdner people became heavy holders of stock, and it shows how gossip spreads in banking circles when the irregularities of the late management were discussed in far-away Germany. We are face to face with the interesting revelation that a German bank and a New York capitalist have saved a Canadian banking institution from destruction—a bank that ranks seventh in the list of chartered banks in the amount of paid-up capital, besides the fact that the name had become almost a household word in every part of the country.

If left to its Canadian stockholders alone what would have happened to the bank? A perusal of the present general manager's report will convince everybody that only a most extraordinary change in the financial situation could have replaced the bank upon a solid footing. And yet it is said that Canada has the finest banking system in the world. A system that will admit of such results as seen to-day in the Sovereign Bank statement of profit and loss for the past year, where it has been regarded as necessary to write down over two and a quarter million dollars from the assets of the bank, cannot longer be placed upon a pinnacle for reverence unless some change is made in the inspection of accounts, such as obtains in Great Britain with so much success. The independent audit is the only safeguard against the ignorance of the bank's affairs, confessed to by the directorate. An audit would not undertake to value securities, further than to see that they came within the classes required, but it would enlighten the directors as to what was going on, and it is almost certain that, with an audit by outside accountants, the writing off of two million dollars would never have been necessary, because the accountant would submit a statement of the most important accounts to the president and directors when called up to do so by the shareholders, once or twice a year. What Mr. Jemmett and his independent accountants or inspectors found out would have been noticed, in perhaps a less degree, by chartered accountants engaged for that purpose, if the shareholders or government had insisted upon some such form of inspectorship of the bank's books. The present management of the Sovereign Bank has admitted the necessity of proper inspection in moving at the meeting that the head office and all the branches be inspected at least once a year by the chief inspector, who will make a separate report to the president in addition to his annual report to the general manager and board of directors. It is not clear just what good that will do if the report made for the general manager and directors is, as it should be, a thoroughly comprehensive one. It is surely not expected that the report to the general manager will differ in any particular from that written expressly for the president. The chief inspector would indeed be consigned to oblivion if he dared to make the president's report more complete than that to the general manager. No, there is only one possible solution to the difficulties shown by the recent condition of the Sovereign Bank's assets, and that is an independent accounting of the head office books by competent chartered accountants, who will be voted for and chosen by the shareholders at each annual meeting. The Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of British North America have the independent audit system, and thus give the shareholders the maximum of safeguards, while the expense is a mere detail to even the smallest bank operating in this country.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

The puzzling international situation has its counterpart on this market, and, in fact, is noticed here in even a more aggravated form than elsewhere. Money in New York does make a somewhat artificial display of cheapness, with its call rates quoted at around two percent and, in the early part of the week, at less than that price, but there is nothing but a continuous stringent tone reported daily on the money market at this point. Commercial paper is quoted here at six to seven percent and the lower rate is the exception rather than the rule. Brokers cannot yet tap the coffers of the banks, despite the most earnest desire to do so. They are paying, when they get the funds, nothing under six percent, and would pay as high as seven and eight percent if the money were forthcoming. Bankers, however, are almost unanimously of opinion that there will be little change throughout the remainder of this year, owing to the demands of commercial houses in the east and west. It is not expected that the termination of the Sovereign Bank troubles will help the money market situation, as expected by a few brokers, on the grounds that bankers have been building up their reserves in expectation of trouble from that source. The banks in the past have not paid sufficient regard to this end of their business, but it is gratifying to be informed by the prominent bankers here that the whole policy of the Canadian chartered banks has changed for the better in regard to the liquid assets carried in all circumstances.

Nearly every stock on this market lost large fractions during the week, including Canadian Pacific with one point, Power 3½ points, Twins a small fraction, Toronto Railway 1 3-4, Detroit 4 1-4, Richelieu a half point, Iron common and preferred also lost a point, while Soo common, after jumping to 105, fell away to 101, but gained over a point since a week ago. Montreal Street was steady, but quiet, Nova Scotia prices were unchanged, and Dominion Coal was neglected and rather weak in tone. Illinois preferred recovered a few points in the early week on small transactions, subsequently declining again to the low price of 85 1-4. Mackay common prices are the same as a week ago, but the preferred lost about a point during the week's business. Scattered trading is the rule, with little or no liquidation, except in Detroit United. Strike troubles threaten this well-known traction, and holders have no doubt become tired and prefer to sacrifice rather than hold for an indefinite period, when the political and labor atmosphere shall become more settled.

TO STIMULATE PLANTS.

ELECTRICITY AND ANAESTHETICS NOW USED WITH GOOD EFFECT.

(By G. Clarke Nuttall.)

Electricity, that great force which the latter part of the nineteenth century harnessed to the uses of man, has not, in its victorious career, left untouched the domain of the plants, and now electroculture, or the application of the electric current in plant growing, is fast becoming a recognized development in up-to-date agriculture and horticulture.

To Professor S. Lemstrom, of Helsingfors University, we owe much of our knowledge in this matter, for he has been experimenting for a considerable number of years on the effect of passing a current of electricity through growing plants, and he has come to the conclusion that in the large majority of cases crops grown in an electrified atmosphere are far above the average both in quality and quantity.

During the years 1902-'03 he had experimental fields in England near Newcastle, in connection with the Durham College of Science, in Germany near Breslau, and in Sweden at Alvidaberg, where he grew many plants under electrical treatment. The results were remarkable. Thus strawberries in electrified fields showed an increase of from 50 to 128 percent over those grown in normal fields. Corn showed an increase of from 35 to 40 percent; potatoes, 20 percent; beets, 26 percent, and so on. And since in many of these cases the treatment was tentative and varied for experimental purposes, the results will be largely improved when only the most satisfactory method is employed. In fact, Professor Lemstrom believes that under this treatment one may safely reckon upon an average increase of 45 percent over the normal for all crops grown on land of ordinary fertility.

The method of applying electricity is as follows: A wire net is first stretched across the field a little above the surface; this net is then connected with an electrical machine stationed in a shed or building without the field and the current traverses the net. As the seeds sprout and the little plants begin to grow the net must be raised, as on no account must it touch the plants; but the raising need only be done once or twice during the summer.

But in all matters such as this the mundane and first question asked by a practical farmer is, 'Will it pay?' Or will the cost of the apparatus swamp the increased profits. For the commercial aspect is perforce the one that appeals to him most. To this inquiry Professor Lemstrom asserts that he can give a most satisfactory answer: It will pay.

French men of science working at electroculture have been largely devoting their energies to trying to utilize the electricity of the atmosphere. If this could be done a practically unlimited source at nominal expense could be obtained. And their experiments show that the idea is feasible. For instance, by setting up a geomagnetifère—practically a lightning conductor—in the centre of a field and connecting it with a network of wires running through the soil of the field, an increase of 50 percent was secured in a potato crop, while an even greater percentage of improvement showed in tomatoes, peas, and other plants experimented upon. In fact we may conclude that on all counts electricity stimulates growth and development in the plant world and that electroculture has an undoubted future.

Another development in recent plant growing is known as radioculture, and is curious and somewhat sensational. It consists in growing plants in differently colored glass houses; that is to say, instead of the glass being clear white as is usual in greenhouses, in one case it is red, in another green, and in yet another blue, care being taken that in every case the color of the glass is absolutely pure. A series of experiments on these lines was first conducted by the eminent French astronomer, M. Camille Flammarion, and they proved suggestive. He took a number of the seedlings of the sensitive plant (Mimosa pudica), choosing this plant because of its peculiar sensitiveness, and divided them into four similar groups; one group he placed in an ordinary greenhouse; a second he placed in a blue house, a third in a green house and a fourth in a red house. Then giving to each the same care and attention and arranging that the intensity of the light should be the same in each case, he awaited eventualities. At the end of a few months he made an exact comparison between them and found striking differences. In the blue house the little plants were practically just as he had put them; they were alive and well, but they had not grown or produced new foliage or development in any way. Like the Sleeping Beauty in her castle, they had seemingly fallen asleep on the day they went into blueness and remained unchanged as in a trance. In the green glass house the seedlings had certainly shown considerable energy in growing, more so than their contemporaries in the ordinary glass house, but, on the other hand, their growth was not really satisfactory, for, though tall, they were inclined to be weedy and poor. But in the red house there were wonderful happenings indeed. The seedlings had become positive giants, and well nourished and well developed ones, too. They were fifteen times as big as their sleeping fellows in the blue house, and four times as big as the normal control plants.

The last development of modern plant growing that it is proposed to treat of here is also the most recent, and it, in its turn, differs from the pre- we have discussed. It con- ing plants by the use of an truly remarkable proc- forward by Dr. Johannsen hagen, at the beginning of and since then amplified by anists, particularly French plants to be treated are very dry state on a bed in a box capable of being sealed. SIR WILFRID IN PARIS

TO BE PAINTED AND BANQUETED BY FRENCH ADMIRERS.

A Paris correspondent states that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, having paid a visit to Cormon, the well-known French painter, the artist expressed a desire for the favor of a sitting from the Canadian premier, so as to make his picture as a companion to that of President Loubet, which was his masterpiece two years ago. If Sir Wilfrid finds time to give the required sitting, his portrait will figure in next year's Paris salon.

A grand banquet is to be tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier by a number of friends and admirers in the French capital on June 24, the feast of St. Jean Baptiste.

Such liberal discount makes it possible and worth while for any one who had really no intention of buying a jacket now to do so, and the same applies in the Millinery Department, all the latest European models, and mind you the very latest having been reduced 25 percent. THE HAYWOOD TRIAL.

Character and Testimony of Orchard Attacked by Mr. Richardson, Counsel for the Defence.

WITNESS BREAKS DOWN AS, AMID A HUSH IN COURT, HE TELLS OF PENITENCE—CONCLUDED THAT THE GRAVE DID NOT END IT ALL.

Boise, Idaho, June 13.—The lawyers who are fighting to save the life of Wm. D. Haywood and the good name of the Western Federation of Miners, made their strongest assault upon the character and testimony of Harry Orchard today. Carrying the review by cross-examination of his life of crime down to his confession, they bitterly assailed his motives. They had spent several days in stripping him before the jury of every shred of morality, and then, suddenly, in a final fierce attack, they strove with every means known to the legal calling to convince the jury that Orchard was committing a crime in falsely swearing away the lives of innocent men in the hope of saving his own. They used the very language with which the witness answered their questions against him, and constantly and forcefully implied that it was put into his mouth by men controlling him.

This series of efforts to break down the witness's testimony gave to the trial to-day a degree of dramatic intensity, compelling human interest, that gripped every man and woman who watched and listened.

Orchard's endurance failed when they recited to him the story of David and Uriah, that Detective McPartland related to him when he came seeking a confession. He tried to keep them back, but tears filled his eyes and he rocked unevenly, like a fainting woman. His voice fell to huskiness and he hid his face in a handkerchief. Then he steadied himself and went on strongly to the end. He defended his motives by saying that he became converted and penitent, and resolved to make every possible reparation by freely confessing all. McPartland had told him that he was doing a great service for the state, and that states were kind to men who served them. There was no other promise.

'You knew that if you confessed to Steunenberg's murder the state would put you out of the way?' persisted Mr. Richardson, counsel for the defence.

'Yes, sir.'

'And would do it quickly?'

'I believed they would put me out of the way.'

'But somewhere along the line the thought came to you that you could get out of it by laying it on somebody else?'

'No, sir; that was not the thought at all.'

And here Orchard gave a remarkable explanation of the motives that impelled him to confess. His voice fell, but there was no other show of emotion. Silence by his hearers gave every word to the entire room.

'I thought,' he said, 'of putting myself out of the way, but I thought over my past life. I did not believe in a hereafter at all, but I was afraid to die, and I thought at times that I had been such an unnatural monster—my crimes had been so great that I would not be forgiven——'

'Who told you that?'

'No one.'

'Who wrote that out for you?'

'No one, but after I had been sent a Bible and had read it some, I came to the conclusion that I would be forgiven if I made a confession of everything. I began to think that the grave did not end everything, and I made up my mind to tell the truth about the whole thing.'

'So you thought you would make your peace with the future by having someone else hanged?' asked Mr. Richardson.

'No, sir, I think any man can make his peace with the future if he wants to. I believe it was my duty to tell the truth. I did not see any other way, regardless of the consequences to myself or anybody else. I owed it to society; I owed it to God and to myself.'

The defence suggested that if Orchard did not get the references to society, God and himself directly from McPartland or any other person, it was suggested to him by the oath he took when he joined the Western Federation of Miners. They read the oath from the ritual, but when they did so, he expressed the belief that the language had been given to him by the Almighty.

For hours the defence hammered at his reason for confessing. They sought to show it in the force of example drawn from the immunity of informers in the Mollie McGuire cases, but this the witness would not admit. Next they sought or it in Orchard's efforts to bring Steve Adams to the state, and then in his subsequent talks with McPartland and Governor Gooding. Once again they emphasized that the witness twice wrote his testimony out, but Orchard repelled the suggestion that it was changed by McPartland, Attorney Hawley or anybody else.

After this it was hinted that Orchard placed his future in the keeping of McPartland; that the Pinkertons sent money to his family in Canada; that he had been supplied with dates to strengthen his story; and that McPartland trained him as a stage manager would, for his appearance on the stand. But all this Orchard denied.

Then they tried to show him a pampered, petted hero-like prisoner, fed from the table of the warden, addressed as 'Harry' by Governor Gooding, and Warden Whitney, given freedom and liberties that no other prisoner ever had, all this consideration implying that he would never be hanged for killing Steunenberg. Then came questions as to how the prisoner had been dressed and groomed for the trial, and lastly, for a climax, they showed Orchard pleading for, and saving the life of Bob Wetter, condemned to death for murder. Orchard admitted that he had appealed to Governor Gooding about Wetter, and later that Gooding first reprieved Wetter and then commuted his sentence of death to life imprisonment.

Orchard left the stand at 2.30 o'clock, after having occupied it for thirty-two hours and a half. Just before he was excused and remanded, the prosecution had him identify the casing of the bomb he planted at the gate of Judge Goddard's house in Denver. Orchard is to return to the witness chair later, because the defence must lay the formal lines for impeaching him, and the state must still have its re-direct examination.

TESTIMONY CORROBORATED.

Immediately Orchard left the stand, the state began the corroboration of his testimony about trying to poison Bradley, Mrs. Sadie Swan, who, as Miss Sadie Bell, was a maid in the Bradley home, the milkman who sold the milk that was poisoned; and P. L. McCrear, the chemist who analyzed the poisoned milk, carried the revolting tale from the discovery, because of its bitterness, that the milk was poisoned, to the analysis, which showed from forty to sixty grains of strychnine in a quart of it; Mrs. Swan identified Orchard and connected him with the house. They all confined the date as within three or four days of the explosion, and Mrs. Swan swore that she opened the front door to get the morning paper a few minutes before the explosion and saw nothing on the steps. There will be further testimony as to the Bradley incident to-morrow.

ORCHARD MEETS PEABODY.

Former Governor Peabody and Harry Orchard met face to face in the office of J. H. Hawley to-day.

Orchard recognized him at once and shrank back and trembled. The former governor smilingly held out his hand, saying:

'How are you, Orchard?'

Orchard broke down completely. He said:

'I am ashamed to look at you, sir; I am ashamed to speak to you.'

The ex-governor reassured him and Orchard replied:

'I am thankful that I did not kill you and am spared the thought of that crime.'

FRENCH WINE GROWERS' TROUBLES

FIRST CLAUSE OF BILL AGAINST WINE FRAUDS ADOPTED.

Paris, June 13.—The government today secured the adoption by the Chamber of Deputies of the first clause of its bill intended to provide relief for the wine-growers. It was announced that the disaffection of the troops had been exaggerated, and it was established that the strike of the municipalities in support of the wine-growers' demands at present involved only about ten percent of the disaffected districts. These were the first hopeful signs for the authorities since the wine growers' movement began.

After a debate in the chamber lasting four days, the government carried by 310 to 261 votes the first clause of the bill against wine frauds, intended for the relief of the wine-growers. The measure requires all growers to make an annual declaration at the mayoralties of their communes of the acreage, cultivation and total quantity of wine produced, and whether it is intended for sale or otherwise. The government is of the opinion that when in possession of this information it will be in a position to keep track of the wine from the grower to the dealer, and prevent watering or sugaring.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

North Battleford, June 14.—With his wife watching him through the window, Francois Grosjean, rancher, living thirty miles north-east of here, was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning on Saturday afternoon last, while leading a horse. The horse was knocked down, but recovered. The bolt literally tore the clothing from Grosjean's body. The dead man was 55 years old, married, and had five sons.

They complain in particular of the temperance agitation and the general disrespect paid to the military Goderich, it is understood, is prepared to offer a site of six hundred acres, with suitable provisions for ranges.

Detectives Cowan and Sampson last night arrested a man whom they have been looking for during the past two months. The accused is George Menard, 22 years of age, who, according to police records, has been making a practice of going to boarding houses, renting rooms, and after stealing all that he could conveniently lay his hands on during the night, leaving the premises early the next morning for new fields of operation.

WORK AMONG CHINESE LEPERS

A MEDICAL PRIEST SPEAKS OF HIS MISSION TO CANTON.

The Rev. Father Conrardy, the physician-priest who is in Montreal collecting funds to carry on work among the lepers in Canton, delivered a very interesting lecture on his work, before a large audience, in Karn Hall, last evening. The Hon. C. J. Doherty presided, and among other on the platform was the Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Christ Church Cathedral.

The lecturer spoke of his work as helper to the Rev. Father Damien, who died a victim to his devotion for the lepers in Molokai.

Father Conrardy referred to his having been ill of cholera after the death of Father Damien. He was very ill and the poor lepers did what they could for him, but he needed medical attention to recover. As the nearest hospital was miles away and as there was no waggon in the settlement, how to transport him was a difficult question. The lepers finally decided to put him in the hearse, in which mortuary vehicle he was hauled to the hospital.

A characteristic point was brought out by the lecturer in a letter which he read from a young leper in Louisiana, which reminded him of the pleasure he had received by a shake of the hand—it was so long since the leper had felt the grasp of friendship.

After a description of the terrible state of things in Molokai before the arrival of Father Damien, the lecturer said that the same conditions now existed in Canton, and he hoped to be able to go to those poor people before Christmas.

The lecturer explained that he left Molokai because another missionary had been appointed to take the place of Father Damien, but he declared that he had, nevertheless, decided to devote himself to the welfare of the lepers. One day he met a Congregationalist minister, who told him if he really wanted to devote himself to the lepers he should go to Canton, and he went there. After an inspection he returned to the United States, and, though he was 54 years old, he began to study medicine and earned his degree. He was now collecting funds with which to go back to China and to do for Canton what Father Damien had done for Molokai.

The lecturer said it was his desire to establish a leper settlement in Canton to show what he could do with a little money. He declared that he could support a leper for about three cents a day, or a dollar would keep thirty of them for one day.

Should lepers marry? This was a question put, and answered to the effect that the missionary had no right to say 'No!' That was the province of the government, and their decree was: 'Let them alone.' As a matter of fact, leprosy was not transmissible to an offspring, though the child might become a leper if not removed from the infection. At least, he had never seen a child that had leprosy that was due to birth from leper parents.

At the close of the lecture, the Rev. Dr. Symonds said a few words of sympathy for the work of the physician-priest, and hoped he would return home in good health, which sentiment was loudly applauded.

A perfect type of the highest order of excellence in manufacture.

SLIDING SCALE PROPOSAL.

Power Company's Proposal for Appointment of Committee of Experts Not Received With Favor.

INFORMATION SAID TO BE AVAILABLE FOR BASIS OF ACTION.

The Fire and Light Committee will not meet until next Thursday to consider the reply that has been sent by the Light, Heat & Power Company, as published exclusively in the 'Witness' yesterday, in regard to the sliding scale which the company had previously expressed its willingness to adopt in regard to gas and electricity charges.

An alderman in discussing the matter this morning said he regarded the reply as very unsatisfactory. The company, he added, must have had some basis in mind when they wrote as they did in turning down the Payette offer, and would have been an earnest of its good faith if some indication had been given as requested as to what was considered a fair starting dividend and a fair price for gas under which the sliding scale should come into operation. The suggested appointment of a committee of experts, one named by the company, a second by the city and the third by the two others would, he considered, only cause unnecessary delay, and result in no further information being obtained than is now accessible, if the company will only do as the Fire Committee's resolution asked. Sufficient information, I am sure, is available which would enable the company to set down a basis of action.

Then will the company agree to accept the findings of the experts, and ought the city to agree to bind itself in a similar way? The company, as I understand, has given no undertaking to this effect on its part.

FALL KILLED POLE

WORKMAN'S SKULL FRACTURED BY FALL FROM WHARF SHED.

A Polish laborer died in the General Hospital at six o'clock last evening as the result of a fall of forty feet from the new Dominion Line sheds to the pier beneath. The fall fractured his skull. The accident occurred just as the men were about to stop work, and as everyone was busy collecting his tools prior to leaving, no one saw the man fall. He is thought to have lost his balance shortly after starting to descend the ladder from the shed roof. The victim was unconscious when picked up, and died while being conveyed to the General Hospital.

The body of the man who was killed by a forty-foot fall on the Dominion line wharf last evening, was identified this morning as that of Michael Kobyozvm. The fellow workman who established identification said that the deceased had a wife and family in Jaworow, a town in Central Galicia. He lived at 8 Dominion street. An inquest will be held.

WILL BECOME BANKERS

FORGET & CO. DECIDE TO DROP MARGINAL BUSINESS ON STOCK EXCHANGE.

The firm of L. J. Forget and Company, stock brokers, to-day confirmed the report that they were about to discontinue business on account of marginal trading on the Stock Market.

It can readily be understood that such a radical change in the internal affairs of, perhaps, the largest operating firm of brokers on this Exchange, would entail no little time, and when all the accounts can be conveniently settled, the firm will no longer accept accounts on margin.

It is the intention of Messrs. Forget to devote their financial powers to investment transactions only, and will conduct a private banking business for which, it is understood, a charter will be asked.

When asked if it was the intention to open branches, Mr. Rodolphe Forget said that it was rather premature to make any definite statement on that point, but in the course of time it is quite possible that the bank will be extended to other districts. The first branch will be in Paris, in conjunction with the firm's present office there.

ENGINE OFF THE TRACK

C. P. R. ENGINEER KILLED AT SAND POINT THIS MORNING.

Ottawa, June 14.—Engine No. 1500 was ditched at Sand Point, on the C. P. R., this morning. She was pulling a freight train. James Fanning, the engineer, of Carleton Place, was killed. Officials and wrecking parties have gone to the scene of the wreck.

At Ottawa despatch says:—'The accident on the C. P. R. occurred at Stewart's Bay, two and a half miles west of Sand Point. The sectionmen were changing a rail and the freight train ran past the flags that were put out as danger signals on the curved track. The engine ran over the end of the rail and upturned, killing the engineer, whose body has not yet been removed. This occurred about ten o'clock, and the road is blocked.

FIRE IN BOX FACTORY.

Late yesterday afternoon fire broke out on the premises of the Lalonde door, box and window sash factory, 1234 St. Lawrence Boulevard, which gave the firemen twenty minutes' hard work. The fire was in the floor of the drying kiln over the boiler. Firemen from No. 14 station turned out in answer to the alarm.

NOT A SPECULATION.

But Southern Counties Railway Will be Run on Strict Business Basis.

MATTER TO COME BEFORE CITY COUNCIL ON MONDAY.

The question of the entry of the Southern Counties Electric Railway into the city over Victoria Bridge and on as far as McGill street, was discussed by a special committee of the City Council to-day. Serious opposition was offered by the Montreal Street Railway Company's threat to withhold the percentage of its gross takings, due to the city under its contract, if the running privileges asked for are granted, but the city attorney expressed the opinion that the Montreal Street Railway's opposition could not stand; and, further, that the Southern Counties Company had a right to come into the city; that its powers could only be exercised by so doing; and that the by-law which had been drawn up and read once before the City Council contains all conditions in conformity with the charter.

Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P., appeared and urged the claims of the Southern Counties Company. He said their federal charter gave them the right to enter the city, and they only came before the City Council because they thought it only courteous to do so and because they did need sanction to pass through Grey Nun street and over a small part of Common street. He failed to understand the M. S. R. opposition, because his company would be a 'feeder' of the street railway, and in no sense a competitor. They did not intend going beyond McGill street; they could not charge city fares; but they could do an immense good to the city and district by bringing farming produce here for the markets; and he thought arrangements would be concluded with the G. T. R. which would result in goods being delivered from the country direct to Bonsecours market. His company was in real earnest, and they would continue to conduct the new electric railway on a sound business basis, and not as a thing of speculation.

The committee was pleased to receive the latter assurance, but no definite decision could be arrived at to-day, and the meeting was accordingly adjourned until Monday morning in the hope of being able to agree upon a report in connection with the new electric railway by-law, which is down for second reading before the City Council on that day.

LONGSHOREMEN'S ARBITRATION

BOARD OF CONCILIATION HAS CONCLUDED ITS DELIBERATIONS AND REACHED A DECISION.

The finding of the Board of Conciliation and Investigation in the dispute between the shipping companies and the Longshoremen's Union will be sent to the Minister of Labor to-night. The Board held another long consultation this morning in the council chamber of the Board of Trade and shortly after noon to-day His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi, intimated that the Board would, in all probability, terminate its deliberations late this afternoon, and their finding will at once be forwarded to Mr. Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labor at Ottawa.

TWO CENT RATE

ATTORNEY-GENERAL OF MISSOURI SECURES INJUNCTIONS AGAINST 18 RAILWAYS.

St. Louis, Mo., June 14.— Attorney-General Hadley to-day filed application here, simultaneously with similar action in Kansas City, and secured injunctions against 18 of the principal Missouri railways, compelling them to obey the two-cent rate law and maximum freight rate law now in effect.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—Upon application of Attorney-General Hadley, Circuit Court Judge Parks to-day ordered the representatives here of 18 principal Missouri railways to obey the two-cent passenger rate and the maximum freight rate bills, which went into effect last midnight. This brings the Circuit Court into conflict with the United States District Court, before which the railways are suing for an injunction to prevent the state officials from enforcing these laws.

A SURPRISE SOCIAL.

The friends of Mr. William Hill gave him a surprise a few evenings ago on the occasion of his having attained the jubilee year of his Christian life. His fellow members of the Sunday morning class of Centenary Methodist Church arranged a social gathering to take place in the church parlors, and took advantage of the opportunity thus afforded to present him with a handsome Morris chair and an address as an expression of their esteem and appreciation of his sterling personal qualities and Christian character. The address accompanying the presentation was read by Mr. Isaac Collins, who acted as chairman. Congratulatory addresses were also made by Messrs. J. R. Nutter, Joseph Goodsell, and the pastor of the church, the Rev. J. E. Mavety. A short programme was rendered, those taking part being Miss L. H. Collins, Miss Mabel Mattice, Miss May Collins, and Mr. John Mattice. Refreshments were served, and the proceedings closed with a hymn and the benediction. Mr. Hill has been for many years a class leader, Sunday school teacher, local preacher, and member of the official board of the church. Mr. Hill has been identified with Methodism in Point St. Charles for nearly twenty-five years.

THE PRINCE'S THANKS

HAD A MOST PLEASANT AND COMFORTABLE TRIP OVER GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM.

Mr. H. R. Charlton returned to Montreal this morning from North Bay, where he left the Imperial train which is conveying Prince Fushimi through Canada. The Grand Trunk had charge of the arrangements for the transportation of His Imperial Highness through Eastern Canada, which ended at their northern terminus. Before leaving the train His Imperial Highness thanked the Grand Trunk Railway System, through Mr. Charlton, for all the arrangements made by the company for his comfort, and also expressed his appreciation for the manner in which all the details had been carried out. From the time of leaving Montreal last Monday for Ottawa until the train left the Grand Trunk lines, not a hitch of any kind occurred.

The principal decorations at all of the cities visited including Montreal, Ottawa, Brockville, Kingston, Toronto and Niagara Falls, were at the Grand Trunk stations, and were profuse and artistically executed, the consensus of opinion being that the Union Station at Toronto had never looked better on any similar occasion.

His Imperial Highness and the members of his suite were most observant while travelling through the country, and enjoyed the several features en route. The following telegram was received this morning by Mr. C. M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager:—

'Prince Fushimi commands me to take this early opportunity of thanking you for all the arrangements made by the Grand Trunk Railway to make his journey over their lines a pleasant one. His Imperial Highness was highly gratified by the attention shown by all the officials of the Grand Trunk Railway, and is most grateful for the services of Mr. Charlton.

'(Signed), NAGASAKI,
'Councillor of the Court of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor.'

THE LATE MR. A. C. DECARY.

A very large number of persons attended the funeral of the late Mr. A. C. Decary, joint registrar for Hochelaga and Jacques Cartier, which took place at Dorval this morning. The chief mourners were deceased's sons, Messrs. Alphonse, Albert, Ernest R. Hercule and Antonio Decary; his brothers, the Rev. Canon Decary, the Rev. Abbé T. Decary, Messrs. Placideb, Gervais and J. B. Decary; his son-in-law, Mr. J. L. Decarie, M.P.P., and several other relatives. Besides residents of Dorval, Lachine, Pointe Claire, St. Laurent and other surrounding localities, a large number of citizens of Montreal, who went by special train, formed part of the cortege, among those present being Messrs. G. M. Meloche, J. E. Latour, Xavier Decary, Senator P. B. Casgrain, Judge Pinault, F. D. Monk, Achille Bergevin, Albert Mesnard, Ald. Mercier, J. A. Brunet, M. P.P.; Louis Montpetit, Dr. Théo. Cypiot, Dr. Frs. Cypiot, Hector Cypiot, Albert Cypiot, Zotique Saint-Amour, G. Constantineau, A. Perreault, Jas. Dunn, Henry Hamilton, J. P. Coutlée, Maurice Larose, Dr. L. N. Delorme, Jos. A. C. Riopelle, J. A. Dubuc, M. J. Jarvis, R. W. Sévigny. The service was held in the parish church, among other priests present being the Rev. Abbés P. Dion, H. Lecours, A. Corbeil, O. Gauthier, L. J. Lafontaine, Chs. Rasconi, H. Charpentier, J. O. Lagacé, F. Kavanagh and J. E. Bélair. After the service the remains were conveyed to the Cote des Neiges Cemetery for interment.

TAX ON INSURANCE.

After the judgment of the Court of Appeal, some time ago, confirming the judgment of the Superior Court, which condemned the city to reimburse the Royal Insurance Company that portion of the special tax authorized under the new charter, which affected their life business, several other companies entered similar actions. Those actions have been pending ever since, and a number of them are on the June roll. The city, however, wishes to have them continued to the September term, in view of a settlement under the amendment secured at the last session of the legislature, the claim being that amendment has a retroactive effect. The ground that the section authorizing the tax did not affect the life business of the companies interested, and an amendment was secured to cover that omission.

WHISKY KILLED HIM.

Hamilton, Ont., June 14.—Early this morning Peter Horn, a plasterer, was found deal in a new house where he had been employed. Beside him was an empty whisky bottle. Horn had been drinking heavily of late, and it is supposed that while under the influence of liquor last night he went to the house and fell asleep, never to wake up again. Coroner McNichol decided after hearing the particulars, that death was due to alcoholism, and that an inquest was unnecessary.

JUDGMENT IN APPEAL.

The sittings of the June term of the Court of Appeal, which had been adjourned, will be resumed on Monday next at 10 a.m. On Tuesday, the Court will render judgment in the following cases:—Morel and Dorval, McDowell and Wilcox, Dansereau, and Dansereau, Defoy and St. Jean.

WORKMAN'S BAD FALL.

Edward Rattell, 26 years of age, of 1033 City Hall avenue, fell from the building in course of construction at the corner of St. Catherine and City Councillors streets, this morning, and was badly bruised on the body and head. He was taken to the General Hospital.

TORONTO CONFERENCE

Rev. George Jackson Says the New Theology is Like a Bad Negative.

(See also Page 12.)

Toronto, June 14.—In an address upon British ministers before the Toronto Methodist Conference, this morning, the Rev. George Jackson, pastor of Sherbourne Street Methodist Church, said that the new theology was like a bad negative, undeveloped and over-exposed.

Chancellor Burwash made the statement that a hundred fifty candidates were needed for the ministry to go to the west.

An illuminated address was presented by Mr. Justice Maclaren, to the Rev. James Henderson, on behalf of the Board of Missions, expressing appreciation of Mr. Henderson's work.

The Rev. Dr. Potts, who has been ill, appeared on the platform and was warmly welcomed.

HOTEL LICENSE DEMANDED

HOTELKEEPERS AT ST. LAURENT TAKE OUT WRIT OF MANDAMUS AGAINST COLLECTOR OF REVENUE.

Rodolphe Cerat and Emile Vandelac, both of the parish of St. Laurent, acting through their attorneys, Messrs. Laurendeau, Pelletier & Peletier, have each taken out a writ of mandamus to force Mr. L. H. Brosseau, collector of provincial revenue, to issue a hotel license in their favor.

The petitioners allege that their license certificate was confirmed first by the municipal council of St. Laurent, and then by the license commissioners for that portion of St. Laurent now annexed to Montreal, and that, under those circumstances, the collector of revenue is not justified in refusing them their license.

ASSIGNMENT.

Laurent Morin, carpenter and contractor, has consented to assign at the demand of C. A. Sharpe.

REV. WILLIAM DAUNT.

Detroit, Mich, June 14.—The Rev. William Daunt, an Episcopal minister of Huron (Ontario) diocese, is dead at St. Luke's Hospital, aged 79 years. Mr. Daunt was a native of Cork, Ireland, and was educated at the University of Dublin, coming to Ontario after taking orders. He married a widow and educated three of her sons for the ministry. The body will be taken to Stratford, Ont., for burial.

FORTUNES OF THE FUTURE.

'It is not gold, silver, nor copper—no, nor diamonds, either—that will make the great fortunes of the future. It is the hidden power in the air, the water, and the sunshine, which will build up the wealth of the next few centuries.'

This statement was made not long ago by a mining engineer of world-wide reputation. The value of water power, wind power, and sun power as commercial factors is indeed just beginning to be realized. It is estimated that throughout the world about 2,000,000 electrical horse power is generated to-day from waterfalls and streams. More than one-quarter of this great horse power is generated in the United States, with Canada second and Switzerland third.

At the lowest estimate it would require some 25,000,000 tons of coal to generate 2,000,000 horse power continuously by the ordinary steam engine, and, allowing $5 a ton for the cost of coal, this would represent a saving of $125,000,000. There are thousands of streams capable of producing from 100 to 50,000 or more horse-power; a few others, like Niagara, the Victoria Falls in South Africa, and innumerable falls of the Mississippi, the Colorado, and the Missouri, with powers in this direction that seem unlimited. If every part of the mighty torrent of Niagara was harnessed it would easily generate sufficient power to do all the work of this country. But Niagara is no greater than Victoria Falls, in the heart of Africa—some say not so great in its unmeasured possibilities.

The value of a stream for power purposes depends upon the amount of water flowing and also upon its head—that is, the height of its fall, whether in a sudden cataract, or in rushing down a slope, and so the small mountain stream which tumbles noisily down steep slopes and gullies is often worth more than the broad, sluggish river that flows through low, level stretches of country. One cubic foot of water a second may equal in energy the total stored energy of many tons of coal. What is even more wonderful, a stream can be made to operate an electric pump which in turn will pump the stream itself to levels where ordinary irrigation ditches could not conduct it. In other words, the water could be used twice, first for generating electric power, and second, for irrigating our farms. Electricity could be made to light and heat the homes of the city and country population and run the threshing machines and reapers of the farmers, as well as turn the wheels of the cars and factories.

The use of wind power for mechanical purposes is older than that of any other. But a windmill for electrical generation is one of the most recent accomplishments. The first windmill electric plant ever installed in this or any other country was built privately by Dr. Charles F. Brush, the inventor of the arc lamp, in 1889, at his home in Cleveland for the purpose of lighting his house and laboratory. In Europe commercial windmill electrical plants have been built. One such plant, established at Wittkeil, in Schleswig, lights the town, and another windmill plant at Hamburg has been successfully used in running a factory. A windmill electric plant at Boyle Hall, Ardsley, in England, has a capacity for running 110 lights in winter.—'St. Nicholas.'

HAYWOOD TRIAL.

Guibbini, Italian Who Introduced Orchard to Bradley's Servants, Testifies.

(See also Page 7.)

Boise, Idaso, June 14.—The trial of W. D. Haywood for the murder of Governor Steunenberg was resumed at 9.30 a.m., with L. B. Guibbini, dairyman, of San Francisco, on the stand.

Guibbini introduced Harry Orchard, known as 'Barry,' to the servants in the Bradley household. He said that Orchard came to his store and hung around and spent considerable money. Orchard asked questions about the Bradley household, asked to be introduced to the servants, and asked Guibbini to get him a room in the neighborhood. Guibbini saw Orchard moving his luggage the night before the Bradley house was dynamited. He also saw the poisoned milk. Guibbini described the result of the bomb Orchard placed at the front door leading to the Bradley apartments in Washington street. The whole front of the house was blown out.

Guibbini said he saw Orchard at his store the day the explosion occurred.

The defence moved to strike out the testimony of the witness as not connecting Haywood with the offence charged, but was overruled.

Attorney Darrow, on cross-examination, devoted himself to learning the conditions under which the witness was brought to Boise to testify. Guibbini said the detectives told him he had to come to Boise, and there was no use 'trying to dodge it.'

'So they were going to kidnap you?' commented Mr. Darrow.

'No, sir,' said the witness. 'They just told me I had to come.'

Guibbini got $200 for expenses.

Guibbini said Orchard told him he lived by gambling at night. He slept during the daytime.

The prosecution then called Hull McClaughry, assistant postmaster at San Francisco, who was interrogated as to a registered letter Orchard said he received from Pettibone while in San Francisco. Orchard said he was going by the name of 'John Dempsey' at the time, and Pettibone used the name of 'J. Wolff' in transmitting the letter, which contained $100.

OPERA IN TURKEY

NO KINGS IN THE CASTE AND NO MURDERS ON THE STAGE.

People who enjoy opera must take their soul food in pretty vigorously diluted form in Turkey. The Sultan requires of art products offered to his people very much what is required by the editor of a well-known family paper in America of the matter which entrances readers of his paper. On the stage in Turkey, as in the pages of that paper, nobody is ever murdered, nobody even dies a natural death, and nobody ever performs the frequently natural feat of falling in love. Not many days ago it was proposed to give 'Aida' in Constantinople. The censor forbade it. And had it not been for the humane intervention of the Italian Ambassador the performance would not have been given—as instead it was.

The vagaries of the Turkish dramatic censor, while they afford some diversion to the general public, are the distress and dread of impresarios and stage managers in Constantinople. His red pencil ruthlessly cuts and mutilates the choicest masterpieces of European opera and drama, no reason being given or argument admitted.

The general rules which guide his judgment are, of course, more or less apparent. Anything calculated to bring contempt upon royalty, to suggest seditious ideas or prejudice public morals, is strictly taboo; but it is not always possible to assign such simple and satisfactory motives for his rulings. For instance, the reason for the prohibition of 'Hamlet' is sufficiently obvious, and the obliteration of certain passages from 'Othello' is comprehensible; but why he should object to the name 'Othello' is not so easy to account for. The play has always to be given under the designation 'Il Geloso' or 'Le Jaloux.' Possibly, Othello, being a Moor and therefore in all probability a Mussulman, his name is considered offensive to pious Moslems.

All allusions to royalty are strictly prohibited. Emperors are transformed into Grand Dukes and Kings into Dukes. A story is told of one jealous censor who changed all the 're's' in the tonic-sol-fa score of an opera into 'duca's,' being under the impression that they meant Kings. Although Donizetti's 'La Favorita' may not be given under this title, such things as Court favorites being unknown, or at least not officially recognized, in Turkey censor's scruples are allayed if the play is called 'Eleonora,' and the royalties are converted into Highnesses.

On one point the censor is inflexible; there shall be no murder committed on the stage. This is an order to prevent corruption by evil example. Consequently the dramatic effect of many plays is somewhat marred by the manner in which principals destined to be murdered are rushed off the stage, and, after receiving the fatal thrust out of sight of the audience, stagger back from the wings to sing their death songs. The music-loving world, however, make allowance for these difficulties with which the artists have to contend.

A lady once objected to the theatre on the ground that it was too dramatic. She will find a happy home in Turkey.—Boston 'Transcript.'

MARKETS HAVE DEVELOPED HOLIDAY TONE.

Extreme Dulness Prevails and Prices Lose by Sagging Process.

DETROIT STRONGER AND POWER UP A POINT TO 87.

THE GENERAL MARKET SHOWED SMALL CHANGES BOTH WAYS, WITH HOLDERS FIRM IN THEIR IDEAS.

Exchange value of £1 Sterling to-day is $4.86.94.

Meagre offerings of stocks in New York carried opening prices downward there, the demand being insufficient to sustain the market. American Smelting declined 1½ point, and Reading, Brooklyn Transit and Amalgamated Copper about a point. The market was decidedly weak all the morning, and the support of a very indifferent character.

Changes were mixed on the local market, with many of the leaders showing fractionally better prices than ruling yesterday. Conspicuous among the gains was Detroit, which recovered to 62, in the early trading, but later fell off a shade below 62. The reports from Detroit state that there will be a mass meeting of employees of the Detroit United either on Saturday or Monday, and it is expected that the more reasonable element will win the day. The people of Detroit are evidently out of sympathy with the men desiring extreme measures, and the Federation of Labor has refused to lend any support to the men, whose claims are said to be in direct opposition to their last agreement. At all events, the situation looks more hopeful and shareholders should not become needlessly alarmed about the situation.

Iron common sold at the even 20 mark, for a few shares, a decline of about a half-point. Richelieu was slightly weaker at 69 3-4. Power regained much of the recent losses from 86 to 87½. The Mackay stocks were quiet, with no change.

The Toronto Stock Exchange will try to increase its business by enlarging the facilities for dealing in outside issues. The call for these stocks will take place five minutes before the regular call.

BANK'S ACTION FOR $20,000

Brunswick, Ont., June 13.—An action has been taken by the Traders Bank to collect the value of certain notes that were given by the Consumers' Tobacco Company, of Leamington, by 150 farmers of Essex County, aggregating about $20,000, as payment for stock in the Consumers' Tobacco Co., which was organized in 1902.

The defendants objected to paying the notes, the Consumers' Company having failed to purchase tobacco, as it had agreed to when the defendants gave their notes to become stockholders in the company.

PROVISION MARKET

There is a good inquiry for abattoir dressed hogs on the local market, and quotations are ruling around $10 per hundred pounds.

Cured and smoked meats are firm on an active demand from local and outside buyers.

Lard is still firm, and the current requirements during the spring months have kept stocks from accumulating

WEST INDIA ELECTRIC HAD GOOD YEAR.

Profits $50,924 or 6·36% Earned on Capital—No Dividends Paid.

BANK OF MONTREAL DEBT REDUCED FROM $23,426 TO $802.

The financial statement of the West India Electric Company, Limited, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1906, shows net profits of $50,924.82, contrasted with $34,242.57 in 1905; an increase of $16,682, or about 45 percent.

The earnings represented 6.36 percent earned on the capital, but the directors have decided to carry the whole of the profits to surplus, which is now $191,176.46.

An interesting item is the reduction in the Bank of Montreal debt, to $802.74, from $23,426 in 1905, and $58,288 in 1904. It is understood that no dividends will be paid on the stock until this indebtedness is wiped out, and the reason the entire amount was not paid should undoubtedly have been explained to the shareholders in the president's report. This would have taken 1½ percent of the net profits, and have allowed a two or three percent dividend on the stock. The shareholders have waited long enough for a return on their capital, and should be given some sort of encouragement when at all possible.

It is well known that the president, Mr. James Hutchison, has in the past favored more liberality towards shareholders, and may take an early opportunity to declare a small quarterly dividend on the stock.

The report says that the company's loss through the disaster last January will not exceed $15,000.

The expenditure made on capital account amounted to $23,057.59; on new cars and trailers, $8,965.37; Pen Stock, $1,781.58; Wheel Lathe, $1,313.75; Rockfort Park, $9,-899.34; sundries, $1,097.56.

CLEARING HOUSE FOR REGINA.

Regina, June 14.—At a meeting of the managers of local banks, at the call of the mayor, it was resolved, subject to the approval of the head offices, to establish a clearing house in Regina.

A NEW JUNE JOKE

The financial writer of the Montreal 'Star' says:

'It speaks well for the coolness and commonsense of the Sovereign Bank clients that they were not alarmed at the yellow journal head lines in some of the Montreal papers the day of the meeting.'

'Yellow journal headlines' is surely a new joke that will rank with the best of the silly season series, and permit the 'June bride' and the 'straw hat' to take a much-needed rest.

APPLEYARD CONCERNED IN A BANK FAILURE.

Was Indicted for Grand Larceny in Connection With Buffalo Bank Losses.

The failure of A. M. Appleyard, a member of the Philadelphia stock exchange, has been followed by the disappearance of Appleyard. A Buffalo despatch says:

'As a result of the failure of the German Bank, this city, three years ago, Appleyard was indicted for grand larceny, first degree, for obtaining $50,000 from the bank on alleged worthless traction stock. The indictment has never been tried. Appleyard was also sued for $672,000 lost to the bank through loans alleged to have been made to him. Recently Justice Pound authorized the receiver to accept forty thousand in settlement of this suit, and Appleyard was to have been here to-morrow to pay over that sum in settlement of his civil liabilities to the German Bank. The money is said to have been furnished by his mother-in-law.'

APPLEYARD IN BUFFALO

Buffalo, June 14.—Arthur E. Appleyard arrived in Buffalo this morning. Asked if he was going to pay the $40,000 to-day to the receiver of the German Bank, Mr. Appleyard replied: 'I'll have to refer you to my attorney, Mr. Williams. He will do all the talking about that.'

'Did you get cleaned out in your stock deals in Philadelphia?'

'I don't know whether I am or not. It is too soon to tell where I stand. I got the best of the gang two days ago on a rapid transit deal, so they laid for me in United Gas Improvement. I may break even.'

COUNTRY PRODUCE

Receipts of eggs to-day were 1,302 cases.

Local jobbers and commission merchants report an easier feeling on the egg market due to large deliveries and selling pressure is more noticable just now than for some time past.

Potatoes are firm on light supplies which are hardly equal, especially in the case of the west varieties, to the current requirements. Jobbers are asking anywhere from $1.10 to $1.20 per bag for small lots.

Light holdings of beans are responsible for a stronger feeling on the market and prime 3-pound pickers are selling as high as $1.35 to $1.40 per bushel in car lots.

LIBERAL MOISTURE FOR THE CROPS.

Rains in Southern Alberta Give Promise of Splendid Yield.

C.P.R. CROP REPORT SHOWS FAVORABLE CONDITIONS.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 14.—Few parts of Canada have had more liberal moisture, or more regular, thus far this season, than Southern Alberta. In consequence, the entire country gives promise of a splendid crop. Rains have been so regular that the irrigation system has almost been forgotten. However, several weeks later than usual, the main ditch of the A. R. & R. System is filled with water, which is being distributed over the country far and wide. Water was flowing in Cardston some days ago, and is now here. A heavy shower fell on Tuesday evening, while on Thursday there was a thunderstorm which appeared to be general over much of Southern Alberta.

Winnipeg—The weekly crop report of the Canadian Pacific shows grain to be up several inches, and in splendid condition. Everything mostly looks favorable.

MR. THOMPSON AND THE CROPS.

Mr. F. W. Thompson, vice-president of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, who returned to town Wednesday after an absence of some weeks said, in speaking to the 'Witness' about the crop situation, 'the numerous advices and despatches we get from the West indicate that conditions today are very satisfactory, but the crop is about two weeks behind last year's growth at this time. Predictions at this early date are worthless, but given good, warm weather, the prospects are that there will be a satisfactory crop.

GRAIN MARKETS

Millers and jobbers report a fair demand and a steady trade in flour on the local and domestic markets, but the inquiry for export account is quiet. Buyers are not laying in any surplus stocks at present prices, but are taking only enough to last for a short time in anticipation of a drop in prices. Conditions are about the same on the market for both spring and winter wheat grades, and the difference in the selling prices to-day, compared with the values ruling three months ago is equal to the difference in the market value of wheat.

The jobbing demand for rolled oats is limited, as the consumption is small at this time of the year, and dealers, in the majority of cases, have considerable stock on hand. The price quoted on carload lots is $2.27½ per bag.

Cornmeal is quiet and steady at $1.45 to $1.50 per bag for ordinary feed meal. Granulated is worth $1.65.

The market for millfeed holds firm on an active inquiry for Manitoba shorts, though fewer orders for bran are being received on account of the improved condition of the pastures throughout the districts where the largest quantity is generally consumed. Back orders are still on the books, however, and values are steady.

Oats are unchanged, and a fair demand is reported for local account. Manitoba grades are being offered more freely than Ontarios, and quotations range from 49¼c to 50c per bushel for No. 2 Manitobas; 49c to 49¼c for No. 2; 48c to 48½c for No. 3, and 47c to 47½c for No. 2 Ontarios.

There is no change in the situation on the market for baled hay, and the tone is easy on continued heavy receipts.

MONTREAL TRADE

Dun's Bulletin of to-day says of Montreal trade:

'Reports as to the growing crops are of a more encouraging character, and anxiety on this score seems to be to some extent allayed. The make of cheese thus far has been light, shipments since the opening of navigation aggregating only 188,930 boxes, while exports of butter are practically nil. With regard to the general wholesale trade there is nothing specially new to note. In metals, hardware, paints, cement and building material, business continues active, with very firm values prevailing. In dry goods orders are coming in well for fall stuffs, while a fair proportion of summer sorting is also reported. All the cotton mills are very busily employed, but there is no improvement in the depressed conditions existing in the woollen manufacturing trade, and raw wool is very slow of sale. Refiners report some slackening in the demand for sugars, but prices remain steady. Grocerymen report great scarcity of gallon apples, and all lines of canned fruits, while tapioca is held at extremely high prices. Quite a few of the boot and shoe manufacturers are preparing to take stock, and the demand for leather is just moderate. Hides are also moving somewhat slowly, and stocks also show accumulation; dealers are buying No. 1 city hides at 11½ cents, and No. 1 country at 10½ cents. Complete returns of dry goods payments on the 4th are satisfactory, some of the larger reporting 85 to 90 percent of their customers' paper as being paid, and general collections are very fair. Only three district failures are reported for the week.

RUSSIA AND CHINA

FEAR OF THE LATTER PROMPTS RUSSIAN PLAN OF RECONSTRUCTION IN FAR EAST.

Harbin, Manchuria, June 13.—Russia's plan of reconstruction in the Far East now appears to be based on fear of China. Notwithstanding a lack of money, Russia is endeavoring to greatly strengthen her Siberian borders. The effect of their loss of prestige with the Chinese, especially the Manchurians, and the breaking away of high mandarin beneficiaries, despite the subsidies paid them, together with the lofty attitude of China, now that the Japanese are regarded as hectoring and browbeating them, powerfully impresses the Russian people.

All the Russians formerly employed on Saghalien have abandoned the Japanese there, though they are needed in various industries. The frontier line in Saghalien and Corea is strictly military. Russia's contentions regarding the fisheries have been disregarded and the negotiations for joining the Russian and Japanese railways at Kwang-Chengtsu have failed, the Japanese conducting both along their own lines. The Russians declare their inability to combat Japanese advances on Manchurian interests.

The Minister of War, Mr. Terauchi, last week visited and inspected the Japanese strategic post at Kwang Chengtsu, causing disquiet to the Russian officials, who say that the relations between the two nations are not yet on a working basis.

While all classes view the Russian tenure south of the Amur as temporary, Primorisk is regarded as a territorial outpost where, on account of lack of funds, Russia has suspended the construction of barracks and other works to house an increased garrison, but continues to push immigration.

The failure of government railways and other peaceful methods used in the past to establish Russian trade or meet the new conditions in Manchuria has forced Russian vested interests here to appeal for the introduction of foreign enterprise, which, it is expected, will constitute a barrier to the Japanese.

In Siberia, the double-tracking of the railway has been indefinitely postponed, and the government is devoting itself solely to correcting Russia's original strategic lines on the frontier as shown by the re-survey of the Amur Railway north of the Amur river. It is planned to connect the Amur and Baikal roads, giving protected communication to Primorisk in case of accident to the exposed Trans-Baikal Railway or the loss of the indefensible Manchurian Railway.

The Russian Ministry of War is inaugurating a generous policy of exploration in Western Manchuria, Mongolia and the Amur Basin, but the government is subsidizing business in Mongolia only outside of the Japanese sphere, its purpose being to strengthen Russia against the newly-inspired Chinese aggression.

A GRAVE CHARGE

SECRETARY OF INSURANCE COMMISSION DENIES THAT ADVANCE COPY OF REPORT WAS SOLD.

Ottawa, June 13.—In an Ottawa paper the charge is made to-day that before the Insurance Commission's report was sent up to parliament last session, and at a time when the public was not supposed to know anything of its purport, an insurance man secured from the office of the Finance Department an advance copy, the officer from whom he obtained it receiving in return a neat cheque, which he in turn endorsed in payment of a grocer's bill. Mr. H. C. Ross, secretary of the Insurance Commission, and Assistant Deputy Minister of Finance, denies that there was any foundation for this charge. No official of this department, he says, even saw the report, let alone gave out a copy. Five copies of the report were made, of which I personally delivered two to the Secretary of State for presentation to parliament. The other three are still in my possession as secretary of the Commission, and were never given out. The report, as everyone knows, was a very voluminous one, comprising some six hundred pages, and the utmost secrecy was maintained in its preparation, and prior to its presentation to parliament. Then the drafts, as they were made, were locked up daily in a safe.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY EVEN NUMBERED section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for homestead entry or inspection must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local Agent or Sub-Agent.

An application for entry or inspection made personally at any Sub-Agent's office may be wired to the local Agent by the Sub-Agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority, and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" the entry will be summarily cancelled, and the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim.

An applicant for inspection must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homesteader whose entry is in good standing, and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to approval of Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

Where an entry is summarily cancelled, or voluntarily abandoned, subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to prior right of entry.

Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any prior right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, or if entry has been granted it may be summarily cancelled.

DUTIES.—A settler is required to perform the conditions under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader, the requirement as to residence may be satisfied by said person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

THE CUNNINGHAM LUCK AT LAST.

A VIRGINIAN LYNCHING, AND WHAT CAME AFTER.

(Miriam Cruikshank, in the 'Sunday Republican.')

The clock hands pointed to 12.25, and Elizabeth drew her low sewing chair into the middle of the sitting-room floor, and seated herself with an air of gentle expectancy.

From this vantage point she could see, on her left, through the open door across the wide airy hall, into the big bare hotel dining-room, where preparations were going on for an annual influx of guests, brought to Litchfield by the sitting of the circuit court. To the right an uncurtained window revealed a green patch of lawn, a stretch of road, already dusty although it was early May, and beyond this the new court-house, a modest brick building about which was the bustle and stir of court week.

It was an unwritten, but unalterable law of her uncle, Captain Sawyer, master of the house, that his women-kind should absent themselves from the dining-room at such times as these, so Elizabeth sat comfortably in her place when she heard his heavy footfall as he came in from the bar to take personal supervision of domestic matters. She watched his great stooping figure as it moved slowly over the freshly scrubbed floor, pausing now and then to take note of the whitewashed walls, the shining window panes, or the arrangement of the course, spotless cloths on the long narrow pine tables. She heard his deep voice giving directions to old Mose, who bore himself proudly as head-waiter on such occasions, exchanging cheery greetings with an early arrival for dinner; then he betook himself to more accustomed regions, and Elizabeth found herself blushingly replying to an enthusiastic how d'y'do from the newcomer.

'I didn't know I was going to strike court-week,' the man said presently, seating himself at the table nearest the dining-room door, so that only the few feet of hallway lay between him and Elizabeth. 'If I had, I think I would have put off coming until later in the month. It's a bad week for business.' He laughed comfortably, and Elizabeth nodded. He was a thick-set, smooth-shaven young man, well, if rather showily, dressed, and had about him a certain trick of manner which proclaimed him, even to the uninitiated, a commercial traveller. In his not infrequent trips down the line of little Potomac towns, Elizabeth had grown to regard him as an old acquaintance, more especially as he had in recent months singled her out among the Litchfield girls as the object of his special attentions—attentions, which he had hinted on his last visit, were not altogether without intention. It was the remembrance of this that made it harder for her to be quite at her ease with him now.

'Heard you'd got a new sheriff since I was down last,' he began again cheerfully, after a violent rapping with his knife handle on the table had brought Mose from the kitchen to take his order. 'Young Cunningham. Seems queer, doesn't it?'

'Why?' said Elizabeth, shortly. She was holding her small head with its coronet of dusky hair very high, the pink had deepened in her smooth cheeks, and she moved her chair ever so little nearer the window.

'Oh, I always thought the Cunninghams held themselves a little too good for a job like that. Why nobody knows, for their bad luck's a by-word all over the country. Kind of stuck on their family, ain't they? Not but what Breck's a fair enough chap, and I guess he'll do all right as sheriff. Pretty fond of the girls, isn't he?' Elizabeth threaded her needle and made an accurate knot before she replied.

'I really can't say, but there is no crime in going to see a girl that I ever heard of. I reckon it's most time for the people to be coming over to dinner, and I'll have Uncle David calling me down for talking across the hall during court week.' She moved her chair deliberately out of his range and turned her attention to the window.

A stream of men were issuing from the door of the court-house, and crossing the road to the hotel. The circuit judge, Usher, a thin, sallow man, towered above the heads of a group of older lawyers who surrounded him. Looking at his keen aquiline features, and cold, light grey eyes, Elizabeth could well believe he deserved the reputation he bore as the hardest, most unrelenting man on the bench—yet there were those who had seen him in private life display the gentleness and tenderness of a woman. Back of the judge came the younger lawyers, the jurymen, the onlookers, all who go to make up a crowd like this. When Breck Cunningham, the newly-elected county sheriff, appeared from somewhere, Elizabeth suddenly left the window and bent industriously over her neglected sewing.

When a shadow fell across the work, and Breck's voice, rich, deep, with an odd little slurring of the syllables, said 'Good even', Miss Elizabeth,' she looked up and nodded indifferently. The sheriff lounged into the room, and leaning against the door frame, smiled down at her. Watching him from under her lashes the girl concluded that his big, loosely knit figure looked bigger than ever in the new grey suit he wore. He carried his soft felt hat in his hand, and she found herself wondering at the line of white above the sunburn on his forehead, where he had pushed back his thick, fair hair.

'I didn't hear you come,' she said, not quite ingenuously. Her eyes rested for an instant on the shabby green sofa in the corner, as though in unspoken invitation, and the man followed her glance appreciatively, but shook his head.

'I only stopped for a minute—must get some dinner and go back. Joe Mullen's case is on, you know.'

'Is he going to be convicted?' There was a note of awe in the girl's voice. 'You know I don't think he's guilty. I can't quite believe it.' The sheriff's square jaw stiffened.

'Then you believe different from most people. The case is too clear to admit of any doubt. Hanging's too good for a man that would brain his own wife and child. If I had my way——' Cunningham paused. The commercial traveller, West, had finished his dinner, and stood in the doorway beside him.

'Talking about the Mullen case?' he queried blandly. 'Baltimore's agag with it. Pity you're a sheriff, Cunningham, and sworn to uphold the law. We'd have you leading a lynching party otherwise.' He laughed irritatingly, but the sheriff only shrugged his broad shoulders, and turned to go. Half way down the hall he heard Elizabeth's soft call, 'Breck, Oh! Breck,' and went back.

Elizabeth sat bolt upright, her lips apart, her blue eyes dark and anxious, but Cunningham did not notice. Instead he saw West sprawling indolently on the sofa he could not conscientiously occupy, a smirk of satisfaction on his broad, smooth face, and the sight tore his soul with rage. 'Did you want anything?' he demanded roughly. The girl's face changed under the new tone, and two reds spots glowed angrily in her cheeks.

'Oh! no—' she drawled, 'I only thought I'd ask you how far you'd have been if I hadn't called you.' She tossed her head and picked up her sewing, while Cunningham, with one quick, half-contemptuous, half appealing look in her direction, strode off to the dining-room, conscious that his exit was followed by West's loud, self-satisfied laughter.

That night, as he came out from supper and passed the house-end of the long vine-sheltered piazza, he heard the same soft call, 'Breck, oh! Breck!' He paused irresolutely an instant—no, she should not make a fool of him again, and he started on.

'Aren't you going to say good-night to me, Breck?' said Elizabeth, gently. Her white dress gleamed among the clustering vines, her small hand laying temptingly on the railing, and the sheriff was human. He swung himself up beside her with ruthless, crushing of honeysuckle and creeper, and smothered her faint cry of protest with his kisses.

I love you!' he muttered, holding her slender wrists with a grip of iron when she would have left him. When will you marry me, Elizabeth?'

When you have proved yourself a man worth marrying, Breck. When you have showed not only me, but other people, that you can do something—now, Breck, let me go.'

'When I am dead, you mean, I suppose,' the man said bitterly. There never was a Cunningham who did anything worth while. Their luck is against them. Good-night.' He swung himself over the railing again and disappeared into the dusk, without a backward glance at the white-clad figure standing among the bruised and broken vines.

Three days later the town of Litchfield and the whole county rang with the conviction of Joe Mullen as the murderer of his wife and child. Judge Upsher's charge to the jury on that occasion had been a memorable one, and his few scathing words to the condemned man had caused even old and time-hardened lawyers to turn pale. The case had been very clear against Mullen, yet there was little surprise expressed when it was known that he had appealed to a higher court, and had been granted a second trial. The intervening time was to be spent in the Litchfield jail.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

MARY AND TROT.

When I lived in Colorado a little girl named Mary who attended the school near my home lived two miles away. There was no road nor path to guide her across the plain, not even a bush or tree. Mary was about eight years old. She had a shaggy shepherd dog named Trot that came with her every day and waited for her until school was over.

'Mary,' I said to her one day, 'why do you bring your dog to school? He cannot learn to read and write.'

'Oh,' said Mary, 'I do not bring Trot; he brings me. I could not find the way alone.'

'How did Trot learn to find the way?' I asked, 'and does he never get tired of waiting and go home without you?'

'The first time we came,' replied Mary, 'father came with us. When we reached the school I gave Trot a piece of meat, and when we reached home I gave him some more. No one ever feeds him but me. The first two or three days we had to tie him. If he should go back without me father would bring him right back, and that night he would have no potatoes for his supper. But we have no trouble now. He likes school as well as I do.'

One day about twelve o'clock the wind clouds began to gather. Children who have never seen a Western wind storm can hardly imagine what it is like. In Colorado it does not rain at all during the winter, so the sand is very dry and light. The wind lifts it up from the ground and whirls it round as if it were raining sand. It chokes and blinds you.

On this day the teacher saw the clouds gathering. She closed the school and sent the children home, thinking they could reach shelter before the storm broke. I, too, noticed the darkening skies, and thought at once of brave little Mary as I hastened to the school. I found that Mary had already started for home.

Soon the storm came; the wind howled; the sky grew dark and the sand whirled. Poor little child, alone on the vast prairie! How would she survive the fright, even if she were not entirely lost? As soon as the wind subsided I got on my horse and rode to her home, to find if she had arrived. Mary met me at the door.

'Well, I am glad to see you safe,' said I.

'Do you not think,' said Mary's mother, 'that dogs know as much as some people? Mary and Trot were about half way home when the wind commenced to blow. There is an old dugout some distance to the right of the way they always take home. Trot took hold of Mary's dress and led her, for the sand blew so in her eyes she could not see where she was going. They cuddled down in the dugout together until the storm was over.'

This is a true story of the Colorado plains, and Mary and Trot came to school together for months afterwards. —'The Saturday Budget.'

TAKING CARE OF KITTY.

They brushed the clothes, they beat the clothes,
One sunny April day—
Their winter clothes, I mean—and then
They packed them all away
In paper boxes tied around,
With very strongest strings,
First freely springling them with some
Tobacco dust and camphor gum.

And when their labor done they took
Their tea and toasted bread,
'Why, where is kitty?' someone asked,
And 'I know,' Lulu said;
'She's in my dollies' biggest trunk;
I brushed and beated her;
There can't not any moths, I dess,
Det into her nice fur.
She scratched my fingers when I put
The camphor stuff about,
Div' me some toast that's buttered froo.'
They left it all to her and flew
To get poor kitty out.

WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURE?

FRIDAY, JUNE 14.

'AS' IN PETER'S FIRST EPISTLE.

This little word so frequently used means even as, like as, according as. It is used by Peter of Christ and His followers. In I. Pet. i., 15, as Christ is holy, so His followers are to be holy in daily living. Christ-like in their lives, to walk as He walked. They have been redeemed from their sinful course of life by the precious blood of Christ as the lamb without spot or blemish, which forever frees from the guilt and defilement of all sin. (Verses 18-23.) See chap. iv., 1. As Christ died for sin reckon yourselves dead to it. Then in verse 24, all flesh is as grass, whose goodness withers, but the Word of the Lord in the Gospel endures forever. The true believer is like the young cedar, ever fresh and growing. (Ps. xcii., 15.) Then in Ch. ii., 2, believers are to be as new-born babes, to have a longing for the pure milk of God's Word. This is the only food to nourish the spiritual life. For want of this nutriment multitudes of Christians are weak and fruitless in their spiritual life. Then in Ch. ii., 4, 5, believers are as living stones in the spiritual Temple of God. They are the house of worship and the priesthood Christ is the foundation. Then in chap. iv., 10, 11, each one is to minister according to his special gift as a steward of God's manifold grace, that God may be glorified through Christ. Notice the practical lesson in chap. ii., 11, 12.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY DISSOLVED.

Closing Session Confirms Appointments and Receives Acceptance of Office From General Officers.

POINTS OF THEOLOGY AND CHURCH POLITY UNDER DISCUSSION AT MIDNIGHT HOUR.

The Presbyterian General Assembly concluded its labors at midnight last night. The three previous sessions had been devoted to the more prosaic parts of the business of the Church, giving little opportunity for either declamation or rhetoric. Now and again the debate gave a flicker of life, but this soon died out and the docket pursued its uneven course.

The day's work commenced with the consideration and adoption, on motion of Principal Patrick, of the committee's report on the minister-evangelists' course. The recommendations were agreed to with but little discussion. On the point of the status of the minister-evangelist the committee suggested that when the evangelist was appointed for a year on a mission field he should be granted a seat in the Presbytery. The matter was referred to a committee.

A proposal was made to give authority to dispense sealing orders, and to marry, to any catechist, student or minister who has not yet been admitted by the General Assembly, and to ordain where necessary for these purposes; but this authority shall be revocable at any moment and shall not confer the full ministerial status.

This, said Principal Patrick, appeared to be a most revolutionary proposal but it was a mild one. (Laughter.) It would solve many of the difficulties they had found, especially in the west. This rule was in use in Labrador and it was in use in the Methodist Church. It was an ordination ad hoc—for a specific purpose. When these men ceased to perform the duties for which they were granted these powers, any authority would be recalled. It was an absolutely necessary step to take in our mission fields. The proposal would be heartily welcomed by every man on the frontier line.

Sir Thomas Taylor warned the Assembly that this interfering with the question of marriage was a dangerous matter. The question touched on the law of the land.

Principal Patrick was glad that this point had been raised, but he had obtained most able legal opinions and he could assure the Assembly that they had taken every possible care to keep within their powers.

Principal Maclaren asked if the committee had made legal inquiries as to whether the law of this Church was sufficient for this purpose. Further, he thought that the revocation of ordination was a new principle in Presbyterianism. He had always thought their rule was 'once a minister, always a minister.'

The Rev. John Mackay thought that this was a most important thing and unless the matter were dealt with by this Assembly they would lose the services of many of the men working for them in the west.

After further discussion, the subject was hung up by the adjournment.

PAN-PRESBYTERIAN REPRESENTATIVE.

Dr. Matthews, secretary of the Pan-Presbyterian Council, was pleased to be present as it recalled the times when he was a member. He regretted the absence of so many of the faces of those he was accustomed to see. He brought the salutations of the eastern section. The brethren in the west seemed to think that the movement of the east was a slow one, but they did not appreciate their difficulties. He enumerated the difficulties of his work in Europe, especially mentioning the effect of state control. On the continent the churches resent keenly any interference. It was no use attempting evangelistic work, for they would only be looked on as intruders. But they could help them with advice that would be met with kindliness and gratitude.

Principal Scrimger proposed a resolution of sympathy with the work of the Alliance. Principal McLaren seconded, and it was agreed to.

The report of the committee concerning the treasurer was presented by the Rev. D. Strachan.

DR. SOMERVILLE FOR TREASURER.

Principal Scrimger proposed the election of Dr. Somerville as permanent treasurer. The Church had been most fortunate in having an official who was able to take up the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Warden.

The election was unanimous.

Mr. Alex. Stuart, K.C., proposed the appointment of the Rev. A. Gandier as financial agent for the Western Church. This was seconded by Mr. J. R. Reid.

Dr. Dixon proposed that the matter be relegated to a committee. The Rev. G. Macarthur, of Cardinal, seconded. Discussion ensuing, the Assembly adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was more sparsely attended even than the morning. Resuming the debate on the appointment of a Church agent, the Rev. D. Strachan said that there was no intention on the part of the committee to create a new office. The late Dr. Warden held the posts of treasurer and agent and the committee simply desired to separate the two. It was thought best that the treasurer should be always on the spot. The committee believed that the one appointment depended on the other.

The Rev. Mr. Tufts supported the appointment and felt that it was a necessary one. They were face to face with increasing expenditure, and a greater income would be necessary. The hardest thing was the breaking of new ground. Circulars would not do it. It would want a man with a message and one of strong personality, and such a man they had in Mr. Gandier.

The Rev. James Buchanan, Dundalk, thought that all the Presbyteries could act individually and do the work necessary. He told the Assembly what had been done in his Presbytery, where they were not hindered by great men (Laughter.) He supported the amendment.

Principal Gordon, as a member of the committee, said it was distinctly understood that these two appointments were dependent on each other. The position of the Church requires that the duties of the agent should not only be carried on, but extended. There was a great amount of wealth in the Church that had not been touched, and it was necessary to get the sympathies of the richer men.

The Rev. D. Strachan proposed, and it was resolved, that the whole matter be remitted to a committee.

The committee on temperance and moral reform recommended appointment of the Rev. J. G. Shearer, of Toronto, as agent, and suggested the necessary steps to be taken resulting therefrom.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

The Rev. Mr. Shearer said he was deeply sensible of the honor done him in offering him this post. He was a servant of the Lord's Day Alliance, however, and as he had had no opportunity of consulting his brother officials he must ask for time before he could give his decision. He had an announcement to make which he thought they would be delighted to hear. He stated that he had just had the honor of interviewing the Hon. Mr. Gouin, Premier of the province, on the subject of the Lord's Day Act and its enforcement. The Premier had declared that the provincial law must be respected, and that where the Federal law applied and the provincial law failed to apply, the Federal law must be respected. There had been eighteen recent convictions in Winnipeg, said the Rev. Mr. Shearer, for breach of the act. These convictions, he thought, indicated the attitude of the Attorney-General of Manitoba with no uncertain voice.

The recommendations were then passed.

The recommendations of the foreign mission committee were presented. These approved the proposed expenditure; appointed Mr. Hamilton Cassils and Dr. Baird to the Indian Government's advisory board; approved the suggestion that a mission be started amongst the Hebrews in Toronto; and that the resolution concerning Chinese immigrants passed at the China Centenary meeting, be endorsed.

An overture from Victoria concerning the appointment of a superintendent of foreign missions was read. Dr. E. D. Millar said that the committee were of opinion that the time had not yet come for such appointment.

By the 'minister-evangelist' committee's report a modus vivendi had apparently been reached, for Principal Patrick recognized the need for a change in the present system of catechists without power to perform the ceremony of marriage, and also emphasized the fact that ministers accepted from other churches to work in the home missions should be empowered to perform the ceremony even before receiving a full ministerial status.

The recommendations of the committee were at last adopted.

A number of special ordinations applied for were read and granted.

The committee of Sabbath-schools recommended that efforts be made to retain the older scholars; to promote systematic Bible study; to bring the young into saving relations with Jesus Christ; that study of the course of instruction in missions be advocated; that the work of the Sabbath School Committee be recognized as one of the schemes of the Church; and that the thanks of the Assembly be accorded to the Rev. J. Neil, D.D., for his eight years of devoted work.

The ministers' widows' and orphans' fund report, eastern section, was presented by Dr. Sedgwick. The fund was in a good position, the assets showing an increase of $7,592.56. The report was adopted. The western section was presented by the Rev. A. H. McGillivray, who pointed out that the contributions of the congregations had decreased by $1,812.54. The report and recommendations were agreed to.

Dr. Falconer, taking the chair, the moderator read the report of the fund in connection with the Church of Scotland. This showed a balance of receipts over expenditure of $2,888.73. Toronto Presbytery overtured the Assembly, recommending that all ministers, present and to come, be required to connect with the widows' and orphans' and the aged and infirm ministers' funds. The Rev. A. H. McGillivray supported the overture. He thought that it would be a gentle control, and although it might be a somewhat revolutionary proposal it would act for good in the long run. He belived that every minister would welcome such a proposal. On a suggestion from Dr. Sedgwick the matter was sent down to the committee.

The recommendations of the committee of the young people's societies, which had for their object the improvement and extension of the work of the various societies, were presented by the Rev. D. W. Best, and agreed to.

The committee on the establishment of a theological college in British Columbia reported that they recommended that the sessions be held in Vancouver till the question of a site is determined. For the present the government is vested in a board of management and senate. They advised that the election of a principal be left to a joint meeting of the board and the senate. Dr. Dyde moved the adoption of the report, which was carried, and the recommendations of the committee, with slight amendments, were agreed upon.

The session then stood adjourned.

CLOSING SESSION.

At the opening of the evening session the Rev. G. B. Wilson said that having given the question of his appointment as missionary superintendent for British Columbia mature consideration, he respectfully accepted it, and asked for the sympathy of his brethren.

Principal Scrimger presented the special committee's report on the duties of the financial agent. These, he said, did not interfere in the slightest with any other official. The recommendations of the committee were that the Rev. Alfred Gandier, of St. James Church, Toronto, be appointed agent of the church for the western section, to forward missionary and other work of the church, to promote the organization of synods, presbyteries, and congregations, to advise and co-operate with the various committees and boards, and to address the students of theological colleges on organization, etc. His salary to be $3,500, with all travelling expenses paid, the money to be raised pro rata from all funds within the sphere of his jurisdiction.

In explanation of the salary offered Dr. Scrimger said that it had been fixed with the special object of securing Mr. Gandier's services, and they had therefore settled it at an amount equal to his present stipend.

The Rev. Mr. Gandier said that his first thought was one of great gratitude to the assembly for the honor done him in offering him so important a position. There was a great work to be done, and he realized to the full the grave obligation imposed upon him—it seemed to him the most momentous decision he had ever been called upon to make. Under these circumstances he felt that he could not give an immediate reply.

Dr. Somerville said that after hearing the report all his difficulties had gone. He looked forward to a very happy line of work with Mr. Gandier. He now looked forward to a bright future for the church, and he accepted the position offered him.

Principal Scrimger said that the committee thought the best thing to do was to appoint a special committee to receive Mr. Gandier's answer.

Dr. Fraser seconded. He knew with what grief the news of this appointment would be received by Mr. Gandier's congregation. He expressed warm appreciation of Mr. Gandier's work at St. James, and said that the congregation would be greatly surprised at this proposition and distressed at the prospect of losing their pastor's services.

This was adopted unanimously.

The assembly agreed to give instructions to the Presbytery of Toronto to relieve Mr. Gandier in the event of his acceptance. The same was agreed upon in the case of Mr. Wilson and his church.

Dr. E. D. Maclaren was appointed convener of the Home Mission Committee in place of Dr. Somerville.

Dr. Ramsey presented the recommendations of the committee on the method of appointing standing committees. On the suggestion that these be taken seratim, Dr. Sedgwick objected that this was a new scheme, and it would be injudicious to discuss it at that late period. He proposed that inquiries be made in the Old Country and the report be brought up at the next assembly.

Mr. Walter Paul seconded.

Principal Patrick said the work of Dr. Ramsay and the committee should be acknowledged, for they had spent a great amount of time over this to perfect the report.

CHURCH STATISTICS.

The report of the committee on statistics was presnted by Dr. Somerville. He called the attention of the Assembly to the new form of the tables of figures. The tables showed 138,567 families in the church, an increase of 7,958; 253,392 communicants, an increase of 11,881; those added on profession of faith numbered 16,170, an increase of 1,770. Financially the report showed total contributions for stipend of $1,219,658, an increase of $83,022; contributions for missions, $592,117, an increase of $101,120; for schemes of the church, $357,479, not including donations, and a grand total for all purposes of $3,351,284, an increase of $271,111.

He proposed that the report be adopted The recommendations of the committee were then submitted and agreed to.

The report of the finance committee, eastern section, was adopted on the proposition of Dr. Falconer, and the reports of the board of trustees, western section, and the audit of church accounts were explained by the treasurer, and were passed, on the motion of Principal Scrimger.

The reports of 'The Presbyterian Record' and the committee on Sabbath school publications were read and received.

The Winnipeg office and the Synod rolls were passed. An overture from Winnipeg requesting the placing on the roll of the name of an assistant pastor was received and referred to the presbyteries. Another concerning the payment of travelling expenses of commissioners, from British Columbia, was received and agreed to.

THEOLOGICAL ARGUMENT.

The Rev. E. D. Millar presented an overture on the question of baptism, and at 10.30 o'clock the house found itself plunged into a theological argument.

The Rev. A. Miller, of Lochalsh, Ont., then brought up a grievance which was peculiar to Gaelic speaking congregations. The law of the church, he said, was that baptism could not be administered to children unless at least one parent was in visible communion with the church. But many of the Gaelic-speaking descendants of cautious Highlanders feared to enter into full communion with the church by the sacrament, but still professed a credible profession of faith when the question of baptism of their children came up. He asked that the law under present conditions be relaxed to meet this case, so that the Gaelic children could be baptized.

This started a discussion which lasted for some time, and was participated in by Principal Scrimger, Dr. Duval, Dr. Sedgwick and others, the general opinion appearing to be that Mr. Miller was rather straining his interpretation of the church law, and that it was not an opportune time to legislate on the point.

Finally, Principal Scrimger moved in amendment that 'the Assembly declare that the overture be received and that in its opinion the present law is sufficient to grant the favor craved.'

The business was now concluded to every one's relief.

Votes of thanks were passed to the pastor (Dr. Mowatt) and congregation of Erskine Church for the use of that church; to the hosts and hostesses of the delegates while in the city; to the authorities of McGill, the American Presbyterian Church for their courtesies, to the railways and steamship lines for their special rates, and to the press for its ample reports of the proceedings.

The business being finished shortly before midnight the moderator addressed the Assembly, briefly reviewing the proceedings, after which a prayer was offered.

The moderator then closed the Assembly in the solemn, historic fashion, by calling upon the delegates to sing the 122nd Psalm.

At the conclusion of the psalm the delegates remained standing, and the moderator proceeded: 'In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, only King and Head of the Church, and by authority of this Assembly, I do now dissolve this Assembly, and order another general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to meet in the city of Winnipeg, and within Knox Church there, at 8 o'clock in the evening on the first Wednesday in June, in the year of our Lord 1908.'

The moderator then pronounced the benediction, and after a few moments of silent prayer the General Assembly adjourned for another year.

UNDER LORD'S DAY ACT

ACTION TAKEN IN EAST TORONTO AGAINST GRAND TRUNK.

Toronto, June 13.—Before Magistrate Ellis to-day, in the East Toronto Police Court, Mr. Charles M. Hays, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway; Mr. Thomas J. L. Freeman, and Yardmaster Richardson, of East Toronto, were summoned to appear, charged with violation of the new Lord's Day Act, in authorizing, directing and engaging in shunting and transfer of freight operations at East Toronto on Sunday, April 21 last. This is the first step taken against the steam railways for operating on Sundays. Mr. Hays was not present, but the other men were, and accused entered a plea of not guilty. Counsel for the company stated that he was not ready to go on, and an adjournment of two weeks was granted.

IN THE YUKON.

Ottawa, June 13.—The Department of Justice has decided that the Lord's Day Act is applicable to the Yukon territory and that it is the duty of the officers of the law to enforce it. For some time the opinion had been prevalent in the Yukon that the act could not be applied inasmuch as its enforcement is entrusted to the 'Attorney-General of the province,' and the Yukon not being a province or having an attorney-general, the territory would be exempt. The Deputy Minister of Justice pointed out, however, that under the interpretation act the North West Territories and the Yukon are specified as provinces, the attorney-general for which is the Attorney-General of the Dominion. There is consternation in Dawson over this decision, as it is contended that with the short summer season it will entail severe loss upon the mining and navigation interests to suspend work on Sunday.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN HOME.

Birmingham, June 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain arrived here to-day from London. The health of Mr. Chamberlain is improving, but his comparative helplessness was a great shock to his friends who assembled at the railway station to meet him. All hats were raised in respectful silence as his carriage drove away.

GERMAN SCANDALS.

Prince Frederick Henry of Prussia Exiled—Prince Eulenberg's Round Table.

London, June 13.—The Paris correspondent of the 'Express' says: 'I am informed by a person closely connected with the German court that the Kaiser has personally degraded his cousin, the Prince Fredrick Henry of Prussia, expelled him from the court and army, and banished him from Germany. The Kaiser dictated this severe punishment on receiving substantial information that the Prince was addicted to certain practices.

The Prince is the eldest son of the late Prince Albrecht, regent of Brunswick, and, owing to his near relationship to the Kaiser, occupied a prominent position in the German court. He entered the army at the age of 28, and became colonel of the First Brandenberg Dragoon Guards. Recently, when the serious accusations which led to his disgrace and banishment became known, great surprise was caused, because the Prince had gained the name of a regular and devout church-goer as the most pious member of the imperial family. When the Kaiser ascertained the nature of the charges he summoned his young cousin to the palace, and before some army officers personally performed the ceremony of degradation. The Emperor tore the order and the decorations from the prince's breast and soundly boxed his ears. The Prince, in tears, left the palace without a word, drove hurriedly to his own residence and left Berlin the same evening for Egypt. He is now said to be living in a remote spot in the Khedive's dominions. The Kaiser has ordered that his name be never again mentioned in his hearing. The police have received instructions to expel him from the country if he attempts to return. Shortly before his disgrace the Prince was appointed grand master of the Knightly Order of St. John. The appointment has been cancelled by an imperial decree. The Prince is now 33 years old. He inherited a fortune of approximately $7,500,000 from his father, in addition to extensive estates and a magnificent palace in Wilhelm Strasse, Berlin.

Berlin, June 13.—In consequence of the charge of perversity made against him by Prince Philip Eulenberg, the tribunal, at Charlottenburg, a suburb of Berlin, has been directed by the Court at Prenzlau, where the charge is lodged, to have Maximilian Hardan testify in the case under oath. Herr Harden is the owner of the 'Zukunft,' in which insinuations about Prince Eulenberg and his camarilla were recently published. His testimony will be taken in the course of the next few days. Frau Von Elbe, the divorced wife of Count Cuno Von Moltke, is said to have given Herr Harden the information on which he based his insinuation. Prince Eulenberg was an intimate friend of the Kaiser, and he wielded great influence with His Majesty. It is generally believed that he and his friends were responsible for the retirement of Chancellor Von Caprivi. Some time ago the 'Zukunft' published a grave story of debauchery practised by some of the highest men in the empire, who, according to the paper, formed what was known as Eulenberg's round table. Included in the number was Count Cuno Von Moltke, who, as a result of the revelations was dismissed from his post of governor of Berlin. He challenged Herr Harden to fight a duel, but the latter refused to meet him. Prince Eulenberg, in order to force a hearing of the matter, has apparently made a charge against himself, and will thus compel Herr Harden to testify as to his knowledge of the crimes charged.

SMALLPOX IN ONTARIO

SERIOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS REPORTED BY HEALTH INSPECTOR.

Toronto, June 13.—Dr. R. W. Bell, inspector of the Provincial Board of Health, has returned from a visit to sections of Leeds and Grenville, and reports a serious condition of affairs in regard to smallpox. This is particularly true of Matilda and Edwardsburg townships, in Grenville, and around the village of Athens, the township of Bastard and Maliorytown and vicinity, Leeds county. There has been and still is a large number of cases of the disease, which has spread because of neglect. In some sections the disease has been allowed to make headway for the past two or three months without apparently the slightest attempt to check it. There has been little or no quarantine and an almost total disregard of disinfection. Not only recovered patients, but members of their families who have been exposed to the disease, have been allowed to go to school or work all the time. While in a majority of the cases the disease is of a mild type, there are some very severe cases in the County of Grenville.

UNDER MEDICAL ACT

WOMAN FINED FIFTY DOLLARS IN TORONTO FOR PRESCRIBING MEDICINE WITHOUT A LICENSE.

Pickering, Ont., June 13.—Mrs. Sarah Jane Madden, representing the Viavi Medicine Company, appeared before Mr. Shirley, justice of the peace, here to-day, charged with prescribing medicine without a license. After considering the evidence, His Worship fined her fifty dollars and costs.

SOUTH TORONTO ELECTION.

Toronto, June 13.—Mr. Claude MacDonell, M.P., was to-night nominated by the Conservatives of South Toronto to contest the constituency for the Dominion House. Ald. Leary was also nominated, but he withdrew in favor of Mr. McDonell, and the nomination of the latter was made unanimous.

NEW YORK LONGSHOREMEN

Men Ordered Back to Work by Union at 'Best of Terms Obtainable.'

New York, June 13.—The longshoremen capitulated to the atlantic Steamship companies when, by an almost unanimous executive board of the Longshoremen's Union decided to order the men back to work at the 'best terms obtainable.' These terms, it is understood, are the old scale of wages.

The board met in Hudson Hall, Varick and Hudson streets, and for three hours, discussed the situation. At times the meeting was decidedly tumultuous, many of the old timers, right up until the last, to admit that the strike was a losing one.

Then a big Irishman threw in the motion that the strike be declared off. The motion was promptly seconded and ten minutes later President Quinn of the union, announced that the strike was at an end. The strike had been seven days old. When the vote was taken every member was present in person or by proxy, while outside hundreds of strikers assembled to hear the result. Inside the hall there was great excitement, but outside everything was quiet.

'When Conners announced that the motion to declare the strike off had been carried, he broke down completely and wept like a child. The big good-natured Irishman [illegible] for the failure of the strike. His men cheered him again and again, and assured him that he had done the best he could.
