English Visitor at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Cleyn

Mrs. Partinton Has Varied Experiences of Two World Wars — Has Five Medals

Mr. and Mrs. Francois Cleyn, Huntingdon, are at present having the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. Partinton, of Bristol, England, 18 years ago when Francois Cleyn was attending the Textile University at Bradford, Eng. Mrs. Partinton was attending the University Principal, and 12 students of foreign lands attending the University stayed with the Partintons. To meet with Mrs. Partinton and listen to her various experiences as a war worker in the two World Wars, inclines one to believe she is a second "Mrs. Miniver."

Mrs. Partinton had returned home from performing canteen services in World War I when Mr. Cleyn became acquainted with the Partintons in Bradford, Eng. Upon her arrival in Canada on July 5, 1949, she managed to get in contact with several adult men and boys as Bradford students and has managed to see many of them in their respective home towns. This summer she has had a most delightful time of it seeing so many parts of Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Every part of Canada that Mrs. Partinton has visited is so wonderful in her eyes. Her married brother in Bristol, Columbia saw her when she visited much of our Canadian Rockies.

At the time of the Women's Institute World Convention held in Amsterdam, Holland, and attended by Mrs. Charles Smallman of Dundee, and about which she wrote for publication in the Gleaner, Mrs. Partinton was also a Convention delegate. Mrs. Partinton intends to visit Mrs. Smallman before leaving Huntingdon and it is to be hoped that when this meeting, for old time's sake, takes place, Mrs. Smallman will be able to hold an impromptu meeting of the W.I. ladies in Dundee, so that many may have the pleasure of not only seeing Mrs. Partinton but hear her deliver an appropriate address.

During World War II Mrs. Partinton was the first English woman to follow the troops into Europe following the Dieppe invasion. Like returned veterans, she does not speak freely of sights and experiences she observed in France and Germany. The exchange of students between Germany and England is a phase of education that commands considerable of her interest. She told us of a case where she visited with a young German student, whose experience was paid for by people of Bristol, England. When the boy first came to England, he did not feel at all kindly to the English people or their ideas of sports, etc. He came to England because it was an educational opportunity that was offered him, and he was seeking educational opportunities. After spending six months at school in England, Mrs. Partinton paid him a second visit and this time she found the young man had a completely different view of the Englishman and his various customs.

In appreciation of the valued services Mrs. Partinton has accorded the Gleaner during two world wars, she has received five medals and decorations anyone would be exceedingly proud to wear.

Rally Day Service At St. Andrew's Church

The Sunday morning service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church took the form of the annual Sunday School Rally with a record attendance of the children. The theme of the service was "God Gives the Increase," and the address, given by the minister, was based on the Parable of "the Seed Growing Secretly" which teaches Confidence in God. Hope for the Future, and Responsibility for sowing the Good Seed. A group of six children sang an arrangement of "the Shepherd Psalm." Prizes were presented for perfect attendance at the Sunday School and certificates for Bible Memory Work and proficiency in the examinations on the S.S. lessons.

D. M. Rowat's Impressions of Jersey Island Language

Gives Reasons For Buying "Happy Laddy" New Jersey Bull

As stated in the last issue of the Gleaner, space limitations caused some of Mr. D. M. Rowat's observations on his trip to Jersey Island to be held over. Below we publish the remainder of his talk which had to do with the language on the island and how he came to purchase his new Jersey bull, "Happy Laddy". We believe that a large number of the readers of the Gleaner will find this most interesting.

With respect to the language of the Island, I was looking forward to my visit with much anticipation. I have made a hobby of the French language for some fifty years. From what I had read of Jersey Island I expected to hear a lot of French and good French at that. Both languages are said to be official. Over the Public Library one reads "La Bibliothèque Néerly all the names of places and persons are French. In my mind I was pronouncing them as they would be pronounced in French. When I spoke in the Hotel and saw something about St. Helier, pronounced in the way it would be pronounced in France—St. Hay-Lee-a, the person to whom I spoke hardly seemed to know what I was talking about. "Oh St. Helier," she said.

At the conference meetings I never heard one French word, English only. There were several Jersey breeders from France who spoke beautiful French. I noticed one speaking to a resident of the Island. The resident seemed to be speaking French with difficulty. A little later I said to the French representative—"Monsieur, je semble parler difficilement le français." He replied, "Il ne le parle pas du tout." One of the clerks in the hotel, although born on the Island, could not speak French.

However, on the farms, French, in common with English, is still spoken but they call it Jersey French. I thought it would be something like it is in Switzerland. Where French is spoken in Switzerland it is well spoken, although the accent may be different from parts of France. The day we left the Hotel I learned that one of the chambermaids was French. She spoke nice French. Jersey French would seem to resemble what the Normans spoke two or three centuries ago. No doubt there are many scholars and others in Jersey who speak the French language correctly but these I was not brought in contact with. If I had been attending a teacher's convention my impressions might have been different.

At the dinner given by the English Jersey Club I had the honour of sitting beside Mrs. E. C. Perreides. We spoke English all the time but Mrs. Perreides, I learned, could speak Jersey French. In Jersey French, a horse is called what sounded to me like "un jol." A cow what sounded like "une vak." A person who is weak would be called "failli." Good-bye is "a betot". Victor Hugo one hundred years ago found it difficult to understand the Jersey French.

of the same blood as the inhabitants of Normandy and Brittany. This reminds me of the French Canadian Farmer, an abundance of common sense, eyes alert, frank open countenances, lovers of the soil. After the revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685 many French Protestants from France found a refuge there. Some went to Scotland. Tradition says the Rowats went to Scotland. Jerseymen are, in blood French, in heart, profoundly English. It must be remembered, however, that a large proportion of the inhabitants of the Island in the residential parts are to-day Englishmen.

For almost one hundred years England and France were common enemies. The English attacked and landed on the Island in 1781, but the Island as one man rose and drove them out. The French delegates attending the Conference must have found a little embarrassing to find people of their own blood and originally of their own language, in an Island, which was only a few miles from their own shores, English in heart and language, almost more British than the English themselves. Some one has said—"Jerseymen are French but they would like to be English." They do not speak of England as England, they speak of the Mainland, although England and Jersey are only a few miles farther away from the Island than France.

What I found particularly interesting about the Island was the fact that it was subject to German domination for almost five years. The Channel Islands were strategically points of great value to the powers in possession of them. The surrender of France early in June 1940 was a terrible blow to the Island. The Germans were now in possession of the Channel and Atlantic ports. In fair weather they were in sight of the Island. The Island might become a terrific battle ground. No wonder consternation from the Island were required to register. Almost one-half of the inhabitants registered. Perhaps one-quarter did leave the Island. On the seventeenth of June, Britain notified Jersey that she was a free nation she would not be defended and that the Island would be demilitarized. During the last days of June one can imagine how the inhabitants felt. The days were bright, the meadows were green, the hearts and minds of the Islanders anxiety was ever present. The horizon and skies seemed to attract the eyes of all. They did not have very long to wait. On the twenty-seventh of June, aeroplanes flew over the Island, reconnoitering, apparently. The next day the tension was greater. The sun was again shining, the sea calm. About sunset however a few terrific explosions near the port ended the reconnoitering. Several bombs were dropped, mostly near the port. Nine persons were killed and several injured. As I interpret the act the purpose was

Nazarene Sunday School Picnic

FRANKLIN CENTRE—About 30 of the members and friends of the Nazarene Church of the Church of the Nazarene, Franklin Centre, met for dinner at the parsonage at noon on Saturday. Plans to hold the picnic in a local maple grove were changed due to the cool weather, which, however, served to sharpen the appetites for the contents of the picnic baskets.

Some of the grown-ups as well as the children enjoyed the contests, games and races supervised by Rev. K. E. Sullivan and Mr. D. E. LeClaire. Mrs. LeClaire, Mrs. C. Dickenson and Mrs. J. Watt assisted Mrs. Sullivan in serving the menu of hot foods, baked beans and salads, cakes, fruit punch and coffee. A special feature was a surprise for Melvin Watt, the presentation of a birthday cake with twelve candles accompanied by the singing of "Happy Birthday."

After appetites were well satisfied a special hour was enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Sullivan offered a prayer of benediction and the group joined in singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds" and "Everybody Ought to go to Sunday School."

Bowling Plans Made For Coming Season

New Officers Elected; Oct. 17th Opening Date

The first general meeting of the coming bowling season took place on Thursday night, Sept. 22nd. First steps taken at the meeting was the election of new executives. Officers named for the ensuing year are: President, Dr. J. E. Caza; Vice-President, Gordon Ferry; Secretary, C. McCallum; Treasurer, Mrs. Rollande Emond.

Several major changes occur this season, among them the introduction of a mixed "Duck Pin" league which has been much in demand by the public. The bowling is independent Ladies' and Men's leagues is also a new feature. This is to be done by having a maximum total team average, averages taken from last year's figures. This means that any one team which has two or three 200 averages must be balanced by two or three players with small averages. The purpose of this system is to do away with some of the one-sided battles which have occurred in the past seasons. A fee of 50¢ per player is to be collected and given to the Association to meet sundry expenses occurring during the season. A Board of Directors was formed to assist the officers in various problems and difficulties arising during the year. They are as follows: Estelle Tremblay, Gladys Renaud, Jos. Demers and Archie Keith.

October 10th is set as the deadline for entering players' names, so be sure and get yours in before then. The league is scheduled to open on October 17th.

Celebrates 92nd Birthday With Friends

POWERSCOURT—A very happy time was spent at the home of Miss Bella Anderson on Monday afternoon when Mrs. Alderidge was the guest of honor. The occasion, her 92nd birthday. She had been a distinguished guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood and during the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Wood walked back to Miss Anderson's. There she was genuinely surprised to see a number of her relatives who had gathered to celebrate with her. Most beautiful supper was served by Miss Anderson, who was assisted in serving by Mrs. Grant White and Mrs. John Koski. Mrs. Alderidge is in full possession of her faculties, enjoys splendid health and takes a keen interest in current events. After spending the past four months with Miss Anderson, Mrs. Alderidge returns to Montreal this Saturday where she expects to make her home. Relatives present included Mesdames Willard Blair, Earl Blair of Franklin, Kenneth Earl, Earlville, N.Y., L. Lobdell, B. Jarvis, Burke, N.Y., H. Thompson, Malone, N.Y., and Wood, Wm Wood, M. Atcherson. The birthday cake, a very lovely one, was made by Mrs. Lobdell.

$500 Piano Purchased For Howick School

Student Effort and Proceeds From Mrs. Mattice's Concerts Provide Fine Instrument For School Use

A beautiful Steinway upright piano has been purchased for the Howick School. This purchase is the result of student efforts during the past few years, and the proceeds of Mrs. Florence Mattice's piano recitals. The second-hand instrument is in excellent condition and has already occasioned a great interest among the musical students. At least part of this interest is due to the signature of Jascha Heifetz, world renowned violinist which appears inside. It is understood that this piano was used by Mr. Heifetz's accompanist, previous to his concert in Montreal, in 1930.

1949-50 Student Council Elected in Howick School

President—Kenny Roy
Vice-President—Harry Cullen.
Secretary—Hazel Elit.
Treasurer—Jean Templeton.
The class representatives who were elected earlier are: Grade 7—Bobby Berends. Grade 8—Gilbert Tennant. Grade 9—Mabel Baskin. Grade 10—Billy Templeton. Grade 11—Margaret A. Ness. "The Right of the Sick to Get Well Through Chiropractic"

Brother of Mr. Noel Foisy Addresses Rotary Club on Above Subject

The following address was given at the Rotary Club meeting held on Monday and gives some idea of perhaps a little known subject that will be of great interest to many people. Mr. F. R. Foisy, Doctor of Chiropractic, was the speaker and he is also a brother of Mr. Noel Foisy, who introduced him to the meeting. Mr. Foisy practises his profession in Montreal.

"The Right of the Sick to Get Well Through Chiropractic" In this talk, my intention is only to give you the mere facts of what has brought Chiropractic into existence. I do not hope to create any antagonism between any schools of thought, as you know this is a free country as long as we are telling the truth.

For generations and generations, nations have searched through schools and books to relieve human sufferings. This is the aim of every one of us to alleviate any illness or sickness. We want an answer that speaks a common sense. In past history, the Greeks were anointing their spine by using a special harness on their heads and feet and then traction was delivered to both ends to a certain extent with the intention of relieving kinks in the spine. This was done by means of a pulley system and the patient would speak a common sense. In past history, the Greeks were anointing their spine by using a special harness on their heads and feet and then traction was delivered to both ends to a certain extent with the intention of relieving kinks in the spine. This was done by means of a pulley system and the patient would speak a common sense.

In the animal kingdom, similar facts are seen every day by all of us. For instance, when horses are unbalanced, when a horse is unbalanced, what is the first act performed by most of them as they are turned loose in their yard? They roll from one side to the other on their backs, and what is the purpose of this? To relieve that spine overloaded all day. They were born to carry a load, but nature was there to direct their instinct.

I could state many examples of exercises for the spine, seen among animals of all kinds untrained by civilization.

As this is what puzzled Dr. D. D. Palmer in Davenport, Iowa, up to 1895. He spent years travelling throughout all kinds of countries to seek information about the spine, when finally he decided to practise his ideas picked up here and there on his own animal. He was working on the 18th of September, 1895. Harvey Lillard was deaf and could not even hear the noise made by street cars pulled by horses in front of the Doctor's office. Dr. Palmer palpated his spine and found a so-called kink near the third cervical vertebra in the neck. As it was slightly misplaced, he adjusted it and suddenly the janitor exclaimed that he could hear these horses pulling streetcars and that his ears felt a glow of heat. His hearing was recovered entirely and permanently. This was the first act performed by the spine by Dr. D. D. Palmer. Then the name "Chiropractic" was given to this Art of healing. The Greek word "Chiro" means "by hand" — the practice of healing by hand only.

Dr. D. D. Palmer then specialized in deaf people and results were only occasional in deafness. But to his great surprise, the deaf who had other complaints, were very often relieved of other symptoms also, which changed Dr. D. D. Palmer's idea about near the third cervical vertebra in the neck. As it was slightly misplaced, he adjusted it and suddenly the janitor exclaimed that he could hear these horses pulling streetcars and that his ears felt a glow of heat. His hearing was recovered entirely and permanently. This was the first act performed by the spine by Dr. D. D. Palmer. Then the name "Chiropractic" was given to this Art of healing. The Greek word "Chiro" means "by hand" — the practice of healing by hand only.

These so-called "miracles" for the time brought the first school into existence, which is still existing today in Davenport, Iowa, as the Palmer School of Chiropractic. There are now approximately 33 Chiropractic Schools in operation to date, and of this total, one is in Toronto, called the "Canadian Memorial College of Chiropractic". Chiropractic is studied by people from all nations of the world, from the Negro to the Chinaman and is recognized by almost 85% of the

Bishop of Valleyfield Named to Papal Post

Ottawa.—Appointment of Most Rev. Joseph Alfred Langlois, Bishop of Valleyfield, Que., as an assistant at the Papal Throne, was announced on Monday by Archbishop Hebrardo Antonielli, Apostolic delegate to Canada. The appointment carries the title of Roman Count.

The announcement said the appointment was effective on Sunday, 25th anniversary of the Episcopal consecration of Bishop Langlois.

Accident to Cars, Near Valleyfield
Mr. Roland Gregoire, an employee of Scottie Garage of Valleyfield, lost one arm in an accident on Sunday, September 11th.

This accident occurred about 12.20 p.m. on route No. 3, about 2 miles from Valleyfield, when Mr. Roland Gregoire, driving a truck belonging to Scottie Garage, from West to East on route No. 3, came into collision with another truck driven by Mr. Lucien Loiselle from the box of his truck. Mr. Gregoire had his arm outside of the truck and it was practically severed.

Mr. Gregoire was accompanied by Miss Gisèle Trudel, who suffered nervous shock. Dr. Dandeneau visited the accident and took him to the Hotel Dieu at Valleyfield, where Dr. McDonald operated and amputated the arm.

The trucks were very badly damaged. Provincial Police officer Eugene Leduc made the investigation.

Polio Drive Response Very Poor

The response to the Canadian Legion Polio Fund is very disappointing. Only the sum of $13,144 has been collected so far this year and the campaign is supposed to close on September 30th. There has been no house to house canvass made this year, but people were asked to send in their contributions to the Huntingdon Branch. So far there has been little or no response to this appeal. In fact the response to any of the efforts so far put forth have been very poor and it is not like the people of Huntingdon, to pass up such a worthwhile cause in such a manner.

The results so far are as follows: Tag Day held September 24th, $93.84; Collection at the theatres for four evenings, $15.10; Huntingdon Fair for two days (booth erected on grounds), $2.00; Huntingdon Woolen Mills employees to date, $96.50; Donations, $6.00.

The results at the Fair were particularly disappointing as the members went to work and erected a booth to attract attention to the drive and the result was the sum of $2.00 for the two days. The project that the Legion has set itself to support is a worthy one and deserves greater support than has been given it so far. There are only two more days left, so please contact a member of the Legion who may be known to you and give him your contribution now. Last year over $1,000 was collected. Let us try and boost the present drive to at least the $1,000.

Apple Harvest Well Underway In This District

FRANKLIN CENTRE—Although the weather has been far from favourable, apple picking and packing in general started last week. Some shippers report that prices received are not, in some cases, equal to last year's. This is rather discouraging to fruit growers as the expense for caring for the fruit and orchards has been quite heavy.

Ben Douglass, B. A. Rankin Farms Prove of Interest

Douglass Farm Has Remained in Family For 135 Years

The past week the Gleaner reporter visited the oldest settled farm on the New Erin Road, Huntingdon and met Mr. Ben Douglass, who is descendant of the original owner as the farm has remained in the family throughout the entire 135 years of its existence. It is about the only farm in this part that has remained in the original family. The original Douglass came from Ireland and cleared the land. The land was ploughed with a plough made of wood which had a steel band around it. Mr. Douglass told us that he had the plough on his farm until a short time ago, when it was accidentally sold with a pile of junk to a junk dealer who happened along when he was away.

There are 100 acres in the farm and it contains the best sugar bush along the road, according to Mr. Douglass. We sampled some of the syrup made from the bush and it was certainly excellent. Mr. Douglass does not commercialize his syrup, but just makes it for his own use and it is made in the old fashioned way. Mr. Douglass said that lots of his methods are old fashioned, but he finds them quite satisfactory and again the farm is not large. All the work is done with horses and he has three Percherons all raised on the farm. He has always kept good horses. Mr. Douglass told us of an instance when he was working with a horse with a broken neck and did not realize it until he had taken the horse to a night pasture. He has been trying this for the past three years and he showed our representative how the clover is now matting the field to cover it completely.

It has remained green all the summer and he would have done so if he had not done so. Mr. Rankin keeps a hired man and has two boys who will soon be able to help with the work. Both boys are members of the Huntingdon Calf Club and two years ago Arthur won the Kilmarnock Trophy at the Huntingdon Fair. David, the younger son has gone in for keeping a few ducks. There are four horses, Clydesdales, on the farm and this year a suckling colt has been added to the number. It is some years since Mr. Rankin has raised any horses, but decided to try it again this year. Nine or ten pigs are kept for sale as young animals and sold to those wishing to feed their other stock for the family use. 240 turkeys have been raised and 300 chickens and these are sold on the local market whenever required. There is a sugar bush on the farm and syrup is made on a small scale for the family use and some for friends. A few apples are grown and yield fruit for family use.

This year, Mr. Rankin has sown a field to rise for fall pasture. This is the first year that he has sown this crop and it has the appearance of doing quite well. Tractor and threshing machine are kept on the farm as well as a full line of other machinery. Mr. Rankin was quite interested in plowing matches a few years ago and thoroughly believes in a good job of ploughing to bring results in good returns from crops. He is president of the Huntingdon-Ormsdown Branch of the Holstein Association and President of the Huntingdon-Montreal Milk Shippers' Association. A firm believer in Grange Lodges, he is an officer in Maple Leaf Grange and says that more farmers throughout the district should become members of this organization. It is doing much good work among the farmers and much is learned from lectures and so forth which are sponsored by Granges.

Mr. Rankin has hot and cold water in his house, an up-to-date bathroom and toilet facilities. These are operated with both hard and soft water. The soft water is collected in a cistern and pumped to the faucets and toilets. Washing and toilet requirements are operated with the soft water and the hard water is used for drinking purposes. The water system has what is known as a fresh flow valve which controls and a large house and the implement shed which is in the course of being erected. When completed the shed will be 28x60. A feature of the barns is that they are run together and then divided in the centre whereby the entire upper floor space can be filled with hay and straw. The wagons can be taken inside and the load can be tossed off into either direction. This method saves much time and a greater amount of the space can be utilized.

There are the usual stalls for the animals in the cow barn and box stalls for the horses down one side of the other barn. Well water is piped into the barn for easy watering of the stock. While the old method of natural draft ventilation is now used, Mr. Rankin expects to install an electric fan type of ventilator in the very near future.

Sixty-five head of Holstein cattle are kept on the farm and R.O.P. records for 1948 show an average of 9,000 pounds per cow. The milk is shipped to Montreal. The regular feed grains are grown on the farm and Mr. Rankin finds his permanent pasture a very great help. It is especially so this year during the warm, dry weather and he used the pasture as a night pasture. He has been trying this for the past three years and he showed our representative how the clover is now matting the field to cover it completely.

It has remained green all the summer and he would have done so if he had not done so. Mr. Rankin keeps a hired man and has two boys who will soon be able to help with the work. National Newspaper Week

FROM time to time we have reported on special national observances of one kind and another and we have supported these various movements

In these troublous times we should rally around our newspapers and see that the Freedom of the Press is never destroyed. The freedom of the press is actually freedom for all of us.

While a few years ago this was true of the whole world, the same is not true today. In many countries, more especially in Europe, newspapers are controlled by the government

It is a great business, this gathering of news to be printed in the newspapers. Many agencies are used to glean the news and much time and effort is put into the work.

There are many other elements that enter into publishing a newspaper, but at all times the publisher must keep in mind the value of the newspaper to the people of the district served.

News gathering is the costly end of any newspaper, so this has to be offset by something which bears revenue. To this end, subscribers are sought and advertising space is sold.

It is meeting the ideals that make for a worthwhile medium for all concerned. We therefore salute National Newspaper Week which is from October 1st to the 8th, as an opportunity for everyone to observe their good fortune in still having a free press.

For A Better Huntingdon Fair

IT was rather unfortunate that space limitations in the Gleaner of the past week did not permit us to print a letter received from the Huntingdon Fair Board.

Quite apparently the Fair Board has failed to understand why the Editorial in question was written. We will say this that the editorial has caused quite a bit of comment, but more have been in favour of it than against it.

In the first of the letter the writer goes into some detail to explain how the special prizes were donated by several different parties

As far as the distribution of the special prizes are concerned, this was taken care of in the columns that listed the prize winners at the fair.

As far as the calf club was concerned, while the Gleaner asked for the awards, someone else had the list and it was not available, nor has it been handed in since.

With regard to the mention of certain winners in the various sections, these were only mentioned in the write-up as being predominant winners.

We'll skip the rest of the matters and get to the ending of the letter which requests a meaning of a remark in the first paragraph of the editorial in question and which the writer has set out as follows: "Constructive critics merit attention, but destructive critics prove disastrous to all concerned."

The would be contestants of the Milking Contest being four were given 2.00 each. Total 8.00. All the above proved a help to the exhibitors who were out of the prize money.

The Fair Board should be out to try and make a fair so as to make money to help put its buildings into shape, improve its grounds and improve the presentation to the public.

We are proud of this newspaper for we feel

CANADIANS HAVE PRICELESS HERITAGE HERE IN FREE PRESS

The priceless heritage which Canadians enjoy through their right of a free press is appreciated most when we realize that "Freedom Goes Where the Newspaper Goes."

Our freedoms were retained by those who thought enough of them to preserve their heritages for future generations.

Newspapers are custodians of the right of free expression and they should also be the guardians of that right so that strong men and women of today and the true Canadians of tomorrow who shall carry on these freedoms, will be strengthened by the knowledge that their heritages were preserved.

Letter to The Editor

1949 HUNTINGDON FAIR Huntingdon, Sept. 20, 1949 To Huntingdon Gleaner Inc.

May we ask you to kindly print in your valuable paper this Huntingdon Fair news item.

The Fair again has been unfortunate in the way of weather conditions, the first day being exceptionally bad. In order to protect ourselves we had rain insurance but it is a guess owing to have to specify the hours.

Different organizations assisted us greatly in the way of entertainment. The Huntingdon Rotary Club sponsored the Pony Potato Races which proved attractive.

The Kiwanis Club of Montreal sponsored the Jr. Cattle Judging Competition for boys and girls 16 years and under, their cash prizes totalling $15.00, as well as a first being a Trophy, value $25.00.

The Dutch Club sponsored the Special in fancy work of 5.00 by lady 85 years and over, as well as a Cash Donation of 25.00 to assist in the purchase of Grand Champion and Champion ribbons for the three breeds of cattle.

The Board of Trade sponsored the Tug-of-War which took place the first night. The winners pulled to a finish the second night. This event assisted in night gate receipts.

The Jr. Chamber of Commerce of Huntingdon which we feel sure will merit attention in our Town, sponsored the Boys' Bicycle races which were very interesting and showed that the public in general enjoy sports of this nature.

Plus Products who kindly donated a Cash Special of 25.00 which was placed in Donations was later applied on the following: Fruit-To new exhibitor, 1st, Floyd Stevenson 5.00, 2nd Stanton Small 3.00, 3rd Mrs. J. W. Bowles 3.00. Total 11.00 also Bread and Cooking a 2nd, 3rd and 4th of 1.00 each on McDonald & Robb's Special of Bread and Buns. Their first prize for each was 1 Bag "Our Best Flour". Total Specials 6.00

The would be contestants of the Milking Contest being four were given 2.00 each. Total 8.00. All the above proved a help to the exhibitors who were out of the prize money.

Gilbert McMillan's Special is awarded to Ross Pringle 1st, 3.00. Grant Whyte, 2nd 2.00.

W. A. Hughes' Special of 25.00 was placed on the Pony Races and the winners are as follows: 1st Race Gerald Goodall 7.00, Elton Robinson 5.00, Stanley Craig 4.00, Merle Brown 3.00, M. Watson 2.00, D. Beaudin 2.00, Jean Myatt 2.00.

The cash donations that appear in the prize list are as follows: O'Connor Theatre 5.00, P. T. LeGare 10.00, Plus Products 25.00, Shawinigan Co. 15.00, Borden Milk Co. 5.00, Carlyle Dickson 5.00, E. C. Martin 5.00.

The Directorate of the Fair has always tried to assist the Juniors at our Fair. This year 17 members exhibited 40 Reg. Calves, which should merit attention. The Gleaner failed to mention this.

Midway-It is true the midway was a disappointment. We were aware of the fact a few days before the Fair but it was impossible to do anything as the time was too short but the Gleaner told you. Easy to find fault.

Thanks to the Gleaner The Fair Board wish to thank the Gleaner for his co-operation in assisting in different write ups during the course of advertising the Fair, also the write up after the Fair, but we take exception to the Editorial remarks. We feel we should have had more support.

Those "overheard remarks" are disastrous and it seems he contacted a few. One must have been the 75 paid admissions first day. We figure we received about 225 paid admissions first day.

Both remarks, "Did not do much business 1st day." One Booth took in cash $68.23, 2nd day $88.44. All booths both days sold well up to $125.00, $150.00.

We would be pleased to see in your next issue of the Gleaner a clearer view of your remark of the first paragraph of your Editorial.

Constructive critics merit attention, but destructive critics prove disastrous to all concerned.

Weekly Review Will Man Destroy Himself? By LEWIS MILLIGAN

When Dr. Brock Chisholm is not debunking Santa Claus and denouncing fairy stories as pernicious literature for children, he is trying to make adults' flesh creep with the "fairy tales of science" and all the horrors yet to be. Not content with the terrors of the atomic bomb and its power to destroy whole cities and their populations in an instant, the kindly doctor has gone further. He now informs us, according to a Reuter's report from Switzerland, that the atom bomb is obsolete as a war weapon, and he tells a harrowing tale of how the inhabitants of the entire world may be wiped out with seven ounces of a new biological product.

If such fictitious stories as Jack the Giant Killer, the Forty Thieves and Blue Beard are bad for children's nerves, what of the effect of to make sure that the Island was not defended. Very early on the morning of July the first heavy aeroplanes flew close to the roofs of the houses of St. Helier. They dropped three bags in which were contained the terms and conditions of surrender.

At the airport and other places large white crosses were to be marked. White flags were to fly from every house and building. The local authorities were called upon to meet the German representatives at the airport before seven A. M. the next day. Failure would result in heavy bombardment. In case of peaceful surrender the Islanders were solemnly guaranteed their lives, liberty, and property. The terms and conditions were agreed to. The local authorities met the German officers at the airport. The Island surrendered. The attitude of the German officers was said to have been tactful and courteous and the relations between the local authorities and the officers to have been almost cordial.

How I Happened to Buy "Happy Laddy"

We were at St. Saviour's Parish Fair, about the ninth of May, if I remember rightly. It was on the farm of Mr. E. C. Perredes, a prominent Jersey breeder, in an open field, quite close to his stables. The sun was shining, the temperature ideal. Everything was bright. The genial Paul Spann was present. Mrs. Rowat and I were watching the judging of the junior yearlings. There were about fifteen in the ring. Mrs. Rowat's choice came third. I usually mark down my choice but at that moment I was distracted by a young bull behind me on call for the next entry. I called Mrs. Rowat to come to see Sport's identical brother. We walked over to where Happy Laddy was. I spoke to the apparent owner. I said - You have the twin brother of my bull, Edgela Basil Sport. He answered - You must be mistaken. This bull has no twin brother. Well, I replied, he has the same colour, the same straight back, the same nice head and the same deep body as Edgela Basil Sport.

Edgela Basil Sport took several first prizes as a yearling in Ontario and second prize at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. I said to the owner of the bull we were admiring - He is a two year old, isn't he? No, a yearling. Well, I replied, he must be nearly two. The owner answered - He was born in January, nineteen hundred and forty-eight. This made him one year and four months old. He certainly had size and apparent energy. The owner placed a price on him. I remarked - I suppose if he wins first prize you will increase the price a lot. He smiled and said "Perhaps."

Happy Laddy entered the ring. Almost immediately he was placed at the top, although it took quite a little while to place the other three.

The same evening I drove out to the farm of his owner which I found with some difficulty. I met the owner, Mr. J. de Caux and his wife. They have a small farm, only five cows. Four of these, however, have Gold Medal Certificates. Mr. de Caux remarked with honest pride that he was the only man on the Island who had five cows of which four had Gold Medals. Mr. de Caux had a frankness, openness and kindness of expression that appealed to Mrs. Rowat and me very much and this had much to do with the purchase of Happy Laddy. He showed me the Dam of Happy Laddy, Happy Darling, and the Grand-dam, Betty's Darling, both quite satisfactory as to type and with good healthy udders. What impressed me principally about the Grand-dam was that she had had nine calves and was only ten and one-half years old. Length of days and constant production are more to be desired than one or two high passing records. Too many buyers, however, are usually influenced by the big individual record of the Dam. It's the long steady pull that usually brings riches. The Dam of Happy Laddy had just completed in 305 days a record of 15,107 lbs. milk, 648.28 lbs. fat and her test was 4.2%. But it should be noted that Happy Darling has four paternal half sisters whose average test was 5.945 and average production was 556.76. She has also a maternal half sister, Standard's Darling, whose test was 6.5 and a production of 670 in 305 days, and her sire, Poudrette's Blonde Designer, was on May last the only Gold Medal sire on the Island.

Happy Laddy entered the ring. Almost immediately he was placed at the top, although it took quite a little while to place the other three.

The same evening I drove out to the farm of his owner which I found with some difficulty. I met the owner, Mr. J. de Caux and his wife. They have a small farm, only five cows. Four of these, however, have Gold Medal Certificates. Mr. de Caux remarked with honest pride that he was the only man on the Island who had five cows of which four had Gold Medals. Mr. de Caux had a frankness, openness and kindness of expression that appealed to Mrs. Rowat and me very much and this had much to do with the purchase of Happy Laddy. He showed me the Dam of Happy Laddy, Happy Darling, and the Grand-dam, Betty's Darling, both quite satisfactory as to type and with good healthy udders. What impressed me principally about the Grand-dam was that she had had nine calves and was only ten and one-half years old. Length of days and constant production are more to be desired than one or two high passing records. Too many buyers, however, are usually influenced by the big individual record of the Dam. It's the long steady pull that usually brings riches. The Dam of Happy Laddy had just completed in 305 days a record of 15,107 lbs. milk, 648.28 lbs. fat and her test was 4.2%. But it should be noted that Happy Darling has four paternal half sisters whose average test was 5.945 and average production was 556.76. She has also a maternal half sister, Standard's Darling, whose test was 6.5 and a production of 670 in 305 days, and her sire, Poudrette's Blonde Designer, was on May last the only Gold Medal sire on the Island.

I was greatly pleased when I arrived at home to read in the Bulletin that a daughter of Rajah had been sold for $10,000.00 in the U.S.A. and more pleased a few weeks later to learn that Rajah himself at the York County Fair in Ontario this spring had been placed above the aged bull which won first at the Royal Winter Fair last November. His picture appeared in the Canadian Jersey Breeder. To see it is to understand the placings he has received.

As it would be practically impossible to bring a bull to Canada alone I said to Mr. Spann - if I purchased an animal would you bring him back with your purchase.

Mr. Spann graciously at once replied in the affirmative and gave me an estimate as to the cost of transportation.

After two or three visits to Mr. de Caux's hospitable and comfortable home during which we admired the stability of his stables and residence and the beautiful blooming flowers in front of his house we finally came to an agreement which was that I would pay the price at the port of shipment if the bull passed the required health inspection and if Mr. Spann would take him with his shipment. I deposited the price with Mr. Carlyle le Galais, President of the Island Club, giving him the terms of the purchase. On the second of August I was pleased to receive a cablegram from him stating that Happy Laddy had been delivered - in fine shape.

About the ninth of September I received word from Mr. Paul Spann that Happy Laddy was ready for delivery. I tightened up my trailer, painted it red again and with my good French Canadian man, Mr. Clarence Saumier, I drove my own car to the Quarantine Station in New Jersey, first visiting Mr. Spann's beautiful office in Morristown. We returned immediately to Glenness. We made the whole trip of eight hundred and twelve miles between nine, Monday morning, and two-thirty, Wednesday afternoon. We passed the U.S. Customs in thirty seconds and the Canadian Customs in about three minutes. Dr. Boyer, the Canadian Veterinary, was waiting for us and quickly O.K.'d the American Health Certificates. Thursday, after arrival, papers were sent to Ottawa, for registration and on Saturday morning, the day of our Field Day, I had the letter of approval. By the time this letter is read I expect Happy Laddy will be registered in Canada as - Rajah's Happy Laddy.

I never purchased anything which gave me so much joy and contentment. Notwithstanding his tired limbs he was put to work the next day. I have high hopes that the mixing of his blood with that of the daughters of Edgela Basil Sport will produce happy results.

Some additional particulars are to hand re the trophy presented at the Jersey Club Field Day held at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Rowat. The trophy spoken of by Mr. Yates is competed for every year at the Provincial picnic, by judging teams from all over the province. It was donated last year by the Knowlton District Club and was won that year by the Richmond Club with the Chateaugay Valley team placing second. This year the Chateaugay Valley team won the trophy and it was presented to Mr. W. C. Winter as the senior member of the team. The other two members were Mr. Thomas Gummel of Huntingdon and Mr. Murray McEwen of Ormstown. Mr. McEwen is to be congratulated on

Howick

HOWICK—On Tuesday, Sept. 20 a joint meeting of the Silok C.G.T. group and the afternoon and evening auxiliaries met in the United Church.

An affiliation service of the C.G.T. group with the W.M.A. of the church was conducted by Mrs. Archie Peddie, leader, and Marjorie Ness, president, assisted by five girls. This was a very impressive service and Mrs. Annie Gruer and Mrs. Osborne Orr, on behalf of the Auxiliaries, received the girls into the fellowship of the missionary auxiliary. A contribution of five dollars was made by the girls towards missionary work.

After a short business meeting, all groups united in the church to hear the guest speaker, Mrs. Donald Morrison, of Chateaugay Basin. After her introduction by Mrs. Osborne Orr, Mrs. Morrison expressed her pleasure at being able to come to this meeting.

Having made the highest individual score in the province both this year and last year. Smaller cups with their names inscribed upon them were awarded to each of the three contestants.

A very informative and entertaining talk was given by Mr. K. E. Lantz, agricultural representative from Stormont County, Ontario. He addressed the gathering on calfood vaccination.

She first told a beautiful story of a King who wanted to find the most beautiful thing in the world. Objects of beauty, life, usefulness and intelligence were brought to him by his heralds, but his final choice was given to a teen-age girl who had all these qualities mentioned but in addition had a love for others—a mother love. She traced the importance Jesus gave to women in his lifetime and urged all who listened to her to exert her influence in the right direction.

Mrs. Lloyd Allen thanked the speaker for her inspiring address. Refreshments were served by the Evening Auxiliary in the Church Hall. Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Gruer poured tea.

Mrs. James Anderson is spending some time at Cartierville, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ballie have returned home from a trip to Quebec City and Metis Beach.

On Sunday morning during the service Mrs. L. Armstrong of Lacchué sang "The Lord's Prayer" as a solo in the Howick United Church.

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, the Howick United Y.P.S. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Templeton. 26 members answered the roll call with several visitors present. Leslie Orr was in charge of the devotion. The group was very fortunate in having Rev. Marshall, of Georgetown Church, as the guest speaker and enjoyed his address very much.

Several items of business were discussed. Soon a play will be under way and a Halloween party was arranged for. Games followed and delicious refreshments were served, bringing a very happy evening to a close.

On Friday evening, Sept. 23rd, a social evening was enjoyed in the Howick High School gymnasium. The evening opened with boys' and girls' basketball games. These games were ably refereed by the principal, Mr. Parquharson. At 10.30 games and dancing began. The evening consisted of a Paul Jones, boys' and girls' choice dances, broom elimination, bingo, shoe and spot dances. The entertainment was well planned and directed by Marjorie Ness. Margaret Ness was in charge of refreshments, which were served at 11 o'clock. The evening came to an end at 12.00 o'clock with the singing of "God Save the King" and everyone went home feeling that the night was a success.

Those who attended the Orr-Black wedding on Sept. 24th at Bainsville, Ont., were Mr. and Mrs. Ness and family; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Henderson, Mrs. Ellen Carmichael, and Mr. Jas. Stewart.

Mrs. Agnes Hamilton of Brockville, Ont., is spending a few days visiting with friends in Howick.

Weekly Newspaper Editors Meet in Convention at Jasper Park Lodge

The 30th annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association was held in Jasper Park Lodge, on Sept. 12th to 14th.

After all, most of the party had already visited the Turner Valley Oil Fields only a few years ago.

Tuesday evening, following a dinner given by the Province of Alberta, at which Premier Manning addressed the party, a unique evening was spent at the picnic grounds.

It was my good fortune to be in the company of Hugh McCormick, "The Monitor", Notre Dame de Grace, Hugh has been in the publishing business for 24 years.

Crossing the Prairie Provinces we were all delighted to see that the crops had been harvested and only a few farmers still had threshing to do.

Two years ago I crossed the Prairies, and even in this short space of time it was to be noted further improvements had been made to combat possible land erosion.

Mr. Guy Weadick, the man who conceived the idea of the Calgary Stampede, in 1912, was present and addressed the meeting in a typical western rancher's style.

Mr. Roy Bean, Waterloo, Ont., was named President, with Lang Sands, Mission City, B.C. as Vice President, and Wm. Hanks, St. James, Man., 1st Vice-President.

The C.W.N.A. programme provided for a possible trip to the Leucue Oil Fields but so enticing is Jasper Lodge that the majority of the conventionists wished to spend Thursday in Jasper, rather than take the time to visit the oil fields.

Jasper Park Lodge is really a village of log bungalows which have all the modern conveniences of a city hotel.

Taken from the lawn in front of Jasper Park Lodge this is Lac Beauvert whose colouring changes with the progress of each day.

Host Province Tops In Petroleum, Coal

Probably it would not be possible to say when the mutation of the Alberta economy from an agricultural to an industrial began.

Alberta's 74,650,000 acres of forest land place the province fourth amongst the timber producing provinces, and lumber fourth amongst Alberta industries.

Jasper National Park, once the route of the fur traders, is now the playground of thousands of tourists—mountain climbers, trail riders, hikers, golfers, big game hunters with the camera, and lookers-on.

It spreads over an area of 4,200 square miles and into its sweep it takes the magnificent valley of the river which ultimately finds its release in the Arctic; range after range of mountains splendid in their loftiness and their eternal snow and ice.

With its green roofs, its peeled logs and its stone foundations, the Lodge is essentially of the mountains. And as for comforts and convenience, the finest city hotel could not hold a candle to it.

The golf course skirts the lake and the outdoor swimming pool is located on its edge.

Beautiful layout and magnificent scenery are combined in the 18 hole Jasper Park Lodge golf course.

Confirmation Service
Confirmation Service was held at St. John's Church on Sunday morning with Right Rev. John Dixon, Bishop of Montreal, in charge of the service. The Bishop gave a very interesting talk on what transpired at the recent Synod meeting and told of the many decisions reached as to affairs of conduct for the church as a whole. The following were confirmed by Bishop Dixon: Mrs. Chas. Pace, Mrs. Ivan Heath, Mrs. Reginald Daniel, Patricia Lang, Norma Beare, Robert Boissac, Arthur Rankin and James Robson. In the afternoon, Bishop Dixon took Confirmations at St. Paul's Church, Herdman.

Pilgrimage to St. Joseph Oratory.
Two buses of Provincial Transport Company transported to St. Joseph Oratory, Montreal, on September 25th, 65 parishioners of this town, on the occasion of a big pilgrimage sponsored by Lacordaire and Joanne d'Arc Clubs. The departure took place at 9 o'clock from the Roman Catholic Church and at 11 o'clock the pilgrims attended a high mass in the Oratory by Rev. Father Villeneuve followed by a lunch at 1 p.m. During the afternoon, there was a Holy Hour followed by some conferences in Auditorium Plateau, in front of Lafontaine Park. At 5 p.m., the pilgrims returned from their trip, during which Messrs. Trefle Leduc, Francois Gailpeau, Paul Morin and a few others sang songs. Rev. Father Pigeon also attended this pilgrimage and many other parishioners made the trip by automobile.

Young People's Social Evening
The young people of St. Andrew's Church held a regular meeting on Monday evening in the Annex and following the devotional and business part of the meeting, refreshments and a social time were enjoyed.

Shower for Bride-to-Be.
Miss Beryl Evans entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ola Pringle. Upon arriving Ola was escorted into the living room to find a number of her friends and relatives had gathered there. The bride-elect was seated in a tastefully decorated chair and a large basket of gifts placed before her. After the gifts were opened and admired, Ola graciously thanked every one and invited them to visit her in her new home. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Evans and Beryl and a social hour spent, after which the guests departed wishing the bride-to-be much happiness.

Police Warning
Chief J. L. Heureux has asked the Gleaner to issue a warning similar to that given at about this time last year. It is this: Usually at about this time of year robbers take place throughout the country and conducted by roving gangs or single-handed. The Chief suggests that all business men take precaution of listing the numbers of the bills they place in the safe or have on hand overnight or over the week-ends. Such precaution may mean much when it comes to a robbery and needing clues. Extra precautions should be taken to make sure that all doors and windows are properly fastened in order to make it as difficult as possible for anyone trying to make an entry. Watchfulness will be maintained by the police, but the co-operation of the citizens is asked. Suspicious characters should be reported so that investigation can be made.

Police Chief Wins Trophy
Congratulations to Police Chief Joffre L. Heureux, of Huntingdon, who won the second place out of 80 competitors for the most perfect physique in Canada, during the contest sponsored by the International Federation of Body Builders on September 10th. This contest was held at National Monument, Montreal. Mr. Heureux was awarded a beautiful trophy which is exhibited at his office.

Y.W.A. Meeting
St. Andrew's Y.W.A. met for their September meeting on Tuesday evening, the 23rd, at the home of Mrs. Everett Cogland, with seventeen answering roll call. The meeting opened with a prayer followed by Scripture reading. Mrs. Anne Boyd was appointed secretary for the remainder of the year to fill the place vacated by Miss Roberta McDermid, who was married recently. All the girls for the baby Afghan were brought to this meeting and the girls certainly have done well with

Valleyfield Hard Times Dance Enjoyed

VALLEYFIELD—On Friday evening, Sept. 23, the Nichols Chemical Association held a "Hard Times" Dance in Nicholson's Hall, where a large number of friends and employees enjoyed an evening of fun.

Whether due to the devaluation of the Canadian dollar or just the plain "Hard Luck" story the clothes were really outstanding as many had from five to twenty-five patches but the greater majority were beyond patching and were worn with dignity.

Prizes were given for the best "worst dressed" and were won by Mrs. G. Osborne who had a beautiful tailored suit of socks and Mr. A. Snyder who was dressed as a "Hobo."

Miss Marion Smith and Mr. G. Sauvé won the spot dance and Mr. and Mrs. A. Snyder won the door prizes. Stop the Music was won by Mr. and Mrs. George Osborne. Mr. and Mrs. Emery Paquette were presented with a gift, the occasion being their twenty-first wedding anniversary.

Coffee and doughnuts were served during intermission. Mr. E. Jobson did a very fine job of organizing the dance and deserves credit for the many hours of hard work which he forfeited to make the evening such a success.

These. They are to be put together some evening early in October and it is just possible there are enough blocks for two Afghans.

Plans were made for a Food Sale to be held in October. Following Study Period the meeting closed with the Mizpah.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Chas. McConville. Mrs. Florence Evans has offered her home for the October meeting.

Local Men Build School
Through all the talk of future wars and atomic bombs, etc., education is progressing at a rapid pace in the Province of Quebec, as may be seen by all the schools being built all over the Province. Two have been built in the last year by two local men. One at St. Eustache-Sur-lac about 20 miles from Montreal on Lake of two mountains, at a cost of $150,000. No. 2, is at L'Assomption about 25 miles Northeast of Montreal at a cost of $250,000. The contractor was Raymond Matte of 4387 Coolbrook Avenue, Outremont, Montreal. The men responsible for the work, were P. Marlineau, Plumber Foreman, A. Choquette, electrical foreman, J. St. Jacques, timekeeper, Norbert Lanctot, superintendent, Paul Jobin, foreman, N. Duncan Rankin, ass't superintendent.

WEDDING
Goodall-Cullen
Georgetown Presbyterian Church, Howick, Que., adorned for the occasion with gladioli, asters and autumn leaves, was the scene of a wedding on Saturday afternoon when Jean Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cullen, of Allan's Corners, Que., became the bride of Hugh David, son of Mrs. John Goodall, of Ormstown, and Mr. John Goodall of St. Louis de Gonzague. Rev. J. Marshall conducted the three o'clock ceremony, with Miss Genevieve Cullen, cousin of the bride at the organ and Miss Gladys Goodall of Montreal, sister of the groom who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Mr. Cullen gave his daughter in marriage, Miss Ethel Cullen acted as maid of honor for her only sister, with Miss Ruth Arnold, of Montreal, and Miss Jessie Goodall of Toronto as bridesmaids. Little Miss Shirley Cullen, niece of the bride, and Master Jimmie Cullen, nephew of the bride, acted as flower girl and ring bearer. Mr. Clifford Goodall of Montreal was his brother's best man, while Mr. William Goodall of Huntingdon, another brother and Mr. Neil Cullen of Allan's Corners, brother of the bride were ushers.

The bride wore a gown of pure white satin, made with a fitted bodice, fastened at the back with tiny buttons. The sleeves terminated in points over the hands and the full skirt flowed into a brief train. Her skirt illusion veil held by a tulle bandeau extended beyond the hem of her train and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli. The bride wore a two strand string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honor in lavender and the bridesmaids in yellow and green brocaded taffeta were dressed in gowns similar to that of the bride, but with short sleeves and long mitten gloves of the same material. They wore matching bead-dresses and carried colonial bouquets. The bridesmaids wore rhinestone necklaces, gifts of the bride. The flower girl was dressed in a white moire taffeta off-the-shoulder gown and also carried a colonial bouquet. The page boy wore long grey flannels with a blue blazer.

Mrs. Cullen, the bride's mother, wore a black satin striped crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Goodall, the groom's mother, wore an American Beauty crepe back satin dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The reception room was decorated in lavender, yellow, green and white streamers, with asters decorating the windows. The bride's table was decorated with baby's breath and petunias and centred with her three tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Goodall left amid showers of confetti on their honeymoon. On their return they will reside at Beauharnois. For travelling the bride wore a grey gabardine suit and navy blue accessories.

Out-of-town guests included Miss shaft being and remaining normal. To the degree that this canal and its bony parts are dislocated to that degree is protection of the spinal cord and its communicating branches in various parts of the body arise according to the location and degree of defects, in the relationship of the bones.

The person who could most easily understand that a house is in danger of collapse when its frame is distorted, or how the function of an automobile will prove defective and dangerous, if its supporting structures are bent and distorted, and its movable parts out of alignment, can understand as well that bent and distorted body frameworks cause ailments throughout the entire body.

But some adults who can easily appreciate that any simple square of framework would be defective if its lines had departed from their original design, seem to attach an unwarranted skeptical insignificance to the statement that defects in the mechanical framework of the body can cause any kind of ailment according to the location and degree of the mechanical defects.

Do not forget: many people assume themselves before taking a trip that their automobile is functioning properly and well aligned; and yet many go through a lifetime without ever getting their own spine checked or aligned.

More than one man has said to me, in effect: "I've got a good job. My home life is satisfactory. And I'm probably as happy as the average man. But I still feel that my life is too hum-drum."

Such remarks usually prompt me to suggest a remedy frequently advised by psychologists. That is: "Lose yourself in a worthy cause—especially one that involves working with groups of people."

This gives one the deep inner satisfaction of helping to accomplish something of value to others—whether it be for the church, Red Cross, municipal affairs, charities, home and school association or other worthwhile organizations. And it adds a new dimension to one's outlook, making life richer and more purposeful.

Among the people who are most active in community affairs you will invariably find one or more life insurance agents.

This kind of activity comes naturally to the life insurance agent because he is used to helping other people. And his job—making it possible for many people to face the future with a sense of security—is itself a vital contribution to the welfare and happiness of his community.

Chateaugay, N.Y., Merchant Returns From the Near East

During the week of Sept. 11, Silas Gazalley returned to Chateaugay, after spending some two months and one week in his native land. He left Chateaugay for Malone by automobile, thence by train to New York City and on July 2 boarded a Pan-American Airways plane. The plane made short stops at Newfoundland, England, Belgium and Constantinople, arriving at Damascus, Syria on July 4. Mr. Gazalley describes the plane trip as being very pleasant. He said it was no more exciting than stepping into his Lincoln for a trip to Malone. The plane carried 44 passengers. Inside it resembled a bus with seats for two persons side by side. These seats were used also as sleeping quarters when they were tilted into reclining position. Hostesses brought the meals on trays and the passengers ate with the trays on their laps. The front of the plane was occupied by the engine and kitchen, while the rear held rest rooms for passengers. The return trip followed a different route. Leaving Beirut, Lebanon, the stops were made at Cairo, Paris, Shannon, Newfoundland and thence to New York City. The passengers could see the countries over which they were passing with a clear view of water and land. The only rough part of the trip came when the plane entered a cloud where the air pressure was low and the plane would momentarily dip.

When Mr. Gazalley arrived at the Damascus airport his relatives were there to meet him. They did not easily recognize each other as he had left home June 7, 1910 and had never been back. In the meantime both parents and one brother had died. When he came to America he was about 20 years of age. He had little money but was eager to make his way and he had acquaintances in this section who welcomed him and helped him get started in business. Like his forefathers in ancient times, he engaged in merchandising with a small stock of goods which he sold from door to door. He recalls the days when roads were not paved and the mud and fall both horse and carriage sank deep into the mud. Gradually he increased his stock and today he owns and operates three stores on Main St. in Chateaugay. His stock includes goods for men, women and children from baby-socks to evening gowns and from baby-pins to diamond rings. He also carries household goods varying from alarm clocks to electric refrigerators and stoves. His is one of the success stories possible when an ambitious youth from the Old World seeks his fortune in the New World. Mr.

As he had been able to do so, he had through the years sent money to the home folks. With it they had purchased land and erected a large house. Like all well-made Syrian dwellings, the house is of stone with tiled roof. The farm land consists of 70 acres of tillable land, with large orchards that bear olives, figs and almonds, and grape vineyards. Crops in Syria include all kinds of grain which farmers harvest with a sickle. Live stock consists mainly of goats, sheep and horses. Saddle horses are much used by those who can afford them. The sheep furnish meat and the wool is used for the beautiful rugs for which these lands are famous. The climate is like that of the American way of life. Syria is about the size of the state of Illinois and Lebanon is smaller. Syria's population is 2,500,000 and Lebanon's is 1,500,000. Both of these countries lie in what has long been the pathway from the Mediterranean to the Far East. Their cities and their handicrafts testify to the constant stream of trade that passes through. One of the souvenirs that Mr. Gazalley brought back was a silk robe, a man's dressing gown. It is made of an iridescent silk, heavy and closely woven so as to almost "stand alone". A picture frame carved from the wood of the Lebanon cedar, an intricately carved one where birds and serpents form an interesting design, are also among his mementos.

The lands at the end of the Mediterranean Sea are largely uninhabited by Arabs and the written language of Syria, like the Hebrew, is written from right to left instead of left to right as English and other modern languages are written. A friend who accompanied Mr. Gazalley on his trip made a record for him of places visited by setting the information down in parallel columns, one English and one Syrian. He recalls with much enthusiasm some of the places visited including Hama and Latta in Palestine; Tripoli, home of the Barbary pirates; the Kadisha cave where water seepage had peopled the interior with human-like figures, formed stalagmites and stalactites; a Mohammedan mosque in Damascus and the ruined city of Baalabek. Here, he tells us, one meets students and tourists from all over the world who have come to see the remains of buildings that were constructed before the Christian era. Some are Roman and others are believed to be remains of temples to the fire-god, Baal. Today observers marvel at the engineering feat that carved such huge stones and set them up so firmly that many remain where they were placed over 2000 years ago. When asked how the cities of the old world compare with those of the new, Mr. Gazalley simply said, "As different as night from day."

Of one thing, however, he was very proud and that was his farm

What's in the Wind?

BY PAULA DICKS

Dorothy Sproule was a daughter of Alva Corrigan, a merchant in Winchester, Ont. She was educated at Kemptville High School and Stanstead College, Que., and at eighteen she married Rev. P. H. Sproule, B.A., who was related to the Sproule families in this district. The young couple encountered many hardships serving Methodist congregations in remote sections. Their first son died in infancy. Two more sons were born and the Sproules found themselves in more prosperous communities. First, her husband was taken to rest and then her son Hubert died of a lingering disease. Dorothy Sproule turned to poetry to ease her personal desolation. Throughout the years her inspirational poems, generosity and friendliness have brought her legions of friends all over the world and many honors. Her contribution to club work in Montreal is beyond estimation. I am embarrassed by her lack of ability to express admiration for the wonderful influence of her charming personality.

Dorothy Sproule is No. 1 on my list of outstanding Social Missionaries. She will be present, I hope, on Booster Night to give readings from her own poems. Let us look to "New Horizons", with Dorothy... "Forget the past, its woes and tears, No need to dwell on bygone years. The future's fair, and holds no fears."

For as we mount, the vision clears." A Century Later We are constantly reminded in our literature and especially in the movies, of the great Western migrations. The first and most exciting was the Great Gold Rush to San Francisco in 1849. Then it took months for a hazardous journey. Many escaped hostile Indians and survived the mountains only to meet death in the deserts from thirst and starvation. On Sept. 8th, 1949, Florence Carr of Huntingdon and Helen Rankin of Picton, Ont., started for San Francisco in a 1948 Ford Model of a Covered Wagon. One week later the Canadian girls posted cards from Grand Canyon, Arizona. "If you ever come out here don't miss this place. Tomorrow go to Los Angeles."

The Modern Cowboy Over the week-end Howard Compton visited with his former partners, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown. Compton now operates a bus route to points north of Winnipeg. An expert pilot, he takes on flying missions to Mexico and other interesting spots. Still reads the Gleaner and inquired, "Doesn't Paula Dicks write any more?" Thanks, Howard. Here's the answer!

The BLACK HORSE "Do You Know" Advisory Panel

GREGORY CLARK distinguished columnist

how far birds fly to migrate?

Every year, at certain times, millions of birds in every part of the world suddenly take wing and fly varying distances to foreign climes. No one yet has been able to satisfactorily determine the prime impulse of these migrations and to fathom the great mystery of its accomplishment.

Do You Know... that the Arctic Tern nests within the Arctic Circle and then flies over more than 10,000 miles of ocean to winter on the islands of the Antarctic... that the Grey Plover breeds in the Arctic Circle and winters in equatorial countries!... that swallows ringed in Great Britain have been traced to South Africa, more than 6,000 miles away!

Do You Know... that migrants usually fly at under 3,000 feet?... that the average distance flown in a day is 200 miles, even though the full flight may be thousands of miles?... that many species manage to cross these enormous distances without a break!... that even young birds, making the trip for the first time, make the flight unerringly, without guidance from the older birds!

Do You Know any interesting and unusual facts? Our "Advisory Panel" will pay $25 for any authenticated readers' submissions if they are usable. All letters become our property. Write Black Horse Brewery, Station L, Montreal, P.Q.

Epistle from Paul's Wife
Louis Paul Goldstein, a Hebrew Christian with an Evangelistic Message, contributes to the interest of the programme by presenting a technicolor roller film on Prophecy History, also group songs and duets. I know Margaret and Louis and their personalities are appealingly unique in the field of evangelistic uplift. Margaret Scripture wrote me this week:

"We are busy calling on people and praying for the sick and those with problems. Louis Paul (her husband) is interested a great deal in the giving of the Gospel to the Hebrew people and recently they have been more willing to listen to what he has to say."

All our work is carried on through Faith and Hope and we have carried on another 10,000 mile Good-Will Tour of Canada and the United States and expect to go from here to Boston and out West to Los Angeles. In fact from the Boston Common to the Hollywood sign singing, praying and lecturing with a real message of Hope for a bewildered world.

"We are really thrilled with the prospect of coming to Huntingdon... a dream come true."

Message from Margaret
A week ago I was frustrated in mind over the problem of getting up a Booster Night Programme in September to comply with the annual custom in 14,000 Granges. From the odd card received I knew the Scriptures were touring. On the 14th September a letter came from Margaret that they would be in Montreal for the month. Let it be mental telepathy, answer to prayer (Margaret's) or special revelation as to our need of evangelistic uplift. Whatever readers think I hope the yeast of inspiration is widely spread enough to crowd the hall.

Huntingdon County Park
A Committee from Maple Leaf Grange attended the County Council meeting on Sept. 15th with further representations. After discussion the Committee was encouraged by the Council to proceed with the formation of a representative committee or Park Board, to study the matter in detail, the Council naming a member to sit on this Committee.

Booster Night at the Grange is an opportunity to open the matter for discussion. Invitations to attend on Sept. 29 are going to the Clergy, Rotary and Dutch Clubs, Canadian Legion, Women's Institute, Board of Trade, Junior Chamber of Commerce, heads of industries and others interested.

New Horizons
Some while ago a small booklet came to me with this title. It was by Sophie L. Elliot, who visited the Maple Leaf Grange at a Booster Night during the War, accompanying C.W.A.C. Major Cecile Bouchard, the guest speaker. It begins with a quotation from "Poems of Life" by Dorothy Sproule: "We are not puppets in the hands of fate. But workers with an all-embracing plan; We help to make, or mar, not ours alone. But lives of those we call our fellow-man."

The life and work of Dorothy Sproule inspired Sophie Elliot, author of "The Women Pioneers of North America", radio speaker for City Improvement League, Montreal Club Woman, to write the sketch, "New Horizons."

Chateaugay Ponies Win Championship

CHATEAUGAY, N. Y.—Fans numbering more than 800 braved the chilly weather at Sheffield Park, Chateaugay, Sunday, Sept. 25, to watch the second playoff for Championship of the St. Lawrence Valley League. This proved to be the decisive match as the Chateaugay Ponies again downed the Norfolk Barons, thereby taking the 2 out of 3 needed to clinch the title.

The Ponies took an early lead and maintained a steady pace scoring in each of the first 6 innings with double scores in the 4th and 5th. The Barons scored 1 each in 2nd, 5th and 8th to set the final count at 8-3.

Rowe for Norfolk and Garrow for Chateaugay showing fine pitching with Garrow topping Rowe, Chateaugay fans had no cause to worry over the outcome as Garrow bore down relentlessly in every pinch to defeat the Barons in their attempts to even the score. The Ponies staged 2 double plays; Terry to Sancomb to Terry; Sancomb to Ryan to Terry.

Tommy Mitchell hit a long fly into right field to gain 3rd base and came in on a single. Art Ryan earned the $10.00 bonus offered by Hotel Chateaugay for the first score brought in.

A second $10.00 bonus for the first home run, went unclaimed. Sunday's easily won victory made the Ponies undisputed Champions of the St. Lawrence Valley League, made up of 16 teams comprising 8 teams in the Eastern League, Chateaugay, Burke, Bangor, Brushton, Moira, Malone, Ft. Covington and St. Regis Falls and 8 teams in the Western League: No. Lawrence, Hogansburg, Messena, Winthrop, Norfolk, Waddington, Helena and Raymondville.

Chateaugay Organizations

The Chateaugay Home Bureau held its first Fall meeting Thursday, Sept. 22, in the American Legion rooms. This was a dual purpose meeting. Mrs. Eva Denio, leader, organized an oven-dish meal which was served to 26 members. In the absence of Mrs. Henry Cook, leader, Mrs. June McCoy presented a lesson in citizenship. The theme of this lesson was Jurors and Courts. Mrs. McCoy explained the necessity for citizens to acknowledge their obligations in such duties as serving on juries. She explained how it was possible, under certain circumstances for those called to serve on juries, to be exempted. Mrs. McCoy is County Leader in the Study of Citizenship. She took a short course in this work at Cornell University in preparation for her duties as County Leader.

The Home Bureau officers for the year are:

Recent Wedding at Ormstown

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Malachie Church, Ormstown, on Monday morning, Sept. 26, at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Beatrice Duhome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duhome, of Huntingdon, Que., became the bride of Aurelien Fortier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ubald Fortier.

The ceremony was conducted by Father Delage, pastor of St. Malachie Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her attendants were Miss Hazel Duhome, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Misses Rhoda and Joyce Lamb as bridesmaids.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Leo Curran as best man, Harold Higgins and Edward Rabidoux as ushers.

Little Misses Pierrette Fournier, cousin of the bride and Cecile Lalonde, niece of the groom, were flower girls.

The bride wore a white satin floor-length dress with train and a long-length veil. Her jewelry consisted of a necklace, bracelet and earrings to match, gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses with streamers. The maid of honor was gowned in a light green floor-length dress. She wore a four strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet was of yellow roses. Rhoda Lamb wore a pale blue floor-length dress; her bouquet was of pink roses. Joyce Lamb wore a lavender floor length dress. Her bouquet was of white roses. The bride and groom left in the afternoon on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and other points. The bride wore a grey gabardine suit, with black accessories to match and a corsage of red roses. The groom wore a grey gabardine suit. The newlyweds will reside in St. Barbe, Que.

Freedom Goes Where The Newspaper Goes

... FREEDOM GOES WHERE THE NEWSPAPER GOES ...

Little Janie is big enough now to read newspapers. So let's sit down with her and play a little game. Let's recall the year before Janie came, when people thought of a "jet" as just something on a gas range, and when some still considered it daring to take an airplane instead of a train. That was only eight or ten years ago. But my, how Chateauguay Valley has grown since then.

Think of the new school — the one Janie goes to in Howick. That school didn't exist ten years ago. And here's a social note about some folks who live in Garden City a new section of Huntingdon. That section was just an open field just a few years ago. Now we point it out to visitors as fast becoming a big section of town.

In the classified page there's an ad seeking more workers for a mill created during the war — the mill that many thought was going to become a white elephant. Bigger ads tell of wide selections of up-to-the-minute fashions and nationally famous products in our stores. Janie will laugh when you tell her that before she was born, we used to make nerve-jangling trips to Montreal to shop.

LET'S REDISCOVER OUR CHATEAUGUAY VALLEY is the game we're suggesting you play with Janie and The Gleaner. For in pausing long enough to ponder this moving record of progress, perhaps you'll be able to realize and appreciate how our community has become a happier and more satisfying place to live, work, shop — and raise a family.

Rediscover Your Hometown

Freedom of choice starts where people live and work. There have been vast changes this past decade . . . not only in the world and nation, but also in our Chateauguay Valley. And . . . more are on the way. Read The Huntingdon Gleaner with care — the advertising as well as the news columns — to discover the freedom of choices that promises you a happier, more abundant life, right here in your own community.

Will Man Destroy...

devilishly clever, and he puts all the blame, prospectively, upon "Man" whom he likens to the dinosaurs, which he says became extinct "because they could no longer adapt themselves to the present."

The dinosaurs, however, were not responsible for their own extinction. They were monstrous reptiles living in tropical swamps and were suddenly overwhelmed by the advent of the ice age. Being creatures of very low intelligence, they had no scientists amongst them and they had no warning or time to adapt themselves to arctic conditions.

There is no comparison, therefore, between mankind and the dinosaurs. To predict or even suppose that Man would be so crazy as to compass his own universal destruction or that, as Dr. Chisholm suggests -- "a few fanatical distributors could destroy mankind by biological warfare" is fantastic.

WEDDING
Gartshore-Parkinson
The marriage of Shirley Alberta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parkinson, to Mr. John William Gartshore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gartshore, all of Ormstown, Que., took place at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 24th, in St. James' Anglican Church, with Rev. W. T. Payne officiating at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. R. F. Corkran played the wedding music and the soloist, Miss Frances Dunnett, of Brighton, Ont., sang "Through the Years" and "I'll Walk Beside You". Autumn hues formed the color scheme of the decorations which included deep yellow tapers, bronze ribbon, toning autumn flowers and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her maid-of-honor, Miss Yola Monaco, bridesmaid, Miss Jane Gartshore and junior bridesmaid, Miss Jean Lang. Mr. Donald Clayton of Toronto, cousin of the groom, acted as best man, while the ushers were Mr. Merrill Stalker and Mr. Harley Parkinson.

The bride wore a gown of white brocade Swiss moire with a Chantilly lace jacket having a low neckline with wide Bertha collar of moire, tiny moire covered buttons down the front and long pointed sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of French tulle illusion was arranged from a Juliette cap of matching Chantilly lace. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white gladioli. The maid-of-honor was wearing a gown of green shirred taffeta, made with low cuffed neckline, long fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a matching bonnet and carried a nosegay of Talsman gladioli. The bridesmaids were dressed alike in gowns of gold moire fashioned with Bertha collars, fitted bodices and full skirts with matching taffeta sashes. Their demi-bonnets were trimmed with ostrich tips and they wore filled mittens of gold moire and carried flower trimmed brown velvet muffs.
