World News In Brief

London, Ont., Aug. 26—(CP)—The body of Eldon Meredith, 23-year-old fifth-year medical student at the University of Western Ontario, was found by police early today on the Muncie Indian reserve near here with bullet wounds in the head and stomach.

Police said they were led to the isolated spot in dense bush, three miles south of Muncie, by one of two Indians who had been taken into custody last night for questioning in connection with the student's disappearance.

Soestdijk, Holland, Aug. 26—(AP)—Crown Princess Juliana is expecting a child and the stolid Dutch once more are in a dither over whether a future king may be born.

A communique from Juliana's Palace here said: "Princess Juliana of the Netherlands for a joyful reason has to restrict her activities." There was no suggestion when the royal cradle would rock again.

It has been 56 years since a man sat on the Dutch throne. Queen Wilhelmina, 66, succeeded her father, William III, in 1890 and she will be succeeded by Juliana.

German Prince Bernhard is Juliana's consort. Their daughters are Irene, eight; Beatrix, seven; and Margriet, three, who was born in Ottawa during the war.

London, Aug. 26—(CP)—Britain today observed one of her oldest anniversaries—Julius Caesar's landing on the Kent Coast 2,000 years ago.

This first landing, a reconnaissance in force by an army of 8,000 rather than an invasion, was met with spirited resistance by early Britons.

A commemorative ceremony to have taken place Sunday, but rain deferred for a week the scheduled unveiling of a tablet at Deal, Kent, by Mayor Sidney Little.

The landing was Aug. 26, in 55 B.C. Several newspapers took pains to explain that this nevertheless is the 2,000th anniversary because 1 B.C. and A.D. one are the same year.

Peiping, Aug. 26—(P)—China's internal war flamed anew today in Manchuria, where opposing government and Chinese Communist armies were moving to new battle positions. A surprise red attack already had isolated the government garrison near Tiehing, important station on the vital Mukden-Changchun railroad.

Government reinforcements pushed north out of Mukden and south out of Changchun to aid the garrison at Tiehing.

Conflicting reports hid the fate of besieged Tating, rail junction about 150 miles west of Peiping. Communist forces began the siege 22 days ago and the government last week acknowledged the situation was "very critical."

U.N. Will Consider Protest Of Ukraine Against Greece

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
New York, Aug. 26—(P)—Trouble comes in bunches to the United Nations Security Council and it will face at least two delicate topics at Wednesday's open session at Lake Success—the still unfinished permanent-temporary headquarters on Long Island Meadow near Great Neck.

It seemed certain today that the United States-Yugoslavian dispute, which might have struck a near-death blow to the young organization, had blown over.

But the crisis was followed quickly by a Ukrainian protest that Greek action on the Albanian border and elsewhere threatened world peace and should be investigated.

The council accepted the protest and put it in second place on Wednesday's agenda which is headed by the knotty problem of nine applications for membership, not all of which are approved by all 11 powers represented on the council.

It is unlikely the Ukrainian protest will be reached until Friday unless the membership applications are disposed of with a speed now unforeseen.

The council has been instructed to have its membership recommendation ready for submission to the members of the general assembly by Aug. 28, to give them time to consider it carefully before the General Assembly meets Sept. 23.

The Ukrainian protest is expected to bring the same sharp division in the council that was created by the debate on Spain—the Soviet delegation and Poland against the

Proposes Russia Be Requested To Justify Demands

Australian Delegate to Peace Parley Also Suggests "On-the-Spot" Investigation of Ability of Former European Enemy Countries to Pay Soviet's $900,000,000 Demands—Campaign by Russia and Satellites Against Countries Separating Soviet Bloc from Mediterranean Said Shaping Up.

Paris, Aug. 26—(AP)—An Australian delegate to the Peace Conference today proposed that Russia be called upon to "justify her reparations demands" and asked that a special "on-the-spot investigation" be made of the ability of former European enemy countries to pay Russia's $900,000,000 demands.

E. R. Walker made the proposal to the Economic Commission for the Balkans after the Italian Commission approved two more paragraphs of the preamble of the Italian draft treaty.

Nearly three and a half hours were consumed in debate before 18 words of a Netherlands amendment and seven words of an Australian amendment were adopted by the Italian Commission and the fourth and fifth paragraphs of the treaty finally approved.

One paragraph of the Italian preamble remains to be acted upon. More than 55,000 words in five treaties remain to be considered. No progress has been made on any of the other four treaties.

The 18 words, contained in the fourth paragraph, were adopted by a unanimous vote, with Yugoslavia abstaining.

This amendment, as finally approved, read that "whereas after the said armistice the Italian armed forces, both of the government and of the resistance movement, took an active part in the war against Germany . . ."

Meanwhile conference observers said a concerted campaign by Russia and her satellites appeared to be shaping up against countries separating the Soviet bloc from the Mediterranean.

Indications of such a campaign were noted in these recent developments:

1. An announcement during the week-end that the Soviet Ukraine was asking the United Nations Security Council to investigate Greece as a threat to peace in the Balkans.

2. Repeated demands by Yugoslavia for Italian territory in the disputed Venezia Giulia area.

3. A Russian note to Turkey asking for a voice in the control of the Dardanelles.

In general, western countries have opposed the Russian bloc in

Bombing Of Erie Ship To Be Probed

Detroit, Aug. 26—(AP)—A full-scale investigation was ordered by United States Navy officials today in the accidental dive-bombing of a private yacht in Lake Erie Sunday by three navy planes.

Seven fishermen aboard the 38-foot cruiser, named the Albatross, escaped serious injury when it was set afire by a practice bomb.

Navy officials said the planes apparently mistook the white boat for their floating target.

Albert Reisig, of Toledo, owner of the cruiser, suffered minor burns and shock.

Charles Desmond, secretary of the Ottawa River Yacht Club who talked to the men when they came ashore, said they related that the planes made three bombing runs.

"On the first run three of the bombs were dropped but none came close," he said. "Only two bombs were dropped on the second run."

"The third time they came down one of the bombs struck at the water line near the gas tank. Several of the men jumped overboard."

A navy crash boat, which was in the area to warn off pleasure craft, rescued the men—George W. McKinley, Frank Szezeiski, Jr., and C. N. Richmond of Toledo, A. S. France of Fremont, O., and C. M. Caldwell and H. S. Fresch of Swanton, O.

The boat burned to the water line. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

Comm. F. A. Brosky, executive officer at Grose Ile navy air base, said one of the pilots was at fault in not positively identifying the craft. Names of the fliers were withheld.

At Opening Of Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition

C. Ross, E.T.A.A. president; Col. Johnny Bourque; Guy Bryant, Mr. Justice Dalma Landry; Ald. Alphonse Trudeau; Leo Stenson and R. A. Children's Day Is Observed At Sherbrooke Exhibition — Big Attendance On Sunday

Officially opened on Saturday night, the 61st Sherbrooke Exhibition got under way early on Sunday afternoon, when hundreds of children from the city and other parts of the Eastern Townships crowded the fair grounds, amid prodigious quantities of hot dogs, drank gallons of sweet orangeade, bought sugar coated apples and spent their money quite liberally. Attendance was double that of the opening day last year.

Bad weather unfortunately prevailed on the opening night and many a citizen, who had planned to spend the evening at the fair grounds, discovered to his disappointment that Lucky Lot, of the thrill shows, thought the muddy track too risky for a performance of his troupe. The show was duly cancelled, rain checks given to the more optimistic element of the population, who had taken their seats on the grandstand, and Alex Ross, president of the E.T.A.A., accompanied by His Worship, Mayor Guy Bryant, Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, M.L.A., and several aldermen and directors declared the second post-war exhibition open.

This being Children's Day, thousands of parents will make their youngsters happy by taking them up to the fair grounds. The large midway will be the main feature in the afternoon. Hamid's grandstand show will put on the first performance this evening, and a large crowd is expected for this grand opening of the "Atomic Show," as it was termed yesterday by Joe Hughes, night manager of the show. The Kossyettes and other members of the revue arrived in town last night, and after a busy day's preparations they will be in top shape tonight.

Sugar coated apples, huge ice cream cones and all the other best things in a tot's life will be ready to meet the great demand.

The disappointment of the first night did not prevent the crowds from making another appearance yesterday afternoon and at three o'clock the first grandstand show got under way. Nine courageous men, known as the "Hell Drivers," did just what the name implies, wrecked cars, drove through burning walls of wood, made their cars and motorcycles jump over cars, dragged a man through burning gasoline, drove head on into a stone wall and, most surprisingly, lived to tell about it. Their feats were repeated at a second show in the evening and the crowds that turned out to watch this thrilling spectacle were large.

Members of the Mobile Police Force, under Major W. W. Foote, replaced the customary Boy Scout brigade at the Grandstand and showed the public to their seats, argued with those who thought they deserved better ones, returned lost children to their anxious parents, gave information about things ranging from soup to nuts and returned to their homes with the satisfactory knowledge of having done a good day's work. The St. John Ambulance Brigade, under the direction of the two district officers, Miss Trudeau and J. M. Rennie, were also at hand to deal with any casualties, and by day's end eight persons had received first aid treatment. Two of them had been bitten by monkeys, one girl had sprained her ankle and a stable attendant had been struck by a cow's horn.

Also on duty were members of the provincial and municipal police forces and a detachment from the city fire department with three

European Visit Convinces Prime Minister King No Effort In War Too Great

London, Aug. 26—His visit to France and other European countries occupied by Germany during the war has convinced Prime Minister Mackenzie King that no effort made by Canada during the war could have been too great, according to an interview given by the Canadian Prime Minister here today.

"I used to wonder whether the burden carried by Canada during the war was not too great for such a young country to bear," said Mr. King. "But my visit to France and other occupied countries and seeing at first hand what they had to bear has cleared my conscience and I know now that no effort we made could have been too great."

London, Aug. 26—(P)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today prepared to return to Canada

PREPARED FOR GERM WARFARE

Nuernberg, Aug. 26—(P)—A German general told the International Military Tribunal today that in July, 1943, Hitler entrusted Hermann Goering with the task of carrying out preparations for waging bacteriological warfare.

Maj.-Gen. Walter Schreiber said an institute was established near Poznan, Poland, where bacteriological cultures were to be produced on a large scale and experiments carried out.

Premier Asks Unity Against Red Element

Duty of All Canadians to Protect Integrity of Confederation, Duplessis Tells Junior Chamber Delegates.

Rimouski, Que., Aug. 26—(P)—A warning that unity against Communism was the only way to prevent it from taking hold "of our province or our country" highlighted an address last night by Premier Duplessis of Quebec before delegates to the 11th annual convention of La Federation des Chambres de Commerce des Jeunes de la Province de Quebec.

Mr. Duplessis told the 750 delegates, who thronged the seminary auditorium in this St. Lawrence River town some 200 miles below Quebec, that "the world now is swamped by a wave of anti-religious and anti-social ideas which is expressed in the ideas by Communism."

"It is the duty of all Canadians, but especially young Canadians, to safeguard in all its integrity the Confederation of Canada which was the result of deliberations of men of different language, different nationalities, but united in the purpose of giving political birth to a strong nation. These men realized that only through the Confederation Act could Canada exist as a powerful nation, and we must realize that this still holds today," Mr. Duplessis said.

Mr. Duplessis, warning against a second threat to Canada today—centralization of government—said: "The Spirit of Confederation can only be assured by the respect of administrative, judicial and constitutional decentralization of government power. This is the most serious hour in the history of not only our province but also Canada."

"Ottawa is teeming with centralists who would want to see in Canada a single government, a single race and a single religion."

In an opening address Saturday, Paul Beaulieu, Quebec Minister of Trade and Commerce, said Quebec Province has the best labor legislation in the world and that there was no reason why strikes should paralyze its industry and prevent it from attaining the place it should in world economy.

Says Church In Germany Hopeful Sign

Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Primate of All England, Arrives in Halifax for General Synod.

Halifax, Aug. 26—(P)—The Archbishop of Canterbury was travelling by train to Quebec today after his first two days in Canada and a reception in Halifax which, if continued throughout his tour, would leave him "a very exhausted but a very happy man."

Within 36 hours of his arrival aboard the Mauretania Saturday, Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Primate of All England, preached two sermons, received an honorary doctorate from the University of King's College, attended an interview to newswomen and responded to a welcome of the citizens of this old fortress city.

Dr. Fisher, in his first two sermons in Canada, expressed faith in the unity of the British Empire and hope in the Christian Church in Germany. Hundreds crowded in Opposition Seeking Board To Control Canadian Radio

Ottawa, Aug. 26—(P)—Repeated requests for the establishment of an independent body to control the use of radio air waves in Canada were heard in the Commons on Saturday during renewed opposition to a bill that would make more money available to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for expansion.

The requests mainly came from Progressive Conservative and Social Credit members, but Thomas Reid (L—New Westminster) joined with them and said he wanted to see established a board that would hear appeals against decisions of the CBC Board of Governors.

He and other members argued that there should be some board similar to the Board of Transport Commissioners which would decide whether the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was carrying out the wishes of Parliament.

Before resuming debate, members gave approval to supplementary estimates of the Veterans Affairs Department, totalling $55,782,223.

Just before the adjournment hour, Labor Minister Mitchell announced repeal of provisions of an order-in-council under which participants in the current steel strike were liable to a fine of $20 a day for every day absent from work.

Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent announced that the Dominion and Ontario governments had agreed that such assistance as they could give in helping maintain law and order in Hamilton, Ont., "should be given."

In calling for the establishment of an independent body to control the use of the air waves, John Diefenbaker (P.C.—Lake Centre) said that "what we are asking is that there should be fairness under the law established by Parliament in the relationship between the CBC and private stations of this country."

"I submit that unless such a body is set up a paralyzing blow will be struck by Parliament at freedom of the air, or at least what is known as fairness of the air. If the CBC continues uncontrolled, private stations in this country will become vassals, permitted to survive only at the sufferance of the overlord. The great danger of that is the danger of totalitarianism in this country."

Mr. Diefenbaker and other members referred to the fact that the bill under study would give the CBC the money needed to take over the frequencies of the private stations CFB in Toronto and CFCN in Calgary.

Montgomery Pays Tribute To Canadians

Field Marshal Praises Excellent Work Done by Dominion Soldiers in Europe — Given Hearty Ovation on East Coast.

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Halifax, Aug. 26—(P)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery completed a busy two-day opening stand in this Atlantic Port today—a stand that enhanced his popularity and won him a law degree, hood and a piece of silver.

It also provided the famous soldier with an opportunity to sing the praises of the Canadian Soldier and declare the bloody work of Dieppe as a necessary preliminary to a successful invasion of Europe.

The colorful Chief of the Imperial Staff pleased everybody by giving up the brass, braid and baton that goes with his rank in favor of his black beret and battledress. In Saturday's sunshine and in Sunday's wet fog he stood in his open car and waved and saluted and smiled to the crowds who lined the streets and applauded him.

Anxious to step on legends of his recent exploits, Monty proved he "likes the ladies" by insisting a boy of nurses pose with him at a military hospital and proved he isn't "stuffy" about smoking by insisting disabled veterans light up their fags in a hospital ward.

In his speech at the Dalhousie University convocation he described the hall-marks of Canadian soldiers as "independence, enterprising versatility and robust mentality." He said in his opinion the finest work done by the Canadians when under his command, was the operation connected with the opening up of the Scheldt estuary in 1944 so that the Allied Armies had free access to the vital Port of Antwerp.

Receiving a silver tray bearing the city's 300-year-old coat, the little Irishman spoke of Dieppe. It was a case, he said, where it was necessary "to tackle the unknown" and Canadians had willingly accepted the job and their bravery had ensured "that we got what we wanted out of the operation."

"The casualties sustained," he said, "were heavy and I used to feel in those days that many Canadian people wondered whether the enterprise was worthwhile and what indeed was achieved, when we did in fact return to Western Europe in June, 1944, the experience gained from Dieppe proved of the greatest value to us in developing a sound technique to break through Hitler's Atlantic wall. We couldn't have done that without the experience of Dieppe."

Then with a keen smile he passed and received the order to the 1st Canadian Army at the time the Allied Armies were advancing through France.

The order had contained this sentence: "I have no doubt that the commander of the 1st Canadian Army will ensure that the 2nd Canadian Division (the Division used in the Dieppe raid) deals suitably with Dieppe, and he added with a flourish, "that order was carried out in true Canadian style."

200 Jews Are Arrested In Probe Into Transport Plot

By JOSEPH GOODWIN Sedot Yam, Palestine, Aug. 26.—(P)—Two hundred residents of this tiny Jewish fishing village were rounded up today by British troops and Palestine police in a move said by officers to be directed at finding the "frog men" who almost succeeded in sinking the immigrant transport Empire Rival in Haifa Harbor last week.

The village was surrounded by a brigade unit before dawn and the villagers were herded into barbed wire enclosures for questioning by police while army crews searched homes and buildings. Mine detector equipment and dogs formerly used for mine detection in Germany were used in the search.

Brig. R. H. Anderson, commander of the 2nd Brigade, who was in charge of the operation, said the village, only five miles from Haifa, was one of the basis for persons who blasted the ship.

Villagers said the search was the second conducted here. They added that the first search was made June 30.

Haifa, Aug. 26.—(P)—More than 5,000 British soldiers today swooped on the little Jewish village of Sedot Yam, near the old Roman seaport site of Caesarea, and began an inch by inch search for munitions, saboteurs and illegal immigrants.

Machine-gun emplacements dotted the rocky hillsides overlooking the village as troops made a pre-dawn move in an effort to apprehend the persons who blasted the British ship, Empire Rival, in Haifa Harbor a week ago.

Brig. R. H. Anderson, commanding the 2nd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division, told newspapermen that "there was no doubt" the village was a pivotal point in the successful landing of 150 illegal immigrants last week. He indicated that perpetrators of the Haifa sabotage may have operated from the same area.

The village's 200 residents were taken from their homes and herded into a temporary enclosure nearby for questioning while troops made a house-to-house search. Approximately 40 persons were detained for questioning.

Say No Abatement In Lakes Strike

Detroit, Aug. 26.—(P)—Officers of the National Maritime Union (N.M.U.) today declared there was no abatement in its Great Lakes strike although railroad car ferries were resuming operations and the N.M.U. scheduled negotiating sessions with three tanker firms.

Reports of violence marked the 13-day-old walkout as strike headquarters in Cleveland charged a freighter officer had fired two revolver shots at pickets on shore there.

In Detroit, the union asserted crew members of the freighter Simon J. Murphy had been taking rifle shots this morning at union pickets on the International Salt Works dock near the Fort Rouge plant.

Police, however, said the freighter's crew had been shooting at rats. Meanwhile, more than 1,000 workers on 20 crafteries on Lake Michigan and the Detroit River were returning to their jobs following a back-to-work vote.

every move against the three Mediterranean countries. The United States has defended British-occupied Greece; Britain, France and the United States have opposed granting large sections of Venezia Giulia to Yugoslavia; and Britain, France and the United States have gone on record against Russian control of the Dardanelles.

Differences between eastern and western powers seemingly were reflected yesterday when Russian Foreign Minister Molotov and Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky of the Ukraine walked out on a celebration marking the second anniversary of the liberation of Paris.

The two ministers were believed to have taken a walk because of seating arrangements which placed them on second row benches, while the United States, Britain, China and France were on the first row.

Seats were assigned alphabetically, with the United States listed as "Amerique." The heads of several delegations left the conference during the week-end to return to their countries. Among those departing were Prime Minister Mackenzie King; Herbert V. Evans, Australian Minister of External Affairs; Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain; Jan C. Masaryk, Czechoslovakian Foreign Minister; and Halvard M. Lange, Norway's Foreign Minister and chairman of the conference general steering committee.

Mr. Bevin was not expected to return until Wednesday. Friends of Mrs. Bruce Miner will be sorry to hear that she is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg, having undergone a serious operation. All join in wishing her a speedy recovery.

India Premier Said Mixture Of East, West

London, Aug. 26.—(Reuters)—Rationalism, ultra-modernism, western intellect and a strong Socialist outlook are the qualities that Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the All-India Congress Party, will bring to the newly-formed interim government as India's first Prime Minister.

Nehru, second only to Mohandas Gandhi in the national movement in India, is a strange mixture of the highly educated western gentleman—neatly dressed, keen and quiet-mannered—and an ardent convert to Gandhi's program of civil disobedience.

He spent his early life in England's select Harrow Public School and at Trinity College, Cambridge. Back in India, he was quickly aroused by the storms of 1919 and 1920, the Amritsar tragedy, when hundreds were killed in native riots, and the first of Gandhi's civil disobedience crusades.

Nehru was in and out of prison many times after he came into prominence during the home-rule agitation. Gandhi, the mystic rebel against modern life is the antithesis of Nehru, who is convinced that modern developments will produce results that protest fasting will never achieve. Nehru, however, firmly believes that Gandhi's ascendance is vital to India as long as he is in the field.

After his first prominence after the First Great War, when he rejected a legal career set out for him by his father, Nehru became successive president of the Trades Union Congress, leader of the Youth Congress, Youth League and Independence League, and in 1929 president of predominantly Hindu Indian National Congress, which post he has held several times.

His wife, Kamala, carried on his work while he was in prison, and eventually also was arrested. She developed a lung disorder, was taken to Europe for treatment, and died in a Swiss sanatorium. His only daughter, Indra, is the wife of a barrister practicing in the High Court of Alahabad.

With Gandhi and his personal attendants, Nehru was interned in 1942 for his advocacy of civil disobedience. He was released in 1945 and several months ago, at the age of 58, resumed his former post of president of the All-India National Congress.

Southern Canada Power Will Not Sell Its Plant To City

At least one project being considered by the City Fathers to relieve traffic congestion on the city's main thoroughfare has fallen through temporarily with a refusal by the Southern Canada Power Company to sell its local power-house and property for construction of a bridge to lead from Big Forks Street to Dufferin Avenue.

This information was forthcoming from the City Hall this morning where it was stated that a letter had been received from officials of the company to the effect that it was not interested in selling its plant to the municipality at present because electricity from the Dufferin Street plant was supplying various districts in the Eastern Townships with much needed power.

Each Alderman has received a copy of the company letter and the matter will be considered further at a council session sometime during the course of next week.

An official at the City Hall stated this morning that expropriation of the plant "was not a possibility at present" although there would be no other recourse if the City Fathers decided to follow through with their plans.

Erection of a bridge in addition to the Dufferin Street span to relieve not only traffic on Wellington Street but from the parking lot, which is expected to be opened up through the J. S. Mitchell property, was advocated by several of the Aldermen. However, it is understood that several options still remain and the City Fathers may now consider other possibilities.

ADULTS ALSO ENJOY MIDWAY AT THE FAIR

Regardless of what anybody may say, a vast majority of adults take childish delight in the many various attractions offered by the midway. Of course, most people won't admit this, but the happy expression and gleam of satisfaction on their faces convinced this reporter that everybody gets once in a while the urge to let go the forced restraint upon his or her actions and the result is much in evidence at Conklin's Frolicland on the Sherbrooke Exhibition Grounds.

Armed with three pencils, a pass and a notebook we made our rounds yesterday afternoon. First the customary hot leg stamms and bingo booths our way led to the first attraction: Sally Rogers, the girl in the iron lung. While the subject of iron lungs may be timely many visitors were heard to express dissatisfaction at this exhibit, since, should the girl in the lung really be sick and in need of this device, the proper place for her would be a hospital and not a trailer truck, equipped with a ticket booth, a microphone and two loudspeakers. Aside from ethical considerations, however, the exhibit is interesting and many people probably had their first opportunity to witness this life-saving machine in action.

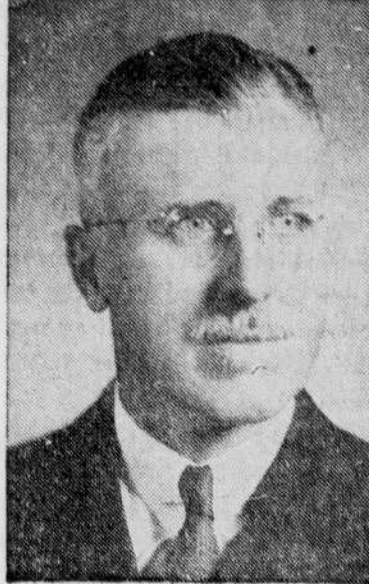

Third Case Of Poliomyelitis Reported By Health Officers

Poliomyelitis struck again in Sherbrooke yesterday when it was learned that a six-year-old boy, residing on Convent street, was ill. City health authorities held to the belief that the sickness was contracted outside the city limits while the youngster was on holiday at Lake Aylmer.

This makes the third case to be registered here since the epidemic swept Canada in all three instances it was the conviction of medical authorities that the disease was contracted in other sections of the province.

The youngster is under strict quarantine in his own home.

Sixteen Week-End Deaths Occur In Eastern Canada

Sixteen persons lost their lives in accidents and one slaying in Eastern Canada during the week-end, a survey by the Canadian Press revealed today. Of the total, 12 were a result of car accidents, three were drowned and one person was slain. Ten of the 16 deaths were in Ontario, four in Quebec and two in Nova Scotia.

Michael Dolman, 47, and George D. Ferguson, 18, were killed Sunday when the car in which they were driving, crashed head-on into that of Lawson Glauson, 15 miles west of Toronto; Garnet Goodale, Hamilton, died in a Tillsburg, Ont., hospital Sunday as a result of a car accident 13 miles east of there on Saturday; Wilma Reiss, eight, died Sunday in an Owen Sound, Ont., hospital as a result of a Saturday accident near her Kilsyth home, six miles southwest of Owen Sound.

Other Ontario deaths included: Eldon Meredith, 23, fifth year medical student, found by Police Sunday on the Muncney Indian Reserve near London, with bullet wounds in the head and stomach; Alan Hatfield, 19, of Hamilton, killed when the heavy tractor-trailer he was driving, overturned on a curve near Sudbury; Ralph Shadd, 16, died in a Chatham hospital Sunday after the car in which he was driving rolled into a ditch and crashed into a tree; Benny Bender, 23, injured in a car-truck crash near his Fox William home, died in hospital there on Sunday; Bert Olmstead, 50, proceeding from Renfrew to his farm nearby was forced into a ditch and pinned beneath the tractor he had just purchased. He died in hospital shortly after the accident.

Mrs. Marjorie Hackness, 30, slipped on loose earth at the edge of Karabeka Falls, 18 miles west of Fort William, and plunged 130 feet into the Kaministiquia River. Her body was recovered from the pulp-filled river some time later.

At Montreal, Peter O'Neill, 21, was killed when the motorcycle on which he was riding with two other persons, crashed into a truck and Bernard Ritchey, 16, was drowned when he fell from his bicycle in a deep pool of water. His body was recovered a few minutes later.

Sentenced To Year In Jail In Local Court On Cheque Charge

Lucien Gagnon, 22, St. Hubert de Spaulding, who pleaded guilty Saturday to uttering forged cheques, torn from a cheque book stolen a year ago from the New York State Lumber Company of Edward Ashlaw at Tupper Lake, was sentenced by Judge Anatole Gaudet to one year in jail.

His alleged companions, Albert and Ernest Bouche, 27 and 22, respectively, also of St. Hubert, were arraigned and remanded for hearing August 29.

Detective R. E. Anderson, Provincial Police, Sherbrooke station, who was instrumental in arresting the men on representation of the Federal Bureau of Identification (U.S.), stated that the men had been employed last year by Ashlaw and on being paid off had stolen a bank's cheque book bearing the company's name.

A spending spree followed, police charge, the accused having cashed cheques in Massachusetts, New York State and in the Province of Quebec. The sum of $1,500 at least, it is stated, was handed over the counter of the Provincial Bank at Megantic, Que., to the youth on the presentation of forged cheques.

Another youth, charged with being a deserter from the United States Navy and recently apprehended at that count in Lewiston, Me., was also implicated in the cheque forgeries.

Top honors in the recently conducted lawn improvement contest under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce went to Hon. Senator Jacob Nicol, Vimy Street, who will receive the F. A. Briggs Trophy which was returned for competition this year by Mrs. Briggs. The trophy, given by the City of Sherbrooke for the best lawn in the city, was won by the late Mr. Briggs in 1940 and as this is the first contest of this nature since that time, the trophy has been put up for competition once again.

Final Curtain Comes Down On Successful Ayer's Cliff Fair

Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 26.—Smiles of contentment wreathed the faces of the directors of Stanstead County Agricultural Society on Saturday night as the final curtain was rung down on one of the most successful exhibitions ever held at Ayer's Cliff. In spite of the rain on Saturday night a good crowd attended the final grandstand performance, seeing the entire show staged under the direction of Gordon Beerworth, manager of ceremonies. Several hundred people enjoyed the complete George Hamid revue, with the exception of the high pole act, and the Sherbrooke Riding and Driving Club completed their Horse Show, staged in the infield judging ring due to the muddy condition of the track.

Good crowds thronged the midway until a late hour, and indications are that the Stanstead County "Hundred Plus One" Exhibition will be marked by a new record in attendance receipts for the highly successful three-day and night fair.

Special guests present on Saturday included Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hallward, of North Hatley; H. C. Salisbury, President, with Directors Errol Marsh, Gordon Marsh and G. C. Whitcher, of the Big Brome Fair opening next Monday, and A. Gamache, Rita Desrosiers and Aubrey French of the Cookshire Fair.

St. Pat's Old Boys Association of Sherbrooke, who are raffling off a Frigidaire for the benefit of their boys' camp, conducted nightly drawings for a Silox or hoplite, all tickets remaining in the drum for the Frigidaire drawing some time in November. Winners of the nightly draws were: Thursday, B. C. Drew of Megog; Friday, G. C. Whitcher of Foxburg; Saturday, R. C. Bateholder of Stanstead.

Many specials were won during the exhibition in the horse division, with the Sherbrooke Daily Record Special for the best wartime driving horse being won by Gordon Cass, with Alden Peasley, second.

Hugh McClary of Hatley took first prize for the best display of four heavy horses, also taking first for the best agricultural team, any breed, and for the champion heavy draft horse. J. B. Dube won the championship ribbon for his heavy draft stallion, and in the final Cavalcade of Cattle the best display on parade was shown by Miss Elin Beit Speyer, who took the Canadian Bank of Commerce Special, a beautiful silver trav.

An exceptional showing was presented in the Horticultural Hall, where the 35th exhibition of the Stanstead County Horticultural Society was held under direction of W. S. Keeler. Much admiration was expressed for the splendid exhibits in this clean, modern building, some of the principal winners being as follows:

Best collection of gladioli, six varieties, and for best single bloom: Henry Stratton of Stanstead. In the following order H. H. Brown, Mrs. D. L. Paul, A. Brown and H. H. Stratton took honors for the best floral arrangements for a large table.

A. W. Moulton took three firsts for his maple syrup, maple sugar in cakes and for his pure maple wax. C. E. Davis won top honors in honey, both for comb and pure honey.

Miss Grace Libby won first prize for the best collection of canned vegetables.

In the poultry exhibit Charles to get tickets, they seem to be a good investment on money. We feel, however, that we ought to issue a word of warning to all potential patrons of rides: Empty your pockets before you enter them, or at least make sure that nothing in there will fly off at a tangent when the thing starts moving. Since others are supposed to learn by the mistakes of their more unfortunate fellow human beings, you may accept my warning, since we lost all three pencils that we had and were therefore forced to go home.

JOHNS-MANVILLE ARCHIDS FROM MAN "IN THE KNOW"

Recently your J-M reporter talked with a carpenter who has had a lot of experience with Johns-Manville Asbestos Flexboard. He has used it on dozens of different jobs — both inside and outdoors—and he's loud in his praises for this versatile wallboard.

If you're planning to subdivide your basement, fix an attic room or even build a garage you'll find J-M Flexboard ideal. It's fireproof, rot-proof and unharmed by moisture — lasts for years without maintenance. Flexboard saves time and labour too, because it comes in big, easy-to-handle sheets and can be worked with ordinary tools. What's more, it can be curved, is easy to clean and never needs paint to preserve it!

STALLING AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Events of the past week clearly indicate that insofar as Russia and its satellite nations are concerned there is no intention that anything substantial result from the Paris peace talks. Not only have the Eastern European members of the parley refused to discuss in a serious manner the many direct problems before them but they have been introducing numerous extraneous issues designed to becloud the original proposals.

The latest example of this Russian-inspired delaying policy is the week-end attack of Yugoslavia against Greece in which the latter is characterized as a war-mongering nation with many alleged incidents being referred to as proof of the intention of the tiny Mediterranean power to wage war against its larger Balkan neighbors. Although there is no direct reference to it in the Yugoslav charges, the impression is left that this aggressiveness is being instigated by Britain and the United States.

The idea that Greece is seeking war is foolish on the very face of it. The country was overrun by the Nazi hordes in the early stages of the war and suffered in a manner unknown to any of the other occupied countries. Its limited industrial and transportation systems were stripped of everything movable. Its food resources were transferred to Central Europe to feed its conquerors and prior to the hour of liberation its farms and vineyards were subject to the scorched earth policy that makes them virtually non-productive. Its human resources were decimated. Thus the country was set back so far that it will take years before it can meet the minimum needs for its own existence.

To charge that any such nation is planning a war of aggression is the height of folly, and any such charge can mean but one thing . . . the nation making the complaint is seeking to divert attention from some other section. The possibility in this case is that the Yugoslavs do not want too close attention paid to their activities in the north where their policies have already drawn the ire of the United States and Great Britain. A battle with Greece—even over the conference table—might serve as a smoke screen.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CIVIC GOVERNMENT

The importance of maintaining a strong system of civic administration has often been stressed by students of governmental affairs who claim the best means of assuring efficiency in the operation of the country would be through the granting of as much legislative power as possible—especially where the collection and expenditure of public monies is concerned—to the local authorities.

One of the strongest arguments advanced in this connection is that the local administrators have less chance of buying the electors with their own money. The relationship between the expenditure of a few thousand dollars and an increase in the tax rate or the levying of a new impost is too direct in the case of the municipality. In the case of a federal, or even provincial, government some system of bonuses or subsidies for one element or section of the population might be instituted as a vote-catching scheme, the government being comforted in the knowledge that the sum so expended might never be openly reflected in the tax rates. Even if it is, the government might well use the old story that the recipients of the aid are gaining more than they pay, the administration spokesmen failing to explain that elsewhere some similar bounty may be handed out.

Except in the case of the largest cities, any substantial expenditure by a municipality is at once reflected in the municipal budget and thus sticks out like a sore thumb. Knowing that they will be called upon to offer an early explanation for their actions, the local councillors have a marked tendency to caution when studying any project.

To maintain this degree of efficiency, however, it is necessary that the councils have charge of the raising of the money as well as of the spending of it. The local governments must operate on local taxes rather than on hand-outs and subventions from senior administrations. The latter system of financing only serves to create the irresponsibility over expenditures that the municipal system is designed to avert.

THE SAFETY CAMPAIGN

The campaign being conducted by the Sherbrooke municipal authorities to eliminate accidents during exhibition week is one deserving of the full support of all citizens and visitors because it is only through the complete co-operation of all concerned that anything substantial along this line can be accomplished. The drive is especially timely as traffic this week is bound to be substantially in excess of normal, with the result that unless there is a greater display of caution than usual the accident rate is bound to jump substantially.

The civic authorities are not laying down an extensive list of rules and regulations to tell motorists and pedestrians alike what to do, rather stressing the long-accepted belief that the vast majority of accidents are due to carelessness, wilful or otherwise. The application of the basic rules of commonsense or self-preservation would in itself materially cut down the accident toll this week.

However, for the individual the safety campaign should not be limited to a single week, as a person killed at any time is just as dead as if killed in Fair Week. Similarly injuries received are just as painful and damage caused to property is just as expensive to restore.

Washington Column

Peter Edson writes on

DO NOTHING AND SAVE MONEY

Here's another angle on the great economizing wave now sweeping over Washington in the wake of the departed Congress.

If Congress had given the President everything he asked for in his budget message of last January, the expenses of the federal government for fiscal 1947 would be over a billion dollars higher than they are going to be. And the budget would be out of balance by 2.9 billion dollars, instead of by the 1.9-billion-dollar deficit now estimated.

When the budget was made up last January, 1.5 billion dollars was allowed to finance new legislation requested by the President. The Congress passed about a third of this program—principally increased veterans' benefits and federal employees' pay increases.

Among the projects which Congress was asked to approve but didn't were a scientific research program, a health and medical care program, universal military training, grants-in-aid to states for raising educational standards, school and hospital-building proposals, extension of crop insurance, a long-range housing program, and projects for the development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway, and of the Missouri and Columbia valley authorities.

Look 'em over:

RESEARCH PROGRAM WOULD HAVE COST $40,000,000

The scientific research program, passed by the Senate but not acted on in the House, would have created a Science Foundation to promote scientific study and research. The President's Budget message of last January included an estimate of 40 million dollars for the first year's operation. By not completing action on the project, Congress saved that money.

The health and medical care program recommended by the President was covered by the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill. The backers never planned to bring this bill to a vote in the last session of Congress, but it will be brought up next year. It would appropriate 40 million dollars for grants-in-aid to states for public health, maternal, and child-care benefits, aid to the needy, and research. By not acting on the bill this past session, Congress saved that amount.

The President recommended a broad system of state grants to raise educational standards. The Budget Bureau had tentatively estimated a cost of 150 million dollars a year for that, plus another 150 million dollars to build school-houses. Congress did nothing about either, hence saving 300 million dollars.

The President also beat the drums for compulsory military training. Congress refused to consider it in an election year, with public sentiment running heavily against both the draft and maintenance of a big Army and Navy. Giving 800,000 trainees a year's military education, at an estimated expense of $1,000 each, would have cost 800 million dollars. By refusing to act, Congress saved that money.

HOUSING PROGRAM'S COST CAN ONLY BE ESTIMATED

The President asked for a long-range housing program. The Senate crashed through with the Wagner-Elender-Taft bill. No estimates are possible on what its total drain on the Treasury would have been. Up to 133 million dollars a year could have been spent for 45 years on urban and rural slum-clearance and low-cost housing developments. Much of this might have been returnable. Congress saved whatever the net loss would have been by failing to pass the bill.

The possible cost of the President's recommendation for increased crop insurance is likewise indeterminate. For the 1945 crop year, the government took in nine million dollars in premiums and paid out 21 million dollars in indemnities. Total loss: 12 million dollars. This covered only five crops—cotton, wheat, flax, corn, and tobacco. Very little of the wheat crop was covered, and the loss on cotton alone was over 13 million dollars. Any additional crops covered by government insurance might make proportional demands on the Treasury. By not expanding the program, Congress saved that uncertain sum.

When you get into the valley projects, you run into the really important money. The St. Lawrence project may cost 500 million dollars, if and whenever completed. Expenditures would spread over a number of years. Equal sums could be spent in the Missouri and Columbia valleys. The Tennessee Valley development has cost nearly a billion dollars in the past 12 years, with its receipts plowed back into the business.

From the looks of this line-up, Congress is at its best, economy-wise, when it doesn't do anything. Or, at least, when it doesn't do everything the President wants to do. Similarly, it's at its worst when it spends money the President has not asked it to spend.

CHAPTER IV

Fights were a frequent source of entertainment of the stalwarts of early manhood in the early days. These often took place at cattle shows—now called "the fair"—although there was seldom any call or reason for such pastime. One single sentence or word spoken in the wrong place or time would start a most brutal encounter. At a cattle show in Bury, Angus and Gordon, two Highland boys, all but cleaned out the whole show. So fierce did the combat rage that a quiet minister of the gospel, living his quiet life at the manse across the way, was prevailed upon to come and try to help smooth things over, as no one else at the show, composed mostly of farmers, would dare to approach the scene of the encounter. The little minister, however, got into the jam and was politely told by Gordon that this was no place for a minister. "You do the preaching and I'll do the fighting," says Gordon. Angus, in the midst of this jungle fight, tells all that this in no place for the Golden Rule. Angus told me years later that this fight caused him much sorrow, since there was no reason or cause for it, and he never knew why it happened.

I repeat that lack of outside, wholesome sport was largely responsible for such outbreaks as I have described, and the general labor of those pioneering days in the woods and on the farm produced men of great strength in all parts of the world wherever Scottish men and their descendants were wont to settle.

There was, however, much wit and humor in connection with the real life encounters that used to take place in those pioneering days showing that nearly always real manhood was written behind the scenes. One instance is told of a fight between two young stalwarts. Some time after the battle the winner called at the home of the loser and met the father at the gate. Not receiving the welcome that was always his in times gone by, he asked the father if Jock could come out as he had something of importance to say to him. After some questioning by the father, the winner in the fight told him that he was in love with the boy's sister and he thought the first move would be to make friends with the whole family. The manliness and honesty of the youth appealed to the father and the son was called out for the conference. I would like to be able to tell the ultimate result of this new found friendship but can only imagine that the winning of the father's good will was followed by a successful venture by the brave young Scot.

Ghost stories on an evening while sitting around the fire-side was a fascination peculiar to itself for the young people. After listening to a string of these, all were so frightened that they could scarcely turn around in their chairs and they were worked up to such a pitch of fear that they would not dare to go home alone in the dark, though the distance would be just to the next farm. The thrill that the ghost conveyed to the young mind at times surpassed all other forms of conversation. The ghosts lived in dark empty houses along the roadside, were frequently seen in swamps and only the bravest of the boys would pass a graveyard after dark.

It was, of course, a great mistake to fill the minds of the young with such foolish fiction. Again I

LET'S GET DOWN TO CASES

The Globe and Mail.

Those who have been giving attention to the agitation of labor organizations do not have to be told that Communist cells are to be found within the unions, especially since the Windsor automobile strike of last year. However, it is getting tiresome to have labor leaders such as Mr. C. H. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers' Union, and their followers, shouting "Communist" on every occasion they find themselves embarrassed by the excesses of union groups, particularly when they resort to force.

The haste with which union officials denied responsibility for violent acts against members of Hamilton City Council on Thursday night is a classic example. They blamed organization of the mob outside the City Hall on members of the Labor-Progressive Party, which is to say, the Communists. We have no doubt the Communists were present. It will be a strange day when they fail to turn out for such events. But no one, including Mr. Millard, can persuade an intelligent public that it was a Communist mob and that the hands of his union are entirely clean.

Mr. Millard has had long experience with labor unions. He knows full well he cannot put his men in the position of being lawbreakers, as he did when he called the steelworkers out on an illegal strike against the Government, and still expect them to have regard for law and order. If the Communists alone are responsible for such acts as have been witnessed in Hamilton during the past four weeks, why then does Mr. Millard place his union in the position of being exploited by them? Surely this is not the mark of good trade unionism. Certainly it cannot be regarded as wise leadership.

The Canadian Congress of Labor, with which is affiliated the electrical, automobile and steelworkers' unions, this week made representations to the House of Commons Industrial Relations Committee. The burden of the submissions was that the unions represented by the C.C.L. are responsible groups, fully capable of discharging their responsibilities in industry and to society. And while these pleas were being compiled and presented, Hamilton was being treated to demonstrations of utter lack of responsibility.

The C.C.L. claim cannot be reconciled with what has actually happened in Hamilton and elsewhere. It can only be one of two things. Either the leaders are responsible for the acts of their unions, or they have lost direction of the unions to the Communists. It is most significant that while all these attempts are being made to shift the blame to the Communists, Mr. Millard and other union heads have made no effort to identify the troublemakers.

responsible union members? Are of high, and unjustified, premiums the blame-shifters pointing to C. S. Jackson, president of the United Electrical Workers, or his understudy, Ross Russell? Is George Burt, director of the United Automobile Workers, one of them? Or are they men operating in the ranks beyond the control of their leaders?

The union chiefs cannot have it both ways. When they call a strike they claim they are being victimized by the employers. When the direction of strike activities go wrong the Communists become the victimizers. Such tactics, of course, are designed to gain public sympathy. But the leaders are bound to find such sympathy an elusive quantity if they go on blaming the Communists and yet continue to shield them behind the cloak of anonymity. The time has come to start naming names and to seek support of the rank and file in driving them out of the unions. If they fail to do so, they will stand in real danger of becoming victims of themselves.

U.S. DOESN'T LIKE OUR MONEY

Ottawa Journal

Tourists returning from the United States tell strange tales of the way the Canadian money is being received across the border. All sorts are being demanded and, especially at border points where there is a fair amount of Canadian money in circulation, a form of petty graft flourishes with Canadians who have been so unwise as to cross the border without first obtaining U.S. currency as the victims.

While our tourists complain loudly about what they consider an injustice, this has always been the case. Not enough Canadian money finds its way across the border for it to be taken for granted by the casual recipient, as U.S. money is taken here without question. Even some of the smaller banks in the U.S. discount Canadian funds heavily and are none too keen about exchanging it, mainly because it is trouble to handle and only comes in small amounts.

It does the Canadian no good to argue with the taxi driver, shopkeeper or small bank cashier in the U.S. or try to explain the new parity ruling or the fact that our dollar purchases more than does a similar bill in the U.S. To the majority there it is just foreign money, hence viewed with suspicion because there is trouble getting rid of it. Anybody crossing the border, and few do so these days without prior preparation, can easily save themselves unnecessary trouble by getting their American money here.

RUBBER, DUPLICATE BIDDING TECHNIQUE

Less than 20 years ago national bridge tournaments were unheard of. Today tournament bridge is increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds and the American Contract Bridge League is already planning an international tournament in 1948. Few authors have attempted to write about tournament or duplicate bridge. However, there are some very interesting comparisons between rubber and duplicate play. Today's hand is an example.

At rubber bridge South should allow West to play the hand at two hearts. He cannot expect to make a game when North is unable to bid. Hence he can gain only a part score by bidding, and if things go poorly, he may be doubled and go down about 800 points. At duplicate bridge, however, South must reopen the bidding. He cannot afford to let the opponents score 110 when perhaps he can score that amount himself. Hence, he would be doubled by South must realize also that even if he does not make two spades, it may not be doubled, and this, two,

Secretary Of Penal Association Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Club

Waterloo, Aug. 26.—The weekly Kiwanis meeting of the Waterloo Club took place one evening at the Waterloo Hotel with twenty-five members and four guests on hand. The guests included Rev. Harry Andrews, the new Rector of St. Luke's who attended with Kiwanian Hubert Wells; Dr. Purdy, of Winnipeg, Man., formerly of Waterloo, who attended with Kiwanian Kenneth Robinson; and Kiwanian Len Adam brought two guests, Messrs. Len Halliday and Amedee Bonaune, lumber dealers, of Montreal.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. John Kidman, of Montreal, formerly attached to the editorial staff of the Montreal Gazette, now the Honorary Secretary of the Canadian Penal Association, who spoke on "A New Deal in Criminal Justice." His idea was not, he stated, to attack the British form of justice, which is good, but he thought that as we improved the health laws and brought them up to date, so we should be able to do the same with our criminal laws. Mr. Kidman advocated that Canada should follow the English and the United States, which have established probation offices, and also public lawyers to defend indigents. There are too many first offenders, who are dazed with the whole show, he said, when with a lawyer to help out that might make all the difference in the world to the outcome.

The speaker strongly recommended that first offenders should not be sentenced but rather put on probation. He also recommended an intermediate prison, between for instance Shawbridge and the penitentiary. The inmates between the ages of seventeen and twenty-three, he pointed out, are plastic, and could be trained for good just as easily as for evil.

Mr. Kidman said that the Borsal system was needed here in Canada, to avoid the hardening influence on jail inmates. There is too much repression and not nearly enough helpful discipline in our present system to help reform. In closing, the speaker said that there should be a public visitation committee comprised of three to five citizens living in the neighborhood, who would be free to go in and inspect the jail and conditions at any time of day or night. In this way, the true conditions would soon be made known publicly and that this is the only way fair and just conditions will prevail with the system today.

Kiwanian Bob Millenchamp introduced Mr. Kidman, and Kiwanian Bill Seybold thanked him. During the course of the meeting, Kiwanian V. Garriety, Mayor of the town, announced to the gathering the results of the referendum held today in the town in connection with a loan for $22,000, in order to do work on the sewerage system, and another loan for $50,000, to complete the water system, in order to safeguard an adequate supply for all times. Both these issues were passed in the election today, the first one by a vote of 111 to 120 and the second by the exceedingly close margin of 112-114.

At the next meeting, the gathering will be privileged to listen to one of its members prior to his departure from his charge in Knowlton, the Rev. K. C. Bolton, who is being moved to Montreal. That this will be another worthwhile address is certain, as all of Rev. Bolton's addresses have been. An exceptionally large crowd is expected to be on hand to bid farewell to Rev. Mr. Bolton on this occasion.

THE PROTESTANT SCHOOL BOARD

At the last Protestant School Board meeting, the date, Tuesday, September 3rd, was definitely set for the re-opening of the Waterloo High School. All children that will be attending the school, and that have never before been vaccinated, are requested to see their doctor and be vaccinated and bring their certificate with them to school. This is a very important item to have attended to before the commencement of school, as it is liable to hold up the child's progress if left until after the beginning of school.

A good year is anticipated and an increased enrollment is expected as a bus has been secured and the pupils from South Stukely and Warden will be brought here.

The following staff has been engaged for the year 1946-47: Principal, Mr. O. T. Pickford; assistant principal, Miss Esther England, M.A.; Miss M. Frazer, Miss Lois Tyler, Miss Gwendeth Stapleton, Miss M. Scott, Mrs. J. W. Hackwell, Mrs. M. Colwill, French specialist; and Miss Alice Morse, B.H.S.C.

A WAR BRIDE SHOWERED

Mrs. Orval Lewis was hostess on Saturday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Regan Maynes, who has just arrived from England.

The numerous gifts were placed on a card table, above which hung a suspended watering-can with a shower of blue ribbons extending to the table.

Some fifty guests from Waterloo, Warden and vicinity were present to extend their welcome to this English war bride.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Townsend, of Lyndonville, Vt., and Mrs. Cherry and Mrs. Cummings, of Montreal.

At the close of a social hour, refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Regan Maynes and young son will make their home in Hamilton, Ont.

Rock Island And Derby Line

The Frontier Community Center Swimming Pool is proving very popular and many of the children of the Border communities are taking advantage of the opportunity to learn swimming. James Galbraith recreation director, is at the swimming pool Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 3 to 5 p.m. to give instructions and help all those who want to become at home in the water. Many of the children who were actually afraid of the water, when the pool first opened a month ago, have now overcome their fear and are able to swim, float and dive. The attendance at the pool averages about twenty each day with as many as forty there on good afternoons. The bathers are of all ages and English and French. The water has kept constantly to a depth of between four and five feet at the deepest point and many favorable reports have been received by the directors regarding the popularity of the pool. The senior and junior softball leagues have completed a very successful schedule and are now in the play-offs, which will occupy them for the balance of this month. The Community Center field is gradually being put into shape and will, when finished, be as fine a playing field as can be found anywhere around here. The rink house is being covered with asbestos sheeting and the rink boards are being painted so that conditions at the rink this coming winter will be better than they were during the first winter. The Frontier Community Center has helped develop the playing of tennis on the courts in Baxter Park, Derby Line, and the game is being played there Tuesday evenings and Thursday mornings. More and more people are taking advantage of the many opportunities for healthful recreation offered by the Frontier Community Center. The directors are especially anxious that everyone should realize that all of these activities are open to anyone, who desires to participate in them. They are hoping that people will plan to visit the playing field at Stanstead, and the swimming pool and see for themselves what has been done for their benefit. The tennis games at Derby Line, Tuesday evenings and Thursday mornings are open to all, who wish to participate in them. The more people who take part in the various activities, the better the Community Center can serve all the people; and new development depend wholly upon the support the present plans have from everyone interested. WE'RE WORKING AGAINST TIME

... in more ways than one

Every time you lift the receiver to place a call, it's a challenge to us to rush it through; we don't like to keep people waiting. But sometimes delays can't be avoided, even though every last piece of available telephone equipment is on the job, handling more traffic than it was ever built to carry:

... And that fact is directly related to our other battle against time—our big building program: Every addition to present facilities hastens the day when we will once again be able to handle every call as promptly as we would like. Construction and installation of additional telephone equipment are going ahead just as fast as the supply situation permits.

We've got it marked "Rush"!

ST. PAUL'S RANGERS DEFEAT LOCAL SOCCER CLUB 7-3

Brilliant Team Work Displayed By Metropolis Squad In Win

St. Paul's Rangers of Montreal defeated a combined local soccer team, 7-3, at the Parade Grounds Saturday afternoon.

Both teams displayed good soccer and the large crowd that witnessed the game voiced their appreciation in no uncertain way with their applause. St. Paul's Rangers are champions of the Independent Soccer League and semi-finalists for the Macoun Cup. The directors of the E.T. F.A. are to be commended in arranging this game.

Both teams started off by playing careful football for the first twenty minutes. Longworth, Sherbrooke goalie, was called upon to make some outstanding saves. The visiting team's passing and positional play was a treat to follow. At the twenty-five minute mark their efforts were rewarded when Timmings, receiving a pass from A. Ashton, counted the first Montreal goal. Two minutes later Davies, Sherbrooke, on a nice individual effort tied the score.

The visitors then applied the pressure, and Caskell put his team in the lead at the forty minute mark 2-1. Sherbrooke's centre half, Clough, was outstanding in his passing and the manner that he carried the play. It was only bad finish around their opponents' net that kept Sherbrooke from tying the score. Montreal's outside right forward, Fields, put his team further in the lead when he received a pass from T. Ashton and sank it in the Sherbrooke net behind Longworth.

Sherbrooke started the second half with a bang. Davies on a passing attack with Rowland, put Sherbrooke back in the game twenty seconds after the ball had been dropped. But this was short lived as Montreal got another when Caskell received a pass from T. Ashton and tallied a score.

Fine work of the Montreal defence was all that kept Sherbrooke from scoring when the local team were rushing the play. After repeated attempts their efforts were rewarded when Davies, who was playing a brilliant game for Sherbrooke, sank the ball in the Rangers' net for Sherbrooke's final tally.

Both teams displayed good football with only one penalty being handed out. Fred Ashton handled the game and kept it well under control.

St. Paul Rangers: McFellridge, Spencer, Ashley, Peary, Weldon, Watson, Fields, T. Acton, Caskell, Timmings, A. Acton, sub., McCullough.

Eastern Townships Select: Longworth (Sher.), Hayes (Sher.), Storey (Sher.), Ryan (Sher.), Clough (Angus), Smith (Sher.), McLaughlin (Angus), Davies (Angus), Hay (Celence), Rowland (Angus), Findlay (Sher.), subs., Halsey, Haffenden.

SWEDEN LEADS INTERNATIONAL FIELD EVENTS

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 26.—(P)—Sweden stands as the strongest track and field power on the continent today with its record of 11 championships in the 24 events of the first post-war European championships.

Although no records fell, Sweden piled up a succession of brilliant victories, particularly in the field events where its athletes registered firsts in the high jump, broad jump, hammer throw, javelin throw and pole vault. Other championships were won in the 110-metre hurdles, 50-kilometre walk, 10,000-metre run and 400-metre relay.

Finland, with four titles in the 400-metre hurdles, marathon, 10,000-metre run and hop-step-and-jump, ranked second, with Britain and France each capturing two crowns. Sydney Wooderson of Britain came home first in the 5,000-metre event, and John Archer of Britain won the 100-metre dash.

header played here Saturday. Zande held Granby to three hits in the opener. In the nightcap, L'Heureux of Granby was reached for seven hits and Richardson of Canadians gave up eight. The game was tough and go until Lockwood came through.

Fourth International League Pennant For Montreal Royals

Montreal has clinched its fourth International League flag, its second in succession, with a 19-game lead over the runner-up Newark Bears who have only 16 games to play.

Surviving a managerial change that found Clay Hopper moving to Montreal to succeed Bruno Betzel, the 1945 skipper, the Montreal club has held first place for virtually the entire season.

Ever since June, chief interest in the league race has been the scrap for positions in the Shaugnessy Playoffs with the Royals conceding the flag they won previously in 1898, 1935 and last season.

Branch Riekey has seen to it that the Montreal club was outfitted with a strong nucleus of promising Brooklyn Dodger farm talent.

Jackie Robinson, the first negro to sign a contract in modern organized baseball, has been a key cog in the machine, playing second base like a veteran and leading the league a good share of the season.

Curt Davis helped apply the clincher yesterday when he tossed a neat four-hitter to beat Rochester 4-2 after Lefty John Mikan had won the opener for the Red Wings 3-2 on Vernal Jones' fourth hit in the 12th inning.

While the Royals celebrated their pennant win, Newark, Baltimore, Syracuse and Buffalo continued their battle for playoff positions.

Syracuse squeezed past Buffalo into fourth place by one percentage point by taking two from Jersey City, 5-1 and 7-3, while the Bisons were bowing twice to Toronto, 3-2 and 6-5.

Newark and Baltimore retained their respective positions in second and third spots by dividing two. Les Webber edged Walt Dubiel in the opener, 3-1, but Kenny Holcombe threw a five-hit job for a 4-2 decision in the finale.

HOGAN TAKES N.P.A. CROWN IN COMEBACK

Portland, Ore., Aug. 26.—(P)—Golf's greatest money winner of the year—135-pound Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.—was $9,500 richer today after his blazing comeback in defeating Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del., yesterday to win the 1946 National Professional Golf Championship, six and four.

The purse boosted Hogan's winnings in 10 tournaments this year to $33,377, some $12,000 more than collected by dethroned champion Byron Nelson.

Hogan put together his worst and best rounds of the tourney yesterday to eliminate Oliver, a 5-1 short-ender in the waning.

In the morning, Little Ben was three down after Oliver fired an eagle-three and two birdies at him on the second nine. Ben, who had been consistently around 68 all week, zoomed over par for the first time with a 73, while Oliver had a two-under-par 70.

Hogan completely reversed the trend in the afternoon. He won the 20th through the 23rd with three birds and a par to erase Oliver's lead and go one-up. When he holed a six-footer for another birdie on the par-four 27th, he was two up after a sizzling round of 30—five under par.

The match ended at the 32nd after Hogan pitched 115 yards with and eight-iron, to within three feet of the pin.

Dodgers And Cards Split A Doubleheader Over Week-End

Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals, after a seven-hour battle in St. Louis, ended up all even in their doubleheader. As a result they remained tied for first place in the National League pennant race. The Brooks came from behind to eke out a 3-2 victory in the opener, but the Cards climbed all over six Brooklyn pitchers to win the wild and woolly nightcap 14-3. The second game was called after eight innings because of darkness.

The two teams will complete their crucial four-game series with one game tonight and another tomorrow afternoon.

New York Yankees became the first club ever to reach the two million mark in attendance yesterday, but their joy was chilled by Hal Newhouser and Hank Greenberg, who collaborated to give Detroit Tigers a 7-2 victory at the Yankee Stadium. A crowd of 42,908 watched the single game, sending the Yankees' home attendance to 2,027,087.

Lou Posehl, former Illinois University and semi-pro righthander from Chicago, made a successful Major League pitching debut against Cincinnati Reds, who divided a doubleheader with the Phillies in Cincinnati. After Joe Beggs blanked the Phils 7-0 in the opener, 20-year-old Posehl won a 4-1 hurling duel with Harry Gumbert in the nightcap.

Hank Borowy pitched and batted Chicago Cubs to a 3-2 victory over New York Giants in Chicago.

Boston Braves made it 12 out of 15 from the Pirates by taking two games in Pittsburgh 7-5 and 10-5.

Washington rallied for two runs to tie the score in the ninth inning, then pushed across the winning run in the 12th on Sherry Robertson's triple and pinch hitter Early Wynn's single to defeat the St. Louis Browns in Washington 5-4. After Ed Lopat pitched Chicago White Sox to a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia Athletics, his 16th triumph of the season, the Mackmen, behind Phil Marchildon, came back to win the second game 6-5.

Associated Press Sport Writer Dave (Boo) Ferriss, Boston Red Sox, sophomore pitching wizard, not only is the major league's biggest winner today, but appears on his way to establishing a modern record for most games won by a pitcher in his first two seasons in the big leagues.

Ferriss, whose 23rd mound triumph yesterday helped the American League Leaders sweep a doubleheader from Cleveland Indians and increase their margin over the second-place New York Yankees to 14 games, already has registered 44 victories in his first two years, only three shy of the record of 47 set by Grover Cleveland Alexander with Philadelphia Phillies in 1911-12.

Wes Ferrell of Cleveland holds the American league mark of 46 set in 1929-30.

Ferriss outduelled Red Embree of the Indians 2-1, aided largely by Bobby Doerr, who smashed two home runs, the second coming in the ninth inning to decide the first game. Two big innings, a three-run third and a six-run fourth, enabled the Sox to coast to a 13-6 second game win.

In sweeping the twin bill at Boston, the Sox wiped out any mathematical pennant chances of Chicago White Sox and St. Louis. Philadelphia Athletics were eliminated 10 days ago.

JORGE BERROETA MISSES BY HALF A MILE

Dover, England, Aug. 26.—(P)—Jorge Berroeta of Chile, who missed swimming the English Channel yesterday by a half mile, is ready to try again within two weeks.

The 28-year-old Chilean businessman, struggled through thunderstorms, choppy seas and strong tides for 15 hours and 46 minutes before he was forced to give up his France-to-England attempt.

With a chance to make the 26th successful crossing, Berroeta at first spurned the advice of his trainer, E. E. Temme, but finally gave up after making no progress in an hour. Temme was the only man to swim the Channel in both directions.

The last successful attempt to swim the Channel was made by Sally Bauer, 21-year-old Swedish swimming instructor, who made it in 15 hours, 23 minutes August 27, 1939.

"I Cannot Speak for Myself"

BE KIND TO ANIMALS

DR. BAKER'S COLUMN
Edited by Dr. Charles B. Baker, B.V.Sc.

HINTS

Many people are under the mistaken impression that cats do not drink water. This is far from the truth. Cats are very fond of fish, which sometimes is salty and sets up acute thirst. Milk is always good but, again, too much of any one thing is not to be recommended and cats should always have water readily accessible.

"Teach your Kitten to love birds" Strange as it may seem a cat can be taught to resist the natural temptation to attack birds.

Hold the kitten in your hands. Let her see you feeding the wild birds with crumbs. Make her realize that the birds are your friends. Talk to her, stroke her, pet her. If she attempts to spring, restrain her. Speak sharply and even tap lightly if she persists. Patience and mutual understanding between you and your cat are the whole secret.
