

GOVERNMENT HAD BIG MAJORITY ON DIVISION British Note To Soviets Likely To Result In "Break"

Opinion Is That A Rupture Of Relations With Soviets Very Difficult To Avoid

British Government's Note to Russian Soviets Demanding Compliance with Its Demands in Ten Days Is Much More Peremptory Than Even Forecasts Led Public to Suppose—Despatches from Moscow Appear to Be Forewarning of Break, as It Is Indicated that Soviet Government Would Find Itself in a Humiliating Position if It Acquiesced Completely with British Terms.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, May 9.—The Government's note addressed to the Russian Soviet Government, demanding compliance with its demands in ten days is much more peremptory than even the forecasts led the public to suppose, and although inspired statements are being made here to the effect that the Government is far from desiring a break in existing trade relations and only wishes to secure a cessation of anti-British acts and policy, there is a general belief that a rupture of relations will be difficult to avoid.

In fact, despatches from Moscow appear to be a forewarning of such issue, as it is indicated that the Soviet Government would find itself in a humiliating position if it acquiesced completely in the demands, and the British Government expressly rules out recriminatory arguments over its charges.

NOTE IS CERTAIN TO OPEN SERIOUS BREACH BETWEEN LABOR PARTY IN PARLIAMENT AND LAW GOVERNMENT

The despatch of the British note is certain to open a serious breach between the Labor party in parliament and the Government. Labor is determined to use every effort to prevent a rupture with Russia. Its leaders accuse Lord Curzon and the present Conservative ministers of being responsible for seeking a rupture with Russia and abolition of the trade agreement negotiated by the late Lloyd George administration in the face of great opposition from the Conservative party, which has always opposed any rapprochement with Russia except on terms of recognition of Russia's foreign debts. Hence it may be expected that statutory fights will occur in the House of Commons, and that there will be a strong agitation in the country against the Government policy.

When the Moscow despatches were read to British officials in London they evinced no surprise over Moscow's rejection of the Curzon note. The Foreign Office was able not only to give precise facts and figures regarding the activities of the Soviet's propaganda agents, but also the names and location of the principals who from various points on Great Britain's borders directed their activities.

It also called attention to the injuries to British fishermen, some of whom were drowned in the Arctic by the action of Bolshevik patrols. British officials assert that Tikhonov suffered imprisonment by the Soviet, and in some cases their husbands were ruthlessly murdered.

In addition, they assert that the agent at Moscow, Mr. Hodgson, had been subjected to studied insolence and his freedom curtailed by unwelcome attentions by the state police. They point out that these acts were in flagrant violation of the Anglo-Russian trade agreement.

There seems to be a disposition in certain circles to cancel the agreement, but before doing so it is desired to hear what Moscow has to say on the charges set forth in the British note.

BRITISH PAPERS COMMENT ON NOTE SENT TO SOVIETS

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, May 9.—The text of the British note to Russia was issued today yesterday to receive universal comment in the editorial columns of the morning newspapers today. All the newspapers, however, print the note prominently.

The few comments which appear represent the two leading shades of opinion—one wholly endorsing the Government's attitude and the other as completely opposing it. The latter is subscribed to not only by the communists and the more extreme among the laborites, but by the bulk of the parliamentary labor party. There is also a third view, that of the Opportunists. This, while condemning Bolshevism, favors fostering trade with Russia irrespective of political questions. It is advocated by the Daily Express, which calls it the common sense view.

In the opinions that favor a rupture with Russia it is contended that the Anglo-Russian trade agreement has had little effect on trade, which is not dependent on it.

FLATLY REFUSED TO REMOVE HIS PRIEST ROBES

"Who Decided I Am No Longer a Clergyman?" Asked Ex-Patriarch of Russia.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MOSCOW, May 9.—When notified yesterday by a committee headed by Metropolitan Peter that he had been unfrocked by a decision of the church council, Dr. Tikhon, the former patriarch of all Russia, flatly refused to remove his priest robes.

"Who are those strange bishops?" he asked. "Their names are unknown to me. Who decided that I am no longer a clergyman?"

The committee went to Donosty Monastery, to which the former patriarch had been removed from prison to receive notification.

They waited in an outside room for the patriarch to appear.

Carbed in a plain black robe, Dr. Tikhon entered. The Metropolitan addressed him with the Russian salutation: "Basil Ivanovich Balaivin, we as a delegation of the concave come to you according to the decree of the Assembly of Bishops and also according to the decree of the concave, which resolved to unfrock you and deprive you of priesthood."

AWARDED $5,500 DAMAGES
AGAINST C. N. RAILWAYS

Verdict in Case Rendered in Favor of Mrs. D. R. Noiseaux.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, May 9.—A jury under Chief Justice Martin here yesterday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of Mrs. D. R. Noiseaux, in her action against the Canadian National Railways for the sum of $5,500. Plaintiff sued for $30,000 on a claim that she and her minor son had suffered damages to that extent through the death of her husband in a wreck on the Canadian Northern Quebec Railway in April 1922. He was employed as a freight car conductor.

The verdict was at once accepted and judgement given from the bench.

Critical Husband—Where did you get the recipe for this mess?

Cultured Wife (calmly)—When speaking of the directions for preparing foods, you should say "recipe." When referring to medicinal preparations you may, if you choose, use the term "recipe" from the Latin "recipere"—take.

Husband—I used the correct word, then. This pudding is a dose.

FIGURES IN IMPENDING RUSSIAN CRISIS

Left to right: Leon Trotsky, Soviet Secretary of War, on whose reorganization of the Red army depends the survival of Bolshevism when Nikolai Lenin drops out; Leo Kameff, commander-in-chief of the army, and Gen. All Liberals And Progressives Voted In Favor Of Combines Bill—Reference Made In House Of Commons To Sugar Combine Yesterday Was Occupied with Debate on Second Reading of Combines Bill, Which Was Carried by 138 to 21—The Majority Was Composed of Liberals, Progressives and One Conservative, W. F. MacLean, of South York.

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, May 9.—By a majority of 117—the largest Government majority of the session—the House last night gave second reading to the Combines Bill. The division came after two full days of debate. In the vote, all Liberals and all Progressives voted for the bill. Of Conservatives W. F. MacLean, of South York, alone voted against the bill. The remainder voted against the result being: For 138; against 21; majority for 117.

The Prime Minister, closing the debate, declared the legislation would provide a means of letting light into the dark recesses of business. Once the public knew the facts, it could, through parliament, apply the remedy.

Previously Hon. J. B. Maclean, from the Conservatives, declared it was of no use to represent to the people that a wonderful panacea had been discovered for "I am sure that they are in for another disillusionment."

During the debate, Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, further criticized the legislation under which the Board of Commerce acted.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, supported the measure, but said that the present evils could be cured only by allowing trade to flow freely in all directions.

Closing the debate, the Premier expressed confidence that the bill was intra-vires of parliament. Should the courts decide otherwise, the present government, if in power, would lose little time in amending the criminal code to deal with the evils of mergers.

REFERENCE TO SUGAR COMBINE.

There was passing reference to the sugar combine. To Lord Progressive cheer, W. F. MacLean, Conservative of South York, urged that those behind the combine in Montreal be notified that if they had not afforded some relief by Friday, the tariff would be cut. If that did no good, he would have the Royal Bank and the Bank of Nova Scotia (which he said were behind the sugar trust) notified that if nothing were done, facilities for discount would be taken away. Finally, if nothing still were done, Mr. MacLean would have the Manufacturers' Association informed that the tariff on other items would be reduced.

The Senate discussed freight rates in their bearing on the development of the Maritime Provinces.

COUNTER-BLAST TO LATEST U.S. LIQUOR LAW

Measure Would Force Ships Entering or Leaving British Port to Carry Liquor.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, May 9.—A bill to provide that any ship entering British waters or leaving a British port be obliged to carry a reasonable amount of alcoholic liquors for the supply of the passengers on demand is to be introduced in the House of Commons today by Lieutenant Colonel George Lloyd Courthope, Conservative member for the Rye division of Sussex.

The measure, which would impose penalties for failure to comply with these provisions, has the backing of members of other parties beside that of which Lieutenant Colonel Courthope is a member, as its sponsors believe it would be an effective counter-blast against the United States prohibition laws.

As a private bill, however, it has only the slightest chance of approval by the House.

CLAIMS MONEY LOST ON ACCOUNT OF COST OF THE HANDLING NECESSARY.

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, May 9.—H. B. Hatfield, potato shipper of Hartland, N. B., examined by the special agriculture committee of the House of Commons last evening on his experiences in shipping potatoes to Cuba from New Brunswick said potatoes bought in New Brunswick at $3 per 180 pounds, and sold at $5 in Cuba, had shown him a loss because of cost of handling. During 1921 and 1922 his firm had lost $27,000 on potato shipments. Witness said there was keen competition between buyers in New Brunswick to secure potatoes.

"Do you suggest that you compete in buying potatoes and then afterwards the lion and lamb lie down together and ship in perfect friendship?" Chairman McMaster asked.

"We have to in our shipping," said Mr. Hatfield.

That he, as a shipper of potatoes from New Brunswick to Cuba, refused space available on his vessel to other New Brunswick shippers to keep the Cuban market as far as possible for his own potatoes was the frank admission of O. R. Estey, of Woodstock, another New Brunswick potato shipper.

"Your group in combination with Mr. Hatfield's group charter vessels to Havana," asked Chairman McMaster.

"Yes," was the reply.

"And," continued Mr. McMaster, "you desire not to ship other people's potatoes even when space was available was motivated by a desire to keep these other potatoes from spoiling your market?"

"Yes."

Mr. Estey gave the names of the members of the "Potato Exchange" as Porter and Company, Gallagher and Company, Bowen and Company, B. S. Smith, Hatfield, Nelles and Clark, Estey and McCaine Produce Company.

SYSTEM OF CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING IS PLANNED

EDMONTON, May 9.—Following out an announcement to the legislature that such a plan would be carried out this year, the Legislative Council of the Provincial Government has already taken preparatory steps for the investigation of a system of co-operative marketing of all farm produce.

For this purpose a sub-committee of the cabinet has been named to collect data.

CANADIAN WAS VICTIM OF SECOND OUTRAGE IN CHINA; BANDITS USE THEIR PRISONERS AS SHIELDS

Men and Women Released by Chinese Bandits as Messengers to Arrange for Ransom, or Who Escaped, Give to Outside World a Picture of Peril, Privation, Hardship and Brutal Treatment—Fear for Safety of Prisoners Still Held by Outlaws.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TIEN TSIN, May 9.—A Canadian citizen named Lowe was the victim of a second outrage which followed close upon the raiding of the Peking Express by bandits near Suchow on Sunday.

Mr. Lowe was travelling to Shanghai on Monday night when he was pulled from the train by Chinese civilians, beaten, bound and carried away. The outrage occurred on the Tsin Pu Railway line.

No details regarding Mr. Lowe are available here other than that he is a merchant.

Mr. Lowe later was released through the efforts of the British consul.

Reports of the affair reaching here say that Chinese police were standing near when Mr. Lowe was pulled from the train by the mob, but they made no effort to release him or to interfere with the ruffians who perpetrated the outrage. A foreigner who saw the abduction notified the British consul. The latter demanded and obtained Lowe's release immediately, but an explanation of the affair is awaited impatiently in foreign official circles.

USING PRISONERS AS SHIELDS IN FIGHTING

(Associated Press Despatch)
PEKING, May 9.—Ominous lack of recent direct word from the bandit stronghold in the hills back of Linching, and various reports of captives wounded when used by their guards as shields against the volleys of pursuing government troops, have filled the foreign colony here with grave fears for the safety of British, United States, French and Italian hostages kidnapped by the Suchow train bandits early Sunday morning.

The arrival at Tsinahfu and Tien Tsien of men and women who were released by the brigands as messengers to arrange ransom, or who escaped, gave to the outside world a picture of peril, privation, hardship and brutal treatment that has added to the anxiety.

So far the death list stands at two Joseph Rotham, British, shot during the raid on the train at Suchow, and an unidentified man from the United States, reported killed in the cross fire between the brigands and the pursuing government troops.

INTRODUCED BILL WHICH IS DESIGNED TO TERMINATE
ALL HEREDITARY TITLES

Bill Expressive of Movement Which Has Recently Become Pronounced in Both Labor and Liberal Circles.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, May 9.—Arthur Ponsonby, the Labor member for Brighton, Sheffield, who is himself of aristocratic lineage, introduced a bill in the House of Commons yesterday, which is designed to terminate hereditary titles, enabling the present peers to renounce their titles by deed of poll and barring heirs and successors born after the passage of the bill from succession to titles.

Mr. Ponsonby, introducing his bill, expressed the opinion that many peers would take advantage of the first provision, especially those who found high sounding titles an embarrassment, and also peers of ancient lineage who might be dissatisfied with the numerous colleagues presented to them in the last few years. Everyone, he added, said "Mr. Ponsonby, that the peerage was becoming grotesque, and when the Labor party came into office, neither for party purposes nor public services would they confer hereditary honors."

Although it may safely be predicted that the bill will not travel far on its parliamentary journey, it is expressive of a movement which has recently become pronounced in both Labor and Liberal circles.

Pope Received King And Queen In Solemn Audience In Apostolic Palace Of Vatican

Pope Pius Walked to Greet British Sovereigns, Holding Out His Hand to Them in Cordial Greeting—The Audience Lasted Nearly Half an Hour.

(Associated Press Despatch)
ROME, May 9.—Pope Pius received King George and Queen Mary in solemn audience in the Apostolic Palace of the Vatican at eleven o'clock this morning.

Their Majesties were accompanied by Hon. Theophilus Russell, British Minister to the Holy See, and by his suite. They drove into the Vatican through the gate of the mint, and upon arriving in the courtyard of St. Damaso, were accorded military honors by the Palatine Guards and a detachment of Pontifical carabinieri.

The Prince of Ruspoli, Grand Master of the Holy Hospice, in his picturesque costume of black velvet and ruff, opened the door of the machine bearing the King and Queen, and as the sovereigns stepped forth they were welcomed in the name of the Pontiff by Mgr. De Samperi, papal major domo.

The Royal cortege, comprising high prelates and prominent personages of the papal court, then formed, escorting Their Majesties up the staircase into the Clementine Hall.

King George was in full dress uniform. Queen Mary wore the customary black dress and veil.

At the head of the state twenty-four Swiss guards presented arms as the remainder of the papal court came forward to receive the Royal visitors, and the party then proceeded through the rooms of the palace toward the papal apartment.

Only King George, Queen Mary and Mr. Russell entered the private library of the Pontiff, where the audience took place.

As the door opened, Pius XI. walked to meet the British sovereigns, holding out his hand to them in cordial greeting. The Pontiff was gowned entirely in white, wearing on his head a white zucchetto.

The audience lasted nearly half an hour. At its conclusion members of the English suite of the King were introduced and presented by him to the Pope.

Immediately after the audience Their Majesties descended to the apartment of Cardinal Gasparri, paying to the Papal Secretary of State the usual visit. They then went to the Patrizi Palace, the temporary residence of Mr. Russell, where Cardinal Gasparri immediately returned the call, remaining for the luncheon which Mr. Russell gave in honor of the sovereigns. To this affair were invited the various members of the Roman aristocracy connected with the papal court.

CATARRHOZONE

A Success Because It Really Reaches the Source of the Trouble.

A cough mixture usually fails because it slips over the sore spots, drops into the stomach, and does little else but upset your digestion. CATARRHOZONE is a real success because it goes where the trouble really is, because every time you breathe through the inhaler you send healing balsams to the inflamed parts. You experience a pleasant sensation of warmth, tightness, soreness and coughing disappear, the throat is strengthened, and further attacks are unlikely.

For many years Mr. Johnston served on his township council and board of school commissioners, giving his best service for the well-being of his community. In 1905 he gave up farming and took up his abode in the village of Ulverton, where, in quiet and comfort, he spent his declining years.

He was a great lover of his home and loved ones, and also had a wide circle of friends, to whom it was ever his delight and that of his good wife to extend hospitality, his broad-mindedness being revealed in the fact that among his most cherished and devoted friends were many Catholics, who warmly reciprocated his kindness of heart and held him in the highest esteem. He was a life-long member of the Congregational Church and was ever faithful in attendance at its services until poor health prevented, and was ever liberal and generous in his gifts to every good cause.

The funeral service took place at the Methodist Church, Ulverton, on April 27th, and was conducted by the former and present pastors of the deceased, the Revs. G. H. Craik and Thomas Knowles, and in attendance and spirit was a revelation of the esteem in which the departed one was held.

The deceased leaves to mourn his loss his widow, one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Smith; two grandsons, Gordon and Henry Smith, and also several nephews and nieces. Sturdy for the right, a good neighbor, a man who followed the ways of peace and good-will with all men, he will be much missed.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills

The Great Liver Regulators

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

Therefore when the liver is inactive and failing to secrete bile in sufficient quantity constipation and other liver troubles soon follow.

Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson, Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"I have been using your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and they have done me a lot of good."

My liver bothered me a great deal; I was drowsy and tired all the time and didn't feel like doing anything, let alone my housework. I tried everything, but your Pills seemed to do the work far better than anything I had ever taken."

CLEVELAND TOWN COUNCIL HELD MEETING

Lengthy Discussion Over Bills of Contractors Who Kept Winter Roads Open.

RICHMOND, Que., May 9.—The regular session of the municipal council of the township of Cleveland took place in the office of the council at the court house, Richmond, on Tuesday, May 7th, with Mayor G. E. Boast presiding and Councillors Gordon Wintle, Joseph Duclos, George S. Duffett, W. J. Lockwood and Aime Tremblay in attendance, together with the secretary-treasurer, Col. W. R. Stevens.

A bill for damages by the winter road going through his meadow was sent in by George Cumiskey, and was referred to Road Superintendent R. E. Dyson, the council agreeing to pay whatever Mr. Dyson thought was right.

Councillor Wintle reported that it was not necessary to open culverts on the Government road between here and Mr. D. E. Taylor's this spring.

Letters were read from the department of roads, refusing to grant $10,000 on the three per cent. basis for construction on the Craig's road and Spooner Pond road. Another letter was read from Jacob Nicol concerning the regular annual grants.

Mr. Thomas Poirier was appointed valuator in place of Mr. Joseph Tremblay, who was unable to act.

Claims were brought in by Mr. William Mason and Mr. Shaw, of Kingsley, for damage to animals on the road and were laid over pending investigation.

The secretary was instructed to write the Sacred Heart Hospital at Sherbrooke and find out if a poor, unfortunate of Cleveland, who is without means of support, would be accepted there as an inmate sent by the council.

The sum of $25 was voted for repairing the Cull road from the Craig's road to Mr. Odilon Tremblay's, to be done under supervision and with the understanding that the ratepayers on that road would contribute an equal amount.

The entire afternoon session was taken up in discussing the bills sent in by the different contractors who kept open the winter roads. Six of these were found to be excessive but the rest will be paid in full on Saturday, May 12th, the mayor and secretary treasurer being authorized to secure a loan at the Molson's Bank to aid in this settlement.

MANY MEETINGS HELD AT BURY; OTHER NEWS

Board of Trade Discussed Important Questions—Methodist Board Held Session.

BURY, Que., May 9.—The quarterly official board of the Methodist Church here met on Friday afternoon last at the Bury Church. There was a good attendance of members. This being the last meeting of the board for the church year, reports from all the various departments of the church's activities were presented. Reports from the Ladies' Aid of both appointments showed a year of successful operation, with perhaps a somewhat restricted activity as compared with more favorable years, and yet at the same time proving that both societies were live wires.

The W.M.S. report was presented by Mrs. M. T. Stokes, who deeply regretted that its finances were not up to the standard of last year. Sunday school reports were given by the two superintendents and each indicated that good work was being done in the respective schools.

The financial reports of each appointment were, comparatively speaking, good. In the case of the Bury appointment it was found that the recent drive had been productive of fine results. At the same time the objective has not entirely been reached.

Balloting for the delegate to attend the district meeting resulted in the appointing of Mr. G. Atkins, with Mr. F. J. Bennett as alternate. The stewards for the ensuing year were also elected. The two treasurers, one for Bury and one for Brookbury, were re-elected, a hearty vote of thanks being accorded them for their past services in this respect.

A billiting committee and also a committee to arrange for the providing of meals for the delegates attending the district meeting, which this year is to be held in Bury, were elected. It was decided that the congregational meeting, both at Bury and Brookbury, should be held some time during the second week in June.

Owing to sickness the February meeting of the board was not held, and a motion that should have been presented at that meeting was put through at this meeting. This was a most hearty and cordial invitation to the Rev. E. M. Wilson, B.A., to remain as pastor. This was put almost as a mere matter of form, for Mr. Wilson is held in such esteem that any thought to the contrary is nowhere entertained. The board greatly appreciates the work Mr. Wilson is doing.

General Notes.

The Bury W.M.S. held a meeting on May 3rd at the home of Mrs. L. D. MacLeod, the president. Mrs. R. H. MacRae was in charge of the meeting and conducted the devotional exercises. The financial report for the year just closed was given by the treasurer, which showed that the sum of $75 had been sent away to the branch treasurer.

A reading, "The Night of the Mite Box," was given by Mrs. Abel Whitehead, and another entitled "Seeing Eyes and Hearing Ears," by Mrs. MacRae. The study book chapter was taken by Mrs. Wm. Cathcart. There was a good attendance of members and one visitor.

On Friday evening the Bury Board of Trade held their monthly meeting at the town hall. About fifteen members were present and much business was put through. A discussion on the enforcement of the municipal by-law restricting fishing and the duty of putting members of helping to get this law observed was held. Arrangements were made for posting a quantity of the signs obtained calling attention to this by-law, and several of the members agreed to see to their proper distribution and posting. The question of fire protection was again well to the fore, and the committee appointed at the various meetings to study this matter and brought in their report, which was adopted by the board. The question of "daylight saving" also came up for discussion. It was decided that the board was not in favor of putting daylight saving into effect. It was felt that unless a provincial or Dominion measure was enacted, which would ensure uniformity, only confusion and irritation resulted from adopting the scheme by scattered municipalities.

The song service on Sunday evening at the Methodist Church attracted a very large congregation and was of exceptional merit. With a full choir the various items were rendered in a style that merited and received a full measure of praise. The choir was preparing special music for mother's day next Sunday. They are giving a piece entitled "Mother of Mine," words by Frona Scott and music by Trea B. Hollon.

The annual meeting of the Bury Ladies' Aid will meet on Thursday next at Mrs. L. D. MacLeod's. At this meeting the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place, and every member should try to be present.

The Bury C.G.I.T. met on Wednesday evening with Miss Lena Anderson, and on Friday evening at 7:30 a joint meeting of the C.G.I.T. and the Tuxis Square will meet in the Methodist Sunday school hall.

The Bury Ladies' Aid are negotiating with the Parker Concert Combination for the giving of a concert at Bury in the near future.

All regret to hear of the death of Mr. Thomas Hood, who died at his home on Tuesday afternoon. The sympathy of the neighborhood goes out to the bereaved family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Stokes and Mrs. Wright Goodenough motored to Coaticook on Tuesday.

FUNERAL OF LATE MRS. MacMILLAN

The death took place on May 5th at the Sherbrooke Hospital of Mabel Ina Reed, wife of Samuel D. MacMillan. Mrs. MacMillan, who was thirty-four years of age, had only been ill a short time and her death came as a shock to her relatives and many friends.

Besides her husband and infant son, she leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother of Ulverton; three sisters, Miss Eleanor Reed, of Newton, Mass.; Mrs. Massey, of Ulverton; and Mrs. Waterhouse, of Lisgar; two brothers, Henry and Chester Reed, of Springfield. The funeral service was held at her late home, 16 Mount Pleasant Street, Rev. B. B. Brown officiating. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, tokens of esteem and love. The bearers were Messrs. Max Pelletier, W. H. Buddell, George Moorecroft and H. R. Morgan.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN

The Self Denial Campaign of the Salvation Army is under way and the citizens' committee is already actively engaged in securing the necessary funds for this worthy object. The work of the Salvation Army has secured the approbation for the public on a greater scale than ever before and the returns of the Self Denial Campaign are practically the only source of revenue which enables the Army to keep its doors open for the poor and needy that visit the many institutions as well as to provide for the maintenance of its missionary operations.

People, therefore, give with pleasure, rejoicing that they have a share in the reclaiming of broken humanity and the spreading of the Gospel of light and love. The members of the citizens' committee are assured of a hearty welcome in their efforts and whole hearted generosity is anticipated.

BELVIDERE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ANNUAL

There was quite a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Belvidere Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs. Fred Parkin, when, with Mrs. Matthew, president, the reports for the past year were read and the officers for the ensuing twelve months elected. Owing to so much sickness, this was the first meeting since January, and proved very interesting.

Mrs. Drummond, secretary-treasurer, read the annual report, stating that a crate of oranges had been sent to the typhoid sufferers at Mansonville. Letters received and other business on hand received due attention, and the election of officers followed, viz.:

President, Mrs. A. Ellis; vice-president, Mrs. T. Beck; secretary, Miss Florence Collins; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Wheeler; sick committee, Mrs. Parkin, Mrs. Price and Mrs. Drummond; entertainment committee, Mrs. Wm. Cillis, Mrs.

SEVENTY-FIVE BOYS COMING TO GIBBS HOME

Mr. Thos. Keeley Returns from His Annual Trip to England—Boys Sail Next Week.

Seventy-five out of a hundred applicants were selected by Mr. Thos. Keeley, to be sent out to the Gibbs' Home, Sherbrooke, and fifty of these boys will be sailing next week.

Mr. Keeley has returned from his annual trip to England in connection with the selection of these boys to be sent to the Gibbs' Home and the fifty boys who sail on May 19th will be ready to leave the Gibbs' Home on May 31st, after a few days in which to get used to the new surroundings. A second party of twenty-five will arrive in June. It appears the Canadian and British Governments are giving increased attention to child emigration from the British Isles. Next to repatriating Canadians, this is considered nowadays the most valuable form of immigration for Canada. Selection of children is carefully done and high mental and physical tests imposed in England and at port of landing. Before children from Homes in Britain can be prepared for emigration, a Canadian Government official must first interview them and report upon their mental and physical condition. Prior to 1920 Canadian Government inspectors in Canada visited only a proportion of the children brought to this country. For the past three years however, the inspection staff has visited every year, and at least until the child attains 18 years, all children immigrating by organized means in the British Isles. The Immigration Department is consequently in possession of information at first hand regarding the quality of the juvenile immigrant. The opinion of those in a position to know is extremely favorable and the demand is for more child immigration.

TRYING TO PASS

Mr. Keeley sailed on the "Canada" of the White Star Dominion Line and informed our representative the voyage was his most interesting, to date, on the Western Ocean. The passengers were grateful to the Captain, R. G. Smith, for his capable navigation through ice and fog which taxed the powers of the most experienced sailor. Under ordinary conditions Montreal would have been reached on Sunday but the passengers did not get there until the following Friday. There was too much ice in the gulf and river to permit landing at Quebec, and Halifax became the port of debarkation. After altering the vessel's course, the "Canada" went to the assistance of a steam fishing trawler which had broken its propeller and took off four passengers who had been detained fourteen days on board. An offer was made to convey the crew of the trawler to Halifax but this was declined, the trawler's captain deciding to remain in the ice until a tug could be sent to his relief.

Though three large passenger vessels were diverted to Halifax, the White Star and Canadian National Railway Companies met the situation efficiently. The shipping company defrayed cost of transporting and victualing the passengers to Montreal. Special representatives of the White Star and Canadian National Companies met the passengers at Halifax, accompanying them to Montreal. The trip was made in the most comfortable manner, the passengers testifying to their appreciation in the form of a letter of thanks signed by all on board.

LENNOXVILLE

Town Council Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening, Mayor H. W. S. Downs presiding. It was reported that Mr. A. O. Beck, having been elected alderman, afterwards handing in his resignation, had been waited upon by a deputation and asked to reconsider his decision. Mr. Beck had held to his former resolution, so that the Council, with regret, was obliged to accept his resignation. Nomination day for the election of an alderman to fill the vacancy was set for May 18, and election day for May 28.

A deputation from the Curling Club asked exemption from taxes and water rates for five years for the rink which it expected will shortly be erected. The matter was left in the hands of a committee to be dealt with. Mr. A. T. Speid presented plans of his lots and asked what should be done to meet requirements. It was arranged that a committee of the whole Council should go over the lots with a view to settling the matter.

Mr. Shaw, of Sherbrooke, asked that sewerage and water systems be laid to his property on Wilson Street, but as the distance is over 500 feet, the Council did not see fit to accede to his request, only one residence being concerned.

An adjourned meeting will be held on May 21.

Author's Reading

The executive and members of the Lennoxville Band met in a gathering of special interest on Monday evening in the band headquarters, when Rev. J. Emery Coulter, of Huntingville, gave an "author's reading," the subject matter used being his comedy drama, "The Deacon's Son," which is to be presented in St. George's Hall on the evening of June 12. The cast of characters, most of whom were present, will include Mr. D'Arcy Bennett as the deacon's son, Mr. Raymond Epps as a bootblack, Mr. M. J. Bennett will act the part of a Boston policeman and Mr. John Epps that of a gambler. Mr. Coulter will himself take the New Hampshire deacon's character. The cast includes thirteen characters, and to these manuscript parts were given, and rehearsals will begin at once.

"Strictly Business," a Big Success

Douglas Hall last night was filled to capacity, the attraction being the play, "Strictly Business," given by members of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church and some of the young people of the church. The play represented a meeting of the Ladies' Aid, and gave room for quaint features, and these were admirably supplied by the cast of characters. The minister and his wife, Rev. Benson and Mrs. Marlow, were represented by Mr. A. W. Bradley and Miss Ruth Edwards. The parsonage was the scene of the Aid meeting, rather thrust upon a somewhat unwilling host and hostess not yet fully settled in their new home, by inquisitive members of the society who, under the guise of seeking to find what furnishings the parsonage needed, concealed their curiosity concerning the new minister and his wife's housekeeping.

Gardwell, the president (Mrs. W. J. Lane) made a heroic effort to keep the meeting strictly to business, but was unable to suppress the discussion of various side-lines. Old Mrs. Peeper (Miss Mina Pergau) was ably seconded by Miss Jane Golding (Mrs. Pargau). Mrs. Downs as Mrs. Ledger, made an admirable secretary. The character of the gossip who hears things over the telephone, as depicted by Mrs. Willard, convulsed the audience with laughter.

Mrs. Seale, in the character of an Irishwoman of optimistic turn of mind, not only looked and acted the part, but successfully imitated the Irish "brogue." Mrs. Ross, to whom was given at the last moment a minor part, so lived in her character as a nervous, busy critic as to make it one of the most successful of the cast. Mrs. Ogilvie (Mrs. Bassett) introduced her niece, just home from the city after receiving a degree in music. Miss Laura Willard (Mrs. Ogilvie's niece) then appeared in a new role, as an inimitably comic manner she sang "Why Should I Cry Over You?" Miss Willard gave "All for the Love of Mike" as an encore.

Mrs. Hadlock acted as accompanist both to Miss Willard and to Miss Edwards' solos, given as interjections into the play. Other characters were Miss Hattie Fuller (Miss Brundage) and little Olive Edwards, the minister's only child. Miss Maude Parker gave two piano solos as a prelude to the play, and Mr. A. W. Bradley contributed dialectic readings to the general enjoyment. The proceeds, over $80, will be applied to the work of the Ladies' Aid.

Young People's Corner

Uncle Jim's Letter

Dear Corner Children:—Well, how is every one this evening? I know the school children are very busy and some of them are probably worrying about the exams. I wonder why? When Uncle Jim went to school we used to get nervous about our exams because we felt we had not studied quite enough. Does that ever happen nowadays?

I think Rena's and Douglas's letters must have strayed about some before reaching me, for they are dated April 26th and 27th. I am very sorry, but hope you will write again to the corner, and that they will come right along. Douglas has quite a long ride on his "bike", but it is nice to spin along these bright May mornings. I hope you do not have to walk all that distance when it rains, Douglas.

I was in the woods yesterday morning, and I found Mayflowers, yellow Bells, and a few blue violets they were quite small, but were the blue ones; not the tiny white ones.

I have planted seeds today; cucumber, lettuce, Swiss chard and morning glories. I have them in a box so I can cover them if Mr. Jack Frost comes along some night.

I haven't received my corner mail yet, and will probably have a number of letters when they reach me. I will try to write something interesting tomorrow. Until then best wishes from

UNCLE JIM.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim:—This is my second letter to the corner. I am signing the J.R.C. form, and please may I have a badge and magazine? I have a kitten for a pet (I have een sick, but I fed the birds yesterday. They haven't been near the food today. How can I draw their attention to it, Uncle Jim? I will close wishing the corner success. Your loving niece,

RENA E. BOOTH,

Waterville.

Dear Uncle Jim:—This is my first letter to your corner. I would like to join the J.R.C. group. I go to school on my wheel now. I go to Richmond, six miles from here. I heard the frogs last night. I guess that means that spring is finished, for I have heard that when they come it is over. I will close now, hoping to see my letter in print. Yours truly,

DOUGLAS SMITH,

St. Cyr.

ROTARIANS GIVE FULL SUPPORT TO THE CHILD CLINIC

Provincial Grant of $1,500 Considered Likely—Active Support of the Rotary Club.

Last night's session of the Sherbrooke Branch of the Rotary Club was devoted practically entirely to a discussion of the ways and means of assisting the Child Welfare Clinic and definite arrangements are now practically concluded in this respect. During the course of the evening, the financial statement was presented by Rotarian Abe Echenberg and was followed by the budget for the coming year, presented, in the absence of the newly elected treasurer, Rotarian G. D. Wadsworth, by Secretary R. E. Richardson.

The chairman of the different committees were then announced and it is interesting that each committee has a new chairman every year, the appointment rotating in every sense of the word. The committees are as follows:

Fellowship committee, W. A. Van Buren; Musical committee, A. Blier; Boys' Work committee, K. Barrett; Rotary education, W. Ballantyne; Publicity committee, C. A. Robidoux; Inter-city relations, C. A. Joslin; Luncheon committee, W. G. Cross; Entertainment committee, Dr. J. C. McConnell; Auditor, S. E. Francis; Sergeant-at-Arms, Forest Keene. Rotarians Karl Barrett, William Cross, Dr. Fred Bradley and L. Cook briefly outlined the result of their visit to the Child Welfare Clinic after which Rotarian E. J. Page explained the nature of the work the committee proposed to undertake. It is planned to organize a membership committee, with a sustaining membership of $5 and a regular membership of $1 and it is anticipated that some six hundred members will be secured. The Rotarians are also taking the matter up actively and it is hoped that sufficient funds will be obtained to enable the clinic to carry on its good work pending receipt of a grant from the Provincial Government. The clinic is now being incorporated and when this has been completed it is practically assured that $1,500 will be forthcoming. The original amount considered by the Government was $1,000 but it has been pointed out that this would be entirely inadequate to provide for the work being accomplished. The Provincial Treasurer, the Hon. Jacob Nicol, is in close touch with the situation and it is confidently expected that the amount of $1,500 will be among the appropriation of the immediate future. Rotarian E. W. Farwell and Rev. E. Read briefly commented upon the splendid work and endorsed the membership idea suggested.

London Hospital in a Bad Way
During the course of the evening the members had the pleasure of hearing a few remarks from Mr. A. G. Gamlen, a member of the board of management of the Royal Free Hospital, London, England. Mr. Gamlen observed that the hospitals in London were in a bad way owing to lack of organization, and the lack of personal interest. He congratulated the rotarians upon the splendid initiative they were taking and expressed his pleasure in seeing that the members were taking a personal interest in the work on hand.

He referred to the small charge made, to those able to pay, at the Royal Free Hospital, and held that this was a great factor in having people attend when they realized that they were actually paying towards the treatment they received. He held that the work of the clinics must be carried into the homes by nurses and stated that the education of the mother was even more essential than looking after the children.

The session was brought to a close with a brief discussion of the work to be undertaken in connection with child welfare clinic and the members assured the directors of their unanimous support.

PATRIOTIC FUND CONCLUDES ITS ACTIVITIES

Sherbrooke Branch Handled Over Four Hundred Thousand Dollars—Much Relief Administered.

At the final meeting of the finance and executive committee of the Sherbrooke branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund held in the board room of the Quebec Central Railway, the affairs of this branch were wound up by the committee; the committee disbanded, ordered its accounts presented and instructions were given to close the office. In the absence of Col. Fraser, chairman of the executive, Mr. J. H. Walsh took the chair. A financial statement was presented by the honorary treasurer, Mr. T. J. Parkes, showing that the total contributions to the fund amounted to $280,640; in addition to which an amount of $127,550 was received from Ottawa for distribution as relief to the dependents of the soldiers at the front or who had returned home, so that this branch handled a total of $408,190. The expenses of the fund have been very slight, amounting to 2.53 p.c. of the total cash handled. The expenses included all the expenses of the campaigns for funds, administering relief, etc. Total relief payments amounted to $187,047; in addition to which from the joint campaign were paid out the following amounts:

Canadian Red Cross $35,788.24
Sherbrooke Patriotic Association 22,037.70
Navy League of Canada 7,200.00
British Sailors' Relief Fund 3,400.00
I.O.D.E. 1,200.00
Khaki Club 800.00
Returned Soldiers' and Sailors' Aid 1,340.65
French Red Cross 500.00
British Red Cross 500.00

Resolutions were passed disbanding the various committees, discharging the officers, and votes of thanks to committees, officers, and particularly the Ladies' Relief committee, who have been so active, led by Mrs. W. E. Paton and Mrs. J. A. Darche, and without whose assistance the Sherbrooke branch would scarcely have functioned.

A very large number of relief cases have been handled and thousands have benefited through the Sherbrooke branch. The activities of this branch have not been confined to Sherbrooke, but have reached out to localities fifty miles away. Through this branch the Child's Welfare Clinic was started for the special relief, at first, of the soldiers' children, and it is now widening its scope to take in the children of civilians. In addition to the bad harvest of 1921 to the men, women and children of the Soldier Settlement farms, who suffered severely from the bad crops, and this fund in conjunction with the Sherbrooke Red Cross and the V.O.N., contributed very largely to relief during that hard winter.

MARRIAGES

YORSTON-SWEET
NORTH SUTTON, May 9.—A quiet and pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Ogden Sweet on Monday afternoon, when her youngest daughter, Daisy Mary, was united in marriage with William Yorston, of Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask. The bride was unattended and wore a becoming suit of blue serge. A wedding supper followed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. W. Boyd, of Sutton, after which the bride and groom left on the evening express for a short trip to Montreal and other points.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Julian Martin, of South Stukely; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farmer, of Brome; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sweet, of Gilmart; Miss Frances Westover, of Sutton Junction; Mrs. Strathey, of Montreal; and Mrs. Mary Plamondon, of Toronto, sister of the groom.

Shot from Guns

WHAT fun your children think it is—eating delicious food that has actually been shot from guns! It dwarfs any experience of "Alice in Wonderland"!

What a satisfaction to the mother to have her children prefer these wholesome steam exploded foods to anything else she can provide! At any hour of the day when children are hungry, puffed dainties are always ready and always joyously welcomed. Children love to carry the crisp grains in their pockets, and nibble them as they would nuts.

Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are nourishing, whole grain foods in the appetizing form of light, delicate, nutty morsels. Served with milk, they provide ideal nourishment, because they supply the food elements which milk lacks. They are delicious with berries and cream, or sprinkled with melted butter.

How the Grains are Puffed

To the invention of Dr. A. P. Anderson, we owe the unique process of making Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice by shooting the grain from guns. The selected grains are first cleaned and then sealed in huge guns of heavy iron. The guns revolve for an hour in a fierce heat. This cooks the grain and turns all its moisture to high pressure steam. When the guns shoot into a great room of fine wire mesh the grains are exploded. Each grain is puffed to 3 times its normal size, and 125 million steam explosions take place in each kernel. Every food granule is thus broken into minute fragments and the whole grain becomes easy to digest and delicious to eat.

AEROPLANE MAIL SERVICE.

The development of the aeroplane mail service in Canada is a matter which is creating more than a casual interest and the successes which are being achieved across the border suggest that in the not too distant future, Canada will be discussing aero mail deliveries between Halifax and Vancouver.

Last year the aeroplane service of the United States flew over two million miles without a fatal accident to the aviators. Within a couple of months an aerial mail service will, according to Postmaster-General New, make the direct flight between New York and San Francisco in twenty-eight hours. The air mail will start at one end of this flight at noon of one day and by sun down of the next will deliver the mail at the other side of the continent. The distance is roughly given as three thousand miles.

The night flying on this trip will be done by an aviator who will leave Chicago in the evening and descend at Cheyenne, Wyoming, at dawn. The entire line of the journey will be marked by lights—at Chicago, Iowa City, Omaha, North Platte and Cheyenne will be great beacons with 600,000,000 candle-power. An intervening points, twenty miles apart, will be landing places and search lights, and every three miles between these points lesser lights. From high in air on clear nights a path of light will mark the entire line of the night flight. The machine itself will have two powerful searchlights and a wireless service. It is believed that every precaution has been taken for safe and rapid night flying.

Not so long ago—many remember it—it took, not hours, but months, to carry mail across the continent. Then the railway came and made the trip within the week. Soon the aeroplane will be doing it in a day.

HAVE ANOTHER GRIEVANCE.

Housewives have another serious grievance against the sugar speculator, in addition to the complaint that the speculator is responsible for the big jumps in the price of this very necessary commodity.

Official reports show that thousands of children have been engaged each year on the sugar-beet farms of Colorado and Michigan.

Statistics gathered by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor of Washington and the National Child Labor Committee of New York show that children begin to work in the beet fields at the age of five; that they work from nine to fourteen hours a day during two short seasons; that the entire family of the beet laborer, with the exception of the smallest children, work in the fields; that babies and children under five receive little care, and are sometimes left at home without caretakers; that the laborer's family occupies whatever temporary shelter it can find, sometimes the poorest kind of shanty; that sanitary conditions are far from good, and overcrowding common. But "the most serious effect of this contract peonage of children in sugar-beet fields," declares the report of the New York organization, "is their failure to get an American education."

Some of the Michigan and Colorado newspapers think that these reports are exaggerated, and see no great harm in employing youngsters in agriculture in order to help their parents to make a living. But child-labor law prohibits the employment of children under fourteen in workshops and factories. To employ them even for short periods in sugar-beet fields may weaken the public feeling against any kind of child labor.

ALL RUSSIAN CLERGYMEN MUST CONFORM TO THE CHURCH REGULATIONS

Unless They Do So They Are to Be Branded as Traitors.

(Associated Press Despatch.)
MOSCOW, May 9.—Russian clergymen abroad will be branded as traitors unless they conform to the church regulations which now prevail in Russia, according to a resolution adopted by the church conclave yesterday, otherwise they will be unfrocked. Krassnitsky, head of the living church council, who has been overshadowed in the present conference, by seconding the resolution, attempted to get back into the fold. The new Archbishop of Moscow Venedsky delivered another dramatic speech, saying that perhaps the time was not ripe for perfect reform, but that the clergy must dispense with all dogma and get down to a basis of real Christianity.

Dr. Tikhon, the former patriarch, has not yet been informed of the action of the conclave in unfrocking him.

PRESS COMMENT

A BOTTLE BATTLE AHEAD.

(Florida Times-Union.)
Now that the navy is to be used against the rum fleet we will soon be reading about the battle of Sandy Hook.

AFFECTED THE RAINFALL.

(Toronto Globe.)
In Canada it is probable that the denudation of the forests has greatly affected the rainfall. At any rate the rainfall is no longer held back as it once was by the bush, but rushes madly to the sea carrying in solution great quantities of earth, resulting over a long period in marked changes to both land and streams.

THEY FEAR THE LASH.

(London Advertiser.)
The judge in the Women's Court at Toronto is ordering the lash applied to men guilty of assault on women. Reports say the prisoners show extreme signs of uneasiness when this sentence is given. A man who beats or assaults a woman is a coward, and a coward hates to be hurt himself.

CANADIAN COAL SUPPLY.

(Peterboro' Examiner.)
With the passing of winter there is also noticeable a great falling off in interest in the question of Canada's fuel supply.

This, of course, is to be expected, but at the same time it is the indifference to the matter between seasons that leaves us at the mercy of the United States operators in the cold weather.

THE GOUIN BETTING BILL.

(Ottawa Journal.)
Sir Lomer Gouin's race-track gambling bill has passed the Commons. It should go through the Senate. The measure will not discourage racing or legitimate betting on racing. It will not unduly interfere with the freedom of the subject. It is designed to suppress a form of subterranean professional gambling for which racing is little more than a mechanical appendage, and by which much misery is caused to the innocent victims of the gambler's passion.

HENRY FORD'S FORTUNE.

(Christian Science Monitor.)
In a wider and more notable way the achievement of Henry Ford has done and is still doing one great public good. He is demonstrating to those who study social phenomena intelligently that the mere accumulation of money is not in itself a menace to society or a crime against social organization. It is the method by which it is accumulated and the use to which it is put that provokes natural resentment, when either is hostile to the public welfare. Mr. Ford has had no special privileges granted to him by law in which others might not share, upon which to build his enormous edifice of wealth. And if he has occasionally used the power that wealth gave him rather foolishly, as in the case of the peace ship and his journalistic attack upon the Jews, no one has suffered but himself. In the main, he has employed it to furnish at the lowest possible price a useful mechanical adjunct to man's convenience and happiness. In so doing, he has widely extended the field of employment, and paid those who served him a liberal wage, measured by present industrial standards. It is improbable that so great a sum of money as he now controls could be more successfully administered for the general good in any other individual hands. Certainly the records of governmental inefficiency suggest that it has contributed far more to the public welfare, as administered by Henry Ford, than it would be if it were part of the capital of the nation as a commonwealth.

ARRESTS MADE AT ST. JOHNS IN ROBBERY CASE

Case Against City Heard—Firemen Were Called Out for a Small Blaze.

ST. JOHNS, Que., May 9.—Two suspects have been taken in charge in connection with a robbery at LaColle, when a number of rings, watches, etc., were stolen from the store of Mr. Landry, of that place. Report of the robbery was sent out and Chief Turgeon and his men commenced a search, and finally got trace of some of the rings. Search was continued for the suspects and it was found that they had taken an automobile belonging to Mr. Baillargeon. The auto was found abandoned on the road between Irberville and Farnham, and later two of the three suspects were captured.

CITY WINS POINT.
A few years ago the city was sued by Royal Le Sage, a civil engineer, of Montreal. Mr. Le Sage was engaged by a resolution to prepare some plans and specifications for the Jackwood Creek affair. He was engaged only for the above works, but in his account he was including $1,000 as damages for having been deprived of the supervision of the work. The bill which was $2,500 was as follows: $1,500 for plans, etc., $1,000 for damages for non-supervision of the works.

Justice Maclellan condemned the city to the full amount, but the Court of Appeal unanimously modified the first judgment and reduced it to $1,500 with the costs of an action of that amount and with all the costs of the appeal against Le Sage, on the principle that the city never agreed to do the works and specially never agreed to give the supervision to Le Sage.

PRESENTATIONS MADE.
At the close of a session of the St. James' Church Sunday School occasion was taken to say farewell to two of the members of the teaching staff: Miss Florence Nurse, whose family has removed to Montreal, and Miss Derinda Ellis, who is entering the Children's Memorial Hospital as nurse-in-training. The former was presented with a handbag and the latter with a silver pin by the members of their respective classes. Mr. Roy Wilson, B.A., Superintendent, spoke of the splendid work done by these two teachers, the regret felt at their removal and wished them God-speed in their new work.

General Notes.
As all factories and many other concerns advanced their time on April 30th, the city council at a meeting on Tuesday evening, decided to make it official by authorizing all to advance their time pieces one hour on Sunday, May 6th. A chimney fire at 38 Jacques Cartier Street gave the brigade a run on Thursday mornings. Babcocks were used to extinguish the blaze.

THE MEMORIAL FOREST ADDS 20,000 PINES

St. Johnsbury Plants Large Number of Trees on Town Farm Hill.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., May 9.—The 20,000 white pines which St. Johnsbury is to add this year to the town's memorial forest are being planted on town farm hill under the supervision of the selectmen. The trees arrived Friday from the State nursery at Essex Junction and are the Scotch white pine, impervious to blight. This is the second lot planted, 20,000 having been set out a year ago, in accordance with the vote at town meeting that 20,000 should be planted yearly until a certain number of acres comprising the "hill" had been set out. The vote was the result of agitation by the Women's Club and others interested in forestry, and the president of the club at that time, Mrs. Alvin W. Flint, planted the first one hundred trees.

The trees set out last year have made a remarkable growth, according to inspectors who visited the "forest." Very few have died, and the year's growth is from eight to ten inches. The pines are planted very thick to provide for thinning, but very few have had to be removed.

ed. Through the agricultural and forestry departments they are secured at a very low price, and in the years to come will be a fitting memorial to the heroes of the Great War.

PENSIONS COMMISSION.

Cases coming under the recommendations concerning returned soldiers' pensions would be referred to the Minister of Finance.

Try It Yourself

THE RAZOR THAT SHARPENS ITS OWN BLADES

"Lou - Lou"

A Brilliant and Dramatic Novel of the South Seas.
(BY H. BEDFORD-JONES)

"Pistachio!" she exclaimed delighted. "Why, this is delicious! Come, my dear, you really must join me! I am a sultana, you know, and I cannot be disobeyed. You must eat Mr. Fortesque's sherbet. Poor man, I did him an injustice! Well, eat it, and then I shall depart chez moi."

For a moment Cerise gazed at the greenish, melting ice, then glanced up at Lou-Lou. Her lips trembled; yet upon them lay the shadow of a smile—a very tender, fleeting shadow.

"I see," she said quietly. "It is because I entrapped your man, your plaything, your poor fool who could not be tempted! Well, so much the worse—"

She began to eat the sherbet. Fortesque, meantime, went home to the palace. En route the brown man at his elbow told him a number of things about Cerise—some of them gained from personal experience, all of them authentic. When he reached home, Brain Fortesque was a thoughtful man.

For the remainder of the afternoon, the palace remained quite deserted. Fortesque dined alone. He asked for Luke Quail, and was informed that the old missionary had been summoned to conduct a funeral. He sought an interview with Lou-Lou, and the Sultana sent him back a note.

It read:
I warned you that when we got here you would see me as I am. It had not occurred to me that my view of you might be altered. I never thought that you were a fool—until today. I don't want to see you now.
LOU-LOU

P.S.—I'm not really angry. I'm just glad you didn't eat that Sherbet. Rais Hamed must have prepared the recipe.

Fortesque read and reread this note in some perplexity.

"What the devil does it all mean?" he exclaimed. "I wish we were away from this confounded 'palace'! And what does this mean about the sherbet?"

He discovered the answer later, when Luke Quail, in some agitation, returned from the funeral of Cerise.

Lou-Lou was now to become sultana in fact as well as in name.

Upon the morning after Fortesque's narrow and perhaps tragic escape from the felicity of tasting that pistachio sherbet, the ceremony took place in the throne room of the palace. It was a simple affair, made as impressive as possible by many gay costumes and a large crowd. The bill dattos came in, and swore by Allah and the salvation of their fathers and their own honor to reverence Lou-Lou as their ruler.

Those who might have preferred Zahri, kept very quiet. News had spread abroad of the untimely demise of Cerise, and had gained much in the spreading; it was generally conceded that Lou-Lou knew how to rule the land.

No one knew, however, that early in the morning Lou-Lou had come to Luke Quail and Fortesque.

"Do you blame me for what happened yesterday?" she said, her face pale, as she looked from one to the other. "Does it make you shrink from me, Fortesque?"

"Dear girl, you saved my life," Fortesque's voice was cold, but when the girl looked into his eyes, a smile trembled on her lips. She turned to Luke Quail.

"And you? Did I do wrong?"

For a moment the old man gazed steadily at her. Then he smiled. "My child," he said gently, "who am I, to judge?"

A sudden happiness leaped into her eyes, followed by a mist of tears. "I'll confess something," she exclaimed. "I—I cried all night, thinking of that poor woman. You see, I was not sure of anything. If I had really known that sherbet was poisoned, if she had admitted it, I would not have made her eat it. Afterward, I was sorry."

"Why waste pity?" said Fortesque. "All's for the best, Lou-Lou!" Luke Quail regarded them both, a lingering uneasiness in his eyes. Servants reported that nowhere had any trace been found of the note Franks had left and the dying Trehearne had spoken of.

The ceremony of installation was ended at noon. Fortesque realized that now Lou-Lou was farther than ever from him. The Sultana was enjoying her baubles like a child. As she talked and laughed an eager happiness lighted her face, and exhilaration upbore her like strong wine.

Before the noonday meal was quite over, there came tidings that a ship had been sighted standing in for the harbor—a strange ship, a ship of white men.

The schooner, she was a miniature, perfect in every detail, yet incredibly small. Men who traded for pearls did not need cargo-space thought Fortesque; men who smuggled diamonds and gold out of Sumatra would rather be able to run from a Dutch gunboat than carry a load of shell; and men who sneak camphor out of Borneo would rather hide up a green creek than float to the Pimissolmark outside a bar.

Some men do these things, and account it no discredit. Captain Wrexham was one such man.

He was a bearded man, with a sun-skinned nose and protruding eyes above his brownish beard. A reckless challenge in the set of his head, a brusquerie in his look, was borne out in his wide shoulders and confident carriage. The white suit that he wore was tailor-cut, and he boasted a silk shirt and white cravat in which glistened a small black pearl. A dandy, this!

The fact brought an uneasy glimmer to the eyes of Luke Quail who knew his South Seas well. Fortesque, not knowing them, viewed the trader with some approval.

Captain Wrexham paused before Lou-Lou and removed his straw hat. "Good afternoon!" he said. "I'm Tom Wrexham, skipper and owner of the Nautilus, out yonder. I heard this morning that there was a sultana here, and a rumor of white men. So I came. Very lucky, too!"

To Luke Quail he told of his partner Jimson, suffering from blood poisoning, who wanted to see a preacher.

"If you'll go along with me, Reverend, I'll land you before midnight. Poor old Jimson will die happy if you say a word over him."

The lingering uneasiness vanished from the eyes of Luke Quail, and was replaced by a fervent happiness; this need for his priestly office, awakened him into eager life.

"Queer things in these seas up here," went on Wrexham in his brusque fashion. "Never been up here before, but I'll come again, I guess. Sighted a dirty old schooner this morning about dawn—and Lord, but she was a mess! Must ha' had a fire aboard. Riggins all hangin' in tarred ends, half her canvas gone, and a lousy crew o' natives tryin' to rig new hamper. Her mate looked to be a white-haired Malay and her skipper was a one-eyed old Arab, to judge from the way he cursed me when I asked if he needed any help!"

A guttural "W'allah!" of surprise broke from those of the brown men about who understood him. Lou-Lou suddenly leaped erect and stared at Wrexham with a flame in her eyes.

"Rais Hamed!" she cried out. "I didn't ask his name," returned the trader.

"Did you hear that?" she went on in passionate eagerness. "He had a fire on his ship—he's not far from here! Oh, Barak, Barak! Now—"

"Wait!" broke in Luke Quail. "What do you mean?"

School Boy—"No sir, my name's Alex."

The report of the Grand Lodge, which has just been issued, shows a slight loss in membership for the year due to general conditions.

The Grand Secretary's report shows sixty lodges in operation, with a membership of 6,467; 272 were initiated during the year, three reinstated and thirty-eight admitted by card; 222 were suspended, P.D. 57 withdrawn, 62 deceased. This makes a net loss of 98.

The work of relief was well carried on, according to the report; $26,665.70 were paid out in relief. The total assets of the lodges of Quebec jurisdiction are $328,795.70.

Since the institution of the order in this province in 1878 the amounts paid in relief have been as follows:

Sick benefits, $287,914.44; widows' and orphans' benefits, 115,110.93; funeral benefits, $38,805.80; nurse hire, $3,195.17; surgeons' fees, $2,886.32; special relief, 21,774.74—$499,687.90.

The soldiers' and sailors' fund of the Grand Lodge shows disbursements of $841.52, leaving a balance of $5,256.55.

The Grand Secretary, T. J. Potter, gives at the end of the report an interesting review of history of the I.O.O.F. in Quebec.

Makes Delicious Candy

FOR home-made candies, as for cooking and drinking, Carnation Milk is unsurpassed. Used in your own recipes or in the recipes given in the Carnation Cook Book, its results are sure because it is pure and rich. It is pure whole cows' milk with about 60% of the water removed by evaporation, then sterilized in air-tight containers. Order it from your grocer—several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans.

Try this recipe and write for the free Carnation Cook Book.

FUDGE

2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk, 1/16 teaspoonful cream of tartar, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoonfuls butter, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate. Put sugar, Carnation Milk, water and cream of tartar in a sauce pan. Stir thoroughly. Place on stove and boil slowly. When nearly done, add chocolate and continue cooking until the candy forms a soft ball when dipped in cold water. Remove from fire. Let it partially cool, then stir vigorously. Turn into a greased pan.

HEAVY PENALTY IS GIVEN DRUG TRAFFICKER

Culprit Said to Control Powerful Secret Organization Trading on Vast Scale in Forbidden Drugs.

LONDON.—While the sensational papers are making "the dope menace" a stunt just now and are doing great harm to the cause of international understanding by usually making the Chinese "the villain of the piece," there has recently been an instructive exposure at the Guildhall Police Court of the way British drug traffickers are reaping—or seeking to reap—enormous profits by smuggling drugs to the East for the demoralization of the Chinese.

A young city merchant, Howard M. F. Humphreys, recently received a maximum sentence of six months imprisonment with a fine of £200 for unlawfully offering to procure certain drugs for Tong Say Brothers of Amoy. He had been concerned with a Japanese agent of this firm in sending to China a suite of furniture literally stuffed with morphia and cocaine, enough to give nearly 6,500,000 maximum injections of these drugs.

Extensive Operations Planned.

The consignment was seized at Hong Kong and subsequent correspondence was intercepted between Humphreys and Tong Say Brothers to show that further extensive operations were contemplated.

Humphreys suggested that he could procure and personally convey to Shanghai sufficient revenue to bring in a minimum profit of $49,000, and it was mentioned that the drugs could be got into China in printing ink, in straw boards, in quinine, and in sugar of milk.

The prosecuting counsel declared that Humphreys controlled a powerful secret and wealthy organization for dealing in cocaine and morphia, and the Home Office believe they have made one of what they hope to be an important series of captures.

The proceedings were closely followed by Dame Rachel Crowley, the secretary of the Social Questions Section of the League of Nations, which is responsible for the League's Opium Commission, upon which America was represented at its last meeting by General Blue. It was only the fact that Humphreys made the mistake of writing and posting his intercepted letter in London, instead of in Paris, as he intended, that made his arrest possible.

The previous transaction was carried on through French licensed dealers, and the furniture, it is said, was "doped" in France or Basel, and shipped from Marseilles.

It is intimated that the next meeting of the League Opium Commission in May will be held in London or Paris instead of Geneva.

How Drug is Secreted.

After recounting a long list of devices used for secreting the drug the report says: "To stop smuggling you would have to take to pieces the boots of everyone who lands in the country—for much opium comes between the soles and the uppers; you would be forced to unmake countless wadded waistcoats and belts. You would be obliged, not only to open each case of soap, but cut in two each cake of imported soap, for soap cakes are opened, hollowed out, stuffed with opium and reclosed."

A possibility offering promise of immediate results is the program of the League of Nations, under which all nations are urged to adopt the system of import certificates under which permission to export dangerous drugs from any country to any other should be refused unless the Government of the country of destination approves the importation as filling some legitimate need.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Wall Street Journal—Bankers say it is a reaction in a bull market but there is no getting around the fact that the reaction has been more severe than generally expected.

New York Tribune—The recovery was based almost entirely upon considerations inherent to the market's position and derived little impetus from outside sources.

Journal of Commerce—Toward the close of the day equilibrium of prices had apparently been nearly established and business became decidedly dull, but with some apparent indication that the so-called "bear element" had about exhausted itself in its effort to drive prices to lower levels.

Wall Street Journal will say today:—

London buying stocks increase in cable orders, chiefly for railroad shares.

Steel production at record level. April output was slightly smaller than March, but daily rate was higher.

Woolworth's four months sales largest on record. Total of 52,002,815 increase of $7,102,058 from like period 1921.

Textile trade on sound foundation. Restraint in buying in 1921 and 1922 has kept stocks low. Mills have good orders.

Nickel Plate had record revenue. Big business reflected in 1922 gross of $29,056,785.

March paper production breaks previous high record for that month. Demands holding up.

Refined oil operations: production, consumption and stocks of gasoline during March all increased over previous year.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET WAS ON THE WEAK SIDE

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, May 9.—The stock market was quiet this morning, with prices as a general thing on the weak side. The feature was the trading in Quebec Railway, influenced by the fact that Shawinghan Power is rumored to be considering the acquisition of this property. The stock this morning sold around 25 1/2. The paper issues came in for some attention, Brompton being up a fraction at 40 1/2, Spanish River Common selling around 93 1/2 an improvement on yesterday's price, and Abitibi being up a fraction at 66 1/2. Detroit showed some activity, being up a fraction at 76 1/2.

RATHER STRONG TONE ON WALL STREET EXCHANGE

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, May 9. (Wall Street Noon.)—Speculative leaders, in which a fairly large short interest is supposed to exist, fell in line with the upward trend during the morning. The apparent strong buying support for many issues induced more extensive covering by bear traders. The rapidity of the advance in many of the popular issues indicated that the forced liquidation had been completed and that speculative sentiment was again leaning toward the long side of the market. Some of the outstanding gains were among Locomotive, Five, Kelsey Wheel, four and a half, Stewart Warner, three and three quarters, Bosche Magneto, three and a half and Beechnut Packing, three.

Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

WHEAT AVERAGED HIGHER IN PRICE AT CHICAGO

(Associated Press Despatch.)

CHICAGO, May 9.—Wheat averaged a little higher in price today during the early dealings. The fact that the government crop report was less bullish than was looked for had only a transient influence.

Unreasonably cold weather prevailing tended to lift values and left many traders to adopt a policy of buying when the market showed a setback.

Initial prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4 cent off, with July at $1.17 1/2 to $1.17 3/4 and September at $1.15 1/2 to $1.16 were followed by a slight further decline and then by a rally all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn and cats were firmer with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/4 cent higher, with July at 78 1/2 to 79 cents, the corn market scored moderate general gains.

Oats started 1/4 cent off to 1/4 cent up, with July at 43 1/2 to 44 cents. Later all deliveries showed some advance.
Provisions reflected the grain advance.

COLD WEATHER CHECKED MANY LEAGUE GAMES

Yanks Managed to Nose Out Cleveland in First Game of Series.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, May 9.—April weather made play in the major leagues soggy yesterday and threatened to spoil it again today.

Fighting to lengthen their short lead in first place in the American League, the Yankees floundered through seven innings of rain and several of darkness to defeat Cleveland by 3 to 2. It gave the circuit champions about one game advantage over the Indians and Detroit.

The Tigers lost an opportunity to advance by congealing in the cold and losing to Washington by 8 to 2. Nipping weather froze the St. Louis Browns-Philadelphia Athletics contest, and rain fell in Chicago, and the Boston Red Sox-Chicago White Sox game was flooded out.

The New York Giants were the only team to stand the shock of the first eastern invasion in the National League, beating a weakened Chicago machine by 4 to 1. In the Cubs infield, Kelleher, a shortstop, filled in for Grimes at first, and Frieberg, a converted outfielder, did post at third.

Charley Grimm, first baseman of the Pirates, helped his team keep hot on the Giants' trail by getting a homer against Brooklyn. Incidentally it was the twenty-first consecutive game of the season in which he has hit, all that his team has played. Pittsburgh won by 8 to 6.

At the cost of a slight injury to Rogers Hornsby, all around star second sacker, St. Louis overwhelmed Philadelphia by 11 to 3, getting nineteen hits. Hornsby left the game with a hurt knee. Cincinnati went after Boston's leadership of the second division by taking a thriller by 7 to 6.

FOOTBALL

STRENUOUS GAMES FOR SATURDAY

Interesting games are scheduled in the Eastern Townships Football Association for Saturday next, and soccer fans can anticipate a pleasant afternoon. On the local grounds, Circo will make their first appearance of the season against Quebec Central and a battle royal should ensue. Circo have held several practices and a number of new faces will be included on the line-up. On the other hand, Quebec Central, who were defeated in the closing minutes of the game at East Angus, have eradicated some of their weak points and will present a much stronger aggregation. The game at the Parade Grounds will be handled by Mr. Thomson, of Richmond.

At Lennoxville, Thesco will provide the opposition and their victory against Richmond last week has given them great confidence. Last season these two teams played a drawn game and Lennoxville have also shown a great improvement as was evidenced by the narrow margin by which they were defeated at Beebe. This game will be handled by Mr. Southgate, of Sherbrooke.

MEETING OF THESCO ON FRIDAY

A meeting of the Thesco Club will be held on Friday evening at the company's offices at 7.30 p.m. A practice will be held this evening at the Parade Grounds.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association was held last night in the Y.M.C.A. and after some routine business had been considered a tentative report of the finances of the Association was brought in showing an expenditure for the year of $12,408.00 and an income of

HEALTH OFFICER WAGES WAR ON DARK ROOMS

Report of Work Done by Hygiene Committee During the Past Month.

The report of the hygiene committee for the month of April shows considerable activity on the part of the Health Department. An important feature in this connection is the work of eliminating dark rooms in the houses throughout the city. These dark rooms are severely condemned by sanitary inspectors and are receiving the attention of the authorities.

During the course of the past month, twenty-seven complaints were made, fifteen personal visits were made, thirty-nine deaths registered, eleven cases of contagious disease reported, three placards put up, eight disinfections made, two hundred and fifty-four inspector's visits made, thirty-nine houses examined, five stables inspected, five vaccinations, two school visits, six pupils sent home, eight certificates given, thirty-six letters and advices sent and four milk analysis made. The following items were seized at the market by Dr. Tracy as unfit for human consumption: 416 pounds of meat. Other work included: Thirteen carriage permits issued, four milkmen advised not to sell milk without a license, thirteen plumbing inspections, ten plans approved, four plans not approved, six houses under construction visited.

The following items were seized in stores: Bananas, one half dozen; oranges, one and a half dozen; milk, nine pints; cream, five pints; ham, twenty-one pounds; potatoes, one hundred bushels; cucumbers, fourteen dozen; onions, four bushels; carrots, three bushels; one milk dealer condemned to pay a fine.

Among the improvements resulting from fifty controlling visits made, are the following:
Two new latrine installed; two dark rooms eliminated; one latrine window installed; eleven instances of defective plumbing repaired; two open lavatories done away with; eleven butcher stalls showed improvements since the previous visit.

$11,252.00 and promises of payment towards current expenses amounting to $700.00 leaving around $400.00 to be subscribed to clear the books for 1922-23 plus the $1300.00 deficit last year, making an apparent deficit of $1700.00 for the two years. However, it is hoped that with subscribers still to be seen that the indebtedness for this year at least will be cleared off, and possibly a large amount of last year's. The report brought encouragement to all present and the members of the Board appreciate very fully the help that has been given during the past two weeks. Cards of friends who had not yet been seen this year were distributed among the members within the next few days. A tentative membership report was also brought in, which indicated a total membership of 463, but a very large number of those memberships expiring will be renewed within the next few days bringing the number up approximately to that of last year.

JUNIOR BOYS' HEXATHLON

The Y.M.C.A. Hexathlon for all members under eighteen was the best that has ever been held with 25,832 boys taking part from 159 Associations, from forty different States, seven Canadian Provinces and the District of Columbia. In this contest there are five different classes with six events in each and ten different new records have been made. In the eighty pound class, L. LaLima, Cambridge, Mass., tied the record in the potato race in 3 and 2-5 seconds made by Carl Miller, Birmingham, Ala. in 1921. In the 110 pound class in the two potato race, F. Kish, Boise, Idaho, made a new record of 8 and 1-5 seconds, the previous record being 8 and 4-5 seconds. In the five potato race, C. Mordrock, Bridgeport, Conn., tied the 1918 record of 22 seconds made by Gordon Wall, Chicago, Ill. In the running high jump, E. Beldin, Sioux City, S. D., made a new high record of 5 ft. 5 in. At snap under bar, R. Lawrence, Cambridge, Mass., made a new record of 9 ft. 6 in., beating the 1920 and 1922 record of 9 ft. 3 in. In the target throw, Allen, Toledo, Ohio, made a new record of 120 points, the highest previously made was 112. In the 125 Class, the only record broken was in the fence vault when A. Leis, Dayton, Ohio, broke the 1917 record of 6 ft. 11 in. by 1 inch. In the unlimited class, J. Miller, Easton, Pa., made a new record of 13 and 2-5 seconds breaking the previous record of 1917 of 13 and 4-5 seconds. In the six potato race, Jewell, of Toronto West End, broke the 1922 record of 29 and 4-5 seconds, making the record of 29 and 3-5. This was the only Canadian to break any of the records. A. Stout, of Dayton, Ohio, broke the 1920 record of 7 ft. 6 in. in the fence vault getting 7 ft. 7 in. None of the individual aggregate records were broken this year, but they compared very favorably with those of previous years. In all the three classes of Associations the Canadian Associations showed up well. In class A, Toronto came second, Hamilton 10th, Winnipeg 11th, Toronto Broadview 13th, Toronto Central 34th and Montreal Central 35th. In class B, Associations, Montreal came 6th, Brandon 23rd, Kitchener 32nd, Moose Jaw 33rd, Saskatoon 41st, St. Thomas 42nd. In class C Associations, Moncton, N. B., came 5th, Fort William 9th, Peterboro 11, Galt 24th, Sherbrooke 29th.
