County Council

Requests export ban lifted for two years

In special session last week County Council discussed a number of imminent crises within Pontiac but no decision was made on any of them.

A New Township

The first item was the repartition of the united townships of Mansfield and Pontefract. A group from Davidson would like to separate from the rest of the district and form their own township. The mayor of Mansfield-Pontefract, Vezina Herrault, is not in favor of the move. He feels that the result would be an unfair burden of tax on the sparsely settled parts of the township with all the tax advantage going to the new division.

Valuations within the proposed new section are around $500,000, not counting the possible great increase from any future lumber development which is expected within their proposed boundaries. The valuation in the rest of Mansfield is about $300,000 and that part of the district has the longest roads to keep up.

With maps to show the other members of County Council what the situation was as he saw it, Mr. Herrault pled his case. There was no representation in favor of the move but a petition had been received and was in the hands of the Warden.

No decision was made pending a report from Mayor Gerald Hayes of Sheenboro, Mayor Earl Fulford of Clarendon and Mayor Alex Tremblay of Calumet Island who were designated as an investigating committee.

A New Bridge

Then there was the problem of rebuilding the 395 foot span of 20 foot bridge at Portage du Fort. Mayor Gibbons of that municipality had requested its rebuilding immediately after it had collapsed in one place last year under a load of lumber.

Complicating the request from Mayor Gibbons was another request from Mayor Tremblay for a bridge across Calumet Island from Campbell's Bay to Ontario. With a view to forming an united opinion on the bridge situation, Warden Burke will accompany Mayors Gibbons, Tremblay, Young of Shawville, and Sheppard of Ladysmith on a cruise of the river which will be conducted by Mr. Per Hall a consultant engineer.

To Lift The Ban

The major matter for consideration of Council was a resolution to be sent to Lands and Forests Minister Hon Lucien Cliche, standing behind the request of Consolidated Paper Corporation Ltd. that the ban on exports of unprocessed forest products be lifted. Condition of the request of Council was that the Corporation commence building of their proposed mill in Pontiac County within two years, at which time the ban will be reviewed.

It was considered that since the ban was enforced originally to encourage the building of a lumber mill here, and that since activities in Litchfield recently would indicate that serious consideration is being given to building this mill, the ban has achieved its purpose.

Mr. Dundas of Consolidated said that the believed his company would be pleased with Council's resolution.

United-Anglican Bible School

The Shawville United Church Hall is a beehive of industry this week as the Shawville United Church, Zion United Church and the Shawville Anglican Church combine in a co-operative Vacation School. On Tuesday afternoon, the second day of the school, the attendance reached 107 boys and girls with a registration of 117. The staff numbers 15 persons.

Those in charge of the departments are: Seniors, Mr. Robert Stark and Mrs. Mae Armstrong; Juniors, Rev. S.E. Snowden, Mrs. Ken Smith, Rev. R. Edwards, Mrs. Wallace Barber, Miss Eilleen Schwartz; Primary, Miss Gail Barr, Miss Helen Hodgins, Miss Gail Barber, Miss Frances Elliott, Miss Laurel Stanley; Kindergarten, Mrs. Gordon Alexander, Mrs. Glenn Hodgins, Miss Margaret Kilgour.

On Friday evening, August 14th, the Vacation School will hold open house and will present a variety program starting at 8 p.m. The displays of craftwork will be open prior to the program. All are welcome to attend this special evening.

Rev Daw honored on his departure

Members and friends of the congregation of Campbell's Bay Free Methodist Church gathered recently to honour Mr. and Mrs. Daw and family on the eve of their departure for Annual Conference at Pine Orchard, Ontario, after which the Rev. Mr. Daw will assume the duties of Evangelist in the Denomination. Mr. Daw came to the Campbell's Bay and Shawville Circuit in 1961, and his ministry has been much appreciated. Mr. Asa Smith, in a few well chosen words, paid tribute to the ministry of the Rev. M. Daw and Mrs. Daw; and Mr. William Brown, on behalf of the congregation and friends present, presented them with a gift of money. Both Mrs. Daw and Mr. Daw replied graciously, expressing their thanks and their happy association with the congregation during their years of service in Campbell's Bay Church. Mr. Daw will give his farewell message on Sunday A.M., Aug. 9th.

Vezina has one!

With Portage du Fort needing their old inadequate bridge rebuilt and Calumet Island needing a bridge to Ontario and Quyon waiting all these years for a bridge to Fitzroy, all Vezine Herrault has to say is "I've got a bridge I don't need. Are there any takers?"

Wild west rodeo outstanding success

First venture of Shawville Pony Club

by Eleanor Black

An estimated 2,200 adults and children packed every inch of available space in the Agricultural Hall on Saturday evening to witness Shawville's first real Western Rodeo.

It was a three hour jam-packed show, full of the excitement of real Western bronco bustin', that is, riding untrained horses, unsaddled and with one hand; riders changing horses twice at full speed and returning to a given point and a second rider mounting a running horse. In this act some of the entrants just managed to finish riding side saddle! And of course there was bull riding, several relay races and the serpentine. This was a classy act which required the skill of both rider and horse in order to perform without touching any of the six upright poles. All contests were trials of speed but unlike the typical Western movies, most of the riders did lose their hats.

Naturally the ladies played a colourful part in the show. They provided lots of competition, capturing several top prizes, and one lady did a professional job as M.C. of the show. However, they refrained bull riding!

Most popular man of the show was Barney the clown, whose antics gave him the appearance of little wit and no skill. But not so. Barney jumped into the acts for the last half of the show and came up as winner several times and scored a great deal of popularity with everyone. 'Dynamite', a white wild horse, ranked second to Barney as a favorite.

Competition in the various classes was keen and the competitors, grouped under the name of the Ottawa Valley Western Horse Association, came from Western Canada, Ontario and Quebec. Philip Thompson, Roley McDougal Jack O'Neill, and Bob Findlay,all local members of the Association, competed in the Rodeo. Mr. Claude Bergeron of East Templeton is the Rodeo manager.

The Shawville Pony Club, which was organised two years ago by a committee of the Shawville and District Chamber of Commerce, sponsored the show The local club has about 27 members and training is held every Wednesday night from early spring to late fall on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Thompson on the Zion Line, three miles from Shawville. Jack O'Neill, a true lover of horses ,is manager of the Club; Philip is president and instructor this year. Russell Judd is vice-president and Ruth Belsher is secrteary treasurer, assisted by Gordon Strutt.

Prior to the evening's rodeo, Shawville took on an atmosphere of the Wild West, as the Pony Club held its first parade. Two well equipped chuck wagons added to the colour of the parade. Driven by Phil Thompson accompaned by his wife Sally and their two children, was the Diamond T Express. The Shawville Pony Club entry was prepared by Earl Bean driven by Earl, accompanied by his four children and the two little Dickson boys.

Other entries included a pony cart driven by Mrs. Ken Belsher for little Randy Belsher, the youngest entry in the parade. Those riding saddled ponies were: Gordie Strutt, Dougie Belsher, Pat Lance, Martel Lance, and Ralph Legarde of Calumet Island, Bruce Judd, Lucille Hodgins, Diane Pilotte, Jane and Bobby Bretzlaff, Ruth Belsher, John Kilgour rode his saddled horse. Non members who had ponies in the parade were Ronnie Hodgins (Edmond Hodgins son), Betty Hodgins, Lorne Smart and Brent Carson.

A great deal of effort was spent to make Saturday afternoon and evening a success Others who contributed to its success, in addition to those mentioned were Lee Hodgins David and Rosaleen Dickson, and Sally Thompson. Lee spent a great many hours throughout the district previous to the show, with his loud speaker, thus promoting the spirit of the affair.

Also noteworthy is the fact that some of the parents assisted the Thompsons in building a small corral on their farm where the pony training takes place. There are several other young folk who, although they didn't ride ponies in the parade, are enthusiastic members. Among these are Dale Lorne, Allan and Randy Bean, Janice Young, Steven Strutt, Barry Russett, Charles Dickson, Tammy McGuire, Gary Thompson, William Patterson, Mark Chretien, Brenda Strutt, Ron Eades, Linda Judd and David Armitage.

This little club has come a long way since it was organised. May each year see it a bigger success.

New Quyon police chief

At the regular meeting of the Quyon Council in July, Chief Nelson Wall was hired as policeman and sworn in Friday evening, August 7th. Chief Wall was on the Ottawa Police force for over six years and is married with two small daughters. He also served with the Canadian army, as an NCO, in Korea and Japan.

Litchfield Mayor fights army worms

Great credit is due to Litchfield Mayor Melvin Brown for his fast against the army worm invasion which threatened his area. Without a moment's hesitation he used his Sunday and many hours in the week to obtain the information, the poisons and the sprayer and his Council foots the bill. The situation would have been very serious if it had gotten out of hand. As soon as he got the word he went into action — and that's the way they do things in Litchfield.

Chamber of Commerce picnic meeting

Tuesday night under the pines at the Shawville Chamber of Commerce picnic grounds members and interested friends of the Chamber gathered to enjoy a pleasant outing. Sandwiches and cake with coffee, tea, chocolate milk and soft drinks were abundant and the evening was marked by informality.

President Dr. Wallace Hodgins gave a rundown of current activities of various C of C committees including the Pony Club, the Museum Committee, the Park Committee and the Highway 8 improvement Committee. Everyone sang Happy Birthday to C of C Secretary Ernie Dean and as the rain started the party ended.

Police hunt sex offender

Norway Bay parents "up in arms"

According to Quebec Provincial Police Campbell's Bay, detachment the sex offender who raped an eight year old girl in Norway Bay Saturday evening after the Regatta isn't in the area and the police are doing everything they can to apprehend him. When they do, the case will be in the hands of the court.

A charge of indecent assault has been laid by the Crown against Howard Bulmer.

The child was on her way home after collecting prizes won at the swimming races when she was grabbed from among her companions and dragged into the bushes. Later she came racing home, her clothes ripped off, covered with scratches, her face swollen and her body smeared with blood, screaming "I've been kidnapped, Mommy!"

Her parents, who also have several other children, rushed her to Pontiac Community Hospital where she was released after attention by Dr. S. E. McDowell. At the hospital the father summoned the QPP who showed one photograph. The child, a grade four pupil from Ottawa, identified her attacker immediately from the picture.

A teen aged boy who saw the man carrying the struggling little girl also identified the photograph. He hadn't interfered because he had thought it was just a father taking his objecting child home.

Angry cottagers at Norway Bay are "up in arms". They are keeping their children, boys and girls, under 24 hour supervision.

Ottawa River navigation committee

The Committee for the Promotion of a Water Diversion System and the Development of the Ottawa River for Navigation Purposes met Tuesday evening at the Pontiac County Building, Campbell's Bay.

With represenaation at the meeting from Quyon, Portage, Campbell's Bay in Quebec; and from Petawawa and Deep River in Ontraio, the meeting, chaired by Reeve Peter McConnachie of Deep River, moved to hold a meeting later in the year in North Bay for the purpose of enlisting the support of the communities lying further up the Ottawa. Among those to be invited will by municipal council representatives, provincial MP's for both Quebec and Ontario representing constituencies lying along the Upper Ottawa River, and federal MP's similarly concerned. The ministers of resources of both provinces and the federal minister of transport are also to be invited to attend.

The need for early action on a water diversion scheme was pointed out by the chairman who quoted at length from a statement by Senator Philip A. Hart, Senator for Michigan, made on July 24, 1964, when he said that "The monthly means level of Lakes Michigan and Huron for the past four straight months has been at or below the lowest levels ever recorded. Lake Superior, Erie, and Ontario are well below their long-time average levels . . . It seems evident that . . . the long range solution lies in diverting additional waters into the basin. This immediately suggests the need for the participation of Canada; indeed, I believe that our neighbors to the north are suffering as acutely as we are from the low levels." Seven American senators have requested the American Secretary of State to place a request before the International Joint Commission that the United States and Canada make a feasibility study of the diversion of additional waters into the Great Lakes Basin.

Concern was expressed at last night's meeting that when a water diversion scheme is finally put into action, there would be those who would have all the water, diverted from the James Bay watershed, swung west at Mattawa into Georgian Bay, missing the Lower Otawa River entirely. The hope is that enough support wil be enlised for diverting a portion of the water down river at Mattawa to permit the full development of the Ottawa as a navigable river. The meeting now planned for North Bay is a start in this direction.

ATTENTION ALL LUMBER COMPANIES!

We've seen Donnie Gilchirst dance on tables, piano benches and the high stools in a TV studio so we can well believe he will do equally well on a broad axe. We've see him dance up the Valley and down with a different step to represent every village and cross-roads in the Pontiac and we're darn sure he can do as well for North and South Renfrew and Carleton and Gatineau and all the way to Quebec City.

Trading in his patent leather dance shoes for lumberman's boots shouldn't phase Donnie, nor hamper his dancing skill — nothing else ever has. His fanatic enthusiasm for step dancing has carried this Pontiac born Parliamentary messenger through fantastic adventures and will, we are convinced, carry him down river on a raft surrounded by the resurrected ghosts of shantymen from years gone by.

It's Donnie's scheme to celebrate the Centennial of Canada's Confederation by rebuilding three lumbermen's rafts to carry an itinerant shanty party from Temiskaming to Quebec. The rafts would be dismantled wherever progress is impeded by dams and bridges and carried by truck over the portage then reassembled below.

The idea is terrific, as all Donnie's ideas always are. Whichever lumber company takes it on will have, for very little money, one of the most imaginative projects in the country. With Donnie's energies ambition and skill working for them they'll pack a crowd everywhere the rafts tie up, and one of the most fascinating aspects of Canada's history will be on view to visitors from around the world.

Step dancing and sea pie

Come on ye brave young shanty men
With broadaxe, gaf, and pike,
The timber drive is running wild
On Lac Champlain tonight.

The rafts have broke, the drive is on
The timbers coming down
The waters swirl, and turn, and burl
The drive is now begun.

The foremen shout, the drive is on
Pack up your gear, hurrah,
For we're driving from Lac Temiskaming on the might Ottawa.

We'll run the rafts to des Joachims
And then to Pembroke town
From there we'll drive to Chapeau
For celebrations round.

There'll be fiddling, there'll be dancing,
And songs of old and new,
And the shanty tales you'll hear them tell
Will fill your heart so true.

From Chapeau down the Ottawa
To the town of Fort Coulonge
Lumber rafts will echo with French and Irish songs.

The Polish boys from Killalloe
The Scots from Lanark town
The songs and tales of the shanty days
Will ring out all around.

We'll run the cribs to Campbell's Bay, Bryson, Portage du Fort
And along the way, the songs and tales of the shanty days we'll roar.

We'll pass Sand Point on to Arnprior
For celebrations gay
And when we land our timber rafts
Fiddlers, they will play,

Singing old shanty songs of a century gone by
And the shanty beans and good salt pork, prunes and French sea pie

From Arnprior town our rafts are bound
Our sails are flying high
The raftsmen sing, the fiddles ring
We're bound for Aylmer town

From Aylmer town we'll cross the bay
And run the Chaudiere
And the cribs will land in Ottawa for celebrations there.

From Ottawa to Hull we'll go,
To sing the cage de Bois
And run the rafts to Montreal
Into the world's Trade Fair.

And from Montreal the rafts will run
To the Town of Old Quebec, with the shanty songs of a hundred years
Of our Valley Lumberjacks.

Donnie Gilchrist

Pastoral comment...

Reverend T. Desmond Rowe

When the schedule of contributors for this column was drawn up, it was not expected that this week's writer would now be some miles away. The fact that he is illustrates one of the fundamental facts of life. We do not know what tomorrow will bring .

We are continually being faced with the necessity of making decisions. This can often be troublesome, and is sometimes a source of great concern and worry. It is a sorry truth that many folk are handicapped in matters of choice. No signpost seems to point the way.

Others, however, have found that making one decision clears the way for many more. It is necessary to make a fundamental choice. What is the direction my life is to take? To whom does my life belong?

If your decision has been that your life belongs to God, and that the centre of your desire is to do his will. If you are convinced that "He careth for you" and that you can commit all your ways into his hands confident that he will bring them to a meaningful fulfillment, what does it matter what tomorrow brings? Tomorrow is his, as well as today. Whatever it is that he calls you to be or to do—to suffer or to bear—it makes sense. It is part of his design. Your choice then need not depend on your strength or your vision, but on your confidence in him. "Who,only, doeth wondrous things."

grist...

It took wild horses to top Donnie Gilchrist as a drawing card in Shawville! This was proved last Saturday night when an all time record crowd witnessed the wild west rodeo sponsored by the Shawville Poney Club. The nearest thing to that size of a crowd was at a recent Shawville Fair when Donnie was the big attraction.

News from the Consolidated Paper Corporation comes mostly second hand because their press releases seem to go anywhere but to the press. However, papers in Ottawa and the Ottawa Valley are trying their darndest to sort out the fact from the rumour. Some are publishing a little of both and some publish neither until the word comes straight from Consolidated. We are hoping that the company will soon set up direct communication with The Equity so information will come straight here and thus go straight to the public instead of being the private property of a few. Now that our elected representatives on County Council have come out strongly in favor of Consolidated's request that the ban be lifted on shipping woods to their Ontario Mills, Pontiac County has taken a public interest in their affairs. This same public interest deserves to be informed on all developments. We are confident this can be arranged soon.

One bit of rumour which we choose to believe because it is such good news is that one of the reasons Consolidated chose the Litchfield site is that it can on that property dispose of refuse without polluting the Ottawa River. This is the biggest and most exciting news for cottagers and riverside villages yet to have reached us by the grapevine. Let's hope this particular grapevine has roots!

Highway traffic on sideroad surfaces

Beechgrove,
Aug. 10,1964

An Open Letter To:
The Hon. Bernard Pinard,
Minister of Roads
Parliament Buildings
Quebec City, Quebec.
Honourable Sir:

Permit me to open by thanking you sincerely for highways recently paved within our County of Pontiac, namely Wyman-Norway Bay, Waltham-Chapeau, and Campbell's Bay-Otter Lake (partial).

We would also thank you for the resurfacing now done on Highway 8 below Luskville and your consideration to a new highway there. This access route is vital to the future economy of our region.

Also important are the gravel roads within Pontiac, many of which combine "sideroad" surfaces with highway traffic. Good examples are the road connecting Shawville-Ladysmith, Campbell's Bay--Otter Lake, and the roads of Calumet Island.

High costs made it impossible to pave many of these in the past. Two factors have now changed this.

Firstly, consider the latest improvements in road engineering. Many of these roads can be done for as low as $13,000 per mile using the "soils-concrete" method.

Secondly, our new paper mill should render your government some $80,000 more per year in personal taxes alone (besides a million and a quarter in Corporate taxes). It is only fair to ask that in the years ahead a portion of this be returned to develop Pontiac.

We would suggest that a thorough study be done on our gravel roads with priorities established for their paving. We can set up a committee for this on our Economic Council.

We would then ask that these suggestions be reviewed for approval by your government, with the first major paving to be done in 1966 at the latest.

With the "wear and tear" done on our cars on the busier routes, paving is often a good investment rather than an expense.

We will be looking forward to your reply.

Yours very truly,
J. Robinson, P. Eng., M.E.I.C.

St. Joseph's to keep English speaking Catholic pupils

One announcement coming out of Monday's meeting of the Regionale of considerable interest to Aylmer and district is that concerning the location of English speaking Catholic secondary school pupils for the term beginning in September. The only students to be moving in to St. Patrick's in Hull from this area are the commercial course pupils. They number 11 from Aylmer, 11 from Deschenes, and 2 from Eardley. Other students to be accomodated at St. Joe's will be taking the Science and Arts course. Director of the English section will be H. Robson. Broken down by classes, the school population will be made up as follows: In Grade 8, Aylmer 72; Deschenes 28; Eardley 3. In Grade 9, the figures are 36, 25 and 7 respectively. In Grade 10, 21,13 and 2; and in Grade 11, 24, 9 and 1. This announcement by the Committee on Pedagogy, under the chairmanship of Mr. Jean-Paul Tremblay, should be a source of considerable satisfaction to those parents who turned out at last spring's fact-finding meeting with a committee of members of the Board. If nothing else, it reflects great credit on the members of the Board who have spent uncounted hours trying to fit 9,100 students into classes not too far removed from their homes while at the same time offering them the advantages of the best possible educational facilities. They told us that they came to hear our views - they heard them - and they did their best to meet the obvious wishes of the majority of those who were present. For that, they deserve our thanks and support.

A date to remember: Shawville Fair is September 16-19, 1964.

Throughout the Pontiac, there will be relatively little disturbance from the areas previously served by the various schools At St. Alphonsus' School in Chapeau, 168 pupils will be drawn from the town itself, Sheenboro, St. Joseph and Waltham. St. John's High School at Campbell's Bay will house 147 English speaking pupils drawn from the Bay, Portage, Bryson, Otter Lake, etc. The 119 students to be taught at Quyon will be drawn from the same general areas as previously.

One thing to be borne in mind is that where certain displacements of students are inevitable, costs of transportation of the students, and their supervision during the times when they will be absent from their home localities, will be borne by the Regionale on the basis of the budget made public last month.

Regional School Commission

July has been a heavier than ever month for the overworked members of the Commission Scolaire Regionale de L'Outaouais. Meetings of the Board were held each week, to say nothing of the meetings of the various committees. Following are the highlights of these meetings: At the meeting on July 13, the annual budget for the coming academic year was approved as presented by Finance Committee Chairman Jean-Paul Labelle. Broken down into its most general terms, the budget provides for general administrative expenses of $100,00 academic administration expenses $35,000; teachers' salaries $1,860,000; Expenses for students and staff, $260,000; transportation of pupils, $140,000 miscellaneous expenses $4,950; rental of classrooms $632,000; fees to independent institutions $380,000; interest and principal on temporary loan to provide operational expenses $80,000, for an overall total of $3,491,950. Available grants will amount to $1,284,055, leaving a net total throughout the Regionale of $2,207,895. This may seem high, but broken down by unit cost per pupil, it amounts to only $385 per student. This is of course of particular advantage to the smaller communities with only a relatively small number of secondary school students. Far example, at Calumet Island, 70 pupils will be given first-rate education at a total annual cost of $26,950. Against that, figure the costs of building, equipping, staffing and upkeeping a secondary school. And the actual cost to the local board will be even less, because from this total will be deducted the subsidies granted to the Regionale in respect of the pupils of the board, for organization of the high school course, for teachers' salaries, and for tuition fees payable to independent secondary schools .

Registrations for the commercial course are at present being taken by telephone, and some ten days before the opening of classes, registration will take place in each municipality.

At the meeting of July 27th, tenders for transportation of pupils in the north and east sections of the territory covered by the Regionale were opened. They were referred to the appropriate committee for study and a decision was made at the meeting of August 10. From details gleaned at the time of the opening of tenders, the tender of the Hull Metropolitan Transport Co. would appear to stand the best chance as they provided a flat rate tender of $80,000 for all routes for which tenders had been called, or a total of $85,398.40 if based on separate quotations. Tenders were also returned on Aug. 10 for the following territories: Templeton to Hull, Templeton to Gatineau Point, Campbell's Bay to Calumet Island, Quyon to Aylmer, Eardley to Aylmer, Aylmer to Hull, Deschenes to Hull, Deschenes to Aylmer.

Mr. Emil Polich, at present working in Arvida, has been hired as a guidance counsellor for the English section. His office will be at St. Patrick's School in Hull, although he will be travelling widely throughout the area.

A letter from the Fort Coulonge School Board was tabled asking that the number of school commissioners be increased from seven to nine (and that a representative of Fort Coulonge be one of the two additiona members). The Secretary-treasurer was instructed to reply asking that the Commission at Coulonge to write to Quebec, as the pertinent section of the law still requires requests to be made by the area rather than the Regionale. There is some question as to the present status of the section concerned (496b), but at this time, the Regionale cannot request an increase in its numerical composition of its own volition.

A letter from Mr. Clement Thibert, concerning the education of retarded children is referred to the Pedagogy, Finance and Accomodation committees for recommendation and report. Quebec confirms in this letter their willingness to qualify without question the teachers presently employed at the Laurentian School for Retarded Children in Hull—a school that is in crying need of expansion.

Preliminary studies are to be made with a view to purchasing land in Hull to build a permanent office for the Regionale at some future date. At the present time, rental space occupied costs $10,000 a year, and additional space urgently required will double this cost.

Daily vacation bible school

The Daily Vacation Bible School held annually at Shawville on the Free Methodist Camp Ground, has come and gone for another year. This year D.V.B.S. was under the direction of Miss Irene McQuillat from Western Ontario, who was ably assisted by a staff of eight from the surrounding district. The sessions were in the morning from 9 to 11:30. Miss McQuillan held the interest of the children with her appropriate Bible stories, and old and new choruses; after which the children separated into different age groups for crafts and recreation with their respective leaders. The weather was good for the sessions, as much of the activity is outdoors. Saturday, as is usual, was a special day for parents and visitors when they viewed the finished crafts, etc., a special programme by the children, directed by Miss McQuillan and her assistants; with a special treat for the children before they departed. We are looking forward to a bigger and better D.V.B.S. next year at Shawville.

In the evenings of the same week a service was conducted by the Rev. A.J. Thaxter of Cardinal, Ontario, in the Tabernacle.; the Howard Baker family from Brampton, Ont., musicians and singers, were much appreciated. The Rev E. S. Bull, District Superintendent, from Ottawa, was the speaker at the afternoon service on Sunday.

Fire levels summer cottage

A fire whipped by winds gusting to 35 miles per hour completely levelled a cottage owned by Mr. J.V.Mahoney at Alexandria Bay in South Hull, just west of Aylmer, on Saturday afternoon. There was apparently some difficulty in reaching the South Hull Police Department who are authorized to call in assistance from the Aylmer brigade when necessary. By the time the Brigade was called, the pumper and twelve men who responded found their access almost blocked by a number of cars choking what is at best a narrow, rutted, and strictly one way-at-a-time lane. When the pumper reached the scene, only the shell of the building was still visible against the raging flames and within seconds the roof and walls collapsed. Firemen confined their attention to ensuring that the blaze did not spread elsewhere, as sparks were being carried a quarter of a mile, across thick brush. As there was no acces to the river about half a mile distant, firemen were forced to return three times to Aylmer to replenish their self contained tank load of water. More than 1300 gallons of water were used in the afternoon's work. A second call at 10 p.m. brought the pumper to the scene again when sparks from the levelled cottage flared up again.

The fire was first noticed by Robert Quesnel of 19 Lowrey Street in Ottawa, who was vacationing at a nearby cottage. Running to investigate, he was almost blown from the verandah of the cottage when a violent explosion ripped through the heat-filled rooms.

Aylmer Jottings

Don Ritchie is back home after his efforts to emulate some of the efforts of the sporting crowd by smashing up his knee. He says he feels "fine, but awkward". He's sporting a full-length cast on his left leg and has decided to forego any more boat trips this summer. All kidding aside, he would probably be glad to see any of his friends who want to drop in to his Main Street home. Four weeks "in solitary" are not exactly to his liking!

Aylmer has a new postmaster. He is Albert Lefebvre, and a new assistant Guy De Blois, an Aylmer native, has also taken up his duties replacing Bernard Rene de Cotret.

Freak accident at Shawville

A rather freak accident occurred on Thursday evening August 6 about 10 p.m. on Highway 8 at the east entrance to town. A tractor-trailer belonging to Clinton Greer and Son of Richmond and driven by Clifford Greer's son was on its way from Richmond to Charteris with part of a load of baled hay, a hay mower and a small farm tractor. Apparently the chain or rope broke that was holding the tractor, letting it crash to the road breaking it into several pieces, of course a complete loss.

The driver did not know of his missing machine until a car driver blew his horn several times beyond the trailer, and managed to stop Mr. Greer near Ray Sheppards home and notifying him of the mishap. In the meantime Mr. Jas. Telford who was close behind at the time of the accident, drove over a wheel and damaged the oli pan of his car. It was removed to John L. Hodgins Garage for repair. Friday morning Garnet Orr took the wrecker and removed the pieces which had been placed in the ditch beside the highway after the mishap.

Mohr reunion at Inglees

Close to a hundred members of the Mohr family gathered on Sunday at the home of Carmen Inglee for the annual family gathering. Three generations were well represented. This group is descended from John Christian Mohr, who came to Canada from Denmark around 1800. After working several years for Philemon Wright in Hull, around 1814 he obtained 1,000 acres of crown land on condition he build a saw mill. his land is what is now known as Beech Grove. His first saw mill was built not far from the Ottawa, on a creek on the now Thos Robinson farm. The second mill was set up farther up the creek at Alan Mohr's. In 1846 he built the stone house on the Ottawa River shore (now owned by Mrs. Thos Robinson), hauling the stones from Ontario and Mohr Island on the ice during the winter months. Alan Mohr still owns and lives on one of the farms that the first John Mohr gave his sons as they grew old enough to go out on their own. He also gave the land for the Mohr Cemetery, where tombstones, names and dates still tell the story of the Mohrs that have now passed on through the years.

A date to remember: Shawville Fair is September 16-19, 1964.

2 Eardley ladies suffer collisions

Two Eardley women residents are recuperating from separate car accidents.

Mrs. Rene Vaillant is home from hospital after spending five days suffering from cuts and shock from an accident which completely ruined their six day old Rambler. Mrs. Vaillant was making a left hand turn into her own laneway when she was hit by a large truck in the back of their new car. Her daughter, the only other passenger in the car, was released the following day with minor cuts.

Mrs. Wm Lapointe will be in Sacred Heart Hospital, Hull, for several more weeks, recovering from a broken ankle, bad cuts and bruises she received in a car accident on the lower Aylmer Road. Mrs. Lapointe, going to Ottawa with her two grandsons, was in a head on crash when the other car tried to miss a group of children and dogs walking along the highway. Mrs. Lapointe's car was completely demolished.

Speedy recovery to both women.

Agricultural Extension

Last Friday, we packed the kids, collie, budgie, bedding, and all into our little Volkswagen and headed west. Ten hours driving up through Ottawa, across Algonquin Park and down through Muskoka brought us once again to our old farm.

The lane was a bit more overgrown, the doorstep hidden in grass, but the power was still connected and the pump worked. In half an hour, the place was, once again, alive.

Only a few years ago, farms like ours, small but prosperous, were found everywhere in this beautiful land of lakes and rocks. But there came the time with the changing agriculture when they could no longer expand and compete. One by one, the owners took outside jobs. One by one, the farms dropped out.

Our farm was one of the last in this neighbourhood to go. Its turn inevitably came. Six years ago this fall, I sold out the dairy here, the endeavour of three generations and went back to school.

Today the farm is idle; a neighbour takes the hay and pastures his cows here. But the small rent will not pay for fertilizer or for reseeding.

We hold on to the place with the illogical hope that someday in some way, we may return to live. We love its rugged beauty, its lakes and its rocks, its maples and its marsh—yes, even its reluctant sandy soil.

It felt good to walk the familiar fields again. I found, to my surprise, that Birdsfoot trefoil has completely taken over the "front" field. When this field was seeded down for the last time six years ago, without regard for the proper practice, I threw a few handsful of trefoil seed into the mixture. I saw nothing more of it.

But a few plants apparently did survive, went to seed, and in the following years spread unnoticed over the whole area. That field, which I expected to "run out", is this summer yellow with trefoil bloom.

More surprising, this is a sandy field. Trefoil has long been recommended for heavy soil. But here it is growing extremely well on light, droughty soil.

I am sure that trefoil has a real future where a long lived legume is needed, not only on clay soils too poorly drained to carry alfalfa, but also on coarse textured upland soils too droughty for ladino clover.

Now, I am wondering, shall I try to harvest trefoil seed from this field next year? I could top-dress with fertilizer this fall and suppress the grass with Dalapon or one of the newer chemicals, next spring.

But I am told harvesting is very tricky. The seeds ripen unevenly and the pods shatter very easily; a potential yield of several hundred pounds may be reduced to a fraction. Raking while the dew is still on, curing in the windrow, and careful combining seems to be the most successful method to date.

If any reader has had experience harvesting trefoil seed, I would be pleased to hear. Perhaps we will find a way yet to pay the taxes and fix the pump.

Court Report

Pleading guilty on three charges, of impaired driving, careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Irvine Leach, 22 years, of Thornby P.Q. was fined $200.00 and ordered to pay the Court costs.

He also was prohibited to drive a motor vehicle in Canada for a period of six (6) months.

The Court was told that the accused Leach who had been drinking on the 29th of July was first reported to the QPP by Campbell's Bay residents who had a narrow escape from being hit by him while walking in the Village.

Driving out of Campbell's Bay, he then proceeded on number 8 highway, to finally hit a truck owned by the Canada Packers Ltd. After the collision, the driver of the truck helped Leach out of his own car, and when he told him he was calling the police, Leach without waiting for another moment, left the scene of the accident on foot through a field and bush nearby. However, sometime later he reported himself to the police office at Campbell's Bay, and was immediately put under arrest on the aforementionned charges.

William (Bill) Wren, 22 years of 190 Tasse St. West, Renfrew Ont., paid a $10.00 fine and the Court costs, for hitting a bar tender over the head with a bottle at the Forest Inn at Bryson, P.Q., on the 26th day of July.

Apparently a brawl was in progress at the hotel, when the bar tender came over to seperate the bellingerents, to be then hit ovr the head with a bottle by the accused.

Patrick John Sullivan, 22 yrs, 79734 Air Force, St-Jean, P.Q. John Edmond Depine, 21 years, 220 Blantyre St., Toronto Ont., appeared today before District Judge Arthur Labbe, and were given a suspended sentence being at their first offence, and after they pleaded guilty to stealing a car radio antenna at Fort William, P.Q., on the 3rd of August 1964. No damage was done to the car, and the antenna was recovered by the police.

County Council

subject of the proposed mill said he had been told by Mr. McLeod that there were twelve reasons why the site at Litchfield had been chosen, four of which were revealed.

One was because Miller's bay was considered to be the best bay on this stretch of the river. Another was because of the soil on the property which is most suitable for building on and also for the disposal of refuse, which the Company has told Father May will not be dumped in the river. The third reason is that the area is between two railroads and the fourth is that it is in the approximate center of population for this County.

Father May was also told that the company had studied the prevailing winds with relation to surrounding villages and it was found that odors and smoke emanating from the new mill, if located on this site, will not cause too much nuisance to residential areas.

Pontiac Depressed

Another concern of County Council was that Pontiac might benefit from being designated as a depressed area. Renfrew County, across the river, has been so designated and this has resulted in tax relief from both Federal and Provincial on any new industries which wish to establish there. With this attractive situation so close, Pontiac County people felt that the competition for induistrial sites is unfair in favor of the Ontario side. Acording to Quebec law it is not permissable for municipalities to offer tax cuts any more but Warden Burke is taking steps towards having the outside tax reduction made possible.

Father May said he had been in Ottawa talking to Ministers of the Government on this subject and it was also revealed that our Member, Hon. Paul Martineau had been approached for help in this matter. There was no definition of what constitutes a depressed area but Mr. Burke felt on the basis of relief check information that we could undoubtedly qualify.

To Print Brief

County Council also approved the proposition that the brief on better access roads to our County be printed and atractively bound before presentation to Quebec. The brief, prepared mainly by Mr. Fred Metcalfe of the Pontiac Economic Council, is now going for approval to the Regional Economic Council.

To Rent Offices

Fred Laxton of the QPP had asked Council to consider renting out offices in the new County Building for use of the Campbell's Bay detachment but could not be found for further information to Council. However, with mixed feelings on the prospect of sharing their accommodation with the police, Council named a committe of Mayors Herrault, Young, Brown and Fulford to negotiate a satisfactory arrangement. It was estimated that over three thousand dollars would need to be spent to make over the basement into the extra ofices required by the QPP. Cells would remain in the old Court House, only offices would be moved, acording to present plans which are still open for discussion.

Relief for Pontiac Farmers

The final piece of business during last week's meeting was a resolution to be sent to the Hon. Courcy, Minister of Agriculture in Quebec, seeking relief for those Pontiac farmers who had suffered substantial loss on account of the drought this season.

Comets streak into finals

The Fort Coulonge Comets made the finals by beating Campbel's Bay 12-3 in a one sided game because the Red Sox seemed to be beat before they started to play. The Comets mixture of old veterans & young players were too much for the Red Sox. Mendoza Francoeur with one home run in top of first inning with 2 on and a single for 5 RBI Shannan Doyle and Jerome Romain also had a home run. Doyle also had 2 singles. Jr. Domain one single, Alan Papin 3 hits, Ken Soucie 3 hits.

George Gagnon pitched the whole game for the Comets and struck out 14 batters, allowed 6 hits for the losers. Delacey Sloan allowed 18 hits and struck out 6 batters.

Now they are going to meet the league Champions the Shawville Tigers.

Baseball

Maddened Tigers venge themselves

Apparently angered by a press report favorable to the Bryson Elks, the Shawville Tigers clawed their way to a 17-2 victory last Sunday to advance into the Upper Ottawa Valley Baseball League finals, opening this Sunday at Shawville.

Tigers scored 10 runs in the first inning to blast pitcher Charlie I Reilly from the mound and horrify the crowd at Bryson Lions Park. Tigers unloaded eight hits including a homer hit into the teeth of a driving gale by Wayne Chamberlain.

Harv Sweetman curveballed his way to an easy pitching win for Shawville, allowing only three hits, fanning 11 and walking seven. Spencer Keon and O'Reilly shared pitching for Bryson, with Keon giving way when Tigers scored seven runs in the fifth inning.

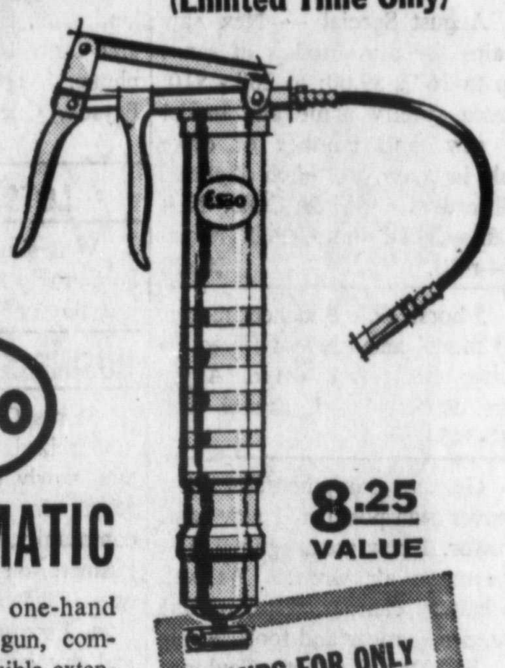

A reliable source in the Tiger camp said the newspaper story of last week's game won by Bryson was just too much for the headline grabbers from Shawville. It was believed this may have goaded Tigers into some wild baserunning that cost them a few more runs.

Big Elson Schock unloaded three hits to follow Harv Sweetman's four safeties. Harv Smith was also a three-hit man for Tigers. If the wind hadn't been blowing when Chamberlain blasted his four bagger, there was no telling where the ball might have landed.

Except for two disastrous innings, Bryson made a good battle of it, and congratulated the winners after the game. Elks had some trouble fielding, but so did Shawville.

Shooting for their eighth league title in as many years, Tigers will be spending this week brushing up on their fielding and, apparently, keeping a close watch on the press clippings.
