REICH DRIVE MENACES ALLIED COMMUNICATIONS

Northern Thrust Makes Breach Between French And British Contingent

Although French Troops Have Retaken Section of City of Cambrai, Breach in Allied Lines Farther North Let German Mechanized Units Through in a Dangerous Movement that Carried Them to French Coastal Points of Boulogne and Abbeville—Prime Minister, in Two-Minute Statement to House of Commons, Declares Situation Carries Serious Implications.

(By GUY RHOADES, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

French troops today retook a section of the City of Cambrai in Belgium, fifteen miles east of Arras which they recaptured yesterday, but a breach in Allied lines farther North let German mechanized units through in a dangerous movement that carried them to the French coastal points of Boulogne and Abbeville.

Concentration of the German effort in the North, in an attempted drive to the English Channel, made it increasingly clear that Adolf Hitler's first concern is to strike a blow at Britain, possibly by an attempted invasion. Abbeville was reported retaken yesterday only to be lost again.

The breaks, apparently at two points, including Audenarde which was in the area defended by British and Belgian forces, occurred North of the "bulge" which the Germans first drove into the West Front, while in some parts the French advanced to retake considerable ground that had been lost.

Prime Minister Churchill made a two-minute statement on the situation to the House of Commons, saying the situation carried serious implications but adding it was too early to foretell the outcome.

His statement followed that of a London spokesman who called the situation "extremely grave" and said the breaks by mechanized units were endangering communications behind the Allied lines.

The breaks apparently were made again by groups of Hitler motorcycle and whippet tank troops whose chief function is wrecking communications and starting fires.

These units are inconspicuously small and hard to round up because of their great mobility. They cannot be said to occupy the country in which they are at large, but they are designed to cause the greatest possible confusion to facilitate attacks by forces following them.

They represent in this conflict what the Uhlan cavalry scouts did in the First Great War, but their speed makes them much more effective.

Before the northern breaks the Allies appeared almost to have re-established a line which would close the German road to the sea with a wall of steel and trap those Germans who already had got through.

The Western Battle was believed to have been the cause of abandonment by both German and French troops of positions along the Swiss frontier where they have been watching each other for months.

There was another possibility, though, and that was seen in the sudden call-up in Rumania of 300,000 reserves who will be held with the colors for at least thirty days. This move on the part of King Carol's Government indicated fear that Germany might demand control of Rumanian oil fields, that Russia might try to grab Bessarabia, or

ANGLO-RUSSIAN DISCUSSIONS TO BE SPEEDED UP

London, May 23.—(CP)—Discussions are now on between London and Moscow on the possible dispatch of a British emissary to the Kremlin to exchange views not only on commercial questions but on all other problems in the relations of the two countries, it was learned in diplomatic circles here today.

The circles consider it possible that Sir Stafford Cripps, prominent Labor leader, will be the emissary, if the Kremlin approves his selection.

Mass Of Debris Sole Remaining Sign Of Once-Busy Rotterdam

By LYNN HEINZERLING
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Rhenen, The Netherland, May 23.—(AP)—Ruins in proud Rotterdam and the crumbled Dutch defences tell the story of the shattering impact of Germany's mechanized army and the devastation rained from the skies by the Nazi Stukas (dive bombers).

I have just completed a three-day tour of The Netherlands battlefront in which I have seen the destruction of modern war.

The nerve centre of Rotterdam—a square mile of what once was the business and financial district of Holland's most prosperous seaport—is a mass of debris, heaps of bricks and mortar and twisted beams and girders.

No one can agree on how many bodies may be buried beneath the Rotterdam ruins. German authorities say the business area was cleared of civilians before the Stukas began their deadly work. But one air force officer estimated there must be "several thousand" dead.

(The Netherlands Legation in Paris announced Sunday that more than 100,000 were dead in Rotterdam.)

The Stukas, say the Germans, completed their work in seven and a half minutes, from first bomb to last. The Dutch commander had been given a three-hour ultimatum. Shortly after the deadline elapsed, he capitulated. But by then the Germans, fearing he was holding out in hope of reinforcement, already had started the bombers on their way, and it was too late to stop them, they said.

The official toll of wounded is set at 354, while unofficial casualty lists run as high as 10,000.

By no means all of the casualties were Dutch, however. For instance, German troop transport planes, seeking to land at an airport a few miles outside the city in the direction of The Hague, found fighting already in progress there. The planes, trying emergency landings on a road nearby, were caught by cross-currents of wind, and fifteen of them cracked up.

SWISS TENSION EASED THROUGH NORTHERN WAR

Seriousness of Situation on Belgian Front Has Caused Both Sides to Withdraw Concentrations.

Basel, May 23.—(AP)—France and Germany, apparently putting all the strength they can spare into the battle in the West, have withdrawn almost all of their motorized veteran divisions from the Swiss frontier.

Villages on both the German and French sides of the border, which were packed with troops last weekend, are now empty.

Advices reaching Switzerland indicated also that the Nazis and the Allies had withdrawn many protecting troops which had checkmated each other in the Westwall-Maginot line regions.

French bombers flown to Morocco and then relieved there by British planes after the Allied retreat from Norway have come back across the Mediterranean to the Western Front, these reports said.

Canadian Firms Told To Increase Production Of Essential War Supplies

Heavy Industry, Shipbuilding and Aircraft Firms Ordered to Install Day and Night Shifts, Including Sundays and Holidays in Statement of Supply Ministry—Government Studies British Total Mobilization Plan.

Ottawa, May 23.—(CP)—Canada is now in a position to supply firms have been requested by the Government to speed up wartime production by working day and night shifts, including holidays and Sundays, it was learned today.

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, sent the following telegram to industrialists and manufacturers handling war orders:

"Urgency of immediate requirements necessitates all contractors manufacturing munitions of war, particularly shells, ammunition, explosives, weapons and gauges, working day and night shifts including holidays and Sunday, until further notice. Kindly relay this message to your sub-contractors and machine tool suppliers.

CANADIAN INDUSTRY IN GOOD POSITION

Ottawa, May 23.—(CP)—Canada is now in a position to supply Britain with "many times" the quantity of shells supplied in the last war should there be the demand, Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, told the House of Commons in a report on the Supply Ministry.

Canadian manufacturers had proceeded on the estimates of the last war and, accordingly, were tooled up for shell production far in excess of Canada's own needs, Mr. Howe said yesterday.

"I can only say that this war bears little resemblance to the last one in the nature of the requirements from Canada," he added.

Mr. Howe reviewed in detail the work of providing materials of war, after the House of Commons had rushed through the Government's bill establishing the new Ministry of National Defence for Air.

Co-operating closely, the Senate endorsed the same measure in short order and Hon. C. G. Power, who had been Postmaster General, became Air Minister. During debate in the Commons, it was made clear that the new Minister would have complete and exclusive responsibility for air defence.

In his report, Mr. Howe stated that eight plants were now engaged in making 2,225,000 shells and within a few days orders for a similar amount would be placed. This total of 4,500,000 shells compared to the 5,380,000 shells which had been shipped to England by the seventeenth month of trhe last war.

Sizes range from 40 millimetres to 9.2 inches. Contracts had also been placed for considerably more than 100,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.

The explosives programme was developing rapidly, he continued. One $10,000,000 plant was already well under way for manufacture of cordite and TNT and arrangements had been practically completed for another plant of similar size. These plants would each have an annual production worth of $17,000,000 and employ 1,200 to 1,400 men. They each would produce 12,000 tons of cordite and 15,000 tons of TNT at capacity.

French Enter Outskirts Of Cambrai In Flanders Fight

French Troops Reported Twenty-Five Miles North of St. Quentin in "Beginning of Battle of Flanders"—Three French Warships Reported Lost in Series of Naval Engagements in North Sea.

Paris, May 23. — (AP) — French troops fought their way back into the northwestern outskirts of Cambrai twenty-five miles north of St. Quentin, the high command reported today, in what a military spokesman called "the beginning of the Battle of Flanders."

But while the military arm reported this newest success in a northern battle being fought "with the greatest violence," the Admiralty announced loss of a submarine, a torpedo boat and a suppy ship, in operations off the Dutch and Belgian coasts.

The success at Cambrai, the military spokesman said, neutralized the slight German advances yesterday in a localized region around the city.

The Allies appeared to be trying to weld a barrier of bayonets on the plains of Northern France between the main power of Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg columns and the Channel ports.

In addition to the advance to Cambrai, the high command reported particularly violent artillery fire at Attigny, ten miles east of Rethel on the main line of Allied resistance; at Longuyon, ten miles southwest of Longwy, near the junction of the French, Belgian and Luxembourg borders; and north of the Nied River, which runs through the main Maginot Line fortifications west of Saarbrucken.

The naval losses were the 548-ton submarine Doris; the 1,378-ton torpedo boat L'Adroit, and the supply ship Le Niger, 5,482 tons.

The Admiralty gave no report on the crew of the Doris, which normally carried forty men, but said all members of the crews of the other two vessels were rescued.

"All other vessels frequently attacked by planes, many of which were shot down, continue to participate in the operations," the Admiralty announced.

The high command's communique said:

"In the north the battle continued with the greatest violence.

"It is confirmed that we have driven to the outskirts of Cambrai.

"Artillery combat has become violent at various points of the front, particularly in the regions of Attigny, Longuyon and to the north of the Nied River."

The chief wall of defence against the Nazi invaders ran from Rethel on the River Aisne, west and north to Amiens, on the Somme.

But at the same time a French army said to be moving north from the St. Quentin region was reported only 35 miles short of effecting liaison with British, French, Belgian and Netherlands units withdrawn from advanced positions in Belgium.

The French in this operation appeared to be trying for a sword stroke to sever light German scouting forces to the west of the Ecaut (Scheldt) River.

With General Maxime Weygand back in Paris after a sixteen-hour survey by land and air of the confused engagements in Belgium and France, there were reports the bulk of the German troops were concentrated in the neighborhood of Cambrai, 25 miles north of St. Quentin, which the French reached.

This was taken as an indication

POLICE SLAYER SERVED FORMER JAIL SENTENCE

Evidence Reveals that Farmer Who Killed R.C.M.P. Constable Had Served Time in Minnesota.

Parkland, Alta., May 23.—(CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today that Charles Hansen, sixty-eight-year-old wealthy farmer who died of bullet wounds yesterday after fatally shooting Constable F. G. F. Counsell, served a prison term in Minnesota before coming to Alberta.

Hansen came here in 1903 following nine months, imprisonment on charges laid in connection with the death of his mother in Minnesota, authorities said. He accumulated extensive holdings sixty miles south of Calgary, operating ten sections of farmland. A gas well recently was brought in on his property.

Declare Lindbergh Would Compel United States Attack On Canada

Washington, May 23.—(CP)—The Roosevelt administrations has a "definite policy of defence"—a policy entailing the defence of the Western Hemisphere which President Roosevelt has stated repeatedly in the last two years, Senator James Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat, said last night.

In a broadcast speech, considered the administration's reply to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's criticism of United States foreign policy in an address last Sunday night, Byrnes replied to Lindbergh's three speeches since September, including the one in which the aviator suggested Canada break off from the British Empire.

That was, in effect, a demand that the United States go to war with Canada, Byrnes said, because "had we followed his advice and made such a demand upon Canada and she refused to comply with our demand, we could enforce that demand only with force."

Lindbergh, said Byrnes, Chairman of the Senate Naval Appropriations Committee, was no more qualified to speak on United States foreign policy than "Wrong-way Corrigan or any other aviator who may fly the Atlantic Ocean."

"Fifth Columns are already active in America, and those who consciously retard the efforts of this Government to provide for the defence of the American people are the Fifth Column's most effective fellow travellers," he declared.

ROOSEVELT AVOIDS THIRD-TERM ISSUE

Washington, May 23. — (AP) — A challenge from Alfred Landon that President Roosevelt renounce a third term if he wants Republicans to join a coalition defence administration drew this White House retort today:

"The President regrets that he has no time, just now, to give the preparation of political statements."

Landon declared after a long conference with Mr. Roosevelt yesterday that "political implications" were inescapable in any coalition set-up and that Republicans "can and will participate" only if the President eliminates himself as a 1940 candidate.

In handing his statement to the press, the 1936 Republican Presidential nominee said that it could "not be linked" with his meeting with the chief executive, as nothing in it was mentioned in their talk.

RUSHING NAVY BILL

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—United States Senate, out to duplicate its double-quick action on army funds, rushed approval today for the Navy's share of the record-making $3,297,011,352 peacetime defence programme.

The $1,473,756,728 Navy Bill was called up for debate, and leaders predicted a speedy decision, perhaps rivalling the five-hour drive which swept the $1,823,254,624 Army measure throgh yesterday by a seventy-four to nothing vote.

The tenor of Senate feeling was indicated by Chairman Key Pittman (Democrat, Nevada), of the Foreign Relations Committee after the Army Bill was passed.

"That's notice of the world," he said, "that we will be able to finish anything they start."

With approval of the navy bill unquestioned, the Nations armed forces headed toward an unparalleled expansion of air strength—the most emphasized feature of the preparedness campaign.

British House Member Held For Fifth Column Activities

Speaker Refuses to Give Details of Charges Against Conservative Member in Announcing Arrest at Direction of Home Secretary—House of Lords Studying Measure for Death Penalty for Espionage.

London, May 23.—(CP)—The arrest of Captain Archibald H. M. Ramsay, Conservative Member of Parliament, by direction of the Home Secretary was announced today by the Speaker of the House of Commons.

Ramsay, formerly of the Coldstream Guards, was detained in Brixton Prison as the Government carried out a round-up of persons suspected as "Fifth Columnists."

At the same time a police guard was placed at headquarters of the British Union, the British Fascist organization headed by Sir Oswald Mosley.

When a Member of the House asked whether the Home Secretary would give the reason for Ramsay's arrest the Speaker, Captain E. A. Fitzroy, replied, "Not at this stage."

TREACHERY BILL PASSED

London, May 23.—(CP)—The House of Lords today began discussion of the new treachery bill, the main clause of which provides the death penalty for grave cases of espionage and sabotage, after the measure had been adopted by the House of Commons last night.

The bill was submitted for second and third readings by Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary and Minister of Home Security, and was rapidly passed through both stages by the Commons, being adopted without division.

The Upper House will discuss the bill tomorrow and is expected to enact it into law without delay.

Under the death penalty clause, Sir John Anderson told Commons, it is an offence for any person, with the intent of helping the enemy, to do or attempt, or conspire with any other person to do, any act designed or likely to give assistance to the naval, military or air operations of the enemy forces, or to endanger life.

In each case, Sir John stressed, "the act must have been done with intent to help the enemy."

The Home Secretary explained that the Emergency Powers Defence Bill presented to Parliament at the outbreak of war did not contain a clause providing the death penalty for treasonable acts. In addition, he said after a new examination of the text of the Emergency Powers Bill, the Government decided that it did not cover all persons capable of committing such acts.

The existing laws on treason, he explained further, applied to all British subjects and all foreigners domiciled in territories under the Crown's jurisdiction. However, legal experts had informed the Home Office that these previous laws, based on "the doctrine of local allegiance," could not in full justice be applied to foreigners entering the United Kingdom secretly for the purpose of undertaking sabotage, espionage and other acts designed to hinder national defence.

"It is obviously desirable that all classes of aliens resident here should be equally liable to the death penalty if they commit offences of this kind," Sir John added. "That is the first reason why fresh legislation has been thought necessary.

"The reason is that the procedure

French Government Decides Against Proposals to Move Any Functions of Government from Capital.

Paris, May 23.—(AP)—An official announcement today said the French War Cabinet had agreed that the administrative functions of the Government would not be removed from Paris.

After a War Cabinet meeting with Premier Reynaud presiding a communique announced that "no Government employees" would leave Paris or the Paris region except those of administrative services which were sent to the interior at the beginning of the war.

It was agreed at the same time that there would be no further removal of civilian populations from any section of France, except on

GOVERNMENT IS INUNDATED BY OFFERS OF AID

Ottawa, May 23.—(CP)—In the dark hours of the present war crisis Canadains have inundated the Dominion Government with offers of assistance and, in the words of Defence Minister Rogers the Canadian response is "the inevitable reaction of a people with pride of race and tradition."

Mr. Rogers praised and thanked the Canadian people for their reaction in a national broadcast last night in which he reviewed the planned speed-up in the war endeavor as given previously in the House of Commons and expressed faith in eventual Allied triumph.

Offers of assistance from individuals and various associations have been so numerous that the Dominion Government was unable in all cases

BRITISH MOVE SUPPORTED BY BERNARD SHAW

By FRED BACKHOUSE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 23.—(C.P.-Cable)—The Government's decision to control everything and everybody gained the approval today of the entire press, the man in the street, and George Bernard Shaw.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King's hint that Canada may have a full powers bill too was splashed in afternoon newspapers, leading favorable press comment from many countries.

Most men in the street said the Churchill Government's action was a "Damn good move—but why wasn't it done before."

Mr. Shaw said now that "We are thoroughly frightened we will be all right."

Thirty-Seven German Craft Shot Down By British Fighter Planes

London, May 23.—(CP) — British fighters shot down at least thirty-seven German planes yesterday in a series of engagement, the Air Ministry announced today.

The Air Ministry announcement said:

"From dawn to dusk, Royal Air Force fighter pilots yesterday continued the patrol of the skies over the battlefields of Northern France and Belgium, destroying more Nazi bombers, fighters and army co-operation aircraft.

"At the end of the day, one fighter group had shot down twenty-seven enemy raiders. Another ten riddled with machine gun bullets were probably put out of action.

"During the week-end, the same pilots destroyed at least fifty enemy aircraft.

"Late last night only six British fighters taking part in yesterday's air battles had not returned.

"The pilots of one of these machines which crashed in France was unhurt and is now safely back in England."

Other engagements listed by the Air Ministry credited eight British Hurricanes with attacking thirty-five Nazi Junkers, shooting down six and damaging three more.

During this battle, one of the British pilots lost touch with the remainder of the squadron.

While making his way home alone, he was attacked by nine German Messerschmitt 109-type fighters. Twisting and turning, the Hudricane pilot escaped into a cloud, but as he came out he found himself close to a German fighter.

The Nazi plane was "dispatched," the announcement said, by a burst of fire from the Hurricane's eight machine guns.

Six Hurricanes attacked twenty Messerschmitts over Hazebrouck (West of Paris) and shot down two of them.

Ten Hurricanes attacked fifteen Messerschmitts at Saint Omer, shot down and destroyed four and probably another two.

Eleven Hurricanes encountered twenty-four Junkers near the same area, the announcement continued, and shot down four definitely and probably another three.

Another patrol shot down six German Henschels and probably a seventh. Three German Heinkel 111-type planes were said to have been shot down over Northern France by a squadron of Blenheim long-range fighters.

THREE CANADIANS LOST

London, May 23.—(C.P. Cable) — The Air Ministry announced today that Pilot Officer C. S. Robinson, of Winnipeg, and Flying Officer D. A. J. Foster, of Edmonton, are missing as a result of air operations.

The Ministry also announced that Pilot Officer D. S. Ross, of Edmunston, N.B., has lost his life as a result of an aircraft accident in England.

Mussolini, Speeding War Efforts, Calls Defence Council Sessions

Rome, May 23.—(AP) — Premier Mussolini today called a meeting of the Supreme Defence Council for tonight.

CONTINUING WAR PREPARATIONS

Rome, May 23.—(AP) — Premier Mussolini, continuing Italy's war preparations on the eve of the twenty-fifth anniversary of her entry into the First Great War, today ordered the General Board of War Manufactures made into a cabinet division.

The new division will be headed by an Under-Secretary of State directly responsible to Il Duce.

Rome University students today told Mussolini they would consider it "an honor and cause of pride to fight for the liberty and independence of the Italian Empire," and protested against "threats of injuries by nations aiming to suffocate the young strength of Fascist Italy."

Their sentiments were voiced in a resolution which they passed yesterday and which was transmitted to Il Duce today. Mussolini expressed his satisfaction.

The students declared Italy "must master her own sea with the exclusion of all foreign influence whatsoever."

A quarter century ago Italy mobilized for the First Great War which she entered May 24, 1915, on the side of the Allies after having been tied to Germany and Austro-Hungary in the Triple Alliance.

GERMAN HIGH COMMAND CLAIM VITAL COASTAL PORTS BOMBED

Berlin, May 23.—(AP)—Today's communique from the German High Command claimed that "The harbor facilities at Dunkerque and Dover were effectually bombed. German speedboats sank an enemy destroyer off Dunkerque."

(No naval or marine losses tallying with the above claims were announced in London or Paris. Regarding the Dover claim, the Air Ministry in London said there is "no truth whatever" to the assertion that port installations at the English Channel port have been bombed).

EXCAVATION TOOL FOR ROBBERY

Scranton, Pa., May 23.—(AP)—Picks, shovels and a jack comprised the tools of burglers at Ralph Trapper's filling station. In an effort to gain entrance, they tunnelled under a wall, then lifted the building with the jack. It didn't work. They smashed a window but something frightened them and they fled—empty handed.

Reich Merchant Shipping Losses Have Exceeded Those Of Allies

London, May 23.—(CP)—The Germans have now lost more shipping tonnage through Allied action than the Allies have lost as a result of German action, authoritative naval quarters said today.

Five additional transport and supply ship sunk by the British navy in the last few days brought the total German losses to 820,000 tons in merchant shipping alone, or about one-fifth of Germany's pre-war total.

Most of the vessels lost are those best suited to keep German forces in Norway supplied. The Germans have also lost ships equipped to bring vital iron ore supplies from Northern Sweden.

Most of the British shipping losses have been made up by capture, charter, and new construction. But this is far from being the case with the Germans. The seas are still open to the Allies and are barred to the steadily shrinking merchant fleet of the Reich.

CANADA PROVES BIG FACTOR IN FOOD SUPPLIES

Dominion Agrees to Supply 78,400,000 Pounds of Cheese to Great Britain—Supplements Pork and Wheat.

Ottawa, May 23.—(CP)—Canada, export figures showed today, is taking her place in the Empire's economic war setup as the filler of Britain's market basket.

In increasing quantities the goods of the Canadian farm are moving overseas while exports customary in normal times but dispensable in the stress of war are declining.

For some time Canada has been under agreement with the United Kingdom to supply 5,600,000 pounds of bacon and hams a week and only yesterday Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced that 78,400,000 pounds of Canadian cheese will go to the Mother Country's consumers under agreement.

Speaking in the Canadian Senate Tuesday Senator Norman McL. Paterson (Liberal Ontario), a grain and shipping magnate, pointed to Canada's bountiful supplies of grain and said the present surplus of 330,000,000 bushels of wheat might prove a major factor in an eventual Allied victory.

Cheese, however, has been especially sought for the British market because of its concentrated food value and during April last the cheese movement from Canada to Britain amounted to $401,000 against $10,000 in the same month of 1939.

The new cheese exports mentioned by Mr. Gardiner will be handled by the Dairy Products Board and first grade cheese to be sold to the British food ministry will bring 14 cents a pound F.O.B. boat or rail at Montreal.

Total exports to the United Kingdom during April amounted to $37,499,000 compared with $16,956,000 as Britain called on her Empire sources in her time of need.

The Minister related the placing of $225,000,000 war orders for the Canadian Government and $75,000,000 for the British and French Governments. The Ministry had, for example, purchased for the Canadian Government 400,000 blankets, 125,000 pairs of boots, 270,000 shirts, 775,000 pairs of socks, 150,000 uniform blouses and jackets, 190,000 uniform trousers. Contracts for such supplies were being placed on a continued production basis for the duration of the war.

The Ministry had placed orders for $47,000,000 of ships, mainly mine-sweepers and boats of the anti-submarine whale-catcher type, each costing around $500,000 each. By the year end the Canadian Navy would have 343 ships of various sizes and kinds, compared to ninety-four now.

The Ministry had been responsible for inspecting and selecting sites for air training fields across the country. Mr. Howe said thirty-four Trans-Canada Airways airdromes would be used in the training scheme but fifty-four completely new schools would also be needed.

Orders for 5,000 planes required for the Commonwealth air training plan had been placed. Canadian aircraft production was being increased gradually as engines could be obtained. This year 1,028 planes are being built in Canada. Next year 1,538 planes will be made here. This compared to eighteen in 1934 and fifty in 1935.

The British Government had contracted for the entire production of airplane engines in the United States "for some time to come" but production there was being expanded rapidly. "It will only be a matter of months that the production of airplane engines will continue to be the bottleneck of the industry," he added.

Mr. Howe said Canadian industry had shown every disposition to co-operate with the department.

"The Department is clothed with extraordinary power to deal with industry reluctant to fulfill its requirements and with industry not willing to produce at reasonable prices, but these powers have not as yet been exercised in a drastic way as the need for such action has not arisen," he added.

Mr. Howe said Canadian industry had not had opportunity to make its maximum contribution because the British and French had relied on their own production of mechanical equipment so far, not being "disposed to encourage Canadian production of heavy equipment to the extent of furnishing up-to-date plans and specifications." However, there were indications this would not continue.

"It must be remembered that Canada's army in Britain and France, although commanded by Canadians, forms part of the British army and has no separate lines of communication while in the field. Therefore it is practically a necessity that our equipment be interchangeable with British equipment.

"This means that the armaments of our troops must be built largely to British standards and that British designs must be follows. One of our chief difficulties has been to obtain the latest British designs for the mechanical equipment used by our troops. British industry has not been too willing to part with these designs, many of which represent years of study and development by private manufacturing firms."

Duplessis Denies Extravagances Charged Against Administration

Quebec, May 23.—(CP)—Jonathan Robinson, Union Nationale Member for Brome, resumes the budget debate today in the Legislative Assembly, which yesterday heard Opposition Leader Maurice Duplessis reply to extravagance charges against his former administration.

"Our works reflect the costs we undertook," said Mr. Duplessis in defending the Union Nationales who were accused in the budget speech of Provincial Treasurer Arthur Mathewson of raising Quebec's debt from $209,869,000 to $420,275,000 during their three years in office.

"The Union Nationale administration was same and honest. Was it wrong to aid those who needed help, who were suffering?"

Terming the Duplessis regime "the infernal dance of the millions," Roads Minister T. D. Bouchard said the former Government had been unable to borrow in Canada "because it was known in the country." Educational and other grants made by the former Government had not been paid when it left office, he said.

The Opposition chief reveiwed social legislation and other undertakings of his government.

"Quebec's credit is great and solid," he said. "Despite the Liberal claims that we were unable to borrow, we effected a loan from United States financiers—recognized as among the greatest in the world—without any papers. These men were willing to take the word of the Premier of that time.

"If ever there was a regime which sabotaged the finances of the Province, that regime was the regime of ex-Premier Taschereau in which the present Premier (Hon. Adelard Godbout) was a Minister and in which some of the other Ministers of today also served."

He said that the Taschereau regime from 1920 to 1935 had increased Quebec's consolidated net debt by more than 200 per cent and debt service by 187 per cent. "Nearly every month we were in power we received accounts due from 1930, 1931 and back" because of irregular financing methods during that period, he said.

The former Premier said the Union Nationales had raised Provincial revenue by $20,000,000 through improved collection and he criticized the Government's decision to double the present two and one-half per cent levy on corporation profits and to impose new taxes on incomes, sales and cigarettes, cigars and cigarette tobacco.

He did not believe, he said, the taxes would raise the $12,000,000 estimated by the Government and he predicted a heavy deficit instead of the $258,060 surplus from estimated revenue of $52,693,300 and expenditure of $52,435,239.

By combatting Communism and Nazi propaganda, the Union Nationales had "contributed to demonstration of Quebec's loyalty," he said in a brief reference to the war situation.

The Provincial Lower House passed in third reading a bill extending the Workmen's Compensation Act's provisions.

Northern Thrust Makes Breach Between French And British Contingent

Yugoslavia had no cause to feel easy, either. It was disclosed in Belgrade that the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, scheduled to play a series of concerts, had been sent out of the country when arms were found in its baggage. In addition the orchestra was accompanied by a large force of alleged technical experts, relatives and newspapermen, a total of about five hundred persons.

The British public met the danger of possible attempted invasion with a considerable disploy of temper against the Germans, hissing them in newsreel theatres. In one instance a group of enraged women tried to seize German aviator prisoners, yelling: "Kill the murdering swine." Police restrained them.

ARRAS SECTOR SCENE OF FIERCE FIGHTING

London, May 23.—(CP)—The British army fought hard on the Western Front today and the nation devoted itself to the war as its sole task.

A British Expeditionary Force communique told of fierce fighting in the Arras sector in France, with the British forces generally maintaining their positions.

The Germans forced one gap in the British line near Audenarde, Belgium, fifteen moles west of Brussels.

Royal Air Force fighters and bombers heavily attacked German columns and communications while British gound defences on the front shot down German bombers and scouting planes "in numbers."

At home, arms factories went on seven-day week as the Government drew up drastic decrees to implement the new Emergency Powers Act.

Britons without dissent surrendered centuries-old liberties "for the duration" and moved together in a mighty effort to crush Hitler's Germany.

A military spokesman said British communications are being cut by German armored forces cruising about behind the lines.

"There is a gap between the two (Allied) armies," he declared.

A British counter-attack yesterday between Arras and Douai, 15 miles north, netted 400 German prisoners, 300 German dead and the destruction of a number of tanks, he said.

This counterlattack "was only a small part of the picture," the spokesman declared. He said the situation is "extremely obscure" and it is "impossibiye to know with any certainty what is going on."

The Air Ministry said R.A.F. bombers dropped explosives on enemy communications in the Sedan area and in Southern Belgium. Attacks also were made in Germany on railways carrying military traffic toward the battlefield.

The British counter-attack between Arras and Douai appeared to have checked the Nazi motorized columns in that sector. If the British forces are able to drive still farther into the Nazi columns, they might be able to cut off the spearhead of the German offensive North of the Somme toward the sea.

Military commentators said the recapture of Arras by the Allies might prove to be the turning point of the great battle in Northern France.

The Air Ministry announced that British bombers had pounded military objectives in raids extending from Rhenish Prussia to Northern Belgium and caused havoc to lines feeding the German offensive.

It was confidently expected here that General Maxime Weygand, the new Allied land generalissimo, would take the first opportunity to strike the German left flank extending along the Somme and Aisne rivers.

The public welcomed the Dictatorship Government established yesterday as signalling the end of what has been called the "muddling through" policy and it asked only why such full-length measures had not been taken sooner.

Without a murmur people heard that the Government could move the population from any town in a vulnerable region, commandeer houses and cars without argument about remuneration, put a $10,000-a-year executive at working digging ditches at a laborer's pay or in fact do anything it desired.

The House of Commons, acting with the same swiftness as it had in enacting the Emergency Powers Measure within two hours, also passed a bill providing the death penalty for treachery. This gives the Government sweeping powers to put before firing squads "Fifth Columnists" helping the enemy or obstructing the Government's war efforts. The Times described it as an act against both citizens and alien traitors.

The public's good-natured toleration of anti-war agitation appeared to have vanished suddenly. In a bye-election for the Middleton and Prestwich seat in the House of Commons Sir Oswald Mosley's Stop-the-War candidate, Frederick Haslan, polled only 418 votes against 32,036 for Lieut. Ernest W. Gates, Conservative.

The public temper is displayed now in newsreel theatres showing pictures of German bombing raids on the Low Countries. Audiences hiss pictures of German prisoners arriving in England.

At a Southeast port twenty-two German airmen arriving as prisoners were protected by police from a furious crowd of women yelling, "Kill the murdering swine."

The press was unanimous in approving the new temporary Churchill Dictatorship which means that if emergencies prevent a meeting of Parliament the Government can act alone.

The Times said the surrender of liberty was "made with a glad heart and confident spirit: for it makes every man and woman a member of the national forces."

The Herald declared: "We rejoice in the part of the Labor leaders have played to bring about this revolution in the national economy. Now we are all one." The Herald is the chief Labor organ.

The Government moved first to take over all principal munition and aircraft factories and every source of supply for urgent war orders. Workers in trades not essential to the war effort are to be transferred to war work as rapidly as practical.

With men being called up for army service, women will play a vital part in industry, especially in aircraft production. Union leaders and employers agreed that women may qualify for the same rates of pay as men.

CHURCHILL ADMITS SITUATION ANXIOUS

By J. F. SANDERSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, May 23.—(C.P. Cable)—Abbeville is in German hands and there is fighting in and around Boulogne, Prime Minister Churchill announced in the House of Commons today.

The Prime Minister said it is too early to assess the result of this coastal fighting but it carried with it, he stated, "implications of a very serious character."

Abbeville, at the mouth of the Somme twelve miles from the English Channel, was reached by the Germans Tuesday but French reports yesterday said the Nazi advance guard had been "driven out."

Mr. Churchill said the implications of the situation were serious with the Germans threatening to derange the British Expeditionary Force's communications from the near in Belgium.

General Maxime Weygand, Commander-in-Chief for the Allies, Mr. Churchill said, is conducting operations "with a view to restoring and reconstituting the combined front."

Mr. Churchill spoke only two minutes in the briefest war statement yet made to the House of Commons.

The text of Mr. Churchill's statement:—

"The German armored forces which made their way through the breach in the French army have penetrated into the rear of the Allied army in Belgium and are not attempting to derange their communicaitons. Abbeville is in enemy hands and heavy fighting is proceeding around and in Boulogne.

"It is too early yet to say what the result of this coastal fighting may be but it evidently carries with it implications of a serious character. Meanwhile, General Weygand, who is in supreme command, is conducting operations involving all the Allied armies with a view to restoring and reconstituting their combined front."

the Fernch might be isolating the detachments of Nazi motorcycle and parachute troops which had attempted to penetrate to the coast, while at the same time engaging and attempting to hold the mass of German infantry.

The German westward drive to the sea has been carried as far as Abbeville, at the mouth of the Somme. But this push, French authorities declared, was executed by light enemy units, which were "chased out" of Abbeville yesterday, when the French also recaptured Arras.

These sources placed the total German manpower in the region north of Nazi-occupied Amiens and west of the Cambrai Valenciennes line at not more than 50,000. These were said to be principally fast-moving motorcycle and tank squadrons, now regarded as vulnerable to swift-striking mopping up operations.

Hedge-hopping French war planes successfully joined Britain's Royal Air Force in strafing and bombing these units, it was said. Enemy tanks were described as blasted over on their backs, motor trucks blown into ditches and motorcycle troopers running for cover like ants.

These operations were hampered, however, by the streams of refugees fleeing southward. It was estimated there were 3,000,000 refugees in all crowding the French roads.

A War Office spokesman said General Weygand was "really satisfied," and added that "even the rumors are better today"—meaning unconfirmed reports that Amiens and Selan had been recaptured from the Germans.

written orders of the hign command.

The War Cabinet also ordered all industries in the Paris area to continue functioning except for some natioanl defence factories which have been in process of moving for several months.

The War Cabinet's new orders apparently were a reflection of renewed confidence in France since General Maxime Weygand took over personal command of the army.

Swiss Tension Eased Through Northern War

Balkan drive also have flown Westward and North of the Swiss frontier.

"The time has ended for mock concentration now," one spokesman for a belligerent nation said. "This battle will be of decisive character."

German official assurances through a legation spokesman at Berne that the Nazis have no intention of invading Switzerland appeared to observers here to be supported by frontier events.

A German hospital at Konstanz, on the South side of the Rhine within sight of Swiss territory, was filled with wounded from the Western offensive.

French wounded were taken to a military hospital in southern Alsace originally designed to take casualties from the now inactive Rhine front.

STOP-THE-WAR CANDIDATE IS WHITEWASHED

British Electors Give Rough Treatment to Candidate Who Sought to Halt Defence Activities.

London, May 23.—(CP-Cable)—"Stop the War" candidates for Parliament continue to receive rough treatment from the British electors.

Eight of them who have contested bye-elections since Hitler plunged Europe into war last September polled so few votes that they lost their deposits.

The eighth among them—and the third member of Sir Oswald Mosley's British Union Fascist Party—was Frederick Haslam, who drew only 418 votes in yesterday's Middleton and Prestwich bye-election.

The victor was Lieut. Ernest Gates, Conservative, who polled 32,036 votes. The vacancy was caused by the death of Sir Nairne Stewart-Sandeman, Conservative, who in the 1935 general election polled 27,369 votes against 17,398 for a candidate of the Labor Party, which did not contest the bye-election in accord with the wartime political truce.

"Until the English are frightened they never do anything but play cricket, football, hopscotch and tennis," the playwright declared. "The Kaiser made the mistake of frightening the English. Now Hitler has committed the same awful blunder. He is going to find out what we are like when we are frigthtened."

The conductor on our bus said: "Blimey, when you think of chaps losing their lives for two bob a day nobody can complain if their savings are borrowed. There must be millions of pounds lying idle in this country."

The Evening Standard said: "Had this measure been passed nine months ago 500,000, perhaps 1,000,000 lives might htave been saved." It recalled the words of John Milton, the great poet and pamphleteer of another commonwealth: "Methinks I see in my mind a noble and puissant nation rousing herself like a strong man after sleeping and shaking her invinsible locks."

Counsell was shot through the head and killed when police rushed the Hansen farm house with tear gas early yesterday after Hansen barricaded himself in the house and refused to surrender. The farmer had shot and seriously wounded his son, George, thirty-nine, at a nearby farm during the night.

to reply promptly but the Minister said he wanted to assure the persons concerned their offers "are profoundly appreciated."

He counselled courage in the face of the present grave war news.

"Serious as the situation is," he said, "we may be sure the Allied peoples will not give way to panic or hysteria. Let us face things as they are. Let us realize the gravity of the position in which the Allied armies are placed but when that is done let us not fail to hold firmly to the essentials."

$10,853 Suits Against Cleric Dismissed In Superior Court

Napoleon Loubier of Sherbrooke Loses Actions Taken Against Rev. Father Maurice Fortier as Result of Automobile Accident—Rulings Handed Down by Justice Verret Today in Four Other Cases.

Dismissal of claims for damages aggregating $10,853 against a local cleric and settlement of four minor civil actions took place in the local Superior Court this morning when Mr. Justice Hector Verret handed down judgments in six different actions.

Most important ruling was that in the $10,000 suit instituted by Napoleon Loubier, of Sherbrooke, against Father Maurice Fortier, the plaintiff claiming the damages in his capacity as tutor to his five-year-old son, Andre, who was run over by the priest's car at the corner of Convent and King Streets.

Loubier alleged that Father Fortier was at fault in the mishap because he failed to observe a stop sign at the corner and drove onto King Street without slowing down his vehicle. The defendant denied these allegations and maintained he made the stop and had just started his car again when he saw the child run in front of him.

Dismissing the $10,000 claim as well as another suit for hospital expenses amounting to $853, Mr. Justice Verret pointed out that two impartial witnesses had corroborated Father Fortier's claim he stopped before turning into King Street. The presumption of fault against the motorist was not present in this case, he decided, because the defendant had taken every ordinary precaution.

Action of Armand Belanger, of Sherbrooke, to have his lease annulled was maintained by Mr. Justice Verret. In addition the defendant in the case, Alfred Lemieux, of this city, was ordered to pay $172.50 to cover expenses incurred by Belanger.

A dispute over what price should be paid for a trucking job was settled when Jim Lynn, of Sherbrooke, was awarded $258 for transporting a stone crusher from East Angus to Chambly for H. Marchessault and Sons, of Montreal. Lynn originally asked for $270, stating he had been promised thirty dollars a day for each truck he used and had worked for three days with three trucks. His action was maintained but the amount reduced by twelve dollars, the amount representing the time his men stopped for meals. After the suit was instituted the Marchessault firm offered to settle for $199 but this was refused by the local trucker.

In an action to have the signatories of a promissory note acknowledge their indebtedness, Robert Mercier, of Thetford Mines, was awarded $180 from Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lacombe, of Sherbrooke. Mrs. Lacombe contested the suit on the grounds she was an endorser and not liable to payment but Mr. Justice Verret decided otherwise.

The petition instituted by Mr. and Mrs. A. Champagne, of Gould, to have an act of donation annulled on the grounds the defendant, Gerard Rousseau, also of Gould, failed to live up to the terms of the act, was dismissed.

PLAN FURTHER CONTRIBUTION TO RED CROSS

Lennoxville Women's League Decide Not to Discontinue Their Meetings During Summer Months.

Instead of discontinuing their meetings during the summer months as is their usual custom, members of the Lennoxville Women's League of St. Andrew's Church decided yesterday afternoon that they will hold one meeting a month for the purpose of doing Red Cross work and in order that members may hand in their finished articles and receive more materials.

Mrs. G. B. Christison was hostess to the members at her residence on Clough Avenue yesterday afternoon, and due to the absence of the President, Mrs. J. G. Trenholme, Mrs. Christison, the Vice-President, conducted the business session. Plans were made for a rummage sale the end of this week, and tentative arrangements were outlined for a tea to be held next month.

Later in the afternoon an interesting missionary article, read by Mrs. James McKelvie, was much enjoyed.

A pleasant chat was enjoyed during the serving of the dainty afternoon tea by the hostess, who was assisted in her hospitable duties by her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Clarke, and Miss Eleanor Pocock.

LUNCHEONS PROVED PROFITABLE

As the result of the luncheons served by the Parish Guild of St. George's Church last week for the annual Diocesan Convention of the Woman's Auxiliary held here, a splendid sum has been added to the Guild's treasury. The President, Mrs. W. H. Fisher, extended her thanks at yesterday afternoon's meeting, to the officers and members, and also outsiders who gave donations and their time towards making these luncheons the splendid success they were. She also wishes to thank Mrs. Lee M. Watson, Miss Cora Davis, Miss Ruth Burt and Miss Frances Darby, who assisted in serving.

During the meeting arrangements were made for the annual lilac tea and sale which the Guild will hold in the early part of June.

Following adjournment a refreshing afternoon tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. H. Fisher and Mrs. William Worster.

General Notes

Mrs. Lansing W. Smith's many friends are sorry to learn that she is confined to her residence on Clough Avenue, but all will be glad to learn that she is feeling somewhat better.

Mrs. Ethel L. Seale, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Smith and the Misses Gwen Weary and Betty Donaghy motored to Montreal over the week-end.

Mrs. D. C. Wilmot, of Barre, Vermont, is a house guest of her sister, Mrs. Austin H. Scott, and Mr. Scott, at their residence on Main Street this week.

Mrs. Effie Munro was in Montreal over the week-end.

WARNS AGAINST USE OF FIREWORKS

Tomorrow, the twenty-fourth of May, and on all other holidays, the use of fireworks in the city limits is absolutely forbidden unless they are exploded in a field or cleared place with no houses or business places within a hundred feet.

This warning was issued today by Director Arthur Maranda, in charge of the Sherbrooke Police Department, who pointed out that in Sherbrooke last summer many persons were injured by fireworks and various noisemakers. The ruling is to be enforced and offenders will be punished according to law, the Director said.

PROPOSES WATER BOMBARDMENT

London, May 23.—(CP)—"Bombardment" of enemy airdromes with water instead of bombs was proposed of bombs was proposed today in a letter to the magazine Aeroplane.

The writer pointed out that bomb craters on a landing field, easily refilled with dirt, could be turned into bogs by dumping water from heavy bombers fitted with tanks.

Schools Hold Assemblies In Observance Of Empire Day

With the British peoples at war, assembles held in observance of Empire Day in all the Protestant Schools of the city this morning took on a particular significance.

Speaking at the Sherbrooke High School, Rev. Canon H. R. Bigg told his young listeners that it is their duty to prepare for citizenship in the British Empire. Mentioning the great contributions to civilization that have been made through years by the great union of free peoples bound in loyalty to the crown, Rev. Canon Bigg said that every citizen of the Empire should serve to the best of his ability.

The pupils were urged to take every advantage of the educational opportunities that are theirs so that in the years to come they may be able to serve the Empire and may be prepared for whatever emergency may arise.

The programme opened with the singing of "O Canada" and was concluded with "God Save the King." The hymn "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy One" was sung. The music was in charge of Dr. Graham George.

At the Mitchell School patriotic songs were sung, and essays on Empire Day were read by the pupils. Similar observances were held in the East Ward and Lawrence Schools.

Pamphlets Dealing With Witness Of Jehovah Movement Found In District

Authorities of the local detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are conducting an intensive search in this district for a member of the Witnesses of Jehovah cult who has been distributing pamphlets in which it is claimed that the Witnesses have been unjustly persecuted in the Province of Quebec.

Following a lead given them by the Record, the Mounted Police this morning discovered two of the leaflets in homes on the Brompton Road. The circulars had been deposited in the roadside mailboxes of the homes and it was established that others have been distributed in the surrounding section.

In the majority of cases the person distributing the pamphlets picked a farm house situated well back from the road so that he would not be seen by the occupants of the property.

Mounted Police pointed out that in time of war it is against the law to distribute circulars of any kind without first presenting them to authorities and obtaining permission. They were confident that when the man for whom they are seeking is taken into custody additional literature will be discovered.

Members of the Witnesses of Jehovah cult have appeared in Court here on numerous occasions, as well as in other centres in the Province, charged with sedition. A number are still awaiting trial.

R.C.M.P. authorities request that anyone receiving circulars dealing with the Jehovah group or referring to participation in the war communicate with them immediately.

BUS HITS TREE AFTER BRAKES FAIL TO WORK

Passengers Escape Injury When Vehicle Crashes into Maple Tree Near Corner of King Street and Park Avenue.

Several passengers escaped injury on King Street East at about eight o'clock last night when one of the Sherbrooke City Transit autobuses crashed into a tree near the corner of Park Avenue.

The machine was proceeding down King Street on its regular run when the driver, Albert Proulx, noticed his brakes refused to function when he attempted to slow down before turning into Park Avenue. Faced with the possibility of a runaway, Proulx turned his wheel sharply and the vehicle plunged across the sidewalk, ploughed through an embankment and came to an abrupt stop when it hit a sturdy maple tree.

The six or seven passengers riding in the bus at the time were jostled considerably by the impact and one lady, Mrs. J. Daniels, was thrown forcibly against the side of the machine. She was bruised and shocked but escaped serious injury.

Witnesses to the accident stated that the bus was travelling at a moderate rate and commended the driver for his quick-thinking. Only damage to the vehicle was a fender while the embankment and lawn over which the machine passed were torn up.

CANADA MOURNS LOSS OF NOTED CHURCH LEADER

Most Rev. Gillaume Forbes, Archbishop of Ottawa, Died After Fifty-Two Years in Priesthood.

Ottawa, May 23.—(CP)—Most Rev. Guillaume Forbes, seventy-four-year-old Roman Catholic Archbishop of Ottawa, will lie in death beside the remains of his four predecessors in the crypt beneath the Basilica of the capital.

Funeral arrangements were completed today for the prelate who died late yesterday. His remains will lie in state at the Archbishop's Palace until Monday when the body will be transferred to the Basilica proper and the funeral will be held Tuesday morning.

His death closed a fifty-two-year-career in the service of the church and, despite his poor health during his late years, he was able to carry on his duties almost to the end.

His last act was the consecration of his successor, Most Rev. Alexandre Vachon, here last February. He had been seriously ill since then.

Of French and Scottish stock, Archbishop Forbes was born at Ile Perrot near Montreal and was ordained after graduating from the Montreal Grand Seminary in 1888. For fifteen years he served as priest on the Caughnawaga Indian Reservation near Montreal.

Mgr. Vachon automatically became Archbishop of Ottawa upon the death of Archbishop Forbes. The former Rector of Laval University at Quebec was appointed Archbishop Coadjutor, with the right of succession, last December 10.

Mgr. Vachon also was a former Governor of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, member of the National Research Council of Canada, past President of the Canadian Institute of Chemistry and of the Canadian Chemical Association.

BAKING OFFERS TO ACCELERATE PLANE SCHEME

New United States Process Promises to Introduce Mass Production into Airplane Industry.

Lan Nuys, Calif., May 23.—(AP)—From a United States army aviation expert comes a prediction that huge airplane "bakeries"—kneading plastics rather than dough—may open the door to mass production of fighting craft.

Col. Joseph L. Stromme, of the Army Air Corps Planning Division witnessed the testing of an all-plastic airplane here yesteray, in an address to three hundred spectators he said:

"Aviation heretofore has been individual production. It is almost as if each airplane has been hand-made.

"Now we see demonstrated the extreme possibility that airplanes soon may be turned out of molds, swiftly and at comparatively low cost. This may mark the start of an era of mass production of air craft, military and commercial."

Grant of $10,000 Has Already Been Received for $22,000 Structure—Other Projects Contemplated in E.T.

Construction of a $22,000 building on the grounds of the Richmond County Agricultural Association is one of the main items on the Eastern Townships' present building programme.

According to preliminary estimates, it is planned to erect a structure one hundred by two hundred feet and for this purpose a grant of $10,000 has already been received from the Provincial Government. Richmond A.A. authorities are also considering the erection of a new grandstand this year.

Another important construction job scheduled for this district is an addition to the Butterfield plant of the Union Twist Drill Company at Rock Island, tenders for wnich will be opened this Saturday. The expansion to the border firm's property was necessitated through a continued increase in business and will entail the building of a two-storey, 32 by 155 foot extension. No estimate of cost has as yet been made.

Preliminary work on the $125,000 Norton Memorial Pavilion to be annexed to the Wales Home at Richmond is already underway and today it was announced the structnral steel contract has been awarded to the MacKinnon Steel Corporation, Sherbrooke. The general contract has been awarded to the Stewart Construction Company.

The erection of the new St. Alphonse Parish Hall in Thetford Mines is progressing favorably and yesterday it was announced O. Picard and Fils, Quebec, have been awarded the contract for electrical work while the plastering contract has been given Girard and Girard, Montreal. It is expected the hall will cost $62,000.

Included among other Eastern Townships projects are the $30,000 structure to be built on Main Street, Farnham, by Arthur Giasson, to replace the one gutted by fire some weeks ago; conversion of the old Etoile de l'Est building in Coaticook into an apartment block for about $12,500 and alterations to the Sherbrooke jail at an estimated cost of $15,000.

GERMANY A HUGE MILITARY HOSPITAL

Jubljana, Yugoslavia, May 23.—(C.P.-Havas) — Germany has been transformed into a vast military hospital since the start of hostilities in the West, according to seventeen German deserters, including two officers, who crossed the Yugoslav frontier near Mount Ribur today.

They said the losses suffered by the Nazis in the drive were "unimaginable."

Request For Air Service To City Not Heard By Board Of Transport

St. Maurice Airways Officials Fail to Present Petition at Montreal Sitting—Heads of Canadian Colonial Airways and Quebec Airways Company Interested in Establishing Branch Line to St. Francois Airport.

The request of the St. Maurice Airways Company for permission to operate an air service between Montreal, Quebec, Three Rivers and Sherbrooke, scheduled to be presented yesterday before the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada, has been withdrawn, Mayor Joseph Labrecque announced this morning.

Mayor Labrecque and City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers went to Montreal yesterday to represent the city at the Board sitting and only learned of the St. Maurice Company's decision when they arrived in the Metropolis.

Although it is a temporary setback to the plan to have this city linked by air to other Canadian centres, the withdrawal of the application does not mean the matter will be dropped, Mayor Labrecque said, stating that he and Mr. Deslauriers had met officials of both the Canadian Colonial Airways Company and the Quebec Airways Company who were definitely interested in having a feeder line from Sherbrooke connect with their systems.

The Chief Magistrate declared that the heads of both firms promised they would bring up the Sherbrooke question at future meetings of their directors, it being proposed to use the Trans-Canada landing field at St. Francois Xavier de Brompton as the municipal airport. This would involve construction of a modern highway connecting St. Francois with the Sherbrooke-Richmond road.

Canadian Colonial Airways is an American firm operating between New York, Montreal and Burlington and is hoping to secure the right to expand its Canadian service by establishing branch lines in Quebec. The Quebec Airways Company operates mainly in the northeastern section of the Province.

UNITING THE EMPIRE

With the British Commonwealth of Nations united as it never was before in the face of a common danger to its principles and ideals, the eve of Victoria Day provides the opportunity to reflect on the reign of a beloved monarch whose reign of sixty-four years through peace and war first saw the creation of the Empire on its present stable basis. Queen Victoria, whose 121st birthday British people celebrate tomorrow, ascended the Throne of England in 1837 and died in 1901, shortly after investing Lord Roberts with the insignia of the Garter for the British victories in the South African War.

Canada, in the tradition of years, has a national public holiday, while in other parts of the Commonwealth, the anniversary has been joined with the observance of Empire Day.

At Queen Victoria's coronation in 1838, the Turkish ambassador is said to have muttered in amazement, "All this for a woman." Had he been able to foresee this lasting tribute to herself and the perpetuation of her reign in the hearts of her people, he would have been even more astounded. Her reign —the longest in British history—saw the wide development and colonization of the Empire and the great extension of power on land and sea. The Queen became Empress of India, while during her reign the united Dominion of Canada emerged from a group of scattered colonies.

The prospects of Victoria, granddaughter of George III, becoming Queen of England were not very great at the time of her birth, when her uncle, afterwards George IV, was Regent. He died and was succeeded by his brother, William IV, and on the latter's death, Victoria was the sole surviving child of the four sons of George III.

While the birthday of the Great Queen was naturally observed through her lifetime, it was not until 1902, after her death that Empire Day was established in the United Kingdom through the efforts of Lord Meath. Previously, however, the movement, inaugurated by Mrs. Clementina Fessenden, of Hamilton, Ont., had spread through Canada.

DISTRIBUTION OF TAXATION

While the increased expenditures occasioned directly and indirectly by the hostilities in Europe will inevitably bring increased taxation, which the people must expect to bear, it is advisable that as far as possible these be of a direct nature so that each individual will realize that he is bearing his share of the cost of government and of the cost of the fight for freedom.

Too often an attempt is made to veil the taxation impost by jumping the levies placed upon corporations while leaving the individual rates unchanged. The originators of this method hold to the belief that the corporations can continue to pour forth their revenues on taxes forever, raising the funds required to operate by wishful thinking. Corporations are like individuals, however, in that they cannot spend funds or credits they have not got.

Thus to finance any increased burden of taxation, the companies must do one of two things, increase their selling costs or cut wages, both of which are harmful to the economic system.

Another indirect effect of direct taxation is that it generally creates a wider demand for governmental economy and the reduction of the number of unneeded employees.

BRITISH DETERMINATION

Giving the Government powers over the lives and property of the citizens such as never before was confided in an administration of Great Britain since the dawn of democratic institutions, the measure providing for the conscription of wealth and human power, which was passed almost unanimously by the House of Commons yesterday, indicates the determination which the country holds to resist the Nazi aggressor to the ultimate limit.

The support which the measure received indicates that if the legislators held any illusions as to the enemy which they are facing, these illusions are now effectively removed. It is fully realized that the foe is a heartless one, stopping at nothing to effect his encompassing advance, caring little for the rights and life of his own people and less than nothing for those of others—belligerents or neutral. The German colossus cannot be stemmed by polite words and empty threats. To fight him, men and equipment are needed, not a few men and a little equipment, but millions of men, millions of shells, thousands of airplanes and hundreds of ships.

For some time, the people of Great Britain in common with those overseas have gone along serenely in the belief that the enemy would never stage his total war, and from the actions of the first eight months of the conflict, there appeared a basis for this belief. But now all is changed, and unpleasant as the change is, it will not undermine the spirit of the British people. In fact, the earlier reverses suffered by the British arms will only serve to steel their purpose as events of yesterday proved.

The legislation places the country on a virtual totalitarian basis. Those men who have not been called to the colors and the women of the country are virtually conscripted into the industrial and economic machine. All will not become factory laborers or farmhands but each will be assigned to the place he or she can best fill. In a similar method, the capital of the country will be mobilized and each piece of machinery turned to that purpose which best suits the war effort of the nation. Thus under the stress of a greater danger, the people of Great Britain have invested in a democratic government powers beyond those given to a dictatorial regime. But they have this assurance—that when the crisis is over and peace returns, democratic institutions will be restored to their fullest operation.

GERMANY "FINANCES" ITS CONQUESTS

Wars cost money, even when they merely involve the annexation of smaller neighboring countries, and to pay for the over-running of Holland and parts of Belgium, the German Government has established a 3,000,000,000-mark credit. This will permit for the "payment" of goods taken over by the invaders, but unfortunately for the citizens of the overrun areas, the currency is worthless outside the Reich. Experts, studying the new currency, say the terms of the order indicate it is printed for distribution in Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Belgium and France, and will have little or no backing in gold.

These sources point out that it is believed that $60,000,000 to $80,000,000 in gold was held in The Netherlands treasury but was removed before the German conquest, while the Polish treasury was also cleared of its gold before the Germans captured Warsaw. Virtually the only gold captured by Germany in its aggressions is believed some $80,000,000 at the limit taken from Czecho-Slovakia last year.

Last week, the Reichsbank reported that the gold and foreign exchange backing of its currencies was 63/100 of one per cent. This was before the issuance of the new 3,000,000,000 marks.

The various values which the authorities place on the new "Credit Mark" may be seen in the announced scale by which holders of conquered-territory currency must exchange their holdings for the German paper. For instance, one and one-half marks will be given for one Dutch guilder, which two weeks ago was worth fifty-three cents, but which has not since been quoted; one-tenth mark will be given for one Luxembourg franc or Belgian belga, the latter of which was worth about seventeen cents before the occupation, and one-twentieth mark will be paid for one French franc, now quoted at 1.85 cents.

The inhabitants of the occupied areas must accept the marks in payment for any goods purchased by the invading forces, regardless of the fact that they are virtually valueless.

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

May 23rd, 1910.

The Sherbrooke Baseball Club defeated Waterville by eleven to two in an Eastern Townships League opener, the batteries being: Sherbrooke, Butler and Povey; Waterville, Blier and Noel.

The officers elected at the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Branch of the St. Jean Baptist Society were Moise Audet, H. B. de Lavigne, Napoleon Couture, L. Desjarlais, L. H. Guay, Maxime Beaulieu and Dr. W. Lamy.

The more ardent fishermen throughout the district report their favorite sport very good so far this season, most of the brooks yielding good catches of trout.

The Brookbury Cheese Factory re-opened with the following officers in charge: L. A. Bennett, R. W. Jenkerson and H. C. Bennett.

Heavy shipments of horses from the Eastern Townships districts to the United States were reported, with buyers offering fancy prices for choice animals. Eastern Townships cream was also finding a good market at high prices.

H. Stanley Barlow, of Danville, had a narrow escape when the gasoline in his car caught fire, burning the vehicle to the ground.

Reports from Ireland indicate that a merry time is being enjoyed through the country with a series of clashes between the Redmondites and the O'Brienites, each favoring some particular brand of home rule.

PLACES

To carefree places I pass through I carry on my journey
All the mirth and merriment that I have ever known,
The music of low laughter and the cadence of loved voices
And—I am never lonely though I travel all alone.

In quiet places where I halt there waits me on my journey
Moonlight on a silver sward and sunlight on the sea,
Redolence of rain-drenched earth and tang of untouched forests
And—I am happily at home though no-one welcomes me.

But in an unforgotten place where I paused upon the highway
To gaze around me reverently—so still the day and fair—
I raised my eyes too suddenly and saw the soul of beauty,
And—ever since that moment I have glimsed it everywhere.

PRESS COMMENTS

THERE SHOULD BE NO "CARPET-BAGGING"

(Windsor Star)

Canadians, who are repatriating their money from the United States and Great Britain, should be given some assurance that they are not opening the way for carpet-baggers to come in after the war and make a killing.

If the people bring back their money from the States as part of the war effort, they will expect that their gesture of patriotism will be accepted for what it is worth. They will be indignant if they find that they are being exploited to permit someone else to make a big profit.

Those persons who think back to what happened in Germany after the last war know what possibilities lie ahead, when a Government starts to conscript bank accounts. That was done in the Reich and the period of inflation ruined thousands of German families. These people lost their savings and they had to sit back and watch newscomers flock into Germany and buy up enterprises and property for a song.

Then, as the financial situation straightened out, these financial invaders were left with the wealth, while the Germans were left with nothing. That condition was one of the sores which festered so much that Hitler made capital out of it and used it to climb to power.

Canadians don't want anything like that to happen in this Dominion. They expect Prime Minister King and Mr. Graham F. Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, to accept the responsibility of seeing that no carpet-bagging will be permitted in Canada.

Canada no longer supports the dollar in gold. At one time this Dominion was prepared to go back on the gold standard, if the United States adopted a gold standard. But, with the war making so many changes in the financial organization of the country, the gold reserves that had been held for that purpose have been transferred to the special war financing under the Bank of Canada and the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

At the moment the Canadian dollar is depending on the arbitrary pegging of exchange to maintain its value on foreign exchange markets. The trend of trade will affect the real value of the dollar and as the war goes on, the regulation of this buying and selling will become more and more complicated.

It has been to help bolster the dollar value that the Canadian Government is recalling the United States savings of the people.

If, for any reason, the value of the Canadian dollar should go down a long way, the people who are putting their savings into the fund to strengthen Canada's currency will demand that every step be taken to prevent outsiders rushing into Canada to buy up property for practically nothing.

That's one of the reasons why Hitler was able to gain prestige in Germany. That should be sufficient warning to Ottawa to make sure there is no carpet-bagging in Canada.

AS BRITAIN DOES IT

(Vancouver Sun)

There seems to be almost a Divine plan shaping events for Britain. For eight months of war the Chamberlain Government prepared for the blow that everyone knew must sooner or later come. When that blow struck, political opinion had arrived as if by appointment at the idea of national government. The development was timed to a day.

Now, with a great offensive underway, the Allied tactics are to strike back with full force. That calls for an aggressive leader, and Winston Churchill steps to the top as the man of destiny. He has with him as vigorous an all-party government as has ever ruled Britain. Labor, Liberals and all shades of Conservative opinion are in it. Vigorous men are in places where most vigor is needed.

The time for striking finds Britain and France with the means to strike. At the start of war this was not the case. Hence Mr. Churchill's very strength is partly in the fact that months of preparation have intervened, strength of the war machine has been nurtured, supplies have been built up.

But most of all, the temper of the people has been roused to a national anger, a stern and inflexible grimness which alone can make John Bull invincible. Germans themselves, with their long series of crimes —their invasions of Czechoslovakia and Poland, of Norway and the Lowlands, their brutal sea war, have helped build this anger against them as no amount of "polite" war would have done.

The British people meet blitzkrieg with no illusions; they have been candidly told of every setback as well as every gain; their moral fibre is at its toughest, their armor against shock was never more sure. Germans on the other hand have not been so equipped. One thing has been drilled into them, that their war machine is unbeatable. If it breaks—and some day it will—they will have no moral training to meet the shock.

There are many bitter months, and maybe years, ahead. There is, in Britain, no attempt to disguise the seriousness of the war outlook. It is, indeed, emphasized.

It is more than a coincidence that Britain reaches the position to strike hard and often at the same time that she sets up an aggressive leadership to do that very thing.

WONDERING ABOUT BOCHE

(Manchester Guardian)

A reader has been wondering how "Boche" came to be a name for a German, a speculation which in itself recalls the story of the inquirer who asked: "Why are the Germans called 'Boches'?" only to receive the shattering but somehow conclusive answer, "Well, what else could you call them?"

Actually, in French soldiers' slang of the last war "Boche" was a shortening of "Alboche," which presumably had some connection with "Allemand." The "boche" part of the longer word is said to be a shortening of "caboche," which means a head or noddle. In that case an "Alboche" would be a German noddle, another name, perhaps, for a square-head. One work says that a "tete de boche" is a block-head, but some French dictionaries do not mention that term. In France during the last war one could sometimes hear the longer form of "Alboche" used, but the form "Boche" was long ago firmly established.

It is not a complimentary term and should not be used in conversation with, for example, Von Ribbentrop, though by all accounts he seems to be an almost classical example of the "tete de boche."

THE THREATS TO AMERICA

(New York Herald Tribune)

No one had a right to be surprised by the headlines of yesterday morning. The Western world has received a thorough schooling in Nazi philosophy and Nazi performance in recent months. Blitzkrieg seemed a household word. But for the greatest of tragedies, for the extremes of horror, there can be no preparation. The final unloosing of Nazi ferocity against Holland and Belgium, without warning, with benefit of trick and lie, and in contempt of civilian life in open cities, is almost beyond believing.

It is not simply that for the second time in a generation the whole world is threatened with the scourge of modern warfare. Rather is it the quality of the attack which shocks and appalls—force shorn of every vestige of honor, or morality or truth. What Hitler pledges one day he cynically disregards the next. His propaganda chiefs invent lies so preposterous that the whole world laughs at them—and by repeating and repeating them thinks to convince his own people. Perhaps he can. But what a tragedy for the human race that one of its great peoples should be thus blinded. Here is not simply killing and waste, but the denial of faith, of honor, of human decency. The issue is not victory or defeat in a military sense but the abasement of a continent, of a civilization, beneath a terror of which the vast cruelties now dispersing and exterminating the Polish people are the sign and symbol.

A CLOSE COMMON INTEREST

(Daily Telegraph and Morning Post, London.)

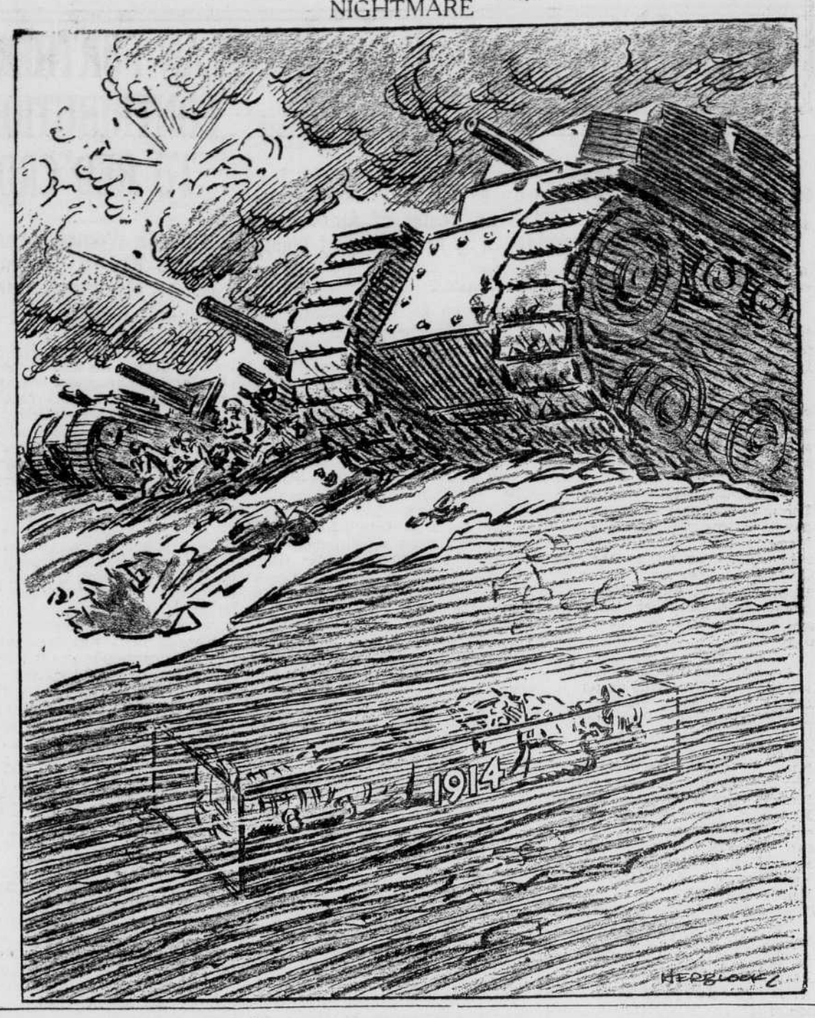
Anzacs and British battalions brought from the last war a deep respect for Turkish fighting power. Now the Government of Turkey has been regenerated by those who were in the forefront of the battles and they find the interests of the Turkish nation in accord with those of the French and British Empires. On the fundamental principle that no aggressive State can be allowed to control the Eastern Mediterranean or hold its gates at Suez and the Dardanelles, Turkey and the Allies are at one. The British and French Empires have now distributed in camps from the West of Egypt to the borders of Turkey a powerful force which could strike swiftly and hard. Well might Sir Archibald Wavell, the Commander-in-Chief of the British Forces, say that with the Allies and the Turks "in the same fighting line it would need a bold—and foolish—man to challenge our common interests or the peace of the Middle East."

THE ISSUES

(Christian Science Monitor)

The issues have become far bigger than any question of colonies or of righting the injustices of the Versailles Treaty. There is at stake the right to live the Christianity upon which men's lives must be based, else they perish. The challenge to Christianity is being made on more than one front, but in this period it appears to be receiving its chief impetus by an attempt to overthrow the Nazarene's love-inspiring doctrines through the forceful application of hatred-breeding Nazi dogmas. For the brotherhood of man is openly scorned. Worship of person and state are given precedence over worship of God. The rights of peoples and nations to freedom of speech, religion, and self-government are denied. Unjustified, unprovoked attacks have been made on innocent countries and peoples, and their morale weakened through instigated treachery.

NIGHTMARE



HAVE A SMILE

"One of them city fellers tried to sell me the Woolworth building."

"What did you say?"

"I sez, "All right, young fellow, wrap it up'."

Suitor: "Well, your daughter has consented to marry me."

Father: "What! So she has accepted you! Young man, you're the second happiest man in the world."

The rich young man approached the girl's father with some misgivings.

"Er—er, I suppose, sir," he began nervously, "that you are aware I have been making advances to your daughter?"

Father patted him on the back.

"Yes, and now what about her poor old dad, eh?"

An invitation to dinner had been sent to the newly-settled physician. In reply, the hostess received an absolutely illegible letter.

"If I were you," suggested her husband, "I should take it to the druggist. Druggists can always read doctors' letters, however badly they they are written."

The druggist looked at the slip of note-paper, went into his dispensary, and returned a few minutes later with a bottle, which he handed over the counter.

"There you are, madam," he said. "That will be seventy-five cents."

Professor: "I should like to announce that my next lecture will be on Keats."

Young Lady: "How interesting. By the way, what are keats?"

"What's the piano tuner doing under his car?"

"Oh, he saves money tuning his springs instead of greasing them."

Golfer: "You must be the worst caddie in the world."

Caddie: "Hardly, sir. That would be too much of a coincidence."

"A Columbia University professor has measured the zero."

"Boiled down a political speech, eh?"

A busineses man thought his staff rather lazy and indifferent, so he pinned up the following notice:

"Bread is the staff of life, but that is no reason why the life of our staff should be one continual loaf."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

CORRECT PLAY COSTS CONTRACT IN VANDERBILT CUP MATCHES

The Vanderbilt Cup national knockout team-of-four championship was won this year by the team captained by Harold S. Vanderbilt. His teammates were Waldemar von Zedtwitz, Edward Hymes, Jr., Charles Lochridge and Robert McPherran. Last year this team was eliminated in the semi-finals, and there was quite an argument over a decision involving McPherran. Just to prove that bridge arguments are not serious, McPherran played again on the Vanderbilt team this year. This is the second time that Mr. Vanderbilt has won his own trophy.

Today's hand was played in one of the matches. The correct play of the diamond combination is to lead the queen and take the finesse, and when it loses, take the second diamond finesse. When played this way, however, the contract was defeated.

One declarer won the opening lead in dummy with the ace of spades and led a small heart to the king. Then four club tricks were cashed, the nine of hearts played and the finesse taken. East won with the ace and returned a spade; and South took two more heart tricks and the ace of diamonds. Thus the contract was made, while those who played the diamonds normally lost.

Miss Maura McManamy, Mrs. Gerard McManamy and Miss Helen McManamy gave a charmingly planned bridge and linen shower last evening, at the former's home on Queen Street, in honor of Miss Maureen McManamy, a June brid-to-be. Bridge was played at four tables, the prizes being won by Miss Gertrude Conway and Miss Dorothy Kelly. At the conclusion of the game delectable refreshments were served in the dining room, which was illuminated with many white candles in Sheffield candelabra. The lovely table, which was covered with a handsome lace and embroidery cloth, was beautiful with a profusion of baby's breath. These dainty flowers in a cut crystal bowl, over which a tiny arch topped with silver bells and with a miniature bride and groom beneath, formed the original and artistic centrepiece, while lighted white candles in Sheffield candelabra, and a bride's cake decorated in silver and bearing the guest-of-honor's name, completed the unusually lovely table decorations. Mrs. D. A. McManamy poured coffee and Miss Ave Walsh cut the ices, while assiting the hostesses were Miss Margaret Doherty, Miss Gertrude Conway and Miss Elizabeth Beaudry. The bridal motif of silver and white was continued on a tea wagon, placed in the dining room and decorated with an arch smothered in baby's breath, topped with silver bells, and finished with white satin ribbon bows. On this attractive receptacle the "shower" gifts of lovely linens for the bride-elect were arranged.

EARLY SUMMER DISHES
Appropriated Light Dishes for the Season

By KATHARINE BAKER

There is nothing like the approach of summer to turn our thoughts to lighter things, particularly our thoughts of food. No more of the heavy, nourishing dishes which we need during the winter to provide heat and energy for our bodies. Now is the time for tasty, cool-looking dishes to grace outdoor meals or side-porch suppers. Desserts and salads which can be made without too much work and yet look as though hours had been spent in their preparation come first on the list of early summer menus. Quick-setting jelly powder can be the base for dozens of such enticing dishes as for example these recipes for dessert and moulded salad.

Pineapple Banana Dessert

1 package raspberry flavored quick-setting jelly powder
1 cup warm water
1 cup canned pineapple juice
1 banana, sliced

Dissolve jelly powder in warm water. Add pineapple juice. Chill, When slightly thickened, fold in banana. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve with whipped cream. Serves 4.

Creamy Pimiento Ring

1 package lemon quick-setting jelly powder
1½ cups warm water
1½ teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon scraped onion
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup grated Canadian cheese
⅓ cup chopped pimientos

Dissolve jelly powder in warm water. Add vinegar and salt. Chill. Add milk, paprika, and onion to mayonnaise and beat with rotary egg beater to blend. When jelly powder is slightly thickened, beat in mayonnaise mixture. Then fold in cheese and pimiento. Turn into ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with crisp water cress and serve with dressed cucumbers or chilled ripe tomatoes. Serves 6.

FINGER TIPS FROM ONE WHO KNOWS— A PIANIST

Exercise is the answer to the problem of how to keep arms, hands and fingers not only supple, but quite slender.

So says Magda Tagliafero, famous French pianist who is making her first concert tour in this country. Certainly no one should be better equipped to speak authoritatively on care of hands and arms than a pianist.

Pretend You're Putting on Gloves

"A simple, but effective, daily routine for keeping the hands and arms youthfully supple and quite slender includes a set of exercises," says Mme. Tagliafero. Here are her directions for donig them:

Place elbows on a medium-height table, relax wrists and let forearms drop forward. Repeat thirty times. This develops flexibility and loosens the arm muscles.

Resting elbows on the table, relax fingers of the left hand. Now, using right hand, ease the relaxed fingers of the left into a tight, imaginery glove. In other words, massage each finger of the left hand with downward strokes—from fingertips to palm. Reverse, making left hand pull an imaginary glove onto the right.

"If the pulling-on-gloves exercise seems too easy," warns Mme. Tagiafero, "just remember that this exercise does absolutely no good at all unless there is real pressure behind the massaging motions."

The "Bends" and the "Stretch"

The second hand routine is the "bend." Keeping elbows on the table, push palm and fingers of the left hand back away from the wrist. Reverse, bending backward fingers and palm of right hand.

The final exercise is the "stretch." Press the thumb firmly on the edge of a table, then stretch the index finger far backward. Now press the index finger against the table and stretch the third finger backward. keep on until each finger has been thoroughly stretched. Do the same with fingers of the other hand.

IT'S true! There's now a way to wash clothes far whiter—without back-breaking scrubbing or boiling! A way so SAFE that clothes last 2 to 3 times longer, from a standpoint of washday wear and tear.

This new way is made possible by a new-type soap called High-Test OXYDOL, containing a revolutionary new ingredient not previously found in any bar or package soap.

When you try High-Test Oxydol you'll find it does these amazing things:—(1) Soaks dirt loose in 10 minutes, without scrubbing or boiling. Even "extra dirty" spots come clean with a few quick rubs. (2) Gets white clothes up to 9 to 11 shades whiter than soaps lacking its new miracle ingredient—actual Tintometer shades, as proved by our laboratory tests. (3) Cup for cup, gives up to 3 TIMES THE SUDS—suds stand up 2 to 3 times longer. (4) Yet SAFE for washable colors, hands!

So do as thousands are doing—switch to the High-Test OXYDOL soaking way! Save clothes, save time, save money—and save yourself.

CANADIAN WARTIME FLIERS

(By The Canadian Press)

Group Captain L. F. Stevenson, Officer Commanding No. 4 Training Command British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

GROUP CAPTAIN L. F. STEVENSON.

Officer Commanding No. 4 Training Command British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

(This is one of a series on Canadian airmen in the R.C.A.F. in Canada and overseas with the R.A.F.)

By The Canadian Press

Royal Canadian Air Force recruits, training for their wartime jobs at No. 4 Training Command of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, with headquarters at Regina, have their work cut out for them to follow ni the footsteps of their stern-visaged chief, 45-year-old Group Captain Leigh Forbes Stevenson.

But fledgling war birds can go about their chores in the knowledge their commander has an especial regard for men of the ranks. He was a ranker at one time himself.

At the age of sixteen Group Captain Stevenson joined the 73rd Northumberland Regiment as a private and ever since this fighting flying man from Richibucto, N.B., has been climbing steadily.

Today he has charge of 23 air training units scattered as far west as the Pacific Coast. His job is to look after the administration of all kinds of schools—flying, observing, bombing, gunnery and wireless training stations.

With him at his Regina headquarters Group Captain Stevenson has a staff of 22 officers, 25 airmen and 12 civilians. He has watched the R.C.A.F. grow since he joined it in March, 1921, but ever since he first signed up for service with the Northumberland Regiment 29 years ago his activities have been varied and calculated to give him experience that now becomes valuable in organization of air training administration in Western Canada.

From the Northumberland Regiment young Stevenson transferred to the 32nd Manitoba Light Horse and three months after the First Great War he was on strength of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Later he transferred to the 8th Battalion and in July, 1916, was commissioned and appointed bombing instructor with the 145th and later the 236th Battalion. In January, 1918, he joined the Royal Flying Corps but returned to the infantry after the Armistice.

Since the First Great War, in addition to his service with the R.C.A.F., he worked three years with the old Union Bank of Canada and as a sub-chief with the Dominion Forestry Service.

Group Captain Stevenson has been Canadian liaison officer at the British Air Ministry in London and attended the Royal Naval staff college at Greenwich. For some years he commanded the Camp Borden, Ont., R.C.A.F. station.

Creoles are not mulattoes, as many people imagine. They are descendants of white families, long settled in tropical climes.

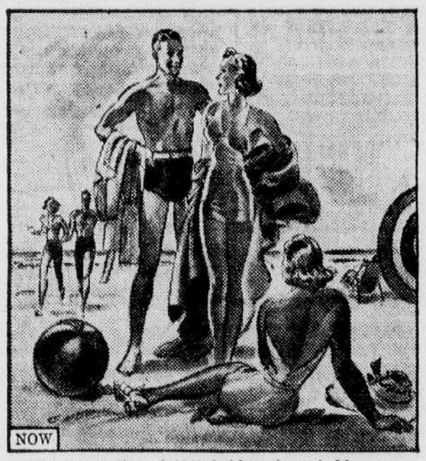
If YOU were 150 years old!

THEN

You'd remember . . . The days when the art of swimming was indulged in by only a daring few . . . when women wore modest bathing suits complete with stockings and sleeves . . . and men paddled around in ungainly knee-length costumes.



NOW

The informality of 1940 fashions is probably more obvious in a bathing scene than anywhere else. Smart, modern, one-piece suits have given the swimmer a new freedom of action . . . and as the illustration shows . . . the keynote is brevity.

You could look back to your early childhood when George Third sat on England's throne . . . when Napoleon ruled a turbulent France . . . when Catherine the Great was Czarina of all the Russias . . . and when George Washington was President of the United States . . .

THEN

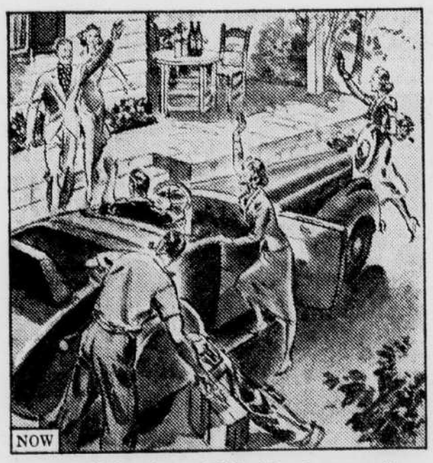
You'd remember . . . When the disaster of fire was a constant worry to the town-folk of old Montreal . . . when hose-wagons drawn by men or volunteer bucket-brigades were the only fire-fighting organizations known . . . and when the law insisted that a ladder be kept on every roof.

NOW

In the Montreal of 1940, there are 46 strategically-located fire stations, all connected by wire to alarm boxes throughout the City. Each station is equipped with a modern fleet of trucks and apparatus . . . in the hands of men whose chosen profession is the protection of homes from the ravages of fire.

THEN

You'd remember . . . Many a scene such as this . . . when ladies in crinolines and silks stepped into a waiting carriage to go for a pleasant afternoon's drive . . . their escorts resplendent in high hats and ruffled sleeves.



NOW

The youthful moderns of 1940, although more sophisticated, are much less formal than their ancestors. The girls are casual and smart in their sports clothes . . . the men comfortably dressed in jackets and slacks . . . as they speed away for tennis or golf in long sleek roadsters.

THEN

You'd remember . . . When your order of Dow Ale was delivered to your home in a clumsy wicker basket with a handle such as this . . . when you had to pull the cork out of the bottle before pouring yourself a tankard of this fine old brew.

NOW

The introduction of modern packaging has greatly simplified the handling of Dow Old Stock Ale today. In 1940 you purchase your Dow in attractive specially-designed cartons that fit easily into pantry or cellar . . . and the delicious flavour of Dow Ale is protected efficiently with sanitary, sure-sealing crowns.

It is often said that man's customs change constantly with the times. There is one delightful custom, however, that has varied little in the last century and a half . . . the gathering of old friends over a glass of Dow Ale. Since 1790, the Dow Brewery has been producing a brew which has been famous for richness and quality. Today, Dow Old Stock Ale, known as "The Ale of Good Taste", is more popular than ever before. Order a carton from your dealer today and discover the fine flavour of Dow Ale for yourself.

CHURCH YEAR UNDER REVIEW AT RICHMOND

Activities of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Outlined—Financial Condition Reported Excellent.

Richmond, May 23.—The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held in the church hall, the pastor, Rev. J. Lloyd Hughes, presiding. Minutes of the previous session were approved.

W. E. McIver, the Secretary-Treasurer, presented the yearly report, showing a balance of $257, with the allocation met in full. He also gave the cemetery report, which showed a balance to date of $556.

The Women's Missionary Society report was given by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. George Jamieson, showing all accounts paid, the allocation met in full, and $25 in addition, and small balance on hand.

In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. A. W. Converse, the Treasurer, Miss Gertrude Davis, read the Women's Association report, which showed a balance of $225.39, considered most satisfactory as a great amount of work had been done on the church buildings during the past year, the expenses being met by the Association.

The Sunday School report, as given by Miss Margaret Irwin, showed a very good financial statement, also an increase in attendance. She also thanked the congregation and different societies for their co-operation during the year. The question of repairs on the church property left the church by the late Miss Mary Sutherland, was discussed. It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the managers to consider such repairs as should be necessary, also to lease or otherwise deal with the property.

The pastor, Rev. J. Lloyd Hughes, gave a report for the session. He took the occasion to bring before the congregation the needs of the budget and extended the thanks of the session to the organists, choir, Women's Association, Women's Missionary Society and all officers. A minute of silence was then observed in memory of those who had passed away during the year. Fred J. Verrill extended the thanks of the managers and congregation to Rev. Mr. Hughes and Mrs. Hughes for their faithful ministration and work.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was spent and refreshments were served.

RELEASE CAMPAIGN FIGURES

Final figures have now been released of contributions obtained in the Richmond area in connection with the Salvation Army war and general services campaign which was carried on here during March and April. The total was $900, almost twice the amount of the objective set. This was very gratifying to Campaign Chairman A. E. Dyson and his corps of helpers, and letters have since been received from the Salvation Army headquarters in Montreal expressing their thanks to the local organizers and to the captains and canvassers throughout the district, who despite the handicap of difficult road conditions during the whole drive did such splendid work.

The Treasurer, K. G. Nourse, reported that all sections of the community and district gave generously to this worthy cause. Divided as to districts the amounts collected were as follows:

Richmond, $487; Melbourne and Upper Melbourne, $134; Melbourne Township, $56; Ulverton and South Durham, $118; Cleveland Township, $83; Kingsbury, $22.

WHAT'S IT WORTH? (ABOUT $300 MORE!)

ANY WAY you look at it—it will pay you to own a new Nash. It alone has the 99 H.P. Manifold-Sealed engine that took a "first" in the 1940 Gilmore-Yosemite Run with 28.51 miles per gallon. It alone has that smooth new Arrow-Flight Ride, Sand-Mortex Soundproofing. No other sedan near its price has provision for a big Convertible Bed...or has a 7-bearing crankshaft, the extra weight, the double frame, that mean so much in comfort.

To get all this in another car, you'd have to pay about $300 more. But it's "standard" with Nash—and extra value when you trade. Take a look—take a ride in a 1940 Nash today!

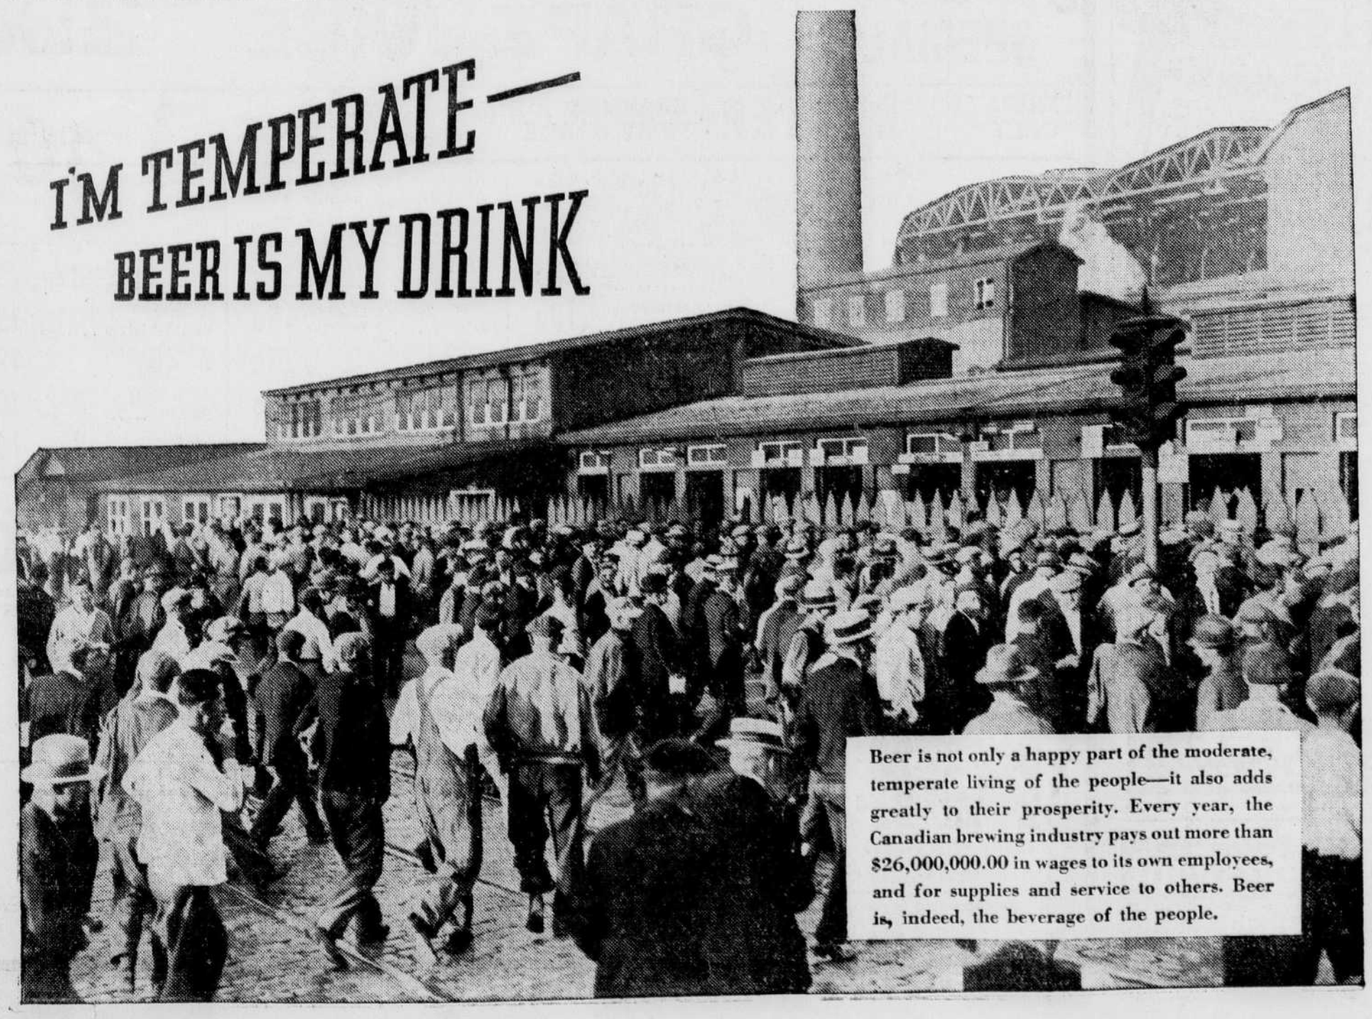
I'M TEMPERATE— BEER IS MY DRINK



Beer is not only a happy part of the moderate, temperate living of the people—it also adds greatly to their prosperity. Every year, the Canadian brewing industry pays out more than $26,000,000.00 in wages to its own employees, and for supplies and service to others. Beer is, indeed, the beverage of the people.

BEDFORD MAN OBSERVES HIS 90TH BIRTHDAY

F. C. Saunders, Oldest Practising Druggist in Province, Has Been E.T. Resident for Over Sixty Years.

Bedford, May 23.—F. C. Saunders celebrated his ninetieth birthday quietly at his home here and received expressions of congratulation from friends far and near. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. F. W. Saunders, motored out from Montreal accompanied by two former residents of Bedford and a life-long friend of Mr. Saunders, Mr. E. Morgan, and his daughter, Mrs. L. Lemenusier, of Montreal. Mr. Morgan was for many years manager of the former Eastern Townships Bank here.

Mr. Saunders is in fairly good health and is able to go to business each day. He is the oldest practising druggist in this Province, having come to Bedford over sixty years ago from Montreal to open his drug drug store. Last autumn Mr. and Mrs. Saunders celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage.

Of their six children, three sons, Major Eric Saunders, head of the Dental Corps for the Montreal District, Sgt. Douglas Saunders, at present in England, and Brant Saunders, paymaster, to the forces at present stationed at Quebec, together with a grandson, Sgt. Gage Saunders, who is also in England, have enlisted since the beginning of the war and of these two, Major Eric and Brant, served Overseas during the Great War. The other members of the family are Mrs. George Moody and Mr. Harold Saunders, of Bedford, and Mr. Walter Saunders, of Los Angeles, Calif.

ST. JAMES' GUILD MEETING

A meeting of the Guild of St. James' Church was held at the home of Mrs. D. J. Reid, who was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. D. H. Connor. The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rector, Rev. H. V. Fricker, after which Mrs. Ross Preston, convener of the present group in charge, called upon the Secretary, Miss Jessie Blackwood, for the minutes of the previous session, held were approved as read.

Chief business before the meeting concerned the plans for the Guild work during the summer months. Mrs. Preston stated that a strawberry party would be held on the church grounds sometime in June, while in August a flower show, which proved most successful last summer will be held for several days.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Betty Reid, tea was poured by Mrs. Connor. Mrs. Preston announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Ellison Gould, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Whitcomb.

SCOUTS, GUIDES AT CHURCH SERVICE

A joint church service for the First Troop Bedford Scouts under Scoutmaster Gerald Smith and the First Bedford Guide Troop was held in St. James' Church. The Guides were under the leadership of their captain, Miss Pearl Wells, and their lieutenant, Mrs. J. Ellis.

The Scouts flag was carried by Ronald Killick, while Margaret Dean carried the Guide flag. Both are children of ex-service men. The drum and bugle band of the First Troop Bedford Scouts led the parade from the High School to St. James' Church. The Girl Guide flag was dedicated by the Rector, Rev. H. V. Fricker and was carried to the Chancel rail by Margaret Dean, who received it after the dedication and, with the other members of the color party, Phyllis Corey and Liette Deleuze, carried it to the rear of the church and deposited it.

Hymns used at the special service were the processional, "Onward Christian Soldiers," "God Save the King," "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," "Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost" and the recessional, "When God of Old Came Down from Heaven."

Rev. H. V. Fricker based his address on the passage from St. Matthew 14:44, stressing the importance of religion in this war-torn world, saying that a deep belief in the teachings of Jesus Christ was vitally important to carry one through life and to be of the greatest.

Preceding his sermon, the Rector extended a warm welcome to the leaders of the two troops and to the members, and expressed the pleasure that it was to have them present. The collection was taken up by Betty Oman and Roland Killick. Following the service the troops marched back to the High School, where they were dismissed.

BRITISH ON GUARD AGAINST FIFTH COLUMN

Lest thin columns of aliens like these turn out to be a dread Fifth Column, British are shipping them by train to an internment camp. Included in elaborate drive against internal enemies has been an intense roundup of all Germans and Austrians living in English coastal regions and registration of all enemy aliens in the British Isles.

General Notes.

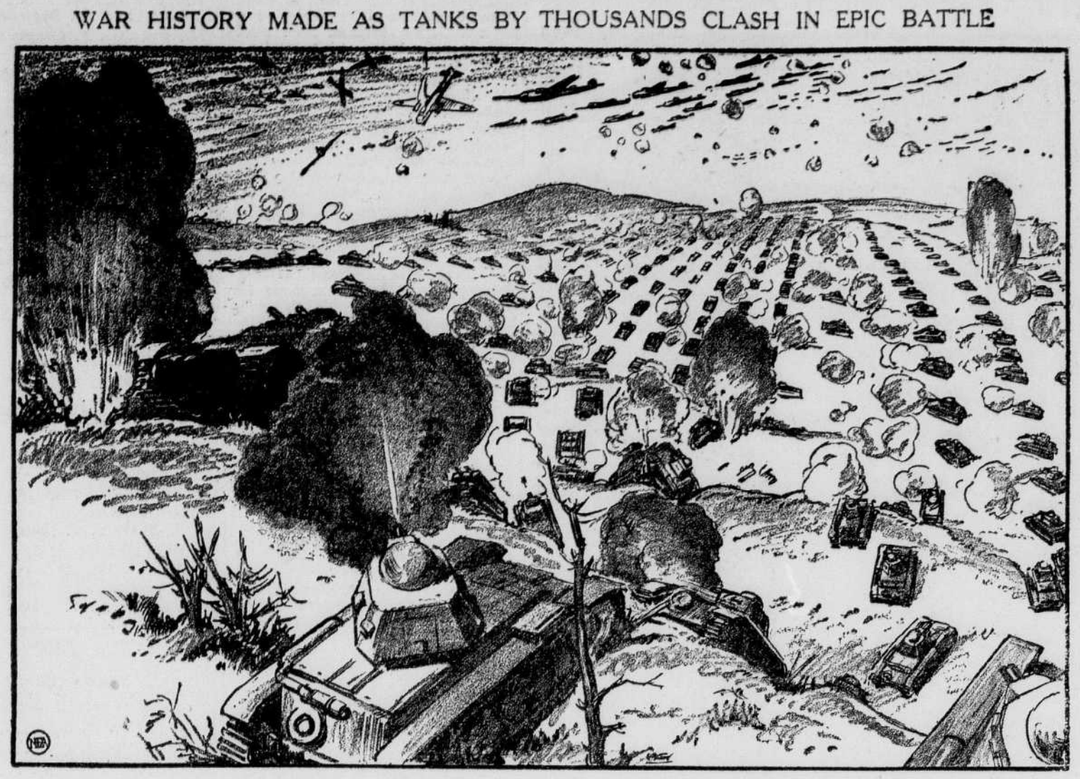
WAR HISTORY MADE AS TANKS BY THOUSANDS CLASH IN EPIC BATTLE



NEA Artist Grissinger's sketch portrays the clash of thousands of French and German tanks near Liege, Belgium, the first time in history the steel monsters had met on such a scale. French tanks are shown deploying to both sides to smash the headon rush of the German machines. Allied military authorities claimed the close-range fighting resulted in victory for the French, with derelict German tanks littering the field of action when the battle ceased. The same quarters said the engagement proved the theory long held by the French ... that their tanks are superior to the Germans', weight for weight, and that French tactics are far more effective.Reports from the scene said the French tanks manoeuvered with the ease of cavalry, with immediate attack, rapidity of fire the chief factors in Allied "victory."

Swan Tames Athletics 4-0 For St. Hyacinthe

Quebec Beaten by Two-Hit Twirling Twice in Succession—Saints Collect Six Hits Off Pitcher Yocke of Quebec—Athletics Make Things Easier with Five Errors, Three in Seventh Resulting in Two Runs.

To a lot of people the number 13 is unlucky, but to Del Bissonnette, the former big-leaguer with Brooklyn, there is a still unluckier one—the number two.

On Wednesday, pitcher John Reichel, of the Drummondville nine, handcuffed Bissonnette's Quebec Athletics to allow only two safe blows. The Athletics lost the game 8-3 as Drummondville marked up its first victory in the Provincial Baseball League schedule.

Yesterday, the Athletics ran into another two-hit masterpiece with Bob Swan allowing only two singles as St. Hyacinthe scored a 4-0 victory over the Quebec team in the only scheduled encounter of the day.

Swan's effort was even more notable than Reichel's for the St. Hyacinthe hurler allowed his two blows over the nine-inning route while the Drummondville-Quebec contest was cut to seven innings because of darkness. In addition, one of the blows off Reichel was a home-run by centre-fielder Kosy, of Quebec, who also was responsible for one of the hits off Swan.

The Saints collected six hits off pitcher Yocke, of Quebec, and the Athletics made things even easier with five errors. Two doubles and a single ein the first inning gave the Saints two runs and three errors in the seventh resulted in the othr pair.

TONY GALENTO TO APPEAR IN RING AT ARENA

'Two-Ton' Secured to Referee Wrestling Matches Here Next Tuesday Night—Yvon Robert on Card.

Tony Galento, the big bad man of the heavyweight boxing division, has been secured to act as referee on a wrestling card which will be staged at the Exhibition Arena next Tuesday night, it was announced here today. Although not in the same class as Mons. Maurice Tillet, Tony will never carry off any prizes for pulchritude. He is a rough and tough customer who does a lot of talking but is willing to back it up with his fists. Under the expert guidance of the late Joe Jacobs, Galento has risen high in fistic circles, and his savage tactics caused champion Joe Louis plenty of trouble when the two met in a title scrap.

Perhaps it is just as well Galento will be the third man in the ring for next Tuesday's programme, because some of the wildest wrestlers in the game will be on display.

Yvon Robert, handsome French-Canadian, who has been gunning for the title he lost some time ago, will meet Legs Langevin, sturdy Magog grappler in one of the four bouts, while in another Leo Numa, claimant to the world's title, will trade grips with Jimmie Coffield. Big Joe Cox and Rudy Dusek will tangle in a third engagement, while Jean Pusie, the colorful hockey star from Chambly, and Maurice Robert are matched for the curtain-raiser.

Asbestos High School Captures St. Francis Valley Track Championship

Richmond, May 23.—Overpowering the Drummondville Intermediate School track team by a score of 89 to 78, Asbestos High gained possession of the coveted Southern Canada Power Trophy which had been held for two years by Drummondville. This annual meet, held this year at Richmond, was competed in by athletes from Richmond, Danville, Windsor Mills, Asbestos and Drummondville.

Due to very poor weather conditions no new records were established for the meet. In the senior division D. Campbelton, of Asbestos, and C. Frame, of Windsor, tied for top honors with eleven points each, while in the intermediate section J. Macpherson, of Drummondville, had a good margin with twenty points to his credit. L. Tibbits, of Richmond, gained eleven points to lead the junior division.

In the girls' section Asbestos had winners in both the senior and junior divisions. A. Jacson won eleven points to head the senior girls and P. Dean had six points which brought her out on top in the junior division.

Points won by the different schools were as follows: Asbestos 89, Drummondville 78, Richmond 43, Windsor Mills 24.

In Sporting Vein

By Allan Bryce.

Another merry session should be in store for wrestling fans who wend their way to the Arena next Tuesday night, since no less a personality than Tony Galento, beer-barrel heavyweight boxer, will be the third man in the ring for all four bouts. A happy-go-lucky vagabond who loves to rough and tumble in the ring as well as in his Orange, N.J., saloon, Galento may be counted upon to put the business to any of the matmen who become too truculent, and it should be worth the price of admission to see him swing the ham-like fists that knocked Champion Joe Louis off his pins.

Joe Cox and Leo Numa, both claimants to the world's championship, will be on the card, as well as Yvon Robert, "The Lion of French-Canada," Legs Langevin, Jimmy Coffield, Rudy Dusek, Jean Pusie, the wild hockey player, and Maurice Robert. There are plenty of hotheads in this crew, and fireworks should be plenteous.

Sherbrooke's baseball squad is slated to go into action tonight under lights at Three Rivers, and "Doc" Gautreau has nominated George Klivak to do the tossing. Klivak is the lad who was optioned to Sherbrooke by Philadelphia Athletics and who stepped into the breach last Sunday night to fan Doljack, Granby centre-fielder, and choke off a threatening Red Sox rally.

Tomorrow the team performs in Granby, and Charlie Mistos will be gunning for his third straight win of the season. On Saturday night Three Rivers will oppose Sherbrooke at the local stadium and Walter Morris, pitching hold-over from last year's outfit, will face the Trifluvians. Jack Kimble, Lou Sakas and Mauro Ducca will be available for duty Sunday when the locals play a home-and-home series with St. Hyacinthe.

* * *

The Thetford Mines baseball aggregation has been disbanded, and Herb Stapelfeld, young pitcher, has been returned to Sherbrooke. This means Gautreau has seven twirlers under his wing, and the staff will have to be pared before very long.

* * *

Del Bissonnette is finding out that the road of champions is full of bumps and hidden snares. His team has been handcuffed effectively and emphatically in their last two games. First Johnny Reichel sent them down with only two hits in a seven-inning clash, then Bob Swan came up with another two-hit performance, this time over the full nine-inning route. The Athletics now rest in fourth place, two and a half games behind the pace-setting Sherbrooke nine.

Industrial Softball League hostilities will be inaugurated tonight with four games, three on the Parade Grounds and one on the Fairbanks diamond. Kayser, last year's champions, will tangle with Canadian Silk Products, the Rand will oppose Mitchell's and Fairbanks will hook up with Carnation Milk. On the Fairbanks diamond the "Y" will play Elesco Tigers.

High school track teams are rushing preparations for their invasion of Stanstead Saturday for the annual Eastern Townships Interscholastic Track Meet, and officials of the meet are holding their breath in hopes the Weather Man will be kind. Given good weather, some of the records that have stood for many years should be in for a beating.

CHIEFS SLIDE TO CELLAR IN INTERNATIONAL

Syracuse Chiefs, rated highly by the experts before the start of the season, have been one of the biggest disappointments in the International League so far—and no one knows it better than Manager Dick Porter.

Porter was so optimistic over his team's chaces that he openly predicted long ago the Chiefs would win the pennant "if the league is no faster than last year." At the rate Syracuse has been losing, the league must be faster this season than Bobby Feller's high hard one.

Yesterday Chiefs blew a fourteen inning, 3-2 decision to Jersey City Giants to drop into last place. It was their fifth straight loss.

Johnny Wittig turned in a fine relief pitching job for Little Giants and topped it off by batting in the winning run. The Chiefs had a 1-0 lead going into the last of the ninth, but with two out Tommy Neill doubled and Mickey Vernon singled to tie it up. Vernon saved Jersey City again in the 13th, with a homer, after Syracuse had pushed across its second tally.

The victory boosted the J's to within a few percentage points of the first place Rochester Red Wings, who lost 8-3 to Montreal, and second place Baltimore Orioles, who were idle. The Newark-Baltimore night game was postponed because of threatening weather.

Montreal clubbed Mike Ryba for 12 safeties, including a home run by Bert Haas with the bases loaded, to move into fifth place in the standings.

Toronto Maple Leafs handed Buffalo Bisons their second straight setback, 3-2. Floyd Giebel went the distance for Buffalo but pitched a home run ball to Tommy Heath in the 8th inning. Phil Marchildon, after tossing one-hit ball for six frames, was relieved in the eighth by Pat McLaughlin, who received credit for the win.

LENNOXVILLE HIGH ADDS TO SOFTBALL LEAD

Orange and Black Squad Downs St. Pat's 12-5—Tops Irish and Sherbrooke Tech by Three Points.

Lennoxville High School increased its first-place lead in the Sherbrooke Interscholastic Softball League by defeating St. Pat's 12-5 on Lennoxville grounds yesterday afternoon. Their second triumph in as many starts, moved the orange-and-black scholars three points ahead of the Saints and Sherbrooke Technical School, tied for second place with one point each as a result of a split in the league's opening game.

Lennoxville appears to have the jinx sign on every outfit in the circuit. The College Town softballers have not lost at home since they played their first game as a member of the league on their own diamond last season. Sacred Heart inflicted that loss on them, and turned out to be the only squad to sweep its two-game series from the champions. But the Catholic crew has been replaced by Sherbrooke Tech, at whose expense Lennoxville High was able to begin the current season with a victory on its home grounds.

Taking advantage of Gerry Daniels and Harry Blue's liberality with base hits and the Irishmen's defensive collapse in the late stages of the tilt, Lennoxville, after trailing by a run in the early frames and then stepping ahead for good with two in the fourth, made certain of their second successive win by scoring four tallies in each of their last two innings.

These markers were counted due chiefly to the fact that the Saints erred four times. Nearly all the safeties hit by both teams were singles. Daniels was charged with the loss.

Dodgers And Reds Tied For Top In National Ball Loop

Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons Heaves Brooklyn to 3-1 Victory Over Pittsburgh While New York Giants and Carl Hubbell Down Cincinnati 6-4—Indians Drub Red Sox 9-6 to Move Within 1½ Games of A. L. Peak—Yankees Uncork 16-Hit Bombardment to Rout Tigers 8-2.

There was a time that the National League pennant chase looked like it might be a runaway. First Brooklyn Dodgers won nine straight, then Cincinnati Reds gave the appearance of gunning for a ten-game lead by July 4.

The result was inevitable, of course. The senior circuit is having its customary brawl for the lead and today the Dodgers and Reds are tied with eighteen games won and eight lost.

The American League is having nearly as desperate a dispute for first place between Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians. New York Yankees have assumed winning ways, and have finally escaped the cellar.

The Baseball situation, in short, still appears as uncertain as the weather.

Cincinnati's chances depend considerably on big Paul Derringer, who suddenly has changed from an exclamation point to a question mark in the Reds' story. He has been knocked out of the box three times in his last five games and the only reason he lasted the route yesterday as New York Giants and Carl Hubbell beat Cincinnati 6-4, was the great faith of Manager Bill McKechnie.

Johnny Rizzo hit a double and a two-run homer to help give Derringer and the Reds a three-run lead in the first four innings. But Paul permitted the Giants to rally for three runs in the sixth and three more in the eighth after Bill Werber had put him in front again with a homer.

In the meantime fat Freddy Fitzsimmons led the Dodgers to a 3-1 decision over Pittsburgh Pirates. He permitted only six hits. Brooklyn won the game with two unearned runs in the fifth following a fumble by Arky Vaughan.

These were the only games the weather allowed in the National League.

Cleveland took first blood in its crucial series with the Red Sox, winning 9-6 on home runs by Hal Trosky, Roy Weatherly and Ken Keltner. The triumph raised the Indians again within 1½ games of the Sox.

The Yankees continued their assault with a sixteen-hit bombardment that wrecked Detroit Tigers 8-2. Babe Dahlgren had a perfect day with a home run and four singles while George Selkirk also hit a homer. Rookie Marvin Breuer held the Tigers to six hits.

Chicago White Sox, who hadn't won a game in their own park until Monday, now have won three straight, including a 10-1 triumph over Philadelphia Athletics yesterday. Ed Smith held the A's to seven.

Another seven-hit pitching performance, this one by southpaw Ken Chase, brought Washington Senators a 9-2 victory over St. Louis and sent the Browns into the cellar.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Babe Dahlgren, Yankees: Hit home run and four singles for perfect day at bat against Tigers.

Ken Keltner, Indians: Hit home run, double and single in 9-6 win over Red Sox.

Ken Chase, Senators: Kept seven hits scattered in subduing Browns 9-2.

Ed Smith, White Sox: Allowed but seven hits and shut out Athletics after first inning to win 10-1.

Fred Fitzsimmons, Dodgers: Held Pirates to six hits and permitted no runs after first frame.

As the Yanks were riding from Cleveland to Detroit Tuesday night, some lug hurled a rock through the train window, spraying Babe Dahlgren with splinters.

MAN PERSPIRES MORE THAN ONE QUART DAILY

"Binding" Can't Happen When You Wear The Correct Underwear

"Binding" is caused by excessive perspiration and may be prevented by wearing underwear made from soft porous yarn which absorbs perspiration and helps it to evaporate.

The average man perspires more than one quart per day — this perspiration must be evaporated quickly to avoid uncomfortable "binding". Penmans Balbriggan Underwear readily absorbs perspiration while its porous fabric aids quick evaporation which assures the ease and comfort that most men desire. These qualities of evaporation help maintain a healthful body temperature which prevents many colds. Choose from modern or standard styles for men and boys

Hatley, May 23.—A reception arranged by Mrs. Ralph Whitcomb in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hodgman (Mabel Glidden), of Birchton, was held in the Parish Hall and over one hundred guests from Sherbrooke, North Hatley, Beebe and other neighboring localities gathered to wish the newly-wedded pair happiness and prosperity. Many gifts of glassware, linen and china were displayed on a table, Mrs. Hugh Bowen and Mrs. I. Haines unwrapping and placing them. Mr. Ralph Whitcomb acted as chairman for the short programme and welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Hodgman in an appropriate speech.

An instrumental number by Mrs. Hugh Bowen was enjoyed, and remarks were made by Rev. W. A. Edwards, who officiated at the marriage, and Rev. H. W. Parry. Mrs. Vaughan sang several solos, and a song was also rendered by the Misses Patricia Pidduck, Joyce Haines and Ruth Bowen. Mrs. M. G. Pellerin read a selection dealing with methods of killing a mouse, and several community songs were sung, the programme ending with the National Anthem.

Best Protection For Your Furs!

Cold Storage

is the only thing that will prevent your furs from spoiling during summer months. It preserves the natural oils which are essential to the preservation of your coat.

Our Vaults

are the only ones in the Eastern Townships! They are situated on the premises, in our own building, which makes it possible to secure your coat on short notice.

Your Furs

will greatly benefit through a sojourn in our frigid vaults. Call 1236 - 1237 — furs called for and delivered.

2½% of a Fair Valuation will give you world-wide insurance against fire and theft for a year, and against moths while in our possession.
