HUGE RALLY OPENS VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

NO. 1 SQUADRON OF AIR CADETS IS INSPECTED

Westmount Corps Parades Before Air Commodore G. V. Walsh Who Urges Boys to Heed Instructors

What they are now learning will be of vital importance if they decide to join the Royal Canadian Air Force at a later date, members of No. 1 Westmount Squadron, Air Cadet League of Canada, were told by Air Commodore G. V. Walsh, air officer commanding No. 3 Training Command, as they paraded for inspection last week in Westmount Park.

Air Commodore Walsh declared the air force is extremely interested in having a pool of prospective recruits of so high a standard for later years.

He urged the boys to pay strict attention to their instructors, chiefly air force veterans, so that the things which they learned would eventually be of value to them in defence of their country.

H. P. Hilsley, commanding officer of the cadets, was in charge of the parade, while other ranking officers from the Navy, Air Force and Army were in attendance. Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., of Westmount, also participated.

RMR Band Opens Weekly Concerts

Under direction of Captain T. E. Jackson, the Royal Montreal Regiment band opened the 1941 season of weekly band concerts Monday night in Westmount Park.

The following program was heard: March, Washington Grays (Gratulla); Military Overture (Mendelssohn); Cornet solo, Columbia (Rollinson); Sgt. A. McCurdy, soloist; Descriptive, A Hunting Scene (Buccalossi); Sabbath Morning on Parade (Ord Hume); Suite A Coon's Day Out (Baynes); Trombone solo, Lend Me Your Aid from The Queen of Sheba (Gounod); Descriptive, London Bridge (Vall); Souvenir d-Quebec (O'Neill); March, Old Comrades (Telke). Regimental March.

Bell Telephone Geared For Wartime Emergencies

"We see a hard, tough job ahead, as you all do, but we have a lot in our favor. We have a telephone plant that is in the pink of condition. We have a vast manufacturing organization. We have an alert, experienced and loyal personnel manning our switchboards and equipment, our construction trucks, and supply lines. We have a seasoned management, every one of whom has demonstrated his right of leadership by rising from the ranks," said P. A. McFarlane, vice-president of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, speaking before the Westmount Rotary Club yesterday in Victoria Hall.

Mr. McFarlane, a resident of Westmount, outlined the requirements imposed upon the telephone files of the Red Cross Society, YM the training and equipping of the army, navy, and air force, the establishment of government and military offices, barracks, airfields, and camps, the extension and construction of munition, aircraft, shipyard, and military supply plants, the widespread activities of the Red Cross Society, Y. C. A., Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, and other organizations engaged in wartime service work, and the raising of the finances necessary to carry on these operations.

In keeping with the company's policy of preparedness for emergency demands upon the telephone system, the outbreak of war found that system well organized, fully

"German Plane" Arouses Much Interest

Residents of Westmount and points west were at least mildly startled one fine morning, early this week, on perceiving the apparent wreckage of a German Messerschmitt fighter plane in front of Victoria Hall on Sherbrooke street, its nose buried in the ground. And above it, draped in the branches of a tree, was displayed a parachute.

The plane, still in evidence, hadn't been shot out of Westmount skies, however, it is part of the local Victory Loan Committee's publicity for the drive launched officially last night.

It is intended to place a sign on or near the dummy "ME" reading, in effect, "Buy War Bonds and Help Shoot Them Down."

VACATION CLUB TO BE OPENED BY LOCAL "Y"

Summer Program Being Arranged For Boys 10 And 15 Years — "General Swim" Popular

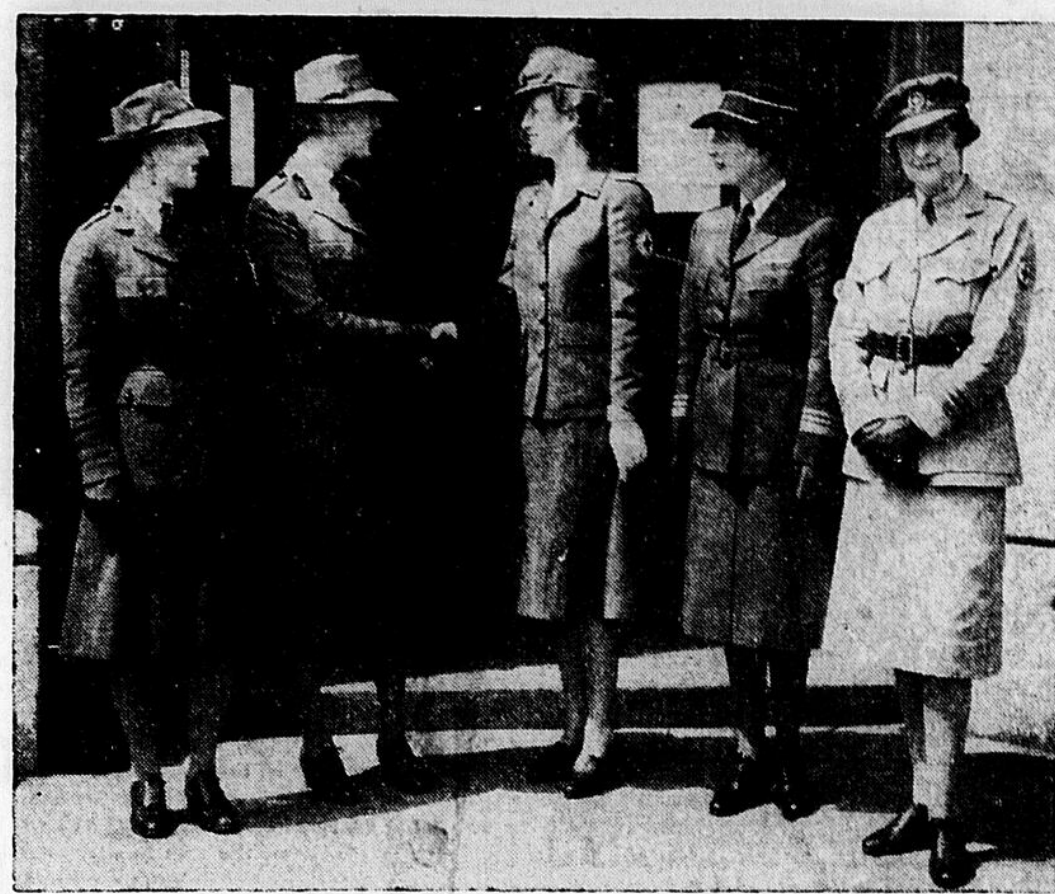

Plans are under way for the opening of the Westmount "Y" Vacation Club as soon as schools close for the summer holidays. Every effort is being made to prepare a program to meet the needs of the boys of the community between the ages of 10 and 15, and will be spending all or part of the holidays in the city.

Swimming, hiking, craftwork, photography, leather work, and soap carving are only a few of the many interests which will be available for the boy to try his skill.

A large number of the "Y" members are making use of the swimming pool at a "general swim" period held Monday to Friday from 5:15 to 6:15 p.m. Many of the boys are given help in improving their swimming and diving. These periods are carefully supervised.

As a closing athletic event for the 1940-1941 season, the senior students of University School held a swimming meet in the Y pool Tuesday afternoon. Hugh Fraser won the senior honors. John Burkett was second followed closely by James Williams.

IN FRIENDSHIP AND UNITY

Canadian and American women wearing the new Red Cross uniforms met for the first time during the present war when Mrs. Walter Lippman, wife of the well-known New York journalist, was received at the national headquarters of the Canadian Red Cross Society at Toronto, following her visit to Red Cross House of the Quebec Provincial Division in Montreal last week. Here Mrs. Lippman, (centre) is seen with members of the Canadian Red Cross Corps. They are: (left to right) Mrs. Ernest P. Lee, national commandant of the Food Administration Service; Mrs. Arthur Ellis, national commandant of the Office Administration Service; Mrs. Lippman, who is assistant to the national director of the American Red Cross Volunteer Special Services branch; Mrs. James Baxter, Toronto commandant of the Transport Service.

Memorial Service Held For Lt.-Lt. G. G. Hyde

A memorial service for Flight Lieutenant Geo. G. Hyde, R.C.A.F., killed on active duty "somewhere in England" last month, was held Tuesday evening in Erskine and American United Church.

Son of G. Gordon Hyde, K.C., M.L.A., and Mrs. Hyde of Westmount, Lt.-Lt. Hyde was one of the first Canadian airmen to go overseas with the 115 Fighter Squadron, holding the rank of flying officer at the time.

He became a member of No. 1 Fighter Squadron and was promoted to the rank of Flight lieutenant. He was wounded last year but returned to action and was shot down May 17.

Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon, D. D., L.L.D., conducted the service, assisted by Squadron-Leader Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, M.C., senior chaplain at No. 3 Training Command.

Tribute to Lt.-Lt. Hyde was paid by the officiating minister and three hymns, Onward Christian Soldiers, O God Our Help in Ages Past and Abide With Me were sung during the service. Two buglers of the R.C.A.F., sounded the Last Post and Reveille.

Among those attending, other than the survivors, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, a brother Capt. Richard Hyde, R.C.A.F., and a sister, Shirley, were:

Hon. Philippe Brats, Hon. J. A. Mathewson, Hon. Charles Dunning, Group Capt. Frank S. McGill, headquarters, R.C.A.F., Ottawa, and Mrs. McGill; J. O. Asselin, president, Executive Committee, City of Montreal; George Marler, L. R. Lafleur, Wing-Commander, J. M. Freeman, Wing-Commander, N. G. Goodman, Mr. Justice C. J. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wilson, Dr. F. Cyril James, Col. J. J. Creelman, Col. and Mrs. Hugh Walkem, Mr. and Mrs. V. Casgrain.

BOYS' BRIGADE TO BE ACTIVE DURING SUMMER

Weekly Swim Session Arranged for First Company, While Model Railroad Work, Boxing Are Other Features

The First Westmount Company, Boys' Brigade, is carrying on many of its activities throughout the summer months and has arranged a special swimming period each Saturday afternoon where the boys may practice and prepare for their swimming as well as life saving badges.

Model railroading, an entirely new hobby for the Brigade, is being developed by Lieut. Alexander Upham and has created a tremendous interest. Boxing will be coached by Warrant Officer Willard Brown.

The two first boys to receive their national service badge, Lance-Cpl. Edwin Goring and Pte. David Call, are well on the way toward an additional 50 hours, which, when reached, gives them a red shield beneath the badge.

Many of the other boys are making rapid progress toward their 100 hours and this summer should see a great many awarded with the badge. New arm markers for national service will be released shortly and may be worn by those performing these special duties.

Plans are going forward for a company camp, which it is hoped will take place early in the summer. Two years ago, a most successful camp was held and a similar arrangement would be most welcome by the boys.

Captain Richardson has made numerous contacts and several are most attractive. As soon as a definite arrangement has been reached, all boys will be notified.

James C. Steel To Direct His Number

James C. Steel of 222 Wood Avenue, Westmount, will realize a lifelong ambition Sunday evening, June 15, at Lafontaine Park when he conducts the Royal Victoria Rifles band in the playing of his own composition, a descriptive fantasia entitled "A Picnic at St. Helen's Isle."

The program will conclude with a prayer for peace and victory. Captain Garlepy, Victoria Rifles band master, has collaborated with Mr. Steel in arranging the special performance.

RECIPE PLANNED IN AID OF FUND

Pupils of Irene Nichols, L.R.S.M., will give a pianoforte recital next Wednesday, June 11 at the Westmount Intermediate High School in aid of the Queen's Canadian Fund.

Thousands Throng Westmount Park; See Norma Shearer

Westmount-born Motion Picture Star Aids in Launching Local Campaign — Hon. C. G. Power, Major Kilpatrick, Mayor W. A. Merrill, K.C., and George A. Campbell, K.C., Are Other Speakers

Norma Shearer came home to Westmount for the first time in 11 years last night and thousands bade her welcome.

The charming motion picture star likely has stopped many a show in her brilliant career but seldom if ever has she been hailed by as large a throng as crowded Westmount Park to see and hear her help launch Westmount's Victory Loan Campaign.

Should the local drive "go over top," much credit will be due Miss Shearer, for she factored tremendous interest with her flying visit from Hollywood; with her appeal to buy war bonds!—spoken into microphones carrying her voice across the continent. These were stimulating factors.

R.M.R. SEEKING REINFORCEMENT

Local Machine Gun Unit Opens Campaign to Fill Up Reserve for 1st Battalion Overseas

An active recruiting campaign to secure reinforcements for its 1st Battalion overseas is being conducted by the Royal Montreal Regiment (M.G.), with headquarters in Westmount.

A machine gun unit, fully mechanized, the R.M.R. seeks quick response from young men who are mechanically minded and keen about the type of action they would get in this mobile force. It is expected the present quota will be filled within a week.

Men wishing to enlist in this regiment for full time active service should apply immediately to the R.M.R. Armory, 4625 St. Catherine street, Westmount (near the Glen).

Recruits must be physically fit, not less than 5 feet tall, 120 pounds in weight and between 19 and 45 years of age. A married man should bring his marriage certificate and children's birth certificates where such apply.

Douglas Lorimer Named President

Quebec June 4—Douglas Lorimer, of Westmount, was elected President of the Canadian Chemical Association at the two-day Canadian Chemical convention ended at the Chateau Frontenac here tonight. Thomas A. Faust, of London, Ont. became vice-president and Dr. A. Labrie, of Quebec, secretary.

STAFF DRIVER

PT. JOHN L. TOMPKINS
 Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Tompkins, 5530 Cote St. Luc, who went overseas with the Royal Canadian Regiment and was later transferred to headquarters. He is now staff driver with the First Canadian Infantry Brigade. Pte. Tompkins is well known in athletic circles in the West end of Montreal and in Westmount. He was particularly active in softball leagues of these districts.

NORMA SHEARER RETURNS HOME HOLLYWOOD "ALL OUT" FOR BRITAIN

By Geraldine Brietzcke.

"It's as though I had just left yesterday," said Westmount's Norma Shearer, when interviewed at her hotel yesterday afternoon. "My sensation when flying through the air on the way back to Montreal was one of the great experiences of my life. I am amazed at how familiar it feels to be back, and terribly happy to be here."

Miss Shearer, looking radiantly lovely, told reporters that she was looking forward "tremendously" to the Victory Loan Rally in Westmount Park, and said: "Hollywood as a whole, and especially the motion picture industry, is thoroughly and wholeheartedly sympathetic with the British war effort. I feel very honored to be invited to the Rally, and hope I can be of some assistance to the great cause."

"I wish I could stay longer," the actress continued, "but I am about to start work on a new picture, 'We were Dancing,' which is based on a group of short plays by Noel Coward, called 'To-Night at 8.30.'"

Norma Shearer told French reporters that the next time she came back to Montreal, she could know how to speak French. Asked whether other British born movie stars would be likely to come to Canada to help foster American-Canadian friendship, she said that it was possible but it might be difficult to arrange, because when under contract with a studio, one's actions are controlled by the studio. "If we came too often," she said, "you might get tired of us!"

"I miss the Canadian winters very much," said Miss Shearer, "although I have been able to go skiing in Sun Valley. Some day I must sneak back and visit all the people I want to see and haven't had time to see."

Casual Styles 'Chic'

"Clothes and make-up are definitely casual nowadays," said Norma Shearer, when interviewed yesterday. "I always wear gaberdine or sack suits myself, and very rarely wear a hat—probably because I seldom find a hat that looks like one on me! Little make-up is being worn in the day time now—more for evening."

Miss Shearer, looking lovely in a suit of pale chartreuse with a long jacket, wore suede shoes to match her suit. She was bareheaded, and her hair of burnished red-gold, was worn in a fairly long bob, softly waved, with no elaborate curls.

Asked about her children, Norma Shearer said "Irving, the boy, is ten—blond, freckled, blue-eyed. He's mad about model aeroplanes, guns, and Buck Rogers. Katherine is five, and completely different in appearance. She has dark eyes, dark hair, dark skin. She loves to dance and giggle. They both love to swim," she continued. "They don't take much interest in my pictures; they'd rather play around the old sets in the studio!"

"I should bring them to Canada for a skiing trip," Miss Shearer added. "They both love to ski."

Norma Shearer is as lovely in real life as in her pictures. She is not tall, but combines daintiness and dignity, with charm and a real sense of humor. Her enthusiasm and interest seem to sparkle out of her lovely blue eyes, and she has a ready laugh.

BUY! BUY! BUY!

First results of the national Victory Loan are exceedingly encouraging, but we still have a long way to go and it behooves all of us to give to the limit. Buy Victory Bonds. Yes, buy them early and often. This is one tremendously effective way to help win the war. A large surplus will be viewed with alarm in enemy countries, while failure will be a cause of rejoicing in Germany and her allies.

Every district has a quota which must be attained. It is a matter of local pride to make a good showing. Consequently you are asked, no matter where you buy, to mark your application with your home address so that our community will be given full credit for your contribution. The only way the large quota can be passed is for each subscriber indicating explicitly where he lives. In this manner the district will be given credit and the salesman will not be affected in any way.

GOOD NEIGHBOURS HELP

Another of the many goodwill efforts that have developed through a spontaneous desire to do something to help Britain is a British trade campaign that began in Portland, Oregon, and has now spread to cities in twenty-four states. The purchase of Canadian goods is also encouraged by the sponsors.

A Portland department store executive was responsible for the beginning of this helpful effort when he realized that Britain's greatest need in the U.S. was increased credits. These could only be improved by increased purchases of British goods. A committee was organized to Aid Britain by Reciprocal Trade and the entire city embraced the scheme, with newspapers giving publicity and shops displaying British-made goods. It was emphasized that every dollar spent for British goods came right back to American factories to pay for Britain's war needs.

Portland's "Buy Something British Week" was such a success for the merchants' standpoint, that it has become a year-round activity. At the rate of 15 cities a week it spread to other states. The growing campaign is making a substantial contribution to Britain's cause, and it proceeds on a growing scale. It has been emphasized that no loss is felt by American factories and American workmen, as the war has given the U.S. an enormously increased trade balance with Britain. And in fact most of the long list of British products suggested to purchasers, are not of a type that compete seriously with American manufacturers.

The growth of this effort in Portland would probably occasion little surprise among Canadians on the west coast, for Vancouver is closer to Seattle, Portland and other neighboring Pacific coast cities below the border than it is to its nearest Canadian neighbours beyond the Rockies. The Portland campaign on Britain's behalf is no doubt largely due to the good-neighbour relations that prevail with Canada on the Pacific coast.

BEATING HITLER AT HOME

The important business of beating the U-boats is the navy's job, of course, but with springtime in Britain an opportunity was given to millions to help meet the U-boat menace. With the first fresh days of spring men, women, and children turned their sparetime efforts to an easy but effective way of beating Hitler. Seeds were the ammunition and hoes, rakes, and spades were their weapons.

No spring phase of the home front program in Britain has been more important than sowing the seeds for foodstuffs. On vast estates, in parks, lawns, gardens, and allotments in every corner of Britain, the April army of gardeners was in action.

The people of the island kingdom did not have to be reminded that they were doing a vital job in easing the call on merchant shipping and saving the lives of men at sea. And they knew the threat of defeat in a disastrous food shortage on the home front while Britain's sailors were doing their utmost to deliver the weapons for victory. They knew that Hitler has staked much on such a hope.

Westmount Baptist Church Notes

The services in the Westmount Baptist Church will be conducted by the Minister, Rev. J. A. Johnston. The theme of the morning sermon will be "Swords into Ploughshares or Ploughshares into Swords?" — "Spears into Pruning-Hooks or Pruning-Hooks into Spears?" Life presents us with awe-inspiring alternatives. The day in which we live will, in large measure, determine what we shall make of the Metal of Life.

In the evening, the address will be presented under the title, "Sojourners in Time, but Citizens of Eternity." In this address, the preacher will review what the Bible has to say about Life in the Near Hereafter and in the Far Hereafter. Visitors are cordially invited to these inspiring services.

Legion Launches "Poster" Contest

Ottawa.—The "Fighting Man's University" operated by the Canadian Legion Educational Services has announced, in conjunction with the National Gallery, a poster competition for artists and art students in all parts of the Dominion.

The posters—there will be one each day for the Navy, Army and R.C.A.F.—are intended to challenge the services men to take advantage of the educational facilities offered by the Legion, and the winning designs will be lithographed and placed in barracks, recreational huts and messes both in Canada and overseas.

The prizes offered are, three firsts—one for each service—of $50; three seconds of $25, and three thirds of $10 each. The "deadline" for entries is June 15, and all designs are to be sent to the Director of the National Gallery, Ottawa.

Judges are F. S. Haines, pres-

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:—
Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of next week are hidden. Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in this office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue. A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers. The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail:—
Margot Morrison, 4220 Dorchester West; H. Lanier, 39 Somerville Ave.; Mrs. W. Swales, 4328 St. Catherine W.; Miss Jean Smith, 58 Selby St.; William James Craig, 179 Selby St.; Miss Louisa Walker, 4100 Dorchester W.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The United States has more than six thousand varieties of native trees, the largest number known to be native to any one country. They have the largest and tallest, trees some, the Redwood, which I saw on the Pacific Coast (California) twenty years ago, are 400 feet high and some have bark thirty inches thick. The oak, considered to be the king of trees of slow growth is in fact one of the most rapid growers of the hardwood trees. There are 145 species of oaks in the U.S.A.

Many consider the maple the queen of trees, the beech the most beautiful and the magnolia the aristocrat of the tree family. Some of the most indispensable trees in order of their importance to mankind are: the cocconut on which many people rely for a livelihood, the orange and the apple.

The bamboo is food, clothing and shelter for the many millions of Southern Asia. The mango is the staple article of food of the one-fourth of the world who live in the tropics. Trees are the noblest of the plant family and the aristocrats of the vegetable kingdom. It has been said that there is no more worthy act than to plant a tree unless it be to plant two trees.

During World War No. 1 not a single American built airplane flew over the front lines.

Agnes Macphail, ex-M.P., is writing three columns each week for The Globe and Mail of Toronto dealing particularly with agricultural subjects. She will also do considerable lecturing.

New Zealand has recently completed its ten thousand house under the Labour Government National Housing Scheme.

The commonest name in our present House of Commons is Ross. There are six and two are Lieut.-Colonels. Four are Liberals. Lt.-Col. J. A. of Souris and D. G. of Toronto-St. Paul's are Conservatives. There are three Lapinets, three Blacks and three Bertrands—but no Smiths.

The death of Paul Archibald Caron, A.R.C.A., Montreal on February 14, 1941, stilled the heart and hrt of one of Canada's most notable water-colour interpreters of our great grand-nephew of the former Chief Justice, Sir Hippolyte Lafontaine, and was in his sixty-seventh year. TEMPLE EMMANUEL NOTES

Commencing this Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock, and the Friday evenings following during the summer, Minyon Services will be held in the Temple Community House.

The Temple Sisterhood will be guests of the Temple Sisterhood of Plattsburgh, N.Y. The luncheon takes place Wednesday, June 5th.

Mr. Michael Hirsch and Mr. Harry E. Davis led the confirmation procession at the Shabbath Services, and were supported by Mr. Felix Lewis and Mr. Martin Aronovitz. Assisting with the Torah were Mr. A. L. Mailman and Mr. Louis Wolfe. The flower girls were Suzanne Finkelstein, Doris Goodman, Carol Fischel, Shirley Elman, Elaine Neumann. The 1941 class consisted of Lois Astrof, Richard Benson, Arnold Burko, Geradine Isman, Harmon Liebman, Marilyn Mailman, Edward Marx, Martin Siegerman, Joseph Simon. The service proved most inspiring for a large congregation of worshippers gathered to witness this most beautiful ceremony in the reform ritual where both boys and girls pledge their loyalty to Judaism.

Confirmation class party takes place in the lecture hall of the Temple Saturday evening, June 7th.

The members of the Sisterhood executive were entertained at tea, Monday, June 2nd, at the home of Mrs. J. Cooper.

Mrs. Francis Beck will be host to the Sisterhood at a bridge on Wednesday, June 18th at 2:30 p.m., at her home, 466 Cote St. Antoine Road.

Committee in charge of summer services: Mrs. J. N. Neumann, Mrs. M. Margolick, Mrs. H. H. Lewis, Mrs. M. Aronovitz, Mrs. H. P. Horn, Miss Ann Frank, Mrs. G. Hollinger, Messrs. H. H. Lewis, M. Aronovitz, G. Hollinger, H. Neumann, H. A. Goldstein, Felix Lewis, Nathan N. Kaplan.

The central conference of American Rabbis will hold its annual meeting at Atlantic City June 24th-29th. Dr. Stern will attend the sessions of this important Rabbinical body.

Will Speak Here Major Steele will address the Montreal Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon today, following which he will leave for Ottawa where he is scheduled to speak on Thursday evening.

On Sunday, the Major will address a mass meeting in the University Street Citadel at 3 p.m. on the subject: "Seventeen Months with the Red Shield on Active Service in England," under the auspices of the Citadel Band.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God the only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist throughout the world on Sunday, June 8th.

The Golden Text, is from Revelation 15:3. "Great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, Thou King of saints."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought, he maketh the devices of the people of none effect." (Psalm 33:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Everything in God's universe expresses Him... He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual." (Page 331).

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

Special Children's Day services will be held in Calvary Church on Sunday, The Junior Choir, under the direction of Miss Vera Jamieson, will lead the choral service, and songs will be rendered by the members of the beginners and primary departments. Young Worshipers League certificates will be presented at this service.

The preacher at both services will be the Rev. D. T. I. Forsyth, B.A., B.D. The theme of the address to the children and congregation at the morning service will be "Words Frequently Mispronounced," and at the evening service the subject will be "Has the Way of Love Failed?" At the close of the evening service Mr. Forsyth's friends will gather to say farewell, and to wish him joy as he leaves to take up his new duties in the church in Waterloo, Ontario.

At 3 p.m. the annual graduation exercises will be held in the Sunday School. Friends of the school are cordially invited to share these services.

On Tuesday from 10.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. the Red Cross unit will meet and at 7.30 p.m. the evening branch will continue the work.

On Wednesday at 3 p.m. the Women's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. F. N. Stephen, 4272 Hampton Avenue. Mrs. E. Roberts and Mrs. A. N. Curtis will give the Study Book. All the ladies of the congregation are heartily invited to attend.

Friday, 7 p.m. there will be movies for the children. The picture this week will be "Charlie McCarthy—Detective."

Saturday, June 14th, the Sunday School will hold its annual picnic to Hudson, Quebec. Friends of the school are cordially invited.

OFFICER OF S.A. HERE ON LEAVE

Major A. L. Steele, M.B.E., Will Address Meetings In Canada

After 17 months in England with the Canadian Forces, Major A. L. Steele, M.B.E., has just returned to Canada. The Major went overseas with the First Canadian Contingent, accompanying Brigadier Foster and representatives of the other auxiliary organizations, and remained in England following organization work, as the director of all Salvation Army activities among the Canadian troops.

During the whole period of his service in England, Major Steele was a member of the Dominion Auxiliary War Services Board, and on two or three occasions acted as Chief Director of War Services, in the absence of the Director in Canada.

Major Steele, who holds the rank of Brigadier in the Salvation Army, served as a chaplain in the last war, receiving the decoration M.B.E. for his services. He has held many important positions in the Salvation Army in Canada, including that of Divisional Commander in Manitoba, Alberta, British Columbia and Northern Ontario. Before enlisting in the present war he was in charge of prison and police court work in Montreal, and became well known in social service circles. He also had charge of the Army's enquiry department in the metropolis.

Will Speak Here Major Steele will address the Montreal Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon today, following which he will leave for Ottawa where he is scheduled to speak on Thursday evening.

On Sunday, the Major will address a mass meeting in the University Street Citadel at 3 p.m. on the subject: "Seventeen Months with the Red Shield on Active Service in England," under the auspices of the Citadel Band.

Safe From Bomb, He Sprains Ankle

For the best part of a year Stoker James Soaltsy, a member of the crew of a Canadian warship, was on duty in the theater of war.

On his return the other day from service overseas, he was congratulating himself on the fact that he had been unscathed by Nazi bombs and torpedoes. He stepped ashore for a brief leave.

No sooner had he set foot on Canadian "safe" soil again when he stumbled and sprained his ankle. The accident sent him to a hospital for more than a week.

John Chatterton Named To Rover Scout Crew

On Monday evening last, John Chatterton became a member of the Capt. Robert F. Scott Rover Scout Crew. Of the public in general, very few realize just how important this step really is to the young men concerned. Firstly, the Rover Squire, as the prospective member is called, must pass through a period of Scouting, during which time he has completed the King Scout or First Class tests, unless for some reason, has not gone in for the Scouting end of training. In that case he must pass his Gilwell "A" course. At the age of 17 (16 in war time) the young man presents himself for membership, and after his 3rd consecutive meeting, he must state just why he wishes to become a Rover Scout. If he is accepted, he is presented with his RS "A" badge.

For the next six months or so he is instructed and trained by his sponsors, the requirements for the Trailman Badge, containing as much work on Outdoor Life, such as camp cooking, knotting, sanitation of camping, etc. and preparing him for future hikes.

Must take Vigil

Upon completing the badge, he then takes his Vigil, just as in the middle ages when a man was to be knighted. The Vigil is the thinking over of past deeds and vowing to start afresh. After having completed the Vigil, the Squire is now ready for Investiture. The Investiture is a solemn exercise of the Squire's corporate life. He is presented with his Spurs (Shoulder Straps) by his sponsors, the yellow, green and red shoulder knot are the representative colours of the three sections of the Brotherhood, namely Cubbing, Scouting and Rovering.

Following the Investiture, the Rover Leader, Albert Gilhooley announced the following promotions. Senior Rover Mate Mel Burge, to Assistant Rover Leader; Rover Mate Fred Read to Senior Rover Mate. Second Gordon McAuley and George Kirk to Rover Mates.

The meeting concluded with Flag Lowering and Scout Silence.

LT. J. H. MOLSON HONORED WITH PRESENTATION

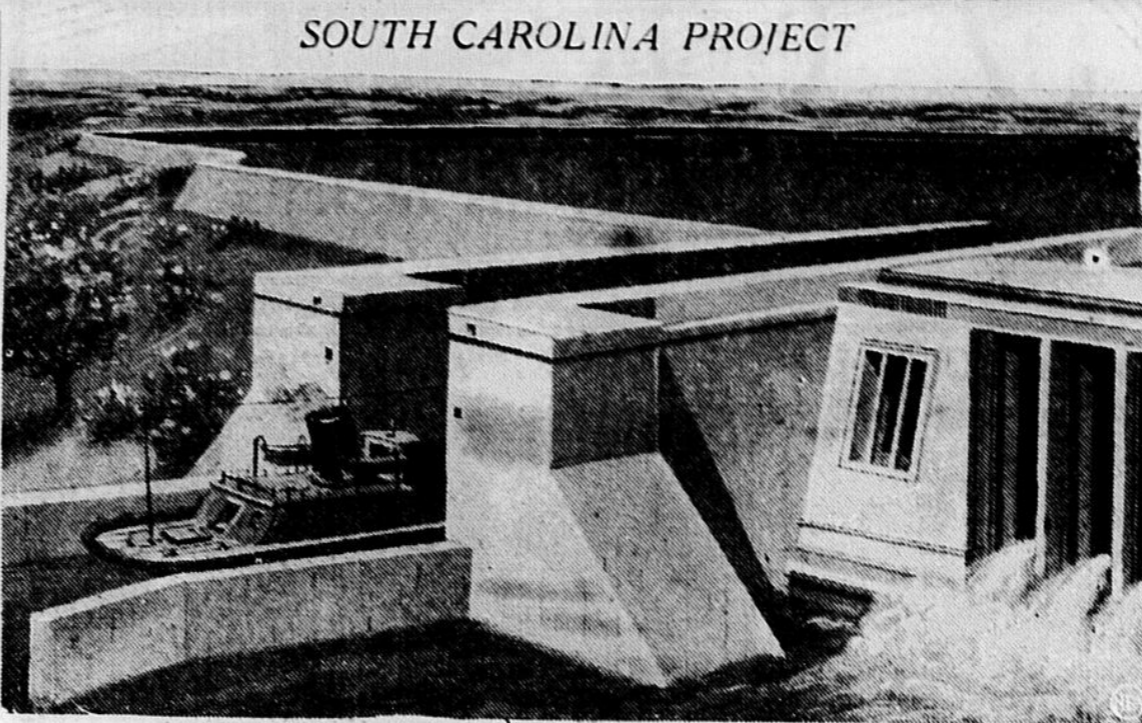

Is Recipient of Crested Cigarette Case in Recognition of Services Rendered Last Post Fund

Lt. John H. Molson, R.C.N.V.R., a resident of Westmount and Dominion president of the Last Post Fund, was presented with a solid silver, gold line, cigarette case, bearing the Molson crest, Saturday by Last Post Fund directors in recognition of the services he has rendered the Fund.

The presentation was made by Norman Holland, vice-president of the Dominion body and Quebec branch president, in the presence of Quebec branch directors. He referred to the magnificent assistance given and the work Lt. Molson has done for the Fund.

At the same time, Holland referred to Lt. Molson's patriotic gesture in resigning his command of a regiment so as to take a lower rank in the Navy with which he shortly will go on active service.

Bearing the inscription, "Industria et Spe" (Work and Hope), the case also carried the following message: "Presented to our old friend, John H. Molson, from the Last Post gang... May, 1941."

Massive, 300-ton gates will be locked behind it, and millions of gallons of water will pour in, lifting the boat to the level of lake in background. At right is the huge Pinopolis powerhouse, containing four 40,000 horsepower turbines which will help produce Santee-Cooper's 700,000,000 kilowatt hours a year.

ASK MOTORISTS TO LEND AUTOS FOR BLIND TOTS

Annual Outing to Be Held June 11 — Buses Not Available Owing to War Effort

Owing to stress of war activities it has been found impossible to engage buses to transport blind children on the annual outing to be held on June 11 and citizens who can spare their automobiles for that day are asked to contact the Montreal Association for the Blind.

The picnic party will leave the association's headquarters on Sherbrooke street west at 2.15 o'clock motoring first to Ste. Anne de Bellevue and thence to Belmont Park where the sightless guests will be entertained.

The yearly event is sponsored

Special Weekly Sale Will Start Tonight

The special weekly sale of soft drinks and ice cream at the King George Park chalet, to be conducted each Thursday evening throughout the summer by the Fred Fisher, V.C., Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, will open tonight at seven o'clock, it was announced.

Proceeds will be used by the chapter for war work.

by the association aided by the majority of Montreal's Service Clubs and is always regarded with eager anticipation by the invited children. At least 300 usually attend.

Some 60 cars are needed and it is hoped that citizens will respond to this charitable appeal.

JOLLEY STILL HITTING

Norse Refugees Reach West Coast

Eleven months on the journey, the Kaare II, a 70-foot ketch of nine tons, put into port here, April 28, from Norway with a party of eight refugees from Nazi persecution.

The eight are part of a family of 23 who fled from Christian-sund, Norway, last June 3, after they had used their fish boat to help Government officials escape the Nazi net when the German invasion swept their homeland.

The other 15 in the party went ashore when the Kaare II reached Halifax and crossed the continent to Vancouver by train.

Bell Telephone . . .

So far it has been a combination of all these features of operating an essential communication service. Potential emergencies have been anticipated, so far as it is possible for telephone engineers to foresee; emergency plans have been drawn to replace service, in case the facilities serving some vital points should be damaged or destroyed.

Mr. McFarlane concluded with a description of the contributions of telephone research to military needs — electrical stethoscopes for the medical corps, radio sets for the tank corps, sound proof helmets with earphones inside for the air force, shock-proof telephones for the infantry, secrecy devices for the signal corps, and electrical cars for detecting enemy airplanes, gun emplacements, and submarines from afar. He described the uses of teletype, telephoto, and television in warfare.

The use of communication by the defense forces in Great Britain, and its maintenance in spite of bombing, were also described.

F. C. Whitaker, west district manager of the Bell Company, introduced the speaker.

W. B. SCOTT, K.C. VOICES APPEAL FOR RECRUITS

Westmount Alderman, Joint Chairman of Special Committee, Says "Today the Need Is for Men"

An urgent appeal for recruits for active service was voiced by W. B. Scott, K.C., an alderman of Westmount and joint chairman of the Special Committee on Recruiting for Overseas Service, in a preliminary discussion of the organization's plans for extension of the Dominion's recruiting campaign.

"Enlistment for overseas is a matter of personal honor for our young men," Mr. Scott said. "A survey of the situation shows two things very clearly. We only need rousing to a sense of duty and responsibility, and, as Major C. G. Power put it: 'The Army will take every man we can get.'"

Mr. Scott drew attention to the changed and changing picture of the war, which he describes as too little appreciated by the average citizen. "Today, the need is for men," he insisted. "We have heard too much of: 'Men aren't wanted!' That may have been true when it was uttered first. It is not true today."

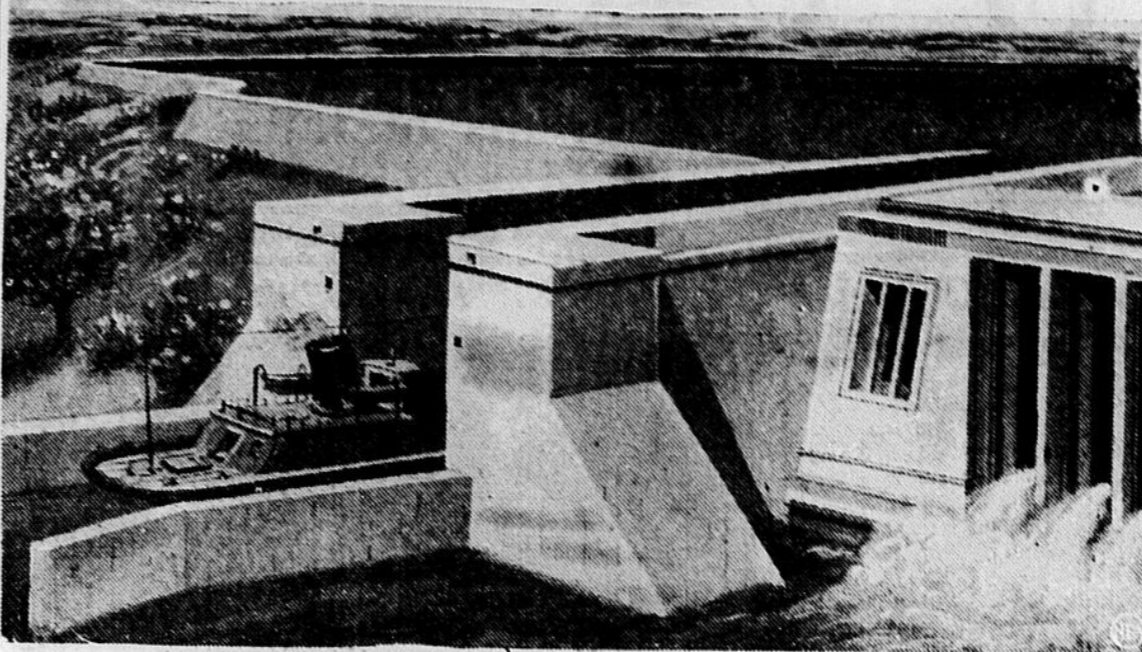

Outlining the work already done by the Special Committee, Mr. Scott stated a clear cross-section of the community was represented. Sub-committees have been appointed to deal with the various phases of the recruiting campaign.

Three of these are already operating under chairmen, while others are being set up from day to day not only in Montreal but in other centres such as Three Rivers, Sherbrooke, Valleyfield, St. Jerome and Lachute.

H. C. MORLAND DIES TUESDAY IN 53RD YEAR

Well-known in Westmount Harold Clarence Morland, for many years managing director of Morland Motors Limited, died Tuesday in the Homeopathic Hospital in his 53rd year.

Born in Toronto, May 19, 1889, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Morland, he attended Toronto and Montreal schools, including Westmount High School.

Mr. Morland joined the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Limited, when Morland Motors Limited went out of business in 1934, becoming the company's representative at the Montreal St. James street branch, a position he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Morland was a longtime member of Westmount Lodge, No. 76, A.F. and A.M., while he also was a member of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal. It was with the Kiwanis Club that he took an especial interest in work to aid crippled children.

Survivors are his wife, the former Kathleen Dowden; a son, Albert J. Morland; two daughters, Shirley and Dorothy; a brother, W. R. Morland; and two sisters, Mrs. Hazel Wardill and Miss Olive Morland, all of Montreal.

Funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the William Wray Chapel, 2975 University street, burial taking place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

"Since I took that reducing course I don't have to worry what the scales say," the slimmer boasted.

Unemployment Insurance Takes Effect Next Month

Unemployment Insurance becomes an actuality in Canada from July first. For the workers who are subject to periods of unemployment through no fault of their own it will mean the difference between being on relief or charity and the self-respect of having provided for their own welfare through a plan of insurance savings.

The plan is one of co-operation between the employer, the employee, and the Government. Each makes a contribution based on the weekly wages earned by the employee. To the amount contributed by the employer and the amount deducted from the employee's wages, the Government adds one-fifth of the total, and pays for the cost of operation. These contributions are similar to insurance premiums, and accumulate against the day when the worker, either male or female, becomes unemployed. Then, in a very short time the worker begins to receive weekly cheques which will continue for a limited period of unemployment.

This, briefly, is the Unemployment Insurance Plan which becomes a law of Canada, just as it has been a law in Great Britain for more than thirty years. With the experience of the British Act as well as the examples of other countries to draw upon, the Unemployment Insurance Commission has created a plan which should operate with the least inconvenience to the employer and to the greatest possible benefit to the workers.

System is Simplified

A unique and simple system of making contributions to the Fund through the Employer purchasing special stamps from the Post Office and affixing them each week in a book designed for the purpose, is a record of each worker's contributions, as well as the employer's. In this way every worker can find out exactly at any time where he or she stands in respect to Unemployment Insurance.

There are some classes of workers who are not eligible for Unemployment Insurance, and there are certain conditions which affect all workers. Both employers and employees should familiarize themselves with the terms of the plan which will be made available by the Postmaster in the locality you live.

A part of the plan is the opening of Employment Offices throughout Canada where workers may seek jobs and employers may seek workers. These offices will be opened as rapidly as possible to facilitate the most effective utilization of Canada's labour force during the war and in preparation for the return of workers to peacetime employment after war work has ceased.

Womens Club Host At Special Dinner

Out-of-town members of the Army, Navy and Air Force were guests of the Westmount Women's Club on the week-end at a dinner in Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Entertainment was provided under direction of Miss Betty Speirs the program including songs by Peter Miller, baritone; Dorothy Gillespie, contralto and Ellen Rathie, soprano. Miss Gillespie accompanied at the piano.

A violin solo by Norman McLean also was heard, while Nancy Telfer directed a community singing session with Miss Speirs at the piano.

Arrangements for the dinner were under supervision of Mrs. Herbert C. Holland.

WEDDINGS

Peebles-Bell
The marriage of Mary Jane, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bell, to Mr. David Peebles, will take place on Saturday afternoon, June 7, at half past four o'clock in Emanuel Church, the Reverend Dr. J. Pitts officiating. The church will be decorated with palms, snapdragons and sweet peas.

The bride, who will be given away by her father, will wear a floor length gown of blue mist brocade satin, and a waist length veil held in place with matching flowers. She will carry a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Violet Bell, the bride's sister, will act as maid of honor, and will wear a floor length gown of dusty rose silk jersey with matching headpiece, and will carry a nosegay of forget-me-nots and Sweetheart roses. Miss Iris Kyle, niece of the bride, will be bridesmaid, and will also wear a gown of dusty rose silk jersey with headpiece to match, and will carry a nosegay similar to that carried by the maid of honor.

Mr. W. Hodge, of Welland, Ont., will act as best man for Mr. Peebles.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in the Blue Room of the Windsor Hotel, and later the bridal couple will leave on their honeymoon trip to Bromo Lake, Que., the bride travelling in a grey tailored suit with black and red accessories.

Upon their return, they will take up residence on Hampton avenue.

Out-of-town guests will include Mr. and Mrs. L. Mundy, of Ottawa, Corporal J. L. Bell, R.C.A.F., brother of the bride, and Sergeant G. Aitchison, R.C.A.F., both of Toronto.

GRADUATION GOES STYLISH

ADMINISTRATION OF HOSPITAL DESCRIBED AT SODALITY MEETING

On Sunday morning, June 1, the Young Ladies' Sodality of Ascension Parish was addressed by Mme. L. de G. Beaubien, O.B.E., as guest speaker at the annual Mother and Daughter Breakfast, which was held at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel following the 8 o'clock Mass.

Mme. Beaubien, who is president of the administration of St. Justine Hospital, gave an interesting description of the various departments that are necessary in order to have an institution function smoothly and well. She stated that often people are under the impression that the care of sick children does not involve the same amount of work, expenditure and skill necessary in the care of adults. Mme. Beaubien went to prove that such was not the case and that in reality children require highly specialized care and attention.

The part that voluntary workers can play in such an organization and the worthwhile work they can accomplish, was also stressed by Mme. Beaubien.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Ann Allison and a vote of thanks was rendered by Miss Marjorie McGarvie. The prefect of the Sodality, Miss Alma Tremblay, welcomed the guests. Rev. Father Wilfred E. McDonagh, P.P., addressed a few remarks to the gathering, as did Miss Rose Kelly, president of the Union of Parish Sodalities of the Archdiocese of Montreal, and Rev. Father George Thoms, Director of the Sodality.

Miss Tremblay was presented with a rosary as a token of appreciation for her efforts on behalf of the Sodality during the past two years.

Great Talent Shown In Original Fashion Show

The fact that young girls have not lost their interest in domestic arts, was strikingly evident at the fashion tea staged last Friday afternoon by the pupils of the Westmount Intermediate School. Every girl in the 7th, 8th and 9th year of school, no matter what course she takes, learns sewing and cooking, and all the clothes modelled at the show were made by the girls themselves.

The young models paraded past tables set up in the school gymnasium and a large audience showed repeated appreciation of the pupil's skill.

The parade was off to a dashing start with several smart shorts and play suits, among them being a neat red play outfit with white dots, and a pretty white skirt-and-shorts duo worn with a green blouse.

In the skirt section, the preference ran to the graceful flared style in many shades, although classic and tartan put in an appearance. Several smart, tailored models were also featured in this section, as was a more formal velvet dirndl skirt; and one of the nicest outfits consisted of a jacket, skirt and calot all in matching light blue.

In the miscellaneous section some of the loveliest clothes were shown, including a white hooded beach coat of terry cloth, a short green velvet evening jacket with satin lined hood, and a charming wine color jumper on princess lines, worn with a grey blouse. Several pretty housecoats were included, one beautifully tailored model being of rich dark blue. Among the summer evening gowns were an attractive red and white cotton print and a striking gown of grey gingham, fashioned on long flowing lines, with a wide, fitted red belt.

Skill in knitting was ably demonstrated in the showing of many wool garments, among them being a long sleeved sweater in turquoise, with bands of cable stitch, and a quaint waistcoat with a bright red back and sand color front, the front being gaily embroidered in wool.

All sorts of blouses were modelled, including crisp tailored sports shirts with short sleeves, and long sleeved shirtwaist blouses on softer lines, in stripes and dots. A shirt of red, white and black check, with long sleeves, was well received, and equally attractive was an absolutely plain white classic shirtwaist. Dainty sprigged blouses with puff sleeves were included, and one of the prettiest seen was in rich pink muslin.

An interesting long grey jersey or "torso" lines was worn with a black flared skirt, and a lovely tailored model of wide, grey and white striped wool was shown to advantage. An amusing pinafore dress of beige with a pattern of red Mexican hats was buttoned up the back with little Mexican hat buttons. Grey and red were prettily combined in a well made dress with three-quarter sleeves, the trimming, setting off the warmth of the grey. A neat white muslin dress and several pretty striped and flowered cottons rounded off the show.

Louise Watson acted as announcer for the parade, and the refreshments served at the tea were made by the pupils of the domestic science course.

Miss Vera Groves, pianist, Miss Norma McLean, violinist, played selections during the show.

Hospitality Is Fun, And Need Not Be Expensive

Hospitality is fun, says Fredrika Borchard in the Christian Monitor, and it's one of the foundations of worthwhile family life. There's a thrill in saying to this friend or that "Come on over to dinner." "Pop in to supper tonight." "Come to luncheon tomorrow—no trouble at all, really."

No trouble? Well, that's a bit of exaggeration, of course. Company is trouble, and company does cost money. You can't possibly serve six people as cheaply as you can serve three. And preparing something especially festive is bound to be more trouble than just doing up meat balls and baked potatoes. But it's worth it. And really and truly, if you go at it properly, the drain of company need not be prohibitive.

To be sure, it takes intelligent planning to serve a memorable repast without overtaxing time or strength or pocketbook. But to prove that it can be done, we're starting you off with a few recipes that ought to make you, at the very least, the Hostess of the Week.

- Veal Outlet Supreme
1 veal outlet, about 1 inch thick
1 lb. liver sausage
1 teaspoon onion juice
1/4 cup thick sour cream
1 egg separated
Salt, dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce, sage, savory or marjoram
- Appetizing Dish.
A noodle cheese rink filled with creamed shrimps makes a delicious dish for the bridge club luncheon. This, combined with an attractive fruit or vegetable salad, light dessert, and plenty of coffee will afford an ample menu, not hard to prepare.

CLOTHES NEEDED FOR BRITISH CIVILIANS

Gifts of money and new clothing are greatly needed and will be gratefully received by the Canadian Red Cross Society, which will use the money for the purchase of such articles of clothing which cannot be made. All the supplies will be shipped to the proper destination in England.

Clothes are now rationed in Britain, and help is needed for the valiant civilians, whose dangerous work such as fire-fighting, fire-watching, etc., is so vital.

Red Cross workers will explain to those interested which kind of clothing is needed.

OPENING TEA HELD BY LADIES' SECTION OF WENTWORTH CLUB

The opening tea of the Wentworth Golf Club, ladies' section, was held in the newly decorated lounge of the clubhouse on Saturday.

Mrs. D. W. Johnston and Mrs. S. J. W. Liddy presided at the tea table, which was decorated with red and white carnations and blue cornflowers; and red, white and blue candles. Sprinkle, iris, and red tulips were used extensively to adorn the lounge.

Mrs. J. J. O'Mara, president, and the executive received the 74 ladies present. Following a short address by Mrs. O'Mara in which she expressed her best wishes for a successful season, the members of the executive were presented.

Mrs. J. Simpson, captain, read the fixture list for the season, and expressed her desire that the ladies would enter these competitions wholeheartedly. A special welcome was extended the new members.

A sale of home-made cooking in aid of the C.L.G.U. spitfire fund netted a total of $25.

The following were the winners of the 9 hole competition held before the tea:

In Class A, low gross, Mrs. J. V. Chisholm, Mrs. L. Murphy (tied); low net, Mrs. A. C. Wilkinson; sealed hole, Miss P. Magnus. In Class B, low gross, Mrs. L. Morgan; low net, Mrs. F. Shaw; sealed hole, Mrs. A. R. Smith. In Class C, low gross, Mrs. J. Laine; low net, Miss B. Trot; sealed holes, Mrs. R. Barbour, Miss Murphy, Mrs. E. Kendall.

In The Women's Realm Meeting In Hotel

The annual meeting of the League for Women's Rights will be held in the Windsor Hotel on Monday evening, June 9, at 8 o'clock.

Annual Picnic
Karnak Ladies' Social Club will hold its annual picnic at the summer home of Mrs. L. B. Temple, Plage Laval, on Tuesday, June 17. Members will meet at the Masonic Temple, Sherbrooke Street west, promptly at 9.45 a.m., and will proceed to the grounds by motor. In case of rain, the picnic will be held in the Plage Laval Club House.

LOCAL WOMAN HOLDS UNIQUE ARMY POSITION

Mrs. Dorothy Allaston Receives Expression Of Appreciation from Soldiers-Driver for R.C.-O.C.

Tangible appreciation of the services of Mrs. W. H. "Dorothy" Allaston, 4940 Cote des Neiges road, who holds the unique and official position of driver of officers and men of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, was shown recently when she was presented with a leather briefcase, writing portfolio, fountain pen and pencil, all suitably engraved. The post which Mrs. Allaston holds was authorized by headquarters of Military District No. 4 through the office of the adjutant-general. She supplies her own car and states that she "gets a great kick out of driving for the service."

Mrs. Allaston's wartime activities however are not limited to duties with the Ordnance Corps, she has furnished lounging and recreation rooms for the men. Drives many entertainers to the various nearby camps and also finds time to care for families of soldiers with whom she comes into contact. Many of these families know her well by the amount of clothing and food she distributes amongst them. She is also the only woman director of the

"Bundles For Britain" Will Be Aided By Bridge Tomorrow

The Associate Members of The Women's Volunteer Reserve Corps will hold a bridge and home cooking sale in the Armoury, 175 Craig Street West, tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock, to raise funds to help cover the incidental expenses necessary to enable the Corps to continue its work with the regular forwarding of "Bundles for Britain."

This work consists of the collection, sorting, preparing and packing and forwarding to the Daily Sketch War Relief Fund, London, England, of crates of about 1200 to 1500 lbs., consisting of donated gifts of clean used clothing in good condition and repair, of all kinds for civilian men, women and children to be distributed from London on "urgency calls" from bombed areas.

The list of individual persons who have given donations is too numerous to give in detail, but thanks are extended to all known and unknown friends who have helped in the work, especially all chapters of the I.O.D.E., the Red Cross, the Overseas Service League and the Boys' Farm, Shawbridge.

It is hoped that a large crowd will attend the bridge, to assist in the worthy work of providing "Bundles for Britain."

Youthful Pianists Broadcast Saturday

Music students from Catherine H. Smith's piano studio will broadcast on Saturday afternoon next, June 7, from 2.00 to 3.00 over CBM.

Each performer on the program has at least one or more prizes to his or her credit, such as radio prizes, distinctions at R.S.M. or McGill, silver cups for composition or performance, etc. The public is invited to note the hour and listen in.

School for Handicapped Children Inc.

Founded Native Daughters She was organizer and founder of Queen Esther Chapter No. 30, Order of the Eastern Star and formerly held office in Grand Chapter O.E.S. Quebec. Mrs. Allaston was prominent in the founding of the Native Daughters of Canada (Canadian Daughters League) a sister organization of the Native Sons of Canada and was first president of No. 7 Assembly.

Her popularity among officers and men and fellow-drivers of the R.C.A.S.C. (who greet her with two "honks" of their horns whenever they meet her) is evident by the lusty and whole-hearted way in which the 200 men who made the presentation sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES ON WAR TIME COOKERY

By JEAN DUVAL

Patriotic Canadians Will All Want To Know How They Play Their Part In Our National Effort For Food Conservation.

Here Are a Few Suggestions. War time always calls for changes in our cooking and eating habits. However, there is no need to sacrifice the flavour and tastiness of our meals. . . and one can prepare dishes which are just as tantalizingly delicious from the less-favoured types of meat.

Rushing out to get a roast of beef isn't the only way to prepare a dinner, nor is it always the most economical! Other parts of the animal are just as nutritious and can be temptingly cooked to give variety and zest to the menu. Moreover, by using up every scrap of meat available, we avoid waste and help the war effort.

Liver, tongue, kidney, heart and sweetbreads can all be prepared so as to be delicious and provide a really exciting variety on the menu. They are nourishing, too, and liver and kidney, in particular, are rich in iron and therefore are of special value in building up the blood and combatting anemia.

A little imagination . . . a few sound rules on cooking . . . and you can produce some most appetizing meals from these meats. For piquant eating, I would recommend:

BAKED LIVER, CREOLE

- 1 pound beef liver
- ¼ pound sliced back bacon or lean side bacon (more if preferred)
- Sliced mild onions
- Flour, salt, pepper
- 18 oz. can tomatoes
- ¼ cup chili sauce or green relish
- Worcestershire sauce to taste

Have your Dominion butcher cut the liver in slices. Cover with boiling water, let stand 5 minutes and drain.

In a baking dish, arrange a layer of bacon. (Cook the bacon lightly if it is rather on the fat side.) Add a layer of liver, then one of onions; dredge generously with flour and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Continue layers to use all the liver and bacon—have bacon on top.

To the tomatoes, add chili sauce and a dash of Worcestershire; pour over the liver. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350 deg. for 45 minutes. Uncover and bake until liver is done through. Add liquid during baking if necessary.

LIVER OAF

This loaf has a flavour that's interesting, out of all proportion to its ingredients. Looks effective on a bed of cooked noodles, surrounded with parsley and tomato sections.

- 1½ pounds beef liver
- ½ pound pork (inexpensive cut)
- 3 cups soft day-old bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons finely-minced onion (more if preferred)
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Powdered sage or mixed poultry seasonings (about 1½ teaspoons)
- ¼ cup chili sauce

Have liver and pork put through food chopper. Add the crumbs, onion and seasonings. Beat and add the egg, then mix in chili sauce. (A little shortening or bacon dripping may be included if the pork is very lean.) Turn into thoroughly greased loaf pan and dot with soft shortening. Bake in moderate oven, 350 deg., for 1½ to 1¾ hours. Slice and serve hot, with brown or tomato sauce.

JEAN DUVAL, brilliant young dietitian and a graduate in Household Science, and lecturer on Home Economics, now Director of the Dominion Stores Home Kitchens.

SCRAMBLE PIE

Kidney pie—but with a difference! This will appeal to those who frequently serve kidney, and also to those for whom this meat is a novelty.

- Rich pie-paste
- 3 beef kidneys
- Brown gravy
- Hot butter, shortening or bacon dripping
- Soft scrambled eggs

Line a deep baking dish with rich pie-paste; fit the paste in loosely and build it up well around the sides. Prick closely with a fork and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, until nicely browned. (To preserve the shape, you may fill the lined dish with stale bread, for baking—remove bread when paste has set, so that the crust will brown.)

Soak the kidneys in salted water for 1 hour. Drain; simmer in salted water until tender, then slice. Brown in very hot fat in a frying-pan, seasoning well.

To serve, heat the kidneys in the brown gravy. Turn into the pie shell, cover with scrambled egg and slip into the oven a few minutes, so that all will be very hot. Garnish with chopped parsley.

Alternative Method:

Turn fried kidney and brown gravy into baking dish. Cover with sliced hard-cooked egg, then with rolled-out pie-paste (in which eyelets have been cut for escape of steam). Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, about 30 minutes.

TIERED SKIRT LOOKS BEST ON TALL GIRL

If you are small, don't try to wear a tiered skirt or, for that matter, a pepium. These are strictly tall-girl fashions and much in the news, along with big sleeves and other dress details of fashion distinction.

Probably no single style feature has transformed the character of daytime dresses more than the tiered skirt. Always regarded as a bit "sassy" for daytime, designers have removed this objection this season by pleating them or keeping them flat, but never flaring them. By a second show of good sense, leading designers joined them to simple easy-to-wear tops. The skirt-waist joined to a tiered skirt is about the most unexpected form in which this eternally familiar type has yet appeared. These are now in high fashion clothes.

On the smart dancing floors, this type of dress is always to be found. Now that dressier afternoon dresses are needed for weddings, the tiered skirt is seen in impressive numbers.

Iraq has only 6,604 telephones in service the first of this year.

Mother-In-Law Problem Solved

A solution of the mother-in-law problem was advanced—but not recommended—recently by Alexander Spoehr, assistant curator of American Ethnology and Archaeology at the Field Museum of Natural History.

"A Crow Indian," he said "avoids his mother-in-law, and she shuns him with equal thoroughness."

"He does not speak to her and in conversation does not mention her name." "This is not because they dislike each other—on the contrary, they respect and may like each other very much. Their avoidance is simply one way of preventing conflict."

Pleasant Experience

Motor Salesman: "Can I show you something, sir?" Pedestrian: "No, I'm not here to buy anything. But it's such a wonderful change to be in the midst of all these cars without having to dodge them."—Grit.

Great errors seldom originate but with men of great minds.—Petrarch.

HOT VEGETABLES CAN BE PEPPED UP WITH THE PROPER SAUCES

The more vegetables in your menu, the more health for your family. Cabbage, carrots, onions, beet tops, leeks, turnips, cauliflower, green or wax beans, however, may seem dull at times. Here's a series of new easy vegetable sauces which begin with home-made or bottled mayonnaise or commercial salad dressing:

MUSTARD-HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Yields ¼ Cup One half cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, ¼ cup milk.

Combine mayonnaise, salt, and mustard in top of double boiler. Gradually add milk, stirring after each addition until smooth. Cook over boiling water 5 minutes, stirring constantly; if over-cooked, sauce will curdle. Serve at once with hot beets, cauliflower, broccoli, artichokes, or spinach; broiled or baked fish, corned beef, tongue, or baked ham.

Here are some variations:

CURRY-HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Omit mustard. Combine ¼ teaspoon grated onion and salt with mayonnaise. Substitute water for milk. Cook as directed in recipe for mustard-Hollandaise sauce. Blend small amount of sauce with ½ teaspoon curry powder. Add to remaining sauce and mix thoroughly. Serve at once over hot vegetables.

TESTED RECIPES

One cup each rye, cornmeal and wheat flour, 2 teaspoons soda, ¾ cup molasses, 2 cups sour milk, 1 to 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 cup flour, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup milk.

FRUIT MUFFINS

2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup milk, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 1-8 teaspoon salt, ½ cup raisins

Jewish School To Hold Graduation

The annual graduation of the Shaar Hashomayim Hebrew and Sunday Schools took place last Thursday evening in the synagogue.

The program consisted of a dramatic presentation in poetry and song of the life of Judah Halevi, marking the 500th anniversary of his death, and also selections in "Tribute to England, Embattled Home of Freedom." The address to the graduates was delivered by Dr. Abramowitz, Joseph Levinson, Sr., president of the congregation, and Harry Hatzhaw, K.C., chairman of the educational committee, distributed the diplomas and awards.

Recipe For French Toast Seldom Found

French toast is a pleasant change from pancakes and maple syrup. There are not many recipe books that have a recipe for it, so in case you haven't one here it is:

- 1 egg.
 - 1 teaspoon sugar.
 - 1-8 teaspoon salt.
 - 1 cup milk.
- Beat the egg until light, add milk, add sugar and salt. Cut slices of bread fairly thick, dip the slices in the mixture and remove at once. Brown in butter in a hot frying pan. Serve hot with maple syrup or jelly.

'HARDY' COMEDY AT WESTMOUNT

"Andy Hardy's Private Secretary" Depicts Graduation of Family Scion

Designed to strike a responsive cord in the hearts of all the family, "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night, is heralded as destined to prove one of the most popular of the series.

The latest Hardy Family picture proves a milestone in the life of Andrew Hardy. Its plot, in brief, finds the young man deep in the duties as chairman of numerous senior committees, and being a Good Samaritan on the side to a couple of youngsters less fortunate than he. How he inadvertently causes a near tragedy in their family, and how, in spite of failing an English exam, he manages to be among those present when diplomas are handed out, makes for one of the most human screen documents of the year.

Popular Cast The popular cast has again been assembled, with Lewis Stone as Judge and Mickey Rooney as Andy. Fay Holden is seen as Ma Hardy, Sara Haden as Aunt Milly and Ann Rutherford as Polly Benedict. Two additional screen favorites, Ian Hunter and Gene Reynolds, make their appearance with the family in the new production.

The picture also marks the screen debut of a pair of promising newcomers, Kathryn Grayson, seventeen-year-old coloratura soprano, and Todd Karns, son of the popular screen comedian, Roscoe Karns. In addition to appearing in the important dramatic role of Andy's secretary, Miss Grayson sings three songs, two classical and one popular selection. Young Karns, who proves himself one of the most promising juvenile finds of the

Vivacious Comedy From Old Country Now At Snowdon

Britain sends another vivacious comedy-romance to the Snowdon in "Just Like a Woman," which pits beautiful Gertrude Michael against John Lodge in a battle of wits.

International Jewel-trading is the background of the story, not because of women's fondness for jewelry, but, rather, because it provides an amusing way of proving that woman is tops in intrigue in the confidence game, in sleuthing, in dealing with gangsters, and, of course, in romantic pursuits. Gertrude Michael sets out to beat John Lodge, a rival jewel-buyer, at his own game, and she tops him, hands down, at every turn.

Filled to the brim with the gay and glamorous lure of the Argentine and sparkled with breath-taking dances and music, "Down Argentine Way" promises delightful entertainment for the second half of this outstanding double feature program. Produced in technicolor, this musical extravaganza has a superlative featured cast headed by Don Ameche, Betty Grable and Carmen Miranda. The story blends romance, comedy and music.

Newsreel highlights include Roosevelt's speech and spots of the H.M.S. Hood and Bismarck, but these do not include the actual sinkings.

Honeymoon Over Deanna Prepares For New Picture

Deanna Durbin, now Mrs. Vaughn Paul in private life, returns to Universal City within the next few days to prepare for her next starring picture, "Almost an Angel."

Filmdom's most famous bride, and her young producer-husband, have been honeymooning in California since their marriage on April 13.

Immediately after her return, the Universal star will rehearse and record two of the several songs to be featured in the new picture. The standard compositions, "The Lord's Prayer," and "Going Home," are first on her agenda of recordings. Other numbers, including several originals, are being prepared for her rendition, and actual filming of the picture is scheduled to begin on May 19.

In "Almost an Angel" Deanna will have Robert Cummings for her leading man for the third time. Charles Laughton will be co-starred with Miss Durbin.

year, portrays the role of Miss Grayson's brother. The newest of the Hardy Family series was directed by George B. Seitz, who has piloted the family through most of their screen adventures.

In this world it is not what we take up, but what we give up that makes us rich. — Henry Ward Beecher.

MONKLAND HAS DARING DRAMA

Brilliant Performance by Ingrid Bergman in "Adam Had Four Sons"

The laughter and the tears of a changing world have been dramatically captured in Columbia's "Adam Had Four Sons," which opened yesterday at the Monkland United Theatre playing until Saturday night, a stirring, memorable story of an American family, of its loves and feuds and heartbreak and happiness.

Compounded of these elements which make for great entertainment, "Adam Had Four Sons" is a refreshing, compelling motion picture which stars Ingrid Bergman and Warner Baxter, with a splendid cast of top-notch supporting players headed by Susan Hayward, Fay Wray, Helen Westley, Richard Denning, Johnny Downs and Robert Shaw. Gregory LaToof directed with sensitive understandings, so that "Adam Had Four Sons" emerges even greater than the novel upon which it was based, Charles Bonner's "Legacy."

Breathtaking Beauty Recounting with breathtaking beauty and drama the romance and reality which is the amazing destiny of an amazing family, "Adam Had Four Sons" has for its major theme the struggle between two women for the lives and happiness of five men—four sons and their father. The Stodards—Adam and his four sons—have grown older under the loyal guidance and devotion of Emille, the boys' governess. And then one of the boys marries Hester, a sultry-lipped young woman careless with her kisses and her eyes, wild and ruthless, determined to rule the five men... or smash them!

Leaps to Stardom In portraying the latter, lovely Miss Hayward leaps to immediate stardom. As a modern Scarlett O'Hara, her characterization is invested with that burning, tigress-like quality which is certain to be remembered. As Emille, Miss Bergman offers an equally valid performance, a characterization so rich and so vital as to confirm her right to a position in the very forefront of the stars. Baxter, as Adam, contributes another sterling portrayal.

"Rage In Heaven" Now Being Shown At York United

There is something new and different on the screen. It is "Rage in Heaven," starring Robert Montgomery and Ingrid Bergman, which thrilled, chilled and held breathless the audience that attended its opening yesterday at the York United Theatre playing until Friday night.

The story, adapted from the novel by James Hilton, is as informal as his now famous "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," and "Lost Horizon." It presents both Montgomery and Miss Bergman with powerful dramatic acting opportunities of which they take full advantage.

Montgomery gives an understanding and absorbing study of a weakling, driven to insane jealousy by the belief that his beautiful and devoted wife loves his best friend, Miss Bergman, as the wife, is not only good to look but the most interesting and promising new actress on the screen. She turns in an excellent performance as the wife faithful to her husband but terrorized by the realization that he is slowly going mad as the result of his fixation.

Rarely has such suspense been brought to the screen as in the build-up to the surprising ending when Montgomery plots a "perfect crime" to rid himself of his friend, played by George Sanders. In the final scenes, Hilton again proves himself a master of unusual twists of plot that sustain their excitement to the last fadeout.

Well cast are Lucile Watson as Montgomery's kingly, but dominating mother, Oscar Homolka and Philip Merivale.

HAPPINESS Happiness depends on helplessness as health depends on air and food. They who are intent on ministration, looking for opportunities to be of service to their neighbors, find the dullest places interesting. The selfish person lives in an environment of happiness, surrounded by those whom he has helped to be happy, and who in return endeavoring to bring happiness to him. —George Hodges.

You mightn't believe it, there's a certain person who's so crooked that the wool he pulls over your eyes is three-quarters cotton!

THRILLING JAMES HILTON DRAMA

For her one of these men will be love-driven to murder! Robert Montgomery, Ingrid Bergman and George Sanders in the above scene from the film "Rage in Heaven," which opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

THREE STARS

The three stars tinkling and twinkling so happily are (left to right) Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour and Bing Crosby, who go traveling once again in their newest comedy with music, "Road to Zanzibar," which opens at the York United Theatre on Saturday playing until Tuesday night.

"I SEE ICE"

Kay Walsh and George Formby in a scene from the British comedy hit "I See Ice," which opens at the Snowdon United Theatre on Sunday afternoon.

COMEDY AND MYSTERY

Comedy and Mystery keynote in the thrilling mystery spy film "Blackout," with Conrad Veidt and Valerie Hobson, which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

Southern Field Is Named 'Gunter'

Montgomery's former municipal airport, now the basic school of the Southeast Air Corps training centre, has been designated as "Gunter Field" in honor of the memory of the late Mayor W. A. Gunter.

The name, recommended by training centre authorities, was believed in Army circles here to have broken a precedent of naming fields only for military men. Meanwhile, City Commissioner W. A. Gayle said he favored naming the City's proposed new municipal airport for the late Clarence Dannelly Jr., a naval ensign and son of the Montgomery Superintendent of Education, who was lost in a crash at Pensacola recently.

A $1,500,000 construction program is under way at Gunter Field; the landing area is being tripled, and approximately 200 cadets are being put through basic training there every five weeks.

A man dashed up to a hospital and gasped, "Can I see the doctor?"

The nurse said, "Which doctor?"

And the bloke said: "Which doctor—do you think I'm a heathen African native?"

Italians Demand Duce's Dismissal

Mussolini's instant dismissal "because he has brought tragedy and famine to the nation" is demanded of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy through his ambassador at Washington by the Order of Italo-Canadians here, enemies of Fascism and now banded together as the Free-Italy group to aid Britain.

Headed by Nidata Vigilante, chairman, the Free-Italy movement with the backing of the British and Canadian governments has a membership of some 25,000 Italians and in its message to the Italian monarch says Italy should withdraw from the war against Britain. Mussolini, the Free-Italians claim, has let his country sink to a state of famine through his gross incompetence and fatal errors.

There's a Limit

Arriving at a London station by the boat train, an American had his luggage taken to a taxi. Trunks, suitcases, and bundles of wraps were piled up till the vehicle fairly groaned.

Then the driver looked at his fare coldly.

"That the lot?" he asked.

"I guess so," was the reply.

"Well, well," said the driver. "I s'pose they wouldn't let you bring the Statue of Liberty with you."—Answers.

OUR SHORT STORY A Day Of Adventure BY MEREDITH SCHOLL

There is a spirit of adventure in all of us — I suppose. A desire to cut loose and go vagabonding about the world.

Leta Douglas had that feeling. Leta had been reading travel books and when one vagabonds about the world through the pages of books, if the writers are clever manipulators of words, there is a certain enchantment lent the sojourns that is a trifle misleading to such people as Leta.

It might be said that the adventurous spirit in Leta was more pronounced than in the average woman, hence her insatiable desire for stories of the vagabonding type. And this, in turn, might be the cause for her sudden desire to realize a dream and go vagabonding. This and the fact that it was spring, and ignorance of what lay beyond the outskirts of the city in which she was born and raised.

The decision came after Leta abruptly one morning about nine o'clock, an hour after Barry, her husband, had departed for the day.

Within an hour's time Leta was on her way. She carried an improvised knapsack, containing a change of clothing, a toothbrush, a comb and a vanity case. She wore a heavy woollen skirt, one of Barry's flannel shirts, open at the neck, low-heeled shoes and a suede jacket.

The interurban trolley line deposited her on the outskirts of the city. From this point the open road, a main traffic artery, stretched away for endless miles, into the unknown, (or, according to the road map, to the next large city, twenty miles distant. But Leta, of course, didn't know this, because road maps were not part of her equipment.) The artery was deserted now, save for several thousand motor cars.

Leta breathed deeply of the gasoline-scented air, employed her imagination, and sensed a feeling of freedom surging through her blood.

After an hour of strolling along in the gutter to avoid being struck by speeding motorists, she came to a crossroads and turned off the main artery, because the intersecting highway seemed to be less traveled. It was. For almost thirty minutes no automobile passed her by. The road she traversed narrowed into a mere cart path, hemmed in on either side by thick woods. There was a strangeness about the air that was new to her, and she wondered what it was.

Once she paused to remove a stone from her shoe, and decided that the strangeness was due to lack of noise. She paused to listen, and became curiously oppressed by the silence. Not even the distant honking of an automobile horn broke the quietude.

Leta breathed deeply of the air and tried to feel that surge of freedom again. But for some reason it eluded her. She cast a furtive glance into the woods on her left, and jumped as a grey squirrel sprang from the limb of one tree to another. She felt suddenly lonely, without knowing why, and wondered if, after all, she shouldn't have kept to the main highway.

After another few steps she paused again. The sun had disappeared. Cloud banks were rising over the tree tops. It looked as if it might rain. Leta reflected doubtfully. And as she stood there the distant roll of thunder reached her ears. Somewhere off in the woods there was a loud crashing sound.

A new feeling clutched at Leta's heart. A feeling of fear. She looked anxiously up and down the road, wondering vaguely what vagabonds did when it rained and there was no shelter nearby. Again the loud crashing sounded. Leta darted a look in that direction, and discovered a new sound and her heart leapt that the woods were enshrouded in a weird sort of gloom.

The headlights of an automobile swung around a bend in the road and came bumpingly toward her. Leta waved wildly and the car stopped.

A man with a stubble of black beard, and bloodshot, evil-looking eyes, thrust out his head and leered at her questioningly. There was something about his expression that struck terror to Leta's heart. Impelled by a new and more dreadful fear, she shrieked and without considering the consequences, turned and plunged into the woods.

After what seemed like hours of endless running, she paused, breathless, to listen. Far behind her she heard the diminishing chug-chug of an automobile. A sob escaped her lips. She sat down, dabbing at a scratch on her cheek, and discovered her skirt was torn in several places. Rain was sitting down through the leaves. The wilderness lay in almost total darkness on every hand.

At length Leta rose and started back toward the cart path, or what she thought was a cart path. A half hour later she knew she was lost. Realization of it produced a fresh flood of terror. She sat down, sobbing brokenly. But there was no one near to hear her sobs; nothing to break the stillness but the soft patter of rain and the distant booming of thunder.

A rabbit crouched on its stomach some distance away and watched her curiously. When Leta looked up it bounded into the thicket. She screamed in mortal terror, stood up and went plunging off through the underbrush, heedless of low-hanging branches that struck at her stinging.

Toward four o'clock of that afternoon a bruised and torn figure, scarcely recognizable as a woman, broke through the brush that lined the main automobile highway, and signalled frantically to an approaching bus. The driver at first seemed reluctant to stop, but on getting a closer look at the signaller's face, he applied his brakes, and the woman climbed aboard. Passengers stared in frank astonishment. The man beside whom the woman sat down, moved gingerly away and presently arose and stepped across the aisle.

That evening Barry Douglas returned as usual to his home about six o'clock and discovered that his dinner wasn't ready and that the living room and kitchen of his apartment were empty. Perplexed, he divested himself of coat and hat and went roaming from one room to the next in search of his wife.

He found her in the bedroom, disheveled and asleep on the bed. Puzzled, he gently shook her awake.

When Leta finally became aware of her surroundings, she poured out the whole story of her day.

"Hereafter, Barry, I think I shall satisfy my urge to go vagabonding by reading books about it."

And Barry with an understanding twinkle in his eye said, "It is the most comfortable way of learning about the world."

WHERE TO GO VACATION WHAT TO DO

Laurentians Defined As Vacation Paradise

The Laurentians country, one of the most beautiful and unspoiled holiday fields in the North American continent, lies at the back door of Montreal. But a few short hours' drive takes one to the heart of this land of green, rolling hills, pleasant valleys, winding rivers and tree fringed lakes, where the soft breezes are heavy with odours of balsam and spruce and pine, and where the cool, dark forests and rippling streams abound with game and fish.

Age Old Hills
According to geologists the mysterious fascination of great age hangs over these mountains, but mighty ice caps have harrowed their sides, humbled the pride of their peaks, and have polished a chronicle of themselves on the scattered rocks which abound in this great region.

The camps of the Indians, wise with centuries of nature lore in their blood, were scattered throughout the million acres of this natural park which stretches for a thousand miles north to Hudson's Bay.

Manitou Ewtich-Saga
The highest point of the range is Mount Tremblant, rising 3,400 feet above the sea, known to the Indians as 'Manitou Ewtich-Saga.' Many of the Indian camps have now been replaced by modern hotels, where excellent bathing, dancing, bridge, golf, tennis, riding and motoring may be thoroughly enjoyed.

Others have been taken over to provide complete facilities for those who prefer to spend their vacations hunting, and fishing in some of the 35,000 lakes, and virgin forests, of the Laurentians.

For the angler, trout and bass are abundant. The glistening denizens of mountain streams provide plenty of thrills, and a good catch almost any day of the season can be depended upon.

Avoid Mosquito Trouble At Picnics Or In Garden

Many a summer outing or a pleasant week-end afternoon in the garden is spoiled by mosquitoes. While not ensuring complete control, measures may be taken to give at least some protection for short periods in limited areas.

A spray for this purpose is mentioned by C. R. Twinn, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, in publication No. 719 on "Mosquito Control in Canada". The spray may be prepared by thoroughly emulsifying one gallon of kerosene containing the extract of one pound of pyrethrum powder (a standard pyrethrum fly spray would do) with one-half gallon of liquid soap (40 per cent) have been dissolved.

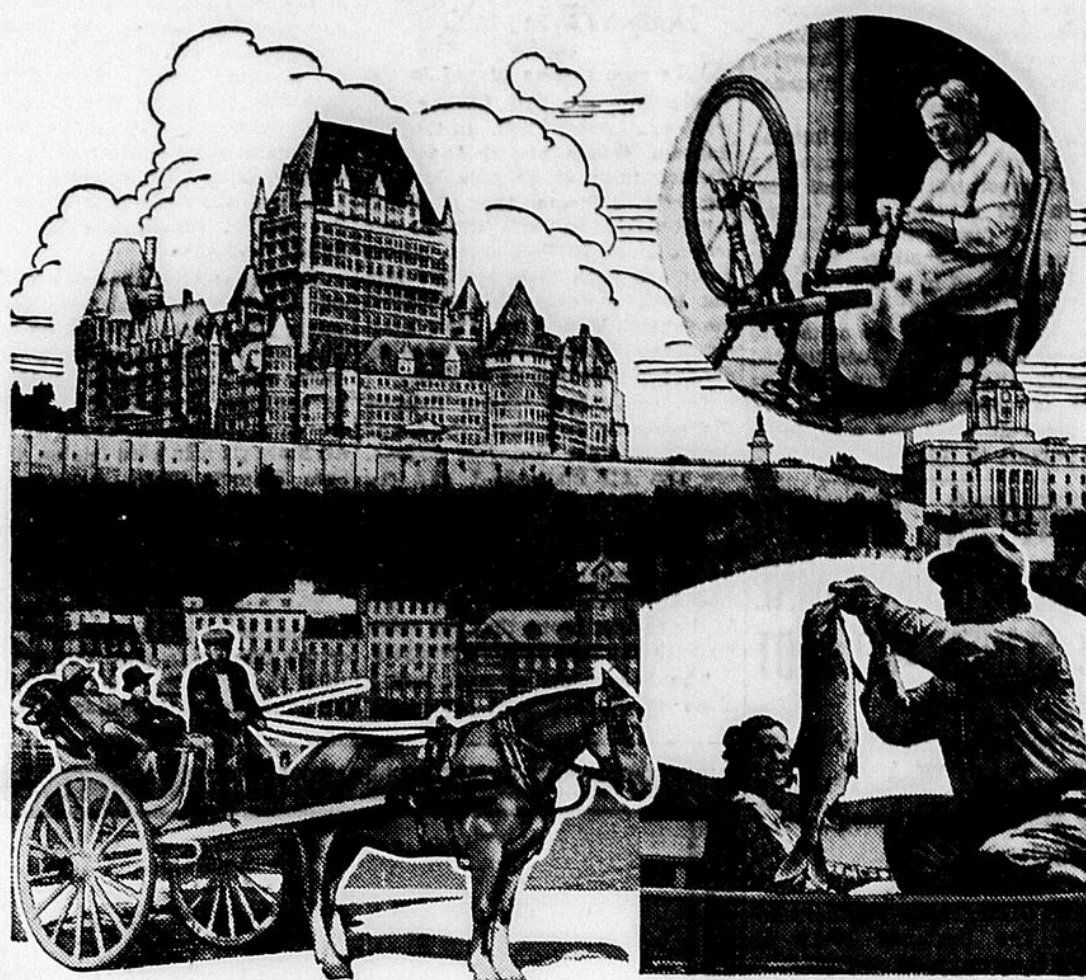

Sprayed as Mist
This concentrated emulsion, after being well shaken until thoroughly mixed, should be diluted with 10 parts of water and sprayed as a fine mist on lawns, shrubs, and other vegetation, by means of a pressure spray with a suitable nozzle, using about 55 gallons of spray per acre.

The application should be made about half an hour before the picnic or the meeting takes place. This spray may also be substituted for petroleum oil in treating ponds and other water bodies to kill mosquito larvae and pupae, using about 50 gallons to the acre of water surface.

Community Effort Best
However, in mosquito control, although individuals on their own property may assist greatly by preventing mosquitoes from breeding, best results are obtained only when the work of control is organized on a community scale, either by public-spirited citizens or by municipal or other authorities, and is carried out under competent direction and with adequate funds.

The publication "Mosquito Control in Canada" gives full information on the subject, together with other measures of prevention.

Vacation Delights In Old World Setting

Tourists who previously found the time-mellowed cities of Europe the answer to their vacation problems are today enjoying those same old world delights on their own side of the Atlantic—in old Quebec City where practically every vacation sport and pastime, including golf, tennis, fishing and hunting, combined with the most up-to-date accommodation, awaits the visitor in a mediaeval setting unique on the North American continent.

Easily accessible by Canadian Pacific rail lines from Montreal, New York, Boston, and other large eastern centres, Quebec is experiencing one of the liveliest seasons in its 300 years of history.

Kamp Kanawana Prepares For Busy Summer Season

Every parent knows the value of good food in the life of a boy. The army may march on its stomach, but it is just as true to say that the fun of camp depends upon a good, balanced menu and digestion.

Kamp Kanawana is proud to announce that Mrs. J. Cameron will be in camp again with plenty of tasty menus planned for the boys. Mrs. Cameron was presented with the O. B. E. by the King, at Edinburgh Castle, England. She was one of the original group of women, who organized the Women's Auxiliary in 1915. With other women she worked in the army camp at the school of Musketry. Her outstanding contribution, for which she was honored, was in the Administration work of the Women's Legion. Mrs. Cameron lives in Verdun among friends, where she is loved for her congenial personality and her exceptional ability in her kitchen.

Kanawana is also proud to announce the appointment of Thomas Hardwick, as guide in canoe "tripping". Tom has himself spent many happy seasons at Kanawana and is eminently capable in the work which he has accepted. He is familiar with the country in the area of our canoe routes, and is well acquainted with the lore of the Canadian North.

Tom for the past years has shown his keen mind, by his academic achievements both in High School and McGill College. For many years he has been recognized at Kanawana for his high moral standards, and is looked upon as a leader of outstanding promise. Boys of Westmount and N.D.G. will be particularly pleased to know that Tom will share with them the experiences of living in the vast playground of our northern country.

With this quality of leadership, Kanawana will maintain efficiency in canoeing, while maintaining standards of Christian leadership for our boys. Fun, friendship and fellowship will permeate the new experiences of life at Camp, under the guidance of this young man.

UNKIND CUT
Officer's haughty voice from within car: "Where does this road go to, my good man?"
Yokel: "It don't go nowhere; we keeps in here."
Voice (even more haughtily): "Well, am I right for the bar-racks?"
Yokel, unabashed by the officer's officiousness, replied with a grin: "You must belong to that there Italian army, 'cause you're running away from the blooming place."

TOO SMART
Mrs. Buck: "My boy is getting too smart."
Mrs. Tuck: "How so?"
Mrs. Buck: "The other day we went for a train ride and when I told him to behave himself, he threatened to tell the conductor his real age."

TOMORROW

QUEBEC OFFERS WIDE VARIETY IN VACATIONS

Old World Mingles With New in Remote Centres Of Province

Forest-ringed lakes with mountain backgrounds call to holiday pleasures in the Laurentians. Here, not far from rushing cities, lies a sanctuary of peace and quiet for those who desire it, and strenuous activity for those who think of vacation in terms of sport. Perhaps it is because the Laurentians offer a vacation of rest or activity that they lure both young and old.

Old World Atmosphere
Here, in the New World is a glimpse of the old, for the villages are not unlike those in Old France with their neat white houses and their glistening church spires, while the cooking is worthy of the chefs of Europe. The peoples of the Laurentians are well versed in the art of hospitality. Whether the accommodation required is luxurious or simple, the wants of the tourist can be met. Golf invites its devotees. The wooded lakes offer swimming in waters that are not too cold for the least courageous, and every type of boating is available.

Hatchery In U.S. Sets Record

The best season in the 40 years of its existence is reported for 1940 at the Yellowstone Park fish hatchery, one of the 110 major stations maintained over the nation by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

A total egg collection from all species of 48,826, 565—over a million and a half better than in 1937, the previous record—made this fiscal year's collecting operations exceed that of any former total in the history of the station. It was reported by Edward M. Tuttle, foreman in charge of the Wyoming hatchery.

Eagerly Awaiting Visitors To Park

Word has been received from Yellowstone National park that 900 hungry bears are beginning to emerge from their annual hibernation.

They are fed daily during the tourist season in summer. But summer is still a few weeks off. So they will have to shift for themselves until half a million Americans start to visit the geysers land again and hotel table scraps begin to mount.

Mountain Town Steadily Sliding

Canon City is slipping. That is not a reflection on its character, but an actual fact. This mountain town is sliding gradually to the south and east—directly toward the Arkansas River. At least that is the finding of Water Commissioner Fred Brackner and of Acting Manager Smith Bedell of the Canon Gas Company.

There is no need for this generation—or even this generation's grandchildren—to worry. They will be along dead before any great concern need be shown. Bedell and Brackner said.

But the movement is there just the same. They know, because of the damage done to the water and gas mains. Both the water department and gas company have had to protect their pipes by installing expansion joints.

Durnan Ends Royals Winning Streak At Four Games

HURLS DODGERS TO 11-3 WIN IN INITIAL APPEARANCE IN WESTMOUNT SENIOR LEAGUE

Bests Connie Tudin in Mound Duel, Each Allowing Nine Blows—Meronek Tosses 2-Hitter As Grads Top Swans 9-5, MacClay Getting Both Hits, a Homer And Triple, Grads Close In

The Dodgers spurred on by the superior pitching of Bill Durnan ended Jamieson's Royals winning streak at four games by defeating the league leaders 11-3 in one of the games played Tuesday night at Westmount Park in the Municipal Senior Softball League. In the other fixture Smiley Meronek hurled two-hit ball for the Grads to beat the Swans 9-5.

On Monday evening Cliff MacClay made his first appearance for the Swans and pitched them to an 8-2 victory over the Air Force.

The game played in last Wednesday's drizzle was featured by Home runs knocked out by Bill Cameron, Alan Cameron and Harvie Fee. The Grads scored five runs in each of the first and second innings to defeat the Air Force 13-8.

Two games were played on Friday night when the Royals beat the Air Force 14-5. The winners collected but three hits till the last inning when Desso Browne got a circuit clout with bases loaded and Joe Richman copied him hanging one out with two on.

The other Friday night game was won by the Dodgers over the Grads 12-6. Johnnie O'Connell started in the box for the Grads but had difficulty in finding the plate and before Cronin could be rushed in the Dodgers had tallied nine times. Leonard then held the Grads down for the rest of the game. Dougie Alexander and Art Mann led the winner's batting attack with three hits apiece while Bill Cameron, John Cameron and Harvie Fee picked up a pair of hits each for the losers.

The Swans scored seven runs on three hits in the third inning of their game with the Air Force on Monday night to beat out the Airmen 8-2. Cliff MacClay hurled for the winners allowing but six hits. MacClay and Emmett Cloran got two hits each for the winners while Jack Keene got two for the Airmen.

Swimming Classes Held At Y.W.C.A.

June is the month to prepare for the holiday season ahead—swimming classes are in full swing at the Young Women's Christian Association for every age with special instruction for beginners. The class schedules are arranged so that children and babies may receive individual attention on Monday afternoons and Saturday mornings, business girls on Tuesday and Thursday evenings—and ladies on Tuesday and Friday mornings.

Private lessons in swimming for any age may be arranged by special appointment. Special classes in life saving, fancy swimming and diving are continuing through the summer and all those interested in brushing up on their aquatic skill as well as those who have become reconciled to "I'm too old to learn", are invited to visit the swimming pool at 1124 Dorchester St. W. and see for yourself what you may do in the pursuit of this relaxing sport.

PANTHERS TRIUMPH OVER CYCLONES NINE TO CLINCH TOP SPOT

Assure Selves of First Place In Pee Wee Softball League With 25-13 Victory

Ross Gillingham's Panthers defeated the Cyclones 25-13 to assure themselves of first place in the final standing of the Westmount Pee Wee Softball League. The Panthers and Cyclones have one postponed game to play against each other but the result will have no effect on the present league standing except to decide whether the Cyclones will end in third place, if they lose, or in a tie for second place with the Red Wings, if they win. Red Wings also picked up another win during the week swamping the Spitfires 24-6.

The league play-offs will commence on Friday afternoon when the Red Wings and Cyclones meet in the first game of a two-out-of-three game series to decide which team will play the first place Panthers for the championship. The second game of the Red Wing-Cyclones series will be played on Saturday morning, while the third game if necessary will take place on Monday afternoon, all games will be played at Westmount Park.

BISHOP'S COLLEGE SCHOOL CRICKETERS TOP LOCAL JUNIORS

Westmount Juniors played Bishop's College School 2nd XI on the Park last Saturday. The School won by an innings but the local boys, playing in their first match had nothing to be ashamed of, as their opponents were individually much older and have had more experience.

Westmount "A" team plays Valsonneuve in the Park on Saturday, June 7, the opening of the Montreal District & Cricket League Schedule. Following are the Westmount B.C.S. scores:

ACES CLINCH TITLE IN BANTAM DIVISION OF HARBALL LEAGUE

Defeat Redskins in Double-Header at Atwater Park, 11-3, 13-10 — Midget Dodgers Win

Five games were played in the Westmount Baseball League this week at Atwater Park. In the two Bantam games played the Aces clinched their group title by taking both contests, they defeated the Redskins in both tilts, by the scores of 13-10 in a seven inning game and then 11-3 in a five inning both contests, they defeated more game to play but their nearest rivals, the Panthers, have no chance of catching up to them.

In the Midget league fixtures the Dodgers won their third and fourth straight victories swamping the All Stars 15-1 and the Beavers 14-0. In the other Midget game the Argos and All Stars played a 5-all draw that was called on account of the time limit.

The Argos are the only team left in the midget group that can catch up with the loop leading Dodgers. The heavy hitting Aces had a close call in their first game with the Redskins, scoring three runs in the last inning to take the game 13-10. Previous to this the clubs had battled alone, whenever one team scored the other did likewise until the last inning when two walks and two hits gave the Aces their three runs. Warren Chippindale and Chuck MacRae lead the winner's batting attack with three hits apiece, one of Chippindale going for a triple.

Davie Bussiere picked up three of the loser's hits. In the second Aces-Redskir game, the league leaders came out easy winners 11-3. Ronnie Morrow limited the Redskins to three hits, two of which came from the bat of Earl McDonald. Ronnie Morrow helped his own cause with two clean hits. Two base hits were banded out by Pat Rigby, Chuck MacRae and Buddy Cochrane.

The Argos-All Stars game which ended in the 5-all stalemate was a pretty fair game. Kevin Shea and Bill Reid hooked up in a pitcher's battle and while Reid had a bit of an edge his freeness with walks cost him the game. Three of the All Stars six hits were triples, with Sam Pollock poling out two of them. Dick Beattie with two hits and Willie Graham's double were the bright spots in the Argos attack.

The Dodgers had very little opposition from either the All Stars or the Beavers in their two games with these clubs. The All Stars held the league leaders fairly well until the third inning of their game, when the Dodgers banded out seven hits off John Porter to score ten runs enough to win the ball game. Gene Simard was the heavy hitter for the Dodgers getting a double and a long triple in his three times at the plate. Euard Read and Donnie Mann also got two hits for the Dodgers.

In the Dodgers-Beavers game, the combined pitching efforts of Euard Read and Noel Romney held the Beavers down to a lone hit. Gene Simard and Johnnie Chenier were the big guns for the winners in this game with three hits apiece. The Dodgers also pulled off a smart double-play in this game, Romney struck out Johnson who was at bat and Bob Lord pegged the ball down to Morrow on third, tagging out Peirson who was attempting to steal the base.

The Dodgers had a big inning in this game also, although they found nothing very mysterious about Peirson's pitching in any inning, they took an extra liking to his offerings in the fourth when they got eight hits and seven runs.

Tennis Tourney Will Start Today

Approximately twenty-four teams have entered the Men's open doubles tennis tournament which will commence play on the Westmount Public courts today.

The draw will be announced today when copies of it will be posted at the Adult, Western and King George Tennis Courts.

The entry list is not as large as previous years, a number of male players missing it is year owing to military and war work.

THE ALE YOUR GREAT-GRANDFATHER DRANK

MEN WANTED TO FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

A powerful and ruthless gangster is out to crush and enslave all of the free peoples of the world. Even now he is crouched and ready to strike at the heart of our Empire.

Unless this murderer and his gang are stopped and destroyed no nation, no home, no family can live in peace and freedom.

Who is going to stop him?
Our King has proclaimed: "This time we are all in the front line."
Are we?

Are we—young men of Canada—trained and ready to do our full share—the fighting share—shoulder to shoulder with our gallant comrades now holding the front line overseas? We must not let them down. Ample reinforcements must be trained and ready at a moment's notice.

The call to duty is clear and dreadfully urgent. The opportunity is at hand.
