Hospital Officials Refute Belief Ambulances Tardy

In an attempt to stem what they call unwarranted talk of ambulance inefficiency in this city, officials of the Montreal Homoeopathic Hospital made a statement to the Examiner intended to inform the public of "the other side of the case." The statement, by Douglas Bremner, President of the Board of Governors, Harold R. Griffith, M.D., Medical Supervisor, and Walter Hatch, Manager, follows:—

"The Homoeopathic Hospital of Montreal maintains an ambulance to serve the citizens of Notre Dame de Grace and vicinity. Doctors and drivers are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week to respond emergency calls. The ambulance can arrive at the scene of an accident anywhere in our district within less than fifteen minutes of the time the call is received at the Hospital. As we have stated on numerous previous occasions, the delay in obtaining medical attention for accident victims is usually because the hospital is not called, not because the ambulance is slow after the call is received.

There is a widespread belief among the public that anyone who calls a hospital for an ambulance thereby lays himself open to financial responsibility for the same. This is not so at the Homoeopathic Hospital. We wish to state that the Homoeopathic Hospital ambulance will be sent as promptly as possible to accident cases in response to a reasonable request from any citizen in this district. We do not insist that the police or a doctor make the call to the Hospital.

Plan Welcome

We will welcome any practical plan by the City to establish a central calling depot for emergency calls.

Local Resident Succumbs At 77

Albion Cartwright Bedford-Jones, 164 Edgehill Road, 77 year old resident of Westmount, died suddenly this week. A funeral service was held at the Church of the Advent, Westmount, and another will be held in St. Peter's Church, Brockville, Ont., where interment will be made.

Son of the late Ven. Archdeacon and Mrs. Bedford-Jones, he was born in Ottawa and received his education at Trinity College in Toronto, where he graduated as gold medalist in arts and law. He practiced law in Toronto for a short time, and later joined the staff of the Canada Cement Company in Montreal, where he was assistant secretary at the time of his retirement in 1938.

He is survived by his wife, the former Elsie Jones, and one daughter, Miss Gwynneth Bedford-Jones of Montreal.

NEWLY APPOINTED

Geo. N. Barker, recently appointed to the Westmount 'Y' Staff. A graduate of Sir George Williams College, Barker has served on the staffs of the North and Central Branches of the Montreal Association, and for the past three years with the Y.M.C.A. War Services at No. 1 Wireless School, Montreal, as well as Pendleton and Deseronto, Ont., and Shelburne, N.S.

He will lead the Business Men's Gym class, and the newly formed class for young men. The Saturday Nite Dance Club and Badminton Club will also come under his direction.

City Appoints Veteran To Post Ass't Sec'y Treas.

At a meeting of the City Council of Westmount on Monday evening, A. W. D. Swan, City Accountant, recently returned from overseas, was appointed Assistant Secretary-Treasurer as from 1st Nov., 1945, and A. R. Bourdon, a veteran of World War I, who has been Acting City Accountant during Mr. Swan's absence, and also Assistant City Clerk since August 1st, 1942, was appointed Chief City Accountant as from Oct. 15th, 1945.

Consideration is being given to the advisability and necessity of installing traffic lights at the intersection of Cote St. Antoine Road and Claremont Avenue.

The proposed amendment to the by-law concerning dogs was again deferred, to allow of further study in view of letters received pro and con.

Local Streets' History To Be Dug Out Of Past

The practice of naming streets after people or historical events is natural enough and common enough. As a people, we are glad and proud to perpetuate, in the routes that we travel from day to day in our community, the names of distinguished personages, both contemporary and of other times. Oddly enough, when we have thus named streets, we tend to forget the association, and it is only when we "stop to think" that we realize the intentions of the authorities of our village, town or city who have striven to do honour where honour is due.

As our own City of Westmount is rich in such names—perhaps about eighty of them—the present series of articles is being undertaken by the Westmount Historical Association to remind our citizens of this part of their heritage and to bring to light biographical and historical facts which may possibly have escaped their attention.

The compilers of this series makes no claim that they know infallibly why any particular street bears the name it does; they merely bring forward a historical name which corresponds, and which may reasonably be associated with the street. For instance, take the name "Ste. Catherine"—there are over a dozen entries under this heading in the "Biographical Dictionary of the Saints," but the particular one chosen is that which appears to constitute the most popular reference.

In great part, the material will be drawn from the standard sources, but consultation of records and of the memories of our older residents will be undertaken in connection with those streets which bear names reminiscent of persons active in the early development of the City of Westmount or its antecedent municipalities.

These articles will be about half a column or more in length, and will appear weekly. The streets will be dealt with in an order which is substantially alphabetical.

It is obvious that any account must be abbreviated or incomplete, and any reader who cares to give the benefit of comment or data which he or she considers should be added to the records being accumulated by the Association, should address either the Secretary at the Westmount Library, or, if for publication, the Editor of the Examiner.

The Westmount Historical Association, which is sponsored by the Westmount Municipal Association, has as its chief aim the gathering of historical material concerning Westmount and vicinity, and promoting interest among the citizens of Westmount in the early history of their City.

The Society's officers are: Hon. Pres., Dr. W. D. Lighthall; President, B. Panet-Raymond, K.C.; Vice-Pres., Miss Alice Lighthall; Curator and Secretary, Miss Kathleen Jenkins; Exec. Committee, G. H. Wyrley Birch, Roy Campbell, Harold W. Gorrigan, Miss Martha Brown, Mrs. S. B. Earle.

Victory Loan Campaign Reaches 66% Of Quota

With ten days of the Ninth Victory Loan Campaign behind them, Unit Headquarters announce that 66% of the quota has already been reached. Although the full quota is 40% higher than in the last campaign, this percentage collected compares favourably with any other Loan at the same period. There has, however, been a disappointing drop in the number of subscribers.

Organizers have every reason to believe that Westmount will go over the top by November 10, the closing day of the Campaign.

To those citizens who have delayed purchasing their bonds, a phone call to the Unit Headquarters, FI. 2471, will ensure a salesman calling for any new or additional subscriptions.

While elated over the progress, the organizers point out that the objective is the minimum requirement and that a substantial over-subscription would demonstrate beyond a doubt Westmount's determination to "Sign their name to Victory".

Westmount High School Presents 156 Certificates At Graduation

Graduation certificates were presented to 71 girls and 68 boys of Westmount High School at the Graduation Ceremony, with Senior School Leaving Graduates numbering 17. The honours list includes the names of 93 pupils.

Major-General A. E. Walford, C.B.E., M.M., E.D., in an address to the graduates, told how teamwork among armies had won victory, and said that only by teamwork could the peace be won. He referred to the capture of Caen and Falaise in which he took part.

General Walford told the graduates they were about to face the problems of a world at peace. "Thank God", he added, "you're not leaving school to go to war."

The valedictory was delivered by Rita Weissler.

Gold medals for outstanding achievement were awarded Miss Lia Margulies, who received honours in general proficiency, literature, oral French, written French, (Continued on Page 14)

WESTMOUNT HIGHLIGHTS

By GEORGE OCHCRANE

It was in the school year 1944-45 that a diminutive character named William Atwood Macdonald earned the title of Westmount's ace drink vendor. Young WAM sold drinks at just about every dance that was held in Westmount High last year and on Fridays he doubled as a bun salesman.

But now William Atwood is at McGill and at the beginning of this school year WAM's were faced with a problem of great moment. Namely, to wit, and ipso facto, who is going to succeed to the title of Westmount's ace drink vendor?

Ladies and gentlemen, and also any West Hill students who may read this, we have the answer. The man: Robert Bert Grindley, a long and lanky man who really knows his way around a drink cooler.

Bert has been in charge of Westmount High's bun sales this year, and the sales have netted the boys' Hi-Y Club quite a profit so far, and he's been in command of the drink cooler at the school's justly famous Friday night parties.

Tonight grade 12 student Bert will step into the big time. He'll be in the drink booth when the annual fall dance of the Westmount Boys' Hi-Y Club gets underway at nine p.m. in the gymnasium of Westmount High School.

When asked if he was nervous about taking the plunge into the school dance drink vending business, Bert, with characteristic aplomb, replied, "Not a great deal. You see, Ikey Macdonald is my idol and whenever I'm up a creek without a paddle I ask myself, 'What would WAM do in this situation?' Then I do it and everything is okay."

Carry on, Bert.

P.S.: Stags are welcome tonight.

The course, which covers various phases of municipal recreation generally takes between six to 12 months for completion. It is prepared by the Institute for Training in Municipal Administration at their headquarters in Chicago, Ill.

1—ABBOTT AVENUE

Abbott Avenue extends from the C.P.R. track north to opposite 4500 St. Catherine Street, West, between Melville and Irvine Avenues.

In the late eighties it was part of the municipality known as the "Government Field." In the City Hall is a "Plan Showing Sub-division of Part of Lot No. 1434 Situated at Cote St. Antoine in the Parish of Montreal, The Property of the Canada Investment and Agency Company Limited," signed by W. McLea Walbank, P.L.S., and dated December, 1888. Abbott Avenue is shown on this plan, and it appears also in Goad's Atlas Plans of Westmount 1890.

The first houses appeared on the street in 1891; as far as is known these were constructed by the late Isaac Lewis. Drains were installed in 1894, the road in 1896, repaved in 1932.

The C.P.R. station serving the Westmount area was originally at the foot of Abbott Avenue, on the south side of the tracks, but on account of the difficulties of grades, it was later transferred to its present location at Victoria Avenue.

It is presumed that the Avenue was named after Sir John Joseph Caldwell Abbott, 1821-1893, of whom the following account is taken from the "Dictionary of Canadian Biography". He was "born at St. Andrews, Lower Canada, the eldest son of Rev. Joseph Abbott. He was educated at the University of McGill College, graduated with the degree of B.C.L. and in 1847 called to the Bar. He became perhaps the leading authority on commercial law in Lower Canada, dean of the Faculty of Law in McGill University (1855-1880), and standing counsel to the Canadian Pacific Railway (1880-1887). His political career began in 1849 when his name appeared among the signatories of the annexation manifesto of that year.

Elevated to Senate

"In 1857 he was elected to the Legislative Assembly of Canada for Argenteuil; and with the exception of the years 1874-1880 when he was out of Parliament, he continued to represent this constituency, first in the Legislative Assembly of Canada, and then in the Canadian House of Commons, until his elevation to the Senate in 1887. In 1862 he was for a short time Solicitor General in the Macdonald-Scotte administration. As legal adviser to Sir Hugh Allan he was implicated in the "Pacific Scandal" and it was a confidential clerk of his who revealed the evidence which brought about the fall of Sir John Macdonald in 1873.

"This was no doubt responsible for his defeat in 1874. When he was appointed to the Senate in 1887 he was made Government leader in the Upper House; and on the death of Sir John Macdonald in 1891, he was chosen, as a compromise candidate, to succeed Macdonald as Prime Minister. His conduct of the Government was marked by great astuteness, but on December 5 he was obliged by ill health to resign the prime ministership.

"He died the following year, October 30th, 1893. In 1849 he married Mary, daughter of Very Rev. John Bethune, Dean of Montreal. He was created a Q.C. in 1862; and he was made a K.C.M.G. in 1892. In 1866 he raised the Argenteuil Rangers (11th Battalion) of which he was

Rotarian Pleads Racial Tolerance

A strong plea for eradication of racial prejudices was made at the weekly meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club at Victoria Hall on Wednesday, by J. M. C. Duckworth, Executive Secretary of Notre Dame de Grace Y.M.C.A. The prime reason for our prejudice, said Mr. Duckworth, is a forced feeling of superiority which we manifest to try to hide our fear that we are not actually superior. We are afraid, he went on, that peoples different from ourselves will get the better of us, and we are even afraid to admit our fear.

This feeling of superiority is not based on race, he said, because science has proved that we are no more intelligent, and with equal opportunity, no more physically or educationally capable than Negroes or Chinese or Japs. And unless we recognize the harm that is being done by racial discrimination we are due for trouble, he added.

Introduced by Wilf Spearman and thanked by Walter Murray, Mr. Duckworth was preceded in his address by a short talk by a visiting Rotarian, Dr. A. Stewart Allan, United Church of Canada, recently returned missionary from Chungking, who told of the difficulties Rotary has had in that city trying to carry on during the war years.

Mr. Duckworth pointed out that it is not we who do the heavy work, but those other nationalities on whom we base our economy. He said further that the Christian Church is partly responsible for the fact that we have allowed racial discrimination towards these other nationalities to grow, because "religion has evaded the principal issues of the day."

Labor Tolerant

But organized labour, he went on, is facing the problem realistically and is joining hands with the Negro and the Oriental and the Jew because they realize that united they demand more recognition from industrialists who otherwise would be able to play one group against another.

The speaker told of the experiences of an African Prince of his acquaintance, a graduate Medical Doctor of McGill who has served three years in the Canadian Army Medical Corps. Travelling in the United States he had to suffer many humiliations because of his colour, including having to ride in ancient railway cars set aside for negroes travelling on an otherwise modern, streamlined train.

All character values are strengthened by being put into action.

Three Mentioned In Despatches

Three Westmount officers were among 163 army personnel recently awarded "Mentioned in Despatches": Lt.-Col. James Aird Nesbitt, 3243 Westmount Boulevard, Major Henri Tellier, 4392 Western Avenue, and Major E. F. Neale, 1 Bellevue Avenue.

Col. Nesbitt, who arrived home October 23, has been overseas in both the Italian and Western fronts, for four years.

Major Tellier was overseas on two different occasions, the first time for one year, the second time for two, between which periods he took a staff course at Kingston. He served in Italy and the Western front, arrived home in July.

Major Neale, whose promotion from Captain came through very recently, arrived home August 14, after almost four years in Sicily, Italy, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

Boys Brigade Promote Five

Five members of the First Montreal-Westmount Company of the Boys' Brigade who have demonstrated their efficiency will receive promotions this evening. Captain J. Howard Richardson announces. Sgt. Alan Keith will move up to the rank of Color-Sgt., Cpls. Ian Campbell and James Dugan will take the rank of Sgt., and L/Cpls. George Smith and John Douglas, the rank of Cpl.

The long-absent buttonhole badge has come back into use, and as there were many who had never been awarded one, the following received them at the last meeting: L/Cpls. Gordon McCrady and Lawrence Newman, Ptes. Alan Lightfoot, Ian Harvey, Jim Durocher, Ian Beckett, Tom Massey, Tom Duncan, Art Smith, Peter Mundy and Bryer Rice.

In the future all boys will automatically receive a buttonhole badge upon completion of three months' service. A few crests were also presented to those taking most active part in the recruiting campaign, namely, L/Cpls. L. Newman and Gordon McCrady, and Ptes. Art Smith and Bryer Rice.

Young Liberals Plan Programme

Second meeting of the organizing committee of the St. Antoine-Westmount Young Liberals Association was held recently at the home of William Macdonald. Present, in addition to Mr. Macdonald, were John Joseph Pepper, George Cochrane and Robert Sproule.

Speaking on the purpose and aims of the association, Mr. Macdonald said, "The future of Canada and the world rests upon the intelligent interest taken in the problems now confronting us. Citizenship requires not merely obedience to the laws, but upon informed judgment of current affairs, both national and international. The existence of democracy depends on our being able to solve these problems."

P/O EDWIN S. C. CLARK, 21, R.C.A.F., who was previously reported missing after air operations over Osnabruck, Germany, and has now, for official purposes, been presumed killed in action after completing 29 operational trips. The eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Clark, of 29 York St., Westmount, he was educated at King's and Argyle Commercial Schools.

LOCAL SCHOOLS PRESENT PLANE TO R.C.A.F.

War Stamps Buy Plane For R.C.A.F.

To mark an outstanding record of war savings stamp buying, the pupils of Westmount schools will gather opposite Westmount Junior High School on Wednesday, November 7, to present a Cornell aircraft to the Royal Canadian Air Force. The presentation will be made in a special Ninth Victory Loan ceremony, starting at 3 p.m., to which parents are invited.

The children of the Westmount schools, of Verdun schools, and of Guy Drummond School, Outremont, were the only ones to reach their objectives in the "Buy a Plane" war savings stamp campaigns during the past school year.

The aircraft, which will be used for peace-time training in the R.C.A.F., is one of a type which was widely used for the training of Canadian pilots who fought overseas.

A large gathering of Westmount civic officials, headed by Mayor R. P. Adams, as well as Ninth Victory Loan and school officials, is expected for the event.

RESIDENT IMPROVING

Joseph A. Trembly, 65, of 266 Lansdowne avenue, who was struck by a car last week while riding his bicycle, is reported by his sister, Mrs. R. Richer, to be improving. The doctor attending has stated that he is now "out of the woods."

Mr. Trembly sustained a skull fracture when a car driven by R. A. Taschereau of Quebec City, struck his bicycle near Lansdowne and Western avenues. He was first treated at the Western Division of the General Hospital, but when it was learned that he had a fractured skull, he was transferred to the Neurological Institute, where he is now recovering.

KNOW YOUR WESTMOUNT

Readers will recall our series "Know Your Westmount," which we ran last year, and which elicited considerable favourable comment. The articles were prepared by the Westmount Historical Association, which has done and is doing excellent work in acquainting residents of Westmount with the story of the city in which we live and of which we are justifiably proud.

The Examiner is pleased to announce that, beginning with this issue, a new series will begin, dealing with the history in the names of our streets. We begin with Abbott avenue. This material, prepared by the Westmount Historical Association and sponsored by the Westmount Municipal Association, represents a great deal of time, effort, and interest on the part of those responsible, and we are sure that the series will be widely read and appreciated.

A WORKER'S EDITORIAL

We saw a worker tucking away a Victory Bond among his precious papers, and we remarked quite simply that it was a nice thing to have. He gave us a quick look and his eyes lit with pride.

"You bet it's nice," he said. "But it's more than that. That's a Victory Bond I bought when the going was tough for my boy on the other side. We knew in our hearts that we were winning, but on the map we saw quite the contrary. The Huns were rolling victoriously on."

"So I bought this bond. I was doing my best at the plant to back my boy abroad, but I put my spare dollars together to back him just that much more. A neutral observer, not knowing the heart of our people, might have called it a desperate bet. But bet I did, because I was in the fight. If we lost, well, I was going to lose my money anyway. But money didn't matter so much. I was backing my boy.

"I've bought other bonds since—an increasing number at each Victory Loan Campaign. But this particular bond, bought when the night was dark and the going hard, is my special pride and joy. Once I was tempted to let go, but I didn't, and I'm glad I didn't. I've kept all the bonds I ever bought, and I'm proud of it. It's a proof of my faith in my country—and in my boy.

"Come to think of it, I've been pretty smart in another way. The years are passing, and I've accumulated quite a tidy sum of money. I can't buy much with my money now, what with restrictions. But when these bonds mature, there will certainly be plenty of things to buy.

"I'm going to go on showing my patriotism—and incidentally my shrewd commonsense—by investing in the best."

WHY NOT TWIN HOUSES?

A woman was awarded first prize of $25 in a Home Idea contest. Her idea was separate medicine cabinets for husband and wife.

"Many ruffled dispositions, not to say steps toward divorce, could be avoided if hubby could shave in peace without wifey discovering an imperative need for something inside the cabinet, and opening the door in his face," she said.

The day seems near when the only guarantee of a happy state of matrimony will be separate houses. First came twin beds, twin wardrobe closets, and twin washstands. These were followed by separate rooms. Why not twin houses?

MAIL IT NOW

Local residents who have friends or relatives overseas whom they wish to remember at Christmas should note that the deadline for the despatch of parcels is November 10 in order to reach the continent of Europe in plenty of time for the holiday; while November 15 is the last day on which parcels should be mailed destined for England, Scotland and Wales. These dates should be kept in mind to avoid disappointment to those abroad. Every year hundreds of Christmas parcels are received by service men and women after Christmas has passed. While the parcels are still very welcome and enjoyed, it's not quite the same as opening them on Christmas Day. Mail yours in plenty of time.

THE FORUM

Conducted by Howard S. Ross, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The Quebec Government, in urging farmers who are lucky enough to have peat bogs on their properties to make good use of them to help avoid a coal shortage this coming winter. Peat, when made into briquettes, is an ideal substitute for coal. In addition, there is a market for surplus peat briquettes at prices above those usually paid to farmers for their logs or cord-wood. Quebec is rich in peat bogs most of which have never been worked.

The Dominion Government took over all rights to uranium in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon. Similar action was later taken in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Quebec.

Sir Richard Acland, founder of the Common Wealth party in England, has withdrawn from that party and is expected to join the Labor party. Sir Richard was the author of the famous "Acland amendment" adopted by the Malvern Conference of Anglicans in 1941, which condemned capitalism as a stumbling-block in the way of those who seek to live as Christians. Sir Richard predicted a Labor victory.

Memphians rubbed their eyes in amazement when they found the leading editorial in the Sept. 3 Commercial Appeal starting off: "It is time to quit using the opprobrious word 'conchie' and acknowledge that they were men of courage and conviction. . . If the human race had been made up of them, there would have been no Anzio and Okinawa. . . There is no greater courage than that which braves taunts. . . there is nothing nobler than dying for a decent principle." There was more of it, just as unusual as this.

Claude McKay, Negro poet, has announced his baptism into the Roman Catholic Church. Mr. McKay's bitter poems on the race issue gained him national attention at a time when he was a member of the Communist party. He now says that what he saw on a trip to Russia turned his steps toward the church.

Between 1942 and 1944, the number of U.S. servicemen who married in Australia totalled 5957. During the same period Canadian-born servicemen were bridegrooms in 120 weddings and Dutch in 224.

To try to keep the secret of the atom bomb would block the road of research and prevent further development of nuclear physics, Reuben G. Gustavson, vice-president of the University of Chicago, told a meeting of civic leaders. "After the last war," he pointed out, "attempts were made to stifle research in nitrates because we had made great strides in their use as explosives. This would have placed a millstone around the neck of agriculture, since nitrates have proved just as important to agriculture as to the explosive phase of military operations." Looking at the effect of the war on the whole field of scientific research, Dr. Gustavson said that two shifts must be made: America must stop depending upon Europe for the development of fundamental ideas in science, and scientists must transfer their emphasis from the nucleus of the atom to the living cell. "We have reason to believe," he said, "that cancer is a chemical disease. . . Nuclear physics has revealed many types of radiation which may help us in solving this problem." The University of Chicago contemplates opening an institute in this field.

Fifteen per cent of the technicians engaged in research on the atom bomb at the University of Chicago and 12 of the top research scientists were Negroes, it was disclosed here last week. Benjamin K. When I spoke to an interesting audience in the assembly hall of a New York City library in Harlem Dr. Johnson at my request took me to a few of the leading night clubs of Harlem to hear the music of some of their famous orchestras.

The large majority of those who attended my lecture and the night clubs were colored folk but there were quite a number of colorless folk also.

Johnson, director of the department of social sciences at Fisk University and chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Regional Council, has been elected president of the Southern Sociological Society, which works for normal professional relationships between the races. Dr. Johnson is the first Negro to head the society.

One day in the last Parliament I sat for no particular reason on the Socialist benches and asked my neighbor what he thought when he looked upon the Conservatives opposite. "Oh," he answered, "I just say to myself, There are the bosses." To understand the astonishing revolution that has taken place in Britain one must sense all that is behind those words: "There are the bosses."—Beverley Baxter, British M.P.

We, the peoples of the United Nations

Determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war . . .

To practice tolerance and live together in peace with one another as good neighbors . . .

To insure, by the acceptance of principles and the institution of methods, that armed force shall not be used save in the common interest . . . have resolved to combine our efforts to accomplish these aims.

Accordingly, our respective governments, through representatives assembled in the City of San Francisco . . . do hereby establish an international organization to be known as the United Nations.

Fashions Parade At Victoria Hall

Several pre-war features will come back into the limelight at "Fashion on Parade," the entertainment to be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. in Victoria Hall in aid of the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Some of the outstanding items that will be shown will be two or three ski costumes which are original in design and will be shown for the first time in Montreal. Costumes for leisure hours are back in the fashion picture again, and one or two new examples of these will be included in the group of wearable new fashions.

All the new tricks of accessories will be drawn to the attention of the audience and luxurious hats that are no longer flights of fancy but definite contributions to woman's femininity, will be shown with day and afternoon costumes.

Lavishly fur trimmed coats will be as generally liked as some of the coats made completely of fur, but manipulated like cloth and the new-old traditional evening wear will make its first appearance since it was banned at the beginning of the war.

Tickets may be bought at the following:—

The Maritime Women's Club met in Tudor Hall on Monday evening with Mrs. A. D. Ross, the president, in the chair, who warmly welcomed new members.

Miss Erma Nelson and Miss Anne Fraser received the donations for the ditty bags which the club is presenting to the Navy; and Mrs. A. J. Moore, received donations of playing cards and cigarettes for the returned men at the Military Hospital, Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Miss E. M. B. Warren, member of the Royal Society of British Artists; Exhibitor at the Royal Academy, gave a lecture on "The Charm of Gardens", illustrated by her own colored lantern slides. She showed pictures that were a glowing mass of colour and mentioned legends associated with individual flowers, marigolds, snowdrops, rosemary, violets and others. The beautifully colored slides made from her own paintings of modern gardens of various types, Italian, Dutch and English, included gardens at Versailles, at Hampton Court, Chatsworth, the county seat of the Duke of Devonshire, Lady Londonderry's garden near Belfast, a good example of rosemary at Hatfield House, tulip gardens at Harlem, gardens on the Riviera, Queen Mary's favorite garden from the terrace at Sandringham, and many others.

Mrs. R. P. Freeman thanked Miss Warren.

Vapors From Bath Will Blend Rouge

ANN MILLER: Talented

Putting on "war paint"—all but powder—and then hopping into the bath tub sounds like a deliberate plan for wrecking a make-up, doesn't it?

Not so at all, models who use this method say. Vapors from a warm bath loosen up a mask-like foundation, blend rouge out into ineffable softness, they tell me.

If you want your make-up to look as if it had been blended by a professional's fingers, try their method. When you get out of the tub, simply pat your face with a towel to mop up any moisture, and apply powder.

A slick technique of applying cheek rouge comes from another talented glamor girl—Ann ("Eadie Was A Lady") Miller. She stippled the cream on each cheek in freckle-like dots, and melts these into tender pink crescents with fingers dipped in cold water.

Villa Maria Alumnae Entertains At Tea

The newly formed English Section of the Villa Maria Alumnae held a successful tea and reception at the convent recently at which the honorary president, the Reverend Mother St. Louise des Anges, Superior of the Convent, as well as many former teachers at the Villa, were honoured guests.

The representative attendance of former pupils has encouraged the executive to make plans for a card party to be held in the near future.

At a general meeting held last June, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. James A. Dolan; first vice-president, Miss A. Eileen Quinn; second vice-president, Mrs. C. H. Allen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. A. Casey; recording secretary, Miss Catherine Haldane; treasurer, Miss Jean Elliott and councillors: Mrs. M. W. Hackett, Miss Mabel Crossan, Mrs. C. A. Brown, Miss Florence Hackett, Miss Gertrude McKenna and Miss Lorraine Barr.

Welcome Home Dance

A "Welcome Home" in the form of a dance will be given for the returned boys and the young people of the Church, at St. Stephen's Parish Hall, Weredale Park, Westmount, on Friday, November 9, at 8.30 p.m.

There will be modern and square dancing to a five-piece orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

Meteorology Subject Of Talk To Westmount Women's Club

The tremendous influence the weather has had on the fortunes of war, especially during the past six years, was interestingly dealt with on Friday afternoon by Professor George H. T. Kimble when he addressed the regular monthly meeting of the Westmount Women's Club in Victoria Hall. Professor Kimble, who was born in London, England, formerly held posts at the universities of Hull and Reading, served five years with the Royal Navy attaining the rank of Lieut. Commander, was released recently and is now head of the Dept. of Geography at McGill and Director of McGill's Meteorological Services. He is the author of several books and has completed a 40,000 mile aerial tour of the world.

Success and Defeat

"Meteorological intelligence," Professor Kimble stated, "is frequently as important in war as military and naval intelligence," and he gave instances of how weather reports had been factors in success and defeat, as for instance when the Gneissneau and the Sharnhorst, which were exposed to Allied bombing at Brest, stole to erstwhile safety when German meteorologists gave them warning that a certain low front was approaching. In the murky weather these battleships slipped away under cover of the low clouds, keeping pace with the area of poor visibility till they reached port. He recounted how German weather experts failed at the time of the Normandy invasion, when they were so certain that wind and wave conditions would make landings impossible, that they advised certain key men of the German High Command that they could safely go on a short holiday!

He briefly underscored the importance of weather forecasts to all three services, pointing out how valuable reports of fog and icing conditions were to the Air Force; how the army depended upon the meteorologists for the signal to go when a breakthrough was planned and speed (without bogging down in mud) essential to success. The navy, fighting in a new dimension with the Fleet Air Arm, also depended heavily upon weather forecasts. Also, ships could keep their stations in convoy when the weather was fine and their protecting escorts carried out submarine patrols with far greater success in clear visibility. Even the mightiest battleships relied upon meteorological aid for accuracy in gunfire. Shells, he explained, can be deflected by wind velocity and as the wind often varies in direction and speed at different levels, conditions at all levels of the area to be encompassed by the salvo, must be known and taken into account.

Wind and Wave

The extreme importance of gauging the undulations of the surface of the sea—high swells—consequent upon high velocity winds, was also stressed by the speaker who gave an enthralling description of how the success of the invasion hung upon the forecasts of Allied meteorologists. On the strength of their predictions that the waves would not exceed the critical height at which men could land safely, Gen. Eisenhower made his decision to go ahead.

Dealing with the tasks of meteorology in times of peace, Professor Kimble believed that owing to the enormous expansion of commercial aviation, there would be plenty of work for meteorologists, who would also be able to render important service to crop and fruit growers. In the absence of Mrs. E. M. Briggs, the president, Mrs. C. S. Fortier, first vice-president presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker who was thanked by Mrs. J. A. Burns, Mrs.

Fortier also welcomed fifteen new members to the club.

A silence of one minute was kept in memory of the late Mr. E. A. Briggs.

Major W. J. S. Evans spoke on the Victory Loan, summarizing clearly how it was planned to spend the money and urging those present to buy from Victory Bond salesmen, 50 per cent of whom he stated are ex-servicemen.

Mrs. Helen M. Shields, the soloist, sang "Two Roses", "O Lovely Night" and, in encore, "The Cuckoo Clock". Phyllis Rowell Hutchins acted as accompanist.

ROSE GOLDBLATT PLAYS IN NEW YORK RECITAL ON TUESDAY

Rose Goldblatt, the brilliant Canadian pianist, who is widely known for her introduction of new musical works, will appear in New York's Town Hall on November 6, when she will present the premiere performance of the new "American Sonata" by the distinguished composer, Elie Siegmeister. This will be Miss Goldblatt's second appearance at this famous concert hall.

Regarded by many as in the front rank among pianists today, Rose Goldblatt's playing has attracted enthusiastic interest throughout a career that started with public appearances at the age of six. Her ability to convey the true spirit of a composer's musical intentions, whether in the early, romantic, or modern vein, has induced many current day composers to submit their works to her for public presentation.

In addition to this new American sonata, she plans to present at her Town Hall, New York recital, the four Impromptus of the opus 142 by Schubert, the Brahms Variations and Fugue on a theme by Handel, and some works by Chopin. Miss Goldblatt has been heard frequently in Canada over the networks of the CBC.

Tin Hat Revue Aids 9th Loan

The Tin Hat Revue of Montreal Repertory Theatre will be presented Friday night at 8.15 p.m. in Verdun Auditorium by the Ninth Victory Loan Committee.

The show is being offered to the citizens of Verdun as a token of appreciation of the Ninth Victory Loan Committee for the high standard the municipality has set in purchasing Victory bonds.

The Tin Hat Revue has been operating almost since the start of the war, and has been widely applauded by servicemen in Quebec, Ontario and in the Maritimes. Many of the stars of the Navy Show, which was presented overseas and which has been the subject of a feature moving picture, originally appeared in the Tin Hat Revue.

"Darling, haven't I always given you my salary check the first of each month?"

"Yes, but you never told me you got paid twice a month—you low-down embezzler."

The landing of not less than 40,000 men per day was planned through the invasion port towed from England to France on D-Day.

Mulberry, the pre-fabricated harbour used in the invasion was planned by the British Admiralty and the War Office, and constructed jointly by the Army and Navy.

STUDENT PAST

Virginia Welles, appearing in Paramount's "To Each His Own," studied dramatics under Maude Adams at Stephens College in Missouri.

Films produced in the war information programme of the National Film Board were designed to inform Canadians and other countries of the part played at home and on the battlefronts by Canadians in the common struggle for victory.

Telescopic roadways 80 feet long were a remarkable feature of Mulberry, the pre-fabricated Allied harbour used in D-Day. They adjusted themselves flexibly to the wave action in the Channel.

UNITED CONCERTS Present

they would appear to be more scarce than ever.

Martini can be said to be at the peak of his career, and has been remarked as singing exceptionally well this season, from his appearances last fall in the series at the Saint-Denis Theatre to his present recital tour. For over a decade, he has been associated with the leading artists and the leading artistic institutions, and although his work has extended over a variety of fields, it must always be recalled that he is an operatic singer first and foremost. This is true even when he appears in films, sings on the radio, or presents his artistry on the concert stage, winning for the opera many new listeners.

He has contributed to his art in other ways, in an authentic and valuable fashion. Bellini's opera "I Puritani" was revived for his talents, for example, in Milano where he sang the role on sixteen successive occasions. This work contains the cruel tenor aria, "Credea Si Misere," which reaches the somewhat dizzy altitudes of a "F" over and above high "C!" Martini is claimed as being the only living tenor to be able to deliver this aria in its original key, and his vocal resources encompass a complete three octaves in range, which is truly remarkable.

An account of Martini's career since those days reads well, it is a story of continued triumphs, leading to Hollywood where Jesse Lasky "discovered" him from the ranks of the leading artists of the Metropolitan, and made each film he appeared in a popular success. A true lyric tenor, Martini won prominence and fame with leading roles in operas such as Rossini's "Barber of Seville," Puccini's "Boheme," "Rigoletto" of Verdi, and the Donizetti masterpieces, the comic trilogy of "Don Pasquale," "La Fille du Regiment," and "L'Elisir d'Amore."

"Out Of This World" Teems With Wild Comedy Scenes

"Out of This World," a Paramount picture which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre, is a funny piece of business. Eddie Bracken, Diana Lynn and Veronica Lake join hands in the starring roles and this fact, in itself, speaks well for the comedy angle.

Bracken and Miss Lynn played together in "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" with great success and Eddie has since done "Bring on the Girls" with Veronica Lake, a standout production from every viewpoint. Now, joining all three in "Out of This World," seems to have been excellent judgment on the part of producer Sam Coslow. Under Hal Walker's direction, the comedy sparkles and the most is made of the many hilarious situations.

The first of these is rolled out in the opening scene. Diana, leader of an all-girl band, needs a male vocalist to fill an engagement. Eddie's her man and she

Variety of Nations Represented In M-G-M's "Song of Russia" Film

"Song of Russia," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film starring Robert Taylor, now at the Seville United Theatre, can modestly boast one of the most interesting aggregations of talent brought to the screen in many a blue or silver moon.

In the first place, there are the two out-and-out, 100 per cent American leads. Taylor, playing one of the most exciting and unusual parts of his career, is seen as a young American symphony conductor visiting Russia in the days just before the attack by Germany, and caught in the pinions of war. Susan Peters, the skyrocketing young actress who was seen in "Random Harvest" and "Assignment in Brittany," appears as a talented young Russian pianist who marries the young American after a breath-taking courtship.

The director of "Song of Russia," the brilliant and loquacious Gregory Ratoff, was born in Petrograd. Joseph Pasternak, the producer responsible for the long string of Deanna Durbin hits, is Hungarian by birth.

Roll Call of Favorites

The roll-call of notable personalities associated with the picture includes Robert Benchley, favorite character comedian of millions of screen fans, Felix Bressart, talented European stage and screen actor, young Darryl Hickman, noted Russian stage star, Michael Chekhov, and Feodor Chaliapin, son of the world-famous baritone.

In addition to its dramatic contemporary story, contrasting the transforms him from a Western Union messenger to a super-crooner. This, of course, is the first shock since Eddie the lad you'd least expect to give out with those familiar gestures which have been hypnotizing the bobby-sox brigade for some time now.

The second shock is best of all. When Eddie opens his mouth to sing, it's not Bracken's voice at all—it's Bing Crosby's. That's the tip-off on the action which follows in a mad, furious pace. Diana, in order to pay Eddie's way to New York sells a piece of him to eager investors and when Eddie wants his salary he finds there's more than one hundred percent of him held by his backers—one of whom is Veronica Lake.

Of course the whole thing straightens itself out in the end but not before the audience finds itself weak from laughter. The plot twist is certainly a new one in Hollywood circles and the cast makes the most of the unusual story line. Bracken, noted already for his facial contortions and nervous mannerisms, lets himself go with unrestrained joy. Given the opportunity of emulating a certain bobby-sox idol with those familiar gestures like a swaying body, half-closed eyes and out-stretched arms. Bracken makes sweet music. And the music is even sweeter when it's Bing's voice coming over the sound track. It's hard to visualize—it must be seen to be appreciated.

peacetime and wartime Soviet with powerful impact, "Song of Russia" has an exceptional musical accompaniment. A symphony orchestra made up of 150 pieces was used for big musical scenes of the production, playing Tchaikkowsky and other music, under direction of Albert Coates.

An original screen story, "Song of Russia" gives Taylor a chance to follow the sweeping box-office success of his most recent vehicle, "Bataan," with another highly emotional present-day story. Susan Peters, who has risen to the top bracket in Hollywood in a span of a year, is reported to have her most appealing role to date in the new film, now at the Seville United Theatre.

Suspense, Excitement Are Predominant In Snowdon Film

The Picture of Dorian Gray," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production at the Snowdon United Theatre, is the gripping imaginary story of a young man who wished that he remain forever young, and was granted that wish. Cramped with suspense and thrilling scenes, it relates what happened when handsome Dorian Gray, urged on by a cynical nobleman, decides to learn about life first hand, living fully and dangerously.

young Dorian to follow in his own footsteps in disdaining everything but the pleasures that can be obtained, in any way whatever, from life.

So it is that Dorian makes the wish that he remain forever young while a painting of him, just completed by a famous artist, grew older in his place.

This terrible wish is granted, but Dorian is not aware of it until he has gone through many experiences and adventures; until he has fallen in love and been the cause indirectly of a woman's death; until men fear and despise him and all London whispers and talks about him. And all the while only Dorian is aware of the horrible thing that is happening to the painting hidden in a locked room in his home.

"The Picture of Dorian Gray," has been most handsomely direct-

March and Field Star In "Tomorrow The World"

Fredric March and Betty Field head a stellar cast in Lester Cowan's "Tomorrow, The World!" the eagerly anticipated high-tension drama which is now playing at the York United Theatre, through United Artists release. The film is the first in which Mr. March and Miss Field have been co-starred.

As Mike Frame, sympathetic college chemistry professor who is suddenly burdened with a visit ed and produced by Albert Lewin and Pandro S. Berman. Hurd Hatfield and Sanders head a fine, hand-picked cast, including Angela Lansbury (the maid of "Gaslight"), who is superb as Dorian's first love; lovely Donna Reed, appears as the niece of the painter of the famous portrait.

It is altogether an extraordinary picture.

from a youth trained in Hitler's Germany, March gives the most powerful performance in his long and distinguished career. An Academy Award winner for his portrayal of the title role in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," March is called upon in "Tomorrow, The World!" to handle the most delicate acting assignment he has ever faced.

Co-starred with March is Betty Field, wife of the famous playwright, Elmer Rice, and seen most recently in Universal's "Flesh and Fantasy." Miss Field, who is rapidly winning a reputation in Hollywood as screenland's most versatile performer because of her outstanding work in such a variety of films as "Of Mice and Men," "Seventeen," "King's Row" and "What a Life," adds another to her long list of high calibre characterizations with her portrayal of Leona Richards, heroine of "Tomorrow, The World!"

Outstanding in the supporting cast, and considered Hollywood's most outstanding new child star is 12-year-old Skippy Homeier.

Skippy, the boy who created the original role in the James Gow-Arnaud D'Usseau stage production which was produced by Theron Bamberger, has repeated his magnificent performance in the screen version of the powerful play. Labeled "the meanest brat in the world," Skippy enacts the part of Emil Bruckner, Hitler youth who is sent on a visit to America and stays with a typical middle-class American family. His effect on the family, the havoc he wreaks on the familial relations and his insidious influence on the small community in which the action is placed delineates powerfully the problem now facing the entire civilized world—"What are we to do with the German children?"

Others in the outstanding cast include Agnes Moorehead, Joan Carroll and Edith Angold. Miss Moorehead gives one of her usually brilliant, acid performances.

"Tomorrow, The World!" is Cowan's screen version of the long-running hit play which was awarded the medal of the Theatre Club as the season's best play. Ralph Bellamy and Shirley Booth were starred in the original production with Skippy Homeier in the same role in which he is seen in the film version.

Leslie Fenton, recently invalided out of the British navy for wounds received at the historic St. Nazaire commando raid, directed the film. The screenplay was written by Ring Lardner, Jr., and Leopold Atlas.

There were 1,000 anchors required to hold in place the floating harbour called Mulberry that was used in the invasion of Europe.

Roslyn And King's Tangle Today

WIN FOR KING'S WOULD CLINCH THEM TITLE

Bobby Gough's King's School gridders can clinch the championship of the Westmount Elementary Schools Football League by defeating the toughened Roslyn School aggregation when the two teams clash at King George Park this afternoon.

The King pins have won both of their league starts, downing Roslyn 10-0 in the loop opener two Mondays ago and topping Queen's 5-0 this Monday. The Gough men, however, had all the breaks in both their games and, with a bit of luck, both the yellow clad Roslyn and blue sweated Queen's teams can reverse the tables when they meet King's in return tussles.

Queen's failed to go over from the one-yard stripe when they played King's Monday and in the Roslyn-King's encounter the Westmount avenue crew were on King's two-yard line once, once on the four and another time outside Charlie Johnson was in the clear and dropped a pass that was right in his hands.

Roslyn and Queen's, incidentally, battled to a 0-0 tie two weeks ago today but the Roslynites were missing the services of Tommy Williamson for that fray and feel certain that with the big half-back back they'll be able to calamine the Oliver street boys when the two teams tangle in a postponed tilt next Friday.

King's play Queen's in another postponed match Monday.

George Cochrane's Roslynites rolled to an easy 26-0 victory over the L.C.C. junior locker team Tuesday in an exhibition game played at Lower Canada. Tommy Williamson sparked his mates to the win, going over for three of his team's five majors. Captain John Swaine and middle Charlie "Ass" Baillie accounted for the other two five-pointers while Ray "Ace" Baillie, twin brother of Charlie, was credited with the odd Roslyn point when he drop-kicked a convert.

It was the Roslyn Rascals' second straight triumph over the L.C.C. aggregation. They had downed the Royal avenue boys 16-0 the week previous.

Roslyn will unveil some new and tricky T-formation plays this afternoon and have altered their defense system in the hope of stopping King's power plays through the line.

Harrier Race Monday P.M.

Westmount High School students will enjoy (?) a harrier race on Westmount Mountain Monday afternoon. The racers will start trotting at 4.15 p.m. on Summit Circle. From there the runners will go through the south-eastern pass in Summit Path and end the race on Oakland Road.

Parker L. Wearing, French teacher at Westmount High and director of extra-curricular activities, will be in charge.

SHOO FLY!

When the Pine-Thomas crew and cast of "Swamp Fire," starring Johnny Welssmuller, left for the Louisiana bayous for location shooting, they took along two gallons of DDT and five spray guns. souri.

The allies towed Mulberry, the floating invasion port, over the dangerous Calvados reef. The port withstood a gale of winter strength.

Both King's and Roslyn held final drills yesterday and both teams expressed confidence over the outcome of this afternoon's tilt. Eric Swaine will referee.

BASKETBALL

In the hope of uncovering some grade A talent for their school cage teams, Roslyn will begin intraclass basketball games on Tuesday, November 13, under the direction of George Cochrane. The Roslynites will hold two practice sessions of the 13 and 15 and will begin league play the following Tuesday.

The Westmount avenue lads have high hopes of capturing the junior basketball crown this season.

Panthers, Tornado Win Bantam Tilts In League Play

Panthers and Tornadoes won the only two games played in the bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League last week. Panthers defeated Tornadoes 29-10 while Tornadoes won their encounter with Bulldogs by a 10-5 score.

Mike Barnard led the scorers in the Panthers-Tornadoes game with 11 points. Others to score for the winners were Bert Kelly, six; John Gillingham and Bob Forrest, five apiece and Ernie Meyers, two.

Donnie McDonald and John Haire scored unconverted tries for Tornadoes, both in the second half. Tornadoes scored an uncon-verted touchdown in each half of the game as they downed Bulldogs 10-5. Lonnie Holland accounted for the first one while John Haire got the second.

The Bulldogs' five points came in the second half of the game when John Swaine went over the Tornadoes line for a major score.

Bert Kelly of the league leading Panthers increased his lead in the point scoring column in the game against Tornadoes and ran his total up to 59 for the season, in second place are teammates Mike Barnard and Fred Hofman, tied with 27 points apiece. Next in line is John Lough, Cyclones with 25 followed by Bob Forrest, Panthers, 18; Billy McCoubrey, Panthers, 16; Jim Brow, Cyclones, 16; Ted Budzen, Tornadoes, 13; Jaime Lough, Cyclones, 12; Bob Buntin, Cyclones, 10; Vince Roberts, Panthers, 19; John Haire, Tornadoes, 10.

The last scheduled bantam game of the season will take place on Tuesday, November 6, when Bulldogs and Panthers will meet.

This game will have no effect on the final standing of the group as the Bulldogs are firmly ensconced in the cellar while Panthers are on top.

The tentative plans for the playoffs have Panthers meeting Cyclones in a two games total points to count series starting on Saturday, November 10, with the second game on Wednesday, November 14.

Eagles Clinch First Place In Bantam Rugby

Eagles made certain of first place in the midget section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League on Tuesday afternoon when they downed Greyhounds 17-10 at King George Park in a four point game. The win gave the Eagles five wins and one loss in the six game schedule.

Just what team, Tigers or Tornados, that will meet the Eagles in the playoffs has not been decided. The Tigers upset all calculations when they defeated Eagles 7-2 last Saturday morning and brought themselves up into a tie with Tornados for second place. The two clubs were scheduled to meet yesterday in the section's last scheduled game, and a win for either club meant a playoff berth.

Eagles grabbed off an 11-0 lead in the first half of their game with Greyhounds but were outscored in the second half. Andy Blair and Bert Kelly tallied major scores in the first half while Bob Putnam converted one of them. Putnam scored the winner's other touchdown and Dave Barnard kicked the extra point.

Gillis Ross and Ross Jolly accounted for the Greyhounds' 10 points when they crossed the Eagles' line for unconverted tries. Although the Eagles scored the first two points of the game against Tigers last Saturday morning, Tigers came back to score a converted touchdown with Pete Fullerton obliging and held a 6-2 lead at halftime. Pete Fullerton completed the scoring for the winners by getting his seventh point of the game, a deadline kick, in the second half.

Mike Tucker of the Tigers is still tops in scoring with 32 points, others in line are Pete Fullerton, Tigers, 24; Dave Wilks, Tornados, 21; Bob Putnam, Eagles, 16; Gillis Ross, Greyhounds, 10; Ian Doig, Tigers, 10; Bob Gough, Greyhounds, 10; Will Manolson, Tornados, 10; Buddy Selby, Tornados, 10.

Present plans calls for the playoffs to start this Wednesday, November 7, at King George Park with the two first teams meeting in a two games total points to count series for the championship. The second game of this series will be played on Tuesday, November 13.

There may be a hitch to these plans, if, for example, Tigers and Tornados played to a tie in yesterday's game.

W.H.S. Gridders End Schedule

Westmount High's pigskin chasers brought their 1945 activities to an official end at Westmount Park yesterday when they battled the powerful Catholic High aggregation.

The Westmounters chalked up only one win all season, a 15-5 victory over D'Arcy McGee, and finished in the cellar of the Protestant section.

The Purple and White squad may journey to the U.S.A. next week-end for a Saturday game with a Malone high school team.

The floating harbour that liberated Europe, known as Mulberry, took 100,000 men seven months to build.

Reds and Hornets Slated For Pee Wee Rugby Finals

All indications point to the Reds and Hornets meeting in the finals to decide the pee wee championship of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League. These two clubs just about clinched their group titles on Saturday morning at King George Park. The Reds defeated their closest rivals, the Shrimps, by a score of 26-0 while Hornets set down the Wildcats 33-0.

In the only other games played during the week, the Furies took the decisions in both affairs. They defeated Eagles 12-0 and Sky Rockets 1-0.

Marty Kay, Hughie McDonald and Jim Cotter paced the Reds to their 26-0 win over the Shrimps. The two first named players each scored 10 points while Cotter added on five more. The winners led 11-0 at halftime.

Fast running Johnnie Wilson scored 21 points to lead the Hornets to a 33-0 shutout over the Wildcats. Others to score for the winners were Charlie Laidley, six; Billie Fell, five; Tom Bailey, one. The winners led 22-0 at the halfway mark.

The game between Furies and Eagles was a tight battle for the first half, the winners led 2-0 at the midway point but two major scores by Williams ran the count up to 12-0 for Furies by the end of the game.

Johnnie Wilson, running star of the Hornets' team, is the top point getter in the pee wee section with a total of 64. Wilson is closely followed by Alan Warnock, Shrimps 52; Hughie McDonald, Reds, 50; Jim Cotter, Reds, 43; Charlie Laidley, Hornets, 42; Marty Kay, Reds, 36.

The schedule will come to a close this week with only the two game total points to count series between the winners of "A" and "B" groups remaining to be played. No definite dates have been set for these playoffs as yet. In the final scheduled games Red Sox will play Strathconas tomorrow morning at 9.30 a.m. in the first game of a twin bill in the second game Eagles will clash with the Sky Rockets at 10.15 a.m. The last game of the schedule will be played on Tuesday afternoon when Reds and Aces will clash at 4.00 p.m.

Local Putters Form Social

The Westmount Putters Social Club came into being on Monday night at Victoria Hall. The organization was formed by local residents who have spent many enjoyable evenings during the summer months on the putting greens in Westmount and King George parks. The aims of the group is to keep up the social activities and friendships made on the putting greens during the summer.

Close to 25 persons attended the first meeting of the group, and chose a chairman and committee to round things into shape. The chairman chosen was James Cameron, while he will have as his associates on the committee: Mrs. W. Thom, Mrs. W. Jones, and the Messrs. I. Dunbar and W. Stott.

It was decided to meet each Monday night at Victoria Hall, and that once a month "special nights" would be held at which refreshments would be served, and other forms of entertainment would be offered. It is the intention of the group to play cards and other games or forms of recreation at their weekly meetings.

The "welcome" sign is out for all adults who used the greens last year, either in Westmount or King George Parks, to come to these Monday evening sessions. They will start at eight o'clock.

Intermediates To Hold Meet Monday Eve

There will be an organization meeting of the intermediate section in the Westmount Municipal Hockey League held this Monday evening, November 5, at the office in the greenhouse.

It had been planned to hold the meeting in Victoria Hall but it has now been switched to Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick's office in the greenhouse, which is directly behind Victoria Hall. The starting time is still eight o'clock. Teams wishing to enter this section of the league, which has no age limit, are asked to have at least one representative at this meeting.

At the present moment the teams interested are the Westmount Legion, R.M.R., Sir George Williams College (Claremont Division) and at least one local entry.

Any person wishing to take an executive role in this new loop are also asked to make an appearance at the meeting. While Monday's session is in the nature of an informal session, many questions will have to be decided such as whether to affiliate with the Q.A.H.A. and other similar problems.

Any person or teams wishing information before the time of the meeting are asked to contact Jim McCormick at FI. 1929.

Hallowe'en Party

Gerry Wright and the Hi-Y boys did an excellent job on the Hallowe'en Party held last Wednesday. Quite a gang gathered, and having paraded through the ghost walk, haunted houses and dark halls, joined in the Grand Parade in the gym. Prizes were awarded for various things—the most original costume, the best impersonation, the youngest person and several others. After the Grand Parade and awards everybody squatted on the floor to see a movie. One more Hallowe'en passed, and everybody has happy memories of a very successful evening.

Contest

To date the score in the new contest stands as follows: Preps, 105; Juniors, 55; Intermediates, 100. So far the Preps are in the lead with the Intermediates second and the Juniors trailing. More than likely this will be reversed by next week. Keep your eyes on the score.

Camera Club

This Club is well underway. The boys who are in it are planning to take, develop and print pictures tonight, when they meet after the evening supper. Incidentally, there are four samples of what can be done hung in the Boys' Division. These were loaned by Mr. Smyth, the leader, that the boys might see what they can achieve with some patience and skill.

gency ambulance cases, which will assume that an ambulance from the nearest hospital reaches accident victims in the shortest possible time. Since we have only one ambulance, it is inevitable that occasionally emergency calls are received when the ambulance is already out on another call. A central calling depot would allow such calls to be passed on quickly to another hospital.

The cost of maintaining a modern ambulance on 24-hour service is not always appreciated by those who are so ready to criticize. After deducting a grant of $500 from the City of Montreal, there is an annual deficit for operating our ambulance of about $3,000, which must be paid by generous friends of the Hospital.

Careful Driving

Our ambulance drivers have instructions to obey traffic laws and to drive carefully even when proceeding to emergency calls, since the time gained by speeding is hardly ever important in saving life. Nevertheless accidents may happen even with ambulances. The public should co-operate by a more general observance of the city by-law, which requires all traffic to draw up to the curb and stop and tramway cars to stop at the nearest intersection, at the approach of an ambulance or other emergency vehicle.

The Homoeopathic Hospital of Montreal exists to serve the citizens of this community, and we trust that our ambulance service may be continued on a basis equally efficient as our other hospital facilities."—(Signed, Douglas Bremner, Esq., President Board of Governors; Harold Griffith, M.D., Medical Superintendent; Walter Hatch, Manager.

They had FAITH in Canada's Future!

Nine Good Reasons for Canada's Ninth Victory Loan

1. To feed, clothe and pay our occupation troops.
2. To repatriate our combatants and reinstate them in civil life.
3. To care for, hospitalize and cure the war's sick and wounded.
4. To pay our fighting men's war bonuses.
5. To pension the dependants of those who have died for their country.
6. To train our veterans for peacetime work.
7. To re-establish our markets in order to create permanent jobs for all.
8. To help fight famine in the devastated countries.
9. To prevent inflation by savings and investment.

The men and women who made this land of ours were people of faith. That faith brought them across the dangerous seas, beckoned them into the golden West. They faced many dangers, endured many hardships; many of them died, before the things they had worked for, dreamed for, fought for, came to pass. We have entered into the inheritance they built for us.

At the end of the greatest war in history, in which Canadians have played a worthy part, this great Dominion faces an opportunity for further greatness and prosperity—such as no other nation under the sun has ever been afforded.

We must have faith in the future and we must translate that faith into action. Every dollar invested in Victory Bonds is an active affirmation of our faith. We have fought a good fight—now let us reap the reward of our Victory by investing in Canada's future.

One Husband Too Many

When comely Florence Wells, wife of a British Army man, began entertaining another English soldier named Ashley, neighbours in the town of Walthamstow, outside London, said it was a pity the way some women carried on in their husbands' absence from the marital fireside.

The back-fence gossips got a bigger shock, however, when Pte. John Wells came home on furlough.

The handsome Ashley didn't fade out of the picture. He continued to live in the Wells' home and he even went out with Florence and John on jolly tavern parties.

Authorities finally investigated the clubby trio and dug up a real sensation. Florence was married to both soldiers.

In court at Stratford, Mrs.

Lieutenant-Colonel; he was Mayor of Montreal 1887-89; and he was President of the Fraser Institute of Montreal and the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Proficient Singer

The following random excerpts from "Canada, an Encyclopaedia of the Country," originally from the pen of Miss Maud Ogilvy of Montreal, throw further light on Sir John's career —

"In 1843 his family also moved to Montreal, his father having been appointed Bursar of the University. At this period in spite of Mr. Abbott's busy life and arduous studies, he found time to join in social amusements, and made a study of vocal music, in which branch he became very proficient. His singing was a feature in Christ Church Cathedral Choir and he continued to direct this admirably organized body of vocalists for six years . . . While Solicitor General (1862-3) he entirely remodelled the Lower Canadian Jury system, and introduced and carried measures providing for the payment of Government fees by stamps, which is now universally prevalent.

For many years Mr. Abbott exercised unusual influence in the conduct of the work of legislation in the House of Commons. His proficiency in all branches of commercial law and in the law of private corporations made his assiduous attendance at the great standing committees on railways and canals and telegraphs and on banking and commerce, of inestimable value. In 1862 Mr. Abbott began his connection with the system of railways which culminated in the Canadian Pacific Railway by his appointment to the office of President of the Canada Central Railway.

In 1871-72 he urged upon Sir Hugh Allan the project of constructing the C.P.R.; and he was actively engaged with Sir Hugh as Provisional Director when a company was formed by that gentleman. The success of this magnificent Canadian highroad to the Pacific was in no small degree furthered by the work of Mr. Abbott, and his name is always associated with the promoters of this great national enterprise."

Wells-Ashley admitted everything. "John didn't love me any more," she said naively, "and he didn't mind when I took a liking to Ashley, his friend. It seemed best for me to go out with someone we both knew. Then Ashley married me to give me an allowance. We thought it was just between the three of us."

"Madam," the astounded magistrate interrupted, "society can't permit you to have two husbands at the same time."

Mrs. Wells, remanded to await trial, still seemed puzzled that outsiders should object to her triangular design for living.

LIFETIME OF SONG

With the four new songs he has written for "Blue Skies," the Paramount Technicolor musical, the lifetime total of popular compositions by Irving Berlin reached the 800 mark.

WORDS FAIL..

● Home at last! :: words fail to express his feelings :: and the feelings of those who for years have awaited this reunion. Words also fail in expressing the debt we owe to our fighting men. No words can measure our gratitude for the tremendous task they have completed. They are returning home now :: their job finished. They have forever SIGNED THEIR NAMES FOR VICTORY.

But our job is not yet finished! Our duty is to see that these fighting men of today are given every opportunity to re-establish themselves as citizens of tomorrow. This duty every Canadian is eager to fulfill.

In what manner can our appreciation be decisively shown? Words may fail :: but action speaks for itself :: action in SIGNING OUR NAMES FOR VICTORY.
