RUSSIANS SCORE NAVAL SUCCESS AGAINST GERMANS

PRESIDENT OF DUMA ANNOUNCES THAT FOUR
HUN CRUISERS AND SEVEN TORPEDO BOATS HAVE BEEN SUNK IN GULF OF RIGA.

London, Aug. 22.—A despatch to the Central News from Petrograd says:

"The president of the Duma has announced that the Germans lost the battle cruiser Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats in the Riga battle."

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 22.—An official communication issued today says:

"The German fleet has left the Gulf of Riga."

"Our destroyers in the Black Sea have sunk over a hundred Turkish boats."

The German battle cruiser Moltke was a vessel of 23,000 tons and carried in ordinary times a complement of 1,107 men. She was a sister ship of the famous Goeben, which became a part of the Turkish navy after the commencement of the war and was re-christened Sultan Selim.

The Moltke was 500 feet long and was armed with ten 11-inch and twelve 6-inch guns and twelve 24-pounders. In addition her armament included four 20-inch torpedo tubes. She was built in 1911 and had a speed of about 28 knots.

The Moltke was in the battle with the British fleet in the north Sea last January when the German armored cruiser Bluecher was sunk. The cost of the Moltke was about $12,000,000.

The announcement of the president of the Duma, as sent by a correspondent, follows:

"In the Riga battle the Germans lost one super-dreadnought, the Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats."

"The German fleet has withdrawn from Riga Bay."

"The Germans tried to make a descent near Pernov (Pernell) on the east shore of the Gulf of Riga, some 35 miles north of Riga. Four barges crammed with soldiers took part in the descent. They were repulsed by the Russian troops without the cooperation of artillery, the Germans being exterminated and the barges captured."

BURGARS LOOT
TORONTO JEWELLERY STORE

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Some time last night burglars looted the safe of Chapman Bros., jewellers, at 261 Yonge street, and got away with diamonds, watches and other jewellery, the value of which is roughly estimated at $5,000. The burglars tore away part of the rear wall of the building directly behind the safe, drilled the steel wall and forced an entrance with a crowbar. So far the police have no clue to the perpetrators.

SIX FRENCH GENERALS HAVE BEEN RETIRED.

Paris, Aug. 22.—11:25 p.m.—Six more Generals, it is officially announced, have been transferred from the active to the reserve list. This is in pursuance of the policy of General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French army, in placing only young and active men in responsible commands. Since the outbreak of the war this policy has resulted in reducing the average of French Generals from 61 to 51.

ADMIRALTY TELLS HOW SUBMARINE E-13 WAS LOST

GROUND ON DANISH ISLAND—MEN FIRED ON WHILE IN WATER.

London, Aug. 22.—The story of the sinking of the British submarine E-13, was told in an announcement from the Admiralty Friday as follows:

"A report has been received from Lieut. Commander Layton, commanding the E-13, whose grounding on the Danish Island of Saltholm was published yesterday. The Lieutenant-Commander reports that the submarine grounded in the early morning of Aug. 19. All efforts to refloat her failed."

"At 5 o'clock a Danish torpedo boat appeared on the scene, and informed the E-13 that she would be allowed 24 hours to get off. At the same time a German torpedo boat arrived, and remained close to the submarine until two more Danish torpedo boats came up, when she withdrew."

"At 9 o'clock, while the three Danish torpedo boats were anchored close to the submarine, two German torpedo boats approached from the south. When about half a mile away one of these hoisted a commercial flag signal, but before the commanding officer of the E-13 had time to read it the German destroyer fired a torpedo at her from a distance of about 300 yards. The torpedo exploded on hitting the bottom close to her."

"At the same moment the German destroyer fired with all her guns and Lieut. Commander Layton, seeing that his submarine was on fire fore and aft and was unable to defend herself owing to her being aground, gave orders for the crew to abandon her. While the men were in the water they were fired upon by machine guns and with shrapnel."

"One of the Danish torpedo boats immediately lowered her boat, and steamed between the submarine and the German destroyer who thereafter had to cease fire and withdraw."

SON OF SIR JOHN GIBSON KILLED IN FLANDERS.

Halifax, Ont., Aug. 22.—Col. Sir John M. Gibson received a cablegram today announcing the death in battle in Flanders on Thursday of his youngest son, Lieut. Frank Gibson. The Lieut. Gibson was attached to the Fifteenth Battalion, having left with the 48th Highlanders. He was wounded earlier in the war, but had recovered and rejoined his regiment. He was a graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston, and was preparing to study law when he enlisted for service.

ITALY'S DECLARATION OF WAR WILL HAVE IMMEDIATE EFFECT UPON STATES IN THE BALKANS

Rumania Will Probably Be The First To Join The Quadruple Entente—Bulgaria Awaits Reply From Serbia—Venizelos Is Premier Of Greece—Italy Reports Successes

London, Aug. 22.—Italy's declaration of war against Turkey is expected to have an almost immediate effect on the Balkan states, which are still debating which side they will take in the conflict. The relations between Italy and Rumania for years have been very intimate and the opinion is expressed here that it is probable, especially in view of the threatening attitude of the Germanic powers toward Rumania because of her refusal to allow ammunition to pass through her territory, that now Italy has broken relations with Turkey, Rumania will join the Quadruple Entente.

Bulgaria is still waiting for the reply of Serbia to the suggestion of the Entente ministers that Serbia cede Macedonia to Bulgaria, while Greece is likely to declare her future policy when the Chamber meets this week. The opinion is expressed in diplomatic circles here that it is significant that M. Venizelos, who always has been friendly to the Entente, has decided to take charge, in addition to the Grecian Premiership, of the office of Minister of Foreign Affairs.

With the inclusion of Italy among Turkey's opponents in the war, and the former's well-known desire for expansion in the Near East, the Balkan states may consider that the time is ripe for them to enter the field and secure for themselves a share of what falls to the victorious group. It is for them to decide which side is likely to win.

The continued retirement of the Russian armies seems to have little if any influence on the situation, the opinion being expressed by military critics that victory of the Entente Allies in the Dardanelles would more than offset this so far as the Near East is concerned, and the Franco-British forces are increasing their efforts to force the straits.

There is little change in Poland and the Baltic provinces. A big battle is being fought along the Kovno-Vilna railway and the river Niemen. This, however, is of secondary importance to the movements against Brest-Litovsk. The Austro-German forces are across the rivers and roads both north and south of this fortress, which is invested from three sides, and curiosity is evinced as to whether Grand Duke Nicholas intends to defend it or to fall further back. For the moment he is resisting the Austro-German advance, but this may be only with rearguards which have been detailed to inflict as much loss as possible on the invaders and delay the progress of the Teutons.

Liveliness has prevailed at some points along the western front but the engagements have been of minor importance. The French claim to have repulsed German attacks in Artois and in the Vosges, while both sides are expending ammunition in artillery engagements, bomb throwing and other artifices in many places to annoy their opponents.

The Italians report slight progress on all their fronts.

ITALIANS HAVE DECLARED WAR AGAINST TURKEY

AMBASSADOR LEAVES CONSTANTINOPLE—NEWS
OF DECLARATION HAS AROUSED MUCH EN-THUSIASM AMONG THE RUMANIANS.

London, Aug. 21.—10:50 p.m.—Italy has declared war against Turkey and the Italian Ambassador has left Constantinople. This announcement is made in a Reuter's Telegram from Constantinople via Berlin and Amsterdam.

Reasons for Italy's Action.

London, Aug. 21.—11:05 p.m.—Marquis di Garroni, Italian Ambassador to Turkey, today handed to the Porte a note declaring Italy considered herself in a state of war with Turkey and demanded his passports, according to an official telegram from Constantinople received at Amsterdam and transmitted to the Central News. The reasons given in the note for Italy's declaration of war were the support given by Turkey to the revolt in Libya and the prevention of the departure of Italian residents from Syria.

News Received Enthusiastically.

Rome, Aug. 22, via Paris, Aug. 23.—12:45 a.m.—Italy's declaration of war against Turkey has been greeted enthusiastically from the Alps to the Ionian Sea and across the Mediterranean to Libya, from which the Governor-General has sent a telegram declaring that his troops claim the privilege of being the first to enter into the new campaign.

General Cadorna, commander in chief of the Italian army, says his men received the news with great cheering. In the places along the war front where the Italian trenches are separated by only a short distance from those of the Austrians it is declared that the shouts of "long live Italy" and "down with Austria and Turkey" were so loud that they were heard by the Austrians who rushed to arms thinking they were about to be attacked.

The General staff has discussed with King Victor Emmanuel the plan of the new campaign against Turkey. The government has received assurances that the American authorities have taken the necessary steps to protect Italians in Ottoman territory.

Along came Napoleon and made Dr. Corvisart his physician. Dr. Corvisart somewhat surprised Napoleon when he thumped his chest by way of examination. Napoleon, with his

ITALY HAMMERS AT THE OUTPOSTS OF TRENT CAMP

ARTILLERY SHELLS MOUNT
PANAROTTA—MOST DIFFI-CULT TASK AHEAD.

Verona, Italy, August 22, via Paris.—Italian artillery is now hammering at outposts of the great entrenched camp of Trent. The Austrian position on Mount Panarotta, an attack on which by Italian artillery was announced in the latest official communication from General Cadorna, lies to the north-east of Leivo, which is ten miles south-east of Trent. This mountain, more than 6,000 feet high, is one of the outposts of Trent.

In attempting to advance on Trent, the Italian forces have before them a long and difficult task. From the top of Mount Panarotta down to Tenta Pass, is a succession of forts and entrenchments extending for more than 20 miles and connected by underground passages built last September. The gigantic defenses of the Austrians around Trent extend from Stelvio Pass, near the Swiss frontier, down to Lake Garda and up to the Carnic Alps. They form a barrier more than 200 miles long, in which nature has erected the most formidable bulwarks.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—The tropical storm which reached the coast of Texas on Monday last passed over the peninsula of Ontario on Saturday night as a feeble depression and is now situated in the St. Lawrence Valley causing little wind but much rain which has now spread over Quebec. In the west outside of a few light scattered showers in Saskatchewan and Manitoba the weather has been very fine.

BRITISH AND FRENCH MINISTERS IN CONFERENCE

Paris, Aug. 22, 11:20 p.m.—Alexandre Ribot, the French Minister of Finance, and Reginald McKenna, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, conferred today at Boulogne-sur-Mer. They discussed and agreed upon concerted action with regard to exchange with the United States and other financial questions affecting the Allies. Another meeting will be held at London shortly at which Pierre L. Bark, the Russian Finance Minister, will be present.

ITALIAN TASK IS STUPENDOUS.

Most of the Austrian Border a Natural Fortress, Honeycombed With Tunnels.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Back from battlefields of the sky, far above the eye of the aeroplane, Edwin F. Weigle, the Tribune's staff war photographer, arrived in Chicago today with the first authentic battlefront along the Italian border in the Alps. Every trench and fort was open to him because he had a letter from the Kaiser.

"The Austrians are remodelling the Alps and converting them into great natural fortresses, honeycombed with tunnels and trenches driven through solid rock with dynamite and drills," says Weigle. "From the valleys covered with great vines to the snowcapped peaks ten thousand feet above, men toil all day and night tugging up great batteries up the winding roads and paths. The dynamiting goes on incessantly and the tapping of the drills are as frequent as that of the machine gun. It is almost a waiting game. There is little work for the Red Cross. It is only when mountain patrols clash that the wounded and dead are brought to the rear."

"The stone walls along the outer sides of the mountain roads, which used to protect the automobiles and tourists from slipping over and dropping thousands of feet into the valleys, have been removed and now a matter of a few inches means death or a lost battery. The walls are removed in order to give the batteries on the opposite mountainside a sweep of the road, so that the Italians cannot use them for shelter."

"The overhanging crags have also been mined and wires connect them with the rock-hewn trenches and tunnels rising in tiers up the mountain sides, even to the snow lies, where smaller batteries are manned by fur-clad soldiers. Every now and then a huge boulder is loosened and crashes down the slope, to wipe out a small detachment of patrols. In many cases, too, rocks have been hurled by the soldiers in the trenches on the heads of advancing scouts. At some places I could see the Italians in the distance through the clear mountain air."

"Near the border, where the Italians occupy one side of the mountains and the Austrians the other, the Austrians have dynamited great shelves in the rock near the summits and planted their heavy, wide-mouthed howitzers, from which shells are dropped over the white peaks, to fall on the enemy's batteries or in the trenches in the valley beyond. The small calibre guns, the 15 and 30 centimetre—they were just beginning to place the 42 centimetre guns when I left—are placed in protected tunnels ending near the face of the slope nearest the enemy. The tunnels are dynamited to within a foot or 18 inches of the surface on the enemy's side and then a hole is drilled through just large enough to afford room for the gun muzzle and its proper training. It takes twelve automobiles of 1200-horse-power to carry

Sporting Notes

Oh, Well, perhaps your team mightn't have won yesterday anyway.

The following discussion occurred somewhere in the vicinity of the Post Office, last night, between a couple of young ladies.

First Young Lady—My, wasn't it a shame it rained today, I'm sure the Emmets would have beaten St. Patrick's.

Second Y. L.—Indeed they wouldn't and it's a pity it rained because (—) told me St. Pat's were sure to win.

First Y. L.—They would not have won.

Second Y. L.—They would so! (After this was repeated several times, the tones becoming firmer all the time, we vanished from the vicinity as we wished to preserve our neutrality).

There is a good story going the rounds about an officer of one of the local teams. It appears that he, in company with a couple of other members of the club made a railway trip to Montreal and on their homeward journey took passage in a commodious sleeping car. Our hero, deposited his boots on the floor underneath his berth and retired to dream of the conquest of the coming morning. On awakening in Quebec, he jumped up and as usual began to attire himself. He discovered his boots in the place he had left them, but Lo! Behold! A transformation had taken place. He had left them the night previous, gray with the dust of Montreal, but now they shone like a mirror and looked like brand new. He grabbed up the footwear and rushing out excitedly to his companions, cried: "What do you know about this! Some darn fool has gone and polished my boots, by mistake!"

Miller failed to show up for Patricia's yesterday. The Pat's would have been in a bad way without him against C. B.

Spike Sullivan is confident of beating Jones. "You'll see said Spike 'that I will be a different man in the ring this time.' I should have knocked out Rivest but though I was beaten, I learned a lot in that mill."

The news that Mr. Alex. Bastien's handsome brown trotter had won the Classified Trot in the Grand Circuit Meeting at Dorval Track, Montreal, on Saturday, was well received in local racing circles. Aulbrook required five heats to win, but that shows well for the endurance of the horse and the good work of his trainer, Jos. Bigaoutte.

There may be faster horses than Aulbrook racing on the Grand Circuit, but there is none more fashionably bred than the son of Bingara.

At the end of the first period the Blues were 3 to the Indians one, the score remaining unchanged at the end of the second. From that time on, however, the Rosedaes ran away from their opponents. A small crowd witnessed the game.

EGYPT'S FLAG.

The new Egyptian flag consists of three white crescents with their backs to the staff, each with a five-pointed white star between the horns on a red field. This flag was the personal standard of the Khedive, and now takes the place of the former national flag, which was distinguished from the Turkish by having a star of five instead of six points.

This, his last appearance before the public, took place on May 21, 1888. He died at Stamford the following September.—Exchange.

Are you a good guesser?

The General says:—No man living can take three different kinds of Roofing and determine in advance by such tests as bending, twisting, tearing, or smelling, how long each will last on the roof. The best you can do is to make a guess. That is why is guaranteed by us 5, 10 or 15 years according to whether the thickness is 1, 2 or 3 ply. Most roofings look alike, and even trained chemists can judge roofing quality only by the raw materials that are put into the roofing and not from the finished product. The responsibility of the biggest Roofing and Building Paper Mills in the world stands behind our guarantee and this makes it unnecessary for you to take the risk of guessing. AMERICAN GOVERNMENT IS STILL TEMPORIZING

Certain-teed Roofing

WILSON SILENT—BRYAN WANTS MORE TREATY-TINKERING — ROOSEVELT AGAINST FRESH SACRIFICE OF AMERICAN HONOR.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Judgment still is suspended by the United States government on the torpedoing of the liner Arabic with a loss of two American lives.

Until official information on which to base the course to be pursued arrives there will be no statement of the government's position and high officials will not discuss the subject. Both President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing were silent today, the latter dismissing interviewers with a negative answer when asked whether any additional reports had been received from Ambassador Gerard.

It was understood tonight that the all-important report awaited before the United States determines whether Germany has committed a "deliberately unfriendly act" is expected from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin. Cabled statements of American survivors apparently have left no doubt that the Arabic, with Americans on board, was torpedoed without warning. The question now is whether Germany will set up a claim that manoeuvring of the ship just before she was attacked led the submarine commander to believe that she was attempting a hostile act against him.

In addition to such brief information as he has cabled, Ambassador Gerard is said to have mailed a long report, including affidavits of the American survivors.

President Wilson remained at the White House today only long enough to eat his meals. He showed a desire to get away from his usual surroundings and to avoid discussion of the sinking of the Arabic.

The President will decide tomorrow whether a cabinet meeting will be called for Tuesday, but tonight it seemed improbable that the cabinet members would be summoned before final reports on the Arabic disaster were received.

Telegrams received at the White House bearing on the Arabic expressed varying opinions. Some of the senders advised drastic action, others counseled patience, and practically all expressed confidence in the President.

Severance of diplomatic relations with Germany is generally discussed as the step that would follow determination that the sinking of the Arabic was deliberately unfriendly to the United States. Whether such an action would be taken without first consulting Congress, is a matter of speculation.

London, Aug. 22.—Eleutherios Venizelos accepted the post of Premier of Greece after a conference today with King Constantine which resulted in a perfect understanding between them. The King congratulated M. Venizelos who will present as soon as possible the list of men he will invite to accept portfolios and the new Premier will take the oath tomorrow.

Athens is enthusiastically celebrating M. Venizelos' return to power. In addition to the Premiership M. Venizelos will take charge of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

This information is contained in a Reuter despatch from Athens.

Paris, Aug. 22.—M. Venizelos was received this morning by King Constantine and accepted the task of forming a cabinet, says a Havas despatch from Athens. The list of Ministers will be presented to the King this afternoon and they will be sworn in tomorrow.

PATHECOLOR FEATURE AT THE OLYMPIA
"Pro Patria" a Six Reel Attraction on Today and Tomorrow's Program.

The Olympia again offers for today and tomorrow a first-class program that should appeal to any picture house patron. The films are attractive as photoplays, they are woven around subjects that are thrilling and full of powerful drama, reproduced in natural color, due to the Pathe system and have (every one of them) what the theatrical people call the "punch"; that is the essentials to make it a success.

"Pro Patria" is the feature of these films. It is a patriotic picture and this alone is enough to make a popular attraction at this moment, but it is at the same time one of the best productions ever booked here. It has the finish that gives a film the perfection required nowadays to guarantee its success.

As in the past, Pathe Gazette will show us illustrations of important events that have taken place recently in different parts of the world and, to complete the program a comedy entitled "Ima Simp on the Job."

GERMANY SENDS AN ULTIMATUM TO RUMANIANS

RIGHT TO SEND TURKEY MUNITIONS OF WAR IS THE CAUSE.

London, Aug. 22.—A Reuter despatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, says:

"Private advices from Bucharest state it is feared there that Germany has sent an ultimatum to Rumania regarding the right to transport munitions of war for Turkey through Rumanian territory. The Rumanian cabinet is firmly resolved not to grant this permission."

"A large number of cars laden with war material has been held up at Predeal, a village near the Tomos Pass, where it is reported Rumanian troops are concentrating. Troops also are massing at Jassy, about 200 miles north-east of Bucharest, and the petroleum regions have been heavily garrisoned."

GERMAN ENTRY TO NOVO GEORGIEVSK

EMPEROR WILLIAM REVIEWS TROOPS AND EXPRESSES GRATITUDE TO GOD.

Novo Georgievsk, Russian Poland, Aug. 22, via Warsaw to London, Aug. 23, 12.05 a.m.—The German Emperor with General Von Falkenhayn, chief of staff of the German army, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, General Von Beseler and a brilliant suite today entered the still burning town of Novo Georgievsk.

Emperor William prior to his entrance reviewed in parade part of the troops which took the fortress in a short eight-day siege. The Emperor witnessed the parade from the crest of the Novo Georgievsk forts amid cannon and barbed wire entanglements. He expressed gratitude to God who he said had helped the troops and would further help them, and thanked the men for their accomplishment. The Emperor appeared to be fresh and strong, despite his arduous duties.

CHATEAU ORCHESTRA A GREAT SUCCESS.

Notable Addition to Canada's Musical Circles is Immensely Popular.

There can be no doubt but that the orchestra which has been playing at the Chateau Frontenac this summer has proved one of the best attractions ever provided by this famous C. P. R. hotel, and its work during the season has brought forth nothing but the highest praise in every direction. This orchestra, which is described as "a notable addition to Canada's musical circles" by the leading musical journal of the Dominion, is under the leadership of Mr. Leon Goulard, a talented Belgian and a former pupil of the celebrated violinist, Ysaye. Mr. Goulard studied at the Brussels Conservatoire and has been connected with orchestral work for no less than fifteen years, a fact which is well brought out by the mastery technique, quality and finish of his rendition. He has played in the leading hotels of Europe and came direct to Quebec from the Ritz Hotel, Madrid.

The other members of this orchestra are: Pianist, Mr. Hobbs; second violinist, Mr. Radford; 'cello, Mr. Good, and bass, Mr. Wilkinson. Each of these men is an artist in his own special line and every one may be counted upon to give the best that is in him while he is playing. Small wonder that their programmes, which are taken from a most extensive repertoire, should be the occasion of most favorable comment and should be drawing large crowds to the Palm Cafe.

THE FIRST PERFORMANCE OF "MICHEL STROGOFF," AT THE AUDITORIUM TONIGHT WILL BE A FIRST-CLASS ONE.

The management of the Auditorium has everything in readiness for the first performance of "Michel Strogoff" tonight; scenery pertaining to a first-class presentation of such a big work as that due to the pen of Jules Verne and d'Ennery. The artists are also stars of the French stage and the amusements of which the play has a good many will be supplied by dancers and other actors that have great experience on the stage and will certainly make their part of the show very entertaining.

MORE BRITISH VESSELS SUNK BY SUBMARINES.

London, Aug. 22.—The British steamers Windsor and William Dawson have met with disaster. The Windsor, a vessel of 6,055 tons, has, according to a report issued here, been sunk, while the William Dawson, an old steamer of 284 tons, has been blown up. The crew of the Windsor was saved but five men of the Dawson's crew were lost.

London, Aug. 22.—The British steamer Cober has been sunk by a submarine. The captain and crew have landed safely.

The Cober, a vessel of 3,060 tons gross, 340 feet long with a beam of 49 feet, was last reported to have sailed from Karachi June 30 for Gibraltar. She was built at West Hartlepool in 1904 and was owned by the London and Northern Steamship Co., Ltd.

S.S. SCANDINAVIAN BRINGS WOUNDED BACK TO CANADA

OPTIMISM OF THOSE RETURNED SPEAKS VOLUMES FOR OVERSEAS MEN.

The chery disposition of Canadian soldiers arriving here on the R.M.S. Scandinavian on Saturday, speaks volumes for the excellent morale of the First Canadian Division which, according to those interviewed, is even more confident and determined to crush the Germans and all their modern and barbaric means of warfare, than when they left Canada's shores nearly a year ago.

Those landing on Saturday, like other convalescent who have been returning almost since the opening of navigation, showed the genuine character of the Canadian soldier, who hardly knows what it is to be pessimistic, even though he may be suffering from the most grievous wounds, as was the case with a number of the First Contingent officers and men arriving on R.M.S. Scandinavian. In all there were five officers and nine men, in charge of Captain D. L. X. Redman, of the 10th Battalion, who is returning to Calgary, where he will remain during the time of convalescence. His left arm is badly smashed but he declined to say how he received his wounds.

Sergeant Cleland, of Vancouver Island, a veteran, who won his D.C.M., in India, and who has also been through the South African campaign, is the most seriously wounded of these latest arrivals from the battlefields of Belgium and France. He has hardly a sound member, having wounds in an arm, cheek and both legs, which latter was received by a parapet falling in on him at the Festubert engagement in May. Sergt. Cleland, together with the officers and men was given rousing cheers by passengers lining the deck of the vessel and those assembled at the dock.

Captain H. P. Snelgrove, of the 10th Battalion, was wounded in the thigh in the battle at Festubert on May 22nd. The 10th, which had cleared the wood with the 16th battalion at Ypres, a month previous to the date on which this officer was incapacitated, at the Festubert engagement, was called on the night of the 19th, to take over some trenches which had been occupied by the London Rifle Brigade. A few days later the battalion said Captain Snelgrove, was ordered to take a redoubt known on the French war map as K. 5. The attack was planned for the 21st, at 7.45, the whole battalion, bomb throwers, supported by A and D company of the 10th battalion taking part. A company took an advanced position with D company, keeping in the rear as a support. The attack succeeded in driving the Germans back three hundred yards behind K. 5. The trench occupied by the battalion was barricaded at K. 5. At 2.30 a.m. this work was completed. All was quiet until 5.30 a.m., on the morning of the 22nd, when the German artillery opened a terrific fire on the occupied trench. Their firing was so direct, continued Capt. Snelgrove, that the casualties were terrific, some parts of the trenches being literally blown to pieces.

It was a common thing for a man to be blown out of the trenches two or three times. At 10.30 a.m. the same day German bomb throwers came out of their trenches in shirt sleeves in the tall grass and attacked trenches with bombs at the position known as K. 4, which was occupied by one platoon of D company, 10th Battalion. As the way had been cleared by the German artillery, the opposing infantry had little difficulty in advancing protected by their artillery. Our bomb throwers and every machine gun available was sent to this section to meet the Huns. Our fellows threw the bombs with great accuracy and hardly a single man taking part in the German advance returned.

Supported by the 3rd Canadian Field Battery, 3rd Brigade, said the Captain, we held the position although we were shelled throughout the day. The work of the Field Battery was very effective, but the fire of the Germans prevented reinforcements reaching us. A counter attack was expected hourly, but it did not materialize, the Huns evidently being afraid to undertake another offensive.

When the roll was called at 3.00 o'clock we had lost ten officers killed and seven wounded. D company alone losing all its officers excepting Snelgrove. Eventually at 6 p.m. one battalion was reinforced by the Strathcona Horse and later by the 7th battalion. Shortly after the reinforcements had arrived, Capt. Snelgrove was wounded in the spine and woke up from his unconscious state in an hospital in Boulogne.

The 10th battalion suffered heavily in the attack having lost 17 officers and 400 men. Col. Boyle who was the commanding officer when the First Contingent left Canada, was killed at Ypres, Major P. A. Guthrie was the O. C. the 10th at Festubert. Captain Critchley is the only officer attached to the 10th, who has not been wounded thus far.

Captain Snelgrove spent Saturday and a part of Sunday in the city, as a guest at the Chateau, leaving yesterday afternoon by the C. P. R. for his home in Toronto.

Canadian Artillery.
Captain J. C. Stewart, of Kingston, a member of the 3rd Canadian battery spoke in glowing terms of Major R. H. Britton, officer commanding this unit of the First Canadian Expeditionary Force. Rather than relate any of his own personal experiences since going to the firing line, where he has been until last month, Capt. Stewart preferred to dwell upon some of the operations of the Canadian Artillery as a whole. As a few of the engagements in which the men being Canada's big guns took part and won fame, Captain Stewart mentioned Fleur Baie, Cr6ix Marechal, Givenchy, Plug Street, Hill 63, Steenvord, Ypres, and a few other sections of the long battle line in the west.

After the first few battles the Canadian Artillery figured in they were soon popular, Capt. Stewart stated, with British and French, and they thought nothing too good for them. The French and British infantry were delighted when they were supported by the Canadian Artillery. Captain Stewart praised the work of Col. A. W. Morrison, D.S.O., officer commanding the 1st Artillery Brigade.

In concluding, he classified the Canadian infantry as the bravest in the land. He described them as a lot of bulldogs held by a string, who immediately it is out, will tear through unconscious of danger. This officer says no one can better watch the work of the infantry than the artillery man. Capt. Stewart, with Capt. Redman and Capt. Snelgrove, left town yesterday.

ARABIC WAS SUNK WITHOUT WARNING SAY SURVIVORS

CAPTAIN FINCH DENIES ANY ATTEMPT TO RAM THE SUBMARINE.

London, Aug. 22.—Numbers of survivors of the Arabic have reached Liverpool and London and all those who have been seen confirm Captain Finch's assertion that no warning was given by the submarine and that the frothy streak made by the on-coming torpedo was the first intimation of the impending disaster.

"We're done boys, they've got us this time," Captain Finch shouted to his officers on the bridge, and the next minute, according to survivors, the torpedo struck the vessel and tore her side and bottom out.

The fumes from the explosion were suffocating, survivors said, and a great column of water rose high in the air and descended on the deck with a roar. Strong men were knocked down and washed overboard (passengers declared, and two women were left dead on the deck. All the survivors paid tribute to the wonderful work of the officers and crew in saving so many persons in ten minutes time.

The only hint heard here that the Arabic was under convoy came from an American, and has been contradicted by the categorical denial of the British Government that the Arabic was being convoyed when she was torpedoed. Numerous passengers also have attested to the fact that the steamer's boats rowed about for two or three hours before they were picked up. As to the other suggestion that the Arabic possibly attempted to ram the submarine, Captain Finch's statement is to the contrary.

day afternoon by the C. P. R. for his home in Toronto.

GERMANS TAKEN OFF NORWEGIAN STEAMER
New York, Aug. 22.—Two Germans, a third officer and a seaman, of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Starck which arrived today from Bordeaux, were taken off just outside the harbor near Fire Island by the British cruiser Berwick. The Germans were transferred to the warship after a boarding party came alongside in a small boat.

THE FIRST DIRECT EFFECT OF THE BRITISH ANTI-SUBMARINE COUNCIL
The first direct effect of the British anti-submarine council will be to simplify the discussion over the Orders-in-Council now in progress. Cotton ships have formed a large percentage of the total number of craft held up under the Orders, each case involving much informal debate over arrangements for payment by Great Britain for the cargoes seized. Each case, also, became an additional factor in the formal discussion between the two governments, the United States having steadily maintained that Great Britain was violating the accepted rules of international law in halting commerce between neutrals, more especially trade in contraband goods.

With cotton declared contraband there will be no payment for seized cargoes as heretofore and the informal discussion so far as cotton is concerned is at an end.

HYNOTIC POWER IN ANIMALS

An interesting instance of the hypnotic power possessed by a good many animals is given by a correspondent of the Glasgow Herald. One morning outside Elgin a blackbird was observed to be standing by the roadside, paying no heed to the footsteps of the passerby. It was gazing fixedly at four young weasels under the hedge, which were approaching in a semicircle, apparently to surround it. Just then a warning cry was heard from behind, uttered presumably by the parent weasel, and the young ones disappeared in the hedge. The bird still remained powerless and immovable, and only after repeated urging did it fly to a tree near by, when it gave forth a weak, frightened sound, as though still under the influence of the terror which had arrested its faculties.

COTTON IS DECLARED ABSOLUTELY CONTRABAND

WASHINGTON IS NOT SURPRISED BUT WILL PROTEST IN VIEW OF BRITAIN'S CONSISTENT POLICY IN THE PAST.

London, Aug. 22.—Cotton has been declared absolute contraband by Great Britain according to a statement issued by the foreign office last evening. The statement declares that the government proposes to initiate measures to relieve depression which might temporarily disturb the cotton market because of the contraband order.

It was learned upon inquiry at the foreign office that the French government will issue a similar notice today.

The announcement follows:—"His Majesty's government have declared cotton absolute contraband. While the circumstances might have justified such action at an earlier period His Majesty's government are glad to think that local conditions of American interests likely to be affected are more favorable for such a step than they were a year ago and moreover His Majesty's government contemplate initiation of measures to relieve as far as possible any abnormal depression which might temporarily disturb market conditions."

Effective Today.
The declaration making cotton contraband is effective from today. A royal proclamation concerning the subject was published in a supplement of the London Gazette issued tonight. It is very brief. After a preamble citing previous proclamations concerning contraband, it says:

"Now, therefore, we do hereby declare by and with the advice of our Privy Council that during the continuance of the war or until we do give further public notice the following articles will be treated as absolute contraband in addition to those set out in our royal proclamations aforementioned.

Raw cotton, cotton linters, cotton waste and cotton yarn.
"And we do hereby further declare that this, our royal proclamation, shall take effect from the date of its publication in the London Gazette."

U. S. Will Protest.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Announcement that cotton had been declared absolute contraband of war by Great Britain, came as no surprise to officials here. Secretary Lansing was informally advised by the British Embassy some time ago that this action had been decided upon, and that formal announcement was delayed only pending the arrangement of details. This included, it is understood, preparations to protect the market from the effect of the announcement and also an understanding between Great Britain and her Allies.

While officials would not discuss the subject Saturday night, it is certain the United States will protest against the British action, citing the previous consistent policy of Great Britain in holding cotton free of restraint. The result, it is expected, will be to draw out a full explanation of the reasons behind the British change of policy.

The first direct effect of the British announcement will be to simplify the discussion over the Orders-in-Council now in progress. Cotton ships have formed a large percentage of the total number of craft held up under the Orders, each case involving much informal debate over arrangements for payment by Great Britain for the cargoes seized. Each case, also, became an additional factor in the formal discussion between the two governments, the United States having steadily maintained that Great Britain was violating the accepted rules of international law in halting commerce between neutrals, more especially trade in contraband goods.

With cotton declared contraband there will be no payment for seized cargoes as heretofore and the informal discussion so far as cotton is concerned is at an end.

THE DOMINION OF CANADA.
That's the Official Title of England's North American Daughter
The official title of Canada is the Dominion of Canada. It embraces eleven provinces, viz: Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Saskatchewan, North-west Territories and Yukon Territory.

The government is federal, centered at Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion, while each of the provinces, like our states, has its local legislature and capital. The head of the federal government is a governor general, appointed by the king of Great Britain and holding office for five years. Each province has a lieutenant governor, appointed by the federal government for a term of five years.

The federal or Dominion parliament consists of a senate, with eighteen members, nominated by the governor general and appointed for life by the king, and a house of commons of 221 members, elected by the people of the several provinces for a term of five years, the right of suffrage being subject to a property qualification.

The provincial legislatures are elected by the people of each province. Each province has its own courts of local jurisdiction, and there is a federal supreme court consisting of a chief justice and five associate judges.—Philadelphia Press.

DAMAGING FLOODS CONTINUE THROUGH MISSOURI STATE

MERAMIC RIVER OVERFLOWS ITS BANKS—LOSS OF LIFE REACHES 20.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 22.—The Meram river, lined on either side with thousands of pleasure resorts, club-houses and summer cottages, went several miles out of its banks today, swept away most of these buildings and increased to 20, it is reported, the number of lives lost in St. Louis county as a result of the flood which followed the recent rain storm here.

The Meram began rising a foot an hour this morning and the flood was so sudden that hundreds of persons had time only to climb to tree tops. Efforts to rescue these even with motor boats had been in vain early tonight. The river passed tonight a stage five feet higher than even before in its history.

The worst conditions prevail at the rivers mouth. Thousands of refugees from the flooded districts are being housed in churches, hotels and other public buildings nearby. Cots and food are being sent to the scene from St. Louis.

Approximately nine thousand feet of the track on the St. Louis and San Francisco (Frisco) Railroad near Moselle, Mo., was washed out.

ANCIENT TOOTHPICKS.
They Used to be Made of Silver and Were Worn in the Hat.

The employment of toothpicks is very ancient. In Grote's "History of Greece" we find that Agathocles, "among the worst of Greeks," was poisoned by a medicated quill handed to him for cleaning his teeth after dinner.

Toothpicks were in common use in the time of the Caesars. Martial tells us those made of a chip of mastie wood (lentiscus) are the best, but that if you run short of such timber a quill will serve your purpose, and he ridicules an old fop who was in the habit of digging away at his gums with his polished lentiscus, though he had not a tooth left in his head.

Toothpicks occur early of silver, but pieces of wood or of feathers with a red end as quill in our day were most usual. The toothpick is the Anglo-Saxon tothgare. The old name was picktooth. It was imported by travelers from Italy and France, and the using of it was long deemed an affected mark of gentility. It was worn as a trophy in the hat, and Sir Thomas Overbury describes a courtier, the pink of fashion, "with a picktooth in his hat."

Bishop Earle says of an idle gallant, "His picktooth bears a great part in his discourse."—London Telegraph.

QUEBEC, AUGUST 23, 1915.

INSURING SOLDIERS.

Alderman Walling's suggestion that the city should continue the premiums of those soldiers at the front whose insurance it is now paying is all that should certainly meet with general support among the citizens of Quebec. This matter is to be discussed at the next meeting of the City Council and, so far as we can see, there can be only one decent conclusion to such discussion. In view of the sacrifices which these men are making and the risks which they are incurring the very least that we can do is to carry on their insurance and see that their wives and families are not left penniless should they be killed on the battlefield.

ILL-TIMED PEACE TALKS.

All talk of peace is at present so much effort wasted. Germany would undoubtedly like peace—on her own terms—but it is waste of time on her part to make suggestions looking to that end. Only when she is beaten and realizes it, will it be the slightest use to discuss peace terms.

The statement has often been made that if Germany had possessed any sense of humor there would have been no war. Judging by the latest effusion which represents the allied efforts of a number of Herr Professors, the exponents of kultur have made no progress towards attaining this saving grace. These learned gentlemen have put their names to a solemn document which sets forth the conditions under which Germany will consent to restore peace.

Belgium must become a subject nation; France must surrender a big strip of territory in addition to paying a huge indemnity, while Russia, in addition to ceding the Baltic provinces, must also cede Poland. No mention of Great Britain is made, but doubtless it is taken for granted that Canada, Australia, South Africa and India would satisfy Teuton demands for territorial expansion. The only fly in the ointment as far as these latest German conditions are concerned is that it is the allies who will impose peace terms which will not be until they are ready.

KOVNO FALLS.

The German and Austrian armies are advancing against the Russians in the shape of a pair of open shears, the pivotal point of which is Warsaw. The southern blade is trying to swing up towards Brest-Litovsk. The northern blade has been cutting in upon the line of communications known as the Kovno-Vilna-Petrograd line and it is this army that has succeeded in capturing Kovno. The loss of Kovno is serious, as it is the protecting fortification of the railroad running from Warsaw through Vilna to the Russian capital. The possession of it by Germany endangers the whole new line upon which the Russians have planned to retire, namely, the Grodno-Litovsk line, the latter point being the greatest Russian storehouse of military supplies.

When Warsaw fell, comfort was taken from the belief that the Russians would at least be able to hold the Brest line indefinitely. A writer in the London Nation on July 31 said that the Brest line, "being shorter, can be held on their existing equipment of guns and munitions (soon to be much increased). On this point confidence is absolute." The Russians do not seem to have had a sufficient increase of munitions to stem the German advance at Kovno. Let us hope that the confidence of the Nation respecting their ability to hold the Brest-Grodno line is justified.

BRITISH NATIONAL DEBT.

Some interesting and enlightening information about the British national debt is contained in a recent issue of the London Economist, which prints a brief history of the debt since its institution in 1689 during the war against Louis XIV.

At the time it was created the permanent debt was criticized as "Dutch finance." Nine years after it amounted to £20,000,000, and the interest rate ran from 6 to 8 per cent.

The figures as commented on above are conveniently summarized by The Economist in a table:

Debt in 1775 (before American War), £128,583,000; 1783 (Peace of Versailles), £249,851,000; 1802 (Peace of Amiens), £520,207,000; 1816, £885,000,000; 1857, £836,000,000; 1899, £635,000,000; 1903, £798,000,000; 1914 (March 31), £707,000,000; 1915 (March 31), £1,165,802,000.

The Economist points out that "the whole of the debt-reduction that had been effected in eight recent years was in 1914 swept away by two months of war," and by "March 31, 1915, £458,000,000 had been added to the national debt, it being then £1,165,802,000. Between March 31 and June 19, another £184,000,000 was added to this total, giving £1,349,802,000 to be made good by receipts other than from revenue." The writer says further:

"To meet this deficit, the government had, up to June 19, borrowed £614,000,000. The November war loan produced £331,000,000; exchequer bonds were issued for £48,000,000, and treasury bills sold to the value of £235,000,000. Of the exchequer bonds, £16,500,000 have been paid off, leaving £597,500,000 as the net receipts from borrowings. But 'expenditure today,' said Mr. McKenna, on June 21, 'is very nearly £3,000,000 a day, and the expenditure is rising.' Revenue brings in £732,000 a day, so that there is a deficiency of £2,250,000 per day, which will grow as expenditure grows. Mr. Lloyd George put the deficit at the end of the year at £860,000,000, but it will be nearer £900,000,000. In other words, unless revenue is increased by taxation at the end of the financial year, the national debt will have grown from £1,165,802,000 to over £2,065,000,000; and the debt charge from £19,000,000 (exclusive of sinking fund) to nearly £90,000,000 per annum."

TWO VIEWS.

We present below two German views of the war. The first expresses the official view as expressed in the newspapers which are all controlled, it must be remembered, by the government. The second is the expression of a German soldier written in a letter to a Swiss professor.

The Cologne Gazette thus defends the sinking of the Lusitania: "It was necessity that drove us to pursue the submarine warfare. And for this reason we had to destroy the 'Lusitania' in order to save the lives of thousands of German soldiers. That was our holy duty. We base that deed on the claims of the higher humanity which is the foundation of every national life. What appeared inhuman to the Americans was, in our opinion, and in the higher sense, humanity. Also in the Christian sense every man must obey the authority which God has placed over him. National self-respect demands that a State shall not lay aside its holy duties, even if their fulfillment seems to involve harshness and cruelty. Would that the Americans could grasp this conception of humanity."

The German soldier wrote:

"The longing for peace is intense with us. At least with all those who are at the front, forced to kill and to be killed. The newspapers say that it is not possible to stem the warlike passion of the soldiers. They lie, knowingly or unknowingly. Our pastors deny that this passion is abating. You cannot think how indignant we are at such nonsense. Let them hold their tongues and not speak of things they do not understand. Or, rather, let them come here, not as chaplains in the rear, but in the line of fire, with arms in their hands. Perhaps then they will perceive the inner change which is going on in thousands of us. In the eyes of these persons a man who has no passion for war is unworthy of his age. But it seems to me that we who are faithfully doing our duty without enthusiasm for the war, and hating it from the bottom of our souls, are finer heroes than the others. They speak of a Holy War. I know of no Holy War. I only know one war, and that is the sum of everything that is inhuman, impious, and beastly in man, a visitation of God and a call to repentance to the people who rushed into it, or allowed themselves to be drawn into it. God has plunged men into this Hell in order to teach them to love Heaven. As for the German people, the war seems to be a chastisement and a call to contrition—addressed first of all to our German Church."

PRESS COMMENT.

The world today is passing through the Valley of the Shadow of Death. The war, unquestionably the greatest that has ever been fought, is primarily for an "elbow room." Germany has sixty-five million people cooped up in a country two-thirds the size of Quebec, where Canada has less than two millions. Her sons go abroad to seek their future and are lost to their native land, in one sense at any rate. Germany is fighting to get room for expansion under her own flag, and the greatest prize in the world, from her point of view, is unquestionably Canada. This war is as truly a war for Canada's independence, as if it were being fought along the shores of the St. Lawrence River. Instead of that, it is being fought three thousand miles away, and Canada is spared all the horrors of invasion under German auspices, now and for all time the last word in barbarity. The same beneficent fortune that has saved the Dominion from the horrors of invasion and pillage has also saved her from the awful disasters that periodically ravage the United States and other countries. Canada has had nothing approaching the severity of the storms that sweep across the Gulf of Mexico and devastate Galveston, for example. She is practically immune from the convulsions of nature which from time to time afflict other parts of the world. It is in no boasting spirit, but with the utmost reverence and thankfulness, that these things are pointed out. The Dominion has much for which to be thankful. She has been a favorite of fortune all along, and has been enabled to work out her destiny for the most part in peace. It would be ungracious not to mention two factors that have helped: a most excellent and honorable neighbor and, not less important, the greatest Navy the world has ever known.—Montreal News.

Two years ago Bulgaria and Serbia were the bitterest enemies. No charges made against the conduct of the Germans in Belgium could approach in horror those made by these two people against each other. The fury of their wrath was all the greater because they had been comrades in arms a year before. Since the beginning of the European war found them still enemies it is hardly to be expected that they would easily agree on terms of a new alliance against an enemy whom neither dislikes as much as they dislike each other. Bulgaria is ready to join if Serbia will give up to her all that she fought and beat Bulgaria for two years ago. Serbia is not in the same position to make or refuse terms, for she is already in the war. She is willing to concede a large part of Bulgaria's demands and take her compensation from Austria later. But it is not surprising that she should refuse a complete surrender.—Regina Province.

Try cooking your breakfast bacon on a pie tin in the oven. This does away with all smoke and burn grease smell in the kitchen, and the bacon is uniformly crisp. It may be cooked two layers deep if you will turn it once while cooking. One layer needs no turning. The fat from this is white and can be used for all baking. With half the amount of butter it is good even with cakes.—Washington Herald.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

FATAL ACCIDENT AT ROSS RIFLE FACTORY

EMILE THERRIEN SHOT AND KILLED WHILE SITTING BEHIND RIFLE TARGET.

A fatal accident occurred at the Ross Rifle Factory shortly before noon on Saturday when Emile Therrien, an employee, was shot and instantly killed while sitting behind the small 65 yard rifle range near the Martello Tower.

The deceased, who had been working in the factory for a month past, evidently did not know the danger he was incurring when he wandered about in the vicinity of the target. Rifles were being tested at the time and the first intimation that the marksmen had of Therrien's presence in the danger zone was when he threw up his arms as the bullet struck him.

When the man was picked up life was extinct. The bullet had pierced his body, killing him instantly.

The victim, who was eighteen years old, belonged to St. Jean, Island of Orleans, where his father still resides. He was a brother of Mr. Elzear Therrien, Secretary of the Provincial Department of Public Works.

An autopsy will be held on the remains this morning followed by the Coroner's Inquest.

If you are drinking imported lagers, you are doing so from prejudice, because, as far as quality is concerned, the finest of them are no better than B. B. Lager, made in Quebec. Circulate your money in Canada and help Canadians.

FIRE AT LAC SERGENT.

Damage to the extent of about $2,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed the barns and stables of Mrs. Paquet of Lac Sargent, Saturday morning. Quite an amount of new cut hay was burned while the cattle had a narrow escape from destruction. It is said that the loss is partially covered by insurance.

MERITED PROMOTION.

The many friends of Colonel and Mrs. Geo. Rolt White, will be pleased to hear that their son, Basil C. White, has been promoted to the rank of Lt.-Col., Canadian Overseas Expeditionary Forces.

Lieut.-Col. B. C. White is senior Ordnance Officer, C.E.F., at Ashford, Kent, Eng., near Shorncliffe, the headquarters of the Canadian Ordnance Depot.

DEATH OF VETERAN M. P.

Mr. William Abraham, Nationalist M.P., for the Harbour Division of Dublin, died at his residence in London the other day. He was seventy-five and had been a member of the House of Commons for thirty years.

A Congregationalist, he, strangely enough, represented in succession three of the most Roman Catholic constituencies in Ireland—West Limerick, North-east Cork, and the Harbour Division. He was treasurer of the Irish Party. In his early days he was actively identified with the Irish land agitation, and was imprisoned as a political suspect.

GRANDE ALLEE GARDENS.

John Barrymore as "The Dictator," Scores Another Tremendous Screen Triumph, Monday and Tuesday.

Continuing its policy so amply established in the past, of producing only the more noted dramatic and literary successes of the day, the Famous Players Film Company presents as the latest paramount release, John Barrymore, the most refined comedian on the screen, in a photo adaptation of the celebrated adventurous romance, "The Dictator," by Richard Harding Davis.

The central character of this famous comedy drama is Brooke Travers, a young American, who is forced by existing and exciting circumstances to become temporarily the dictator of a small republic in South America, and who in so doing becomes the hero of many momentous situations, some comic and some very serious indeed, from all of which he emerges the victor, through the aid of his clever wit and never failing audacity, and is finally rescued by a kindly fate in the substantial guise of an American battleship.

Other good reels will also be shown.

DAMAGING FIRE AT MANOIR RICHELIEU

MURRAY BAY HOTEL IS DAMAGED BY BLAZE IN ANNEX.

(Special to the Chronicle).

Manoir Richelieu, Murray Bay, Aug. 22.—At four thirty Saturday morning a fire broke out in the west wing of the hotel Manoir Richelieu, completely destroying the laundry, the bell boys' dormitory, the ice house and the engine house. Owing to the strenuous efforts of the employees who were very effectively aided by many of the guests the fire was confined to the western annex and the main building practically undamaged except by water. The best of discipline was maintained, everyone was systematically warned to dress and pack their effects as it was expected the entire hotel would be destroyed. The greatest praise is given the manager and employees who left their own effects and did everything in their power to aid the guests and to prevent the fire from spreading. In many cases they lost their entire seasons earnings and personal property. As the heating plant was put out of commission and laundry completely destroyed the guests were reluctantly compelled to seek other quarters some going to other Murray Bay resorts and others returning to their homes.

Loss Is Serious.

The fact that the Manoir Richelieu will have to close down for the remainder of the season will be a serious loss, not only to Murray Bay but to Quebec as well. Most of the guests of the hotel arrived in Quebec yesterday, many of them going right through while others stayed over at the Chateau Frontenac. The boats which arrived from Montreal Saturday and Sunday carried a large number of American tourists who were on their way to Murray Bay. All these remained over here, and last night the Chateau had probably a larger number of guests than at any other time this summer.

Before leaving Murray Bay the guests of the Manoir Richelieu made a collection for the Bell Boys who had lost their summer earnings in the fire. A sum of $400 was taken up and distributed amongst the boys.

THE MAN TO AVOID.

"What sort of a billiard game do you play?"
"Well," he replied suspiciously, "I can usually hold my own with any ordinary player, except the man who hasn't had a cue in his hands for three years."—Detroit Free Press.

REGATTA WAS HELD AT LAC SERGENT

YESTERDAY'S RAIN DID NOT INTERFERE WITH NAUTICAL CLUB'S EVENTS.

Despite the heavy rain of yesterday, the first annual regatta of the Nautica Club of Lac Sargent was held at the latter place yesterday before a large crowd of spectators.

The different events on the programme were closely contested and competition was keen throughout.

The Judges, Messrs. F. Gingras, E. A. Chouinard and Art. Hamel acquitted themselves of their tasks in a first class manner.

Mr. W. Doyle acted as starter. Capt. Laliberte led the prize winners, while Yves Tessier was the swimming race after going a dead heat with E. Bruneau. A list of the winners will be published later.

VICTORIA CLUB BOUTS.

Big Demand for Ringside Seats for Next Wednesday's Bouts.

Billy Jacobs will probably arrive shortly with K. C. Eggers who is scheduled to meet Frankie Conley before the Victoria Club, Wednesday evening. Conley is anxious to have another whirl with Eggers who got the decision over him the last time. McCarthy and Kramer are in the best of condition for their contest while Spike Sullivan and Horace Jones have a host of followers who believe in their abilities.

Ringside seats are going fast but there are still some left which may be had at the Victoria Hotel.

COMING PRESENTATION.

Captain L. R. Demers, of the steamer "Quebec," who has recently resigned his command of that vessel, has left on a trip to the West where he will visit Duluth, Winnipeg, Chicago and other cities.

It had been intended that the officers and crew of the steamer should make the captain a presentation before his departure but as he left earlier than had been expected, this was impossible. The presentation, however, will be made on his return when the officers will present him with a handsome photo of the ship and the men with a travelling toilet bag.

THE WINGS OF TIME.

"Mamma," said little Tommy as he closed the big book, "what are the 'wings of time?'"
"The 'wings of time,' my son," replied his mother in loud tones, "are the faded wings I have been wearing on my hat for three seasons."
And then he coughed uneasily and told Tommy if he did not stop asking foolish questions he would send him to bed.

SHAMROCKS WON THIS ONE.

THE FORTY IMMORTALS.

Origin and Checkered Career of the French Academy.

The Institute of France had its inception in 1570, when there was founded in Paris by the French poet, Antoine de Baif, a literary and musical society, known as the Academy of the Valois. Charles IX, granted it letters patent on Nov. 20, 1570, as the Academy of Poetry and Music. It had, however, no stability. Attacked upon every occasion and criticised by its opponents, its members ceased to meet after 1584. Almost half a century passed before a revival took place.

For some time, since the year 1629, a small circle of enthusiastic students was wont to meet at each other's homes for the study of French language and literature. From year to year its membership increased, and in 1634 Cardinal Richelieu proposed to the society to have their private status changed into a public institution, with many rights and privileges. Upon agreement by the society it was henceforth known as the French Academy, with a charter from Louis XIII, of January, 1635. It consisted then of forty members, the "forty immortals," and at no time and under no pressure whatsoever has this number been increased.

True it is, also, that here royal prerogative and personal intrigue often added an inferior member, while the far superior remained excluded, for whom popular indignation created the world known "forty-first seat." For a century and a half the academy held stated meetings until Aug. 5, 1793.—Argonaut.

EXCHANGES OF COURTESIES.

One of the keenest journalists and wits, Moritz Gottlieb Saphir, had the better of the irate stranger against whom he ran by accident at the corner of a street in Munich. "Beast!" cried the offended person without waiting for an apology. "Thank you," said the journalist, "and mine is Saphir."

BASEBALL GAMES WERE POSUPONED

MOST ATTRACTIVE CONTESTS OF THE SEASON CALLED OFF ACCOUNT OF RAIN.

Farmers may pray for rain for various reasons, electric power companies may also invoke a down-pour to relieve the lack of water to operate their plants but no baseball player ever prays for rain; no baseball fan ever does either, and we don't believe that even the long-suffering umpires offer up any supplications to Jupiter Pluvius asking him to open up the floodgates.

What promised to be the most interesting double-header of the season, the first game between C. B. and Patricia and the second between St. Patrick's and Emmets, had to be called off due to the steady down-pour of yesterday.

Harry Bowen and Harry Ledden, the umpires were on hand and though the weather looked threatening it was not thought that anything more than showers would result, but the rain first coming down steadily and the first game was abandoned. Perceiving that it was an all-afternoon affair, the second fixture was also declared off and a couple of hundred fans who were on hand very early went home with their rain-checks and heavy hearts.

Secretary Lepine of the City League wishes to inform those possessing rain checks No. 13 (No wonder it rained) issued yesterday may use these at the next regular league game.

ROVERS LOST TO THE 8TH TEAM

ROVERS WERE WEAKENED BY ABSENCE OF SEVERAL REGULAR PLAYERS.

While neither the 8th R. R. or the Rovers football teams were at full strength, Saturday last, the Soldiers were the strongest and won out by four goals to nil.

The Rovers, handicapped by the absence of a regular goal tend and several other players played a remarkably good defensive game and the score is not a strictly fair indication of the play as two of the Eighth's goals were shot from the centre of the field while another was the result of a penalty awarded because the referee had not been informed of a change in goal-keepers and was not aware that the man who handled the ball in stopping a shot had been placed in goal.

However, the 8th R. R. were unquestionably the best team and deserved their victory all the way. The Soldiers started out with nine men against ten and scored the first goal playing thus, Barret doing the trick. Brown next shot a long one from center which counted and the half ended 2-0 for the 8th R. R.

Jordan made some fine saves and clears for the 8th shortly after the second half began. Rose got away with a nice rush and shot from away out, the goalkeeper misjudging the drive and the 8th were 3 up. About ten minutes later a penalty was awarded and Edwards converted. No further scoring resulted, the game ending 4-0 for 8th R. R.

Smith, Maguire and McGraw played great football for the losers and it was only hard luck which prevented the latter from scoring.

Brown, Barret and Rose were the pick of the winners, who all played strong games.

The teams:
8th R. R.—Goal, Jordan; Backs, Horlock, Hughes; Halves, Mallen, Pope and Prince; Forwards, Barret, Edwards, Brown, Rose and Chisnell.
Rovers—Goal, Hutchison; Backs, Dieroff and Smith; Halves, Taylor, Maguire, McQuadie; Forwards, Bennett, Robertson, McGraw, Donohue, O'Hara.
Referee—Sergeant Thomson, R.C.E.
Linesmen—Gr. Merritt and A. N. Otter.

Earl Cooper was second. His time was 3:57.29.

LA TUQUE MATCH WAS NOT FINISHED

QUEBEC LED BY THREE TO TWO — RAIN PREVENTED GOOD DOUBLES MATCH.

The lawn tennis match between Quebec and La Tuque could not be brought to a decisive issue as rain prevented the playing of the last event which was to have taken place on the grounds of the Lieut-Governor at Spencer Wood. This was a pity as the general opinion was that this event, a doubles in which Tessier and Jones of Quebec were to have met Brown and Bradley of La Tuque, would have proved the most interesting contest of all.

Five matches out of the six scheduled were played off, the result being that Quebec led with a score of three to two, the home team winning three singles and losing one single and a double.

The singles between Tessier and Brown was responsible for some of the best tennis of the afternoon and for a good while it was touch and go between the two. Brown's steady work and wonderful placing won him the first set comparatively easily, but the visiting captain made the mistake of slowing up a little in the second and failed to press his advantage home. Tessier was not slow to notice this and gradually forged ahead, overcoming his opponent's lead and winning the match by taking the next two sets. It was a fine match and both men showed up well.

A feature of the afternoon was the brilliant playing of Perodeau who defeated Higgins and made some of the prettiest shots of the afternoon. Higgins is always a strong antagonist, as his previous matches with Jones, the Quebec crack, have proved, and the fact that Perodeau beat him well justifies the latter's selection on the Quebec team.

De Carteret of La Tuque again took Osborne's measure, being the only visitor to win a singles event.

Bradley of La Tuque put up a hard game against Jones and his usual aggressiveness was the means of winning him the second set after the Quebec man had taken the first. However, Jones' characteristic steadiness again served him well and brought him out victor in the end. Only one of the two doubles on the programme was played and in this Higgins and de Carteret beat Perodeau and Osborne. The match was pretty even for a time and although the La Tuque men took the first set the Quebecers came back strong in the second. The effort, however, was in vain as La Tuque won the next two.

BOXING TONIGHT.

Three Ten Round Bouts Scheduled for Princess This Evening.

Matchmakers Billy Benson and Doughney of the Quebec Sports Association arrived in town yesterday with Kid Herman, Silas Green and Bill Brown three of the principals in tonight's bouts at the Princess Theatre.

Johnny Schiff, Pacific Coast featherweight champion will be up against Kid Herman, Brown and Green will furnish a heavy-weight attraction and Montminy and Joe Paquet will box ten rounds in the lightweight class.

The evening's programme looks alluring and three fast bouts should furnish enough excitement for the big crowd expected to attend.

QUEBEC HORSE WINS AT DORVAL MEET

AULSBROOK, OWNED BY ALEX BASTIEN, OF LORETTE CAPTURED CLASSIFIED TROT.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—Frank Bogash won the free-for-all, the event of chief interest at the Grand Circuit races at Dorval on Saturday afternoon, in straight heats. Not only did he justify his having been favorite in the pools by winning, but he stepped the last heat in 2:04 without much apparent effort. Hal S. won the 2:15 pace event in straight heats, doing the second heat in 2:06 3-4. The 2:05 pace was won by R. H. Brett, also in straight heats.

Naturally the special classified trot for local horses was of great interest. Aulsbrook was victorious, but lost the first two heats, when driven by his owner, Alex Bastien. The officials put D. Valentine up, then Aulsbrook went out and landed the next three heats.

"The Patriot of France"

DEPARTURE FOR THE FRONT.

The "Patriot of France," or The Ordeal will be represented in front of the Grand Stand on September the 1st, at 8 o'clock.

5 ACTS — 350 SCENES

Adapted to the Screen from the Famous Poem "The Ordeal" with an All-Star Cast.

The Scenes throughout this Masterpiece are, without a doubt, the finest ever filmed.

DON'T MISS THIS WONDERFUL PHOTO PLAY
SHOWING HOW RUTHLESSLY THE GERMANS MAKE WAR.

The programme prepared for the instruction and amusement of the public at the Exhibition of 1915 surpasses in splendor and variety all that has been seen up to now. Nothing was spared to secure the best acrobats and equilibrists on the continent. Nothing was spared particularly to give the public as vivid an idea as possible of the war.

Grand War Museum

The War Museum of the Exhibition will be unique. It will comprise several machine guns of which one was taken from the Germans by the French; some fifty odd German officers' helmets; a flag taken from the Germans; numerous shells (75 French and 77 German) taken on the battlefields; samples of all shells manufactured in Canada for the Allies; uniforms of all the Allies; German and other bayonets; a balloon which has seen service in the war; several English, French and German uniforms which have been perforated by bullets or stained with blood; a great number of ancient and modern weapons of war, and more than three hundred other articles coming from the theatre of war.

The Midway

The Midway in 1915 will be twice as large as that of the preceding year. It will comprise fifteen different circuses, of which the principal are: The Great Circus of wild beasts, the great circus of dogs and ponies, the great circus of the illusion of creation. Let us mention besides the troupe of divers, the circus of reptiles, the Ferris Wheel, the Ocean Wave, etc., etc.

Sensational Vaudeville

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE.

Quebec Business and Professional Men Are "Doing Their Bit."

A number of professional and business men in Quebec offered their services to the Government Inspection Department in the hope that they might be of use in expediting the output of the much needed ammunition.

Some thirty or forty have now started work at the Cove Fields in the evenings.

It appears that both in the case of the inspection of small arms ammunition and in that of the work connected with the preparation of shell for proof and their examination after firing, the regular employees are working up to the limit possible. A little more was still desired although not enough to call for night shifts. This extra is supplied by these volunteers, who work three hours each night, except Saturday and Sunday. They are arranged in two reliefs so that each man works five evenings a fortnight.

In the small arms ammunition section the automatic weighting and gauging machines are run so that a very substantial addition is made to the number of cartridges passed inspection weekly.

In connection with the preparation of shell for proof we understand, that by the assistance offered, the Inspection Department is enabled to deal with the late arrivals of shell and so have them proved the following morning, resulting in the case of these late arrivals a saving of a day in getting the proof results telegraphed to the manufacturers, and promptness of results is a matter of vital importance to them.

It is not generally understood that although the Inspection Department have their inspectors in all shops throughout Canada, which are supplying shell, or other munitions, such as field gun cartridge cases, cordite, etc., and while these inspectors examine every shell, and under local arrangements of the department have the physical tests carried out, a sample shell from each series (of from 100 to 200 shells) is selected by the local inspector, and sent to Quebec for firing proof. These, numbering several hundred daily, are re-examined at headquarters, measured up by micrometer, made up into cartridges, and fired at the department's range at Valcartier the following day. They are recovered the same day, taken to Quebec by motor trucks, and examined that night or early the following morning, when all firms are notified by telegram of the results.

In offering their aid towards expediting this work, these gentlemen are offering that which the Inspection Department, we are assured, was most glad to take advantage of, and which is proving of great value.

BLUFFED THE LION.

A Big Game Hunter Who Tested His Theory and Won.

In the American Magazine Stewart Edward White tells how in South Africa he bluffed a wounded lion and made him run away.

"Now, I am perfectly aware that a wounded lion always charges. Exceptions are so rare as only to prove the rule. But I have always cherished a theory that even a wounded lion can be bluffed out, provided the man does the charging first, before the beast can gather his faculties. Here was a heaven given opportunity to try that out.

"So I took the 405, stepped out from our sapling, walked steadily toward him.

"If I had stood still in his sight for the instant necessary for him to see what I was, he would have come on, for he was hurt and hungry. But he had not that instant. Holding my rifle ready for immediate action, I advanced on him at an even gait. He saw me at once, and fixed on me his great yellow eyes.

"He sat thus absolutely still while I covered about half the distance between us. In my mind I had fixed upon a certain little bush twenty yards or so from the lion as the point at which I should begin to shoot. When I still had half a dozen yards to go the intensity of his gaze broke. He began to act exactly as a dog does when he is embarrassed, glancing down, right and left. At twenty-five yards the pressure became too great. He suddenly turned and bolted. And I missed a hasty shot at him as he ran."

SHORT LIFE OF BIG GUNS.

Every Time a Rifle is Fired Some of Its Bore is Worn Away.

The life of the gun, so far as its absolute destruction by bursting is concerned, is practically unlimited, but not so its accuracy life. Every time a gun is fired some of the interior surface of its bore and delicate rifling are wiped away, and a certain degree of its accuracy is lost.

This is true of the shoulder rifle, with its bore so small that it would not much more than admit a lead pencil, no less than of the great sixteen-inch siege gun and the other grades of artillery-pieces.

Fortunately for the infantryman, the wear on the bore of the shoulder rifle is much slower, as the wearing out of the bore decreases rapidly with a decrease in the size of the bore. Erosion, as it is called by the artillerymen, is greatest in the large guns and least in the 30 rifle.

SHIPPING NEWS

R.M.S. SCANDINAVIAN MAKES GOOD TIME

ALLAN LINE VESSEL ARRIVED
HERE SATURDAY—A HEAVY MAIL.

Besides her 284 passengers and a general cargo the R.M.S. Scandinavian, of the Allan Line, which arrived here Saturday night and docked at her berth at the Breakwater at 9.30 o'clock, brought 2,132 sacks of Canadian mail, 279 packages for Canada, 79 packages from China and Japan, 57 bags of mail and 198 packages for the Maritime Provinces.

The Scandinavian, considering the precautions that are taken since the outbreak of the war, made a fast voyage, coming from Liverpool in eight days.

Commander J. M. Reith announced that they were favored by exceptionally nice weather during most of the voyage.

HONG KONG HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS.

The first step looking toward the ultimate improvement of the harbor of Hong Kong along modern lines by governmental agency has been taken in the action of the legislative council of Hong Kong in appropriating a small sum for dredging a portion of the harbor for a 30-foot approach to and berths alongside of a new wharf to be erected by a private corporation, which owns and controls the only modern wharf accommodation in Hong Kong. About two years ago this company proposed to construct a new wharf for accommodation of vessels up to 650 feet in length and corresponding draft, but found that the approaches to their property would not admit of the berthing of vessels with over 28 feet draft. The matter was taken up with the Colonial government at the time and was referred to the Home government (London). As a result of the negotiations the Colonial government has agreed to dredge two berths alongside the proposed wharf to a depth of 30 feet at the very lowest of the spring tides, and to dredge 231,600 square yards of harbor as approach thereto. The work will be done by a government dredger which formerly was employed in the construction of the large typhoon shelter in the harbor.

The work is of importance chiefly in that it is the first work of the sort undertaken by the government in this one of the greatest shipping ports of the world. For several years there had been considerable agitation in British shipping and governmental circles in the Far East as to the necessity of improving portions of the harbor of Hong Kong, not only in the way of construction of modern wharfs and warehouses in addition to those now existing as the property of a private concern, but also in the way of deepening portions of the harbor which have been silted up somewhat and which otherwise can not properly handle the largest ships coming into the harbor, which it may be well to add, are American and have to do directly with the cheap handling of American flour and other freight.

OUR BRIGHT BLUE SUN.

It is the Air or Moisture That Makes It Look White or Red.

There is a general belief that sunlight is white and therefore that the sun is white. But this is a long way from the real condition of things. The sun is a bright blue, as blue in color as seems the water of a deep mountain lake. It is the air that makes the sun seem white.

Everybody has noticed when the air is very foggy that the sun appears as a red ball, as red as a red-hot poker. Yet we know the sun hasn't changed at all. It is the mist in the air that makes the color seem different. And in the dawn and dusk, no matter how clear the air may be, the sun is much redder in color than when it is overhead in the middle of the day. The reason for this is that in the morning and evening, we see the sun through a thicker belt of air. It is this thicker air which makes it look redder, just as it is the fog which has the same effect. If the air were taken away entirely, then we should expect the sun to be still red. Since in the middle of the day the sun is white, how could it be less red? By being blue.

The atmosphere is really like a thick orange colored veil spread between the world and the bright blue sun. Like a veil it dims the light, and its color acts as a filter. Actually the air stops most of the blue rays, but lets nearly all the orange colored rays come through.

It has been quite definitely shown that if it were not for the orange colored veil of the air we could not live upon the earth today. Even as it is the actinic rays of sunlight give sunstroke in summer, and it is in the blue and violet rays that the damage is done. The air softens the sunlight enough for us to bear it.

A few million years hence the sun will be yellow, and already some of its earlier blue heat is gone. But for a million years ahead—"We should worry!"—New York American.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of THE CHRONICLE, August, 1885 and 1915.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Whirligig of Time.
Thirty years ago at this time there was much talk of an alliance between England and Turkey against our present ally, Russia. The London "Standard" urged the great importance of securing this alliance, and expressed the hope that Sir Henry Drummond Wolfe, who had been sent on a special mission to the Sultan would be successful in securing the greatly-desired alliance. On the other hand a despatch from Berlin declares that the Sultan and the Grand Vizier oppose an alliance of Turkey with England against Russia, thus the whirligig of 30 years time have brought about many changes.

The Unchangeable Prussian.

It is a commonplace today to read in our reviews and articles on the war, that the whole people of the German Empire have undergone a material change of nature during these last 30 or 40 years, from being a kindly, broadminded and peaceable people, they have been changed today into, what all the world knows, the most brutal nation known to history. This may be true of a great part of southern Germany, but of the real Prussian it is not true; he has always been and is the brutal barbarian. The Cologne Gazette, a leading Prussian paper, while refusing to discuss the expulsion of Mr. Rathen from Alsace-Lorraine, contends that Prussia has as much right to prevent a Frenchman from turning the heads of the Germans by talk of revanche as France has to prohibit a German from revisiting that country. The

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Abdication of Bonaparte.
After the great battle of Waterloo and the return of Bonaparte to Paris, his abdication was demanded. In the French House of Peers, the Minister of the Interior demanded to speak in the name of the Emperor.

Declaration to the French People.

Frenchmen:—In commencing war to support the independence of the nation, I calculated upon the co-operation of all the efforts and the wishes of the national authorities. I had reason to hope for success; and I have braved all the denunciations of the powers against me; circumstances are changed. I offer myself a sacrifice to the hatred of the enemies of France. May they be sincere in their declarations; and have no other designs than such as are directed against my person.

My Political Life Is Ended.

And I proclaim my son, under the title of Napoleon II, Emperor of the French. The existing ministers will form provisionally a Council of Government. The affection which I bear my son, induces me to invite the chambers without delay to organize a Regency, by law. Unite yourselves for the public safety, and preserve the independence of the nation.

Done at the Palace of Elysium,
22nd June, 1815.

(Signed), NAPOLEON.

Authenticated by Comte Boulay.

Cologne Gazette does not specify a single case wherein they make the latter charge.

MISCHIEF MAKER.

Now Strong and Robust.

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. An Eastern man says:

"When our baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but, in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment."

"One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonsful in half a cup of warm water for 5 or 6 minutes. Then poured off the liquid and to it added a like amount of rich milk and a little sugar. This baby ate ravenously."

"It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. Today the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen months old baby is expected to be."

"Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household."

Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not entirely the best in use. Being a scientific preparation of Nature's grains, it is equally effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups.

"There's a Reason."
