CANADIAN AND WORLD NEWS.

Stated Lord Rosebery and British Lords Will See Jeffries-Johnson Fight.

HAVE ARRANGED FOR SPECIAL TRAIN FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Cal., March 17. —(Special)—The Earl of Rosebery, former Premier of Great Britain, will head a party of British noblemen who will come here to see Jeffries-Johnson fight, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The party, it is said, have already arranged for a special train to carry them from New York to San Francisco, as well as for the ringside reservations.

New York, March 17.—(Special) — A London cable message states that the report of the year's work of the militant suffragette organization records that 294 women were arrested, of whom 163 were imprisoned. Hunger strikes to the number of 110 were carried out and pump feeding was resorted to on 36 occasions.

WRECK ON NEW YORK CENTRAL.

Rochester, N.Y., March 17.— A double collision, causing a wreck in which one man was killed, three injured and a Pullman passenger coach practically demolished, took place between five and six o'clock, yesterday morning on the New York Central elevated tracks at Hudson Ave bridge in this city, when West Shore passenger train No. 1023, the Buffalonian, ran into New York Central passenger train No. 29, the Buffalo & Toronto special, from the rear after the latter had encountered head-on, two light engines coming from the round house.

The question has been in dispute for several years, and was finally settled by the King of Italy, who acted as arbitrator.

ADDRESS FROM THRONE UNDER DISCUSSION.

Premier Says Pulpwood Question Would be Taken Up in House

OPPOSITION LEADER CONDEMNED THE SURPLUS AND SAID IT WAS SECURED AT EXPENSE OF PEOPLE.

Quebec, March 17.—Criticism on the address from the throne was begun yesterday evening in the Legislature by the leader of the Opposition, who did not congratulate the Government on much of its programme.

Mr. Tellier condemned the surplus and showed it was secured at the expense of the people of the province.

The address moving the adoption of the Speech from the Throne was delivered by the young representative from Kamouraska, Mr. Dupuis.

The seconder of the motion was M. J. Walsh, of Montreal, who emphasized the need of a public body like that of the Public Utilities Commission and declared it was destined to play an important part in the development of the province.

In the course of his address Mr. Tellier referred to the matter of pulp wood. He remarked that the Premier had said nothing of his policy in the Speech from the Throne, but had in a public declaration delivered in Montreal some time ago, practically adopted the policy of the Opposition, to have the pulp manufactured in Canada. It would have been better to have enlightened the House on such matters than to have mentioned the unimportant things which were in the official declaration from the Throne.

THE PREMIER REPLIES.

Sir Lomer Gouin, in reply, after dealing with the points raised by Mr. Tellier, said that as regards the wood pulp programme referred to, it was something in the interest of the province. What had been said at the Montreal banquet was not the last word to be expressed on the question, and the House would have the opportunity of studying the whole affair later.

Sir Lomer Gouin closed with a reference to the support the Government received from the people, which was based on benefits received by them.

MR. BOURASSA FOLLOWS.

Mr. Henri Bourassa followed and warned the Premier that winning elections was not always a sure sign of success. Mr. Bourassa blamed the Premier for giving information at the Windsor Hotel banquet on the home manufacture of pulpwood, which should have been announced in the House.

THE COMING STREET RY. VOTE.

Cirizens Will Probably Endorse By-Law.

WILL VOTE ON THE PRINCIPLE HOLDING COUNCIL RESPONSIBLE FOR THE DETAILS.

The vote on the Sherbrooke Street Railway by-law takes place on Monday. The indications are that it will be endorsed. The citizens will vote rather on the principle than on the particular features of the by-law.

They are in favor of an extended and improved street railway.

They hold the City Attorney, the Mayor and the Council responsible for the "technicalities" of the by-law. The citizens have had nothing to do with the drawing up of the by-law, they have not had an opportunity to vote upon it clause by clause. They expect that the City Council has safeguarded the city so far as the details of the by-law are concerned.

Col. E. B. Worthington, in his letter yesterday, pointed out one objectionable point, namely, the permission to extend the line through Victoria Park. The Record protested against this at the time of its discussion in the Council.

It was suggested that the line, if permitted in the Park at all, should be made to skirt the eastern boundary. Cars would thus reach a point near St. Michael's Cemetery, which would be a public convenience, would pass the golf links in continuing the belt line at the north of the park, and would not disturb the "sylvan glades," as would be the case if run directly through the park. If this should be shown to be the public desire the proposed route could probably be modified after the passing of the by-law.

It is to be hoped there will be a representative vote on Monday, as the question of street railway extension is one of great public importance.

It is understood that the East Ward is especially strong in its support of the by-law, believing that the two new loops will mean important developments there.

The opening up of the new section in the North Ward is, also, an interesting feature for this section of the city.

The South has its "loop," also, and the Centre has new lines, so that the general proposal of more lines and quicker service is a popular idea.

LIKELIHOOD OF TARIFF WAR.

Canadian Government Not Expected to Make Any Concessions

OPPOSITION IS DISPOSED TO SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT.

Ottawa, March 17.—The likelihood of a tariff war with the United States, consequent upon the alleged intention of that country to impose the maximum tariff provisions of the Payne tariff law after March 31, as a result of the so-called discrimination of the Franco-Canadian trade convention, has aroused much comment here. The Opposition is disposed to support the Government and not grant one iota of concession. It is felt here that the United States, by the inspired despatches, is merely putting up a gigantic bluff. The concensus of opinion here on both sides is that the United States has everything to lose and nothing to gain by a trade battle with Canada.

NO NEGOTIATIONS REGARDING TARIFF.

Washington, March 17.—The negotiations regarding the tariff of Canada remain unchanged. The Dominion officials have steadily declined to make any concessions whatever in favor of the United States. They say that the American tariff is very much higher than that of Canada, and for the United States to insist that it is entitled to the same rates as have been given France and other countries would be an unwarranted challenge of their treaty-making rights. It is known that the President has indicated his purpose to allow the maximum rate to go into operation on the 31st of the present month in case Canada persists in her present course.

NO ALLUSION WAS MADE TO PULPWOOD.

Legislature May Leave Question to Federal Government.

RESTRICTION OF CUTTING PULPWOOD VERY IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Montreal, March 17.—(Special) — Contrary to general expectation, no allusion was made in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Quebec Provincial Legislature to legislation restricting the cutting of pulp wood on Crown lands in this Province. This is taken to mean that the Province has decided to leave the matter of restricting the export of wood pulp and pulp wood to the Dominion Government.

EAST WARD RESIDENTS ARE SATISFIED.

City Did Wisely in Dealing With Aylmer Bridge matter.

EXPENSE OF CONSTRUCTING TWO BRIDGES AT ONCE WOULD HAVE BEEN TOO GREAT.

A rumor has been afloat during the past few days that the citizens of the East Ward were far from satisfied with the treatment accorded their petition for a new bridge across the St. Francis. It was argued that their representatives in the City Council should have put up a bigger fight on behalf of this petition than they did.

Mr. F. H. Hebert, in speaking of the bridge question, stated yesterday that for the time being no further steps would be taken. He said that he was satisfied that the Council did very wisely in putting the question aside until a later date. When the petitioners discovered that the City was bound by contract to carry out the work of constructing the saw mill bridge, the citizens of the East Ward were satisfied that it would not be wise for the City to construct two bridges at once. Mr. Hebert stated that if he had been an alderman he would have done the same as the Council did.

The citizens of the East Ward were still desirous of having a bridge, but under the circumstances they were willing to wait a while longer.

Mr. S. Fortier stated that the majority of the ratepayers in the East Ward were satisfied at the way in which the bridge question was being dealt with. There was every prospect of its being built in a few years and at present the Aylmer bridge would fill the bill. He was of the opinion that no further steps would be taken in this connection for a few years.

Mr. V. E. Archambault stated that the question of a new bridge to replace the Aylmer bridge would be dropped for the present. He was in favor of a new bridge being built lower down the river. In his estimation the East Ward should be as well supplied with bridges as the Centre and North Wards, which border on the Magog River. If the City were to extend east of the St. Francis river, it was very necessary that better bridge connections should be had. Mr. Archambault said that it had been previously stated that the erection of a bridge lower down the river would draw custom from the East Ward merchants. He did not fear any serious loss of trade through the erection of such a bridge.

In Mr. Archambault's opinion there was one thing that the East Ward wanted and wanted badly, and that was gas. They had petitioned the Council some time ago in this connection, but nothing was done. He did not think it was fair not to furnish gas to the East Ward.

A number of other citizens of the East Ward were of the same opinion as the above mentioned. A few, however, maintained that the proposed changes of bridges should have taken place last fall.

Ald. Philip Desaulniers, one of the East Ward representatives, stated yesterday that although the matter was being dropped for the time being it was not lost sight of. Estimates of the cost of erecting a suitable bridge would be secured, so that all would be in readiness when the question was brought up in the Council at a later date.

GERMANY'S GREAT AIR CRUISER.

ONE IS BEING BUILT THAT WILL CARRY 60 PERSONS.

Trier, Germany, March 17. —(Special)—An immense air cruiser to carry from fifty to sixty persons, and intended to travel at from 41 to 50 miles an hour, is approaching completion here, and will be launched early this spring by its inventor, Anton Bisor, an engineer of this city. It introduces an entirely new departure in the construction of airships, as it is built of iron. It is to be named the Trier, after the town where it was built.

The skeleton of the balloon is formed of rolled iron piping. The central hollow iron shaft is 410 feet in length.

The gas is contained in twelve ring balloonets, in the same manner as in the Zeppelin craft. These balloonets are just over 27 feet long, by nearly 40 feet in diameter, and they lie end to end along the body of the airship.

The vessel is provided with no fewer than five motors, developing altogether 480 horsepower. The propeller is fitted at the bows. It is estimated that these powerful motors will give the vessel a speed of at least 50 miles an hour.

The entire weight of framework, motors and equipment is 30 tons.

AN IRISH POET'S TRIBUTE TO THE PATRIOTISM OF THE IRISHMAN.

THE IRISHMAN.

The savage loves his native shore,
Through rude the soil and chill the air;
Then well may Erin's sons adore
Their isle, which nature formed so fair.
What flood reflects a shore so sweet,
As Shannon sweet, or pastoral Bann?
Or who a friend or foe can meet
So generous as an Irishman?

His hand is rash, his heart is warm,
But honesty is still his guide;
None more repents a deed of harm,
And none forgives with nobler pride;
He may be duped, but won't be dared—
More fit to practice than to plan;
He dearly loves his poor reward,
And spends it like an Irishman.

If strange or poor, for you he'll pay
And guide you where you safe may be;
If you're his guest, while e'er you stay
His cottage holds a jubilee.
His inmost soul he will unlock,
And if he may your secrets scan,
Your confidence he scorns to mock,
For faithful is an Irishman.

By honor bound in woe or weal,
Whate'er she bids he dares to do;
Try him with bribes—they won't prevail;
Prove him in fire—you'll find him true.
He seeks not safety, let his post
Be where it ought—in danger's van;
And if the field of fame be lost,
It won't be by an Irishman!

—James Orr.

How time flies! And this is St. Patrick's Day again. Judging by the prominence of the green ribbon, Sherbrooke's population is about two thirds Irish.

The religious festival of the day was observed by high mass at St. Patrick's Church this morning. There will be a concert this evening, at which an oration will be a prominent feature, also an entertainment by the Irish pupils of St. Charles Seminary.

While the birthplace of St. Patrick has always been a matter of dispute, and he is claimed by nearly as many countries as those which now celebrate his memory, it is certain that he belonged to the Irish branch of the Celtic race. He spoke only Gaelic, or the Irish tongue, and probably to this may be attributed his success in the conversion of Ireland.

Born about the year 372, he was carried off by pirates when only sixteen years of age, sold to an Irish chief named Miltho, and taken by him to his home in the north of Ireland, in the district now known as the County Antrim, where he was employed as a shepherd. Escaping from captivity, he managed to reach the Continent, where after some years, he was made a bishop, and having, as he believed, received a command from God to preach the Gospel in the land of his captivity, he determined to devote himself to a missionary life. He was authorized to return to Ireland by Pope Celestine, and in the year 432, with a few disciples, St. Patrick landed on the shores of County Down. This was the beginning of the great Christianizing movement that spread throughout Ireland and was so remarkable as to earn for the country the title of "The Isle of Saints."

It was St. Patrick who first used the little shamrock as a symbol of the Holy Trinity, when engaged in converting Ireland from Paganism to Christianity. It is well known that the trefoil bears three leaves on one stem, and it is a curious coincidence that in Arabic it is called "shamrakh," and was held sacred in Iran as emblematical of the Persian Triads.

However that may be, its symbolical significance has been handed down through the centuries, and the "wearing of the green" has become the accepted sign of Ireland's nationality.

PRIEST AT RICHMOND FOR 46 YEARS.

REV. FATHER QUINN CELEBRATING THAT EVENT AND BIRTHDAY TO-DAY.

Richmond, March 17.—(Special) — Rev. Father Quinn is celebrating his birthday to-day, also his 46th year as pastor of St. Bibiane Church, Richmond. Wednesday afternoon the pupils of St. Patrick's Convent gave a very pleasant concert in their hall, which consisted of choruses, recitations, etc., in honor of the occasion. Little Miss Mildred Largee, on behalf of the pupils, presented Father Quinn with a beautiful bouquet of roses. Father Quinn in a few well chosen words thanked the pupils for their kind gift and wishes.

COST OF DAM AT COATICOOK.

Occasioned Considerable Talk Among the Ratepayers.

SOME $2,400 WAS SPENT OVER CONTRACT PRICE TO SECURE SOLID FOUNDATION.

Coaticook, March 17. —(Special)— There has been quite a tempest in a teapot in connection with the cost of the new dam in Coaticook. The original contract was for some 85,900 based on there being so many cubic feet of masonry. It was not known at the time the contract was let how deep it would be necessary to go in the bed of the river or into its sides in order to secure a firm foundation for the dam. Hence a provision in the contract that any extra number of cubic feet would be paid for at the same rate. When the Council came to pay for the dam there was some $2,400 extra. This occasioned quite a little surprise and much more talk on the part of the ratepayers. Some time after the settlement it became known that the top of the dam had been made thicker than the contract called for. This gave rise to renewed talk and rumors. The talk around town was that the increased thickening of the top of the dam brought practically all profit to the contractor owing to the facility with which the work was done there compared with the work in other parts. And so the talk continued until it was brought to the attention of Superintendent Davis by Alderman Gendreau, chairman of the Finance Committee. He asked the superintendent for a detailed statement as to the extra work done on the dam. This has now been furnished and shows that the height of the dam according to plan was to be 30 feet, whereas, as completed it was actually thirty-five feet. The average thickness per plan was 14 feet 6 inches. The average thickness as built was 15 feet 10 inches. He apportions the $2400 extra cost of the dam and in his statement shows that the thickening of the face of the dam cost the town less than $700.

And now there are a good many people around town who are forced to admit that in stating that increasing the thickness of the dam had cost the town $2400, and in insinuating that this had been done through collusion, conspiracy, etc., they did injustice to the persons whom they hinted at being in the so-called plot.

LICENSE SITUATION AT LAKE MEGANTIC.

People Will Decide on Tuesday, March 29th.

LIQUOR AND TEMPERANCE PARTIES HAVING KEEN FIGHT OVER LICENSE QUESTION.

Lake Megantic, March 17.—(Special)—Never in the history of Lake Megantic has such a fight been waged as is now going on between the liquor interests and the temperance party.

The abolition of the liquor traffic is the battle cry of the temperance people of Megantic.

Some time ago the license question came up before the Council in the form of a petition from a number of the ratepayers, asking that the granting of licenses be left to a vote of the people. The Council was favorable to this, and March 29th was set as the day for the voting.

From the date of that meeting the fight was on. Both sides were determined to win out, and with the voting day not far distant the excitement has reached fever height.

Mr. John H. Roberts, Provincial Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, will address a meeting here to-night. The Alliance is backing the temperance cause in Megantic. Mr. Roberts will likely remain here until the fight is over.

Mgr. Paul Eugene Roy, assistant Bishop of Quebec, was here last Sunday and gave a powerful temperance address. He will return on Friday night and will again speak in support of the cause. He will be accompanied by several members of the clergy from Beauce County.

Rev. Father J. E. Choquette is taking a very active part in the work and is being loyally supported by the clergymen of other denominations as well as by the members of his congregation.

A few years ago the Council of Lake Megantic refused to grant licenses. It was unfortunate, however, that at that time the village of Agnes was separate from Megantic, and the Agnes Council granted a license. Although Megantic was dry, the Agnes bars supplied liquor. Now that both villages are joined, it means that when licenses are cancelled in one they are in the other.

It is expected that the vote will result in an overwhelming victory for temperance.

Lake Megantic, March 17.—(Special)—The opinion of Mr. J. E. Bedard, advocate, Quebec, was asked as to who had the right to vote on the by-law which is to be submitted to the people on the 29th of March next as to the license question. He CHRISTIAN MISSION TO THE JEWS.

Dunham, March 17. — (Special) — The lecture given in the Village Hall by the Rev. D. J. Neugewirtz, the head of the Christian Missions to the Jews, elicited the fact that it would be doubtless be a matter of good business on the part of Christian Churches to devote more of their time to evangelizing Jews, and less to that of other nationalities. The missionary endeavor of churches in regard to other nationalities has always been difficulty to raise the funds. Christianizing the Jews would be in the nature of an asset instead of a liability, for Jews never lack for funds for any of their undertakings. There has always been a touch of God's favor in their projects, which it would not be a bad plan to have on our side.

The lecture was illustrated by excellent pictures of Jewish scenes, people and customs. Toward the end he showed portraits of converted Jews who had become eminent leaders in the Christian world. These included Bishop Alexander, of Jerusalem; Hellmuth, of Huron; Schereschewsky of China.

In the Sunday morning's sermon at All Saints Church, the Rev. Neugewirtz showed the debt that Gentiles owe to the Jews. Mr. Neugewirtz is visiting Stanbridge, Freligbsburg, Bedford and other parishes with a like message.

"Don't you trouble yourself about that," was the reply. "I won't do anything of the sort. Oh, no! What I'm going to do is to let the wrath descend upon the son."

"How many were you?" some one asked.

"Oh, only two of us," was the somewhat startling reply.

"What! Only two?"

"Yes, two. Why not? The turkey and myself."

THE MYSTERY OF INDIA INK.

It Goes Through a Long and Intricate Secret Process.

There are many manufacturers all over the world who would like very much to become possessed of the Chinese secret formula for the making of india-ink, a formula which has been handed down in the Flowery Kingdom for many generations. Indeed, india-ink in China is manufactured pretty much the same to-day as it was in the time of Chen Ki Somen, who is said to have invented the process.

The oil is pressed from the seeds of a certain plant and set to simmer, while the workman adds a mixture of powdered red-wood, grated sandal-wood, and seeds of almonds and other powders.

When the simmering is ended the product is filtered and set aside for a long time to settle. Then it is put into tiny earthen dishes, each of which has a wick made of reed. A great quantity of these little dishes are set on bricks, and over each is placed a funnel-shaped clay cover. Then the wicks are lit, and the soot produced by the burning mass is caught inside.

So delicate an operation does this constitute that the workmen are actually obliged to observe the slightest change in the weather, lest a slight variation in temperature make a big difference in the quality of the soot. The finest soot is prepared in rooms that are absolutely airtight. If there are any windows in the room, paper is pasted over them, so that every crack may be closed.

Frequently the workman will cautiously approach a dish and dust off the gathering soot, employing for this purpose the lightest of feathers. But although the soot is so soft and fine that it will float in the air, still it is not fine enough for the Chinese, for it is then run through sieves, and only when it has passed through these is it deemed fit to mix with the liquid material that transforms it into india-ink. Here comes the mystery, for no one knows, aside from the Chinese, what this secret liquid is.

When the union with the liquid has been effected, the compound is kneaded for many hours, and subsequently ground fine again in mortars, which stand in water baths, so that there may not be the slightest variation in temperature.

Then the product is shaped into the sticks so familiar to every one, and is beaten with little hammers until each stick attains the perfection of form sought. After this the sticks are placed in wooden forms to harden. The forms have raised letters carved on them, and these impress themselves on the sticks, making the trade-marks to be found on all india-ink sticks.

Even when all this has been accomplished, the painstaking Oriental is not satisfied. Each stick is wrapped with fine silk paper and laid in its box with other sticks. The spaces between them are filled with ashes obtained from rice straw. Each day the ashes are removed and new ashes substituted, this being repeated until every bit of moisture has been eliminated. Then the sticks are unwrapped, brushed, rubbed, and finally polished with a polisher made of agate.

At last the product is ready for the market.

First Words of the Phonograph.

When Edison was at work on his first phonograph, it is said, he was as much surprised as any one when the thing actually talked. It appears that the inventor had been working on some new variety of telephone receivers when he was led to put a piece of tin foil on a cylinder. It recorded sound, and Edison was convinced that the human voice could be recorded and reproduced. When the time came to make an actual test Edison, with his mind on mechanical details, absentmindedly tested his contrivance with the familiar phrase, "Mary had a little lamb." Accordingly this bit of nursery jingle has gone down into history as the first words ever reproduced by the phonograph.

A Star That Winks.

There is in the constellation Pegasus a little variable star that may reasonably be said to wink. Two or three times in the course of a single night this curious star can be seen to fade and then to brighten like a signal light. For about two and three-quarter hours it becomes fainter and fainter. Then come a change, and at the end of two and three-quarter hours it becomes fainter and fainter. Then comes a change, and at the end of two and three-quarter hours more it is as bright as at the beginning. Unfortunately it can be seen only with a telescope. Yet it ranks as a sun.

For the Ladies.

"That's a bright clerk," remarked the floorwalker in the book department.

"Right on the job, eh?" asked the proprietor.

"I should say so. He heard that the class from the girls' college was coming in here to buy novels, so he has arranged the volumes all upside down, so their last chapters will be first."

Anonymous.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher of the juvenile class to a pupil, "anonymous means without a name. Can you give me an example?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered Johnny. "The baby that arrived at our house yesterday is anonymous."

Clean as a Whistle.

The origin of the saying "As clean as a whistle" is ascribed to the "whistle tankard" of olden times, in which the whistle came into play when the tankard was emptied or "cleared out" to announce to the waiter that more liquor was required.

Ancestors of the Ostrich.

The ostrich is a descendant of a genus of bird which in prehistoric times attained an enormous size. In the alluvial deposits of Madagascar evidence has been found to show that ostriches fourteen and fifteen feet in height once lived on the island.

A letter was received here last week from Mrs. Lackey, formerly of this parish, stating that she and her husband, the Rev. Isaac H. Lackey, and her sons are well and enjoying life in their new home at Gainsborough, Saskatchewan.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE HOLY CITY.

Clarence Bennett, in his college days played foot-ball with a certain bundle of muscles and enthusiasm, who afterward became U. S. Consul to Jerusalem, and, between these two college chums, there has existed a life-long friendship. When Mr. Bennett wrote the Holy City, he also wrote to his old friend and comrade on many a well-fought pig-skin field now fanning himself under the shade of the Consular Flag, in the city of sacred and historic memories, asking him for certain photographs of particular scenes in Jerusalem. The result will be of considerable interest to the audience that witnesses the production of the play here, for the splendid scenes of the Ancient Street and the Joppa Gate are both perfect reproductions of actual scenes, as is also the View of the City by night, as seen from the sight of King Herod's Palace, excepting that the palace to-day is only a heap of ruins, as is, also, the Arch of the Emperor Tiberias, and the once beautiful gardens of the King are now a pile of barren rocks, without a tree or a shrub.

This play will be presented at Clement Theatre on Saturday evening, April 2nd.

WHY HE REPENTED.

Teddy—I wish I hadn't fought Jimmy Brown this morning.

Mamma—You see now how wrong it was, don't you, dear?

Teddy—Yes, cause I didn't know till this afternoon that he was going to give me a licking.

HIGH MASS AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH.

Solemn high mass was celebrated this morning at St. Patrick's Church in honor of the national festival, the church being crowded to its utmost capacity.

Mass was sung by Rev. Abbe Gagnon, assisted by the Rev. Abbes Vincent and Chartier as deacon and sub-deacon, and a remarkably eloquent sermon was preached by the Rev. Martin Callaghan, of Montreal, formerly of St. Patrick's Church.

The speaker outlined the career of the great missionary who converted Ireland from paganism to Christianity, dwelt upon his saintly life and virtues, and the love and veneration of the people, which was never greater than at present. The Irish were above all loyal and faithful to their traditions, and wherever they might be, at home or far away from the sod, they never failed to celebrate St. Patrick's Day.

The music by a large choir was worthy of the occasion, a solo, "Adoro Te," being sung at the offertory by Mr. W. Tracy. Before and after the service Irish airs were rendered by the organist, Miss T. Doherty. Rev. J. H. Roy, Rector of St. Michael's Cathedral, Rev. C. McGee, Capelton, and Rev. H. A. Simard, Chancellor, were present in the sanctuary.

SHERBROOKE DISTRICT MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The March meeting was held on Tuesday, the fifteenth, in the Methodist Church, at East Angus. The Rev. Frank E. Adams, vice-president, was in the chair. Devotional exercises were conducted by the Chairman and a profitable season of prayer took place. There were also present Revs. W. S. Lennon, M. A., J. B. Howe, James Hastie, M. A., H. R. Johnston, G. Ellery Read and C. S. Deeprose.

The Rev. Mr. Howe presented a paper on the prophet Zephaniah, and was complimented upon the full analysis and free treatment of the subject.

A unique and masterly address was given by the Rev. F. E. Adams on "The Coming of the Son of Man." It was a most thoughtful, clear and interesting presentation of the subject.

A vote of thanks was given to Messrs. Howe and Adams and adjournment was made for lunch to the church vestry, at the close of which the visiting delegates tendered a hearty vote of thanks to the Rev. W. R. Johnston and the ladies of the congregation for their hospitality.

The next meeting will be held in the Congregational church, Sherbrooke, on Tuesday, April 19th, at 10.30 a. m. The Rev. C. S. Deeprose will read a paper on "John's Epistles." A paper will also be given by Rev. G. A. Williams.

"HIBERNIANS" AT ST. CHARLES SEMINARY.

Last evening, the eve of St. Patrick's Day, the pupils of Irish descent at the Seminary of St. Charles Borromee, commonly called the "Hibernians," assisted by some of their friends of that other nationality which for centuries has been closely allied to Ireland, gave a musical and dramatic entertainment, which was a most successful affair and well attended, the large hall being crowded to the doors.

The first item upon the programme was a gay and appropriate selection by the Seminary Band entitled "Irish Patriarch," which was followed by an address of welcome by J. M. Gleason, Rock Island.

Mr. Tancrede Beauregard, of Holyoke, Mass., recited "Au College," with admirable taste, and Mr. Leonidas Bachand, Sherbrooke, who is the happy possessor of a beautiful voice, sang the exquisite and touching Irish ballad, "Come Back to Erin," and was rapturously applauded.

An address on "Home Rule" was given by H. R. Mulvena, of Sherbrooke, whose sympathy with the cause and familiarity with the subject were shown in his glowing fervent words and close argument.

"The Irish Attorney," a capital little play in two acts, composed the second part of the programme and was greatly enjoyed by all present. The cast was as follows:

Pierce O'Hara, H. R. Mulvena.
Jacob Wylie, A. J. Gilmore.
Hawk, R. Caisse.
Saunders, T. S. Gleason.
Maldon, J. M. Gleason.
Charlecote, A. McCarthy.
Fielding, Joseph Narbonne.
Biggs, Francis Stenson.
Sally, Walter Stenson.
Deputation of farmers: A. Hawkins, D. Kennedy, C. Mullins, E. O'Mara, L. McKeage, E. McDonald, etc.

The acting was excellent, certain phases of life in the Emerald Isle being reproduced with absolute fidelity to nature, the whole being enlivened with touches of true Irish wit and humor, which were appreciated by the audience.

A number of citizens were present, with the professors and students, and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening, which closed with the National Anthem.

Mr. C. E. Reid, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., is spending a few days in Boston and New York, in connection with the concert course for next season.

The concerts given during the past winter have proved so successful in every way that the Board of Directors were in favor of securing another course for the coming winter.

In a letter to the Record Mr. Reid states that if he is successful in securing the course he has in mind, he will have top notchers in their profession.

Referring to the Gertrude Miller Concert Company, which will appear here on March 30th, Mr. Reid writes: "I would also like to say that the people who know, say that I was dead right in saying that the Gertrude Miller Concert Course is the best number of this season's course."

MR. AND MRS. CLARK GORDON'S GOLDEN WEDDING.

The following verses, written by Rev. C. S. Deeprose, were read at the celebration held on Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gordon's golden wedding:

To Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gordon,
Sherbrooke, Que.
Full fifty golden years have sped
Since you, dear friends, proposed to wed.
Around you and beneath were spread
The Everlasting Arms.

The summer's sun and winter's snow,
The spring's soft breeze and autumn's glow
Have made Love's garden bud and blow,
And whisper, "Life's divine."

Along the pathway you have trod,
Arbutus, May-flowers, golden-rod
Have blent their charms to publish God
An ever-present friend.

The dawning day of wedded bliss.
And deeper joys which thousands miss,
Have sprung to life from that sweet kiss
That tuned an angel's song.

The tendrils of the springtime twined
To swing and toss in life's bleak wind,
And still their blended sinews bind
Two hearts in love divine.

The summer's beauteous golden sheen
Has cheered the years that lie between,
And made the rapturous youthful dream
A feast of happy love.

The autumn tints of wondrous hue,
And skies that lend their matchless blue,
Are bringing their sweet promise true,
"God's beauty never dies."

In days of Sabbath rest and peace,
The cares of life found blest surcease.
Faith, love and hope gave rich increase,
And life grew more sublime.

Your sun in setting, climbing slow,
Fling o'er your path a ruddier glow
Than brightened fifty years ago—
Eternal hope inspire.

When death transplants to summer clime
The lives that chant the holy rhyme,
May they in joy and love sublime
Life's wondrous fulness know.

"PROUD OF OUR SCHOOL."

A reader from Beebe sends the following:

"Did you ask if we are proud of our school? Well, some!

"We have just received the report of Inspector Parker, who was here recently, and his answers to the various printed questions of the Department were "Good," "First-class,"—"Perfect." Nothing to recommend in the way of improvements. He closes his report as follows: "The people of the municipality and the vicinity are to be congratulated on having such a fine school building and such a staff of teachers."

"A report like this from Inspector Parker, who is exacting to a nicety, is enough to make any one proud.

"Our Commissioners have arranged with Miss French, of Stanstead College to give Physical Culture lessons in our school every Friday afternoon.

"We congratulate ourselves in being so firtunate as to secure so competent an instructor as Miss French, and the work she does shows remarkable results.

"Our scholars are learning how to stand, how to breathe, how to walk and how to speak properly. Some of our citizens would like to take advantage of this opportunity and engage Miss French to give them private lessons, but is not certain that arrangements can be made as Miss French's time here is limited.

"If you toe in—if you talk as if your tongue was hitched at both ends—if you breathe so that the top of your lungs only is used—if you shake hands so that the other fellow thinks he's got hold of a fish's tail—if you look at a person as though you had done something of which you were ashamed—if you are so nervous that you can't sleep at nights — if any of these things apply to you, we must advise you to try Physical Culture and see the results.

"All the up to date institutions of learning in the country recognize the benefits of Physical Culture and make it a part of their training."

A COMEDIAN'S TRICK.

RUSE BY WHICH HE EXCAPED ARREST AND HAD HIS DEBTS PAID.

Many amusing stories are told of Joe Haines, a comedian of the time of Charles II., sometimes called "Count" Haines. It is said that he was arrested one morning by two bailiffs for a debt of £20, when he saw a bishop to whom he was related passing along in his coach. With ready resource he immediately saw a loophole for escape, and, turning to the men, he said, "Let me speak to his lordship, to whom I am well known, and he will pay the debt and your charges into the bargain."

The bailiffs thought they might venture this, as they were within two or three yards of the coach, and acceded to the request. Joe boldly advanced and took off his hat to the bishop. His lordship ordered the coach to stop, when Joe whispered to the divine that the two men were suffering from such scruples of conscience that he feared they would hang themselves, suggesting that his lordship should invite them to his house and promise to satisfy them. The bishop agreed, and, calling to the bailiffs, he said, "You two men come to me tomorrow morning, and I will satisfy you!"

The men bowed and went away pleased, and early the next day waited on his lordship, who, when they were ushered in, said, "Well, my men, what are these scruples of conscience?"

"Scruples?" replied one of them. "We have no scruples! We are bailiffs, my lord, who yesterday arrested your cousin, Joe Haines, for a debt of £20, and your lordship kindly promised to satisfy us."

The trick was strange, but the result was stranger, for his lordship, either appreciating its cleverness or considering himself bound by the promise he had unintentionally given, there and then settled with the men in full.

PENETRATION OF LIGHT.

Experiments show that light can be seen through a clean cut opening of not more than one forty-thousandth of an inch. This fact was determined by taking two thoroughly clean straight edges and placing a piece of paper between the surfaces at one end, the opposite end being allowed to come together. The straight edges being placed between the eye and a strong light in a dark room, a wedge of light was perceived from the ends between which the paper was placed and the opposite, which were brought together. The thickness of the paper being known, the distance apart of the two edges of the small end of the wedge of light was easily calculated.

Quenching Thirst at Sea.

Many years ago Dr. Hing suggested to Captain Kennedy that thirst might be quenched by dipping the clothing in salt water and putting it on without wringing it out. The captain on being cast away succeeded in persuading some of the men to follow his example, and they all survived, while the four who refused and drank salt water became delirious and died. Captain Kennedy goes on to say, "After these operations we uniformly found that the violent thirst went off and the parched tongue was cured in a few minutes when we had bathed and washed our clothes, while we found ourselves as much refreshed as if we had received some actual nourishment."—London Standard.

INTERESTING LETRER FROM CHINA.

REV. MR. LUTTRELL TELLS OF HIS TRIP ACROSS AND CONDITIONS OF COUNTRY.

At a meeting of the Massawippi W. C. T. U., an interesting letter was read, as previously stated, from Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, a former pastor, from China, where he is now laboring in the mission field. It is written from the Canadian Mission, Weihwei Fu, Honan, China, and gives a description of the journey to their present home, and of the country. He says, in part:

"I feel sure that you all are wondering what has become of me and whether you will ever again hear from me. To assure you that out of sight is not, with me at any rate, equivalent to out of mind, I am sending you these lines. Our friends at home are often in our minds, and we are always glad to have letters from you. Letters have a very special value to us in this far-off, heathen country, where everything is so strange and different from things as they are in the home land. So you will know how to make us glad and how to help us to keep on at our work with light hearts. Letters will go a long way to accomplish this end.

"We had a fine journey from Canada, lasting from the 14th of September, when we left Montreal, until the 6th of November, when we arrived here at Weihwei. Of course we were not actually moving all of this time; one can cover the distance easily in less than four weeks if in a hurry. But we stopped at several places in Canada, and then had a week in Japan, and part of a week in Shanghai. The sea voyage was pleasant, with good weather for the most of the time, excepting one rather severe storm. We were on the ship, Kaga Maru, for just four weeks, including the days spent in Japanese ports. The weather while we were in Japan was lovely, and we shall never forget those days. It was our first taste of the Oriental. Every way we looked we saw things that were so strange and full of interest to us. The streets and the people, and their quaint garb, their temples and their interesting shops filled with such beautiful things, for the most part very cheap and tempting. The whole country seemed to us extremely beautiful, although we were not there in what is regarded as the best season.

"We had three days at Yokohama, three days at Kobe, and one day at Moji, where the ship took on coal. It was most interesting to see how the coal was brought on board and dumped into the hold. The work was done in a surprisingly short time and all by hand. The coal was brought alongside in junks and a sort of ladder made from the junk to the deck of the vessel, and the coal passed from man to man in small flat baskets, which some were busy filling on the junk as fast as they were thrown back empty from the deck, where women, many of them with infants strapped to their backs, received them from the men on the ladders, of which there were several, and turned them into the hold. There were hundreds of men at work, and you can imagine what a lively scene it was. From early morning until late at night the work was kept up, with only short breaks for the workers to get their "chow" as they call their food. They work for a pittance and are very glad to get the work. A few years ago all of this work was done by the women, but now the men have taken it. They told me that this seemingly primitive method of coaling is really more rapid and satisfactory that the methods in use, say, at Nanaimo, where machinery is used. There the coal is apt to get stuck and clogged on the way to the hold, but where it is passed down in small quantities at a time there is no danger of this, but of course labor is too expensive on the other side of the Pacific to admit of such a method.

"After a pleasant visit in Shanghai with some Canadian friends, and a pleasant trip of four days, 600 miles up the Yangtse river to Hankow in a comfortable side-wheeler, and then a run of sixteen hours in a train, of the European type, but with sleeping berths and a diner where we were supplied with very good meals for a very reasonable sum, a distance of about four hundred miles, we finally reached our destination and were heartily glad to settle down again to a regular life, after having been on the move more or less ever since July.

"We are now comfortably settled in our own home with nice rooms, very snug with our old home things which we had in the Manse at Hull. The house is large and airy, two stories, with a good cellar, and with two verandahs, one on each floor on two sides of the house. We have three men servants whose combined monthly wage is less than five Canadian dollars, and they find even their own food, and sleep outside the compound. One does the cooking, and the other two do all the rest of the housework, including sweeping, dusting, washing of floors, washing clothes and ironing, waiting on table, and so on. We are able to live in much the same way as in Canada, though in so strange a land. Our meals are much the same, and our houses are fixed up in much the same way. In the early days of the mission they did not enjoy such comforts, but now it is found that we are able to maintain a higher degree of efficiency for work when we live pretty much as we would at home. We are able to buy some foods here, and the rest we order from England and America twice a year.

"The winter weather is cold and frosty, but not nearly so much so as at home in Eastern Canada. We have only an occasional flurry of snow, and the sun shines a great deal, making the winter extremely delightful. The hot weather of the summer is the trying part of the year, when the thermometer hovers for several months in the neighborhood of 100 degrees. But we expect to spend the first couple of summers out at the coast, where we will be able to pursue the study of the language to better advantage than here in the heat. The houses in the compound, of which there are six here at Weihwei, are heated with hot air furnaces, made here by the Chinese from designs given them by the missionaries. They burn coal. The warm weather will begin probably about March, though it will not be hot till June. Even now the sun is surprisingly hot when there is no wind, and some days are as mild as a day in May at home.

"I am glad to say that both Mrs. Luttrell and I are in the best of health, and are indeed getting rather fatter than we were. We will have to take more exercise. But the heated period will be the test of our ability to stand the Chinese climate. I hope that we will keep well then also. Certainly, so far, China has agreed with us very well.

"We are well started with the language, which is not any less difficult than it was described to us, but perhaps rather more interesting than we had expected to find it at first, at any rate. We are able to say quite a lot of things in Chinese already, and hope that by the end of the year we will be able to converse on the ordinary topics, but it will require two years longer for me to finish the studies prescribed by the Presbytery and be well enough equipped to preach. I long for that time to come. It is trying to remain silent in a land where there is so much need of the man with the Message of Truth, and especially after preaching for years at home and so forming habits of thought and work, I miss the duty very much. Occasionally I preach to the Missionaries and their families at our Sabbath evening service, which is in English. But the privilege of one day preaching to these needy thousands in their own tongue, and helping to lay the foundations of the Christian Church in this land, which is so rapidly taking her place among the great nations of the earth, is well worth working and waiting for. We feel here that we are walking closely in the steps of Paul and Peter and the other great missionaries of the early church and the New Testament era. We are planting the church in this part of the world, just as long ago the missionaries came to Britain and to the barbarians of Northern Europe, our ancestors, and gave to them the same Gospel which we to-day are giving to these Chinese. We are encouraged by this remembrance, and also by the fine results we have been enabled by the Divine Spirit to achieve here. If it is a New Testament work, we need the New Testament Spirit and Power in abundant measure, that we may be able to glorify God in Christ in this country, and uplift this people to the plane of a Christian nation.

"I certify to you who cannot come here that this work is being owned by God, and that in helping it along with your prayers and gifts you are co-operating with the Heavenly Father Himself, who is working here and through the instrumentality of His Word and Spirit and His servants seeking to bring back to Himself His yellow Chinese children—"those from the land of Sinim" (Isaiah, 49 : 12)."

BOCKUS CREAMERY HAD GOOD YEAR.

OFFICERS ELECTED AND ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR COMING SEASON.

Dunham, March 17. — (Special) — At the annual session of the patrons of the Bockus Creamery of this place, Mr. Jos. Selby presided, and Mr. W. E. O'Brien acted as Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. O'Brien read the minutes of the preceding session and gave a statement of last year's business, showing this factory to be among the first in Canada. The salesman, Mr. Michael Curley, stated that during the last two seasons the produce of this creamery had never once been cut in price nor had a single complaint ever been made against the quality of the butter or cream sold.

During the first part of the year, up till September, the output of the creamery had averaged 87c. per cwt.; during the last five months, as the cows were further advanced in lactation period, the cream had been sold and $1.25 per cwt. had been realized from the milk of all the patrons.

Mr. Curley then announced that he would be unable to act this coming season, as salesman, and the election of officers followed.

Mr. Selby was re-elected President; Mr. O'Brien, Secretary, and Mr. Bockus himself was named as salesman. The President was also charged with the duties of Auditor and Messrs. H. O. Martin, George Garrick and F. H. Gilbert were elected to the Executive Committee for the coming season.

The President then enquired how many present required outfits in order to join the Dunham Cow Testing Association, and a discussion arose how near one could tell the richness of milk by its color. Mr. G. P. England explained that though watered milk was of a blue shade, the presence of a germ "Bacillus Cyanogens" causes a distinct blue shade in milk that might have a large percentage of butter fat. Also that bad flavored butter had been experimented on and by inoculation the bad flavor which was carried by a germ could be improved by one germ neutralizing the effect of the other.

Mr. Bockus then interposed, and said that he did not intend to establish a plant to inoculate rancid butter, and if the patrons brought him clean milk he would guarantee a butter that would bring the highest market price. Finally the meeting agreed that the only true way to get a good herd of dairy cows was to test each individual cow and raise the offspring of the best. During this time several new members joined the Cow Testing Association, and with a vote of thanks to the old officers of the factory the meeting adjourned.

COMET HAS GONE INTO SECLUSION.

WILL NOT BE SEEN FOR ABOUT A FORTNIGHT.

Ottawa, March 17th.—Halley's comet has gone into seclusion for about a fortnight. During that time it will be shielded from mortal eyes by golden veils of sunlight. This announcement was made to-day by Mr. Robert M. Motherwell, who is the comet specialist at the Dominion Observatory.

The reason for the retiring of the comet is that it is in so nearly a line between the earth and the sun that it cannot be seen against the bright background. There is a strong probability, too, according to the officials, that the tail of the comet will be long enough to envelop the earth by May 18th.

"By the first week in April the comet will be visible in the morning sky just before sunrise," stated Mr. Motherwell. "Heretofore it has been discernible in the evening sky shortly before 8 o'clock. Just now the comet is about 14,000,000 miles from the earth."

Unless the tail of the comet lessons much faster than it has grown, it will easily compass the great distance between it and the earth. By May, the comet will be clearly seen by the naked eye. The officials at the observatory state that ample provision will be made for affording the public an opportunity of viewing the heavenly prodigy through the big telescope, although, of course, such an occurrence will entail a great deal of work and special vigilance on their part.

A BISHOP-COADJUTOR FOR QUEBEC.

(Quebec Chronicle)

The announcement by His Lordship the Bishop of Quebec that at a meeting of the Anglican Synod, to be held in May, arrangements will have to be made to have associated with him in the duties of his responsible office a Bishop-Coadjutor, with the right of succession, has brought to many citizens a regret that his maturing years have necessitated his partial withdrawal from the activities of the diocese. It was a matter of congratulation that his recovery from his late illness had been vouchsafed to him, and his continued services to the diocese at large assured. His labors for the improvement of his diocese — not without opposition— have continued from the good Bishop Williams's time, and we trust will continue for many a year yet, under the proposed new arrangement of ecclesiastical help. If any functionary has to give us all an example of good citizenship it is the minister of the gospel, in high position or in humble position; and in the selection of a coadjutor, we have no doubt that the special meeting of the Synod, to be called in May in terms of a canon of the Diocesan Synod, such a motive will not be lost sight of. It is not for the press to make any suggestions in connection with such a selection, though perhaps there seems to be one personality more prominent than another in the eye of the public, as one that would fill the office of coadjutor with the widest acceptance. When the appointment or selection becomes more of a public matter as the important meeting draws near, the Chronicle may be allowed to express an opinion; but in the meantime we can only hope that a spirit of co-operation between Bishop Dunn and his clergy will result in an issue entirely satisfactory alike to the diocese and the public. Every care must be taken, moreover, that the succession will be free from the legal difficulties which presented themselves when Bishop Carmichael succeeded Archbishop Bond, of Montreal.

"EARLY" MAPLE SUGAR IN DEMAND.

INSPECTORS SAY IT IS HARD TO CONTROL ADULTERATED ARTICLE.

Montreal, March 17. At this season of the year, probably the food adulteration practice most in vogue is that of the adulteration of the products from the sugar camps. Dr. McCarrey, Civic Food Inspector, stated that it is almost impossible to obtain either pure maple sugar or maple syrup. Adulterants were almost universally offered. The adulterating substances being as a rule uninjurious to health the city food inspectors can do nothing, the matter thus coming under the province of the Inland Revenue authorities. According to the law all aduiterated products of this nature must bear on the label the word "Compound" and there is a penalty attached to infringement of this regulation. However, at times this word is printed in such small letters, or in such indistinct type, that it can hardly be read by the consumer. Again, it is a practice for the syrup to be sold in bottles without labels, hence it is almost impossible to control abuses.

AGAINST MILITARY DRILL IN SCHOOLS.

The following resolution in regard to the introduction of military drill in our public schools was passed at the recent convention of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union in St. John, N. B.:

"Resolved: That we, the members of this convention of the Dominion W.C.T.U. consider that the introduction of advanced military drill into the schools of this Dominion is calculated to foster a warlike spirit in our school boys, a spirit that is in direct opposition to the spirit and teaching of Christ and His apostles, and that is also opposed to the world-wide tendency in favor of peaceful, rational and Christian methods of settling national disputes. Therefore, resolved: That as an organization of Christian women we place ourselves on record as distinctly opposed to the instruction of the boys of this Dominion in military tactics and to the organization of rifle cadet corps in connection with the public schools."

DOGGIES FRIEND.

OFFERS A LITTLE FREE ADVICE REGARDING THE DOG SCARE EPIDEMIC.

Regarding the "Dog Scare" the following letter has appeared in Toronto Saturday Night:

MUZZLE THE CRANKS AND LEAVE THE DOGS ALONE.

To the Editor of Saturday Night:

Your issue of the 19th inst. had the sanest thing which has appeared since the dog crusade began. Here in our city the people have an epidemic of hysteria over the mere mention of the word "dog," and far crazier things have been written on the subject than one would think could possibly come from the pen of supposedly intelligent mortals.

Evidently it is a question of lovers of animals and non-lovers, and it is the latter who have forgotten, if indeed they ever knew, the great lessons taught in such lines as Coleridge wrote:

"He prayeth well, who loveth well
Both man and bird and beast;
He prayeth best, who loveth best
All things, both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all."

But the non-lover has from his narrowed view of life forgotten another thing, and so to him a lover of animals is a purely selfish, unreasonable being. To prove his point, when arguing this, he will say many things and write many statements, which are the acme of absurdity, and then comes the demand, "Now answer if you can." But see Proverbs, 26 : 4.

Our city papers constantly ask: "Where are doggies' friends?" "Why don't we hear from doggies' friends?" and similar questions. Our editors have evidently become "excited" too and overlook the fact that to argue is not the wisest course where ignorance of a subject is so apparent; it's like hammering a nail, the more you hit the farther it goes in, and to convince "a man against his will leaves him of the same opinion still."

Where are doggies' friends? Well, it is likely they are looking in pity on those suffering from "hysteria" over this matter. It is possible that having enjoyed the broadening effect of the experience, as stated by the poet, they have learned too that when a patient is delirious it is the worst possible treatment to attempt to argue on the subjects affecting that person's mental condition; at no time is argument so misplaced. So, in this present outbreak of hysteria, which seems as general as the time-honored grippe epidemic, since the microbes have effected even those least supposed to be susceptible, those who can view the situation find much to regret that the question is not viewed sanely and justice done. There are methods adopted which will cause the blush of shame, if those in authority ever recover their mental health long enough to take a calm, businesslike view of the situation. One statement which is made again and again, and no doubt appearing in the press of other cities besides this one, is a most unfair one, viz., "No, he won't bite; at least he won't bite me; it doesn't matter about anyone else."

This is absolutely false and a libel on any true lovers of animals, because the very affection they have for their canine friends has helped to enlarge their sympathy. Who goes more quickly to the rescue of the abused and neglected, the lover of animals, "great and small," or the non-lover, who says if you are fond of a dog, you are necessarily a hater of mankind? It would be wiser if those who make such statements would study carefully facts before rushing into public. The "hysteria" might not become "frenzy" if this were done. After a careful watching there would be seen so many instances to disprove non-lover's views that the excitement would die away, and some saner courses than at present existing would be followed.

Let me ask, if in need of help, which man would you expect to come to the rescue first, he who stops to rescue an animal in distress, or one who goes calmly by and while hearing the cry of pain says "pshaw, it's only a dog—or cat—a mere animal"? Yet, I repeat, that today he who dares "to speak of those who cannot speak for themselves" is slandered and considered a weakling of his kind, one with all the vices and none of the virtues. May the day speedily dawn when saner views and methods prevail.

SCHEME TO DEFRAUD GOVERNMENT.

Arrests Made in Connection With Wolf Bounty Frauds.

SKINS WERE BOUGHT FOR $2, AND BOUNTY OF $15 COLLECTED FROM ONTARIO.

Fort Frances, Ont., March 16. — One of the biggest conspiracies to defraud the Government that has been unearthed for some time developed yesterday when Detective Greer, of Toronto, and Provincial Constable Campbell brought into town nine Indians from the reserve near Barwick, and two white men, M. T. Catheart, of Barwick, and George Westcott, of Rainy River. The information was laid before Police Magistrate Hollands and was to the effect that the persons charged were guilty of obtaining money from the province of Ontario under the Wolf Bounty Act, knowing that they had no right to do so. When brought before the magistrate they waived examination and asked to be tried summarily before Judge Fitch.

According to the police, the plan was a most successful one to make easy money. The method was for one of those in the game to go to Winnipeg and visit the fur buyers and fur houses and buy up all the wolf skins they could get which had been caught in Alberta or Saskatchewan paying from $2.00 to $2.50 for each skin. These were then shipped to Rainy River and there divided up among the gang. In order to deceive the authorities, a number of skins were scattered among the Indians, who in turn went before the local magistrate with the ears clipped off the skins, of the skins themselves, and made the usual affidavit that they had personally killed the wolf in a certain place. This was forwarded to the department at Toronto, when a cheque would be sent back for the amount of the bounty to the extent of $15 for each wolf supposed to have been killed.

In this way bounties were obtained to the extent of $8,000.

The case is likely to be of much interest, as there are many unlooked for situations liable to arise out of the evidence which is forthcoming. Meanwhile the Government has held up all pending applications for bounty for wolves killed until they are fully satisfied that no "bunco" game is being played.

EAST ANGUS.

Miss Kay is attending the millinery openings in Montreal.

After about two months of illness, Mr. Al R. Johnson, of Linda, aged 73 years 6 months and 8 days, as already mentioned, passed away on Friday morning at one o'clock. The funeral service was held at his residence on Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, the Rev. B. Watson, of Christ's church, East Angus, officiating. Several appropriate hymns were rendered by the choir. The chief mourners in attendance were: Mrs. A. R. Johnson, wife of deceased; and four daughters and two sons, namely, Mrs. Blodget; Miss A. Johnson; Mrs. A. Willard; Miss W. Johnson and Messrs. Jesse and Walter Johnson, while the other relatives and friends were: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson and son, Mr. L. Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. A. Bean, Mrs. O. Emery, North Hatley; Mr. and Mrs. D. Willard, Messrs. H. P. Johnson and K. Johnson, of East Angus. Mr. S. Jameson had charge of the funeral arrangements. The bearers were: Messrs. G. Gillespie, T. Wingeat, Mr. Rourke and K. Birch. After the service the funeral proceeded to Ascot Corner where the interment took place.

Owing to the high cost of living the barbers around this section have decided that on and after March 15th the price of hair cutting will advance from 15 to 25 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Willard, of Ascot spent Sunday with Mrs. F. C. Johnson, of East Angus.

Mrs. S. E. Brant, of North Hatley, is visiting relatives and friends in East Angus.

COWANSVILLE.

Miss Edna Steele, of this place, recently attended the wedding at the residence of Mrs. L. Bull, East Farnham, of Miss Edith A. Bull to Mr. Dalton Brown, of Bolton Glen. Miss Bull used to be a resident of this place, and while here boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele. Miss Steele was bridesmaid at this wedding, and received from the groom a set of gold collar pins as a gift. The bride wore a costume of cream lustre, while the bridesmaid wore a costume of blue crepe de chine. The groomsman was Mr. David Bull, the bride's brother. Her Cowansville friends wish her a long and happy life in her new home at Bolton Glen.

Mrs. Daniel Buck, living on "Willow Brook Farm," is quite ill.

Rev. E. M. Taylor, M. A., of Knowlton, called on Mr. Duboyce Saturday.

Mrs. A. T. Jones was in Montreal last week.

HIS GOLF OUTFIT.

He Didn't Drink Tea, So His Wife Didn't Get a Caddie.

She was in the sporting goods department of a universal provider looking for her husband's birthday present. She had it vaguely in her mind to get him some golf clubs, although the man never had played the game or even expressed a desire to play. He needed more exercise, and she wanted a present that would lure him on to take it.

A young clerk sought her custom. "Something in tennis rackets, madam?" he asked.

"No; I want some golf clubs."

"Yes, madam. Right over here. For yourself?"

"No; for my husband. I don't want a whole set. He never has played before," she explained.

"Then you want a beginner's outfit—a driver, brassy, putter and either a mashie or a midiron will do to start," the young man went on, drawing from the stand a long handle club and flourishing it before the woman.

"Is that a driver?"

"Yes. You see, madam, first you make your tee"—

"But he doesn't drink tea," she interrupted.

The clerk opened his eyes and would have laughed but for the thought of the sale he was about to make. Instead he explained tactfully what a tee was and seemed not to see the flush of chagrin that mounted to the rather pretty little woman's face.

"We haven't even a course," she explained, "but I thought he could bat the balls around the place to begin—to get a fancy for the game."

"Then it's a brassie, not a driver, that you want. Now, here is one with a good shaft—it's all in the shaft. I used to be a professional on"—

"And what else do I need?" the woman interrupted.

"I would suggest a midiron. You won't need a putter if you have no greens. Here is a good one—$2."

"All right. I'll take those two. And how about a caddie? I suppose if we have no tees we don't need a caddie—is that it? But at least I'd like to see what one looks like, so that for his birthday I can get a bag and a caddie and a couple more clubs to complete the outfit."

GINGER FOR TEMPER.

Pleasant Means of Producing Amiability In the Morning.

Always eat ginger in the morning. That is the newly-discovered cure for the got-out-of-bed-on-the-wrong-side feeling that affects so many Englishmen in the morning.

"For many years," a correspondent writes, "I have been the victim of my own ungovernable temper, and have never been able to get myself amiable before lunch time. Last week a friend presented me with a jar of preserved ginger, and my good fairy suggested to me that it would be nice as a relish at breakfast in place of marmalade.

"Since I have been taking it my frame of mind in the morning has rapidly improved, and now I am able to start the day as cheerily as a typical country farmer. Is it the ginger that has worked this cure?"

Interviewed by The Daily Mirror, a well-known doctor said that if people would only eat ginger at breakfast their health would improve in many respects, and they would start the day much readier for work than they do now.

"Ginger," he said, "contains an essential oil which acts as a fine nerve tonic, stomach tonic, and is extremely good for the liver.

"The liver is the organ which makes people so morose in the morning. Until it has been well stirred up by the day's work it is in a lethargic condition, and frequently the brain is in the same state, for its blood supply is not right.

"Now, if people who experience these symptoms would only take plenty of ginger at breakfast their livers would improve to an extent they cannot realize until they try the cure. They would go to business in a normal state of temper.

"I am perfectly certain that if more ginger were eaten the world would be a very much better place to live in, for nine-tenths of the people who are now unbearable until they have worked the bile out of their systems would then be as jolly and bright in the morning as they are at an evening party now."—London Mirror.

His Complaint.

An elderly gentleman was expressing dissatisfaction with his son-in-law.

"What can you complain of against him?" he was asked.

"He cannot play cards," said the father-in-law.

"Why, you ought to be glad that he can't play cards," said the other.

"What do you mean? Be glad?" retorted the father-in-law. "He cannot play cards, but he plays nevertheless."

Salt In Germany.

Salt in Germany is either mined directly or obtained by the evaporation of salt solutions, which may be either the natural brine or artificial brine made by pumping water into the salt bed, which is again pumped up and evaporated in large pans or vats.

So Stylish.

"There's Mrs. Nuritch," said the first woman at the reception. "I understand her husband is at death's door."

"Sh!" cautioned the other woman. "I believe she doesn't say 'door,' but 'porte-cochere'."

Comes High.

Bronx—That's a handsome umbrella you've got there, old man.

Lenox—Yes, isn't it?

Bronx—About what does it cost to carry an umbrella like that?

Lenox—Eternal vigilance.

LUMSDEN MATTER UNDER DISCUSSION.

Opposition Want to Get Information About Omitted Words.

MR. LENNOX CLAIMS THAT HIS MOTION HAD BEEN ALTERED.

Ottawa, March 17.—The lust of battle was seized the House of Commons and the epidemic of party feeling is now at full flood. Yesterday another lively scene occurred, and the Opposition, determined and relentless after the taste of blood in the all-night sitting over the St. Lawrence Power Bill, gave the Government an uneasy spell about the Lumsden Committee and the reasons which compelled the Conservative members to retire therefrom.

It is safe to say that if the present tension is maintained the date of prorogation may be indefinitely postponed.

The Lumsden matter came up in this way. Mr. Haughton Lennox, one of the Conservative minority on the committee who resigned because of the unfair methods adopted, rose to a question of privilege. He called attention to the alteration of the motion which he had moved in the committee and which had been accepted, providing that the committee should report from day to day.

During the discussion which followed the Opposition tried to get some definite statement respecting the words, "and reported to the House," which were omitted. No definite answer was given, and in the meanwhile the proceedings of the committee are not being reported to the House.

Those of District of Bedford Were Guests of Mr. Justice Lynch.

NEARLY $1,000 ALREADY SUBSCRIBED TOWARDS ENDOWING A SCHOLARSHIP.

Sweetsburg, March 17.—(Special)—His Lordship Justice Lynch gave a supper at the Sweetsburg House on Tuesday evening for the McGill graduates of the District of Bedford who have subscribed to the proposed fund the revenue from which is intended as an annual scholarship to be presented to some worthy and bright pupil in McGill from the three counties of Missisquoi, Brome and Shefford. These scholarships are not to be limited to any one faculty. The President of the Association with a committee will decide each year as to the different candidates and will award the scholarship. The amount of money already subscribed is nearly $1,000 and the work is only just begun. The Rev. E. M. Taylor, M. A., of Knowlton, Inspector of Schools, is the Secretary-Treasurer of the fund.

This supper was in all respects a noteworthy one. The geniality of His Lordship at the head of a table is proverbial and the feast of reason and flow of soul were well assisted by the very excellent repast provided by Mine Host and Mrs. Curley.

At the business meeting held after the supper, Mr. Chas. A. Nutting, K. C., and Dr. S. H. Martin, of Waterloo, were named respectively President and Secretary for the ensuing year.

There will be a banquet of the subscribers to the fund next autumn at Waterloo. At this banquet more complete details will be announced.

The thanks of all those present, Tuesday night were extended to His Lordship for his successful efforts in again getting the graduates into line. The District of Bedford Association will be second to none as there are in the three counties a large number of men graduates of some donalders. Judge Lynch was the first president of the Association in 1899, and the last annual gathering took place at Granby three years ago.

The jingo press plainly indicates that American pressure may promote such an alliance. Others criticize Mr. Oishi for implying that relations with America are so dangerous as to necessitate an alliance.

MANCHURIAN ARMY ABANDONED.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—A despatch to the Novoe Vremya from Harbin says that China has abandoned the idea of creating a modern army in Manchuria, owing to lack of recruits and money.

IRISH PARTY ARE UNANIMOUS.

London, March 17.—Speaking at West Waterford, Mr. O'Shea, M.P., said: "Owing to the faint-heartedness with which the Government had approached the question, he could not believe they would get a guarantee from the Crown on the veto question. The Irish party would not allow the Government to pass any finance bill without the assurance that John Redmond, M.P., had asked for, that there be a general election about the end of May, or the beginning of June.

"The Irish party were unanimous in regard to their policy, and they did not depart from it in the House of Commons."

HON. MR. TURGEON'S DEFENCE.

Quebec, March 17.—Hon. Adelard Turgeon, ex-minister of lands and forests, now Speaker of the Legislative Council, delivered a reply, yesterday evening to the charges made against him regarding the sale of certain lots on the river front while he was Minister of Crown Lands. Mr. Turgeon went into the subject at length, declaring that his connection with the matter was formal, pointing out among other things that he had ratified a sale of land, which the buyer would have held the possession of any way.

Forty lives were lost. Twenty-three of the passengers and crew were saved. The bodies of 28 persons have been washed ashore.

Letters to the Editor

A LETTER REGARDING TEMPERANCE.

Editor Record.

Sir:—As this is the time of the year that Cowansville temperance people get busy and make quite a stir, if you will allow me to I would like to put a few facts before them in your valuable paper.

Would it not be better if they would ask for shorter hours instead of trying to close the bar? I have been in towns where no one could get a drink only while the factories were working. I can almost hear them say, the workman would every pay day stay away from his work for days. I admit no doubt he would, but then you would bring to the employer the cause of temperance, and the man that stays away would soon find himself out of work. Now if our temperance people really want temperance, why do they not show their power in a way it would be felt, by the other side. If every temperance person would only deal with temperance people and pay his money out to such, there would be some thinking done. I am sure there is more money taken in at the bars after six p.m. than any one store takes in, or even take day in and day out. Where does the money come from? I believe if the temperance people would practice it they would do more good than kicking up a stir every year and make hard feeling. I will not sign my name to this, for if I did I might have to move out of Cowansville.

Yours faithfully,
TEMPERANCE.

Cowansville, March 2.

IS A TELEA POLYPHEMUS.

Editor of Record:

Dear Sir,—I notice in your issue of the 9th inst., the note in reference to a "natural curiosity" in possession of Miss Kingsley, of Birchton. The beautifully colored green "worm" was probably the larva or catterpillar of the Telea Polyphemus moth which when full-grown is frequently found crawling along sidewalks or fences in the late summer seeking winter quarters.

The moth—not butterfly—would naturally develop prematurely, being kept in a warm house, and it is not unusual under such circumstances to have them appear at this season.

I fear there is no way of preserving the moth alive in its unnatural surroundings and it must slowly perish from loss of moisture, becoming dry and brittle.

This insect is by no means uncommon, but the fact that it flies only at dusk and during the night chiefly in the early summer months is the reason it is little known except to those taking an interest in this branch of nature.

The caterpillars, which differ from worms in that they have legs or feet, can be found feeding on many trees and bushes, but being much like the leaves they feed on, it takes a practised eye to discover them.

Yours faithfully,
ALTON ROWLAND.

Greenlay, Que., March 12, 1910.

SCOTSTOWN PRESBYTERIANS.

Editor Record:

Sir:—In Edgar Allen Poe's works, I read somewhere, that a crow thieves, a fox cheats, a weasel outwits, a man diddles, and when a man diddles we say he is done.

Your diddler, Mr. D. B. McLennan, in your issue of March 2nd, 1910, heads an article, Compton County Presbyterians, and underneath said article diddles in the deep waters of Lingwick finance.

The origin of diddling, says Poe, is referrible to the infancy of the human race. If so, we had better leave Diddler McLennan to outgrow his infancy. I end this business by assuring your readers, that after a careful though cursory review of Lingwick finance during the years 1897-1908, inclusive, the total is somewhat above rather than below the figures quoted by me. The total should be $19,698.74.

The foregoing amount does not include presents in money in kind, work discharged, monies raised for benevolent objects amounting to a considerable sum, within said time.

For Church schemes the amount raised within aforesaid time is $1,634.00, not $16,340.00, which is a printer's error.

MISSIONARY FIELD OF THE NORTH-WEST.

Subject of Canon Shreve's Address Last Night.

VIEWS SHOWING SCENES OF WESTERN LIFE WERE SHOWN.

The Canadian missionary field in the North West was the subject of Canon Shreve's address last evening in the Church Hall, a subject naturally nearer to the hearts of Canadians than any other missionary work. The views comprised the varying aspects of Western Canada, its magnificent natural resources, the wheat fields, in harvest and threshing time, herds of cattle, woods of fine timber, and coal mines. The settler's first little shack was shown, with its successor, a tiny board cottage, and later still the group of well-built wooden houses, set in the midst of cultivated land, their owners able now to afford the comforts of life. The immense distances, the enormous size of the country, impress the newcomer, but Dr. Shreve pointed out that bigness was not in itself greatness, and that to achieve real greatness the people of Canada must be built up along Christian lines, and not sink into materialism.

There are twenty-three Bishops in the West, although two dioceses have no Bishops at present. Kootenay been waiting until the Episcopal endowment is large enough to provide them with a Bishop; in the meantime Kootenay is in charge of the Bishop of New Westminster. Likenesses of the different Bishops were thrown on the screen, Dr. Shreve giving a short account of the life and work of each. The work amongst the Indians has met with many discouragements, one difficulty being their tendency, since adopting a civilized life, to contract tuberculosis, and another, that the Government of Canada is unwilling to grant more than so much per head for the keeping of Indian missions, and in order to keep the work up as it should be, large amounts will have to be contributed. The Indians are not unintelligent; there is perhaps as fair an average of trustworthiness as among whites, and they are being brought into the Christian Church in fairly good numbers. About a quarter of a million immigrants are pouring into Western Canada every year, and it is a serious question how these people are to be provided with the ministrations of the Church. One Bishop, who went to England to attend the Pan-Anglican Synod, found on his return, during three months absence, thirty new villages had sprung up in his diocese. The Church of England will have to make far greater efforts than at present if she does not wish to be left behind with the settlers of this great western country. Archdeacon Lloyd, a man of wonderful energy and splendid judgment, went over to England and collected there enough money to equip sixty-two catechists, young men, whom he took out with him from England. Each of these young men, with a small cart and pony, drives about a laid out section of the country, sleeping in a tent at night, and getting food anywhere, holding services whenever possible. During three months in winter they attend the College of Prince Albert, at Calgary, and many of them will eventually become clergymen.

Many people know nothing of the great work being done by the Rev. John Antle among the lumbermen in the Georgian Bay region. Rector of the Church of Holy Trinity in Vancouver, the Bishop asked him to take a trip through this region, where he found many large logging camps, with large numbers of men who had no opportunity of hearing the word of God, and no medical attention of any kind, though accidents and illness were of course common. He made up his mind to devote his life to this cause, and with money partly collected by himself, and partly contributed by the Church, he bought and fitted out the little steamer Columbia, in which he goes up and down the coasts of the Georgian Bay. The steamer has a hospital room, and the cabin is fitted up for a chapel. He has also managed to collect money enough to build a little hospital in that wild region, which is now in charge of a doctor, his assistant, and two nurses of the Victorian Order, and where during eight months of the year 1908, 1,628 cases were treated. Lives have been saved, and men won by that splendid work of Mr. Antle.

The next subject to be taken up by Dr. Shreve will be "Palestine."

Jones gave a Scotch reading, Miss Evelyn Miltimore sang a couple of songs in very good style, the Misses Jennie Barker, Myrtle McClatchie and Dolly Bell gave an Indian club drill; Masters Benny Draper, Buster McClatchie and Jack Judson sang a trio which greatly amused everyone. Miss Elsie Decker recited and Mr. Duboyce sang a couple of songs. The ladies of the two churches realized quite a number of hard earned dollars as a result of their sugar socials.

Mr. Herman Barnes, of Provost Hill, was the guest of Mr. H. E. Jenne one day last week.

Mrs. H. E. Jenne is quite ill at present.

Regardless of price, horse-power or number of cylinders, Buick Cars have won more important stock car, hill climbing speed and endurance contests, and made more world's stock car records in 1909 than all other cars combined.

A few of the hundreds on record.

DR. WILLIAMS, OF SHERBROOKE, with his Model 10 McLaughlin Buick, made nearly 6,000 miles in 1909.

His total cost for repairs was $1.63. The machinery shows no signs of wear and the Doctor considers his car as good as new.

Mail and passengers over the trails of the half desert country between Roswell and Torrance, New Mexico, have covered 110 miles a day 300 days a year; each car has run over one hundred and ten thousand miles; they are still in service and expect to round out five years in Uncle Sam's employment.
