Approval in principle is given to PCs old age pension measure

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons old age pension debate—fertilized ground for feathering of election-campaign nests among all three parties—nearly an end Tuesday night.

Approval in principle and detailed study of the short bill came swiftly after an all-day debate on the measure to pay all citizens 70 and over an extra $10 monthly, effective last Feb. 1. The existing rate is $55 monthly.

Third and final reading, before Senate consideration, was scheduled today.

Senior Canadian citizens will have received $25 a month more in just over four years when the bill becomes law, Justice Minister Fulton said—or an increase of 62.5 per cent.

Even if one credited the 1957 increase of $6 to the Liberals, who had pledged it, the present Progressive Conservative government had upped the old age pension by $19 or 41.3 per cent, he said.

AMENDMENTS FIRST

Mr. Fulton stressed the need of constitutional amendments before the government can bring in a comprehensive contributory pension plan starting at age 65.

Paul Martin, former Liberal health minister, blamed Finance Minister Fleming for blocking the plan that figured in the 1958 Conservative election campaign.

The member for Essex East, chief Liberal critic in the two-day debate on the bill and a preliminary resolution, said taxes wouldn't be increased by one cent under the Liberal proposal of a "national minimum" of $75 monthly for all aged 65 or more under a contributory system.

Criminal assizes end Butter robbery accused skips bail

The 1962 term of the St. Francis District Criminal Assizes ended Tuesday morning in Sherbrooke in an abrupt manner when Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel told the Court that two accused wouldn't be appearing for their trial.

The crown attorney said that Sidney Lass, 60, charged in connection with a series of butter robberies in the province early last autumn, had jumped bail and couldn't be found. Judge Mitchell immediately ordered that his $2,000 bail be forfeited and that an arrest warrant be issued against him.

Promise increased resistance

ALGIERS (AP)—The Secret Army Organization promised intensified resistance and stepped up mobilization against President de Gaulle today but said there will be no call for an immediate public uprising to block Algerian independence.

"You will see that we are not preparing a putsch, but a massive, progressive and methodical rising of the whole population," the rightist terror organization told its followers in its newspaper The Call of France.

"The resistance of patriots in Algeria will be intensified and progressive mobilization of all forces will be accelerated," the underground organization of Europeans said.

"The fight will continue until the elimination of traitor de Gaulle and until victory of the cause of French Algeria, the only one which can guarantee a lasting peace."

The statement said secret army field units are being slowly organized and stockpiling of food, medicine and gold by the European population has been ordered.

"In the second phase of the revolutionary war, all patriots will have a role to play," the instructions said. "Everybody will receive an order of mobilization and the necessary instructions."

Another accused, Denise Bousquet, of Magog, was remanded to the next term of the criminal assizes. She is charged with attempted murder against her brother after having struck him a number of times with an axe in March, 1960. She is presently under the care of doctors at the St. Michel Archange Institute.

Lass was ordered to stand trial last October following his preliminary inquest in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions. He was one of five men arrested and charged with stealing 4,500 pounds of butter valued at about $3,000 at St. Hermenegilde, 25 miles south of Sherbrooke, on October 16.

The facts which were brought forward during Lass' preliminary inquest had been deposited in the records of the five other accused. They are: Gabor Kun, 42, William Kastemayer, 21, Michael Quincey, 21, and Andrew Beely, 39. All are from Montreal. They will be tried in early March by a judge alone. Lass had elected to be tried by a judge and jury. All had been released on bail.

US Air Force

Probed flying saucers 15 years but says they don't really exist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force said today that after 15 years of investigating flying saucers there is no evidence that any of the 7,369 unidentified flying objects checked out were spacecraft swooping in from distant planets.

To date, no unidentified flying object has given any indication of threat to the national security, the air force concluded in summing up its investigations from 1947 through last year.

It said its "project blue book" has turned up no evidence that any of the unidentified sightings represented technological advances "beyond the range of our present day scientific knowledge," or that any of the UFO's were "extraterrestrial vehicles under intelligent controls."

During 1961, the air force's official of aerial phenomena investigated 488 UFO reports—26 less than the year before.

Murdochville decision next fall

QUEBEC (CP)—The last witness took the stand Tuesday, but the Gaspé Copper strike damage case is still far from over.

After 16 months, 355 witnesses have provided 15,000 pages of testimony in Gaspé Copper Mines Limited's $5,278,692 claim against the United Steelworkers of America (C.L.C.).

But it likely will be next fall before Judge Antoine Lacourciere of the Quebec Superior Court renders a decision after the final summations are made.

Even then, appeals may be made—adding many more months, even years, to a court marathon that began Sept. 26, 1960.

Gaspé Copper's claim is based mainly on production losses, allegedly suffered during a seven-month strike of its Murdochville, Que., miners in 1957.

Look to caucus for hint

Election on April 9?

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservative MPs looked to today's weekly party caucus to give them at least a hint to the answer to the biggest question of the new parliamentary session: How long will it last?

A wave of election fever swept through their ranks Tuesday. Many of them, particularly those from Western Canada, freely predicted Prime Minister Diefenbaker would ask Governor-General Vanier to dissolve Parliament this week, and set an election date for early April.

Dissolution this weekend would mean the earliest the election could be held would be Monday, April 9, as a minimum of 57 days is required between the issue of the writs and the actual polling day.

The following Monday is the first day of Holy Week. This does not necessarily rule it out as an election day possibility since the 1958 election was held that day.

The subsequent Monday, however, falls on Easter weekend, when political campaigning would be inappropriate. Any later election day would mean an interruption in the campaign by Easter weekend.

No firm foundation could be found for the wave of speculation. It seemed to be fostered primarily by the Western MPs. Other Conservative sources, however, said the time is not yet ripe for assuring the return of a big Conservative majority in Ontario and Quebec.

Tuesday's announcement by Finance Minister Fleming that the government will use bilin-qual cheque forms for all its remittances, once present printed stocks have expired, was hailed as a morale-booster for the Quebec Conservatives whose fortunes have been re-ported in a slump.

HAS FINAL DECISION

Mr. Diefenbaker alone has the final decision on the election date. So far, he has given no solid hint.

Bobby Kennedy address

Asks Japan's youth to battle poverty

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—U.S. Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy challenged Japan's youth today to join in a world-wide fight against poverty, ignorance and disease.

"As young people, we can do battle together as brothers to make great progress," Kennedy told students at a petroleum institute in the heart of Japan's teeming industrial area.

Enthusiastic students mobbed Kennedy when he arrived from Tokyo, reaching to shake his hand and shouting hello.

There were only brief demonstrations by Communists on the second day of his six-day visit to Japan. At a Kyoto hotel, as the Kennedy party drove up in a bus, about 100 Japanese Communists shouted "go home Robert Kennedy" and waved banners reading "give up the crack-down on the American Communist party," "U.S. imperialism, the enemy of humanity" and "Yankee go home."

At another point several demonstrators held up banners reading: "We are against the oppression of the Communist Party of America." Kennedy ignored them.

The U.S. president's 36-year-old brother questioned the students at the petroleum institute about their studies and told them:

"You have the responsibility to help in the fight that has to be fought by all young people throughout the world against poverty, ignorance and disease."

Kennedy, who flew with his wife to Osaka from Tokyo this morning, also toured an electrical plant that turns out 100,000 TV sets a month.

The largest mine catastrophe in the history of the rich coal and steel basin of the Saar valley occurred in 1902.

At that time 148 miners lost their lives in an explosion in the Reder mine near Saarbruecken.

The last major catastrophe occurred at Zwickau in Communist East Germany Feb. 22, 1960. Some 123 miners were killed then in a severe explosion of coal gas in the state-owned Karl Marx hard coal mine.

Germany's worst post-war mine catastrophe was Feb. 20, 1946, when 402 men lost their lives in an explosion in the Monopol-Grimberg mine at Bergkamen in the Ruhr Valley.

Auction ready, but goods gone

BOSTON (AP)—The auctioneer's red flag was flipping briskly in the breeze. The city auctioneer and his assistants were there.

At least one prospective bidder was there.

All that was missing Tuesday was the three-family house which Boston officials had ordered sold for taxes.

The building department razed the building last October and forgot to tell the real estate property department.

Hope for a stronger federation in future

Regret in Britain at collapse of the West Indies Federation

LONDON (AP)—There was regret in Britain today at the collapse of the West Indies Federation—the plan to build Commonwealth country out of the 10 West Indian colonies.

But there was hope too that eventually an even stronger Caribbean federation could be created embracing other territories which were not members of the original—the Bahamas, and mainland British Guiana and British Honduras.

The Daily Mirror suggested that the next step should be to try to bring together the British islands, the French and Dutch territories in the area, British Guiana and prosperous Puerto Rico.

"They have a lot in common and might in time make a much stronger union than the purely British federation would ever have been," the paper said.

Colonial Secretary Reginald Maudling sounded the death knell of the federation in the House of Commons Tuesday night with regret.

Last month he visited the Caribbean and had discussions with the federal government, the premiers of Barbados, Trinidad and the chief ministers of Leeward and Windward islands.

"My talks revealed that we faced this situation: Jamaica has declared its determination to withdraw from the federation and this decision has been accepted by the British government," he said.

"The federation was set up four years ago and the idea was that it should become an independent member of the Commonwealth."

But more than three-quarters of the people lived in two of the islands.

"Other milk," he added—"and I hate to say this—I think has been injected with vinegar, which turns it sour in about 10 minutes."

Then the governor described how paper milk cartons could be pierced with a hypodermic needle containing vinegar.

Tax cuts planned for Australia

CANBERRA (CP)—Tax cuts, increased unemployment benefits and more government funds for public works and housing are part of the new Australian fiscal policy announced Tuesday by Prime Minister Robert Menzies.

Menzies, recently returned to power in a close election, said that Australia is faced with increased unemployment and a lack of confidence which is limiting buying and production.

Opposition Leader Arthur Calwell said the government's plans to stimulate industry and overcome unemployment will not change the situation much.

"We are now in the middle of the third recession in 10 years," he commented in Brisbane.

The government held 11 conferences with leaders of industry, commerce, banking and labor unions before completing the draft of the new measures five days ago. Menzies disclosed the proposals at a press conference Tuesday.

Governor Rockefeller touches off controversy

Says vinegar souring New York milk supply

NEW YORK (CP)—This city where 8,000,000 quarts of milk are sold a day is in the middle of a sour milk controversy with a bit of politics mixed in it.

Has some of the city's milk supply been purposely soured with vinegar?

Governor Nelson Rockefeller, a Republican up for re-election next year, says he thinks so. Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat who may be his opponent for the governorship, challenges the governor to prove it.

Since Rockefeller made the accusation to reporters last Tuesday at his home here, he has not offered any evidence to substantiate a claim of doctored milk.

They have no evidence either—but they have "suspicions" about it.

Why would anyone want to sour the city's milk supply?

FAVORS OLD SYSTEM

Rockefeller has hinted that enough complaints of sour milk would bring public pressure to return to the old system of stamping the date on the containers of milk, as Wagner wants.

In 1960, the Republican-controlled state legislature abolished the date-stamping requirement of milk dating. Since then there have been demands by city officials that the predominantly Democratic city be given back the right to require dating.

Rockefeller recently recommended to the state legislature that the dating prohibition be repealed.

Dairy farmers and the milk industry wanted to see milk dating go long before it was outlawed. They claimed that practices had become so efficient that dating was unnecessary to protect families from sour milk.

Dies at 102

NORWOOD, Ont. (CP)—Norwood's oldest resident and one of Canada's oldest inhabitants, George McMillan, 102, died Tuesday at his home here. He farmed the family homestead north of this Peterborough area community until his retirement in 1939 when he moved here.

The milk industry felt—and still does—that doing away with milk dating is more economical for them.

Add to charges

OTTAWA (CP)—Authorities said Tuesday that a 33-year-old RCMP sergeant charged with forging and uttering a government cheque has been further charged with possessing another 214 cheques worth a total of $20,000. Sgt. Joseph T. Bouffard of the force's Criminal Investigation Branch in Ottawa was arrested last week on a charge of forging and cashing a $166 government cheque.

men say, the stores don't have to worry about carrying milk over to the next day. To the housewife, it's not "outdated." The stores order more milk in the morning hours and don't need extra deliveries in the afternoon.

Rockefeller told reporters Saturday that sour milk has been sold in New York City in various areas. "Some of it, I think, may have turned sour because it was left out too long."

"Other milk," he added—"and I hate to say this—I think has been injected with vinegar, which turns it sour in about 10 minutes."

Then the governor described how paper milk cartons could be pierced with a hypodermic needle containing vinegar.

About Television

NEW YORK (AP)—There has been many a TV tale about sweet little old ladies with a penchant for homicide and all of them have seemed to be pale carbons of Abby and Martha Brewster, the spinster sisters with the secret, lethal recipe for elderberry wine.

And Monday night, courtesy of NBC, Joseph Kesselring's originals were back for 90 minutes. It was a fine, frolicsome TV adaptation of the long-running and classic Arsenic and Old Lace.

Aunts Abby and Martha sympathetically dispensed their 12th lonely old "friend" and stashed him in the living room window box as the merry tale or murder begins.

Boris Karloff was back in his original stage role of the murdering Brewster brother who, owing to a fortunate plastic surgery, resembled Boris Karloff.

Dorothy Stickney and Mildred Natwick were delightful as the Brewster sisters, who could never tell fibs but just couldn't resist helping the old and lonely to their reward.

Even the producers of westerns seem weary of the same old means of transportation. The horse, NBC's Outlaws will have an episode March 1 in which the bank robbers make their get-away in a turn-of-the-century automobile called a Holtzman.

RED NOSE DOESN'T COME OUT OF A BOTTLE

Q—I have a red nose that some people call a "whisky nose." But I don't drink and never did. What can cause it except whisky? Why can't I get rid of it? I've tried most everything.

A—The condition you describe is probably acne rosacea. Unlike the acne of adolescents, it rarely appears until the 30s, and then more often in the female.

As you might guess from the meaningless name, we know almost nothing about it except what you've already found out, namely, that it has nothing to do with alcoholic beverages and is resistant to treatment. I wish I could give you some positive recommendation. But failing that I can warn you to avoid adding to your distress and expense by letting yourself in for panic treatments including X-ray exposures and burning with chemicals.

Q—I have lateral sclerosis. Is there a cure for it? Where can I find out more about the condition?

A—Write the Multiple Sclerosis National Society, 257 Park Ave., South, New York, N.Y.

Q—Just what is the present opinion about low-cholesterol diets for the prevention and treatment of hardening of the arteries?

A—Constant readers of these columns may remember that I limited my dietary recommendations to a simple reduction in the total caloric intake of the foods, and especially the fats, of the basic American diet.

I was quite prepared to spread my butter a little thinner, take one strip of bacon on my eggs instead of three and settle for one scoop of ice cream instead of a plateful.

I could see no reason for deserting the dairy farmer because some of my colleagues failed to realize that our bodies can manufacture cholesterol from substances other than cholesterol itself, just as the pig manufactures bacon from swill, as the cow provides us with the makings for butter and cream out of pasture and the hen gives us egg yolk out of back yard peckings.

So you can imagine how pleased I was to receive a pamphlet from the American Heart Assn. in which it is stated that "even when an individual eliminates cholesterol-rich foods from his diet, his body can manufacture cholesterol from other substances."

Please note that this is not a rejection of the need for weight reduction by those threatened with or suffering from atherosclerosis or any of its consequences.

It is a plea for weight reduction by the simplest and least expensive method. Namely, a reduction in the total caloric intake provided by the basic American diet.

Serious burns Garage worker on critical list in Hotel Dieu

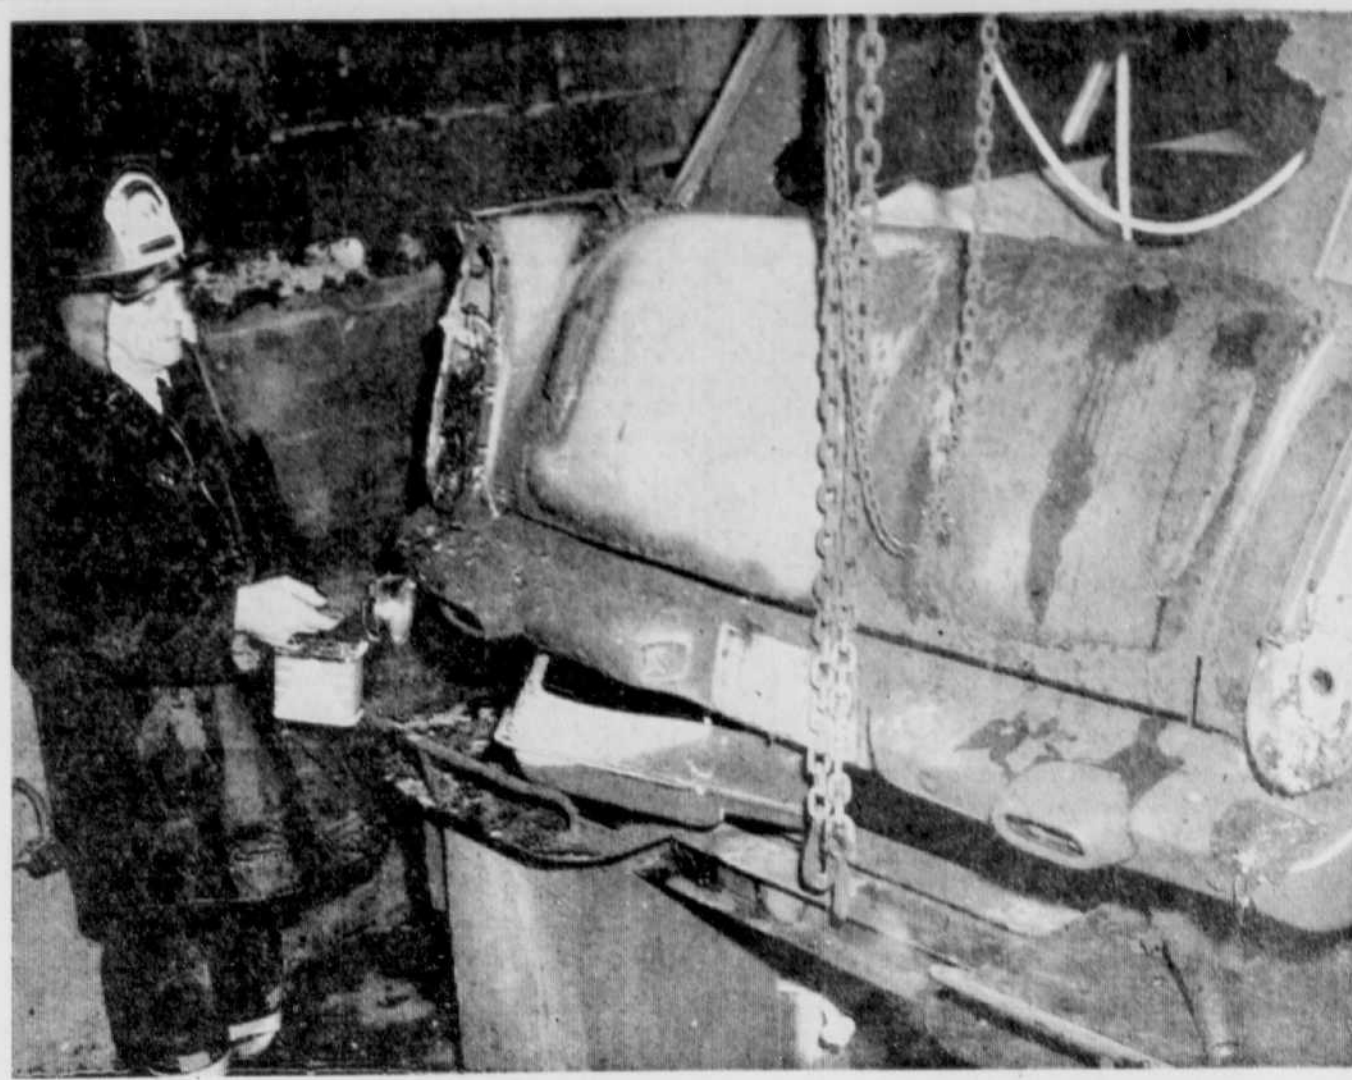

Marcel Brochu, 39, Galt Street in Sherbrooke who still on the critical list at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Sherbrooke Wednesday, with second degree burns received when the gas tank of a car on which he was working exploded in his face late Tuesday morning.

Hospital authorities described his condition this morning as "unchanged."

Mr. Brochu, who works for Sherbrooke Auto Spring, 240 Camirand Street, was down in the garage pit working on the gas tank of a car Tuesday morning when gas fumes leaked out of the tank, came in contact with an air compressor, which was nearby, and exploded.

Douglas MacLeod, a fellow employee, took Brochu to the hospital after he dragged him out of the pit with flames leaping in his face. MacLeod himself received slight burns to the face.

The fire, which was brought under control by the Sherbrooke Fire Department caused part of the roof of the garage to collapse and considerable damage was done in the building and to two cars that were inside.

To ask gas firm about plans

The Sherbrooke city council said Monday night they will ask the Cartier Natural Gas Corporation where they plan to lay underground lines through the city and when they will install them.

The decision was taken after Ald. Paul Gervais told council members that the city was left in the dark as far as the project is concerned.

"The city doesn't know where the corporation plans to lay their pipes and when," Ald. Gervais said.

The council agreed to write and ask the corporation for plans of the project.

A science fiction-like future

Homes will have all electronic comforts

Homes of the future will be a marvel of electronic comfort, a representative of a Montreal electrical firm said Tuesday.

Speaking before Sherbrooke Rotarians, Donald de Lotbiniere Harwood said that through the improvement of electrical appliances, luminescent panels will provide us with the desired amount of light, in the colors that suit our fancy, while at the same time cooling or heating the house, depending on the season and outside temperature.

"The future housewife has a lot to look forward to," said Mr. Harwood. "Ultrasonic devices will clean the clothes in the wardrobes while she sleeps and the housewife will see her rugs cleaned and the house dusted electrostatically," he said.

"We will probably have an integrated home communications system, combining telephone, television and radio," he noted.

Large television screens mounted in the walls of possibly every room will allow us to hold a two-way conversation with anyone we may wish to communicate with, Mr. Harwood explained.

"The best teachers on any subject will teach children in nearby schoolhouses through education T.V. circuits and our favourite newspaper and possibly our mail will be delivered electronically through facsimile receivers in the home.

"Even bills and other such commercial transactions will be handled within an integrated business machine system," added Mr. Harwood.

Changes in the world of trade and commerce will be revolutionized in the next decade or two through electronics said Mr. Harwood who is employed by Northern Electric Co. Ltd.

The businessman of tomorrow will be able to handle the largest part of his business without leaving his office.

He may not need a stenographer to transcribe his letters or messages, for he will have

Accident injures 3

One person was taken to the hospital and two others were slightly injured Tuesday morning when two cars collided at the corner of Galt West and St. Denis Street, in Sherbrooke.

Mariette Roberge, 19, of 640 Galt West was hospitalized suffering from a fractured hip and cuts to face and arms. She is still in the Hotel Dieu hospital this morning but her condition is not considered serious hospital authorities said.

She was in a car driven by Roger Vachon, 22, 1040 Princess Street, who suffered a bad cut and bruise on his left knee in the accident.

The driver of the other car, Gerard Archambault, 44, 4944 Verdun Avenue, Montreal, suffered a gash on his forehead that required six stitches to close.

Police said the accident occurred when the two cars met at the corner of Galt and St. Denis and Archambault's car slid into the side of Vachon's.

Council discusses finances

The Lennoxville Town Council monthly financial statement came up for consideration at its regular meeting held Monday night.

Although none of the departments were in the red, Mayor Gilbey said that on closer examination some of the departments had taken more than 1/12 of their budget already.

He made particular reference to the Lights, Town Hall, and Relief, departments.

In the police report, Alderman Brown reported a rather quiet month with only five traffic tickets given to violators. No arrests were made.

The police department suggested to council that a 300 watt light bulb be placed on Little Forks Street. Alderman Brown said because there is no sidewalk on that street it was dangerous walking at night. Council turned the recommendation over to the lights committee.

Mayor Gilbey lauded the police and fire department for the fine job they have done throughout the town in insisting the town chimneys be kept clean and said that it was due to department's persistence that there had been no chimney fires in January.

On theft charge

Man refused bail for the third time

For the third time in less than a week, Raymond Aubert, 25-year-old Sherbrooke man, was refused bail in connection with a theft charge laid against him last week.

The latest refusal was made by Mr. Justice William Mitchell, of Sherbrooke Court of Queen's Bench, who was the third judge to oppose granting bail to the accused.

Judge Mitchell's refusal was pronounced a few minutes only after a motion was heard before him following defence counsel Yvon Roberge's appeal on a decision rendered last Thursday in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions by Judge Joseph Marier.

The judge had refused granting bail in favour of Aubert, or his 24-year-old companion, Raymond Denault, both charged with stealing fur coats from G. Perreault Furriers, 59 Alexander Street, Sherbrooke, early January 30.

Judge Marier had issued a statement at the close of the preliminary inquiry of both accused in which he expressed the belief that both were guilty of the crime against them.

He followed a course set down by Judge Edouard Boisvert who had also refused bail. Both accused were ordered to remain behind bars pending their trial during the next term of the St. Francis District Criminal Assizes, in January 1963.

Following Judge Marier's decision, defence counsel Yvon Roberge appealed the judge's decision and the hearings were held Tuesday morning.

Judge Mitchell maintained Judge Marier's decision in Aubert's case, since the latter was out on bail when he allegedly committed the offence with which he is charged. As for Denault, Judge Mitchell reserved his decision to Thursday.

Defence counsel Roberge maintained that bail should be granted when it is probable that an accused will attend his trial and should not be refused because of an accused past behaviour or the proof brought against him at his preliminary inquiry.

Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel said the accused had criminal records and that they were arrested a short time after the crime was committed. He said the proof submitted during the preliminary inquiry was so strong that it left little doubt as to the guilt of both accused.

Judge Mitchell agreed with defence counsel Roberge's allegations that an accused is presumed innocent until proven guilty, but said it was advisable to refuse bail in Aubert's case since he was already out on bail on a previous offence for which he will be tried in a speedy trial in March. However, in Denault's case, because Judge Marier had refused bail, Judge Mitchell reserved judgment so as to look further into the case. His decision will be known Thursday morning.

Appeals to city council Scouts council faces curtailment of activities without aid

B. C. Westgate, first vice-president of the Sherbrooke district council of the Boy Scouts Association, has told city council in a letter that the scouts' council is "faced with a possible curtailment of activities" unless the city provides some financial assistance.

Mr. Westgate asked in his letter that the city of Sherbrooke provide some financial assistance for the Boy Scouts because receipts from the Community Chest have been declining for several years and the council has used up its reserves.

City council said it would be unable to provide financial aid to the English-speaking Boy Scouts unless a $2 recreation tax is imposed.

Council members agreed the city would not be able to give grants to the Boy Scouts council because it was not included in the 1962 budget.

However, they agreed that if the recreation tax is passed in the private bill the city council members would study the possibilities of giving the Boy Scouts a grant.

A spokesman for the Sherbrooke District Boy Scout Council pointed out that request was not intended to have any connection with the proposed recreation tax and should not be construed in this manner.

He pointed out that some other agencies which receive funds from the Community Chest have also received additional grants from the city, and stressed that the request was made to put the English-speaking Boy Scout movement in the district on the same footing as the other organizations.

If the tax is imposed, the spokesman said, a separate representation will be made in the proper manner to the recreation tax committee on behalf of the Sherbrooke Boy Scouts.

In his letter to city council Mr. Westgate said "the district has relied on the Community Chest as its only source of revenue with which to make available to the boys this program of scouting."

"The receipts of the Community Chest have been declining for several years and in as much as we have now used up our reserves, we are faced with a possible curtailment of our activities," he noted.

The letter went on to say, "in view of the above we respectfully submit to your city council our requests for financial assistance during this 1962 year."

George Morgan, president of the Community Chest, told The Record Tuesday that the Boy Scouts were only allowed a little over $2,000 this year, less than half their objective.

"We had hoped to do better and we are disappointed we could not allow any more because it is necessary the Boy Scouts and Cubs get their demands," Mr. Morgan said.

He went on to say that if the city would give financial aid to the Scouts and Cubs "the money could not be in a better place and it would more than please everyone."

"The Community Chest has been forced to cut recreational budgets due to the fact their last campaign only reached half of its $29,800 objective," Mr. Morgan said.

Sherbrooke Court Fined $175 on 3 counts

A Sherbrooke man was fined a total of $175 in Sherbrooke District Court Tuesday morning after he pleaded guilty to three court charges.

Richard Chaloux, 31, admitted disturbing the peace, of driving his car while under the influence of alcohol, and of having in his possession a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle.

Judge Redmond Hayes fined the accused $25 on the first count, $100 on the second, and $50 on the third. He also ordered that Chaloux's driving permit be suspended for three months.

Another Sherbrooke man, Rene Hebert, 27, also pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace. He was fined $25.

Both men were arrested early Tuesday morning in Greenlay. A complaint had been lodged that they had disturbed the peace by being drunk and making noise in a public place. They were both arrested as they were driving to Sherbrooke.

Chaloux asked that a delay be granted for payment of the several fines levied against him. It was revealed, however, that the accused didn't live in Sherbrooke and that he worked in Ontario. Judge Hayes therefore refused granting any delay. If the accused can't muster the $175, he will spend seven weeks behind bars.

Two Sherbrooke youths were allowed to go on a suspended sentence in Sherbrooke District Court Tuesday morning after they pleaded guilty to two charges of theft totalling $20.

Real Ethier, 19, and Laurent Nadeau, 21, admitted stealing two hub caps and a jack from a parked car during the night of February 5 to 6, Judge Redmond Hayes, while imposing sentence, admonished both young men "who had dishonored their parents' name by committing petty thefts."

To discuss Howardene at meeting

Gontran Guillemette, first vice-president of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday he plans to meet with members of clubs and organizations in the near future to discuss what should be done with the buildings of Howard Park.

Mr. Guillemette said he sent invitations to clubs and organizations to meet with the chamber and discuss the future of Howard Park and what should be included for amusements of all kinds.

"We want to study the best things for the park as soon as possible because time is going fast and plans have to be made soon," Mr. Guillemette said.

"We have no definite plans for the property as yet, but there are a number of good suggestions going around," he said.

He said one of the best suggestions received is that of converting one of the buildings into a concert hall.

The suggestion has been brought up many times in past weeks in talks with Mayor Armand Nadeau. The mayor said he is in favor of having a concert hall in one of the Howardene buildings.

'Academic snobbery' a harmful trend

A Canadian Conference on Education study says schools and parents in Canada tend too often to teach an "academic snobbery" that helps create unemployment.

Nub of the matter, the study suggests, is that vocational courses now have a "second best" status and the tendency has been for pupils who failed other courses to transfer to them.

Students and parents, it is pointed out, too often choose academic courses "primarily on the basis of status consideration," and not necessarily on the basis on what would be best for the student's abilities, aptitude and talents.

Part of the same problem is the fact that modern children, especially those living in the suburbs, have no knowledge of the "world of work." School activities, the study points out, often keep a student busy in a world that is frequently unrelated to the one in which he will be ultimately employed.

"And his parents and teachers may have very limited experiences themselves."

The study suggests that introducing the world of work should be accepted as one of the primary responsibilities of elementary schools — through films, television, programs speakers and classroom study.

While it may be questionable as to whether developments along this latter line are really necessary at the elementary school level, the fact cannot be ignored that vocational training in Canada has lagged far behind the requirements of our age.

Successful plumbers, electricians, carpenters and mechanics today need to be highly-skilled, intensively trained people. Plumbing is not just a matter of fixing leaky faucets, or electricity a matter of repairing television sets; they embrace wide and vital areas of everyday living and business in every sector of the community.

It is this kind of emphasis that needs to be stressed more: that the academic life is not necessarily the highest, the most satisfying nor the most lucrative.

And the emphasis must begin soon. There are 29 technological institutes in Canada. Last year, there were only 9,443 students in the, and only 1,730 were graduates. The number is woefully inadequate in comparison with the need.

Thieves were arrested when they tried to sell stolen lingerie. There's many a slip.

Queer result of college "education"

The periodical demand of some United States Senator or Congressman that Canada be annexed to the Great Republic in payment of Great Britain's First World War debt is greeted by most Canadians as the remarks of some individual just letting off steam.

But an incident in Halifax last week raises some doubts as to the basic strength of some of the "education" being disseminated in some American universities.

A group of 115 girl university students travelling to Europe to broaden their learning by attendance at continental institutions were interviewed on Nova Scotia conditions by a Halifax reporter.

Their views on Nova Scotia were illuminating to say the least. Taken as a group, their preconceived opinion was:

The fruits of carelessness and thoughtlessness can easily upset your apple cart.

Gratifying turnout for ET elections

Public apathy about politics has often been cited as one of the flaws to which a democratic way of life is too often prone.

Some countries offset it by making voting in elections compulsory, subject only to a few exceptions. In these countries the percentage of eligible voters exercising their right at the polls is often 90 per cent and better.

But in countries where voting is not compulsory, 60, 50 and even 40 per cent turnouts for elections at various levels is not uncommon, demonstrating a lamentable absence of a sense of responsibility on the part of the general public.

But community politics in the Eastern Townships often seems to bring this sense to the surface. A case in point were the Monday elections, in which officials estimated an average of over 80 per cent of all eligible voters went to the polls in Acton Vale, Cookshire, Lake Megantic, Magog and Scotstown. In one centre at least, the turnout was phenomenal — 85 per cent in Cookshire.

This kind of a response to community affairs is gratifying. It means that no matter who is elected, the community is the winner.

Other papers say:

The Bluenose should have been saved

The gallant ship went to Davy Jones' locker 16 years ago — foundering after striking a reef off Haiti — but Nova Scotia's pride is still stirred by memories of their championship racing schooner Bluenose, once queen of the Canadian Atlantic fishing fleet.

That pride has just been expressed anew in the launching of a movement to build a replica of the famous craft. The interested Lunenburg and Halifax businessmen expect it will cost $150,000 to $200,000. A "Schooner Bluenose Society" has been formed, and a national financial drive is planned.

The one sad thing about it all is to think that the same lively enthusiasm for the Bluenose did not always exist while she was still alive — to think that the vessel had to end her career toting freight from island to island in the Caribbean, far from the scenes of her great triumphs and from the country that had honored her with a special stamp and a special coin.

There is something in human nature that seems to prevent us from valuing the real worth of such assets until we have lost them. Any museum today would think it was a great boon to rediscover a genuine stagecoach, for instance; yet they were burned or broken up for firewood when they were superseded by trains. Now the steam locomotives themselves have gone, though fortunately a few are being preserved by people and institutions of foresight.

There may come a day when some museum will talk of rebuilding an old-time Saint John street car, if by then there are no genuine ones left. And sometime there will certainly be, in a display place of honor, a reproduction of a distinctive low-slung Saint John wheel-

Lavish development program

Ottawa getting beauty treatment for Canada's centennial year

OTTAWA (CP)—To the staccato chatter of pneumatic drills, Canada's capital is getting a lavish beauty treatment for the 1967 centennial of Confederation.

Meanwhile, at Tunney's Pasture in the west end, the go-ahead has been given for the city's first skyscraper—the 291-foot-high, 18-storey health and welfare department headquarters. When ready in 1963 it will house 19 branches now scattered around the city.

A 14-storey, $7,000,000 agriculture headquarters building has been designed and a new seven-storey $3,000,000 head office is planned for the CBC.

Planners hope to provide the city with, among other things, a new national museum, national library, railway station, downtown hotel-shopping centre, parkways, gardens and many new government and private office and residential buildings.

Things are happening downtown, too. Near the Parliament Buildings on Wellington Street temporary wooden buildings are earmarked for demolition this winter. In their place will rise the $11,000,000 National Library, its green roof and granite exterior designed to harmonize with the neighboring Supreme Court building.

Several historical projects are on the drawing boards. Along the ceremonial Sussex Drive from Parliament Hill to the Governor-General's residence, a "Mile of History" is planned with restoration of old buildings to their appearance in Confederation days. At Victoria Island and Richmond Landing on the Ottawa River, the district's first settlements, as they existed in 1818, are to be reconstructed.

Federal authorities, who since the war have spent $125,000,000 on new buildings in the capital, plan to spend upwards of $75,000,000 on further expansion in the next few years.

Sweeping improvements are envisaged for the heart of the city around Confederation Square, site of the National War Memorial. By 1965 Union Station will have been replaced by an ultra-modern rail terminal in suburban Alta Vista, permitting new developments near the Rideau Canal, now an eyesore of railroad tracks.

Future development plans by the city, which opened an $8,000,000 city hall in 1958 and a modern filtration plant last year, have not been announced pending publication of a building renewal study. Final removal of old streetcar tracks, new hospital expansion and perhaps some low-cost housing are seen as possible ventures in the next few years, in addition to seeking establishment of light secondary industry in the Ottawa area.

Completed buildings, named after Fathers of Confederation, include the $7,150,000 Sir Charles Tupper public works and fisheries block, the $5,500,000 Sir Alexander Campbell post office headquarters, a $2,800,000 National Research Council communications laboratory, a $1,400,000 public works testing laboratory and $800,000 cafeteria.

Long-range plans suggest possible construction of a 4,000-seat convention hall on the present Union Station site and conversion of the nearby Sparks Street shopping area, closed to motor traffic experimentally the last two summers, into a permanent pedestrian mall. Another proposal is for a $10,000,000 program to bury unsightly downtown hydro wires.

Meanwhile, the city is mushrooming upwards in the downtown section and outward in the suburbs. A score of new 10- and 11-storey offices and luxury apartments are under construction and more are expected to soar even higher if the city rescinds a bylaw limiting building height to 111 feet—a measure designed to preserve the lofty dominance of the 291-foot Peace Tower.

Within three years Confederation Heights is to be finished with addition of a $1,000,000 headquarters for radiation and nuclear fallout detection services, a $8,000,000 northern after war building in the capital, plan to spend upwards of $75,000,000 on further expansion in the next few years.

Dear Sir: The Executive and Borspical Committee of the Ladies' Sherbrooke Curling Club have asked me to express their appreciation to you and members of your staff for your cooperation during our recent three day bonspiel.

World's eye view: Moscow is smiling; better days ahead

A little while ago a London newspaper printed on its front page a small cartoon which was a rather cynical joke on itself.

It showed an English couple at tea. The wife was looking up from her newspaper and remarking, with a look of bored resignation: "There can't be any news today. They're writing about Russia again."

Well, they are, and we are, writing about Russia again. And there seems to be a pretty sound reason for it. Forces are moving in Russia which just could mean a significant change in East-West relations.

But they are not the stuff of headlines. Already there is a noticeable relaxation of tension over Berlin; the crisis has lessened for the time being, at least. The Russians have been writing folksy overtures to the Bonn government suggesting that relations with Moscow can become more cordial without estranging the German Federal Republic from its western allies.

And, during the past fortnight, President Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, has been busy chatting with his opposite number in the Russian camp and with Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzubei, editorial boss of the Official Russian government newspaper Izvestia.

THEY MAY BECOME PALS Indeed, Salinger and Adzubei have appeared publicly in such cordial association that there is more than a suggestion that they are going to be allowed by their respective governments to become pals.

This diplomacy by journalists is something new in modern times (though by no means new to history.) It is not without importance; because it helps to create a friendlier atmosphere despite the necessity of political decisions by the governments directly involved.

With blood pressures lowered on both sides, the creation of a better atmosphere might lead to promising negotiations on the important issues dividing the Western and Communist camps. One of the factors—the principal factor—that has blocked negotiations on the Berlin issue has been the American position that it would not seek an accommodation while faced with threats and ultimatums from Moscow.

Both President Kennedy and Khrushchev's son-in-law have made it clear that the informal talks that have been going on have not dealt with the fundamental problems facing the two nations: Berlin and the German treaty.

However, if the atmosphere continues friendly, the prospects for a Kennedy visit to completion in 1965. The war memorial itself would be supplemented as a site for ceremonial functions by a National Memorial Building on Nepean Point, a high brow over the Ottawa River adjacent to Parliament Hill. Work is scheduled to start this year on the building, which will house the Books of Remembrance and serve as a memorial to all those killed in wars involving Canada.

Several historical projects are on the drawing boards. Along the ceremonial Sussex Drive from Parliament Hill to the Governor-General's residence, a "Mile of History" is planned with restoration of old buildings to their appearance in Confederation days. At Victoria Island and Richmond Landing on the Ottawa River, the district's first settlements, as they existed in 1818, are to be reconstructed.

Many of the new buildings will be set in parks and gardens. Landscapers already are developing a four-acre triangle at the western end of Sparks Street into a "Garden of the Provinces"—terraces and gardens featured by sculptured coats-of-arms of the 10 provinces.

One of the most costly schemes is a long-term plan to build a 4,500-acre $28,000,000 Satellite Farm in suburban Nepean Township to provide additional space for the Central Experimental Farm now surrounded by the city. Work may start next year on a $2,000,000 agricultural research branch building, first of 87 structures contemplated.

Meanwhile, the city is mushrooming upwards in the downtown section and outward in the suburbs. A score of new 10- and 11-storey offices and luxury apartments are under construction and more are expected to soar even higher if the city rescinds a bylaw limiting building height to 111 feet—a measure designed to preserve the lofty dominance of the 291-foot Peace Tower.

Huge outlay to revamp cotton mill. MAGOG, Que., February 7 - More than $3,000,000 will be spent this year modernizing the cotton mill of Dominion Textile Company here in order to compete with foreign fabric producers who now dominate about half the Canadian market.

Failure to compete technically with U.S. and other foreign mills means failure to win customers and thus, the loss of jobs for Magog citizens, he said. The company plans: all cards equipped with individual power drives and 18-inch diameter rollers; new Rovematic frames equipped with travelling cleaners and floor-sweepers; latest long draft conversions installed on spinning frames together with new high speed spindles; frame cleaners and floor-sweepers cleared by individual revolving units all being employed by a central waste recovery station; two nine cylinder dry can slushers will replace existing hot air types and automatic controls of atmosphere throughout the plant will be modernized.

Mr. Paquette said that this complete reorganization program for the cotton mill will cost more than $3,000,000 and it is expected to be completed by the end of this year.

Stanstead United Church hears reports on year's activities

STANSTEAD — At the annual congregational meeting of Centenary United Church reports were received and officers were elected. Prior to the meeting, supper was served to about 125 by the Evening Unit of the United Church Women.

Rev. A. McKinley Rose, chairman, received the following reports:

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Reporting on the activities and progress of the Sunday School, Lyle Patterson, superintendent, praised the work and devoted attention given to the pupils by Mrs. G. Bullis, who in Mr. Patterson's forced leave-of-duty, assumed leadership. The financial statement was read by the secretary, Mr. Hackett. The collection from the evening's supper, which always goes to the Sunday School, this year surpassed all others totaling more than $43.

Report of the Mission Band was given by Greg Audet, the financial sheet being read by Richard Middleton.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

B. W. Chamberlain, chairman of the year-old committee for the promotion of interest in the Missionary and Maintenance efforts of the Church, delivered a prepared brief on the objectives of his committee, and the efforts which were, and are being made to bring as complete a picture as possible of the work of this branch to as many as possible.

Reginald Martin, secretary of the Board of Stewards, and president of the Stanstead-Rock Island branch of the Bible Society, asked all to assist Mr. Chamberlain and his committee in the work, and mentioned that in the not-too-distant future canvassers would call to procure funds for the Bible Society.

Activities of the Board of Stewards were reported by the secretary, while the treasurer, Lee Audet, read the financial report, showing that, thanks to generous contributions at the end of the year, making the books balance in 1962 should be considerably easier. Much praise was given both Mr. Audet, and Mr. E. Hill, envelope steward, for their great amount of work.

Miss Gertrude Ketchum reported on the finances of the former Allegre Group, while Mrs. Alice Merriman gave a full resume of the activities of the past year.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. L. G. McGillon, a report of United Organizations' activities was read by Mrs. Bullis, indicating a most active year while the financial portion of the report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Merriman.

The report from the Bugbee Memorial Library fund, read by Mr. Hackett, treasurer, indicated the financial status to be quite solvent.

OFFICERS ELECTED

On recommendation of the nominating committee, B. W. Brown was re-elected to the session, and Howard Slack and Laurie Tilton were elected to the Board of Stewards. The choir director, Mrs. Rose, expressed appreciation of the work of the members and made a request for more male singers.

W. J. C. Sutton, chairman of the Board of Stewards, expressed on behalf of all the deep gratitude for the services of the minister, as well as the choir director, and the organist.

Donald McG. Hackett was secretary of the meeting and J. A. Grady thanked the ladies for the fine meal.

MAN FROM MARS? Clad in silverized asbestos suit, Red Adair, crack Texas oil-well firefighter marched into flames of Blueberry Well, 10 miles north of Fort St. John. The study described by those near him as awe inspiring was enough to determine how fire should be stopped. Red and others doused the flames of the B. C. blaze in less than an hour recently. Heads or tails—both win

By LOUISE MOORE

Heads or Tails—and I'm not tossing a coin to settle the issue, for it's merely extremists of the versatile ox and porker I have in mind. When these are tossed into a pot or casserole with a bouquet garni and a generous dousing of red wine they come out culinary triumphs.

Can you think of anything more heart warming on a chilly day than a big bowl of oxtail soup or a savory pate of head cheese—two so-good dishes seldom dished up today.

If you like a tasty cold meat, head cheese is the answer. It makes hearty eating when slathered on bread and butter or sliced to serve with salad. It's a cinch to make and keeps a week or more when well refrigerated.

HEAD CHEESE

Use half or a whole pig's head. Have butcher remove eyes and snout. Wash several times in cold water, scrubbing it well, using fresh water each time. Soak overnight in lightly salted water. Put into a large kettle with a pork hock also well scrubbed. Tie in a cheese cloth bag a handful of celery leaves, several sprigs parsley, a bay leaf, a dozen whole black peppers, 3 or 4 cloves and an onion sliced. Cover with cold water.

Some like to add a cup or more of dry white wine during the cooking, but this is very good head cheese without it.

Bring to boil slowly, skim and reduce heat to simmer. Simmer until meat falls from the bones, about 4 hours.

Remove head, pieces of hock and bones from the broth and bouquet garni squeezed dry. Strain the broth into a clean pot, add all the bits of meat which have fallen from the bones and simmer until reduced to 2½ cups.

Chop up rest of meat, picking out small splinters if any. Add to broth with seasonings to taste of salt, pepper and sage—or cinnamon and cloves to your liking.

Pour into jelly glasses. Fat will collect on top and make a perfect seal. Put on the tops and refrigerate.

Serve very cold with a green or a zesty potato salad, good bread and butter and a glass of beer for those who do.

A SOUTHERN DISH

Another way to do them is brown the cut-up tails in hot fat with onions and garlic. Then stir in a little flour, 2 cups water, 1 tsp. celery, salt, some minced parsley, a whiff of thyme, salt and pepper and a piece of bay leaf.

Add cubes of turnip and cook until all is tender—a real old southern recipe.

BRAISED OXTAILS

Ask butcher to cut oxtail into 2-inch sections. Wash thoroughly and dry.

Heat 2 tbsp. butter or margarine in heavy pot and add 1 medium onion, chopped. Sauté until onion is limp. Scoop out the onion and set aside.

In the same pot brown the oxtails which have been dredged with seasoned flour. A little extra fat may be needed for the browning. Pour in 1 can tomatoes (2½ cups), ½ cup water, 1 tbsp. vinegar, 2 tsp. sugar, ¼ tsp. black pepper, ½ bay leaf, 1 tsp. salt, 3 whole cloves. Bring to boil, cover and simmer over low heat until meat is tender.

While oxtails cook, wash 4 medium carrots and 4 sticks celery cut into cubes. Add to meat and cook until vegetables are tender—about 30 minutes. Serve with parsley potatoes or creamy mashed.

PIG'S TAILS

Trim and scrub thoroughly 5 or 6 pig's tails. Place in saucepan with salted water to cover and simmer gently until tails are done. Remove from broth, drain, wipe with a cloth and keep hot.

Melt 1 tbsp. butter in saucepan and in it sauté ¼ cup chopped mushrooms until well browned. Cover with 1 cup of the stock from the tails and cook until stock is reduced to half the quantity.

Add a little of the stock to 1 or 2 lightly beaten egg yolks. Then stir into rest of stock, stirring constantly from bottom of pan until gravy thickens.

Remove from heat, arrange the hot pig tails on a bed of pureed peas and pour the mushroom sauce over all.

BEEF OXTAIL SOUP

Have butcher cut an oxtail into joints of about 2 inches. Put in soup kettle with 1½ lbs. shin beef and a large marrow bone. Add 2 tsp. salt and 2 quarts water.

Bring to boiling point. Skim top of all froth, cover tightly and let simmer about 3 hours.

Then add ½ cup diced carrots, ½ cup diced celery and ½ cup coarsely chopped onion. Simmer until these vegetables are partly cooked. Add ¼ cup diced green pepper and 1 cup canned tomatoes and let all simmer together until vegetables are cooked.

Serve an oxtail joint with each portion of vegetable soup and sprinkle top with finely chopped parsley.

And let me remind you that sherry, madeira or claret—about a tbsp. per portion—makes a nice addition to clear soups and consommés.

Elegant early spring prints in new arnel surah

Fashion forecasts of new colour excitement are dramatically confirmed by the appearance of the first spring print styles. Always heralds of trends coming up, this year's array presents a colour extravaganza of silk-like fabrics.

Print patterns are varied and range from soft brushed and finely etched effects to splashy abstracts which heighten the silk-like look. Vibrant use of colour is the main theme however whether it is in rich jewel tones or startling black and white.

A brand new Canadian fabric which is proving a star performer among the new styles is Arnel surah, which combines beauty with previously unheard-of practical talents. That "must-have now" print dress will really brighten the winter wardrobe and carry on through the year when it is Arnel surah because this lustrous, wrinkle-shedding fabric is easy to wash. It is also permanently pleatable and, if trimming makes it necessary, will dry clean beautifully.

The styling possibilities of the new fabric are shown in the variety of designs being made with it now. There are many new versions of the perennially popular shirt-waist but there are also slim skirted blouses, and many styles with the pleats and fluid flounces on the fuller, softer lines of developing spring fashion trends.

Newsworthy is the new "twist" style, a sheath dress in which the Arnel surah is finely pleated from shoulder to thigh, ending in a gay flounce. Designed as a year-round luxury fabric, the Arnel surah is making its debut in spring prints in all size ranges from women's half-sizes to junior petites. Canadian designers and summer dresses will be seen shortly.

praise of this beautiful fabric and special prints for blouses and summer dresses will be seen shortly.

Jacobs Stein of Montreal chose a jewel-tone paisley print in the new Canadian luxury fabric, Arnel surah, to create a sleek dramatic shirtwaist, which can move with ease from club meetings to dining by candlelight. The fabric has the soft hand and sheen of silk, yet resists crushing and spotting. It can be dry-cleaned, or washed by machine or hand. Only a light-pressing is required. (Photo by Studio Marc)

An elegant new Canadian fabric, Arnel surah, stars in this sophisticated late-day dress. An inner camisole controls the blouson, which is gently contoured in front. The finely etched print in jet contribute to the fluid look of the permanently pleated skirt. The fabric has the glow and rustling grace of silk, yet resists spotting and crushing. It can be dry-cleaned or washed by machine or hand, and requires only a light pressing. (Photo by Studio Marc)

Pointed toes still in fashion

MONTREAL (CP)—A year in patent leather, is expected to represent 50 per cent of all spring shoe sales. Browns, beige and bone are expected to represent 25 per cent, with another 10 per cent taken up by blue, red, mesh and fabrics would account for the remaining 15 per cent.

Malcolm C. Knox, chairman of the Shoe Information Bureau of Canada, told a press conference that two-thirds of the spring shoes will have double or triple needle toes.

As for the square toe that was supposed to set the market afire, Mr. Knox said "the reception was lukewarm... and I'm being generous." The success of the crescent toe was somewhat better than the square.

"Nevertheless, the crescent toe is the toe of the future because this is the natural development of the last," he said. Asked when he thought the crescent toe would overtake the pointed toe, he said "perhaps in spring, 1963."

He also said that, despite fashion reports to the contrary, almost 50 per cent of the shoes in the United States still are being made with pointed toes.

WEST LAGS In Canada, their reception varies somewhat between East and West. In Quebec, 95 per cent of the spring and summer shoes would have very pointed toes.

But Western Canada, which never accepted the pointed toe with the enthusiasm of Quebec, is quicker to welcome the crescent toe. Ontario still prefers points, but in the double needle rather than the triple needle adopted in Quebec.

Mr. Knox said the open look is prevalent for spring, but was quick to interject that by the "open look" he didn't mean the sandal or the sling-back shoe. Reintroduced to Canada last year, both the sandal and sling-back "laid an egg," he said. The new open look is achieved with large perforations in the vamp.

Provincial High School curling championships open tomorrow with Drumville representing Townships

ARVIDA, Que. — The best school curlers in Quebec will compete in the Provincial School Curling Championship here this week.

The bonspiel, to be held here February 8 to 10, will see rinks from eight districts vie for the Pepsi-Cola Trophy and a berth to the Canadian School Curling Championship. Areas represented will be: Lower St. Lawrence; Lake St. John; St. Maurice Valley; Southwestern Quebec; Eastern Townships; Montreal; Quebec.

Winner of last year's event was the Arvida High school rink, skipped by Andy Hrycek; other team members were: Ron Washburn, third; Bill Langdon, second; Nicky Schoof, lead. The rink was coached by Harold Calder.

At the national junior bonspiel, school curling rinks from all over Canada compete for the national Pepsi-Cola Trophy, captured last year by the Osoyoos High School rink, Osoyoos, B.C.

The soft-drink firm makes both the provincial and national events possible by providing most of the expenses involved in conducting them. The company supports these events as part of its junior sports development program.

Curling officials estimate that more than 50,000 school children actively participate in curling in Canada, either in their own schools or at clubs which make curling available to youngsters at special rates.

John Uelses' glass-fibre pole is not new in jumping circles, Davies used similar to establish record

NEW YORK (AP)—The sudden controversy surrounding John Uelses' barrier-breaking pole vault is about 10 years late.

A spokesman for the IAAF said in London Tuesday "if someone breaks a world record with a glass-fibre pole, it will have to be considered very, very carefully before the record is ratified."

He apparently was not aware Davies had used such a pole. The rules do not require the pole's substance to be mentioned in an application for a record.

Bragg isn't the only voice raised in protest against the pole. Stan Hiesman, president of the United States Collegiate Track Coaches Association, said he will ask the National Collegiate Athletic Association to outlaw or control the use of the pole.

In Moscow last summer, Gabriel Khorobkov, coach of the Russian national team, said he was against the pole. But the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union is taking the attitude that it's legal until it's outlawed.

"All this is unfair to Uelses," said Dan Ferris, president of the AAU. "He doesn't have exclusive rights to it. Anyone can use it, so it's as fair to the others as it is to him."

Council hands out $9,375 to Ski Association

OTTAWA (CP) — A $500,000 program of bursaries for university-level training in fitness and sport was recommended Tuesday by the new National Advisory Council on Fitness and Amateur Sport.

Winding up its two-day inaugural meeting, the 30-member council also approved nearly $15,000 in special emergency grants for international athletes.

These were the first decisions taken by the council in its appointed task of allocating a $5,000,000 - a year federal grant aimed at promoting fitness and amateur sport in Canada.

The special grants went to: Canadian Amateur Ski Association, $9,375 to complete its European training program for 40 Canadian skiers.

Toronto speed skater Paul Enoch, $500 to send him to next week's world speed skating championships in Moscow.

Canadian Wheelmen's Association, $5,000 to send a seven-man cycling team to the Tour de l'Avenir in France July 1-14.

Als impressed with training spot at Granby

GRANBY, Que. (CP)—Training camp facilities here under review by Montreal Alouettes offer the Eastern Football Conference club a great setting for pre-season meditation.

A retreat house operated by the Roman Catholic Trinity Fathers would serve as accommodation for players and coaching staff.

But a spokesman hastily pointed out religion has nothing to do with the club's proposed training program. It just fits in with the club's emphasis on health, and of course, peace and quiet.

The Als sent a three-man team Tuesday to look over the facilities and the spokesman said they were "impressed."

For a playing field, the club could use Granby's Municipal Stadium, a baseball park.

Granby is 45 miles east of Montreal.

Last week the club sent three officials to Trois-Rivieres, Que., on a similar excursion.

ETMC plans Winter Rally, meet Thursday

The annual Winter Rally, a major rally of more than 150 miles over snow covered roads in the Eastern Townships, will be held on Saturday, February 17th.

"The Rally is one of the highlights of the competition year for the Eastern Townships Motor Club," commented Ed Day, one of the organizers of this year's rally. "We have tried to make this event primarily a test of driving skill, with the main emphasis on safe, careful driving. Average speeds will be kept around the 30 m.p.h. mark and our marshals will have instructions to assess penalty points, for any infractions of the safety rules."

Mr. Day also stated that although the number of starters will be limited to twenty-five, there were still a few starting positions open. Anyone interested in more information should attend the Club's regular monthly meeting, which will be held at the Magog Hotel in Sherbrooke, on Thursday evening, February 8th at 8:00 p.m. Besides a film on auto sport, the main topic of discussion at the meeting should be the coming Winter Rally. The meeting is open to anyone interested in Rallying.

Scandinavians will compete in hockey tourney

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Officials of the world hockey championships wound up a two-day conference Tuesday on a bright note — four Scandinavian countries had notified they will definitely participate in the games March 7-18.

Hockey federations in Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden notified the organizers they will compete whether the games here are labelled world championships or not.

Granby wins Bedford District hockey title

COWANSVILLE — Granby High School posted a 4-1 victory over the Cowansville High to win the District of Bedford Inter-scholastic Senior hockey championship. It was the sixth straight win for the Granby squad.

During the season they copied six games while they tied one for a total of 13 points. Granby finished second with six points while Knowlton, Bedford and Sutton followed.

It was the first title in the last three years as Cowansville won the crown in 1958-59 while Waterloo High has held it the last two years.

Centre Campbell Cross led the Red and White to victory with two goals while Ralph Lunn and Eric Dryden added singles. Labrecque scored Granby's tally in the last minute.

Cowansville netminder Bucky Williams pulled off at least three big saves in the first period when Granby held a territorial edge. These stops seemed to take the pep out of the Granby attack and Cowansville roared back to score twice in the second period. Lunn scored what proved to be the winner about the midway mark.

Cowansville tackles Sutton High at home in the last scheduled game Friday. Sutton is winless on the season while Cowansville has yet to taste defeat.

The league standing follows:

W	L	T	F	A	P
Cowansville	6	0	1	29	5
Granby	2	1	2	20	11
Knowlton	2	3	1	21	5

Bower irked at Leafs underrating Bruins

Goaltender Johnny Bower of Toronto Maple Leafs is irked at people who underrate Boston Bruins.

He figures the Bruins, winners of only 12 of 52 National Hockey League games this season, have just about ruined his chances for a second straight Vezina Trophy — and the $1,000 that goes with it.

"It makes me laugh when I hear somebody say the Bruins are not of NHL calibre," Bower said in an interview. "They certainly were strong enough for anybody the last three times they played on Toronto ice."

In those three games, the Bruins pumped 17 goals behind Bower, winning 7-4 Dec. 23, losing 7-5 Jan. 10 and then winning 5-4 Jan. 20.

Bower who currently trails Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens by 13 goals in the race for the Vezina — awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the fewest goals — thinks he knows where the trouble started.

"It all goes back to the beginning of the season when we beat the Bruins 9-1 on their home ice," he says.

"Our players immediately thought the Bruins were designed to fatten their production of goals and assists."

"Since that night, our fellows are not backchecking any more when we go against the Bruins. It all amounts to a question of forgetfulness on the part of the boys. They keep forgetting that I like $1,000 cheques too."

Bower, no doubt, hopes there will be a change when the Bruins again are in Toronto tonight.

It's a big game for the Maple Leafs, battling with Canadiens for the league championship.

Going into tonight's contest, the Leafs trail the Habs by six points and each team has 20 games left. A win for the Leafs would cut the deficit to four points.

Canadiens and Birds stopped

A rookie and a veteran fired twice for the Thunderbirds and the Bruins Tuesday night that stopped Sault Ste. Marie Thunderbirds, the club that lately has been bowing to few teams in the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

Bobby Leiter was inserted in the Kingston Frontenac lineup between wingers Tom McCarthy and Pete Panagabko and came up with three goals as Frontenacs swept to an 8-5 victory.

Not to be outdone, playing-coach Orval Tessier added another three-goal performance.

Another club running hot lately, Hull - Ottawa Canadiens, also met a stumbling block in Kitchener - Waterloo Beavers. The Beavers sent them home for a 3-0 loss. Beavers' victory jumped them to second spot, one ahead of Hull-Ottawa.

McCarthy and defenceman Harry Sinden added the other Kingston goals in the game at the Sault. Dale Potter scored DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH — The Yankees face the prospect of opening the season without their All-Star shortstop, Tony Kubek, who will be in the Army for at least part of the grind. Ralph Houk ponders a problem less fortunate managers would be pleased to attempt to solve. The New York skipper may shift Clete Boyer from third base to shortstop. With Kubek gone, he still has five players available for the left side of the infield.

HOCKEY • Belisle, Lavigne tally two apiece, third shutout for Claude Bergeron, move two points ahead in standings

ASBESTOS — (Staff) — Getting superb goaltending from Claude Bergeron and two goals apiece from Lavigne and Belisle the Asbestos Miners moved into sole possession of the St-Francois Valley Intermediate Hockey League here last night when they trounced the Windsor Paper Makers 7-0.

Previous to last night's action the two teams were tied atop the league standings with 21 points apiece. The Miners' win last night dropped the Paper Makers to second spot in the standings, only three points ahead of the Richmond Braves.

Perron, Drouin and Champagne finished out the scoring for the Asbestos team. Drouin, who is the league's top scorer at the present time, also picked up two assists.

Both goalers had to come up with fine saves in the opening minutes. Dubois drove a bullet shot from just inside the blue-line that looked like it was on its way home but at the last minute Bergeron pulled off a brilliant save.

Minutes later Jacques St. Laurent, in the Windsor cage, pulled off two fine saves off Perron and Belisle. Lavigne finally put the Miners on the score sheet for the first time at 19:10 of the opening period when he beat St. Laurent on a fluky screened shot. Asbestos led 1-0 at the end of the first period.

Marcel Fergues, a Windsor rearguard, drew a penalty for high-sticking at 10:24 of the second period and Perron scored a powerful goal to put the home team ahead 2-0. The Miners never looked back after their second goal. They added three more goals before the middle period ended. Belisle found the range at the 12 minute mark, Lavigne, with his second at 19:09 and Drouin made it 5-0 at 19:41.

In the third period the Miners lost no steam to find the range twice more and roll to the impressive victory. Champagne and Belisle, with his second, were the marksmen in this period.

Windsor rearguard played loose hockey and St. Laurent could not be blamed for the defeat. On most of the goals it was defense's fault for not clearing rebounds. Time and again Asbestos men were left unguarded in the front of the net and they made it look easy to score goals.

The two teams will meet again in Windsor next Sunday after playing Thursday. The Paper Makers will host the Magog Aces and the Miners will clash with Rock Island Jets.

The game was rather a timid one with the rare body checks handed out. Only seven penalties were handed out by the referees, one a misconduct to Perron of Asbestos.

Craftsmanship a creed... accuracy a law!

The headline of this advertisement was written almost sixty years ago. It is the motto of the men who build Cadillac cars—and it has served as both proud legend and stern taskmaster over the years for these superb craftsmen.

We selected it to help tell our story today, because we think it still summarizes perfectly the quality and the care—the pride and the precision—that go into the making of every Cadillac motor car.

There is no really adequate way to describe the crafting of a Cadillac. But perhaps this brief recitation of facts might be helpful.

1. The average Cadillac craftsman has more than ten years of experience on the job—and literally hundreds have celebrated their silver anniversary in the service of the "car of cars."

2. One out of every seven people involved in the building of the car is an inspector.

3. The car is crafted to unbelievably fine tolerances. There are engine parts, for example, that must be accurate to within one ten-thousandth of an inch.

4. Every model undergoes more than 1400 different checks in the course of its assembly—including the most authoritative final inspection that can be placed over an automobile.

The list is longer, of course. But however lengthy, it could never be more impressive than the result. It's the 1962 Cadillac.

See it and drive it soon. We know you'll understand quickly why it has been so widely acclaimed as the Standard of the World.

Baptist minister reviews work at North Hatley

NORTH HATLEY — At the annual meeting of the Baptist Church held in the Sunday School hall, Rev. P. D. Burns, presided and reviewed the year's work in his report.

In addition to the regular activities, and the responsibilities involved in maintaining a church program, the Church participated in rallies in the Eastern Townships, and Evangelistic campaigns in North Hatley-Sherbrooke, and Coaticook-Dixville.

A service, observing the Week of Prayer was held with the other churches in the community participating. A special communion service was held on Good Friday evening to which the United Church here was invited; and at the anniversary services in May, A. Moffatt, of Sutton, was guest speaker.

Work was carried on among the young people in Sunday School, Mission Band, and Baptist High fellowship.

Reports of the organizations within the church were heard, and officers were elected.

SOUTH MAKES OWN WORRIES

North misbid his hand. He should either have jumped to three diamonds or four spades as his second bid.

Still, South made a fine bid of five spades and the sound slam contract was reached.

Unfortunately for North and South, the play was as indirect as the bidding.

All South had to do to make his contract was to win the first diamond draw trumps with three leads and eventually ruff out two of dummy's clubs. But South had other ideas.

He led a low heart toward dummy at trick two. East won and led a second heart, remarking: "When both sides lead the same suit, one is crazy. I hope I'm not."

East was crazy as a fox. Dummy had to ruff the heart and now there was no way to make the hand.

South's actual play was to lead dummy's king of spades. Then he continued with a second spade to his queen, ruffed a third heart with dummy's last

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: East South West North 1 Heart 1 Spade Pass 2 Dnds. Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-6-5, Hearts K-5-4, Diamonds 3, Clubs K-8-7-6. What do you do?

A—Pass. Your partner is denying spades and the hand appears to be a misfit. Two spades is permissible, but not recommended.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You pass. West bids two hearts and your partner bids three clubs. What do you do now?
