REDS RAP EISENHOWER PLAN

B-52's Circle Globe, Can Bomb Anywhere

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. air force has given the world—and especially Russia—a spectacular demonstration of its ability to deliver H-bombs to any point on the face of the earth.

Presumably the globe—circling flight of three B-52 heavy jet bombers which ended Friday also has impressed the U. S. Congress—now beginning to consider appropriations for the armed forces.

But the demonstration also has pointed up another strategic fact:

The United States still must rely on overseas bases for global operation of its strategic air command bombers.

Tanker aircraft for refueling the three Stratofortresses had to be deployed at intervals along the 24,325-mile route around the midriff of the world.

Without such in-flight refueling, a B-52 can fly approximately 6,000 miles. Allowing time to manoeuvre over the target and for evasive action shortens its striking range to about 2,500 miles.

It is a weakness recognized by American commanders, including Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, chief of the big bomber force.

It makes overseas bases vital for spotting its tanker planes. Rights to use these bases depend on continued good relations with foreign lands in which the bases are situated—Denmark—which owns Greenland—Britain, Morocco, Germany, Saudi Arabia, the Philippines, Japan.

It also depends upon the ability of the U. S. and its allies to protect these bases against enemy attack in event of war.

World News In Brief

VAL D'OR, Que.—(CP)—Claude Chausse, 29, of Verdun, Que., was sentenced Friday to two years in penitentiary for defrauding banks in northwestern Quebec of $9,500. Chausse was convicted of passing fraudulent debentures in four banks in the area. Judge Camille Beaulieu said he was taking into consideration the fact that the money had been paid back in determining the sentence.

MONTREAL.—(CP)—Mayor Jean Drapeau refused Friday to sign minutes of the city council meeting which last Tuesday established a six-man housing bureau to implement a slum clearance plan.

Mr. Drapeau said the council's decision "were open to contestation."

OLYMPIC, Wash.—(AP)—Six persons were killed and four injured Friday in an explosion at the Pacific Powder Company plant near Tenino, south of here.

A company spokesman said one building was involved. Police said several buildings were either damaged or leveled by the blast.

The explosion rattled windows in Olympic, nine miles away. The plant produces nitroglycerin explosives.

Japanese Textile Limitation

OTTAWA (CP)—The Japanese textile industry has taken another voluntary step in its careful efforts to maintain harmonious trading relations with Canada.

The Japanese industry recently decided to limit shipments to Canada of some cotton textiles and Shinichi Kondo, counsellor at Japan's embassy here, said in an interview the action was taken because "we don't want to see Canadian textile people unfairly injured."

Mr. Kondo added, however, that "of course we feel there should be healthy competition."

He referred to the decision of the export council of Japan, an advisory body established by the Japanese government and composed of members of the textile industry there, to limit exports to Canada of cotton knitted wear, trousers and pillowcases.

Full extent of the limitations is yet to be decided, but the council announcement, issued Wednesday in Tokyo, said it will be decided shortly.

Afro-Asian Resolution Awaited By Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (CP)—The UN General Assembly was called into a weekend session today to wind up a new debate on a withdrawal of Israeli forces in the Suez area—a move which has resulted in calls by Canada and other powers for stationing the UN Emergency Force in the two areas Israel still regards as vital.

The assembly was expected to approve an African-Asian resolution calling on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to report completion of the Israeli withdrawal within five days. Israel has said all its troops will be out of Egypt next Tuesday, except for those occupying the disputed Gaza Strip and the area commanding the Gulf of Aqaba.

The final phase of the assembly debate took a turn which may bring a review of the entire scope of the UN Emergency Force assignment in Egypt.

Canada, the United States and other Western powers brought the matter to a head with a call for deployment of UN units into the areas given up by Israel.

Britain, Canada and New Zealand carried the question farther, urging some sort of international control over the Gaza and Aqaba regions.

External Affairs Minister Pearson of Canada touched off some opposition from both the Arab states and the Soviet bloc with the proposal that the UN station forces in the disputed areas. He said this should be done until measures can be worked out to see that no more Arab commando raids are launched from Gaza, and that the shipping rights will be guaranteed in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Israel occupied both areas in its October-November drive into Egypt. Gaza, a narrow strip of land on the Mediterranean, is regarded by Israel as historically a part of Palestine. Egypt took over its control after the 1948 Palestine war.

Israel long has contended that the strip was used as a base for commando raids, and has said the area must not be returned to

"Cannot Buy Culture"

Says So-Cred Leader Low

OTTAWA.—(CP)—The government's plan for pumping public money into the nation's cultural blood stream has met a mixed reception from Commons opposition members.

"You cannot buy culture," said Social Credit Leader Solon Low Friday. "You cannot get it through the expenditure of money alone."

He reserved judgment on the government's legislation to establish a Canada Council to handle a $100,000,000 aid-to-culture program. He agreed with the proposal to help university building programs but said he is against setting up the council when money is needed for poverty-stricken Canadians.

The government's proposal got full support from CCF Leader Coldwell. Opposition Leader Diefenbaker endorsed it, too, but had reservations about government plans for the council's operation.

The Commons spent most of Friday considering a resolution introduced by Prime Minister St. Laurent preliminary to a bill to create the council.

It would be granted $500,000 in federal funds, as an endowment to earn money for bursaries, scholarships and the like to advance the arts, humanities and social sciences, and another $500,000 for university construction.

Mr. St. Laurent let it be known for the first time, however, that the $500,000 intended to help universities expand buildings and equipment over the next 10 years will be available only to cover half the cost of approved programs.

He also disclosed that capital grants to universities would go only towards projects for the advancement of the arts, humanities and social sciences.

Mr. Low said old age pensioners and veterans forced to live below the borderline of poverty have a prior claim to consideration. Money also was needed to find a cancer cure.

"I am going to hang my head in shame if we say to the people of this country that we cannot afford to do these things but we can afford to put up $100,000,000 for the purpose of bringing culture to you people."

The prime minister said the capital grants to universities would be made toward specific building projects approved by the council.

Wreckage Not Missing Pilot Boat

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—A transport department spokesman said Friday night wreckage seen floating in the Bay of Fundy off the Nova Scotia coast "didn't turn out to be anything."

The debris was checked by a life-saving boat on the chance it might be part of a harbor pilot boat missing from here since Monday. The seven men aboard, including three seasoned pilots, are believed dead.

"Egyptianization" Set-Back For U.S.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Shaky U.S. hopes of keeping Egypt from closer ties with Russia probably have been dealt a serious blow by President Nasser's decree "Egyptianizing" major foreign businesses in his country.

Nasser's new law was announced Thursday. Reports reaching the state department say it has thrown the foreign business community in Egypt into turmoil, arousing grave fears for the future of foreign interests there and for Egypt's own economic prospects.

News dispatches from Cairo Friday said Egyptian and foreign businessmen alike believe the ultimate effect of the new decree—amounting to a nationalization—will be to scare off Western investors and kill Egypt's chances of getting Western economic or financial aid.

Such consequences inevitably would make Egypt far more dependent on economic ties with Moscow, thereby increasing Moscow's political influence over one of the key countries in the Middle East.

The state department admittedly is deeply concerned over the possible effects of the new law. But officials say it has been impossible to assess its impact because the text of the decree has not yet been made public.

One tentative interpretation here is that Nasser primarily is aiming at British and French interests. But even those officials who suggest this do not rule out the possibility that Egypt is being made into a closed economic community from which all foreign interests sooner or later will be excluded.

the council. Amount of the grant would not be more than half the project's cost.

The 50-per-cent grant would be made whether the remaining half of the cost was paid by a university, an industry or an individual.

He added: "Although these two financial provisions will help to meet our most immediate needs, they will not meet, and are not intended to meet, all our requirements."

"The federal government does not feel that it should be the sole patron of the arts, the humanities and the social sciences or the only source of capital for the universities."

"Provincial governments have clear and important responsibilities in those fields, and I am sure they will want to assume an increasing share of the financial assistance which is required."

"I also feel that private industry and private persons of means will feel that they have definite financial responsibilities in this respect in compensation for the advantages which will have accrued to them from the Canadian economy."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government's plans for the council represent a disavowal of recommendations of the Massey commission in 1951. There was no indication the council would be a national body dealing with the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization.

He said the $500,000 endowment, if invested at the usual 3½-per-cent return, would provide only $1,750,000 annually—not enough to meet the needs of students.

Mr. Coldwell's only criticism was that the government action didn't come a couple of years sooner. Canada had not set aside enough from its prosperity for the cultural and educational needs of its people.

Gaza is a small wedge of territory on the Mediterranean which was part of Palestine originally. Egypt occupied it nine years ago and ever since it has been in bitter contention. Israel conquered the strip again in its lightning thrust in late October and the first days of November.

During the years Egypt held Gaza, she used it as a base for raids on Israel, and Israel has said she will not give it up again without UN guarantees that it will not be used by Egypt for further attacks.

PEARSON ACTIVE
External Affairs Minister Pearson was playing a key role in the drive to get the UN to assert its authority on behalf of both sides in the dispute, rather than as an agent for merely getting the Israelis out and the Egyptians back in.

Pearson outlined Canada's thinking in a Commons speech Monday before he left for New York to resume leadership of the Canadian delegation at the UN.

He said then there is no excuse for the UN to avoid "a responsibility which is inescapable." The UN Emergency Force should be stationed on all Israel-Arab borders, and in the Gaza Strip, to help "ensure the security of the nations concerned which is so vital if they are to approach with the necessary confidence negotiations toward a comprehensive solution of their conflicts."

U. S. BUDGET
A question frequently on the lips of Americans is: How long will the Eisenhower boom last? This week President Eisenhower sent to Congress a budget of record proportions, and even a member of Ike's cabinet found it inflationary.

Said Treasury Secretary George Humphrey of the proposed expenditures: "If we don't begin taking less out of this economy, I predict we will have a depression that will make your hair curl."

The Eisenhower budget called for spending in the next year of just under $72,000,000,000 compared with Canada's $4,800,000,000. This was up by $3,000,000,000 from the current year, and included $45,000,000,000 for the U. S. armed forces and foreign aid.

ABSENT SENATOR
A little-known clause in the British North America Act—Canada's constitution—was invoked in the Senate this week. Because Senator Joseph Duffus, a Liberal who lives in Peterborough, Ont., had not attended a sitting during the last two sessions of Parliament, the upper chamber took the first step toward declaring his seat vacant.

The BNA Act makes this action mandatory, said Senator W. Ross Macdonald, government leader in the upper chamber. In Peterborough, Mrs. Duffus said the senator had been gravely ill. "I would not dare tell him," she said of the Senate's action. "He is too sick."

Russia, China Promise Armed Interference In Event Of Attack

MOSCOW (AP)—Condemning the Eisenhower Doctrine, Russia and Communist China have proclaimed their continued readiness to give Middle Eastern countries "any necessary support" to avert aggression and interference in their affairs.

A 2,000-word communique issued Friday night by Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China and Soviet Premier Bulganin said:

"The governments of the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic resolutely condemn this policy of the United States."

"They are prepared to continue to give any necessary support to the peoples of the Near and Middle East in order to avert aggression and interference in the affairs of the countries of that region."

The two Communist powers previously have denounced the plan put forward by President Eisenhower two weeks ago for military and economic aid to the Middle East.

The new denunciation was included in the joint communique ending Chou's visit in Moscow.

Russia and Communist China also reported satisfaction that the countries of the Communist bloc "are developing and strengthening their mutual relations." But the communique warned:

"Any provocative actions of the imperialist aggressive forces, directed to undermine the Socialist Communist countries, will be met with the most decisive re-buff."

They blamed the Hungarian uprising on "imperialist aggressive circles" and declared that the crushing of the cause of peace and Socialism.

The declaration did not spell out the kind of "necessary support" the two countries are prepared to give the peoples of the Middle East.

In the past, the Communist bloc has sold arms to Egypt and Syria, supported the Arab stand against Britain, France and Israel in the United States, and said large numbers of "volunteers" in both Russia and China were prepared to fight alongside the Egyptians.

Russia and Red China also expressed opposition to "any intrigues by the imperialists to place the Suez Canal under international control."

This Week's News In Review

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The United Nations tackled the explosive issue of the Gaza Strip. The Afro-Asian bloc pressed in the General Assembly a resolution that would give Israel five days to get out.

Canada and several other countries worked hard for a solution that would replace Israeli forces with United Nations, rather than Egyptian, authority. Under this plan UN troops would take over.

Gaza is a small wedge of territory on the Mediterranean which was part of Palestine originally. Egypt occupied it nine years ago and ever since it has been in bitter contention. Israel conquered the strip again in its lightning thrust in late October and the first days of November.

Textilers Strike Ends At Magog

MAGOG—End of a month-long work stoppage at the local cotton mill of Dominion Textile Company Limited appeared in sight today when it was announced that a decision had been received from the Quebec Labour Relations Board ordering that work be resumed immediately.

On December 10th, some 75 employees refused to accept a work assignment and walked out. Subsequently production at the mill slowed down and eventually came to a stop, throwing some 700 out of work. Petitions were made by both the union and the company to the Board, each asking the right to take penal prosecutions against the other.

The Board rejected both petitions, a company spokesman said today, and ordered that work be resumed and the dispute be submitted to arbitration that would be binding on both parties. The labour contract now in force makes provision for this procedure.

"Dominion Textile is ready to operate the mill as directed by the Labour Board," the company spokesman said, "we have been ready to do this from the start of the dispute. We have not yet heard from the union."

were contained not in the new faces it brought to the forefront, but in the old hands who were kept on. Most notable of these was Selwyn Lloyd, who retained the foreign ministry.

The most striking promotion was that of Peter Thorneycroft, who stepped up from the presidency of the Board of Trade, a government department, to chancellor of the exchequer, Macmillan's old job. This makes him one of the big three in the cabinet.

The cabinet appointments were generally interpreted as meaning that the ministers who backed Sir Anthony Eden in the Egyptian intervention are still in the saddle.

MAESTRO AND VICEROY
Death took two notable figures.

Arturo Toscanini, the incomparable musician, the greatest conductor of his era, died in New York at 89.

In London, the Earl of Athlone, wartime governor-general of Canada, and the Queen's great-uncle, died at 82.

TWO FLATTOPS
The biggest ship ever built for the Royal Canadian Navy, the aircraft carrier Bonaventure, was launched at Belfast.

A crew of 850 Canadian officers and men took over the 19,900-ton carrier, built at a cost of $28,000,000 and named after an island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The Bonaventure will replace the aircraft carrier Magnificent, on loan from the royal navy. The Maggie, meanwhile, was busy in Egyptian waters as part of Canada's contribution to the UN Emergency Force. A helicopter from the big ship flew the UN commander, Gen. Burns, into the Sinai desert for the occupation of the town of El Arish after Israeli forces pulled out.

East Sherbrooke Youngster Killed In Traffic Accident

Friend Slightly Injured

Nine-year-old Jacques Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Lambert, 1012 Chalfoux st., was instantly killed, and his ten-year-old companion, Gaetan Dostie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Germain Dostie, 162 11th Ave. South, was slightly injured when they were struck by a Laramee Service bus while attempting to cross Frontenac st., in front of the University of Sherbrooke auditorium shortly before seven o'clock last evening.

The boys apparently ran out from between two parked cars in front of the bus, operated by J. L. Rousseau which was headed down Frontenac st., in the direction of Wellington.

Despite the efforts of Rousseau to dodge the youngsters, they were struck by the right front corner of the bus.

Lambert was rushed to Hotel Dieu Hospital by ambulance but was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Dostie was taken to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where he is reported to be suffering from injuries to the head and legs.

Rev. Henry Mathews, M.A., who has accepted an invitation from Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke, to become its new minister. An honor graduate from Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland, Mr. Mathews led the graduation class and received the Bonar-Burns Scholarship. He is this famous university's representative in Canada. He will commence his ministerial duties at Trinity, Feb. 1.

New Minister At Trinity Enjoyed Versatile Career

Having studied three years with the Royal Society of Arts in music, drama and radio production, Rev. Henry Mathews, M.A., the new minister at Trinity United Church, has obtained fame in Canada and United States in other professional fields besides his ministry.

His sacred programs broadcasted from Toronto reached thousands in Toronto and the United States and resulted in United States television networks approaching him to make this his sole profession. The large newspapers of Toronto recognized his art of writing and several series of articles were published as daily or weekly features.

For some time he has been approached by large churches in the United States to become their pastor and was offered the pastorate of Rev. Peter Marshall's church of which the film "A Man Named Peter" was released. These pastorships were refused as he did not wish to relinquish his Canadian citizenship which he values highly.

Man Ordered To Stand Trial For Theft Of Brass

Noel Proulx, a young Sherbrooke man, was ordered to stand trial for theft of $2,000 of brass coil from Industrial Stampings Ltd., of Bromptonville by Judge Joseph Marier after preliminary hearing in Court of Sessions yesterday.

Main witness in the case was an accomplice, Gilles St. Hilaire, also of Sherbrooke, who pleaded guilty to the charge.

St. Hilaire said Proulx, who was a former employee of the firm he allegedly robbed, asked him to break into the plant when they met in a Sherbrooke restaurant between Christmas and New Year's day. He said they entered the building by forcing a window and took out about 30 rolls of brass coil.

In one attempt to sell the stolen material, declared St. Hilaire, the pair went to Leo Martineau at his home on the Drummond road. Martineau, who testified yesterday, identified the two men and said he refused to buy their material because it looked "too new."

The brass 24 rolls of it, was finally sold to a local scrap dealer for $133 and Proulx signed his name to a bill of purchase as Roger Leger.

This brought comment remark from Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre that he would not have been surprised to see Proulx use the name of Maurice Richard, since he decided to use the name of Leger, also a famous hockey player.

The superintendent of the Industrial Stampings plant in Brompton, Peter Blake, said the brass was not missed until the company was phoned and asked if they were missing any brass. On checking, it was learned that some 3,100 pounds were missing. He said each roll weighed between 30 and 60 pounds and sold, depending on the market, at 60 to 70 cents a pound. The stolen goods were sold for 13 cents a pound to the scrap dealer.

BISHOP'S BULLETIN BOARD

By ANDREW LITTLE

Thursday evening produced one of the liveliest and most interesting Skinner debates heard at Bishop's in years. The annual competition for the Skinner trophy, which is emblematic of the faculty debating championship, was deadlocked with the Arts and Science team's unanimous win over the Divinity faculty.

Revenge of an earlier defeat at the hands of the Divinity debaters, the Arts and Science men affirmed the resolution "That more harm than good comes out of Hollywood." On the victors' team were Jim Creighton, Peter Blaikie and Don Kuehner. Kuehner, making his first debating appearance before a Bishop's audience, was spellbinding. His measured method of presentation and intense manner easily made him the outstanding debater of the evening.

Supporting the Divinity plea for Hollywood were Roland Wood, Bob Calderwood and Dick Berryman.

The win by the Arts and Science team necessitated a third and final debate in this series. The competition is held on two-out-of-three basis and last night's results gave each team one victory for this college year. The next debate will probably be held in February and with the Arts and Science faculty trying to unseat the Divinity representatives

Arthur Motyer has chosen "The Enchanted" by Jean Giraudoux for the major play presentation. In the light of last year's sparkling success of Bishop's presentation, "The Happy Time," and of the talent displayed in this year's production of minor plays, we would like to encourage all drama conscious citizens in Sherbrooke and vicinity to support the Bishop's Dramatics Society by seeing "The Enchanted" when it opens.

The Students' Association met last Wednesday evening for what proved a very uneventful half hour. The only event which lifted the meeting out of the routine class was the distribution and motion for adoption of the report of the Initiative Committee.

Other universities have been sent requests for their freshman initiation procedure and the answers will be tabulated and considered for future Bishop's initiatives. Decisions regarding the frosh rig and duties reached by the committee revealed that they were in favor of retaining most of the traditional dress but that a change in the style of hat worn by the frosh would be made. The group also displayed their dislike for various freshet procedures such as the wearing of pin-curls and the absence of make-up.

The relations between seniors and frosh were summed up in the report as follows: "It would seem that the uncontrolled desire of some seniors to display their superiority over the Freshmen, was the essence of the trouble and displeasure voiced about the initiations this year." The report went on to condemn the procedure of holding initiations in the towns of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville and recommended that a more healthy form of rivalry between the frosh and seniors be encouraged. They also recommended that the Introduction Committee should return to college before the bulk of seniors arrive so that they might acquaint the frosh with their duties.

The report concluded with the statement that the committee is "now concerned with working out the details of the program for next September which will be acceptable to all."

To keep the coming Winter Carnival before your eyes here is a review of the day which John Pratt has planned for Hillcrest Lodge on February 1st. The buses will leave the University about 9:30 a.m. and will travel to the lodge. The day will begin with skiing and the three main races are the giant slalom, the beer race and the treasure hunt on skis. For those who can't ski there will be tobogganing, skating and bridge. Two meals will be served; a box lunch and a French Canadian supper. There will be dancing after supper and prize giving. One of the most interesting features will be the Ice Palace which is now being constructed. This is the first year for the frozen regal home and it is hoped that many friends outside the university will come up to Hillcrest that week-end to see it.

THE NEW AIRPORT — The village of Ascot will probably benefit a great deal from the construction of a new airport near that community. . . People are predicting great future for motels, hotels and restaurants in the area. . . However, with the location of the airstrip in the limits of the municipality there will be a large sum in taxes paid out. . . Whether or not these taxes will be entirely paid by City of Sherbrooke, who by law, must be the owner of the land on which the airport is built, remains to be seen. . . There are rumors that each municipality benefiting from the airport's location will be asked to contribute a certain amount toward the taxes. . . Any further discussion or suggestions on this point are being withheld pending a meeting between Mayor Armand Nadeau and Transport Minister Marler. . . Maybe the City will get other pecuniary benefits from the Government for the airport?

THE WEATHER MAN — It is understood that at least one alderman is dissatisfied with the way in which Sherbrooke's "private" weather forecaster was hired and the results which he has given thus far. . . At next Monday's council meeting, the alderman in question is scheduled to ask some very pointed questions. . . It is believed the weatherman was first introduced to an employee of the public works department who apparently sold the idea to higher ups. . . This of course has not been substantiated as yet. . . The weatherman was hired by council on a month to month basis for $660 a winter. . . Cost of telegrams are also paid by the city.

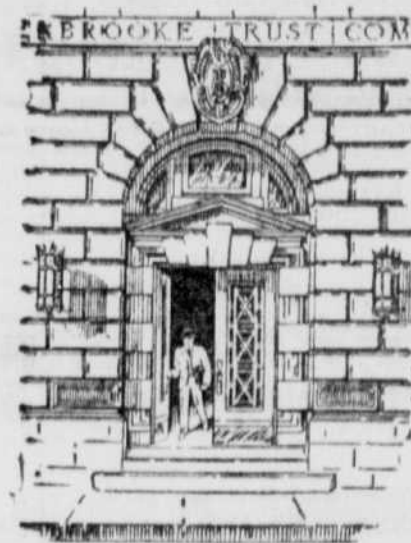

ODDS AND ENDS — Mayor Nadeau and two aldermen will be attending a banquet for the newly named Minister of Municipal Affairs, Hon. Paul Dozois. . . Social Justice For The Blind

In all this talk about increasing family allowance payments, reducing the age for the payment of old age pensions and general increasing social security outlays, one small but important group of Canadians appear to have been overlooked—the blind. Recently spokesmen for this group waited upon the federal government and requested that the treasury pay to all blind adults over the age of eighteen years a specific allowance free from the means test, to take care of guiding and other expenses peculiar to blindness.

There can be no question that the blind man faces many outlays that are not imposed upon the ordinary citizen, and despite the splendid rehabilitation programs which have been carried out to fit the blind man into the industrial life of the country, his income is generally below that of other men. He is faced with higher transportation costs, for he cannot travel too far on foot. He usually has to have a guide and unless he is living with relatives he finds it difficult to obtain board and lodging. Not many households readily accept the responsibility of care for a blind person.

Then there are expenses for reading material and letter-writing services. It requires no great stretch of the imagination to know that a married man with family obligations faces a tremendous task in meeting all details of a very restricted life.

This is not the first time the situation has been placed before the Government but so far no action has been taken on the appeal. This is one that should be heeded now. Blind persons from 18 to 69, even if receiving the present pension which is given only subject to a drastic means test, are deserving of a special federal allowance to help cover the extra expenses imposed by blindness. Similarly, the blind on old age security should benefit as well.

The amount required to meet this expenditure is infinitesimal when compared with the high expenditures on social security at the present time and even less marked in relation to some of the proposed future expenditures.

Certainly this special payment is warranted in the case of these people who are deprived of one of life's most important blessings—sight.

The Hees Crystal Ball

Crystal-balling is a favorite pastime, indulged in frequently by politicians who probably feel that the benefits of such prognostication far offset its dangers. If the predictions prove right, they can point with pride; if wrong, they hope that everyone will have forgotten about them, by then.

George Hees, Progressive-Conservative member for Toronto Broadview, and an early candidate for the Party leadership, makes the following predictions which are worthy of note:

1. The Progressive-Conservative Party will unseat the Liberal Government in the forthcoming election.
2. Election Day will be June 17th, by coincidence, his birthday.
3. Old Age pensions will be increased to $55 a month from $40 before the election.

4. Walter Gordon, Toronto accountant who is chairman of the Royal Commission on Canada's economic future, will be invited to join the Liberal cabinet. (Mr. Hees says this invitation will be a reward for his "election-bait" report, though some opinion is that the Gordon Report will cause the Government considerable embarrassment.)

5. Duff Roblin, Manitoba Conservative leader, will win the next provincial election in Manitoba.

6. Liberal administrations in Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland also will fall.

Makes nice predicting—if you're a Progressive-Conservative adherent.

Quote Of The Week

Recommended as the "Quote of the Week" is part of a statement by Rabbi Abraham Feinberg, of Toronto. He was commenting on a report of the Canadian Council of Churches urging an increased campaign to convert Jews to Christianity.

"Loyalty to one's own faith, whatever it be, is a foundation-stone of character and citizenship. Instead of weakening a child's trust in the faith of his fathers, and endangering spiritual stability, we might better strive to fortify it.

"The challenge at this hour is for men and women of all faiths to translate into everyday practice their own lofty teachings."

Letter To The Editor

Sherbrooke, January 15th., 1957
Sherbrooke Daily Record,
Sherbrooke, P.Q.

Dear Sir—
Since the last few days, we have heard a lot of talking about the new Sherbrooke Airport and that our City Council were going to have to purchase 2,300 acres of land, so to establish the airport.

Now, if the City buys this land, they will have to pay taxes to the said municipality or make a gift to the Federal of the said land. And then, they will pay the taxes. But, why should the taxpayers of the City of Sherbrooke have to buy alone the above land? It will be used by the whole of the Eastern Townships, not only by the taxpayers of the City of Sherbrooke.

And, in such a case, each municipality should be asked to contribute for the purchase of the 2,300 acres. That within its means and the benefits that it will draw from the Airport, this should be done before the City Council commits itself by signing options or deeds on the said land. Our City finances are not in such a good position as making gifts to others, as a taxpayer, I feel we should do our share, but no more. Those concerned should pay their share, as the Airport will be for the Eastern Townships and not a Municipal Airport for the City of Sherbrooke alone.

So, why should the taxpayers of the City of Sherbrooke pay alone for the land, and then give it to the Federal Government for the use of the whole Eastern Townships who will benefit as well as our City?

Many Thanks.
Yours truly,
Francis Larkin.

IMMIGRATION POLICY

(Ottawa Citizen)
Canada has set no limit on the number of Hungarian refugees it will admit as immigrants. This country's resources are hardly explored, and are undoubtedly so large that Canada's capacity to absorb people is incalculable. In these circumstances, the most sensible immigration policy is to maintain an "open door" as nearly as possible.

MISTAKES ADD GRIEF TO HAND

Paul Hodge, of Abilene, Tex., did not like it when East passed his take-out double of one spade. His hand appeared to be most unsatisfactory to inflict a substantial penalty.

Most players would make the mistake of opening the king of hearts but Paul opened his singleton eight of spades. Incidentally, this lead is absolutely correct. When your partner passes your take-out double a trump lead becomes almost mandatory.

South made the mistake of winning the first trick, and the second mistake of leading the nine of hearts. Paul played the ten but East overtook with the ace and led a second trump. This killed dummy completely.

Declarer tried the diamond suit but he was too late. Hodge won with the ace and proceeded to run hearts. East shed two diamonds and one club while South did ruff the fifth heart lead. He could have made another trick if he had laid down a club but he made another mistake and played a second diamond.

East trumped, pulled South's last two trumps and led to Paul's ace of clubs. The four of hearts accounted for the last trick.

Declarer could have saved two tricks by letting the eight of spades hold the first trick and one trick in several different ways. I leave you to figure out those plays if you wish.

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Wednesday, Jan. 19th, 1927.

Charlotte, once Empress of Mexico as the wife of Emperor Maximilian died at her chateau near Brussels at seven o'clock this morning. Her mind had been clouded over ever since the execution of her husband at Queretaro in Mexico in 1867. She was 86.

Great Britain is in the process of increasing her merchant fleet, already the largest in the world, by tremendous strides. (1927 Cuckoo) Old times were peculiar. They thought rich men would go to hell instead of the Senate.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Tuesday, Jan. 19th, 1937.

Socialist troops routed the Insurgents from fortified positions at El Cerro de Los Angeles, historical landmark and geographical centre of Spain, 8½ miles south of Madrid, the emergency defence Junta announced today.

Great Britain will not purchase peace with trade concessions, Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade of Great Britain, said on his arrival in New York last night.

Far from Broadway, where their names have long stood out in bold relief, Ann Harding, screen star, and Werner Jensen, orchestra leader, were quietly married in England where Miss Harding has been starring in one of G. B. Shaw's plays.

ABSENTEEISM COSTLY

(Guelf Mercury)
Too many of our workers lack the ambition to give a good day's work for a good day's pay. They know all the details about pay-days, off-days, overtime pay and seniority. But if they can lean on a shovel or take more time than they should for coffee breaks it is the employer who seemingly pays the shot. But the employer doesn't pay it either; he passes it on to the consumer or reduces his corporation tax accordingly. Since our economy is primarily based on work, only honest toil can support that economy. Any absenteeism that is not justified is tantamount to theft from an employer and a stigma upon Canadian production.

Let's Rediscover

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

Breathes there an individual—a Canadian—with mind so dull and soul so dead who has never paused to ask himself "What am I hear for? What is life all about? What is the good of it?"

Now these are questions involving relationships—our relationships to God, thy neighbor and thyself and are of crucial importance. I am convinced that our failures to answer these three questions has robbed life of much of its significance and power. No wonder there is an epidemic of frustrations, inner strains, wishful thinking exhibited in so purposeless living.

I Invite Thee

As a corrective, I invite thee to rediscover this neglected and too oft unexplained area of relationships—it can be as thrilling as it is rewarding.

The Voice of History clearly declares that the saints then and now, faced these questions—explored these areas—and, developing into spiritual giants, lived such victorious lives, the impact of which is still felt across the years that intervene.

Eager too are they to bear witness to the help the Book Divine—the Holy Bible—was to them, teaching, guiding, upholding, comforting them in their pilgrim journey. In its pages they met, grew to know and love GOD—Father, Son and Holy Spirit. So real was God to them that he was about them, through cloud and sunshine, all through the day, all along the way. A Guide. A Friend. A Father. And life with this Father was—and ever will be—a great thrilling journey from self to God, from earth to Heaven.

Unfortunately there is another story writ in letters grey. For the Saints are but few in number compared with that great unnumbered group who, in allowing clouds of unbelief and distrust to becloud the Sun of Righteousness (Mal. 4:2) have lost their spiritual moorings and are drifting in a sea of vague theism. This drift which brought with its estrangement unhappiness, disaster, came when knowledge without reverence gained control. A sorry indictment indeed for Education, education without Christ that is.

If you listen to the pessimists, you will think God is dead—the heavens are brass—life is meaningless. If you listen to the flippancy, you will gather that God has absented Himself and as far as they are concerned that suits them, for, according to their view, He is inadequate. Such crooked thinkers specialize in going about apologizing for everything that is omnipotent in God, divine in Christ and miraculous in His kingdom. Surely these spiritually blinded folk need to discover that our Lord—their Lord, too—needs not their advice but their trust. For it is trust that our generation needs to de-throne King Anxiety who has en-

OLDER, AND WISER

(Kingston Whig-Standard)
A columnist in the American press had some pertinent things to say about the symbolism of the baby which appeared on every ad, and calendar for the New Year.

Mankind, says this archeologically inclined writer, is still in its infancy itself compared with the rest of the world. We came late to this planet and have yet to make much of a mark on it.

He suggests that it is a good time for us all to meditate on our infancy and to take courage in the hope that we shall, by the same strangely slow process of change which has moulded other forms of life on this earth, eventually come to a better, more moderate and wiser state.

As we look at the diaphanous symbol of the New Year he suggests that the child there depicted will remind us of our immaturity and that we shall fervently pray for the time when the child will grow up and become a man.

slaved, enfeebled and unnerved making ineffective untold millions unnecessarily so.

(1) A God Who Cares
But why use grey words when the white words of joy await to tell the story of a God Who cares. A God of love Who is at the centre of the universe. And isn't it because He cares that He is God?

Well, He did care sufficiently and for all mankind even the least, the last, and the lost—sent His only Son to purchase our salvation, full and free, on Calvary's Cross. Nor did He stop there. This same Jesus Whom we associate with Bethlehem, Galilee, Calvary and Olivet still cares, for seated at the right hand of God in heaven He EVER LIVETH to make intercession for you and me (Heb. 7:25), conditioned on our willingness to accept Him as our Great High Priest, Jesus Only, and appropriate the means of grace He has instituted for us.

Listen to what St. John saith "If any man sin—and who hasn't?" we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous and He is the Propitiation for our sins" (1 John. 2:1). So with this rediscovery or discovery of our One and Only Mediator, Jesus Christ (1 Tim. 2:5) in heaven interested in, and pleading for, YOU, should at least move you to repentance and faith that you will fall in love with Him Who still cares and loves you dearly.

And, daily renewed by the Holy Spirit, you can hereafter serve and please Him in newness of life. Thank God, then, for the "Good News", the discovery of which contributes immeasurably to making life teem with adventure.

(2) The "Scriptures" (John 5:39)
Surely any book which directs one to the discovery of Such a Friend as Him Who is our only Advocate and Mediator is worth exploring daily, hourly. This, the Holy Bible does.

At this time of crisis—judgment—when our Christian democratic civilization is threatened by a new menace, world communism, a new weapon, the atomic bomb, a new source of power, nuclear fission, and a new nationalism among nations, there is, I judge, an encircling gloom of despair settling in hearts. And there is no mistaking the stark fact that unless the Word of God gets a new hold on the hearts of men, this new age with all its potentialities may end in a holocaust of indescribable destruction.

I challenge you to discover or rediscover the Bible, making it the chart and compass for this new age. Ashamed am I to write that your land and my land, Canada, suffers from biblical illiteracy.

It is high time—perhaps later than you think—for Canadians to wake up and correct this error. It is my prayer that we who are favoured to be living in this Garden of Canada—the Eastern Townships—will put our weight so that from our homes, schools, churches, colleges, universities, will come boys, girls, men and women whose spiritual experience, philosophy of life and moral principles are firmly grounded in the Word of God. Then, and only then, shall Canada be "mightier yet." To this crusade we summon you.

(3) Thyself!
Now this crusade—this movement of the Spirit—must begin with you and me. For mark you, the only way the Kingdom of God cometh is when each individual heart "cradles" Christ. Then, and only then, with new men with new hearts can a new world be built wherein dwelleth righteousness.

KNOW THYSELF then! The strengths and thy weaknesses too. But most of all get to know that thou art a Child of God, a member of Christ and an inheritor of the Kingdom of Heaven. And with such a regal lineage, you have no need to be ashamed.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by Horace B. Powell

ONE SWEETLY SOLEMN THOUGHT

One sweetly solemn thought
Comes to me o'er and o'er --
I'm nearer home today
Than I ever have been before.
Nearer my Father's house,
Where the many mansions be;
Nearer the great white throne;
Nearer the crystal sea.
Nearer the bound of life,
Where we lay our burdens down;
Nearer leaving the cross;
Nearer gaining the crown.
O if my mortal feet
Have almost gained the brink,
If it be I am nearer home
Even today than I think.
Father, perfect my trust;
Let my spirit feel in death
That her feet are firmly set
On the rock of a living faith.

There are sermons in songs, and sometimes there are songs in sermons for those who can discover them.

Phoebe Cary, returning from church one Sunday morning more than 100 years ago, began to put into verse the thoughts which the sermon of the day had inspired. She was visiting a friend in New York at the time and, when she reached home, she withdrew to the quiet of "a little back third floor bedroom" to finish her "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

When Miss Cary penned her verses, she had no thought of making a hymn. Years later, the New York friend asked the author how she came to write it.

gaged in the thrilling adventure of being a man. Christ's man. With Christ, the Perfect Man as thy example, you will daily endeavour to choose the Ultimate Good in preference to immediate pleasures and in so doing, enroll thyself among the heroes, there in finding fullness of joy, fellowship and glory.

Henceforth gratitude will well in thy heart at the worth and dignity of the individual Jesus exemplified in life, even to His death upon the cross for sinners such as you and I.

All About Stamps

The Philippines has been selected for the site of the Pacific Area Girl Scout World Camp in 1957, planned to celebrate the centennial anniversary of Lord Baden Powell, founder of scouting. The international encampment will be held in Quezon City from January 19th to February 2, 1957. On the occasion of this celebration the Post Office Department will place on sale a new 5-centavo perforate and imperforate postage stamp on January 19th, the opening day of the camping. The stamp carries the design of the insignia of the World Girl Scouts above the tents of a camp in silhouette. On the right side of the stamp is also the silhouette of a girl scout facing the tents and the insignia.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of the United States Post Office Department has announced the description of the 3-cent commemorative to be issued in honor of the Architects of America, which will be placed on sale in New York, on February 23rd, 1957, on the centennial anniversary of the founding of the American Institute of Architects. The central subject, which dominates the left portion of the stamp, is composed of a modern mushroom type head and shaft superimposed on a Corinthian style capital, symbolizing the progress made in architecture during the last century. The color of the stamp will be announced later. The 3-cent Coat and Geodetic Survey commemorative stamp to be issued on February 11th by the United States will be blue in color.

A cordial invitation is extended to all stamp collectors and their friends to attend a regular meeting of the Coaticook Stamp Club on Thursday the 24th of January at 8 p.m., in the Legion Hall. Ladies are invited and every one is assured of a real good time. Films on stamps and stamp collecting will be shown, including one in colour. It is hoped to have some rather interesting displays on hand. Why not come to Coaticook for an evening among stamp collectors?

Austria has issued a semi-postal stamp for the Hungarian Relief Fund. This stamp will certainly enjoy good sales among collectors.

The Colony of the Leeward Islands has a total area of 422 square miles with an estimated population in 1953 of 122,884. It forms part of the volcanic chain of the Lesser Antilles, except for the Virgin Islands at the eastern end of the Greater Antilles. The Colony is divided into four Presidencies: — Antigua (Barbuda), St. Christopher, Nevis and Anguilla, Montserrat and the (British) Virgin Islands. Each Presidency has its own stamps, though there is also a "federal" issue which is valid in all the Presidencies. This convenience is prized by businessmen whose travels take them from island to island. The fact that each Presidency has its own stamps explains why the Leeward Islands issue is not pictorial and instead shows the Queen in two different portraits.

THE SCOUTING TRAIL

By G. H. W. LE MESURIER

B.P. Centenary Fund This year the Boy Scouts of Canada will celebrate the 50th Anniversary of Scouting and the 100th Anniversary of Baden-Powell's birth. During the past 50 years many millions of boys have enjoyed the game and today Scouting has the largest membership of any youth movement in the world.

Nevertheless there are still many millions who, through no fault of theirs, are prevented from joining. This is particularly applicable to Eastern countries where efforts are not being made to get Scouting established. To help in this, and as a form of International Good Turn, the International Headquarters of Scouting has established a fund to be known as the "B.P. Centenary Fund" to which all members and former members of the Boy Scouts Association are invited to contribute. The Canadian portion of the fund will be kept open until the 30th of June, 1957, and then the proceeds will be transferred to the International Headquarters.

All contributions no matter how small may be sent to any office of the Boy Scouts Association and should be marked "B.P. Centenary Fund". If every active member alone gives only 25 cents Canada will have nearly $50,000 to send. The local address of the Boy Scouts Association is located at 235 Dufferin St., Sherbrooke. Let us all pull together and make this the best Good Turn in the history of Canadian Scouting.

Farnham Scout News Jules Arbee, the Troop Correspondent, reports that at a recent meeting in the St. James Church Hall in Farnham — special instruction was given on the Public Healthman Badge and work done on Semaphore and First Aid. During the evening an inspection was made of the Troop equipment by the new Quartermaster. One special activity during the evening was the playing of Kim's Game. This game requires a Scout to report what was seen in a certain area after only a few seconds to inspect. A good game to teach observation and also fun.

Lennoxville Cub and Scout News A new boy was invested and became a Wolf Cub recently, Joseph McKercher of the 2nd Lennoxville Pack which meets on Monday in St. George's Church Hall in Lennoxville. Also during the evening Greg Tribble was appointed to the rank of Sixer. The 2nd Lennoxville Troop Band continues to be active with the recent purchase of six drums — the Troop Band practices each week (on Wednesday night) in Sherbrooke and hopes to be able to make more public appearances.

Membership in the band is only open to those Scouts who attend regularly at the Troop's weekly meetings on Monday.

A special evening will soon be held on February 4th (Monday night) when the Scouts of the Troop will present for pleasure and enjoyment of Lennoxville and Sherbrooke a "Bean Supper" to be served by the boys of the Scout Troop. The affair commences at 5:30 until 6:45. All are welcome to attend, being held in the Church Hall of St. George's Church.

Sherbrooke Scouters' Council: At the January meeting held this week in the District Association Offices Mr. Stanley Lothrop presented plans of his new activity. The District Badge Secretary, in future all Scouters from the Sherbrooke District are requested to order Proficiency Badges (for Cubs and Scouts) as well as the 1st Class Badge and the Queen's Scout Badge through Mr. Lothrop. DO AS MILLIONS DO! Chew FEEN-A-MINT

Why not ask your druggist today for FEEN-A-MINT — a modern regulator in chewing form? It's pleasant to take, and dependable — and thorough. Yet FEEN-A-MINT is gentle in its action — gentle enough for little children. FEEN-A-MINT has a candy coating — refreshingly flavoured with mint. You'll never have to coax your children to take FEEN-A-MINT. You'll never have to force yourself to swallow ill-tasting potions. You'll discover, as millions of other people have — that FEEN-A-MINT is safe — effective — and pleasant to chew. FEEN-A-MINT is as handy as your nearest druggist. So — next time you know you need a medicinal regulator — try FEEN-A-MINT. Do as your friends and neighbours do — as millions do... chew FEEN-A-MINT — and feel fine again!

MELBOURNE —

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davidson, John and Barbara Ann, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Milton Leet and family, of Danville, to St. Christine, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lancaster. They also called on Mrs. Alfred Davidson and family and Mrs. William Robinson at Bethel. Miss Barbara Leet, of Danville, was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Davidson.

COATICOOK —

A minor accident occurred at the corner of Union and Ottawa Sts. on Tuesday morning when a school bus and a passenger car collided. The bus was empty at the time as the driver was just going up the Ladd's Mills Road to pick up the children. No one was hurt.

Mr. Camille Laperle, who was in town recently on business, reports that his daughter, who suffered an attack of polio some time ago, is improving steadily. A series of operations to graft muscles is giving her increasing use of her limbs.

The Coaticook Harmony Band recently held a card party to raise funds for purchase of new music and equipment in preparation for another season of providing musical concerts for the local population. Fifteen new members will be added to the band this summer. Local merchants were most generous in their contributions of prizes, for this benefit card party.

The drawing which was postponed at the Lionel Marcoux store recently was held this week and Mrs. C. E. Drolet, Elm St., was the winner of the $25. At the Dupuis and Frere store the winning tickets also showed up with Mrs. F. Gagnon, Main St., winner of the electric iron; Mr. C. Raymond, Thibault St., winner of the lamp, and Mr. Marcel Lebel, St. Marc St., North Coaticook, winner of the TV chair.

The Catholic School Commission of Coaticook has announced a reduction of two per cent in the school tax rate following the recent property valuation and after considering the budget needs for the year.

In Memoriam

WALKER — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, who passed away January 19th, 1952.
Quietly remembered through the years
With silent thoughts and unseen tears
Always remembered by,
HIS WIFE & FAMILY.

JUDD — In loving memory of my dear husband, Jesse L. Judd, who left me January 20th, 1955.
I miss you more each day.
Somehow life is not the same
Since you were called away.
My heart still aches with sadness,
My eyes shed many tears.
God alone knows how much I miss you.
As it comes to the end of two years,
Peacefully lies one, the best
In God's own Garden.
Always remembered by,
HIS LOVING WIFE, MABEL.

General Notes
Mrs. L. R. Buzzell and Miss Helen Buzzell have closed their house here and left for Florida, where they will spend the winter.
Mrs. C. Standish, of Rougemont, is the guest of Mrs. F. N. Crossfield.

ROYAL NAME

The Strait of Georgia between Vancouver Island and the B. C. mainland was named for George III, who died in 1820.

Cards Of Thanks

The Misses Maria and Alice Samson and family, Mr. J. P. Samson, Mr. C. F. Smith and Mr. J. B. Charet wish to express their sincere appreciation to everyone who offered masses, spiritual bouquets, cards of sympathy, telegrams, floral tributes, visited at the funeral parlour, assisted at the funeral or in any way showed their sympathy at the time of the death of Mrs. J. N. Samson. Your kindness will be remembered with gratitude.

I would like to take this opportunity of thanking all my friends and relatives for the lovely flowers, gifts and cards, to those who visited me while I was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Ellis, Dr. Dougan, Miss Gallup R.N., Mrs. Hunter R.N., the nurses and nurses aides on the fourth floor.
Your kindness was greatly appreciated.
MRS. GORDON PLANCHE.
East Angus, Que.

COATCOOK

Mrs. O. Bissnette is a patient in the Coatcook Hospital. Local firemen answered several early morning calls on Tuesday, none of which turned out to be serious, when homeowners attempting to get more heat crowded their fires too heavily. Town workmen have done a very fine job this winter in keeping the streets of the town well scraped down so that few snow banks have built up near the curbs. Some of the sidewalks have not been so well looked after, however, and in some cases have not seen a plow since the first snow fall.

B. & P.W. Club

Addressed By Hospital Administrator

The regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held at the MacKinnon Memorial, the president, Miss Margaret Haight, presiding.

Plans for the Club's program for the coming months were discussed and approved. The date for the annual Public Speaking Contest for the girls of the Sherbrooke and Lennoxville High Schools was set for Monday, March 11. Mrs. M. Barter, Miss Clara Aitkenhead and Miss Ellen Ennals consenting to act on the committee for this event.

Highlighting the evening's activities was the address of Mr. H. C. Allnutt, Administrator of the Sherbrooke Hospital, on the subject of "Hospitals", defining what they are, their function and organization. The speaker stated in his introductory remarks that this was a vast and practically inexhaustible subject but that he hoped he would leave his hearers with a better conception of a hospital's place in a community and its value to it.

Many interesting facts were brought out as the history of hospitals was traced from their earliest mention in 360 B.C. to the advent of Christianity when compassion and service became the watchword of those dedicating themselves to the care of the ill, the poor and the outcasts of society, then on to the 18th century when curative medicine and hospital care came into being.

The speaker also touched upon the remarkable increase in longevity and the wonders of medicine and science which will have unfolded by the year 2000 when preventative medicine and the social sciences attain their full stature.

Speaking briefly on the organization of a general voluntary hospital, Mr. Allnutt explained that such an institution is perhaps one of the most democratic of any organization found. The Sherbrooke Hospital, for instance, is owned by a lay Corporation with each contributor becoming, as it were, a shareholder whose shares, while of no monetary value, are nevertheless valuable possessions in terms of community service.

The guest-speaker was introduced by Miss Clara Aitkenhead, R.N., with Miss Marjorie Moir subsequently voicing the appreciation of all present.

The serving of refreshments by the social committee assisted by Club members brought the evening to a close.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Fryer of Sweetsburg, Que., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Mr. Keith Le Chasseur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet K. Le Chasseur of Cowansville, Que.

Her Careful Consideration Will Indicate Loyalty

A wife proves her loyalty to her husband in many seemingly small ways.
She doesn't encourage the children to keep secrets from their father, imagining that if she and the kids stick together, they can "handle" the man of the house.
She respects her husband's confidence and withholds the things she suspects he wouldn't want her to tell.
Whether or not she is on the best of terms with his family, she is careful never to say anything that can be construed as critical of them when she is talking to outsiders.
She doesn't broadcast her husband's faults to her friends or cry on their shoulders when she and her husband have a misunderstanding.
LET HIM TALK SHOP
She doesn't talk about her husband's business affairs, figuring it is his business to tell as much or as little as he wants to.
She doesn't embarrass him by talking in front of him about her old beaux, especially the ones who have been more successful than her husband.
She doesn't talk "poor mouth," but keeps her necessary economies to herself.
She doesn't make her husband look silly by bossing him around or treating him like a little boy who always needs to be prompted or reminded.
She doesn't criticize his manners in front of others.
She does nothing to hurt him in his job or to keep him from advancement.
If he disappoints her, she doesn't let the world know it. These are only a few of the seemingly small but actually important ways that a wife proves her loyalty to her husband.

Beauty Tips

Would you consider yourself well groomed if you went visiting with your hands dirty? Of course not. But what about your gloves? The washable numbers take moments to launder and the small effort pays off in that added bit of good grooming which so enhances your attractiveness.

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES' AID
Mrs. S. G. Garland was hostess on Wednesday afternoon at the Manse, Portland Ave., for a meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid. Mrs. C. A. Turner presided and opened the meeting with a short devotional period.

It was decided to cater for the Men's Club supper on Monday evening, January 21, and the menu was arranged. Mrs. E. A. Johnston and Mrs. J. MacDonald were appointed conveners.

The treasurer received the "phantom tea" money which amounted to a gratifying sum.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Dunsmore, Portland Ave.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and a social hour followed when several guests joined the members for tea. Mrs. C. A. Turner poured and Mrs. E. A. Johnston and Miss Joanne Garland assisted in serving.

KING GEORGE FIFTH CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The January meeting of the King George Fifth Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the Moore St. headquarters, with the regent, Mrs. S. McLean, presiding. The meeting was opened with the prayer of the Order, and raising of the standard.

Mrs. McLean thanked all members who had helped make up the nursery bags which were recently shipped overseas and announced that a donation of money had been sent to Quebec for the Hungarian Relief.

A circular report was read from the Provincial secretary, appealing for new or used clothing for European and Asian relief, and the regent stressed the need for volunteers to knit socks for Korean children.

Mrs. R. Havard, convener for the Malcolm Troup concert, gave the members a report on the success of this event, and the chapter's share in the proceeds.

Mrs. Havard then read an obituary notice concerning the death of Mathew Halton, noted Canadian commentator and journalist, who had been working in England at the time of his death. Mr. Halton had recently been awarded an honorary degree by his Alma Mater, the University of Winnipeg, and was the recipient of one of the earliest of the L.O.D.E. overseas bursaries.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess for the evening, Mrs. F. H. Bradley.

It's Ski-Time In The Eastern Townships

ONE OF THE TRAILS AT HILLCREST

Many Resorts Calling Skiing Enthusiasts; New Lift At Hillcrest

The late snowfall this winter has perhaps retarded the skiing season but now that it is in full swing ski enthusiasts are making up for lost time. You may not be able to ski in your back yard, but within a few miles from your community the best of hills, chalets and skiing facilities await you whether you be the effortless skier who takes perpendicular drops with ease or the timid type who is content to stick to the gentler slopes.

For residents of Sherbrooke the most popular resort and having the easiest access is Green Timber Mountain and Hillcrest Lodge.

Just last year the North Hatley Ski Lift Co. Ltd. installed a French-designed ski-tow known as a Poma-Lift. It was the second one installed in Canada. There is also a newly installed lift at Mount Burke, 30 miles over the Vermont border.

The Poma-Lift eliminates the wear and tear of a rope tow. The skier straddles a moveable seat holding onto a perpendicular pole. It also eliminates much of the danger, as each seat can be handled individually and won't start up the cable unless released by the attendant.

The success of the Poma-Lift at Hillcrest has been responsible for increased business and it is hoped that in the future it will lend itself to more popularity. There is ample parking space and heated ski shacks both at the bottom and top of the mountain.

Skiing is becoming an increasingly popular sport with teenagers and schools have put it on the curriculum of competitive inter-school activities. Each year an inter-scholastic ski meet is held at Hillcrest and for older and more advanced skiers, Eastern Townships open meets are also held at Hillcrest.

Among popular winter hotels which are drawing more and more skiing enthusiasts both from the Townships and from Metropolitan Montreal and other Quebec communities are Pleasant View, Connaught Inn and Hovey Manor in North Hatley.

Skiing in the Eastern Townships is not confined to the Sherbrooke area with other ski clubs at Shefford and Sutton mountains and Mount Orford.

Financial Budget Presented By Stanstead Guild

STANSTEAD — The annual meeting of Christ Anglican Church in Stanstead was held at the Rectory, home of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Salt with 18 members attending.

The meeting opened with prayers offered by Mr. Salt, and was followed by the hearing of annual reports of the officers and committees.

Mr. Salt took the chair and received the nominations of officers for the year of 1957, all of whom were unanimously elected as follows: Mrs. Florence Sevrigh, Honorary President; Mrs. Edward Hyatt, president; Mrs. Leo Perreault, vice-president; Mrs. E. J. Barnes, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond Curtis, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Roy Wells, secretary; Mrs. Alton Grady, flower convenor.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Hyatt in the chair, the budget for the year was presented as follows: Fuel for church and rectory, $350; Sunday school, $100; cleaning Parish hall, $50; painting interior of hall, $50; robes and drapes, $125; window repairs, $50; Prayer books, $50; Miscellaneous and other expenses $425. This budget was accepted by the members.

The vestry supper was planned with Mrs. George Millet, Mrs. Clarence Hill, Mrs. Leo Perreault, Mrs. Richard Middleton, Mrs. Raymond Curtis and Mrs. Edward Hyatt to act on the committee.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Salt, Mrs. Ashley Scarth and Mrs. Edward Hyatt. The next meeting will be held on February 13.

GOLDEN STAR CHAPTER

The January meeting of Golden Star Chapter, U.D., O.E.S., was held in the Golden Rule Masonic Lodge rooms in Stanstead, with a good attendance of officers and members. With Sister Betty Ann Colt, W.M., in the East, the session opened in form. A petition for membership was received and dealt with accordingly. A gift of money was received from Confederation Chapter, O. E. S. Danville. A letter was read from Sister Alice Rowat, Grand Instructress, stating the school of instruction for District No. 1 will be held at the Masonic Temple in Sherbrooke on February 23, with rehearsal in the afternoon, supper to be served there and instruction in the evening. Two officers of this chapter were invited to participate. Sister Flora Wilson reported Mr. Vivian as willing to heat the hall for the winter meetings form. A practice will be held at the hall on the evening of January 30 to which it is hoped all officers will be able to attend.

ful "dos" and "don'ts" which may help you avoid unnecessary accidents:

DO ALWAYS ski under control.

DO let your presence be known to other skiers near you on the slopes by the familiar shout "track."

DO allow yourself ample space for turns.

DO learn the proper method of gripping the tow.

And most important of all, DO buy the proper equipment.

Heading this list are boots which experts say are the most important part of your skiing equipment. Harness comes next and a safety cable harness is the best type as it will give under stress and prevent broken ankles. Poles should be the proper length. If too long they get tangled, if too short they throw the skier off balance. Clothing should be streamlined. No fashionable sleeves or decorations which might catch in something.

Now for the "don'ts."

DON'T try the high slopes unless you are experienced.

DON'T be overconfident and try feats that "look" easy when executed by experienced skiers.

DON'T turn into the path of other skiers.

DON'T try to stop amidst a crowd.

DON'T grasp the tow too closely to the person in front of you.

Skiing has been termed a dangerous sport. It isn't if you follow the rules.

Excellent Reports Given At Annual Meeting Of St. Paul's Guild At Bury

BURY.—The annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church was held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hunt. Members assisting as joint hostesses were Mrs. M. Olson, Mrs. A. Martin and Mrs. George Parsons.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. W. Buchanan. Minutes of the previous monthly meeting and the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. T. Bown, who also read the correspondence, consisting of many thank-you notes from those who had been remembered with Christmas cheer.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. H. B. Lawrence, showed a most successful year with a balance in the bank of $409.66 after all obligations had been met, as well as a generous donation given to the wardens.

The report of the work committee was given by Mrs. A. Ward. In the absence of Mrs. H. Morrow, no reports were given for the Altar Guild or Rectory Committee.

Previous to the election of officers, the president Mrs. Buchanan, expressed her thanks to the members for their cheerful co-operation in promoting the work of the Guild with such a satisfactory result.

Mrs. G. Parsons then took the chair for the election of officers resulting in the following slate being elected: Hon. president, Mrs. Helen McClintock; president, Mrs. Wilbert Buchanan; first and second vice-presidents, Mrs. Rayfield Ross and Mrs. Alfred Martin; treasurer, Mrs. H. B. Lawrence, all re-elected; secretary, Mrs. Matilda Worby.

Resuming the chair, Mrs. Buchanan thanked the members for this re-affirmation of their confidence in her, and their appointed members to serve on various committees, viz: work committee, Mrs. A. Ward, Mrs. E. Coates; Altar Guild, Mrs. H. Morrow; Rectory, Mrs. E. Wootton, Mrs. E. Morrison and Mrs. Eric Fisher; collector of dues and cards, Mrs. Wm. Harper; social service, Mrs. Bessie Olson; auditors, Mrs. E. Morrison and Mrs. Geo. Parsons; press, Mrs. Geo. Parsons.

A card signed by all present is to be sent Mrs. H. Morrow, who is confined to the house with a cold.

Money was voted to the secretary and work committee to enable them to carry on. At the conclusion of the business the meeting was closed with prayer by the president.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. H. Rowell.

Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Norris came in at the tea hour and were given a cordial welcome. Mr. Norris had just returned from the Sherbrooke Hospital where he had been under observation for a few days. All are pleased that he is feeling better. Other guests at the tea hour were the teachers, Mrs. R. N. Mayhew, Mrs. A. Olson, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. McGee.

The next meeting will be held on the regular day, February 6, at the home of Mrs. H. B. Lawrence, with Mrs. S. J. Prangle and Mrs. Arthur Ward assisting.

HIGH AND LOW FOREST

A meeting of the Forum was held at the home of Mrs. Pearl Lowry when a few people braved the elements to attend.

The broadcast was listened to and the question of how parity in agriculture could be achieved was discussed. We need a better marketing plan for one thing; another suggestion was for the government to take off the indirect tax from machinery which the farmer has to buy.

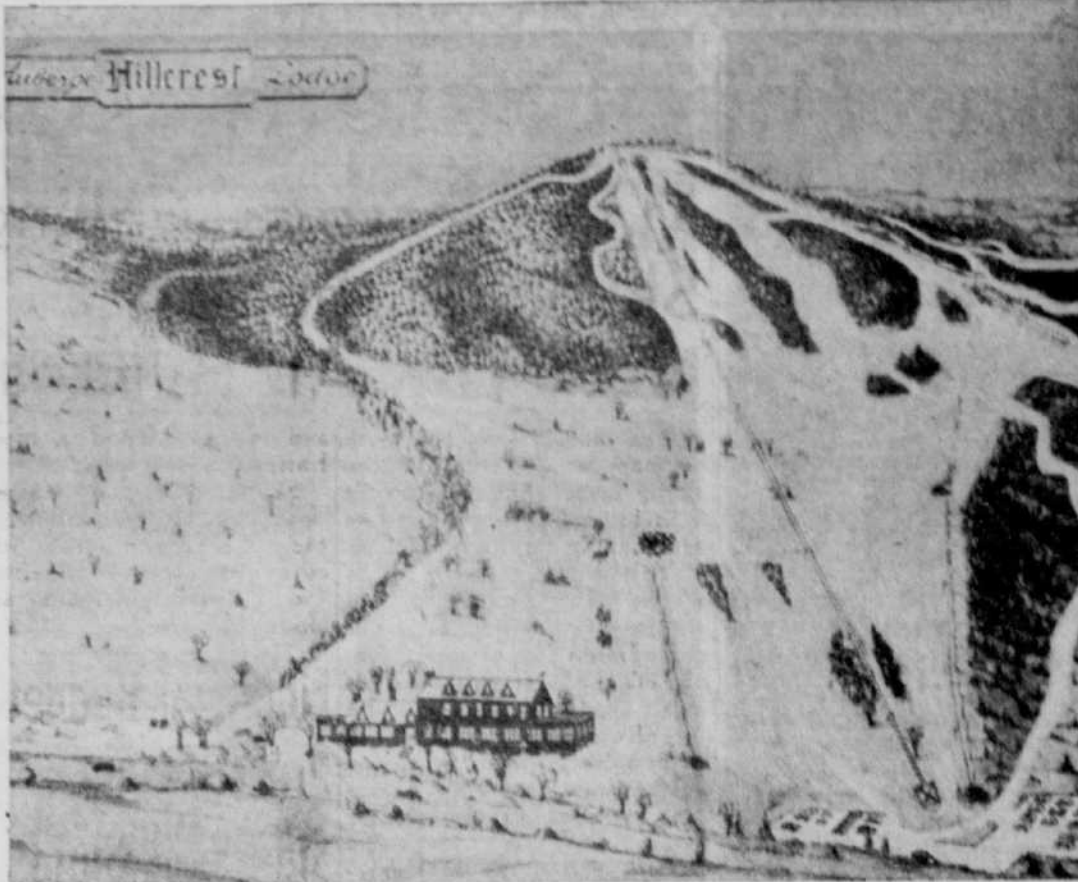

Farmers will have to organize and stick together to demand attention before they will get parity prices for agriculture.

The Forum was invited back to Mrs. Lawry's home on Jan. 21.

Mrs. Cecil Akhurst Re-Elected To Head Coaticook United Church W. A.

COATICOOK.—The ladies of the United Church Woman's Association met at the Manse with Mrs. Frank Cant and Mrs. Philip Lawrence as hostesses. The president, Mrs. Cecil Akhurst, conducted the devotional period.

Rev. Frank Cant then took the chair for the installation of officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. Cecil Akhurst was re-elected president. Other officers and conveners elected were: First, second and third vice-presidents, Mrs. V. Tousaw, Mrs. Violet Hanson and Mrs. Irwin Waldron; secretary, Mrs. Chas. Akhurst; treasurer, Mrs. F. Gooley; assistant treasurer, Miss Jean Stein.

Devotions conveners, Mrs. C. Akhurst; program, Mrs. K. Walker; Christian citizenship, Mrs. F. Hansford; visiting and Christian fellowship, Mrs. K. Walker; stewardship, Mrs. V. Tousaw; leadership training, Mrs. P. Lawrence; literature and floral decorations, Miss Jean Stein; Manse, Mrs. A. Jenks; youth work, Mrs. Frank Cant; hall, Mrs. A. Gregoire; kitchen, Mrs. J. Gledhill; menu, Mrs. E. Brunet; nominating, Mrs. Len Akhurst.

It was decided that a supper would be served at the annual meeting of the congregation later in the month. The executive plans to meet shortly to discuss projects for the year. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Cecil Akhurst for offering to continue as president for another term.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the joint hostesses.

CLOSE CALL
A close call for three CNR employees occurred when the gasoline driven track car was struck by a diesel engine near the Court St. crossing.

The workmen, track inspectors and maintenance men, were riding on the small car when the engine with one car rounded the bend without warning. The cow catcher of the engine caught the light-four-wheeled car and tossed it into a nearby snow bank. The men suffered minor bruises and were shaken up considerably but were lucky to escape serious injury.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES
Rev. Frank Cant attended the annual meeting of the Board of Christian Education of the United Church of Canada held at Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto, representing the Quebec Sherbrooke Presbytery as chairman of the Presbytery's Board of Christian Education.

The meeting of the newly elected executive of the W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Akhurst.

The annual official board meeting will take place on Monday, Jan. 21, at which time all secretaries will make their reports of the activities of the past year. On Monday, Jan. 28, the annual congregational meeting will be held, preceded by a family supper and at this meeting several replacements for vacancies on the various boards will be nominated.

GENERAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Meade are leaving shortly to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins and family, in California. Their son, Cecil Meade, is remaining in Coaticook until spring while preparing for an exam in musical composition to be taken at McGill. Cecil Meade recently had a quite busy time in Montreal carrying out his duties at McGill University Library and working at the Montreal Post Office during the holiday rush.

Aside from these duties he found time to spread a little Christmas cheer by playing the piano for a party given at the School for Retarded Children, and another party in a ward of the Verdun Protestant Hospital. He was also the piano soloist at concerts given by the McGill West McLean Society and at the Negro Community Church.

Friends of Mrs. F. Gooley are pleased to hear that she is feeling much improved after having been confined to her home for two weeks by illness.

Burke Mountain Holding Canadian Ski Week

For year around comfort stay at the Cabana Motel. Restaurant, and Grill at your disposal.
CABANA MOTEL
Route No. 1 city limits
MAGOG

All Canadian skiers are invited to visit Burke Mt. during Canadian Skiers Week starting on Monday, January 21 and continuing through Saturday, Jan. 26. Sponsored by Ski Burke Mt. Inc., as part of their first anniversary celebration, to make it possible for Canadian skiers to get acquainted with the Burke Mt. Ski Area, one of Northern Vermont's major ski developments.

During this week it will be possible for all Canadian skiers to purchase day tickets for one half the regular price of $3.50, Monday through Friday, and $4 on Saturday, making the cost to the Canadian visitors of $1.75 and $2 respectively per day.

The Burke Mt. ski area, located in the Darling State Park at East Burke, Vt., opened on Dec. 29, 1956, for its first full season, with the mile-long Pomalift and the rope tow operating every day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The top elevation of the mountain is 3,267 feet, the elevation at the base terminal of the Pomalift of 1,730 gives a vertical drop of 1,537 feet.

New and varied trails, fast, modern uphill facilities, plenty of uncrowded slopes and excellent snow conditions make the Burke Mt. ever growing in popularity as a ski area for the whole family. The northern exposure of its trails and slopes provides unsurpassed skiing conditions throughout the winter and also gives spring skiing at its best.

The Bear Den Trail, known as one of the finest mountain trails in the eastern section of this country, and with an intermediate by-pass around the steepest section is now classified as both expert and intermediate.

The Wilderness Trail, classified as expert, is a racing trail that will test the skill of the better skiers, while the winding broad, smooth surface of the Toll Road offers a two-and-one-half mile thrill for both novice and intermediate skiers. The smooth open slope of the rope tow area provide additional opportunity for the novice and intermediate skier to improve his skill.

Burke Mt. is just off Vermont Route No. 114 at East Burke, Vt. In travelling from Canada to the mountain via U.S. Route No. 5 it is possible to go direct from West Burke to East Burke, saving approximately 8 miles. The road is clearly marked starting at the junction of U.S. Route No. 2 and 2A in West Burke Village. The area can also be reached by Vermont Route No. 114, entering Vermont at Norton Mills.

The Burke Mt. Ski Area is only 65 miles from Sherbrooke and 128 miles from Montreal. The Canadian Pacific Railroad provides good train service, daily and Sunday, between Montreal and Lyndonville for those who wish to travel by rail. Bus and taxi service are available for transportation from Lyndonville to Burke Mt.

TERRY SAWCHUK RETIRES TO MORE PEACEFUL SCENES

Terry Sawchuk, Boston Bruins' suspended goalie, left by train for his Milford, Mich., home, vowing that he had quit hockey for good. Before boarding the train he told a group of reporters that he had definitely quit and was going to stay quiet. At the same time he informed them he was going to sue four Boston papers for what they said about him.

As for his disappearing act, he just locked himself up and wouldn't answer the door or take any telephone calls. Sawchuk, 27, missed seven games last month when he was in the hospital for treatment of a blood ailment, sometimes called glandular fever by us laymen.

The only known treatment is real, complete rest. A doctor said: "If Terry had this in December and went back in goal after a couple of weeks, he went back far too soon. It takes at least six weeks or six months to get over it. If there is any depression it often causes a 'don't give a darn' feeling. They just feel rotten and aren't running enough fever to justify feeling bad, so they can't understand what's wrong with them."

So fans that give you an idea of how Terry is feeling. It isn't the first time it has happened to a goalie. Such greats as Bill Durnan and Gerry McNeil have folded under the pressure. We don't think there is a harder job in hockey than playing goal. There is no letup in that spot. You are a target everytime the opposition gets the puck. Why any sane person would ever want to be a rubber blocker is beyond us. Lots of easier ways of making a quick dollar.

The Boston papers claim he is a "quitter" but we don't think so because his past actions speak for themselves. No player could acquire such a wonderful record through the years as a goalie and be a quitter.

Terry was named to the All-Star team Tuesday and that was the day he informed Coach Milt Schmidt that he was finished. We can understand just how the Bruins feel about it, especially in the financial end. On the other hand it seems that he has reached the end of the line, at least until he feels better, and no amount of talking will make him change his mind.

Our opinion in the matter is that his nerves are broken from overwork and only a good rest will get him back. Calling him a "quitter" certainly won't improve them. Terry Sawchuk will pull on another pair of pads to stop the bullet drives of the NHL snipers. In the meantime, let's try to remember him as he was, one of the greatest goalies ever to don the pads. He certainly deserves this on his past records. No one ever called Bill Durnan and Gerry McNeil "quitters" when they folded under the pressure.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Don Doe of Granby. Don is very well known in golfing circles throughout the Townships and has held all the top titles from time to time. On behalf of the sporting fans of the Townships, please accept our sincere sympathy in your great loss.

The Business Men's classes will open Tuesday at 7.30 at the Y.M.C.A. and anyone interested in attending is invited to be on hand. A little bit of everything will be on the agenda. Gymnastics, volleyball and judo will be given.

The classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evenings and all attending are requested to be on time. Defensive judo exhibition will be given which should be very useful and interesting to all.

The three local rinks competing in the Royal Victoria Jubilee Trophy Bonspiel held at Ottawa did fairly well in their first showing. Rollie Badger and his Sherbrooke rink upset last year's winner, T. A. Bisson of Buckingham, who was out to cop the mug for the third time.

Willis Kirby and his quartet ran into a little tougher opposition and dropped a close 13-10 verdict to W. J. McFarlen of Ottawa Glebe. It was a hard match the whole way. Buster McLenahan and his crew from the Paper Town posted an easy 10-4 win over R. S. Davis of Pembroke, Ont. So it seems that our curlers can hold their own with the best of them.

The touring Scots are having plenty of trouble trying to pick up a few wins during their matches across the country in the Strathcona Cup event. They have won only six games so far. Maybe the entertainment is getting to be too much for them.

The Border Curling Club Mixed Bonspiel winds up this evening when the four finalists clash for the trophies and prizes. It commenced last Sunday and has been going all week. Judging from the reports everybody had a wonderful time despite the sub-zero weather. We would like to thank their pressman for calling in the results each morning. It keeps everyone in the know and certainly helps.

See where the Golden Flashes of the Lawrence School dumped the Blue Jets, from the Mitchell School in the Elementary School Hockey League. Doug Galbraith led the parade with four goals while Grant Fraser notched the other. For the losers Bruce Neal came up with the saver.

Next Monday Tigers will tangle with the Blue Jets while on Wednesday the Tigers and Golden Flashes will get together. These are section "B" games. In section "A" Monday's game will bring together Rough Riders and Red Jets. It is the only game scheduled for the week.

One very pleasing thing about the list released this week by the Canadian Boxing and Wrestling Federation is the rating which is given to two local fighters. We are referring to Burke Emery of Sherbrooke, now fighting out of New York, and Marcel Piau of Windsor.

Emery has been moved from the 10th spot to number two which is quite a jump but we think that he certainly rates it. Burke gave a very good account of himself when he fought on the semi-final at the Gardens a few weeks ago. Marcel Piau is listed as fifth from the unlisted ranks which speaks very well for our local boys.

This is the first time we ever remember that a fighter from these parts has been listed so high in the National ratings. Emery has gone a long way since leaving Sherbrooke and we believe he will go still further along the road to the top. He has put in a lot of hard work and we sure he won't throw away his chances now.

Ontario Court Of Appeals Awards
Detroit Lions $6,900 Damages
Against Dublinski For Jumping

TORONTO — The Ontario Court of Appeal ruled Friday in favor of Detroit Lions of the National Football League in their legal battle over the services of quarterback Tom Dublinski.

The court awarded the Lions $6,900 damages against Dublinski for breach of contract.

The Detroit Football Company, owners of the club, appealed against dismissal last July by Chief Justice McRuer of the Supreme Court of Ontario of a $10,000 breach-of-contract action they brought against the player.

The Detroit club sought a declaratory order entitling it to an injunction prohibiting Dublinski from playing with any other team for a year. However, the period for which the injunction would have been valid ended on May 1, 1956.

Dublinski played for Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four football union in 1955. He missed the entire 1956 season with the Argonauts because of injuries.

Dublinski signed with Detroit July 23, 1954, and his contract, which ran until May 1, 1955, carried an option clause which the club claimed it exercised in March, 1955. In dismissing the Detroit action last July, Chief Justice McRuer ruled that the so-called option clause was not an option in itself but merely gave the club the right to renew Dublinski's contract.

Dublinski said recently that he has been asked by coach Buddy Parker of the Lions to come to Detroit to listen to a Detroit offer for the 1957 season. At the time Dublinski said he planned to hear Parker out, though he gave no indication he would accept.

Dublinski's contract with Argonauts, reported to have been for $17,500 for each of the two years he was in Canada, also carried an option clause covering the 1957 season.

Dublinski was not available for comment on Friday's judgment.

Two American Hockey League veterans, Obie O'Brien of Hershey and Ed. Slowinski of Buffalo scored their 100th goals recently.

Black Hawks And Red Wings On TV This Afternoon

CHICAGO. — (AP) — Chicago Black Hawks are host to the second place Detroit Red Wings in a National Hockey League match today that will be televised nationally 2 p.m. (EST-CBS).

Victorious in only 8 of 42 games, the last-place Hawks have a 1-3-1 record for the season against the Red Wings, who trail front-running Montreal by four points in the standings.

Canadian Curlers Leave For Tour Of Continent

PRESTWICK, Scotland — A party of 63 Canadian curlers arrived by air Friday on the start of a four-week tour of Scotland, England, France and Switzerland.

The curlers, who will play only exhibition and friendly matches, are from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The group makes an annual curling tour but this is the first time it has visited Europe.

The party is led by John MacLeod of Summerside, P.E.I., and includes television and radio commentators, who will make a film record of the tour to be shown later in Canada.

Winston Mullen of Wolfville, N.S., told sports reporters at Prestwick that curling is spreading rapidly throughout Canada. He said the city of Winnipeg alone probably contains more curlers than all of Scotland, home of the roaring game.

The itinerary includes games in Glasgow, Edinburgh, London and Paris. Their appearances in London next week will mark the first time that Canadian curlers have played in the capital.

Sand Traps Are Leading Lady Golfers League

The Sand Traps are holding the top position in the Lennoxville Lady Golfers Bowling League following a three-week layoff during the holidays.

The Caddies are in second spot with a total of 35 points, three less than the leaders, while the Putters have amassed 24 with the Wedges and the Greens stalemated with 15 each. The Drivers are still marooned in the cellar of the loop with five points.

Mrs. J. Mathieu is the pace-setter for individual honors with 108 while Mrs. G. Roy follows with 102. Mrs. J. Tarte, Mrs. G. Harmer and Mrs. Y. Roberge are deadlocked with 101 for the remaining positions of the top five in the loop.

Terry Sawchuk Arrives Home Still Refusing To Talk To Reporters; Will Release A Story On Monday

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT — (AP) — Scowling one minute and smiling the next, controversial Terry Sawchuk came home Friday while his abrupt retirement from big-time hockey remains unsolved.

The Boston Bruin goalie, three times the Vezina Trophy winner as the National Hockey League's finest goaltender, gave just one clue to reporters who gathered to meet his early-morning train from Boston:

"Sickness has nothing to do with my retirement," he said. "Can't a guy quit a game?"

The origin of Sawchuk's split with the Boston club was known only to the club, to the 27-year-old goalie and possibly to a few of his closest friends. Sawchuk called a press conference for Monday noon at his home but made no promises to reveal anything pertinent.

"Give me a couple of days," he said, "and I'll give you some kind of a story."

The crew-cut veteran of seven NHL campaigns offered no explanation of his decision on Tuesday to quit hockey, followed quickly by a life suspension by Boston coach Milt Schmidt.

Neither would he discuss his disappearance in Boston until he boarded a train Thursday afternoon. As he left for Detroit, where his wife and two children reside, he was curt with reporters and said, "I'm mad. I'm not talking.... I'm gonna sue four Boston newspapers for what they said about me when I get home."

He didn't discuss that Friday, but he was ready to battle it out with reporters and photographers. Sawchuk threatened to give one writer "a punch in the nose" when pressed to "give us something to go on, Terry."

More than a dozen newspaper men and photographers pleaded with Sawchuk for more than 10 minutes to talk things over.

"Don't bother me," Sawchuk bellowed. "Get out of here and leave me alone. I'm not saying anything. If you want a story, call Milt."

Someone suggested that Sawchuk might have been put back in the Bruin lineup too quickly after he was sent to hospital two weeks with mononucleosis, a blood disease.

"I felt fine then," he said, "and there's nothing wrong with me now. I'm just quitting, that's all. Isn't a guy allowed to do that?"

Sawchuk said the blood ailment was contagious and claimed it had spread to others on his club and two Toronto players.

Royal Montreal Curling Club To Celebrate 150th Anniversary With Three-Country Bonspiel Next Week

MONTREAL — The Royal Montreal Curling Club, North America's oldest, is to mark its 150th anniversary next week with a three-country bonspiel for Duke of Edinburgh badges.

In what might be regarded as something of a world series, 16 rinks Tuesday night are to begin a knockout competition that is to conclude Friday at the Forum. Finalists from three consolation rounds also are to meet then.

Scotland has one entry, the United States two, the host club two and the remaining rinks represent the 12 Canadian curling associations. About 75 visitors and a number of Montreal rinks will play a host of "friendlies" through the four-day spiel.

Other skips with Canadian championships experience will be Bob Munro of Royal Montreal, Claude Hall of St. John's Nfld., and Olivier Samson of Quebec.

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell of Summerside, P.E.I. and Ottawa, an honorary life member of the Dominion Curling Association, will skip Prince Edward Island's entry.

The others: P. F. McIntyre, Trail, British Columbia; F. J. Wolfe, Edmonton, Alberta; Gord Malcolm, Saint John, New Brunswick; R. H. Jones, Truro, Nova Scotia; H. V. Fellows, Royal Montreal; Sir John E. Gilmour, Edinburgh, Royal Caledonia Curling Club of Scotland; Bob Spain, Minot, N.D.; Midwest Curling Association; Dr. Robert W. Hurd, Utica, N. Y.; Grand National Curling Club of America.

The main prize, four bejeweled Duke of Edinburgh badges, will never be duplicated. Only five were struck and the fifth goes into the Royal Montreal trophy room.

Other prizes will be given to consolation — round win 5 s and non — trophy competitors. Five Montreal clubs will provide ice.

Royal Montreal's origin dates to a spirited session of curling on the St. Lawrence River by 20 Montreal merchants Jan. 22, 1807. Repairing to Gillis' Coffee House for hot beef and greens, the curlers drew up the first rules, still held by the club.

From that time—King George III was still ruling—membership expanded to its present 250, plus honorary and associate ones. By the record, the modern-day curler has it pretty soft.

In 1907 at the centenary celebrations, record show, one W. L. Fenwick in one day curled three 25-end matches with 60-pound irons—lifting a total of 4½ tons of metal.

Shrine All-Star Game Takes Jump Over Last Year

VANCOUVER — The second annual Shrine all-star football game, played at Empire Stadium here last Dec. 8, resulted in a profit of $47,111 for Shrine hospitals in Montreal and Winnipeg, it was announced Friday.

Jack Streight, publicity chairman for Gizeh Temple in Vancouver, said the net revenue was more than double the net from the first annual game the year before in Toronto. The take at Toronto was $21,750.

The profit came on total revenue of $108,238, up more than $20,000 from the gross at Toronto of $90,000.

Streight said the money will provide treatment for almost 500 youngsters at the Shrine hospitals.

Payment of players, coaches, trainers and team officials took the biggest slice of the money—$18,525. Members of the West team, which won 35-0, earned $350 and the losing Eastern all-stars got $250 each.

Two former Canadian champions are entered in the main event.

Garnet Campbell, curling king of the Campbell clan, will lead his Avonlea, Sask., family rink. Thrice a contender, he won the Canadian championship in 1955. Leo Johnson of Winnipeg, winner back in 1934, represents Manitoba.

Jimmy Guy of Kenora, Ont., twice in the Canadian championships, will skip the Northern Ontario Curling Association's entry. Alf Phillips of Toronto, who lost out in last year's finals to Winnipeg's Bill Walsh in extra ends, will represent the Ontario Curling Association.

Other skips with Canadian championships experience will be Bob Munro of Royal Montreal, Claude Hall of St. John's Nfld., and Olivier Samson of Quebec.

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell of Summerside, P.E.I. and Ottawa, an honorary life member of the Dominion Curling Association, will skip Prince Edward Island's entry.

Aces And Paper Makers Clash In Important Tilt; Beavers And Flyers Meet; Richmond Braves At Asbestos

Windsor Paper Makers and the Magog Aces will clash tomorrow afternoon in the Paper Town and second place in the Massachusetts Valley Hockey League will be at stake. In the other tilts Richmond travels over to Asbestos and the two local clubs, Sherbrooke and Brompton-East Angus, tangle to complete the week-end fixture.

The Aces hold a two-point lead over the Gendron squad and each team has played the same number of games, 15. The Theriault outfit has ten wins and five losses while the Paper Makers are sporting a 9-6 record for their work.

In the two meetings this season each team has posted victories on their home ice. In the first duel at Windsor the Paper Makers eked out a close 4-3 deal while in Magog the Aces came through with a 6-5 victory.

With so much at stake both teams will be going all out to post a victory and the fans can expect a hard-fought battle. Both squads will be at full strength with the exception of Gerard Spenard, who is out for the balance of the season.

The local game will be the final meeting between the Beavers and Flyers with the Parr squad holding a slight edge. The Brompton squad posted a 6-3 win over the Beavers in the first meeting but the next two it was much closer.

Sherbrooke upset the Flyers in the second meeting coming through with a 4-2 win but in the other tilt the Parr boys managed to eke out a close 4-3 victory but were forced to go the limit to do so. Tomorrow's fixture should be a close one with both teams having an even chance of nothing up the decision.

In the other tilt the Meteors and Braves are meeting for the second time. In the opening battle the Braves upset the front-runners in a surprise win but this tilt will be a hard one.

The Braves reinforced with three new players will give the Meteors plenty of trouble. All these new men are former Asbestos players and they will no doubt be out to show up their former mates. At the same time the Braves will be gunning for their second consecutive victory having topped over the Beavers Thursday evening.

Sherbrooke High School And Magog Divide Cage Bill; Seniors Win 51-27 While Junior Girls Stopped 26-24

Sherbrooke High School and Magog High divided a twinbill basketball fixture played at the local school. The Senior girls won 51-27 while the juniors dropped a close 26-24 decision.

The first quarter opened with B. MacLeod sinking the first basket thus giving Sherbrooke the lead which they maintained throughout the game. During the second quarter Sherbrooke continued its quick pace as they out-shot and outscored Magog, giving them a 25-10 favor at half-time.

The third quarter opened with Magog bucketing two successive baskets. It looked as if this quarter was in their favor until the local girls improved their defence and slowed down Magog. Throughout the fourth quarter the Maroon and Whites pushed out past the Magog girls to see S.H.S. Senior girls once again victorious 51-27.

The junior game got underway with Sherbrooke scoring first and taking the lead which they held throughout the quarter. In the second quarter Magog defence increased their pressure holding Sherbrooke almost scoreless.

Payment of players, coaches, trainers and team officials took the biggest slice of the money—$18,525. Members of the West team, which won 35-0, earned $350 and the losing Eastern all-stars got $250 each.
