

EXHIBITION NOW IN FULL SWING, JUDGING UNDER WAY

Indications Point To a Good Attendance Today. Fine Line of Attractions Both Afternoon and Evening. Lieut. Governor Will Be Visitor Tomorrow. Horses and Cattle Make Good Showing.

Despite the heavy downpour of rain yesterday the attendance at the opening day of the Exhibition was a little ahead of last year. Owing to the bad weather the judging had to be postponed and the sports and horse races organized in honor of Labor Day were reluctantly abandoned. For the same reason a recruiting meeting at which Sir Geo. H. Perley and Major A. H. Moore had arranged to speak, could not be held. The disappointment of the visitors, however, was offset to a great extent by the putting on of the specialty attractions in front of the grand stand.

EVERYTHING IN FULL SWING.

The Exhibition reopened this morning in fine weather. The midway arrived yesterday afternoon and evening and is now in full swing. Indications point to a large crowd to-day and a good attendance for the special attractions and races this afternoon. Prof. Farley makes his first balloon ascent with parachute drop at 4 o'clock. This evening the grounds will be specially illuminated and the full programme of attractions will be given, including a Tabloid Opera, "The Mascot," with new spotlights for the occasion. Mr. John Bright, live stock commissioner, will address the exhibitors in the directors' dining hall at 7.30 this evening.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR TO-MORROW.

To-morrow, Wednesday, as already announced, Sir P. E. LeBlanc (lieut. governor) and party are to be the guests of the directors at luncheon. His Excellency will witness the grand cattle parade, races and attractions from the seat of honor in the grand stand.

HIGH COMMISSIONER GUEST OF DIRECTORS.

Sir Geo. H. Perley, Canadian High Commissioner in England, was the guest of the Directors of the Exhibition at an informal luncheon yesterday.

Mr. W. Morris, K.C., presided and the loyal toast was duly honored, after which the chairman welcomed their distinguished guest in a felicitous speech and congratulated him on the position he held, expressing appreciation of his valuable services.

Sir George Perley made a very interesting and happy speech. He referred to the pleasure he experienced in being again amongst his friends in Sherbrooke and the Townships, and paid a great compliment to the energy and enterprise of the directors in their achievements in bringing the Fair to such a good position. These exhibitions not only tended towards increased production, but were valuable from a moral and artistic point of view, and in promoting good fellowship among the people throughout the Townships. He heartily congratulated them on their success.

Sir George dealt at some length with the war, saying the enemy was still strong and the end was likely to be some time yet, but the Allies had now more guns and men than the enemy, and had taken the initiative. The maximum effort must be kept up in order to obtain victory. He remarked on the moral effect Roumania's entry in the war would have, and praised the Canadian soldiers for their bravery and the splendid hospital and nursing arrangements. He paid a great tribute to the late Col. Baker, M.P., and to the patriotism of the Eastern Townships. Sir George also dealt with Canada's interest in the result of the war along the same lines as in his afternoon speech, which is referred to in another part of this issue.

A vote of thanks was passed to the acting High Commissioner on the motion of Mr. Crepeau, seconded by Dr. Cleveland.

THE ATTRACTIONS.

The fine programme of sports and races arranged for Labor Day was necessarily cancelled on account of the rain, but the grand stand attractions were put on and made a good afternoon's entertainment. This promises to be one of the best specialty performance for which our annual fair is famous. The entire programme has been chosen from artists who have been appearing at the New York Hippodrome, and includes wonderful feats of strength and skill, aerial novelties, comedy dancing, etc. The Emily Sisters give an exhibition of trapeze work full of grace and skill.

The Tasei Bros., Japanese equilibrist, in their native gliding movements which are nevertheless full of strength, perform wonderful feats of pole balancing and ladder work.

The trapeze act by the Leach Wallin Trio is a combination of beauty, grace and skill, showing that "not to man alone is given strength." These artists perform wonderful feats while suspended by ropes held by the teeth, and though not a new device in airways fascinating.

Hobson and Nicol are comedians with the reputation of "having made a million people laugh," and do "everything but die" on roller skates.

In a "tight wire act, Russell and Frank give the ladies a few "bits" on making up, and the stunt of undressing as a woman and dressing again in men's clothes is very clever. They also give a clear interpretation of a club man in the "wee wee" hours."

The "Organ Grinder and the Monkey" is not an act that appeals to many, but everyone has to be pleased.

The Three Arthurs, bicycle riders, are artists of high order, making that little vehicle of torture a thing to be looked upon with respect.

Layman and Chaussey are dancers of the highest rank, their evolutions, full of beauty and grace, appealing to the artistic sense of the present-day dancers. They give an entirely new interpretation of the "cane walk," "hesitation," and "whirlwind" one step.

The Four Victors, men of steel and rubber, are rightly named, and while not a novelty act, it is one that fills the audience with admiration for its evidence of physical strength and skill.

Delora, contortionist, is a clever artist of her type, her movements causing the "creaky creaks" and impressing one with the truth of the saying that we are fearfully and wonderfully made.

Prof. and Mme. Farley are comfortably settled in the open space in the centre of the track, and will make ascensions afternoons and evenings.

Mme. Farley as "Queen of the Air" will make thrilling parachute drops, and Prof. Farley will make double descents, using two parachutes.

Excellent bands have been secured, Montreal and St. Hyacinthe being represented. Three bands will be in attendance each day, and with the knowledge that hundreds of our bandmen have gone overseas, this part of the fair's programme should be greatly appreciated by visitors to the grounds.

THE AUSTRALIAN WOOD CHOPPERS.

Something entirely new and an act that appeals to the best in us is that of the Australian Wood Choppers, Harry Jackson and Peter MacLaren, born in that country famous for its strong men in both body and character, are perfect types of strength, and their exhibition of sawing through a log 60 inches in circumference and their contest in felling a tree of same size in two minutes has to be seen to be appreciated. They throw and embed axes into a plank with accuracy and strength that would enable a body of such men with a good supply of axes to cut their way through to Berlin in short time. These men have appeared at the hippodrome for thirty consecutive weeks and have toured in three continents during nine years, appearing before royalty many times. They have made the humble work of wood chopping a fine art. To the uninitiated the phenomenal strength and endurance of these men cannot be apparent. It is only by constant training and strengthening of the muscles that such feats can be accomplished. No scientific manoeuvres, no bluffing, just plain, honest hard work.

EXHIBITION NOTES.

A game of "tag" was started early Monday morning in the main building, but an appeal to the authorities soon set matters straight. Visitors should take note that those little red ribbons are not for any patriotic purposes.

Yesterday was "Moving Day in Jungle Town," and nearly all night, too.

Levitt & Taxur's mammoth animal show held "right of way" from the Ayler Bridge to the Exhibition gates for a time last evening, the Sherbrooke Street Railway even having to "stand to," a new experience in our car service. The huge motor trucks were an object of interest to hundreds of people who stood in the rain to watch their hard pull. One car broke through a sewer pipe (that means more digging up), and in passing into the grounds the gates were badly damaged by the high cars. From appearances it is quite the largest show of its kind that has visited the city.

Major Sylvestre attended the Exhibition yesterday and paid a special visit to the poultry department, expressing his pleasure at the fine birds shown.

The Dairy exhibits this year are very heavy and of excellent quality. The premiums given by the Canadian Bank of Commerce ($250) have acted as a stimulant.

STRIKE IMMINENT IN NEW YORK

Men on Elevated and Surface Railways Threaten To Go Out.

UNLESS COMPANY GRANTS DEMANDS OF EMPLOYEES LEADERS SAY THERE WILL BE STRIKE.

New York, Sept. 5.—(Special)—A strike seems imminent to-day on the elevated and surface subway lines operated by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company in Manhattan and the Bronx. Officials of the company and representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees met this morning to consider the demands of the union that the company's annual contracts signed by the employees several days ago when a strike first threatened, but President Shonts' announcement late last night that the company would not grant the union's demand, indicated that to-day's meeting would fail to bring peace.

Labor leaders asserted to-day that they would stick to their demands and predicted that a strike would be called within twenty-four hours if the company refused to make concessions.

The contract which the employees' union wishes to have annulled binds the employees not to ask for advances in pay and improvement in working conditions other than those granted to them.

U.S. KEEPING CLOSE WATCH

Will See That Rights in China Are Not Interfered With.

Washington, Sept. 5.—(Special)—A close watch is being maintained by diplomatic officials here over the newly threatened crisis between Japan and China growing out of the recent clash of the two nations' troops at Cheng Chiating. Considerable fear is felt that the rights of the United States in China may be affected, in view of confidential reports that Japan had made other demands than those published yesterday in despatches from Peking, and that the secret negotiations threaten Chinese rule throughout inner Mongolia.

BRITISH TROOPS INCREASE GAINS

Capture Second Line of Defence on Front at Mouquet Farm

London, Sept. 5.—(Special)—British troops in battles last night in the region of the river Somme in France, increased their gains in the neighborhood of Guillemont, says the British official statement issued this afternoon. The British forces pushed forward to 1500 yards west of Guillemont village and secured a hold on Leuze wood. Further south a strong German system of defence on a front of 300 feet around Falmont farm was captured.

The text of the official statement follows:

"During the night we increased our gains in the neighborhood of Guillemont. In spite of the enemy's stubborn resistance and an unceasing deluge of rain our troops pushed forward to 1500 yards east of Guillemont village and have obtained a footing in Leuze wood."

"Further south, after fighting, the whole of the enemy's strong system of defence on a front of 1000 yards in and around Falmont has fallen into our hands."

The official announcement says that fighting on the Somme since Sept. 3 has resulted in the capture by the British of the whole of remaining German second line of defence on the battle front from Mouquet farm to the point where the British line joins the French.

GREECE MUST JOIN ALLIES.

New York, Sept. 5.—A despatch from Copenhagen declares that German newspapers are preparing public opinion for the entry of Greece into the war, stating that King Constantine, in order to prevent civil war, must join the Allies.

VON SCHENK ARRESTED.

London, Sept. 5.—An Athens despatch states that Baron von Schenk, chief director of the German propaganda in Greece, has been arrested and taken on board a cruiser of the Entente Allies. Sixteen additional warships of the Entente Powers have arrived at Piræus.

CONDITIONS AFTER THE WAR

Sir George H. Perley Addressed Representative Meeting of Business Men

MANY PROBLEMS HAD TO BE SOLVED IN WHICH CANADA WAS VITALLY INTERESTED

Sir George H. Perley, High Commissioner for Canada, in London, addressed the business men of Sherbrooke, at a meeting held under the auspices of the Board of Trade in the Directors' Dining Hall, on the Exhibition grounds yesterday afternoon on "Conditions after the War." Mr. W. Morris, K.C., president of the Exhibition and Mr. D.J. Steele, were joint chairmen. There was a crowded attendance.

Sir George explained at the outset that he and Lady Perley were in England when war was declared, without any intention of staying there any length of time, but the abnormal conditions brought about by the war had caused many questions to be raised which needed discussion with the British government, and as Lord Strathcona had unfortunately passed away a short time previously, he had been performing the duties of High Commissioner in London as a member of the Canadian government at the request of the Prime Minister. They had had an interesting and busy time in the hour of the Empire and it was a pleasure to be back amongst their Sherbrooke friends once more.

"We are living in difficult but most interesting times. We are in the midst of the greatest war that history has ever seen greater than our forefathers could possibly have imagined. As the struggle of life tries a man's soul and shows what stuff he is made of, so this war, this struggle for existence, is trying out the soul of this country and of every part of the Empire. We were forced into this war against our will. We were a peaceful people without any thought of aggression against any one, only asking to be allowed to develop our vast area in our own way and as believers in democratic institutions we live under the system of government we want. We are subject to no autocrat, thank God, in these Anglo-Saxon countries of which Canada is one of the foremost. We know that this system is best for us in peace times and now it is our duty to show that we who enjoy these blessings, handed down to us should be able to protect ourselves in war (cheers). This we are doing and every part of this great Empire has bravely done it so far. We know this is why the Empire is closer together. Can it be otherwise when our boys are fighting in France alongside men from every other part of the Empire as well as the British Isles and are lying wounded in the same hospitals in France and England? Our ties hitherto have been largely those of sentiment, this Canada of ours has grown up from a small and weak country until today we are powerful and strong in our own hands entire authority over our own destinies and over everything that occurs within our own borders. This war is bringing us closer together and we feel that through it we shall enjoy closer relations with the mother country. We have our autonomy, our own self government of which we are proud, and which we will never give up, but we hope that some way will be found in which we shall have a voice in matters of common interest to the whole Empire, such as foreign relations in peace and war. We don't know exactly how this will be done, I have no cut and dried plan to suggest, but I do believe that out of the welter of this terrible war, out of our great loss of blood and treasure that some way will surely come to enable us to see how we can perpetuate this Empire of ours."

EMPIRE MORE SELF-CONTAINED.

Sir George proceeded that he believed one outcome of the war would be that the Empire would become more self-contained. One reason why Germany had been such a powerful foe was because she produced nearly all she required. His opinion was that the British Empire should make itself as self-contained as possible, and keep control of its own natural products and manufacture and refine them. This war had shown the danger of allowing any of her necessary supplies to be in the hands of the enemy. The control of so many British industries by Germany had caused a great difficulty during the war, such a small thing as dyes for instance, which were made in Germany, although the method of manufacture was invented in Britain. Another thing was spelter, which came from Australia and concerning which Mr. Hughes had taken vigorous action. The products of the Empire should be manufactured and refined in those countries so that they would have control of those great industries in peace and war.

BOARD OF TRADE WORK AFTER-NOON.

The speaker mentioned that some Canadian business men who had gone over to England had already noticed a difference in the direction of closer relations, they were received in a much more friendly spirit than before the war and found it easier to sell goods.

Sir George acknowledged the useful and excellent work of the Sherbrooke and Associated Boards of Trade. He congratulated those who live (Continued on page 7.)

FRENCH TAKE STRONG POSITIONS ON SOMME FRONT; 29 VILLAGES CAPTURED

GREECE READY TO END NEUTRALITY

Premier Zaimis Now in Position To Swing Country As He Wills

ALLIES ARE RAPIDLY RIDDING ATHENS OF AUSTRIAN AND GERMAN AGENTS

Athens, Sept. 4, via London, Sept. 5.—Seizing the opportunity offered by the presence at Piræus, within gunshot of Athens, of a large fleet of the Entente nations, Premier Zaimis has assumed unobtrusively what amounts virtually to dictatorial powers. All is now in readiness for the final act to end the neutrality of Greece.

While the people of Athens were being mildly amused at the spectacle of Allied soldiers and secret police pursuing German agents about the streets of the city a profound change in the status of affairs was effected quietly.

Premier Zaimis is now in a position to swing the whole country as he will, unembarrassed by any dissenting popular opinion or hostile Parliamentary control. The first step which placed full powers in the hands of Premier Zaimis was taken when he forbade public gatherings last Wednesday. The arrangement of Friday, whereby the insurance of the decree dissolving the now adjourned Parliament and calling new elections was postponed indefinitely disposed effectively of any Parliamentary interference with the policy of the Government. Finally, the Premier yesterday requested and received the unqualified support of the leaders of the Venizelos party and of the party opposed to Venizelos, thus giving the present temporary Cabinet a politically representative character and completing the necessary preparations which may now be decided on by the Ministry behind closed doors. Greece may now find herself at war overnight at the bidding of a single individual, who is neither King Constantine nor former Premier Venizelos.

Meanwhile the Allies are rapidly ridding Athens and Piræus of Austrian and German agents.

JOY OVER FALL OF KRONSTADT

People of Roumania Celebrate Victorious March of Army Into Transylvania

London, September 5.—A Renter despatch from Bucharest says:—"The country is joyously celebrating the entry of the victorious Roumanian army into the principal Transylvanian town of Kronstadt, on the third day of the fighting the successful forcing of all the Carpathian passes, which were fortuitously organized and stubbornly defended, and the invasion of Hungarian territory along the whole line to a distance of about ten to twenty-five miles, giving the army, by its swift advance enormous strategic advantages for eventual operations."

CANADIAN CASUALTIES

Ottawa, September 5.—Only thirty six casualties in the Canadian forces were reported through the Militia Department yesterday, the lightest list in several months.

ANOTHER CLASH BETWEEN JAPS AND CHINESE

Tokio, Sept. 5.—(Special)—Another clash between Chinese and Japanese troops is officially reported from Chaoyangpe, Mongolia, and has led to the despatch of heavy Japanese reinforcements. It is claimed that the Chinese attacked the Japanese while the latter were advancing to mediate between Chinese and Mongolians.

The Weather

Local showers, but partly fair; stationary or higher temperatures.

Germans Counter Attacked at Barleux No Less Than Six Times, But Without Success. Roumanians Made Advance of 48 Miles at Some Points in First Five Days of Campaign. Declaration of War Was Unexpected By Dual Monarchy And Only Few Troops Were on Guard on Roumanian Frontier.

PARIS, SEPT. 5.—"Not a success merely, but a victory—the greatest victory since the offensive began," is the way a despatch from the Somme front describes Sunday's operations.

According to the Echo de Paris, the French have administered a smashing defeat to crack German corps under the eyes of Field Marshal von Hindenburg himself in a regular pitched battle of five hours' duration.

The weather had greatly interfered with General Foch's plans. Twice a postponement was necessary, owing to a driving rain which prevented aerial observation. Twice the artillery ceased fire from the sheer impossibility of knowing whether its objectives had been attained, only to begin again as soon as a gleam of sunshine pierced the low-lying clouds.

It was not until yesterday that the French commander could be certain that his preparations were adequate, and gave the order for the attack, which, lacking that knowledge, he would not risk.

FRENCH TAKE 29 VILLAGES ON SOMME FRONT

Paris, Sept. 5.—(Special)—The capture of Soyecourt and Chilly by the French yesterday makes a total of 29 villages taken since the start of the offensive on the Somme front. The positions wrested from the Germans yesterday were powerfully organized. At Barleux, one of the strongest positions on this front, repeated direct attacks were unsuccessful, and the French finally resorted to a turning movement, attacking to the southwest. The Germans counter-attacked no less than six times yesterday in a desperate effort to regain lost ground.

RAPID ADVANCE OF ROUMANIANS HAS SLACKENED

Paris, Sept. 5.—(Special)—The advance of the Roumanian troops in the first five days of their campaign was considerable, and at some points was as much as eighty kilometres (about forty-eight miles), says a despatch from Urgel, under date of Saturday, to the Petit Parisien. The forward march, however, now has been somewhat slackened because of the difficulty of sending revictualing convoys. Although the ground on the Eastern Hungarian frontier was unfavorable for the Roumanians, the correspondent said, they were successful in their dash across the river, and now occupy the valleys.

RUSSIANS AND BULGARS CLASH IN ROUMANIA

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—(Special)—Russians and Bulgarians are fighting in Roumania. The War Office announced today that the first clash between the Bulgarians who have invaded (Continued on page 10.)

QUIET STILL PREVAILS IN MACEDONIA

Paris, Sept. 5.—(Special)—Vigorous counter-attacks were made by the Germans north of the Somme last night in an effort to regain ground taken in the new drive of the French. The War Office announced to-day that the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses.

Comparative quiet still prevails on the Macedonian front. The official French report of to-day says there were no infantry engagements yesterday, although the artillery was fairly active and various enterprises undertaken by patrols.

BULGARS CLAIM VICTORY OVER ROUMANIANS

London, Sept. 5.—(Special)—The first day's fighting on Roumanian soil due to the invasion of Dobrudja by Bulgarians and Germans is said by the Bulgarian War Office to have resulted in the retreat of the Roumanians, who left hundreds of dead on the field as previously reported by the German War Office. The invaders crossed the entire Dobrudja frontier and occupied towns near the border. The statement issued on Sunday in Sofia, says:

"On our northern front our armies on Saturday crossed the entire Dobrudja frontier energetically driving back advanced detachments of the enemy. We occupied Kurburnar after fighting in which we took prisoner 163 men and two officers. The enemy retreated, leaving on the field hundreds of dead as well as a great number of rifles and a quantity of material. One of our columns occupied Akkadunlar. The march forward is proceeding on the whole line."

"On the Macedonian front there was little activity. We repulsed weak attacks north of Lake Ostrovo, and in the Moglenica Valley."

"A hostile fleet bombarded the fortifications north of Kavala. Enemy aeroplanes dropped bombs on the villages of Starovo and Hazanlar, and on Angista station. Several inhabitants, including women and children, were killed."

A slight operation was performed which temporarily relieved him, and so for a time he was able to go about. He gradually grew weaker, however until at last he was obliged to take his bed, where he lingered for six months until the end came. ## Nerves Were So Upset Could Not Endure Noise

Neuralgic Headaches and Extreme Nervousness Caused Keenest Suffering—Lasting Cure by Use of Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food.

Once the nervous system gets run down everything seems to tend to make it worse. You worry over your condition, are unable to get the required rest and sleep, noises excite and irritate you and the future is most discouraging.

The nervous system does not get the proper nourishment from the food you eat, so you must have something also to lift you out of the run-down condition. You may find that your experience coincides with the writer of this letter and be encouraged to put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to the test.

You will make no mistake in employing this food cure, for, acting as it does hand in hand with Nature, it is bound to do you good.

Mrs. Jas. Jensen, Gwynow, Alta., writes: "About ten years ago I was troubled with severe attacks of neuralgia and nervousness, and was for several months so bad that I could not get a night's rest. I used several medicines recommended by the druggist. My doctor also prescribed, but nothing he gave me brought any relief. Instead, I got worse and worse until I could scarcely do anything or bear the least bit of noise. My nerves were all upset.

"My husband read about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and got me some. Although I had no faith in it, I began its use, and after a few doses

JUST LET IT OUT.

A man travelling in Maine met a middle-aged farmer, who said his father, ninety years old, was still on the farm where he was born. "Ninety years old, eh?" "Yes, Pop is close to ninety."

"Is his health good?" "Taint much now. He's been complaining for a few months back."

"What's the matter with him?" "I dunno; sometimes I think farmin' don't agree with him."—Christian Register.

THOUSANDS OF TONS EATEN EVERY DAY

(Washington Star.)

The mighty work of serving ammunition to the hungry fast-firing guns, of the battling armies in Europe is a subject that fills the vast newspaper reading population, but the service of food to the warring troops is one of the stupendous tasks imposed by the war, but lacking the spectacular elements. The subject does not attract as much attention as the service of shell, shrapnel, rifle and machine gun cartridges, trench mortar bombs and hand grenades.

No one knows how many soldiers are in the field in Europe today, but for the sake of illustration, setting that number down as 10,000,000, the daily consumption of food by that number of troops is roughly 12,000 tons. The collection, dispatch, distribution and preparation of this food is a colossal work which the ordinary civilian finds it difficult to comprehend.

THE BRITISH RATION

When the war opened the ration of the British army—and ration means the soldier's allowance of food for one day or three meals—was twelve ounces of meat, twenty-four ounces of bread, sixteen ounces of potatoes, eight ounces of fresh vegetables when they can be procured, three and a half ounces of milk, and ounce and a half of sugar and a quarter of an ounce each of tea, coffee and salt.

The French ration consists of thirty-two ounces of bread, nine and three-quarter ounces of meat, three and a half ounces of fresh vegetables and one ounce of sugar, a cup of coffee and a half pint of red wine if that be obtainable.

The field ration of the German army was twenty-six ounces of fresh bread or seventeen ounces of biscuit, thirteen ounces of raw meat, fresh or salted, or seven ounces of smoked beef, pork, mutton, bacon or meat sausage, four ounces of rice or eight ounces of pulse or flour, or fifty-two ounces of potatoes, coffee or tea, sugar and salt.

These rations are prepared in the field kitchens and served to men, as at the call to mess, they file past the kitchen. In all the armies are field ovens for baking bread, and portable kitchens for preparing the rations in the form of stews, soups or hash, or in whatever other way appears best for the health, comfort and spirits of the men.

EMERGENCY RATIONS.

In all the armies is an emergency ration, issued to men, when they are sent away from the field kitchen. The men carry this ration in their haversack. A great deal of thought has been expended on these rations, so that a soldier will have the greatest nourishment in food of the least weight and bulk. In some armies this emergency ration forms an habitual part of a soldier's equipment, just as does his first-aid packet. The British emergency ration is a cake weighing eight ounces, which is made of chocolate, desiccated eggs and milk casein, and it will be sufficient to support a man for twenty-four hours.

Dried peas and a preparation for pea soup are also used in the British army for emergency rations and are used when light, quick marches are to be made.

The French emergency ration is made of concentrated meats and peas and can be very easily made into soup.

The German emergency ration, called wurst, contains a mixture of pea meal, fat bacon, herbs, onions,

SECRET MAIL SYSTEM WITH GERMANY
SCHEME CARRIED ON WITH NEW YORK COMMISSION HOUSES EXPOSED.
New York, Sept. 5.—H. Snowden Marshall, Federal District Attorney here, is in possession of affidavits, he declared which disclose a conspiracy to defraud the United States mails by a secret mail system between this Country and Germany, conducted through export commission agents with offices in New York and in Frankfurt, Germany.
Exposure of the scheme, which has been in operation for four months without the knowledge of the United States Secret Service men, it is alleged, is the outgrowth of the seizure by Customs inspectors of diamonds and jewellery valued at $25,000 found on August 19, in a suit case carried by a man who arrived here as a steerage passenger from Europe on July 11.
The affidavits assert that packages of letters destined for some of the largest banking and brokerage houses in New York, where they were opened and sorted then distributed to the various addressees.
The affidavits also allege that mail for Germany was sent through the same channels and that outgoing packages were brought to the offices of the commission agents always before the departure of steamships bound for Scandinavian ports, and that there was distribution of mail by agents here on the arrival of these vessels.
District Attorney Marshall plans to proceed against the alleged offenders.

A PIONEER IN DRAINAGE
A few weeks ago the editor of a Journal called upon Mr. C.S. Moore, of Stanbridge East, who is one of the most progressive farmers in the locality. Mr. Moore, by the way, has contributed important articles to the Journal, which were highly appreciated.
Mr. Moore may be called a general farmer, in other words he does not specialize. He keeps 15 to 20 milking cows, and he has a large acreage under crop. A few years ago when drainage was practically unknown in Stanbridge East Mr. Moore came to the conclusion that drainage was absolutely necessary in the heavy soils of that district if good crops were to be secured and a regular rotation put into practice. By experience he found that without drainage he could not put into operation a scheme of rotation, so he began drainage on a small scale at first. Now he has tile-drained most of his farm, and he says that he will send in an article some time during the summer showing the advantages of drainage, as the difference between drained and undrained land are very outstanding this season.
Mr. Moore believes in the development of the sheep industry for Quebec, but he has been unable to keep sheep on account of the close proximity of his farm to the village where many dogs are kept by irresponsible owners. With the improvement of the Dog and Sheep law, however, he hopes soon to introduce sheep on his farm.
Mr. Moore may be considered a good farmer from two or three standpoints. Not only does he make his farm pay, but he is putting it in better condition every year. Moreover, he believes that there are other things that are even more essential than money making on the farm—to be of service to the community and to have time for self-improvement.
Mr. Moore has prepared most thoroughly for taking a prominent part in community and farm work inasmuch as he is a graduate of the College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

W. L. IN Journal of Agriculture.
THE HORSE
The horse is still the farmer's cheapest and surest power.
A good show horse that is a first-rate breeding sire is a safe proposition.
If you are thinking of purchasing a sire for next year's use, you would save money by buying this fall.
If the ground should get soft a good way to train the colt would be half a day about on the plow this fall.
You cannot keep a hard-worked team up in flesh and vitality on grass alone, particularly when it is parched and dry.
No man should be disappointed if he breeds a heavy mare to a light horse and gets a misfit. That is the way misfits are made.
Unless there are a few frequent and heavy rains soon plowing will be a hard job on horses' shoulders this fall. Watch them carefully, for sores are more easily prevented than cured.
Be careful in starting to feed new oats. Every farmer should save enough old oats each year to carry his horses over the bulk of the summer and fall work. Selling oneself shy of grain is a mistake.
The signs of the times are such that it should pay to breed mares, which had been held off for fear of a continued slump in the horse trade this fall. Try breeding for a fall colt. It may suit your purpose well.
If the mare is to do hard work this fall it would likely pay to wean the colt early. Colts tagging around after their working dams in the heat and flies do not usually do their best, and it isn't fair to the dam.

WOMEN WORKERS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Estimated That Seven Millions are Engaged in Various Trades

It is estimated that the number of women working in war and peace jobs in Great Britain exceeds 7,000,000.

Nothing is more noticeable in the aspect of the streets that the disappearance of the youthful and middle-aged civilian, and next month will probably see a marked diminution of even khaki-clad youngsters. Then there will remain only the oldsters and weaklings.

The wholesale withdrawal of men from the commercial and industrial ranks has resulted in a huge substitution of female labor for the purpose of maintaining the industrial output of the country. Many hundreds of women and training to become milkers and dairy hands. In Scotland and Northumberland this sort of work is being regularly undertaken by women, while in Devonshire and other counties milking is being done even by young girls before they go to school.

Women are at the lathe, in overalls and cap, in the powder shed, working twelve hour shifts on the motor busses or fashioning metal, timber and leather, carting, driving and distributing. Before the war it used to be said that every Jack had his trade. The same can now be said of every Jill.

Women in trousers are becoming more and more numerous, they are doing them in greater numbers every day in order to cope with work where the skirt is found to be a hindrance. They do not dislike the change, and it cannot be said to detract in any way from their native grace or carriage.

NAPOLÉON FAVORED TROUSERS.

Napoleon, it seems, was a great believer in arraying women in masculine attire in time of war. "Dress does not make the man," says the proverb; but Napoleon found that it made the woman, and that putting her into trousers made a world of difference to her work and strength.

Reliable English opinion is inclined to encourage women to adopt masculine attire for what, after all, ought to be man's work, convinced that so dressed woman will give as good an account of herself as her absent mate. Many thousands of women and girls are serving the nation as munition workers. The ministry of munitions considers every case thoroughly, placing the workers not only according to industrial fitness and home locality, but also with thought for the lives women have previously led and are likely to lead after the war. Many of the women engaged in munition work are art students, musicians, embroideresses—girls who had been engaged in the fine arts, and hope to be again. Once drafted into a factory, the workers are spe-

Mothers, Wives, Sweethearts

Reason Why You Should Encourage Your Men Folks to Enlist

The following is another circular sent out by the Recruiting Association, the reading of which may help in securing some one to don the khaki:

Are you doing your full duty to your country in this, the time of trial, or are you failing her through a selfish desire to avoid anxiety and pain?

There is too much reason to fear that this charge can be fairly brought against many Canadian women.

The officers of the regiments now being raised in Canada all tell the same story, of how young men, ready to join the colors, are being dissuaded by their mothers, wives or sweethearts.

The cause of this interference with the patriotic impulse of your son, oh mother, is natural, and easily to be understood. Your boy is the apple of your eye. You have given him birth, watched over him in health and sickness, educated him, and now, in the full flush of his manhood, you are asked to send him to the field of battle. No wonder your heart contracts at the thought, and a hundred reasons come rushing to support your instinctive decision that he must not go. He is too young; he has not completed his education; he is not too robust; other mothers have many sons, you have but one; there will be enough men without your son; let those who made the war fight the war, and so on, and so on.

But, after all, the one controlling reason you will not let him go is that you love him better than life, and you cannot face the anxiety that would be upon you were he at the front.

Has it occurred to you that such an attitude of mind is sublimated selfishness? You are thinking, not of your country or of your boy, but of yourself. The hardships of the field he will bear with a light heart; you will think of them day and night, and you shrink from the prospect. His wounds he would count as honorable as medals; you would consider them only in the terms of pain, and therefore you say "no."

What of Your Duty to Your Son?
Cannot you see, you who take this course, who assume this attitude, that you are intensely selfish, and in your selfishness are doing your son a grievous injury? He desires to serve his country. You stifle this desire, this fine impulse of ingenuous youth, and thereby teach him that public spirit and love of country are not in your eyes, of supreme value. You lower his ideals, and send him out into the world with the lesson taught and learned that it is best to look after his own interests first; that he owes no duty to his fellow-men which should interfere with his pleasures or his gains.

Do you, oh loving mother, desire that these shall be the ideals of your boy?

But more than this: Do you realize that you are putting a stamp of inferiority on your lad that time can never efface? He was of military age when the Great War broke; he could have helped when his country was in peril. Why did he shrink? The question will stare him in the face all his life, and you are responsible for the flush with which he must meet it.

What of Your Duty to Your Neighbor?

If you keep your boy from doing his duty, do you realize that you are throwing on some other mother the anxiety that should be yours? If your son does not do this work that has to be done, then some other lad must fill his place.

Are you prepared to face your conscience during all the years that are to come, when it tells you that your act helped to lose the day when the Canadian lines were not strong enough, and somebody else's mother had to pay the penalty you escaped by keeping your boy at home?

What of Your Duty to Your Country?

Is it nothing to you, oh mother, this Canada, this Empire? Do you realize that its existence is at stake? Or are you hugging to your breast the delusion that this war is, like the Boer war, one that may be costly but cannot be serious? It is so serious that if Germany win, the very least penalty Britain will pay will be to live in deadly terror of the world's greatest military power bent on revenge. If Germany win, the British Empire may be destroyed; the Dominions may be taken from it; the ideals of self-government for which the Empire stands may disappear, and in their place be installed the Germanic theory of force. Have you, oh mother, no duty, no responsibility, to make whatever sacrifice you can to prevent calamities so great?

What of Your Duty to Humanity?

Was the ravishment of Belgium no concern of yours? Do you care nothing if the babies of other Scarboroughs are done to death by German bombs? Will you do nothing, risk nothing, to put an end to the massacre of the innocent on other continents? When you recall these unspeakable atrocities perpetrated on non-combatants, on mothers, maidens and infants, by the Germans, can you say to your boy "Don't go," and then, having cooled his warm blood, sit down with him to read the daily tale of cowardly murder which his sword should be preventing and avenging?

No! When you consider all these things, yours will be the part to say "My boy, I wish he had his share; I want to stand with unflinching eyes beside the thousands of Canadian mothers who have made the sacrifice now demanded of me."

For your honor's sake, for the sake of your boy's ideals and his own good name, for the sake of Canada and Empire, for the sake of humanity, liberty and truth, do not say to your son, who is ready to join the colors, that he must stay at home. On the contrary, tell him to play the man; inspire him with the thought that you are looking to him to do you credit; that in the day of trial you, even as the Spartan mother, would have him step a little closer if his sword is short. Do not, oh mother, imagine that the need is not urgent. The Canadian forces are 150,000 men. They can only be maintained at this figure if the mothers of Canada sink all selfish desires and freely consecrate their sons to their country.

And the reasons why mothers should send their sons to the war apply, in large measure, to wives and sweethearts. The country must send its men, be they sons or husbands, or young men about to marry. All our women folk must make sacrifices. No class can say, "Our position is exceptional. We are not called on to send our men away." This trumpet-like call comes to every man of military age, and who is physically able to bear arms, and the women who look to him as their protector should be prepared to say that he must fight for them in France or Flanders. In Russia, Germany, Austria and France, the men are not given any choice—all must join the colors. In Canada, we trust to the bravery and sense of duty of our men, and of their mothers, wives and sweethearts, to give us all the soldiers we require. Are we to trust in vain so far as you are concerned?

NORTON—WESTOVER

Richford, Vt., Sept. 5 (Special). — A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. H. E. Norton, Richford, Vt., August 30th, when his brother, George A. Norton, of Sutton, Que., and Miss Ruby E. Westover, also of (East Hill) Sutton, Que., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. D.G. Guest, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The room was tastefully decorated with pink and white sweet peas. Only the immediate relatives of the groom were present. The bride wore a travelling suit of blue with white silk blouse and hat to match.

After the ceremony the happy couple drove to East Hill, Que., where a reception was given by the bride's parents.

Sherburn, of that city, officiating. The bride was dressed in pale gray chiffon taffeta silk suit with white satin blouse with large white hat, touched with pink and looked very charming. After a few days trip Mr. and Mrs. Rounds will go to Boston, where the groom has a good position. The bride has very many friends in Sutton and Bromfield, Que., where she formerly resided, her late father being a well-known official of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

the Art Department will go to the best four pieces of hand-painted china (cup and saucer to count as one piece). Their bronze medal will be given for the best collection of dark and light cake, biscuit, doughnut and puff paste.

Horses' Fine Showing.

Considering the scarcity of help from which the farmers and horse breeders are suffering and the number of horses sold for war purposes, the exhibit this year is hardly as numerous as that of last year, but the slight shortage is compensated by the quality.

The horses shown in the heavy classes are the most numerous because none were used for the war, the light horses having been mostly bought up. The predominating classes in the agricultural section are the Clydesdales (with a good showing of aged stallions, brood mares and foals.) The Percherons are also well represented, followed by Canadians and Belgians. In the driving classes the roadsters predominate, followed by general purpose horses with a good showing of standard and registered.

Mr. F. W. Hackett is superintendent of this department. Dr. E. P. Ball is chairman of heavy horse committee and Dr. L. Forest of light horses.

CATTLE ENTRIES WELL FILLED

All the entries are well filled, the whole of the available accommodation is taken up, and the quality in all classes is extra good. Ayrshires, Holsteins and Durhams predominate. There is a fairly good showing of Brown Swiss, Jerseys, Guernseys, Canadian and Beef and Dairy grades. Several exhibitors from Ontario are showing this year.

An improvement has been made to the stables by the addition of canvas drops in order to keep them weather proof. These are raised for the public from nine till six.

Mr. H. H. Pope is superintendent of cattle and Mr. F. R. Cromwell, M.P., and Mr. G. W. Page, chairman of Beef and Dairy cattle committees respectively.

POULTRY SHOW LARGE.

The show of poultry this year is larger than ever before. There are 1800 birds on view, they all arrived early and in good condition. Judging commenced yesterday afternoon. This year a lot of new exhibitors are showing. Amongst the places represented are Ottawa, Point Fortne, Montreal, Valleyfield, Ormstown, Three Rivers, Quebec, Sherbrooke, and the whole of the Townships. Mr. C. M. Cook, of Leominster, Mass., is the only American exhibitor; he has some nice specimens of Blue Leg-horns.

The quality of the exhibits far exceeds anything over previous years. Plymouth Barred Rocks take the lead, then follow White Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Leghorns and Hamburgs. The exhibit of ducks, turkeys and geese is especially large and of splendid quality.

New wire coops of the most modern kind have been added this year. Everything is clean and sanitary and kept disinfected every morning; light and ventilation are excellent. In the ornamental classes the peacocks, Belgian hares and rabbits are worth attention.

THE COWAN COMPANY, LIMITED.

One of the most important and interesting exhibits this year is that of the Cowan Company, Limited, of Toronto. Although only on the market a few years, these goods are known for their excellence and purity and are sold in all stores from coast to coast. The Cowan Company have proved to the whole world that we can manufacture just as high-class goods in Canada as any place in the world, and if we want the best we do not have to depend on foreign manufacturers. It might be mentioned that the Cowan Company have won gold medals at all exhibitions for some years, in competition with the whole world, for the quality and purity of their goods, and the success they have attained should be a great encouragement to other Canadian manufacturers.

As this is a very critical time for our country, the public should patronize and encourage as far as possible home industry, and as "Made in Germany" has been the by-word in the past, "Maiden Canada" should be our motto in the future.

A visit to this booth should not be missed, as the Cowan Co. are giving away toys and novelties of all descriptions for the younger folks, and samples of their Perfection Cocoa and Maple Buds for the older ones.

Interesting Paint Exhibit.

Among the interesting exhibits in the main building is that of the Brandram-Henderson, Ltd., makers of the Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead and B. H. English Paint. The fall of the year is a good time for people to paint their houses, and for two reasons. First, because it is a time when men are not so busy with regular farm work as they are in the spring, and second, because the cooler weather paint takes the proper length of time to dry. It is also a well-recognized fact nowadays that a house well painted in the fall will withstand the destructive effects of winter snow and ice much better than the house which has not been recently painted. And so it is that each year in Canada as well as in the United States, there is an increasing interest in fall as well as spring painting. More of it is being done, particularly in the country districts.

The Brandram firm has been in business in England since the latter part of the eighteenth century. The Brandrams were well known throughout the world for nearly a century before Canada has made any progress as a manufacturing country,

THE VERDICT

The satisfaction enjoyed by the owner of a Packard Twin Six is an authentic judgment of its capacity.

"Ask the man who owns one" is more than a popularized phrase. It is a public acknowledgment of good will built up by the intrinsic worth of the Packard. The Packard Twin Six is such a forward step from all ordinary standards of design and value that in justice to yourself you must measure by it any contemplated purchase.

LETTERS FROM E. T. SOLDIERS WITH OVERSEAS CONTINGENT

GERMANS ARE INDUSTRIOUS,
BUT THIS IS THE ALLIES' YEAR.

Brompton, Sept. 4. — (Special.)—Miss Fannie A. Knapp has received the following letters from Lanet-Sgt. Wm. H. Knapp, of the Princess Pats: "Somewhereville,"

July 25, 1916.
Dear People at Home, — We came out of the trenches a few days ago and expect to go farther back for a while. Everything seems to be comparatively quiet on our part of the front, some trench mortars and bombing nearby every night just to let ourselves know that the war is still going on. Of course we do not expect anything quick or sensational on this front, but this is our year alright. The Russians seem to be still going strong and we are making good progress.

This drawing may give you some idea of the way the Germans build their dugouts. The stairs going down from the trench lead into a passage about 14 1/2 ft. inside, then down more steps into the main chamber, which is often 20 ft. below the surface. The idea of having two or more entrances is that a shell may block one, but is not likely to get both. Of course these are mined—that is, dug in like a mine shaft—the roof and sides are supported, as they go in, by plank cut to a standard size with ends fitted. Part of our ground they held only ten days in all, but in that time they made a number of these dugouts. Only the very heaviest shells will damage a work like that, and it is almost impossible to really destroy them. The Germans are certainly an industrious people, whatever their faults. If we worked a little harder we should be better off, but everything is improving. We shall soon be able to dig even better than Fritz.

Your two parcels came last night and you can bet the underwear was acceptable. Sgt. Mack and I were both dirty, so I lent him one suit, so we had a splendid bath and change. My, but it feels good! We have a bath here every day and night, but the water is pretty dirty.

August 3.
You will wonder why my letters don't come, I fear. The truth is that I have been plain lazy the past week. We have been out and having a pretty comfortable time in spite of the marches and parades. The weather has been about the hottest I have experienced in this country, but not nearly so warm as Canadian summers. There is a heavy dew and mist every night and the evenings are very cool.

I see by the papers there have been terrible forest fires in Northern Ontario and a lot of lives lost. I hope they are over now and do not break out again. I sent a parcel some time ago; hope it goes through O.K. The cloth is "Bosche" overcoat, and their paper sand bags. The pouch is part of their equipment.

Yes, Jack Dempsey was wounded within 20 feet of me. Just a bullet in the shoulder. He would be O.K. if he didn't pick up anything worse on the way out. I must get the address of his people in Ireland and write him through them. The Belford boys are here—all in the same regiment. I have not had a chance to look them up yet. I saw Waterman a few days ago and he had been to see them. Frank has been slightly wounded.

Whatever happens you must be careful not to overdo the work part, as it would never do for you people to get sick. I do hope you are not having too much trouble with the haying.

Dugout B 83, August 8.
We had several inspections the last time out. They are always rather trying and do not tend to improve one's temper. We expect a very big one when we go out again. The papers will probably tell you whom I wonder if you know that we have Col. Pelly, D.S.O., back in command now. He is one of the original officers. I think we are very fortunate in having a succession of such splendid men to command us.

Doing working parties most of the time at present. Of course they are of the most pleasant part of soldiering, but it is all in the game. We have found to our sorrow that the rule here is—man must dig to live. If you could hear the way the shells go over you would understand that there is no danger of ever having too many of them.

August 12.
"Everything quiet on our bit of the western front," as the officials say, and nowadays that means nothing but the usual artillery activity. That is one way we do have it on the artillery boys. Small mention is made of anything they do so long as we don't do anything except stick to it. Things were somewhat lively this morning, but did not amount to much as far as we are concerned. One thing certain, Fritz doesn't have everything his own way as he used to. When he starts anything now our guns always come back at him in great style.

If your August weather has been as good as ours you will be finished haying in spite of difficulties. I can imagine you are still putting in long hours. Isn't it a shame that I, along with so many others, should be spending rather than producing, but if in the end we can produce a last ing peace I suppose it will be well worth it all. The happenings in northern France have made us long more than ever, to get through and set it all free once more. If we only get a continued increase in the flow of guns and shells that day may not be so far distant.

Very much love to you all, William, 23283.

TWICE WOUNDED SOLDIER WRITES OF BEAUTIFUL FRENCH COUNTRY.

Granby, Sept. 4 (Special).—The following letter was recently received by Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bowker of Granby from their youngest son, Leighton, who has been on active service for over a year. He enlisted in the west and was once before slightly wounded.

Somewhere in France, Aug. 12, 1916.
My dear Father and Mother:
Just a few lines to let you know that I am alive and happy. One week ago to-day I received a slight wound over my left eye, caused by a little splinter from a 4.1 H.E. shell (Hun, of course). I didn't want to go to hospital, so I took a week's rest at our wagon lines and attended a dressing station twice each day. After the medical officers lanced, probed etc., several times, they finally drew out the splinter yesterday, and now I'm feeling fine, with no more pains or aches.

If you should see my name in the casualty list, don't worry, as I am all right now, and shall be in action again tomorrow.

We are enjoying the finest weather of the year. To-night the moon is full, and the sky is full of stars. To-day the temperature must have been quite high, as it was the hottest day so far this year. I think scenery around here is absolutely grand. Everywhere you look there are little green hills with wind-mills on top, there in the little valleys there are several small hamlets, each one with a church, the spire of which is higher than anything else there. Between here and those hamlets, and beyond to the hills are hundreds of small patches of ground under intense cultivation. Each patch is surrounded by a ditch and, in some cases, by a hedge as well. In looking over the landscape during the day I can see more shades of green than I ever saw before. The hops run up wires fastened to other wires stretched horizontally from a high frame-work of either wood or iron posts. Tobacco, hops wheat and mangles are grown in quantity, but I've never seen corn grown out here yet.

The fine wide stone roads run between tall rows of trees, and the canals likewise. Many aeroplanes are buzzing around overhead, and all day and night the big transport trucks, motorcycles and automobiles are to be seen almost constantly.

Two days ago I saw Sam Davidson and Jim Whittaker from Waterloo. Will write again, as soon as I have time. Love to all.

organizations on the results of their labors and wished them all the success which he was sure their energy and force would ensure. The war would bring many problems that required solution. The countries devastated by war would have to be reconstructed, there would be great demands for all kinds of construction and building materials and there was every reason why Canada should get some benefit in that way. The war had put Europe into two camps—the Allies held a conference in Paris recently to discuss what should be done in trade matters after the war and undoubtedly Canada and the other countries fighting with them would be given a chance of supplying necessary reconstruction materials.

What plan Britain would adopt was not exactly known, but a commission had been appointed and was sitting now for the purpose of discussing the whole fiscal question and deciding on the best plan for the British Isles, and a promise had been made for a meeting of representatives from the Dominion to discuss the whole Empire situation.

RECONSTRUCTION WORK IN EUROPE

The Boards of Trade of Sherbrooke and throughout Canada had to consider if it was worthwhile to get a large part of that business which would have to do with the Allied countries particularly in reference to reconstruction. The government would do everything to assist but the best suggestions of getting trade or business always came from the firms engaged in manufacturing the various materials. Here Sir George referred to the invitation issued by Sir George Foster for delegates throughout the Dominion to attend a "Call to action" conference in Ottawa. His object was to get the help and advice of the best business men of the Dominion in regard to the best manner of handling trade matters after the war and bringing Canada back to its normal condition.

RETURNED SOLDIER QUESTION.

Dealing with the returned soldier question, Sir George said a lot of men would be coming back to Canada—some were coming now wounded and disabled and some were coming as of course for them. They had fought Canada's battles, had protected our homes and children and must consider it their duty to see that these men were not only well treated but also found some occupation to earn a livelihood as soon as possible, because although the Dominion granted a pension to disabled soldiers they would be happier and better men in some suitable occupation and all the workmen possible were required here. Canada needed population to develop her vast resources and those soldiers who returned strong and well would not care to resume their ordinary occupations, but even the others would be able to do a great deal towards increased production. Another method of giving occupation to returned soldiers which appealed to him very strongly and which he knew found favor in this part of Canada was to place them on farms. He knew the Boards of Trade had made great efforts in the direction of immigration to this part of Canada. After the war he believed there would be a long stream of immigrants to the Dominion. The army of England was composed of citizen soldiers just as our own, many had come from the cities, stores, shops and offices and after living in the open for so long many of these men would not be willing to return to sedentary occupations, and Sir George knew of a part of Canada which ought to get a larger proportion of British soldiers in this way than the Eastern Townships—called the "Garden of Canada." This was the most lovely portion of Canada, a mixed farming always the most satisfactory in the end, and the district he thought, would appeal to people from the old country more than any other because of its resemblance to England. "I have been over the Experimental Farm today. I congratulate you on having such an excellent location for it, and on returning this afternoon I could not help thinking one would hardly know he was not looking on one of the most beautiful English scenes with its woods, hills and rivers, and this part of Canada will, I am sure, appeal greatly to men from the British force who make up their minds to emigrate after the war and get into some outdoor occupation.

Not only that, but you have in the Eastern Townships many factories, offering opportunities to the young people as they grow up to find plenty of work, and I believe when the war is over you will find it easier than in the past to attract the men you want."

PROBLEM OF MUNITION WORKERS.

Another problem that would have to be faced was that some day the war would end—all hoped it would be soon, although it would probably go on for a long time yet—and then the manufacture of munitions of which Canada made nearly a million dollars' worth a day would cease. (Sherbrooke was doing her part well in turning out shells). When the shell making ceased the munition workers would have to go back to their ordinary occupations. That was another reason for Sir George Foster's "call to action," in order to arrive at some concrete plan of meeting those conditions and restoring the country to its normal state. The speaker was glad to know that the Sherbrooke Board of Trade had received the idea with enthusiasm and intended sending six well qualified men to Ottawa to serve on the committee; he was sure some wise counsel would emanate from the convention.

BUDGET OF NEWS FROM SUTTON

Two Well-Known Citizens
Pass Away. Oddfellows
Attend Church.

Sutton, Sept. 5 (Special).—The funeral of Mrs. Albert Ingold, who died at her home on Manual Avenue, as before noted in the Record, took place on Sunday at 1.30 at the house, at 2.30 at Grace Church, Rev. Herbert Charters, officiating. Mrs. Ingold had been in failing health for some three years. She was born in England and came to Canada some ten years ago. For near five years her husband had been employed at Farnham in the Maintenance of Way department, the family living for a part of that time in Sutton. Mr. Ingold coming home every night. The bearers at the funeral were Messrs. H.C. Reid, Clifford Chamberlain, James Flanagan, Mr. Clair Brown, Nicholas McClarty and E.J. Lee. There was a very large offering of flowers, the casket being literally covered with beautiful floral emblems. One fine pillar coming from Farnham. Deceased leaves besides her husband, two children, a girl of seven years and a boy of three. Mr. Ingold has much sympathy in his loss, and for the two little ones left motherless. Mr. and Mrs. Clair Brown, of Farnham, were among those at the funeral, at which there was a very large turnout of friends.

DEATH OF MRS. BRIGGS LONGWAY.

Mrs. Briggs Longway, for some years a resident of this village, died on Monday morning at an illness of several weeks, caused, it is said, by a fall down stairs some months ago. Mrs. Longway was 83 years of age, and she was formerly for many years a well-known resident of Dunham. For some two years she had rented her house in this village and lived in Montreal to be with her daughter Katie, who is a well-known teacher and who went to that city to teach ditions in England. Mention was made of the abolition of social functions, the darkened streets and the general absence of fear of Zeppelins, "nearly everybody running to see them as they would fireworks." The British people thought of nothing else than winning the war; it took them some time to realize the situation, but now the British bulldog understood it he would not let go until a conclusive victory had been won. Sir George told of visits he had made to the front and spoke of the improved state in the trenches last winter, wondering how under former conditions and with the shortage of men the British lines were not broken through. He praised the bravery, cheerfulness and stoicism of the British and Colonial troops, and also the good food, clothing and excellent medical and nursing arrangements on the field and in the French and English hospitals. "You never hear any grumbling or grumbling, the boys at the front forget all their troubles, they are fighting to beat the Germans and they are doing it well, and when they get into the hospitals they are still cheerful with the object of getting back to the front."

HEROISM OF WOMEN OF EMPIRE

In his closing remarks Sir George paid an eloquent tribute to the nobility and heroism of the women of the Empire and the ability of the British women in filling men's positions. The war had shown that the British was not a decadent race, the crisis had been reached and the initiative was now with them. The spirit of sacrifice, confidence and determination would continue to animate the Empire until victory came. The address was well received and heartily applauded.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker on the motion of Mr. E. W. Farwell, seconded by Mr. D. J. Steele, and three cheers were given for Sir George and Lady Perley.

Sir George in replying wished the Exhibition and Boards of Trade every success. Both were doing splendid work in the Eastern Townships.

MARKETING OF LIVE STOCK

Quebec offers splendid opportunities for the co-operative marketing of live stock, yet practically no steps have been taken to organize for this purpose. Dairy farmers, as well as those who cater to mixed farming, are not usually in a position to market any class of stock in carload lots as only a few head are offered for sale at one time. Failure of farmers to co-operate in local selling left the field open to the buyer who has been able to operate successfully with a margin of profit that is often exorbitant. This is particularly true with regard to stock of choice quality.

some two or three years ago. The funeral took place at Dunham on Monday. Rev. H. Charters, of Sutton, officiated.

ODD FELLOWS ATTEND CHURCH.

The Odd Fellows marched to the Methodist Church on Sunday, August 27, where Rev. James Plett conducted memorial services, but on account of the rain the wreaths of flowers were not placed on the graves of the departed brothers till the following Monday.

TEACHERS TAKE UP DUTIES.

Among the Sutton teachers leaving for their work in Montreal on Monday were Miss Beatrice McClarty, Miss Gertrude Olmstead, Miss Jessie Niblock.

ADVANTAGES OF CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING.

Co-operative marketing insures a greater net return to the farmer. He always receives full market value minus cost of marketing. Profit is the objective of the local buyer. In order to protect himself during abnormal market conditions when prices have a downward tendency, he leaves a wider margin between the purchasing price and market conditions. By co-operative marketing farmers can more directly in touch with prices and conditions on the central markets and are in a better position to breed and finish their stock to best advantage. Through an association farmers are usually able to market their stock when it is ready. Moreover an association on account of the volume of its business receives greater consideration at the hands of market officials and others.

HOW TO ORGANIZE.

Co-operative marketing may be undertaken as an additional feature of one or more associations already organized, or a separate association may be formed for this purpose. The necessary officers should be appointed and a proper constitution and by-laws drafted. The appointment of a business manager is practically essential where any considerable amount of shipping is being done. Great care should be taken in the selection of this man as the success of the association rests largely with him. He should be honest and capable, with a sound knowledge of business methods and principles and, if possible, having some previous knowledge of marketing and shipping live stock.

OPERATION OF ASSOCIATIONS.

Associations organized for co-operative shipping should be operated on purely co-operative principles, all fees being based on the amount of business transacted through the association. In selling two methods are open to associations. They may advertise for bids and sell direct to the packing houses for cash F.O.B. at shipping points, or the stock may be consigned to a commission man and sold on the central market. The first method where feasible has advantages over the second, as it brings the central buyer more directly in touch with the farmer. It relieves the association of further responsibility once the stock is loaded on board cars. It saves commission for selling, yard expenses and feed bills and permits of making quicker returns to the farmer.

Where stock is consigned to a commission man individual contributions must be carefully marked. A uniform system of marking should be adopted. Roman numerals clipped in some conspicuous part of the body have been found most suitable for cattle, while branding fluid is recommended for sheep and paint marks for hogs. Upon receipt of the account of sales and remittance the manager should prorate shrinkage, expenses and proceeds among individual shippers. Each shipment should be given a number which should be inserted on check and statement to avoid chance of error.

RESULTS OF EXISTING ORGANIZATIONS.

Five hundred shipping associations are now operating in the United States. One association in Minnesota claims a saving of $6,221.15 for its members during 1914 and $25,155 since its organization. Another association claims a saving of $2.25 a cwt. on veal while still another effects a saving of 65c a cwt. on hogs and 70c to 75c a cwt. on cattle and sheep. The movement is still in its infancy in Canada where much of the work undertaken has had to do with the shipping of lambs. Lambs shipped through associations in Prince Edward Island, Ontario and elsewhere have netted members from 50c to $1 a cwt. more.

In addition to providing an appreciable saving to the members and diverting the profits of the drover to the farmer's pocket, co-operative marketing gives the farmer a much broader vision of market prices and selling. Not only has he an opportunity of following his own stock to the central market and analysing the returns received therefrom, but in addition he has an opportunity of studying the returns for each shipment made by the association. The local buyer wishing to make as much profit as possible out of the farmers endeavors to keep them ignorant of market prices. Where shipping associations have been operating for a number of years it is claimed that farmers have improved the quality of their stock and owing to a better knowledge and closer study of markets, feeding and finishing have been so adjusted that sales can be made when the markets are strongest for the various classes of stock offered. Co-operative shipping has much to commend it and would undoubtedly result in larger returns to farmers in many sections of Quebec.

TOMMY ATKINS IN RUSSIA.

Officers and men of the British unit in Russia have had conferred upon them by the Tsar the Order and Medal of St. Ann for "Meritorious work." This unit consists of a large number of powerful armoured cars and a complete equipment with hundreds of officers and men. Many of its members have fought in Belgium, France, Gallipoli, and in German South West Africa, and they represent South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, and Ireland, while a number came from the constituency—North Huntingdon) of Commander Locker-Lampson, M.P., who is in command. The unit left England in November last, but the ice having formed in the White Sea, they were unable to proceed to Archangel, and thereupon steamed to Alondrovsk, which remains an open port all the year round. The transports with the armoured cars were anchored in the harbor of Alexandrovsk, while the officers and men landed and prepared to spend the winter in the Arctic. The winter months were very hard, with intense cold, the glass being nearly always below zero, and with but a couple of hours light daily, but the men, despite the hardships and frost-bite, were cheery and in good spirits. The school buildings at Alexandrovsk—a centre of education in Lapland—were utilized as barracks, and here day by day the British were drilling and training in order to keep them selves fit for the work ahead of them. As soon as the ice melted all rejoined their ships and proceeded to Archangel, where they had a tremendous welcome and civic reception. The unit were feted all the way to Moscow, and had another enthusiastic reception there. They were cheered and pelted with flowers by thousands of people, and following a public luncheon, Commander Locker-Lampson and other members of the unit were presented with mementoes by the Grand Duchess Elizabeth. So they progressed to the battlefield, always through cheering crowds at the wayside stations, where flowers and cigarettes were thrown into the railway carriages.

THE TIME AND THE PLACE.

"Bobby," said the lady in the street car, severely, "why don't you get up and give your seat to your father? Doesn't it pain you to see him reaching for the strap?"
"Not in the car," said Bobby. "It does at home."—The Advance.

PUBLIC MUST PAY FOR INCREASE

New York, Sept. 4.—Railroad heads, in New York were unanimous yesterday in warning the public that its jubilation over the avoidance of a national strike would be tempered with the knowledge that it would pay—and keep on paying.

The most ominous note sounded in these warnings was the prediction by men long familiar with the effect of freight rates on retail prices that the paying would not be proportionate to the added transportation cost; that an extra penny in freight might well mean an extra 25 cents in the price to the retail consumer of some articles.

It was too early to attempt to compute the bill, heads of great railroad systems said, but the levy would fall on all classes and would be collected in many devious ways.

Intermingled with the regret they expressed over the new national burden were general expressions from railroad presidents, traffic managers, and others that the new law was "a disgrace to the country," and that Congress had "shamed itself" in passing such legislation.

TELLS OF WRECK OF ZEPPELIN

London, Sept. 4.—A correspondent of the Associated Press, who was in the eastern counties in the early morning, watched the bombardment of the Zeppelin which was destroyed during the raid on England. When first seen it was sailing with shrapnel bursting all around and searchlights centered on it. Suddenly the Zeppelin disappeared in a cloud of smoke emitted by itself.

The sky was clear at the time, but the searchlights lost trace of their quarry. A minute afterwards a light appeared in the sky, like a brilliant comet, which increased in intensity as it descended. Then the light spread out into flames, falling gradually until an altitude of about 1,000 feet was reached, when it burst into an enormous sheet of flame, lighting up the surrounding country for miles.

Apparently the gasoline had caught fire and the airship dashed rapidly to the earth. From villages and towns went up loud cheers, but it was difficult to tell exactly where the airship had fallen. The people congratulated one another on the good marksmanship of the anti-aircraft guns. For some time searchlights were thrown skyward, searching for the companions of the ill-fated airship, but apparently without success. Immense crowds went from London and the suburban towns yesterday to visit the wreck of the Zeppelin, which was lying a heap of ruins in a field.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain prevailing, soldiers guarded the wreck and removed charred portions of the bodies which were found.

An eye-witness who reached the scene early said the charred remains of a big German engineer were found. The hands still were grasping a lever of the engine, the engineer apparently having clung on, trying to steer the ship to the ground.

Some accounts say that a number of the crew jumped overboard to save themselves from burning, but those familiar with Zeppelins think it would be impossible. Escape could only have been made through the exit, and the rapidity of the descent would not have given them time.

MAD LEAP MADE FOR FREEDOM

PRISONER JUMPED FROM TRAIN GOING AT MILE-A-MINUTE.

Chicago, September 4.—John Maurice Pettit, confessed slayer of his girl friend, attempted to escape from a Chicago detective yesterday in a spectacular headlong leap, from a passenger train speeding a mile a minute.

Pettit made his plunge at a point a mile and a half east of Michigan City Ind., while he was being brought back to Chicago on a United train of the Michigan Central Railroad by Detective-Sergeant Theodore Broderick. He had been caught near Detroit, where he fled after the murder. He broke from his captor and drove headfirst through the open window of a washroom of the rear coach. The train was brought to a standstill and Pettit found a mile in the rear of the train preparing to walk away.

Heart Fluttering Easily Corrected

GOOD ADVICE TO FOLKS BOTHERED WITH PALPITATION, WEAKNESS, ETC.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Perron's. We recommend Perron's because we know it's just what you need. It cures A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these: SOME SYMPTOMS OF WEAK HEART: Nervousness, Palpitation, Trembling, Sinking Feeling, Heart Faint, Short Breath, Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says: "I was weak and miserable. I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness."

"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations. 'Perron's' strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, and made me well. It's a great builder."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Perron's is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it, 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catapachona Co., Kingston, Ont.

You Pay Lower Cost Per Mile Because Goodyear Tires Are Made in Canada

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada, Limited, manufacture Goodyear Tires in Canada. They import only raw materials. Goodyear "made in Canada" tires cost you considerably less because the duty on raw materials is much less than that on finished tires.

Imported tires, however, bear this extra cost that adds nothing to the quality.

Choose, then, between Goodyear Tires, carrying the low duty on raw materials, and imported tires, carrying the high duty on finished products. Do you see that the higher price you pay for imported tires does not necessarily mean higher quality?

So the situation stands with the majority of imported tires selling at higher prices than Goodyears.

In the United States most of these same tires sell for less than Goodyears. But they do not have nearly so large a sale. American motorists find that Goodyear higher cost per tire gives lower cost per mile.

In Canada, where Goodyear cost per tire is lower than that of imported tires, Goodyear cost per mile must be much lower.

Judge from the tables below the saving made on Goodyears by the Goodyear factory at Bowmanville. Judge, too, from the typical mileages given, the Goodyear quality. And add to these advantages the tire-satisfaction gained by using Goodyear Service Stations marked by this emblem.

Being Ordered About

London's special constables are chucking over the experience of Sir Edward Elgar, the eminent composer, who was sworn in the other day as a "special." After the usual formalities, the names of the newly-joined were called over to receive badges, etc. "Elgar! Step forward, Elgar!" commanded the officer in charge. Apparently Sir Edward did not step forward fast enough, for the official added, "Pull yourself together, man; you're a policeman now." And Sir Edward enjoyed the incident as much as anyone.

A SHERLOCK HOLMES.

The Waitress—And how did you find the apple pie, sir?
The Diner—I moved a bit of cheese aside and there it was.—Contributed.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC RESUMED.

New York, Sept. 5.—Freight traffic on all railroads entering New York, interrupted by embargoes due to the fear of a strike, is moving again on normal schedule. Railroad men say that little congestion has resulted from the brief embargoes. Large quantities of merchandise had been shipped immediately previous to the issuance of hold-up orders.

A task still before the railroads is that of demobilizing the forces of strike breakers assembled last week at considerable expense.

A number of these strike breakers, it is said, were employed on contracts which still have a week, and some even a month, to run.

AIRMAN BROUGHT DOWN ZEPPELIN

Lieut. Robinson Decorated With Victoria Cross By King For Feat

London, Sept. 5.—(Special)—King George today awarded the Victoria Cross to Lieutenant William Lee Robinson, of the Royal Flying Corps, for bringing down a Zeppelin while the airship was approaching London Saturday night. The British Official Press Bureau, in making the announcement, says that the cross was awarded to Lieut. Robinson for the most conspicuous bravery displayed by him in the circumstances of great difficulty and danger and sent it crashing to the ground a flaming wreck. Robinson had been in the air for more than two hours and had previously attacked another airship.

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN WAS DAMAGED

Part of Enemy Airship Picked Up on The East Coast of England

London, Sept. 5.—(Special)—That another Zeppelin airship was badly damaged in the raid on the English southwestern counties, Saturday night, in addition to the one destroyed, was indicated in an official statement given out this afternoon by the Government Press Bureau. It said:

"An important part of an enemy airship was picked up in the Eastern Counties. The ship undoubtedly suffered severe damage from gun fire."

KITCHENER'S OWN AT EXHIBITION

Lieut. J. M. State Recruiting For Eastern Townships Company.

KITCHENER'S OWN AT THE EXHIBITION TO-DAY.

Of the many thousands of battalions that represent the armed strength of the Empire, the truth is that the heroic spirit of Earl Kitchener imbues them all. Each and every one is the embodiment in British manhood of the great Field Marshal's sturdy patriotism. Each battalion, including our Canadian battalions, is a unit in that mighty wall of defence which the brain of Kitchener reared.

But one battalion alone bears his illustrious name, and that is the 24th, "Kitchener's Own," commanded by Lieut.-Col. F. M. McRobbie. With headquarters at Peel Street Barracks, Montreal, the formation of the Eastern Townships company for Eastern Townships men will have a very strong attraction.

We are honestly of the opinion, and so is the Dominion of Canada, that the finest men of our country are in uniform to-day. Canada's noblest, strongest and best are generously giving their services in this fight for human freedom, and from the lowest ranks to our major-generals they have left no superiors in manhood behind them in civilization. This is the belief of the whole Eastern Townships, and our honor roll contains the names of our young men who have measured up to the truest standards of manhood.

FRENCH TAKE STRONG POSITIONS

Eastern Rumania and the Russians, who went in to assist Rumania, occurred yesterday. The Bulgarian's cavalry outpost was sabred by the Russian cavalry.

ITALIAN DIRIGIBLE BOMBARDS AUSTRIAN WORKS.

Rome, Sept. 5.—(Special)—On the night of Sept. 3, an Italian dirigible, according to an announcement made here, successfully bombarded the Austrian military works at Lussinico, in the Crown Land of Istria. The airship returned undamaged.

ANGLO-FRENCH FORCES KEEP UP OFFENSIVE

London, Sept. 5.—Keeping up their strong offensive against the Germans in France, the Anglo-French forces north and south of the Somme River have again driven their lines forward and captured important German positions.

South of the Somme the village of Soyecourt and part of the village of Vermandovillers have been captured, while—seemingly more important still—the French have made fresh progress east of the village of Forest, which lies one and one-half miles southeast of the railroad town of Comblès—a gain, which, taken with the capture of Guillemont on Sunday, apparently outflanks Comblès and may render it untenable. More than 1,500 Germans have been made prisoners north and south of the Somme during the past two days.

On the British right wing progress is reported north of Palfemont farm, while a German counter-attack north-west of Mouquet farm was repulsed. In the Verdun sector Paris records a fresh gain near Fleury.

BERLIN ADMITS ALLIES' SUCCESS.

Berlin, in admitting the claims of British and French successes in the fighting of Sunday in the Somme region, says the battle over the 18-mile front from Thiaumont to the Somme was of the greatest ferocity. The Germans held the ground at Thiepval, north of Pozieres and near Ghinchy, but Guillemont village and wood were lost, as likewise was Ghinchy, but a counter-attack of the Germans won back a portion of the latter town.

FIGHTING ON RUSSIAN FRONT.

Again there is heavy fighting on the front in Russia, west and south-west of Lutsk and north of Zborov and near Brezany, in Galicia, with the Russians generally the aggressors. Petrograd contemplates the assertion of Berlin that the Russians obtained local successes near Brezany by the declaration that the Russians won a victory over the Teutons here and made 2,641 prisoners. In the Carpathian region, according to Petrograd, the Russians have captured an entire series of heights and are advancing to the Hungarian frontier.

ROUMANIANS PRESS ADVANTAGE.

All along the Transylvania front the Rumanians continue to press their advantage against the Austro-Hungarians. Here they have captured several additional towns and are now said to be bombarding the town of Hermannstadt, which is second in importance only to Kronstadt.

The German and Bulgarian forces are attacking along the entire front between Dobrudja and Bulgaria. Near Koenar, Berlin reports the Rumanians were driven back with a loss of 700 prisoners.

In Albania the Italians, east of Avlona, have taken the villages of Kuta and Drizer and Monte Gradist.

The Germans have surrendered to the British Dar-Es-Salaam, Germany's chief seaport in East Africa. Considerable fighting is in progress in the Austro-Italian theatre, but without any important changes in terrain occurring.

ADMITS LOSS OF AIRSHIP.

Berlin admits the loss of an airship on the night of September 2. It is probable that this was the Zeppelin which London reported was brought down during the raid on the east coast of England Saturday night.

ATTACKS BY GERMANS WERE UNSUCCESSFUL

Paris, Sept. 5.—(Special)—The German assaults north of the Somme were delivered between Comblès and Forest. South of the river unsuccessful blows were struck by the Germans east of Belleu. In these operations the French took one hundred prisoners. The activities of the French are again being hindered by bad weather, which prevailed all night over the whole Somme front. The French are organizing their newly won grounds.

bugles and drums will be at the Exhibition as an added attraction throughout this week. They have won their way in Montreal, Valleyfield Fair and at Bedford Fair, and will add your strength and your name to Kitchener's Own?

Sign your test of manhood, the attestation papers, at 110 Wellington street. Will you be one of Kitchener's Own.

ACCEPTS ALLIES' DEMANDS

London, Sept. 5.—The Greek Government at Athens has accepted the demands of the Entente Powers in their entirety, and agents of the French and British Governments are taking over the control of postal and telegraphic communications.

SHERBROOKE MAN SAW ZEPP. RAID

Capt. J. E. Smith Witnessed Fall of Airship When It Was Wrecked

(Gazette Cable.)

London, England, September 5.—Many Canadian officers were interested spectators of the Zeppelin raid on London on Sunday night. For some of the officers who had but recently arrived in England and were on leave of absence from the camps it was their first sight of active warfare.

Captain J. E. Smith, of the Sherbrooke Record, and Lieut. Johnson, of Magog, witnessed the bombardment of the Zeppelins from the roof of the seven-storey Hotel Piccadilly. When it fell they at once took a taxi and, under the impression prevalent everywhere that it had fallen in North London, they drove on a dozen miles and saw the wreck.

Another group of Canadian officers who were watching from the roof of the Strand Hotel reached the wreck when only a few special constables were on the site and saw all the wonders they desired.

Men at the Maple Leaf Club in Hyde Park made a dash on foot for the scene of the wreck, but the most of them dropped out before the site was reached.
