WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1945

PRICE:— THREE CENTS

BOOK DRIVE FOR SERVICEMEN

Playground Plan Keeps Children Actively Busy

The children on the playgrounds at Westmount, Staynor and Prince Albert have entered the season's initial programme with great gusto. The summer schools at these sites are competing in a "books for the servicemen" drive and the literature piling up at an enormous rate at all three playgrounds.

At least two teams at each of these three spots are out canvassing their neighbourhoods in an endeavour to gather together a large number of books which will be sent to the Magazine Depot of M.D. 4.

Next week's programme at the playgrounds includes talks on health, safety and first aid. Expert opinion will be given on these three subjects at all playgrounds and at the end of the week an essay contest will be entered into by the children and the winning efforts will be published in this paper.

Another weekly event starting tomorrow will be the Friday boat races at the pond in King George Park. Each Friday these sailboat and motor-boat races will be held with the first event starting at three o'clock.

Staynor Playground
 Two teams have entered the

"books for the servicemen" drive at Staynor, composed mostly of girls and the younger boys. The captains are Pamela Gedde and Diane Lemieux. The children on the first mentioned team are Margaret Jolley, Joan Jolley, Barbara Brambell, Juanita Sherry, Noreen Sherry, Come Halifax, Patsy Joiner and Lois Foreman.

Those on Diane Lemieux's team are Leona Prevost, Lorna Burton, Beverley Bishop, Ronny Foreman and Evelyn Pidgeon. Two others Keith Williamson and George Fowler have not been assigned to teams.

A pee wee team from Staynor played a similar group from Westmount Park on Wednesday but it was too late to get the results in this paper. Another inter-playground event saw a team from Staynor meet a group from Westmount Park in horseshoes. This match was played last night and plans were to have three or four matches played at Staynor and a like number at Westmount Park.

Those included on the Staynor team were Allen Turner, Fred DeJean, Kevin Mooney, Bert Kelly, Lorne Foy, Pat Lomasney, Malcolm Turner and Gerry Berry. The horseshoe matches will probably

Nautical Welcome Home Flying Flags Greet Sailor Son's Return

Marries In England This War
 Same As His Dad In The Last

When Petty Officer Reginald Leggett, 28, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Leggett, 5042 Western avenue, formerly of 4128 St. Catherine St. W., returned home after an absence of three years, he found that his folks had followed nautical tradition in true Navy style and dressed ship to welcome him back to the home port at the end of a long eventful voyage.

The lawn had received a crew haircut and from two high points on the roof a double line of bright coloured pennants, which fluttered in the breeze, led down to a point on the sidewalk. Flags decorated the porch, a welcome home sign hung outside the front room window and the face of a first lord of the Admiralty smoking a huge cigar peered out the window in friendly fashion, a sailor was coming home and everything was shipshape and Bristol fashion.

Reggie joined the army in the early years of the war thus following the example set by his father in the first World War but, after completing his basic training, he transferred to the Senior Service and underwent his naval training at Halifax, Nova Scotia, when he was posted to H.M.C.S. Alberni which was on convoy duty in the Western Ocean.

Convoy Route

After a spell on the Murmansk convoy route which left him a sick rating, he was assigned to H.M.C.S. Niobe where he was attached to the engineering staff for some time and, on recovering his health, was sent to the Chatham Naval Depot in England for further engineering training.

During his course of instruction at the Naval Depot, the young seaman met and married his English bride, Miss Betty Ann Horstall, of Worthing, Sussex, at that time a member of the Army Transport Service, in which corps she served for four years and who, with their young son, is expected here at an early date, in this respect young Leggett again copied the example set by his father who married a Brighton girl, the present Mrs. Leggett, during the last war when he was stationed in the South of England as a member of the thirteenth Canadian Division.

Ship Torpedoed

On completing his studies at the Chatham Naval Depot he was posted to H.M.C.S. Athabaskan and was at his battle station during the Channel engagement when this fine ship was torpedoed and went down with heavy loss of life. Burned and blown overboard, he was picked up, to use his own words, "more dead than alive" by the crew of a German

UNITY GROUP ARE VISITED REVELRY EVE

The dance at the Westmount "Y" brought together about 95 Unity members and a number of the Rotarians who sponsored the evening's frolic. Mr. A. A. Boire, President, Rotary Club of Westmount, Mr. W. G. Moxley, Chairman, Community Service Committee, Mr. H. E. McManus, chairman Youth's Work Committee, Mr. P. Q. Delgado and Mr. W. F. Close were among those who looked in on the "teen-agers" revelry. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Anderson were two other welcome guests. They acted as patron and patroness.

Russel Lloyd was again a lucky prize-winner. A new girl member, Elsie Wilkinson also won a "door" prize. The next Unity Club Dance is scheduled for Friday, July 20th, at 8.30 p.m. Members are urged to advise the Dance Committee as early as possible of their intention to attend as arrangements are made to accommodate one hundred and fifty members and friends only. Entertainment and refreshments are being provided as usual.

Regimental Officers Greet Battalion Veteran

Lieut.-Col. H. G. Brewer, M.C., officer commanding, and fellow officers of the 2nd (R) Battalion together with a group of returned officers of the Royal Montreal Regiment (M.G.) gave a royal welcome home to Lieut.-Col. A. Hector Lowe, who went overseas with the first Battalion in December, 1939 as a subaltern.

Colonel Lowe, who was appointed to command of the 1st Battalion of the regiment, now known as the R.M.R. Defence Battalion, which is slated to join the Canadian Pacific Force, formerly commanded the R.M.R. Defence Company which did outstanding work in the North West European campaign.

Tributes to Colonel Lowe's service to Canada and to the Royal Montreal Regiment were paid by Colonel Brewer, and Maj.-Gen. C. B. Price, C.B., D.S.O., D.C.M., a former commanding officer of the regiment, and now its honorary colonel.

Colonel Brewer said that Colonel Lowe had always insisted, so far as it was in his power, on also to him that the R.M.R. had been selected to go to the Pacific. He pointed out that in a peculiar

Legion Ladies' Auxiliary Branch Organizing Committee Appointed

The proposed Ladies Auxiliary for Legion Branch 39 was again the subject of much discussion, with Provincial President Mrs. S. T. Sheritt and Honorary Secretary Mrs. S. Copping of the Quebec Command Women's Auxiliary present when the meeting of the Westmount Branch was held in Victoria Hall. An organizing committee of five ladies was appointed to study and report on further progress of the new group.

Mrs. J. Heron, Mrs. W. Muirhead, Mrs. J. Martin, Mrs. W. Fisher and Mrs. Ross Morton were appointed to form the initial committee and all interested ladies wishing to join the proposed Auxiliary are asked to get in touch with any of the above, who will gladly provide any required information.

The wives, mothers, sisters and relatives of servicemen and ex-servicemen, whether of this war or the last war, are all eligible for membership in the Legion's Women's Auxiliary and are extended an earnest invitation to enroll in this body whose sole aim is the welfare of returned veterans and their dependents.

Since the regular meeting of the organizing committee met with Mrs. S. T. Sheritt and Mrs.

Copping at the home of Mrs. J. Heron, 4326 St. Catherine Street West, for discussion. Several new members have already enrolled but many more are required to ensure the success of the Auxiliary.

It was therefore decided to hold another meeting at an early date, July 17th, possibly in Victoria Hall, although arrangements in that respect are at present incomplete, further information however may be obtained by calling Mrs. J. Heron, WE. 1802.

CHURCH MEMBERS DISCUSS HOUSING

The housing shortage in Westmount has reached the point where church congregations have to purchase dwellings outright for their pastors, it appears from a letter to members of St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, who have been called to meet on that subject.

"We are all aware that the question of renting a house is a serious one and despite all efforts we have not thus far been able to obtain a house, flat or apartment," the letter says. "In view of this it would seem that we have no alternative but to purchase a residence."

Westmount Vacation Land Continues Y.M.C.A. Style

Another week of activities has been tucked under the belts of Vacation Landers. Some boys have left for camp—some have taken on Summer jobs and some have gone to Summer cottages. But, for all that, everybody has been having fun. Bob Eden, High School boy, who was assisting all last week, has left to work on a farm. Bert Kropp, who has just returned from the military encampment, is taking over leadership of Vacation Land, and will be working with the younger leaders on further programmes. Peter Sykes now is a Councillor at Camp Perrot. Tom Sparrow, another Junior leader, has also left for Camp.

THURSDAY'S EVENTS

The Club has been most fortunate in having ideal weather so far, and the gang that travelled to St. Helen's Island certainly enjoyed every minute. Forty boys left Westmount at 10 a.m. You can bet the first thing they did was to swim—swim and more swim. The water was just right for prolonged swimming. Even when it was time for lunch, no one wanted to stop swimming.

During the two hours for lunch the rest of the boys wandered all over the Island, then went into the water again. What a day! When all trekked home again, tired and happy, everybody decided another jaunt to St. Helen's Island would have to be. Even with sunburns and tiredness all declared it a gala day.

The leaders were Ron George, Tom Sparrow, Peter Swift, and the following boys dove or jumped from the third level of the high tower—Peter Swift, Tom Parrott, Kizzy Goode, Ian Beckett and Tom Sparrow.

FRIDAY'S HAPPENINGS

Assembly was cut short. Unfortunately the speaker was unable to come, so the time was absorbed in giving out points, announcements and news. During morning swim Terry Brookfield swam out of the non-swimmer class by crossing the pool under his own steam.

The afternoon brought another trip to the Westmount Mountain where the Indians defeated the Settlers in a seek and find and hand to hand encounter. The afternoon was hot so one or two tired boys sat in the shade. The idea caught, because in ten minutes every boy was doing likewise. Of course, the stories they heard helped a little. Yes indeed, they spent a good hour listening to stories and just resting. The swim that followed provided a happy ending to a grand day.

SATURDAY, SUNDAY, MONDAY

The gang had its usual swim Saturday but the big event was the week-end trip to Perrot. Sixteen boys, under the leadership of "Doc" Kinrade, made the trip. Big and small, the lads that went were:—Peter Swift, Ron George, Bob Gough, Laurie Bennett, Terry Brookfield, Paul Van der Slice, Michael Hewton, Ian Beckett, Peter Holland, John Nourse, Vincent Roberts, Dickie Grant, Peter Sykes, Kizzy Goode, Bob Coffey and Bob Sherlock.

The boys know now what five miles represent. Many tired feet plodded into Camp in time for a swim and supper Saturday afternoon. That night everyone elected to sleep on the hay in the barn, but, after one thing and another, some ended up by sleeping outdoors—roughly three hours. The rest of the time was spent in noise and fun.

Sunday was a quiet day. Everyone had the opportunity of resting or seeing what they wanted around camp. Of course the camp fire at night was a big thing. Some boys went for a moonlight swim as well. And everyone slept better the second night.

Monday everyone had the usual scramble to find everything, pack and be ready to pull out for home. The train conductor was pretty good to us for we had a coach to ourselves all the way. If you want to know what it means not to drink for an hour—ask the boys.

TUESDAY'S HAPPENINGS

Tuesday didn't see all the boys on the job. Some were quite tired after the long week end. For all that 25 boys went over to Belmont Park for the day. You should see the bunch in action. They aren't all angels by any means, but they are a grand lot to know.

WEDNESDAY'S HAPPENINGS

The morning hours were spent in getting new teams under way. The teams for the week are captained by Peter Swift, Tom Parrott, and Ken Parrott and the vice-captains are Gilles Ross, Paul Manson, Ted Hough. There are ten boys in each team. A fourth team is led by Andrew Coté and is not fully formed yet, but by Thursday it is expected to have that one and two more teams completed.

The boys spent the afternoon on another treasure hunt in Westmount Park. Peter Swift laid the train and the winners were Brian Gallery, Peter Holland, Jimmy Morgan, Michael Hewton, David Bunclark, Gilles Ross, Jack Donnelly, Barnard Downes, Leslie Syvret, Paul Lavigne and John Swift. All in all it has been a very happy week for all.

Playground Plan

ably be continued on with another match to be played at a later date.

Basketball and volleyball leagues will be organized at Staynor next week, it is expected to have two teams from Westmount Park and a similar number from Staynor to compete in these sports. The idea is to have a game of each sport going on at the same time, when the games are finished, the groups will change courts and continue on with the other game. Thursday nights has been suggested for these games.

Prince Albert

Great enthusiasm and keen competition have prevailed in the book drive at this playground, the two teams under captains Donald Hendry and Jon Powell have been canvassing the neighborhood with steady thoroughness. The boys and girls on the teams include Clive Ellis, Cella Bennett, Ian Grant, Gail Conlin, Peggy MacRae, Heather MacRae, Sandra Herman, Robin Binmore, Pamela Ellis, Toni Powell, Mark Hender-

WESTMOUNT HIGH LIGHTS

By GEORGE COCHRANE

After a fairly lengthy conversation with Dr. W. H. Hatcher, assistant dean of McGill University and the man who has the final say as to whether or not a student will be admitted to the seat of learning, we can supply anxious matriculation students with something worth knowing. Judging from the nervous state in which several members of the graduating (they hope) class have been living the last couple of weeks, it's probable that this little bit of information will be greeted with wide open ears.

The minimum requirement for entry into all faculties is a total of 650 on the junior matriculation examinations. That merely means that an application without a total of 650 marks will not be considered. It doesn't guarantee a student with 650 plus admission into the university.

Nobody who just manages to son, Tommy Irwin, Terry O'Brien and Graham Stewart.

The two campaign managers are Charlie Agnew and Allan Gordon. The number of books collected to date is not only gratifying but amazing. At the moment of writing, Jon Powell's team is ahead with 1086 points while Donald Hendry's aggregation have 879. Thus the two teams are evenly matched with just a couple of days to go.

The teams are marked according to the classification of books brought in, hard covered books for example are worth quite a bit more than ordinary magazines.

A sand modelling contest took place last week which proved of interest. In the first group of children, seven years and over, honours went to Jon Powell, Ronnie Balnninger and Heather MacRae. The second group, for those under seven years, first place went to Robin Binmore, second place to David Nelson and third place to Ian Grant. Other participants were Judy Harshaw, Diana Currie, Toni Powell, Donald Hendry, Michael Ney-Smith, Bertelle Gatto, Marion Currie, Mark Henderson, Graham Stewart, Petter Ney-Smith, Ian MacLellan, Terry O'Brien, Agnew Meek, Susan Harshaw and David Binmore.

Westmount Park

Three teams headed by Jerry Pecknold, Rene Chatelois and Francis McIntosh are entered in the great "book" drive at this summer school. The first named group is leading the field of energetic workers. Those on Pecknold's team are Ronald Raphael, Wilma Nash, Joan McVey, Charlotte McGillis, Nancy Donohue, Catherine O'Brien, Lillian Gallery and Johnny O'Brien.

The boys and girls on Chatelois' team are Betty Baird, Maureen Moynagh, Jack Moynagh, Robert Gardiner, Micheline Dufresne, Beverley Munro and Joan Martin. The third team headed by Francis McIntosh includes Elsie Pollard, Brian Patterson, Tony Patterson, Peter Haley, Joey Livingston and Jimmy Sherwood.

A pee wee team including Fred Hofman, John Higgins, Joey Livingston, Jim Sherwood, Norman Clark and others invaded Staynor playground on Wednesday for a softball game. A return game will probably be played in the next week or so.

The Westmount Park horseshoe team that competed against Staynor last night probably included Roger Lamb, Garth Gilhooly, Bill Morton, Bill Pee, Ian "Red" Forrest, Ed Moore, Ross Gillingham and others.

pass in every subject will be admitted, said Dr. Hatcher, and he intimated that a student must have high marks in at least three subjects if his application for admission is going to be met with an affirmative response.

The doctor is chiefly interested in barring students who have little or no chance of passing their university courses. With an ever-increasing number of servicemen taking advantage of the government's offer of a free college education, the doctor can afford to be a little harsh.

Science students will have a tougher time than any, for requirements for entrance to faculty of science will be higher than for any other faculty.

The doctor did not want to be more specific than that, but he did say that one new method of assessing candidates has been adopted with the co-operation of principals of all the schools that have supplied McGill with pupils in the past.

The principals are being asked to fill out forms which will give university officials an idea of the aptitudes and general conduct of junior and matriculation students. The forms will be treated as very confidential, will be seen by no more than three members of the McGill faculty, and will be burned as early as possible.

No mention of an increase in the number of marks required by Jewish students has been mentioned, the assistant dean said.

Home Again

On being freed he was immediately pressed into police duty in the liberated area but he proved to be of a temporary nature and short duration. One morning he and several of his liberated shipmates boarded Liberator bomber and when the flight ended he found himself back in Scotland on board H.M.C.S. Unity Boys' Club Plan Gala Picnic For The Week End

Unity Boys' Club, sponsored by Westmount Rotarians, have planned a gala picnic complete with beach, boating and track and field events for the weekend at Rogers' Beach, St. Eustache-sur-le-Lac.

Two special chartered buses will leave from Staynor Park at 8 a.m. and members are requested to come fully provided with lunches and swim suits prepared for a grand outing.

The beach is clean, sandy, and shallow water extends for about 50 yards out from shore. Boats are available for rental purposes, and other facilities are calculated to add to the completion of a thorough day's enjoyment. A dance pavilion is conveniently close to the shore line.

Track and field events are scheduled and first and second prizes will be awarded in each of ten contests slated for the picnic programme, while A. A. Hines, Westmount Rotary Club president, and Mr. McManus will be in attendance.

A full turn out of members is anticipated for this big affair of the week, and the six cameras, all available during the day, recently donated to the Club, for the use of those inclined to capture souvenirs of a pleasurable trip.

Safety precautions are urged on all, while at the same time using facilities provided to the full, at no accidents may mar what promises to be a genuinely joyous occasion for all who come along.

JOB SAFETY

One of the hazards of industrialization is the amount of lost time due to accidents. Recently the Department of Labour tried something new. It is a program of job safety training, and the first place in Canada to see it put into action is Kimberley, B.C., one of the largest lead and zinc centres in the world.

This has been done before in the States, but not in Canada. Where it has been tried, accidents decreased by as much as 75 per cent and in some industries became practically non-existent.

Cadet Squadrons Go To R.C.A.F. Kingston Camp

Approximately 35 boys of No. 56 Montreal West Air Cadet Squadron will attend camp at the R.C.A.F.-S.F.T.S. Kingston, Ont., for 10 days commencing next week. Adjutant F/O Duncan M. Jones will accompany these cadets to camp where they will be met and received by F/L B. H. Johnston, commanding officer of the squadron.

Other squadrons attending the same camp will be, No. 169 Lower Canada College, No. 21 Mount Royal and No. 69 Verdun. They will undergo intensive training yet with much thought given for their entertainment and enjoyment of the camping trip in the way of sport and recreation.

Boys' Brigade Prepare For Camp Leave Next Week

The 1st Company are counting the days until camp opens and look forward to a great time at their rendez-vous in St. Andrews East. Captain J. H. Richardson and Lieut. Alex Upham paid an official visit last Monday to the camp and were pleased to see everything in readiness, including an enlarged dining pavilion, ready to handle a much larger number than in previous years.

This summer, the 1st Company have extended an invitation to 12 boys from the 2nd Company to camp with them, under their own officers. Capt. J. Proctor will be in charge of this group.

Captain J. Howard Richardson will command the camp assisted by Lieut. Arthur Hadley, home on furlough after having been away for three years in the Navy, who will be in charge of special features including cycle trips, hikes, instruction in camp-craft. Lieut. A. G. Upham will again hold the post of registrar and treasurer while Lieut. A. G. Anderson's duties will be that of deputy Commander of the camp, taking care of special instruction groups.

It is anticipated that 36 boys will be in camp this summer and that all will have a bicycle so as to enable them to enjoy a number of trips which have been already planned. Life guards for the two weeks will be Sgt. Alan Keith, Sgt. Bob Eastwood, Corp. James Dugan and L/Cpl. Allstair Riddell. The camp will open on the 14th and close on the 28th.

The Company were happy to welcome Jimmy Patterson back on furlough and look forward to having him drop in on their camp. He looks very well and is eager to see all the boys again.

Insects don't chirp in unison, as people probably think they do, it just sounds that way. In a chorus of crickets or katydids it's every man for himself, and they are males, since it's only the males that can chirp.

On Public Speaking

"Indispensable Audience" Essential Requirement

The influence of the listeners and the effect which their presence exerts on a public speaker together with the mentality of his hearers formed the theme of an address made by Murray R. Chipman, when he addressed members of the Westmount Rotary on the subject "The Indispensable Audience."

Speaking in a humorous manner which was highlighted by many amusing anecdotes which the speaker employed in deft manner to illustrate his points, Mr. Chipman emphasized the dangers surrounding the public speaker who fails to study and analyse the particular audience which he is addressing.

Certain rules and principles must be followed at all times by with any group, the speaker said, the public speaker in dealing with the reaction of the indispensable audience is to be such as will add to the prestige of the speaker and ensure him a future invitation to address the same group at some future date.

During the course of his talk the speaker maintained a high level of humour which was well received by those present, but towards the end of his address he adopted a more serious tone, closing his address by reciting a poem entitled "The Airman's Prayer," which he had heard while attending the memorial service of a young airman who was killed on active service.

Rotarian MacAndrews thanked the guest speaker at the conclusion of his address and said, that if one judged the audience reaction by the amount of laughter heard during the address there could be no doubt concerning the speaker's successful application of the rules which produce a favourable audience reaction.

Members present at the dinner were provided with slips which called their attention to the Rotary Club Golf Championship to be played over Grovehill next Wednesday, July 11th, Rotarian Tom Davis, in a brief talk asked that all Rotarians turn out in order to make this annual event a success.

Norman Holland, of the Montreal Rotary Club, was the only visitor present, and he added an exciting note to the proceeding by offering to dispose of six brand new golf balls to any golfer who intended to play at the Annual Golf Tournament next Wednesday.

War Canoe Thrills Young Boating Party

Twenty-two Unity boys and girls were guests of Howard Radford, Commodore of the Cartierville Boating Club, Saturday afternoon. The boys were treated to a rare bit of hospitality by being initiated to the labour of paddling in a war-canoe.

The big fifteen-man shell seemed to have held no terrors for the visitors from Westmount. They appeared to wield the wooden blades well enough to be invited for another visit which eventually may mean membership and a place in a racing crew for some.

Buddy Selby, Ian Campbell and Freddie Squires were among those who were most impressive manipulating the rakish craft.

COMPETITION UNDER CONTROL

A delegation from the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada recently submitted a draft to Mr. J. O. Asselin, chairman of the City's Executive Committee, asking that the city's by-laws be amended to limit the sale of gasoline to the hours of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. week days, with closing an hour earlier on Sundays. The idea, born of the wartime experience of the vendors, is a good one. It could be extended to many other lines of business with considerable benefit to the businesses concerned, and no great hardship on the public.

Competition may be the life of trade, but too much of it carries service to the public to ridiculous extremes, with no benefit to anyone. For instance, in pre-war days in this district, the competition among shops selling magazines, tobacco, soft drinks, ice cream, and so forth forced them all to remain open far longer than necessary, to employ help that wiped out the profits, and made business a futile struggle for a livelihood. One local merchant told us the other day that in spite of the fact the government has rationed, directly and indirectly, almost everything he sells, he is doing better than in the piping days of peace. "In those days," he said, "I had to hire a clerk to take the orders over the phone, and I had six messenger boys delivering them. A customer would phone for a packet of cigarettes, and nothing else, and we'd have to deliver it. It sounds foolish, but if we refused, the trade would have gone elsewhere. We had to do it to stay in business. Today, we're all working about the same hours. We don't hire more than one messenger. People come to the store to buy their smokes and soft drinks, because that's the only way they can get them home. What we've lost by shortage of merchandise, we've more than made up by the cut in the overhead."

That story can be repeated in almost every line of local retail business. It's to the advantage of all the stores to get together and maintain the advantages the war has brought them. And the civic authorities should help by enforcing laws that would prevent competition keeping stores open more than a reasonable number of hours each day.

SOUNDS LIKE HOME

Quite a fuss was kicked up in London last week when it was discovered that thousands of names had been left off the voters lists. Among those omitted were Prime Minister Winston Churchill, leader of the Conservative Party; Sir Archibald Sinclair, leader of the Liberal Party, and Harold Laski, economist of the Labour Party. Also, thousands of armed service voters were said to have been left off. Churchill had to make a special trip back to the British metropolis to have his name added, interrupting temporarily his election campaign tour.

GRACE AND AVOIRDUPOIS

Exceptional grace seems to be a characteristic of people who are excessively overweight, writes William Feather. The big boys and girls, who carry from fifty to a hundred pounds of surplus avoirdupois, can waltz like nobody's business.

We have a theory about this. As the big people put on more and more weight they are compelled to acquire an extraordinary sense of balance; otherwise they would topple over. This hourly and daily practice in equilibrium gives them feet as light as tight-rope walkers.

Skinny people, who incidentally often have long feet, usually stand as firm as pyramids, and move like sleds on dry earth.

Remember this the next time you are invited to a party.

GEOGRAPHICAL ODDITIES

Your friends won't believe you but you will be correct if you insist that Reno, Nevada, is farther west than Los Angeles.

Reno is about a hundred miles closer to Asia than is Los Angeles.

Then after you have the attention of everybody in the room, tell them that Cleveland, Ohio, lies less than three miles west of Jacksonville, Florida.

War is the quickest cure for indifference. It hits the pocketbook.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Canadian farm leaders recently entertained a delegation of British farmers, which also visited New Zealand, Australia and the U.S.A. Western Farm Leader of Calgary stated: "Individually the members of the delegation were good mixers and proved to be excellent speakers. Their strategy was good. They knew exactly what they wanted to say and they said it well. We have, especially in Western Canada—thought we have—a high degree of organization in our farm movement. It was a shock to learn that the National Farmers' Union of England and Wales has a membership of 225,000 farmers, each of whom pays a membership fee of sixpence per acre on his entire acreage, making a budget of over $2,000,000, of which $800,000 goes to the central office and enables that office to set up a complete organization, which includes a department of Economic Study and Research. Similar organizations, although not so powerful, exist in Scotland and Northern Ireland. The three work closely together. The British people have shown themselves to be an amazingly forward looking people. With their long training in democratic institutions and their homogeneous population, it is the writer's opinion that the British people have charted their course in the post-war years more completely than any other race."

When a farmer tells city folks they cannot get along without him—he is right. Dead right. But when a farmer tells you he cannot get along without city folk—he is even more right and he is thinking.—William Trucksis in Ohio Farm News.

The writer was a California journalist and printer, 1839-1897, who devoted all his life to the struggle for economic justice. THE SEVENTH CROSS

The Church Calls to Worship

Westmount Baptist

Westmount Baptist Church is open for both services throughout the Summer. At the morning service Dr. Johnston will deliver the second in a Mid-Summer Series of Sermons entitled: "Days of Destiny." Last Sunday the subject was: "The Day Adam Hid from God." This Sunday it will be "The Day Esau Struck a Fool's Bargain," next Sunday the title will be: "The Day Joseph Landed in Pharaoh's Jail." Though the texts are old the messages are for men and women of to-day.

Dr. Johnston is preaching a companion series of Evening Sermons entitled: "The Gospel of Grace as illustrated from Great Literature." This week's address is entitled: "The Salvation of One Man's Family." The illustrative material is derived from "The Cottar's Saturday Night," by Scotland's National Bard, Robert Burns. Lovers of Burns are especially invited to this service. On Sunday evening, July 15th, the theme of the address will be: "His Mother's Sermon," illustrated from the story of the young minister in Ian McLaren's delightful volume entitled: "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush."

The week-night service of the congregation is held each Wednesday at eight o'clock and is conducted by the minister. Friends of the community and city are cordially invited.

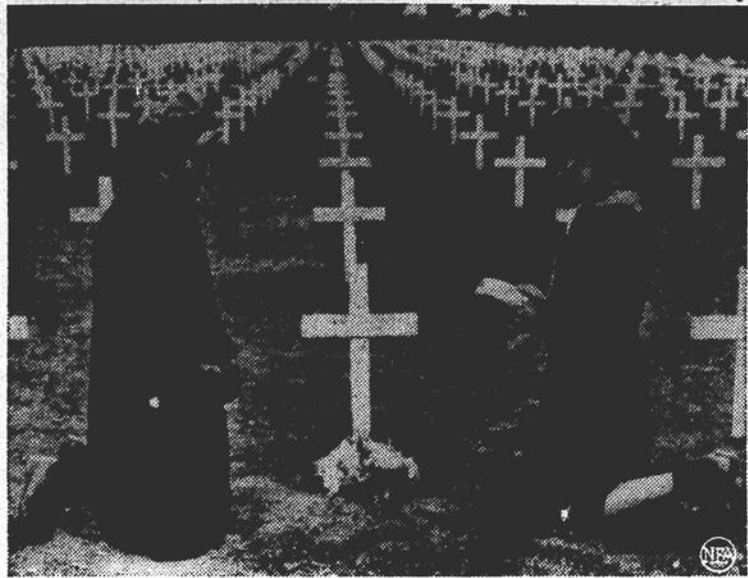

Stanley Presbyterian

The congregations of Stanley Presbyterian and Dominion-Douglas Churches are holding joint services for the summer months.

During July, the congregation of Stanley continues to join with Dominion-Douglas at Dominion-Douglas Church, Rev. J. D. Wilkie conducting the service on Sunday at 11 a.m. The subject of his sermon will be "In The Beginning God."

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL DINNER HELD BY W.V.R.C.

The fifth annual dinner of the Women's Volunteer Reserve Corps held recently was attended by approximately one hundred and fifty members, associates and past members now in the services. A summary of the year's work was read by Sergeant-Major Mary Darvall. A toast to the Corps was proposed by Private Couetes, and to the Active Forces by Corporal Duncalf. Squadron Leader Graham of the Women's Air Corps, spoke with pride as she recalled her days of training with the W.V.R.C. "From East to West," Miss Graham said, "it is a daily occurrence to meet a member of the Corps now on active service, and they always speak with warm hearts of the wonderful work done by this unit, and the benefits derived therefrom." Chief Commandant Florence Seymour Bell spoke briefly of her connections with the Corps, and said in part that she was proud of each and every one from officer to rank. "Having completed five successful years," Mrs. Bell said, "let us go forward into another year doing even greater things than already accomplished." Cadet Donald presented Mrs. Bell with a silver tray and rose bowl, on behalf of the Corps. Captain "Bobby" Rice, in charge of the entertainment, spoke warmly of Mrs. Marge Wareham, who gave selections on the piano, and Mrs. Jessie Wright, guest soloist, for their voluntary contributions to the Corps. Captain Rice moved a vote of thanks to Private Case-man and her committee in charge of decorations. Miss Sophy Elliott, founder of the Corps, being absent, sent her best wishes for continued success, and Mrs. Harold Mills, former head of the Corps, expressed sed delight at being able to attend this Corps re-union. Mrs. Mills congratulated Captain Marguerite McNiece on the splendid returns from the campaign headed by her for the Montreal Sailor's Institute. Mr. Howell and Mr. Davis were in charge of the sing-song.

The Corps Headquarters is now situated at 3545 Park Avenue, Montreal. Telephone HA. 3819.

Drill will be resumed as usual on Wednesday, July 11th, at St. Leo's School, Westmount, for all members, at 8 p.m.

MR. AND MRS. LAWRENCE J. SULLIVAN

Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion fell from a band of pale pink and white carnations and she carried a Colonial bouquet of the same flowers. PRACTICALLY YOURS is the picture destined to put moviegoers in a happy frame of mind. Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert in a scene from "Practically Yours," which opens at the Monkland United Theatre on Saturday, playing until Tuesday night.

Hayworth, Bowman, Blair Dazzle In Musical Hit

To start off the review of a picture which stars Rita Hayworth, Janet Blair and Lee Bowman by first calling attention to a newcomer to the screen, may seem to some like rank heresy. But that is what this piece is going to do. The young man's name is Marc Platt. He's Rita Hayworth's new dancing partner in Columbia Pictures' Technicolor, dramatic musical, "Tonight and Every Night," currently playing at the York Theatre.

By mentioning Mr. Platt and his dancing at the outset, we are not implying that he steals the show. He does nothing of the sort. In the first place, to steal the show from Rita, Janet and Lee would be an impossible feat at any time and particularly so in "Tonight and Every Night" when they have never been better. But when a new personality with the dancing and acting ability of Mr. Platt comes along, it's news. We predict that this fugitive from the New York stage—he was snatched from the Broadway smash hit, "Oklahoma," for this role—will become one of future film musical's big stars.

Dazzling Loveliness

In general, "Tonight and Every Night" is dazzling with loveliness, shimmering beauty, songs set to heart beats and tender romance. When they dance... your eyes start sparkling. When they sing... your pulse pounds in rhythm! When they love... your heart skips a beat! It's the first great dramatic musical... glittering with gaiety... thrilling with the tenderness of young romance... heroic purpose.

The screen play by Lesser Samuels and Abem Finkel tells of a troupe of London show people who valiantly carry on for the entertainment of the boys during the worst of the German blitz. It's taut with suspense and drama, but nevertheless has its moments of bright humor.

The musical numbers are lush and extravagant with exceptional choreography. Besides the dances of Rita Hayworth and Mark Platt, there are exciting numbers by Janet Blair and the lovely Piccadillys.

Tuneful Score

The score for these dances is lively and tuneful as composed by Jule Styne and Sammy Cahn. There are "What Does An English Girl Think Of A Yank?" "Tonight and Every Night," "The Boy I Left Behind," "Cry And You Cry Alone," "You Excite Me" and "Anywhere."

Besides the stars and the featured players, Marc Platt and Leslie Brooks, the supporting cast is tip-top. It includes Professor Lambert, Dusty Anderson, Stephen Crane, Jim Bannon, Florence Bates, Ernest Cossart, Richard Haydn, Philip Merivale, Patrick O'Moore and Adele Jergens.

Victor Saville, who has been so successful with musicals before, produced and directed. He has done a magnificent job of welding the musical numbers into the story and keeping the pace going at all times.

"Tonight and Every Night" is a must on your list of new and thrilling experiences in the theatre.

One From Two Wrecks

When two railway cars on London's underground railway suffered bomb damage resulting in one-half of each being rendered beyond repair, transport engineers joined the undamaged portions to make one serviceable car.

A calory is the amount of heat required to warm a kilogram of water one degree centigrade, or a quart of water two degrees Fahrenheit.

Lifting Music and Exquisite Dancing Feature New Film

For those who like to get away from it all—and who doesn't these days—there is the new Republic musical, "Brazil," showing at the Monkland United Theatre.

Here are lifting music by Ary Barroso, Brazil's most celebrated composer, sung by Tito Guizar and played on his inimitable guitar, romance with his co-star Virginia Bruce, and exquisite dancing by Veloz and Yolanda.

The story by Richard English is unadulterated comedy-romance, with plausibility in its action. Nowhere in it does the customer encounter war, or rationing, politics or intrigue. "Brazil" is as refreshing as a steaming draught of the native coffee—and for sugar and cream there are delightful melody and colorful sequence.

The supporting cast includes Robert Livingston, as a handsome embassy attache; Edward Everett Horton, in the jittery role of a Rio de Janeiro tourist agent, Richard Lane, an American song publisher, Fortunio Bonanova, as a Brazilian plantation owner, Roy Rogers, "King of the Cowboys," in a guest appearance, and others who do well, indeed.

Specialty numbers by Veloz and Yolanda, Roy Rogers, "King of the Cowboys," and Aurora Miranda, the Brazilian dancer, add to the general brilliance of the picture. The settings are picturesque, many of them having been filmed in colorful Rio de Janeiro.

Guizar and Miss Bruce achieve a delightful romance in the story, in which he deceives her into the belief that he is a native guide. In reality, he is the greatest music composer of the country. He guides her amusingly into a romance in which he neatly overcomes the persuasive Mr. Livingston.

Joseph Santley directed with thorough understanding. Himself a former star in musical comedy, he mixed his ingredients with skill. The result is an entertaining picture that sends you out of the theatre with the feeling that life has been, can be and will be a joyous affair.

Eastern Townships Ideal Vacation

"The Paper That Brings Results"

Within a short distance of the United States border, the Eastern Townships is a region rich in scenic beauty with roads running through steep mountain passes along the shores of gentle lakes. The rolling country around Lake Memphremagog, Brome Lake and Orford Lake, offers an excellent vacationland, where the country basks in almost daily sunshine from June until October.

Boating and swimming are at their best in this holiday area and the rugged heights of Mount Orford and Owl's Head will appeal to those who like mountain-climbing.

After the rigors of a long winter in the busy city, a boat trip up Lake Memphremagog to Newport will prove most interesting and refreshing. The bold rock-bound shores, numerous islands and shadowing peaks of lofty mountains heighten the charm of this beautiful district.

There are many walks along shaded country roads with scenic beauty prevailing on every side and the bracing air of the Townships is cooling and invigorating.

EASTERN TOWNSHIP HOLIDAYS INVITE FISHERMEN

Fishing is a favourite in rivers, streams, lakes and "small fry" also rise to the bait of holidaying in such surroundings. Here youngsters are interestedly watching the mature angler in expectancy of the catch he undoubtedly got for the waters abound with hungry game fish it is ever a delight to catch.

Laurentians Wait Vacation Throngs

With the closing of schools for the summer, hundreds of Montreal families will make for their summer homes in the oldest range of mountains in the world—the Laurentians. Long the mecca for American tourists, this famous range, with its large variety of interests for everyone, is only a few miles from the heart of Montreal, or an overnight journey by train from New York or Boston.

One of the finest touring regions in the Province of Quebec, this territory has often been referred to as the "Switzerland of Canada," because of the hundreds of sparkling lakes, streams set in green forests, and the glow of purple and crimson sunsets.

Just about 90 miles north of Montreal in the district around St. Jovite lies excellent hunting grounds. Lakes are filled with trout, and game still roams the hills. Yet there are modern hotels offering golf, riding, tennis, canoeing, swimming, hiking and other sports.

"The Victorias" Score At Park

Cycling is a beneficial as well as a recreational form of exercise . . . a pastime that the average citizen indulges in during the summer months. The mere riding of a bicycle is common enough to our local youth but "The Victorias" who made their local debut at Belmont Park as the Free Outdoor Attraction on Sunday do something more that justifies their claim to being Great Britain's Premier Cyclists. They perform tricks on their cycles and unicycles that seem simple to the on-looker but the successful execution of which is the result of years of extensive training.

Their daring and expert "trick" riding cannot be adequately described in words . . . their act has to be seen to be fully appreciated. Every trick is perfectly timed and the local cyclist is warned not to attempt same as disastrous results may be his or her only reward. "The Victorias" ride as you and I do, but suddenly a member climbs on the shoulders of a cyclist and performs feats unheard of. Then in the midst of trick riding the entire troupe climax their act with an unexpected finale by playing various instruments while still astride their cycles. "The Victorias" are quite unique in their offering. The act is presented twice all this week at 5 and 11 p.m.

Only a few more days are left for Kiddies' Days which terminate on Friday. Other picnics listed during the week include those being held on Friday (last of the Kiddies' Days) by the Washmore Frocks Co.; the Dupuis Freres Co. Ltd. and the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets Corps, Navy League.

AGAIN THEY SING THEIR WAY INTO YOUR HEARTS! Jeanette Macdonald and Nelson Eddy in the repeat hit film "MAY-TIME," which opens Saturday at the Snowdon United Theatre, playing for one week.

"Music For Millions" New Comedy With Music

An utterly delightful movie is now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre until Friday night in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Music for Millions," which stars the remarkable little Margaret O'Brien with Jimmy Durante, Jose Iturbi and June Allyson.

It's the story of a little girl, played by Margaret, who comes to the city to stay with her big sister (June Allyson) and proceeds to become part-and-parcel not only of the lives of her sister and the latter's fellow (or girl) musicians in Iturbi's band, but of Iturbi himself and of Jimmy Durante, business manager par excellence.

At about the same time that Margaret discovers that June is going to become a mother, the other girls learn that June's husband has been reported missing in action in the South Pacific. How this is kept from the mother-to-be and the unexpected developments that lead to a most happy ending makes for tender and charming cinema fare for the entire family.

Interspersed in a most logical and fitting manner is the music of the world's greatest composers, including Victor Herbert, Chopin, Handel, Grieg and Tschalkowsky.

Margaret O'Brien is, of course, a sensational little actress, and in "Music for Millions" she surpasses her earlier efforts in "Lost Angel," "The Canterville Ghost" and "Journey for Margaret."

Durante, the inimitable Schnozz, is at the height of his form, and is a real show-stopper, particularly with his "Umbrigo" number performed for a soldier audience.

June Allyson shows her versatility by playing a straight dramatic role after musical parts in "Two Girls and a Sailor" and "Best Foot Forward." And Iturbi does a fine job both as an actor and a conductor.

In addition, Marsha Hunt, Hugh Herbert and Marie Wilson contribute excellent support and Larry Adler does a turn on his famous harmonica which is superb.

"Music for Millions" was directed by Henry Koster and produced by Joseph Pasternak, one of the top movie-making teams in Hollywood. You'll love every minute of "Music for Millions," because it's that kind of a picture.

Universal's "Sudan" Is Rousing Adventure

One of the most colorful adventure romances to come out of Hollywood in a long time, blazed across the screen of the Seville United Theatre yesterday when Universal's "Sudan" bowed into town. Filmed in Technicolor, with the intriguing locale obvious in the title, "Sudan" co-stars Maria Montez, Jon Hall and Turhan Bey, and features an excellent supporting cast including Andy Devine, George Zucco, George Lynn, Robert Warwick, Harry Cording.

Based on an original screen play by Edmund L. Hartmann, this Paul Malvern production tells the story of Nalla, spirited daughter of the King of Khemmis, who is found mysteriously murdered at the picture's opening. Nalla mounts her father's throne, but the royal chamberlain plots to acquire it for himself.

First he must dispose of Nalla, however, and this he proceeds to do by engineering her sale into slavery. She makes a spectacular escape and finds her way to a desert oasis, where she is found, unconscious, by a couple of care-free vagabonds, played by Jon Hall and Andy Devine, who take her in tow.

But Nalla and her two companions are captured by the slaver and about to be executed when they are rescued by Turhan Bey, leader of a band of escaped slaves. It is Bey whom the royal chamberlain has accused of the murder of her father. It isn't until after some exciting pitched battles have been fought between the slave band, led by Bey, and the chamberlain's soldiers that the young queen learns the truth—that the chamberlain himself murdered her father, and not Bey.

"Sudan" is pure escapist entertainment. It is filled with suspenseful adventure and picturesque romance. The three principals are fine in their respective roles. Miss Montez, photogenic enough in black and white, but breathtakingly beautiful in Technicolor, is perfectly cast as the young queen, and Hall and Bey as her dashing cavaliers are just right, too. George Zucco is excellent in the role of treacherous chamberlain.

The picture, which was directed by John Rawlins, also boasts a couple of rousing songs rendered by a mixed chorus of excellent voices.

About 30,000 tons of cast iron were saved by production of approximately 1,000,000 ceramic fireplace grates in one winter.

Silicon carbide, known commercially as carborundum, was first found in nature in meteorites that had fallen from the skies.

Dodgers And Army Depot Ahead

DISTRICT DEPOT LEAD "A" SECTION BY HALF GAME

The District Depot have taken a half game lead in the "A" division of the senior section in the Westmount Municipal Softball League. The Montreal South team, after a slow start, have overtaken the fast slipping Longue Pointe nine, and while they are tied with them on the point basis, they have a game in hand. There are but two points difference in this group between the first three teams, the Navy Shore Patrol being right at the leaders' heels.

In the "B" group, the Dodgers continue to dominate with R. C. A. F. No. 11, A. I. D. and M. D. 4 in the next two spots. The clubs are now entering the stretch run for the playoffs, the first three teams in each section will qualify.

Last week's results were as follows:

- No. 11 A.I.D., 17; M.D. 4, 1.
- No. 12 E. Depot, 16; M.T. Garage, 2.
- Navy Shore Patrol, 7; Provost, 3.
- M.D. 4, 17; St. Hubert, 13.
- Provost, 8; L.P.O.D., 3.
- Dodgers, 7; Royals, 1.

R.C.A.F. No. 11 A.I.D. continues to be the surprise team of the circuit, the airmen chalked up their sixth victory when they swamped M.D. 4, their closest rivals in the "B" group, by a score of 17-1. Jerry Maguire hit two home runs, while Jerry Snyder and Maloney clouted one each.

R.C.A.F. No. 12 Equipment Depot sent M.T. Garage down into the cellar of the "B" group when they downed them 16-2, with Holk of the winners hitting the only home run. The win helped the Equipment Depot's hopes of making the playoff circle in the "A" group, they are now in fourth place.

The Provost Corps won a surprise victory over L.P.O.D. at the Barracks, McAuslan, the winner's hurler, allowed but three hits over the seven innings.

The Dodgers had one big inning at the expense of Ozzie Dallzell's Royals, and they won out 7-1 in the only scheduled tilt between the two local clubs in the league. Johnny Mahaffey banged out the only home run of the game in the last inning with one man on base. Allen Dyke fanned 11 men and allowed but four hits for the Dodgers. George Edwards' hurling for the Royals, kept the Dodgers down to eight hits.

On Monday Provost plays M.D. 4; Dodgers meet M. T. Garage, and District Depot hooks up with Royals. On Wednesday, Navy plays No. 11 A.I.D., St. Hubert meets No. 12 Depot at Westmount Park, while the Provost plays District Depot at the Barracks. On Thursday, L.P.O.D. plays Navy in a postponed game, M.T. Garage meet No. 11 A.I.D., and District Depot plays St. Hubert.

"A" GROUP
	W.	L.	Pts.
District Depot	6	3	12
Longue Pointe	6	4	12
Navy S. Patrol	5	4	10
No. 12 E. Depot	4	5	8

Wanderers Ahead In Juvenile Loop

Bob Woodburn's Wanderers and Ken Brambell's Unity Club continue to dominate the juvenile section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League. The Wanderers have won their first three games while Unity have clicked in two out of their three encounters.

The Wanderers handed Unity their only setback of the season last Friday night at Westmount Park when they downed them 23-9. Two big innings, the first and last, when they scored eight and six runs respectively, were the main reasons for the Wanderers' big margin.

In the only other game of the week, Unity downed Tornados 19-8 at Staynor. Freddie Jones hurled for the winners, while Tom Higgins took care of the mound duties for the Tornados.

Unity will be at Westmount Park again tonight to meet the Wanderers, while on Monday night Unity will play Tornados at Staynor. The third game for next week is also at Staynor, with Wanderers playing against Unity.

The standing of the section is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pts.
Unity	2	1	4
Tornados	0	4	0

The standing of the section is as follows:

"B" GROUP
	W.	L.	Pts.
Dodgers	8	1	16

The mixed doubles event now in progress has caused a lot of interest and it will continue throughout this week and next. Some evenly matched teams met in the first round and a couple of "marathon" matches took place. Charlie Houston and Denise Dufresne went three sets before they defeated George Monteith and Ruth Shaughnessy, 9-7, 5-7, and 3-6, while the team of Mr. Bissell and Miss Austin performed a like feat in downing Jack Light and Mary Van Tangeron, 2-6, 6-3 and 6-4.

GERMANS HAD OUR TIDE TABLES

The U-839, first German submarine to surrender in North American waters, contained a lot of very interesting items. One was a set of tide tables for the St. Lawrence River mouth and the Bay of Fundy. Printed on blue cardboard, the German charts were marked "Addendum to Naval Atlas 299".

Naval officials pointed to this discovery as an example of the thoroughness of German intelligence surveys, and stressed the need for continued observance of security regulations.

THE CLOSE GAMES WIN THE PENNANT

Many years ago, when Montreal had two professional baseball teams in a Class B league, that included Ottawa, Three Rivers, Quebec, Montpelier, and Rutland, with the two local teams, your chronicler spent one summer as official scorer for the loop. One Sunday afternoon we were sitting on the Royals bench at the old National A.A.A. grounds when a fast young player, Johnny Jones, who had been sent here by the Athletics, tried to score from second on a single to right field. He was caught flat-footed fifteen feet or so from the plate. He just stood there as the catcher dived at him with the ball. When he reached the bench, the Royal manager of the day, old Papa Hoffman, said to him, without as much as a turn of the head: "That'll cost you fifty dollars." Johnny exploded. "Fifty dollars! What for!" "Do I have to tell you you should have hit the dirt," asked Hoffman. "You've been playing long enough to know. That throw was high; you could have slid under it!" Jones mumbled something about not wanting to ruin his future by sliding over a lot of pebbles, and then lapsed into silence.

Thereupon Hoffman, who was a big league star when Jim Jefferies ruled the fistic world, turned to your chronicler and delivered himself of a lecture on close decisions, interspersed with directions to the players and some hollering at the umpires.

"That kind of playing," he said, indicating Jones' failure to slide, "might cost us this game. Such indifference in a close game should disqualify us from serious consideration in the pennant race. Pennants are won by teams that manage to win most of the close games. The team that takes advantage of every break, that presses every advantage, will be found at the end of the season to have won most of the close games. By stretching, stealing and sliding they get men around the bases, even in those games when they can't hit the opposing pitchers. A game won by a score of three to two counts just as much as a game won by twenty-three to two."

Sports For All Ages

Some years ago, Fred B. Barton wrote a book entitled "It's Fun to Keep Fit," in which he listed scores of healthful games for folks of all ages. In looking over the index, we realized that we had forgotten that many of the games existed although at one time or another we had played most of them. Here are some of the sports listed. Perhaps you may get an idea or two from them. If you're tired of golf, for example.

Archery, badminton, baseball, basketball, cycling, billiards, boxing, bowling, canoeing, casting, cricket, croquet, curling, darts, deck tennis, diving, fishing, handball, horseback riding, horseshoe pitching, skating, lawn bowling, medicine ball, outdoor checkers, ping-pong, pool, quoits, roller skating, roque, rowing, shooting, shuffleboard, skeet, skiing, skittles, sledding, soccer, softball, squash, sun-bathing, swimming, tennis, volleyball, walking.

Automobiles and other gasoline engines in Brazil are under government decree to burn fuel containing 10 per cent alcohol.

Four thousand pounds of aluminum are used in the manufacture of one fighter plane.

Retail food prices increased 400 per cent in Chungking, China's capital, in 1940.

ROYALS WIN TWO IN SOCCER DEBUT

Two games were played in the Pee Wee section of the Westmount Municipal Soccer League this week. Mike Barnard's Royals got off to a flying start when they won their first two games, defeating "Chummie" Carter's Staynor Rovers 9-1 in the first game and Andy Cote's Aces 4-0 in the other.

The fourth team in the section, John Swaine's Skulls were not scheduled to play but got into action on Wednesday night. All four teams will see action tonight at Westmount Park when a doubleheader will be played. Royals will play Skulls in one game while Staynor Rovers and Aces will hook up in the other tilt.

The Royals got off to an early lead in their game with the Rovers, they tallied four goals in the first half with Freddie Hoffman bagging two and Mike Barnard and George Gough, one apiece. The second half was almost a repetition with Hoffman getting three more to run his total to five for the game. Other scorers in the second half were George Gough and Mike Barnard.

Stanley North saved the Rovers from a shutout when he banged in one late in the last half of the game.

The Royals also got an early lead in their 4-0 win over Aces. Ron Raphael, Jerry Pecknold and Billy McCoubrey scored first half goals while Raphael added another in the last half.

The following is partial schedule of the Pee Wee section:

- Fri., July 6—Skulls vs Royals; Royals vs Aces.
- Mon., July 9—Aces vs Skulls.
- Tues., July 10—Aces vs Royals.
- Wed., July 11—Rovers vs Skulls.
- Fri., July 13—Royals vs Rovers vs Aces.
- Mon., July 16—Rovers vs Royals.
- Tues., July 17—Royals vs Skulls.

GALILEO DEMONSTRATES

Galileo (1564-1642) invented an improved telescope, carried on research in magnetism and gravitation, discovered the principle of the pendulum. Contrary to previous teaching, he maintained that bodies of different weights fall with the same velocity.

When challenged to prove this theory, he dropped a tea-pound shot and a one-pound shot from the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. To the amazement of the University students and faculty gathered to see the experiment, both weights reached the ground at the same time.

Look for a big basketball revival in Westmount this coming season with Doug Alexander, the energetic young man who covers first base for Ozzie Dalzell's Royals in the Westmount Senior Municipal League, doing the reviving, via the Westmount Y.

Doug, despite one bum leg, is quite an athlete. Last season he coached the local Y's intermediate entry in the inter-Y.M.C.A. basketball league to a championship. Next year he plans to put the same squad in the juvenile section of the Montreal Basketball League, which is playing in pretty high company.

But Doug thinks that as long as he can hold on to such stars as Jack Dudley and Pete Siemers, who spark-plugged his quintet to many a victory this past season, he'll have little to fear.

The genial first-sacker of Les Royaux realizes, though, that if Westmount is ever going to develop into a really first class basketball centre, youngsters must have basketball fundamentals taught to them long before they reach the intermediate age group.

So, Douglas is planning to start a house league at the Y for the 15 and under group. The only catch is that all those who want to take part in the local revival of the fine game of basketball must become members of the Y. Which should make Bill Kinrade, the local boys' work secretary, very happy.

Regardless of who is behind the movement, however, this reporter is overjoyed to see the possibility that basketball may climb to its rightful place in this garden suburb. The game has paled in the magnificence of hockey and football long enough. We hope that this is the beginning of a new regime for the bounce ball boys. And the girls.

We have heard umpires referred to by some pretty choice epithets but the best in a long time issued from the mouth of an irate third baseman in the Westmount Senior Municipal League last week. The custodian of the hot corner, as well as the man behind the plate to whom his remarks were directed,

Exhibition Games Wanted By Girls

Hopes are held out that a girls' softball game will be played at Westmount Park this Tuesday evening. Most of the players who participated on last year's club are still available and although they are not anxious to play in any sort of serious competition, they would like to play in a couple of exhibition encounters.

With this in mind, angles are out to book an exhibition game for Tuesday. Players still available for the local club are Peggy Pope, Mary Van Tangeron, Gladys Morgan, Marg Armstrong, Marg Forrest, Beryl Watier and these together with a few of the younger players should be the nucleus of a fairly good team.

An invitation was extended to the local group to enter the City and District League but the players were not in favour of participating in organized ball again as most of the girls would be away at some time or other during the summer months due to holidays and the shortages at these times generally breaks up the team.

ted, wish to remain anonymous. "Where's your dog? All blind men have dogs," was the vocalizing effort of the anonymous ball player.

Instructional Railway Official Leaves Railway

After thirty years of instructional work with the Canadian National Railways, during which time he set up a complete apprentice training system, which assisted 6,000 boys to become skilled railway tradesmen, provided a supply of well-trained officers for the company mechanical department, and also evolved a master pattern that has been copied by railway experts from Britain, United States, India, Australia, Brazil and South Africa, A. H. Williams, 4971 Dornal Avenue, General Supervisor of apprentice training, has retired on pension.

He came to Montreal in 1930, and the following year re-organized the training plan and set up a uniform system to cover eleven trades. He travelled 20,000 miles a year in the course of his duties, maintained records of every individual apprentice and kept up personal contact with all of them. "They're human beings," he says; "their temperaments are all different and they must be treated individually." To many of them he became a second father, even visiting their homes to help them solve their personal problems.

On the eve of his retirement, fellow officers and employees of the C.N.R. gathered to bid him farewell. Representing E. R. Battley, chief of motive power and car equipment, F. Williams, chief mechanical engineer, presented him with a gladstone bag and gave a handbag to Mrs. Williams. Apprentices and instructors also honored them at a meeting in the apprentice classrooms in Point St. Charles. On that occasion, Mr. Williams unveiled honor rolls carrying the names of 365 Montreal apprentices who had enlisted, all of whom had lost their lives.

Appointed Supervisor Of Apprentice Training

Montreal, July 3.—George Alexander Howard has been appointed general supervisor of apprentice training, Canadian National Railways, it was announced today by E. R. Battley, superintendent of motive power and car equipment. He succeeds A. H. Williams, retired on pension after more than 38 years' service. Mr. Howard was born in England, October 30, 1903, and came to Canada in 1914. He began his apprenticeship in the C.N.R. Fort Rouge shops, Winnipeg, in 1920, and was a machinist from 1926 to 1930. At the beginning of the following year, he was appointed apprentice instructor at Fort Rouge, transferring to Transcona in 1936. He was promoted to supervisor of apprentices, Western Region, in 1939 and 1943 was assigned to organize safety work on the Western Region as supervisor, accident prevention. Mr. Howard has a wide knowledge of vocational and apprenticeship training and has addressed such bodies as the local way the R.M.R. was the only real representative of Montreal in the Pacific force as this district would be its recruiting area. While the Canadian Grenadier Guards also had been chosen as the armored unit, it would draw on all Canada for its personnel.

General Price said that both he and Colonel McKenna (Lieut.-Col. J. E. McKenna, M.C., also a former commanding officer) had been able to see the unit in the field in Europe, and, thanks to Colonel Lowe, it had maintained a fine regimental spirit. Its association with the Regina Rifles, he hoped, would be perpetuated in some form, as the Western unit, he felt, was one of the very finest of the Third Division.

It was Henry Morgan's fate to be drawn bodily into a whirlpool of political undercurrents that swirled about the island of Martinique because of his love for a woman. Played by Humphrey Bogart, Morgan is the powerful leading character in Warner Bros.' latest adventure romance, "To Have and Have Not," a Howard Hawks production, which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night.

Starring Humphrey Bogart, the cast features unusual characterizations by newcomer Lauren Bacall, Walter Brennan, Hoagy (Stardust) Carmichael, Dan Seymour, Sheldon Leonard and Dolores Moran. "To Have and Have Not" also serves to introduce a new blues number by Carmichael and Mercer entitled "How Little We Know."

The story is concerned with a dangerous mission Henry Morgan is forced to undertake. Skipper of a powerboat, Morgan, for the love of a woman, runs the dragnet thrown around the island of Martinique. Involved in local politics because of this, Morgan's solution makes for a thrilling climax.

The film was prepared for the screen by Jules Furthman and William Faulkner from a novel by Ernest Hemingway. The production was directed by Howard Hawks.

When you ask for a loan at the B of M...

you do not ask a FAVOUR

WHEN the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour...she is buying goods for which she will pay on delivery... purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

The grocer deals in groceries...the banker deals in credit. And as the making of loans is one of the principal ways by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods...that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit both to you and to his institution.
