Two die in Sherbrooke fire

SHERBROOKE (BP) — Two persons died and three other families were left homeless after an early morning blaze ripped through two old buildings located on and near the corner of King St. West and Cathedrale Tuesday.

The fire, which was reported at 4:35 a.m. yesterday, razed the buildings at 207 and 217 King West, causing an undetermined amount of damage. It was the worst fire to date this year. Four businesses located on the first floors of the two structures suffered heavy water and smoke, while the residences above were completely destroyed.

First reports yesterday gave no fatalities, the fire department officials believing that all occupants escaped to safety before the fire became too advanced, but yesterday afternoon, searchers turned up two bodies on the second floor of 217 King West.

Names of the dead were given as Mrs. Augustine Waite, 89, and her son Leopold, 50, though police officials declined to confirm the report.

People left homeless on the 207 King West block include Mrs. Lorraine Taillon and her three children, Miss Germaine Berthiaume and Miss Raymonde Lemeilleur.

The four businesses without residence today are O. Mailhot Draperies at 207 King West, Roy the Apothecary at 209, La Cellule Boutique at 219 and O'Malley Grocery Store at 221 King West.

THREE ALARMS GIVEN
 A total of 60 firefighters brought the three-alarm blaze under control by 9 a.m., almost five hours after it started. Nine trucks from stations one, four and five responded to the scene, and morning rush-hour traffic was snarled going up King West. Sections of Cathedrale and Gillespie streets were closed during that time also.

Six persons were sent to hospital resulting from the blaze. Mrs. Taillon and her three children and two firemen, Robert Fredette and Guy Boisvert, were taken to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, mostly for smoke inhalation and were later released.

Captain Provost of the Sherbrooke brigade said the fire began between the two old structures and climbed the wall of 217 King West, the building where the dead were discovered, until it reached the roof. From there the flames jumped from one roof to the other and burned their way down from the third storey to the second, where it was halted by firefighters.

No damage was reported to the building just west of the two which burned, containing the Bowlorium and Gilles Boisvert Furniture. Firemen stayed on the scene for several hours, until late yesterday afternoon, to ensure that smoldering materials reignited.

A fire department spokesman said early yesterday afternoon that they were lucky to get everybody out of the buildings safely, especially at that time of morning. Contact with the spokesman this morning could not be made, but the happy thought of only material loss by the firemen was probably marred by the discovery yesterday of the two bodies. An inevitable investigation will likely be stepped up to determine the actual cause of the worst fire in 1975.

Area closed
 SHERBROOKE (RH) — Due to the fire yesterday morning on King St. W., repair work on King and Rand St. has been postponed until today, according to city officials.

Providing it doesn't rain, the area will be closed to traffic between 5 a.m. and 12 noon. If rain occurs, the work will be postponed until next Tuesday.

SPECTATORS VIEW SIGHT OF King St. West fire yesterday morning in which no persons were killed, initial reports said. Late yesterday afternoon, however, searchers turned up two bodies of an elderly lady and her son in the building at the right, on the second floor.

LOOKING FOR CLUES as to what started yesterday's fire which took two lives, fire department Inspector Paul Bourque checks out area where blaze may have started at rear of 217 King West. A small area at the very back of the building (right) was untouched by flames, while, from the barrels forward to the street, the structure was razed. (Record photos by Bruce Porter)

Angolan refugees

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa (AP) — A convoy of about 500 vehicles carrying an estimated 2,000 refugees from strife-torn Angola arrived at the South-West African border Tuesday, officials announced.

Jannie de Wet, commissioner general for indigenous people in the South African-governed territory, said the refugees will be sent to Grootfontein, about 200 miles south of the border, where transit refugee camps will be set up as soon as possible.

The refugees are part of Angola's 300,000 remaining white citizens, most of whom are trying to flee the Portuguese colony because of the armed struggle among black liberation groups for political supremacy before the country gains independence on Nov. 11.

De Wet said he has received word that another convoy of 1,500 vehicles carrying an estimated 6,000 refugees, which had been stranded at Sa da Bandeira, started moving Tuesday towards South-West Africa.

Violence ends parade

BELFAST (Reuter) — A major Protestant parade in Londonderry on Tuesday ended in three hours of fighting between troops and rock-throwing Roman Catholic youths.

The march by the Protestant organization known as the Apprentice Boys of Derry passed through the city with only two minor incidents. But, as it ended, about 50 youths between 10 and 15 years old attacked the marchers.

Troops fired rubber bullets and tear-gas in reply. An army spokesman described the clash as "minor trouble" but extra army units and armored cars were being called into action two hours after the incident began.

In Belfast, army bomb experts defused a 300-pound bomb in a truck behind a courthouse. It was one of the largest bombs found in Belfast in recent months.

Rioters battled in the streets of Belfast on Monday night for the third night in a row.

The Apprentice Boys parade through Londonderry every Aug. 12 to mark the day in 1698 when 13 apprentices slammed shut the city gates in the face of invading Catholic forces.

Armed forces split

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Isabel Peron faced a fresh challenge today as reliable military sources reported a split in the armed forces over her appointment of an army colonel to the key interior ministry.

The sources said late Tuesday some armed forces leaders are concerned that the appointment of Col. Vicente Damasco might give the appearance of military interference with the executive branch.

Military spokesmen said army commander Gen. Alberto Numa Laplane has convened a meeting of top-level army chiefs for Thursday to review the "general situation" in the country. Sources said Damasco's appointment would be high on the agenda, and there may be a move to press for Damasco's retirement from the army. Sources also said several top navy commanders held a meeting late Tuesday to discuss the situation in view of the cabinet reshuffle. No details were given.

Air force commander Hector Fautario, in a speech to Mrs. Peron, called for order to dispel "an atmosphere of fear and anarchy." He added that "the air force does not lend itself to selfish or partisan aspirations... and does not incur in areas outside of its limits."

Mrs. Peron reshuffled her cabinet Monday after the military, labor and business demanded a stronger administration to cope with Argentina's economic and political crisis. The country is plagued with 177.3 per cent

Bronfman kidnapping ransom reported to be $4.5 million

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (AP) — Kidnappers of whisky heir Samuel Bronfman II are reported to have demanded a $4.5-million ransom and have warned his family that he is buried with a 10-day supply of air and water.

Bilingual traffic control problem to go to cabinet

OTTAWA (CP) — Transport Minister Jean Marchand says he will take the explosive issue of bilingual air traffic control to the cabinet for a decision by late September—before a threatened pilots' walkout on Oct. 17.

The bilingual traffic control program in Quebec is now a national problem, Mr. Marchand said in a telephone interview from his Quebec City home Tuesday. He said he hopes to meet with airline pilots' representatives to discuss the 24-hour work stoppage they have planned if the bilingual experiment is continued.

The pilots' ultimatum "is their right," he said. "They are concerned and I understand why they are concerned."

The Canadian Airline Pilots Association said in a Vancouver announcement last week that pilots would halt operations Oct. 17 if the bilingual experiment at five Quebec airports is not stopped.

Under the experiment, pilots are allowed to use French as well as English for visual flight rule operations near the Quebec airports of St. Jean, Sept-Iles, Baie Comeau, St. Honore and Quebec City. Visual flight rules apply generally to small aircraft, not commercial passenger airplanes.

A department study proposed extending this program to include Val d'Or and suggested the inclusion of the Montreal-area airport of St. Hubert for a one-year trial period.

Mr. Marchand announced the bilingualism experiment in June, 1974, after pressure from some Quebec controllers and pilots who wanted French as a language of aviation in the province.

ENGLISH AT MONTREAL
 But the study said English should be the sole language at Montreal International Airport.

Mr. Marchand agreed that bilingualism should not be introduced in traffic control at Montreal because of the heavy international traffic. English is the language used in most countries for international flights. Local languages are used for domestic operations with English available on request.

If proposals being studied by the transport minister are carried out, the association said, the pilots "will cease all flight operations until such measures are withdrawn."

Lawyers grapple with increasing crime rate

The New York Daily News quoted sources close to the case as reporting that the letter said young Bronfman,

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian and U.S. lawyers grappled with the problem of increasing crime at a freewheeling "town hall forum on criminal justice," organized Tuesday by the American Bar Association's (ABA) criminal justice section.

Samuel Dash, former chief counsel to the U.S. Senate select committee on Watergate, fired the opening shot when he defended plea-bargaining, or plea negotiation as he preferred to call it, as a necessary evil. Admitting that evidence taken from co-conspirators could be suspect, Mr. Dash said it was still an essential instrument in legal proceedings.

Guidelines are needed, he said, but it would be foolish to deprive law enforcement agencies of useful "prosecuting strategies."

Judge Charles Richey of the Washington, D.C., District Court, estimated that crime costs the U.S. an "astronomical" $30 billion a year.

But he opposed mandatory minimum sentences as a deterrent, saying more thought should be given to what happens to an offender after he leaves prison.

The present system did little more than push former prisoners back into crime, he added.

Canada was represented by Gregory Brodsky of Winnipeg, chairman of the Canadian Bar Association's criminal law section, who presented the case for abridging some of the Crown's pre-trial discretionary powers.

Lack of English building specifications disputed

OTTAWA (CP) — The office of the commissioner of official languages is investigating a complaint from an English-speaking builder who says he was refused English-language building specifications for his federal government contract in Quebec.

Trevor Evans, president of Poll Trol Ltd., of nearby Lucerne, Que. said Monday he stands to lose thousands of dollars on the $162,000 contract, which was taken away from his company because work was not completed by the Dec. 30 contract deadline.

He said costs had ballooned to $240,000 and because the contract was awarded to another company to finish he now must make up the difference out of his own pocket.

The job, awarded by the department of Indian affairs in Oct. 1974, involved constructing an entrance kiosk and service building at La Mauricie National Park at Shawinigan, Que., 120 miles north of Montreal.

Mr. Evans said his repeated efforts to get the building specifications in English and other language problems caused the delay which led to his loss of the contract.

The contract he signed last October was in English. "I signed that paper to undertake the work but from that point on everything was in French."

Mr. Evans says he will have to close his company and sell his $135,000 house in Lucerne, across the river from Ottawa, to pay the costs of the contract foul-up.

A spokesman for the office of the commissioner of official languages said his office cannot comment on the case because all their investigations are private.

Bodies found of missing children

SASKATOON (CP) — A man in his mid-20s was arrested Tuesday after leading police to the bodies of four children whose disappearance earlier this summer sparked a nationwide manhunt.

Chief Kettles said one location was south of the city and the other northeast of Sutherland, the working-class district of Saskatoon where the Scott and Turner children lived and were last seen.

The man was to appear in court today on charges of murder punishable by life imprisonment. The bodies were found in two rural locations near the city.

B. D. Cranfield, father of 12-year-old Dahrylne, reacted bitterly to the news of his daughter's death. He said police told him the man arrested had spent time in jail before.

"There is no question these are the bodies of the youngsters," Police Chief James Kettles told a news conference early today.

"The way the system is now, they'll probably let him out again," he said.

He said the parents had positively identified the bodies as those of Dahrylne Cranfield, 12, and Robert Grubestic, 9, who both disappeared June 15, and Samantha Turner, 8, and Cathy Scott, 7, both missing since July 26.

Mr. Cranfield said he wanted to offer his "congratulations" to Prime Minister Trudeau, Solicitor-General Warren Allmand and Justice Minister Otto Lang, who he said have "championed criminals for so long."

He praised the effort made by police pursuing the case.

SECURITY TIGHT
 This morning's court appearance was expected to involve some of the tightest police security in the city's history.

NAME NOT RELEASED
 He said the man, whose name was not released, was taken into custody at about noon Tuesday by city police and RCMP investigators acting on a tip. After questioning, he led police to the bodies.

Police have barred the public from the proceedings and have said only a limited number of reporters will be admitted on a first-come, first-served basis.

TORONTO (CP) — Golds and western oils recorded their largest gains in more than a month amid a strong advance on the Toronto stock market Tuesday. Trading remained light. Western oils rose 3.79 to 187.62, golds 10.71 to 368.41, industrials 7.9 to 187.70 and base metals .01 to 77.80. Volume increased to 1.43 million shares valued at $14.15 million from 1.10 million and $8.68 million Monday.

Trading resumed in Canada Machinery at the opening following a two-session halt pending an announcement. The company said its controlling shareholders have agreed to sell their holdings to Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Ltd. Canada Machinery last traded Dec. 31, 1971 at $29. Ma-chinery last traded Dec. 31, 1971 at $29. Twelve of the 16 industrial sub-groups recorded gains and four declined. Banks, general manufacturing and pipeline shares posted the largest advances.

Carma Developers, which has declared a 15-cent dividend, payable Oct. 15 gained 3/4 to $11, its highest price this year. A previous dividend of 10 cents was paid last October. Aquitaine of Canada was up 1 to $22, Pacific Pete 7/8 to $22 3/4, General Motors 7/8 to $52 1/4, Canadian Imperial Bank 3/4 to $26 1/2 and Hamilton Trust 3/4 to $11 3/4. ## New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market gained moderately Tuesday on the strength of some early buying inspired by the United States government's request for a moratorium on grain sales to the Soviet Union. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up about 10 points at its mid-session peak, hung on to post a 4.78 advance at 828.54.

prices in the U.S. But they noted that the market still seemed to be struggling against inflation worries and uneasiness over the continued rise of interest rates. A quarter-point increase in the prime lending rate to 7 3/4 per cent continued to work its way through the banking industry during the day, virtually completing its spread only two business days after it was initiated by New York's First National City Bank. Oil issues were notably strong following the federal Appeals Court ruling Monday that President Ford did not have the authority to impose the $2-a-barrel tariff now in effect on imported oil. Exxon picked up 1 1/2 to $87 1/2; Getty 4 3/4 to $191; Mobil 1/2 to $44 3/4; Atlantic Richfield 3 to $105 3/4; and Standard Oil of California 3/4 to $30 3/4. In the oil drilling and service group, J. Ray McDermott rose 2 to $48 3/4 on sharply higher quarterly earnings. Hughes Tool, which said its most recent weekly survey showed a sharp pickup in oil and gas drilling activity, was up a point at $96 1/2. Virginia Electric and Power, the NYSE volume leader, dipped 1/4 to $12 3/4. A 174,900-share block changed hands at $12 1/4. Dillon Cos. rose 1 1/2 to $39. The company reported higher quarterly earnings, announced a 3-for-2 stock split and raised its cash dividend. A dividend increase from 25 to 40 cents a share quarterly lifted A. E. Staley Manufacturing 2 1/4 to $59 1/4. Austral Oil topped the active list on the American Stock Exchange, up 1/4 to $17 1/2. The Amex market value index showed a .70 gain at 86.49. In the over-the-counter market, the NASDAQ composite index edged up .15 to 79.60. Among Canadian issues on the New York stock exchange, Dome Mines was up 1 1/4 to $45 1/2, Campbell Red Lake 1/2 to $26 1/2, Canadian Pacific 3/4 to $14 1/4 and Massey-Ferguson 1/4 to $15 1/4. ## World-wide

Shipping recession continues

LONDON (AFP) — The world wide recession in the shipbuilding industry deepened in the second quarter of this year, with Brazil, Italy, Taiwan and Poland the only countries to show an improvement over the previous quarter. The latest figures from Lloyd's Register of Ship's show that the world order book shrank in the second quarter by a further 10 per cent—11,212,130 tons gross—to 102.14 million tons, the lowest since March, 1973, and 31.3 million tons below the record attained in the January-March quarter of 1974. The basis of comparison is with the previous quarter.

Japan, still by far the world's biggest ship-builder, also suffered the largest reduction in its order book, which was cut by 6.09 million tons, or 12.5 per cent, to 42.54 million tons. In fact during the last nine months, Japan's total has decreased by more than 15 million tons, mostly tanker tonnage, although a number of contracts have been rescheduled. After having risen by 25 per cent in the previous quarter, orders commenced in Japan fell to 13.54 million tons, or down 3.4 per cent. Orders not commenced were also down, at 29 million tons against 34.58 million tons previously. Sweden still held second place with a total order book of 7.18 million tons—down 1.12 million or 13.5 per cent—followed as in the previous quarter by West Germany with 6.09 million tons—down 1.04 million or 14.5 per cent. Britain with 5.39 million tons—down 515,261 tons or 8.7 per cent—regained fourth position from Spain who, having jumped from sixth position the last quarter, fell back to fifth position with 5.30 million tons—down 654,710 tons or 10.9 per cent. France, down to sixth from fourth position in the previous quarter, fell a further place with 5.16 million tons on order—down 535,457 tons or 9.4 per cent—changing positions with the United States, whose order book fell modestly to 5.26 million tons—down 116,870 tons or two per cent.

After having jumped three places in the previous quarter, Brazil remained in eighth position despite a further increase in its book to 3.48 million tons—up 137,527 tons or four per cent—ahead of Italy with 3.01 million tons—up 773 tons—and Denmark with 2.80 million tons—down 194,493 tons or 6.5 per cent. South Korea took 11th place with 1.91 million tons—down 81,210 tons or four per cent—changing positions with Norway whose book was substantially down to 1.79 million tons—down 479,993 tons or 21 per cent. The reduction in oil-tanker orders was almost entirely responsible for the shrinkage of outstanding contracts as oil tanker rates remain weak and laid-up tonnage has expanded even further. DOWN 18.6 PER CENT In all, the tanker "book" drop by 10.67 million tons— or 13.7 per cent—to 67.29 million tons, with orders not commenced reduced by 10.08 million tons—18.6 per cent—to 43.97 million tons. The bulk carrier order book increased by 52,317 tons—0.3 per cent—to 18.23 million tons, but the general cargo order fell by 149,568 tons—1.9 per cent—to 7.72 million tons.

Although the tonnage of ships commenced was sharply down by 25 per cent to 21.03 million tons—61.3 per cent of the total world tonnage under construction. Liberia, the maritime country of the "flag of convenience," remained the biggest customer, taking 8.8 million tons, followed by Norway—2.81 million tons—and Britain—1.71 million tons. The world's leading flags making the largest additions to their existing fleets are Liberia—8.8 million tons; Norway—3.42 million; Britain—3.15 million; Japan—2.56 million; and Italy—2.36 million tons.

However, the world's shipyards have maintained a high level of activity with 34.28 million tons gross (2,522) ships under construction during the quarter, or 835,858 tons gross less than the record registered in the previous three months, but the second-highest figure recorded. Meanwhile, the number of tanker orders actually cancelled has gathered momentum during the quarter, but a large number of contracts still are pending renegotiation for alternative tonnage, say Lloyd's.

Altogether there were 67.86 million tons of shipping not commenced, representing a decrease of 10.38 million tons, or 13 per cent against the previous quarter.

Progress in shipyards during the quarter has generally been good. The number of large ships of more than 100,000 tons on order continued to drop, and at 300 was 57 less than three months earlier.

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported Thursday that earnings in the second quarter were off 36 per cent from a year ago to $107 million. It was the firm's poorest financial showing for the quarter since the recession year of 1958. However, Ford profits—$1.15 a share—were better than expected by financial analysts.

Ford is the third automaker this week to report an improvement over first-quarter operating results. In the first quarter of this year the second largest U.S. automaker lost $11 million. General Motors earned $333 million in the second quarter, up nine per cent over a year ago and five times its first-quarter profits. Chrysler Corp. lost $58.7 million in the quarter, compared with a record $94 million loss in the initial period.

In the first quarter, the U.S. industry suffered its first overall loss since the depression of the 1930s. AMC CONFIDENT Including Chrysler's loss, the Big Three makers have total second-quarter earnings of $381 million. American Motors Corp. said it will show a profit when it releases results next week. Industry earnings still would be the lowest for a spring period since 1958, however. Separately Thursday, Chrysler's directors voted to omit the firm's third-quarter dividend. It is the third consecutive time the company has omitted a payment. Chrysler first omitted its 35-cent dividend in the January-March quarter by the first such action by Chrysler since the 1930s. Ford chairman Henry Ford said the company lost an average $250 on each car and truck it sold in the United States during the first six months of the year

Ford has indicated that it might raise prices on 1976 models by up to six per cent or about $335 a unit. Kenneth Merrill, Ford comptroller of North American operations, said despite the heavy losses on U.S. car and truck sales, Ford made money when all domestic operations were included. He said two-thirds of the firm's second-quarter profits came from outside North America.

Canadian Pacific net earnings are reported down

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Pacific Ltd. reported Monday net earnings of $67.5 million or 92 cents a share for the first six months of 1975, compared with $86.7 million or $1.19 a share in the corresponding period last year. The company said increased income from Canadian Pacific Investments Ltd. (CPI) was more than offset by reduced earnings of the transportation operations. Earnings for the first half of 1974 included an extraordinary gain of $4.3 million. There were no extraordinary items in 1975. The company's share of CPI's income was $63.4 million, an increase of $7.2 million over the first half of 1974.

This reflected improved results from petroleum, coal mining, newsprint, pulp, and real estate operations as well as the acquisition of control of the Algoma Steel Corp. Ltd. in July of last year.

Net income of CP Rail was $1.5 million, compared with $14.1 million the first half of 1974. Revenues were up by 11 per cent, but expenses rose by 14 per cent.

Railway freight revenue was up, mainly because of increased freight rates. The loss on CP Air's operations in the first half amounted to $6.7 million, $5.2 million more than in the first six months of 1974.

Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd. had a loss of $1 million in the first six months, compared with a profit of $3 million during the first half of 1974. Lengthy strikes at ports in the United Kingdom and Canada added to difficulties created by rising costs and the recession in trade.

Up from the Bottom

The world's richest economy and Canada's largest foreign customer has touched the bottom of its deep recession and begun its recovery. The latest official figures show that production in the United States is rising after a long pause, the annual inflation rate has dropped from last year's peak of 13 per cent to about 5 per cent and a heavy trade deficit has turned into a record surplus of $5.5 billion in the first half of the year.

While the U.S. economy is moving upward as the government had hoped and planned, and the prospects for the rest of the year are reassuring, the next danger point is now in sight. For recovery has been achieved at the cost of stimulating fiscal policies that could produce a new inflationary explosion and, after it, another recession. This risk was clearly visible in an unexpected and perhaps temporary retail price rise of .8 per cent in June, an annual rate of almost 10 per cent. But if President Ford's warning against too much stimulation is thus confirmed, his immediate problem is more political than economic.

A Democratic Congress, organized labor and even Prime Minister Wilson of Britain are urging the president to spend more money, increase the already huge deficit and speed up the recovery regardless of later consequences. As the 1976 presidential election campaign gets fully under way these pressures will intensify and Mr. Ford will need all his newly-won public confidence to resist them.

For the United States the great unanswered question is whether recovery can be maintained as more than a short breathing spell between two inflations and two recessions. No nation in the Western world, least of all Canada, will escape the answer to that question in the next year or so. The answer, unfortunately, does not rest with the United States alone. If the OPEC cartel carries out its threat and sharply raises prices in the autumn, despite a current oil surplus, not only would the higher cost of fuel raise all American production costs but it could retard, even abort, the recovery.

It is against this changing context in the United States that the Canadian government must consider its own policies and the disparity between the neighboring nation's economic and political circumstances is striking, not to say alarming.

While the American economy is moving upward, with relatively minor inflation, so far, (and too much unemployment) the Canadian economy is stagnant with an annual inflation rate of 18 per cent in June, the last month of record. While the American labor unions have greatly moderated their wage demands the Canadian unions have pushed theirs to a record level. While the United States is free of major strikes, at least for the time being, Canada is riddled with industrial disputes and lost production.

Still more serious is the loss of competitive strength when it is most needed in the world market as all production costs continue to rise and delay a business upturn.

Says welfare a right, not privilege

OTTAWA (CP) — Welfare is supposed to be a right, not a privilege, say seven local women who collectively have prepared a pamphlet to help Ottawa women on welfare learn about their rights. "We found it incredibly difficult to find out information about just what women on welfare are entitled to," said Helen Levine, a professor of social work at Carleton University. "Until we gave our jobs titles, which gave our questions some status, we constantly got the run-around. It gave us just a taste of the frustrations a woman on welfare must feel."

In the introduction to their pamphlet, called WoW for Women on Welfare, Levine, Lee McDavitt, Barbara Morrison, Dorothy Rusoff and Ruth Soughton—make it clear they are not unbiased. FEAR CUT-OFF "Women on welfare live in fear of having their cheques cut off. Welfare is supposed to be a right, not a privilege. It is supposed to be based on financial need, not how you run your life." "Sure, this pamphlet has feminist leanings, but that is because women on welfare are harassed," said Lee McDavitt, who has been on welfare. "We're trying to encourage women to work within the system to get as much from it as they can. We want them to feel they are not alone."

The liberally illustrated, bilingual pamphlet is written in a deliberately chatty tone. "We tried to be clear and direct and sift out all the jargon," said Mrs. Levine. "Jargon is used by professionals to make themselves feel more important." "Granted, sometimes the pamphlet gets a little complicated, but the legislation is complicated." The biggest bone of contention for the writers is the problem of "the man in the house."

STANDARD STRICT They say society is inflicting a moral standard on women receiving welfare. "What the law says is, if you sleep with him it is his responsibility to support you and you lose your welfare cheque." "It boils down to a straight swap—sex for economic support—and it denies the existence of women as individuals," said Mrs. Levine. All seven women agreed the pamphlet has been a learning experience for them. "What you must remember is that all women are just a husband away from welfare themselves and cannot afford to look down on women already there." The pamphlet explains everything from available services to the bus routes necessary to get to them. One point it stresses over and over again is not to be intimidated and to demand everything that is due. It is also not above using sexist tactics. On one page it advises that if all else fails "sob stories often equal free goods."

All Ottawa roads lead up to Parliament Hill

It's not true that all roads in Ottawa lead to Parliament Hill. It just seems that way, at least to the visitor. Situated on a rise of ground overlooking the Ottawa River, Canada's gothic-styled Parliament Buildings, with their green copper roofs, ornamented turrets, and elegantly sculptured arches, dominate the national capital area.

Outside, the setting is one of beautiful gardens, trees and statues. Inside the stone and marble halls, paintings, sculpture, wood carvings and inscriptions tell of more than a century of Canadian history.

The main block of the Parliament Buildings is the home of the House of Commons and Senate, the legislative bodies of the country. When Parliament is in session, visitors are welcome to sit in the galleries of either chamber.

The Senate meets in the Red Chamber, so called because of its crimson velvet draperies and upholstery. It's an elegant place with its gold leaf, rich carved wood, two-ton bronze chandeliers, paintings, gold and glass ceiling and the thrones used by the governor-general or Queen Elizabeth at the opening of each Parliament.

The House of Commons, decorated in green, is surrounded by galleries with seating for 566 people. Electronic speakers at each chair in the House bring simultaneous translation of speeches from English to French and vice versa. The most interesting time for visitors is usually from 2 to 3 p.m., when opposition members question the government on various topics.

The circular Parliamentary Library pre-dates the House of Commons and Senate Chamber. It's all that remains of the original main block constructed in 1859-66. In 1916, a fire destroyed the central building, but steel doors protected the library.

Although the First World War was consuming much government revenue at that time, reconstruction began the same year. The new building was similar in design to the former one, but larger. In 1920, Parliament moved back to the Hill from the Victoria Museum where it had been meeting.

One feature of the new structure was different. A 291-foot Peace Tower, with a 60-ton carillon and a great four-faced clock, was built to commemorate those who died in the war. In the Memorial Chamber on the second level, marble plaques and stained-glass windows recall the courage of the Canadian armed forces in Europe. Stone and marble were donated by France and Belgium to build this room; the altar, with coats of arms carved into its side, was given by Britain.

The tower carillon has 53 bells, ranging from 10 pounds to 11 tons. Played from a wooden keyboard, carillon recitals are given throughout the week. The pure, clear tones draw listeners to the green lawns and benches in front of the Parliament Buildings.

Summer visitors to Ottawa can enjoy a special treat. The colorful Changing the Guard ceremony is performed each day from mid-June to Labor Day (first Monday in Sept.) at 10 a.m. on the lawns in front of the Parliament Buildings. Dressed in red and black uniforms and bearskin hats, the guards march for 45 minutes in a display of pageantry.

Both the original East Block and West Block of the Parliament Buildings built between 1859 and 1866 are still in use. They house the offices of the Prime Minister and Members of Parliament, the Privy Council Chamber and the Confederation Room used for state occasions.

Just one block south of Parliament Hill in downtown Ottawa is the Sparks Street mall, a shopping area decorated with trees, flowers, and sculpture. The city closed the three-block section of the street to traffic in 1960, and shoppers enjoyed the arrangement so well that the mall was made permanent. Shoppers can rest on benches, look at displays of art, stop for refreshments or listen to musicians who often entertain there.

Record Yester Years 20 Years Ago

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. — A young militia lieutenant, who won the coveted army's Queen's Medal Thursday shot 20 consecutive bulls-eyes Friday to win the City of Ottawa match at the 73rd annual Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize shoot.

Lieut. Edson L. Warner, 25, of Sherbrooke, Que., competed against 655 of Canada's best marksmen to win the shoot.

The marksmen fired 10 rounds from .303 service rifle at a six-inch bullseye 200 yards away, and 10 more at a 36-inch marker 900 yards away.

Warner, a young trucker who shoots as a member of the Sherbrooke Regiment, was the only one to score a perfect 100 points.

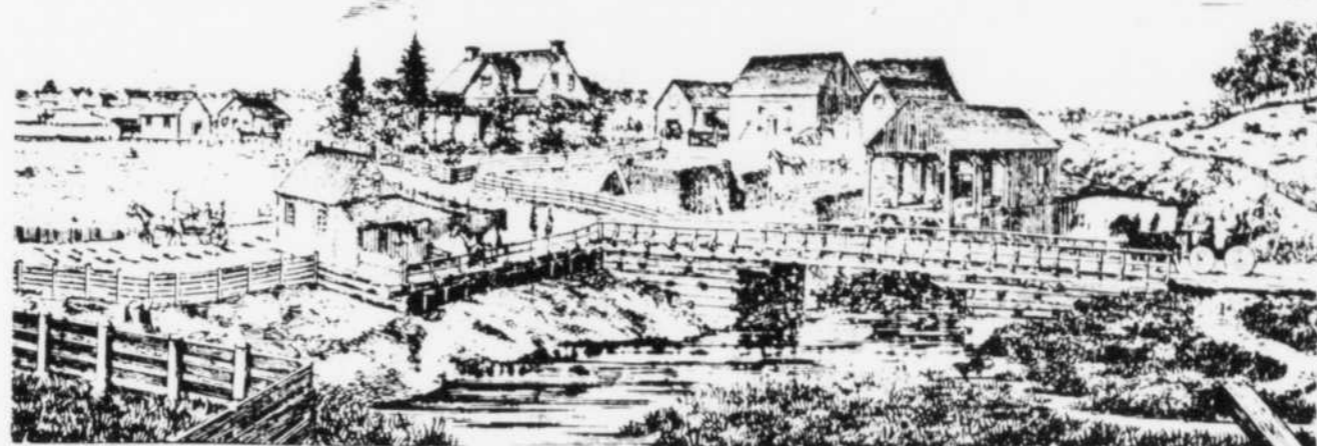

Warner Thursday won the Queen's Medal, shooting 162 of a possible 200 aggregate score to top all army shooters in the colorful, four-stage Queen's Medal match.

An eight-man Quebec team won the Jubilee Cup, which goes to the provincial team making the highest score in the qualifying stage of the Governor General's match.

BURY — The electors of the municipality of Bury voted in favor of the by-law to permit the sale of beer by the glass and the bottle and beer and wine during meals by the majority of eighty-two votes. Three hundred and fifty-nine voters exercised their right out of a total of four hundred and fifty who had the privilege to cast their ballots. The count showed two hundred and twenty-two votes in favor of the by-law and one hundred and forty against. Seven ballots were rejected.

The by-law on which the electors voted on Monday was passed at a regular meeting of the municipal council on July 7th. The motion was proposed by Councillor A. Brouillette and seconded by Councillor F. J. Prangley. The by-law submitted to the electorate read "Whereas this municipality is under the jurisdiction of the Quebec Alcoholic Liquor Act and that there is no by-law of prohibition in force in this municipality, that for the above reason it is hereby enacted that by the present by-law this municipality prays the Quebec Commission to grant this municipality one permit (tavern and country hotel) for the sale of beer by the glass and the bottle and beer and wine during meals, the whole according to the Alcoholic Liquor Act, and that the present by-law be submitted to the municipal electors of this municipality and that the voting on the present by-law be taken on the eleventh day of August, 1930.

THIRTY YEARS LATER — A drawing published by Page-Sangster Inc. depicts a farm in the Eastern Townships 30 years after the first settlement. Once a heavily wooded area, the land has been cleared for field and pasture and many buildings have been added to the house as well as improved roads and bridges.

Early farm communities marked by high level of self-sufficiency

(Ed. Note: The following is the concluding article of a three part series on the Record's Wednesday Editorial Page. Written by Dr. C.R. Boast, the articles describe early settlement of farms in the Eastern Townships and were first published in The Annals of Richmond County and Vicinity by the Richmond County Historical Society.)

The settlers kept a few pigs, who seem to have been allowed on some farms to rustle for their living in the summer, and the pigs seem to have become quite resourceful in doing just that. They often visited other farms, and along some roads at certain seasons of the year there was frequent running back and forth, calling the dogs, and shouting to drive someone's hungry pigs out of mischief. These pigs were not butchered in those days until they weighed 350 or 400 lbs. or even more. The greater part of the pork was cut into handy pieces and salted down in a sturdy barrel in the cellar. All the fat could be made use of, some of it for making soap by boiling it up with lye from leached ashes.

Each settler kept a few hens, but not many. These hens laid eggs for only a few months in the spring and summer. Chickens were hard to raise under "setting hens" because of the lack of balanced chicken feeds, the abundance of crows, hawks, weasels, rats and foxes, various chicken sicknesses of unknown causes, and a lack of time in the busy month of June to give daily care to the small chickens. Mortality was high. So the housewife raised only a few chickens to maturity each year, and often kept some hens until they were five or six years old.

The farm women enjoyed trading hatching eggs each spring to avoid inbreeding the flock, and the ancestry of most hens was confused. Each hen had her own personality and type and was easily identified. One reason why hens were sometimes kept to a ripe old age was that often a hen was the only living descendant of a setting of eggs given to a child by a neighbour and that made her special. Again, a distant relative might bring over a pure bred hen as a token of the family affection. Everyone who liked poultry was glad when these old favourites got through their September-October moult without mishap, and grew enough new feathers to make them look comfortable and respectable again, even if they did not lay another egg for seven months.

The sugar bush, usually small, pretty well completed the actual farm business. The spouts were made of round cedar plugs gently tapped into the tap hole, and had a hole bored lengthwise through them to let the sap flow out and drop into a wooden sabbucket hung on the tree just below the spout. The gathered sap was boiled down in large black iron kettles hung from a heavy horizontal pole. The pole was supported at each end by crocheted stakes about seven feet long, hammered into the ground deep enough to make examine all this from the standpoint of community efficiency, and not search for individual prodigies among the old pioneers.

In the Spooner Pond district, which was probably average, a large fraction of the early settlers would be difficult to classify. Were they "small farmers" with a craft to supplement their living, or were they craftsmen with a small farm to make it cheaper to live? By modern standards, the farms were certainly small. The products the settlers turned out with their crafts, considered collectively, make a long list. Most of the "know-how" and "can-do" came from the British Isles.

Here is a partial list of the products needed in the community and made by the "can-dos" of the district: axe handles, spikes, bark peelers, hooks for securing doors, etc., hinges for large barn doors, chains of all weights including slide hooks secure a cross cut saw to sharpen it, small wooden vises to secure leather straps solidly enough to enable one to punch holes in the leather with a homemade bradawl and mend the strap with a heavy needle and heavy waxed thread, chairs, tables, sideboards, benches, washstands, cupboards, cribs, cradles, wooden beds with cross slats of wood to support a straw tick, bootjacks, scrubbing boards with wooden faces, harnesses, boots, shoes, shoelaces of tanned calfskin carefully slit, men's suits handmade by tailors who were settlers in the district, moccasins, brooms, cooperage products including tubs, barrels, casks, pails and wooden sabbuckets, harrows with wooden frames and large heavy spikes for teeth, including newland harrows of "A" shape and square framed harrows; ploughs with wooden mouldboards and ploughs with iron mouldboards, (the iron mouldboards themselves were purchased from foundries at Three Rivers or Rayner Forges). Besides all this many stone walls were built by stone masons who had farms, or farmers who were stonemasons as you wish. When the boom of copper mining was on at the time of the American Civil war, local craftsmen were employed to sharpen the drills and mend and service the other mining equipment as it broke down or got out of order. They still continued to farm just the same.

The practice of having many of the products listed, made in the rural community was very prevalent well up to 1890 or even 1900 for some articles, so much so that the terms "store boots", "store forks" were well understood in all rural areas to refer to products not too durable, and often taken because a handmade article was not available. Manufactured articles have improved in every way until handmade articles are not the choice in present times. It influences our way of living to a marked degree; there was a very real division of labour in the early days in our area, and some of the old rural craftsmen farmers had, for many years, well-beaten paths to their door.

The communities of the early pioneers in Canada are often described as being composed of determined people, courageous, resolved to succeed, but not knowing, when they arrived, how to do anything as it had to be done in rural life in Canada. The early settlers are often represented as developing, after they came into the woods, in a few weeks a skilled craftsmanship that served the purpose in the emergency. That may be true up to a certain point, but it should not be carried too far.

A very significant percentage of the early settlers in the Spooner Pond area arrived from the Old Country with very useful ideas in their heads and practical skills with their hands, which served the purposes of the community very, very well. But we must

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS (RH) — Cultural activities in the Eastern Townships this week are as follows:

Wednesday, August 13: Jacob's Wake, by Michael Cook will be performed at Festival Lennoxville. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. At the same time, at The Piggery Theatre in North Hatley, the revue, Oh Coward is on tap. At the Orford Music Camp, a free student concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Cinema-fare in the area includes Ten Little Indians at Carrefour de l'Estrie, Cinema II. This is an Agatha Christie thriller.

Thursday, August 14: A matinee performance of Hunting Stuart, Robertson Davies' comedy is scheduled for 2 p.m. at Festival Lennoxville. An 8:30 p.m. performance of Jubalay is also on tap. At the Piggery Theatre, Oh Coward continues. Curtain time is also 8:30 p.m.

Friday, August 15: Jacob's Wake is back at Festival Lennoxville, and since you only have six chances left to see this excellent drama, you might as well make it tonight. But if you're in the mood for a little light-hearted entertainment, Oh Coward at The Piggery Theatre should suit your needs perfectly. Both performances begin at 8:30. Also at 8:30 p.m., a concert is scheduled at the Orford Art Centre. Details on the musical selection of the evening can be had by calling 843-3918.

Saturday, August 16: Two plays are featured at Festival Lennoxville today. At 2 p.m., enjoy Hunting Stuart, a Robertson Davies comedy, then after a jaunt to the country, come back to see Jubalay, by Merv Campone and Patrick Rose at 8:30 p.m. Two performances of Oh Coward at the Piggery Theatre start at 6:30 and 9:30 p.m., for Noel Coward buffs. At the Newport Cinema in Vermont, the film Shampoo, starring Warren Beattie will be playing. At the Derby-Port Drive-In, the academy award winning movie, The Sting, is scheduled. At the Norton Drive-in, the horror classic, The Exorcist will be shown.

Sunday, August 17: At 4 p.m. today, you can take in Jacob's Wake at Festival Lennoxville and then skip down to North Hatley for Oh Coward at the Piggery Theatre, beginning at 8:30 p.m. A student concert at Mt. Orford Art Centre, costing 50 cents, also begins at 4 p.m. There will be no changes in the movie fare.

Monday, August 18: There are no performances at either Festival Lennoxville or the Piggery Theatre today, as this is the day the companies generally recuperate from their hectic schedules. But you can see the Steford Wives at the Derby-Port Drive-in, Shampoo at the Newport Cinema, Spies at the Norton Drive-in or Ten Little Indians at the Carrefour de l'Estrie's Cinema II.

Tuesday, August 19: Theatre activity resumes at Festival Lennoxville and the Piggery. At the former, Jubalay is showing at 8:30, while at the latter, Oh Coward is featured at the same time.

LDSB, teachers continue to hammer out agreement

By ROSA HARRIS
 Record Reporter

LENOXVILLE — The Lennoxville District School Board and the Eastern Townships Association of Teachers are still hammering out an agreement following a dispute over the non-re-engagement of three teachers and consultation concerns which resulted in one-day walk-outs at LDSB elementary schools at the end of June.

Following the walk-out, the teachers' union, ETAT, filed grievances against the board claiming the reasons given for non re-engagement were in bad faith and that new French programs were being implemented, particularly at the kindergarten level at Lennoxville Elementary School, without consulting a teacher's committee set up for that purpose.

The LDSB responded to the grievances by suggesting a 10 member group, composed half of board members and half of teachers be set up to define consultation. They also offered to re-engage one of the teachers provided all grievances be dropped.

Last night, at a regular LDSB board meeting, school board members were informed of the official counter-offer made by ETAT. The union agreed to the 10-member committee and to an LDSB suggestion that kindergarten classes be postponed for two weeks to allow more organizational time, on the condition that the non-re-engagement resolution passed by the council involving the three teachers be rescinded. The ETAT proposal suggested the board accept the resignation of two of the teachers and find a place for the third at either Sherbrooke or Magog elementary schools, in exchange for the dropping of all grievances against the board.

The board, however, expressed concern over ETAT advertisements, placed in all three English language daily newspapers in the province during July warning all prospective employees of the LDSB to consult the union before accepting a job with the board since there was no guarantee of job security. LDSB commissioners expressed their concern last night over what they termed "blacklisting" and recommended that ETAT's counter-offers be accepted providing the union places advertisements in the newspapers explaining that the differences between the two groups have been settled. Board members unanimously gave Hugh Auger, LDSB Director-General and Marguerite Knapp, LDSB Chairwoman, the mandate to approach ETAT with this new compromise.

"We can't let the ad go unchallenged," one commissioner stated. The issue will be discussed at an August 26 meeting between Don Jondreville, Union President, Mr. Auger and Mrs. Knapp.

"The dialogue must continue," Mrs. Knapp commented.

Meanwhile the LDSB appointed five members to the 10-member committee on consultation which will be formed if ETAT and the board reach a final agreement on the dispute. Named to sit on the committee were Marguerite Knapp, Hugh Auger, William Badger, George Rothney and John Wallace. The first meeting is tentatively set for August 27 if the agreement is reached.

Union representative, Mrs. Noble declined comment on the LDSB decision stating only that she would have to take the issue back to the union before she could make any remark.

In other LDSB news, the board pledged yesterday to respect "parents or guardians of Protestant school children who request to receive instruction in the French language." The pledge was made as part of a policy statement prepared by the LDSB on Bill 22. The statement, which will be submitted to the Quebec Association of Protestant School Boards to be used in their legal battle against the official language act, stressed that by law, parents or guardians of all Protestant school children residing within LDSB jurisdiction are required to register their child at the nearest Protestant school within the recognized school boundaries.

However, the board added that if there is serious doubt as to the language competency of a child seeking admission then the Director General of the board will have the responsibility of arranging an interview with the parties concerned, namely the pupil, parent, principal and the Director of Educational Services in order to determine the language competency of the child.

A teacher exchange program is in the works between LDSB teachers and their counterparts in Britain. All LDSB teachers with a minimum of three years' teaching experience and a university degree or five years experience with a permanent teaching diploma are eligible to apply. Furthermore, teachers accepted must commit themselves to a two-year contract with LDSB upon their return to Canada. The program is to last for one year. Applications must be submitted to the LDSB by October 30, 1975.

Grafftey seeks aid for Magog

OTTAWA (RM) — Brome-Missisquoi MP Heward Grafftey has asked the Minister of Manpower to give "most favorable" consideration of Magog when Local Initiative Program (LIP) grants are issued this year.

Due to the current, low position of the Magog's economy, Mr. Grafftey said in a letter to Robert Andras, "it is most important that the City be given extra consideration in order to combat a serious economic employment situation during the winter months."

Mr. Grafftey, who is also the first runner in the Progressive Conservative leadership race, cited the current, "difficult times" of Magog's textile industry and the closing of Federal Packing as reasons for Magog's declining economic status. A consortium of Quebec-based food firms has been formed with the intention of purchasing the assets of Federal Packing, which closed down after the Quebec Police Commission inquiry into organized crime alleged the company was selling tainted meat on the consumer market.

About 300 Federal Packing employees were forced onto the unemployment line when Federal closed down.

No immediate reaction to Mr. Grafftey's request has been heard from Manpower Minister Andras' office. Copies of the Grafftey letter, dated August 8, were forwarded to Magog Mayor Maurice Theroux and secretary-treasurer Yves Langlois.

Committee formed for health services

MANSONVILLE — About 55 people from the Township of Potton (covering Mansonville, Vale Perkins, Highwater and Dunkin) met in the Town Hall here Wednesday evening, Aug. 6 to begin the process as required by the Quebec government for the setting up of a Local Community Service Centre.

Under Bill 65, communities are eligible to apply for a Local Community Service Centre (CLSC) based on needs, area covered and population density. Such a centre can provide needed health, counselling and emergency services. The basic procedure for acquiring a CLSC involves holding public information meetings in the community, electing a local committee, forming a "Provisional Committee" from the local committees and then negotiating for the establishment of a CLSC. This centre will be funded by the Quebec government.

Neil Wallace, Fr. Maurice Domingue, Rev. Ron Coughlin, and Dr. Peter Crelinstein presented information concerning a CLSC, answered questions, and translated what was said for those present. Neil Wallace, a theological student from McGill University, who has been hired by the local United Churches in the Yamaska Valley Parish Council to research the requirements for a CLSC and hold information meetings throughout the area, welcomed people to the meeting. He spoke briefly on what a CLSC was and then opened the meeting for discussions.

People attending the meeting questioned the connection a CLSC might have with the local medical clinic. Dr. Crelinstein, in reply, indicated that should any part of a CLSC be located in Mansonville or Knowlton, the doctors in the clinic would be co-operative. Another question concerned the criterion for a centre. It was pointed out that Bill 65 indicates a population of 10,000 is a basic requirement, but that if a case can be made for the special geography of the area that smaller centres can be located in certain communities.

Many of the people who spoke were concerned about transportation and emergency care. They expressed the fear that in this area, ambulance services are non-existent and one often has to wait for up to over an hour for help. The town hall was urged to hire an ambulance driver and emergency transportation was indicated as a priority for the region.

After much discussion, Mr. Wallace, called for nominations for a local committee to pursue the creation of a CLSC with other local committees. Nominated were: Noella Coutu, Georgette Parent, Flora Drouin, Michel Leduc, Yves Remillard, Bertha Nichols, Jack Ewing, Gary Kilpatrick, Victor Magoon, Rev. Ron Coughlin, and Fr. Maurice Domingue. This committee will meet on August 27, to appoint a chairman and begin preparing research for an application for a CLSC.

Committees, comparable to this one, have been set up already in Knowlton and Sutton. Other communities in the Brome-Missisquoi region will be approached in the near future, to join the effort to obtain needed health services through the establishment of a CLSC.

Rodeo to be featured at the Bedford Fair

BEDFORD — Included in this year's Bedford Fair, Aug. 14-17, will be an authentic rodeo. This is not to be confused with a western horseshow. These are two different events, the latter concerning domesticated horses trained to overcome obstacles and to obey the commands of their master; on the other hand, the rodeo concerns wild, untamed horses and cattle which riders will try to master in different competitions.

The rodeo is an exclusive presentation of North and South America originally developed at the time when branding was very popular in the American prairies and the South American "Pampas". Co-boys or gauchos, the keepers of these herds, on this exceptional occasion, show their strength and dexterity in trying to control the wild animals placed in their care. At the Bedford Fair there will be three styles of equestrian competition: — English class, Western class and Rodeo.

Check the programs appearing in local newspapers for the exact time and place of the performances. Other fair features this year are: Technical demonstration Saturday, August 16 at 2 p.m., a trench digging demonstration performed by Rigoleuse Rotative Biouze. The experiment will take place on the farm of the President of the MAS, situated on Philipsburg road two miles from the memorial monument in Bedford.

Serendipity principle

Cure for stuttering found

CHICAGO (AP) — A young Chicago psychologist thinks he has accidentally discovered a cure for one of man's oldest mental ties—stuttering.

"It was kind of like the principle of serendipity—finding one thing when you are looking for something else," said Dr. Greg Nunn, 25, director of the Institute for Youth Development at Read Mental Health Centre in Chicago.

With a treatment emphasizing controlled breathing and relaxation, Nunn says he can eliminate from 80 to 90 per cent of a person's stuttering in two hours. Since he began work on the technique 2½ breathing?" When she came to a word that she was stuttering on I asked her to stop, take a deep breath and read on. And much to my amazement she stopped stuttering."

He reasoned that the metronome procedure regulated stuttering by regulating breathing. If a stutterer can control his breathing, Nunn said, he also can control his speech.

"We teach them to think about what it is they are going to say before they start speaking," he said.

Nunn stresses that an individual maintain a comfortable posture, breathe deeply and regularly, and relax to improve

Controlled breathing and relaxation can eliminate 80 to 90 per cent of a person's stuttering in two hours years ago, he has treated about 70 patients aged from four to 67. He says he has an 85-per-cent success rate the first day and 93-per-cent success over four months.

Nunn says he stumbled on the cure while working for Dr. N. H. Azrin, a behaviorist at Anna State Hospital, on a technique to control stuttering by training sufferers to read aloud in time with a metronome.

He noticed a woman patient was breathing irregularly. Nunn said the breathing pattern was a sign of anxiety, the primary cause of stuttering.

"So I thought, 'Well, what happens if I change her breathing pattern around and have her speak with a change in speech patterns.

"Then what I do is teach them how to breathe when they start to speak. That's the secret ingredient. What I do is I will have them start from the beginning of a book. Before they start speaking they take a deep breath, let just a little bit of air escape through the mouth, say the word, and let the rest of the air remaining in their lungs flow out."

The procedure is repeated, gradually increasing the number of words between breaths. "Then I get to the point where they read and pause at natural pause points in sentences," he said. "Then we go into spontaneous speaking. It's amazing."

Ann Landers says: Good Heart's address is not up for grabs

Dear Ann Landers: From time to time you have expressed the personal opinion that it is impolite and inconsiderate for people to drop in uninvited.

Please let me take this opportunity to tell all my friends that they have a standing invitation to my home anytime — day or night. If it happens to be mealtime, I can always throw on another hamburger or two and add some water to the soup. I consider an unexpected visit a compliment. And believe it or not, I'm not a lonesome old lady. I'm a 23-year-old male.

My friends also know they can borrow anything I have. It's theirs for the asking. I have yet to run into anyone who took advantage of me. If a friend gets into a jam and needs money, he (or she) knows that I would be more than happy to help out. They can pay me back whenever it is convenient. Maybe it will take a year or more — small amounts at a time. But I never turn down a friend and I've never been stuck.

What is life all about if a person can't extend a helping hand and keep his door and his heart open to those in need? Please sign me — Walk On In And Sit Right Down

Dear Mr. Great Heart: That was some letter. How come you didn't sign your name? How will people know WHERE to walk on in and sit right down? And at any hour of the day or night, yet.

You're a money lender, too? And you've never been stuck? Well, may it be ever thus, pal. I am not criticizing your philosophy. It's beautiful. But I'm not even going to tell anyone what state you live in.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't think I've ever read about my problem in your column. It's actually a confession, prompted by the letter from the child who felt "left out" because her parents favored her older sister.

I am the guilty party — and my mother's parents were the victims. I liked my other set of grandparents better and was very outspoken about my preference — even through my teen years when I should have known better. I can remember now how I went out of my way to show favoritism to my younger set of grandparents. I can still see the hurt look of the faces of the two I ignored. I'll regret it to my dying day. Priff! This please so others may learn from it. —

Regrets, Regrets

Dear R & R: Here it is and I hope your confession has made you feel better. Perhaps someone WILL learn from it.

The family Parker-Kinghorn

May Kinghorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinghorn of Waterville was the recent bride of Const. Neal Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Parker of Dorval. The wedding took place at the Waterville United Church, Saturday June 21 with the Rev. Max Surjadinata officiating. A reception followed at the Ripplecove Inn in Ayer's Cliff. The maid of honor was Miss Sylvia Marlin and the best man was Lawrence Doderidge. The couple spent their honeymoon touring the Eastern Townships and Northern Ontario before taking up permanent residence in Ottawa where Const. Parker is stationed.

MR. AND MRS. B. BEATTIE

Beattie-MacLeod

A pretty spring wedding was held on Saturday, May 17, 1975 at 3 p.m. in St. George's Anglican Church, Lennoxville. Marilyn Grace, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murdo MacLeod of Sherbrooke became the bride of Bradley John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Beattie of East Angus.

Archdeacon Sydney Meade officiated at the double ring ceremony. The organist, Mrs. Pennington played traditional wedding music and the themes from Love Story and Romeo and Juliet were played during the signing of the register.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

The bride chose a gown of white legoda with an empire waist and long sleeves gathered at the wrist. The stand-up collar and yoke were delicately trimmed with a soft ruffle. Her dress was adorned with a full-length veil of tulle illusion held in place by a headpiece of white roses. She carried a single long stem rose trimmed with ivy and long white ribbons. The bride wore a strand of pearls given by the groom's grandmother.

Mrs. Jean Jamieson, for something old.

Miss Carol Thompson, of Lennoxville, was maid of honor. Her floor length gown was pale green decorated with white flowers. The gown had long sleeves and a stand-up collar trimmed with lace interwoven with green ribbon. She carried a single yellow rose with baby's breath and trimmed with green ribbon.

Mrs. Betty-Anne Wood, sister of the bride; Mrs. Beverley MacLeod, sister-in-law of the bride; and Miss Heather Beattie, sister of the groom were bridesmaids. Their gowns were pale blue, decorated with white flowers. The gowns were trimmed with white lace interwoven with blue ribbon. They carried a single pink rose and baby's breath with blue ribbon.

Mr. Alan Cameron, of Montreal, acted as best man. Mr. Bill MacLeod, of Lachute, brother of the bride; Mr. James Stickles, of Montreal and Mr. Jerome Dennis, of Moncton, N.B., close friends of the couple, were ushers.

Mrs. MacLeod, mother of the bride, chose a floor length gown of yellow floral with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow and coral sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Beattie, mother of the groom, wore a coral floor length gown with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow sweetheart roses.

The groom's two grandmothers, Mrs. M.A. Beattie, wore a blue gown and had a corsage of white roses; Mrs. Jean Jamieson wore a pink gown with pink roses as her corsage.

Mr. David Moore played the bagpipes at the church as well as during the receiving line at the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association, where the reception was held. He also piped the wedding party to the head table. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Allan Goodfellow.

Cousin of the groom, Mr. Allan Coates of Montreal, was in charge of the guest book. Mr. Cameron Wood was the photographer.

For travelling, the bride wore a blue polyester pant suit with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of baby orchids. Later, the newly married couple left for their honeymoon in Florida.

Guests who attended the wedding were from Ontario, Lachute, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and Scotstown, and the Border.

Friday evening before the wedding the bride and groom were guests of honor at a buffet given by the groom's parents.

Prior to the wedding the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Dianna Forbes and Miss Carol Thompson; a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Ruby Waldron and Mrs. Annie Coates; a pantry shower by Mrs. Vic Buck and Mrs. Bea Kezar. Also, the couple were entertained at a mixed bowling party given by Miss Nancy Jameson, of Sherbrooke and Mr. Foxey White of the Border.

Mrs. MacLeod entertained at a trousseau tea for her daughter on the Saturday prior to the wedding.

9th Annual Parsons Reunion

By MRS. H. ROWELL (Record Correspondent)

BURY — On July 26, 1975 a beautiful hot sunny day, approximately 150 descendants of James, George, Stephen and Caroline Parsons who with their parents William and Elizabeth Parsons came to Canada in 1836, gathered at the Bury Memorial Park and Town Hall for their 9th annual Parsons' reunion.

Miss Dorothy Shattuck welcomed the guests and introduced some newcomers. Mr. Harvey Parsons was in charge of the registration book assisted by Judy Parsons, Mrs. Bessie Olson, Mrs. Blanche MacLeod and others.

Mr. Royal Smith supervised the children's games and races with prizes for all.

Mr. Richard Parsons was in charge of the bingo, prizes for this were provided by Mrs. Harvey Parsons and Mrs. Fred Piper of Waterville to whom we are most grateful. Others enjoyed visiting and renewing friendships and acquaintances.

At the supper hour refreshments were served buffet style. In the evening dancing was enjoyed, music being provided by Gloria Nugent's orchestra.

Sadly missed was Mrs. George Parsons (aunt Nellie) who had passed away on June 2. She had contributed a great deal of information towards the family tree and history.

A drawing was held on a beautiful crocheted afghan, made and donated by Helen Parsons Andrews of Richmond, Que. Mrs. Grant Olson was the lucky winner. A satisfactory amount was realized from the sale of articles on the 'donations' table.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Edna Smyth, of Bury, the eldest lady present, Mr. Ernie Hodge of Sherbrooke, the eldest gentleman, and to little Richard Leon French, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred French of Waterville, the youngest present. Gifts were also presented to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parsons of Walpole, Mass. and Miss Jackie Parsons of Mountaintop, Penn., who had come the farthest. Other gifts were given to Master Wayne Samson of Richmond and Mrs. Verna Hunting.

A business meeting will be held at a later date to set a day for the next and 10th reunion, also making 140 years of the Parsons' family in Canada and the U.S.A., also to decide on buying and placing a new headstone for Stephen and Prudence Parsons with proper names and dates to replace the one that disappeared from the Bown Cemetery. Finishing the quilt will also be discussed.

Those signing the guest book from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parsons, Miss Judy Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McKergow, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galligan, Mr. and Mrs. Borden Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Leavitt, Steve and Betty MacPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy McKevelly, Mr. and Mrs. Denny Varden, Sharron, Gary and Julie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson, Miss Jackie Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parsons and Barry.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parsons, Scott and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLellan, Mr. Leonard Olson and Miss Anne Goodwin, Miss Harmony Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garneau, Michael and Suzanne, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and Angela, Mrs. Hilda Lawrence, Mrs. Jean Letky and Johnny, all from the Stephen Parsons' line and Mrs. Lottie Dougherty.

Mildred Parsons, Bernice McClatchie, Gordon and Lavina French, Carol French, Gordon and David Bissell, George French and Carol Sirois, Mr. and Mrs. Fred French and family, and Marlene Colby, from the George Parsons' line.

Dorothy Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parsons, Dorothy and Beaumont, Ken and Helen Andrews, Audrey Samson, Kenny and Wayne, Nancy Parsons, John and Sylvia Parsons Pelkey, Dinah and Frank Parsons, Mrs. Emilien Dion and Miss Linda Morin, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kinkead, from the James Parsons' line.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fallon, Mr. and Mrs. John Cronan, Dorothy May Tucker, Anne and Lauralie Little, Curtis Ross, Mabel Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lowd from the Caroline Parsons Coombs' line.

The B.C. pill increases heart disease

NEW YORK (AP) — Women taking birth control pills run a higher risk of heart attacks, especially if they have other heart risk factors, two British studies suggest.

Cigarette smoking, diabetes, high blood pressure, obesity and high blood cholesterol are among factors believed to increase one's chances of premature heart attack.

The risk of heart attack among users of oral contraceptives appears 4½ times higher than in non-users, says Dr. Samuel Shapiro of Boston, describing the British studies in the New England Journal of Medicine.

"Further studies are needed. Confirmation of the association is needed."

Heart attacks are the greatest killer of North American men. The rate of fatal attacks among women is one-sixth that of men until after menopause. It then rises toward the rate of older men.

RISK GREATER

The risk was found to be 2.7 times greater among women aged 30 to 39 taking the pill and 5.7 times higher among women 40 to 44 years old, Shapiro writes. This study was carried out by Dr. J. L. Mann and associates of Oxford University.

Older women were also found at higher risk in another analysis, by Mann and Dr. W. H. W. Inman, of 153 women under age 50 who died of coronary attacks. The relative risk here was 2.8 times greater for women 30 to 39, and 4.7 for those 40 to 44.

The rates seem to zoom among women already possessing other risk factors, Shapiro says.

Compared with women having no such risk factors, the risk was 4.2 times among women having one factor, 10.5 for those with two factors and 78.4 for those with three or more factors.

Edmonton man studying UFOs

EDMONTON (CP) — People who sight unidentified flying objects (UFOs) often get upset about it, and part of John Musgrave's task as a UFO researcher is to convince them they are not losing their minds.

But the 34-year-old university instructional developer plans to do a lot more than offer counsel with his $6,000 grant from the federal government.

Ever since the early 1950s when Mr. Musgrave saw a bright, star-like object which split into blue and orange spheres that took off in different directions, he's been a member of the scientific community which takes UFO reports seriously. That community, he said, has grown in stature in recent years, unknown to most members of the general public.

A 1973 survey showed about 10 per cent of the adult American population had seen UFOs and while four out of five sightings could be explained, the remainder could not. It leaves people sincerely frightened, especially when they are told they are mere perpetrators of a hoax, Mr. Musgrave said.

HAPPENED TO MANY

So in the process of spending Canadian tax money ferreting out historical reports of UFOs and talking to people who have seen something strange in the sky, he plans to explain to them that they are not alone and the vivid experience they have had is consistent with what has happened to a good many other people.

Studying UFOs, he said, amounts to being part of a new science which may provide a revolutionary way of looking at the world and force all of us to acquire a new framework for our own view of things around us.

He finds the whole field intriguing, especially since no one knows exactly how to go about studying it. This led him to decide on a historical look.

He plans to begin in earnest next November, when his teaching contract expires. He will spend his time in newspaper libraries and government research centres as well as interviewing those who have seen UFOs, compiling and analysing reports until his money runs out. The $6,000 is about half of what he asked for in his grant application.

LOTS OF THEORIES

As a member of about a dozen UFO clubs and societies, a contributor to periodicals on UFOs, including the Canadian UFO Report and a student of scientific history, he has heard a lot of theories about UFOs and drawn together some of the common elements of sightings.

Most UFO buffs take it for granted that flying saucers and the like are from other planets with civilizations billions of years older than ours, at least as a working theory. But there are also suggestions that what is seen is something created by the human mind, and viewed in terms of technology as we know it or can imagine it, or as visible evidence of a supernatural world existing on earth of which we are unaware.

Mr. Musgrave also speculates that there may be several different sources for UFOs, including natural phenomena that science does not yet understand. The fascination is in the discovery of the answers.

RURAL SIGHTINGS

UFOs are usually sighted in rural areas, with Alberta an especially fertile field, often on Wednesday nights and usually between 2 and 3 a.m. or in early evening. Summer seems to produce more reports than winter, which might be explained by more people being outdoors in warmer weather.

Most recent reports have been of circular objects of various colors, dropping out of the sky and flying back up after scooping up samples of earth. They are reported to have chased cars and some people have said they have been taken aboard space craft and examined by the occupants, which are usually described as about one metre tall and either human or robot-like in appearance. The vehicles also make sounds, everything from beeps to lightning-like cracks. They have been plotted on radar screens. Some have said they were temporarily blinded by the intensity of the light emitted from the craft.

Mr. Musgrave cautioned, however, against trying to see patterns to sightings at this stage. The research is simply not well enough developed yet. That's part of the study he plans to do.

Japanese Red Army: 'scientific' to 'insane'

TOKYO (AP) — Dr. George Habash, the Palestinian terrorist leader, calls it "scientific" and "revolutionary." The Japanese press describes it as "insane" and "suicidal." What, in fact, is the Japanese Red Army?

Thrust into new prominence by the seizure of United States and Swedish diplomats in Malaysia on Monday, the Red Army has what Habash calls "a very deep relationship" with his Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP).

Habash confirmed the Red Army's links to the extremist Palestinian organization in a February interview with the Japanese radical quarterly Ampo.

"We feel great respect for the Japanese Red Army and we eagerly look forward to the future of such relations," he said. "We regard our relations with the Red Army as an example for all revolutionary forces worldwide to follow."

STARTED BY STUDENTS

The long and tortuous road from revolutionary activity in Japan to alliance with the Palestinian cause began with the widespread student movement here in the 1960s.

The Red Army, or Sekigunha, was a radical splinter from the big General Federation of Japanese Students—Zengakuren—which claimed the support of 850,000 of the country's 1,260,000 college students. Its united front broke down in 1960 when it was unable to prevent revision of the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Numbering about 300, the Red Army shot into the news in March, 1970, when nine of its young members, brandishing pistols and samurai swords, hijacked a Japan Air Lines passenger jet to North Korea.

By February, 1972, they had united with another radical student group that held a woman hostage for 10 days in a mountain lodge near Tokyo. Their capture uncovered the grisly purge, some months earlier, of 14 dissident members of the army by its leaders. The victims, one of them a pregnant girl, were tortured before being bludgeoned to death or left to die of exposure in the freezing winter temperatures.

STAGED MASSACRE

In May, 1972, three Red Army youths mowed down 26 tourists and pilgrims at Tel Aviv's Lod airport. The lone Red Army survivor, Kozo Okamoto, then 25, the son of a former primary school principal, said the massacre was carried out with the cooperation of the PFLP.

Police crackdowns had forced the Red Army underground after its hijack success in 1970. From revolution at home, it then switched to advocating a simultaneous uprising in many countries.

Several women are members of the army. For a time, its mastermind was believed to be Fusako Shigenobu, 29, widow of one of the two Japanese killed during the Lod airport incident. In recent months, however, it is believed that the movement is dominated and controlled by the PFLP. The active involvement of young Japanese, most of them from comfortably placed, middle-class families, in terrorism abroad has touched off dismay and revulsion among their elders.

"For 40 years I thought I had devoted myself faithfully to the education of our young people," Okamoto's father wrote to the Israeli embassy in Tokyo. "Please punish my son with the death penalty without delay."

Stanstead County WI

HATLEY — The Stanstead County Women's Institute Quarterly meeting was held on Wednesday afternoon, August 6 at the United Church in Hatley. The County President, Mrs. Douglas Johnston spoke a welcome to all attending.

A moment of silence was observed with thoughts of the late Mrs. Charles Bliss, one of the first County members and a dedicated worker in Stanstead North Branch for many years.

After the session opened with the repetition of the Collect, Mrs. W.D. Dustin, on behalf of the hosting branch spoke the official welcome. Historically she made reference to an early 1919 program of the Home Maker's Club, later changed to Women's Institute and the formation of the early Branches of Tomifobia, Three Villages, Way's Mills, Massawippi and later other branches as changes came about.

The reports of the secretary, Miss Viola Moranville and of the treasurer, Mrs. John Johnston, were read. Correspondence from the QWI office was also heard and given attention. A notice of motion was read to increase Branch dues to a minimum of 0.50 and a maximum of $2.00. This will be voted upon at the QWI semi annual session in November and comments from Branches are invited by October 26, therefore each Branch delegate was asked to take it back to their branch for discussion.

The roll call showed attendance of 7, Ayer's Cliff, 4; Beebe, 8; Hatley Center, 9; Stanstead North and several from Hatley.

Mrs. K. Little and Mrs. Warren Soutiere, co-convenors of Agriculture, spoke about the 1975 School Fair that will be TWO days this year, Sept. 10 and 11 at the Ayer's Cliff Fair grounds. A more detailed report will be made on this under separate coverage.

August 25 the School Fair committee will meet at the home of Mrs. Lillian McFaul in Ayer's Cliff at 8:00 p.m. to finalize all plans.

Education, Mrs. R. Knight, spoke about the Beebe WI members assisting with some instructions in the school at Sunnyside.

Miss Viola Moranville, Home Economics, also spoke on the volunteer work in the school, expressing it as a rewarding experience, she had instructed sewing. She also referred to an Arts-Crafts exhibit in Edmonton, Alta., she and Mrs. Enid Cooke had attended while on a western trip, especially the beautiful handmade quilts and other work of young people. Women's Institute encourages youth to do this type of work, she said.

August 18 is Home Economics broadcast over CKTS, Sherbrooke, October 20 is Publicity and December 15, Welfare and Health, the County convenors were reminded.

Mrs. John Johnston, Chairman of the Ayer's Cliff Fair W.I. Tea room, distributed lists of foods required to be served and workers from the five branches the three days of the fair. A sum of money was voted to the Fair Board for admission tickets for the workers.

Miss Moranville and her staff will have the usual sale table in the main building and all were reminded of saleable items to be donated for this.

Mrs. Johnston made an appeal for used aluminum pie plates to be used for the school fair exhibits. It was also announced that on Wednesday, September 10 the Ayer's Cliff WI Branch will serve a chicken pie dinner in the Beulah United Church hall for the school fair workers and any others who wish to attend, but on September 11 there will be snacks and goodies sold on the grounds.

November 17, 1915 Stanstead County WI held its first meeting, so discussion about an observance of the 60th anniversary was held. It was agreed a committee on arrangements for a banquet be made by the five branch presidents with Ayer's Cliff the chairman, the County president Mrs. Johnston will also be on the committee but if the Branch president is unable to act she may appoint her replacement. The observance will be in October.

Mr. Goulet, from the Center of Social Services, Sherbrooke, was introduced by Mrs. Johnston as guest speaker. He first gave an outline of Health and Social Services offered, noting them to be two separate services to help and respond to people in need. He said the hospitals and Youville at Sherbrooke pretty well care for the Health division with CHU and Youville specialized.

Social Services have a lot to offer with programs to help elderly citizens, with plans underway, in small ways, such as errands, arranging some meals and so forth to give them the opportunity to be able to remain in their own home. Counseling to the 18 to 65-year-olds, aid to unwed mothers, adoption aids, help to drug and alcoholic addicts and work with the Social workers, he said there is a social worker at each of the Sherbrooke hospitals. After his talk a question and answer period took place which was most revealing and interesting. Mrs. Irving Lord thanked the speaker.

Hatley Center will host the next Quarterly meeting in October, the date to be announced by the hosting branch, Hatley Center.

The Hatley members served a delicious salad tea with goodies for dessert to terminate another pleasant meeting of Stanstead County women.

NOT YOUR run-of-the-mill commandment greets worshippers at this church in Quincy, Mass. where illegal parking can jeopardize one's mortal soul.

WI meeting

MELBOURNE — The August meeting of the Richmond Young Women's Institute was held on Aug. 5 at the home of Mrs. Norma Taylor, Richmond. The president, Mrs. May Stinson opened the meeting and all repeated the Mary Stewart Collect.

The president welcomed a guest, Miss Jane Gunter. Eleven members answered the roll call.

The treasurer, Mrs. Janet Banfill gave her report and all bills were paid.

Correspondence consisted of several thank-you notes and letters from the QWI office.

A motion was moved by Mrs. Lyla Beattie and seconded by Mrs. Shirley Pariseau that a donation be sent to the Student Loan Fund at the Richmond Regional High School, which was unanimous. A motion by Mrs. Janet Banfill that a donation be sent to the County WI towards purchases for the Fall Tea and Bazaar, seconded by Mrs. Marion Jameson. All were in favor.

As there was no further business the president adjourned the meeting.

Mrs. Marjorie Lancaster held a contest on the definition of words, with the winner being Mrs. Norma Taylor. Another contest was held by sending the members on a search among themselves for various articles, with the winner being Mrs. Banfill.

The members enjoyed the music played on Mrs. Taylor's organ by Mrs. Pariseau before lunch and afterwards Mrs. Taylor entertained all with music.

In Memoriam

BLISS — In sad and loving memory of my dear husband, Wallace Bliss, who passed away 3 years ago, August 13, 1972.

God gave me a wonderful husband. His memory will never grow old. What would I give to clasp his hand. His happy face to see. To hear his voice and see his smile. That meant so much to me. It's nice to know we'll meet again. Someday, we know not when. We shall meet in a better land. And never to part again. Still loved and sadly missed by HAZEL (wife)

PATERSON — In loving memory of my Dad and our Grandfather, George L. Paterson who left us on August 13, 1973. Memories drift to scenes long past. Time rolls on, but memories last. AUDREY & FAMILY

Alouettes come up with late win

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa fans may have thought they were watching an instant replay Tuesday night as Montreal Alouettes defeated the Rough Riders 34-31 on a field goal with no time remaining.

Last week, the Riders lost 16-14 to Toronto Argonauts as Zenon Andrusyshyn booted a 12-yard field goal with the clock run out.

Tuesday it was Don Sweet's turn to cap off a late fourth-quarter rally that saw Montreal come back from a 31-23 deficit for their second Eastern Football Conference win.

Halfback Larry Smith fought off several Ottawa defenders to take a pass from quarterback Sonny Wade for a touchdown from the five-yard line. Wade passed to tight end Peter Dalla Riva for a two-point conversion and a 31-31 tie with about two minutes to play.

The Alouettes then hemmed in the Riders and Dick Adams got off a short punt from the end zone, giving Montreal possession on the 16-yard line.

Three plays later Sweet sent his second field goal of the night arching through the uprights and the game was over.

MISSED THREE

The Alouettes' win was aided by a rare bad night for Sweet's opposite number with the Riders, Gerry Organ. Ottawa coach George Brancato, dismayed as most of the 31,688 fans in Lansdowne Park, repeated several times in the dressing room: "Gerry missed three field goals."

They were all in the second quarter. One resulted in a safety when Ottawa halfback Art Green tackled cornerback Lewis Cook in the end zone.

And it was Cook, an Ottawa castoff, who contributed to the Riders' loss. He returned a kickoff 86 yards in the first quarter to set up Sweet's first field goal and moments later hauled in a Dick Adams punt, avoided several Riders, wheeled in behind Montreal blocking and sped 97 yards down the sideline for a touchdown.

Montreal's other majors were scored by fullback Steve Ferrughelli on a one-yard plunge and Dalla Riva on a diving catch of a 14-yard pass from Wade. Sweet added two converts.

Flanker Rhome Nixon scored two touchdowns for Ottawa, on a 32-yard pass from slotback Jim Foley on a rollout and a 39-yard pass from quarterback Condrage Holloway.

Green scampered through several Montreal defenders for a 47-yard major and fullback John Bledsoe cracked over from the one-yard line. Organ kicked a 47-yard field goal in the first quarter and converted three of the touchdowns.

The win lifted Montreal into a first-place tie with Ottawa in the EFC. Both teams have 2-2 won-lost records.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Toronto get a chance to end their second-place deadlock tonight when the Tabbies move into Toronto. Both teams are 1-2.

Ottawa gained 24 first downs and a total of 453 yards to the Alouettes 12 first downs and 229 yards.

Montreal's all-star Johnny Rodgers sat out the game because of continuing back problems while wide-receiver Joe Petty stayed on the sidelines after suffering a mild concussion in the third quarter.

New Zealander breaks 3:50 mile run at meet

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — John Walker runs in nobody's shadow anymore. After two years of chasing Filibert Bayi, Walker put it all together in what he described as "a perfect race" and shattered one of sport's most revered records, running the mile in 3:50.44, 49.4 seconds at the Goteborg Games international track and field meet Tuesday night.

"I feel extremely happy—I still can't believe I've broken the record," said Walker, a 23-year-old New Zealander who burst on to the international track scene only two years ago.

"I didn't believe I had a chance. I've been thinking it over and over the last few days—how to run, how to beat it (the record). Now I feel I couldn't have run a more perfect race."

Running under ideal conditions, Walker took the lead on the third lap and sped away from the field to become the first man in history to break 3:50 for the mile. He shaved 1.6 seconds off the world record of 3:51.0, set by Bayi in Kingston, Jamaica May 17. The record came before a crowd estimated at 9,000 at Slottskogsvallen Stadium.

HAD SIX-SECOND LEAD

Walker, the only truly top-flight miler in the field, finished nearly six seconds ahead of Ken Hall of Australia, who was clocked in 3:55.2. Graeme Crouch of Australia placed third in 3:56.4. Paul Craig of Toronto was sixth.

Walker was timed in 56.3 seconds for 40 yards and 1:55.5 for 880 as he bided his time behind Savemark. He surged to the front in the third lap, followed by Hall and Crouch, and increased his lead steadily. On the fourth lap he let it all out.

It has taken some 83 years for the record for the mile to be lowered by just 30 seconds—from 4:19.4 by Walter George of Great Britain, June 3, 1882, to 3:49.4 by Walker.

NHL to contest universal contract

TORONTO (CP) — A universal player contract as proposed by the newly-formed Canadian Major Junior Hockey League will be challenged by the National Hockey League Players Association, says its executive-director, Alan Eagleson.

The new league, which incorporates the Ontario Hockey Association Major Junior A series, Quebec Major Junior Hockey League and Western Canada Hockey League, has set up stiff fees for pro clubs that wish to sign under-age juniors.

NHL and World Hockey Association teams would be assessed an $80,000 fee for signing an 18-year-old, $40,000 for a 19-year-old and $20,000 for a player of draft age.

"The NHLPA will challenge this," said Eagleson. "There's no way amateur hockey is going to govern professional hockey. I've held extensive talks with the operators of senior hockey clubs and the universities, and if this contract states in fact what I think it does, there's no way a child of mine will play junior.

The contract is designed to protect junior operators who claim they have been raided by the pros without compensation. Eagleson maintains that if junior clubs want players to sign binding contracts, similar to one the OHA Major Junior A had last season, the players will play university or senior hockey until they are picked up by a pro team.

Great Moment for Jackson

Kevin is now the football player in the Jackson family. The 12-year-old son of famed Ottawa Rough Riders quarterback, Russ Jackson, admires a painting commemorating his father's spectacular farewell performance in the 1969 Grey Cup Game. With the Jacksons is Prudential sales executive, Stanley T. Inches.

The greatest Canadian-born quarterback in the history of the CFL, former Ottawa Rough Riders superstar, Russ Jackson, is the latest subject in Prudential's "Great Moments in Canadian Sport" series of original oil paintings.

The painting, which was unveiled in Toronto by Stanley T. Inches, Senior Vice President, Marketing for Prudential, commemorates Jackson's spectacular performance in the 1969 Grey Cup Game, the zenith of an outstanding professional playing career unmatched since the days of Lionel Conacher. Jackson's record four touchdown passes in his sensational farewell appearance highlighted the Ottawa Rough Riders' 29-11 win over Saskatchewan. It was the third Grey Cup victory he helped bring Ottawa in 12 years, during which he won every major award for a quarterback, including Most Valuable Player in the '69 Grey Cup Game.

On hand to honour Jackson, who returned to the football scene earlier this year as coach of the Toronto Argonauts, were several football notables including his most formidable opponent that memorable afternoon, one-time team-mate Ron Lancaster representing Saskatchewan. Also in attendance were members of the 1969 Grey Cup team including Ron Stewart, Joe Poirier and Marv Bevan.

The artist is Toronto's Gerald Sevier who used a montage technique to portray Jackson in four characteristic field attitudes. Mr. Sevier's work was earlier represented in the series by the painting of hockey immortal Lester Patrick.

Prudential's "Great Moments in Canadian Sport" series of original oil paintings has recorded on canvas 22 of the most exciting events in Canada's sporting history. The Jackson painting will subsequently join its predecessors and other Prudential sport art presently on a tour of Canada and the United States under the auspices of the National Sport and Recreation Centre, Ottawa, to which the entire collection is on indefinite loan.

Included in the series are paintings depicting Paul Henderson scoring the winning goal in the last game of the Canada-Russia hockey series in 1972; The Richardsons of Regina, four times winners of the world curling championship; and super-jockey Sandy Hawley's 500th thoroughbred win in 1973. Twenty-first in the series, introduced in November, 1974, commemorates Olympic Gold Medal winner Nancy Greene's spectacular triumph in the Giant Slalom at the 1968 winter Olympics.

Reprints of all paintings in the series, suitable for framing, are available from the National Sport and Recreation Centre for $3.00 a set. All proceeds from the sale of Great Moments prints go to the support and development of amateur sport and fitness projects in Canada.

Rookie kicker and penalties add up for Blue Bombers win

CALGARY (CP) — A rookie placekicker appearing in his first Western Football Conference game and a pair of costly Calgary Stampeders penalties helped Winnipeg Blue Bombers post their first win Tuesday night since 1965 at McMahon Stadium.

Three long field goals by Bernie Ruoff, a native of Germany who grew up in Kitchener, Ont., and a late fourth-quarter touchdown drive kept alive by two key Calgary penalties enabled the Blue Bombers to eke out an 18-15 victory.

Ruoff disappointed the 27,187 Calgary partisans by hitting three-pointers from 58, 53 and 44 yards. He barely missed breaking the Canadian Football League record of 59 yards when his 62-yard attempt fell short.

Ralph Brock, a back-up quarterback who earned the starting assignment by directing a last-second win over Edmonton Eskimos last week, couldn't do a thing for three quarters.

But he came alive on the final scoring drive to give Winnipeg its third win in four outings and a share of first place with Saskatchewan

Roughriders.

THROWS BOMBS

Brock, who completed only eight of 23 passes for 173 yards, threw passes of 42 yards to Richard Crump and 38 yards to Gord Paterson to move the Blue Bombers into scoring range.

But the drive appeared to be stalled when Brock was stopped at the Calgary 20. However, defensive lineman John Helton was called for roughing and Winnipeg had a first down at the Calgary 10.

Calgary's defence held and when Crump was stopped at the one-yard line on third down, it appeared the Stampeders would take over. But an offside penalty gave the Bombers a first down and Steve Beaird knifed over at 13:02 for the winning score.

Brock completed the scoring with a two-point convert pass to Bob Larose. Winnipeg's other point came when a Calgary punt was blocked and a Stampeders fell on the ball in the end zone to concede a single.

The Stampeders, in third place with a 2-2 record, took a 1-0 first-quarter lead on punter Gerry Knyk's 71-yard single.

Canadian amateur women's golf championship gets underway

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP) — Competitors at the Canadian junior women's golf championships starting here today will need a good short game if they're to score well over the 5,437-yard Brightwood golf course.

The course layout is a rolling cluster of narrow fairways lined by trees and small greens fortified by strategic sand traps several of which are surrounded on three sides by trees.

"The greens are small," says club professional Harold (Bus) Ogden, 33, a teaching pro at Montreal's Summerlea course from 1964 to 1966. "No one will hit them all."

But he says the 67 entrants in the individual championship and its concurrent provincial teams competition can conquer the relatively short course.

Straight shooting from the tees and into the greens should solve most of the course's hazards, Ogden says.

The longest hole on the course is the 443-yard, par-five 16th. The shortest is the 121-yard 12th hole that plays to par three. The 2,842-yard front nine plays to par 36 and the back nine, 2,595 yards, is rated at 35.

The entry list includes defending champion Stacey West of Thornhill, Ont., who won the title a year ago at Edmonton, and Debbie Stewart of Long Beach, Calif., runner-up last year and the 1975 California junior champion.

Other prime challengers to Miss West's title include Dawne Kortgaard of Calgary, who has a golf scholarship at the University of Hawaii, and four juniors who survived two cuts at the Canadian women's amateur in Oakfield, N.S., last week and finished the 72-hole event.

A 52-yard screen pass from quarterback Joe Pisarcik to Willie Burden, a swift halfback who picked up 130 yards on the ground, and Cyril McFall's convert gave the Stampeders an 8-0 edge midway through the second quarter.

Ruoff, who was cut by New England Patriots of the National Football League and grabbed a spot on the roster when Bob Macoritti suddenly retired to continue his education, kicked two field goals before the half ended.

Canadiens open training at Forum Sept. 15, meet Bruins four days later

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens will open their National Hockey League training camp at the Forum Sept. 15 and, four days later, meet Boston Bruins in an exhibition game at Springfield, Mass., general manager Sam Pollock announced Monday.

Pollock said about 65 players will report to coach Scotty Bowman, 12 of them trying out with the club for the first time.

The Canadiens will play a total of 10 pre-season games, two on home ice.

After their Sept. 19 meeting with the Bruins in Springfield, the Canadiens return home to take on the defending Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia Flyers the next night. The teams will play a return engagement at Philadelphia Sept. 21.

The Canadiens then move on to Vancouver for games against the Canucks Sept. 23 and 24. They meet the Bruins in Boston Sept. 27.

Other games have the Canadiens meeting the Black Hawks in Chicago Sept. 28 and at Ottawa Oct. 1 before moving to Moncton, N.B., for an Oct. 3 game against the Bruins, who travel to Montreal for the final game of the exhibition schedule the next night. OPEN AGAINST KINGS

The Canadiens open their regular season Oct. 8 at home against Los Angeles Kings.

Pollock also announced that two players selected in this year's amateur draft have signed with the club.

Right winger Kelly Greenbank, the Canadiens' second choice in the second round, and centre Doug Jarvis, second choice of Toronto Maple Leafs in the draft, signed contracts. Montreal obtained Jarvis in a trade that sent Greg Hubick to the Leafs.

Political aspects could hurt Games, says hurdler Mann

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — An incident similar to the murder of most of the Israeli team by Arab terrorists at the 1972 Olympic Games at Munich could occur next year at Montreal unless less emphasis is put on the political aspect of the Games, says hurdler Ralph Mann.

Mann, 26, world record holder in the 400-metre and 440-yard hurdles and a silver medalist in 1972, said terrorism is another form of the political action which has made the Olympics a burden for athletes.

"The athletes are there for the purpose of competing, but it's difficult to perform well with the political environment on the outside," he said in an interview.

He said most athletes would have backed the late distance runner Steve Prefontaine when he said, "the hell with competing for my country."

"All Prefontaine was saying is it was my sacrifice, not yours," Mann said. "It was my will, not yours. I need your help, yet you turn your back. Now all of a sudden you're willing to sit back and associate my medal with my country."

If he could go to the Olympics knowing he had the best coach, financial assistance and resources behind him, Mann said, "then I may be willing to give some credit to my country. But I'm out to win for myself, not my country."

HORSE PULLING is fast becoming a top attraction of the county fairs. Cookshire Fair last weekend was no exception and a team of ponies is seen competing in the afternoon, followed in the evening by a horse pulling contest.

ET farmers have varied success with '75 crops

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS (RH) — Farmers are having varied success with their crops this year, according to Agronomer Don MacMillan of Cookshire.

He said farmers are complaining that their first hay crop of the year will amount to about three quarters of last year's first crop, but added that he thought the second crop of alfalfa and clover would probably make up the difference.

Corn, however, is more abundant than it was last year due to the hot weather over the summer, he explained.

"Although the weather was hot," he said, there was enough dew on the ground at night to keep the corn crop green.

Garden vegetables apparently ripened too fast during the heat wave, he pointed out. "The garden vegetables and fruits are smaller because they ripened so quickly," he commented. "Raspberries, for instance, are smaller this year than they were last year."

The potato yield will probably be down, due to a lack of the rain necessary for high produce in this crop, according to Mr. MacMillan, although he added it was a little early to tell.

Oats, planted early in the year, have yielded a satisfactory crop but those planted later were not as successful, once again owing to the dry weather, he concluded.

Fruit and Vegetable market

To watch turkey prices

OTTAWA — The National Farm Products Marketing Council recently advised the Canadian Turkey Marketing Agency that turkey prices will be monitored to ensure they are reasonable to producers and consumers, as required under the Farm Products Marketing Agencies Act.

Import quotas will continue to protect turkey producers' supply management program, but should prices become unreasonably high, action will be taken by the Council. Indeed, the Council pointed out that the government plans to allow additional quantities of turkeys into Canada should prices be considered too high relative to production costs.

Council further advised that guidelines would be developed based on cost of production to enable the Agency to keep prices within bounds.

The Council announced, with the support of Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan, its intention to provide appeal procedures to any group having a grievance. Public hearings would be held to air any disputes, as provided under the Farm Products Marketing Agencies Act.

Magician's shop fascinates always

EDMONTON (CP) — When customers enter Willard's House of Magic, they sometimes take one look at the skeleton on the wall and slowly back out.

Wilfred Willard, who last September opened Alberta's first magic shop—as opposed to joke or novelty shops—says people in Edmonton "still find a magic shop a little strange."

The shop, designed for both the novice conjurer and the professional performer, sells everything from coin tricks and magic books to a genuine dove pan for stage.

Novelties and masks hang from the ceiling, faded posters of Houdini and Dante the Magician line the walls, and under one counter the owner keeps a bulgy scrapbook from his days as a stage performer.

"You have to be a magician to have a magic shop," said Mr. Willard, 45, who has studied magic for 29 years and made his living at it from 19.

His clientele includes children "who are dying to get in here," mothers who see magic as a possible cure for withdrawn children or those suffering from muscular diseases, and stage groups who want something new for their act.

Salesmen who use magic techniques as ice-breakers, and "old-timers" who dropped the craft and want to get back, are also frequent customers.

A former nightclub performer and carnival swordswallower, Mr. Willard doesn't believe magic can be marketed on a self-serve basis.

For that reason, he and his wife Rita transform the small shop into a free magic show at the customer's request. They will demonstrate any trick, although they won't tell how it works until it is purchased.

"A lot of people who come in the shop aren't interested in magic until they see the tricks demonstrated," the owner said. "Then they become my best customers."

He recommends mechanical devices, which give the illusion of magic but require no skill, for beginners. A jiffy coin-changer which "transforms" nickels into dimes, and a $1 cigarette holder which seemingly produces cigarettes from thin air, are two popular novice items.

Other tricks, such as a cup and a ball, require some sleight-of-hand and take longer to master, Mr. Willard said. From there, the tricks advance to the professional level.

Mr. Willard, who gets help demonstrating from his two sons, said the handful of full-time magicians in the city seem enthusiastic about the shop.

The magician, who first became interested in magic at the age of nine when he saw Dante perform in Montreal, said he has dreamed of owning a magic shop since visiting one in New York in 1946.

A native of Montreal, he worked in clubs there and started his own road show before moving to California where he lived for 15 years. A visit to Edmonton to see relatives last year convinced the Willards to settle here.

However, the magician said that although the shop attracted a lot of initial curiosity, it has taken time to build up a clientele.

"People come by and look in the window, but they won't step inside for weeks. Then sometimes they spend $20 at once."

Future plans include being host at a free one-hour magic show on Saturday mornings, and starting magic classes for hobbyists and close-up performers.

Mr. Willard, who said magic develops speaking ability and wit, believes interest in the "good clean art of magic" is increasing. Last year, it was the fastest-growing hobby in the United States, where magic shops are numerous.

There isn't a fortune in it yet for me, but I hope that soon we'll get more people in Edmonton interested."

CATTLE JUDGING — is a high point at any local fair, and Bedford County Fair is no exception. Pictured here is the winning calf of a previous year and her owner.

BEDFORD (JM) — A rodeo will be the feature attraction Thursday and Friday nights at 9 p.m. Missisquoi Agricultural Society spokesman Fernand Archambeault said local aspirants to the Calgary Stampede can get their licks in on home grounds before heading for the 'big apple'. He wasn't sure just how one could go about entering, the final day at 12:30 in the arena, and a harness race will get going at 1:30. Trapeze artists will vie with the parade of animals at 3 p.m. and judging of horses under harness begins at 4 in the arena. A stunt aircraft will perform at 4 and the guys and gals in the nylon chutes will jump at 4:30. More of the trapeze act at 5 then a western horse show in the arena at 6.

Enthusiasm has been building here as fair time draws near. The children will really begin to have a keen sense of anticipation when they see the first sign of the rides operated by Beauce Amusements shaping up. Honorary president Jean Marc Duchesneau said this should be the biggest and best in their history.

trying to lure patrons to the tables. Candied apples, popcorn, cotton candy and all the other diversions associated with a fair will prevail at the third oldest fair in Canada.

Festivities get underway with a parade through Bedford Thursday at 6 p.m., the official opening is slated for 7 p.m. at the Arena, although the young breeders will have been judged earlier in the day.

Friday begins with judging in horticulture, culinary arts and handicrafts at 9:30 a.m. Cattle judging starts at 10; ponies at 1:30 p.m. and sheep at 2 p.m. Punsters can make the odd unofficial wager on the pony races when the dust starts to rise from the track at 6:30 while the rest of the audience can enjoy a trapeze, acrobats and trained apes at 8 p.m.

however any prospective bronco-buster can call the society at 248-7717 for further information.

Saturday opens with a hunter horse show in the arena at 9:30 a.m. This event will be repeated at 1 and 8 p.m. Judging in horses gets underway at 10 followed by cattle at 10:30 a.m. A Loto-Perfecta sponsored race will be held at 1:30 with Ray Mullins and Gene Sirois as two of the officials. The trapeze act starts at 4 followed by a demonstration of parachute jumping at 4:30. The evening closes with the now traditional Bavarian night. (Wonder if the Quebec Liquor Board would bend sufficiently to allow them to sell Lowenbrau on tap?)

Sunday mass will be sung on the fair grounds at noon. A pony show starts the amusement activities off on

Bedford County Fair—Stampede of the east?

It is with great enthusiasm that the Annual Bedford Fair of 1975 is presenting a Rodeo with all the excitement and pleasure that entails. Horses and cattle will demonstrate their energetic violence placing their riders in difficult situations to the point of peril, but their boldness will never be affected by the dangers they must face. Our spectators will shiver as they watch these cowboys try to get out of many comprising positions. Amateur daredevils will surely enjoy this performance.

there will be a presentation at 8 p.m. and another on Friday, August 15 at 9 p.m.

RESEARCH AND PROGRESS

Under this theme we will present to you the Agricultural Machinery Department. May we first offer, in the name of all our Industrial-Exhibitors, a warm welcome to all professional and amateur farmers as well as those interested in the field of Agriculture.

The grounds of the Bedford Fair, at which the industry will exhibit for the farmer as well as for the horticulturist.

Our visitors will be astonished by the mechanical achievements made by researchers in the field of agriculture.

National and international brands will be present on the fair grounds of 1975.

Alas, this great exposition will be over all too soon, but it will not be forgotten and will be back next year — bigger and better.

will give special homage to the women who have contributed and are still contributing to the success of the fair and — still more important — to those who have contributed to the progress of the regional agriculture.

Accompanying this homage they will be presented with flowers as a present of gratitude.

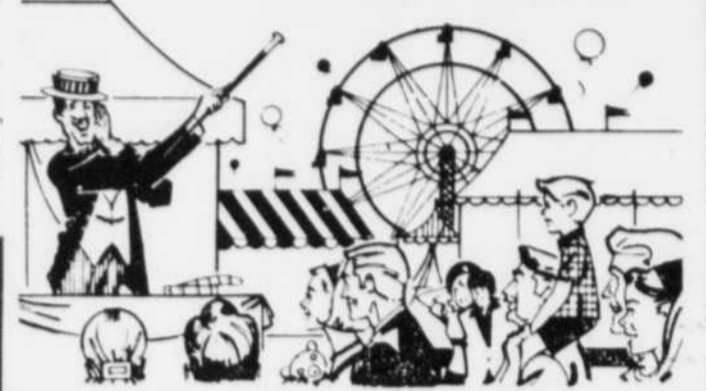

We will see you soon. During your visit to Bedford, the Direction of the Missisquoi Agricultural Society assures you its total devotion.

CATTLE PARADE — Farmers will get a chance to show off their best livestock, an annual event at the Bedford County Fair. Prize cows will be on parade as usual.

1. Any person may become a member of the Society by paying any Director, or the Secretary-Treasurer, the sum of $2.00.
2. No person will be allowed more than one premium in the same class. Exception cattle prizes. This rule does not apply to specials.
3. The directors are to withhold any premium if the judges report the exhibit unworthy. All horses and colts (brood mares excepted) to be sound.
4. No person shall receive a premium on article unless he has been the bona fide owner thereof 30 days before Exhibition.
5. All horses, cattle, must be taken out of stall to be judged.
6. Judges shall be at work at the time indicated in the programme for each class.
7. Any competitor in any way interfering or trying to influence the judges in the discharge of their duties shall forfeit all claims to premiums.
8. The officers of the society have the right to decide all matters in all disputes that may arise according to regulations of the society or the conduct of the fair.
9. Exhibitors of purebred stock ARE OBLIGED TO SHOW REGISTERED PAPERS OF THEIR ANIMALS TO JUDGES OR DIRECTORS.
10. All animals must be owned by the exhibitor. In case of leased bulls, an official certificate of lease for a period of 12 months must be presented. Exception to this rule will be made in the case of bona fide members of Boys and Girls 4-H Calf Clubs organized under the Federal and Provincial Calf Club Policy.
- IMPORTANT: If the stock exhibited is of inferior quality, the judges will award only such premiums as they think the articles deserve.
11. No prize will be awarded to any stallion that does not possess a permit from the Stallion Inspection Board as required by the regulations of Council of Agriculture.
12. Stock and other exhibits to be in place by 12:00 A.M. (noon) Aug. 14 to remain until 7:00 P.M. Aug. 17.

13. All exhibits in the Horticulture Building shall be handled by officers in charge only.
14. Any protest must be made in writing to the Secretary-Treasurer before the close of the Exhibition, with a deposit of $10.00 to be returnable in case the protest is maintained and the Directors reserve to themselves the right to withhold the payment of any premium or any portion of any premium until all matters in dispute are settled or for any reason whatsoever.
15. Directors shall have the power to add, to strike or amend any of these rules previous to Aug. 1st in the case due notice will be given each member.

Photography exhibitions must 'stir emotions of viewers'

OTTAWA (CP) — At a recent photographic exhibition of Men Who Make Our World by Yousuf Karsh, the museum director noticed that, day after day, an elderly visitor stood before the same portrait—that of the famous cellist, Pablo Casals, photographed from the back.

Finally, consumed with curiosity, the director asked why. The visitor put a finger to his lips.

"Please do not disturb me," he said, "can't you see, I am listening to the music." Karsh's eyes twinkled with delight as he retold this story. He believes a portrait photographer has two main tasks: to lay bare the soul of the subject, and to stir the emotions of his viewer.

"To make enduring photographs," he said, "one must learn to see with the mind's eye, for the mind and the heart are the true lens of the camera."

Inverness

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Canning have returned after spending some time at their cottage, Sanford Lake. They spent the month of July with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Buck, Calgary, and while there, the four of them motored to Vancouver where they spent a few days.

Mr. Reuben Little was a supper guest at the Crawford home.

Visitors of Mrs. Gertie Wright were Mrs. Herbie Shannon, Danville, Miss Theo Crawford, Richmond, Miss Dorothy Crawford, Miss Muriel Crawford, Montreal, Mr. R. Labrecque, Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and family, Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Currie and children, Susan, Stella and David, Hamilton, Mr. Davie Currie, St. Pierre Baptiste.

Guests of Mrs. Arthur Minnaugh were Mrs. Alice Muir, Miss Pearl Patterson, Glen Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marshall, Belcher Range, Mrs. Wm. Cochran, California, Mrs. Wm. Davidson, New York, Mrs. John Meehan, Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Mr. Buddy Dacres, Ontario, spent a few days visiting his mother, Mrs. Susie Dacres. Other guests at the same home were Mrs. Norman Champagne and son Martin, Thetford Mines.

Mrs. Wm. Davidson, New York, Mrs. John Meehan, Elizabeth, New Jersey, spent a few days with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lunnie and son Graydon were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little.

Miss Edith Clifford of Toronto, Ontario, has returned home after spending two weeks with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little.

Mrs. Ann Little and daughter Lauralie of Lennoxville spent a few days at the same home.

Mrs. Laura B. Bailey of Brooklyn, New York and Mrs. Frank Leacock of Goffstown, N.H., are spending some time with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Wright and family were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little with their house guests, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Leacock, Miss Clifford, Mrs. Ann Little and Lauralie attended the Wright-Davidson wedding on August 2nd at Christ's Church, Lower Ireland.

Guests at the Allan Little home while here to attend the Wright-Davidson wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher of Goffstown, N.H. Mrs. Gaston Sinotte of Waterbury, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allan of Moncton, N.B., and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Little of Lennoxville.

Mrs. Eric Adams and two sons of Beaconsfield and Mrs. Jacques Racine of Ste. Foy called on Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little one afternoon. Mrs. Hattie Learmonth and daughter Mildred were guests at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Little, accompanied by Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Leacock were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Wright and family in Henderson Vale.

entering his studio in the Chateau Laurier Hotel here is a familiar photograph of the Queen and Prince Philip.

Reproductions of this "portrait by Karsh" are hanging in classrooms, courtrooms and civic buildings across the country.

CAME AS REFUGEE
Its prominent place on his wall is perhaps symbolic of gratitude for his Canadian citizenship. He came to Canada in 1924 as a refugee from the Armenian massacres, bringing with him little more than good manners and the name of his Uncle Nakash in Sherbrooke, Que. Now the still-youthful and enthusiastic photographer says of his adopted country: "It happened to be the best in the world."

Several months in the fourth grade in Sherbrooke represent his only formal education. But he has since been granted honorary doctorates by a score of Canadian and American universities.

Karsh first achieved international renown in 1941 with his photograph of Winston Churchill. It was taken without Churchill's advance permission, with the help and encouragement of Karsh's friend and patron, then Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The British prime minister had just addressed the combined Houses of the Canadian Parliament. He was taken aback to find a photographer in the Speaker's chamber, lights already in place.

"It is true," Karsh admits to the frequently-asked question, "that I did remove the cigar from Winston Churchill's lips—but with infinite respect!"

PORTRAYED FAMOUS
Since then, Karsh has photographed the Royal Family, Pope John XXIII, Pablo Picasso, John F. Kennedy, Albert Einstein, Eleanor Roosevelt, Helen Keller, Nikita Khrushchev, George Bernard Shaw, and countless other leaders in the arts and sciences and in world affairs.

"But it is the great in spirit I like to photograph," he said, "whether they be famous or humble."

However, there are gaps in his collection. "Chairman Mao still is missing," he said, with a note of wistfulness.

Even if this picture were possible, Karsh would not be wholly content.

"I would have liked to photograph the great leaders of all ages, and the great sages of all religions."

Karsh is at present studying languages and carrying out experiments in photography, in addition to performing photographic assignments all over the world.

Last spring he spent 10 days on horseback, photographing wild boars and flamingoes in France. He also is working on a new book of portraits of Canadian personalities.

This summer he is guest of honor at the Arles Festival of the Arts in France and will show some of his famous photographs.

Bernice Bede Osol

For Thursday, Aug. 21, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're fortunate in doing things alone today. Shun large groups or social functions because you'll meet opposition.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll upset family members if you let a secret slip out today. Luck is on your side as long as you keep things to yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's a waste of time to travel or run errands today, since nothing can be accomplished. Bask in the sun by the pool.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Avoid spending money today. You'll buy all the wrong things. You can be creative without needless expense.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Others won't see eye-to-eye with you today. If you could listen to the other side of the story and yield, it would bring you happiness.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You'll have an inclination to make changes at work today. There'll be no problems unless you try to use unfamiliar tools on the project.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You can have a good time today with one or two people. Don't let it grow into a mob scene, or your fun will be fleeting.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Much work can be accomplished at home today, but don't look for pats on the back. Forget it. You won't get them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't be drawn into deep discussions about things such as politics or religion today. Keep the rap sessions light. Avoid bitterness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You'll be tempted to buy something today, but check with the family first. Otherwise, you could upset them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your one-to-one dealings with associates could be unfortunate today. Why not go out and meet new and different people?

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Play your hunches anywhere but at work today. The sarcastic comments of co-workers could throw you off-balance.

Your Birthday

Aug. 21, 1975

You may not possess all the money in the world this coming year. If you go on a lot of short trips and meet new people, much happiness awaits you.

Bruce-Taylor band already kaput

By Stephen Ford

NEW YORK—(NEA)—After convincing skeptics that Jack Bruce's new consortium with partners Mick Taylor and Carla Bley was not just a flash in the band, Taylor and Miz Bley have split before they even finished their first album together. Taylor, who left the Rolling Stones only a few months ago, attributed the split to differences of opinions. Carla is eager to return to greater jazz-influenced material from whence she came.

Canadian C&W songstress Anne Murray's current tour of the United States doubles as a honeymoon since she and television producer Bill Langstroth were married just recently. Not especially pleased with the artwork on his most recent album, Eric Clapton decided if you want something done right, you gotta do it yourself. So he's designed the album cover for his soon-to-be released LP "E.C. Was Here."

Interesting sort of family tree bassist Mike Wedgwood of Caravan tell from Charles Darwin leads off the cavalcade of Wedgwood's illustrious ancestors followed by Josia Wedgwood who cornered the china market some centuries ago and Sir Anthony Wedgwood Ben, the controversial British labor leader Britain's leading contemporary composer. Ralph Vaughn Williams is also included in the Wedgwood fold.

Vocalist Les McKeown of the raucous Bay City Rollers had been screaming lined up for blocks around a courthouse in London when he made a not-very-pleasant appearance. McKeown was charged with the accidental death of a pedestrian while driving his car.

Rupert Holmes, whose mysterious multi-media record excursions have prompted a cult following, is presently producing Barbra Streisand's latest vinyl effort. Les Paul, whose customized guitar became legend while he became obscure, will make his first public appearance in over a decade when he performs next month in San Francisco at the Great American Music Hall.

"I would sometimes get sick to my stomach, seeing myself plastered all over billboards, bubblegum cards and TV. I was merchandise, a fabrication made up by businessmen and totally overlooked as an artist with any real talent — the fans couldn't see it because they were overwhelmed by the hype. It was very frustrating."

Speaking in the all-new 1975 model David Cassidy. Dimples and sugar belying his 25 years, he is no longer the national sweetie pie able to stampee herds of swooning adolescents.

"I knew I would never get beyond the role of Keith Partridge if I didn't stop contributing to that image," Cassidy explained. "So I cut it all out. I quit the TV show. I starts to think when the time for thinking is long past."

Jacoby's bridge

Oswald: "A little thought before leading to trick two would show South that his slam would be cold against anything but a 4-0 trump break. Further thought would show him that if East held all four trumps nothing could be done but that there was a way to handle four trumps in the West hand."

Oswald: "That way would be for South to play his queen of trumps at trick two. West could do no better than take his ace. Later on South would finesse twice against the ten-nine and make his slam."

It is a matter of tradition. In whist, the great grandfather of contract, honors were really important. In bridge and auction bridge, they also made a material difference in the score. They mean little in contract, but the public are used to them and they add a little spice to rubber bridge. On the other hand, they really have no place in duplicate and have been eliminated for some time.

Jim: "On many occasions we have discussed the slight extra chance that the real expert gives himself when it is there."

Oswald: "In the ordinary bridge game South loses little or no time in finding a way to mislead the trump suit. He wins the club lead and promptly leads a low trump toward dummy. West follows with the seven and the king or jack is played. East shows out and some ten minutes later South has lost his two trump tricks."

Jim: "The ten minutes elapsing at the end is typical. He
