DENIED ORCHARD'S STORY POSITIVELY

Important Witness for Defence, in Haywood Trial

ORCHARD'S THREATS

Against Steunenberg Again Testified To, and Another Witness Swears he was Employed of Mine Owners.

Boise, Idaho, June 26.—Wm. F. Davis, of Goldfield, Nev., one of the most important witnesses for the defense of Wm. D. Haywood, accused of the murder of Steunenberg, was called to the stand at noon to-day, and his cross-examination had not been completed when court adjourned. Harry Orchard testified that Davis led and commanded the mob that destroyed the Bunker mill and Sullivan mine in 1899, inspired, as the agent of Haywood and Moyer, the Vindicator explosion and the train wrecking plot at Cripple Creek, and was an accomplice in the Independence Station crime.

On direct examination by Clarence Darrow, Davis went over the story of his working life and made positive denial of every statement of Orchard that involved him or his associates in any form of crime. Davis denied that he was even a member of the union when the Bunker mill and Sullivan mine was blown up. At the conclusion of his general story, Davis swore that at Cripple Creek during the strike Orchard told him of the Hercules mine affair and threatened to kill Steunenberg.

The cross-examination of Davis by Senator Borah was severe and searching. It was chiefly devoted, as far as it proceeded, to the Bunker mill and Sullivan affair and the circumstances under which Orchard made the threat against Steunenberg. Davis asserted that he remained at Gem the day the Bunker mill was blown up. While he saw the train in charge of the masked mob arrive and depart from Gem, he could not name any one on the train except engineer Hutton. He said there was no excitement and he made no inquiry about the mob. Davis said that he remained in hiding after the mill was blown up because he did not want to be reported or thrown into "the bull pen" and that he changed his name when he departed from Butte shortly afterwards, because he feared the mine owners "black list" made up from a petition that the employees of the Bunker mill had sent to Governor O'Connell protesting against the unsafe of the mine. Borah showed that the petition had been presented six years before, and that Butte was a federation camp where the black list was ineffective. Passing to the alleged threat that Orchard made against Steunenberg, the witness was unable to recall what any one else had said on that occasion except the words of Orchard. Davis will return to the stand to-morrow.

Mrs. Lottie Day, of Denver, testified that in 1904, Orchard told her about the loss of his interest in the Hercules mine and that he said he would kill Steunenberg for the wrong done him.

John D. Elliott, an old soldier, swore that Orchard told him on a train in Idaho in the fall of 1905 that Orchard was in the employment of the mine owners and that there was a plot against the federation and its leaders.

Cross-examination showed that Elliott had twice been in an insane asylum with a mind unbalanced by family troubles. John M. O'Neill, editor of the Miners' Magazine, was the only other witness during the day. He testified that Orchard came to his office early in 1905 and asked for the addresses of Governor Peabody and General Sherman Bell, who he said, should be "bumped off." O'Neill said that he related Orchard to a city director. The State used the cross-examination of O'Neill to make it clear the magazine was the official organ of the federation and expressed the federation's views, and to read to the jury from the magazine some sneering articles about the death of Steunenberg. O'Neill also said that he had seen Orchard at Federation headquarters several times and that Steve Adams and Mrs. Adams had also been there.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS

London, Eng., June 26.—The three day's debate in the house of commons ended at midnight, when Premier Campbell-Bannerman's resolution in favor of curtailing the power of the House of Lords in vetoing bills passed in the House of Commons was carried by 432 to 147 amid loud ministerial cheers. The amendment introduced by A. Henderson (Laborite), Durham, for a total abolition of the House of Lords was previously rejected by 315 to 100, the minority being composed of laborites, nationalists and a few radicals. In this division, the unionists as a body obtained from voting. The Premier on leaving the House was given a great ovation.

No man is as wicked as his thoughts.

PLOT CONCEIVED FOR POLITICAL ENDS

Says Emmerson of Charges Against Him

HIS HONOR AS A MAN

All That He Has Fought For—In View of Political Aspect Liberal Party Must Strike Back.

Toronto, June 26.—"My fight has been simply for the vindication of my honor as a man, and I have never made it the fight of the Liberal party," said Hon. H. R. Emmerson, ex-Minister of Railways and Canals, to-night when interviewed. Mr. Emmerson is bound for West Virginia, where he has important business interests. Referring to the case against Mr. James H. Crockett, the editor of the Fredericton Gleaner, he said:—"It has been wholly dealt with by the Conservative press of Canada from a political standpoint, which convinces one that there is no high moral aim in view. That the morals of the question is not at all the moving feature impelling those who indulged in the defamatory words seems quite clear. They have no high moral purpose to serve."

"It was a plot conceived for political purposes and the Liberal party must strike back. The comments of some of the Toronto newspapers indicate that they consider it my political defeat as if that were the main consideration. It may seem so to them, but my political destruction certainly will not in any way help the Conservative party in New Brunswick, because the vitality of the Liberal party is there, and in my small way I will always fight for its success as I have done since 1878. I think the animus shown me will be an incentive to greater activity on my part than ever before."

"I have reason to believe," said Mr. Emmerson in conclusion, "that the defamatory statements against me originated in Montreal and certainly the headquarters of the defense is to be found in that city. The whole thing has been originated as a feature of the campaign of scandal directed against the Liberal party."

2ND OFFICER DEAD

Jos. Charbonneau, of Steamer Lady Grey, Struck on Head by Towing Rope.

News reached town yesterday of a fatal accident on board the Canadian Government steamer Lady Grey, which resulted in the almost instant death of the Second Officer, Joseph Charbonneau.

The steamer Lady Grey left for the Lower St. Lawrence on Sunday morning with a dredge in tow. During Monday night, the accident happened, Charbonneau being struck in the head by the towing cable and so badly injured that he died a short time later. The Lady Grey brought the body to River du Loup, where an inquest was held on the remains by the coroner of that district.

SUCCESSION DUTIES

Toronto, June 26.—The Government of several of the provinces of the Dominion have intimated their willingness to consider favorably the opportunity offered by Ontario for a reciprocal arrangement in reference to the collection of succession duties. New Brunswick is the first province to formally enter into such an agreement. Its administration has passed an order-in-council extending the provisions of the New Brunswick act as to harmonize with section 6, subsection 9, of the Ontario succession duties act. This simply means that New Brunswick will not collect duties on the devolution of property situated in Ontario on which the latter province has already levied a tax, on condition that Ontario refrains from taxing the portion of an estate situated in New Brunswick. This plan is intended to prevent the double taxation of estates, situated partly in one province and partly in another, as is possible under the present law. Provision will, however, be made for cases in which the rate of taxation in one province exceeds that in another.

AN IMPORTANT CASE

Decided in Court of Appeals Yesterday—Many Judgments Rendered.

In the Court of Appeals yesterday seventeen judgments were rendered by Chief Justice Taschereau and Judges Roberval, Blanchet, Tremholme, Lavergne, Cross and Cimon ad hoc and Carroll ad hoc. Following were the judgments rendered:—

Proulx, appellant, and Bruneau and al, respondents, from Arthabaska, confirmed with costs, Judge Blanchet dissenting.

Neron, appellant, and Corporation of Roberval, respondents, Chicoutimi district, confirmed with costs.

Bruneau, appellant, and Corporation du Village de Princeville, respondents, Arthabaska, confirmed, Judge Tremholme dissenting.

Labonte, appellant, and Roy, respondent, Quebec, modified, and appellant allowed twenty dollars damages with costs of appeal in his favor, but costs in Superior Court against appellant.

Chapuy, appellant, and Lavoie, respondent, Chicoutimi, confirmed with costs.

Robert, appellant, and Lefebvre, respondent, Quebec, confirmed with costs.

Busque, appellant, and Veilleux, respondent, Beauce, confirmed with costs.

East and al, appellants, and Couture, respondent, Quebec, confirmed with costs, Judges Blanchet and Cimon dissenting.

Corporation of St. Christophe d'Arthabaska, appellants, and Corporation of the County of Arthabaska, respondents, confirmed with costs.

Pelletier and vir., appellants, and Bernier, respondent, Montmagny, reversed with costs, Judges Blanchet and Lavergne dissenting.

Cote, appellant, and Cote, respondent, Quebec, confirmed with costs.

Corporation of the County of Champlain, appellants, and Buist, respondent, Three Rivers, confirmed with costs, Judge Tremholme dissenting.

Lafontaine, appellant, and Leveille, respondent, Three Rivers, confirmed with costs.

Tremblay, appellant, and Gagnon, respondent, Chicoutimi, reversed with costs.

Quintehouan Pulp Co., appellants, and The Quintehouan Fish and Game Club, Quebec, confirmed with costs.

Poirier, appellant, and Gregoire, respondent, confirmed with costs, Judge Blanchet dissenting.

United Shoe Machinery Co., appellants, and Brunet, Lachance and Tanguay, respondents, Quebec, confirmed with costs, Judge Tremholme dissenting.

The latter case is a most important one and the judgment has been awaited with great interest by all those using machinery supplied by the United Shoe Co. and that of the Canadian Shoe Co.

The boot and shoe firm of Brunet, Lachance & Tanguay had a contract with the United Shoe Machinery Co., but subsequently made a contract with Mr. Ernest Caron, Manager of the Canadian Co. The United Shoe Co. took out a writ of injunction against the Brunet firm besides an action for $10,000 damages. The case was tried by a jury which rendered a verdict in favor of Brunet and al, which verdict was confirmed in March, 1905 by Judge Cimon, who condemned the United Shoe Machinery Co. to pay the costs of the case. From this judgment the United Shoe Co. appealed but their appeal was dismissed yesterday with costs, Judge Tremholme dissenting. Hon. T. C. Casgrain, acting for the United Shoe Co., asked leave to appeal to the Privy Council, which request was granted.

A LIBERAL RALLY

Inauguration of New Political Club of Quebec Centre.

The Quebec Centre Liberal Club recently organized was inaugurated last evening by a rally of Liberals at Tara Hall. The body of the hall was well filled but very few occupied seats in the galleries. Ald. Picard, president, and Mr. Philippe Paradis acted as secretary. Among those occupying seats on the platform were Hon. Mesars, Gouin, Prevost, Roy, Weir and Kaine, Messrs. W. Power, M.P., Lachance, M.P., Hon. A. Robitaille, M.P.P., L. A. Taschereau, M.P.P., E. Roy, M.P.P., Geo. E. Amyot, H. Barthe, Ald. Galipeault, Ald. C. E. Taschereau, and Messrs. Pettigrew, Berlinget, Francoeur, J. A. Cimon and several others.

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and speeches were then in order. Hon. Mr. Robitaille was the first speaker to be introduced, being followed by Mr. Lachance, M.P., and Hon. Mr. Gouin. The Premier referred to the good work done by the Liberal party, for the Province, for several years past, and among other things stated that next year the Government would have an additional million of dollars to spend in the interest of the Province. His predecessors had done considerable work what was due to it from extra Federal subsidies and he had also, jointly with the premiers of other provinces, made another effort, which had been successful. Regarding the Prevost-Asselin matter he would refer to that incident on another occasion as he had not as yet had occasion to peruse the evidence in the case which was an incident used by l'Epine against one of the most esteemed colleagues in his cabinet. He spoke in high terms of Hon. Mr. Turgeon and he had no hesitation in accepting the word of Hon. Mr. Turgeon in preference to that of Baron de l'Epine. Talking about the rumors in Conservative circles that the provincial elections were going to take place soon, Hon. Mr. Gouin said that if their opponents were anxious to go before the electors, he had no objection whatever but he was well aware that the Conservatives would complain that they had been taken unawares and that Liberals should complete their term of office. However, if the elections were held in six months, twelve months or two years hence, he was certain that the Liberal party in this province would again be returned to power.

During his remarks, Premier Gouin was frequently applauded. He was followed by Hon. Mr. Weir, Hon. Messrs. Roy, Prevost and Messrs. L. A. Taschereau and Ernest Roy, M.L.A.'s who were all well received.

FROM THE CAPITAL

An Important Ruling for Fraternal Societies—New Canadian Citizens.

Ottawa, June 26.—Mr. C. J. Booth, Mr. Robt. Gorman and Dr. R. P. Robinson are among those who will attend the meeting of Foster shareholders in Toronto to-morrow. Mr. Booth goes with proxies representing over 100,000 shares. They will express dissatisfaction with the way things have been going on generally in the company's affairs. The Union St. Joseph of Hull decided to raise the price of subscriptions among its older members. A by-law was passed last winter that those of long standing should be taxed more than younger members. G. Barron, a member, appealed that it was against the constitution of the society and today in the courts the judge sustained his appeal. This is an important ruling to fraternal societies. A resident of Ottawa says that the military camp at Petawawa is all right for artillery shooting, but not inferior for infantry training. He says it is an immense field of sand and a very dirty place. Many infantry men say that they will not go there another season. The eastern Ontario fat stock show committee have decided not to allow breeders from western Ontario or Quebec to compete at the next exhibition. The eastern breeders are discouraged because they have carried off the best prizes heretofore. The Provincial Government supports the view. The breeders excluded can participate in the registered stock sales, however.

The fruit department have been handed some undersized berry baskets got from an Ottawa store and an investigation will be made as to their source. There is a suspicion that a firm in Montreal may have put them in on the market among some larger ones.

In 1906 tables of naturalization show 10,242 as compared with 6,623 for the year previous. The United States supplied 3,388. The total number of new Canadian citizens was 10,242 last year, but three years residence are required for naturalization papers.

The whole train crew of the G.T.R. light engine which crashed into the New York and Ottawa freight train at Eastman's Springs on Saturday evening killing Fireman W. R. Douglas, was suspended to-day. This was the result of investigation proceeded with by Mr. Morley Donaldson, superintendent at Ottawa.

No. 8 Company, 43rd Regt., D.C.O. R., will hold an international shooting match with Company G, the Massachusetts Infantry, Aug 17 and Sept. 14.

GUGGENHEIMS NOW CONTROL KLONDIKE

Vancouver, B.C., June 26.—The Guggenheims are now in control of all the important placer properties in the Klondike watershed. They are now to be worked by the new method with three of the largest dredges in the world. For the claims just secured $10,000,000 has been paid to the holders, A. N. C. Tremblay, the Northwest Hydraulic Co., Yukon Consolidated Gold Fields Co. One of the Guggenheim devices is an electrical sweep which sweeps the bed of creeks without the use of dredges.

CANADIAN ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.

The statement at the annual meeting of the Canadian Electric Light Company which we published yesterday, was an eminently satisfactory one in all respects, and while it testified to the combined prudence and energy with which the affairs of the company have been conducted holds forth a promise of further progress and prosperity. It is highly creditable to the company to know that its large floating debt of a few years ago has become so much reduced that it may be fairly regarded as a negligible quantity, and it is still more creditable that the affairs of the company have been so well managed, and the net profits so satisfactory that it is justified in commencing to pay a dividend of 5 per cent. per annum, half-yearly, on the common stock with good prospects of an increase next year to 6 per cent. The company may be congratulated on these evident signs of its success.

NO GRAFT, SAYS THE GLOBE.

The Toronto Globe a short time ago paid us the compliment of vouching for our honesty of purpose, a compliment which we duly appreciated, though we were saved from a swelled head by the further intimation that it was unfortunate we had not sufficient intelligence to give good effect to our honesty. It was kindly meant of our confere, and led us to reflect on what an admirable paper could be formed out of a combination of the two journals where each could supply what the other lacked.

There is no doubt about the intelligence of the Toronto Liberal organ, for it has grasped the idea that when next the Government appeals to the country the crucial question will be the cleanness of its hands, and the honesty with which it has administered the funds of the nation. There may be side issues in the different provinces, but apart from the one we have mentioned, no general vital issue. The Liberals since they attained place and power have thrown overboard all their principles, and a very considerable majority of their professions; they have adopted the Conservative planks, carving them and modifying them a little here and there to create an impression of original ownership; and the difference between the two party policies to-day is more a difference on the manner of carrying them out than on the policies themselves; a difference between Tweedledum and Tweedledee. The old lines of deprecation have grown fainter and fainter, and so far as they are concerned it is now sometimes difficult to "tell 'tother from which." It is evident that such a state of affairs gives a great handicap to the men in power; they have in their favor the vis inertiae, the reluctance of the public to disturb the general condition of things without some powerful incentive, the prestige of office, and the distribution which appertains thereto of the official leaves and fishes; hence the introduction into the political arena of anything which threatens to disturb the quiet waters, and to evoke a strong and personal interest in the electorate is distasteful, and the existence of such an issue is immediately denied.

The enormous increase of the annual national expenditure is a thing that naturally attracts attention and provokes sharp criticism. Part of it is recognized by impartial men as having been unavoidable, the natural effect of the expansion of the country's prosperity, of which it is at the same time one of the factors. No fault can be found with this; there may be, and always will be some difference of opinion as to whether all the items of expenditure were called for, or were advisable; but this difference is not sufficient to awake any active interest, or to overcome that public reluctance to excite itself to which we have referred. But it is altogether another thing when it is charged that there has been serious misappropriation of the public funds and the public property, and that a part of the total expenditure has been allowed to go into the pockets of supporters of the Government without due value received by the nation; that Liberal grafts have been allowed to accumulate large fortunes at the expense of the public. If the Government either cannot, or will not, protect the national purse, as soon as the electorate is sufficiently satisfied about this, another Government will be found that can and will. Therefore the Globe takes up the position that there has been no "graft."

Our confere says:—A Conservative paper says that Sir John Thompson instituted proceedings against persons charged with graft in the days of Conservative administration. Yes, after the Liberals in Parliament had proved the charges up to the hilt before the committees of Parliament. They did not content themselves with howling about graft, but went practically and patiently to work to prove the accusations brought against Ministers and contractors. Has this been done by their Conservative successors? It certainly has not. There is not a case about which the Opposition cry out that would endure for a moment the investigation of a court. A yelping dog could not be convicted on any of the evidence that has been laid before committees.

The Opposition have the opportunity of ranging through the accounts for a hundred million dollars of expenditure. Every dollar of it almost is paid out in accordance with the specific votes of Parliament. In the case of every public work, except those for small amounts, tenders are invited and the contract awarded to the lowest bidder. In two or three cases where for some reason haste was necessary the cost of the work seemed extravagant. The winter porch at the door of the Parliament buildings seemed to be one of these cases. But on investigation it was shown that the work was of a very high class, it was done by nightwork, and the material employed was costly. It is true that a contractor gave evidence that the charges were twice as much as they should be. But contractors who are not doing the work have invariably the most modest notions of prices. It is only when they get the job that their charges begin to soar. But the vast proportion of the work is done under competition, where such conditions of haste, nightwork, and dependence on one man do not exist. If the Opposition would do less shouting and more proving they would make greater progress in the public esteem.

There is one short, but, conclusive answer to this elaborate argumentation—the testimony of the Minister of Justice, Hon. Mr. Aylesworth has publicly declared that there are numbers of cases occurring every year in departmental expenditures in which men received a great deal more than they were entitled to, and he gave one instance in which he himself had allowed this to be done. On the testimony, perfectly gratuitous and voluntary, of a Cabinet Minister, graft has existed, and does exist up to the present time, in the different departmental dealings.

The Globe says that Liberal charges were proved up to the hilt, and Conservative charges have not been. What about the Moncton land purchase? What about the Blairmore site? And if the Liberal charges were proved, it was because Government did not use its majority to stifle investigation; it did not sustain witnesses in refusing to answer questions; it did not send witnesses out of the country. Enough, however, has been shown to warrant unfavorable conclusions, and it is safe to say that these have been drawn by men who have followed the proceedings in the different cases. The only courts in which the Opposition charges would not endure for a moment an investigation, are like the Parliamentary committees that pretended to investigate them, courts which have a rooted objection to eliciting the whole truth; such courts as Mr. Pugsley would like to have to try the Emerson libel case. But it is a very curious thing that when the Liberals have resorted to courts to prove the falsity of the charges against them, instead of covering their opponents with shame and confusion they have come to grief themselves. There was the Halifax libel case in which, if we recollect right, the innocent prosecutor was mulcted in costs; the Emerson libel case, in which the prosecutor refused to go any further before the court, and the Prevost libel case in which half the jury was satisfied that the charges were true. Parliamentary committees are all right and safe; but the Globe should brush up its acquaintance with the proceedings in courts before it talks about holding investigations there.

THE UNREST IN INDIA.

From a despatch we learn that on the 3rd inst. the Viceroy of India at last took official notice of what the London Press calls "the unrest in India," and has issued an Order-in-Council regarding it. In that Order Lord Minto declares that he "is unable to tolerate the publication of writings tending to arouse the disorderly elements of society, and inciting to concerted action against the Government," and empowers the local authorities to prosecute all willful infringements of the law.

The most beneficial results are expected from that order; but, at the same time, there will be no lack of prosecutions. In Bengal and the Punjab the incitements to sedition among the Hindus, both by speech and in writing, are still continued, and more open now than ever. That semi-military organization of natives called the "National Volunteers" is drilling quite openly with such weapons as it can command, but which as yet do not include firearms; and the members do not conceal their intention of rising, when the time is ripe, against British rule. At Madras, again, a speech by a leader of the natives there is reported at length in the native Press in which he abjures his allegiance to the British Crown, declares that British rule is a matter not of force, but of "hypnotism," and says that "the better British Government is the worse it is, as tending to induce the natives to acquiesce in the foreign yoke." That and similar reported speeches have incited Hindu settlers in the colonies of the Punjab to active hostility against the irrigation works there of the Government, and which have made arid deserts habitable and arable.

In many districts the movement appears to have quite a commercial basis—a boycott of British goods in the alleged interest of native trade and manufacture, and it is proving rather effective. One leader at Madras has urged the necessity of erecting a prohibitive tariff against the admission of British goods. These industrial conspirators are considered much more dangerous than those who take to inciting through the columns of the native Press, where the comments are read chiefly by the English-trained natives who have imbibed notions of "constitutional government"; and which does not appeal to the masses of the Indian people. It has been pointed out, however, that the best security for the British rests in the fact that the Bengali is not a fighting man; it is the Mussulman who is the warlike man. If British rule were got rid of a war of races and religions would immediately follow; and it would inevitably end in Mohammedan rule, which would be immeasurably worse for the Hindu than British rule; indeed impartial writers say that the latter has resulted in nothing but good for India and its many peoples.

PRESS OPINIONS.

DR. PARMELEE IN LONDON.—As the cable despatch stated a couple of weeks ago, the London Spectator, a journal of responsible opinion, has spoken in very high terms of Dr. Parmelee's address at the opening of the Educational Conference, characterizing it as the one speech which suggested "most concisely the need and wisdom of holding such a conference." The full text of the article, in the issue of June 1, is most interesting. Dr. Parmelee had stated that one of his colleagues on the Pacific coast declared that in British Columbia they Quebec they had no religious difficulty because they had secular education and nothing else. For his part, he could contend that in the Province of Quebec they had no religious difficulty because they had religious teaching in all their schools. Presumably, he observed, neither he nor his colleague was entirely right, and his explanation was that "they were willing to give and take. In his own experience he found that, as between the Roman Catholics and the Protestants in Quebec, there was rather a disposition to give than to take." The Spectator finds in Dr. Parmelee's remarks a lesson, and an opportunity for imperial thinking, with regard to the educational difficulties in the Mother Country. "We find ourselves involved in the discussion of enormous questions such as imperial defence, and we ask ourselves whether, say, a British nation, might not perhaps get a valuable hint from Canada in our own English educational difficulty. It would do us, on such occasions, no harm to think parochially for a time, though it might be that the lesson was taken from an overseas parish. In so doing the imperial thinking would not suffer." The Spectator urges the need in England, on this question, and on the part of public speakers and of people generally, of a more tolerant spirit and a wider outlook, which would be afforded by a consideration of the practical working of systems in the colonies where religious difficulties have also to be faced. It is gratifying that Quebec's representative at the Educational Conference should have made a notable contribution to the opening speeches; and it is still more gratifying to know that Dr. Parmelee well deserves the special recognition that was accorded to him. For some sixteen years now he has acted as the

WHY ARE YOU SICK?

JOIN THE FERROZONE HEALTH CLUB.

These clubs are springing up all over the country. They embrace careful diet, fresh air, water drinking and the use of Ferrozone.

Thousands have been cured—raised to health from a condition of nervousness and semi-invalidism.

First of all Ferrozone is a body-builder—those taking it immediately increase in weight, which proves how highly it improves digestion and assimilation.

Then Ferrozone is a blood former. Thin, colorless blood even in a single week shows a great increase in red cells and coloring matter. This is why Ferrozone makes thin colorless people glow with ruddy health. When the nerves are taken into account, Ferrozone shows its marvellous power. Morbid thoughts, depression and sleeplessness disappear as mist before the sun. The nerves are made strong, given energy that withstands the wear and tear of hard toil or worry.

Altogether there is no remedy to equal Ferrozone. It builds up surely and effectively. For the weak, the sickly, those affected with nervous insomnia or languor, Ferrozone is a boon; just try one box and see the enormous good it will do. Sold by all dealers in 50c. boxes.

MYSTERIOUS HOLES

Were They Caused by Some Electrical Phenomenon?

Toronto, June 26.—Could a phenomenon in electricity cause two small round holes to appear simultaneously in two heavy plate glass windows situated about sixty feet apart on two public streets at the same moment when with a loud report a nearby trolley wire carrying 575 volts dis-current broke, and fell to the ground?

About 6 o'clock Wednesday night the wire feeding the northbound cars on Yonge street fell some distance above
 Alexander street, having been burned in two by a Toronto Electric Light Company wire, which had fallen across it. As the people in the neighborhood were turning out to see what had happened a boy in the Grosvenor Hotel on the south corner of Alexander and Yonge streets was puzzling over a hole such as a 22-calibre rifle bullet might make and which had suddenly appeared in the plate glass window facing north on Alexander street, and from which splinters of glass had shot across the floor. Three doors south A. A. Moses, a hardware merchant, was examining a hole identical in description with the former, but in his window which was facing on Yonge street. The display cards would have been eighty feet from where the wires had separated, so that the falling ends could not have been responsible. The trolley wire with its 575 units of potential was soon temporarily mended, and the suspended traffic went on, but the question remains—what made those two holes, the same in character, at the same time, but in different places?

ATTACK ON KRASNOYARSK

Krasnoyarsk, Siberia, June 25.—The attack of the guard house and detention prison here, which began June 21st, was resumed last night by revolutionists who occupied the surrounding houses. They opened heavy fire on the guards and the latter replied with volleys. During a fusillade lasting over an hour a cab driver was killed.
 The prison of Krasnoyarsk, is one of the halting places for political prisoners on their way to more distant places of Siberian exile.

NEW GOODS.

Just received some of the latest styles in hand bags, satchels, trunks, etc., at S. Fisher & Sons, Fabrique street.

A BAD DEFENCE.—It is surprising that the Minister of Justice should uphold the warden of the Kingston Penitentiary in refusing to permit the grand jury of Frontenac county to officially inspect that institution. Hon.
 Mr. Aylesworth gives two reasons for this action on his part. First, that while it has long been customary for grand juries to thus inspect public institutions, there is no law authorizing them to do so. Secondly, that the severe strictures passed upon the management of the institution by a grand jury last year regarding the way in which the prisoners were fed were not justified by the "true facts." This is a very weak position to assume. Any public institution, be it Dominion, provincial or local, which refuses to stand the inspection of an official body like the grand jury must necessarily rest under suspicion. Grand juries are selected by ballot from the property owners at large and their personnel is never the same any two years. Even suppose one grand jury did report untruthfully and hurt the feelings of the penitentiary authorities, that is no good reason why they should be allowed to get up on their high horse and refuse admission to all disposed to believe that 24 men selected at random from any Canadian county would deliberately report what they knew to be untrue regarding any public institution. Besides which, the reports concerning the interior economy of Kingston Penitentiary for some time back would dispose the public to give preference to the report of a grand jury rather than to the ex-parte statements of the authorities to the Minister of Justice. In any case, presuming that a body of such quality had been sworn to perform a public duty last year had failed to do so in an impartial manner, the best reply that could be made to the alleged untrue statements would be the report of the grand jury this year in the same institution. If the Minister of Justice expects the people of Ontario to believe that two grand juries in succession would lie about the institution, he is asking too much.—Ottawa Citizen.

For Every Woman According to Her Needs

The Practical Girl and her Pockets

Her Summer Pockets

By Alice Gibson

MODERN woman is inclined to envy the kangaroo, whose pocket is natural and unavoidable. What with waists buttoned in the back, short sleeves, tight belts and high collars, she has absolutely nowhere to carry her numerous belongings. How, then, will she welcome the advent of the adjustable pocket, designed to match her gown and worn at the belt?

Once having realized the existence of these half bags, half pockets, and appreciated their necessity, her next step will be the acquisition of a set of them—for, of course, she must have one at least to match every summer gown—different from those of every other woman she knows. The time is not far distant when the pockets will be on sale in the stores, and then indeed must she strive for originality. If she will only keep in mind a few general rules, there need be no limits to the variety which her taste and cleverness may devise.

WASHABLE GOODS NEEDED

Being eminently practical, her first thought will be to procure a material that will not be harmed by frequent tubbings. Her next will be to line all thin goods with something that will bear the weight of the articles that may be placed therein. And finally, she will still the extra pocket inside, to hold change and car tickets, and to prevent these from interfering with the other contents of the bag, and causing loss and confusion.

Each of the pockets here described is practical, easily made, and attractive. They are made of the same material as the owner's gowns, and the only cost is for the working cotton. Mercerized cotton is better than silk, as it withstands more firmly the effects of the many washings needed to keep the pocket as fresh and clean as the dress.

An attractive star-shaped or passion-flower pocket is of natural-colored linen, buttonholed around and up the divisions with shaded mercerized cotton. This comes in skeins, and is worked a thread at a time, just as they come, shading the work from dark to light most evenly. In the center of the pocket is a large five-petaled flower, worked in Wallachian embroidery. This, as most women now know, is nothing more nor less than the ordinary buttonhole stitch. Make close stitches, and round them a little so as to turn the corner neatly. The center is filled in with French knots, and the two straps, which are buttonholed over the edge, are finished with two small loops to slip over the belt.

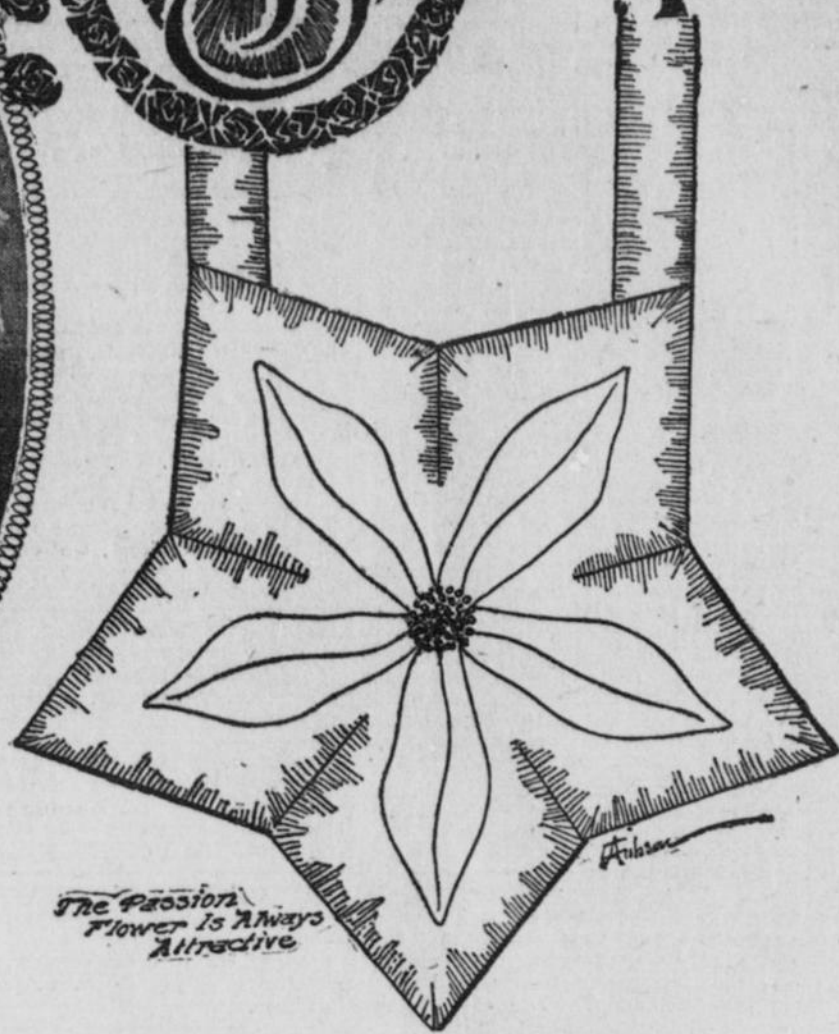

DO OVERSEAMING NEATLY

After the edges are done, the pocket is turned in all round and overseamed to another star-shaped piece, which has a small patch pocket stitched to the inside. The overseaming should be very neatly done in the same color as the buttonholing.

A five-pointed star is easily made with one cut of the scissors—Betsey Ross' method! A piece of paper is folded through the center, and then, with the fold held next to one, is folded over the left-hand corner until the lower right-hand paper shows an angle half as large as the piece folded over. This large triangle should be folded through the middle, and the remaining triangle (two thicknesses of paper) be turned under. Then with a pair of sharp scissors all the papers should be cut through at the same time, diagonally, from one side to the other. This makes a sharp or blunt pointed star, according to the slant of the scissors.

The straps may be sewed securely to the bag before it is made up, and in a case of this kind, where the top of the pocket is not straight and has no flap, it will be well to stiffen the top edge with a strip of canvas, stitched several times before the buttonholing is done.

A very practical pocket of white duck, for general wear, is in a grape design. It has a flap, made in one with back, and finished with a deep band of close buttonholing. The background of the bag is filled in with alternate squares of straight stitches and French knots, or the odd squares may be left plain, and the long stitches of heavy mercerized cotton may be used to form half-inch blocks for the others. Four or five stitches should be enough to fill in the blocks and make a most effective backing for the grapes and leaves, which are outlined in cotton not so heavy as that used in the blocks. The straps of this bag may be fastened on the back before the front is fastened to it, and the two pieces stitched firmly on the machine, turned and stitched again all around on the right side.

The dragon fly design admits of two treatments. It may be done in shadow the pocket is washen.

Coronation braid is used for the decoration in the elk's head design, and the antlers outlined with the braid stand out decisively and boldly against the background of wavy lines sewed on the remainder of the pocket. The braid, which is alternately "thick and thin," is sewed on the right side, over the pattern, then sewed through the thick parts, on the wrong side. This wears remarkably well, and is easily laundered, if placed on a bath towel, and ironed with a hot iron until quite dry. The belt, or they can be pinned to the skirt with safety pins, and the belt placed over them, but in any event they should hang far enough from the belt for the hand to slip in easily.

These pockets are merely suggestions, for each girl will have ideas and materials of her own; but whatever sort they may be, they should match of agree with the gown as would a stock or belt. They are certainly great conveniences, and after she has once owned one or more the practical girl will never do her shopping again—in summer, at any rate—without one hanging securely at her belt.

work, when it will be worked on fine lawn or batiste, with the dragon fly and stems in light green. It will, of course, in this case, be stitched on the wrong side of the goods. Again, if solid embroidery is preferred, the pocket may be of gray linen, and the dragon fly worked in shaded blue and green, the border and stems in dark blue solid and the daisies and stems in green. They should all be well padded before embroidering.

The Chinese and Japanese use animal forms for decoration much more than we think of doing, and the dragon design is even more than usually attractive by reason of its novelty. The heraldic monster may be worked in outline, with some of the dark shades showing in the black spaces, or it may be outlined with white, and have all the heavy line stuffed and worked with satin stitch. The unique fringe of white or colored cotton is tied on after the bag is otherwise finished, and each loop ends with a French knot. There is a row of stitches all around a little off from the edge, and a casing in the top through which a narrow whalebone is run, to be taken out when antlers alone decorate the flap, and the pocket is stitched as in the others. The straps run together at the belt, a fashion which is liked by some persons more than the straight style. One inch is wide enough for any of these straps, the length depending on the height of the person who is to wear the bag.

As arabesque tracery design shows two black bands, simply a double row of outlining, and the ground back of the white points being filled in with long stitches of mercerized cotton. This is particularly effective if worked in the dull reds and blues of the Pompeian ornamentation, with a plentiful sprinkling of black. The other half of the pocket shows a simple point design worked in outline, and with the long stitches finished at the ends with large French knots.

Silk pockets matching taffeta shirtwaist suits are often braided in bold outline designs, carried out with iridescent beads in corresponding or harmonizing colors, and may have a narrow fringe of the beads added to the lower edge.

The straps of all these pockets may be finished in loops to slip over the Long Live the Wedding Ring

THE season of brides is with us once more. Again blushing girls prize filmy white stuffs in the shops, and embarrassed youths inquire the price of plain gold bands. The modern bride, however, is not quite so enthusiastic over her ring as she is over the rest of the concomitants of this delightful business of getting married. She has been her own mistress, and completely so, too long quite to relish this ancient badge of servitude. Accordingly she insists on the very thinnest and narrowest ring procurable, and even then feels a trifle uncomfortable.

Why doesn't she equalize matters by following the pretty German custom of exchange? Surely he is just as much entitled to a ring as she is, and, besides, she will then have the satisfaction of feeling that instead of symbolizing a medieval and unreal submission, the band only tells how they two are bound together in love—surely a prettier thought!

By all means let us alter the marriage service in this one particular, that the "with this ring I thee wed" may be spoken by both bride and bridegroom together.

Business Women's Luncheon

WOMEN have still a great deal to learn in the matter of economy in food. They crowd the restaurants and "quick lunch" restaurants, and spend in the aggregate an enormous amount of money, in the majority of cases for food that neither nourishes nor satisfies them. Business women in particular, and brain workers especially among them, ought to know food values and plan their meals accordingly. They have not yet discovered that lettuce is twice as cooling as ice cream, and that mincepie is not a dish for early summer.

It is not necessary to emulate the steak, fried potatoes and coffee of the average man. In fact, such a diet would disagree with most persons if partaken of to any great extent. A thin soup is usually twice as palatable as a thick one, and is nearly and in some cases quite as nourishing. This, with a sandwich or some cold meat, lettuce or water green, and perhaps a simple vegetable—makes a satisfactory midday meal. Where this is the principal meal of the day, more may be partaken of, but especially in summer, all rich and heavy "made dishes" should be avoided, and plenty of fresh vegetables should be partaken of.

Time and Money Saving Hints

A Wall Housewife

A USEFUL little contrivance to hang on a nursery wall, or in the family sewing or sitting room, is a hanging housewife, where thread, needles, pins, thimbles, scissors are always handy for the many times a day a hasty stitch must be taken.

These useful little articles may be made very simple or they can really be turned into artistic bits of decoration. In either case, they are not difficult of construction.

The foundation is cut from heavy cardboard, and consists of two pieces, about eight inches long and five and a half inches wide, cut in shield shape and pointed at the lower end. This can be covered with any kind of material one happens to have on hand, though linen or cotton goods are preferable, as they are less likely to catch dust. A gay, flowered cretonne makes a pretty covering, or if one is making the housewife for a gift, it can be of art linen, embroidered around the edges in a border, narrow floral border, or in a band of raised dots, in a contrasting color.

Paste the goods on each half of the foundation, being very careful to have it smooth and tight. Let it become perfectly dry, then overcast the two halves together, gently and finish the edge with a narrow silk cord.

On the upper part of the shield tie two spools of thread or silk, one on each side. This can be done by putting holes through the foundations and running a heavy cord or ribbon in the spools and tying it through the holes on the back of shield. This allows the spools to revolve easily as a thread is pulled.

The scissors are in the center between the two spools, and are slipped into two bands of elastic, which are sewed to the foundation.

About the center of the shield on the right hand a little needlebook is fixed. This may be merely a few pieces of pinked fannel, or it can be quite elaborate, with an embroidered stiff back covering folds of cashmere or flannel. On the left-hand side is a little pocket, about the same size as the needlebook, to hold buttons or possibly an extra spool or two. Underneath the point of the scissors is another elastic for the thimble, while across the center at the bottom is a fairly long pin cushion.

The Too Snug Blouse

IT IS curious how tight a blouse will sometimes become across the bust for no apparent reason. One has grown no stouter, but the fact remains, and must be dealt with. Fashion this season helps us out, for few of us can afford to give our clothes away the moment they are too small. Many of the prettiest new blouses have up the front a plain piece about two inches wide, edged on each side by a narrow knife-pleated frill. It would be the easiest thing in the world to add such a piece and thus make the front wider if one has the goods. If one has not, something ornamental may be used, like a contrasting color, or a plaid.

If the blouse should be a white one, a pretty strip of insertion edged with a plain white frill like the waist will not only do the work, but will be ornamental.

Should the white waist be open in the back, two or three bands of lace or embroidery may be introduced, the extra fullness thus made at the neck being taken up in fine gathers at the neckband.

If the pleated frill and band are used, the same method should be introduced there is already a cut on the sleeve, the frill should be added at the top, standing up. Should there be no cut, either a strip of the above description may be added or a wide band with a narrow frill each side may finish the band.

THE QUEBEC BOARD OF TRADE

Special General Meeting Regarding the Quebec Harbor Commissioners
A Special General Meeting of the Quebec Board of Trade will take place to-day (Thursday), the 27th instant, at 3 o'clock p.m. at the Board Room, 39 St. Paul street, in conformity with a motion passed at the last monthly meeting by Mr. d'Hellecourt, seconded by Mr. L. A. Moisan and unanimously adopted, setting forth that the Board of Trade was of opinion that the time had arrived for Quebec to consider the opportunity to adopt for the port of Quebec the new reforms recently adopted for the port of Montreal in regard to the reorganization of the Harbor Commission, and that in consequence the address presented by Mr. L. A. Carrier, M.P., in the room of the Board of Trade be discussed at a general meeting of the Board called for its adoption.
T. LEVASSEUR, Secretary.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

AN OLD QUEBECER A GENEROUS GIFT

Returns Here After an Absence of Nearly Sixty Years' Duration.

There arrived in Quebec yesterday from British Columbia Mr. Nelson Demers, miner and prospector, who left this city fifty-seven years ago and this is his first visit since then. Mr. Demers, who is now in his 83rd year, having been born at Riviere du Loup, on the 11th September, 1824, is as active looking as a man not more than half that age. When he left Quebec there were no Delhouise and St. Andrew streets, and where the C.P.R. station now stands at the Palais, was used as a harbor by schooners and bateaux carrying firewood, etc., to the city. After leaving Quebec Mr. Demers went to Wisconsin, where he resided for some time. He then visited California, Central America, Alaska, eventually going to British Columbia, where he resided until a short time ago and for which he has a return ticket. He says, however, that before he returns to the Pacific province he intends to prospect for gold in the vicinity of Riviere du Loup and the border of the Province of New Brunswick, as he feels sure the precious metal will be found there in paying quantities. Mr. Demers informed the Chronicle representative that while he was mining and prospecting he had made considerable money and while his expenses were heavy at times, he managed to save sufficient to render him independent for the future. Of one thing he was proud and that was to see the Ancient Capital was steadily advancing.

PRINCE FUSHIMI'S GENEROSITY.
His Worship Mayor Garneau has been notified by the Governor-General's Secretary that His Imperial Highness Prince Fushimi has made a gift of $50 to be distributed among the charitable institutions of Quebec.

For Peterson's and BBB Briar Pipes go to Walling's Stores, St. John Street and Mountain Hill.

CHATEAU EXTENSION.
The work of dismantling the buildings on the Cape, which are to disappear to make way for the extension of the Chateau Frontenac, was begun yesterday morning. About a hundred men were started to work.

PROTECT YOURSELVES.
By not paying too much for your goods. Read our grand advertisement. FAGUY, LEPINAY & FRERE.

THE CRUISER SQUADRON.
The Halifax Herald of Tuesday says: "Yesterday afternoon the wireless station at Chapel Hill was in wireless communication for a brief period with the British squadron, including the flagship Good Hope, Argyl, and two others. The warships were a considerable distance off Low Point and on the way from Quebec."

TO-DAY, THURSDAY, 200 YARDS
Of Muslin in lawn and squares, offered at 10 cents only. This is a job. MARCEAU & CIE., 155 St. Joseph Street.

LIBERAL MEETINGS.
Hon. Premier Gouin and his friends will hold a series of meetings during the summer, the first of which will take place in the County of Chateauguay about the middle of July, the second at St. Scholastique, the third at Bagot, and the fourth at Nicolet. There will also be one or two meetings in the Eastern Townships.

FOR TO-MORROW, FRIDAY.
Fresh Haddock.
Fresh Mackerel.
Fresh Halibut.
Fresh Salmon.
Fresh Boiled Lobster.
Fresh White Fish.

NEW POLICE STATION.
The new police station on the property of the Harbour Commission, at the foot of Dalhousie street, was opened for business the first time yesterday, Constable P. Sullivan being in charge, with three assistants. While there is accommodation for the constables and three cells for prisoners, the building is neither supplied with water or lavatories.

HORSE SHOT.
A horse and dog belonging to Robitaille and Picher, Hardware Merchants, St. John street, was in collision yesterday afternoon with a street car on Palace Hill. Dr. Hall who was called to attend to the horse's injuries pronounced its left front leg broken and the unfortunate animal was subsequently put out of misery by Mr. Dordridge, Superintendent of the S.P.C.A., who made a speedy and sure job of his work by placing three bullets in its head.

HONORS FOR QUEBEC BOYS.
The following Quebec boys won honors at Loyola College, Montreal: Graduates—J. F. Maguire, B.A., C. G. Powe, B.A.
Humanities—John Shee, prize for French, and honorable mention for mathematics.
Third Grammar—Dermot O'Gallagher, gold medal for good conduct, honorable mentions.
John Hearn, prize for honorable mentions.

CABINET COUNCIL.
A meeting of the Provincial Cabinet was held at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. Among the business transacted was the appointment of a commission, in virtue of the law passed last session, to study the question of compensation to workmen injured by accidents. The commission will consist of Messrs. O. Gobeil, K.C., of Montreal, C. B. Gordon, Vice-President of the Dominion Textile Co., Montreal, Felix Macois, Secretary of the Bureau of Arbitration and Conciliation, and Leon Garneau advocate of Montreal.

From the President and Members of the Quebec Athletic Association.

"Good Hope" at Quebec, 22nd June, 1907.

Gentlemen,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of this date enclosing the sum of £10 contributed by you for charitable purposes on the occasion of the field gun display given by the ships of the First Cruiser Squadron, and on behalf of the officers and men of the squadron I desire to heartily thank you for your kindness and generosity.

It has been decided to devote this donation to the Seamen and Marines' Orphan Asylum.
I have the honor to be, gentlemen, Your obedient servant,
G. NEVILLE.
Rear Admiral Commanding First Cruiser Squadron.

IMPORTANT MATTER

To be Discussed at Special Meeting of Board of Trade Today.

There will be an important special meeting of the Board of Trade this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the question of the abolition of the present Harbor Commission and the placing of the harbor in the care of a special commission of three, as was recently done with Montreal harbor, will be fully discussed and action taken thereon.

It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the Board a lengthy memorial upon the subject was introduced by Mr. L. A. Carrier, and that a motion was then proposed by Mr. d'Hellecourt, and adopted, to the effect that the Board of Trade was of opinion that the time had arrived for Quebec to consider the opportunity to adopt for the port of Quebec the new reforms recently adopted for the port of Montreal in regard to the reorganization of the Harbor Commission, and that in consequence the address presented by Mr. L. A. Carrier, M.P., be discussed at a general meeting of the Board called for its adoption.

There should be a large attendance of the members at this afternoon's meeting as the question to be discussed is a most important one.

TRADE ORGANIZES

Flour, Grain and Provision Men Unite to Protect Interests.

The flour, grain and provision men of the Ancient Capital have just formed an organization, the special purpose of which will be for the protection of their interests. The new organization, which has been incorporated by letters patent, will be known as the Flour, Grain and Provision Merchants' Association of Quebec. It will hold weekly meetings, at which matters of interest to the trade will be discussed.

The officers of the new organization are: President, Gaspard Lemoine; Vice-President, Geo. Tanguay; Directors, G. M. Lennon, Leon Carrier, Cyr. Kirouac, C. A. Paradis, D. E. Drolet and A. N. Drolet. Mr. T. LeVasseur has been appointed Secretary-Treasurer of the organization.

8TH R.R. RIFLE ASSOCIATION.
Attention of all ranks of the 8th R.R. is directed to the advertisement in another column of the annual meeting of the Regimental Rifle Association, which takes place at the Drill Hall on Friday evening. A full attendance is requested at this important meeting.

WATCH COFFEE
And Watch it Carefully

Any brain worker who depends on thought for his success in life, uses up energy, by brain work, a varying amount of the delicate particles of phosphate of potash and albumen of which the brain and nerve centres are composed.

The fine, microscopic particles of phosphate of potash are found in quantities in the pores of the skin after the brain has been used actively. This must be replaced from food, or brain fog and nervous prostration set in.

This breaking down of the little cells each day, from brain work alone, is a natural process, and the cells can readily be rebuilt from the right sort of food, if the system is not interfered with by drugs, but if an increased amount of cells are broken down by the use of coffee, trouble then begins. Frequently it first shows in dyspepsia, lack of power of the bowels to operate properly, palpitation of the heart, or some other lack of vitality and healthy vigor. There is but one thing for a sensible man or woman to do,—quit coffee absolutely. "Hard to do," you say. Take up Postum Food Coffee, use it regularly, have it well made, so it tastes good. You will find a well defined, unmistakable change in your health, and there's a reason for it.

You have become free from the breaking down force of coffee, and on the other hand, you are taking a powerful, nourishing, liquid food which quickly rebuilds the new cells. These are facts—profound facts, ready for any one to prove to their own satisfaction by actual use. Postum is used by brain workers all over the world. Don't call it a "substitute" for coffee; leave out the coffee proposition altogether. Postum is a liquid food and a true food drink. "There's a Reason."

CUT HIS THROAT

Revolver Shot Proving Failure David Bell Used a Knife.

A man named David Bell, about 60 years of age, attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself with a revolver in his room at the Palais. His first attempt was unsuccessful, and he was conveyed to the Hotel Dieu where he succeeded in ending his life by cutting his throat with a penknife. The unfortunate man arrived in town a few weeks ago to dig an artesian well for the Q. R. & P. Co., and was accompanied by his son, 22 years old, both taking up their boarding quarters at Donaldson's boarding house, in St. Paul street, opposite the C.P.R. station. Bell did not work on St. Jean Baptiste day and yesterday afternoon paid his board as usual and retired to his room. He was considered a steady man, but of late seemed to be in a rather dejected mood. About two o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Donaldson, in passing Bell's room noticed that the latter was lying on his bed full dressed. At 5.30 when he again passed the door was closed.

Shortly after seven o'clock Mr. Bell's son ran downstairs and asked Mr. Donaldson to send for a physician. A doctor was telephoned for and both Donaldson and the son entered the father's room and found the latter lying on the floor, which was covered with blood. The shooting must have been done while he lay in bed as it was covered with blood.

The ambulance soon arrived as well as Dr. Robert LaRue and the latter ordered the man to be conveyed to the hospital and stripped of his clothing.

When Bell was placed in a room part of his clothing was removed but unfortunately he was allowed to keep on his trousers. Dr. LaRue and Dr. Achille Paquet attended to the wound, which they declared was not fatal as the bullet had slid along the forehead and was subsequently found on the floor. Bell was for a short time unconscious but soon appeared to be getting around, and while he was still in his room, the guardian absented himself for a few moments. The unfortunate man, who was bound to take his life, seized the occasion of the guardian's absence, and taking his penknife out of his trousers' pocket succeeded in cutting his throat, dying almost instantaneously. His body was removed to the morgue where an inquest will be held this morning.

FIGHT AGAINST APPENDICITIS.

Appendicitis, that terrible disease of the bowels, often proving fatal to the victim afflicted with it, has been proven by medical science that the surest and a medicine within the reach of all, to prevent the disease attacking you, is to drink the celebrated St. Leon Mineral Water, the ingredients of which are to strengthen the nervous system, and to arm you against contracting that particular disease, appendicitis, which is ravaging this country of ours at present. Mind yourself and drink glassfuls, either hot, cold or aerated, the celebrated St. Leon Mineral Water.

WHERE TO GO.
To find handsome matinee, or costume as well as an up-to-date suit, a fine pair of boots or shoes. Don't hesitate but go to MARCEAU & CIE., 155 St. Joseph Street.

NEXT CONVENTION

Eastern Canada Passenger Agents and Freight Agents to Meet Here.

A special meeting of the Quebec Transportation Club was held at the Lake St. Joseph Hotel last night. Among those present were Messrs. Alex Hardy, Jules Hone, Jr., W. J. Thompson, H. N. Bartlett, J. Matthews, W. Lynch, A. Rawland, Dr. LeBel, A. E. Marquette, F. L. Wade, T. E. Martin, A. F. Dyer, J. S. Blanchet, J. A. Everett, G. B. Ramsay, P. S. Stocking, C. E. Toney, J. Hanson, W. Langford, James Bain, H. A. Pelletier, A. H. Davis, Secretary.

It was decided to entertain the Eastern Canada Passenger Agents' Association and General Freight Agents' Association, whose annual meetings will be held at Quebec, on 9th and 10th July, 1907. A Committee was appointed to wait on Mayor Garneau at 11.30 this morning and get the city's co-operation and support. It was also arranged to give visiting members a time such as Quebec only is noted for. A number of ladies also accompanied the club to the hotel, where a sumptuous dinner was served.

The entertainment to the visitors will consist of a trip to Ste. Anne and return to Kent House for dinner on the 9th and a sail up to the Quebec Bridge and other places of interest on the 10th.

QUEBECER BACK FROM CHINA.

Alfred Mercier and family have arrived from Saigon, Cochinchina, on a visit to relations and friends. Mr. Mercier is a French-Canadian, born at St. Michel, Bellechasse, in 1857, and has been absent from his native country for the past thirty years. His father, Magloire Mercier, was a pilot, and the son, a sailor, left Canada in 1882, established himself at Singapore, where he went into business and succeeded in building up quite a fortune. In 1905 he removed to Saigon, Cochinchina, where he is now a well-known stevedore. At Quebec Mr. Mercier will pass several days with his godfather Mr. F. X. Dion, treasurer of the corporation of pilots. From Quebec he will go to St. Michel to see an aunt. Later he will go to Boston, where his aged mother still lives. Mr. Mercier also hopes to see one of his brothers, Magloire Mercier, whom he has not met for forty years. Mr. Mercier, on his way back to China, will visit his wife's family in Italy. He will leave his only son Amedee in Canada to attend college.

AN EASILY REGULATED
FURNACE

It's a real pleasure to own a Sunshine. It's so easily regulated. Drafts work perfectly—do just what you expect them to. The fire is always under control. You can have as hot a fire as you like on zero days. And one just warm enough to keep the chilly feeling absent when a thaw comes. Fortunate is the man who owns a Sunshine.

from the floor above, if you feel a trifle chilly, and a strong draft through the ash-pit door is opened. Fire immediately burns up briskly. In a few minutes you will be warm and comfortable. Then drop the chain again.

You see, it's not necessary to go down to the basement and turn on the drafts when you want a warmer fire in the Sunshine.

INGENIOUS MACHINES FOR TIPPING COLLARS

Another Ingenious Laundry Appliance which adds to Man's Comfort.

There is one particular style of collar that will always be popular with well dressed men, the wing point. This collar has always been a difficult style to launder just right. Laundries not equipped with modern appliances used to try to get out these collars, but the result was anything but satisfactory. The tips would not point just right and the wearer would feel as if he was dressed to act the part of a clown in the circus, with one tip of the collar pointing dejectedly to mother earth and the other describing an angle as if trying to locate an extinct star. The edge would have a temper like a cross cut saw and the result on the hapless wearer's neck after a day's wear would look as if he had been obliged to resort to an amateur barber college shave. We have recently installed a machine that shapes perfectly all wing point collars and the same are first moistened where the fold comes, then put through this machine, which is heated at the right temperature, and when the collar is pressed in the same result is a beautiful work of art and a joy to the wearer.

WINTER ON THE PRAIRIE.

Homesteaders' Severe Experiences in the Far West—Life in the Blizzards and Snow-Wrapped Stillness.

The severity of last winter on the prairie and the hardships of the homesteaders are graphically given in this letter of an Ontario boy who went through the experience himself. He writes:—

"What should happen on Good Friday—these measly oxen both croaked, and we dropped another $175. Say, you can't imagine how tough that was. But we wouldn't miss this winter's experience for considerable."

"We have seen life on the wild west prairie with a blizzard raging for two days and cattle starving in another man's stable while he was off on a jamboree. We either had to let them starve and freeze or run a chance of doing the same ourselves."

"The owner had been away 12 days, and we had to feed the hay roof off the sheds. Some calves appeared on the scene and things began to get worse. We had no grub ourselves and no way of getting any. We muffled up the best we could and drove the herd north in the teeth of a blizzard to hay stacks. Now we had our troubles with some of those big steers putting them through four feet of snow. My face was covered with ice, with peep holes for my eyes and an opening for my mouth. Then we carried back hay for the cows with calves. We had to make two trips with horse blankets to do this. Then we killed off some poultry and one pig and scraped up a little flour and fed the inner man. I had both knees and both big toes frozen badly, also the tops of my fingers and my nose. Well, we kept this sort of thing going 12 days, and during that time we lost two cattle, two calves, one dog, 25 hens, one pair of ducks, and our respect."

"And that is only one of the many hard knocks we have had this winter. But we got square with that son of a sea-cook. He was commissioned to bring us home $6 worth of potatoes. Well, he came back with a yarn about them freezing, and we had to swallow it, of course. But when things got too thick we 'dared to beard the lion in his den,' the Douglas in his hall. We walked into his shack and choked him for some reports he spread, for things he called us in the preliminary engagement, and also fork over $6. Now he is our best friend. Yes; but I always follow him in or out of a doorway."

"Enough? Not yet. The guy who wintered our oxen, or failed to winter them, is required to make a settlement. We do not yet know what we can do in this matter, but whatever it is we will do it to the full. He'll go back to Whitechapel if I pronounce sentence. We have certainly had some bad luck, but we are going to give it another go. We will work in Saskatchewan this summer, if necessary, and make another start."

"We have done everything you read of in these wild western stories. We have ridden after wild cattle for 12 hours at a time, packed grub through the Eagle Hills by pony; 'toted' it through on our backs, hauled it with oxen and often have done without it. We have been after deer, and have heard the howl of timber wolves within half a mile of us, when we were five miles in the bush. We have squatted around the little tin stove and smoked the pipe with old dog-faced squaws in the tent. We have slept out many a night, and have trapped like the coureurs de bois. (We shipped about $50 worth of furs on April 1st to Winnipeg.) We have seen the

Pains in the Back Over the Kidneys

TELL OF DISEASED KIDNEYS AND THE PROVEN CURE FOR THIS DREADFULLY PAINFUL AFFECTION IS

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

When kidney disease does not arise from exposure to a draft or chilling of the body, it is usually developed gradually as a result of liver and bowel disorders.

It is because of the intimate and dependent relation of the liver, kidneys and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure diseases of the kidneys when mere kidney medicines fail.

By quickening the action of the liver and bowels this treatment immediately lessens the work of the kidneys, and at the same time restores their natural vigor. In this way the most serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys are thoroughly cured.

Miss Della McDermott, 373 Main street, Montreal, N.B., writes:—

"For some time my mother could not walk across the floor or stoop over because the pains in her back just over the kidneys were so severe. She had severe headache, backache, spells of blindness and dizziness, and tried many medicines without obtaining relief. The doctors of our town said that the trouble was due to the turn of life."

"A lady friend advised mother to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by the time she had used two boxes of this great medicine she was perfectly cured, and the old trouble has never returned."

Mr. J. Edwards, of Colborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states: "I have been taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for some time, and can positively say that they are the best medicine I ever used. I was troubled very much with my kidneys and had dreadful pains in my back, which were increased by leaning over."

"I can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because they have cured me, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone inquiring about them."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmansson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

tracks of lynx and bear within a stone's throw of our shack. We have lived a glorious life to look back at it, but when it was being lived, it was far from glorious.

Park was lost for three days and nights in January. The first night he and Hill stayed all night on the prairie, within half a mile of a shack and it was 53 below. Hill lost his nerve and Park had to put him in a snow bank and kick him to keep him awake. He has since lost his toes. Then Park got the mail at this shack and started home alone—fifteen miles. He was out two more nights and he would have been in the snow somewhere yet, only he kept in the bush and had a fire at night. When he got to the ranch I was just going to get the pony to hunt them up. I really did not recognize him, he was so emaciated. We soon got him all O.K. again. The people at home will not be any the wiser."

THE KING OF ANIMALS.

Trappers and Skin Experts Give This Title to the Black Fox.

In the estimation of trappers and voyageurs of eastern North America as well as in the eyes of the very rich nobility of Russia and Siberia there is only one king of beasts, and the name of the beast is the big and radiantly shining black fox, which roams over the cold and barren hills that stretch from east of the Penobscot river in Maine, through New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and skipping the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, extend in diminishing hummocks through western Labrador and end in the hillocks and Laurentian formations which surround Hudson Bay.

Those who seek the choicest and most expensive furs known to man and who will pay any price for what they want must go to the bleak coast line of eastern North America for what they want and may have to wait for years to secure pelts that will match perfectly with other skins which are to go toward making up a set of the black fox of North America—the reyard noir of the French hunters—wears the most valuable overcoat of any animal on earth.

As a rule, about five perfect pelts from black foxes are captured every year, and of these three are bought by the great Hudson Bay Fur Co. or its tributary associations. Though Maine alone furnishes more than 70,000 foxskins every year and though nearly 5,000 active men spend most of the winter in trapping and poisoning foxes and other animals for their furs, only twice in the run of twelve months are the combined efforts of these individual hunters able to secure a black fox.

In no way except in color does the black fox differ from its conqueror, the red fox, whose pelt sells for $3.50, or from the gray fox, whose overcoat is valued at from $150 to $400, but whenever a hunter can secure a black fox and remove its skin without marring the fur he is as sure of receiving from $800 to $1,500 for his trophy as if he had the money in his hand. Not only is every black fox pelt bought as soon as taken, but a dozen Russian noblemen have paid agents travelling in North America all through the winter, seeking out remote hillside farms and abandoned logging camps, where it is possible that a shy and elusive black fox may have been seen.

LEATHER BREECHES.

A hundred and fifty years ago the farm hands and house servants of England were clothed in leather. A good pair of leather breeches was said to pass from father to son as an heirloom. Then a boy went to school as well protected as an armored cruiser. The author of "Didisburys in the '45" offers some observations upon these articles of common wear: The test of a good pair was to try if they would stand upright of themselves when nobody was in them. If they would do so they were good, strong stuff and likely to last for many years. My father remembered a promise I had coming to his father, whose fond mother had provided him with such a pair, and they were the means of a "valet of fun" in a game that is unknown in these days—that is, for the boys to set the breeches upright and then jump into them without touching the bands. It was probably a pair of such leather breeches that the Windsor boy was wearing when George III. asked him if he did not know that the man before him was the King.

"Yes," said the boy.

"Then why don't you go on your knees, and you might kiss the king's hand?" said the king.

"Because I'd spoil my breeches."

Panamas and Straw Hats

The weather emphasizes the need of lighter headwear; have you decided on the style of hat you will wear this summer?

The soft straw hat, with roll brim, is sure to be a big favorite—almost as light as a feather, it fits any head. The Plain Straw Sailors come in a higher crown and narrower brim than last season. The shapes are very becoming.

Perhaps you have a preference for the English Boater—these hats, though the braids are coarser than the American styles, are surprisingly light in weight.

Panamas are more popular now than for several seasons past; we show all the approved styles, both English and American.

Straw Hats - - - 35c. to $3.00

Panamas - - - $8.00 to $16.00

Fancy Bands - - - 25c. to 50c.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES TO PUPILS

Tastefully decorated with Union
Jack and Canadian flags, St. George's School, Maple Avenue, presented a very bright appearance last evening, the occasion being the annual closing exercises and presentation of prizes.
Mr. W. H. Wiggins, chairman of the School Board, presided, Mrs. Wiggins presenting the prizes in the unavoidable absence of Mr. F. H. Andrews.
Among those present were—Dr. J. M.
Harper, Rev. Messrs. Wylie C. Clark,
I. M. Thompson, H. C. Burt, who in turn addressed those present, commending the trustees and teachers on the fine results attained by the pupils during the year just closed. Rev. Mr.
Burt also took occasion to thank Mr.
Andrews who had so kindly donated the two valuable medals, as well as the other friends who had donated prizes. Votes of thanks were moved by Dr. Harper, and seconded by Mr.
Thompson, one to the trustees, Messrs.
W. H. Wiggins, T. J. Moore and Alf.

TEACHER'S REPORT.

To the Trustee Board of St. George's School.

Gentlemen,—I beg to lay before you the report of the past year.

The school opened on the 4th of September with an attendance of 65 pupils. This number has been gradually increasing and there are now 80 pupils enrolled, this being the largest attendance that the school has ever had.

The Inspector visited the school on April 25th and 26th from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days and examined every child in his or her different subjects.

He expressed himself as being very well pleased with the results of the examinations and praised very highly the spelling, reading and tables throughout the school. He also made special mention of the very marked improvement in arithmetic over all preceding years. He stated that to accommodate the number of pupils the present building, though well adapted for school purposes in many respects, was much too small and that something should be done to remedy this defect.

While, however, the roll shows 80 pupils, the average daily attendance is comparatively poor being only 57.
We would like to impress upon the parents the necessity of regular attendance on the part of the children as this is one of the greatest aids in the advancement of pupils.

During the latter part of this year our number has been diminished by several pupils who have left the city.

We record with sorrow the loss by death of a member of our junior department, Esther Dunsford, a great favorite of both teachers and fellow pupils, who died this month.

We wish to thank Miss Beatrice Jacques for her very kind assistance with the musical part of our programme.

We are indebted to the following kind friends for prizes:

Mr. F. H. Andrews, two handsome silver medals, and books from Mrs.
Chas. Wheeler, Mrs. Alf. Jacques,
Mrs. R. Watters, Mrs. A. L. Mulligan,
Mrs. W. C. Jacques, Mrs. P. Dale,
Mrs. Alex. Mackay, Mrs. W. G. L.

Thanking you for past kindnesses and your presence here this evening,
I remain,
Yours sincerely,
FLORENCE M. C. RAYMOND.
