POPE RECEIVED

ARISTOCRACY

Expressed His Satisfaction That Aristocracy Opposed Immodesty Of Fashions

Rome, Jan. 5.—The Pope today received the Roman aristocracy headed by Prince Colonna, assistant to the Pontifical Throne, who delivered the address for the New Year's greeting.

The Pontiff expressed his satisfaction that the aristocracy had followed his advice of last year in opposing immodesty of fashions. He spoke of Catholic activities, declaring that in this field the aristocracy was called upon to exercise the important work of direction, advice and example.

The Pope recommended especially the reading and popularizing of the Gospel. Advising the women, he praised the work they had done.

A WIDENING OF

INVESTIGATION

Into Books Of Bell Telephone Co. Applied For At Rate Hearing

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 5.—(Can. Press)—Application for a widening of the investigation into the Bell Telephone Company's books to take in the Northern Electric Company and other subsidiaries, was made today at the resumed hearing of the Bell Company's application for increased rates. G. H. Geary, Toronto counsel, and E. Lovring, counsel for the Province of Ontario, made this request, claiming that the Bell Telephone Company had handed over profitable business to the Northern Electric and thus apparently impoverished itself.

Had the Bell Telephone Company manufacturing their own apparatus and requirements as formerly, these counsel claimed the profit shown in the Bell Telephone Company's books would have been entirely different.

Commissioner McLean, who was in the Chair, promised a ruling from the Board on this before the case had proceeded very far.

When the hearing of the application was proceeded with, examination of the Bell Telephone Company, and E. Palm, Financial Controller, occupied all of today's session. Mr. Sise stated that the company had lost over one and a half millions on its operations for eleven months of 1920. The estimated increased revenue to be derived from the increased rates was $4,577,667, Mr. Sise stated, and after all operating costs had been paid, the balance available to apply towards increased operating and maintenance expenditures and cost of financing would be $131,338.

The hearing was adjourned at five o'clock until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

When the hearing of the Bell Telephone Company application for increased rates opened before the Railway Commission this morning an hour's argument was staged on the question of whether the Bell Company was showing a proper statement of its relations with the Northern Electric Co., a subsidiary company which manufactures telephone equipment.

G. H. Geary, of Toronto, and other members of counsel for the municipalities, asked the board to open the books of the Northern Electric Co. to the municipalities, and to go no further with the present application until those books had been fully examined. It was claimed that the company had not presented the statements showing its exact returns with subsidiary companies. The board will give a formal ruling on his judgment later.

C. F. Sise, General Manager of the Bell Telephone Company was called when the hearing of the application was resumed.

Hon. F. B. Carvell did not take part in this morning's hearing, the assistant chief commissioner, J. McLean, being chairman. All the other board members were in attendance.

FOUR RUN DOWN

BY BLOODHOUNDS

Are Accused Of Dynamiting A Mine Incline Railway In Virginia

Fayetteville, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Four men have been run down by bloodhounds and arrested by the State Police for complicity in the dynamiting last night of a mine incline railway of the Willard Branch Coal Company at Willard's Branch, according to information received here tonight. The prisoners have not yet been brought here to jail, but they are expected to reach Fayetteville before morning as this is the county seat.

The Willard's Branch Coal Company in September, 1919, decided to operate its mines under an open shop policy. Since that time its power houses have been fired upon and a quantity of dynamite was exploded near the mouth of a mine. No serious damage resulted.

The explosion last night was the third attack on the company's property since September 1919.

LIVING OVER A

RAGING FURNACE

Residents Of West Scranton In Very Unenviable Plight—Fire In Old Mine

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 5.—Residents of Lower West Scranton are living over a raging furnace while officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, together with members of the local police and fire departments are making an effort to determine the exact location of a fire, in which it is believed to be old mine workings about 500 feet below the surface.

It is believed that there are two mammoth mine fires and that the flames are spreading over an underground area of approximately fifty acres. The presence of gas and black damp prevented firemen from going down the shaft in an attempt to find just where the blaze is located.

While there appears to be no immediate danger to the thousands of people living over this particular area, officials fear that if any surface settlements should occur while the blaze is raging, the fumes of gas, sulphur and black damp would creep up through the crevices and possibly enter the homes of the residents with results that might in some cases prove fatal.

TEST SANITY OF

PLENIPOTENTIARY

Grover Alexander Redding On Trial With Eight Co-Defendants For Murder

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Grover Alexander Redding, "Prince of Abyssinia and royal envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the Empire of Abyssinia to the United States" was examined by Dr. C. E. Neymann, Superintendent of the Psychopathic Hospital, today with a view to determining his sanity.

In the meantime his trial with eight co-defendants for murder in connection with a riot last June in which two men were killed when they attempted to prevent the burning of a United States flag, was halted. It is charged that the riot resulted from a parade of "Abyssinian princes", a negro organization.

The test of Redding's sanity was conducted at the request of Attorneys for the defence. The extravagance of Redding's claims in the promotion of a home-going expedition of Chicago negroes to their Abyssinian fatherland, was cited as evidence that he may not be mentally responsible.

RUSSIA IS OUT

OF COMPETITION

Canadian Grain Growers Have Little To Fear In This Connection

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 5.—(Can. Press)—That the Grain Growers of the Dominion have little to fear from the competition of Russia in the immediate future is indicated in a report received from the office of the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Milan. It appears that in Italy and other European countries much was expected through negotiations with the Cooperative Institute of Russia, but only one ship loaded with Russian grain has arrived yet in any Italian port. This amounted to less than 4,000 tons and much of the cargo was reported to be in bad condition. There is also said to be but little prospect of grain from Rumania or Jugoslavia finding its way to the European markets in considerable quantities in spite of better transportation facilities and exchange.

ANGUS SHOPS RE-OPEN

MUSTAPHA KEMAL

PASHA IRONICAL

Thanks British Government For Its Assistance To Turkish Nationalists

Anzora, Asia Minor, Jan. 5.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, has sent an ironical message to Mr. Lloyd George, thanking the British Government through the Prime Minister for "assisting" the Nationalists.

Great Britain had in fact done so, Mustapha Kemal points out, by furnishing the Armenians with 40,000 rifles and considerable war material, which the Armenians, he says, surrendered to the Nationalists under the peace treaty they had concluded.

The National Assembly here has created Mustapha Kemal a field-marshal of the Turkish army, "in recognition of his services."

Is Impracticable

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Mr. Lloyd George's suggestion that President Wilson direct the United States High Commissioner at Constantinople on the question of mediation in Armenia is regarded by States officials as impracticable since such a course would give the President's action an official character he desires to avoid.

Mr. Lloyd George's suggestion, which was addressed to Paul Hyndman, President of the Council of the League of Nations, has been transmitted to the President, but it has been regarded here as little more than an interesting sidelight on the problem, since it was made prior to the announcement that the President had named Henry Morgenthau as his representative and asked the Council for instructions as to procedure. This request remains unanswered.

WAGE REDUCTION.

Gloversville, N. Y., Jan. 5.—A wage reduction ranging from 20 to 33 1-3 percent and affecting all workers in the leather dressing and tanning industry here today was announced by the manufacturers.

THE LORD-MAYOR

OF CORK'S CASE

Crossed As Stowaway Without Passport—U.S. State Dept. Ordered Investigation

Washington, D.C., Jan. 5.—Investigation of the circumstances surrounding the entry into this country of Daniel J. O'Callaghan, Lord-Mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News yesterday as a stowaway and without a passport, was ordered today by the State Department. Officials of the Department indicated that an "unusual extra-ordinary basis for extension was found, it was probable that no distinction would be drawn between his case and that of any other stowaways."

The United States Immigration laws provide for the return of stowaways to the port from which they embarked. Exceptions are occasionally made to this rule, however, where there are unusual circumstances connected with the case. Children who have come to the United States as stowaways have been admitted to the country on a guarantee being received from some responsible citizen that they would be looked after.

Message of Greeting

New York, Jan. 5.—A message of greeting to Daniel O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News yesterday as a stowaway on the Westcannon was sent from here today by L. Hollingsworth Wood, Chairman of the Committee of One Hundred, investigating the Irish question. The message asked the Lord-Mayor to appear before the Committee on January 17 to testify regarding conditions in Ireland.

The text of the message which was sent to the Lord-Mayor, "in care of Immigration authorities, Newport News, Va.," follows:

"Delighted to hear of your arrival, Commission having received no answer to our communication to you, has set next hearing for 17th. If earlier date will accommodate you, please advise me."

Mr. Wood said that Mayor O'Callaghan was invited "some time ago" to visit the United States for the purpose of testifying before the Committee.

His arrival, Mr. Wood said, was a surprise.

STATISTICS OF

MONTREAL PORT

Reports Show An Increase In Number And Tonnage Of Ocean Vessels

Montreal, Que., Jan. 5.—Reports of the Port Warden were presented today at the regular meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade with the financial statements from the Port Warden's Office. These show an increase in the number and tonnage of ocean vessels at this port during the past season as compared with 1919 of fifteen vessels and 87,91 tons.

On the other hand there has been a decrease in shipping between Montreal and the Lower Gulf ports of 56 vessels and 138,484 tons.

Four vessels launched by the Canadian Vickers Company, Limited, had received their cargoes and made their maiden voyages from this port. A notable feature of the season was the arrival here of the first full-sized sailing vessel to visit Montreal since 1910, this ship being the Grand Duchess Marie Nikolaevna, of Odessa.

C.N.R. OFFICIALS

ISSUES DENIAL

No Dissatisfaction Expressed Over Appointment Of F. H. McGuigan

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 5.—Canadian Press)—Absolute denial of a denunciation from Winnipeg to the effect that the management of the Canadian National Railway had expressed dissatisfaction with the appointment of F. H. McGuigan, on the Board of Conclusions which will deal with the dispute over the Hanna affair, was made today by the Minister of Railways.

"The item is absolutely false from beginning to end," said Senator Robertson, "and in justice to Mr. McGuigan it should be denied. I have received no expression of dissatisfaction from Mr. Hanna as a result of the appointment of Mr. McGuigan and no intimation that the Canadian National management was desirous of selecting another man. The Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railway is meeting in Toronto today and not on January 20, as stated in the despatch."

The Minister stated that he was in receipt of a communication from Messrs. David Campbell and F. H. McGuigan, representatives of the employees and railway, respectively, that they had been unable to agree upon the choice of a chairman.

Accordingly, a selection would be made by the Department without delay.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 5.—President-elect Harding became a thirty second degree Mason tonight at the end of a twelve-hour initiation ceremony here, participated in by ranking officials of the order from all parts of the United States.

Starting as a master mason the President-elect was raised through the other twenty eight degrees at a continuous sitting arranged particularly for his accommodation. He was the third chosen chief executive to travel through the higher degrees of masonry before the select valley consistory, James A. At the conclusion of the ceremony late today, Mr. Harding was presented with a masonic ring given by the thirty second degree masons of Marion, his home town, who had occupied posts of honor in the initiation.

Toledo, O., Jan. 5.—Declaring that the situation is acute and that intense suffering will result among the poorer classes of the city unless something is done immediately, Cornell Schreiber, Mayor of Toledo, today called a meeting of representatives of every industry in the city to discuss unemployment and if possible to provide work for those idle.

Mr. Schreiber declared he has been told there are 25,000 men out of work, have been so for some time and that the city's charity resources have become depleted through an almost constant strain.

BOVRIL never Profiteered

WHILE many foods have doubled in price, Bovril is the same price in Canada to-day as in 1914.

Yet the opportunities for profiteering, if Bovril Limited had chosen to take them, were almost unlimited. Double the price could easily have been obtained for Bovril, because there is no real substitute for Bovril.

But the proprietors of Bovril, realising their responsibilities in controlling a food essential to the well being of the nation, kept the price of Bovril down. By foresight in the provision of raw material, and rigid economy in production, they were and still are able to supply Bovril in Canada at the same price as before the War.

It is no slight reward to feel that in this way men, women and children have been maintained in health or helped back to it through Bovril.

There was no increase in the price of Bovril during the War

You can buy Bovril to-day at the same price as in 1914.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL MEETING

Numerous Communications Read And Acted Upon At Busy Session

The Council of the Quebec Board of Trade held a meeting yesterday afternoon, presided over by the President of the Board, Mr. J. T. Ross, and the members present were Messrs. A. J. Welch, J. G. Scott, Jules Gauvin, Hon. Frank Carrel, Gaudin Brousseau, S. Barrow, and E. G. Tanguay, T. Levesque Secretary, and O. H. Cote, Trade Commissioner.

The following letter was read from the Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners in regard to holding a sitting of the Board in Quebec:

Ottawa, December 30th, 1920
T. Levesque, Esq.,
Secretary, Quebec Board of Trade.

I am just in receipt of your telegram asking me to name the exact date of our sittings in your City, but, as this has to do with rates, I am of the opinion it should become part of the general rate investigation and it is not our wish to start that for a few weeks until certain information is obtained from the railway companies.

Now, with this expression of opinion, if you still think you would like us to come and hold a sitting purely from the standpoint of Quebec, I think we could arrange it some time during the third week in January and can advise you of the exact date. Please reply immediately.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) F. B. CARVELL,
Chief Commissioner

A letter was read from Mr. Geo. Morissette, requesting permission to appear before the Council of the Board to give explanations respecting the Quebec Provincial Exhibition. The Secretary of the Board was instructed to write to Mr. Morissette, and suggest to him that any explanations he had to give for the Council to consider, be forwarded in writing.

C. P. O. S.
The following communication received from the Manager of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Steamship Service, respecting stoppage of passenger vessels from Montreal to take on Quebec passengers was read:

Montreal, 31st December, 1920
J. T. Ross, Esq.,
President,
Quebec Board of Trade, Que.

Dear Sir:— With reference to the desire of your body that passengers from Quebec might in future be transferred from ship to ship on the outward voyage, instead of having to come to Montreal, it has now been decided by this Company that provided suitable, reliable accommodation can be provided, we will be glad to do so in future. Could you help out in any way by making a suggestion re a suitable transfer boat.

I must again thank you for your hospitality and courtesy to us when we attended your meeting, and wish you a Happy and Prosperous 1921.
Yours very truly,
(Signed) J. H. WALSH,
Manager.

The municipal revaluation in connection with a resolution before the City Council, came up, when it was decided to postpone consideration until next week when His Worship Mayor Samson and Alderman Lesage will be invited to be present to express their views.

A letter from Sir David Watson, chairman of the Quebec Harbor Commission, requesting that an investigation be made by the Trade Commissioner, to ascertain the quantity of freight dependable in Quebec for shipment from the port next spring, and summer season of navigation. The Trade Commissioner was instructed to prepare and send out a circular letter to all Quebec cheese and butter as well as manufacturers and exporters of all articles of trade essentials, with the view to obtaining the information required.

At the request of the Commercial Travellers' Association, it was decided to write to the management of the Canadian National Railways and ask as a favor that a change be made in I.C.R. time table regarding local train No. 31 to leave Levis at 8:30 a.m. instead of 6:30 a.m. as at present.

A letter was read from Mr. J. H. Walsh informing the Board that the Quebec Central Railway from Montreal to the 29th of December, would protect Quebec class rates and grain rates previously effective via Levis, on carload shipments via Canadian unreasonably distant date for their arrival at rail head. This is the opinion of H. T. Hazen, Chief Engineer of the Canadian National Railways, who has spent a winter on the shores of Hudson Bay and snowed with dog team to Winnipeg, and who is thoroughly familiar with travelling conditions in the northern wilds.

The letter requests the Quebec Board of Trade to endorse the principal and forward the same to Quebec's Agent in London.

Oriental Mails

Another letter was read from the Vancouver Board of Trade, informing the Quebec Board that the Government has been successful in influencing to again carry Canadian mails to the Orient via the steamers of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, and that they have secured British Commercial houses to make specially marked either upon the envelope or the C.P.O.S. will be forwarded via Vancouver.

COMPASS STATIONS TO HELP VESSELS

Establishment of Radio Plants in Alaska Is Plan Under Consideration

Juneau, Alaska, Jan. 5—The establishment of radio compass stations in Alaska is now under consideration by the United States Navy Department. By communicating with radio compass stations, a ship can get its bearings in fog or storm and proceed with safety, where otherwise it might be compelled to anchor for hours or make hazardous progress.

Recently five representatives of the navy, especially skilled in this branch of the work, made a three weeks' inspection tour to locate suitable sites in Alaska. They chose seven, at Rugged Island, Tonki Point, Cape Chugach, Cape Hitchinbrook, Cape St. Elias, Cape Spencer and Cape Ommaney.

These compass stations cannot be operated to advantage in the Inside Passage in southeastern Alaska because there is not room enough for a working radius, and the intervening mountains would lessen the efficiency of the service, if attempted. But for a ship in the outside waters, within, say, 50 miles of shore, the arrangement would be a safeguard. A ship could get in touch with two radio stations and by a process of "triangulation" determine its exact location and be able to keep away from reefs or make port.

Scope of the Plan.

This plan, if put into effect, will be an important adjunct of the coast guard service, and will render assistance to ships in the North Pacific Ocean most of which carry many passengers and heavy and valuable cargoes of ore and other products from the westward on the south-bound trips, and bring supplies when northbound.

With a radio compass station at Rugged Island, not far from Seward, and another at a suitable point, ships could get their bearings and make that port or other port in that locality under favorable conditions. On the southbound trip by the Outside Passage, a ship bound for Seattle could lay a direct course to Cape Flattery, getting cross bearings from other compass stations in Alaska, while, with stations at Cape St. Elias and Cape Spencer or

Some other locations, a pilot could lay his course for Icy Strait, if going south by the Inside Passage.

The stations, if established, will be on a prominent point extending into the sea, as if to reach out a helping hand or send a friendly call to a ship which had lost its bearings. The compass stations will transmit no commercial business, but in addition to their regular duties, of giving bearings to ships, the operators, if they hear a signal for help will communicate with the nearest radio station in order that help may be sent.

In Touch with World

The compass stations will cost from $34,000 to $45,000 each, and they will consist of a radio compass equipment and building and quarters for the men. When reference was made to the isolation of these places, it was pointed out that the men will be in close touch with affairs of the world through the use of their wireless instruments. There will be five men at each station, their assignment being for two years, and they will receive their supplies twice a year. Landing at many of these places can be made only under favorable weather conditions.

It is the policy of the government to establish these radio compass stations as close to lighthouses as practicable, and in many cases on light-house property, in order that they may work in conjunction with each other.

The radio compass, or electrical finder, as it has been called, has only recently been adapted by the Navy Department to the aid of shipping. There are stations already in operation on the Atlantic coast and last summer 15 stations were established in Washington, Oregon and California. Work will probably be started in the spring on some of the stations in Alaska.

GERMANS NOT READY TO RESUME CONFERENCE

On Reparations At Brussels As Agreed Upon Before Adjournment

Paris, Jan. 5—The French Government today received notice that the German delegation was not ready to resume the reparations conference at Brussels on January 10, as had been agreed upon before the adjournment of the conference last month.

The only reason given by the Germans for deferring a postponement of the conference is that it will be personally incongruous for Herr Bergemann of the German Delegation, to be in Brussels on the 10th. No other date is suggested, however, and the tendency here is to connect this postponement with the disarmament question, it being considered a natural sequence of the remarks made by Dr. Walter Simons, the German Foreign Minister, to Ambassador Laurent in Berlin recently, that insistence upon the disarmament of the German police organizations might make the consideration of the reparations question at Brussels more difficult.

DAILY SERVICE IS MAINTAINED

By Ferry Co. Between Quebec And Island Of Orleans With Str. Polaris

The daily winter ferry service between the City of Quebec and the Island of Orleans is concrete evidence of the practicability of winter navigation of the St. Lawrence from Quebec to the ocean. The Quebec and Levis Ferry Co., which has been given the contract to carry the mail between Quebec and the Island of Orleans, has placed the latest steamship Polaris on the service which is making her trips between this city and the Island every day in the week except Sunday. The distance is some seven miles, and the Polaris leaves the Quebec wharfage every morning at about 10:30 a.m. and leaves the Island on her return trip at about 12:30 p.m. She has no difficulty in making her scheduled trips with mails and passengers and is considered a great convenience. In further proof of the practicability of the Lower St. Lawrence during winter it is learned from the Signal Service that there is very little ice in the river east of Quebec to hinder navigation.

VOLTIGEURS LOST TO ROYAL RIFLES

LATEST IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

SARFIELD WON FROM C.N.R. OUTFIT

ROYAL RIFLES WON FROM VOLTIGEURS WHILE THE SARSFIELDS TRIMMED C.N.R.

Scores in Each Match Were Six to One—About Thousand People at Game—Good Contests Were Seen—Brophy and Aquin As Referees—Voltigeurs Outclassed by Soldiers

The games in the City League attracted about one thousand people to the Arena last evening, and they were rewarded by seeing some very good hockey.

In the first match, Voltigeurs started off with a rush, and gave the Royal Rifles a busy time for the first few minutes.

After the first four minutes they were outclassed, and from the time that McCrimmon tied up the count, one minute after Bellefeuille had succeeded in getting the puck past Lacombe, the soldiers were all over their opponents who contented themselves with spasmodic rushes.

The Voltigeurs turned out in Bell Telephone sweaters, as their colors are somewhat similar to those of Royal Rifles.

Only one point was registered in the middle session, and this was the prettiest goal of the evening. It fell to Lowrie, who took an aerial pass from Armstrong, catching the puck with his stick while the disc was going right through, to draw out the goaler, and put the rubber in the net.

In the third session, a trio of points were added to the three accumulated by the Royal Rifles in the first two periods, while their opponents were unable to score.

Armstrong came through with the first goal in the last stanza after nine and a half minutes of play, and followed this up thirty seconds later when he secured the puck from Lesieur, who had started an individual rush towards the Rifles' goal right from the face off.

Armstrong came through with the first goal in the last stanza after nine and a half minutes of play, and followed this up thirty seconds later when he secured the puck from Lesieur, who had started an individual rush towards the Rifles' goal right from the face off.

The last goal of the game was also scored in thirty seconds. Lowrie, who was one of the stars of the match, going through right from the face off and scoring.

From then on until the gong rang, the Voltigeurs made desperate efforts to score, but to no avail, for the Royal Rifles presented an impenetrable defence.

Furges played well in goal for the Voltigeurs, and was not responsible for the shots that beat him. His defence did not play as well as in their last game, while the shooting of some of the forwards was off color.

Lacombe stopped some difficult shots but did not have half the work that Turgeon had, while Lowrie was one of the bright stars for the Rifles.

Armstrong played well, but the referees might have been a little more severe with him. The rest of the players were good.

Sarsfield turned out with two new men on their line-up, Baker, who played in center, and Townes, who held down left wing, and the first named was a big factor in the six to one victory of the Riflemen.

Play started out fast, but there was no score for seven minutes, when Baker registered the first point of the game. McDonald overtopped the net three minutes later on a long shot, but Baker put the Irishmen in the lead one minute from the end of the period, putting the puck past Frenette after the latter had stopped a hot shot from Kenny.

In the middle session, Sarsfield registered two points, Dinan and Drouin being the scorers, while in the final twenty they added two more, Drouin getting another, and Jimmy Lonergan the sixth.

Just before the end of the game Kane was sent to the bench for a major-penalty for cross-checking Drouin, who was carried off the ice.

MATCHES FOR CURLERS TODAY

Annual President Vs. Vice-President Competitions Will Be Decided At Both Clubs

Today is a big event in the eyes of the curlers in the city, for it is on this date that the annual President vs. Vice-President matches take place at both the Quebec and the Victoria Curling Clubs.

The lists have already been published of the various rinks that will do duty for both Clubs, and suffice it to say that there will be action with capital A at both the Quebec and Victoria rinks.

The Quebec Club will have eighteen rinks playing all afternoon and evening, while the Victoria Club will only have two less. There are three sheets of ice at the Quebec Curling Club, and two at the Victoria Club, so that it will easily be seen that the rinks will be kept busy all day long.

All the curlers in the city are expected to be present to help out their respective clubs, and a real warm time is looked forward to.

The entry sheets are posted for the club matches of the Victoria Curling Club, and a very busy month of January is looked forward to by the members of the Club, as the Boswell Shield and Red Cross Shield matches have to be played, as well as the Governor-General's and Victoria Jubilee competitions between the Victoria and Quebec Clubs before the big Centenary Bonspiel on the 24th of the present month, so that it behooves all members of the Victoria Club to inscribe their names for the various competitions.

The Quebec Curling Club is still going ahead with their plans for the big Centenary Bonspiel to be held here from January 24th to 29th, inclusive, and it is expected that within a couple of days everything will be in readiness for the event. The finishing touches are being applied to a very extensive program, which, when it is outlined, will surprise quite a number of people.

Hammy Laroche is coming back to this city, it is understood, and will probably turn out for the Royal Rifles.

There will probably be some fights run off in the Drill Hall in the very near future, according to good authority. It is said that they will take place round January 14, Georges Papin, lightweight champion of France, is one of the men who it is proposed to bring down, while other good artists will be on the bill.

Sarsfield certainly made a great find in Lamerre, their goal tender. He played like a veteran again last night, and saved half dozen what appeared to be sure goals.

The C. N. R. players showed a tendency to be afraid of the Sarsfield defence last night, and except on very few occasions, would refuse to bore in, contenting themselves with shooting from way out. One of these long shots got by, it is true, but then about seventy others did not.

Congratulations are due Mr. Geo. Van Felson, of the Victoria Curling Club, on his appointment as Official Umpire of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club Branch.

Armstrong, of the Royal Rifles, broke a half dozen sticks during the game last night, and it was suggested to Major Gordon that he buy hockey sticks by the car-load if the player keeps up his present rate.

After having walked through the Voltigeurs, the Royal Rifles will tune up for the Nationals, of Montreal, whom they play on Saturday night in the first exhibition game of the season. The Nationals, have some team, according to reports, and will make the Soldiers travel some to gain the victory. A real good contest is looked forward to, and for this game, the Royal Rifles expect to have their new men, Lamerre, Havas and Richardson out in action. The trio were expected here in time for last night's game, but could not reach Quebec in time.

Today is a big event for curlers for the annual President vs. Vice-President matches are on the bill in both the Quebec and Victoria Curling Clubs.

The proposal to send an American team to the British open championship tournament to be played at St. Andrew's Scotland, next June, has aroused considerable interest in American golfing circles.

The threatened rupture between the major and minor leagues is likely either to be healed or come to an open break in the series of baseball conferences to be held in Chicago during the week of January 10.

The statistics of the Eastern League for the past season show that "Big Chief" Bender's pitching arm is still capable of baffling the batters, as in the old days when it was wont to win victories for Connie Mack's Athletics.

The Pacific Northwest expects to have two baseball leagues next season, the Pacific International League confining its activities to the tidewater cities, with a new organization to take in Spokane and other inland cities.

The result of last night's shoot is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Includes MacPherson Cup and Price Cup winners.

REGULAR COLLEGE COURSE AT NIGHT

Boston, Mass., Jan. 5.—Asserting that "a city university should meet the needs of all the people in the community," L. H. Murlin, president of Boston University, announces that evening courses of the regular college grade, leading to an A. B. or B. S. degree, are to be offered by Boston University beginning in February.

"Many young people who are at work all day would like to take studies of college grade at night," says President Murlin. "It is in response to this need that the university is opening courses in the College of Liberal Arts. This is purely an experiment. If the response is sufficient to warrant it, it will become a permanent feature of the university program. Otherwise, it will not be continued beyond this semester."

DANGER TO PARKS IS POINTED OUT

"Desire For Selfish Gain at Expense of Nation" Condemned

Boston, Mass., Jan. 5.—Cognizance of the danger to the national parks of the United States through the legislative drive of Idaho and Montana interests, and through the still unamended Federal Water Power Act which would allow permits for exploitation of the parks' resources, plays a prominent part in the annual report of the Massachusetts Forestry Association. The account of the park tours conducted under the auspices of the association notes the fact "that in almost every park visited some form of commercial enterprise is seeking to gain concessions." These encroachments are attributed to a desire "to get something for nothing" and marked by the tendency to look upon the park areas as "legitimate graft."

"This desire for selfish gain at the expense of the nation," the report says, "is not a trait peculiar to our western neighbors, but in this particular instance they happen to be the aggressors. It is perfectly natural that if the people in that part of Idaho need water to extend their irrigated areas and if that water happens to have its source in Yellowstone Park, the nearer to the source that the water can be impounded, the higher that level will be and the greater will be the area that may be irrigated. Besides if that water can be collected on government land such as a national park it will save the purchase of park it will save the purchase of the water. The park enthusiasts have to another beautiful lake within the park even if it is artificial? The farmers down the valley have risked their fortunes to make a livelihood on what was formerly a desert and to grow food that the rest of us may eat. But these farmers must have water and Uncle Sam owes them at least a fighting chance to make a living."

Arguments Made. "These are some of the logical and touching arguments why the Smith Bill (H. R. 1246) which has already passed the Senate should become law. This bill provides for the flooding of some 8000 acres in the Bechler River and Falls River basins in the south-west corner of Yellowstone Park."

It is agreed that the engineering fact that the higher the level at which water is collected the greater is its value for power or irrigation; it is granted that the fundamental idea of reclamation is excellent; and it is admitted that the creation of a beautiful lake, even if artificial, if desirable; but it is urged that there is a "fatal to the philanthropy of a generous government." It is pointed out that a farmer on a worn-out hillside farm might expect the government to haul back the soil washed to the sea from his farm, but "it would cost all the people more than it would be worth to the farmer."

"Let us compare the facts in the case," the report continues, "with the arguments presented for the Smith Bill. That part of Yellowstone Park is little known to the public because it has not been opened up by trails and roads, and it was represented by the proponents of the bill as swampy and uninteresting, of little value for recreation. An investigation made this past summer proved that it is one of the most beautiful sections of the park, containing lovely waterfalls, hot springs, rolling meadows, and forests. It is possible to create in this area an artificial lake covering from 12 to 14 square miles, but since the water from this lake would be used in mid-summer, what the park visitors would see in place of a beautiful lake would be a dreary waste of mud flats where the lake had been, with a dirty pond in the middle. That is the exact condition of Jackson Lake, a few miles south of the Yellowstone.

"It has been shown that this water can be stored outside the park, although it may cost more to build the dam and to purchase the land which would be flooded. This difference in cost between the two propositions is what the promoters want Uncle Sam to give them, at the expense to all the people of giving up one of the best parts of their largest national park. So long as there are still millions of acres of land that can be irrigated elsewhere, the cost of this project to all the people is too great."

Recreational Value. The recreational value of parks and playgrounds, the report goes on, is recognized, and in setting aside the national parks a gift of international proportions has been made to the world. Economic developments are incompatible with park uses and commercial interests must prove their rights to cross the boundaries. This element, however, has had the advantage in argument in being able to show tangible possibilities and promise of results. Supporters of the national parks, on the other hand, find it difficult to measure in dollars and cents "the great but intangible value of recreational areas to all the people."

"Travel experts are generally agreed," the report asserts, "that the money spent by the tourist at present averages around $18 per day. The Easterner spends from one to three months in the parks and the neighboring cities, while the local visitor may stay from one day to a month. A conservative average would be 10 days per visitor. During the season of 1920, there were 1,058,455 visitors to the national parks and monuments and at $150 per person they spent in and about the parks over $158,000,000. It is only a matter of a few years until over 2,000,000 people will be seeing the parks annually, and leaving with the people in and about the parks $300,000,000.

"The total area of the 19 national parks is 6,949,760 acres. If they were thrown open to economic development not more than 2,000,000 acres could possibly be utilized, because of the rugged nature of the topography, the water surface, the barren soil, and the great areas above timber line. A gross average profit of $50 an acre annually on this area would probably be a high estimate of what could be obtained from all its resources for many years to come. This would amount to $100,000,000 or less than the present value of the tourist trade. Since it is impossible to secure both these benefits it would seem that the tourist trade is the more desirable."

TOWN GROWING UP AROUND SALT RECOVERING PLANT. Regina, Sask., Jan. 5.—A young town is growing up around the salt recovering and drying plant, now being operated at Maskakee Lake, Sask. An evaporating plant, two storage houses, and two drying sheds have been erected, and dwelling houses, lodging and boarding houses are now commencing to make their appearance in the district.

The salt is obtained from the waters of Lake Maskakee, and from deposits under it. They include epsom, glauber, magnesium carbonate, sodium chloride and potassium sulfate. The plant can produce from 25 to 30 tons of dry evaporated salts per day. The product is shipped to Kitchener, Ont., for final treatment.

REFUSING BURIAL TO THE DEAD Delhi, Dec. 30.—The non-cooperation party are particularly aggressive in Delhi City, and a most disgraceful form of intimidation is being employed against loyal persons who refuse to join the "movement."

Recently a highly respected Mohamadan, Muzil, who was a trustee of Alligarh College, died. His son, a barrister, has made a sworn statement that when the funeral procession approached the burial ground it was stopped by a number of non-cooperation leaders and a mob armed with bamboo staves. These persons abused the deceased as a supporter of the Government and an infidel, and declared that they would prevent his interment in sacred Mohamadan ground. The son accordingly applied for a guard to be sent to the house, to which the body had to be returned, and asked that the guard should accompany the body to the burial ground for the interment. A district magistrate with police proceeded to the residence, but ultimately an arrangement, the nature of which is not disclosed, was entered into between the relatives and the non-cooperation leaders, and the guard, at the request of the family, was withdrawn. It is to be hoped that the authorities will take effective measures to stop this intolerable treatment of loyal people.

At The Theatres

Olive Thomas at the Victoria in "Everybody's Sweetheart," the Last Picture Made By Late Star

"Everybody's Sweetheart" is the alluring title of the next Olive Thomas production presented by Selznick Pictures at the Victoria theatre today, and in it, it is said, this beautiful star reaches new emotional heights and offers a characterization that stamps her as one of the leading luminaries of the screen. This was Miss Thomas's last picture.
In the first part of the picture Miss Thomas appears as a young girl who is an inmate of a County Poor Farm. In spite of the fact that she is absolutely alone in the world and would have every reason to be discontented with her lot, she appears to be the most cheerful of all people and fairly radiates happiness. This unfeeling good nature causes her to be endowed with the title "Everybody's Sweetheart."
Mary is in love with John, a poor boy on the farm. One day the two accompanied by an old soldier known as "Corporal" run away from the Poor Farm. Circumstances bring them to the home of General Bingham, a wealthy, retired soldier. But see the picture, you'll be interested to find out how it all ended. On same program Fatty Arbuckle in "The Hayseed", also 4th episode of "Velled Mystery."

H. B. Warner in "Dice Of Destiny" at the Classic Today—First Chapter of New Serial "The Phantom Foe"

A BETTER PLAY THAN "ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE" IN A WARRNER-MADE ROLE
"Dice of Destiny" to be shown for the first time at the Classic today, the combination of H. B. Warner, star; Henry King, director; Fred Myton, scenarist, and the Jesse D. Hampton production staff, from property man to scenic artist and cameraman, is on hand to best "Dice of Destiny," is claimed by its advertising as an extra special super-feature, those who see it are going to remember it as one of the few "hundred-per cent. pictures" in entertainment value they have ever seen.
H. B. Warner out-Jimmy-Valentine himself as Jimmy Doyle, a Jew thief left in charge of his pal's daughter. Jimmy decides the way to keep her out of the crook game is to provide her with an honest husband, and to that end he goes straight.
He falls in love with the girl himself and continues on the level, but is double-crossed by a crook who has traced him and who wants the girl in his power. The result is prison again for Jimmy. He thinks the detective framed him, and when destiny places the detective climaxes, swiftly followed by a surprise, human, comedy twist that is only one of the many touches of genius displayed in the direction of Henry King.
A Warner picture always attracts, and this being the best, should bring the Classic its biggest houses.
The first episode of the new serial "The Phantom Foe" will be shown. This is one of the greatest Pathe serials ever produced and the fans are bound to enjoy the fifteen surprise-packed chapters. Two other numbers are also on the bill.

Ice Bridge Disappears.
The mild weather of the last fortnight and the storm of Tuesday brought about the destruction of the ice bridge at Three Rivers. It is believed that all the ice on Lake St. Peter broke up when the storm passed down the river. The river up to Saturday night's cold spell was open and the G. T. R. Ferry which had gone into winter quarters, was making her regular trip.

Plymouth, Oct. 21.—The Tyne, of 23 guns, Captain G. T. Falcon, recently arrived at Portsmouth from Rio Janeiro, has brought nearly £700,000 sterling in dollars on board, on merchants' account. This is the first register of specie ever conveyed to England direct from the western shores of the South American continent, the Tyne having brought it from Calion from which port she sailed on the 24 June.

THE ALWAYS-USEFUL TOP-COAT

(By GERTRUDE HERSFORD)
One of the most useful articles in the wardrobe of any woman is the top-coat. It is especially practical when winter winds sometimes necessitate the wearing of an extra wrap. This delightful model is developed in a novelty wool fabric. Forsaking the extremely severe lines that not infrequently mark these rather mannish garments it shows an effective arrangement in the fronts, where slip-in pockets are cleverly placed. The back is elaborated with stitching and a high draped collar adds to its beauty. The sleeves are quite wide at the armholes. The small ducy-ton hat is faced with satin of contrasting hue.

Proper Food For The Child

(By LORETTA C. LYNCH)
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.
One of the largest cities in the United States asked me to lend my assistance in combating the appalling amount of malnutrition which the Department of Health doctors found among its children. And, strange to say, the malnutrition was by no means limited to the children of poor folk. Some of the children came of well-to-do families. In only a small minority of cases was lack of money the cause. Then what is the matter?
I invited the mothers of one hundred of these children to a little informal gathering. At first they let me do most of the talking, let me tell them that a diet of white bread, potatoes and meat and practically nothing else might cause malnutrition. They allowed me to become so enthusiastic that I finally gave out printed slips on the suggested diet to combat malnutrition.
The best food workers believe that a diet of milk—lots of it—cereals and cereal foods, fruits and vegetables, fats and foods from the egg-fish, meat-pot group and a very little sugar at the end of a meal, other conditions being favorable, is the ideal diet for the proper growth and development of a child.
Up to this point the women had been shy. But now a courageous soul broke silence.
"It is all very well to say the children should eat this and that and that," she said, pointing to the slip with her toil-worn finger, "but

MRS. SEGUIN ALMOST DRIVEN DISTRACTED

Montreal Woman Says Tan-lac Did So Much For Her It's Hard To Find Words To Praise It Enough

"I find it hard to express all the good things I would like to say about Tanlac. It has done so much for me" said Mrs. Yvonne Seguin, 1922 Notre Dame St., West, Montreal.
"I had nervous indigestion, Oh, so dreadfully for two years. Everything disagreed with me, even the lightest cereals. I lost my appetite and even the odor of a meal cooking was almost unbearable. Then I had terrible headaches, sometimes I felt like my head would split right open and the agony would almost drive me distracted. My nerves were all unstrung, even the ringing of the telephone unnerved me.
"My sleep was broken and restless and in the morning I would go up feeling tired and worn out and often would be so dizzy I could hardly stand up. I suffered a great deal from constipation; also from acute pains in the back. I tried many medicines, but Tanlac is the only one that ever did me any good. It was just what I needed and in a short time made me feel like a different person.
"Everyone of my troubles has gone and I am in perfect health. I have a splendid appetite, digest everything with ease and have gained ten pounds in weight besides. It's just wonderful the way Tanlac helped me and I recommend it from the bottom of my heart as a blessing to those who are sick like I was.
Tanlac is sold in Quebec by Jolicoeur's Pharmacy, and by Martel & Dion, and in Lewis by Maurice Dion, under the direction of a special Tanlac representative.

My boy—the one the doctor says is undernourished, won't eat cereal and he won't drink milk and he don't like eggs and hates vegetables and I have to beg with him to eat these things what can I do?"
Suppose your child will not take milk. Perhaps if you make it into cocoa he will take it. Or, perhaps, he will take it if it is made into a chocolate pudding or a custard pudding. You might put a pinch of baking soda into the tomato soup and then combine it with equal parts of milk and serve it as cream of tomato soup.
If you will look through a cookbook you will find scores of dishes calling for milk. While pies are not usually suggested for children, nev-
