GAUDIAS CUSTEAU FOUND "NOT GUILTY."

Was Tried for Manslaughter in Connection With Brother's Death.

END OF THE DOCKET — SENTENCES TO-MORROW — ONLY THREE CONVICTIONS.

After being in session for just a month, the Court of King's Bench came to the end of its docket last night.

There was rather an imposing array of cases handed down by the Grand Jury. The Petty Jurors, however, have found most of the charges unfounded, two or three of the accused being discharged as not guilty without the necessity of a trial, or after only a few witnesses had been heard.

There have been but three convictions, viz., Moran, in the Brompton hay case, who was sentenced to 15 days in jail; Brier, in the Auckland horse case, and Frank Redmond.

The two last mentioned will be sentenced to-morrow.

GAUDIAS CUSTEAU FOUND "NOT GUILTY" OF MANSLAUGHTER.

When the jury returned to Court, this morning, they returned a verdict of "Not Guilty" in the case of Gaudias Custeau, charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of his brother at St. George de Windsor.

When the verdict was returned there was applause in Court.

In asking that the Court adjourn until to-morrow morning for sentence to be passed on those convicted, Mr. J.S. Broderick, K.C., referred to the unseemly demonstrations of the public, when verdicts were returned. He thought that it would be a good thing to have the public excluded when verdicts were rendered.

The Court then dismissed the jurors, and thanked them for their conscientious and painstaking care they had given to the case.

The Court then adjourned.

THE CLOSING EVIDENCE.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Worthington and Dr. Rioux were examined for the defence in the Custeau case. Both stated that they did not think the blow violent enough to cause death.

Isadore Procencal (Dr.), who, it was alleged by the Crown, carried on the profession of medicine without a license in the township where the accused resides, was next called. When he was called there was quite a flutter among the half dozen of medical men present, and they sat up in their seats to hear this man, who, it was stated by the witnesses had patients coming from the United States to be treated. It was an old man that appeared. His step was infirm and slow. He approached the witness box with a reluctant step. On entering the box he notified the Court that he was dull of hearing, and he had to approach close to the bench to have the oath administered. In answer to Mr. Campbell for the defence he stated that he was approaching seventy-eight years of age. He had no regular occupation. "I have been treating people for a long time," he said. "It is over forty-three years since I began to treat people. I was born below Quebec, and for nine years I treated people in the United States. While there I did not do anything else. I never advertised myself as a doctor, but the people would come for treatment just the same. When there was a doctor in the parish I advised them to go to him, but they would not. I saw Moise Custeau some time before his death. I was called there by his father. The boy finally died. According to my opinion the young man died from pleurisy and from inflammation of the bowels. I had often treated people for pleurisy and inflammation of the bowels. I think this young man caught this disease from working too hard and from drinking cold water. I

15 ARRESTS MADE AT BUCKINGHAM.

Coroner Rodrigue, Two Maclarens, Some Strikers and Police.

HELD RESPONSIBLE BY JURY — CIRCUMSTANCES SUCH THAT THEY SHOULD BE SENT BEFORE THE CRIMINAL COURT.

Buckingham, Nov. 2.—As a result of the verdict given by the coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of Belanger and Theriault, thirteen men were placed under arrest last night, charged with being criminally responsible for the killing of the strike leaders in the riot of Monday,, October 8. The men under arrest are the two Maclarens, Albert and Alex.; Dr. Rodrigue, the local coroner; Frank Kiernan, J. C. Cummings, both of Buckingham; Pierre Picard, of Montreal; Roy Ingraham, of Ottawa; all members of the constable force, and the following strikers, all of Buckingham; Adelard Hamelin, Hilaire Charette, Jean Baptiste Clement, Colbert Bastien, Louis Landry and George Robinson Croteau.

After five hours' deliberation, following on four days' session, in which 99 witnesses were heard, the following verdict was given at 8 o'clock last night:

"We, the undersigned jurors, declare that we find that Thomas Belanger and Francois Theriault came to their death in the town of Buckingham, in the district of Ottawa, on the 8th of October, 1906, being killed in the course of a riot by Frank Kiernan, John C. Cummings, both of Buckingham; Pierre Picard, of the city of Montreal; Roy Ingraham, presently in the town of Buckingham; F. W. Warner, presently dead, and the other constables, shooting at them, in such circumstances that they should be sent before the criminal court. We find that Albert Maclaren and Alex. Maclaren, both of Buckingham, are guilty of their death in bringing in these men, and should go before the criminal court. We also find that Adelard Hamelin, Hilaire Charette, Louis Landry, Jean Baptiste Clement, Colbert Bastien, George Robinson Croteau, all of the town of Buckingham, and many others, are guilty in that they accompanied those men in this assault in which they met their death, and should be sent before the criminal court. We also find that Dr. Rodrigue, of Buckingham, is more guilty than any of the other magistrates in the town, in that he anticipated serious trouble and neglected to do his duty, and that he, too should go before the criminal court. Two jurors do not agree, M. Goulet and J. Hamelin." The names of fourteen of the jurymen then followed. The verdict was given before a packed court room, in substance it followed exactly upon the charge given by the Coroner, the one important departure being that Mr. Alex. Maclaren was not implicated in the shooting. This, the Coroner, as the subjoined charge shows, had left open to the jury to decide. The Coroner's charge had made four distinct divisions of those who might be held criminally responsible for the death of Belanger and Theriault. The divisions were strikers, police, company and magistrates. With the exception of Mr. Maclaren, as one who shot from the police side, the verdict fell in with the suggestion of the Coroner.

THE CASTELLANE DIVORCE CASE.

Countess Pleads for Absolute Separation.

COUNT BONI ILL-TREATED HER, SPENT HER MILLIONS AND THEN WAS UNFAITHFUL.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Castellane divorce case was heard yesterday afternoon before Mr. Henry Ditte, president of the tribunal of first instance of the Seine. Neither the Count nor the Countess were present. Maitre Cruppi, for the Countess, pleaded for a divorce upon the documentary evidence submitted. In an extended review, counsel declared that the Countess, at the beginning of the suit, was not acting under influence, but solely for the purpose of ending forever the moral desolation of her household. He explained the marriage contract, by which the regime of separation of property was established from the very beginning, and stated that domestic difficulties arose over the question of money. Ill-treatment soon followed, the Count even striking the plaintiff before the servants. When he reached the question of infidelity charged against the Count, Maitre Cruppi did not mention names, or even initials, designating the correspondents as "Madame A," "Madame B," and so on, Maitre Cruppi asked that the Countess be given the custody of her three children.

The final rupture came the day after the famous entertainment of King Charles of Portugal, December 12th, 1905. The Count insisted that they the Countess and Count, go to a shooting party, given by a noble lady of whom the Countess had cause to complain, and, when the Count became enraged at the Countess's refusal she abruptly announced her intention to separate from him, and began legal proceedings. Counsel placed at 88,000,000 the total of the Count's expenditures preceding the appointment of a trustee. At one time there was a seizure of their property in a suit for the recovery of a debt amounting to $229,600.

CONDUCTORS WERE LET DOWN EASY.

Were Quietly Advised to Resign

COMPANY NEVER DISMISSES WITHOUT CAUSE, SAYS MR. McGUIGAN.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Mr. F. H. McGuigan, fourth vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, has returned from the West, and was at the general offices yesterday but when you approach the subject of conductors' dismissals, he shakes his head and smiles. On being questioned regarding the laying off of these employees, he replied that he had nothing to say on the subject—that it was not a question he could discuss for the public's edification. The company never takes action of that kind without cause.

No further developments in this connection have been announced, and it is doubtful if any more need be looked for. The reports as to wholesale dismissals in the western divisions of the system turn out to have been at least premature. Not more than sixteen men, so far as can be ascertained, have been dismissed—or to be more accurate—called upon to resign, over the whole system, and two are said to have been allowed to resume their runs. Eight of those whose services have been dispensed with have their headquarters in Montreal. One has found employment with the Delaware & Hudson, and is at work on a ballast train used in connection with the construction of their new line between Rouse's Point and St. Constant.

An official of the Grand Trunk, commenting on the situation said: "Some of the conductors give Superintendent Blaiklock credit for the tact with which he broke the tidings to them.

He said: "I am sorry I have bad news for you. Your services have been found unsatisfactory, and I would advise you to resign." That is all there was about it. One asked: "Is there no hope of my case being reconsidered?" "None," was the reply.

GULF STREAM FAR NORTH?

CANADA OFFICIALS THINK THE COURSE IS CHANGING.

Harrigan Cove, N.S., Oct. 31.—General theories that a radical change is taking place in the currents of the Atlantic Ocean were strengthened Monday by the announcement made by Professor Prince, Canadian commissioner of fisheries, that the scales and portions of a large fish recently captured by local fishermen off here was a fine tarpon, or giant herring. The tarpon ranks as the greatest of game fishes, and attracts large numbers of anglers to Florida and the Mexican coast, but so far as known, its appearance in Northern waters has never been previously recorded. The staff of the Canadian biological station during the last four or five years have secured a large number of fishes native to Southern waters. The Spanish mackerel, the swordfish, the tunny and various tropical sharks have been captured more or less numerously, and the recent destructive incursions of the dogfish point in the same direction, as the shark and dogfish tribe are most abundant in warmer waters.

A great change in the sealing industry in the Gulf of St. Lawrence in recent years is believed to be due to the change in ocean currents, and scientific authorities are looking for further evidence of this change in the gulf waters pointing to alterations in the movements of the gulf stream, and of other minor currents from the Southern waters.

FIELDING WINS IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Returned in Queen's-Shelburne by About 900.

THE MAJORITY AT THE LAST GENERAL ELECTION WAS 385.

Halifax, Nov. 1.—The election in Queens-Shelburne, yesterday, for the House of Commons, rendered necessary by the unseating of the Hon. W. S. Fielding, for bribery and corruption by agents in the general election of 1904, resulted in the re-election of Mr. Fielding by a majority of 864, with two polls missing, which are expected to increase the total to 900. Mr. Fielding's majority in the general election was 385.

AIRSHIP BUILT LIKE HUGE WASP.

STRANGE FLYING MACHINE TO BE TRIED AT BRUSSELS—FLOWN BY 60 HORSE POWER.

Brussels, Nov. 1—Grotesque in the extreme is the latest flying machine now on exhibition at the Arts and Crafts Exposition in the Palais du Cinquartenaire. In appearance it resembles a huge wasp. It is the joint work of eight members of the Aero Club of Belgium. A model of the huge wasp has been successfully flown, but the big machine itself has not yet had a public trial. This wasp is of 60 horse-power. It depends on its wings to raise it from the surface of the earth. These wings or planes are made of oiled silk. In addition, there are gigantic aluminum propellers, which revolve at the terrific speed of 30,000 revolutions per minute. The 60 horse-power is supplied by a Buchet motor. There are two skins to the body, an outer one covered with a heavy cloth resembling dark brown velveteen and an inner one of aluminum. There is an air chamber between the two skins. The aeronauts take their places inside the body, which is lighted by four windows, two on each side, and an "eye" in the front of the head. In the extremity of the tail are three large balls filled with air. These are intended to soften the concussion when the machine comes down to the ground. The six legs are put on for the purpose of balance and also complete the resemblance of the machine to a gigantic winged wasp. A trial is to be made shortly.

IF HEARST WERE ELECTED.

(From the Financial Column of the New York Sun.)

But let it be supposed that the inconceivable thing may happen and that Mr. Hearst should be elected. Just what effect, marketwise, will such an occurrence have? Can it reduce by one jot the year's splendid harvests, the output of the gold and copper mines of the country or the consumption of iron and steel? Mr. Hearst as governor would find laws and courts and a Constitution and a legislature to contend with, and that he himself is in an uncomfortable position of having to make good the Jack Cade promises with which he has been deluding his followers. There are observers of affairs in our State who feel that for broad reasons of political philosophy it might be a blessing in disguise if Mr. Hearst were permitted to sit in the governor's chair for a couple of years. The power of harm vested in demagogues is in this only that they are voices of disorder. Once so placed that they are compelled to sustain the laws rather than rail against them and to do things for the fools who have trusted them rather than to continue to talk about the things they are going to do in the future, they stand forth exhibited as the impudent knaves and impostors that they are—promisers of the impossible and willing doers of all the evil that they affect to condemn. The American people like to be deceived, perhaps, but they like even more to be undeceived; and what is very much wanted in this country now is a species of complete public undeception regarding men of the Hearst and Bryan type.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Vancouver, B.C., has passed a resolution of protest against wine and cigarettes having been served at the recent banquet at Vancouver to the Governor-General. The Union urges all clergymen to preach a sermon pointing out the evils of such menus.

Sketch of Early Days of Congregationalism in Stanstead.

(Written by Mrs. E. W. Morrill, of Stanstead, and read at Congregational celebration Monday.)

With the dauntless courage and physical strength of Norman Knight and Saxon Thane, softened by the gentle soul of the Puritan, such were the Pioneers of Stanstead, who came up from the fair and fertile meadows of Massachusetts and Connecticut one hundred years ago. Why did they forsake home and friends to press on by the blazed trees of the forest paths, through many dangers and labors manifold to this northern wilderness? Not for freedom to worship God; they had that in full measure. Not for gold; not for fame; not for ease of body or mind. What magnet drew them from the republic that their fathers had fought and died to found, to the domain of the hated King George, the Third?. We find in the history of that time that the war debt was enormous, the government and constitution were scarcely in working order, Massachusetts especially was in a state of incipient rebellion, known as "Shay's rebellion," and perhaps above all these causes was the inherited instinct of the Pioneer, which ever since those olden days upon the Plain of Shinar has impelled the Human Race to move on and on, o'er land and sea, God-led, God-prospered. Sons and daughters of Northhampton, Deerfield, Williamsburg, Northfield, Sunderland and thereabouts, whose immediate ancestors have trodden the "Bay Path" from Salem and Boston and old Plymouth, what could these men have been but Congregationalists?

As soon as the first rude cabins were erected, they met together to worship the God of their fathers in a log barn belonging to Capt. Israel Wood, grandfather of the late Major I. Wood, of Sherbrooke. Ten adults and ten children attended, probably all then in the settlement as Capt. Wood was the third settler. This was in 1796. When some itinerant minister visited the place, the people heard him gladly, but at other times they forsook not the assembling themselves together in the log school house, which was early erected a few rods east of the present street of Stanstead Plain.

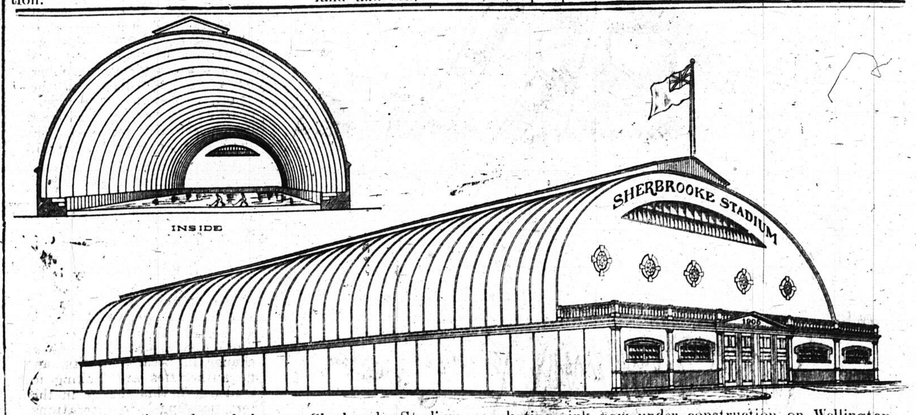

There swelled the grand old Watts Hymns, earnest prayers ascended to the throne of the All-father, and powerful exhortations melted the souls of the unbelievers, and strengthened the faith of the elect.

The nearest church was at Derby Centre until the year 1816, when this Stanstead Congregational Church was formed. About that time a large Un-

The Influence Of What We Eat

Young People Are Especially Susceptible To This Influence.

The nourishment taken by body and mind, the extent to which this nourishment is assimilated, the form and proportions in which it is taken into the system, the amount of food and drink consumed, and the care given to the body and its various functions—all profoundly affect the health.

Some individuals think they can abuse the laws of nature with impunity, but even generous endowments of physical vigor eventually succumb, while the great mass of people, especially the young, are peculiarly susceptible to the food they consume.

As "Good Housekeeping" in an editorial suggests, health depends not so much on the nourishment taken into the stomach as on the extent to which this nourishment is taken up by the system. Malta-Vita, the perfect malted whole-wheat food, so rich in nourishment, containing every food element necessary to the sustenance of the human body and mind, is readily assimilated, even by the weakest stomach, because of the large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar, which it contains. Maltose is a natural sweetening agent and forms rich, healthy blood.

Malta-Vita is especially beneficial for children, and it is so good to eat! Now for sale by all grocers, 10 cents.

PROVED THAT THE EARTH IS ROUND.

(Boston Transcript.)

Some time during the sixties the "Flat Earth" people were very energetic, and one in particular, Mr. John Hampden, offered to stake £500 on his contention that the earth was flat. Professor A. R. Wallace accepted the challenge, and the deciding experiment took place on a straight stretch of several miles on one of the Bedford Level Canals. Three posts were set up—one at each end and one in the middle of the long reach—with crosspieces placed on each at exactly the same distance from the water's level. On aligning the two end posts with a telescope the centre crosspiece was seen well above the line of alignment—a result the challenger had agreed to accept as a decisive proof of the earth's curvature. However, Mr. Hampden was not convinced, and brought an action against the late Mr. Walsh, the editor of the Field, with whom the stakes had been deposited, for the return of his £500. He lost, and was ordered to pay the £500 and costs; the roundness of the earth thus receiving the support of the High Court. It should be added, however, that on appeal Mr. Hampden got back his money (as did Professor Wallace, who had also deposited £500 with Mr. Walsh) on the ground that the transaction was void under the gaming acts.

Fire broke out in the boiler room of the Rossin House, Toronto, about 1 o'clock, Tuesday morning, and did about $2,000 damages. The hotel was not damaged.

Greatest Cure for Rheumatism

Kimo Tablets are now recognized as being, without doubt or question, a really great remedy for rheumatism.

Mr. John D. Todd, of Coaticook, where the tablets are made, found them so after he was 80 years of age.

He took Kimo Tablets upon the advice of his physician, and was completely cured of inflammatory rheumatism.

He ends a grateful letter to the manufacturers by saying, "I consider Kimo Tablets a great remedy."

It is the Japanese solvent which the tablets contain that makes them "great."

Other rheumatic remedies try to drive the uric acid granules—the cause of rheumatism—through the kidneys undissolved. Such treatment causes kidney and bladder diseases and doesn't cure severe cases of rheumatism. The large granules cannot be thus driven through the kidneys.

The Japanese solvent in Kimo Tablets (which to the present is not contained in any other remedy) dissolves these granules. Then they are passed off, without injury to either kidneys or bladder. All the granules are thereby got rid of, and all the rheumatism is cured.

Improvement is noticed the first week.

The Rights of Employees.

Quite a lot of interest has been awakened by the summary dismissal recently of a considerable number of Grand Trunk conductors, grown old in the service. Grand Trunk officials have offered no explanation beyond denying that the reason lay in a wish to weed out the older men. A railroad occupies a semi-public position, and must own obligations, as well to its own employees as to the public. It means much to most men to be suddenly deprived of the means of earning a livelihood, and if employees they have a right to expect that they will not be dismissed without cause, which implies that they have a right to expect an explanation when dismissed at all. In the present case it is reported that the men who have been discharged are most of them in comfortable circumstances and will suffer no inconvenience through losing their employment but this does not affect the merits of the question. It is barely possible, some who have travelled, believe, that the company has good cause for the dismissals. The dismissed conductors, by their present attitude court exposure if they have been guilty of wrong doing. On the other hand they have a right to expect reinstatement if none such can be shown.

Not a Practice at Child's Play.

One point of weakness in the plan of exacting a temperance pledge from drunks brought before the Police Court instead of punishing them by imposing the customary sentence is that some offenders would not hesitate to sign the pledge merely as a means of escape and without the slightest intention of keeping it. If the plan is to be worked with any success this vulnerable point must be amply buttressed by holding out the certainty that failure to keep the pledge will bring down punishment many times more severe than would have been inflicted in the first place. This is being done in the local Police Court, and it seems only consistent, as otherwise the scheme for working a reform becomes a mere mockery. If a first drunk is willing to take the pledge and keep it, it is to everyone's advantage that he should be given the opportunity but in seizing the opportunity he also accepts a certain responsibility, whose careless or intentional betrayal must mark the offender as representing a type of unworthy citizen, who can be reformed only in a manner which bears no relation to personal honor.

Student Conduct.

It has long been reckoned among the mysteries why college students should be allowed to commit with impunity acts of rowdyism and vandalism for which persons in other walks of life would be summarily punished. It has been reckoned among the lesser mysteries why they should want to commit them. At the present time, however, there is noticeable a hopeful tendency, on the part of the students themselves, pointing away from this reproach on college life, a firmer as well as a more widespread appreciation of the true purpose of a university career, and there is also noticeable on the part of college principals and professors a very evident intention to help along the tendency referred to by penalizing acts of vandalism as misdemeanors. A noteworthy example of the latter is furnished by the Principal of McGill, who has taken well-considered steps to locate the responsibility for the disgraceful acts which marked the recent theatre-night of McGill students. Among a large class of people rowdy-like conduct of students has the effect of bringing all university education into disrepute, which is, of course, a mistake, but student bodies can well afford to abandon this unseemly form of pleasure if only for the enhanced reputation which freedom from it would bring.

The New British Invasion.

(Boston Transcript.)

For several months to come there will be a series of invasions of our leading cities and educational centres by groups of British teachers. Some five hundred, representing all grades of instruction, from the college professor to the teacher in the elementary school contemplate visiting the United States for a study of the best methods of teaching to be found here, and the advance detachment is looked for in New York the latter part of the week. This is another of the enterprises of which that progressive Briton, Alfred Mosely has been the inspiration, but in this case it is understood that the teachers will bear their own expenses, though it is due to his good offices that they have secured rates that are merely nominal on the steamship lines.

The most careful preparation for their reception has been made by the educational authorities of New York, owing to the interest there taken in the mission, not only by the officials of the public schools, but also by President Butler of Columbia University. But they will not confine their investigations to any one city. Boston will see something of them; so will Philadelphia and Baltimore, and they will take a long run into the West and pay a flying visit to Canada. It is evidence of the public spirit of the British educators that they should volunteer in such numbers to make investigation of new methods at their own expense. American teachers go abroad by the shipload during the vacation seasons but they leave the shop behind. They haunt the picture galleries, climb the Alps and sail down the Rhine, but they avoid educational circles, and we can hardly blame them, although it would be presumptuous to claim that we could learn from European or British methods.

This is the third commission if we may call it that, which has come to this country through Mr. Mosely's influence and to a considerable extent at his expense. The first was industrial, while the second, like this one, was educational, but in a different way. It was composed of men of national and international reputation; and the sum of their observations and opinions have been gathered into an interesting and bulky volume of reports in which perhaps criticism plays as large a part as acknowledgement of new ideas and suggestions. The delegations now coming will be made up of men and women closer to their work than were the members of the previous body.

Whatever else they may carry away with them, they are likely to be impressed by the more flexible system of our American public schools. This is a form of enlightenment which may have a bearing upon British public opinion as relating to school methods, and at a time when it is in a rather fluid state. The fate of the educational bill before the House of Lords will probably not be affected one way or another by this expedition, but these representatives of educational service can hardly help recognizing the fact that our system is more workable and effective that the one which Balfour formulated and which the present Government is trying to put on a more democratic basis. Let us throw our doors wide open to the educational ambassadors of the mother country.

MAXIM'S MAXIM

Modest Claims Often Carry More Conviction Than Loud Boasts.

When Maxim, the famous inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be considerably below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a triumph of surprise instead of disappointment as it might have been if he had overestimated his gun's efficiency.

The Autotone Piano

What is it? It is a combination of the upright piano, and the newest, most complete and ingenious mechanism for producing music without study or practice, in a manner equal to that of great artists.

When played by hand, there is nothing about this piano to distinguish it from the usual upright piano, but by inserting a Perforated Roll of Music, it is at once made into an instrument that can be played by any one in the most artistic manner, whether they are possessed of musical training or not.

HOUSE OF LORDS HAS A LABOR MAN PEER.

HAS BEEN SAILOR, CAB DRIVER, RANCHMAN, ACTOR AND WELL SINKER.

London, Nov. 1.—The House of Lords contains one peer, Lord Lyveden, who has publicly declared his adherence to the cause of labor in politics. His lordship's connection with the party, however, is quite informal. He has not signed the constitution of the Labor party, whose members in the House of Commons do not recognize him as one of themselves. Although they were anxious about the fate of the Trades Disputes Bill in the Upper House, they have not asked Lord Lyveden's help in supporting it. The Labor peer has a personal interest in the workers, for he has been himself a strenuous and versatile toiler. Before succeeding to the title in 1900, he had been a sailor, cab-driver, ranchman, well-sinker and actor in the United States and various parts of the world. Like the Marquis of Granam, he holds a captain's certificate in the mercantile marine.

SHOUTED "SCAB" FINED $10.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS IN NEW YORK STARTED TO BREAK STRIKE.

New York, October 31.—A determined attempt to resume business was made Monday by the New York Transportation Company, whose chauffeurs went out on strike several days ago. Fifteen electric cabs, operated by non-union men, were started out during the forenoon. On the seat with each driver was a private detective, while a policeman in uniform trailed the vehicle on a bicycle.

Frank Keenan, one of the several strikers who surrounded the cab in Fifth avenue, shouting "scab," was arrested on complaint of Wm. O'Halloran. When arraigned in police court on a charge of disorderly conduct Keenan declared that he had done nothing unlawful.

"You had no business to call a man a 'scab,' said the magistrate, "you are fined $10."

Keenan paid the fine.

DRAMA HISSED.

"MORE THAN LOVE," PRESENTED IN ROME, PROVES A FAILURE.

Rome, Nov. 1—The first presentation here of Gabriele d'Annunzio's new drama, "More Than Love," was a complete failure.

The public protest was emphatic. The people hissed and hooted the play, the plot of which is an apology for the committing of a crime in order to attain certain ideals.

HALLOWE'EN.

The eve of All Saints Day, All Hallow Eve, or, as it was called in Scotland "Hallowe'en," from time immemorial has been dedicated to peculiar beliefs and observances. The Scotch and Irish, both superstitious peoples, have woven many a legend around this fateful night, and on Hallowe'en nothing that happened would be surprising. The spirits of the dead were supposed to revisit the earth and fairies, witches and pixies held high revel and were to be seen by mortal eyes, and the future could be foretold with certainty. In this new world and the 20th century little is left of the early faith which made the thirty-first of October a dreaded yet a longed for day. Hallowe'en is given over now to social gatherings and to practical jokes, and tricks, more or less pointless, played by boys of all ages. Last evening the youngsters were out in force armed with pea-shooters and ready for any fun. Nothing of a serious nature happened, however, and by ten o'clock the city was as quiet as usual.

A ROMANCE SPOILED.

The beautiful girl waded into the yeasty surf.

Presently she uttered a shriek of terror.

"Save me!" she cried.

There were seven men on the hotel piazza. They conferred hastily.

Then the one with the clearest voice called to the struggling maiden.

"Awfully sorry," he shouted, "but there isn't an unmarried man among us."

Then the lovely girl ceased her struggles and presently waded ashore.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SPORTING NEWS

BOWLING.

SHERBROOKE BOWLING ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED.

A largely attended meeting of the bowling enthusiasts of this city was held at the Monument National last night for the purpose of forming a league which would include all the bowling teams connected with the different organizations which up to the present have acted in an independent manner. Dr. J. R. Duncan was elected temporary chairman, and after explaining the object of the meeting it was unanimously decided to form a league to be known as the Sherbrooke Bowling Association, after which the meeting elected the following officers:

Hon. Pres.—Mgr. Tanguay.
President—Dr. J. R. Duncan.
1st Vice-President—L. H. Olivier.
2nd Vice-President—A. R. Moore.
Secy.-Treas.—G. Bourgoin.

The committee to be selected from the different club entries at a later date. The following teams entered the Association and form the nucleus of what will no doubt prove a strong Association: Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club, the Bankers, the Metropolitans, the Independents, the Tuque Rouge, the 53rd Regiment, the Rand Drill, J. S. Mitchell & Co., the Medical, the Commercial, the Cosmopolitans.

The list to remain open until Wednesday night, Nov. 7th, when a meeting will be held to complete the organization and draw up a schedule for the coming season. The directors of the Monument Nationale will donate a championship cup for competition with several prizes of individual monthly competition. Altogether the Association starts off with brilliant prospects.

The three coffins were conveyed to a consecrated vault, while a salute of 24 guns was fired. All Saints' Day, one of the most important festivals of the Church, was celebrated at St. Michael's Cathedral, this morning, by many low masses, the edifice being crowded to the doors on each occasion by the faithful. At ten o'clock Pontifical high mass was chanted, Mgr. Paul Larocque officiating. The assistant priest was the Rev. P. J. A. Lefebvre, Superior of St. Charles Seminary; the deacon of honor, Rev. F. V. Charest, and sub-deacon of honor, Rev. O. Z. Letendre. The deacon and sub-deacon of office were Rev. Fathers Lemay and Darche. An eloquent sermon on the festival of the day was delivered by Rev. Father Courtemanche and the music of the mass, although Gregorian, was finely rendered by a large choir, several solos being sung during the service. The Church was decorated for the occasion with banners and flowers and was a blaze of light, tapers and electric lights being used with effect.

The Sherbrooke Camera Club held its first monthly competition last evening. The subject was any out-door scene, or landscape, and about 25 prints were exhibited. The competition was very keen, and great interest was manifested by the members in the verdict of messrs. George Johnston and A. Z. Pinsonneault, who very kindly consented to act as judges. Mr. Wm. Fuller received the greatest aggregate number of points; Mr. R. M. Gordon, second, and Mr. C. G. Hobson, third.

The "Spook Party," a Hallowe'en celebration, which was given last evening in the lecture hall of the Methodist Church, was very successful. The identity of the "Spooks" was quite concealed by the white robe and mask, which was worn during the whole evening. The visitor on entering, was led by one of these mysterious figures through a passage lined with fir trees to the dressing room, and then to the hall where candy and pop-corn were sold in booths erected for the purpose, and a very uncanny looking witch told fortunes. Coffee, sandwiches and cake were served during the evening, and musical selections, solos, duets and recitations given by various white-robed spooks.

DISCARD ROSS RIFLE.

MOUNTED POLICE GO BACK TO THE LEE-METFORD.

Regina, Sask., Nov. 1—The Mounted Police Department is to discard the Ross rifle, and already large numbers of the members of the force have gone back to the use of the Lee-Metford. The firearm known as the Ross rifle was purchased a couple of years ago, after, it was believed thorough test, and the whole of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police force was re-armed with it. After a couple of years' use the firearm has been tried and found wanting, and it is, therefore, back to the old gun for the policemen.

SKETCH OF EARLY DAYS OF CONGREGATIONALISM IN STANSTEAD.

ion Church was built near the present site of the Brick School House about two miles north of Stanstead Plain. That place was called "the Centre" and was supposed to be the point which would accommodate the largest number of inhabitants. About fifty years ago this building was removed to Cassville and is now occupied by the Methodists.

The first settled minister over the new church was the Rev. Thaddeus Osgood. All things went prosperously for a time. Methodists and Free Will Baptists joined in the meetings and the congregation was a sort of foretaste of this "Church Union" so much talked of in our own day. But, alas! Ultra Calvinism, Moderate Calvinism, Arminianism and Immersion sprang up like tares choking the fruits of the spirit, and we are told that for two days the Church was filled to overflowing, while the various doctrines were thoroughly argued, but not by any means amicably settled.

Mr. Osgood, a most holy and consecrated man, resigned his charge, and as an Evangelist and founder of Sabbath Schools, travelled the entire circuit of the English speaking settlements of the United States and Canada, mostly on horseback.

SOME OF THE EARLY CHURCH MEMBERS.

In the list of early Church members are some names which deserve especial mention.

Dr. Isaac Whitcher, who came to Stanstead in 1799, was for many years the only physician in the County of Stanstead. For thirty-nine years he practised his profession, on horseback where possible, often on foot, by night or day; Hatley, Barnston, Magog or Stanstead, wherever duty called, there he went to minister to rich and poor alike.

Reuben Bangs, the first deacon, a pensioner of the Revolutionary War, born in Barnstable, Mass., in 1760, of whom it is written, "He was an exemplary Christian, and was prominent in sustaining religious meetings when the regular ministry of the gospel was not enjoyed."

No records of Dea. Hooker and family are obtainable, except that they left the county before 1822 and Dea. Bangs having passed away.

Wm. Arms and Selah Pomeroy were appointed Deacons. W. Arms was born in Deerfield, Mass., in 1794; married Miranda Haven, of Croydon, in 1818. He built and occupied for many years the house now owned by George Flint. He removed to Sherbrooke in 1836 and died there in 1853. "My father and mother were living examples of devoted Christians," writes their daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Farwell, of Sherbrooke.

Phineas Hubbard, Esq., was the successor of Mr. Arms in the office of Deacon. He was born in Sunderland, Mass., in 1775. In 1797 he married Catherine Nash, of Williamsburg. She was a descendant of Thomas Nash, who in 1637 accompanied and assisted by Rev. Mr. Davenport in the founding of the colony of New Haven, Conn., which was the fourth Puritan colony of New England.

Deacon Hubbard was early appointed Magistrate and as there was no regular clergyman, he was often called upon to officiate at the marriages of the settlement for several years. A noble Christian life and a triumphant death were his. For as his soul was in departing he sang the grand old hymn, "Give me the wings of faith to rise." Mrs. H. C. Rugg, Mrs. C. N. Hill, Miss N. C. Hubbard and A. S. Hurd, Esq., of Sherbrooke, are grandchildren.

Deacon Selah Pomeroy, born in Northhampton, Mass., 1775. He married Hannah, daughter of Capt. Abel Thayer, from the old Plymouth colony. Capt. Thayer was a notable hero of the battle of Bunker Hill, but better than that the Puritan historian tells us, that the maternal ancestress as she landed on the barren rock of Plymouth, "Knelt in thanksgiving and dedicated herself and her descendants to the service of God." Deacon Pomeroy was a man remembered by many of the older people as one ever active in every good word and work. He was distinguished for his regard for law and order and for his efforts for suppression of intemperance. When he was seventy-five years old he canvassed the town in behalf of the Bible Society either selling or giving a copy of the Scriptures to every family.

Rev. Joseph Gibb, of Aberdeenshire, Scotland was installed pastor of this Church in 1830. He was a man of great literary attainments, fervent piety and an eloquent and forcible speaker. His two sons, Joseph and David, were also successful ministers. But father and sons were early called from an earthly service to a heavenly home. He was the grandfather of Mrs. Albert Clark and the Fields family.

With the death of Deacon Pomeroy in 1856 passed away the last of "the old guard," who had planted Congregationalism in the wilderness, watched over and nourished it through many vicissitudes and made possible this ninetieth anniversary which we celebrate today.

Of such sanctified ancestry what might not this church accomplish? We have the old forms. Is the old spirit of the fathers quite passed away?

One of Three Things Always Cause

RHEUMATISM

Do you know the system rids itself of waste matter through bowels and kidneys? Yes, but by the skin as well.

As a matter of fact, the skin rids the system of more urea than the kidneys do.

If the skin, or bowels, or kidneys are unhealthy—they won't throw off enough urea. This urea is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to joints and nerves—causing Rheumatism.

One never inherits Rheumatism. One does inherit weak kidneys, irregular bowels and bad skin action.

Fruit-a-tives

OR "FRUIT LIVER TABLETS"

will positively cure Rheumatism because they increase the eliminating action of skin, kidneys and bowels—and make these three organs so vigorous and healthy that there can be no urea or waste retained in the system to poison the blood and irritate the nerves.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices, combined with tonics—the whole forming the most effective cure for Rheumatism.

TO AVOID SHOCK.

"Doctor, my poor husband is very ill, is he not?"

"Yes, madame."

"Please, doctor, when you are sure that there is no hope left, let me know, but in such a way that I won't understand."—(Le Rire.

GREAT NEED THEREOF.

Good natured landlady (who has had quite a lot of this sort of thing). "What does your father want it for—smoking or blowing bubbles?"

Infant. "Blowing bubbles?"

SELF-DEFENCE.

"I'm surprised at you," said Jigley, "trying to borrow a dollar from that fellow Harduppe. You're surely not in such awful need ofmoney."

"The professor is an Italian, isn't he?"

"Yes; but he has been in this country quite a number of years."

"But he speaks broken English, of course?"

"No, not broken, exactly; only slightly sprained." (Philadelphia Ledger.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The following conversation was overheard the other day between two builders in a semi-aristocratic suburb of one of the large English Cities:

"Hallo! I see you have put two shillings a week more on the rent of those new houses of yours."

"Yes; a friend of mine in the municipal office told me they are going to change the name of the street from Binns road to Arundel avenue." (Weekly Telegraph.

THINKS PEARY HAS FOUND POLE.

EXPLORER'S WIFE CONFIDENT OF HIS SUCCESS.

Portland, Me., Nov. 1—Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of the Arctic explorer, gave out yesterday an authentic interview, the first since her husband left on his search for the pole. She seemed to have confidence in the return of Commander Peary, and said she was positive that he would reach his goal. Mrs. Peary, who, with her little daughter, Marie, has secluded herself on an island in Casco Bay, will leave for her home in Washington next week.

"I am as sure as I am living this minute," said Mrs. Peary, "that my husband has found the pole, and soon will be on his way home to tell us all about it. Mr. Peary has been gone fifteen months and we have not heard a word from him since the companion ship to the Roosevelt left him at Etah in September, 1905. Am I worrying about him? No, I have all confidence in my husband's ability and in the good ship Roosevelt. I do not expect him until the last of November, and will not be disappointed if I do not hear from him even then. When the expedition started it was planned to make a two-year trip, although it was hoped they might return sooner. If my husband has not yet reached the pole he is in winter quarters at Cape Hecla, but I have an instinctive feeling that he has achieved the ambition of his life. To my mind there is only one possibility that he will not return alive. The dogs on which he depends to carry him across the frozen country, should they be attacked by the dread dog disease, might die and leave him with no means of transportation."

Oklahoma is to vote on a State constitution, and Arizona and New Mexico on joint statehood.

The terms of thirty United States Senators—fifteen Democrats and fifteen Republicans—expire March 3rd, 1907, Virginia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky and Arkansas have already selected Democrats, and Georgia has a Legislature which will elect another, while Maine and Oregon have Legislatures which insure the return of Republicans. Of the 22 States in which is to be chosen Nov. 6th, a Legislature that will elect United States Senators, fourteen are now represented in the Senate by Republicans and eight by Democrats.

As usual, there is one State ticket, the Democratic, in South Carolina. Pennsylvania leads this year with the greatest number of State tickets—12. Parties are numerous, those having tickets in the field being: Independence League, Citizens', Commonwealth, City, Referendum, Jefferson, American, Anti-Administration Republican, Reorganized Republican and Lincoln Republican. Six of them, however, are confined to Pennsylvania.

The Socialists have tickets in twenty-five States, the Prohibitionists in twenty-three, Socialist-Labor in seven, Populists or People's, in four, and the Independence League in three, while "Public Ownership" has a ticket in one State.

The numbers of tickets in the different States are: 1, South Carolina; 2, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, Tennessee, Washington; 3, Delaware, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, R. INTERVIEWED MRS. EDDY.

Concord, N.H., Nov. 1.—A representative of the Associated Press who interviewed Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church, ten years ago, went to Pleasant View, Mrs. Eddy's home, yesterday, and was granted another interview by the same woman. Although Mrs. Eddy, who was born in 1821, shows her advanced age in some respects, her voice was clear and strong, and she gave no evidence of decrepitude or of any weakness not to be expected of a woman in her 86th year.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Bowling Association was held at Montreal recently.

MOISE CUSTEAU FOUND "NOT GUILTY."

had heard that the young man had had a doctor and I just examined him over the clothing.

Cross-examined—It was Moise's father that came to get me. The father told me that the son had received a blow, and that it was the son Gaudias that had struck him without intending to hurt him. I never studied medicine. I never told the people that I knew more about medicine than the doctors. Pleurisy is a decomposition of the blood. (At this answer there was some laughter from the medical men, and the crier had to call for silence). Inflammation of the bowels is brought about by the same cause. I never promised the father that I could heal his son. It takes God to do that."

Drs. Ledoux and P. Pelletier were examined in rebuttal, and the addresses to the jury from the defence, Crown and Judge were then commenced.

The addresses for the defence were closed at half-past five and the Court adjourned until half-past seven o'clock. At that hour the Court opened and the case was given to the jury at half-past nine o'clock. An interval of an hour was granted, but at half-past ten the jury sent down word that they would like another half hour. This was granted, but at eleven o'clock the jury had not agreed and the Court was adjourned until this morning to receive the verdict, a special provision in the law being such that the Court can open on a legal holiday to hear the return of the jury.

SITUATION LESS ACUTE.

PARIS HAS BETTER REPORTS ON MOROCCO.

Paris, Nov. 1—The new cabinet is holding daily meetings under the presidency of Premier Clemenceau and has drawn up a program for presentation to Parliament. In the course of the meeting held last evening Foreign Minister Pichon reported a betterment in the Moroccan situation. The troublesome tribes are dispersing gradually, but nevertheless the precautions on the frontier are not being relaxed. The organization of the French portion of the Moroccan police, pursuant to resolutions adopted at the Algeciras conference for reforms in Morocco, is approaching completion. All the commissioned and non-commissioned officers selected for service in Morocco must have a thorough knowledge of the Arabic language in order to avoid wounding the susceptibilities of the Moroccan poeple.

MOUNTED POLICEMAN'S TRIP IN FROZEN NORTH.

TRAVELLED 995 MILES IN SEARCH OF A SCOTTISH SHIP.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—The recital of the trip of Constable Seller, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, as contained in a diary which has been received from Col. Fred. White at the department here, shows a fidelity and unselfish devotion to duty which at all times characterize the work of this world renowned force.

Seller with two companions and a team of ten dogs left Fullerton on February 21, to discover the whereabouts of a Scottish ship, the Ernest William, and collect duties on supplies. The distance travelled was 995 miles.

The party returned to Fullerton on April 19th, and although exposed two months to the rigors of an Arc winter, the only casualty was a fro bitten leg by one of the dogs left b hind at Lyon's Inlet.

For two days the party was short rations, and would have been desperate straits but they fell in a party of natives.

For a good part of the journey food had to be eaten frozen beca the alcohol and wood gave out. reaching the vessel for which th were in search they got a hea Scottish welcome, and Captain M ray fitted them out with stores for return journey.

Constable Seller was back at Fulle ton in time to attend Staff Ser Hayne's funeral.
