LUCKY — A Drummondville youth escaped serious injury yesterday, when his motorcycle collided with a car at the corner of Belvedere and Minto Streets, around 4 p.m. Albert Vezina, 66, of Sherbrooke, approached the intersection travelling north on Belvedere Street. The collision occurred when Gilles Moore, 21, of Drummondville, turned left across Belvedere. Mr. Moore was treated for knee lacerations and released from hospital.

Protestant board brief

Unilingualism would isolate Quebec

MONTREAL (CP) — Any attempt to eliminate English in Quebec would lead only to making the province a French enclave, a royal commission inquiry was told Tuesday.

In a brief to the Gendron commission on the status of the French language in Quebec, the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal says "the legitimacy of the collective anxiety of French Canadians for the survival of their language is beyond just challenge."

But it adds: "The English treasure no less their traditions and the language of their fathers."

It says some Quebecers would like to see the use of English eliminated in the province but this goal is "totally unacceptable to the English community."

It would also lead to economic isolation of the province.

The brief says those who would eliminate English in Quebec "are in fact proclaiming their lack of confidence in the power and relevance of the French-Canadian way of life."

WANTS POSITIVE ROLE

It says the "interaction of two cultures" is desirable but "demands very positive contributions" by both French- and English-speaking Quebecers.

The French Quebecer must recognize that: —The forces seen as threats to his language and culture "do not stem from any Quebec English trickery."

—With Quebec's economy now based on industry rather than agriculture, "any insistence on the preservation of the French-Canadian language and culture by the curtailment of the languages and cultures of others can only lead to economic isolation."

—The English also have contributed to the development of Quebec and if not allowed to continue, or if driven from the province, "Quebec will be much the poorer."

The English Quebecer, the brief said, must recognize:

—The paramount importance of being able to communicate with his fellow French-Canadian, to appreciate the native culture of Quebec, to understand the ideals and philosophy of him whose mother tongue is French.

—The emergence of the French-Canadian as a competent business partner no longer content to play only a subordinate role in Quebec.

—His own responsibility to interpret Quebec to the rest of Canada.

The brief also called on English Quebecers, however, to be "diligent, direct, and determined" in making French-Canadians recognize "that the English too have a culture and tradition equally worthy of preservation."

The commission under Jean-Denis Gendron, 44, vice-dean of letters at Laval University, was holding its second day of public hearings. It is to make a preliminary report in December.

Wildcat walkout shuts airport

TORONTO (CP) — An illegal walkout by 120 electronics technicians threw Ontario's largest airport into an operational flap Tuesday and disrupted the travel plans of thousands of people.

Ontario members of Local 2228, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, walked off their jobs at 1 p.m. Tuesday at 11 federal airports and six coastal stations in Ontario. They were protesting what they called a government delay in contract negotiations.

Minutes after the walkout an Air Canada spokesman announced the publicly-owned corporation was grounding all afternoon flights in and out of Toronto International Airport, Ontario's largest field with about 300 flights in and out daily, including commercial and charter.

But later, another spokesman said long-distance, international and domestic flights left on schedule during the afternoon and only short-haul trips were disrupted, including flights to New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Windsor, and Ottawa.

The strikers are the key to the operation of every airport. They are employed by the federal government to maintain and repair landing systems, runway lights, radar and communications equipment.

Their walkout jeopardized the specialized equipment and a department of transport spokesman at Toronto International said departures and arrivals were cut by half during the afternoon because pilots had to land visually instead of using airport guidance systems.

GROUND BOAC FLIGHTS

British Overseas Airways Corporation was forced to ground three Toronto-bound flights in Montreal and transport 396 passengers to Toronto by bus.

By evening Toronto International airport was forced to revert to the old pre-radar system of "separation" of planes with only four flights an hour arriving or departing.

Airport officials warned the separation system would work only as long as other, communications equipment operates smoothly. Any technical snags could result in a complete shutdown.

An Air Canada spokesman said the evening period—from 5 p.m. until midnight—is one of the heaviest of the day. Air Canada had 58 arrivals scheduled at Toronto in the period and 27 departures.

CP Air, which estimates it carries 1,000 passengers daily to and from Toronto, had seven departures scheduled in the evening and eight coming in.

Meanwhile, minutes after the walkout —Fields at North Bay and Sault Ste. Marie announced flights were being grounded and passengers transported by bus.

—A Vancouver spokesman for Local 2228 said the Ontario walkout may spread to 2,000 other technicians in eight local units across Canada and ground all commercial airlines.

—CNR in Toronto said it was bombarded by phone calls from people trying to switch to rail.

—The federal transport department announced in Ottawa that aircraft electronic aids on the ground might start to break down after a 12-hour period of non-maintenance.

—Weather stations using equipment normally serviced by the technicians said they might not be able to continue service to ships and aircraft without proper maintenance.

Paisley marches, threatens strike

BELFAST — (AP) — Rev. Ian Paisley led about 1,000 Protestant demonstrators in an anti-Roman Catholic march on Northern Ireland's Parliament on Tuesday and threatened to paralyze Belfast with a general strike.

The flag-waving demonstrators massed on the steps of the Parliament building to protest government proposals to meet Roman Catholic demands for civil rights reform. Inside, Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark was presenting the program as a "fresh start" in trying to solve the problems of the bitterly-divided province.

Paisley, one of the most militant Protestant clergy men in Northern Ireland, had called for 100,000 Protestants to join him in the march. Police said that at its height the crowd approached 1,000.

"If the government does not listen to grass-roots opinion, we will call a general strike in this city when British Home Secretary James Callaghan comes back," Paisley told his supporters.

Callaghan is due to make a second visit to Northern Ireland next week for talks with Chichester-Clark on measures to meet demands of the Roman Catholic minority.

Chichester-Clark opened what he called the most crucial session of Parliament in Northern Ireland's 50-year history by appealing to the 52-member house to back his reform program.

PLAN VOTE REFORM

The proposals include one-man, one-vote rule in local elections where votes were formerly tied to property ownership, an ombudsman to hear citizens' complaints against the government and a revised system of public housing allocation. Protestants own most of the property.

The governing Protestant-based Unionist party endorsed the proposals last week.

"Now we have a chance of a fresh start," the prime minister declared. "It is a long, hard struggle to pull ourselves out of the morass of recent events and to resume economic progress at a faster pace than before."

"We can take it as an opportunity to begin to mould the future to a better pattern, or we can look back into the past and irretrievably lose our way."

A flag of the Irish Republic to the south was burned and a car owned by a pro-civil rights MP was damaged.

Police dived into the crowd at one point and rescued two reporters who were punched and kicked. Extremist Protestants have accused news media of inaccurate reporting in the crisis.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Shot in the head

BEIRUT (AP) — An official of the British embassy in this Lebanese capital was shot in the head by a gunman in a street Tuesday after a traffic accident in which both men were involved. He was in critical condition in hospital, authorities reported.

The victim was identified as Anthony Bishop-Leggatt, 31, a clerk in the Middle East development division of the embassy. He is married and has a seven-month-old son.

Witnesses said the gunman was driving a car behind a vehicle driven by Bishop-Leggatt. The gunman tried to pass Bishop-Leggatt's car and struck a traffic island, the witnesses said. They said Bishop-Leggatt stopped his car, and the other man shot him.

Bertrand on St. Leonard

MONTREAL (CP) — The Star quotes Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand as saying that the school-language problem in suburban St. Leonard "and that of all other schools on the island of Montreal" will be solved within the next few weeks.

The newspaper says the premier, reached at his Quebec City home, said legislation will be proposed at the next session of the legislature and will have the unanimous approval of the cabinet, including Education Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal.

Mugs on mugs

MONTREAL (CP) — Six National Hockey League stars and their teams are suing three companies for $60,000, saying they should have been paid that amount for the use of the players' pictures in an advertising campaign.

Named in the suit are Rolph Clarke-Stone Ltd., a printing company; Canada-Wide Features Service Ltd., a press syndicate company, and Simon Cigar Co. Ltd.

Tommy on the bomb

OTTAWA (CP) — T.C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic Party, said Tuesday he is disappointed that the federal government "did nothing more than to send an aide-memoire to Washington" on the planned United States nuclear tests in the Aleutian islands.

"I think that the Canadian government has been most negligent in its duty in not raising a protest when the American government first announced that it intended to put on these tests," Mr. Douglas said in an interview.

Brandt will get his chance

BONN — (AP) — West Germany's tiny Free Democratic party decided Tuesday to give Willy Brandt's Social Democratic party first crack at forming a new coalition government.

But the Free Democrats, main losers in Sunday's Bundestag election, kept the door open for a possible alliance with Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's Christian Democrats, still the country's strongest party.

The liberal Free Democrat leader, Walter Scheel, told correspondents the party leadership, with a few exceptions, voted "to negotiate first with the Social Democratic party."

Social Democrat sources said Brandt and Scheel would call on President Gustav Hainemann today to declare formally their intention of forming a governing partnership.

Together, the two parties hold 254 of the 496 Bundestag seats a 12-seat majority over the 242 of the Christian Democrats, who also have offered coalition talks to the Free Democrats. The Free Democrats retained only 30 seats in the election, a loss of 19.

The Bundestag is the lower house in Parliament.

The Christian Democrats' Bavarian wing, headed by Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss, called for a revival of the old tie with the Free Democrats.

In the past, the Free Democrats have formed several alliances with the Christian Democrats, but never with the Social Democrats. The last government of Free and Christian Democrats broke up in 1966. The resulting crisis ended with the present "grand coalition" of the two major parties which remains in office until Oct. 19.

Party sources said the main stumbling block to a Social Democratic-Free Democratic government is the Social Democrats' plan to give workers a bigger say in industrial management. The Free Democrats oppose this.

With signs pointing toward a Brandt-Scheel coalition, speculation was running high on the composition of the new government.

The paper said Herbert Wehner, present all-German affairs minister and deputy Social Democratic leader, would be appointed vice-chancellor. Economics Minister Karl Schiller would keep his present job.

The coalition talks are necessary because Sunday's voting gave no clear mandate to either the Christian Democrats or the Social Democrats.

The coalition issue overshadowed developments on the West German foreign exchange market following Monday's government action in freeing the mark from its fixed exchange rate.

BREATHER — British troops take a breather following a night when gunfire crackled in Belfast streets, firebombers set two Roman Catholic homes ablaze and a Catholic mob attacked a police station. Four persons were wounded.

Border Sunday School holds Rally Day, family service

ROCK ISLAND — Stanstead South Church was filled to capacity, with several seated in chairs in the aisles for the annual Rally Day family service which marks the beginning of the Sunday School year.

The opening invocation and prayer was given by the church pastor, Rev. G. Joyce. After the singing of a hymn, Mrs. Margaret Abbott, one of the superintendents, led the responsive reading.

With Mr. Joyce officiating the dedication of the teaching staff took place. Allan Nourse, of the staff, read the scriptures, with his father, Ronald Nourse, offering prayer.

Mr. Joyce and Mr. Nourse, Jr. presented the awards for the 1968-69 year covering first year pins, certificates and wreaths up and including seven years.

Mr. Joyce spoke with reference to the installation of a television set, pointing out that Sunday School and church are the hook-ups to God the same as antennas and cables are hook-ups from air to the set.

Two other appropriate hymns were sung. The ushers were Valerie Quigley, Laura Colby, Bryan Davis and Scott Judd.

Sunday, Sept. 28 the schools got underway at Stanstead South Church Hall, Centenary Church Hall and the Community Center at 9:30 o'clock.

Here is another example of loser-on-loser technique from the new Solomon-Wilson book.

North has a multiple choice at his first turn to bid. Some people would double two diamonds. There are others who would try two no-trump. North's choice of a raise to two spades meets with our approval. South's jump to four spades is a slight overbid but a three-spade pull would undoubtedly lead to a further bid by North. Anyway, we find South struggling with the spade game.

West opens the king of diamonds and shifts to a trump. South is unhappy about this. He is sure that West is sitting with the ace of hearts in back of dummy's king and sees that repeated trump leads by the defense will make it impossible for him to ruff his third heart in dummy.

There is more than one way to skin a cat and South found another way to make his contract.

He started by playing three rounds of trumps and the king-queen and 10 of clubs. He overtook the 10 with dummy's jack and left the ace as a further entry.

Then South led dummy's 10 of diamonds and discarded the four of hearts on it.

West was in with the jack and was faced by a hopeless choice. A diamond lead would allow declarer to make a trick with the queen. South showed West his hand and West conceded the contract to South.

Supervision Is Helpful To Prevent Heart Damage

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is meant by arteriosclerotic heart disease with coronary insufficiency? Can I live a normal life with it?

A—When one of the coronary arteries that supplies the heart muscle becomes hardened, it also becomes narrowed and is unable to carry a sufficient amount of blood to the area it supplies. Close medical supervision and restricted activity will help to prevent further damage but will not completely eliminate the risk of a recurrence.

Q—I am told I have no heart reserve. What does this mean? Can it be built up again? How can a doctor detect damage to a heart valve due to rheumatic fever?

A—When a trained athlete is sitting quietly, his heart is doing a certain amount of work. If he is suddenly called upon to perform a heavy physical task, his cardiac reserve would allow him to do so without undue strain. The amount of this reserve capacity varies in different persons and in the same person at different times.

If your heart is otherwise normal, a graduated program of physical fitness training would restore your reserve. But if your lack of reserve is due to a heart disease, as you suggest, such training would be limited or forbidden. Damaged heart valves produce a characteristic type of murmur which your doctor can hear through his stethoscope. All murmurs, however, are not a sign of heart disease.

Q—How long can one live with a leaky heart?

A—No one can tell you how long you will live. This is one of life's blessings. The outlook in any case would depend on how great the leakage is and how well the heart is able to compensate for it by working a little harder.

Q—Does a mauve color of the lips necessarily indicate heart disease? Could it be due to anemia?

A—A purplish color of the lips means that the blood is not getting enough oxygen. This is usually caused by a valvular heart disease but it may also be caused by pneumonia, severe asthma and some forms of poisoning. In anemia, the lips are pale.

North School students begin to arrive

SHERBROOKE — (BSL) — About twelve of the 41 North Shore students scheduled to attend high school at The Alexander Galt Regional High School in Lennoxville arrived at 4:55 p.m. yesterday at the Sherbrooke municipal airport.

They arrived by a Quebecair D.C.3 after a five-hour trip from Havre St. Pierre, 150 miles northeast of Sept. Isles. They are the first in a group of 41 to come to the E.T. to continue their education. The second group of students will be arriving on Saturday or Sunday.

The students were greeted in an informal gathering at the airport by Archdeacon T. J. Matthews, one of the head men in this program, Ian MacLeay, principal of the new school, Royce Gale, one of the regional house principals, Dick Turpin, a regional official, and of course their foster parents for the year.

The students were accompanied on their trip by the Reverend John McIlmurray, an Anglican minister.

Rev. Matthews said that it was a very great thing that the department of education was doing for the youngsters, and he felt that it would be a wonderful event for all involved, especially the students.

The students moaned when Mr. MacLeay announced that they had to be in school tomorrow. He announced this as the students were preparing to leave.

U of S holds science show

SHERBROOKE — (BSL) — The University of Sherbrooke is holding a science students' exhibition this week. The main purpose of the exhibition is to try and show whether science is working to the benefit or hindrance of humanity.

The exhibition will take place from Sept. 30 to Oct. 3. The theme of the exhibition will be science and humanities, and will be open to the general public with special conferences for university students.

The directors of this exhibition wish to invite all members of the community to the meetings held for the public.

The meetings for the general public will be held this afternoon at 4 p.m. Its purpose will be to show what the university is doing in the field of research. All exhibits will be student projects. It should be quite interesting to see what contributions to science our local universities might have to offer to the world.

Thursday's meeting, to be held at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the science and education building, will be related to space travel. There will be several films shown, slides, and a conference given by Marcel Sicotte who is in charge of the French-language coverage for the C.B.C. of all the Apollo space flights.

On this occasion the audience will be able to ask questions.

The exhibition is the first of such a nature this year in our region.

Court rules pay for meal but not damages

SHERBROOKE — (BSL) — Richard Breton, 21, and Georges Beaulieu, 20, of Sherbrooke, pleaded guilty to a charge of false acquisition of goods in Sessions court Tuesday before Judge Roland Dugre.

The two youths ate at the Italian Pizzeria on Wellington south, left without paying the bill and were apprehended later that evening by Sherbrooke Police.

Judge Dugre delayed his sentencing of the offenders in order to permit them to show good faith by paying for the meal. Judge Dugre has given them until Thursday to do so.

Provincial Court Judge Roland Dugre rejected plaintiff R. Beauchamps suit against defendant Donat Pinard for damages caused by a sewage drain back up overflowing into his cellar ruining clothes, suitcases, skates, articles totalling $175.

Judge Dugre explained his decision, stating that the city was responsible for the flooding of the plaintiff's basement, not the landlord, Donat Pinard.

He added the city had already compensated Beauchamp for his losses. He emphatically stated that $175 was sufficient compensation.

Pinard, landlord of the house in question, was defended by Yvon Roberge, while Jacques Page represented the plaintiff.

Special census nears end in area

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — All Sherbrooke area residents who received self-census questionnaires last week, should have completed the forms yesterday.

There is still time, but they should be filled out as soon as possible.

Householders in the city of Sherbrooke can mail them directly, but those in rural areas should keep their questionnaires until a census official calls.

In the event of any problems, telephone assistance will be available until tomorrow evening at 9:00 p.m. Householders are encouraged to call and discuss any difficulties they may have.

The number is 563-5900 in Sherbrooke. Householders outside the calling area should ask the operator for Zenith 0-3400. They will be connected to the census office, toll free.

Sherbrooke was not chosen for special census treatment by accident. The city's population, with a large adjoining rural area, and a good cross section of industry and occupations, is typical of urban centres in Quebec.

The population of about 77,000 is not so large as to make the trial census cumbersome, yet large enough to give significant results applicable to the Nation at large.

Sherbrooke is also predominantly French-speaking with enough English speaking residents to test bilingual census operation.

Two other areas across Canada, St. Catharines, Ont., and Souris, Man., will be selected for this first favor test of the "self census".

It will determine the best way in which to conduct the next national census, coming up in 1971.

In an effort to do away with door-to-door canvassing, householders are asked to complete the questionnaire themselves.

Since each household will conduct their own personal census, it will be faster than the old method, more accurate and less costly.

The questionnaire itself parallels that used in the 1961 Census of Canada. No new fields of information have been introduced, but a few additional questions have been included to bring out important details on such subjects as education and migration. These facts are needed by industry as well as federal, provincial and municipal governments in their planning and policy making.

The farm questionnaire is designed to be as efficient as possible in terms of its demands on the farmer's time. It can be completed quickly and easily.

Canadian agriculture is constantly changing. Because of this, collective facts on our farming must also change. New questions are asked on livestock, irrigation, poultry, etc. to keep farm information up to date.

The farm questionnaire looks longer than it really is. In actual fact, however, each farmer is expected to answer only those questions which apply directly to operations on his farm.

If you have any doubts about your privacy when answering the questionnaire, remember that the census is being carried out under a law passed by the Parliament of Canada.

All your answers are held absolutely confidential. Employees of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, including temporary staff, are sworn to secrecy.

The Bureau may not divulge any individual statistics to any other federal departments or agencies.

Warnings on medicare

Medicare goes into effect in Ontario today and the problems and confusion apparent with the adoption of the scheme should compel the Quebec government to give a close second look at any agreement it may be making with the federal authorities.

In the week prior to the adoption of the new program, there have been loud complaints as to the cost, coverage, tax exemptions and justice of the new plan, protests that have been so strong they are credited with the defeat of a Government candidate in a provincial by-election.

Admittedly more people will have medical service care available under the new plan but subscribers to privately-financed medical care plans believe they are paying much more in premiums for coverage they consider less comprehensive than they had previously.

Some of the issues around which the most confusion exists are so basic that both the federal and provincial representatives should have insisted that they be cleared up long ago. And the Quebec Government should insist that these be straightened out before this province commits itself to any such costly programs.

One is the question of people carrying private insurance to cover doctors' bills beyond those covered by medicare.

Premier Robarts, apparently surprised that this was prohibited under the new program, says he regards this as an infringement on the rights of the individual. Federal Health Minister Munro first said there would be no such limitation but later changed his mind and announced that if private supplementary coverage were permitted Ontario would lose the federal contribution of $176,000,000 annually to the cost of the medicare program.

And confusion also exists as to whether payments by employers towards employees medicare premiums would increase the workers' liability for income tax. Last week the federal authorities said Ontario employees in groups of more than five would be exempt from income tax on their employers' contributions. But employees in groups of five and under will be liable for additional income tax.

That the small businessman and his employees are indignant over this injustice is readily understandable. With similar uncertainties being reported from Alberta, Quebec should beware of sloppy negotiations with Ottawa.

A crab has very pale, bluish blood — and you are invited to fit that fact into a funny about your own nonfavorite person.

Real justice unlikely

Another claim for reparations to set right a historical wrong has been put forward, this time by one Dorothy Shinder on behalf of an organization called the "War Singles."

Miss Shinder wants heart balm of $35,000 for each woman in the United States who is over 35, heterosexual and single, who missed out on marriage because the men they might have married were killed or wounded in World War II or came home with foreign wives.

The government, she argues, took the men, sent them to wars, then actually punished the war singles for not having husbands. It humiliated them, took everything from them and not only gave them nothing in return but made them pay, and pay more than their share at that through higher taxes for single persons, draining their incomes and violating their human rights.

Discounting the hysterics, the essential justice in the plea cannot be denied. Its practicality is something else. Determining which women over 35 would have married had there not been a war is a legislative thicket no lawmaker in his right mind would enter.

There is no end to the raw deals people — men as much as women — have received from history. But, alas, there is no remedy for them in this life.

TODAY in history

By THE CANADIAN PRESS: Oct. 1, 1969 . . .

T. E. Lawrence, Lawrence of Arabia, leading insurgent Arab forces, formally occupied Damascus 51 years ago today—in 1918—during the fighting against Turkey in the First World War. Using Arab insurgent recruits, Lawrence, a British Army officer, scored remarkable successes in the desert fighting and was noted for his disruption of Turkish rail communications. In 1922, believing Arab interests had been neglected after the peace, he renounced his rank as lieutenant-colonel and his surname and joined the air force as a draftsman.

1908—Henry Ford introduced his famed Model-T automobile.

1836—The General Council of the United Church of Canada approved the ordination of women.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—German garrison at the port of Calais surrendered at midnight to attacking Canadian forces. British 8th Army troops took Savignano, 10 miles inland from the Adriatic on the Rimini-Bologna highway, and threw Germans back from their strong Fiumicino River line at some points.

New teaching methods

Dialogue now replacing lectures

By ANNE ROBERTS
EDMONTON (CP) — "Students have been taught there are no options to this society," says Mort Newman, a graduate teaching assistant.

"But an option to capitalism exists—socialism—and I can show them China and Cuba."

Mr. Newman, working toward a PhD in political science at the University of Alberta, said in an interview:

"Once a student begins to understand the real world and learns about the authoritarian nature of this system, he then sees options."

His statements are typical of a number of graduate teaching assistants in universities across Canada who have rejected traditional teaching methods and course content.

Paul Tietzon, a graduate teaching assistant in the sociology department, said:

"I am not so concerned with what I do as what I don't do. I don't want to be authoritarian. I want the student to be able to use his mind which has been repressed."

These graduate teaching assistants, who generally teach introductory courses in university while working on their degrees, have rejected traditional criteria of academic excellence and substituted the criterion of relevance to the people.

GIVE STUDENTS CHOICE

"Very few of the academics today are serving the interests of the people," said Mr. Newman, who describes himself as a revolutionary. "The universities serve the interests of corporations and governments." Many graduate teaching assistants, who will be professors in two or three years, also reject the classroom in which one individual is in control.

Mr. Tietzon says he lets the students choose their own direction and make their own evaluations. "I regard myself as a member of a dialogue."

Mr. Newman said many professors use their authority in the classroom to help them appear professional and competent.

Hard exams, attendance records and a specific book list are used to cover up weaknesses. For example, they are afraid to go into subjects they know nothing about.

"My role is to introduce a spectrum of ideas and options. . . I help clarify ideas and bring student thinking to new levels by questioning their work."

OPPRESSION DEPICED

A freshman entering the university has had limited life experiences, he said.

"To expand their experiences, audio-visual aids, field trips to a mental institution, the Fort Saskatchewan jail, and poor white areas create impressions which can then be discussed in a serious analytical way." Mr. Newman showed two films last year on blacks in the United States. He described one as showing a slum in Chicago and the problems with slum landlords who can reject tenants at will; who refuse to repair buildings and who make money by exploiting people unable to move elsewhere. The other film, he said, was on black sharecroppers in the South and the racial and economic oppression they suffer.

"A student stood up after the films and told me she never could understand that Gordon Lightfoot song about people wanting to burn down their own houses. She said she now understood perfectly."

Mr. Tietzon agrees that abstract lectures are not worth much.

"To learn and experience the thrill of discovering something about the social world themselves, the student must have a subjective feeling of society."

Mr. Newman argues that learning, especially in the social sciences, has to be related to problems we want to change or maintain.

"I want the students to know that the only way they can change the world, can adopt other options, is to act."

TIMELY QUOTES

I'm strongly in favor of walking for exercise. . . If the persuasive campaigns devoted to jogging were instead focused on motivating Americans to walk, we might accomplish more in promoting fitness.

—Harry J. Johnson, M.D., medical board chairman of Life Extension Institute.

It is sad but not surprising that the large drug manufacturers have enough influence in American government to prevent such a qualified man from holding the position of director of the Bureau of Medicine.

—Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., on reports that the nomination of Dr. John Adriani of New Orleans was blocked.

I think Mr. Nixon made certain commitments to the Southern politicians before Miami, certainly at Miami, and perhaps since Miami. Who knows?

—Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive director.

CPR station sale ends 90 years rail service

BEDFORD — With the sale of the C.P.R. station to George Rochleau, the railroad, which has served this area for almost 90 years is no more, marking the end of an era. The freight service is being continued at intervals to look after the stone at the Shawinigan Chemicals Ltd (Gulf Oil Canada, chemical division), at their quarry between Bedford and Stanbridge Station.

In its heyday Bedford was once an important station with four trains daily. The first railroad into Bedford was built in the 1880's, a branch of the Lake Champlain and St. Lawrence Junction Railroad, a section of the old South Eastern Railroad, which eventually became a part of the C.P.R. It was a proud day, when the first train pulled into Bedford. The line ran from St. Guillaume to Stanbridge Station and connected at Farnham for other points.

When originally planned the South Eastern intended to run a line from Philipsburg on Lake Champlain on the northern shore to a point on the St. Lawrence River opposite Three Rivers. It was to be 100 miles in length. The distance between St. Guillaume and Stanbridge Station, which was built, was 64 miles. The coming of the railroad added to the importance of Bedford as the leading town in the district, a factor being that it was the county seat for Missisquoi County with the registry office also at that time county court was held here.

Over the years, in keeping with the policy of centralization, services have changed the first to be affected was express, which for some years has come from Farnham and today Bedford is part of an area under a supervisor, with only the odd freight car being unloaded on the siding. The freight shed was the first of the buildings to go and with the removal of the station, which Mr. Rochleau is moving to another site to make a two family dwelling, the final phase in the closing of the office will be completed.

North Hatley ACW gives report on summer's work

NORTH HATLEY — The opening fall meeting of St. Barnabas A.C.W. was held in the Community Hall on Sept. 17 with 22 members and one guest in attendance. The president announced that different members would take the devotions at the opening of each meeting. Mrs. R. Springins opened the meeting with prayer and a suitable reading.

The treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Grant LeBaron, in Mrs. Detchon's absence, showed a good amount of work done over the summer months, with satisfactory results at the bazaar and luncheon held in August. A bill for painting and repairing the exterior of the church was presented and the A.C.W.

undertook to meet the full amount. It was also decided to increase the amount sent to the church corporation at this time of year. Mrs. Sutherland put before the meeting the urgency of pledges to the church and reminded how vital the envelope system is to the upkeep of the organization.

An amount of $25 was set aside to purchase materials for work to be done at the meetings. Mrs. Rita Bowen and Mrs. Grant LeBaron are to join with Mrs. Sutherland in preparation of the work.

The president welcomed the members to the meeting, giving a special thanks to Mrs. John Mackay for the splendid work she had accomplished for the bazaar; also expressed thanks to every member for co-operation. A suggestion box was placed on the table and members were urged to contribute ideas, or criticism, with a promise that each receive consideration.

Mrs. Auger reported four calls and three cards sent to sick and shut-ins. She also sent flowers to Mrs. Dutton, who had marked her 91st birthday.

Mrs. Coleman's report, read by Miss Ireland, included a letter from the Rev. Mr. Stavert, Schellerville asking for warm clothing for Indian children of pre-school age. She said that a parcel was going out shortly but urged members to collect more for a parcel later on. An Afghan was included in the parcel to be sent.

The meeting was adjourned with tea served by Mrs. Whittaker and Mrs. McGee.

Local delegate attends annual CWL Convention in Victoria

Mrs. Moira McKenna, president of the Sherbrooke Diocesan Council of the Catholic Women's League attended the 49th annual National Convention in Victoria, B.C.

Through Help, Hope, was the theme of the Convention. At the suggestion of an Ecumenical meeting of Church leaders held in May, Mrs. Valentine Fabris, national president, announced that a brief would be presented to the Senate Committee on Poverty.

The 150,000 members approved a resolution to help solve problems in developing nations through a voluntary one per cent tax on personal items they buy during the year. It was hoped that the proposal might instigate others to do likewise.

Bishop Remi De Roo addressed the convention and urged women to make a "man-sized" contribution to preserve a balance of society.

"It would be dishonest to pretend that discrimination against women does not exist in the Church and in society but dwelling on past weaknesses will solve very little," he said.

The Bishop mentioned that one problem the CWL might attack is relations between Indians and Whites. There is also a place for involvement in consumer protection associations, he said. A national body such as the League could be invaluable in "getting things moving".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a wedding gown of silk crepe, three quarter bell sleeves, with bodice and sleeves trimmed with tatted lace, the detachable train ordered with the same lace.

Her shoulder length illusion veil was held in place by satin forget-me-nots. Her jewelry was a sterling pearl drop with earrings to match, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and red gladioli and white roses.

Atlanta Braves to face "those" Mets for pennant

It will be the vagabond Atlanta Braves against the Cinderella New York Mets in the National League's championship playoff series.

The Braves, who previously won National League pennants in Boston and Milwaukee, nailed down the West Division crown Tuesday night, topping Cincinnati Reds 3-2 and dooming San Francisco Giants to a fifth straight second-place finish.

The Giants beat San Diego Padres 6-1 and Los Angeles Dodgers bowed to Houston Astros 6-3 in the only other National League games played Tuesday.

The Braves will send Phil Niekro, 23-13, against the Mets' Tom Seaver, 25-7, in the opening game of the best-of-five playoff Saturday in Atlanta. It was Niekro who got credit for Tuesday night's clincher over the Reds although he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

The Reds were leading 2-1 when Mike Lum opened the seventh with a single. Ralph Garr batted for Niekro and walked. Wayne Granger relieved Gary Nolan for the Reds and Felix Millan, attempting to sacrifice, forced Lum at third.

Then Tony Gonzalez' fourth hit of the night scored Garr with the tying run and after Hank Aaron walked, Rico Carty's sacrifice fly brought home the deciding run.

SET REDS DOWN

That left it up to Hoyt Wilhelm and the 46-year-old reliever set the Reds down in order over the last two innings, striking out three. Wilhelm is ineligible for the playoffs because he came to the Braves after the Sept. 1 deadline.

In the clubhouse, the champagne flowed freely.

"Man, it's too good," exulted reliever Cecil Upshaw, offering cigars to dressing room visitors.

"Oh happy day, oh happy day," shouted Carty.

"Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful," sang Orlando Cepeda, who made it to the World Series with St. Louis Cardinals in each of the last two seasons before being traded in the spring and now has another shot at the classic.

Tommy Davis tagged his first home run since returning to the National League and helped Houston knock off his old teammates.

Denny Lemaster pitched a four-hitter and the Astros moved to within one game of the slumping Dodgers for fourth place in the West Division. Norm Miller also homered for the Astros and Andy Kosco connected for the Dodgers.

Gaylord Perry scattered nine hits and struck out 14 San Diego batters pitching the Giants past the Padres. It was Perry's 19th victory of the season.

Ed Kirkpatrick and Sal Bando are going out with a bang, but Baltimore Orioles are beginning to backfire in the American League.

Kirkpatrick slammed four hits, including a pair of homers for the second straight game, and knocked in six runs as Kansas City Royals whipped California Angels 8-5 Tuesday night.

Bando ripped five consecutive singles, driving in three runs, in Oakland Athletics' 8-5 victory over Seattle Pilots.

But Detroit Tigers peppered Dave McNally for three runs in the seventh inning and edged Baltimore 4-3, stretching the East Division champion Orioles' losing string to five games, their longest skid of the season.

West Division champion Minnesota Twins, who take on the Orioles at Baltimore Saturday in the opener of the best-of-five pennant playoff, nipped Chicago White Sox 4-3 in an afternoon game. New York Yankees decked Cleveland Indians 8-2 and Washington Senators drubbed Boston Red Sox 7-2.

TIED FOR FOURTH

Kirkpatrick, on a last-leg slugging spree, cracked a single and triple in addition to his 13th and 14th homers, leading the expansion Royals past the Angels and into a fourth-place tie with the White Sox in the West.

Bando, going five-for-five at Seattle for the second time this season, increased his batting mark seven points to 278 and raised his runs-batted-in total to 110. The storky Oakland third baseman drove in one run in the Athletics' decisive four-run fourth and one each in the seventh and ninth.

McNally, a 20-game winner for the Orioles who will pitch in Sunday's second playoff game

Beavers suffer first

The Junior A Beavers registered their efforts for the first time in the loss column this season as the Three Rivers Dukes lapped up victory 9-4 last night. The host team jumped to a 5-0 lead after 20 minutes of play, and after the second period was completed, the Beavers found themselves mired behind 8-3, despite the steady net-minding of Mario Lessard who took over from Michel Robert after the first period.

Luc Simard paced the Dukes' barrage with three goals and two assists while his line-mates Richard Leduc and Dave Johnson each collected a goal. The other tallies were scored by Michel Laurendeau.

Kirk Walterbeek, Dan Atkinson and Robert Richer.

The Beavers' goal-getters were Normand Piche with two, Bruno Landry and Alain Dumas.

The game was marred by sixteen penalties — six minors, six majors, three misconducts and a game misconduct dealt out to defenceman Jean-Dennis Royal of the Beavers for shoving linesman Michel Thibault in the second period.

The win was an expensive one for the Dukes though, since defenceman Robert Dugre suffered a separated left shoulder falling to the ice in a run-in with Michel Lepage of the Beavers and centreman Robert Richer was transported to the hospital with a back injury.

"...it's too good," cry jubilant Braves

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Braves popped the corks on champagne that had been cooling for two days Tuesday night, after beating Cincinnati Reds 3-2 to win the National League Western Division title.

"Man, it's too good," said ace relief pitcher Cecil Upshaw. "Have a cigar. We just had a baby—it's called a pennant."

Upshaw's enthusiasm is somewhat premature, since the Braves must first beat New York Mets before they can claim the league pennant.

"Don't worry about a thing, baby," said Rico Carty, whose seventh-inning sacrifice fly drove home the winning run.

Manager Luman Harris predicted the playoff series would be a good one.

"I'm encouraged by the way my team has been hitting," Harris said.

The Mets whipped the Braves eight times in 12 regular-season games but Harris pointed out that most of the games were close.

Carty, who battled back from a year-long illness and early-season injuries to play a major part in the Braves' drive for the division crown, was bubbling like the champagne.

"Oh happy day, oh happy day," he shouted. Speaking of himself, he crowed, "The big boy can do it, the big boy can do it."

Catcher Bob Didier, a candidate for rookie of the year honors who got a job with the Braves because he was one of the few who could catch Niekro's dancing knuckleball, said happily: "Isn't it great—20 years old and here I walk into one."

Orlando Cepeda, a member of St. Louis Cardinals when they won the last two National League pennants

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Aldrich, Derby Line, have become the first to be presented life memberships in the Dufferin Heights Golf Club.

The couple was so honored on Friday evening, Sept. 26, at the Club closing banquet when the presentations were made by the Club president, Norman (Duke) Chamberlain, in the presence of a record turn out of members.

Following the presentation, Mr. Aldrich responded with remarks of appreciation on this honor conferred upon him and his wife. He mentioned that he became a member about 1922 and after his marriage to Ann Coultis, she became a member in 1936. Since, they have enjoyed the years of golfing at the club.

Mr. Aldrich recalled that when he was first a member, the clubhouse was replaced by the present and through the years since, changes have been made to both the greens and Club House until its present excellent one of today.

Mr. Aldrich is a Past President of the Club and won the handicap championship twice, he said he had never made it to be Club Champion.

His remarks were followed by standing ovation.

Statistics to Esks but victory to Ticats

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger Cats overcame the loss of defensive stalwart Ted Page Tuesday night and defeated Edmonton Eskimos 17-12 in a Canadian Football League game before 20,533 fans.

Page, a defensive halfback, was knocked unconscious on the final play of the first quarter and taken to hospital suffering from a severe concussion.

He was taken from the field by stretcher and did not regain consciousness until he reached the hospital.

Willie Bethea and Billy Ray Locklin scored touchdowns for Hamilton, with Tommy Joe Coffey converting both and adding a 46-yard field goal.

Rookie Tom Nettles scored the only touchdown for Edmonton. Dave Cutler added a 25-yard field goal, a convert and a single.

The Eskimos' other point came on a 56-yard punt into the Hamilton end zone by Roger Kettlewell.

John Eckman, playing his second game at quarterback for the Ticats, completed 12 of 19 passes for 158 yards and the Ticats added another 75 yards along the ground.

Eckman is replacing veteran Joe Zuger, who has been limited to punting since suffering an injury to his left hand two weeks ago.

Edmonton quarterback Charlie Fulton completed 18 of 37 pass attempts for 244 yards and the Eskimos gained 78 yards rushing.

Edmonton picked up 20 first downs to Hamilton's 10, but failed to finish off its scoring plays.

Fulton and Jim Thomas were the top ground gainers for the Eskimos with 38 yards each.

Coffey accounted for most yardage, catching seven passes for 107 yards.

The victory left the Ticats one point behind the first-place Ottawa Rough Riders in the Eastern Football Conference. Edmonton remained a point behind the third-place Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Conference.

Edmonton scored on its first series, taking the ball from its own 27-yard line to the Hamilton 18 in five plays before Cutler kicked a 25-yard field goal.

TICATS MOVE AHEAD

Hamilton took a 7-3 lead at 8:34 of the first quarter, with Bethea diving over the line from two yards out and Coffey kicking the extra point.

That ended the first quarter scoring, but the Ticats scored early in the second when Dick Wesolowski blocked an Edmonton punt on the Eskimos' 26. Locklin picked up the ball and lugged it across for the touchdown. Coffey again converted to give Hamilton a 14-3 lead.

The touchdown ended a 79-yard march in 11 plays for the Eskimos.

Cutler's 19-yard field goal attempt was wide and went for a single midway through the third quarter. Coffey booted his three-pointer early in the fourth quarter and Kettlewell wound up the scoring with the punt single.

Rangers' Kurtenbach joins spinal fusion club

Harry Howell, Camille Henry, Rod Gilbert, Jean Ratelle and Orland Kurtenbach share two common bonds in their National Hockey League careers.

They all wore New York Ranger uniforms and underwent major back surgery by Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa to prolong their professional hockey careers.

Howell and Henry departed to rival NHL dressing rooms, but Gilbert and Ratelle recovered to become the heart of New York's scoring attack.

Kurtenbach, the newest member of the Ranger spinal fusion club, is an important figure in New York manager-coach Emile Francis' plans to develop a contender for the 1969-70 East Division championship.

Kurtenbach, a 33-year-old native of Cudworth, Sask., has played professional hockey for 14 seasons, six of them in the NHL with the Rangers, Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs.

At training camp a year ago, the six-foot, two-inch, centre was ineffective, able to play only two league games with the Rangers and one with Omaha Knights, New York's Central Hockey League farm team.

TIME IN TRACTION

Kurtenbach spent most of the 1968 autumn in traction and the decision to operate came in December.

"Recovery from spinal fusion is a long and painful process," Francis said in an interview during this year's training camp.
