PROVINCIAL PREMIERS CAME TO AGREEMENT
But Mr. McBride, of British Columbia, Withdrew

THE CONFERENCE ENDED
Quebec Said to be Satisfied with the Award—Conference to be Annual Affair.

Ottawa, Oct. 13 — At six o'clock
this evening the Conference of Provincial Premiers, which has sat all week in the Railway Committee room of the Senate, broke up with cheers for the King. The Premier met on Monday morning with the idea that they would sit for three days, but the discussions went on all week, and in the end the conference was marked by two things. They were the withdrawal of Premier McBride, of British Columbia, from the conference because the other Provincial Ministers would not agree to back his demands, and the failure to secure from Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues a definite promise that the resolutions would be agreed to. The Federal Premier, with his customary caution, promised to place the proposals before his Cabinet
and see that they received careful consideration. The probabilities are that the demands for increased subsidies, which are practically based upon the resolutions of the Quebec conference of 1902, will be agreed to and that in the near future the Provincial Treasuries will have a few more millions to spend.

MCBRIDE'S WITHDRAWAL.
Premier McBride withdrew from the conference shortly before the close of the morning session and went to his room. He was followed by Hon. R.
P. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, who induced him to return. He remaned till the adjournment at one o'clock,
but was not present at the afternoon
sitting. The proposal which Mr. Mc-Bride made and which the conference failed to agree to was that in addition to the subsidies received by the other provinces, British Columbia, owing to her peculiar position, should get an extra subsidy on a sliding scale, beginning at one dollar per head on the present population and decreasing to twenty-five cents a head as the population approached the two and a half million mark. This would mean that ultimately the per capita subsidy of the coast province would be $1.05, as compared with 50 cents for the other provinces.

HIS DEMANDS REJECTED.
After the rejection of this proposal,
Hon. Mr. J. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, proposed that it be recommended that British Columbia should receive an extra one hundred thousand dollars a year for ten years. Mr.
McBride would not consent to this,
and recognizing the impossibility of coming to terms withdrew from the conference. This means that if the demands made upon the Federal Ministers are granted, British Columbia will receive the same rate of increase as her sister provinces, but will regard herself as still being in a position to make future demands for special treatment.

SIR WILFRID'S LAST VISIT.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues
did not figure much in the last day's proceedings. They were in the room for a short time, during the morning sitting, and paid their last trip to Parliament Hill between four and five o'clock, after the resolutions had been formally adopted. After stating the position of the Federal Government, Sir Wilfrid and his Ministers withdrew and the subsequent proceedings were of a formal character. They included the passing of a hearty vote of thanks to Hon.
Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec, who so ably presided over the conference.

WILL MEET EVERY YEAR.
It was resolved: "That a meeting of the Prime Ministers of the several provinces of Canada be held each year
to consider matters of common interest, and that every such meeting shall be convened by the Prime Minister of the Province of Ontario and the Prime Minister of the Province of Quebec."

QUEBEC SATISFIED.
Montreal, Oct. 13.—The outcome of the Conference of Premiers at Ottawa is gratifying in the extreme to the Province of Quebec, and of course to the other Provinces of the Dominion,"
said Hon. W. A. Weir, Quebec's Minister of Public Works, Saturday night.
"In brief, the basis of settlement is that the province will get 80 cents per head per annum from the Dominion Treasury, according to the latest census. On this basis, Quebec will get an annual increase of no less a sum than $800,000. The agreement, I can say, was reached with the utmost unanimity. All the Premiers were in perfect accord, with the sole and signal exception of Premier McBride, of British Columbia. He put in the claim that British Columbia was different from other provinces, and required different treatment. When asked to show just wherein the difference
lay, he brought up all manner of technicities, but could, or would not give any real data on which anything definite could be based."

MARINE DISASTER
Steamer Hankow with 2,000
Chinese on Board Burned
in Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, October 14.—The steamer Hankow, which was burned to-day,
carried 2,000 Chinese passengers, men, women and children, and seven Europeans and a cargo including 300 bales of matting, 560 bales of raw silk and 400 bales of waste silk. The vessel arrived from Canton at 3 o'clock this morning and was shortly after moored at the wharf. The chief officer reported to Capt. Branch that the ship was afloat. The captain then directed the chief engineer to turn on the water through the fire hose. This was impossible for the reason that within 5 minutes after the alarm was given the Hankow was ablaze fore and aft.
Capt. Branch then awakened the European passengers, who rushed down the gangway, the ladies in their night clothes. The crew was compelled to leave the ship, which by this time was a veritable furnace. The Chinese steerage passengers were thrown into a frightful panic. Horrifying shrieks and cries to save their lives were heard, but it was impossible owing to the inflammable nature of the cargo.
Hundreds were burned to death and many others jumped into the harbor and were drowned. Responding to signals from the British cruiser Flora
the naval dockyard dispatched contingents of engines and assistance.
The land and floating brigades of firemen made herculean efforts to extinguish the flames which leaped to a height of over 60 feet. The British steamer Powan, which was berthed at the same wharf, was towed out to save her from destruction. A neighboring pier, 100 yards distant, was burned to the water's edge. Governor Nathan, accompanied by his aide-de-camp, arrived at the scene at 4:15
a.m. Governor Nathan suggested scuttling the ship, but the suggestion was found to be impracticable. The fire was brought under control at 6 a.m., at which time only the shell and hull of the Hankow remained. The gruesome work of recovering the dead was then begun. The fire fighters have already recovered 75 corpses. Many of them were huddled together and only singed, while others were incinerated beyond recognition. Of the cargo 200 bales of raw silk were saved, but badly damaged by water. The remainder was totally destroyed. There are many theories as to the cause of the fire. The first is that the fire was caused by the overturning of the lantern of a Chinese boarding-house runner who came aboard seeking customers. The second was that an opium smoker accidentally set fire to matting. The third is that it was caused by the crossing of electric wires. A fourth theory and one that is considered the most probable, is that the fire was incendiary and was an outgrowth of a boycott against British river boats.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.
Syracuse, N.Y., Oct. 14.—The police
so far are baffled in their efforts to solve the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. May Alverson, of San Francisco, from a boarding house
in this city between 11:30 Thursday night and 8 o'clock Friday morning.
Paralyzed on one side, almost blind,
and so weak she was unable to walk without assistance, resulting from injuries received by falling from a street car. Mrs. Alverson was born in England 31 years ago and was a trained nurse. She was employed at her profession in New York, Chicago, Buffalo and Rochester and other cities. Last January she was married to Robt. Alverson, of London, Eng., in San Francisco, now supposed to be in England.

FARMER AND FAMILY MURDERED.
Houston, Mo., Oct. 14.—Barney Parsons, a farmer, his wife and three children, were murdered yesterday near Licking, Mo. A farmer named Hamilton has been arrested charged with the murder, and is said to have confessed. Parsons had sold his farm and crops to Hamilton and it is believed that the men quarrelled over the terms of the sale. Parsons and family set out from their former home in a covered wagon, bound for Northwestern Missouri. The body of Parsons was found full of wounds. He had been shot to death. His wife and three children had been clubbed to death.
John Hamilton, the alleged murderer,
is in the Houston jail, strongly guarded to prevent lynching. He is said to have made a complete confession.

COAL DISCOVERIES IN ENGLAND.
London, Oct. 14.—During the last week a discovery has been made near Dover which Dr. W. Boyd Dawkins, professor of geology at Owens College, Manchester, describes as "an event of the most importance for the district since the Norman conquest." Rich seams of coal have been found at a boring seven miles from Dover, and if all that is said in praise is fulfilled Kent will in a few years time develop into another Lancashire. The new coal field is claimed to be the largest virgin one in the United Kingdom, and the value of the coal is placed at anything over one thousand millions sterling. The area of the field is stated to be one hundred square miles.

THE ONTARIO BANK
Statement of Directors—Terms of Absorption by Bank of Montreal.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13.—The directors of the Ontario Bank this afternoon handed out the following statement, signed by Mr. George R. R.
Cockburn, the president:—"The directors of the Ontario Bank, aided by the friendly offices of other banks, have succeeded in completing an arrangement whereby that institution assumes all obligations of the Ontario Bank to the public. The current business of the bank is in excellent shape. Its difficulties have been occasioned by the wrongful and unauthorized stock operations of the general manager, which have only recently been discovered. Notwithstanding serious losses from this cause, the assets of the bank are amply sufficient to pay all liabilities
to the public, and the arrangements
now completed permits of the continuance of the business without the loss and inconvenience to which de-positors and others would have been subjected by any interruption to the business of the bank."

The terms on which the Bank of Montreal absorbed the Ontario Bank,
were as follows:—All assets are transferred to the Bank of Montreal, which in turn, assumes all liabilities. Bank of Montreal pays a bonus of $150,000
for the good-will of the Ontario Bank. This is all that the shareholders receive at present. An excess of assets over liabilities will also go to the shareholders of the Ontario Bank.
"I am willing to stand the brunt of this thing if they don't pull too hard,"
was Mr. McGill's statement to-day. "I have been trying to work the bank up from the very beginning so that its stock would sell, but I received little help. I am, however, prepared to take the responsibility and I am waiting to see what the directors propose to do. I will deny from the start that I used any of the bank's funds in mispeculations. Of course, there was always a certain amount of the bank's money floating in securities. At the proper time I will make explanations with regard to the bank's stock. I do not consider it opportune to make a full statement at the present time. I am glad to know of the present arrangement with the other banks and that the depositors are safe." Mr. Alexander Laird, assistant general manager of the Bank of Commerce, said:—"The other Canadian banks have agreed to stand behind the Ontario Bank for any amount that may be necessary."

To-night the position of the Ontario Bank's affairs is brief. The Bank of Montreal is winding up the Ontario bank with open doors. The Bank of Montreal has assumed all liabilities of the Ontario Bank giving the latter's creditors the security of the Bank of Montreal. To protect the latter bank in this assumption of liabilities other Canadian banks have guaranteed $2, 500,000 should the Ontario Bank's assets fall short of liabilities. This guarantee will be only a final resource after the Ontario Bank's assets and the second liabilities of its shareholders have been exhausted. The banks which have so far signed the guarantee are the Banks of Montreal, Commerce, Imperial, Toronto, Dominion, Traders and Royal, and communications are now being carried on with other leading banks which are expected to join, including the Banks of Nova Scotia, Merchants', Molsons
and British North America. In accordance with the change of control of the Ontario Bank, Mr. C. McGill has resigned as general manager and the board has appointed Mr. A. D.
Braithwaite, who is local manager of the Bank of Montreal, to be general manager of the Ontario Bank. This is expected to be followed by the appointment of a curator and a committee of three Toronto bankers to assist him.

SAILORS SCALDED TO DEATH.
New York, Oct. 14.—A steam yacht exploded to-day on the steam yacht club, owned by Frederick G.
Bourne, former commodore of the New York Yacht Club, as she lay in Oyster Bay Cove. Five sailors aboard the vessel were frightfully scalded by escaping steam and three died soon
after being taken to Nassau hospital, Mineola, L.I. The other two will survive, it was said, at the hospital
to-night.

Yes! We had noticed that your hair lacked luster and life. But we didn't like to speak of it! Of course you know that Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 15, 1906.

ANOTHER COBALT.

No less than three hundred mining prospectors have been working in the Chibugamoo district this year, notwithstanding its difficulty of access, it being nearly 200 miles distant from the railway at Roberval, and only accessible by canoe or on foot. Most of the prospectors have now come out until spring, and all of them give glowing accounts of the mineral wealth of the district. Mr. Blake, who had charge of one of the parties for a Quebec syndicate, reports that not only is there an immense deposit of asbestos and good finds of copper and gold, but specimens of Cobalt have also been brought in. But perhaps the most important discovery of all is that of a mountain of magnetic iron. Iron ore in this province is almost always titanite, and the great cost of getting rid of the titanium makes it impossible to work. Hence the importance of this discovery of magnetic ore, just beyond the height of land sloping to James Bay. It will be practically all down hill to bring this ore to tide water at Chicoutimi, so if a railway is constructed, this iron will probably prove to be of the utmost importance to the Province of Quebec and will create industries in our midst like those of Sydney, in Nova Scotia, and Sault Ste. Marie, in Ontario. In the same way, the other minerals—asbestos, copper, gold and cobalt—should bring about the same wonderful results as at Cobalt in Ontario, where on a similar geological formation the mines are making immense fortunes, and where the railway from Lake Nipissing to James Bay, built by the Ontario Government, in what many thought to be a venture-some way, is already paying the interest upon its cost.

It appears that not only is the Chibugamoo district rich in minerals, but it has a good soil, a climate as good as the Lake St. John district, and it is well timbered.

The Government of our Province is not, of course, in as good a financial position as Ontario, but nevertheless it should take some steps to try to have this country opened up by railway when fully satisfied as to the existence of these mineral deposits. There are seventy million acres of land in this territory and it would not seem to be unwise to take some means to give these lands a value.

THE METRIC SYSTEM.

There are two things that trouble the minds of some people with unwavering pertinacity, and, though they may remain quiescent for a short period, refuse like obstinate ghosts to stay laid, phonetic spelling, to wit, and the Metric System. The former has just had one of its periodical reappearances, and thanks to President Roosevelt, is likely to be laughed out of court for some time, but the latter has been showing signs of life within the last year or so, and, it has been hinted, may become the subject of governmental action also. That is to say, that there are persons who are advocating the adoption of the Metric System as a compulsory, and not as an optional measure, and the abolition of the present standards of weights and measures used by the Anglo-Saxon kingdom.

The Metric System has been legalized in the United Kingdom, Canada, and the United States, for over a quarter of a century, and though anyone might make use of it that liked, the principle, that of decimals, has not been adopted, except in the case of the currency on this side of the water. Its advantages, therefore, may be regarded as more theoretical than practical, since with the exception of a few scientists, there has been no general disposition to have recourse to it, and even now there are those who have ceased to regard its introduction into medicine with favor. In France, which may be rightly called the home of the system, where it has been established by law ever since 1795, and where in 1837 stringent laws were enacted to compel the use of it under severe penalties, there has been such a widespread, though tacit resistance, that the government has been reluctantly compelled to recognize its existence, and to declare that henceforth it would not consider it worth while to enforce the laws against it, but would instead, appeal to the patriotism of the offenders. In other words, the industries and professions in France, which use the duodecimal in preference to the decimal system are so numerous that it would be dangerous to interfere with them forcibly. The following is the text of the letter:—

REPUBLIQUE FRANCAISE,
Paris, April 11th, 1906.
To the President of the Chamber of Commerce of—
It has been the duty of my department on several occasions to give instructions to the Weights and Measures Inspectors to obtain complete suppressions of the weights and measures forbidden by the law of July 4th, 1897, by the seizure of illegal standards.

The Inspector Department in spite of all its efforts, has not yet obtained the desired result. This appears to be mainly due to the persistence with which certain bodies of tradesmen continue to use prohibited standards and cause thereby the employment of illegal weights and measures. I have found, in fact, that in some industries, the advertisements, prospectuses, catalogues, etc., exchanged between manufacturers or sent to clients contain illegal denominations. Manufacturers will no doubt plead that they are under the obligation of continuing to designate their articles in inches or lines and that they dare not make alterations from the present state of affairs for fear of losing orders. It is true that, in certain cases, it is more a question of the names than of the actual measures for sale of merchandise. But the present result is troubling about no less by the vexatious customs which hinder the efforts made by my Department to obtain the suppression of all weights and measures other than those of the metric system, especially the inch and the line. I do not think it is needful for me to give a list of the industries and professions which employ the prohibited standards, they are still numerous, and most of them well known to the members of your Chamber. I no longer think that it is any use to enforce the strict application of Article 45 of the Order of April 17th, 1893, which orders that all contraventions relative to the illegal standards which are found in public circulars and announcements shall be reported by the Inspection Department to the Comptrollers of Registration. I perceive, in fact, that if this procedure were followed, a considerable number of prosecutions would have to be undertaken and cause trouble in commercial and industrial operations.

I have been led, under these circumstances, to consider whether it would not be possible to modify the present state of affairs by other means than force, and I wish to ask Chambers of Commerce to request their members to use their influence either with the works they patronize or with merchants themselves, to get them to give up practices which are contrary to law.

I am persuaded that they will not be indifferent to the appeal made to them by the government, on this occasion, but that they will give their help in causing the last vestiges of the standards used before the creation of the metric system to disappear. I shall be glad if you will acknowledge receipt of this letter, a copy of which I am sending to all the weights and measures inspectors, who, being daily in contact with merchants and manufacturers, will be able to furnish you with useful information with regard to industries and trades in your district in which the old standards are still used.

GASTON DOUMERGUE,
Ministre du Commerce, de l'Industrie et du Travail.

One of the arguments, and a very strong one, in favor of a change from the duodecimal to the decimal system of weights and measures, is the greater facilitation of commercial and scientific standards, but it might equally as well be used in a contrary direction. The great objection to any arbitrary change is the inevitable confusion and difficulty of calculation that would ensue, temporarily at least, and the letter of the French Minister of Commerce and Industries shows that, if any change is to be made, the abandonment of the Metric System would cause the least disturbance, and affect a comparatively small minority. The Halifax Herald, thus sums up the case:—

The Metric System is not a good system for practical affairs. It is very good for a few scientists, but it is not convenient for manufacturers, mechanics and people generally. The voice of scientists is, therefore, not to be taken, in deciding upon the adoption or rejection of this system. It need scarcely be added that even though the Metric System should be found fairly perfect for use in France (which is very far from the fact), there would still be overwhelming reasons why it should not be adopted in the British Empire, the United States, or Russia. But for the English speaking world to take up this proved unsatisfactory and impracticable system of France, would be nothing short of sheer madness.

PRESS OPINIONS.

AN AMATEUR MOVEMENT.—The Civil Service Amateur Athletic Association of Ottawa, though only a few months old, has succeeded in bringing a vexed question in athletics to that point in practice at which every one may see it. The association is avowedly amateur, its organizers, most influential members, the bulk of its membership, indeed are imbued with the amateur idea. In its brief experience the association has encountered the evil of semi-professionalism in its most plainly developed form. It has requested its members to show proof of their amateur standing, and in default of such proof, has returned the faces of the defaulting members. It is idle to deny that taint attaches to the amateur standing of most of the men playing lacrosse, football and hockey in Eastern Canada. Lacrosse has yielded the point, and has become frankly professional. To football and hockey the suspicion of double dealing remains attached. The discussion induced by the action of the Civil Service Association has run a wide range. On the one hand there is the opinion that professionals and amateurs should be unalterably separated. On the other is the proposition and probably under existing conditions in Canada, that amateurs and professionals should be allowed to compete together without the amateur being thereby disqualified.

But as a preliminary step the professional should acknowledge himself such. When playing with or against amateurs he should be distinguished as a professional. To professionalism in itself no discredit may attach, but under the present system, concealment of the truth, deliberate misrepresentation in some cases, makes the mischief which is abhorrent to a cleaner sporting spirit. If a man is paid for his play, the sport-loving public, who pay the shot, should know that he is paid. There would then be two classes of men playing the big game, those who are paid and those who are not. Under present conditions it seems impossible to keep them apart, but with a public differentiation of their status, misrepresentation would cease. In the meantime the Civil Service Amateur Athletic Association is to be congratulated on having taken the courageous stand it has in a very difficult matter.—Ottawa Journal.

THE ONTARIO BANK

Its Business Likely to Go to Bank of Montreal.

Toronto, October 12.—Prompt and confident action by the Bank of Montreal in taking over the affairs of the Ontario Bank is expected to remove all public anxiety arising from the Ontario Bank and guaranteeing all unfortunate position in which the Ontario Bank has been placed through the New York stock market operations of its general manager, Mr. C. McGill. The condition of the Ontario Bank has not been so widely known as to cause much uneasiness, and it was not until the stock was offered down so sharply on the local exchange to-day that public attention was drawn to it. But the directors have been investigating its affairs carefully for the past three weeks, and the offer of the Bank of Montreal is the result of the visit of two of the Ontario Bank's directors to Montreal yesterday. The public, however, has been so little disturbed that even to-day, while some deposits were withdrawn, there was no evidence of a run on the bank and the fact that its troubles are entirely due to individual faults of management and not to general financial conditions, is expected by bankers to relieve anxiety. The Bank of Montreal is understood to have offered to assume all liabilities and to contribute $150,000 for the good-will of the business. Any surplus assets are realized will be distributed to the shareholders. The management of the Bank of Montreal was well informed in a general way regarding the business of the Ontario Bank, for negotiations had been opened a week ago for the purchase of the smaller institution, and some examination of its business had been made. The negotiations did not culminate in anything definite, and it is understood negotiations were opened later with the Royal Bank for a similar purpose.

During the examination of the Ontario Bank's affairs by other banking officials irregularities, it is understood, were discovered, and the president of the Ontario Bank, Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, then in England, was cabled for. He returned less than a fortnight ago, and since that time the directors have been endeavoring to straighten out affairs in the best way for shareholders and depositors. Members of the Board went to Montreal on Wednesday night to interview Mr. Clouston. In local brokerage circles, the stock market activity of the Ontario's manager has been widely known for some time, and surprise has been expressed at the apparent ignorance of the fact by the directors. There was not outside knowledge, however, of the extent to which he had used the bank's funds, and, in fact, it is doubtful if anything of this is yet definitely known by anyone other than Mr. McGill himself. In reliable banking circles to-day, however, the expectation is expressed that all of the bank's reserve of $700,000 may be gone. The extent to which the directors have been deceived may be gathered from the fact that in May last the bank's rate of dividend was increased to 7 per cent. from the 5 per cent. rate, which had been paid since 1902, when it was raised from 5 per cent.

This is not the first trouble of the Ontario Bank. About ten years ago it suffered to such an extent that the capital had to be written down from one and a half to one million. It was later increased to $1,500,000.

Mr. McGill was formerly manager of the Peterboro branch, and came here as successor to General Manager Holland, under whom the former trouble occurred. The nature of Mr. McGill's speculations is not announced, but Wall Street was the place where the money went, and he is credited with being a most indiscriminate dealer in securities on margin there. So far no other officials of the bank have been implicated. A statement from President Cockburn is expected late to-night.

BANKERS HELD MEETING.

Toronto, Oct. 13—A meeting of the representatives of the Toronto banks was held last evening to consider what action should be taken in regard to the Ontario Bank. Arrangements are in progress and will be consummated in the morning on the arrival of the representatives of the Bank of Montreal for securing the payment of all liabilities. The meeting was not concluded till 2 a.m.

THOUSAND POUND SPOOK.

London, Oct. 12.—What possibility may come to be known as the £1,000 spook was materialized in St. George's Hall to-day by J. N. Maskelyne, whom London has known and highly respected for forty years as a conjurer and exposé of Spiritualistic frauds. Maskelyne's performance was in response to a challenge issued last April by Archdeacon Colley, who offered to pay £1,000 if Maskelyne would produce by trickery, any one of several things he and the late Dr. Monck had witnessed in a Spiritualistic seance twenty-nine years ago. Archdeacon Colley was perfectly satisfied that the things he and Dr. Monck saw were the work of spirits, and he didn't consider he was in any danger of losing his £1,000 when he issued his challenge. Maskelyne selected one of the things described by the Archdeacon and undertook to fulfill all the conditions in respect to it set forth in the challenge. He appeared on the stage in the role of Dr. Monck, and his colleague impersonated Archdeacon Colley. They were dressed in clerical garb and talked in low, solemn tones, while the orchestra played slow music. Two chairs were placed in the centre and the rear of the stage, and the back of the platform was covered with dark cloth. Three electric bulbs in the wings above the chairs provided the necessary light. The Archdeacon professed to be haunted by an evil spirit. Monck spoke some reassuring words, and then sitting in the chair went off into a trance. The Archdeacon occupying the other chair. Presently a little smoke appeared to be issuing from Dr. Monck's side, and gradually it increased in volume. A moment later the smoke died away, and to the left of Dr. Monck a light was seen. The light slowly changed into the head and shoulders of a woman, then the bust was outlined and very soon the complete form was disclosed, and finally, while the Archdeacon gazed in amazement, the spirit

"The Sign of the Slate"

on a SLATER SHOE means just what the signatures do on a Bank note. The paper may be the right kind—the engraving may be faultless—but unless the names of the proper officials are signed in their proper places—the note has no legal value. The signatures make the Bank responsible for the payment. "The Sign of the Slate," either stamped on the sole or sewn on the lining of a shoe, makes it a SLATER SHOE—proves that it was made in the Slater factory by the famous Goodyear welt process—makes the Slater Shoe Company responsible for its wear, service and comfort. "The Sign of the Slate" means that the shoe has been examined—that factory experts could not find a flaw in it—that they deemed it worthy to uphold the high standard set by SLATER Shoes.

"The Sign of the Slate" is just as important to shoe buyers, as the signatures are to the holder of a Bank Note.

Palermo, Oct. 12.—The earthquake shocks in Sicily continue and are causing serious damage to dwellings and churches, some of which have fallen. Caccamo sustained particularly heavy damages and the condition of the people of that town, Termini and Trabia is extremely distressing. They have been camped in the open air for weeks past. In the last five days more than 100 shocks have been felt at Trabia.

THOUGHTS ON THE LAST DAY OF SUMMER.

It is the day of summer. The time of her exit is at hand. But scarcely has the rosy-cheeked and cherry-lipped queen resigned her drooping sceptre, and breathed out her last warm breath, ere that sceptre has been fully possessed and her place duly occupied by sober visaged autumn. With grave and measured tread he ascends the throne of his luxurious predecessor, yet so noiseless his step, we scarcely realize his approach, and at first we are not conscious of a new sovereign's sway in the kingdom of the seasons. Not long, however, shall we be in doubt, for soon will his martial band, the winds, the storms and the tempests, strike the loud march that celebrates his reign; and his faithful standard-bearer, the "grim Jotun" of frost and snow, will have hung his monarch's flag in every tree, and summoned the mighty ranks of nature to don that gay uniform of many colors, which best illustrates true allegiance to the royal power. The clouds, too, will have caught the shadow from his brow, and each of their leaden-hued plates will image to our eyes the dark miniature, or full-length forbidding portrait. In fact, he will appropriate to himself the whole broad canopy above as one huge picture gallery, in which he will everywhere hang against its soft azure his own sombre etchings of every conceivable size, thus completely shutting back the welcome blue sky from our earnest, passionate gaze. If by chance one little speck of the clear, heavenly cerulean should peep out between the gloomy figures, it will at once be frightened back again to its far retreat, by just one glance at his closely knit brow. The bright, laughing sun-beams, terrified by his lowering visage, will betake themselves to their safe hiding-place, nor venture forth at all to encounter his fits of deepest sullenness; while whole troops of animated little beings that basked in their cheering presence, flitted gaily about at summer's court, living, joying her smiles, will be frowned out of existence by the austere ruler. Countless myriads of sweet musicians, who untiringly tuned their minstrels for their summer queen, who in merry hands extorted her every step through her kingdom, and in their gladness struck the clear, soul-stirring notes of harmonious strains, or from her spacious orchestra pealed out the thrilling chorus song of joy, and who nightly sang for her a sweet serenade, have by one touch of autumn's withering wand been eternally silenced. At a peculiar move of his tyrannical sceptre, the mighty trees, in their haste to do obeisance, shall rudely return to the parent earth those withered and capless insignias of a once congenial season, and be left to stand up mere vegetable skeletons, dismantled of their grace of colour and contour. The last acts of his relentless reign shall be to benumb the skipping rills, stiffen the leaping streams, hang icicles in place of flowers, sprinkle thickly and all nature's locks, that silvery gray which betokens old age, rain upon her brow pelting hailstones instead of the refreshing dew, and seal closely up all her fountains of life and beauty.

Such is the prospect we have in view; such will be the deed, such the reign of the new king. Is it a wonder that we shrink from autumn's sway; that we cling closer than ever to our loved maiden queen—the bright, warm-hearted summer and that in her expiring hour she seems more dear than ever before. Her rich verdure, balmy air, beautiful foliage and flowers, sunny skies, her scenes of joy and gladness, are treasures we cannot resign without, at least, a sigh.

A better acquaintance now with the new sovereign, a careful and impartial study of his real politics, and what the result? Why, autumn, indeed, ruleth in kindness and love; he scanneth every department of nature, and carefully prepareth each to sustain winter's rude shocks; he sealeth up her fountains of life, that life may be safely preserved in those fountains for another year. His ample hands, too, are full of blessings; the rich harvest season just past, the full storehouse and crowded garner, the abundant fruits and choice nuts, the long evenings with their happy social gatherings, confirm the assertion. Let us learn not to judge hastily, or from mere externals; blessings are often found where least expected. Yes, through all our life, the darkest clouds often break upon us in the most fertilizing showers; the heaviest trials we endure, and the most adverse scenes, which weigh us to the very earth, often prove to our spirits their choicest blessings. Let us learn to trust the wisdom of Providence in all its phases. Let us find smiles in frowns, treasures in losses, serenity in storms, sunshine in darkness, blessings in afflictions, and ever feel that true goodness and perfect love sway the sceptre of the universe.

A GREAT WATER RECORD.

Scottish Swimming Champion Now on Toronto Force.

There is a young, sandy-complexioned policeman on a downtown beat who carries himself modestly and who doesn't look the celebrity that he is, says the Toronto Sunday World. Before P. C. Mowat left Edinburgh, Scotland, a year or more ago, he was known throughout Scotland and in a larger portion of the British Isles generally as the national swimming champion. Twenty-six years of age, of good height, and medium but strong build, he is a splendid type of police officer and a credit to the Edinburgh force, which not only took him in as a raw youth of 21 and developed him into a guardian of the peace, but also, through its system of training, made him a prize swimmer. When Mowat joined the police he could not swim a stroke. The force has in connection with it a swimming club, with a big tank and an instructor who knows his business. The first time Mowat entered the bath the instructor was disgusted with his splashing. When he left for Canada he almost cried at losing one of his champion pupils.

In May, 1903, he won a bronze medal together with the certificate of the Life Saving Society. Then he won the Scottish championship at Edinburgh, and with it a gold medal. In November of 1904 he was one of the police team of four men who won the national championship open to Great Britain, in which teams from all parts of the Isles competed. A shield and medals were the trophies for this triumph. He has also won other prizes and rewards for his prowess in the water, and at the opening of the Carnegie baths at Dunfermline was chosen to give an exhibition for which he received a silver medal.

The national championships, it should be explained, are not alone for swift, scientific swimming, but demand a course of study and training that is most exacting. A thorough knowledge of the recognized methods of rescuing and handling a drowning man are required, and then, when the subject is landed, the four best methods of resuscitation must be exhibited. In team-work, machine-like application is necessary, and the movements are timed and executed to the fraction of a second almost. Besides, each man must be prepared to undergo an oral examination on the science of swimming and life-saving that requires an extensive knowledge of anatomy and hygiene.

When the team won the national championship, the contestants were in the water morning, noon and night, and the various competitions required, in all, the covering of 1,090 yards distance (in a tank) at racing speed, clad in jersey, trousers and shoes, the carrying of a man half the distance and then the process of resuscitation. Only a long, arduous course of training brought the perfection which resulted in victory.

P. C. Mowat left Scotland in the spring of 1905 to try his fortunes in Canada. Three days after he arrived in Toronto he was taken on the force here. As yet he has had no opportunity to display or utilize his natorial accomplishments, but if the police department ever place a patrol boat on the bay, he may get an opportunity to put to practical purpose his powers as a life-saver.

Mr. Mowat's home is in Fenwick, Scotland, and when Sir Oliver Mowat and his grandson and daughter visited the old castle there, six years ago, he was the guest of P. C. Mowat and his father.

SALUTING AT SUNSET.

While it has always been the custom, says The Naval and Military Record, in the British Navy to pay due respect to national colors when hoisted in the morning, no ceremony is observed when the colors are hauled down at sunset. To remedy this omission, Rear-Admiral H.S.H. Prince Louise of Battenberg has issued a memorandum, directing that at the hauling down of the colors at sunset all officers and men who are on the upper deck will face aft and salute the colors, the buglers sounding the sunset call.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

WITH BROKEN LEG W.C.T.U. DELEGATES
Quebec Man Found Lying Alongside Railway Track at Charlesbourg.
Large Party En Route to Boston were in Town Saturday.

With a broken leg and a face bearing every evidence of having received a severe pummelling, Elzeur Liotte, a resident of this city, was discovered at an early hour yesterday morning lying alongside the track of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway at the foot of Charlesbourg Hill. The discovery was made by some workmen of the Lake St. John Railway, who brought the injured man to town on a hand car, the ambulance later conveying him to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he now lies.
According to the story told by the unfortunate man, he was not upon the unfortunate assailants during the previous night and left where he was found yesterday morning, but nothing so far has been learned as to the reasons for the assault or as to whom the assailants were. The affair appears to be shrouded in mystery. The man, however, had evidently been severely handled, and in addition to the broken leg and other injuries he has a severe gash over one of his eyes.
The injured man is a laborer and resided at 37 O'Connell street.

SUDDEN DEATH.
A farmer named Louis Lachance, of St. Jean, Island of Orleans, was found dead in his bed on Saturday last. The deceased was 76 years old. After obtaining information, Dr. Jolicoeur decided not to hold an inquest.

THE LATE HENRY WAGNER.
The funeral of Mr. Henry Wagner, who was accidentally killed in the woods in Ontario, took place on Saturday. After the service in the Basilica, the remains were conveyed to Belmont Cemetery, where the interment took place.

HER HUSBAND ALIVE.
The young woman who claimed that the body of the man found drowned in the Louise Basin last August was that of her husband who disappeared from Levis, where they were on their honeymoon, a few days after their marriage at Cap Rouge, has heard from her husband, he having written to her from Gaspé. It will be remembered the woman was strongly of the opinion that the drowned body was that of her husband, but could not prove it.

Call into Piper's and see his 25 cent Briar Pipes.
CORONER'S INQUESTS.
Coroner Jolicoeur was notified yesterday that a resident of St. Basile was killed on Saturday last at that place by the falling of rock. He will hold an inquest this morning. A resident of l'Anceienne Lorette named Robitaille was found unconscious in the road not far from his residence on Saturday last and died on being brought back home. Dr. Jolicoeur will hold an inquest this morning. This afternoon Coroner Jolicoeur will hold an inquest at Levis on the remains of Octave Veilleux, railway fireman, who died from injuries received in a railway collision at St. David on Saturday morning last.

FIREMEN'S DEMONSTRATION.
The firemen and stokers of the steamer Empress of Britain held quite an impromptu demonstration yesterday evening. To the strains of an impromptu band organized from among their numbers they held a procession over the docks, and appeared to enjoy themselves to the limit. Interesting and eloquent addresses were delivered by Michael Kelly and John Hughes, the subjects touched upon by them such interesting topics as education of compensation for firemen, the dockers' bill, free trade, etc. The enthusiasm of the firemen found vent in the singing of "God Save Ireland" and other patriotic effusions at intervals. The demonstration took its rise over the supposed (very much supposed) election of Mr. Kelly to the British House of Commons.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.
A fatal railway collision occurred shortly after one o'clock on Saturday morning last on the I.C.R. at Hadlow near the Prince's Pier, and as a result, fireman Octave Veilleux is dead while a number of passengers were injured. The collision happened between a G.T.R. locomotive and a sub-train which carried a number of workmen. As the latter was slowing down to allow fireman Veilleux down near his residence, it was struck by the G.T.R. locomotive. The deceased saw the engine coming and jumped from his locomotive and was run over by the cars. When picked up he was still alive but died soon afterwards in the Hotel Dieu Hospital. Deceased was 40 years of age and leaves a widow to mourn his loss. He was a brother of Mr. Charles Veilleux, of Levis.

Saturday morning a party of eighteen arrived by boat from Montreal intending to return there by boat Monday evening. In the meantime they are registered at the St. Louis Hotel, and their little white bow badges may be seen in the streets. Without exceptions these visitors are from Great Britain. They are delegates to the convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union, which opens in Boston on October 17th, and continues till the 21st. The ladies landed in Philadelphia on September 19, and have since been visiting various American and Canadian cities. They are—Mrs. Randolph Clarkston, Birmingham, national secretary; Baroness von Hausen, Dresden, Germany, president of the Dresden branch of the Women's Total Abstinence Union; Miss Ada Henry, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia state secretary for New South Wales; Miss Agnes M. Grandison and Mrs. Elizabeth McLean, Stirling, Scotland; Miss Nellie Atkinson and Miss Carrie Atkinson, Leeds; Miss Wallace, Glasgow, organizing secretary for Glasgow; Miss Hardwick-Smith, Nottingham; Mrs. E. Daymond and Miss Dora Daymond, London; Miss Wimbledy, Mrs. Collins, Sussex, England; M. E. Griffin, Ipswich; Mrs. Freeman, Leeds; Miss Coates, Paisley, and of the British Association. They are accompanied by Mr. Freeman and Mr. J. Harold Clay, nephew of Miss Slack.

During the day the leading temperance workers paid their respects and acted as guides to the various points of historic interest. In the afternoon the president of Quebec W.C.T.U. entertained the whole party at tea and the same evening Mrs. Jack Thomson gave a large "At Home" to which all members of the W.C.T.U. and Y.W.C.T.U. were invited, as well as the president of the Y.M.C.A. and a few other guests. The charming hospitality of Mrs. Thomson, honorary president of the Y's, was appreciated by all her guests. Had longer notice of the arrival of the delegates been obtained even Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomson's hospitable walls would scarcely have contained the number of guests. Many had, of course, previous engagements, but nevertheless about seventy-five assembled to share a delightful and improving evening, the result of which will doubtless be an accession to the membership of the temperance workers. The Right Honorable Earl of Carlisle and his daughter, Lady Dorothy Howard, honored both the tea at Darmoc, and "At Home" at Mrs. Thomson's with their presence, and by their extreme affability, won everyone's heart. Lady Dorothy, who is quite young, comes nevertheless to represent at the great convention in Boston, her mother, Lady Carlisle, who is unable, on account of her health, to cross the ocean.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.
"The Proof of the Soul," by Dr. Chalmers Prentice, at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow, (Tuesday) night, is not a new religion or in any way sectarian. It is simply a proof of God, the soul and creation from science. It supports the Bible and finds a weakness in science. It interests and strengthens believers and convinces non-believers in God. It is not profound; it is better than that, it is so simple a child can understand. It is not theoretical or symbolical, each step is based on solid facts.

A VERSATILE ARTIST IN A NEW ROLE.
The play of the year will be here within a few days now. Creston Clarke will present "The Ragged Messenger" at the Auditorium on Thursday, October 18th. This new modern emotional drama has set the entire theatrical world agog. There are some who contend that it would be proclaimed a great play no matter by whom it was interpreted. Everybody who has seen Creston Clarke's artistic impersonation of the leading role of John Morton, the clergyman, acknowledges that no other actor could get so much out of it. All the other roles in the play have been filled with the same nicety. It is easily the most successful play of the season. When John Morton is bequeathed an immense fortune, with which he plans to foster his pet schemes of charity, his cup of happiness seems overflowing. Schools, sanitariums, houses of refuge for his beloved poor of the slums—all are within his powers of accomplishment, until one day he learns how his dissolute cousin, who accumulated the millions to which he has fallen heir, had betrayed and afterward turned penniless into the streets a poor, young woman.

C.P.R. GUESTS HAD A DELIGHTFUL TRIP
Party of Customs and Immigration Officials AND MEMBERS OF PRESS
Thoroughly Enjoyed the Hospitality Extended to Them by the Company.

The unflinching courtesy and continued anticipation relative to the comforts of their guests, by the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., on the occasion of their kind invitation to those officials conjoined with the Customs, Immigration and other departments co-operating with the company's steamship service in this port, was the general theme by those gentlemen who availed themselves of the most enjoyable outing on Friday and Saturday last. Certainly nothing was left undone to make the trip one that will be ever remembered as full of reminiscences of a most pleasant and enjoyable nature. A special car was placed at the disposition of the guests and on arrival in Montreal were met by Mr. C. E. E. Usher, General Passenger Agent, and Mr. G. M. J. Brown, head of the steamship department. The dinner at the Place Viger hotel was presided over by these two gentlemen with their usual characteristic faculty of making every one feel quite "at home."

After the guests had enjoyed the performance at the Academy or Nouveaux all were comfortably housed on the company's palatial steamer the Lake Manitoba, which left Montreal at 6 a.m., arriving in Quebec about 5.30 p.m. The delightful trip, with such charming weather that was enjoyed on Saturday last, and with such excellent company that had been gathered together, combined to make this day a memorable one. It was quite an experience, and a delightful one at that, to most of the guests, who took advantage of the following hearty testimonials in expressing their high appreciation of the kindness of the C.P.R. officials on this occasion:
"At a reunion of the invited officials of the Immigration and Customs Departments of the port of Quebec, of members of the Quebec press newspaper correspondents and other guests of the C.P.R. on the excursion of the 12th and 13th instants to Montreal, held on board the ss. Lake Manitoba, in the harbor of Quebec, on this 13th day of October, 1906, under the presidency of Dr. Howe, it was moved by Messrs. Chambers, Capt. Stein, Jean Dumont, seconded by Messrs. A. Larue, Dr. Jolicoeur, Captain Trudel, and unanimously resolved:
"That the sincere thanks of this entire party are due and are hereby tendered to the President and Directors of the C.P.R., to C. E. E. Usher, Esq., General Passenger Agent of the C.P.R., to Mr. M. L. Brown, Esq., General Passenger Agent of the C.P.R. Atlantic line, and his chief assistant, Mr. Suckling, to Captain Evans, of the ss. Lake Manitoba, to Jules Hone, Esq., City and District Passenger and Freight Agent of the C.P.R. at Quebec, and his chief assistant, Mr. Geo. Combe, to Mr. Greaves, Esq., Manager of the Place Viger Hotel, and to all the various officials of the railway, hotel and steamship service who have paid such courteous and unremitting attention to the comfort of the guests for the thoroughly enjoyable outing afforded them during the present excursion, the pleasures of which will long remain engraved upon their memories.
Moved by D. Watson, Captain LeBel, Dr. Potvin, seconded by Mr. Belanger, of Le Soleil, Mr. Prince and Mr. Byrnes:
"That it has afforded the excursionists the utmost satisfaction to observe on every hand so many evidences of the high degree of comfort maintained for the travelling public upon the different transportation and hotel services of the C.P.R., as well as of the unflinching courtesy of all grades in every branch of the company's service.
Moved by Dr. Howe, A. Cinq-Mars, seconded by Harbor Master Sullivan and J. Arthur Paquet, Accountant Department of Agriculture:
"That Mr. Jules Hone, the esteemed friend, philosopher and guide of the party be respectfully requested to extend the thanks of the party to such of the interested officials of the company as are absent from the present gathering.
After the resolutions had been adopted, a number of complimentary addresses were made, among the gentlemen who spoke being Messrs. D. Watson, E. T. D. Chambers and J. E. Prince, as well as the chairman, Dr. J. C. Howe, all expressing their high appreciation of the kindness extended to them by the C.P.R. Company.
Of course the principal head of credit for the organization and successful carrying out of the trip, must be attributed to the company's representative here, Mr. Jules Hone, Jr., who was most ably assisted by Mr. Geo. B. Combe, of the Steamship Department in this city. Both these gentlemen were most assiduous in their efforts to do all in their power for the comfort of their guests, who so thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated in no small measure their continued courtesies.
Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache, Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

LIMOILLOU LOTS

Highly important facts to those who have bought and those who think of buying

BUILDING SITES

IN

NEW QUEBEC

AT PRESENT LOW PRICES

Why are they sold so cheap now?

Why such liberal terms?

Why do proprietors sell several hundred lots, choice ones too, now if they are going to be so valuable as they claim?

It is easy to answer these or any other sensible enquiries when they concern this or any other good property that is opened up to fill a constantly increasing demand, to satisfy an actual want—Quebec cannot stand still any longer, healthy, natural extension, expansion and substantial growth is a fact. The lots on the subdivided Anderson estate property, the Modern New Ward of New Quebec, are sold cheap now, just to give the right kind of people every possible chance to "take hold" and build up the place, the terms are so liberal that no excuse can be urged by any home-seeker or builder to own his share, no matter how small his means are at the present. We want your energy, brains, sympathy and work, more than your money now. Every buyer becomes a co-worker with us. The harder we work the sooner we will enjoy the benefit of advanced prices. This is the rule in all legitimate land subdivisions. If we sell a third or even a larger number of our lots, at less than cost, by our work and yours, the remainder will soon be more than double in value. In many cases five times the present prices will be the rule when we raise our prices, which we will do soon, this season. Every lot owner will benefit richly as well as ourselves. We are counselled by our own interests to increase values rapidly and profitably. Every dollar of profit for us means two or three dollars to those who buy from us now.

Don't hesitate, don't delay, examine carefully, choose wisely, while there is choice to be had, and go ahead, keep on the top wave of prosperity. Land fortunes are real fortunes. This opportunity is just the same as others that have constantly been offered in so many cities. Those who bought in the first days when large estates were opened up made money beyond all expectations. Some made fortunes, nobody lost, as there is no going back in values.

When the "Vau" and Bennett Estates, (farms) in Maisonneuve (Montreal East) were opened up at $250 a lot and upwards, rapidly ran up to $600 and $750. The lots in Notre Dame St., East and St. Catherine St., East extensions, began at about $500 and in extraordinary short time sold "like hot cakes" $1800 to $2500!! We have the record. Large Factories, Churches, Schools, Blocks of Houses and Stores stand now, where they were cutting hay two or three years ago!!

Yet, with all this, building houses are scarce and people who have recently built and those who are now building but who have to pay five times the price for land to early buyers who could see ahead, are getting good results and therefore big interest for their money. The same golden opportunities are yours now in New Quebec. Equal to anything ever offered anywhere else in the whole Dominion.

Our Prices

Lots, $400 Up.; Terms, $10 to $20 Cash, and 75 Cents to $1.25 Per Week or Monthly.

AMERICANS ARE IT MONTREAL WON OUT

Won World's Championship Yesterday by Defeating the Nationals.

Chicago, Oct. 13—Out of a bedlam of errors, long hits, vanquished pitchers, and the vociferations of a half-frenzied mob of spectators, the Chicago American League emerged victorious over the Nationals to-day by 8 to 6.

The Americans won in spite of five errors, which were accountable for nearly all the runs made by their opponents. The Nationals lost because they could not hit Walsh's "spit ball" delivery. The Americans fielded like amateurs, and the Nationals, fielding perfectly, batted poorly. Time after time, when a hit meant runs, batters failed to live up to their reputations.

The day was warm. Twenty-five thousand persons saw the game. At 1.45 all gates were ordered closed. It is estimated that there were 5,000 people on the outside. Some of those were offering $5, $10 and even $20 for admission. President Murphy said there were at least 25,000 people on the grounds. The fence in front of the left field bleachers was broken down, and the crowd rushed out into the field. Police were forced to use their clubs to clear the crowd and force them beyond the foul line.

Just as the American League team went on the field, two live cow bears were led from the clubhouse across the diamond to the bench of the National team, who are known locally as the Cubs. The National Club's partisans went wild with delight.

Chicago, Oct. 14—The Chicago Club of the American Baseball League became champions of the world by winning to-day's game 8 to 3 against the local club of the National League. The game was the 6th of the series and fourth victory for the Americans. Thousands rushed from the bleachers and circus seats to the grounds while those in the stands stood up and watched a great spectacle. The racket from noise making devices which had been rendering the air all during the game was redoubled. It was pandemonium let loose. The players tried to cling together for mutual protection, but it was useless. A few moments sufficed to make each one the center of a densely packed, half crazed throng out of which he had to fight his way.

That the victory was fairly earned is shown not merely by the fact that the Americans all told made 22 runs compared with 18 by the Nationals. They made 39 base hits as against 37 by the Nationals. The Nationals made but 5 errors, compared with 14 by the Americans. The latter also made the greater number of extra base hits, but the ground rules made nearly all of them good for only two bases. Among the expert critics of baseball it is generally admitted that to the American pitchers most of the credit is due, this despite the fact that they have but 25 strike outs to their credit against 33 by the National pitchers. They gave 19 bases on balls as against 18 by the Nationals. Notwithstanding this, the American pitchers were effective when hits meant runs. On the other hand the Americans batted more strongly than their opponents, who during the season had done the heaviest batting in the National League. In stalling bases the Nationals had a shade over the Americans, Kling and Sullivan, who caught during the entire series, were both formidable, but of the total 13 bases stolen, the Nationals got 8.

Over 19,000 paid admissions had been registered at the gate at noon to-day, the balmy weather and the holiday bringing them out early. The grounds being full to bursting, the gates were closed and play was begun at 2.15 o'clock. Completely encircling the ground was a closely packed crowd of enthusiasts armed with flags and noise making instruments. A brass band occupied one of the boxes, but could scarcely make itself heard above the continuous din.

A total of 11 hits, two of them doubles, tells the story of how to-day's game was won. Capt. Chance elected to place Mordcaid Brown in the box although Brown had pitched a hard game on Friday. The Americans connected with his weakened delivery for eight safe hits in one and two-thirds innings and he retired. Overall was then called upon and held the Americans to six hits and one run the remainder of the game. His support was excellent. Time and again Tinker and Evers' blocking hits prevented runs, as did Hoffman in center by spectacular running catches. Shreck also made a great backward running catch, which kept the score down. When the Americans assumed a lead of 6 runs, the National players were a grudgingly determined lot, but try as they would they could not solve the puzzling delivery of Dr. White.

QUEBEC CITY RIFLE ASSOCIATION The annual matches take place next Thursday (Thanksgiving Day) and from present appearances promise to be a decided success. Capt. Davidson, with the assistance of the executive, are leaving no stone unturned to accomplish this end and it is to be hoped that all our leading commercial institutions as well as leading citizens will give their generous support to this worthy organization which not only is bringing credit to our city but is also helping to educate our citizens in that most important part of our country's defence, rifle shooting.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

There was a big turnout of the Junior Rugby team on the Q.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon and a most encouraging start was made. There is every prospect of a very strong junior line-up and no one who wishes to catch a place should miss any of the practices.

DEFEATED ROUGH RIDERS—ST. PATS AND WESTMOUNTS TIE —Other Games.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—The Montreal Football Club surprised the Ottawas and their friends when they defeated the Rough Riders in a great football battle by a score of 12 to 8.

The win was not of the fluke variety, as the visitors had the better of the locals throughout the whole game and conclusively demonstrated their superiority in every department. About 2,500 spectators witnessed the struggle, and few had any idea but that the game would result in an Ottawa win. Captain Craig, in whose charge the back division of the visitors was placed, used splendid judgment from the first foot of the whistle, and when Montreal lost the toss and started the first quarter against the strong wind and blinding sun he refused to make the game close, preferring to give the last Montreal backs a chance to run or kick.

In the final stages of the game Ottawa made a big effort to hold Montreal, but the Riders' with the exception of Williams, were useless and the red and black team began to play the champions off their feet. The Montreal scrimmage pushed the big Ottawa trio, made up of the veterans, Kennedy, Buckham and Sheriff, all over the field, while the local wings were powerless to stop the Montreal line. The latter deserved to win, and would have defeated the Ottawas on form in any event.

Montreal, Oct. 13—Westmount made a fine showing Saturday against St. Patrick, and had played them virtually to a standstill, with the score standing 12 to 12 when darkness intervened. The weather was fine and everything promised a most interesting match, but unfortunately, the St. Patrick's team was delayed by a railway accident near Castlemain. They did not arrive till four o'clock, and wily Alf Smith, when he saw that his team was weakening, delayed matters sufficiently by complaining of the crowd on the side lines, which really did not do any harm to prevent any more scoring being done against St. Patrick because it was getting so dark that the referee could not see the ball. When the match was stopped, Westmount had the best of it. And they were supposed to be a crippled team for Hayden, their full back; Murray, the fine full from the Old Country, and Crankshaw were all unable to play on account of injuries received last Saturday.

Ottawa, Oct. 13—The Intercollegiate Rugby season opened on "Varsity" night in a match replete with brilliant play on the part of the rival local divisions. Ottawa College defeated Queen's 19 to 15. It was an ideal autumn afternoon and the prospect of a fast exhibition of Rugby for which the student union is noted, attracted a crowd of about 2,500 enthusiasts, including a couple of hundred who came with the visiting team.

On the whole College deserved the victory, but a little carelessness in the dying moments of the match, when they had a strong lead, with the score close, cost them dearly. This came near costing Queen's a try, and they looked very dangerous within striking distance of winning which would have been the case had they again got over College's goal line. But the match ended without further scoring, though it was an anxious few minutes for the garnet and grey.

Montreal, Oct. 13—The McGill second Rugby team defeated Bishop's College team by an overwhelming score on the local campus this morning, making a record by stand for some time to come. Thirty-two points to two was the half time score, and the final, sixty-two to two. It was the opening game of "A" section of the Intermediate series of the Intercollegiate League.

On the National grounds on Saturday, National played off their fixture with Quebec, the visitors being severely trounced, and the final whistle blew over a score of 30 to nil in favor of the home team. The superior weight of the Nationals was told, and the Quebec wings could not hold the line of their opponents.

Montreal intermediates were very evenly matched on Saturday when they played Westmount intermediates. Runs were not frequent, scrimmages taking up the major part of the game. Montreal in the first quarter showed slightly stronger than Westmount, scoring as they did five points, but the rest of the game passed off without an addition to this. On the other hand Westmount scored but one in the first quarter, adding three more in the last three quarters.

Montreal Juniors were as successful in their match with Westmount Juniors as the intermediates, winning by a score of eight to five.

A BASEBALL TRAGEDY.

Lured by the charm of a bright and cheerful day, a large crowd of fans assembled under the Q.A.A. grounds yesterday afternoon to witness what had been extensively advertised as a baseball game. But they were rudely undeceived, and speedily discovered that it was a tragedy, nay a cold-blooded massacre, that was taking place under the blinding rays of the benignant sun. The champion Levisiens did not do a thing to the alleged All Quebec team but pounded the life out of them, and they expired, if not gracefully, at least expeditiously. They did not appear to be able to hit the proverbial balloon, while the exhibition of fielding given was "sum-fun fierce." When the hostilities were suspended, it was found that the boys from across the river had accumulated 13 runs, while the locals were still searching for the home plate. The details of the sad happening follows:—

FINAL SHOOT FOR TROPHY.

The deciding shoot for possession of C.M.R.L. trophy took place last Saturday. The conditions for shooting were ideal save for the fact that the wind was at 600 yards. These finished about 5.30 and at this late season the handicap can be readily imagined. Several of the competitors would undoubtedly have finished with 90 or over had it not been for darkness. Lack of markers was cause for this, one of the Government ones being absent. The excuse given was that "he was doing duty at one of the forts." Rifle shooting is of too much importance and is treated like a religion. It is hoped that the responsible authorities will not see that these qualified men are not taken away to other tasks that could be easily attended to by others, as it must be remembered that every man cannot mark in butts, it needing considerable experience.

Mr. A. Young, who had a lead of 11 points a week ago, maintained the same, finishing up with an average of 93. He thus secures permanent possession of the silver trophy won by the Association's team in the C.M.R.L. series. Before leaving for home, Mr. R. J. Davidson, the President and Captain of the Association, in a short and appropriate speech presented the prize to the fortunate winner, who also responded in a few fitting remarks. The latter's health was then drunk, the determination of all present being to endeavor to land a still higher place in the C.M.R.L.

The following are the leading scores made last Saturday:—

LOOKS LIKE CAPS

Defeated Tecumsehs 4 to 1 in Ottawa on Saturday.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13.—When the Capitals at Rosedale succeeded in defeating the Tecumsehs by a score of 4 to 1 they did two things. They not only placed their claim to the Minto Cup practically beyond dispute, but they also placed the Indians about where they belong. By a lucky escape of events, the Tecumsehs emerged victorious from the semifinal and their supporters were inclined to believe that they would lead the Caps here by four or five goals. In fact they all thought it was easy money. As it turns out, the Tecumsehs will have to wage the uphill fight in Ottawa next Saturday, and it would be a very bold supporter of the local organization that would be disposed now to wager anything that they will be able to deplete the lead already obtained by the Senators, let alone secure a majority of the goals on the round. But let no one suppose that the game here was one-sided one. The score was one-sided, the battle waged with a fair degree of success on either side. Those who knew the ear-marks of good lacrosse might have been prone to admit a slight degree of superiority on the part of the Capitals, but this was not sufficiently pronounced to take the interest out of the encounter. The Tecumsehs defence was certainly holding the Capital home safe, just as the Capital defence was, on the other hand, able to nullify all the efforts of the Tecumseh home. It was a battle between the opposing defences, with the field and the home players dancing attendance. Even at this, however, the Capitals' defence was not much harder, if not much closer, than that of the Tecumsehs, while in initiative and speed they had much the advantage. The Tecumsehs all season have been a one-man team. When Charlie Querric has not been feeling well, the Tecumsehs have not been able to do much. Containing in their line up a number of men of merit, these could never get together when their captain was not playing up to form. That proved the case Saturday afternoon. So long as Querric was on the field the Indians kept on the move, and made it exceedingly uncomfortable for the Caps at many junctures. But after Querric wrenched his leg toward the last of the second quarter the Tecumsehs did not, as usual, play the same aggressive game. There are some who say that the Capitals handed it out a little in the early quarter just to indicate what might happen if they really got going in earnest, but the probabilities are that the Tecumsehs were seized of the desirability of playing a clean game if they expected to make any kind of a showing long before they went on the field. The net result in any event was that the game was comparatively clean. There was only one really dirty thing, and that was when Felker struck Pringle deliberately across the head twice in succession. For this he got ten minutes. It is only fair to Felker, however, to say that just before this he had been rather roughly handled by the Caps and was possibly not in the best of temper. When the third quarter was finished the Tecumsehs had shot the bolt. Eddie Murphy was also hurt in the second half and had to retire. While Messrs. Carling and Pettigrew possibly erred on the side of giving the home team the better of close decisions, their work on the whole was eminently satisfactory.

About 5,000 were in attendance. The weather was ideal, warm and sunshiny. The score was as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: Quarter, Score. Capitals, Powers, 16.00, Tecumsehs, Whitehead, 17.45, etc.

The teams lined up as follows:— Capitals (4) Goal, Hutton; Point, Brennan; Cover-Point, Ralph; Defence, Pringle; Pickering, Shea; Rowntree, Batterworth; Centre, Ashfield; Home, Starr; Outside, Allan; Inside, Murphy; Referee—Tom Carling, of Montreal. Judge of play—Guy Pettigrew, of Montreal. Timekeepers—W. Foran, Ottawa; W. H. Hall, Toronto. Penalty timekeeper—Fred Thompson, Toronto.

second place, pressing Bellcourt hard right into the finish, but on the stretch Bellcourt pulled ahead and finished several lengths in front of Burnap, with Rose in third place. The sixth on the programme, a special steeplechase for farmers, excited no little amount of interest and merriment, and a great deal of wrangling among the farmers, who rode their horses in the event. Nine horses came to the flag at the start, and though no signal was given for them to start, they all got away, and went round the course. When they finished no little surprise was manifested when informed by the judges that they would have to run the race over again. This was a killer for some of the riders, as their horses were hardly able to reach the wire in the race just finished, and a wordy warfare ensued. However, the race was run over again, and the satisfaction of those who had made a poor showing in the first attempt. Pale Faced Girls

Thou and Using Successful Cure For Pale Faces and Anemia.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested. At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital forces must be increased, new blood must be supplied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that assists her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from Miss Etta McEwen, of Haliburton, speaks for itself: -

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed. Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head."

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

MR. HAULTAIN RAISES POINT.

Regina, Oct. 12 - If the point taken by Hon. F. W. G. Haultain before the judges here to-day is upheld, it will mean the voiding of the Saskatchewan general election and the holding of a new election for the entire province. But Mr. Haultain's argument was two-edged. The case was the appeal of Provincial Rights against the decision of Judge Prendergast in which he ruled that the province had no retroverted election act and that therefore no protest may be entered. If this is so, argues Mr. Haultain, then the election ordinance was not in force either and therefore no legal election was held. Furthermore, he holds that if this is true it implies that, by mistake or by design, the act when framed left out any mention of retroverted election laws and provided that members elected by means afterwards discovered to be fraudulent or otherwise, could hold their seats and not be open to proceedings. If it is not true, protests will go on and revelations are expected. No decision was given.

COWAN NOT GUILTY

Verdict Rendered by the Jury in Criminal Court Saturday.

A Verdict of "Not Guilty" was returned on Saturday afternoon in the Criminal Court in the case of the young man Cowan, accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of the two men Powers and Tyor in the fatal affray on the night of the 23rd of July last. The jury also made a recommendation in favor of the closing of the saloons near the docks, the placing of more lights in that vicinity and the necessity for police protection. After some words of good advice from Judge Blanchet, the prisoner was liberated. He was embraced by his mother as he left the box and the two left the Court House together.

When the court opened on Saturday morning, Omer Guay, withdrew his plea of not guilty to the charge of aiding in the keeping of a gambling house, and pleaded guilty.

The Cowan case was then resumed, and Major W. H. Davidson, Crown Prosecutor, addressed the jury in English. This was followed by the charge of Judge Blanchet, who took occasion to compliment the counsel for the prisoner on their able defence, especially mentioning Mr. Harry O'Sullivan, whose first case it was to appear in before the court.

The trial of L. R. Demers, indicted for arson, will be taken up when the court resumes this morning.

The Grand Jury which completed its labors Saturday, made the following presentation: -

Quebec, October 13, 1906.

May it please the Court the Grand Jury for the fall term of the Criminal Court in making their presentation wish to congratulate the Court and the Crown in the fact that so few cases were submitted to them during this term.

As in the past, the Grand Jury have visited the District Jail and the Beauport Asylum and found that in both of these institutions the best of order and cleanliness was apparent.

In the former building the jurors were taken in hand by Deputy Jailor R. Modler, who gave them full explanations in a most able manner to their entire satisfaction. In the latter building they were courteously attended to by Drs. Brochu and Marois and the Lady Superior and others. The new building was found to be admirably suited to the purpose, but in the older building, used as a man's ward, the jurors strongly recommended the Government to take the necessary measures to improve the sanitary and ventilating appliances therein.

The jurors, from the evidences deduced from two of the cases submitted to their consideration, have come to the conclusion that more effective police protection be provided in or about the docks, and that the number of electric lights be increased.

While on this subject the jurors also very strongly suggest that no license for the retailing of spirituous liquors be granted in future in their close vicinity, special mention being made of the site now occupied by the hotel known as the "First and Last Chance."

We also congratulate the authorities on the steps they have taken to prevent the installation of slot gambling machines. We would also like to draw

MAGNIFICENT DEMONSTRATION AT ST. COLUMBA DE SILLERY

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Parish Church Celebrated with Becoming Pomp--Archbishop and Lt.-Governor Participate

ADDRESS BY CHIEF JUSTICE FITZPATRICK

The parish of St. Columba de Sillery was en fête on Saturday and yesterday in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the parish church, commenced in 1856, that is now presided over as pastor by the Rev. A. E. Maguire, brother of the late Rev. John Maguire, at one period of his lifetime associated with the secular clergy, who had charge of St. Patrick's Church, this city, during the pastorate of the late Father McGauran, prior to the church being handed over to the revd. Fathers of the Redemptorist order now in charge.

ARCHBISHOP BEGIN.

The parish of St. Columba de Sillery occupies a very important place in the history of old Canada under the French regime, and every part of its environs marks an epoch in Indian life and the early missionary work of the Revd. Jesuit Fathers, pioneers of civilization, and the knowledge of God in the beginning of Canada.

So far as the past is concerned, it is a happy thought that he could say without even their knowledge. It was not necessary, however, for him to mention his name, as he was known to every one of the people of Sillery. He was born in the parish and known to them in his school boy days, and his boyhood mischief, as well as his after manhood and illustrious public career, and to-day he occupies one of the highest positions in the Dominion, a very high position that many legal men aspire to, but very few attain, and he has the good wishes of all his fellow parishioners, for he knew they all felt confident that he would maintain his position with all the dignity of the high office, and honor the same as he already has done as their representative in Parliament.

HON. JOHN SHARPLES.

service of the Master in order to bring to His fold the savage aborigines, who often rewarded their fervor by a death of unpeppable torture. They, nevertheless, sowed the seed that has yielded a beautiful harvest in the vineyard of the Lord.

After saluting His Grace the Archbishop, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and ladies and gentlemen present, he turned to the chairman and thanked him for the kind words he had expressed in his behalf and also thanked Father Maguire for the invitation he had sent him to be present on the auspicious occasion of the celebration of the parish church's golden jubilee.

He also referred to the presence of His Grace the Archbishop and the Lieutenant-Governor and other distinguished gentlemen present, who had added lustre to the occasion. He specially dwelt on the presence of Mr. Begin, who distinguished his pre-eminence and was a worthy successor of his immediate illustrious predecessors and bespoke a wider sphere for him not only in his archdiocese, but in the church of Canada.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick said he did not come to lecture, and he hoped no such effort was expected, because it would cause disappointment. He simply came to take part in the eventful celebration in which they all were interested as one of the family, and not to talk history, but to talk as one of themselves who claimed the right to be with them.

He claimed this right because his deceased mother was born in the parish ninety years ago, and had lived all her long lifetime within a parishioner, and died within the shade of the church steeple and within the sound of its bell. He was likewise born in the parish, and made his first speech on entering public life from the very platform upon which he stood.

Speaking of the past, Chief Justice Fitzpatrick said:--Sillery is approached through the Straits of Belle Isle, through which that procession of priests came which laid the foundation that made Canada a nation to-day.

He next dwelt upon the advantages of Sillery approached down its hills, and the scenic paintings of its effects on all its surroundings, from the mighty river St. Lawrence, its coves in line with that river, and the scenic effects from the south shore and the western hills over to the Laurentian ranges where the sun in all the magnificence of its grandeur sets.

There were many distinguished guests present, who attended of their own volition as the invitation was general, and among those seated in the front seats were His Grace the Archbishop of Quebec, Mr. Begin, accompanied by Mr. Marois, J.G., and a number of priests of the Archbishop's household. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Louis Jetté, attended by Major Sheppard, A.D.C., Mr. Wm. Power, M.P.P., and Mrs. Power, Mr. C.

F. Delage, M.P.P. for the County, and Mrs. Delage, Lt.-Col. Turnbull, Lt.-Col. Surgeon Nelson, Rev. Father Scott, Curé of St. Foye, Rev. and Mrs. Armitage Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. M. Connelly, Lt. J. J. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Capt. Jack Sharples, Father O'Leary, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Scott, Mr. W. C. Gibson, Mr. H. J. B. Chouinard, Mr. and Mrs. P. Murphy and other well known citizens of Quebec, likewise residents of the St. Louis Road on account of the great crush, and it took the ushers under the direction of the pastor and Mr. W. McInelly all their time to secure seats for strangers, and standing room for the parishioners enabled to gain entrance.

PROCEEDINGS. Hon. John Sharples, Mayor of the parish and chairman of the reunion, opened the meeting in a well couched speech in keeping with the occasion, and in the course of his remarks said a happy thought had struck their worthy and zealous pastor to invite their late representative, the Hon. C. Fitzpatrick, to deliver a lecture appropriate of the important event, the 50th anniversary of the parish church, and the circumstances that have surrounded it from the time of its inception to the present together with the times and population that preceded it.

He then drew their attention to the new bridge that will cost millions in which they get their share; the railroads and terminals which were not necessary for him to dwell upon. These things for their future were now an accomplished fact and could not be taken away from them, and would go hand in hand to restore the trade of the port of Quebec and make it more important in the vastness of its future greatness. Chief Justice Fitzpatrick said he could not overlook one incident in connection with the history of Sillery, the death and burial of the good missionary Jesuit, Father Masse. He was proud to recall the good work of the late Hon. R. R. Dobell, who in his lifetime did so much for Sillery, and though a Protestant, erected a monument to the memory of Father Masse on the grave in which he was buried. This commendable deed was done by a gentleman of another religion, who graciously took upon himself the responsibility to preserve the grave of a dead priest, and went to show how the Catholics and Protestants lived happily together side by side of each other in happy relationship, that was worthy of emulation.

Referring to the present pastor, the learned gentleman said: Thirteen years ago Father Maguire came to us when all was dark, and took over the parish church with a debt of $13,000. He went about with a will and the responsibilities of his office, and not only has he reduced this debt to $5,000, but has restored our cemetery, besides looking out for the material as well as the spiritual welfare of his parishioners. I have spoken to you about the bridge and terminals to cost, when completed, $5,000,000, but you who will benefit do not know the untold difficulties that have had to be contended with in order to secure them. "Let me tell you," said the Chief Justice, "that in the days when I was working very hard in the interest of this great undertaking and was meeting with obstacles on all sides respecting the scheme that was to be placed before the Government, and we were having considerable trouble in the formation of the bridge company. I went to your present Mayor and chairman of this meeting, Hon. John Sharples, and told him of our difficulty, when he immediately subscribed $50,000 of his own money to advance the project, and this was the turning point of the success you are enjoying to-day. The example was emulated and the necessary capitalization procured and the bridge assured, and for this you have, with others, your Mayor, Hon. John Sharples, to thank."

This fact is made public for the first time to-night, and you know that Mr. Sharples never advertises his public duties or private benefactions, but I have come to think that this one action at least, of which should be known and made manifest the success of the bridge, the terminals and the immense works to follow that you will share in.

We are all of one family and here within the sounds of these church bells, no person among us can tell the future of England and France, but we in Canada are all one people, and should live and love one another under the flag of England, which is the finest flag on the face of the earth. We should all be in peace with each other and in order to do this we must be without racial or religious prejudice. We must be Canadians one and all of us, and if we respect each other's rights to common citizenship, will be broad in our views in all things and live a happy and contented people.

ARCHBISHOP BEGIN SPEAKS. The chairman invited the Archbishop to address the meeting, which invitation he accepted with pleasure. Mr. Begin remarked he was pleased and honored to be with the people of Sillery in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their parish church. He said he knew their first pastor, Father Harkin, who was a good and conscientious priest, who had no other ambition than to remain with his parishioners and die among them. He also knew Mr. Perisio, who spent three years with them and then was called by the voice of the successor of St. Peter to a higher office in the church. He also knew Father Drolet, and knows Father Casgrain and his present pastor. He said that all in turn and spoke of their affection for the people of Sillery. He was also happy to state publicly of the purity, charity and constancy of the parishioners of Sillery when it is considered that there were not more than 400 altogether who started to build for the future. They knew that these early settlers would fructify, and they built for them, and those to come after them in their confidence of the future.

"We are now celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the Sillery parish church. What were the conditions 50 years ago? In those days you were happy and prosperous, in the midst of plentiful industry. This parish was a mission in 1848; in 1864 your parish church was commenced and two years later completed; Father Harkin, a good and worthy priest, possessed a kindly disposition, was your first pastor and had charge of 28 souls when he went to his eternal reward."

He dwelt upon the happy relations that existed between the people and their priest, and the happy contentment of the latter, likewise the happy relations between the Protestants and Catholics, who never allowed creed or race to interfere with their friendship and united contentment, and neighborly association. He also alluded to the pastorate of Mr. Perisio, afterwards a Cardinal prince of the church, Father Drolet and Father Casgrain, who all succeeded in time the first pastor, until the present pastor, Rev. Father Maguire, came on the scene.

Chief Justice Fitzpatrick next brought his audience to the change in conditions and the decline in trade that caused so many of the Sillery people to leave for another field of labor, the continuation of these hard times when Father Maguire became pastor and the struggles he had to contend with. But, said the Chief Justice, another change has taken place; hard times are fast disappearing; a new era of prosperity has dawned and soon you will again enjoy prosperity and happy contentment.

This, however, was not brought about without a struggle, and very few of the parishioners knew the labor, the trials and tribulations he had as their representative to aid in the change. There were now signs of happy conditions on all sides of them, and it was right to say that they had seen the end of trials and tribulations and it was but proper that they realize the change and look into the future when better things were in store for them.

He then drew their attention to the new bridge that will cost millions in which they get their share; the railroads and terminals which were not necessary for him to dwell upon. These things for their future were now an accomplished fact and could not be taken away from them, and would go hand in hand to restore the trade of the port of Quebec and make it more important in the vastness of its future greatness. Chief Justice Fitzpatrick said he could not overlook one incident in connection with the history of Sillery, the death and burial of the good missionary Jesuit, Father Masse. I have spoken to you about the bridge and terminals to cost, when completed, $5,000,000, but you who will benefit do not know the untold difficulties that have had to be contended with in order to secure them. "Let me tell you," said the Chief Justice, "that in the days when I was working very hard in the interest of this great undertaking and was meeting with obstacles on all sides respecting the scheme that was to be placed before the Government, and we were having considerable trouble in the formation of the bridge company. I went to your present Mayor and chairman of this meeting, Hon. John Sharples, and told him of our difficulty, when he immediately subscribed $50,000 of his own money to advance the project, and this was the turning point of the success you are enjoying to-day. The example was emulated and the necessary capitalization procured and the bridge assured, and for this you have, with others, your Mayor, Hon. John Sharples, to thank."

This fact is made public for the first time to-night, and you know that Mr. Sharples never advertises his public duties or private benefactions, but I have come to think that this one action at least, of which should be known and made manifest the success of the bridge, the terminals and the immense works to follow that you will share in.

We are all of one family and here within the sounds of these church bells, no person among us can tell the future of England and France, but we in Canada are all one people, and should live and love one another under the flag of England, which is the finest flag on the face of the earth. We should all be in peace with each other and in order to do this we must be without racial or religious prejudice. We must be Canadians one and all of us, and if we respect each other's rights to common citizenship, will be broad in our views in all things and live a happy and contented people.

ARCHBISHOP BEGIN SPEAKS. The chairman invited the Archbishop to address the meeting, which invitation he accepted with pleasure. Mr. Begin remarked he was pleased and honored to be with the people of Sillery in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their parish church. He said he knew their first pastor, Father Harkin, who was a good and conscientious priest, who had no other ambition than to remain with his parishioners and die among them. He also knew Mr. Perisio, who spent three years with them and then was called by the voice of the successor of St. Peter to a higher office in the church. He also knew Father Drolet, and knows Father Casgrain and his present pastor. He said that all in turn and spoke of their affection for the people of Sillery. He was also happy to state publicly of the purity, charity and constancy of the parishioners of Sillery when it is considered that there were not more than 400 altogether who started to build for the future. They knew that these early settlers would fructify, and they built for them, and those to come after them in their confidence of the future.

"We are now celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the Sillery parish church. What were the conditions 50 years ago? In those days you were happy and prosperous, in the midst of plentiful industry. This parish was a mission in 1848; in 1864 your parish church was commenced and two years later completed; Father Harkin, a good and worthy priest, possessed a kindly disposition, was your first pastor and had charge of 28 souls when he went to his eternal reward."

Talks About "Fashion-Craft" CHANGE OF BRAND Of my own accord I cancelled my former agency. In the past I pleased and satisfied my customers and will do even better with my new brand. My inspiration and long experience made me ambitious so I conceived and manufactured "FASHION-CRAFT" clothes, in which I have put quality and multiplied style. The Style and Fit you see--the quality I pledge. This combination of unusual skill--and experience of knowing how--have made these clothes what they are. Concentrated in one big plant--under my own supervision--the result has already justified my judgement. Let me weave this by an inspection of "Fashion-Craft" CLOTHES ROY & ROY, 178 St. John Street. lery to their pastors in solving the problem of teaching in a community made up of different races. "You did not," said the Archbishop, "forget that the country your fathers came from was hallowed by holy men and women, and that the Irish and French races were nations of learning for fourteen centuries. He would say that they were always bound in perfect union, and he hoped that this union would always exist, both for their happiness and consolation and the glory of God.

The R.C.G.A. orchestra, which was present under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Yezina, performed a selection of Irish music followed by a selection of French music, when Chief Justice Fitzpatrick again addressed the audience in the French language, going over the same ground as in his English speech.

Hon. Mr. Sharples then called upon Mr. Wm. Power, and church-warden Gauthier to prepare a vote of thanks to Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick for his very able address, which they carried out in a creditable manner. The audience then adjourned to the church grounds which were beautifully illuminated with colored electric lights that showed off the flag decorations in the background. The R.C.G.A. band then gave a band concert, during which a big display of fireworks was set off from the brow of the hill that lighted the surrounding country with their illuminating effects, and must have been seen to great advantage from the river and the south shore. At the conclusion the band played "Come Back to Erin," in which the whole population joined in singing the chorus, and this was followed by the band playing "O Canada," the populace also singing in unison the chorus, and finally at 11.15 o'clock, the National Anthem was played, which brought the celebration on Saturday night to a close.

RELIGIOUS CELEBRATION. Yesterday the golden jubilee of the parish church at Sillery was celebrated by a grand and imposing religious ceremony in the sacred edifice, which was gorgeously decorated in honor of the occasion. A grand solemn high Pontifical Mass was sung by His Grace the Archbishop of Quebec, who officiated as the celebrant, and assisted by Mr. Mathieu, C.M. G., arch priest, Father Dupuis, Chaplain of Sillery Convent, deacon of honor, Father Garneau, sub-deacon of honor, and Father Ladamme, vicar of the Basilica and Walter Cannon, Prof. at the Quebec Seminary, deacons of office.

The English sermon was preached by Rev. Father Mulhern, C.S.S.R., of St. Patrick's Church, and the French sermon by Rev. Father Scott, Curé of St. Foye parish. The former spoke of the first Jesuit missionary fathers, the Mission of St. Michael's, founded from 1647 to 1854, and made a very touching reference to the first pastor, Rev. Father Harkin and also one of his successors, Father Drolet. He also spoke of the other pastors and referred to the history of the church from its foundation. The ceremony was an imposing religious demonstration, and of the musical portion of the mass likewise very good. This morning the jubilee celebration will close with a solemn high requiem mass and Libera for the repose of the souls of the deceased parishioners.

LORD DUNDONALD. London, Oct. 12--Commenting on A. B. Carman's article in Canada on Canada and Imperial Defence, Lord Dundonald, in a letter to Canada, says if anything in this world is worth doing at all it is at any rate worthy of doing well. If the empire therefore is worth defending, it is necessary to inform those specialists who are entrusted with the preparation of schemes for its defence exactly how many troops will be available on the outbreak of war. "These troops, if they are to be of real value, must be ready not only in willingness to serve the empire as every Canadian is ready, not only in spirit, courage and endurance, qualities which, from having Canadian troops under my command in war time, I know them to possess to the fullest possible extent, but ready in arms, equipment and in an adequate supply of ammunition and materials of war, with the personnel under the command of highly trained leaders. How many men Canada could at once, on the declaration of war, put into the field under this latter condition is known to those who are responsible for her military defence and her place amongst nations, and should be known and considered by every patriotic Canadian."

54,600 Meals Did Him No Good

How One Man Wasted 50 Years of His Life. Thousands Like Him.

"What's the use of eatin', anyhow?" said the scrawny dyspeptic to his roly-poly, prosperous-looking friend. "Here I've been eatin' three times a day, and sometimes twice a day, for 50 years, and look at me. I'm rawboned and skinny, still at the bottom of the ladder, sour on the world, and a pessimist. I know it, and I can't help it. If I had it to do over again, though, I would take care of my stomach, for I don't believe I ever really relished a meal in my life, not even mother's Christmas dinners, and I firmly believe that my way of eating, or whatever it was, brought along with it darkness and impossibility of success.

"You're right," nodded his companion. "Of course, that isn't always the case. But in this age we must not only 'Trust in the Lord and keep our powder dry,' but we must swallow sunshine with our food. Cheerfulness, especially while eating, which is the most essential act of man, is as necessary to him as sunshine is to the flowers. Nothing normal can be produced in darkness.

"But this is what you haven't been doing, Mr. Dyspeptic. Your brain and your stomach, remember, are twins, and you have to treat them accordingly. Why not start now and repair the damage you've done. It is never too late, you know."

"Absolutely, yes. Science has made it possible to get the sunshine, the health and the strength that your stomach needs, all put up together in little tablets. They call them Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most effective tablets in the world for this very thing. One ingredient in these tablets digests 3,000 grains of food without the help of the stomach. The tablets after each meal can do more work, quicker work and better work, in digesting a heavy meal, than the stomach can itself. The stomach need not work at all. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do all the work, and give you indeed at-much a rest, the rest it needs. Meanwhile you cure yourself of brash, irritation, burning sensation, heartburn, sour stomach, acidity, fermentation, bloat, and the worst cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. You get rid of these for all time. And, besides, you can eat all you want and whenever you want, and you will relish mother's Christmas dinners if you will take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating. That's the sunshine I was talking about. Then your face will reflect the internal change going on, you'll be more energetic, your mind will be clearer, you will have more confidence in yourself, you'll be happier, and you'll be yourself again. "Your heart will change and you'll feel rosy. You'll enjoy your meals--and live. Let's walk down to the drug store and let me introduce you to one little package of these Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them at any drug store in the world for only 50c. a package. It is worth it, Mr. Dyspeptic."

THIRTEENTH TRIP

Around the World for Mr. Norman Hamilton, who was Here Saturday.

Among the passengers who arrived here on Friday last on board the ss. Empress of Britain was Mr. Norman Hamilton, managing director of the Amalgamated Distillers Co., who is making his thirteenth trip around the world. Mr. Hamilton, who left here on Saturday afternoon for Hong Kong, stood for a Liberal Imperialist in 1900 as a Liberal Imperialist for South St. Paul and has been for some years in touch with Mr. Jos. Chamberlain in connection with his tariff system and in 1896 founded the first British Imperial journal called the British Realm. However, he is no longer a member of the Liberal party on account of its free trade policy, which he believes is gradually bleeding the mother country to death. England was no longer a nation of shopkeepers as the Great Napoleon used to call us, remarked Mr. Hamilton to a Chronicle representative, but a nation of commission and shipping agents selling and carrying principally German and American manufactures. In his opinion the future of the fiscal problem will be solved by a union of working classes and the Chamberlain tariff reform, when the eyes of the former are opened to the silent disappearance of very many British industries which is now slowly going on.

Speaking of Canada, Mr. Hamilton remarked that the Old Country was fully alive now to the immense possibilities of this Dominion and the western trend of the immigrants is gradually being diverted from the United States to Canada. He was the first passenger booked from Liverpool to Hong Kong in May, 1891, on the first trip of the Empress of India. He had travelled on the White Star, Cunard, French, German and American lines and P. & O., in fact almost every steamship line, and he considered that for equipment, comfort and luxury Canada, with the Empress, can now boast of having the finest steamers in the world. He paid a high tribute to the energy and foresight of the C.P.R. as everything had been carefully studied for the comfort of their passengers and Canada had by far the greatest rail and water line in the world with the advent of the Empresses. Mr. Hamilton had visited Quebec first in 1890 and he had seen great changes during the last fifteen years. The head office of the A.D.C. whiskey was in London, Eng., with offices in Glasgow, Paris and Montreal, and the company he represented were the proprietors of the A.D.C. and Chamberlain whiskeys, the directors of the company being Lord Elcho, son of the Earl of Wemyss, Sir Henry Montague Hozier, K.C.B., late secretary of Lloyd's, and the Duke of St. Paul.

SENTENCED TO NINE YEARS.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—Saturday was sentenced day in the Court of King's Bench and six prisoners who had stood their trials before the jury and had been found guilty were given their deserts. Mr. Justice Tremblay was on the bench. Mrs. Helene Dobuch, the woman who was charged with the murder of her little step-son, and who had been found guilty of manslaughter with a strong recommendation for the mercy of the court, was the only prisoner who received a penitentiary sentence. In sentencing Mrs. Dobuch, His Lordship explained to her how the charge was at first made as murder, but on hearing the evidence, the jury had returned a verdict that she was guilty of manslaughter to mercy. He stated that since the jury had decided on this, the court was also obliged to deal with the case in the same manner. He sentenced her to nine years in the penitentiary.

A REMARKABLE CASE

London, Oct. 14.—A strange case of sight, which was destroyed by one accident being restored by another, is reported from Leeds. A practical joke was played on Maria Louisa Goodyear, of Headingley. While she was employed as a machinist twenty-two years ago, her stool was withdrawn by a fellow worker from under her. She fell and struck her head. The force of the blow caused a pressure of the skull on the optic nerve, and she lost her sight. Twelve years later she fell from the top to the bottom of a cellar steps. A medical man who was called in said she had shaken the optic nerve and declared that if he could give her a blow on the head her sight might be restored. He dared not try the experiment, however, as it might jeopardize her reason. Now Miss Goodyear has fallen down a flight of stairs again. Her fall was followed by severe pains in the head and the sudden return of sight, just in time to see her mother before the latter's death. Her sight is now excellent once more, and she has no need for spectacles.

ROW ON PARIS RACE COURSE.

Paris, Oct. 14.—There were violent public demonstrations at the Long Champs race course to-day in consequence of an unsatisfactory start in the free handicap. For the handicap there were nine starters. Four, including the favorite remained at the post owing to a misunderstanding. Amid an uproar a complete outsider won. The public became outraged, broke down the barriers, surrounded the bookmakers' booths chased out the cashiers and seized the moneys. Attempts to restore order were in vain, the police present being inadequate. The rougher element raised automobiles near the grand stands, seized petroleum with which they sprinkled the booths and set them afire. The firm on duty were helpless as the fire had been set. The authorities telephoned to Mont Valerien, and a body of troops were sent. The soldiers succeeded in clearing the enclosure and the betting structures had burned down. The races were postponed. Sixty arrests were made and a large number of policemen and rioters were injured.

Do You Want to Know What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of medicines of known composition. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.
Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken down, nervous and invalid women.
This bold and out-spoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all jarring critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver, and bowels. Do not forget the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator three or four for active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.
