'Tino' Has Abdicated Greek Throne--Greek Fleet Goes Over To Revolutionaries

GREEK MINISTRY HAS RESIGNED FROM OFFICE
(Associated Press Despatch)

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—The Greek ministry has resigned. Very important changes are impending, but present indications are that a peaceful solution of the crisis will be found.

In accepting the resignation, the King said he entirely put aside any idea of resistance which would bring, as a result, civil war in Greece.

The Crown Prince has abandoned his proposed journey to Rumania for the Royal marriage.

GREEK WARSHIPS ARE PROCEEDING TOWARDS ATHENS
(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A number of Greek warships and transports manned by revolutionaries have left the Island of Mitylene, off the coast of Smyrna, and are proceeding toward Athens, according to messages from authoritative sources received here.

According to the same sources the revolutionary movement started on the Islands of Mitylene and Chios among the soldiers and refugees from the Smyrna district.

All officers who refuse to join the movement are being arrested, it is added.

The immediate cause of the revolt was an order for the demobilization of the soldiers who had been evacuated to these islands, the men wishing to keep their rifles as trophies, or perhaps for personal protection. The first intimation the authorities in Athens had of the movement was the appearance of an airplane over the city, which showered pamphlets drawn up "in the name of the Army and Navy and the population of Mitylene," demanding the resignation of the Government and the abdication of Constantine.

REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT IS MAKING GREAT HEADWAY
(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Greek fleet has gone over to the revolutionaries, who announce that every officer and member of the crews is wholly with them, according to a Central News despatch from Athens.

The movement, which is headed by Colonel Gonatas, is making headway in all directions.

The despatch, which is dated Tuesday night, says the cabinet had been in continuous session for many hours. No official statements had been issued, but it was understood that the ministers were drawing up a manifesto addressed to the people.

Thus far, it adds, the revolution had been bloodless, despite the excitement of the people, who were surging through the streets and gathering outside the public buildings.

BRITISH COMMANDERS CONFIDENT THEY CAN HOLD OFF UNTIL THE ARRIVAL OF FORMIDABLE REINFORCEMENTS

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—British official circles today expressed disinclination to believe the report that King Constantine of Greece had abdicated, as the latest despatches from Athens, dated last night, make no mention of such action.

The Greek minister here also declared he would have received word in case of Constantine's withdrawal.

The abdication report came through a European news agency but this is discounted by direct advices from the Associated Press correspondent, who quotes the King as stating categorically that he will stick to the throne until his people have told him they no longer want him.

The Greek capital last night was quiet but uneasy. Pamphlets were dropped over the city from an airplane sent by revolting contingents of the army on the Islands of the Aegean. The leaflets demanded the abdication of the King, formation of a neutral cabinet and active prosecution of the war in Thrace. Eight thousand troops at Saloniki have also revolted.

The Turkish Nationalists continue to menace the straits of Dardanelles and are entrenching in the neutral zone, which they refuse to recognize. The British military command has given them forty-eight hours in which to retire and is preparing three lines of entrenchments in the region from Pandik to Yarinje, along the Anatolian Railway.

In addition to Eren Keui and Kum Kaleli, the Kemalists are in possession of Bigha. A special despatch, not confirmed from any other source, says occupation of the latter place was accompanied by the massacre of the entire Greek and Armenian population, numbering about nine hundred.

The British commanders are confident that they can keep the Turks from crossing the straits or capturing Constantinople until the arrival of the formidable reinforcements now on the way.

The reply of the Ankara Government to the joint Allied note, outlining the conditions under which a peace conference could be held, is anxiously awaited, but it is feared that even an acceptance would not relieve the present situation to any great degree, as the Turks are understood to be prepared to demand freedom of military action during the Conference.

Secretary of State Hughes' formal assertion of the United States policy toward the Turkish problem was received here so late as to preclude comment in the morning newspapers, although the Times, in its late edition inserted the following sentence in its editorial on the Near East:

"Knowledge that the Allied policy has the approval of the United States may presently help to counteract the intrigues of the European advisers of the Kemalists, whether in Moscow or Berlin."

The Hughes statement itself is published by all the papers, but in many instances without special prominence.

Pending definite news of the Kemalists reply to the Allied note, many of the papers view the situation calmly, expecting Mustafa Kemal to comply with the representations which both the British and French commanders have sent him, and recall his troops from the neutral zone.

The Times, however, admits that the situation is "critical enough to mitigate optimism." In some quarters here Mustafa Kemal is credited

REQUISITION STEAMERS TO CONVEY MILITARY DETAILS TO NEAR EAST

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The British Government yesterday requisitioned the British-India steamer Manora and the Canadian Pacific steamer Corsican as troop ships to convey military details to the Near East.

The British admiralty denied yesterday that any of the capital ships due to be scrapped under the terms of the Washington Treaty were being sent to or prepared for service in the Near East.

TERRITORY IN EUROPE THAT TURKS DEMAND RETURNED TO THEM

On the above map the shaded area indicates the territory that Kemal insists shall be taken from Greece and restored to the Turkish Empire. That would leave Turkey in Europe as it was before the Sultan threw in his lot with Germany.

DEMAND THE FORMATION OF A PEOPLE'S CABINET

(Associated Press Despatch)

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—An ultimatum from the warship Lemnos, which arrived at Laurium, on the peninsula southeast of Athens, with revolting troops, demanded the dissolution of the National Assembly and the formation of a people's cabinet friendly to the Entente.

INSURRECTIONISTS HAVE LANDED AT CAPE SUIJON

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Sept. 27.—A Havas despatch from Athens, not timed there, received this afternoon says: "The insurrectionists, who have nine destroyers and naval airplanes, besides two warships, Kilkis and Lemnos, have landed troops at Cape Suijon (on the peninsula southeast of Athens.) General Papoulas has been sent to try to stop them.

REVOLUTIONARY MOVE IS THREATENING ATHENS

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The abdication of King Constantine of Greece was indicated as imminent in the Foreign Office and dated midnight last night.

The revolutionary movement headed by General Gonatas and Plestras seemed to be threatening Athens, and two of their ships had landed troops near the capital, which is undefended militarily.

The government was believed to be intending to seek refuge in the entrenchment of Crown Prince George.

Action Is Entered Against Corporation Of County Of Wolfe For Opposing The Sale Of Liquor Throughout The County

Garthby Merchant Takes Action Against the Corporation of the County of Wolfe—By-Law No. 57 Declared to Be Null and Void—Prevents Citizens from Holding a License under the Auspices of the Quebec Liquor Act.

RESIDENTS of the Corporation of the County of Wolfe are showing keen interest in an action which is being taken in the Superior Court, before His Lordship Mr. Justice C. D. White, with regard to the right of the Corporation to exercise control over the privileges accorded to liquor dealers.

Action has been taken by Mr. Joseph Allaire, a merchant of Garthby, who complains of the enforcement of by-law No. 57, passed by the administration of municipal affairs for the County of Wolfe, insofar as it deals with liquor licenses.

The by-law was passed by the Corporation of the County of Wolfe in December 1914 and prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors and the granting of licenses for this purpose within the limits of the Municipality of Wolfe County.

It is claimed by the plaintiff that, as a result of the enforcement of this by-law, licenses granted for the sale of beer, by the Liquor Commission, under the auspices of the Quebec Liquor Act, were rendered null and void and the citizens were deprived of the privilege of availing themselves of the licenses approved of by the Commission.

The plaintiff claimed that by-law No. 57 was in reality null and void inasmuch as the requirements of the Temperance Act had not been complied with. It was further contended that approval to the by-law was given only by a few of the mayors of the different municipalities in the county and that the by-law had not even been submitted in Wolfe County.

It was also held that the said by-law No. 57 was completely ignored by the greater proportion of Wolfe County and that it had not been published in any way as required by law.

In conclusion the plaintiff asked that judgment be given declaring by-law to be null and void and thereby authorizing the citizens to take advantage of the licenses which are granted under the auspices of the Quebec Liquor Act.

Replying to the plaintiff's plea, the Corporation defendant denied the different allegations referred to and stated that inasmuch as the plaintiff held that the by-law was null and void, there was no use of asking the court to render judgment to this effect.

British Troops Were About To Launch Attack

Commander of British Forces in Chanak Was About to Open Fire on the Advancing Kemal Cavalry Squadrons When He Received an Urgent Radio from Brigadier-General Harrington in Constantinople, Instructing Him to Suspend the Attack Until All Peaceful Measures Were Exhausted—Turks Were Given Forty-Eight Hours to Withdraw.

(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—A wireless message sent to Chanak when the Turkish Nationalists occupied Kum Kaleli and other points in the neutral zone was all that prevented an outbreak of hostilities between the British and Turks, it is learned.

Colonel Shuttleworth, commanding the British forces in Chanak, was about to open fire on the advancing Kemal cavalry squadrons when he received an urgent radio from Brigadier-General Harrington in Constantinople, instructing him to suspend the attack until all peaceful measures were exhausted.

In consequence, a British officer was sent to the Kemal lines under a white flag to inform the Nationalists' commander that unless he retreated the British would open fire. After further parleys the Turks were given forty-eight hours in which to withdraw beyond the neutral zone.

NATIONALIST ARMY CONTINUES ITS CONCENTRATION OF TROOPS ON BOTH THE ISMID AND CHANAK LINES

(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 27.—While the Anatolian cabinet sitting at Smyrna is completing its reply to the Allied note, the Nationalist army continues its feverish concentration of troops on the Ismid and Chanak lines.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha now has 1,100 men in Kum Kaleli at the mouth of the Dardanelles; five thousand at Adramyti, fifty miles southeast of Chanak; ten thousand in the intervening Sanjak of Karassi, and considerable forces in the other areas.

The Nationalist leader expects these concentrations to be completed by September 30th, which date coincides with the time set for the final evacuation of refugees from Smyrna. It is considered significant here that General Noureddin Pasha, military governor of Smyrna, has declared he cannot guarantee the lives of the Christians in Smyrna after that date. This is taken to mean that the Kemalists want to clear decks for action in the event the Allies reject their reply.

BRITISH REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVING.

The British are no less busy strengthening their lines and checking every move made by the Kemalists. Further arrivals of military and naval units are daily augmenting their forces and inversely impairing Kemal's chances of successfully attacking the Straits.

The Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus are dotted with the most modern warcraft, the concentration rivaling that of the fateful days of the Gallipoli campaign.

The British fleet now includes six dreadnaughts, seven battle cruisers, twenty destroyers and several submarines and giant aircraft carriers. The assembly of this great armada and the increase in the British forces to upwards of thirty thousand men have strengthened the frayed nerves of the anxious Christian population of the capital.

The Sultan's cabinet met in special session yesterday and decided not to retire unless so ordered by the Kemal Government.

An encyclical from Pope Pius was received yesterday in the Catholic churches, calling on the congregations to pray for peace. On Sunday case was continued until September 28.

N. H. MacLeod vs. Stanley John Field.—The accused was charged with assault and causing bodily harm. The evidence showed that he had struck the defendant a young lad seventeen years of age, with the butt end of a rifle, and had subsequently robbed him of his money.

The lad was asleep at the time of the assault. The accused pleaded guilty, and the Court lectured him for his brutality and condemned him to seven months in jail.

G. D. Cathcart vs. Henri Bouchard.—The accused was charged with the theft of a horse. The preliminary hearing was heard and the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

solemn high mass will be celebrated, followed by the late Pope Benedict's peace litany.

MADE REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

An independent Greek division, comprising eight thousand men, has been landed at Rodosto, after a remarkable escape from the Turks in Smyrna region.

At the fall of Eski-Shehr the division was cut off from the main body of Greek troops. After wandering in a famished condition through the bleak mountains in Anatolia, the men managed to reach the Aegean Sea before the Turkish army entered Smyrna. Then they pushed northward to Dikeli, where they were taken off by two Greek transports.

Arrival of these troops at Rodosto places the third army corps once more at full strength.

WILL DEMAND IMMEDIATE EVACUATION OF THRACE

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The Ankara Government has decided to send a note to the powers demanding the immediate evacuation of Thrace, according to a statement attributed by the Figaro to Ferid Bey, Kemalist representative in France. This step had been decided upon, he said, because it was certain the Greeks were preparing for systematic destruction of the country and had already arrested and sent to Greece a number of prominent Turks to be held in exchange for Greeks made captive by the Turks.

Ferid Bey declared the Turks had not recognized establishment of a neutral zone and added:

"If the Kemal Government accepts the zone you may be sure it will respect it. In any case acceptance might coincide only with the meeting of the preliminary armistice conference where we shall demand evacuation of Thrace and restoration of the country to Ottoman administration, and also the return of Constantinople, although our troops might not enter the capital."

ANNUAL SUPPER AT BURY PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

Rev. Father Godbout Bids Adieu to Bury—St. Paul's Church Presents Fine Programme.

BURY, Que., Sept. 27.—The annual harvest supper of the St. Paul's Guild, held on Thursday last, was an unqualified success. The supper was excellent and the entertainment which followed was exceptionally good. Selections were played by the Bury Brass Band outside the hall whilst supper was in progress. The entertainment opened with a selection by the Bury orchestra. A musical treat was given by Mr. Pratt in the rendering of his songs, for which he received two well merited encores. Miss Volna Hodge also received two encores for her songs, which were much appreciated by the audience. Mr. French received a hearty applause for his recitation. The Rev. Mr. Lewis, as chairman, thanked the audience on behalf of the St. Paul's Guild for their patronage, and also thanked all those who were contributing to the entertainment. He referred to the Bury Brass Band and orchestra, which should receive the hearty support of the community. Mr. Lewis expressed regret at the forthcoming departure of the Rev. Father Goddout, who has been living in Bury for the last two years. In being called to the platform the Rev. Father Goddout thanked Mr. Lewis and the members of the St. Paul's Guild for their fine invitation. He deeply appreciated such opportunities of meeting the people. He was exceedingly sorry to leave Bury, where he had received so much courtesy and kindness. He was very pleased to see the harmony and goodwill existing between the pastors of the three congregations in Bury. This could be his last public appearance. He wished the people of Bury every good wish, and should they ever call upon him in his new parish he assured them a warm welcome. Father Goddout in leaving the platform received a hearty applause. The chairman in introducing the next speaker said that he had very great pleasure in welcoming the Rev. Mr. Wilson, the newly-appointed Methodist minister. In appearing on the platform the Rev. Mr. Wilson received a hearty welcome. He expressed his great pleasure in being invited by the St. Paul's Guild, and thanked them. He brought with him the good will of the Methodist congregation. He was delighted to see the harmony that existed between the different denominations, and hoped that it would always exist. In a few well-chosen words the Rev. Mr. Lewis again thanked one and all, including the speakers, for having made the harvest supper such a great success. He referred to the abundant hay crop and crops generally, and announced that the thanksgiving service would be held shortly in St. Paul's Church. The exceedingly pleasant evening closed with the singing of a national anthem, accompanied by Mrs. Thos. Morrow and the orchestra. General Notes. The members of the executive committee of St. Paul's Church, Bury, have invited the people of Canterbury, as well as those belonging to St. Thomas' congregation, to do more tidying of the cemetery before the frosty weather comes. Instead of setting a day, it has been thought best to leave it to all those interested to come when most convenient.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

"A Terrible Experience" "I Recall My Experiences with the Burglar with Feelings of Horror!" "How would you feel if you wakened in the middle of the night with a flashlight shining in your eyes and the gruff voice of a man threatening that, 'If you make the slightest noise, I'll shoot!' That was my experience the end of last March when my husband was away in the woods and I was alone with my three children. Everytime I think of this experience a shudder passes over me and as long as I live I shall remember it. At the time I really thought I would die. It's a wonder my heart did not stop beating. I was so weak that even if I had any desire to move, I could not. I was bathed in a cold, clammy perspiration. Even to recall the shocking details now makes me shudder. It was a result of this shock that I contracted a high fever and for hours at a time I was delirious. I got so bad that the doctor finally gave up hope of my ever recovering, but by careful nursing, I was finally pronounced out of danger. The shock had left me so weak, that, for no reason whatever, I would suddenly burst into tears. All the life seemed to have been taken out of me. I kept getting weaker and weaker, so much so that my husband and children were constantly worrying about me. Doctors prescribed for me and while I willingly tried their medicines, only very few of them did me any good, but unfortunately the good was not lasting. My family asked me if I would try Carnol and I said, 'I was willing to try anything,' but felt that it would not do me any good. Four bottles of Carnol taken regularly, has completely restored my former health and strength and, while I occasionally recall my experience with the burglar with feelings of horror, I am otherwise as well and strong as I have ever been. Carnol is the most wonderful preparation I have ever used for building and restoring health and strength. It has done wonders for several of my friends to whom I have recommended it." Mrs. McC. of... Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 4-622

Boy Scout News

To the parents of Scouts who are members of the 2nd Sherbrooke are members of the 2nd Sherbrooke Dear Parents— Providing the scout meeting is dismissed promptly at nine o'clock, have you any serious objection to the scout meeting being held on Tuesday evenings? Having the honor to be Scoutmaster of the above troop I ask you this query, hoping that you will reciprocate to my request and make manifest your opinion frankly by sending a short note with your boy to the next scout meeting, October 3rd, simply stating whether you think it advisable or not to adopt the plan suggested in view of the circumstances. I am fully aware that your boy requires time for school studies, and that Friday evening would no doubt be a more appropriate meeting night, but unfortunately, I am unable to attend on this evening, and as my assistants refuse to carry on the troop without my aid, I am forced to write this, sincerely trusting that you will fall in with this plan, not only for the sake of keeping this fraternity of boys together, which no doubt does an immense amount of good in every way, but also for the sake of keeping in existence the oldest troop of scouts in Sherbrooke, which has the valued reputation of being the finest troop in the Province. Yours faithfully, District Scoutmaster.

The 4th. Troop meets every Friday evening in the Methodist Church Hall at 7.30 p.m. During the winter special courses will be given in signalling and ambulance work on Friday evening from 8 to 8.45 p.m. Commencing Friday, October 6th, the troop will operate on standard time.

different lines than those which have been introduced until now, and while next Tuesday will be devoted to astronomy, the following week will be assigned to birds of the district.

A majority vote decided to hold the meetings in future at 6.15 p.m. instead of at 12.15. The noon meetings are merely for the summer months, but some members would like to see them enforced the whole year around. Rotarian E. C. Sears was appointed chairman of the "On to Montreal" meeting to be held next March, while Rotarian E. J. Page was appointed chairman of the "On to St. Louis" meeting next summer.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT ST. PAUL'S.

On Sunday, September 24th, the annual Harvest Thanksgiving Festival was observed at St. Paul's Mission. Holy Communion was celebrated at eight o'clock and at three o'clock a children's flower service was held, each child bringing a bouquet of flowers, which were collected and sent to the Sherbrooke Hospital. The service was conducted by the Rev. Robert Heron, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Ramsay. The Rev. Mr. Heron preached at the service held at 7 p. m. when the choir rendered appropriate music.

ST. PATRICK MISSION CIRCLE.

The regular meetings of the Mission Circle, which had been suspended during the summer months, were resumed this week when the members met on Monday evening at the home of Miss Loretta Steele, Frontenac Street.

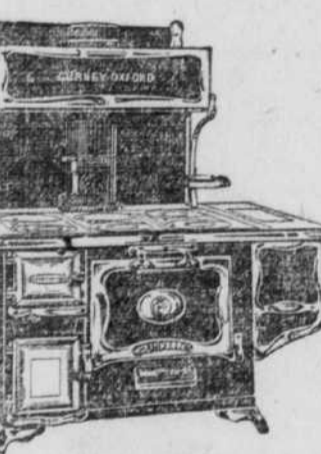

An item of interest was the reading of a letter from Rev. Father Mullin, of Hankow, China, where the Circle is providing for the support of two catechists. Father Mullin wrote in part as follows: "I have now been called in from the outer missions to take charge of propaganda work in the immense native city of Hankow. In my next letter I will tell you something of my present work and its prospects. Your two catechists are doing wonders. The woman catechist has baptized over seventy-five children at the hour of death. During the past year she has also collected seventeen baby girls and they are now being cared for by the sisters at the convent. If it were not for this catechist these children would have died on the streets or in the river, so you see your generous contributions are having their effect and the merit is being stored up for the members of St. Patrick's Mission Circle." Father Mullin also sent photographs of several of the schools and chapels in his mission, including groups of pupils. It was decided to hold a Japanese tea on November eleventh and the following committees were appointed in preparation: Bridge, Misses Eva Coogan and Juliette Stenson; "500," Misses Evelyn Hebert and Evelyn Melver; decorating, Misses Gladys Mullins and Minnie Mooney; candy table, Misses Eva McConnell, Marguerite Gauthier; advertising, Miss Geraldine Hebert; fortunes, Misses Valida Turcotte, Anna Dupuis and Kathleen Lord; refreshments, Misses Norine McManus, Geraldine Hebert.

The meeting then adjourned until October ninth.

G. T. R. FREIGHT COLLIDED WITH A MOTORCYCLE

Newly Married Couple in Hospital as Result of Accident at Bad Crossing.

Another bad accident was added to the list of collisions which have occurred between passing vehicles and Grand Trunk trains at the railroad crossing just this side of Waterville on the Government road, when a freight train, south bound, about 3.30 yesterday afternoon struck a motor cycle coming from Waterville to Sherbrooke, severely injuring the two people who were riding the motor cycle.

The two young people, a newly married couple, were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Prendegast, of New York, who were on their honeymoon. They had spent Monday night and part of Tuesday in Waterville, and yesterday afternoon about three o'clock they made a start for Sherbrooke, travelling by motor cycle with a side car attached. They failed to hear the approaching freight train as they reached the crossing, well known as the one at which the late Ex-Governor Prouty, of Vermont, was killed. The engine of the freight train struck their motor cycle, throwing the riders some distance away into a field, cutting the young man severely about the head and injuring his arm. Mrs. Prendegast received a severe shaking up, but so far as can be ascertained at present, she suffered no serious injury.

A brakeman of the freight train remained with the victims while the train proceeded on to Waterville to allow the express train, waiting there to pass, to come ahead, bringing with it medical aid.

Lord's ambulance had been summoned and conveyed the two people to the Sherbrooke Hospital, where they are at present under the care of Dr. George Hume.

LOUIS MAGNAN DIED AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Shot in Leg While Out Hunting with Friend.

Shot in the hip while out shooting with a few friends in the vicinity of Barford, Louis Philippe Magnan, a young lad of eighteen years of age, received such serious injuries that it was found necessary to amputate his leg. He was unable to survive the operation as the loss of blood sustained, at the time of the accident, had weakened his condition considerably.

The bullet severed the main artery in the leg and the loss of blood was very considerable. It was purely an accident and was due to one of his companions allowing his rifle to go off unavoidably. The young lad was immediately brought into Sherbrooke and taken to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital where it was found that gangrene had developed and an immediate amputation was the only possibility of saving his life.

The operation was successfully carried out but the loss of blood sustained had weakened young Magnan to such an extent that he was unable to survive the ordeal and he passed away yesterday afternoon around four o'clock. Arrangements were subsequently made for the removal of the body to Barford where the funeral will be held from the lad's home.

Arrangements for the annual competition at the rifle ranges on Saturday afternoon for the Sparring Shield, emblematic of the company championship of the First Sherbrooke Regiment, have been practically completed. Active preparations are being made for the baseball dance which will be held in the Armoury tomorrow evening. This dance is being organized for the benefit of the baseball club and a large number of tickets have already been distributed throughout the city.

A special feature in connection with the dance tomorrow evening will be the numbers prepared by the members of the baseball club. There are several good singers, violin players and other artists on the line-up, and the event promises to be a very successful one, particularly so if Sherbrooke is leading in the series with Three Rivers.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE.

A meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held last Tuesday evening. A large number of members were present with Mrs. H. W. Mulvena, president, in the chair. The meeting was opened in the usual way. Committees were formed to carry on the objects of the League, such as child welfare, social service work, etc. Many and valuable were the suggestions made by the president which, it is expected, will produce good results.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, after which the members all joined in wishing the president "Bon Voyage," as she was leaving the following day for Winnipeg, Man., as a delegate to the convention of the Catholic Women's League now being held in that city. The meeting then adjourned till the second week in October.

ECHO OF SUPERIOR COURT CASE.

John D. Kennedy, of Montreal, formerly of Sherbrooke, was arrested yesterday on a charge of theft by conversion and taken to the local jail pending the hearing of his case before Judge J. H. Lemay in the District Magistrate's court.

It is understood that the complaint has been laid by Mr. Henry Veulleux and is in connection with the recent decision rendered in the Superior Court when Kennedy and Veulleux were jointly held responsible for the payment of a sum of $763.23 to the Fireman's Insurance Company, with headquarters at San Francisco.

Kennedy, formerly the Company's agent, was held responsible for not turning over certain amounts to the Company and on his refusal to make good the Company took action against Henry Veulleux who had signed a bond for $1,000 in favor of Kennedy.

Veulleux is now taking action against Kennedy and has charged him with theft by conversion. Mr. C. C. Cabana is appearing for Mr. Veulleux. Bail has been placed at $5,000.

TIME CHANGES ON OCTOBER FIRST

On Sunday, October 1st, most sections of this country which have been operating under "daylight saving" time throughout the summer months will turn their clocks back an hour to continue for the remainder of the year on standard time.

The city of Montreal will go back to the old time on the same date, and the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways will make certain changes in the schedules to allow for the changed time. Most of the large cities in the United States have already gone back to the old time, and the American railroads have also made the change in their schedules.

"That is the true cocoa color."

It's Baker's Cocoa

THE problem in making cocoa is to preserve the natural flavor, aroma and color of good cocoa beans; to eliminate the excess of fat, so that the cocoa may be easily digested by the most delicate stomach, yet not to take out too much and materially impair its nutritive quality.

By the exercise of great care in the selection and blending of beans, and by the employment of the most highly developed machinery and processes of manufacture we believe that we have solved this problem and produced a

"Seeing that it's all so utterly ended and done with," he said, "may I—may I ask you a question, Jean?"
"Yes." He leaned his elbow on the mantelshelf. He looked down at her with wistful eyes.
"Did you—did you ever—really care? Or... or was it... was it just to see what you could do with me?" he asked.
The little flush had long since died away from Jean's face. She was quite white now as she answered him steadily enough.
"I don't think that I ever cared for anybody—except you. I was going to break with—Gavin—the night he had the accident."
She drew back quickly as he made a movement towards her. "No—no, please don't. It's too late. It's—it's too late. I've promised him—and—and I can't go back now."
He turned away, standing so that she could not see his face, and there was a long silence. Presently he moved—he roused himself with a sigh, stretching his arms as if he were very weary.
"Well—I suppose we must go and make ourselves look respectable," he said laconically. He was just his ordinary, casual self once more, there was rather a hard look in his eyes.
Jean's heart seemed to die within her. She had told him that it was too late, and yet she almost hated him for taking her at her word—for attempting no persuasion, no remonstrance.
She turned away without a word and left him standing there.
She tried to believe that she did not really care for Robin; tried to believe that she would not be happy even if she married him; tried to believe that he would always bully her and order her about.
"And I should take that," she told herself, but she knew that all the time she would love it.
She would rather that Robin were rude to her than that Gavin Dawson should lie down for her to walk over him. Once or twice during dinner she looked at him furtively. There was something about the severe lines of his face that were a thousand times more handsome to her than Gavin's curly hair; something in his laugh—in the way he spoke... she looked away from him. Was she going to feel like this all her life? she asked herself hopelessly. Was she always going to want Robin, even when miles and miles of sea and land divided them?
She lay awake half the night tortured with thoughts of the future; she did not cry—she felt as if all the tears of her heart had been burnt up in one great flame of intolerable misery.
She did not see Robin again till— as Jummy put it—"the party had come." She knew he had been out all the morning, probably with Pansy. Sometimes she wished that there were no eight days to drag through—wished that she could wake up and find it ended—find that Robin had gone, without the awful parting having ever been connected at all. She took special pains with her dress that afternoon; she wore a new velvet frock of dead-leaved brown that suited her perfectly; she had bought new little velvet slippers to match.
"It's awfully extravagant; of course!" she admitted to the admiring Pansy. "But... well—they'll come in for—afterwards!"
"For the trousseau!" Pansy chuckled. Lucky girl! Jean! I'll take you along to my own particular, shall I? She's a marvel; she'll make you absolutely fit, and give me a commission on the order, too," she added frankly.
Gavin was ever so much better; she had seen him for a few minutes that morning, had he been well enough to be irritable because Jummy's party would prevent her spending the afternoon with him. "Botheration take the kid!" he said sharply when she explained how disappointed Jummy would be if she deserted him at the last moment. She tried to forget that he had said that; it had been hard work not to answer him angrily.
She looked across at Jummy now—Jummy rampant in a white sailor suit and patent shoes—the centre of a throng of small boys and girls, who were all talking and laughing at once. She swooped down upon him; she felt somehow as if she must be extra nice to him that afternoon to make up for those words of Gavin's, even though Jummy would never know that they had been said.
When Robin came downstairs she was playing Blind Man's Buff with a silk handkerchief bound over her eyes.
Jummy pounced upon Robin and dragged him into the scrimmage. The game, as played under his direction, seemed to be how to get caught as quickly as possible—not how to avoid being caught!
Lillian looked on laughingly; she had spoken truthfully enough when she said that children frightened her. She could not understand how Jean and Robin could be so thoroughly at home amongst them. Once, when Robin came across to her for a moment, she said: "You and Jean ought to get married, Robin. Why, you're just made for each other! I can't think why I never realized it before."
Robin looked across to where Jean was pretending that she had not the very least idea whom she had caught, and he said: "Thanks!" he said in a queer voice.
Lillian looked startled. "Why, Robin!" she said, but he had gone.
He was the life and the soul of the party. As soon as the small people wearied of one game, he found another more exciting one to replace it. After tea he dressed up as Father Christmas and distributed the presents of the Christmas-tree. He played Nuts and May as if it were a matter of the most vital importance as to who won; he played "I sent a letter to my love and the way I dropped it" as if his very life depended on the recovery of the letter in question; he held hands with Jean for Oranges and Lemons and won the final tug-of-war against desperate odds.
"I haven't worked so hard for years," he said breathlessly, sitting down on the stairs for a moment's rest.
"But you're thoroughly enjoying it—you know you are!" Jean accused him, laughing. She was enjoying it, too; she had forgotten everything for the time being, except the fun of the moment. "I know I was fearfully excited over that tug-of-war, and I still don't believe that you won fairly."

105 YEARS OLD AND STILL GARDENS AND CUTS WOOD

Lawrence Johnston of Avon, Ont., Was a Real Pioneer.

LAWRENCE JOHNSTON, who was 105 years old on August 11th last, is without doubt the oldest person in Middlesex county and one of the oldest in Canada. He lives in the village of Avon in a tidy little home to which is attached half an acre of garden which he works himself. He takes special pride in his garden and raises more fruit and vegetables than he can use.

Mr. Johnston was born on August 11, 1817, in the village of Charlotteville, near Port Rowan, but spent his youth in Bayham township, Elgin county. At the age of 21, a year after the Mackenzie rebellion which he remembers well, his parents bought him a farm in North Dorchester township near what is now the village of Avon. It was just bush. To get there he walked 22 miles carrying all his belongings on his back, 40 pounds of flour, a 10-pound pack, 5 pounds of butter, an axe, a rifle and a heavy quilt. As it was spring he tapped trees to obtain sap to mix with the flour to make bread.

At the end of two days' trip he started to build his own shanty. He was alone in the bush. There were no roads, no people near. He cleared his own farm, cut his own roads, built his own stables and barn. He was a good shot and kept himself supplied with fresh meat from the wild fowl and deer that abounded.

He lived several years alone before marrying Miss Mary Eliza Barr of North Dorchester. They were married thirty years when she died. Some years later he married again, his second wife being Miss Margaret Baccus, who is still living, aged 73.

Mr. Johnston attributes his long life to clean living. He has no bad habits unless his pipe may be so called. His senses are unimpaired. Only his eyes are somewhat dim. He cuts his own wood and makes trips daily to the corner where the rural delivery mail boxes are assembled. He has still a vivid recollection of the Mackenzie rebellion of 1837.

Mr. Johnston is a Conservative and never misses a chance to vote.

Wrong Party Might Have Heard Liberal Secrets

When Murray Strolled Into the Enemy's Office.

A NEW story about Hon. G. H. Murray is being told in the rotunda of the Halifax Hotel where nightly the premier of Nova Scotia is wont to be found, surrounded by friends under a canopy of tobacco smoke.

Hon. G. H. Murray.

Recently in Ottawa Mr. Murray stalked into the office in the new parliament buildings which the architects had designated for the prime minister.

"Good morning," said Mr. Murray to the secretary there.

"Glad to see you on the job. Glad to see somebody's on the job."

This latter was a reference to the quietude of Ottawa on a holiday. Mr. Murray then spoke of the weather and made some unimportant observations on politics. After which he said:

"Get me D. D. McKenzie on the phone, will you?"

When the secretary had to look up D. D.'s phone number Mr. Murray began to wonder.

"You haven't been with the premier long, have you?" he asked.

"No, not for some past," answered the secretary.

"What? Isn't this the premier's office?"

"No, sir, this is Mr. Meighen's office. It was intended for the premier, but Mr. King preferred to remain in his old room upstairs."

Mainly About People

Sarah, Grown Old, Goes Back to Her Own People

Bernhardt, Born Jewish, Regrets Neglect of the Race.

IT is not generally known that Sarah Bernhardt, though she has adhered to the Roman Catholic Church practically all her life, was born a Jewess. The "Divine Sarah" of France has recently given an interview to Miss Rooof of the New York Herald, in which the aged veteran of the dramatic stage declares deeply that she regrets her neglect of her own people for so many years. Born in Paris in 1844 of Dutch Jewish parents, Sarah Bernhardt, while still a child, was received into the Roman Catholic Church at the request of her father. In turning, after a long absence, towards the Jewish fold she made the following statement:

"On the threshold of my eightieth year, I am impelled to review my feelings. I now believe that I have given the French people more than I was entitled to give, and to the Jewish people much less than it had the right to demand of me. I gave my soul to French art.

"What I did, others could also do for the French people. But there is a people for which I alone could have done something and I have failed to do it. I refer to the Jewish people, who are my people. To them the product of my mind has always belonged and I have given it to the French. Thus I must review my position. I cannot die confessing I have loved the whole world, but my own people I have not loved! I know now how long I have got to live, but I have still time to waken an old love to new life. I should again like to love the Jewish people as I did as a child, and to work for its welfare as I worked for myself and for French art. I go to America and shall devote the results of my tournee to the Jewish Home."

A "JUBILEE" MEANT LITTLE TO "MOUNTIES"

One of Whom Was Colonel Cecil E. Morgan.

COL. CECIL E. MORGAN, of St. Catharines, well known throughout the province of Ontario for his excellent work in connection with the Garden City chamber of commerce, and the Royal Canadian Henley, has during his lengthy and varied career spent in the four corners of the world accumulated a rich and extensive hoard of anecdotes and stories of the first water.

Col. Morgan was at one time a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police; in fact he was one of the pioneers of that famous force.

During the year 1887, shortly after Queen Victoria's Jubilee, two lone mounties, of whom he was one, centered up to a small settlement in southern Alberta. It was particularly noticeable that the men were conspicuous by their absence, and upon investigation it was found that they had become possessed of a keg of whiskey, whereupon they had assembled in the bunkhouse, and there they were found much the worse for their absconding. Upon being interrogated regarding the why-for of the festive occasion, one cowpuncher not so drunk as the rest retorted, "Oh, this is a jubilee."

"Jubilee," said the mounties incredulously, for that term was by no means common in those days.

"Sure," returned the cowpuncher, "Somebody has been doin' something for fifty darned years. Have a drink, boys."

Senator's Wife Sweeps

HAVING aided her husband in his campaign for renomination to the U. S. senate, the wife of Senator R. M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, the notorious filibustering senator who opposed the peace treaty, takes up household tasks again, starting with the verandah, which had probably been neglected during her absence campaigning. "Mother" La Follette is great for tidying up.

The King in Kilts is a Good Highlander

HIS MAJESTY dons the tartan when he is up at Balmoral Castle, Scotland, for the shooting. He is here seen enquiring about the progress of the wound.

The Cat May Not Have Enjoyed the Idea, But It Certainly Secured the Dutchman's Apples

No Need to Be Bitten by a Dog When Robbing an Orchard, John Adams Proves.

WHEN ex-Ald. John Adams of Toronto was a schoolboy in his home village of Norwich, Oxford county, he had a penchant for leading a foray into the orchard owned by a local Dutchman. In order to head off these foraging expeditions, the latter procured a vicious-looking bulldog. For some days the dog well served his purpose; he was on duty every time the youthful foraging expedition approached the orchard fence. But necessity is the mother of invention to boys as well as to men. And it was very necessary that John Adams and his companions should get the Dutchman's apples. Their stomachs just craved for them.

"There," explained young Adams, as he took a black cat from under the folds of his coat. "This is going to get us the Dutchman's apples." Everybody snickered in derision. "How was a cat going to get apples?" But when John, with the cat under his arm, scaled the fence, his companions followed, although it was with fear and trepidation. When well into the orchard the fearsome bulldog was espied bounding toward them at full speed.

"Keep together and don't move," commanded John. And then, as the growling dog came within a few yards of the frightened group, John Adams revealed his plan. He threw the cat as

"Sic him, Caesar," he yelled. "Sic him."

John accordingly set his brain to work out a plan that would circumvent the activities of the orchard-guarding bulldog. And as in the days of his manhood he showed an aptitude, while a resident of both Brandon and Toronto, for working out successfully political undertakings, so he finally hit upon a workable plan in this particular instance.

"Say, fellows," he exclaimed one evening to a group of his followers, "I've got a scheme for getting into the Dutchman's orchard."

"What is it?" they all in unison demanded.

"Meet me at the orchard at five o'clock and I'll show you."

At the appointed hour the foragers were on duty.

far as he could, and, addressing the dog, yelled, "Sic-um, Caesar, sic-um." The plan worked like a charm. And while the dog gave its attention to the cat, which had taken refuge in a near-by tree, John Adams and his companions took to other trees, filled their pockets and shirt bosoms with luscious apples, and before Caesar had tired in his efforts to get the cat had scampered back over the fence to neutral territory. As the same plan worked on subsequent occasions, the youthful foragers were never at a loss for a supply of the Dutchman's fruit.

Of all ex-Ald. Adams' successful achievements in life, this is the only one about which he is disposed to boast.—W. L. E.

BRISCO'S IRISH BULL CHINESE AND FEMININE

These Things Happen When a Mayor Is Eloquent.

FRED. H. BRISCO, of Chatham, Ontario, came into province-wide prominence as leader of the municipal movement against higher natural gas rates. An evidence of his popularity in his home town is the fact that he was the first man in something like twenty years to hold the Chatham mayoralty for two successive terms.

On one occasion his position as chief magistrate of Chatham required Mayor Brisco to address a gathering of the Kuo Min Tang—signifying the Chatham branch of the Chinese Nationalist Party.

It was a gala occasion. The lodge-rooms were crowded with slant-eyed Orientals and a sprinkling of whites, Senator Proudfoot was present to elucidate the objects of the Kuo Min Tang, and prominent speakers, both Chinese and Occidental, vied with one another in eloquence. As befitting the occasion, Mayor Brisco was felicitously congratulatory—and no one can be more congratulatory when the occasion demands. His peroration worked up to a forlorn climax something like this:

"I congratulate the officers of this fine organization of the Chinamen of the Maple City. I go further, I congratulate all the Chinamen. And most of all—he paused, impressively—"I congratulate the lady Chinamen."

"Something of a she-bull," whispered an irreverent Occidental in one of the back seats. But the Chinese—ladies included—never even smiled.

HAD LOST HIS ACCENT

LORD LEVERHULME tells the story of a Scotsman who was introduced to an American in London.

The first chapter of this series began in an insurance office, where he obtained his first job, that of office boy. "I ain't workin', sir!" he answered.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Young Falconer Failed to Clear Away His Doubt

When Students Wakened the Echoes of Edinburgh.

SIR ROBERT FALCONER, president of Toronto University, was a student at Edinburgh along with his brother, Professor J. W. Falconer, of the Presbyterian College, Halifax; Rev. A. S. Morton, of Saskatchewan University; Rev. J. C. Robertson, D.D., of Toronto, and others, all well-known Canadians. One day a number of these college chums thought they would like to test for themselves the famed echoes of Arthur's Seat, one of the high hills near that city. It was soon arranged and at midnight the party was at the spot testing the wonderful echoes with curious and increasingly loud calls.

Suddenly, as if arising out of the ground, a burly Highlander in police uniform appeared and demanded explanation of the disturbance. Robert Falconer acted as spokesman for the party and in a sincere and straightforward manner stated the case.

"Who are you?" demanded the officer.

"We are students from the university."

Possibly he imagined that they were science students that they should be engaged in such research. "Students of what?" said he.

"Of theology," was the answer.

"What, going into the ministry?"

"We hope to."

With a friendly wave of the hand he left them with this parting word, "Yes, and I hope I'll live till you all get charges."

CLARK'S VIEW OF PROHIBITION BEER

Sam Did Not Agree With the Previous Member.

THERE are few members of the Ontario legislature who command a more attentive audience when they take the floor than does Sam Clark who has represented West Northumberland in the House for more than a quarter of a century. Mr. Clark ranks second only to Hon. Thomas Crawford, in length of continuous service; and, if Mr. Crawford is the father of the House, Sam can surely lay claim to being its uncle.

Sam Clark, M.P.P.

Sam neither orates nor makes a speech, when he rises to his feet; he simply talks; but the House listens to his talking, where it ignores the perfunctory eloquence of a dozen others. An utterance of Sam's during a temperance debate last session is worthy of recall. The occasion arose when certain Labor and other members voiced a demand for stronger beer.

"I don't know," Sam confessed. "One honorable member said, in effect, that it was impossible to get full on two and a half per cent. beer. I don't agree with him. It is certainly possible to get full on it. It's impossible to get drunk on it, but that's another matter."

Greatest Hero as Carpenter

SERGENT SAMUEL WOODFILL, who was picked by Gen. Pershing as the "greatest (American) single hero of the world war," found it impossible on his pay as a U.S. regular army sergeant to meet the payments on his little home at Fort Thomas, Ky., so he gave up his military job and has gone to work as a carpenter. Woodfill was gazetted a major during the war, but after the armistice re-enlisted as a sergeant. He was pall-bearer at the burial of the unknown American soldier at Arlington.

NEW AMERICAN TARIFF AND THE DAIRY INDUSTRY IN THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.

The Fordney-McCumber tariff went into force last week. From the press reports it appears that it was signed with pleasure and confidence by President Harding, but its strong protective features do not give rise to the same feelings in struggling industrial Europe. Whatever it may do for the United States it is calculated to make it harder for the Allies in Europe to pay back the loans they owe on this side of the water.

Canada is hit also, and chiefly in her farm products. It is an opportune time, therefore, for the farmers of Canada to consider what adjustments may be necessary for the finding of other markets for those products which have moved more or less freely to the neighboring Republic.

As for the Eastern Townships, perhaps the greatest injury is that which will be caused by the new duties on milk and milk products. For some years now a considerable trade has been developing in the shipment of cream to Boston and other New England markets. This, it would appear, will be practically killed by the new duty of twenty cents on the gallon. It is true, of course, that the cream can be turned into butter here, but the duty on butter has been raised, by the Fordney-McCumber tariff, from six to eight cents per pound. It is believed that the increase is the last straw against profitable export of butter to the United States.

It has been noted, however, by farmers and cream shipping concerns that the duty on cream is based on quantity, namely, twenty cents per gallon. The farmer sells his cream by another measure, namely, the butter fat test. It is possible that the situation may be met by making the cream a little thicker, that is, a little less in quantity, and a little richer in butter fat. The farmer would not lose, the duty would be less, though some thinning process would likely have to be applied before distribution.

The effect of these new tariff regulations upon the dairy interests of this country will, nevertheless, be serious.

It is practically certain that for a time at least there will be over-production for the home market. The old and high reputation of Eastern Townships butter may give this section of the Dominion a decided advantage in the competition, but too much reliance might easily be placed on this factor. It would be preferable to open up the whole question for consideration in the broader light of the possibility of export to Great Britain and other countries.

Fifty years ago, in the days of the home dairies, Eastern Townships butter had a great name in Toronto and other Ontario markets. This fact encouraged one dealer to ship one thousand tubs to England, on trial. The English dealer had the greatest difficulty in disposing of it. His statement was that many of the tubs, indeed most, were better than any that ever came out of Denmark, but for the purposes of shipment to the different cities of England they were indescribable by any definite trade names. Danish butter, on the other hand, though inferior, was definitely uniform in three grades; so uniform that the child of the workingman, sent to the grocery for a pound of "Danish No. 3," knew exactly what it would taste like.

When, in the nineties and later, the creameries became common, it was hoped that definite "marking" by the Government would enable Canadian butter to compete with Danish in the English market. Unfortunately, however, when the Dominion Government proposed to undertake that grading and marking for export purposes, the outcry was so great that the plan had to be abandoned.

Some kind of uniform production, however, for export purposes could yet be obtained by co-operation on the part of the creameries of the Eastern Townships, and thus replace in Great Britain the market that is being lost in the United States.

On all these questions the Record will welcome expressions of opinion from all concerned. This very important Eastern Townships industry will benefit by a full discussion of the prevailing conditions.

NINETY MILLIONS A YEAR.

As one result of its nation-wide investigation concerning the sale of gasoline, the National Motorists' Association of the United States declares that the public is cheated out of $90,000,000 a year. The short measure discovered amounts to one quart of gasoline to every five gallons sold, and the shortage results from the imperfect mechanism of the pumps through which the greater portion of the gasoline is served. It goes without saying that there are $90,000,000 that should not be added to the already high cost of motoring.

The Governments have enacted laws fixing standard measures. These laws apply to almost every commodity that is sold by measure. To insure full measure periodical inspection is made. The laws however, it is said, do not apply to gasoline pumps. The National Motorists' Association will seek legislation in the States to secure full measure and periodical inspection to maintain it. To do so they will go to both Congress and the Legislatures of the several States.

COLLEGE EDUCATION PAYS.

College campuses have blossomed forth in the early autumn with a brilliant crop of green, perhaps the only example of nature's handwork which does don a coat of green at the time of the first frost. Thousands of boys and girls as well, products of last June's high school and preparatory school graduating classes, have entered upon the most important period of their education. Their motives for entering college are many and varied, and range from the desire to "make" the football team to spending four years in what seems a prison where learning is forced upon unwilling neophytes in allopathic doses. It is only fair that the freshmen should know what he is going to receive in college and to what extent he will be benefited.

His association in a more or less intimate friendship with members of the college faculty should beget in him a proper respect for intellectual prowess. He will meet men who through long devotion think their lines of work outside all others. Thus a capacity for judgment is formed in discerning the more important from other degrees of importance. Tradition gives the faculty collectively and individually the characters of tyrants and oppressors who make the otherwise pleasant days of college life drudgery and torture. But any man several years out of college can look back with pleasant smiles to some one or two professors whose guidance and kindly encouragement have made hard roads easy.

Constant mingling with his kind in all manner of college and extra-college activities has a large effect upon the forming of character in the young student. A man who can meet men upon a common ground of intelligence and good judgment, discuss the problems of the day in the manner which he learned in college circles, stands higher in the opinions of his fellows. But character and personality without learning do not constitute a college education, nor does a pedantic belief that "book knowledge" is sufficient. Athletics, class room mental vigor and campus activities all contribute toward the finished product of a college graduate. A college man has learned to think, to concentrate upon a question and delve into myriads of conglomerate facts and extract those applicable to the subject. It is unfair to demand that a college man upon his graduation should at once step into a position which another has spent four years in reaching. But the college man should attain that position more rapidly and fill it better by reason of his training.

TODAY'S A HOLIDAY.

September 27, 1922.

Conquest of England.

Just as the Lady Godiva of the annual procession in Coventry, England, is usually impersonated in modern times by a burlesque actress, so in Falaise, France, the formerly impressive pageant of the conquest of England, which holds forth for three days starting today, has become a mere tinsel-show for the entertainment of the mob, and lacks largely in historic accuracy.

Yet it has not lost its picturesque quality. Tomorrow, September 28th, is the anniversary of the landing of William of Normandy on British shores. It was on October 14th—what year, children? Yes, 1066, that's it—that the Battle of Hastings was fought, and the Norman became the conqueror.

Knights in chain armor, astride horses little used to such acoutrement, brave papier mache ships, the triumphant march of William, the slaying of Harold, the ascension of the throne,—all this in a bewildering melee during which drums rattle, bands play, the crowds interrupt the procession and the benevolent inn-keepers await the end of the pageant.

For the Falaise folk and the visitors, the real fun comes with the free ale and cakes, free feasting on the fatted oxen of the countryside, free fireworks and a general collection for the poor of the parish. Falaise is the birthplace of William the Conqueror, and he remains its most distinguished son.

PRESS COMMENT

PROHIBITIVE TARIFF BARRIERS.

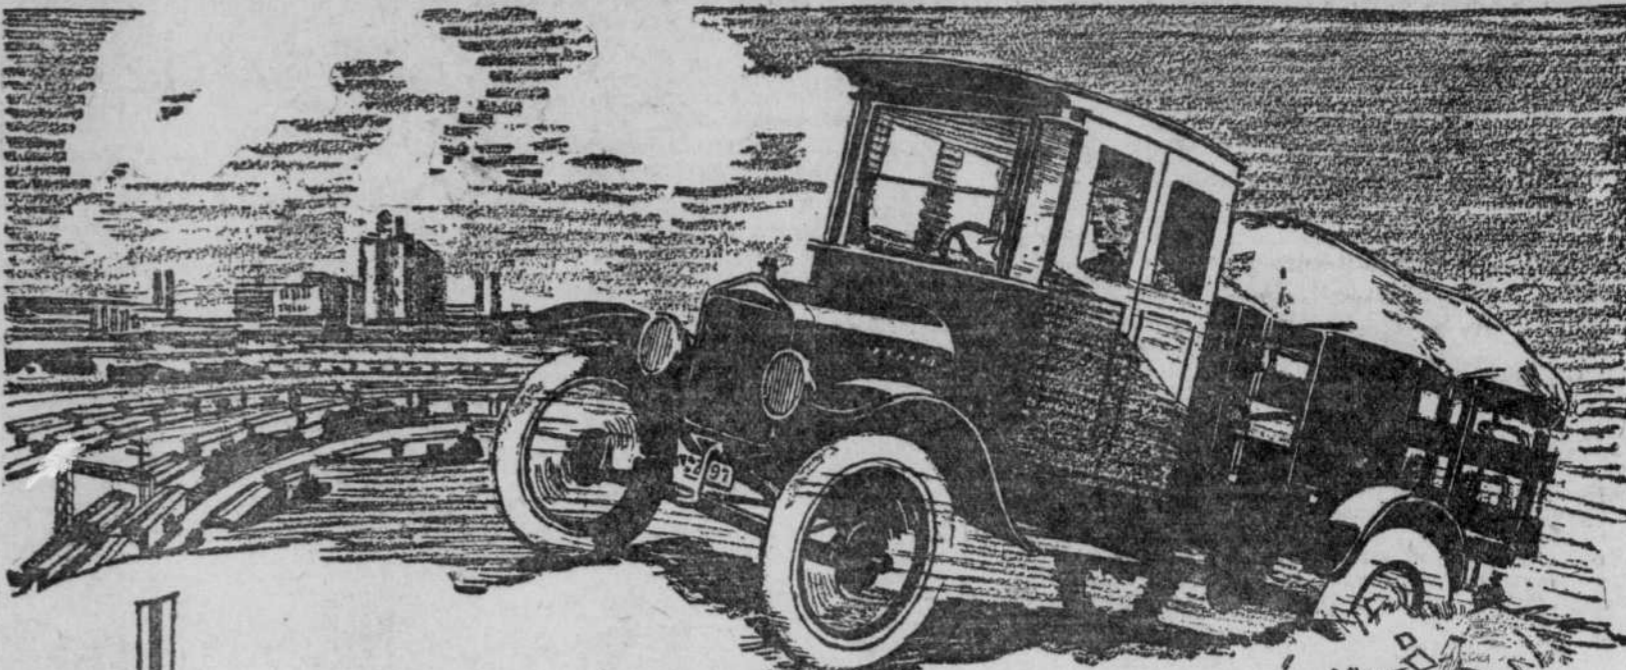

(Halifax Chronicle.)
 The power given to the President to vary rates, in the "flexible" provisions of the United States tariff, may involve a dangerous principle, but it may leave the door open for reciprocity negotiations with Canada. The folly of maintaining almost prohibitive tariff barriers against their second-best customer will appeal in time to even the high-protectionist Senators.

EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN.

(Christian Science Monitor.)
 The emancipation of women is spreading to the farthest corners of the world. In Burma, for example, under the new Constitution, women have been given equal rights with men. Then again, a league of university women has been organized quite recently in Austria, while Persian women have made a wonderful advance toward freedom, being now allowed to show their faces without fear of dire consequences. Surely the world is progressing!

AMERICA'S CURSE.

(Boston Transcript.)
 The National Police Conference, held in New York the other day, listened to some very suggestive words from Chief Magistrate William McAdoo of that city. This gentleman, whose experience at the head of the magistracy of a great city has qualified him to speak on subjects connected with crime and with police control, and who before his magistracy was for a time Police Commissioner of New York, ridiculed the common idea that the honest citizen needs a pistol to enable him to protect himself against hold-ups. "I have been held up myself," said the Magistrate, "and if I had been carrying twenty pistols they would have been of no use to me." He called the pistol the "curse of America," and so it is. Its defensive use bears but a slight proportion to its offensive use. Its record is 90 per cent destructive and criminal.

This action of the directors took the street by surprise and the stock was anxiously watched for favorable developments at the opening of the market this morning. Its action then in opening 2 3-4 points below its close resulted in considerable excitement. A few sales were registered at 48 1-2 when the stock went down another quarter points to 58 1-4. Other paper issues were also weaker, Price Brothers falling off a half to 43, Brompton a quarter to 33 1-4, and Howard Smith a point to 80. Other issues were firm.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Tribune—Up to the close of the market the nature of the news from the Near East was of such nature that outside traders were disinclined to make commitments. Journal of Commerce—Conflicting reports concerning the Turkish outlook tended to affect the market, and the announcement that the U.S. was in sympathy with the Allied terms late in the day was favorably regarded. Wall Street Journal—Apparently stop loss orders had been largely eliminated by the previous week's sharp setbacks. No liquidation of any consequence resulted from the professional attacks. ly dealings, continued uncertainty as to likelihood of a clash between the British and the Turks having a noticeable bullish influence. Buying, however, especially at the start, was checked by the fact that Liverpool quotations failed to reflect any uneasiness. On the other hand, predictions that the Lake sailors' strike would bring about increased demand for United States wheat at the Gulf of Mexico in particular tended somewhat to stimulate demand. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to half cent lower, with December at $1.04 to $1.04 1/2 and May at $1.08 to $1.08 1/2 was followed by a material upturn all around. Corn and oats moved up a little with wheat. After opening 1/4 cent off to a like advance, with December at 59 1/2 to 59 3/4 cents the market scored a slight general upturn. Oats started 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 cent higher, with December at 36 1/2 to 36 3/4 cents, and later showed gains for all deliveries. Provisions were steady guarded by the course of the hog market.

NEHF SHOWED EXCELLENT FORM AGAINST CARDS

McGraw Will Hereafter Give His Regulars a Breathing Spell in Preparation for Big Series.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Free from pennant worries after one of the most strenuous campaigns in their career, the New York Giants wound up the battle against western opposition by taking the final game of the series from the St. Louis Cardinals by 6 to 3, behind Nehf's steady twirling.

It was the third defeat in four games for St. Louis and showed them back to fourth place, while Cincinnati, trouncing Philadelphia by 15 to 8 climbed to the third position.

Indication that Nehf has practically recovered from the effects of a foot injury which checked his effectiveness earlier in the season was regarded as an important factor in the Giants' world's series chances. The southpaw held the heavy hitting Cardinals scoreless in all but two innings, and used perfect control.

Nehf, although beaten twice by Hoyt, of the Yankees, in last year's series, twirled brilliantly both times and in his third start turned in the deciding victory by outpitching Hoyt in the eighth game, by 1 to 0.

The Giants play a double-header today with Philadelphia at the Polo Grounds and McGraw plans to call on his reserve forces, after giving the regulars a brief work-out.

The Yankees, within a game of clinching the American League title, hope to place the race beyond all doubt by winning from Boston tomorrow in the first of a three game series with the Red Sox. They hold a lead of three and a half games over St. Louis and with four more contests to play, need only a single victory to eliminate the mathematical uncertainty yet existing.

Dazzy Vance achieved his eighteenth victory of the season while the Dodgers pounded two Boston twirlers to win 12 to 5, in the only other Major League game played yesterday.

Nine home runs in the three games played brought the season's total for both leagues to 1,028 close to 100 more than last year's record crop of 937 circuit blows.

THREE RIVERS SERIES OPENS TODAY. Baseball fans are anticipating the series between Three Rivers and Sherbrooke, which will open this afternoon at 5.15 p.m. sharp.

The series consists of the best four out of seven and the championship of the Province of Quebec is at stake. The Three Rivers team clinched the championship of the Eastern Canada Baseball League while the locals trimmed the Montreal "Royals."

The Sherbrooke management has the same team that has been on duty throughout the season, although Wilfrid Chartier and Granai have both left to complete their studies.

Mayor Morris, K.C., has undertaken to throw the first ball in the opening game this afternoon, and a large number of stores have arranged for their employees to get off early this afternoon and tomorrow in order to take in the games.

The Three Rivers team have a strong pitching staff, which includes Kimball, Landry and Grenier, while the locals will rely upon Hunt, Buckland and Thormahlen.

FOOTBALL

GARRISON TRAVEL TO BEEBE SATURDAY.

The Garrison Football Club travels to Beebe again on Saturday to replay the semi-final of the Sherbrooke Hospital Charity Cup. These two teams met a couple of weeks ago, but six minutes before the close of play, Garrison left the field with Beebe leading one to nothing. Objection was raised to the referee, who was claimed to be one of the Beebe players, though actually hailing from Ottawa.

Beebe will have the services of Chalmers and one or two others for this game, and it promises to be an exceptionally keen contest. Both teams are capable of playing good clean football and it is hoped that this is the kind of game that will be played on Saturday. The winners of this game meet Sherbrooke the following week in the finals.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS GIVEN AT GRANBY

Rev. Mr. Pierce Discussed the Possibility of War in the Near East—Other General News.

GRANBY, Sept. 27.—The Rev. I. W. Pierce, pastor of the Congregational Church, Granby, who during the entire period of the Great War was interned with his family in Turkey, gave a most interesting sermon on Sunday morning last on the subject of "The Possibility of War in the Near East," or to put it in a truer and more serious form, "The Possibility of War Between the Christian and Islamic Worlds," a calamity that will surpass every horror of warfare known to humanity, if it should ever come to pass, for it will be a war in which unrestrained massacre and crime will far outweigh anything that was ever reported from the fields of Northern France or Belgium. Rev. Mr. Pierce said:

"Four short years ago it was my experience to travel northward out of Syria with the retreating armies of Turkey, which had been smashed to pieces by the final drive of General Allenby. It was the first time in my experience that I had ever felt the feeling of compassion or pity toward the Turk. But the sights we saw upon that occasion would have wrung pity from any human heart. Forlorn, ragged, starving, and utterly demoralized, the strength of Turkey seemed forever at an end. But lo! within these same four short years these smashed battalions of the Ottoman Empire have reorganized an army of two or three hundred thousand, wonderfully equipped, with tanks, aeroplanes and high explosives, and have finally overwhelmed their foes in brilliant fashion and now stand defying the world!

"A nation never at any time famous for its mental or material resources, but then utterly bankrupt in whatever little it did possess of either, has done this. How has this miracle been brought about? "Let us go back and review the events from the beginning. Before leaving Asia Minor in 1918 it was outwardly evident to anyone that all was not harmony between the French and English. I hope it is not altogether due to bias when I tell you that it was just as evident that the natives of the country, Jews, Christians and Mohammedans, desired the mandate of Great Britain and repudiated that of France. Public demonstrations were openly held in different cities and at different times to make this clear. Britain was undoubtedly the popular nation insofar as foreign nations were concerned.

"It became inevitable, therefore, that France would put forth some kind of effort to ingratiate herself with the Moslem population. There were signs of her doing this even in those early weeks following the armistice. The Moslems who had been our enemies in war began to receive all kinds of advantage and preference, and their old arrogance had much stimulus in those days. There were even criminal outrages that were left unpunished by the French authorities, because nothing must be done to give offense to the Moslem element of the country.

"But what has happened since? We can clearly follow the greater part of the trend of events through the newspapers. At the signing of the armistice with Turkey, France agreed to take over certain areas of Asia Minor to police and control. In chief, they consisted of two great provinces, Cilicia in the north and Syria in the south. Under secret arrangement with the Turks, and undoubtedly for the purpose of further ingratiating herself with the Turks, the French deliberately and gradually withdrew from Cilicia, leaving that whole district to the control of the Turks. I want to tell you, my brethren, just what this has meant. There were thousands and thousands of Christians in that area, many of whom fought under command of Allenby, and who fought shoulder to shoulder with the French troops in our allied cause, that were left to the mercy of the Turk. Thousands of them, with their families, have been massacred.

"I can tell you of one instance when, within the last two years, the French were defending a city against the Turkish forces, she or luncheon was served on the lawn under the shade of the large oak tree which was planted by King Edward. The match was the closest played on the local course this year, the result being in doubt until the last players came in, and although the local pair were "dormie two" they could do nothing better than square their match, leaving the College winners by 6 points to 5. ganized the Armenians in the city's defence and then within a few days, when it suited her purpose, withdrew and left the Armenian population again to be massacred.

"My brethren, do you think that God has any scores to settle with the nations of Europe?"

"But the complications have not ended there. France has steadily cultivated her friendship with the Turks. French officers have been found manning their airships against the Greeks; the famous French 75 calibre artillery gun has done effective work in the Turkish campaign. There is no way of accurately knowing, but common sense tells us that a campaign such as sustained by Mustapha Kemal Pasha in Anatolia for two years has cost millions of pounds sterling, to say nothing of a highly organized military leadership. Could a bankrupt nation of degenerates achieve such a miracle? It is absurd to say so.

"Of course I do not want you to think that I am blaming the French for it all. Italy has helped the Turks. Her jealousy over Greek influence in the Aegean Sea has caused her to carry provisions and munitions of war to the Turks. Britain practically holds dominant control of Constantinople. Germany has probably helped the Turks, and finally there are the Bolsheviks of Russia, ever ready to help anyone who will strive to upset the equilibrium of civilization.

"People are saying that the United States of America should have come into the world situation. She should have. I believe that with thousands of good Americans the Near East would not have been in the mess that it is today.

"I do not think we ought to let our own Empire escape in this general censure. The policy of Great Britain towards the Turk since the days of the Crimean War has not been one to make us very proud or happy if we sit down to think it over.

"God is pointing the finger of condemnation at us all, and frankly, I sometimes fear that even yet, amongst all the hard lessons He has been trying to teach us, He is still saving the hardest one of all for us. "We have had four great conferences since the armistice was signed, once at Versailles, one at Washington, one at Genoa, and another at The Hague, and only one—the one at Washington—did they open with prayer. It will only be when God is brought into the plans of the nations, and only when His aid and direction is sought and carried out, that nations shall cease to war with each other."

General Notes Rally Sunday was observed in the Methodist Church on Sunday last, with a good attendance of parents and children. The special programme arranged by a joint committee of the Sunday Schools of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational and Baptist Churches was used, and an interesting report of the missionary conference held at Knowlton this past summer was given by three young lady delegates who attended, viz., Miss Mary Laylor, Miss Ruth MacDonald and Miss

Beulah Collins. The Rev. Thomas Brown, pastor of the church, gave an inspiring address on "Our Part in Extending the Kingdom."

The Sunshine Club of the Congregational Church held its first meeting for the season at the home of Mrs. Hiram Darby, Elgin Street, on Monday evening. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the purchase of a memorial tablet. It was also decided to send a bag of four to a needy family. The subject for the evening being "The Browns." Mr. Palmer Cox, the originator of these funny little creatures, was present and gave some of his original poems. He also told of many of his experiences and gave a history of "The Browns," which was much appreciated by his hearers. The subject for the next meeting will be "Asbestos," and Misses McIntosh and England were appointed a committee to arrange the programme. Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. F. R. Fogarty, Mrs. George Skinner and Mrs. Fred Lynch, and the meeting adjourned.

On Friday evening last moving pictures were resumed at the Granby High School, much to the delight of the small children, who were present in large numbers. The Onward Class of the Methodist Sunday School, of which Mrs. A. E. Solomon is the faithful and efficient teacher, has organized for work for the coming winter, with the following officers: President, Mary Laylor; vice-president, Beulah Collins; secretary, Mary Taylor; treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Steele.

They intend to send a missionary box to China.

Dr. Aggrey, M.A., D.D., Professor of Livingston College, who will next spring take his LL.D. at Columbia University, will speak in the Congregational Church here next Monday, October 2. Dr. Aggrey is an African prince, his father being the king of the African Gold Coast. He is a convert to Christianity of one generation, and those who have heard him say he is a wonderful speaker. Miss Mildred Dozois left on Monday for a motor trip to Boston and other points.
