Nixon urges freedom

BERLIN (CP) — President Nixon flew into this four-power city today and told a welcoming crowd he came as a symbol of a fifth power—the determination of the people of Berlin to remain free.

He told a wildly cheering audience: "Today I declare to you again that we, the people of the United States, stand with you in the defence of freedom. And that fifth power to which I have referred—the power which is represented by the determination of free men to remain free—is stronger than any other power. This will prevail."

Nixon's three-hour visit to West Berlin brought the most enthusiastic welcome he has seen on his European tour as Berliners lined the pavement three or four deep along his route.

There were no immediate signs of threatened left-wing student demonstrations against the visit—which came during tense East-West manoeuvring over the status of the city.

SPEAKS TO TROOPS
After reviewing a parade of 3,000 U.S. troops—half the American garrison here—drawn up on the snow-covered Tempelhof Airfield, the president made an unscheduled second speech to the troops, the first since he has reviewed as president. Thanking the men for their service to freedom, he said: "You are here because of our desire, shared by the people of this country and this city, to defend their right to be free."

Then, after shaking hands with a wildly cheering group of American children, the president drove to the nearby airlift memorial—a three-pronged abstract structure symbolizing the three air corridors along which

Two-point plan gives fair the green light

MONTREAL (CP) — A two-point plan to enable Montreal to re-open its Man and His World exhibition this year was announced Wednesday by Lucien Saulnier, chairman of Montreal's executive committee.

Mr. Saulnier told a news conference the plan might involve a financial risk to the city of about $3,000,000. It would be presented to city council for ratification Friday with a recommendation from the executive committee that it be accepted.

Under the proposal the province would assume up to $5,500,000 of the operating deficit of the exhibition and the federal government would defer an equal amount from the monthly payments Quebec is making on its share of the Expo 67 deficit.

The second point in the proposal would spread repayment of Montreal's share of the Expo deficit over an eight-year period. The agreement was announced at the news conference here shortly after Prime Minister Trudeau made a similar announcement in the Commons.

RISK IS LIMITED
Mr. Saulnier said that on the basis of current estimates of exhibition revenues and expenditures, the city's financial risk would be limited to "approximately $5,000,000" provided exhibition employees accept "the working conditions which have been proposed to them."

The deficit for the 1969 operation of the fair could be as high as $8,500,000—of which the province would cover $5,500,000—but the deficit could be much lower if public response to the exhibition was good.

The deficit was more than $5,000,000 in the first season of operation last year. Opening and closing dates for this season as well as admission prices were to be announced Friday.

the Western Allies flew food and fuel to West Berliners during the 1948-49 Communist blockade.

There he placed a wreath to honor the pilots—41 Britons, 31 Americans and five Germans—who died in the airlift.

From the memorial the president drove through the city.

At one point big crowds pressed round the presidential car and Nixon stopped the motorcade, got out, and reached out among the Berliners to pump as many hands as he could.

INTRODUCE HUMOR
He got a touch of sardonic Berlin humor, too—placards urging him "Open the wall, Richard."

Nixon, accompanied by Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and Foreign Minister Willy Brandt, arrived at Tempelhof after a 50-minute flight from Bonn.

Mayor Klaus Schuetz and the three Allied commandants of the city were waiting to greet the president.

Schuetz told Nixon that an American president "is always at home in this city."

Nixon, in reply, said: "Especially now, when Berlin is being subjected to unjustified threats, I welcome this opportunity to show our unity with the people of Berlin."

Committee calls for reforms

QUEBEC (CP) — Sweeping reform of house rules was recommended in the national assembly Wednesday by a 14-man committee headed by Speaker Gerard Lebel.

The Liberal Opposition immediately announced agreement with the proposals, aimed at speeding up the legislative process.

But the Union Nationale government served notice that it wants to introduce at least one amendment before adoption of the rules committee report.

Under the recommendations, suggested on trial basis for this session:

1. The question period, duration of which now is unlimited, would last 30 minutes.
2. Members' speeches would be cut to 30 minutes from 60.
3. The "inaugural speech" debate and budget debate, both unlimited in the past, would last a maximum of 25 hours.
4. Appeals of the speaker's decisions could be made only when decisions involved main motions. Questions of privilege unrelated to house business would have to be cleared by the speaker.

5. The number of standing committees would be increased to 25 and the scope of such committees would be enlarged to include study of department spending.

PLAN COMMITTEES
With the exception of three, the standing committees would be established parallel to spending departments. The other three standing committees would be the committee on private and public bills, the public accounts committee and the committee of the national assembly.

The committee of the national assembly would serve as a steering committee of the legislature, preparing such things as a sessional calendar.

Several committees, such as the rules committee and the committee of elections and privileges, would be consolidated in the national assembly committee.

The standing committees also would be empowered to study regulations adopted by order-in-council, a field of government activity now unwatched by the assembly.

ACCEPT MOST PROPOSALS
Provincial Secretary Remi Paul, the government's acting house leader, said Union Nationale members agree with all but one recommendation.

Douglas faces charges of conspiracy to commit arson and damage property after a peaceful two-week occupation of the university computer centre became violent Feb. 11.

The occupation began Jan. 29 in protest over the makeup of a university committee hearing charges of racism brought against an assistant biology professor by six West Indian students.

Mr. Michener got out of his car, walked over to the students and tried to speak to them with Mrs. Michener immediately behind him.

The Canadian Governor-General raised his arms and appealed for silence. But the students pressed forward and continued shouting only a few inches away from his face.

After a few minutes the Governor-General and Mrs. Michener, visibly shaken, walked back to their car and continued on to Government House for a state dinner and reception.

The students said they were protesting against racial discrimination in Canada, particularly at Sir George Williams University in Montreal. Some 9 students, including about 40 West Indians, were arrested recently after a demonstration and burning of the university's computer centre.

The vice-chancellor of the University of the West Indies, Dudley Huggins, also met the Micheners at the gate.

MEMBER OF PC PARTY
In his application for bail, Mr. Lacaille described Douglas as a "card-carrying member of the Progressive Conservative party" and an acquaintance of John Diefenbaker.

Douglas had also "actively campaigned" for the Progressive Conservative party in the 1968 federal election.

MAKES PUBLIC
QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Wednesday he will make public three France-Quebec letters of intent if the French government has no objection.

Opposition Leader Jean Lesage asked for copies of the letters in the national assembly, saying he has the impression the expenditure of public money is involved.

Dominica government lays charges

MONTREAL (CP) — Formal complaints were laid Wednesday against a prosecuting lawyer for Sir George Williams University by government officials of the West Indian island of Dominica.

The government representatives complained through a Montreal lawyer that a transcript was made by police of a conversation they had with Roosevelt Douglas, 27, of Dominica, one of 87 persons charged in connection with a $2,000,000 damage spree at the university two weeks ago.

Pierre Lacaille, the lawyer defending Douglas, told Judge Emmett J. McNamara of Municipal Court that university prosecutor Claude Armand Sheppard had described before the court the conversation as a request by Douglas to have his countrymen organize "committees of agitation."

Salad Bar tea sponsored by the Kings Daughters held

RICHMOND — On Feb. 15, the King's Daughters of St. Anne's Church held their annual Salad Bar Tea in the church hall, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. On the walls were hung Valentine hearts and cupid, and the pillars were decorated with gay red and white bows. The same theme and colors were repeated in the centerpiece for the tea table and in the candles on all the tables.

Mrs. W. E. Walker and Mrs. W. H. Coles received the guests. Mrs. E. Knowles and Mrs. W. Mathews poured tea. Mrs. E. Duffy replenished the teapots. The kitchen was in charge of Mrs. J. Cunningham, Mrs. F. Roberts, Mrs. G. Wallis and Mrs. E. Foster. The sale table for the home made food was served by Mrs. Ligeen, Mrs. Oliver and Miss M. Nixon. The cashier was Miss N. Moorhead. The salads were prepared for the choice of the guests by Mrs. J. Barrie, Mrs. M. Griffith, Mrs. E. Henderson, Mrs. G. Barrie and Mrs. L. Gregory.

At the small tea tables the guests were served by Mrs. J. H. Coles, Mrs. L. F. Somerville, Mrs. L. Pye, Miss L. Sanga, Mrs. C. D'Almaine, Mrs. F. Nixon, Mrs. E. Storry, Mrs. E. J. Newell, Mrs. S. The movie column

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has announced nominations for its 1968 awards, and one lamentable trend has continued—the decline of the supporting actor and actress.

The supporting category was instituted for the 1936 awards, and filled a valid need. The star had long been pre-eminent in the Hollywood system while lesser actors did yeoman work for little recognition.

The winners in these early years read like an honor roll of classic character performers: Walter Brennan (three times), Alice Brady, Fay Bainter, Donald Crisp, Joseph Schildkraut, Jane Darwell, Mary Astor, Charles Coburn, Barry Fitzgerald, Ethel Barrymore, Edmund Gwenn, Walter Houston, Thomas Mitchell.

FACES FAMILIAR

Their faces and styles were known to every movie-goer. Most of last Monday's nominees for supporting performers probably are little known to the general public. Do you recognize Seymour Cassel, Daniel Massey, Jack Albertson, Lynn Carlin, Kay Medford or Sondra Locke, all up for supporting Oscars this year? Or, from recent years, Gene Hackman, Vivien Merchant, Mako, Ian Bannen, Frank Finlay, Joyce Redman, Grayson Hall, Lilia Skala, Mary Bad-

Boy, 12, escapes serious injury under train

BEEBE — (Special) — A 12-year-old boy miraculously escaped serious injury after a 30-car freight train passed over him earlier this week.

Leonard Johnson Jr., fascinated by trains, attempted to imitate a trainman and grabbed a ladder on the side of a passing box car of the freight train from Sherbrooke to Newport.

The boy slipped and was dragged by the train about 100 feet falling under a box car.

In the meantime, a quick-thinking Canadian Customs Officer, Joe Gosselin, saw the incident and screamed at the boy to lie flat between the tracks. A number of cars passed over the boy.

Mr. Gosselin ran toward the boy and snatched him from the tracks just as the train was attempting to back up.

The lad's only injury was a bump on the head which required 10 stitches.

Chez Freud psychedelics Sherbrooke's uptight syndrome

For young Sherbrookers who have been uptight for the last five years, there's a groovy new thing going for them starting tonight.

It's the Chez Freud discotheque, opening in the New Sherbrooke Hotel where the Carousel Room used to be.

Operated by Bernard Charron, a University of Sherbrooke law student, the disco has the latest gimmicks to sell discomania to Sherbrooke.

Mr. Charron and his friends, including a silver-dress clad go-go girl, showed the press yesterday where it's at.

The disco opens at 8 p.m. with a huge searchlight, beaming eight miles into the sky, Mr. Charron said.

The disco seats 140 people and there'll be standing room and who doesn't enjoy standing in a disco, looking cool, scanning over the heads to spot the go-go girl or some other sharp chick?

The dance floor is cosy and there's even a small salon to the side of the room where, ahem, young lovers might have a tete a tete.

But for the swingers who want to move out, the strobe lights call and the lighting at Chez Freud beckon the most blasé discothequers.

A special lighting system, synchronized with the beat and the intensity of the psychedelic music, as one of Mr. Charron's friends termed it, will be installed for tonight's grand opening.

Besides this system and the strobe, there's going to be slides projected on the walls to add that special effect that blows your mind.

The "psychedelic music" will be soul, pop and everything that grooves young people.

The decor of the disco is strictly uptight and it's neat. Mr. Charron has replaceable wall panels which he will change with panels he has on the walls of his discotheque in Victoriaville.

He also has projects for Trois Rivieres and Sorel and he'll interchange wall panels with these discos every four months with Chez Freud so the scene will always be a little different.

Of course, the disco has a licence so you have to be 20 years old to get in.

If you're looking for a place to swing, this is it.

The disco will be open every Wednesday to Sunday from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m.

There's going to be dancing Sunday afternoons too.

Stanstead College weekly notes

Season in full swing after break

STANSTEAD — (Special) — Students arrived back here on the evening of Feb. 17 and classes resumed the following morning after the mid-term long weekend.

The wine and cheese party for parents and friends of the school took place at Victoria hall in Westmount the evening of Feb. 13. Over $2,000 was realized. This money will go towards new furnishings for the reading room in Colby Hall.

Stanstead College placed first with 1024 points at the Inter-school meet at Owls Head on the weekend. This gave the school the Senior Cochand Trophy.

Rev. Russell Horsburgh, Rev. Ronald Price and Mrs. Price, of Toronto, while visiting these communities on the weekend were dinner guests at the school Monday evening and afterwards spoke and sang to students and members of the staff in Pierce hall.

Rehearsals are going on in earnest for the festival of plays and films to be held March 7 and 8 in Pierce hall. Norman Sandberg is producing a Chinese play, The Romance of the Willow Pattern Plate, which is a tragic comedy. Another play is The Bald Prima Donna by Eugene Ionesco. The film festival will be presented by the photography club and include several of local interest. The public are invited to attend, more details next week.

Rumors that the College Arena will be moved to the campus are incorrect. Although plans have not been completed by the board, it is quite definite the arena will be repaired on its present site.

The sports season of hockey and basketball will end in early March with the athletic banquet tentatively planned for March 19.

Raymond Lester, headmaster, is spending this week in New York city attending an NAIS conference and will also be speaking at New England States schools.

The college board, staff and alumni are working on a plan to hold open house June 21 at 2 p.m. for all former day students at either the Model school, the College, Eastern Townships Conservatory of Music or Bugbee Business College. Names and addresses are being compiled and already some 500 names are on the list, but it is possible some may be missed. Later, invitations will be sent out, but anyone who wishes to be sure his name is listed may contact Mrs. George Hatch, Rock Island, phone 867-2083. Meanwhile this is a good time to start circling the calendar and planning class reunions.

Inaugural address is traditionally vague

As might be expected the Opposition party spokesmen are proclaiming loudly that the Inaugural Speech at the opening of the Quebec National Assembly offered few concrete proposals on the legislative program of the Government.

And on this they are right.

The Inaugural Speech — formerly the Speech from the Throne — was short and filled with generalities.

But experience has shown that much weightier documents in the past have given little real indication of the legislation actually to be placed before the House.

Bills to rectify certain abuses or deal with general promises have been hinted at but never saw the light of the legislative day. And other contentious programs, not even mentioned in the Throne Speech, have come before the Legislature.

Of most interest to the average citizen is the promise of the Union Nationale Government to institute a system of priorities and to maintain constant and strict control over the expenditure of public monies — the sums raised from the taxpayers.

The effectiveness of this policy can be determined only with the passing of time.

Lower spending estimates and promises of economy mean little unless there is a real determination of the Government to cut back on less essential programs and to assure that those retained will be operated with the greatest efficiency.

If the administration permits political expediency to detract from its announced purpose, all protestations of good faith will bring little relief to the citizens.

Considering the ideas that are swiped through overheard conversations, they ought to call feeding time at our favorite lunch spot the "hunch hour."

Students repudiate CUS

A recent issue of Campus, "Canada's National Student Magazine," — not related to a nearby university publication — is concerned about the number of universities in Canada that do not belong to the Canadian Union of Students. It laments that, over the past year, five universities have left the union while only two have joined.

At the University of Alberta by a vote of three-to-one, with over half the students voting, an earlier decision to leave the Union was confirmed early this month. As a result of a rather inconclusive vote — 507 to 497 — with only 40 per cent of the students participating, the University of Winnipeg students council decided to leave the question of withdrawal up in the air. But approval by only 494 of over 2,500 students can hardly be held an endorsement for CUS or its policies.

Apparently most students agree with the statement by the president of the Edmonton students council that the CUS is not a national union but a political party.

There are few things which chill one more than an old flame.

There are hopeful signs for a greater unity in Europe

Tom A. Cullen, NEA European Correspondent, concludes a two-part series today examining President Nixon's present talks with European leaders.

Wednesday's article ended with the observation that one of the president's chief tasks will be to persuade de Gaulle to play a more constructive role in Europe.

In today's concluding article, Mr. Cullen points towards hopeful signs of increasing American-European friendship.

Mr. Cullen prepared this two-part series before the recent British-French confrontation that rocked Europe.

By TOM A. CULLEN
(NEA European Correspondent)

LONDON — (NEA) — In Britain, President Nixon will find the going easier. Britain no longer labors under the illusion that it enjoys a "special relationship" with the United States. There are occasional lapses, such as when Prime Minister Harold Wilson recently tried to elbow his way to the head of the queue of those waiting to visit President Nixon in Washington.

For the most part, Britons are content to remain in American eyes a "useful second-class power, generally friendly, economically weak," in the words of The Times of London. There is a realization here that Britain must make an effort to relieve America of part of its military commitment in Europe. A Sunday Telegraph editorial sums up thus: "If President Nixon calls for even greater contributions towards NATO from his allies, Britain included, this must be striven for, whatever the disarmers in the Labor party may think or say."

The Times of London goes even further and paraphrases the late President Kennedy's famous words, "Do not ask what the United States can do for us, but ask what we can do for the United States."

This marks a radical reversal of attitude. Europeans in the past traditionally approaching the United States with their hands out for a loan.

There are other hopeful signs. Frustrated in their efforts to achieve political and economic unity, Europeans are trying for unity through the back door by pooling their technology.

At the moment Britain, Germany, Italy and Holland are near agreement for the joint construction of a new type of combat aircraft which, if successful, could lead to further co-operation in this field.

Another promising development lies in the field of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes. Britain, Germany and Holland are now negotiating a three-power agreement to produce enriched uranium by the "gas centrifuge" method.

Scientists in the three countries concerned have been working independently of one another on the centrifuge method for several years. If perfected, this method would greatly reduce the cost of producing uranium-235 for nuclear power plants.

President Nixon, undoubtedly, will want to look into joint technological projects of this sort, whether in actual operation, or still in the blueprint stage, and he, undoubtedly, will want to talk to the men responsible. In many respects, the scientists are succeeding where the politicians have failed in forging unity in Europe.

Man cut the world down to usable proportions by use of his limbs. The World Almanac says. The primary ancient measurement, the cubit, developed in Mesopotamia and Egypt, was the distance from the nub of the elbow to the tip of the middle finger, roughly 19 to 20 inches. Other anatomical measuring units are the digit, breadth of middle finger; the foot; and the fathom, length of outstretched arms.

COMMENT

by

Lubor J. Zink

OTTAWA — (TNS) — One of Prime Minister Trudeau's slogans which has caught public imagination is "participatory democracy."

The combination of the two words conjures up the image of direct and constant involvement of masses of people in the management of public affairs.

This image implies that government ceases to be the executive instrument of the ruling party whose program is subject to scrutiny by the elected representatives of the people, and becomes a sort of seismograph of hitherto undetected undercurrents of the formative process of collective political will.

The whole thing may be an interesting theoretical proposition for ivory tower contemplation of revival of ancient Greece, but as a practical method of modern government it's a non-starter.

With all the marvels of electronic communications and computerized data systems at its command, the Government simply cannot conduct a constant plebiscite and reflect in its actions from day to day and hour to hour the often haphazard variations of the ever-changing pattern of public opinion.

"Participatory democracy" is therefore a gimmick of political sloganeering which seeks to create the impression of exciting new approaches to the effective popular involvement in the self-government of the present-day state.

Aware of discontent, especially among the "alienated," restless and impatient young "activists," with the sometime sluggish responses of the existing machinery of representative self-government to the changing public needs and demands, the politicians constantly search for better transmission belts of the popular will in between elections.

When they find that what we have in our parliamentary system is, in fact, the best available equipment, the shrewdest among them resort to creating illusions of exciting shortcuts or brand new concepts.

Unfortunately, none of these alleged innovations amount to more than empty vote-getting slogans which in some cases may be designed to divert attention from attempts to short-change or smother the democratic process for the sake of "efficiency" in government.

The extreme example of this ruse is the "people's democracy" slogan of the Marxist totalitarianism who, while initially creating the illusion of direct mass participation in their administrative system, ushered in the cruelest form of dictatorship.

While I am not suggesting that the "participatory democracy" slogan may have been designed to serve a similar purpose, I am disturbed by its use for diverting attention from our Government's increasingly pronounced tendency to downgrade and bypass Parliament.

Symptoms of this trend range from the temporarily stalled Rule 16-A (an endeavor to turn Parliament into a mere rubber stamp of the executive) to the exclusion of the House and the provincial legislatures from the process of constitutional revision.

Surely a task of such fundamental importance for the future of Canada should not, and indeed must not, be attempted without full participation of the elected representatives of all political parties if genuine democracy is to survive in this country.

Far from fostering any broader "participatory democracy," the selection of the federal-provincial summit conference for the constitutional overhaul severely limits a meaningful application of the principle of representative self-government as it is understood and normally practised under our parliamentary system.

While it may be argued that the first ministers of our 11 governments represent large segments of the voters, they do not and cannot speak for the whole electorate. How can they when, to cite only the most obvious anomaly, the New Democratic Party, which polled 17.4 per cent of the popular vote in the last general election, has no voice in the federal-provincial conference?

In Bedford Horticultural society holds meeting

BEDFORD — (Special) — An executive meeting of the Bedford Horticultural Society was held Feb. 20 at the home of the president, Ronald Martin.

The president announced a general meeting of the society will be held early in March. It is hoped that a lecture with films will be given at this meeting.

Mr. McIntyre, who is a rose expert, was suggested as a possible speaker.

D. Rhicard was appointed to look after the arrangements for the evening.

Plans for holding a garden tour were discussed and Thomas Bird was appointed to look into the matter as chairman. Mrs. Clayton Campbell was appointed to look after the distribution of garden seeds, to be purchased by the society and given to the school children, for gardens to be judged, and prizes awarded.

The matter of holding an art show in conjunction with the annual spring flower show was discussed and it was decided to do so.

It was suggested that flats of plants be purchased and sold to raise money for the society. Mr. Rhicard was appointed to inquire about the project.

For a number of years the society has done much work in the planting of flowers in the small parks about town and in the squares as well as providing containers filled with flowers on the streets, at the churches, etc., which has added much to the beauty of the town. This work will be continued this year and the members of a committee to be in charge of the work will be announced shortly.

Danny Rhicard, chairman of the Christmas decorations contest, reported that $40 was given in prizes.

The theme of the contest was The Nativity, and covered both outside and inside decorations. It was voted to send gifts to the judges from the society in appreciation of their work, also to Mrs. Aiken of Cowansville for her kindness in giving a demonstration of Christmas decorations in the United Church Hall, which was largely attended.

The report from the treasurer, Miss M. Beauvais, showed a balance of $519.60. A motion was made that all outstanding bills be ordered paid. The minutes of the previous executive meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. George Harland and accepted.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Martin.

Sutton businessman hurt in ski accident

SUTTON — (Special) — P. J. (Jack) Shepard, a prominent citizen of Sutton whose hardware business is the oldest English-speaking mercantile establishment in town, suffered a serious accident while skiing at Ski Mount Sutton sports centre last week afternoon. In a bad fall he broke a leg in two places, one break above the knee and the other below.

Taken to Montreal, Mr. Shepard received surgical attention at the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he will remain under treatment for a while.

Very well-known in the Townships because of his deep interest in skiing and as a former fire chief who helped his brigade win many national and North American awards for efficiency while he held that responsible position, Jack Shepard is a prominent member of the ski club here and is an expert skier who has tested many slopes on trails in Quebec and in New England.

Now, over 60 years old, before World War II, with some friends, he helped to start the first ski club here when a Norwegian named Johansen, then a ski instructor at McGill, laid out a trail up toward Mount Roundtop.

Remains of the first ski cabin built 2,500 feet still prove how ski-minded Jack and some other Sutton winter sports enthusiasts were even many years before Real Boulanger created Sutton's great Ski Mount Sutton Center now used and enjoyed by thousands.

Mr. Shepard, before going up for that unlucky ski Friday afternoon, had only recently returned with his wife from a short holiday in Toronto, where the Shepards had visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, and their grandchildren.

While Mr. Shepard is away, Mrs. Shepard with able assistants is running the hardware business started by George Shepard in 1921.

Food is on sale

BEDFORD — (Special) — A food sale, sponsored by the U.C.W. of the Bedford United Church will be held in the Laundromat at 2:30 Feb. 28.

The U.C.W. will appreciate it if all members and adherents of the church assist the project through baking for the sale. If, unable to take the baking to the Laundromat, please leave in the church kitchen before 1 p.m. or telephone Mrs. Douglas Traynor, 248-3059. Please put the price on the baking.

PUBLIC RELATIONS TALK — Bill Ward, of Thor Mills, Granby, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Waterloo Kiwanis Club recently. His talk concerned maintaining good relations between employer and em-

quette, club president; Mr. Ward, and Arthur Reed, who thanked Mr. Ward for his enlightening talk.

In Mansonville

Annual pastoral charge meeting is held

MANSONVILLE — (Special) — The annual congregational meeting of the Mansonville-Bolton Centre Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada was held Feb. 16 at the Mansonville Church. The meeting was opened by Scripture reading and prayer by the minister and chairman, Rev. Edwin J. McDonald.

Annual reports of all committees were printed and circulated to all present.

The report of the session, as prepared by the minister, showed the following statistics: Bolton Centre, six new members received by profession of faith and two by transfer; roll now showing 43 members and approximately 95 adherents; Mansonville, 14 new members received by profession of faith, one by transfer and two members removed by death. Communion roll now indicates 167 members, 13 non-resident members and approximately 299 adherents. There were seven baptisms, five marriages and 13 burials in the combined charge.

There were regular Sunday services held at Bolton Centre between March 31 and Nov. 17 with the exception of the Sundays when the minister was on vacation.

Services were held every Sunday during the year in Mansonville, with members of the session organizing the services for the Sundays during the minister's vacation. Many special services and four communions were held in Mansonville. Bolton Centre's Children's Choir active.

Mrs. Rupert Fullerton, treasurer, reported a successful year for the combined charge, in which with the help of a grant from the Home Mission Board, all obligations were met and a balance left on hand.

Mrs. Fullerton, as the treasurer of the Mansonville Church, then reported many repairs were made to the church during the year, in addition to a great deal raised to support the joint charge, also the final payment of the Manse Repair Debt, two years ahead of schedule, and other payments on loans, with a healthy balance left in bank.

Mr. Herman Ommerli, chairman of the missionary and maintenance committee, reported a total remittance to that fund for 1968 of $1,073.26 for the combined charge.

Mrs. Donald Cousens as treasurer for the Bolton Centre Church, showed a large amount expended for church improvement, the allocation met for the joint charge, and a balance on hand at the end of the year.

Mr. Rupert Clark, chairman of the committee of stewards of the Mansonville Church, reported two visitations completed during the year, the second in August was with a view to obtaining pledges for 1969, sufficient to allow the charge to become self-supporting, which is the present aim of the charge. Good progress was made in repaying loans, 10 tables and 50 plastic chairs were purchased from the Memorial Fund for the newly renovated Church basement.

Mansonville trustees, through their secretary, Mrs. George Jewett, reported the completion of the renovation of the church basement, which was dedicated with a family sugaring-off party in April, and mentioned a few small tasks to be undertaken in 1969.

The Manse Committee chairman, Kevan Heath, reported a very busy year. A new cement sidewalk and steps to the Manse were built, a new entrance porch constructed, and part of the exterior and interior were repainted with the help of volunteers. Carpet runners will be installed on the stairs and thanks were given to a church member for having a chair in the study re-upholstered.

Bolton Centre trustees completed repairs to their church steeple and church entrance, painted parts of the exterior and interior, fixed windows and installed a hand railing on the front steps. Donald Cousens, chairman, also mentioned another project is the restoration of the cemetery, with community help, to a respectable condition.

Mrs. Ralph Knowlton, superintendent, was pleased to report a very active Sunday School at Mansonville, with an enrolment of 40, four classes and eight teachers. New curriculum materials were used completely. Room dividers were constructed which can be moved to separate the different classes and a storage cupboard was built for supplies.

White Gift Sunday was observed, and a Christmas Pageant written and staged by Rev. E. J. McDonald, was held Dec. 22.

Pins and Seals for Robert Raikes' Diplomas were presented for good attendance. Bibles were purchased from the proceeds of old Sunday School furniture sold at the church auction.

Mrs. Kevan Heath, treasurer, gave the financial report for the Sunday School, showing good results from envelope givings and donations.

Mrs. Merton Bailey, president, reported on the extensive activities of the Mansonville United Church Women. The group studied Panorama of the Bible and the Psalms, under the leadership of the minister. They supported the community welfare organizations.

Members attended and took part in the fall rally, also participated in the World Day of Prayer, and were hosts to the Baptist and Anglican Church Women at a Christmas service and party on Dec. 5.

Two suppers, a summer auction and rummage sale, catering to a wedding reception — these were some of their projects. Contributions were made to the Manse Fund, Sunday School, M and M Fund and general funds of the Church. Mrs. Rupert Fullerton, treasurer, gave the financial details in her report.

The Vale Perkins United Church Women's report, prepared by the president, Mrs. H. Krausser, listed fund raising projects of two food sales, three sales of miscellaneous articles, a film showing, renting of the hall, etc. This group participated with the Mansonville U.C.W. in the two suppers and auction sale. They donated towards the general fund and Sunday School, and continued to support a needy family and patients at the Douglas Hospital. Mrs. Howard Jewett's report as treasurer showed the financial situation.

Bolton Centre United Church Women, as reported by president, Mrs. George Davis, and secretary, Mrs. Donald Cousens, assisted in financing repairs for their church, helped raise funds by catering to a wedding reception, their annual sale in August, a card party and record hop. Mrs. Donald Cousens, treasurer, also prepared the financial report.

The Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery met in Mansonville, for the first time, in October, 1968. Meals were served by the Mansonville, Vale Perkins, and Bolton Centre United Church Women.

An evening study period was held, except for the summer months, in Mansonville or Vale Perkins, and the books God and His Purpose, Panorama of the Bible were studied, after which they began a study of the Gospel of Mark.

FASHION TIPS

Wear See-Throughs

Intimate apparel is an integral part of the total wardrobe this season, especially with the current look with cut-outs, low-plunge necklines—back and front, bared midriffs and sheer fabrics. Choose your underpinnings to have the subtle look to coordinate with the cut of the clothes.

Two-in-One Garment

A bra slip is a great asset to any undercover wardrobe. It combines two garments in one. The slips come in all sizes.

Knee-length Skirts

Yves St. Laurent's styles for spring will feature knee-length skirts and soft fabrics, like jersey and silk. Colors will be black and white, lots of navy blue and some prints.

Sunshiny Spring

Spring colors that spell SUNSHINE in capital letters are bright yellow, turquoise and hot pink for this spring's scene.

Find out about your town by joining a convention committee

TORONTO (CP) — One way to find out about the attractions your town has to offer is to get on a convention committee. With accommodations, tours, favors, entertainment to plan, you have to develop a visitor's-eye view of familiar surroundings.

Once your national or provincial group has agreed to hold its convention in your town, you need three things: a committee, a budget, and time. If you are chairman, says Grace Carter, get as many people on your committee as is practical. The involvement is good for the members and therefore for the club, and the shared work load is easier on the chairman's nervous system.

"If I were running a convention, I would delegate, delegate, delegate."

Miss Carter is assistant director of sales at the Royal York Hotel, and part of her job is working with convention committees.

Usually there is some discussion between the hotel management and the local host club before an invitation is extended to a larger group.

but when the time for detailed negotiation comes, the hotel will want to know as much about the convention as possible as far ahead as possible.

NEED LONG NOTICE
Miss Carter says at least two years notice or more for an exceptionally large convention is a good idea. You can base attendance figures and program plans on past experience.

Some hotels will supply you with printed room reservation cards, complete with prices, that can be sent to members and returned directly to the hotel. In some cases, you may prefer to set up a reservations committee of club members to work with the hotel.

The program chairman should have an idea of how many meals, how many plenary sessions, how many smaller workshop sessions and parties will be held, so that appropriate rooms can be kept available.

"And don't forget exhibit space if you need it, and space and staff for registration. Let the hotel know who is important—they might add a VIP touch, such as flowers in the room.

"Some of the executive will need suites. The executive secretary often needs a suite and needs space for an office."

You might also need to rent office equipment for her and her staff."

If the convention is big enough, you might want a separate committee for the formal banquet. In any case, you will want to arrange for favors, flowers, perhaps special seating for the head table, if the banquet is formal. If you can give it a local flavor with food, decorations, entertainment, Miss Carter says people usually enjoy it.

She suggests you avoid anything unusual or exotic in the way of food, though, when you have several hundred people to feed. Roast beef is safest.

HOTEL CAN HELP

You need someone in charge of entertainment, and in charge of speakers. Arrangements for both, including reservations and transportation as well as pay, should be made as far ahead as possible.

ASCOT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Ascot Women's Institute met in the Lennoxville Town Hall. The president, Mrs. Ashley Hatcher, welcomed members and a guest who was a former president of this branch.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and in respect to business arising from the minutes, Mrs. Wentworth Richardson, reported that a trophy for the coming school fair and one for the public speaking contest have been purchased.

Mrs. Harold Robertson showed the material she purchased for the ditty bags which will be filled to replace the Christmas stockings usually made and sent to the Canadian Save the Children Fund.

Correspondence included letters of thanks and appreciation for flowers and cards received.

The roll call was answered by paying a penny an inch for waist measurement, and this netted the sum of $7.60 for the treasury.

Agriculture convener, Mrs. Wentworth Richardson, read an outline of the provincial agriculture convener's report.

Mrs. William Pearson, citizenship, read a letter from a relative who had visited the Island of Lewis, off the coast of Scotland, in search of information regarding ancestors of the MacIver and MacRae families who had emigrated to Quebec and settled in the Gould area.

Mrs. Camille Bernard, education, reported on the progress being made in the building of the Regional School and spoke of plans which the administration hopes to be able to put into effect.

Mrs. Bernard reminded members of the two theatrical productions which will be shown in Bishop's Theatre in the near future.

Following her report on sub-licity, the convener, Mrs. Kenneth G. Blake, proposed that a letter protesting the proposed 44 per cent increase in salary for Members of Parliament be sent to Paul Gervais, MP for Sherbrooke, with a copy to the prime minister.

Mrs. Ashley Hatcher read the delegates' report of the county meeting and introduced Mrs. Russell Wells, who spoke on her work as nurse at the Lennoxville High School and with the Department of Health.

At the close of her talk, Mrs. Wells answered a number of questions of the members. Mrs. William Pearson thanked the speaker.

Tea was then served by the hostesses, Mrs. Austin Church, Mrs. Wilbur McCurdy, Mrs. Albert Parsons and Mrs. Harold Robertson.

The annual meeting of the branch will be held March 20 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Camille Bernard, Experimental Farm. Lunch will be served at noon.

Richmond wedding

Couple takes up residence in Windsor

RICHMOND — The wedding of Heather Ann Skillen to Glenn Robert Kerr Wight, of Windsor, took place recently at Chalmers United Church here with Rev. R. A. Cameron officiating. The bride is the daughter of Kenneth A. T. Skillen, of Colborne, Ont., and the late Irene Victoria Larivier.

Organist was Bruce Kerr with Miss Heather Kerr as soloist. During the ceremony, the Ave Maria was sung in Latin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length semi-fitted gown of peau de soie with long sleeves. The gown featured white lace around the yoke, tips of the sleeves and down the front of the gown. She wore a detachable wide trailing train and her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a tiara of three white roses. Miss Skillen carried a bouquet of yellow freesias and white hyacinth florets.

BEAUTY BRIEF

Use a Contouring Stick

To give your face the bone structure that nature forgot, try using a contouring stick, in a mocha or beige shade, to de-emphasize too-prominent features. Use a frosty highlight to accent your best features. Apply liquid or matte make-up over the contouring.

The bride's sister, Linda Skillen, as maid-of-honor wore a long empire styled sleeveless frock of pale yellow shantung with a matching bow headpiece.

Accessories were white and she carried a bouquet of yellow freesias and tangerine carnations.

Chuck Atkin was best man and the ushers were Bruce Skillen and Ryan Quinn.

The bride's step-mother, Mrs. Kenneth Skillen, wore a one-piece frock of deep purple with white frilled lace, collar, jabot and cuffs. She also wore black shoes, a brown fur hat and white gloves. Her corsage was purple miniature carnations. The groom's mother chose a gold and turquoise brocaded sheath dress under a matching three-quarter length coat. Accessories were black and her corsage was white carnations.

The reception was held at the Windsor Curling Club. The floral motif included yellow miniature carnations, hyacinth and green foliage.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue one-piece dress with a wide notched collar and long sleeves with wide cuffs. Accessories were black and her corsage was a single red rose.

Out-of-town guests were from Montreal, Ontario, Sherbrooke, South Durham, Windsor and Cowansville.

The couple will live in Windsor at 126 Harley Street.

MOTHER-SON TEAM — Mrs. Nancy Podariezach, who assists her husband Mario, in directing the Mt. Orford Ski School, was photographed last weekend with her three-year-old son Deryk, after several runs off one of the Orford slopes. Mrs. Podariezach is a former member of the Canadian National Ski Team, and represented this country at the 1960 Squaw Valley, and 1964 Innsbruck Austria Olympic games. Holding several ski honors, this enthusiastic mother is getting her son off to a quick start, and boasts Deryk already skis parallel. The Podariezach's second child, a son Stephen, was born last August, and according to his parents, should be donning skis within 2 years. The Podariezachs insist it's important for children to start skiing young. However they note little people shouldn't be pushed, but allowed to progress at the speed they choose on their own.

GREAT LAKES PAPER: Net earnings for the fourth quarter were 33 cents a share, up from 30 cents a share in the same period a year earlier. For the full 1968 year, earnings amounted to 86 cents a share, as against $1.17 a share in the previous year, a decrease of 26.6 per cent. Company says the earnings drop was due chiefly to prolonged strikes against Detroit newspapers, which substantially reduced newsprint shipments. Other adverse factors were a strike at the mill and sharp increases in operating costs.

IMPERIAL TOBACCO: The company expects to show a "modest increase" in earnings for the first half of this year compared with last year's $5,983,000 or 59 cents a common share. Earnings for the full year, should also be somewhat higher than in 1968.

THE VANCOUVER STOCK EXCHANGE, effective Monday, trading will continue to open at 7 a.m. PST. 10 a.m. EST, but will close at 1 p.m. instead of 2 p.m. This is a temporary measure, caused by the unprecedented rush of business in recent weeks.

QUEBEC SCENE

People listen despite bomb threat

MONTREAL (CP) — Several hundred postal employees were ordered out of the main post office building Wednesday after an anonymous telephone caller said a bomb would explode inside at 6:45 p.m. A post office spokesman said the building was searched but no bomb was found.

QUEBEC (CP) — More than 500 Quebecers Wednesday night defied a bomb threat to listen to a fighting French speech in defence of federalism by Jean Marchand.

Mr. Marchand, Canada's forestry and rural development minister, spoke at the Reform Club, the Liberal party social club which was being guarded "day and night" out of fear of terrorist bombers.

Albert Vallieres, manager of the club, said he requested police protection because of an item in a local newspaper about a threat that a bomb would be placed at the club.

Mr. Marchand said that for many separatists "the easy way" or escapism because separatists could make lovely speeches about "la nation" but did not have to solve problems of unemployment or regional inequality.

Mr. Marchand said that in an oligarchy where citizens lack the democratic process to change society there would be justification to get out on the street and throw bombs, but this isn't the case in Quebec.

French Canadians had a "bundle of grievances" in Canada but the day after separation the situation would be worse than it is now.

dates back to Confederation when the federal government was given jurisdiction over marriage and divorce and province was given control over laws on property and civil rights.

Hunger strike

MONTREAL (CP) — Charles Gagnon, on trial for manslaughter in the bombing death of a 16-year-old youth in July, 1966, announced Wednesday he is beginning another hunger strike.

The 30-year-old former University of Montreal professor said he and Pierre Vallieres, who is serving life for manslaughter are being subjected to "repressive measures."

Both men staged a brief hunger strike at Montreal's Borda jail in mid-1968 in protest against the postponement of a non-capital murder trial in the bombing death of a woman at a strikebound shoe factory.

He now is facing the manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Jean Corbo, an FLQ messenger killed when a bomb he was carrying exploded prematurely.

Canada-wide

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways soon will launch a Canada-wide computer-communications network to provide an expanded range of computer-based services, it was announced Wednesday.

The announcement was made

New challenges

MONTREAL (CP) — Defence Production Minister Don Jamieson said Tuesday the Canadian government must preserve financial flexibility to meet new challenges.

Speaking to a meeting of the Advertising and Sales Executive Club of Montreal, the Newfoundland MP said this financial flexibility can only be achieved by careful planning with the co-operation of an understanding public.

"Financial flexibility will be an impossibility if virtually all of the government's anticipated revenues for many years ahead are locked into continuing programs which their very nature must cost more with each succeeding year."

The number of fields in which the public now looks for substantial government participation is continuing to increase, Mr. Jamieson said. Retraining of the labor force is one field along with scientific and technological research and development.

"It requires no particular gift of prophecy to forecast that we are a very long way from seeing any levelling off in expenditure whatever new methods may have to be devised to raise necessary funds," Mr. Jamieson said.

Retarding

MONTREAL (CP) — Conflict between provincial and federal laws in the field of marriage and divorce on the one hand and property and civil rights on the other are retarding a true reform of laws protecting the family, the dean of law at the University of Sherbrooke said Wednesday.

Marcel Guy told a service club luncheon that the conflict

Finding shows blacks, whites still apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kerner commission's warning of an American society sharply divided by race goes largely unheeded one year later, an independent follow-up study concluded today.

The grim finding that blacks and whites in the United States continue to drift dangerously apart contained still another warning.

"The nation in its neglect may be sowing the seeds of unprecedented future disorder and division."

The report, called One Year Later, was issued by Urban American, Inc., and The Urban Coalition, non-profit Washington organizations dealing with city problems.

It was published one year after the national advisory commission on civil disorders—called the Kerner commission after its chairman, Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner—handed down its report on the causes of rioting that had rocked U.S. cities in recent summers.

The Kerner commission, with a controversial indictment of "white racism" as an underlying cause, concluded that "the nation is moving toward two societies, one black, one white—separate and unequal."

GAP GETS UNDER

Today, the progress report concluded:

"A year later, we are a year closer to being two societies, black and white, increasingly separate and scarcely less unequal."

It said the commission had accurately prophesied the result of the continuation of policies prevalent at the time: "Some change but not enough; more incidents but less full-scale disorder because of improved police and military response; a decline in expectations and therefore in short-run frustrations."

Racial problems, the report said, were foremost on the national conscience after the assassination in April of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. But this changed after the slaying in June of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. Crime became the prime topic—as well as the prime issue in the presidential campaign.

"By the end of 1968," the progress report said, "it was evident that millions of white Americans were tired of hearing about these conditions" of slum-ghetto life.

Two members of the Kerner commission—Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York and Senator Fred R. Harris (Dem. Okla.)—were on the advisory board assisting in One Year Later.

The Kerner commission was created by former president Johnson.

"Black and white Americans," the progress report said, "remained far apart in their perception of slum-ghetto problems and the meaning of civil disorders. The gap probably had widened by the end of the year."

REMAIN DIVIDED

"The nation has not reversed the movement apart. Blacks and white remain deeply divided in their perceptions and experiences of American society."

"The deepening of concern about conditions in the slums and ghettos on the part of some white persons and institutions has been counterbalanced—perhaps overbalanced—by a deepening of aversion and resistance on the part of others."

"The mood of the blacks... is not moving in the direction of patience."

"The black neighborhoods in the cities remain slums, marked by poverty and decay; they remain ghettos, marked by racial concentration and confinement."

Protest shelling

PARIS (Reuters) — Saigon today protested strongly against "Barbarous shelling" by the Viet Cong populated areas in South Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese chief negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, told the sixth full-scale meeting of the Paris peace talks that as of this morning there had been 210 shelling attacks of which 85 were directed against cities with no military significance.

Since the attacks began Sunday, 205 civilians have been killed and 540 wounded with considerable damage to civilian installations including orphanages, he said.

June hearings?

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec's royal commission on language hopes to begin public hearings in June, a commission spokesman said Wednesday.

The commission, established last Dec. 9, announced that it will begin accepting briefs April 30. The deadline for filing briefs is June 30.

The five-member commission was set up to inquire into the position of the French language in Quebec.

Goes to Peking

PARIS (Reuters) — Etienne Manach, one of France's leading diplomats, has been named ambassador to Peking, the official gazette announced today.

Manach, 59, has been head of the foreign ministry's Asian division for the last eight years and in this post played a major part behind the scenes in smoothing out difficulties at the Vietnam peace conference here.

He will replace Lucien Paye, 61, France's first ambassador to China since the French government recognized Peking in 1964.

A report was given on the whist party held the previous evening in St. Augustine's Parish Hall, Danville, and plans were made for another one to be held on March 17, when it is hoped that the sons and daughters of Auld Erin will all make a special effort to attend, as well as many who wish in vain for the distinction of having that strain of Irish luck and wit.

At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Millen.

Habs wallop Wings 7-2, Esposito and McKenzie return as Bruins win

Boston Bruins took advantage of the return of two of their top stars Wednesday night to break a losing streak that had cost them the lead in National Hockey League's Eastern Division.

The Bruins, hit by injuries and suspension of their leading scorer, snapped a four-game losing streak by defeating Los Angeles Kings 4-2.

The win was due mainly to the play of John McKenzie, who scored two goals, and Phil Esposito, their high-scoring centre, who assisted on both McKenzie's goals.

McKenzie, sidelined with a knee injury since Feb. 2, returned Wednesday night and scored his 19th and 20th goals of the season.

Esposito was suspended for two games last week for shoving and hitting a referee. The two points he earned pushed his total to 94, four points away from the league record for a regular season.

The record-97 points—is shared by Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita of Chicago Black Hawks.

The return of another player Wednesday night also saw the end of a losing streak for his team. Forward Mike Walton, who quit Toronto Maple Leafs last week because of differences with manager-coach Punch Imlach, rejoined the team for its game with St. Louis Blues, returning leaders in the Western Division. Walton did not pick up any points, the Leafs managed to squeeze past the Blues 3-2 and end a three-game losing streak.

In other games, Montreal Canadiens scored five first-period goals to defeat Detroit Red Wings 7-2. New York Rangers downed the Black Hawks 5-3 and Oakland Seals beat Minnesota North Stars 6-5.

Beside McKenzie's goals, Fred Stanfield and defenceman Ted Green also scored for the Bruins. The Kings' goals were scored by Lowell MacDonald and Ted Irvine.

At Toronto, Ron Ellis' goal at 18:31 of the third period gave the Leafs their win over St. Louis. Paul Henderson, in the first period, and Floyd Smith, in the second, also scored for Toronto.

Terry Crisp and Larry Keenan got the St. Louis goals. Doug Harvey, who got an assist of Crisp's goal, will have his stick enshrined in the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto for becoming the first defenceman to score 450 assists in the NHL.

Centre Henri Richard led the Montreal scoring with two goals in Canadiens' win. John Ferguson, Dick Duff, Yvan Cournoyer, Claude Provost and Mickey Redmond added single goals. Detroit got goals from Dean Prentice and Pete Stemkowski late in the third period.

At New York, defencemen figured prominently in the Ranger win over Chicago. Arnie Brown scored twice for New York and helped extend the Rangers' unbeaten string on home ice to 12 games.

Defenceman Jim Neilson, Rod Gilbert and Dave Balon also scored for New York. Rookie centre Walt Tkaczuk assisted on four of the Ranger goals.

Bobby Hull, with his 43rd goal of the season, and Eric Nesterenko, with two goals, scored for Chicago.

At San Francisco, the Seals staged their best comeback of the season with two second-period goals by Ted Hampson and a four-goal third-period effort after spotting the North Stars three first-period goals by Claude Larose, Danny O'Shea and Danny Grant.

After Hampson replied with two goals for the Seals in the second period, Mike Laughton, Gary Jarrett, Norm Ferguson and Bob Dillabough followed with four consecutive goals for Oakland in the third.

The North Stars rallied when O'Shea got his second goal at 14:35 and Bill Orban scored a minute later but the Seals held on to win.

In NHL action tonight, Toronto plays at Philadelphia, Boston meets Oakland and Chicago plays at Pittsburgh.

Tigers meet Gauls

Beavers host Saguneeneens

Sherbrooke Beavers, in search of their sixth consecutive win over Chicoutimi Saguneeneens, host Phil Watson's charges tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the Sports Palace while in Victoriaville, St. Hyacinthe Gauls will attempt to gain ground on Sherbrooke and Granby.

Tuesday night Sherbrooke moved to within six points of second place Chicoutimi as they downed St. Hyacinthe 5-2 while Victoriaville moved into sole possession of first place, blanking Saguneeneens 5-0.

Sunday evening Lou Poliquin's pucksters moved into sole possession of third place in the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League standings when they clipped Victoriaville 3-1 at the Sports Palace.

Sherbrooke presently holds a four point lead over Granby in third place. The Beavers have one game in hand on Granby as well. Sunday and Tuesday evenings Sherbrooke will travel to Granby.

St. Hyacinthe Gauls remain in contention for a playoff berth but with the suspensions to Pierre Cournoyer, Guy Rousseau and Coach Claude Savary,

In Sherbrooke, on the other hand, Phil Watson will be at his fiery best tonight, knowing well that a loss could nullify his team's hopes of a first place finish.

their chances have been hampered somewhat.

It would be safe to say that if St. Hyacinthe does not win tonight then their hopes of a playoff berth could well be out of reach.

in Sherbrooke, Chicoutimi have been outclassed 9-3 and 8-1. In no way do these scores represent the true depth of the Saguneeneens and tonight's game, hopefully, will be a much closer contest.

Lou Poliquin is coach Quebec Senior Hockey League names their All-Star squads

The 1968-69 All-Star teams of the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League were released yesterday by Andre Boulanger, publicity director for the loop. The teams were chosen by the coaches in the circuit.

Chicoutimi dominated the positions by placing five players on the squads, with two on the first team. A different system was used this year by the league with the coaches making the picks. Last year the sport writers were given the nod to name the teams.

Lou Poliquin, the Beavers' pilot, was the only unanimous choice by his confreres while Phil Watson, the Sags' fiery coach, drew the nod for the second team. Poliquin picked up 20 points while Watson had 14 with Jean-Guy Charbonneau drawing six, Jack Bonnass four and Gilles Bedard one.

Claude Cyr of Chicoutimi was named the top goalie in the circuit for the second straight time while Clement Boudreau of Victoriaville and Andre Dubuc of Granby got the nod for his blueline defenders.

The front attacking line consisted of Gilles Gosselin of St. Hyacinthe Gauls as the pivot man. Viens, who is the top scorer in the league, was given the nod for left-wing slot while Germain Munger, the Sags' top marksman, was chosen for the right-wing berth. The trio is the top three marksman in the O'Donnell circuit and packs plenty of scoring punch.

Michel Ortuoso of Granby was named the Rookie-of-the-Year by the coaches. He picked up a total of 14 points to nose-out his team-mate Houde who had eight.

Gosselin, Viens and Munger were just two points short of being a unanimous choice as they all collected a total of 18 points. This was tops in the selections.

Jacques Monette, ageing warhorse of many Provincial League campaigns, has been hot of late, and when the brilliant goaltender is hot, as witnessed against Victoriaville Sunday night, at times he is virtually impossible to beat.

Tuesday evening in St. Hyacinthe Monette was at his best. Turning aside 48 shots, he allowed Sherbrooke to pick up a precious win and stretched their lead over Granby Vics.

Bill "Ti Homme" Dupre will be back in uniform tonight after sitting out Tuesday's game with a leg injury. Although Bill has not enjoyed, scoring wise, as good a season as last year, his worth to the Beavers is evident. Sunday night the line of Pepin - Dupre - Sawyer provided all of Sherbrooke's scoring and was the dominant factor in the 3-1 victory.

Referee Jim Kierans takes out warrants against two players

MONTREAL (CP) — Referee Jim Kierans of Montreal said Wednesday he has retained a lawyer and that warrants have been sworn as the result of an altercation during a Quebec Senior Hockey League game at St. Hyacinthe, Que., last Sunday.

"I can't say anything except that the warrants have been sworn," Kierans said. "It's completely in my lawyer's hands."

He refused to name the persons for whom the warrants were sworn.

The game between St. Hyacinthe Gauls and the Ottawa-based national team was called off in the third period following the disturbance with the score tied 2-2.

The incident began when Kierans gave Guy Rousseau a penalty. Rousseau took exception to the call and Kierans won't comment on what happened after that.

Earlier, Henri Crochetiere of Sherbrooke, Que., handed Rousseau and his St. Hyacinthe team-mate Pierre Cournoyer indefinite suspensions for the alleged fracas between the players, members of the crowd and the referee.

Kierans says he received a number of cuts and bruises about the head and shoulders during the outburst.

Crochetiere, president of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, is still studying the case. On Monday night, Len O'Donnell of Sherbrooke, and president of the QSHL, told a special meeting of the league's five clubs that more police protection for referees and officials was recommended and "home clubs and rink managers are responsible to see that proper and sufficient protection is given to the referee and officials with the visiting team."

Red Sox and Carl Yastrzemski come to terms, in $125,000 bracket for tops in American, players reporting in Boston Red Sox signed their big man, outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, Wednesday to a two-year contract for what they believe to be the highest salary in the American League.

That could put the American League's batting champion and only .300 hitter in the $125,000 class, although the Sox didn't say, according to custom, how much he will collect.

Yastrzemski who hit .301 last season after winning the AL's Triple Crown in 1967, was paid $100,000 last year while Frank Robinson, the 1966 Triple Crown champion for the Baltimore Orioles, was estimated to have made $115,000 in 1968.

"He is the best player in the American League and, as far as I know, this will make him the highest paid player in the American League," said Dick O'Connell, the club's general manager.

Yastrzemski at the Red Sox' camp at Winter Haven, Fla., said he believes the new contract makes him the "highest paid player in Red Sox history."

With the baseball pensions dispute settled, many of the name players and regulars quickly signed or agreed to terms and reported to the training camps.

There still were plenty of dissatisfied players, however, including Dean Chance. The star right-hander of Minnesota Twins said he has been offered a salary cut of $9,000—to $51,000 from $60,000.

"I want a $5,000 raise," said Chance in New York. "I won't report to camp."

New York Yankees and New York Mets each signed their two leading pitchers. The Yanks brought right-hander Mel Stottlemyre and southpaw Fritz Peterson into the fold. The Mets landed right-hander Tom Seaver and lefty Jerry Koosman for substantial raises.

Mickey Mantle, the Yanks slugger, is expected to report to camp this weekend to discuss his terms with Los Angeles, but pitcher Claude Osteen and outfielder Len Gabrielson informed the Dodgers they won't come to camp until they are satisfied.

Mike Walton returns after dispute with Imlach, is ready to finish season

TORONTO (CP) — Mike Walton looked a little sheepish as he stood surrounded by sports writers in Toronto Maple Leafs dressing room Wednesday night.

Walton had no goals, no assists and no penalties in the Leafs 3-2 win over St. Louis Blues, yet he was the only player they wanted to talk to.

The 24-year-old centre, described by Keith Allen, coach of Philadelphia Flyers as "a bit of a flake who can score goals," had played for Punch Imlach, the man he vowed he would never work under again. And everyone wanted to know why.

"I came back because I wanted to play and the guys want me," Walton said as he dressed for the flight to Philadelphia where the Leafs were to play the Flyers tonight.

"It's just great to be back."

Walton didn't act like the wise-cracking youngster who once wore a Beatle wig to a practice. He stood in front of five or six reporters with his head down, answering questions in one sentence or less.

"I've been under a lot of pressure for the last week and I haven't been sleeping too well," he said.

PHONED IMLACH

"Some of the guys had asked me to come back. Then, when the team as a whole wanted me to return, I telephoned Mr. Imlach."

"I told him I wanted to play tonight and he told me to come down and see him. So here I am."

Walton's return was almost as abrupt as his departure following the Leafs 5-1 win over Montreal Canadiens last Wednesday.

He had stomped off to the dressing room after being benched in the third period, changed into his street clothes and left.
