INTRODUCTION

This guide is designed to inform parents about the Elementary 6 compulsory examination in English Language Arts. It presents the structure of the exam and the administration procedures, as well as sample documents from a past exam.

The Information Document published on the website of the Ministère de l'Éducation is also a recommended resource. The Information Document echoes some of the information provided here, and it provides complementary information as well as the most recent version of the rubrics.

SECTION 1 COMPULSORY EXAMINATIONS

NATURE AND OBJECTIVES OF THE EXAMINATIONS

A compulsory examination is set by the Minister of Education at the provincial level in order to monitor candidates' learning more closely at an important point in their education. Each exam is designed to evaluate the learning set out in the Québec Education Program and is based on the Framework for the Evaluation of Learning and the Progression of Learning.

Each year for the June exam session, the Ministère sets a compulsory examination in English Language Arts for Elementary 6. The official examination schedule for this year can be found on the Ministère's website. As all candidates write the same examination, the dates and times must be respected. Only the Minister may authorize changes to the set schedule.

CONDITIONS FOR ADMINISTERING THE EXAMINATIONS

Educational institutions are the main entities responsible for making the necessary arrangements for the exams to take place (e.g. providing examination rooms), regardless of the education model (teaching provided at school or homeschooling).

To ensure equity and justice, the exam conditions must be the same for all candidates in Québec who write the exams. For this reason, the individuals designated to administer the examinations are given precise instructions to follow.

These individuals cannot explore the examination topics with the candidates, help them analyze the texts included in the exam or produce written or multimedia documents to help prepare them. Examinations where a staff member has overstepped the boundaries of their role may be declared invalid by the Ministère.

Measures that adapt the conditions for administering ministerial examinations may be taken to enable candidates with specific needs to demonstrate their learning. In order to request special measures, please communicate with the educational institution responsible for administering the examination at the beginning of the school year or, in the context of homeschooling, when setting up the learning project. The educational institution will analyze the candidate's needs and determine which adaptive measures will be permitted, if any.

SECTION 2OVERVIEW OF THE COMPULSORY EXAMINATION FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS*EVALUATION OF COMPETENCIES

The Elementary 6 compulsory English Language Arts examination is designed to evaluate the following competencies:

- Competency 1, To read and listen to literary, popular and information-based texts
- Competency 2, To write self-expressive, narrative and information-based texts

Competency 4, To use language to communicate and learn, is not evaluated, but is called on throughout the examination.

SUMMARY OF THE EXAMINATION

The examination is built around a topic and has four separate parts. The first two parts are used to assess reading competency (Written Response to Literature task) and the last two parts are used to assess writing competency (Narrative Writing task).

Part	Steps
Part 1 – Reading Initiation task	• Activity to introduce the exam topic, based on a video or an image • Class or small-team discussion
Part 2 – Reading Written Response to Literature task	• First reading of the illustrated literary text • Second reading of the text and note taking • Discussion in small teams and note taking • Additional reading and note taking • Writing a response to the text
Part 3 – Writing Narrative Exploration task	• Activities based on a short video or posters
Part 4 – Writing Narrative Writing task	• Planning the text • Writing the draft • Discussion about the draft with a teammate • Revising the draft • Writing the final version

AUTHORIZED AND UNAUTHORIZED MATERIALS

Authorized materials

Only print versions of the materials listed below may be brought to the examination and used.

- Standard English dictionary
- Bilingual dictionary (English and another language)
- Thesaurus

Candidates may bring their own reference materials or use those provided by the educational institution. Those who bring their own reference materials will not be permitted to share them with others.

Unauthorized materials

The following materials are not authorized.

- All homemade documents (class notes, grammar book prepared by the school or at home, etc.)
- All digital tools (electronic dictionaries, word processing software, etc.), unless their use has been planned in conjunction with the educational institution responsible for administering the examination¹

Candidates are also strictly forbidden to have in their possession any digital device (smartphone, wireless headphones or earbuds, smartwatch, etc.) that can be used to communicate, access the Internet, translate text, or create, save or consult data.

SECTION 3

STEPS IN THE COMPULSORY EXAMINATION FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS

READING

To demonstrate their competency in reading, candidates must write a text that presents a response to an illustrated literary text. This task lasts approximately 3 hours and has 2 parts, carried out at different times in the order presented below.

Part 1 – Initiation task

Upon arrival in the examination room, each candidate receives an examination booklet called Processfolio. The examiner presents the steps in the examination and explains the topic addressed in the examination.

Next, in order to become familiar with the topic addressed in the examination, the candidates carry out activities (they watch a video or view an image) and are invited to take part in team discussions.

¹ The use of certain digital tools (electronic dictionaries, word processing software, etc.) could be authorized under certain conditions but must be planned in conjunction with the educational institution responsible for administering the examination at the start of the school year or, in the case of homeschooling, when the learning project is implemented.

The Processfolios must remain in the examination room. Therefore, the examiner collects them at the end of each part of the exam and returns them to candidates at the start of the next part.

Part 2 – Written Response to Literature task

In the second part, each candidate receives a Literature Booklet, which includes an illustrated literary text of approximately 1 000 words.

- First, candidates independently read the text without taking notes.
- Next, they read the information about the task and the instructions in their Processfolio, and read the literary text again, this time taking notes in the space provided in the booklet.
- In the next step, they are invited to discuss the text in teams. During the discussion, they are not permitted to take notes, but they can do so afterwards. Then, working alone, they can read the text a third time and add ideas, impressions and questions to the notes in their booklet.
- Finally, after looking at the Guidelines for the Written Response to Literature task in their Processfolio, candidates demonstrate their reading comprehension by individually writing a text in which they present their response to the text.

Excerpts from a Written Response to Literature task are presented on pages 6 to 8.

Marking

The corrector will mark the response using the rubric included in the Information Document. An example of the rubric is provided in Appendix I.

WRITING

To demonstrate their writing competency, candidates must write a narrative text for a target audience of their peers. This task lasts approximately 4 hours and has 2 parts, carried out at different times in the order presented below.

Part 3 – Narrative Exploration task

In the third part, candidates carry out activities to get ready for writing their narrative text. These activities vary from one examination to another. For example, candidates may watch a video, view posters, have a discussion with their peers or carry out any other activity that allows them to collect more information about the exam topic to improve their narrative text.

To prepare to write their narrative text, candidates refer to the guidelines for narrative writing provided in their Processfolio (see example on p. 9). The examiner presents these criteria to candidates and leads a discussion to ensure that they understand them well.

Next, candidates plan their text in the space provided in the Processfolio.

Excerpts from preparatory activities are not included in this guide, as the types of activities change from one examination to the next.

Part 4 – Narrative Writing task

In the last part, candidates write a narrative text. To do so, they use their knowledge of the structures and features of narrative texts as well as the conventions of written language and use them to inform and entertain their target audience. They also refer to the guidelines for narrative writing provided in their Processfolio (see example on p. 9).

- Candidates write the draft of their text on the loose-leaf paper provided by the examiner.
- After revising and editing their texts, candidates write the final version in the space provided in the Processfolio, in pencil or in pen. Only the text written in the designated space of the Processfolio will be marked. Candidates must therefore plan their time carefully to finish writing their text in the designated space within the allotted time.

Marking

The corrector will mark the text using the two evaluation tools included in the Information Document. A sample of each tool is provided in Appendices II and III.

EXCERPTS FROM A COMPULSORY EXAMINATION FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS

EXCERPTS FROM A WRITTEN RESPONSE TO LITERATURE TASK

Instructions

Written Response to Literature

The reading response task requires that you read the story and use your knowledge, experiences and ideas to draw meaning from the text.

- Read the story independently, first for pleasure only.
- Reread the story independently. Think critically about the ideas in the text and illustrations, what the author's message(s) might be, and your own reactions, impressions, and/or opinions after reading and discussing the book.
- Make notes about the text in the way that is most useful for you. Your notes will help you to organize your thoughts and the ideas that are important to you when you write your response.
- Discuss your ideas and reactions to the text with a small group.
- You can refer to your notes when you are sharing ideas. You may want to add ideas to your notes after the discussion.
- Reread the story one more time independently, adding any notes you wish to add, before you write your response.
- Write your response to the story independently. Remember not to retell the story and to support your ideas with references to the text.

EXAMPLE OF GUIDELINES FOR THE NARRATIVE WRITING TASK

Guidelines for Narrative Writing

These are some of the qualities you should consider throughout the writing process.

The narrative is organized and easy to follow, and the ideas make sense.

The events, actions and characters fit together from beginning to end.

Interesting details paint a clear picture for an audience of your peers.

The narrative demonstrates your voice and style (a sense of the person behind the words).

The narrative uses well-chosen words and sentences, descriptive language, dialogue, etc.

The narrative has been revised (ideas have been changed or added to improve the story).

The narrative has been edited for proper grammar, spelling, punctuation, capitalization and paragraphing.

APPENDIX I RUBRIC FOR SCORING WRITTEN RESPONSE TO LITERATURE

LEVEL 5 – ADVANCED			LEVEL 4 – THOROUGH (Competency)			LEVEL 3 – ACCEPTABLE
The reader draws comprehensive meaning from the text.			The reader draws clear meaning from the text.			The reader draws general meaning from the text.
Determine the profile level that best describes the student’s overall performance and assign the corresponding score.
N.B. Not all criteria need to be present in the response.
CRITERIA	The reader examines the concepts and ideas in the text, making perceptive inferences and drawing on key ideas to support their own interpretation(s). Personal understanding is integrated in light of ideas in the text. Ideas are justified with insightful reasoning and references to the text. Through perceptive connections, the reader integrates personal experiences and/or other sources, enhancing their understanding of the text. The reader’s connections and ideas may suggest a world view. Meaning is drawn from subtle cues in the text. An explanation is provided of how structures and features enhance the reader’s understanding of the text. The effectiveness of the text is examined, and personal insights are offered that go beyond the text and apply to life in general.			The reader explores the concepts and ideas in the text, attending to underlying ideas to support their own understanding, offering personal opinions. Ideas are justified with sound reasoning and thoughtful references to the text. The meaning of the text is extended by clearly connecting personal experiences and/or other sources to ideas in the text. The reader makes inferences from cues in the text and shares how structures and features contribute to understanding. The text is evaluated, a personal opinion is offered and thoughtful conclusions about the text are drawn.			The reader identifies and addresses relevant concepts and ideas in the text; understanding of the text is supported with a personal opinion, a logical explanation and/or reference(s) to the text. Meaning of the text is supported by connecting personal experience(s) and/or other sources to the text in a general way. Structures and features of the text are identified, making general inferences that loosely support their understanding of the text. The reader reacts to the text, offering logical opinion(s) and drawing general conclusions about it.

LEVEL 2 – PARTIAL		LEVEL 1 – MINIMAL
The reader draws literal meaning from the text.		The reader draws little or no meaning from the text.
Determine the profile level that best describes the student’s overall performance and assign the corresponding score.
N.B. Not all criteria need to be present in the response.
CRITERIA	The reader draws literal meaning from the text and shares some ideas that may suggest a limited understanding of it. References to the text are unclear and/or illogical. Connections made are superficial in nature, providing minor support to the reader’s understanding of the text. Structures and features are alluded to. The reader offers a mundane opinion about the text that reflects the obvious.	The reader lists minor details from the text. The ideas presented are uncertain and references to the text, if any, are confusing. Connections mentioned are irrelevant and may not link to the text. The reader comments on the text and may indicate preferences about it.

APPENDIX II RUBRIC FOR SCORING NARRATIVE WRITING

		LEVEL 5 – ADVANCED	LEVEL 4 – THOROUGH (Competency)			LEVEL 3 – ACCEPTABLE
		The writer demonstrates comprehensive understanding of narrative writing.	The writer demonstrates clear understanding of narrative writing.			The writer demonstrates general understanding of narrative writing.
		Determine the profile level that best describes the student’s overall performance and assign the corresponding score.
CRITERIA	Organization and Ideas	The writer sustains a solid focus on unfolding events to create the story. Carefully selected details enrich development and lend authenticity to the story. Crafted transitions guide the reader to a strong conclusion, appearing effortless.			The writer sustains a clear focus on unfolding events to create the story. Interesting details enhance development and lend originality to the story. Effective transitions lead to a sound conclusion.			The writer sustains a logical sequence of unfolding events for the most part to create the story. Relevant details support development and convey a story that occasionally sparks interest. Transitions connect parts of the story and lead to an adequate conclusion.
	Voice	The writer speaks to the audience in a memorable and compelling voice that contributes to the narrative, revealing a strong sense of purpose.			The writer speaks to the audience in an expressive voice that lends clarity to the narrative, revealing a clear sense of purpose.			The writer speaks to the audience in a discernible voice that holds attention at times, revealing an occasional sense of purpose.
	Structures and Features	The writer uses narrative structures and features in a deliberate manner; effective choice of plot, setting, characterization and other structures and features enriches the narrative. The writer displays a unique style.			The writer uses narrative structures and features in a sustained manner; attention to plot, setting, characterization and other structures and features elaborates the narrative. The writer experiments with style.			The writer uses narrative structures and features in a wavering manner; attention to plot, setting, characterization and other structures and features may undermine the narrative at times.
	Score	5+	5	5-	4+	4	4-	3+	3	3-
		100%	95%	90%	85%	80%	75%	70%	65%	60%

		LEVEL 2 – PARTIAL	LEVEL 1 – MINIMAL
		The writer demonstrates partial understanding of narrative writing.	The writer demonstrates little understanding of narrative writing.
		Determine the profile level that best describes the student's overall performance and assign the corresponding score.
CRITERIA	Organization and Ideas	The writer's story requires further development; story elements are loosely connected. Details are strung together. Transitions lead to a simple conclusion.	The writer's ideas are disjointed and confusing. Details are disconnected and/or random.
	Voice	The writer addresses the audience unevenly and fails to connect with the reader. An indistinct sense of purpose is evident through the writer's voice.	The writer disregards the audience for the most part; voice is flat or absent. A sense of purpose and direction is lacking.
	Structures and Features	The writer uses narrative structures and features through a simple sequence; attempts to use plot, setting and characterization are evident but confusing.	The writer suggests a series of loosely connected events or actions that allude to the story. Use of narrative structures and features is, for the most part, lacking.
	Score	2+ 55%	1 35%
	Language Conventions	When considering the writer's control of language conventions, refer to the Descriptors for Scoring Written Language Conventions on page 18.

APPENDIX III

DESCRIPTORS FOR SCORING WRITTEN LANGUAGE CONVENTIONS

The writer must demonstrate sufficient control of written language conventions, as detailed in the Progression of Learning in Elementary School.

ADVANCED CONTROL

The writer demonstrates solid control of language conventions (i.e. spelling, punctuation, capitalization, syntax, paragraphs and sentence structure). They are applied consistently, guiding the reader smoothly through the text. Errors in language conventions rarely occur and do not interfere with meaning.

ACCEPTABLE CONTROL

The writer demonstrates acceptable control of language conventions (i.e. spelling, punctuation, capitalization, syntax, paragraphs and sentence structure). They are applied consistently. Errors in language conventions may occur and rarely interfere with meaning.

PARTIAL CONTROL

The writer demonstrates partial control of language conventions (i.e. spelling, punctuation, capitalization, syntax, paragraphs and sentence structure). They are neglected or applied inconsistently. Frequent errors in language conventions impede meaning overall.

N.B. If the use of language conventions is scored as Partial, the overall writing task cannot be scored higher than Level 3- (60%).
