BRITISH FLEET IN ACTION.

Naval Manoeuvres Off Isle of Wight Yesterday Were An Impressive Spectacle.

Portsmouth, August 19.—The fleet which on Saturday formed a brilliant picture when it was viewed by King Edward, dispersed yesterday, after performing some manoeuvres which brought the official coronation celebration to a close.

From a technical point of view, yesterday's display far exceeded in interest the review of Saturday. The fleet then formed a striking scene, bright with flags and bunting, suggestive numerically of the strength of the British navy, but yesterday showed the fleet in action. To naval experts this was most impressive. Probably it was the largest aggregation of ships ever assembled to execute such movements.

The fleet numbered 76 vessels in all, comprising the channel, home and cruise squadrons, the whole under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir A. K. Wilson.

The King left Cowes at 10.45 o'clock on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, accompanied by forty torpedo boats. The royal yachts Osborne and Alberta, and some other yachts, with flags and bunting bedraggled by rain fired a royal salute. Following the Victoria and Albert, the fleet undressed ship, and flying only masthead flags, weighed anchor and moved toward the Nab lightship, off the eastern end of the Isle of Wight, to go through the manoeuvres. The Victoria and Albert steamed to a position about two miles from the Nab, where his Majesty could clearly view the evolutions.

SALUTED KING.

After the royal yacht had anchored, the fleet passed it in two column formation, firing a salute. Other manoeuvres having been executed, the fleet dispersed, the various squadrons departing to take up their usual duties. Several vessels returned to Portsmouth harbor, among them the Portuguese cruiser Dom Carlos, which came in to bury an officer who died suddenly on board at Spithead. The body was buried with naval honors in the royal naval cemetery at Haslar.

The Japanese and Italian ships sailed for their respective countries.

The Victoria and Albert remained at anchor some time before returning to Cowes.

HIS MAJESTY PLEASSED.

The King was delighted with the evolutions, and expressed by signal his appreciation of the spectacle. Rain fell throughout and the sea was rough, the King's yacht and her consort tossing like cockle-shells. Notwithstanding the rough weather a number of excursion boats circled round the fleet during the manoeuvres, but the torrents of rain cleared the beaches, from which the people ashore would have witnessed the evolutions.

THE BOER GENERALS

Botha, DeWet and Delarey Leave London for Brussels.

WILL VISIT KRUGER AND BE RECEIVED BY HOLLAND'S QUEEN—TO RETURN TO LONDON.

London, August 19.—Botha, DeWet and Delarey, the Boer generals, late yesterday afternoon left their hotel and proceeded to the docks to embark on the steamer Batavier for Rotterdam. In spite of the secrecy of their movements a large crowd awaited the generals and cheered the departing visitors.

The newspapers are still perplexed at the reticence of the Boer leaders. They say that the sudden departure of the generals for Holland, and their avoidance of display, which the incessant rain should have helped, was not wholly successful. Crowds of young business men surrounded and cheered at Fenchurch Depot, and again at Blackfall, where they boarded the steamship Batavier. The cheering was so enthusiastic that Gen. Louis Botha, the former Boer commander-in-chief, was constrained to take his pipe from his mouth and raise his hat again and again.

TO MEET WILHELMINA.

Despatches from Holland describe that country as already wild with enthusiasm over the visit of the generals. Money is pouring in for the fund which they are collecting. Their route will be from Rotterdam to The Hague to Utrecht, where they will see Mr. Kruger. Afterwards they will probably go to Het Loo, where Queen Wilhelmina has expressed a desire to meet them.

MAKE A STATEMENT.

Montagu White, the ex-consul general in London of the Transvaal, has issued a statement authorized by the Boer generals, as follows:

"The generals are proceeding to the continent for the purpose of greeting Mr. Kruger and Mr. Steyn, and attending the funeral of General Lucas Meyer. Their present intention is to return to London at an early date for the transaction of business, but they have not decided on any fixed programme. During their brief stay in London the generals have been the recipients of many invitations and kind messages of welcome, which they fully appreciate.

"The report that the decision of the generals not to visit the naval review was due to the influence of Mr. Fischer is not true. Their real reason for declining the invitation on Saturday was that they did not consider their attire quite suitable for a ceremonial visit, and the necessarily short notice conveyed to them did not give them the time for the necessary preparations. But they were glad of the opportunity of paying their respects to the King on the following day, after they had made the necessary purchases, and they are gratified at the kind manner in which they were received by His Majesty.

THE E.T. PRESS EXCURSION.

Quebec, August 18.—(Special)—The first day of the Eastern Townships pressmen's annual outing was favored with splendid weather. The entire day was spent in the vicinity of the ancient capital, which the excursionists reached Saturday evening, having come over the Quebec Central in a private car. About twenty were in the party, which number was increased Sunday by the arrival of several more from Sherbrooke.

The morning was spent at the several churches, or in visiting the numberless places of historical interest, according to the individual bent of the various members, and during the afternoon, through the courteous endeavors of Mr. Guy Tamba, general passenger agent of the Great Northern Ry., who also accompanies the visitors over his line to Hawkesbury today, a special electric car was placed at the complete disposal of the Eastern Townships people, who were thus enabled to visit Montmorency Falls and the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, with more than the usual amount of comfort en route.

Quebec was rendered even more than ordinarily interesting, owing to the presence of the Governor-General and Lady Minto, who, with their suite are occupying the official quarters at the Citadel.

The departure from the ancient city was made at 8.05 this morning, with the Federal capital the vantage point for the evening, the rather long journey to be pleasantly broken, it is expected, by a stop at Shawinigan, of sufficient duration to enable the travellers to visit the far famed falls.

MASSEY-HARRIS vs. McCORMICK.

The following testimonials speak for themselves:

Roberval, P. Q. Last year the McCormick travellers came to try and sell me a binder, telling me that they were ready to wager $500 that the McCormick binder was the best binder in the world, that they were able with it to defeat all other binders made, but in fact that every other Company was afraid to go into a field trial with them. They asked me to invite the other companies, which I did and after waiting about a week the only companies that would show themselves was the Massey-Harris and Deering. After having seen the work I decided to buy a Massey-Harris, and I am well pleased with it. It has done first-class work in wheat, oats and very long rye. I worked all the time with a span of horses, neither of which weighed more than 900 lbs.

ELZEAR GUAY.

We were present at the field trial called for by the agents of the McCormick Machine Co., on the farm of Elzear Guay. Although the following companies were invited: Massey-Harris, Deering, McCormick, Frost & Wood and Moody, only the Deering and Massey-Harris came into the field. After having seen them work Mr. Guay bought the Massey-Harris, and we commend his judgment, because it is a machine well made, of good material, and all levers can be worked with the right hand, can be easy worked with two horses and gathers the grain perfectly. Being made in Canada, it is more easy to get repairs for it in case of necessity.

DAVID NERON, ALF. LALANETTE, DENIS TROUCHON, OCT. LEVESQUE, L.S. LEVESQUE.

Roberval, Que. Last year Mr. Guay told me that he wanted a binder and the McCormick agents had called on him to sell him one of theirs, which they claimed was the best. They wanted to wager $500 that their machine would defeat all comers. Mr. Guay asked me if I was ready for a field trial. I said, "Certainly, I am always ready." Later I met the McCormick agent, Telephone Pilot, and I offered to cover his $500, but he refused. Mr. Guay invited the agents: Frost & Wood, Moody, Deering, McCormick and Massey-Harris, to enter the contest. It was decided to have the trial on the fourth of September, but on the request of Mr. Pilot it was postponed from one day to another until the 10th, and then, getting tired at McCormick delay, Mr. Guay requested that the trial be held forthwith. The only binders entering were the Deering and Massey-Harris. Mr. Guay bought the Massey-Harris, and is delighted with it.

LUC LIZOTTE, ENGLAND'S ORCHARD, (Philadelphia Public-Ledger).

"Canada," said the magnificent arch erected by the Dominion to celebrate the King's coronation, "is the granary of England." Be it so; but Delaware will be its apple orchard, if the capacity of the Diamond state is equal to its ambition. The experiment of shipping apples to London, and having them arrive there in as good condition as when displayed on the fruit stands of Philadelphia has proved successful.

"Is this your writing?" asked the merchant as he glanced over a written list of goods wanted.

"No," replied Mr. Meeker, "my wife wrote the list."

"Well, she certainly knows how to handle a pen," said the merchant. "Her dictation is absolutely perfect."

"Yes, I suppose her dictation is all right," replied Mr. Meeker with a sigh, "but it's nothing when compared with her contradiction."

SONS OF ENGLAND.

JOHN ALDRIDGE, OF TORONTO, ELECTED SUPREME GRAND PRESIDENT.

Winnipeg, August 18.—Mr. John Aldridge, of Toronto, who has always taken a deep interest in the welfare of the Sons of England, was elected Supreme Grand President of the Society at its closing session Friday. Mr. Tattersall, of Montreal, was the unanimous choice of the Grand Lodge for Supreme Vice-President.

The city of Montreal was elected by vote of a large majority as the next place of meeting. The other nominations were Toronto, Sarnia and Vancouver.

The complete list of officers is as follows: Supreme Grand President—John Aldridge, Toronto.

Supreme Grand Vice-President—A. Tattersall, Montreal.

Secretary—John W. Carter, Toronto.

Treasurer—Ben. Hinchcliffe, Toronto.

Past Supreme President—Mayor Fred Cook, Ottawa.

Supreme Auditors—G. C. Coy and W. Barker, Toronto.

Trustees—T. J. Davis, Toronto; Ald. W. R. Stroud, Ottawa; A. E. Miller, Aylmer, Ont.

The lodge rejected without a dissenting voice the proposal to destroy the national character of the society by admitting other than the descendants of Englishmen. The proposal to debar non-beneficial members from sitting at Supreme Lodge and from election as supreme officers was not approved. The clauses seeking to change the personnel of the executive by creating a new office of second vice-president, and leaving the supreme secretary of the board, met with a similar fate. Equally unsuccessful was the proposal to elect the financial or assistant secretary by the Supreme Lodge. It was decided that delegates be elected in December instead of June. Past Presidents will hereafter be entitled to sit at Supreme Lodge only if elected as delegates. A long and warm debate waged over the clauses amending the constitution of the white degree. The champions of the present system prevailed. Many minor changes were made to harmonize the constitution. A resolution moved by Ald. Stroud, of Ottawa, favoring the principle of engaging an organizer, was referred to the general committee with instructions to recommend what sum should be devoted to the purpose.

A letter was read from the head of the Dominion Immigration Department, Ottawa, which suggested that the organization take up the matter of welcoming the new-comers to the country. The opinion was expressed that if the incoming settlers knew that a fraternal welcome was awaiting them, the department would be assisted in its work very materially.

Ping—I met Berver last evening. He had a good deal to say about his new baby.

Pong—What was it he had to say about the little one?

Ping—Tell you the truth, I was n't listening to him; this bragging about babies is a bore. By the way, I want to tell you about my dog. He beats everything. T' other day he—

Pong—Awfully sorry; but here's my car. So long.

"Put not your trust in riches," said the clerical looking man in the rusty coat.

"I don't," replied the prosperous looking individual, "I put my riches in trust."—Retail Grocers' Advocate.

A POPULAR CIGAR.

The proprietors of the Queen Cigar Factory received last Friday, direct from Cuba, one car of Vuelta Abajo, Havana. This particular brand of tobacco is universally admitted by experts to be the finest grown on the island.

Another car load will arrive in about ten days, all of which will be used extensively in the manufacture of the famous El Presidente.

The sale of this cigar last year turned the million and a quarter mark, and the demand is steadily increasing. This fact alone is convincing proof of its superiority over any other 10c brand made in the Dominion.

Wash Fabrics

In a Great Clearance Sale

There are two reasons for these marvellously low prices. One is the extremely backward season that the Wash Fabric market has experienced—cool days, rainy days and disagreeable days generally in Spring and Early Summer retarded the sale of these goods. Prices took a tumble. The other reason is the fact that Fall Trade is distant, but a few weeks and Socks must be reduced as much as possible. Consequently prices take another fall.

Speech of Mr. G. M. Brown, M.P.

Following is The Times' report of the first speech in the British House of Commons of Mr. George M. Brown, son of the late Hon. Geo. Brown of Toronto. The speech was delivered on the second reading of the finance bill, which includes the new grain duty. The report says: Mr. G. M. Brown (Edinburgh, Central), in a maiden speech, twitted the supporters of the Government with supporting a tax which was protective in appearance, but whose attributes were guaranteed as being of the essence of free trade by its promoters. The tax was carefully described as a registration duty, although it possessed none of the features of a registration duty as popularly understood in former days. It could not be too often insisted upon that this was a tax which would fall on the consumer, and that it was a protective tax, though only of a small amount. It would always remain in force to prevent the loaf from falling halfpenny by halfpenny as quickly as it otherwise would do. (Hear, hear.) The tax would introduce a new element of uncertainty and speculation into the corn trade. (Hear, hear.) He thought the Government had not fully considered the effect of this tax on the colonies. If they did not wish to encourage the desire of the colonies for a preferential tariff, the only way to resist it was to maintain free trade in its entirety.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE ARBITRATION.

Editor Record: Sir,—Some eight weeks ago, when the project of acquiring the Basin Water Power for electric purposes was made public, a very interesting controversy sprang up as to once between the partisans of municipal ownership and its adversaries.

The champion of the doctrine on the one side covered the columns of the Record in a powerful exposé of the numerous advantages that are to be derived from the above system.

On the other hand, the adversaries of the scheme reiterated all the formulas of defense that had been in use at the time of the waterworks contest. Now it is to be hoped, for the welfare of our city that their interested clamors will find the same who in the minds of the councillors and of the ratepayers that it found at the time of the contest referred to.

There is one thing, however, in which they succeeded, and that was the conditions under which it was to be bought. I want to refer to the famous arbitration which took place at the time of the waterworks purchase.

For two weeks past the Gas and Water Company has been in convention. Of course the proceedings were of a very private character (at least the Record said so), but through the obliging services of some interested friends the Record was able to publish every day just that amount of fragments of the proceedings that were necessary to enable the intelligent reader to reconstruct the whole proceedings. And when all these dates were put together one could read this: A bona fide syndicate was in partnership with the Gas and Water Co., with the intention to buy their plant. In fact an offer had been made and through the pecciosity of the reporter of the Record, the very figure named was made public.

But not only these good tidings were to be received from the company, but the gas plant was such a desirable property that "a communication was received from the Ottawa Gas Co. asking if their plant is for sale, and if there would be any object in making an offer for it. If so, it is understood, the letter intimating, the Ottawa Company would like to investigate the matter with a view to purchasing the Sherbrooke plant." Record, Aug. 15, 1902.

To the most short-sighted reviewer, it will appear as clear as daylight that this advance of good propositions is a hate to which it is hoped to draw the Council to. This reconnoitering done, the Record finds itself authorized to publish the following in its issue of Saturday: "It is understood the first move is likely to be a resolution asking the G. and W. Co. (should they then own their plant) to place a price upon their electric plant or submit its valuation to arbitration."

Arbitration! Oh, yes, arbitration! The city had a costly experience in the purchase of the waterworks!

An arbitration, may I ask, what for? Did the notorious syndicate, who, for the last three weeks, covered the G. and W. Co., of its persistent attentions, ask for a third party to establish the value of the property they intended to buy?

No; certainly, no. Not any more than did the Council when the Basin Power was bought.

In this connection, the City Council and the G. and W. Co. are two individuals that circumstances may bring together with a view of making a deal. The former may want to buy a certain article on property. The latter may possibly have that article for sale. Like all proprietors he should know the intrinsic and commercial value of the property he offers for sale.

The Council, on behalf of the citizens represents should ascertain through competent engineers the cost of installing a first-class plant. Then, if the G. and W. Co. wish to dispose of its property, a thorough examination by the same competent authorities should be made of the company's plant, leaving aside, of course, the gas plant or any other property that would be of no practical value for the city's purposes.

In possession of all this information, the Council, which, I am sure have no intention of defrauding the company of any of its rights, could accept the price named by the company if it was found reasonable. If not, an honest offer could be made. All this, of course, is in the event that the Council found it more advantageous to buy the existing plant than to build a new one.

This matter should be treated in a business-like manner, and not otherwise.

Whatever expense is entailed by the realization of this project, the citizens of Sherbrooke will have to provide for the payment of it. Therefore, the amount to be paid should not be determined in perfectly useless costs by parties residing in Montreal, Toronto or Quebec.

SHERBROOKE SHOTS.

On the whole, the Sherbrooke men return very well satisfied with their showing at the Hamilton shoot.

Before adjournment, the Association unanimously voted to hold the 1903 tournament in Sherbrooke. The Sherbrooke representatives, however, withdrew their claim to the shoot in favor of Toronto, where it was finally decided to hold the next tournament.

NEWPORT SENSATION.

PROMINENT SOCIETY MAN KILLS HIMSELF.

Newport, R. I., August 19.—R. R. Remington, of New York, committed suicide by shooting in the reading room, on Bellevue avenue here, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Remington was engaged to marry Miss May Van Allen, daughter of James J. Van Allen, of this place. It is thought that he was dependent over matters of a private nature, but even his closest friends do not know definitely the conditions. It was announced recently that his marriage to Miss Van Allen had been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Remington was about 40 years old, and was at the head of Remington Advertising Agency, a New York concern. He had been staying at the La Forge House, from which he took a walk early in the afternoon. He went to the reading room at about 2 o'clock and was in the library alone when he fired two shots from a revolver aiming at a spot between the eyes. The bullets penetrated the brain and his death was instantaneous.

The report of the suicide caused a great shock to the summer residents in this city, to whom Mr. Remington was well known, as he had been closely identified with all the society world here the last seven or eight years.

His engagement to Miss May Van Allen, daughter of James Van Allen, and granddaughter of Mrs. Wm. Astor has been the topic of discussion for some months. At first it was denied, and then affirmed, and it is generally believed that there was a definite engagement between the young people up to within the last three weeks, when it was broken.

Since then Mr. Remington has been very gloomy and dependent, although when asked about the engagement he stoutly affirmed that he was to be married in the fall. He left the city about a week ago, breaking up his domestic arrangements here and sending away all his effects. Last Thursday, however, he suddenly returned to Newport. He had frequented the reading room, which is the leading club of Newport, and a general lounging place for the men of the summer colony, but had kept aloof from everyone and seemed to desire to be left alone.

IF YOU ARE CONSCIOUS OF FAILING STRENGTH AND ENERGY THIS MONTH, MAKE USE OF PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Great Health and Strength Giver.

NO OTHER MEDICINE CAN AFFORD OR GUARANTEE SUCH HAPPY RESULTS.

Men and women, young and old, of every rank in life, freely admit that they are more conscious of overtaxed nervous strength in the hot weather than at any other season.

When such a condition is experienced, Paine's Celery Compound affords advantages and results that no other remedy can offer with honesty. It vigorously cleanses the blood and regulates the tardy circulation. It strengthens and encourages the kidneys and enables them to filter from the blood all waste and morbid matter; it secures strong, firm nerves, gives sweet and natural sleep to the nerve-dread and brain-weary. In a word, Paine's Celery Compound is a true summer life-giver and health builder.

Mr. J. Reardon, of Noxon, Ont., says: "It is now a year past since I had a severe attack of nervous prostration caused by chronic dyspepsia, and I could not sleep at night. This condition of sleeplessness brought on delirium. I was attended by four of the best doctors, and took a great quantity of medicine, but all failed to do me good. I thought I would try your Paine's Celery Compound. After I had used four bottles the nervousness and dyspepsia left me, and I have done more work since than for years past. I now enjoy excellent health and consider myself completely cured."
