Chancellor Stresemann's Coalition Cabinet Resigned

A Dictator For Germany-Cabinet Resigns Office

Dr. Stresemann Is Spoken of in Some Quarters as Well Fitted to Take Over Office of Dictator—Would Be Supported by Martial Law—Dr. Stresemann and the Members of His Ministry Resigned Last Night—President Ebert Then Called upon the Retiring Chancellor to Form a New Cabinet—The Stresemann Government Retired from Office with the Relinquishment of Passive Resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland as the Only Active Accomplishment to Its Credit—It Is Officially Announced that the Resignation of the Ministry Was Due to the Attitude of the Socialists.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, October 4.—With the retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet, there is talk of the establishment of a civilian dictatorship supported by martial law. Dr. Stresemann himself is spoken of in some quarters as well fitted to take over such an office, in view of his experience in economics and finance. Meanwhile, he has been invited by President Ebert to form a new ministry.

The resignation of the cabinet came last night after the four Socialist members had withdrawn following their rejection of a compromise proposed by the Chancellor on the eight-hour law. The bourgeois members of the Government, after deliberating for half an hour, voted to retire in a body, and authorized Dr. Stresemann to appraise President Ebert of their decision.

Although the Coalition Government by its very nature has found it impossible to effect reforms acceptable to all four parties represented, the belief is prevalent that the ministry might have been held together had Premier Poincare been responsive to the termination of passive resistance.

In such an event the tide of nationalist feeling would not, it is believed, have reached the flood, and Chancellor Stresemann would have gained strength.

WILL SUBMIT SAME REFORM BILL THAT HE PROPOSED TO THE OLD CABINET

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Oct. 4.—It is almost certain, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Berlin, that Dr. Otto Gessler and Heinrich Brauns, Ministers of Defence and Labor, respectively, in the Stresemann Government, will join the new cabinet which will be purely bourgeois. Chancellor Stresemann, the correspondent adds, intends to submit to the Reichstag the same reform bill that he proposed to the old cabinet.

Commenting on the report that General Degoutte in receiving a deputation of trade unions in the Ruhr regarding the resumption of work had insisted among other things upon a ten hour day, the expulsion of unwilling workers and the suppression of resistance by armed forces, Vorwärts believes not a single man will accept "these impudent terms."

HOPE SOCIALISTS WILL BE LEFT OUT OF NEW CABINET

(Associated Press Despatch)
MUNICH, Oct. 4.—Public interest here is entirely centred in the crisis in Berlin, upon which the next developments in Bavaria depended.

Government circles hope that the new cabinet of the Reich will be formed from the Right parties without the participation of the Socialists. Only such a cabinet, it is argued in these quarters, can restore the confidence of the country and with such a ministry it will be much more easy to come to an agreement with France.

COMMUNIST NEWSPAPERS IN SAXONY SUPPRESSED

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The military commander in chief in Saxony has suppressed indefinitely the entire communist press of that state because of a manifesto issued by the communist party, in which were contained insulting references to Dr. Wilhelm Sollmann and Dr. Rudolph Hilferding, ministers of the interior and finance, respectively, in the retiring cabinet.

OCCUPATION AUTHORITIES SEVERELY CRITICIZED

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Oct. 4.—A semi-official statement asserts that the occupation authorities in the Ruhr are doing nothing to hasten resumption of economic conditions. On the contrary, it is declared, expulsions and arrests continue unabated and the system of oppression

BRIG.-GEN. F. G. STANLEY, brother of the Earl of Derby, is visiting Canada.

EVENTS HAVE EXASPERATED MINERS AGAINST FRANCE

(Associated Press Despatch)
DUSSELDORF, Oct. 4.—Whether the coal output can be brought back to a normal basis at an early date in accordance with the plan of the leaders of the miners is problematical, because of the bitterness prevailing among the rank and file of the miners, according to a statement made last night by Edmund Graf, secretary of the Arbeiter Bergarbeiter Verband, the oldest miners' union in Germany, the membership of which aggregates 460,000. Herr Graf declared the recent events in the Ruhr had exasperated the miners against France.

Although the miners all returned to the pits yesterday outwardly professing willingness to bring the output to normal as soon as possible, Herr Graf said he would not guarantee what would happen if the miners got a ray of hope of escaping this "slavery."

Asked what inducements had led the miners to agree to resume the normal output, Herr Graf replied: "None. The government simply told us it could not furnish further relief measures for the workers and that we must go back to work. We now simply are the slaves of the French. They can do what they like with us, but they cannot make us forget what has happened."

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—The Irish Free State parliament was formally opened yesterday afternoon, the Senate and Dail assembling together to hear the address of Governor General Healy.

FIVE YEAR CLOSED PERIOD ON ALL FUR BEARING ANIMALS IS PLANNED

(Associated Press Despatch)
VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 4.—A five-year closed period on all fur bearing animals in British Columbia probably will be approved by the Provincial Game Conservation Board shortly to give the fur industry an opportunity to recover from the present depletion of these animals, M. Jackson, chairman of the Board, announced yesterday.

LINERS HELD UP ON ACCOUNT OF SEVERE GALE

Cherbourg Reports that Several Small Boats Have Gone Down During Terrific Storm.

(Associated Press Despatch)
CHERBOURG, Oct. 4.—The terrific storm which yesterday caused a disarrangement of steamship schedules, is continuing today. The Majestic should have touched here last evening, but was unable to enter the roadstead, and this morning was waiting twenty miles outside. She will come in at noon if the storm abates. The Leviathan, expected this evening, will not arrive until tomorrow.

MIGHTY GALE RAGING.

(Associated Press Despatch)
HAVRE, Oct. 4.—A mighty gale is raging here today, interfering extensively with harbor shipping. It was impossible for a boat to reach the light at South Pier last evening and, consequently, the pier was in darkness. Trees have been uprooted and roofs damaged. The barometer had dropped fifteen millimetres early this afternoon.

SEVERAL SMALL VESSELS LOST
(Associated Press Despatch)
CHERBOURG, Oct. 4.—A terrific storm yesterday caused the departure of the trans-Atlantic liners Majestic, Reliance and Empress of Britain to be delayed. A number of small vessels are reported to have sunk and gone aground during the storm.

U.S. PRESIDENT IS PLANNING TO AID FARMERS

Believes Formation of Co-operative Marketing Associations Will Result in Direct Benefit.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President Coolidge set in motion yesterday a plan designed to ameliorate agricultural depression. He designated Managing Director Meyer and Director Mondell, of the War Finance Corporation, to proceed into the Northwest immediately and assist in the formation of co-operative marketing associations, promotion of which the President believes will result in direct benefit.

Meanwhile Mr. Coolidge and his cabinet are seeking to devise additional remedies.
Directors of the Finance Corporation began at once the formulation of a programme and itinerary for their tour. It was stated that Mr. Meyer and Mr. Mondell, together with a representative of the Department of Agriculture experienced in co-operative association work, would visit the Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana and probably Nebraska and other wheat-growing states.

The directors, familiar with co-operative methods in use among tobacco, rice and cotton growers of the South and fruit growers of California, will carry detailed plans for organization into every section visited.

City Of Sherbrooke Considering The Advisability Of Securing Employers' Liability Insurance-Tenders To Hand

Prominent Companies Submit Rates—Wide Variance in Rates Submitted—Flat Rate Nearly Three Times That of the Preferential Rate—Risk of Sewer Building Estimated as Being Greater Than That of Fire Fighting—Public Liability Impossible to Consider—Rates Practically Prohibitive—Interesting Facts and Figures.

FOR some considerable time past, the City of Sherbrooke has been considering the feasibility of discarding its custom of carrying its own insurance, largely as a result of a series of unfortunate accidents which have occurred during the past year, through causes entirely beyond the control of the city administrators.

Ald. Jos. D. Lacombe has taken a particular interest in getting this matter under way and, as a result of a series of sessions, the city council finally decided to ask for rates from the different insurance companies. Both preferential and flat rates were requested and tenders were duly received from many of the leading companies, tariff and otherwise. Rates were submitted for employees' liability as well as for public liability, but the rates for the latter form of insurance are considered prohibitive and would be of no real economy to the city.

Rates for Different Departments.
A comparison of the rates quoted for the different branches of public service follows: These rates are based on the pay rolls of the different departments for the year 1922.

Electric light, operation, maintenance, extension lines, service connection.—The lowest rate offered was 93c and the highest was 4.12. As the pay roll for the electric department, office staff excepted, was $55,735.68, the rates would amount to $518.34 and $2,296.32 respectively, representing the amount to be paid annually by the city for insuring this particular department.

Gas work, operation and maintenance.—The lowest rate offered was $1.28 and the highest $1.63, several companies did not tender for this service. The pay roll of the gas department, office and mains excepted, was $17,011.49 so that the amount to be paid would be $207.87 and $277.29 respectively.

Gas works, laying of mains, (no tunnelling or blasting).—The lowest rate was $1.62 and the highest $2.16. The pay roll for 1922 amounted to $9,308.95 so that the amounts would be $1,560.80 and $2,010.77 respectively.

Water works, laying mains, making connections, (no tunnelling or blasting).—The lowest rate offered was 96c and the highest was $3.42. The pay roll for this department, including operation and maintenance was $39,191.42, so that the amounts would be $376.23 and $1,340.34 respectively.

Roads, maintenance, paving, surfacing, cleaning, (no tunnelling or blasting).—The lowest rate offered was $1.08 and the highest was $1.84. The pay roll for this department was $191,034.96 in 1922 so that the amounts payable would be $2,063.15 and $3,515.04 respectively.

Sewer, building, no depth limit, (no tunnelling except at crossings).—The lowest rate offered was $4.6725 and the highest was $6.23. The pay roll for this department in 1922 was $45,390.13, so that the amounts payable would be $2,120.85 and $2,827.80 respectively.

Garbage collection, street cleaning, snow and ice removal, (no blasting).—The lowest rate offered was $2.565 and the highest was $3.42. The pay roll of this department for 1922 was $9,662.23 so that the amounts payable would be $247.83 and $330.44 respectively.

OFFICIALS AND DIRECTORS OF HOME BANK ARE UNDER ARREST; CASES ADJOURNED FOR A WEEK

Nine Defendants Appeared Before the Toronto Police Court Today—President H. J. Daly Did Not Attend Court Owing to Illness—P. A. Mitchell, the London, England, Director, Is Now Only Member of Board of Directors Not Under Arrest—Charges Preferred by Federal and Provincial Authorities.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TORONTO, Oct. 4.—President H. J. Daly, officials and directors of the suspended Home Bank of Canada, were yesterday afternoon arrested on charges preferred by the Federal and Provincial authorities in connection with the collapse of the bank on August 17th.

C. A. Barnard, K.C., and Lieutenant Col. Clarence F. Smith, of Montreal, directors of the Home Bank of Canada, arrived here this morning and both appeared at the police court today with other defendant directors and bank officials, on charges in connection with the collapse of the bank.

A. E. Calvert, who was acting general manager when the bank suspended, came in from Oshawa today and was placed under arrest. Nine defendants were before the police court today.

The president, H. J. Daly, did not attend court, owing to illness. P. A. Mitchell, of London, England, director, is now the only member of the board not under arrest.

CASES ADJOURNED UNTIL OCTOBER 12.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Adjournment till October 12 and made today in the hearings at the police court of the cases against ten directors and officials of the suspended Home Bank. All appeared in court with their counsel and bondsmen except the president, H. J. Daly, who, it was stated, was detained through illness. A formal bench warrant was issued in his case, but it is understood that his bail will be renewed, as it was for the others.

The following were the directors who appeared in court this morning: R. P. Gough, F. J. B. Russell, J. F. M. Stewart, S. Casey Wood, K.C., all of Toronto; C. A. Barnard, K.C., and Lieutenant-Colonel Clarence Smith, of Montreal; also A. E. Calvert, acting general manager; O. S. Smith, chief accountant, and Sydney H. Jones, auditor, all of Toronto.

When the name of Mr. Daly was called, T. P. Phelan, K.C., appeared to represent him and produced a certificate from Mr. Daly's physician to the effect that the president was ill at his Lake Simcoe home and was unable to appear.

"That certificate will not satisfy me," said Assistant Crown Attorney Murphy, who prosecuted, "and I ask for a bench warrant for Mr. Daly."

"That's just adding indignity to these proceedings," said Mr. Phelan. "It's not at all necessary in this case."

"I say it is absolutely necessary," retorted Mr. Murphy, "and I want the bench warrant issued."

Magistrate Jones consented to issue the warrant, but stipulated that it be not executed until October 12th, when, if Mr. Daly is not in a fit condition to appear in court, the bail will be renewed.

Mr. Daly was bound over in the sum of $100,000; Mr. Gough in $100,000; Charles Barnard, $100,000; F. J. M. Stewart, $100,000; Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, $50,000; S. Casey Wood, $50,000; F. J. B. Russell, $50,000; A. E. Calvert, $25,000; Sydney Jones, $50,000, and O. S. Smith, $25,000.

Five Miners Rescued After Being Buried Alive For Five Days—Remarkable Escape Has Raised Hopes For Others Entombed

First Thing Rescued Men Asked For Was Cigarettes—All They Had to Exist on Was Water After the First Day, When Supply of Bread Gave Out—Thirty-six Still Entombed in Mine.

(Associated Press Despatch)
FALKIRK, Scotland, Oct. 4.—Buried alive for five days, five of the forty-two miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit near here on September 25, were rescued here today. The men were brought to the surface in fairly good condition, and their remarkable escape from death has raised the hopes of the relatives of the others imprisoned. The rescuers today were redoubling their efforts.

The first thing the rescued men asked for was cigarettes. They said all they had to exist on was water after the first day, when the supply of bread gave out. The pit they were in was flooded by the explosion, but they succeeded in crawling to a ledge away from the water and finally struck a passage from which they got a current of air. There they stopped, except for occasional trips for water, until they were rescued. The pit belonged to the James Nimmo Company. Seventy men were entombed in it when the explosion took place, but one party of twenty-nine men succeeded in making their escape through a disused shaft. Virtually all hope for the remaining men had been given up.

POSITION OF GREAT BRITAIN IS EXPLAINED

Chief Causes of Britain's Difficulties Are Burden of Taxation and Shrinking of Available Markets.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Lord Birkenhead, addressing the Canadian Club here yesterday, spoke of the position of Great Britain as being the cause of great anxiety to those in control of affairs. The two chief causes of Britain's difficulties, he said, were the intolerable burden of taxation and the shrinking of the available markets of the world.

As to the latter, Lord Birkenhead said: "We have lost Russia because of its economic upheaval, the United States because of prohibitive tariff barriers, Germany and Austria because of the breakdown of their exchange, and France and Italy in a lesser but still incommensurable degree. Until we find substitute markets we cannot find bread and butter for the working classes of Great Britain. Today the problem of unemployment is graver and more positively chronic than at any other time within living memory."

MANY GRAIN BOATS ARE HELD UP NEAR MONTREAL

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—The weight supporting the swinging bridge at Ville St. Pierre on the Lachine Canal gave way last night, allowing the bridge to block the channel and preventing grain boats from reaching Montreal from the Great Lakes for an indefinite period.

Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gasses and poisons. Excellent for obstinate constipation and to guard against appendicitis. Helps any case gas on stomach in TEN minutes. A. E. Dubergier, druggist.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS, SURE There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxide powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dirt and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxide powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their normal condition.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome, and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting, exercise, or abraded pressure and, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A case is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the price direct to the Marmola Co., 4513 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of tiramisu exercise and starvation diet or fear of bad effects.

Relieved Rheumatism Too, Says Contractor

Thousands of people everywhere have learned of Tanlac through the statements of others and have taken the treatment with such splendid results that they in turn deem it only fair to relate their experience for the benefit of suffering humanity.

Such is the case of L. Desormaux, well-known Electrical Contractor, living at 1066 Berri St., Montreal, who says:

"I couldn't do otherwise than publicly endorse Tanlac for I am lucky to find out about the medicine the same way myself. For nearly a year I suffered from indigestion, and also rheumatism in my legs. About a month ago I was laid up in bed for two weeks with this rheumatism and a bad case of grippe. I lost about eight pounds and felt miserable.

"Three bottles of the Tanlac Treatments, besides greatly improving my rheumatism, has made my eating and digestion better than they ever were. I have regained my lost weight, and am feeling extremely well. Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

If you are buying a house one of the important considerations should be the kind of heating plant installed.

If there is no furnace in the house there is no need of tearing down the walls to install one. McClary's Pipeless Furnaces can be installed almost as easily as the old-fashioned base burner, and the installation work is all done from the cellar.

The Wings of the Morning A Great Story of Adventure and Romance BY LOUIS TRACY.

"I was not there, but young Barker told me that Mrs. Anstruther looked very impressive as she said this. 'Stunning' was the word he used, but young Barker is a fool, and thinks Mrs. A. is the most beautiful woman in Yorkshire. Her dress, they say, was magnificent, which I can hardly credit, as she usually goes about in the plainest tailor-made clothes. By the way, I forgot to mention that the Anstruthers have restored our parish church. The vicar, of course, is enraptured with them. I dislike people who are so free with their money and yet reserved in their friendship. It is a sure sign, when they court popularity, that they dread something leaking out about the past.

"Do write soon Don't forget Jenks and Lord Ventnor; those are the lines of inquiry."

"MATILDA. "PS.—Perhaps I am misjudging them. Mrs. Anstruther has just sent me an invitation to an 'At Home' next Thursday.—M.

"PPS.—Dear me, this letter will never get away. I have just destroyed another envelope to tell you that the vicar came in to tea. From what he told me about Lord Ventnor, I imagine that Mrs. Anstruther said no more than he deserved.—"

NOTE.—Colonel Anstruther's agents discovered, after long and costly inquiry, that a Shields man named James Spence, a marine engineer, having worked for a time as a miner in California, shipped as third engineer on a vessel bound for Shanghai. There he quitted her. He passed some time ashore in disipation, but another job on a Freighters of Certain Type Have Earned Bad Reputation Among Seamen.

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, Oct. 4.—French freighters of a certain type have earned such a bad reputation among seafaring men, that today sailors are refusing to go to sea on them, while naval dispatchmen declare they should be taken out of service altogether.

Twelve such vessels were built by the government during the war. Their holds are clear, with no bulkheads, which permits the sudden shifting of cargo, and their water ballast tanks have a trick of filling unexpectedly. Five of them already have turned over. The last was the Emile Durant, which rolled over without warning and drowned 19 members of the crew.

Nevertheless, some sailors are occasionally found, from time to time, who will take a chance, so several of the craft are still at sea.

SHERBROOKE CONSIDERING

be $6.44 and $13.17 respectively. City Hall, clerical, employees. — The lowest rate offered was $0.06 and the highest was $0.08. The pay roll of this department in 1922 was $35,735.98, so that the amounts to be paid would be $17.86 and $29.58 respectively.

Market.—The lowest rate offered was $0.40 and the highest $0.86. The pay roll for this department in 1922 was $3,264.26, so that the amounts payable would be $13.06 and $28.07 respectively.

A rate was also submitted for blasting, the lowest being $12.50 and the highest $15.54.

Peculiarity of Some Rates

The total pay roll taken under consideration amounts to $463,597.38 and, in addition to the preferential rates mentioned above, a flat rate was also secured. This rate ran all the way from 1 1/2 p.c. up to 7 p.c., equivalent to $6,953.96 and $32,451.81 respectively. On an average the flat rate was nearly three times that of the preferential rate. Tariff companies quoted an amount of $11,784.64 on the preferential basis and $32,451.81 on the flat rate basis.

The matter is now up for the city fathers for discussion in order to ascertain whether it would be advisable to accept any or all of the rates given above. In certain instances the rates quoted might appear out of all proportion to the risk involved.

In the large majority of instances, gas mains, water mains and sewers are laid at the same time. The gas mains would appear likely to cause more trouble but the rates quoted make the risk of laying sewers practically three times as high as that for laying the gas mains and nearly twice as high as that for the water mains. The rate for laying gas mains is $2.16, water mains $3.42 and sewers $6.23.

The risk of collecting garbage and cleaning the streets, removing snow and ice is placed higher than the risk on policemen, higher than the risk for laying water mains and nearly as high as the fire department. It is suggested that there might be a revision of this rate.

MAJOR OPERATION WAS PERFORMED WITHOUT USE OF ANAESTHETIC

Operation Required Nearly Two Hours, the Patient Being Fully Conscious Throughout.

(Associated Press Despatch) BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Chatting from time to time with the man on the operating table, Dr. Hans Finsterer, of the University of Vienna, before a clinic of Buffalo surgeons, yesterday removed the patient's stomach, performed a minor operation on the organ and replaced it. The operation required nearly two hours, the patient being fully conscious throughout.

Dr. Finsterer explained that special treatment of the solar plexus, deadening the nerve centres, had made unnecessary the use of an anaesthetic. Physicians examining the patient said he had suffered none of the after effects of the shock, usual in major operations.

You cannot afford to economize on sleep

Sleep is the most important of life's few necessities. Total loss of it kills any animal in a week, while men have gone without food for 50 days and recovered.

Yet the majority of Canadians spend lavishly for food, year after year, and make their beds objects of unthinking economy.

For this mistake they pay—pay in mental energy and physical well-being—pay even in years of life. And all the while, the best spring and mattress made costs only two or three cents per night for all its years of use

CANADIAN CONFIDENCE.

Once again Canadians have shown their unbounded faith in the great Dominion by over subscribing to the $200,000,000 loan, floated by Finance Minister Fielding in order to provide for the amount of $172,000,000, maturing November 1st, 1923. Less than two weeks ago the announcement of the new loan was made public and the remarkable success which has attended this new issue clearly represents the stability of Canadian financial institutions and the determination of Canadians to prove their faith in the Dominion.

With the exception of the huge loans floated during the course of the great war, this represents the largest piece of Government financing ever undertaken successfully in any of the British Dominions. The original issue was for one hundred and seventy-two million dollars, the amount of the bonds maturing next month, but following an offer, made by the syndicate which has been in charge of placing the bonds, the issue has been increased to $200,000,000.

The success of the loan is exceptionally gratifying and as the results are broadcasted across the globe, other nations will realize that the confidence which Canadians place in the future of their own country justifies the appeal being made for immigrants of a suitable type. No longer does Canada find it necessary to go to London or New York to secure funds for the purpose of meeting its just obligations. Considerable expense and inconvenience is eliminated and in addition to financial advantages Canada also secures the greatest of all rewards—a reputation second to none for financial security.

REAL CIVIC PROGRESS.

The City Council and the Board of Trade executive have had several interesting sessions of late dealing with the absolute necessity of getting Sherbrooke, literally speaking, out of the rut. The most optimistic of our citizens are forced to admit that we are merely marking time and that Sherbrooke's industrial growth of the past few years has been of a negligible nature.

The cause is not very difficult to locate. It is a sore which has gradually developed more serious symptoms as the years have rolled by. It is, however, no longer hushed up and discussed by only a few of our leading citizens but is discussed frankly and freely by ratepayers in general.

The city's ownership of extensive power plants is, according to opinion, advisable or regrettable. Regardless of this fact it is clearly evident that the city has come into close rivalry with the Southern Canada Power Company. There has been a lack of co-operation which has naturally resulted to the disadvantage of the city and, possibly to the Power Company.

Thanks, however, to a spirit of broadmindedness, which is being evidenced by the City Council and the Board of Trade, negotiations are being opened with the Power Company to formulate some system of working arrangement which would be of mutual benefit to all parties concerned.

The fly in the ointment has been a clause in the by-laws prohibiting the Southern Canada Power Company from disposing of power within the city limits. This has resulted in the Company concentrating its efforts to locate industries in Drummondville and other points where they are left untrammelled in their progressive policy of bringing in new industries. The city of Sherbrooke is disregarded practically entirely when it comes to the location of new industries resulting in the building up of the suitable districts to our detriment.

With this state of affairs carried over a lengthy period, Sherbrooke will lose her title to the Queen City of the Eastern Townships and will be relegated to a secondary position in the industrial communities.

Co-operation is the golden key to success, and with a working arrangement between the Power Company and the city, as an accomplished fact, there is every reason to anticipate a consistent growth commensurate with our present greatness.

There is no necessity of jeopardizing the city's power interests. They can remain, as at present, under complete civic control. We should, however, discard the "dog in the manger" position and enter wholeheartedly into the spirit of co-operation in a measure that will unquestionably result to our advantage. Our civic authorities have the matter under careful consideration and the results of their efforts will be watched keenly by ratepayers in particular and citizens in general.

GALT STREET VIADUCT.

After thirteen years of litigation, the Galt street viaduct is about to be widened and one of the most dangerous corners in the city will have been eliminated. The situation resulted in a three-cornered fight between the City of Sherbrooke, the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company, and was finally brought up for hearing before the Board of Railway Commissioners at a special session held in Sherbrooke on November 24th of last year.

At the close of the special session, the Canadian Pacific and the City of Sherbrooke arrived at an amicable settlement as a result of which the Railway undertook to contribute thirty per cent. of the cost providing an arrangement could also be reached with regard to the Belvidere Street Bridge.

In accordance with the judgment rendered, the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company is asked to pay ten per cent. of the cost, including, in the said cost, the expenditure necessary in respect of land damages. The land damages represent the amount paid for the expropriation of the property owned by Mr. Jobin, same being settled by arbitration.

An interesting feature of the judgment is that the Canadian Pacific is instructed to carry out the work at once and will have to collect the amounts due from the city and the street railway. The question arises, however, "who will collect the percentage of the street railway's amount due for land damages?"

The Canadian Pacific Railway is to pay thirty per cent. of the cost without contributing to land damages, so that it would appear as though the city and street railway will have to remit their share of the cost of construction direct to the Canadian Pacific, while the city will have to collect the amount due by the street railway for land damages. Inasmuch as the street railway was vitally interested in the expropriation of the property necessary it looks as though the company should have been represented on the arbitration board which decided upon the price.

PRESS COMMENT

THE MINER'S HAPPY LOT.

Now of us are confined to a single daily occupation, but the miner can take his pick.

WHY STRIKES PERSIST.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.) As long as strikes can be settled by raising the price to the consumer strikes will continue to be unfavourably settled.

EDUCATION.

(Boston Transcript.) There will never be too much higher education, nor too many educated men and women. Engineers and lawyers and authors will come and go, but education not only shapes and effectuates the superior mind but through suggestion and influence forms the common mind.

THE SOARING PRICE OF COAL.

(New Orleans Times-Picayune.) There is a price point at which the use of anthracite will be lifted beyond the financial reach of many consumers. Whether the Pinchot compromise will pitch the price at a prohibitive level is doubtful, but any price increase resulting from it will reduce the number of anthracite consumers.

With the wage increase demands recurring year after year, the prohibitive price cannot be very far away. Anthracite operators may be prompted by that unpleasant prospect, no less than by the continuous labor troubles in their present field to seek new bases of operations holding the promise of better business security as well as industrial peace.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

(Christian Science Monitor.) Bankers, as a rule keep well posted on business conditions not only in their own communities but throughout the nation and the world. That is an essential part of their activities. It is consequently gratifying to know that at the convention of the American Bankers' Association this week at Atlantic City, the consensus of opinion was that business is good and likely to continue so for some time to come. In some of the rural districts conditions are less prosperous than in the larger cities. But even in these isolated cases prospects are brighter, and opinion obtains when crops are gathered and marketed it will be found that conditions there are better than had been estimated earlier in the year.

There has been some reaction in some of the basic industries, and "spotty" conditions are reported in others, but as autumn advances the trend of things is found to be toward normal. More confidence is entertained. World conditions are absolutely improving. The ending of passive resistance in the Ruhr by the Germans eventually will mean a resumption of work not only by the Germans in that district, but also by a large part of the population of France, Belgium and England. For improvement in international commerce will undoubtedly result from the negotiations now under way on the continent.

MANY POLICIES TO BE DECIDED BY THE LEGION

American Legion Will Take Stand on National and International Questions.

(Associated Press Despatch) INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 4.—The American Legion, at its national convention in San Francisco, October 15-16, will take a stand on numerous questions of international and national policy as well as problems relating purely to the affairs of veterans, according to reports received at legion national headquarters here.

One of the principal issues to come before the San Francisco gathering is the question of the convocation of an international air disarmament conference. A poll, taken of all the United States senators, congressmen, governors, newspaper editors, college presidents and other prominent citizens, expressed overwhelming endorsement of the legion's proposal to hold an international gathering in Washington to reduce military air forces. The suggestion also was approved by the Interallied Veterans' Federal convention in Brussels, which represented the views of fighters from eight allied powers.

Recommendations made by a number of state conventions are that the national body should continue its campaign for the conference until President Coolidge agrees to invite the European nations to confer.

Legion men hope to induce the President to extend an invitation for the gathering, and they plan definitely to consolidate legion opinion and action at the national convention.

A proposal to suspend all immigration to this country for a period of five years appears certain to receive the consideration of the legion men.

Americanization for foreigners already in America is proposed in a number of resolutions to be presented at the national gathering. It has been suggested also that the legion support a bill providing for the deportation of all foreigners who have not become citizens within five years after they come to this country.

The Iowa department will propose a resolution protesting the recognition of Soviet Russia by the United States. Other departments have adopted similar resolutions.

National and state laws to prevent liberation of the national flag and to insure that it be flown from every schoolhouse will be the subject of other resolutions. Liberation of the so-called political prisoners also will be considered.

Adjusted compensation will also come before the national gathering. Almost all state conventions held to date have expressed approval of the bonus measure. The welfare of disabled veterans will be considered in detail, and the convention is expected to consider the retirement of disabled emergency officers on the same status as those of the regular army.

Another issue to be discussed will be the care of orphans of deceased veterans of the war.

Various state organizations will bring before the national body a resolution favoring American participation in an international court of justice. The convention last year endorsed the report of the Interallied Veterans' Federation, including a statement favoring the proposed court, but the legion has taken no definite action on the specific proposal.

Creation of a standing committee in the House of Representatives to consider all veterans' legislation is the subject of another resolution to be presented.

IMPROVEMENT IN TRAFFIC ON RUHR RAILWAYS

Constant Improvement in Efficiency Since French Took Control.

(Associated Press Despatch) COLOGNE, Oct. 4.—Constant improvement, in efficiency and economic results, in the operation of the German railway system in the occupied areas is pointed out in statistics tabulated by French officials. Every month, according to these statistics, shows an unanticipated increase in the number of passengers carried and merchandise transported, as well as additional tonnage brought under the control of the occupation authorities.

In order, however, to obtain an accurate perspective of what this railway system, one of the most complicated in the world, was like before the occupation as compared with its present status—undoubtedly greatly improved within the past few months—it is necessary to compare as it is today not only with what it was a few months ago, but also with what it was before it was taken over by French and Belgian administrators.

From trustworthy figures the following comparisons are made: Trackage—In March of this year the occupation authorities were using 865 miles of track, and in July—the last month on which figures are available—they were using 2,130 miles. The whole system in the Rhineland and Ruhr occupied areas, as operated by the Germans before the occupation, consisted of 7,150 miles of track. Since very few miles are still being operated under German management, therefore, some 5,000 miles of track are still rusting.

Personnel—In March 11,080 French and Belgian train operators, six German trainmen and 2,360 German auxiliary workers were employed on the occupied system; or a total of 13,446 persons. In July 1,383 French and Belgian trainmen, 357 German trainmen and 9,224 German auxiliary workers—a total of 10,964 persons—were employed. Before the occupation the total personnel, including officials and workmen, amounted to 287,000. Of this number, about 200,000 have left the occupied area, or have been expelled, leaving about 65,000 former employees still in the occupied zone to do whatever emergency work they can.

Passenger traffic—In March, 600,000 passengers, including German civilians and military travellers, were carried on the trains, whereas in July the passenger traffic had increased to 3,410,000 persons, of whom about two-thirds were German civilians. This, of course, was despite the German edict, tacit or formal, against the use of French trains by German civilians.

During the months of October, November and December, 1922, the passenger traffic over the German-managed lines, judging from the number of tickets sold, amounted to 97,254,000 persons, making the monthly list of passengers about 32,418,000 carried on the French trains during July, 1923.

SOUTH BOLTON

The second annual school fair for the town of East Bolton, held under the auspices of the Women's Institute, was held here at Mr. G. Taylor's. The weather was all that could be desired and parents, as well as children, were present. There was a good exhibit of calves, pigs and fowl outside, while the exhibit inside was not quite as well filled as last year, but it was nevertheless very good. Miss Roach, Miss Pool and the Messrs. Lampan and Jones, of Macdonald College; Mr. L. D. McClintock, agronomist for Bromes, and the agronomist for Shefford, were the judges. There were also present Rev. E. J. Rexford and Rev. E. M. Taylor, of Knowlton. Dinner was served by the Institute to the judges and visitors. Many thanks are due Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, who spared nothing to make the fair a success. The Institute also wish to thank all who contributed and helped, and it is hoped that another year still greater interest will be shown, which will encourage the boys and girls to still greater efforts. The Misses Edith, Judy and Lillian Fletcher, of East Bolton, were in town to attend the school fair, and a here were the guests of Mrs. D. E. Coates.

PROGRAMME FOR EDUCATION WEEK IS ANNOUNCED

Washington Bureau Designates Certain Days for Stressing Certain Topics.

(Associated Press Despatch) WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—American Education Week will be observed this year from November 18 to 24, and suggestions made by the Bureau of Education include the designating of certain days for the stressing of special topics, connected with education. The American Legion, the National Education Association and other organizations have sponsored the movement, and cooperation with these societies should be the first step in a community program, bureau officials declare.

Plays, pageants, stories, writing of essays, speeches, poster and moving picture exhibitions, should be an important part in school and community programs, according to the bureau.

Sunday, November 18, is styled "For God and Country Day," and ministers in all pulpits are invited by the bureau to preach at least one sermon on education.

Monday is "American Constitution Day," set aside for stressing obedience to the law, man's struggles for liberty, the duties of citizenship and education and the ballot. "The Man Without a Country," is a good topic for plays and essays.

Tuesday, "Patriotism Day," is allotted to discussing the duty of voting honor to the flag of the country, the duty to the foreign born, and American ideals.

Wednesday, "School and Teacher local schools and teachers, the relation of education to civilization, and better training for rural teachers.

Thursday, "Literacy Day," is for devising ways and means for the eradication of illiteracy. Data showing the extent of illiteracy and its dangers to the nation and loss economically are suggested as subjects of exhibits and essays.

Friday, "Community Day," is given over to consideration of equal opportunity in education for everybody and girl, the needs of the community as to public libraries and community centre.

Saturday, "Physical Education Day," is a day for the study of the value of exercise, correct posture and health habits. A "Health Parade" of children is suggested by the bureau.

The value of having all members of the community participate in the activities of the week is important, the bureau believes. No matter how large or small the community may be. Music and addresses, with various activities, such as physical education work and playground projects, should be included to attract adults. The bureau recently compiled for distribution a pamphlet regarding the programs suggested for the week, including data from which to work, and guides for teachers, school officials, and town government officials and others interested in the celebration.

Southern Canada Power Company's new 30,000 horse power plant can be secured by its patrons

THE section we live in is growing. New factories are moving in—not rapidly, but steadily. Many of the factories located here are enlarging their plants. More and larger payrolls are in circulation.

These facts Southern Canada Power Company knows because the demand for the product it sells—electric energy—is increasing tremendously.

We are generating power now to the full capacity of our two hydro-electric plants and also are buying power from the Shawinigan Water & Power Company, and from the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company. But even this enormous output of power is not enough to satisfy the present demands of our territory for electrical energy—and still the demand grows.

To meet this demand—to do our job—to earn fair profits—to grow with Quebec and with Canada, Southern Canada Power Company has a splendid opportunity to develop more power.

At Hemmings Falls on the St. Francis River, three miles above Drummondville, the Company owns a power site. On this site the Company proposes to erect, as rapidly as possible, a 30,000 horse power plant.

This plant will develop four times as much power as any plant the Company now owns—twice as much as all its present plants combined.

Preliminary work is now going on. A railway line is being built to the job, construction camps and offices are being erected, and large quantities of materials and tools are being assembled to have everything in readiness in the spring for a good early start on the big job.

How this plant will look when completed is shown in the bird's eye view on this page.

A sturdy concrete dam will swing in a huge curve, following the foundation of bed rock that nature provided, across the river. The power house itself will be built into the dam at the north shore, and a long embankment of earth and concrete, nearly a mile in length, will create a large reservoir to store the water for use when it is needed.

The water backed up behind this giant dam will lend its mighty force to the turning of three water wheels. These wheels will turn three big generators, each capable of developing 10,000 horse power of electric energy.

The preliminary work on the dam will be completed this fall, so that when the snow goes next spring, actual construction of the dam can be rushed to completion.

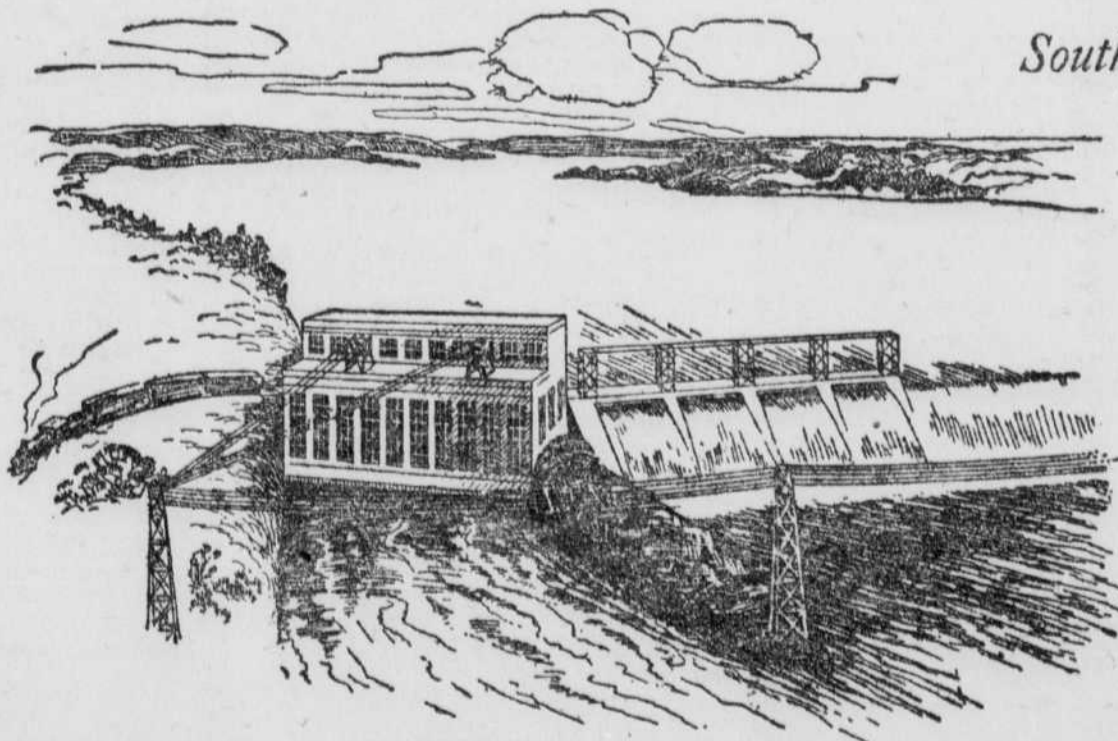

Every effort will be made to get this plant generating power at the earliest possible moment. When it is finished the Company will be able, not only to reduce the power it is now purchasing by 8,000 horse power, but to turn around and sell the Shawinigan Company 10,000 horse power.

In other words, two-thirds of the great output of the new plant (the 8,000 horse power that is being bought and the 10,000 horse power that will be sold to Shawinigan) has been, in effect, sold before the first yard of concrete is run. The natural growth of the Company's business will undoubtedly furnish an immediate market for much of the remaining third. This makes it quite certain that the new property will, from the start, operate at a profit.

To build the new plant and the necessary transmission lines will give profitable employment to about four million dollars of capital. To finance part of this, the Company has issued 20,000 shares of its new participating 6% preferred stock. All of this issue and more could have been sold readily to Montreal bond houses. The issue of 15,000 shares that was offered in Montreal was oversubscribed 33% in a single day, and immediately jumped in price from $90 to $92 a share.

The Company reserved, however, for its customers, 4,000 shares. Just how these will be offered to the customers will be told in a letter which will reach them Tuesday, October 23rd. We feel sure they will find this letter of interest.

He recently gave the States a taste of his quality when he said that Woodrow Wilson came to Europe with a message of hope but that unfortunately hope proved his principal equipment.

America gasped at this sacrilege but the quip was a mild one. All his life he has been jabbing away with jeer and gibe at friend as well as foe. One of his critics has called him "a very gifted costermonger."

Politically he was born with teeth. His maiden speech in 1906 is still remembered as the most acid douche of vitriol the British house ever experienced.

He is a Tory of Tories who has always stood in a last ditch armed with a pitchfork. In his political cradle he scratched Lloyd George and the Liberals. Last autumn after the defeat of Lloyd George he snapped at the Tories.

He said Sir Charles Younger was a cabin boy trying to climb on the bridge. The new cabinet he called a cabinet of second-class brains steered from the steerage. He had his jest but they had his Westminster palace and his $50,000 a year. These gibes cost him his Lord Chancellorship.

When he was Sir Edward Carson's chief aider and abettor in Ulster he was known as "Galloper Smith." He might also have been called "Wallpaper Smith." Verbally he is a Jack Dempsey.

He is a close personal friend of Winston

Churchill but once on the floor of the House he called him an "insect." He is now the leader of the Lloyd George party in the Lords, but once he defied L. G. apropos of the Marconi scandals as "a wireless Welsh harp."

His retort to a heckler has become famous. At a tariff meeting the heckler shouted: "What about food?" "Don't worry, my friend," said F. E. Smith. "Your food is safe. No one is proposing a tax on thistles."

His wit is sometimes more genial. Recently he was accused of being "in the pockets of Lloyd George," that is, an L. G. henchman. "As chancellor of the exchequer I have been in so many pockets," he replied, "that that experience has lost all thrill for me."

If he has a gift for Billingsgate he also possesses the most subtle irony—one of the best samples of this is a judgment he once passed on Lord Grey and Lord Robert Cecil.

"These gentlemen," said he, "seem to have every prospect of forming a government, except that they have no support in the country, no majority in the House of Commons and no majority in the House of Lords."

Less delicate was his reply to an American reporter whom he found in his bedroom at Boston in 1917. The reporter asked for an interview. "Get to Hades out of here," replied Lord Birkenhead.

This was emphatic but he only reaches his highest flights of invective when he is discussing prohibition. Strange to say at present he is a strict teetotaler. Some time ago he made a wager of $5,000 that he would abstain for two years. Thereby he pays a delicate compliment to American laws which should mollify American resentment of his attitude to Wilson.

It is curious that they should have expected soothing syrup from a master of invective. "I did not come to America to utter platitudes," said Lord Birkenhead. And he has not uttered them. His motive is not to pat the nail on the head but to hit it on the head. The Birkenhead fountain of oratory flows not with honey but with bitter aloes.

His appearance belies him. This man who speaks daggers has hair like Valentino, one of those school girl complexions, and a bathroom that cost $17,500.

MOTHS PICKED HOLES IN JUDGE'S EVIDENCE

Namely, in Mr. Justice Gregory's Best Suit Stored Away in a Cedar Chest

MOTHS are no respectors of persons, nor are they influenced by popular fallacies as to what they do or do not like.

Take, for instance, the tradition handed down by our grandmothers that moths would not touch clothes packed in a cedar chest. That has been accepted on faith ever since the glorious days of the Queen of Sheba, but the insatiable appetite of a family of British Columbia moths has bored holes in the very foundations of this belief.

Mr. Justice Gregory, sitting in judgment in a case involving the alleged infringement of the copyrighted trade name, "O Cedar," is responsible for the revelation that coast moths have acquired a decided taste for clothes packed away in the supposed preservative wood.

"We all know that clothing stored away in cedar chests is immune from attacks by moths," remarked one of the lawyers, by way of pointing his argument.

"I know that is not so," interjected his lordship. "I have evidence to the contrary. I put my best suit in a cedar chest some months ago, and when I took it out yesterday afternoon, I found the moths had picked holes in the evidence!"

The lawyer promptly developed a new line of argument.

Primate of All Canada Avoids Devil's Lake

There's a Pagan Woman There Who Makes Ravenous Attempts to Bite Missionaries

THE days when bishops are eaten alive are still with us apparently, and the Primate of All Canada will no doubt give a wide berth in future to Devil's Lake.

At a recent sitting of the synod of the diocese of Rupert's Land, Archbishop Thomas, general missionary, speaking of work done among the Indians, said that there was one ancient pagan woman, ninety years of age, who had successfully resisted all attempts to induce her to become a Christian.

"The last time," said the Archbishop, "she expressed her refusal in a ravenous attempt to bite me." Uproarious laughter greeted this intelligence, but their faces changed when the Archbishop announced that it had been decided to leave her case until His Grace Archbishop Matheson, paid his next visitation.

SWIMMER INSISTS JAZZ HELPED IN CHANNEL SWIM

Tira Bocchi Had Band on Tugboat—Encouraging Blare of Trombone Gave Him New Nerve

THE secret of fast swimming, as well as endurance, lies in keeping the mind occupied with something else," says Enrique Tirabocchi, the Argentinian who has broken all records for cross Channel navigation from Calais to Dover in his 16 hours and 25 minutes' feat.

Before Tirabocchi gave the signal for the tugboat to accompany him during his effort he insisted there should be a full jazz band aboard, with a dusky South American beating the drums.

"I wanted to quit twice when I struck cold currents," he said afterward, "but suddenly the trombone blared out encouragingly in the midst of the foggy darkness, so I kept going for another four hours' swim."

Tirabocchi says he has spent nearly 250,000 francs in his three Channel attempts, which have occupied virtually his every moment in as many years spared from his activities with his South American factories or as European representative of the Buenos Aires Fencing and Gymnastic Club. The loss is not worrying him, however, as he is reputed to be a millionaire.

LADY TREE'S INFATUATION

A DELIGHTFUL story is told by Lady Tree of her girlish infatuation for Henry Irving. She used to walk as a schoolgirl from her home near the Brompton Oratory to the Queen's College in Harley street, through Hyde Park and the squares. Inside the school the lecturers were her heroes; outside, her idol was Henry Irving, who could alone lure her from her college work.

One day she learned that Irving lived in rooms between Grafton street and Bond street. Thenceforward her route was changed, and every day for two years she increased her walk to school by three miles, in the vain hope that she should see his face at the window, his "hansom" at the door, or even a glimpse of his beautiful hand drawing up the blind. It never happened.

Long years after, when she was married, she met her erstwhile idol face to face, and sat next him at dinner at Lady Burdett-Coutts's. Then she unfolded the story of her "daily detour of devotion" and the unfulfilled hopes she entertained.

He listened to her story, rather moved, she thought, and then observed: "Very nice, very pretty. But they were not my windows."

A NEW AMBASSADOR'S WIT

THE new United States Ambassador in London, Mr. William Collier, who has succeeded Mr. Harvey, has a reputation as a wit.

Once, when addressing a political meeting, he was heckled by a man who persisted in shouting, "My food is taxed. Why?" "I had no idea," retorted Mr. Collier, at last, "that there was any tax on thistles."

King of Autograph Collectors Obtains Signatures of 10,000 Celebrities by Mail

Mr. W. Reginald Bray Has Met None of the Famous People Who Gave Him Their Signatures—Has Sent Out More Than 16,000 Requests

ANOTHER "autograph king" claims the title. To have obtained the autographs of more than 10,000 celebrities is in itself a great achievement. What makes the "autograph king's" achievement still more interesting is that he has met none of the famous people who have given him their signatures.

"They have all been obtained through the post," he explained, "in answer to my letters and postcards. In fact, during the past quarter of a century I must have written over 16,000 invitations, including a letter to the late pope composed in Latin—which I was told was the proper 'diplomatic' way of approaching his holiness."

When an ordinary invitation would have been insufficient, various devices have been adopted to secure the coveted autograph.

For instance, to Mr. Lloyd George a check for the sum of one penny was sent with a request that he would pay it into his account. The great statesman endorsed it, passed it through the bank, and it now forms one of the most valued specimens of the vast collection.

In the same way the autograph of "Carmen Sylva," the late Queen of Rumania, was secured. Besides endorsing the check the queen added this passage from her own works:

"Our souls ought to be like the sun, sending out warm rays. Even if they hatch an adder's egg they call forth flowers by thousands. Elizabeth. Carmen Sylva. March, 1909."

Mr. Bray received that of the late King of Serbia and also, after his exile, of the ex-King of Montenegro, but other reigning monarchs have invariably replied that they are bound to reserve their autographs for their intimate friends.

President Wilson was more accessible. At the peace table of Versailles he put his signature to a check for threepence, which in due course came back to the autograph hunter through the bank, and other celebrities have also signed on famous occasions.

Marshal Foch and Field-Marshal Haig both sent their signatures from the battlefields.

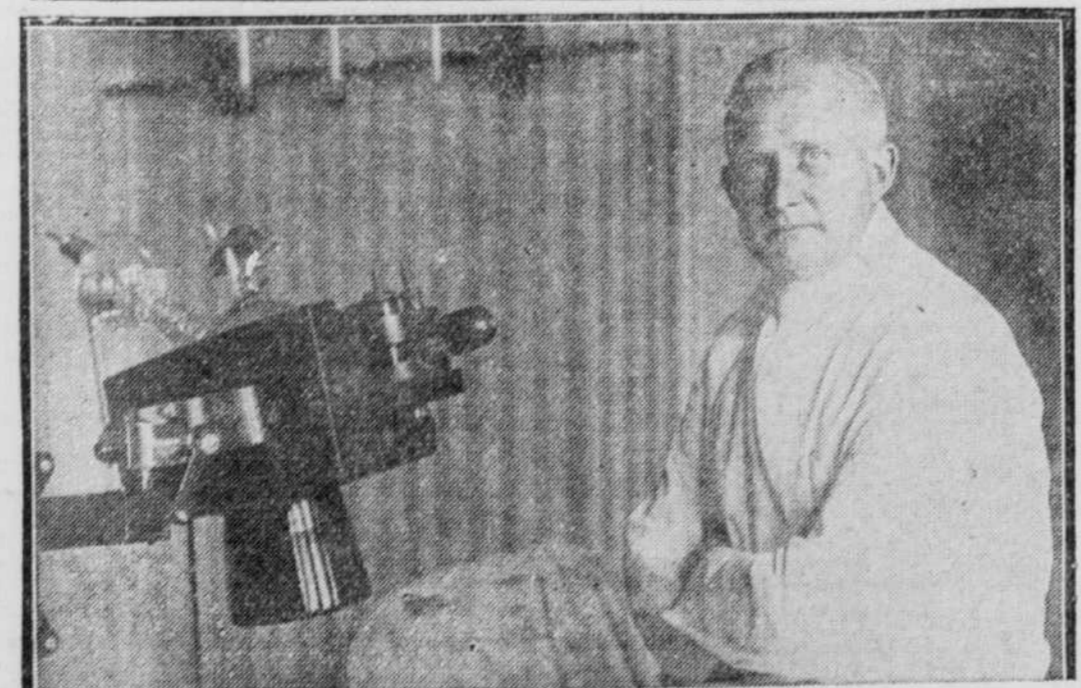

General Smith-Dorrien signed a photograph of himself during the retreat from Mons, and Admiral Deatty autographed his own portrait on board H.M.S. Lion on the day of the battle of Heligoland—apologizing for a blot of ink.

In addition, the collection contains representatives of every branch of human interest, including such an assortment of names as Tom Sloan, the Archbishop of Canterbury, George Robey, Mr Justice Darling, Gladys Cooper, Maskelyne the conjurer, Harry Vardon, Joe Beckett and Marconi!

'Are Yiz an American?' 'No' Thundered Dr. Hughes

One Irishman's Wit Equaled the Other When Dr. Hughes and the Immigration Officer Met

DR. JAMES L. HUGHES of Toronto, who is not only widely recognized as an educationist and author of some note, but as a delightful narrator of a good story, is unrivaled, the native with which he relates one against himself but adding to its zest, tells the following good story:

Some years ago he was en route from Winnipeg to Chicago, and as the train approached the border, an immigration officer, who was a product of the Old Sod, passed through the Pullman, plying all and sundry with the questions incidental to his office. As he reached the end of the Pullman where Dr. Hughes sat, he mechanically put the usual question: "Are yiz an American?"

"No! I'm a Canadian! Thank God!" sternly vociferated Dr. Hughes.

"Aw—" unperturbedly answered the officer, as he furtively pulled his chin whisker. But Greek had met Greek, and it was a case of one Irishman's wit matching that of another, so he coolly continued:

"Will yiz be livin' in the United Sthates?" he enquired with some concern.

"No!" thundered Dr. Hughes, with a look that would have done justice to the black hole of Calcutta.

"Thank God!" was the fervent come-back of the officer, who, having got his innang, passed on, amid the uproarious laughter of those within ear-shot.

SCAT FOR THE CAT

MOST professional writers are impatient of noise or interruption while at work, but the limit in this direction has surely been reached in the case of a certain well-known author quoted by Mr. H. G. Wells.

He had had a trying day and his nerves were on edge.

He sat down by the fire and was getting calmed when the cat, who had been sitting there too, got up slowly and walked across the room.

He turned on her and said indignantly: "Now, what are you stamping around here for?"

Well Equipped

A CLERGYMAN, accompanied by two charming girls, stood admiring the beauties of a little stream.

An angler passing by said: "Any sport?" "Sir, I am a fisher of men," replied the parson, with dignity.

"Well," retorted the fisherman, glancing admiringly at the girls, "you've got the right bait."—Tit Bits.

Borax in Babylon

BORAX is used in every household—in tooth-powders, eye lotions, medicinal powders, and soaps. And yet, four thousand years ago, it was a rarity almost as precious as gold.

In the days of Babylon the only known sources were a few salt marshes in the Gobi Desert, north of the Himalayas. It was collected by natives. Small Himalayan sheep carried it slung in bags round their necks down the steep mountain sides into India, and it was then taken by camels to eastern Europe.

It was used by goldsmiths for cleaning the surface of molten gold. Only by means of borax could the crude metal be refined and worked into rings, amulets and breastplates.

Nowadays America produces more than 40,000 tons a year. Thirty years ago its richest source was a Californian desert called the Death Valley—a place believed to be the hottest and driest spot on earth. A company supported by British capital worked the mines. Until they built a railway ten years later the produce was hauled by mules over 165 miles of uninhabited desert.—Tit Bits.

Dromedary Beats Horses

IF you had to pick an animal to carry you for five hundred miles at the greatest possible speed across rough country, what would you choose? It should be a dromedary. A blood horse might travel sixty miles at a speed of fourteen miles an hour, but at the end of that distance it would be absolutely played out and in urgent need of food and rest. The dromedary, if really pressed, will cover eighty miles in five hours, and will keep going twelve to fourteen hours out of the twenty-four for a week on end on a diet upon which a horse would starve.

Even that ponderous beast, the elephant, can last far better than a horse. Eight miles an hour is his pace on a long day's journey, but he will keep that up for ten hours on end, and so it day after day.—Tit Bits.

Honesty Always

"NO," said the old man sternly "I will not do it. Never have I sold anything by false representations, and I will not begin now."

For a moment he was silent, and the clerk who stood before him could see that the better nature of his employer was fighting strongly for the right.

"No," said the old man again. "I will not do it. It is an inferior grade of shoe, and I will never pass it off as anything better. Mark it 'A Shoe Fit for a Queen,' and put it in the window. A queen does not have to do much walking."—Pearson's Weekly.

IMPERIAL OIL DESERTS CAMPS IN FAR NORTH

All Camps Closed for Winter and Entire Equipment Removed.

(Associated Press Despatch)
 CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 4.—When the deep-toned whistle of the big steamboat "Distributor" blew a sonorous blast on August 29 last, 63 miles below Fort Norman post on the Mackenzie River, the million dollar three-year northern adventure of the Imperial Oil Ltd., came to an end. Aboard the steamboat there were loaded all the camp paraphernalia, a score or more of men—drillers, tool dressers, firemen and mechanics, dog teams, half breed helpers, everybody right down to the camp cats and all outward bound. Today the formerly busy oil camps at the edge of the Arctic Circle stand deserted.

The men, under the leadership of Dr. W. A. Richardson, of Vancouver, who was in charge of the medical work and health supervision at the camps, reached Calgary from Edmonton on September 16th, and dispersed to various destinations throughout Canada and the United States.

No one, not even the local officials of the Imperial Oil, Ltd., know the future plans of the big company with regard to its far north search for oil. But this is the first year since the northern drive started in 1920 that the camps have been entirely abandoned in the winter. Whether the drilling will ever be resumed is a matter that probably has not even been decided by the eastern directors themselves. At any rate, no oil has been struck except in the original "Discovery" well on the right bank of the Mackenzie river, about 53 miles north of Fort Norman, and just about 100 miles from the Arctic Circle.

Two other deep wells were drilled and came in "dry." They are located on Bear Island, just opposite the "Discovery" well and at "C" camp on the opposite or left bank of the big river.

"Yes," said one of the drillers, "last winter seemed a long time up there, but we had signed on for the season so we just stuck it out for the drilling during the summer months. Are we glad to get out? I'll say we are. Believe me, that's going to be a lonesome country up there this winter. There's not a soul left at any of the camps, not even a dog. And the white population of Fort Norman will be just one man this winter, I believe. Last year there were seven counting the Royal Canadian Mounted Police contingent, but I believe they are due to come "outside" this winter also."

The drillers, of course loyal to their company, would say nothing concerning the depth of the wells drilled or their state, but it was learned positively that the Bear Island well and the "C" camp wells are "dry" holes. The original discovery well, rated by the company as a 100-barrel per day well, is still as good as ever but there is no demand along the river for the oil to make it worth while operating.

In 1921, the company sent in a small but very modern and complete distillation plant to distill gasoline from the crude oil of the "Discovery" well. Gasoline manufactured from the crude oil of this well was used successfully by the Imperial Oil, Ltd., all-metal airplanes in their northern flights during the early spring and summer of 1921. Various "crashes" resulted in the abandonment of the aerial enterprise and the gasoline produced was then used in the motor boats. But the still was not operated at all during the present summer as it was found that the cost of producing the gasoline there was such it could not compete with gasoline brought in around the Alaskan coast to Herschel Island and to the mouth of the Mackenzie river by whaling vessels. This gasoline cost from $1 to $1.25 per gallon along the lower Mackenzie river, which gives some idea of the production cost of gasoline from crude oil in the far north when it cannot be sold in competition.

"How did we spend the winter months," said one of the drillers, "well, we were kept pretty busy cutting wood for fuel right through November and December up until January and then we just put in the time till the days began to get longer and the cold was endurable but there isn't much daylight in the middle of the winter. Besides, in the winter months it seems to snow just a little every day and the skies are gray and overcast most of the short time that the sun is above the horizon."

"The first snow comes to stay about the 18th of October, as it did last fall and the big river freezes over solid about the first of November. It is running with slush ice for three weeks before that. I crossed it on good solid ice on November 10th last year."

"But the spring weather is fine. Right through the first of May, we had almost continual daylight. Even in April the long days begin and in the later part of that month we found it necessary to use artificial light only about two hours of the twenty-four when we were running day and night shifts. Both last summer and this summer were fine, very hot weather through the middle of the summer and practically no rain."

The closing of the camps and particularly the departure of Dr. Richardson, will be a great loss to the far north. Dr. Richardson, stationed at Fort Norman, some 900 miles north along the river from Fort Smith, the northern boundary of Alberta, was the only doctor in that vast stretch of territory reaching on beyond there for another 500 miles to Herschel Island in the Arctic. All the medical and surgical cases up and down the river from Fort Norman outside of the company employees were brought to him for attention and he had a great deal of work to do which kept him busy.

"We were a happy family at the camp," said another of the drillers. "Not the slightest bit of trouble among the men all this year, and quite a few of them have got so used to the north that they won't feel at home outside."

BRITISH TAXES THREE TIMES AS HEAVY AS U. S.

According to Recent Figures, Taxation in Britain Is $72.44 per Head.

(Associated Press Despatch)
 LONDON, Oct. 4.—At current rates of exchange taxation in Great Britain is almost three times as heavy per capita as in the United States, according to official figures compiled in London. The latest figures drawn up show that in Britain the taxation is $72.44 a head, in the United States $25.70, in France $24.39, and in Italy $11.81.

In issuing these comparisons, the British have challenged as a complete misrepresentation of their own official figures the scale which M. Dimnet of France presented to the Institute of Politics at Williams-town, Mass., recently. He was quoted as saying that Prime Minister Baldwin had given figures showing the taxation in France was $88 a head, in Great Britain $83, and in the United States $28 a head.

Heretofore figures given by Mr. Baldwin and the British treasury as to taxation a head in various countries have always been in the respective currencies of such countries, it is said. The latest are—

Great Britain (1923-24) £15.18.1
 U. S. A. (1923-24) $25.70
 France (1923) Pes. 441.5
 Italy (1922-23) Lire 275.3

The British suppose M. Dimnet may have arrived at the figures he gave by conversion into dollars at par exchange, which they hold to be wholly misleading.

PLANS TO USE BUTTERFLIES TO DECORATE

Applies for Forty Acres in Angeles Forest Reserve Near San Bernardino.

(Associated Press Despatch)
 LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—An application made by John Hewlett, of Redlands, Cal., for a permit to establish a butterfly ranch on 40 acres of land in the Angeles forest reserve near San Bernardino, has forced the national forest bureau to go into extensive research to determine what effect butterfly culture would have on a forest.

According to Forest Supervisor R. H. Charlton there never, to his knowledge, had been such an application before and he held up Mr. Hewlett's request until the matter could be investigated.

Mr. Hewlett proposed to sow the 40 acres in flowers favored by butterflies and to breed the insects to be sold for decorative purposes.

There are two fox farms in the national forests of Southern California, permits for which were granted after it was determined that the animals could not damage the preserves. This section also boasts of alligator, ostrich and lion farms, not, however, on the national domain.

INSECT PESTS MENACE CROPS IN PHILIPPINES

Reports of Crop Progress Are Good, But Department Has Hard Time Preventing Large Areas from Being Laid Waste.

(Associated Press Despatch)
 MANILA, Aug. 4.—While optimistic reports of crop progress are pouring in from certain provinces, the pest control division of the Department of Agriculture realizes that it has hard work cut out for it during the coming season, if many regions of the Philippines are not to be laid waste by some crop pest.

The locusts are always in evidence and their damages to crops run into the millions of pesos annually. In one or two provinces they have cut the sugar crop for two successive years.

A fungus disease of which little is known, is destroying vast areas of abaca, the plant from which hemp for Manila rope is made, and the source of the Philippines' principal wealth. The province of Cavite, one of the greatest hemp producing sections of the Philippines, has been swept almost clean of abaca. The plant pest control division of the department is investigating the plants and disease in the hope of finding some means for fighting it, but so far the only remedy has been to try to prevent its spread to other areas by strict quarantine.

Rice cut-worms, said to be a dangerous infection, have appeared in the province of Tarlac, invading more than one-half of the rice plantations in the municipality of Paniqui.

I blessed my luck, but later on, I grieve to say the smile was gone, and sixty-five muscles worked like mad, for I found out the coin was bad.

A pleasant function of the week was the miscellaneous shower given Miss Margaret Bates, whose marriage to Mr. Karl Misenor takes place on October 10th, on Tuesday evening, given by the Young Ladies Circle of the Methodist Church at the home of the President, Mrs. Arthur Carter, at "Alva Farm." There were eighteen present. A guessing contest took place in which Miss Hazel Stone was the prize winner. Miss Elaine Crandle escorted the bride-to-be into the dining room, where the decorations were carried out in yellow and green and presented her with a basket of gifts each of which was accompanied by an original verse by the giver, all causing much merriment and happiness. Miss Bates very ably thanked the friends who had so well planned the entire surprise. Mrs. Carter served dainty refreshments, assisted by the members of the Circle and a very enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

Mesdames Taylor, Paintin, Hagar and Knowlton motored to Granby on Tuesday afternoon to attend the W. M. S. annual district convention held there. INTERESTING LECTURE WAS GIVEN AT GRANBY Rally Sunday Was Observed at Granby Churches—Reports of Meetings and Personals.

GRANBY, Que., Oct. 4.—On Monday night, Rev. Arthur Rannels, pastor of Fairmount Methodist Church, delivered his lecture on the "Surrender of the German Fleet." Mr. Rannels said he was very glad to return to Granby, as it was his home town, and he was pleased to speak for the Sunshine Club, which was scattering sunshine in so many dark places today.

At the time the war broke out, England's sons were scattered all over the world, and it was her ships that brought them to the seat of action, and kept them safe while on the high seas, he stated.

It was her navy that kept the English Channel free and clean of the enemy, so that thousands upon thousands of men could be landed daily upon the shores of France, and when the United States came into the war, it was her navy that carried them safely across the ocean and landed them upon the continent.

Mr. Rannels illustrated his remarks with lantern views, showing the great German warships that surrendered to the British, as well as many of the English war vessels, submarines and cruisers engaged in the war. He showed a picture of the "mystery ships" that gozzled the people during war time. These were battleships camouflaged to represent a common tramp ship, but their guns were covered by lattice work, which concealed them from the enemy.

Rev. I. W. Pierce acted as chairman and Mr. George Legge kindly manipulated the lantern. The amount of $34 was realized by the Sunshine Club after all expenses had been paid.

address, urging boys and girls and young people to live right. The graduating class from the primary department was heard their catechism by Mrs. D. M. Mitchell, superintendent of the senior school, who also presented each with a Morocco covered bible. Promotion exercises followed and prizes given for regular attendance at church. The whole service was most inspiring and uplifting and both teachers and scholars are hopeful for a splendid helpful service in the year which has now begun.

Rally Sunday was also observed in the Methodist Church when one hundred and twenty-three teachers and scholars gathered in the auditor of the church on Sunday morning last. The printed programme arranged by the joint committee from the Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Congregational churches was used for this service. Special readings were given by Eric Adams and Willie Solomon and recitations by Naomi MacDonald, May Collins, Anna Sweet and Edward Heelis.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the service a most interesting and helpful one.

DIAMOND DRILLING FOR INDIAN MINE

Contract Let For 2,000 Feet of Diamond Drilling at Indian Mine, Stewart, B. C.—Compressor to Be Installed.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4.—(Special)—For nearly two years 25 men have been steadily employed in development work on the Indian Mine lying immediately northwest of the Premier, and the results have been so satisfactory that a contract has been entered into with Boyle Bros., of Spokane, for 2,000 feet of diamond drilling to prove more expeditiously the ore bodies in advance of and under a recent strike made in No. 1 tunnel, according to G. D. Turner, general manager of the mine, who has been in the city for the past week on business in connection with the property. The drill was delivered at the mine yesterday and the work will start at once. While the drilling is under way the new body will be fully explored.

"Sufficient information has now been obtained on the Indian Mine," states Mr. Turner, "to justify an enlarged scope of operations. Large bodies of milling ore have been opened up, and it was just during the past month the new ore body was encountered in No. 1 tunnel."

After the present diamond drilling development has been concluded it is proposed to build a unit concentrator with an initial capacity of 150 tons daily. A tramway is also under consideration to facilitate the shipment of ores.

"Briefly it may be stated that the Indian Mine main veins are very persistent and extend in a general northerly and southerly direction along an intensely fractured zone," Mr. Turner explains. "This zone cuts across the general strike of the country at a narrow angle. Bedded deposits are occasionally found. An average sampling across 26 feet assayed $25.00 per ton, and other samples point to this average value."

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Journal of Commerce—The tone was more cheerful than has been true for a long time, and professional interests took it as a demonstration of the notion that the general level of securities prices was too low. Tribune—The rise in stocks was the direct result of a definite success for the group of professional operators that has been working for an advance as an over-extended short interest rushed to cover. Wall Street Journal—Alarmed by the over-extended character of the short interest existing in the market, the bear party took to its heels, and by late afternoon its retreat assumed the nature of a rout. Wall Street Journal will say today: Copper market unusually dull. Price nominal at 13 1-8 to 13 1-4 cents. California oil output probably at peak. British motors cheaper. Advantage in low gasoline consumption. Chile Copper earnings high. Costs lower than during last quarter 1923. Pore Marquette doing very well. Traffic is heaviest yet and earnings will set new record. ## 'TRIS' SPEAKER EQUALLED TWO BASE HIT MARK

Cleveland Manager Knocked Out His Fifty-sixth Two Base Hit Yesterday.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The equaling of a world's record, the continuation of the nip and tuck battle for second place in the American League standing and the fraternizing of coming world's series opponents in an exhibition game, made yesterday a noteworthy day in the big league baseball.

"Tris" Speaker, player manager of the Cleveland Indians, was credited with equalling a world's record when he drove out his fifty-sixth two base hit of the current season in a game in which his team defeated the St. Louis Browns, 9 to 2.

Cleveland's victory in that game and Detroit's 8 to 4 win over the White Sox enabled the Tigers to remain within striking distance of the Indians in their race for the runner-up position in Ban Johnson's circuit. In the latter game manager Cobb introduced a recruit pitcher, Hill by name, who held the White Sox well in hand throughout the contest.

In the remaining American League game of yesterday, the Mackmen, profiting through the wildness of Roe, Washington rookie, who gave six walks in the second inning, trounced the Senators 12 to 8, thereby making a clean sweep of the series.

"Dutch" Reuther, of the Dodgers, registered his fifteenth win of the season when Brooklyn beat the Braves 8 to 6, in the single National League game on yesterday's schedule.

The fraternizing of coming world's series opponents occurred when "Babe" Ruth, Ward and Elmer Smith, of the Yakes, temporarily joined the Giants in an exhibition contest in which the Baltimore Orioles were defeated. Ruth retired from play after making a home run in the fifth inning.

BOSTON BRAVES WILL PLAY IN SHERBROOKE

A Successful Season to Be Concluded with a Major Event—Rube Marquard Likely to Twirl on Sunday.

An eleventh hour change, outstanding for a fair reduction in the original guarantee asked by the Boston Braves of the National League, has resulted in definite arrangements being made for the visit of this Major League team to Sherbrooke on Sunday, October 7th, at 3.15 p.m.

The Boston Braves are under guarantee to bring along their regular team, and the battery will most likely be Rube Marquard and O'Neill. Sherbrooke has a stronger team than was the case a few years ago when they met the Boston Braves, and with "Heney" Thormahlen twirling in his best form, and the Jenkins brothers hitting a little better, the prospects are quite favorable.

Jack Conlon, the sensational shortstop, who formerly played with St. Johnsbury, Vt., and Sherbrooke, will line up with the Boston Braves, and he is assured of a hearty welcome from his old team mates.

Special arrangements are being made for this game in view of the exceptionally large guarantee required, and the baseball management is asking for two thousand fans to support their effort to provide the best baseball that can be secured. The prices are moderate in proportion to the expense and risk entailed, and fans will have an opportunity of seeing for themselves the conglomeration of stars upon whom "Christy" Mathewson is banking for next year's championship.

On Saturday, Sherbrooke take a trip into Montreal, where they will play the Canadians at Atwater Park. It is impossible to arrange any series with the "Royals", as they have already disbanded. A number of fans are planning to go to Montreal on Saturday and Jim Dolan will probably do the twirling. Sunday will be the last game the Sherbrooke boys will play before disbanding, and the game with the "Braves" will be in the nature of a fond "Au Revoir" to the players who have well maintained the traditions of the Sherbrooke Club.

SPAIN PREPARES TO SEND MEN TO PARIS OLYMPIAD

Member of Committee Considers Spain's Chances Good in Nine of Sixteen Main Events of the Olympic Games.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

MADRID, Oct. 4.—Spaniards interested in the athletic standing of their country are turning their eyes toward Paris and the Olympiad of 1924, and considering what should be done to secure the best possible representation.

A member of the Spanish Olympic games committee said recently he thought Spain's chances were good in nine of the 16 principal branches of sport; for the others he had little hope.

The sports in which Spain believes she has chances of success are lawn tennis, horse riding, polo, football, golf, hockey, yachting, fencing and rowing. Those in which she admits she is poor are boxing, wrestling, swimming, cycling, running and other field sports, winter sports and Rugby football.

Gabriel Maria de Lafitte, president of the Royal Athletic Federation of Spain, spoke recently with King Alfonso about the games. The king was much interested and said: "The government must be asked for support, but we must not rely solely on this aid. We must do what is being done in England and the United States and open a national subscription in which sporting clubs, lovers of athletics and the wealthy class should join freely. I shall be one of the first to subscribe and will also encourage others to do so. Spain should be represented properly in these games. The Spanish competitors must be trained thoroughly, and for this purpose funds are necessary. We must take practical means to find the money, and I think we shall be able to do so."

FIRPO DOES NOT WANT TO BECOME U.S. CITIZEN

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Luis Angel Firpo does not want to be a citizen of the United States of America, despite the fact that he applied for naturalization papers a few days ago. He conveyed this information to the bureau of naturalization yesterday in a note both signed and sworn.

As explanation of his signature of the other day, the Wild Bull of the Pampas stated that he had taken out first papers through a misapprehension, he did not think any one would take him seriously.

The idea conveyed in his letter was that he merely wished to pay the United States a delicate compliment for the generous treatment received here. He now is the victim of "deep regret" because of the inconvenience he has caused the Department.
