Huntingdon Rotary Club Has Successful Year

Mr. Louis Levine to Be President For Ensuing Year

Mr.. George F. Dixon will preside at the Rotary International meeting which is being held in the Chateau on Monday evening. At the time of this meeting the incoming president Louis Levine will be attending a Rotary meeting in Kingston, Ont. Ordinarily, Mr. Levine would be installed in office that same evening, consequently on Monday last Mr. Dixon gave a short report on the Club's accomplishments for the past year.

The finances of the Club remain practically the same as a year ago. During the year record breaking events to the credit of the Club transpired. The first record was that of the Easter Seal Campaign for Crippled Children which surpassed the $1,000 mark. Thanks are due the general public for supporting this appeal which was headed by Rotarians Leo Cappiello and Nobert Bourgon. The second record is that of the Club membership which at the moment has its greatest number of members, viz 34.

Finances were raised through a sale of brooms that had been made by blind people and from two benefit night shows held in the Huntingdon Theatre. Other than that the money required was provided by the Rotarians.

Two girls have been aided financially while in Montreal Hospitals receiving training to become nurses with a view to eventually working in Huntingdon County Hospital after having received their R.N. Degrees. The Club contemplates according similar aid to a third young lady who is willing to train as a nurse. To help meet this expense to aid the girls in training the Club is at the present time sponsoring a Duck Race to take place on August 29.

Thanks were extended to E. C. Martin for the efforts he put forth with regard to the Public Speaking Contests, and the arranging for Marcel Quenneville to attend the Ottawa Citizenship week.

Two picnics were held for the pleasure of boys and girls at Port Lewis last August. A Hallowe'en party was also sponsored by the Club. All the events met with success therefor it is fit and proper to say all Rotarians entered in the "Joy of Service for Others".

The Club expressed its thanks to George Dixon for the service he accorded, as its president, for the past 12 months.

During the year the Rotary Club purchased an invalid's wheel chair presently being used by a little girl and also paid $250 to the Barrie Memorial Hospital.

St. Andrew's Host To 45 Presbytes

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Huntingdon, was host to the Montreal Presbytery in its regular monthly session on June 16. Some forty-five presbyters were in attendance representing churches on the Island of Montreal and vicinity and the South Shore. The business was presided over by the Moderator of Presbytery, the Reverend Roland T. Moores of Lachine, who also conducted the opening devotions. A feature of the meeting was the presentation of the reports of those who had attended the 79th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church In Canada as commissioners of the Montreal presbytery. One of the commissioners, Dr. Robert Lennox, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, sounded a note of warning to the effect that "spiritual-mindedness" must not be considered as a sufficient qualification for the ministry. Dr. Lennox urged upon the presbytery that a strenuous theological discipline is essential to the would-be candidate for the ministry especially in so complex an age as this.

The Ladies of St. Andrew's served a delicious supper to the members of presbytery after the close of the meeting.

Memories of Former Rockburn Church Minister

Book Written Entitled "Father, God Bless Him" Tells Full Story

The following article has been supplied to The Gleaner by Mr. Lionel Robb, Valleyfield, as being of interest to our readers, more especially in the Rockburn district. The article has to do with the family of Reverend Corbett who, according to Mr. Robb, was at one time a minister of the Rockburn Church. Mr. Robb also recalls when Percy Corbett, a son, and others set up a recruiting tent in Huntingdon during the First Great War. Percy Corbett later became a Dean of Law Faculty of McGill. The article relates to a book entitled "Father, God Bless Him", and appeared in the Financial Post under the heading "Sandwell Here", in the June 6th issue.

"Those Were the Days

THE PAIR OF NOVA SCOTIA PARENTS who could produce four such sons as William, Charles, E. A. ("Ned") and Percy Corbett were obviously no ordinary persons, even if the father's maximum earnings as a Presbyterian minister were never over $1,000 a year. On that income they brought up eight children; there were several girls who became no less valuable citizens than the boys. "Father, God Bless Him" is E. A. Corbett's tribute to the male parent, but Mother is by no means left out (Ryerson, $2.50).

The Rev. Mr. Corbett — it is highly characteristic that "Ned" never gives him that title, and also that I cannot find anywhere in the book any mention of his given name — was an incredible character. The son of a farmer-lumberman of the Shubenacadie district, where his ancestors settled in 1783, he was a hell-fire preacher of much emotional power, but he was also a passionate admirer of, and investor in, horseflesh. In several successive kirks he incurred grave suspicion by the way he tore around the country behind a magnificent pair of trotters. His best appointment, financially speaking, was in South Framingham, Mass., in a section of the United States that is always on the lookout for bright young Canadians; but he found the Sunday activities of the New Englanders intolerably irreligious and soon returned to the land where "Remember the Sabbath Day" was in the lawbooks as well as in the Bible.

During any illness or absence of Father, Mother preached in his stead. She may have lacked some of Father's "burning evangical zeal," but she clearly made up for it by immense gifts of humor and charity.

The book is much too short, but it has no waste matter. After reading it you will know a lot more about the life of the rural parts of the Maritimes than you will ever get from the history books. Somebody might do a thesis on the difference between the effects of Presbyterianism in the Corbet family and in the kind of people about whom Hugh MacLennan writes — also Maritimers."

Legion Annual Rally Held At Ormstown Saturday

Members of Branches Gather For Chateauguay Valley District Meeting and Election of Officers

Chateauguay Valley District of The Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. held its Annual Rally in Ormstown, Que., Saturday, June 20th, at the Legion Hall. The Rally commenced at 2 p.m. and after reviewing the operations of the past year, which was a very successful one for The Legion as a whole in Chateauguay Valley District, the District Commander turned over the Chairmanship to Comrade John Gilbert of Provincial Command, who acted as Chief Scrutineer for the Election of New District Officers. Comrade Charles Foulkes, also of Provincial Command, acted as assistant scrutineer. Comrade E. O. Lacroix, President of Ormstown Branch 196, presented Comrade District Commander Eddie Burgess with a floor type ashtray, with marble base, a gift of the six branches comprising his command, in appreciation of past services and also of the personal esteem of the comrades under his command. The New Officers for the coming year are as follows: District Commander: Comrade Eddie Burgess of Valleyfield Branch; Vice - Commander: Comrade Alex MacLachlan of Beauharnois Branch. All six branches, e.g. Beauharnois, Chateauguay, Howick, Huntingdon, Ormstown and Valleyfield were well represented, there being more than one hundred comrades and guests present at the Rally.

After the Rally, the Legion held a parade through the streets of Ormstown, said parade being led by Ormstown Boys' Band under the direction of Mr. Ivan Barrington and Mr. Lindsay Cullen, followed by the Officers of The Canadian Legion and then the Color Parties of the Various Branches and the Rank and File of Comrades.

Wreaths were placed on the War Memorial by Comrades John Gilbert and Charles Foulkes of District Command, and His Worship Mr. Carlyle Dickson, Mayor of Ormstown. Comrades Eddie Burgess and E. O. Lacroix acted as escorts. The Parade was ably organized by Comrade Maurice Patenaude, who acted as Sergeant-at-Arms.

After the parade, the comrades from the various branches returned to Ormstown Legion Hall for the finals of the annual dart competition which was won by Chateauguay Branch in a very close race with Beauharnois. Chateauguay Branch was presented with the Rowell Trophy as winners of the playoffs and Beauharnois Branch with the Wilson Trophy as League Champions.

After all these activities, everyone was quite hungry and did ample justice to the wonderful banquet prepared by The Ladies' Auxiliary of Ormstown Branch 196. His Worship the Mayor, Mr. Carlyle Dickson, made a speech in which he claimed that The Legion were the noisiest bunch he had ever encountered, but that he was not against a little noise once in a while and that in view of the occasion, he hoped that The Legion would have a good time and he wished them every success in their enterprises. Comrade Gilbert of Provincial Command made a very good speech on The Long Memory and he stressed the importance for every Veteran no matter what his station in life of keeping in contact with his comrades to work for the welfare and well being of all his comrades, his Queen and Country. After all meeting, rally, parade and banquet, Ormstown Branch 196 were hosts to the other branches and guests for a dance and fun was had by all.

People who appreciate fine cars are turning to Monarch

"...the kind of car I've always wanted to drive"

It was Frank Wayland, a sales-manager I met last winter, who put me onto Monarch. He drives one himself and likes it so well he's always talking Monarch to his friends. He persuaded me to ask my dealer for a demonstration, and now that I'm driving my own Monarch I appreciate what a big favour he did me. This is the kind of car I've always wanted to drive. I suppose it's only natural to feel a kind of pride in owning something as luxurious-looking as a Monarch—but there's more to it than that. If you haven't driven a V-8 before, it's quite an experience to feel this kind of power. It's so smooth you don't really know it's there—until you want it in a hurry. Then there's no doubt about it. Must remember to drop a line to Frank Wayland and tell him how right he was about Monarch. A sales-manager sold me—but the car itself is keeping me sold. You could have this experience, too . . . ask your Monarch dealer for a demonstration today.

Action Needed Regarding Storage Of Propane Gas

TWICE in recent months, the matter of handling and storage of Propane Gas, which is used in the modern gas stoves, has been brought to the attention of the Town Council. First time it was in the form of "Did you know this gas is being stored in town?" second time was in form of a letter from the United Church and expressed in terms of fear for the property nearby where the gas is stored.

The second time caused the Town Council to have enquiries made as to the danger and the storage of the gas. This information is now being sought and no doubt will be on hand for the next regular meeting. Meantime, it is doubtful if anyone is really truly conscious of the real danger in this gas and the resulting damage which might be caused from an explosion of same. Those responsible for its handling might well be called upon to make restitution for damages caused by an explosion from this gas which could reach considerable proportions.

Apparently the filling of the containers is no layman's job, it must be done by one who is fully conversant with the dangers and actions of the gas itself as well as the type of cylinders used. The gas is a heavy gas and it is possible for it to seep into low lying places and to become ignited through various means when mixed with the right quantities of air. In an article recently handed to us, there are a number of technicalities which have to be taken into consideration as to the safe handling of the gas. Certainly from reading the article, the gas should not be stored in any crowded area such as town and much less be in a building used for any type of filling operation. From what we have been able to ascertain, both for the safety of the dealers and the well being of the town, the storage of this gas and the filling of the cylinders should be forbidden within the limits of town or any other buildings. The article referred to says that the storage of the cylinders is much better in open air than in a covered building, there is less opportunity for the gas to gather. While this has been going on for some time now, there should be no delay in having this danger removed when its potentialities are known. In fact all that should be necessary is for the dealers themselves to see that safer places of storage are found at once.

Federal Election August 10th

THE wheels of the election machinery are gradually beginning to turn, preparations are being made for the voting and the campaign speeches. It is possible the various candidates may be able to be seen as well as heard by means of the airwaves for the first time in any election.

There is no doubt that we shall be hearing much and reading much about what the various parties have to offer as their idea of government. Already the opposition parties have scored the date of the election. They maintain that a large number of people will be away on vacation about the time of the election and will not care to return to vote. It would seem that this being the case all parties will suffer and the opposition alone need not worry. Maybe the Liberal supporters will be away in the greatest number. But then, as far we have ever known, there has never been an election date which satisfied everyone. If it is in the spring it conflicts with the farmers seeding operations; if it is near to winter the weather is liable to be bad and the voters won't turn out; if it is in the fall it interferes with harvesting operations. The date is about jambed in between summer and fall and now it conflicts with the vacationists. Perhaps a dictatorial attitude should be assumed and everyone forbidden to move out of their district until after the election. In this way everyone would be in place to hear all the speeches and they certainly would be there to vote. But what's the use, you can't please everybody.

Apart from this little noise, the front is quiet as the various parties are planning their campaigns and arranging for their speaking tours. The C.C.F. announced its platform quite early. Judging from recent defeats, it would seem that they haven't much of a chance. Opinion at the moment seems to be that the Liberals will be returned to power with a lesser number of seats. The Progressive-Conservatives are given as forming the main opposition with a slight strengthening in the numbers returned.

There is not the same amount of interest in elections today as in the years gone by. People seem to have their minds made up even before the campaigning starts. The issues are not usually enough to arouse interest and the people appear too busy with their own business. This is perhaps not a good state of affair and more study should be made by those who must decide what they think is best for them. They must decide if the present administration has worked well on their behalf or if a change is necessary.

Everyone should take an interest in what is going on and should know all there is to learn about all matters. It is this disinterest that has caused downfalls in other countries and it is what the Communists like to see. France is an illustration of this and at the present time it has no real government. There does not seem anyone left who is acceptable to form a government and if there is he can obtain no support. The people must be interested and they must be willing to do their best to see that good government is available. They can only do this by making a complete study of what is involved and making up their minds as to which party will be best suited to govern the country.

World Happenings In The News

POSSIBLY the greatest piece of news outside the Korean Truce Talks came with the announcement that the Rosenbergs were to be shown no clemency and would go to their deaths. The next announcement that they had actually met their death in the electric chair brought forth demonstrations in many parts of the world. No one can deny at least a little feeling of sorrow for these unfortunate people. True they may have caused many lives to have been lost, and from the result of their actions, lives may still be lost. They were certainly given every possible chance for life — but there is always something in the human heart that turns against the taking of a life by unnatural means. Their names will no doubt be recorded in American history, not in glory, but as the first civilians to die for espionage. They apparently loved money far more than anything else, they must have forgotten their God for the sake of material things. But in this latter respect there are many more Rosenbergs and it may be well for them to think less of the material before for them it is also too late.

The Release of Prisoners of War in Korea had quite a disquieting effect on the officials having to do with the Korean Truce. It is still hard to say just what will happen to the truce itself on account of this action by orders of Syngman Rhee, President of South Korea. While Rhee has been considered an ally in the United Nations side of this war, this is hardly the action of an ally when a truce is so near. Such action could easily prolong the war to an indifinite period. The Reds are demanding the return of all prisoners before they will go on with the actual signing of a truce. The United Nations command is doing everything possible to round up the P.O.W.s, but realize what a terrific task faces them and one that appears nigh to hopeless. In addition is a threat of strong opposition if attempts are made to return the P.O.W.s. For fighting to break out between the followers of Syngman Rhee and the U.N. defenders could easily upset all that has been done to date.

The meeting of the Big Three is now scheduled to be held at Bermuda on July 8th. It will depend to a great extent on the state of the government in France by that time. However, in view of the recent developments with regard to a near truce in Korea, the outbreaks of anti-Communism in Berlin and other parts of Russian occupied territory, the time may now be ripe for a meeting with Russia. Churchill has the happy faculty of forseeing many things and it may be that he has again got his timing right. It is quite evident that all things in the Russian zones are not as satisfactory as the Russians would wish. Perhaps the change in leadership is having its effect upon the people who have been subdued under Russian domination and they are deciding to have a change. With such a feeling showing signs, the Russians may be more prepared to talk with a view to world peace and the return of the subjugated countries to their own rule.

So goes the world's news, an ever changing panorama that from time to time bursts into the three dimensional and threatens to break out upon the audience.

The Union Jack

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Coronation services were held in churches throughout Canada on the Sunday before the great crowning ceremony in Westminister Abbey, and I attended one of these in Toronto. The preacher for the occasion was the Very Reverend Willard Brewing, ex-Moderator of the United Church. He preached on the British Commonwealth of Nations as a means of promoting the "commonweal" of the people of all nations. At the close of his sermon he turned to the Union Jack hanging in the chancel, and spoke feelingly of the beauty and sacred symbolism of that emblem of unity and loyalty of the British Crown. He said he could not understand why any loyal Canadian would want to discard so beautiful a flag, with its triple crosses representing Christian unity and ancient traditions.

While the preacher was speaking in this way, noticed an elderly man in the pew in front of me wiping his eyes beneath his glasses. His body trembled as if he were trying to suppress his emotion. After the service I was told that many other members of the congregation were affected in the same way by the preacher's quiet eulogy of the old Flag.

This incident prompted me to look up the history of our Flag, and I found it in a book entitled, "The Story of the Union Jack" by Barlow Cumberland, a Canadian, published over fifty years ago. The author reminds us that national flags are not merely "haphazard patchwork of coloured bunting", and in the folds of the Union Jack is written the "record of the steady growth of a great nation, tracing through centuries of adventure and progress, the gradual establishment by its people of constitutional government over a world-wide Empire."

Every schoolboy knows what the three crosses in the Flag stand for. French Canadians who think they are not represented in the Union Jack should remember that when the Christian nations of Europe joined in the Crusade to the Holy Land, the warrior pilgrims wore crosses of different shapes and colors on their surcoats and shields as Crusaders or "Crossbearers." The Fenchmen wore the Red Cross and in that respect they were one with the Englishmen whose banner was the Red Cross of St. George.

French Canadians should remember that the Norman Conquest of England was a French invasion, and William the Conqueror readily adopted the Red Cross "Jacque", while the English people submitted to him as their King, just as the people of French Canada submitted to the British Crown after the conquest of Quebec.

Both of those conquests proved a blessing for the conquered. Moreover, the original French immigrants in Quebec were almost entirely from Normandy, and in honoring the Union Jack their descendents are giving allegiance to a Throne that was reestablished by a Norman King.

As for the tri-colour, the flag of the Revolution, Cartier sailed up the St. Lawrence in 1534 under the royal white flag bearing the lilies of ancient France, and it was under that flag that Quebec was founded by Champlain in 1608. The tri-color therefore carries no allegiance for French Canadians.

It is interesting to note that the 13 English Colonies which became the United States were established under the St. George Cross of England. The Mayflower was an English ship, and the Pilgrim Fathers declared their loyalty to the British Crown. The Grand Union flag, with the English Jack in the corner and red and white stripes on the fly, continued to be used for a year after the Declaration of Independence. Even the stars and stripes and the eagle are of English origin, being adopted from the coat of arms of the Washington family in England.

The White Ensign was the signal flag with which Nelson flashed his famous message to the Fleet at Trafalgar "England expects every man this day to do his duty." And it was fortunate for France and the whole free world that they did their duty and scotched the dictatorship of Napoleon.

In a radio broadcast during the last war, I heard a French Canadian tell of the "thrill" he got at the sight of the Union Jack flying at the masthead of the British suriser arriving off the Island of Crete in the Mediterranean.

Letter to the Editor

R. R. 1, Weston, Ont.
June 17, 1953.

The Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Que.

Sirs:—

Re your article 'Eggs Must Be Graded' Wednesday 3rd June, 1953.

The British North America Act states a farmer may sell his produce or product direct to the consumer.

In Ontario we have a Provincial Pasteurization Act which makes unpasteurized milk illegal, thus all milk is shipped to dairies, pasteurized, then sold to the consumer. My point is ,that the B.N.A. Act has not been changed, which is by the way a difficult and long job. If what your article says is true then thousands or more farmers in any area of large or small cities, towns, etc., are committing a crime every day. In Toronto and other centres, there are Farmers' Markets where eggs are sold directly to the consumer.

If a farmer wishes to have labels printed stating grade etc., be may grade his own eggs, pack and mark the cases according to grade and sell them as graded eggs to stores or egg grading stations. He is responsible for the quality stated for these eggs for a specified period.

I say again if this is not true the writer and many more have and are still selling eggs against the law.

Remember we still live in, and enjoy a Democratic country and the farmer is protected by the B.N.A. Act.

Yours truly,
W. G. Payne.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA -(CP)- The political leaders are out in the country as the federal election campaign warms up with many speeches to be heard before voting takes place Aug. 10

Prime Minister St. Laurent opened the Liberal government campaign with an address Monday at Windsor, Ont., after which he is travelling about the country with engagements at the big cities of Montreal and Toronto in the dying days of the campaign.

George Drew, Opposition leader in the last parliament, opened the Progressive Conservative campaign with a speech in his home town of Guelph last Friday, when he promised tax reductions of at least $500,000,000 a year if his party is elected. Mr. Drew pledged a special fall session of parliament to make "immediate" tax cuts and a start on many other measures if his party is victorious. He was to spend four days in his own constituency of Carleton county before making an address Thursday at Quebec, after which he tours the west.

CCF leader M. J. Coldwell jumped the gun on the prime minister's June 1 announcement of the election date. Mr. Coldwell headed out west on June 11 and made speeches last week at small centres in Saskatchewan. He will spend about three weeks altogether in the west and then go to the Maritimes for four days, working back to the West Coast in the succeeding four weeks.

Radio and TV

Progressive Conservative leader Drew's speech at Guelph was the first Canadian campaign meeting ever recorded for television. Films were taken to be shown the following night on the CBC television network linking Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. CBC officials said plans had also been made for televising key meetings of other major parties.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation sent out word, meanwhile, that the political parties had failed to agree on a division of the 16 hours and 10 minutes of free time on english-language networks which was offered them for political broadcasts.

The CBC therefore applied a formula set by the board of governors for just such an event. Under this artibrary formula, the Liberal party will get 33 per cent of the free time, the Progressive Conservatives 30 per cent, the CCF 20 per cent and the Social Credit party 17 per cent.

Dual Candidates

One unusual situation arose in a newly - consolidated constituency near Ottawa when two separate Liberal organizations each nominated an "official Liberal candidate" for the election.

In the Glengarry-Prescott riding the organizations named W. J. Major of Green Valley, Ont., and Raymond Bruneau of Hawkesbury, Ont., as Liberal candidates for the single seat. Mr. Major was sitting Liberal member for the old Glengarry constituency and Mr. Bruneau filled the same office for the old Prescott riding.

Dietetics

The Canadian Dietetic Association held a three-day convention and the dietitiens attending heard a lot about fattening foods.

Dr. E. Neige Todhunter, dean of the school of home economics at the University of Alabama, told the convention there is no such thing as a fattening food. She said overweight is a problem of calorie imbalance and neither a "seven-day diet" or a "milk-and-banana diet" or any other spectacular dietary formula will reduce weight and maintain health at the same time. Overweight persons should endeavor to eat a balanced diet at a correct calorie level.

Another dietician told the convention that overweight is caused simply by overeating. Dr. Rachel Beaudoin, director of the dietetics institute at the University of Montreal, said one quarter of North Americans are overweight and are endangering their lives by their eating habits. She suggested as a remedy of high protein diet, well-distributed in three meals a day.

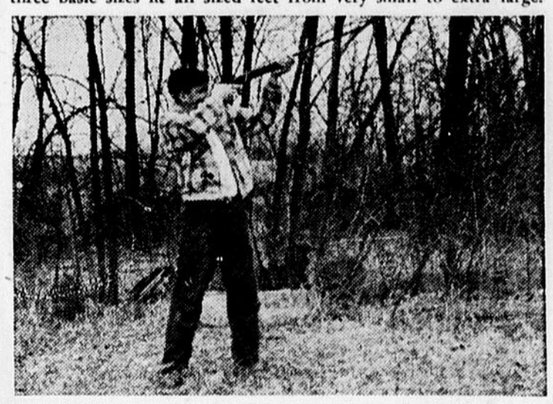

Dr. E. Gordon Young, director of the Maritime regional laboratory of the National Research Council at Halifax, had a more conservative estimate of overweight. He suggested that in this country a fifth of the population over 30 are too heavy. That would be about 1,250,000 people, of whom 420,000 would be classified as obese.

Valleyfield

VALLEYFIELD — A tea was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Wednesday evening, June 17th, the occasion being the presentation of certificates to the Home Nursing Class sponsored by the Red Cross Society. Forty of these were presented by Mrs. S. W. Laroche — 9 to the English ladies' class, 20 to the French and eleven to the French Girl Guides.

Mrs. C. L. Roman, past president of the Red Cross, spoke about the needs of the Society in the way of blood donors, women to sew and knit. There is not a good response to this work in Valleyfield. She mentioned the disastrous fire just recently in St. Neree, Que., and how the Red Cross was there immediately to help. Mrs. J. W. Levac spoke in French. Mrs. Robert Clifford was in charge of the English class and Miss Alice Besner, R.N., the French class.

The nurses who assisted Mrs. Clifford were Mrs. R. D.. McEachern, Mrs. J. Bell, Mrs. Carl Schuldt, Mrs. John Sudbury, Mrs. Kay, Miss B. Crockett (dietician Mrs. John Ferris) and dentist Dr. A. McCabe. Mr. Henri Houde also gave a lecture on atrificial respiration.

Mrs. Clifford was presented with a corsage and rhinestone brooch from her class and Nurse Besner with a corsage and a nurse's pen and pencil set with thermometer from the French ladies' class.

The tea table was most attractive with silver candelabra, silver tea services, a centre piece of pink peonies, pyramids made of small cookies and icing topped by a Red Cross flag at each end of the table and really were made beautifully also little baskets of frosted arrowroot biscuits with marshmallows and pipe cleaners for handles.

Mrs. E. Boy, Mrs. John Dow, Mrs. Yvan Brassard and Mrs. Paul Osee Leduc poured tea.

Mrs. R. Rousseau as convenor of the refreshments did an excellent job and these were provided by some members of the Red Cross and Les Cercles des Fermier. Mr. P. H. Lemyre, President of the Red Cross, spoke in French and English at the close of the evening.

2nd Lieut. Stephen Roman who is taking the Officers' Training Course at Aldershot, N.S., is spending a few days with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Roman, before proceeding to Kingston where he will take a ten-weeks' course and then return to Aldershot.

Portuguese Farm Help

We have been informed by W. E. Bernhardt, Immigration Officer in charge, Huntingdon District, that due to the extreme shortage of farm labour in this district, an experiment or trial is being carried out with respect to the employment of a group of young farm workers from Portugal. That is along the same lines as the policy with respect to the placement on Canadian farms of Dutchmen.

While this new Policy is, of course, under the aegis of the Immigration Branch of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration of Canada, the Portuguese Consul in Montreal is also acting in a supervisory-liason capacity. We also understand that a special representative of the Portuguese Government accompanied these immigrants to Canada. Altogether 500 of these immigrants have arrived in Canada and have been sent to various districts for placement.

Insofar as this district is concerned 23 men have been so placed to date. The first batch of 5 men arrived on May 19 and were placed on farms in the vicinity of Huntingdon. A second batch of 15 arrived on June 3, and three more arrived later. The members of the second batch were placed in small groups of 2 and 3 in the vicinity of Ormstown, Howick, Glenelm and Hemmingford. while single placements have been made in the St. Timothee district. In the latter instance, as far as was possible, on adjoining farms.

The necessary arrangements for these placements were made and supervised by Myles Tillotson, as Field Officer for the Canadian Immigration Branch. We also understand that these men have been placed on a one year trial basis at minimum wage rates, after which period is over they will have found their own level, said Mr. Bernhardt, and can then make their own arrangements.

According to Mr. Bernhardt, while these men are meanwhile "green" insofar as Canadian dairy farm work is concerned, they are clean-cut and intelligent, and apparently willing workers.

Calfhood Vaccination

Another forward step with respect to Calfhood Vaccination has been announced by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Speaking at the Annual Field Day of the Hamilton District Cattle Breeding Association, W. P. Watson, Livestock Commissioner for Ontario, announced that his Department is preparing to put into effect a policy under which calfhood vaccination for Brucellosis may be made compulsory in any Ontario Township, where two-thirds of the cattlemen ask for it. Legislation covering this policy has been passed and only a few details remain to be worked out before it will become effective.

The new policy provides that a Township Council must appoint a committee to administer a compulsory programme of calfhood vaccination if two-thirds of the cattlemen in the county petition for it. Inspectors to see that vaccinations are carried out must be appointed by the Council. The Ontario Government is prepared to bear the major share of the cost of this programme although details of the plan for reimbursing the Township Councils have not yet been worked out.

According to Mr. Watson, calfhood vaccination as a means of preventing losses from brucellosis (also variously known as contagious abortion and Bang's disease) has steadily grown in favor with cattlemen throughout the Province, until last year 177,000 or 33 percent of all the female calves born in the Province were vaccinated. In many localities, this practice has been followed almost 100 percent. Mr. Watson was of the opinion that the new policy would greatly reduce the annual loss of income to Ontario cattlemen caused by brucellosis.

Some 500 of the 2,300 members of the Hamilton District Cattle Breeding Association and their families were on hand for the Field Day. Manager G. J. Rourke stated that 85 new members had been enrolled this year and during the first five months of 1953, there had been a thirteen percent increase in the number of animals inseminated as compared to 1952.

What About Quebec?

This writer has long been a keen admirer, albeit when concerned with same also a keen supporter of the livestock policies of the Live Stock Branch of Quebec Department of Agriculture. However, that does not apply to the present policy, or lack of policy of that Department with respect to Calfhood Vaccination. Quebec purebred livestock breeders are just as strong supporters of Calfhood Vaccination as are their Ontario brethern; practice it just as extensively. However, under the Ontario plan there is a co-operative arrangement with the Dominion Health of Animals Branch, whereby Vaccinated animals up to 30 months of age, are given clearance for export purposes to the United States. That is Vaccinated animals which have not yet reached the negative test stage. In that respect also, we may say that Ontario Veterinary College supervises the Calfhood Vaccination Plan for herds that are not under Federal supervision with respect to Bangs testing.

So far, however, it would appear that there is no similar arrangement or agreement as between Quebec Department of Agriculture and the Dominion Department of Agriculture. It therefore is that considerable hardship is experienced with respect to Vaccinated animals under 30 months of age which have been sold for export. That is animals which have not yet become negative after Vaccination, cannot be certified for export to the United States. The only exceptions being animals from herds which are under the Health of Animals Branch Bangs' Policy.

The Holstein Record

The Holstein cow Mina Fayne Korndyke, bred and owned by J. H. Jose & Sons, Newcastle, Ont., recently attained the two hundred thousand pound milk class. In fact she is now the top living lifetime producer in Canada. Moreover, her lifetime production of 201,653 lbs. milk, 7,591 lbs. fat, average test 3.76%, in 14 lactations, makes her the second Holstein cow to complete 14 lactations on R.O.P. test, while all her lactations were made on twice daily milkings. Subsequent to her attaining the above total she dropped another calf and so is now in her fifteenth lactation. During her lifetime she has given birth to 15 calves, never having had twins. It is interesting to note that 4 of her sisters have lifetime records ranging from 122,957 lbs. milk to 161,004lbs. milk. Also that on both sides of her pedigree she carries some of the same bloodlines as Susie Korndyke Fayne Lass, the Canadian Champion lifetime milk producer, regardless of times milk daily, with her lifetime production of 230,179 lbs. milk, 7,557 lbs. fat, on 3 milking-a-day, in 9 lactations.

Quadruplet Calves —

One Mother — Two Fathers

Writes John Powell, Publicist, Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada:

"Since quadruplets are still less common in the bovine than in the human world, the news that a three and one half year old second calf Holstein heifer, owned by Joaquin Pereira & Sons, Hopetown, Calf., gave birth to quadruplet calves is news in itself. However, the fact that the quadruplets were the offspring of two different bulls makes this a most unusual case indeed.

"J. F. Meyer, the attending veterinarian declared, "two bulls were involved, each fertilizing an egg in each uterine horn. Therefore we have two sets of twins from one mother at the same time."

Grandpa With The Trowel

A report on Employment Conditions in Ontario makes this significant observation.

"In one large city, with a building program of considerable magnitude, the only skilled mechanics available in the construction trades were in the upper age brackets. There were only three bricklayers available for employment, all of whom were over 70 years of age and one being over 75. The only plasterer available was over 80. All painters except one were over 64 years of age. The one exception had an arthritic condition in the hips and hands".

If any further proof were needed of a shortage of people in this underdeveloped country we surely have it here, comments The Financial Post.

It's not a question of wages. The rates now being paid in the construction trades in Canada are among the highest in the world.

The real trouble is lack of people. We can get these people from Europe but we won't get them unless we open our doors a lot wider than they are now and keep them open.

It will be absurd and suicidal for us to keep the clamps down tight on immigration until the last native artisan dies of old age.

TOLL OF FIRES

TORONTO, (CP) — Forty-seven persons lost their lives and 98 were injured in Ontario fires in the first three months of 1953, according to the Ontario fire marshal's report. Property loss was $7,373,607 in 5,434 fires, an increase of $633,481 over 1952.

You can't go "ALL-OUT"

IF you feel "ALL-IN"

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 53

Wedding

CRAWFORD - GAMBLE

A pretty wedding took place at the Burke Center Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon, June 6th, at 2.30 o'clock, when Miss Greta Lorena Gamble, daughter of the late T. A. Gamble of Franklin Centre, Quebec, and Mrs. Margaret S. Gamble, 25 Constable St., Malone, N.Y., became the bride of Andrew Hampson Crawford, son of W. J. Crawford and the late Mrs. Mildred H. Crawford of Burke, N.Y. The Rev. Ronald Rowat, pastor of The First Congregational Church, Malone, N.Y., performed the ceremony.

Pedestal baskets of pink and white gladioli and seasonal flowers were used to decorate the church and reception parlors. The guest pews were marked with white gladioli tied with white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony, William A. Johnston, organist, played several selections including: "Salut d'Amour", "Transmeria" and "Paris Angelicus" as well as the traditional wedding marches. He also accompanied Miss Peggy McKay of Hemmingford, Que., who sweetly sang "The Lord's Prayer", "I'll Walk Beside You" and "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled".

Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. James Gamble of Malone, N.Y., the bride wore an ankle-length gown of white embroidered nylon net over satin with long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white Bible with an orchid arrangement and satin streamers. She also wore a rhinestone pearl necklace and earrings to match, a gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlington Lobdell of Burke, N.Y., attended the couple and the ushers were Messrs. Hadwin Ellsworth, Burke, N.Y., and Nelson Beattie, Huntingdon, Quebec.

The matron of honor was attired in a blue ankle-length gown of nylon with matching lace, gloves and a half veil caught in halo effect with white accessories. She carried a nosegay-effect bouquet of sweetpeas and roses.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Gamble, chose a navy nylon lace dress with matching hat and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's aunt, Mrs. Mary C. Hull of Los Angeles, Calif., wore a green summer sheer dress with a corsage of red roses, and his sister, Mrs. Harold Williams of Burke, N.Y., was attired in a dark sheer with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.

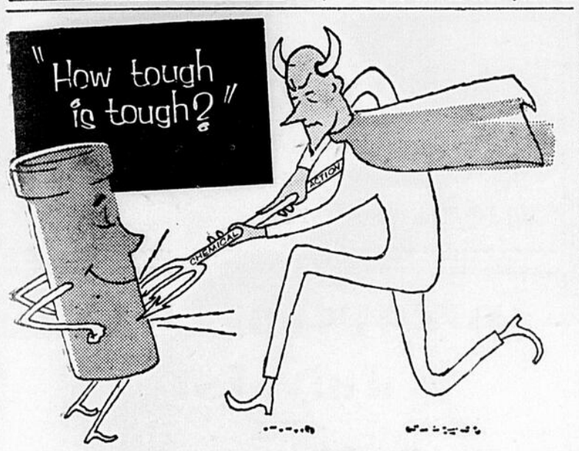

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Guests from Montreal, Hemmingford, Franklin Centre and Huntingdon, Que., as well as from neighboring towns attended.

Mrs. Elmer Mason, Burke, N.Y., an aunt of the groom, served the wedding cake; Mrs. Garfield Moore and Mrs. Floyd Tarbell, Malone, N.Y., presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Clarence Henderson and Mrs. Nelson Beattie, Huntingdon, Quebec, registered the guests; and Mrs. William Leach, Brainardsville, N.Y., Mrs. B. W. Paeplow, Oneonto, N.Y., and Mrs. Kenneth Spencer of Malone, N.Y., had charge of the gifts.

The bride is a graduate of Huntingdon Academy, Huntingdon, and of Macdonald College School for Teachers, St. Anne de Bellevue, Que. Mr. Crawford is a graduate of Chateaugay High School and the Adirondack School of Commerce, Malone, N.Y. He served four years in the (E.T.O.) European Theatre of Operation during World War Two in the Ninth Infantry Division. In January, 1945, he was seriously wounded at Munschan, Germany. At present he is an employee of the Franklin County Highway Department, Malone, N.Y.

As a going away costume, Mrs. Crawford wore a blue gray suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. Following the wedding trip the newlyweds will make their home in Burke, N.Y.

You can make pipe from a great variety of materials. Vegetable or mineral fibres, for instance, pressed into a mass; can produce a pipe that has strength and can be coated or treated to resist moisture and indicate permanence.

But sewage is more than moisture. By code definition it is "a liquid containing vegetable, mineral and animal matter". It may form corrosive gases that have an injurious chemical action. A sewer pipe must be tough to resist this chemical attack.

VITRIFIED CLAY PIPE is of the nature of glass; and glass is impervious to corrosion by acids and alkalis. This hard, vitreous pipe is produced by heat, which gives it permanence. "Bonded by fire", it is able to resist chemical action—permanently. That is what makes VITRIFIED CLAY PIPE the best buy for all sewer purposes.

Probably the most amazing feat of magic ever conceived by the mind of man is the Indian Rope Trick.

In the classic version, the jaduwallah (Indian magician) throws one end of a coil of rope into the air. Up it stretches, into the clouds. On the word of command his assistant, a boy, climbs the rope and disappears. Then, seemingly, comes a hitch.

The jaduwallah calls to the boy to come down. No answer. Another impatient summons; still no answer. Finally the magician, a wicked-looking knife in his teeth, climbs the rope after the boy. He, too, disappears, but the spectators hear a violent altercation climaxed by pieces of the boy's dismembered body falling to the ground. The jaduwallah reappears down the rope, puts the pieces under a cloth and utters an incantation. The cloth collapses. A moment later the boy comes bounding through the spectators into the circle.

There is only one drawback to this trick. Everybody talks about it, but nobody can be found who has actually seen it.

By contrast, you can witness any day of the week an impressive phenomenon called the Disappearing Molson Trick, which has been performed continually in Quebec Province and adjacent areas since 1786. The magicians — in this case Molson's — brew a rare, delightful ale. Their assistants, numbered by the hundreds of thousands, immediately proceed to make this ale disappear as fast as it can be brewed. It's a trick anyone can take part in. All you need to learn is the magic incantation: "Make Mine Molson's.

Camp Lewis is a Boys Camp operated by the Montreal Boys Association and partly financed by the Red Feather Service to provide Camping experience for under privileged boys of the Montreal district. The Camp is beautifully situated on a lake near St. Adolphe. It accommodates between two and three hundred boys at a time, the boys coming in shifts for periods of two weeks until the end of August.

Dartmouth College from Hanover, N.H., won the Competition. Pictures and reports were given by such leading magazines as "Time".

Following the week-end at Orono, the other five members of the McGill team motored back to Montreal trough the Dixville Notch, but Howard took a different course. By hitch hicking, he was able to travel from one end of New Brunswick to the other, and spent two very enjoyable weeks in that Province visiting with friends in St. John and Wewcastle, later he returned home by bus from Campbellton and spent a few hours seeing the sites of our own historic capital, Quebec.

Want to Organize for Trap Shooting

A meeting is being held in the Parochial Hall, Huntingdon, on Thursday, June 25th, at 8 p.m., for the purpose of organizing a trap shooting club. All those interested are asked to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion. The promoters of the idea are anxious to form such a club as they feel there are many who would be interested in such shooting practice. It is expected that much can be learned as to the conservation of game and the proper handling of a gun by having such a club.

Mr. Provost, for the limited time at his disposal, first spoke on caring for a person who may have suffered injury until such time as a doctor arrives to take charge of the case. Secondly he made reference to cases of poisoning whether such be due to infection, inhalation or narcotics. Lastly his talk and demonstration was on artificial respiration.

Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Hughes entertained a number of their friends in Huntingdon and of Montreal to a garden party at their home on Saturday evening. The spacious and well kept grounds, coupled with the hospitality extended, made everything delightful. It was amazing to learn from Mr. and Mrs. Hughes that the Chateauguay River measures 32 feet deep at that spot. We venture to say this is quite likely the deepest spot throughout the length of the river from its source at Chateaugay Lake, N.Y., to Chateauguay Basin. Another possible record breaker is also to be found close to the Hughes home, it being an elm tree which looks as though it may measure close to six feet in diameter. The big elm suffered much at the time of the small hurricane we had in this area a few years ago. Tree surgeons were brought in and cut off a number of the twisted branches and did a lot of work on the tree in the way of bolting branches, etc. The tree surgeons estimated the tree to be in excess of 300 years of age.

Misses Maureen and Shirley Elder of Montreal spent the week-end with their mother at their cottage at Rankin's Point. Shirley, having received her Diploma from The Central Business College in Montreal, has accepted a position with the Associated Textiles Limited, Montreal.

On Tuesday evening executive members of the Men's and Ladies' Curling Clubs held a joint meeting at the Club Rooms when finances were discussed. Since it is now possible to budget fairly accurately for the coming season, several money-raising projects were discussed. Tentative plans were made for several social events to be sponsored by the curlers prior to the opening of the curling season.

Week-end guests of Miss Susan Davidson at Lac Marois were Misses Jean and Anne McEwen, Mary Catherine and Alanne Hooker.

Mr. Earl McNeil of Gladsworth, Sask, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baird.

Local Association Honors Guider Elaine Coffin—

On Friday afternoon the local Association of Girl Guides held a meeting in the Ormstown High School. Mrs. Allan Cavers presiding. Mrs. Ernest Martin, Dewittville, gave a detailed account of activities including two events held at Beauharnois when Mrs. Cavers, Mrs. Martin, Brown Owl Elaine Meredith and Mrs. J. White attended.

At the organization meeting held earlier, the Association had agreed that each Guide Mother should contribute $1. for a leader's uniform and they felt a fee of 50c from each Mother of Guides and Brownies would supply the treasury with sufficient funds to operate without sponsoring a special event such as a tea, etc. The response to this membership appeal has not been too encouraging.

A special feature of the meeting was the presentation of a Guide ring to Miss Elaine Coffin, who, with Miss Miriam Agnes have done a grand job of reorganizing and leading the Ormstown Company. Mrs. A. A. McCormick expressed the sincere appreciation of the parents to the Guides and made the presentation.

Miss Coffin was taken completely by surprise but graciously responded.

The ladies present enjoyed dainty refreshments.

Miss Agnes announced that camping for Guides during the summer would be made possible under the leadership of Mrs. John Taylor.

Mrs. Lindsay Cullen and Nancy and Mrs. R. Skidmore have spent the past two weeks visiting friends and relatives at various points in the Maritimes.

Miss Frances Sexsimth of Macdonald College spent the week-end at "The Towers".

Shower For Miss Eleanor Younie—

Mrs. Homer Brady, 2024 Connaught St., N.D.G., was hostess recently at a crystal shower, given in honor of a bride-elect, Miss Eleanor Younie, whose marriage takes places in the near future.

The guest of honor was presented with a pretty basket filled with crystal gifts. These were admired by all present and Eleanor expressed her sincere thanks.

Attractive decorations were in keeping with the occasion and dainty refreshments were served.

Among the guests were Mrs. Wallace Younie, Mrs. Roy Younie, Mrs. Robert McKell and Miss Mary McKell.

The Presbyterian Evening Auxiliary met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Russell Marshall. During the work period, articles were completed and priced for the sale of work to be held on Friday. A quilt was worked on and considerable work completed. Mrs. Harold Kerr read from Psalm I and followed with prayer. Mrs. Alvin Gruer gave an interesting article on "Churchwoman in the Home".

A business meeting followed when plans were completed for the salad supper being held on Friday, under the convenorship of Mrs. Toh Begbie, Mrs. Arthur White and Mrs. Clifford Barrington.

Matrimonial

A wedding of interest took place on Thursday morning, June 18, when Miss Marie Claire Lucile Dupuis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dupuis, became the bride of Radio Technician Joseph Raymond Foisy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Foisy of Fort Covington, N.Y., in a double ring ceremony at the St. Agnes Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. Fr. Gagnon officiating.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of gladioli and peonies, tastefully set in place by the rector of the parish, Fr. Gagnon. Rev. Fr. Deguire of St. Anicet played the steeple chimes before and after the ceremony.

Fr. Deguire also presided at the organ playing the traditional wedding march. Mrs. Lionel Latreille and Miss Rachel Boyer sang during the ceremony, Fr. Deguire acting as accompanist.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor-length gown of French lace, Victorian style, with graduated accordion pleated ruffles and nylon tulle down the front. The bodice was strapless and topped by a fitted jacket with stand-up collar. Long tight sleeves ended in points over her wrists. She had a traditional Chantilly lace veil with crown head piece and carried a bouquet of white full and shattered carnations with stephanotis. Miss Theresa Foisy, sister of the groom, was maid of honour and was dressed in a gown of yellow nylon tulle with fitted bodice. Her skirt was styled to match the bride's with an embroidered nylon tulle overskirt. She also wore a matching stole picture hat, mitts and carried a bouquet of full and shattered carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Gertrude Dupuis, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Pearl Kazulak, the bride's cousin. They wore gowns of nylon tulle with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts, matching stoles, mitts and sweetheart hats. They carried the same bouquet arrangements as the maid of honor, Mrs. Kazulak being dressed in blue carried a pink bouquet and Miss Dupuis in pink, carried a deep rose bouquet.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of white gardenia and stephanotis. The groom's mother was dressed in navy blue crepe with white accessories and corsage of red roses. Mrs. Dufresne, the groom's grandmother, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Felix Dupuis, were present for the ceremony and wore corsages of talisman and yellow roses.

The groom's best man was Mr. Donald Dupuis, brother of the bride. The groom, who has been serving in the U.S. Navy for two years and is stationed at Norfolk, Virginia, was dressed in Royal Blue. He was home on a furlough extending from June 5th to 25th.

Ushers were Mr. Hector Foisy, brother of the groom, and Mr. Lyle Mainville, the groom's brother-in-law. After the ceremony, a wedding reception was held in the Gai Lounge of the Huntingdon Chateau, 158 relatives and friends being present for the occasion. Percy Skye and his orchestra were in attendance and played excellently during the day until four o'clock, when the happy couple left on their honeymoon to Niagara Falls. For going away the bride wore a golden faille suit with wide natural straw hat and brown accessories. She also wore matching gold ear-rings and necklace, the gift of the groom. They will reside in Norfolk, Virginia.

Since her engagement was announced Miss Dupuis was honored by several bridal showers, at each of which she received many beautiful and useful gifts. She also received many magnificent wedding gifts as well including a Chinese lamp, electric clock-radio, and many others.

Recipes

RADISHES, LEAF LETTUCE AND GREEN ONIONS

The vegetable stalls are colourful these days with the first arrivals of Summer. Crinkly, delicate looking leaf lettuce, dark shiny green onions and bunches of red radishes are displayed in great profusion. The prices of these items are within reason and everyone can enjoy them now.

Bright, green leaf lettuce is a summertime treat. It is very perishable and must be used quickly. Often leaf lettuce is sold in cone shaped containers. Leaf lettuce has loose, flat leaves which do not form a head like the Iceberg type. When buying leaf lettuce, be sure that the leaves are fresh, young and tender. Avoid dirty, dry, yellow leaves or those which have big midribs up the centre.

Lettuce is a natural salad in itself if several leaves are served, whole or shredded, with a favourite dressing. Many families have never tasted that old-fashioned favourite, wilted lettuce. This is the recipe from the home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture. This amount should serve six.

1/2 cup chopped onion
1/3 cup to 1/2 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar (optional)
10 cups leaf lettuce (2 quarts) broken in large pieces
Salt and pepper to taste

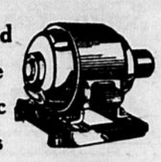

Cook the chopped bacon until it is crisp and brown. Add the chopped onion to the hot fat and saute the onion until it turns yellow. Then add 1/3 to 1/2 cup of vinegar, depending on how tangy you like it and add the sugar, if desired. When the inegar is heated, add the leaf lettuce broken in large pieces, cover the pan and cook until the lettuce is just wilted. Season with salt and pepper and serve hot. It may be that the family does not like the lettuce wilted too much. In that case, instead of cooking the lettuce in the hot vinegar mixture, pour the hot mixture over the lettuce in a bowl and then toss together using two forks.

The season has started for young, tender green onions and you will find this family favourite on many supper tables in all parts of Canada. When buying green onions, look for those which have fresh green tips and be sure that there is at least two or three inches of white stem above the roots. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, suggest mixing chopped green onions with cottage cheese for a tasty salad. They also mention that if you sprinkle a little chopped green onion on top of tomato soup or bouillon, the onion will add extra flavour to the sauce. Omelets are a popular luncheon dish. If a little chopped green onion is added to an omelet, the onion will give the omelet a look and flavour that is really special. The home economists also mention an onion sauce which they say is wonderful served on new boiled potatoes. It is very simply made by adding 1/2 cup of finely chopped green onions to 1 cup medium cream sauce.

The homemaker need never be stuck for a garnish so long as she can buy radishes, for they may be used whole or sliced or they may be cut in a variety of flower shapes. Radishes are plentiful and are inexpensive to buy. When buying radishes, be sure that they have fresh, green leaves and firm roots. Store the radishes in the crisper of the refrigerator, but if the refrigerator does not have a crisper, they may be stored in a refrigerator bag made of cellophane or plastic film or in a glass jar with a lid.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, tell us not to forget to add sliced radishes to salads. They add a faint peppery flavour and most important of all, they add colour and eye appeal.

St. Paul's Evening Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's Evening Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Argyle Cameron, on Thursday evening.

Miss Margaret Roy was in charge of the devotionals and centred thoughts around the prayer of Elizabeth II prior to Her Coronation and Solomon's prayer.

Mrs. Ewen McDougall gave a splendid synopsis of part of our Study Book, "Along African Trails." Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Towns, Mrs. D. Lan, and Mrs. W. Hamilton. During the evening hand work was done on a quilt.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lorne Elliott and Mrs. A. Elliott.

Ormstown Presbyterian Y.P.S.

The monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Y.P.S. was held on Friday evening, June 12th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McDougall and family. 17 members and friends were present. The committee for the evening consisted of Margaret Dickson, Marianne MacMillan and Merrill Tannahill.

The meeting opened with the singing of a numbr of choruses, after which the president, Bob Eastwood led in an Invocation Prayer. Margaret Dickson read the Scripture Lesson and Merrill Tannahill read an interesting account of the History in the Bible between the Old and New Testaments, known as the Apochrypha. Marianne MacMillan led in prayer. A letter of thanks was read from Donalda Goodall stating that she is using the money the Y.P.S. sent her to buy a bicycle for treking in her missionary work.

Letters were also read from Dot Eastwood and Jean Hooker thanking the Society for the chocolates and the cup and saucer respectively received by them. Notice of a South Shore Union Executive Meeting at Georgetown on June 30th was given.

The Annual Drive will be held on Saturday, June 20th to Cap St. Jacques at Ste. Genevieve if the weather permits. Otherwise it will be June 27th

The Society has presented its 3 Act Play, "Uncle Josh Perkins" six times and wishes to thank all who attended the presentations, and also those who made it possible for the Society to present it. Over $200 profit has been realized from the Play.

At the close of the meeting some very enjoyable games were played and delicious refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Vera Dooling thanked the McDougalls for the use of their home. The next meeting will be held at Dorothy Hooker's home on July 3.

St. Paul's Woman's Association

In MacDougall Hall on Tuesday afternoon, June 9th, the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Association was held with an attendance of 33 ladies. Mrs. Hanna and Miss N. Rutherford conducted the Worship Service. "The Power of Prayer" being the theme for this service, Miss Rutherford read several passages of Scripture relating to prayer. Mrs. Hanna following with part of the service used at the Queen's Coronation, and ending with a devout Queen's message to her people, asking for their prayers on her behalf.

Business requiring prompt attention ranged all the way from painting part of the Hall, to the catering for a June wedding luncheon.

It is expected the annual joint meeting of W.M.S. and W.A. will be held in August, the date to be decided when the W.M.S. meet on Tuesday next. Mrs. Robt. Anderson's program for the afternoon centered around the thought still uppermost in our minds—Coronation.—Mrs. R. E. Forrester playing a "Coronation March"; a short humorous reading by Miss Marg. McNeil entitled "Sunday Sickness"; "Coronation, 1953", was the subject of Mrs. Huntley Greig's paper, followed by the National Anthem. A Flower Quiz conducted by Mrs. R. Anderson brought the program to a close, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses of the day: Mrs. Alf. Greig, the Misses Bazin, Miss Welch, Mrs. Patton and Mrs. W Younie. Yellow roses, iris and litlies were the decorations used.

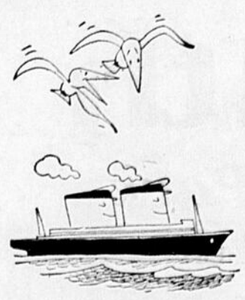

Original Etchings

Three beautiful original etchings have been donated to the Flewelling Convalescent Hospital and Rest Home by Mrs. Lillian Burnley, Sweetsburg, Quebec.

The etchings are, Master Is Coming by Wm. M. Cary. This is a beautiful hunting scene with dogs. The second is a scene of a thatched cottage and a young lady gathering flowers by J. O. Anderson. The third is No Thoroughfare by E. A. S. Douglas 1881.

These three beautiful large etchings add much to the Reception Room and two main halls and are very gratefully accepted by Mrs. Jessie I. Flewelling as a one year anniversary gift. Just one year has passed since Mrs. Flewelling opened the Old Barrie Memorial Hospital as the Convalescent Hospital and Rest Home. It has been a very successful year and Mrs. Flewelling wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has in any way made it possible for her to carry on and make a success of the institution.

Friends will be very pleased to know that Mr. Wallace Merson of Huntingdon is much improved after receiving five weeks physiotherapy and rehabilitation treatments at the Flewelling Convalescent Hospital.

Super-Stacks

THE S.S. "UNITED STATES", new speed queen of the Atlantic, boasts the largest stacks ever built: the forward stack is 55 feet high, 60 feet long. Made of aluminum, they are assembled with 65,000 aluminum rivets. Reputed to be the safest vessel ever built, the liner contains more aluminum than any other single structure on land or sea. This light, strong, fire-and-weather-resistant metal is used for lifeboats and bulkheads, decks and elevator doors and a hundred other items.

In naval vessels, too — such as the fourteen minesweepers now being built for the Canadian Navy — aluminum is being used more extensively than ever before. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Membership within the Grange should be the continuing concern of an active committee of two or three or more. It has been clearly shown that the Subordinate Granges enjoying the best growth have such a group working at all times. We wish we could reproduce here a chart which has come to us out of our Washington office graphically showing Grange growth over the years since its birth in 1867. Outside of an unnatural balooning during 1875-79, there has been a steady, solid increase ever since 1900, with moderate leveling-off during the periods 1910-20 and 1930-40. In 1950 we broke this tendency to level off and have shown a marked upward trend ever since. It is worthy of note that this has occurred during the rise and disappearance of some other farm organizations and a general decrease in the farm population. Where we go from here depends largely on maintaining the high calibre of leadership among all of our Subordinate Granges. You all can help.

Focal point of some twenty million farm families, producers of the world's agriculture, has been the sixth general meeting of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, IFAP, at Rome early this month. Wheat growers, dairy and cattlemen, rice growers and many others from 30 countries deliberated on such questions as reducing world trade restrictions, urging an international authority on commodities, using facilities of the United Nations to establish a world food reserve, consideration of the International Wheat Agreement and other matters of world importance, which are bound to be significant for all of us here, as our international boundaries shrink in comparison to our swift movement and communications.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson's desire to get grass-roots opinion through an appeal to the nation's farm organization, which we foretold in this column several weeks ago, has had wide publicity lately. In anticipation of questions that will be asked, and problems to be discussed, we strongly urge each Subordinate Grange to make ready some plans for forum discussion and bring out some of the important farm and country problems about which most of us are concerned. Get some talk started on price and marketing, distribution of farm goods, parities and supports. We have continually advocated self-help programs, let's be prepared with some constructive thoughts on these subjects.

Of Many Things

By Ambrose Hills

Five years ago, at a reunion party, I was stuck in a corner with an old classmate named Hank. I don't remember ever having been so bored. Hank had a notion the world was against him. He had several notions — all of them gloomy. I promised myself that next time I saw Hank coming my way, I'd escape if I had to dig a tunnel to hide in. Yesterday, in a crowded restaurant, I looked up from my plate and there, at the table for two, staring right at me, was Hank. I looked down quickly, and hoped against hope that he hadn't recognized me.

There was a silence that lasted only a few minutes. Then I heard Hank chuckle. That, in itself, was something new! Hank, as I remembered him, hadn't room in him for a smile, let alone a chuckle.

"Hey, freckles," he said, giving me my school-boy nickname, "don't pretend you've forgotten me!"

I looked up and I'm afraid I blushed. "Why, of all people," I said. "If it isn't old Hank!"

I'll let that go, you hypocrite," he grinned. "You knew me well enough — but I don't blame you. I think I recall giving you the gloom treatment a couple of years back at the class reunion."

"You weren't too cheerful," I admitted.

"That's changed," he said. "Maybe I'm still a bore, but I'm a cheerful bore."

I wondered if a rich uncle had died or something, but apparently it was nothing like that. It was a surprising story, but a true one.

Hank told me that about a year ago he'd finally spread so much gloom that he hadn't a friend left who'd supply a shoulder to cry on. And he'd gotten so badly behind in his sales quotas that he was about to be fired. Then he read two things that clicked in his mind. One was Abe Lincoln's old saw that the average man is about as happy as he sets out to be. The other was a bit of psychology by William James who said we don't run because we're afraid — we're afraid because we run.

"So I started to put on an act," Hank said. "I pretended I was happy. And dammit all, the first thing I knew I was."

"Look," I said, "how's about coming out to the house tonight to visit with me and the wife."

"Sorry," Hank said. "Jim Carter has asked me to his place tonight, and I'm invited to Blake's on Friday."

"How's about Saturday?"

"Swell," he said. "I'll be there."

We hope so. We're looking forward to Hank's visit. It seems hard to believe that he used to be a bore. We hope a lot of gloomy gusses who think the world is against them will follow in Hank's footsteps. Maybe theyre unhappy only because they act that way! If so, it's time for a new act!

Thirteen Ways to Wreck A Club

Marvin Rife, Assistant Professor of Education, University of Wisconsin, effectively points out some important "dont's" here.

1—Encourage the formation of cliques within the club. They are extremely effective in breaking down morale and a sense of belonging to a democratic group.
2—When you assume a responsibility in the club, put off carrying it out until the latest possible moment. This increases anxiety and frustration on the part of leaders in the club.
3—When you work on a committee don't bother to understand clearly the scope or functions of the work of the committee. This will help to insure that you and your fellow committee members will accomplish nothing.
4—Don't worry about getting or giving progress reports on the work of committees in the club. The longer their work slides along, the more miserable and confused everyone will be.
5—At club meetings, be sure you do a lion's share of the talking. You are perhaps the only one in the group whose has any worth while ideas.
6—If you are an officer in the club, never prepare in advance for the meeting. Just come in huffing and puffing, and make comments "off the cuff". This helps to keep the meeting spontaneous and superficial.
7—By all means, don't come to a meeting on time. No one else does, so why bother. Only the early and prompt birds have to sit around and wait.
8—See that the meeting drags out beyond a reasonable length of time. There's nothing like a stuffy business meeting where everyone is asleep or bored stiff.
9—Above all, hog the major credit for any of the club's achievements. The other club members just love to hear you brag.
10—Don't give recognition for work well done by others. Just assume that loyal club members operate entirely upon motives of pure altruism.
11—When you have the floor in a meeting, be sure to mumble your words. What difference does it make if only the guy next to you can hear what you say?
12—When you meet other club members inbetween meetings, be sure to talk shop and worry about how the club is going to pieces. Make certain that you stress all the negative aspects of the club, in spite of the progress it is making.
13—If none of the above succeeds in wrecking the club, be a sourpuss. You will then be an eloquent walking advertisement of all that the club stands for — and others will be eager to join and become more like you.

The Week At Ottawa

Uranium

A government official here took a calm look at spots in the Gatineau valley north of Ottawa where hundreds of prospectors swarmed over the bushland to stake out claims in the hope of uranium strikes.

Two strikes were reported, one running north of Wakefield, Que., 30 miles north of Ottawa, and the other in the Lake Baskatong area 120 miles north of Ottawa.

The official noted that "discovering uramium is no longer news. Uranium is being discovered all over the country. But it is only when the claim proves its commercial value and production begins that the discovery becomes worthwhile."

The commercial value of the new Quebec province strikes has not yet been determined.

Air Freight

Informed sources predicted that the government will reject for the time being an application by Canadian Pacific Airlines for an air freight franchise between Montreal and Vancouver.

Application for the franchise was argued a couple of months ago by Trans-Canada Air Lines in a hearing before the air transport board. CPA officials told the board that its planes could handle an existing volume of freight business which TCA planes didn't have the space to carry. TCA held it is capable of carrying all the air freight in sight over the projected CPA route.

Action on the application likely will not be made public until after the election, the informed sources predicted. And the application might be reviewed again in the event of a turndown.

Athelstan

ATHELSTAN — The Southern Division of the Woman's Missionary Society met the past week at the home of Mrs. T. J. Graham. The Worship Service theme was "The Holy Bible", basing the meditations on the words "Thy Word is a lamp to my feet". How wonderful it would be if the Word of God, were for us, not an out-of-date and little-used lamp but a much-used, perfectly functioning tri-lamp: (1) lighting up the dark places in our own inner lives, (2) lighting the path in the midst of life's daily contacts, problems and difficulties, (3) lighting the whole life with the radiance of Christ Himself, the true Light of the World.

The usual items on Christian Stewardship and Temperance were given by the respective secretaries. The study period was most interesting, being in the form of a skit, "The United Nations and Christian Missions", the theme being "A great door and effectual is opened".

"It was the missionaries who proclaimed the gospel of human rights, who had carried the torch of freedom and social justice into the dark places of the earth, who had hope and aspiration." A great door and effectual has been opened in this extension of our work. We must support United Nations by our understanding and our prayers and ever keep in sight the special contributions Christians must make to ensure that there shall be (also) world reconstruction on a spiritual level. Five of the members presented this informative programme. Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed when the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Miss Margaret DeBanks and Mr. Wallace Cote, of Montreal, were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Anders and family. Mr. Anders, of Montreal, is spending a week's holidays at his home.

Mrs. Donald Caldwell and baby son Billy, of Ottawa, spent the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hutchings.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Green were Mr. and Mrs. David Beck of Verdun. On Sunday: Miss Barbara Beck, Verdun; Mr.. William Bremner, Montreal, and Dorothy Robinson, Dundee.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Macfarlane of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. William McClatchie and family of Huntingdon, were Tuesday evening guests at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Geo. Elder.

Mr. Louis Duval, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Desrosiers, Mr. and Mrs. Alcide Duval and Mrs. Clarence Duheme of Burke, N.Y., attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. J. Rochon in Valleyfield, on Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Crooke, of Valleyfield, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Graham.

Sunday's Storm Did Damage at Powerscourt

POWERSCOURT — The early Sunday morning electric storm hit hard in this locality. The buildings on the farms of Mr. William McHardy, Albert Rosevear and Henry Wallace all felt the full brunt of it. Considerable damage was done at the Wallace farm and had the barn been full of hay the results could have been very serious.

Miss Margaret Ann Ness of Howick was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Wood on Saturday when covers were laid for tea. In the afternoon as the ladies enjoyed sitting out on the lawn Margaret was handed a net shopping bag. On opening it she found parcels, each one containing a useful kitchen gadget, even a hammer and mouse trap were not forgotten.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood were Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and family of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were Sunday guests at the same home.

Messrs Raymond, Joe and John Wodka all of Buffalo, N.Y., were week-end guests of their uncle, Mr. Bill Syktus.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Morris included Mr. Lou Whalen and daughter Brenda, Miss Ednid Maloney, Mr. Stanley Maloney all of Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maloney from Gaspe.

Miss Carol Ross is enjoying a few days holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallace were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wallace at Smiths Falls, Ont. Before returning home they visited Mr. and Mrs. Whalen at Fort Coulonge, Que., and Master Jamie Wallace returned home with them after spending a few days with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wood and baby were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson, Malone, N.Y.

Afternoon service was cancelled on Sunday. In the evening a hymn service was held and despite the intense heat around 40 folks gathered to join in the singing of a number of the familiar hymns and listen to a timely message of the duty of obeying God's commands, given by Mr. McLeod. More such services would be a profitable way for folks to spend a Sabbath evening.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Bill Sykles were Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of Montreal.

There was a good attendance of members and visitors. After the devotional period, under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Warner, the business of the evening was brought up and discussed. It was decided to hold a Strawberry Social in the Church Hall. Committees to act on this occasion were appointed. Other matters of interest included care and cleaning of the Church Hall, which has been under the supervision of the W.A. for some time. Reports were given on sick and shut-in friends and report of work committees. Due to a coinciding date with St. Luke's Street Fair, it was decided to hold the July meeting on Tuesday, July 7, instead of the regular second Wednesday of each month. After the meeting adjourned, guests and members partook of delicious refreshments and enjoyed a special hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Brownlee of Fort Erie, Ont., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cookman.

Huntingdon vs St. REGIS FALLS

On Sunday afternoon at Cluff's field the Huntingdon Canadians defeated St. Regis Falls by the score of 12 to 3. The win gives Huntingdon first place in the St. Lawrence Valley Baseball League. Huntingdon has now won five and lost one to lead Chateauguay Ponies by half a game. In Sunday's game Rosie Lacompte pitched good ball allowing only 5 hits and striking out seven. This is Lacompte's second win against no losses. After giving up a double and triple in the first inning, Lacompte settled down and pitched brilliant ball for the next six innings. Big Bill Bernhardt came up with a home run in the third inning with two men on, to sew up the ball game for Huntingdon. Bernhardt now leads the team on home runs with three. Whitey Robert also hit a home run for Huntingdon in the fifth, with one on.

John McCallum making his first appearance in the local line up this year, collected two hits in three times at bat. Ozzie Watson the old Pro. came up with two hits in two runs. The Golddust twins Rene Senecal and Jon Proud foot each had three hits in four trips to the plate. Senecal also scored three runs. Senecal now leads the team in batting with thirteen hits in twenty times at bat for an average of .650. Walter McCallum and Jon Proudfoot have each had ten hits to follow Senecal in the hitting department.

The heat on Sunday caused the game to be shortened to seven innings by mutual agreement of both teams and the umpires.

To-night, Wednesday, June 24th, at 6 p.m., the second place Chateauguay Ponies will play Huntingdon at Cluff's field. The Ponies have only lost one game this year and the team that was picked before the season started to win the League this season. Huntingdon also has only lost one game so it is the game the fans throughout the St. Lawrence Valley League have been waiting for all season. The team that wins this one will take over first place in the League so plan to be there and see the game of the year.
