For some time past Vanity Fair, edited by the Earl of Desart, has been attacking Richard Belt, the sculptor, as an impostor, declaring that none of the statues or busts bearing his name are really his work, but that they were done by obscure and poorly paid artists. Mr. Belt has taken out an action against the paper.

THE GUITEAU CASE.

Eleven Counts in the Indictment.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—The Guiteau indictment embraces eleven counts, and is drawn with great minuteness. The fifth and sixth counts are the ones upon which it is said the prosecution will mainly rely. They describe the shooting as having been done at the Baltimore and Potomac Depot, Washington, of malice aforethought, with a pistol of the value of five dollars, "inflicting one mortal wound of the depth of six inches and breadth of one inch, of which said mortal wound the said James A. Garfield, until the nineteenth day of September, as well at and in the County of Washington, and District of Columbia, as at and in the County of Monmouth, State of New Jersey, did languish, and languishing did live, and ultimately die." Each count formally repeats the charge that Guiteau in the manner and by the means described "feloniously, wilfully and of his malice aforethought did kill and murder, against the form of the Statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace and Government of the United States."

THE VICE-REGAL TOUR.

In Uncle Sam's Dominions—Arrival at Winnipeg.

OMAHA, Neb., October 7.—The Marquis of Lorne reached Omaha from the West in a special car last evening with his party of sixteen. The Marquis was attired in a buckskin hunting shirt and trowsers and was heavily bronzed by his long and remarkable trip. He has been making a thorough examination of the Queen's north-western dominions. Proceeding to Winnipeg in August, the party left on the 13th of that month, in wagons, accompanied by an escort of the Canadian Mounted Police. They made a circuitous trip, visiting Fort Ellis, Qu'Appelle, Carlton, Prince Albert's Settlement, Battleford and Colgarry, and finally crossing over into the United States, being cordially received and entertained by United States officials at Fort Shaw and other military posts on their way to Helena, Montana, which place they reached one day last week. The Governor-General who had heard at Fort Badger of the death of President Garfield, declined the public reception tendered him by citizens of St. Helena. The party in making the trip from Winnipeg to St. Helena, travelled 1,350 miles in light wagons with four horse teams. Little hunting was done on the journey, as game was scarce. They travelled over three hundred and fifty miles with no trail whatever, but were taken across the trackless wilderness by experienced guides. When leaving Helena the party proceeded to Dillon on the Utah and Northern Railway, and there found the hotel car, St. Nicholas, in waiting to convey them to Winnipeg via Omaha and St. Paul. They left for St. Paul last night, and after completing this circuit, by returning to Winnipeg, will proceed to Chicago, thence back to Ottawa, their original starting point, when they will have travelled over seven thousand miles by rail and wagons. The object of the Governor-General in making this long trip was, as stated by himself, to gain a personal knowledge of the extent, character, resources and prospects of the vast country under his eyes in the new North-West, and which he believed is destined to be rapidly developed by the railroads.

WINNIPEG, Man., October 8.—The Governor-General and party arrived shortly after midnight, coming through from St. Paul in 18 hours. The delay in arriving was caused by an accident to the train near Sioux city. His Excellency leaves via St. Paul and Chicago for Ottawa at ten o'clock to-morrow evening.

THE IRISH TROUBLES.

Tenants in Revolt—Archbishop Croke's Advice—League Manifesto—Parnell's Reply to Gladstone.

LONDON, October 9.—Tenants on Lord Ross' property in Ireland seem to be in revolt. Not one of five hundred appeared yesterday to pay rent. A number of farm houses owned by Lord Ross were burned yesterday.

Archbishop Croke, replying to an address from the Branch Land League, said the Land Act far surpassed, in breadth, variety and value of its provisions, any land act ever passed by Parliament. He advised the enormous assembly present to give the Act a fair trial.

In consequence of the action of the local Land League, Captain Hartoph, master of the Kilkenny hounds, has discharged his servants and come to England. This prohibition entails a loss to the town of $500,000.

The manifesto of the Irish labor delegates to the recent League Convention has been issued. It praises the labors of Parnell for the success of the Land League, refers gratefully to the treatment of laborers at the convention, urges representatives of farmers and landholders to fulfil the pledge then given to secure better dwellings for laborers.

The Dublin correspondent of the Daily News, after interviewing several influential men who have intimate knowledge of the wants and wishes of the farmers of a large portion of the Province of Connaught, says he has arrived at the general conclusion that on the western side of the Shannon the farmers are disposed to take advantage of the Land Act to the utmost possible extent and that no red herring trailed across their path by the Land League will divert them from their purpose.

At the weekly meeting of the Land League Mr. Parnell presided. The Secretary reported that £2,160 had been received since the last meeting, including £1,633 from America. Mr. Parnell said that in a few days the League would be ready to fill the applications for reference to the Land Court of a hundred test cases.

WEXFORD, October 8.—Ten thousand people gave Parnell an enthusiastic reception at Wexford. There was a great display of floral offerings. Parnell, in an address, referring to Mr. Gladstone, said many of them studied the words of the great man and great orator, who, until recently, had desired to impress the world with the good opinion of his philanthropy and hatred of oppression, but who stood to-day the greatest coercionist and most unrivalled slanderer of the Irish nation. Parnell characterizes Mr. Gladstone's speeches as unscrupulous and dishonest. He had maligned the Irish people, bishops and Dillon. No misrepresentation was too low or mean to stoop to. It was a good sign that this masquerading knight errant, this pretended champion of liberties of all nations except the Irish, was obliged to throw off the mask, and to-day stand revealed as prepared to carry fire and sword into Irish homesteads unless the people humbled and abased themselves before him and the landlords. Mr. Gladstone had accused him of preaching the gospel of plunder, but the land had been confiscated three times over by the men whose descendants Gladstone is now supporting in their plunder by bayonets and buckshot.

LAND REFORM.

Grievances of English and Scotch Farmers—The Remedy Demanded.

NEW YORK, October 8.—The World's London special says:—"While the Fair Trade movement has not in any way lost its hold upon the masses, the land reform question is rapidly coming to the front. Both in England and Scotland, farmers who have thrashed their wheat find the yield is even smaller than they anticipated, and the gloom in the agricultural districts is almost unparalleled. To make matters worse, an Australian steamship company has just shown that it is possible to ship beef and mutton from the Antipodes and land them in good condition in our markets, and a number of large vessels are now being fitted up on the refrigerator plan specially for this trade. The farmer thought things had surely reached their worst when the United States and Canada began to pour their surplus wheat and cattle into Liverpool and London, but now that the Australian continent, the par excellence of bullock pastures and sheep-walks, has taken up the business, he can see nothing between him and ruin except a radical measure of land reform. Aberdeenshire farmers estimate that the fall in the price of beef represents a loss to them of £180,000 a year. Hundreds of farmers have already pulled up stakes and flocked into the manufacturing centres, only to increase the depression there. Those who are still struggling on their farms agree that the Government must step in at once and deal with the question once for all, and it is well known that Mr. Gladstone is ambitious to crown his life's work with a land reform bill of stupendous proportions. The Radicals have done their best to encourage the demand for a Land Bill, and of late, ministerial organs like the London Daily News have been printing letters from special correspondents sent into the Provinces to make the most of the farmers' side of the case. Everything betokens a tardy attempt on the part of the Ministry to grapple with the question, and unless a great leader springs up in the fair trade ranks, land reform will probably overshadow that Tory movement. Various organizations, representing English and Scotch farmers, have prepared drafts of land bills, which agree upon the following planks:—Abolition of entail and primogeniture, cheap transfer and registration, freedom of sale of tenant right and good will of holding, abolition of restrictions in leases, by which the owner of soil regulates cropping, compensation for unexhausted improvements and reclamation of wastes, total abolition of game laws and of hypothec and distraint, fair rents, to be fixed by County Courts. The political headquarters of the fair trade movement are at the Beaconsfield Club, Pall Mall. Its chief missionary among the workmen is Captain Bedford Pim, a retired naval officer, and minor prophets of the same stamp are employed, while of parliamentary leaders the most prominent spokesmen are Lord Randolph Churchill and Mr. Ashmead Bartlett.

THE AIRLIE DEATH-WARNING.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Some curious statements are appearing in reference to the "warning" alleged to have preceded the death of Lord Airlie out west. In Airlie, the family death token is the beating of a drum, and this signal has frequently been heard by reputable witnesses. The late Dr. Norman MacLeod, the famous editor of Good Words, lent the weight of his testimony to some extent to it; others declare that just before the death of Lord Airlie's father in 1849, they were staying at Airlie Castle, in Forfarshire, and heard mysterious music long before they were aware that he was dying in London. It is also reported that a ghostly drummer boy was again heard just before the death of the late peer in Colorado. One of the servants heard it first in a corridor, and it is said that sounds also reached the room of Lady Airlie, whose great prostration was partly caused by this dreaded visitor.

A GHOST STORY.

LONDON, October 8.—The sensation of the week has been a ghost story. Some time ago a woman of Church Stretton, Shropshire, arrived at a station one evening about dusk, went toward the village, and was never heard of afterward. A week or two ago a farmer asserts that he saw the woman's ghost standing near the mouth of a disused copper mine which was filled up. About the time of the woman's disappearance the inhabitants of the district became excited and other persons saw the ghost. Villagers and others subscribed money to dig out the copper hole. At last reports they were 15 feet from the bottom, but as nothing has since appeared it is probable that the expected skeleton has not been found. Nevertheless the reports have created great discussion about ghosts in the newspapers.

MR. GLADSTONE AT LEEDS.

Free Trade vs. Protection—The Foreign Policy of the Government—Strong Language Against Parnell—Press Opinions.

LEEDS, October 8.—Replying to an address from the Chamber of Commerce to-day, Mr. Gladstone said, regarding free trade, that there had been lately a reaction to a certain extent, but he was firmly convinced they might as well attempt to overthrow trial by jury as restore protection duties. No Government that was or is possible in England would pledge itself to such a course. As an illustration of the benefits of free trade, Mr. Gladstone said the whole American export of manufactured goods to Asia, Africa and Australia amounted to £4,750,000, whereas English exports to those countries amounted to £77,000,000. (Cheers.) "The trade of France and America together did not equal the English trade; although both enjoyed protection, England beat them in all neutral markets. As long as America adheres to protection our commercial supremacy will be secure. We need not disturb ourselves in the slightest on that score. Compared with America and Germany we have now, man for man, thrice the amount of trade they have." Describing the injurious effects of protection, Mr. Gladstone instanced the decline in American shipping as a signal example thereof, and said:—"It is not because Americans have less ingenuity and perseverance than yourselves; they are descendants and kinsmen, and fully equal to you in all that human energy can supply, and the genuine effects of protection have been mitigated in the case of the Americans by their own energies and the enormous field open to them, a field which you would not find were you unhappily disposed to follow their example."

A monster meeting was held this afternoon, at which Mr. Gladstone again spoke, reviewing the foreign policy of the Government. He congratulated the Liberal party on the results regarding Montenegro and Greece, severely condemned the invasion of Afghanistan, the only result of which was to convert Afghans from friends to enemies, and thus break down the moral barrier between India and Russia. He rejoiced that the troops had been almost completely withdrawn, thereby effacing some of the most unfortunate and scandalous recollections written in our history. The joint action of France and England in Egypt is a course which opens a way out of many difficulties and objections which we now begin to experience, but I am happy to say that Anglo-French intervention has been beneficial to Egyptian finances and the condition of the peasants. Our policy towards Egypt is to be guided by this consideration, namely, to act in strict confidence with the allied and friendly Government of France. I have no doubt we shall be able to maintain perfectly united action. I shall endeavor to prevent the growth of difficulties between Egypt and the Sultan. Except in case of unforeseen necessity, we shall not seek to extend the limits of our interference. Mr Gladstone defended the conduct of the Government regarding the Transvaal, and said, in spite of expectations, the Volksraad has not yet ratified the general conditions of the convention. We have been invited to open negotiations. It is possible in some minor points the conditions might be modified. The concessions we made were not due to weakness or timidity. I do not know what is going to happen. I hope the convention will shortly be ratified. We shall remember and faithfully maintain the interests of the native populations of the Transvaal, and no less faithfully maintain the glory of our great country. Mr. Gladstone warmly repelled the charge that the Liberal party were indifferent to the interests of the Empire, and concluded with a description of the Liberal policy, which he characterized as a policy of peace and justice.

NEW YORK, October 8.—The Tribune's London special says:—"Since his celebrated Midlothian campaign, no speeches of Mr. Gladstone's have created so much interest as those at Leeds. His remarks on Ireland are bombshells in the camp of the League. Mr. Gladstone fully admitted that the passing of the Land Act imposes on the Government new special obligations in reference to the enforcement of the law and public peace. His chief point was the declaration that if the law, 'purged from defect and stain of injustice, is still refused, and the first condition of political society is unfulfilled, then, I say, gentlemen, the resources of civilization are not exhausted.' This threat has driven the Irish papers into a fury. The Dublin Freeman denounces Gladstone's recklessness and his desperate attempt to wake up the National party. The English Tory press blames Gladstone for his impassioned language, while the very men he so eloquently condemns remain at large. The true moral of the speech is, they claim, "Arrest Parnell, shut up the League."

The Herald's London special says:—The point of Friday's oration lies in this significant threat aimed at Parnell and League. "The resources of civilization are not yet exhausted," which being translated means that if they, Parnell and the League, persist longer in creating a reign of terror in Ireland, the coercive policy of the Government will be intensified, and the League will be put down by force. The Premier used unusually strong language against Parnell. After praising the method of agitation used by O'Connell, and comparing it with the present system of Parnell, he expressed his appreciation of the conduct of Dillon, who, although condemning the Land Bill, refused the responsibility of leading Ireland towards chaos. He characterized Parnell's preaching in Ireland as an enlarged gospel of public plunder, as advocating lawlessness and crime, as condoning Irish American assassination literature, and as an effort "to stand as Moses stood between the living and the dead," not as Moses stood to arrest, but to spread the plague. "Parnell has long been tacitly recognized as the Irish leader," says the St. James's Gazette, "but Gladstone first gave public and official acknowledgment of the fact. He has, in fact, formally elevated him to the position of a rival potentate, challenging the attention of the world to the fact that the struggle between law and anarchy in Ireland has become a duel between himself and Parnell." Irish papers criticize the speech sharply. The Freeman's Journal says:—"English statesmen await the death of patriots before seeing any virtue in them," and asks pertinently why the Premier keeps the very men imprisoned who compelled him to give Ireland the Land Act. Parnell will answer the Premier's charges at Wexford on Sunday.

THE TRANSVAAL.

Renewed Hostilities Probable — The London Press on the Situation.

LONDON, October 9.—Judging from the tone of the Times and Standard on Thursday morning, renewed hostilities with the Boers seems probable. The Times had a very blustering editorial, saying that if the convention was not ratified by November 9th, the Queen's sovereignty would revive and that Sir Evelyn Wood had 11,000 men in readiness to assert England's authority again. The Boers telegraphed directly to Mr. Gladstone. They complain that they have been treated by England as an uncivilized nation, and object to the debt created by England since the annexation by Sir Theophilus Shepstone being imposed upon them. The Pietermaritzburg correspondent of the Daily News believes that if concessions are made in the direction of trusting the Boers with respect to their treatment of natives, this would have a better effect than many victories and would remove long misunderstandings. The Pall Mall Gazette, alone of the influential London papers, pleads for generous treatment of the Boers, who won their liberties fairly and squarely at Majuba Hill. Miss Colenso also thinks that the English debt should not be imposed upon the Boers.

Silver Wedding.

On Friday evening last, at the Manor House, Vaudreuil, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harwood celebrated their silver wedding. Quite a large gathering of the family relatives and friends were present, numbering nearly fifty couples. Amongst those present were Chief Justice, Madame and Miss Taschereau, of Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. and Madame De Bellefeuille, Lieut.-Col. Harwood, D.A.G., and many others from the city.

Special Notice.

Gilbert Laird, St. Margaret's Hope, Orkney, Scotland, writes:—"I am requested by several friends to order another parcel of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The last lot I got from you having been tested in several cases of Rheumatism, has given relief when doctors' medicines have failed to have any effect. The excellent qualities of this medicine should be made known, that the millions of sufferers throughout the world may benefit by its providential discovery." 16

The new "Science of Life" far surpasses all previous editions of this great work. Embossed cloth covers, full gilt, contains a fine medallion engraving of the author, with commendatory resolutions of the National Medical Association engraved on steel. Read the advertisement in another column.

(LIQUID.)

For Dyspepsia, Mental and Physical Exhaustion, Nervousness, Diminished Vitality, Urinary Difficulties, &c.

Prepared according to the directions of Prof. E. N. HORSFORD, of Cambridge, Mass.

Formula furnished to physicians on application. There seems to be no difference of opinion in high medical authority, of the value of phosphoric acid, and no preparation has ever been offered to the public which seems to so happily meet the general want as this.

It is not nauseous, but agreeable to the taste.

It makes a delicious drink with water and sugar only.

Prices reasonable. Pamphlet giving further particulars mailed free on application to William Neill, 1369 St. Catherine street, Montreal, Wholesale Agent for Dominion of Canada.

Please Read the Following Testimonials.

Indianapolis, Jan. 1, 1880.

I have had a good chance to test Hosford's Acid Phosphate, and can safely say that it is a remedy of great value. From my experience I would say that as a nerve restorer in cases of exhaustion from any cause, and as a hypnotic or inducer of sleep it is of the greatest value. It is also a valuable vehicle for the administration of quinine. I can cordially recommend it.

N.B.—Wanted, two first-class Salesmen, and two Message Boys. 231z

AT THE

PUBLIC STOCK & PRODUCE EXCHANGE

56 ST. FRANCOIS XAVIER STREET, MONTREAL,

Will be found every facility for Buying and Selling any Stock Listed on the New York Stock Exchange,

ALSO,

In Grain and Provisions Dealt in at the Chicago Board of Trade.

Stocks in fractional lots of ten shares and upwards on a margin of ONE DOLLAR PER SHARE. WHEAT, CORN AND OATS, in lots of 500 to 50,000 bushels on a margin of ONE PER CENT., with no liability to dealer beyond the amount of his deposit. No interest charged for carrying accounts. Contracts may be made and closed at prices quoted by the MONTREAL TELEGRAPH COMPANY, and all profits, together with the margin deposited, will be paid at once in cash.

No previous experience necessary to enable any one to operate intelligently and promptly.

Quotations are received continually from 10 to 3 daily.

All persons interested, and the public generally, are cordially invited to avail themselves of the facilities of this office. The special features and advantages are that every sale of Stocks made at the New York Stock Exchange is immediately telegraphed here, and the prices publicly posted on our Bulletins. These figures fix the price at which we will either buy or sell for our customers without regard to what may be the price by the time the order could reach New York and be executed. No loss can accrue to our customers by any difference in price between the figures at which we agree to buy or sell the Stock and the prices at which we actually make the transaction.

The loss, if any, by transmission of the order is sustained solely by us.

If the last price at which a certain Stock has sold comes 51⅞ we will agree to buy for the dealer any number o shares at that price, with ⅛ added for commission, making it to him 52 nett. If the next price comes 53 we guarantee to sell it for him at this price. As already stated, no interest is charged for carrying Stocks any length of time desired, provided, in the meantime, it does not sell low enough to exhaust the margin already deposited. Any amount of margin will be accepted from one dollar per share upwards.

The putting up of additional margin or of more than the one per cent originally is entirely optional with the dealer, there being no liability assumed by him, beyond what he has already deposited.

The advantages of this method must be clearly obvious to professional speculators, as every dealer becomes his own broker, making and settling his contracts at the quotation prices. 237 2

Answers to Correspondents.

SUBSCRIBER, MAR.—Will you please inform me through THE STAR when a young lady is of age for marrying in Canada? ANS. A woman can contract marriage as soon as she is twelve years old, but she must obtain the consent of her parents until she is twenty-one. This is the law of the province of Quebec.

THERE was the blare of the trumpet in Mr. Gladstone's speech at Leeds. He gave the Leaguers notice that the Land Act would be carried out, and the wording of the warning is such that Mr. Parnell and the National press are loud in denunciation.

THE heaviest, because the least reparable loss at St. Therese College was that of the library, containing 10,000 volumes, many of them rare. Books are very scarce in the Province, and every large collection should be kept in a fire-proof building.

THE American papers are instituting a crusade against the unsightly telegraphic poles that disfigure and obstruct our thoroughfares. Let one city give the example of a change to the European plan, and the reformation will soon become general.

WE wonder if the country is paying the travelling expenses of the Graphic artist who is accompanying Lord Lorne. If so, we are not getting value for our money, as his sketches are not only few in number, but miserably done. As caricatures they are excellent.

THE New York Herald, in devoting seven columns to the miserable wretch who assassinated Garfield, is placing a premium upon regicide. We venture to say that a morbid desire for notoriety had a good deal to do with Guiteau's determination, and the Herald is gratifying him to his heart's content.

THE Mayor of Hochelaga made an important remark in the Conference on annexation last Saturday. He said that Montreal was bound to spread over the whole Island, and that the absorption of outlying municipalities would be more difficult and expensive later on than now. This question of annexation deserves to be approached in a broad spirit with an eye to the future.

"ONE of the most successful political demonstrations ever held in the Province of Quebec came off to-day in the lovely and picturesque village of Jeune Lorette." Toronto Mail on the Caron banquet.

"So few of those advertised to speak put in an appearance that many who went from the city from mere curiosity to hear what they had to say have returned greatly disappointed. They pronounce the meeting a political fizzle." Toronto Globe on ditto.

Who would suppose that the same affair was referred to in both the above notices? Those who pin their faith to the party organs are to be congratulated upon the singular advantages they enjoy for getting at the actual facts. It must be interesting to hear a man who reads nothing but the Mail and another who reads only the Globe comparing notes on public events.

ONCE more there would appear to be peace in the Republican party in New York. The half-breeds had a large majority in the Convention, ran things pretty much as they pleased, elected Senator Miller, Conkling's successor, temporary Chairman, and Chauncey M. Depew, Conkling's arch enemy, permanent Chairman. The Stalwarts feeling their weakness did not protest, and after being well beaten cried out for harmony. With General Arthur in power, however, and a divided democracy in the city of New York, the Stalwarts will have the bulk of the patronage. The Convention did nothing remarkable. The platform is composed of the usual platitudes, and the paragraph relating to Civil Service Reform very vague. Still the party on the surface is united, and in view of the storm clouds which will gather around the Democratic Convention, there is every prospect of a Republican success at the polls.

Personal.

The Hon. Dr. Ross is stopping at the Windsor.

Edward A. Freeman, the historian, of England, has arrived in New York.

Mr. Charles Dudley Warner will, with his wife, spend the Winter in the south of Spain.

Mr. Joseph Hickson and wife, who came by the "Circassian" to Quebec, reached town last evening.

The Rev. A. J. Bray came back from England by the "Circassian," which arrived at Quebec yesterday.

Buffalo Bill was shot at three times by a demented saloon-keeper at Council Bluffs, Iowa, on Monday evening last.

Rev. Dr. McGregor of the Parish of St. Cuthberts, Edinburgh, who has been the guest of the Governor-General for several months, and one of the Vice-Regal party in the tour through Manitoba, preached in St. Andrew's Church yesterday. Many would have liked to have heard the reverend gentleman who is one of the most popular of the clergy of the Church of Scotland, but he arrived in the city too late for any notice of his services to be given through the press. He is the guest of Dr. G. W. Campbell.

Hon. Mr. Mercier's Retirement.

At a meeting of the Club National resolutions were passed, expressing regret at the retirement of the Hon. Mr. Mercier from public life. It was also moved that in the sentiments of the Club "the Hon. M. Mercier is one of the most distinguished Frenchmen in Canada, as much by the eminence of his talents and the integrity of his character, as by the unimpeachable sincerity of his intentions, and the increasing zeal which he brought to bear for the triumph of the Liberal cause—the success of which meant in his mind the safety of the country—and it is much to be regretted that unfavorable circumstances have rendered futile his efforts for the triumph of this cause."

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

Queen vs. Dufresne.

PRESENT: HON. JUSTICES MONK AND CROSS.

This case was resumed at 2.15 p.m. on Saturday, the examination of Baptiste Laviolette being continued. This evidence, like that of the other witnesses, was mostly unfit to be published.

The most telling evidence given during the case in favor of the prisoner was that of Dr. A. T. Brosseau, of Laval.

His Honor Judge Cross, having charged the jury, a verdict of not guilty was returned at 4.25 p.m., after which the Court adjourned.

MONTREAL PRESBYTERY.

Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Montreal Presbytery was held in St. Paul's Church, Montreal, on the 4th inst. The attendance was large, there being about forty ministers and ten elders present. The Revs. Dr. Bain, of Perth, K. McLennan, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., and Dewey, of Richmond, were invited to sit as corresponding members, and the name of Rev. F. Homer was added to the Presbytery Roll as a minister without charge, residing within the bounds. A suitable minute was adopted in regard to the late Rev. R. Wilson, city missionary, recently removed by death.

The Home Mission report was submitted by Rev. R. H. Warden, Convener of the Committee. It showed encouraging progress generally in the various mission fields of the Presbytery and commended highly several of the Theological students for their efficient missionary labors. The grants desired from the Assembly's Home Mission Committee for the several weak congregations and stations for the ensuing year were considered and adopted.

There was laid on the table a call from Chalmers' Church, Montreal, addressed to Rev. G. Colborne Haney, signed by 86 members and 64 adherents of the congregation.

Messrs. M. Thomson, J. M. Hall and J. Scott, were heard in support of the call which was sustained by the Presbytery and ordered to be forwarded to Mr. Haney.

The congregation of St. Matthew's church, Point St. Charles, submitted a new constitution for the approval of the Presbytery. It was referred to a committee, consisting of Rev. Messrs. Warden and J. Patterson, to report at an early date.

The Rev. L. Dionne, of Joliette, tendered the resignation of his charge, having received an appointment from the French Board to Grand Falls, N. B. It was agreed to hold a special meeting of Presbytery in connection with the matter, at Joliette on 18th inst., the Rev. J. McCaul to preside, and Rev. A. B. Cruchet to preach.

The following were appointed the Presbytery's Home Mission Committee for the ensuing year:—Rev. R. H. Warden, chairman; Rev. Messrs. Fleck, Scrimger, R. Campbell, Black, Mackie, and Morrison ministers, and Messrs. Jas. Court, J. Brodie and C. Proctor, elders.

The amount required for the Presbytery fund for the current year was fixed and allocated among the various congregations.

Rev. Messrs. McCaul (Convener), Bennett, Fleck and Livingston, ministers, and Messrs. Brodie, D. Morrice and J. Ross, elders, were appointed a committee on Sabbath-Schools, with instructions to arrange for a Sabbath-School Conference on the evening of next regular meeting of Presbytery.

Rev. Jas. Reid, graduate of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, was, after examination, licensed to preach the Gospel, and the following gentlemen, after examination, were certified to the Senate of the Montreal College as students: Messrs. J. P. Bruneau, D. G. Cameron, W. K. Shearer, W. Fraser, W. D. Roberts, Rt. Greenshields, Donald McLean, J. A. McFarlane, S. Rondeau, W. Grant, Donald Cameron, J. L. Hargrave, M. L. Leitch, A. Scrimger, A. B. Clement, P. Briol, H. O. Loiselle, R. Vilatte, J. B. Gauthier, S. A. Thomas, J. L. Morin, and Jos. Martel.

It was intimated that 26 new students—freshmen—had entered the Montreal Presbyterian College this session, a number double that of any former year.

An ex-priest from the United States applied to be received into connection with the church. It was agreed to consider the application at a meeting to be held on the 25th October, to which date the Presbytery adjourned.

SPORTING NEWS.

Football.

The third game for the Football Challenge cup, despite the unpropitious weather, on Saturday afternoon, attracted quite a number of spectators. Some excellent play was exhibited both by the Montrealers and by the Britannias. The match was well and bravely fought by each side throughout and ended in a draw, each side obtaining a try. The challenge cup, therefore, remains in the possession of the Montreal club. Next Saturday the Montreal club play the Gentlemen Cadets of the Royal Military Academy, Kingston, and on the twentieth they play Harvard University.

Lacrosse.

Much comment is naturally made, and by no means complimentary to the Montreal men for not putting in an appearance on Saturday last. Various excuses are made, the most likely one being that several members of the M. L. C. objected to play on account of the bad state of the ground.

On Saturday next the Shamrocks play the Toronto Club.

The Hunt.

The M. F. H. met on Saturday last at Cote des Neiges. The Meet, after enjoying the hospitality of Mr. Baumgarten and Mr. Patton, was found to be graced by the presence of no less than four ladies:—Mrs. Blackwood, Mrs. B. Davis, Mrs. Brice and Miss Ogilvie. The difficulty on Saturday was that the Reynard family were too well represented, but on the whole a good day's sport was enjoyed.

McTavish School Sports.

The annual sports of the above school took place on Saturday morning on the grounds of the M.L.C.

Cricket.

The English professionals played a team of eighteen picked Americans, on Friday, at Philadelphia. The professionals went to the bat first and ran up 144. On Friday evening when the stumps were drawn the Americans had lost four wickets for a score of two.

Aquatic.

The Vienna Regatta Club are much incensed against Cornell. They declare their intention of writing to all the German Clubs, asking them not to allow the American crews to enter their regattas in future.

The Hillsdale crew will be sent to compete at the Henley Regatta, this year, by the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

FRENCH POLITICS.—LONDON, October 10.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says he is assured that President Grevy states that he would not incur the responsibility of delaying M. Gambetta's accession to office. The Government is inquiring as to M. Gambetta's present whereabouts, as he is still absent from Paris. It is uncertain where he is. A friend who is acquainted with his intentions says he will rely for support upon the moderate majority of the Left and the section of the Union Republicaine allied thereto. He will thus have a party with a minimum strength of 300, whereas the extreme Left and the section of the Union Republicaine allied thereto and the Right will only muster together a maximum of 240. This arrangement will make M. Ferry's presence in the Cabinet possible.

MR. GLADSTONE'S SPEECH.—LONDON, October 10.—The Times, in a leading article, says:—"The speeches of Mr. Gladstone, in the present condition of affairs, can hardly fail to be taken as an important political manifesto. The country will listen with anxious interest to Mr. Gladstone's judgments on questions now demanding the attention of the Government, and will feel that the occasion is less one for party controversy than for a frank exposition of Mr. Gladstone's views on urgent matters of home and foreign affairs."

CHOLERA IN ARABIA.—LONDON, Oct. 10.—Lord Dufferin, British Ambassador to Turkey, having asked the Porte to send competent doctors to Mecca, the Vice President of the Sanitary Commission, with a staff, has proceeded thither to take measures to prevent the spread of cholera. There have been no fresh cases of cholera at Aden since the 27th of September.

THE TRANSVAAL.—LONDON, October 10.—A Cabinet Council has been telegraphically summoned for Wednesday next. The situation of affairs in the Transvaal will be discussed. The Pall Mall Gazette understands that under no circumstances are the objections of the Boers to the convention likely to be carried to the length of an armed protest. It also urges conciliation.

ANOTHER LAND SLIP FEARED.—LONDON, Oct. 10.—A despatch to the News from Geneva, says:—"Another land slip threatens Elm. The inhabitants, who had returned to their houses after the recent catastrophe, have been warned to quit them."

AMERICAN.

THE GARFIELD FAMILY.—WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Mr. W. S. Roose, a warm personal friend of the Garfield family, has returned from Cleveland, where he went with the remains. He reports Mrs. Garfield as having recovered much from the shock of her husband's death. Mr. Roose collected on his route about a dozen of Garfield's portraits and sent them to her, one of which pleased her very much—the linking of her face with his. She was much opposed to the autopsy business, the second—which necessitated the removal of a large portion of her late husband to the Medical Museum—especially. They carried the first point by insisting that there would otherwise be a long and vexatious delay over an inquest in New Jersey. That they took about all of the vitals to Washington she learned through the newspapers, and was very indignant. It is said here that the intestines and other perishable parts have been thrown away and the balance preserved at the Museum.

SCALDED TO DEATH.—BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 10.—William Turk, aged 15, and James Leonhardt, aged 10, were scalded to death at Petrolia by hot water and steam escaping from a decayed boiler in use at drilling a well. The children were playing near the boiler and were fairly boiled alive. The boiler, strange to say, did not explode.

GUITEAU'S STATEMENT.—WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Guiteau gave Mr. Scoville a statement declaring that under divine inspiration he removed President Garfield to avert a heartrending, desolating war and the people will recognize this fact as soon as they recover their heads.

Special Notices.

The different articles at the Jesuits' Bazaar will be raffled for to-morrow night.

Those intolerably painful and constantly harassing things called piles, which trouble so many people are soon healed by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the great external remedy for physical suffering and means of relieving pains. A very small quantity achieves results of the most gratifying kind. 17

If people continue to suffer "without knowing what ails them," it is their own fault. All the obscure maladies are clearly set forth in the invaluable new medical work, published this year, entitled "The Science of Life," fully described in the advertisement in another column.

UNFERMENTED WINE!
A FEW OF THE MANY TESTIMONIALS
in favor of the use of
WRIGHT'S UNFERMENTED WINE

From the Rev. G. H. Penny, M.A.,
Vicar of Abbotsbury, Dorchester.

"For some years past we have used your Unfermented Wine at the Communion. Not a single difficulty has occurred in consequence that I am aware of, and I am thankful, for several reasons, that we have adopted the practice. Habit soon brings people to familiarity with the change."

From the Rev. Geo. H. Shanks,
Of the United Presbyterian Church, Boardmills, Lisburn.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to certify that my congregation has for five or six years used Mr. Frank Wright's Unfermented Wine at the Lord's Table; that all are highly satisfied, even delighted with it. With perfect unanimity did the congregation adopt it, and with perfect unanimity do they continue to use it."

From the Rev. Thomas Slevan.
Congregational Minister, Normanton.

"I am the pastor of a new church, and our first Communion Service was celebrated with your wine by unanimous consent. I have never heard any complaints. All are satisfied. Many young men trained in my Bible class, life teetotallers, come to the Lord's Table, and still maintain, without difficulty their vows of abstinence."

From the Rev. Thos. D. Wingate,
Of the Scottish Established Church.

"We have used White's Unfermented Wine at the Communion in the parish church of Stromness for about five years. It has given entire satisfaction. There have seemed to be no drawbacks. There have been no complaints. There is no public-house smell, and no ignoble dependence on the public-house, or drink traffic for supplies.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT SALE.
FORT STREET,
Near Dorchester street.
Four First-Class Stone-Front Houses by Auction.

The Subscriber is instructed to sell at his room, on Wednesday, 12th October,
the house, in two tenements, 8 and 10 Fort street, built last year, and the neat modern Cottages, Nos. 12, 14 and 16 Fort street.

These houses are all stone front, well built, beautifully arranged and designed in modern style. They are exceedingly comfortable and very attractive in appearance.

The situation is unsurpassed. The adjacent properties, such as Hon. D. A. Smith's Villa and Grounds opposite, the Edgehill avenue properties (a cluster of handsome modern houses), the other splendid new residences on Dorchester st., with their Grounds, Flower Gardens and Conservatories, &c., give this locality a fixed character as a most desirable place for private dwellings. It has long been noted for its healthfulness as well as convenience. The houses are just the class that always rent well to reliable tenants. Being near Dorchester street, they are quiet and retired, free from noise and dust, and at the same time are only a short distance from street cars; good shops, stores, &c. The sale offers a fine opportunity for large or small capitalists to invest, and to those who desire to buy a house for their own occupation before prices get high.

Land in the West End is increasing in value, and the cost of building has already increased over 25 per cent. in twelve months.

Lithographed plans will be issued at once.
Sale at Half-past TEN o'clock.

A MORMON QUESTION.

Some months ago S. Carsley offered to answer business questions in his advertisements that were sent through the post, but the questions received were nearly all of them not of a business character. For instance, imagine the following one being sent as a business question: "If a Mormon dies and leaves more than one widow, say ten or a dozen, can a man marry one without marrying the whole of them?"

APOLOGY.

We have to apologize to a number of ladies for not being able to serve them at our Flannel Counter. The extraordinary run on Flannels during the last few days often caused much annoyance to customers, and great loss to ourselves through intending purchasers being obliged to leave unserved. This will be obviated in the future by having a larger staff of salesmen in this department.

McGill University.

Unless a change be made in existing arrangements, a meeting will be held in the Mechanics Institute building, on Thursday, the 13th inst., for the purpose of considering the financial position of the University. The assets of the University are calculated at $600,000, and its annual income at $39,000. The financial record of the University shows that these figures have not been reached without very careful management, as well in the administration of the real estate, as in the application of the Government subsidies and the individual benefactions which, in the shape of subscriptions and endowments, have not failed the Institution, especially since the first appeal made to the liberality of the public, in 1856, subsequent to the organization of the University under its amended charter. But with all economy and good management, the revenue has hitherto barely sufficed for the carrying on of the actual work of tuition, and, latterly, the introduction of improvements urgently demanded together with some heavy payments have caused a deficit which threatens to have very serious results. This deficit is calculated, for the coming year, at over $6,500. It is with a view to the covering this deficit that the meeting is called. It is the intention of the governors of the University to appeal to the public for a further endowment of not less than $150,000. Nothing short of this will place them in a position to maintain the courses of study on their present footing. Besides ordinary contributions and annual subscriptions, it is suggested that such existing professorships as are not endowed be endowed to the extent of $2,000 or more. It is not the wish of the governors to increase just now the number of professorships, but to improve the condition of those already established. Another method of assistance will be the foundation of library, museum or apparatus funds. In connection with museum funds, it is gratifying to be able to say that the work at the Redpath museum is so well advanced that the building will be roofed in a few days. It is expected to be open with its specimens in it by the time the American Association meets here in August next. This museum, which will not, it is thought, be any burden to the University, will be really the first thorough educational museum of natural history in Canada, and the only one that can compare with the Collegiate Museums of the United States. The College collection of specimens is to be placed in it, and the Principal, Dr. J. W. Dawson, will add his own private collection. The Department of Applied Science is one which the Faculty is especially anxious to improve. The working of this Department was, all things considered, very successful this year, the students numbering forty. The maintenance of this branch is at present precarious, it being dependent mostly on annual subscriptions which are now expiring. A permanent endowment is required.

Liberal as the public of this city has always shown itself in its support of McGill University, there exists in some quarters a feeling that it would be better for the institution, as for the country, if the staff were more largely recruited from natives of the country itself, and graduates of the University, and if more special attention were given to the various branches of Canadian history. The answer to the first observation is found in the College Calendar, which shows upon the staff a majority of Canadians and of McGill graduates. As to Canadian history, it is answered that the object of the University is general education, not special; and that the history of Canada is matter for the preliminary school training of the students. A chair of Canadian history might, however, be very well endowed by any one desirous of promoting this special branch. But such branches could not be made of obligatory attendance to the student. A university is liable to the accusation of teaching too many things, and aiming at breadth at the expense of thoroughness.

In the Matter of Mulholland and Baker, Insolvents.

Mr. Henry Mulholland, of the late firm of Mulholland and Baker, having taken exception to the remarks of Mr. Justice Mackay in refusing to grant his petition for discharge, referred to in THE STAR some days ago, has prepared a detailed statement of his case from which we summarize as follows:—

Mr. Mulholland says: "I have not at any time been informed in anyway that I was required either to be examined by the Judge or to answer any questions for his satisfaction; but having heard that it is the custom of this honorable Judge to examine the petitioner for a discharge, either orally or by a series of questions in writing, and that he would examine me in a similar way, I waited for several days without hearing from him; I then called on Mr. Wurtele, my lawyer in this case, who informed me that he had heard nothing from the Judge since the argument. I next called on Mr. Fair, the assignee, and his answer was to the same effect. Finally I called on Mr. Collard, the clerk of the Insolvent Court, who had no communication for me either, I called several times subsequently on these parties, but still no word from the Judge, and I was cautioned not to call on him personally. I could do no more in order to give the honorable Judge every satisfaction and thus save him from the painful duty of making some uncalled for, and in my opinion, unmerited remarks."

As regards the probability of the estates paying 33 cents in the dollar, Mr. Mulholland submits the following figures in detail, from which we summarize:—

Gross liabilities Mulholland & Baker....	$419,024
" " H. Mulholland..........	169,908
		$588,932
Net assets M. & B.............	$176,664
H. M.'s personal estate........	229,438
Mortgage on W. P. B. & Co...	75,000
		$481,102
Apparent deficiency..................		$107,830

"A first dividend of 20 per cent. was declared in 1878 for M. & B.'s estate. Also for H. M.'s 25 per cent. in July, 1881. The Consolidated Bank dividend being withheld on claim against H. M. and all privileged claims paid in full for both estates."

"In conclusion, I submit that the business of the firm was carried on for eighteen years and seven months. That during all this time no part of the apparent profits was placed to the credit of any of the three partners. That the book-keeper, Mr. J. B. Hutchison, in a statement, dated 8th November, 1877, prepared under instructions from the assignee, says:—'Since business started in 1859 close on three hundred thousand dollars have been written off in bad debts.'"

During this time, as shown in this statement, I loaned to the firm ....$	85,621
And withdrew for personal expenses...	45,754
Leaving a balance of ....$	39,867
And in my assignment I surrendered the residue of my private estate ....$	143,817
Subject to my wife's and children's claim under my marriage contract

"Thus giving eighteen years of my best exertions gratuitously, and in addition the above $39,867 and $143,817, without applying one dollar of the assets of the firm for the maintenance of my house and family during all this time, and in return for all this to be loaded with the judge's, in my opinion, unmerited insinuations, is rather too much for me to bear submissively."

Burglaries.

Last evening about eight o'clock Mr. McCarthy's saloon, corner of St. Lambert Hill and St. James street, was entered by thieves, who, after ransacking the place, opened the till, and made off with the money it contained (about $500); the matter is in the hands of the police.

The store No. 9 Victoria square, occupied by Mr. Linnott, dealer in clothing and miscellaneous wares, was entered about midnight on Sunday, and a large tray full of coins, some of them of great value, several opera glasses, and some clothing, carried off. The matter was at once reported to the police, but no trace of the thieves has yet been discovered.

Canadians in London.

The following Canadian visitors have registered their names at the offices of the Canadian Government in London during the 2 weeks ending 29th Sept., 1881:—Rev. N. Pollard; John Kidd, Ottawa; W. H. Wilson, George Partridge, Quebec; Simon Gibbons, Cape Breton; John McMillan, Miss J. P. McMillan, Kingston; Hon. L. R. Masson; John F. Bain, Winnipeg, Man.

JACQUES CARTIER.

A Large Field of Aspirants.

The announcement in Wednesday's STAR that Mr. D. Girouard, Q.C., Member for Jacques Cartier, would be placed on the Bench has created quite a flutter of excitement in the political circles. As regards the Liberal party there appears to be great unanimity of opinion, and only the Hon. Mr. Laflamme's name is mentioned as the opposition nominee. Several gentlemen are mentioned in the Conservative ranks, including Dr. Tasse, Mr. Ivan Wotherspoon and Mr. Lacavalier, M.P.P. Dr. Tasse is an ex-warden of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, is the recipient of a pension of £300 a year, and consequently is not eligible for the seat.

It is rumored, however, that Mr. Lecavalier will resign his seat in the Local House in favor of Dr. Tasse, and will run for the Dominion House of Commons. Mr. Ad. Prevost, ex-President of the Jacques Cartier Club, is also mentioned. In the event of the constituency being opened, as regards the Local House. Mr. J. H. Pillet will be a candidate in the interests of the Liberal party. The county of Jacques Cartier up to 1872 had for many years been a conservative stronghold, when the Hon. Mr. Laflamme won the contest against Mr. Girouard by 48 votes, in 1876 by 40 votes, and at the general election, in 1878, Mr. Girouard was returned. Mr. Laflamme was waited upon to-day, but declined to say what he intended doing until he saw Mr. Girouard's appointment registered. He, however, spoke very confidently of the prospects of the Liberal party in the county, and stated he had no doubt if a good Liberal candidate were brought out, the election would be carried by the Liberals.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

Morning Session.

The first case brought before the Court this morning was that of a young man named Amedee Grenier, accused of theft by Daniel Murray, keeper of the "People's Hotel" on Commissioners street, at which place Grenier was bar-keeper. The amount of the theft was $22.25, and a cigar-holder worth 50 cents.

Murray, sworn, stated that on August 1st, 1881, he took into his service the accused at a salary of $18.00 per month and board. The accused at that time represented himself as absolutely without money. About the fourth week of the first month, and before Murray had paid accused, he was warned by friends that his clerk had gambled for a considerable amount recently. This aroused his suspicions; he watched the boy, marked some bank bills and other money, which money was afterwards found in the bar-keeper's pocket.

Cross-examined—Did not countenance a clerk's giving a customer change out of his own pocket. Still it could happen in his absence.

Detective Gladu—On October 1st found on accused $26.31, which accused said was his own money; that he had only stolen $2 from his employer. Appeared surprised when witness called his attention to the fact that the bills were marked. When cigar-holder was found on him, acknowledged it was Murray's. When Gladu confronted prisoner with Murray, the latter offered to let him off if he acknowledged the theft. He protested his innocence.

Cross-examined—Prisoner said the money's being marked proved nothing, as he had changed money at the bar for customers.

The Court adjourned at 1 p.m.

Fatal Accidents.

It is with deep regret that we have to announce this morning, the death of Mr. Thomas McCready, of the firm of James McCready & Company, which occurred at his residence, Richmond Square, shortly after seven o'clock on Sunday morning. The deceased gentleman had, it is supposed, just risen, and in opening the window, which is only about a foot from the floor, he overbalanced himself and fell a distance of three stories to the pavement below. Mr. Davis, who resides just opposite, saw the affair and at once rushed for a doctor, who hurried to the scene of the accident, but on arriving found life extinct. The skull of deceased was bruised, but not broken, death having been caused by the breaking of a bone in the neck. Coroner Jones was notified and went to the house and viewed the body, but after learning particulars of the accident from the family, declined holding an inquest, deeming it unnecessary. Mr. James McCready, brother of the deceased gentleman, is at present in England, but is expected to sail from Liverpool Thursday next.

Napoleon Labelle, a carter in the employ of James Mullally, 23 Papineau square, while driving along Notre Dame street this morning, was thrown from his cart by the horse making a start, and fell before the wheel, which passed over his body. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital, where he died a short time after, never having recovered consciousness.

Our Great North-West.

At the close of his sermon in St. Andrew's Church, last evening, and just before the benediction was pronounced, the Rev. Dr. McGregor said that he could not refrain from saying something to the congregation regarding his recent trip with the Governor-General. There were two impressions made upon his mind by the stupendous journey. First, the great and sincere interest taken in the country and the people by His Excellency, and secondly, the conviction, shared by all who accompanied him, that in the Great North-West which they had traversed from north to south and from east to west, Canada had a magnificent heritage, a land presenting attractions to the immigrant such as no other portion of the North afforded. He was returning to Scotland, and would take every opportunity to lay before the people of Scotland the claims of our magnificent territory upon the notice of those intending to leave the old land.

The Law of Patents.

In the case of H. R. Ives against the Washburn & Moen Mfg. Company, before the Hon. the Minister of Agriculture, to have the patent, which the company claim for making barbed fence wire, declared null and cancelled, in consequence of non-observance of the patent act, the Minister has decided he had jurisdiction to compel the company to answer the complaint, but that he has no power to issue subpœnas or a commission to examine witnesses in the United States. Notice of appeal has been given before the Governor-General in Council. Mr. Ivan Wotherspoon represents Mr. Ives, and Mr. Lacoste, Q. C., the Washburn Company.

The Rev. E. Paxton Hood.

The Rev. E. Paxton Hood, the celebrated English author and divine, preached last evening in Emmanuel Church. He came from Boston last week and is the guest of the Rev. Dr. Stevenson. He will again preach in Emmanuel Church next Sunday, and on Thursday week will deliver in this city one of his lectures so well known in England, "Kings crowned and uncrowned." The reverend gentleman arrived in New York only a few weeks ago and is on a lecturing tour in America.

Suspicious Fire.

At a late hour on Friday night a fire broke out under rather suspicious circumstances in a large shed owned by Mr. Belanger, being No. 293 Champlain street. The police at No. 3 station under Sergeant Naegele, were notified. On proceeding to the spot, they found that a quantity of wood stored in the shed had been saturated with coal oil. This is the fourth attempt made to fire the place, and the police intend keeping a sharp lookout with a view to arresting the culprits.

Ministerial.

Owing to the continued absence of Hon. Mr. Chapleau in New York, the Cabinet Council which was called for last week had to be postponed. Mr. Chapleau is expected to return to-morrow, when he will proceed to the Langevin picnic at Sorel, accompanied by the Hon. the Attorney-General, and on Thursday a Cabinet Council will be held at Quebec. Matters of considerable importance will be discussed, including the date of the general elections.

"Le Monde."

Our enterprising contemporary, Le Monde, of this city, appeared last Saturday in enlarged form and with a new heading. Its type is large and with a face that gives it a resemblance to the Paris papers. Le Monde now claims to be the largest French paper in Canada, and it is certainly edited, both politically and locally, with remarkable spirit. We wish our contemporary every success.

Personal.

The Hon. Geo. Irvine is at the Windsor.

The Rev. Wharton B. Smith, London England, is at the Windsor Hotel.

Mr. Gustavus Leser, of Antwerp, Belgium, is at the St. Lawrence Hall.

Mr. Thomas P. Hogg, of Dublin, Ireland, arrived at the Windsor this morning.

Commander Cheyne, of Arctic fame, sails from Glasgow for New York on the 22nd for a lecturing tour in America.

Sir Charles Tupper arrived in town on Saturday and was the guest of Mr. Andrew Robertson over Sunday. He leaves for Ottawa again this morning.

The widow of "Jim" Fisk is, it is reported, living in comparative poverty at North Hatfield, Mass., dependent for her living upon the bounty of a sister.

Sir Hector Langevin visited Trenton on Saturday morning and went over part of the route of the proposed Murray Canal. In the afternoon he visited Picton.

Princess Louise recently sent a large quantity of grapes for the use of the children in the Victoria Hospital for Children, Chelsea, London, of which she is patroness.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey, who are both now in London, have definitely arranged to commence services at Newcastle-on-Tyne on the Sunday afternoon following the closing of the Church Congress now sitting there.

Professor Macoun and party have returned to Winnipeg from an exploratory tour of Lakes Manitoba, Winnepegoosis, and their tributary streams, together with that section of the North-West around Porcupine Hills and Duck Mountain.

Dr. Bibaud, of Victoria College, had a severe stroke of paralysis yesterday and lies in a very critical condition. Dr. F. X. Trudel, professor of obstetrics in the same college is also very ill, and a consultation of his physicians was held yesterday on his case.

The Empress of Austria has again announced her intention of hunting in Ireland, renting Lord Longford's residence in Meath. Truth says:—The Empress is the only sovereign personally known to the Irish people. Did the Irish only understand that there was a Queen of Ireland, no people would be more loyal.

Much interest is taken in the Queen attending theatrical performances for the first time for twenty years. On Tuesday she drove from Balmoral to attend the representation of "The Colonel," given in an improvised theatre at Abergeldie Castle by Edgar Bruce and his company at the special request of the Prince of Wales. The last time Her Majesty entered a theatre was at the Adelphi, to see the "Colleen Bawn."

PARNELL AND GLADSTONE.—DUBLIN, October 10.—In his speech at Wexford yesterday Mr. Parnell declared that Mr. Gladstone, in bewailing the fact that there was no moral force behind the Government in Ireland, admitted that the English Government had failed in Ireland.

AMERICAN.

THE NEW CABINET.—NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Sun's Washington special says the names of the new Cabinet will probably be sent in on Tuesday or Wednesday. The Cabinet, as now stated, is: Ex-Senator Frelinghuysen, Secretary of State; ex-Senator Howe, Interior; Chief Judge Folger, Treasury; ex-Senator Sargent, Postmaster-General; ex-Governor Rice, Navy; Mr. Lincoln, War; Benj. H. Brewster, Attorney-General. Conkling's position, suggested by his remarks on the Johnson impeachment case, favors the idea that he believes President Arthur has the right to call the Senate to order to-day, swear in three Senators and then vacate the office.

PANIC IN A CHURCH.—BRADFORD, Pa., October 10.—The exercises of the Methodist Conference last night were held in the largest church here, Bishop Harris presiding. The building was packed. Towards the close of the services a woman in the gallery fainted. An alarm was given that the gallery was falling. This was followed by a rush for various exits, in which men, women and children joined. Many were trodden under foot and seriously injured. When the panic was at its height somebody yelled "fire." The fire department and a thousand citizens rushed to the scene. Quiet was finally restored.

CONKLING'S VISIT TO WASHINGTON.—NEW YORK, October 10.—The World's Washington special says Mr. Conkling says the public need not be exercised over his visit to the President, for there will be no public result from it, but the feeling is strong that he has not come here for nothing, and that there is big news ahead.

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATION.—NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Sun's Albany special says it is generally understood that in making up the roll of delegates the State committee will place upon it the entire county democracy delegation from the city of New York, leaving Tammany and Irving Hall off.

VISITING THE CEMETERY.—CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—Thousands visited Lake View Cemetery, yesterday. The park wherein the body of the late President lay in state, is thronged with visitors night and day. All the railways entering here run special trains daily to accommodate the multitude.

INDIAN BATTLE.—FORT KEOGH, Mon., Oct. 10.—It is reported a battle between the Crows and Blackfoot Indians took place on the head waters of Porcupine Creek. The Crows driven off. "Two Belly," a prominent chief of the Crows, was badly wounded. The losses on either side are unknown.

DEATH OF A PHILANTHROPIST.—NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—James P. Broce, Western agent of the Children's Aid Society, who died Saturday at Tariffville, Conn., placed over ten thousand orphan children in Western homes.

LATEST MAIL NEWS.

England.

The world's Methodist council in London condemned travel by ministers on Sundays, holding that they should travel on Saturdays, and stay over night where they desired to be on the next day.

The British Board of Customs is endeavoring to prevent the introduction of the Colorado beetle into England. A fright has been caused by the rumor that Irishmen in the West were gathering potato beetles and securing them in small boxes for transportation to England, where they were to be turned loose to prey upon English crops.

No line in England carries the same number of passengers, or carries them so cheaply and pays so large a dividend, as the underground railroad of London. The passengers last year numbered 140,000,000. Several of the underground and overground railways carry workmen twelve miles a day for two cents, thus enabling them to enjoy cheap houses and country air.

By Christmas time some dozen peers and thrice that number of members of the House of Commons will have found their way to the United States on visits of from one to three months. Travelling on the Continent is no longer the correct thing to do, and for the upper ten a run across the Atlantic is becoming more and more indispensable.

The Lord Mayor of London has received from New South Wales a large consignment of game and fish, comprising thirteen kangaroos, twelve brace of ducks, several wild turkeys, and some boxes of Sydney salt water fish, including flatheads, schnappes, guard fish, whiting, jew fish, sea mullet, and bream. It all arrived perfectly fresh, though frozen, having been kept in refrigerators throughout the journey.

In 1843 O'Connell attempted to introduce that rage for Irish manufacture which is alive in Ireland just now, and always appeared in a huge frieze coat. But this rage soon flickered down, and he himself dropped the frieze for an English broadcloth. What he could not do English fashion, when was followed here, he effected in establishing "the Ulster," which is still worn in Winter by the jeunesse doree of London and New York.

Tricycles are becoming more common in England. Although not so fast as the bicycle, it is more safe and comfortable, and the art of riding it may be easily acquired in a short time. The machine, however, is sometimes as uncontrollable as a runaway horse on a steep incline. A few days ago a man was killed in Hertfordshire by the upsetting of a tricycle, whose speed he endeavored to check as it was descending a steep hill by giving it a sharp turn.

It is probable that before Christmas the fate of Newgate as a prison will be sealed, as all the authorities approve the proposed destruction of this famous London jail. There was a prison of Newgate long before the present building was erected from the designs of George Dance. The foundation stone was laid in 1770. In 1780, before it was finished, it was attacked by the Lord George Gordon rioters, who liberated 300 prisoners and set fire to the edifice. It was repaired in 1782.

The erection of the new American hotel in London has commenced. It will occupy nearly an acre on the northern side of Holborn, abutting on Warwick court and Holborn. It is to contain 400 rooms, and will be called the "First Avenue Hotel," because it is intended to construct an avenue through the block of the hotel building. Among the houses which will have to be removed to clear the way will be the Duke's Theatre and a tenement to which considerable interest attaches as the domicile of Haydn, in which he wrote the greater part of "The Creation." The Society of Arts will provide a mural tablet to mark the spot.

An editor of the Independent was at the reception given by the Lord Mayor of London to the members of the Methodist Conference. It was curious, he says, to see the assembly of ministers in their modest suits of black, in the parlors of the Mayor, and hear them all join in singing Wesleyan hymns, lined out in old fashion by the host himself, who, in full court dress, with the Lady Mayoress, gave a hearty welcome to his Methodist brethren from all parts of the world. "Refreshments were provided," he adds, "and everybody had an opportunity of testing the quality of the Lord Mayor's wines; but I do not think any of the American guests availed themselves of this privilege."

A Free Education League has been formed in Great Britain to procure the abolition of all fees in connection with national education. The League cites the example of the United States in free education, and notes that France, profiting by the experience of other nations, has this year established free education in all her primary schools. "Notwithstanding these instructive examples," the Secretary's circular says, "the tendency has been to raise the scale of school fees. The conviction is rapidly growing that, unless Great Britain is to fall behind other nations in education, a resolute movement should at once be made in the direction of abolishing the charges for admission to public elementary schools."

An English company places opportunities for making the tour of the world in an easy and elegant style at the disposal of anyone who has $2,500 and six months to spare. A steamer has been turned into a pleasure yacht for fifty people. Starting about the middle of October, and taking the Mediterranean route by the Suez Canal, India, China, Japan, San Francisco, the Falkland Islands, and Montevideo, the voyagers by the beginning of July will have managed to call at many of the most interesting spots on the planet within a reasonable time, and in a pleasant manner, if they can avoid quarrelling, a contingency which is guarded against by empowering the captain to land any combative member of the society at any port and despatch him to London.

The Corporation of London intend to present in a gold box to the Prime Minister an address, recording their high sense of his great services to his country, and to ask him to sit for a marble bust to be placed in the Guildhall. The original idea was to present the freedom of the city to Gladstone, but he is already a Freeman and a Liveryman of the Fishmongers' and Turners' Companies, and, therefore, a Freeman of the city. The compliment is apart from party considerations, the majority of the members of the Corporation being Conservatives. Among the very few public men to whom a somewhat similar honor has been done have been William Pitt, Viscount Althorp, Earl Grey, Sir Robert Peel, Lord Palmerston, Earl Canning, Earl Russel, Mr. Cobden, and Lord Beaconsfield.

The Prince of Wales is advised to keep out of Glasgow for a time. It appears that at Liverpool recently he said, "Everybody knows that Liverpool, after London, is the second greatest town of the United Kingdom." When this statement was read in Glasgow nearly everybody in it seems to have grown pale with inarticulate rage; for Glasgow has long claimed and still claims to be the second city in the Empire. The last census rather staggered Glasgow, for it assigned to Liverpool, within the municipal limits, a population of 549,000, and to Glasgow only 510,000. But Glasgow gasped out that its suburbs must be looked at, and where would London be without its suburbs! If put to it, Glasgow is prepared to annex Paisley as a suburb, although Paisley resists like a Transvaal. With power to fix its own suburbs, Glasgow claims 704,000 against Liverpool's 681,934, and asks, with a shout of triumph, Who is greatest now!

COMMERCIAL.

The local market for flour was quiet and no sales were recorded. A lot of 200 bbls of Superior Extra "Morgan City" in store or on wharf offered at $6.77½ with $6.50 bid, and 1,000 bbls same brand in store offered at $6.70 subsequently, with $6.55 bid.

Flour.—Superior Extra, $6.70 to 6.75; Extra Superfine, $6.60; Spring Extra, $6.60 to 6.65; Superfine, $6.20 to 6.25; Strong Bakers', $6.75 to 7.75; Fine, $5.45 to 5.55; Middlings, $4.75 to 5.00; Pollards, $4.40 to 4.55; Ontario Bags, $3.25 to 3.35; City Bags (delivered), $3.70 to 3.80.

Receipts in Montreal—Wheat, 10,500 bushels; corn, 11,254; peas, 37,154; rye, 400; flour, 1,622 bbls; meal, 245; ashes, 13; butter, 425 pkgs; cheese, 1,660 boxes; leather, 234 rolls; tobacco, 14 cases.

After 'Change Saturday the only sales reported in wheat were a car load of Canada Red Winter at $1.47, and 16,000 bushels of No. 2 Chicago Spring at $1.40. The sale was lately made of a barge load of Upper Canada barley at 95c.

Wheat in Chicago to-day opened at 1-38¼ November, advanced to 1-39¼ Nov, 1-42 Dec, and at 10-53 a.m. was down again to 1-39¼ Nov, 1-41¼ Dec-

The receipts were 66,000 bushels; shipments, 38,000. Corn after opening at 66c Nov. rose to 66¼ November, 66¾ December, and at 10.52 a.m. was easier at 65¾ November, 71¾ May. Receipts 555,000 bushels; exports 583,000. Pork at 10.45 a.m. was quoted at $17.82½ to $18 October, $18.07½ November. Lard at 10.55 a.m. was quoted at $11.80 to $11.82½ October, $11.87½ November.

W. J. Fairbairn's despatch from Liverpool reports: Markets generally dull throughout the Kingdom. London and many interior markets lower and tending downward, market continues dull and heavy, look for it still lower. Corn heavy, declining tendency.

Beerbohm's English advices:—Floating cargoes, wheat and corn quiet but steady. Cargoes on passage and for shipment, wheat and corn slow. Mark Lane wheat and corn slow. California wheat on passage, just shipped, 64s 6d; nearly due, 55s. English country wheat markets steady; French generally dearer. Farmers' deliveries of wheat during the week, 60 to 65,000 qrs. Liverpool wheat and corn, spot dull. California and Club wheat, 11s 2d to 11s 6d; red Winter, 11s; white Michigan, 11s 1d; red American Spring, 10s 2d to 10s 8d; American Western mixed corn, 6s 2d; Canadian peas, 7s 3d. Wheat and flour in Paris, rather easier. Weather in England, fair.

Toronto Produce Market.

Market quiet and easier. Flour less sought for; bids lower; no sales quoted. Bran 50c lower, being offered at $15, with $14.50 bid. Wheat inactive and declined about 2c; the best bid for No. 2 Fall seems to be $1.36. Oats steady and sold at 42c. Barley quiet. No. 2 sold at 88c, but there seems to be only one house inclined to pay this price; No. 1 nominally at 95c, with 93c bid. Peas nominal. Rye steady, with a sale of 5,000 bushels for October delivery at 98c on track. Potatoes firmer, with cars sold at 75c. Butter finer but firm at 20c to 21c for choice for local use, but no movement reported in shipping lots. Eggs scarce and firm at 18c to 18½c. Fall wheat, No. 1, $1.39 to 1.40; do, No. 2, $1.36 to 1.38; do, No. 3, $1.30 to 1.31; Spring wheat, No. 1, $1.38; No. 2, $1.36. Barley, No. 1, 93c to 95c; No. 2, 87c to 88c; No. 3 Extra, 82c to 83c. Peas, No. 1, 75c to 76c; No. 2, 73c to 74c. Oats, No. 1, 41c to 42c. Flour—Superior, $6.30 to 6.35; Extra, $6.20 to 6.25; Bran, $14.50. Butter, 18c to 21c. Barley, street, 93c; Spring, $1.36; Fall, $1.37 to 1.39. Oatmeal, $4.40 to 4.45. Pork, $23.

Iron Mining Enterprise.

An Ottawa despatch says:—An important enterprise is now under way which will replace the lost one of Ohio Co., that for a year and-a-half past worked the Forsyth Iron Mines in Hull Township. Mr. Lawless has leased No. 13, 7th Concession of the Township of Hull, to a Company of American capitalists for a period of five years. The Lawless property lies adjacent to the Forsyth and Baldwin Mines, and the mine opened proves to be the most rich and promising. Although the papers were only signed yesterday, 10 tons of ore were taken out with the appliances at hand under the superintendence of Captain Simmons, who was recently in the employ of the Company which worked the Forsyth Mine. New mining machinery has been ordered, and work will be pushed forward during the Winter. The Company have agreed to pay 40c per ton royalty, with the privilege of buying the property, which comprises 100 acres, at any time for a sum of $100,000. The ore will be sent to the States to be manufactured into pig iron. Mr. Blanchard, of New York, is President of the Company which has started this enterprise, and Dr. Carpenter, of New Jersey, is Treasurer. The capitalists interested belong to New York, Jersey City and Boston.

THE PRINTING CONTRACT.

Mr. Perrault's Reply to the City Auditor.

The following is a summary of Mr. Perrault's answer to the statements against him in Mr. Robb's report: The reason of his (Mr. Perrault's) departure from the pro rata principle in the supply of Stephen's red ink was that no quarts were obtainable and the equivalent number of pint bottles had to be supplied, which was done at $8.50 for sixteen pint bottles, the real equivalent of a dozen quart bottles at $6.50 as was the contract. However, at any rate the city has paid only $12.50 for red ink in five years, so has not sustained an overwhelming loss. He submitted a certificate from Mr. Stewart, of the Herald, approving of the charge for printing the posters in red ink. He defended his charge of $20 for thirty advance copies of Mayor Hingston's speech in 1876 by pointing out that it was printed in both languages, and that two compositions were necessary. He defended his charge of $2 per page instead of the regular rate for press work for factums not specifically mentioned in the contract, on the ground that factums were always charged by the page by printers, and that $2 is the price invariably allowed by the courts. He said that he had charged $9 and $10 per dozen for Carter's ink instead of $7 per dozen, the contract price, because the Carter's ink mentioned in the specification at $7 was not considered suitable by the clerks, and other qualities were ordered. He failed to see why Mr. Robb had silently passed over the other kinds of Carter's ink supplied, and for which he charged only $6 per dozen. The same reason applied but more forcibly to the charge of $7 per gross for Faber's pencils instead of $5, the contract price. Mr. Robb's remarks might lead to the belief that no Dickson's blue and red pencils had been supplied at all, whereas 3 gross had been supplied, two in 1876 and one in 1879, both at the contract price. Mr. Robb pointed out that among the miscellaneous items $35 had been charged for ½ ream of white hd. ld. paper, ruled and printed, which he could not understand. In the Committee he could not remember having ordered such paper. Mr. Perrault answered him by showing the written order of Mr. Black for it, the receipt of Mr. McNeil for the same and the proof of the form itself with Mr. Black's corrections. The 3,000 manilla envelopes, Mr. Perrault says, for which $10.80 were charged instead of $5.25, the contract price, were foolscap size and not the small size envelopes quoted in the tender. The charge of $318.63, he says, for 150 pamphlets for the water department was certified by Mr. R. White and Mr. Beauchemin to be moderate. Mr. Robb stated that the contract price for folding, stitching and covering pamphlet work is $1.75 per 100 whereas the contract has been departed from and $1.75 allowed for folding and stitching, and $1.50 for covering. Mr. Perrault answers that the covers supplied were far superior in finish and appearance to those used before, that the cost of composition and printing the covers was added, and that his charge was endorsed by two practical printers. With regard to press work and composition he had gathered up 18,500 out of some 20,000 reports printed during the five years and sent them to Mr. Chamberlin, Queen's printer, Ottawa, who had examined them and reported. He differed with Mr. Desbarats on 21 pamphlets, allowing on some more and on some less than the charges. The aggregate amount paid for this work was $1,932.71, and Mr. Chamberlin allowed $1,921.58, only $11.13 less. In conclusion, Mr. Perrault claimed that he had a right to charge $2,052.50 for the printing of certain by-laws during the five years, whereas he had been paid only $1,439.25, and thus the city had benefited by $613.25, which was more than a set-off for all the overcharges, aggregating $436.35, alleged by Mr. Robb, supposing they were true, which they were not. Mr. Perrault also charged Ald. Stephens to make good his assertion that this Summer the "assessment and water collection books" had been obtained 20 per cent. cheaper than his new contract price. He supported the challenge by quoting the prices charged by Mr. Beauchemin.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

Afternoon Session.

This afternoon in the Court of Queen's Bench, Mr. Ritchie, Q.C., entered on behalf of Mr. Fahey, the following pleas:

And the said John Fahey for plea in this behalf, saith, that he is not guilty.

And for a further plea in this behalf, the said John Fahey saith, that Our Lady the Queen ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him because he saith that before and at the time of the publication in the said indictment mentioned, it was and is true that the said James Baxter was a confidence man and had extensive operations in Chicago and Montreal, and that the said James Baxter is one of this King's pin confidence men of the period, and that he had from Chicago about two years ago because of the exposure of the ninety thousand dollars swindles on the United States Government, known as the "Ayers Match Bond Fraud," and that he was the chief engineer of this swindle, and that fleeing to Montreal, Baxter engaged in the money lending and brokerage business, and that his transactions have been questionable, and of late there has been an exposé of his gigantic swindling scheme known as the Silver Plume Mining Company, and that Baxter is now at large and that a Montreal correspondent understands that there is a reward of five thousand dollars for him in Chicago, and that James Baxter was a confidence man and principal in the Chicago Match Bond frauds, and the Silver Plume mining swindle at Montreal, and that it was for the public benefit that the said matters, so charged in the said indictment, should be published.

And this he, the said John Fahey, is ready to verify.

Wherefore he prays judgment and that by the Courts here he may be dismissed and discharged from the said premises in the said indictment above specified.

This afternoon the Hon. George Irvine, Q.C., entered a plea of justification in the case of Regina vs. Hon. Wilfred Laurier.

THE TELEGRAPH CASE.

Another Step Forward.

To-day Hon. Mr. Justice Jette dismissed the demurrer of the Montreal Telegraph Company, setting up that Mr. Lowe had no right to contest the legality of the transfer to the Great North Western, and that the other shareholders should have been brought into the case. There is still another plea to the action involving the same grounds as the demurrer covered, and which will be adjudicated upon on Wednesday next. His Honor to-day held that the grounds raised by the demurrer should have been met by an exception à la forme. Of course, the merits of the case have not as yet been touched on, but four out of six of the preliminary objections have thus been disposed of.

The "Break" in Ontario Bank Stock.

Over 5,000 shares of Ontario sold to-day, and the stock sold as low as 65¾, a decline of 4¾ per cent. since Saturday. Since the 8th of June Ontario Bank stock has dropped 35 per cent. It was reported here to-day that at a meeting of Directors in Toronto Manager Holland threatened to resign because the Board would not reduce the capital stock more than 40 per cent., whereas he suggested a 50 per cent. reduction. Other serious rumors were afloat which time only can verify.

Mysterious Disappearance.

Mr. John Costigan, wood and coal merchant, has been missing since last Monday evening. Search has been made in every direction, but up to this afternoon no trace of him can be found. As he occasionally visited his place of business on the canal at night, it is just possible he may have fallen into the canal. Since last Wednesday Detective Fahey has had the case in hand, and is exerting himself to the utmost in order to obtain some trace of the missing man.

Annual Meeting of Shareholders of Molson's Bank.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of Molson's Bank was held this afternoon, Mr. Thos. Workman in the chair. The report showed a surplus of $99,591.81, which, added to balance of last year, amounted to $119,862 18c. Of this, $110,000 had been transferred to the Rest account. The usual votes of thanks were passed, and after remarks by gentlemen present the meeting adjourned.

Valuable Donation to McGill College.

The technical museum of the Applied Science Faculty of the McGill University has just been enriched with a valuable case of specimens from the famous steel works of Krupp at Essen, in Rhenish Prussia. This timely and generous addition to the teaching resources of the College is intended to illustrate the properties of iron and of steel, and comprises not only finished products, but also the raw materials from which they are made. Among the more important contents of the case may be mentioned fine spathic ore, that ore of iron so frequently used in the manufacture of the finer grades of steel, two varieties of brown ore, kidney ore, red hematite from Germany and from Spain, and manganese ore, which is employed in making spiegeleisen, a variety of iron essential to the production of Bessemer and of some other kinds of steel. From these a number of intermediate specimens gradually lead to the more striking portion of the gift,—the fractures and polished surfaces of varieties of steel, which lie in a compartment of their own, and are set in black velveteen. A fractured section of a locomotive axle of crucible steel, 7½ inches in diameter, occupies the place of honor. Around it are grouped a semi-section of a disc wheel with polished surface remarkably free from flaw; fractured specimens of tires of crucible and of Martin steel, made according to Krupp's patent process; sections of Bessemer steel rails; mint dies with hardened and polished surfaces; fractured specimens of crucible steel for the breech portion of small arms; hardened spring steel, as well as other things of interest to students of science. It is gratifying to find that a firm which may be said to stand at the head of the steel industries of the world is fittingly represented in our University, and the present will serve to further the growing interests of the Faculty of Applied Science.

Housebreaking.

At about 2.40 a.m. yesterday morning, the house No. 16 St. Elizabeth street, occupied by Mr. Israel Goyette, was broken into by a man who is still at large. Mr. Goyette was awake when the housebreaker came up the stairs, having just returned to bed from the bath-room. On hearing sounds of steps in the staircase he called out to the nurse maid whether she was up, receiving a negative answer. At the same time the steps became quicker and bolder, and a moment after the intruder entered the bed-room, with a lighted lamp in his hand, which he had taken from the passage. As he approached the bed, Goyette, who had risen to a sitting position, asked him what his errand was. "La bourse ou la vie," was the answer, while at the same time he felt in a back trousers pocket, apparently for a revolver. But his right hand was taken up with the lamp, and with the left he could not get at the weapon; upon which he flung the lamp at Mr. Goyette, but it missed him, and was dashed to pieces against the bedpost. Very fortunately it went out, so that there was no fire, nor explosion, nor was any one hurt. Mrs. Goyette, whom the entrance of the man had awakened, shrieked loudly for help. Windows were thrown up, and shrill voices swelled the chorus of alarm, Mr. Goyette, at his window, lustily blending his baritone with the sopranos. The housebreaker, meanwhile, precipitately effected his escape by the rear of the house, smashing several bottles in his passage. On inspection, it was found that he had entered by a rear window, pasting paper with softened soap upon the panes before he broke them. The detectives are on the man's track.

Our Exhibitions.

Mr. J. Laidlaw, of Toronto, who has just returned from the Halifax Exhibition, expresses pleasure with what he saw there of our Maritime Provinces and their resources. He is convinced that by an exchange and comparison of stock, etc., with the West, the results to the Dominion will be very important. Although the Exhibition was not equal to the Montreal and Toronto ones, it was especially good in some lines. The manufacturers of St. John, N.B., joined in the most spirited manner and carried off many prizes. Mr. Laidlaw thinks that what is required to make these Exhibitions successful is more experience amongst the citizens generally and a greater interest by business men. Halifax and St. John are destined to become centres of influence in the East and strength to the rest of the Dominion by their vast resources yet to be developed. Prince Edward Island deserves favorable notice. Its stock exhibit was worthy of all praise. Mr. Laidlaw passed through Montreal to-day on his way home and the above facts were hastily gleaned from him by a reporter.

Passengers.

List of passengers per SS. "Montreal," Captain Thearle, from Liverpool, 29th ult.—Rev. Dr. Williams, Rev. J. B. Armstrong, Miss Bradshaw, Miss Allnatt, Mr. Jas. Smith, Mrs. James Smith, Rev. J. CITY ITEMS.

—The opening lecture to the Chemistry course will be delivered this (Monday) evening at eight o'clock, in Association Hall. Free to all.

—Battersby's Dominion Pocket Railway and Travellers' Guide for October is at hand, replete with information for the traveller in boiled down form.

—Mr. D. E. Axford, the proprietor of a flourishing confectionery business in the city, disappeared a few weeks ago and has not since been heard from.

—No. 3 Company, Sixth Fusiliers, held their annual match on Saturday at the Ranges, Point St. Charles. The disagreeable weather interfered sadly with the shooting.

—In the Fine Arts Department at the late Exhibition, Mrs. Leishman, Montreal, was awarded the first prize for painting on satin. Mention of it was omitted from our list of prizes.

—A boy named Vinet, aged fifteen, son of Mr Francois Vinet, foreman at A. Dubord & Co.'s, while climbing a tree for butternuts at Bout de l'Ile, yesterday afternoon, fell a distance of twenty feet, sustaining very severe injuries.

—Some of the handcuff chains provided for the police are not of just such material as they should be. One was shown in the central station this morning which was new a week ago and yet had been broken by a jerk from a resisting prisoner.

—The case of assault alleged by Mr. W. A. Polette, advocate, against Mr. De Lisle, librarian of the Court House Library, was tried to-day in the Police Court, and elicited much interest among the legal fraternity. It resulted in the charge being dismissed.

—We beg to state, in order to avoid misapprehension, that the Mile-End Hotel referred to in the case of Dufresne at the Court of Queen's Bench on Saturday last, is not that of Mr. Thomas Wiseman, but that of Mr. Robert Wiseman, better known as the White House.

—A meeting of the residents of Outremont will be held in the school-house on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of enlisting more interest and help in the Sunday School work being carried on there. Addresses will be delivered by several gentlemen from the city.

—The funeral of the late Rev. J. C. Davidson will take place at Frelighsburg to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock. The South-Eastern Railroad trains will connect with the train at West Farnham for Frelighsburg on the morning of that day, and will return at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Police News.

Charles Elliott and Lewis Wirchold, for stealing a ride, were fined $10 or one month each.

There were 26 cases before the Recorder today, all except two being the result of drink.

Joseph Bertrand and Antoine Loyer, for grossly insulting Emma Labouche, were fined $5 with the alternative of 15 days in prison.

Shipping Notes.

The Allans' Mail SS. "Sardinian," from Quebec, arrived out on Sunday.

The Allans' Mail SS. "Caspian," from Baltimore, for Liverpool, via Halifax and St. Johns, arrrived at Halifax on Sunday.

The Allans' Mail SS. "Nova Scotian," from Liverpool, for Baltimore via St. Johns and Halifax, arrived at Halifax on Sunday.

The Dominion Line SS. "Montreal," from Liverpool, passed Father Point at 11:15 a.m., with 26 cabin and 60 steerage passengers.

The Inman Line SS. "City of Richmond," from New York, October 1st, for Liverpool, via Queenstown, arrived at 4 a.m., to-day, Monday.

The Inman Line SS. "City of Berlin," from Liverpool via Queenstown, September 30th, arrived at New York at 10 p.m. Saturday, the 9th instant.

River Notes.

The river is steadily rising.

A locomotive for the Canada Atlantic Railway was brought over from England by the "Scandinavian."

Some of the clothing of the Indians drowned in the rapids two Sundays ago has been found entangled among the wreck of the vessel which was the victim of the late torpedo explosion in the harbour.

The Canal authorities are going to have the barges "Eva" and "Delima," which have been lying sunk in the Canal above the St. Gabriel Locks for the past three years, sold by auction on the 22nd.

Evening Telegrams.

CANADIAN.

MAIL BAG ROBBERY.—Georgeville, Que., Oct. 10.—The mail bags from Montreal via M. V. Railroad and Smith's Mills arrived at this post-office this morning at the usual hour, with a cut in the side near the bottom, made with a knife, and with several cuts, leaving a gash of about six inches in length very neatly done. There were no letters in the bag and the papers were all right. It is supposed there was an enregistered letter in the bag from Sir Hugh Allan from Montreal. P. O. Inspector King has been telegraphed for, and will be here to-night.

FROM QUEBEC.

IMPORTANT DECREES.—Quebec, Oct. 10.—It is rumored in town that the last European mail brought to the Archbishop two important decrees of His Holiness the Pope and the Sacred Congregation de Propaganda fide. One is understood to lay down strict rules respecting the matter of "undue influence," and the line of action to be observed by clergy and laity in this regard. The other, it is said, finally settles the question of Laval University and the Succursal at Montreal in favor of the University. It is also rumored that His Grace intends to publish and formally promulgate the important documents in question to-day.

THE "COREAN" ASHORE.—The Allan SS. "Corean," Captain McDougall, which left port at 4:45 p.m. on Saturday, bound for Glasgow, with a general cargo and 278 head of cattle, went ashore at Point St. Valier, during a rain squall the same evening. The steam barges "Matawan" and "Nepigon," with a number of men and towing several barges, went to her assistance and were busy all day, yesterday, discharging cargo and bringing up cattle. The "Corean" is on the reef, and her bottom is injured, as she is making a good deal of water in the forward compartments. Capt. Dick left port at 6 a.m. yesterday, in the steamship "Rambler" to hold a survey in conjunction with Mr. Geo. Davie.

FROM OTTAWA.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE STAR.]

GATINEAU VALLEY RAILWAY.—Ottawa, October 10.—Surveys of the Gatineau Valley Railway commence to-day.

THE SCOTT ACT.—On Friday last a deputation consisting of Rev. F. W. Gales, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance; Rev. A. A. Cameron, Rev. Dr. Moore and Mr. George May, waited upon Sir John Macdonald to ascertain whether the Government would grant any funds to assist in the defence of the Scott Act before the Privy Council in England. Sir John replied that the Government could grant no aid, because Parliament had voted no money for that purpose and the Government had no right to so supply any funds without a vote of Parliament. He had no doubt, however, that the required amount might be voted next session. He also said that the Dominion Government had no right to interfere in the matter, because Woodard, the policeman, was not a Dominion official. After considerable discussion, Sir John admitted that this might be a special case in which an exception could be made and promised to consult with his colleagues upon the matter.

THE Q., M., O. & O.—It is stated that the Pacific Railway Syndicate have declined to purchase the portion of the Q., M., O. & O. Railway between Montreal and Quebec, but that they will buy the portion between this city and Montreal, build a bridge at Lachine and continue the road on the opposite side of the river. Many of the French Conservative members of Parliament are very much incensed at this, and it is said that some of them even go so far as to threaten to go into Opposition, on the ground that the Government deceived them by representing to them that the Syndicate would buy the whole of the North Shore Road, thus obtaining their votes in favor of Syndicate bargain.

Remarkable Round Trip Passage.

The SS. "Arizona," of the Guion Line, left Queenstown, Sunday, Sept 11 at 2:10 p.m., arrived at New York, Sunday, September 18, at 6:20 p.m., 7 days, 8 hours, 32 minutes.—Left New York, Tuesday, 27th, at 10 a.m., arrived at Queenstown, Tuesday, October 4, at 9.45 p.m., 7 days, 7 hours, 23 minutes. Queenstown to New York and return to Queenstown, 14 days, 15 hours, 55 minutes.

COMMERCIAL.

Chicago, 1.02 p.m.—Wheat, $1.37 October, $1.39½ November, $1.41½ December. Corn, 64½c to 65c October, 66c November, 66½c December, 71½c May.

Chicago, 2:10 p.m.—Wheat $1.38 now, $1.38½ October, $1.40 November; 2:12 p.m.—Pork, $19.35 January, $19.52½ February. Lard, $11.87½ November, $12.62½ December, $12.32½ January.

New York, 3:30 p.m.—No. 2 Red, $1.54 November, 1.57 December. Corn, 73½c November, 76½c December.

On the Call Board, to-day, the following business was transacted:—Wheat.—A cargo of Red Winter wheat offered on spot at $1.48, with 1.46 bid, and $1.43 was bid for a cargo of No 1 Canada White. A cargo of No. 2 Canada White offered for delivery this week at $1.45½, with 1.43½ bid. Corn.—72c was bid for a cargo deliverable this Fall. Oats.—8,000 bushels afloat here offered at 43½c. Peas.—10,000 bushels on spot offered at 98c. Rye.—47,000 bushels offered at $1.02, with 5s 6d freight to Cork for orders.

The freight market is dull. Grain space to Liverpool and Glasgow was offering at 2s 9d to 3s.

Potatoes are quiet and unchanged.

The culture of beet root this season proved successful in Manitoba, and its growth will be entered into more extensively in another year with a view to locate the manufacture of sugar.

It is reported from New York that Jay Gould has secured control of the Manhattan Elevated Railway.

Speaking of the "break" in the Chicago markets on Saturday, a Chicago despatch says:—"The "drop" was trying to all who held property in margins, but up to 11 o'clock the only failure reported was that of McCord & Co., No. 123 Lasalle street, a firm said to be largely "long" on wheat and corn, but at present no estimate of their liabilities can be given."

Wholesale Provision Market.

The market is quiet as far as the shipping trade is concerned. Eggs are firm at 20c to 21c. The exports of butter from Montreal to Great Britain, this week, amounted to 6,059 packages, against 16,416 last week, and 9,335 for the corresponding week last year. The total exports from the commencement of the present season to date aggregate 95,834 packages, against 129,199 packages for the same period last year, showing a decrease of 33,365 packages. The exports of cheese from Montreal to Great Britain for week ending October 8th, were 14,989 boxes, against 20,381 boxes last week, and 25,164 boxes for the corresponding week in 1880. The total exports from the commencement of the season to date amount to 470,833 boxes, against 340,970 boxes for the same period in 1880, showing an increase of 29,863 boxes. Prices are unchanged.

The Hop Market.

Prices of hops are higher and there is excitement in the hop sections of the Eastern Townships where Montrealers and Americans have been buying up the best descriptions at 20c per lb. Several hundred bales are said to have been smuggled to the States within the past few days. On this market we quote choice to fancy, 20c to 21c; fair to good, 17c to 19c; medium, 15c to 16.

Finance and Commerce.

Money was steady at 5 on call and 6 on time. Sterling exchange was quiet at 8¼ prem. between banks, 8 3-16 to 8¼ counter and 8¼ to 8½ demand. Currency drafts on New York were drawn at ¼ to 5-16 prem. Documentary was in poor demand at 7½ prem.

MINNIGREY.

BY J. FREDERICK SMITH.

This story was commenced in The Star under the title of "THE HIDDEN RING," and the original title of "Minnigrey" has been restored, as the author was suffering injustice by the change.

After seeing his orders obeyed, and placing the sailing master at the helm, Captain Brandt left the quarter-deck, with orders to be called if the enemy gained upon them. No sooner had he disappeared than a silent shrug amongst the officers indicated the opinion they entertained of their commander.

"Night is coming on," observed Mr. Mowbray, the second lieutenant, "and that is our only chance of escaping her. If morning finds her in our wake we shall have nothing left but to fight for it."

"Or surrender," added the purser, bitterly.

"Surrender!" muttered the group of officers, and every eye was turned to Dawson, as if to ask how he would act should Captain Brandt refuse to fight his ship.

The lieutenant felt that the crew would support him, for their hatred of the French was intense, and their horror of a French prison stronger even than their hate, but he was far from feeling equally assured of the officers—several he knew to be the creatures and spies of the commander. The responsibility of attempting to dispossess him of his command was a fearful one—the enemy's frigate was evidently superior, both in guns and men, to the transport—he knew that if he succeeded and took the ship, he would be but coldly looked upon by the hierarchy of his profession, if he failed, an ignominious death awaited him. These considerations, which Dawson turned over rapidly in his mind, sealed his lips, without a word he left the quarter-deck to give the necessary directions for continuing their course.

In obedience to the order he had received, the lieutenant made his way directly to the state-room where Lady Jane and Minnie were reading by the light of the lamp which swung from the centre of the ceiling.

"Pardon my intrusion," he said, respectfully "but I am the bearer of an order."

"An order!" repeated her ladyship, with surprise.

"Every light must be extinguished! We are chased by an enemy of superior force, our only chance of escape is in the darkness of the night, and by altering the course of the vessel."

"There will be a battle?" exclaimed Minnie. Dawson was silent.

Lady Jane was a wife, and likely soon to be a mother, to her the idea of a French prison was doubly terrible—she would almost have preferred death to captivity. The silence of the lieutenant alarmed her.

"You do not answer!" she exclaimed. "Perhaps you fear to alarm me? Fear not," she added, "I am an Englishwoman—the wife of a soldier—to me there is a thought far more terrible than witnessing the death struggle of a gallant crew, the roar of the cannon, the groans of the dying, the horrors of a battle—captivity in a foreign land!"

"I do not think," replied the young man—and his proud heart swelled with humiliation at the avowal—"that there will be a battle."

"We shall escape them, then!"

Dawson shook his head, he knew that the heavy transport had little chance of escaping from its pursuer.

"What do you mean?" impatiently demanded Lady Jane. "You cannot mean that men with hearts and sinews—Englishmen—will strike the flag of their country—even to an enemy of superior force—without a blow! Lieutenant Dawson, or I have misjudged his character, must mean anything but that."

"Alas!" muttered the young man, "it does not depend on me, would that it did! I would fight the old hulk whilst two planks held together, or a rag flew at the mast! But Captain Brandt is our commander."

In the tone of shame and bitterness in which the words were uttered, both Minnigrey and her protectress read how slight, in the speaker's opinion, was the chance of a shot being fired in their defence. The latter caught him by the hand, and, fixing her eyes imploringly upon him, exclaimed:

"But you are brave, have influence with the crew, possess the heart and courage of a sailor and a man. You have sisters, probably, who love you, or a being in whom your affections are centered? You will not see us fall without an effort to prevent it, into the power of an insolent enemy?"

"Alas! what can I——"

"What can you!" repeated Lady Jane, in a tone of contempt. "Strike for the honor of the flag which floats above your head! Dispossess the coward of his command, and fight the ship despite of him! Oh, that I were a man!" she added, with increasing excitement "I would fight whilst one would assist me, or my hand could grasp a sword, and if at last compelled to surrender, I would enshroud the weapon I could no longer wield in the banner of my country, and consign them to the keeping of the deep, before the enemy of my nation should pollute them with a touch!"

The enthusiasm, the flashing eyes of the speaker, wrought poor Dawson to a state of excitement before which the cold calculations of prudence vanished.

"Lady," he said and he lowered his tone as he spoke; "the sword you allude to shall never be surrendered but with life; the flag of my country shall descend only from the mast when I am a corse upon the deck. I know that I risk my life and honor," he added, "but God and my country shall judge me."

"And absolve you," said her ladyship.

After exacting from the ladies a promise that, in the event of an engagement, they would not attempt to quit the cabin, the lieutenant took his leave. As he left the state-room he was met by Captain Brandt, who had been listening all the while at the door of the cabin—four or five men—creatures upon whom he could rely—were at his back.

"Lieutenant Dawson," he said, "your sword!"

The gallant officer saw that he was betrayed; and, drawing the weapon, would have defended himself, but a shot from one of the men shattered the arm that would have wielded it. In an instant he was overpowered and secured.

"Coward!" he exclaimed; "disgrace to the name of sailor!"

Pale with rage, Brandt drew a pistol from his belt, and, levelling it at the victim's head, was about to fire, when the door of the cabin opened, and Lady Jane, pale as death, but firm in her generous purpose glided between him and his victim.

"Fire," she said, "Captain Brandt; but remember that the wife of Major Talbot, and the niece of the First Lord of the Admiralty, will not fall unavenged."

The report of the fire-arms, and the shrieks of the women from the cabin, had been heard upon deck. Several of the officers and crew rushed down the companion-ladder, and eagerly demanded what had occurred.

Brandt muttered something about mutiny.

There was a low murmur amongst the men, with who Dawson was decidedly popular; for sailors love bravery in their officers, and pardon even the severity of discipline in those who, in the hour of danger or attack, set an example of courageous daring. The officers alone were silent: to them the word mutiny had a fearful sound—dishonor, a broken career, perhaps death, were in the perspective.

"I distinctly overheard the lieutenant," faltered the captain, "plotting with the ladies to deprive me of my command."

"False!" exclaimed her ladyship. "You might have heard me entreat him to do so; but no promise was either given or implied. And shall I tell you why I urged him to do so, Captain Brandt? Because I feared you were as deficient in courage as in honor—because, with woman's instinct, I knew you would surrender your ship and crew to the enemy without striking a blow, content to save your own worthless life at the expense of all that should render it of value."

There are moments when even cowardice becomes bold, and prudence cowardice. Although his cheek was ashy pale, and his lips white with rage and terror, Brandt assumed a blustering tone.

"Who says I will not fight my ship?" he demanded. "Is it because I have taken precautions to avoid an engagement at a disadvantage—precautions of the utility of which I am the best and sole judge—that my courage is to be suspected? Ridiculous! I'll fight her to the last."

A crow in imitation of a cock was heard amongst the sailors. The captain felt it was necessary to end the scene, which was becoming ridiculous.

"Mr. Mowbray," he said, addressing the second lieutenant, "you will replace Mr. Dawson who is under close arrest."

The officer touched his hat.

"You will place a sentinel at the door of his cabin. Let the master-at-arms make his round and see that every light is extinguished. You, Lady Jane, will please to retire to your cabin."

The high-spirited woman smiled disdainfully; she read in his glazed eye, and countenance that his courage was but assumed, and that it would most probably vanish at the first shot. But the lieutenant's life was at least safe for the present. She obeyed without a word, and retired to the state-room, where, overcome by the excitement of the scene she had endured, she gave way to a flood of tears; it required all Minnie's tenderness to console her.

As may be supposed the passengers thought not of retiring to rest that night: their hearts were too full of anxious thoughts of the morrow, which threatened them with captivity, or the horrors of a battle. About midnight they were startled by an attempt to open one of the windows which was directly on the stern of the vessel. The door of the cabin they had prudently secured. Minnie who was as courageous as she was affectionate, without a moment's hesitation advanced to the window, and saw, to her terror and surprise, a young middy suspended by a rope which hung over the bulwarks.

"In heaven's name!" she exclaimed.

"Hush!" said the boy. "Let me in."

"Let you in!"

"Oh, I am only a youngster," said the lad, "and the lights are all out."

By this time Lady Jane had joined her companion.

"It is Mr. Waller, I think?" she said.

"Yes, my lady; and poor Dawson's friend. Many a time he has saved me from a mast-heading from the cowardly skipper. He is a brave fellow; and I'll not see him shot if I can prevent it."

"Shot!" repeated both the females, in a voice of terror.

"Let me in," continued the boy, in a tone of entreaty; "I feel my arms are growing numb. I shall not be able to hold on much longer."

It was a frightful thing to see the youth holding on the rope by one hand only, and vibrating with the wind and motion of the vessel over the foaming abyss, whose waves rose and fell, and hissed like things instinct with life, impatient of their prey. At last he caught the ledge of the window, which Lady Jane had opened to its fullest extent; and, with the assistance of the inmates of the cabin, drew himself in.

"Thank heaven you are safe!" said Minnie.

"Are you really glad?" demanded the boy; "though why should I doubt it? my sister has just such beautiful blue eyes as you have; and she once risked her life to save an unfledged dove, that had fallen into the water. Do you know," he added, in a tone of confidence, "that I have loved blue eyes ever since."

"And pray, young gentleman," observed Lady Jane, with a smile, "did you risk your life merely for the satisfaction of telling my young friend that you admired the color of her eyes?"

"No," replied the middy, with a sigh; "and yet the pleasure of telling her so would at any time have tempted me, had I not feared to offend. I am only a midshipman, you know."

"Indeed," observed her ladyship, more and more amused by the naïvetée of the speaker's manner; whilst Minnie blushed at the frankness of an avowal which the youth and innocence of the speaker prevented her considering offensive.

"But I do not come," added the boy, gravely, "to make love."

"So I presume."

"But to make war rather."

"War! Pray do explain yourself, my good little boy," exclaimed her ladyship whose quick, excitable humor rendered the change from sadness to mirth as sudden as the transition from storm to sunshine of the Italian sky; "for at present I confess that I am either too sleepy or too dull to understand you?"

To be continued.

C. C. Jacobs, Buffalo, an employee of the U. S. Express Co., says:—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured him of a bad case of Piles of eight years' standing, having tried almost every known remedy, "besides two Buffalo Physicians," without relief; but the Oil cured him; he thinks it cannot be recommended too highly. 18

EPPS'S COCOA.

Grateful and Comforting.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

PAIN-KILLER!

IS THE GREAT REMEDY!

Belleville, Ont., February 12, 1880.

This is to certify that I have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer in my house for several years with great satisfaction. I was taken with cramps one night in the stomach, (from eating green fruit), and after taking the Pain Killer according to directions, I was almost instantly relieved. I believe it saved my life.

FRASER ASSELSTINE.

DON'T BE WITHOUT IT.

Sold Everywhere, 20c and 50c per bottle.

SYR: HYPOPHOS. FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES. COMP: FELLOWS.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

Were Fellows' Compound Syrup useless in all other diseases, the benefit which it undoubtedly yields in Consumption and other diseases of the Respiratory Organs would vindicate its claim to the attention of every medical practitioner. From the statistics of England and America it is a fair estimate that one-tenth of the entire deaths is caused by Consumption alone. If the Syrup is used perseveringly it subdues the tendency to Consumption, and in many confirmed cases, as in that of the inventor, it has effected a cure.

Indigestion and habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the nerves and muscles of the stomach and bowels. In such cases Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy.

This Syrup will cure Pulmonary Consumption in the first stage, and will give great relief and prolong life in the second and third. It will cure Asthma, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, and Coughs. It will cure all diseases originating from want of Muscular Action and Nervous Force.

Public Speakers and Singers

will find this Syrup of inestimable value. A dose should be taken before speaking or singing.

Aphonia, or the Loss of Voice, is usually cured by a few doses. We have known cases where a single dose has been effectual.

S. Jacob, M.D., St. John, N.B., writes:

"I had occasion to use your Syrup in a case of Aphonia which would not yield to regular treatment; it proved to be all that you claimed for it, having acted with expedition and entire satisfaction."

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

NEW INVENTION.

Dansereau's Patent Carriage Top,

Made and Patented by

PIERRE DANSEREAU, Carriage Maker,
Nos. 219 and 221 Craig street, Montreal.

This new carriage top has been patented in Canada on the 7th May, 1881, and in the United States on the 5th July, 1881. First Prize and Diploma Montreal Exhibition, September, 1881. This patent carriage top is entirely new and possesses the following advantages over the ordinary carriage tops: It is made entirely of wood and so constructed as to open and close like those made of leather. It can be put up on any kind of Summer or Winter carriages or coaches. It is more durable than any made of leather or cloth only which after a very short time break and crack in the folds, show all the ribs and give the carriage a shabby and worn out appearance. Moreover, the cold which in Winter cracks the leather has no effect on this patent top, which can at any time be made new with a fresh coat of paint and varnish, which preserves them for almost any length of time. This patent top is also made to receive glass sashes all around, making the interior of the carriage well lighted and, which is more important, very warm in Winter. It possesses more particularly the great advantage of opening and closing at will and with great ease, in the Winter as well as in the Summer carriages, without any risk of breaking any part of it as it often happens in the other kinds. This top is without doubt the cheapest most economical that can be built. It dispenses also in Winter with the use of a great part of the costly fur robes now necessary. In this respect it secures to the carriage-makers and hackmen immense advantages, by the economy of its construction dispensing with a costly leather and taking much less time in building. Finally, it allows the same body with its top to be used either in a sleigh with glass panels opened or closed or in the same way in a Summer vehicle or cleaned. This patent top has received the approval of the principal carriage builders of Montreal, who have examined it and whose letter is appended:

P. DANSEREAU, Esq.—We, the undersigned, after examining your patent carriage top, have much pleasure in saying that we find it a very useful, economical and durable one and we have no doubt it will advantageously replace those utilised until now. Signed, N. & A. C. LARIVIERE, BRUNO LEDOUX, F. RITCHOT, JULES LAJEUNESSE. 281z

THE COST
— OF —
PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL!

It is retailed at within a few cents of the price of common Coal Oil or Kerosene; but its burning duration being much greater, alone brings it within the price of the common article.

Considering that it is non-explosive, burning free from smoke of bad odor, it is obvious that the ASTRAL is by far the cheapest and most desirable illuminator to use. 239
