

Judge R. Roche Speaker At C.V.H.S. Meeting Held At Chateauguy Friday Evening

The Chateauguy Valley Historical Society held a very interesting meeting at Chateauguy, on Friday evening. The meeting was held at the old MacFarlane home near the village and which has been purchased and is to be kept as a link with the past, by an interested party.

First the visitors toured the site taking in its points of interest as to construction and so forth. Following this the meeting was held in the rooms of the house, with a fire burning in the fireplace and giving an old-fashioned atmosphere. There was a very good attendance and Mr. Brady, Secretary, read a report of meetings held and then Mr. S. J. Currie, Treasurer, gave a report of the financial standing.

It was decided that some method of celebration for the Battle of Chateauguy 150th anniversary should be prepared. This will occur in 1963. It was felt that a starting point should be made at the farm near the site close to Howick. Plans will be developed along this line.

It was also suggested that some projects be started very soon among these would be the cataloguing of the many articles in Mr. Rennie's collection at the store near Rockburn. Another was arranging to take groups on tours around the Huntingdon area and which had already been reported. It was also felt that photographs should be taken of historical houses, etc., in the area. These will all be investigated by committees.

Another suggestion was made that some sort of program should be carried out with regard to Ormstown Exhibition. This might be through the means of floats in the parade, or an exhibit of relics of the past, or perhaps both. This was left in the hands of a committee for further study.

The speaker of the evening was Judge Redmond Roche of the Montreal Bench, who had made a study by giving particulars leading up to the war of 1812 and then the story of the Battle of Chateauguy and ended with a biography of Col. Salaberry.

We give here that part of his address which had to do with the Battle of Chateauguy.

Sir George Prevost's predecessor in office, as Governor of Canada, James Craig, during his four years at Quebec, had offended the French Canadians in every possible way. In 1811, the British Government wisely replaced him by George Prevost, an officer of Swiss descent and a diplomat who spoke French fluently. He was most successful in winning the support and goodwill of the French Canadians.

The international tension of the last years had caused the Canadian Militia to be reorganized; it was now well trained under experienced British Army officers... and could answer the call for Active Service. In his book "The French Canadians," Mason Wade states that and I quote: "...The French Canadians embraced the British cause with singular unanimity, the Assembly cheerfully voted $928,000 for military and civil purposes... it also passed a new Militia Law, under which 6,000 men were raised without difficulty... in April 1812, before the outbreak of the war, Lt-Col. Charles Michel de Salaberry recruited the First French Canadian Regiment of Regulars, "The Voltigeurs Canadiens," the ranks were filled in a few days."

In 1812, the population of the United States was eight millions of whom nearly three millions lived in states actually bordering on Canadian lands and waters. An invading force of 50,000 could easily be mustered... and there was a confident feeling that the British garrison in Canada was small and weak... and the American Secretary of State for War firmly believed Upper and Lower Canada could be taken without a battle being fought.

Several factors were however overlooked... the United States field army had not fought a battle since 1781... its generals were veterans of the Revolution or politicians given army rank without the elementary knowledge and training.

Again, to quote Mason Wade, "It was really the American South and West that forced the war, and their interest in attacking Canada was a blow to Britain, not annexation. The Anglo-American maritime difficulties, and conflict between British Traders, the Indians they controlled, and the Americans, had irritated the swelling national pride of the United States... Federalist New-England however was opposed to what it regarded as a republican war designed to aid Napoleon and even threatened secession because of it..."

As war came closer, French Agents were active in trying to arouse French-Canadian unrest after Craig's Reign of Terror but their efforts were doomed to failure by the mild and conciliating conduct of his successor, Sir George Prevost, the Swiss professional soldier with the customary talent for handling French Canadian sensibilities... The proposed alliance of Napoleonic France with the U.S. against Britain enlisted no sympathy in a Quebec which was now opposed to the enterprises of any power whatsoever in Canada. "Le Canadien" referred to Napoleon as the "Lawless Leader of France", and Quebec City had been illuminated in honour of Nelson's victory at Trafalgar... There was little left of the old bond between French Canada and France...

Mr Jon Proudfoot Speaker At Rotary Club Monday

It was reported at Monday's Rotary Club Meeting that the recent Bingo was not the success it had been hoped. However, it had been announced that another one would be held in May 30th and this would be done. Several suggestions were made in order to obtain more support and these will be put into effect in time for this next Bingo.

Rotarian Jon Proudfoot, was the speaker for the meeting and he gave a very interesting classification talk on Automobile Insurance Policies. He was introduced by Rotarian Benoit and Rotarian Melnyk thanked him.

The talk was along the following lines and proved most interesting to all present.

When I joined the Rotary Club I was told that one of the duties of each member was to give a talk on the classification by which he entered the Club so, as I am representing the Automobile Insurance Business, I will try to confine my remarks to that classification 60 years ago there was no such thing as Automobile insurance and the reason was of course there were no cars to speak of. Even 50 years ago in 1910 to 1915 insurance company liability underwriters were more interested in and spent most of their time on Employers Liability and V.C.

From being almost non-existent 50 years ago the Auto insurance business has built up to its present position of bringing the insurance companies of Canada 330 million dollars in business in 1961 of which 64% or 211 million dollars was paid out in claims and to adjusters. Auto Insurance today gives about 37% of the 898 million dollars in business done by the insurance companies in Canada. The largest writer of Auto Insurance to-day is All State direct writer with some 14 1/2 millions followed by Wawanesa with 13 million 800 thousand and Lloyds of London with 13 million.

It was not until after the first world war that the auto insurance policy became a policy of its own. Before this, the liability underwriter would have to tinker around with the General Liability forms to give the customer some kind of coverage to protect him on the road. Those days the Cars were rated on the amount of horsepower under the hood, a far cry from to-day where the public liability and property damage rate for Austin or Envoy with 60 to 90 h.p. is the same as 198 Oldsmobile with 300 h.p. As early as 1921 you could buy a policy with inclusive limits but no one thought of buying more than 20,000. After 1920 rating on a h.p. basis was dropped. But, right up until 1943 a separate premium was charged for public liability and one for property damage according to the make of your car.

Since 1943 the rate has been combined as we know it today. Physical damage to your own car back in the 20s was covered by three separate premiums one for collision, one for fire and transportation and one for theft. It was quite common to have one policy for PL and PD and one to cover Fire and Transportation and theft. This was because some companies had a licence to write casualty insurance and not property and PD coverage from them but the agent would have to go to a company licensed to sell property insurance for the collision P and T. Back in 1921 you could lower the premium on your collision insurance if you had such injuries as front and back bumpers, if you carried an approved fire extinguisher if the car had an enclosed body, locking devices and also if you excluded the spare tire and wheel from the policy.

Originally the fire and theft coverage did not include all the extras known as miscellaneous coverages or perils which include wind storm, hail, flood, riot, etc.

This was added to the policy in the 1930s at an extra premium. In 1946 a combined premium was charged for Fire, Theft and Transportation hazards but, an extra premium was still charged for miss perils. In the late 1940s the comprehensive coverage came in, this was to cover all in one premium any physical loss to the car other than by collision. There were a lot of arguments in those days as to whether a flying stone hitting a car was to be covered under collision or whether the scratch on the front fender in the parking lot was caused by vandalism or collision. The loss of use by theft was first introduced in 1944 and before too long it was thrown in to the fire and theft coverage. When it first came out an extra premium was charged for that also/today it is included with the fire and theft premium.

Radio 35 yrs. ago were considered so easy to steal that an extra policy would have to be issued.

In early days the passenger taking his own chances placed himself at the mercy of the driver usually could not claim if hurt.

Passenger Hazard used extra premium. Today it is inclusive. At one time full coverage required 11 separate premiums.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Outstanding Exhibition And Tea

HEMMINGFORD — The newly formed Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hemmingford Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held a very successful Spring Tea, Bake Sale and Exhibition at the High School on Saturday afternoon, April 28th.

There was quite a gathering of ladies — and a few men — present when at 3 p.m. President Claire Pelletier, said a few words of welcome and rang the bell to open the Bake Sale. As usual, this was well patronized.

The Exhibition, organized by the Secretary, Mrs. J. H. L'Espérance, consisted of examples of local handicrafts, of native handicrafts brought from the four corners of the globe, of antiques which are treasured possessions of local families and last, but by no means least, a large collection of handicrafts of all kinds made by the disabled veterans at Ste. Anne de Bellevue and Senneville. These latter, consisting of toys, leather goods, hand-woven place mats, stoles, skirt lengths and many other articles, were not only to be admired but were also on sale and the members of the auxiliary are pleased to report they made a good number of sales during the afternoon.

The money, of course, goes direct to the Veteran.

Among the local handicrafts on view were several fine quilts, rugs, petit-point pictures, table-centres, a large hand-crocheted table-cloth and an outstanding display of fine pictures painted by local ladies. The handicrafts and unusual objects from abroad included four fine specimens of needlecraft, two bedspreads, one Indian embroidery on shantung, the other Chinese gold on scarlet silk the third, a tablecloth in the finest embroidery on euro linen from Hong-Kong and two pictures of Chinese embroidery

Burma included the statues of Buddha and his eight disciples and a priceless copy of the Buddhist Bible. Then there were beautiful shells from East African coast, fine wood carvings from Germany and Hemmingford, brass and copper wares from India and Africa and delicate blown glass, hand decorated with silver, from Vienna. Among the antiques, a miniature organ dated 1865, a replica of the one made by the same firm for Queen Victoria and which is still playable and in perfect tone, and a tiny stove for heating the four irons on wash day.

It is impossible to adequately describe in words the beauty and interest of the many articles displayed and the members of the Auxiliary are sincerely grateful to the many kind friends who so generously loaned their treasures.

Soft music was played during the afternoon on a Hi-Fi set loaned by a member of the Senior Branch and to this member, and other members of the Senior Branch who gave so generously of their time and help, a heartfelt 'thank you.'

Nobody ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep trying.

The largest assortment of fishing tackle in town. A casting kit of 41 pieces in all. Rod, reel, line, leaders, snelled hooks, swivels, sinkers, floats and 2 casting lines for only $6.95.

Nationalization, Yes or No?

CONTRIBUTED

This article does not necessarily reflect the Editorial Policy of this newspaper. It is published solely to provide the public with general views and information and is accepted under such conditions.

Ever since Messrs. Levesque Lesage and all assumed control of the Province of Quebec in June, 1960, there have been mouthings of nationalization. The mouthings have been an ominous portent for the future of the province.

Nationalization, expressed in other terms, means the seizure of the fruits of private enterprise to satisfy the hunger pangs of those who seek power at any expense, but chiefly at the expense of the common man, the wage earner. Nationalization means an expensive challenge to private initiative by public bureaucrats. Nationalization, many authorities agree, is the first step toward socialism, a step very often followed by others in the direction of Communism.

The first target of the nationalizers is a vast, efficiently operated public utility which has for many years given good service at reasonable cost of thousands of Quebecers. It was established at a cost of many, many millions of dollars.

If this utility is to be nationalized, many, many millions of dollars will have to be paid to the present owners, under any system of recompense whatsoever. Where will those millions of dollars come from? From the pockets of the taxpayers of the province who will, eventually, have to pay the bill's contracted to satisfy the unbridled ambitions of amateurs in the art of democratic government. Without nationalization a product of private enterprise with which few have had reason to complain can continue to expand its service at its own expense, not at that of the taxpayers of Quebec.

If power is nationalized, what next? Telephone? Co-operatives? Banks? who can tell where the greed for power will end.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Erville W. Lindsay

She was born at Dewittville, Que. on March 15th, 1888, the daughter of the late Mary Sadler and Hamilton Ferns. She attended school at Huntingdon Academy, and later became a teacher. She taught at Rockburn School, where she met and married the late Erville Lindsay, on Jan. 27th, 1960, who predeceased her just five months ago. To this happy union 3 daughters and 5 sons were born. Mrs. Alton Farquhar (Greta) of Rockburn, Mrs. Frank Rowe (Muriel) of Franklin Centre, Mrs. Clinton Baxter (Margaret) of Montreal, Everette and John of Rockburn, Hudson and John of the home farm, George of Huntingdon and Francis of Scotia, N.Y.

She was a member of the Rockburn Presbyterian Church, and was an active member for a good many years in the Ladies Aid Society. She was a Secretary for seven consecutive years in the Women's Missionary Society, where all who worked with her found her to be a willing and cheerful worker. Her greatest ambition was to see all her children happily married and she realized this. She was always concerned about others and was ever ready to help with a guiding hand.

She also leaves to mourn her loss 24 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren, 3 sisters and 1 brother, Mrs. Norman Muir (Leitea) of Howick, Mrs. George Lindsay (Margaret) of Rockburn, Miss Isabel Ferns of Dewittville and John Ferns also of Dewittville.

Happy Birthday Bob
Bob Bernard was a surprised guest of honor recently when friends gathered at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bernard, 164 Hamilton Avenue, the Heights, to celebrate his birthday. Bob, 21 years old on April 21st, is the organizer of the dances held at the Recreation Club and an ardent worker in the field of entertainment for youth. His aunt, Mrs. C. C. Ludlow and his cousin, Richie Ludlow of Hudson were on hand for the festivities and they stayed on for the week-end. The party which took place in the playroom at the Bernard residence was enjoyed by all. Johnny Smithman and the Megatonnes supplied the music for dancing.

St. Andrew's Notes
The Church Membership class for teen-agers which met during Lent in the Church Parlor will meet weekly during the month of May, on Monday evenings at 7 p.m.

The Sacrament of Holy Baptism will be administered at St. Andrew's, on Sunday, May 6th, at the close of Morning Worship.

This week St. Andrew's Choir had several entries in the Chateauguay Valley Music Festival held at the Ormstown High School. The full choir competed on Tuesday, May 1st and the Ladies Choir competed later in the same evening. In addition to these group entries, some of the choir members participated in individual entries, duets, solos and a trio. Some of these entries were scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. New recruits for service in the Choir are being sought. Anyone interested is asked to contact the Choir Director, Mr. Alun Hughes at 692-4533.

An extract from the Church Bulletin illustrates the Volunteer Choir in the following manner: "The Volunteer Choir is one of the great forces for good in the life of the Church. It affords an avenue of service for a fair segment of the congregation. It brings spiritual growth to its members; as they give themselves week by week they are blessed in the giving. A Minister, supported by a loyal choir will lead and preach more effectively. The task of the choir is to lead in the worship of God. It is no wonder the singer of olden times, at his appointment to the choir, received this charge: "See that what you sing with your lips you may believe in your heart, and what you believe in your heart you prove in your works."

Choir singers are called to a high and holy office, and, like marriage it is not to be taken on lightly or thoughtlessly, but reverently, discreetly, soberly and in the fear of God. It is imperative that members be present at all rehearsals and services. Absence without legitimate reason is disloyalty to Choir, congregation and finally to Christ. As a member of the choir a person has made a commitment, he has said "I will serve". He has a real responsibility.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pirrie arrived from Toronto for a brief stay at the home of Mr. Pirrie's mother, Mrs. Gladys Pirrie of Bellevue. Not only was this a visit but their arrival had a dual purpose. Mr. and Mrs. Pirrie brought Welsh Terriers and they had come to Montreal to enter them in the Ladies Kennel Club Dog Show over the past week. While we are on the subject, Mrs. May Birch (President of the Kennel Club) reports to me that the show was a huge success with approximately 500 dogs entered. First prize Novice "A" class in the Obedience Trials went to a poodle "May Diques Chocolate Echo" owned by Miss Gloria Cappadocia with 194 and 198 out of 200 and had formerly come from Mrs. Birch herself.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the families of three residents who passed away recently. Mrs. Emond, mother-in-law of Mr. Frank Bruno, Mrs. Hainault and Mr. Daignault.

Then the highlight of the evening came when guest speaker, Mr. Marcel Pronovost spoke on the importance of sportsmanship at an early age with stress on education as well. He told the children that it was alright to be a good athlete but it was better to be an educated one. After which the boys gathered around their idol and swamped him with questions which Mr. Pronovost was happy to answer at great length. This ended a very good hockey season for all. The Association Sportive de Ville de Lery wish to thank Mr. F. Raymond for his cooperation in making this banquet a success.

"A Flying Up" ceremony was held on April 16th and the following girls "Flew Up": Linda Arpin, Bonnie Conrad, Evelyn Dumker, Norma White, Sheila Davies.

Mrs. Arpin received her warranty pin and Mrs. Conrad received her 4-year pin.

Darwin calculated that, regions where earthworms are plentiful they bring up eighteen tons of castings on an acre of ground each year. For this reason, the earthworm unimportant as it may appear is of great value to man.

Due to the Easter holidays some of the troop meetings were called off. The Pathfinder Troop took a short hike last Thursday evening instead of a full troop meeting. The Pathfinder Troop took another hike last Saturday, April 28th.

This crew took a type of compass hike last Saturday, April 28th. Notice of this was mentioned in a previous column. In the following paragraphs each patrol will tell of the experiences they encountered. Each patrol was given a slip of paper and directed to a certain point. The first patrol listed was driven by car to Highway 3 about 1/2 mile from the railway crossing. At 9:55 a.m. - 10 a.m. took first compass bearing of 270° - 10:05 began to cross a strip of land but we were refused passage. The land extended back about 1/2 mile and was surrounded by brush. At 10:15 a.m. we decided to go back to the tracks. At 10:25 reached railway crossing and proceeded along towards the Heights. 10:45 reached 132 way mark between highway and Heights. We kept walking until we heard a signal shot and met Boston Ian Reilly who pointed out where we were to meet. The rest of the troop 11:15 reached camp, had lunch and went home at 1 p.m.

Canada Goose Patrol
69:45 - Given paper we proceeded to bend past Walsh's house. At 10 a.m. at bend we took 40 bearing and started walking until we saw a flag or heard a shot. We went in a straight line all the way. Of course we had to go around houses, trees, swamp and mud. We were the second patrol to arrive. Lunch and tea in the hay loft of the old farm, which is situated about one mile back of the Campsite on the Reg Holmes property (Top of the Heights) followed. We then broke camp and went home.

Blue Heron Patrol
We left at 9:40 a.m. and arrived at Royal Beach on the Chateauguay Road. We took a 240 bearing. We went through thorn bushes, a snake pit where there were about 50 to 60 snakes. Then we went through muskeg. We got to the train tracks at about 11:30 a.m. and heard the signal shot and arrived at the old farm.

FUR, FEATHERS AND FUN
It will soon be time for our boys and girls to get out the boat, oars, line, hooks and sink-bait, for that wonderful first day of fishing. But first you have to get the bait, which most likely will be the earthworm. Would you like to know something about the earthworm? It is the common inhabitant of the soil, almost everywhere you see the end of them after a rain has forced them up from their burrows. At night too, especially may see them above ground. I when the ground is damp, you have gone out at night with a flashlight looking for worms, sometimes they are stretched out on top of the grass but mostly they are half in the earth, and one has to be very quick to catch them and sometimes one has to pull quite hard to get them out of the soil. Ordinarily they stay underneath for their skins are thin and moist and the sun dries them out and kills them. They burrow through the earth in search of food, which is decaying plant material. But if the soil is tightly packed they must literally eat their way through the earth. They swallow all the soil particles that lie in the way. Within the earthworm digestive canal the food materials are separated out and used, the undigested soil is left behind in little ropes, which hold together until they are dry. You may have seen them on the ground, they are called castings. The great biologist Charles Darwin and his sons studied the activities of the earthworm with great care. He discovered that the worm regularly eat their way through the earth. They swallow all the soil particles that lie in the way. Four Police Held In Case Of Death Of A Man Arrested At A Disturbance At Napierville

Four suspended Quebec Provincial Police officers on Friday, were sent for voluntary statement May 4 by Judge Paul Hurteau who called evidence given at the two-day preliminary hearing "a tale of savagery."

In rendering his verdict, Judge Hurteau, visibly angered, slammed his fist several times on the desk and delivered a stiff lecture to the police officers.

"No one, not even a police officer, has the right to strike another person, unless in defence of their life," he cried.

The police officers involved should have other ways and means at their disposal to subdue a prisoner, he said.

The hearing ended with testimony by medicolegal expert Dr. Jean Marie Roussel — 23th witness called — that Paul Boutin, 53, 6599 Monk Blvd., died as a result of "numerous blows" and that no one injury would have caused his death.

As a result of his death, Sgt. Florent L'Andry, Cpl. Armand Gagnon and Csts. Fernand Rose and Edouard Maroni were charged with manslaughter. Maroni, in addition, was charged with perjury himself, and his hearing on that charge will be held May 4.

Arrests of the four were made on direct order of Attorney-General Lapalme two months after Boutin died in a Provincial Police cell late on the night of Feb. 4. He had been arrested following a wild brawl at the Travellers' Inn in South Shore Napierville.

The coroner's inquest into his death had concluded with the verdict that he had died as the result of violence but that blame could be attributed to no one in particular.

Middle-aged Paul Boutin was quoted as begging provincial policemen to "don't hit me any more", and getting his answer in the form of repeated kicks in the kidneys.

'A Drink Or Two'

Lucien Gendron, 40, of Woodland, Que., Boutin's fishing companion on Feb. 4, said he had been picked up at his home early in the morning. He admitted having "a drink or two" at his house with Boutin before they started off for some ice-fishing. He also admitted they had had "some" beer and "some" gin during the day while they were fishing.

"We stopped around four p.m.," he said, "and went to Boutin's brother's home. I stayed in the car and Boutin came back in about 15 minutes and we went to the Travellers' Inn. We went to the grill and had some drinks, and Boutin was talking about his fishing with some people he knew there."

It was during this time that Boutin put live minnows in his drinks and swallowed them whole, Gendron said.

Shortly after a fight started, Gendron said, "I was pushed into a toilet and told I didn't have any business in the fight. I lost my glass eye and someone gave it back to me. Then the police came."

According to Gendron, the officers handcuffed Boutin and dragged him out the hotel door by the feet. "His head hit against the cement stairs as they dragged him out," Gendron said.

"Then they dumped him into their car like you'd shove in a mattress. They put me in a second car and we were taken to Montreal."

"Boutin arrived before I did and even from downstairs I could hear him yelling at the policemen not to hit him any more. He was telling them that Paul Aubut (a well-known defence lawyer) would straighten things out."

"When we got there I saw Maroni kicking him. Someone said not to kick him anymore, that they've done enough, but he kicked and hit him four or five more times before they put him in his cell."

"I heard him breathing hard for a while and then there was silence. I thought he had gone to sleep."

Pixie Bowlers Enjoy Outing

Saturday morning ten girls, who bowled this season, accompanied by Mrs. Chamberlain enjoyed the show "Moon Pilot" down town. They then came to the Chateau-Gai Motel, where they had Bar-B-Q Chicken. Mrs. Shirley Robbie joined them here. After dinner the trophies for the year were presented. These were won by Sheila Chamberlain, who had High Average, Barbara Chamberlain for High Triple Net and Frances Kelly for High Triple Gross.

Each girl was then given a keepsake, in the form of a medallion with bowling pins and ball on it. Many thanks are due Mrs. Robbie and Mrs. Chamberlain for all their work with the girls.

Air Cadets Attend Church Service

(By M. McCutcheon)

Brian Walsh of the Basin, George Hawey of the Heights, Bob Wallace and Ronnie Hurlbut of Colonia, cadets of No. 1 West Montreal Air Squadron attended Church Service at Queen of the World Cathedral in Montreal, on Sunday, April 29th. The Squadron had slated a Church Parade to the Cathedral and St. George's Church with the rally point at Windsor Station, but owing to weather conditions the parade was cancelled. (I hear that this is the third year in a row that the parade has had to be cancelled because of rain.) I had an unexpected look at the boys as they left for Montreal and they looked trim and attractive in their uniforms which are being worn so proudly. Hear that the boys enjoyed their first flight several weeks ago at St. Hubert at which time they were allowed to take the controls. Enthusiasm is running high. Brian reported that several squadrons from New York States were in attendance. One squadron was made up of girls and Brian thought they really looked keen.

IRRESPRESSIBLE ADELAIDE

Adelaide became queen of Italy, by marriage, in 947. The Encyclopedia Americana records that this Burgundian beauty was imprisoned after her king husband's death three years later. She escaped with little delay and in 951 married Otto I, king of Germany. When he became head of the Holy Roman Empire in 962, Adelaide will be an exhibition at the Museum of Fine Arts, Gallery XII, in Montreal.

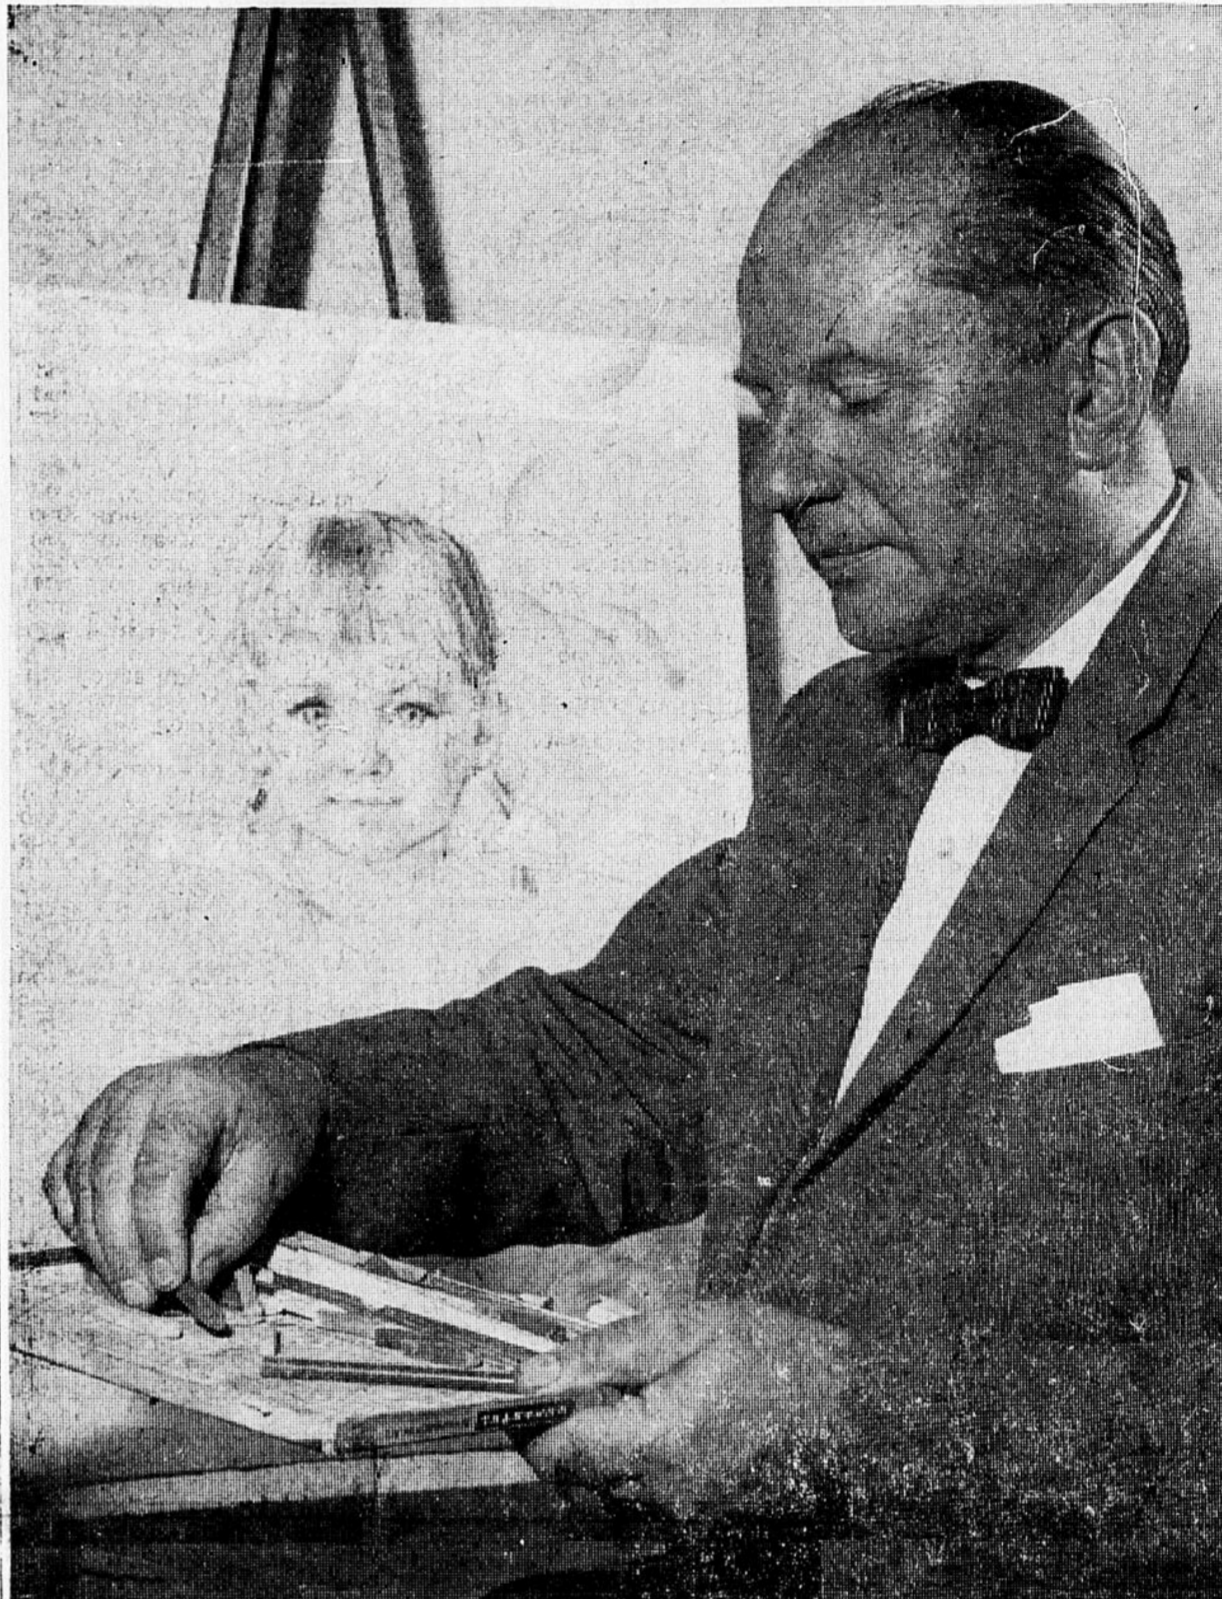

Gilbert and Sullivan Re-enacted By Chateauguay Councils

Many moons ago discussing a tripartite participation by the three Chateauguay Councils of the existing Fire Dept and Police Force, it was agreed verbally that the Town and the Centre would each assume 40% of the cost with the Heights accepting an assessment of 20% excluding capital charges. This agreement struggled for survival for months but eventually "lingered" and died without having been ratified by councils.

What has happened in the interim? The Town and the Centre have jointly operated the two forces with a Police and Fire Commission composed of members from the two councils, and the Heights also participate in the protection available on a rental basis at $750.00 per month without representation.

Now it appears there is dissatisfaction between the Town and Centre on the apportioning of the housing and administration charges. Initially the Town provided the clerical effort and the Centre the housing, but from time to time each side considered their contribution was worth more than they were receiving and therefore one raised the ante only to have the other do the same. To quote one example — the Town provides clerical effort which they now claim costs $2400.00 per annum, the Centre claim the cost should only be $1200.00. On the other hand the Centre has several times boosted the cost of housing the force and the equipment. This state of affairs could go on ad infinitum, meanwhile the Heights are on the outside of fusing layers of stained glass, will be on exhibition at the Museum of Fine Arts, Gallery XII, in Montreal.

Last week-end Mr. Wesselow was seen by friends making sketches in Huntingdon. During the height of the wind storm Saturday morning, he was observed sketching the dam. His display of stained glass panels at the Museum of Fine Arts is expected to attract art lovers and critics from afar.

they gave the inspection of the new contracts to the same consulting engineers that had made the inspection of the said water main contract in the village. Our engineer had had nothing to do with that contract, and the consulting engineers had been paid 7.5% of the cost of the works to supervise them. Our engineer can save a lot of money for the town if he makes such inspection. When the budget was prepared, this economy was part of it and now, it will certainly not be sufficient. On the water and sewer contracts, for instance the economy was in the range of $7,000,000 Combined with the possible save on gravel roads, it becomes quite important.

Here is how the engineer can help the Town make savings in costs. The works on which he is making the plans and inspection are regulated by loan by-laws. These are charged on the tax bills as improvement taxes. On these by-laws, the Town charges 7.5% of the cost of the works to pay for the engineer, his helpers and the administration. The amount saved this way is reducing the general tax. The Town takes the profit that would otherwise be made by consulting engineers.

On the other hand, the majority of the council keeps on trying to get rid of our police squad, pretending to make a tremendous saving of $500. The Town of Chateauguay is willing to take the whole administration of the squad at the cost of $2,400, which our secretary-treasurer finds very reasonable. Chateauguay Centre is refusing the offer and trying to get this price down to $200. Chateauguay will refuse the settlement, which would bring us a saving of $600, since the expenses are split in two. Just think what the efficiency of the whole business is, up to that point!

We beg the population to get interested in the municipal administration by attending the meetings and so, help run the Town the right way. And please be sure to stay until the end, because the funniest things happen there at a quarter to midnight.

Notes and Jottings
FROM
Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

The clearances were confined to the ridges and the knolls at so abundant in Dundee, and on these crops of potatoes and corn were raised, the main dependence being potash-making and lumbering. In winter the woods were dotted with lumbering shanties and an immense quantity of timber taken out. On the Pine Plains, especially, the timber was magnificent, and so abundant that it withstood the ravages of the axe for over 20 years, when plain of to-day. Men acquainted with the lumber districts of the Ottawa declare that they saw nowhere pines to compare with those west of Hungry Bay, pines so straight and uniform that they were made into masts, and sticks ranging from 80 to 120 feet long were hauled out to the lake every winter. From Moquin's bay, St. Anicet, back to the 2nd range was a main-road, and there were others, all straight and smooth, as they had need to be to permit the passing of the great spars, which would take several yokes of oxen to haul them or, as was preferred, horses in tandem. To drive the animals needed no small skill, and there were those who could boast of handling successfully 20 horses hitched in tandem to a mighty mast. Of the great lumberers were Angus R. McDonald of Cornwall, Bag & Waite, Perault, and Moquin. The last was a Quebec merchant.

The making of potash was too profitable a trade to allow the storekeepers of Fort Covington to monopolize it, so shortly after his coming, Mr. Davidson added an ashery with pearly-oven to his establishment, and Charles Marsh who had opened store beside him, did likewise. He was an American and had been a clerk in Frothingham's, Montreal, who had started him in business. He entered into partnership with Peter Cameron, who had made a reputation on Portage Island, and, after a fast and short career, failed. Frothingham started him anew, when he showed he was a changed man and did a large business so long as Dundee retained its trade, especially in the manufacture of potash and pearlash. Other early shorekeepers were McCutcheon and Wells & Cleveland. The first named committed suicide from despair over the losses in lumbering, when his clerk Norman McDonald, continued the business, and some time afterwards Patrick Buchanan added another store to the number, taking, in 1840, his brother-in-law, David Baker, as partner. Up to 1848, all these stores did a large and profitable business, which was by no means confined to trading with the settlers of Dundee. In those days tea, tobacco, whiskey, and a few lines of dry goods were much cheaper in the United States than in Canada, and these stores, all situated within a stone-throw of the lines and with buildings built half across, sold more to customers in Gienarry than Dundee. During the war when the importation of spirits from the West Indies was stopped, the American distilleries received a great impetus and they discovered the art of making mash from potatoes. By 1817 the country was overspread with small distilleries making potato-whiskey and the use of their product became general in Upper Canada. The people of the lower province continued to prefer Jamaica rum and did not begin to look at whiskey until it became so very cheap that the more ardent and palatable spirit had no chance. From 1822 whiskey gradually superseded rum, until it finally supplanted it. St. Lawrence County early became famous for its whiskey, and Franklin county, at one period, had no fewer than 17 distilleries. The chief distiller was one Parish who had a village named after him, and Parishville whiskey was known far and wide. The importation of spirits from the States, under any conditions, was then illegal, but there was no serious attempt made to enforce the law, and, on summer nights, barrels were rolled by the dozen from the Dundee storehouse into boats that conveyed them to dealers on the north side of the St. Lawrence, and in winter long strings of teams came from Gienarry and Stormont to exchange grain and pork for whiskey, tobacco, and tea. By the barrel, Parishville whiskey was sold as low as 18 cents a gallon. It is a striking fact, that not one of the merchants engaged in the traffic retained any portion of the immense profits they made for a long succession of years.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Smeall asked Mrs. Syd Mitchell to take her place for a while, however, I am afraid she took her too seriously, as now they are both in the hospital. We all hope to see them back soon in our midst. Looking back over last week we see a real Association week with three nights of activity. Tuesday night was election night and we had some lively balloting, giving you the following members in office for the coming year.

President, Mr. W. Hulshoff; Vice-President, Mr. H. Hillock; Treasurer, Mr. Y. Larose; Secretary, Mr. A. Zemel; Membership, Mr. F. Borsellino; Ladies' Committee, Mrs. E. Rankin; Sports Committee, Mr. G. Rankin; Social, Mr. T. Croft; Public Relations, Mr. R. Sylvestre.

Also at this meeting, and after the election, two trophies were donated by yours truly (W. Hulshoff) with the intention of giving some recognition to those who give so much of their time and effort to the welfare of our Association. Every year, you, Hulshoff Jr., K. Leet, R. Powis. Third and fourth places were taken by: Pussy Cats: B. Roy, I. Money Penny, Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. Euston, Mr. Rankin, Mr. Carriere, Mad Cats: Mrs. Sproston, Mrs. Willmore, Mrs. Wilkins, Mr. Cosenza, Mr. Sproston, Mr. Williams.

Prizes were awarded each of the teams. The playoffs were divided into two sections, Section "A" and "B". Section "A" was won by The Cool Cats (once more) and the Runners up being The Wild Cats (once more). Prizes for the "B" Section were: 1st: Hot Cats; 2nd: Tiger Cats; 3rd: Black Cats. Season prize winners were won by: High Average:— Ladies — Mrs. Money Penny 111.4 Men — Mr. J. Simmonds 135.2 Each Triple:— Ladies — Mrs. D. Houston 446 Men — Mr. F. Jones 493 High Single:— Ladies — Mrs. Langdale 180 Men — Mrs. Penney 180 Men — Mr. G. Ingram 243 Prizes for 69's Ladies — Mrs. Ingram; Men — Mr. Gourley.

Friday night, the final bowling and Saturday night, a well organized Bowling Banquet under the direction of your members, Don Moore, George Ingram, John Simmonds and Harold Lowe. Then we saw some proud faces in the limelight when the trophies and prizes were awarded from that well filled table. The League Winners being: 1st. Cool Cats; M. Simmonds, L. Larocque, M. Proulx, Y. Larose, A. Drake, L. Larocque, Runners up: Wild Cats: Mr. Hulshoff, D. Houston, D. Lowe, W.

It was here that my phone rang and Don Moore informed me what happened last night after I left the dance. At the height of the party we lost our friend and member Mr. G. Brown who passed away surrounded by his friends and neighbours. We all feel a very great sadness and loss and express our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Brown and her boys in their bereavement.

We are confident that our regular correspondent will be back on the firing line with the next news items — W. Hulshoff, President, West End Home Owners Association.

WORLD BANKING FIRST?

Banking history was recorded in Montreal on April 30, with the simultaneous opening of major branches of the Bank of Montreal in three of the city's new high-rise commercial buildings. Believed to be the first such triple opening anywhere, the new B of M branches were established in the 34-storey C-I-L House and the 20-storey Hydro-Quebec building, both on Dorchester boulevard; and in the 20-storey Standard Life building on Sherbrooke street.

Belated Birthday Greetings to Janet Borek who shared birthday fun with her many little friends at a birthday party last Thursday.

Anyone with odds and ends of wool that could be used to make boys' hats, etc? The Summer Fair will be coming up and I know someone that can do wonders with whatever material you have to offer.

I'd like to thank everyone for their kindness during my stay in hospital. Their many kind offers of help were most appreciated. To those who supplied and wrote up the news, sincere thanks.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Rochette of St. Denis Street on the birth of a baby girl, Lynn, 7 lbs. at Jeanne D'Arc Hospital. Sister to Michael and Danny.

Richardson Hospital Hopes To Alter Present Facilities

Plans are under study for structural changes in the building of Julius Richardson Convalescent Hospital, it was reported at the annual meeting last week.

S. R. Noble, who was re-elected president, said the Quebec Hospital Insurance Service does not provide for capital expenditures except for normal repairs to buildings. The hospital is in need of substantial structural changes to convert facilities originally installed for the use of children to the use of adults. The last general appeal for funds for this purpose fell short of the need.

In the calendar year 1961, the hospital had given 27,322 patient days of care at an operating cost, largely met by the Hospital Insurance Service, of $8.89 per patient day, a rise from $6.55 in 1960 due to salary increases and the cost of supplies.

Other officers are: vice-president, Dr. George D. Little; honorary treasurer, Lorne Webster; directors: Kenneth C. Wilson, Q.C.; W. N. Clelland, R. C. Gibson, Gordon D. Hulme and E. R. Richardson.

Word was received at the Branch Sunday of the passing of Comrade Gordon Graham Brown, Gordon was at Beauharnois attending a banquet held to close the West End Bowling Club season. He was stricken whilst dancing — one of his favorite pastimes, and his presence, his cheerful disposition and smiling countenance is going to be sadly missed by members of Branch 108 and by his many friends in the West End. Sympathy of his Legion Comrades is extended to his wife and family.

Branch 108 held a Legion Tribute at Reid's parlors Tuesday Evening at 8 p.m. and eight Legion Members acted as pall bearers at the funeral held at 10 a.m. this morning.

LEGION NOTES

Chateauguay Branch 108

The Ladies Auxiliary held a Rummage Sale last Saturday, April 28. Unfortunately two other organizations in the vicinity also chose the same date to run rummage sales and the results at the Legion were far from satisfactory.

Sunday afternoon another of the bi-weekly Cribbage Tournaments was held and with the scores keeping very even. Interest was high up to the conclusion of the final games, in marked contrast to the previous tournament, when a remarkable score was recorded of only one short of a possible. This week's winners were:

1. Chas Grant (possible 969) 939
2. Muriel Robinson 935
- Booby: Bill Parsons 857

Two more dates will finish up the season, May 13 and 27, and the entrance fee will be $1.00 for these two remaining games.

Next fall the committee intend to resume the Cribbage Tournament and put away a certain amount each fortnight for a grand prize at the end of the season for the highest score recorded.

Conspiracy
It is almost certain that the weatherman and the time keeper conspired on Sunday last to confuse everyone. The loss of an hour sleep is always a difficult thing, but when that loss was surrounded by pouring rain very few folks were able to face rolling out of bed in time for morning worship.

Sunday School
The United Church Sunday School continue their classes after the Easter recess, at the regular hour (9.45) each Sunday morning. All children are urged to keep up their attendance. Now that summer weather approaches there is always the temptation to miss Sunday School, and go fishing, etc.

Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobs were married on Saturday, April the 28th in a quiet ceremony at the United Church Vestry. Mrs. Jacobs (nee Alma Williams) was attended by Ann McConnell and Frank DeLisle was groomsmen. The Rev. K. G. Purdon conducted the ceremony.

Where's Grandma
We are not too sure! — Grandma has given us some trouble and will not be in Caughnawaga on May the 11th and 12 as announced earlier. She will be one week late (May 18 and 19). This hilarious comedy of three acts will be presented in the United Church Hall at 8 p.m. The admission will be 50¢ a person. Don't miss it. Watch for further announcements.

Sale
The Caughnawaga Youth Association have been conducting a sale of chocolate to raise funds for their work. The delicious bars of chocolate sell for 50¢ each and can be purchased from any member of the C.Y.A. It is hoped the sale will be most successful.

ABOUT PARKS AND RECREATION AREAS

"What is this life if full of care
We have no time to stand and stare"

During the past two years many acres of farmland in the district of Chateauguay have been covered with bungalows, split-levels, apartment blocks together with rows of new shopping centres to serve the growing community.

As each green field is dotted with buildings and cut up into gardens, driveways and parking areas, leaving less and less open space, one begins to wonder where it will all end and if there has been any provision made in the overall plan for parks, playgrounds, playing fields, areas along the edge of the lake where we can enjoy the cool breezes of the water in the summertime.

Our children and young adults need large enough areas to play hockey, football and baseball according to season, within easy reach of their homes as well as open spaces near the edge of the water where the older folks can sit and enjoy the view.

As regards the latter in the many miles of shoreline between the Chateauguay Beach Hotel at the mouth of the Chateauguay River and the picnic grounds at Point au Bisson about ten miles south of Beauharnois there are only two public places, one a short stone pier at Bellevue patronized by fishermen and the band stand and park in the centre of Beauharnois itself. All the remainder of the shoreline is in private hands where one is likely to be asked to leave or trespassing signs make us feel uncomfortable if we sit there to enjoy the view.

How pleasant it would be to sit on a comfortable bench in a garden area at the edge of the lake or river and feel that we really belong there, that future generations will be able to enjoy the sights of the great ships passing up and down the seaway and the sails of the little white yachts belying in the wind.

Let us stop now and consider these things before it is too late.

In hours of labour, a Russian pays about 13 times as much for a suit of clothes as does a Canadian, 30 times as much for a pair of shoes, three times as much for bread and six times as much for milk.

— Quick Canadian Facts

U.S.A.-Tests Spark World-Wide Reaction

It has happened just as we thought it would. There is far greater reaction to the resumption of A-Tests by the United States than when Russia made her tests.

Any probable effects of the Russian period of tests, should be making themselves known about this time according to the experts. However, the experts have already stated the effects during the spring rains will be very light and that a greater distribution of the fall out has taken place than was first believed. They say it may be years now before this fall out will come down to earth.

Russia apparently satisfied herself, at least for the time being, by the tests she held and these were of a very heavy type. There is no telling just how far her knowledge has been advanced as a result of these tests, or what has been learned as to military possibilities.

We must bear in mind that the U.S. was the first to come up with the atom bomb and all knowledge now obtaining, stemmed from that. It is natural then that the U.S. would not want to stand by and let others gain and which could be detrimental in the future. Knowing the uncertainty of Russia, the U.S. cannot afford to stand still, in fact it has let too much go by now, as evidenced by the race to catch up.

The world is naturally aroused by these nuclear tests and especially so in view of what happened when Russia was doing her testing. There is grave danger to future generations through the radio active fall out from these test blasts in the open. There may be great danger to the present generations if the fall out becomes too intense. Then the thought is, that the United States of all nations should not go on with the tests. If Russia does it, the feeling is that there is not much that can be done about it. There is only one way to stop the tests and that is to ban all nuclear devices except for peaceful purposes. This requires more than just an agreement, it requires world supervision in order to be sure that no one secretly experiments and stockpiles atomic weapons. Meetings to discuss this very thing have been held and have broken down without any sort of agreement being reached. The United States held off its resumption of tests and said they would not be resumed if Russia would agree to ban them.

As horrible as the thought of what might take place may be, it is hardly possible that the U.S. can stand by while Russia is making capital out of the time being wasted and making rapid gains from her nuclear tests. Naturally, the Communist world is making much ado about the United States going ahead with the tests. They went ahead with their tests first and have gained advantages by so doing. It is said that as a result of the tests made by Russia, Russia now has a weapon that can be used to intercept nuclear missiles. By having such a weapon, she is in a much more advantageous position than any other country in the world.

We may as well make the best of it and reconcile ourselves to the fact that any future war will be one in which nuclear weapons will predominate. Invading armies will only come after a country has been crushed by rockets and bombs. What they will find, is something that will not be known until after it has been experienced. It will probably be that such a country would have to be abandoned for many years on account of the radio activity and contamination.

While we feel with those who are reacting to the Tests, we also feel that it is part of our defence to continue the tests in order to prevent the possibilities of attack which may be far more dangerous. We are assured of at least this much, that the U.S. will not be indiscriminate with its tests, as Russia might be. Whether the U.S. intends tests of such proportions as those tried by Russia is not known. But we feel the U.S. will not allow her tests to get out of hand.

Demonstrations against the tests are becoming larger and more world-wide, but we do not hear of demonstrations by the peoples of the Communist countries. The protests come only from the officials. When people in these countries raise their protests perhaps then there will be a ban.

Giving The Handicapped A Place

NEXT week from May 6th to the 12th a campaign is being conducted throughout the Province of Quebec called: "Hire The Handicapped Week".

In these days of keen competition and with an outlook that there is a certain age limit for all workers to be useful, even the very fit have a tough time getting employment. For a time the young man or woman was given the most likely chance of employment. This is changing somewhat at the moment and it is being realized that quite often the older person is the more reliable and has the greater capacity for a particular job. Youth may have energy, but it often lacks experience and experience is invariably the greater factor in a job well done.

This particular campaign touches another phase of employable persons, who have strikes against them other than age and experience. These are those persons who are handicapped in some way, yet not so badly that they are incapable of earning a living and doing a good job of work. But the very fact that they are handicapped, is sufficient for some employers not to consider them under any circumstance. It is therefore that next week is an appeal period for the handicapped person to be given a chance.

A number of handicapped persons were not always that way, there are many instances that the condition came about in after years and for many reasons. It is therefore that many of these people have acquired skills which can still be put to use. What is required is that an employer will evaluate his requirements and fit them to the circumstances. By some method of adjustment, the handicapped person may be fitted into a job and give much valuable service and return. It would be impossible to say just how this could be done, for much would depend upon the knowledge of the person and what his or her particular handicap might be. Advice can be obtained from the officials at the National Employment Offices, who are dealing with just these sort of cases.

If employers would give some thought to the matter, it is just possible they could find employment for some handicapped person when next they may need extra help. There are numerous cases of where such people have been employed and they have proved themselves to be conscientious and valuable workers. With Spring opening up, there may be vacancies which could be suitably filled by the handicapped person.

The Call That Only You Can Answer

ONCE again the time has come when the people of Huntingdon and district are asked to make a special donation, one that must be made personally.

On Monday, May 14th, the annual Red Cross Blood Donors clinic will be held in Huntingdon and already a canvass is being made to secure a sufficient number of donors. For some time now, there has been a steady drain on the blood banks of the Red Cross and there is urgent need for more donors to keep the supply up to requirements. It is therefore hoped that once again, the people of this area will come forward and made this very personal donation of their own blood.

The clinic as usual will be attended by nurses and doctors as well as the Red Cross staff and all persons will be well taken care of. The giving of blood has become an everyday occurrence today and someone, at many points each day, is giving his or her blood for a very good cause and without danger to themselves.

Having a plentiful supply of blood on hand, has been the means of saving many lives that otherwise might have been lost. Giving your blood may be the reason why a life may be saved. What more worthwhile cause could you possibly support? If you have not already given your name to the committee in charge, do so now and get full particulars.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) — Iron, Power, Steel. That was the drift as the Legislature went back to work after Easter adjournment. Outside, it was unseasonably cool but the cañales were busy and spring skirts added color to the promenades.

An old idea — a tunnel beneath the St. Lawrence to connect Quebec City and Lévis — was given a fresh airing. A Lévis Chambre De Commerce report estimated it would cost $32,000,000. Armand Viau, General Manager of Metropolitan Quebec's Bureau of Trade and Industry, said two other studies are being made.

Mr. Viau said an amendment to the Trans-Canada Highway Act was being sought which would allow Ottawa to put up 75 per cent of the proposed tunnel's cost.

The massive Quebec bridge was no longer able to handle the flow of traffic to the city, he said.

Back in the Legislature, approval in principle was given a bill setting up minimum production figures on which Atlantic Irons Limited must pay royalties. The legislation would take effect in 1966.

Resources Minister René Levesque said the move is a first step in a "long, serious and arduous" revision of mining laws to provide more revenue for Quebec.

But Opposition Leader Daniel Johnson claimed the Province won't profit from the bill "on the contrary, it has deteriorated."

Atlantic Iron Ore is owned by controversial industrialist Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland, Ohio, and the Giant Krupp interests of West Germany.

Mr. Johnson said the Liberals opposed the Eaton-Krupp Company in the 1960 election campaign.

Mr. Levesque said Atlantic Iron has not started producing because The Union Nationale did not give it a permit. He said that while the Union Nationale was stalling, more iron ore reserves were discovered and Quebec lost its good bargaining position of a few years ago.

On the subject of power, Mr. Levesque again denied saying that Nationalization of Shawinigan Water and Power Company has been decided upon and a price fixed for share payments to stockholders.

But Mr. Levesque hinted that a decision will be made that will electrify The Union Nationale.

The Union Nationale questioned Premier Lesage about the fact that tenders weren't sought on a $30,000,000 loan by Hydro-Quebec recently. The Premier replied that the transaction is "not yet decided" — "five years, four per cent interest" — were too advantageous to bypass. The money was loaned by the Royal Bank of Canada.

The Premier later told members of the House of Commons in June from Lévis, a French firm studying proposed creation of a Quebec Steel Complex. The Government hopes to encourage construction of the Complex through a General Financing Corporation which would funnel money into the project.

Judge R. Roche Speaker...

The invasion plans of Canada had not changed with time. The Americans could not risk a descent on Quebec by sea and they found they had to use the classic and orthodox tactics of making a frontal approach on the Lake Champlain and western movement by way of Lake Ontario and the upper St. Lawrence... both designed to capture Montreal.

The first clash of the war showed that the defence of Canada, far from hopeless, had a sporting chance of success. General Isaac Brock commanded the troops in Upper Canada and in 1812, all hostile activities were limited to the Great Lakes, Detroit and the Niagara Peninsula... Queenston Heights with the heroic death of General Brock, the defeat and surrender of an American Force caused warfare to close in the late fall.

The year 1813 brought greater naval activity on the Great Lakes; the United States army was now authorized to raise and train 60,000 regulars... the prospect was grim for Canada.

The campaign began early in the West and several engagements took place during the spring and summer. The Americans raised York... In early October, American troops in the West were entirely on Canadian ground and it was clear that a drive would be made on Montreal along the upper St. Lawrence route with another American army from Plattsburg moving up the Richelieu valley towards Montreal. General Wade Hampton "a relic of the Revolution" would lead the right wing of the army from Lake Champlain.

Wade Hampton set off on October 21st with about 5,000 regular infantry, a squadron of cavalry and ten guns. The distance, as the crow flies, between Plattsburg and the St. Lawrence at Lake St. Francis was seventy miles. At the end of only two days, the American Force had crossed a rough and thickly wooded country and were camping on Canadian soil beside the Chateauguay stream. In front of them, were several miles of open farmland, then, a stretch of forest and swamp and again more farmland reaching to the St. Lawrence. A road ran on the west side of the river through the farms and woods.

The Lower Canada Army Command had been informed of the movement of the enemy; lieutenant-colonel de Salaberry left Caughnawaga where the militia assembled to set up a defensive position on the Chateauguay.

Letter To The Editor

Huntingdon, Que. April 9, 1962 Editor, Huntingdon Gleaner. Dear Sir,

There is much concern over the danger of fallout these days but are we not bypassing a problem as dangerous, if not more so, in the pollution of our rivers. Clean water is essential to life. Pollution is the responsibility of every citizen living along these rivers.

Reasons for lack of proper sewage treatment plants are mainly indifference and non-realization of the need. Civic-minded people should realize that we are endangering our health, being robbed of our fishing and bathing, and reducing our property values by our indifference.

The cost when investigated would not appear so prohibitive. The government will lend up to 66% of the construction cost of a sewage treatment plant and will make a gift of 25% of this amount to any municipality that finishes its work before March 31, 1963. Why refuse a gift like this? This should also be an added incentive to new business to locate here. Sincerely, DOWNSTREAM.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) Ottawa was an embarkation point for pump-priming politicians last week. They left in all directions, and by week's end political guns were thundering all over the country as the campaign for the June 18 general election got into stride.

After the longest, and one of the loudest, parliamentary sessions in Canadian history the silence on Parliament Hill was almost deafening.

Last Wednesday generally was considered the official start of the hunt for votes, although Prime Minister Diefenbaker didn't get into the arena until the following night.

Liberal Leader Pearson launched his attack in Prince Edward Island where he challenged Mr. Diefenbaker to a radio or television debate. The Prime Minister declined, saying the place for Canadian political leaders to do their debating is on the floor of the House of Commons.

T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic Party, was getting off the mark in Regina where he said that apart from Newfoundland and Quebec, the Liberals wouldn't be in the fight.

Leader Robert Thompson of the Social Credit Party got his campaign airborne the following night in Quebec City.

Expensive Campaign Here in Ottawa, the behind-the-scenes campaign workers were burning the midnight oil in preparation for the costliest and one of the slickest campaigns in Canadian history.

The Canadian Press made a survey and found all parties expect expensive to be higher than ever before.

Progressive Conservative party outlays vary from $5,000,000 to $11,000,000 in estimates already published. Estimates for the Liberals are in the vicinity of $5,000,000. There have been suggestions that the NDP will spend about $2,000,000, and a Social Credit official said his party will spend $1,500,000 on advertising and promotion.

One of the biggest changes in this campaign will be in campaign literature. There will be much more of it. Every party is planning to load up the presses with reading material. The NDP

St. Agnes

HI-C Hold Successful Crokinole Party. STE-AGNES — The HI-C Group of Zion Church assisted by Mrs. Hugh Ferguson held a successful and entertaining crokinole party in the Dundee School, on Friday evening, April 27th.

Crokinole was played at square tables, both young and old entering into the spirit of friendly competition. The young people are indebted to several local merchants for their generosity in donating the prizes which were given.

Seven games were played and those who were fortunate in winning prizes were as follows: Man's 1st, a quart of white paint donated by Mr. Lucien Quessel and won by Mr. Harold Arnold; Ladies' 1st, a cup and saucer donated by Mrs. Wesley Thomson and won by Mrs. Alma Fraser; Boys' 1st, a junior-size flashlight won by Master Larry Ferguson; Girls' 1st a Handiwork Kit won by Miss Mary Jean Cameron.

The children's prizes were purchased with money which had been donated by Mr. Geo. H. Sutton.

Mr. Harold McDonald won the man's low, and Miss Chris Sieron the ladies' low; Master Dale Ferguson the boys' low and Miss Gail Watterson the girls' low.

There were also two chair prizes, an ovenware pie-plate in the woods across the stream, where some of Purdy's men were still firing at each other, did, apparently convince Hampton that the tale was true. He immediately ordered General Izard to retire.

De Salaberry stood fast in his position awaiting the next attack by the enemy troops which were still in good fighting order — the next attack never came and at the end of three days, General Hampton returned to the border and the real battle was never fought.

About 5,000 American soldiers had been turned back by about 400 French Canadians, for we must note that the enemy never got past the first line of defence and that more than half of De Salaberry's force was not engaged at all.

Figures about casualties vary greatly — one reliable author states the Canadians lost 22 men, another one, that 2 Canadians only were killed and 14 wounded. The American loss was given as 38, but, 20 prisoners were counted and 90 scattered graves were discovered along the river banks.

Following his address on the Battle, Mr. Roach showed on maps the course of the battle and where the American troops had marched from to reach the battle ground.

To round out the evening, coffee and other refreshments were served and those who had not been able to view the house prior to the meeting, did so at this time.

will print its platform in a 30-page booklet.

Television coverage will also be far greater than in previous elections. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will carry 26 hours of free-time political talks, and all parties are planning to spend heavily to supplement this. Radio, they say, will play a lesser role.

Unemployment Lower The Dominion Bureau of Statistics issued a report showing that Canada's unemployment, passing its winter peak in February, declined to 560,000 at mid-March. The latest winter pickup in employment earlier and stronger than usual — reduced jobless totals 23,000 below the mid-February level, and 145,000 less a year earlier.

The jobless rate at mid-March represented 8.7 per cent of the labor force compared with 9.1 per cent a month earlier, and 11.1 per cent a year earlier.

Employment picked up more strongly than usual in manufacturing construction and service industries to help push the employment total to 5,894,000 up 54,000 from February. This was 4.4 per cent higher than the 5,640,000 persons employed in March last year.

An announcement from Finance Minister Fleming that more Japanese goods will be allowed into Canada this year brought a comment from the Canadian Apparel and Textile Manufacturers Association that more than 10,000 Canadian clothing workers "could be displaced" as a result of the move.

Mr. Fleming's announcement said slightly more controlled cotton textile products will be allowed in along with more radio and television tubes, plywood and rubber-soled, canvas-type footwear.

Chief Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay said last week that allegations of election irregularities in the Quebec federal constituency of Bellechasse have proven to be unfounded.

The allegations were investigated by the RCMP at the request of Mr. Castonguay after the chief electoral officer received a letter March 22 from State Secretary Noel Dorion asking for an inquiry.

The RCMP investigation was into allegations against Gerard Labrecque, returning officer for Bellechasse, of an offence under the Canada Elections Act involving printing required to be done by the returning officer for the June 18 federal election. Under the Elections Act, returning officers are forbidden from accepting any type of reward for the granting of printing contracts.

Mr. Castonguay's announcement said that "no evidence obtained during such investigations substantiated the allegation made against Mr. Labrecque."

New RCAF Chief

The RCAF is going to have a new chief of staff, Air Marshal C. R. (Jake) Dunlap, 54-year-old right-hand man to Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, will take over leadership of the air force Sept. 15.

The wartime bomber pilot from Sydney Mines, N.S., will succeed Air Marshal Hugh Campbell, 53 who is retiring after seeing the air force through some of its most trying but most successful peacetime years.

Air Marshal Campbell, a native of Salisbury, N.B., has been chief of staff since Sept. 1, 1957.

Another announcement from the defence department said that five Canadian soldiers, including an officer, are to face court-martial in connection with the smuggling of gold and opium within Indochina.

They are among the eight soldiers and two civilians accused of smuggling activity in 1961 and early this year while moving around Indochina as members of the Canadian team attached to the International Truce Supervisory Commission.

Last month, Defence Harkness told the Commons that three of the soldiers involved had been tried and convicted in Indochina. They were severely reprimanded and fined $100 each for "conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline."

He named them as Sgt. J. M. Chomagne, Sgt. W. B. Gabel and Cpl. A. J. Hill. No ages or hometowns were released, but they still are in the army.

donated by Mr. Wilbrod Marchand and won by Mrs. Malt Platt; a 4 in 1 package of 11 varieties of cookies donated by Mr. René Guernon and won by Mr. Charles Fraser.

The two door prizes, one a box of coffee candy donated by Mr. Wilbrod Marchand and won by Mrs. Lillie Watterson, and a packet of playing cards donated by one of the young people and won by Mr. Franklin Cameron.

The girls sold soft drinks during the evening. Refreshments were served and a social period enjoyed by all present. The total amount of $38.80 was realized by the HI-C from the evening. A small part of this amount will be given to the Sunday School to purchase a necessary item for Mrs. Ferguson's class.

The young people would like to take this opportunity to thank all those whose enthusiasm and cooperation contributed to the success of a very pleasant evening.

Attends Convention in New York City

Mr. Lyle L. Currie, who is the District Deputy Grand Master of the District of Franklin and Hamilton is spending this week in New York City where he is attending a Convention of the Masonic Grand Lodge.

Mr. Ken Stuck accompanied Mr. Currie as representative from the Port Covington Aurora Lodge.

The week of the Music Festival will be held in Ormstown and with it a sense of keen anticipation as to how the entries will be judged and how the many participants in the various classes will respond to this, the first Music Festival in our area.

It is amazing how in the last few years music festivals have spread from coast to coast in Canada and today, development of musical talent is recognized as a subject of cultural and spiritual value.

Three of our young people, who are piano students of Miss G. Demers of Huntingdon are taking part in the Festival. At 6:40 A.M. on Tuesday, May 1st, Mary Jean Cameron will play a piano solo in the 9 year and under class. Martha Armstrong will play twice on Wednesday, at 12:20 A.M. and 2 P.M. in the 13 year and under class. Jean Fraser is entered in the 17 year and under class and will also play on Wednesday at 4:20 P.M. The best of luck to all of you!

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Platt and family motored to Grande Ligne on Easter Monday to visit with Mrs. Platt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hart.

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Mynes will be sorry to know that she suffered from an attack of angina on the Easter week-end and is at present a patient in the Huntingdon County Hospital. A speedy and complete recovery is hoped for.

Her sister, Miss Helen Donnelly, whose home is in Saranac Lake, N.Y. is staying at Mrs. Mynes' apartment in Huntingdon.

Easter week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aniel Castagner were Mrs. Emery Haineault and two daughters of Cavazille, and Mr. and Mrs. John Derocher of Valleyfield, Que.

Miss Lois Cameron spent three days during the first part of last week at the home of her grandfather, Mr. Stewart Vaughn in Westville, N.Y.

Mrs. Franklin Cameron and Mary Jean were guests the latter part of the week at the same home.

Such a change in temperature as we have experienced this past week! It was rainy, dreary and cold on Easter Monday. On Tuesday it cleared, but remained cool. On Wednesday morning the ground was covered with snow which melted very quickly, however.

On Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton, and Wendy motored to St. Hyacinthe on business and found that in that area there was at least four inches of snow covering the ground. In fact, the snow plows had been out! And then this last week-end what contrasts in temperature! Friday and Saturday were unusually hot with temperatures in the 80's, and one almost expected a thunderstorm to roar in, but Sunday has come, and with it a return to seasonal temperature. After all, we must remember that this is only the end of April, and summer does not arrive overnight.

Farm Changes Hands Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kazulak have moved from their farm on the Ridge Road to their newly built home situated on Highway No. 4 on the outskirts of Huntingdon. Their former farm home is now occupied by Mr. Gregory Piopolis of Montreal who is the new proprietor, and who plans to carry on mixed farming.

Mrs. Gregor Leslie is spending a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lyle Currie in Bombay, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Currie and son, John of Ville Lemoyne are spending this week at the Currie home.

Home Gardening Tips

LITTLE DENMARK FLOWER SHOP

Nothing can contribute more to the appearance of your home than a beautiful, neatly-trimmed hedge. Properly selected hedges give you permanent beauty at a small financial cost. Hedges should always be wide at the base and narrow at the top. This is particularly important with an evergreen hedge if the lower branches are to thrive and become dense. The lower branches need sunlight and air as much as the upper ones, and so the plants should be trimmed so that the lower branches extend farther than the top branches and are exposed to sunlight. Deciduous hedges should be severely clipped right after planting. This will keep them within the desired bounds of growth and will also make them densely branched all the way to the ground. Most deciduous hedges should be clipped almost to their base at once, so they will branch well. This will prevent any bare spots from appearing. The best site for young deciduous hedges to be used as hedges is between 1 1/2 and 3 feet. After they are severely trimmed at planting, deciduous growers should be trimmed several times during the first season. During the second season they should be cut to one-half their height. From then on they should be cut back and trimmed regularly. If you are using an evergreen hedge, plants that are well established at the base, then keep them trimmed as they grow and branch. Never prune back a hedge that has no leaves, or the hedge will die. The upward growth of young hedges should not be retarded, so the tops cannot be clipped as much as the sides. Until the hedge has reached the desired heights you need only clip the top growth occasionally, just enough to make the hedge dense. Once the hedge has reached the ultimate size the top and sides can be trimmed together. Few hedges succeed in heavy shade, particularly when near the trunks of trees. They need a good bed, with rich loam and lots of manure. One of the most popular and practical deciduous hedges is Amur Privet. Many people like both the Green and Red Japanese Barberry. Korean Box is unequalled for a low hedge or edging flower beds.

Enjoy Trip Abroad

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Kozak (Janet Barber) of Quebec City have just returned from a most interesting trip abroad. They left Dorval Airport the first week in April and travelled by O.A.C. to London, England. Janet remarked that the air trip over was simply fantastic, and on perceiving the Scottish terrain she was much impressed with its similarity to that of the Eastern Townships, with its rolling landscape and pastoral regions. Dr. Kozak journeyed to London to attend an Industrial Doctors' Convention. He is Medical Advisor attached to the Anglo-Pulp and Paper of Quebec City whose parent company is in England. Dr. Kozak is also associated with Jeffrey Haile Hospital in Quebec where he is a well-known surgeon. During Dr. and Mrs. Kozak's stay in London the Company car was at their disposal at all times. A beautiful suite in a fashionable hotel had been reserved for their use and they were also guests of honour at a dinner and theatre party. Although the London weather during their stay was damp, cold and rainy, the warm reception given them was such that weather played an unimportant role. Among such interesting and historical places visited were Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, the Tower of London and Canterbury Cathedral. Dr. and Mrs. Kozak also spent the better part of a week in Paris where they enjoyed to the full this famed and celebrated City. They returned home on Monday, April 16, having begun their return flight at 8 A.M. and arriving at Dorval International Airport at 3:30 P.M. Such is the accelerated speed of travelling in our modern world of jets!

Miss Vivian Villeneuve and Miss Nicky Hood of Cornwall, Ont. are spending this week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leslie. Easter week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Olive Arnold and Harold were Mrs. Alex Anderson of Cornwall, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cole and son, David of Cumberland, Ont., and Master James Chambers of Kars, Ont.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting, assisted by Mrs. C.B. Edwards as co-hostess. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Sample.

A Happy 90th Birthday Party

A most enjoyable and happy luncheon party was held on April 8th, at the Westmount home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lucas, in honour of Mrs. Anthony's mother, Mrs. Helene von Kohner, who celebrated her 90th birthday on April 10th. Twenty-two members of the family were present, among them a grandson from New York City with his wife and two children, three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Messages, gifts and telegrams were received from the three grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren who reside in Mexico, Italy and Hungary. The luncheon table was gaily decorated with bows of multi-colored spring flowers and candelabra. After the Reverend Father G.G. Kohner of St. John the Evangelist, Montreal, (a great-nephew of Mrs. V. Kohner) had given the toast and the delicious birthday cake made by the oldest granddaughter, Mrs. Cote, herself the mother of four children, had been cut and the candies blown out, Mrs. V. Kohner was presented with a large, mounted picture of all nineteen great-grandchildren, (with room left for the twentieth, whose arrival is imminent.) Many other lovely gifts were presented and there were more than a hundred letters and telegrams, and many beautiful flowers. Among the greetings were several from friends in Hemmingford who are looking forward to presenting them in person when Mrs. V. Kohner returns in mid-May with Mr. and Mrs. Lucas to the summer home on Covey Hill.

Mr. Roger Bouchard, the newly chosen Secretary-Treasurer of the Township, is a Civil Servant in the employ of the Customs and Excise Department of the Federal Government at Blackpool. He is also president of the Hemmingford Catholic School Commission and Vice-President of the Hemmingford Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion. Mr. Bouchard is a worthy cause. Hemmingford Firemen Busy

The annual, early Spring pastime of so many people, that of setting fire to their property and to some times that of their neighbours too — in full swing, and Hemmingford Firemen have had their hands full for the past five days and are answering the inevitable call when the wind has taken control and the fire has threatened, and in one case, burned, nearby buildings. On Thursday morning April 19th, a serious blaze broke out in the grinding room of the new Co-operative Federe Building at St. Errington and soon flames were roaring up the grain elevator. A call was put through to Hemmingford for help and within minutes the men were on their way. The elevator was completely burned out and there was much damage but a great part of the newly erected building was saved. A grateful word of appreciation was later received from the Manager who said that had it not been for the quick-thinking action of Assistant-Chief Norman Fortin in placing his ladders so that the men could get above the blaze and aim their streams down into the heart of the fire, the damage would, no doubt, have been much greater. Altogether nine calls were received by the Brigade in the past five days.

Wesley-Knox United Church Women

The regular meeting of the Wesley-Knox United Church Women was held on Wednesday afternoon, April 11th, at the home of Mrs. Aaron Stewart, with ten members and one guest present. President Mrs. A. Stewart presided over the business meeting and took the Devotions assisted by Mrs. W. Potter. It was decided to hold an auction sale at the next meeting. Two new members joined the organization at this meeting. During the work period a reading was given by Mrs. W. Robinson and several quilt blocks were made.

Big Band Festival To Be Held At Valleyfield, May 12th And 13th

The City of Valleyfield and the Union Musicale Band of this City will be hosts to some fifteen of the smartest and better known schools bands in the province at the annual contest which will take place on Saturday and Sunday, May 12th and 13th. Fifteen school bands will participate in this first musical contest ever to be held in Valleyfield. The secretary of the Amateur Quebec Band Association, Mr. Maurice Coutu, of Shawinigan, said that such an imposing group of school bands grouped under one roof is probably a unique feature in the musical annals of our province. Mr. Coutu added that there is a possibility that this number may even be increased before contest time. School bands will invade Valleyfield from every corner of the province: Dolbeau, Asbestos, Shawinigan, Montreal, Drummondville, etc. 75 prominent soloists will compete in different categories, depending on their ages. They will attempt to win one of the many special prizes awarded to each group of youngsters. Music lovers, parents, their friends and all the population of this area should make it a point to reserve Sunday evening, May 13th, for the gala musical night at Valleyfield Arena, where these outstanding school youngsters will give an exhibition of their talent. Soloists will be heard on Saturday at Gault School Auditorium. School bands will be featured on Sunday afternoon.

Distribution of prizes will take place at the gala concert on Sunday evening at Valleyfield Arena. Reserved tickets for this performance are presently on sale and can be obtained from the members of the Union Musicale Band or again at different stores in the City of Valleyfield. Further and complete data in a coming edition of this newspaper.

Robbery Attempt In Valleyfield

VALLEYFIELD — Four bandits tried a robbery at the L. Gendron Enterprise in Valleyfield, on Friday night, April 20th, at about 10.30 p.m. One of them broke a window to enter the building and opened the door for the others. They then threatened the watchman, Mr. Eugene Leroux of St-Polycarpe, by pointing a gun at him and ordered him to open the safe. Where, fortunately no money had been left; and the safe was not even closed. The bandits asked for cigarettes, but at this moment, someone knocked at the door, and the watchman answered that everything was in order. However the police were not satisfied with this calm answer, and another policeman was at the other door, on the opposite side. It was then that they were notified that the place was occupied by armed robbers and they called for reinforcement. During this operation, the bandits became alarmed and escaped through a window, across the railroad tracks, in direction of Canadian Schenley. Several shots were fired but no one was hit, it was too dark and the distance too far.

The bandits are still at large and the local Police are investigating. The proprietors of the En Gros Groceries are Mr. Marcel and Mr. Roger Turcotte. Constables Richard Himbeault and Claude Hebert were first at the robbery scene, which is located at the New-York Central later Armand Fortier and Claude Couillard joined them and with the reinforcement came Roger Masse, Raoul Fortier, Lt. Sylvio Chabigny and René Chevrier. Mr. Eugene Leduc, of the Provincial Police, offered his service to retrace the facts and actions of the four bandits. An area around the Rang Ste-Marie Salaberry and Bassin was encircled, but with no result. This action was taken after the police had received a call saying that something was going on in that sector.

Due to the fact that it was "Good Friday" the robbers had assured watchman Leroux, that no harm would be done to him. However, despite this good intention, the search is going on to trace them!

Double depreciation for investment in new products extended for one year to Jan. 1, 1964.

Spiers-Miller Revue Very Successful at Howick

HOWICK — The Springtime Revue of the Spiers-Miller Studio was presented in the Howick H.S. auditorium on Saturday night, April 28, and was enjoyed by a large and very appreciative audience.

The stage was very attractive, the decorations being sprays of flowers, branches and pussy-willows. Mrs. Douglas Lambie and her committee are to be congratulated on the lovely background.

The Snow White drama was the highlight of the evening. It was given entirely by the pupils from the Spiers-Miller Studio, some being only three years old. They were dressed to represent fairies, bunnies, squirrels, dwarfs, etc., and the picturesque costumes added greatly to the beauty of the pageant. Most of the children did singing and dancing acts, while Snow White and the Fairy Prince each did a solo dance and sang. The final scene, when the stilet ballet dancers surrounded the Prince and Snow White, presented a very lovely picture and a real delight to the audience.

Another especially lovely scene was given by three soloists from Montreal and a senior group of students. The solos were Ave Maria, How Great Thou Art, and

The Whole Wide World in His Hands, this was followed by the Lords' Prayer, sung by all and beautifully enacted by the girls.

Other items were solos by Mr. Peter Cooney, Miss Teresa Norman, Russell Kelly, Mr. Lorne Leighton, Mr. Peter Miller and little Judy Currie danced "Me and My Shadow" by special request, while Mr. Ross Patton delighted all with his special numbers, especially the Cha-Cha danced with one of the dancing pupils as his partner.
