Great Interest Shown in Artificial Insemination

Large Attendance at Meeting Held at Ormstown On Saturday

Testifying to the deep interest that farmers have in the matter of artificial insemination, the McDougall Hall, Ormstown, was well filled on Saturday afternoon, for the meeting called to discuss this subject. Mr. B. A. Rankin was in the chair and with him were Mr. J. A. Brown and Mr. H. Crutchfield. After explaining the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Rankin called upon Mr. Radway, County Agent, Malone, N.Y., to introduce Dr. M. Johnson, Manager of the State Artificial Insemination Unit at Ithaca, N.Y., who was the first speaker.

Mr. Radway gave an outline of how the first local units came to be formed at Syracuse and how over the years they had been developed and finally came under State control and headquarters were moved to Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., with Dr. Johnson in charge. Dr. Johnson went on to explain that first introduction of the method of artificial insemination was made in New York State by the formation of two local units. These were found to be impractical because of the great expense in operating and the inability to give good service. Many points were learned as to the more efficient operation of the service and it was finally organized on a local basis and with a set of regulations to cover localities. It is now required that each local in order to affiliate with the State organization, must have a minimum of 800 cows. Each individual member of a local must have 20 cows, pay a membership fee of $5.00 and $1.00 for each of the cows, making a total of $25.00. The service fee is $5.00 per cow and three services are given if required for a cow to conceive. If more are required an additional fee is charged for the extra services. In the event that a member wishes to withdraw, the initial fee is returned to him.

This organization is working mostly with Holstein bulls, they also work in a small way with Guernsey, Jersey and Ayrshire. In selecting the bulls for breeding, a bull committee is set up and each of the breeds are represented on the committee. This committee makes the selection of the bulls from whom extractions are to be made. The average bull will give 5 c.c. of semen and this is diluted 100 times. Bulls cannot be depended upon after 12 years of age as they are generally not fertile after that age. Young bulls have been found to be the most fertile. The bulls are usually of proven type, but no choice of bulls is allowed at present. The Holstein semen goes out to the localities four times each week while with the other breeds it goes out one or two times each week. Each local has a supply of semen on hand so that it can supply the needs of the members each day and usually has the samples of two bulls. The semen will live for about three days and cows can be bred up to 18 or 24 hours after heat. It is better that they should be bred within 6 hours as better results can be obtained.

It has been found that cows bred by the artificial insemination method rear daughters that give increased production. It has been known that a daughter will give as much as 45 pounds over the dam's record of production. Artificial insemination holds a good level of production and for this reason is a better method than by natural means. In measuring the percentage of cows conceiving under this method it has been found that 80 percent conceived on the first service. It has been found that artificial insemination aids the small herd owner where no bull is kept, as with larger herds a bull is usually kept and the owner prefers to make use of it.

Dr. Johnson said it was better to organize on a state or country-wide basis as it was easier to work among the herds and at less expense for travelling. The inseminators all took a course in the work at Cornell and are paid on a fee basis and not on a wage basis. The bulls are purchased on a contract basis worked out to the productivity of the animal for the purpose for which it is bought. So much is paid down on the animal and then deferred payments for the balance. If it is found that the bull is not up to specifications, no more is paid on it.

A great number of questions were asked Dr. Johnson and he answered all to the satisfaction of those present. This question period lasted for some time and showed the great interest that those at this meeting had in the subject at hand.

Mr. W. L. Carr introduced the next speaker, Mr. W. G. Keefe, President of a club at Maple, Ont., which had a battery of 7 bulls. Mr. Keefe said the farmers in his district had decided to form an Artificial Breeding unit and this club had not yet completed two years of operation. They organized by setting an objective of 100 members and had a membership of 400 now with a minimum of 1,000 cows. They obtained 121 paid-up members. They purchased bulls and obtained 59% results on first service with 3 points higher on listed herds. Most of the members were those who had had breeding troubles in their herds. The method proved to be good for cows all right for breeding and those that were not all right it was proved to be better. In 1946 the club had 238 members and no effort was made to obtain members, it was the success of the venture that caused new members to seek admission to the club. During the year 2,254 cows were bred.

Mr. Keefe said it is necessary to have volume to make the scheme a success and to have a center to work from which is not too far away from any point. Farmers should notify their club before 9 o'clock in the morning when they required cows to be bred as in this way they could be more sure of getting service that day. The club employed five full time technicians and one part time. Veterinarians are employed but no practice work is done by them outside of the club activities. They had found that a veterinary could not do this work with his regular practice and the breeding work had to wait while he was available. First, thus when a cow should be serviced, it could not be and the idea would be lost as well as bring numerous complaints. The inseminators are trained to make the service and do not give advice. If such is needed a veterinary should be consulted. In the case of problem cows a veterinary should most certainly be called.

Artificial insemination, said Mr. Keefe, practically eliminates the spread of disease. All equipment is sterilized and a separate tube is used for each cow. The inseminator wears his boot apron and such equipment before leaving the barn so that precautions against spread of disease are taken. The fee charged by the club is $5.00 for three services, $1.00 each for the 4th and 5th and if the cow does not then conceive, the cost is repeated. The average cost of the bulls in their barn was over $650 but under $700 each. Definitely there was no selective breeding. This year the club is planning to build new barns and to purchase new equipment and they expect to breed 5,000 cows.

A number of questions were asked of Mr. Keefe and he answered them to apparent satisfaction.

Mr. Hodges, a technician who was present and interested in the plan in Britain and other countries he had visited recently with an idea to learning all he could about this new method. When he was in England it was expected that the whole country was to be serviced by the artificial insemination method for dairy cattle. In Denmark both Veterinarians and laymen were used for insemination and the work was done under a co-operative system. Tubes, capsules and pellets were used with success. The inseminators were given a course at agricultural schools and were quite proficient at their work when the course had been completed.

Mr. Lajoie, Secretary of the Holstein-Friesian Association, spoke on the subject and explained that the Agricultural Dept. at Quebec were making out a programme at the present time with the organization of a province-wide artificial insemination project in mind. He was of the opinion that better bulls should be bought and a higher

Dundee Woman Named Q.W.I. Delegate to Holland Conclave

Among the items of business discussed at the semi-annual board meeting of the Quebec Women's Institute held in Montreal recently was the convention of the A.O.W.W. to be held in Amsterdam, Holland, this September. By unanimous vote the Provincial President, Mrs. Chas. W. Smallman of Dundee, was appointed to represent the province of Quebec at that gathering.

The province of Quebec is entitled to five votes and is also allowed an opportunity to submit ideas for the program. The suggestion was made that it might be well, in view of the growing strength of the organization, to urge more publicity be given to the viewpoint of rural women by all available channels such as the press and radio. Farm women all over the world have played a very vital part during the war years and it was felt more recognition should be given to their help and influence which is still needed in these critical days of adjustment.

The many friends of Mrs. Smallman will be pleased to learn of the honor which has been given her. While overseas Mrs. Smallman hopes to visit relatives and friends in England.

10 Cents Boost On Butter Due

Expected With End of Subsidies on April 30

Ottawa, (CP)—An increase of 10 cents more a pound in the retail price of butter, if the current 10-cent subsidy on butterfat is dropped April 30, appeared to be a foregone conclusion in the light of a statement made in the Commons by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Discussing the butter subsidy, Mr. Gardiner told the House any price changes on dairy products would be announced "shortly before" May 1 and at the same time assure the House that the Government had "no intention of reducing the return which farmers would be receiving from May 1 on, as compared with what they had received just prior to May 1."

"As to what form the payment will take," he added, "I am not in a position to say at the present time."

Mr. Gardiner was replying to R. E. Drope, Progressive Conservative member for the Ontario riding of Northumberland, who asked specifically whether the ceiling price on butter would be raised to take the place of the disappearing subsidy.

The minister's response was interpreted here as an indication that a price increase is planned and that it will take effect May 1. The present retail butter ceiling, varying in the different localities across the country, is around 44 to 46 cents a pound.

The question of whether or not the subsidy should be abolished is currently under study by the Advisory Committee on Agriculture and there have been official intimations—including Mr. Gardiner's statement—that it will be dropped.

It was noted that Mr. Gardiner referred to price changes on "dairy products" and this tended to substantiate recent reports that prices on cheese and some other lines in addition to butter also will advance.

It was thought possible the government would increase the ceiling beyond the 10 cents necessary to take care of the subsidy payment and add a few extra cents which would increase the financial return to the producer and serve as a stimulus to greater production.

Then, if output increased sufficiently on the new price basis, the next step likely would be the abolition of rationing, possibly in June, the period of highest production. It was pointed out in some quarters that if the ration is not dropped this summer the government will be forced to continue it until the summer of 1948 because this step could not be taken during the low production months of next winter.

Early Days of Malone Congregational Church

The following is a synopsis of a manuscript recently sent to the Presbyterian Historical Society through the courtesy of the Rev. C. A. Rowat, the pastor of the Malone Church, N.Y. It concerns the late Rev. Ashbe Parmelee, who was pastor of the Congregational Church, Malone from 1808 to 1845. The church was organized in 1807, one year before Rev. A. Parmelee was licensed to preach and three years before he was ordained to preach in the church. The Rev. A. Parmelee died on May 24th, 1862, one year before the Gleazer was founded.

The article is titled "Pioneering in Northern New York" and has to do with some of the trials and tribulations of this man and his work in connection with the Presbyterian faith. It tells how this man felt that he should take up the ministry as his life's work and set about acquiring an education that would benefit him to take on the task. His health was impaired and he gradually lost his sight and with it the hope that he would ever become a minister. He was ordained to the ministry and he accepted without the knowledge that he desired. He felt that this was a mortification of his pride, but realized that the advice was tendered to him with all the kindness of a physician to a patient. The arrangement was accepted and after three years of experiment he was finally licensed by the Rutland Association. During his time of learning he made use of the eyes and voices of fellow students to acquaint him with the theological books he himself could not read. For this he was truly grateful. He trembled for himself when he realized what the covenant of his commission meant to him and he knew of the magnitude of the responsibility that he was to undertake. But it was a great day for him. Having entered the arena, he was licensed to carry it out to the best of his ability. After serving at several points, he finally came to the newly organized town of Malone, N.Y., at the request of a deputation of friends from that point. His wife's parents resided there and he accepted without the expectation of a permanent stay.

The part of the country at that time was subject to much sarcasm and laughter and was called the "Siberian region, the wolf, bear and panther region." He remarks that many of these animals were killed for the bounty on them and he suspected that many which never existed or which exist still, were claimed for on account of the bounty. He said it cannot be denied that the section had its quota of rascals. When he first entered Malone, he was greeted here and there by the reflection of a candle light to cheer him after he had travelled a tedious ride through the woods.

His first Sabbath came and he preached in a small dwelling house, to about 50 or 60 people who had travelled on foot through the woods to hear him. The next Sabbath Chertsey and his wife were the only ones attending the service, which was held in an unfinished school, and there was friendship smiling in the faces of all present. The preaching went on for about three months, only on Sundays, but throughout the week in log school houses and in log kitchens. At the end of this time an offer was made for Rev. Parmelee to settle permanently and a pledge of a salary of $400, one-fourth in money and three-fourths in produce of the country.

The ordination took place with the Rev. Mr. Haynes, a colored preacher, taking the service. He took as his text, "Master, we have toiled and we have not anything, nevertheless at this word I will let down the net." Mr. Haynes was given many a sneer; but his fishing sermon was one of the finest that Rev. Parmelee had ever heard. He said, "If all white preachers would give the same glowing words to the truths of the gospel which was obvious in this sermon, I am sure they could not fail of being admired."

In those first days he surveyed the territory assigned to him and saw the great need for the other small churches in the large area, but he felt distinctly lonely. For several days he suffered from depression of spirits which his poor wife, an engineer, a veterinarian, a horticulturist, etc. The second picture, "Magic in Agriculture," outlined the many uses of farm produce and residue in other industries. There was also an entertainment movie "Gold Cup Races" showing the high-powered speed boats in competition at Detroit in 1946.

Door prizes were donated by Messrs. Holm and Atkinson and the winners were Mr. L. McCallum and Mr. L. Cairns.

Mr. E. Taschereau, District Manager, and Mr. T. J. Madden, Superintendent of Sales Promotion also addressed the gathering.

The meeting concluded with the serving of refreshments which were supplied by Tedstone's Bakery and Restaurant and served by the staff. The consensus was that everyone had an instructive and enjoyable evening.

Only $1,512.87 Raised of $4,000 Red Cross Objective

A report has been received as to the progress of the Red Cross Campaign in Huntingdon, to the effect that only $1,512.87 of the objective of $4,000 has been reached to date. Only a third of the canvassers have been heard from at this time, but it is hoped that by next week a more detailed report can be given. In the meantime all are urged to give their support to the campaign by giving as generously as they are able.

Stress Canadian Dollar is Worth 100 Cents U.S.

Ottawa, (CP)—Concerned over the exchange losses which Canadian tourists are taking in the United States, the Foreign Exchange Control Board will soon issue a pamphlet stating, in simple terms, that the Canadian dollar is worth one dollar U.S.

It will also point out, for the benefit of U.S. merchants, gasoline station operators, etc., the procedure which can be followed for exchanging Canadian dollars into U.S. funds whether in Canada or the United States.

While it will be designed primarily for the benefit of Canadians intending to visit the U.S., FECB officials admit the pamphlet will be designed to give Canadians who handle Canadian funds, the facts.

"It has always been difficult to dispose of Canadian currency in some parts of the United States, chiefly because they are not accustomed to handling it, an official told The Financial Post.

Canadian Exchange at 10 and 11% in Malone Banks. The discount on Canadian money has risen to 10 and 11% in the Malone banks. The change is said to be due to the increase in the exportation of Canadian goods to the United States.

Weather Permitting Band Will Parade Thursday

While the weather prevented the Boys Band from parading last Thursday afternoon, it is intended that this parade will take place this Thursday afternoon if the weather permits. Give the boys a cheer when they are out and see them in their new uniforms, they are certainly very smart.

On Saturday the band will make the journey into Montreal by Provincial bus to take part in the festival at the Forum. They will have a part in the massed bands concert and they will also parade along the streets in Montreal. It is almost certain that this band will arouse comment among those who will witness the parade and cheer as their uniforms are quite outstanding and in the past few weeks their playing has become almost perfect. The boys are looking forward to this event with great excitement and anticipation and it is felt that they will do very well.

Farm Meeting Proves Great Success

McColl-Frontenac Sponsor Meeting at High School

A Farm Meeting was held in the Huntingdon Academy on Thursday evening, April 17th, under the sponsorship of Messrs. W. Atkinson, Consignee of McColl-Frontenac Oil Company Limited, and E. J. Holm, McColl-Frontenac Oil Company Limited Dealer.

The meeting was held in the gymnasium of the Academy which was very well decorated for the occasion with attractive banners and displays. There was also a product display set up on the stage.

The gymnasium was well filled with farmers and their families from Huntingdon and the surrounding area.

Three moving pictures were shown. The first, entitled "Just a Farmer," soon proved that the title was a MISNOMER because it clearly indicated that today a successful farmer had to be an agronomist, an engineer, a veterinarian, a horticulturist, etc. The second picture, "Magic in Agriculture," outlined the many uses of farm produce and residue in other industries. There was also an entertainment movie "Gold Cup Races" showing the high-powered speed boats in competition at Detroit in 1946.

Indian Patent Deeds Can Now Be Secured For Dundee Lands

Long Time Misunderstanding Has Now Been Cleared Up — No Further Payment Required

Mr. Alpha Leblanc, owner of a 100 acre lot of land in the 5th and 6th Ranges of Dundee and who for the last number of years has been living in Valleyfield, has at last been able to establish the fact that he is entitled to receive an Indian Patent Deed from the Dept. of Indian Affairs for his property which he has recently sold to Mr. Elie Quenneville of St. Agnes de Dundee. The matter of the issuing of Letters Patent on this particular farm has been hanging fire since 1938 when a delegation from the Dundee Council went to Ottawa in company with Mr. D. E. Black, M.P. Instead of costing him upwards of $200.00 for old rent claims and interest the whole thing can be cleared up without any cost whatsoever. The Dept. heads claim that it will in all probability take six weeks before the formalities are completed with and Leblanc receives his deed.

This matter is more than one of just passing interest as quite a number of lots in Dundee Township remain unpatented due to the negligence of former owners. This need not be, as with proper application and proof of ownership, etc., the necessary Indian Land title deed can be had without charge. However, should any landowner lose his original deed, by paying the nominal sum of $5.00. Needless to say both Leblanc and Quenneville are very pleased that the proper Deeds are about to be issued, thus allowing the sale negotiations to proceed to their logical conclusion.

No Candidates Named Yet For By-election

Some rumors have been circulating the past week as to the names of possible candidates for the forthcoming by-election in Huntingdon County to fill the seat in the Provincial Legislature made vacant by the death of the late J. O'Connor, Mr. John Sullivan, K.C. of Montreal, was named as a possible candidate for the Union Nationale Party, in the rumors, but on enquiries being made the Gleazer was informed that this is not so. Associated as possible candidates for the Liberal Party were the names of Mr. Gilbert McMillan, Mr. Erle Martin and Mr. W. L. Carr. While anyone of these men might be willing to consider standing for candidate, not one is definitely assured that he will be the choice, as no convention has been held and therefore no selection has been made.

Safety Week In Huntingdon

May 12 to 17 Selected For This Event

A "Safety Week" is being planned to take place in Huntingdon, during the week of May 12th to 17th, with special events on May 12 and 13. The week is being sponsored by the Quebec Safety Leagues and it is hoped that executives of firms in Valleyfield, Ormstown and Huntingdon will join in making this a successful affair.

It is the first time that such an event has been sponsored in Huntingdon and it is hoped that all citizens will join in the spirit of the thing and do all they can to promote safety on the streets, in the home at the office and in the various industrial occupations of these three towns. Special movies will be shown to the school children with "Safety" being the theme all the way through. The co-operation of all is being sought to make this week a complete success.

More details of this will be given in subsequent issue of The Gleaner.

Young Bull Arrives In Jamaica

In speaking with W. A. S. Ayer at this week, he informed the Gleazer that the young bull Abbecker Rag Apple Emperor, that was shipped by plane to Kingston, Jamaica, recently, arrived there in good condition and the owner is well pleased with his purchase. In passing through New York inspection before being loaded on the plane, an inspector there remarked that it was one of the finest animals he has inspected so far.

The above is the first photograph taken of the members of the Huntingdon Boys' Band in their new uniforms. There is no doubt that this band has a very smart appearance and is something to be proud of. Don Moore, the bandmaster, is to be congratulated on the effort and time he has spent in training these boys and stimulating interest in the movement. The following are the members of the band, reading from left to right and from the

Missing where the picture was taken were: Duncan Rankin, Stuart McDermid, Ronald Bingley and Stewart Tedstone. The total number in the band is 39.

Permission for a parade of the Girl Guides and Scouts was granted for Friday afternoon. This was brought to the attention of the meeting by the Mayor.

The change over from Standard Time to Daylight Saving Time will take place on Saturday, April 26th, at midnight, according to a resolution passed by the council. A notice to this effect appears elsewhere in this issue.

Huntingdon, Wed., April 23rd, 1947

The Red Cross Campaign Here

ALTHOUGH the Red Cross annual drive for funds across the Dominion is over, there are many communities such as Huntingdon where the campaign is only just getting under way.

This is not a bit like the people of Huntingdon, as they have always been great supporters of the Red Cross during the war years and in 1945 raised a total of $9,774.56.

The people of Texas never thought they would be in the midst of a great disaster, but they were, and the Red Cross was immediately on the spot to give assistance and bring medical supplies, clothing, etc.

We must not look at our position now, we must look ahead and be prepared for what might happen. If we are in the fortunate position of not needing such assistance, we should be all the more willing to lend our help to those who are worse off.

Housing Still in Demand

IT is quite possible that many new houses will again be built in Huntingdon this year, but it is debatable whether they will meet the need that still exists.

Suggestions have been made that the huts at the barracks could easily be converted into bungalows if it were possible for the individual to buy them for himself.

Huntingdon is growing in a gradual way from year to year and with the type of industry that exists here, it will continue to grow.

go into effect it will be possible to obtain a higher percentage of loan for building new homes. It may also be that insurance companies will develop a plan for building houses for rental purposes as the government has proposed a plan of assistance whereby houses can be built in this way.

There is no doubt that the matter of housing stills needs consideration.

Recreation Association Meeting

THE annual meeting of the Huntingdon Recreation Association will be held at the County Building, on Thursday evening, when it is hoped that there will be a good attendance of interested citizens.

It has been a hard year for the director because he has not received as much support as was expected. Persons qualified to lead groups were not always forthcoming and without this assistance it is almost impossible for the director to do as much as otherwise could be done.

It is really too bad that one or other of both of the swimming pools at the barracks should be lost to this community, as they would provide much toward providing a place where the younger people could be taught to swim and come under the recreational facilities of the town.

Organizing the older people as was first thought possible, seems to have met with poor response. In consequence the latter part of the first year of the formation of the association has been given over to the younger people.

The Bennie Cocia Field has done much toward building a greater community spirit among the younger boys and girls of town and there is still a need for more of this spirit.

Artificial Insemination Interests Farmers

JUDGING from the interest and attendance at the meeting at Ormstown to discuss the new methods of breeding for dairy cattle, held on Saturday afternoon, we would say that there is every possibility that something will be done in this district.

There was plenty of information handed out by the speakers at the meeting and all spoke of artificial insemination getting better results than the natural method. In most cases it was proven that the production of the heifer born of a dam bred in this manner was increased over that of the dam.

The service that can be given by one of these units means much to the small herd farmer and gives him the opportunity of better breeding results without the necessity of keeping a bull on the premises or of obtaining the services of a bull for regular breeding.

is advisable that all farmers study the points and be ready to make his own decision when the time comes.

The Texas Disaster

THE great explosion that occurred in Texas the past week brings to mind the disaster under similar conditions at Halifax. We in Canada can therefore sympathize with our American cousins in the loss that they have sustained, although not as great as the one experienced here.

One American soldier stated that he had not witnessed as great a havoc during the war as he witnessed at Texas. It was terrible, he said. Explosions followed one another as fire was caused that spread to oil refineries and chemical plants. The blast was felt for 75 miles distant and the whole of the city was shattered.

not much will ever be learned as to the true cause, as those who would know are in all probability victims of the blast. It would seem however, that when ships are laden with high explosives such as the one in question apparently was, they should be sent to ports that are in less congested areas.

Until the investigation has run its course, it will be hard to say just what may be found out about this disaster, but it is to be hoped that enough facts will be found to prove that it was just an accident and not a deliberate plot.

What is Money?

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

What is money? That may sound like a silly question, but it is doubtful if the average individual can answer it, except in a superficial way, by saying that it is made up of coins and bills stamped by public authority for use as a medium of exchange.

"There is too much money about in this country," says G. L. Schwartz in an article entitled "Money Illusions," which appeared in a recent issue of the Sunday Times (London). "Never," he says, "has the private sector of the economy been more solvent financially, and more hard up in real terms. Most farmers are out of debt, industrial concerns have large reserves, the banks are highly liquid, and many families have substantial holdings in certificates, post-office savings and other encashable investments.

As an example of this illusory security, Mr. Schwartz cites the current position of the Unemployment Insurance Fund, which has $400,000,000 to its credit. That would provide for the paying out of $10 million a week for 40 weeks. But, asks Mr. Schwartz, "Where is the $400,000,000, and by what is it represented? The surplus has largely accumulated over the war period and in real terms it doesn't exist.

The illusion and delusion is that this Fund of $400,000,000 is generally regarded as an asset—savings for a rainy day—whereas it merely represents claims. As Mr. Schwartz says: "The unemployed can present themselves that they are being financed in their own right with their own money, but their real sustenance will come out of current output saved up for a rainy day, behold us half paralyzed because we did not save up fuel for a cold day." Mr.

Schwartz concludes: "What is true of coal is true of everything else. The doctrine that full employment can be achieved and smoothly maintained by an adequate supply of purchasing power has failed at the first test, and it can go on the shelf with its fellow-delusion that the problem of production has been solved."

When Mr. Schwartz asks, "Where is the $400,000,000?" he raises a question which is of fundamental importance in regard to real money. If the average worker who paid part of his wages into the Unemployment Insurance Fund were asked that question, he would probably answer that it was deposited in the National Bank or invested in some way, ready to be drawn upon when needed. But governments, unlike private individuals or corporations, do not have a savings account—and where could they invest? The government lives from hand-to-mouth on current revenue from all sources and its only savings would be in the form of an annual surplus which is credited to the estimates of expenditures for the ensuing year.

The point is that while the government mints coins and prints bills, the value of such currency is dependent upon industrial enterprise, the productivity and the costs of labor and all services—including government services, for which taxes have to be paid. In other words, a nation's real wealth consists of

THE PROBLEMS OF THE LUNCH BOX

The spotlight has been turned on the school lunch box. Too often it has been found to be unattractive, unappetizing, and above all to be lacking in those foods recommended by Canada's Food rules which are necessary to build healthy, sturdy bodies.

- 2 stalks celery, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
1 tablespoon catsup
Boned salad dressing to moisten.
Mix lightly together and serve well chilled in lettuce cups. Serves five to six.

SOUR MILK GINGERBREAD

- 1/2 cup mild-flavored fat
2/3 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup molasses
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
OR 2 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour

Price Control and Rationing Notes

This column is conducted under the supervision of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Q.—Can you tell me the ceiling price of shortening?
A.—The ceiling price of shortening varies according to the brand. If you would give up details of the name of the brand and your dealer, we would be pleased to check and give you the proper ceiling price.

Q.—My grocer is still taking sugar coupons for corn syrup. I'm sure it is no longer rationed. Am I right?
A.—Yes, you are right. Send in the name of your grocer and we will check at once as to why he is asking for sugar coupons on a product which is no longer rationed.

Q.—I purchased a pair of infants' white boots and paid 98c. They were too large so I returned them and bought a pair of the very same shoes at another store and was charged $1.39. Is there a ceiling price on shoes?
A.—There is no ceiling price on footwear of any kind now. When you bought these boots, the ceiling price was still in effect and you were not overcharged. The store selling at 98c is a cut-rate store and often sells far below other merchants. As we have mentioned in the column many times, the W.P.T.B. sets the maximum price at which items may be sold but there is no regulation saying that the article cannot be sold for less.

Q.—Under the new regulations affecting rentals may I apply for possession of a house I bought some time ago?
A.—Yes, if you bought the house in the period between October 31, 1944 and July 25, 1945, you may apply to the nearest office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board with a written statement in duplicate setting out your date of purchase and needs as compared with the tenants. If the Court of Appeals approves your application you may then give a three months' notice to vacate under the laws of the province.

Q.—We rent an apartment of four rooms and a bathroom self-contained. We have two children three and five years of age and the janitor complains that the children bother the other tenants. Can we be given notice to vacate?
A.—No. As you occupy self-contained accommodation, you are protected by the "freezing order". While this order remains in effect, you cannot be given notice to vacate because of the children.

Wedding FOX-GOLDIE

The marriage of Miss Jean Beryl Goldie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Goldie, and Mr. Ernest Randall Fox, son of Mr. Bigelow and the late Mr. E. Fox of Kylemer Mines, Que., took place on Saturday afternoon, April 12th, at three o'clock in the Rockburn Church, which was very prettily decorated with evergreens and potted plants, and the ceremony was conducted by the bride's pastor, Rev. H. A. Fritchard. The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Bernice Goldie, dressed in blue and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and Miss Dorothy Goldie attired in a peach-colored gown, also carrying a bouquet of pink carnations, both wearing shoulder-length veils. Messrs. Norris Lindsay and Mr. T. Fox, brother of the groom, acted as ushers, and Mr. McMeeikin, of Kylemer, was best man.

What's In The Wind? By Paula Dicks

Easter Chick Comes Home to Roost In Montreal recently, I found my good friend, Dorothy Sproule, Montreal's unique Social Missionary, looking with some astonishment at her mail. A note from a friend read: "I am enclosing a copy of St. Raphael's Parish announcements for Holy Week on the back of which is a copy of one of your beautiful little poems."

The folder contained a list of various Church events from Palm Sunday to Easter Sunday and on the back: "The Presence of our Saviour is not bound To vast churches. He also can be found Within the poorest door, the humblest home, As surely as in royal tinted dome. Wherever love invites, He enters in, To country quiet, amid the city's His heart will enter every household on the way; The world's a Gallee to Him today." (Dorothy Sproule)

"May the Risen Christ enter your homes and hearts and bestow His Easter Blessings on each one of you." Father O'Rourke Father O'Toole

Naturally the author felt flattered and warmed by this unexpected tribute of appreciation. She had no idea when or where the Fathers came across this Easter poem. Thought it might have been from a newspaper or one of her published books of poetry, of which there are six or seven.

The saying about chickens coming home to roost is usually given a sinister meaning, but it can be applied also in the opposite sense. Idealistic, wholesome thoughts, when well-expressed, reach out and include the universe. It is heart-warming and infinitely rewarding for a writer to receive evidence that this can and does happen.

That a prophet is not without honor save in his own country may also be doubted. As the widow of the late Rev. F. H. Sproule, a Methodist minister, Mrs. Sproule has had a long connection with the intimate affairs of that church. Her musical training was in dancing, and she willingly offered as organist, teacher and director. Many of her poems have been set to music. She has been active in the advancement of women's interests in Quebec as organizer and first president of the Westmount Women's Club. She has taken active part as a member and often in executive work of Canadian Authors' Association, Montreal Art Association, British Empire Club, Women's Canadian Club, Conservative Women's Association, Avalon Society of Montreal.

It is gratifying, but not strange, that a poem of Dorothy Sproule's should be approved by the priests, because she has the understanding touch and appreciation for all faiths that interest her fellowmen and women.

A frequently elusive and often delicate type of pre-occupation that engages the personal effort of Dorothy Sproule is to help and encourage those of her acquaintance who have ambitions for success in the field of the arts—writing, music, painting, photography, acting. Her contacts and interests are various and legion. She uses decorative touches of color—brass, skulls, blinking electric lights, to put patients into hypnotic slumber, when he can cure them of almost anything.

Asked if he could cure a drunkard, Berillon stated he treated an alcoholic only once. "I put him to sleep and in his trance made him hold up his right hand and swear never again to use it to touch a glass containing alcohol. The patient returned two days later, saying: 'Doctor, I find I cannot, use my right hand to drink with, but my left hand picks up a glass quite freely. Could you do something about it, as anyway I am left-handed.'"

To repair this oversight, I hypnotized the patient and made him repeat the formula for his left hand. But the next week my sister told me she had seen my patient in a bar drinking brandy through a straw. Ever since I have left alcoholics alone."

Rockburn

Word was received by his friends of the sudden death of Mr. Miller, of Montreal, on Tuesday, April 15th, at the age of 81 years. Mr. Miller had lived for some years with different residents on the upper concession of Rockburn, and had formed many personal friendships, so that his death was a great loss to the community.

Devotional and business periods were conducted by the Presidents, and Mrs. Pritchard led in prayer. Plans were made for a cafeteria tea to be held in the Hall soon, and at the close of the afternoon, supper was served.

The Rockburn P.Y.S. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norval Blair, with a good attendance. The President, Mr. Glenn Waller, presided. Mr. J. Barr read the Scriptures and Rev. H. A. Pritchard led in prayer. A play was Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lewis Blair and Mrs. Norval Blair, and thanks tendered Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Blair for the use of their home.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, on Saturday, included Dr. Howard Oliver of Montreal, Mr. Andrew Oliver and a friend of Dartmouth College, N.H., and Mrs. Herzer and little sons William and Richard of St. Lambert, Que.

Dr. Austin Oliver, Mrs. Oliver and little Kay and Billy of Montreal visited Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sweet, of Chateaugay, N. Y., called on Mrs. Pennington and Mr. McMillan Saturday.

Mrs. Ernest Pringle and Miss Gladys Pringle spent Friday with Mrs. Patton and Mrs. J. E. Renelle, Mrs. Pringle's mother and sister.

As conditions were, failure to control the fire would almost certainly have entailed the destruction of Miss Cole's cottage, "The Lilacs."

Mrs. C. Weary and Mr. Edwin Waddell, who were moved into Mr. Simpson's house on the outbreak of the fire, are now staying with Edwin's sister, Mrs. Hollis Lowden and Mr. Lowden, while repairs are being made.

Mr. James Simpson, of Glendale, Calif., writes home a realistic account of the recent earthquake which, though brief, was severe enough to shake people out of their slumbers to see their bedroom walls tremble. A large plate glass window in Los Angeles was broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sutton were visitors in Huntingdon, on Monday. A number of farmers have re-tapped their trees and had considerable runs of sap, but in some cases the flavor has been poor.

NEWS—NOT HISTORY There are some organizations which realize the value of publicity and co-operate by getting their copy in early whenever possible. These people make it easy for us so we always endeavour to pass on to them any breaks we can. But there is a great number who still have to learn the value of spreading the news. We want to print a paper not a history book.

Covey Hill

About noon, on Tuesday, an alarm of fire brought neighbours at the Hill and Havelock to help save Mr. Thos. Waddell's house, the fire apparently starting from the chimney. Some people were sugaring in the woods and there was no lack of men of quick wits and steady nerves who worked high up on the gable roof, ripping open the tin and partly breaking down the chimney in the face of pouring smoke, in a determined effort to get water on the flames. Despite fears to the contrary, the blaze was got under control. One strenuous worker, Mr. Allan Sutton, had the palm of his hand badly burned. The house was badly damaged but the loss is partially covered by insurance. There were other causes for thankfulness. The fire was in the east end and the wind, quite brisk, was from the west. Two members of the household, Mr. Waddell's son Edwin and Mrs. Waddell's sister, Mrs. Weary, are chronic invalids, and both had to be carried to safety. If the fire had occurred at night, when help would have been less readily available, this misfortune might have been a tragedy.

Hi-Spots in Recreation

Bantam Softball

Now that the nicer weather has arrived and fields are drying up, it looks as though we'll have to get out the old softball equipment and start practicing. Already there is a junior committee working on names of boys who are interested in playing in the Benni Coccia softball league this summer. There is a trophy to be played for and several chaps have expressed a desire to umpire and coach teams this summer, so all looks bright in this line. This year, we hope to be able to have the teams split up more evenly, and hence the reason why it is essential to get started earlier. The following boys are getting the list of names of those who are interested, and if you would like to play please give your names in as soon as possible, to Bobby Brown, Dinnie Beaudin, Don Heath or Max Mathers.

Girls' Choir

The Girls' Choir which seemed to make quite a hit at the Academy Concert, will be starting rehearsals again on Friday. It is hoped that a larger repertoire will be established as time goes on, and that next winter we shall have a choir with a large enough selection of pieces to do a complete concert. Any other girls in the town who may be interested whether they go to school or not would be most welcome. If you are interested please contact Mr. S. P. Liversidge at dial 2162.

Cycle Club
 Polish, oil and energy seem to be first and foremost in the bicycle end of things these days, and many requests have been handed in as regards a cycle club. Last summer there were about ten people all of school age who were interested in this sport, and by the look of the situation this season, we shall have many more. Let's get this activity started early this season, so we can get some interesting trips in before the fall. All those who are interested and who have the time, are requested to hand your names to any of the following people: S. P. Liversidge, Isabel Telfer, Cassy Boyce, Wayne Daniel. As soon as possible, please!

Children's Movie
 The movie for tonight is titled "Diamond Frontier".

Body of Woman Located in Water

The body of an unidentified woman was found floating in the water opposite Nuns' Island near Chateauguy in Lake St. Louis early Friday morning.

The body was estimated as five feet, seven in height, weighing about 140 pounds, and was clothed in a pink blouse, a plaid skirt and rubber boots.

Provincial Police Det. Aime Bertrand and Chief of Police Henry Dorais, of Chateauguy, investigated.

The body of the woman found floating in Lake St. Louis near Nuns' Island Friday morning was identified Saturday morning as that of Miss Noella Boris, 20, of 19A First Avenue, Cornwall, Ont.

Identification was made at the morgue by the victim's brother, Raymond Boris, who told Provincial Police that his sister had disappeared from her home December 9, 1946.

The young girl, a factory worker, is believed to have fallen from Roosevelt International Bridge at Cornwall into the St. Lawrence River on the night of December 10. Her coat was found on the bridge.

Medical Report and Financial Statement -- Barrie Memorial Hospital

HONORARY MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT, 1946

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: This report covers the year 1946. Dr. T. J. Quintin was the Medical Superintendent for the largest part of the year. I wish, at this time, to express the regrets of all who are associated with the hospital that Dr. and Mrs. Quintin are no longer with us.

Personnel (a) Medical Board

An election of officers of the medical board during the year resulted in Dr. Roland Martel of St. Martine replacing Dr. J. R. McEwen as chairman, and Dr. C. F. Hyndman replacing Dr. T. J. Quintin as secretary. As in the previous years, the medical board met regularly once each month. It is very gratifying to be able to report that the attendance at these meetings has increased to such an extent that there is not an available room in the hospital of sufficient size to accommodate their number for these meetings. During the year, three new physicians in the district have been added to the attending staff: Dr. C. F. Hyndman in January, Dr. G. L. Sutton in March and Dr. Belanger in July. These men are all returned service men and this district has been fortunate in obtaining them. Following the derangement of many years of war work, their rehabilitation is taking place very rapidly.

(b) Nursing Staff

During these difficult times, we have been extremely fortunate in having Mrs. E. Paintin as Lady Superintendent. It is to be hoped that the year 1946 will always remain as the most difficult year in our history in securing and maintaining an efficient nursing staff. Considering the marked crowding of the hospital, the rapid turn over of patients and during most of the year, a shortage of staff, Mrs. Paintin, her assistant, Miss M. Long and the staff are to be greatly commended for the high standard which they have maintained. In addition to the regular staff, those nurses formerly of the hospital staff, who have married and settled in the district, have rendered invaluable service. We wish most especially to mention Mrs. William McCintock, Mrs. Russell McDougall, Mrs. Albert Parent and Mrs. David Rennie. Without their assistance, at times it would have seemed impossible to carry on. We have appreciated their willingness. May they accept our thanks.

Equipment

During the year considerable new equipment ordered during the year was obtained. We believe that the equipment of the Barrie Memorial Hospital compares very favourably with any general hospital. Board of Management and Board of Governors The board of management met regularly each month and the board of governors quarterly. It is very stimulating to realize how willing all these citizens have been to give their time and energy for the welfare of the hospital. Recently they have given time and thought to the problem of future building. I wish at this time to state our regrets of the passing of two of the original provisional board of governors: Mr. H. B. Patton and Mr. George E. Baird. May we recall, with deepest respect, the great service that they both gave to the hospital. Following the bequest of the late Miss Margaret Barrie, it was Mr. Patton who issued the challenge to Dr. Quintin and myself to lead the movement of establishing a hospital. It was he who made the first subscription. During that first year of organization, while Geo. Baird was not well, he never missed a meeting and these were very numerous. I would like to suggest, Mr. Chairman, some fitting memorial to these two men who were first, but are no longer with us.

Ladies' Auxiliary

Throughout the year this organization has continued to render very valuable service under the leadership of Miss L. G. Walsh. The amount of work that the various groups accomplish is remarkable. It would seem impossible for the hospital to carry on without their assistance. To Miss Walsh, who is ill at the present time, we extend our hopes for a speedy recovery.

Statistical Report

Since the board of governors have considered seriously the great need of expansion and are preparing to have a financial campaign, I have prepared a comparative study throughout the years. The following are self-explanatory:

THE STONE THAT WEAVES LIKE COTTON!

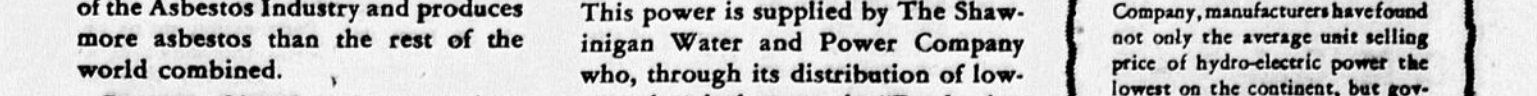

IN FRENCH it is quite often spoken of as "pierre à coton"—the stone like cotton—because it looks like stone and can be woven like cotton.

What is it? ASBESTOS! The use of asbestos can be traced back to Graeco-Roman times, but it was originally discovered in Canada about 1862, and was first used in this country for commercial purposes in 1878. Quebec is today the great centre of the Asbestos Industry and produces more asbestos than the rest of the world combined.

Because of its gigantic proportions the Asbestos Industry is a means of employing many thousands of people in varied phases, ranging from the mining of the raw material to the manufacturing and export of the finished articles made from asbestos. In this way millions of dollars are channelled into the Province to add to the prosperity of Quebec and its citizens.

The great task of mining and supplying the world with more than half its supply of high-grade asbestos is largely dependent for its success on the availability of hydro-electric power. This power is supplied by The Shawinigan Water and Power Company, who, through its distribution of low-cost electrical power in "Production Valley," is doing its part in spinning a web of prosperity around the Province of Quebec.

Industry must eventually locate in a district where it can operate most profitably. In "Production Valley" the 25,000 square miles served by The Shawinigan Water and Power Company, manufacturers have found not only the average unit selling price of hydro-electric power the lowest on the continent, but governmental co-operation and encouragement, sound civic administration, low taxes and contented and dependable workers. These factors, and its ideal location, have made "Production Valley" one of the most prosperous and attractive industrial areas in all Canada.

The Country Press

The following editorial in the East Aurora Advertiser is worth reading. It is headed, "The Country Press."
"Some of the most important things in life are taken for granted and accorded scant consideration until they cease to function. Occupants of a luxurious Pullman sleeper think little about the wheels on which it rolls. The most vital things are generally the least obvious. The country press goes in this category. But there would be no United States without the country press any more than there would be a Pullman car without a wheel."
"No nation in the world is so universally served with the newspaper as this nation. But the average citizen doesn't know this. He takes the newspaper for granted even in the smallest town. And yet without a newspaper, community affairs could not be conducted as they are. Try to think of your town without newspapers, even the smallest weekly."
"Where would you get the local news and the intimate information on births, marriages, deaths and the affairs of the community that at some time or other are so important to every family? Where would you read the proceedings of the county courts, the legal notices, the personal columns, the news about local churches, lodges, and the advertising of the local merchants? The big city dailies carry the world news, but they cannot carry the day-to-day happenings of the smaller towns and cities."
"How many people appreciate these facts that underlie the ownership and publication of the 12,000 country newspapers in the nation? Those papers are the greatest safeguard of our nation's independence. They are individually owned, and the vast majority of their editors are well grounded in the ideals of Constitutional government, and are opposed to trends toward socialism which disregard the importance of the individual. The country press reaches the majority of readers in the United States. It deserves more recognition than it receives. It is human and it can appreciate a word or act of encouragement while upholding the rights of others."

Hints on Cleaning Spots From Fabrics

This is the season for special occasions but life being what it is, a special occasion is just the right time for a domestic crisis. If Junior falls in the mud, you'll just have to start over at the bathtub level. If the crises is a spot on your dress, laundry it may require less drastic action.

The first step in successfully removing spots and stains is to distinguish between washable fabrics and those which must be dry cleaned. Many rayon garments carry labels which give this information—they should be consulted carefully. If there is no such label and the article has never been washed, don't take chances—use the method described for nonwashable fabrics. It's not much help to remove the spot if in doing so you ruin the dress.

Here are some easy methods for the removal of familiar stains from rayon fabrics. SOFT DRINKS & ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES: If stains of this type are allowed to set they become almost impossible to remove. Launder washable fabrics with warm soapy water as soon as possible. For nonwashable fabrics, sponge with clear warm water to dilute.

GREASE: First scrape off as much as possible. For washable fabrics dissolve the grease with Carbona or Energine and wash in warm soapy water. Use plenty of soap on the stained part, rubbing with the hands. Soapless shampoos are good to soften stubborn grease spots. Nonwashable fabrics should be sponged with Carbona or Energine, working from the outside toward the material in order to push the grease and dirt out, rather than rub it in. Another way is to make a paste of the solvent by mixing it with cornstarch or white talcum powder and apply to the stain. When dry it may be brushed off and is less likely to leave a mark. Repeat if necessary.

LIPSTICK: Remove as much grease as possible with Carbona or Energine and, when dry, sponge with warm water.

NAIL POLISH: Test the material by applying a drop of polish remover to a hidden part of the garment, such as a seam. Certain types of rayon will be dissolved by the chemicals. If the fabric is not harmed, sponge the stain with remover, putting a white blotter underneath to absorb excess moisture. Repeat if necessary.

FRUITS (FRESH OR COOKED): Treat fruit and berry stains as soon as possible. Soap should never be applied directly, as it contains alkalis which may set stains of this type. Rinse washable fabrics thoroughly before applying soapsuds. For nonwashable fabrics, sponge with lukewarm water.

BLOOD: Never use hot water on blood stains. For washable fabrics, soak the stains in cold water until they turn light brown, then wash in warm soapy water. Old stains may be loosened in a solution of 2 tablespoons ammonia to a gallon of water before washing. Sponge nonwashable fabrics immediately with cold or lukewarm water to dilute the stain, then sponge with warm soapy water and rinse with clear water.

CHEWING GUM: A piece of ice held underneath the sticky part will freeze the gum, which may then be picked off. Follow with a sponging of Carbona or Energine.

CHOCOLATE, CREAM OR ICE CREAM: Scrape with a dull knife, and wash in the usual manner. For nonwashable fabrics, dissolve the grease with Carbona or Energine, dry thoroughly, then sponge with lukewarm water.

INK: For washable fabrics: Dilute the stain with cold water, then cover it over with warm soapsuds and rinse well. Nonwashable fabrics: Spread salt, cornstarch or talcum powder on the stain while still wet to absorb excess ink. Shake the powder off when it becomes soiled and repeat until all moisture has been taken up. Then mix the absorbent with water and spread the paste over the stain. Brush off when dry.

Perfpiration stains frequently change the color of a fabric and once removed, this colour cannot be restored even by the cleaner.

Britain's Liberal party, relegated to a relatively secondary role in politics since Ramsay MacDonald formed the coalition government in 1931, hopes that its annual assembly at Bournemouth this week-end may herald some advancement in party status.

A resolution slated to go before delegates at the three-day convention foresees a Liberal candidate in every constituency for the next House of Commons election. The party, which claims that 178 new Liberal associations have been formed throughout the country in the last six months, sets as its goal the absorption of persons torn between the extremes of Socialism and what it calls Toryism.

The resolution welcomes all shades of Liberal opinion even when offered by members of other political movements, and invites these persons to join the Liberal party.

Another resolution urges adoption of a single party colour—"a distinctive signal green"—as a symbol of Liberal progress.

Meanwhile the chief Conservative spokesman, Winston Churchill, attacked the Labor administration in the House of Commons last week-end before 6,000 members of the Primrose League, a conservative organization formed by Benjamin Disraeli.

Churchill charged that Britain is being "driven into ruin" and the British Empire "scattered and squandered" by an administration which he asserted "is living on American gold."

Churchill's speech might have served as a companion piece to the Liberal party criticism of Prime Minister Attlee's government.

A Liberal resolution condemning "notable administrative failures" of the government said: "This assembly believes that the preparation and enactment of all doctrinaire or ideological legislation should... take second place to the planning of urgent practical measures designed to secure the food, fuel and housing of the people, maintenance of the industrial economy of the nation and the development of import and export trade."

The government for its part, advised with the problems which the Liberal party mentioned, was fresh from a minor cabinet shuffle which left Foreign Secretary Bevin a kind of "super-minister" with the major economic problems of Germany and their attendant diplomatic implications tucked closely under his wing.

Spears which recalled the horror and havoc of atom-bombed Nagasaki stunned rescue squads who rushed into Texas City last week following explosions and fires which devastated the town. At the weekend a known-dead list contained 542 names while the number of injured was set at 3,000.

The catastrophe started when an explosion of ammonium nitrate aboard the French freighter Grandcamp set off other blasts at the multi-million dollar Monsanto Chemical Company plant. Oil tanks, locks and three other ships in the harbor were set ablaze. Rescue workers toiled night and day, many wearing gas masks as precaution against fumes from the burning chemical plants.

The Big Four agreed to discuss the problems of Austria's frontiers at a week-end session in which chief issue was expected to be Austria's demands for southern Carinthia. Russia has favored the transfer in face of stiff opposition from the western powers.

Speculation among observers at Moscow centered on the possible departure of Foreign Secretary Bevin and American Secretary of State Marshall. Both were believed eager to leave the Soviet capital. However, neither has asked for an immediate windup of the conference, despite its lack of unanimity on the German and Austrian peace treaties.

At Nanking, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has indicated an end to any pretence at making peace with China's Communists.

He said reorganization of his government had begun because "it could not wait indefinitely for the Communists to lay down their arms."

However, Chiang's statement seemed over-optimistic for the so-called reorganization broke down in a dispute which split the ranks of the Democratic Socialist party. This group, the Young China party and another minority organization made up of non-partisans, had been assigned four seats each on the 29-member state council.

Chiang's Kuomintang is to remain in control with 17 seats. The largest minority groups—the Communists and the middle-of-the-road Democratic League—are not represented.

Cost of Milk Production In Quebec

According to information from the Department of Agriculture, there will be undertaken shortly a systematic investigation the object of which shall be to determine the cost of milk production throughout the various regions of the province.

The Hon. Laurent Barré has appointed Raoul Lécuyer of the Investigation Division of the Rural Economy Service and Lucien Therrien, special officer, to do this work. These men will get to work immediately and with their vast knowledge of rural districts, and past experience in this field, should be very successful.

Farm and Industrial Exhibition Projected For Montreal

At the meeting of the Horticultural Federation held recently in Montreal, J. H. Laviole, Director of the Horticultural Service, announced the organization of a farm and industrial exhibition so that Quebec products might become better known and thereby stimulate a greater consumption.

Mr. Laviole also recommended the civil incorporation of the Federation, the holding of a general meeting and study days every three months in horticultural districts.

J. O. Asselin, President of the Executive Board for the City of Montreal, was the chairman. About sixty delegates represented the affiliated societies of the region as well as outside districts, such as St-Joseph of Sorel, Mont-Tremblant, Maniwaki, Rawdon, St-Jacques, Montcalm, Knowlton and Chateauguy.

Speakers, or those who presented papers, were: J. O. Asselin, Paul Gagnon, Bruno Landry, E. J. Anderson, G. A. McCloy, Wm. Bowie, C. H. Wilson, E. Germaey, G. M. Bonson, C. C. Hobbs, Jean Champoux and the Rev. H. Deslauriers and G. Martel.

Board of Directors for the current year is as follows: President, J. O. Asselin; First Vice-President, Wm. Bowie; Second Vice-President, W. White; Treasurer, C. C. Hobbs; Speaker, Edouard Germaey; Secretaries, E. J. Anderson and Dr. Bruno Landry.

Obituary

The Late James E. Darragh
Mr. James E. Darragh, beloved husband of Theresa M. Sherry, peacefully went to his Eternal Reward at 5:20 Sunday morning, April 20th, at his home, 16 Wellington Street, Huntingdon, Que.
To this happy couple, two children were born, Margaret, who is employed with the Shelburne Water & Power Co., Valleyfield; and Sister St. Beatrice Anne (Beatrice), of the Congregation of Notre Dame.
Mr. Darragh was highly esteemed in the community, as evidenced by the large group of relatives and friends who came to pray by him and attended his funeral. He always took an active part in church activities, and was an active Church Warden until his last illness.
He was buried from St. Joseph's Church, Huntingdon. The Rev. A. Pigeon, Pastor, officiated at the Solemn funeral Mass. Rev. Father G. Quenneville and others were in the sanctuary. The Pastor expressed his gratitude, in the name of the Fabric for Mr. Darragh's services during his term as church warden. His respect for God's Priests, and his sound judgment were valuable assets to the administration and advancement of Parish work.
Surviving him, besides his wife and daughters, he leaves to mourn his loss, three sisters, Mrs. Emmet Murphy (Mary), of Huntingdon; Sister Mary Lucy (Rose) who is a Sister of Mercy of Gabriels, N.Y.; and Sister Mary Gerald (Grace), of the Mother House of the Holy Names, Montreal; and two brothers, John Dewittville, Que., and Herbert of Peru, New York.
The pall bearers were Mr. Darragh's six nephews: Daniel Darragh, Kenneth Henley, Edward Murphy, Hubert Sherry, Leslie Sherry and Charles Sherry.
Even as he lies At Rest, in the shadow of the Cross in St. Joseph's Cemetery, he will ever be prayerfully remembered by his sorrowing family, relatives and friends.

Howick

Shower for New Arrival Mrs. Stonehouse, a recent arrival from England, was the guest of honor at a shower given by the Tullochgorum ladies at the home of Mrs. F. Mattice, Mr. Stonehouse lived in Tullochgorum previous to going overseas during the early months of the war. Now after his safe return, his wife and family have joined him in Canada.

Mrs. J. D. Lang spoke words of welcome and Mrs. Douglas Ness and Mrs. Mattice presented a large basket filled with gifts. Mrs. Stonehouse thanked these present for their kindness and hoped they would visit her in her new home.

Mrs. J. McPherson, Miss M. C. Rae and Mrs. Mattice played piano duets and solos, and a singing was also enjoyed.

During the evening, Mrs. Lang read thank-you letters from England, for boxes of food and clothing sent by the W.I. The Tullochgorum ladies hope to send a box of clothing as soon as possible. As this was the first time all the neighbors had met together for some time, the air hummed with conversation. Mrs. T. Kerr and Mrs. J. McPherson poured tea, while some of the younger women assisted with the serving of delicious sandwiches and cake.

Those interested in the future kept their Scottish neighbour, Miss Bain, busy reading the message of the tea leaves, thus bringing a happy foreboding of good fellowship to a close.

The Easter Thank-offering meeting of the Howick United Church Women's Missionary Society was held on Wednesday afternoon, April 16th, at the home of Hon. R. R. and Mrs. Ness. A large number of members were present. We were pleased to have with us Mrs. E. F. Carey, Mrs. Edwin Knox presided and opened the meeting by reading an Easter message. This was followed by singing the hymn, "Crown Him with Many Crowns". The members answered the roll call by an Easter thought. The devotional part was taken by Mrs. E. F. Carey, the theme being "One day at a time and Christ the centre of each day with outstretched hands."

Every day is a little life and our whole life is but a day repeated. It is our duty to live each day as if it were our last. We should use the opportunities that present themselves, to improve our lives and extend a hand to others as Jesus did for us. Mrs. McKell closed by reading the poem "Tomorrow". After the supper prepared by Mrs. Sutherland, it was an Easter legend which told the origin of Easter Buns. A special feature of the meeting was an interesting talk by Miss Ruth Mitchell, of St. Columba's Mission House. Miss Churchill described her work in the different community centres: the Church of All Nations, Kirkland Lake, Sault Ste. Marie and St. Columba's House. On account of her knowledge of the Hungarian language, she spends some time each week with the only Hungarian Church in Canada, at Montreal.

She told of the need of the church and the progress that was being made and had been made in the different districts she helped. She pictured the difficult conditions in which the people at Point St. Charles live and handcraft of St. Columba's Mission for both boys and girls had greatly decreased juvenile delinquency there. The speaker closed by telling us that through W.M.S. groups such as ours, the Mission Centres were carried on. Mrs. Annie Gruer extended a vote of thanks to Miss Churchill. The meeting closed by singing the hymn, "Light of the Lonely Pilgrim's Way" followed by prayer. A social half-hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Over twenty people from Howick and the surrounding district motored to Montreal on Tuesday evening, April 15th, and attended the annual Convocation Exercises of the United Theological College, which were held in Emmanuel Church. Among those who received their diplomas was Mr. E. F. Carey, B.A., a former student minister of the Howick United Church. Mr. Carey received first class honours and carried off a large number of the scholarships and prizes. At the same exercises, the Rev. Prin. A. B. B. Moore received the Degree of Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Moore gave a splendid Convocation address, the theme being, "Ministry of Today." After the service a social hour was spent in the Stephenson Hall, where a buffet lunch was served. Here the people were given an opportunity to offer congratulations and visit with friends.

Miss Ethel Alexander of Montreal, was the week-end guest of the Misses Logan.

The monthly meeting of the Georgetown W.M.S. was held on Tuesday afternoon, April 15th, at the home of Mrs. W. Watson. Mrs. Bingham was in charge and opened the meeting with hymn, "Breathe on me, Breath of God," followed by reading of the Scripture by Mrs. P. D. McArthur, and prayer by Mrs. P. D. McArthur. The roll call was answered by 20 ladies. The minutes of the last two meetings were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Jas. Stewart, and approved. Mrs. Arthur Kerr read a letter from Mrs. J. Holmes expressing thanks for their kind letter of sympathy. The tea and flower sale was discussed and it was decided to have it in May as usual. Conveners were appointed, Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Fitzelle for the tea, and Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. T. Kerr for the plants. Mrs. Holmes read out the names of the ladies who were to supply flowers to the church each Sunday during the summer months. Mrs. Bingham thanked the conveners and all the other ladies who had worked so hard in bringing such a display of clothing and other articles, including 15 large and small quilts. Conveners were appointed to look after the work for next year, so as to get it done earlier in the year. Mrs. Henderson accepted the office of

Our National Defence

The discussion on the extent, importance and implications of Canada's National Defence measures received fresh impetus last week in the reaction to an address made in England by a former Prime Minister of Canada, now Viscount Bennett. Because of its geographical and trade position Canada's defence problems (and many of her other problems) are unique in the world and our actions must be based on realities rather than theories. Perhaps this is why it is difficult to have an approach to unanimous opinion on any phase of our military or defence policies.

There are three main schools of opinion on the question, on the lines of division not always clearly drawn. The two extremes are: (1) those who believe that we should tie our defence entirely to British Commonwealth connections in order that the empire shall speak and act as a unit in International Affairs and defence. This seems to be the policy advocated by Mr. Bennett. (2) Those who believe that we should act in these matters entirely as a North American nation regardless of the position this would place us in with respect to our large and powerful neighbour, the United States.

Probably only a small minority take these absolute extremes but a larger number are inclined toward the middle position. The third school of thought disagrees strongly with both extreme positions. Is there a truly Canadian position emerging, on which our people can unite? The question in many minds concerning this complicated problem.

A Canadian policy? There are some obstacles to clear thinking on the question. Communists and left wing socialists see the threat of a war with Russia in every consideration of any defence need for Canada and particularly when it involves our northern boundaries. Believers in the value of British imperialism see a threat to the empire every time Canada and the United States find a basis to cooperate for mutual defence. Both groups are industrious writers of Press Correspondent during Mrs. Fiskin's illness, Mrs. Gordon Dunn was the guest speaker and gave an interesting talk on finance and highlights of the work done in the West, which was enjoyed by all. Hymn 599, "Oh God of Bethel" was sung and the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Bingham. The ladies were invited out to the porch to see the display of clothing before being packed. A delicious afternoon tea was served by a committee of ladies from a table Mrs. Watson had tastefully set with cut flowers and pink candies. Tea was poured by Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Morris. Many thanks are due Mrs. Watson for giving her house for this meeting as it has always been held in the Church Hall.

The most Talked-of Car on the Radio and Everywhere

The ultra-modern Post-War Studebaker

You get more than the world's first genuine post-war automobile, when you become the proud owner of a new 1947 Studebaker.

You get a thrilling new car that's a melody in metal—with extra low, extra wide, new bodies styled by Raymond Loewy, internationally famous designer.

You get a car that's newly engineered throughout, from its wheels on up—a car with almost incredible new handling ease—with cradled riding comfort that surpasses anything you've experienced even in much more costly cars.

Studebaker was able to introduce these brand new 1947 cars months early, largely because of the teamwork and competence of the finest group of employees in the motor car industry.

It goes without saying that these 1947 Studebakers excel in quality. They are manufactured to war-production standards of accuracy by responsible, able craftsmen, many of whom are members of Studebaker father-and-son teams.

Studebaker's exceptional operating economy adds its practical appeal to the allure of these distinctive new postwar Champions and Commanders. All the customary body styles are available—and each excels in roominess as well as in smart appointments.
