FRIGHTFUL WRECK AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Train Plunges Over Drawbridge Into Water—66 Passengers Perish—A Score Or More Injured---Were Drowned Without Chance Of Escape.

Atlantic City, N.J., October 29.—By the wrecking of a three-coach electric train on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad yesterday afternoon over sixty passengers perished. While crossing over a drawbridge spanning the waterway known as "The Thoroughfare," which separates Atlantic City from the mainland, the train left the track and plunged into the water. The passengers in the first two coaches, with few exceptions, were drowned. Up to midnight 25 bodies had been recovered, and it is believed that at least 25, and possibly more bodies, are still in the submerged coaches.

The disaster is the worst that has happened since the terrible Meadow wreck of July 30, 1896. The train, made up of three heavy vestibule electric coaches, which left Comden, N. J., at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, carried probably 88 passengers, as that number of tickets are held by the conductor. He is uncertain, however, just how many passengers the train carried, and until all the bodies have been taken out of the submerged coaches it will not be possible to give even an approximate estimate of the dead.

The cause of the wreck has not been established. It was probably due to a defective rail, the breaking of some part of the rail, or the breaking of some part of the superstructure of the first coach.

It has also been suggested that the drawbridge, which had just been closed after the passing of a yacht, may not have properly locked the rails. All theories, however, are purely speculative as to the cause of the wreck.

While running at a speed said to have been moderate and not unusually fast, the first coach left the rails and dragged those following it over the ties for a distance of fifty feet. Suddenly swerving, the first two coaches plunged over the side of the bridge into the water, twenty feet below. The third coach struck a heavy abutment, broke its couplings, and, for a brief time, hung perilously suspended over the water. Brief as was this period, however, it gave more than a score of passengers an opportunity to escape by the rear door. Then the car slid off and followed the other two into the water. It is believed every one in the rear of third coach escaped alive, though all were more or less injured.

The accident was witnessed by many persons on shore, and assistance was promptly sent from Atlantic City. Little could be done, however, towards saving the lives of those imprisoned in the submerged coaches. They quickly settled in the mud, and, as the tide rose, they were soon hidden from sight, except for the trolley poles.

Divers were sent down and tried to reach the dead bodies, but darkness set in and the tide ran too swiftly for them to accomplish much.

Late in the evening a wrecking crew arrived on the scene, and, with their aid, and the use of a derrick, a dozen or more bodies were taken out and brought to this city.

Of the twenty-five bodies, about twenty have been identified, and it is believed no difficulty will be experienced in establishing the identity of the others.

General Manager W. W. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, arrived on the scene last night and will make a thorough investigation into the causes of the accident. Until this investigation shall have been made, he will make no statement.

66 DEAD, SCORE INJURED.

Atlantic City, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—As the sickening details of yesterday's terrible wreck on the electric line of West Jersey and Sea Shore railroad developed during the night the disaster became more appalling.

The total number of persons whose lives were snuffed out almost instantly is probably 66, with nearly a score injured, several of whom, it is thought will die.

Forty-eight bodies have already been brought to the surface.

There were 90 persons on the train, 15 passes and 76 fares.

Twenty-five of this number have been accounted for, which with bodies recovered, bring total to 73.

This leaves 18 persons not accounted for and who are supposed to have been drowned.

It is possible that some of these may never be found, as it is the belief of the divers that some of the bodies floating through the broken windows out into the thoroughfare were carried by the swift current out into the Atlantic.

NOTES OF THE NEWS.

The first Russian industrial congress assembled at St. Petersburg, Thursday. The delegates were addressed by the Ministers of Finance, Commerce and Railroads.

The Spanish Government has decided to hold several cruisers ready for despatch to the West Coast, for the protection of the Spanish subjects, in view of the alarming reports from Morocco.

While on his way to America, because he had betrayed his party, a man named Sprogge, once a prominent revolutionary leader in the Baltic provinces, was killed at Mitau, Courland. He had just recovered from a wound inflicted on him by revolutionists.

Letters have been received from the Anglo-American Arctic expedition, which left Victoria, B.C., on May 20th on the schooner Duchess of Bedford, dated from Port Hope, July 25th. The letters say that on July 8th the schooner had a narrow escape from going ashore in Behring Straits during a heavy fog.

Information has been received from Portland, Ore., that the four-masted British barque, Peter Iredale, Salinas Cruz, Mexico, to Portland, to load wheat for the United Kingdom, is ashore near the mouth of the Columbia river.

Some of the foreign diplomats at Tangier, Morocco are demanding the dismissal of Mohammed Eli Terries, the representative of the Sultan, on the ground that he is old, incapable and fanatical.

The pretended captain of Grenadiers of the Guards, who on Oct. 16th produced a forged letter authorizing him to take command of a detachment of 12 men whom he met on the streets of Berlin and proceeded to Coepenick, where he arrested the Burgomaster and the treasurer, and took possession of the cash, amounting to about $1,000, turns out to have been a shoemaker of Tilsit, named William Voigt. He was arrested at Berlin, Friday.

THEIR SENTENCES WERE EXCESSIVE.

Large Number Liberated From Montreal And Quebec Jails.

NOW THREATEN TO SUE CITY OF MONTREAL FOR DAMAGES.

Montreal, Oct. 29. — (Special)— A large goal delivery occurred on Saturday when 23 men under sentence in Montreal goal for drunkenness or vagrancy, and 50 others, convicted in Montreal, but serving in Quebec, were liberated on ground of excessive sentences.

These men now threaten to sue the city of Montreal for damages for false imprisonment.

QUEBEC WOMAN SHOT BY HER HUSBAND.

WIFE SHOT DEAD WITHOUT A MOMENT'S WARNING WHILE SITTING ON THE ESPLANADE.

Quebec, October 29.—Without apparent provocation, George Lecouteur, a Jersey man, 65 years of age, fatally shot his wife, aged 54, Saturday morning, as she sat with her daughter on a bench on the Esplanade. The exact scene of the tragedy was immediately opposite the Garrison Club, close to St. Louis Gate, and quite under the shadow of the monument to the Canadian heroes who lost their lives in South Africa. One of these were Roland Lecouteur, eldest son of the murderer and his victim, and the tragedy occurred well in sight of their son's name, inscribed upon the face of the monument.

Not only was the shooting as sudden and unexpected as a bolt from a clear sky, but in the excitement and confusion that followed the murder the murderer coolly walked down the street, admitting his crime to some of those he met on his way, telling them at the same time that he was going to have a drink, and actually accomplishing his purpose by entering the St. Louis Hotel, and taking a drink before he was placed under arrest.

Mrs. Lecouteur and her daughter were sitting on the bench on the Esplanade when the husband and father joined them. He had scarcely done so when he drew from his pocket a 32-calibre revolver, and placing the muzzle against the neck of his wife, just under the right ear, fired the shot that took the life he had vowed to protect and cherish. The victim never uttered a word. She fell apparently lifeless into the arms of her daughter, who was powerless to render her any aid.

The murderer was met by Captain Petry, secretary of the Garrison Club, to whom he said, "Yes, I have shot her." To others he remarked that his wife had played with him long enough, but he added, "I have done for her at last, and I am glad I have. I don't think she will live much longer."

Detective Walsh met Lecouteur just as he had left the St. Louis Hotel, after taking a drink, and took him to the central station at the City Hall. The revolver with one chamber empty and four others containing cartridges, were found in his pocket when searched. As soon as he was placed in a cell he lay down and went to sleep, being apparently under the influence of liquor.

The murderer had been drinking heavily of late, and much domestic unhappiness was the result.

Lecouteur was well known in Sherbrooke and along the Q.C.R., being for several years provincial policeman at Thetford Mines. He was in Sherbrooke during the past summer.

AT SHERBROOKE POLICE COURT.

Pledge Taker is Again in Trouble.

THIS TIME IT IS HEAVY FINE OR JAIL—BOYS WHO ABUSED HORSE PUNISHED.

At the Police Court room, this morning, one of the pledge-takers again appeared before Justice of the Peace Kennedy. On Friday this man took the pledge and on Saturday was arrested for being drunk and incapable. This party has visited the police station several times within the last month while a short time ago his wife was obliged to leave him. The fine imposed upon him this morning was $50 and costs, or six months in jail.

ASSAULT CASE.

The sentence in the case of assault upon one Parr, at the Theatre, Saturday evening, was suspended.

LADS ABUSED HORSE.

Five lads appeared charged with abusing a horse Sunday. They pleaded guilty and were sentenced each one to $1 and costs. Two of the lads who are working must not leave the house all day Sunday for the next four Sundays, and the remaining three not to leave the house on Saturday for the next four Saturdays.

EWING—SMITH.

The marriage of Mr. J. Armitage Ewing, B. C. L., of Montreal, eldest son of the late John Ewing, Jr., Registrar of Richmond County, and Miss Henrietta Margaret Smith, of Plantaganet, took place on Wednesday, Oct. 17th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, the Rev. W. L. Tucker officiating. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown chiffon broadcloth, and the bridesmaid, Miss Higginson, of L'Original, wore a blue broadcloth costume. Major W. J. Ewing, of Melbourne, was his brothers groomsman. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of diamonds and pearls; to the bridesmaid a pearl bow-knot and to the groomsman a pearl pin. The bride's gift to the groom was a diamond scarf pin. The wedding was a quiet one to the recent bereavement in the groom's family.

SIMPLY JUSTICE.

Creditor. "So you've come around at last to pay me what you owe me, have you?"

Debtor. "Not at all—just the contrary. You made a statement at the club last night that I owed you 600 marks. As a matter of fact, the accounts show I owe you only 560. I've come around to collect that balance of forty." (Translated for Tales from Fliegende Blatter.

NEWS FROM THE COURT HOUSE.

Case of Marcel Custeau Before King's Bench.

MAN WHO BROKE INTO BEEBE PLAIN STORE GETS TWO YEARS IN PENITENTIARY.

In the Court of King's Bench this morning Justice Hutchinson, presiding, the case of Marcel Custeau was commenced. The charge is that the accused from the 28th July and eight days following failed to provide sufficient food and medical attendance to Moise Custeau, a child under sixteen years of age, thereby endangering his life. Moise Custeau is alleged to have died as a result of a kick which he received from his brother, Gaudias Custeau, who is held on a charge of manslaughter, and the father, Marcel Custeau, is charged with failing to provide the necessary attendance, although warned by a doctor of his serious condition.

The following jurors were sworn: P. Gilbert, J. McGoogin, W. L. McSwiggan, A. Lanctot, H. S. Nourse, Nap. Michael, A. Lamproh, A. Lefebvre, A. LeBlanc, George Henry, F. Rousseau, A. McVety.

Mr. J. Nicol explained the case to the jury in French and Mr. Broderick in English, on behalf of the Crown.

Messrs. F. Campbell and E. Roux are defending the accused.

THE SHANNON CASE.

As briefly stated in Saturday's Record, the Miles Shannon case came to an abrupt end. There was no evidence upon which to base the charge and the court instructed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty," which was done.

SENTENCE OF TWO YEARS PASSED IN MAGISTRATE'S COURT FOR STORE BREAKING.

Charles Biggins was arraigned before Judge Mulvena on Saturday and committed on two separate charges of having broken into the store of C. L. Jenkins, of Beebe Plain, on the 1st September, and again on the 24th October, and with stealing a quantity of goods. This morning he was brought before the Court, and asked for a speedy trial and pleaded guilty to both charges. On the first charge he was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, and sentence was suspended on the other.

LIQUOR CASES.

Judge Mulvena disposed of a number of contraventious of the License Law which had been laid by the collectors of Provincial Revenue this morning. A. S. Reid, of Scotstown, Eugene Riches, of East Sherbrooke, A. Beaudry, of Lake Weedon, were each fined fifty dollars and costs, with the alternative of three months in jail for selling liquor without a license.

H. Desruisseaux, of East Sherbrooke, was fined thirty dollars and costs for selling liquor on Sunday. G. Lamoureau, of Lake Weedon, was fined one hundred dollars and costs for selling liquor without a license. This was his second offence. The alternative was three months in jail.

Charles Cory, a Syrian pedlar, from Bury, was fined five dollars and costs or thirty days in jail for peddling without a license.

McGILL STUDENTS MAY HAVE TO GO.

Wholesale Expulsion May be Made.

AS A RESULT OF PRANKS PLAYED ON COLLEGE THEATRE NIGHT.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—As the result of depredations committed on theatre night, there is a prospect of wholesale expulsion of first and second year McGill students. This situation is the outcome of a refusal on the part of the students to settle among themselves the question of responsibility for the defacement of the university buildings and the damaging or removal of property in the east end of the city.

After the theatre night Principal Peterson received several complaints from citizens who claimed they had suffered by reason of the students' pranks and demanded indemnity for the damage done to their property. These complaints, as well as the damage to the university building were referred to the students for settlement, but the Alma Mater Society, which represents their interests as a body, pronounced itself unable to deal with the matter. The principal, therefore, with the intention of fixing the responsibility in this matter, decided to exact from each member of the first and second year, which generally take a prominent part in theatre night demonstrations, a written declaration, stating whether or not he had anything to do with the damage to property, failing upon which they will expose themselves to expulsion from the university. The request to sign such a declaration has not yet been made to the students individually, but unless some amicable arrangement is reached by next Wednesday, between the principal and the presidents of the freshmen and sophomore years, the students will be submitted to the test.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

EXTRA C.P.R. GANG AT FOSTER.

Foster, Oct. 29.—(Special.) — Mr. George McKeddie, of Sherbrooke, is here with a force of men making improvements in the track in Foster yard and in this vicinity generally. The work at present consists mostly in taking out any affected rails or pieces of rails and replacing the same with a good grade of material. Mr. McKeddie is a veteran at the business, and his work will always bear the closest scrutiny. Roadmaster Moe, of Sherbrooke, was also here on Saturday, looking after the interests of extra work, not only here but at other points along the line. Mr. Moe has nearly recovered from the injuries he received in the wreck at McLeod's early in the season.

MACDONALD—GUILLET.

Dunham, Oct. 29.—(Special.) — On Wednesday, the 24th inst., at "The Retreat" here, the residence of Mrs. Guillet, Miss S. Aleda Guillet, the talented youngest daughter of the family, was united in the holy bonds of marriage to Mr. Norman A. Macdonald, of Montreal, by the Rev. J. H. McConnell, of Clarenceville, a former pastor of the Methodist church here. The wedding was a quiet affair, only relatives and immediate friends of the happy pair being present. The ceremony took place in the beautifully trimmed and decorated drawing room of the spacious and elegant residence, the contracting parties standing beneath a flowery bell. Maple leaves, white carnations and evergreen entered into the make-up of the decorations. Mrs. T. O. Chalmers, of Westmount, the groom's mother, was a guest of honor at the function.

The bride wore a costume of white silk, trimmed with pearls, and carried the conventional shower bouquet, veil and orange blossoms. Her going-away costume was a grey tourist's coat and boa with red hat and feathers.

The wedding march was played by Mr. Lynnwood Farnam, organist of the Church of St. James the Apostle, Montreal, and refreshments were served in the large dining room which was trimmed in green and yellow.

The presents received by the newly-wedded pair were very numerous and of extreme elegance.

The sisters of the bride who attended the nuptials were Mesdames Sykes, of Cowansville; Pettes, of North Troy, Vt.; Vadnais, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Gilbert, of Concord, N.H., and Miss Georgie Guillet, of this place. Messrs. Albert Guillet, of New York, N.Y., and S. L. and John Guillet, of Dunham, were the brothers here for the event. The other friends and relatives from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Horace Guillet, and Mr. Remi Guillet, of Marieville, Que.; Mrs. Ramsdell, of North Troy; Mr. Lorne Macdonald, the groom's brother; Mrs. and Miss Macdonald, Miss Edith Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Hugman, Mr. A. W. Hugman, Col. and Mrs. J. A. Finlayson, Mrs. M. Mollmar, Mr. Ernest Kollmar.

THE SHEFFORD COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION.

Granby, Oct. 29.—(Special.) — The Shefford County annual S. S. Convention was held at Granby on Thursday and Friday. The first session on Thursday was held in the Congregational church, President J. D. Ellis in the chair. After the quiet hour led by E. T. Capel, and general routine business, Rev. W. T. Brown, Cowansville, gave a most excellent address and emphasized the necessity of pure and good literature in the home, and the careful selection of books for S.S. libraries. The convention was particularly fortunate in having E. M. Fuller, Grand Secretary for the State of Vermont, present. Mr. Fuller gave a most interesting, spicy and inspiring address, and particularly urged the working of the home department. Questions were asked, and Mr. Fuller threw much light on the work by his very practical and comprehensive answers. The afternoon session closed with singing and a prayer by Rev. R. K. Black.

The evening session consisted of an interesting 15 minutes talk by Mr. Fuller. Mr. Capel followed by report of district work and after gave an address on laws of teaching.

Rev. J. D. Ellis was re-elected Co. President; Committee, E. E. Gleason, W. D. Bradford, D. M. Mitchell, Mr. Bears and F. W. West. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. E. T. Capel.

Friday's sessions were held in Methodist church, the morning being taken up by a talk on Word of God and hymn book; Rev. Canon Longhurst, teachers' wages; Rev. J. J. Theakston, Sutton, Sunday Assn. taught by General Secretary, Knowlton Conference and its workings, and three minutes talk by Rev. J. D. Ellis and delegates.

GRANBY'S HARVEST HOME SUPPER.

Granby, Oct. 29.—(Special.) — The Victoria Memorial Hall of St. George's church presented a very attractive appearance on Thursday evening. The occasion being the annual harvest home supper. The hall was tastefully decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables, and the tables were loaded with all the delicacies of the season.

The proceeds amounted to $70.

ARCHBISHOP'S ALIMONY.

(From the Rochester Herald.)

Rev. Francis M. Kielty, rector of the Church of the Holy Angels, St. Louis, who died recently at the age of 52, was an Irish scholar, wit and practical joker. Archbishop Kendrick twice nominated Father Kielty for a bishopric, once of Memphis, and once of Peoria, Ill., but in each case Rome gave the honor to someone else. Father Kielty began his sermon one Sunday morning by announcing in a voice with pathos that he had a confession to make. "I might as well make a clean breast of it. I've been sued for alimony, and you'll have to pay it," he said. As the congregation gasped he waved in the air a document, signed and sealed to resemble an order of court. "Yes, I mean it," he continued, as if to kill any lingering doubts, and then pointing through one of the stained windows, continued: "That alley out there has been paved and the city has sued me for the alley money."

A laundry delivery team ran away this morning. The horse took fright while tied on Marquette street, and broke away and rushed around the R. C. Cathedral, down an embankment, through an orchard and finally stopped against a tree. The thing suffered most was the tree, from which several branches and considerable bark and wood was cut.

RICHMOND.

Oct. 29.—Mr. T. L. Brown, Jr., met with a very painful accident Saturday afternoon while assisting Mr. Frank Coffin on some work on his automobile. Stepping on a stone he turned his ankle, which will necessitate his being confined to the house for a few days.

J. C. McCaig, I. E. McIver and Dr. Brock returned Saturday from a hunting trip to Duck Lake, County Pontiac, Que., reporting game very plentiful in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Palmer returned Saturday from a week's trip to Boston and report a splendid time.

Among those in town are: Miss Delia Dupuis, of Sherbrooke, at her parents'; Miss Grace Cleveland, trained nurse, of Boston, Mass., at her parents'; Mr. and Mrs. Fred. A. Cleveland; Mrs. Patterson, of Montreal, at Mrs. N. Nicholson's; Mr. Wm. Miller and Miss Tillsley, of Windsor Mills, at Mr. Chas. Miller's; Mr. Israel England, of Knowlton, at Rev. E. M. England's.

Among those out of town are: Mr. N. Lance at Sherbrooke, visiting friends over Sunday; Mrs. Wm. Dement and child visiting relatives in Lennoxville.

Mr. Price, of Boston, Mass., who has been visiting at J. D. Smith's, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Fred. McKee, who has been ill for the last week, is improving, and is able to be around the house again.

COATICOOK.

Oct. 29—Arrivals are Mrs. E. A. Akhurst and son, Herbert, home from Boston; Mrs. W. E. Loomis and children, of Sherbrooke, guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bryan; Mr. A. S. Loring, of Sherbrooke, the guest of Mrs. A. H. Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cimmings; Mrs. Israel Baldwin, returned from Lowell and Boston, where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lyman Metcalf; Mr. Thos. Stokes, of Bury, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. (Mayor) Baldwin; Mr. William T. Grady, of North Hatley, visiting friends; Mr. C. J. Ward, of Berlin, N.H., visiting friends; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson, of Beecher Falls, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Baldwin.

Departures are Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Piskham, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Avery, returned to Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Shurtleff to Montreal for the week end; Mr. Smith who has been in the employ of Messrs Fischer & Leithead, for the summer, for Boston, Mass.

The "Evening Star" which was mentioned in the issue of the Record, dated Friday last, is causing a good deal of discussion in town. People that have seen it, think the assertion about the balloon with an electric light attachment the most probable. It was first heard of and seen from here some two weeks ago. Mr. Luther Moulton, who had occasion to go to the heights of Hereford on business, learnt of it from the people there, who live on the height of land and would have an unobstructed view of any strange phenomena, appearing on the horizon. Mr. Moulton brought the news to town and it has caused quite a lot of interest ever since, especially since Friday night's issue of the Record.

ROCK ISLAND and DERBY LINE.

Oct. 29.—Col. F. D. Butterfield left Friday for Montreal. Mrs. Butterfield, accompanied by Miss Edith Wells will join him there and they will leave on Saturday night for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will spend the winter.

Preparations are now complete for the celebration of the 90th anniversary of the Congregational Church on Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Clark Hopkins, Mrs. William Spaulding and Mrs. C. R. Jenkins have returned from a ten days' stay in Boston, Mass.

The potato crop in this vicinity is unusually large this year, and the farmers who are selling their potatoes now are receiving forty cents a bushel for them. A good many are keeping them for more a bushel.

The many friends of Mr. Charles Howe who met with such a serious accident a few weeks ago, are glad to see him out again.

Mrs. Mary Morrell has recently sold her farm to Mr. Thos. Nourse. Mrs. Morrell will spend the winter in Boston, Mass.

DANVILLE.

Oct. 29.—The sucessful competitors in connection with the Half Hour Reading Society were Mrs. David Cameron, Asbestos; Mrs. Gale, Asbestos; and Miss Ferguson, of the Academy, who gained first prizes; Miss. McLeay and Miss Anna Gibson second prizes. The regular meetings of the society will commence in the near future, when an increased roll of membership is hoped for.

Among the arrivals are: Mrs. Sanderson, treasurer of the World's W. C. T. U., from the late convention in Boston; Mr. E. E. Gilman, from a two weeks' visit in Lawrence, Boston, Manchester and Concord; Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Covey, Haveral, Mass., to spend a few days with Mrs. Covey's father, Mr. E. E. Gilman; Mrs. Atkinson, of Three Rivers, visiting her father, Mr. Bennet Perkins.

Among the arrivals are: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cleveland from a trip to Worcester, Boston and Portland; Mr. J. H. Boutelle, from a visit to Boston; Mr. O. M. J. Ingalls from Boston, where he has been visiting his parents.

Among the departures are: Miss Daisy Burbank to Manchester, N. H., and Mr. Chs. Gagne to Montreal.

EAST ANGUS.

Oct. 29.—The Thanksgiving supper given by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church on Monday evening last was a success in every way, notwithstanding a steady downpour of rain. A large number from Cookshire, Marbleton, Dudswell, Bishop's Crossing and surrounding vicinity were present and did ample justice to the repast served by the ladies. After supper, which was served in the Foresters' Hall, an adjournment was made to the Church. The chair was occupied by the pastor, Rev. M. Robinson. Addresses were given by the Rev. Messrs. Deeprose, Kelly, Cassopp and others. The Cookshire quartette of male voices sang very effectively, "Home, Sweet Home," and other selections. Mr. Thompson, of Montreal, and Mrs. Smith, of Sherbrooke, were the soloists of the evening. Proceeds, $60, to apply on Church debt.

WINDSOR MILLS.

WHAT HORSE TO BREED.

DISCUSSION OF A MATTER OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

The question of what kind of horse it is best for the farmer to breed is of great importance. Locality and conditions govern the farmer's choice largely. The following points made by Professor Skinner, before the Nebraska Live Stock Association, may be helpful:

If we were asked to describe the best horse for farm work the task would not be so difficult. But no consideration of this subject should ignore the question of profit to be derived from horses on the farm. In fact, farmers will find about as easy money in a few first-class horses to put on the market as any other branch of his business. Someone must grow the horses for city and commercial use, and no one is better prepared to do it, so far as feed and surroundings are concerned, than the farmer. Under most conditions farmers cannot afford to lose sight of the profits to be made from this source.

On most farms a few colts can be grown each year very cheaply, and with but very little trouble. This enables one to dispose of the older horses and thus keep young stock, which will be increasing in value. Geldings should never be kept beyond a suitable age, as mares will be just as serviceable, and at the same time produce a colt worth fifty to a hundred dollars. When we take into account the profits to be gained by such a method and the demands of the market, we will doubtless be led to the conclusion that a farmer cannot afford to produce the horse exactly suited to farm work.

The press is full of discussion on the farm horse and how to breed him, some recommend one and some another, but most of all lose sight of the market value of the animal. Formerly what is known as a general purpose horse was commonly found on the farm, and there are those who now advocate such. The market, however, does not recognize any such class, and when they go there they are a cheap, unclassed horse. For this reason, if no other, they would be unprofitable to farmers. There is, however, another consideration of more importance. Modern agriculture is carried on by the use of heavy implements, such as a binder, gang plough, manure spreader and others. They require a great deal of power, and consequently a heavier horse than our fathers used.

Market horses may be divided into two main classes. Those for draught purposes, such as heavy draught, 'bus, express, etc., harness and saddle horses, which include drivers, coachers and saddlers.

The heavy draught horse must have weight and strength. It is not so much a question of height as weight. A strictly first-class draught horse must weigh sixteen hundred pounds or more. The greater the weight the greater the value. They must have good feet, legs, plenty of bone and quality, and where these are coupled with good style and action, they command the highest market price. The 'bus and express are of lighter weight, and not so strongly built, smoother and have better action. They should not be thought of as small draught horses, as they are entirely distinct and different.

A description of harness and saddle horses is scarcely necessary in this discussion, as I consider them altogether too light for farm work. Moreover, the average farmer cannot put them on the market profitably. The percent of high-grade roadsters, drivers and coachers produced from common mares is small and uncertain. The demand for these is poor.

A study of the market shows that a large percent of the horses that go there are light and unclassed, and as a rule these are cheap and plentiful. On the other hand horses of the draught types, and particularly the heavy draught, find ready sale at good to high prices. There has been no time during the past decade when a first-class heavy draughter would not sell at a profit to the producer. Such horses are demanded by many manufacturers and wholesale merchants at high prices. In the markets to-day they will range in price from $150 to $500, depending on the size and quality. Everything considered, this type of horse will be most profitable for farmers. Some think the light horse, such as used for 'bus and express purposes, are better adapted to farmers' conditions, but in his effort to produce the heavy type a sufficient number of failures will result in enough of the lighter type to supply the demands.

The heavy draught horse is the best for several reasons. He can be produced easily and cheaply, requires little attention and is readily broken. Furthermore, he can be used on the farm from two to four years, and thus pay his way; blemishes do not detract so much from his sale as in the case of many other types, and he is well suited to the heavy work now found on the farm. A few years ago much was said about the very short-legged, extremely blocky horse; and to-day such are good sellers, but a far superior farm horse is found in the active, upstanding horse of sixteen hundred pounds and upward with good action and style. Such a horse will not only sell to advantage, but fill the role of farm horse well. He can be taught to walk rapidly, and does not know what a load is. Where such are bred and raised on a farm they cost very little and help mightily in making up for losses from cattle feeding, etc. They can be produced by mating the heavier mares with pure-bred draught stallions of any of the leading draught breeds of approved type and quality. With prevailing high prices it may be well to caution breeders against indiscriminate breeding to common and inferior sires. Many stallions are being imported annually and among the number many that ought to be rejected by purchaser and breeder. They are bound to leave their impress on their offspring and to pay the price when after several years the colts come to market-able age.

KINGSBURY.

Oct. 29.—Mr. V. Lytle, of Eastman, is unloading a car of pressed hay at the O.M.R. station. Hay is in demand and prices are high.

Mrs. J. Annis, of Windsor Mills, also, Mrs. T. Simms, of Boston, Mass., spent a day visiting friends recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, of Windsor, spent an afternoon here last week.

BEDFORD.

Oct. 29.—The entertainment on Thursday evening, Oct. 25th, in the Victoria Hall, under the auspices of the Bedford Athletic Association, was quite a success despite the bad roads. The principal entertainer was Mr. W. Wentworth, of Boston, Misses Marion Batcheller and Mamie Currie contributed a piano duet with excellent taste; Miss Batcheller also contributed a piano solo, which was heartily encored. The dance, which was announced to be held after the entertainment, was postponed on account of the scarcity of dancers. After paying all expenses about $5 was cleared.

The latest arrivals include Mr. Robt. Cassils, of Toronto, the guest of his mother, Mrs. (Dr.) Cassils; Mrs. Crothers and Miss Beattie, of Stanbridge East; Messrs. E. Kerr and A. B. Clarke, of Montreal; Mrs. A. Sheltus, Miss L. Sigsbee, Miss Symington, of St. Armands; Miss Hattie Rosenberger, of Rosenberg.

The members of the Young People's Auxiliary held a sewing bee at the home of Miss Marion Batcheller on Friday evening. The Young People's Auxiliary propose holding a "seven cent sale," in the Foresters' Hall on Dec. 7th.

Mrs. M. J. Quinn, Miss Mamie Quinn and Master Jas. Quinn left on Friday for Granby, where they expect to reside in future. Mrs. Quinn and family will be much missed in this place where they have lived for a number of years. Mr. E. Quinn will remain here for the winter.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held the first chicken pie social of the season in the Foresters' Hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th. A bountiful repast was provided by the ladies of the congregation to which was done ample justice by the people present. By some misunderstanding no programme was given, but the evening was passed very pleasantly in playing various games. About $25 was realized.

Messrs. C. G. Palmer and J. Creller were in Venice on business the first of the week.

SHEFFORD MOUNTAIN.

Oct. 29.—Mrs. Edward Seale, of Granby, spent a few days last week, with her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Armstrong, also, her sister, Miss Muriel Holmes, of New York.

Mr. Jas. E. Hetherington, youngest son of Mr. John Hetherington, left recently for Detroit.

A number of our farmers attended the Dominion Government auction sale of pure bred swine. Mr. G. H. Armstrong purchased two, and Mr. John T. Booth one.

A BRIGHT LANDLORD.

How He Met the Emergency with a Backward Tenant.

A Montreal landlord developed an ingenious idea for getting the rent out of a backward tenant. The reason the man did not pay his rent was because he hadn't the money. The reason he hadn't the money was because he was down on his luck.

The landlord took his tenant down to McLean & Campbell's Semi-ready Wardrobe, bought him a new suit of clothes and made him feel like a new man with the courage to go out and land a job. And a few days after the tenant had paid up all his back rent. That is the kind of a landlord to have.

GILMAN.

Oct. 29.—Miss Effie Emmett leaves soon for Boston, where she expects a position.

Mrs. D. Clark, of Evansville, and Mrs. M. A. Parker, of Barton Landing Vt., havs been visiting relatives and friends here for a few days.

Mr. Norman Huntley is staying a few days with his daughter, Mrs. M. McClay, of Bondville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hooper attended the Oddfellow's entertainment, at Cowansville on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Ray, of Boston are guests of Mr. J. Bullock's, also, Mr. Malcolm and Elwin Ray, of the same place, are here visiting their sister, Mrs. S. Fletcher, who is quite ill.

EASTMAN.

Oct. 29.—Mr. Pease, of Sherbrooke; Mr. A. E. Ross, of Cowansville, and Mr. Eastman, of Foster, were in town this week.

Mr. Albert Coons and family have moved to Cowansville on a farm.

Mr. Berger has bought the Girard farm from Mr. Arres and taken possession. Mr. Arres has moved to Sherbrooke.

Mrs. Bracey, of Bolton, was visiting friends here this week.

Miss B. McIntosh, of Bondville, was a guest at her brother's, Mr. A. McIntosh, this week.

CITY NEWS.

Mr. W. J. Wiggett went last week to Sudbury, Ont., to wire a large electric light station.

Mrs. Walter Borlase, of Montreal, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. E. Borlase, Fulton Ave.

Mr. W. H. Brent has returned from a two weeks' holiday in New York, Boston and Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. H. McIntosh has returned from Waterville, where she spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Colquhoun.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Connor and Miss C. J. Connor have returned from a pleasant trip to Boston and Revere Beach.

Mrs. C. F. Olivier, wife of Mayor Olivier, has issued invitations for a large reception on Tuesday, Oct. 30th, at her residence, No. 7 Ball street.

The Association football game to have been played on the Parade Grounds Saturday afternoon did not take place. The Waterville team telephoned that they could not come.

The lady organizers of the recent bazaar offer their most sincere thanks to the directors of the Monument National for their generosity in placing the bowling alleys at their disposall, to the Harmony Band and to Bourgeault's Orchestra for the excellent music rendered, to Mr. Sangster for the free use of its electric lighting and to all who contributed to the success of the bazaar.

The Men's Meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon was a farewell service to the old rooms, which have been rented. For twenty years the Association has been quartered in the Y.M.C.A., Hyndman block, but because of the better facilities offered at the Association House at No. 28 Dufferin Ave., the work is being removed to that place. During the week the change will be made, and the meeting next Sunday afternoon will be held in the reception hall of the new place. This house will be occupied by the Association until the new building is erected, plans for which are being drawn up just now. A large number of men bore testimony to the helpfulness of the Association during the occupancy of its old stand and expressed the hope and belief that even greater, broader and more exhaustive work would be done in the new place, and especially when the new building should be completed.

TWO DIE IN FLAMES AT BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

OLD FOLKS HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE THIS MORNING.

Bowmanville, Ont., Oct. 29. — (Special)—Two female inmates of the Old Folks Home, Mrs. Curtis, a blind woman, and Mrs. Wilson, perished in a fire which destroyed the home, early this morning.

The Matron of the Home and her husband did heroic work in saving the rest of the inmates. Mrs. Wilson got out of the building but returned to get some clothing and was suffocated in her room.

MRS. THOS. HAM, OF BARFORD.

Barford, Oct. 29. —(Special)— Mrs. Lucy Keach Ham, widow of the late Thos. Ham, passed away at the home of her son, B. D. Ham, on Sunday, the 28th inst., at the advanced age of 88 years.

Funeral will be held from her late residence to Crooker Brook cemetery, Tuesday, at one p.m.

High Grade PIANOS at Wilson's

Moderate prices, cash or time. No finer assortment in Canada than at our store this week. Special shipment of Heintzman & Co. Pianos to-day. Let us show you the latest styles and quote prices. Heintzman & Co. Pianos sold by our firm in Sherbrooke and vicinity for the past 23 years. The next thing after buying a piano is to see that it is kept in tune at the proper pitch and action carefully regulated when needed. A really fine piano neglected and out of tune gives very poor results; but if properly tuned and cared for will always be satisfactory and prove a good investment. With our present tuning department we can tune and keep in good order almost any number of pianos in Sherbrooke and Eastern Townships at moderate charge. A postal card or telephone order will place your piano on our list and a reliable tuner will call regularly once or twice yearly or oftener if needed.

SALE OF A WELL KNOWN QUEBEC HORSE.

(Quebec Telegraph.)

"Healing Salve," well known to the members of the Quebec Turf Club and the public, has been sold by Mr. David Mitchell, to Mr. John Whyte, trainer for Mr. C. S. Campbell, of Montreal. This favorite horse gained considerable notoriety in this city by lowering the record of the Quebec half mile track to 1.46½ for the mile and 1.18 2-5 for the ¾ mile. He is also favorably known on the tracks of Sherbrooke, Montreal and Ottawa, where he has distinguished himself by winning a number of prizes. It has been known for some time that Mr. Mitchell wished to dispose of him, and while he has been purchased by Mr. Whyte, it is understood, the transaction is in behalf of Mr. Campbell, who intends to qualify him for the next Toronto Horse Show.

WATCHING THE GAME

We're watching the game from every point on Shoes, Stockings and Rubbers. It's not so much a "game" as it is a matter of judgment. We have to that we have to pay the price to get good stuff. There is more deception in rubber goods now than ever. There are two, and some makers have three grades of these; the second is bad and the third is worse. It is always safer to buy the first grade when you buy. We have one good line of Boys' Stockings. Don't forget that.

THE QUESTION OF GOOD ROADS.

Tile Drains Sometimes Cheapest and Most Serviceable.

THE MATTER OF ROAD DRAINAGE DISCUSSED AT FURTHER LENGTH.

The best practice does not direct that the old open drains should be deepened for the purpose of draining the sub-soil. Deep, open drains are expensive, dangerous and unsightly, and the excavated earth generally does more harm than good to the road when used to round it up, especially if piled on top of gravel or stone. When the combined cost of construction and maintenance is considered, a sub-drain of porous farm tile, laid under the bottom of open drains, is cheaper and more serviceable.

It may be accepted as a general rule, that roads tiled without gravel are better than roads gravelled without tile. All roads except those on pure sand can be improved by tile draining. A single line of tile, placed about three feet below the bottom of the open drain, if the graded portion of the road is about twenty-four feet wide, will accomplish nearly all that tile drainage will do. If one side of the road is higher than the other, lay the tile on the high side so as to intercept the sub-soil water as it flows down the slope. A four-inch tile meets most conditions, but the size will depend on the length of the drain and the amount to be carried away. Care must be taken to give the tile uniform grade, so that there will be no depressions. Give a fall of at least three inches in one hundred feet. The cost will be about fifty cents a rod. The work, if properly done, will be a permanent and substantial improvement to the road, and will save many times the cost by lessening the amount of gravel needed on the road.

Tile drains offer no difficulty to lay except in quicksand. In cases where the sand is troublesome, the tile may be surrounded with sawdust, sods or straw to keep out the silt. If settlement is at all likely, boards should be laid in the bottom of the trench and firmly pressed down, and the tile laid on these. The roots of trees, particularly the willow, are apt to enter and, in time, block the tile. Where this is to be anticipated, the joints of the tile should be cemented for a distance likely to be reached by the roots.

Their location with respect to the road should be varied with circumstances. The most effective type of drainage employed is a system in which there is a tile drain on each side of the roadway underneath the open gutters, with V-shaped drains at intervals from the centre of the roadbed to the side drains. From this the scale descends to drains at the side of the road only; then a drain at one side only, or in the centre of the road; then only an occasional drain at springy or damp points.

It is of advantage to understand the manner in which underdrains act in different cases. With porous soils, in which the water rises under hydrostatic pressure, the water enters the tile from below. Just as water rising in a vessel finds an outlet in the sides or flows over the top, so the underdrains supply the necessary outlet for this excess moisture at a proper depth from the surface; it "lowers the water line."

With clay the process is different. Absorbing and holding as it does, like a sponge, a large quantity of water, drains are less effective, but none the less necessary. The cracks and fissures which appear throughout the surface of a baked soil during the summer drought afford a clue to the action of underdrains upon the soil. As the clay yields up its moisture, it shrinks, is torn apart. These fissures, commencing at the drain spread, spread in different directions and each fissure thus becomes a new drain leading to the tile. This process goes on, the fissures become filled with sand, vegetable and other porous matter, so that they assume a degree of permanency, and in clay soils underdrainage is more effective after several years than at first.

Municipalities need not undertake to at once underdrain all their roads in this manner, following the one rule. The preferable plan is to place these drains where they are evidently needed most, in low-lying sections, where water is seen to remain longer on the surface in the spring, after a heavy rain, where springs have tendency to appear, or where the ground is found to be cold and wet during the summer.

THE MARLBOROUGH SEPARATION.

Duchess Keeps Children, Duke Gets $100,000 a Year.

GREATEST SOCIETY SENSATION IN YEARS IN ENGLAND.

London, October 29.—The separation of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough is announced in the newspapers, the case constituting the greatest society sensation of years. The Duchess is Consuelo Vanderbilt, of New York.

The principals concerned maintain absolute silence, but the newspapers give most circumstantial details, stating that a deed of separation between the Duke and Duchess has been signed, on the ground of incompatibility of temper, by the provisions of which the Duchess keeps Sunderland House, London, and her own dowry, but is precluded from going to Blenheim, the famous seat of the Marlborough family.

The deed of separation, it is added, was signed on October 23.

Acquaintances of the Duke and Duchess agree that he entirely neglected her. Each went his or her own way, and though she seemingly bore her position with equanimity, it is no secret that she was in fact a very miserable woman. The Duchess, it is said, is to retain possession of two of the children, the Marquis of Blandford, and Lord Ivor Spencer-Churchill, who are nine and eight years old respectively.

"The arrangement for a separation without resort to the courts has now been drawn up, signed, sealed and delivered. The Duchess under it has settled $100,000 a year on the Duke. In addition to this the Duke has an income of $50,000 a year of his own, clear of all encumbrances."

SAYS NO DEED OF SEPARAQION YET.

London, Oct. 29.—Sir George H. Lewis, acting as solicitor for the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, makes the following statement:

"The Duke of Marlborough and members of his family, including the Marquis of Blandford and Lord Iver Spencer-Churchill, the Duke's son, are in the residence at Blenheim. The report that a deed of separation already has been signed is untrue."

DEATHS REPORTED

NORRIS DUSTIN OF MELBOURNE.

Richmond, Oct. 29.—(Special.)— Mr. Norris Dustin, son of Mr. Joseph Dustin, of Melbourne, a young man of 24 years of age, who had been at Banff, Alberta, for the past year for the benefit of his health, returning home about three weeks ago, succumbed to consumption Saturday morning. Funeral is being held this afternoon.

ELMER SPEAR OF STANSTEAD TOWNSHIP.

Stanstead, Oct. 29. — (Special)— Mr. Elmer Spear passed away on the 25th inst., after an illness of not long duration, at his home on a farm two miles from the village. Never a strong robust man, Mr. Spear was in early manhood stricken with blindness.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. Lee Holmes at the house, Saturday afternoon. The singing was by the Methodist Choir. Interment was at Ruiter's Corner cemetery. A large number of relatives and neighbors were in attendance. A wife and family of young children are left to mourn their loss.

MRS. LEWIS P. BISHOP.

The death occurred yesterday morning, at the Protestant Hospital, of Mrs. Bishop, wife of Lewis P. Bishop, manager of the Eastern Township's Bank at Bishop's Crossing and Marbleton, after a brief illness and in her 28th year. Deceased, whose maiden name was Jennie Louisa Bishop, was the eldest daughter of Mr. Curtis Bishop, of Marbleton.

The remains were conveyed to Marbleton, yesterday, by special train over the Q.C.R., and was accompanied by a number of the officials of the E. T. Bank and friends of the family.

The sympathy of many friends will be with the husband and relatives in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will be held to-morrow, (Tuesday), at 2 p.m., at Marbleton.

THR NEW BRITISH WAR OFFICE.

(London Morning Post.)

Those who love to see London growling beautiful rejoice that the new building has taken the place of the dingy old mansions which used to stand there and of the fenced enclosure that remained for some time afterward, though a hundred different kinds of wild flowering plants were said to grow in the space. Constructed as far as the outer walls are concerned, entirely of white stone, the military palace has been designed to harmonize with Charles the First banqueting hall, from which it is separated by Horse Guards avenue. Of about the same height it is divided into five stories above ground instead of the three in the historic edifice and is of a bolder and more varied character.

At each of the four corners stands a domed tower continued to the ground by a round pavilion. The ionic pillars above the entrances in Whitehall and Whitehall place are separate from the wall, while thos of banquetting hall are attached. Both buildings are alike in displaying few carvings, but here again the new differs slightly from the old, for on each of its four sides two large groups of figures are cut in bas relief near the top. As befits a place with a great number of rooms, there are many windows and if any one objects that they are set for the most part in somewhat monotonous straight lines the answer is that those in the banquetting hall are similarly placed, and that the arrangement is demanded by the work of the War Office.

A courtyard entered from Horse Guards avenue, occupies the middle of the site, which a casual observer might regard as a square, the skilful planning of the building having disguised the irregularity of the ground. The fact is that all its sides are of unequal length and only one of the four corners is a right angle. It was at one time suggested that a passage should be made under Whitehall to connect the new War Office with the Admiralty opposite but that idea has been abandoned.

A GRAVESTONE ACCUSATION.

(New York Evening Post.)

Many are the pathetic life stories writ in marble in the shady little burying-ground so characteristic of every old New England town and city. Indeed there are few existing records that give a better, clearer insight into the little eddies of our Puritan ancestors, social sea, whence so many ripples, widening and growing into mighty tidal waves, have gone forth to leave their lasting impression on the rocks of the republic. The stone that marks the last resting place of Caroline Cutter, of Milford, N.H., is of unusual interest. There are many that are older, but few that exemplify so truly and so simply the spirit of revolt against the narrow and self-satisfied bigotry of a religious society that even as late as the nineteenth century still cherished the traditions, although it had long ceased to exercise the prerogative of a state church. The memory of Milford's oldest inhabitant cannot unravel the mystery, if mystery it be, of the tragedy told by the old moss-covered tablet. Perhaps in time, when some antiquarian writes the history of the old town "the truth of the iniquity will come out," but until that time this grave accusation of murder, uttered presumably by the victim's husband, must stand as wholly unanswered, as were the demands for a hearing that sent the woman to her death some three-quarters of a century ago. The wording of the inscription follows:

CAROLINE H.,
Calvin Cutter, M.D.
Murdered by the Baptist Ministry & Baptist Churches as follows: Sept. 28, 1838, AEt. 36
She was accused of Lying in church Meeting by the Rev. D. D. Pratt & Deac. Albert Adams and condemned by the church unheard. She was reduced to poverty by Deac. William Wallace. When an exparte council was asked of the Milford Baptist Church by the advice of their committee George Raymond, Calvin Averill & Andrew Hutchinson they voted not to receive any communication upon the subject The Rev. Mark Carpenter said he thought as the good old Deac. Pearson said we have got Cutter down and it is best to keep him down. The intentional and malicious destruction of her character and happiness as above described destroyed her life. Her last words upon the subject were that the truth of the iniquity will come out.

PROSPERITY OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.

MANY WHO HAVE GONE WEST OR ELSEWHERE HAD BETTER HAVE REMAINED AT HOME.

Judge McCorkill in a letter to the press on the English exodus question says:

"I have been interested in reading the letters upon the causes of the exodus of Protestants from the Townships. Indeed, sir, I intended ere this to have taken issue with my friend, Mr. A. R. Oughtred, as expressed in his letter of Aug. 31st, but I mislaid my copy containing his letter, and have only now succeeded in procuring another.

"I cannot speak from practical experience of the Counties of Sherbrooke, Compton, or Stanstead, with the same authority that I can of my native county of Missisquoi, of the county of Brome, and part of the county of Shefford; but I certainly have always understood that the counties in question, as well as the county of Richmond, were on a par with the counties of the Bedford district in the intelligence, energy, thrift and prosperity of their people and the natural agricultural advantages of their territories.

"I am surprised, therefore, to read in his letter that he has to hear of one farmer in the counties he is familiar with, 'who has become rich by means of farming.'

"Of course, a person may be rich or poor, relatively. I do not know how many thousands of dollars a farmer of the Townships must have to be rich, according to Mr. Oughtred's standards but I can assure him I can take him to the homes of hundreds of farmers in the counties of Bedford district who can reckon more thousands and give evidence of more home comforts, and a happier, more useful citizenship, than the vast majority of their neighbors and their neighbors' sons who left their native counties 'to better themselves financially.'

"Mr. Oughtred knows of a few isolated cases of farmers who, in their old age, with the strictest economy, are enabled to live upon the interest of their capital.

"That does not in any way prove that there is a want of riches among them.

"When I look back to my boyhood and compare the lot of the men and women and children of those days with that of their successors of the present time; when I visit the sheriff's office and look over his books and question him about the business he does in comparison with his predecessors or even with what he did when he first assumed the duties of his office; when I enter the registry offices of the various counties and question the registrars about the records of which they are the custodians,—I may agree with my friend, Mr. Oughtred, that no one is rich in the sense of the Carnegie or the Rockefeller riches; but, sir, I rejoice to know that not only are the vast majority of the farms free of mortgages, but most of the farmers possess numerous evidences in and about their homes—to say nothing of bank accounts I know many of them to possess—that they are relatively rich, prosperous, contented and happy.

"Mr. Oughtred says a farmer is doing his boys injustice if he does not sell his farm in Quebec and move out west—because, he is of the opinion it will better his and their financial position to do so.

"This does not apply to the farmer alone. Why did Mr. Oughtred himself remain in Montreal? Does he not know many young men, contemporaries of his own, who left their homes in this province to better their financial condition (when business did not hum in Quebec as it does to-day), and who are rich beyond their most sanguine dreams, many times richer than Mr. Oughtred and myself, and many of us who remained at home.

"But does any one who loves his province approve of holding up these glittering, exceptional instances of financial success as a means of weaning away our young men from their native heath?

"We cannot all become rich and I venture to believe that riches is not the only ambition which should be inculcated into the minds of our young men.

"What a discontented province and Dominion this would be if riches was the only thought of our people. I do not underestimate the advantages of wealth any more than I do, in many cases, its disadvantages, but surely our youth should be educated up to something nobler and better than mere accumulation of riches.

"Now, sir, I have an intimate knowledge of the Townships and I protest against such letters as Mr. Oughtred's. They are a species of 'get-rich-quick' advertisements. They give an absolutely false impression of a beautiful and prosperous part of our province—they tend to foster discontent among our own people and to keep possible settlers from settling there.

"I never drive through sections of the Townships that my breast does not swell with pride as I contemplate the fine houses, the large, convenient, modern out-buildings, and well-tilled farms, the fine herds of cattle, the intelligent, robust, independent inhabitants, and the grand scenery on every hand.

"If an Eastern Townships farmer is not making progress financially and otherwise, he is the exception, and it is his own fault if he is not a prosperous and useful citizen.

"Well, I shall not take more of your valuable space to refer to that reason. All I shall say is that, if the present and recent inhabitants of the Townships, Mr. Oughtred's friends included had taken the interest in education that their fathers and grandfathers did, this reflection never would have been made.

"We hope our people are awakening to their duties and their possibilities, and that ere the Townships are much older the educational problem shall have been solved."

ARTISTIC SENSITIVENESS.

"Why are you so resentful toward that writer?"

"Because," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes, "he once said there were moments when my work did not realize the highest possible standard of excellence."

"Well?"

"My dear sir, I welcome criticism, but I cannot endure such ignorant abuse." (Washington Star.

CORRESPONDENCE.

LAKE MEMPHREMAGOG AND SHERBROOKE POWER QUESTION.

Derby Line, Vt., Oct. 26, 1906.

Editor of the Record,
Sherbrooke, P. Q.

Dear Sir,—The comments by "Onlooker" in the Record of Oct. 23 relative to my letter on the water power proposition in Saturday's edition were so timely and facetious that I am inclined to add a few facts to clear the atmosphere. My letter was not wholly of the Anderson type-imaginative, but was based on facts and several years' experience, more than two decades, that warrant me in showing an interest without apology, in such an opportunity as I thought I saw in your city.

The area of Lake Memphremagog I ascertained from reliable records. The distance from Magog to Sherbrooke was from a railroad survey. The difference between the level of the lake at Magog and the St. Francis river at Sherbrooke I secured with an aneroid, and the only discrepancy in our formula for determining the h. p. that would obtain at Sherbrooke if the water was conveyed by pipe line from the outlet of the lake to impulse wheels located at the St. Francis river level is the water supply. Lake Memphremagog is a large and uniform reservoir, and my knowledge of its sources of supply leads to the conclusion that my estimate of 450,000 cubic feet discharge per minute is not far from conservative, although the actual measurement when taken at the outlet may diminish this amount. This discharge represents about one-fourth of an inch of depth of the area consumption per hour, or three inches in twelve hours. The aneroid records a drop of 320 feet from Magog to Sherbrooke, and I have allowed a discount of 15 per cent for pipe friction. One cubic foot of water under 320 feet head generates .513.136 of a horse power. An efficiency of 85 per cent. is represented by this constant or decimal, therefore if the discharge or supply is 450,000 cubic inches per minute you would have: 450,000 multiplied by .513,136, equalling 431,811 horse power. If there is sufficient water running out of the lake at Magog to fill a canal or flume 10 ft. wide and 6 feet deep the discharge is as estimated, and the possible horse-power as stated. In my statement of cost I only gave figures on the power plant, i.e., the gate and water wheel installation, not having a pipe list at hand, and not deeming it necessary to estimate the cost of dynamos and electrical apparatus, but I have since secured some data that may add interest to the story.

The pipe line would cost about $90,000 a mile, a total of $1,620,000, and the appliances for turning this h. p. all to electric current would be nearly $1,000,000, making an investment including the power plant of $3,320,000, and the wiring for the transmission of so much energy would augment the investment to quite $4,000,000. If our figures are about correct it has cost about $17.25 per h. p. to develop this plant. Can the use for one year of a h.p. of energy be bought of any dividend paying plant for $17.25? There are several practical things about this proposition, viz. The magnitude of the reservation, the head, the possible horse power, the need of your city, and its a rare business proposition.

Niagara's greatest head is 168 feet, against Sherbrooke's 320 a vast proportionate difference. I realize that Niagara has a large market within the transmission limit of a direct current, which is practically 100 miles, and of course has a great volume of water, but the cost of development is enormous, more than double what would be required at Sherbrooke and each unit is a commercial and industrial success of a high order. The great voltage made possible by such enormous development of energy has been the means of producing new products of vast importance and magnitude, and to these centres of water power energy all over the world will naturally gather, great bodies of industrial population, and each decade will witness increased development of water power plants, increase in demand and consequently the value of each h.p. of energy so developed will steadily improve, and from now on the vender of energy will sell to a steady, healthful market. Your city may not step our from its conservatism now and develop its natural power gifts, but it will in time or pay toll to the stranger who does.

Respectfully,
JOHN REDFIELD CHERRY.

"OUTSIDERS" WIN MATCH WITH "SCHOOLBOYS" AT KNOWLTON.

Knowlton, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The first game of the season of Association football was played on the Academy grounds on Friday afternoon after an early closing of the classes.

The first half of the game the "Schoolboys" scored one, and after a half hour's rest the "Outsiders" put up a little better game and scored two points, making 2 to 1 in favor of the "Outsiders." The teams were as follows:

School Boys.	Outsiders.
George Miltimore	Forward A. Benoit
Charlie Savage.	Forward Geo. Benoit
Carl Stone	Forward. Arthur Miller
William Wimble	Forward H. Robinson
R. Macfarlane	Forward F. Williams

Arthur Hawkins.	Half back S. R. Smart
Austin Wilson	Full back J. Flanigan
Lee Miltimore	Full back A.R. Taylor
Hugh Macfarlane	Goal ....

BOWLING.

The 237 point record for a single string held by G. E. Blais was broken by P. D. Authier, who scored 259 points.

It is understood that it is the intention of the Directors of the Monument National to give a valuable prize every month for the highest score for 3 strings, made during that month, no entry fee to be charged. The players wishing to compete for the prize will be requested to register all their scores for 3 strings made during that month, so as to establish a record for every player for future competition, which will be with a handicap, giving a chance, therefore, to every player to win the prize.

This matter will be brought up before the meeting next Wednesday evening when the league will be organized. All the bowlers are invited to be present.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTING NOTES

Jockey Walter Miller has brought his score up to 302 winning mounts for the season.

Three favorites and three outsiders won the card at Latonia, Cincinnati, Ohio, Thursday.

Colonel "Bob" Pate, who was last heard of in a crusade to establish a race course in the City of Mexico, is now promoting a track at Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Two duels in which three of the combatants received injuries which disabled them, were fought in Havana, Thursday. Captain Pocy was badly wounded by a sword thrust in the leg.

Jockey Grover Cleveland Fuller, who had his leg broken when Wistful fell with him in the Excelsior Handicap at Jamaica in the spring of 1905, has been granted an allowance of $100 per month for one year from the fund of the Jockey Club. Fuller has not been able to ride since the accident.

The strangest football team of the country are those of the Kentucky institute for the blind. The first team has not been scored against while the second team has won both its games, shutting out the opposing teams. The opponents must not be blind and the only concession they ask of them is that they call out "Pass" when the ball is put in play.

THE GOSPEL OF IMPROVEMENT.

(From the Congregationalist.)

A score or more years ago the pastor of a rural New England church led in organizing a village improvement association. The neglected common on the main street was made over into a smooth green lawn, and rows of shade trees were planted. The inhabitants as they came to the store, the post office and the church were impressed with the change which constantly grew more pleasing. Some of those who lived along that street purchased lawn mowers, set out tress and shrubs around their homes, and made new paths to their doors. Their neighbors felt obliged to follow their example. Visitors this summer who had not seen the town for several years were surprised at the transformation. Nor was it confined to the streets and houses, though it had extended into remote corners. The improvement was evident among the people, young and old. The churches which had depended on missionary societies for annual appropriations have assumed their own support. An honorable pride in the town is manifest among the inhabitants everywhere. Its reputation is high among the neighboring towns and is extending. General S. C. Armstrong, that noble apostle to American Negroes and Indians, used to say that to uplift those races into righteousness and usefulness it was necessary to make their wills as strong for goodness as their intentions in their best moments, and that nothing was more important to this end than to bring them to stand and walk upright, to dress becomingly and to inspire them to foster attractive surroundings. There is a genuine gospel in this recent proclamation of the mayor of Denver: "If your store front, residence or fence is dingy, repaint it; if your awning is torn, old or faded, get a new one. Resolve never to throw papers in the street. Ask your milkman, greceryman and pressman to have their wagons painted." The police commissioner of Boston has lately addressed its citizens along the same line. This is gospel which can be preached by ministers and spread by laymen, and results may be expected in renewed characters not less than in improved appearance.
