

MAYOR HOUDE AT BUSINESS MEN'S LUNCHEON

HIS WORSHIP MAKES SIGNIFICANT STATEMENTS BEFORE REPRESENTATIVE GATHERING OF LEADING CITIZENS

President Garfield Promises Chief Executive Undivided Support in All His Undertakings — Ald. Rochon Announces Himself as Member of Business Men's Association — Ald. Owen Callary Calls For Support of Catholic Charities Drive — Most Successful Luncheon So Far.

His Worship Mayor Camilien Houde was the guest of the Business Men's Association of the North End at its noonday luncheon in the Rialto Building on Wednesday. Seated at the head table with him were the Honorable Joseph Mercier, M.P., B. M. Garfield, president of the association, Aldermen Leo McKenna, and Dave Rochon, of Montreal; Aldermen Owen J. Callary, Bourassa, and Pratt, of Outremont; R. L. Greenfield, secretary, Eugene Maynard, first vice-president, L. H. Ouimet, third vice-president, and Art Lemay, financial secretary, respectively, of the Business Men; Messdames Garfield, Leone and Rochon; Messrs. Ned Jakobs and Angeil. Mr. I. R. Carlin, at the request of President Garfield, introduced the Hon. Mr. Mercier and Alderman Owen Callary thanked the Mayor.

The President, in extending a welcome, stressed the fact that the association was devoting untiring efforts to the development of the North End. In this connection he outlined plans presently being discussed for two large-scale drives, the dates of which have not as yet been definitely fixed, but which would, he predicted, prove a real stimulus to business in the North End. He also made known the fact that a campaign for new and worthwhile recruits to the Association would be launched immediately, and that this campaign would be under the direction of ten captains, with as many aides as required. The captains are as follows: Wilbrod Decarie, Desire S. Desbois, R. L. Greenfield, B. M. Garfield, E. Phil McKenna, P. Lamine, Art Lemay, J. A. Pariseau, and E. Maynard, with one other yet to be appointed.

Mr. Garfield introduced Mayor Houde, Alderman McKenna and Rochon. In welcoming the Mayor on behalf of the association, he said the occasion was one for extreme gratification, since it "gave His Worship an opportunity to know us better, and gives him an opportunity to become better acquainted with us." He also assured the Chief Executive of the wholehearted support of the organization in "anything and everything" he had set out to do.

His Worship, replying in a happy vein, paid his respects to Alderman Rochon by stating that the alderman had the cooperation of the entire City Council in his efforts for betterment of St. Michael's Ward. He also gave an unqualified promise that there would be a revision of the property tax rolls. "There are," he said, "many taxpayers who are not contributing enough to the city coffers, and others who are contributing too much. Measures will be taken to the end that a more equitable distribution of assessments shall take place, and that those who can will pay." He touched lightly on the all engrossing topic of the balancing of the city's budget. The matter of financing, he stated, should be taken out of politics entirely. He advocated some sort of corporation, which would be empowered to borrow funds and to levy taxes sufficient to meet the interest on sinking fund and loans. In this way, he suggested, the city could go to the public for its financing, and money could be had at three per cent, instead of five, as at the present. He believed an income tax impractical, and further imposts on property-holders impossible. He was roundly applauded at the end of his remarks.

Alderman Rochon said that he had gone to the City Hall in the first place prepared to "fight the whole Council if necessary to get what he wanted." He proudly announced that "from this day forward" he was a member of the Business Men's Association. Alderman McKenna brought a greeting from Mount Royal Ward, and Aldermen Bourassa and Pratt addressed short remarks to the gathering.

Alderman Owen Callary, in thank-

New Lights For St. Joseph Blvd.

A motion looking to improved lighting of St. Joseph Boulevard, was presented to the City Council on Tuesday. It is sponsored by Alderman L'Archeveque, Savignac and Seigler, and takes care of the entire length of the Boulevard from Hutchison to Iberville streets. The various sections are in the wards represented by the three aldermen. The plan, it is understood, calls for pedestal lights similar to those existing between Hutchison street and Park Avenue. There is no intention of removing the trees now growing on the "islands", upon which the lights are to be placed, although it may be necessary in some cases to trim them, so as to make the illumination more effective. Information as to when work on the project will begin is not yet forthcoming.

Y.M.H.A. CONDUCTS CHILD HEALTH WEEK

Commencing Saturday morning, Nov. 10th, the Y.M.H.A. Boy's Work Committee will conduct an intensive campaign among its boy membership to stimulate annual medical examinations. "Health Week" will be introduced at the Junior Congregation Service, Sat. Nov. 10th, at 10.00 a.m. On Sunday all the Junior Clubs will meet at an Assembly to hear a prominent doctor on a health topic.

Monday afternoon, Nov. 12th, the Juniors will put on an exhibition of calisthenics, and on Wednesday they will hold a water carnival in the "Y" pool. Both these activities are in the hands of Mr. M. M. Bruker.

Throughout the week several doctors, dentists and optometrists will be on duty to examine every youngster. It is estimated that some 500 children will come under the care of these medical men.

Saturday, Nov. 17th, will see the conclusion of Health Week with the showing of some Health Films through the courtesy of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. It is hoped to have Dr. S. Boucher head of the City Health Department, as guest speaker.

As a follow-up the Y.M.H.A. will send reports of the examinations and advice to the parents of the members. Mr. Harry J. Halperin, Assistant Director of the Department of Education, is in charge of all arrangements for "Health Week."

ing the Mayor, took occasion to direct attention to the fact that the drive for funds for the Catholic Charities would open tomorrow, the tenth, and continue for ten days.

The objective, he pointed out was, $174,600, and every dollar of it was badly needed. He asked for the assistance of those present in making the drive a success.

Mr. I. R. Carlin introduced the Honorable Mr. Mercier. The member for Laurier-Outremont took occasion to stress the rapid growth of the North End, and pointed out that there were as many shoppers on Park Avenue as on St. Catherine Street.

The function was the most successful of its kind so far held, and great credit is due to Mr. John Connolly, upon whose shoulders fell a large part of the responsibility for the arrangements. The musical programme was under the direction of "Jerry" Shea. Mr. Garfield acted as chairman, and was assisted by Mr. Greenfield.

Group of those who attended the mid-day luncheon of the Business Men's Association of the North End at the Rialto Building on Wednesday, at which an interesting address was delivered by Mayor Houde. First row (left to right) Aldermen G. Pratt and Charles Bourassa, of Outremont; Aldermen Leo McKenna, and Dave Rochon, of Montreal; B. M. Garfield, president of the association; His Worship Mayor Houde; Hon. Joseph Mercier, M.P., for Laurier-Outremont; E. Maynard, R. L. Greenfield, secretary of the association; Desire S. Desbois, director, and M. Leone.

REUNION OF "OLD BOYS" OF NORTH BRANCH

Arrangements Being Made For Great Get-Together November 22nd.

On Thursday, Nov. 22nd, the Old Boys of the North Branch Y.M.C.A. will gather together in what will be the first Reunion.

During the years which the North Branch has been in operation hundreds of members have enjoyed varied programmes and good times. Members have lost touch with old friends through the years, and the Old Boys' Reunion will provide an opportunity for meeting once again. Practically every sport and profession will be represented. Mr. George Porteous, executive secretary of the "Y", is enthusiastically co-operating with the committees in charge to make this an event long to be remembered. All old members are invited to attend, and those wishing to be present are requested to get in touch with Mr. Porteous, as the Committee finds it difficult to trace old addresses and telephone numbers.

The Ladies' Aid, who turned out to help with suppers in the past, have again been approached, to assist the Supper Committee, which includes: Stan Brown, Harry Lewis, and Mr. Porteous, Sarge Swinbourne and R. P. Thomas, are in charge of the Programme and Entertainment, and Owen Griffiths, Reg. Darbyson, and Stan Rough are in charge of Promotion.

The Committees are making an effort to have as many as possible of the Old Boys of the period of 1920-30 attend, and supper accommodation for a hundred is being planned. All Old Boys should secure their tickets as soon as possible, so that the committee may plan accordingly.

A meeting of committees and those Old Boys willing to help will be held at the Y, Tuesday, November 13th, at 8 p.m. sharp.

CANON SHATFORD MAKES APPEAL FOR MONTEFIORE

Stresses Need of Helping Child Who Cannot Help Itself.

Before a crowded auditorium of campaign workers, Canon A. P. Shatford made a strong appeal on behalf of the $25,000 campaign of the Montefiore Hebrew Orphans Home, 4650 Jeanne Mance street. Canon Shatford stressed the need of helping the child who can't help itself and drew a picture of men breaking material wealth in an effort to save a child when it is trapped in a burning building, to show that the same courage is needed now to help the small unfortunate one. He also made special reference to the racial pride of the Jews. He was introduced by Lyon Cohen and was thanked by Leon Crestohl. Mr. Nat Simpson was in the chair.

MacVICAR MEMORIAL CHURCH NOTES

The Morning Service in MacVicar Memorial Church will be held on Sunday at 10.50 so as to give the opportunity of recognizing the two minutes silence at 11 o'clock. The subject of Dr. Potters Armistice address will be "Let Us Remember." At the Evening Service 7.30 "The Practical Significance of Remembrance Day" will be the topic of address.

Monday 12th 8 p.m. The Rev. Hadron Gilmour of Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul will be The Armistice Day speaker.

Wednesday 14th 8 p.m. Mid-Week Service of Praise and Conference, subject of study "The Lords Prayer".

The Young People's Society are presenting the comedy "A Dumb Waiter" on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 19 and 20th in the Church Lecture Hall.

OUTREMONT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

"A TOUR OF EUROPE", was the title of an address delivered by the Rev. Chas. George Smith, B.A., B.B.D., at the meeting of the Young People's Missionary Committee. Mr. Smith, always an interesting speaker, gave a very informing and delightful address. Mr. Blake Sewell presided, and Mr. John Rice, president of the society, moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Next weeks meeting will be under the auspices of the Literary Committee, led by Mrs. H. H. Thomson.

Armistice Day Services will be held morning and evening next Sunday. The morning service will be a service of "REMEMBRANCE" and it will commence at 10.50 a.m. instead of 11 o'clock.

At the evening service Mr. McLean will give an address on the subject, "THE VETERANS AND PEACE". Mr. McLean went overseas with the men who were in their teens when the Great War burst upon the world. He saw service in France and Belgium, and since the war he was given a commission in the Non-permanent Active Militia, of Canada.

"Y" MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN GOES OVER THE TOP

The North Branch Y.M.C.A. Fall Membership Campaign has proved itself to be a great success, 103.2% of the total objective being reached. The efforts of the Young Men's Division and the Ladies and Girl's Division were particularly gratifying, each group attaining well over 100% of their objective. This now brings the total Y.M.C.A. membership 20% higher than at the same time last year.

This has been the most successful campaign conducted by the North Branch Y.M.C.A. for several years, and it is taken as an augury for the return of happier days. Under the leadership of Freddie Tutill, Chairman of the Young Men's Division section of the campaign special mention is given to the promotion work done by Jim Walsh, George Fitzgerald, Rodger Lefebvre, Stewart Roberts and Vernon Blake. In the Women's and Girl's Division the promotion work of Dossie Merryfield and May Moody was outstanding, and in the Boy's Division George Walker secured the largest number of members new and renewal.

Y.P.H.L. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

A Workers rally of the Y.P.H.L. Membership Campaign was held November 7th, at the Capital Hungarian. Moe Seidman president of the Young People's Hebrew League was in the chair. Returns up to date show that the workers had signed 245 new members. The quota this year was set for 600 members. Mr. Ben Stein exhorted the workers to greater efforts and outlined the need for signing up the new members so that available members and funds be had to carry on the extensive program that the executive had planned for the year.

The man who has reached a throne need not be ashamed of the days when he was poor, ragged and hungry.

World's Oldest Motorist Celebrates 97th Birthday

New Speed Car Rumored — Unique Japanese Ceremony at Auto Plant — France May Enforce Light Car Body Colors as Safety Measure.

There's a sound of hammers along the highways now, shattering the tranquillity of the autumn afternoons. The proprietors of the way-side hotdog and refreshment stands are handling those hammers—shutters are going up on the little establishments, as another tour season draws to a close. It was a good season, this one, all things considered. True, the cold and damp weather of August acted as a partial check of the great motor caravan, but business was better than last year.

"Yes, motor touring showed an increase this year," said W. G. Robertson, general manager of the Ontario Motor League, when we asked him about the 1934 touring industry. "Reports show that we might be able to expect a 10 or 20 per cent. increase over last year. The motor tourists, too, seemed more willing this summer to stay at the more expensive hotels and tourist camps. The better class of summer resort hotels in Ontario generally experienced better business this season."

Particularly early in the season was the advance over last year noticeable, July was an excellent month for the tourist business. August was, however, a bit of a disappointment. If Ontario had not had the cold damp weather we had in August, the rising curve of business might not have dropped the way it did.

"This summer," Mr. Robertson continued, "I did a little touring around northern Ontario and I found when I questioned hotel and garage and service station owners that they all reported something of an improvement in the tourist."

The No. 1 rumor this week along Motor Row whispers that the two great 16-cylinder engines built for Gar Wood's boat will turn to terra firma and be installed in a new speed juggernaut to be built with money supplied by one large car manufacturer for the purpose of trying to take the world's land speed record away from Sir Malcolm Campbell. The project, from all accounts, is still at the rumor stage, however.

Another good idea in circulation. In Detroit the police commissioner has declared war on jay-walking pedestrians and as an important part of his campaign is sending out a car equipped with microphone and loud-speaker to patrol downtown Detroit intersections and blast out warnings to pedestrians about to cross the streets.

Any competitors hereabouts? A. C. Simmons of Oak Park, oldest auto driver in the world. He was 97 years of age on August 3, and celebrated the day by driving with three old cronies, each more than 90 years old, around the busy streets of Chicago. He has been driving for 20 years and is still going strong. France in the motor news. Safety organizations in Paris are going to take a try at dictating to motor manufacturers a range of color schemes for their cars as a safety measure. Their idea is that drab body hues on cars fail to throw them up in relief against surrounding objects in the thoroughfares and for this reason are the cause of accidents. The safety bodies will try to place a ban on dark blue, black, deep brown and green and maroon as car colors. In the place of these tints, they suggest light yellow, cream and bright red instead. Already their suggestion has received the endorsement of many motor touring clubs in France, the contention being that the visibility of all fast-moving vehicles would be enhanced thereby, especially at night.

First a shower of champagne. then a ritual of purification. then a blessing. all these greeted a truck when it rolled off the production line in a motor factory at Osaka, Japan, recently. The truck was selected for these special honors because it marked the completion by the company of the 70,000th unit in seven years of manufacturing. In Japan you know, seven is regarded as the number particularly favored with good luck. The same plant similarly celebrated other important cars and trucks, as when it turned out its 50,000th car, which, for the celebration, was painted all good, and again with its 60,000th car, which was colored to match the hoo-bird.

Motor men are giving a big quota of attention to a new experimental car which has appeared in Detroit with not only the front wheels independently sprung, but the rear two as well. The car, a model introduced by the Spring Leaf Institute, has a frame which is about best described as in the shape of a double wishbone connected by a backbone. This structure is said to have an increase in torsional stiffness of 140 to 400 per cent., as compared to conventional X-type frames. It is claimed it also allows a saving in weight of from 30 to 40 per cent. As to unsprung weight, the saving at the rear end is claimed to be around 100 pounds over conventional axles, and the front suspension saves some 40 pounds as compared to other in dependant suspension systems, it is said.

Y. M. H. A. NOTES

The Opening Debate of the Y. M. H. A. in the schedule of the Montreal Debating League will be held in the Y.M.H.A. Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, November 11th at 2:30 P.M. The Y.M.H.A. will oppose the Montreal Junior Board of Trade on the subject, "Resolved that the Dominion Government be given complete jurisdiction over social legislation."

Norman Genser and Harold Lande will represent the Y.M.H.A., speaking on the affirmative, while Leo Leblanc and Even McCormack will speak for the Montreal Junior Board of Trade. Mr. A. Feiner, Club Supervisor, will be in the chair.

What promises to be the most novel and interesting institute attempted for some time will be held over the week-end of Nov. 29th. On that date, the Y.M.H.A. Educational Department has arranged to have Dr. A. L. Sachar, brilliant lecturer of the University of Illinois, deliver a series of lectures of Jewish portent which will carry an important message to all his listeners.

Dr. Sachar has gained an enviable reputation for himself across the border as one of the most popular lecturers in demand. His addresses have taken him almost across the entire continent where he has been received with acclaim in every hall.

Tiny Monarch Receives Salute Of His Generals

The fact that King Peter is only 11 years old detracted not an iota from the respectful welcome accorded him by the generals of the Yugo-Slavian army when he arrived in his capital from London. He is shown shaking hands with the army leaders who greeted him at the railroad station in Belgrade. Behind King Peter stands his widowed mother, Queen Marie, and second from the right is Prince Paul, the principal regent.

North Branch "Y" Notes

Dunlop Road Race

On Saturday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. the starter's gun will bark and nearly 50 racers will take off their marks for the five mile grind which is now the annual classic of the North End. The Dunlop Road Race is a team event. Six men are allowed on each team and the first to cross the tape for each team count in the final scoring. It is one of the most important events of its kind in the City, and has been run from the Branch building for many years. This is the third trophy which has been put into competition, one being held by North Branch Y.M.C.A. and the second by McGill University. McGill also hold the shield on the second trophy which was put into competition last year.

Strong opposition will face the McGill team this year in their efforts to lead the others. Strong competition will be afforded by the M.A.A.A. team. The North End will be represented by the North End Eagles. The Royal Rovers of Verdun are also entered in this race as well as several other outstanding athletic organizations. The race this year will be conducted jointly by the North Branch Y.M.C.A. and Provincial Track and Field Association.

Basketball

The Black Hawks of the North Branch Y.M.C.A. House League tightened their hold on the basketball championship of the Institution by widening the gap between them and the Maple Leafs. The Hawks have lost only one game and have won eight for a total of 16 points. The Maple Leafs who were colourful contenders have been dropping games lately with the result that they have won five and lost four with a total of 10 points. The Bears are third with 6 and the Maestros formed a foundation with two wins and seven losses.

Carpet Bowling

Two sets of Carpet Bowling equipment has been secured for the Senior Division and several parties have already been arranged by various members and their friends, and a great deal of interest is being shown in this popular indoor pastime.

Handball

Interest is being rapidly increased in Handball around the Branch and every night players are to be found making use of the fine downstairs court, while the gym on Monday and Thursday evenings is used for this purpose.

Alder Irwin, honorary swimming coach, reports that the beginners he started with some months ago have graduated into the advanced groups and he is looking for members who cannot swim to master this fine art. Classes are held for seniors every Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. Alder has had such success with the teaching of swimming that he is almost willing to guarantee satisfactory results.

Mechanic Club Formed

Is there in this community a young man who is interested in training a group of boys in the work with Meccano sets. A club has been formed at North Branch "Y" in this interesting hobby and someone is sought to guide and advise them in their structural activities.

FAIRMOUNT ST-GILES CHURCH NOTES

A trumpeter, from the "Black Watch", sounding "Last Post" and "Reveille", while selected groups of "Girl Guides" and "Boy Scouts", standing at attention, as the organ plays. The "Dead March" will be impressive features of the "Service of Remembrance", at 7:30 p.m. Sunday next. The sermon will be preached by the minister Rev. Burton Robinson, and appropriate musical numbers will be rendered by a full chorus choir and soloists. Regular morning service at 11 o'clock.

Beginning on Monday evening next and continuing until Sunday, Nov. 25th, Fairmount St. Giles in co-operation with Temple Baptist Church in a two-weeks Evangelistic Mission which will be conducted by Rev. John Linton, of Toronto, formerly of Montreal. For next week, Mon. to Friday, these services will be held in the Temple Church, and on Sunday evening Nov. 18th. at 7:30, the two congregations will meet in Fairmount St. Giles, and continue until Sun., Nov. 25 at 7:30 with the exception of Sat. evening. The ministers and boards of both churches are issuing a cordial invitation to all church groups to join with them in this series.

The recent Annual Bazaar, held under the auspices of the Fairmount St. Giles Women's Association, proved the usual splendid success, with its tastefully decorated booths and energetic salesmen and women in Room 4 and a fine supper served in the spacious Assembly Hall. The following Convenors deserve congratulations for their careful preparation, and the successful execution of their plans—General Convenor, Mrs. P. J. Jordan. Fancy Work Booth, Mesdames W. Barrington, S. Cloutier, B. H. Robinson. Aprons, Mrs. T. English. Home-cooking, Mesdames, Neville and Yale. China, Mrs. H. K. Gibson. Dip. Pond, Mrs. J. N. McCuaig. Halp Mesdames, A. Gregson and F. Brown. Candy, Mesdames, E. C. Townsend and J. W. MacDonald. Ice cream, Y.P.S. Stationary, The Choir. White Elephant, The Sunday School. The Country Store, Mr. H. K. Gibson. Special Mention might be made concerning the work of the Fancy Work Booth, and the "Country Store", both of which largely exceeded their splendid record of previous years. The total proceeds will closely approximate $1,500.

APPENDICITIS

This condition is considered the most important of the acute intestinal disorders. The causes are varied, the anatomical features of the appendix render it liable to infection, ulceration, strangulation and perforation. The bacteriology is varied. It may be caused by the bacillus coli, the streptococcus pyogenes and many others. Foci of infection such as the tonsils may be a causative factor. Indigestions in diet very often bring on attacks. Most cases occur in young people, 50% of all cases occur before the twentieth year. For general purposes let us consider the acute and the chronic types.

Attacks generally begin with pain in the abdomen settling in the right side and felt most acutely over a spot called McBarney's Point. Fever, vomiting and a rapid pulse are also present. The right side is tender and the muscles are contracted. All these signs and symptoms when they occur in anybody, should call a doctor. Do not rush for the castor oil bottle, since the greatest cause of perforations with peritonitis is the administration of a cathartic in these conditions. And since this disease occurs most frequently in young people and on this account alone perforations occur oftener, be very cautious. Do not delay and wait for the attack to pass over. Operate early and operate on the first attack; the second and third may be fatal even should you recover from the first. The operation is very simple and the risk so small that it is safer to operate than to wait. Several attacks cause adhesions and a subsequent chronic condition with consequent ill health. In either case it is wiser to operate.

Freddie Bartholemew, "David Copperfield" of the films, celebrated his first day at the M-G-M studio by buying the thing he's wanted — he declares—"all his life." It was a thirty-nine cent camera from a drug store. Waiting temporarily out of funds, Freddie borrowed the 39 cents from David O. Selznick, the producer, solemnly promising to repay him out of his first week's check.

Favorite Food of Orient In New Combinations

"Have you eaten rice?" smiles the polite Chinese gentleman as he meets you on the street. Which is his own little way of saying: "Howdy! I hope you're well."

And if you are at all a lover of things oriental you will be able to admit promptly that you have eaten rice that day, not only once, but perhaps several times, for strange as it seems to us in a country where wheat and corn have gained so much prominence, it still is a fact that rice is probably the world's greatest crop. Over half the world's population eats rice three times a day as the main article of diet, and no matter where a globe trotter trots, he is practically certain to find special rice dishes, with a characteristically native tang, waiting for him at every stop.

How does rice grow? On a tree, a bush, or a reed? So few people really know, that it's worth a few words before we jaunt for the kitchen. Actually, rice is a water plant of the grass family, looking much like oats or wheat to the uninitiated. But although it grows in water, it is not planted there. The ground first is prepared, the rice in its husk is planted, and when the green shoots have grown a few inches upward, the field is flooded with water with the aid of powerful pumping plants. So the stalk stands, half submerged, for three months. At that time the grain heads are full, the water is drawn off, the fields dry, and the harvesting begins.

From the rice fields the threshed grain is sent to the mills in the unhusked state. As such, it is known intimately as "paddy" or "rough rice". Strong rollers crush the hulls and sieves sift out the grain. This whole grain we know as brown rice. More milling gives us white rice, which may be sold either coated or uncoated. The coating one often finds upon store rice is a harmless, thin film of talc and glucose to give the grains a pearly lustre. This film should be washed off before the cooking.

So let's migrate now to the kitchen for a bit of stirring up. The season for fat roasting birds is fast coming on, and knowing hostesses are planning to surprise the first fowl of the season with—

Rice and Orange Stuffing

- 3 cups cold boiled rice
- 2½ tablespoons butter
- 1 cup stale bread crumbs
- ½ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 1 orange, juice and grated rind
- 1 egg, well beaten.

Soak the bread crumbs in the milk until softened, then combine all the ingredients, blending thoroughly. Add more bread crumbs if the mixture is too soft. Use as stuffing for duck, chicken, or a small turkey.

If you have a bit of cooked rice left over, ring it in as a substitute for bread crumbs for thickening soup. Add it to boiled custard for dessert. Serve it with cooked prunes as a high grade extender.

A favorite love of children, once they make its acquaintance, is—

Peanut Butter and Rice Timbales

- ½ cup raw rice
- 1½ tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons peanut butter
- 2½ tablespoons chopped parsley
- ½ teaspoon minced onion
- 1 egg, well beaten

Wash and cook the rice in boiling, salted water until tender. Make a sauce of the butter, flour, milk, and salt, cooking until smooth and thick. Add the other ingredients, and turn into greased ramekins or timbale moulds. Place moulds in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a low oven until firm.

A pleasant luncheon dish which takes care of left-over rice is soft baked eggs on rice. It takes simply two tablespoons of cooked, buttered rice placed in the bottom of each buttered ramekin. Into each drop a raw egg straight from the shell. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot with ½ teaspoon butter and 2 tablespoons of milk for each serving. Place the ramekins in a shallow pan of hot water and bake in a medium oven (375 degrees F.) until the egg white is firm. Serve in the ramekins with a sprig of crisp parsley for garnish.

Then a jolly surprise for a chilly fall day arrives in the form of—

Hawaiian Rice Pudding

- ½ cup rice
- 2 cups milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2½ tablespoons sugar
- ½ cup pineapple tid-bits
- 8 maraschino cherries, minced

Wash rice and cook it with the milk, salt, and sugar in a double boiler until tender. Then add the pineapple and cherries. Serve hot

DELICIOUS DUCK DINNERS

- Julienne Soup
- Melba Toast
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1-1 3/4 cups stock or water
- Salt and pepper
- Two-third cup orange juice
- Grated rind ½ orange
- 1 tablespoon sherry flavoring
- Add flour to hot fat and allow to brown well. Add stock or water gradually, stirring until smooth. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Just before serving add orange juice and rind and the sherry flavoring. Serve in sauce boat.
- Maple Mousse
- 1 cup rich maple syrup or crushed maple sugar
- 4 egg yolks
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1½ tablespoon cold water
- ¾ cup evaporated milk
- 2 egg whites
- ½ teaspoon gelatine
- Bring the syrup, or melted sugar, to boiling point. Beat egg yolks and pour hot syrup over them; place over hot water and cook about 5 minutes, stirring constantly as mixture thickens. Add salt and cool. Soften gelatine in cold water and add to scalded evaporated milk. Chill thoroughly, then beat until stiff. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold syrup mixture, whipped milk and egg whites together; turn into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator, or pour into mould and pack in ice and salt.
- Drain most of the liquid from canned or freshly cooked peas; run through a sieve. (Heat canned peas before draining). Add salt, pepper, onion, butter, and well-beaten eggs. Pour into greased timbale moulds, place moulds in pan of water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until firm. In the meantime, saute canned or peeled fresh mushroom cans until light brown; sprinkle lightly with flour, stir until flour browns, then add enough water to cover bottom of pan as mixture thickens. Unmould timbales on to serving plate and pour around them the sauteed mushrooms. Fills 6 small moulds.
- Orange Sauce for Duck
- 3 tablespoons fat

or chilled with the following sauce:

Orange Sauce

- ¼ cup water
- ½ teaspoon flour
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1½ tablespoons butter

Combine the first four ingredients and boil for two minutes. Add the fruit juices, grated rind, and butter.

A CHILD'S LOVE

Four-year-old Ellen was being taught to eat and enjoy all kinds of food, so she was also given spinach, and rather often, she thought. She ate at her own pretty little table, in her nursery, with her big Teddy-bear, as companion, always opposite.

As she sat down at her wee table one day, she glanced at it and sighed. "Spinach again! Oh, Teddy, dear, if I didn't love you so dearly I'd give this to you."

After eight weeks of actual "shooting", Hal Roach's elaborate screen version of the Victor Herbert operetta, went into the cutting rooms. The Laurel and Hardy feature will be edited and ready for release before the holidays, it is declared by Henry Ginsberg, vice-president and general manager of the Roach organization. Filmed in two units and using mobs of more than five hundred persons at various times, "Babes in Toyland" is undoubtedly one of the most pretentious screen spectacles to come out of Hollywood in recent months. Among

NATURE'S LESSONS

Whenever I have the great privilege of being close to nature, either at the sea or in the woods, I want to drink deep of the pure air, whether it contains the invigorating, salty tang of the sea breezes, or the healing, soothing fragrance of the pine woods.

Over and over again, I am impressed with Nature's marvellous teachings. And she does other things than pour rich sunlight into our tired bodies, or fresh zest into our bloodstream through the medium of clean air, she gives us also many little beauty hints. For instance, have you ever used pine needles for your bath? If you are near pine woods, you can gather some and brew a liquid by pouring hot water over them.

If you are not able to do this, there is a bath essence which you can buy instead. It will impart a new fragrance to your skin.

Another beauty aid that Nature lavishes upon us is the sand on the sea shore. I do not mean in this particular coarse dark sand that is on many beaches, but rather the fine, white sand which is also prevalent. As an experiment try washing your picnic dishes with it, instead of water. You will discover how effective it is. Primitive man probably rubbed his body all over with this sand, to clean it and rub off all the calloused places.

It was really this that inspired the creation of the washing granules, which, I maintain, no woman should be without.

For instance, if you have what I call "bridge elbows," you will make a paste of the granules and rub the rough elbow caps. In less than a week they will have begun to reveal a new smoothness.

You have undoubtedly noticed, at some time or another, how soon your corns and callouses disappear, once you start bathing at the sea shore. It is the action of the salt water.

You can use ordinary salt water at home, soaking them in it each night and obtain the same result.

We all know the marvellous herbs our grandmothers made to keep their skin white. Well, today, those very herbs are being used in beauty preparations which give new life and radiance to the skin.

Nature is the great instructor; and all beauty should be built upon this premise.

NEXT: Some beauty hints.

VOLUNTARY ISOLATION

To spread or not to spread, is the question to which isolation offers a partial answer. Isolation is not so well thought of as formerly; this is not due to any fault on the part of isolation, but rather to the fact that isolation cannot accomplish as much as was hoped for it at one time.

Isolation, the separation of the sick from the well, has been practised for many centuries. Those who are familiar with the Old Testament will recall the description given of how, in ancient times, those who suffered from leprosy were made to live apart, isolated, from their fellow-men.

Isolation is of real value provided there is a reasonable understanding of what is aimed to be accomplished through isolation; otherwise, it will be largely a waste effort. Isolation is not for the good of the sick person on whom it is practised, but for the protection of those who are well.

Frequently we have repeated the advice that when a child has a cold or a sick stomach, or when he is otherwise unwell, he should be isolated, as these are the symptoms of the common communicable diseases. This might be called voluntary isolation. It is very simple; the child remains in bed, and no one goes into his room excepting his mother or the one other person who is looking after the child.

There is no danger in merely going into the room, but if others are allowed in, they will likely want to play with and fondle or kiss the sick child, who probably does not feel particularly ill and who would, therefore, be only too glad to play. The whole danger lies in the patient's secretions, and usually this is limited to the secretions from the mouth, nose and throat. These are dangerous, because it is in them that the germs of the common communicable diseases leave the body.

Practically, the danger can be avoided if the person who is looking after the child keeps away from his face; by this is meant, that she does not kiss the child or come in the line of fire of his coughs and sneezes. Also, she should keep her hands away from her own face, scrub her hands with soap and water and a nail-brush every time she leaves the patient's room, and boil all cups and dishes used by the patient. These measures will prevent the spread of disease in the home. At the same time, keeping the child in bed is the best form of treatment if he has a cold or a sick stomach, or if he is coming down with some communicable disease.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1934.

Remembrance Day

Sixteen years ago Sunday, fighting in the most devastating war in the history of the world came to an end. At that time people rejoiced in the thought that the world had been saved for government of the people, by the people and for the people. But the voice of the cannon had hardly died away, before the political, economic, and military leaders of the victorious nations began to plan such conditions to be imposed on the vanquished as the spoils of the war, that the seed was sown for a gigantic economic upheaval that in its effects has been more horrible than the war. And the world, instead of being saved for democracy, faces the prospect of seeing several nations degenerating into a despotism as complete as any which disgraced the Middle Ages. Fortunately, there are signs recently of a return of common sense among the world's leaders, and the world may yet return to the progress that was interrupted by the war and the depression.

A cannon ball of 1812 has been found embedded in the wood of a tree which was being saved at a farm in Welland county. One was found on the grounds of C. M. Wrenshall, York Township's treasurer, on Baby Point, but whether it was fired that distance from the lake or how else it may have got there, no one knows.

"We Have Repented"-USA.

One of the most significant and encouraging news items to appear for many a day is the statement recently made by the Secretary of State for the U.S.A., Honourable Cordell Hull, admitting the U.S.A. had set "the vicious example of high tariffs." He said: "We have now repented." He added, in an address to the foreign trade association, that: "Extreme nationalism, if persisted in, is destined soon to wreck our entire structure of western civilization." He said: "Just as we set the vicious example of erecting the trade barriers of high tariffs which induced others to follow us, so now we are asking other nations to join us in an attempt to undo the damage our collective action has worked. We wish to break down all the artificial and excessive impediments put in the way of world commerce, not only in our own interest but for the benefit of all others as well, since only by restoring the whole world can individual nations hope to remain economically healthy long." He characterized orderly international trade as "one of the greatest educators, civilizers, and peace makers," and said "a hermit nation means a hermit civilization."

Soaking French Consumers

A subsidy of 500,000,000 francs (in Canadian funds, approximately $33,000,000) has been voted by the French Chamber of Deputies to help the French farmer and keep the price of wheat at 130 francs a quintal, or approximately $2.60 a bushel in Canadian money. This brings the total of subsidies by the French Parliament to the farming community to $45,000,000 for the present year. In addition the public is paying more than double the world price for their bread. It is estimated that the French nation pays about $500,000,000 a year, both directly and indirectly, to aid the farmers of that country. In spite of the uproar in Canada over the Dominion Government guaranteeing the McFarland market stabilization operations, it is obvious that this Dominion does not go very far in bonusing its farmers as compared with such countries as France, and the example of France is followed pretty well throughout Europe.

Take away from a man the important role of being the family money-maker and you rob him of a stimulating source of necessary pride.—Albert Payson Terhune.

PROBLEM NO. 8.
M.R. Is 18 the age of majority in the Province of Quebec for girls? Can a girl marry without the consent of her parents before attaining her majority.

ANSWER—The age of majority in the Province of Quebec for boys and girls is 21 years of age. Children must have the consent of their parents before contracting marriage. If they have not attained the age of 21 years—in default of both parents agreeing—the consent of the father suffices. After the children however, have attained the age of 21 years, they do not require the consent of their parents—although I am of the opinion that every young man and woman contemplating the great adventure of matrimony is always well advised to consult their parents—to take them into their confidence as parents—even though they may be considered old-fashioned by their children, usually by reason of their experience, know what is best for them.

PROBLEM NO. 9.
Interested, Westmount. — When must a marriage contract be made? Where can it be obtained?

ANSWER—A marriage contract must be made before marriage—it can only be prepared by a Notary. It must be registered immediately after the marriage—otherwise it is of no effect.

PROBLEM NO. 10.
Married Woman, N.D.G. — Can a married woman in the Province of Quebec make a will without the consent of her husband? What are the various forms of wills? Which do you recommend?

ANSWER—Yes. — A married woman may make a will without the consent of her husband.—There are three kinds of wills recognized in our Province.

- (1) Holograph, written entirely in the handwriting of and signed by the Testator.
 - (2) Wills in English form.
 - (3) Notarial wills.
- I recommend notarial wills. They are authentic and do not require probate.

PROBLEM NO. 11.
Wife, Verdun — Submits that she was married in England — recently suffered a personal injury—because of being run down by an automobile and is about to receive a cash settlement for her damages—her husband desires her to hand over this money to him. Can he force her to do so.

ANSWER—No. You are separate as to property according to the laws of England. Moreover by a recent amendment of our laws, money received by a married woman for personal injuries belongs to her and is her absolute property.

PROBLEM NO. 12.
Mr. Johnston, Verdun—Automobilist caused damages to bicycle belonging to my minor son—bicycle was parked close to curb—Can I sue?

ANSWER—Yes. There is liability on the part of the automobilist. You may sue him in your capacity of tutor to your minor son. It will be necessary however to convoke a Family Council for your appointment as tutor for the purpose of suing in this matter.

PROBLEM NO. 13.
Parents, Greenfield Park—Does the Juvenile Court have jurisdiction over Greenfield Park?

ANSWER—No. Juvenile Court has jurisdiction only in the City of Montreal.

with a sort of thud. The thing that dropped was composed of hope and faith and optimism and wild dreams and all the other emotions that make a man's life worth living. It dropped and stayed dropped, without stirring, because the man with the movie face was missing.

Seaver waited another minute or two, clinging to a bare fragment of hope, a slim possibility that the stranger might have been delayed. But all the time the thing at the pit of his stomach lay lifeless and immovable. And pretty soon Seaver turned away, and tried to grin to himself, because, whatever folks said about him and his wild ideas, he tried to be a good loser.

He had opened the door to Johnson's and was just about to step through it, when some one grabbed his arm. He swung around, and gaped, for the man who had hold of him was no less a person than the man with the movie face.

"Excuse me," he was saying, all the while smiling in a sort of apologetic fashion. "Excuse me, I don't want to seem presuming, but you see, well, I have something I'd like to talk over with you." He seemed confused, and when Seaver only gaped still wider, he rushed on in sort of a blind fashion: "You see, it's like this: I'm a scout for a moving picture company, and I've been watching you come here every day for a week. And, well — it seems to me that you've got a face that ought to be in the movies. I watched your expression today as you stood there looking for some one. And, well, if you could come around to the office —" lation which should be given immediately consideration by the authorities.

PROBLEM NO. 11

What is the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court, Montreal.

ANSWER—The Circuit Court, Montreal, has jurisdiction up to $100.00—over this sum, the action must be instituted before the Superior Court.

Director Joseph Von Sternberg has long been famous for the mannered pretentiousness of his photoplays, but never has his weakness of ostentation reached the extremes to be found in "The Scarlet Empress". So says "Literary Digest", and we too.

THE WEEKLY SHORT STORY

Movie Face

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

Every noon for the past six days Seaver had seen the man with the movie face standing in front of Johnson's restaurant. There was always a crowd in front of Johnson's—people waiting to keep luncheon dates, and people waiting for the Jackson Heights bus and people just standing around; but the man with the movie face was never lost in the crowd. Seaver could pick him out at a glance, as he had that first day.

It was Seaver's own idea—naming him the man with the movie face. He liked to do things like that; like to give characterizing names to people he knew; liked to pick out folks out of a crowd and guess what sort of person they might be, though more times than not he never had the opportunity to check the accuracy of his guesses.

He was somewhat of a dreamer, this Seaver, and it was because of this that he let his thoughts dwell on the man with the movie face all through his lunch hour, and sometimes at night. It was on the second day that he gave the stranger his name—The Man with the Movie Face. He ordered Yankee pot roast that day, and while he was chewing on a particularly tough morsel, he said to himself: "Yes, sir, that guy's got a face that's different. It stands out in a crowd like a sore thumb. He ought to be in the movies. The movies are always on the lookout for faces that are different."

Thereafter Seaver thought of the stranger as the man with the movie face, and every day he'd look to see if the man was in the crowd grouped around Johnson's restaurant entrance. And every day, too, he felt more strongly convinced that the man ought to be in the movies. And by and by, after another couple of days had passed, he began to let his imagination run riot, as it was apt to do whenever he thought about one thing for very long.

He began to think that it was a pity the stranger wasn't in the movies. He began to think of the fortune that was probably passing him by, and he began to think how eager the movies would be to engage a man like that to play a part for them that called for a different sort of face.

And right at this point in his thinking Seaver stopped chewing on his Yankee pot roast. An idea had come to him. An idea that set the blood tingling in his veins. Why not tell the movies about this stranger with the different face? Or, better still, why not tell the stranger about the movies?

Seaver began chewing again, slowly and absently. His brain was racing. Yes, sir, by jove, it was an idea, and a real one! Faces like that didn't appear on the street every day. And if you took one to the movie people and showed it to them you could probably, well, you could sort of sell it to them.

Seaver began thinking of the face the way another man thinks of an article of merchandise. He recalled all the stories he'd heard about how movies paid exorbitant prices for anything they wanted; he remembered reading somewhere once that they employed scouts to look for people with unusual faces and hire them on long-term contracts at big prices.

Seaver thought of all these things and then suddenly recalled that on a good many previous occasions he'd had similar ideas, things he'd mentally invented that would make him rich for life, only to have them shattered on the heels of this came memory of something some one — a friend — had once said about him: "Seaver may have a lot of crazy ideas, but sooner or later, if he keeps on thinking, he's going to hit on one that'll make him rich. Wait and see."

Well, it looked to Seaver as if that time had come. Yes, sir, this was the idea, all right. His days as a $35 a week shipping clerk were ended. There wasn't anything wrong with this idea. He was going to cash in on this time.

He made his plans carefully and without haste, though haste, in a sense was necessary, because he couldn't be sure when the stranger would no longer be among the people in front of Johnson's. However, he decided to run the risk, at least, for another day. It would be better than rushing headlong into this scheme, without only a half formed plan in mind.

First, he'd have to approach the stranger with a good deal of tact. He didn't want the man to think him crazy, or even presuming. And second, he'd have to devise some method whereby he, Seaver, could be included in the contract, which the movie company would instantly thrust forward to be signed.

Seaver thought the thing over very thoroughly indeed, and at last he concocted a plan that satisfied him. He considered it from every angle, and failed to see a single leak. It was iron-bound and fool-proof. There wasn't a chance of its failing, providing the stranger could be sold the idea of accompanying Seaver to one of the big movie company offices.

But this obstacle was of minor consequence, for Seaver was pretty confident of his own persuasive powers.

It was on the sixth day that Seaver decided to approach the stranger with his plan. During the morning he was seized once or twice with a feeling of panic, because the possibility kept occurring to him that the stranger might not be in front of Johnson's, as he had been on previous noons. But when he quitted the shipping room at 12 o'clock, Seaver actually felt that he was leaving the place forever. And as he hurried along Market street toward Johnson's he chuckled to himself once or twice, because he was picturing how he'd at least have the laugh on all those friends of his who had called him daft whenever he told them of his ideas. Oh, they'd wish now they'd listened to him and shown him a little more respect.

Almost before he realized it, Seaver found himself at Johnson's, and he stopped to look around. He stood still for almost five minutes, searching the faces of the crowd that was gathered there. And all the time something inside of him kept turning over slowly and then more slowly, and pretty soon it stopped and dropped to the very pit of his stomach,

PRODUCED IN CANADA EXHIBITION OPENED LAST NIGHT

MANY OUTSTANDING FEATURES OFFERED

Two Entire Floors of Sun Life Building Being Utilized—Commercial And Feature Displays Are of Interest to Residents—Railways Maple Leaf Contest Featured—Architects Have Fine Exhibit—Authors And Artists Section—Model Railway Attractive.

Outstanding special features other than commercial exhibits, including attractive and original displays portraying the cultural and sporting pursuits of the Canadian people, are among the highlights of the National Produced in Canada Exhibition, which opened in the Sun Life building, Dominion Square, Wednesday, and continues daily from noon to 11 p.m. until November 17.

No efforts have been spared to keep this year's exhibition on a high plane and both commercial and feature exhibits have been arranged to appeal to the serious-minded citizens of Montreal and district. The exhibition does not include anything of a nature even remotely connected with a "midway", but there are several hundred booths of intensely interesting exhibits designed to appeal to the varied tastes of a metropolitan population.

Maple Leafs
Nothing could be more appropriate, for instance, than the first showing of the prize-winning maple leaves entered in the competition sponsored jointly by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways. The railways have arranged to display the specimens gathered this fall in Canada's glorious maple woods in a 50-foot space at the exhibition. The thousands upon thousands of colorful maple leaves entered in the Canadian Railways' Maple Leaf Contest were judged in Toronto at the end of last week by members of the Royal Canadian Academy and then the best specimens were shipped to Montreal and mounted for display purposes. They are shown for the first time at the National Produced in Canada Exhibition. Last fall, a similar exhibition attracted thousands to the concourse of Windsor Street Station.

Authors
An interesting competition, open to every one who visits the exhibition, centres around an exhibition of photographs of widely-known Canadian authors. Briefly, the object of the contest is to tie up the pictures with the names of the authors, and their books. Prizes will be awarded to successful contestants. J. C. Bonar, a member of the Canadian Authors' Association, is in charge of the National Book Week Exhibit which has been assembled with the co-operation of J. Murray Gibbon, president of the association, and Howard Angus Kennedy, chairman of National Book Week.

Processes
Process exhibits, always a popular feature of the National Produced in Canada Exhibition, reveal how ice cream is made, how candy is wrapped, and the intricate method of filling tubes with tooth paste—to name but a few of the commercial methods which are shown. But in this section of the exhibition, perhaps the most interesting displays of all will be those showing men and women of the Montreal Association for the Blind at work at their sightless tasks in a model factory for the blind.

Art
What Canadians are doing in the field of art is also portrayed at the National Produced in Canada Exhibition. Nearly 100 feet of space will be devoted to galleries and working studios arranged by Charles Mailard, director, and the pupils of the Ecole des Beaux Arts. The work of senior students in the painting, sculpturing, and modelling classes, is displayed in these galleries while a dozen or more students are seen at work in the special exhibition studios of the Ecole des Beaux Arts.

Railway
A huge model railway, including steam and electric locomotives and freight and passenger cars, all exact replicas of the most modern trains in Great Britain, the United States and Canada, are exhibited by the Montreal and District Engineering Society. Both steam and electrically-driven locomotive are, in operation.

CANADIAN MISSION NOTES

The Sunday evening services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were held at 5711 Park Ave., at 7 o'clock under the direction of Elder James McCance.

Miss Priscilla Wilson a missionary of the State of Utah was the first speaker and spoke on the principle of obedience. She discussed the teachings of the Savior regarding obedience to law and the blessings derived therefrom. The speaker showed that the gospel of Jesus Christ which has been restored to the earth again in these latter days is in the exact image of the true Church of the meridian of time and substantiated her claims with competent evidence and Biblical proof. She discussed

BUREAU OF MINES EXHIBIT

The Bureau of Mines of the Quebec Government presents one of the most impressive exhibits at the Produced in Canada Exhibition.

In pictorial form and moving picture display the vast mineral riches of Quebec are strikingly portrayed.

Efficiency in administration is the keynote of an Exhibit in which the Government of the Province of Quebec, capably, fearlessly and honestly executes a great public trust.

The Quebec Government cordially invites you to visit their Bureau of Mines Exhibit on the Fourth Floor of the Sun Life Building, November 7th-17th.

Good Speech Depends Largely Upon Audience

Sympathetic, Understanding Listeners Necessary to Speaker's Success

"They were strangers to me. Every one of them. But the minute I saw that audience I felt at home. Before the chairman had begun introducing me rose the thought, 'Here's a congenial crowd!'"

The man who said this is famous as a public speaker. He was in a reminiscent mood. I settled myself to listen. He went on:

"Curious about audiences, isn't it? There's as much difference between them as there is between people."

"I've found that out by experience—sometimes pleasant, sometimes bitter."

"Any assemblage one addresses, requires separate handling, according to its nature."

"It may be an after-dinner gathering, a club, a cult, a group, a big political meeting."

"It may be the House of Representatives or the Senate of the United States."

"But whatever the occasion, the assembly you are talking to has an individuality of its own. It presents a special problem which cannot be solved by cut-and-dried methods, but has to be dealt with in the light of circumstances."

"Tell me about the audience that made you feel at home," I said. "Of course your speech was a success."

"They told me so and acted as though they meant it. But any praise going belongs to themselves and not me."

"I'd have been a poor stick indeed if I hadn't responded to the kindness shown me."

"A 'sea of faces!' That well-worn phrase always has carried a sinister implication. It suggests stage-fright—or platform fright which is much the same thing and quite as bad."

"Well—if down in front I saw a 'sea of faces,' it was a sunny sea. And the water was warm enough for swimming. If the talk got along swimmingly, what else could you expect?"

"No," he concluded, "no matter if a speaker patterns after Bourke Cockran or Daniel Webster was his great-uncle, he cannot make good unless the listeners help."

"He speechifies, but their is the say."

"Three Wise Guys," the story by Damon Runyon recently acquired by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will be directed by David Burton. Bartlett Cormack is at present completing the screen adaptation, and the picture is due to get under way in the near future.

correct observance of the principle of obedience which necessitates not only faith in our Lord but good works.

Elder Woodrow Miller discussed thought and its relation to man's temporal and spiritual attainments. In addition to scripture the speaker quoted freely from James Allen's manuscript on thought to present to view the growth that follows right thinking and the degeneracy that follows the abuse of thought. The Elder also depicted numerous features of the Latter-day doctrine that produces a refining influence on ones mind and thus on ones life such as the claim that as man is God once was and as God is man may become.

FACTS ON TURTLE DRIVER REVEALED

Cold weather is a season of traffic hazards. Car owners should attempt to reduce them to a minimum instead of adding to them by failure to give a signal when the intention is to stop or make a turn. The window by the driver's seat should be open sufficiently, even in the face of a draft of cold air, to enable the driver to signal when plans to change to his course in traffic.

T. C. Kirby, General Manager of the Montreal Motorists' League has now applied the term "Turtle Driver" to the motorists who keep the car windows closed during the winter months and trust to fate in turning out from the lanes of travel. Such drivers are in the same class with the "street ostrich", the pedestrian who blindly crosses the street with his head tucked in his collar or buried in a newspaper.

Mr. Kirby says that all hand signals should be given from the left hand side of the car before changing the direction of the car or stopping.

"BEAUTY & THE HAIR"

By H. KNOPP
(Copyright)
In Which Mr. Knopp Discusses Graying Hair, Hair Dyes and Bleaches.

Is there any means of restoring gray hair to its original color? I am frequently asked that question. There is, in my opinion, none.

I am often confronted by clients whose hair is turning grey, with the request that something be done to remedy the condition, but with the rider attached that under no circumstances must their hair be dyed. To this I answer frankly that there is to my knowledge, no way of bringing color back to the hair, short of dyeing it. And, since the dyeing process is the only remedy, I would like, for the benefit of my readers, to analyze the various methods. In this way some of the misunderstandings attached thereto may, perhaps, be cleared away.

There are then, two different and distinct types of hair dye—the "peroxide" and the "metallic." The first, consisting of one half hydrogen peroxide, twenty volume, and one half aniline, or coloring medium. It is purveyed in twin bottles, one containing the hydrogen, the other the aniline. When mixed for application, the aniline serves the purpose of neutralizing the bleaching quality of the peroxide, but the peroxide in turn softens the hair for the proper functioning of the dye. There is a certain amount of poison in the "peroxide" dye, but in experienced hands it is absolutely harmless.

The second, or "metallic" dye, known also as "Compound Henna," has the advantage of being absolutely non-poisonous, but it has the distinct disadvantage of a metallic content, and if used persistently, will prevent the hair from ever taking a "permanent wave," this for the reason that the metallic content clogs the "lungs" of the hair, which are the shafts. And since air cannot penetrate these clogged shafts, obviously neither can steam. And without steam there can be no permanent wave! I suggest, therefore, the preference be given to the "aniline" type.

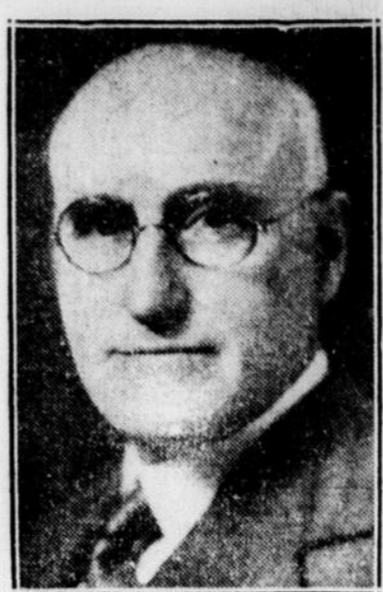

There is still another of these hair dyes. Its application is so restricted, however, that it can scarcely be placed in the major category. This is the "Vegetable Henna" or "Egyptian." It is absolutely harmless—has, indeed, a beneficial effect. It is, however, entirely inapplicable to hair which is streaked with grey since, while black or brown shades will turn, as the case may be, into attractive copper color or auburn, the grey streaks become a flaming red, and the result is not pleasing.

In conclusion, it is interesting to note that dyes, as such, achieve their objects in a manner directly opposed to that of bleaches. In "bleaching," the third or outer layer of the hair is removed. In "dyeing" a thin coating of color is actually placed on this outer layer.

NOTE—This is the third of a series of articles written exclusively for The Examiner by Mr. Knopp. Another will appear shortly.—Ed.

There are two sides to fly paper, but woe to the fly which chooses the sticky side.

JAS. H. WEBB

Motor League Wants Increase In All Fines

These personal liberty hogs, who act as though they were the only persons on the road, are saved from accidents only because cautious motorists slow up their machines or run off the concrete to permit them to pass, states Mr. T. C. Kirby, General Manager of the Montreal Motorists' League. Some of them do not even carry insurance. And every one of them, were an accident to occur, would blame the other fellow.

To many of this type of road hog a $5 or $10 fine is absolutely nothing. Ten dollars means less to them than ten cents to most of us, and, once paid, the fine is forgotten and they proceed madly on their way, ignoring, as before, the rights and safety of others. Mr. Kirby says that if reckless driving is to be curbed to any extent fines must be large enough to make the hogs feel them. A hundred dollars with alternative of a visit to jail, or both, is not a penny too much for deliberate recklessness. And in cases of repeated infractions of the traffic laws, the driving license of this class of dangerous and wicked driver must be suspended. Our League stands 100% behind Director of Police Dufresne in his orders for much stricter enforcement of the motor traffic laws.

The question of the motormen and bus drivers is also being brought before the attention of the City Executive through Alderman Weldon. Many complaints are being made daily by members of the League about the Tramways drivers beating the lights and reckless driving, and it is claimed by Mr. Kirby that unless the practices are curbed many serious accidents will happen. Correspondence is now passing between the League and Alderman Weldon, and Mr. Kirby states that both motormen and bus drivers should be treated by the traffic officers exactly the same as all vehicle drivers. Furthermore, that this splendid drive to enforce all traffic laws must be the success it deserves, be made as one law for all concerned.

Decurler Stops Curly Headed Boy Ever Being Teased As Fauntleroy

Chicago. — Inferiority complexes may be averted or cured by careful attention to children's hair. That is the belief of Mrs. Agnes Schmitt. Mrs. Schmitt would believe that, being a hair style expert, but when she addressed the national hairdressers' annual convention here she unrolled claims to back up her assertion.

"A part in the hair may change a person's whole personality and outlook on life," she said.

"If the hair is properly treated no child need have double crowns and cowlicks may be done away with by tender care and brushing."

Girls should begin being beauty conscious when they emerge from the cradle, said Mrs. Schmitt.

If girls brush their hair three times a day and don't bite their nails, they should be given three gold stars by their mothers.

Mrs. Schmitt does not devote all of her attention to girls. Curly-headed boys all over the country may stand up and cheer, for she has invented an efficient "decurler" and after it is used, claimed Mrs. Schmitt, no one in the world would dare stand up and shout: "Hello, Little Lord Fauntleroy!"

"Bum Voyage" is the unromantic title of a forthcoming Hal Roach-M-G-M comedy featuring Thelma Todd and Patsy Kelly. The fun film concerns itself with the adventures of the two girls when they use a pair of steamship tickets for Bermuda, tossed away by the feminine trainer of a gorilla. When Thelma is mistaken for Madame Zaza, the trainer, aboard ship, and is asked to give a performance with the monkey at the ship's concert, the fun begins. Nick Grindis directed the comedy which is the fourth of a new series to bear the Todd-Kelly label.

Lands and Forests Exhibit

See the intriguing Exhibit of one of the most important Departments of the Quebec Government.

Fitting approximately in with the Government's "back to the land" policy this display on the Fourth Floor of the Sun Life Building in the Produced in Canada Exhibition will surely entice many city folk to cultivate the soil.

Pictorial scenes depict the happy "habitant" in solid contentment in his cosy home. Pure, sparkling streams flow merrily through green pastures, smiling lands and bountiful crops. Contented grazing cattle add a truly pastoral scene.

The danger of forest fires is clearly shown and the Department's efficient plans to stop this menace emphasized.

The Department extends a cordial welcome and invitation to you and your family to see and enjoy this educational Exhibit.

CATHOLIC CHARITIES CAMPAIGN

Well Organized Force of Men And Women At Work In Notre Dame de Graces — Courteous Reception Is Asked — 14,000 Families In English-Speaking Catholic Community Of Montreal — Objective Is $174,600.

Within the next ten days the public of Montreal will have the opportunity of showing their sympathy with the work that is being done by the Federation of Catholic Charities, through their 25 agencies, for that section of the community which is in distress through no fault of its own.

Starting today, 2,000 men and women will cover the city, making an appeal for funds in order to raise $174,600, for the Federation's work next year. In Notre Dame de Graces a well-organized force of men and women workers will canvass the homes in this district and the importance of the work being done throughout the city at large, as well as in this area, leads the campaign executive to hope that the canvassers will be given a courteous reception.

The work which the agencies in Federation do ranges all the way from the care of the orphan, the sick and the aged to the provision of clothing and medical services, homes for old and friendless women, for girls in domestic service who have no homes, for those whose homes have been broken up, legal aid to those in need — in fact, the services extend over the whole range of social service in the city.

14,000 Families

There are 14,000 families in the English-speaking Catholic Community in Montreal. Of this number, one out of every five are on relief. Last year the Federation appealed for $168,000. This year, despite a general increase in service, the total asked is $174,600, an increase of less than $5,000.

From the records of the Federation some stories have been culled to show the variety of services. These are actual instances of the work being done by the agencies in the Federation.

"Truth is stranger than fiction," so the old adage says, and the Victorian Order of Nurses has innumerable cases in its records to prove the truth of this old saying.

One Case

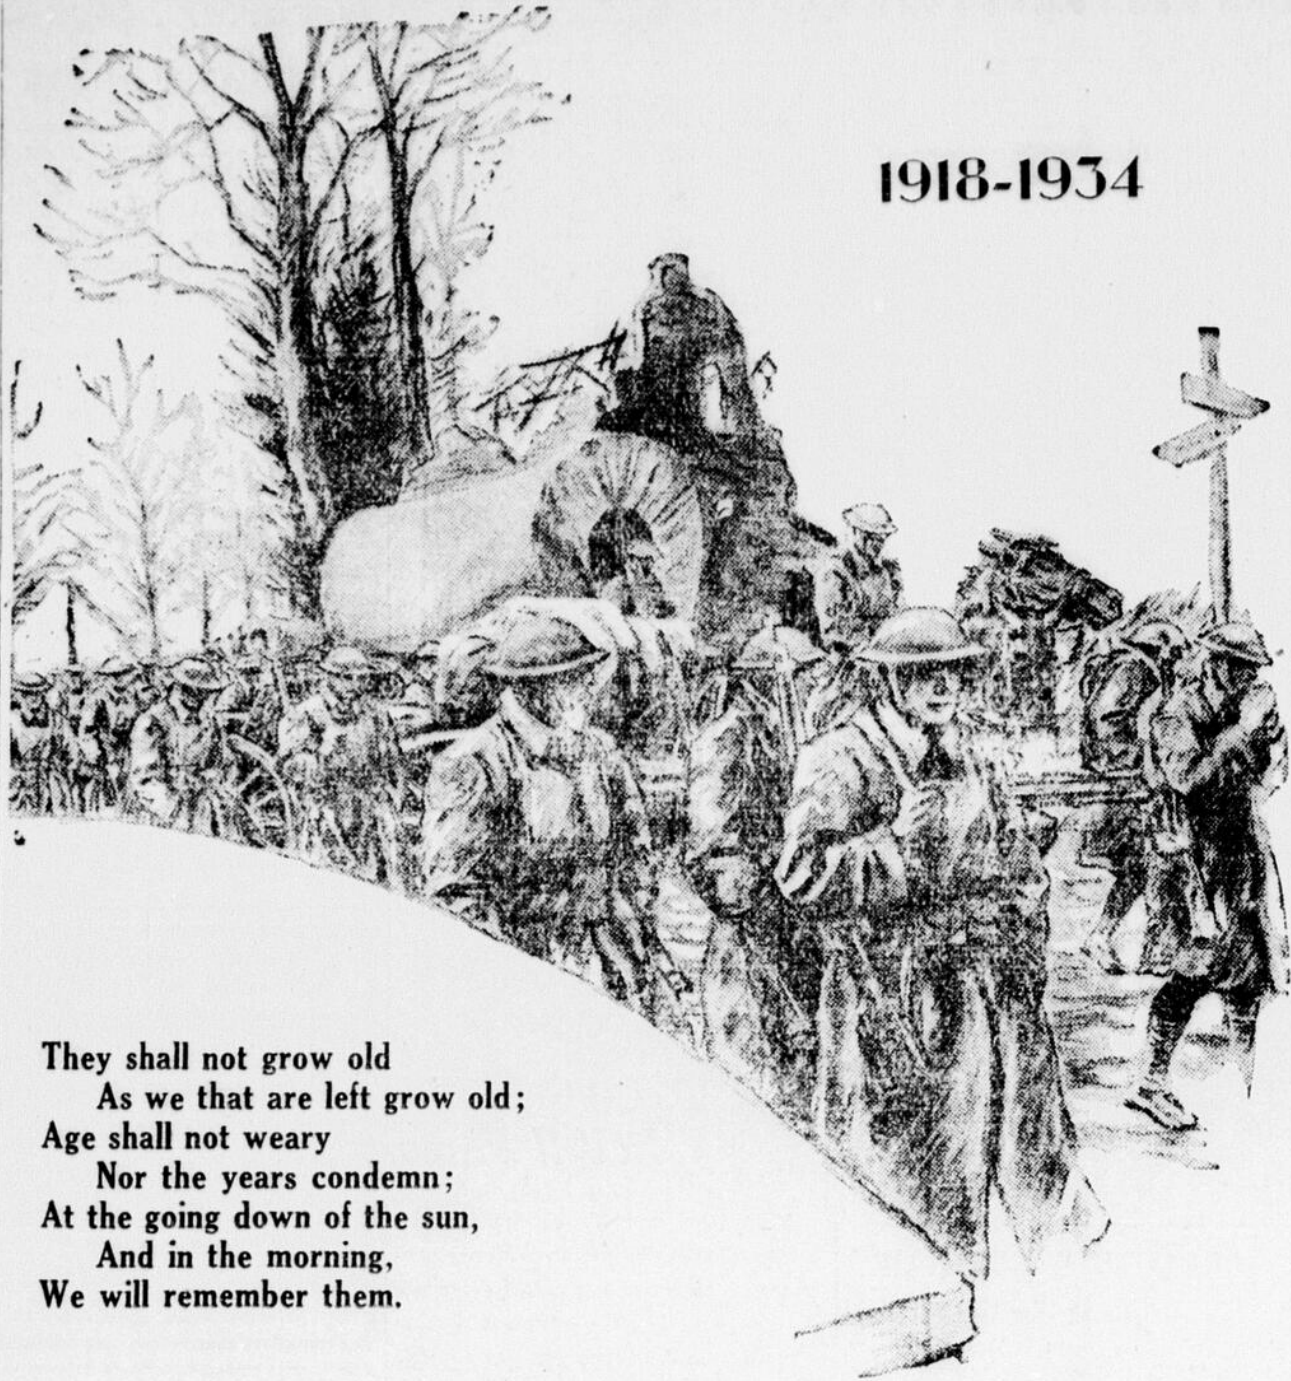

Only recently a nurse, visiting a home for the first time, found a sick child, a disorganized, dirty and untidy household, the father ill in hospital, and the mother and five other children in despair. The sick child was sent to hospital, but the strain of trying to keep the home together had undermined the health of the mother. She became ill and stayed in bed. The problem arose as to who would look after the five other children, all under seven years of age, with the mother sick in bed. The nurse told the already harassed mother not to worry. Within a few hours, a visiting housekeeper from the Victorian Order of Nurses was sent by the nurse to take charge of the household. Before she left, and when the mother had recovered, the latter had been taught many things about household management, cooking, the preparation of wholesome meals and other details associated with the cleanliness and proper management of the home.

The result—the mother is restored to health, the father, ill in hospital, has more peace of mind, the children are beginning to show signs of improved health and all this was made possible through the visit of a nurse whose work, to a large extent, is financed by grants made from federations such as the Catholic Charities whose appeal is now being made.

Florine McKinney has been given the role of Little Emily in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production of "David Copperfield," now in production on the coast under George Cukor's direction.

Strathcona Academy Highlights

Football

The Strathcona Senior Rugby Team gave the Academy a pleasant surprise on Tuesday last when they won a brilliant victory over Lower Canada by the score of 11-1. This was not only their first win in this rugby season, but also in three whole years. The Strathconians were playing as they never played before. Every player was in top-notch form and out to do his stuff. L.C.C. started the ball rolling by scoring one point in the first half. In this same half Vipond, for the Academy, caught a "dandy" catch, and ran a swell run—85 yards in all—scoring the first touch. In the second half L.C.C. didn't seem able to get anywhere, but not so the Academy. Segal, with ball hugged close to him, broke through the L.C.C. field, scoring the second touch for Strathcona. Finally, Vipond added the one point to the ten by a swell kick, thus bringing the score up to 11. Some of the outstanding players of this memorable game were Vipond, Segal, Satz, Canning and Ashkanase.

The Strathcona Juniors followed in the Senior's footsteps on Wednesday last by winning their first game of the season by the score of 3-1. Farber kicked all three points for the Academy.

Basketball

The Senior Basketball Team for 1934 is showing good form, and is composed of good material. They played two exhibition games, one with R.M.R., the other with Strathcona Intermediates, winning both by nice scores.

The Annual Commencement Exercises

The Graduation Exercises for the session 1933-34 will be held to-night. A special section of the Memorial Hall at Strathcona has been reserved for the particular friends of members of the graduating class and for the parents of prize winners who have received invitation tickets.

The program will consist mainly of the presentation of prizes and matriculation certificates; an address by our guest speaker, and a program of varied entertainment. This will be followed by the dance in honour of the graduates.

A local man was at death's door. The doctors had given him up.

Presently a stranger appeared in the sickroom, telling the patient that he had been sent by the doctors to watch over the failing man.

The patient dozed and was wakened by the stranger who was standing over him with a tape measure, measuring the length and breadth of the man's body and making furtive notes on a pad.

"What are you doing?" asked the sick man.

"Preparing to quote you the costs of your burial," was the stranger's macabre reply.

This enraged the man that he shouted at the stranger to get out and stay out. But the stranger persisted in his sales talk.

An hour later the doctor arrived. When he told the doctor what had happened the doctor filed charges against the undertaker's go-get-tem assistant.

TODAY'S LIMERICK

At six or some similar hour
A man, very very fond of his shour,
Begins his ablutions
With loud contributions
Of medleys decidedly sour.

The final title for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture formerly known as "Repeal" will be "The Bride and the Best Man." Carole Lombard has the principal feminine role in this picture with Chester Morris playing opposite her. The story is based on Charles Francis Coe's Saturday Evening Post serial, "Repeal," and is being directed by Jack Conway.

ARMISTICE DAY BROADCASTS

Radio stations are concerned this week with special Armistice Day broadcasts. One of the most elaborate is an International broadcast arranged by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Columbia Broadcasting System, which will be heard from CKAC from 4.15 to 5.00 P.M., Nov. 11, entitled "The Family of Nations", the broadcast will feature talks by leading statesmen in Canada, Great Britain, United States, Brazil, Japan and Czechoslovakia. Hon. R. B. Bennett will speak from Ottawa and speeches from other statesmen will be brought here by short wave.

The Canadian Radio Commission will offer a special broadcast also, to which several cities will contribute at 9.00 P.M., November 11. The program will be opened with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, and closed with a brief ceremony of commemoration from Ottawa.

Movie Notes

Greta Garbo, who has just completed work at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Somerset Maugham's "The Painted Veil," has signed a new contract for the film company, setting at rest rumors that she had contemplated retiring from the screen. Several vehicles are now under consideration for the star's use, although no definite decision has been reached as to her next picture. Among Miss Garbo's most successful vehicles are "Flesh and the Devil," "Woman of Affairs," "Anna Christie," "Mata Hari" and "Queen Christina." In "The Painted Veil" Miss Garbo will be seen with Herbert Marshall and George Brent, under direction of Richard Boleslawski.

W. C. Fields, who currently has a leading role in Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the role of Micawber in "David Copperfield." For some time negotiations had been under way to obtain Fields for the part, but it was not certain until recently that the star's other contract obligations could be satisfactorily adjusted. Field's outstanding comedy vehicles during the past two seasons include "The Old Fashioned Way," "International House," "You've Telling Me" and "Six of a Kind." He also had starring roles in "If I Had a Million" and last season's production of "Alice in Wonderland." For many years Fields was a leading star with yearly editions of the Zeigfield Follies, and

Atlantic City Offers Special November and December Shows

Atlantic City, Nov. 1. — College football, ice hockey, dog and cat shows and the Seventh annual Festival of Lights are among the attractions that Atlantic City will present for the entertainment of its visitors during the months of November and December.

The greatest array of Winter attractions in the resort's history will start with the spectacular night football game between the University of Delaware and Pennsylvania Military College on Nov. 10. The vast auditorium of the city's $15,000,000 Convention Hall will be transformed into a regulation size football field for the occasion.

This colorful gridiron contest, which annually attracts thousands of hotel guests in evening clothes, will bring to the resort the entire student bodies of both institutions for what has become the outstanding event of the Armistice Day week-end.

Topping the Thanksgiving holiday bill of entertainment will be another football game between traditional rivals, that between the University of West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson.

The resort's football season will end with the much heralded "Little Army and Navy game" on the night of Dec. 1, between the Admiral Faragut Naval Academy and the New York Military Academy. Thousands of persons who witness the West Point-Annapolis game in Philadelphia on the same afternoon are expected to journey to the resort to see the first clash between the junior service elevens.

High ranking officials of the Army and Navy and uniformed drill corps and bands from both institutions will lend color to the contest, which will become an annual event.

Hundreds of prize winning canines from all sections of the United States will be entered in the dog show to be staged by the Atlantic City Kennel Club in the Convention Hall Ballroom on Nov. 23 and 24. The third annual championship cat show of the Boardwalk Persian Cat Club will take place at the Ambassador Hotel on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

Just one week after the final football game, the Convention Hall auditorium will undergo another transformation to emerge this time as a huge ice rink with thousands of leather-cushioned seats for spectators.

The annual ice hockey season will be ushered in on Dec. 7, when the Atlantic City Sea Gulls, America's greatest amateur team, will play the first game of a schedule that will feature them against the leading teams of this country and Canada. Games will be played each Friday and Saturday night, with public ice skating and dancing in the ballroom after each contest.

*Millions of words have been written about the unusual beauty of Atlantic City's annual festival of lights, which will be staged this year from Dec. 20 to Jan. 2. Not only the huge hotel structures rising along the ocean's edge, but thousands of private homes and business establishments are decorated with myriads of colored lights, with the red and green bulbs of the Christmas holiday season predominating.

Hunting, fishing, indoor salt water swimming pools, major league indoor baseball and basketball and horseback riding along the beach are among other diversions popular with Atlantic City visitors during November and December.
