SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

The spectacle which Sir Charles Tupper presents, standing amid the ruins of the party which he leads, is one which appeals to that instinct in the human breast which likes a "bonne fêchère." There is still in most men's minds a lingering admiration for those swashbuckling bravos of the knightly era whose boastfulness we are ready to forgive for the sake of their unquestioned bravery. Of those hard-hitters of the sword and battle-axe, the Old War Horse of Cumberland is the reincarnation in these days of political tournaments when, instead of by weight of swords, we select our leaders by weight of words and strength of lungs. At the complimentary dinner last night he was in good form. "You have again and again testified in the most enthusiastic and effective manner," he told his followers, many of whom had done nothing of the kind, "your readiness to support me as the Conservative leader." Again, "I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment the Conservative party never occupied a prouder, more distinguished or a more important position than it does to-day." And again, "In the face of difficulties of the most extraordinary and unexpected character we were forced, a year ago, to appeal to the people and although we triumphed to a large extent over these gigantic difficulties," etc.

Always he is fighting with a two-handed sword, slashing with equally strenuous blows at thistle tops and the heads of his opponents. But the uselessness of such an expenditure of force and fighting fury we are inclined to forgive while we admire the indomitable spirit which keeps this old veteran in the field after the day has been lost—the day which, to do him justice, he did not lose nor even help to lose, because it was lost before he took the field, but which, at any rate, he was helpless to retrieve.

He has earned the holiday trip to England which he is about to take, and we extend to him our good wishes for a pleasant visit. Now that his star is in the ascendant, we are not inclined to pursue him with unceasing bitterness because it was a baffling star. He was a product of our politics. And let us not forget that he would have been helpless to do evil had his spirit and his methods not found a response in the electorate. In private life he is a courteous, likeable man, with the ideas of ordinary people upon such subjects as honesty and candor. It is only in political life that he develops the qualities of a brigand chief and a circus press agent.

His character and the character of his school of politics are now well understood in Canada. Recent events have shown that the electorate are no longer to be swayed by them.

COMPULSORY COMPENSATION.

The passing through the Imperial House of Commons of the Workmen's Accidents Bill is another evidence of the advances which are being made in Britain in what may be called socialistic, or, at any rate, extremely democratic, legislation. It is often remarked that the Government of Great Britain is more truly popular than that of the United States, if we take as an index of popularity the body of legislation in English statute books which is aimed at relieving in a practical way, whether by improving workmen's dwellings or by effective workshop regulations, the condition of the masses of the population.

This idea is receiving further support by the bill which the Government is just now putting through Parliament to provide for compulsory compensation by employers. By this bill, the principle of employers' liability, which has long been recognized in English law, is to be extended so as to cover all injuries except where they are solely due to workmen's own serious and willful misconduct.

The attempt is being made to have the bill as strong and water-tight as possible. The chief fight is over the attempt to prevent employers from "contracting out." The manner of the bill's treatment is in contrast with the way such a piece of legislation would be treated on this side of the Atlantic, where, notwithstanding our professions of popular sovereignty, the influence upon legislation of the capitalistic classes is much more potent than in England. The English legislator goes at these matters in a determined spirit. When he has laid down a principle he follows it where it logically leads him. As, for example, in the present instance, Mr. Asquith and others have pointed out that the State by laying down the principle of compulsory compensation stands morally pledged towards the workmen to see the contract executed. This is admitted to be so and the bill is carried out this principle will no doubt be grappled with in due course. The difficulty in the case of a workman whose employer becomes bankrupt or winds up his business is obvious. The Government are willing to treat an award under the act as a preferential charge on an estate in bankruptcy. But this is not regarded as sufficient.

It is suggested that some kind of state guarantee will have to be adopted sooner or later if the state is to keep faith with the citizens and secure to them the compensation provided by law. In Germany there is a complete system of mutual insurance, a system conducted under the eyes of a State Department, approved by State actuaries, and advised by State officials. But this is not likely to be adopted in England at the present stage. The London Chronicle suggests, as a better means to the accomplishment of the ends of the act, that the various trades should organize themselves into groups for the purpose of mutual insurance and prevention. This is the course which the Chronicle believes events will naturally take, and it suggests, therefore, that the Government should say to the employers: "Gentlemen, this is the first step towards a complete system of insurance, which in the interests of the worker will have to be obligatory. We will not harry you, but the pressure of circumstances will inevitably lead you into this path, and if we find wounded soldiers left by the wayside unprovided for prompt action will be necessary."

This policy, it is argued, would be better than the establishment of state machinery, because it would help employers into the one really safe and sound path of trade groups with their own insurance funds, working for the raising of the standard of safety, and subject to a State guarantee.

Meanwhile there is no more wholesome study for the legislators of this country and this continent than the trend and tenor of the social legislation of the Motherland. In this, as in most other fields of activity, she is in the van of progress, development and popular freedom. Of course a bill which proposes to compel employers to pay damages, even when workmen may have contributed to their own injuries, has not failed to arouse bitter complaint and the gloomiest predictions from the employers, whose industries, the legislators have been told, will be ruined by foreign competitors by reason of the burden of the new law.

THE BOND GUARANTEE.

It is to be hoped that the new Provincial Government will see its way to cancel the guarantee given by the Flynn Administration to Mr. C. N. Armstrong and his associates in the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Company. The guarantee is certainly in direct violation of the spirit of the law, and it is the opinion of some of the best-informed lawyers in the Province that it is also contrary to the plain reading of the statute. The job is indefensible from the standpoint of the duty of the Legislature, for the endorsement is equivalent to pledging the country to the bona-fides of a scheme regarding the value of which there is room for doubt. The credit of Canada has already suffered at the hands of men who have floated on the London market enterprises of dubious character, and it is the duty of the Federal and Provincial Governments throughout the Dominion to refrain from giving the slightest encouragement to any propositions that may do still more injury to Canada's credit. This Flynn-Armstrong agreement is of such a character. To endorse a scheme whereby interest is to be paid to bondholders out of their own capital is to assist in deceiving the investing public.

There is a rumor to the effect that the retirement of Mr. T. Chase Casgrain from the late Conservative Administration was due to his objection to the proposal to guarantee the bonds of the Atlantic and Lake Superior. Whether this was, or was not the reason for his retirement, it should have been sufficient to cause any honest, public-spirited member of the Administration to send in his resignation. The Marchand Government owes it to the Province to do everything in its power to prevent the consummation of this dangerous bargain.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

If it's true that there is nothing so rare as a day in June, thank goodness.

Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of Sir Charles' superlatives.

We were hoping that when the plebiscite had been postponed this downfall of cold water would cease.

Hon. L. H. Davies comes from the only Province that does not border on the United States. No wonder he is lukewarm on this alien labor business.—The Star.

Would the Star kindly state what part of Nova Scotia borders on the United States?

If the members of the House of Commons want to express their idea that "He's a jolly good fellow," or if they wish to say a collective "good night ladies," how would it do for them to pass a resolution?

Mr. Dandurand, if nominated to the Senate, would be a valuable addition to the none too large working class in that body. He couldn't rest easily in the Senate nor any place else without working hard.

A few years ago a stranger would have thought there was nothing in this country except the Conservative party. Last night at the Tupper banquet, the Gazette tells us, the remark that the party is not dead yet, struck the keynote of enthusiasm. How things do change to be sure.

It is being said in England that the Prime Minister means to treat the Jubilee honors as if they were the customary birthday honors—that is to confine them to his own political supporters. It is scarcely possible that Lord Salisbury will make use of such an occasion as this to pay his own political debts.

At one time the agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the United States were also immigration agents for the Canadian Government, and were paid five dollars for every settler whom they induced to take up land in the Dominion. This inducement caused them to be active immigration agents, but when the grant was withdrawn they naturally ceased to take any special interest in the work. Mr. Sifton might find it worth while to look into this method of promoting immigration.

Apparently the abolition of the corn duties will not work such havoc by lowering the price of Canadian grains as was prophesied by several members of Parliament in the tariff debate. Mr. W. M. Grant, of Woodstock, Ontario, asked some of the commission men of Toronto for a rate on ear lots of corn laid down at Woodstock. The lowest figure quoted was 35 cents a bushel. No one need fear that any great quantity of corn will be fed at this price, with oats at 20 cents, feeding barley at 22 cents, or even peas at 38 cents a bushel.

It will be additionally gratifying to Sir Charles Tupper's followers to remember that by no man in Canada is a higher personal value placed upon party demonstrations. In the last elections he regarded himself, by reason of the political demonstrations of which he was the centre, as the uncrowned king of this country. These demonstrations, he used to tell every succeeding audience he addressed throughout his tour, were the most unprecedented, magnificent, stupendous outbursts of popular enthusiasm which any political leader in Canada ever evoked.

The dinner at Ottawa last evening was of a "thoroughly united" character. This was in some measure probably due to the absence of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. John Costigan, Hon. John Haggart, Hon. Dr. Montague and a few others. The presence of Hon. Clarke Wallace, who was one of the vice-chairmen, and Mr. W. F. Maclelan, Dr. Sproule and others of the leaders of the revolt against the Tupper Manitoba School policy, may be taken as a pledge that they have triumphed and that the party has recovered from its last year's madness.

The annual statement of the Merchant's Bank shows a slight contraction in profits which, however, was only to be expected in view of the earlier hesitation in general business. As a matter of fact, the bank with a capital of $6,000,000, and a reserve fund of half that amount, still maintains its strong position, and there can be no doubt that any improvement in trade will easily bring the earnings up to the 10 per cent. mark. Mr. Hague, in his annual address, gives a careful and interesting resume of the situation, speaking on the whole in an encouraging manner. Most interesting is his reference to the progress of Canadian banking during the past year. He cites many striking comparisons, which in the end show a development and expansion of business nothing short of remarkable. Altogether, Mr. Hague's report is most entertaining. It is given in full in another part of The Herald, and is well worth reading.

LONDON TIMES GROWS SARCASTIC.

Severe Criticism of the Financial Policy of President McKinley.

London, June 10.—The Times, commenting editorially in a rather sarcastic vein upon Secretary Gage's recent declaration as to the currency, says:—"Six months have passed since Mr. McKinley was elected, yet nothing has been done to redeem the pledge to which the business world attached the chief importance. The unpopularity of the business community seems to have made itself felt in official circles, with the result that we have Mr. Gage's statements, which are not much in themselves, but have a soothing effect on Wall Street."

It is unfortunate, however, that Mr. McKinley has no convictions favorable to a gold currency, and Secretary Gage, though sincere, cannot go faster than the President. As a matter of fact the Wolfcott-by-metallic mission is nothing but a device for postponing unwelcome decisions. To outside observers the government of the United States appears to be running grave risks with a wonderfully light heart. It will not need a long continued drain of gold to bring the American Treasury face to face with the necessity of another loan.

"President McKinley thinks that everything can be remedied with a high tariff. If the proposed duties fail to bring prosperity, his natural impulse will be to raise them still higher, and any display of strength by the silverites will serve to delay still longer the currency reform desired by the Eastern States."

THE DAUGHTERS OF MILLIONAIRES

Put on the Market, Hawked and Peddled,

SAYS A DEMOCRAT SENATOR

The Decline of the American Nation Predicted

Because of the Abandonment of Democratic Simplicity—Strong Words in the Senate.

Washington, June 10.—In the Senate yesterday when consideration of the tariff bill was resumed the debate proceeded on the agricultural schedule. Mr. Mills, of Texas (Democrat), spoke strongly in opposition to the entire bill. In the course of his speech he said the Congressional committee had sought for two months to adjust and readjust again the tariff law in the interest of a monstrous trust fund, which this bill was intended to raise. He came, he said, to speak for the "forgotten man," the taxpayer, from whose labor and sweat was to be wrung, by legislative rapine, this vast fund for distribution among favored beneficiaries. Mr. Mills declared that the effect of the bill would be to swell the value of manufactured products to the extent of billions, adding to the wealth of its possessors and taking it from the pockets of the masses. Against this stupendous system of legislative robbery he protested in the hope of arousing the attention and indignation of the American people. Mr. Mills spoke of the aspirations of our early fathers towards the freest applications of natural laws, free trade, free men, free press, free religion. Instead of that had come the gradual building up of a plutocracy of wealth, and Mr. Mills gave tables showing the vast fortunes of a few individuals, who were, he said, to receive the benefits of this bill. After reviewing many state and national Democratic platforms, Mr. Mills declared that a man could not be a Democrat who did not support the doctrine that a tariff must be limited to revenue only. Mr. Mills then turned his attention to the daughters of millionaires, "fatted like heifers and sent abroad in quest of titles." When the vast fortunes had been built up by unjust taxation, then, he said, these daughters were "put on the market, hawked and peddled, sold for princesses and duchesses and countesses and marchionesses, and all other 'cesses,' and here was Congress legislating the money to pay for these trips abroad. Mr. Mills closed with an ominous prediction that the abandonment of the Democratic simplicity would bring forth a historian to write a chapter on the "decline and fall of the great American people."

Mr. Vest moved to strike out the paragraph placing a duty on wheat at 25 cents per bushel and on wheat flour at 15 cents ad valorem; rejected—Yeas, 15; nays, 33.

EXPORT DUTY PROPOSED.

Mr. Cannon (Utah), offered a new amendment proposing an export bounty on agricultural products, the text of which has been heretofore given. Mr. Cannon denounced the pending measure as grossly and palpably inequitable, because it compelled the sale of the products of the soil in the lowest market of the world and the purchase of manufactured articles in the highest market. The only ground, he said, upon which the doctrine of protection would stand was that it protected the labor of this country from the wolfish peepers labor of the world. But how could anyone contend for protection to the labor of the sheep and mills and deny it to the labor of the fields. The farmer competed with the world. If this bill was not just, the country would be plunged again next year into the agony of a tariff agitation. If it was just, it might endure. Mr. Cannon said the amount to be paid by the Government in export bounty under his amendment would be $47,944,880. The country could not afford to pay so much bounty would not come until it started from the farmers.

Mr. Cannon was followed by Mr. Butler (North Carolina), who spoke against the heavy burdens the bill placed upon the farmer. He favored Mr. Cannon's proposition as a measure that would correct the inequalities of the tariff bill, which bore heavily on the farmer.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

William Gervais has been arrested by the detectives on a charge of receiving stolen property. He was caught in a reptentancy where he had a tent and in it some goods, all of which are alleged to have been stolen. It is claimed that he has been in the habit of receiving stolen property from thieves. He will be tried in enquete this afternoon.

ANOTHER BANK STATEMENT.

The Bank of Toronto's annual statement of the results of business for the past year is as good as could be expected in an unfavorable profit-making year. Net profits were $208,129.61. Dividends to the amount of $200,000 were paid out, and $7,129.61 was transferred to the profit and loss account, which now totals $89,687.40. The rest remains at $1,900,000. A contribution of $1,000 was made to the Indian fund.

fast freight men in that city who represent the G.T.R. A railroad man on the Grand Trunk to Port Huron once found five fast freight men on the train, and enquiring into their business found that all were after a few cars of east-bound flour at Port Huron. Now Port Huron is a local point on the Grand Trunk. No competing line had a chance at the freight, but the road was paying its proportion of the expense of the whole crowd, who were on their way to fight for the shipment, each wanting it forwarded by his line after the Grand Trunk had had its haul.

THE CHINESE THROUGH WESTERN SPECTACLES.

They Are Desirable Members of the Community—Honest and Frugal.

Take Places That Otherwise Would be Difficult to Fill—Immigration not Increasing.

A gentleman who has for some years resided on the Pacific Coast, and is now spending a short time in this city, yesterday gave to The Herald his opinion on the much-debated subject of Chinese immigration. Due to the improvement in the domestic affairs of China, there has not of late been any large emigration of Chinese to either the States or Canada—in fact, it is alleged that there are more Chinese moving west than coming east. In British Columbia the Chinese are engaged principally in three occupations, as domestic servants, as market gardeners, and in the fish canning factories. The contention that they supplant white labor in these employments is not wholly justifiable. As servants they occupy positions it is almost impossible to satisfactorily fill with men and women of Caucasian descent. The servant girl problem is as present with the householder of the Coast as with her sister in the East, and the cleanly, economical, honest and industrious Chinaman is a veritable blessing. Many a householder supplies all the details of purchasing food leaves to his Chinese cook, with the result, in some cases, of a saving of as much as twenty-five per cent.

As market gardeners the Chinese cultivate the land most thoroughly, their system being of the intense character forced on the people of China by the pressure of population on the land. In the fisheries the Chinese do the work that in the East is done by young girls and lads—a class impossible to secure in British Columbia in sufficient numbers. If it were not for this cheap labor the canneries of the Coast would experience much greater difficulty in finding a market for their product.

While scrupulously clean in their personal habits, the Chinese do not observe the rules of sanitary science as regards their sleeping apartments and the surroundings of their dwellings. The authorities will probably have to devote greater attention to this phase of the subject and insist on strict compliance with the municipal regulations. With the exception of this particular, our informant considers the Chinese a valuable element in the Pacific Coast community. It is to be regretted, of course, that they do not become citizens and assume their full share of the responsibilities and duties of citizenship. But this cannot be looked for, and the Chinaman must be estimated at his present worth in his relation to the economic situation in the West. So regarded, the candid opinion of the speaker was that he is, on the whole, a desirable member of the community.

GRAND TRUNK IS UP.

Stock Advances in the London Market This Morning.

The boom which struck the Canadian Pacific stock some time ago has quieted down for the moment and has broken out in Grand Trunk.

According to private cable advices received by local brokers this morning, there has been a further advance in Grand Trunk 1st preference shares in the London market, landing the stock at 264. The opening quotation to-day was 351, while yesterday the stock was even lower. There has, in fact, been a gradual advance ever since the end of March, when it was quoted as low as 301.

There was a slightly easier feeling in Canadian Pacific in London to-day, the stock selling down to 624, after going up as high as 634 yesterday. In the local market Pacific was steady, over 775 shares selling from 613 to 618.

QUEBEC NEWS NOTES.

Quebec, June 10.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Marchand has been appointed a member of the board of notaries for Iberville district.

Mr. J. B. Robitaille, lawyer, vice-president of the Cartier-Macdonald Club, died here to-day after a long illness.

Mr. Marchand told a reporter this morning that Mr. Charles Marchand, the accepted Government candidate for Magdalen Islands, the Hon. Mr. Charles Langley says he will leave next Saturday for the Islands, where he will run as Liberal candidate. The rumor that Dr. Delany would also run for the same constituency is losing ground.

A FAMOUS MAN!

What His Researches Have Done for the World.

All successful and distinguished men have imitators, and Dr. Chase, the well-known author of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, proved no exception to the rule. Dr. Chase's discoveries have many pretended rivals, but no equals. Long scientific researches produced Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and Chase's Catarrh Cure, the latter an absolute specific for chronic and offensive skin diseases. Among his other discoveries were Chase's Catarrh Cure and Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for colds and bronchitis.

During 1895, the Canadian manufacturers, Edmondson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard Street, Toronto, gave away free 600,000 samples of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and 100,000 samples Chase's Ointment. The return they brought proved how much they were appreciated. The same free distribution of samples will be continued during 1897. Those at a distance should enclose a five cent stamp, and also receive a sheet of the latest music in return.

Bedford, June 10.—(Special.)—At Guthrie's Corner, about two miles from here, a Mrs. John Gales, who is of a despondent mind, attempted suicide by taking as near as can be ascertained two dessert-spoonsful of Paris green. An Objection to Bicycle Disposed of.

WILL KILL PROVINCIALISM.

A Psalm of Praise for Rugs and Bare Floors.

If the Artists Introduced the Cleanly and Healthy Fashion,
Bless 'em

Almost everything that can be said of bicycle pro and con seems to have been said and said, again and again. But a western editor has timorously raised a hair-breadth little wall, and it goes against the wheel. He has given it as his little opinion that the bicycle is going to kill provincialism in custom and language. Whereas up to date the farmer lad's acquaintances have lived within a radius of forty or fifty miles, he now extends the radius to sixty or eighty or a hundred and twenty. He will marry further away from home, perhaps. He will grow accustomed to sights and sounds, manners, habits, customs and accents which would have been foreign to his grandfather. That is the situation of facts, and there is a wall in the iteration of it. It sounds a good deal like Hiawatha's old grandmother's objection to the lovely Minnehaha. Nokomis wanted him to wed a girl of his own people, but I think the boy should have chosen where he pleased. And so should these bicycle boys. Freedom from having our bicycle taxed high enough to prevent our boys from carrying where they please.

If the artists did set the fashion of rugs and polished floors, as they contend they did, blessed be the artists. With a very great detestation of carpets tacked to the floor, I dare hardly say that they stay like rugs—luxurious indeed, light ones with a tack or two, if they must have them. But the better the better, so it will not seem such a task to have them taken out of doors to air and sweeten and be beaten and swept clean. It does seem such a stupid thing to twist a broom over a carpet and raise a dust, which powders all the furniture and walls, and is, for the most part, dusted on the floor again. There must be many a household, many a contagious disease and many an asthmatic, catarrh sweepers whose troubles begin in an imperfectly cared for floor. Now, don't say tea leaves or salt for sweeping, or sponge it with ammonia or turpentine, or salt and water, or soap bark, for when all is said and done is there anything that can take the place of good fresh air out in the back yard? The happy woman whose floors are rug-covered ones has them doubled up on sweeping days and taken out. While they are airing the floors are washed if they are painted ones or dressed with raw oil, or boiled oil and vinegar or beeswax or whatever her particular choice is for polishing natural wood or stained floors. Even if there is only a border around a square rug, it is infinitely better than that carpets should run to the baseboard and be tacked down so as to make nice little nests for dust, or, of all horrors, those little pests of moths.

Bless the artists, I say, and bless the rugs; may the fashion never go out with veritable folk, and if the colors of your rugs fade in the sun, let them fade. It is said to be that rug was costly, luxurious things, beyond the purses of the many, and possible only to the moneyed few. It is different now. The demand has created the supply, in this case, and there are not only Persian, Smyrna and rich Turkish rugs to choose from, but also the cheaper but quite as artistic Japanese ones, making it quite possible to follow any cleanly or artistic taste you may happen to have, without putting a mortgage on your new bonnet, nor the babies, bless 'em.

Powder and Paint.

When we hear of fine ladies painting and powdering their complexions, and are told of the secret arts of the enameleur, we are perhaps too apt to say that these attempts to imitate a beauty which does not exist are but proofs of the artificiality of modern life. No greater mistake could be made. The truly beautiful do not puff. It is the consciousness of a deficiency which leads to all these devices, and not the desire to be more common among even the lowest intelligences, nothing can be more "natural." If one may use the term, then the tendency to hide peculiarities and deficiencies. Even among lunatics this sort of instinct shows itself. According to Dr. Chas. Shaw, the striving to put oneself in word with nature—in other words, to rectify deformities—is common in the insane, especially among the women. The hair ought to be glossy, therefore, in the absence of other means to produce this characteristic, they purloin the mutton fat, or when their complexions are not all that they would desire, they boil down out of the cosmetic mark, because that is their only substitute for rouge, and they elevate cotton whitening to the dignity of powder de riz! And all because bruising and blotching must be hidden up! Perhaps even the savages who daub themselves with war paint do so to hide the bruises which warfare produces. Nay, it is even cases where scarlet is chosen as the color of our soldiers' uniform because the exciting effect of the flow of blood is not so clearly seen upon it as upon a background of other colors. The use of puffs and powders, and other facial decorations, is not then a matter of pure vanity, or aesthetic culture, but is a mere manifestation of the savage instinct which leads all creatures to hide every mark by which they differ from the normal.—The Hospital.

TO SING IN ST. JOHNS.

Miss Hollishead, of this city, will sing at a concert in St. Johns, Quebec, tonight.

TWO QUIET WEDDINGS.

One Montreal Young Lady Goes to Toronto and Another to Cornwall.

A quiet home wedding took place last evening, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Stanley, of the firm of R. W. Ellis & Co., Toronto, and Miss Edith Maude Ayerst, of Wood avenue, and formerly of Cookshire. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mrs. T. McCaw, sister of the bride. The bride was attended by Miss Ida V. B. Montgomery, of Syracuse, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Paul Stanley, of Toronto. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents received from friends in Cookshire, New York, Toronto, Quebec and other places. The firm which Mr. Stanley represents presented him with a sterling silver cabinet, as a token of their esteem, and from his confederates he received a handsome silver tea service. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley left for a trip down the Saguenay, and after visiting Boston, New York, Halifax, and other places, will return to Toronto, where they will make their home.

A quiet wedding took place at Christ Church, Montreal, last evening, when Mr. W. R. Mack, son of Mr. W. Mack, ex-M.L.A., was married to Miss Mary Isabella Snetinger, second daughter of Mr. J. G. Snetinger, M.P., for Stormont County. The bride was attended by Miss Mattie, of Cornwall, and Dr. H. J. Harrison, also of Cornwall, acted as best man. The Rev. R. W. Samwell, of Wales, officiated.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mack left for Niagara Falls and other points west. They will reside in Cornwall.

AGITATION WILL CEASE.

Roman Catholic Children of Winnipeg Will Shortly be Enrolled in Public Schools.

Winnipeg, June 10.—The Free Press said last night: "Discussing the current rumors as to the future attitude of the Catholic Church toward the Manitoba school law, a Free Press reporter was informed by a gentleman who has taken a prominent part in the controversy that the agitation will cease, and, relying on the assurance of members of the Government, that the negotiations for carrying out the provisions of the law will be given a liberal interpretation, the dignitaries of the Church will refrain from further opposition."

"His Grace the Archbishop of St. Boniface has not yet nominated a representative for appointment on the advisory board," added the gentleman, "but I understood he will do so later, and that on the reassembling of the schools after the summer holidays many additional Roman Catholic children will be enrolled in the public schools. There is a decided change in sentiment, and both Protestants and Catholics are desirous of promoting every effort for conciliation, and this spirit has already tended to the present aspect of the matter."

HAWAII LOOKING FOR TERMS.

A despatch from Honolulu says: The Hawaiian Government, on the 3rd instant, formally refused to renew the exclusive cable contract awarded to Mr. Z. S. Spaulding eighteen months ago, and which expired on the 1st of the present month. The Government now professes to be anxious to treat with the first organization offering to make a definite proposition to give the islands cable communication regardless of national or any other considerations. It is now understood that when Minister Cooper, of the Hawaiian Government, was in British Columbia, some months ago, he obtained certain information from the Canadian authorities, which encourages those of the "inner circles" in the hope that Hawaii will form one of the connecting links of the proposed Canadian-Australian system, which is now conceded by all here will be the first cable line to cross the Pacific, and will, in all probability, be the only one operated for many years to come. At all events, the Hawaiian Government has to offer every facility and inducement to the first corporation, or the company is prepared to begin work on a cable line that will not touch at some point on these islands.

DUEL ARRANGED IN PARIS.

Paris, June 10.—A duel has been arranged between Henri de Regnier and Count Robert de Montesquieu, both of whom are members of the old nobility. The trouble arose from an incident that occurred a few days ago in Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild's drawing-room, where Mlle. Heredia and her sister, Mme. Regnier, made remarks which Count de Montesquieu construed as being taunts about his cowardly conduct towards women at the recent fire at the Charity Bazaar. He thereupon challenged de Regnier, whose seconds decided that the remarks made by Mlle. Heredia and Mme. Regnier were harmless, and offered to arbitrate the matter. The Count then wrote to the papers imputing a lack of courage to Regnier, who has now challenged him. The affair is the talk of Paris. It is the first public outcome of the expected society boycott of the alleged towards at the fire.

NOVA SCOTIA CROPS BACKWARD

Halifax, June 10.—Reports from all over Nova Scotia show the season to be the most backward for many years, and the crop prospects in general are anything but encouraging. Farmers have not done one-half their seeding, and in many cases the ground sown has been ploughed over again on account of the very heavy rains which have prevailed during May and the opening week of this month. Most all the potato seed planted has rotted in the ground. The fine weather which has prevailed during the last two days, however, is given the farmers much encouragement. It is worth thousands of dollars to them. The Annapolis valley apple belt is likely to turn out well. The many crops are well in all sections. The weather on Prince Edward Island has not been so backward, but the potato crop will not be as large as in former years. New Brunswick reports are to the effect that crops will be late.

TO WIPE OUT THE REPUBLICANS.

Avowed Object of the Free Silver Convention.

NOW OPEN IN CHICAGO.

Some of the Delegates Do a Lot of Talking.

The Word Republican Will be Attached to the New Party's Name.

Chicago, June 10.—The free-silver love feast has opened. All kinds of blessings are expected by the participants to flow from the meeting of the Silver Republicans. Much disappointment is felt over the absence of some of the leading apostles. Senator Teller, of Colorado, sent word that "litigation" would keep him away. His brother John is here, however, to represent him. The new party, which expects to be born and christened to-day, will have the word "Republican" in some shape or other fastened upon it. This will be done merely as a sop to the sentimental views of some persons whose votes are needed. Really, the whole affair is a scheme, not very shrewdly conducted either, to weld the alleged Republican silver element hand and fast to the Popocrats.

Senator Dubois made very little attempt at concealment of the real purpose of the gathering. He said: "We shall fuse with Populists and Democrats in the coming congressional election. We shall combine upon the most available men, whether they be Populists or Democrats. But to win the fight we must get recruits from the Republican ranks."

As he went on he became vehemently excited and his talk became even more frank. "We purpose to destroy the Republican party. We want to wipe it off the face of the earth. Our object is to insure the enactment of a free-coinage bill. We shall do everything to accomplish that end. The new party is to make us united, to furnish a place where all Republicans who believe in free silver can find a common meeting ground. Our object is to elect men who believe in free silver, and to that end we shall do all we can to unite with other parties which believe the same as we do. We don't care so much what the candidates think on other questions."

"What about prosperity?"

"Prosperity? Well, if prosperity returns under the present gold standard, our movement will be destroyed. But I don't believe prosperity will come. We are willing to risk our reputations on that."

PRINCIPLES IN ABEYANCE.

Another patriot who is praying that prosperity may not come to his country is Mr. Charles A. Towne, of Duluth. He said: "We propose to hold our Republican principles in abeyance. We stand ready to co-operate with all organized forces in the interests of free silver and make the fight. It is necessary, however, for the good of our new party to have the word 'Republican' in it if we hope to succeed. This for the reason that there are thousands of men who are so wedded to that name and the principles it stands for that they cannot bring themselves to tear away and enlist under the banner of Populism or Democracy. So, to get the men who voted for McKinley last fall, we have started out to form this new party, and without them we cannot win next year, nor in 1900, nor any other time."

Representative John E. Shafer, of Colorado, who is also gloating over the hard times, said: "We propose to follow the Democratic lead. The silver men will rule that party."

In addition to these candid utterances the Illinois delegates to the "conference" met and adopted a platform, the most interesting plank of which follows:

"Resolved, That we are ready to co-operate with all people and any party that shall stand steadfast for the cause of bimetallicism and the masses of the people, and to this end we are in favor of perfecting our organization in all parts of the state."

Representative Charles S. Hartman, of Montana, was equally candid: "We are Republicans," he said, "and we are not. We are Democrats, if the Democratic national organization will remain true to its avowed principles, (i.e., silver)."

WANT PUBLIC BATHS

And the Health Committee Ask $700 Toward Them.

At a meeting of the Health Committee yesterday afternoon.

Ald. Jacques asked the committee to take some action in connection with the River St. Pierre, which was at present a possible source of infection. It was covered with greasy matter, and the abattoir at St. Henri dumped its refuse dirty water into it, causing great annoyance to the residents in the section. Not only that, but scavenging was being dumped within 200 feet of the aqueduct of the sanitary engineer, but such nuisances should not be tolerated. He hoped the Health Committee would consider both questions for the good of the public health.

Dr. Labege said they were working on a report in this connection, and the only thing that could be done was to wait until the report was completed and then report to Council. This course was adopted.

Several reports to Council favoring sewers, etc., were adopted.

A report asking Council for $700 for public baths was considered and adopted. Dr. Leduc, veterinary surgeon, asked an increase of $100 per annum salary. The petition will receive further consideration.

Some routine business was also put through before the committee adjourned.

SHOOTING WITH INTENT TO KILL

Walkerton, Ont., June 10.—At the assizes for the County of Bruce held yesterday George Bone was arraigned on a charge of shooting with intent to kill one William Liversee, near Warton, some days ago. As the victim was unable to attend, and it is doubtful whether he will live, the trial was postponed until the fall assizes.

Strawberries—Dip the strawberries in fondant (the melted sugar used by confectioners) or in the beaten white of egg and then in powdered sugar. These snowy balls are then arranged in a glass dish and decorated with strawberry leaves.

Whipped Eggs—Beat six eggs till light and pour into two quart of fast boiling salted water. Stir vigorously for two minutes, drain in a fine sieve, turn out on a hot platter and garnish with crisp bacon. This may also be served on buttered toast.

Mashed Potatoes—Peel the potatoes, wash them, and boil in salted water. Mash in a food mill, add butter, salt and pepper, and bake in a hot oven. Cook a pint of shell peas in just as much water as will keep them from burning. Do not cover the kettle while cooking any green vegetable, as the confined steam will always change the color to a yellowish shade of green. When the peas are tender add a tablespoonful of butter, into which has been rubbed a tablespoonful of butter; as soon as the liquor has been thickened by this paste season with a salted water, and a dash of pepper, pour into the cases and serve hot.

Cheese Sandwiches—Cut brown bread into very thin slices, buttering lightly. Lay between two of these slices, sandwich fashion, a filling made of cream cheese or cottage cheese in which has been mixed chopped olives. These sandwiches are new and delicious.

Almond Strawberry Dressing—Pour two cups of boiling water on one cup of well-washed rice; add one teaspoonful of salt; cook double-boiled, until the rice is tender and no more of milk and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Boil until perfectly tender and no more of milk and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Boil until perfectly tender and no more of milk and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Boil until perfectly tender and no more of milk and a heaping tablespoonful of butter.

Next to Roumania's queen "Carmen Sylvia," Queen Olga of Greece is said to be the least conventional of reigning queens. She takes long walks alone and one of her most intimate friends is Mme. For several years after her coronation Queen Olga frequently appeared in Greek costume and she has lately considered making the ancient Greek dress the court costume.

DAMAGES FOR QUEBEC CITIZENS

COMMISSION SO DECIDES.

First Morning Session at Ottawa Slimly Attended.

A Large Number of Bills Receive a Third Reading—Branding of Cheese.

Ottawa, June 10.—(Special.)—The first morning sitting of the House was not very largely attended, owing to the Railway Committee sitting at the same time, but nearly all the Ministers were in their places. Considerable progress was made with public business, and the sitting was in fact as in a business one. In reply to Mr. Casgrain, the Solicitor-General stated that the commission which was appointed a few months ago to investigate the claims of Quebec citizens in connection with the landslide from the Otard Rock, Quebec, into Champlain Street, had made a report recommending the payment of certain amounts in liquidation of these claims. The amounts totalled between $38,000 and $40,000 and the Government intended to carry out the recommendations in the Supplementary Estimates. The Commission was composed of Messrs. William Cooke, G. C. Ferguson, Murphy, Dr. John Howe and D. Beattie, secretary.

REGISTRATION OF CHEESE.

Mr. Fisher's bill providing for the registration of cheese factories and creameries, compelling the branding of dairy products and prohibiting misrepresentation as to the date of the manufacture of such produce was read a third time and passed.

Other bills read a third time were an act to abolish the office of Deputy Commissioner of Patents, practically abolished for months past (Mr. Fisher); an act to amend the Land Titles Act (Mr. Sifton); an act respecting forged or unauthorized endorsements of bills (Sir Richard Cartwright); an act suspending the revision of lists this year (Mr. Fitzpatrick); an act extending for one year the exemption from provisions against dumping sawdust in Ottawa and St. John's Rivers (Mr. Davies).

Mr. Davies, in speaking of the sawdust bill, expressed his determination that this should be the last extension time, which he agreed to with great reluctance. But the opinion demanded that there should be no longer delay in compelling mill-owners to consume their sawdust and refuse instead of dumping it in the river.

In reply to Sir H. B. Tupper, he said that he could not say off-hand whether his execution of the law would be rigid or not, but he would insist on the law being observed fully.

The remainder of the time was spent in concurrence on the estimates already passed.

MANITOBA JUDGE CRITICIZED.

Upon the item for North-West Judges, Sir Charles H. B. Tupper and Mr. Foster entered into a discussion of the attitude of Judge Prendergast on the Manitoba School Question. The former said that gentlemen's position was a very peculiar one. There were delays in the negotiations so that Judge Prendergast and the Minister of the Interior could be appointed. He wanted to know why a vote had been taken last session for the salary for this position, when there was no appointment or need for it. It was only a few days ago that Judge Prendergast was appointed, and he wanted to know if the delay in the appointment had anything to do with the Manitoba School Question.

Mr. Foster made a strong attack at the honorable judge, whom he declared was guilty of corrupt practices in the St. Boniface elections, and that the protest against Lauzon had to be withdrawn, as also Prendergast would have been made a criminal under the evidence.

Mr. Mulock insisted that these remarks should be withdrawn, and the House was in the middle of a debate on this point when it rose at one o'clock.

ELECTED A CHAIRMAN.

Rev. Mr. McIntosh of Ottawa Made Presiding Officer of the Congressional Union.

Kingston, Ont., June 10.—(Special.)—The first day's meeting of the Congressional Union of Ontario and Quebec was concluded by a public meeting in the First Congregational Church last evening. Rev. Prof. Warriner, of Montreal, occupied the chair, and in the opening prayer Rev. John Morton made a touching reference to the illness of the chairman.

Rev. A. W. Richardson, B.A., pastor of the church in which the meetings are being held, extended the welcome of the Kingston Congregationalists to the members of the union. He referred in his address to Congregationalism, its practice and platform, which was as truly free as any on the earth.

Mr. S. P. Leet, B.C.L., of Montreal, responded in fitting terms on behalf of the delegates to the eloquent welcome extended by the church.

Mr. S. G. Stone of Shelburne was elected on the second ballot, Rev. A. B. Chambers, of Richmond Church, Toronto, being his principal competitor. The election for secretary was also completed when the conference rose at noon, one ballot having proved ineffective.

tended by Rev. Mr. Richardson. Rev. W. J. Hindley, of Embro, Ont., a son of Rev. Dr. Hindley, then read his father's address, the subject being "A Word of Cheer." After words of thanks for the great honor conferred upon him, he concluded on the tendency to doubt in the religious realm. Intelligence was found in belief and not in doubt. The higher critics in some cases were re-echoing the scepticism of centuries ago, still the Bible and Christianity stood. The true minister must preach what the people needs rather than what it clamors for.

Rev. H. J. Wray, home missionary, superintendent for Missouri, U.S., was in attendance, and addressed the meeting. He expressed his pleasure at hearing the cheerful tones sounded in this union. A church might be few in number, but it was as great and strong as God himself. Fellowship should be magnified made more of the institution and less of the individual.

A resolution of hearty thanks to the chairman, for his address and to his son for his admirable reading of the same, was unanimously adopted before the meeting closed.

The second day's session opened this morning with a praise service led by Rev. J. L. Brown, Franklin Centre. The business meeting was called to order at 10 a.m., with Rev. Prof. Warriner of Montreal in the chair. The first business was the election of chairman for 1898. The choice fell upon Rev. William McIntosh, of Ottawa, formerly of Nova Scotia. In an appropriate address he thanked the union for the honor conferred upon him, and made a touching reference to the illness of the present chairman, Rev. Dr. Hindley.

At 11 o'clock the union gave way to the adjourned meeting of the Canada Congregational Missionary Society, the principal business before which was amendments to the constitution regarding mortgages. Addresses were also given by workers in the home mission field, notably Rev. H. I. Horsey, of Ottawa, and George Estence.

The delegates were entertained to luncheon in the church extension, and at 2 o'clock the annual meeting of the Congregational Foreign Missionary Society was held, when Miss Duggan read an interesting paper.

PASSENGERS THANKFUL

To the Captain and Officers of the Rossmore for Their Kindness.

The following address has been presented to Captain Crookery of the steamer Rossmore, by the cabin passengers of the "Hamburg American steamer 'Arcadia' in recognition of his services rendered under circumstances explained in the address:

Dear Sir—We the shipwrecked passengers of the Hamburg American steamer "Arcadia," desire to express our thanks to you for your many great acts of kindness to us. Your prompt response to our signals of distress, when we were in so sore a plight in the rocks off the Newfoundland coast, and in finding us such comfortable quarters on board your good ship, making us feel at home, and kindly giving us of the best at your disposal. These and many more gracious actions on your part only go to prove the true gentleman and able navigator that you are, and we pray that you may long be spared to enjoy the blessings of the Almighty, which you so richly deserve. (Signed.)

Rev. A. J. Selen and family, John F. Haskell, Ch. Rindermann and family, Cabin passengers.

26th May, 1897.

The passengers in all numbering twenty-six were forwarded via Grimsby to their destination, Hamburg.

The S.S. "Rossmore" arrived at Montreal at 6 p.m., yesterday, after a quick run of ten and a half days, having had fine weather with little fog. Several very large icebergs were seen on the eastern edge of the Banks. Her dispatch in Liverpool was very quick, being only 56 hours in that port.

THE COAST PEOPLE

DISAPPOINTED.

Because the Claims for a Direct Line Were Not Considered.

Vancouver, B.C., June 10.—(Special.)—Disappointment is widespread here over the Government not considering the claim for a direct line from the coast to the Kootenay. Mr. Heinze's proposal is for building eastward from Penticton, and so the arrangement for constructing westward falls entirely carrying out the proposal of the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern Railway for tapping the trade of that section in the interest of the coast cities. This proposal carried the approval of all cities and municipalities. Mr. Heinze's statement that all the coast of the Province is favoring his scheme is said to be misleading. Many entertain a strong hope that the Government will grant the promised assistance in building the western section direct line. The Board of Trade warmly approved the action of the Government in the preferential clause regarding the tariff with Britain. The feeling in favor of the concessions made by the Canadian Pacific Railway to the Government in the Crow's Nest negotiations is very general.

TORONTO CONFERENCE.

Rev. Dr. Carman Regrets the Introduction of Sunday Cars—New President Elected.

Toronto, Ont., June 10.—The Toronto Methodist Conference opened its sessions this morning in the Carlton Street Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, presided, and delivered his annual address, in the course of which he referred in strong terms to the recent Sunday car vote in Toronto, and advised the Christian people of the city to abstain from using the cars on Sunday.

In the election for president Rev. Dr. S. G. Stone of Shelburne was elected on the second ballot, Rev. A. B. Chambers, of Richmond Church, Toronto, being his principal competitor. The election for secretary was also completed when the conference rose at noon, one ballot having proved ineffective.

The great lung healer is found in that excellent medicine sold as Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages, and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

PHARMACISTS MEET.

They Elect Officers for Ensuing Year and Send Congratulations to the Queen.

The annual meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association of the Province of Quebec was held in the Montreal College of Pharmacy, on Tuesday, June 8th, Mr. R. W. Williams, of Three Rivers, president, in the chair. After the minutes of the last annual meeting had been read and adopted, the chairman called upon Mr. E. Muir, the secretary, to read the council's annual report and treasurer's financial statement. The report showed that the Association had under consideration a number of subjects important to the interests of the members. It also showed that they had been alive to their duties, by their efforts to protect the interests of the Association in prosecuting a number of persons who had been found guilty of infringing the Pharmacy Act. The financial statement was also very satisfactory, showing a balance on hand of $3,137.

The President, Mr. Williams, gave an admirable address, paying a high tribute to the greatness and Christian character of our beloved sovereign Queen Victoria. On motion the annual report, financial statement and president's address were duly adopted and ordered to be printed and circulated among the members. A committee was appointed to draft a cable message congratulating Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria on her approaching Diamond Jubilee, which message was carried during the progress of the meeting. The following gentlemen were elected as councillors: R. W. Williams, re-elected; C. J. Coverton, re-elected; J. Emile Roy, re-elected; J. E. Tremblay, A. M. Macmillan and A. G. Duberger, and with the following who remained in office, will compose the council of the Association for the year 1897-8: Messrs. Joseph Conant, S. Lachance, R. McNichols, Dr. J. Ledue, A. Robert, J. G. Barnabe. The Association's first annual banquet was held in the Windsor Hotel in the evening.

EXPORT DUTY ON LOGS.

Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster Would Support It—Delegation Waits on Government.

Ottawa, Ont., June 10.—(Special.)—Mr. Whitney, of the St. Anthony Lumber Company, and Mr. Rathbun, of Deseronto, waited on Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster to-day and asked them to support the Government if the latter took power to impose an export duty on logs, and plywood. The leader of the Opposition and Mr. Foster said they would do so, and would also try to get as many of the Conservatives to support it as they possibly could. An important delegation which included bankers, lumbermen and members of Parliament waited on the Government last night and urged that an export duty be imposed.

STYLISH TAILORING.

I have in stock a line of blue serge and Scotch tweeds that cannot be surpassed for quality in the city. I cut and tailor to order at a low price, since they were bought at a discount. My Scotch tweeds have been carefully selected, with regard to pattern. A stylish, tasteful pattern will set off a low-priced suit to better advantage than a dear one if the latter has been indiscriminately selected. I have never failed to give satisfaction in style and cut. Everything that leaves my store is personally fitted by me. I am giving special attention to women's tailoring in which I will guarantee satisfaction. C. W. Mayotte, 1294 Notre Dame Street.

"For years I could not eat many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Parment's Pills according to directions under the head of 'Dyspepsia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose, without distressing me in the least.
