RAILWAY TRAFFIC OF G.T.P. MAY NOT COME TO QUEBEC

But Will be Carried Over the Old Grand Trunk System to Providence and Portland

NORTH BAY LINE WILL TURN IT TO SOUTH

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 27.—That the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway traffic will not find its way down to New Brunswick and Canadian ocean ports if reciprocity is carried is indicated in a statement given to your correspondent by a leading official of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission. As was originally intended by the Grand Trunk, their traffic from the West is to come down to Ontario via North Bay and over the old Grand Trunk system to Portland and Providence, R.I.

The National Transcontinental line from Cochrane to the West is being rapidly pushed to completion and the line will probably be open by this time next year. Cochrane is the junction point of the N.T.R. and the Ontario Government line to North Bay, the Grand Trunk divisional point in Northern Ontario. The Grand Trunk is desirous of getting the Ontario Government, to reduce its grades and use it as a permanent link between the now and old system. If the Ontario Government will not lease the line the Grand Trunk will enter into an arrangement for running rights. The line of the N.T.R. from Cochrane east must wait so far as through traffic is concerned for the Quebec Bridge and for a lot of actual construction work, one contract being so far untouched.

MANY LIVES LOST IN BASELESS PANIC

Small Boy Cries "Fire" at Moving Picture Show and Crowd Stampedes.

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 27.—Twenty-six dead from suffocation, twenty-five seriously injured, thirty suffering from minor hurts. That is the human toll exacted last night during an inexcusable panic at a moving picture show in the Canonsburg Opera House. The moving picture machine developed a slight defect. There occurred a noise like "click." A small boy shouted "Fire," at the same time starting for the narrow exit. Bolus Dubrowski, a foreign miner, a giant in proportion, jumped from his seat and ran wildly for the same exit. In a moment there was a fighting, struggling mass after him. At the head of a narrow stairway, which led to the street, the foreigner tripped. As he rolled down the stairs he swept others from their feet who were awaiting their turn to enter the theatre, and the crowd jammed at the foot of the stairs battling for exit in an indescribable pile.

It was all over within a short time. Volunteer firemen, several policemen and a few level-headed citizens untangled the human mass. The unfortunate who were slightly injured were pulled from the top of the pile. As they gained the street they ran screaming like maniacs to all parts of the small town. Next came the more seriously hurt, and these were sent home or taken to nearby houses, while a few were rushed unconscious to hospitals. Then the rescuers came to the silent forms of those who had reached the fatal stairway first. One after another victims, many of them women and small children, were carried to the sidewalk. All had been suffocated, and the faces showed terror.

Coroner James H. Hefran has begun a rigid investigation. He arrived at the scene early today and within a short time had empanelled a

THE ABSORPTION OF THIS CONTINENT

Has Always Been Policy of the United States, Says Sir Mackenzie Bowell — Borden's Strong Speech.

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 27.—When Mr. R. L. Borden arrived here yesterday to deliver the seventeenth speech of his two weeks' tour of Ontario, before 1,500 residents of the Bay of Quinte district he was joined by Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Although in his eighty-eighth year, Sir Mackenzie is still strong and active, and he has entered the lists against the reciprocity proposal of the Government with fervor and energy which would be praiseworthy in a man half his age. Never in his long public career as member of Parliament, Cabinet Minister and Senator, he explained in his speech, had the Canadian people faced an issue of such vital importance to their country as that before them today. To ratify the proposed tariff agreement with the United States, he felt, would be to threaten Canada's existence as a nation within the Empire.

"Has not the policy of the United States been the absorption of every foot of this continent?" he asked. The United States has seized Texas and California; had purchased from Russia, Alaska, which should have belonged to Canada; and had acquired the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippine Islands, the latter through a most unjustifiable war with Spain. Sir Mackenzie found another reason for apprehension in the political views of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose ambition, he said, was the independence of Canada for its absorption by the United States.

Mr. R. L. Borden was greeted with cheers and applause, and was presented with an address from the Conservative Association of Lennox and Addington. He bore testimony to the value of the services of Mr. Uria Wilson in Parliament, and expressed the hope that Mr. Paul would be the choice of the electors on September 21. Before taking up the question of reciprocity, he dealt with other planks in the Conservative platform, and with the record of the Government. He believed, he said, in liberal appropriations for the public service, but he pointed out that the men now at the head of affairs had been extravagant, wanton and reckless. They had lavished money on Newmarket canals, Richibucto wharves and for party advantage. Their inaptitude and lack of business ability was also very strikingly indicated by the loss of lives and money in the construction of the Quebec Bridge, the excessive cost of the Transcontinental railway, the Printing Bureau scandal and the disorganization of the great spending departments. Moreover, they had declined to permit any investigation into the cause of these conditions.

Mr. Borden said it was the policy of the Conservative party to aid by liberal expenditures from the Federal Treasury the provinces in their work of instructing the farmers of the country in modern methods of agriculture. "We believe," he said "that Canada can make no better investment. This work will mean to the farmer everything that technical education means to the artisan."

Mr. Borden went on to explain his proposal that the Federal Government should grant the provinces money from the revenue of Canada to be spent in the improvement and maintenance of highways. "I think you will find," he said, "that the carrying out of such a policy will add not only to the circumstances and comfort of the people, but also to the value of every farmer adjoining these highways."

The Conservative party, Mr. Borden continued, was in favor of adopting the provisions of the civil service act to the outside services and also advancing the extension of the rural mail delivery scheme. He declared that the expenditure by Canada for military purposes had increased enormously during the Laurier regime without any great increase in the efficiency of the force. The administration now proposed to spend $30,000,000 within the next few years on a navy which would be utterly worthless as a fighting force. "The Premier has also told us," said Mr. Borden, "that he will reserve the right to Canada to declare whether she will remain neutral when Britain is attacked."

A voice: "Shame on him."
"Shame on him, say I also," replied Mr. Borden. "Such a policy can only lead to the dismemberment of the Empire. The Empire will not be dismembered, but the Government which proposes such a policy will be dismembered."

Mr. Borden left Napanee last night for Ottawa, where he will spend today.

MANY MEETINGS HELD YESTERDAY

Messrs. T. Chase Casgrain and E. Fiset Argued With Hon. L. A. Taschereau and Mr. Parent.

The election campaign in the county of Montmorency was opened yesterday on the Island of Orleans where meetings were held at Ste. Famille, after mass and at St. Jean in the afternoon. Mr. Geo. Parent, ex M. P. for the county, who is again the ministerial candidate, had announced these meetings a few days ago, when no opponent had been chosen, but when the delegates selected Mr. Forget as the Opposition candidate on Saturday last, it was decided that Hon. Mr. T. C. Casgrain and Mr. Elzear Fiset, advocates, would go to the Island and meet Mr. Parent and Hon. L. A. Taschereau. Both parishes are Liberal strongholds and the reception tendered to Messrs. Casgrain and Fiset must have been a surprise to the Ministerialists, as both were given a hearty reception at both meetings.

Naturally as the meetings had been called by Mr. Parent when there was no known opponent in the field, it was not expected that at the last moment two adversaries would appear on the scene and great surprise was expressed at Ste. Famille, when Messrs. Casgrain, Fiset and Art. Turcotte, ex M. P., put in an appearance. Mr. Letourneau, M. P. for Quebec East and a native of the parish, was the first speaker, who spoke on reciprocity, the navy and remarked that Mr. Parent had done more for the county of Montmorency than any of his predecessors.

Mr. Elzear Fiset followed and was well received. He began by alluding to the fact that Mr. Parent had been elected in 1908 to serve a term of five years like all the other members, but his leader had decided otherwise and dissolved the Houses at the end of three years. Since 1896 Sir Wilfrid's friends had been continually booming their leader and claimed that the present prosperity of the country was due to the Liberal chieftain. But that prosperous change in the condition of this country was inaugurated by Sir John A. Macdonald, when he established his protection policy in 1878.

Speaking on reciprocity, Mr. Fiset remarked that if Laurier's reciprocity policy was carried out it meant ruin to the farmers, as it could not be expected that a population of eight million people could compete against ninety millions, who were only waiting to have the barriers between both countries removed so as to throw their extra products into this country.

As regards the navy question the great majority of electors were opposed to this present policy adopted in 1910 and which meant that Canada would have to spend millions yearly for the construction and maintenance of such a navy. He added that a very large number of Liberals, including Mr. Letourneau, M. P. P., were opposed to Sir Wilfrid's policy on that question.

Mr. Fiset was frequently applauded throughout his remarks as was also Mr. Parent, who was the next speaker.

The young Liberal candidate began by remarking that this was the third time that he came before the electors and he hoped that they would still place their confidence in him. The question before the electors today was Sir Wilfrid's reciprocity policy and upon that policy they were going to win. This was a question which had been before the country for years and since 1867 all governments have tried to carry out a reciprocity policy with the United States, but Sir Wilfrid was the only man who succeeded in effecting an agreement between both countries and which would be satisfactory to Canadians.

He also spoke on the navy question, making a comparison between the policy of Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Borden, the former being desirous to build the ships in this country, while the Opposition leader wanted Canada to hand over twenty-five million dollars to England and get no returns.

As there were only two Opposition candidates, Mr. Parent was allowed to answer Mr. Parent and referred to the fact that the Canadian navy, which so far had cost several millions, consisted of the Niobe and Rainbow. Mr. Parent had stated that the Canadian navy was for the defence of Canada, but Mr. Fielding was of a different opinion, and he read extracts from the latter's speech in the House of Commons, where he stated that the Canadian navy would, if required, take part in England's battles. Mr. Fiset's remarks were received with applause.

Hon. Mr. Taschereau followed and cracked a few jokes regarding the appearance of Hon. T. C. Casgrain in a county where he was defeated seven years ago by the present Liberal candidate. He criticized the action of Mr. Forget for not being present at that meeting when he had been selected as an Opposition candidate on Saturday last. The electors of Montmorency did not know him and it was an insult to those who had chosen him not to have put in an appearance. Regarding the navy question, the speaker remarked that such a navy would be a safeguard to their nationality and religion and in support of his argument quoted from an address of Mgr. Plessis. Canada was a colony of England and as all the colonies were assisting the Mother Country, why should Canada remain in the background. Eleven battleships were to be constructed and would cost about eleven million dollars and the construction of such a fleet would last five years. The cost upon each Canadian would be about $1 a head and 65 cents a head for the maintenance of the navy. The present Laurier policy differed from that of his predecessors in the fact that the former navy policies were compulsory, while the present one was a voluntary one. Moreover, these ships would be so large that they could not go up to Montreal and would have to be supplied with food in Quebec, and the farmers of this district would reap the benefit. As regards Mr. Fiset's idea of building a railway around the island he never had any idea of doing so, as last year he opposed the granting of an extension of time to a company, which already had a charter to carry out that scheme. Moreover, he, Hon. Mr. Taschereau, happened to be Minister of Railways and Mr. Forget could not build a railway without his consent and that of the government. Hon. Mr. Taschereau also spoke of the reciprocity policy and claimed that it was going to do considerable good to this country and especially to farmers, and concluded his remarks by referring to all that Mr. Parent had done for his county. Hon. Mr. Taschereau, who represents Montmorency in the Legislative Assembly, was frequently greeted with applause.

Hon. T. C. Casgrain was the next speaker and judging from the applause he received, has still a number of old partisans in Ste. Famille. After thanking the electors, he remarked that Mr. Forget was specially well known in that county. The last speaker had referred to the promises which Mr. Forget may make, but if he did for Montmorency what he had accomplished in Charlevoix nobody would have any complaint to make. In the latter county he had established an experimental farm at Baie St. Paul, which cost him about ten thousand dollars a year and besides built a school house at Murray Bay, and in neither case was the government called upon to subscribe one cent. He promised to build a railway from St. Joachim to Murray Bay and that enterprise is being pushed through rapidly.

He did not know whether or not Mr. Forget would make them any promises, but he was quite aware that the latter's interests and those of his company were to build a railway system around the Island of Orleans and lay a bridge between the North Shore and the Island, and if he promised that the electors could rest assured that his promises would be kept. Hon. Mr. Taschereau had sarcastically referred to his defeat seven years ago by Mr. Parent, but forgot to inform the electors that he, Mr. Taschereau, had himself been defeated in Charlevoix by Mr. Forget. Moreover, Mr. Taschereau expressed surprise and seemed to be shocked at the idea of Mr. Forget running in two counties when the same Mr. Taschereau was himself a candidate in two counties in 1908, but the difference between the two was that in that year Mr. Taschereau was elected in Montmorency and defeated in Charlevoix, while Mr. Forget will be returned in both counties on the 21st of September next.

In his speech Hon. Mr. Taschereau had remarked that the Conservatives under Sir George Cartier had established a navy years ago, but if so why did Sir Wilfrid establish a new one before going to the people and ask them what they thought of it. Cartier's marine was for the production of this country and not to send ships to the Chinese waters if they thought proper.

He, the speaker, was opposed to any navy, as Canada had nobody to fight against. This navy would cost $30,000,000 and that money could be spent in erecting grain docks, improving canals and other public works, which are more required than a Canadian navy. Hon. Mr. Casgrain quoted the naval bill and claimed it was ridiculous and dangerous for Canada and as so far this country had not been called upon to fight England's naval battles the government should not have adopted such an important measure without first consulting the electors, particularly so when they consulted the electors some years ago to find out whether they would be allowed to drink whiskey or only water. That plebiscite had cost the country one million dollars.

Sir Wilfrid's principal question before the people was that of reciprocity but not a word about the navy, upon which question such men as Senator Choquette, Legris, Messrs. Bourassa and Laverne had differed in opinion with him. He (Mr. Casgrain) was opposed to a navy and had told Mr. Borden that he was wrong in wanting to send millions to England for that purpose and that it was a dangerous policy. He was a Conservative and that was the old Conservative party's policy. Speaking of reciprocity Mr. Casgrain warned the farmers that if the barriers were removed between the two countries, they would be the sufferers. In the cities the Ministerialists told the electors that reciprocity meant cheaper food products, while they told the farmers that they would get better prices. If the United States were so anxious now to secure reciprocity their next move would be for annexation.

The speaker also referred to a few of the scandals under the present regime and as his time allowance had expired he only briefly alluded to the Lanctot painting scandal, the Ottawa and Quebec Bridge scandals, the latter of which had cost the country twelve million dollars, through the errors of officials. In concluding his remarks, which were frequently applauded, Hon. Mr. Casgrain informed the electors that Mr. Forget would soon pay them a visit and if he was not present at that meeting it was due to the fact that several days ago he had called two meetings in the county of Charlevoix. However, Mr. Parent had nothing to lose in wait-

Mr. Parent was the last speaker, having been allotted 10 minutes to reply, and remarked that Mr. Forget had always been opposed to a railway on the Island and that if he built a railway to Murray Bay it was more to bring guests to the Mansion Richelieu than to help the farmers. He remarked that Mr. Forget had never received a government subsidy towards that railway. Mr. Casgrain, who was in a room in rear of the gallery, denied that he made such a statement, when Mr. Parent replied by calling him a "liar."

After cheers for the Mayor who presided, the meeting, and the ladies, the crowd dispersed to their homes. At St. Jean the meeting was a larger one, between 600 and 700 people were present, a number of whom were from this city.

The speakers, who practically discussed the same questions, addressed the meeting as follows: Messrs. Fiset, Letourneau, Casgrain, Parent, Casgrain, Taschereau and Fiset, and at this meeting Hon. Mr. Casgrain got a most hearty reception and his appearance on the platform was saluted by prolonged applause.

MONTMORENCY.

There was a spirit of optimism and unanimity about last Saturday's Conservative convention for the County of Montmorency which promises well for the success of Mr. Forget's campaign in that constituency and an observer was heard to remark that there were more cheers and enthusiasm among the delegates present than in all the crowd that listened to Sir Wilfrid at Three Rivers.

What Mackenzie is to the English Canadian, Forget is to the French. The name is synonymous with success. As a financial wizard, as a shrewd and far-seeing business man, and a practical organizer he has but few equals and any member of the present Government will find him a formidable opponent.

That Mr. Forget's prospects of election are of the brightest was noticeable yesterday in the meetings held on the Island in places which have hitherto been generally considered as Liberal strongholds. The meetings in question were called by Liberals, and had it been known that they were to be contradictory there would certainly have been a large number of Conservatives present. As it was, however, Mr. Forget's supporters created a most favorable impression, and they have every reason to be encouraged with the outlook.

Mr. Forget's various enterprises in the way of transportation through Montmorency will unquestionably contribute to the material prosperity and expansion of this district. There can be little doubt that the railway which is now under construction between here and Murray Bay, and which is likely to be extended in the near future, will be a factor of tremendous importance to people along the North Shore.

In short, Mr. Forget is in a position to do a great deal for Montmorency in the way of development by providing rapid means of communication and enhancing the values of the adjacent territory. This is an opportunity which the electors of Montmorency should not lose, and they will no doubt use every effort to return Mr. Forget and obtain the certain benefits of his progressive and public-spirited policies.

THE MISSING PORTRAIT.

Most art critics consider that the "Mona Lisa" of Leonardo da Vinci, which has just disappeared from its place of honor in the Louvre at Paris, is the greatest portrait of the world. Not only is it famous itself and security for the fame of the Florentine who painted it, but it has also made an epic of the woman whom it represents, Mona Lisa, the third wife of a Florentine merchant.

Who was the Mona Lisa, and why her cryptic smile? Answers without number have been forthcoming and all have tended to make the merchant's wife a stupendous heroine of romance. We are told that she was Leonardo's lady-love and broke his heart. We are told, further, that she was a breaker of all hearts, a vampire, a diver in deep seas, "a being of exquisite passions," implacable, murderous, infinitely desirable. Walter Pater's prose in "The Renaissance" gave her the last touch of heroic mystery. Ever since he added her to his memorable gallery she has been of the sisterhood of Venus, the Lorelei and Helen of Troy.

But what of the facts? According to the Baltimore Sun they have been dug from the mold of the past by Dr. Salomon Reinach, an unsentimental French archaeologist—and in the face of them the mystery of Mona Lisa vanishes! Was she a heartbreaker? Not at all! Was she Leonardo's love? By no means! What was she, then? Merely a somewhat commonplace young woman of Florence, who married the middle-aged widower, Francesco del Giocondo in the year 1496 or thereabout, and bore him a daughter in 1499. Two years later, on June 1, 1501, that daughter died and was buried in the church of Santa Maria Novella at Florence. Before the year was ended Leonardo, a friend of Francesco, began to paint Lisa's portrait. The smile in that portrait—the smile that has enchanted ed the critics and sent the poets into ecstasies—is not the bitter smile of a vampire, "a diver in deep seas," "a being of exquisite passions," but the sad smile of a young mother bereft.

THE INFLUENCE OF READING.

A woman arrested for using the mails to defraud guileless victims of her matrimonial advertisements says that she was inspired to her course by the reading of "David Harum." She is specific in pointing out that the part of the narration which more demoralized her was this saying of David Harum: "Do unto others as you know they would do unto you. And do it first."

It is possible to gather from this homely explanation as to why David had skinned the skinning deacon in a horse trade that, under other circumstances he would have done good as well as evil unto others and be swift to do it unto all such as he felt were good to him or wanted to be. There are other parts of the book which bear out this interpretation. But the matrimonial agent and others seem to have accepted it as the wisdom of a worldly-wise man, advising that that everybody they knew or could ever know was lying in wait, ready to rob and swindle them and that, if they did not want to have these things done to them, they should first do them unto everyone else.

Which illustrates once more the difference between strength and weakness. The strong man who knows the world knows that his strength must often be used against guile. But he knows also that it can be used in mercy and gentleness toward the erring, the weak and unfortunate and that he need not stand at guard until his experience warns him of an enemy's approach.

PROOF IS NEEDED.

Mr. MacKenzie King, the Infant Prodigy of the Laurier Cabinet, declares that he likes fighting big monopolies better than he likes anything in the world. If this be the case, how is it that Mr. King has never given any proof of his valor in this direction? Has he ever raised his voice against any combine or monopoly in the House? It is well known that the majority of the big combines have been fattened during the Laurier regime with which Mr. King is associated.

It is true that the young Minister has been instrumental in having an ineffectual anti-combine law put on the statute books. But it has done nothing to justify its enactment. For instance, there is the farm implement trust, directors of which have received knighthood and senatorships from the Liberal party, which has accorded them many favors in return for their support in election times.

There is not a trust in Canada but MacKenzie King and the rest of the Liberal party have ben its friend.

BONDAGE AND FREEDMEN.

Every intelligent Canadian has long known that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his chief newspaper organ were bitter enemies of the great British policy of Reciprocal Preferential Trade for the Empire, says the Toronto World.

But it may still strike some Globe readers with surprise that the Globe should hail with delight the triumph of Taftism over Chamberlainism, and should regard British Chamberlainism as bondage, while it hails American Taftism as freedom.

Yet that is what the Globe does. It quotes the words of President Taft, which showed that the design of the Taft-Fielding pact was to defeat the policy of British Empire Preferential trade, as follows:—

"I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and in Canada to separate her (Canada) by a Chinese wall from the United States and to make her part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity, with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now or give it up forever."

Concerning this frank avowal that the purpose of "The Pact" is to block British Preferential trade, the Globe has the anti-British spirit to say:—"If the Chamberlain policy had succeeded Canada would be bound in a bargain which would not leave her free to make any trade agreement with the United States."

But that "if" makes a world of difference. There you have the outlook from Laurier's and the Globe's point of view—Reciprocity with the British Motherland would be Bondage, but Reciprocity with the United States is regarded as Freedom.

That is the sort of traitors the loyal People of Canada have to fight. The day of judgment is on the 21st of next month.

On that day, if Canada is true to herself, Laurier and Taftism will receive their death sentence.

PILGRIMAGE TO WASHINGTON

At the fourth annual banquet of the Canadian Club at Ottawa on April 1, 1907, Rt. Hon. James Bryce, the British Ambassador at Washington, being the guest of honor, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:—

"I have seen, and you have all seen, in an American newspaper published in New York, just a few days ago, that we are yearning for reciprocity with the United States. Now I tell you that the editor of that paper is about 25 years behind the times. At that time we would have given our right arm for such a thing, but it is now a thing of the past. We have in 1907 a changed condition of things. We are turning our hopes towards the old Motherland. We have introduced the doctrine and the policy of a preference to Great Britain and towards all the British Empire, and this is the policy by which we stand at the present time. Not for my part that I do not value the American trade, not for my part that I do not value all we would have to gain if our relations were on a better footing, but this is a matter on which we shall have no more pilgrimages to Washington, and this is simply the message I have to convey to your guest tonight."

WINE DISTRICTS
DELIGHT EDISONInventor Is Charmed With Trip
Through Historic Burgundy
—On to Switzerland.

Aix-les-Bains, Aug. 24.—After motoring from the little wayside stopping place of Avallon, en route for Switzerland, in the face of the most violent thunderstorm of the season, Thomas A. Edison, with his family, arrived at the Hotel Dalbion, Aix-les-Bains, late last night in the best of spirits.

"It was the finest electrical display I have yet seen on this side," he humorously declared in relating incidents of the trip, which included soaked clothes, a punctured tire and twice losing his way in the darkness. "No part of France I have been through comes up in beauty of scenery and agricultural richness to this great wine growing section," he continued. "After getting some distance from Fontainebleau there was nothing but one vast vineyard, and I am sorry I couldn't see it when the taking in of the grape crops is under way. I understand they make a great holiday of the occasion, but, as far as I have seen, France does nothing else but celebrate some kind of fête."

"Hardly a village have I passed through since I started on this trip but is taking a day off for one reason or another. I wonder they get any work done."

Sees Famous Territory.

The part of France Mr. Edison passed through is known as Cote d'Or, the ancient possession of the Dukes of Burgundy, whose gorgeous tombs are seen at Dijon. It contains many famous rendezvous of wine drinkers, but Mr. Edison, who is opposed to all kinds of stimulants, gave them second place to interest in the comfortable chateaux passed.

A little beyond Chalons the sight of one of these so delighted him that he stopped the car and had the chauffeur photographed, declaring he would like to live there. When someone declared he'd have a big bill to pay in fitting it up to the standards of modern Edisonian convenience he remarked he thought the brightness in more sense than one of these old chateau owners of Burgundy was probably sadder than the overluxury of American millionaires.

Aix-les-Bains is now in the height of the season, with King George of Greece, the Duc de Porto, Princess Murat, Edwin Gould and family, Miss Katherine Elkins and her mother and other prominent persons occupying hotels. But this is not to Mr. Edison's taste. He declared himself averse to fashionable resorts, and only stops at them for convenience sake when it cannot be avoided.

Switzerland His Goal.

What Mr. Edison looks forward to as the most interesting part of the summer tour is an excursion through Switzerland. "Switzerland to me is the most fascinating country in Europe," he said. "It's Nature's great laboratory. There one can study her locked up forces to the greatest advantage. What will most interest me in passing through the country, is how she has utilized her enormous water-power. The Swiss are a superior people, worthy the land they inhabit. In most respects their ideals of work particularly appeal to hardy workers like myself. The country has enormous possibilities along industrial lines. They've just begun to exploit the rich resources Nature has provided for them. I expect to get more inspiration from this part of the trip, as well as to enjoy the scenery, which is the kind I most like."

WAS DETAINED AT QUARANTINE

Steamer Barcelona Had Supposed Case of Small-Pox on Board—Majority of Passengers Landed.

The Canada line steamer Barcelona, Captain Wepperschmidt, from Hamburg, Rotterdam, etc., with 280 passengers and a general cargo, arrived at the Grosse Ile quarantine on Saturday afternoon, where a case of alleged smallpox was found on board. All the passengers in the compartment where it occurred were landed on the island to undergo observation, and the remainder were vaccinated. The ship was thoroughly fumigated and allowed to proceed yesterday afternoon, reaching here at 3.30 p.m. After landing the balance of her passengers and Quebec cargo she left for Montreal last night.

A USEFUL APPLIANCE.

The powerful floating crane left for Montreal yesterday morning in tow of the tug Sir Hugh Allan. On Saturday the crane was again placed alongside the wrecked steamer Bavarian, and in a few hours had the remaining three boilers removed from the wreck. As the boilers weigh over fifty tons each the work of removing them would appear to be no light job, but the crane moved them about with the greatest ease. As a matter of fact one boiler was lifted out of the hold of the Bavarian and swung on to the crane in a little over an hour's time. An expert at that kind of work, who has been engaged in the business in different parts of the world, told a Chronicle reporter that he never saw an apparatus perform its task with greater perfection than the crane, and added that the men who were handling it fully understood their business. All the boilers are in good condition and apparently suffered little by their immersion in the water. The crane was brought here from Montreal by Mr. Lorne C. Webster and not the Harbor Commissioners as reported from that city.

COL. ASTOR AND BRIDE-ELECT BACK

New York, Aug. 28.—The Astor Force party spent a strenuous day yesterday. The Colonel's steam yacht Noma anchored off the New York Yacht Club's station early in the morning, and the party, which included William H. Force as well as the bride-to-be, motored to the home of the bride-elect, No. 18 East Thirty-seventh street. Col. Astor then departed in the automobile. He returned at 4.30 p.m., and half an hour later with Miss Madeleine Force, her mother and sister, re-entered the car.

The party went to Long Beach, where they dined in the grill room of the Hotel Nassau. They had already entered the place before it was noticed that Col. Astor and his prospective bride were present. The grill room was filled with notables. Baron Austen was giving a dinner to Mr. and Mrs. H. Walter Webb. Others present were Commodore Currier James of the New York Yacht Club, Mrs. William G. Roelker, Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson and George Murray.

A Bitter Disappointment.

While the Astor party were dining a quartet of negroes sang Georgia melodies. One diner hurled the metal top of a beer bottle in the direction of the negro singers. It sailed across the room and fell under the table occupied by the Astor party.

One of the negroes, believing that Col. Astor had dropped nothing less than a $5 gold piece, rushed across the room and picked up the piece of metal. His disappointment was heartrending.

A reporter asked Col. Astor when the marriage ceremony would take place.

"Don't annoy me," he answered. "But the public wants to know," persisted the reporter.

"Don't annoy me," was the answer for the second time.

The rumor was current yesterday that the yacht Noma was being fitted for a cruise along the Connecticut coast; that the entire Force family and the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant would accompany the party, and that a marriage ceremony would be performed, after which the bridal couple would go to France for the honeymoon.

"Impossible," says Mr. Grant.

When asked last night if he had consented to perform the marriage ceremony, Mr. Grant said:

"Impossible! Read the laws of the State of New York.

The Noma brought an apparently enthusiastic party yesterday. Tanned by wind and sun the future bride was the picture of health. Col. Astor told reporters that the trip had been made solely for the benefit of his fiancée's health.

"We had a splendid trip," he said, smilingly, "spending most of our time after entering Peconic Bay, bathing and fishing. Mr. Force, who is an enthusiastic fisherman, had splendid luck and landed many bass and porgies."

The nervousness of Miss Madeleine so noticeable before the trip, had disappeared.

DO WE WANT RECIPROCITY

At first friendly to reciprocity the Ottawa Citizen has turned against the agreement. It now says that before entering the proposed partnership with the United States we should consider the conditions prevailing in that country. That is what a good business man would do before he would tie his affairs up in any new business relationship. What then is the trade situation in the country from which this proposal came?

The Citizen believes that before September 21st the dangerous trend of trade conditions in the United States will cause the most ardent supporter of the Laurier Government to hesitate about voting for reciprocity. For over four years the people, and latterly the Government of the United States, have been at war with the gigantic business corporations known as trusts.

Radical legislation has been passed, and the movement against these powerful combines has assumed critical shape. Demagogues are trading on their discovery of a new road to popularity with the masses. The trusts have been guilty of great abuses, and they had to be grappled with, but the process of dealing with them is an exceedingly dangerous one. They control the business of the country and many fear that their discomfiture will precipitate a grave financial, commercial and industrial panic. This is the view expressed by Mr. Geo. W. Perkins, one of the very foremost United States financiers.

Very much like a declaration of war between the great business interests of the United States and an inflamed public opinion that is bent on dealing as ruthlessly with the trusts as the trusts have dealt with the people. Should a prosperous and commercially peaceful country like Canada consummate a trade partnership with a nation that seems on the brink of conflict and panic?

Already we know of closed factories, of factories on part time, and of thousands of unemployed working-men in many parts of the United States. Are we Canadians with our eyes open going to involve ourselves wantonly and without reason in the troubles of the Republic? Or shall we continue on our own way the most prosperous people on earth, the richest in natural resources and the most assured of a brilliant economic future?

FLEES WITH CORN AS NEGRO JOINS FEAST

New York, Aug. 28.—If the chief steward of the steamship Hendrick Hudson, of the Hudson River Day Line, had applied a match to a fuse leading to a ton of dynamite he could not have caused a greater commotion in the dining saloon than he caused early Monday afternoon when he assigned Clarence Edward Claypool and his bride to seats at a table where Colonel Andrew Jackson Caldwell, of Red River Parish, La., was busily engaged in putting the finishing touches to a large steak and some corn on the cob.

No sooner had Colonel Andrew Jackson Caldwell, southern gentleman and veteran of the war between the States, obtained a good look at Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edward Claypool than there was an outburst which caused others in the dining saloon to take notice.

The Colonel Insulted.

"Here, nigger," called out the Louisiana Colonel to the chief steward, whose complexion was of a ginger cake hue, "what do you mean by putting these niggers at this table. Do you think that a Southern gentleman would so far forget himself as to eat at the same table with two damned Yankee niggers?"

Holding an ear of corn in his clenched right hand, the Louisiana Colonel raised his voice so that he was heard upon the upper deck. He had been insulted, yes, grossly insulted, he said. He told the chief steward that never again would he set foot north of the Mason and Dixon line.

In a rage he left the dining room, and in the excitement he carried the half eaten ear of corn with him. He appeared upon the upper deck with a napkin carefully tucked under his collar, and to say that he was angry would be expressing the case mildly.

A Lack of Civilization.

"What, sir?" exclaimed the Colonel to a sympathizer, "do you mean to tell me that it is the custom up here to permit niggers to eat in the same dining room with white folks? I am surprised, sir, surprised and mortified to think that the people of the North are so lacking in civilization."

Until the Hendrick Hudson reached Albany early on Monday evening, Colonel Andrew Jackson Caldwell was boiling over with rage. Had the flag of the Confederacy been trampled under foot in his presence, he could not have offered a more violent protest.

E. L. HARPER, ECONOMIST.

Bank Wrecker Now Lives On 15 Cents a Day.

Edward L. Harper, former head of the Fidelity Bank, of Cincinnati, who wrecked the institution in an attempt to corner the wheat market 25 years ago, is living in an apartment that costs him $76 a month on 15 cents a day.

In the course of his examination in supplementary proceedings, held yesterday in the Supreme Court, Harper said of himself and his wife:

"We live on about 15 cents a day each." When an opportunity was given him last night to explain the system of cheap living he declined to discuss it.

Harper and his wife formerly lived at 249 Central Park West, in an apartment that cost him $133 a month. They are now living in the $76-a-month apartment at 701 West One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street. The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Harper, their 24-year-old daughter and Mrs. Harper's sister.

Harper was examined by Hermann Cohen, who has a judgment against him for $2,774, to find out his financial condition. He testified that for four years he had been manager of the steel and iron commission firm of Harper & Son, at 30 Church street, but in all this time he had received no salary, commission or profits.

His reason for giving his services free was made plain by his explanation that his wife owns the business. She never has entered the place of business, but leaves everything to her husband.

"Wherein does your conduct differ from what it would be if it were your own business?" Harper was asked.

"Well, if I can earn money for my wife," he answered, "I know it gives her bread and butter."

"What right have you to give away your services and take the benefit away from your creditors?"

"I have a right to work for my wife; I propose to work for her for the balance of my life. My wife works for me. We live on about 15 cents a day each."

"Do you have any secret agreement to get moneys?"

"No."

"Any secret agreement to get profits from the firm?"

"Not a cent."

"Have you contracted to work for Harper & Son for nothing?"

"My wife has the right to draw there and she will support me. There are a lot of people on my back. I tell you the entire receipts of the firm since January 1 were less than $1,500. How in the devil could any one draw much money?"

POOR, SHOCKED MAN!

SAYS HE SLEW WIFE TO SEAL HER LIPS

Mistook Her for Burglar, Says Man Exonerated, but Again Accused.

Kittanning, Pa., Aug. 28.—Accused of having slain his wife, although a coroner's jury exonerated him, Geo. Golden, a shoe clerk of Wickbore, who declares he shot his wife in mistake for a burglar, was released on $10,000 bail to-day, despite protests by an attorney retained by the dead woman's brothers.

William A. Fairman, the brother's counsel, alleges that Golden killed his wife to prevent her telling of certain alleged thefts.

The information against the accused man was made by his brother-in-law, W. A. Simmens. Golden surrendered and a hearing was set by Justice of the Peace Hill for August 31. W. L. Peart, for the prisoner, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge W. D. Patton, who reserved decision and set the amount of bail. Later the hearing before Justice Hill was fixed for August 25.

On the night of July 18, according to the accused man's statement, he was aroused by a noise which he thought was caused by a burglar. He called to his wife, saying he thought there was some one near the window. He heard no more noise and went to sleep. Then, he said, he was again awakened by a noise. He saw an object near the window, he declares, and, thinking it was a burglar, fired three shots. The object fell. He rushed forward and found the object was his wife.

Golden said he made an examination and found a bullet wound in his wife's forehead. Physicians were summoned, but were unable to save the woman's life. She died soon afterward.

An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Friends of the dead woman were not satisfied with the way the coroner's investigation was conducted. Mrs. Golden's brothers, W. A. Simmens and Walter Simmens, became active. The latter made an investigation on his own account. Then he put detectives at work. They have been on the case for three weeks. The detectives declare they learned that the bullet which struck Mrs. Golden took a downward course, and as the woman was six feet tall, it would have been impossible, they think, for the bullet that killed her to have been fired by a person who was leaning on his elbow in bed, which Golden asserts was his position when he fired.

The seven-year-old son of Golden is living with his grandmother. The latter has implicit faith in the innocence of her son. When Golden returned after his release mother and son embraced and tears trickled down the cheeks of both.

"The professor says that music owes a great deal to Rossini."

"What's Rossini?"

"That's probably Italian for 'rosin'."

Fatigued Philip: "Did the lady 'crow boilin' water on youse?"

Wandering Walter: "Worse'n dat, 'Phil, you e'n dat. It was soapuds."

TORONTO BEAT
THE SHAMROCKSIn Featureless Lacrosse Game —Exciting Play Between Cornwall and Nationals.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 26.—In order to stay in the running for the national lacrosse union championship, the Torontos had to defeat the Shamrocks today. They did so in a rather featureless game by a score of 8 to 1, and if the Scarborough boys register a victory against the Tecumsehs on Labor Day, they still have a chance of at least tying for first honors. The Shamrocks reversed the order of their game in Ottawa, for they began strong today and weakened badly as the play proceeded until in the last quarter it was all Toronto.

First Quarter.

The Torontos believed in beginning early, and Warwick carried this principle into effect, scoring the locals first in 2:40.

Play was fairly strenuous, and Eddie Powers found it so, receiving a head gash that bled freely, and interrupted things for a time. Then the Irish took the aggressive, and after eight minutes' play they found the net.

Dandeno slashed and got ten minutes. Munday got the same penalty for the same offence, and McIlwaine got five. Then Barnett encroached on the crease and was handed a five.

Dandeno, the Toronto centre, livened things up when he ran from point to point, but he shot wide.

The second quarter started round the Shamrocks' goal, but Clingen, the goalkeeper for the Irishmen, played a phenomenal game in this quarter. He kept the Torontos from breaking the score until he was given a penalty for tripping Warwick, and while he rested Parks found the nets just before half time.

Out in the open honors were divided between Staggs and McCarthy, both of whom did some fast fielding, close checking and spectacular intercepting. At half time Braden had to leave the field as he was sick, and Longfellow took his place. It was at this period that the Irish showed signs of weakening. Torontos worked hard, but Clingen had served his term and was again on the job. Staggs made a nice run and passed to Lavele, who scored.

After repelling the Shamrock rush, the Torontos made another onslaught and Kalls scored, time 5:35.

Munday was given 15 minutes just as the goal was made. Referee called it a slash. Dillon was sent off for 5.

Harshaw and Warwick also got off for 5 minutes.

Barnett followed with a goal, but it was disallowed.

Fourth Quarter.

Torontos were two men short when the last quarter commenced. There was no very strenuous work in the opening minutes, but Torontos were on their guard. The Shamrocks made an effort to get in a shot, but their efforts failed, and Dandeno got away with the ball. Down at the Irishmen's goal a lot of short, swift shots followed, and although Clingen did do good work, he failed to stop a nice shot from Dandeno.

One of the nicest plays in the game was made at this stage by Parks, who circled around behind the goal and came back in front after describing a circle. He never lost possession of the ball, either, and sent a shot into the net from close range, which Clingen failed to stop. Twenty seconds later Barnett sent another whizzer into the nets. In spite of the efforts of three Shamrock players, Parks got past them all and scored again.

ONLY ONE PRO. HOCKEY TEAM IN TORONTO

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 27.—President Emmett Quinn of the National Hockey Association is in town in connection with the organization of the Toronto team for the professional league. He will visit Ottawa and Renfrew on his return trip.

The franchise for the Toronto club is held by Mr. Ambrose O'Brien of Renfrew. It is not expected that there will be any great difficulty in securing the franchise from the Renfrew magnate. The Creamery Town, of course, has its own franchise, and has no use for two.

Toronto will have only one club for the first season at least, and Bruce Ridpath will be the manager.

The Ottawa officers do not expect any great increase in the salary limit, but with the western clubs paying such big money it will be necessary for the N.H.A. to hand out much steeper stipends than in other years.

AVIATION RECORD.

Mourmelon, France, Aug. 27.—C. Helles, a young French aviator, today broke the record for a single long distance flight in competition for the Michelin Cup. He covered 1,200 kilometres (746 miles) in fifteen hours. The previous record for the Michelin Cup was made by Jules Vedrines last year, when he covered the 800 kilometres (496.8 miles) in seven hours, 56 minutes and 36 seconds. Helles flew over a measured course and landed at Chalons-sur-Marne.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 27.—Captain C. R. Crowe of Guelph won the Governor-General's prize, the blue ribbon event in Canadian rifle shooting, when he defeated Sgt. J. Battershill of the 90th Regiment, Winnipeg, in the shoot-off at the Dominion Rifle Association matches Saturday. Captain Crowe had been a leader in the Grand Aggregate up to about the last day, when he dropped somewhat and Sgt. Battershill nosed out ahead, winning the first prize in the Grand Aggregate. In the first stage of the Governor-General's, it was Captain Crowe's turn, and he pulled out winner of this stage with a score of 98, while Sgt. Battershill was three points behind.

At the end of the two stage match they were neck and neck, each with 191. In the final shoot-off they both put on a bulls eye on the first shot, Capt. Crowe then dropped to an inner, counting four points and his opponent went one worse, getting a magpie. Both corrected their sights with coolness and both put on bulls for the third shot. Again both put on bulls for the fourth shot, but on the fifth Capt. Crowe dropped to an inner. A bull by Battershill would have tied matters, but it was not forthcoming, and he dropped again to a magpie. Thus Capt. Crowe's score for the shoot was 23 and Sgt. Battershill, 21.

It was the first time that the winner of the first range has been able to win the final as well. The strain of being the leader as a rule is sufficient to put the rifeman's nerve to the bad and he rarely does as well in the second stage.

There was a large crowd from the city to watch the finish of the great match, and Earl Grey arrived just in time to see the final.

It is indeed unusual that of this year's Bisley team only one, Corp. Mortimer, will be on next year's and in this Bisley team of twenty there are only seven who have ever been on a Bisley team before at any time.

While, as a rule, they are inexperienced men as far as Bisley is concerned, they are old rifle shooters at the D.R.A., and will no doubt make a good team. Sgt. Russell, of the G.G.F.G., is off the team for the first time in several years. He could not have gone, however, had he won a place, as he went to this year's Bisley on the team on the understanding with his employer that even if he did win a place on the team he would not go. There is a bare chance that Corp. S. G. McConnell of the 43rd Regiment, might go. He is 30th man, and often many lower than that get on the team. Pte. W. J. Clifford, winner of the King's prize this year, did not make the team.

The D.R.A. matches did not close until Saturday night, so that many of the corps did not get away until today, and it took the greater part of today to get all the scores out.

As an instance of the honesty which as a rule prevails among the rifemen, Sgt. Major Dymond was credited with a bull of the 1,000 yards Governor-General's prize. When the target came up, the spotting distance showed that it had really been an inner. He turned to the registry keeper and said: "They have given me a bull, but it ought only to be an inner."

The range officer telephoned to the bulls and found out that Sgt. Major Dymond was right. His honesty lost him a point in a very important match, but it moved him up a notch in the esteem of every rifeman.

The score of 191, which won the Governor-General's prize was low to what won the big match in other years. Corp. Mortimer once won the match with 197, while Corp. D. McInnes of Calgary won it two years ago with 198. Last year's score was 193.

The Bisley aggregate decides the members of the 1912 Bisley team from Canada, composed of the first twenty. It is the aggregate of the Grand Aggregate, plus the score of the 800 and 900 yards of the Governor-General's match. The team is:—

First, Lt. J. A. Steele, 1st C.S.A., 453; second, Sgt. J. W. Battershill, 90th, 451; third, Corp. A. Rutherford, Q.O.R., 442; fourth, Capt. C. R. Crowe, 30th, 442; fifth, Pte. H. Auld, 90th, 439; sixth, Capt. T. Mitchell, R.L., 437; seventh, Lt. A. M. Blackburn, 90th, 434; eighth, Capt. J. Sclater, 6th D.C.O.R., 434; 9th, Pte. A. B. Mitchell, 48th, 434; 10th, Sgt. E. Three times during the match the players resorted to fists, Secours being the chief offender.

In the second quarter Fid. Cummins and Duckett got into a mixup and the former smashed the latter on the head and took a fifteen minute penalty, while Duckett got five.

In the third period Donihie and Secours, who had been getting at one another right along, started to open old sores and a free fight followed in which half a dozen players took part.

The others pulled to pull them apart before any serious damage was done. Donihie and Secours each got ten minutes with the timers.

Towards the end of the fourth quarter Secours took another crack at the Cornwall boy and Donihie went down and out for five minutes, while Secours was banished for the rest of the match.

The game was a rough one at times and nearly all the penalties were for slugging, comparatively few men being benched for minor offences, such

MAN AND WIFE

DIEON PIKE'S PEAK

Colorado Springs, Colo. Aug. 24.—The bodies of W. F. Skinner and wife, of Dallas, Texas, were found at one o'clock this afternoon in the snow near the summit of Pike's Peak. The discovery was made by a boy who saw a part of the woman's skirt fluttering above the drift that covered the bodies.

Corner Jackson was notified immediately and, in company with a deputy sheriff, started up the mountain on a special cog train.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner probably started to walk up the peak this morning soon after midnight. The distance is nine miles and requires five or six hours. They were caught in a storm of rain, hail and snow and becoming exhausted sat down to rest, when death overtook them. So far as known they were strangers here, unaccustomed to mountain climbing. They were insufficiently clothed to endure the cold. Their stopping place here is unknown and personal details are lacking.

On their way up the Peak Mr. and Mrs. Skinner stopped at the office of the Pike's Peak News, about three miles above the Half Way House, to register. Mr. Skinner there expressed some doubt as to their ability to reach the top of the mountain. Mrs. Skinner laughingly said:—

"I'm from Texas."

The couple were last seen about four o'clock by the crew of the downward bound cog road train. At that time Mr. Skinner repeated his doubts to some of the passengers. But Mrs. Skinner again insisted on trying to reach the summit.

From the positions of the bodies when found it is believed the couple sought for shelter in the lee of a huge boulder a short distance from the track. Both wore light clothing.

FINEST GOURMETS

ARE HERE, THEY SAY.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Americans are more discriminating as to their foods than any other nation, say members of the International Stewards' Association in annual convocation here.

Only in the United States is the truly cultivated palate to be found, say the stewards, who thus describe the condition:

America has stopped heavy eating and no longer wants a banquet menu measured by the yard. Light eating is the present order. The man of to-day eats only half that the man with similar activities ate fifty years ago. The rage for French sauces is gone. The American wants to taste the actual dish he is eating and not the spices of the sauce.

"The French are now learning from us. The old condition is reversed."

Plans to establish, probably at Indianapolis, a $500,000 training school for stewards were discussed to-day; $200,000 was subscribed. Thirteen celebrated chefs will lay out the courses of instruction. It will soon put the pepin factories out of business, the stewards prophesy.

WHY SHOULD WE ##### SHARE THIS?

Boston, Aug. 26.—More than sixty thousand cotton mill operatives in the New England states will be idle until Sept. 5, partially emphasizing the most drastic policy which has been in force in nearly 20 years. Many millions of spindles will be idle next week, and it is estimated in mill circles that the production will be less than 50 per cent of the normal output. Many mills have been closed for a week or more and yesterday and to-day their number was increased.

Some of the cotton machine shops will be idle next week as will the Bigelow carpet mills at Clinton, employing 2000, and the Coheco print works at Dover, N. H., with 1000 hands.

Many of the plants affected have been shut down several times since the spring.

A general resumption of activity will occur Sept. 5, although many mills will continue curtailing until conditions are more certain.

THANKS TO BEAUTY PARLORS

Lady Duff-Gordon, at a dinner in New York, praised the beauty parlor. "It has put back the clock at least fifteen years for women," she said. "The woman of 50 to-day, thanks to the beauty parlor, hardly looks 35. In fact, I might almost say that there are no old women any more."

"Up to what age can a woman still be called young?" a pretty grandmother asked pensively.

"No matter what her years," said Lady Duff-Gordon, "a woman is still young so long as she can make a man jealous."

POLITICAL NEWS

Port Arthur, Ont., August 27.—R. R. Gagey, of Manitoulin, arrived yesterday to commence a tour of Thunder Bay and Rainy River, speaking at important places in this section and about Kenora and Fort Frances in the interests of J. J. Carrick, Conservative candidate. Last evening he addressed a large meeting at Murillo denouncing reciprocity in strong terms. He predicted the Conservatives would gain all the seats in Ontario.

Fort William, Ont., August 27.—"I could say a whole lot about reciprocity for publication, but I am not going to do so," was the manner in which Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, expressed himself when asked just before his departure for Winnipeg last evening for his opinion on the proposed pact with the United States. Pressed further on the subject, Sir Thomas refused to enter into a discussion of the trade agreement, further than say that the Canadian Pacific Railway and especially that part of it in western Ontario is doing pretty well under existing conditions. G. J. Bury, General Manager of the Western lines, was even more reticent. The party inspected the lake terminals and the new second C.P.R. track between Fort William and Port Arthur, which was completed last night. Trains ran over the double tracks between the two cities for the first time this morning.

Battleford, Sask., August 27.—The Liberals Saturday nominated A. Champagne, late member, who is endorsed by the grain growers.

COUNTY OF QUEBEC.

A convention to select a candidate in opposition to Mr. J. B. Caouette, Ministerial candidate in the County of Quebec, will be held at Lorette at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The name of Hon. L. P. Pelletier is mentioned in connection with that candidature.

LAURIER AT VALLEYFIELD.

Valleyfield, Que., August 27.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier addressed a large meeting here to-day in the course of his tour of the Province. He declared that the Opposition was weak, there being too many leaders. Continuing, he discussed reciprocity, declaring that border counties such as Beauharnois would certainly reap great benefits from the passage of the bill and promised that it would be passed within three months if he was returned to power.

He characterized the opposition to the navy as being built upon a basis of malicious misrepresentation and again dealt at length with the conscription allegations of the Nationalists. The history of the reciprocity pact was reviewed and in closing he said that the Americans had now realized past blunders and it was for Canada to seize the opportunity which this change offered. Hon. Sidney Fisher spoke, the annexation cry being the chief object of his attack. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. Achille Bergevin and a number of local orators delivered addresses.

St. Hyacinthe, Aug. 26.—Ernest Guimont was to-day chosen as Conservative candidate for Ste. Hyacinthe.

Beauséjour, Man., Aug. 27.—Premier Roblin opened the campaign in Manitoba here Saturday night when he spoke at a joint meeting of the candidates for Selkirk, George Bradbury, Conservative, and A. R. Bredin, Liberal. He attacked reciprocity, saying that the exhaustion of the natural resources of the United States had created social unrest and that country was now looking to Canada to replenish her depleted natural wealth, going on to point out the dangers of the agreement from the Imperial point of view. Notwithstanding recent reports of ill-health the Premier appeared in fine fighting form.

Bourassa at St. Julien.

St. Julien, Que., Aug. 27.—Following hard on the footsteps of Sir Wilfrid, Mr. Henri Bourassa arrived here this afternoon to take part in an "assemblee contradictoire," his opponent being Mr. D. A. Lafortune, late member, and once again Liberal candidate for Montcalm.

It was a largely attended meeting, hundreds flocking in from all parts of Montcalm county, in which this village is situated, many of them evidently expecting to enjoy just such a meeting as the last contradictory one in which Mr. Bourassa participated, that at Ste. Hyacinthe.

In this they were disappointed, however, for while the speakers seemed to regard the navy bill and reciprocity as of minor importance and the Lanctot affair and the part played by Mr. Lafortune in that episode as the main point to be discussed neither descended to such vicious personalities as were exchanged at Ste. Hyacinthe.

Mr. Lafortune lacked the fire of the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, while Mr. Bourassa did not seem to regard him with such animosity as he did the late Postmaster-General.

A POINT TO REMEMBER.

William Dean Howells, at a tea at Kittery Point, talked in his wondrous brilliant fashion about literature.

"Good literature is always condemned on its first appearance," he said. "That is because, being original, it is new and strange."

"Shelley's work was bitterly condemned at first. So was Coleridge's. So was Wordsworth's. So was Stephen Crane's."

Mr. Howells paused, then added, importantly:

"Trees are only thrown at those trees which are heavy with fruit."

ASTOR AND BRIDE BACK ON YACHT

Rector Grant Squelches Rumor of Bridal at Sea—Astor Is Reticent.

Philadelphia, Aug. 27.—The approaching wedding of Miss Madeleine Force and Col. John Jacob Astor has the entire disapproval of former Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, who terms it "disgraceful," because Col. Astor was divorced by his wife, who was Miss Willing of Philadelphia, and under the decree was forbidden to marry.

Mr. Pennypacker's reference to the union of Miss Force and Col. Astor was made to-day during a talk on the need of uniform divorce laws. He was sure the wedding would set a harmful example.

From my own personal viewpoint, I think the proceedings are disgraceful," he said. "Here is the case: Col. John Jacob Astor came over here to Philadelphia and married a young woman from an old and reputable family. When the court handed down its decree, Col. Astor was forbidden to remarry in the State of New York, but in a short time he meets a young woman, whose family has been dazzled by his diamonds and his wealth, and he at once, according to report, has taken steps to go into some other commonwealth to marry her.

Sees Great Harm as Result.

"I think it is all very sad and very disgraceful. Of course this particular case is only an incident. I mention it simply because of the widespread publicity given to it, and therefore the harmful effect it will have through suggestion.

"You know we do things largely through suggestion. A man, passing a hardware store, saw a long knife and purchased it. A few minutes later he met the Duke of Buckingham and cut him to pieces. The man, it is true, was demented, but the sight of that knife suggested murder to him. This affair up in Coatesville was horrible, but it may happen again almost anywhere and at any moment. The thought of burning somebody has now suggested itself to us, and it may happen in any county to-morrow. So it is with this Astor affair. Men and women see him flaunting his contempt for the sacredness of marriage in the face of the law of State and God, and it is suggested to them that they can do likewise.

Things Already Bad Enough.

"Indeed, it has come to pass that men take women and women take men nowadays on the principle that if they don't suit they can soon get freed of the bargain and hunt around for other partners.

"The case of Astor is conspicuous and terribly harmful, because such is the case, but the same thought regarding marriage is abroad in the land, and it is truly bad condition. "It is all because of our lax divorce laws. What we need is rigid, uniform States' statutes, not national legislation. This is a situation that the States should regulate, not the Federal Government.

"A few years ago there was a Governor of Pennsylvania who gave a great deal of thought to this, and he invited all of the Governors to send delegates to a national congress in Washington to consider a uniform divorce law. That Governor's name was Pennypacker.

"At that congress, which convened in February, 1906, there were present able men from every State in the Union, and after much thought and discussion a uniform law was drafted. Since then it has been passed by the legislatures of New Jersey and Delaware, and I think of one or two other States.

"It is working well, I hear, and should be adopted by all the States."

RICHTER RESCUED

FROM GREEK BANDITS

Salonica, Macedonia, Aug. 27.—Dr. Edmund Richter, a German engineer, who was captured by Greek freebooters and held for $225,000 ransom, has been rescued and is returning here.

While mapping on May 25 on Mount Olympus, in the wild frontier region between Turkey and Greece, for a German geographical society brigands seized him in Turkish territory, killing his escort of Turkish gendarmes. Letters from Lallios, leader of the band, demanding a ransom were delivered by Turkish villagers.

The German Government acted promptly and a small army of Turkish soldiers was sent to rescue him. At the same time representatives of Germany and of the geographical society scoured the mountains, taking with them the gold for the ransom. For weeks the search was without result.

Recently the pursuit was abandoned, it having been learned that Dr. Richter was held in Tirnova, on Greek territory, in the house of one Delyannis.

Dr. Richter—like Miss Ellen Stone, an American missionary, who was ransomed from a Bulgarian band in 1901 for $65,000—was captured not by ordinary mountain brigands but by the "Greek National Society," the capture being organized by Capt. Strati, formerly a Greek officer, who once lived in America, and the affair was an incident of the warfare between bands of Greeks and Bulgarians.

The ransom, it was assumed, was destined to further the partisan warfare in Macedonia.

BOAT RACE A GREAT ONE

Sarsfields Won by Two Lengths in an Exciting Struggle Yesterday.

The Sarsfield crew won from the St. Lawrence crew yesterday afternoon in one of the finest contests seen in the harbor in many years. About two lengths separated the boats at the close of the race.

The race was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators, many boats of all descriptions being in the vicinity of the course, while the river front, the Terrace and along the walls there also congregated many people.

The race has excited an immense amount of excitement and it was well worth all the interest taken in it for it was a game struggle throughout.

The time was 13 minutes, the best ever made over the course in a race in gunwhale boats. The St. Lawrence crew shot to the front at the start, which was a good one, but Sarsfield quickly overhauled them and maintained the advantage to the end. Although defeated St. Lawrence crew were much appreciated for their game effort.

Mr. M. Kenney, who acted as judge and starter, made a splendid official, and gave great satisfaction by the manner in which he handled the race.

The crews were composed as follows:—

Sarsfield Crew—M. Mullally, No. 1; M. Delaney, No. 2; W. Redmond, No. 3; J. Mullally, stroke; M. O'Reilly coxswain.

St. Lawrence Crew—W. J. Ryan, No. 1; W. Hogan, No. 2; Alf. Lynch, No. 3; J. Lynch, stroke; M. O'Connor, coxswain.

Several hundred dollars in bets changed hands over the result.

ROYALS WON FROM ST. PATRICK'S.

The Royals downed St. Patrick's in a league game at Hare Point yesterday, 14 to 11. Last year's champions got away to a flying start and were leading 12 to 3 at the end of the third inning. The Irishmen played a plucky uphill game, driving Giguere from the box in the fourth inning, scoring eight runs on clean hitting. Breton, who replaced the Royal southpaw, was in great form, holding the Saints scoreless for the balance of the game. There was a record attendance and excitement ran high when the Irishmen threatened to take the game which apparently looked to be won in the third inning and the Royal supporters did not breathe easy until the last man was retired.

COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX.

Mr. Forget and Friends Hold Two Very Large Meetings.

Mr. R. Forget held two important meetings in the county of Charlevoix, one at St. Urbain, which was attended by about 350 electors and the other at Baie St. Paul, where about 2500 electors were in attendance. Both meetings were addressed by Mr. Forget, Hon. P. E. LeBlanc and Mr. Renaud, advocate of Joliette, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. The Liberals of Charlevoix are disgusted with the idea that some of the ministerialists have of trying to oppose Mr. Forget in that county.

MR. R. FORGET IN MONTMORENCY

Accepted Nomination at Large—
Held on Saturday.

Mr. Rodolphe Forget has accepted the Opposition candidature in Montmorency, this having been decided upon at a largely attended meeting of delegates of that county on Saturday morning last, when about 150 representatives from the different parishes of the county being present at the Opposition headquarters in this city.

Mr. Joseph Fremont of Chateau Richer was called upon to act as chairman and informed the delegates that they were called upon to select a candidate in opposition to Mr. George Parent. Just then Mr. Forget, accompanied by Senator Landry and Mr. Charles Smith, secretary, arrived in the room and were greeted with prolonged cheering.

Mr. Alphonse Paquet of St. Jean, Island of Orleans, immediately proposed, seconded by Mr. Charles Cauchon of Chateau Richer, that Mr. Rodolphe Forget be requested to accept the nomination. This proposition was accepted with enthusiastic cheers, and when Senator Landry inquired if there was anybody wished to suggest any other name, Mr. F. X. Dupuis of St. Jean stated that at the last convention he had suggested the name of Mr. Gobeil, but that he now withdrew his name, with the latter's consent, in favor of Mr. Forget. This news was also received with applause and Mr. Forget then addressed the convention remarking that he was highly flattered by the manner in which his name had been received and he would have accepted the decision of the recently held convention if it had been regularly called. As everybody knew, Charlevoix and Montmagny were adjoining counties and like all the other counties on the North Shore had been badly neglected by all governments. The unanimity with which his name was received was a pleasant surprise to him and he would give them an answer on Tuesday next.

This decision was not satisfactory to the delegates who wanted to be in a position to tell their friends in the county on Saturday evening that Mr. Forget had accepted.

Mr. Art. Turcotte, ex M.P., for the county, remarked that the delegates should get an immediate answer as it was important that the electors of the county should know on Sunday what decision had been arrived at as Mr. Parent would that day address two meetings on the island.

Mr. Forget replied that he was to hold a meeting at Baie St. Paul on the following day, when he wished to consult his Charlevoix friends, and if they had no objection he would accept. However, the delegates unanimously insisted on an immediate answer and Mr. Forget finally informed them, amid enthusiastic cheering, that he would accept the nomination and would guarantee them that on the 21st of September he would be elected in both counties, which remark was received with prolonged applause. He had no axe to grind, nor was not seeking for any judgeship, but he would guarantee them that if he ever promised them anything, he would keep his promises.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Forget informed the delegates that owing to the fact that he was a candidate in two counties he could only promise to hold two meetings, one on the island and the other on the North shore.

Mr. Forget then withdrew amid cheers.

SECRET OF THE PIGEON.

It is an old and much disputed question by what means carrier pigeons find their way home over distances sometimes of hundreds of miles. Some extraordinary suggestions have been offered to explain this strange faculty,
