CHINESE PRESIDENT IS INDUCTED WITH EASTERN SPLENDOR

Ceremony of Yuan Shi Kai's
Inauguration a Scene of Brilliance.

ENCROACH ON EMPEROR

Officials Wear Many-Colored Garments — Members Clad in Frock Coats, etc.

Peking, October 10.—Yuan Shi Kai was today inducted into the office of President of the Chinese Republic, and the ceremony of inauguration was surrounded with Eastern brilliance. It was attended by throngs of distinguished Chinese and foreign officials, diplomats and military officers and took place in the interior of the Tai-Ho Palace, in which many of the Ming and Ching Emperors had been crowned.

ORIENTAL DISPLAY.

The choice of the place of inauguration was a further encroachment on the sacred precincts of the Emperor within the Forbidden City. The southern half of this extensive enclosure was opened to the guests who traversed hall after hall and court after court toward the residence of the little dethroned Emperor. The ceremony was enacted in the east building called the Tai-Ho Tien or Hall of Supreme Peace which sits high up on triple terraces of marble and is decorated everywhere with dragons and imperial gold. It was here that the Emperor formally received the New Year's greetings from the Manchu and Suzerain princes.

The Chinese officials present as well as the priests of the various religions wore garments of colored silks of many hues, but the members of the Chinese parliament were dressed in western frock coats and silk hats which they have adopted as their official costume. Many of the natives of Turkestan, Tibet and Mongolia and also some of the Chinese and Manchus appeared still to feel ill at ease in their sombre garb which they have so recently chosen instead of their former flowing robes.

The chiefs of the foreign legations were carried to the ceremony like the President, in chairs, on men's shoulders and during the inauguration the brilliant uniforms of the military officers attached to the legation contrasted strongly with the black of the Chinese deputies.

Yuan Shi Kai wore a blue military uniform. He read his declaration which was tantamount to taking the oath of office from the dragonaise (Continued on Page Twelve)

BLACK HAND BOMB FIENDS ARRESTED

CONFESSIONS OF PRISONERS
LEAD TO APPREHENSION OF NEW YORK ITALIANS.

New York, Oct. 10.—The mystery of more than a hundred bomb explosions that have occurred in this city during the past year is on the verge of solution, the police believe, as the result of the confessions of four men in jail at Hackensack, N. J., their statements leading to the arrest here today of two men charged with setting off a quantity of explosives in front of an East Side tenement house on September 9. The accused men, Pietro Gambrone and Antonio Leventino, were held in heavy bail in a magistrates' court for a hearing tomorrow.

LEADER IDENTIFIED.

Leventino was taken to Hackensack and according to Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty, was identified by the prisoners there as the head of a gang of Black Hand bomb exploders operating in New York and vicinity. Italian detectives were assigned to make a round-up of suspects and tonight several were being detained at police headquarters. Commissioner Dougherty said they had made confessions corroborating the statements of the men under arrest in Hackensack.

One of the latter prisoners is declared to have betrayed the gang when a portion of his reward for firing off a bomb was held back. Disclosures that followed police inquiry, according to reports, indicated that some bombs were manufactured here with dynamite stolen on contracting jobs in Sullivan county.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR BEAUCE MAN WHO KILLED WIFE

IMMIGRANT GIRL KILLED BY HUSBAND FROM MOTIVES OF JEALOUSY.

At the session of the Court of King's Bench held yesterday at St. Joseph de Beauce Judge Cimon sentenced Alex. Wintele, charged with the murder of his wife, Frances Eliza Wright, to a life term in the penitentiary.

STORY OF CRIME.

The family of the victim had emigrated to the county of Beauce in 1907 and Wintele had been married to her about fifteen months before the crime was committed. On the morning of July 11, 1912, she was found with her head crushed in at the shanty where the two lived, and lingered through a day and a night, dying next morning. It was alleged that the motive was jealousy, the husband being of the opinion that his wife was too friendly with one of his brothers and thinking that he was paying her clandestine visits while he was away from the house. It was thought that the blow was delivered with an iron bar or the back of an axe-head.

The first story that came through was that Wintele had cut his wife's throat and had then committed suicide in a pond near the place known as "Jimmy's Pond." Neither of these stories was true, although it appears that to give verisimilitude to the latter one, the murderer had left his clothing on the edge of the pond. This was dragged several times but failed to show any trace of the supposed suicide.

The chief witness in the case was William John Wintele, the brother of the prisoner, who said that the murderer had confessed to him shortly after he had killed his wife. He did not commit suicide but made off into the bush where he stayed for about three weeks eluding pursuit. He then came out of the bush and was going with his father and brothers to give himself up when he was arrested by Detective Lapointe of Montreal.

Wintele, who was 23 and whose wife was 22, lived at Cumberland Mills range in the county of St. George de Beauce, close to the American boundary. Two of his brothers lived in log cabins close by.

WILSON BLOWS UP THE GAMBOA DIKE

LAST OF GREAT BARRIERS TO WATER COMMUNICATION IN CANAL DESTROYED.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The momentary touch of a key by the President of the United States today sent a flash of electricity through a continuous telegraph and cable connection of 4000 miles, setting off a gigantic blast of dynamite which exploded the Gamboa dike, the last of the great physical barriers to water communication in the Panama Canal.

TELEGRAPHIC FEAT.

It was an extraordinary feat of telegraphy, specially planned for the occasion. At precisely 2 o'clock this afternoon President Wilson, by simply closing a telegraph key at the White House sent the current overland and under sea, and just a few seconds later came a message informing him that the explosion had been successful.

The special circuit had been set up early in the day and the telegraph companies stationed men at every important point en route to guard the continuous connection and prevent mechanical interference. A few minutes before 2 o'clock, Chief Operator E. W. Smithers at the White House talked to Galveston, Tex.

"Is the cable ready?" he inquired. "Yes," came the answer and soon Galveston announced that "PA," the telegraph call of Panama City, was heard. By agreement, the operator at the White House made four distinct dots at 20 seconds before 2 o'clock. This gave the signal for the engineers at the Gamboa dike to be in readiness for the flash. They waited 20 seconds and on the dot President Wilson closed the key, which sent the current into the dynamite apparatus.

"There, it is all over," smiled the President. "Gamboa is busted." The President sent Col. Goethals, engineer of the canal, a brief message of congratulations and turned to those about him, happy in the thrill of the moment—for it brought anticipation of the final step that will open to the world a shorter waterway between the Atlantic and the Pacific—the dream of centuries.

MONTCALMVILLE GETS STATIONARY TAX SEVEN YEARS

Alderman Lavigueur Succeeding in Effecting a Compromise.

FIRE PROTECTION.

Details of Proposed Reduction of Number in the City
Wards.

A seven-years' stationary tax period for the Town of Montcalm, following annexation, was what the City Council passed last evening when clause was taken up for reconsideration, on motion of Ald. Lavigueur, seconded by Ald. Morin.

FISET OPPOSES.

It will be remembered that the clause originally provided for the present assessment of the Town of Montcalm to remain the same for ten years following annexation. This was reduced by half at the meeting of the Council on the third of October, as it was carried on motion of Ald. Fiset, seconded by Ald. Trudel, that the stationary tax be granted for a period of five years only.

When the Council, on a vote of 13 to 8, permitted the reconsideration of the clause last evening, Ald. Lavigueur moved, seconded by Ald. Morin that the word "five" in the clause be replaced with the word "seven," which would give the town two years more stationary tax than was proposed by Ald. Fiset.

Ald. Fiset in discussing the question before the vote was taken on the reconsideration, said that he would like to hear the reason for asking the Council to come back on the decision taken last week. The Town of Montcalm would be a ward which would cost the city more than any other ward and give less. Mayor Poliwka could not do otherwise than submit the by-law to the taxpayers and would probably receive the surprise of seeing it pass.

Ald. Lavigueur after explaining that he was convinced that the people of the Town of Montcalm would not accept the five years' stationary tax provision, and that he felt that a number of Quebec aldermen, while opposed to ten years stationary tax, would probably agree to a compromise, moved the seven year provision, which was carried on a division of 12 to 8, the vote being as follows:
For—Aldermen Lockwell, Morin, Pouliot, Lavigueur, Collier, Dinan, Verret, Plamondon, Beaumont, Madden, Cannno, Dussault—12.

Against—Aldermen Lantier, Gauvin, Trudel, Campbell, Fiset, Cote, Emond and Gosselin—8.

Ald. Lavigueur's project to have the city divided into two wards and to change the present system of representation to a commission of four commissioners and a mayor, was shelved last evening, when the representative of St. John's ward moved that the question be studied by the Committee on Amendments to the City Charter.

After some discussion Ald. Cannon, seconded by Ald. Fiset, moved the adjournment of the debate on the question, and it remains on the order paper to be taken up and further discussed at some future meeting.

The project is as follows:
The Mayor to be elected by the whole city, for four years.
The city to be divided into two wards, one for the upper part, and the other for the lower part.

The said wards to be represented (Continued on Page Seven)

FRENCH CANADIAN CLUB AT OTTAWA

L'ASSOCIATION CANADIENNE
FRANCAISE D'EDUCATION COMES INTO EXISTENCE.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—L'Association Canadienne Francaise d'Education d'Ontario is the title of a new French-Canadian Club at Ottawa, the charter provisions of which are arranged for in the last issue of the Ontario Gazette. The organization, which will be without share capital, is designed to promote the intellectual, moral, physical and general development of Provincial French-Canadians.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS.

Fort William, Ont., October 10.—Grain shipments eastward over the Lakes today climbed toward the two million bushel mark, the actual figures being: Wheat, 1,298,000 bushels; oats, 431,000 bushels; barley, 140,000 bushels—a total of 1,869,000 bushels.

ULSTER LIBERALS ISSUE MANIFESTO

WILL DISREGARD THE AUTHORITY OF PROPOSED
PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT.

Belfast, Oct. 10.—The Ulster Liberal Association issued a manifesto today announcing that the Ulster Liberals would disregard the authority of the proposed provincial government and claim the protection of the forces of the Empire in defence of their liberties "which would be gravely imperilled by the success of the anarchistic movement led by Sir Edward Carson."

ARRESTED FOR THEFT.

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 10.—Thomas Cooper and George Cahill, two Mont-realers, were a week ago sent from the metropolis to work in the rolling mills here. Last night they were arrested for stealing a quantity of brass and selling it at a second-hand store. At the Police Court today they were remanded to jail for a week for sentence after admitting their guilt.

BANK PRESIDENT ARRESTED, CHARGE IS MISAPPLICATION

INDICTMENT CONTAINS 24 COUNTS—THE PENALTY ON EACH NOT LESS THAN FIVE YEARS.

Providence, R.I., October 10.—As an outcome of the failure of the Atlantic National Bank last April, Edward P. Metcalf, its former president, was arrested this afternoon on an indictment charging him with the misapplication of more than $200,000 of the bank's funds. In the indictment, which was returned secretly last night by a special session of the Federal grand jury, Arion R. Farrar, James F. Allen, Henry E. De Kay, and John W. De Key, all of New York, are named as having aided and abetted Metcalf in the transactions which are alleged to have been illegal.

The De Kay's, who are brothers, were officials of the Mexican National Packing Company which went into the hands of a receiver in 1910; Farrar was formerly president of the Columbian Securities Company, a New Jersey corporation which is now in bankruptcy. Allen is a company promoter.

Metcalf went to the Federal Court accompanied by his daughter, and surrendered voluntarily to the United States marshal. He pleaded not guilty, and bail was fixed at $30,000.

The indictment contained twenty-four counts, on each of which the statutory penalty is not less than five years nor more than ten years imprisonment. There is no option of a fine.

Twenty-three of the counts are for either purchasing or discounting of the bank directors' notes which, it is alleged, proved to be worthless.

On April 20th last, Metcalf resigned as being president, and asiled for Europe. Twelve days later the bank suspended payment by order of Jos. Balch, National Bank Examiner. At that time the deposits amounted to $2,076,268, the capital stock paid in was $300,000 with a surplus fund of $120,000. The loans and discounts amounted to $2,574,043.

After a superficial examination the stockholders were assessed one hundred per cent. on their stock, the par value of which was $100 a share, and on June 12th last, a dividend of 25 per cent. amounting to about $500,000 was paid to the depositors.

Attorney-General Stines declared in court this afternoon that the direct loss to the bank through the alleged misapplication of funds would amount to about $150,000.

Metcalf is 42 years old. Before coming to the Atlantic National Bank he had been assistant treasurer of the Caroline Mills Company, superintendent of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and National Bank Examiner for Rhode Island and Connecticut.

GETS FIFTEEN MONTHS.

Goderich, Ont., Oct. 10.—Ed. Schaffer of Wingham, the young man who has been in jail here on the charge of indecently assaulting Edith Nixon of Wingham last December, came up for trial today and was sentenced to fifteen months in the Central Prison at hard labor. Before imposing sentence Judge Doyle severely lectured the prisoner, saying that such characters should be shot and that the sooner more drastic measures than the present laws permit were adopted, the better the world at large would be.

MR. SAMUEL'S THEME BRITAIN'S BURDEN AND CANADA'S DUTY

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY
ADVOCATES A SCHEME OF IMPERIAL IMMIGRATION.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—Naval armament, Britain's burden, and the duty of the British Dominions in this regard were topics discussed by the Right Hon. Herbert L. Samuel in the last public address of his present visit to Canada, delivered before the Canadian Club this afternoon.

A PACIFIC MISSION.

The question of world peace brought up the idea of the possibility of war and the necessity of preparation therefor. The greater the power of the British Empire, said Mr. Samuel, the greater its duty to be pacific. The present policy of the Imperial Cabinet was one of amity toward every nation of the world.

"But," qualified Mr. Samuel, "though we may work for a reign of permanent peace, we cannot act as though it had been already secured. In the words of George Meredith, 'England cannot invest her all in the millennium and be ruined if it delays to come.' We cannot treat fleets and armies as though they were unnecessary.

"We, who are charged with the duty of Imperial Government, sincere lovers of peace though we are, feel that we would be doing less than our duty if we failed to maintain at whatever point may be necessary, such guarantees of the security of the Empire as may be demanded.

"I draw no conclusions as to what the Canadian policy should be," he said. "That is a matter for you to decide. I cannot suggest to what extent or in what manner Canada should participate in bearing the burdens of the Empire, as this is a matter of party controversy here, and I cannot say one word of approval or disapproval of any of the policies that may be advanced.

Mr. Samuel anticipates that measures would be taken at the next session of the Imperial Parliament whereby the naturalization of foreign subjects might be made of more than local effect. It was absurd, the speaker held, to think that a man might be naturalized in one section of the Empire as a British subject, and be not so recognized in another section.

He was in a position to state that the difficulties which hindered a solution of this problem had been overcome.

Mr. Samuel's final word was to thank the government for all they had done to make his stay a pleasant one.

"And to you Canadians, I would say: Cherish always and in equal degree both your Canadian patriotism and your Imperial loyalty. The one need never be inconsistent with the other, and both together will work for the well being of the whole world."

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Samuel, spoke briefly of the need of some Imperial scheme of immigration, and that all races in the Empire must be brought to forget any racial antagonism they may feel toward one another in the fighting of the common cause.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Aylmer, Ont., Oct. 10.—A five-year-old son of Norman Laur, of this section, had a narrow escape from death this afternoon and is in bed with a gashed head and one leg broken in two places as a result of an automobile passing over him. He was playing on the street and started to back away from a group of boys just as the automobile driven by D. A. Stewart turned the corner.

THE CHATEAUGUAY ELECTION.

The voting which takes place at Chateauguay today closes one of the most active campaigns since the bye-election of Drummond-Arthabaska.

So far as it is a question of the personality of the two candidates, Mr. Morris has a certain advantage in being a man of the place, though this may be partially offset by the fact that Mr. Fisher is a seasoned campaigner and is a better platform speaker.

A comic element is introduced by the "white-plumed" Liberal leader who affects to be afraid of Conservative corruption in the constituency.

WHERE OUR PEOPLE WERE BORN.

Seventy-eight per cent. of the people living in Canada when the last census was taken were born in this country. People born in the United Kingdom or British possessions outside of Canada made up 11 1-2 per cent of our total population in the census year.

Quebec stands first among the Provinces in the percentages of native born within its borders. Of the people living in Quebec 98.28 per cent. were born there.

Saskatchewan ranks lowest with only 41 per cent. of her people native born and Alberta comes next to the bottom with 45 1-2 per cent.

The outstanding fact of all these birth statistics is that eight out of ten of our people first saw the light within the Dominion's far-flung borders.

A POOR ARGUMENT.

Speaking at St. John in an effort to fasten the blame for money stringency on the Conservative party, Sir Wilfrid asked his hearers whether the country was as prosperous today as it was two years ago.

Of course, everyone knows the cause of the present slight abatement in business. It is the tightness of the money market. This has clogged the wheels of legitimate enterprise, which is unfortunate, and checked irrational speculation, which is a blessing.

One or two questions: What has the present Dominion Government done to tighten the money market—not only in Canada but everywhere else? Did it cause the Balkan war? What has it done to increase the cost of living? So far as the tariff is concerned, it is precisely as Sir Wilfrid left it.

In some parts of Canada, there is very little perceptible business depression. We are faring better on the whole than most other countries. And, so far as we are affected, the lull will be of very short duration.

"RITUAL MURDER."

Yesterday's despatches inform us of the beginning of the trial of Mendel Beilisa for "ritual murder." For years the civilized world has been horrified by the atrocities which have been committed against Jews in Russia.

The Russian government has always been hostile to its Jewish subjects and it has often been stated that these troubles have been fomented by it. It is stated that paid agents circulate reports of Jewish conspiracies in order to provoke the anger of the Gentile population and that attempts are made to excite the Jews to retaliation.

To the mob "ritual murder" means the murder of a Gentile boy by Hebrews for the purpose of religious ceremonial. The Jewish Feast of the Passover takes place in April. On the occasion of the feast blood was smeared on every doorstep as a sign to the Destroying Angel to pass.

These charges of ritual murder have always been denied by the Jews; in fact it is stated that blood is no longer used in the ceremonies. Outside of Russia no credence has ever been given to the accusations and the Russian Jews who come to this continent live peaceable lives and never incur any suspicion of the foul crimes with which they are charged when in Russia.

CONFIDENCE IN CANADA.

The confidence of Canadians in their country is a greater force than the huge Western crops. It is this confidence in Canada that has ever inspired the Conservative party.

It was this confidence, which Sir John A. Macdonald and his adherents felt, that built the C. P. R. from sea to sea, in spite of the timid objections of Liberals who condemned the scheme as impracticable.

It is this confidence that makes Conservatives look forward to the time when Canada shall be self-contained and self-supporting, while Liberals fear she will ever be dependent on the markets of the United States.

It is this confidence that sees Canada in the future as a homogeneous whole when West and East shall be one in the enjoyment of agricultural and manufacturing industries.

It is this confidence that will weld Canadians of every stock into one proud nation, in spite of the efforts of Liberals to foment national and racial differences.

It is this confidence that is constructing harbors, dotting the prairies with terminal elevators, driving the Hudson Bay Railroad to Fort Churchill, providing for transcontinental railroads, devoting money to agriculture and highways, attending to all the domestic needs neglected by Liberals for fifteen long years.

It is this confidence that inspires Premier Borden in his vision of the time to come when Canada shall have a voice with her sister Dominions in the councils of the Empire, a voice which Liberals hold she can never obtain.

It is the confidence of Conservatives in Canada that has distinguished their two years of office: it is the confidence of Canada in the Conservatives that will keep them in power.

Comment of The Press

This is the season of the college rowdy. Under some decent measure of restraint during the long summer vacation, he is now returning to his "studies" and signalizes his advent with riotous indulgences. Through the summer, perhaps, the college rowdy waited on table at a resort hotel, his lawless proclivities curbed by the knowledge that the proprietor would not tolerate British suffragette tactics in the presence of his guests.

THIS FINE OLD GENTLEMAN ANSWERED 187 LETTERS IN REGARD TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

People In All Parts of Canada Wanted To Know More About These Wonderful Tablets Made From Fruit Juices.

N. JOUBERT, Esq

"I heartily recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to all who suffer from Constipation and the painful consequences... I am now over 74 years old and suffered for over 20 years with Constipation and Piles.

My wife was troubled for three years with Asthma and Eczema on the hands, which made her hands almost useless. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, none of which had any effect.

N. JOUBERT, Grande Jigne, P. Q.

Whether it was the fine, honest, straightforward face that inspired confidence or the simple language, which rang true as a silver bell, that made so many people think over this letter, is hard to say.

LEVIS BD. OF TRADE MAKES ANNUAL TRIP

STUDY IMPROVEMENTS TO PORT FROM GOVERNMENT STEAMER MONTMAGNY.

The Levis Board of Trade made its annual tour of inspection of the Harbor of Quebec yesterday afternoon, to observe the progress made in improvements of the port during the past summer and gain information that would guide the members of the board in their future deliberations during the coming winter months.

Some 50 members of the Levis Board of Trade with their ladies embarked on board the Government SS. Montmagny at the Government deep water wharf, Levis, yesterday to go on the tour of inspection, and among the leading members of the board were Mr. A. Gravel, president, who is also a member of the Quebec Harbor Commission; Mr. Edouard Perreault, vice president, and Mr. P. J. Roy, secretary; Dr. Roy, T. Arsenault and other members of the Council, as well as leading merchants of Levis, in all some 150 persons.

The SS. Montmagny first proceeded down the river, when the site for the new dry dock at St. Joseph de Levis was pointed out by the president, and the work of construction of the crib-work for the Quebec Harbor Commission next observed. After proceeding as far as St. Laurent the steamer returned up the river and following the north shore the work in progress in the vicinity of the Louise docks, Lampon Cove were inspected, and subsequently the work in progress on the Quebec Bridge, and finally a visit was paid to the Quebec Harbor Commission's stone quarry at St. Nicholas, where a number of lighters were berthed receiving cargoes of stone to be used for filling in purposes in connection with the harbor work.

President Gravel proved an instructive guide on the trip, and pointed out on the route to the members of the Levis board the work done by the Quebec Harbor Commission during the short period it was in office to carry out the plans for the development of the harbor, which was to benefit the citizens of Levis, as well as Quebec city. He showed, as the steamer proceeded, the difficulties the commission had to overcome in its initiatory work and said that up to date the Quebec Harbor Commission had expended the sum of $2,000,000 out of the $3,500,000 voted by the Government, and calculated to expend the balance of the subsidy before the close of the fiscal year on work and plant with good results.

Elucidating the amount of work done during the summer by the commission, Mr. Gravel said the dredges engaged at the work of deepening River St. Charles had succeeded in dredging nearly 3,000,000 cubic yards of material from the river bed during the summer to date, and would no doubt dredge a large quantity between now and the close of navigation. This material was loaded into scows and conveyed up the river to Lampon's Cove and there dumped behind the retaining wall to fill in and make land, that later would be utilized as a car yard for the Transcontinental Railway and its car ferry connection. The commission, besides the large plant it had acquired during the summer, including four travelling cranes and three locomotives, etc., had ordered two of the very latest dredges at a cost of $400,000, which were now on their way across the ocean from Germany, besides the ordering of steel scows and the building of six more during the coming winter by the commission—three at Quebec and three at Levis—that would furnish work for residents of both sides of the river.

The trip was very instructive and greatly appreciated by the members of the Levis Board of Trade, and besides the business side of the outing the ladies of the party seemed to enjoy themselves, especially as the weather was all to be desired, and they were also looked after by the steward of the Montmagny and his assistants, who served coffee and refreshments during the afternoon.

Short Sketch of Levis Board of Trade.

The Levis Board of Trade was founded in the year 1867, through the efforts of Mr. Jacques Jobin, who is still living and 93 years of age. The act of incorporation was passed by the Federal Government in the first year after the Dominion Confederation, and is one of the only three such charters ever given by the Federal Government, the other two were the cities of Quebec and Montreal, all other charters since granted have been given under a general law subsequently adopted by the Canadian Parliament.

The membership of the Levis Board were equally divided at the time of its organization among the English and French speaking residents of Levis, and it was, in consequence, arranged to meet these conditions by the election of an English and French speaking president alternately. The late Mr. Samuel Bennett was the first president elected, and he was succeeded by Mr. Julian Chabot, former manager Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co., still living, aged 81 years. The late Mr. G. H. Simmons was the third president elected, who was succeeded by Mr. J. B. Michaud, a well-known Levis merchant, and his successors were the following: L. E. Couture, T. Paradis, late Domise Laine, G. A. Mercier, C. H. Carrier, Eliame Dussault, Claphas Cloutier and the present incumbent, Mr. A. Gravel, who is serving his second term of office.

The Levis Board of Trade has ever been watchful of the commercial interests of Levis, and has contributed largely to the progress of South Quebec. Its members have always been looked up to as men of honor and bus-

OPERA REPERTOIRE FOR QUEBEC WEEK

The opera season of 1913-14 with the National Opera Company of Canada, and the many new stars of international fame, will open its week's engagement at the Auditorium, on Monday, January 19th, under the local management of M. Paquet.

Max. Rabinoff, Esq., managing director of the National Opera Company has just announced through his personal representative, Mr. E. C. Edson, that the repertoire for Quebec will be made up of the big successes of the Montreal season and the choice of operas will be left to the discretion of Mr. Paquet, and a majority of the regular subscribers.

In laying out the initial repertoire for Montreal Mr. Rabinoff states that he has endeavored to vary it as widely as possible, in order to please opera lovers of all tastes and preferences, but that the repertoire for Quebec will be chosen by the regular subscribers from among the operas which prove to be the most successful during the season of eight weeks in Montreal, beginning Monday, November 17th.

The entire list of operas to be given in Montreal by the National Opera Company, is as follows: In French—Saint Saen's Samson et Dalila; Charpentier's Louise; Massenet's Thais, Herodiade, and La Navarraise; Bizet's Carmen, and Puccini's La Boheme.

In Italian—Ponchielli's La Gioconda; Verdi's Otello; Puccini's Madame Butterfly, and La Tosca; Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana; Leoncavallo's I Pagliacci and Wolf-Ferrari's Le Segreto Di Suzanna.

In German—Wagner's Lohengrin. The opera will be given regardless of effort and financial expense, is seen by announcement that arrangements have been made with the Metropolitan Opera House for the loan of several visiting artists, and the assurance already that the National Opera Company of Canada will have Leo Slezak, the great opera tenor; Edmond Rosely, for three years first baritone of the Paris Opera, Gerville Reache, the greatest of all contraltos, Marie Rappold, Luisa Villani, Helen Stanley, Ada Casutto, Rosa Olitzka, Marie Claessens, Louise Edvina, Giovanni Farmo, Leon Lafitte, Max Salzinghoff, Jose Segura-Tellieu, Giovanni Martino, Ethel Gilmore, premiere danseuse, and many other artists, with distinguished international reputation.

With the return of Agide Jacchia as conductor, and the announcement that he will be assisted by Alexander Savine, and Adolf Schmid, the artistic triumph of the coming opera season would seem assured. Indeed it would seem that the National Opera Company promises to take rank next to this continent is concerned. At all events, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago are now going to find a formidable competitor in Montreal and Quebec so far as music is concerned.

GOOD BLOOD THE SECRET OF HEALTH

To be Healthy You Must Keep the Blood Rich, Red and Pure

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful in any disease caused by thin or impure blood, and the list of such diseases is astonishingly large. Anemia literally means a condition in which the blood is thin and watery. Chlorosis is a form of anaemia most common to growing girls. In rheumatism the blood comes thin more rapidly than in any other disease. After an attack of the grippe or acute fevers the blood is always thin and impure, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the tonic to use during convalescence. When the blood is poor and thin the stomach suffers. The food ferments, gas and certain acids form and the trouble is pronounced indigestion or dyspepsia. The nerves receive from the blood all of their nourishment to keep up their energy and repair waste or damage. Some forms of paralysis are caused by thin blood. The progress of locomotor ataxia is stopped in many cases when the blood is made pure, rich and red. This is only a partial list of the troubles having their origin in impure, watery blood, and all can be cured by supplying the blood with its missing constituents.

This is exactly what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. Their chief mission is to make rich, red blood, and this good blood reaches every organ and every nerve in the human body, thus driving out disease and bringing renewed health and strength to thousands of weak, despondent people. Ask your neighbors. There is not an inhabited corner in Canada where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not restored some sufferer, and all over this country there are grateful people who do not hesitate to say they owe their health—in some cases life itself—to this great medicine. If you are ailing begin to cure yourself today by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Sold by all dealers in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. From The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. fashion that they will afterwards serve as models for the whole of Germany. In addition to Herr Reinhardt's Deutsches Theatre three other Berlin houses will devote considerable attention to Shakespeare during the coming autumn and winter.

A rental of $5.00 per square mile, per annum is charged on all timber lands excepting those situated west of Yale in the Province of British Columbia on which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre. In addition to rental, dues are charged on the timber cut at the rates set out in section 20 of the regulations.

TIMBER PERMITS AND DUES. Permits may be granted in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, to owners of portable saw mills, to cut over a definitely described tract of land not exceeding one square mile in extent, on payment of dues at the rate of $0c. per thousand feet, B.M., and of a fee at the rate of $100.00 per square mile for each permit.

TIMBER FOR HOMESTEADERS. Any occupant of a homestead quarter-section having no timber of his own suitable for the purpose may, provided he has not previously been granted free allowance of timber, obtain a free permit to cut the quantity of building and fencing timber set out in Section 30 of the Regulations.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS. Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made to any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties.—Six months' residence upon cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

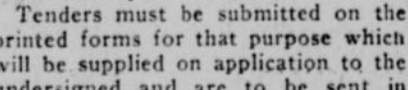

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties.—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry, including the time required to obtain homestead patent and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homesteading right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchase homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE

Call For Tenders for Steamship Service Between Quebec and Natashquan.

TENDERS for a Passenger, Freight and Mail Steamship Service are invited and will be received at the Office of the Minister of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, until noon of the Fifteenth day of December, 1913.

Tenders must be submitted on the printed forms for that purpose which will be supplied on application to the undersigned and are to be sent in sealed envelopes addressed to "The Hon. the Minister of Trade and Commerce," and are to be marked "Tenders for Steamship Service between Quebec and Natashquan," and if submitted through the post should be registered.

The service is to consist of regular sailings from Quebec to Natashquan and return as follows: Every ten days from such date as the ice conditions in the River St. Lawrence will permit up to May 15th; every 7 days from May 15th to November 15th; and every 10 days from November 15th until ice conditions in the River St. Lawrence will no longer permit of the running of a steamer over the said route.

The Ports of Call each way shall be as follows: Les Escoumins, Manicouagan, Godbout, Point Des Monts, Trinity Bay, Seven Islands, Moisie, Sheldrake, Thunder River, Magpie, River St. John, Long Point, Mingan and Esquimaux Point, or such reasonable modification or variation thereof as may be determined from time to time by the Minister.

The contractor is to be for a period of five years from the opening of navigation as above described in the year 1914.

The contractor is to land and embark mails at all Ports of Call at his own cost and expense.

The tenders shall be subject to such conditions as are incidental to all similar contracts.

The Minister does not bind himself to accept the lowest or any tender. F. C. T. O'HARA, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Ottawa, October 6th, 1913. Note.—The insertion of this advertisement without authority will not be paid for.—48730. Oct.9x3

CITY OF QUEBEC. October 1st, 1913. Public Notice Re Snow Guards.

The attention of the public is called to clauses 4 and 5 of By-law No. 23 concerning the lighting of certain portions of the city, which read as follows:

4. When the apparatus for the said lighting shall be placed in certain places where they may be exposed to damage through the fall of ice or snow coming from the roofs of buildings, the proprietor of said building shall place on the edge of the roof of said building a snow fender or an appropriate and convenient protection bar to prevent the fall on the said lighting apparatus of any snow or ice or objects of a similar nature to damage the said lighting apparatus.

5. If the owner of a building in this city omits or neglects to place on the edge of the roof of his building a snow fender sufficient to prevent the fall on the said electric lighting apparatus of snow or ice or other objects liable to damage the said lighting apparatus, such proprietor shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty dollars, and in default of payment of the said fine and costs, to an imprisonment for a space of time not exceeding two months.

I have the honor to request proprietors opposite whose property ornamental poles have been erected to kindly have the snow guard above referred to erected immediately. W. D. BAILLAIGE, City Engineer.

REV. MR. THOMPSON HAS PASSED AWAY

DECEASED CLERGYMAN HAD LABORED MANY YEARS IN THIS DIOCESE.
The friends of the Rev. I. M. Thompson, and they are numerous, will learn with profound regret of his death, which occurred at his residence, Montcalmville, last evening. The reverend gentleman had been in feeble health for some time, and his demise was not altogether unexpected by his close friends. In the passing away of the Rev. Mr. Thompson, the Anglican community in this diocese of Quebec has lost one of its best known, oldest, and beloved clergymen. Possessed of a gentle and most kindly disposition he won the esteem and respect of all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, whether as a pastor or an acquaintance, and it will be long before his memory will fade from the minds of those by whom he was best known.
The late Mr. Thompson was born in the village of Leeds, Megantic, seventy-seven years ago. In early life he went into business, but abandoned it to study for the ministry, and was ordained at the age of thirty-three years. He began his ministerial duty at Melbourne, 44 years ago, as assistant to the late Archdeacon Roe, Rector of Richmond and Melbourne. He resigned to become Missioner for the diocese. He later was appointed rector of Waterville, Danville and Levis. For some years he was rector of Trinity Church in this city. For the past few years he has been retired on a pension, and has been chaplain to the local order of Odd Fellows. He leaves a grown up family to mourn their loss, and to whom sincere sympathy will be extended in their sad bereavement.

ENGLISH MEMBER INSPECTS HARBOR

MR. J. NORTON GRIFFITHS SURPRISED AT DEVELOPMENT SINCE HIS LAST VISIT.
Captain J. Norton Griffiths, M.P. for Wednesbury, Staffordshire, Eng., who served as captain and adjutant on Lord Roberts' staff in the South African war and is now a member of the contracting firm of Norton Griffiths & Co., who are interested in a contract for the development of the port of St. John, N.B., arrived in Quebec from England yesterday morning by the Empress of Ireland, and in the afternoon proceeded to Ottawa.
Yesterday forenoon Capt. Griffiths, in company with Lt.-Col. D. Watson, managing director of the Chronicle, made a tour of the city to observe the improvements in progress for the development of the city and port of Quebec. They drove over the city in an auto car, and afterward proceeded to the Louise docks, where they were joined by St. George Boswell, Chief Engineer and General Manager of the Quebec Harbor Commission, who escorted the visitor over the Louise docks, pointing out the entire work done during the past summer, including the new grain elevator.
Capt. Norton was deeply interested in the new grain elevator building in course of construction by the Canadian Stewart Co., Ltd., for the Harbor Commission, and made a minute inspection of the entire premises, expressing great surprise when told that the foundation for the work was only commenced in April last.
He next inspected the dredging plant in operation for the deepening of the St. Charles river, and was given all the information he desired in regard to this special work by the superintendent of the dredging, Mr. Forrest.
The work of building the new bulkhead pier, and other buildings that were erected on the Louise docks, were also inspected, as well as the work done during the summer along the river St. Lawrence frontage, including the new freight sheds, etc. at the foot of St. Paul street and the work in progress at Lampon's Cove in connection with the retaining wall, etc.
Mr. St. George Boswell, C.E., also explained the plans drawn for the work of the development of the port, etc.
Capt. Griffiths said he was amazed at the amount of work that had been accomplished in so short a time by the Quebec Harbor Commission, which demonstrated the great energetic enterprise of the Commission, and the efficiency of their engineering staff, and superintendent of instruction.

METHODIST CHURCH.

In the absence of the Pastor, the Reverend Dr. Amaron will conduct the morning service in this Church tomorrow, and in the evening Dr. Ashley Lindsay will occupy the pulpit. A cordial invitation is extended for both services, 11 a.m., and 7 p.m.

GRAND OPERA AND CONCERT TODAY.

A glance at the reports of the Montreal press on the performance given at the Princess Theatre by the Pini-Corsi Company of the opera "Il Maestro di Cappella," and miscellaneous program, is enough to convince every local theatre lover that we have in store for today's matinee and evening one of the finest musical attractions that it has yet been our good lot to hear. Pini-Corsi and his distinguished associates from New York's great temple of art, the Metropolitan Opera House, give a full production of the charming little opera.

WILL BE THE GEM OF THE SEASON

Concert Organized by the St. Agnes Musical and Dramatic Club Will Be Held On Oct. 20.
A grand concert, which promises to be the gem of the season, is being organized by St. Agnes Musical and Dramatic Club, in aid of the orphans and aged of St. Bridget's Home. Some of Quebec's leading vocal and instrumental artists have promised their assistance and as the dramatic abilities of the club are already well known, a treat is in store for all who attend. Columbus Hall, Grande Allee, has been reserved and the date fixed is Monday, Oct. 20. Tickets 50c and 35c, are now on sale, and seats may be reserved at Mr. P. J. Evoy's, stationer, 141 St. John street.

MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES RAID HARLEY STREET.

London, October 10.—The doctors of London have been made the first victims of the vengeance of the militant suffragettes whose anger has been aroused by the decision of the Home Secretary, Reginald McKenna, to resume the forcible feeding of their sisters who start hunger strikes when convicted of outrages.
A band of women today raided Harley street, in the West End of London, which is almost entirely occupied by the offices of specialists. The women smashed windows right and left all along the street.
The secretary of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant organization, says today's attack on this medical centre is merely a commencement of the women's protest against the revival of the torture of forcible feeding.

A MUCH RESPECTED CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

There passed away at St. Bridget's Home yesterday, in the person of Mr. John O'Doherty, a former well known and highly respected farmer of the county of Quebec. Sixty-five years ago, when a child, deceased was brought from the county Donegal, Ireland, by his parents to Quebec, where the family settled on the Little River Road. Here he lived up to a few years ago, being held in high esteem by his friends and neighbors. But his health not being robust he retired from active labor to spend his declining days in the quiet of St. Bridget's Home, where he peaceably passed away. He leaves to mourn his loss two sons, F. L. O'Doherty, residing in Montreal, and James, in this city, as well as one sister, Mrs. Widow Nicholas Haberlin, also of this city, all of whom will receive the sympathy of numerous friends.

YOU'D BETTER NOT CLEAN HOUSE.

Don't you know you might just as well not clean house at all as to put down carpets that are only half cleaned. (that is hand cleaned carpets), or to leave the windows dirty. You would be doing a whole lot of hard work for naught. Well cleaned carpets and nicely polished windows lessen the amount of housework wonderfully. Let us show you what a well cleaned carpet or a nicely polished window is. We clean your carpets in our factory as well as in your own house at very reasonable rates. Give us a trial.

EDUCATE FARMERS TO IMPROVE STOCK

PRESIDENT OF CANADIAN BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION TELLS OF WORK DONE.

Hon. N. Garneau, M. L. C., President Canadian Breeders' Association, has returned from the sale of live stock that took place at the C. P. R. Abattoirs in Montreal on Thursday last, which was a splendid success.
Hon. Mr. Garneau, speaking of the Canadian Breeders' Association yesterday to a Chronicle representative, said:
"The Association was founded 19 years ago and at the present has a membership of 500 prominent Canadian Agriculturists. The main object of the Association is to promote thoroughbred live stock in the Province of Quebec, and encourage our farmers to take an interest in the raising of cattle.
"We have the assistance of both the Federal and Provincial Governments. The farmer pays the expense of transportation of cattle to the annual sale ground, and the latter meets the deficits of the Association should there be any.
"It is not a money making Association by any means. All the members devote their time without any expectation of emolument and have to bear their own personal expenses. What we desire is to have our farmers become true farmers in every sense of the meaning, and to encourage them in breeding live stock, as well as other branches of farm industry.
"We have experienced men to attend all Canadian fairs and purchase thoroughbred live stock for breeding purposes, and every year we have an auction sale, where we dispose of sheep, hogs and cattle, and every part of this live stock is thoroughly examined by veterinary experts, and watched in order to see that they are free from tuberculosis, before being offered for sale to the farming public.
"This year we hold two sales, one at Montreal, which took place at the C. P. R. Abattoirs in Montreal, and the second to be held at the exhibition grounds in Quebec on Wednesday next. The sale in Montreal was a success, and we disposed of 100 prime sheep, 40 pigs and 70 head of cattle, every one of which is for breeding purposes, and appreciated as such.
"The time has come when the Quebec farmer should and must take an interest in the raising of live stock. The great scarcity in the market is to say the least alarming, and now that the new American tariff is in force that permits our cattle to enter the American market free, we must realize the great necessity of being able to supply our own Canadian market.
"It was surprising to see the heavy consignments of cattle that sought room in the C. P. R. Abattoirs last week. Cattle that was brought there by our farmers to be shipped to the United States, and makes it imperative that our Quebec farmers should pay more attention to the raising of cattle, and the press of the province would only be doing its duty by pointing out this fact, and devote more space to the interests of agriculture.

POLICE COURT.

Cases of Selling Liquor Without a License Are Disposed Of.
Hon. Judge C. Langelier presided over the Police Court yesterday, when several revenue cases were up for a hearing.
Thomas Zuccaria, of St. Nicholas street, pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling liquor without a license, and the case proceeded with and dismissed for want of sufficient evidence for conviction.
Auguste Paradis, who resides at the Chaudiere, pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license, and was condemned to a fine of $50 and costs, in all $79.40.
Joseph Roberge, who keeps a place in the vicinity of Champlain Market, for the same offence, was condemned to pay $100 and costs, the latter amounting to $24.30.
Joseph Beaubien of Lake Beauport, was also called upon to pay a fine of $100 and costs, the latter $19.30, for the same offence.

One Victory Stands Between Athletics and Pennant

DESPERATE RALLY ALMOST AVERTED DEFEAT OF GIANTS

McGraw's Men Changed Complexion of Game in Seventh and Eighth When Merkle Started Batting Bee--Score Was 6 to 5--Demaree Driven From Box--Pinch Hitters Fail in Ninth When Bender Rises To Occasion

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—But one victory stands between the Philadelphia Athletics and the world's championship in baseball tonight, for the Mackmen defeated the New York York Giants at Shibe Park this afternoon by a score of 6 to 5 in the fourth game of the titular series.

Herzog, who had not made a hit in the series to date, opened the eighth with a single, only to be forced by Doyle, who was similarly eliminated by Fletcher. Burns came through with a double down the third base line, scoring Fletcher and Shafer shot a triple past first, tallying Burns. Murray smashed a scorching drive at Collins but the Columbia boy managed to hold the ball until he could steady himself and throw the runner out at first for the third out.

A Narrow Escape. It was the narrowest kind of an escape and but for the equally heavy hitting of the Athletics in the forepart of the game, and some brilliant displays of defensive activities the Giants would now be on even terms with the Philadelphiaans instead of trailing two games in the rear of the American Leaguers.

GAME WON IN FOURTH.

Demaree received a warm welcome at the start but it was not until the second inning that the first Athletic crossed the plate. McInnis opened with a Texas Leaguer that Snodgrass could not quite reach. Strunk sacrificed and Barry's double scored McInnis. The big blow came in the fourth. With one out Strunk knocked Herzog over with a smashing single and Barry put him on third with another, taking second on Shafer's throw to third. Schang followed with a vicious liner past Doyle, scoring Strunk and Barry. He went to second on the throw to the plate and to third a moment later on McLean's passed ball. Schang scored when Merkle fumbled Bender's grounder.

How Giants Sized Up. All the circumstances point in the opposite direction, however, for the Mackmen, with a record of three victories out of four games, are now well versed in the ability and resources of the Giants. When they drove Demaree from the box at the end of the fourth inning after four runs had been scored from his delivery it marked the passing of every New York pitcher except the veteran Christy Mathewson. In four games Marquard, Crandall, Tesreau and Demaree have all fallen before the terrific hitting of the heavy batting Athletics.

Bender at Top of Form. Barry made three hits in four times at bat, two of them being doubles. Schang did even greater execution, getting two hits and two bases on balls in four times up. His hits scored four runs and he crossed the plate himself with another. Oldring, who has made a safe hit the first time up in every game of the series, earned the honor of the longest hit made by the Athletics today, when he tripled in the opening inning on the first ball that Demaree served up. It was not alone by batting that the Athletics won, however, for both their fielding and Bender's clever pitching were factors that helped to bring victory. The Indian twirler was at the top of his form, except in the seventh and eighth innings, being steady and having absolute control of his breaks and curves. He gave but one base on balls and hit one batter. The Giants garnered but two hits off his delivery until the seventh and their sum total was eight, while he fanned five as a sort of retaliation.

Bender was in trouble in the fifth inning when he walked Murray and McLean singled. McGraw sent Cooper in to run for McLean and McCormick to bat in place of Demaree, who was already marked for the bench. McCormick promptly lifted a humming liner over Barry's head that was labelled a hit. Oldring came in sprinting at top speed and with a long low dive scooped the ball off the grass to pass for as spectacular a catch as has been witnessed in many a month. With two out McGraw ordered Cooper to try for second, but Schang shot the ball to Collins like a rifle bullet and Cooper, fast runner that he is, was out by five feet. It was but another demonstration of the heights to which the Athletics can rise when occasion demands.

Giants Used Sixteen. For the Giants Burns made two hits—one a double, while Larry McLean singled twice in two times at bat. The New York club used sixteen players against the Athletics' nine and had four left on the bases to the Mackmen's seven. Demaree was not much of a problem to the American League champions, who secured seven hits in four innings, but Marquard, after his weak opening in the fifth, tightened up and pitched high class ball, the Athletics going out in rapid fire order.

The game was played under the most favorable weather conditions of the series to date, the sun frequently shining through rifts in the clouds and upon a field comparatively dry and fast.

At least 5,000 spectators watched the play from the house tops overlooking the park. The sun warmed the atmosphere to a point where the fans felt safe in removing coats and vests and as a consequence the dead black background was relieved by patches of white which added a touch to the scene heretofore missing.

Today's game was the last in which the players participate in the receipts. According to the unofficial figures there will be distributed among the players $135,163.89. The winners will receive sixty per cent of this total and the losers forty per cent. The National Commission announced that 25 players on each team were eligible to play in the series, therefore each man on the winning side will receive $3,244, and each member of the losing team $2,162.

The attendance today was 20,568, and the receipts $49,645. Of this the National Commission's share was $4,964.50; the players' share $26,808.30, and each club $8,936.10.

The total figures for the four days are as follows: Attendance, 114,318; receipts, $250,303.50; National Commission, $24,030.35; players, $135,163.89; each club, $45,054.63.

First Inning. Snodgrass limped slightly as he walked to the plate to open the game. Bender, who had warmed up well, lost no time in getting into action and served up a strike which Snodgrass let go by. The New York center fielder tried to connect with the next pitch and Bender had two strikes on him. Then Snodgrass raised a high foul which Baker gathered in without effort. Captain Larry Doyle was given a hand by his New York friends as he came to the bat and sent up a long high fly to Strunk. Fletcher ended the inning by grounding to Barry, who threw him out at first.

Demaree, in spite of the fact that he was starting in to pitch an important game in a world's series, did not appear nervous. His first offering to Eddie Murphy, a hard man to pitch to, was a strike that cut the plate in the middle. He was cheered by the big New York contingent. Murphy lifted the next pitch to deep right center and was out as Snodgrass made a fine catch despite his limp. Rubie Oldring, who has hit safely the first time up in all the present world's series games, cut loose again and sent a terrific drive down the right field foul line for three bases. It looked like a sure run for the Athletics with their heavy artillery coming up and the New York infield gathered about the youthful pitcher and encouraged him.

Eddie Collins came up and faced Demaree with a confident air. After getting a ball and fouling off the second pitch the second sacker chopped a grounder down to Merkle, who scooped up the ball and made a lightning throw to McLean to catch the flying Oldring. The play at the plate was close and Umpire Egan called Oldring out, at which the latter fired up and protested vigorously. Then came a daring play which upset the New York infield for a moment. While Demaree was watching McLean signaling for the next ball Collins made a dash for second base. The young pitcher instead of throwing to second shot the ball to Merkle, who made a quick throw to the middle bag, but Collins easily slid into the bag, but Collins easily slid into the bag, but Collins easily slid into the bag.

Second Inning. Burns opened the second inning for the National Leaguers by flying out to Murphy. Shafer fell a victim to strikes. Murray did not agree with Umpire Egan on some of the balls and strikes sent up by Bender, but reached first base when Bender hit him on the arm with a pitched ball. Larry McLean got his first hit of the game when he sent a slashing single to right on which Murray sprinted to third. Merkle made the New York rooters feel sad by sending up a high foul which McInnis caught right at the bench of the New York players, retiring in the side.

In the Phillies' half of the second inning Snodgrass, owing to his "charley horse" could not reach McInnis' Texas leaguer, and the runner was safe at first. Strunk laid down a sacrifice, Demaree to Merkle, advancing McInnis to second. After Merkle had dropped Barry's high foul fly, the Philadelphia shortstop shot a solid drive down the left field line for two bases on which McInnis scored. Barry complained to the umpires that Merkle interfered with him in rounding first base but the arbitrators paid no attention to it. Schang drew a base on balls and the two runners were left on the bags when Bender sent a high fly to Burns and Murphy lifted one to Snodgrass.

Third Inning. Demaree was warmly welcomed by the fans as he stepped to the plate and showed his confidence by making a free swing at the ball. He connected with it with considerable force and sent a long fly to Murphy, who had to do a little running to get it. Despite his limp Snodgrass attempted to hunt safely, but was easily out at first. Bender to McInnis. Doyle raised a fly to Strunk, ending New York's third inning.

Manager McGraw then took Snodgrass out of the game, sending Shafer to center and Herzog to third base. Oldring in his second time at bat was an easy out on his grounder, Demaree to Merkle. Collins lifted a fly to Burns and Baker went out. Doyle to Merkle.

Fourth Inning. The Giants were quickly retired in the first half of the fourth inning. Fletcher protested against Egan's calling of a strike and he and the umpire argued for a moment, the New York shortstop showing his displeasure by stepping on the plate and turning his back to Egan as the latter was talking to him. Fletcher finally met the ball and fied out to Collins. Burns went out on a high fly to Baker and Shafer struck out for the second time on one of Bender's swift inshoots.

The Athletics' big inning came in their turn at bat in the fourth. McInnis grounded out, Doyle to Merkle. Strunk crashed a hit down to Herzog, who could not field the ball in time to catch the flying center fielder. Strunk rushed to third on Barry's smash for a single to center, the latter going down to second a throw to third to head off the Philadelphia center fielder. Then Schang came through with a timely drive for one base on which both Strunk and Barry flashed across the plate. Shafer tried to catch Barry at the home base and on the throw in Schang trotted down to second. A passed ball enabled Schang to sprint to third and he scored when Merkle fumbled Bender's grounder. With three runs in and Bender on first Murphy fied out to Doyle. Oldring got his second hit of the game by singling to center on which the Indian pitcher took second. Collins chopped a short grounder in front of the plate and McLean scooped it up and threw him out.

Fifth Inning. A three run lead with Bender going good and Demaree having trouble looked very big not only to the Athletic rooters, but also to the Giants' supporters. But the New York players were not dismayed. Opening the fifth inning Murray drew a base on balls. McLean whipped a single to center on which Murray went to third. Manager McGraw here took McLean out of the game and let Cooper run for him. A quick throw by Schang nearly caught the runner off first base and he hugged it a little closer. Merkle struck out and McCormick, the pinch hitter, came to the plate to bat for Demaree. It was three and two on the big hitter when he caught one of Bender's fast ones and shot it like a bullet to short left field. Oldring was off with the crack of the bat and caught the ball a few inches off the ground while running at almost top speed. Oldring kept on running and at the same time held Murray on third and Cooper on first. It was one of the best plays of the series. With Herzog up Cooper tried to steal. Schang feinted to throw to third to drive Murray back, then quickly turned and made a swift accurate throw to Collins, who touched Cooper out coming into the bag. Murray stood at third watching the play. It was a fine piece of work on the part of Schang.

The American League champions added two more runs in their half of the inning off Marquard, who replaced Demaree. Wilson went in to catch. Baker, the first man up, struck out, and McInnis grounded out, Marquard to Merkle. Strunk got a base on balls and reached third on Barry's second two bagger to left field. The two runners were then brought home by Schang, who hit to center for a single. Bender struck out.

Sixth Inning. The Giants were quickly retired in the sixth inning. Herzog went out, Barry to McInnis. Doyle struck out and Fletcher lifted a fly to Strunk.

Neither was there anything to the Athletics' half of the inning. Murphy sent a bouncer to Doyle and was thrown out. Oldring missed a third strike and Wilson, dropping the ball, threw him out at first. Collins fied to Fletcher.

Seventh Inning. Burns opened New York's big seventh with a single, Bender batting down the ball but unable to field it. Shafer sent up a high fly to Collins. Murray shot a single into leftfield and Burns was held on second. With three balls and two strikes on him Wilson missed the third strike and was out as both Burns and Murray made a double steal. Schang threw to third but Baker could not hold the throw with Burns coming into the bag feet first. Then New York got into the game again on a hard drive by Merkle for a home run, scoring Burns and Murray ahead of him. The ball travelled fast to left center, struck the ground several feet in front of the center field bleachers and bounced into the stand. New York fans cheered frantically as they realized that their team had cut the Athletics' lead in half. Marquard ended the inning by hitting a weak grounder to Bender, who threw him out.

The Athletics swung their bats hard against Marquard's pitching in their half of the seventh but they went out

THE WAIL OF THE LONESOME NINE.

Our catchers are sick, our pitchers are lame, Our shortstop is playing a bonehead game; Our nifty third baseman, yep, second and first, Each one is now trying to play ball his worst. Our fielder in left has a corn on his toe, And the boob out in right is infernally slow; Our star center fielder we're anxious to sell, But in other respects we're going quite well. Just where we'll finish is certainly clear, For we hope to do better, far better, next year.

in order. Baker fied to Herzog. McInnis lifted a foul fly, which Herzog also gathered in and Doyle threw out Strunk at first.

Eighth Inning. There was much excitement as the top of New York's batting order came up in the eighth. Herzog opened with a single to left and was forced at second when Collins grabbed Doyle's grounder and threw to Barry. Fletcher forced Doyle at second, Bender to Barry, the Indian making a wide throw which the shortstop just managed to get. Burns hit to the extreme left field corner of the grounds for two bases and Fletcher raced home with New York's fourth run. Then the New York rooters fairly went wild when Shafer rammed a hot three base hit down to the extreme right field corner, scoring Burns with the fifth run. It was then up to Murray to send home the tying run, but all he could do was to hit a grounder to Collins and was tossed out at first.

Ninth Inning. Realizing that the Giants were dangerously near the American leaguers again went at Marquard viciously, but the left-hander held them safe. Barry sent out a long fly to Murray. Schang waited and was given a base on balls amid much cheering. Bender fied to Murray and there were groans in the stand when Murphy hit straight to Doyle, who stepped over to second forcing out Schang.

Crandall, New York's hard hitting pitcher, went in to bat for Wilson in New York's ninth and grounded out. Collins to McInnis. Merkle then came up and "Chief" Bender took his time pitching to him. Merkle made a mighty effort to get in another long hit but Murphy was under his fly for an out in deep right field. Eddie Grant was sent in to bat for Marquard. He took the limit in balls and strikes and then fouled out to Schang who caught the ball behind the plate half way to the grand stand, and the game was over.

FREE FOR ALL RACE PROVED A SURPRISE

ROSS B. DEFEATS ANVIL, THE HEAVY FAVORITE, AT LEXINGTON, KY.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 10.—The October Prize for free-for-all trotters today proved a surprise when Ross B., owned by J. H. Richford, defeated Anvil, the heavy favorite, winning the second and third heats after losing the first to the favorite. In the first heat Ross B. broke in the stretch and finished second. Near the start of the second heat Anvil broke badly and was unable to get to Ross B. in time to do better than second place. The third heat was a race on its merits between the two geldings, and Ross B. proved himself best. Colorado E., owned by George H. Estabrook, was withdrawn before the race began.

The 212 pace, unfinished Thursday, went to six heats. J. W. Wilkerson taking the fifth and Hydric, which had two heats to his credit yesterday capturing the sixth and decisive heat. Don Labor, driven by Mr. F. C. Jones, won the 208 trot, amateur driving, in straight heats and the 220 pace, also a straight heat contest, went to Great Scott, well handled by Snow. The Championship Stallion Stake was a two-horse race, only Pure Fast and Tillie Tipton starting. The latter was an easy victor in straight heats. The racing today was marked by the fast trotting mile and the slowest mile of the meeting in any class, Ross B. making the former in the second heat of the October Prize and Tillie Tipton the latter in the closing event. Summary:

CHICAGO NATIONALS LEAD.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Bert Humphries' brilliant pitching and a terrific onslaught on Jim Scott's offerings in the sixth and seventh innings today gave the Chicago Nationals the lead in the city championship series, the third game going to the Cubs 8 to 0. The American leaguers were helpless before Humphries' baffling curves and made only four hits, only one of which was entirely free from the stigma of "scratch." Only two of the Americans got as far as second base and not beyond that point. The Cub pitcher had seven strike outs to his credit. Bodie and Schalk twice being victims.

Poor fielding helped in the undoing of Scott and the general rout of the White Sox.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT ON THE NEW HAVEN

ONE KILLED AND ELEVEN INJURED, THREE PROBABLY FATALLY.

Westfield, Conn., Oct. 10.—As the result of a head-on collision on the Berlin branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad between a Middletown bound steam train and a Meriden bound electric car here at 8 o'clock tonight, Ralph A. Blydenburgh, of Middletown, city editor of the Middletown Penny Press, was instantly killed. Max Glass, Holyoke, Mass., Otto St. Arnold, Meriden and Miss Frances Florian, Rockfall, will probably die, while eight others were injured.

SINGLE LINE TRACK.

The crash occurred near the local depot. There is a single line track from this place to Middletown, which branches off at a junction here. Through a misunderstanding, of orders, the trolley left Newfield, a few miles to the east where it should have remained on a siding. The Middletown bound steam train got orders to proceed, it is said, and a few moments later the collision occurred on a straight track.

The straight train, as is the custom, was backing toward Middletown, with the engine pushing. The front of the trolley was smashed like an egg shell. Nearly every passenger on the trolley car was injured more or less. Passengers on the steam train rushed out and did what they could to assist the injured, who were taken to Middletown Hospital.

Mr. Blydenburgh, who was instantly killed, was one of the best known newspapermen in Central Connecticut. He was about fifty years of age and leaves a widow and one daughter.

QUEBEC LABOR MEN ELECTED OFFICERS

MR. LAROCHE AND J. N. RICHARD ARE VICE-PRESIDENTS OF C. F. L.

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 10.—The 1913 convention of the Canadian Federation of Labor closed its sessions here today. The Queen City has been chosen for the 1914 gathering.

The following officers were elected: President, Charles G. Pepper, Ottawa; vice-president, L. C. A. Laroche, Quebec City; secretary-treasurer, G. G. Mercure, Ottawa; vice-president for Ontario, Jabez Shaw, Toronto; for Nova Scotia, S. R. McNeil, Glace Bay, and for Quebec, J. N. Richard, Quebec City. Legislative committee: Charles G. Pepper, L. C. A. Laroche, G. G. Mercure, John Moffat, Dominion, C. B., and James Mack, Toronto.

The Weather

Toronto, October 10.—The disturbance which was over Nebraska last night is now centered near Lake Superior and decreasing in intensity. The weather has been fine and warm from the Great Lakes eastward, while rain has fallen in the Lake Superior district and in Manitoba and light snow in south-eastern Saskatchewan. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 46-54; Vancouver, 44-46; Kamloops, 36-42; Calgary, 24-46; Edmonton, 24-52; Battleford, 34-44; Qu'Appelle, 28-34; Moose Jaw, 30-42; Regina, 28-31; Winnipeg, 36-44; Port Arthur, 48-58; Parry Sound, 56-78; London, 55-80; Toronto, 57-79; Ottawa, 56-76; Kingston, 58-72; Montreal, 56-70; Quebec, 50-60; St. John, 54-62; Halifax, 56-64.

JAPANESE WANT SCALP OF CHINESE GENERAL.

Tokio, October 10.—The Foreign Office today issued a statement concerning the negotiations with China arising from the killing of Japanese subjects at Nanking in which it says that one condition imposed by Japan upon China remains unsatisfied. The statement adds that the time has not arrived to disclose its nature, but that China has given assurance that it will be complied with.

It is understood that this condition calls for the dismissal of General Chang Hsun, head of the Chinese government troops at Nanking, and that while China has agreed eventually to comply, she has postponed action for the time being owing to the inability of the central government to enforce his dismissal at the present time if it were decreed.

THE SPINELESS TYPE.

Bishop Quayle at a dinner in St. Paul was talking about that spineless type of divine who waters and flavors his doctrine to suit his wealthier parishioners. "I can imagine one of these men," said Bishop Quayle, "trying to give his flock the simple and straightforward exhortation 'Of two evils choose the lesser.'"

WHAT MAKES A COMPLEXION?

The season's programme of evening parties, social events, etc., is before you. Why not look your best? Why not ensure a good complexion? Matter of time and perseverance only if you will use Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is a skin food; and complexion is purely a matter of skin health. Zam-Buk smeared lightly over the face, each night, acts as a skin tonic. It stimulates the cells beneath the cuticle to healthy action makes the capillaries and blood vessels work, and the vigorous circulation, thus started, carries away secreted impurities. Waxy, shallow deposits are thus removed. That yellow tinge gives place to the pink of health. Isn't this wiser than relying upon talcum powder and cosmetics? Zam-Buk builds up a complexion from blood and tissue. It lasts!

ROYAL YEAST CAKES ARE USED, AND ALWAYS GIVE PERFECT SATISFACTION

At the first election that shall be held, the commissioners for seat No. 1 shall be elected for four years, and the commissioners for seat No. 2 shall be elected for two years. At the end of the second year, after the first election, the commissioners elected for two years shall have to go to re-election, but this time for four years, so that half of the board of commissioners shall be renewed every second year.

All those who are inscribed, either as proprietors or as tenants, upon the municipal list, shall be electors. Ald. Lavigneur spoke at some length in support of his motion asking that it be at least sent to the committee to study, and that body could recommend its rejection or adoption, as it saw fit.

Ald. Fiset was opposed to the question being studied by the committee at all, for he said that it might result in the Legislature imposing it on the city whether it was wanted or not. As had been the case in other matters. Ald. Pouliot thought that it would be preferable to reduce the number of wards to six and the number of aldermen to twelve, which he considered a small enough representation without salary.

The by-laws concerning the annexation of Little River and that relative to the construction of buildings were both read a first time and fixed for final reading at the next meeting of the City Council.

Three letters were read at the beginning of the meeting, from the National Central Board of Trades and Labor, one asking for the naming of a commission composed of the Chief of the Fire Brigade, a physician, a business man and a machanic, to inspect the abodes of working men to see if such were properly provided with fire protection.

The second letter was one protesting against the motion of Ald. Lavigneur, which is given above. The third communication was asking that the city name an inspector to see that the proper weight of coal was supplied by the merchants.

Mr. E. T. Nesbitt wrote asking that a street be opened between 10th Ave., and 8th Ave., in Limoilou. Mr. V. Boswell asked in a letter to the city, that the watering of the streets in the afternoon be discontinued now as it made the asphalt thoroughfares very slippery, and in consequence dangerous for horses.

On behalf of the proprietor of the Royal George Hotel, on Garden street a letter was received asking for a decrease in assessment.

SERVES 38 YEARS FOR CRIME OF ANOTHER MAN

Milan, Oct. 10.—Thirty-eight years in jail for a crime he did not commit, is the experience of Erosimus Vassollo, a Sicilian. The unfortunate man's release has come after the confession of members of the murdered man's family.

Along with three other victims who have meantime died in prison, Vassollo was condemned to hard labor for life at Palermo assizes in 1877 on a charge of murder. He had already spent two years in confinement awaiting trial; and has never since ceased protesting his innocence to deaf ears.

The confession as to the real assassin came from the family of the murdered man, and was dictated in the presence of a priest and a notary. Vassollo is now 62 years of age. He is broken in health by the harsh Italian prison regime, and can scarcely speak. The prison authorities left him to pay his own fare from Ancona back to his native Palermo. On the three days' journey thither he neither ate nor slept. He is bewildered at the transformation of Naples and Palermo. On reaching his home he finds that his wife and all his relatives, save an only son, are long since dead.

FATHER TO THE MAN.

John Purroy Mitchell, the fusionist candidate for mayor of New York, is very young, but his success as a politician has given him unusual self assurance. Apropos of this his enemies are telling a story about his boyhood.

SURPRISED TO HEAR OF OWN 'SAD' DEATH

ENGLISHMAN RETURNS FROM BUSH AFTER BEING THOUGHT DEAD AND BURIED.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 10.—After being positively identified as the remains of James Vincent Eck, son of a wealthy resident of Harrow, near London, England, a body was buried in the Roman Catholic Cemetery at Peterboro on Wednesday. Today definite proof was established that Eck is still alive, and occupies a position at the Hollinger mine at Timmins, Porcupine.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

When the tidings came from Peterboro that a farmer named Bell had identified the body of the man killed at Lakefield by an automobile as MacDonald, by which name Eck was known, relatives of two other missing men withdrew their claims, because of the fact that Bell asserted that a tattoo mark of a certain design on the arm would prove it was Eck's body. The shirt sleeve was turned up and the mark was found. When word came to St. Catharines that the body was being shipped to the medical college at Toronto, H. F. Robinson of this city and his brother-in-law, L. Singleton of Cobalt, met at Toronto after receiving word from Eck's father to bury the body in this country. They found the corpse at Peterboro and personally saw that a respectable burial was given.

Sympathy for Disappointment.

Today Mr. Robinson received the following telegram from Eck, from Timmins, Ont.: "Returned from bush today and learned of my sad death. Kindly convey sympathy with all for this disappointment, for I am still alive and far from feeling dead."

To guard against any possible hoax, Mr. Singleton, who is still visiting Mr. Robinson, sent an inquiring telegram to Manager Robbins of the Hollinger mine at Timmins, who replied confirming the fact that Eck is unquestionably alive.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO, INJURES ONE

NINE HORSES ARE BURNED TO DEATH WHEN A BARN IS STRUCK.

Minot, N. D., Oct. 10.—Two men were killed, a third was injured, and nine horses were burned to death when lightning hit a barn on John Engbreton's farm near Berthold last night. James Engbreton, aged 15, and Peter Nelson, farm laborer, were instantly killed. The farm owner was stunned, being rescued by his wife.

RED-HAIRED WOMAN TO BE FASHION FAVORITE

London, Oct. 10.—The red-haired woman will find herself the favorite of fashion this winter. The vogue of the red fox fur is assured, and it is the henna-haired woman who will wear these striking skins with the most telling effect.

According to a local fashion expert, quite a new character will be created by the red fox this season. "She will wear white clothes," he says, "with a stole and muff of red fox. Her hair will be a deep reddish brown, and her complexion will be delicately tinted to a wild rose pink. A rope of amber beads and what more gorgeous effect could be obtained?"

The fact that red hair will be the fashion was confirmed by M. Jules Scollony, court hair-dresser. "Red hair will sweep the country." "It will be the rage. With the prevailing popularity of the red fox fur henna is the one shade that will look really well this winter," he said. "Coiffures," added M. Scollony, will be worn higher and higher.

On the whole it looks as if "red head" will be quite the highest term of flattery this winter.

EMPTY STOMACHS.

Certain shocking revelations of the underpayment of girls caused Governor Sulzer of New York to say at a luncheon in Albany: "And yet these poor creatures manage to make both ends meet. But do you know how they do it?" There was an impressive pause. The governor looked about him. "How?" cried various voices. "How?"

CRIED NIGHT AND DAY.

Mrs. Adelaide Oullette, St. Bruno, Que., says: "My little boy cried night and day from stomach trouble and nothing seemed to help him till I got a box of Baby's Own Tablets. They soon made him well and happy again. I have also found them valuable at teething time." Thousands of other mothers have the same praise to offer not only for stomach trouble and teething troubles but for all the minor ills of little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Peace Coming After

The immediate rejoicings indulged in at the close of the War of 1812 by the contestants on both sides of the Atlantic are on the point of being repeated by their descendants now that a hundred years of peace have healed the wounds created by it, as well as the political antipathies that preceded it. There are still some differences of opinion in regard to the outcome of the specialised events of the campaigning and the achievements of those who took a prominent part in the struggle, which makes any writing of the story of the war far from being acceptable by all readers. The claim for victory or defeat in some of the engagements, for considerate or inconsiderate conduct on the part of those who had the directing of the campaigns, for heroism or lack of courage of the respective commanders and their men, have hardly even yet, after a hundred years of historic research, lost all traces of a literary partisan flavor. When peace was declared, the joy in the United States, in the Canadas, and in the Motherland, could not be taken as other than a blending of opinion on the apt of the invaders and invaded, tempered as it was by the memorialising of the consummation of the Treaty of Ghent by medals and congratulatory addresses. The very title of that "Treaty of Peace and Amity" stands as evidence of a shaking of hands between Great Britain and the United States, not to speak of the several striking medallions that were published under authority, namely, "Peace spreads her wings over the Atlantic shore," and "Concord between Great Britain and America"; while the motherland no less shook hands with the Canadas in presenting them with a "Medal of merit from a grateful country."

The celebration of this peace and its continuance, in the right spirit, can only emanate from a proper knowledge of the details of the war which preceded it and the friendly co-operation from the perpetuation of peace that has happily followed in its wake. The hundred years' peace at present on the point of being celebrated comes to us all as a lesson born from the foolhardiness of a family quarrel, with little or no advantage, political or commercial, to any one of the contestants. There was joy on the part of all three when it came to be known that a treaty of peace had actually been consummated. There was no trepidation over what its terms might be. As early as the spring of 1813, the Czar of Russia had expressed a willingness to help out a movement in favor of restoring peace between the militant nations. British diplomacy, however, afraid of stirring up other international difficulties than were already in hand, with Napoleon still regnant at Paris after his dismal retreat from Moscow, turned its back on the suggestion for the time being. Yet, for all that, word was carried, several months, after, when the troops in Canada were preparing to encounter the severity of another Canadian winter, to the American Government, that the British authorities were not unwilling to join in an effort to bring about a peace in terms as was said of "a perfect reciprocity not inconsistent with law and order and a just upholding of maritime rights." President Madison and his colleagues at once replied that they were quite willing to select representatives for a conference in Europe that would take up the question of bringing about immediate harmony and a continuing of friendly relations between the two nations. The place first suggested for the holding of the conference was Gottingen, in Sweden. But this was eventually set aside for the less remote City of Ghent, in the Netherlands.

At the time of the holding of the conference, Ghent was a city of about fifty thousand inhabitants. It is situated about thirty miles from Antwerp, on the Rivers Scheldt and Lys. It is a quaint-looking place, dotted over with street-connecting bridges and stream-dividing islands, rivers, and canals intersecting it from street to street. The members of the conference were John Quincy Adams, James A. Bayard, Henry Clay, Jonathan Russell, and Albert Gallatin, plenipotentiaries from the United States; and Lord Gambier, Henry Coulburn and William Adams, representing the interests of Great Britain and Canada. The conference held its meetings within the walls of the old Carthusian Convent during the autumn of 1814; but it was not until the 24th of December that a final decision was reached, to be followed up by a closing banquet of historic significance, in the Hotel de Ville, given by the citizens of Ghent to their distinguished visitors.

The story of the proceedings from day to day is full of interest. Indeed, the procedure of a friendly give-and-take, adopted during the seditious, stood as a forerunner of the policy of reciprocal forbearance that has been perpetuated in all Anglo-Saxon negotiations for the past hundred years, whenever the interests of the United Kingdom and the Republic of the United States, or of their dependencies, were thought to be in jeopardy. Within the Anglo-Saxon family circle since then the message of peace-making has happily ever been kept in evidence, irrespective of all the angry looks and scolding that may be indulged in, before and after a common ground of agreement has been reached. With the plenipotentiaries brought together in the peaceful retreat of Ghent, the causes and conditions which had brought on the war and had prolonged it needlessly, could not but be always in mind as the negotiations proceeded; but every trace of partisan bitterness was kept well in the background, as the debates in behalf of ultimate peace were persevered in from day to day.

The people of the United States had been induced to think favorably of an invasion of Canada, possibly of amplifying their own territory, as being the most direct way of protesting against the British sea-power. On the other hand, the people of Canada with full faith in Britain's prestige on land and sea, had patriotically risen up against the recalcitrancy as an injustice to them, whatever it was to those of the motherland. These two fundamental pre-dispositions had to be kept in rein by the members of the conference, as they sought a common sympathy to work out from; and that common ground or sympathy was soon reached when the rights and privileges of the Indian tribes came up for discussion, at the earlier of their meetings. Working out from that common ground, the evolution of peace-making soon had its way; and, when the day before Christmas, 1814, that evolution reached its goal, the demands of the Americans against impressment and the other evils which led to the breaking out of the war came to be given a very secondary place to the general desire for peace. Indeed, the omissions in the treaty are more striking than the concessions, there being actually no mention made in its clauses of the right of search, or the blockading of seaports, or sharing in the Canadian fisheries, or the naval guardianship of the Great Lakes. The articles of the treaty are eleven in all, and in accord with these, severally or apart:

(a) All territory, places, and possessions, taken by either party from the other, were to be immediately restored, with the exception of certain islands adjacent to the shore-lines of New Brunswick and the State of Maine, which were finally to be allocated to either country by a Commission.

(b) Public property that had changed hands during the war or while the treaty was in the way of being ratified, was not to be destroyed nor carried away; nor was private property, including slaves, to be confiscated or reclaimed except after definite legal disposal of the same.

(c) The fixing or defining of the boundary-line between Canada and the United States, by land or water, was to be entrusted to the decision of after-commissions, with an appeal to some foreign authority if necessary.

(d) The Tenth Article, as a foreword to the decree in President Lincoln's time, may be given in full as an evidence of the humane tendencies of even these earlier times: "Whereas the traffic in slaves is irreconcilable with the principles of humanity and justice, and whereas both his Britannic Majesty and the United States are desirous of continuing their efforts to promote its entire abolition, it is hereby agreed that both the contracting parties shall use their best endeavors to accomplish so desirable an object."

(e) Nor is there any slighting in the Ninth Article of the common ground first seized upon by the plenipotentiaries, one and all, as a means of getting to work on the amicably drawing-up of a treaty, with their prejudices for the moment held in abeyance, inasmuch as it is therein decreed that the rights of the Indian tribesmen shall be safeguarded, with all possessions, reservations, and privileges as were their previous to the breaking out of the war restored to them, irrespective of which side in the contest they espoused, or what inhumanities they were guilty of when under arms and military oversight.

And as the student of history examines these eleven articles of the treaty he can hardly start away from the decision that the starting of such a war was a mistake, just as the continuing of it was a losing game for both parties concerned. In a word, the Treaty of Ghent virtually left the combatants, as far as prestige and territory were concerned, where they had been at the outbreak of hostilities. Bat-

A SOUR STOMACH GAS, INDIGESTION

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN ENDS ALL STOMACH DISTRESS IN FIVE MINUTES—TIME IT!"

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomach or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too; if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or a acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

City of Quebec, To wit: District of Quebec. BY-LAW NO. 449.

TO ANNEX THE TOWN OF MONTCALM TO THE CITY OF QUEBEC.

(Drawn up in the French Language.) At a meeting of the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, held on the twenty-sixth day of September, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (1913), the following by-law was read for the first time.

It is ordained and enacted by the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, and the said Council ordains and enacts as follows, to wit:

1. After the approval of the present by-law by the majority of the municipal electors of the town of Montcalm who are proprietors, and who shall have recorded their votes on this by-law in the manner prescribed by law, and especially in accordance with section 71 of the Act 51-52 Victoria, chapter 78, it is enacted that the territory now comprised in the limits of the Town of Montcalm, shall, through the operation of the law, and in virtue of the present by-law, be annexed to the City of Quebec and shall form part thereof to all intents and purposes. The said Town of Montcalm shall then be one of the wards of the city of Quebec, and shall be known and designated as "Belvidere Ward."

The said annexation shall be effected on the following conditions, to wit:

2. The said ward shall be represented in the Council of the City of Quebec by two aldermen, in conformity to the Statute 1, George V, chapter 59, section 27, sub section 3a.

3. The first election of the two aldermen after the annexation shall take place under section 72 of the Act 51-52 Victoria, chapter 78, and shall be effected in the manner prescribed by law, by the municipal electors of the territory so annexed who possess the qualifications required by the charter of the said City for voting at the elections of such Aldermen respectively, according to a list previously prepared by the secretary-treasurer of the annexed municipality who shall transmit the same to the City Clerk after having subdivided the polling districts in accordance with article 5376 of the Revised Statutes.

4. When the said Aldermen shall have been so elected and shall be legally entitled to sit in the City Council, the secretary-treasurer of the Town of Montcalm shall hand over to the treasurer of the city all the minute books, registers, assessment or valuation rolls, archives, papers and all documents whatsoever belonging to the Corporation of the Town of Montcalm, as well as all sums of money which may be in his possession in his said capacity of secretary-treasurer, and from and after such delivery, all sums of money due and to become due to the former corporation of the Town of Montcalm shall be payable to the City Treasurer only.

5. After the election of said Aldermen, the assets and liabilities of the Town of Montcalm shall be consolidated with the assets and liabilities of the City of Quebec, and that City shall be vested with the rights and be liable for the obligations legally contracted by the Town of Montcalm.

6. From the date of the annexation to the 30th of April, 1914, no other taxes shall be levied upon the inhabitants of the new ward than those imposed by the Council of the Town of Montcalm for the fiscal year 1913-14.

7. During the ten (10) years following the 1st May, 1914, the immovables of the new Belvidere Ward on which one or more buildings are erected, shall not be valued, either as to their real value or yearly or leasing value, for an amount higher than that at which they are now entered on the valuation roll of the Town of Montcalm. Lots of land on which one or more buildings are erected within three (3) years from now, shall during the remainder of the ten years, be entered on the valuation roll at their real value.

8. During the ten years following the 1st May, 1914, the lands not divided into building lots and used solely for farming purposes, shall continue to be valued at the same rate as that for which they appear on the valuation roll of the Town of Montcalm, notwithstanding any improvements thereon, either as regards farming purposes or in connection with the houses and other buildings actually on them or those which may replace them for the same purposes, during the said ten years.

9. The buildings and lands, which are to have the privilege of a certain valuation for a certain number of years on the conditions set forth in articles 7 and 8 hereinabove, shall, during the said years, be assessed at 1/2 and 1/3 of 1% (one-half of one per cent.) for assessment on immovables, and 1/2 of 1% (one-half of one per cent.) for water rates on water and drainage, based upon the value mentioned in the valuation roll. This last mentioned tax on buildings surrounded by large tracts of land shall be imposed according to the mode actually practised in the city of Quebec, and as regards the lands upon which the water from the waterworks and drainage are not yet introduced, the water rate shall be one-eighth of one per cent. upon their value.

10. The waterworks now existing in the town of Montcalm shall, become the property of the City of Quebec, remain as separate as they are now; they shall be fed from the present sources and shall be maintained in good and effective condition and, except in case of fire, shall be thus used so long as the City will judge it convenient in the interest of the efficiency of the general service.

11. During the five years following the annexation, the City of Quebec shall spend an amount of at least two hundred and fifty thousand dollars on works of a permanent nature required in the ward, at the rate of at least one hundred thousand dollars for the first year; seventy-five thousand dollars for the second year; forty thousand dollars for the third year; twenty thousand dollars for the fourth year, and fifteen thousand dollars for the fifth year.

12. The Corporation of the City of Quebec shall introduce and maintain the water of the waterworks and shall construct and maintain sewers for drainage as well as cesspools, and put hydrants in the streets and avenues of the new ward when it shall deem the same expedient.

13. The St. Foye Road and the St. Louis Road within the limits of the new ward on the Belvidere street, the Levis Avenue in Montcalm Park, shall be paved or macadamized as needs be, provided, the waterworks and drainage systems shall have been introduced therein in a permanent manner. The other streets shall be opened, paved or macadamized as need for the same arises.

14. All the streets and avenues of the new ward shall be as well lighted as those of the other wards of the City.

15. During the first year following the annexation, a fire alarm system shall be organized like the system of the City of Quebec, and at least as perfect.

16. During the year following the annexation, the City of Quebec Corporation shall improve the fire and police services of the new ward.

17. The City of Quebec shall ask the Provincial Government to not grant any licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors within the limits of the new ward.

18. Proprietors or occupants of farming lands shall, during the ten years following the annexation, pay no taxes or licenses whatever for the live stock or moveable effects used for farming such lands, except for water rates.

19. Proprietors and occupants of farming lands shall have the right to pile and keep manure at a distance of at least one hundred (100) feet from the public roads and from all dwellings, subject however, to the general laws of hygiene of the province.

20. Carters, hackmen, bakers, milkmen, and other persons residing in the Town of Montcalm who may have obtained licenses from the City of Quebec previous to the annexation, for plying their business, trades or occupations in the said City for the current fiscal year, may obtain from the city the repayment of the amounts they have paid over and above that paid for such licenses by persons residing in the City of Quebec.

21. The City of Quebec shall regulate the construction of buildings in such a manner as to respect the by-laws of the Town of Montcalm on construction in their general dispositions, and shall not allow the construction or operation of factories, forges, shops, stores or any business or industrial establishment whatever on the St. Louis and St. Foye Roads, west of Maple Avenue, nor on Maple Avenue, nor on Belvidere Road nor on Avenue des Braves, nor in the Levis Avenue in Montcalm Park.

22. The City of Quebec shall favor and regulate the planting of trees and generally maintain and add to the typical character of a residential quarter which the new ward desires to possess.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Is hereby given that, in conformity to law, the above by-law will be read a second time, for adoption, on Friday, the third of October next, (1913).

By order, H. J. B. CHOUINARD, City Clerk.

CITY OF QUEBEC, CITY HALL.

City Clerk's Office, Quebec, October 6th, 1913. Tenders for Rubber Tires to the Fire Engine "Shand & Mason," and also for the Widening of the Rims of the Wheels.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Is hereby given that sealed tenders endorsed: Tenders for Rubber Tires," and addressed to the undersigned, will be received up to the 10th day of October instant, at four o'clock, in the afternoon, for the widening of the rims of the wheels of the "Shand & Mason" Fire Engine, and the placing thereon rubber tires.

The said tires shall have to be guaranteed for two years and inspected and accepted by the Chief of the Fire Brigade before being accepted. Said fire engine can be seen by applying at No. 5 Fire Station.

All necessary information can be had from the Chief of the Fire Brigade. The City does not bind itself to accept the lowest nor any of the tenders, and the contractor shall pay the cost of drawing up the contract and of a notarial copy for official use.

By order, (Signed) AUG. MALOIN, Secretary Fire Committee

JEALOUSY.

Jealousy, which wrecks so many marriages, is an ignoble passion, said Professor Elisha S. Payne in a recent lecture on eugenics in Canton. What is jealousy? Well, the best definition of jealousy I ever heard is this—and it's a definition that might well serve to guard us from the thing defined: "Jealousy is the suspicion of one's own inferiority."

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, October, 1813 and 1913.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Fatal Accident at the Citadel.

A terrible accident occurred at the Citadel at this time, 30 years ago, causing the death of Corporal Hunter of "A" Battery. The circumstances attending the sad affair are as follows: The deceased was with a team practising the dismounting of a gun, being on the list to compete with the B Battery team at Kingston. The team were dismounting the gun—a 32 pounder—by the side, and with one long skid only. On reaching the stage where the gun slides from the carriage on to the skid, the latter, not being bevelled off quite even with the edge of the carriage, was pushed down by it, allowing the gun to fall with it to the ground. The shock was so great that the weight upon the upper end of the skid caused the other end to fly up with a jerk in the air. It unfortunately happened just at this moment that Corporal Hunter was near the foot of the skid, placing a small piece of wood to receive the gun. The end of the skid, in flying upward, struck the deceased right under the chin, throwing him some three or four feet into the air, breaking his jawbone and dislocating his neck. The unfortunate man breathed only about ten minutes after the accident. A Military Court of Enquiry will sit upon the case today. It is thought in military circles that this sad affair may result in putting an end to the system of "go as you please" in gun shifting competitions, more especially in dispensing with one skid in the hope of saving a few seconds' time.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Extract of a Letter From Comm. Perry.

Sir: I beg your instructions respecting the wounded at the Lake Erie battle. I am satisfied, sir, that whatever steps I might take, governed by humanity, would meet your approbation. Under this impression, have taken upon myself to promise Captain Barclay, who is dangerously wounded, that he shall be landed as near as possible to Lake Ontario, and I had no doubt you would allow me to parole him. He is under the impression that nothing but leaving this part of the country will save his life. There is also a number of Canadians among the prisoners, many who have families. The exact number of the enemy's force has not been ascertained, but I have good reason to believe that it exceeded ours by nearly 100 men.

Accounts from Montreal.

It appears from the latest accounts from Montreal, that the American force from Lake Champlain, which made its appearance on the frontiers of this province, is proceeding toward Upper Canada. The whole effective male population on the south side of the river was in arms, proceeding with the greatest alacrity, to meet the invaders, and make war upon them in their own way, which we venture to predict, an enemy, if ever he enters this Province, will find to be not one of the least formidable.

The Peace Coming After

to be held at San Francisco, California, and in many other ways. Is the unanimity of joy over the celebration of that same Century of Peace, inaugurated by the Treaty of Ghent, to be as marked as was the joy that hailed the arrival of the news of the ratification of the treaty which inaugurated it? Here is what has been said by Lossing of the arrival of the news that the inauspicious war was at an end:

"The glad tidings of peace which the good ship 'Favorite' brought to New York was wholly unexpected and produced the most intense satisfaction. No one inquired what were the terms of the treaty; it was enough to know that peace had been secured. The streets were soon filled with people; and a placard, issued from one of the newspaper offices and thrown out of the window, was eagerly caught up and read by the multitude, who made the night air vocal with huzzas. Cannon thundered, bells rang, and bonfires and illuminations lighted up the city until after midnight. Expresses were sent in various directions with the glad news. Boston had the news in thirty-six hours, and Albany in twenty-four hours. The bearer of the treaty in manuscript to Washington, while Baltimore joined with Washington and Philadelphia in their rejoicings. Government stocks advanced, while trade took a leap forward. There was joy all over the land, and especially along the Maritime frontier. Banquets and illuminations marked the public satisfaction in the towns and cities. There were also great rejoicings in the Canadas because of the deliverance of the Provinces from the terrors of invasion by which they had been disturbed for almost three years; and the British Government, appreciating the loyalty of the inhabitants of these Provinces, as manifested in their gallant defence of their territory, caused a medal to be struck in testimony of its gratitude. There was rejoicing also in Great Britain because of the peace, especially among the manufacturing and mercantile classes, for it promised returning prosperity."

And surely such joy cannot but be repeated in commemoration of the peace ushered in by it and still happily continuing. The locating of the war in its right place in the history of the world is one thing. The locating of it in Canadian or American history is quite another thing. The world's historian, even after writing a full volume about it, gives it a very secondary place in the annals of warfare. "It was a comparative small war," says Lucas, "and its incidents were to Englishmen completely overshadowed by the more glorious record of the Peninsula and Waterloo. Neither to Great Britain nor to the United States was this war of a kind to invite commemoration and remembrance, as a grateful national theme."

And yet the same writer of history is forced to say, Englishmen as he is, that to Canadians the conflict was far more than this. Neither to them nor to their belligerent neighbors was it a small war. From the first it was to Canadians a life-and-death struggle, a fight for liberty, for hearth and home, for all that a people small or great hold dear; nay, as we all may call it in these later days, it was the baptism of fire of a new nationhood at its birth. And it is that early sacrament of suffering that Canada would conjointly celebrate with the United States, under the auspices of the motherland of both peoples, as a prelude to the "god-will among men" that has fostered the staying powers of peace for the past hundred years, and has brought to us all so many international prosperities. We would celebrate the peace of a hundred years. But we would also emphasize and exalt for the benefit of the generations of the next hundred years and longer, the heroism and endurance witnessed during the years of the war, which taught the century of peace, about to be celebrated, how national aggrandisement is ever easier of accomplishment by a natural forbearance than by a rushing to arms. The craving for peace has no less of a courage in it than the craving for war. Whenever the under-humanities of envy and hatred and false patriotism are made to keep their hands off liberty and progress, the nations are never slow to speak well of the "ways of peace," and delight to celebrate them as a victory on the battlefield. The City of Ghent, no doubt proud of having doubled its population since 1814, has ventured to "play first foot" in the celebration. London proposes to follow, in line with the capitals of the United States and Canada. From New York to San Francisco, as well as from Halifax to Vancouver, the burden of repeated joy is on the way of being taken up. Canada and the United States have attained, it may be said humorously, to the position of being on safe friendly scolding terms with each other. controversial spirit that embittered all and sundry in early times has been for long on its death-bed. Open conflict has now no status as an approaching possibility on either side of the line. Indeed, the greatest Empire and the greatest Republic of the century have only congratulations in their gift for Canada, as she proceeds to join them in celebrating what she is fond of calling her "very own war" and the hundred years of peace that has so happily come after.

The above article is taken from the October number of the Canadian Magazine, whose editor Mr. Newton MacTavish, writes of in the Literary Table Talk of that popular and well conducted monthly in such terms as these: "The admirable historical essay entitled 'The Peace Coming After' is to appear as one of the chapters of Dr. J. M. Harper's forthcoming volume on the 'Annals of the War,' which is to be published simultaneously in London and Toronto by the Musson Book Company, in commemoration of the Century of Peace that is in process of being celebrated all over the Anglo-Saxon world. The said book is to form an additional volume to Dr. Harper's 'Series of Studies in Verse and Prose.'"

A DEALER IN OCEANS.

"Yes," said the old salt, taking a fresh chew, "I make a livin' by sellin' sea water. I sell it not only to sojourners here to Nahant, but I sell it to folks in Bosting and Noo York and Philadelphia."

"Everybody believes in the virtues of sea water, and the sea water trade has improved tremendously ever since the doctors took to injectin' the stuff inter the blood, for that's a proof, a fine proof, of sea water's power. "Some of my customers drinks it. Most of 'em bathes in it. They're all crochety and partickler. Some must have only the water from the incomin' mornin' tide. Others'll only have it drawn with the sun a-shinin' on it. Others still want it scooped from certain hollows, where they think there's more iodine or salt in it."

NAZIMOVA IN THE ROLE OF BELLA DONNA.

This is the Part the Great Russian Actress Will Play at the Auditorium Monday, October 20th.

William Makepeace Thackeray has said: "There are ladies, who may be called men's women, being welcomed entirely by all the gentlemen, and cut or slighted by all their wives." This is particularly applicable to the character of "Mrs. Chepstow," in Robert Hichens' famous novel, Bella Donna, that has been dramatized by James Bernard Fagan, and is being presented by the distinguished Russian actress, Madame Nazimova the present season. This is the second year of the play; last year it was the big sensation of the season. Nazimova is seen at her best in the name part, and it is also stated that a role offering her so much latitude. The story "Bella Donna" tells principally concerns an Englishwoman, "Mrs. Chepstow," who is familiarly known in London as Bella Donna and the Honorable Nigel Armine. Bella Donna is that type of woman who possess a distinct charm for all men,—the clinging woman. She is close to thirty, but gracefully acknowledges to thirty-eight.

As the story of the play begins she is visiting the office of Doctor Meyer Isaacson, a celebrated London physician. Bella Donna is by no means physically ill, but rather suffering from a disease of the mind only, the fear of growing old, for she is fighting to keep the skin-deep beauty of her youth. Incidentally, one of the principal causes of her visit to the physician is to learn how much the doctor knows of her attachment to his friend, Nigel Armine, a young idealist who has become so infatuated with her that he has offered her marriage. The doctor knowing that many men have "looked after" Mrs. Chepstow, does his best to prevent the marriage, but utterly fails, for in the second act Bella Donna and her newly-made husband have located in a villa near Luxor, on the banks of the Nile. During an enforced absence of her husband, Bella Donna, has met and began an intrigue with a rich Turco-Egyptian, Mahmoud Baroudi. One of Bella Donna's principal reasons for marrying Armine was the fact that he was the heir apparent to a title and great estate, but almost immediately after their arrival in Egypt, his chances have vanished and his wife's love as well.

And so, hopelessly in despair, deserted by her husband and her lover, she wanders out into the night alone. There are four acts in the play and the production that Charles Frohman has made is said to be a very elaborate one. Supporting Nazimova are Charles Bryant, Herbert Percy, Robert Whitworth, and in fact, her original New York cast in its entirety. Charles Frohman presents Nazimova at the Auditorium, October 20th.

SADDER STILL.

Discussing a recent political scandal in which an official was accused of dishonesty, Richard Harding Davis, lunching with a number of theatrical stars at a fashionable roof garden in New York, said with a sigh: "He is a man I would have thought incapable of baseness. It is sad to think that every man has his price." "Yes," said a comedian, "but a sadder fact still is that half the time he can't get it."

MIXED MARRIAGES

Couple Separate a Day After the Wedding.

London, Oct. 10.—As the result of a mixed marriage a charge of bigamy was on Monday at Croydon preferred against James Samuel Williams, 38, of Malvern Road, Thornton Heath. At a previous hearing Maria Owen, with whom Williams lived, up to August last, told how she came to Thornton Heath and found him living with his wife.

Mrs. Kathleen Gregory, of York Terrace, Kingstown, Dublin, said she was present at Christ Church, Kingstown, Dublin, on May 21, 1900, when Williams was married to Sarah Ann Ryan, her sister. After the separation Williams showed himself very anxious to get his wife back. It was entirely her sister's fault.

Williams said he was engaged to his wife in 1893. He enlisted and went to India, returning in 1900, when he married. His wife was a Roman Catholic, but he was a Protestant, and they were married in a Protestant church. The day after the marriage a misunderstanding occurred, and they separated, the cause of the trouble being a religious one.

Seven days after the wife left Kingstown, Dublin, where they were living, and later he returned to Woolwich, his leave having expired. He tried in various ways to discover the whereabouts of his wife, but was unsuccessful, and eventually he received a letter from his wife's sister, suggesting that he need not trouble any more about her, as she had gone away.

He took his discharge from the Army and went to Central Africa in the capacity of an accountant. He admitted going through a marriage ceremony with Maria Owen in 1906, but that was after having made further fruitless inquiries for his wife, and he thought she was dead.

The next he heard of his wife was in May last, when he saw her name in a paper in connection with a case in Ireland. He wrote, found that his wife was alive, and then told Maria Owen. Afterward he met his wife in London, and they agreed to live together again. She returned to him about August 21, and they lived at Thornton Heath. He had already given Maria Owen £15, and intended to make provision for her and their children.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Williams said it was entirely her fault that they separated. She did not communicate with her husband until May of this year, when she received the letter.

OFFICERS CASHIERED

His Betting Arrangement With Sergeant of the Mess.

London, Oct. 10.—There were remarkable circumstances in the charges brought at the court-martial against Second-Lieutenant Mortimer Alfred Mitchell, of the 1st Battalion Northamptonshire Regiment, and when the finding of the court-martial was promulgated at Devonport on Monday he was ordered to be cashiered.

Lieut. Mitchell was brought before a court-martial at Tidworth on September 8, accused, firstly, of making an arrangement with Sergeant C. Green, officers' mess sergeant of the battalion, to carry on betting transactions for their mutual benefit; and, secondly, with writing a letter asking the sergeant to make his mess bill "as light as possible," thereby suggesting (it was urged by the prosecution) that he should make out a false mess bill on the officer's account.

The case turned chiefly on the evidence of the former sergeant, who had reverted to private, and on the production of the letter which the lieutenant had written.

The officer emphatically denied having formed any league with Green, and with regard to the letter said he could not have written it in any other way without making accusations against the sergeant.

BOY MURDERS SEVEN PEOPLE

Only a Baby Survivor of a Household. Callous Confession.

London, Oct. 10.—In a lonely farmhouse in the village of Bias-Briac, near Nantes, a terrible tragedy was enacted on Tuesday night, a boy of fifteen named Marcel Redureau murdering no fewer than seven people.

The farmhouse was occupied by M. Mabit, his wife, his mother, aged 70, his four children and a servant girl, Marie Ducant, besides the young murderer.

As M. Mabit's front door remained closed and there were no signs of life about the place on Wednesday morning, the neighbors went into the house. In the kitchen the farmer's wife and the servant girl were found dead with their throats cut. The dead body of the farmer's mother was in a bedroom, and in another bedroom were the bodies of three of the four children. The farmer's body was discovered in the cellar. Only one child was left untouched. He was a boy of four, and was in a room which the murderer overlooked.

The local police found the murderer at his home. He at once confessed to the seven murders. "I was in an outbuilding with my master," he said. "He scolded me severely, and I replied angrily. Presently he turned his back to me and I seized the knife used for cutting vines and drew it across his throat."

"Then I saw red. I went straight into the farmhouse and cut old Mme. Mabit's throat. She screamed, her daughter-in-law and the servant came running. I killed them both. Then I went into the children's room and cut the throats of all three (the children were eight, seven, and two years). I did not see the other child, and I do not regret what I have done."

Intelligence of Redureau's arrest soon spread throughout the countryside, and on his way to the village prison he had to be protected by a large force of gendarmes from the fury of the crowd.

GERMAN DESPOTS.

Magistrate Degraded Because He Voted for a Pole.

London, Oct. 10.—Prussian military ideas of justice and the defects of the three-class electoral system are vividly illustrated in the case of Herr Knittel, a Silesian magistrate.

Knittel was acquitted a year ago on a charge of defaming certain superior officers, through whose instrumentality he has been transferred from the reserve, in which he was an officer, to the Landwehr, on the ground that in 1908 he had voted for electors belonging to the political party composed of Poles and Catholics. Since then he has tried to get his transfer cancelled by appealing to one tribunal after another, and finally to the Emperor, who, however, rejected his petition, saying that military matters had nothing to do with politics.

Knittel's appeals were in all cases couched in the strongest terms, charging his superiors with intentional lying, and one of them with being "cracked."

An appeal against acquittal was made to the Supreme Court at Leipzig, which ordered a new trial. This is now proceeding at Gleiwitz. Knittel's complaint is that he is being punished for the perfectly legal exercise of his right of voting under the constitution, while his military superiors, he says, dismissed his application on the ground that his honour was not concerned, but in reality because he had voted for a Pole, and had thus been guilty of unpatriotic conduct.

How to Make Your Hair Beautiful

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de composee), and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night and see. Get from you, druggist 2 oz. Lavona, 6 oz. Bay Rum and 1/2 dr. Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in an 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on a soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you cannot find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your scalp as tight as a vise. Dandruff will disappear and itching cease. In ten days you will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its result.

PLEASURES OF HOPE.

"Hope," said the late Mayor Gaynor at a luncheon in New York. "Hope—man is never without it."
 The mayor looked about him in his quiet, whimsical way.
 "Hope never deserts man," he said. "When a man is young he hopes to attain fame. When he's old he hopes to escape the poorhouse."

"Great Remington Victory in France"

Prefecture of the Seine contracts for the exclusive use of the recognized leader among typewriters—One of the most important typewriter contracts ever passed in Europe—Its influence felt throughout the entire continent.

ANNOUNCEMENT has just been made that the Prefecture of the Seine, which includes the Municipality of Paris, has just executed a contract which provides for the exclusive use of Remington Typewriters in all of the departments under its jurisdiction, for a period of six years from date. This contract involves the displacement of all other makes of writing machines hitherto used in these departments of the French Government service.

This contract is not merely local, applying to the Municipality of Paris; it is rather in the nature of a federal contract, for the headquarters of the French Government are located in Paris, and the Prefect of the Seine is a national government official who numbers under his jurisdiction more people than the total population of some European countries. This jurisdiction includes the Department of Education controlling some 600 institutions in 65 of which typewriting is taught.

In the several federal government buildings in Paris, 671 typewriters are used, over 150 of which are employed in the Hotel de Ville—the headquarters of the Prefect of Seine. In this great building alone, a staff of over 4500 clerks is employed.

The magnitude of the contract is most impressive. Even more so are the circumstances under which it was granted. It was preceded by a series of most exhaustive tests covering a long period of time, in which the superiority of the Remington machine over its competitors, in every requirement in typewriting service was conclusively demonstrated. This demonstration becomes more conclusive when we consider the proficiency of modern France in every department of applied mechanics. In all machines for its own use, the French Government invariably demands the best and the proficiency and skill of its engineers enable it to recognize and choose the best. It is the knowledge of this fact which made the contract a most influential one throughout all Europe. It affords new evidence of the supreme merit of the Remington typewriter which every typewriter buyer should heed.

SOME HISTORY OF WORLD'S SERIES

IT IS NOW PASSING ITS 29TH BIRTHDAY—FLAG HAS BEEN IN TEN STATES.

New York, October 9—Twenty-one times have the pennant winners of the country fought for the world's championship on the diamond.

The world's series will pass its twenty-ninth birthday, however, with the contest between the Giants and Athletics. It first came into being in New York in 1884, when Providence, winner of the National League pennant, crossed bats with the victorious Metropolitans—New York's standard-bearers—of the old American Association. There were lapses in 1891 and 1893, and a big gap from 1898 to 1902, inclusive, and still another lapse in 1904, when no games were played, but from 1884 to the present, barring these intermissions, the post-season fight for the apex of the baseball world has been an established custom.

The flag has flown in ten States during this short generation. Once it strayed west of the Mississippi river and breezed from a flagstaff in the St. Louis park of the American Association. This was in 1886, twenty-seven years ago. It stayed there but one season, came back to Detroit and never since crossed the Father of Waters.

A flag without a home, it has floated over eleven cities. Providence Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, New York, Louisville, Boston, Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburg, and Philadelphia—all have sent forth, from time to time, clubs that have fought victorious battles for the trophy. One hundred and thirty-four games have stamped these teams in various years premier baseball players of the world in no uncertain brand. Nearly three-fourths of the games have gone to the winners, although of recent years the contests have been closer than they were in the babyhood of the fight.

Ninety-seven of the 134 games have been won by the teams which captured the flag. Thirty-seven have gone to the losers. Fifteen times a National League club has won the flag; once the old American Association captured it; five times it has floated over an American League park. In fact, the American League clubs have been its keeper five times out of nine years in which the American and National League clubs have played for it. For the past three years it has breezed over an American League park.

First winners of the world championship were the Providence team, which defeated New York three successive games. The next year, 1885, the flag went to Chicago. Chicago and St. Louis fought again for the championship in 1887, and this time St. Louis triumphed. Detroit captured the flag in 1887. In 1888 it came to New York for a two-year stay. Louisville got it in 1890. Boston in 1892, and New York again in 1894. In 1895 Cleveland won it in a contest from Baltimore, but the next year the old Baltimore Orioles took it away from Cleveland to keep it for two years. The Boston Americans took it in 1903, first year of the post-season fight between National and American League pennant winners. New York regained it in 1905. The Chicago Nationals and Americans fought for it in 1906, and the White Sox won it. In 1907 and 1908 the Chicago Nationals won it easily from Detroit. Pittsburg took her place on the championship map in 1909, the Detroit team being defeated for the third consecutive time in the world's series games. For two years thereafter the Philadelphia Athletics captured it. Last year it went to the Boston Americans.

Six of the eleven cities—Providence, St. Louis, Detroit, Louisville, Cleveland and Pittsburg—have been world's champions but one season. Two—Baltimore and Philadelphia—have been champions twice; Baltimore in 1896 and 1897, and Philadelphia in 1910 and 1911. Three times the flag has floated over Boston park, in 1892, 1903 and 1913. New York and Chicago have each had it four times, the former in 1884, 1889, 1894 and 1905; the latter in 1885, 1906, 1907 and 1908.

The table which follows traces the flight of the flag from season to season over the country:

STEVENSON'S GRAVE.

Its Romantic Site, in Samoa, Atop the Forest-Clad Vaila.

No English novelist rests in a more eccentric spot than that chosen by Robert Louis Stevenson, who is buried on the summit of the forest-clad Vaila, in the island of Samoa, that genial spot in the south Pacific that the gifted writer loved so well.

The day after his death at Vailima, in 1894, his remains were carried to the top of this precipitous and picturesque peak, by sixty sturdy Samoans, who had loved and now mourned their dead chief, Tusiuta.

A party of forty had previously cut a pathway through the thick, tangled wood with knives and axes, while another party had prepared the grave. With infinite care and trouble they bore him shoulder high over the rough ground to his last long home, and there, under the starry sky, they left him to sleep forever, with the Pacific at his feet.

On either side of his tombstone is a bronze plate. One bears the words: "The Tomb of Tusiuta," while the other is inscribed with his own requiem, beginning:

"Under the wide and starry sky,
Dig the grave and let me lie."

FOOLHARDY SHOOTING

Merry Officers' Match Results in Dangerous Injuries to One.

London, Oct. 10—Ensign Foerster, belonging to the German field artillery, has been dangerously wounded in a foolhardy shooting match indulged in at the conclusion of a party given by Lieut. Tieg to celebrate his acquittal by a court-martial on a charge of having disturbed a military church service. A good deal of drink was consumed, and when the festivity was over Tieg went back to his lodging, whither he was shortly after followed by Foerster.

Three shots were heard, and when the place was entered Foerster was found seriously wounded. Tieg then tried to shoot himself, but was hindered by a neighbor. Tieg was arrested and taken in an automobile to the military prison in Metz.

The shooting of Foerster appears to have been accidental. The two officers are said to have begun a shooting match with beer-glasses for targets, and Tieg's shooting was so wild that he put three bullets into Foerster, one in the lungs, another in the liver, and a third in the thigh.

CREW OF SKELETONS.

Glasgow Ship Which Vanished 23 Years Ago, Found Near Cape Horn.

London, October 10—One of the strangest and most melancholy romances of the sea, conjuring up visions of the unknown fate of many a ship, is contained in a message from New Zealand.

Twenty-three years ago the sailing ship Marlborough, of Glasgow, vanished from human ken. She has now been discovered, says the report, in a cove near Cape Horn, with twenty-three skeletons aboard.

The crew consisted of thirty-three men, under the command of Captain Hird. With a cargo of frozen mutton and wool, they set sail from Lyttelton, New Zealand, in January, 1890.

USUALLY.

Senator Walsh of Montant, congratulated on the eloquence of a tariff speech, modestly changed the subject by describing his first speech, made in Helena.

"It was a failure, he concluded, "my first speech; but, after all, a maiden effort is usually a misg."

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

WHEN CROSS, CONSTIPATED, FEVERISH, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other syrup.

STUDY OF THE PEON A MEXICAN TOILER

COMMON LABORER IS ARDENT IN LOVEMAKING, THOUGH EARNING LITTLE.

Washington, Oct. 10.—What kind of fighting men will an army of invaders meet when it enters Mexico?

Fifty years ago a Philadelphian emigrated to the State of Nuevo Leon, just south of the Texas border.

One of the sons, now a planter, employs forty-five native hands. He grows sugar cane and corn, crushing the cane with American machinery.

"I pay my men 10 cents a day in silver, or some 23 cents a day in gold," he told the American interviewer.

"My men," he went on to say, "live in adobe huts, the roofs of which are made of palm leaves. They call me 'amos,' which means love, translated in English from Spanish.

"During the plowing, planting and harvesting seasons the day of work begins at sunrise and ends at sundown. At other times my superintendent gives every man his stint. That is the best way with Indians. When they come to the line which the superintendent has marked in the earth with his foot, they go home to their own gardens.

"They wear cotton clothing and leather sandals. Women dress in calico. They put on shoes only when they go to church on Sunday.

"The son of the farmhand goes to his father when he falls in love, and wants to marry. The father, in turn, goes to the 'amos' or planter. The planter negotiates the matter with the girl's father.

"When the answer is favorable, the young man must support the girl until the day of the wedding. He gives her family wood, corn and beans. His father borrows $30 (silver) from the planter. The money is spent for clothing and the marriage feast.

"A farm laborer may be opulent enough to own a pig, which walks in and out of his house like any other member of the family. The fool of this man is corn, principally, which is ground by his wife and daughters, after being boiled and softened in lime water. He may have goat meat once a week.

"My men and their women folk begin to dance every Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. At noon on Sunday I stop them so that they shall be ready for work Monday morning. My superintendent, armed with a sword and 44-caliber revolver is present at the function to preserve order. I have good men and they are happy and don't want to go away.

"But the United States is a better country than Mexico. I have a friend who is worth $250,000. He is afraid of banks and lends at 3 per cent a month on mortgages. Once he went to St. Louis. When he came home he said: 'I shall gamble no more (some nights he lost as much as $2,000) but shall save my money and send my children to the United States to be educated.'

"Everything is big there," he said. "The buildings are so big that you wouldn't believe me if I told you about them. The horses are big, the beefsteaks are big the women are big, and even the chickens are big. And there are trees," he said, "bigger around than my body, and every little while it rains."

Brown Flood Covers Mexico.
The planter, no doubt, would lead a company of his field hands against the invaders and his friend, the old-time gamester, might become the colonel of the regiment. Several armies of such fighters could be assembled in North and Central Mexico—armies of the plain people who sleep and eat on the earthen floor of their hovels, who are born, who live and who die on the ground.

A brown flood of ignorant and destitute men and women covers Mexico; covers its tablelands and lowlands; covers its cheerless and unwatered North and its green and jungle South.

It is this flood which keeps the country in motion. Broken into small bands, the common people of Mexico are now robbing planters, miners and one another. Under Diaz and common people—Indians and half-bloods—worked the fields and mines and bore all the burdens of industry and agriculture. They erected the buildings in towns and cities. Nothing was done without them; nothing now is done without them.

In Mexico City, everywhere, indeed, Indians cut one's hair, wait on one at the table, drive one's carriage, nurse one's children, make one's shoes, supply one with milk and groceries, with flowers and fuel, and at last bury one and cut and place a stone on one's grave.

They and their donkeys fill the highways and the streets and make the country prosperous and picturesque. Group a dozen of them under the gray walls of a convent and you see a living watercolor, beautiful in its lights and paints, in its hues and shadows. Artists and poets, wizards in pigments, and conjurers in words have gone to Mexico. There they have seen tints and shades and wrought in the sunlight and mists. They have heard strange legends. A mountain, hung far down its sides in purple haze, looks well in oil. So does an Indian, slim, erect, a vermilion sarape thrown across his shoulder.

The Engineer Is a Kindly Man.
But words and paint do not catch odors—no dot lay ohld of fleas and worse—do not sing the song—do not picture the scene of squalor. A lowly door among the cacti with a barefooted woman within the frame may be a poem. Put a black pig at her side and you pipe no lay, but hasten on.

North Mexico is unclean. Water is precious. The train to Mexico City will stop at a little mud village for fuel or orders. Then out of the huts come women with large clay pots to catch the water that drips from the engine's pipes and the tank inside the tender. They come running and laughing, each striving to be first.

Filling their jars, they tear them home, on their heads. The American engineer is a kindly man, and his pipes flow free and do not trickle. The water is warm and yellow, but it is sweet. The little women can get in the village is bitter and not healthful. Such are the mothers and wives of the fighting men who are to battle with the invaders.

To the west the Indians are often miners. They dig copper, gold and silver. Now and then there is a frost in the high valleys. The Yaqui is a fierce man—for Mexico. He eats goat meat occasionally, and that puts an edge to his pugnacity. And he is the only Indian who will stay where there is frost. So his pay is large—for Mexico.

Instinctively, the Yaqui is a revolutionist. He sneered at Diaz—wanting a government of his own—and Diaz captured him and sent him to Yucatan, where, as Diaz intended, he soon perished from heat and humidity.

The main roads out of Mexico City are level and wide. In the early morning, under a sky cloudless and beautifully blue, hundreds of donkeys in droves of 6, 10 or 12, driven by Indians on foot, will be seen struggling along under their loads.

Argument for Low Wages.
One will be told, however, that all these poor creatures are merry and contented; that they earn 35 cents in gold a day, and that they would work less if more were paid. Their wants, one is assured, are few—corn and beans daily, the backbone and ghastly head of a goat twice a week, and a dram of pulque, the Mexican intoxicant, when they are thirsty. Higher wages, so the philosophy of the educated class runs, would mean an increase of drunkenness and idleness, and civilization condemns such things.

The voices of the cardadores are gentle; so even are the voices of the newsboys and hucksters. Many of them wear loose cotton trousers, others wear tight trousers, which spring at the instep over the feet, and are never clean. Rarely does one see a bowlegged Indian in Mexico. The men are slender and well formed; the women are plump and shapeless.

Women drink pulque and smoke cigarettes. If employed at a hotel, they are taken to the front door at night—there are no back doors in Mexico—and searched for spoons, small dishes, knives and forks, and other concealable and portable property. They stand in line, look not abashed, and make no objection to the procedure.

The interviewer who is writing this article left his baggage open in many hotels throughout the republic among maids and porters, but nothing was ever missed. Zachary Taylor said Mexico was "a nation of blanketed thieves," but he was fighting them and they were not friends of his.

As a mechanic, the Indian or the halfbreed is however, in stone, bricks and mortar, because he has been working with such building materials for centuries. He lays 200 bricks a day. An American mason lays 2000. Contractors say that it is cheaper to dig cellars with Indians than to employ mules and scrapers. An Indian, though small, can easily carry two bushels and a half of wet sand out of a deep hole in the ground.

When Porfirio Diaz became president in 1877, there were but two classes in Mexico—the rich and the poor. A middle class, composed of merchants and professional men, arose in time between the peons and the land monopolists. So began danger to Diaz and his plans for a peaceful and prosperous nation. He told the interviewer that he meant gradually to uplift the peon, to take him out of his hovel, put him into a house, and send his children to school. The middle class, however, developed agitators.

"For fifty years we had politicians and demagogues," a man once eminent under Diaz said to the interviewer. "In their intrigues to get offices the demagogues brought on revolutions. Then I cared Diaz, the man of iron. He knew the Mexicans. He had the army. If a demagogue conspired against the peace of the country or harangued the people unwisely, Diaz had him shot. Soon there were no more demagogues."

But Diaz grew old and infirm. The trade of the demagogue was revived. Diaz fell. Since then politicians and demagogues have tried to rule. Some of them may be on the firing line when a foreign enemy lands on Mexican soil.

JAMES B. MORROW.
A SAFE ASSUMPTION.
Apropos of a marriage that threatened to turn out badly, Mrs. Nicholas Langworth uttered an appropriate and very true epigram: "So, Mr. Milanc," she said, "is saying at the club that he's sorry he ever married."

Mrs. Langworth smiled and added: "Well, when a man tells his friends he's sorry he's married, it's safe to assume that his wife is sorry, too."

The Magnetic Girl

How She Compels Others To Obey Her Will.

100,000 Copies of Remarkable Book describing Peculiar Psychic Powers to be distributed Post Free to readers of the Quebec Chronicle.

"The wonderful power of Personal Influence, Magnetism, Fascination, Mind Control, call it what you will, can surely be acquired by everyone, no matter how unattractive or unsuccessful," says Mr. Elmer Ellsworth Knowlton, author of the new book entitled: "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces."

The book lays bare many astounding facts concerning the practical application of a simple though effective system of laws that Prof. Knowlton has discovered. It is a simple system of laws that Prof. Knowlton has discovered. It is a simple system of laws that Prof. Knowlton has discovered.

The book, which is being distributed broadcast free of charge, is full of photographic reproductions showing how these unseen forces are being used all over the world, and thousands upon thousands have developed powers which they little dreamed they possessed. The free distribution of the 100,000 copies is being conducted by a large London institution, and a copy will be sent post free to anyone interested. No money need be sent, but those who wish to do so may enclose 5 cents (stamps of your own country to cover postage, etc.) All requests for the free book should be addressed to: National Institute of Sciences, Free Distribution Dept. 848, B., No. 258, Westminster Bridge Road, London, S.E., England. Simply say you would like a copy of "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces," and mention the Quebec Chronicle.

Rebels Are Active.
In spite of these precautions it was found that the rebels had succeeded in tainting the loyalty of the chief of the Peking mounted police. This was discovered in time and he was arrested and confessed that he had been bribed to assassinate the President.

President Yuan Shi Kai in his inaugural address avowed his intention of maintaining a firm and steady policy. He expressed the opinion that the first principle of government was a clear definition and promulgation of its legal systems and the establishment and maintenance of public order. After this he said in compliance with the requirements of time and circumstance efforts should be made to unite the people in their march along the path of progress.

The President admitted his preference for conservative rather than extreme radical methods, first because he did not desire to risk the welfare of the people and secondly because he thought the ancient teachings and traditions of China should not be wholly swept away. He referred to the restrictions which had not allowed a free hand for the advance of the interests of the nation and asserted his intention of introducing reforms one by one in the present conditions of China.

Yuan Shi Kai emphasized the necessity of capital and education, especially of technical education—the former in order to promote China's industrial resources and the latter for the development of the natural assets of the nation. He likened China to a man who possessed buried treasures and complained of poverty.

After his inauguration Yuan Shi Kai received Prince Pu Lun, former president of the National Assembly. The Prince on behalf of the Emperor, the Imperial family, and the Manchu people, offered his congratulations and assured Yuan Shi Kai of Manchu good will and co-operation.

Foreign Delegates Received.
The representatives of the foreign Powers were then received by the President and on their behalf Luis Pastor, the Spanish minister and Dean of the Diplomatic Corps offered felicitations and expressed confidence that under Yuan Shi Kai's chief magistracy the cordiality of the relations between China and the foreign Powers would increase. He said the strict observance of treaties and usages would not only guarantee the peace of China and the stability of the Republic, but would assure to the country the development of its wealth to which end the foreign nations had an interest in contributing.

President's Attitude.
Yuan Shi Kai replied by expressing the friendly intentions of the Chinese Government toward foreign interests and declaring his sincere intentions of observing all treaties, conventions and other engagements entered into by the former Manchu and provisional Republican governments with foreign governments and individuals. He also said that all rights, privileges and immunities enjoyed by foreigners in China would be confirmed.

of the Emperor over which Republican flags had been draped.
Review of Troops.
After the delivery of the inaugural address the President surrounded by the members of the foreign legations reviewed 10,000 troops equipped in modern uniforms from the front of a pagoda of the Forbidden City, and it was remarked by all present how well the soldiers went through their exercises.

Extensive precautions, both police and military, had been taken for several days as it was feared that some Chinese rebels who had cut off their queues might obtain access to the ceremony disguised as Japanese. It was not possible for the authorities to limit the number of invitations sent to the Japanese legation without doing the same in the other cases and for this reason it was decided to reduce the number all around.

AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION
It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcoholic mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair the wasted body and restore the vigor of health.
For forty years the best physicians have relied on the wholesome predigested nourishment in SCOTT'S EMULSION which is totally free from alcohol or opiates.
Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright.
Scott's Emulsion sets in action the very forces that promote health. Its purity, richness and strength has stood the test of forty years.

SOCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK CABLED FROM LONDON AND BERLIN

Tennis and Golf Matches, in Which Americans Win, Engross Berlin Society

Mrs. A. M. Thackara Distributes Prizes in Latter Event and Holds Her Last Reception in German Capital Before Leaving with Husband for Paris.

BARON VON KLEYDORFF TO GIVE CONCERT TOUR

(Special Dispatch.)
BERLIN, Oct. 11.
SOCIETY has been deeply engrossed with outdoor sports this week, but, unfortunately, there were strong clashing interests, as by an unlucky coincidence the big October tournament of the Red and White Tennis Club at Grunewald and the autumn meeting of the Berlin Golf Club were proceeding simultaneously.

But in spite of the elimination this necessitated, great crowds followed the progress of the two tournaments, and on the day of the finals, which were played off in brilliant autumnal sunshine, both golf links and tennis courts presented a scene of the greatest animation. Of late years the Anglo-Saxon element, to which the golf club owes its organization, has been outclassed by the German.

But notwithstanding this fact Americans were more conspicuous in the tournament and captured the majority of the prizes, which were presented by Mrs. A. M. Thackara to the American winners. Dr. George Webster won the scratch prize, Dr. Charles Hartley the Squires cup, Mme. E. Kugemann the woman's handicap, Dr. George Webster and Mr. George Martin took the foursome, Mr. Frederic Warren the bogey competition and Dr. George A. Kennedy the approaching and putting competition.

EARL GRANVILLE QUITS CLUB.

Earl Granville, Councillor of the British Embassy, resigned this week from the vice presidency of the club, as he soon is to be transferred to Paris. Among those present at the prize distribution were Captain Hugh Watson, Dr. and Mrs. George Webster, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kugemann, Frau Otto Eysler, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Williams Wile, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis and Dr. and Mrs. George Martin.

Mathern Palace Soon To Be Sold

Mansion's History Is Traced to King Meurig, Who Ruled in the Sixth Century.
(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
MATHERN Palace, in Chepstow, Monmouthshire, is to be sold by private treaty, having been placed in the hands of Messrs. Collins & Collins, No. 37 South Audley street, for the purpose.

PROFIT IN TOBACCO GROWN IN ENGLAND

Mr. Arthur Pullen-Burry Invents Movable Hothouses in Which to Cultivate the Plants.
(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
THERE are efforts to be made by tobacco growing in England. At any rate that is the claim put forward by Mr. Arthur Pullen-Burry, of Rectory Farm, Sompting, near Worthing, who has invented a system of forced cultivation of the plant by which he is able to produce crops of high quality tobacco several times in the course of the year.

LONDON IS IN THE CALM BEFORE THE STORM; ROYAL WEDDING SURE TO BRING A RUSH

All Arrangements Have Been Made for the Event, Which, in Its Ceremonial, Will Be Simple—Popular Hostesses Have Now Ended Their Round of Entertaining in Scotland.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
LIKE the calm before the storm, London has been very quiet for a week, but next week will see a rush from the country for the royal wedding. Of course it will be only a favored few who will be actually present, but because it is such a great event everybody who is anybody must be here for the rejoicings and the numerous entertainments that will be given on the occasion.

Everything of interest during the last week or so occurred in the country. For instance, the wedding of the Hon. Victoria Sackville-West—whose pet name, "The Kidlet," was brought so prominently before the public in the recent great Scott will case, and is likely to stick longer than ever—and the first October meeting at Newmarket, many who had been in Scotland and on the Continent coming for the opening day. Perfect weather, more like summer than autumn, favored the day of the Jockey Club Stakes, which will be remembered for the sensational defeat of Mr. August Belmont's Tracery.

Many women wore summer dresses, though it was apparent that red and orange undoubtedly are the fashionable colorings for autumn, and more of them are expected to be seen as autumn advances.

The Duchess of Newcastle wore a coat of purple trimmed with a black and white hat. Her stepdaughter, Lady Barbara Smith, who accompanied her, was dressed quietly in blue serge and a black hat.

Lady Cadogan wore dark gray with a black and white hat. Her stepdaughter, Lady Sophie Scott, was in black cloth with a black velvet hat trimmed with white wings.

Lady Garvag wore a dark costume with a Louis XV. waistcoat of crimson and gold brocade, and her hostess, Mrs. Montague Thorp, a platinum colored charm bracelet with a hat trimmed with pale blue feathers.

SOMBRE GOWNS WARM.
The Countess of Arran looked well in her toilette of olive green broche with a boa of silver gray ostrich feathers. The Countess of Limerick wore a dress and a big blue hat, but those who wore sombre dresses looked and felt overwarm.

Substitute Clay Birds for Live Ones in Shoot

Sportsman Arranges Traps on His Estate, Releasing Imitation Birds That Fly Faster Than Partridges When Levers Are Disturbed, Providing Sport for His Friends.

ONLY WAY TO SCORE IS TO SHOOT QUICKLY

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
THE partridge shooting season, like the grouse, is proving a great disappointment owing to the unfavorable hatching period and the long drought, which killed off many young birds. But Mr. Basil Tozer tells in the Daily Express of a clever device of "one of the best game shots in England, a gentleman who has travelled largely and done much big game shooting," to provide sport for his friends.

LONDON HAS NEW CLUB FOR TEACHING TANGO

Will Open in November as Place Where Members Can Dance All Night.
(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
ARGENTINA tango tea and the teaching of the Brazilian Maxixe dance, are to be the features of a new West End dancing club, which will be open to members practically all day and night.

Every Home Can Have Good Art

Opening of the Dorian Galleries in London Brings Artist and Patrons Together.
(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
THE opening of the Dorian Galleries at South Kensington inaugurates an experiment in the world of art which is arousing widespread interest. The Dorian Galleries, which owe their inception to Mr. Adrian Gordon, Mr. Ernest H. E. Cox and Mr. E. J. Grasen, mark the first serious attempt in England to bring the artist and the public into touch.

TILLINGS' IS ROMANCE OF A LIVERY STABLE

Famous London Bus Line Began with One Gray Horse and a Trap.
(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 11.
TILLINGS, Limited, who were responsible for the motor bus strike, are a firm whose history is one of the romances of South London.

Count Albert Mensdorff, who has just returned from his vacation, passed partly in Switzerland and partly in Moravia. Count Mensdorff is a distant relation of the royal family, and in that capacity will attend the marriage of Prince Arthur, but not as a member of the Corps Diplomatique.

Mr. F. H. Payne, chairman of Earl's Court Limited, who is the originator of the idea, said that in support of the scheme he has received scores of letters from all parts of the country. The premises will be in the heart of club and theatre and hotel land.

Received over the private wire of Neuville Belleau & Co., brokers, 93
St. Peter St., Quebec.

New York, Oct. 10.—The market was reactionary in the early trading, being raided by the bears, which caught stop-loss orders.

Amalgamated Copper was especially weak on rumors of a government suit and the break of 1 pound of the metal in London.

American Telephone and Telegraph was rather weak, and other industrial specialties in the active list declined easily.

Stress was laid by the short interest upon the appointment of Brandeis as counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission, which was not taken as arguing for success for the railroads.

The United States Steel unfilled tonnage, as expected, showed a poorly one, unfilled orders decreasing 298, 000 tons.

The Union Pacific gave out a supplement statement to the effect that whatever plans for distribution might be made, the effect would be to conserve to the Union Pacific investor a 10 per cent return.

In other words, after the cutting of the melon, the regular dividend rate will be reduced.

Washington advices were of a more cheerful character, it being assumed that the bankers would carry their policy through.

This may explain the steadier tone in the later trading, though it remains to be seen whether the administration

New York, Oct. 10.—Market was dull and somewhat irregular with strength in some issues but before long stocks started down and during the second hour were quite weak. No great pressure resulted from the decline, however, and in early afternoon market rallied well although there was a decline which was rather disconcerting to bulls in several active investment issues like American Fone and South-was strongest feature on list which was well bought on advance steadily

IMPORTANT

Fresh from the press, thousands of copies of "October" Investment offerings are being sent to all points in the Dominion, giving to the investor, large or small, his choice of the most "attractive investments."

It is still within the power of the investor to procure some of the highest class Bonds and Stocks at lowest prices, but evidences of an early return of normal conditions are very marked, which will bring about a change as to the investment return
now procurable.

BEAUPORT SITE IS FINALLY APPROVED

ALDERMAN LOCKWELL OF-FERS TO RESIGN IF CITY IS NOT GIVING AWAY A LOT

The City Council last evening finally passed the report of the Finance Committee recommending the site offered by the sisters of Beauport Asylum for the erection of the proposed new Civic Hospital.

LONG DISCUSSION.

When the question came up for consideration as fifth order of the day Ald. Lockwell spoke against the selection of the site and the discussion kept up for more than two hours, after which the report was passed without vote, Ald. Lockwell dissenting.

In the course of his arguments against the adoption of the report Ald. Lockwell said that he would resign his seat in the Council if he could not prove that the city in their agreement with the sisters of Beauport Asylum were giving away the equivalent of a capital of $100,000 at 4 per cent.

Among the others who spoke were Aldermen Lavigne, Gosselin, Cote, Verret, Cannon, Trudel, and Fiset, while Mayor Drouin closed the debate, informing Ald. Lockwell when he calculated the price of the land in making a statement of what the city would grant to the nuns he forgot that the land in question would not be divided into building lots but would be retained as farming land, hence the value would not be at all the same.

COMPANY WITHDREW CHARGES

The C. N. R. Company, on whose complaint Joseph Emile Belanger, agent at Chambord Junction, was arrested by Detectives Walsh and DeJoy on the charge of embezzlement, withdrew their charges yesterday and the prisoner was duly liberated. An error was made in yesterday's Chronicle in stating that Belanger was the agent at Chicoutimi.

The agent at Chicoutimi is Mr. Jean, who is still agent there, and has never been arrested in his life. The Chronicle regrets that this error, which was due to incorrect information, should have been made.

THEY DO.

The Cape May Beach was drenched with moonlight, and seated on the sand, a young man and a young woman conducted an ardent wooing under the white lunar rays.

As the young man kissed the young woman's hand, Champ Clark remarked to a novelist whom he was entertaining:

"Look at that sly young pair! Lovers are said to be blind, but they always manage to make spectacles of themselves."

MR. JAS. MCMANAMY TENDERED BANQUET

HIS MANY FRIENDS PAY HIM HONOR ON THE EVE OF HIS MARRIAGE.

Mr. Jas. A. McManamy, the popular young broker, of the firm of Barry & McManamy, was entertained at a banquet at Kent House last evening and presented with a handsome cabinet of solid silver cutlery on behalf of his numerous friends on the eve of his marriage to Miss Marietta Robitaille, which will be solemnized on Monday next, the 13th instant, at St. Louis de France Church, Montreal.

The dinner was attended by some fifty friends and a splendid menu was provided, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. Thos. Murphy, the chairman of the organization committee, presented the groom-to-be with an illuminated address, in which the best wishes of all his friends were warmly expressed and further approved with applause which increased to cheers as the future benedict took the floor to respond. Mr. McManamy thanked his friends in fitting terms on behalf of himself and the future Mrs. McManamy.

Speeches were made by Messrs. E. Levers, H. Gale, Ed. Roach, Jas. Halpin, M. Dinan, while the toast to the ladies was attended to with chivalrous grace by Mr. Adjuar Turcotte, whose eulogy of the fair ones was enthusiastically responded to by Mr. Neil Cotter.

The spread broke up and the happy party returned to the city in the eleven thirty car after spending a very pleasant evening.

POINCARÉ'S VISIT SEEMS FRUITFUL

IS LIKELY TO MEAN BIRTH OF ENTENTE BETWEEN EN-GLAND, FRANCE AND SPAIN.

Paris, Oct. 10.—The result of President Poincaré's visit to Spain, which ended today when he embarked at Cartagena to return to France, fulfilled the expectations of both the press and the public. It is thought that the President's visit will go down to posterity as marking the birth of an English-French-Spanish entente cordiale.

SIGNIFICANT SPEECHES.

Not only did the speeches of King Alfonso and President Poincaré at the various functions grow steadily in significance as the visit of the French executive advanced, but the French Foreign Minister, M. Pichon, and Count Romanones, the Spanish Premier, deemed it necessary to proclaim to the world by means of a point official note to the newspapers that the principles of the various Franco-Spanish accords have natural application just as much in the general policy of the two governments as in the special question of Morocco.

110 MEXICAN M.P.'S LODGED IN PRISON

CHAMBER WAS SURROUNDED AND SEVERAL HUNDRED TROOPS ENTERED.

Mexico City, Oct. 10.—One hundred and ten members of the Chamber of Deputies, who had signed resolutions of warning to President Huerta as the result of the disappearance of Dr. Belisario Dominguez, Senator for Chiapas, last night, were arrested tonight and lodged in the penitentiary. Five other deputies who signed the resolution were absent tonight when a cordon of troops was thrown about the legislative building and several hundred soldiers invaded the chamber.

LACK OF PROTECTION.

The arrests followed a demand by President Huerta that the chamber withdraw the resolution, which carried the threat that the deputies would abandon the capital owing to an alleged lack of guarantees for their personal safety.

Senator Dominguez early in the month made a speech in the Senate violently attacking Huerta, saying that nothing had been done during Huerta's regime toward the pacification of the country but that the present situation in the republic was infinitely worse than before. He said the currency of Mexico had depreciated, fields had been neglected and towns razed and that famine threatened. He added that this situation was due first and foremost to the fact that the Mexican people could not resign themselves to be governed by Huerta.

Mr. U. H. Dandurand, of Montreal, will be in town today.

TWO MORE STREET CAR ACCIDENTS

FOREIGNER KNOCKED DOWN ON GRANDE ALLEE AND WOMAN ON ST. JOHN ST.

Two more accidents were caused by the street railways yesterday,—a woman being knocked down on St. John street, by Car 67, between 5 and 6 o'clock, and a foreigner, named Marckel Bach, being struck to the ground by Car 78 just opposite the Franciscan Nuns' Convent on Grande Allee.

Bach was taken to the Jeffery Hale's Hospital and at latest advices was doing well.

Mrs. Lamontagne, the victim of the other accident is a widow, aged about 70, and resides at No. 85 St. Augustin.

She was carried into the store of Messrs. Vandry and Matte, and after her injuries had been attended to by a physician she was conveyed to her home in the ambulance. The old lady seemed to be suffering from a fractured ankle, which, in view of her advanced age, may be very serious.

Mrs. Lamontagne seemed to be deaf and, although the motorman sounded the bell, she did not seem to hear. The car was in charge of Motorman Girard and Conductor Lefebvre.

This makes the third accident in two days, Car No. 67 having also been responsible for the overturning of a carriage on Grande Allee near the Ladies' Protestant Home on the previous afternoon.

LITTLE GIRL FALLS FROM THIRD STORY

HAS SKULL FRACTURED AND HOPE OF RECOVERY IS ABANDONED.

By falling from the third story window of the home of her parents at No. 322 Richelieu street, early yesterday morning, the 19-month-old daughter of Mr. Louis Gendreau, employed at the Cartridge Factory, had her skull fractured and all hope of her recovery is out of question.

The little child was playing near the window when she climbed up on the sill and losing her balance fell to the asphalt pavement below, where she was picked up unconscious, in which condition she has been ever since the accident.

MRS. PANKHURST NOT SAILING YET

SHE WILL TAKE ANOTHER STEAMER UNDER AN AS-SUMED NAME.

New York, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Pankhurst will not leave for this country on the steamer La Provence tomorrow as had been arranged, as she has heard she is likely to be detained by the immigration authorities here, according to a cable message received here today. She will take another steamer and sail under an assumed name, "to test the efficiency of male government."

HER CABLEGRAM.

The cablegram was sent from Paris to Miss Joan Wickham, Mrs. Pankhurst's advance representative in this country. As given out here tonight, the message read:

"Understand United States immigration officials will detain me, questioning my right of entrance. Have changed plans. Will not sail on La Provence, but will take another steamer under an assumed name to test the efficiency of male government. Will wireless you day before arrival in confidence."
(Signed)
"EMMELINE PANKHURST."

It was announced from women's suffrage quarters tonight that Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont will be prepared to furnish a bond of $100,000 for Mrs. Pankhurst, if necessary, on the militant leader's arrival here.
