"Lieut.-Col. Sir CHARLES CUYLER, Bart., Comd. 69th Regt., Cork."

The present record is written in obedience to the General Orders and Regulations for the Army, dated Adjutant-General's office, Horse Guards, 12th August, 1811, directing a Record Book to be kept at the Head-Quarters of every Regiment in the service in which the formation and military operations of the corps has shared in, are to be detailed, together with the names of such individuals who have distinguished themselves, and the honorary badges or devices the Regiment may at any time have been permitted to wear.

FORMATION.

The 69th or South Lincolnshire Regiment was one of many levies raised for the war with France in 1756, and was originally the second battalion of the twenty-fourth. It was first commanded by the Honorable Charles Colville, and successively by

- The Honorable Philip Sherwood. Sir Ralph Abercrombie. Henry Walker Powell. Sir Cornelius Cuyler, Bart. William Carr. Lord Beresford. Sir John Hamilton, Bart. Thomas Brisbane, 1801. William McLeod, 21st February, 1805. Thomas Browne, 30th May, 1805. Archibald Campbell, 27th August, 1805. Ralph Darling, 8th May, 1806. Miles Nightingale. The Honorable St. Ledger. Phineas Riall, 27th May, 1810. Walter Syms, 27th August, 1811. — Clarges, — Charles Morice, 4th June, 1813. Price Robbins, 4th June, 1813. George Muttelbury, 10th August, 1815. — Pitzler, June, 1817. John Sturt, 11th December, 1817. Henry Doulope, 1st January, 1819. Charles Bruce, 29th March, 1821. Sir Charles Cuyler, 3rd October, 1826. Eaton Monins, 2nd October, 1835. William Blackburne, 3rd September, 1847. C. J. Coote, 10th November, 1848. F. W. Dillon, 2nd October, 1849. J. W. L. Paxton, 22nd February, 1850. D. E. Mackirdy, 25th August, 1853. E. Hickey, 17th November, 1857. P. Fenwick, 22nd April, 1859. G. H. Messier, 21st February, 1868. G. Bagot, 3rd February, 1869.

On the recommencement of hostilities with the French, in 1778, the 69th, being stationed in the West Indies, was present at the reduction of St. Lucie and St. Kitts, and for their conduct in these engagements received very honorable mention. It likewise took an important part, while acting as marines on board Lord Rodney's fleet, in the brilliant victory obtained by that Admiral over the Count de Gras, on April 12, 1782, for which services a vote of thanks was passed by Parliament, and received special permission to add the honorable badge of an embroidered laurel on the colors and on the straps of the officers' epaulets. The regiment returned to Ireland in 1785, where it remained till 1793. At the commencement of the revolutionary war, in 1793, the 69th was ordered to the West Indies again; but the destination being changed, it proceeded to the Mediterranean, in company with the fleet commanded by Lord Hood. Was present at the surrender of Toulon, and several times engaged with the enemy during the occupation of Toulon by the British, being particularly conspicuous in driving the French from the heights of Tara, and in the capture of Fort La Breunne. From Toulon the regiment proceeded to the Island of Corsica, and was engaged under Gen. Dundas, in reducing Martella Fort, in Martella Bay, in 1794, the obstinate defence of which caused the erection of similar forts on the coast of England. Detachments were also sent to Elba, from whence they were moved, in February, 1794, to St. Fiorenzo, and were engaged in the capture of the works that defended the harbor. The regiment afterwards accompanied Lord Hood to Bastia, where it was severely engaged. On this occasion Capt. Clarke lost his arm by a cannon-shot in reconnoitering the enemy's works, in company with Admiral Lord (then Capt. Nelson). In October, same year, three detachments from the regiment embarked on board the Britannia, Agamemnon, and Courageux, to act as marines; and were engaged in Lord Nelson's action and capture of the Ca Ira, 84-gun ship, and Censeur, 74, in April, 1795.

In May, 1795, a 2nd battalion was formed at Hilsa, and, when completed, sailed for Gibraltar, and landed there in the June following, where it was stationed until the remainder of the 1st battalion came down the Mediterranean, from Corsica, and joined it, when the 2nd was incorporated with the 1st battalion. The regiment was ordered to England, and while on their way home were captured off Cadiz by a French squadron, when Capt. O'Doherty, the senior officer, sunk the colors of the regiment to prevent their falling into the enemy's hands; but shortly after, the vessel having struck, gallantly returned to Gibraltar in possession of the ship and the whole of his men. At Gibraltar, the 1st battalion became 1300 effective by the consolidation of the 2nd battalion.

In February, 1796, the 66th and 69th Regiments landed at Port-au-Prince, in the West Indies, to take part in the expedition against St. Domingo, and were soon actively engaged against the enemy, and drove them from their position to the hills. During their two years' stay in the West Indies, the mortality was frightful, the 69th having in that time lost 25 officers and 1,000 men, when they were ordered to England.

The detachments which had been left on board the fleet in the Mediterranean, consisting of 300 men, which had never joined the regiment at Gibraltar, were engaged in Sir John Jervis's (afterwards Earl St. Vincent) action, on the 14th February, 1797, off Cape St. Vincent, when a party under the command of Lieut. Pearson had the honor to serve on board the Captain, 74 (Commodore Nelson), in her severe conflict with the Santissima Trinidad, of 136 guns. In boarding the San Nicholas, Private John Ashcroft particularly distinguished himself by striking the Spanish and hoisting the British colour, before the boarders had established themselves on the deck of that ship; and Private (afterwards Quartermaster) Stevens broke the upper quarter-gallery-window, and jumped in, followed by Nelson himself, and by others, as fast as possible.

The unparalleled exploit of boarding and capturing two line-of-battle ships at once, the one across the other, is thus described by the great hero himself, and appears in Allen's Life of Nelson:

"The San Nicholas luffing up, the San Josef fell aboard of her, and the Captain resumed her station abreast of them and close alongside. At this time, the Captain having lost her foretopmast, not a sail, shroud, or rope left, her wheel shot away, and, incapable of further service in the line or in chase, I directed the helm to be put a-starboard, and, calling for the boarders, ordered them to board.

"The soldiers of the 69th regiment, with an alacrity which will ever do them credit, and Lieut. Pearson, of the same regiment, were amongst the foremost in this service.

"The first man who jumped into the enemy's mizen chains was Captain Berry, late my First Lieutenant.

"A soldier of the 69th Regiment having broken the upper gallery-window, jumped in, followed by myself and others as fast as possible. I found the cabin doors fastened, and the Spanish officers fired their pistols at us through the windows; but having burst open the doors, the soldiers fired, and the Spanish brigadier (commodore with distinguishing pennant) fell, as retreating to the quarter-deck. I passed with my people and Lieut. Pearson, on the larboard gangway to the fore-castle, where I met two or three Spanish officers, prisoners to my seamen, and they delivered me their swords. At this moment, a fire of pistols, or muskets, opening from the Admiral's stern-gallery in the San Josef, I directed the soldiers to fire into her stern. Ordering more men into the San Nicholas, I directed my brave fellows to board the first-rate, the San Josef, which was done in an instant. And on the quarter-deck of a Spanish first-rate (extravagant as the story may seem) did I receive the swords of the vanquished Spaniards. I was surrounded by Captain Berry, Lieut. Pearson (69th regiment), John Sykes, John Thompson, Francis Cook, and William Fearney, all old "Agamemmons," and several other brave men, soldiers and sailors. Thus fell their ships. The Victor, passing, saluted us with three cheers, as did every ship in the fleet."

In the year 1799, the regiment joined the expedition to Holland, under Sir Ralph Abercrombie, and on its landing near the Texel, on August 27th, were warmly engaged with the enemy before the main body of the army had landed, where they lost fifteen rank and file. They remained in Holland until November of the same year, and sailed for Jamaica in July, 1800, where it sustained very severe losses from climate influences, and returned home in June, 1802.

In 1803, on the embodying of the army of reserve by the operation of the Additional Force Bill, the 1st battalion was completed to 1,200 effectives, and a 2nd battalion of 750 men raised for the service of the British Isles.

The 1st battalion sailed from Portsmouth for the East Indies on the 8th March, and arrived at Madras on the 13th July, 1805. In 1806, four companies, under the command of Major Coates, detached from head-quarters at Fort St. George, formed the whole European force at Vellore, and severely suffered in the serious mutiny which broke out amongst the native troops in that fortress on the night of the 10th of July, 1806.

It appears that this mutiny was principally formed in the 1st regiment of Madras Native Infantry, the chief part of whom were Mussulmen. A party of this regiment, told off for the purpose, were marched down to the main guard, which was partly composed of Europeans, at about midnight; and as soon as it approached sufficiently near to give assistance, if necessary, the Sepoys of the main guard, who had previously loaded their firelocks privately, immediately shot all the Europeans of the guard.

Having obtained possession of the magazine and arsenal, the mutineers were enabled to serve ammunition to the Sepoys, who were engaged in firing into the 69th barracks; they also mounted some field-pieces with ropes at the windows of an unoccupied barrack, used as a depository for ordnance stores, over which there was only one Sepoy sentry, and opened a fire upon the barrack of the 69th regiment, which were opposite, and within a distance of 20 yards. The Europeans, taken by surprise, whilst naked and unarmed, sheltered themselves from the fire in the best manner they could; they, however, kept possession of the barrack-gate, from which they made some successful sallies. The mutineers then brought forth Fattah Hyder, the second son of Tippoo Sahib (supposed to be the only one of the princes implicated in this plot), proclaimed him in the palace-square as Sultan, and then hoisted the standard of Tippoo on the flag-staff of the Fort.

In the mean time, some of the officers made a rush from their quarters to the barracks, and, being assisted by the soldiers within, broke a window, by which they entered; and rallying about 150 men, they sallied forth, and gained the ramparts, which were close by, and, commanded by Captain Barrow, they fought their way towards a cavalier at one angle of the fort, which they gained and left a party in possession of; while the remainder drove the mutineers along the rampart to the gate, behind which were some houses, where they effected a lodgment, which secured their post. A party of sixty men then pushed boldly along the ramparts, and, after some hard fighting, gained the flag-staff; but the standard being nailed to the staff, a soldier of the 69th, named Philip Bottom, mounted the pole, under a heavy fire of musketry, and tore it down.

This was the state of affairs when Colonel Gillespie, commanding 19th Dragoons, arrived from Arcot with a squadron of that regiment; finding the gate in possession of the 69th, he caused himself to be hoisted upon the ramparts, and assuming the command, kept possession of the rampart and the gateway until the arrival of the remainder of the 19th Dragoons with their galleys or light guns, when he ordered the gate to be blown open, and the 19th Dragoons to charge into the fort. A strong resistance was at first made by the mutineers; but the king's troops were eventually successful, and regained possession of the fort.

The General Orders issued by Government, however, after the minutest inquiry into all the circumstances attending this unhappy event, most clearly explain the perfidious intention of the insurrection, and at the same time convey a high sense of the firmness displayed by the troops in subduing it.

The following extracts, relative to the subject of the present memoir, are worthy of record:

"GENERAL ORDERS OF GOVERNMENT. 24th July, 1806.

"While, however, the mutineers were successful in accomplishing the death of the commanding officer of the garrison, and of many other valuable officers and men, it pleased Providence to permit that their disastrous progress should be arrested by the efforts of the brave troops of His Majesty's 69th regiment, who were so fortunate as to be enabled to elude and resist the murderous intentions of the mutineers, until the arrival of succours which were hastened to their relief."

Extract of a letter from Colonel GILLESPIE, H. M. 19th Dragoons, dated 20th July, 1806:

"Colonel Gillespie begs leave to state, in a summary manner, to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the sentiments he entertains of the meritorious conduct of the troops under his command, as well as that of the remains of H. M. 69th Regiment, who composed the garrison of Vellore on the 10th instant. To the officers of the 69th Regiment, who in the early part of the insurrection assembled their men to make head against the barbarous enemy who were attacking them on all sides, too much praise cannot be given; and Colonel Gillespie has particularly to regret that the gallant exertions of Captains Barrow and McLachlan, Lieut. Mitchell and other wounded officers, were too soon lost to the regiment, from those officers being, unfortunately, disabled so early in the day.

"The remains of this valuable corps fought gallantly for several hours without an officer; and the Colonel begs leave to express his admiration at their undaunted resolution. Colonel Gillespie cannot help mentioning, in terms of the highest approbation, Sergeant Bready, of the 69th regiment, who so bravely followed him in the sally from the ramparts, and drove the enemy from their lurking places, previous to the charge of the cavalry."

"GENERAL ORDERS BY GOVERNMENT. 2nd September, 1806.

"The Right Honorable the Governor in Council having received from the Commander-in-Chief a particular report of the gallantry displayed by Sergeant McManus and Private Philip Bottom, 69th Regiment, during the insurrection at Vellore, in pulling down the colours of the late Sultan of Mysore from the flag-staff of that fortress, under a severe fire, His Lordship in Council is pleased to testify his approbation of their conduct, by granting a reward of 50 pagodas to the sergeant, and 20 pagodas to the private."

Extract from the Minutes in Council in the Military Department, dated 18th September, 1806.

"Resolved,—That the satisfaction expressed by the Commander-in-Chief, in regard to the conduct of the detachment of the 69th Regiment stationed at Vellore, during the late insurrection in that garrison, be particularly noticed to the Honorable Company of Directors.

"A true extract, (Signed,) G. STRACHEY, Secretary to the Government."

Returns of Killed and Wounded of His Majesty's 69th Regiment, Vellore, July 10th, 1806:

Table with columns: Killed, Wounded, Capt. Subts, Serge, Corps, Drms, Privates. Values: Killed 0, 2, 5, 4, 1, 70; Wounded 2, 1, 1, 1, 0, 74.

NAMES OF OFFICERS KILLED AND WOUNDED. Killed:—Lieutenants Popham and Eley. Wounded:—Captains Barrow and McLachlan, and Lieutenant Mitchell.

The 69th formed the main British force under the Hon. Lt. Col. St. Ledger, which dislodged the enemy which the Rajah of Travancore had assembled behind fortified works by the Arambooly Gate, and which they carried by escalade on February 20, 1809. They also defeated the enemy at the villages of Kolar and Nagra-Coil, and dispersed their forces; when hostilities having ended, the regiment returned to the cantonment of Wallajahabad.

On the 28th of April, 1810, the regiment embarked with the expedition against the Island of Bourbon, and in this expedition composed a part of the 3rd brigade, under the command of Lt.-Col. McLeod, of the 69th, which was detailed to attack St. Marias, when, after some brisk fighting, the Island of Bourbon surrendered to His Majesty. The attack on the Island of France was the next engagement in which the 69th figured, where, after a slight resistance on the part of the enemy, the Mauritius were finally ceded to His Majesty, on Dec. 30th, 1810. For the distinguished services in this expedition, the 69th bears on its Colours the word "Bourbon."

The regiment returned to India in 1811, arrived at Madras on Feb. 8th in that year, and joined the expedition preparing against Batavia, under Sir Samuel Auchmuty, and were engaged in all the principal contests against the enemy previous to the grand attack on their strongly-entrenched position. The main body of the army moved to support the advance, and the 69th became the leading column in pursuit, and a large detachment thereof formed the picquet on Aug. 22nd, when at daylight the enemy made a sortie on the British lines, mortally wounding Lieut.-Col. Clarges. In the general attack on Fort Cornelius, six companies of the 69th performed many feats of gallantry in carrying the enemy's works, but with the loss of that experienced officer in command, Lieut.-Col. McLeod. For the distinguished part the 69th Regiment took in the conquest of Java, during a succession of most brilliant operations, when the enemy's army was defeated and destroyed, and for its gallantry thereat, was permitted by the Prince Regent to bear on its Colours the word "Java."

After these services, the 1st battalion of the 69th Regiment sailed for India, and landed at Cabo, in the island of Goa, on the 7th December, 1811. On the 13th March, 1813, they embarked for Tellicherry, where they landed on the 17th, and marched for Seringapatam, a distance of 180 miles.

On the 13th Dec., 1813, the 2nd battalion embarked for Holland, and arrived at Williamstadt on the 25th of the same month.

Throughout the various operations preceding the attack on Bergen-op-Zoom—viz., in the attack on Mergin, when 300 prisoners were captured; bombardment of the fleet at Antwerp, and movements on Fort Frederick and Sitts, under Major-General Skerriit, the regiment was much engaged.

In the attack on Bergen-op-Zoom, on the 8th March, 1814, the regiment lost 2 officers, 6 sergeants, and 36 rank and file; 2 officers, 4 sergeants, and 56 rank and file, wounded. Ensign Ryan carried a six-gun battery with a party from the grenadier company. The regiment afterwards returned to Antwerp (Major Muttelbury being immediately afterwards awarded by a Brevet Lieut.-Colonelcy), where it remained until the spring of 1815, when it went from Ath to Horrens. Waterloo became the next scene of action.

In the affairs of the 16th June, 1815, at Quatre-Bras, the 2nd battalion formed part of the division commanded by Lieutenant-General Charles Alten, and was in the brigade commanded by Major-General Sir Colin Halket. The regiment marched from Soignies about 2 o'clock in the morning, and came into action about three o'clock in the afternoon, having marched 25 English miles. Soon after coming into action, it was ordered to support the division of Lieutenant-General Sir Thomas Picton, and moved to the left for that purpose. Sir Thomas Picton ordered the battalion to be halted in close column. The Prince of Orange just afterwards came up and directed it to be deployed into line; while in the act of deploying (the three right companies being formed in line, and the eighth company covering the deployment, as the light infantry was detached with a brigade of light companies), Kellerman's brigade of French cuirassiers, who had been under cover of a rye-field, taking advantage of this critical position, succeeded in cutting through the battalion, but were partially checked by a sharp discharge from the companies formed in line. The regiment suffered materially, losing 150 men and one standard. Captain Lindsay, and Lieuts. Pigot, Stewart, Busted, and Wightwick, were severely wounded; the latter died a few days afterwards. Volunteer J. Clarke, attached to the regiment, received twenty-two sabre-wounds. This gallant young man succeeded in killing the three first cuirassiers who attacked him before he was himself cut down; on his recovery, he was promoted to an Ensigny in the 42nd Regiment, for his gallant conduct.

17TH JUNE, 1815.

The regiment rallied in a very short time, and again bore its share in the action. On the 17th it formed part of the rear-guard which covered the retirement of that part of the army to which it belonged.

WATERLOO—18TH JUNE, 1815.

On the 18th, they were warmly engaged in the right centre of the line, and were repeatedly charged by the enemy's cavalry. The regiment was opposed for a considerable time to the French Imperial Guards, whom they charged when the general advance of the line took place.

Total killed and wounded on the 16th, 17th, and 18th June, 1815:

Table with columns: Lt.-Col., Capt., Lts., Serge, Drms, Rank & File. Values: Killed 1, 3, 1, 0, 4, 0, 45; Wounded 0, 2, 3, 2, 7, 1, 157; Missing 0, 0, 0, 0, 2, 13.

The honorable badge of distinction, "Waterloo," was permitted by the Prince-Regent to be borne on the colours and appointments of the regiment, in consequence of their gallant and meritorious conduct in the actions of the 17th and 18th June, 1815.

In June, 1817, the regiment again proceeded on service, under command of Col. Pitzler, in company with the 30th, 53rd, and 84th Regiments, and were present during three years and a-half in all the arduous operations connected with the Southern Mahratta wars; at the taking of the Hill Forts of Singhur, Poondee, Worsottah, and Copaul Dron, and the storming of the Pettah of Sholapoor. The regiment then left for Cannanore, on the Malabar coast, where it arrived on 17th Nov., 1818, and there remained until 5th February, 1823, when it commenced its march across the Peninsula of India, a distance of 384 miles, and reached Wallajahabad on 23rd March, and embarked for England on 16th October, 1825. For the services of the 69th in India, from 1802 to 1822—a period of twenty years—during which they had seen a great amount of fighting, they were rewarded with the distinguished privilege of bearing the word "India" on their Colours, as a mark of Royal favour. The 69th was stationed in England and Ireland from 1826 to Nov., 1831, when it sailed for the West Indies, and was stationed in detachments in the island of St. Vincent until its removal to Demerara, in 1835. Shortly after the removal of the 69th from St. Vincent, the following resolution was passed by the House of Assembly of that island, and transmitted by the Speaker to Major Brooks, in command of the regiment, which speaks volumes for the discipline and bearing of the regiment:

"That the thanks of this House be conveyed to Lieut.-Colonel Sir Charles Cuyler, Baronet, or the officer last present commanding the 69th Regiment, expressive of the high opinion they entertain of the gentlemanly, soldierlike, and orderly conduct of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of that corps, during the period of their forming the garrison of this island; and that His Honor the Speaker be requested to make the communication."

BE IT KNOWN
What is said by one who has tried
BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON,
Druggists, Montreal:
GENTLEMEN.—It is with the most grateful feelings that I give you the particulars of the cure effected upon me by the use of the Bristol's Sarsaparilla bought from you. A severe and painful rheumatism had troubled me for years, rendering my right arm almost useless, and extending across my chest and down my back, made me unable to walk, and comparatively helpless, besides much pain in the side, from my faulty doctor called liver disease. Mr. KENNEDY, my neighbor, on whom the Bristol's Sarsaparilla produced almost a miraculous cure, advised me to try a bottle or two. I did so, taking at the same time, as directed by you, a couple of Bristol's Sugar-Coated Pills occasionally. I am now entirely recovered, free from pain of every kind, and feel as if I had taken a new lease of life. I can with confidence recommend the Sarsaparilla and the Pills to any one suffering with the same troubles.

MRS. CROSBY,
Dry Goods Store, St. Mary's St., Montreal.
The afflicted may rest assured that there is not the least particle of Mineral, Mercury, or any other poisonous substance in this medicine. It is perfectly harmless, and may be administered in all kinds of weather, rainy or dry, to persons in the very weakest stages of sickness, to the most helpless infants, without doing the least injury.

Messrs. PICAUT & SOK, Chemists and Druggists, No. 42 Notre-Dame Street, Montreal, have received the following testimony:

Montreal, C. E., July 21, 1868.
Messrs. Doctors Picaut & Son.
Sirs.—This is to certify that for five years I was troubled with general debility, unable to perform any household duties, and suffering violently from palpitation of the heart. I was constantly under the influence of a chills fever, and experiencing awful pain in my whole body. I tried every thing—sought medical advice—but all in vain. Twelve months ago I was induced to try Bristol's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, experienced a decided improvement, but my means not allowing me to continue its use, I was becoming worse again, when you kindly gave me a few bottles. It was the needed remedy, and its effect on my system was wonderful. I am now another woman; I feel well, eat, well, and sleep well, and do all my work without the least fatigue. I cannot too strongly recommend this valuable medicine to the suffering, and I have not the least doubt they will derive from it the same benefit as I have.
(Signed) ANGLE DANIEL,
Wife of James Danon,
85 Prévost Street.

I certify the above to be the truth.
CELESTIN COUROT,
Sworn before me this thirty-first day of July, 1868.
J. BOULANGER,
Judge of the Peace.

IT IS ASTONISHING!

Still another grateful letter sent to Messrs. Devins & Bolton, Druggists, next the Court-house, Montreal:

Dear Sirs.—For years I have suffered severely from liver complaint, constant pain in the side, loss of appetite, intense drowsiness, and a sense of suffocation, compelling me at times to remain in bed for three or four days. For two years I was constantly taking medicine, under the advice of two of our best city physicians, without getting any relief. By their orders I spent the whole of last summer in the country, but without benefit. Last March I was advised by a friend, who knew its virtues, to try Bristol's Sarsaparilla, but I had low confidence in every thing, and was fearful of getting worse. At last I did try it; its effect was most beneficial; my appetite returned; the heavy drowsiness left me; and my digestion became vigorous and healthy. I used in all twelve bottles, and am now as strong and well as any man could desire.
You are at liberty to make my case known to the public.
Yours, very truly,
J. H. KENNEDY,
Grocer and Dealer in Wines and Spirits,
No. 100 St. Mary Street, Montreal.

READ THIS!

Still another of our well-known and highly respectable neighbors has come forward, under a sense of duty, and made the following statement:—
St. Constant, Dioc. of Lavalrieux,
May 25th, 1868.

Messrs. Devins & Bolton, Druggists, next the Court-house, Montreal:
Dear Sirs.—When I began using BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA, I had seen for nine months suffering with rheumatism, and had completely lost the use of my legs, being unable to walk during four months of the year. The first bottle of Bristol's Sarsaparilla gave me great relief, and before I had finished seven bottles I was entirely free from pain, and able to walk as well as I ever could. You will confer a favor on me by making these facts public, which I shall be glad to confirm.
Very respectfully,
THOMAS QUILLAN

DR. RADWAY'S
REMEDIES IN FRANCE.

EXTRACTS FROM THE PARIS PAPERS OF WONDROUS CURES OF Asiatic Cholera, Dysentery, Colic, Diarrhoea, Cramps, Twenty Drops of Radway's Ready Relief, in a tumblerful of the Seine water, and other drinking waters containing large quantities of Chloride of Sodium, Magnesium, Limestone, and other diuretic and diarrhetic constituents, that run through the system like quicksilver, causing the most painful discharges from the bowels and bladder, not all who drink these waters from Pain, Inconvenience, and Continued Draining, either from the Bowels or Urinary Passages.
GREAT CURE OF OVARIAN TUMOR, OF TWENTY YEARS' GROWTH, BY RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT.
Some weeks since the following information was sent us of the marvelous cure effected by RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, in Paris, of persons suffering painful discharges from the bowels and urinary passages, caused by the use of the water of the Seine, and other waters, of Cholera, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, &c., and Diabetic, Urinary, Rheumatic, Weakness, Irritation, and Inflammation of the Bladder, by diluting 20 drops of Radway's Ready Relief in a tumblerful of water. The Ready Relief was the most powerful remedy used, only a sure cure, stopping the most severe pain in from ONE TO TWENTY MINUTES, and was found to be a more strengthening tonic, appeasing and delightfully refreshing beverage, than the best French Cordials or Bitters. As a further evidence of the superior excellence of Dr. Radway's Remedies, and the wonderful success they are meeting with in France, especially in Paris, the HOME OF MEDICAL GENIUS and the city of modern sciences, we present the following testimonial from a physician who to complete their medical knowledge, we present the following unsolicited and free-will testimonial of the great curative virtues of Dr. Radway's Remedies, from the CONSTITUTIONAL GAZETTE, published at No. 6, Rue Serpente, Paris, July 12, 1869.

It will be seen by this report that Radway's Ready Relief has cured Asiatic Cholera; RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT, CONSUMPTION, and SCROFULA; Radway's Pills, the best purgative and corrector of the system. These simple medicines have out-cured and achieved a complete conquest over the most inveterate diseases, and the fact of the world. Dr. Radway would have us state that the following testimony was published without his knowledge, never having correspondence of business with said newspaper, and the publication of the same in the Gazette has been done by the publishers of the Public Good. The great success of these remedies in Paris, where our American doctors go to perfect themselves in medical knowledge, leaves no doubt in our mind that Radway's Remedies bear far in the rear. Radway's Remedies bear far in the rear. Some persons may have to take 24 bottles, whereas others are cured by six bottles; but persevere with the medicine, and a cure is certain.

DR. RADWAY'S REMEDIES are sold by Druggists and Dealers in the following cities:—New York, No. 57 Maiden Lane, New York, and No. 439 St. Paul Street, Montreal.
September 8, 1869.

That it is entirely composed of Roots and Herbs.
That it is in such repute in America, that it has large laboratories in New York and at Montreal.
In short, it appears full time that the attention of Europe should be directed to this great advance in medical treatment, which amounts to a real revolution, overthrowing the ancient rigidity of mineral poisons and violent purgatives.
It would occupy too much space to dwell on the valuable addition to medical knowledge and materia medica that have been first considered as quackery and ultimately received with open arms. Harvey's discovery of the Circulation of the Blood; that of Peruvian bark; that of the stethoscope; and countless others, have been at first ridiculed and scorned, and then adopted.

So with RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. The evidence of its efficacy is full and before the public. It is amply sufficient to prove that it is the policy of the public to adopt it generally. Medicine is no longer a secret art, to be confined to the sanctuary of the initiated. A knowledge of the healing art is open to all who choose to inquire. Corporate bodies have often proved impeded to the progress of improvement, and the world has to thank God for the free press, which has opened the eyes of mankind to the great question, they would examine for themselves, and test the truth by results.
OVARIAN TUMOR CURED.
Never has a medicine taken internally been known to have cured tumors either of the womb, ovaries, or neck of the uterus; the knife has been the sole reliance in the hands of experienced surgeons; but Dr. Radway's Sarsaparillian settles this question. For it has cured over Twenty Persons of Ovarian Cysts and Tumors, as well as Tumors in the Bowels, Uterus, Liver, Dropsical Edosion, Ascites, and Calculus Concretions. The known ingredients of Dr. Radway's Resolvent were claimed by Sir Benj. Brodie, used in their crude form, uncombined, to possess the power of dissolving stones of the bladder, and curing all irritations of the Bladder and Urinary Organs; of correcting and checking great and involuntary discharges of water; and, now in the present improved and scientific combination of these ingredients in the Sarsaparillian, has been found to be a more powerful and more remove Tumors and all other hard substances. It is called RESOLVENT, for it dissolves and melts away Tumors, Nodes, Hard Swellings, Lumps, Concretions in the Joints, Gout, Testes, Bladder, Kidneys, &c., and it is the patient's best friend in the most delicate operations of the surgeon's knife.

generally. Medicine is no longer a secret art, to be confined to the sanctuary of the initiated. A knowledge of the healing art is open to all who choose to inquire. Corporate bodies have often proved impeded to the progress of improvement, and the world has to thank God for the free press, which has opened the eyes of mankind to the great question, they would examine for themselves, and test the truth by results.

OVARIAN TUMOR CURED.
Never has a medicine taken internally been known to have cured tumors either of the womb, ovaries, or neck of the uterus; the knife has been the sole reliance in the hands of experienced surgeons; but Dr. Radway's Sarsaparillian settles this question. For it has cured over Twenty Persons of Ovarian Cysts and Tumors, as well as Tumors in the Bowels, Uterus, Liver, Dropsical Edosion, Ascites, and Calculus Concretions. The known ingredients of Dr. Radway's Resolvent were claimed by Sir Benj. Brodie, used in their crude form, uncombined, to possess the power of dissolving stones of the bladder, and curing all irritations of the Bladder and Urinary Organs; of correcting and checking great and involuntary discharges of water; and, now in the present improved and scientific combination of these ingredients in the Sarsaparillian, has been found to be a more powerful and more remove Tumors and all other hard substances. It is called RESOLVENT, for it dissolves and melts away Tumors, Nodes, Hard Swellings, Lumps, Concretions in the Joints, Gout, Testes, Bladder, Kidneys, &c., and it is the patient's best friend in the most delicate operations of the surgeon's knife.

The following letter, or certificate of cure, was received on the 20th day of July, 1869. The lady is unknown to us, but she is well known in Beverly, Mass., those interested can write her, and make inquiries of her status of the selection of the town. We publish the letter at the lady's request.
TUMOR OF 12 YEARS' GROWTH CURED BY RADWAY'S RESOLVENT.
BEVERLY, Mass., July 18, 1869.
DR. RADWAY: I have had Ovarian Tumor in the ovaries and bowels. All the doctors and Dr. Nicholas Bart, D.C.C., tried everything that was recommended, but nothing helped me. I saw your Resolvent, and thought I would try it, but had NO FAITH in it, because I had suffered for TWELVE YEARS. I took six BOTTLES of Resolvent, one bottle of Radway's Pills, and used two bottles of your READY RELIEF; and there is not a sign of a tumor to be SEEN or FELT, and I feel BETTER, SMARTER, and happier than I have for 12 years. The worst tumor was removed, and my bowels are now regular. I write this for you for the benefit of others. You can publish it if you choose.

That it is entirely composed of Roots and Herbs.
That it is in such repute in America, that it has large laboratories in New York and at Montreal.
In short, it appears full time that the attention of Europe should be directed to this great advance in medical treatment, which amounts to a real revolution, overthrowing the ancient rigidity of mineral poisons and violent purgatives.
It would occupy too much space to dwell on the valuable addition to medical knowledge and materia medica that have been first considered as quackery and ultimately received with open arms. Harvey's discovery of the Circulation of the Blood; that of Peruvian bark; that of the stethoscope; and countless others, have been at first ridiculed and scorned, and then adopted.

So with RADWAY'S READY RELIEF. The evidence of its efficacy is full and before the public. It is amply sufficient to prove that it is the policy of the public to adopt it generally. Medicine is no longer a secret art, to be confined to the sanctuary of the initiated. A knowledge of the healing art is open to all who choose to inquire. Corporate bodies have often proved impeded to the progress of improvement, and the world has to thank God for the free press, which has opened the eyes of mankind to the great question, they would examine for themselves, and test the truth by results.
