PART TWO

Into the Prairies

The Quebec Press Party has now had two nights and a day on the C.N.R. and a glimpse of rolling prairie lands is before us. Last night John Giles had his 19th birthday, so nothing would do but that occasion be marked and so it was the dining car steward had a birthday cake made after all dinners had been served. The steward brought the cake into our car, beautifully iced and appropriately decorated. John may have been sleepy but for all of that he was a unique event and not likely to happen again in his lifetime, amid such an environment.

First View of West

Some of our party were having their first glimpse of the West and when we got to Winnipeg nothing would do but let's get a car and see as much as we can during the hour stop over. Some went up to Portage Ave., some to The Hudson Bay Store, others to the Fort Garry Hotel. Everybody returned to the car on time and refreshed after seeing Winnipeg for such a short interval of time. The train rolls on across the prairies and to our general amazement we find a great growth of shrubs and trees has been placed since last out that way in 1940. The depression and drought rather than a palliative. Senator Taft, the leading Republican in a Republican Congress and a possible successor to Truman as president, last week stated the opposite position: "We wish to help, but an international W.P.A. would fall to solve the problem."

Marshall Plan and Canada

It is touch and go, a 50-50 chance, whether the United States Congress will accept the Marshall Plan or anything like it. The question, as James Reston has pointed out, is not whether the United States should do anything or nothing, but whether it should finance recovery or merely relief, whether it should try to get the patient on his feet or merely keep him alive. Secretary of State Marshall made the position clear at the outset as far as the Truman Administration was concerned; he wanted "a plan rather than a palliative." Senator Taft, the leading Republican in a Republican Congress and a possible successor to Truman as president, last week stated the opposite position: "We wish to help, but an international W.P.A. would fall to solve the problem."

This is the background against which we must think about the Plan and its implications for Canada. We are affected in two quite different ways. On the one hand, we are supremely interested in the revival of Europe. If Europe is going to be anything but a very sick man, it is necessary that all sorts of diseases like instability, unrest, inflation, revolution, and communism, it must have some very powerful shots in the arm during the next few years, and these are just what the Marshall Plan offers. If Europe recovers we can look forward to a reasonable amount of stability and prosperity ourselves; if it doesn't we can't.

On the other hand, the plan of the sixteen countries including Great Britain, put forward last week in response to Marshall's original offer, is in a form that is very embarrassing to us. These countries, instead of just saying what they will need for the next four years from the United States, said what they will need from the rest of North and South America as well. They expected to run a trade deficit of $16 billion with the United States and a further $6 billion with the rest of the two continents.

Psychiatrist's Place in the Community Subject of Talk

Howick Community School Members Hear Dr. T. E. Dancy

Those who attended Community School on Oct. 8th, heard a most interesting address by Dr. T. E. Dancy, leading Psychiatrist at Queen Mary Road Veterans' Hospital, Montreal. No doubt some who were absent gave a practical demonstration along lines suggested in the lecture i.e., giving their children of school and pre-school age, the love and care necessary to prevent the growth of neurotic tendencies. Country people were given credit by the speaker for taking time to think so we may suppose that others not present, were thinking!

Dr. M. Stalker in introducing the speaker, spoke very highly of Dr. Dancy's ability and thought we were fortunate in having him to address us. He also mentioned that Dr. Dancy was married to Dr. McEwen's daughter from Huntingdon, who was present with him.

TO ADDRESS JERSEY CLUB MEMBERS

Mr. W. F. Welch thanked the speaker in his usual ably manner, and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

O'Connor Garage Sold

Mrs. D. J. O'Connor reports having sold her garage and adjacent lot to Messrs. James Smythe and Mac Smellie. Messrs. Smythe and Smellie take possession to-day. Officially we have been informed the new proprietors plan to make several general improvements about the property. The General Motors agency transfer has not yet been announced, but will quite likely be made at an early date, but who the new representative will be is still an open question.

Beaudin Store in Ormstown Changes Hands After 35 Years

The old established business of A. Beaudin & Son, Ormstown, Que., has been sold to C. H. Bolduc, an employee of the firm. The business which is one catering in groceries, fruits and vegetables, was started by A. Beaudin in 1912 and operated under the above name. Mr. Herbert Beaudin, who is the son, worked with his father, in the business and later bought out his father's interest.

It is the same store and at the same stand as originally located 35 years ago and has become a well-known business in Ormstown for fair dealing with the public and thus Mr. Beaudin was very well liked and respected by all who were customers at his store.

The dining room table was nicely decorated with a three-tier wedding cake, two tall white candles, also two pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Dear, one of which was their original Wedding Picture, taken 50 years ago and the other a recent picture taken for the happy event being celebrated.

Hired Man on Farm Getting Better Deal

Ottawa.—The Canadian farm-hand, who once toiled from dawn to dusk for $20 a month and "all found", is fast moving into the big-money class.

He now is earning, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today, an average of $41.14 a day and $27.75 a month where the farmer provides his board, compared with $4.04 and $75.28, respectively, just a year ago.

Where the farm worker provides his own board, the wages are $5.17 a day and $109.03 a month against $4.95 and $100.62, respectively, this time last year.

These wages, reported as at Aug. 15, are higher than at any time since comparable statistics became available in 1940. Except in the case of monthly wages with board, Saskatchewan wages are the highest among the provinces, while Prince Edward Island's are the lowest.

A View Behind the Scenes

While the projector mechanism is operated on the ordinary electric power known as 60 cycle A.C. (Alternating Current), the power for the lighting of the arc lamp is generated from D.C. or Direct Current. As the power supplied in Huntingdon is A.C., it was necessary to install a generator for the D.C. current to supply the lamp. This has been installed underneath the booth, and is of the very latest type. Certain precautions had to be taken in order to take out the vibration of this generator which would reflect in the sound/head as do disturbances in a radio. Thus resistors were figured out and made to reduce the resistance required in starting the motors and so keep the vibration to a minimum. Heat had to be kept down, so special ventilators and fans were installed.

The old projectors had iron legs on which the mechanism was placed, the new machines have enclosed bases and all the controls and wiring are enclosed within these or special sockets are made to which extra equipment can be attached.

Safeguard against Fire

As most people are aware, the film is highly inflammable and to safeguard against possible fire in the booth which may spread to the rest of the theatre, special precautions have to be taken. The inside of the booth is all tin lined and the floor is covered with a fire re-

Special Lens Employed

We might mention that the lens used in the new projectors are known as the "Roskote" lens, considered to be the best in the world for movie projectors. They are manufactured in England under a special process and are coated on all surfaces. The "Roskote" lens are best for colour pictures and provide the maximum of purity of colour on the screen. The projector is known as the "Simplex" and it provides the utmost in projection equipment throughout. It is the same type as used in the better movie theatres in Montreal and

THE NEW PROJECTORS AT O'CONNOR THEATRE—The above shows the type of new projectors installed at the O'Connor Theatre in recent months and now in operation for the benefit of patrons. These projectors were described in an article in The Gleaner last week and in the continuation of the article in this issue. The various white knobs are the controls and the big round body immediately over the base is the lamp house and unit. The two round pieces at top and bottom in front of the machine are the magazines in which the film is wound. Immediately in front of the lamp house is the projector unit itself which contains the threading mechanism for the film and the lens. Underneath this is the sound head which causes the sound or voices etc., for the picture. It can easily be seen how neat and compact these machines are and at the same time some idea of the care that can be obtained. These are the very latest in motion picture projectors and are very easily adjusted to suit conditions and showing.

New Type of Screen

Now, just a word on the type of screen at this theatre. In the days gone by it was common to stretch a white sheet on a frame and show the pictures on it. There have been advancements in this and as improvements have been made theatres have installed them. So it is that the O'Connor Theatre has installed a new type of screen known as the Walker Plastic-Screen. This screen is a specially prepared fabric that maintains its whiteness for a considerable length of time and does not become yellowed with plastic substance from time to time to bring back its original finish. It is made up of a number of small perforations scientifically arranged to produce as near a perfect image as is known today. The reason of the perforations is to permit the light to pass through and to deflect and diffuse the light so as to prevent glare. This is possible to sit close up to the screen or at the sides of the theatre and not be bothered by glare which tends to give a distorted view. In the case of coloured films it is particularly useful and tends to prevent the flashing that often accompanies the changing colours on the screen. A moulding made of aluminium and painted to imitate wood has been constructed by Mr. Rousseau and this has been placed around the screen to make it look like a huge picture frame. It is a very nice piece of work and adds much to the attraction of the stage of the theatre.

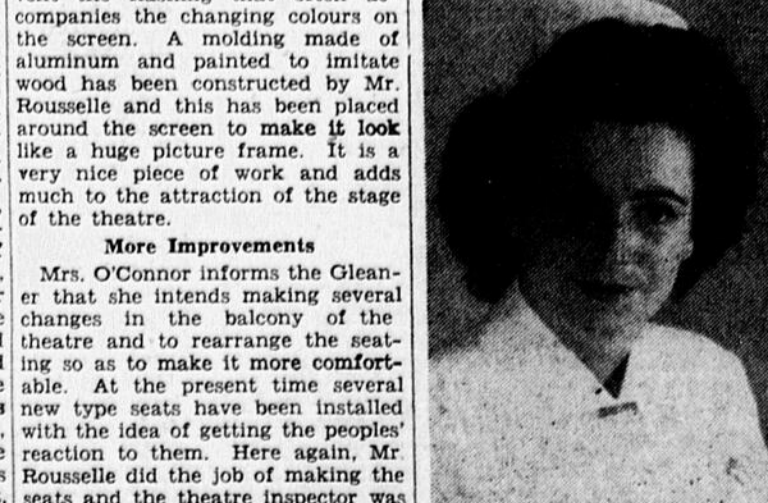

More Improvements

Mrs. O'Connor informs the Gleaner that she intends making several changes in the balcony of the theatre and to rearrange the seating so as to make it more comfortable. At the present time several new type seats have been installed with the idea of getting the peoples' reaction to them. Here again, Mr. Rousseau did the job of making the seats and the theatre inspector was quite complimentary when he passed them for use. It is also intended to slope the floor in the balcony to make for better view of the screen and to make a walk around the seats so that patrons will be able to move around with greater ease.

Hospitals Appreciate Help

THANKSGIVING Sunday saw a number of the churches throughout the Chateauguay Valley hold harvest collections for the benefit of the Huntingdon County Hospital and the Barrie Memorial Hospital. Other congregations that have not yet held such collections of garden produce, jams, jellies, and what not else to help augment the larder of these hospitals, will undoubtedly make their collection either this coming Sunday or in the very near future. These supplies are greatly appreciated by the hospitals and go a long way toward making these essential institutions for the welfare of mankind, so much more like being cared for at home.

On Friday, the Huntingdon County Hospital held its regular monthly meeting of the board of management. The financial standing of the Huntingdon County Hospital is commendable, but before next summer when the annual Provincial grant of $5,000 will again be forthcoming, the hospital will be short of funds. Each year at this time of season many firms and individuals make cash contributions to the welfare of the hospital and it is to be hoped these donations will again be forthcoming and that the number of such contributors will be increased. Receipts for such donations are given and which can be used in connection with income tax deductions.

The annual membership fee to The Huntingdon County Hospital is $10. Many members have already paid their annual dues, but still many have not, and there are undoubtedly many people in this community who would like to identify themselves with the hospital as members. Those who would like to either pay their annual membership fee or become members, may do so through paying same to Mr. N. F. Manning, Manager, Bank of Commerce, who has voluntarily offered his services to look after this part of the hospital financing. The Life Membership fee is $100 for one person or $150 for man and wife.

Hospitals are essential, they seldom if ever finance themselves and those of us who are able, should most certainly at this Thanksgiving season show our appreciation of enjoying health, through supporting such institutions that offer such valuable aid to people not so fortunate and who require hospital care.

Minister St. Laurent Sees Danger

THE resurrection of the Comintern has aroused fear and suspicion in the minds of all persons and governments. The fear is not that type that makes one scurry into the corners and hide away, it is the type that is of the consequences of the action. The suspicion is as to who may be working for the Comintern, where and at what time. We in Canada, are not afraid of what Russia can do, for if she starts something so can we. But we do not want to have to do this and we won't do it if we can prevent it. But we cannot afford to let complacency hold sway and not take precautions to know what is going on.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent let this be known when he addressed the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in the early part of the past week. He said: "We are not going to jump to hasty conclusions, but we are not going to stand idly by and allow situations to develop to the point where they would be irremediable."

He spoke of "theory-crazed totalitarian groups" and that when Canada takes its place as a member of the Security Council of the United Nations, that we will go to the extreme limits to make U.N. function as a "universal one-world organization". This is the type of straight from the shoulder policy all members of the United Nations should use from now on. Unless those nations which desire peace and the democratic way of life, show they are firm in what they intend to do, Russia will continually spoil the plan and lead to ultimate unrest.

The more our production is spoiled by the continual strikes, the less chance will there be of Europe recovering. The plan to upset the workings of the Marshall Plan as specified by the Communists, if allowed to take effect will lead to general dissatisfaction and strife. That is what Russia wants. She wants internal strife and dissatisfaction not only in Europe but in all so-called capitalistic countries. Canada will be called upon to do her part in support of the Marshall Plan and she will have to do it if the world is to return to a peaceful era where all men can live successfully. Minister St. Laurent can see this and he is issuing the warning that all should heed—buckle down to work and quit squabbling—if you don't there'll be nothing worth squabbling about. Every time production is held up, a blow is struck at Europe's recovery and a blow is struck at our own. It is vital to our own recovery and well-being that Europe also recover. If our own standard of living is to be kept up, Europe must be placed on a sound footing. Russia knows this and that is why she is anxious that the Marshall Plan fail. She would then be able to point to the inability of capitalism to find a solution that would bring world recovery. In other words she would tell the world that capitalistic countries are through and proceed to take over Europe to her own fold, not by choice but from fate of circumstances. It would be, come to us or starve. We cannot let that happen, for our survival would depend on our ability to carry on with a restricted trade balance and would resemble a war blockade. We must have trade in order to keep our manufactures going, we must have markets for our goods and we need to buy the goods from other countries to augment our own supply. The Marshall plan is to restore Europe to its former trading and world capacity and to supply its people with the things they need in return for the things we need, make it self-supporting and take the present strain off the nations that are now bearing the burden. One totalitarian got us into this mess, we do not want to wait for another totalitarian to push us still further into it.

The United Nations can be made to work, but more backbone must be put into it, and that means that all freedom loving and democratic nations must be prepared to back each other up to the limit. Mr. St. Laurent shows promise that Canada will do its utmost.

Art and the Civil Service

MANY of the world's best writers were developed in the columns of the daily and weekly press. Even the arty clan which preaches art for art's sake and affects disdain for "commercial hacks" who write for newspapers, recognizes that fact but cannot understand it.

There are obvious reasons why the press so often breeds literary giants. Most literary greats were hired and fired a dozen times by assorted publishers. While this disciplinary sword sharpened wits and increased output, it had an even more important function; it taught them independence, for the good writer soon discovered that there was usually a job for him somewhere in the field.

This sense of freedom and independence of thought led to unabridged expression of opinion. A study of Fleet Streeters like Chesterton, Shaw and Kipling would illustrate the point.

Radio is this country and England seems doomed to make no comparable contribution to literature. Monopolized by one body—the Government—it is unlikely to develop inspired work in literary fields. Many talented CBC writers may never bloom maturely when the knowledge that dismissal by CBC cuts them off from all network opportunity. This knowledge is almost certain to breed a slavish regard for CBC opinion in the subconscious mind of the most honest writer.

If we desire the development of anything but a government-manufactured pseudo-culture from radio, we must release it from the deadening hand of monopoly. Even the best of writers cannot be expected to perform artistically within the civil-servant atmosphere of the CBC.

Time For Thinking

AS he goes about the leisurely task of making the place snug for winter, the man on the farm often finds these days that he has a few free hours. Indian summer weather, with a suggestion of frost in the crisp air morning and night but with mellow sunshine in the afternoon, lends itself to thinking.

With hay and grain in his own barn and the silo filled to overflowing with fodder, it is almost inevitable that the farmer should turn his thoughts to the farmers in Europe who know only want on their war-devastated farmlands. He resolves to do what he can to help them although how to transfer North America's bounty to hungry Europe puzzles even statesmen.

But that is one of the big thoughts that come into the farmer's mind as he scuffles through fallen leaves or tramps the brown stubble of the empty fields. His mind, freed from worry over the cares of crop production, often turns to matters nearer home.

He may think, for instance, of an act of kindness to be done close at hand, of a community problem needing solution or of a local improvement that could be made. Sometimes he muses over his ambitions for his acres and compares what he has accomplished with his long-term aims.

The clear air, no longer burdened with the drowsy blue haze of late summer, makes for clear thinking. Ideas stand out as sharply as the stout trunks and branches of the trees.

This is one of the rare times for relaxation on the farm and sometimes the post-Thanksgiving reverie almost induces laziness. But the sight of wild geese winging southward and of squirrels building their hoard of hazelnuts point to winter ahead and perhaps a chance to make autumn dreams come true.

October's Pockets

IN October the man of the temperate zone can put his coat on again and get some work done. During the warmer weather he has been frustrated by the lack of pockets. His shirt has only one pocket—two at the most—and there are only four or five trouser pockets. No man can hope to carry much equipment in so few pockets. His pipe is almost always missing and has to be hunted down before any work can be done. Then his tobacco pouch is missing. No! here it is in his hip pocket. Well, where are those spectacles? Left them in the car—probably along with the key ring and the card case and that list of things to get at the hardware store.

In October a man can carry his working kit with him. October brings out the waistcoat, which has four pockets and even in rare specimens of waistcoats a fifth pocket on the inside, an excellent place to carry money and lose it forever. Then there is the jacket. A jacket is not reliable in summer. It is eventually remembered to be hanging on the back of a chair in another room or in the garden at Aunt Sadie's. October's jacket is much more likely to be nearby when a man needs to go through its pockets. Besides, there are the topcoat pockets for really bulky pieces of luggage.

In October, contentedly laden with his belongings, a man becomes almost as efficient as a woman. Women scorn pockets. They carry handbags and assert that men look funny scratching through twenty and more pockets for the theatre tickets. Women prefer to lose everything in one place.

The Searchlight of Publicity

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

The sensational charges of "warmongering" against the United States made by Soviet delegate Vishinsky in the United Nations General Assembly recall similar charges made by Hitler against Great Britain before the last World War. It will be remembered that Hitler, in his periodical hysterical outburst, named certain politicians and other leading men in Britain as "warmongers." Mr. Vishinsky has mimicked the German dictator by naming Americans who have insisted upon a firm stand against the duplicity and aggression of the Soviet and its domination of the United Nations by means of the veto.

Lloyd George was one of the first to call upon the British Government to "Stand up to the dictators!" Hitler noted Winston Churchill for his persistent efforts in parliament and out to awaken the Government and the people of Britain to the growing menace of Nazi Germany. The Fuehrer furiously denounced Mr. Churchill as a "warmonger." If there had been a few similar "warmongers" at that time in high position in the United States, there would have been no Second World War. But Churchill was a voice crying in the wilderness.

The situation is very different today. The United States government and the American people are fully awake to the Hitlerian tactics and propaganda of the Soviet. Hitler did not want a world war, neither does Stalin today. The angry outbursts of Vishinsky is a case of chagrin at being detected and exposed in a virtual annexation of occupied territory and the renewal of Communist fifth-column movement for "world revolution."

Mr. Vishinsky is quite correct in accusing Americans of propaganda, but it would be more correctly termed counter-propaganda. It is the propaganda of the searchlight. "Men love darkness rather than light, because their deeds are evil," and the Russian leaders are writhing and squealing under the glare of publicity. The searchlight has penetrated the screen that has been thrown around Eastern Europe since the close of the war, revealing the ruthless extermination of national leaders who dare to oppose or utter a word against the Soviet plans for the creation of puppet states which are eventually to be absorbed in the Russian Empire.

Poland, Bulgaria, Roumania, Hungary and Yugoslavia have all been brought into subjection to the Soviet. They are termed "democracies of a special nature," but they are only transitional on the way to complete absorption. Czechoslovakia is the only country within the Russian encirclement that is not completely subjected to Communist suppression, but even that country is under Soviet dictatorship in regard to international affairs.

When it is recalled that Britain, Canada and the rest of the Commonwealth went to war in the first place in fulfilment of a pledge to protect Poland against any aggressor, the present domination of that country by Russia is a piece of tragic irony. Poland was rescued from the grasp of Germany only to be swallowed by the Soviet Union, which Britain and the United States helped to save from the domination of Germany!

These are facts that cannot be denied, and which Mr. Vishinsky sought to obscure with a smoke-screen of abuse and falsification against the United States. Such tactics are not even cunning. To the Western mind they are childish, and the curious thing is that a man of Mr. Vishinsky's apparent intelligence should think they could fool anybody. But it is the way of all dictators to resort to bombast when their ambitious plans are thwarted. The purpose is to scare their opponents into submission. But the intensity of Mr. Vishinsky's tirade only served to stiffen the backs of his opponents and to rouse Hector McNeill, the British delegate, to a reply that demolished the "iron curtain."

Mr. George Sutton and his two brothers Messrs. Ernest and Harold Sutton, of Covey Hill, motored to Maniwaki, Que., on Wednesday and returned home on Sunday afternoon, proudly displaying a large moose which they managed to bag about 82 miles on the other side of Maniwaki. The moose weighs in the neighbourhood of 1200 pounds. This is George's second trip to the Northern part of the province this fall, so he no doubt feels very proud about coming home with this apparently elusive animal. It seems that there are many more hunters in the field than there are moose to hunt, so when one finally manages to get one, it is no mean accomplishment.
Mrs. Lloyd Hadley and Mrs. George Cookman, of Lacolle, Que., were Wednesday overnight guests of Mrs. George Sutton. Mrs. Sutton and Fern returned home with them on Thursday, where they visited Mrs. Sutton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cookman, for a few days.

SECOND SERIES

Huntingdon Locals

Mr. Gilbert MacMillan's final article on his observation in Scotland and England which appeared in the Gleaner last week, there was an omission that was entirely the fault of the Gleaner. We hasten to correct this error. Mr. MacMillan was making reference to the causes of trouble in England, how it is that people who have and those who have not may be called upon to suffer unduly, and there is always fear of one having to suffer merely because of the other and one must be careful not to take away all the responsibilities of a man or his family welfare. "What is hamstringing Britain today is the lack of responsibility on the part of a considerable proportion of her people for their own welfare and their duty to the State". Is the way this sentence should have read.

Helicopter Over Huntingdon

Quite a number of people saw the helicopter that came over Huntingdon on Thursday, but few knew who was actually in the machine. However, it was Sgt. B. A. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dawson, Prince St., together with the pilot, P.O. Tom Causey. They were enroute to Dartmouth, N.S., flying from Trenton, Ont., by way of Cornwall, Ont., the night before, on account of not having instruments for night flying. While there, the Cornwall Daily Newspaper, The Standard-Freeholder, took pictures and wrote up a story on the helicopter. While over Huntingdon, the machine came down low over the home of Sgt. Dawson's parents and hovered for a short time while they waved. Mr.

and Mrs. Dawson could see the occupants quite clearly and were quite happy over the event. It was while it was thus hovering, that many people saw the machine and wondered about it. This machine is one of only two of its kind in Canada and Sgt. Dawson has received special instruction in the mechanical upkeep of the machine and forms part of the crew as a mechanic. The machine is owned by the government and will be situated on the east coast to take part in air and sea rescue work.

Harvest Service Gifts for Hospital

Several churches have already held their Harvest Thanksgiving Services and as a result have turned over to the Huntingdon County Hospital quantities of vegetables, fruits, canned goods, etc. Among those to be acknowledged at this time are the following: Athelstan Presbyterian, Elgin Presbyterian, Gore United, Huntingdon Presbyterian, Huntingdon United and $1.00 in cash, St. John's, Huntingdon. Other gifts have also been received as follows: Mrs. Robt. Milne, jam, pickle and eggs; 104 large cans of plums have been processed and turned over to the hospital through the courtesy of the following: Watterson Family, Dundas, a merchant of Huntingdon, sugar; the canning was done by Mr. Lumsden of Athelstan. The officials of the hospital are very grateful for these donations and extend their thanks for this needed help.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cassidy spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ferns and son Melvin, at Mooers, N. Y.

Play Safe and Pay by Cheque

Cash Transactions Entail Risk And Inconvenience

Ever sympathized with a friend who mislaid some cash and never found it? It was hard luck... and so unnecessary.

Your friend couldn't mislay money kept in a Bank of Montreal account, where it would earn interest as well. He'd find a chequebook just as convenient as a roll of bills... and much safer.

Or perhaps your friend paid cash for something, forgot his receipt and needed one later. That's another unpleasant predicament... and also unnecessary. If he'd paid by B of M cheque, the missing receipt wouldn't matter because the cheque, when cashed, becomes proof of payment.

You'd do that friend a sound service by suggesting that he open a B of M account. W. K. Pope, local branch manager, and his staff will welcome the opportunity to look after his interests... and yours.

United Church W. A. Meeting
The Women's Association of St. Andrew's United Church held their monthly meeting, Oct. 9th, at the home of Miss Ethel Williams.

A very pleasant feature of the meeting was a stork shower for the President, Mrs. D. Orr. The many lovely presents received were much appreciated by Mrs. Orr who thanked the members and friends for their thoughtfulness.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. J. E. McNaughton. A very successful supper was reported with net proceeds being well over $300. Plans were completed for providing meals for the Sunday School Convention, on Oct. 16th.

It was decided to hold the Annual Fall Bazaar in November, and some plans were made for it. The members were asked to go to the Hall Tuesday afternoon to complete the quilt.

Special refreshments were served by the hostesses Miss Ethel Williams, Mrs. R. Williams, Mrs. Herb. McNaughton and Mrs. Geo. M. Brown.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to thank our Huntingdon friends for their help and encouragement during our stay there. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chodat.

The family of the late John M. Barrington wish to express their sincere thanks to relatives, neighbours and friends for floral tributes, acts of kindness and sympathy during their recent bereavement.

I wish to thank my many friends and classmates for cards, flowers, candy and other gifts received during my recent stay in Hospital. Also the Doctors and hospital staff of the Huntingdon County and Barrie Memorial Hospitals. Ted Bernhardt

I wish to express my sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbours for the kindness shown me, and words of sympathy, in my recent sad bereavement. Edith Mabon.

The family of the late Andrew MacDonald wish to express their sincere thanks to all their friends and relatives for their many acts of kindness and sympathy and for floral offerings in our recent sad bereavement.

In Memoriam

GREENWAY: In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Frank Greenway, who passed away October 17th, 1944.

This day brings back sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
For those who think of you today,
Are those who loved you best.
Sadly missed by his Wife and Family.

SAMPLE: In fond and loving memory of Melbourne Sample, who passed away Oct. 14th, 1941.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach.

Sweet to remember him who once was here
And tho' absent now, is just as dear.
Father, Mother, Sisters Ruby and Will.

Hello Folks!

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmmm!"

For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate acting as a milk modifier for bottle-fed infants.

$ Canadian $$ For United Kingdom

More than half of the United Kingdom's supply of Canadian dollars derived from exports to Canada results from Canadian purchase of textile products. These consist of raw materials for further manufacture in Canada and semi or fully-manufactured goods which enter Canada under British Preferential Duties and are competitive with Canadian-made products.

Canadian import figures show that in 1947 the dollar value of British textile products received has been 53.5 per cent of all Canadian imports from Britain in the eight main classifications. During 1946 the ratio was 49.8 per cent while in the pre-war years the annual average was 35.5 per cent for 1935-1939.

The following table summarizes the dollar value of Canadian imports from the United Kingdom:

Products	In Million Dollars
	Aver.	1946	1947
	(A)	Pre-war	(B)
Fibres and textiles	$ 42.8	$64.9	$83.6
Iron	22.6	15.4	24.2
Agricultural, etc.	18.0	5.6	5.0
Non-met. minerals	13.0	14.2	14.2
Chemicals, etc.	6.8	5.7	6.6
Non-ferrous metals	5.9	18.4	15.6
Animals	4.4	4.1	4.8
Wood and paper	3.6	2.0	2.0

(A) Annual average, 1935-1939.
 (B) First six months imports in 1947 multiplied by two for purposes of comparison.
 (C) Miscellaneous imports not included in table.

Included above under "Iron and its Products" are purchases of British textile machinery by the Canadian textile industry. These averaged $733,000 for the pre-war years, totalled $1,761,116 in 1946 and will amount to $2,904,392 in 1947 on the basis of actual imports during the first half of the current year.

Man Leaps From Second Floor to Save Child From Train WINS DOW AWARD

ALEX CANAVAN OF SYDNEY MINES, N.S., is hero in quick and daring rescue

The roar of the approaching express could be heard plainly when Mrs. Canavan first noticed 16-month-old Jackie Holec sitting bewildered in the middle of the track. Yelling for assistance, she ran from her home toward the frightened child.

HEARS WIFE'S CRIES
When Alex Canavan heard his wife's cries, he rushed out on the second floor balcony to see what was the matter. Realizing there was not a moment to lose, and that his wife could not possibly reach the child in time, he vaulted over the balcony and leaped two floors to the ground.

IN THE NICK OF TIME
Attracted by the excitement, the child's horror-stricken mother looked on as a race developed between Canavan and the fast-approaching train. The engine was only a few yards from the terrified child when Canavan leaped onto the tracks. Snatching the baby from almost under the wheels, Canavan hurled himself and young Jackie clear. Together they rolled down the embankment - safe!

Such cool courage and quick thinking in an emergency is worthy of the admiration of every Canadian. We are proud to pay tribute to these fine qualities in Alex Canavan of Sydney Mines, N.S., through the presentation of The Dow Award.

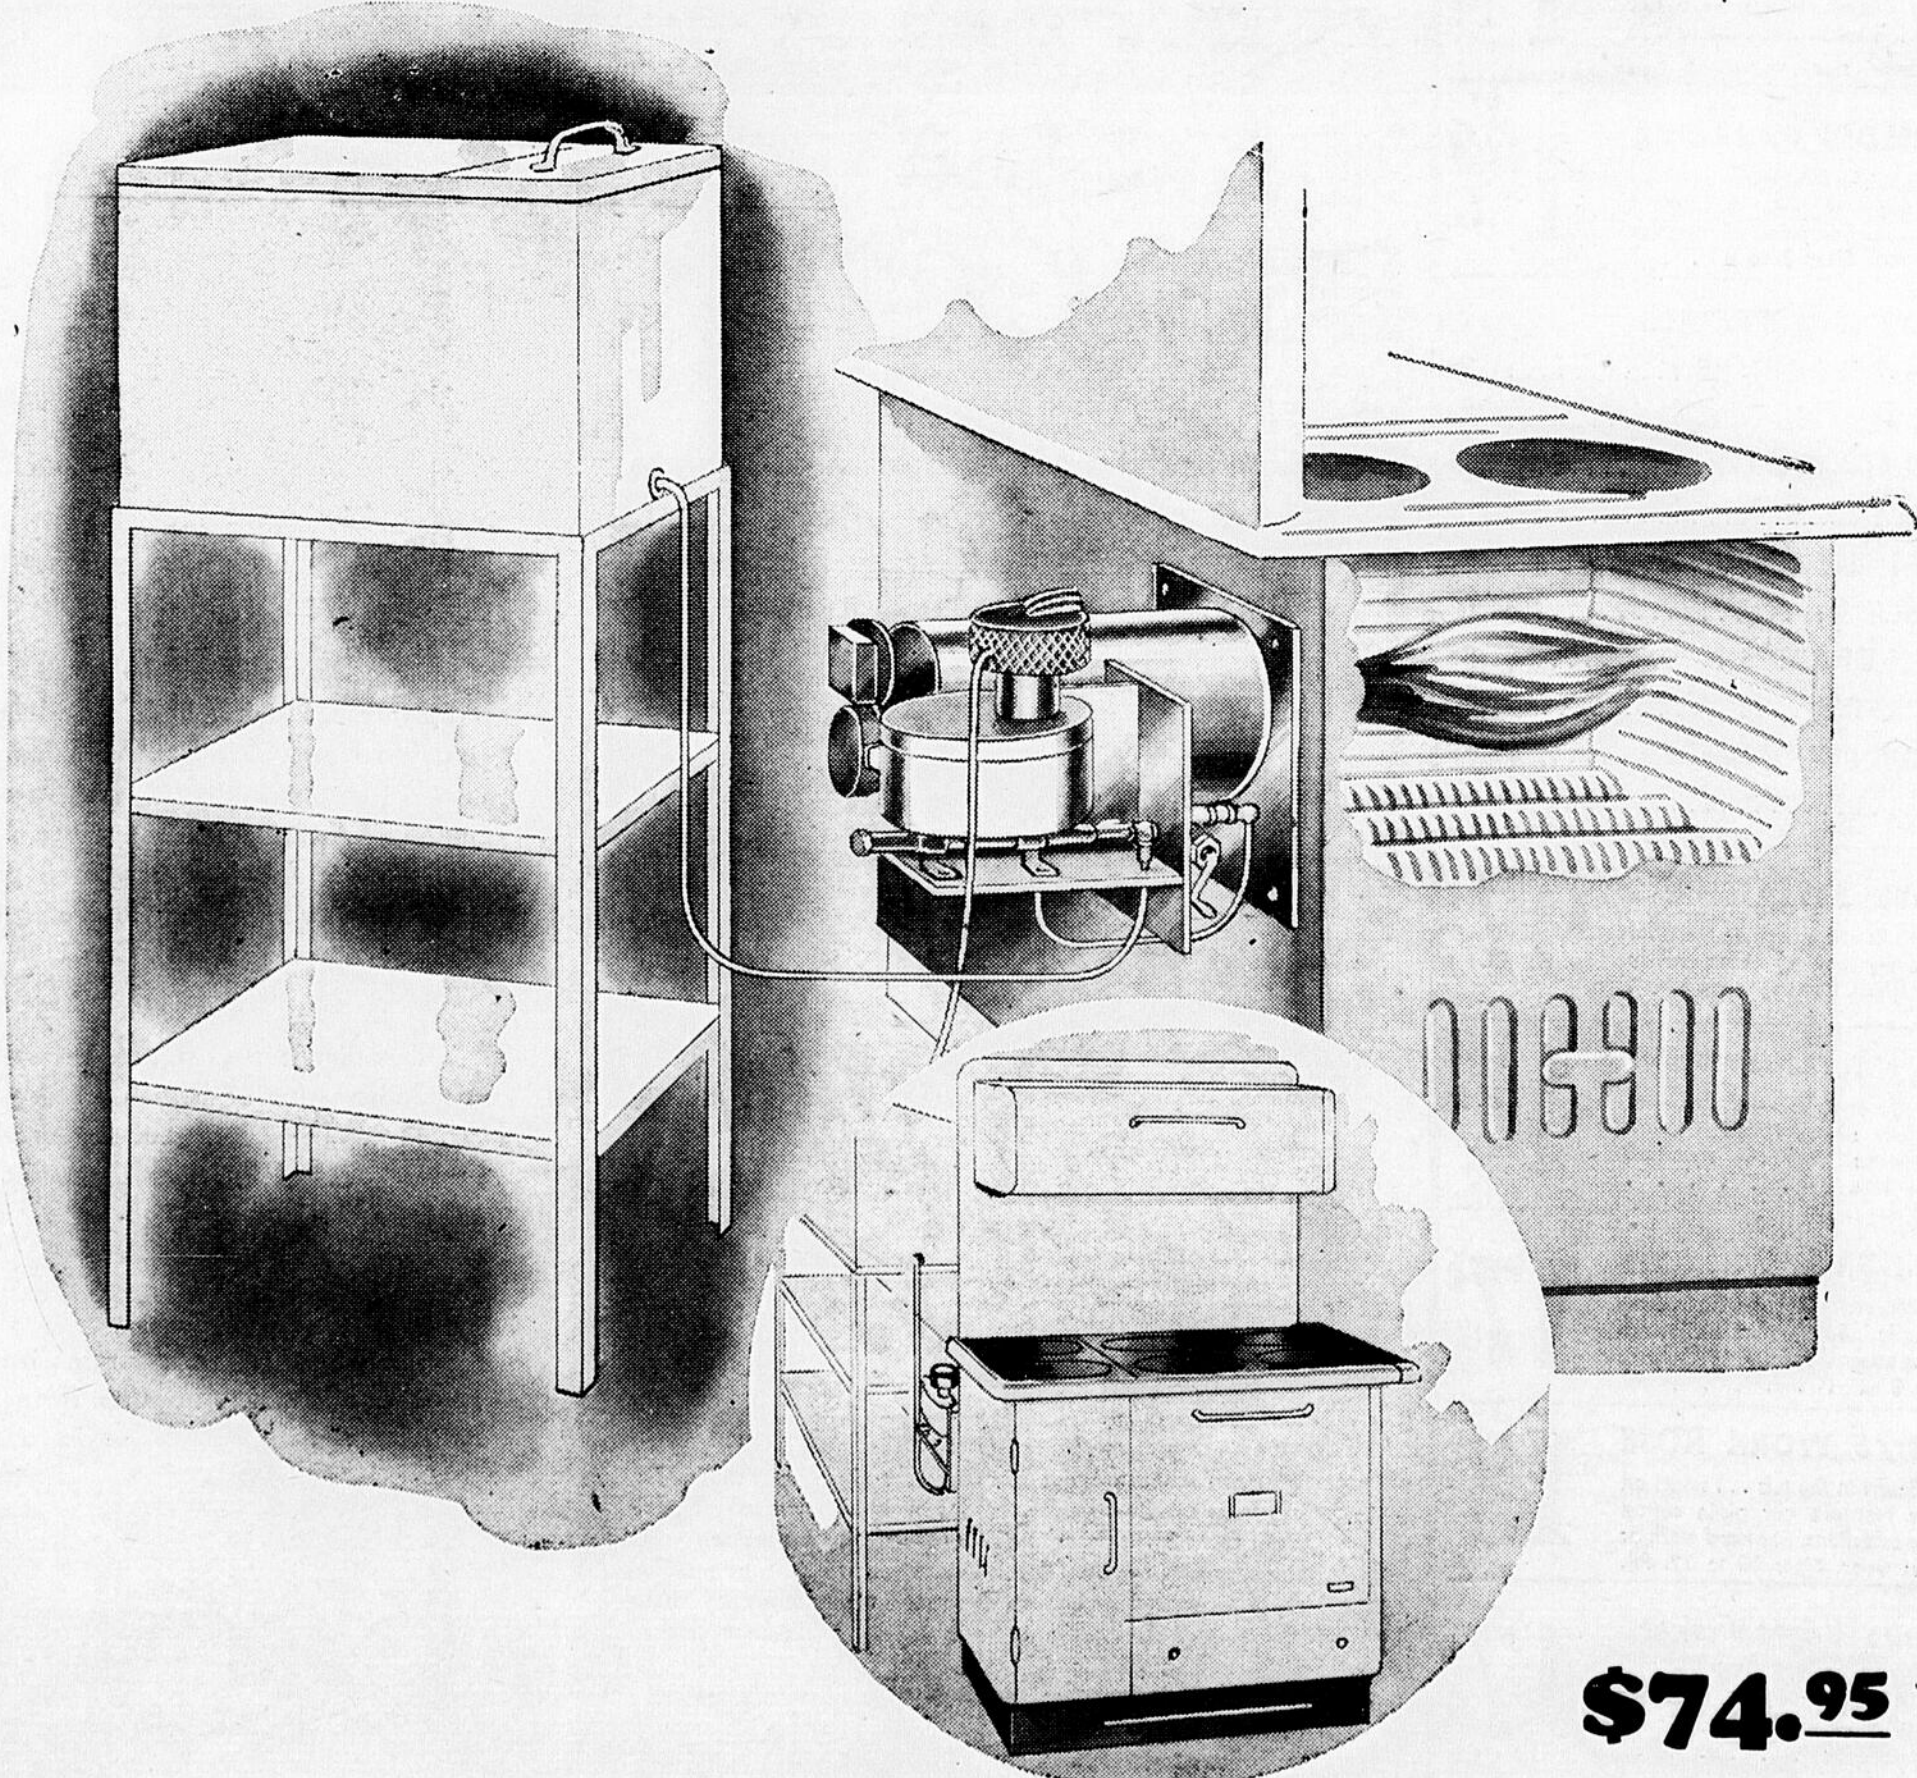

THE DOW AWARD is a distinction for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of Canadian daily newspapers.
