UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (AP) — Russia goes before the United Nations security council today with charges that the United States deliberately violated Soviet borders with spy planes.

The United States, will reply Monday, and President Eisenhower has instructed U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge to hit back hard in accordance with Washington's tough new line toward Soviet threats and accusations.

One of the Kremlin's senior diplomats, deputy foreign minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, will deliver a detailed, all-afternoon speech that Soviet sources said will conclude with a demand for condemnation of the U.S. as an aggressor.

Russia's complaint to the council is titled "new aggressive acts by the air force of the United States against the Soviet Union, creating a threat to universal peace."

The complaint grew out of the shooting down of a U.S. RB-47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea by a Soviet jet fighter July 1. The Soviet Union charged that the aircraft was over Soviet waters on an espionage mission.

The Russians are holding two of the plane's six crew members and are expected to try them as spies. The Russians recovered the body of the plane's pilot. The other three men are missing.

The U.S. claims the plane was surveying magnetic lines of force in Arctic waters for mapping and was shot down over international waters. The state department said it was never closer than 30 miles to the Soviet shores.

The present case is the fourth in which the Soviet Union has attacked the U.S. in the security

To pay Canada visit Lumumba seeking technical help

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (CP) — Premier Patrice Lumumba announced today that he will visit Canada and "other countries" soon to seek technical assistance for the Congo. He also disclosed that he already had signed an agreement with an American company for financial and technical help.

The Congo leader did not explain his visit to Canada except to say that he was seeking technicians of all kinds for the Congo. He said the agreement with the Americans involves "several millions."

At a press conference shortly before his departure for conferences at the United Nations in New York, Lumumba expressed profound thanks to the UN for its quick action in the Congo and said there is no longer any need for Soviet military aid.

He was commenting specifically on adoption of a Security Council resolution urging Belgium to speed up withdrawal of its troops from the Congo.

Lumumba for days has been insisting that unless Belgian troops quit the country he would ask that Soviet troops be sent in.

FRIENDLY TO BELGIUM

Today, in an abrupt change from his mood of recent days, the premier offered a hand of friendship to Belgium, asserting it was the Belgians who built this country.

At the same time, he demanded immediate withdrawal of Belgian Ambassador Jean Van Den Bosch, saying his actions and reports had resulted in the sending of Belgian troops into the country.

In disclosing his trip to Canada and other countries to seek needed financial and technical help, Lumumba said he had signed an agreement this morning with an American company called the Congo International Management Corporation.

An aide of the premier said Lumumba insisted on going to New York for discussions with UN officials and representatives of UN members.

NEEDS TECHNICIANS

The aide said he particularly wanted to discuss the Congo's urgent needs for engineers and all kinds of technicians to get the country's crumbling economy moving again and doctors to restore failing medical services.

Pan American World Airways said Lumumba's office had asked for 14 seats on a regularly scheduled DC-7C flight leaving Leopoldville this afternoon and due in New York at 2:15 p.m. ADT Saturday.

The flight makes stops in Ghana, Liberia and Dakar.

Lumumba's aide said the Russians had offered to fly the premier to New York in one of the three Soviet planes that Thursday brought in two tons of food and troops from Ghana. But Lumumba said he preferred to fly in an American plane.

WOUNDED IN CONGO — Wounded Belgian paratroopers are helped from a plane in Brussels after returning from violence-torn Congo.

Unanimous decision Belgians get out — UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The United Nations Security Council acted unanimously today in asking Belgium for the second time in nine days to remove her troops from the Congo without delay and let the new UN military force take over to avoid another explosion of violence.

At the last minute, Russia's insistence on a time limit for the withdrawal crumbled.

Vasily Kuznetsov, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, and the Polish ambassador produced a ripple of laughter when they raised their hands with the other nine delegates to support a resolution proposed by Tunisia and Ceylon which contained no deadline.

After that, Kuznetsov said Russia would not press a vote on its resolution, which sought to brand Belgium an aggressor and set a three-day time limit for the military evacuation.

TWO FAVORED MEASURE

Only the Soviet Union and Poland favored the measure. Tunisia, Ceylon, Britain, France, the United States, Ecuador, Argentina, Nationalist China and Italy were opposed.

Thomas Kanza, the 27-year-old minister-delegate of the Congo, thanked the council for its action.

Mutineers roam countryside

Fresh violence hits Congo

Ready troop attack

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo — Reuters — A fresh wave of violence was reported sweeping the Eastern Congo today as Congolese mutineers roamed the countryside burning Belgian homes and attacking the occupants.

Belgian paratroopers were reported to be preparing to attack a Congolese army stronghold at Lakundu, where seven Europeans were being held as hostages by the mutineers.

Belgian refugees were streaming into the neighboring Belgian trust territory of Ruanda - Urundi. Many wore blood stained bandages and said they had been clubbed by Congolese mutineers.

Reuters correspondent Vincent Buist reported from Usumbura in Ruanda - Urundi that white refugees flocking in there said seven men — two missionaries and five former officers of the Congolese security Force Publique — were dragged inside the army camp at Lakundu following a Congolese mutiny last Sunday.

One of the refugees said at least 1,500 Congolese soldiers were involved in the uprising at Lakundu, some 200 miles northwest of Usumbura.

The Belgian Air Force was reported to be maintaining constant flights of rocket-firing planes over Lakundu in an attempt to weaken the rebels' morale and prepare the way for the paratroopers.

Meanwhile, civil and military aircraft continued the total evacuation of the Kivu region of the eastern Congo.

Regular Sabena flights from Elisabethville to Leopoldville were diverted today to Usumbura.

Divorce hearing winds up

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons private bills committee ended its rehearing of Mrs. William Eccles' divorce petition Thursday by deciding that her claim of adultery by her husband was "not proven."

The decision was announced following an hour - long private meeting of the committee, which heard 10 hours of testimony and summation — much of it contradictory — Thursday and Wednesday. The case was reopened after Mr. Eccles claimed last week that adultery evidence was faked.

Mrs. Eccles, 36, of Montreal, a former concert pianist, denied emphatically before the committee that she had arranged with her husband to carry out the divorce action. Mr. Eccles, 45, freelance writer and photographer now living in Toronto, testified that he had agreed to give his wife a divorce.

Deputy committee chairman Nicholas Mandziuk (PC - Marquette) said Thursday that he intended to present the following report to the Commons today:

"Your committee has reconsidered Bill SD 479, an act for the relief of Lise DesRosiers Eccles, and has heard witnesses and finds that the preamble is not proven, and having regard to the conflict of evidence as to collusion and connivance and as to possible perjury that it is desirable that a further inquiry be made and therefore that the matter be referred to the minister of justice for further investigation and for such action as he may deem requisite."

Mr. Mandziuk said the decision means that Mrs. Eccles' divorce petition is rejected.

Overseas trade problems

Japanese and Germans outselling the British

LONDON — (CP) — A British government report published today says Japanese and German exporters are outselling their United Kingdom counterparts in most major world markets.

The study, published as a supplement to the official Board of Trade Journal, broadly concludes that expansion of British overseas trade during the 15 months ending March 31, 1960 was far smaller than the average achieved by other manufacturing countries.

The report shows that this was true in both Canada and the United States — two countries where Britain has been doing well. Both German and Japanese salesmen were doing better than the British.

"In the overseas sterling area, United Kingdom exports fell further while Germany's exports were maintained at the previous year's level and Japan's exports more than regained the ground lost in 1958.

DID "REASONABLY" WELL

"These two countries supplied over 20 per cent of all manufacturing countries' exports to the sterling area, compared with nearly 50 per cent by the U.K."

Generally, the report indicates, Britain did "reasonably well" in the Western hemisphere, when compared with other countries.

U.K. exports did less well in European markets, largely because of the marked expansion in trade among the six members of the Common Market.

The Common Market was launched in 1958 by Germany, France, Italy and the Benelux countries.

The British performance in world markets is the major reason for the "it's fun to export" drive launched earlier this week by Prime Minister Macmillan.

EXPORTS SHOT UP

Dealing with area trends, the board of trade says that exports to the U.S. from other manufac-

The world's first woman PM sworn into office in Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, 44-year-old widow of an assassinated political leader, was sworn in Thursday as Ceylon's prime minister. She is the first woman prime minister in modern history.

Massive crowds, mostly women, cheered when she appeared on a balcony following ceremonies installing her as head of the government of this island of 10,000,000 persons off the coast of India.

Mrs. Bandaranaike, whose husband Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike was assassinated by a Buddhist monk last September, was called to form a government after her freedom party won 75 of the 157 seats in the House of Representatives in elections Wednesday. Six seats are to be filled by the government appointment and assure her a majority.

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Forest ranger Richard Keninger went into action Thursday when he saw an overturned truck-trailer catch fire. No one was hurt and damage was confined to the truck, a few weeds and lots of melons.

Announces university commission

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Jean Lesage Thursday announced the Quebec government will set up a universities and classical colleges commission to inform the government on needs of higher education.

The commission would be created by law at the next session of the legislature. Liberals demanded formation of such a body for years while they were in opposition.

Mr. Lesage made the announcement at a press conference following a closed meeting in his office with the heads of Quebec's six universities.

He said the commission will be made up of representatives of educational institutions.

University representatives attending the meeting were Msgr. Irene Lussier, rector of the University of Montreal; Msgr. Alphonse-Marie Parent, rector of Laval University, Quebec City; Msgr. Irene Pinard, rector of the University of Sherbrooke; George Grimson, controller of McGill University, Montreal; Henry Hall, of Sir George Williams University, Montreal; and John H. Molson, President of Bishop's University.

Search for missing geographers

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCMP continued Thursday an air-and-water search of Great Bear Lake in the Northwest Territories for the bodies of Marie Kroeger of Montreal and Joan Goodfellow of Plaster Rock, N.B.

But while an RCMP spokesman said there is every reason to presume the geographers were drowned, mines department officials were more optimistic.

"They were veteran geographers," one official said. Both were in their 30s and had been doing summer field work with the department's geographical branch for several years.

Their overturned canoe was found Wednesday on the shore of Good Hope Bay. Their life jackets were in the water two miles away.

Fall house-building loans

The sky's the limit

OTTAWA (CP) — The sky's the limit for a three - month period this fall on the total amount of federal government mortgage loans to builders with purchase agreements signed by home buyers and to low- and middle - income wage earners who want homes built this winter.

Mr. Walker remained avowedly mild and unprovocative as the Commons neared the end of a grilling that began three days ago with study of his department's 1960 - 61 spending program.

He practically turned the other cheek when Mr. Garland suggested that not much is being gained if the government intends to shift normal summer construction into the winter months through easing of income limitations on loans to prospective home owners and granting loans to merchant builders.

Mr. Walker replied that even without the three - month easing of restrictions on direct federal loans the government would be lending the $150,000,000 it had planned to lend during 1960, he said.

However, he declined under questioning from J. R. Garland (L - Nipissing), opposition housing critic, to estimate just how much federal mortgage money will be committed.

He also declined to estimate the total number of homes that will be started this year except to say it will be more than the 125,000 he estimated some time ago.

Mr. Walker also turned down Mr. Garland's suggestion that the government help in purchases of older homes for conversion into low - rental dwelling units. It would require an amendment to the Housing Act, the minister said, and all the government's housing money was going into new construction.

The Commons completed all but two of the works department's spending items. Members were slow getting down to the estimates as they debated at length Prime Minister Diefenbaker's resolution to add Friday night and Saturday morning and afternoon sittings to the present schedule.

By a vote of 147 to 45 — the Liberal and CCF parties voting against the Progressive Conservatives — the motion was approved, boosting house sitting hours to 55 a week from 45.

About Television

By RICHARD BOONE

The following could well be called notes taken from the diary of a grouch. What I am trying to say is that I would like the luxury of being myself—sometimes.

For instance, eating out in a restaurant.

Like Paladin, my character in Have Gun, Will Travel, I appreciate the finer things created by any number of our American chefs. But let us partake of a typical Boone meal, attempted in public.

First, I like soup. I always order soup. And then—

Suddenly, reflected on the surface of a bowl of onion soup, I see a face. It is not mine.

FACE INTRUDES

It used to say, "Hey, doc, izzat soup good for yer diet? Haw, haw."

My stunning rejoinder usually is "Pardon?"

Says the face: "I seen ya on 'Meic,' doc. Now, just lemme in-nerduce myself—call me Bill Bucket. I'm from Des Moines, pal."

"How do you do?" I say. My soup is cooling.

"Well, doc, nice seein ya. Ya ever in Des Moines, lemme know. I got friends there. Well have a ball."

"Thanks very much," I say.

SECOND INTERRUPTION

He, fine Iowa gentleman, ambles away. I quickly renew my affair with the soup. Then, looking up at me from the surface of the soup, another face.

This face says, "Har ya, Paladin! What kinda soup ya eatin?"

"Onion."

"Don't like onion."

"Sorry."

"Well, look, I'm in a hurry. You sign yer autograph to these three pieces of paper, pal. To Irmgard, to Archie, and best of luck, George."

I sign my autograph three times, as directed. I've made three new friends.

Then, once again, I lean over my soup. Only now there are cigar ashes floating on the surface. They are not from my cigar.

It makes no difference. My soup is cold.

Resume construction

Health Minister orders completion of hospital

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record Staff Writer)

Resumption of work on the Pavilion St. Georges, suspended two weeks ago when the Liberal Government assumed office at Quebec, was ordered by Dr. Alphonse Couturier, Provincial Minister of Health, during the course of a visit to the site of the planned mental hospital on the eastern outskirts of the city late yesterday.

In providing verbal authorization for the hospital corporation and the contractors, Jeanson and Newton, Ltd., to resume operations, Dr. Couturier explained that stoppage of the work had been ordered because the government found certain vital information lacking. This information has been forthcoming during the past few days, the Health Minister said, and as a result the Government had decided to authorize an immediate resumption of the work.

"You may start operations next Monday," the Minister told Maurice Delorme, Q.C., president of the Pavilion St. Georges Corporation and J. M. Jeanson, representing the contractors.

At the time work was suspended, 125 men were employed on the project and it is estimated that some 400 will be required when construction operations are in full swing.

According to the contractors, it is hoped that employment will be maintained at its full level during the winter months through the use of new building techniques.

While refusing to discuss detailed plans for the future operation of the hospital, Mr. Couturier felt that the name "Pavilion St. Georges" did not express the true purpose of the institution.

The word pavilion, he felt, indicated that the hospital would be a branch or department of some other institution, whereas, in reality, it would be a self-contained unit.

He said that certain changes would be made in the plans to provide for diagnostic and treatment facilities at the hospital.

He believed that if the hospital became affiliated with any institution, it should be with the University of Sherbrooke when a medical faculty was instituted there.

Dr. Couturier said this question and that of changing the name of the hospital would be studied and that a decision would be reached long before the building is completed.

The Government, he continued, would appoint a resident engineer and a consulting architect to supervise construction work so the Government would assume its share of the responsibility in assuring the proper development of the buildings.

Prior to his visit to the mental hospital site, Dr. Couturier addressed the closing dinner of the study courses on alcoholism being held by the University of Sherbrooke.

Today he will visit Lake Megantic where a new hospital is under construction before returning to Quebec City.

The 7/XI Hussars' headquarters, now located at the Bury Armory, will be at 247 Main Street, Richmond.

Town plan expected next week

The long awaited J. C. LaHaye town planning report will be presented to council at a special council session within the next two weeks, City Director of Services Charles Langlois announced yesterday.

This will bring to a close a three-year wait by council members.

The report has been received by city officials and has also been printed and is now ready for distribution, Mr. Langlois said.

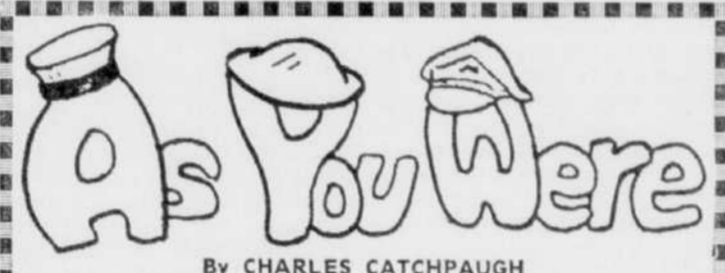

"The meeting will be held as soon as an appropriate date can be set up for Mr. LaHaye to meet council in person and explain his plan with the help of his report. It should be within the next two weeks," Mr. Langlois added.

The report will consist of about 200 pages and would be an explanation of Mr. LaHaye's suggestions presented in his plans last October.

Total number of plans presented by the town planner were 27 and include suggestions for an intricate network of spacious four-lane highways ringing the city, proposals for commercial zones in present residential sections, designs for parks and recreation facilities in all areas and provision for new housing developments.

Questioned while visiting Sherbrooke last October, Town Planner LaHaye said that his plans foresaw improvements to be made in the city as far ahead as the year 2050. But most of his suggestions were for improvements to be made within the next 25 years.

Total cost to the city for the plans and report is $45,000.

Richmond shoe firm head dies

The death occurred yesterday at the Montreal home of Emile Chaput, president of La Diva Shoe Limited, Richmond. He was 79.

A native of Montreal, where he was educated, he began his career with the family business, wholesale grocers and wine importers. The firm was established by his grandfather in 1844 and became one of the largest of its kind in Canada.

Later he became general manager of Viau Biscuit Corporation of Montreal as well as president of La Diva Shoe Limited.

He is survived by his widow, four sons and a daughter.

E. S. Cogan Richmond merchant succumbs

RICHMOND — Ernest Sarto Cogan died early this morning in the St. Louis Hospital in Windsor following a short illness. He was in his 55th year.

Born in Richmond, Mr. Cogan was educated at the Sacred Heart School here.

In 1919, at the age of 17, he started in the floral business.

However, a few years later he took over the Olivier Poirier jewelry store which he operated until his death.

He was a member of several business organizations and service clubs throughout his lifetime. Among them he was a member of the St. Patrick's Society, a member of the Richmond Board of Trade, Richmond Proprietors League, Richmond Merchants Association, the Provincial Jewelers Association and a member of the Richmond Branch of the Knights of Columbus.

The deceased never married and lived with his sister-in-law, Mrs. George Cogan, 30 Dufferin Avenue, Richmond.

He is survived by two brothers, John, of Richmond, Charles Henry, of Sherbrooke and one sister, Mrs. Albert Pariseau (Esther).

Remains are resting at the J. H. Fleury funeral home from where the funeral will leave Monday morning for services in the Holy Family Church.

Interment will be in the St. Bibiane Cemetery.

Vacation equipment is stolen

Some thieves in Sherbrooke believe, apparently, that they too should be allowed to take a holiday.

A North Ward resident reported yesterday that a $50 tent, which had been spread on the roof of a garage to dry, had been stolen.

Perhaps the thieves were the same ones who stole an outboard motor just a week and a half ago, also from the North Ward, and also valued at $50.

All they need now is a boat, though it's not likely they'll find one worth only $50.

JMC summer camp

The fourth in a Saturday series of concerts will be given at the Jeunesses Musicales of Canada summer camp at Mount Orford tomorrow night.

It is but one of a wide variety of musical activities going on at the site this month and next, as they have been doing for some years now.

Two things make this season at the camp something special.

One is the fact that the 10th anniversary of this unique and valuable national cultural organization is being celebrated at the campsite this summer.

The other is the camp's splendid new concert hall, being used for the first time. The camp itself is really a summer conservatory. There, aspiring musicians of all kinds — those who play instruments, as well as those who sing and compose and conduct — learn their art, and more than that, strive to become complete musicians.

So successful has been the summer camp that it has served as an example for music camps in European countries.

Professors at the camp include a long list of eminent Canadian and foreign musicians, who, in addition to teaching, perform in the periodic concerts.

The camp, like the JMC itself, is really only on the threshold of achieving its aim. But what has been done there, and what is going on this summer represent invaluable cultural achievements.

They lend lustre to the name of the Eastern Townships, and bode well for the future of serious music in this country.

Go-cart craze

There is particular danger to children in the go-cart craze which has reached some proportions in this country.

Go-carts are miniature motor vehicles often purchased for the use of children. They are also beginning to be used in automobile daredevil shows. At a recent one near Montreal, two children were injured by go-carts driven by 14-year-old boys.

The danger is in regarding the vehicles as toys. This they are not. They are capable of considerable speed, and should be treated with respect; more respect even, than an automobile, since they are not as well designed for driving as regular cars are.

The Province of Quebec Safety League announced that it strongly opposes the use of go-carts by drivers below the licencing age of 17. It points out that while the law excludes such vehicles from public streets and highways, there is little or no control over their use on private property.

The League urges parents, dealers in such motorized vehicles and other organizations concerned to exert every effort to prevent the vehicles from being operated by persons under 17, particularly in speed competitions.

General manager of the League, Paul Leboeuf says that parents should know "lasting attitudes are formed in childhood. The attitudes involved in racing go-carts are wrong ones because they condition youngsters to both speed and competition which they might later display on streets and highways with more tragic results."

The point is well taken.

Back to front fashion

For years men have found it easy to laugh at women's fashions.

And for years they have shrugged hopelessly at the sight of their wives coming home with some new "fashionable" garment, the price of which, say husbands, is quite as ridiculous as the garment's design.

But now the men really have something to crow about. Charles Creed, a London couturier believes that if manufacturers want to adopt his latest idea, women will have the choice of wearing their coats back to front.

Creed showed the "back to front" look with the buttons at the back and the front falling straight and unadorned. It could be flipped about and worn in the conventional manner, too.

If the fashion ever does catch on, women will have to learn to live with their husbands taunting that women's fashions are really hind-side-before.

Canada may join OAS

South Americans are delighted

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—Diplomats here are delighted by the possibility that Canada may be about to end her aloofness towards Latin America and join arms with the remaining 21 nations in the western hemisphere.

High hopes were raised by the recent statement in Ottawa by External Affairs Minister Green that Canada would send an observer to the forthcoming reunion of the Organization of American States in Quito in March, 1961.

Latin American diplomats in Buenos Aires are anxious to stress two points: 1. That Canada's links with the Commonwealth are perfectly compatible with a place in the OAS in view of the latter's unqualified support of the ideals of the western world; and 2. The decision to join would be tantamount to a public recognition of the prestige attained by the OAS as a world force and not as the "United States puppet" which Communist sources pretend it to be.

matter of FACT

The Arctic musk ox's defense is nearly airtight against natural enemies. But it's his Achilles' heel against men with guns. Endangered herds form a circle, facing their enemy with a ring of death-dealing horns. This wards off wolves but not hunters. Where not protected by law, the musk ox hasn't much chance of survival.

Getting in the Spirit of Things

Studied approach to problems

Lesage different from others; methodical planning his secret

QUEBEC (CP)—Ask political observers here how Quebec's new premier differs from his predecessors and the answer almost invariably is: Jean Lesage is primarily a planner.

This trait became most apparent in the campaign that led to the Liberal party victory in the June 22 election.

It also is expected to show in his presentation to the federal-provincial conference opening in Ottawa Monday, July 25.

He takes the studied, methodical approach to problems. He listens to advice, weighs the different points of view before deciding how the policy of the party should be implemented. He is not inclined to snap decisions as was the late Premier Paul Sauve. He delegates work to his cabinet colleagues, unlike the late Premier Maurice Duplessis whose government was largely a one-man administration.

He plans his days so that he can get as much enjoyment as possible out of his two main interests—family and politics. He likes to slip home from his legislative office for meals prepared by his attractive wife, the former Corinne Lagarde, and shared with his daughter and three sons. He has a particular penchant for his wife's sugar pie.

Since he was sworn in as premier July 5, the husky, blue-eyed lawyer — once voted the best-looking man in the House of Commons—has been on a rigorous schedule. His day starts at 7:30 a.m. when he and Mrs. Lesage attend mass at St. Marjorys parish church and ends at midnight in the study of his home adjacent to the Plains of Abraham.

For relaxation he likes a game of bridge or a good detective story. Occasionally he goes hunting or fishing.

The 48-year-old premier differs from his Union Nationale predecessors in a number of ways. He considers it his duty to whip into shape and give effect to policies agreed upon at annual conventions of the Liberal party. These conventions are to continue and he will be required annually to report to the party membership.

In this sense he places emphasis on the executive side of his position. This is in contrast to Mr. Duplessis who, with his cabinet, decided all issues. Party consultations occurred only behind closed doors at caucuses.

After 13 years in Parliament and 3 1/2 years under Louis St. Laurent as northern affairs minister, Mr. Lesage wasn't sure he wanted to move to provincial politics.

"When Liberal party friends asked me to leave federal politics and to try for the leadership of the Quebec Liberal party, I didn't feel that was what I had been working for. I had always been in federal politics."

But it was typical of the man that once he made up his mind to leave Ottawa for Quebec, he turned the full force of his energy to the new task of reviving the Liberal fortunes in the province.

He first carefully organized his own campaign for election as Liberal party leader, a post he won on May 31, 1958. Then he went on an extensive tour of the province to spark the renaissance at the grass-roots level.

He kept up a machine-gun barrage of attacks on his main target, Maurice Duplessis, Union Nationale founder and premier for five terms. Mr. Duplessis seldom made a pronouncement without getting a carefully-prepared public retort from the new Liberal leader.

Though he had no seat in the legislature, Jean Lesage's hand could be seen in Liberal opposition tactics.

Old-time politicians who saw Jean Lesage come before the public with texts of speeches considered him no match in the field of rough and tough politics for the master of off-the-cuff repartee, Maurice Duplessis. But it was just such preparation that stirred the interest of the people.

Maurice Duplessis died Sept. 7, 1959, and the Union Nationale found a new, dynamic leader in Paul Sauve. He began instituting reforms and won applause for his efforts to come to terms with the federal government on such problems as federal aid to universities.

Mr. Lesage bided his time, then launched an attack on an important member of the legislature. Mr. Sauve countered. This was a new situation. Then fate stepped in once more. Paul Sauve died 114 days after taking office.

With an election in the offing, Antonio Barrette, labor minister in the Duplessis and Sauve cabinets, was named premier. Mr. Lesage stepped up his attacks.

In little less than two years he had built up a formidable party organization. On June 22 his groundwork came to fruition when the Liberals edged the Union Nationale and took charge of the government in Quebec for the first time since 1944.

THIS BID IS THRICE INTRIGUING. Here is another laydown grand slam. This time there are 14 top tricks at no-trump.

The bidding is interesting for three features. The first, is North's immediate diamond raise in preference to a bid of three clubs. North just wanted to simplify things for his partner and, of course, North intended to make some further strong bids later on if he had to.

The diamond raise put South in the saddle. He wanted to be in six irrespective of what North would show up with since he reasoned that the worst that

by Clyde Blackburn

OTTAWA—Maybe it's the hot weather but events these days at home and abroad seem to have a dream world characteristic.

In the House of Commons there was the annual debate on external affairs. Not exactly a debate. A discussion that seemed to have little to do with reality.

There was a lot of talk about divorce outside Parliament and some inside and suddenly there seems to be an interest in the fact that parliamentary divorces are shoddy affairs.

As if this was something just discovered!

And the Senate, whose very existence seems to have been forgotten by the Commons, came to life and showed its teeth by amending a Commons constitutional resolution in a rather embarrassing way.

Meanwhile, with Canadian newspapers, radio and television flooding the customers with news of the Democratic convention in Los Angeles, we are told that virtually none of the spellbinders at that talkfest even recognized or mentioned the fact that Canada exists.

In the external affairs discussion over estimates for that department the minister, Howard Green, launched things with a speech carefully and cleverly saying nothing informative.

But he was not permitted to get away with that. There were two days of talk and he was called on for some definite comments on the world's trouble spots, such as Cuba and the Congo.

He had neglected those subjects in his earlier presentation but had told about a pleasant visit he made to Washington some months ago and his experience as a guest of Congress.

The veteran New England Senator Aiken and Senator Mansfield of Montana had recognized his presence with most complimentary references to Canada, particularly the latter.

He was too bashful to reply.

Mr. Green said modestly and unbelievable.

"Is that the Senator Mansfield who is supporting the increase in base metal duties to be imposed against Canadian imports?" asked Mr. Pearson. And a rather nasty crack it was too.

"It may be: I am not sure," said Mr. Green and he went on to say that in spite of all the flowers there would be differences with the Americans.

And so it went. Mr. Pearson and his friends picked the Government to pieces on its lack of positive thinking on foreign affairs and the Opposition leader made an implied crack at the golfing president of the U.S.A.

But nothing happened and nothing was changed and nothing is known more than was known before the discussion started. Howard got his estimates through and that was something.

Those two CCF members, Arnold Peters and Frank Howard, who started their blitz against parliamentary divorces earlier in the session, have really stirred up something at last.

If they stay with it they will go down in parliamentary history. At least they have a lot of people thinking now. But they may be talked into giving up the fight. Pity.

The Senate sent back the Commons' petition to Her Majesty for constitutional changes to permit retiring judges at 75.

They picked a hole in it that should have been obvious to any law officer, if the Senators are correct.

Rumor is that they foresaw in the move a preliminary to retiring Senators at 75. But that seems a bit far-fetched. Anyhow the Commons now know the Senators are on the job.

They aren't dreaming at the moment.

WAVE OF VIOLENCE

As the wave of violence swept eastward across the Congo Belgian authorities prepared the final stage of the complete evacuation of Stanleyville.

A UN force of Moroccan infantry took over control of the strategic port of Matadi from Congolese in a bloodless ceremony. A city of about 22,000 in normal times, Matadi is the Congo's chief port. But the rebellious Congolese soldiers who had ousted their Belgian officers, fought Belgian troops and paralyzed the port, had frightened away all but a handful of Matadi's white residents.

The UN hopes to get supplies of food, oil and other necessities flowing again across its docks.

Pre-nuptial party given couple in Ways Mills Hall

WAY'S MILLS — Mr. Wendell Cass of Libbytown and Miss Jean Curtis of Hatley, whose marriage took place July 16, were guests at a pre-nuptial party in the Union Hall here recently.

Having gone there for the purpose of attending an anniversary party for Mr. Cass' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cass, they were taken by complete surprise when, upon entering the hall, they were duly escorted to seats of honor, amidst a floral setting, before a table laden with gifts for their future home. They were later joined by their parents, who assisted them in opening the various gifts.

Dancing, with music supplied by the Calls, assisted by Mr. K. D. Cooper of Ayer's Cliff and Mr. Wayne Nutbrown of Lennoxville, formed the greater part of the evening's entertainment.

During intermission, Mrs. Carl Mayhew of Libbytown, a close friend of the family, in a very humorous speech, presented the honored couple with a substantial purse of money, on behalf of the assembled guests.

Mr. Cass, on behalf of his future bride, voiced his thanks and appreciation and invited each and everyone to visit them in their new home.

Downstairs in the dining room, where flowers were again used in profusion to decorate, refreshments served buffet style awaited the guests.

Seated with the happy couple, besides their parents, were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Curtis and Mrs. Cora Curtis of Stanstead, uncle and aunt and grandmother respectively of the bride-to-be as well as her grandfather, Mr. George Poole of Ayer's Cliff and Mr. A. C. Parkhill and Mrs. Ruth Waite of Burrough's Falls, grandfather and aunt of the prospective groom.

Later dancing was resumed in the upper hall for the remainder of the evening. Before leaving for their homes, the guests extended their good wishes and congratulations to this popular young, for a long and happy married life together.

LAWRENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mitts and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Long and three children, of Glen Meyer, Ont., spent a week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin. Accompanied by Mrs. Eric Martin, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mosher of Lennoxville.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Heegsma, were Mrs. Hugh Farquhar and daughter Louise and Mr. and Mrs. M. Bekker and children of Windsor Mills. Mrs. Eric Martin has gone to visit her parents for some time in Glen Meyer, Ont.

accumulated in hidden places in your body like the chest cavities (hydrothorax) or the belly (ascites). Then he's got to find out "Why" these accumulations have occurred. The explanation may be simple, like plugging of the leg veins.

It may be more complicated like back pressure in the circulatory system or clogging of kidney filters. A shut-off in the liver can prevent the return of blood to the heart. Some glandular or chemical disturbance can raise the water level in the dam and cause flooding in the back country.

It's pretty complicated business. But don't let that frighten you too much. For your doctor now has at his disposal at least a dozen drugs (diuretics) that can be relied on to siphon off edema fluid until he is able to find and correct the main cause of the trouble.

Now here's a word of caution about use of the drugs that produce a weight loss when there was an initial false gain due to myxedema or simple edema. They'll have no significant or sustained effect if they're given to a person who had a "True" weight gain due to normal tissue growth or fat accumulation. In fact, they may do considerable harm.

Overdosing with thyroid will produce serious illness. Continued administration of diuretics, whether given by mouth or by hypodermic, may result in grave damage to vital organs.

I don't want to alarm you unnecessarily. But I must warn you against endangering your health through ill-advised recourse to drug treatments for the correction of true gain of weight.

The Record's Farm Report

Canada is playing host to a group of seed specialists from the Far East as part of a Food and Agriculture Organization program aimed at improving food production throughout the world.

This is the second group to arrive in Canada since last fall under fellowships offered by this country to men of Colombo Plan countries for training in connection with the 1961 FAO International Seed Year.

During a three-month period the foreign students will tour various parts of Ontario and Western Canada where they will visit seed cleaning plants, seed growers, seed companies, agricultural fairs and research establishments of the Canada Department of Agriculture.

NEW CEREALS, PEAS

Seven varieties of cereals and one of peas have been licensed for sale in Canada this year.

Four of the cereal varieties and the pea variety were developed by the Research Branch, Canada Department of Agriculture. They are: Pembina and Canthatch wheats for the prairies, Russell oats for Eastern Canada, and Palliser barley, a two-rowed, spring barley of pearly and malting qualities suitable for dry grass. The pea variety, Creamette, is a yellow, high-yielding soup pea.

The three other varieties are Jubilee, a six-rowed feed barley developed by the University of Saskatchewan, Betzes, of Polish origin, a two-rowed spring barley of pearly and malting qualities and suitable for dry area; and Clinton 60 oats, introduced from the United States and suitable to replace Clinton and Clinton in areas where stem rust is common.

FARM FORUM THEME

National Farm Radio Forum's new theme, The Sixties—Decade for Planning, will focus attention on the major changes in agriculture, both on the national scene and on each individual farm, that must evolve in the next ten years.

HOG PRICES UP

Hog prices in Canada have risen $7 per hundred pounds at both Toronto and Winnipeg since early March as a result of the lower trend in hog deliveries through May and June.

By July 7, Grade A at Toronto was $26 and at Winnipeg $23.75 to $24.25 per 100 lb. dressed. During the week ending June 25, Grade A at Toronto and Winnipeg respectively traded up to $28 and $26.25, or $9 above the low of early March, but lost $2 in the following week. Hog prices at other centers have advanced similarly.

The stronger hog price is the result of the combined effect of cyclical downturns in hog production and the usual seasonal decline in marketings through late spring and summer.

Hog carcass gradings in June averaged 117,000 per week compared with an average of 150,000 through March and April and 151,000 in June a year ago. Gradings dropped to 111,000 the week ending June 25 and to 101,000 in the four-day business week ending July 2.

STOCKS DRAWN

Domestic disappearance and exports of hog products exceeded commercial output in May and June by the equivalent of about 180,000 hogs, or 20,000 hogs per week, and will continue to exceed current market supplies. It appears that gradings through July will average about 115,000 per week and about 110,000 per week in August and September. Stocks will continue to fall until the upturn in fall deliveries which are not expected to be large. The price outlook through the remainder of this year appears favourable for hog producers.

MORE MUTTON

It appears likely that increased quantities of lamb and mutton will be available in Australia and New Zealand in the near future.

The Economics Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, in a recent study reports that sheep production in both countries has risen steadily since World War II, because of: (1) favorable wool and lamb prices relative to wheat; (2) improved technology; and (3) the successful wholesale destruction of rabbits.

Basil's Eva was bred by J. B. Pangman of Cowansville. In the Jersey herd of Mrs. A.

PIGGIES WILL GO TO MARKET — Young pigs like these now stand a better chance of living and getting to market since a serious disease of swine — vesicular exanthema — has been eradicated. It was another accomplishment for science. It took seven years of cooperative state-federal effort to conquer the disease. This development means that millions of dollars will be saved by the livestock and meat industries, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

R. Virgin, North Hatley, Que., 266802, - classified Excellent, has certificate. In 1461 days she produced 2,030 lbs. of fat. Oxford Maid is a winner of one Gold Medal.

Do-It-Yourself

House Ladder Is Only As Safe As The Person That Climbs It

BY MR. FIX

Washing windows, painting, cleaning the gutters, putting up screens all have one thing in common. They're jobs that can't be done completely while standing on the ground.

Unless you're ready and able to hire someone to do all these jobs, better master the fundamentals of handling a ladder safely.

Start Right

Begin by getting a good ladder. This is no time to hunt for a bargain. Get one with sturdy rails and a good spread between them, heavy rungs, rustproof hardware.

Store it properly between jobs. Keep one wall of the garage clear so that you can hang the ladder on wall-mounted shelf brackets.

Keep it away from moisture which could cause warping.

Protect the wood with clear varnish. Never paint a ladder since the paint might conceal cracking in the wood.

Learn to carry a ladder so that you don't strain a muscle or drag the ladder over a cement walk. Find the center of gravity, the point at which it balances, and hoist it up on one shoulder.

Raise a ladder by bracing the foot of it against the house foundation and laying it flat on the ground. The ladder should be at right angles to the wall.

Start at Top

Grab the top rung and lift the ladder. Then grab the next rung and start walking toward the house, raising the ladder straight up as you go. When the ladder is against the house, move the bottom of it away from the wall. The distance should be about a fourth of the ladder's height.

Too great an angle and the ladder might break, too close to the wall and it might tip.

As you work you may have to move the ladder short distances. Get back on the ground and ease the ladder away from the wall so that you move the top a foot or two. Then move the bottom the same distance.

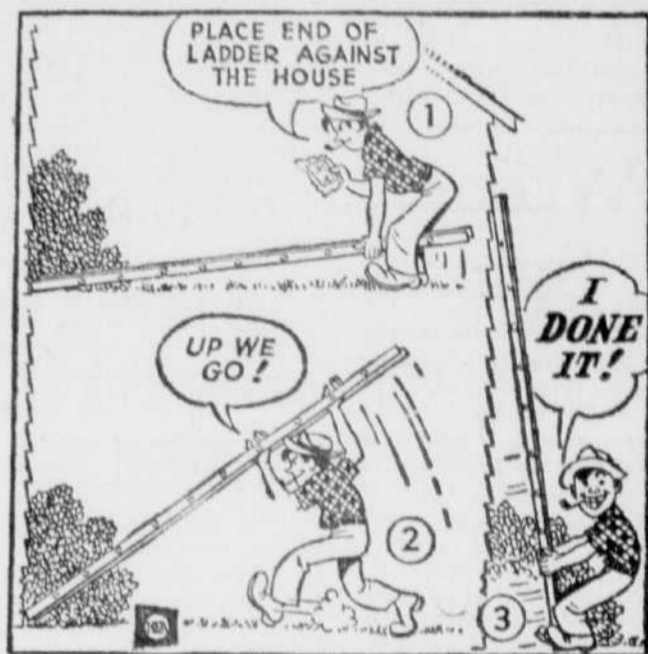

On the Level

Make certain the base of the ladder is always on firm, level ground. A board or a sandbag should be used under the ladder otherwise.

If the ladder is metal make certain that there are rubber tips on the ends of the side rails. Face the ladder when climbing or coming down. Use both hands. Haul up bulky items with a rope. Hang on with one hand while you work. If you must use two hands for a moment, hook one leg through a rung to brace yourself.

Avoid ladder climbing on windy days.

And if you have a metal ladder, watch out for overhead wires.

RIGHT WAY to get cumbersome ladder from horizontal to where you want it is shown above. 1. After bracing foot of ladder against wall, lift top rungs. 2. "Walk" the ladder up in the air rung by rung. 3. After ladder is against house, pull foot away from wall to about a quarter of ladder's length.

Holstein Bull Purchased

91 points, of Carnation Madcap Butter Boy and out of an "Excellent" daughter of Carnation Homestead Revelation with a top record of 1133 pounds of fat.

His dam is a "Very Good" daughter at 87 points of Carnation Imperial Madcap Lad, a Gold Medal Sire and has completed five lactations with a top record of 715 pounds of fat with 4.6% test. Her lifetime total production, excluding her present lactation, is 88,264 pounds of milk and 3,236 lbs. of fat with an average test of 4.4% for five lactations.

Mr. Rose is to be congratulated on his purchase and the influence of this good sire should not only be seen in his herd, but in other herds throughout the district as a result of the sale of his progeny.

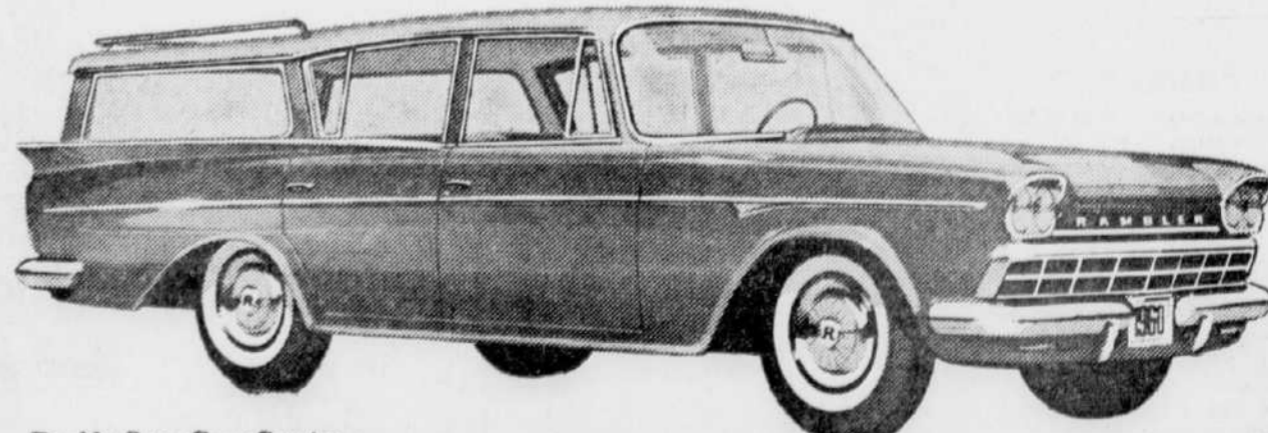

WHY THOSE AREN'T EGGS! — This cat-happy hen stole five four-week-old kittens from their mother in Rock Hill, S.C., and won't let her go near them. Rock Hill Evening Herald photographer Dean Wohlgenuth snapped the off-beat little family in a cardboard box. One startled passerby took a look and declared: "I've eaten my last egg!" The cats would agree.

Arnold Palmer Romps Through First Round Of PGA Tourney With 69 To Lead By One Stroke, Snead Second

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer headed for an unprecedented triple today as he led the 42nd PGA championship into the second round by a single stroke. After being forced to birdie the last two holes to win the Masters, and coming from seven strokes off the pace to take the National Open, the Pennsylvania strong boy said: "It's nice to be out in front for once."

The Ligonier, Pa., lad blitzed a 34-33-67 over Firestone Country Club's 7165-yard par 70 layout Thursday, with four birdies and a bogey, to nose out veteran Sam Snead who snared this championship 18 years ago and twice since. Palmer put together his round early, and then let the largest PGA starting field in history, 184, fire at the 67. OTHER PAR-BREAKER Joining Palmer and Snead as the only par breakers were Paul Harney, the slim tourist from Worcester, Mass., and veteran Freddie Haas of New Orleans, each with a 69. Bracketed at par 70 were Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., who tied for the runnerup spot last year; Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., January of Dallas, and Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif.

Canadiens Loan Moe Mantha To Cleveland Club

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens Thursday announced the loan of defenceman Maurice (Moe) Mantha of Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League. The six-foot-two 190-pounder goes to the Barons for one year under terms of the recent agreement between the National Hockey League champions and the Cleveland club. Mantha, 26, is a native of North Bay, Ont. For the last three seasons he has played with Montreal royals, in Canadiens' chain of affiliated clubs. In the 1959-60 Eastern Professional Hockey League campaign he scored 10 goals and had 29 assists in 57 games. The Royals won the EPHL playoff title.

First Showdown Series In American Opens Tonight With Yanks At Home To White Sox, One Game Difference

The first showdown series of the year in the American League opens tonight at Yankee Stadium where New York Yankees, nursing a one-game lead, take on the second place Chicago White Sox in the first of four games. It will be White Sox speed and sound pitching against the Yanks home run power and wobbly pitching in the series that overshadow other doings in the league. They will play one game tonight, one Saturday afternoon and two Sunday. The Yanks hold a 7-4 season edge and have won the last seven from the Sox. For the opener at Yankee Stadium, manager Casey Stengel has Bob Turley (6-1) ready to oppose 40-year-old Early Wynn (5-7). White Sox starters have gone the route in four of their last five games and the club has won 17 of its last 24. Only three of the last 14 Yankee starters have been there at the finish. The relief corps has not been able to hold the lead when the starter fades. Roger Maris continues to stay ahead of Babe Ruth's record home run pace of 1927 when he hit 60 home runs. Maris has hit 31 putting him 11 games ahead of Ruth. Mickey Mantle is running ahead of last year with 23 to his credit and Moose Skowron has 16 homers and 64 runs batted in. Maris, of course, tops the league with 76 RBIs.

Fortin, Renaud And Courtemanche Big Guns For Visitors At Plate, Later Inning Rally Just Falls Short

Sher-Lenn Little League All Stars advanced along the Regional play-off trail last night when they took a close 11-9 victory over the 'Les Hopperton Memorial' Little League All Stars of Waterloo. The locals travel to St. Johns Saturday afternoon to tackle the St. Johns Little League All Stars. Winners of this tilt will meet Montreal Little Leaguers in Montreal early next week. In last night's encounter Jacques Pelletier went all the way on the mound for the winners. Waterloo used Tony Sanschagrin and Bruce Russell. Featuring a fighting Waterloo team was the hitting of Renaud, Courtemanche and Fortin. Courtemanche had three hits one of them a circuit cloute with one man on. Renaud clouted a bases-loaded triple that sent three runs across the plate. Fortin had three hits. Trailing by two runs going into the last of the sixth the Waterloo boys put on a desperate rally to put the game out of the fire. An error in this inning, by shortstop Begbie, put one man on after one away but Pelletier killed the rally by striking out the next two men. Waterloo, though going down to defeat, made a lot of friends in their spirited display. All through the game every man pulled his weight. Sher-Lenn stars in the game were Pelletier, who connected for a home run. Farrell and Gravel also stood out as did Gilbert behind the plate. The locals went into the lead in the top of the second inning. Two bases on balls coupled by hits from Pelletier and Farrell drove in three runs. Bottom of the third the Waterloo boys broke down into the scoring column. Marc Courtemanche getting his home run in this stanza. Top of the fourth Sher-Lenn came up with a big eight-run inning. A barrage of seven hits doing the damage. It was this inning that Sanschagrin was yanked for Russell. Not to be outdone the visitors also connected for a big fourth inning as four runs crossed the plate to put the Waterloo boys back within striking distance. This made the score at the end of four complete innings 11-6 in Sher-Lenn's favour. Russell held the local boys scoreless in the fifth and sixth. In the last of the fifth Waterloo fighting desperately came up with three runs. Fortin, Renaud, Courtemanche and Wilson all hitting to account for the tallies. Waterloo's big bid in the sixth just fell short and the locals took the game on the long end of a 11-9 score. O'Conner, Webb, Makinson and Rainville were the Umpires.

Fuller Downs Coaticook Canadians 8-2 In Junior League Last Night

Luc Gregoire Wallops Two-Run Homer For Victors To Break Deadlock In Sixth Inning, Nugent Winning Hurler

Fuller clicked for six runs in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock and down the Coaticook Canadians 8-2 last night in Junior League action. Highlight of the tilt was a two-run homer by Luc Gregoire, the first four-bagger registered by Hamel's squad.

Wayne Nugent and George Tolhurst alternated on the mound for the Fuller ninemose with George whiffing two men, walking one, and allowing six hits while his replacement Nugent struck out five, gave one free pass to first, and had five hits against him. Three hurlers opposed the Fuller pitchers throughout the fixture Andre Coupal, Louis Michaud and Andre Michaud.

The visiting Canucks racked up a single point in the first frame when Letourneau came home. The Coaticook squad then held on to their advantage until the top of the third when once again, they chalked up a run when Andre Michaud tallied.

Fuller was far from beaten however, and they caught on fire in their half of the fourth, scoring two runs when Luc Gregoire and Wayne Nugent made the rounds.

Both clubs went scoreless until the sixth when Luc Gregoire headed a six-run combination with a two-run homer that had the Canadians rocking on their heels. Richard Doyon, Luc Gregoire, Gerry Menard, Wayne Nugent, Cote, and Howard Chapman were the marksmen for the hosts, bringing the score to 8-2 in favor of Hamel's squad. Coaticook 100 100 0 2 11 L. Pirates' Hal Smith Belts Two Out Of Los Angeles Coliseum To Give Club 1½ Game Lead Over Milwaukee

Hal Smith is the Babe Ruth of the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The Pittsburgh catcher hit two more over the left-field screen Thursday night in Pittsburgh's 4-1 victory over the Dodgers. The pair ran his season total to nine. Six of them have been hit at the Coliseum, four in the last two days.

As a result of Smith's home runs and a five-hit pitching job by Vern Law, who won his 12th, the Pirates again lead Milwaukee by 1½ games.

St. Louis gave the Bucs a helping hand in an afternoon game at Milwaukee where they broke the Braves' seven-game winning streak 9-4. A six-run rally in the sixth inning helped Larry Jackson win his 12th.

Philadelphia's Robin Roberts threw a one-hitter, blanking San Francisco 3-0. The only hit was an infield single by Felipe Alou with two out in the fifth.

Manager Gene Mauch disputed the official scorer's call on the single that robbed Roberts of his first no-hitter. Roberts took the ruling by scorer Jim McGee philosophically.

"You don't know, you don't know," said Roberts, shaking his head. "If they didn't give the boy a hit on that one they might have gotten another. The man made the decision and that was it."

The single came on a ball hit at third baseman Joe Morgan. Stepping back to field the bouncer, Morgan stabbed the ball but fell to the ground. It was scored a base hit.

Bob Anderson pitched the last place Chicago Cubs to an 8-1 victory over Cincinnati in the other National League game.

Pittsburgh scored two in the third at Los Angeles on Roberto Clemente's single with the bases loaded. Smith hit No. 8 in the fourth and No. 9 in the seventh, both of Johnny Podres.

Another big crowd of 51,196 saw the series finale. A total of 153,832 fans saw the three games, boosting the Dodgers' attendance to 1,433,729 for 46 home dates.

It was Law's third victory over the Dodgers and his third complete game against them in three starts. The righthander had gone the route six straight times at the Coliseum since he was knocked out May 1, 1958.

By salvaging the final game, after losing the first two, Pittsburgh won its sixth in 15 starts.

Jon Douglas And Three Davis Cup Players Move Into Semi-finals Of National Clay Courts Tournament

CHICAGO (AP) — Darkhorse Jon Douglas, first string Stanford football quarterback in 1957, and three Davis Cup players today swept into the semi-finals of the National clay courts tennis tournament.

The unseeded Douglas, winner of the California state title last April and the Caracas International last year, steadily overpowered United States Davis Cup player Chuck McKinley 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

Douglas will face top-seeded Barry MacKay today.

Bernard Bartzen, seeking his third straight clay courts title, will face Australia's No. 1 foreign seed, Rod Laver, in the other semi-final Saturday.

The winners will meet for the championship Sunday.

MacKay and second-ranked Bartzen are mainstays of the United States Davis Cup team. Laver currently heads the traveling Australian Davis Cup squad.

Laver, the 22-year-old Australian singles and doubles champion, moved through the quarter-finals with a 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Miquel Olvera of Ecuador. Bartzen trimmed sixth-seeded Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., 6-0, 6-1, 6-1. MacKay beat Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Pre-Bout Medical Exam Today For Harris, Cleroux

MONTREAL (CP) — Promoter Eddie Quinn said Thursday there will be a pre-fight medical examination today of the principals in next Wednesday's heavyweight fight—Roy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Texas, and Bob Cleroux of Montreal.

Quinn said the early examination is a matter of protection for the promotion end. He said he doesn't want a situation to arise as happened in Toronto earlier this summer when Nino Valdez of Cuba was ruled medically unfit, because of any eye condition, on the same day as the scheduled fight with George Chuvale.

Quinn also encountered a delay last year in the Archie Moore-Yvon Durelle lightweight fight in Montreal when Moore reported a stone-bruise injury to his foot during training.

Meanwhile, Harris and Cleroux have been doing gymnasium work daily, each going a few rounds.

First Round Play In Millar Trophy Provides Upsets As Bob Cunningham And George Knudson Are Knocked Out

TORONTO (CP) — First-round play in the $5,500 Millar Trophy golf tournament Thursday produced two shocks in the elimination of defending champion Bob Cunningham Jr. and Ontario Open champion George Knudson.

Sixteen players were left in today's second round of the Canadian professional match-play tournament, which has a first prize of $1,000.

Knudson, 23-year-old assistant professional from Toronto Oakdale, was defeated 4 and 2 by Dick Borthwick, 49-year-old Hamilton pro who won the tournament in 1959 when Knudson was only a year old.

Cunningham, also of Toronto, was beaten 1 up by Alf Hill of Peterborough, Ont., who had to play an extra hole Wednesday to qualify. He was one of four men to shoot 154 in the medal-play qualifying round.

Jim Westwell of Montreal went out 2 and 1 to Norm Smith of Toronto. Another Quebec pro, Nick Besner of Bellevue, was dumped 6 and 4 by Toronto's Ken Jacobs.

The two rounds scheduled for today were to determine four semi-finalists for Saturday.

The glittering headgear was a gift from his manager, Gus d'Amato, and was presented in the presence of political and ring luminaries, including former boxing champions Jack Dempsey, Rocky Marciano, Jersey Joe Walcott and Barney Ross. Proceeds of the dinner went to Wilbywick school for boys where Patterson once was a pupil.

D'Amato said Patterson will fly to Europe Aug. 8 for exhibition fights in Sweden and a visit to London, Paris and Rome.
