FOR SALE.

THE MYSTIC HAIR TINT,

PREPARED BY

WM. BOGLE, OF BOSTON, U.S.

THIS celebrated article for Colouring the Hair and restoring the same to its natural appearance, was patented in the United States several years ago, since which period there has existed for it, in the United States and England, an unprecedented demand, and is now almost universally used by all requiring the use of Hair Restoratives. The simplicity and harmless ingredients used in the preparation of this article, the easy and simple mode of application, nothing except a small brush being necessary for that purpose; the natural appearance of the Hair after the application of the Tint, the duration of the application, and the reasonable rate at which the article is sold, are a few of the causes which have followed the introduction of the in the leading Cities of England and America.

A TRIAL of the MYSTIC HAIR TINT will suffice to insure all who use it once to continue to use the article.

For sale by WM. BOGLE, Boston, and at Chemists and Druggists in Montreal.

Important Testimony!

The Editors of the "Canada Medical Journal" speak in the following terms of "HAZARD & CASWELL'S COD LIVER OIL :

"Messrs. Kenneth Campbell & Co. forwarded to us some three months ago a bottle of pure Medicinal Cod Liver Oil, manufactured by Hazard & Caswell, of New York, at Cape Cod and Rock Island. Since its introduction into this city by Messrs. Campbell & Co., we have employed it in several cases, and can therefore speak of its merits from experience. . . . Persons whose stomach will not bear the ordinary oil, will, we believe, from the results of two cases, be able to take and retain this Oil. And to children, usually such bad patients for the administration of Cod Liver Oil, we believe that of Hazard & Caswell's manufacture will be found to be the most easily taken."

THE NEW SKIRT

J. W. BRADLEY'S

DUPLEX ELLIPTIC — SPRING SKIRTS.

They will not Bend or Break like the single springs, but will Preserve their Graceful and Perfect shape, where three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. Each Hoop is composed of two finely tempered steel springs, braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, forming the Strongest, most Flexible, and still the Lightest Hoop made. In fact, for the Promenade, or the House, the Church, Theatre, Railroad Cars, Carriages, Crowded Assemblies, &c., &c., they are superior to all others Combining Comfort, Durability, and Economy, with that Elegance of shape which has made the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC the

"VILLE NEUVE."

OPPOSITE the Lachine Toll Bar, on the extension of St. Joseph, Bonaventure, and St. Antoine Streets, formerly the QUESNEL Property.

This thriving locality, rapidly filling up with houses, presents peculiar advantages to parties desiring a healthy and prosperous situation for a Cottage or Home for their families, or for Stores or Business Stands.

It has the advantage of wide and well gravelled streets; is never flooded by the Spring and Fall rise of the river; is in close proximity to the business centres, such as Foundries, Forwarding Stores, Ship Yards, Sugar Factory, and all the Manufactories in the West End.

A long time, with easy instalments, will be given to purchasers, and no money required down, should the purchaser prefer using his capital to build.

Such an opportunity of investing in a locality, which in a few years will double itself in value, seldom occurs. Apply to Mr. GODER, at the Lachine Toll Bar; or to WILLIAM WORKMAN, Drummond Street, or at the City Bank.

DION'S FIRE ALARM.

THIS remarkable invention has now been brought to such a degree of perfection that the undersigned feels confident that he can now offer it to the public.

With the last modifications which have been adopted, the accurate working of the apparatus is infallible, unless wilfully interfered with.

The very first beginning of a fire will be instantaneously made known in all parts of a dwelling house, or at some central place only, according to choice.

Notice of a fire may indifferently be given inside or outside of the house, or from a distance, as for example, from the outhouses to the house itself.

The apparatus will start a church bell as easily as a common clock bell.

If applied to heaps of grain, the slightest increase in the temperature of the grain will at once be made known to the office, if the granary is not too far distant.

If applied in drying kilns, or in hot-houses, the excess or too great diminution of the heat will be accurately made known.

The apparatus is not susceptible of derangement, except through external causes; and its construction is so simple that any body will at first sight and explanation understand how it works.

It may be regulated so as to have the alarm sounded at a given degree of heat only,—so if the temperature is at 60° or 80° it may be adjusted so as to be put in motion only by a heat of 70° or 90°.

It may be put up in any dwelling house or shop, so as to be used as a burglar alarm.

In public buildings, such as Colleges, Convents Hospitals, Hotels or Manufactories, the apparatus will make people feel perfectly safe, particularly those who sleep at a 5th or 6th story.

The cost of putting up the apparatus is small.

For more ample information, apply to the undersigned, at No. 12, Place d'Armes, Toupin's Buildings, (third floor) where the working of the apparatus will be explained viva voce and shown by experiments.

Special Telegrams to the "Montreal Herald."

FATHER POINT, May 11.—Weather fine. West wind all afternoon, but calm now. Twenty vessels inward this morning.

OTTAWA, May 11, 1866.

Several of the ministers left town this morning, and there was consequently no Cabinet Council held to-day, and probably there wil l be none until the middle of next week. It is reported that the government has negatived a recommendation made a short time ago by the Deputy Heads of Departments in favour of making some allowances to the Civil Service employes on account of the extremely high prices now prevailing.

Yesterday, being Ascension Day, was observed as a holiday in the government offices.

Local news here for the last day or two has been literally nothing.

Weather sultry. Rain is threatening. The country needs it very much.

QUEBEC, May 11.

A steamboat collision occurred on the river this morning, in which the mate of the Montreal was killed. As the mail-steamer Montreal, of the Richelieu Line, on her way down from Montreal, was nearing Point Platon this morning, about three o'clock, she came in collision with the Hero, one of the St. Lawrence Company's tow-boats, the bow of the Hero striking the port side of the Montreal immediately under the most forward of the outside range of her port state rooms, and ripping open that splendid vessel to the extent of about fifty feet up to the paddle-box, where the strong timbers of the wheels broke the force of the collision. The various cabins of the officers, the kitchen, and other apartments occupying that space of the main deck, were of course completely stove in, and among the debris of the berths and partitions was discoved the dead body of the chief mate, Noel Ledebauche, who, at the moment of the collision, lay sleeping in his berth just inside of the point where the Hero's bowsprit commenced its destructive work. The shock broke two of the flanges of the Hero's machinery, disabling her from further progress. Captain Chabot, of the Hero, was asleep in his cabin when the accident occurred, and, after examining his vessel, proceeded to Quebec on board the Montreal, to send up another tug steamer to relieve her, which was done early this morning. The Montreal arrived in port at her usual hour, about six o'clock. Noel, for so he was generally called, was a valued officer of the Company, having been on the mail route for the last twenty-two years. He was a man of stalwart frame, whose figure and face must have been familiar to the greater part of those travelling between Quebec and Montreal. The deceased was a native of Sorel, and leaves a family of nine members to deplore the untimely loss of their protector. He was forty-four years of age. An inquest was convened at nine this morning by Mr. Deputy Corner Prendergast. Dr. Robitaille examined the body and found four ribs broken inwards, and a large fragment embedded in the heart, which was completely empty, indicating instant death from outward injury. Captain Nelson, with his two pilots, two wheelsmen, the night watch and policeman, were then examnied, and at three o'clock the inquest was adjourned to Mnoday, at 10 a. m.

The total number of vessels arrived up to date is only twenty three, while up to a corresponding date last year 50 vessels had arrived.

H.M. steam corvette Pylades, 21 guns, which arrived on Wednesday, is expected to remain in port until the middle of July.

GENERAL PRESS DESPATCHES.

BALTIMORE, May 11.—Yesterday Jefferson Davis was indicted for treason by the Grand Jury of the U. S. District Court now in session at Norfolk, and the trial of the prisoner will take place, it is supposed, in June.

A fire took place this morning on the wharves in rear of No. 104 Federal street, which destroyed property to the amount of $50,000.

The results of the failure of Messrs. Payne & Co., of this city, is already known to the public as the prime cause of the failure of the Merchants' National Bank of Washington, and proves to have been more disastrous, financially, than was at first supposed. Two of our city banks, at least, are suffering. One of the oldest and most reliable is said to have lost about $300,000, which will no doubt somewhat curtail dividends for a time. One other is said to have lost $100,000 by the same operation, and besides these houses, many private individuals have lost largely.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The oil refinery of Messrs. Phyfe and Laird, in South Brooklyn was destroyed by fire last evening. Mr. Laird was badly burned about the face and hands. A house belonging to Mr. John Peters, property, belonging to the glass works of Messrs. Fogarty & Co., together with some canal boats, were also destroyed and damaged. The loss will amount to over $18,000.

Col. O'Mahony resigned his position as Head Centre of the Fenians this morning, which was accepted by Chief Executive Stephens. Killian has been removed as Treasurer.

NEW YORK, May 11.—James Stephens, Head Centre of the Fenians, who arrived here yesterday, was met on his arrival by a collection of the Fenian Brotherhood, and by thousands of Irishmen who were anxiously waiting for his arrival. He proceeded from the wharf to the Metropolitan Hotel, where he will remain for the present. Mr. Stephens remained in his room conversing with the Committee, and receiving the calls of such friends as he chose to meet.

In familiar conversation with the reporters of the press, Mr. Stephens gave a few hints of the object of his mission, and confidently asserted that the Irish army would fight on their own soil ere the expiration of the present year.

The Committee of arrangements expect the Common Council to give Mr. Stephens a reception. There will also be a grand demonstration at Jones' Wood, when the Head Centre will fully explain the object of his mission to this country.

Killian has issued a war bulletin to the Brotherhood, in which he states he has made no report of his action heretofore, because the public should not know everything connected with war purposes until the action proposed is defeated or is successful; but he proceeds to state that his enterprise on the Eastern border is only temporarily baulked, not defeated. He concludes by stating that he and Mr. O'Mahoney are on the best of terms, not enemies as public report has it.

Mr. Stephens was serenaded by the 9th regiment, Col. O'Mahony's, who arrived at his hotel about midnight. Mr. Stephens made a short address, not lasting over ten minutes. His manner of delivery was slow, and his voice was so inaudible as to be scarcely heard. He said he did not belong to any party, but came here to unite all the Irish people, and he should let no man be accused until he was fairly tried and found guilty. Party expressions had been doing a great deal of harm to the cause, and he advised the sensible-minded Fenians to refrain from such a habit. He said he came here by invitation, and should keep quiet for a time. When the committee now appointed to enquire into the matters of the Irish Republic had made their report, then he would have something to say. After expressing thanks for the serenade and other demonstrations, he concluded his remarks by saying that the people of Ireland were prepared for a long time, but they had been disappointed in not receiving support before this.

NEW YORK, 11th.—A letter from Norfolk says the District Attorney had received an indictment against Jeff. Davis for treason, as a public enemy, which he would put before the grand jury. Mrs. Davis had been to Norfolk to get groceries, &c., to keep house at the fort, and the people had showered upon her presents of all kinds, and sent her the choicest bouquets.

NEW YORK, 11th.—The Times' special says, Mr. Seward sent his protest, which has been published, against Austria sending troops to Mexico at the same time that he wrote to our minister, saying that if troops had already started nothing could be done there, but if none had already gone he was instructed to withdraw in case any troops should depart after his protest had been presented, and before the reply and our response should have been received.

NOTICE.

OUR REMOVAL.—Our readers are aware from an advertisement which has for some time appeared at the head of our editorial columns, that we are about to remove from our late offices in Notre Dame Street to Great St. James Street (No. 51), between the office of the Colonial Life Assurance Company and the shop of Messrs. Dawson Bros. As we expect to be engaged in moving our plant this day, and perhaps one or two days thereafter, we must beg the consideration and excuse of our friends if the Herald shall for a short time be somewhat bare of matter.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF VALPARAISO—THE SPANISH ACCOUNT.—The account of this affair by the Spanish Admiral differs very materially from that of the American Commodore Rogers. He states that dining with Commodore Rogers on the 17th April, the latter stated to him that there might be some unforeseen difficulties in the way of a bombardment, and proposed terms of accommodation. There seem to have been several of these proposals and counter proposals, chiefly of a very ceremonious character, in the way of saluting flags and so forth, up to the 29th, when the English Admiral Denman intervened, said that the laws of war did not permit the bombardment of defenceless cities, inhabited chiefly by foreigners, and intimated that he might have to interfere. He moreover pressed the Spanish Admiral to wait the arrival of the mails from Europe before he proceeded to fire on the city. Admiral Nunez gives his reply, which was in substance that which he had previously made to Commodore Rodgers—that he would regret a collision; but that if it must be so, he should obey his orders, though he went to the bottom of the Pacific in consequence. On the same day the American Commodore again visited Admiral Nunez, and this time wholly changed his tone, for having previously, together with the British Admiral, placed his ships between the Spanish squadron and the city, he now said "that he had intended to oppose "the bombardment by force, because he was "at the time convinced that Spain could not "lawfully do so, and that Chili was in the "right; but that subsequently he had arrived "at the conclusion that right, moderation, "and dignity were on the side of Spain, "wherefore, he would move out of the way." There were then some more negotiations, ending, according to this Spanish account, in an offer from the Chilians to put the decision of the quarrel on the issue of a duel between their own and the Spanish fleets. This plan Admiral Nunez states that he regarded as so ridiculous that it did not require an answer, and both Admiral Denman and Commodore Rogers agreed with him. Admiral Denman indeed, losing his reserve, said the letter Admiral Nunez had just received was a justification of the act he was going to accomplish. Accordingly the neutral ships were removed on the 30th, and the bombardment took place. If this be the true account, instead of Commodore Rogers holding back on account of the vacillation of Admiral Denman, he must have expressed his approval of what Admiral Nunez was about to do; and his braggadocio despatch would have been better omitted.

THE QUEBEC PATRIOTIC SUBSCRIPTION.—The committee appointed to distribute the fund collected for the volunteers at Quebec have closed their accounts, and have agreed to return to the subscribers the balance in hand. This balance amounts to 58½ per cent of the entire subscription. That is the right spirit in which to administer funds of this kind, as the public, seeing that a large fund does not lead to careless expenditure, will have confidence on future occasions.

THE LATE MR. LECLERE OF ST. HYACINTHE.—Yesterday the body of the late P. Leclere, of St. Hyacinthe, was brought into town from that place for interment. On the arrival of the funeral party at the Railway Station in Bonaventure Street, it was met by a very large concourse of friends, who escorted it, first of all to the Bishop's Church, where the funeral services were performed, and from thence to the Cemetery. Mr. Leclere was an old and respected resident of this city, where he was for a long time police magistrate. During the years 1837 and 1838 he was devotedly loyal to the crown. For a long time, however, he has retired from active life, and has since that period lived at St. Hyacinthe. His most recent public services were as President of the Richelieu Navigation Company—a post which he held till his resignation, which occurred only a few months ago.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE POST OFFICE.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

SIR,—In continuation of your remarks on the Post Office accommodation, it would perhaps be well to inform your readers that the Government do not intend to give the increased facilities so long wished for, by extending the present building to Notre Dame Street. On the contrary they have made arrangements for taking down the front of the old building and making a patch up one on the new line of Notre Dame Street, the remainder of the building to remain projecting, as at present, into St. Francois Xavier Street.

When the city is paying so much for the widening of Notre Dame Street, and the proprietors are, with a laudable spirit, erecting buildings of a highly ornamental character, it is too bad that the effect of the whole should be spoiled, by a building of the character now standing at the corner of Notre Dame Street and St. Francois Xavier Street. It is manifest that if the Government do not require the property for public purposes they should sell it, when it would soon be embellished. If they require it, ordinary considerations for their neighbouring proprietors would prevent them doing what is contemplated, and which will detract from the architectural efforts that have been, and are to be made, in that locality. During the elections candidates are always lavish in their promises of what is to be done for the constituency. This is precisely one of the little things that ought to be settled in five minutes. In any other city there would be no difficulty in having it done. Will our city members take this matter in hand?

AN ELECTOR.

WOODEN DRAINS.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

SIR,—Your report of the Sanitary Association meeting of yesterday amused me. I happened to be in the City Hall yesterday morning when a member of the Council from the East End of the city was pitching in to the City Surveyor because he refused to give a permit to some one who wanted to put a wooden box drain in the street. The Surveyor said he would not give it. The Alderman said that he must, that the City Surveyor had no right to refuse a permit. The party applying said he would put his sewer in without a permit. I wonder if the wooden box has been laid? Perhaps you can inform yours

CITY ITEMS.

ROBBERY BY A NEWS BOY.—Michael Nolan, a news boy, was arrested on Thursday afternoon, for stealing a cash box containing $35 and a number of valuable papers, from Messrs. Mitchell, Kinnear & Co., in St. Helen street. After fruitless attempts to break open the box, to get at the contents, Nolan handed it to another bigger boy, whose employers having heard of the affair, advertised for an owner. Detectives Bouchard and Cullen being put on the track, found out the boy Nolan, who was fully committed for trial to the Quarter Sessions, the Magistrate having no power to send young offenders to the Reformatory.

DEPARTURE OF THE REV. P. MICHEL.—On Wednesday evening nearly all the members of the Catholic Union, of which the Rev. Father Michel was the director, and which owes its existence to him, assembled alongside the steamer Quebec, to present to him a farewell address on his departure for Quebec.

POLICE COURT.—Artemise Michaud, for stealing $10 for Mad. Duprat, was sent to gaol for three months. W. Nolan, for stealing a cash box, was committed for trial to the Quarter Sessions.

RECORDER'S COURT.—There were 36 cases yesterday, but none out of the usual course.

LIME.—Persons requiring lime may have it by applying at either of the following places:—Police Station, Jacques Cartier Square, Police Station, Panet Street, and Police Station, Chaboillez Square. Also sulphate of Iron with printed directions for use.

LOWER CANADA JURIST.—We have received the February and March numbers of this ably conducted journal, which contain the arguments in the Wayne Blossom case on the question of bail, along with other cases.

The Rev. J. M. Gibson, of Erskine Church, will preach at Cote des Neiges to-morrow forenoon at eleven.

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.—The 30th Regiment now in garrison in this city have received orders for Jamaica. They will probably not leave this country for another month or six weeks.

PROTESTANT HOUSE OF INDUSTRY AND REFUGE.—The Lord Bishop of Montreal will conduct Divine Service in this Institution to-morrow (Sabbath) at 3 P.M.

SANITARY ASSOCIATION.

SANITARY ASSOCIATION ROOMS, Montreal, May 11, 1866.

A District Sanitary Committee was last night formed at the Cote Street School House, and will hold their first meeting to-morrow (Saturday) evening at 8 o'clock, at the School House, at which the public are invited to attend, more especially those residing in the ward.

It was reported that the ground acquired by the Corporation for Albert Street, (between Mountain and Felix Streets) is covered to a large extent with stagnant water, and is made a place of deposit for nuisance and other filth that ought to have been carried outside the city limits. It was thought desirable that the Corporation should be the first to set the example for cleanliness, and cause this nuisance to be immediately removed.

The attention of the Central Sanitary Committee has been called to the filthy state of a small brook on St. Gabriel Farm, rising near Brewster's Bridge, and emptying itself into a branch of the River St. Pierre, at Guy Street, near St. Gabriel Market. This brook is at present nearly dry, and now contains the drainage of sinks, cel ars and yards, and other injurious deposits, which renders it unhealthy in that locality. This nuisance could partially be remedied by being flushed with water from the Tail Race of the mills.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.—The rich copper mine, belonging to Messrs Huntingdon & Co., extends for a length of seven miles. About a hundred and fifty men are engaged in carrying on the work, besides a number of women and children. The latter break and sort the ore, after which it is taken to Waterloo, about fifteen miles off. At Acton about a hundred men are now working.

The St. Lawrence Tow-Boat Company safely launched from their yard, Point Levi, on Tuesday morning, a neat steamer of 100 tons and 30 horse power, of the following dimensions:—Length of keel, 110 feet; over all, 112 feet; breadth of beam, 20 feet; depth of hold, 7 feet 5 inches. She is intended, we believe, to be used as a tug boat.

A girl, sixteen years of age, was very seriously burned on Monday evening in Hamilton. After lighting a lamp she threw the match over her shoulder, and falling on her dress set it on fire.

Four fires lately occurred in Brantford. On Friday Mrs. Smith's Grocery was destroyed; on Sunday, Mr. Brown's Fanning Mill Factory; on Monday Mr. Day's Hotel was somewhat damaged, and on the same evening Mr. South's Hotel was partially destroyed.

Robert Gibson, a farmer of Scarboro, was arrested on Tuesday for attempting to shoot his wife on Thursday week.

On Tuesday afternoon the Canada Chemical Company's estabIisement, Toronto, was totally destroyed by fire, and also a cottage adjoining belonging to a Mr. Wood.

A burglary was attempted in Toronto on Monday night by a woman. She was arrested.

THE REFORM BILL—SPEECHES OF MR. D'ISRAELI AND MR. GLADSTONE.

(Mr. Gladstone's Continued.)

As the right hon. gentleman has so exhibited me, let me exhibit myself. I was bred under the shadow of the name of Canning, and every influence connected with that name governed the politics of my boyhood and youth. With Canning, I rejoiced in the removal of religious disabilities; with Canning, I rejoiced in the character which he gave to our policy abroad; with Canning, I rejoiced in the opening he made towards the establishment of free commercial intercourse between nations; with Canning, and under the yet greater shadow of the venerable name of Burke, my ignorant youthful mind and belief were impressed, just as the mature mind of the right hon. gentleman is now, (laughter and cheers,) with alarm at the first Reform Bill. The only difference between us is that having these opinions I moved the debating society to express them in the plainest, most forcible, down right English, (cheers,) while the right hon. gentleman is obliged to skulk under the cover of an amendment like this. (Prolonged cheering.) I envy him not one particle of the polemical advantage he has gained by his discreet reference to the proceedings of the Debating Society. (Cheers.) I have none of the claims Lord Russell has upon this question. I came as an outcast, driven from those with whom I acted, and I came in forma pauperis, with nothing to offer but faithful and honourable service. You received me with indulgence, with generosity, and in some measure with confidence, and in the relations between us you never can be my debtor. I must be for ever your debtor. (Cheers.) Now let me endeavour to state the position of this question. The charge brought against us is that we have introduced a franchise bill. There were two reasons that might have moved us. One the reasonableness of the policy, but the conclusive reason was that the passing of a combined bill was impossible in the time at our disposal. The noble member for King's Lynn frankly owned that the alternative was to postpone the bill for another year. I ask the noble lord to put himself in our position. We were the authors of two or three failures. We had most of us taken part in rejecting the bill of Lord Derby. Was it then a great offence, that we thought it to our own honour to do that which we could do at once, and to postpone that which required to be postponed. Had the house shown a disposition never to entertain the subject of the franchise without the subject of the redistribution of seats? No such thing. The bill of the hon. member for East Surrey, was carried by large majorities without one word as to redistribution. The same as to the bill of the hon. member for Leeds. Then there is the case of Ireland. Ireland has the smallest constituencies in the Kingdom, and yet the house, without the slightest scruple, passed a measure extending the franchise without touching the redistribution of seats. I have found the addresses of 117 borough members who entered particularly on the subject of parliamentary reform, and out of those no more than 16 referred to the question of redistribution, and I believe every one of these 16 is going to vote for the amendment. Those who spoke of the franchise alone were 101. The noble lord has argued this question on very high ground; but what did he do in 1859? The question of boundaries is now regarded as the most important of those raised, but his bill only directed an inquiry to be made Besides the noble lord actually recommended the scheme of his government for equalising the suffrage, because it would leave it open to parliament to enfranchise or disfranchise as much as it pleased. And yet the noble lord comes here with his speech—about the intolerable inconvenience of making any separation between the two branches of reform. The hon. member for Birmingham has truly said that it would be possible to redistribute the seats so as to frustrate the effect of your reduction of the franchise. If we were likely to introduce a scheme of that kind the remarks to which we have been subject would be just. But we believe that redistribution of seats is altogether of secondary importance as compared with the extension of the franchise, and that there is nothing in it that can materially affect the question of what the suffrage shall be. We have been asked to do some things and have done them. We have not said that the Redistribution Bill should be brought in next year, and that nothing should be done in it till we have settled the franchise question. We have offered to prolong the sittings through the autumn for the purpose of settling the question of redistribution, but no response has been made to that offer. The noble lord is afraid of dissolution, but that would be no gain to us; on the contrary, if you did not show so much distrust of the working classes you would be more likely to gain by a dissolution that we. We shall be loth to quarrel with those who manifest a feeling of community with ourselves, but we cannot lose the ground we have gained. We will not have procrastination, and no concealment shall exist if we have the power to unveil it to the public. We have been assailed by the hostility of my noble friend the member for Chester, acting in concert with the party opposite. My noble friend has repented of the vote he gave in 1859. But strange inconsistency of human nature, at the very moment that he repents of his sin the temptation again presents itself, and again he falls—("hear, hear, and laughter)—and in the very act of making confession, he repeats the offence. (Cheers.) My right hon. friend the member for Calne quoted Hallam as to the duties of ministers. It is quite true ministers have a double duty to the crown and to the house. It is their duty also to consider what their own honour requires, what is expedient for the public interests and the efficiency of the house, and we did feel it essential for the credit of the house that when they were asked by the responsible advisers of the crown to give its opinion on the reduction of the franchise that question should not be affected by the shadow of a redistribution of seats. (Hear, hear.) My noble friend aims a blow at the government, but as one of the verses in that book to which my right hon friend and I have referred says, "Let me die in the daylight"—(Cheers)—I ask of my noble friend that we may die in the daylight. (Cheers and counter cheers.) Suppose that the government brings in a bill for the distribution of seats, will my noble friend support the Franchise Bill? (Cheers) I challenge my noble friend to answer. (Cheers.) My right hon. friend says he knows nothing of the 204,000. He knows them very well, for he said they were hyperboreans who, as you descended, became more and more drunken, more unfit for the franchise. There is a homely phrase attributed to an individual still alive. He said the old parliament jobbed for individuals and the reformed one for classes. My opinion is, that for the interests of the general public the house is too weak, and that an infusion of the working classes would strengthen the public interest. My right hon. friend says we have no reason. I think the desire of the public is a reason. There were a hundred meetings in favour of the bill. ("They were got up.") Do you get up meetings against the bill. (Loud cheers.) There were 187 petitions, and 600,000 signatures. The old voters are now gradually dying out. The electors in boroughs have increased 24 per cent. since 1851, and the population 28 per cent. You have a growth of electors lower than of population, whilst you have an enormous increase of wealth. In 1851 the income tax was worth £800,000 per penny, and now it it worth £1,400,000 per penny. (Hear, hear.) The working classes are worse represented than thirty years ago, and now, when you admit their greater fitness you will not increase their franchise. (Hear, hear.) Canning and Burke have prophesied like the right hon. gentleman, but these prophecies, as those of the right hon. gentleman will be in the time to come, are selected by teachers for the beauty of their language to be translated into Greek and Latin for the declamation of school boys. (Laughter and cheers.) Consider the enormous changes which are going on among the working classes. I ask you, in the language of Sir Robert Peel, "elevate your vision," above the fears, suspicions, jealousies, attacks, and recriminations, and look onward to the time of our children and our children's children, and consider whether there is not a steady movement of the labouring classes which calls for our attention, and demands that we should provide for these things while there is time. What is the right hon. gentleman going to do with the family he has collected around him? (Cheers and laughter.) There ought to be some unity of purpose, among those who assist to destroy reform bills, but we have the most remarkable differences of opinion amongst the supporters of the amendment. I ask hon. gentlemen opposite to consider before they embark in this new crusade. You have fought the battle of civil disabilities on account of religion, the battle of the old Reform Act, and the battle of protection. Has the result been so satisfactory that you are disposed to renew the experiment? Those who fought on this side have no reason to fear. The effect of the former battles has been to give them political power for five years out of every seven since the passing of the Reform Act, and it has been to relieve you of your share of the government of the country. This bill is in a state of crisis. We stand or fall with it. We may fall now, or a short time hence, but if we do, we shall rise with it hereafter. (Loud cheers.) I cannot measure with precision the forces that are to be arrayed in the coming struggle. Perhaps the great division of to-night is not the last, You may possibly succeed at some future point of the contest in driving us from our seats. You may bury the bill we have introduced, but for its epitaph we will write on the gravestone with certain confidence, "Exoriare aliquis ex nostris ossibus ultor." (Loud cheers.) Time is on our side. The great social forces which move in their might and majesty, and which the tumult of our debates does not for a moment impede or destroy. These great social forces are against you, they are marshalled on our side. The banner which we will carry into the fight, though it may at one moment droop over our sinking heads, will soon again float in the eye of heaven, and will be borne in the firm hands of the united people of these kingdoms to a certain, and perhaps not distant, victory.

FENIANISM.

(From the New York Tribune.)

Mr. O'Mahony is to all appearance still master of the situation at Union Square. It is stated that the expulsion of Killian, Rogers and others from the Brotherhood has been determined on, and that Killian threatens if possible to involve the ruin of the entire organization.

It puzzles the public to know whether the Fenian leaders are acting a tragedy in fun, or only a farce in earnest. O'Mahony's letters, proclamations, orders, and pronunciamentos, show that he would be a safe leader to the end of time, and Gen. Sweeney is equally bloodthirsty and blood less. Mr. Killian's expedition is a bold illustration of how well Fenians can keep a secret, and Mr. O'Mahony's defence is another. Of "dint and powder-shock" we hear a great deal, but it is only the noise of exploding Fenian "secrets." These things prove first that the leaders require common sense, and second that it is folly, shooting off at the maddest tangent, to attempt a revolution in Canada with a corporal's guard, or to capture Ireland with a gunboat. Mr. O'Mahony has done well in not having succeeded, and Corporal Killian might have gone further and fared worse. Whence follows, we think, that the Fenian Brotherhood, being bound to fail where success is impossible, is best as a moral power. Do the Fenians believe in moral power?

(From the Detroit Tribune.)

WYANDOTTE, May 7, 1866.

To the Editor of the Detroit Tribune.

SIR,—I would respectfully inform you and the public that I have received information that the Sweeney branch of the Fenian Brotherhood intend making an attack on Canada. I would also state that I am Centre of the Brotherhood of this town, but I have not the least design to disturb the Canadians. They (the Canadians) never committed any act of violence towards Ireland; they have neither persecuted nor oppressed that country, and I consider it unjust and unfriendly of Irishman to disturb the Canadians, who want no change of government. I write this merely to let you know that we have no participation whatever in invading Canada. Ireland is where we meditate striking and if we cannot succeed in that project we go no further.

B. RUSSELL,
Centre of the O'Mahony Branch of the Fenian Brotherhood.

FIRST GREAT SALE IN THE NEW STORES, No. 139 GREAT ST. JAMES STREET.

This Saturday afternoon, the 12th of May, at two o'clock, Mr. Devany will sell at his new stores, Great St James Street, one of the largest consignments of the season of Messrs. Jacques & Hay's magnificent polished and carved black walnut furniture. The collection embraces handsome drawing room sets, in green and crimson silk terry's; marble toped bedroom sets, new patterns; plain and carved do.; double winged wardrobes and book cases; elaborately carved and elegantly finished etagere, and sideboard, what-nots, sofas, chairs, &c., &c.; a beautiful bedroom set, in satin wood, and one in cherry; Brussels carpets, new oil cloth, Roger's table cutlery, electro-plated spoons and forks, and curled hair matrasses, white and gold dinner and breakfast china sets, Parian ware, and framed engravings, papier mache tables and trays, rich damask and lace curtains, &c., &c.; new cooking stoves and refrigerators. Sale punctually at two o'clock.

Catalogues of the Library belonging to the estate of the late Sheriff Boston can be had at Mr. Leeming's office. Sale on Monday next, 14th May, at two o'clock.

Just received at the TERRAPIN, Saguenay Salmon, Snipe, Asparagus, Cucumbers, Pine Apples, &c.

This morning, at 10 o'clock, Mr. Shaw will sell at his old store, corner St. François Xavier and Hospital streets, a very large quantity of second-hand furniture, cooking stoves, refrigerators, carpets, &c. Those who require furniture, &c., should attend this sale.

Ladies and gentlemen are reminded of the large catalogue sale of Mr. Shepherd's best silver ware and cutlery, at 97 Great St. James street, this morning, at 10½ o'clock. Some of the fine epergnes, fruit stands, dish covers and corner dishes, in fact the best of the stock will be sold on this occasion. Ladies are particularly invited to attend.

At 2 o'clock to-day, Mr. Shaw will sell the splendid collection of rosewood pianofortes, comprising 13 of the finest instruments, perfect and beautiful in all respects, with all the late improvements, by one of the most eminent makers in the United States, Mr. Vose, of Boston. The pianos will be on view up to the hour of sale. Sale in Mr. Shaw's upper room, 97 Great St. James street.

Proprietors, Merchants and others will find it to their advantage to insure in the Citizens Insurance and Investment Company, a local Company established by a number of the wealthiest capitalists of the city, in order to insure property and goods against fire at the lowest rates consistent with safety, and which as not become a party to the recent tariff.

Office, No. 30 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal. George B. Muir, Manager. c 110

Is health worth having? If it is protect it—it is a jewel as easily lost as virtue, and in many cases as difficult to recover. In this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are very apt to take cold and suffer from sore throat, coughs, spitting of blood and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises—which is the quickest and most effectual remedy? Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, and have always given perfect satisfaction, and invariably effect permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores generally throughout the Province, at 25cts, per box.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TO GROCERS AND FAMILIES.

BURNETT'S STANDARD FLAVORING EXTRACTS.

The trade will be glad to learn that these choice essences of Joseph Burnett & Co., Boston, are now manufactured in this city, for the Canadian and other foreign markets, in order to avoid the duties and high taxation at home, and are offered at such reduced price as will commend them to first class buyers.

The materials were imported in bond in order to secure the original purity and strength for which these Extracts are noted. They are warranted perfectly free from poisonous Oils and Acids.

Mr. Alexander, the Confectioner, has long since endorsed them, and Mr. Alexander McGibbon, the well-known Grocer, who sells large quantities of them, says "the great reputation they have acquired for purity, strength and economy, should merit the confidence and patronage of all who desire to sell or use a pure article."

"The best are the cheapest" is a true motto, when health, taste and economy are considered, and we trust that house-keepers will consider this of sufficient importance to ask for "Burnett's Flavouring Extracts."

These Extracts are for sale by all the choice Grocers in Canada.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE.

MYSTIKOS OR BOGLE'S MYSTIC HAIR TINT

THE NEWEST AND GREATEST DISCOVERY—The indispensable appendage to every toilet—The companion of young and old—The "long sought for and now found."

IT IS NOT AN INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE, but it gradually and mystically restores hair to its original color, and gives to grey, or to any unpleasant hue of hair, any tint, varying from the lightest, through all the intermediate shades, to the deepest black, lifelike and natural, at pleasure. It can be used as easily as oil to the hair. The directions are so simple that a child may apply it. There is no washing of the hair before or after the application. It will not stain or discolor the scalp. It is as harmless as water. It is chiefly composed of vegetable ingredients, and no sulphur, lead or deleterious minerals are contained in it. It nourishes and strengthens the hair, promotes its growth, and sustains it in prestine beauty to the latest period of life. In short, it is a wonder, a luxury, none should be without it. Try! Be convinced!

The Mystic Hair Tint is peculiarly adapted for ladies, on account of its easy application. Also and for the same reason, to gentlemen in the army or navy.

The Mystikos is also the cheapest article as one bottle will last from nine to twelve months.

 Concise and simple directions accompany each package.

PRICE, $1,50 PER PACKAGE.

Poland's White Pine Compound

After having given it a thorough trial, we can confidently commend Poland's White Pine Compound as a very valuable article for the cure of Colds, Coughs, and Pulmonic complaints generally. In several cases we have known it to give prompt relief when all other remedies which had been tried had failed. It is an article which, in a climate so promotive of sudden and severe colds as is that of New England, ought to be in every family, and we are sure that those who once obtain it, and give it a fair trial, will not thereafter be willing to be without it.—(Boston Journal, Jan. 20, 1866.)

The Great New England Remedy,

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

is now offered to the afflicted throughout the country, after having been proved by the test of eleven years in the New England States, where its merits have become as well known as the tree from which, in part, it derives its virtues.

The WHITE PINE COMPOUND cures Sore Throat, Colds, Coughs, Diptheria, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, and Pulmonary Affections generally. It is a remarkable remedy for Kidney Complaints, Diabetes, Difficulty of Voiding Urine, Bleeding from the Kidneys and Bladder, Gravel and other complaints. For Piles and Scurvy it will be found very valuable.

Give it a trial if you would learn the value of a good and tried medicine. It is pleasant, safe and sure. Sold by Druggists and dealers in medicine generally. LYMANS, CLARE & CO., General Agents.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT—DROPSY—The action of these remedies on the blood, checks the too rapid effusion of the watery humors into the absorbents, and by equalizing the flow of the secretions, renders the disease comparatively inactive, the Ointment penetrating through the pores of the skin, drains by evaporation the serum collected in the cellular tissue and ultimately performs a radical cure. The Pills purify the blood and strengthen the digestive organs. Sold by all druggists.
