Canon G. Oliver Pays Fine Tribute To Late Dr. Dafoe

Former Friend of Quints' Doctor Assisted at Funeral Services in City and Cemetery

The Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, of St. Matthias Church, assisted at the funeral service for the late Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe in Rosedale United Church, Toronto, last Saturday and contributed a short appreciation of the famous doctor whom he had known intimately for several years when working in North Bay as Anglican minister.

In opening his address Canon Oliver quoted from the book of Ecclesiasticus, chapter 38. He took 12 verses beginning with "Honor a physician with the honour due unto him for the uses which ye may have of him: for the Lord created him."

He went on to give his personal impression of the famous doctor, his work and the influence he had on all who met him.

Beginning with a reference to the "Quints," Canon Oliver said: "There are scores of families around the district of Callendar, and especially five little girls, whose hearts are saddened at the passing of one whom they had regarded for many years as their 'guide and familiar friend,' taking his place in their estimation side by side with the parish priest and minister. They have been accustomed to his readiness to listen to their troubles and sorrows of body and mind, and to his willingness to help, to encourage, to cure and to restore."

"Country doctors and ministers have unique opportunities to get near to the people, and Roy Dafoe used every opportunity to dispense kindness with a firmness, wisdom and knowledge garnered from years of experience. He was loved and trusted and never betrayed either love or trust, but in accordance with the highest ethical traditions which belong to the medical profession, he carried on his work unselfishly, unhonored, and unknown except for a small circle. He lived a life of self-effacing devotion to duty."

"Then came the crucial test, and, mark you, it came in the ordinary course of practice," continued Canon Oliver. "It was the usual routine. The call in the early morning, the response, the skill and understanding which enabled him to do his work under difficult conditions and almost without any modern appliances. His very presence inspired mothers with confidence and courage, and so the miracle was achieved, and the now famous five babies were brought through the most difficult period (See CANON on Page 6)

Season's Wind-up to be Held at King's School Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening will wind up the season's activities for the 1st Company, on which occasion the 8th annual inspection and display will take place in King's School auditorium, beginning at 7.45 p.m. Numerous badges and certificates will be given and special awards made as well as a couple of promotions.

Capt. Richardson will be assisted by Lieut. Alex. Upham and Lieut. T. W. Ritchie as well as S. Camp who has acted as drill inspector for some months and Alex. G. Anderson, ambulance instructor.

During the evening a display will be given of squad drill under Sgt. Edwin Goring, followed by first aid and A.R.P. instruction put into action by A. G. Anderson and his two stretcher teams, physical training, conducted by T. W. Ditchie and a band tattoo will also be included on the program.

The much coveted "Walter Goodale Memorial Trophy for Altruism" will be presented this year jointly to Sgt. Edwin Goring and Cpl. Jim Wright. This trophy is awarded to the most altruistic N.C.O. each session and this year, due to the difficulty in judging the competition, it was felt best to confine it to corporals and sergeants, and in this respect the joint holders have earned the honour of having their names inscribed upon this cherished trophy, for both have given unselfishly of their time and energy, under most difficult circumstances. The trophy originated in 1940 in memory of the late Corp. Walter Goodale, accidentally killed on May 24th of that year and has been held by Sgt. Robert

Sugar Allowance Variation Blamed On Unfair Demands

Official Explains Difference in Allotment To NDG and Westmount

Unreasonable demands from housewives — and from many who are not housewives in Montreal — are explained by Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials as being responsible for the fact that families in N.D.G., in common with other parts of Montreal are receiving an allowance of 10 pounds of sugar per person for canning purposes while residents of Montreal West, Outremont and Westmount are allowed 13 pounds.

Quotas allotted to the various municipalities were all on the same basis — an estimated 10 pounds per person. The average individual request from the smaller municipalities was considerably under that figure, leaving a surplus for distribution among families which asked more than the maximum 10-pound allotment.

Officials say frankly that not only have family requests in Montreal been much higher in general, but that undoubtedly many people, those who live in hotels for example or those who are rooming and who eat out in restaurants — have applied for sugar, which it is believed is turned over to relatives who already have their full quota or to friends, or even retained in illegal hoarding. One man who is manager of a hotel asked for 50 pounds ostensibly for cooking.

"It is another case in which people who abide by the law are penalized by the action of those who defy it," a member of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board told this paper. "We have people coming in with applications and we have to give them the permits although it is as plain as a pikestaff that they do not intend to use the sugar for canning. The method the Government has adopted is at fault and representations to that effect have already been made and will be made in much stronger terms at the end of this busy period—in about two weeks."

"In all cases where more than the maximum was granted it was reasonably certain that the families were deserving and honestly intended to use the sugar for the purpose stated."

"Once again the good are suffering from the misdeeds of the bad."

Air Cadet Training In Grades 10, 11 Now Compulsory In City Schools

Physically Fit Boys Must Train With No. 1 Squadron, According to a Recent Announcement Made by Dean C. S. LeMesurier

Air Cadet training with No. 1 (Westmount) Squadron is now compulsory for all physically-fit boys in tenth and eleventh grades of Westmount's schools, according to a recent announcement made by Dean C. S. LeMesurier, who is also chairman of the Westmount Air Cadet Committee.

To cover boys who may be cadets in other services, it is also announced that boys in this category may get exemption from the school unit if a check of their activity with the other units shows satisfactory attendance.

Practically all the subjects in the Air Cadet training syllabus have been included in the school curriculum, and most of the work will be done in school hours. Among the basic subjects are theory of flight, aircraft recognition, wireless and drill, and the worth of the early voluntary work the boys of Squadron No. 1 have already done is now being appreciated by the cadets who have been members of this first unit formed under the Air Cadet League of Canada.

Sons of General Vanier Capture Prizes at Loyola

Two young Canadians, formerly pupils at Beaumont School (Jesuit) near Windsor, England, have just carried off a number of prizes at the 47th annual commencement exercises of Loyola College.

They are Georges and Bernard Vanier, sons of Major-General Georges P. Vanier and Mrs. Vanier, 3463 Holton Avenue. General Vanier is now in England, acting as Canadian Minister to the Exiled Governments with headquarters in London.

Georges, who is 17, won the Amyot scholarship presented by Lt. J. Adjutor Amyot, valued at $100 for successful work in the first three years of the arts course, the Lieutenant-Governor's silver medal for highest standing in the junior year and class prizes in apologetics, English, philosophy and fundamental law.

Bernard, age 16, won a prize for the highest standing in the sophomore year, and class prizes in English, French, Latin and history.

Madame Vanier brought her sons back to Canada in 1940, leaving another "Jock", aged 14, in England, at the Royal Naval College, and a daughter, Therese, aged 20, who is in the C.W.A.A.C.

Michael, the youngest, is just 22 months old.

Madame Vanier, is the daughter of the late Judge Charles Archer and Mrs. Archer, and on her mother's side, a descendant of the famous deSalaberry family, after whom Bernard is named.

High School Rite Holds Up Traffic On Thoroughfare

Westmount High Annual "Honor" Ducking Takes Place at Park

Youth had its own way in Westmount last Monday.

For a few hectic minutes all street traffic was stopped—cars going East and West along Sherbrooke street between the Y.M.C.A. and Westmount Park came to a standstill—while a milling crowd of school boys and girls of all sizes and all ages followed Herbert Shayne, graduate of the city "High" as he was carried on the shoulders of his classmates for an "honorable" ducking in the Park pond.

This honor—an annual event—is awarded to that member of the graduating class who is elected to receive it in recognition of his "outstanding services to the school combined with qualities of honor, scholarship and sportsmanship."

The rite was inaugurated some years ago by the Old Boys' Association of the school and each boy has a vote in the election, supervised by the association.

But it wasn't only the winner that got ducked—a number of six-footers were wandering about in a dripping condition—having been pushed in by enthusiastic friends.

"That's my son," remarked one Westmount woman proudly. "He really hasn't won anything but they have ducked him just the same."

Crowds of singing boys and girls rushed through the standing cars while smiling motorists opened front doors and let them down—others climbed right up on the car roofs—and one—a boy of about 15—who had climbed up to try to disentangle the cord of the trolley pole which had wrapped itself around the overhead wire nearly had a bad accident.

Just as he unhooked the rope he slipped and fell on his back with his feet in the air. A gasp went up from the watching crowd who thought he had received an electric shock—but he was up in an instant and the conductor held the trolley pole well away from the wires while he scrambled down to safety.

Canada Envisaged As Future Leader In Use Of Planes

Pioneer Airman, Resident In Westmount, Prophesies From Expert Knowledge

"Canada may emerge from this war as the greatest 'per capita' user of air power in the post-war world" stated C. H. Dickens, General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Air Lines, in a recent address before the Aeronautical Institute of Canada.

"Runch" Dickens, who now lives at 600 Victoria avenue, is one of the world authorities on the use of airplanes of all kinds.

"The airplane is the greatest single destructive weapon now but tomorrow it will be one of the main instruments in rapid reconstruction," he said.

"It will carry vital supplies on missions of peace and international benefit technicians will fly to far-off lands to give their experience where it is most needed. New trade and travel opportunities will develop very quickly.

Airplanes in Reconstruction
 The part of the airplane in the reconstruction picture would be in the establishment of feeder lines, in inventory of Canada's natural resources in prospecting, and mining and in bringing aerial surveys up to date through mapping of forests, water powers, etc.

"It might be possible to ship all first-class mail by air," continued Mr. Dickens, when describing the possible development of special cargo routes and services, and private flying. In the thousands of young men in the RCAF and the aircraft industry, Canada had the nucleus both in the air and on the ground for rapid advancement in aviation.

Special Salvage Figures Issued For Loyal Citizens

Some people think statistics are dry but here is a little table of figures which will show at a glance how well this home city is doing its duty in a glamorous branch of national service, known as "Salvage"—a table of living facts.

Figures relating to the Provinces and Dominion have been taken from the official statement of Salvage operations by 890 voluntary salvage committees made up and issued by the Department of National War Services and covers the twenty-four months period from May 1, 1941, to April 30, 1943—this includes the whole life of the effort. Westmount having commenced its municipal salvage collection on May 15, 1941, was the first municipality to undertake such collection. Here are the results:

Area	Quantity of Needed Material Collected for each 1,000 of Population
Province of Quebec	16,794 lbs.
Province of Ontario	44,813 "
All Canada	28,923 "
WESTMOUNT	79,599 "

Now citizens should realize that this is a very creditable performance when it is remembered that the contribution is from a residential area where there are no industries to help with large lots of material.

Let those who say statistics are dry read this breakdown of the collection of those items which are included in the little table above.

Kind of materials collected for each 1,000 population:

All Canada: Iron and Steel, 8,426 lbs.; Wastepaper, books, magazines, etc. 11,485 lbs.; Taps, carpets, etc. 597 lbs.; Fats and bones 688 lbs.; Rubber, 2,999 lbs.; Bottles and glass 1,435 lbs.

Westmount: Iron and Steel 9,361 lbs.; Wastepaper, books, magazines, etc. 47,961 lbs.; Taps, carpets, etc. 2,134 lbs.; Fats and bones, 1,213 lbs.; Rubber, 754 lbs.; Bottles and glass, 16,340 lbs.

Translated into bayonets, shells, bombs, explosives and parts for planes, ships and guns the material already salvaged is far from inconsiderable.

Next week citizens will hear all about this and also receive a discussion on the cost of collecting and so on, but they are advised to remember that when an article is worn out, obsolete or otherwise useless, it becomes SCRAP and this miscellaneous junk that clutters basements and lies around yards is still actually a raw material and can be used to forge Victory.

It is suggested that if an article, made of one of the needed materials, has not been used for the last three months and no one can prove that it can be used in the next three months, a use for it must be found — or it should be scrapped.

Metal, rags, rubber and all the fats and bones you can give are badly needed. Bundle them neatly and place them beside your garbage cans on the regular collection day and your city will do the rest. If you have a very large amount call the City Hall and ask for War Salvage—Tell them!

AN EXCERPT FROM A DIARY REVEALS DINNER WITH A KING

Tuesday evening, 29th October, 1839. Dined with Louis Philippe and his Queen, the Princess Adelaide, Princess Clementina, an unmarried daughter, Duke de Nemours, Duke Montpensier & a younger one still. . . . Dinner very superb. The King helps the soup, both tureens before him, and the Queen the fish. First rate attendance; gold platters and silver plates and forks. Second course gold spoon, dessert knives and forks, but as you use one fork another is placed at your side, and the same with your tumbler of water; as you empty it is filled again and again, you ask for nothing. . . . Dinner all small dishes, not half we have in America; chocolate and ice cream together, coffee, ice moulded in jelly moulds, everything so nice. . . .

The Queen retired to the drawing room, the King following—Duke de Nemours and Sister and myself, in the same order we came in to dinner. We passed through (a) room after leaving the superb gallery we dined in, hung with paintings, and the ceiling superb, arched, with fresco paintings. Then we entered the billiard room and then the drawing room; coffee introduced directly. The King, Mr. W. and Gen. Cass formed a group and talked. The Queen invited me to the fire: . . . she took me up to the tapestry which is grand, and then desired me to look at the chairs. Beauvais the manufacturer of the chairs and sofas called, different from the Gobline, birds, etc.; the walls hung with pictures. She then sat down to the round table, and opened her netting and invited me to sit by her; the rest of the ladies with their work.

We sat until about nine and then I arose and bade adieu to the Queen and Princesses and ladies and to the King in passing and to the officers; and the gentlemen followed. I found after leaving that the Queen was to have had fine music, purposely for us, but we erred on the safe side, fearing to remain too long. I regretted very much that I was so unfortunate as to be disappointed by my mantua maker. I had to wear the dress I was presented in the evening before, my white and pink, and a beautiful little head dress, very new, crimson, Anne Boleyn style, with dropping white flours and velvet, very new and tasteful. We had a long rainy drive and very dark. Gen. Cass, Mr. W. and myself returned together.—From "Mr. W. and L." Being the Authentic Diary of Caroline Le Roy Webster, During a Famous Journey with the Honble. Daniel Webster to Great Britain and the Continent, in the Year 1839. (New York: Ives Washburn.)

Here Are Conservation Hints For Appliances

GENERAL CARE: Always take hold of the plug when detaching a cord from the outlet or appliance. (Pulling on cord may loosen connections within plug which may either blow a fuse, or cause excessive heat which in time will ruin plug.) Disconnect cord at outlet. Disconnect cord from appliance while current is on may cause sparking which will ruin plug and may necessitate replacement of the connector terminals. Never get cord wet. Wipe off with a dry cloth. Keep cord away from hot appliances.

IRONS AND TOASTERS: Let them cool before storing. Roll cord up loosely or hang it over large hook. Keep cords clean and dry. Overheating is detrimental to heating element and will shorten life of an iron. Keep irons clean and the sole plate free of scratches. Remove starch from bottom by wiping with a damp cloth, or use a very fine abrasive if necessary. Occasionally rub lightly with paraffin or beeswax and polish with cloth.

Lawn Social

Under the auspices of the Women's Association of Trinity Memorial Church, a lawn social will be held on the afternoon of Friday, June 18. There will be a table of home-cooking, a flower stall and soft drinks and ice-cream. Afternoon tea will be served.

In the event of rain, the social will be held in the Parish hall. All members of the congregation and their friends are invited to attend.

Next-of-Kin Meeting

R.C.C.S. (Signals) next-of-kin meeting will be held in the afternoon at the Armoury, 1179 Bleury St. on Wednesday, June 16 at 2 p.m. This will be the closing meeting for the season and all members are requested to attend and bring all completed knitting and other items. Refreshments will be served.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Teamed again as the result of one of the hits of the current year in "Woman of the Year," Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn figure in tense drama in "Keeper of the Flame," now showing at the Westmount United Theatre.

Adapted from I. A. R. Wylie's best-selling novel, "Keeper of the Flame" gives Tracy the characterization of a war correspondent, returned to America after being ousted from several European countries for telling the truth and assigned to write a life story of a famous American leader, recently killed in an accident.

In his investigation Tracy meets the young and beautiful widow of the dead man, and falls in love with her. Miss Hepburn plays the latter role, and dramatic complications ensue when, because she is not frank with the newspaperman, he comes to suspect her of complicity in her husband's death, and is torn between love and conscience. A sensational discovery and crashing dramatic climax, solves the problem.

Tracy's role is sometimes whimsical, sometimes grimly dramatic, and Miss Hepburn rises to emotional heights in the gripping climax. Richard Whorf, newcomer from the Broadway stage, plays a sinister role compellingly, and Margaret Wycherly, Audrey Christie, Horace McNally, Donald Meek, Frank Craven and Darryl Hickman are among the principals.

At The Monkland

Bette Davis' new leading man is the tallest, the most romantic—straight out of Vienna, with a title to boot—and probably the handsomest fellow who ever threw an arm around her. This is as it should be. The plot of her new Warner Bros. picture, "Now, Voyager," calls for the most interesting love scenes Bette has ever played.

His name is Paul Henreid. His full name, which he has shortened because he is on his way to becoming an American citizen, is Paul Henreid, Baron von Wiesel-Waldinger. That is the title the late Emperor Franz Josef bestowed on Paul's father, a Swede, who showed the old Emperor how to make a lot of money.

Henreid was born in 1910. He lived in a Vienna that was a pleasant adventure in three-quarter time, and quit it to attack Hitler. He did that before the Anschluss, going to England in 1935 to work in plays and pictures that cracked at the Nazis. For a year and a half in London he played Albert in "Victoria Regina," then came to New York, broke, and started all over again. He lost his $100,000 estate when he quit Vienna.

He's six-foot-three, which, with that Continental charm of his, ought to be enough to sweep Bette off her feet. Anyway, that's what he has to do according to the plot of "Now, Voyager." The film is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday night.

Nine New Zealand farmers, one of whom is the champion sheep-shearer of the world, are members of Fighting Command's leading New Zealand Spitfire squadron, states the British Air Ministry's news service. The "bag" of the squadron was then 32 enemy planes destroyed.

There is a tradition in Britain that the bowler, a stiff felt hat with a dome-shaped crown, was designed by a Southwark hatter named William Bowler and that it gained its initial popularity through the patronage of William Coke, nephew of Sir Edward Coke.

Irene Nichols' Pupils Will Give Recital

The pupils of Irene Nichols L.R.S.M. (London) will hold their annual concert on Saturday night in the Westmount Intermediate School on Academy Road.

The proceeds from this recital will be sent overseas to an R.C. A.F. Squadron to provide comforts for airmen on active service.

This year the programme will represent the March of Time. Barry Martin will act as Master of Ceremonies and Barbara Chambers will be the major soloist.

The characters in the musical interpretation of the various stages of life will be performed by young beginners: Sandra Hutchinson as childhood, Heather Martin and Freddie Clark as youth, Patsy Smith as middle age, and Mary Jean Morgan and Derek Dawson as old age. Charles Casswell will conclude the picture by playing Home Sweet Home.

At The Snowdon

The proud recipient of more critical acclaim than any motion picture ever produced, Noel Coward's "In Which We Serve," starts a limited engagement this Saturday at the Snowdon theatre. Coward, prolific writer of stories, plays, musical comedies and operettas and author of the long-to-be-remembered "Cavalcade," wrote, produced, directed and stars in "In Which We Serve," the story of a ship—H.M.S. Torrin—marked for its sincerity as a glowing tribute to the Royal Navy. He has taken H.M.S. Torrin and infused life into it—into the men who sail her from Captain Kinross to ordinary seaman Shorty Blake. He has made the ship's company so real and alive that somehow we identify their fight with the ship's fight, the ship's disaster when it is torpedoed off Crete, with their disaster. No false heroism, because these men are but a cross section of the people. And in the same way Coward shows us their families—their wives and children, and sweethearts—and takes us into their lives. Each little person is brought alive, and each one adds to the telling of the whole production. Instead of a galaxy of stars, the entire cast carries the weight of the story. Nor is there a note of false sentimentalism in any of the family scenes—which is where Coward's sincerity enters. The Captain's wife feels the sadness of separation; the chief petty officer's wife speaks sharply to her mother but braves bombs to tend his garden; Shorty Blake's wife wished he was wounded—just a bit—so he could come home to her, to stay.

of their lives, the first few days and weeks. Then help came from many sources, and how generously and fairly the doctor acknowledged it and gave the fullest co-operation.

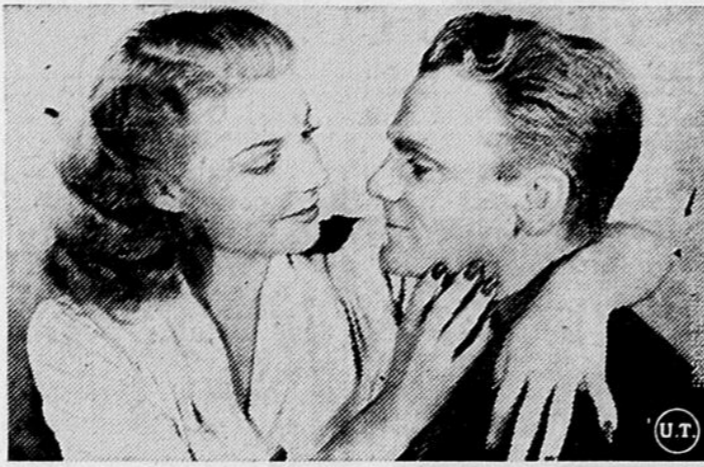

A World Figure

"He became a world figure. A well-deserved honor was bestowed upon him by His Majesty the King. He was feted, praised and lifted clean out of his obscurity, but his nature never changed. "Always of a retiring disposition, continually thinking of his work and profession more than himself, many a time he said to me: 'I have to be so careful for I am determined never to do anything that might be described as unethical.' And he never did. In him is enshrined all that is best in the tradition of the general practitioner, the country doctor, and his name will go down to posterity as one who resisted great temptation and remained absolutely true to the highest and best in his profession.

Influence on the Profession

"The world is better for such men as Roy Datoe, and many a young medical man fighting against temptations of all kinds will remember Allan Roy Datoe and will be strengthened by his example. Simplicity, directness and loyalty were well marked traits in his character. His sound judgment and tolerance and his never-failing patience endeared him to all who met him and worked with him. To all those who mourn for him, to his son and brother, and other members of the family, we extend our deepest sympathy. May his soul rest in peace, and may we go forth in our several walks of life encouraged and strengthened by his example of duty, perseverance and faithfulness. It may be said of him, as of many other great and good men—their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liveth forevermore."

Musical Sharps Flats and Naturals by Frances Goltman

A SYMPHONIC SURVEY

"Musical America," one of the most interesting and informative of all the too few magazines of the world of music, recently had a survey to determine the most popular symphonic works and their composers. We feel that all lovers of great orchestral music will be surprised at some of the results of this "popularity contest." The survey was undertaken to find out just how audiences react to various compositions and the information received from nineteen of the foremost orchestras in the United States shows that Beethoven topped the list as favorite composer.

It has not been our custom to give statistics often but in this article they are necessary to show the facts. The nineteen orchestras used in this survey were the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra, Rochester Philharmonic, and the Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati, Columbus, Indianapolis, Grand Rapids, Harrisburg, Minneapolis, National (of Washington), NBC, New Haven, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Francisco and Seattle symphonies.

The test was taken from programs of the past season only and these orchestras gave 1,398 performances of 719 works by 242 composers. It was found that the two most popular individual works were Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony and Wagner's "Meistersingers' Overture. In the composers list Beethoven was first with 93 performances, Wagner second with 64, Brahms 54, Tchaikovsky 52, Mozart 51, Bach 49, Debussy 41, Richard Strauss and Ravel 32, and Shostakovich 28.

That Shostakovich should be in the first ten can easily be accounted for as he came into the limelight especially with the sensational "Leningrad" Symphony (The Seventh). It must not be forgotten that it is the orchestra leaders who choose the programs and being the conductor is no easy task. But if he is a shrewd conductor he realizes that he must satisfy the public's taste and in some cases sacrifice his own if he wishes for good attendance and to retain his position. Yes, it is a known fact that if a conductor does not receive sufficient applause he is not re-engaged so it is only natural that he think twice when choosing a program.

The results of the nineteen orchestras individually have not as yet been disclosed but will be shortly.

At Belmont Park

For the eighth consecutive year, Stan Wood's orchestra is featured in the beautiful dance pavilion at Belmont Park. This achievement speaks very highly of the leadership and musicianship of Stan Wood who, in addition to leading his orchestra in music that's sweet and hot, also plays third alto sax and the violin in the band. This year Stan is featuring a 15-year-old trumpeter who, at the age of 12, won a Gold Medal and was soloist with the Black Watch Band. His name is Maynard Ferguson.

Noted Montreal pianist, who will give a recital at the Central Y.M.C.A. Hall, Drummond street, on Saturday afternoon next.

Frances Goltman Pupils Perform In Fine Recital

Last Monday evening Miss Frances Goltman presented her pupils in the tenth annual concert in Tudor Hall before a capacity audience. The hall was so crowded that many could not gain admittance and had to stand outside. Miss Goltman achieved an unprecedented success. The audience was enthusiastic throughout and heavy applause greeted the young pianists, some having to respond with encores. Special mention must be made of the grace and ease of each performer. Outstanding points were the remarkable rhythm and splendid expression throughout the recital in which each student performed from memory.

To single out one special child among the younger tots would be very difficult since all did amazingly well. The smaller pianists came first on the program and included Sheila Leboff, Beverley Freedman, David Franklin, Frances Lang, Ellen Liverman, Raymond Grant, Marilyn Gomeroff, Carol Rosenblatt, Louise Appleton, Margaret Cregan and Shirley Rushton.

Miss Goltman's experience in choosing concert numbers that "take" was evidenced by the interest of the listeners. Nancy Comerford won the audience with her rendition of a fragment of a Liszt Rhapsody. Gloria Fine played well in a Waltz and Beverley Grossman showed spirit in a "Village Dance." Alan Heid displayed a good firm touch in a Gurit Number and Ruth Goldwater, excellent rhythm in a Chinese piece. Norma Gillman, Janet Booz, Marilyn Goldman, Lois Albert, Marilyn Lapidis and Norma Marks all did well in familiar numbers. Barbara Boell pleased the audience with a fast Tarantella. Ronald Cape's interpretation of the celebrated Paderewski "Minuet" was excellent for such tender years. Jennifer Sheldon played admirably in a tuneless number and Lois Klein was accorded generous applause for a Bach "Minuet." A Hungarian Dance was played with spirit by Louisa Kirk and Darlene Starr was heard in "Papillons" by Templeton. Connie Rosenhek displayed talent in a Russian Dance and Muriel Kirby was outstanding in "Salarillo" by Schmitt. Marvin Rosenhek and Shirley Ritchie, two smart pupils showed wonderful rhythm in a Spanish Dance and Country Dance respectively.

Eleanor Goldsmith, Phyllis Booz and Maxine Lawrence were heard in melodious numbers. Nellie School had good tone in "Juanita" and Esther Oost played well in a Heller Number. Mary Werleman rendered Bach's "Sol-feggietto" brilliantly and Glorienne Schwartz excelled in the famous "Turkish Rondo" by Mozart with splendid interpretation. Sylvia Marks showed good technique in a Schubert "Impromptu"; Kenneth Gross displayed ability in a familiar operatic number, "Trovatore"; and Laird McMeekin rendered "The Fighting Hope" with fine rhythm and spirit.

Many of the performers were recalled and those who had to play encores included Beverly Grossman, Alan Heid, Ronald Cape, Jennifer Sheldon, Connie Rosenhek, Muriel Kirby, Shirley Ritchie, Mary Werleman, Kenneth Gross, Glorienne Schwartz, Sylvia Marks and Laird McMeekin.

In the middle of the program Miss Goltman announced the splendid results of her pupils in the recent McGill University exams. Primary Grade, Marvin Rosenhek, high distinction and first in Montreal. Jennifer Sheldon, distinction, second. Marilyn Lapidis and Shirley Ritchie, distinction, equal fourth. Norma Gillman, distinction fifth. Ruth Goldwater and Louisa Kirk, distinction, equal seventh. Beverly Grossman, honors. Nancy Comerford, honors. Elementary Grade, Connie Rosenhek, distinction.

At York Theatre

Four photographers died, seven were wounded and six captured in order that the motion picture "Desert Victory," a sensational record of the battle of Africa, might be made.

The film which shows Rommel's rout by Montgomery's British Eighth Army, was taken during the historic 80 day, 1,400 mile battle while the fighting was hottest. This moving record of General Montgomery's famed "Desert Rats" unfolds its thrilling story now playing at the York United Theatre.

Critics who have seen the picture, a 20th Century-Fox release, describe it as the finest full length war picture ever made. Complete in every detail, it shows the progress of the battle-scarred veterans from the time they left the El Alamein line until they marched triumphantly into Tripoli.

"Desert Victory" is a factual yet inspiring day-by-day account of the entire 1,400-mile campaign across the desert—the campaign that cracked Rommel's once proud Afrika Korps.

second in Montreal. Ronald Cape, distinction, sixth. Ina Leboff, honors and Norma Marks, honors.

As a grand finale the pupils assembled on the platform for the singing of the National Anthem and Miss Goltman was presented with a gorgeous basket of American beauty roses in appreciation from her pupils. Miss Goltman thanked the audience for their keen interest and is to be highly congratulated on the success of this year's concert.

Eastern Townships Noted For Their Scenic Beauty

Forests of Laurentians Arrayed in Summer Glory

To the south of Montreal and between the International boundary, lie the Eastern Townships. These townships, which comprise about 6,500 square miles, include the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Compton, Richmond, Wolfe, Megantic, Drummond, Arthabaska, Brome, Sheffield and Missisquoi. The Townships differ in many respects from any other part of the province of Quebec. The territory was organized on the "township plan" instead of the "parish system" which prevailed in the French settlements and was called the Eastern Townships to distinguish it from the Western Townships in Ontario.

Gay With Guests
During the summer season, the hotels and cottages around Lake Memphremagog, Lake Massawippi and Brome Lake are gay with guests from all parts of Canada and the United States; while scores of charming villages are sought by many who prefer the hills and forests to the valleys and lakes.

Canada Steamship Cruises Drafted

Passenger services and cruise schedules of Canada Steamship Lines were drafted for this summer with the view to provide the short restful holidays for all those engaged in vital war work who will find it impossible to enjoy the longer vacations of pre-war summers, according to C. C. Bonter, passenger traffic manager.

Travel on Canada's great inland waterways will be as unrestricted as in former years, Mr. Bonter said. Both the Canadian and United States governments were alert to the fact that war workers and others needed some relaxation to maintain peak efficiency.

Canadians and Americans will still have holidays and there was no doubt that they needed them, Mr. Bonter remarked. While automobiles could no longer be used for pleasure travel, it was still possible to travel by ship and no country is better served in this mode of transportation than Canada. Moreover, travel by ship will unburden other transport facilities heavily over-taxed due to wartime exigencies.

ing points lie within the territory traversed by Richmond to Portland route of the C. N. R. Among them are Richmond, Windsor Mills, Bromptonville, Sherbrooke — known as the hub of the Eastern Townships—Lennoxville, Coaticook, and Dixville, Eastward from Richmond toward Quebec, the route, after crossing the St. Francis River, runs north-easterly through Danville, Kingsley Falls, Warwick, Victoriaville, Princeville. Part of the route running through the Eastern Townships has been aptly described as "one of the fairest tracts of Old Canada . . . a land of river and plain; of mountain and tarn and lake and valley; but first and chiefly a river land."

Responding to an urgent appeal by the Salvage Division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, thousands of Boy Scouts in every province of Canada are preparing to assist in the dramatic drive for vital fats for Canada's war industries.

"The fortunes of war are subject to much more rapid change on the battlefield than on the production front."
Admiral E. S. Land.

Forests of Laurentians Clothed in Summer Glory

The summer glory of the Laurentian Mountains is now in full bloom. The trees of the forest, the maple, birch, pine, fir and many others are now resplendent in their green mantles, and the scene is one of beauty.

From a mountain home on the shore of Lake Outim, one of the beauty spots of the Laurentians, the eye of the beholder gazes upon an entrancing sight. In the distance looms Mount Tremblant, the mysterious trembling mountain, famed in Indian legend, and the highest peak of the whole Laurentian range with an altitude of over 3,200 feet. A series of smaller hills almost completely enclose the lake. The shimmering surface of the lake together with the mountains and trees conjures up a pretty vacation picture as anyone could desire.

But captivating vacation pictures are not peculiar to any remote or secluded section of the Laurentians, for throughout the route traced by the Canadian Pacific Railway line which begins at Montreal and courses through eastern Canada's finest natural playground, summer vacation sites are plentiful and enticing.

In the sporting goods stores of Montreal, many of these Laurentian vacationers — some of them visitors from far-away places — are mulling over a range of trout and bass flies, and debating with the experts on the virtues of "Parnachene Belle", "Brown Hackle", "The Silver Doctor", "March Brown", and other favourites.

MONOLOGUE ON A WET NIGHT

Now along the gleaming streets The gusty rain is like a wing Brushing our faces with the warm And half-reluctant touch of spring.

Soon hurdy-gurdies will be grinding Their bright-canned tunes along The Square, And scrawny grasses will be pushing Their stubborn blades toward city air.

And little leaves will creep on bushes Guarded behind stout iron rails, And flower shops will bloom with crocus And lilac-blossoms sold from palls.

FRANCES FROST.
For thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will enlighten my darkness.—Ps. 138:28.

Holidays Healthy At Kerr's Farm

A choice vacation resort which has everything to recommend it to the holidaymaker is Kerr's Farm located in the heart of the Laurentian Mountains on Lake Hughes.

Situated at an altitude of 1,149 feet the scenery in this section is unsurpassable and guests are assured either of a quiet and restful sojourn in the famous bracing air of the region or, if preferred, participation in the many sports which the resort provides.

There is fishing and hunting in season, boats are available to guests, the fine sandy beach affords safe bathing and tennis courts are built on the grounds.

Humus is formed by decay of organic matter and is the natural storehouse of the soil's nitrogen, the most expensive plant food in commercial fertilizers. Source of humus of special interest to gardeners are materials, such as garden refuse, leaves, and domestic garbage.

GARAGEMEN STILL UNDEFEATED IN SENIOR CITY SOFTBALL WHILE DODGERS STILL ON TOP

Army Service Team Undeclared, Winning Three Games During Week — No. 5 Manning Depot Captured Two Games Against No. 3 Training Command and Navy

The R.C.A.S.C. (M.T.) Garage team is proving to be the surprise team in the senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League. The garagemen have gone undefeated in five games and are the only undefeated team in the circuit. The latest victims of the Army Service Corps nine were the No. 12 Equipment Depot squad who took it on the chin by a 15-3 score on Monday night.

While the Dodgers have lost one game, they are still on top of the league by virtue of six wins in seven games, the other teams are strung out along the line and a great battle is in prospect for the six playoff berths.

The undefeated Army Service Corps team copped three wins during the week with their first one against the Dodgers one of the biggest upsets of the year. In this game the army boys outlasted the local team to win an 11-9 victory. The winners took a liking to Dougie Maher's deliveries early in the game and ran up a 10-1 lead before the Dodgers got in the game. Jewett, Oss and Rattelle were the big guns in the winner's batting attack accounting for seven hits between them while Kevin Kennedy put on a one-man display for the Dodgers hitting safely four times in four times at the plate, one of them being a home-run.

The M.T. garage team's second win was a precarious one as it was 19-17 victory over the last place No. 4 Ordnance squad. Jewett and Oss again led the batting attack with four hits apiece. The No. 12 Equipment Depot were the third victims and they dropped a 15-3 decision. For the third straight game Jewett continued his sensational hitting and banged out three hits in five official times at bat.

With Allan Dyke back on the mound, the Dodgers resumed their winning ways and shut out the No. 12 Equipment Depot 5-0.

Westmount Wins Match By 90 Runs Over Wanderers

Westmount played Wanderers 1 at Royal Avenue on Saturday. Winning the toss, Westmount batted first but started badly. Elvidge and Sweeting being dismissed early, the latter calling for a second run which was not there.

Gun played confidently for awhile but it was not until Meston and Pankowski became partners that runs came freely. Wright going in at seventh wicket joined Pankowski and hitting all around the wicket soon passed the latter's score. The innings closed for 173 runs after two and half hours batting.

Wanderers replied with 83 runs. Elvidge taking five wickets for 29 runs, Westmount winning by 90 runs.

On Saturday next Verdun will be the visitors to Westmount Park.

PLAYOFFS NEAR IN JUNIOR LOOP

Commandos Unbeaten After Six Starts

An exciting race in the Junior softball set-up at the "Y" is centering around the last three teams, who will be the fourth team to make the playoffs is the big question now. Both Lepiz's Commandos and Armstrong's Bruin boys are safe bets for playoff berths. But Desperate McCready's Torpedoes won against Wager's Flyers to put both teams in close competition with Freddie Stephenson's All Stars for fourth place.

Movie Show Held

Last Saturday afternoon eighty-five preps and juniors enjoyed a grand movie at the "Y". These movies have proved both enjoyable and instructive to the boys. Another show is on the schedule for this week-end and another large crowd is expected to turn out.

Now that the warm weather is again with us the swimming pool is proving to be a very popular spot with all the members from the youngest to the oldest. Many have already been taught to swim and others are learning new strokes and many new hints in diving.

Tom Hardwick's Life Saving Class is making great progress and its members will soon be ready to take their examination. For the past few weeks the boys have been meeting for instruction each Thursday afternoon in the swimming pool at the "Y" where they receive instruction both in land and water drill.

PREP SOFTBALL SHOWS CHANGES

Two big changes have hit the Prep standing during the past week. First, Keith Woodley's Bullets jumped from fifth to third place. And again, Watty's Lulu Belles have changed places with Sonny Nickle's Yankees. As in the Junior League, Commandos have been invincible, but there is still doubt as to which teams will enter the playoffs.

Entry List Up For First Tournament Of Tennis Season

Ladies' Open Singles Begin Play On June 21st

The entry list for the first tennis tournament of the year—the ladies open singles—is now up on the municipal courts. This tournament is open to all women and girls residing in the City of Westmount who have adult, student or scholar's tennis tickets.

This list will be taken down next Monday and the tournament itself will get underway on Monday, June 21. The date, time and court for the matches will be set for all players.

Other tournament lists will be up in the near future when men's singles and doubles tournaments will be held.

FALCONS TAKE 'Y' INTO CAMP

Harold Long and Ian Forrest Blast Home Runs

Johnnie Waterston's Falcons broke into the win column in the Bantam Baseball League when they came from behind to smacha a 10-9 decision over the YMCA team. This was the second straight loss that the Y team has suffered by one run.

The Falcons jumped into an early lead and led 6-2 at the end of the fourth inning. Most of these runs were garnered as the result of walks issued by George Thomas, who was on the mound for the losers, but one legitimate run was Harold Young's home-run in the fourth frame. The Y scored four times in the fifth, Ian Forrest clouting circuit clout.

Dave Barnard and George Thomas were the batting stars of the game, Barnard banged out three hits in four times at the plate while Thomas accounted for two in three trips to the plate.

This afternoon the Bombers will play the Falcons while on Tuesdays, June 15th, Roslyn's meet the YMCA.

The four teams in the loop are the RCAF (WD) No. 1 Wireless School, CWAC No. 11 Company, CWAC No. 33 Company and the Westmount girls team. The schedule will open Tuesday night with the Westmount team playing No. 11 Company while the Wireless School hooks up with the No. 33 Company.

The three service team seem to be well fortified with players and at least two of them will have hurlers of major league calibre. The Wireless School will have Aida Selby, one of the top notchers in the St. Clair league from Toronto while No. 33 Company will use Evelyn Munroe, former major leaguer of this city.

The Westmount team practiced Tuesday night and will be out again on Saturday afternoon in an effort to get ready for the league opening. The team is still on the lookout for players and candidates are asked to turn up at the practices. Those counted on to play this year are Marg Forrester, Marg Armstrong, Jean Wrigglesworth, Mary Van Tangoron, Gladys Morgan, Peggy Pope, Dolly Thompson, Mary McGe, Beverly Condon, Shirley Thompson, Beryl Watier, Gertrude Munro and others.

The schedule of the ladies' section is as follows:
June 15 — Westmount vs. No. 11 Company; Wireless vs. No. 33 Company.
June 22 — No. 11 Company vs. Wireless; No. 33 Company vs. Westmount.
June 29 — No. 11 Company vs. No. 33 Company; Westmount vs. Wireless.

The opening game in the junior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League was rained out for the third straight time last Friday night but with good weather prevailing the loop should have got underway at Staynor Park on Tuesday night when the Dodgers travelled down there to meet Ed Baylis' Staynor club.

A double-header is scheduled for Westmount Park to-morrow night when the Beavers and Dodgers will meet on diamond No. 1 and the Staynor team plays the Royals on diamond No. 2.

ROYALS LEAD SOFTBALL LOOP

Class Battle Raging in Y League

In the Intermediate League at the local "Y" softball grounds a close battle for first place has been going on as playoff time approaches. So far, the classy Royals, who copped the Intermediate hockey title, have led the field. The Flashes gave them a run for their money last Saturday morning, but homers by Henderson and Ballentyne and strong pitching by Lorne Rolfo finally put down the "Millermen".

Keith Poole's Bulldogs climbed into second place during the past week by beating both the Strangers and Eagles.

PREP SOFTBALL SHOWS CHANGES

Two big changes have hit the Prep standing during the past week. First, Keith Woodley's Bullets jumped from fifth to third place. And again, Watty's Lulu Belles have changed places with Sonny Nickle's Yankees. As in the Junior League, Commandos have been invincible, but there is still doubt as to which teams will enter the playoffs.

The Door ... Without a Lock

THE DOORS of St. Mary's Hospital are open to all races . . . and all creeds. Because the great majority of patients can pay only a part of the cost of their care, annual deficits inevitably occur. The hospital has practically no endowment. Consequently St. Mary's must look for support from the public. Confident that you regard St. Mary's as an essential unit in the city's hospitalization facilities, the Campaign Committee solicits your continued support.
