PRICE—TWO CENTS

Quotas Exceeded In Successful Y Membership Drive

Indians and McGill Teams Both Go Over Top — Two Hundred and Ten New and Renewed Memberships at Local Organization — Mac Shippee and D. J. Glen Lead Teams — Indians Ahead — Team Results

One of the most successful campaigns in the history of the local Y.M.C.A. drew to a close Monday night, with both major divisions of workers well in advance of their objectives, and eight of eighteen sub-teams exceeded by wide margins their quotas.

The Indians aggregation, under the captaincy of Cam Morgan, led in the final balloting, bringing in 112 new and renewed memberships. The McGill team, headed by Howard Matheson, came close behind, with 98 memberships to their credit.

The two main teams were each divided into nine sub-teams, and that captained by Mac Shippee, under the Indians' banner, made the highest score, exceeding their quota of ten members by 90 per cent. D. J. Glen's team, also under the Indians, was second with 171 per cent. The highest individual was Ed DeWit, who brought in eleven new members.

In all, eighty seven boys were enrolled, sixty three men and sixty ladies, making a grand total of two hundred and ten. The objective was two hundred new or renewed memberships.

Individual sub-teams rated as follows:

EXAMINER ANNOUNCES CONTEST

Be the Guest of The Examiner At the Popular Westmount Theatre — Free Theatre Passes For Lucky Winners Of Novel Competition

With this issue, The Westmount Examiner inaugurates a novel contest, in which any reader of The Examiner of sixteen years of age or over, may compete. The kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre, makes this contest possible. Every week the Westmount Theatre shows on its screen four feature pictures. The names of the two pictures being shown during the first half of the week, namely, from Sunday until Tuesday, will be cleverly hidden in the reading matter of advertisements appearing in the Examiner issued on the Friday previous to the time of showing of these pictures.

All you have to do is find the "ads" which have the names of these feature pictures hidden in their texts. For instance, one of the features at The Westmount Theatre next Sunday is "Three Cheers for Love". Simply find the "ad" in today's Examiner in which the words "Three Cheers for Love" appear in sequence. This also applies to the other feature picture as well.

When you have found the ads, simply drop a line to the Examiner office, 5384 Sherbrooke Street West, telling us in what ads you have found the hidden titles. From those submitting the correct answers, a drawing will be made, and to each of the six lucky ones drawn, two passes, which will admit you to the Westmount Theatre, will be mailed.

So sharpen your pencils and your wits, readers. Mr. Resident, take your wife to the Westmount one evening; Mr. Resident junior, take your sweetheart; Mrs. and Miss Resident, bring a friend. The Westmount Examiner will be your

Many Who Through Puddles Race Should Be Put In Special Place

Early yesterday morning a motorist drove heedlessly through a large puddle of slush at the corner of Sherbrooke and Victoria and splashed a number of people waiting there for a street car.

Though many righteous-minded men, to make this world much better, may labour long both day and night, and practise to the letter, the many splendid things they preach, to rid this world of woe, there's still the numbskull illy bred, who better ought to know, but who persists in careless deeds and causes indignation, by driving fast through puddles wet, and causing saturation.

There's one in each community, it pains us to relate, and for these thoughtless, careless boors, we would provide a fate, that would prove quite a cure for all the fellows of this class, we'd fill their teacups full of glue, their food with powdered glass, They do not seem to care at all whatever kind of mess they make upon our clothing neat, or take out all the press. It doesn't worry them a bit if down our collars flows, a stream of dirty water cold, or fills our ears and nose. It little matters unto them the galling indignation, they leave behind them as they go, despised by all creation.

There isn't much in this old world with which we can repay them, although we'd like to hang them up, and then quite cheerly slay them. But there must be another place beyond this world of ours, where they will get what they deserve—and we'll just omit flowers.

Tribute to those who gave their lives, and to those who served in the Great War, will be paid Sunday at the Cenotaph, facing the city hall. The ceremony will commence at 2.30, but those attending are asked to be present not later than 2.20.

Regiment will co-operate in the Remembrance ceremony. Representatives of various local associations, clubs, etc., will be present, and will lay wreaths on the monument. The ceremony will be brought to a close with the sounding of the Last Post, a two minutes' silence, and the singing of the National Anthem.

CHANGE COMMAND OF RMR SUNDAY AFTER CEREMONY

Major J. E. Slessor To Succeed Lieut. Col. Whitehead As Officer Commanding Local Unit

On completion of four years as commanding officer of the Royal Montreal Regiment, Lt. Col. G. V. Whitehead, V.D., will hand over the command of the unit, and will be succeeded by Major J. Eric Slessor, E.D., present second-in-command.

Officially, the handing over will take place following the unveiling of a regimental memorial tablet to those who fell in the Great War. The unveiling will take place in the local Armoury, on St. Catherine street. Col. Whitehead is one of the youngest regimental commanders in the Montreal district, and has been extremely popular with all ranks. He was commissioned with the Victoria Rifles of Canada in September, 1914, and proceeded overseas with the 148th Battalion, and was posted with the 14th Battalion, The Royal Montreal Regiment, C.E.F., in April 1917.

While at Paschendale in November of that year, he was wounded and was invalided to England. He rejoined his regiment in March, 1918, and in October was promoted to the rank of captain. He was appointed company commander of No. 2 Company and was with his company during the allied occupation of the Rhineland. He returned to Canada in 1919 and took command of his old company when the regiment was re-organized on a peace-time basis, subsequently being promoted to second in command of the regiment, and assuming full command in December, 1932. On relinquishing this on Sunday, Col. Whitehead will take over command of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion R.M.R., from Lieut. Col. E. J. McKenna, who will be placed on the general list.

Major Slessor started his military career in the Westmount High School Cadet Corps, and then joined the C.O.T.C. at McGill University. He gained a commission in the spring of 1915 in the Victoria Rifles and took a course at the Royal School of Infantry at Halifax, joining the 60th Battalion, C.E.F., in August 1915, and in November went overseas with the 148th Battalion. After 10 days (Continued On Page 3) host to an evening or afternoon of splendid, wholesome entertainment, of the type which has made The Westmount Theatre famous.

First Commencement Exercises At Argyle Junior High School Friday Night Largely Attended

Mary Notables Present—Dr. W. P. Percival Addressed Gathering—Dr. McNaughton, Principal Brunt, Mayor Jenkins Also Spoke—List Of Honours

The auditorium at Argyle Junior High School was filled to capacity on Friday evening on the occasion of the presentation of prizes and diplomas to the graduation class of 1936. Among those present were leaders in educational work, civic representatives and parents of the scholars, while the pupils gave evidence of true pride in their old school. The platform was decorated with large palms and ferns while a large Union Jack was draped across the stage. Among the guests of the evening who occupied seats on the stage were: Dr. F. M. A. McNaughton, who presided, Dr. W. P. Percival, director of Protestant Education who delivered the address, His Worship Mayor Jenkins, S. F. Keeland, superintendent of Schools, Principal H. B. Parker of Westmount High School, Rev. W. Mulligan, Mr. Radford, Mr. Chalk, as well as the teaching staff headed by Principal J. W. Brunt.

An interesting programme was presented consisting of addresses together with vocal and instrumental selections. Songs by Messrs. G. J. Mitchell and Donald Jones were pleasingly rendered while Miss Vivien Jones performed expertly on the violin. The singing of a chorus of scholars under the leadership of Mr. F. Whiteley was well received. Dr. McNaughton briefly outlined the new system of teaching adopted at Argyle and felt certain that the school would prove the wisdom of those responsible for the re-organization. He paid a compliment to the teaching staff and referred to the good results obtained during the first year.

Principal Brunt in a report on the activities last season stated that the high attendance shown was an indication that the scholars were enjoying their school life under the new system. The principal also mentioned that the school had done well in athletics, while the different clubs had a profitable season. Mayor Jenkins told his hearers that the civic leaders were in sympathy with all educational movements in this city. He complimented Argyle School for leading the province in the Junior High movement, and drew attention to the fact that scholars of the present attained during the first year.

MARY LOUISE FOX ACCIDENT VICTIM BURIAL TOMORROW

Two Local Girls Victims Of Motor Smash Near St. Martin Early Wednesday Morning

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from St. Stephen's Church of Mary Louise Fox, of Staynor avenue, who was killed in a motor collision early Wednesday morning on Boulevard LaSalle, near St. Martin. She was 22 years of age.

Miss Fox's body was found crushed in the rumble seat of one of the two cars involved by a city of Montreal motor cycle squad constable, who was summoned to the scene by a passing motorist. Seven other persons were found to be injured, five of them seriously. Miss Dorothy Jones, 17, 1059 Greene avenue, is one of the victims considered to be in serious condition from head injuries.

It is the opinion of officers who investigated the mishap that the machines involved must have been travelling at a high rate of speed as the victims were found scattered about the side of the road and ditch, evidently thrown from their cars.

Other victims, none of them residing in Westmount are: Tancred Fortin, severe cuts on the head, neck and knee; Saul Seltzer, fractured jaw and cuts; Edward Duchoyev, cuts and bruises; Sam Moscovitch, serious internal injuries; Buddy Lieberman, released from hospital following treatment.

It was learned by police that Fortin was alone in his car when the collision occurred, with the machine containing the three girls and four other men.

Summer Expenditures Confirmed On Tuesday

Routine business occupied the meeting of Westmount City Council on Tuesday. The main feature of the evening was the confirmation of wage, salary and account expenditures for the months of July, August and September, which amounted to $324,319.88.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mayor John Jenkins, who presided, extended an invitation to Montrealeers to attend the city's fall chrysanthemum show being held in the Westmount Park greenhouses.

Rotarians Heard Lovell Baker Tell About 'Diamonds'

South Africa Heads Diamond Trade, Declared Speaker —185,000,000 Carats Produced In Last Sixty Five Years—Depression Affected Gem Trade—Stories Of Famous Stones Related

J. Lovell Baker, of Henry Birks and Sons, Ltd., was the special guest speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club held in Victoria Hall on Wednesday. Mr. Baker took "Diamonds" as his subject, and discussed this king of gems from various angles.

Three quarters of all the diamonds owned by the human race have been produced in South Africa during the past sixty five years, Mr. Baker told his hearers. The weight of these diamonds amounts to about 185,000,000 carats.

Only a small quantity of the diamonds mined in South Africa ever stay there, he stated. The remainder are shipped to the great diamond market in London, England, and eventually for cutting to Antwerp and Amsterdam. Antwerp, he remarked, has lately outstripped the former city in the diamond trade. The two cities have been rivals for many years.

Diamonds have felt the pressure of economic depression, but both good and bad times have had adverse effects on the trade, the speaker stated. Money was drawn into speculation during the former period, he said, which left less for diamond buying on a large scale. The depression for diamonds began back in 1927 in the United States when stock market speculation soared. For years the U.S.A. used about 80 per cent of the cut diamonds. Between 1926 and 1933 annual imports into that country dropped from 555,000 carats to 180,000 carats.

Mr. Baker also entertained the Rotarians with the mysterious history of famous diamonds such as the "Kohinoor" which found its way from a Rajah's treasure in 1304 A.D., to the crown jewels of England today; the "Regent," carried once concealed in the wound of an Indian slave and finally resting in the Louvre, Paris; and the "Cullinan," largest of all diamonds, weighing 3106 carats or one and a third pounds, found in 1905, and now cut into smaller diamonds and distributed among the crown jewels of England.

Dr. I. K. Carver, president, was in the chair.

Cars Badly Damaged In Driverless Smack

Residents of Claremont Avenue Immediately Above Sherbrooke Street were startled late Monday night by the din that arose when a parked car got loose from its anchorage on the west side of the hill and rolled towards Sherbrooke street, crossing Claremont and colliding with a car parked on the east side opposite no. 421.

The car that ran down the hill, a brown sedan of a well known make, then rolled on a stretch further and turned over on its side according to an eye witness of the mishap. Both cars were badly damaged.

NAMED VICE-PRESIDENT

Walter P. Zeller, Lexington avenue resident, was named first vice-president of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal at last week's luncheon meeting in the Windsor Hotel. H. R. Churchill was chosen president, and W. Fred Stambach and G. Wilfred Hodgson were named second vice-president and treasurer respectively.

The following directors were elected for 1937: H. Everett Dwyer, Alexander Thomson, Thos. V. Bell, T. H. McEvoy, Douglas M. Edmonds, John Sperling, John P. Harrison, Raymond F. Cummings.

When We're For A Story Stuck We Simply Interview Ye Duck

"It's not fair!" cried a somewhat high and nasal voice as the Examiner reporter passed near the pond in the park Tuesday afternoon. "I won't stand for it!" Smeering a story, the reporter dug out his notebook and looked around a duck floated placidly around the water, oblivious of the raindrops which rolled from her back. "Did you speak?" asked the reporter, incredulously. "Yes," returned the duck. "It's not fair, and I think you ought to give me some publicity." "What isn't fair?" asked the reporter writing furiously. "Why, every time I lay an egg, a city employee comes along and takes it away," mourned the duck, with tears in her eyes, or perhaps it was rain. "What do they think I am—a chicken? Haven't they got hens' eggs enough without stealing mine?"

"Well, I'm sure they don't intend to be mean," said the reporter. "Tell me, how do you like it here in the park?" "We get pretty well fed," replied the duck, diving for some morsel on the bottom of the pond. "All the children feed us, and we have nothing to do but grow fat." "What do you think of the government's home-owners' loan scheme?" asked the reporter. "It's a great idea," said the duck. "Next year I seriously intend to raise a family, take out a loan and build a house." "There's one thing I'd like to know," said the reporter. "When a duck is ill, do they call in a 'quack' doctor?" At this the duck groaned and dived under water. When she failed to return after ten minutes, the reporter walked away. It was raining pretty hard anyway.

THE ARMISTICE AND DEMOCRACY

Eighteen years ago next Wednesday the most terrible war in the world's history came to a close. At that time we thought the world had been saved for democracy; that we had crushed the ambitions of a ruthless German emperor, and in so doing had opened up an era of international trust and friendship, of peace and prosperity, of great production of the earth's bounty, of happiness and plenty for all. But we had no sooner laid down arms than we took up other weapons, the weapons of trade and currency, and the world was plunged into a commercial conflict which, in its results, has been more destructive of our material and moral well-being than the armed conflict that preceded it, and which, indeed, is fast rebogganing the world to another armed conflict that might well destroy what is left of the fine civilization we knew in the half century preceding the Great War. The world safe for Democracy? The world today is in a worse position as far as democracy is concerned than when it feared the ambitions of Kaiser Wilhelm. In those days the issue was clearly drawn and the proponents and opponents of democracy sharply divided by international boundaries. Today the germs of Communism and Fascism have begun to multiply even in the remaining democracies on the earth's surface. The one is as little to be desired as the other. Both must be resisted to the uttermost. Let us resolve this Armistice Day that if the foolishness of mankind has prevented the world from being made safe for democracy, at least Canada shall be preserved in freedom.

A GREAT VICTORY FOR MR. ROOSEVELT

Tuesday's election in the United States marked another great victory for advanced liberalism. So overwhelming was the victory for Mr. Roosevelt, velt, that one cannot but predict that torism is definitely on the decline in America. Mr. Roosevelt has survived four years of depression—years, it is true, during which improvement has been steady but not rapid—and has come through with his prestige and popularity unimpaired. He has been trying to help the common man—sincerely endeavouring to improve the position of the worker—and the people have appreciated his efforts. Not as successful as he had hoped, he has nevertheless inspired the people with his indomitable fighting spirit, used always with a charm of man-new few men possess. The Republicans had little chance, and factors that might have given them a sizable vote were nullified by Hearst support (always a handicap to aspirants for office) and the silly tripe that the Republican committee tried to persuade the voters to swallow via the radio. The night before polling day, this committee put on a broadcast, which, although a technical achievement, must have cost Mr. Landon a million votes because of the cheapness and extreme bad taste of its content. The singing of Onward Christian Soldiers by a choir in Chicago was followed by a prayer by a Jewish Rabbi which was little more sacred than a Republican campaign speech. Then followed a negro, farmer, housewife, labourer, school-boy, (all predicting calamity of one form or another if Mr. Roosevelt was elected), the singing of 'My Country 'Tis of Thee,' a Landon eulogy by a Protestant clergyman, a ringing declaration by the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, Col. Knox, to the effect that the United States was the last stronghold in the world of personal liberty, a brief speech by Mr. Landon himself, and finally benediction pronounced by a catholic priest, a Father Kelly. It was enough to give intelligent voters a pain in the neck. Certainly it didn't help Mr. Landon at all, particularly as it was followed by one of Mr. Roosevelt's best speeches of the entire campaign on the right of a free people to choose their governors. As far as Canada is concerned, the Democratic victory means a continuance of the friendliest of relations between the two governments, and extension of the mutually beneficial trade arrangements presently existing.

At a Toronto luncheon in honor of Walter Schevenels, visiting European radical, Rev. Ben Spence called upon all those who had served jail sentences to stand up, whereupon, when 12 arose, the minister cried: "I want you to know we have the highest grade of criminals in the city of Toronto or anywhere in the Dominion." It's an honor few will be inclined to dispute.

NOTED PHYSICIAN CALLED BY DEATH IN HIS 82ND YEAR

Dr. H. L. Reddy, Tupper Street, Had Been Fifty Years With the Women's General Hospital

The funeral is being held this afternoon from his late residence, 4060 Tupper street, of Dr. Herbert Lionel Reddy, F.R.S.S., L.R.C.P., L.C.A., superintendent and physician in charge of the Women's General Hospital, whose death occurred at his home Wednesday evening. He was 82 years old, and on Monday had just observed the golden jubilee of his connection with the hospital.

A native of Montreal, he was taken to Ireland, his ancestral home, while still a boy, and received his early education there. While there he became acquainted with Oscar Wilde.

Young Reddy returned to Montreal at the age of 17 and entered McGill University, taking arts and medicine. During his student days he went north into the James Bay territory as an attendant physician, and had a taste of hardship and privation. Following his graduation, he went to England, and entered St. Thomas' Hospital, London.

After his internship there, he went to Vienna, after which he returned to Montreal. He shortly after assumed the post of physician in charge at the Woman's Hospital, in the year 1886.

Dr. Reddy became not only physician in charge, but business manager as well. Social service was not yet regarded as a science either, but whether patients were wealthy or poor the hospital was open. Each Saturday night Dr. Reddy paid a late visit to the office, collecting the receipts to finish the job of paying bills promptly, and each Monday the hospital began with a clean sheet.

"The whole community will mourn the loss of such a man," Dr. A. Bercovitch, surgeon-in-chief of the hospital and Dr. Reddy's immediate assistant, said. "I knew him for 30 years—in fact, he was my teacher in obstetrics—and in the past 14 years during which I closely associated with him at the Woman's General Hospital I learned to know a man of most outstanding qualities, a man of genius and of a understanding of mankind that was unusual and second to none.

"He was a teacher without any fear who devoted his whole life and effort to make the lot of those coming within his ken easier and better and more worth while. It was a privilege to know him, and I feel that my association with him has left me a much better man."

Dr. Reddy leaves his wife, formerly Ethel B. Poole, of Charlottetown, P.E.I.; a daughter, Mrs. R. J. Hepburn, of Toronto; and three grandsons, Arnold, Lionel and Stuart Hepburn, all of Toronto.

He was appointed second in command in 1933. His decorations include the Efficiency Decoration, General Service and Victory medals, and the King George Silver Jubilee medal.

On Sunday morning the regiment will parade to St. Matthias Church, where the service will be conducted by Rev. Gilbert Oliver, M.C., rector, assisted by Rev. H. Andrews, of St. Stephen's, Lachine. On returning to the armory lunch will be served to all ranks, after which the regiment will proceed to the Westmount Cenotaph, where the Remembrance Day service will be held. Rev. TRIBUTE TO RECTOR BY BISHOP FARTHING

Bishop Farthing preached in St. Matthias' Church Sunday morning, and paid stirring tribute in the course of his sermon to the late Canon E. I. Rexford. Canon Rexford had been Rector Emeritus of the church since his retirement from the principalship of the Montreal Diocesan Theological College.

"A great life has passed from among us," declared the Bishop. He mentioned the fifty years the deceased had spent in the service of the church in this diocese, as well as being one of the Dominions' most noted educationists. Dr. Rexford, stated the Bishop, had always been interested in training the youth of the country, and was not only a great teacher but a great organizer whose aim was to understand and to help others.

The All Saints' Day Service of Holy Communion was read by the Rev. Gilbert Oliver, assisted by the Rev. E. C. Royle.

WESTMOUNT HIGH EXERCISES HELD

ent day enjoy privileges and opportunities that the boys of the past generation did not have. In closing the Mayor extended the good wishes of the City Council and wished Argyle every success.

Dr. W. P. Percival pointed out how education was passing through an important period and that many changes are being made that will in the near future rearrange much of the present system and open a new road of learning to the youth of the country. He stated that we are done with learning by text book and note; that a new horizon in education has opened up that the youth of today may be prepared for the industry of tomorrow with talents developed making for success and good citizenship. Dr. Percival continued by saying that the students should be taught to honour the Crown, obey the law, respect their parents and be kind to all with whom they come into contact. He mentioned that a class of pupils would not have all the same faculties for study, nor do they have the same inclinations. "It might be interesting," the speaker remarked, "to know that the Junior High School innovation aims to explore the attitudes, interests and capacities of each pupil." After referring to other phases of the Junior High, Dr. Percival stated that in the Protestant High Schools of the province, students of grade XI no longer write matriculation examinations, but High School Leaving examinations.

In conclusion he said that the School Commissioners of the City of Westmount deserved great credit for inaugurating the Junior High School in Quebec, and he strongly urged all pupils to take advantage of the opportunity to develop their minds and bodies by close attention to their studies, in preparation for a future vocation.

The chairman extended a vote of thanks to Dr. Percival for his instructive address.

At the close of the regular programme refreshments were served to the graduation class by the present ninth grade.

The following presentation of prizes and diplomas were made:

Honour List
Medallists: Ninth Year Boys, Walter Romney; Ninth Year Girls, Myrtle Jackson.
Scholarships: Ninth Year—Barbara Botten, Miriam Longan,

Westmount High School Notes

By M. S.

MAINLY ABOUT Earthworms

Earthworm—a terrestrial annelid of the order Oligochaeta. Now that we know all about earthworms, let's see whether our knowledge is authoritative. There are many kinds of worms, divided principally into terrestrial, water-going, and tractors. There are about 800 known species of earthworms, but only about 90 inhabit North America.

Most of the earthworms in North America are under a foot in length. The encyclopaedia claims that in South Africa, they grow to a length of five feet. That's all bosh; they just succeeded in getting one out of the ground without breaking it. Earthworms inhabit practically all portions of the earth except the frozen places and some dry plains and deserts. They burrow in damp earth to a depth of about two feet, and come out at night or during rainstorms to get a bath, a breath of fresh air, and to make love.

The Earthworm swallows the soil, digests what is edible, and casts out the rest via the mouth, making a hard "casting" with which he closes the entrance to his burrow in cold weather. While we don't envy his delectable diet, we must pay him credit: in his travels up and down, sideways, backwards and northeast through the soil, he circulates air and moisture through it, brings up under earth to the sunlight, and excretes valuable salts and chemicals. Darwin has estimated that the humble earthworm will bring up a fifth of an inch of soil per annum per acre.

Worms are very aggravating. When you want them for bait, they just burrow out of sight. If you cautiously approach while they are basking in the moonlight on wet soil, they suddenly disappear into their burrows with a "snap" and if you do catch some, they won't stay still while you try to put them on the hook. Worms have a wim on an epidermis, and two layers of muscles. They have an elementary nervous system, and are sensitive to touch, light, and even have a primitive colour sense. Left, we have an earthworm trying to make both ends meet.

Fish are fond of worms, but the converse is not true. A worm moves through the earth at the terrific speed of about one inch a minute, one-one thousand and fifty-sixth part of a mile an hour. Worms were probably the first streamlined vehicles. They like to make little girls cry "ugh!" A worm has no aesthetic sense. In winter, they delve below the frost line, although a few varieties can survive freezing. This picture shows an angle-worm.

And that will be most of the dirt about worms — ha, ha! some joke! Of course, it is hard to get the finger on the worms — they are so slippery. But we think we have covered the subject enough to let those of you who have never gone fishing to recognize bait when first sought. And that's all, until next week, when we'll tell you of some more printable things about worms. And what a whale of a difference just a few cents make, as the eskimo said while eating a chunk of blubber.

Mr. John Alexander, of Australia, and Mr. Moni Sen of Calcutta, India, will assist Rev. J. Lavell Smith at the morning service at Westmount Park Church on Sunday. The occasion will be International Fellowship Day at the church, and the presence of these young men will be highly appropriate.

Both these gentlemen are post-graduate students who are speaking in the university centres of Canada and the United States, and come to Westmount highly commended.

International Fellowship Day is an apt occasion, being the Sunday nearest to Armistice Day.

ARGYLE Echoes

By A. D. B.

Much excitement was afforded the Argyle pupils on Monday when the first copy of the Argyle newspaper was published. Students eagerly perused it from cover to cover and the exclamations were many and varied. The staff is composed almost entirely of the students with two teachers acting as advisers and they all felt their hard work had been duly rewarded when they saw the students taking such a keen interest.

The Astronomy Club is off to the mountain Thursday night with the instructor to view the constellations; after they have finished their sight-seeing they are returning to the school for refreshments.

The choir is making rapid strides, and it is expected that a recital will be given sometime before Christmas.

Photography Club members were taught how to make developer last week and new ones were shown the Dark Room and its equipment.

On Thursday the school had the pleasure of hearing Paul de Marky, famous pianist, give a short recital. The students were delighted with his playing and gave him a hearty welcome.

PAST UNEARTHED

Gene Morgan, Columbia's noted contract player, now featured in the company's "Alibi For Murder" was one of the best known Master of Ceremonies on the stage during the heyday of "presentations" with motion pictures.

LOCAL CCF CLUB TO HEAR PROF. F. R. SCOTT

Dr. McLeod addressed the regular meeting of the Westmount C.C.F. Club held last Wednesday at 127 Abbott avenue, and took as his subject, "Can We Socialize Medicine?"

"There is a lack of proper organization among the medical profession," declared Dr. McLeod. He went on to state that duplication of equipment and facilities in private practice were largely responsible for the increased cost of medical attention.

Confidence in the medical profession, stated Dr. McLeod, has been considerably undermined by quacks and unqualified practitioners, and the sale of certain medicines advocated by these persons was cutting in considerably on the incomes of legitimate doctors.

Due to next Wednesday being Armistice Day, the regular meeting of the club will be held at 127 Abbott avenue on Thursday, and the speaker will be Professor F. R. Scott.

Modern design — streamlined, curved and erratic — is the outstanding feature of the ninth annual National Produced in Canada Exhibition which opened in the Sun Life Building last night. Exhibits are more numerous and more striking, and the influence of Chicago's World's Fair and the Texas Centennial Exposition on industrial display is everywhere evident.

Two entire floors of the Sun Life Building are occupied by the national displays again this year. Last night, within an hour of the opening and long before Hon. Martin Fisher had declared the exhibition under-way, exhibition aisles on both floors were crowded. First night enthusiasm of exhibitors and visitors indicate a record exhibition in all respects, according to the management.

Opening ceremonies, attended by representatives of the Quebec, Nova Scotia and federal governments, members of trade and business associations leading industrialists and advertising men, prominent Montreal women and charity leaders, were held on a special platform on the fourth floor. Music was supplied by the Regimental Band of the 2nd Montreal Regiment.

Open afternoons and evenings from now until November 14, the Produced in Canada Exhibition will welcome more than 200,000 visitors. The second largest annual exhibition in Canada, it is the largest annual display devoted entirely to Canadian products, resources and national life. It is designed primarily to interest Canadians in the activities of their own country and to illustrate the fact that Canadian goods favorably compare, on price and quality basis, with those of other countries.

WESTMOUNT CWL HELD MEMBERS' DAY MEET

Mrs. J. W. Dundin Addressed Gathering, and Hon. Ann Shaughnessy Sang

The Westmount sub-division of the Catholic Women's League held a Members' Day meeting and Hallow'en tea on Tuesday afternoon in St. Leo's School hall. The president, Mrs. C. H. G. Short, was in the chair.

The new members were welcomed by Mrs. W. J. Keating, membership convener, who also introduced the speaker, Mrs. W. J. Dundin. She spoke to the sub-division on their duties as members and asked them to encourage others to enrol.

Mrs. Pichel, music convener, then introduced the Hon. Ann Shaughnessy who sang "Who is Sylvia," by Schubert, and "Wait," by D'ardelot. Mrs. J. K. Lebeuf, a member of the sub-division, accompanied Miss Shaughnessy.

The speaker and the artists were thanked by Miss M. A. Phelan.

Radio Realm

As we listen to our favourite radio program, have we ever stopped to consider those varied and far-flung listeners who are also tuned in? Many a time we have no doubt visualized the artists who stand before the microphone but have we ever tried to picture a few of the millions who turn the dials?

Your favourite orchestra is playing "In My Solitude." High up in a Park Avenue penthouse, a steward in white attire is tuning the radio for the gay young couples who are ready to dance to its lulling strains. There amid the clouds and artificial palms, they sway to the same rhythm which floats through our own loud-speaker.

Down in the east-side, on Delancey St., a tired mother is using "In My Solitude" to lull her infant to sleep. The radio is small and dull-toned, yet it is serving its purpose. The baby is asleep! Now we are on a huge passenger liner in mid-Atlantic. Down in the wireless room sits a young operator on relief duty. He is a trifle nervous and tired. Hours have passed without a single message coming through. Oh well! He may as well tune in some American dance program. Out of the phones comes the strains of "In My Solitude." Disquieted nerves are relieved and the lad goes back to his work. Once again radio has unknowingly rendered a service.

From mid-ocean our scene shifts to the heart of the African jungle. An explorer's camp lies near a native village. The leader of the expedition is gravely ill. The sinister beat of the tom-tom throbs through the night for it is the savage instinct to know when death is approaching. The sick man too, knows this custom of the natives, thus aggravating his condition.

Here again the radio comes to the rescue. The short-wave set is turned on and the mellow tones of "In My Solitude" blend with the beat of the tom-tom. The patient rests. From the dark jungle we speed to the playground itself of radio—the air. Let us look inside a mail plane winging its way through the clouds at over a hundred miles an hour. The pilot is alert and tense. The instrument reads "Ceiling Zero"—flying blind. The radio is playing "In My Solitude" as the plane disappears into the fog.

Directly beneath, on the national highway a young couple are eloping in a high-powered Hispano Suiza. The speedometer climbs 55-65-75. The boy's attention is focussed on the girl—he doesn't see the obstruction in the road. A sudden scream and then a terrible crash. In a moment all is silent—except the car-radio which is playing, strangely enough, but with a dreadful meaning, "In My Solitude."

186 75 YEARS OF TRANSPORTATION SERVICE IN MONTREAL 1936

4 1/2 DAYS

In the 60's it would have meant only a pleasant jaunt of a couple of hours . . .

But today . . .

It would require 4 1/2 days of continuous walking at a steady rate of three miles an hour to cover the complete length of Montreal's street car tracks, which now total 319 miles.

Yet the cars and tracks and buses are only part of the Tramways system. To store and distribute the 1000 trams requires barns and yards. To clean, inspect, renovate and repair these cars necessitates large and modern machine shops. All in all these buildings and properties including garages for the company's buses cover a total of 4 1/2 million square feet. The imagination of the 1860's could hardly dream of such requirements for these purposes—100 acres within the area of the metropolis.

The car barns and yards of the Tramways Company are located at advantageous points throughout the Montreal district: Hochelaga, Cote Street, St. Denis, St. Henry, St. Paul, and Mount Royal; while the great Yovell shops are familiar to all who travel north on Lawrence Boulevard.

Westmount High Seniors Trimmed Montreal 12-0 At Athletic Field Tues.

Game Hard Fought From Beginning — Montreal on Offensive During First Half — Touchdown by McLurg in Last Few Seconds of Game — The Teams

By DOUG LAING
Montreal High took a terrible beating at the hands of Westmount Tuesday, losing 12 to 0.

During the first half of the game Montreal was on the offensive, but in the third quarter Westmount pushed their way down the field. McLurg, being near enough to score, kicked the ball, which looked as if it would be a rouge, but the Montreal halfback dropped it and Engel, of Westmount, jumped on it to score a touch. It was converted by McLurg. Near the end of the period McLurg was able to get a rouge.

With only a few seconds to go to the finish of the fourth quarter, McLurg broke away and ran from Westmount's 10 yard line to Montreal's goal line, a run of 100 yards, for a touchdown.

The teams:
M.H.S.: Weber, Hood, Montgomery, Kalfas, Bott, Easton, Beavais, Morham, Yee, Inglis, Stevenson, Livshitz; subs — Cooper, Bromley, Munroe, Vallee, MacDon-ald.

W.H.S.: Mussels, McLurg, McLelland, Daly, Mowatt, Spearman, Beveridge, Engel, A. Ross, Swift, Hanson; subs — Jacobs, Bennett, Johnston, Charters, Campbell, Wright, Hamilton, Hellyer.

WESTMOUNT HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

By DOUG LAING

Intermediates vs. Strathcona

Thursday Westmount Intermediates tied Strathcona 5 to 5. These teams are tied for first place in the Interscholastic League. Both teams played as well as possible on the mud-soaked field at Westmount Park.

In the first few minutes of the first quarter Strathcona picked up a fumble on Westmount's 15 yard line, and Clemens, a Strathcona middle, made a touch.

Near the end of the second quarter Westmount pushed their way down the field. Thomson, who had to fight hard, made a touchdown.

Juniors vs. L.C.C.

Wanderers' A C Is Now Eight Years Old

Team To Be Honoured At Victoria Hall Tomorrow Evening At Civic Presentation of Prizes

The Westmount Wanderers Athletic Club under the leadership of Andy McGillis is now entering its eighth year and plans for this year's hockey team indicate that they will be worthy bearers of the familiar red, white and black of Westmount's oldest and most successful athletic club.

The personnel of the team, is much the same as that which won the Westmount Juvenile Hockey championship. Joe Hutcheson, right winger, has returned to his native Scotland; Johnnie Kennedy, center-ice-man, will devote all his spare time to fancy skating; Howie Pullam will be missing through illness.

The loss of these three will be keenly felt. Tom Brennan and Johnnie Doig, two newcomers are looked upon as capable replacements.

Tommy Brune, one of the most capable leaders in the club's history, has been re-appointed captain this season.

Tomorrow evening the entire team will assemble at Victoria Hall to be presented with their sweat-shirts and crests in recognition of their winning the hockey title last year. In addition, individual honors will be given Ralph Knetzers, who will receive the Jennings Trophy for the most valuable member of his team during 1936, and Tom Brune will get the McGillis-Francis Shield for sportsmanship.

The Wanderer Softball team which made such gallant fight for the N.D.G. Intermediate Softball title will receive a vote of thanks from the City of Westmount for their fine showing. Jack MacIntyre, brilliant first baseman of the team will receive the Hill Trophy having been judged the best all-round team player in the club.

After eight years of existence, this thriving athletic club faces the future with optimism and enthusiasm. The popularity of the club is evident in the fact that countless applications for membership must be turned down by the management every year due to a limited roster of members.

Ken Maynard, starred in a number of Columbia's outdoor dramas, was the first western star to make a talking picture, the first cowboy to introduce music into these outdoor dramas and the first motion picture actor to make phonograph recordings of western melodies.

For the first year a manager was appointed to have full charge of organization and operation of the club. This appointment was given to George Rutter. A temporary committee was elected in the persons of Tom Clasper and Tom Lord, former Dominion quarter mile champion.

As explained to the meeting the officials of the club are making every provision for junior runners and beginners. Any person interested is requested to communicate with any of the officers at the Westmount grounds.

Several active runners and prominent citizens were present, among them Alderman Lorimer, A. P. Christmas, J. G. Gray, A. J. McRae, Leslie Wade, former Dominion mile champion and member of Canadian Olympic and British Empire teams.

Preparations for the coming season are going forward and it is planned to have a number of activities during the winter.

$50,000,000 Loan Is Now Available For Home Owners

Federal Government Allots Huge Amount To Be Used For Improvement Of Dwellings—Now Is Ideal Time To Make Repairs and Renovations In Home—Loans To Be Made Through Banks; Government Guarantees All Advances; Many Details Of Plan Given

Fifty million dollars of funds for home improvement is now available to the people of Canada. Every chartered bank in the Dominion has completed arrangements by which advances are being made to home-owners under Government guarantee for improvements, repairs and renovation of houses.

The Department of Finance has completed all its plans for issuing the necessary guarantee to back the scheme. The banks are now ready to issue loans to home owners.

There is a strong possibility that other financial institutions may also play a part in the loan plan. As a matter of fact, the Department of Finance is considering definite applications from certain of these concerns for inclusion in the program.

Instalment System
The applications thus far received have virtually all come from finance companies subsidiary to the industrial concerns which have been assisting in the financing of homes. For instance, some large plumbing supply manufacturers have in recent years instituted a financing system for the purpose of stimulating building.

To this end they have set up a system of instalment sales operated through separate but subsidiary finance companies quite similar to the mode of motor car financing, which has for years been in operation.

It is these finance companies, interested mainly in the sale and installation of plumbing supplies and other building materials, that are taking steps to be included. They wish to be empowered to make loans under the proposed Government guarantee.

Many mortgage and trust companies have also shown an interest in the plan. They have not been so quick to make definite application, but they have been in communication with the Department of Finance to gain details of the program.

Whether such institutions will participate is, of course, a matter for the Government to decide. Such applications as have been received are now under consideration by the department, and a definite decision will be made at an early date.

Mortgage No Bar
Clearing up a misunderstanding which has existed in some quarters, officials of the department have stressed the fact that the existence of mortgages on houses has no effect on the availability of the funds being placed at the home-owners' disposal. There is no requirement that the property should be un-encumbered in order that a loan might be obtained. As one official has pointed out, if such a requirement were put into force, very few loans would be made throughout the Dominion, as those chiefly in need of funds for improvements and repairs are the small home-owners who are buying their houses under a mortgage.

It is clear, however, that this is essentially a house improvement plan. Though the loans are available to farmers as well as urban dwellers, no advances are made for repairs or improvements to barns or other farm buildings, aside from dwellings. The sole exemption to this rule applies to garages, for which loans may be obtained. The Government considers them as actually part of the homes.

Only Repairs in Plan
The reason for the restriction, as mentioned, is that the plan is intended solely to permit repairs to houses. The Government feels that, if it guarantees loans for improvements to barns and other out-buildings on farms, it will immediately be deluged from towns and cities with requests for loans for repairs to business property, and this is a phase on which it is not intended to enter, at least at the present.

It is hinted, however, that some extension of the plan in respect to farm buildings may yet occur. In any case, however, this will not take place until Parliament meets, when legislation covering the loan plan will be brought down.
