CHINA'S NATIONALIST GOVERNMENT WRITTEN OFF

Critical Report By Acheson Warns Against Expansion By Reds In Other Directions

Council Of Europe Meets Next Week

White Paper Says American Policy Must Be Shaped To Encourage Chinese To Throw Off Moscow-Directed Communism.

World News In Brief

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 5.—(Reuters)—Australian troops will work eight strike-bound underground coal mines as well as open-cast fields, it was announced today by the fuel minister, Senator William Ashley.

The mines have been idle for six weeks.

Eight mechanized mines in South Wales had been chosen because they offered most favorable conditions to inexperienced operators, Ashley said. About 1,830 servicemen would work the mines in two shifts, producing about 7,800 tons daily. He did not say when they would start.

Paris, Aug. 5.—(P)—French and United States military chiefs today held what they described as satisfactory talks on the defence of western Europe.

"I think we see eye to eye," the United States air force chief of staff, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, said after the officers had talked for almost three hours in the French war ministry.

Vandenberg said no decisions had been made, but that the discussions had been "very helpful."

Seoul, Aug. 5.—(P)—An estimated 6,000 invaders from the communist north have been driven from South Korean soil, the army chief of staff today said.

Maj.-Gen. Choi Byung Duk estimated the republic's young army lost 100 killed and 90 wounded in yesterday's attack on Ongjin peninsula by the communist north.

Hong Kong, Aug. 5.—(P)—The Royal Navy sloop Amethyst will return to the United Kingdom in a month.

The Admiral said the crew had been given the option of flying home or manning the ship.

The Amethyst was a hostage on the Yangtze from mid-April until last week-end when it escaped from the communist shore guns. It lost 18 crew members in the April fighting on the river.

London, Aug. 5.—(Reuters)—A new destroyer fitted with "revolutionary" labor savings devices for the crew is to be launched Aug. 10, the Admiralty announced. It said the devices are a major departure from the navy's "scrubbing" tradition. The destroyer has electric vacuum cleaners, electrically driven flairs for ship painting and electric washing machines and potato peelers.

London, Aug. 5.—(Reuters)—The Council of Europe, which meets for the first time next week in Strasbourg, has its origin in the growing conviction that Europe must unite or perish.

The idea is not new. It has, however, been strengthened enormously by the shift in the balance of world power since the Second World War.

Europe, disorganized and impoverished, is suddenly aware that her identity as a number of independent states is threatened with extinction between the American and Russian systems which have emerged from the war.

The eastern half of Europe has been incorporated into the Soviet sphere of influence and no longer shares the broad political and economic structure which used to characterize the whole of Europe and made it a distinct world force.

When the ten founding powers met in London last May, they agreed it was desirable to exclude communists from the delegates nominated to the assembly of the Council of Europe.

It was left to countries such as France and Italy, where the communists have strong parliamentary representation to work out a formula which would effectively keep out a potential fifth column. The council must be considered part of the structure to protect western Europe against international communism.

But it would be wrong to conclude, as Moscow and the Communists appear to have decided, that the Council of Europe is simply part of an anti-Soviet pattern which is growing under American inspiration.

The evidence suggests that the Council of Europe, in trying to safeguard Europe's heritage, will be as concerned to preserve its member states from excessive dependence on the United States as from communism.

The idea that world peace depends on the creation in Europe of a third force—strong enough and well-organized enough to withstand pressure from both Moscow and Washington, has many adherents among delegates to the Council of Europe.

Washington, Aug. 5.—(P)—State secretary Dean Acheson wrote off China's nationalist government as a total failure before the onslaught of communism. He charted a new course for the United States anti-communist policy in the Far East.

In a bitingly-critical "white paper," including the long-suppressed Wedemeyer report, Acheson told President Truman in a letter that United States policy now must be shaped to "encourage all developments" in China which are aimed at throwing off the "foreign yoke" of Moscow-directed communism.

Acheson said the communist regime serves the interests "of Soviet Russia." He advised the President it may "lend itself to the aims of Soviet Russian imperialism" to start an aggression against China's neighbor nations.

If that aggression comes, Acheson indicated the United States would try to block it through the United Nations.

While not all China is at present under the Red banner, Acheson said in another document of the white paper, the communists can take over the rest any time they want and nationalist armies will be powerless to resist. He thus advised chairman Tom Connally (Dem., Texas) of the Senate foreign relations committee March 15.

For the "ominous result of the Chinese civil war," Acheson placed full blame on Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek and other leaders of the crumbling nationalist government. He said they "lost no battles" in the last crucial year for lack of American weapons.

(Only yesterday Senator William Knowland (Rep., Calif.) proposed, with the backing of eleven other Senators, that China be cut in for part of the aid in the $1,450,000,000 program for arming friendly countries. Under the proposal, China would be put down for $175,000,000, and a U. S. mission to the nationalist government would advise on its spending.)

The failures of Chiang and his men, Acheson said, were due to loss of popular support and flight by the armies of the will to fight. The communists battled with "fanatical zeal," Acheson added, but "the nationalist armies did not have to be defeated; they disintegrated."

To support the position that Chinese—not American—leaders were to blame for the disaster, the state department included among the unveiled state documents a sensational letter from China's current acting president, Gen. Li Tsung-jen.

Li, who succeeded Chiang Kai Shek as chief of state, wrote President Truman May 5, 1949, that China was brought to its present plight by the failure of its previous government (Chiang's) to make "judicious use" of American aid and to put through "political, economic and military reforms."

Food Costs In Canada Are At Peak

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—(P)—The experts say it's just "seasonal," but food now is costing more than any other time in Canadian history.

Things like eggs, potatoes, fresh vegetables and meat were more expensive in June than ever before. And the price increases during the month sent the cost-of-living index to an all-time high of 192.1.

That was an increase of 1.6 points over the May index of 190.5, it was reported yesterday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics which compiles the index on the basis that living costs for 1935-39 equal 100.

Food costs were the big item. They went up 4.3 points during the month. Rent jumped a full point.

The food sub-index—one of seven making up the full index—stood at 207.2, nearly six full points higher than at the same time last year.

Other items remained steady during the month.

Clothing was unchanged at 183.3, home furnishings and services declined 2 to 167.5 and miscellaneous items increased from 128.4 to 128.5.

The fuel and light sub-index rose from 128.7 to 129.1.

Officials of the statistics bureau refused to speculate on what may happen to the index during July.

They said the new rise was not a reliable indication of any future trend.

Frankfurt, Aug. 5.—(P)—Arrangements have been made for children in 166 German cities to observe Herbert Hoover's 75th birthday Aug. 10. The former President of the United States will be honored for his youth-feeding program, which has benefitted millions of children in Germany since 1947.

London, Aug. 5.—(P)—The two-inch-thick White Paper (official diplomatic record) spanning more than a century, contains probably the most slashing criticism ever issued by the United States against another friendly government, even a dying one. It pours out all the known and secret reasons and arguments why the Truman administration for more than a year now has fought all demands in Congress for any major new China-aid program.

Even the report two years ago of Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, made to President Truman in 1947, is disclosed to have tempered his proposal for China aid with a five-year aid program but said Chiang should undertake drastic reforms and should place Manchuria under United Nations trusteeship to keep the communists from taking over.

It was this recommendation regarding Manchuria, Acheson said, which caused the report to be suppressed so long. He said the suggestion for alienation of Chinese territory would have caused trouble with the nationalist government if published at that time.

Acheson's letter to Truman formally presented him with the "Frank record" of American-Chinese relations from their beginning in 1944 to the present. The letter itself constituted a summary review of that policy together with a brief hopeful look at the future. Acheson assured the President that no documents had been left out of

Macedonian Clashes Place Yugoslav Troops On Alert

Belgrade, Aug. 5.—(P)—Yugoslav troops were in a state of alert today to guard against what Marshal Tito called provocations and intimidations by his Russian-dominated neighbors.

Tanjung, the official news agency, last night quoted Tito as saying bloody clashes already had taken place in Macedonia. The stormy Balkan region lies between communist Bulgaria and Albania, and Greece on the southern border.

The Premier, who defied Soviet dictation a year ago in a row with the cominform (communist international information bureau), accused his eastern neighbors of trying to spread rumors of a threatened Red army invasion.

Tito called them "nothing but ordinary rumors" but added: "Nevertheless, we are not unvigilant here either. . . . We are prepared to prevent all provocations, to defend our country against everyone."

In a slap at Moscow, Tito added Yugoslavia would defend the principles of Marxism-Leninism "even against the creators of these principles, should they go against them."

Tanjung reported the statements were made yesterday in a speech to army and political leaders in Kopljje, Macedonia. Tito repeated previous statements that Yugoslavia would not sacrifice its Marxist communism for western friendship, then launched into his toughest talk to date against his cominform neighbors.

Tito said the cominform countries tried to crush Yugoslavia but so far had failed. He said that the majority of the peoples of the eastern countries sided with Yugoslavia despite the opposition of their cominform governments.

He said rumors of a threatened Soviet attack on Yugoslavia were first spread by people in western countries who thought "we would help-kill-kill fall on its bosoms to save ourselves." He added: "We knew that the Red army cannot attack a socialist country because that would mean the end of socialism in the world."

"But today," he continued, "there in the east are also trying to intimidate us, disseminating various rumors over the so-called black market on so many and so many Soviet divisions on this or that place, on so many artillery troops here or there."

Saying Yugoslavia would remain vigilant, Tito warned the eastern countries: "We shall not allow them to hamper the construction of our country."

Ingrid Bergman Will Seek Divorce, End Movie Career

Rome, Aug. 5.—(P)—Ingrid Bergman announced today she will divorce her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom. She also said she will quit the movies.

The beautiful Swedish star made the declaration in a deeply emotional statement issued to reporters by her personal representative, Joseph Steele.

Sources close to the actress reported she intends to marry Italian Director Roberto Rossellini after her divorce.

Miss Bergman's statement said: "It was my desire not to make any statement until the conclusion of the picture I am now making ('After the Storm')."

"But persistent malicious gossip, that has even reached the point where I am made to appear as a prisoner, has obliged me to break my silence and demonstrate my free will."

"I have instructed my lawyer to start divorce proceedings immediately. Also, with the conclusion of my present picture, it is my intention to retire into private life."

Miss Bergman expects to file her suit in either Italy or Sweden, Steele said.

Rossellini, who is directing Miss Bergman's picture, was not available for comment.

In Hollywood, Dr. Lindstrom's publicity representative said the doctor had not heard directly from Ingrid and would not comment until she notified him personally of her action.

The star arrived in Rome yesterday from the seaside resort, Amalfi, and now is in seclusion with friends here.

Rossellini and Miss Bergman reached Amalfi Tuesday from

Precautions To Be Taken Against Polio

There is no sure defense against polio, now reported in the Eastern Townships, but there are several precautions which may help in its prevention. They are listed below.

Keep out of crowds. That lowers the odds a little.

Don't get chilled. With this chilling polio infection already present, gets a better chance to start. Nobody, however, can tell why most of the polio comes in warm summertime. In chill winter there also is considerable polio, but no epidemics.

Don't get fatigued. Fatigue lowers your body's resistance too.

Keep clean. Obviously hands, toys, anything in the house can harbor polio virus. At this point comes another contradiction, in the finding that places with the best sanitation sometimes have the worst polio outbreaks. There's probably a special reason, and it is safe to stick by cleanliness.

Stay out of polluted swimming waters. The reason is the verified fact that sewage has polio virus in an epidemic area.

Swat flies. It is verified that they carry a polio virus.

Watch headaches, sore throats, nausea, fevers, obscure pains and stiffness. That is the way a polio attack may start.

Trade, Currency Problems Will Feature Next Session

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—(P)—Trade and currency problems, now a source of worry to most countries of the world, are expected to be among the major issues facing Canada's new parliament when it meets for the first time Sept. 15.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, in a series of announcements yesterday, gave the opening date for the new session. However, the legislative program will not be disclosed until the speech from the Throne is read by the Government-General, Viscount Alexander, at the formal opening.

It is generally believed the speech will contain some reference to government plans for improving the trade situation.

Only a few weeks ago, Sir Stafford Cripps, United Kingdom Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced a 25-per-cent reduction in imports from dollar countries and this was estimated to mean an $80,000,000 reduction in U.K. trade with Canada.

About the same time, Trade Minister Howe indicated the Canadian government is worried about the country's adverse trade balance with the United States. He forestalled plans to tighten import restrictions and slow down the expenditure of needed U. S. Dollars.

Mr. Howe said some of the restrictions could be imposed through order-in-council but that the authority of Parliament would have to be sought for others. The authority likely will be asked at the coming session.

In his announcements, Mr. St. Laurent also indicated some of the work of the new parliament will be called upon to do.

Parliament will be asked to vote a subsidy of $15,000 a mile to the government of British Columbia to help it pay for a planned 83-mile extension of the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The extension would run from Quesset to Prince George and would link the P.G.E. with the transcontinental main line of the Canadian National Railways.

The Commons will be asked to approve the appointment of W. Ross Macdonald, Liberal member for Brantford, Ont., and deputy speaker in the last Parliament, as successor to former speaker Gaspard Fauteux (L.-Montreal St. Mary's).

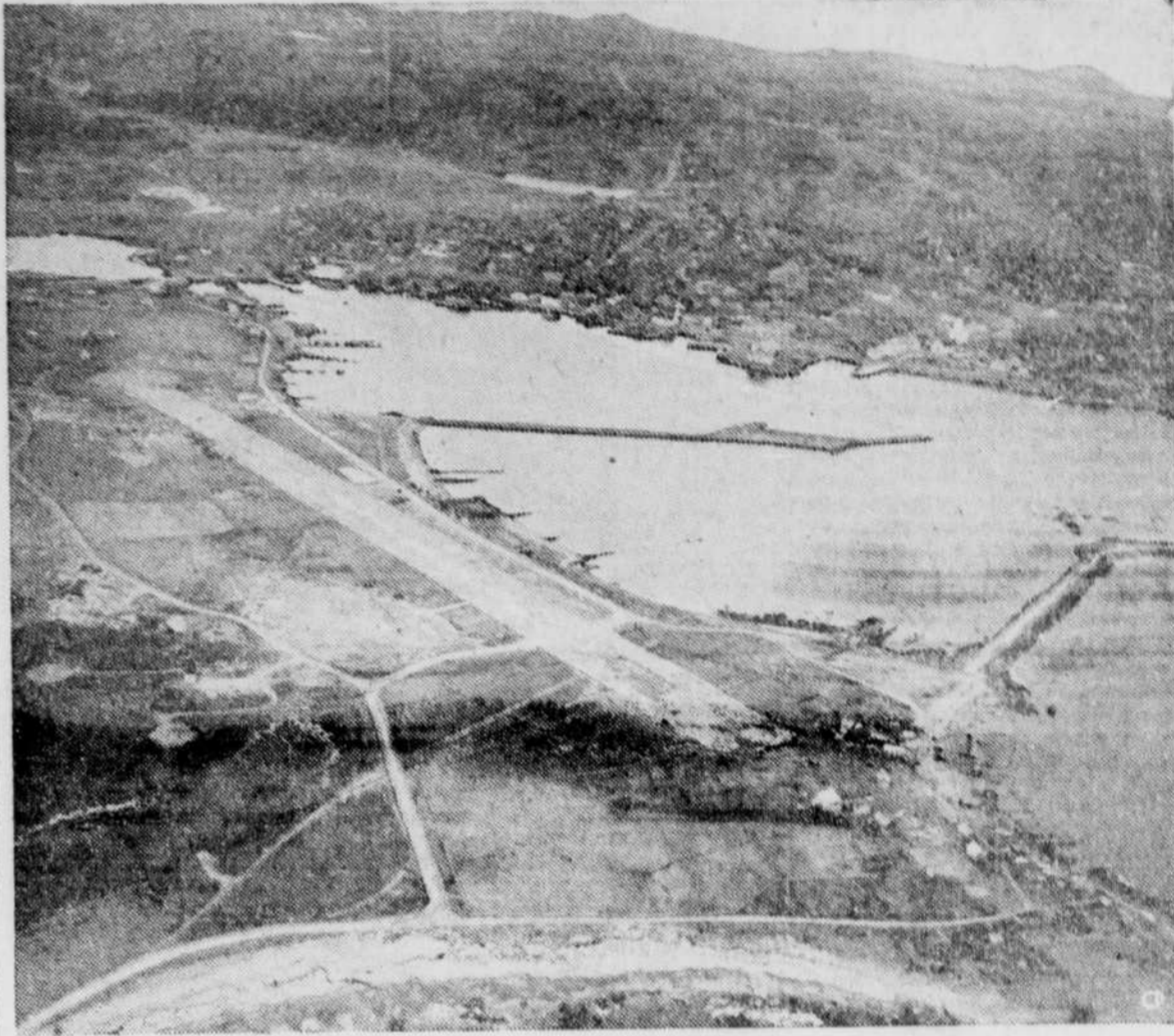

The Governor-General has approved the appointment of Senator He Beaudry (L.-Quebec) as speaker of the Senate, succeeding J. H. King (L.-British Columbia).

Mr. St. Laurent announced the re-appointment of 12 parliamentary assistants and the appointment of Herve Edgar Brunelle as associate commissioner of the Canadian farm loan board.

Re-appointments of the parliamentary assistants led to speculation that there will be no early cabinet changes. In past years the practice has been to choose much of the new cabinet material from the ranks of parliamentary assistants.

The present standing of the Little Bit Of France

Nestled off the south shore of Newfoundland is France's oldest colony and last possession in North America, St. Pierre et Miquelon. Since the repeal of prohibition in the United States, the colony has experienced no real prosperity. Now the island has plans for harbor development and new plants for the fish industry which they hope will restore its economy. This is a general view of St. Pierre town and St. Pierre Island, showing Miquelon in the right background. The landing strip, harbor and larger public buildings are clearly visible.

British Jets Go On Display Next Month

London, Aug. 5.—(Reuters)—Britain, pinning her faith to sensational advances in jet aircraft, hopes to gain many orders from thousands of foreign visitors due here next month for the world's greatest air trade show.

The society of British aircraft constructors, which will hold its 10th exhibition at Farnborough, Hampshire, announced that 24 of the 59 planes scheduled to take part will have gas turbine engines of one kind or another.

Twelve of these planes are making their first appearance. Four more are appearing with new and different types of engines.

Most spectacular item on the program will be the first demonstration of "after burning"—burning of additional fuel in the jet pipe to boost the thrust of a turbo-jet engine. Two fighter planes will show what happens when this extra power is introduced.

Experts have been carrying out the necessary research for five years. It is claimed that the extra boost can add nearly 50 per cent to the total power of an engine.

But the chief interest to visitors is likely to be the Canberra, Britain's first jet bomber, and the Comet passenger liner, first jet-propelled public transport aircraft in the world.

Also on show will be four turbo-prop-engined airliners, the Apollo Heemess five, Mamba Marathon and Viscount.

All these planes will be scrutinized closely by air attaches and airline officials from many countries.

But so secret are the details of many of the planes that close inspection on the ground will not be allowed.

American air experts are especially eager to see the Comet airliner expected to cruise at 500 miles per hour. It made its first experimental flight recently only two days after coming off the factory line.

It is expected that some of British jet fighters, such as the Hawker P.109 and the Supermarine 510 Swift—both with swept back wings—will be demonstrated.

Douglas Graham, 38, Becomes Sixth Toronto Murder Victim In Ten Days

Toronto, Aug. 5.—(P)—Douglas Graham, 38, was shot to death early today as the aftermath of what police said appeared to have been a "domestic quarrel" in his suburban Etobicoke home.

Constables took his widow, his 15-year-old son and two boarders to headquarters for questioning.

Sixth slaying in Toronto and district in 10 days, Graham's death came as police pressed an almost clueless search for the killers of a young Toronto couple found slain early this week and the gunman who killed a veteran in a grocery store holdup.

Two arrests have been made in two other killings last week.

Officers said Graham had been shot in the side.

Under questioning were his widow, Mrs. Mabel Graham, their son, Gordon, and two boarders, Arthur Sutherland and Joe MacDonald.

A constable quoted a neighbor, Hugh Ramsay, as saying he had heard a shot early this morning. He told his mother, Mrs. Annis Ramsay, 71, and she called police.

Mrs. Ramsay said she awakened at 1:55 a. m. to hear a man crying: "Mrs. Ramsay, help me."

She and her son opened the front door of their home and saw a man fall beneath a tree.

"We recognized him as Douglas Graham," she said. "The next thing I did was call police."

Joe DiMaggio Has Ardent Admirer

New York, Aug. 5.—(P)—A hysterical young woman yesterday threatened to kill herself if Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees star outfielder, spurned her love.

Police placed her in her father's custody, fearing a repetition of the recent tragedy that almost took the life of Eddie Waitkus, Philadelphia Phillies first first baseman.

The girl, whose name was withheld by authorities, was described as a petite, 30-year-old brunette. Police said she had been pestering DiMaggio with mad notes for months. Once she tried, without success, to visit him at his hotel.

BERLE KEEPS 'EM FOCUSED ON 'KEEP 'EM LAUGHING'

Hollywood—Milton Berle had three movie cameras focused on himself for his opening scene in his Warner movie, "Always Leave 'Em Laughing."

The picture will be released this winter as Hollywood's secret weapon to stop people from looking at Milton Berle free on television and paying to look at him in movie theaters.

Berle pointed to the three cameras and whispered:
"I'm bringing television technique to Hollywood but don't tell anyone about it except your readers."

"We'll have three cameras on every scene in the picture to catch the spontaneity. That's the way I do my TV show. That's the way we're doing the picture."

Mrs. Milton Berle—Joyce Matthews—was among the first-day spectators. I asked her about her re-marriage to Milton.

"Really," she said, "we didn't never stopped going around with each other after the divorce. It was just one of those things."

Milton was chuckling over the reissue of his Fox movie, "Tall, Dark and Handsome," in New York. Fox just remade the film as "Turned-Up Toes" with Keenan Wynn in Berle's role, and the remake will be playing competition to the reissue.

Hollywood has been predicting that Berle's weekly video show will soon be running out of material.

"Sour grapes," said Milton. "As long as there are people there will be new acts. I can go on for 20 years."

Too Late!

Betty Hutton's separation from Ted Briskin really was sudden. Betty had just promised me a guest column for my vacation on how she combines a career with being a wife and mother. Oops, sorry.

Humphrey Bogart would like to borrow his wife for his leading lady in his next independent. "In a Lonely Place," but doesn't think Warner Brothers will okay the deal. It's a Hollywood story, with a frustrated writer as the hero. That's Bogart. Much of the action will be filmed at Mike Romanoff's Beverly Hills restaurant. Romanoff gets a role and so does his bulldog, Confucious.

Bogart's yacht, the Santana, and producer Milton Bren's Pursuit race home from Catalina every week-end. "Mention that I beat Lovecake again, will ya?" said Bogie. Lovecake? "Yeah," said Bogart, "that's what Claire Trevor (Mrs. Bren) calls him."

Hollywood has launched a subtle campaign against television. A la King Vidor's crack. While looking at a video show, he said: "Not only will this kill pictures and radio—it'll kill television as well."

First telegram of congratulations received by Nora Eddington and Dick Haynes after their marriage was from Nora's ex, Errol Flynn. He wishes them luck but, the telegram didn't say whether he meant good or bad.

Double Double

June Haver's ex-husband, Jimmy Zito, as well as Harry James, will do the dubbing for Kirk Douglas' trumpet playing in "Young Man With a Horn." Kirk has learned to finger the instrument like an expert, but the sounds that come out would haunt a house.

"They want me to learn to play this horn, but every time I practice on the set it's so awful every one yells for me to stop," Kirk grinned.

I watched Kirk and Doris Day in a love scene. First the cameraman measured the distance between their noses and then director Michael Curtiz didn't like the scene, sat down in Doris' place and put his head on Kirk's shoulder, showing Doris how to flutter her eyelashes.

Movie love is mechanical—not inspired.

Edna Skelton Borzage's divorce from director Frank Borzage came through minus the usual Hollywood ballyhoo. Edna sat out her six weeks under an assumed name at a Las Vegas hotel. . . . Now Fox and Eddie Small will battle it out over the film rights to the life story of Rudolph Valentino. Small has been talking about the idea for 12 years. But now Fox suddenly wants the story for Ty Power. I wonder if it's worth all the trouble. As a great lover, Valentino was just a Dead End kid compared to E. Flynn.

No argument about Marilyn Maxwell being the most popular gal with the M-G-M-males for the next week. She plays a bubble dancer in "Key to the City" and wears a skin-tight, flesh-colored outfit with a couple of balloons at strategic places. It's the best double feature in town.

Now Fox and Eddie Small will battle it out over the film rights to the life story of Rudolph Valentino. Small has been talking about the idea for 12 years. U.S. Faces Dangerous Task In Building New Policy For China

By James D. White Associated Press News Analyst. (For Dewitt Mackenzie)

The official United States side of what has been happening in China is made public today.

Judging from early press summaries, the state department's long White Paper tells, on the whole, little that has not been known or surmised.

But it gives detailed reasons for the end of one policy toward China—and east Asia—and opens the way toward creation of a new one.

The task of building a new policy on the wreckage of the old is in the long run one of the most dangerous ever to face American statesmen.

What will be the new American policy to counter this? The White Paper is vague. State Secretary Dean Acheson says merely that the United States must "encourage all developments" in China aimed at throwing off the "foreign yoke" of Moscow-directed communism.

Such an instrument was Chiang Kai-Shek of China. The White Paper tells how he got American aid, but did not use it effectively.

But Chiang Kai-Shek still is around. He still heads the party that runs what is left of non-communist China.

The White Paper tells how he got American aid, but did not use it effectively. He lost the support of his people. His armies lost the will to fight.

Knowlton Junior Chamber To Get Charter Tonight

Knowlton, Aug. 5.—Glen Brown, national vice-chairman of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce developing committee, will be in the chair tonight when the Knowlton Junior Chamber of Commerce receives its Canadian Jaycee charter.

The local Junior Chamber came into being last May and since then has run one of the largest track and field meets in the history of the Eastern Townships.

Many of the country's leading Junior Chamber of Commerce officials will be present when the local body receives its charter.

They will include Phil Pugsley, president last year of the national Junior Chamber, M. Gagnon, of Acton Vale, national vice-president.

George Henderson, national vice-president, will present the charter.

The speakers will be Mr. Pugsley, Mr. Gray and Douglas Amaron of the Sherbrooke Daily Record.

It was said the Yankee management has taken the precaution of providing the Clipper with a bodyguard.

The Lovelock worshipper of the Yankees star was taken into custody after her latest note to DiMaggio.

Police said DiMaggio's annoyance may have been influenced by reading about the Waitkus incident.

The girl had been writing DiMaggio notes for months. But the first disclosure came only this week.

It seems clear that the shaping of future American policy in Asia is susceptible to pressure from Asia itself.

Chiang and Stilwell fell out and Stilwell was called home. In a report to the war department, published in the White Paper, he blasted both Chiang and United States diplomacy.

Chiang, he said, sought to "dominate rather than unify and lead" China in the face of the Japanese offensive.

Police Are Investigating Man's Death

Police suspect that George Shore, 76-year-old Lennoxville district farmer who died in Sherbrooke Hospital yesterday morning, was the victim of a hit-and-run accident.

The coroner, Dr. Louis Gagnon, said today Mr. Shore did not die of natural causes.

Mr. Shore was found near the sidewalk on the Lennoxville main street shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Det. Alfred Gagne, of the Provincial Police homicide squad, arrived here from Montreal yesterday afternoon to conduct an investigation.

The White Paper for the purpose of avoiding criticism.

The full record's 1,064 pages include 493 pages of a running account of American-Chinese relations and a total of 186 annexes.

Among the annexes perhaps the most interesting, because it has been the most publicly suppressed, is the much-debated Wedemeyer report.

The fact that the department feels it now can be released affords a clue to the publication of the entire White Paper.

Her father agreed with authorities that she was in need of psychiatric treatment and she was later released in her father's custody on his promise to obtain such treatment.

The case paralleled in many ways the Waitkus case. The Philadelphia player was shot by a crazed admirer who had lured him to her room with a mysterious, urgent note.

Police said DiMaggio's annoyance may have been influenced by reading about the Waitkus incident.

The girl had been writing DiMaggio notes for months. But the first disclosure came only this week.

Old Home Week Is Marked By Cemetery Visit

Scottstown, Aug. 5.—Activities at Scottstown kept up their accelerated pace yesterday, as another day in "Old Home Week" was signed off as "very successful."

People crowded into 86 cars, with destination Winslow. A tour of the well-kept picturesque cemetery was followed by a friendly meeting in the Grove.

Among the most colorful events of entire "Old Home Week" will take place today, designated Tartan Day.

Police were convinced the McKay slayings were the work of a bloodthirsty maniac. There was no discernible motive.

The rewards for capture of the slayer of the McKay couple now total $5,000. The reward for the capture of the slayer of Alfred Layng totals $3,000.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Police announced today the detention of a 26-year-old laborer whom they identified as Zigmund Tokos for questioning in connection with the slaying of Alfred Layng in an abortive grocery store holdup here last Saturday.

The set was designed by Joy Thomson, the entire action of the play taking place in the living room of Laura's apartment in New York.

Police Are Investigating Man's Death

Police suspect that George Shore, 76-year-old Lennoxville district farmer who died in Sherbrooke Hospital yesterday morning, was the victim of a hit-and-run accident.

The coroner, Dr. Louis Gagnon, said today Mr. Shore did not die of natural causes.

Mr. Shore was found near the sidewalk on the Lennoxville main street shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Det. Alfred Gagne, of the Provincial Police homicide squad, arrived here from Montreal yesterday afternoon to conduct an investigation.

The White Paper for the purpose of avoiding criticism.

The full record's 1,064 pages include 493 pages of a running account of American-Chinese relations and a total of 186 annexes.

Among the annexes perhaps the most interesting, because it has been the most publicly suppressed, is the much-debated Wedemeyer report.

The fact that the department feels it now can be released affords a clue to the publication of the entire White Paper.

Her father agreed with authorities that she was in need of psychiatric treatment and she was later released in her father's custody on his promise to obtain such treatment.

The case paralleled in many ways the Waitkus case. The Philadelphia player was shot by a crazed admirer who had lured him to her room with a mysterious, urgent note.

Police said DiMaggio's annoyance may have been influenced by reading about the Waitkus incident.

The girl had been writing DiMaggio notes for months. But the first disclosure came only this week.

It seems clear that the shaping of future American policy in Asia is susceptible to pressure from Asia itself.

Old Home Week Is Marked By Cemetery Visit

Scottstown, Aug. 5.—Activities at Scottstown kept up their accelerated pace yesterday, as another day in "Old Home Week" was signed off as "very successful."

People crowded into 86 cars, with destination Winslow. A tour of the well-kept picturesque cemetery was followed by a friendly meeting in the Grove.

Among the most colorful events of entire "Old Home Week" will take place today, designated Tartan Day.

Police were convinced the McKay slayings were the work of a bloodthirsty maniac. There was no discernible motive.

The rewards for capture of the slayer of the McKay couple now total $5,000. The reward for the capture of the slayer of Alfred Layng totals $3,000.

The Doctor Says

NEW BOOK PROBES SUBJECT OF TUBERCULOSIS AND GENIUS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
Dr. Louis J. Moorman, of Oklahoma City, Okla., has written a book called "Tuberculosis and Genius." In the preface he says that he hopes it may help remove the unwarranted stigma so often attached to those suffering from tuberculosis.

He has collected an impressive array of famous victims of tuberculosis. Robert Louis Stevenson, who was an invalid with tuberculosis the greater portion of his writing life, overcame the drawbacks of his condition well enough to become one of the most celebrated authors of all time.

Friedrich Schiller, Marie Bashkirtseff, Katharine Mansfield, Voltaire, Moliere, Francis Thompson, Shelley, Keats, Ralph Waldo Emerson and St. Francis of Assisi are subjects of fascinating biographical accounts in Moorman's book. The accomplishments of their genius are fitted into the ups and downs of their tuberculosis.

Decrease and Increase
Moorman points out that tuberculosis may give rise to two definite manifestations. One is to decrease physical energy, and the other to stimulate mental activity. Sometimes enforced physical rest may create an increase in mental activity as a sort of recompense.

Perhaps this may explain some of the tremendous mental energy shown by the genius who is afflicted by tuberculosis. Even if this is not the case, great mental accomplishment does not seem to be blocked by having tuberculosis.

In these days when the treatment of tuberculosis has been so greatly improved, we may count on saving most of those who are afflicted with the disease. It is interesting to guess what Shelley, Keats and other victims of tuberculosis included in the ranks of geniuses would have done in later life if they had not died young from tuberculosis. If they had lived today most of them would have been cured and lived more nearly normal healthy lives.

Report Given On Livestock Sales For Week

Montreal, Aug. 5.—Receipts were light this week on the two Montreal livestock markets with 1,182 cattle, 1,913 sheep and lambs, 1,924 hogs and 1,918 calves being offered for sale.

Prices were estimated to be about steady with last week on good steers and on all classes of cows while there was a drop in light steers and heifers the latter for which there was a poor demand.

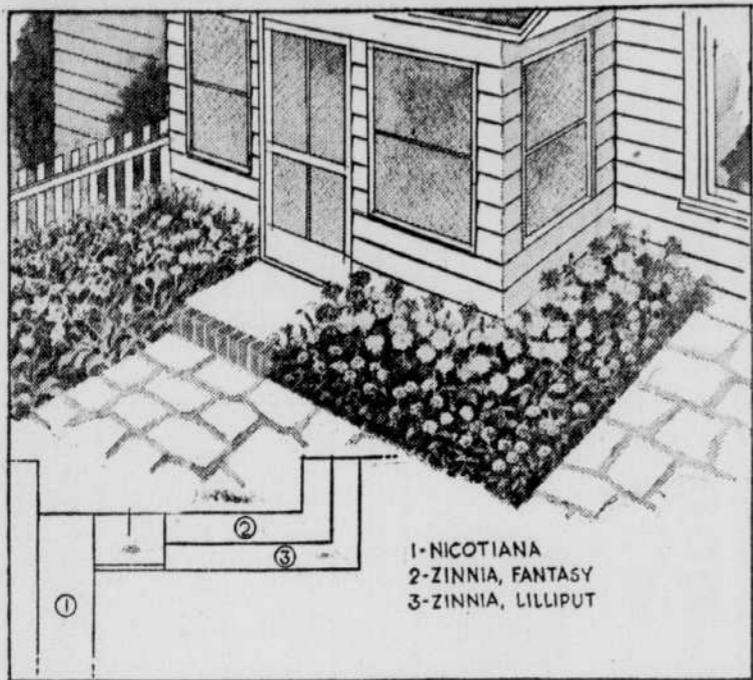

Only steers of good quality were moving Monday but on Tuesday there was more activity on other classes. Wednesday the market was cleaned up. Mixed loads of good and choice steers brought 21-22.25 while good quality sold from 20-21, mediums 16-20 and commons 12-16.

A few good heifers brought 17-18, mediums 14-15 and commons 12-14. Good cows remained steady with last week at 14-15 while mediums brought 12-13 and commons 10-12. Caners and cutters ranged from 7-10. Good quality bulls were down $1, selling at 14.50-15.50, commons were 9-14.

Calves were stronger than last week on Monday with suckers bringing 20-24 and drinkers 12-16. On Tuesday and for the balance of the week prices were estimated to be $1 lower, suckers bringing 17-23 and drinkers 10-15. A few grassers brought 10-13.

Good lambs brought 22-23 during the week. The bulk of sales being at 22. Culls were poor sellers at 15. Sheep ranged from 5-10. Hog receipts were light and the few sales registered Monday brought 33 while Tuesday prices were 32.50-33 with the bulk at 32.75. Sows were selling 20-21 dressed.

Color And Fragrance Greet Visitor To This Dooryard

Color and fragrance will greet the visitor to a house with a dooryard garden planted according to the plan illustrated. Massed against the low fence are plants of the sweet tobacco, nicotiana, which is one of the most fragrant of all flowers. A bed as large as the one shown will perfume the evening air over a wide area.

In the other bed are two of the most attractive types of zinnia. Fantasy zinnias are unique in form. Instead of the formal arrangement of petals which characterizes the other double flowers of this family, Fantasy zinnias have curled and twisted petals, of lovely, soft coloring. A mixture of Fantasy varieties will include flowers of orange, rose, scarlet, yellow and white.

Liliput zinnias are similar in form to the larger double types, but the flowers are smaller and more numerous. They grow in dwarf bushes 12 to 18 inches tall, with branching stems, bearing a flower at the end of each branch. The plants are almost smothered in bloom. Colors include rich deep maroon, soft pink, bright pink, orange, yellow and purple.

Nicotiana and zinnias both germinate quickly and grow rapidly from seed. They flower from early summer until the plants are killed by freezing in the fall. The zinnias are ideal for cutting, as well as excellent for garden display. They can be used for bowl arrangements on the table, or vases in the living room.

A planting of this nature can be used in many locations besides the particular one illustrated. In front of any one-story house, set close to the ground level, borders of flowers will make an attractive frame for the house, with no danger of growing so tall in a short time, that they will shut out sunlight, and obscure the view from the windows.

All the varieties used in this plan are sun loving, and endure hot weather. They are seldom attacked by insects. If the soil in which they are sown is fertile, the chief care required will be regular watering, and cutting off faded flowers. To insure fertility, four pounds of a complete plant food should be spread on the soil and worked in before the seed is sown, using four pounds to 100 square feet.

Few Changes Are Shown In Market Prices

Three changes in dairy prices made the only variation from last week's market report. Prices in the fruit, meat and vegetable markets remained unchanged. A 7-cent increase in A-pullets was the only rise. Grade A-large and medium eggs both dropped 5 cents.

Seed Tests Can Reduce Weed Damage

Weeds are perhaps a farmer's biggest headache, and millions of dollars are lost through them every year in Canada. A large percentage of weeds is put on the farm by planting weed seeds with farm crops, and in many cases a farmer sows weeds because he is not familiar with them. The only way to know exactly what he is sowing is by testing the seed for both purity and germination before planting.

Seed testing has made rapid strides in Canada during the present century, says G. A. Elliott, Associate Chief, Dominion Department of Agriculture Laboratory Services. The first seed laboratory in Canada was opened in Ottawa in 1902, and since that time laboratories have been established at Saskatoon, Ont., Winnipeg, Man., Saskatoon, Sask., Calgary, Alta., and Vancouver, B.C. In addition to these, a laboratory for seed research has been opened in Ottawa.

The primary object in seed testing is to furnish trustworthy information to those who produce plants from seeds, and seed testing should always be carried on with their interests in view. The policy of the Laboratory Services of Plants Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, is to keep this clearly in the minds of the analysts. The work of the seed analyst is to state as nearly as possible the actual value of a given lot of seed from the standpoint of crop or plant producing capacity; to give detailed information concerning the other crop seed and weed seeds found in the sample, and also where possible, to give information dealing with seed-borne diseases.

Seed testing may be divided into two main phases of work—purity and germination. Purity analysis means the determination of pure seed, inert matter, weed seeds and other crop seeds in the sample. In the regulations under the Seeds Act, weed seeds are divided into four classes: prohibited noxious; primary noxious; secondary noxious; and others. According to the number of these found in an ounce or a pound the seed is graded. In the general grade, of commerce, there are three grades, No. 1 Seed, No. 2 Seed and No. 3 Seed. After the analysis for both purity and

This frightened rabbit, circle, probably realizes something has gone amiss, as he spies a group of firefighters making fast tracks down the highway. Battling flames which swept over 2,000 acres of Nantucket Island, Mass., the men were forced to flee when the fire broke out of control. The blaze started when a small picnic fire got out of hand.

Agriculture Department Expects 1949 Seed Crop To Be Poorer Than Year Ago

Though it is too early to forecast the 1949 Canadian seed crop with great certainty, the first seed production report of conditions early in July, issued by the Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, is not indicative of particularly heavy crops. Drier than average conditions, as well as late frosts have been general in much of the seed producing areas of Canada this season, and certain seed crops such as cereals and some legumes and grasses are not promising.

Overall production of the major kinds of alfalfa, clovers and grasses is unlikely to reach that of 1948, when all previous records were far exceeded for alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, creeping red fescue and meadow fescue.

There is no reported reduction in acreage for alfalfa and sweet clover in the Prairie Provinces, and if seed setting conditions are favourable, there is the possibility of another large crop of seeds of both these kinds.

The drought conditions in Ontario will reduce the amount of red clover and alsike clover seed harvested in that province. Not only has normal growth been seriously retarded, but the shortage of hay and pasture will force many farmers to use these crops for purposes other than seed production. Winter killing and slow growth due to dry weather in Quebec will reduce acreage intended for red clover seed production in that area. The dry conditions along with late frost may reduce the crop of both red and alsike clover seed in Alberta, which in recent years has contributed substantially to total production of both these kinds. There is not expected to be much change in the red clover seed production in British Columbia, where conditions in the producing areas have been about normal.

Farmers In West Are Air-Minded

Regina, Aug. 4.—Saskatchewan farmers are up in the air—but they like it.

A far cry from the horse-and-buggy days, airplanes today apparently are finding a permanent place in farming and ranching operations on the prairies.

Leo McKenna, of Regina, owner-manager of an airplane concern, says he has disposed of 68 light passenger aircraft to farmers in the last two years. Before the war "farmers were afraid to put a foot in a plane."

They learn to fly twice as easily as city men," he says. "They're so resourceful!"

Rural centres, some otherwise isolated for portions of the year, also are rapidly becoming air-minded and are establishing a network of small landing fields throughout the province.

Thirteen fields have been laid out since last year and an additional 15 are under construction and may be completed by the end of 1949. The work was instigated by the Saskatchewan air ambulance service so landing facilities would be available to the service year round. Because aircraft tires and wheels were sometimes blown and broken while landing, delays in service resulted.

Lye Solution Keeps Milking Machines Clean

A week lye solution (0.5 per cent) has proved to be most effective in maintaining milking machine rubber parts in good sanitary condition. Since its introduction in 1930, this method has spread widely and is probably the one most commonly used on this continent. However, one objection has been that the original directions required the preparation of a "stock solution" by dissolving the contents of three cans of flake lye in a gallon of water. This had to be done with care, for not infrequently the heat generated by the dissolving lye broke the glass jar. To avoid this, studies have been conducted by the Division of Bacteriology and Dairy Research, Science Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, to determine the feasibility of adding the required amount of lye directly to water to make the "soak solution." These studies have indicated the

Summer Mulch On Garden Helps Plants And Planter

A mulch is a covering laid on the soil to protect the roots of plants. In the winter it keeps the frost in, and in the summer it keeps the moisture in. An science places garden operation under critical scrutiny, the rating of summer mulching goes up, as fast as that of cultivation comes down.

Mulching, say the research men, will do all the good that cultivation can, without doing harm. For the leisure-time gardener this is all to the good. It combines leisure, which all gardeners enjoy, with better gardening—a rare hook-up. And as mulching becomes more popular, more mulches are being developed.

Latest is ground-up corn cobs, which florists are using in their greenhouses when they can get it at the right price. Corn cobs are a by-product of hybrid-corn seed plants, and are becoming plentiful and cheap where this seed is grown. Ground cob is light, porous and weed-free. If applied four inches deep around tomato plants, or between rows, it will keep weeds down, let both air and moisture into the ground and prevent drying out. But when spaded into the soil it will rob plants of nitrogen until it is thoroughly broken down; so extra nitrogen should be applied, say a pound of balanced plant food to 200 square feet.

The lovely thing about corn cob mulches—and other good mulches as well—is that the directions say: "Spread it on the ground around the plants, and then leave them alone." No more hoeing.

Strange things have been discovered in tests of mulching. Ohio state university found that grass made of good mulch, growing between the rows. Instead of hoe the gardener uses a lawn mower.

Newspapers, many thicknesses deep, held down by stones, serve well. Lawn clippings, dried first then spread on the ground, with the first layer hoed into the soil, are fine. Manure is excellent, except for its weed seed; others are straw, salt hay (weedless), peat moss, pine needles, coconut fiber, saw-dust, burlap, dried leaves, and glass, yes fibre glass, which can be obtained in blankets to lay on borders in the fall and will last many years.

Remember, apply a mulch over moist soil. Soak the soil first in the summer. And remember that if the soil ever does dry out under the mulch, you may have to remove the mulch to soak the soil quickly. This is especially true of paper mulch and rocks, and concrete slabs, which are being used in some sections for modern garden effects.

DOROTHY DIX

Helpless Cripple Deserted

Selfish Wife Sacrifices Husband For Mate

Dear Miss Dix: I am 36. My wife is 34. She is a beautiful woman. I am a hopeless cripple from an incurable case of arthritis. My wife had to go out to work and we were so poor that she lost several positions because she was so shabbily dressed. She has met a wealthy business man and has gone to live with him. He gives her every luxury and wants to marry her. A week ago she came to me and begged me to give her a divorce, told me that plenty of money would be supplied me and I would be placed in a home for incurables. She said that whether or not I gave her the divorce she would continue to live with this man as she loved him better than life. I flew into a rage and told her I would never give her a divorce, but broken do you think I should do?

DOROTHY DIX

BROKEN HEARTED

Answer: I have never read a more pathetic and touching human document than your letter. Surely you have been called upon to bear more than your share of misfortune, and it seems cruelly unjust that to all of your other sufferings should be added this further grief of an unfaithful and unfeeling wife.

A fine and noble woman could not have deserted you in your hour of need. Nor would even a woman who was a good sport have forsaken you. She would have felt that it wasn't playing the game to turn her back upon the man she had sworn to stand by until death when he was down and out.

But in judging your wife you must look at the situation from her point of view. Life was hard on her also. It was grinding poverty and exhausting work.

And she saw this drab and dreary life stretching on for years and years. Then this man came along who offered her all of the things she craved: the ease, the comfort, the soft living, the freedom from worry about money. She was beautiful and she knew that her good looks would soon go in the slavery she was denied to love you enough, for love is proof against any temptation, however great.

It was a heartless thing for her to leave you, but it was her life against yours, her happiness against yours, and selfishness won.

As for what you should do, I think the answer is plain. Give her the divorce she wants and let her legalize her position. You have lost her, anyway, and denying her a divorce will be only a petty revenge that will bring you no happiness.

If you love her, the knowledge that you have made this sacrifice for her, and that you have done all that you could to promote her well-being will be a greater satisfaction to you than the knowledge that you have been a dog in the manger.

And you will have made the gallant gesture of a fine gentleman, worthy of a better wife.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a young man of 26 in love with a girl of 23 and am my mother's only means of support. If I marry I would have to bring mother to live with us. If not, I will be depriving the girl and myself of the companionship and happiness that should be ours. Recognizing the problems which will confront us should I decide in favor of the former? I am coming to you for advice. What shall I do?

UNDECIDED

Answer: I should think your decision should depend upon how broad-minded your mother and the girl are. If they are big, liberal, intelligent, just women who are capable of adjusting themselves to a difficult situation and making the best of it, there is no reason why your marriage should not be successful.

Not all mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law fight like Kilkenny cats.

Even if only one of her own loves you well enough to be willing to sacrifice some of her own personal inclinations and desires for your sake and make a genuine effort to get along with the other, you might risk marriage.

But if both your mother and the girl are narrow and jealous and selfish and particularly if they are of the possessive type of women, you had better endure the ills you have than fly to those you know not of. For a home can be a hell on earth in which there are two women battling over a man that they both love and that each is trying to take away from the other.

That is why, generally speaking, it is a fatal mistake for in-laws to try to live together, but there are exceptions to all rules, and I hope yours will be one of them.

Dear Miss Dix: You speak of the failure of American husbands to give their wives romance. Perhaps you can tell how long a wife would stand perpetual petting from any man, even her husband. You seem to overlook the fact that a man who works hard all day hasn't time to think of soft things to say to his wife when he gets home. It seems to me that if a wife attends to her work properly she will not notice whether her husband is indifferent or not, so why blame a husband's indifference when the real cause is the wife's idleness and selfish desire to be waited on?

MERE MAN

Answer: You got me wrong, Mr. Man, if you think that I advocated a man's knocking off work and spending his time sighing at his wife's feet. I think that the love which doesn't express itself in deeds hasn't much substance, and that a man can say it with beefsteaks just as much as he can with violets.

Nor do I advise any man to turn himself into a kissing bug. Any normal woman gets fed up on that kind of thing in very short order. Sentiment and caresses are like chocolate candy—delicious to nibble on (and every woman has a sweet tooth) but cloying as a steady diet.

But there is a difference, isn't there, Mr. Man, no woman ever works neglecting his wife and paying her a few well-deserved attentions? It seems to me that the Tired Business Man is not so utterly exhausted that he could notice what his wife has on and some of the things she has done during the day to make him happy and comfortable, and mention them to her if he really sensed that the poor creature would consider this adequate pay for her labor.

A man doesn't work any harder after marriage than he did before marriage. While he was courting his wife, he found strength enough to spend from three to four hours an evening telling her how beautiful and wonderful and different from all other women she was, and how much he admired her. So I think he might mention it now and then after marriage. And, believe me, Mr. Man, no woman ever works so hard that she ceases to notice whether her husband is indifferent or not. When she does that, it is because she doesn't care.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

Now's Time For Garden Plate

FRESH GARDEN PLATTER—Pats of butter enhance the flavor of the vegetables.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

A lot of people like garden-fresh vegetable plates. And, of course, now is the ideal season for them.

For a well-arranged vegetable platter, color combinations, food flavors and textures are equally important. For example: mounds of emerald green peas, golden carrots, forest green beans, and beans separated by sweet tender ears of fresh corn. Nothing but pats of butter are needed to heighten and enhance the flavors of such foods.

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, creamed fish on toast, enriched toast, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Salmon, celery and lettuce salad, mayonnaise, crisp enriched rolls, butter, fresh plum tart, tea.

DINNER: Tomato juice, garden vegetable platter, butter sauce, parsley potatoes, whole wheat rolls, butter, blackberry pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

So combine this dairy food with garden food for a delicious and wholesome main dish.

To vary fresh vegetable flavors and give them a more sophisticated touch, try this delicious butter sauce.

Butter Sauce for Vegetables: One-third cup butter, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mash butter to a soft cream and work in all other ingredients. Add to freshly cooked, hot green peas, string beans, broccoli, spinach, asparagus or slices of broiled eggplant. Note: Chopped fresh mint leaves, substituted for the parsley, are delicious when the sauce is served with green peas.

Flavish Carrots (Serves 4-6): Two small tender carrots, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Scrub carrots, trim and cut crosswise in very thin slices. If the carrots are young, they do not have to be peeled or scraped. Cook in boiling water for 2 minutes. Add salt, butter and sugar, cover and cook 3 to 5 minutes longer. Sprinkle in lemon juice and parsley and mix lightly with a fork. Be careful not to crush the carrots. Serve without draining.

SHERBROOKE BECOMES CENTRE FOR OUTSTANDING HORSES

Fine Breeding, Training, Horsemanship Found Here As Riding Interest Grows

By FLORENCE McAULEY
The "sport of horses" in the City of Sherbrooke has reached such a height as to have demanded all recognition of horse owners all over the country, marking Sherbrooke as a centre of fine breeding, training and horsemanship.
At the back doors of the City are found dirt roads which are much sought by the cross-country rider and his mount. These roads vide natural obstacles, brooks or fallen logs for the rider with his mount to jump, narrow paths to follow and climb and countless delights to meet, never imagined by the city or ring rider.

Sherbrooke's own Victoria Park, a monument of which the City is justly proud, is planned with roadways and bridle paths which beckon both the novice and seasoned rider. In fall the glorious colors of the changing leaves set a royal background for rider and mount.

Nearby North Hatley and Mount Orford both provide outstanding and limitless expanses of trails for the equestrian. Both sections, too, are noted for their untouched, natural beauty, for the scenery they offer, and it is a happy rider who, after a long country ride, arrives back at the stable having passed many hours on the trail, his lungs filled with fresh air and his thoughts with fresh memories of pleasant encounters on the ride.

In winter, with an easy footing of packed snow, every roadway reaching out from the centre of Sherbrooke sounds a call to the horse and rider, and to the driver with his harness horse and sleigh.

Organized drives are part of the winter program, and a picturesque part, too, with a musical procession of sleighs winding its colorful way across and out of town either under the bright benevolence of the sun glistening on the snow, or the soft, silvery shadow of a winter moon.

Organized rides, too, find a group of riders and their thoroughbreds, hunters and hackneys, Hillcrest and North Hatley or setting a pace in the direction of Bromptonville or Rock Forest. "Rides" often mean the ride out, dinner at destination and the ride back, a matter of many hours, and all followed by "stable talk" at the end of the outing. This, too, is an important part of every horseman's day.

The sport of horses is ever-growing in the Eastern Townships, and the practice of horse shows in Sherbrooke and district has caught and held the attention of the horse show world, the eyes of which group are focusing their gaze on the rapid forging ahead of the local horsemen to claim, with their mounts, a place at the top with the best in the country.

Horses have always been considered the "sport of kings." It is the sport in which all would like to take an active part. Horse shows provide the opportunity for all to participate, if not actively, at least in the also-enjoyable capacity of spectator. Riding can fill every urge for adventure, thrills and excitement—too, it can provide a pleasant, relaxing and healthful outdoor exercise, besides the apparent satisfaction of dealing with and training a sensitive, understanding animal which is dependent on its master for guidance and kindness. It must be noted that the "thrills and excitement" are not only restricted to the riding part of the game, for it is a most exciting pleasure that a driver experiences with the reins of a spirited and high-stepping hackney or pair of hackneys in his hands, and the same is true of a lively, fast-paced harness horse.

There is a common bond between horsemen, a common love of horses and a common interest in their welfare. With the growing enthusiasm in the sport of riding and driving in the district, many riding and driving clubs have sprung up, of which groups it might be said the heart is the Sherbrooke Riding and Driving Club.

Under the presidency of E. W. Gilbey, the main interests of this group of horsemen are the furtherance of good horsemanship and the breeding of good horses in the district, the promotion of local horse shows and to uphold "good sportsmanship" as the vital link in "good horsemanship." In the most part made up of members of the more local groups, it is frequently the Sherbrooke Riding and Driving Club that organizes out-of-town shows at the request of various centres in and around the Townships, and this same Club presents the annual "Opening of the Parks" Show held in May under the auspices of the City of Sherbrooke.

Of other riding groups, Sherbrooke boasts, of course, the Fairplay Riding Stable committee, known as the "Fairplay Amusement Committee," and at nearby Magog, there is the Magog Horse Shoe Riding and Driving Club. Both these clubs have had much experience and success in the presentation of horse shows.

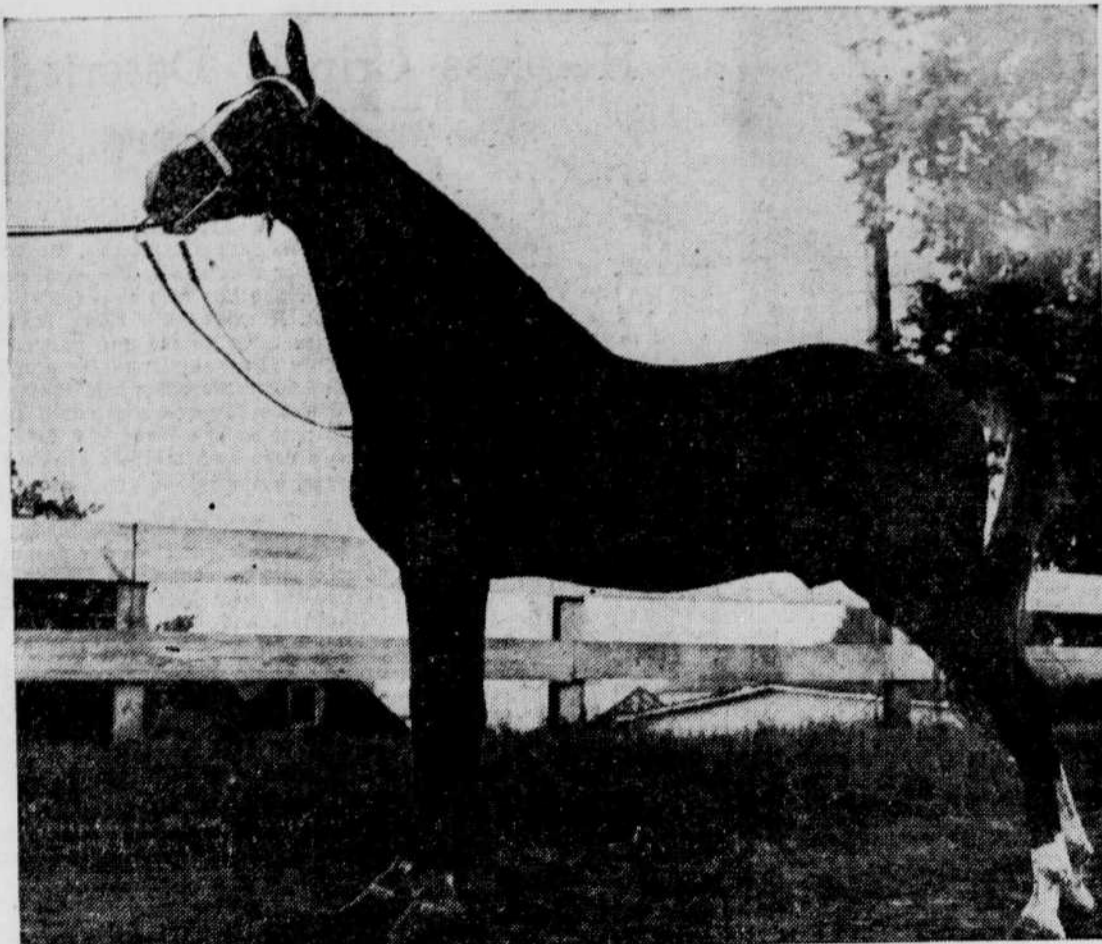

Under the presidency of Dr. Ewart G. Morgan, the Fairplay Amusement Committee arranges its own yearly show, presents organized riding and driving events for members and holds social functions, such as the recent Barbeque and the Hard Times party held in February, to raise funds to carry on its works.

The Magog Club is under the presidency of Miss Madeline Dupuis of Coaticook and under the direction of Alton Mitson of the Horse Shoe Stable, Magog, which stable is the club's headquarters. The Magog Horse Shoe Club organizes and presents its own annual show in Magog, and also presents several out-of-town shows, this year having already staged the first horse show to be held in the Town of Coaticook. This event was a success which it is hoped will be repeated annually.

There are many fine horses in the stables at Hillcrest and North Hatley, where the excellent locale presents an ideal setting for training grounds and scenic cross-country rides. There is, too, the Howardene Stable in Sherbrooke. Situated in the attractive setting of Howard's Park, it achieves a country atmosphere in the city, its paths and ring are shaded by stately trees, and its roadways wind past the pond and spacious lawns.

Too, in Sherbrooke, there are many who, owning their own horses, keep them in their own stables, a practice which is rapidly fading as the stable has been con-

FAIRPLAY STABLE TO PRESENT FIRST LICENSED SHOW

Eighteen Classes Drawn Up For Big Horse Show At Fair Grounds Sunday

Marking another step forward in the presentation of horse shows, the Fairplay Riding Stable committee will present its first "licensed" show at the Fairplay ring on the Exhibition Grounds on Sunday afternoon at one o'clock sharp.

This show will not only mark the stable's first show licensed by the Canadian Horse Shows Association and directed according to the rules set forth by this Association, but will also mark the third annual field day of the Fairplay club.

Eighteen interesting events have been drawn up to provide varied entertainment for the spectators and to allow plenty of scope for keen competition of the many types of entries. A summary of classes includes six saddle and six jumping classes, three hackney classes and three child's pony classes.

Farrell Vincent, recently pictured in the Montreal Gazette jumping one of his mounts and termed "Canada's most daring jumper," will judge Sunday's show. Mr. Vincent is a well-known figure in all horse show circles and was recently seen with his mounts in the Canadian Legion Hudson Heights Horse Show. His appearance as judge of the Fairplay Show is looked for with interest.

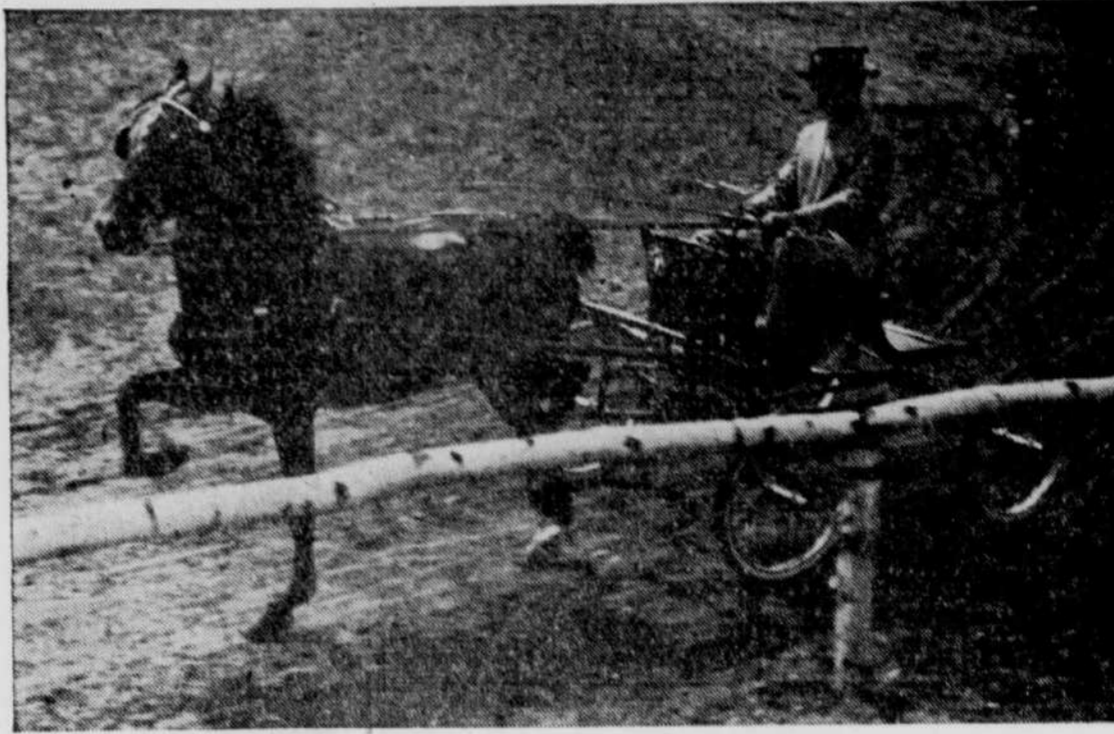

Ernie Gilbey and Eddie Smith, two well-known local horsemen, will share duties of ringmaster. Gilles Choquette will act as announcer, with Bob Choquette in charge of jumps and courses.

About 40 entries are expected with a full line-up in every class. These will include top-notch local verted into a garage to house the family automobile.

The quality of the horses in Sherbrooke and district has risen to such an extent that they are now qualified to meet and compete with the best in the country for highest honors, and, in many cases, to bring back to local tack rooms the blue ribbons from out-of-town shows. Still looking for further competition, many of our local mounts enter into competition with their American cousins, and are successful in bringing back the first ribbons in many cases.

With everything in its favor, the many cross-country byways, the outstanding quality of the horses, the many proficient horsemen, the interest in young riders and pony classes, and the enthusiasm of the majority in the sport of riding, there is no reason why Sherbrooke and district should not be classed as one of the prime centres of the "sport of horses" in the country.

performers and well-known riders of the district.

In the event of rain, the show will take place in the Arena. There will be no charge for admission, and there will be bleachers surrounding the ring for spectators.

Robert And Aime Choquette Are Men Behind The Fairplay Riding School

The Fairplay Riding School, located on the Exhibition Grounds, has six successful years to its credit, and its proprietors, Robert and Aime Choquette, have more than just a business interest in their horses. They have a genuine concern for the development of good riders in the Townships and for the breeding and training of good horses in our own district.

It is Robert, better known as "Bob," who guides the business end of the partnership, and he also does some of the teaching and training. More "the man behind the scenes" than Aime, he is a stally, tamed horseman whose pet interest and topic of conversation is "thoroughbreds."

The showing of horses is taken care of by Aime, along with teaching and training, and, while it is Aime in the saddle training a jumper, Bob is the trainer on the ground, setting high the standards to which Aime must bring his mount. In the many horse shows throughout the province, Aime has proved he is equally proficient whether his mount is saddle type, hunter or jumper.

In the summer of 1941, while an employee of the Julius Kayser Co. and vacationing in North Hatley, Aime first interested himself in horses when he rode those of Bassett's Stable here. The following Lionel Champigny of Lennoxville purchased two mounts and asked Aime and Erich Marguardt, another Sherbrooke horseman, to ride them.

At that time, both Aime and Mr. Marguardt had had little experience in riding, and so they, along with Erich Schiller and Ferdinand Stegmaier, received riding instructions from the well-known Magog rider, Alton Mitson. It was some time later that Messrs. Schiller, Marguardt and Stegmaier formed their own stable, which was known as the "S. M. S." Stable, and which, unfortunately, was lost in a fire in 1948 along with several of their horses, a loss which was felt deeply by the local horse show group.

In 1943, Aime was asked by Roland Dugre to train a horse he had bought called "Doc." That was his start, and the following spring having gained his reputation, Alberic Dussault, of Sherbrooke, turned his mount "Clipper" over to Aime to train and show. His success with Clipper is noted, having made with him a record winning of 42 ribbons during that season in shows throughout the province. Later Mr. Dussault bought another mount, a jumper called "Hi-Girl," and Aime was in charge of her training, too.

That proved to be a successful season, and Aime had already made a name for himself among horsemen. A group of local riders offered to assist him if he would start a livery stable, so the stable which was to become the Fairplay was established in 1944, with its first site on Lepage street. With three livery horses as a start, the opening of the stable met with enthusiasm and the first winter Aime had 16 mounts to accommodate. Then the move came in 1945, which led to the present stable on the Fair Grounds, from which grounds the stable derived its name.

The Eastern Townships Agricultural Association has given Aime every possible co-operation to help make his venture a success, such as leasing him accommodation and putting the large Exhibition Grounds at his disposal. The manager of the E.T.A.A., at the time of the move was the late Norrey Price.

This move to new quarters brought about increased work, and it was then that Bob went into partnership with Aime. He had, until that time, been working for J. A. Desfosse and for the Carnation Milk Company.

The year 1945 brought more horses to be trained, and, during this year, Aime started the training of the much-lauded Gamin—present holder of the Maple Leaf Trophy and, until recently, owned by H. L. Blais, of Sherbrooke, now sold to Toronto.

During the short time at the stable on Lepage Street, Aime had suggested the organization of parties, sleigh rides and other activities to the group of interested horse people, and starting with a membership of 25, the Fairplay Amusement Committee was formed.

This committee has grown in number and its purpose, besides furthering organized riding activities, is to sponsor dances and parties to raise money for the presentation of shows, such as that which will take place in the Fairplay ring on Sunday. The cost of putting a show over is absorbed by the funds of the committee, thus enabling the Fairplay group to extend an open invitation to everyone interested in horses to attend its annual presentations.

One of the two Sherbrooke horsemen invited to the Carby Invitation Show this season, Aime has made a name for himself in the horse show world and can hold his own in jumping classes with any rider in the province. He has ridden many entries to first place for their owners, and was rider of both M. T. Stenson's Commando and H. L. Blais' Gamin when they won the Wellington Trophy, the first and second seasons was in circulation.

Not restricting their interests to horses, Bob and Aime are proud of their dogs, Bob's Alredale, "Mackaire" Queenie, recently brought back top honors from both the Montreal and Quebec shows for her master; while Aime will show you with pride his pedigree German Boxer, "His Honor," of "Bertrig," called "Mike" for short.

Ideally situated at the edge of Victoria Park, with its many shaded bridle paths, its delightful scenery and its unspoiled atmosphere, the Fairplay Riding Stable has become a centre of good horses and good horsemanship, a training ground for young riders—the future showmen, and a meeting place for all horsemen and visitors with an interest in horses.

Final Preparations Are Completed For Seventy-Third Annual Exhibition

Danville, August 5.—Final preparations for the Danville Fair, August 8-10, are almost complete, with indications that it will be the largest in its history.

Under the efficient organization of various committees, the Society has succeeded in bringing together one of the most complete lists of livestock contests, exhibits, and straight fun and thrill providing attractions since the 73 years of its inauguration.

In the poultry class alone 79 varieties are to be on exhibit. Judging of horses, 7 classes of cattle, sheep and swine will of course also take place. 23 strains of apples, 46 varieties of flowers, dairy products, including honey and maple syrup, different grains and vegetables are expected to exceed all similar exhibits in former years.

Special consideration and much lee-way is being given to exhibitors in the Ladies' Department, with many prizes available for the home-made cooking, sewing, and hand-made wood and leather articles.

Following a trend in recent years, the Danville Exhibition is making more room for the products of young hands and minds. Such things as writing competitions, wood-carving and drawing by boys and girls will not only be on display, but will receive handsome prizes.

A feature of this year's fair is the outstanding special prize list. A total of well over 50 special prizes has been donated by

Combines Combine

Martin S. Zimmerman, New Holland, Pa., farmer, is a man in a hurry when it comes to harvesting his big wheat crop. So he fixed up the unusual machine, above, by joining a standard automatic baler and a combine to make one machine that does several jobs. Here a two-man crew is cutting the ripe wheat, threshing it to separate chaff from grain, bagging the grain and baling the left-over wheat straw in one continuous operation. At left, an automatically twine-tied bale is ready to drop from the baling chamber.

Breaks Tradition, Joins Bank Board

New York.—You'd better look out, men! They're climbing in the windows—of banks, that is.

It's been an awful struggle but finally one woman was elected trustee of a New York commercial bank.

She is Mrs. Helen L. Bittenwieser and she was congratulated by Mrs. Wilma Soss, president of the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business.

Mrs. Soss called upon her to be "like Margaret Chase Smith—a delegate at large for women and the stockholders who have created an area of assent, which enables her to be seated and break the lock-out of women on bank boards."

Mrs. Soss predicted that, by 1952, every major concern will have at least one woman director on its board.

One brave man, Justice Ferdinand Pecora of the New York State Supreme Court, despite the danger of being ostracized by men, lauds and abets women in their endeavors to climb up to director rating. He warned them of their responsibilities in developing an economic democracy as bulwark against communism and socialism.

Mrs. Soss remarked that the importance of Mrs. Bittenwieser's appointment lies mainly in whether it will inspire further consideration by bankers of qualified women to sit on boards of industry, transportation and utilities.

Although Mrs. Bittenwieser is the first woman to hold such position, there are many women bank officers, ranging from vice-president to assistant cashier.

Mental Patients Given New Skills In Unique School

Orillia, Ont.—On the cool shore of Lake Simcoe is a unique institution whose gates are never locked.

The Ontario Hospital School houses 2,900 mentally deficient "children" ranging in ages from five to 85. They are called "children" by the staff because their intelligence will never grow beyond that of a child, regardless of their chronological age.

Average chronological age of patients is 16.8 years but the average mental age is much lower. The children are divided into five classes when they enter the school. The largest group (42 per cent) is in the imbecile class and 32 per cent are idiots, lowest on the mental scale.

Morons, in a slightly higher bracket than imbeciles, make up 25 per cent and the other one per cent of the inmates are in the top two classes the borderline and the dull normal. These fall into the 70 to 89 Q. I. category, with 100 considered normal.

The two largest groups go to primary school and are taught occupational work on a simple level. The three higher groups learn reading and writing, a little geography and some simple arithmetic.

Helps Spastics Too. Even spastics, those with normal mentality but who suffer from lack of physical co-ordination, are admitted to the school and their condition is much improved through habit training.

About 300 new students enter the school every year and about the same number leave, to go to selected jobs or homes where they can lead useful lives.

While intelligence growth may be halted at an early age artistic talent may develop normally. Many examples of this are on display at the school. The manual training room contains beautifully made chairs and tables and detailed models. And in the sewing room are displayed several abstract finger painting sketches, in addition to intricate samples of crochet and needle work.

The school occupies about 600 acres and has its own farm. More than 100 cows supply milk for the 6,000 meals served daily. Twelve thousand bushels of grain are harvested yearly and the school bakery uses the flour to make 1,000 loaves of bread a day.

131 Descendants Keep Granny Gay

London, (Reuters) — Eighty-four-year-old "Granny" Henrietta Carrington, of East Ham, has recently had another gala day—the christening of her 131st descendant.

"Granny" Carrington often has these celebrations. She herself was an only child, but today she has 59 or 60 of her descendants around her whenever there is a wedding or a christening in the family. The latest celebration marked the christening of a new great-grandson.

"Granny" married at 18, had 12 children. Now she has 65 grandchildren and 54 great-grandchildren.

"We have great difficulty in deciding which of the great-grandchildren will be pageboys and flowergirls, because there are so many to choose from," she said.

different individuals and firms in the Eastern Townships and elsewhere.

A note of improvement has been struck this year in the construction of new horse barns and enlargement of the poultry shed.

Horse racing, on August 10 and 11, will hold considerable interest with total purses offered amounting to $925. A special prize of $25 is to be given the driver of the horse making the fastest mile during the two days' races, providing last year's record of 2.08 1/4 is beaten.

The more colorful side of the fair includes Model Shows' midway, aided by Lajoie's Attractions. On the night of August 8, the famous Hollywood Daredevils will put on their thrill packed acts.

The closing of the Fair, the night of August 10, will come with a dance at the Town Hall.

LAUNDRY DAYS

Vancouver—Because of superstition, Trinidad native women have three wash days each week.

Mrs. Fred J. Partridge, en route to Australia with her husband after 18 months in Trinidad says the superstition may keep the females healthy but it's tough for their employers.

"Servants won't iron on the same day they wash," she said. "Their superstition is that they will get fever if they do both chores on the same day—so we have three laundry days—two for washing and one for ironing."

MONEY AND TOUR DESIGN REWARDS

Margate, England.—Two hundred pounds and a tour of Europe came to pretty, 19-year-old Nancy Marsh of Margate School of Art, daughter of an Elvington collier. And all because she likes to design things.

As a relaxation from dress-designing, Nancy designed a pair of walking shoes and a handbag with original pockets.

They each won £100 ($400) in the Royal Society of Arts competition—the first time that both prizes have been won by the same student. And Nancy is the youngest to get either.

On the European tour—Paris, Brussels, Geneva and maybe Vienna—Nancy will see how bags and shoes are made in each country.

Bilingual Prodigy Recites On Street

High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire, England — "The wonder of Wycombe," Clifton Hughes, is just two years and nine months old—but already he's renowned far beyond his home town.

At seven months he could stand alone, at twelve he was speaking clearly, and three months later was reciting nursery rhymes.

Son of Welsh parents, he has sung songs in Welsh and English in Wycombe town hall. Clifton's dad is an insurance agent from Llanelly and Mrs. Hughes hails from Blaengwynn.

When his mother takes Clifton with her shopping she's continually stopped and the youngster is asked to sing or recite. And Clifton, though wide-eyed and a little shy, will go through a 40-line poem without a hitch.

"I have two daughters as well, aged 13 and seven," says Mrs. Hughes, "both of them were bright kids, but Clifton soon showed he was not going to be left behind."

Clifton's mother wants him to be a singer. But his father would rather he become a cricketer.

RED SMUDGE STILL LIPSTICK EVIDENCE

Vancouver, — The well-kissed man will just have to keep on wearing the evidence—lipstick will never be kiss-proof.

So says Miss Hazel Jensen, representative of an eastern cosmetic firm who recently conducted a two-day cosmetic training class here.

Which means, gents, the wife will know whether that red smudge on your chin after a "night out with the boys" is ketchup, a frog blossom or "pink camellia."

A'S DOWN BRAVES 8-2; DRUMMONDVILLE HERE TOMORROW

Manager Gladu Clouts Grand-Slam, Homer; Blanco Absent; Stephens Plays Second; Shargey Released

Manager Roland Gladu poked out a grand-slam home run to pace his team to an 8-2 decision last night over the Braves of St. Johns in a regular fixture of the Provincial Baseball League.

At Drummondville, Sal Maglie pitched the league-leading Cubs to a 6-1 victory over cellar-dwelling St. Hyacinthe. Maglie allowed only nine hits and pitched scoreless ball after the first inning.

Meanwhile at Granby, the runner-up Red Sox were defeated 4-2 by Farnham. The loss dropped the Sox further back of the fourth-ranking Drummondville team.

Drummondville Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening at 7.15 the Athletics will be at home to the looping Cubs in a regular league fixture. This should be an interesting game. In the Cubs' last two engagements with the locals Manager Gladu's squad came out on the long end of the count and no doubt Stan Beard and his mates will be seeking revenge for these setbacks.

Mike Melis went the distance for the Athletics, and although he was ousted for seven hits he kept them fairly well scattered, and allowed only two runs to be registered. He gave up three free tickets, his by whiffing the same amount to the plate.

On the other side of the score sheet the locals got to Barbison or 10 safeties, including a circuit swab by Rolie Gladu and a triple while Normie Dussault also connected for a three-bagger. Silvio Garcia poked out two two-baggers to complete the extra base hits. Johnny Corridan accounted for three singles while Stephens, the new infielder playing at second replacing injured Blanco, and Eddie Thomas got the balance. Pajonas was the big gun for the visitors with two doubles and a single with Barber, Zackman, Valois and Barbison accounting for the rest.

Normie Dussault, the first man up, belted out a triple, and after Corridan had fled out, he came home when Manager Gladu drove in another triple, but he was left stranded. In the second it was three up and three away, while for the Braves it was the regular order for the initial three innings.

GLADU HITS GRAND-SLAM HOMER.

Mellis and Dussault both drew walks, to start matters, and Corridan moved them along with a single. With the bases loaded Manager Gladu lifted the first pitch over right field fence for his cleaning act. Duany fled out, Stephens walked, but Garcia hit into a double play to retire the side.

In the fourth the Braves got a single, but no damage was committed. In the fifth they put together three hits, including a double by Pajonas, to account for a tally. In the sixth and seventh they got two more singletons but failed to cross the plate. In the eighth they went down in order while in the ninth they got their second tally, when Parks reached first on Garcia's miscue, and tallied on Pajonas' second double, that went through Ralph Schwamb at third base. However Melis forced Duffort to get out on an infield hit.

In the seventh Dussault went out at first and Corridan connected for a single, stole second and after Gladu drew a walk and Duany fled out to third he came racing home on Stephens' clean single. Garcia then hit a lousy double to drive them both across the plate. Eddie Thomas went out to end the rally.

In the eighth Schwamb and Mellis went down swinging, Dussault walked and Corridan singled but Gladu fled out to deep centre field to retire the side and end the local's scoring chances for the game.

All Widmar In Line For Valuable Player Award

All Widmar, tall righthander of the Baltimore Orioles, is not only very much in the running for International League pitching honors, but also one of the chief threats for the most valuable player award.

Widmar, 24, has won 18 games and lost only seven for the seventh-place Orioles who have won only 42 games in 102 decisions.

The former St. Louis Brownie turned in his 18th triumph last night, beating Rochester. Red Wings 10-5 in the second half of a doubleheader. The Wings took the first game 4-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Big Jim Hearn.

Widmar's triumph prevented the Wings from moving into a virtual first place tie with Buffalo Bisons. The Bisons bowed 2-1 to Newark Bears in 10 innings and as a result their lead was shaved to a game.

The Wings collected only six hits off Jim Wilson in the opener but half of them were home runs by Russ Derry, Dick Cole and Al Stranger. Derry's blast was his 31st.

Widmar allowed ten hits and was in front all the way. Widmar fanned three and walked three. He leads the loop in strikeouts with 132.

The Orioles patted Erv Dusk and two successors for 12 blows including four-baggers by Ken Wood and Jeep Handley.

Frank Lamanna's pinch-hit single broke up the Buffalo-Newark game. Lamanna batted for winning pitcher Joe Valenzuela and singled rookie Bob Thurman home from second with two out in the tenth. Valenzuela allowed the Bisons only three hits.

Toronto Maple Leafs took over third place from Jersey City Giants, beating Syracuse Chiefs 7-3 as the Giants bowed 8-1 to Montreal Royals.

Rubber Church stopped the Chiefs on four hits, one a homer by Al Rubeling. The Leafs pounded Art Hartley and Roman Brunswick for 11 safeties including a three run four-bagger by Vic Barnhart. Church helped his cause, driving home two runs on a pair of singles.

Lefty Johnny Van Cuyk halted the Giants on six blows to square his record at 7-7. The Royals jumped on Andy Tomasic for five runs in the first inning on a three-run homer by Al Gionfriddo and a two-run blast by George Schemas and were never headed.

Top Canadian Paddlers Compete For Titles

Ottawa, Aug. 5. — Canada's paddling classic is set for tomorrow at Mooney's Bay scene of the Canadian Canoe Association Regatta for the third straight year.

Some 400 paddlers, including past and present Dominion title-holders and members of Canada's 1948 Olympic Team, will vie for individual honors. They will also be out to win the Regatta championship for their own clubs.

The senior singles—always a regatta highlight—will see the present title-holder and two former champions in action.

Doug Bennett, defending champion of Montreal Excel Club and runner-up in last year's Olympic event, will be on hand, competing against clubmate Don Luihan and Johnny Muff of Carleton Place, Ont.

Nineteen clubs are entered in the contest. Montreal is sending seven, Toronto four and Ottawa two. Three other Ontario clubs—Sudbury, Gananoque and Carleton Place—and Quebec, Winnipeg and Three Rivers, Que., also will be represented.

Barring roaring winds, water conditions should be good. Mooney's Bay on the Rideau River is well-protected with seldom more than a ripple on its surface.

Sports Roundup

By RALPH BERNSTEIN (Pinch-Hitting For Hugh FULLERTON, JR.)

Philadelphia, Aug. 5. (P) — Schoofy Rowe is conserving his arm for next year but there won't be a next year for Schoofy—at least not with Philadelphia Phillies. Blix Donnelly will be breaking off his curve ball elsewhere too, if our Little Blue Jay is chirping the truth. 1950 is the year the "Phillie" officials have marked "Pennant" and they don't mean for any other senior circuit team.

They're counting on a chunky pitcher named Max Peterson to come up from Toronto and become a relief ace as good as Ted Wilks or Joe Page. Pitcher Ed Wright—former Brave and Yankee chattle—right hander Bubba Church, outfielder Ed Sanicki and infielder Mike Goliat figure high in the Phil's future plans. All are teamed with Peterson at Toronto...

And doing very well, thank you. Memories

Ken Heintzelman, who already has 13 victories, hopes to become the first Philadelphia Phillies pitcher to win 20 games or more in one season since Grover Cleveland Alexander's 30 winning performances in 1917. ... And should Bob Dillinger win the American League batting title, he'd be the first Brownie to cop that honor since George Sisler took the crown in 1922 with a lousy .420.

Touch And Go

George Kell of Detroit and Bob Dillinger of St. Louis are in the thick of the hot fight for the American League batting championship but the superstitious money says neither will win. No third baseman ever has won the junior

Stohlberg Faces Defending Champ Bill Tully In Quarter-Final Of Canadian Tennis Championships

Halifax, Aug. 5. — Walter Stohlberg of Vancouver, whose shoulders are broad enough to carry a heavy load, is a man with a mission today as he goes against W. J. (Bill) Tully of Bronxville, N. Y., defending singles champion, in a quarter-final match of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships.

Stohlberg, Canada's third-ranking player, admitted last night he has been looking forward to meeting Tully but he remained non-committal on his chances of upsetting the 25-year-old American.

Should the West Coast ace accomplish his task there is a good chance the title will return to Canada for the first time since 1940 when it was captured by Don McDermid of Ottawa. If Stohlberg falls, the job will pass on to Lorne Main, another Vancouver star.

Main yesterday barely survived the fourth round of play after an exciting five-set battle with an unheralded Maritimer. Meanwhile, Canada's No. 1 ranking player, Henri Rochon of Montreal, made the grade on a straight-set triumph.

In the other quarter-final James Macken of Montreal meets the tournament dark-horse, E. Blair Hawley of Cambridge, Mass., who has been complaining of a sore arm. Winner of this set-meets Rochon. Also scheduled are quarter-finals in women's singles and doubles and the men's doubles.

Don David of Halifax, the Maritimes' last hope in men's singles, bowed out yesterday in a blaze of glory. The 35-year-old singles champion of Nova Scotia almost upset Main's apperact, as play resumed after a break in the schedule of almost two full days because of rain.

Had Baud been in better condition, he probably would have beaten his 19-year-old opponent. He returned Main's celebrated two-twisted drives in stride and seemed to be just breezing along, capturing the first two sets 6-4, 6-1.

Baud's retrieving had Main worried and his ground strokes compared with the best seen in the tournament to date. For a time the Vancouver youth was doing a lot of talking to himself.

But the Nova Scotian, wilted in the face of determined rally by Main which thrilled a gallery of 1,000, largest of the week. The Vancouver ace systematically wore the Halifax veteran into the ground to capture the last three sets 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

Rochon had an easier time of it disposing of Edgar Lanthier of Montreal, co-holder of the National Doubles title, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3. But the 34-year-old Lanthier gave the little insurance salesman a good workout in a display of court showmanship which held the fans in their seats until the last point was played.

In matches played on asphalt courts earlier, Rochon and Edith Sullivan of Belmont, Mass., swept into quarter-finals of the mixed doubles on a 7-5, 6-4 triumph over Montrealers, J. J. Desjardins and Mrs. Ruth Porter.

Donagh Hume of Toronto and David Pigoit, Halifax junior, were ousted by Gordon Bauld, Halifax, and Mrs. Jean Harris, Musquodoboit, N. S., 6-3, 6-0.

17 Top Pacers Clash In $50,000 Nassau Race, Weather Permitting; Grattan Mcklyo Still Favorite

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 5. — Weather permitting, 17 of the top pacers on the Continent will clash tonight in the $50,000 Nassau two-mile race at Roosevelt Raceway.

Rain forced postponement of this harness racing classic last night because the top-flight field of sidewheelers need a firm track to do themselves justice.

Grattan McKlyo remains a 2-1 favorite in the bulky field, largest to ever start at the track. There are two three-horse entries in the field.

One threesome, trained by Clint Hodgins of Clarendon, Ont., is made up of Mr. Morris Scott, Stewart Direct and Dick Eria. Stewart

Direct is owned by Hugh Stewart of Peterborough, and will probably go to the post with his entry-mates at about 10 to 1.

The other bargain entry for the bettors consists of Royal Man, Jerry The First and Hogden, trained by Eddie Cobb of Washington Court, O. The trio is listed at 7 to 2.

An extra attraction on the program tonight is the scheduled appearance of Bangway, a leading candidate for the Hambletonian, in the Volomite Stake, a $10,000 race which drew 11 three-year-old trotters. Pacers of the same age will clash in the $10,000 adios in which Royal Blackstone is favored.

Cleveland's Flair For Winning Extra-Inning Games May Decide American League Pennant Race

Cleveland's flair for winning extra-inning games may mean the difference in the American League pennant race.

While the leading New York Yankees have blown eight of 11 overtime decisions, the 1948 World Champions have copped 12 of 13. As a result the Indians today are only 2½ games out of first place.

Not since Mid-May have the Yanks faced such a direct threat as both Cleveland and Boston now present. The Red Sox, winning nine of 11 since returning to Fenway Park, now are only five games behind New York. They have a 22-7 record since July 1.

That old extra-inning trouble felled the Yanks again yesterday when they lost to Detroit in 11 innings, 3-2. Pat Mullin, who murders New York pitching, broke up the game with his fourth single of the day, scoring Eddie Lake from third base in the 11th.

Vic Raschi, who lost only six while winning 15, suffered his third setback by Detroit, a club he hasn't beaten. The Tigers have copped eight of 11 on their next-to-last Eastern swing.

Jack Solomons Still Hopeful For Woodcock

London, Aug. 5. — Promoter Jack Solomons is more optimistic that the boxing writers here that Bruce Woodcock, Britain's injured heavyweight champion, can be ready for his Sept. 6 bout with Lee Savold.

Woodcock and the Englewood, N. J., clouter are scheduled to meet for the British version of the world heavyweight championship at London's White City Stadium.

However, Woodcock yesterday drove a truck off the road and into a tree and was unconscious for a time after the accident. The crash occurred near Doncaster and the boxer was taken to Doncaster Royal Infirmary.

QUEBEC SPORTS DIARY

By VIC MORRIS, JR.
Montreal, Aug. 5. — It may well be that Montreal has come into the fight picture as one of the leading boxing centers of the world.

Despite threatening weather more than 19,000 fans contributed $76,223 Wednesday night to see Canadian Welterweight Champion rounds under the short but lethal punches of Laurent Dauthuille of France.

The fight itself was not the best that the Swarthy Montrealese has been matched in, but it was good enough to draw a record Canadian crowd. Nevertheless, and in spite of the night-marish conditions of a growing thunderstorm in the distance which eventually poured rain on the spectators, the fight put Montreal under the big tent in the fight game.

Dauthuille, a pre-fight underdog, came through with a surprise knockout. But to most fans their big belt seemed to come from a feeling that they had played a part in setting the attendance record.

Promoter Raoul Godbout, always a gambler on the weather, stubbornly refused to think of postponing the fight, even when the outdoor baseball stadium, where the match was held, turned into a sea of mud.

As early fans gathered Godbout confidently announced over the loud speaker that "the fight will go on."

One veteran sports writer remarked, "sure, he'll keep 'em here until tomorrow before he'll give 'em their money back."

It was Godbout who set the former high Canadian gate figure in 1946 when $50,000 was contributed for the Greco-Dave Castiloux fight.

Godbout, small in stature, is a big man in the business, and is respectively received by the top men in the business in New York. He seldom comes out in the red. This is mostly due to the select circle of advisers he has collected. They are the top in publicity and fighter selection.

This group once brought the remark from Max Waxman, former manager of Jack Dempsey: "You might put one over on Godbout, but that gang around him is the smartest in the business."

Hooks and Slies
Bob Gray of Toronto Scarborough, will attempt to add another victory niche in his trusty driver when he defends his Alpine Open Golf Championship at St. Marguerite, Que., Sunday. He'll be clashing against amateurs and pros over the trick Laurentian Mountain course.
