

THE SPINSTER'S STORY.

Madge Lewis, a spinster, and her cousin Lizzie Black, a gay, charming young girl of eighteen years, lived in a beautiful little cottage near the railway station in the village of Hugville.

It just happened as I expected. Scarcely a half an hour had passed since Charles left me, when Frank asked me to be his wife in three months' time. He said, "I want to be in our own home for Christmas."

It was indeed a surprise to me, and I was not at all prepared for it. I had never before been asked to marry, and I was not at all prepared for it.

Hotels. ST. LAWRENCE HALL. 135 TO 139 St. James Street. MONTREAL. HENRY HOGAN, Proprietor.

New Advertisements. RAMSAY'S Boot Grease and Waterproof Leather Preservative. The Hansa Steamship Co. of Hamburg.

Steamships. BEAVER LINE. ALLAN LINE. THE CANADA SHIPPING CO.'S MONTREAL AND LIVERPOOL.

Steamships. LIVERPOOL MAIL LINE. NEWFOUNDLAND LINE. GLASGOW LINE. THROUGH BILLS OF LADING.

Murray Hill Hotel. NEW YORK. The largest and finest constructed hotel in the city.

THE RUSSELL, OTTAWA. The Palace Hotel of Canada.

James Thomson, "THE CABINET MAKER," House Furnishing and General Decoration.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC STEAMSHIP LINE. Port Arthur, Manitoba and British Columbia.

QUEBEC. This hotel, which is unrivalled for size, style and locality in Quebec.

GLASGOW Scotland. PHILIPS CO. 141 GATH STREET.

REV. FATHER LABELLE'S NATIONAL LOTTERY OF COLONIZATION.

THE OTTAWA RIVER NAVIGATION CO. Daily Steamers will be withdrawn after 16th instant.

FALL ARRANGEMENT. Market Lines to Carillon, Rigaud, etc.

WHITE STAR LINE. Calling at Cork Harbour, Ireland.

NORTH ATLANTIC Steamship Company. Miramichi, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and Great Britain.

DOMINION LINE. ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS. LIVERPOOL SERVICE.

IGURE FITS! The Right Way. The only proper way to cure a cough is to loosen the tough mucous or phlegm that clogs the bronchial pipes.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S STEEL PENS. GOLD MEDAL-PARIS, 1878.

Excellent Storage. ASHES INSPECTION OFFICE.

LOST. On the 18th instant, a Gold Albert Chain, open ring pattern, hollow link.

Use Imperial Extract Co's Flavoring Extracts. Best in the World.

CASTOR FLUID (Registered). A delightfully refreshing preparation for the hair.

THE WATER COMMITTEE.

Protesting Against Cutting Off the Water Supply.

A Suggestion that the Rates Should be Paid Quarterly.

More Money Wanted for Pipe-Laying.

Petitions and Requests.

A meeting of the Water Committee was held yesterday afternoon. In the absence of Ald. Donovan, who is ill, Ald. Holland occupied the chair. There were also present Aldermen Archibald, Mathieu, Hamelin, Martineau, Gray and Grenier. Alderman Gray said he appeared on behalf of the Health Department to ask the committee to abandon their present system of collecting the water rates by turning off the water from the closets in the houses of those who had not paid their water bills. The cutting off the water in this way was very injurious to the sanitary condition of houses, as it allowed sewer gas to enter houses which would greatly impair the health of the occupants. He still adhered to the scheme which he had brought up in the Council some time ago, namely, that water-closets in houses, for which small rentals are charged, should be exempted from paying water rates. In view of the fact that cholera had already broken out on this continent, every precaution should be taken against its approach here. One of the most necessary things for all houses was a proper supply of water. He also suggested that water rates should be collected quarterly or paid by proprietors, as the poor people would be better able to pay their bills in small amounts than the wealthy when it came due. This system was adopted in all large cities, and he was of the opinion that it would be a good thing for Montreal to have them collected in the same way. Alderman Martineau said he was very pleased that Alderman Gray had come before the committee and brought up this question. He, for one, was in favor of collecting the water rates quarterly. To shut off the water from the houses of poor people, was depriving them of one of their greatest necessities of life.

Alderman Grenier believed that a better mode of collecting the water rates should be devised than the present system. He was of the opinion, however, that Alderman Gray should have brought this matter up before the Council. He agreed with Alderman Gray's suggestion that the proprietors should pay the rates, since it had been shown that it was a tax. He hoped that he would bring this matter up at the next meeting of the Council, when he would be pleased to give it his support. Mr. Lesage read an extract from a motion passed in the Council, 3rd November, 1879, allowing water to those who had no water. He wanted it understood that water would still be given in those cases, and that he had nothing whatever to do with those who were too poor to pay their water bills.

Alderman Gray then withdrew, saying that he would have a motion placed on the order sheet to consider this matter and have it discussed at the next meeting of the Council. The chairman said that an appropriation for an extra $5,000 was needed to complete the pipe laying. This was an important matter and he hoped the committee would ask for more money. Mr. Robb, the City Auditor, said that the $15,000 voted by the Council had been already spent. Eight thousand of this had gone to pay for service pipes and $7,000 was spent in going on with the work of pipe laying. It would now take $3,000 to close up the drains on St. Lawrence and Cadieux streets and another $8,000 to pay outstanding accounts. Therefore $6,000 was necessary.

Ald. Grenier said he realized the necessity of obtaining more money but this should have been provided before this. He suggested that a report should be made to Council as no more money could be given until an order was received from that body.

Ald. Archibald expressed some surprise that the $15,000 had been already expended. He thought that some of the work was being proceeded with in a very slow manner especially with some pipes which were being laid on Victoria street to connect with McGill College.

A letter was read from Mr. Council asking for the required amount.

A letter was read from Messrs. Ward & Sons asking to be paid $4,000 on account for work done on the flood-gates at the Inland out, which would then leave a balance to his credit of $1,400. This was considered.

A petition for water pipes on Mignonne and Poupore streets and from residents on other streets was granted, providing more money could be obtained to carry on the work.

A petition from Mrs. Burns, residing on Shaw street, protesting against paying her bill as the water in her house froze up during the winter, was left over.

Ald. Archibald remarked that if more service pipes were laid the city's revenue would be greatly increased. The water rates in this city were greatly in excess of Toronto and other large cities.

A petition was read from Patrick Kennedy asking for $175 damages on account of the bursting of the water pipe in his cellar on Guy street.

A report was read from Mr. Lesage, of the Water Department, stating that the extent of the damage done was as great as Mr. Kennedy represented. This matter was left over pending further investigation.

A petition was read from Mrs. Hyland, on Alexander street, asking the department to reimburse her for the repairing of certain water pipes which had burst. Not entertained.

A letter from Mr. Adams, asking that his water account be reduced, was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Lesage announced that since the last meeting a barn owned by the keeper at the aqueduct had been burned down, with no insurance, and that some cattle and considerable poultry had been lost. It was decided to give $100 towards rebuilding it, and in future to have the barn and the keeper's house insured.

The meeting then adjourned.

FRENCH COLONIZATION.

Rev. Father LeBel has received a letter from Mr. Onesime Reclus, of the department of the Gironde in France, stating that he has sold the 101 lots of land which had been allotted him in the Temiscamingue district, and that several farmers with their families are anxious to come to Canada as soon as possible. Mr. Reclus suggests that Father LeBel ought to carry out Sir George Stephen's proposal of going into the rural districts in France and delivering lectures on Canada and its advantages to the farmer, which he believes, would be very successful. Mr. Bonaparte, who lately visited Canada, has arrived in Paris and expresses himself delighted with his trip and declares his intention of working with all his might to advance Canada's colonization interests.

SPECIAL SESSIONS.

A sitting of the Court of Special Sessions was held yesterday morning, His Honor Judge Dugas presiding. There were but few cases to come before the Court. The first case called was that of Louis Gervais, accused of stealing a watch from the person of Louis Giroux. The prisoner was found guilty and remanded for sentence until Thursday.

John Cole, arrested on a charge of breaking into a store and stealing therefrom, was then placed on trial. The prisoner withdrew his plea of not guilty which he had entered before the Police Magistrate, and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was also remanded for sentence until Thursday.

MEETING OF R. SMARDON'S CREDITORS.

Yesterday, at the meeting of the creditors of R. Smardon, boot and shoe manufacturer, Mr. Crombie, of the Merchant Bank, occupied the chair, and Mr. Blakeley acted as secretary. The direct liabilities were placed at $83,000; assets at $63,000. The indirect liabilities foot up $90,000, the paper being all in the Merchants Bank. Mr. Crombie considered this nearly all good, being all trade paper and no accommodation. At the worst the loss on this would not exceed $3,000 to $5,000. Mr. Smardon made an offer of 40 cents on the dollar, unsecured, at three, six and nine months. The creditors asked him to reconsider the offer. He subsequently tendered 50 cents cash, but many of the creditors had by this time left and no action was taken. Before anything could be done to effect an arrangement, the landlord, Mr. Mullin, put in a seizure for the rent. The lease has ten years to run, at $1,500 a year. There will probably be another meeting of the creditors at an early day.

A UNITED EMPIRE.

Interesting Meeting of the Federation League.

There was a fair attendance last evening at the meeting of the Imperial Federation League. Mr. Henry Lyman occupied the chair and several of the leading members of the League were present. After routine Mr. Arch McGoun, the secretary, read a report of the results attained at the London meetings of the League at which he had been present. Probably the most noteworthy result attained he believed to be the reference made to the object of the League in the Queen's speech. The League is ever increasing in importance in the mother country and is recruiting in its ranks many of the most notable men of the day.

A letter of regret for non-attendance was read from Sir A. T. Galt, who stated that the reference to Federation in the Queen's speech was most encouraging.

Mr. D.A. Ansell read an interesting paper on Imperial Federation, which was listened to with attention. He expressed himself as most sanguine that the object of the League would be obtained in the near future for the greater welfare of the whole Empire. He condemned in strong terms the independence idea, which, he believed, would inevitably lead to annexation. Federation would not destroy Canadian autonomy, while it would afford the country greater protection in time of war and an increased trade in time of peace. He held that some of the men who asked for independence would not be loyal to Canada, since they had not known how to be loyal to England. It was his opinion that as soon as the Home Rule question had been settled, the Federation project would become the burning issue of the day. The adoption of the Federation idea would bind the Empire together and enable it to withstand any attack made upon it. He favored the idea of the colonies contributing their share in maintaining the Empire. Canada could give its quota of the cost by a tax of five per cent on foreign imports and a tax on leaf tobacco, both of which would yield $6,500,000, the amount which would be required of this country.

Messrs. H. McLennan, H. Lyman and MacFarlane also made some remarks in sympathy with the movement. The following motion was then adopted on motion of Mr. McLennan, seconded by Mr. MacFarlane:— "That the Montreal branch of the Imperial Federation League has observed with satisfaction that the question of Imperial Federation has come in a practical form before the people of the Empire, as announced by the important paragraph in the Queen's Speech at the prorogation of the last session of Parliament, and expresses the hope that the Government of Canada will meet the advance of the Imperial Federation in a friendly spirit and act upon the invitation there held out."

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Forster, widow of the late Right Hon. W. E. Forster, for a fine steel engraving of her husband, who was President of the League, was adopted, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE FIRE RECORD.

A Burning Hay Shed and a Lamp Explosion.

Shortly after three o'clock yesterday morning, an alarm from box 15 called out the fire brigade for a burning shed in rear of No. 24 St. Monique street. The shed, which was owned by Mr. Piche, grocer, contained a quantity of hay, and made a big blaze while it lasted. The fire, however, was quickly extinguished by powerful streams from reels 1, 2 and 4 before any serious damage was done. No 5 laid off from the Palace street hydrant, but was not required to turn on water. The damage was slight, and would probably be covered by $100. No insurance.

Another alarm was sounded from box 125 at 7.55 o'clock yesterday morning, for a blaze in the residence of Mr. Joseph Brault, No. 254 St. Andre street. A lamp explosion was the cause of the fire, which was extinguished with slight damage.

S. HYMAN, TOBACCONIST, 190 ST. JAMES STREET.—Full lines of the higher grades of Havana cigars always in stock. Headquarters for Hyman's celebrated cut plug tobaccos.

A WELL-KNOWN FACT.—That E. A. Gerth's cut of Havana cigars, pipes, cans, Egyptian cigarettes, etc., is one of the largest and finest in the Dominion of Canada, 1,323 St. Catherine street, Queen's Block.

VACCINATION.

The Reports From the Public Vaccinators.

It is somewhat remarkable that, according to a statement of the work done by the public vaccinators submitted to the Board of Health at its last meeting, the only visits to the public schools are those of Dr. Reed. The results of those visits are satisfactory. Nearly four thousand pupils were found to be vaccinated, and only thirty needed to have the operation performed on them. But there are other schools to be inspected besides those which Dr. Reed visited. What about them? Has no medical man visited them to see whether the children who attend them are vaccinated or not? We understand that it is Dr. Nolin's business to attend to the schools in a section of the city. If he has done this duty, what are the results and why are they not published? Partial reports such as those placed on the table of the Board of Health on Saturday last are by no means satisfactory. The schools of the city should be put into such a condition and kept so that there could be no chance of their becoming the means of spreading the smallpox. The time to do this is now, when the disease is not prevalent. It will be too late to make a fuss about the schools when the smallpox makes its appearance. Forewarned ought to be forearmed. This city has learned too bitter and too costly a lesson to neglect any means calculated to prevent the smallpox again making headway within its bounds. It would be simply madness to allow the city to lapse into the condition in which it was previous to the last visitation of that horrible disease. The schools in every part of the city should be carefully looked after and the rules and regulations of the Board of Health with regard to vaccination and other matters rigidly enforced. Neglect in such an important matter as this is neither more nor less than criminal. The health authorities should look after the medical men to whom the duty of visiting the schools in conjunction with Dr. Reed has been entrusted, and they should, if it is required, administer to them a gentle stimulant.

It does not appear by Dr. Laberge's report that any of the public vaccinators, except Dr. Laporte, have been particularly successful. That report says that Dr. Nolin visited 930 families, but with what result is not stated. The omission to state the number vaccinated is not a little singular. The public are concerned not with the number of visits which Dr. Nolin has made but with the number of children and adults he vaccinated while making those visits. Were Dr. Nolin's visits mere morning calls with no particular object, or did he go to see the people to vaccinate those among them who needed vaccination? If he did how many did he vaccinate? Dr. Roy visited 103 houses and vaccinated only 21 persons; that is about one vaccination to every five houses; Dr. Laporte made 233 visits and vaccinated 68; that is less than one operation to four houses; Dr. Hutchison visited 94 families and vaccinated 7; that is one vaccination for every thirteen visits. These are not very large results. Leaving out what Dr. Nolin may have done there were only ninety-six vaccinations in the month by the public vaccinators. Is not the city paying just a little too much for the work done? Would it not be better to pay the vaccinators by results instead of fixed salaries? Let them get so much for every person vaccinated. In that case the most diligent and successful vaccinator would get the most money. Under the present system the least energetic physician gets quite as much as the hardest worker. Satisfactory results can hardly be expected under such a system. There is no incentive to industry, and constant, well-directed exertion receives no reward. The official who does his work in a mere perfunctory manner is placed on the same level and gets the same remuneration as the zealous, conscientious, hard working man.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

St. George's Snowshoe Club Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of this popular snowshoe club was held at the Windsor last evening. The club was reported to be in a very prosperous condition, having a largely increased membership and a balance at the bank of over $400. Mr. F. C. Henshaw reported that the ground for the new club house had been purchased and it is expected that by the time the next annual meeting takes place the building will be completely finished. The officers elected were:—President, C. Monk; 1st Vice-President, R. Ross; 2nd Vice-President, J. Monk; Hon. Secretary, W. L. Matthews; Hon. Treasurer, Tom Gilmore; Committee, R. P. Adams, W. F. Cooper, H. Donnet, J. Bowdler, A. Henshaw, D. McIntyre, W. F. Cooper and Tom Ramsey. After the business of the meeting had been transacted, songs were given by Messrs. Creighton, Doucet, Bowden and others. Mr. Lindsay Sims also sang "Baby Mine" in his usual pathetic style, and for an encore gave one of his imitable recitations, after which the meeting broke up.

THE CATHEDRAL BAZAAR.

Interesting Detailed Returns Pointing to Satisfactory Financial Results.

Mr. Edmond Barbeau, of the city and District Savings Bank, who was the general treasurer of the St. Peter's Cathedral bazaar, has made his report, which is in many respects a satisfactory one. The total receipts to date are $34,000, with $730 in money and $2,750 in effects still due, forming a total of $37,360. The total expenditure was $6,610, of which $2,928 were for lighting, decorations, insurance, &c., $1,213 for the lottery and $2,468 for the printing of the journal, Le Bazaar, programmes, &c. There still remain to be paid accounts to the amount of $669, forming a grand total of $7,280. The net receipts of the bazaar were therefore $30,080. Of this amount the committee has deposited $24,507 in the Cathedral fund and $3,000 in the bank. This result is the largest of the kind yet obtained in the province. The receipts exceeded by half those of the Kerouac on the Place d'Armes which was the most successful one which had been held up to that time. The bazaar receipts were $27,261, the lottery gave $6,441, the value of the goods was $12,450, the whole forming $46,544 which was contributed to the undertaking. Notre Dame parish appears at the head of the parishes in its subscription reaching $110,150, of which $5,585 from the bazaar, $1,227 from the lottery and $3,000 in effects, forming nearly $8,000, and the following contributions from religious institutions in the parish:—God Shepherd $1,595, Eglise Dieu and Grey Nuns $260, St. Patrick $243, St. Jean Baptiste $270, St. Bridget $390, St. Anthony $125, St. Gabriel $89, and the dinner to the clergy $345. The event, on the whole, surpassed the most sanguine expectations.

THE MATCH TO BE PLAYED ON THE SHAMROCK GROUNDS NEXT SATURDAY.

The Committee of Management held a meeting at Dr. Gaerlin's house, last night, when it was decided to re-play the match on the Shamrock Grounds next Saturday. It is questionable whether the Toronto team will gain face the music, but it is to be hoped that if they do come down we shall have one of the hissing and growling so conspicuous at the last game.

THE TORONTO TEAM TO PLAY.

TORONTO, November 23.—The Toronto lacrosse team will not be able to comply with the decision of the committee to again play off the championship match with the Montrealers at Montreal on Saturday next. Several of them, anticipating this decision, asked their employers if they could get away, but their employers positively refused to allow them.

WHAT THE "MAIL" HAS TO SAY ON THE MATCH.

The real storm broke out as Captain Massey and his men assembled at the dressing-room after the match. The crowd clamored for the game to go on by the light of the lowering snow-sprinkling clouds, and because the Toronto didn't exactly see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the Shamrocks were actuated by courteous motives, and most kindly and courteously see it that way they were termed "cowards," "windbags," "good-for-nothings," and many other things, in equally as good taste. The Montrealers did nothing to quell the hub-bub, but the