Fog Shrouded Surprise Landing Has Bolstered Strength Of Canadians

Germans Report Canadian Attempt to Land Several Thousand Troops in Amphibian Tanks and Landing Craft at Hansweert Failed—Germans Launch Counter-Attack Along 10-Mile Front After Heavy Artillery Barrage.

London, Oct. 27.—(P)—In a nut-cracker movement, British troops of the 1st Canadian Army, supported by Canadians, have landed on The Netherlands island of South Beveland, north of the Schelde Estuary, and are pressing thousands of trapped Germans against other Canadian forces sweeping in from the east.

On the eastern side of the British sailet in Holland, meanwhile, the Germans launched a counter-attack along a ten-mile front after a heavy artillery barrage. The attack, which was spread from The Netherlands town of Venlo on the German border south to Roermond, ran into a wall of fire and steel, front dispatches said.

The fog-shrouded surprise South Beveland landing, which took place yesterday, reinforced the Canadian struggle on both sides of the Schelde to open Antwerp. A seven-square-mile beachhead was established.

Berlin accounts said this beachhead was "several kilometers deep" and was in the neighborhood of Hoedekenskerke, five and a half miles ahead of Canadian spearheads driving into the island from the east.

A Canadian attempt to land several thousand troops in amphibian tanks and landing craft at Hansweert, to the east of this bridgehead and across the South Beveland canal just ahead of the Canadian spearhead, was broken up this morning, the Germans declared.

Field dispatches said several towns were captured in the beachhead by the invaders who crossed the three to five-mile wide Schelde at 4 a.m., yesterday. Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, said they swarmed up the 20-foot dike and surprised thinly strung German machine-gunners. The beachhead was strengthened throughout the day yesterday by a ferry service.

Munro, who reported the operation was going very well, said the function of the Canadian troops who assisted British infantry in the landing could not be specified immediately.

The south bank of the Schelde is practically cleared, he said, and the finishing touches are being put on the Schelde pocket job by Canadian infantry now closing in on Cadzand where there still are some guns which can shoot up the entrance to the Schelde Estuary.

Munro said the emphasis now is on clearing South Beveland and Walcheren, to the west of South Beveland.

(There still was no Allied confirmation of yesterday's German report of an amphibious landing on Walcheren.)

The Canadians, completing their drive down the two-mile-wide, 10-mile-long neck of land connecting the mainland with the island, reached the South Beveland canal which

J. A. Blanchette Again Selected To Carry Compton Liberal Flag

Bury, Oct. 27.—The Compton County Liberal organization put the final touches to its Federal general election campaign organization here yesterday when J. A. Blanchette, representative of the County at Ottawa since 1935, was the unanimous choice of delegates from every section of the riding as party standard bearer for the next fight whenever that may be. No other name was advanced by the delegates, who filled the town hall, and the convention chairman, Hon. Alphonse Fournier, Minister of Public Works, formally accepted the selection on behalf of the party leaders.

The dangers which third or minor parties provided to the democratic system was stressed by Mr. Fournier, the chief speaker at the public meeting which followed the convention, who attributed the rise of dictators in Europe to the multiplicity of parties in the old parliaments. This division permitted the leader of one group to gain power for himself.

Turning to Canadian affairs, he reviewed the progress made by the Dominion since Prime Minister Mackenzie King resumed power in 1935. Taking over at a time when the country was in a state of poverty and distress, the Liberal Government had slowly but surely improved the economic position until prosperity existed at the outbreak of the war.

The Government, he said, had been criticized for its failure to provide for the defence of Canada before the war, but he held these attacks were unjustified and recalled that when Prime Minister King returned from the Imperial Conference of 1937, he moved for a sharp increase in the defence budget, which previously had stood at $18,000,000. He carried out this programme despite bitter criticism from the opposition groups and from certain elements in his own party.

Churchill Reports Working Agreement With Russia On Southeastern Europe

Capture Of Gumbinnen Imminent As Nazi Civilians Rushed From City

London, Oct. 27.—(P)—Fall of the important East Prussian communications centre of Gumbinnen appeared imminent today as the Germans announced evacuation of civilians from the path of onrushing Soviet forces.

A Moscow communique declared last night that the Red Army had captured Gumbinnen, four miles southeast of Gumbinnen, and Gumbinnen, seven miles east of the city. Shirkallen and Amalienhof, 10 miles to the east, also were taken.

Unconfirmed reports reaching here from Moscow asserted that the Russians now were believed fighting in the outskirts of Gumbinnen, a city of 15,000 to 20,000. Gumbinnen is 65 miles southeast of the provincial capital of Konigsberg.

Other Russian forces driving through northern Finland captured six localities in the Petsamo area, including Pitkarjvi, 37 miles southwest of Petsamo, Moscow said. It added that security planes supporting the Norwegian invasion from Finland had sunk more than a dozen small German ships presumably moving south along the Norwegian coast after the fall of the naval base of Kirkenes.

On the southern flank of the front, Soviet forces which occupied the Czechoslovakian road junction of Mukacevo (Mukachevo) yesterday were linked up today in a solid front with other Red Army units cutting across northeastern Hungary from conquered Transylvania. This drive has enveloped two-thirds of Hungarian-annexed Ruthenia and taken 18,000 prisoners in two weeks.

Approximately 4,886 square miles of Ruthenia have been overrun by five main Russian columns.

Descending the southern foothills of the Carpathian Mountains, Red Army troops yesterday captured Velke Berezne, 19 miles northeast of Ungvar (Uzhhorod), former capital of autonomous Ruthenia.

Another Alpine unit captured Turja Remete, 15 miles northeast of Ungvar, while Munkacs, an industrial centre 21 miles southeast of Ungvar, was taken in a six-mile advance. Capture of Munkacs brought a victory salute in Moscow ordered by Marshal Stalin.

Other Soviet troops on the southern end of the front captured Vukok in a 17-mile advance along the Tisza River valley.

Gen. Ivan Petrov's 4th Ukraine Army column which took Munkacs joined Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukraine units and punched on northward.

JAPANESE FACE NATION'S WORST NAVAL DISASTER

Pearl Harbor, Oct. 27.—(P)—A Japanese naval disaster, threatening momentarily to surpass the enemy's 35-warship loss in 1942 off Guadalcanal, stemmed today from an amazing gamble which succeeded in getting enemy warships perilously close to invasion beaches on Leyte in the Philippines.

The confirmed sinking or damaging of 27 warships, including three carriers and 10 battleships in a trio of naval-air encounters, tells a far from complete story.

Remnants of the once-proud imperial fleet which it now can be disclosed, actually penetrated Leyte gulf and attacked transports engaged in Gen. MacArthur's landings, still were under relentless air pursuit. MacArthur announced today his land-based Liberators have damaged an enemy light cruiser in the Mindanao Sea.

But, without the continuing achievements, the already-accomplished blows promise to lift Japan's losses beyond the 35 warships sunk or damaged off Guadalcanal in November, 1942.

Several enemy destroyers are known to have gone down which were not included in the confirmed 27.

Today, Vice-Admiral Kinkaid, whose outnumbered 7th fleet turned the tide from threatened disaster into history-making triumph in Leyte Gulf, made clear much more remains to be catalogued officially.

MacArthur-Nimitz communique on the two battles near Leyte, plus a flagship dispatch from rear Admiral Daniel Barbey, listed 14 enemy warships confirmed as sunk or damaged in those two battles.

Eight of the 14—two battleships, three cruisers and three destroyers—were sunk. Four battleships, a cruiser and a destroyer were damaged.

Prime Minister Acknowledges His Efforts to End Russian-Polish Dispute Were Unsuccessful—Declares Last Lap of European War Reached—Says France Has Returned to Her Rightful and Historic Role on World Stage.

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

London, Oct. 27.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today "a very good working agreement" had been reached with Russia on the problem of Southeastern Europe, but acknowledged his efforts to end the Russian-Polish dispute, prime objective of his mission to Moscow, had not proved successful.

Likening himself to a wandering minstrel of diplomacy, Mr. Churchill said he and President Roosevelt should confer with Marshal Stalin before the year ends, but he declared that "all is solid, sure and sound" among the three Allies.

The Prime Minister summed up the results of his conferences with Mr. Stalin as "highly satisfactory" and underscored necessity for dispersing misunderstandings and forestalling them before they occur.

"I am quite sure," he added, "that no final result can be obtained until the heads of the three governments have met together, as I earnestly trust they may do before this year is out."

"At Quebec," he said, "the President and I felt very much the absence of Russia. At Moscow, Marshal Stalin and I were deeply conscious that the President was not with us although in this case the American observer, Mr. Averell Harriman, the accomplished Ambassador of the United States, made us feel at all times the presence of the great republic."

In one of the shortest reports he has ever made after a major conference, Mr. Churchill spoke only about thirty minutes. The House granted his previously-expressed plea that it refrain from using the report as the basis for a general policy debate.

He touched but briefly upon the military situation.

Asserting that "we are in the last lap" of the European war, Mr. Churchill declared:

"Let all hope die in German breasts that there will be the slightest division or weakening among the forces that are crowding in upon them and will crush the life out of their resistance."

While he said recognition of the French Provisional Government heralded return of France to "her rightful and historic role on the world stage," Mr. Churchill declared that the future of the world in the next few years depends upon united action by the United States, Russia and Britain.

"Other countries," he said, "will be associated, but the future depends on the union of the three most powerful allies. If that fails all falls; if that succeeds a great future for all nations may be assured."

He frankly acknowledged that a solution had not been reached in the long-stalemate dispute between Russia and Poland.

"It is certainly not for want of trying," he said, adding: "I am quite sure, however, that we have got a great deal nearer to it."

But, he said, Britain, Soviet Russia and the United States "are all firmly agreed on the recreation of a strong, free, independent, sovereign Poland, loyal to the Allies and friendly to her great neighbor and liberator, Russia."

The Prime Minister expressed the hope that Poland and Russia would lose no time in resuming their discussions "and bringing them to an effective conclusion."

He said Hitler's remaining hopes Continued on page 2, col. 3.

SEVERE GERMAN RESISTANCE ON BOLOGNA FRONT

British and Canadian Troops Reach Ronco River on Broad Front and Cross Swollen Stream at Several Points.

Rome, Oct. 27.—(P)—British 8th Army forces advancing up the Po Valley along Highway 9 toward Bologna have come up against heavy German defences two miles east of Forli, Allied Headquarters announced today.

Forli, a communications centre of 65,000 population 37 miles south-east of Bologna, is only five miles north of Forlimpopoli which fell yesterday.

British and Canadian troops reached the Ronco river on a broad front and at several points patrols crossed the swollen stream but were withdrawn following sharp German counterattacks with tanks.

South of the Bologna-Rimini highway Indian troops also reached the river and sent patrols across. The river flows northward and empties into a canal south of Ravenna.

Vanguard 8th Army units advanced two miles nearer to Ravenna in the drive up the Adriatic Coast and out a bridgehead across the Bevano river on Highway 16 at a point six miles south of the city.

Heavy rain fell over both the 8th and Allied 5th Army fronts and generally impeded progress in all sectors. In the central sector south of Bologna, in one area it was necessary to transport supplies first five miles by jeep, then five miles by mule and four miles by infantrymen.

American troops on Mount Belmonte threw back a heavy German counter-attack and others captured it. Poggio and Mount Mezzano, west of Veduggio, five miles southwest of the Bologna-Rimini highway town of Castel San Pietro.

Bill Boss, Canadian Press War Correspondent, reported in a field dispatch yesterday that Forlimpopoli, where Mussolini went to school, was entered by tanks of a New Brunswick regiment, their advance being matched by a Western

Ningyuan Seized By Enemy Troops

Chungking, Oct. 27.—(P)—Japanese troops have captured the important communications centre of Ningyuan, 10 miles east of Kweilin, in a southward drive from Kiyang, a town on the border of the province of Szechwan, in eight days, the Chinese High Command announced today.

A communique said the Japanese made the sweeping thrust from Kiyang to safeguard the left flank of their Kwangsi offensive as Chinese troops jabbed at the enemy right flank. Fighting is now in progress southwest of Ningyuan.

The Japanese have brought up fresh reinforcements in an attempt to break the deadlock around Pingham, 115 miles south of Kweilin, the Chinese said.

Chinese troops gained nine and one-half miles southward in the move against the Japanese right flank from recently-recaptured Singing, 90 miles north of Kweilin.

All Fighting In Pacific Will Be Strictly On A Re-Voluntary Basis

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—(P)—Size and nature of Canada's participation in the Pacific war theatre is believed to be under detailed study by the Government, but so far a clear official picture of what is in store for the Dominion's armed services has not been made public.

However, as a result of isolated announcements and speculation based on ministerial statements it is understood the Government is planning along these lines:

1. No general concentration on the Pacific until the war in Europe is ended.

2. All services taking part on a re-voluntary basis and no home defence army men going.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE,
Associated Press War Analyst.

They say it's an ill wind that blows nobody good, but the only comfort the Japanese can get out of the United States hurricane which they ran into off the Philippine Archipelago is that their disaster was no worse.

With more facts about this historic engagement at hand—though the story is far from complete—we now can say with assurance that the enemy has suffered not only a major defeat but a decisive one. It's decisive in that it guarantees the Allies success in the great and difficult battle of the Philippines. And since these islands are the key to the war in the Pacific we know that this conflict will be greatly shortened.

Japan's navy, which was estimated to total about 200 ships before the current engagement, has been crippled. Its back has been broken by the heavy loss in capital ships.

The Japs lost more than 27 important ships—how many remains to be confirmed. These included ten battleships which Secretary of the Navy Forrestal estimates as representing two-thirds of all Japan had of these leviathans.

It may help us to assess the full significance of the catastrophe that has overtaken the Mikado's navy if we recall what happened at Pearl Harbor in 1941. The big ships from the Orient sank or damaged eight—eighteen—eight of these were battleships. That pretty well hamstrung the United States in the Pacific for a long time, and vastly contributed to the enemy's success in overrunning strategic islands.

Well, that's the misfortune—multiplied—which now has been handed back to the Japanese. But their position is desperate, for they haven't the resources to recover from the blow as did the United States. They no longer are capable of facing the American naval forces for the Pacific Fleet has several times the numerical strength of the best that Japan can muster.

Not only that, but the Admiralty announced the other day that it had started to move into the Orient a huge British fleet capable of giving battle to the entire Japanese Navy—and this was before the Japs suffered disaster off the Philippines.

What chance has the Japanese fleet in face of all this? I think we may expect it to pull out of the South China Sea and return to the defensive. Probably much of it will be retained in home waters to shield the motherland against the Allied assault which already is boiling up.

This means that Japan—already short of warships to guard her long and vulnerable communications lines in the East Indies—is further weakened in this respect. Upon those communications rests her ability to continue the war, for she is dependent on Java and other Indonesian territory for numerous vital supplies. In short, those communications represent Japan's lifeline.

So far as concerns General MacArthur's invasion, it's hardly likely that the Japs will attempt another heavy stab at him by sea. Admittedly that's a great belief, for any big scale amphibious operation is vulnerable in its initial stages.

It would appear that MacArthur narrowly escaped a nasty situation, for the Japanese attack was perfectly timed, and had it been backed by skill and initiative it might have gone places. As it was, they were out-smarted and out-fought.

WAR BULLETINS

London.—The Japanese fleet has retired after its raid on Allied naval units in Leyte Bay, said a Tokyo dispatch to the German Trans-Ocean Agency today, recorded by Reuter News Agency. The dispatch said the Japanese air force still was conducting operations in the area.

Kandy, Ceylon.—Indian 5th Division troops advancing southeastward in Burma from captured Tiddim have attacked an enemy concentration on Sialam, a peak north of the Fort White Road, and sharp fighting is in progress, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's Headquarters announced today. The Japanese remain in position to stride the road 11 miles from Tiddim, the communique said. Only patrol activity was reported elsewhere.

San Francisco.—"Matters requiring immediate attention," were discussed by Premier Kuniaki Koiso and his Ministers today, the Japanese Radio announced. The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, said it was a regular cabinet meeting. The broadcast was directed to Empire areas.

QUEBEC TRIAL JURY TO VISIT GUENETTE FARM

Quebec, Oct. 27.—(P)—A visit to the farm of sixty-year-old Joseph Guenette, at nearby St. Lambert de Levis, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, where young George Guenette was fatally shot last May 7, is scheduled today for the 12-man jury trying Royal Canadian Mounted Police Constables Fernand Savard and Roger Lizotte on a charge of manslaughter.

Request for the visit was made to Mr. Justice Romeo Langlais presiding over the trial at the fall session of the Court of King's Bench here by Crown Prosecutors Noel Dorion and Antoine Rivard and granted after the court and jurors were handed official photographs of the scene of the shooting.

The trial of Constables Savard and Lizotte was delayed earlier in the week through the slow process of finding "suitable" jurors.

A group of more than 400 men from as far as ten miles out of Quebec City had to be called by the Sheriff before being accepted by Defence Counsel Lucien Gendron of Montreal and Mark Drouin of Quebec. A very large number of them were rejected after admitting to defence counsel that they already had "formed an opinion" on the case.

The jurors will be taken to St. Lambert de Levis by bus—with the driver duly sworn in—and it is expected that upon their return they will hear technical evidence given by medico-legal and ballistics experts.

At the preliminary hearing, witnesses testified that Lizotte fired twice with his .38 calibre revolver and Savard five times with his .45 calibre gun when young Guenette being sought by police in connection with an alleged attack on Constable Gordon Court tried to escape from

PTE. DUPERRON IS REPORTED TO BE MISSING

Word was received by his mother here that Pte. Albert Duperron, son of the late George Duperron and of Mrs. Duperron, now Mrs. J. W. Sterling, was reported missing in action on the Western Front on October 14.

Born here, and educated at the Mitchell School, Pte. Duperron worked at Rubin's for a time before entering the employ of the Sherbrooke Daily Record. He joined an artillery unit, and later transferred to an infantry unit, with which he went into France three months ago with reinforcements.

He has a brother George, also in the service, at Victoria, B.C.

8. One-third of the R.C.A.F.'s 45 squadrons, made up of bomber, fighter and transport units.

9. Continuation of the supply of mutual aid to Allies with special emphasis on the Pacific.

Cabinet members stress the fact the war in Europe now is taking the undivided attention of all three services and until the decisive stage is reached the machinery to shift the weight of Canadian war power to the Pacific will remain idle.

The Army and Air Force, both receiving reports from missions sent to the Pacific to prepare for the arrival of larger elements, are busy in Europe. The Navy, which has been studying Pacific disease, is occupied in the Atlantic where increased U-boat activity has been noted lately.

The re-employment plan is understood to be giving the Government little worry. Air Minister Power told a press conference he expected no difficulty in obtaining the force he wants and it is understood his colleagues, Defence Minister Ralston and Navy Minister Macdonald, feel the same way. Maj.-Gen. R. F. L. Keller, wounded commander of the 3rd Division, has said that even men in hospital ships are anxious for recovery so they can get in the war against Japan.

The Cabinet is understood to be working out a plan by which opportunity of visiting Canada for short leaves. Details of this plan—depending on the amount of transport available and the operating zone for which Canada will be responsible—have not been completed but it will likely be arranged on a staggered scale so Canadian forces in the Pacific would be built up to scheduled strength during the leave period.

LOAN DRIVE IN BROME MARKED BY CEREMONY

Knowlton, Oct. 27.—A smart platoon of infantrymen was present here when Ernest Fleury, Brome County Chairman of the Seventh Victory Loan, hoisted the victory banner to the mast-top at the flag ceremony inaugurating the loan.

Led by a gaily-decorated float, the work of Karl A. Mizener and Harry Wallace, a procession was formed at the County House and paraded through the village, ending at the cenotaph, where soldiers and civilians paid silent tribute to Brome Township heroes. Later, a band played patriotic airs.

The procession journeyed to Mansville, Highwater and Sutton and were enthusiastically greeted in all three places by the blowing of whistles and sirens. At these places, the troops performed special exercises, to the interest of all spectators.

At Sutton, the group disbanded, after the band played "O Canada" and "God Save the King."

The officials of Brome County are confident that the Victory Loan objective will be achieved, considering the warm welcome accorded the patriotic ceremony.

cuts across the neck.

British troops, after a 15-mile westward drive in five days from their Nijmegen salient, had hemmed the Germans into a collapsing box, and were smashing toward the Maas (Meuse) and Hollandish Diap.

The British forces were fighting on a line from three to 16 miles south of the Maas and the Diap.

'S Hertogenbosch, eastern corner of the box, was nearly 100,000 twelve miles to the southwest in the centre of the line, was almost surrounded, with British troops in the outskirts. The British forces were fighting at Zundert, nine miles south of Breda to the west, and the Canadians were within two miles of Roosendaal and about as close to Bergen op Zoom at the western end of the line.

The Allied communiqué said 12 Canadian Army troops, after bitter fighting, had advanced within about two miles of Roosendaal, forcing a general enemy withdrawal along the line between Roosendaal and Tilburg.

Northeast of Tilburg, British armor and infantry crushed through an enemy screen of 88-mm. guns, cutting the railroad and highway to 'S Hertogenbosch and spearheading what the communiqué described as deep penetrations of the German positions.

The communiqué placed British troops in the eastern and southern outskirts of Tilburg itself, and a field dispatch reporting the capture of Underhout to the northeast, said patrols had entered the villages of Schoorstraat, northwest of Tilburg, and Molenstraat, southwest of the city.

Continued pressure but no significant progress was reported by the communiqué along the remainder of the west front north of Aachen, units of the U.S. 1st Army made minor gains against stubborn opposition.

Northeast of Lunenburg, the Germans were cleared out of the Moncourt Forest and the high ground to the north, and several German counter-attacks in this sector were repulsed. Slight progress was reported also northeast of Epinal and in the Vosges Mountains.

Already besieged on the south and east by troops pressing in from points half a mile away, Tilburg was virtually outflanked yesterday by the 2nd Army's capture of the town of Udenhout, four miles to the north. The advance to Udenhout cut across the Tilburg-'S Hertogenbosch highway. In 'S Hertogenbosch, 12 miles northeast of Tilburg, hard-fighting Tommies by dusk last night had driven the enemy from all but the last fourth of the city.

In addition to the British column aimed in the Breda direction at Udenhout north of Tilburg, a Canadian thrust from Antwerp reached the vicinity of Zundert, nine miles from Breda. Canadians threatening Bergen op Zoom on the coast captured the village of Nispen to the east.

The American front in Germany and France remained virtually stationary. Additional German counter-attacks were repulsed by the U.S. 7th Army in the Epinal sector.

Recent German losses on the western front included two major generals—Erich von Kirchbach, 88, and Fritz Reinhardt, 59—the Berlin radio announced last night.

In a dispatch from Allied Supreme Headquarters in Paris, Associated Press Correspondent Edward Kennedy wrote that at present the Germans have fewer than 100 depleted divisions with which to defend the long front from the North Sea to Switzerland. Thirty-six German divisions were destroyed by the Allies in the advance through France.

MONTREALERS ARRAIGNED ON THEFT CHARGES

Joseph Allard, aged 24, and Roger Belanger, 23, both of Montreal, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Hurler O'Bready in Magistrate's Court yesterday afternoon on charges of theft in connection with shoplifting in Sherbrooke and Waterloo stores, and were remanded to Monday.

The youths were taken into custody by Sergeant Lemay of the Granby municipal police last Tuesday when he recognized Belanger as the man who had evaded questioning regarding his activities in Granby some months before.

Further investigation by Sergeant Lemay and Constable Auger, led to the discovery of an abandoned automobile on Centre Street, in Granby, containing a hat and a coat with Belanger's name on the inside pocket. Further search revealed thirteen new suits, two shirts and a set of underwear, in the trunk of the car.

Upon further questioning Belanger claimed ignorance of the suits or car. It was found, however, that the car had been rented from a drive-yourself garage in Montreal.

H. L. Lapointe, a Waterloo storekeeper, recognized two of the suits as his own, and told police that two men entered his store on Tuesday to buy two shirts.

A Sherbrooke investigation resulted in the identity of the remaining eleven suits, of which two were identified by Fraser Bros., five by Omer Bellet, in each case, merchants stated that two men had entered their stores on the pretext of buying something, and they believed that it was while the clerk was busy serving one, the other stole the merchandise into his coat.

The accused were brought to Sherbrooke by car, accompanied by Granby Chief of Police Urie St. Martin and Sergeant Detective H. Burdall, of the Granby Provincial Police, on Wednesday afternoon.

Sergeant Detective Pierre Arcand and Detective R. Gaboriau, of the Sherbrooke Police Department, are in charge of the case.

rested on two factors: "That by lengthening the struggle he may wear down our resolution and that division may arise between the three great powers."

Opening a report on his visit to Moscow, he declared that he was satisfied that the results had been "highly satisfactory."

"Bpt I am quite sure," he added, "that no final results can be attained until the heads of the three Governments have met again together, as I earnestly trust they may do before this year is at its end."

He said: "The present stage of the war is dark and fighting must be expected on all fronts to increase in scale and intensity."

Decorations For Gallantry Given

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Eight officers, a non-commissioned officer and a private have received honors and decorations for gallantry and distinguished service, Defence Headquarters announced today.

Here are some with excerpts of citations where available:

Maj.-Gen. Bertram M. Hoffmeister, 37, Vancouver, Divisional Commander in Italy, appointed Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Brig. James Desmond Blaise Smith, 33, London, Ont., youngest brigadier in the Canadian Army in Italy, appointed Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Capt. James Edward Fox, 24, Montreal, infantry corps, appointed a member of the Order of the British Empire for recovering a live grenade that had rolled into an English throwing side and throwing it to safety but suffered a flesh wound in the act.

Capt. (Acting Major) Loran Ellis Baker, 39, Yarmouth, N.S., artillery, won the Military Cross in Italy for maintaining successful anti-tank defence by making the round of his guns on foot under heavy fire.

Resistance is slackening on the Adriatic side and in several sectors the 8th Army was meeting resistance only from German rear guards and it appeared last night that Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring's line in Italy, with Bologna as a strong hinge, was swinging north in a slow, controlled withdrawal.

Units of the 8th army on the Adriatic coast were less than eight miles from the important town of Ravenna, with the Nazis appearing to a shorter line running west from the marshes north of Ravenna to Bologna.

A captured order of the day by Lt.-Gen. Hauck, commander of the 30th German infantry division, said that the Nazi strategy in Italy was part of the general German plan of delay in hoping to avert a complete defeat.

PURE MILK OVER-SUBSCRIBES

The Sherbrooke Pure Milk Company oversubscribed its Victory Loan objective by 44 per cent, it was announced this morning by the Laid officials.

The 17 employees contributed $7,450 against an objective of $5,150.

Twelve more of the 27 conformations have come as incomplete reports on 3rd fleet air blows dealt south of Formosa. It is known that two enemy carriers and two cruisers were sunk, a large carrier and two battleships probably sunk, two battleships and three cruisers damaged. Still to be added to the confirmations are several destroyers damaged.

American losses acknowledged were in striking contrast with those inflicted on the enemy. A light American carrier, the 10,000-ton Princeton, and an escort carrier were down. An undisclosed number of patrol torpedo boats were lost. Several escort carriers and destroyers were damaged.

Japan, of course, painted a different picture. Introduced today as English-language broadcast, with "Big extra; news flash from Tokyo," Japanese radio listed claims that planes and submarines have sunk two more carriers and a destroyer, as well as damaged a third carrier and two cruisers. These unconfirmed claims, plus previous ones, added up to 34 American warships sunk or damaged.

J. A. Blanchette

was by the free and unanimous decision of the Parliament of Canada, the action being upheld by the people in the general elections of 1940. Upon entering the conflict, the Government had adopted a policy designed to bring about the greatest possible war effort. A survey of the facts would prove the success of this policy, he continued, pointing to the remarkable expansion of the armed forces and industrial and agricultural production. This had been achieved on a voluntary basis by a people united behind the Government.

After paying high tribute to the qualities of the Liberal candidate in Compton County, Senator Jacob Nicol praised the economic policies of the government as the most advanced of any nation now at war. These policies served as models for the other members of the United Nations.

The war was inevitable, he maintained, as no one nation alone could stop Hitler. It needed united action in the national as well as international fields. The Government had based its programme on the basis of sacrifice by all. The young men sacrificed themselves in the battle fields while those at home made the lesser sacrifice of bearing up under restrictions and financial demands.

"No one is getting rich out of the present war," he continued. "True, businessmen are making lots of money but they have to give it all to Hsley (the Minister of Finance). And that is as it should be."

The Mackenzie King Government must be judged not only on its war record but on its plans for the post-war period, Mr. the speaker said in his speech of acceptance. And in this respect the Cabinet has a more definite and comprehensive plan than those offered by other parties.

Lauding the Family Allowances Plan, Mr. Blanchette criticized certain proposals that it be made contributory with the employer paying part of the costs. This, he felt, would lead to discrimination against men with large families as the employers would hesitate to assume the additional burden. The Government plan was based on neither the Marsh nor Beveridge reports, but was a plan passed by Canadians for Canadians.

Other speakers included J. P. Mullins, M.P. for Richmond-Wolfe; Denis Rene, Liberal organizer-in-chief for Compton County, Alphonse Bilodeau, of East Angus, and William Duffy, M.L.A. for Compton.

Prior to the convention the annual meeting of the Compton County Liberal Association was held under the direction of Chief Organizer Rene at which the following executive was elected: Presidents, Eugene Huard, Lake Megantic, and Arthur Hunt, Bury; Vice-Presidents, Alphonse Bilodeau, East Angus, and Robert Scott, Scottstown; Secretary, A. Gosselin, East Angus; Assistant Secretary, A. Drouin, Lake Megantic; Legal Advisor, L. P. Cliche, Lake Megantic; Directors, L. Lizotte, Scottstown; Theo. Bergeron, East Angus; Dr. J. E. Lafleche, Lake Megantic; Oscar Bergeron, East Angus; James Naylor, Compton; James Kerr, Island Brook; Arthur Cote, Johnville; Oswald Brault, St. Isidore; Louis Pelletier, St. Hermenegilde; Majorique, Bury; La Patrie; B. Centralization Of All Legislative Authority In Ottawa Government Is Discussed In Bank Official's Talk

Addressing the second fall meeting of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce at the New Sherbrooke House last night, Beaudry Leman, President of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, declared that the deliberations of the Parliamentary Committee on Banking and Commerce have brought out a number of suggestions which bear upon the political, economic and social structure of Canada. "Some of the suggestions would have had far-reaching effects, had they been enacted," stated the speaker.

Speaking on the "Revision of the Bank Act (1944)" Mr. Leman pointed out that according to the Constitution, the Fathers of Confederation tried to bring about monetary unity throughout the country by placing matters relating thereto under the authority of Parliament, and on the other hand, matters pertaining to property and civil rights, and those of a religious, social and judicial nature were placed under the authority of the Provincial Legislatures.

The speaker asserted that industrialization and specialization have been greatly responsible for the enormous increase in the volume of goods available and have fostered their exchange considerably.

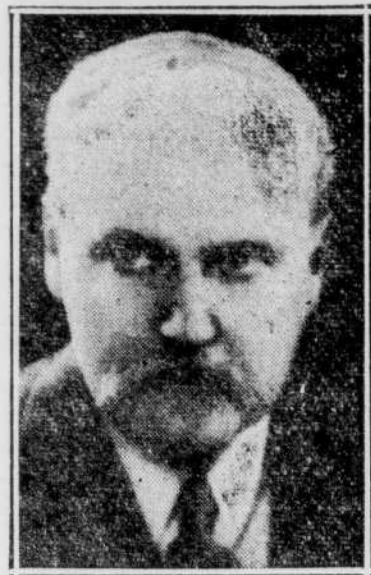

"The problems of domestic and international trade are more intricate than before, and our social fabric is more complicated. We endeavor to measure almost everything in terms of money and money instruments are made available to many people.

"These changes however do not appear to be good or sufficient reason to scrap the Constitution," he observed.

Mr. Leman warned that the citizens of this country would be well advised to pause before they jump into the "unknown and the untold."

The speaker pointed out that the decentralization of power has its drawbacks since it hinders the Federal and Provincial Governments in the application of theories, doctrines or policies that do not appear wise or sound to everybody concerned. However, he continued, since this is the very purpose of decentralization, neither the Federal nor Provincial Government should seek to nullify one another's "privileges."

It is therefore of paramount importance that, on the one hand, the Federal authorities acknowledge the rights and duties of the provinces, while on the other hand the provinces recognize the obligation that must be discharged by the Federal authorities, notably in the case of war or of overriding national needs."

Mr. Leman advised that the centralization in the Federal Parliament of all legislative authority is now openly advocated, and that history has shown that such a development in many countries has often followed wars. "But if Canada is headed in this direction it is desirable that the public should be conversant with these political changes in our constitutional structure."

Discussing the value and functions of money, the speaker defined "money" as a "measure of value and a medium of exchange" with three secondary functions, in that it is a standard for deferred payments, a store of value and a reserve for credit operations.

"I must in all frankness, acknowledge that I am old-fashioned and that I have always found it difficult to understand how a measure of value could be valueless," he declared. "In accordance with present-day monetary theories a measure of value may have no intrinsic value. Its worth is to be sought in its purchasing power, in something outside itself."

Mr. Leman revealed that nowadays the State assumes all the responsibility for maintaining the purchasing power of the national currency so that it will not unduly depreciate in terms of goods and services, at home or abroad.

He paid high tribute to the Federal authorities and the "War Measures Act" for their part in price control, declaring that compared with what has been done in other countries, "our record is one to be proud of."

"However," the speaker queried, "will it be possible, when peace returns, to enforce the discipline and the restraints which have mitigated the evils of inflation and of currency depreciation?" He pointed out that the state and the provinces may seek to arrive at understandings in economics and for the general welfare of the peoples.

"If all stand rigidly upon their rights," he declared, "there is no spirit of give and take, if no grounds of compromise can be found in matters of secondary importance, then all Canada will suffer thereby."

Referring to allegedly hidden bank reserves, Mr. Leman said that "this is another case of setting scarecrows that might frighten the timid." He suggested that some people may have been led to believe that the banks have a hoard of gold or currency which is undis-

ARCHBISHOP OF QUEBEC GUEST AT UNIVERSITY

The University of Bishop's College, through its Principal and Vice-Chancellor, Rev. Dr. A. H. McGreer, is host to a distinguished guest this week, the Most Reverend Philip Carrington, The Lord Archbishop of Quebec, who is visiting the University.

The Lord Archbishop arrived at Bishop's University on Wednesday, and Wednesday evening conducted the evening service in St. Mark's chapel. In his service the Archbishop remarked that it is one hundred years ago this year that the cornerstone to the original Old Arts Building at Bishop's was laid.

On Thursday evening the Archbishop was present, with the Principal and several members of the faculty, at the showing of several of his excellent technicolor films. The films were taken in the course of his extensive travels on this continent.

closed, unreported, and kept "tucked away in some dark corner" to be used in case of an emergency and "for unavoidable purposes." However, the speaker said emphatically, "I hasten to state that no such hoard exists. Have the banks undisclosed reserves? Here again the answer is definitely: no."

The speaker asserted that a careful inspection of the annual report of any chartered bank would alleviate any doubts about hidden and undisclosed reserves since it reveals an accurate account of the profits after mentioning that appropriations to contingent or latent reserves have been made and that out of such reserves bad and doubtful debts have been provided for.

Expressing his disapproval of the nationalization of banks, Mr. Leman stated that such an act "would be a bold stroke to fully centralize all economic activities and in one fell swoop to destroy all forms of provincial autonomy. He further declared his belief that this would be a drastic step on the way to 'scrapping the Constitution' which would result in the Provincial Legislature becoming merely a local advisory committee with absolutely no power to enact or carry any programme of social and educational progress. He also declared that such a 'set-up' would restrict trade, industry and commerce, and stressed the fact that "the personal element cannot be ignored."

In conclusion, the speaker expressed his hope that the "flag of freedom, on its return to these shores, will again fly over a decentralized but united country," and that before long, one may look upon the world "where the State is not our biggest creditor during our lifetime and our principal heir after our death."

Mr. Leman was introduced by Dr. Rene Duberger and thanked by A. C. Skinner, George H. Carr, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and new members Raoul Gagne, Jack Echenberg, Sid Echenberg, Mark Gauthier, Henry Weinstein, E. Chaloupe, and Marcel Beaudry, were welcomed by J. A. Archambault, Vice-President of the Chamber.

Can. Silk Products Hold Mass X-Rays In T. B. Check For Benefit Of Workers

The first Sherbrooke plant to hold a mass X-ray of its employees is the Canadian Silk Products, where the photo-fluoroscopic X-rays are being finished today. In the two-day session, all 560 employees of the plant will have been examined by the mobile division of the Montreal Anti-Tuberculosis League, Inc.

Sponsored by the Ministry of Health, the unit makes these mass X-ray examinations without charge, in order to prevent the spread of tuberculosis. Dr. P. Chartier is in charge of the division, assisted by three nurses, L. Besner, P. Lavallee and A. Roy. The X-rays will be developed in Montreal, and a report will be sent back here, and those whose lungs are not entirely satisfactory will be notified in order that they may see their family doctor, or go to one of the anti-tuberculosis clinics. Since December, 1943, the particular unit visiting Sherbrooke has taken 47,207 X-ray examinations.

In the case of the Silk Products, the employees themselves requested that the examinations be made, on the discovery of a couple of cases of TB in the plant. A. A. Munster, President of the company, contacted Hon. Johnny Bourque, who secured the services of the Montreal mobile X-ray unit.

A delegation of the St. Francis District Anti-Tuberculosis League, exposed to the members of the local Manufacturers Association at a recent meeting a project which would render to the community of this district a very needed service.

The League has planned to buy a portable X-ray machine that will enable them to visit all the manufacturers of the district in order to detect early T.B. cases and to prevent all possible spreading. The machine will cost $7,500, and a small truck to transport it, $1,500, for a total of $9,000, which will have to be defrayed in a measure, according to the secretary of the local Anti-T.B. League, by the manufacturers of the district.

An annual examination of all employees will be made, and visits to schools will be included in the work of the mobile unit. The worthiness of this venture cannot be over-emphasized.

Shefford Still Leading Counties With 61.3 p.c. Of Quota Subscribed

Shefford County, with 61 per cent of its objective in the Seventh Victory Loan subscribed, remained leader of all counties in both Division Five and Division Six. With general sales and payroll amounting to $647,100 and the special names sales totalling $150,000, Shefford maintained the pace it set in the early stages of the campaign.

Its division also, Number 6, is leading over Division 5 by a percentage of 43.4 per cent to 26.6 per cent for Division 5. In Special Name Division 6, with a total of $1,159,000, is far ahead of Division 5, which has a total of $537,000.

Placing second in the counties' drive to become the first to top the set quota is Stanstead which has subscribed 55.5 per cent of its objective of $454,150 worth of bonds. Third on the list is Missisquoi with 44.7 per cent or $343,900. Sherbrooke is fifth with 40.9 per cent subscribed or $716,050 being the sales amount. Special Names subscriptions in Sherbrooke amount to $1,007,500, nearly the entire sum for Division 6.

The county with the lowest percentage is Compton with only 34.9, 150, constituting but 8.4 per cent of its objective.

Progress in industrial plants around Sherbrooke has been a great success there, the employees of the Stanstead Granite Quarries, Ltd., Beebe, have more than doubled their objective of $3,500 by buying $7,650 worth of bonds.

The Spencer Supports (Canada) Ltd., has also far subscribed its quota of $4,000, sales amounting to $8,500.

A notable example of firmness of belief in the country's government and way of living was evidenced at Beebe yesterday when Mrs. Emma A. Moir, who is over one hundred years old, signed her own application form for Victory Bonds. This grand old lady's example is one which will serve as an inspiration to the citizens of Stanstead County.

Special names among the outside plants are the Verney Mills Ltd., Granby, who subscribed $25,000.

HIGH ALUMNI ENTERTAINED R.C.A.F. VETS

Two R.C.A.F. veterans of this war, C.O. Harry Roberts and P.O. Creighton Nutbrown, both recently returned from active duty overseas, were last night welcomed to the Sherbrooke High School Alumni Association by its President, James Strickland, at the monthly meeting of the Association. Under a plan instituted last year both of these men, being former students of the High School, and now in the armed services, have been given free membership to the grade's society.

A large gathering of graduates attended this second meeting of the year at which plans for holding an annual autumn dance sponsored by the Association were discussed and completed.

Miss Wilma Jackson, Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Donald Bryant made a report on the activities of the Dance Committee and also read the financial report. The progress made by the Membership Committee was reported by Fred Kaufman. Two members were elected to look after athletic activities for the Alumni Association. They were Miss Joyce Waldman and Mr. Lorne Eastman.

Following the business part of the meeting there was dancing and later on in the evening refreshments were served.

WOUNDED IN ITALY
Pte. Wendell Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall, of Inverness, is in a hospital in Italy with head and chest wounds, according to word received by his parents from Ottawa.

REPORTED WOUNDED
Mr. Alton Bray, 310 McManaway Street, has received official word from Ottawa that his brother, Pte. Frederick Pace, Royal Rifles of Canada, was seriously wounded on the 12th of October, 1944, on the Western Front. He is suffering from shell fragments in the left side of the face and the eye.

A brother, Gunner George Page, died in England last year. Pte. Frederick Pace has two other brothers in the Army, Sgt. Lloyd, in Italy, and Gunner Robert, also in Italy.

FRIENDS MOURN THE PASSING OF MRS. ALDEN CLARK

The passing of Mrs. Alden Clark will be deeply felt by a host of friends. Mrs. Clark will be remembered as a beloved young wife and mother.

The former Dorothy Spanswick, of Sherbrooke, Mrs. Clark was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Spanswick, Laurier Avenue, and sister of Sydney Spanswick, of Lennoxville. She was educated at the Sherbrooke High School, and married Alden Clark, an employee of the Sherbrooke Pure Milk Company, on March 20th, 1937.

The large funeral and many expressions of sympathy gave evidence of the true and genuine admiration and sorrow of her many friends.

Prayers were said at the late residence, thence to Trinity Church where the service was conducted by the Rev. Fred Williams. The hymns "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages" were sung. The choir was under the direction of Professor Heward.

The bearers were Milton Brown, Earl Lavallee, Wallace Lavallee, Warren Ross, Moe McLeod and Norman Hatch.

Interment took place at Elmwood Cemetery. The deceased leaves to mourn her husband and four little children, Gale, 6 years, Gary and Wayne, 5 years, and Bryan, 22 months, her mother and father, one brother, two brothers-in-law, four sisters-in-law, her father-in-law and two aunts, three uncles and one cousin.

Expect Verdict In Boucher Trial This Afternoon Or Early Evening

All indications pointed to the handing down of a verdict late this afternoon or early this evening in the trial of Armand Boucher, of St. Denis de Brompton, charged with the murder of George Williams on May 6, as the final Crown witness to be presented by Crown Prosecutor Roland Dugre was heard this morning.

As the last witness, Detective John Ross, left the stand, attorney for the defence, Paul Emile Brazeau, announced that the defence had no witnesses.

The Court was adjourned by Mr. Justice J. Dalmia Landry for a fifteen-minute period, after which the Crown Prosecutor Dugre began the summing up of the case. Upon the completion of Mr. Dugre's remarks, Defence Counsel Paul Emile Brazeau will begin his appeal to the jury.

Detective John Ross, of the Quebec Provincial Police, was the first witness called in the special sitting. The detective had conducted the investigation in connection with the theft of two rings from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Graham.

Ross testified that his search for the accused had taken him to Coaticook where Boucher had procured the necessary papers to secure employment in the United States. The witness stated that he finally caught up with Boucher at Norton Mills, Vt., where he was questioned by U.S. police concerning his American working papers.

The accused was turned over to Det. Ross, who had a warrant for Boucher's arrest. Taken back to Sherbrooke, Boucher opened up and allegedly uttered the confession after receiving a warning from Det.-Sgt. Maurice Valiquette. Boucher then allegedly signed a written confession.

Sgt.-Det. Valiquette corroborated Ross' evidence and stated that the confession had been witnessed by several other Provincial Police officers.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLE
"TIP TOP SHAPE"
AFTER 34 YEARS

Recently, your J-M Reporter was shown a photograph of a building which has a Johns-Manville asbestos shingle roof that is 34 years old. Attached was a letter from the owner which reads: "I put J-M Asbestos Shingles on my roof about 1910. Today, it is in tip top shape — and I have never spent one cent on it for repairs or maintenance."

Think of it — 34 years without a penny for upkeep! How few of our possessions are with us that long? Many items around the house are a frequent source of expense to us. But once you have Johns-Manville Durable Shingles on your roof, it's a worry off your mind.

If you have a roofing problem, your J-M Dealer will give you expert advice. See your J-M Dealer now. J. S. Mitchell & Co. Ltd., 78 Wellington St. North, Sherbrooke, Que., Phone 2300.

Use Doughnuts For Centerpiece

Doughnuts and black cats are novel and decorative place cards.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Doughnuts seem to belong in the Halloween picture. Here are some suggested ways of using them.

Doughnut Place Cards: Each doughnut stuck with orange toothpicks on which is mounted a black paper cat, with name in white ink.

Doughnut Table Centerpiece (1): Wooden bowl of doughnuts, some sugared, some plain, set on large round wooden tray, space between outer rim of tray and bowl heaped with fresh autumn fruits, with sprays of artificial wheat. (The centerpiece plays the double role of decorations and dessert.)

Doughnut Dessert for Children's Halloween Party: Frost doughnuts with melted semi-sweet chocolate. On each make a cat face, using small green gumdrops for eyes, halved pink gumdrops for ears, a triangular piece of red gumdrop for mouth. Draw whiskers with white icing. Serve with scoop of orange ice.

Doughnut Table Centerpiece (2): Fill large pumpkin Jack-o'-Lantern (real or artificial) with doughnuts plain and sugared. Ribbon streamers reach from pumpkin to handles of cider mugs at each plate. Ribbon ends tie place card to mug handle.

Doughnuts and Hallowe'en Punch: Serve a big platter of doughnuts with Hallowe'en punch, made as follows: Dissolve 1 cup sugar in 1 cup boiling water. Add juice of 6 lemons; pour 5 cups ice water in punch bowl, stir in sugar-lemon mixture, 2 cups cranberry juice and 1 quart apple cider. Add 1 pint dry ginger ale and ice just before serving.

Hallowe'en Dessert: Split doughnuts crosswise. Place a ball of fruity orange sherbet between; top with chilled unstrained cranberry sauce.

BREAKFAST: Baked apples, fried scrapple, whole wheat toast, butter, tart jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Creamed dried beef on toast, lettuce and chopped carrot salad, enriched bread, butter, fruit gelatin, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fried fish, tartare sauce, parsley boiled potatoes, grilled tomato halves, mixed green salad, rolls, butter, fruit cup, coffee, milk.

MARRIAGES

SMITH-KING

The marriage of Kathleen, daughter of Mrs. Thomas King and the late Mr. King, Vancouver, B. C., to Corporal Claude Douglas Smith, Kingston, Ont., son of Mr. S. J. Smith and the late Mrs. Smith, Sherbrooke, was quietly solemnized in St. Paul's Church, Sherbrooke, at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October 21st. F. L. the Reverend John Comfort, brother-in-law of the groom, officiating.

Mrs. John Robinson presided at the organ and yellow chrysanthemums adorned the Altar.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. S. Charles Smith, and wore a dusty rose crepe afternoon dress, a black hat, with veil and black accessories.

She carried a satin bound Prayer-book adorned with a cluster of Pinocchio roses and white baby mums with white satin streamers caught with tiny white mums.

Mrs. Ronald A. Smith, matron of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore an afternoon frock of heaven blue crepe, a black hat and accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Ronald A. Smith acted as best man.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's sister, Miss Edith Smith, 55 Kingston Avenue, where the wedding cake, topped with orange blossoms and lily-of-the-valley, centered the bride's table which was attractively done with pink and white runners finished at each corner with a single pink rose and lighted white tapers in crystal holders.

Cpl. and Mrs. Smith left later for Kingston, Ont., the bride travelling in a pin stripe black suit under a black top coat with a silver fox collar and wearing a black hat and accessories.

PEARCETON

Social and Personal

Mrs. A. H. Crowfoot and Miss L. B. Rhodes, of Quebec, are spending a short time in Coaticook.

Friends of Mrs. Stephen G. Newton, Portland Avenue, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, will be pleased to hear that she is progressing favorably.

Mr. Ben Logie has returned to Toronto, after spending a few days in Sherbrooke, visiting his niece, Mrs. James Mitchell, and Mr. Mitchell, Belvidere Street. Mrs. George Logie, of Gould, was also a guest at the same home during the interim.

Mrs. E. A. Wright entertained the members of St. Andrew's Auxiliary at her home on Portland Avenue, where after making final arrangements for the anniversary chicken supper to be held on October 30, a social hour was enjoyed. Tea was poured by Mrs. F. Peck, and assisted by Mrs. J. J. Graham and Miss Helen Ross, Deaconsess.

An early Hallowe'en party was held in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. This was one of the weekly dances sponsored by the Citizens' War Services Auxiliary Committee for the boys and girls in the services and was unusually well attended and a huge success. The boys of the R.C.A.M.C., were in the majority and were accompanied by the following officers: Lt.-Col. Wallace, Major Duncan, Major Howard, Major McKenzie, Capt. Jamieson, Padre Northridge and Superintendent Auxiliary Services Gordon. Boys from the Windsor Mills Flying Training School and the Navy also attended. The refreshments were served from beautifully decorated boxes brought by the girls and with the decorations and noise-makers made the whole affair most enjoyable. The music was supplied by Johnny Fay's orchestra. The jitterbug contest, won by Miss Jean Rawlings and Pte. J. McGuire and the spotlight dance, won by Miss Jean Savoie and Pte. Rossire Cyr, brought forth much applause. Hostesses for the evening were the Misses Ann Crochetiere, Effie Boisvert, Grace Cuthbert, Cecile Labbe, Louise McDonald and Helen Brunelle. Mrs. Raymond, of Vancouver, the capable, warm, and cheerful, extended the thanks of the Citizens' Committee to all who had helped and especially to the girls who had brought such attractive box lunches.

Hundreds of guests were delightfully entertained last evening at a delicious Hallowe'en Supper in Trinity Church tea room, and were graciously received by Mrs. Gordon B. Loomis, Regent, and Mrs. Eugene Arnold, Vice-Regent, of the Sir John Sherbrooke Chapter, I.O.D.E., under which auspices the party was held. Mrs. Philip Sims and Mrs. Max Feller were in charge of the tickets at the entrance, where Mrs. E. Sims and Mrs. N. Welch at a nearby table, lighted with a huge pumpkin lantern, sold tempting home cooked food, including pickles and jam. The effective Hallowe'en decorations were conveyed by Mrs. Ross Bishop and Mrs. E. G. Bazcom, who used smiling pumpkin-face lanterns to center the many long tables on which runners of tiny spruce boughs were adorned with bright mountain-ash berries, with lighted orange candles in silver holders interspersed. These artistic table appointments together with the colorful salads and gay Hallowe'en serviettes, formed an ideal setting for the delicious supper, the menu for which included all the traditional Hallowe'en delicacies.

Supper was served under the con- vnership of Mrs. Philip M. Robins, Mrs. K. B. Jenckes and Mrs. J. A. C. Thomson, with Mrs. K. W. Fritzsche, Mrs. A. V. Corlett, Mrs. H. S. Hornsfall and Mrs. J. Lunderville assisting. The well planned menu included hot baked beans, meat loaf, scalloped potatoes, assorted salads, hot rolls, condiments and coffee, and for dessert, pumpkin, lemon and apple pie. Everything was delicious, and conveners and their efficient assistants in each and every department were showered with congratulations and complimentary remarks, by the hundreds of patrons who had so much enjoyed the Chapter's hospitality. Mrs. Malcolm W. Mitchell was in charge of the bevy of attentive waitresses, who so capably and cheerfully attended to the wants of the huge throng of guests who crowded even the spacious tea room to its utmost capacity. Assisting Mrs. Mitchell were Mrs. Ross Bishop, Mrs. John Bassett Jr., Mrs. Ben C. Howard, Mrs. N. Hunter, Mrs. J. A. Donald, Mrs. J. A. C. Thomson, Mrs. Wesley Bradley, Miss Priscilla Hume, Miss Gertrude Hodge and Miss Brenda Hume.

BALDWIN'S MILLS

Mr. Loren Markwell has returned home after spending two months with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dorel Bryne, of Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Wilber May and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil May and family were in Newport, Vt., calling on Miss Annie Martin.

Corey, in Stanbridge East. Mr. J. Champagne, of Montreal, and Mrs. Smith, of Franklin, Vt., were callers at the home of Mr. J. Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Corey have returned home, after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Nickels, in Stanbridge East.

Mrs. L. Beck spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gage, at Stanbridge Ridge.

Mr. Allaire, of North Stanbridge, was through here canvassing for the Victory Loan.

Colonel K. B. Jenckes has arrived from Halifax, to spend a short time at home with his wife and family, at 149 Victoria Street.

Mrs. Gordon Miller, of Montreal, travelling supervisor of the Y.W.C.A. War Services, is in Winnipeg today, en route to the West.

Mrs. T. J. McElliot, of Montreal, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Jenne in Lennoxville, left on Wednesday for her home in the metropolis.

Mrs. W. A. Cox returned yesterday to her home in Lennoxville, after spending two days in Montreal, where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Byrne.

Flt.-Sgt. Weston Nutbrown, R.C.A.F. Paulson, Man., is spending his furlough at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nutbrown, Macsawippi Lodge, Lennoxville.

Mrs. F. Steben returned yesterday to her home, 12 Victoria Street, after an enjoyable week spent in New York and Philadelphia, visiting her daughter, Miss Teresa Steben, who is touring with the "Ice Capades."

Mrs. W. E. Hodge was hostess for this week's meeting of Trinity W.A.A. members of which gathered at her home on London Street, to dispose of routine business and enjoy a social hour. Mrs. F. Cathcart, President, presided, and Mrs. C. Wright conducted the opening devotional period. Plans were made to hold a rummage sale in the Church Hall on October 31. Later the hostess served tea and dainty refreshments, with Mrs. C. Coates assisting.

Mrs. W. E. Austin Brooks and Mrs. Bertram Lyon entertained delightfully at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at the former's home, 75 Portland Avenue, in honor of their aunt, Mrs. Frank Edney, of Vancouver, B.C., who is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Povey. Baby mums and autumn foliage were arranged about the already attractive rooms; the hostesses continuing the season's coloring on the beautifully appointed table, with vari-hued gourds, foliage and tall yellow tapers, Mrs. Povey did the honors, with Miss Isabelle Edney and Miss Betty Brooks assisting.

Members of the Y.W.C.A. Business Girls' Supper Club gathered, for this week's session, around a long table decorated in the Hallowe'en motif and centered with a large pumpkin lantern. Miss Ula Reardon, President, presided over the brief business period during which plans were formulated to hold a dance in November, and a rummage sale in the near future. At eight o'clock, thirty-five goldiers from the Medical Corps, arrived at the MacKinnon Memorial and were guests of the Club for the remainder of the evening. Bowling and dancing were enjoyed and later refreshments were served; a jolly sing-song bringing the successful evening to a close.

MAKE SURE YOUR CHILD'S SHOES FIT PERFECTLY

BY ALICIA HART

One inherent danger in the purchasing of shoes is that of buying, for the sake of long-lastingness, too heavy footwear for children.

As a rule, children out-grow rather than out-wear shoes, which proves no advantage in putting them into burdensome shoes that can distort their feet and give them troubles that will be carried through life. And as for using outgrown shoes as a hand-me-down for the next child, that should be ruled out in all fairness to the next-in-line wearer, who is also entitled to properly-fitted footwear.

Shoes suited to the tender muscles of a child's feet, should have flexible uppers and soles, and should be fitted by a reliable salesman, to the expansive width and length of busy little feet.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

The Situation: You are talking to the wife or mother of a serviceman who is seeing action.

Wrong Way: Say, "Did you hear that so-and-so has been reported missing in action?"

Right Way: Don't bring her any bad news of other servicemen.

Retiring President Of Association Honored By Members At Ayer's Cliff

Ayer's Cliff, Oct. 27.—The October meeting of the Senior Woman's Association was held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Slack, when thirteen members and four visitors were present.

Mrs. F. J. Brown, Vice-President, presided over the meeting and read a portion of Scripture from Romans and followed with prayer.

The Treasurer's report as given by Mrs. Sanderson was most satisfactory. When the short business session was concluded Mrs. Brown, on behalf of the society made a presentation to the retiring President, Mrs. William Moir, who is soon leaving for her new home, in Lennoxville.

Mrs. Brown expressed sorrow in losing her on behalf of the Church and especially the Association, but wished her happiness in her new home.

Mrs. Sanderson also made a few remarks voicing the sentiments expressed by Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Moir, in a few well chosen words sincerely thanked the ladies for their gift of a beautiful hand bag, and said that she would have happy memories of her association with the ladies in this community.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Slack, assisted by Mrs. W. Baldwin, Mrs. H. C. Dustin and Mrs. Sanderson and a delightful social hour was spent.

"V" Day is on the Way!

Some day soon the war'll be over . . . and the celebrations will start . . . snow storms of confetti will come pouring from office buildings . . . gaily coloured streamers will twine themselves around lamp-posts . . . mothers, with sons and daughters in the services, will hang flags from their windows . . . children will come joyfully home from school.

What a song of Victory it will be!

Every Canadian knows that there will be a "V" Day eventually . . . but no one can answer the one question—WHEN? We can make it sooner by backing the war to the limit.

We can buy Bonds . . . for every dollar we invest in Victory Bonds is a fighting dollar backing the men of our armed forces now liberating Europe from her shackles . . . every dollar we lend to our country brings "V" Day nearer and nearer.

Are you doing your utmost?

Are you contributing all you can to Victory . . . or can you do more?

Of course you can . . . you can buy more Victory Bonds than you're already buying . . . not only during the 7th Victory Loan but every month thereafter till that day . . . "V" Day . . . arrives!

Thank-Offering Meeting Is Held By Missionary Society At Coaticook

Coaticook, Oct. 27.—The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church held its Thank-offering meeting in the Parsonage, with the president, Mrs. R. P. Stafford, in the chair. The service opened with a hymn, followed by a "Litany of Praise," after which the reports of the secretary and treasurer were presented. An interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation of two collection plates made by the members of the Mission Band.

Mrs. Stafford took charge of the worship service, using "Thanksgiving" as her theme. After Psalm LVII was repeated in unison, the President discussed the many things for which one should be thankful at this time, mentioning in particular the wonderful harvest; Allied victories in war; the safety and security of our homes; our God-fearing leaders in Government and military circles; and God's love for us; and the presence of His spirit in our lives. It was also stressed that thanks should be given for prayer, and for participation in missionary work. The question was then asked: "What shall we render unto the Lord for all His benefits to us?" The Thank-offering was received and dedicated, and all members repeated the General Thanksgiving prayer. Mrs. Herbert Smith sang in a very pleasing manner the solo, "My Perfect Prayer."

The guest speaker for the meeting was Mrs. E. C. James, of Huntingville who spoke on "The Continuity of our Christian Work," stressing the share of the W.M.S. in missionary activity, and the opportunities that will be coming to the society in the future, when it must be prepared to launch out in new ways. Miss Amy Tomkins thanked the speaker for her inspiring message, and also expressed the thanks for those present to Mrs. Smith for her solo, and to Mrs. Hurley, who accompanied her at the piano. The meeting closed with the singing of the Doxology, after which, a social hour was enjoyed.

STANBRIDGE RIDGE

Messrs. Charles and "Tubby" Reaiff, Jack Patterson and Carl and Clifford Vaughan took part in the annual "ploughing matches" for Missisquoi County held at the Bouchard farm, Mystic Road.

Several from here attended a supper in the parochial hall at Stanbridge East.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vaughan spent a week-end at Enosburg, Vt., with their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Davis, and also visited Mrs. Vaughan's aunt, Mrs. E. Ellsworth, who has returned to Enosburg, Vt., from her home in Concord, N.H.

Mr. H. A. Douglas went to Montreal for further consultation with an eye specialist.

Two young raccoons, which had been attacking Mr. Rene Allard's chickens were freed by Mr. Allard's dog and were shot by Z. Falcon, Chief of Police, of Bedford.

Mr. Hugh Corey has been acting as substitute teacher at Stanbridge East Consolidated School during the absence, through illness, of Miss Lois Haskett.

Mr. Labonte, of Clarenceville, is moving here with his family to the farm which he recently purchased from Mr. Z. Dupont.

Miss Jeanne Corey, who recently joined the C.W.A.C., is stationed at Kitchener, Ont.

Miss Lois Baker returned to the home of Mrs. Conner, in Bedford, after spending a week-end at her home here.

Those from here who attended the annual ploughing matches included Messrs. Adrien Blanchette, Archie Sager, Neil Baker, Thomas McGovern, Stanley Cochran and E. C. Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Goodwin Honored On Their Fortieth Wedding Anniversary

Scotstown, Oct. 27.—At her home on Victoria Street, Mrs. Nathan Maher entertained at a very delightful party, on Thursday, October 19th, the occasion being the fortieth wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Goodwin. Several tables of "500" provided amusement, Mrs. Bernard Atkin winning the prize for high score.

The decorations comprised baby "mums," the gift of a friend, as a tribute to the guests of honor.

Following a period of social conversation the hosts served a buffet lunch assisted by Mrs. J. A. Murray, Mrs. A. H. Cowling, Lt.-Col. E. S. McMannis, and Mr. Maher. Mrs. McMannis presided at the coffee-urn, the attractive table being centered with baby "mums" in a crystal bowl, lighted pink candles, in crystal holders, and a decorated wedding cake, topped with the original floral decoration at the wedding forty years ago. The decoration was also in use at the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. Goodwin's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodwin, as well as on the occasion of the marriage of the honor-guests' daughter, Mrs. Maher.

A pleasing interlude was the presentation of a purse of money to Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin, their best man, Mr. Norman Morrison making the presentation and voicing the felicitous good wishes of the assembled friends.

The pleasing surprise was graciously acknowledged by the recipients. Among the thirty guests present, a large number were present at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin.

men's Institute was entertained by Mrs. E. S. McMannis, at her home on Coleman Street. In the absence of the President, Mrs. P. A. Sherman, the meeting was directed by the Vice-President, Mrs. Philip Roy, who opened the programme in the usual manner and the members responded to the roll call by naming "a favorite author." In the absence of Mrs. William Taylor, the secretarial duties were in charge of Mrs. J. A. Penoyer, who read a letter of thanks, from Mrs. Shaw, York-shire, Eng., for seeds. A communication was also read from the Sherbrooke Hospital, asking for help towards funds for the new hospital. Excerpts were given from an address of the Provincial President, Mrs. Smallman. It was agreed that a donation of ten dollars be given to the jam fund. It was requested that an alphabetical list of members be forwarded to headquarters. It was suggested that a loom for weaving be purchased, the Department of Agriculture to assist in defraying the cost. This will be under the direction of Mrs. E. S. McMannis, Convener of Home Economics. A contest for bread of all kinds will be held, open to competition, to members and non-members and after the judging, the bread will be sold and the proceeds devoted towards the purchase of a loom. Thanks were extended to Mrs. McMannis for books on nutrition.

A list of articles for the ditty bags was given by Mrs. H. A. Scarth. A very interesting report of the Provincial W. I. Convention, held at Macdonald College, in June, was given by the delegate, Mrs. Penoyer.

ST. ANDREW'S W. A.

The October meeting of St. Andrew's Woman's Association was held in the Church Hall, with the President, Mrs. George Kinsey, in the chair. The meeting opened with the theme song and prayer.

Mrs. A. A. MacAulay conducted the devotional period, reading the lesson from Psalm CIII, as a basis for the topic, "Thanksgiving." Lesson thoughts were given, followed by prayer.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale early in November, in the Church Hall.

A very satisfactory report of the month's receipts from the Thrift Shop was given by the Convener, Mrs. F. B. Mayhew.

It was announced that a pulpit seat was being placed in the Church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. John Black, given by the family.

General Notes

Mrs. William Taylor has returned

Director Of Lavallee-Smith Choir

The Lavallee-Smith Choir which will be heard in concert at the Christ-Roi Hall, October 28, seems to have enjoyed the reputation of being one of the best Canadian ensembles ever since its first appearance in public, some six years ago. On the occasion of one of their first concerts, critics said their singing was surprising; their music was really more instrumental than vocal. Jean Charbonneau, the director, pictured above, got all sorts of change of time and rhythm and the speed and precision of the singing were very astonishing.

from spending two months with her sister, Mrs. George J. Gillam, in Toronto, Ont. En route to her home, she visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Woodside, in Montreal.

FIGHT PROGRAMME HELD AT ARMY CENTRE

Battles Fast And Furious As Soldier And Civilian Boxers Trade Blows In Gala Evening

Over a thousand soldiers and civilians last night cheered lustily as the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre was the scene of a large-scale fight programme with ten bouts run off during the evening.

Enthusiasm ran high as the pugilists boxed, and sometimes slugged, it out in the roped square. Judged a howling success, the fight programme was highly interesting all the way through as it brought together some pretty fair boxers and also gave the spectators a chance to get in some action.

The events were sponsored by the Army centre sports committee, under the supervision of Major Lucien Lavallee, camp sports officer, and with the co-operation of the camp commander, Lt.-Col. Eugene Nantel, V.D.

Honorary Captain Charles Gordon, supervisor of the Knights of Columbus War Services, the training centre, promoted the fights and further added to the success of the programme by obtaining the services of five men from the St. Hyacinthe Naval Training Centre as well as two civilian fighters. Much credit goes to Major Lavallee and Honorary Captain Charles Gordon for the success of the venture, the promoting of which entailed plenty of hard work. In the main event of the bouts, Cpl. Albert Pelletier, 133, of the Army, scored a technical knockout over his opponent, Pte. Lucien Tremblay, of the Army, at 1.05 minutes of the third round of a scheduled 8-rounder. A succession of blows to the midriff was too much for Tremblay to cope with and he was forced to retire to his corner in the third "go" after having been dropped for a nine-count.

Pte. Roland St. Georges, of the Army, and Smiley DiStefano, of Sherbrooke, fighting in one of the two six-round semi-finals, engaged in the best fight of the evening, with St. Georges earning the nod over DiStefano by a wide margin.

The young Army private showed plenty of skill and boxing knowledge as he pummeled the young civilian mercifully for six rounds. A hard hitter, St. Georges, after a cautious start, opened up in the second round and blasted out a succession of body and head punches to win the remaining five rounds by a wide margin.

A good boxer and packing a good right, St. Georges was breathing easily at the end of the fight and showed no signs of being hurt. DiStefano, on the other hand, was badly cut on the nose and eye at the end and was near exhaustion. Credit goes to the civilian boxer for the game show he put up for, on two occasions, he was nearly out on his feet but stuck gamely to his guns. St. Georges weighed 122 while DiStefano tipped 122.

In the other semi-final bout, Eddy Bolduc, 147, of Sherbrooke, staged

HEADERS STILL LEAD LOOP AT SUPERHEATER

Headers remained at the top of the Superheater Bowling League even though they dropped two strings over the Moulders in a regular match. The Moulders barely scratched out the win as the teams were tied at end of the play. However, an extra box was played and the Moulders won.

In other games, the Cam Shafis took a three string triumph over the Office crew while the Core-makers won a two string win over the Welders.

Notre Dame Ball Club Holds Banquet To Wind Up Season

The Sherbrooke Notre Dame ball club will bring its season's activities to a close tonight at 6.30 when the annual banquet will be held at the Chateau Frontenac.

Having enjoyed a successful year in the baseball wars, the Notre Dame players are to be the guests of honor at the banquet, Lucien Robichaud, business manager of the team, stated today.

Many civic and provincial dignitaries are to attend the banquet tonight. Invitations have been extended to Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests, as well as to His Worship Mayor J. W. Genest and the city Aldermen.

The banquet tonight is actually being held to mark the fifth anniversary of the Notre Dame Club's formation. Started by the Baril Brothers, Roger and Robert, five years ago, the club has had a good record, due to the hard work put into it by the Baril Brothers and Lucien Robichaud, who has been handling the business end of the club affairs for some time.

Evidence of the progress made by the club was seen in the larger crowds attending the games this season. The league was made better and the players of the Sherbrooke aggregation played heads-up ball all the way through and deserve credit for their good showing.

Following the banquet tonight, a dance will be held with an orchestra in attendance.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

Toronto, October 27.—(P)—War play strange tricks, and the followers of English rugby in Halifax, these days are convinced war is well, gosh-awful. Halifax, in common with other major centres in the Maritimes, has for years been the stronghold of the English game in Eastern Canada, and Canadian football is gradually getting the upper hand.

Aside from the new appeal of the game, it seems that Canadian pick-a-dick addicts have been putting on the publicity pressure. With hosts of husky football boys of Central Canada stationed with the Navy in Halifax, there is no lack of color for those crowd-attracting press releases.

All of which leads "Gee" Ahern, Halifax Deputy Mayor and Halifax Herald sports editor, to suggest to the English game promoters that they add a bit of dash and fanfare to their business before they lose it altogether. When 2,000 fans turned out in the rain to watch the Canadian booters in action while only 300 attended an English game, as happened in Halifax the other day, it's a sign of a trend of some sort.

Incidentally, the football boys from H.M.C.S. Stadacona have arranged a home-and-home series with Montreal Navy to start off the season. First game is being played in Halifax tomorrow and the return meeting in Montreal on Armistice Day.

Hamilton Wildcats also wanted a game, reports Harold Atkins in the Montreal Star, but this series interrupted negotiations.

That augurs well for the future of the game down East, but the opposition slightly blue. After all, English rugby playoffs between Quebec and the Maritimes for the MacTavish and McCurdy Cups had to be abandoned years ago, and the way things are now there isn't much hope of any early resumption of the games.

Perhaps it's all for the best, though, and will help still that talk of Maritime secession.

140 MILLIONS OF DUCKS WING WAY TO STATES

By FRITZ HOWELL, Associated Press Sport Writer

New York, Oct. 27.—(P)—The "duckiest" shooting season in two decades is winging its way toward United States hunters. Some 140,000,000 waterfowl, biggest crop in 20 years, are expected next week from Canada's duck factory, beating the north-of-the-border freeze by a few days.

Ducks unlimited, the sportsman-supported organization which aids and abets the breeding of ducks in 1,200,000 acres of Dominion territory, announced today through executive secretary Ray Benson that the early flight of teal, pintails and mallards was already on its way and that some shooting had been heard in border states where the season opened a month ago.

But the heavy firing—and the good eating—are still to come in the form of northern mallards, blue bills and canvas backs, along with the huge geese known to the trade as "honkers."

Last year, Benson disclosed, the waterfowl flight consisted of 125,000,000. About 15,000,000 fell before the booming shotguns of 1,250,000 marksmen. That means that for every one killed, seven others—including the ones at which I fired—winged on to winter in the southland.

This year's estimate of 140,000,000 ducks is 100,000,000 more than that of the 1935-37 period, when hunting seasons were for 30 days. This year the shooters will bang away for 80 days. Ducks unlimited, credited with much of the growth in ducks population through its breeding ground restoration and management program, has produced ducks at a cost of about three cents each, Benson said.

In the seven years it has operated, the non-profit group has contributed $960,000, received from sportsmen in voluntary gifts, to increase production on the breeding grounds. Last year 31,000 members contributed $279,000.

The southern season opens Nov. 2 and runs through Jan. 2. In the north the season opened Sept. 20 and closed Dec. 8, but up to now the shooting has been mostly on a "just wait until next week" basis.

Veil Of N.H.L. Secrecy To Be Lifted In Saturday's Openers

By ERIC SANDERSON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

The veil of secrecy surrounding this season's calibre of talent in the National Hockey League will be partially lifted Saturday night when four teams, including last year's Stanley Cup champions—Montreal Canadiens—officially open the 1944-45 season.

Coach Dick Irvin will pilot his Flying Frenchmen, reportedly as good as the cup-winning team a year ago, against Boston Bruins at Montreal, while Toronto Maple Leafs, last year's cup challengers, meet a strengthened New York Rangers lineup.

Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks, both with plenty of scoring punch last season, enter into the swing of the season Sunday night.

New faces, new names and new styles of play will be ushered in when the two American squads which have just completed pre-season training in Canada—Rangers at Winnipeg and Bruins at Quebec—begin their quest for the world's professional hockey championship.

Little is known of the actual strength of the lineups, sprinkled with rookies and minor league veterans, but according to reports all will be improved teams.

Coach Frank Boucher of Rangers, last year's seasonal cellar-dwellers, so far has been the only one to call his team's place at the end of the 150-game schedule. They will finish in fourth place, he said, behind Toronto, Coach Clarence (Hap) Day of the Leafs hasn't committed himself.

As usual around this time of the year Art Ross is silent on chances of Bruins. Dick Irvin hasn't made any promises either.

At least one thing is certain about Leafs, however, that they will have a new goaltender. He is Frank McCool, Calgary sports writer who was discharged from the army last winter. He was signed after strenuous workouts in the Owen Sound, Ont., training camp where he won the job over Pat Boehmer of Kitchener, Ont., and Leo Sargeant of St. Catharines, Ont.

Manager Lester Patrick is again pinning his hopes on Ken McAuley of Edmonton to guard the nets for Rangers. Ken has shown well in pre-season games, and with an improved defence line backing him up, may give the Blueshirts their oldtime punch. Last season he stopped more shots than any other goalie in the N.H.L. Art Ross also will send out a new goalie—Maurice Courteau—who is jumping from a swing in the American Hockey League. Irvin has his star, Bill Durnan, runner-up to Gus Bodnar of Toronto for the rookie award last season, with Paul Bisbeault, who tended Toronto nets for 29 games last year, in reserve.

The tourney is to be held in the former Knights of Columbus hall, above the Metropolitan Store.

It was also announced that one of the entries in the Sherbrooke Table Tennis league has been scratched. This team is the one to be entered by the Hi-Dip and Dance Club. The officials have found it impossible to enter a squad in the league.

OBITUARIES
MR. BENJAMIN REED ELLIOTT, OF BEEBE.
Beebe, Oct. 27.—There passed to his eternal rest Benjamin Reed Elliott, eldest child of the late Jeremiah H. Elliott and his wife, Rachel Reed, of Ulverton, on October 2.

Mr. Elliott was born on September 17, 1865, and had just entered his eightieth year.

During his early manhood, he spent several years in Montreal, Grundy Centre, Iowa, and British Guiana, then returned to his native land and purchased the home place, later going to Sherbrooke and then to Beebe, where he spent the last twenty-four years.

In 1905 he married Miss Jessie M. J. Farquhar, South Durham, second daughter of the late William Farquhar, of Windsor Mills.

The funeral service was held at Wesley United Church, Beebe, on October 5. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Lovelace, conducted the service, speaking from the topic, "The Christian Affirmation." In his remarks, Rev. Mr. Lovelace referred to Mr. Elliott's love for his church and his great interest in community welfare. The organist, Miss M. Woodard, played several favorite hymns of the deceased. One hymn, "There's a Land that is Fairer than Day," was sung by Mrs. William Sharp and Mrs. Robert Denney.

The bearers were Messrs. W. H. Miller, J. House, A. Lorimer and R. Drew. Interment was at Ulverton, the bearers there being Messrs. James Wedgell, Ernest Griffith, Roy Husk, Merle Fraser, Gordon Smith and Lloyd Broadbent.

Those left to mourn his loss are his widow; seven sons, Carman B. of Saline, Mich., Malcolm F., of the R.C.A.F., Montreal, Albert J., of Oakville, Ont., Robert H., of the R.C.A.F., Overseas, William G., of the Canadian Army in Italy, James H., of Beebe, and Byron R., at home; three daughters, Rachel H., Mrs. M. D. Husk, of Melbourne, Eileen H., of Clarkson, Ont., and Ruth V., Mrs. Maurice L. McDonald, of Oakville, Ont.; four daughters-in-law, Mrs. C. B. Elliott, Mrs. M. F. Elliott, Mrs. A. J. Elliott and Mrs. J. H. Elliott; two sons-in-law, Messrs. M. D. Husk and M. L. McDonald; one sister, Mrs. Victoria Smith, of Outremont; two brothers, H. J. Elliott, of Toronto, Ont., and John A. Elliott, of St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Two brothers predeceased him, Edward A., D.D., of Cambridge, Mass., and Albert J., M.D., San Diego Calif. Besides the above mentioned relatives that survive are two aunts, Mrs. Phineas Hubbard, of Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. B. E. Reed, of Ulverton; several nieces, nephews and cousins and four grandchildren, Ruby M. and Margaret B., of Saline, Mich., Esther J. and Allen M. Husk, of Melbourne.

With the exception of the two sons overseas all of the immediate family were present at the service, also three daughters-in-law, the six-

PREPARING FOR WINTER
In a week or two the livestock will be brought to their winter quarters. Are these quarters ready? Have the stable, the piggery, poultry-house and other buildings where livestock is kept, been washed or whitewashed including a good disinfectant?

In these times the prevention of diseases by reducing the diseases with lice is just as important as the increase in production and returns. In cattle the most common contagious diseases are tuberculosis, abortion, mastitis and white scours in calves. A thorough washing of the walls and floors at least once a year and painting or whitewashing the walls is a good way to reduce or prevent the propagation of these diseases. Of course, if white scours in calves or abortion in cows should come about later, segregation and further disinfection should be done. Before bringing the cattle into the stable, particularly the young cattle, close examination should be made to determine if they are affected with lice. If so, the clipping of the neck up to the shoulder, a strip of 4 or 5 inches wide on the back, tail, hind quarters and flank makes it much easier to wash these cattle with a commercial lice disinfectant. This washing should be repeated after nine days to kill the new lice that may have hatched from the eggs present at the time of the first wash. Remember that animals affected heavily with lice will consume more feed and forage without making proper gains, wasting money and time.

In the piggery, worms in pigs are generally more prevalent than lice, but both should be checked and proper treatment applied.

Of all the classes of livestock the most generally affected with lice and worms is what is called "the farm flock." The number of birds kept not being very numerous, the poultry house and the birds are apt to be more neglected than the horses and cows. The droppings in the house are very often removed but once a week and the birds not treated against lice and mites. If anyone keeping poultry or other classes of livestock does not possess the necessary information, write for same to your nearest agricultural office or Experimental Farm.

Besides giving attention to the question of diseases and lice particularly at this time, the managers, troughs or hoppers should be checked. Grain and meal cost money, so let us not waste it by feeding it in bad managers when a little concrete or a few boards would correct the situation. In a word let us at this time make a review of the livestock. Select, treat and repair so that here will be no wasted effort when labor is so rare and high in cost.

We Went Over The Top Again!

Our Quota, $23,000 — We Subscribed $32,100—Percentage Over Quota 139.5

I am indeed proud of the showing which Superheater employees made yesterday in Canada's Seventh Victory Loan subscriptions.

Our objective of $23,000 was not a small one, but we substantially over-subscribed our quota which in itself is a tribute to the sound business ability and common-sense of each and every one in our organization.

These days we hear a great deal about patriotism. This is all very good and quite natural, but patriotism does not necessarily figure in the purchase of Victory Bonds. At least it is not the sole objective.

By your support of this and previous Victory Loans you have shown your foresight and ability as business men and business women. You have invested your money in your Government and in your country. You have helped Canada, it is true, at a critical time, but you have also helped yourselves and you did so in the knowledge that you would get back from the Government more than you loaned.

Individually and collectively you have done a splendid job. And you did it without any grandstand play—no blowing of whistles, no bands, no outside speakers. It was a case of just ourselves, working together and doing a job.

A clear-cut business proposition was put up to you. You studied it in a sane manner. You made your decisions as business men. You have nothing to regret.

I am thoroughly satisfied with the results and I congratulate you all. Now that we have finished this task, let us get back to our daily duties of turning out the weapons which shall hasten Allied victory and world peace.

We Have Invested In Victory —

Let Us Speed That Victory
