THERE TO STAY.

Russia Has Possession of Coast Fortifications and Evidently Intends to Seize All Northern China.

UNITED STATES MAKES NEW MOVE.

Will Break Off Peace Negotiations if Tuan is to be Head of the Chinese Government—Britain's Position is Still Unknown—Situation Considered Grave.

Washington, September 28.—(Special)—The State Department gives out today that Minister Conger will be instructed to ascertain from China whether Prince Tuan's appointment to the virtual control of the Government shall be allowed to stand. If so, Conger will be instructed to drop peace negotiations, and Minister Wu, Chinese representative at Washington, will be handed his passports.

A declaration of war will not necessarily follow on the part of the United States, but the whole policy of withdrawing troops would undergo a radical change.

BRITAIN DELAYS.

Berlin, Sept. 27.—The German press and Foreign Office continues to deny that Great Britain has rejected Germany's proposal. They also continue to blame the United States for the recently revived Chinese obduracy, and the renewed evidences that the Chinese intend to resume hostilities on a large plan.

The Berliner Tageblatt alone advises Germany not to expect a favorable answer to her proposition from Lord Salisbury, "as his wish to carefully nurse intimate relations with the United States forms the keystone of his policy."

The Foreign Office told the correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon that Great Britain's answer had not yet arrived, but that as soon as it did, the Government would be glad to publish it, no matter what its character.

Sir Frank Leslie, the British ambassador, who was interviewed regarding the matter said:

"Great Britain's delay in answering Germany's proposal is due to the fact as I understand it, that Lord Salisbury has asked Sir Claude MacDonald to report upon the feasibility of the German plan."

RUSSIA THERE TO STAY.

New York, Sept. 28.—A special press despatch dated Shanghai, September 26, says:

The situation in China is now more serious than ever before for those who are interested in preserving the integrity of the Empire.

The Chinese Government is in the power of Boxer leaders, who are not likely to submit to the Empress Dowager propositions unfavorable to them.

The friendly viceroys of the south are still loyal to the throne, and any foreign aggressions in Southern China will precipitate an armed uprising.

Already the governor of Nganwei province has addressed a memorial to the Empress Dowager, declaring that his signatures to the viceroy's agreement with the foreign consuls in Shanghai are forged.

There is danger that the friendly viceroys will be replaced. Shen, the friendly Taotai of Shanghai has been ordered north, and that practically means his death.

Russia is holding all the forts and strategic points from Taku to Peking.

Her possession of the railway shows by the permanent arrangements which her officers are making that she intends to swallow the north of China.

No one here believes that Russia will ever move out except under overwhelming pressure from other powers.

Germany's assurance that she does not desire territory in China if the latter be able to pay an indemnity is misleading.

Her demand for the punishment of the leaders of the Boxers as condition precedent to peace negotiations means continued war and perhaps the complete disruption of the Chinese Government.

Friendly feeling between Russia and Japan is increasing. France is hand in glove with Russia.

RUSSIA HAS OVER 20,000 MEN IN CHINA AT PRESENT.

Vienna, Sept. 28.—The Admiralty has received a despatch from Taku giving the strength of the forces landed there by the allied powers as follows:—Austrian, 495; German, 8,178; British, 8,353; American, 5,608; French, 6,575; Italian, 2,541; Russian, 20,934; Japanese, 15,570. Total 68,253.

Ontario, Sept. 28.—(Special)—Premier Laurier will hold the first meeting of his Ontario tour in Toronto. The date is not yet fixed.

GREAT TELEPHONE PROJECT.

Londoners are accustomed always at this season to see the leading streets of the metropolis invaded by an army of navies, who proceed to stop the traffic and to squat as comfortably and placidly in the middle of Regent street or the Strand, as if they were in a hay field. Just now the road is "up" in every direction and the patience of the imperturbable cabbie and bus driver is sorely tried. But to the pedestrian in these idle days, the occupation of watching the slow going navy deliberately fill his pipe as he sits calmly on his barrow, is an amusing distraction. Sometimes, if he is not impatient, the on-looker will be rewarded by seeing the net work of water and gas pipes and electric tubes laid bare as the workman resumes his mysterious operations. This month over a thousand men are employed in the streets opening the roadway and laying miles of telephone tubes. This work is being done by the Post Office, and at last the general public are to have the use of a general telephone system throughout London. This scheme, begun in London, is to be carried through the country, and when finished will cost over £2,000,000. It is the biggest job of the kind on record.

THE PLAGUE AT GLASGOW.

(London Daily Chronicle.)

We do not suppose that the cases of bubonic plague which are reported to have appeared at Glasgow will be followed by an extensive outbreak. It is not, indeed, at present certain that the disease is identical with that which has been causing such widespread havoc in India. Some of the symptoms are the same, and the fact that the first cases have appeared in the lowest tenements in the town point in a similar direction, but additional evidence, we think, requires before hastily jumping to the conclusion that Glasgow and the Indian deaths are due to the same cause. But even if that should prove to be the fact, just as one swallow does not make a summer, two or three cases of bubonic plague will not create an epidemic in this country. When cholera has been raging on the continent, there have usually occurred isolated cholera deaths in our sea-ports, and a good deal of alarm among the more excitable portions of the population, without any serious and widespread results. So it will probably be in the present instance.

TO BLOCKADE CHINA.

St. Petersburg Despatch Announces a New Move.

NEWS CAUSES A STIR AMONG WASHINGTON GOVERNMENT CIRCLES.

St. Petersburg, September 28.—(Special)—It is officially announced that the naval portions of China will be blockaded.

Swift foreign cruisers will protect transports.

Washington, September 28.—(Special)—The St. Petersburg announcement of the blockade of Chinese ports has created excitement here. It is presumed it will be "pacific blockade," as designated in international law.

7000 Molkans From Russia For Northwest.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The Dominion Immigration officials are in negotiations with three delegates representing a people closely akin to the Doukhobors with a view to establishing a settlement of 7,000 of their compatriots in the Canadian Northwest next winter. The people are called Molkans, but in nearly every respect are said to be identical to the Doukhobors. They are said to find the Russian yoke irksome and are anxious to live in a free country. They are Christians of a primitive type. The delegates are Philip Shubin, Ivan Bucknell and Ivan Samarin. Tracts of land have been picked out in the northwest, and should other arrangements prove satisfactory, the influx will commence next winter.

DIED OF STARVATION.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF AWFUL DESTITUTION AMONG INDIANS.

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Mr. G. F. Stevens, a Methodist missionary at Oxford House, in a letter dated Oxford House, September 10, 1900, makes the following horrible announcement: "During the late winter and early spring of this year between twenty and thirty Indians of the Saulteaux and trading in to Island Lake, Hudson tribe, residing at or near Sandy Lake Bay Company post, died of starvation. Rabbits and deer have failed these people and although they eat even the bark of trees and so forth, yet they are not always able to sustain life during the long winters."

Oxford House is in the district of Keowatin and is situated about half way between Norway House and York Factory.

DAVITT DISGUSTED. He Quits the Transvaal Thoroughly Disillusioned.

FAMOUS IRISH LEADER WOULD NOW GIVE MUCH TO WITHDRAW THE RUBBISH HE HAS WRITTEN ABOUT THE BOERS.

London, Sept. 28.—The Pretoria correspondent of the Standard, in a recent despatch, throws a new light upon Michael Davitt's experience in the Transvaal and his feelings toward the Boers. In view of Mr. Davitt's contributions to the American press during and subsequent to his visit to the seat of war, the Standard despatch is of interest. It is as follows:—

"Mr. Michael Davitt left Pretoria on the 15th day of May, 'broken and sick at heart,' according to the words he himself used on the railway platform. The Rev. H. J. Batts, Baptist minister, has recorded them, and they are testified to by the Rev. Henry W. Goodwin, Congregational minister. 'He told me,' says Mr. Batts, 'that he had that morning advised the Transvaal Government, if they would commend themselves in the eyes of the world and obtain the sympathy of European nations, they should at once wire Lord Roberts to this effect:—

"Now that the Free State is conquered, and we are unable to resist along the night of England, in the interests of humanity and to prevent further bloodshed, we will surrender."

"In stead of doing this," said Mr. Davitt, "they have sent a message of a threatening character, telling Lord Roberts that they will blow up the mines or destroy Johannesburg if terms are not made. What the terms are they do not state, and they do not really mean to carry out the threat. Their whole action will cover them with ignominy before the civilized world. They propose prolonging the business, without seriously meaning to fight, for the one object of heaping up the bars of gold they are taking from the mines and of accumulating and hoarding them in obedience to the dictation of that old man, Paul Kruger."

LAKE MEGANTIC.

Sept. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and Miss Miller, of Boston, left for home on Monday, after a two weeks' visit to Mr. Miller's parents.

Miss M. E. Jones returned from Montreal on Tuesday, where she has been visiting friends.

Mrs. N. Swan left here on Saturday to join her husband in Montreal. Mr. Swan having arrived from South America.

Mr. Frank J. Murray and family are to move to Montreal, next week, Mr. Murray having secured the Webster House, near the Grand Trunk station, where he will carry on business in the future. His household furniture, etc., was sold by auction today.

Mr. Beaudry, tailor, who has been doing business in the past on the upper Maple Avenue, has moved into the Thibodeau block, in the store lately vacated by Mr. Leger.

The council has just completed some new street work, approaching the bridge over the Chaudiere river, so that it will be possible next spring for vehicles and pedestrians to cross to Agnes without being in danger of taking an involuntary swim towards Quebec. Small mercies thankfully received.

We have recently had a case of cannibalism in this vicinity. Two men got into an altercation and during the fight which ensued one man bit the other man's nose off.

About eight Sherbrooke sports have arrived here and gone into camp at Trout Pond, for a week's sport.

The Megantic Fish and Game Club have lately had quite an influx of guests and visitors at the Club House and various camps. Every day witnesses the departure of some of their number, by the fast freight, leaving Megantic at 5.30 p. m.

BETTING ON MCKINLEY.

A New York Broker Offers to Wager $100,000 Against $50,000 on the Republican Candidate.

New York, Sept. 28.—Lieut. V. Bell, an important trader on the Stock Exchange, has staggered Wall Street by an offer to wager $100,000 to $50,000 on McKinley. "I have grown tired," said said Mr. Bell, "of hearing that only small amounts of money were being wagered in this campaign. The Bryan men have stated that they want to get a chance at big money. To show that there is plenty of money here to back McKinley I am willing to offer $100,000 to $50,000 on the result."

The Stock Exchange firm of Cooper, Crump & Beulston, it was reported, had offered for a customer to wager $10,000 on Bryan to $25,000 on McKinley.

According to the latest reports both offers remain uncovered.

UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THE SHERIFF AND THE GOVERNOR.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 28.—The request made by Sheriff Harvey for troops, although not refused, was not granted by Governor Stone. The sheriff and state officials at Harrisburg, however, have an understanding between them and if the necessity arises soldiers will be thrown into this region in short order.

The sheriff yesterday gave out the following for the information of the citizens of this region:— "The fact that I have called upon the governor for help is true. I have since been in communication with him and also General Gobin, who assures me that upon the slightest overt act by the unlawful assembling of men that he will have troops here within an hour and also assures me that they will stay until all the trouble is over."

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

Anniversary services will be held in St. Andrew's Church (Presbyterian), next Sunday. The preacher will be the Rev. Archibald Lee, B.A., a former pastor of the church, during whose ministry, 11 years ago, the church was built and dedicated. Special anthems will be sung by the choir, assisted by Miss Barker, of Montreal.

At the morning service Miss Barker will sing, "Come unto me," by Lindsay. At evening service she will sing, "Dream of Paradise," by Hamilton Gray.

Miss Barker comes highly recommended by Mr. Waterhouse, leader of the choir of St. James Church, Montreal.

queer Customs With Babies.

In Spain the infant's face is swept with a pine bough to bring it good luck.

In Ireland a belt of woman's hair is placed about a child to keep harm away.

The Greek mother, before putting her child in the cradle, turns three times around before the fire while singing her favorite song to ward off evil spirits.

The Turkish mother loads her child with amulets as soon as it is born, and a small bit of mud, steeped in hot water, prepared by previous charms, is stuck on its forehead.

At the birth of a child in lower Brittany the neighboring women take it in charge, wash it, crack its joints and rub its head with oil to solder the cranium bones. It is then wrapped in a tight bundle, and its lips are anointed with brandy to make it a full Breton.

In the Vosges peasant children born at the new moon are supposed to have tongues better hung than others, while those born at the last quarter are supposed to have less tongue, but better reasoning powers. A daughter born during the waning moon is always precocious.

A Housekeepers' Club.

There is a housekeepers' club near Chicago, Ill., that is nothing if not enthusiastic. The meeting every fortnight of farmers' wives, present and prospective, is held in the modern kitchen of one of the members. The proceedings are thoroughly practical, for instead of sitting on stiff backed chairs and listening to encyclopedic papers on domestic science these members roll up their sleeves and go about making something eatable. It may be biscuit or it may be pudding, but at any rate it is made according to the new cookery, and if it tickles the palate sufficiently the recipe is placed on a big blackboard for transference into the housekeepers' notebook.

It is indicative of the interest to say some of the members drive 20 miles to these meetings. These housekeeping clubwomen are by no means content to absorb this domestic science themselves, but have arranged to have cooking demonstrations introduced into the school houses throughout the city.

This is common in the cities, but inasmuch as this experiment is to be conducted in a country schoolhouse and wholly at the expense of these clubwomen the movement seems all the more commendable.

Selecting a Wife For a King.

Selecting a wife for a king is a difficult matter, and in some instances it has been carried out in much the same manner.

When Henry VII of England visited and espousing the Princess of Naples, he sent three commissioners to examine and report on her attractions and qualifications—mental, moral and physical. The envoys were instructed to study the habits and character of the princess, to test the soundness of her lungs and to note her personal appearance with especial reference to the color of her hair and the shape of her nose. They performed their duty with scrupulous fidelity and made a detailed report.

"The nose of the princess," they wrote, "has a little elevation in the middle of its length, from which point it bends down toward her lips as if it were seeking to kiss them."

Being permitted to kiss her hand, they utilized the occasion to study that member with care and reported that it was of a pretty shape and as soft as silk, adding that her eyes were brown and her eyebrows and hair nearly black.

They took such note of her respiration as circumstances and etiquette permitted. The king was desirous of obtaining a wife who was not addicted to the use of perfumes, and the commissioners were able to report that the princess, like a rose, exhaled only her own fragrance.

Her disposition appeared to them to be a happy combination of modesty and brightness. But notwithstanding this pleasing description the king did not marry her. Perhaps the nose was too much for him.

A Married Woman's Will.

In 17 of the United States of America a married woman is given statutory consent to dispose of her property by will as her own separate and independent estate. In the remaining 28 states she must have the written consent of her husband before she can will her own personal belongings to whom she pleases.

The Weak Link.

"Our woman's baseball club went to pieces." "Game too exhausting?" "No; but we couldn't find a lady umpire who would give a decision and stick to it."—Detroit Free Press.
