Doreen Day Gives Fashion Talk At Hi-Y Girls' Club

The Westmount Hi-Y Girls' Club held their annual Mother and Daughter Supper on Wednesday evening at the Westmount Branch of the Y.M.C.A., when there were approximately 130 present.

Doreen Day, Eaton's Fashion Director, was the guest speaker and gave a talk about "The clothes to wear that the war has not actually denied us." The speaker thought that this was not the time to promote fashions but rather a time where one could show wisdom in buying clothes wisely and well.

She spoke on the importance in knowing when and where to wear certain types and gave some interesting advice on the right type of shoes, hair-do's, hats, girdles and dresses for high school girls.

Several Junior Council girls acted as models to demonstrate what was good or bad taste in dress.

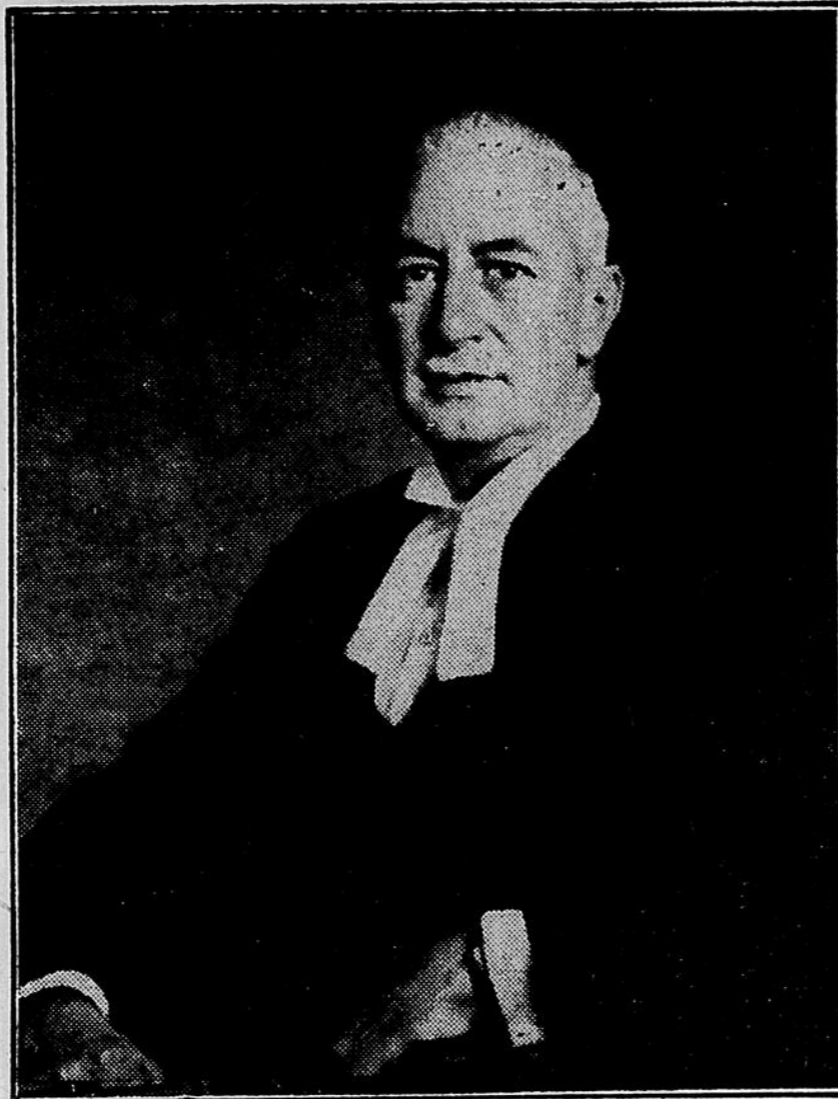

Sub-Lt. R. W. Blair Is Commissioned

Word has been received that Sub-Lt. Robert W. Blair, son of Mrs. H. C. Blair, of 52 Windsor Avenue, and president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers Association, is among those graduating from King's Naval College, Halifax.

Born in Montreal, Sub-Lt. Blair was educated in Westmount schools, later studying engineering for one year at Clarkson College, Potsdam, N.Y., where he had been awarded a four-year engineering scholarship. Because of war conditions, he was continuing his education at McGill University when he enlisted in the navy last July. A sister, Miss Margaret Blair, is overseas serving as secretary of the Penny-a-Week fund, operated by the British Red Cross and the St. John Ambulance, which aids prisoners of war.

Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., To Be Speaker At Banquet

Westmount High Old Boys To Hold Ninth Annual Banquet

The ninth annual banquet and general meeting of the Westmount High Old Boys' Association will be held on Thursday evening, March 2nd, at 6.45 p.m. at the Mount Royal Hotel, when a large attendance of former students of Cote St. Antoine School, Westmount Academy and Westmount High School is expected. Taylor Kennedy, President of the Association, will preside at the gathering, and the guest of honour will be his worship Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., who will deliver the principal address.

The toast to the school will be proposed by Prof. C. M. McKergow of McGill University and will be responded to by H. B. Parker, principal of the school, whose retirement at the end of the present school term, was recently announced. The banquet will also be in the nature of a tribute to Mr. Parker, who has an enviable record of 34 years' service in Westmount schools, for the past 17 years being principal of Westmount High School.

A tribute to Old Boys who have died on Active Service will be given by Air Cadet Sqn.-Ldr. H. P. Illsley, Commanding Officer, No. 1, Westmount Squadron Air Cadets. S. F. Kneeland, Secretary-Superintendent of the Westmount School Commissioners, will present the Award of Honour to this year's winner, Herbert Maxwell Shayne. The H. H. Mussells Scholarship, established by the Association in memory of the late H. H. Mussells, one of the School's most popular and respected teachers, was won this year by Ronald Sommers.

In the present war, as in the Great War, the record of Westmount High School has been a notable one. Over 1,200 Old Boys are now on Active Service, 70 have been killed in action, and eight are reported missing. Through a Cigarette Fund, resulting from contributions of the Old Boys' Association, over 150,000 cigarettes have been sent to Old Boys on active service, all of whom have been granted Honorary Membership in the Association for the duration of the war.

Cote Road Fire Quelled Quickly By Local Firemen

Fire broke out in the R. C. M. P. Barracks, at 574 Cote St. Antoine Road, near Prince Albert Avenue, on Monday morning about 10 A.M.

It was reported that there were about 20 men of the Force stationed there at the time and fire was caused by defective wiring.

With the quick and efficient work of the Westmount Fire Department it was soon put under control with little damage.

The premises was formerly under command of Supt. H. A. R. Gagnon of "C" Division, and is now under command of Supt. J. Brunet.

Monarchs Honor J. Jeffery Fiske On 100th Birthday

John Jeffery Fiske, Westmount centenarian and oldest living graduate of McGill University, who celebrated his 100th birthday on Tuesday at his residence, 87 Arlington Avenue, was greatly honored to receive a cable from their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth who graciously extended congratulatory wishes for the occasion.

The cable signed by His Majesty's secretary reads as follows: "The King and Queen are much interested to hear that you are celebrating your 100th birthday and send hearty congratulations and good wishes."

Mr. Fiske, who was made an emeritus member last year by the McGill Graduates' Society, an honor conferred upon only one other graduate, was honored on Tuesday by a visit from Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and Vice-Chancellor of McGill University, and Fraser S. Keith, president of the Graduates' Society, who presented Mr. Fiske with a plaque bearing the McGill crest.

Among other gifts received was a beautiful basket of 100 roses a gift from Bert Riley, of Chas. J. Hill Reg'd.

Despite his great age, Mr. Fiske is remarkably well in health; he takes an interest in day-to-day developments of the world events, and is much interested in local affairs having been a resident of Westmount for 37 years.

Mr. Fiske has lived under the rule of five British sovereigns and whose lifetime includes the Crimean War, the Indian Mutiny, the American Civil War, the Franco-Prussian War, the Fenian Raids, the Boer War and the first World War, and takes keen interest in the present war.

Born in Abbotsford, Que., on February 22nd, 1844 Mr. Fiske graduated from McGill University with the B. C. L. degree in 1868

Group Capt. Vaughan Corbett, D.F.C., Is Given New Appointment

Word has been received that Group Capt. Vaughan B. Corbett, D.F.C., a veteran of the Battle of Britain, has been promoted from the rank of wing commander and will now take command of an R.C.A.F. unit at Bagotville, Que.

Group Capt. Corbett is the son of Mrs. William J. Corbett, 760 Upper Lansdowne Avenue, and was recently officer commanding the new air force transport station at Moncton, N.B.

While in command of 402 Fighter Squadron in the Battle of Britain, Group Captain Corbett was cited for great skill and leadership and was awarded the D. F. C. His wife, the former Mary Catherine Sloan and little son, are at present staying with her mother in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Group Capt. Corbett has three brothers also in the services, Major F. J. B. Corbett, now with the artillery in England, Major D. F. B. Corbett of the 48th Highlanders, who was overseas for three and half years, and was wounded at Tunisia and returned to Canada October last to instruct at Brockville, Ont., and his youngest brother Lieut. Kenneth C. B. Corbett, who is a prisoner of war in Germany after serving in Sicily.

Mrs. Corbett's four sons were educated at Upper Canada College, McGill University and R. M. C. at Kingston.

Boy Scouts Hold Annual Service

Western Area Represented by 300 Members

ST. MATTHEWS TROOP

Members of the Western area of the Boy Scouts' Association attended the Scouts' Own which was held at the local Y. M. C. A. Three hundred scouts and cubs were present at the service which marked Boy Scout week. The Scouts' Own is a church service for all Scouts.

This service consisted of call to worship by C. J. Dendy followed by the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and a prayer by Reverend G. F. Dewey. The Scripture was read by Reverend Stanley S. Stock. The next hymn was "Onward Christian Soldiers" followed by an address by Flight Lieutenant Williams. The National Anthem was sung and the Cubs and Scouts reaffirmed their promises. The service closed with the hymn "Lord of the Lands" and the Benediction. The pianist was A. C. Lloyd. The welcome to the Y. M. C. A. building was extended by W. L. Gatehouse, chairman of the Board of Management.

This week the members of the Boy Scout Movement of the British Empire celebrate the birthday of their founder, Sir Robert Baden Powell. Sir Robert was born in England in 1857. He later joined the army and at the out-break of the Boer War was a general in command of the forces defending Mafeking. He held the town against fearful odds. During the siege he organized the boys of the garrison into messengers to carry messages to the men at the front. His next exploit occurred when he assisted in the capture of Pretoria. After the war he returned to England and in 1908 started the Scout Movement. Preceding this there was an experimental camp at Brownsea in 1907. In the year 1910 the organization was incorporated by royal charter. After that, the organization spread to all parts of the Empire.

C.C.F. Entertains New Members

The Westmount C. C. F. club entertained at a reception for its new members on Sunday evening, at the home of Mrs. Howard Reid, 381 Prince Albert Avenue. Guests were received by Mrs. Reid and Mrs. E. Bourke, president of the Westmount C. C. F. club.

Dr. Alfred Fossati was the guest speaker.

The Musical program was provided by the following artists: Miss Violet Fairbairn contralto, accompanied by Miss Marie Zimmerman with violin obligato by Mrs. Audrey Read Lafond. Harry Goodman baritone accompanied by Mrs. Harry Goodman. Violin solos by Mrs. Audrey Read Lafond completed an enjoyable program.

The guest speaker and musicians were thanked by Miss Eileen Whillans and Dr. Wm. Walsh.

R. Y. Kayserlingk Speaks At Rotary

R. Y. Kayserlingk, manager of the British United Press in Canada, was the guest speaker on Wednesday at the Westmount Rotary Club luncheon held in Victoria Hall.

Mr. Kayserlingk gave some interesting information on the distribution of news. Lefty Nelson introduced the speaker who was thanked by George Hunter.

Chester McBride, president, was in the chair, and spoke on the appeal for the Canadian Red Cross Campaign urging members to give generously.

TWO LAB GRADS TESTING SYNTHETIC RUBBER

Canadian-made rubber must stand up to rigid requirements . . . it has to be good! In the picture above, two young University of Toronto graduates employed in the laboratory of the government-owned Polymer Corporation near Sarnia, Ontario, are hard at work. The girl on the left is testing buna-S rubber with acetone, while her lab mate tests a piece of the synthetic rubber product.

Q. Wherein does a "bylaw" of the City differ from one of the "charter" provisions?

A. Under the "charter" of the City, the Council is empowered to make bylaws which "shall, when published, be deemed public law within the municipality" and "may impose, by any bylaw within its powers, for every infraction of a bylaw either a fine, with or without costs, or imprisonment... but, except where otherwise provided, such fine shall not exceed forty dollars, nor such imprisonment last more than two months." The Cities and Towns Act which is the general legislation from which the City derives its powers and procedure provides that the City Council may make bylaws ranging from the general aim "To secure the peace, order, good government, health, general welfare and improvement of the municipality, provided such bylaws are not contrary to the laws of Canada, or of this Province, nor inconsistent with any special provision of this act or of the charter" thorough inspection of houses, protection of persons and property, to definition of nuisances and their abatement and the taking of a census. The Provincial Government is to be kept posted as to every bylaw, for a copy "shall be transmitted without delay to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, who may disallow it."

Machinery is also set up for those bylaws which require the approval of the electors or holders of taxable property, notably in the matter of municipal loans, such as bond issues.

As a matter of practice a close relation with the Provincial Government authorities is maintained through the Department of Municipal Affairs so that on occasions when disallowance of a bylaw by the Provincial Government is a possibility a line of action acceptable to all concerned is worked out.

Modern French Art Dominion Gallery

The Dominion Art Gallery, 1448 St. Catherine St. W., are showing a very interesting exhibition of Modern French Art and works of other important European artists.

In the collection there are oils, water colors, drawings, graphics and sculptures, and many of the works represented are by Fantin-Latour, Le Sidaner, Daumier, Gavarni, Toulouse-Lautrec, James Ensor, Derain, Heckel, Signac, Grosz, Ernst Munch and Per Krogh, Kisling, Viaminck, Utrilla, etc.

Abstract and surrealist art is also shown by Picasso and Feininger.

The exhibition will continue all next week.

and then studied law under J. G. K. Houghton, who had graduated from McGill five years earlier. Later Mr. Fiske practised in Montreal in association with his cousin the late Hon. Sir John Abbott, a McGill graduate of the class of 1854, who was Prime Minister of Canada from 1891 to 1892. Mr. Fiske also carried on practice in Coaticook, Que., until 1888, when he became manager of the Coaticook Penman Mills, from which he retired in 1907.

Mr. Fiske who is a member of St. Matthias Church, resides with his two daughters, the Misses L. and B. Fiske, who with Mrs. W. T. Stewart of Toronto and Mrs. W. P. Roper of Montreal were present at the family celebration held on Tuesday.

Westmount High Home and School To Hear H. Hatcher

A meeting of the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association will be held on Tuesday evening, February the 29th at the Junior High School.

The president, J. A. H. Henderson, will be in the chair and the meeting will commence at 8.30 p.m. H. G. Hatcher M.A., Superintendent of the Lachine Schools will speak and his subject will be "Our Educational System—Does it meet the needs of present day." Hatcher has devoted his life to education and has had practical experience as a teacher and principal and in his present capacity has a thorough knowledge of administration. With Mr. Hatcher's broad experience in the educational field, he is thoroughly capable of making constructive criticisms of the present system. His recent talks to Home and School Groups have shown his grasp of the subject and the refreshingly witty terms in which his information is clothed assure an interesting and instructive evening.

A cordial invitation to attend this meeting is extended to all persons interested and especially to other Home and School Groups in the district.

Flt.-Lt. G. S. Brown Wins Promotion

Word has been received that F/O G. Stewart Brown, R.C.A.F., who has been serving overseas with a fighter squadron, has been promoted to the rank of flight-lieutenant.

Flight-Lieut. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gordon Brown, of 3509 Grey Avenue, and has nearly four years' service in the air force overseas. During 1942, he served in the Middle East for a year.

He is 22, and is a former student of King's School, Westmount High and McGill University where he had two years in chemical engineering.

Air Compressor Of Tram Damaged

Gaston Joli, 23, 112 Gouin boulevard, was driving a Drive-Yourself car, which had been hired by the Bessner Meat Market, 4953 Sherbrooke Street, east to west on Cote St. Antoine road at 11 o'clock Friday morning when he collided with a Montreal Tramways car at the Girouard intersection.

No persons were injured but the tram's air compressor was damaged and the front of the automobile sustained considerable damage.

92-Year-Old Citizen and Oldest Living Cantab Here Celebrates Birthday

Arthur Matheson Fraser, M.A., of 3055 Sherbrooke Street W., believed to be the oldest living graduate of Cambridge University living in Canada, celebrates his 92nd birthday here next week, on Friday March 3rd.

Mr. Fraser who is active and in good health, was born in 1852, in Edinburgh, Scotland, the eldest son of Arthur Fraser and Mary J.

ARTHUR MATHESON FRASER, M.A.

Davidson, both of Aberdeenshire families. His father, uncle and brother were all former consuls for Britain in Batavia, the East Indies capital.

Receiving his education at Edinburgh Academy, Academie de Luisanne and the College Galliard, Switzerland; the University of Berlin and London and Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1871-1875, Mr. Fraser was called to the Bar in 1876, and practised at Lincoln's Inn, London for some years.

After giving up his law practice, he and his family spent some time in Switzerland before coming out of Canada in 1898. Several visits to Canada before this were taken in the eighties by Mr. Fraser, who recalls on one occasion when he was the only unofficial guest in the first C. P. R. Railway coach train to run from Winnipeg to Port Arthur, Ont.

Settling in Winnipeg in 1898, the Fraser family made their home there for thirty years, and were heavy investors in real estate there.

In the early summer of 1928, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser and family ended their long residence in Winnipeg, and revisited the United Kingdom and Switzerland, and after a year abroad the family returned to Canada and settled in Westmount.

Mr. Fraser's son Captain James Gordon Fraser, O. B. E., R. N., who recently returned to England from Malaya, is at present with the Home Guards there, and the two granddaughters are serving in the Navy and the British Admiralty.

Mr. Fraser's wife, who passed away in the spring of 1938, was the author of "The Way To Zion," a book of daily devotions and collection of original poems. A few weeks ago, by special request, one of her poems was read over Station C. F. C. F. by the Rev. Talbot-Hindley, M. A., of Campbell Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Fraser makes his home here with his daughters at Chequers Court.

Sub-Lt. Harkness Gains Commission

In a recent despatch received here is word of Prob. Sub-Lt. R. Hugh Harkness, R.C.N.V.R., a recent graduate of H. M. C. S. King's Officers' training centre at Halifax, who is the son of Col. and Mrs. R. D. Harkness, of 4386 Montrose Avenue. Born in Montreal 19 years ago, Sub-Lt. Harkness had completed first year of a science course at McGill University before enlisting as a midshipman in September, 1942. He trained here and at Deep Brook before entering Kings and has now been posted to a Fairmile motor launch.

Business Association Elects Officers For Ensuing Year

At a well attended meeting of the Business Association of Westmount held in Victoria Hall, Westmount on Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected to serve for the present fiscal year.

President, Donald B. Ross; 1st Vice-President, Charles Watson; 2nd Vice-President, A. Ross, Gratton; Officers and Directors, Albert Smithers, P. T. Golden, R. S. Robson, Paul Goudreau, C. B. Cutten, P. A. Seers, M. Sacoransky; Secretary-Treasurer, J. M. Kennedy.

P. T. Golden kindly consented to act as chairman of the nominating committee.

The retiring President, N. Eric

Robertson; G. Edwin Robertson; G. Edwin Robertson; Edward T. Reynolds; Charles L. Schryer; F. M. A. Stafford; G. C. Seybold; H. F. Swift; R. C. Tibbets; A. S. Torrey; W. B. Terry; J. B. Wheatley, Jr.; H. G. Welsford; J. C. Wilson; J. S. H. Wurtele.

Ohman, read his report of the activities of the association which was very well received. Although general meetings had not been called during the past year, many executive meetings were held throughout the year and the interests of the membership have been well in hand at all times.

The Secretary Treasurer, J. M. Kennedy, also read the financial report of the association which showed that the present position of the association is very sound indeed.

In grateful appreciation of his untiring efforts and on behalf of the Business Association of Westmount, W. Gordon Kenwood made a presentation of War Savings Certificates to N. Eric Ohman on his retirement as president after having served that office for the past three years.

A very interesting program of future activity for the association was outlined by the incoming committee.

Post-War World Books Are Available At Local Library

Many Westmounters are probably familiar with the radio programme broadcast from station CBM on Tuesday evenings from 8.30 to 9 P.M. The programme is intended as a citizen's forum on Canada in the post-war world, and it is prepared under the auspices of the Canadian Association for adult education.

The Westmount Library has received copies of a list of books prepared by the Toronto Public Libraries, designed for use in conjunction with these broadcasts. Almost all the books thereon are available at the local Library—and they will be displayed there during the coming week.

The titles include the following:

U.S. Foreign Policy, Shield of the Republic, Walter Lippman. America and World Mastery: the future of Canada, United States and the British Empire—John MacCormac.

The Unguarded Frontier: a history of American-Canadian relations, Edgar McInnis

The Russian Enigma: an interpretation — W. H. Chamberlin.

The Truth about Soviet Russia — Sidney and Beatrice Webb.

Resistance and Reconstruction: messages during China's six years of war — Chiang Kai-shek. Listen, Hans—Dorothy Thompson.

Fire in the Pacific—Simon Harcourt-Smith.

Agenda for a Post-War World — J. B. Condliffe.

Post-war Worlds—P. E. Corbett.

The Rights of Man and Natural Law—Jacques Maritain.

One World—Wendell Willkie.

Out of the People—J. B. Priestley.

Democratic Ideal and Reality—Sir H. J. Mackinder.

GOVERNMENT NOTICE NATIONAL WAR LABOUR BOARD

Incorporation of Cost of Living Bonus into Wage Rates

THE ATTENTION of all employers in Canada, subject to the Wartime Wages Control Order 1943 (P.C. 9384), is directed to the provisions of the Order requiring them to establish for each of their occupational classifications, not above the rank of foreman, a single wage rate or range of wage rates as prescribed by the rules set out in Schedule "A" of the Order by adding to the previous authorized single wage rate or previous authorized range of wage rates the amount of previous authorized cost of living bonus, and that such established single wage rate or range of wage rates shall be effective for the first payroll period beginning on or after February 15, 1944.

Employers who may not be paying previous authorized cost of living bonus as required by General Orders of the National War Labour Board, issued under dates of August 4, 1942, and November 3, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of the Wartime Wages Control Order, P.C. 5963, are required to include such amounts of cost of living bonus in the establishment of wage rates of their employees under P.C. 9384 effective for the first payroll period beginning on or after February 15, 1944, as stated.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1944

RED CROSS APPEAL

COMMENCING Monday, the Canadian Red Cross Society will stage its annual financial campaign. The national objective is again $10,000,000, of which the Province of Quebec must provide $2,500,000. This is a big order, but we'll make it, for the worth of the Red Cross needs no emphasis, especially in wartime. In every previous appeal, the people of Quebec have over-subscribed their quota. We'll do it again.

In wartime the chief job of the Red Cross is caring for wounded soldiers and civilians. All wounded soldiers need the help of the Red Cross. Dried blood serum must be kept on the march to our fighting men. Surgical dressings, special drugs, foods and vitamin tablets, comforts and supplies of all kinds must be provided. It is the least we can do. Think for a moment what conditions of warfare would be like were there no Red Cross. There was once a pitiful and terrible time when the wounded in battle "lay like tossed cordwood on a bloody field." That cannot happen now. There is help for the wounded at all the outposts of the world. Today, Red Cross covers the earth.

Help the Red Cross to the limit of your means. Contribute generously when the canvasser asks for your subscription.

HELP THE FRENCH CHARITIES

LOCAL residents will, we know, contribute generously in response to the appeal of the Federation of French Charities, which opened Monday and will continue until March 2. While the great majority of local people are of the English tongue, they realize that the welfare of the nation is indivisible, that what harms a part harms all of us, and for that reason will give the French charities appeal their full support. The objective is a big one—$612,000—but it must be passed if the needy are not to suffer. This district has a long-time reputation for never failing to support a worthy cause. We must go over the top again.

MIDDLE CLASSES SUFFER

AS IN the case of most emergencies, the tramways strike hit the middle class hardest. And unless something reverses the present trends the middle classes, which form by far the largest class groups in Canada, are going to be squeezed often between the labour-radical agitators and racketeers on one hand and the stand-pat employers of labour on the other. Smooth words are being fed this white-collar class these days by labour leaders and radical politicians who know that their movement will never succeed without at least their partial support, and who are trying, with some success, to convince the middle classes that their interests are one with those of the labour group.

The middle classes comprise the great balance wheel in our economic and social structure. Taken by and large, they are not agitators. They don't like the idea of unions because they fear they would establish maximum salaries and opportunities and fix limits to ambition and ability. They don't like trouble. Most of them have confidence in the goodwill and integrity of their employers, and they don't like the idea of fixing a gulf between themselves and those for whom and with whom they work. They are the great barrier to the establishment of class government in Canada.

The growing signs of a big scale bid by labour organizations for political power, however, makes it imperative that this great middle class look to its own interests. A splitting up of middle-class sympathies and votes in favour of movements that can do it no good will bring nothing but confusion, hardship, and disaster. And the middle-class will be by far the greatest sufferers in that contest for power.

ROMMEL'S FRENCH LOAN

FOR having recounted, in a shop, a "political pleasantry," Frau Margarete Schroder, aged fifty-six, was condemned by a special court to nine months' imprisonment, according to a report in a Stettin newspaper of last October. The president of the court said it mattered little whether Frau Schroder really intended to mock certain officials or not. What mattered was the effect that such jokes could have.

A few days later the Rhein-Mainische Zeitung of Frankfurt published a statement that it was the duty of everyone to bring to account any person who, in view of the gravity of events, repeated political jokes. Those who invent such jokes ought to be considered as saboteurs and condemned to death, in the opinion of that paper.

Threats do not, however, prevent such jokes circulating in Germany. As evidence, here is one about Rommel which had a vogue.

Rommel, in Paris, found himself short of money. So he got in contact with a banker and asked for a loan. The banker consented at once and spread out a bundle of banknotes. A little astonished, Rommel took them and remarked: "But you haven't asked me for guarantees! Do you want a receipt?" "Oh, that isn't necessary, Monsieur le Feld Marshall," came the answer, "you borrowed Lybia, Tunisia, Sicily, and you returned them."

WHAT'S THIS—ANOTHER SECRET WEAPON?

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The Vatican has named the Most Rev. Bernard W. Griffin, auxiliary bishop of Birmingham, to succeed the late Cardinal Hinsley as archbishop of Westminster. The new archbishop is in his early forties and served in the air force in the First World War. He becomes primate of the Roman Catholic Church in Britain. He is known to be a pronounced liberal. This is particularly true with respect to social questions. He has been one of Sir William Beveridge's strongest supporters in the struggle to provide cradle-to-grave social security for the British masses, and has shown his readiness to carry that fight on against powerful political opposition. Of this appointment, a leading American journal stated:

"It should be noted, that both the Church of England and the Roman Communion in Great Britain are now headed by primates who are conspicuously in the forefront of movements for social redress and re-direction. Church statesmanship in England evidently sees coming a post-war test in this field for which it is choosing a new leadership. Are there signs of equal statesmanship among the American churches?"

Dr. L. B. Pett, Director of Nutrition Services for Canada, stated recently three causes of malnutrition in Canada: "The first is economic. Let us face it squarely that even in a land of plenty, some people have been and are undernourished because they cannot afford an adequate diet."

Canada, the home of newsprint, is now printing the Bible for the first time in its history. The work is being done for the Oxford University Press by Ryerson Press, Toronto, the publishing house of the United Church of Canada. Among those present when the first pages were run off from imported plates on Oct. 27, was E. E. Woollon, secretary of the Toronto Allied Printing Trades Council, who, for many years, has carried on an active campaign to have Bibles printed in this country.

Behind the printing of the Bible is a great deal of British tradition. The copyright of the King James Version is invested in the king. When at the coronation service his majesty accepts the Bible, it is symbolic of the investiture of the copyright in his person. The rights, formerly belonging to the king's printer only, were gradually extended to two great English publishing houses, Oxford and Cambridge. Later the privilege was given to the Collins Publishing House of Scotland. Up to last month these houses were the only ones in the British empire permitted to publish the Bible. Because of the shortage of help and paper and material in England and the scarcity of Bibles to meet the unusually large demand, the Oxford Press contracted with the United Church publishing house to print 30,000 in Canada. It is hoped that in time this dominion will become an exporter of Bibles.

Miss Lydia Gruchy, the first woman to be ordained as a minister of the United Church of Canada, and for five years secretary of the committee on the deaconess order and women workers, has resigned to accept a call to the pastoral charge of Naicam-Spalding in her native province of Saskatchewan. Hers will be a two-point rural charge.

Nineteen of the major Protestant churches of the U.S.A. reported an increase of more than $24,000,000 in contributions received in 1943. The total contributions amounted to $376,946,856 in 1943. The highest per capita giving was among the Society of Friends and the Church of the Nazarene.

The Dominion-Provincial Conference in Ottawa was said to be the first distinctive war campaign for the production of food in the history of this country and may become an established thing in the future, even after peace is restored. Press representatives agreed that all had a common desire to see that Canada's agricultural aid to the war effort should be as effective as possible. The outstanding feature was the appeal of the Minister of Agriculture, Hon Mr. Gardiner, to the farmers of Canada, to produce enough bacon for export to Britain in 1944 to maintain the British ration of 4 ounces per person per week. This, he said, can only be done if the export aim is 600,000,000 pounds. Col. John J. Llewellyn, the new British Minister of Food, made an appeal to keep up shipments so that he would not be forced to reduce the ration to 3 ounces. He and his assistant paid tribute to the "miraculous" quantity of food that Canada has been shipping. The British people, they said, are deeply appreciative. The aim with the contracts for 1944 and 1945 was 450,000,000 and now it is 600,000,000. Mr. Gardiner said the Government would try to increase the term of the contracts for bacon to relieve the minds of farmers over the possibility that there might be a sudden decline in exports if the war should come suddenly to an end.

From Aberdeen comes the story of the cinema attendant who found a pound note and took it to the manager.

Later the following notice was placed on the screen:

"A pound note has been found. Will the owner please queue up at the box office at 10 a.m. tomorrow?"

A small boy returned home from school and told his father that he was second in his class. Top place was held by a girl.

"Surely, John", said the father, "you're not going to be beaten by a mere girl."

The Church Calls to Worship

World Mission Of Church Topic Of Rev. Dr. Smith

In Dominion-Douglas Church next Sunday morning, Dr. Lloyd Smith will speak on the topic "The World Mission of the Church"—being the last of the series suggested by the Canadian Committee of the World Council of Churches.

Church School in all departments will meet at 3.00 p.m. as will the minister's class for church membership.

In the evening at 7.30 R. J. D. Morris, B.A., student assistant will be the speaker. Miss Brenda Borrie and John Laidlaw will assist in the worship service.

The Young People's Union will meet following the service.

Sewing Circle holds its meeting regularly on Mondays at 2.00 p.m.

The Red Cross unit meets every Wednesday from 10-5.00 p.m. More helpers are needed.

Frances Willard W.C.T.U. will meet on Wednesday, at 3.00 p.m. Speaker: Flt./Lt. Carl C. Dean, Protestant chaplain in No. 1 Wireless School. Subject: "Temperance as related to the Air Force".

Preparatory service and reception of members will be held on Wednesday evening at 8.00 p.m.

Westmount Baptist

Westmount's series of unusual Sunday evening services is proving most interesting. Last Sunday evening's service was conducted by the women of the congregation, assisted by the minister. The following participated: Mrs. H. W. Hamilton, Mrs. E. G. Hinds, Mrs. W. S. Elliot, Mrs. Dugald Nasmith, Mrs. J. H. Hill, Mrs. S. J. McCormick, Mrs. Tom Parker and Mrs. Dixon Gordon.

On Sunday evening the service will be conducted by ten young people of the congregation, assisted by the minister. Dr. Johnston will deliver a brief address entitled "What God did for an Army Commander."

At the morning service Dr. Johnston's sermon title will be "Warm Springs in the Wilderness."

The Fireside Fellowship is held following the evening service. This gathering affords a grand time to all who attend. Refreshments will be served at the close. Men and women in uniform are especially invited.

The Young People's Union meets on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. This is a fine gathering of young people. The programs are both inspiring and challenging. The study period conducted by the minister is entered into with deepest interest. Many young men and women participate in the discussion.

Westmount's mid-week meeting is held on Wednesday at 8 o'clock. This gathering is a source of great helpfulness to the many who attend.

Westmount Park

On Sunday morning Mr. Goth will continue the series of sermons on The Problem of Pain taking as his topic: "Stars in the Night." In the evening another adventure will be told in the life of St. Paul. Following the evening service Mr. Howard S. Ross, K.C., will speak on "Poetry in Lighter Vein" at the Young People's "Fireside". This is a

A verse for to-day . . .

Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you. And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.—II. Cor. 6:14-18.

Calvary Church

The services in Calvary United Church on Sunday next will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., who will preach at the morning service on the theme, Wanted! Bridge Builders. At the evening service at 7.30 the series on lessons for life from the parables of Jesus will be continued, the lesson for this service being based on the theme of the parable "A House to Let".

The Church School in all departments will meet at 10 o'clock, while the pastor's training class for young people in preparation for church membership will be held in the church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Young People's Union will meet in the church parlors at 8.15 p.m. on Monday. After a brief service of worship and business session the members will proceed in a body to Weredale House where the various types of work carried on in this most commendable enterprise will be explained.

Tuesday, from 10.30 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Red Cross group will meet in the church parlors.

On Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. the regular meeting of the Women's Association will be held in the ladies' parlors.

At 8.15 p.m. Wednesday a special meeting of the congregation will be held in the church parlors to consider important aspects in the life and work of Calvary church. The next communion service will be held on Sunday evening, March 5th.

humorous lecture on modern poetry and has been much enjoyed by those hearing it on previous occasions.

On Wednesday at 8 o'clock the mid-week service will be held. No. 3 in the series on Christian Living will be studied under the title "The Christian in the Community". These studies are of particular value today when so many of the old standards are breaking down under the stress of modern living.

The Church School meets on Sundays at 3 o'clock.

The Young People's Society meets each Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The Red Cross Group meets every Monday and Wednesday.

A cordial invitation is extended to strangers in the district to attend any or all of these services in Westmount Park Church.

St. Luke's Church

The minister, Rev. R. E. Spencer, will preach at both services in St. Luke's United Church next Sunday. In the morning the topic is "The Modern Case for Lent" and in the evening, the first in a series on Great Nights of the Bible will be "The Night of Dissipation."

A series of Lenten services will be conducted every Friday evening at 8 o'clock, in the church. The theme of this series is "Christian Living" and challenging messages will be brought from week to week by visiting ministers. Different organizations will be in charge of the services and friends and strangers will be cordially welcomed. Tomorrow the elders will be in charge of the service and the Rev. George Goth, of Westmount Park Church, will speak on "The Discipline of Self."

The executive meeting of the Woman's Association will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Shiells, 2191 Prudhomme Ave., N.D.G., on Monday, at 2.45 p.m. The regular monthly meeting of the association will take place in the Ladies' Parlor on Wednesday, March 1, at 2.45 p.m. Mrs. Patton, president, of the W.M.S., will take charge of the devotional program.

MARIAN MARTIN

This slim frock with high-placed bodice slashes is a perfect "easy-to-make." Pattern 9549 consists mainly of three simple pieces. The attractive pockets are just squares with the corners turned down. The front-buttoning makes this frock a delight to launder.

Pattern 9549 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3½ yards 35-inch.

Each pattern costs twenty-five cents (25c), which should be sent in coin (stamps cannot be accepted), to The Examiner, Needlecraft Department, 2191 Hampton Ave., N.D.C., Montreal. Write plainly, the pattern desired, the pattern number, your name and address. Because of the slowness of the mails delivery of our patterns may take a few days longer than usual.

MULTI-OCCASION

MARIAN MARTIN

Staunchly wearable, day-in-day-out, with its perfectly fitting lines is Pattern 9048. Such an ideal two-piece style! Its soft jacket, becoming low-cut collar are right for any type of figure. For a multi-occasion dress, we suggest a popular rayon fabric...snappy buttons.

IN THE WOMAN'S REALM

Club Told Education Factor In Chinese War Successes

An outbreak of civil war in China between the Guerilla and Nationalist armies is still a possibility, declared Miss Agnes Smedley, author of "The Battle Hymn of China" and former special correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. Miss Smedley spoke to the Montreal Women's Club at its weekly meeting in the Mount Royal Hotel last Monday.

The action of General Sir Henry Matland Wilson in recognizing Tito's partisans as our only real allies in Yugoslavia was praised by Miss Smedley who expressed the hope that a similar recognition would be given by the United Nations to the Communist Army of China which despite the unpopularity of its political views, has fought on untiringly to expel the Japanese.

The speaker reminded her audience that in the last decade the nations of the world had regarded China as a third-rate power which a prolonged civil war had depleted of wealth and manpower and left an easy victim to the all-conquering Japanese. That in the succeeding years China had not succumbed despite the terrific onslaught of the Japanese invasion Miss Smedley attributed in part to the immense size of the country, and also to the Communist Army which had developed guerrilla warfare to a science and had introduced a system of education in its army which, with the exception of Russia, has no parallel elsewhere. Since the peasant soldier must know why and for what he fights, his instruction includes a study of social factors, economics, espionage, history and internationalism. Soldiers thus trained in turn become instructors and through their efforts illiteracy has been liquidated. Learning, Miss Smedley emphasized, is a passion with the Chinese.

The speaker touched briefly on the growth of the co-operative system, mentioning that small self-governing republics had sprung up throughout the land. Such groups operated their own schools, theatres and factories.

Miss Smedley who was publicist of the Chinese Red Cross Medical Corps, stated that though modern medical equipment and supplies were lacking, yet through the efforts of the volunteer workers a foundation for state medicine had been laid.

In answer to various questions Miss Smedley referred to China as a country where the emphasis was put on the community and not on the individual, in fact the individual played a small role and counted for little.

Mrs. Edwin Briggs, the President introduced the speaker who was thanked by Mrs. E. S. Davies.

MANY ACTIVITIES REPORTED BY CLUB

The monthly business meeting of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club was held last Friday afternoon in Victoria Hall with 105 members present. Donations of $150 to the forthcoming Red Cross campaign, $50 to the Big Sister Association and $15 to Winona Camp were voted.

Mrs. C. H. P. Moore, Community Welfare chairman, reported on the work of her committee in the child welfare centre, and told of a group of Girl Guides in the Snowdon district taking a course in home nursing.

Mrs. H. B. Meynell, Red Cross Chairman, reported the making of 45 pieces of sewing, 25 pieces knitting, and 2,000 surgical dressings during the month.

The War Services Committee Chairman Mrs. G. E. Stephens told of the monthly box of candies, books, magazines, playing cards and three fruit cakes sent to the men of H.M.S. Liscomb; and the monthly visit to St. Anne's Military Hospital, $64 in War Savings Stamps were sold.

Donations of $25 to the Art Association in connection with the loan exhibition of Great Paintings, and $10 to the Canadian Legion Ypres Branch were given.

Mrs. J. W. Shaw spoke of the necessity of supporting the League of Nations, and stated a meeting of the group would be held on Friday at 3 p.m. in Trinity Memorial.

The January bridge realised $310 and Mrs. H. J. C. Darragh and her committee were thanked by Mrs. J. W. Shaw. A vote of thanks was also extended to Mrs. Norman B. Muir for her work on the Autographed Quilt, by Mrs. T. R. Rennie. The proceeds of the quilt amounted to $273. A nominating committee was appointed with Mrs. R. G. Bain as chairman. It was voted that a resolution be sent to Provincial Authorities supporting the recommendation of the survey report of the Canada and Newfoundland Association on education, Mrs. N. B. Muir read a condensed version of the report to the meeting.

Another recommendation was that a resolution be sent to the authorities urging action on the proposal made by the Quebec Association for Health Education and Recreation for the improved health and fitness of the people.

MASS HOLIDAYING EXPERIMENT IN U.S.

Reminiscent of the English-type of holiday-making when whole towns start off for popular resorts like Blackpool, is the scheme under consideration in Pennsylvania, where all employees of the major industries of a southeastern Pennsylvania town will take their vacations at the same time next summer.

Under the plan just announced by the Chamber of Commerce, 2,500 workers will enjoy their holiday from June 30 to July 10 so that working wives and husbands and their grown children might be off together.

Cloche Of World War 1 Is Revived Once More

John-Frederics, designer of hats revives again the friendly, head-covering cloche that stuck to us through postwar years of World War I and is a hat that is a hat. But, just in case a whole hat is too much for you, he tosses in his "tinettes," a new version of the half-hat — not the kind that divides the front from the back of the head—but one that begins at the part of the hair and sides beguilingly over one eye, curves about one pretty ear, and leaves the rest of the head to the tender mercies of the hairdresser. A transparent brim of horsehair shades one eye on one of these which is contrived of a loop of straw.

Victoria Bridge

The Victoria Sunshine Society will hold an afternoon bridge in the Westmount Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday at 2.30 p.m., under the convenship of Mrs. G. C. Davis.

Movies To Be Shown Of Canadians At War

A meeting will be held in Webster Memorial Hall, Western Avenue, on Monday at 8 p.m., when a number of films of Canada's war effort will be shown.

These films are prepared by the Federal Government and sponsored by the Junior Board of Trade of Montreal. This meeting is under the auspices of Hochelaga County Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the offering will be used for educational work.

Bernard Bercovitz, Toronto aircraft manufacturer, was fined $5,000 or three months in jail, for hoarding.

Canada now supplies about one-fifth of its own wool requirement. Expansion in sheep production was encouraged when it appeared possible that Canada's wool supply might be cut off.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Canada is Now in Spotlight O'Brien Tells Sub-division

In answer to a long standing invitation, Mr. A. W. "Andy" O'Brien was guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Westmount Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League held last Friday in St. Leo's School Hall.

Recently returned from overseas, Mr. O'Brien gave an address based on his experiences as a War Correspondent with the Canadian First Division. "England has suffered from this war and shows it," Mr. O'Brien said, "but the spirit of her people is magnificent and inspiring." He gave some interesting details of the Bomber Command, a Squadron which he was stationed with for some time. Here morale is high and shows no sign of weakening. He stressed the importance of writing cheery letters and writing often to the boys overseas. He gave his impressions of flying the Atlantic "when immense distances seem drawn close together and oceans seem pushed aside."

Mr. O'Brien said that every where in England Canadians were received with open arms, and "Canada is in the spotlight now as never before." The wonderful work of our armed forces has put Canada "on the map" and now is the time for our country to take its rightful place in world affairs. In all future world conferences Canadians should see to it that their country is well represented. He spoke of the enormous task of opening up a second front and warned of "stern days ahead."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Leo Reynolds, convener of the day. At the conclusion of Mr. O'Brien's address Mrs. Edgar Reynolds read Major Dick Deispecker's poem "Prayer for Victory." Mrs. J. T. Rogers thanked the speaker on behalf of the Subdivision.

During the business portion of the meeting the President, Mrs. J. T. Rogers, presided.

It being "Sisters of Service Day" she welcomed the special guests, Sister Black, the Superior, and Sister Grace. The former spoke briefly.

A letter from Mrs. P. J. McGarry, National President of the C. W. L., was read thanking the subdivision for their congratulatory telegram on the occasion of her receiving from the King the title Commander Civil Division of the most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

Mrs. Rogers reminded the members of the coming Red Cross Drive and also of the Drive for Foster Homes for children. She announced that the March meeting would take place on St. Patrick's Day, in St. Leo's School Hall, when a bridge would take place under the joint convenership of Mrs. E. Foster, Mrs. W. Boyd, Mrs. M. Shea and Mrs. W. Keating.

The Rev. Father W. McDonagh, pastor of the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, and chaplain of the Subdivision, was present and addressed the gathering briefly.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. M. Shea and her committee.

St. Agatha's

The members of the newly formed St. Agatha's Guild are holding their first SOCIAL EVENING tonight, in the Church of The Adven. Parish Hall at 8.30 o'clock.

Refreshments will be served and new and interesting full colour and sound films shown.

One of these films depicts a journey across Canada by plane with aerial views of the cities visited and magnificent scenery en route. The other, taken in Jasper National Park, includes mountain climbing, trail riding and motoring to the Columbia Icefield, Maligne Lake, Lac Beauvert and other beauty spots. Mountain sheep, moose, bears, beaver and other animals are shown in their native habitat.

Painting Pointer

A paper plate or a piece of cardboard glued to the bottom of a paint can will catch the drippings from the can and will also serve as a rest for the paint brush.

Scrape and shred two medium-sized carrots. Put in a saucepan with a dessertspoonful of butter. Cook slowly over a low flame for about 15 minutes; add pepper and salt and 3 tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Simmer for 1 or 2 minutes, then serve on toast.

Consumers are advised to consult dealers' price charts when buying meat at retail.

ALL NOTICES FOR THIS AND OTHER PAGES MUST BE WRITTEN — OR TYPEWRITTEN — CLEARLY, ON ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER ONLY.

Mrs. A. Nelson Curtis Named For Minesweepers' Auxiliary

At the annual meeting of the British Minesweepers Auxiliary, held Tuesday, February 22nd, at 8.15 p.m., in Stevenson Hall, Drummond St., the Chairman of the Shipping Committee, Mrs. Haviland Routh, reported an aggregate total number of articles shipped overseas from the organization as 43,262 to a value of $63,911.62. Of this number 19,810 were heavy machine made turtle-neck sweaters shipped direct from the mill, and 1,009 fur vests made from discarded fur coats by the Seamen's Fur Vest War Project. Thanks were expressed to the fur workers for these much appreciated comforts. Notification has been received of the safe arrival of all shipments to the end of October.

The Chairman of the Wool Committee, Mrs. W. F. Hammond, reported a turn-over of 4,467 pounds of wool.

In making her report the retiring President, Mrs. W. S. Lea paid a grateful tribute to the Toronto Branch whose widespread efforts throughout the Province of Ontario were responsible for slightly more than half of the comforts shipped.

Grateful acknowledgement was made to individuals and groups in Montreal and across Canada for contributions of both money and knitted garments. Although it was noted that this organization, like all others of its kind, was experiencing a considerable decrease in knitters, the finances had permitted an increase in the monthly shipments of machine made sweaters to a combined total of approximately 1,600 per month from the Toronto Branch and Head Office in Montreal.

Mrs. Lea quoted from a letter received recently from the Secretary of the Royal National Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen, Gorleston, Great Yarmouth, England, the point of distribution to which the articles are sent from the Auxiliary, as follows;

"There is a great demand at the present time of all kinds of warm garments, as we are experiencing some very cold weather especially in the North. Also with the invasion of the Continent so imminent, when the losses will be very heavy, all you can send will be most appreciated."

Major Alan W. Liddell, M.C., treasurer, gave the financial report. The combined contribution to the local office and Toronto Branch from the whole of Canada amount to $50,894.68. A vote of thanks was proposed by Mrs. D. T. Jackson on behalf of the Auxiliary to Major Liddell for his most valuable assistance with the finances of the organization. Mr. J. A. Ryan was Auditor for the year.

The Officers and Executive Committee elected for the current year were as follows: Honourary President, Mrs. W. S. Lea; President, Mrs. A. Nelson Curtis; Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur Perodeau; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Norman Taylor, N.D.G.; Treasurer, Major Alan W. Liddell, M.C.; Executive Committee, Mrs. W. G. Cuttle, Mrs. F. W. Hammond, Mrs. Geo. Gebbie, Mrs. D. T. Jackson, Mrs. H. Mawhinney, Mrs. L. Seidensticker, Mrs. F. Rowell, Mrs. H. Y. Russell and Mrs. W. B. Cheney.

Needed Now — Vitamin B

Important to get plenty of vitamin B in daily diet, and extra amounts in winter time. Wheat germ . . . a tablespoon or two added to piping hot porridge is an easy way to make sure of this. Important not to cook wheat germ too much;—add it about five minutes before porridge comes off the stove. Add it raw to dry cereal too. And here's another tip. Wheat germ keeps best in a cool, dry place.

LITTLE SAILOR HATS AND NEW TRICORNES ISSUED TO WRENS

There isn't a woman in Canada who doesn't like to perk up a drooping winter wardrobe with a new hat, even before the spring models begin to appear in the shops. That is what the Canadian Wrens are doing this month. Issued with black felt tricornes recently, they are now receiving trim little navy blue sailor hats, almost like those the boys wear.

Instead of the one navy felt stroller which has been standard equipment from the beginning of their organization, the two new hats have definite roles to play. The sailor hat which the members of the W. R. C. N. S. have nicknamed "Wrenwig," will be worn when plying as rig of the day. That means it is the official uniform for dut wear.

But off-duty, the Wrens may blossom out inilk stockings and their "Tiddley" tricorne, for dates and dining out. The tricorne will also be worn for special events, formal inspection, Sundays and church parades. Incidentally, in the Navy, "tiddley" is the word to describe how sailors look when they're dressed up ready to go ashore, and it applies to Wrens, too.

The talley-band, or hat ribbon of black silk which is worn by Wren ratings on both the sailor beret and the tricorne, will still bear the proud gold letters "H.M. C.S." signifying that the Wren is a member of the ship-company aboard one of His Majesty's Canadian ships . . . even though it be a "stone frigate" ashore. Those letters are all that indicate naval service to the casual observer from now on, for Wrens have been authorized to take down the blue badge of the W. R. C. N. S. and replace it with gold "Canada" badges on the shoulder of their winter jackets and great-coats.

In the Navy, the "Canada" badge doesn't necessarily indicate overseas duty. All personnel of the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service are to wear the badge no matter where they serve. Blue "Canada" badges will be worn on the light blue summer uniforms. Members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps at home have been wearing "Canada" badges for some time, but the Women's Division of the R. C. A. F. still reserves it for overseas duty.

The Wren's navy blue uniform itself is to see some streamlined changes soon, when Wrens will be issued a "tiddley" suit of finer blue serge, with longer, slimmer lines, and better tailoring than their seaman's serge numbers. Add the new gold badges, trim new hats, and maybe a service ribbon for those who have been in for more than 18 months, and that's what some of the best-dressed girls will be wearing for Spring, 1944.

SHE NEVER SKIPS HER MEALS

Even when you diet to keep your hips and legs as slim as current glamor standards require—better be sure to eat a good, sustaining lunch every day to keep your energy up.

That's Rae Hardin's advice and she gives it to you out of personal experience. She is a topflight John Powers fashion model—and that means she has to keep a long-stemmed look.

"Often when I was a freshman in modeling, I'd just skip lunch," says Rae. "But when you stand or work all day, and especially when uncertain hours may compel you to work through a meal time once in a while you must learn to eat as regularly as you can. I once skipped a lunch, had to work late, and fainted at dinner time. Since then, I've made regular eating Rule One in my beauty book."

Lunches needn't be fattening to be adequate. Order fresh water fish or lean meat with a green vegetable; sturdy soups like puree of green peas or beans and a fruit cup for dessert; or a vegetable plate and a glass of milk. And just see how much more energetic you'll feel.

REFERENCE CHART HELPFUL TO THOSE "MINDING THE BABY"

One of the latest ideas advanced for "maidless" mothers who hire help by the hour to look after young children or a baby, is to give the temporary nurse a chart, so that she will know just what to do.

The chart should provide for ordinary routine and for what she is to do in an emergency. It might well be given to anyone who assumes your children's care, even though that one be an adult relative.

Once you have this chart written out for your home, keep it for future reference, and make note of any changes as they become necessary.

Set down where you parents, both mother and father (unless he's in service or permanently away) may be reached. If possible, give a telephone number for each. For a case when neither can be contacted, give a telephone number of a relative or friend who will come quickly to assist in any emergency. Be sure, when you give this number, that the one named is available at the time.

Itemize all of the tasks in the children's routine that need be done while you are away. If you will be absent at mealtime, state what they are to be fed, where it is to be found, in pantry or refrigerator, how it is to be prepared, and if anything is necessary to persuade the child to eat. Mention whether or not the youngsters are to be allowed snacks between meals or before bedtime. Be sure that your girl-by-the-hour understands how to operate your stove.

Lest you be gone at bedtime, set down the hour at which each child must be abed. In case of the older children, be sure that they know this hour and will not try to say, "Mother always lets us stay up longer than this!"

State the bedtime routine as to face-washing, tooth-brushing, where night clothes are to be found, turning on or off of heaters and lights, and closing or opening of windows.

Have a definite understanding as to the time of arrival and departure of your girl-by-the-hour, and what she is to be paid. The sum should vary with her work, and whether she prepares meals and does other tasks beside supervising the children. Except for getting their meals and her own, it might be well to ask nothing of her, lest she becomes too absorbed in the tasks to give the children the constant supervision they should have when you are away.

If your girl-by-the-hour is under age, you should make sure that she does not go home alone after dark. Make it a part of her agreement with you to have someone call for her, or make it a

A Little Story About Chitter The Squirrel And War Savings

Chitter the squirrel sat in his doorway. Inside the hollow tree where the Chitters lived, Mrs. Chitter was snoozing peacefully. A great white blanket of snow covered the ground as far as the eye could see and Chitter's little nose twitched as he smelled the sharp clean air. What's more he was really feeling very good. Winter had set in and it was quiet and peaceful and the fruits of his work made him feel secure; at last he could relax and enjoy himself.

Actually, Chitter felt he deserved a rest. All through the autumn months when the nuts were falling off the trees he and Mrs. Chitter had busied themselves gathering up the nuts and storing them away. In the storeroom of their tree trunk home there was a pile that would last them well through the winter.

Chitter scampered lightly up the trunk of the tree and bounded out on a branch. He stopped, looked around as far as his bright little eyes could see, realizing that underneath the snow more nuts waited to be gathered. And in the meantime he was well stocked; he and Mrs. Chitter weren't going to have to worry. Yes, Chitter was happy.

Moral . . . Work and save now for the future. Buy War Savings.

Do It Now!

Every good housewife is well up on the dodges for saving fuel these days. Here's one of the tricks. During the daytime turn off the radiator or hot air register in the rooms that are not being used and shut the door. Keeps the heat where you want it . . . where you're working.

part of your own schedule to provide transportation for her.

You'll find that this chart will give you greater peace of mind when you are away, in that it covers most possibilities, including that of emergency. Also it will assure better care for the children.

JEWEL FASHIONS INDICATE SWING TO BOLD DESIGNS

What worlds of difference lie between the two words jewelry and jewels! One seems fleeting—costume jewelry we call most of it—symbol of changing times. While the word, "jewels," sweeps us off in fancy to breathless moments with the crown jewels in the grim Tower of London, to the wonder of some exquisite bauble of the jewelers' art in one of the intimate shops of the Rue de la Paix, to remembrance of the treasures of the Florentine goldsmiths on the Ponte Vecchio, to India and the gems of the great Moguls.

These masterpieces of yesterday are the sentimental jewels of today. Occasionally some of them creep into the market. Not the "Crown" jewels to be sure, but here and there the connoisseur finds astonishing pieces changing hands.

Today's jewels manifests less fineness. The fashion is for extremely large, heavy, important pieces. Rings are set with enormous stones. Some of them cover the entire joint of a finger, not delicately as the old marquise dinner rings often did, but with a kind of defiant glitter. Modern rings are bold, hard, flashing—and to many persons—desirable.

Bracelets, too, clamor for the spotlight. Gigantic, semi-precious stones, such as topaz and aquamarines, some weighing 200 karats or more, flash in fabulous bracelet settings against which a woman's wardrobe need seem a mere background. Russian emeralds, deeply rich in color and cloudy, are favorites and are used effectively.

To add impressiveness to stones that may not be quite as overpowering as their owner might like to have them appear, a method of "projected" gold mountings has been evolved that magnifies the importance of a gem materially.

The trouble with the Aluminum strikers is that they were unwilling to take pot luck.

Herman Shumlin has been a long time coming to Hollywood, though not for lack of invitations. As Broadway's most consistently successful producer and director over more than a decade, he sponsored such hits as "The Last Mile," "Grand Hotel," "The Children's Hour" and "The Little Foxes," all of which came on to fame in Hollywood.

After piloting "Watch on the Rhine" for a run of 15 months, he took the play right into Hollywood and put it on film for Warner Bros. The picture starring Bette Davis and Paul Lukas is now featured at the Monkland United Theatre until Thursday night.

Shumlin, in his first try at movie-making, had the comfort of working with familiar faces in their familiar and accustomed roles. Lillian Hellman, who wrote the play also added scenes and dialogue for the screen play by Dashiell Hammett. Paul Lukas starred in the stage production, and was certainly at home before the camera. Lucile Watson, George Coulouris, Frank Wilson and Eric Roberts re-create the key roles they played for over a year on the stage.

Hollywood's contribution to the film cast leads off brilliantly with Bette Davis, who, as twice winner of the Academy Award, is anybody's bright particular star. Geraldine Fitzgerald, Beulah Bondi, Donald Woods and Henry Daniell, all seasoned and tested players, add to an impressive supporting cast.

"Watch on the Rhine" (as a play) was marked by the New York critics as Herman Shumlin's best production, after they had already learned to expect any Herman Shumlin production to be superbly cast and mounted.

It appears that neither Warner Bros. nor Shumlin are leaving anything to chance in preserving, for the screen version, the values of a play that received the New York Drama Critics' Circle award

Several attractive newcomers to M.R.T. will be seen in roles, among them Gwendolyn Ford and Miriam Lunn, while M.R.T. habitués will be represented by Stella Sprowell, Carmen Silvera and Nellie Smith. The male parts will be handled by John Evely, Gordon Pfeffer, John Averill and Herbert Rose. Miss Kay Minogue will act as secretary to Mr. Mellor and as general understudy.

TELEPHONE CALLS

The announcement that from March 1, night rates on long distance calls will begin at 6 p.m. instead of 7 as heretofore, will be of special interest to boys and girls telephoning home from camps and barracks all over the country. The changes will be effective also on all lines of the Trans-Canada Telephone System.

Two main results are expected from this change — the added convenience of the longer night rate period, and lessened congestion on war-busy lines which, because of material shortages, cannot be extended.

Further, of course, there will be an obvious saving to users through the one-hour's lengthening of the night rate period.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

"That Lubitsch touch has become that 'Lubitsch wallop!'"

That's the word that has pressed "Heaven Can Wait," the new Ernst Lubitsch production, which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night, with Gene Tierney and Don Ameche heading an impressive cast.

Hailed as a saucy, sparkling story of the naughty, nifty nineties, "Heaven Can Wait" gives a peek through the keyhole at what made the gay old days so gay. Sparkling with forbidden adventure and stolen romance, the film reveals what went on after the ball was over—and the gas lights went out!

Lubitsch, according to those who have previewed the picture, has outdone himself—and in Hollywood the phrase has now been changed to the "Lubitsch wallop!"

The studio did everything in its power to make "Heaven Can Wait" one of the top pictures of the year. Lubitsch had owned the screen rights to the play for years, a play that had been a big European hit under the title of "Birthday." When it became known that the studio was willing to make the picture on the scale the story warranted, Lubitsch put in a call for many of the biggest players in Hollywood—and got them!

Included in the cast are such outstanding stars as Charles Coburn, who enacts the role of the skeptical, fun-loving grandfather, Louis Calhern and Spring Byington as Don's mid-Victorian parents, while Eugene Pallette and Marjorie Main play Gene's father and mother, an amusing team of scrapping Kansas City folks. Allyn Joslyn portrays Don's insufferable, immaculate cousin.

"Heaven Can Wait" is based upon the play "Birthday," by Lazlo Bus-Fekete, and the screen play was by Samson Raphaelson.

Pure Love

Pure love frees a man from himself and his acts. If we would know this in ourselves, we must yield to the Divine, the innermost sanctuary of ourselves. . . Hence comes the impulse and urgency towards active righteousness and virtue, for Love cannot be idle.—Ruybroek: Flowers of a Mystic Garden.

AT THE YORK UNTIL TUESDAY!

Olivia de Havilland, Jane Wyman, Robert Cummings and Jack Carson in a scene from the romantic laugh hit "Princess O'Rourke," which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Tuesday night.

At York Theatre

If you'd like to see a wild and Woolley-Fields day of fun and frolic—and who doesn't, these days—don't miss "Holy Matrimony," which is now playing at the York United Theatre until Tuesday night.

For when he of the pointed beard and double-jointed tongue—Monty Woolley—gets together with that lovable lady of laughter and song—Gracie Fields—there's bound to be an uproar! And that's the way it is all through the new 20th Century-Fox comedy hit, according to advance reports.

As you might imagine from the title, Kid Cupid draws a bead on bewhiskered Monty and before he knows it he's together with Gracie in a rose-covered cottage—with a laugh for every single shingle on the roof.

To Producer Nunnally Johnson goes the credit for much of the hilarity in the film, for in addition to the responsibility of filming the picture, he wrote the screen play from Arnold Bennett's famed "Buried Alive." And he made certain that the film was peopled by superior actors well known to Hollywood.

But perhaps the single most important factor in keeping the picture at the proper pitch is Gracie Fields, the famed English comedienne who brings to the screen much of the charm and buoyancy she exhibits in her nightly broadcasts. For those who haven't seen or heard her (as those who have will be the first to say) Gracie represents the finest kind of treat the screen can present. She is the perfect team-mate for Monty—and to say more would be superfluous.

As for gruff, hearty, bewhiskered Monty—he's found that there is such a thing as love. Which makes him wonder—but not too much—about the shape of things to come. But it in no wise takes the barbs out of the famous Woolley gags, and his assaults on his butler, the police and the world at large are something to behold. No one has ever denied his command of the English language—and after seeing "Holy Matrimony," all will be convinced that words are stronger than blows.

It's hard for a man to pray according to God's will, if he does not live according to it.

Worry
Your mind cannot be in two places at once. Municipal Hockey Officials To Play Midget Golden Eagles

One of the classic games in the history of hockey will be staged to-morrow afternoon at Westmount Park when the officials of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League meet the midget Golden Eagles team in an exhibition game.

A full line up of the officials has not been completed as yet but the starry aggregation will include such notables as Bert Read, coach of the Golden Eagles midgets; Bob Beal, coach of the Golden Eagles bantams; Doug Alexander, coach of the Golden Eagles juveniles; Andy McGillis, coach of the St. Leo's bantams; Beau Thurston, supervisor of hockey at the Staynor rink; J. McKissock and referees Bob Brennan, Bob Lord and Art Mann. Others will be added to the roster before game time possibly including R. Boxer, coach of the Royals midgets; C. S. Smith, coach of the Reegals bantams; C. Masterman of the Royals midgets and J. McCormick, recreation supervisor, W. R. Hill will act as manager for the officials.

There has been some controversy as to what team should play the officials with Bert Read holding out for one of the bantam teams or at least the last place Olympic midgets but as the majority of the officials feel that they should meet nothing but the best, the Golden Eagles have been chosen.

Andy McGillis has consented to play in the nets for the officials as long as he is allowed to smoke his pipe during the game as he figures the smoke-screen from his corn cob will be mighty effective in asphyxiating some of the ambitious Golden Eagles' forwards when they come near the nets.

It is reported that J. McKissock will start on one of the wings for the officials as he has had plenty of experience in tearing down the boards of the rink each spring while Bob Beal has resurrected his track clothes and intends to wear them in the belief that the midgets will be too modest to look at him and in such a manner their effectiveness will be cut down.

The management of the officials' team had a hard time getting Doug Alexander to play, it seems that the coach of the Golden Eagles' juveniles has been taking a correspondence course on "How to Play Hockey" but had only reached the third chapter of the book. But Alexander has promised to finish out the course in time by spending extra hours of study and by looking at the answers in the back of the book so he will be able to appear in to-morrow's line-up.

The only questions to be settled are the referees' problem and the weather but the executive in charge of the game is not worried about the former as it generally rains or snows every Saturday, in which case there will be no game.

St. Leo's Bantams Undefeated In Ten Games

Andy McGillis' St. Leo's Academy bantam team made a clean sweep in the bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League when they won the championship of the section without losing a game. After going through the season undefeated in ten games, the St. Leo's team eliminated the Sky Chiefs and then knocked out the second place Golden Eagles team in two straight games.

The Academy team won the title on Thursday evening when they beat the Golden Eagles 5-3 for their second successive win of the final series.

For a while it appeared as if the Golden Eagles would even up the series at one game apiece as they scored two quick counters to take a 2-0 lead early in the first period of the game with Cammie McFadden and Dave Binmore supplying the scoring power.

The winners then came back with five counters in a row with Lorne Foy and Micky Bourrassa scoring two goals apiece while Al Losito accounted for the other.

The Golden Eagles tallied another before the game ended with Johnnie Waterston supplying the goal.

The St. Leo's Academy team have waived their right of entering the QAHA playdowns as a representative of the Westmount district and they will be replaced by the runner-up Golden Eagles squad.

Staynor Club Outclasses Panthers

Richard Lord's Staynor club won the midget B title in the Westmount Municipal Hockey League on Saturday afternoon when they outclassed the Panthers 10-2. This was the third game of the series with the Staynor club winning two games and drawing one.

Jackie Martin and Wolfgang Siemers starred for the Staynor club three goals apiece while Graydon Easton scored two and Malcolm Turner and Ronnie Brambell added one apiece.

Dave Bernard and Leonard McCubbin tallied for the Panthers.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By BILLY HAROLD

The 1944 hockey season is fast drawing to a close with the school having but one more scheduled game and that is a bantam game against Belmont School on Wednesday at the Coliseum. Three of the interscholastic titles are beyond doubt. Catholic High Senior A Club just breezed through their schedule to repeat in their league and are conceded a good bet for city title honors. St. Leo's clinched the senior B honors and are awaiting the Protestant Association to decide their representative before playing for the City Senior B championship. In the junior interscholastic it is the C.H.S. squad who have had things all their own way making a run-away of the race to easily cop top billing. The bantam race which has been a two team affair all season between St. Leo's and C.H.S. is now practically narrowed down to one and barring upsets our gang looks like they will be nosed out by half a game for the title.

Our Senior B team gave a spectacular fighting display when they edged out Catholic High for the interscholastic Senior B championship.

Hats off to the Bantam B youngsters for bringing another hockey title to the school when they finished their competitive season by chalking up their thirteenth straight victory to walk off with the Westmount Bantam Q.A.H.A. title. Owing to the pressure of studies it was deemed unwise to continue in the Q.A.H.A. playdowns.

Brother Paul the driving power behind all these fine C.H.S. teams has announced that our Bantam A team will meet up with N.D.G. Academy in the C.H.S. Carnival in the Forum on March the tenth.

In a hard fought game Loyola held our Bantams to a one-all tie and in this game which had a direct bearing on the title it can be said that our gang were outlucked badly as they held a wide margin in territorial play but just couldn't seem to dent the twine and of course the brilliant goal-keeping of O'Shaughnessy in the Collegians' nets was a stumbling block.

John A. McLeish, principal of Gault Institute at Valleyfield was the perfect host as he entertained our Bantam B crowd royally when last Saturday they journeyed to this thriving little city for an exhibition hockey game. St. Leo's other two teams the Bantams and Senior B groups will also pay Gault High School a visit with the former making the trip on March 4th and the latter on Feb. 29th.

The Intermural League will

Golden Eagles Capture Juvenile Championship For Third Time

Bert Read's Golden Eagles midgets won their section title of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League when they beat the Royals in the third and deciding game of their series by a 4-0 score. This win gave the Golden Eagles the series two games to one as the Royals had won the first tilt 4-0 while the Golden Eagles captured the second 4-2.

Freddie Dejean was an outstanding figure in the Golden Eagles' win, scoring all four goals, with teammates Ian Macaulay and Cam Scott drawing assists on three of them.

After a scoreless first period, the winners started their scoring spree when Dejean netted one on a passing play with Ian Macaulay and Cam Scott. A few minutes later Dejean batted one in from a scramble around the Royals' nets.

The last two counters came in the final stanza as the Royals battled hard to overcome their opponent's lead.

This loss marked the first time in three years that R. Boxer's Royals have failed to represent Westmount in the QAHA playdowns.

Golden Eagle Midgets Beat The Royals

Dougie Alexander's Golden Eagles captured the juvenile championship of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League for the third straight time last Wednesday evening when they outclassed the Monarchs 8-1 to win the deciding game in the final playoff series.

The two teams went into the final tilt even-shouldered with each club being credited with a win and a draw but the Golden Eagles showed their superiority in this fixture and never left the issue in doubt. It was only the superb goal tending by Ken Bolduc of the Monarchs in the early stages of the game that kept the score within reason.

Two quick goals by Bill Coles gave the winners a 2-0 edge but a tally by Dick MacKinnon brought the Monarchs back into the game and for a short time it appeared as if the Monarchs would even up the score. Donn Bussiere then netted one when Bolduc was drawn out of his nets and from then on it was only a matter of what the final score would be.

Bussiere added two more before the game was over while Coles also got his third goal of the game. Other goals were scored by Dave Harvie and Jack McKissock.

Technically the Golden Eagles haven't won the juvenile title till they meet the winners of the Army-Staynor playoff series which has been held back on account of the inability of the Army to complete the series. At any rate the Golden Eagles will not meet either one of these teams until they have completed their playoffs in the QAHA city playdowns.

Start its playoffs at Lachine Arena around the end of the first week in March. Ian McGillis and his Canadian team are slight favorites to win the coveted Alec Fraser Memorial Trophy.

Westmount Highlights

by Buddy Cochrane

Many dances are being held in Westmount. Tonight is the Modernaires' Sadie Hawkins dance over in Victoria Hall. Next Saturday, March 4, there is the big spring dance sponsored by the boys' Hi-Y. This will be held at the high school and will probably be the last dance of this year sponsored by the boys' Hi-Y. On March 17, St. Patrick's Day, the girls' Hi-Y, will be holding their Sadie Hawkins dance. This will probably be held over in the junior high. The girls are becoming increasingly independent and according to their president, Joy MacKay, they are going to run this dance themselves. On March 24th or 25th, the hockey team is sponsoring a dance which will be held at the high school. Tickets for next Friday's dance are now on sale. Pete King, is in charge of the sale of tickets. Incidentally, Pete, the Modernaires' business manager, plays an important part in one of the band's novelty numbers. It is a sight for all to see.

While on the subject of dances, Hal Leavitt is trying to think of a good day to hold the long-awaited Red Cross tea dance number two. Number one, that was held a way back in the fall, was such a success that Doug Lawley wants another one. Hartley Fowler, Y. M. C. A. worker who has just returned from Mexico, will address a city-wide Hi-Y meeting down at Central Y tonight. Next Thursday will see the first regular boys' Hi-Y meeting for some weeks... The Senior A hockey team took Verdun into camp on Tuesday to the sweet and pleasant tune of 7-2. On Monday the Senior

B boys defeated St. Laurent... Tuesday was literature for the armed forces day. Results were only fair... Despite the vehicular men's strike last Friday's Park Slide night was definitely a success.

Hobby Show president David Johnson has been studying so hard of late that his vice-president, Eleanor LeRiche, has had to work several hours a day. Contributions for the magazine have been coming in quite well of late. The deadline is the beginning of March. Arnaud Maggs and his art department have finally started work... More Hobby Show publicity posters are needed. If you have a desire to serve get in touch with Derek Ramsay, Barbara Lamb, John Pepper, or Pat McGoun... Parker L. Wearing read some of his poetry to the West Hill boys' Hi-Y club last week. They liked it... Photographs of the youth of Ilba grouped in front of their signs are available from Ross Wiggs Quasi Common...

One quirk of the war and its effect on shipping is the fact that, although Rio de Janeiro has been suffering a shortage of sugar, Pernambuco is exporting sugar to Argentina. Pernambuco, or Recife, is far to the north of Rio and Argentina to the south, but ships are available along the direct Pernambuco-Buenos Aires route.

Venezuela and Chile have signed a new kind of pact - a cultural agreement which provides new stimulus to exchanges of educational and cultural materials and personalities.

Hubbell Picks Reds to Win Flag; Pitching and 4-F's Are Reasons

NEW YORK - Chicago Cubs are the winter book favorites in the National League despite Philip K. Wrigley and his girls' softball league and the James boys—Gallagher and Wilson, who are not a vaudeville team. The reason is the rarest collection of 4-F ivory ever assembled in one dugout.

Carl Hubbell

Naturally, a lot of the boys like that old habit, the Cardinals, but it remained for Carlos Hubbell to remind us that the second place Reds of last season have been entirely overlooked. While Lonny Frey was the 24th member of the Cincinnati club to join the Armed Forces, the near perfect second baseman is the only one who will be missed, stresses Long Pants Hubbell, the old screwballer. Hubbell, now directing Giant farms, points out that Cincinnati's batch of 4-F's is little short of the Wrigley Field array - Johnny Vander Meer, Steve Messner and Eric Tipton, among them.

HANDLER McKECHNIE

But what is even more important and the reason he picks them to grab the gonfalon, stresses Hub, is that the Rhinelanders should have the most efficient pitching in the wheel with the veterans Bucky Walters, Elmer Riddle, Vander Meer, Ray Starr, Joe Beggs and Clyde Shoun.

Bill McKechnie is especially adept at handling pitchers. In addition to the Cincinnati club's current stars, Paul Derringer scaled the heights under him in the Rhineland after being kicked around no little. Deacon Bill brought the aging Jim Turner and Lou Fette and Ben Cantwell to hand in Boston. He developed Wee Willie Sherdel of the slow stuff, Jesse Haines and the eccentric Flint Rhem in St. Louis, the bespectacled Lee Meadows and Carmen Hill in Pittsburgh.

This reminds up that McKechnie has been around. He is the first to guide four National League clubs, won pennants with all except Boston, and in the Hub his work was so notable that he was elected manager of the year in 1937.

Records reveal that McKechnie has managed National League clubs in more than 3000 games. The coming pennant chase will be his 22nd as a pilot. His service record among National League managers is excelled only by John J. McGraw, who piloted the Giants for 31 campaigns.

MORTALITY RATE HIGH

Out of almost 100 who have bossed fortunes of National League clubs since the turn of the century, only a scant half dozen lasted 10 or more seasons, which gives you a rough idea of the high mortality rate among master minds. Completing the sextet who succeeded in going the route are Fred Clarke of the old Pirates, Wilbert Robinson of the Daffier Dodgers, Chille Willie Terry and Frank Frisch. Even with all the turnover, Bill Terry, the Cheerless Leader, could not find a job when he made up his mind to do baseball a favor and come back. Then he decided the game was too cheap.

The new general manager was inspecting the branch office. "How long have you been working here?" he asked the office boy. "Ever since the day the boss threatened to fire me," replied the young man.

Definition: "A committee is a gathering of important people, who, singly, can do nothing, but together can decide that nothing can be done."

JACK TRENT'S Sport Topics

The Fox

Among the many sports writers and others who have chosen all-time all-star hockey teams this winter, it is surprising how few have mentioned Edouard "Newsy" Lalonde. Perhaps it is because many modern writers never saw Newsy play and know little of the game as it was before the National Hockey League became big business; perhaps it's because the thickening mists of the passing years have dulled the memories of those who saw him in his hey-day.

The writer, over a period of many years, observed Frank Nighbor, Howie Morenz, Frank Boucher, Odie Cleghorn, Tommy Smith, Joe Malone, Frank Foyston, Eddie Gerard, and most of the other great centre ice stars. (Yes, Eddie Gerard broke into pro. ranks at centre). All were outstanding in one or more particulars. Morenz was the most spectacular player who ever donned a pair of skates; Nighbor the coolest and most calculating and the player who developed the poke check to a perfection no other ever approached; and Nels Stewart and Joe Malone could score goals, and more goals. Yet, if the choice is to be made on the basis of contributing most to the winning of hockey games, your chronicler will take Newsy. Few players have possessed the will to win in as great a degree. To win was the beginning and the end of all his play. To that end he brought speed, stick-handling, generalship, and all the tricks the older generation of hockey players knew—and they knew more tricks than the players of today because they had to. The alternative to holding up your end without wasting time on the penalty bench in those days was being "ridden out of the league." Many an outstanding amateur faded away when he turned pro. and had to run the gamut of the Cleghorns, Coutus, Halls, Pitres, McNamaras, Mummerys, McGiffins, Davidsons, and Corbeaus. Among this tough assembly Lalonde was called "the fox"—and not for nothing.

Lalonde earned the nickname of "Newsy" when, as a youngster, he sold newspapers on the streets of Cornwall and played a little hockey when he had time. There are stories to the effect that he had to hide his hockey stick from his parents, for they were vigorously opposed to him playing.

Lalonde first came into prominence with the old Renfrew Millionaires, an aggregation of all-stars recruited from all over the country by wealthy Renfrew lumbermen and sportsmen. The team included, among others, Frank and Lester Patrick, and Cyclone Taylor. Pirating stars from other teams wasn't against the rules in those days; the owners with the biggest roll got the players. They didn't expect to make much money. All they asked was a run in thrills and excitement for their investment in the game, and they got it. Art Ross (now manager of the Boston Bruins) was playing for Haileybury at about that time for a salary of $300 per game. paid him by the silver magnates of the north country.

Lalonde later came to Canadiens where he hit his peak, and for many years was one of the most feared players in the game. He had the cunning of an Indian, and the reputation of being coldly ruthless in keeping an even score, or better, with anyone who wanted to play rough. The feuds between Newsy and Joe Hall and Eddie Gerard are still talked about by old-timers.

Newsy was always near the top in scoring, frequently led the league. But his numerous evening of old scores, and the aversion most players had to crossing him, made him unpopular with many of his opponents. Some old-timers think this once cost him the scoring championship of the old N.H.A., when he led by some five goals over Joe Malone of Quebec, with only one game left to play between Ottawa and Quebec, at the ancient capital. Joe scored seven goals in that game (if memory serves us right) to beat out Lalonde. Malone was a great player and might have earned them all. Nobody can say. But there were plenty of raised eyebrows and some cynical references to the manner in which Joe had waltzed through the great Ottawa defence.

Lalonde was fast—among the fastest skaters of his time. He frequently stick-handled past both opposing defence men, drew the goaler out, skated around him, and deposited the puck in the corner of the net with all the finesse of a golfer sinking a putt. Newsy did this regularly in spite of the fact he was a marked man every time he got the puck. He was one of the few players the game has known who brought everyone to their feet when he started a rush. Sprague Cleghorn, Cyclone Taylor, Howie Morenz, Eddie Gerard, and sometimes King Clancy could do it. Not many others.

Newsy was no individualist, however. He would often draw the defence to one side and slip passes to Didier Pitre and Louis Berlinguette, both of whom had accurate devastating shots. Pitre, especially, was fast. He shares with Babe Dye and Charlie Conacher the reputation of having the fastest shot the game ever knew. The opposing defence never knew what Newsy was going to do.

Years after most players hang up their skates for good, Newsy was still starring for Canadiens. He was around forty, and still so good that the Montreal hockey world was scandalized when, in 1924, Leo Dandurand sold him to Calgary to make way for a youngster named Howie Morenz. Newsy went to the fast Western Canada League and against such players as the two Cooks, Eddie Shore, and others, promptly led the league in scoring, despite his age.

Yes, Newsy had everything that goes into the making of a great player. Incidentally, Lalonde was as great a standout in lacrosse as in hockey.

Obituary

Funeral services were held at St. George's Church on Thursday for Mrs. Frederick Neil Southam, 68, wife of the well known publisher and president of the Southam Company Limited, who passed away at her residence 57 Belvedere Road, on Tuesday after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Southam was born in Montreal and was the former Miss Agnes Henderson Linton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Linton. She took a particular interest in the Montreal Association of Decorative Art and served as president of that association for many years. She was also an active worker for the Red Cross, and a member of St. George's Church.

Socialism, like life, appears to be just what you make it.

THE NEED GROWS AS VICTORY NEARS

$10,000,000 needed NOW!

This is the year of supreme effort, the year Red Cross will be needed as never before. And as our all-out victory drive gains momentum, as casualty lists mount, as the horrors of war spread wider and sink deeper, this need will grow.

We must see them through: the fighting men on every front, the gallant Merchant Navy, the wounded and maimed in British and Canadian hospitals, Prisoners of War, the homeless war orphans of Britain and the suffering millions of Europe.

Only the Red Cross meets this call for vital life saving food for Prisoners of War parcels, medicines, comforts, blood serum and nursing that spell survival for so many. There is no one else to do the job.

That is why we cannot fail: why we ask you to open your hearts and purses, giving to the limit of your ability.

Remember, Victory will not be cheap; the real need lies ahead.
