

Busy program of extra-curricular activities in Valley schools

This is the first of two articles describing and discussing the 1972 extra-curricular programme of students, particularly at the secondary level, in the Chateauguay Valley. The author is director general of the Protestant Regional School Board of Chateauguay Valley.

BY NORMAN W. WOOD

During the present school year, the extra-curricular program in Valley schools has, as usual, been an active one. (The term "extra-curricular" is traditional, but singularly inappropriate in that it conveys the suggestion of something relatively unimportant, something that is a merely additional, an "extra" to the curriculum of the classroom. In reality, most activities are an invaluable part of students' education and many are a close extension of the work of the classroom.)

Activities that take place outside the classroom are important at both elementary and high school levels. At the secondary level they tend to be more numerous as adolescents learn to take an increasing part in organizing their own activities.

The past four months have witnessed several noteworthy highlights, involving student groups going outside the Province. It should be noted that all activities that take place outside the regular school hours - and most do - are entirely dependent on the goodwill of teachers who give their time voluntarily. The teacher's reward lies in the rapport established with the students and the knowledge that they have made a major contribution to the students' development. In organizing such major activities as out-of-town trips, exceptional dedication is required for the problems encountered in planning are legion. The Regional Board is fortunate in having many dedicated persons among its personnel.

Sudbury Hockey Trip
During the Christmas vacation Mr. Russell Haworth of the Physical Education Department at Chateauguay Valley Regional High School, took a group of 18 boys by bus on a five day trip to Sudbury to take part in an Eastern Canada hockey competition. Welland Music Trip

In April, Mr. Boyd Pellow and Mr. Peter Frombach, instrumental music teachers at Howard S. Billings High School, took two bus loads of students on a four-day exchange visit to Welland. On return visit the past weekend, seventy-five Welland players and seventy-five Chateauguay students played to a delighted audience of 700 at Howard S. Billings on Saturday night. Caribbean Cruise vacation, thirty-three students from Julius Richardson and Mary Gardner Schools participated in an exceptionally ambitious trip that included a visit to New York City and visits to three Caribbean Islands on a cruise ship. Accompanying the students were seven Chateauguay educators: Mr. G. A. Campbell, Mr. D. Feltham, Miss V. King, Mrs. C. Pert, Mrs. P. Ruter, Mr. L. Springer and principal Don Roussie. (It is worth noting that these persons both gave up their Easter vacations and paid their own fares in order to make the trip possible).

Denmark Gymnastic Trip
Mr. A. Petersen, Head of the Physical Education Department of Howard S. Billings High School, used the Easter vacation to take eight boys from the school by plane to Denmark to take part in gymnastic competitions in three Danish cities.

Niagara
In May, forty-three Grade 6 students of Julius Richardson School will, for the second year in a row, make a six day trip to the Niagara Peninsula, stopping off in Ottawa and Kingston en route. Pupils from Ontario will return by visiting Chateauguay.

Finances
One might well ask, how are such trips paid for? Short trips by bus can be financed from a section in the school budget that provides limited funds for such purposes and which is "admissible" for Quebec grants. Most of the funds for major trips, however, are raised by the school or group concerned through a variety of money-raising activities. Accommodation out of town is generally arranged in student homes by a co-operating school. A special debt of gratitude is owed the leaders of out-of-town activities, who not only plan the activity, give their time and accept responsibility for accompanying students, but also raise the funds that make the activity possible. School activities can be classified in a variety of ways. One of the most noteworthy groupings in elementary schools are field trips, such as trips to Upper Canada Village and to Quebec City as well as a wide variety of trips involving lesser distances such as to the Planetarium.

Using a classification employed by the Department of Education the following indicates the activities now taking place in the board's high schools and the numbers participating:

Scientific Activities
Electronics Club (10), Radio Club (21), Driver Education Group (160), Woodword Club (50) Biology Club (50).

Literary and Artistic
School newspaper (55), Debating (35), Art Club (25), Drama Club (400), photo Club (15), Choral Society (50), Band (160), Journalist Club (35).

Social-Cultural

Sports Activities

Hemmingford, Havelock seek to retain ties

The Townships of Havelock and Hemmingford and the Village of Hemmingford want to be restored to the Western part of the County of Huntingdon when the new electoral map of the Province is drawn up.

The proposed map, changing the boundaries of almost every riding in Quebec, was tabled this Spring in the National Assembly. It proposes breaking up the present County of Huntingdon, dropping off the Eastern section and adding the Western part to a new riding to be called Salaberry. The Western section would be included in a new riding to be called Beauharnois, under the suggested changes.

The Quebec Government has said that it will listen to representations about the new map later. The Liberal Association of the riding has protested the change as far as the County is concerned, but full details of the association's protest have never been made public.

The two townships and Hemmingford Village have gone on record protesting the change, through resolutions of their municipal councils. Their stand has been supported by the Huntingdon County Council, which passed a similar resolution.

The basic resolution reads as follows:

WHEREAS the proposed new electoral map of the Province of Quebec has recently been tabled in the National Assembly;

WHEREAS the proposed new electoral map separated the Township of Havelock, the Township of Hemmingford and the Village of Hemmingford from the Western part of the former County of Huntingdon;

WHEREAS the three above mentioned Corporations, have always been joined and have much in common with the Municipal Corporations situated in the Western Section of the proposed new electoral map.

WHEREAS the Medical Centres, Huntingdon and Ormstown Hospitals; the Regional High School; the County Seat; the Registry Office; the Judicial District and the Telephone Directory used in our area contains only the places situated in the Western section.

THEREFORE it is: MOVED by Councillor Salter, Seconded by Councillor Sample, THAT the proposed new Electoral map have the same boundaries in the Eastern section as are presently the boundaries of the County of Huntingdon.

In Hemmingford Village the resolution was moved by Councillor Robert Petch and seconded by Councillor René Poissant.

In Hemmingford Township it was moved by Councillor Hervé Duquette and seconded by Councillor Gordon Lamb. In Havelock it was moved by Councillor Ernest Sutton and seconded by Councillor Harmel Emard. In Huntingdon County Council it was moved by Councillor Graham Salter and seconded by Councillor Sample.

Who wouldn't give blood if a pretty young miss like this Red Cross worker asked for it? Rod Beattie, for one, couldn't resist. The Red Cross Blood Donor's Clinic, held Monday May 15, from 3 to 5:30 in the afternoon, and 7 to 9 at night at the Canadian Legion Hall, was an outstanding success. The goal was 175 pints of blood and the clinic fell only two pints short of this objective.

Water supply still Huntingdon topic

Plans were discussed at Town Council, on Monday, May 15, for the installation of a water main between the filtration plant and Cley and Tinker in order to meet the increased water demands of that company.

Town Planning Engineer Jacques Benoit was summoned from Montreal to examine the town's facilities and investigate this possibility. He suggested that perhaps another filter be built. This would in effect increase the town's filtered water capacity by 500,000 gallons, and would give a total of three million gallons of water daily. This plan would also be able to give more pressure to people in the town.

Mr. Benoit was instructed to draw up more detailed plans as soon as possible so that Council could meet with Cley and Tinker with specific proposals.

Alderman Wilfrid Laplante proposed that instead of planting flowers on the boulevard in Garden City, crabapple trees be planted. The present cost for planting flowers is $80 annually. If 16 trees were planted, the initial outlay would be greater, but there would be a saving in the long run. The trees cost $6 each, and $3.50 for planting, for a total cost of $152. However, the cost of replanting the trees is covered in the planting charge. Council accepted the proposal.

Alderman Georges Lazure raised the point that there were some sections of Cemetery Street that were poorly lighted. Accordingly it was proposed by Alderman J.D. McGerrigle and seconded by Dr. J. S. Gaud that two lights be placed on Cemetery Street in areas which are presently dimly lit.

Lee's Corner man dies in car crash

Albert Deschambault, 52, of Lee's Corner in the township of Godmanchester, was killed Saturday, May 13, at 2:30 a.m. when the car he was driving hit a telephone pole.

Mr. Deschambault was driving home from Valleyfield, just past the bridge on Larocque Road, when he lost control of his car on a curve. The car veered onto the shoulder of the road, hit the pole, and rolled over into a ditch.

Mr. Deschambault and his son Denis were pinned inside the car. Another occupant, Claude Daoust, had thrown himself down in the back seat, and was able to crawl out the back window. He heard Denis calling for help and was able to free him from the car. Mr. Deschambault had meanwhile been crying out to see if his son was all right. The two youths managed to pull him out of the wreckage and flag down a passing motorist, who got the ambulance and police.

The victim was taken to Hotel-Dieu de Valleyfield Hospital where he died at 5:30 a.m. of internal hemorrhaging. His son was released after X-rays, and Claude Daoust was unhurt.

Mr. Deschambault is survived by his wife, Leona (nee Robidoux) and five sons and daughters, ranging in age from 13 to 20.

OUR MISTAKE

In reporting the victory by two Chateauguay Valley Regional High School students in the Chrysler Trouble Shooting Contest in last week's Gleaner, we goofed.

We reported one of the winners, John Furey, 18, as being a resident of Chateauguay. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Furey, Brooklet, R. R. 1, Athelstan, and lives at home.

Mgr. David's anniversary marked by accolades

The celebration of Mgr. Joseph-Arsène David's 60th anniversary as a priest last Sunday, May 14, was marked with accolades and a trip down the Catholic Church's memory lane.

Mgr. David's anniversary Mass was a combination of the old and the new: on the one hand, there was the new with concelebration and parts of the Mass said in the vernacular, and on the other, the choir sang most of the Mass in Latin.

Guest clergymen included: Mgr. Percival Caza, formerly Bishop of Valleyfield; Bishop Guy Belanger of Valleyfield;

Father Jacques David, nephew of Mgr. David; Rev. A. M. Reid of Dewittville, a retired Anglican minister and personal friend of Mgr. David; and Father Marcel Gareau, who was Mgr. David's assistant during his years in Huntingdon, and is now chaplain at Chateauguay Valley Regional School.

The two readings were read by Rev. A. M. Reid and Mayor Claude Pilon of Huntingdon. The gospel was read by Bishop Guy Belanger.

In his homily Bishop Belanger pointed out the similarity between the feast of the Ascension being celebrated that day, and the career of Mgr. David. The theme of the feast of the Ascension is "Go and preach to all nations" and this was exemplified in the Monsignor's life.

He also saluted the Monsignor as a witness to the living history of the diocese, since he was born four years before it was founded. Bishop Belanger (continued on page 8)

Active retirement

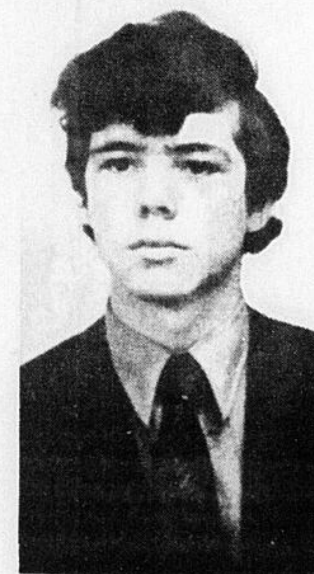

Retirement ages are being lowered each year, and with favorable retirement funds, the 55-year-old pensioner is no longer a rarity. However, Monsignor Joseph-Arsène David who just turned 84, on Monday, May 15, has only been retired for three years.

He still says the early Mass (at 7:30 a.m.) and preaches the sermon every Sunday at St. Joseph Catholic Church Huntingdon. Last week Mgr. David celebrated his sixtieth anniversary as a priest.

The Monsignor's good work has not gone unnoticed. In 1952 he was made a canon by the Bishop of Valleyfield. (a canon is a priest who helps the bishop in the supervision of the diocese. In years gone by a canon would also sing in the cathedral choir.) In 1956, he was made a Monsignor. The father's reaction to this honor was, "That means they're satisfied you didn't break much".

All of this happened to a man the doctors thought had tuberculosis 61 years ago when he was a seminarian. They sent him out to St. Boniface to recuperate, and it was discovered there that the diagnosis was wrong. His first parish was St. Agnes de Dundee where he built a school and a church. For sentimental reasons this was Mgr. David's most enjoyable parish. "I had only a hundred families", he said, "and it was more familiar.

Good choice of courses for district golfers

District golfers are out in force again this week.

The Gleaner has made a survey of four clubs easily accessible to players in the southwestern part of the Chateauguay Valley: St. Anicet, Malone, Hemmingford and Trout River. All were in full operation last weekend.

St. Anicet
St. Anicet opened last Saturday, with all greens in use. These were less winterkill than last year.

The club hopes to hire a pro as soon as possible for their expanded 45-hole operation. A club captain will be named in the near future.

By the end of this week all greens will have been chemically treated to take out the last traces of winterkill. Other work to be done will be more clearing of the rough, and putting in traps for the new eighteen. Since this new layout was only started last August, it should be in much better playing condition this year.

There will a slight increase in fees for new members this year. Old members will continue to pay $125, but new initiates will pay $150. Membership for juniors is unchanged at $53. For Pay-as-you-play golfers, green fees remain the same, with a $3 charge on weekdays and $5 on the weekends.

Last year St. Anicet had a membership of 200 and hopes to increase this number to 300.

Malone Golf Course at Malone, N.Y., has planned very few changes for this year. The major one will be a new kind of sand in all traps. Actually it is "glass" sand. The advantage is that it doesn't pack as hard and is easier to drain.

Malone has been open since May 6, with temporary greens, and had all greens in use by last weekend. Club pro, Bob Smith, who is back for another season, said that winterkill had done a lot of damage to his fairways and greens but he hopes to have it cleared up before too long.

Membership fee at this course is $75 plus initiation fee of $50. The number of members has increased this year from 600 to 700 and there is a waiting list.

Hemmingford
Hemmingford is discussing adding another 18 holes with construction starting this fall. Club manager Henri Legault says no decision has been reached.

Otherwise everything is much the same as last year. There is a new pro, Bernard Periard, who replaces Jean-Guy Poirier. The course opened last Thursday, May 11, with all greens in operation.

Green fees are the same as last year, $3.50 during the week, and $6 on the weekend. Hemmingford limits the number of its members to 320, and there is a waiting list.

Trout River
The main change at Trout River this year will be in the Death car in Valleyfield garage after accident. Vehicle was almost totally demolished

THIS 'N THAT

CORRECTION - in the May 3 issue of The Gleaner it was stated in this column that the new minister for Huntingdon United Church would arrive at the end of the current month. Mrs. Robert Gill has advised us that he and his family will not arrive until the end of July. The couple's daughter is not married, as stated, but they do have a school age son.

CONSTABLE, N.Y. - ten miles from Oortown, extends a cordial invitation to all to attend an Open House and Inspection on the occasion of their Twentieth Anniversary to be held on Sunday, May 21, from two to four p.m. at Station No. 1, Constable.

THE ABOVE INVITATION - is extended on behalf of Constable Volunteer Firemen. These men are members of the Mutual Aid Fire Protection and have many friends on this side of the border.

SPEAKING OF FIREMEN - the Jayne-Lisa Restaurant - Motel at Fort Covington provided excellent banquet facilities for the Franklin County Association of Fire Chiefs annual meeting on Saturday. Approximately 200 Fire Chiefs, their wives and guests enjoyed a sumptuous smorgasbord. Guest speaker was John Murray, president of the New York State Association of Fire Chiefs, from Albany. Attending from this side of the border were: Fire Chief Ivan and Mrs. Barrington, Ormstown and Parish of St. Malachie; Fire Chief Dan and Mrs. Tully and Assistant Fire Chief Donald and Mrs. Grant, Hinchinbrooke; Fire Chief Kyle and Mrs. Blair and Assistant Fire Chief Andy Ocnas, Franklin; Assistant Fire Chief Vincent and Mrs. Johnson, Huntingdon; Fire Chief Guy and Mrs. Chretien, St. Anicet; Fire Chief Bill Martin and guest, Godmanchester. Fire Chief Elton "Cappy" Cappiello of Fort Covington was in charge of arrangements. Dancing was enjoyed later in the evening.

POLICE SERGEANT PHILIPPE CARDINAL - Town of Huntingdon Police Dept., is completing his third and final special police school of investigation course at Joliette on May 19 and is expected home this weekend.

STRUCTURAL STEEL - for the Fire Hall and Town Hall in Oortown arrived on Monday and Tuesday which means that the complex will start taking shape rapidly in the next couple of weeks.

VALLEYFIELD - students at the CEGEP here were evacuated on Monday when it was reported that a bomb had been set to explode. A thorough investigation failed to reveal anything unusual, fortunately.

POLICE CHIEF JOFFRE L'HEUREUX - of Oortown, states that robberies and other misdemeanors here have been reduced by 40 to 50 per cent since 24-hour police protection was adopted.

WE'VE BEEN TOLD - that some merchants in this area are discounting American money. Up to 10%, if our informer is correct. We can only say that any businessmen doing this must be anxious to refuse business. If the amounts were in the thousands or even hundreds of dollars for machinery or other purchases of that nature, we'd understand, but for over-the-counter merchandise at retail stores... no way do we think merchants will gain. Dozens of stores in Malone, Fort Covington, Chateaugay, Massena and so on never discounted Canadian $$$ when ours were lower and those who did soon found out their business with Canadians dropped to near nil. The same holds true for us. Think it over. ORMSTOWN - Gordon Upton recently returned to visit his family and friends here after spending the past year working and visiting Western Canada and parts of the United States. Gord plans to return to Calgary in a month to work.

COUNTY COUNCIL - at a recent meeting the Eastern sections of the present County of Huntingdon registered strong disapproval of becoming part of the County of Beauharnois as suggested in the proposed new boundaries. Resolutions were made and forwarded to Prime Minister Bourassa. They wish to be a part of the present County of Huntingdon (whatever it is to be called) and rightly so. Theirs is primarily a rural farming area as ours and they have absolutely no wish to be associated with Valleyfield, Beauharnois, Chateaugay or St. Johns. Their feelings are justifiable.

ORMSTOWN - Mrs. Earl Blair of the Upper Ormstown Concession was fishing Saturday from the bank of the Chateaugay River in front of the R. Greenbank residence, Fairview Rd., Huntingdon and landed a beautiful 1 1/2 lb. speckled trout. Unfortunately, The Gleaner photographers were in Fort Covington and Valleyfield until near midnight and the fish was cleaned and made ready for the fry pan. Fish abound in the Chateaugay River... the various bass, perch, pike, muskellonge, dore and sturgeon but now we're hearing of various species of trout being caught. This is the first trout caught by the Blairs and they were elated rightfully. Wouldn't it be wonderful if the Chateaugay River was "cleaned" and all the fish caught were edible.

SORRY - short on space this week. With Monday a holiday, perhaps we'll be allowed more space for next week's issue.

CORRESPONDENTS AND ADVERTISERS - are advised to prepare their copy early for next week's Gleaner... we'll be a day short for production and we can't publish a newspaper on Thursday when people want it Wednesday. Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

TROUT RIVER GOLF CLUB - due to unfavourable weather this spring, the Trout River Golf Club has been forced to re-schedule its opening tournament until some time in June. The lack of warm weather has been a problem to all golf courses in the area, and golfers are complaining about being three weeks behind getting into the swing of things.

THOSE BONES - discovered in the remains of a pair of rubber boots in the ashes of the small house razed by fire which broke out about 8:40 p.m. May 2 at Lee's Corner were not human bones.

AND - Quebec Provincial Police have determined that 18-year-old Brian Everhault of Irondequoit, N.Y., whose body was found on April 20 by David Bowen in a clump of cedars on his farm at Dundee, died from cyanide intoxication or poisoning. Death was ruled a suicide.

Huntingdon area port

The Huntingdon Customs office on Prince Street in Huntingdon has recently undergone changes which will make it the center of customs operations in the Chateaugay Valley.

Area Collector, M.A. Sanschagrín, head man at the customs office explained that before Huntingdon was an independent port, that is, an office which collected customs and excise taxes from a certain area. The five border crossings in Huntingdon's jurisdiction were Trout River, Herdman, Franklin, Jamieson's Lines and the Penn Central Railroad. The independent ports in the province outside of Montreal were organized into three districts: Sherbrooke, Quebec and Lacolle, which is the area Huntingdon belongs to.

Now however, as of April 1, the Sherbrooke district has been amalgamated into the Quebec and Lacolle districts. As a result of this shuffle Huntingdon has been made an area port, and given responsibility for three more offices: Dundee, Hemmingford and Valleyfield.

Because of this move two new transfers are coming to the Huntingdon office. Yves Blier, who was formerly the collector at the Drummondville port, will begin duties on Monday, May 15. Miss Jeanette Leduc, formerly of Lacolle, has also been transferred here at her own request. Miss Leduc has two sisters in Huntingdon, Mrs. Réal Cardinal of King St. and Mrs. Réal Boucher.

The Huntingdon area port employs some 56 people.

Rev. J. Sergeantson is bid farewell

Members of Ecumenica gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hooker on Tuesday evening to tender a farewell to Rev. and Mrs. John Sergeantson who leave the district in the near future to take up residence in England.

Mrs. Albert Chabot, Chairman of the committee expressed the appreciation of the group for the keen interest and support of the movement during their stay in the Huntingdon - Ormstown parish.

A gift was presented with best wishes for a pleasant trip and happiness in their new parish in England.

A social evening followed when about twenty guests enjoyed a cold buffet.

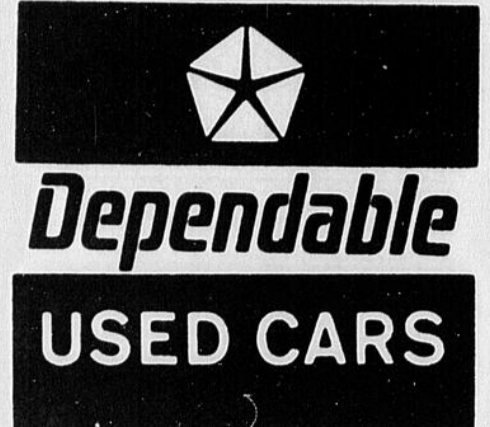

Street letter boxes used in England and in Canada were called pillar boxes for the obvious reason that they resembled pillars.

Aubrey - Riverfield held their W.I. meeting on May 11 at the home of Mrs. John Hamilton with a good attendance.

The meeting opened with the Ode and Collect. The roll call was answered with a household hint. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Donations of money from 3 former members were received. Last year the children had a nice showing of vegetables with Mr. T. McMahon as judge at the 4-H Club Show. This year it was decided the W.I. would donate $15 for prizes to encourage more children to take part. This project is to be taken care of by the Agriculture Convener, Aggie Milne.

Sixteen ditty bags have been made and filled for the save the Children Fund. Thanks were given Lillian Wolodarsky, Annie Hamilton and Myra Walsh who were in charge. Flowers are to be planted this year again at the War Memorial in Riverfield Presbyterian cemetery.

Current event by convener, Agriculture Aggie Milne. No cluttering up homes with unused articles of clothing, etc. Many needy people can use these things bringing comfort to them and happiness to you because you gave. Make a clearance at house cleaning time. The Salvation Army truck will be at W.A. Allen's Shop on May 24. Plan to visit Ottawa this year at Tulip Time.

Education: convener, Mary Templeton's report death with problems in education. There are not enough exam papers for students and papers are often in poor condition. Education not meeting the needs and demands of tomorrow in comparison with some of the other countries.

Home Economics convener: Hazel Robertson had a follow-up on Plastic bags for cooking from last month. They have been known to explode. This is caused by gatherings of fat known as bangers. This can be prevented by shaking flour inside the bag. An article was read on how to "stretch your food dollar further".

Publicity Convener, Lydia Orr reported that the New C.B.C. building, Maison de Radio, Canada, situated farther east along Dorchester is gigantic. It is a block wide concrete stone structure with a 23 story black glass tower rising from the centre. One problem is that there is no cafeteria yet. It will be all finished and in working order by fall and the 3,000 on staff of RadioCanada will be working together in one building for the first time. Laurent Picard executive vice president takes over as president, August 1.

Myra Walsh, health and welfare convener reported on the cancer drug on plants. A search through the world of plants is opening up potential anti-cancer drugs a chemist reported on Saturday. A promising one is named Maytansin, derived from a shrub that grows in Ethiopia and Kenya. In early tests Maytansin is doubling the life span of mice suffering from leukemia. About 100 tumor-inhibiting chemicals have been found in plants.

A collection was taken amounting to $2.94.

A short report and highlights of the County Convention held in Ormstown Presbyterian Church was given by President Olive Craig. The mystery parcel given by Annie Hamilton was drawn by a guest, Heather Furrall. The meeting closed with the National Anthem. Refreshments were prepared by the hostesses Annie Hamilton, Maude Gruer, and Mary Templeton. A successful plant and white elephant sale was in charge of the committee.

Speaking Out for Huntingdon

Even in this changing world there are people who are loathe to move away from the neighborhoods where they were born and grew up.

Families may scrap with the people next door, the street may be swarming with noisy kids, or the garbage collection service may be terrible. But still, moving away would mean the loss of old friends and familiar conditions.

The family of the man who is transferred by his company to another city doesn't have much choice. Those people must tear out their roots and start all over again in a new community.

Residents of the Eastern end of Huntingdon County are in the latter position these days, and they're not looking forward to moving day. Under the changes proposed in the Quebec electoral map, the Townships of Hemmingford and Havelock are to be forcibly removed from their friends in Huntingdon, Ormstown, Franklin Centre and so on, and put into bed in a new riding to be called Beauharnois.

To their credit, they are doing their best to oppose the change. The municipal councils concerned, together with that of Hemmingford Village, as well as the County Council, have protested against the proposed change.

The resolutions of opposition cite such things as the Huntingdon County Hospital, the Barrie Memorial Hospital, the Regional High Schools, the County seat and other facilities to which they have long been attached. Even the present telephone book, they point out, includes Hemmingford along with Huntingdon and other Western centres.

There has been considerable grumbling about the proposed changes, but very little concrete action. It's not that the changes suggested by the Government aren't valid, for they are, and there is a need for them. The census in this region, however, is that it should be possible to retain Huntingdon as an agricultural county. Perhaps this would mean an ungainly long strip along the United States border, but there seem to be no real reasons why the accommodation could not be made.

The name Huntingdon has old and honorable associations. If necessary, most people would be willing, albeit reluctantly, to give it up if the geographic area could remain rural. Call us Pierre Elliot Trudeau County, if you must, but leave us our farm atmosphere, and don't make our minority English-speaking voice any smaller.

It will soon be time to have our say before the Legislative Committee which is hearing complaints about the proposed changes. The resolutions of Hemmingford and Havelock are a good start for any protest movement. But a great deal more support, on a much broader scale, will be necessary to prevent electoral Huntingdon as we know it today from passing into history.

which I could not wish upon my worst enemy, much less upon Mr. Johnstone or the hundreds of other potential victims.

Secondly, I resent Johnstone's implication that his pressure group began originally as a "grass roots" movement when, in fact, the initial core of it consisted of "sod transplants" from the city.

Johnstone uses his city-honed public relations techniques to orchestrate a crescendo of resistance, cajoling even those who would protest certain details of road construction rather than opposing the principle of a new road itself.

Lastly, having been married to Molly Laine for more than ten years, I find it an extreme personal embarrassment that Johnstone has not seen fit to properly apprise himself and The Gleaner readership of this fact. He had better take notice forthwith that she is not "a Miss" but the Mrs. Molly or Mrs. Edward Laine. If Johnstone should persist in distorting the facts, by God, I'll bless him but good.

Yours sincerely,
 Edward W. Laine.

Editor,
 The Gleaner,
 Huntingdon, Que.
 Dear Sir:

As a frequent contributor to The Gleaner on numerous issues during the last four years, I would like the privilege of having one more article such as this present letter in which to express some gratitude, and to correct some information.

First, may I say thank you to the Gleaner for your recent carrying of news about a proposed Bible Society Service project. Your coverage of it, and the accompanying coupon for reply was most satisfactory. However, I regret to report that only one citizen returned a coupon requesting assistance with spring cleaning. Consequently, this project has been cancelled since, despite the willingness of youth to do the work, there seem to be no "customers" who have the need for assistance at this time of year.

Secondly, thank you for your recent excellent handling of the interview held between your staff member, Eric Belanger, and yours truly. Despite my initial shock at seeing it on the front page, I have greatly appreciated the kind of response it seems to have generated in terms of public knowledge of the matter.

Thirdly, may I correct an error or two in information you have printed about the new minister for Huntingdon pastoral charge, United Church of Canada, The Rev. Kenneth McLaughlin, presently of Ayers Cliff, will officially assume responsibility for this pastoral charge on the first of July. However, for several reasons explained to the congregation recently, he will not be arriving in this community until the latter part of July. He will commence conduct of public worship in the Huntingdon area in August. He does not have a married daughter, but he does have one who will be enrolled at McGill University next fall.

Fourthly, I wish to report to the public that, while my final Sunday Worship responsibility takes place on May 28, I will not be leaving the town of Huntingdon until June 28. I have accepted a teaching position at the Howard S. Billings High School in Chateaugay and our family will be living at 171 Langlois St., Chateaugay, within walking distance of the High School. As it is not feasible to live in Chateaugay during June and commute with the family to Huntingdon and Ormstown for school, we will be remaining in the Manse until June 28, making our move gradually on the weekends of June. In return for this convenience, I have agreed to continue pastoral supervision of the Huntingdon Pastoral Charge until July 1.

Fifthly and finally, notice is hereby given that the Huntingdon United Church congregation has been asked by its Session to combine for Worship with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in June, for 11 a.m. Service (the same time as is

Cards of Thanks

LEWIS - In loving memory of my dear Dad, Edward Lewis, who died May 15, 1960. "There is someone who misses you sadly. In the house where you used to be. Someone who wanted to keep you. But God willed it not to be. Time can't erase that smiling face. Nor mend a broken heart. Time cannot stop the falling tears. That grief and sorrow start. Time cannot fill that vacant chair. That holds an empty space. Time cannot make our home the same. Without you in your place. No longer here our lives to share. But in my heart you're forever there." Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by your daughter Marjorie, son-in-law Hartley Knox and family.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my neighbours who expressed their concern in the loss of my beloved dog, and to the kind lady who was instrumental in Phoebe's return to me. Lorrie Lewis

Letters to The Editor

Ormstown, Que.
 May 14, 1972
 The Editor,
 Huntingdon Gleaner,
 Huntingdon, Que.

Dear Sir,

As foster parents we are often saddened by the callousness of some people towards these children. We are tired of hearing that these children are not really part of our family, that they are not as good as other children and if they do something wrong we are told that it is not as if it were one of ours that did it.

No wonder these children feel resentful. They are being blamed for something that they have absolutely no control over whatsoever. Your children or our children may have been foster children if something had happened to any of us to break up our home.

What is a foster child? Simply, a child who for some reason or another cannot live with his own parents. One or both of them may be dead, they may be divorced or separated or there could be sickness in the family. There are many reasons why these children cannot live with their own parents. So he has to live somewhere and he is placed in a foster home if there is no other place for him. He could be there a few months or years.

When a foster child lives in your home for eight or nine years you get to know him. Hopefully you learn to accept him and to love him. Many of these children have no other home. Some pass through several foster homes and still end up with no real home that they can come back to after they are out on their own. If you have taken a number of years out of his life then you owe him something other than to be shoved out into the world on his own. During the time he was with you he may have lived with someone who would have truly loved him. Anyone can love their own child but when you can love someone else's that is true love. Legally these children are not ours but in the true sense of belonging they are, at least on our part. There are good foster parents and there are bad foster parents the same as there are good and bad parents. Which we are, only time will tell.

Our quarrel is not with foster parents but with non-foster parents who have no understanding of these children and look on them as something different. There are many people who do not do this and we are happy that such people exist.

So, if you cannot help a foster child, please do not make his burden any heavier.

Yours sincerely,
 Mr

Hemmingford's W.I. salutes agriculture

Members of the Hemmingford W.I. met at the Elementary School, May 3 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. G. Gaese gave highlights of the recent tour of the Botanical Gardens in Montreal. The members who went were favored by a sunny day. After lunch at the restaurant on the grounds, they were greeted by greenhouses filled with spring flowers in bloom, tropical palms, blooming orchid plants, cactii both with and without blooms and many many others. It turned the ladies minds to spring and their own flower and vegetable gardens. In the main building they received, free of charge, pamphlets on gardening. This is a recommended tour for anyone.

The treasurer, Mrs. R. Curry, gave a report on the successful card party recently sponsored by the W.I.

Mrs. D. Woolley, a Hemmingford Elementary School board member and W.I. member sent a report on the recent information meeting on Bill 27. As there was too little time to properly advertise the meeting, she organized a telephone effort to alert all taxpayers who had no children attending the elementary school. W.I. members and friends volunteered to make the calls. Several pupils made posters which were displayed in the village and at Barrington.

The project was worthwhile as the guest speaker, Mr. R. Gill, informed the meeting that Hemmingford had the largest attendance of all the schools in Zone A where he had spoken.

In the absence of the Education Convener, Mrs. P. Reid was asked to give the highlights of the final public speaking contest held in Orms town. Hemmingford had two speakers place first - Grade three, John Reid and Grade five, Cheryl Clark. However, all who participated deserve congratulations.

Citizenship Convener, Mrs. K. Brown reminded all who had not donated to the ditty bags for Canadian Save the Children Fund can still do so at the next meeting, June 7th. Last year 4,800, bags were sent. This year the goal for Quebec is 1,000.

Convener of Agriculture, Mrs. R. Schimmelpfeng, reported further school fair plans. A local company - CYAN Printing, owned and operated by Mr. Hartmann Schimmelpfeng, donated 1,000 school fair exhibit tickets. The members greatly appreciated this generous contribution to their project.

The Welfare and Health Convener, Mrs. G. Gaese, read two interesting articles. One a poem "Livable Philosophy", the other an article from World Health Organization "Points to Ponder".

Delegates to the County Convention were Mrs. R. Petch, Mrs. R. Schimmelpfeng, Mrs. G. Ellerton and Mrs. T. Ste Croix.

Being Agriculture month, the agriculture convener, Mrs. R. Schimmelpfeng, addressed the meeting. She spoke on soil pollution briefly and continued to explain the making and using of a garden compost pile. It is a good project for gardeners as it not only provides good soil fertilizer but is inexpensive.

Seventeen members answered the roll call "A Gardening Hint." At the close of the business meeting a plant sale was held.

Hostesses Mrs. K. Campbell, Mrs. D. McGregor and Mrs. R. Marlin served refreshments.

Howick

A successful sale was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Orr, Fertile Creek Road on Friday, May 5. A crowd gathered despite the rain and bad parking conditions at this season. Mr. and Mrs. Orr will be vacating the family farm which was established before 1854 by Wilbert's grandfather, Matthew Orr. Their new home will be at Orms town.

Miss Isabel Frith was at Cowansville on Thursday, May 4, to attend the Montreal - Ottawa Conference U.C.W., annual meeting. About 50 persons from three presbyteries were present when Miss Frith gave a report on the Status of Women Conference held recently at Toronto to which she was the official delegate.

We know a young man who picked up nails in his tires on the Mercier Bridge last week. One of the nearby cars picked up 76 nails.

Mrs. Robert McFarlane, Miss Lois Elliot and the Rev. Alex MacDonald attended the W.M.S. Presbyterial at Montreal on Tuesday evening, May 9, when the Church hall at St. Andrew and St. Paul was filled to capacity to hear the Rev. Earle Roberts, assistant secretary of the Board of World Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Roberts served in Nigeria during the Civil war and had done relief work there. Two of his children had been killed by accident and his wife badly injured. He gave what appeared to be an honest assessment of what had happened in Nigeria since the Civil War.

The economy has picked up. The people put aside their animosities and have worked very hard in reconstructing the country. The church suffered great losses but many urban areas have made remarkable progress. Rural areas are slower to recover. It was encouraging to the church to hear such an interesting report.

The Red Cross flag was flying on May 8 in honour of the founder and the cam-paid to raise funds has started.

We are rather late in welcoming Mr. and Mrs. David Hardy to the Howick district but heard only a few days ago that they have been living at the former Gardos home, Tullochgorum Rd., since September 1971. David comes from North of England and his wife from the London area. Both are teaching at C.V.R.

The Fire Department was called two weeks ago to the former James West farm Tullochgorum Road, where a grass fire was spreading into the bush. Last week they were called to search for a lost child who was found safe and sound some hours later to everyone's relief.

Think twice before you start a grass fire, especially in the Village. Call the fire department before you start the fire to get their permission.

Huntingdon U.C.W. sorts clothing

The executive of the United Church Women met in Huntingdon United Church parlor last week. The main item of business was the disposal of the accumulation of used clothing. Since Toronto headquarters no longer sends used clothing to overseas missions, a box was packed for Douglas Hospital, and a quantity of handmade quilts and children's clothing was delivered to a local family who were recent victims of a fire. Anyone who has new or used items to dispose of is urged to donate it to the Salvation Army, or to the needy of this community, or may leave parcels and boxes at the manse, to be delivered by Rev. and Mrs. Gould this month. Mrs. Myrtle Stewart offered to send our requisition, which includes money, quilts and children's knits, to Supply and Welfare in Montreal.

Dundee

Mrs. Keith MacPherson entertained a number of ladies at a demonstration of houseware products on Saturday evening, May 6th. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Coleman, Keith and Kevin and Miss Debbie Hill of Toronto spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith MacPherson and family.

Several ladies from the area attended the annual spring tea last Friday afternoon, May 5, at Valleyfield United Church. The bazaar booths, bake table and the fascinating art exhibit were thoroughly appreciated, and the delicious salad supper was enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Benane of Fort Covington have just returned to their home there following a winter holiday in Wendell, North Carolina. This is quite near the home of their son John and his wife and family. On the way home, Herbert and Belle visited the other members of their family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Benane, Landover, Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Villeneuve, Baltimore, Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Allen, Oxford, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black, Cincinnati, N.Y.

Women's Institute holds convention

The 48th Annual Convention of the Chateaugay-Huntingdon Counties Women's Institute was held in the Ormstown Presbyterian Church, with the Ormstown Branch as host, on May 5.

Mrs. A. Hooker welcomed the members on behalf of the Ormstown Branch and made special mention of several members in their 80s and 90s who were present. Mrs. Wallace Craig replied and invited the members to Aubrey-Riverfield for 1973 Convention.

A minute's silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. Ovars, Ormstown. Get well cards were to be sent to Miss Isabel Ferns, Mrs. Allan Reid. The minutes of the 1971 Convention were moved by Mrs. Robinson, Hemmingford and seconded by Mrs. Petch.

Mrs. McLean, Treasurer gave a very satisfactory report. The branch presidents and conveners of the various departments gave their reports. These all showed that the branches are very much alive and doing splendid work. Sixty members answered the roll call.

Entries for the J.P. Coates Competition were judged and prizes awarded to Mrs. Jas Robertson, Hemmingford and Mrs. Wallace Youmie Ormstown for their cushion entries. Mrs. Hugh Ferguson, Dundee received a prize for her crazy silk patchwork throw. Entries for The Quebec Women's Institute Contest at Macdonald College Convention are Crochet Dolly; Mrs. Pearl McNicol, Dundee; Mrs. Wallace Youmie Ormstown; Knitted mitts; Mrs. Hugh Ferguson, Dundee; Mrs. James Robertson, Hemmingford; Macramé work; Mrs. Wallace Youmie.

This session was adjourned and all gathered in the dining room. The Ormstown Ladies provided refreshments. Before and after eating, those present viewed a showing of hand work. Quilts, afghans, table cloths, and all sorts of smaller articles. It was good to find that there are still many gifted sewers in the countryside.

Mrs. Hooker introduced David Whitehead who held the ladies spell bound by his piano playing - all by memory.

Then there was a farther treat. Liane Hooker and Cynthia Thompson danced a duet and Patsy Greenbank, Sarah Jane McCoy, Nancy Hooker and Elizabeth Tannahill a quartet. Dressed in highland outfits, all these girls performed the intricate steps of the Scottish dances, in a pleasing manner.

The thanks of the members to Mrs. Chandler, was voiced by Mrs. Cameron Bryson.

The new executive and conveners were installed and the members stood and made the promise to assist them in every way possible. Mrs. Ferguson expressed her thanks for the support she had received during her two year term of office, and asked Miss Eccles to take the chair. Ald. Brisebois presents K. of C. plaque to Mgr. David said that Monsignor David's career as builder was "a parable of what the Church has to do in a new style; that is, the building of a new community." Like the Monsignor, the Church should also make repairs and decorations in that it must be more creative in looking at the world, and must build a new realistic image.

After the homily, Mgr. David thanked the Bishop for his compliments. Parish priest Father Georges Quenneville followed calling Mgr. David "one of our best parishioners" since he is always available to hear confessions and say Mass.

The choir and organist of St. Joseph's Catholic Church deserve credit for the excellent job they did in singing the Latin parts of the Mass. At the Offertory, those present were treated to a fine rendition of "Ave Maria".

One of the most impressive parts of the Mass was just before Communion, at "The kiss of peace" Mgr. David exemplified what this action stands for when he greeted those present in the sanctuary with it.

After Mass, a luncheon was held in the parish hall. An open house was held at Notre Dame School, afterwards, with more refreshments.

The food was prepared by members of Le Cercle de Fermières, les Dames Chrétiennes, and The Catholic Women's League. Huntingdon Brownies and Guides assisted.

At the open house, which lasted until 5 p.m. Mgr. David was entertained by the Huntingdon Canadettes Bugle and Drum Corps. Mgr. David returned the salute by Corps leader Dianne Leduc, and congratulated her on the troop's music.

Several speeches were made in the Monsignor's honor at the open house. The speakers were introduced by Alderman Gerald Brisebois. Mayor Claude Pilon of Huntingdon said the suggestion made by Mgr. David earlier in the day that he had one foot in the grave was not true. He said the Monsignor seemed to have lifted that foot out.

Rev. A. M. Reid compared the Monsignor to his namesake David, in that both were shepherds and fighters. Mgr. David's nephew, Father Jacques David, told of the example he had received from his uncle. MPP Ken Fraser recalled the days when he was a young boy at Ste. Agnes de Dundee, and Mgr. David was pastor.

Father Georges Quenneville presented Mgr. David with a collection taken as a token of the parish's appreciation.

Finally Monsignor David thanked everyone for their generosity, and reminisced.

Mgr. David....

The others were large." One thing he found everywhere he went was the aid he received from the members of the parishes. "The laymen were always ready to help, not only ours but others."

Xy "others" he meant other denominations. Mgr. David remembers his first ecumenical experience many years ago when he was in an Armistice Day Parade at the Invitation of the Legion. They were surprised when he turned out, because that was the first time any priest had bothered to reply to the invitation, although ministers of other faiths had always come. One of his close friends is the Rev. A. M. Reid, a retired Anglican Minister, who lives in Dewittville.

Mgr. David attributes much of the success of ecumenism to Pope John XXIII who introduced it to the Catholic Church when he became Pope. "After all," Monsignor David said, "We're all working for the same God." On the Monsignor's fiftieth anniversary as a priest, his nephew, who is also a priest, spoke to Cardinal Leger, and the latter obtained a personal letter of congratulations from Pope John.

Mgr. David has never had any difficulties with the French - English question either. He was brought up learning to speak both languages, and most of his assignments were to parishes who had both French and English parishioners. When he came to Huntingdon, some twenty years ago, there was no Mass in English but during his time as pastor he started one.

Why did Mgr. David retire? He still remains in good health and usually walks home from the post office every day. He said he was not used to some of the changes sweeping the church. "It was quite a change for me I was too old to learn over again," he said. This is what he told Bishop Caza, his superior, and the latter soon followed him into retirement. Mgr. David taught the father of the new bishop, Guy Belanger, in the seminary.

Looking back over his career, did he have any regrets? "No, I always did what I thought was best".

When asked about activities during his retirement, Mgr. David said, "I thought I'd be lonesome but as an old French saying goes, 'I've nothing to do and not even time to do it.' His eyesight was failing but it has begun to improve and with the aid of a magnifying glass, he is able to read newspapers, magazines, and books, especially the Bible. He doesn't watch much television as he finds it boring. He lives in a house owned by Elie Quenneville of 38 Poirier St. in Huntingdon. He married the Quennevilles, and when they heard he was retiring, they offered him three rooms on the ground floor.

He still helps around St. Joseph parish, and has told the parish priest, Father Georges Quenneville, that he will say Mass, preach sermons, hear confessions or anything else, as long as he isn't given any responsibility.

Many of his parishioners will remember Mgr. David as the man who got things done.

Bounties paid on litterbugs could help make that species extinct, according to the Audubon Society in Massachusetts.

Athelstan

The Athelstan Ladies Aid met at the home of Beryl Hamilton on Thursday afternoon, May 11, with Mrs. Jamieson as co-hostess.

After the usual work period, the business session was opened by hymn 404, What a Friend, Greta McLean gave the meditation family matters. There were twelve members answered the roll call and there were invited guests.

The minutes of April meeting were read and accepted.

After discussion it was decided that the cleaning in the church kitchen be done as soon as possible and that the bill be paid at once.

The members extended best wishes for a safe trip and happy holiday to one of their number, Helena Grant, who is leaving shortly for Idaho, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rasmussen (Arlene Grant) and family and will attend her granddaughter's wedding.

The workshop of the Retarded Society was brought to the attention of the members and it was hoped several might be in attendance to view the work accomplished. The booth at Havelock Fair will be obtained again. Many finished articles were brought in, and numerous sales were made. The meeting closed in the usual manner after which refreshments were served by Beryl and her mother.

Trans-Atlantic business telephone callers have come up with a good new idea, reports Reader's Digest. They record their messages on a tape recorder, accelerate it, and then play it over the phone. The recipient at the other end records into his tape recorder, and afterward plays it at reduced speed. The cost of the calls is thus cut to a minimum.

Ormstown

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hope entertained a group of relatives and friends on Saturday evening in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hope's 37th anniversary. The evening was spent playing cards and visiting. Best wishes were extended to the couple for many more happy years.

Miss Betty McEwen and Miss Lois Hicks of Montreal spent a few days at the Donald McEwen's last week. They were on their way home from a week's vacation in Bermuda.

Approximately 30 people including a number of interested teenagers attended the initial meeting May 10 at MacDougall Hall in Ormstown to discuss the formation of a dramatic society. The chairman for the meeting Rev. H. Hyland welcomed those in attendance and introduced the steering committee. Bob Walker outlined the plans which had been suggested in forming a dramatic society and also spoke on the Children's Theatre. Mrs. Hyland spoke on the formation of a section of the group for theatre visiting and discussion.

The meeting was then opened for general discussion and questions. One, two and three act plays were discussed together with suggestions that perhaps a musical may eventually be aimed for. The question of royalties etc., was brought up and discussed.

Since the formation of such a society locally is still on the drawing board it was suggested that an official committee be elected which was agreed upon and is as follows: president, Bob Walker; vice-president, Rev. Herb. Hyland; secretary, Dave Britton; committee: Mrs. Rhona Scott, Mrs. Judy Taylor, Mrs. Grace Campbell, Miss Betsy Wiebe and Michael Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Barrington spent several days last week with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Gerald MacDonald at Crarville, N.Y. and attended the funeral of Jana MacDonald.

Ormstown Rugby 1-1

On Saturday May 13, Ormstown Saracens entertained a Montreal Irish XV made up of 1st and 2nd fifteen players at Ormstown. The much lighter and inexperienced Ormstown team were beaten 15-3 by the Irish. The Saracens three points came from a field goal by Ken Gillies. However, the home team learned a great deal from playing this class of opposition and received many compliments from the Irish on their quickness in picking up the game.

On Sunday, May 14, Ormstown travelled to St. Chrysostome to play Montreal Barbarians, with a much stronger team. Dave Hardy, Bob Gillies and Dave Thompson returning to the team after being unavailable on Saturday. They were further strengthened by the inclusion of Sid Sanford of Montreal Irish whose offer to coach the young Ormstown forwards was gladly accepted by the Ormstown Committee.

Saturday's lesson had obviously been well absorbed by the Ormstown team, because from the first kick-off they turned on a fine performance as they completely outplayed the Barbarians and won 13-0. Ormstown opened the scoring when Ken Gillies barged over for a try which Dave Hardy converted to make the score 6-0. Then came a beautiful handling movement by Ormstown which ended with Glen Leslie diving over at the corner for 4 points. Later Dave Hardy tallied a field goal to make the score 13-0.

On Saturday, May 20, Ormstown are taking part in the Quebec Seven-a-side tournament at St. Chrysostome. This is a first class afternoon sport and teams travel from Toronto - New York - and as far away as Newfoundland. Ormstown plays St. John's, Newfoundland in the first round. Kick off is at 12 o'clock.

The Ormstown seven are Mike Murray, Ken Gillies, Rod Beattie, Dave Hardy, Bob Gillies, Dave Thompson and Danny McArthur.

K-Mart fashion show stars staff, children

Not many of us get a chance to be glamorous fashion models walking down the long red-carpeted runway with photographers snapping pictures at every step. But last Thursday and Friday, May 11-12, members of the staff and children of the K Mart department store in Valleyfield, got their chance in the store's first fashion show.

The theme of the show was summer fashions for 1972, not only for adults, but also for children, and it was these little performers that were at times the most captivating.

The height of many a fashion show is the bathing suit section, and two lovely K Mart employees, Dianne Tremblay, and Lorraine Lawton, had the attention of most of the girl watchers in the large audience. When they modelled both one and two-piece swimwear. Other outfits modelled by the girls were a short pant dress with hat, and a printed long dress with pantsuit.

Mothers were also saluted at the meeting when Mrs. Simone Faubert modelled a hostess gown with a little boy, Manon Larochelle, who wore a police suit.

Men's Liberation was given a boost when Luc Chasles modelled a printed brief bathing suit. Mr. Chasles also appeared in a golfing outfit.

Outfits modelled by the smaller girls were a plaid dress with white poncho by Joanne Filion and a crepe dress with navy blue and yellow collar, by Sylvie Lado-accour. The boys also had their chance with Guy Frappier modelling a cowboy suit, complete with denim jacket, gun and holster, and white bandana, and Marco Leblanc wearing an Expo outfit. One of the cutest outfits modelled by the children was a pink baby doll pajama outfit worn by Dianne Lefrancois. This little girl even looked ready for bed and the rag doll she carried with her heightened this impression.

The children also modelled a set of swim suits and water toys.

Perhaps the biggest single plus factor about the show was that, contrary to most fashion shows, all the outfits shown were not expensive. They ranged from $37 downwards.

The models were all from Valleyfield. The M.C.'s for the show were Guy Gingras, from the Advertising Department and Lauraine Leblanc, from the information desk.

Rockburn

The service on Sunday morning at Rockburn Presbyterian Church was well attended by young and old. Rev. Mr. Milne conducted the service in keeping with Mother's Day. He was assisted by Jackie Lamb, also by Joyce and David Sutton, who read portions of the Scripture. The Misses Barbara Norman, Julia Welburn and Cindy Waller sang a special hymn with Miss Dorothea Bye at the organ.

The May meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Farquhar on Thursday evening, May 11, with 19 members and one visitor present. The meeting opened in the usual way, and Mrs. Farquhar and Mrs. Ronald Maitner were in charge of the devotional period. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved by Mrs. Ted

The accent at the K-Mart Fashion Show was on inexpensive clothing. All clothing including this outfit, with two piece bathing suit underneath, cost less than $37.

The children of the staff at K-Mart also got a chance to play at being model.

Norman

Final plans were made for a coming Church supper, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Farquhar with Mrs. Maitner assisting. Messrs. Wayne and Glen Norman spent the weekend at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilf Clifford of Oliver, B. C. were Wednesday afternoon and overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Middlemiss.

Barrington quilters continue quietly working for the Red Cross. Just lately they finished a pink and white quilt and at their regular meeting on May 10 at the home of Mrs. L. Napper, a drawing was held and the quilt was won by Mrs. Hugh Orr. It was unanimously agreed that a donation of $50 be sent to the Red Cross headquarters.

Valdo ladies bowling awards are presented

The annual Valdo Ladies Bowling banquet and dance was held in the Legion Hall, Huntingdon, on April 29, with a good attendance.

Upon arrival, each girl was presented with a miniature bowling pin bearing her name and her high single game of the year. More than 100 persons sat down to a hot turkey dinner prepared and served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion. John Thompson, master of ceremonies, called on Mrs. Gladys Duheme to say grace. Following the dinner, Mrs. Effie Gordon, president, said a few words of welcome. Then Mr. Thompson thanked Mrs. Mary Arthur, convener, for the supper and for her help in preparing the succulent meal.

He then proceeded to introduce the head table. It was then time for the presentation of trophies and gifts to the winners. Mrs. Ruth Yelle, past president, awarded the Mademoiselle Dress Shoppe and small trophies to the League Champions, Friendship 7, Captain Shirley Middlemiss, Phyllis Farquhar, Jennie Maitner, Rosalie Maitner, Frances MacCumber, Effie Gordon, Glenna Blair and Hazel Norman.

Effie Gordon presented the Helecta Hart trophy and small trophies to the playoff champs, the Happy Wanderers, captained by Edith Thompson, with team members Janice Stonehouse, Thea Arnold, Mireille Charland, Claire Tremblay, Johanne Zeldenrust, Therese Montpetit, Janet Levers and Ruth McIntyre. This same team received prizes for being runners-up during the season, the prizes being awarded by Gladys Duheme. She also presented them with the High Pinfall trophy (O'Connor Trophy) plus small trophies, and the High Team Triple and Single trophy (Clynn & Tinker Trophy) as well as the Lawrence McCallum Trophy. Each girl received two small trophies.

Each got a gift presented by Edith Thompson. The Consolation Dow Trophy and gifts presented by Effie Gordon were won by the Clinkers with Captain Gladys Duheme and team members Betty Rolleri, Betty McIntyre, Antoinette Houle, Jackie Thornton, Marielle Payer, Blanche Roy, Claudette Lazure. The individual trophies and gifts were presented as follows by Jackie McCallum:

Mireille Charland, 131; 2nd high average gift; Therese Montpetit, 128; 3rd; high average gift, Frances MacCumber, 126; high triple trophy, Claudette Lefebvre, 471; 2nd high triple gift, Mireille Charland, 466; 3rd high trophy gift, Therese Montpetit, 459. Mrs. Gaby Frost won the prize for the most improved bowler and Mrs. Phyllis Farquhar won the award for the most 60s during the season. Gifts for both girls were presented by Jackie McCallum.

Betty McIntyre bowled a triple of 443 and Marjorie Donnelly, a single of 192 during the finals and playoffs games. Thea Arnold presented the two girls with gifts.

John Thompson mentioned that 1972 was the 10th anniversary for the Valdo Ladies Bowling League. He then asked Jackie McCallum to make a special presentation to the ten following girls who have bowled the ten consecutive years:

Emma Brunette, Gladys Duheme, Phyllis Farquhar, Effie Gordon, Janet Levers, Shirley Middlemiss, Jackie McCallum, Betty Rolleri, Edith Thompson, Ruth Yelle. They received a medalion with their initials and 10 years engraved on each. Mr. and Mrs. Francois Cley, Kenneth Fraser, Richard Tinker and Edgar Hart were donors towards the purchase of these gifts, and they were warmly thanked.

Ruth Yelle presented the 1971-72 executives special gifts from all the girls. They are president, Effie Gordon; treasurer, Judy Leslie; averages secretary, Thea Arnold and correspondence, secretary, Jackie McCallum.

President Effie Gordon congratulated all the winners and thanked the executive for their co-operation during the season.

After the tables were cleared, an evening of dancing to the music of Bill MacDonald's orchestra was enjoyed. During the evening, door and drawing prizes were awarded. Winners of door prizes were Mrs. Daphne Tipping, Hazel Norman and Rose Brisebois. Winners of the drawings were Betty McIntyre, Thea Arnold, Jackie McCallum, Arlene Leslie, Shirley Scott, John Wilson and Phyllis Bergman.

District nurses at RV reunion

Several graduates of the Royal Victoria Hospital School for Nurses who live in this district attended some of the events in connection with the grand re-union of 1,200 graduates held in Montreal during the past week. Mrs. Alex Mac Donald (Carolyn Vance 1962), Mrs. Archie Peddie, (Mabel Tannahill 1942), toured Old Montreal and were at the dinner held at Hotel Bonaventure and were at other separate events.

Mrs. Hales of Nitro joined Mrs. Peddie to hear Dr. Caplan of Harvard University speak at a seminar. They enjoyed greatly reminiscences by outstanding senior doctors and heard Lord Stratcona, a link with the beginnings of the Royal Victoria Hospital. Many people do not believe the new system of nurses training is an improvement so time will tell.

Mrs. Merrill Smith (Edna Reddick) of Huntingdon and Mrs. McKie Cluff (Susan Faile) joined the Howick folk at some of these gatherings as did Mrs. T. J. McMahon (Bessie Shaw) of Riverfield.

Mrs. Featherstonehang of McGregor St., Montreal, a classmate of Mrs. McMahon, entertained 16 graduates of the 1924 class at her home, the first time they had met in 48 years. A dinner at the Hotel Bonaventure on Tuesday evening was a gala affair and on looking over the 1200 graduates they decided class 1924 was "pretty well-preserved". Others from Mrs. McMahon's class came from Amherst and Sackville in the Maritimes, Brantford, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

Ormstown writer tells why farmers are angry

Canada's struggling farmers are getting an ever-decreasing share of the food dollar - down from 57 percent in 1949 to 45 percent in 1969. As a result, says agricultural writer H. Gordon Green of Ormstown in an article in the May issue of the Reader's Digest, they are in a fighting mood.

"Few city people have any idea of how small a percentage of their food dollar goes to the farmer," says Green, a former editor of the Family Herald who breeds belted Galloway cattle on his farm. "Quality green peas in July 1971 brought the grower only $120 a ton shelled and ready for the can - a little more than half a cent a pound. In 1971 Ontario farmers in Essex and Kent counties got only $1.33 a bushel for sweet corn."
 "The magnitude of the gap between such a price and what the housewife pays for the finished grocery item is best illustrated by the farmer who bought enough corn flakes to fill a bushel basket and found it cost him $26.75!"

Canada's farm population has dropped from 20.8 percent of the total population in 1951 to nine percent today and the country's remaining farmers have been told to get big or get out. The 1969 federal Task Force on Agriculture maintained that farming should be considered a business, not a way of life; only the most efficient farms deserve to survive.
 Yet, argues Green, no industry has adapted itself to modern technology more quickly than farming. "In 1920 the farmer could feed himself and six others; today he feeds more than 30 of us. And our federal department of agriculture boasts that 'because of the great advancement in agricultural production, 1969's smaller number of farmers produced three times as much food as in 1949.' The farmer's difficulties are clearly not the result of his inefficiency." Despite rising production costs and despite falling farm income - 1970 was the 20th consecutive year in which farm income was lower - Green believes that Canada's farmers may be digging their heels in and that the great off-the-farm migration may finally be stopping.

 He predicts the farmers' new, belligerent mood will lead to a sudden growth of organized farm power, rapid development of farm cooperatives and marketing boards and a new concern on the part of the nation's conservation-conscious youth about the future of farming. And he urges Canada's agricultural planners to address themselves to a single basic question:
 "Why does a cannery often pay more for the label on the can than it does for the produce inside?" In the answer may lie a solution to the problems of our angry farmers."

Damage set at $1,200

An accident where a car hit a parked vehicle resulted in $1200 damages to both, on Saturday, May 6, in Huntingdon.

Bill Langlois of 172 Chateaugay St. was moving into his driveway by a lane on Hunter St. when he collided with the parked car of Clayton Hinchcliff, of 8 Hunter St.

Damage to Mr. Langlois' car, a 1962 Cadillac, was estimated at $500, Mr. Hinchcliff's car, a 1965 Ford, was a total loss as the damage exceeded the value of the car.

After the parked car was struck, it was pushed some 25 feet into the laneway, and hit a tree.

2 accidents in Havelock

Alexander Patinaude, 37, of Havelock, had his tractor stopped on the side of the road, at Russelltown Flat near the intersection of Highway 52. When he started to pull out onto the road, he collided with Dauphinais Savanice, 31, who was driving a 1968 Pontiac.

Chief L'Heureux tells of problems

May 14-20 is being observed as Police Week in Quebec Province. To mark the occasion the head of the Huntingdon Police Department, Chief Joffre L'Heureux, has prepared the following thoughts about the role of the policeman in society.

by Joffre L'Heureux.

Why does the policeman exist? He exists for the society or milieu in which he works. It is in the interest of this society that he is called upon to exercise his role as guardian of peace, order and health. He protects the citizens against clandestine crime, terrorism, arson, the drug traffic and other threats.

To reach these ends, the policeman of 1972 integrates himself into society, and establishes harmonious relations between himself and the citizens. This is a difficult and often misunderstood role, as his responsibilities allow him no rest. He acts to enforce the law, prevent crime, and catch the culprits.

Often his interventions create a gap between him and the public which results in misunderstandings, verbal or written attacks, and a lack of public co-operation. However, the policeman doesn't act solely against illegality. He does not only exercise repressive powers.

In a restless society like ours, the policeman makes the distinction between crime and the criminal. Criminality must be fought energetically, but the mixed-up and often depraved criminal should be rehabilitated. Be that as it may, police action in 1972 is intelligent and effective in safeguarding the fundamental rights of the person.

Society needs our policemen. They have to protect our municipalities and citizens against criminal aggression, take necessary precautions to prevent violation of our laws, protect the life and property of others, and see to the respect of individual liberties, while observing all existing laws. The policeman at the service of society ensures its normal evolution. Be it poverty, unemployment, lack of knowledge, or any

Mr. and Mrs. Lyell Graham of Athelstan and Mrs. Wm. Henry of Toronto attended the funeral in Detroit of the late William Oliver. Friends and relatives were saddened to learn of the passing of Mr. Wm. R. Oliver, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver of Rockburn, following a heart attack at his home in Detroit on May 4. He was married to the former Dorothy Quandt of Detroit in 1935. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, his daughter Carol, a sister Ethel (Mrs. Henry) of Toronto and a brother Milford of Rockburn. The funeral was held in the funeral chapel on Wednesday at 11 a.m. with Rev. Duncabarger officiating. Interment was in the family plot. The sympathy of the community is extended to the relatives.

related problems, today's policeman finds them and intervenes to prevent violence, diminish its effects and develop a general climate of order, tolerance and peace.

The modern policeman possesses the talents of a psychologist, a vast practical experience, knows his environment and how to get the co-operation of the citizens. He is learning to grasp new techniques of the criminal, and show flair, judgment, recollection and moderation.

Covey Hill

The May meeting of Wesley Knox U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Vera Sutton on Thursday afternoon, May 11. The president opened the meeting by repeating the "Purpose" and took the Devotions.

The minutes were read and adopted. Roll call was answered with the word "flesh". Five members were present, two visitors and two children. As there was no work the meeting closed with the Mizpah.

The hostess served a salad lunch followed by a social hour.

Mrs. Kenneth Houle returned to Rochester with her nephew Mr. Maynard Daigneault on Saturday, May 13. Her sister, Mrs. Ida Daigneault was seriously ill in the hospital there.

Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Houle are ill again in the Barrie Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Baxter, who was staying with the C.W. Potters, is in the Barrie Memorial Hospital.

There was no church service again at Wesley - Knox. Rev. O. Carmichael underwent surgery on Friday, May 12 and will take time to recuperate before commencing his church duties at St. Andrew's and Wesley-Knox.

Mrs. Henrietta Gilmore celebrated her 80th birthday on Friday, May 12. Her sister Ruth (Mrs. Len. McGilton) Montreal had a birthday dinner for her on Thursday. Her family was all home for the occasion.

Her son Gordon and wife Pat took her and Ruby out for dinner Friday night. Mrs. Gilmore received two birthday cakes, one from a neighbour, aside from other gifts from the family.

brought modifications to the traditional life and work of the policeman. Through the human sciences that he must know, he has a better understanding of man, his aspirations, and his ideals. To be worthy of his mandate, the policeman must constantly study the modern means of effectiveness to comply with the demands of our changing society.

Contemporary police action precedes the criminal action of organized groups in order to demonstrate their inefficiency and insure the peace and security of citizens. The policeman, with courage and devotion performs a social function occupying 70% of his work that is the solution of family, youth, and other general problems such as the protection of life.

A symbol of authority, the policeman deserves the respect of his fellow citizens, permitting him to execute his duties and remain the dignified man who is easy to talk to.

"To serve better" then is the motto of the 1972 policeman.

This police week in Quebec helps us to realize that the policeman, whether municipal, provincial or federal, is a guide, counsellor, and above all, a friend whom we can count on day or night without fail.

The authorities of the Town of Huntingdon, His Worship, Me. Claude Pilon and the members of the Police Committee are aware of their responsibility. They neglect nothing in insuring maximum security to their fellow citizens.

Fondue lesson at Dundee W. I.

The Dundee Women's Institute was entertained by Mrs. Carl Stark at Westville, New York, Wednesday afternoon, May 3. Nine members and three guests were present. Roll call was "Make and wear a Mother's Day corsage."

Several business items were discussed. A report was given of the Salvation Army Truck pick-up Mrs. Wilber Stowell. Miss Thelma McMillan and Mrs. Hugh Ferguson were on hand at the Dundee Municipal Hall, April 18, when articles were brought from a wide surrounding area, as well as the Municipality of Dundee. The Salvation Army Truck arrived the following morning for pick-up and he drivers said it was well worth the trip up from Montreal. Miss Wendy Sutton served them coffee.

The Dundee Women's Institute is grateful to all those who helped make this pick-up such a success. It was suggested that this might be done again next year.

Members brought hand-made articles to the meeting for display at the Annual County Convention which was held in Ormstown Presbyterian Church, May 5.

The agriculture convener, Mrs. T. W. Stowell showed a picture of huge flocks of wild geese after their spring arrival. The geese are reported to be plentiful this year.

Mrs. L. Currie, citizenship convener brought an article on the Franklin Centre Sugar Country. Pictures showed local residents at work, huge piles of wood needed for the making of maple syrup and sugar, and other scenes relating to the industry.

There were also several recipes using maple syrup. The home economics Mrs. J. Platt, gave some handy household hints. Sample to sweeten iced tea and fruit drinks, keep handy a syrup made of 1 1/2 cups sugar to 2 cups water. Use muffin tins to bake individual meat pies.

An empty lipstick tube makes a handy purse case for pins and needles. Mrs. Platt also displayed what appeared to be match books, but when opened one was a needle and thread case and the other contained a set of

Volunteer firemen inspire homily

by Mrs. Jules L'Espérance

The Hemmingford Volunteer Firemen, and volunteer firemen of surrounding communities have been needlessly called out these past few weeks. Needless?? Yes. Because (same old story!) you really did not need to burn that grass! Or if you did you should have made sure you had sufficient help standing by to keep it under control.

Someone can thank the powers-that-be that Hemmingford has two fire engines: one is not young, it dates back to - I think - 1924 but it still works well. It is lovingly cared for! About two weeks ago 2 calls came in at exactly the same moment. Fortunately there were enough men in the village to run both engines. Had there not been someone's grass fire would really have got out of control.

Perhaps it's about time we had another reminder of what a volunteer fireman really is. The following was taken from the "Piedmont Herald" and I quote: "Volunteer firemen are a breed unto themselves. Whoever heard of a man who is willing to be on twenty-four hour duty without pay for the dubious privilege of protecting his neighbour's property. Whoever heard of a man who will dash from his desk or other work and ride a "fire wagon" to the scene of the alarm, ruining his suit, neglecting his business, risking his life and exhausting himself physically, not for money but because he believes in serving his community?"

Whoever heard of a man who will give up his favourite T.V. show, postpone some reading or some "Do-it-yourself" house chores he's been planning (plus sacrificing his evenings with his wife and children) just to attend a meeting where he learns how to function as a volunteer servant on behalf of his fellowmen?

Whoever heard (in this day and age) of a man who is crazy enough to be worrying about the other fellow?

Well, if you don't know the answers to those questions, look around our firehouses. You'll see people who aren't out protesting and complaining, because they're too busy living up to the image of a good Canadian.

You'll see people whose forefathers were made of the same stuff, and that's why we have inherited this wonderful land.

You'll see people just like yourself who care what happens to their neighbours and their community and their country.

Because (same old story!) you really did not need to burn that grass! Or if you did you should have made sure you had sufficient help standing by to keep it under control.

Someone can thank the powers-that-be that Hemmingford has two fire engines: one is not young, it dates back to - I think - 1924 but it still works well. It is lovingly cared for! About two weeks ago 2 calls came in at exactly the same moment. Fortunately there were enough men in the village to run both engines. Had there not been someone's grass fire would really have got out of control.

Perhaps it's about time we had another reminder of what a volunteer fireman really is. The following was taken from the "Piedmont Herald" and I quote: "Volunteer firemen are a breed unto themselves. Whoever heard of a man who is willing to be on twenty-four hour duty without pay for the dubious privilege of protecting his neighbour's property. Whoever heard of a man who will dash from his desk or other work and ride a "fire wagon" to the scene of the alarm, ruining his suit, neglecting his business, risking his life and exhausting himself physically, not for money but because he believes in serving his community?"

Whoever heard of a man who will give up his favourite T.V. show, postpone some reading or some "Do-it-yourself" house chores he's been planning (plus sacrificing his evenings with his wife and children) just to attend a meeting where he learns how to function as a volunteer servant on behalf of his fellowmen?

Whoever heard (in this day and age) of a man who is crazy enough to be worrying about the other fellow?

Well, if you don't know the answers to those questions, look around our firehouses. You'll see people who aren't out protesting and complaining, because they're too busy living up to the image of a good Canadian.

You'll see people whose forefathers were made of the same stuff, and that's why we have inherited this wonderful land.

You'll see people just like yourself who care what happens to their neighbours and their community and their country.

Family Sunday for Huntingdon

Christian Family Sunday and Mother's Day were observed in St. Andrew's Church, Huntingdon, at the regular morning service on Sunday, May 14.

Mr. MacLeod was assisted in the service by Bobby Ruddock, Mrs. Wendy Goudey, Mrs. Doris McCole, Gordon Caldwell and Mrs. Eleanor Middlemiss.

Mrs. McCrimmon and Susan Middlemiss paid a tribute to motherhood with Susan reading a poem, "God Be Thanked for Mothers" while Mrs. McCrimmon accompanied her on the organ. Ricky Welburn's solo, "Abiding Love" was greatly appreciated by the congregation, and, as usual, the organ music and singing of the choir added greatly to the service.

Mr. MacLeod welcomed the visitors who were home for the occasion and had come to celebrate Christian Family Sunday with their friends.

His sermon was based on the theme, Faith and Justice, as suggested by the Presbyterian Church.

Mgr. David est fêté ...

Des jeunes gens vinrent féliciter Mgr David lors de son 60^e anniversaire de prêtrise.

La meneur de la troupe, Les Canadettes, Mlle Diane Leduc, salue Mgr David. Ce groupe de fanfare donnèrent un petit récital en l'honneur de Mgr David.

Mgr David s'apprête à couper le gâteau fait en son honneur. Il est accompagné par le Grand Chevalier Gérard Brisebois.

L'abbé Georges Quenneville remet à Mgr David une bourse. Ceci eut lieu lors de la réception à l'école Notre-Dame dimanche après-midi.

Le 6 janvier dernier, c'était le 60^e anniversaire de prêtrise de Mgr Joseph-Arsène David. Or, une fête mémorable fut organisée afin de rendre un sincère témoignage à un grand pasteur, Mgr David.

Cette fête avait lieu dimanche dernier, le 14 mai. Le tout débuta avec une célébration de la messe; Mgr Percival Caza, Mgr Guy Bélanger, évêque du diocèse de Valleyfield le Père Jacques David, le neveu de Mgr David le Rev. A.M. Reid de Dewittville, et l'abbé Marcel Gareau se joignirent à Mgr David afin de célébrer sa messe d'anniversaire.

Les deux épîtres furent lues par le Rev. Reid et le maire Claude Pilon de Valleyfield. L'évangile fut lu par l'évêque du diocèse, Mgr Guy Bélanger.

Mgr Bélanger fit l'éloge de Mgr David tout au cours de son sermon; il le caractérisa comme un témoin vivant du diocèse, car Mgr David naquit quatre années avant la formation du diocèse.

Après la messe, un buffet froid fut servi à la salle paroissiale. Ensuite, une gigantesque réception eut lieu au gymnase de l'école Notre-Dame de Huntingdon. Alors, des rafraîchissements furent servis aux invités.

Le Cercle de Fermières, les Dames Chrétiennes, les Filles d'Isabelle, les Guides de Huntingdon participèrent aux festivités d'une façon ou d'une autre.

Les Canadettes rendirent hommage à Mgr David soit par l'interprétation de quelques pièces musicales. Lors de la réception, plusieurs discours furent prononcés, afin de rendre un sincère témoignage à un grand pasteur, Mgr David.

L'échevin Gérard Brisebois, et Grand Chevalier, fut le maître de cérémonie. Le maire Pilon, le Rev. A.M. Reid, le Père Jacques David, le député provincial Ken Fraser et le curé Georges Quenneville rendirent de sincères témoignages de reconnaissance à l'oeuvre de Mgr David.

Le curé Quenneville remit à Mgr David une bourse gracieuseté des paroissiens de Huntingdon. A la fin, Mgr David remercia toutes les personnes présentes.

Les festivités se terminèrent vers les 5 heures p.m.

Sa vie

Joseph-Arsène est de St-Antoine Abbé, où il a vu le jour le 15 mai 1888. Il est issu d'Arsène, contre-maître au Grand-Tronc, et de Demerise Gamache. Il fréquente l'école primaire d'Ormstown ou ses parents se sont transportés pour aller bientôt à St-Rémi ou le jeune Joseph poursuit ses études commerciales au collège des Clercs de St-Viateur. Il ira ensuite à Rigaud au Collège Bourget, finir ses études classiques en juin 1908. Il étudie la théologie à Montréal, au séminaire de St-Boniface et à celui de Valleyfield. Ordonné prêtre au séminaire de Valleyfield, par Mgr Emond, le 6 janvier 1912, il sera la professeur jusqu'en 1915. Il y répara l'église, et le presbytère en réglant, au mieux, la situation financière de son prédécesseur. En 1937, il quitta pour Dorian. Il y séjournera jusqu'en 1951. Pendant son administration, il construisa une église pour Ste-Trinité de Dorian, fondera la paroisse de St-Jean-Baptiste qu'il dotera d'une église et d'un presbytère et la gardera sous sa houlette jusqu'en 1951. St-Polycarpe lui sera confié en 1951. Il y répara l'église et la fera décorer. Et il est nommé chanoine honoraire de la cathédrale de Valleyfield le 12 novembre 1952. A la mort de M. le chanoine Arthur Pigeon, il est promu à la cure de Huntingdon, le 9 avril 1954.

L'arrivée de Monsieur le chanoine David ouvre les annales de l'histoire contemporaine de la paroisse. Il n'est pas question de juger son oeuvre. Une simple nomenclature des faits

Projet Foyer:

(C.A.) Le 27 avril dernier, le ministre des Affaires Sociales, l'honorable Claude Castonguay, annonçait, définitivement, la création future de 15 nouveaux foyers d'hébergements au sein de la belle Province.

Et, de plus en plus, il semble que la municipalité de Huntingdon, et son secteur, a reçu une certaine priorité, concernant la construction éventuelle d'un tel foyer. Et, selon les commentaires de certains responsables du Ministère des Affaires Sociales, le secteur de Huntingdon possède d'excellentes chances d'être parmi les 15 nouveaux foyers d'hébergements.

Comité

On se rappelle que le comité de promotion de Huntingdon préparait soigneusement un mémoire, qui devait à la suite être présenté au ministère des Affaires Sociales.

Depuis quelque temps, le

Huntingdon a de grosses chances tout semblait très calme. Mais, le travail continuait. Le mémoire était préparé avec soin; les preuves du besoin dans le secteur de Huntingdon furent démontrées, et on insista aussi sur le caractère comparatif avec les autres comtés environnants.

C'était en sorte le gros du travail du comité de promotion de Huntingdon lors de réunions antérieures.

Explication

On explique qu'en juin 1969, le ministre Claude Castonguay avait mis un "stop" au mouvement de construction de foyers d'hébergement. C'était en sorte un "cran de repos", une période d'inactivité.

Cet arrêt de construction de nouveaux centres pour les personnes âgées était afin d'étudier un peu plus profondément la question. Des études se succédèrent concernant le coût de ces projets.

Aussi, des études sur le besoin de chaque région se rappeller que le ministre Castonguay est venu à un cheveu près de démissionner de son poste.

Cette situation qui existe depuis quelque temps ralentit l'annonce officielle de ce programme. Aussi, nous avons appris que les 15 endroits en question étaient peut-être choisis, mais que la présente crise oblige le ministère à retarder la proclamation de ces sites. Mais, rien d'officiel à ce sujet.

M. Bruno Maheu, du Service Social, nous affirmait lors d'une conversation téléphonique que les chances de Huntingdon étaient maintenant très grandes. Il continua en disant:

"Nous n'avons jamais été aussi proche". Ceci montre très bien l'optimisme qui règne chez M. Maheu.

Huntingdon pourrait être parmi les 15 nouveaux foyers. Il faut dire que le tout n'est aucunement officiel, mais le secteur de Huntingdon a reçu priorité, et voilà ce qui est très important.

Valleyfield : Victime de la route ...

Albert Deschambault, âgé de 52 ans, de Lee's Corner dans la municipalité de Godmanchester, fut victime de la route samedi dernier, le 13 mai, vers les 2:30 heures a.m. lorsque son véhicule vint heurter un poteau de téléphone.

M. Deschambault était sur le chemin du retour lorsqu'il perdit le contrôle de sa voiture dans une courbe tout près du pont du chemin Laroque, à Valleyfield.

M. Deschambault et son fils Denis étaient pris dans la voiture. Un autre passager, M. Claude Daoust, s'était projeté au fond de la banquette arrière, et il put sortir de l'auto par la fenêtre arrière. Ensuite, il retira le jeune Denis.

M. Daoust et le jeune Denis vinrent à la rescousse de M. Deschambault.

Par la suite, la victime fut transportée à l'hôpital l'Hôtel-Dieu de Valleyfield, où il mourut vers les 5:30 heures a.m. à la suite d'hémorragie interne.

M. Deschambault laisse dans le deuil son épouse Léona (née Robidoux) et cinq fils et filles, âgée de 13 à 20 ans. Ils sont Mme Jeannette English, de Montréal; Mme Pierrette Laroque de Valleyfield; et Denis, Denise et Régis.

Les funérailles ont eu lieu mardi le 16 mai en l'église de Ste-Agnès de Dundee. Inhumation au même endroit.

Voici le véhicule que M. Albert Deschambault conduisait lors de l'accident.

Accident

Samedi, le 6 mai dernier, vers les 3:30 heures a.m., un accident à Huntingdon causait des dommages considérables aux deux véhicules impliqués.

La voiture de M. Clayton Hinchcliff, une Ford 1965, était stationnée devant son domicile, soit au 8 rue Hunter, à Huntingdon.

La voiture de M. Hinchcliff fut frappée par le véhicule de M. Langlois, du 172 Chateauguay. Ce dernier conduisait une Cadillac 1962 et il circulait est-ouest.

L'automobile de M. Hinchcliff reçut des dommages considérables, tandis que l'automobile de M. Langlois eut près de $500 de dommages.

Rencontre...

(C.A.) Mardi, le 23 mai prochain, aura lieu la première rencontre du comité provisoire de la nouvelle Commission des Loisirs de la municipalité de Huntingdon.

Les membres de ce comité temporaire débateront alors un long et très important travail de planification et d'organisation en vue d'un meilleur fonctionnement des services récréatifs de la ville de Huntingdon.

Serge Tardif, Cyril Alary, Nicole Gauthier, Roch Daigle, et Georges Parent se réuniront autour d'une table le 23 mai prochain, et débateront les premières étapes: on fera alors une étude des facilités récréatives actuellement existantes à Huntingdon. Une autre partie du travail consiste à l'élaboration de nouveaux plans qui susciteraient l'intérêt des gens de la localité. Et aussi, on étudierait attentivement

Douanes à Huntingdon: Nouveau rôle

Les douanes de Huntingdon dont le bureau est situé sur la rue Prince firent quelques changements tout récemment. De cette façon, Huntingdon devient le centre d'opérations douanières de la vallée de Chateauguay.

Le collecteur de la région, M. A. Sanschagrin, expliqua qu'auparavant Huntingdon était un port indépendant; ce qui veut dire que Huntingdon avait son propre territoire de collection. A ce moment, Trout River, Herdman, Franklin, Jamieson's Lines et la voie ferrée Penn Central constituaient alors le port de Huntingdon.

Les ports indépendants de la belle province (hors de Montréal) étaient organisés en trois grands districts: Sherbrooke, Québec et Lacolle.

Mais, depuis le mois d'avril, le district de Sherbrooke fut dissout, et il fut divisé entre les deux autres districts, soit Québec et Lacolle.

Faisant suite à ce bouleversement, Huntingdon devient alors un port régional. Trois autres postes de douanes vinrent

Deux autres accidents

Une collision tracteur-auto à Havelock, jeudi dernier, fut la cause de dommages de $300 et de $700 aux deux véhicules.

Alexandre Patenaude, 87 ans de Havelock était arrêté avec son tracteur au bord de la route, à Russelltown Flat près de l'intersection de la Route 52. Lorsqu'il décida d'avancer sur la route, il vint en collision avec M. Dauphinais Savanice, âgé de 31 ans, conduisant une Pontiac 1968.

L'automobile de M. Savanice reçut des dommages considérables tandis que le tracteur de M. Patenaude fut moins endommagé.

Un autre accident survint à Havelock, soit dimanche, le 14 mai dernier à 8:55 heures a.m. lorsque Gilles Régner, de Hemmingford, conduisait son automobile à son travail sur la route Russelltown. Le moteur de l'auto de M. Régner prit feu. Les sapeurs volontaires de la municipalité de Hemmingford virent éteindre le feu. M. Régner ne fut aucunement blessé.

Lancement

C'est mardi, le 16 mai, qu'avait lieu au Club Nautique de Valleyfield le lancement de la cocarde. Comme on le sait, ce macaron remplace désormais le traditionnel billet d'admission aux Régates.

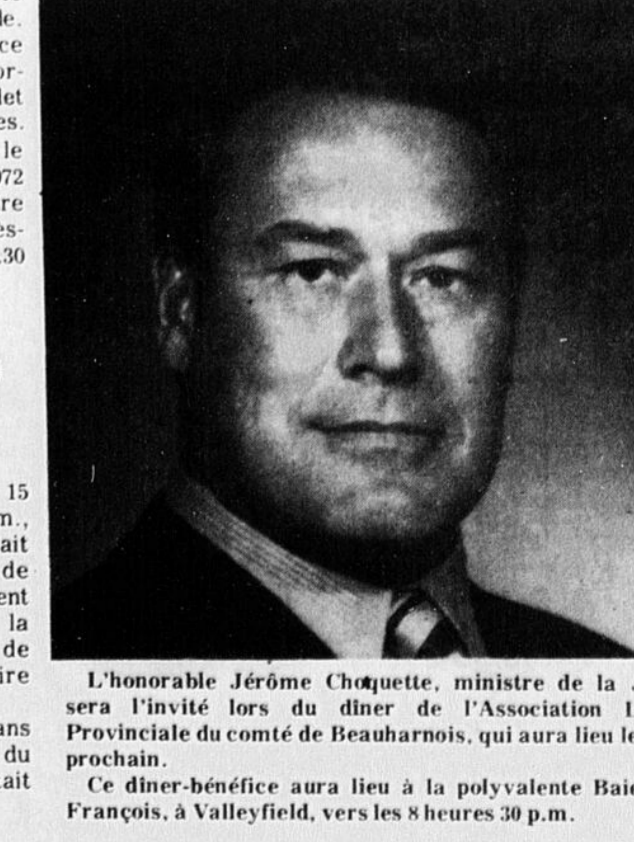

Pour cette occasion, le Comité des Régates 1972 avait organisé une rencontre qui se tenait en fin d'après-midi, de 17:30 heures à 18:30 heures.

Cegep: Alerte à la bombe

Lundi dernier, soit le 15 mai, vers les 2 heures p.m., une alerte à la bombe était lancée au Cégep de Valleyfield. L'établissement fut évacuée, afin que la Sûreté municipale de Valleyfield puisse faire enquête sur les lieux.

Or, le tout revint dans l'ordre car les portes du Cégep de Valleyfield étaient ouvertes à 6:30 p.m.

Choquette à Valleyfield

L'honorable Jérôme Choquette, ministre de la Justice, sera l'invité lors du dîner de l'Association Libérale Provinciale du comté de Beauharnois, qui aura lieu le 28 mai prochain.

Réalité maintenant

Après seulement sept mois d'attente, la ville de Huntingdon voit la naissance d'une Commission des Loisirs.

Il faut se rappeler qu'un certain groupe de personnes essayèrent en novembre dernier de susciter un plus grand intérêt de la population concernant la nécessité d'une Commission des Loisirs au sein de la municipalité. Leur tentative ne fut pas couronnée de succès. Lors d'une réunion spéciale, seulement cinq personnes vinrent à cette réunion. C'est alors que les quelques responsables entrevoirent une autre façon de susciter l'intérêt du public.

Dernièrement, une pétition signée de plusieurs gens de Huntingdon était présentée aux édiles municipaux. Cette requête demandait la formation d'une Commission des Loisirs à Huntingdon. De cette façon, le travail commença.

Un comité provisoire fut nommé lors d'une rencontre spéciale la semaine dernière. Ce comité devra étudier toutes les facettes préparatoires à la formation de la Commission des Loisirs de Huntingdon. Une étude sérieuse des besoins de la population, une enquête approfondie des facilités récréatives déjà existantes, et une recherche d'activités qui intéresseraient la population de Huntingdon; voilà en résumé le travail d'organisation que doit entreprendre le comité provisoire.

Les Commissions Scolaires à l'avant-garde

On voit sur la photo M. Serge Moreau, secrétaire-trésorier de la Commission Scolaire de Huntingdon (à gauche), M. Gerald McSween, président de la C.S. de Valleyfield (au centre), et enfin M. René Pinsonnault, président de la C.S. de Huntingdon (à droite), lors d'une rencontre qui eut lieu le 29 avril dernier à l'évêché. Alors, les présidents des Commissions Scolaires, les Présidents des comités provisoires et les membres de cadres supérieurs furent convoqués par Mgr Guy Bélanger, évêque du diocèse de Valleyfield.

La construction se continue

(C.A.) La construction du nouveau poste de police et de pompiers se continue selon les plans. Pour plusieurs, il semble que la charpente du nouvel édifice ne s'élève pas très rapidement. Certains croient que le nouvel édifice serait en effet terminé pour la fin du mois de mai. Mais, de l'avis des autorités, il ne fut jamais question que ce nouveau centre administratif municipal soit terminé à la fin de mai.

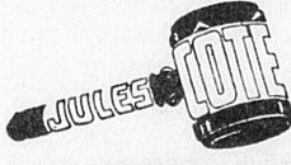

Mais, le tout doit être terminé soit en juin ou en juillet. Le contracteur, M. Prévozt, semblait dire que les travaux s'effectueraient au rythme qu'il entrevoyait. Repondant à un reporter de la Gazette, il affirma que l'édifice devrait être terminé vers le milieu du mois de juin.

Pour sa part, le secrétaire-trésorier, Me Richard Alary, insista sur le fait que la température peut retarder de quelques semaines la date de la finition de la construction. Il nota qu'il y a deux semaines les ouvriers travailleraient seulement deux jours, car la pluie persistait.

Je désire informer le public commençant le 20 mai, je travaillerai à mon compte.

Plan directeur proposé...

Québec - O.I.P. - Le ministre responsable de la Qualité de l'Environnement, le docteur Victor C. Goldbloom, a présenté mardi, le 9 mai, aux autorités municipales de la région de Beauharnois, un plan directeur d'assainissement des eaux usées, en présence du député du comté, M. Gérard Cadieux, à l'Hôtel de ville de Beauharnois. Les édiles municipaux ont été invités à formuler auprès du ministre leurs commentaires afin que celui-ci en tienne compte au moment d'adopter un plan définitif. On se souviendra que le ministre responsable de la Qualité de l'Environnement avait utilisé le même mécanisme de consultation dans plusieurs régions notamment l'Assomption et Laprairie. Il s'agit d'une politique qu'il entend poursuivre.

Cette solution est originale en ce qu'elle ramasse les eaux usées des industries dont le traitement ne peut être fait par une usine municipale en un réseau d'égout collecteur dirigé dans le fort courant vers des émissaires communs aux industries et aux municipalités. Pour assurer une bonne diffusion au point de déversement des eaux traitées dans le fleuve Saint-Laurent, une étude de courant a été entreprise. Il en résulte que c'est à 1,300 pieds du rivage, vis-à-vis le terrain de la pointe Saint-Louis, en face de l'usine de la Domtar, que le déversement devrait s'effectuer. Sur les quatre solutions possibles, la variante qui a été retenue permet de desservir quatre fois plus de territoire, soit 13,300 acres pour une population ultime prévue de 228,900 habitants, pour un coût supplémentaire minime.

L'aménagement des intercepteurs, si on adopte cette solution, s'établirait à $1,783,000 effectués en deux étapes et serait complété pour 1976.

Il faudrait envisager en première étape la construction d'une usine d'épuration d'une capacité de 6 millions de gallons (U.S.) par jour, au coût de $2,750,000.

Le service est offert aux familles qui sentent un besoin urgent: soit par exemple, la mère de famille est malade, hospitalisée ou accidentée. Des dames vont aider la famille en question. Ces personnes agissent, si on peut dire, comme des suppléantes de la mère de famille. Ces dames vont à temps partiel s'occuper de la maison, et prendre soin des enfants.

Il est noté que 20% de ce service est situé au niveau des personnes âgées; ceci évite le placement des vieillards qui sont malades pour quelque temps seulement, et aussi crée un certain climat d'allègement, une certaine sécurité. Les personnes âgées se sentent plus à l'aise lorsqu'il y a quelqu'un qui s'occupe d'eux.

Opération-Mars à Huntingdon
Le PQ vous informe
Samedi dernier M. René Lévesque, annonçait que l'Opération-Mars campagne de souscription en vue de financer le Parti Québécois avait remporté un succès inespéré. Ceci prouve, selon lui, qu'il est sûr que les membres ont à cœur de continuer la lutte pour atteindre le but proposé.

Huntingdon a fait sa part et le comité remercie tous ceux qui ont contribué à classer le comité, premier dans sa catégorie. Plusieurs membres de notre comité ont assisté à la soirée qui avait lieu au Forum et participé à la fête.
Ce n'est pourtant qu'un début. Quand nous nous joindrons au comté de Salaberry, (selon la carte électorale proposée) il faudra que nous soyons nombreux et convaincus pour aider la cause. Il est donc essentiel pour l'exécutif du comité actuel de Huntingdon de connaître les sympathisants pour regrouper les forces.
A ceux et celles qui veulent devenir membres actifs du parti, nous demandons de communiquer avec l'exécutif aux numéros de téléphone suivants 264-2200 et 264-3797.
Merci à tous les membres actuels et bienvenue aux futurs membres qui joindront nos rangs pour s'aider à se libérer.
Robert Lalonde, trésorier
Responsable de l'Opération-Mars pour Huntingdon.

Conseil de ville de Huntingdon

Lundi soir, le 15 mai, les échevins et le maire de Huntingdon se réunissaient. Il fut question en majeure partie de la possibilité d'établir une ligne directe du plan d'eau à l'usine de Cley & Tinker. On se rappelle qu'à une réunion antérieure M. François Cley avait le conseil municipal que son usine avait besoin d'une plus grande capacité d'eau.

Lundi soir, M. Jacques Benoit, ingénieur de la ville, vint expliquer les détails concernant l'augmentation de la capacité d'eau. Il fut question de la possibilité d'établir un autre réservoir. L'ingénieur de la ville reviendra d'ici peu avec un plan plus spécifique concernant les travaux nécessaires.

La saison 1972 de la ligue de balle-lente de Huntingdon débutera en effet dimanche, le 21 mai prochain au terrain au bout de la rue West. Il faut noter que le tout doit commencer si la température le permet et si les terrains sont prêts à recevoir les équipes.

Il y aura dimanche rassemblement à 3 heures p.m. à la salle des Chevaliers 25 ans d'existence!

Le mouvement Guide naquit à Huntingdon en 1946 grâce à la merveilleuse idée d'un Baden-Powell Huntingdonnien en la personne de M. l'abbé Georges Quenneville, alors nouvellement ordonné prêtre, et avec la collaboration de plusieurs personnes courageuses, certaines venaient de Valleyfield, d'autres de Huntingdon; ainsi la première cheftaine fut Jean Wilson. Il nous serait impossible d'énumérer toutes ces personnes qui ont collaboré au mouvement depuis vingt-cinq ans de quelque façon que ce soit. Aujourd'hui, notre compagnie compte vingt-cinq (25) membres, en plus de la maîtrise qui comprend trois assistantes: Milles Denise Lettre, Pauline Leduc, Suzanne Lettre; un aumônier: M. le Curé Georges Quenneville (ce ne sont pas toutes les compagnies guides qui ont l'honneur d'avoir leur "Baden Powell" avec elles); et une Cheftaine: Jeannine Leduc.

Notre compagnie comme tout bon mouvement a connu "des hauts et des bas" mais grâce au courage de certaines maîtrises, il a survécu jusqu'à nous, et nous les en remercions. Le guidisme est un mouvement éducatif répondant aux besoins de chaque fille, il forme le caractère, il crée un certain style de vie, et enfin il apporte tellement de choses dont on ne se rend pas compte. Ainsi, nous de Huntingdon depuis vingt-cinq (25) ans déjà nous bénéficions d'un tel mouvement.

Considérant qu'il faut vraiment souligner cette vie de façon spéciale, nous les survivantes de 1972, organisons une fête samedi le 27 mai prochain, afin de permettre à toutes ces personnes qui ont fait partie de la 2e Compagnie St-Joseph de Huntingdon, de se rencontrer et de se remémorer tous leurs bons souvenirs du guidisme. Notre soirée débutera par une messe à l'Église St-Joseph, et sera suivie d'une Veillée Guide, d'une exposition de photos et d'un buffet froid au gymnase de l'École Notre-Dame. Donc, bienvenue à toutes les anciennes guides de Huntingdon, nous vous attendons avec impatience!

2e Cie St-Joseph, Huntingdon.

Lettre à l'éditeur

L'éditeur
Le Gleaner,
Huntingdon,

Monsieur,

Je crois que les lecteurs du Gleaner devraient écrire des lettres individuelles au premier Ministre, Robert Bourassa de Québec, l'exhortant à se servir de toute l'influence possible, pour préserver le nom Huntingdon comme circonscription électorale agricole.

La lettre personnelle est préférable, mais le temps et l'effort deviennent, en certains cas, un problème, et alors la formule imprimée dans cette édition transmet votre message.

Médecine R. Primeau

Hon. Robert Bourassa, Premier Ministre, Province de Québec Québec, P.Q.

M. le premier Ministre: Le soussigné, qui est, ou qui sera un électeur, à la prochaine élection provinciale, est profondément soucieux, au sujet du maintien de "Huntingdon" comme circonscription électorale à l'Assemblée Nationale.

Les raisons historiques abondent pour la préservation du nom "Huntingdon". De plus, ses délimitations devraient inclure une assez grande partie des présents comtés de Chateauguay et Beauharnois pour être conforme à la proportion de population gouvernant la redistribution, mais voir à ce qu'il demeure une circonscription électorale principalement agricole.

Semaine de la Police

Semaine de la police au Québec

"Le policier et la société" Du 11 mai au 20 mai

Pourquoi le policier existe-t-il? Il existe pour la société ou milieu dans lequel il travaille. C'est à l'égard de cette société qu'il est appelé à exercer son rôle de gardien de la paix, de l'ordre et de la santé; c'est lui qui protège les citoyens contre la criminalité clandestine, le terrorisme, le crime d'ordre économique, les incendies criminels, le trafic de la drogue et de plusieurs autres.

Pour arriver à ses fins, le policier "1972" s'intègre à la société, établit des relations harmonieuses entre lui et les citoyens. Rôle difficile et souvent méconnu car ses responsabilités ne sont pas de tout repos. Il agit pour lui de faire respecter les différentes lois, prévenir le crime, en chercher les auteurs.

Souvent, ses interventions créent un fossé qui le sépare des civils, d'où incompréhensions, attaques verbales ou écrites, malaises, manque de coopération du public, et de plusieurs autres facteurs; cependant, le policier n'agit pas seulement contre l'illegalité; il n'exerce pas des fonctions uniquement repressives.

Dans une société agitée comme la nôtre, le policier fait la distinction entre le crime et le criminel; la criminalité doit être combattue avec énergie, tandis que le criminel égare et parfois perverti doit être réhabilité. Quoiqu'il en soit, l'action policière "1972" est

Développement Assemblée populaire

"Quand on contemple l'avenir de l'homme la chose dont on oublie habituellement de tenir compte, c'est de l'homme lui-même."

Parler d'organisation de planification, de superstructure, de projets prioritaires, donne toujours bonne conscience à ceux l'action dérange. Parler de l'homme, de son coin de vie, de ses espérances, de son bonheur, demeure utopique.

Quand même, dans "Mieux Vivre chez nous" nous allons en parler. Nous allons en parler, sans parler pour lui, sans l'interpréter. Simplement, nous constaterons ce que l'homme a réalisé chez nous; et de là, lui rendre son hommage d'homme.

Pour vivre, pour mieux vivre chez nous, il faut organiser son coin de terre, bâtir des villes, des usines, créer ses services, espérer en demain. De ces faits, "Mieux vivre chez nous" aligne toutes ces réalisations et espère lui être utile dans sa grande entreprise de toujours: vouloir mieux vivre.

Promouvoir le mieux-être de la population en travaillant à corriger ou à prévenir les problèmes sociaux et les situations d'injustice dont sont victimes certains groupes, coordonner des différentes ressources communautaires existantes, identifier les besoins de la population et les mesures propres à les satisfaire, tels sont les objectifs principaux des Conseils de Bien-Être régionaux.

La réalisation de ces projets implique la participation de tous les citoyens à la définition et à l'orientation des services de la collectivité.

Pour arriver, il est nécessaire de rendre la population consciente de sa responsabilité dans la définition des politiques tant gouvernementales que municipales et de son rôle critique face aux organismes et aux services existants.

Pour parvenir à ces fins, le Conseil du Bien-Être de Valleyfield, comme la plupart des autres CBER de la province, se reconnaît quatre rôles principaux: la recherche, la coordination, l'information et l'animation.

Se définissant comme un agent de changement et un outil de travail pour ceux qui veulent améliorer leur situation, le CBER a clarifié

Si ces quelques phrases ont éveillé en vous le pourquoi, le but de notre projet, venez nous rencontrer une équipe jeune et dynamique sera prête à vous informer. Nous débuterons par la présentation d'un "Diaporama" sur la région suivi de discussions. Alors, nous comptons sur votre présence, soit, jeudi le 18 mai 1972, à 8:00 p.m. en la salle paroissiale de Huntingdon.

Un peu de tout...

 Le Projet Vert devait en effet présenter un plan d'embellissement de la ville de Valleyfield lundi soir dernier.

 Il y eut parade de modes au magasin K-Mart de Nitro. Ce fut un succès retentissant!

 Le maire Pilon s'est rendu à Québec mercredi dernier. Mais il affirma qu'il doit y retourner plus tard.

 Trois monteagistes furent retrouvés: il s'agit de MM. André Cazalais, Noël Leduc et Philippe Demers.

 Une erreur s'est glissée la semaine dernière, concernant le concours de dépannage de Chrysler, un des vainqueurs était John Furey d'Athelstan.

 La Semaine Culturelle s'en vient à grands pas à l'école Arthur-Pigeon.

 Du 15 au 30 mai, aura lieu dans le comté de Huntingdon la campagne de souscription de la Société du Cancer.

 Les ossements retrouvés dans une botte, il y a quelques semaines, furent examinés au bureau régional de la Sûreté du Québec à Montréal par des experts. Il appert que ces ossements sont ceux d'un animal. Donc, ils ne sont pas des ossements humains.

 Doris et Maurice Lapointe sont actuellement au Mexique. Ils visitent Los Angeles et font la croisière de douze jours de cette ville à Acapulco sur le 25000 tonne SS Fairsea de la ligne Sitmar. C'est une expérience nouvelle que de se rendre au Mexique par bateau.

Accident mineur

André Vachon, âgé de 17 ans de St-Stanislas-de-Kostka perdit le contrôle de sa motocyclette dans une courbe près du chemin de Dewittville. Le jeune Vachon retourna chez lui après avoir reçu les premiers soins. Cet accident survint vers les 2:45 heures p.m.

une action intelligente et efficace propre à sauvegarder les droits fondamentaux de la personne.

La société a besoin de nos policiers. Ils doivent mettre nos municipalités et nos citoyens à l'abri de l'agression criminelle, multiplier les précautions pour prévenir les violations de nos lois, protéger la vie et la propriété d'autrui et voir au respect des libertés individuelles, tout en respectant les lois existantes.

La police au service de la société assure son évolution normale; qu'il s'agisse de pauvreté, de chômage, de manque de culture, avec les problèmes qui s'y accrochent, le policier d'aujourd'hui les perçoit et intervient pour prévenir la violence, en atténuer les effets et développer un climat général d'ordre, de tolérance et de paix.

Le policier moderne possède des talents de psychologue, une vaste expérience pratique, connaît son milieu et sait comment en obtenir la coopération; il est perspicace pour saisir les techniques nouvelles du criminel, montre du flair, du discernement, de la réflexion, de la pondération. L'urbanisation, l'industrialisation et une certaine socialisation de nos villes, ont entraîné des modifications de vie dans le travail traditionnel du policier. Par les sciences humaines qu'il doit connaître, l'agent de paix possède une plus grande connaissance de l'homme, de ses aspirations, de ses idéaux. Pour être à la hauteur de son mandat, le policier doit se recycler constamment quant à l'utilisation des moyens modernes d'efficacité et quant aux exigences d'une formation adaptée à l'époque que nous traversons.

L'action policière contemporaine procède l'action criminelle des groupes organisés pour démontrer son inefficacité et assurer la tranquillité, la sécurité des citoyens. Le policier, avec courage et dévouement, exerce une fonction sociale qui accapare 70% de son travail; à savoir: solution de problèmes familiaux, solution de problèmes relatifs à la jeunesse et plus généralement protection de la vie.

Le symbole de l'autorité, le policier a droit au respect de ses concitoyens, lui permettant ainsi d'exécuter ses devoirs et demeurer l'homme digne avec lequel il faut dialoguer.

"Mieux servir" telle est la devise du policier actuel "1972".

Cette semaine de la police au Québec nous permet de réaliser que le policier, tant municipal, provincial et fédéral, est un guide, un conseiller et surtout un ami sur lequel nous pouvons compter jour et nuit sans détachement.

Les autorités de la Ville de Huntingdon, Son Honneur le Maire Me Claude Pilon et les membres du comité de Police, sont conscients de leur responsabilité. Ils ne négligent rien afin d'assurer un maximum de sécurité à de ses aspirations, de ses leur concitoyen.

Dewittville W.I. sees art work

The Dewittville W.I. met at the C.V.R. School on Thursday evening, May 11, where they were welcomed by Mr. D. Tilley to the Art Department. After inspecting and admiring the displays the members enjoyed a talk by Mr. Tilley in which he explained the aims and problems of his department. Art is really the earliest form of communication as the cave men used it to convey messages before speech was known. Today it is one of the most important subjects as a knowledge of line, colour and composition is useful in home decorating, choosing clothes, gardening and hobbies as well as many other areas.

Unfortunately both instructors and pupils are working at a disadvantage just now as half the final mark in the subject is based on a knowledge of the History of Art. Since the beginning of the third term this year a new directive has been received from Quebec outlining a course in Modern Quebec art. No source of material is supplied and it would seem that none is available. This means that despite the high calibre of their work many pupils are doomed to failure.

A question period followed with individual displays being discussed and techniques explained. Mrs. Greenbank thanked Mr. Tilley for his excellent presentation and everyone left with an awakened awareness of Art as a part of the curriculum.

The ladies re-assembled at the home of Mrs. Alex McCaig for a short business meeting. Mrs. Greenbank presided and opened the meeting with the collect and Ode. Seventeen members answered the roll call by naming a favourite artist. There were four visitors present. It was decided to make a contribution of fifty dollars to the School for the Mentally Retarded.

Delegates to the County Convention in Ormstown gave brief reports. All agreed that the Handicrafts Display had been particularly good. The annual W.I. Convention will be held at Macdonald College on May 25-26 and as many as possible will attend at least some of the sessions.

Several conveners had items of interest to report. A petition was signed to be forwarded to Premier Bourassa asking that an agricultural constituency be maintained including Huntingdon County and parts of Chateauguay and Beauharnois Counties sufficient to conform to population ratios governing redistribution.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. E. Martin and Mrs. J. Mason.

Choquette to be guest of honor

Hon. Jerome Choquette, Minister of Justice, will be the guest of honor at the Provincial Liberal Association of Beauharnois p.m.
